By MAX HARRISON
OTTAWA (AP)—A tide of votes built up today against Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's government in Canada's nuclear warhead debate. At least one no-confidence motion appeared to have a good chance to topple the badly split Conservative Party from power.

There was a possibility that Diefenbaker, to head off defeat in the House of Commons, would dissolve Parliament on his own initiative and call new elections.

Defeat of the government on a vote of no-confidence would mean dissolution of Parliament shortly after, with a new election about 60 days later.

There was wide agreement among Commons members that the government could not survive a vote.

The crisis, brought to a head last week by a public U.S. State Department demand that Canada accept nuclear warheads, moved toward a climax Monday with the resignation of Defense Minister Douglas Harkness.

Harkness told a packed House of Commons that Canada should have obtained the U.S. warheads long ago.

In the tense debate that followed Harkness' statement, two of Canada's three opposition parties—the Liberals and the Social Credit party—presented motions of no-confidence.

An informal poll indicated that the motion of the Social Credit party could gather enough support to bring down the government when the showdown voting comes tonight. The Social Credit motion was presented as an amendment to the Liberal motion and was to be voted on first.

Mental Health Plan Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy urged today to hold new programs he said would eventually free hundreds of thousands of mental patients from hospital beds and lighten the tragic toll of mental retardation.

The cost for the first year would be $31.35 million, but it might cost many millions more when the program accelerates.

His proposals were in a special message to Congress on mental health—the first such message sent to Capitol Hill by an American president.

Kennedy asked for an across-the-board legislative program for: New community mental health centers, the centerpiece for bringing the mentally ill back to a useful life, and preventing new cases easier.

More pre-natal care for mothers-to-be to help insure their infants will not be doomed to mental retardation.

More child health care to detect and treat threatened cases earlier.

More trained personnel and facilities for training and rehabilitation of the mentally ill and retarded.

More research centers to get at the causes—and, hopefully, the cures.

Specifically, the President intends to introduce four new bills, one of them not to be implemented until the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1964.

That bill would encourage state or local governments or non-profit groups to establish networks of community mental health centers. It would provide part of the construction costs and up to 75 percent of the staff costs for the first 15 months, decreasing thereafter for the rest of the four-year program. There is no price tag for this program.

It now costs the American taxpayer more than $2.4 billion a year for services to the mentally ill and retarded, the President said.

"This situation has been tolerable for too long. It has threatened our national conscience, but only as a problem unpleasant to mention, easy to postpone, and despairing of solution," the President said.

Within a decade or two, the President said, a broad, new mental health program can reduce by at least half the 900,000 hospitalized mental patients.

"Many more mentally ill can be helped to remain in their own homes without hardship to themselves or their families," he said.

"Those who are hospitalized can be helped to return to their own communities. All but a small proportion can be restored to useful life."

The community mental health center will be the focus of care, diagnosis, rehabilitation and emergency service, he said. It would operate day and night, for inpatients and outpatients. It would aim at prevention as well as treatment.

Such centers, using new methods of treatment and tranquilizers, will reduce the treatment periods to weeks or months, rather than years, the President said. "This means that mental illness could be paid for as other

NEW PROJECT STUDIED

Erwin Appointed To City Council Post

Snyder City Councilmen last night filled a vacancy in their own ranks, opened bids on some supplies and discussed the possibility of a new facility to serve as a combination central fire station, police headquarters and Civil Defense center.

Marshall Erwin, owner of Erwin Jewelry on the north side of the square, was appointed to fill the vacancy on the council. The Place 5 post on the council was vacated in January when Councilman Fred Davis resigned. Davis quit the post because he moved his residence outside the city limits.

Erwin, who was contacted by telephone following his appointment, came to the city hall and was sworn in during last night's session.

Mayor John Hamblen was authorized to call the annual city election for April 2. At that time, the Place 5 post on the council, along with two others, will be up for a decision by the voters. Other terms expiring include those of R. S. Yorselen, Place 7, and M. L. Brumman, Place 3.

Mobile Oil Co. was awarded a contract to furnish motor vehicle fuel for the city for the coming year, and Continental Oil Co. was awarded the contract to furnish oil and grease for the city's fleet of gasoline, kerosene and diesel fuel was calculated at $12,200.90, the lowest of five proposals received, while Continental's bid was $2,300 per hundred gallons on oil and grease aggregated $32,010, also the lowest of five proposals.

Doctor To File Suit

PECOS, TEX. (AP)—The Reeves County Memorial Hospital Board refused today to reinstate controversial Dr. John Paul Dunn to its staff.

The board chairman delivered the board's verdict to Sheriff A. B. Nail, who relayed it to Dr. Dunn. He also cannot treat hospital patients.

Dunn said he intends to file suit for an injunction some time during the day.

The board accused the halting 35-year-old physician of making derogatory remarks about other doctors on the staff, harassing

Atlantic Lashed By Winter Storm

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A slow-moving winter storm lashed the Atlantic today. Twenty-foot waves and 50-mile winds endangered more than a half-dozen ships and holed attempts at rescue.

The storm also pushed heavy seas into the Gulf of Mexico, where it was feared it would hit the Texas coast.

Coast Guard cutters were trying to rescue ships from the tip of Florida to the Carolinas. Gale warnings were in effect for parts of New England, in parts of New York State and from North Dakota eastward to the Lake Superior region. Snow flurries fell in parts of the cold belt.

Among the craft in trouble in the Atlantic were: the shrimp boat Mingo, the tanker Texaco Illinois, the fishing vessel Suffara II, and the fishing vessel Tiger Shark.

A sock crew of more than 60 shored up seawalls in Jacksonville with sandbags. A request for convicts was turned down because the prisoners had their hands full trying to repair washed out drainage ditches and other storm damage.

The weather pattern in other parts of the nation showed only minor changes. No severe storms were reported and a warming trend continued in most sections from the Pacific Coast to the Appalachians. Unseasonably mild temperatures were reported in central and western parts of the country.

Subzero cold was reported only in northern Maine, with temperatures mostly in the teens in other parts of New England, in parts of New York State and from North Dakota eastward to the Lake Superior region. Snow flurries fell in parts of the cold belt.

All Ship Routes To Cuba Watched

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Authorities said today every ship route into Cuba is watched by patrol planes and the Navy feels sure no vessels have slipped into the Cuban ports undetected since the blockade was lifted last Nov. 20, or to identify nationalities of such ships.

Last Thursday the Pentagon broke this rule to say that two large Soviet ships arrived in Cuba some days earlier and that "there is no evidence that either carried offensive weapons." This statement came after Keating made a Senate speech claiming a continued and growing Soviet arms buildup in Cuba.

The Navy does not claim it can tell whether incoming vessels carry arms—but officers say they would know a missile carrier when they see one.

Usually reliable Navy sources, preferring to remain anonymous, said Keating probably is referring to a ship route entering the Caribbean between Venezuela and Puerto Rico.

These sources did not dispute that ships steaming this route might sometimes pass beyond the area covered by U.S. patrol planes.

But they said such vessels would be sighted—no matter how faint—about their route into the Caribbean when approaching the Cuban deep water ports.

Navy patrols fly day and night surveillance missions from Jacksonville, Fla., Key West, Fla., the Guantanamo naval base on the eastern end of Cuba, and from Puerto Rico. The Navy says, gives "complete coverage of the waters around Cuba. The planes carry night vision infrared cameras."

Also on watch is a sizable force of Navy ships, plus units of the Coast Guard.

The Defense Department has refused on security grounds to say how many vessels have approached

McNamara Believes Cuba Has Missiles, But Doubts Menace

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says "there are undoubtedly missiles in Cuba" but not of the type which would menace the United States.

"Based on the information available to me," he said, "I believe that there are no surface missiles in Cuba threatening this country today."

McNamara put his views on the record in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press as a congressional hue and cry rose over Soviet military strength on the island 90 miles from the American coast.

McNamara made his comments in advance of a new series of statements from Congress members last week about the extent of Soviet military strength in Cuba. Publication of the interview, given a week ago, was delayed until Monday to permit security clearance.

One issue of the controversy is just how many Soviet troops are in Cuba. President Kennedy has estimated 17,000. Some legislators have expressed belief there are many more.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk last expressed regret if the wording of the statement offended Canadians. He repeated to the Senate Canadian Affairs subcommittee Monday that no offense was meant.

Subcommittee Chairman George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said he believed Rusk but was "not entirely satisfied with the manner in which the release was issued."

Opponents of the United States considered offensive) on the one hand with the other types of missiles which undoubtedly are stocked in Cuba," he said.

In this latter category, McNamara listed off five kinds:

"1. Air defense missiles used by fighters to attack other fighters."

"2. Surface-to-air missiles used for coastal defense purposes."

"3. Missiles for coastal defense purposes fired from patrol-type boats."

"4. Ground-to-ground missiles for short range use against troops in the field."

Said McNamara: "It is entirely possible that missiles of those classes exist in Cuba, and it seems probable that the reports are based on that probability."

House Gives Okay To Research Plan

AUSTIN (AP)—The House today approved a plan to study mental retardation, a step toward helping research efforts in mental retardation.

Representatives approved on voice vote a measure that would create the State Hospitals Board to study the mental retardation problem and to make recommendations for research in mental retardation.

The House also approved a bill to create a utility district at Port Mansfield. The district would have authority to do research in mental retardation but there have been technical questions about mental retardation research.

Youth Give Up Try To Salvage Ship

GALVESTON (AP)—Four venturesome teen-agers have abandoned an attempt to lay salvage claim on a derelict freighter washed ashore last weekend.

"We were kind of tired of the whole business," said Dick Truitt, 18, after leaving the ship last Monday.

Truitt, Jim Franklin, 16, Alfred Lera Jr., 18, and Billy Brown, 17, boarded the vessel at midnight Sunday. All are Galveston high school students.

They were joined later that day by two Galveston men, John Kanowski, 28, and James Watts, 21, who remained aboard, after the boys left.

"They (Watts and Kanowski) were tired to keep everyone off the ship, including us," young Truitt said.

He is the son of Dr. John Truitt, executive dean and director of the University of Texas medical branch here.

The youth went out to the ship about 150 yards offshore and went aboard intending to stay there.

"Several hours later we learned we couldn't get any salvage rights, but we were told we could get paid for standing guard on it or maintaining it until the owners got here."

This Watts and Kanowski came aboard and they brought some weapons with them, a shotgun, a pistol and a rifle.

The youth spent the night in one of the cabins, using a charcoal fire to keep warm.

Their withdrawal climaxed a day-long dispute with a man who identified himself as Charles Cloutier, president of the Southern Scrap Metal Co. of New Orleans.

Four Negroes Dowling To Are Enrolled Make Report

SAN MARCOS (AP)—Southwest Texas State College, where Vice President Lyndon Johnson once studied, complied with a federal court order and admitted four Negro students Monday.

The quarter, first of their face to enroll at the South Central Texas school, started classes today.

U.S. Dist. Judge B. R. Hise signed an order directing school officials to let the four register shortly before they asked admission.

Miss Dana Jean Smith, a senior graduate of Anderson-High School in Austin, and three other Negroes obtained the court order.

The school refused to accept Miss Smith during the summer. Officials said this was done because state law limits enrollment in whites.

Dr. J. G. Flower, president of Southwest Texas State, predicted the school will become a model for peaceful integration. It has about 3,500 students.

Negroes already attend a number of other state colleges and universities.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My best friend had a few dates with a young man who recently came to work in our office. She flipped for him. He then stopped dating her and started to date me. I tried to fight it, but I couldn't help falling for him. Now he says he is in love with me and wants to marry me! I love him, too, Abby. We have been sneaking around like two thieves so my girl friend's feelings won't be hurt. He says he never told her he loved her, and I believe him. I hate to lose this girl's friendship and don't know how to break the news to her. Can you help me?

HAPPY BUT SAD

DEAR HAPPY: Attempting to cover up an office romance is like trying to smuggle down past a rooster. You and your young man should tell "Miss Also Ran" the facts as soon as possible. But he kind of...

DEAR ABBY: When dining in a first-class restaurant, have you ever asked the waiter to wrap up the left-over steak for you to take home to the dog?

BOSTONIAN

DEAR BOSTONIAN: Certainly. And it was delicious!

DEAR ABBY: We have been married 27 years and have 4 grown children. Please tell me how long does a wife have to wait to get hot water? He got me the bathroom set six years ago, brand new. Also the hot water tank. All he has to do is haul it upstairs and connect it up. He tells me to be patient. He isn't working. All he does is watch TV and work crossword puzzles.

COLD WATER WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Say the magic words, "Either do it today or I'll hire someone to do it." This works.

DEAR ABBY: I just came from a dentist who told me it would cost me $600 for a complete set of dentures. He is considered a very good dentist and my friends tell me the price is right. He does not do anything "on time," which means I will have to scrape up the cash. Does a bank finance things like that?

NEEDS DENTURES

DEAR NEEDS: Call your local bank and find out. It sounds like a legitimate reason for a loan. (Then the bite is on YOU every month.)

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3365, BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF. for Abby's new booklet "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Counterpart Of Greek

THE CENTAUR. By John Updike. This is a major literary effort by one of our more gifted contemporary writers and, for no other reason, it is going to be talked about for some time. It has a chance for long life.

Updike, among other things, is an imitator. One of the persistent literary notions—whose validity is open to question—is that a truly "great" book speaks in universal tones to all the people; but this book scarcely qualifies in that score. It requires a certain mental stature in the reader.

Updike's resounding words, they have a magic. There are few novels that grow on you, but this is one of them. In the midst of these strange contrasts between Mount Olympus and Olinger High School, a good many messages keep coming through to you. The chief one is that the ancient order must be given way to the hope of the future, even in the most mundane circumstances.

Few writers could have dared these great contrasts, and few could have shaped the unusual prose counterpart in which they are told. It is a book that by the sheer creative force of the author gives dignity to feeble, desperate human strivers like you and me, by relating them to the greater patterns of the spirit. It is a book that shows the reader a small and gross, but eternal, human being, and moves him to say of this little but spirited man, "There, by the grace of God, go I."

Mutual Admiration Society

LAWRENCE DURRELL AND HENRY MILLER, A Private Correspondence. Edited by George Wickes.

Say "Henry Miller" and the response is likely to be "Tropic of Cancer" and the answer would be "The Alexandria Quartet." Readers who are not familiar with these responses couldn't care less about this volume of letters between the two authors. But for those who do know, this is a sometimes interesting, though tediously long, collection of trade talk between two writers who in recent decades have been counted among the bad-boys or geniuses—it depends upon the viewpoint—of 20th Century writing.

In 1935, when Miller was in his 40s and Durrell was in his 20s, Durrell wrote a gushing fan letter to Miller after reading "Tropic of Cancer." This was the beginning of a long correspondence. The authors seldom met, as Miller usually was in Paris or Big Sur, Calif., and Durrell usually was in the Mediterranean area. There is a trend in these letters. At first Miller was encouraging Durrell and spending long hours pulling many strings to get Durrell published. There came a time when Durrell wrote a bluntly critical letter about one of Miller's works, saying it was merely dirty without being literary. Miller took this in good grace and later Durrell apologized for being so blunt. Later there were sessions when Durrell, currently on the rise, was encouraging Miller.

Of course private letters are revealing. These two authors sometimes sound downright sophisticated in their uncertain gropings toward fuzzy, esoteric goals. They get entangled in the personalities of the "little magazine" business and the matter of censorship over the four-letter words in their manuscripts.

But basically this collection is a record of mutual admiration and encouragement. The editor has done a good job of coordinating the messages. If one or both of these authors survive in the literary sense, instead of subsiding into the limbo of historically minor flounders, the book will be a valid footnote.

Time, as people often say, will tell.

Caution Back On Business Scene

NEW YORK (AP)—The winds of February are blowing some caution back into the business world. Belief in a continuing moderate advance still rules most thinking. But early hopes for a big boost to the economy from untapped forces are subject to second thoughts.

The tax cutting plans, on detailed inspection, may add up to less relief this year than many first thought. Effects on American business of the turmoil in Europe has yet to be assessed. And the recovery from the lowpoint of the last recession is now nearing its second birthday. This leads some to question how many more months the cycle may have yet to run.

But these thoughts are only a tempering of earlier enthusiasm. This upsurge had started in October after the Cuban crisis and had all but reserved the earlier pessimism, which was obviously overdone.

The official figures still point to a healthy economy, on the whole. And such items as increasing volume of new orders, invigorated pictures of good business continuing for some time. On top of this is the feeling in the steel industry that customers will soon start building up inventories as a hedge against the off-chance of a steel strike this summer, should the union reopen the wage contract and the companies balk.

Second thoughts about the tax cuts come from the congressional opposition that threatens to hold them up or water them down. Also, it is now plain that corporate tax relief, except for the smallest firms, is to be put off for a year or more.

And if the new rules on deductions and other items called loopholes go through, many taxpayers may find themselves paying about as much as ever. Counting in the rise in Social Security taxes and in various state and local levies, a lot of citizens may be out of pocket instead of ahead this year.

This could cut back much of the boost to business which was supposed to flow from a cut in individual income tax rates that would increase purchasing power. And some business observers even doubt that too significant an amount of any savings would go for new purchases. Much might be used to pay for old.

Many business executives also are far from convinced that a tax cut leading to a large federal deficit will generate future Treasury surpluses. They doubt if the spur to the economy would be that sharp, or if future government spending plans would be held down to guarantee a surplus.

World turmoil also always separates caution in business circles. Just how France and Britain will work out their difficulties, and the possible effects of conflict or compromise on American trade, adds a large uncertainty to the business picture. The ruffled relations with Canada and the Soviet-Cuban enigma also are on the list.

And even American business men, like other American citizens, are used to crises by now. They expect the current ones to be resolved. But until the air they must be taken into account in guessing where the U.S. economy may be heading and how fast.

Appointment Of Winfree Disapproved

AUSTIN (AP)—Senators look advantage Monday of their special right to keep an eye on gubernatorial appointments.

After a long secret session, the senators refused to approve former Gov. Price Daniel's appointment of Joe Winfree of Houston to the Board of Control.

Winfree has been on the board since June when Daniel made the recess appointment. He is a former dean of the House in years of service and during Daniel's term, as speaker, was chairman of the powerful Revenue and Taxation Committee.

Gov. John Connally now can make his own selection of a board member.

Winfree, 71, said he had heard Connally opposed him because the governor "wanted to get rid of the old men on the board and put young men in."

Connally said he did not block Winfree's appointment.

The Senate approved Daniel's appointment of Joe Truoper of Dallas to the Board of Insurance. Other recess appointments approved included:

Finance Commission — H. T. Latham, Stephenville.

Board of Sabine River Authority — J. L. Payne, Hemphill.

Sabine River Compact — Henry Woodworth, Orange. Ross Hopkins, Carthage.

State Historical Survey Committee — Mrs. Mary Moody Northen, Galveston (unexpired term).

Interstate Compact Commission — for Red River — Buster Cole, Bonham.

Oilmen Not Sure About Pooling Bill

HOUSTON (AP)—Texas independent oilmen have indicated they are not sure about a law to permit forced oil and gas pooling.

The unitizing committee of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association, meeting Monday, did not accept or reject a bill prepared by the committee to assure equitable development of Texas oil and gas resources.

Instead, a motion to approve the bill was tabled.

The committee voted to oppose any legal changes in the state's marginal well law.

At a luncheon attended by the committee and other members of the association, Johnny Mitchell of Houston, TIPRO president, said the organization will make no statement on President Kennedy's tax message.

Mitchell, also president of Jade Oil Co., said some believe the President's message "would tend to depress further the search for new oil and gas reserves in this country."

"We are requesting time to present our conclusions before the House Ways and Means Committee," he said.

Police Have Busy Month

The Snyder police department has reported that total fines during the month of January were $5,574.90. Of this amount, $3,770.50 was collected in cash and $200 was credited for time spent in jail.

The department investigated 18 auto mishaps, of which seven resulted in injuries to persons.

Of the total fines assessed, $1,600 was for offenses other than traffic. Of that total, $1,411 was collected and $192 served in jail.

Overparking, as usual, accounted for the largest number of citations at 576. Excessive speed accounted for the largest number of moving traffic violations with 106. Intoxication accounted for the largest number of non-traffic violations, with 38 drinks booked during January.

Ruling Is Delayed In Greene's Case

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP)—A federal judge has delayed a ruling on Deway Greene Jr.'s application to the University of Mississippi until the 22-year-old Negro exhausts all administrative remedies.

U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize told Greene Monday to appeal his rejection to the university's committee on admissions.

The committee could overrule Registrar Robert Ellis, who testified he turned Greene down because Greene's scholastic record wasn't good enough.

Ellis is chairman of the admission committee, which includes the heads of the various schools, divisions and colleges; the dean of student affairs and the dean of women.

Mize, who twice ruled against James H. Meredith's admission until an appeals court reversed him, deferred action after a one-day hearing of Greene's suit seeking a court order directing the university to enroll him.

Ellis testified Greene's average for two quarters at Mississippi Vocational School for Negroes was about D-plus. His high school grades were even poorer, Ellis said.

In addition, the registrar said, Mississippi Vocational lacks accreditation.

The university turns down as many as 100 applications, Ellis testified, for the same reason as it did Greene—in inadequate scholastic record.

At Mississippi Vocational, Dean O. Love said Greene wasn't the school's best student but was eligible to return there. At Greenwood, L. H. Threadgill, Greene's high school principal, said Greene was in the lowest part of his class.

At the start of the hearing, the judge told attorneys the only question to be decided was whether Greene was rejected solely because of his race.

Greene contends the suit resulting in Meredith's enrollment was a class action suit that the court decree ordering Meredith admitted applies to cases of all Negro applicants.

His suit also asks the court to hold Ellis in contempt of court for turning him down.

Unintended Bluff Foils Holdup Men

DETROIT (AP)—The holdup men looked like salesmen.

So, when the one carrying a brief case pushed a 45-caliber automatic into the stomach of supermarket manager Jerry Reeves he thought it was in fun.

"Go ahead and shoot," Reeves said.

The astonished gunman turned to his partner and said, "This guy is crazy. Let's get out of here." They fled.

"I didn't think it was a holdup," Reeves, 29, told police. "I wouldn't have done anything so foolish."

Dental Survey Is Slated In Schools

As a part of Children's National Dental Week, Feb. 3-9, the Snyder schools will again this year conduct a dental survey.

In January, a meeting was held between the superintendent of schools, the curriculum director, the school nurses, and local dentists. At the meeting it was decided to survey only the elementary schools. Dental screening for the junior high and senior high schools will be made by the school nurses, with programs of dental health conducted with the help of the local dentists.

The dental survey for the elementary schools will be held Wednesday, Feb. 6. At 8:30 in the morning the survey will be taken at Central Elementary by Drs. John H. Hamblen and D. K. Ratliff, assisted by Mrs. Eula Williams, school nurse. At East Elementary, Dr. Pat Prechean, assisted by school nurse Mrs. Leah Johnson, will take the survey, and at West Elementary the survey will be made by Dr. Robert Hargrove, assisted by school nurse Mrs. Nell Spence.

At 10:30 Drs. Hamblen and Ratliff and Mrs. Williams will be at Lincoln School.

At 1 p.m. the survey will continue with Drs. Hargrove and Brechen and Mrs. Johnson at Stanfield School; Dr. Hamblen and Mrs. Spence at Northeast.

Cost Of Charge For Battery $800

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Mary Nelson wanted was a car battery charge. The total charge, $800.

A mechanic returned the auto to her home Monday and left the motor running.

Police said engine vibrations apparently caused the gearshift to slip into drive position. The car lurched driverless across the street and slammed into a house.

Dr. Ratliff and Mrs. Williams at North.

It was noted by those at the meeting that follow-up information will be a part of the screening programs. Parent, as well as student education will be stressed during the screening period and with the follow-up program as well.

An "emergency" stamp will be used to indicate the presence of decaying permanent teeth that are in danger of being lost; abscessed teeth that are probably affecting general health; or badly misaligned teeth that could be corrected by orthodontic treatment (braces).

In addition to the surveys, Dr. Hamblen will speak on the subject of dental health to the student body assembly at high school Wednesday.

81 Candidates Get Nobel Panel Okay

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The Nobel Committee of the Swedish Academy approved 81 candidates Monday for consideration for the 1953 Nobel Prize for literature, the highest number ever. As customary, no names were disclosed.

Last year about 70 candidates passed the committee screening. American novelist John Steinbeck was awarded the 1952 prize.

Boston Commuters Being Lured Back To Railroads

BOSTON (AP)—Can automobile commuters be lured from their daily morning and evening chariot races on crowded superhighways back to relatively relaxed railroad commuting?

It begins to appear so.

The state of Massachusetts and the Boston & Maine Railroad—one of three serving Boston—began a commuter experiment underwritten by federal funds Jan. 7.

The state's Mass Transportation Commission signed a $2.5-million contract with the railroad under which it undertook to increase trains, including single car diesels, from 207 to 384 daily and to slash commuter fares an average of 30 per cent.

The result? The Mass Transportation Commission reports that in the third week of the test, the railroad carried 31,529 more passengers than in the same week of 1952—a gain of 24.9 per cent.

What do these figures mean? Dr. Joseph F. Maloney, director of the MTC, says cautiously that they "are indisputable evidence that the public is vitally interested in the program. But what the results will prove no one dares guess at this time."

The railroad's conductors are less restrained. "I've never seen such enthusiasm," says one. "It looks like the good old days. 'I haven't seen anything like this since the war,' says another."

With guarded optimism, a railroad spokesman explains, "our problem is to change commuters' habits. Some rise might normally be expected during the bad-driving months. The real test will come with spring."

The assistant vice president for operations, W. H. Holland, says the experiment may show whether the public will support in-crescent service and cut rates and then whether passenger trains—as a public necessity—merit subsidy support.

But the restoration of railroad commuting is only part of the total picture. One purpose is to ease the frantic crush periods on the highways, morning and evening. Another is to ease city parking problems.

What do the commuters think about it?

Surprisingly, they are patronizing nonrush-hour trains in addition to the morning-evening commuter service. Nonrush-hour travel has soared up by 26.3 per cent.

A check showed these riders are women shoppers, students, and people who want to go to Boston for evening entertainment and now have night trains on which to get home.

One regular commuter explained: "Economies dictates that I become a train rider."

Another said, "I'm tired of fighting traffic. This is more relaxing and convenient. I save half an hour a day and $3.50 a week."

Other commuters variously praise convenience, shorter travel time, and later trains at night making it possible for them to stay in Boston for dinner, night shopping, basketball games or other amusements.

The trustees of another railroad, the New Haven, have completed negotiations for an experimental increase in service in areas south and west of Boston.

Only one railroad, the New York Central, has held back, thus far after discussions with the Mass Transportation Commission. It serves thousands of commuters in populous suburbs west of Boston.

Glovers Win 3 Of 4 In Odessa Card

ODESSA — Snyder boxers blasted their way to victories in three of four bouts staged here Monday night during an Amateur Boxing Program presented by the Odessa Boys' Club.

Cities represented in addition to Snyder included Odessa, Minnabasca, Midland, Wink, Crane, Seminole and Clovis. The Clovis team emerged as champion of the inter-city card.

Snyder victories included those of Vince Ganna (126) by decision over Leonard Aldridge of Wink, Joe Costello (126) by second-round TKO over Dan Brecht of Crane, and Martin Benitez (118) by decision over Joe Hernandez of Odessa Boys' Club.

The lone Snyder loss came about as the result of a split decision when Robert Garcia (112) was defeated by Fidel Hinojosa of Odessa Boys' Club.

Coach Lucy Belles reports that all four of his fighters looked "very good" during the bouts.

The average age of the New York Giants is 26. Only 18 men remain from the 1960 football squad.

SOPH STARS—A pair of sophomore guards — Leslie Brown and Drew Bullard — have been playing an instrumental part in the recent success story written by the Snyder Tiger cagers. Both are expected to be in the starting lineup tonight at 8 when the Bengals host Lake View in a District 3-AAA clash. (Photo by Jackson)

Tigers Host Chiefs Tonight

Snyder's super-charged Tigers will be cast in the host role tonight when they entertain Lake View's Chiefs in a District 3-AAA game encounter set to begin at 8 o'clock in Tiger Gym.

Snyder, after dropping its first two district clashes, has come back strong to mark up decisions in its last three outings. Lake View, on the other hand, suffered its first loop setback Friday at the hands of league-leading Lamesa after romping to victories in its first four tries.

So it is that a Tiger triumph tonight would tend to push them to tie with the Chiefs for second place. Sweetwater (14-4) could make the race much more interesting, too, by taking the measure of Lamesa in either district activity of the evening. The Tornados will be striving to nail down their sixth triumph without loss when the two quintets meet tonight in Sweetwater.

The other 3-AAA dual of the night matches the Brownfield Cubs (2-3) and Colorado City Wolves (6-3) in Colorado City.

It was Lake View that barely managed to fight off a furious Tiger rally in the closing minutes of their district opener in San Angelo some three weeks ago for a 60-58 conquest. The Bengals outscored the eventual winners by

Tigerettes In Double Win Over Lamesa

It took a garrison fight to turn the trick, but Snyder's Tigerette volleyball girls managed to lock up the props out from under Lamesa in Tiger Gym Monday night in a non-district battle.

Snyder was down by 10-3 in the first round of the best of three series of the night, but bounced back to win the 6-3 and 15-10 Lamesa came roaring back to tie the second skirmish 14-14, then the Snyder girls scored a last-second point to come within striking distance of the visitors in the decisive tiebreaker and went on to win out by a 15-13 count.

Carolyn Iverson served for 13 points to pace the way to the hard-earned victory.

The Snyder B team had a little easier time of it in their game against Lamesa B, winning in straight games by scores of 11-5 and 15-9. Barbara Savage topped the winners with 12 points and exchange student Marta Burley was cited for playing an outstanding game for the Tigerettes B team.

Sherry Kue tallied 14 points Thursday to lead the Tigerette varsity to a 15-3, 15-4 topping of Sweetwater in other non-district action. The Snyder B team also won out on that occasion by 15-3, 15-4 behind the 16-point effort of Linda Cartwright.

Blues, Reds Triumph

Max Moreland sank a goal in overtime here Monday afternoon in Travis Gym to push Travis (7-0) Blue's number two team to a 2-0 victory over Travis White two.

Emmett Hataway bucketed 10 points to pace the losers of the losing cause, also. Frankie Grinnett put on a one-man scoring exhibition in the other game of the afternoon at the same site, scoring all of his team's points to power Lathrop Red two to a 2-1 triumph over Lathrop Gray two.

Topping the Grays in scoring were Pat Vandervoort and Torm...

Aparacio Happier In New Uniform

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

Associated Press Sports Writer

The baseball game that sent Luis Aparacio from the Chicago White Sox to the Baltimore Orioles last month already is paying off as far as the speedy stop is concerned.

There's nothing like a change of uniform and a new pay contract to make a discontented player happy, and Aparacio showed his satisfaction by signing his 1983 contract Monday.

Although terms were not revealed, it was reported that the 26-year-old Venezuelan would receive about $57,500, the highest salary he drew from the White Sox last season.

Lee MacPhail, president of the Orioles, said Aparacio could be the highest paid Baltimore player in 1983.

Luis had been miffed when the White Sox threatened him with a sizable pay slash before the trade. From his home in Maricao, he was quoted as saying he would quit the game if his salary was cut.

Aparacio, the American League's leading base stealer for seven straight seasons, is playing winter baseball in Maricao, and latest averages had him hitting around .400.

The flashy fielder joined Chicago in 1980 and stole 56 bases when the club won the pennant in 1980. He stole 31 bases last season after pilfering more than 30 in each of the last three years.

The wily right-handed batter also hit only .241 and his lifetime batting average dropped from .266 to .232.

Other signings Monday included:

Green, Scott, Goosby Are All-District

District 2B Negro all-district teams have been announced, with Ronald Green of Snyder Lincoln having been named to the first team and chosen captain of the dream quint by unanimous vote.

Joining him on the boys' team are George Morris, Crater, Bill Phillips, Big Lake, and Melvin Hall and Henry Willis, Levelland.

Green scored 200 points in the eight district encounters for a healthy 25.6 per-game average.

Lincoln's Linwood Durst, who had 172 district points to his credit, was an honorable mention selection.

Coaston to the girls' team were Wanda Hall, Levelland, Clarissa Watson, Big Lake, Pearlzie Joe, Crater, Eva Sherin, and Clara White, McCamey, and Mary Goosby, Lincoln.

Misses Goosby and White tied for the sixth place on the six-digit first team, while Lincoln's Evelyn Brazier was honored by being named to the second team.

Miss Scott scored 119 points in a district games, while Miss Goosby had 86 in 6 contests and Miss Brazier 56 in 4 titles.

The Lincoln and Crane girls finished in a tie for the district title, and aptly demonstrated to play it off in Big Spring, Friday. Levelland, was winner of the boys' division with a 7-1 record, while Lincoln came in third.

Sweetwater 60-58, and Brownfield 44-37 to remain in contention for the league bunting.

6-0 senior forward Stuart Long enjoyed his finest hour in helping Snyder get past Brownfield Friday.

He pumped in 29 points before fouling out midway through the final period to tie the school one-game scoring mark. His explosive effort also skyrocketed him from eighth in district point production all the way up to fourth. He has now meshed 50 points in the five outings for an average of 13.3.

Coach Ned Underwood plans to start 6-1 Jimmy Wilson at the other forward slot opposite Long. 6-2 William Robinson will man the back, and a pair of sophomores — 5-8 Drew Bullard and 5-9 Leslie Brown — the guard positions.

Probable starters for Coach Don Abbott's Chiefs include 6-0 Jessie Blann, 5-9 Pat Stewart and 6-0 Roy Probst at the guards and 6-4 Perry Brasser and 6-4 Joe Hartman at the tandem post.

In district scoring, Probst is running sixth with 50 — 30 of which were bucketed during the Brownfield game. Robinson, Stewart and Blann are tied for tenth with 31, while Bullard and Brown stand thirteenth and fourteenth with 49 and 48.

Snyder B will carry a gaudy 12-7 record into the preliminary contest with Lake View B, a team the locals buffeted 53-27 in a previous match. Tipoff time for that one is 6:15.

The Bengal B team, coached by Bill Harfield, are rocking a 4-1 record in 3-AAA circles.

Leslie Anderson is leading the team in district point production with 62, and hit his peak Friday with a 20-point outburst against Brownfield B. Jerry Vestal is close behind him with 58.

Headed by Cincinnati, No. 1 for the 10th straight week, the top six teams held their positions today in The Associated Press college basketball poll.

Behind the unbeaten Bearcats came Loyola of Chicago, Duke, Illinois, Arizona State and Georgia Tech, all of them unshaken after a week of solid success.

The last four teams in the order are Colorado, Mississippi State, Wichita and Stanford—the same as a week ago but in scrambled positions. The poll was based on games through Saturday Feb. 2.

Stanford, loser to Washington 49-47, fell from seventh to 10th and was replaced by Colorado, which climbed a notch after beating Oklahoma 77-68. Mississippi State rose a single rung to No. 8 on victories over Southern Mississippi and Louisiana State. Wichita moved up from tenth on a 66-58 decision over Tulsa.

Cincinnati, which won over Drake 65-40 in overtime and St. Louis 70-40 to extend its season's winning string to 17 games and its overall streak to 35, drew 42 of the 44 first-place votes from the AP's special panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

With 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second, etc., the Bearcats ran up 438 points for a substantial margin over Loyola, winner of 20 straight games.

Loyola, which crushed Washington 81-58 and St. Louis 118-58 and Iowa 88-58, got one of the two stray votes from Tulsa.

Sherman Coach Steps Down For SMU Job

DALLAS (AP) — Dave Smith has resigned as Sherman High School coach to take a job as assistant football coach at Southern Methodist University, the Dallas News said today.

The News quoted Byron Davis, superintendent of Sherman schools, as confirming the resignation and stating Smith was "accepting a position at SMU."

Smith is due to fill the vacancy on the SMU staff created when Ty Balm left to become football coach at Longview.

Frick Proclaims Baseball In Highly Healthy State

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—In the wake of professional football's most prosperous season, when once again this sports-conscious nation is asking whether baseball has been permitting its winter counterpart to take over as America's national game, comes a voice that proclaims Abner Doubleday's invention to be in its healthiest state.

The voice is an important one since it belongs to baseball's chief executive, Commissioner Ford Frick.

"Baseball has never been more popular than it is today," said the man who has guided its destiny for the last dozen years. "More people are watching it, both in person and on television, and more youngsters are playing it than ever before."

According to Frick, baseball, since it shed its cloak of timidity 10 years ago and took the big plunge into the fresh waters of expansion, has made great strides moving into an era of prosperity, confidence and popular support the likes of which have never been dreamed.

When Frick became the big boss of baseball, in September of 1951, the game was fraught with dangers and loaded with problems. Declining attendance, shifting populations, minor league strained player-owner relations and congressional probes into the very structure of organized baseball contributed to his problems.

"Our complexities were unlike those the game ever had been confronted with before," said Frick.

"Ten years ago we had 16 clubs in the major leagues with two or three in dire circumstances. Today we have 20 healthy clubs with a system set up for 24 clubs."

"Is baseball losing interest? On the contrary, there is more interest than ever in baseball. Look at the paid attendance figures. The majors drew more than 20 million people last year, more than twice as many as they did 10 years ago."

"There is no telling how many millions watched the games on television. More important to me is the fact that there were six million youngsters at ages 10 to 20 playing regularly under supervision."

Now to the burning question whether football is usurping baseball's heretofore unquestioned role as the mother sport in the country.

"I'm not going to become involved in a controversy with football," said Frick. "We in baseball are very happy about our game and we're not worrying about football. Both are major sports. Each has its place and season."

"It might be wise, though, to bear this one thought in mind. Is it possible for a sport with a season that comprises only 14 games to compete with another whose season extends through six months with games played every single day throughout those six months?"

Nicklaus In Playoff Win

By JIM BACON
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus, golf's million-dollar baby, is $9,000 richer Tuesday, an amazing 8-stroke winner over Gary Player in an 18-hole playoff for the Palm Springs Golf Classic championship.

Ironically, Nicklaus disclosed Monday that he almost cancelled playing in the classic because of buritis in his hip.

Nicklaus shot a 34-31-65, six-under-par, over the Indian Wells course. He sank 35-foot putts for a birdie 3 on the 17th and for an eagle 3 on the 18th.

"Some weeks you only have to work four days for $9,000," said the smiling 23-year-old National Open champion. "This week I had to work six."

Perfect Mark In Jeopardy

By The Associated Press
Texas puts its unbeaten record on the line tonight in the headline game of Southwest Conference basketball. The Longhorns will try to crack a home court skin of Texas A&M.

The Aggies haven't lost one at College Station since midseason of 1960 and this game is expected to be the toughest test of the season for the league-leading Longhorns.

Texas A&M, Arkansas and Rice are tied for second with 32 records. Texas is 5-0.

Arkansas meets Texas Tech at Lubbock tonight. Rice battles Baylor at Waco and Texas Christian jousts with Southern Methodist at Dallas.

Texas can't lose the lead even if it should fail to beat the Aggies, but a defeat could cut the Longhorns' margin over second place to a single game.

Saturday there will be two day games with Texas A&M and TCU playing one at Fort Worth and Baylor and Arkansas hooking up in the other at Fayetteville. Rice and Texas Tech play at Houston that night while SMU clashes with Texas at Austin.

Rice, TCU Start Work

By The Associated Press
More than 130 footballers were at practice today as Rice and Texas Christian moved into spring training.

Eighty-one candidates greeted Coach Jess Neely at Rice Monday. Coach Abe Martin welcomed 75 at TCU.

Other Southwest Conference schools will wait several weeks before starting the spring grind. Neely put his Owls through their drills at full speed and promised there would be some form of scrimmage every day. Several lettermen missed the start of practice because of school work.

Rice tackle James Favors won't be out at all because of high blood pressure. He is expected to be ready in the fall.

There were 27 returnees from last fall and one from 1961 among the candidates reporting at TCU. These included seven 1962 starters.

New Strike Zone Adopted By Colleges

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—College baseball will turn to the widened strike zone for the 1963 playing season, Collegiate Baseball Newspaper reported Monday.

In following the leads of the pros, the new college rule changes the strike zone to between the top of the batter's shoulders and his knees when he assumes his natural position.

J. Kyle Anderson, chairman of the NCAA rules committee, told the newspaper that the change had been made after he took a hurried mail-vote of his members and leaders of the American Association of College Baseball coaches.

'Oliver' May Open Up New Realm For Musical Comedy

BY INEZ ROBB

"Once you accept the premise that Fagin is just a jolly old rascal, a sort of 19th century Robin Hood who operated in London rather than Sherwood Forest, you'll simply love the musical version of 'Oliver Twist'," said one of my friends before I went to see 'Oliver'.

And she was absolutely right. As soon as one accepts Fagin as a mischievous old pirate, who was also an amusing rascal, 'Oliver' is the prime stuff of which musical comedy is made. 'Oliver's last name has been dropped from the hit musical, which has come to Broadway via London, where-on 'Oliver's native haunts — it was also a sensation.

Fifteen minutes after the curtain goes up, it is even jolly fun that Fagin runs a school in theft and pickpocketing for small boys. After all, kids need schooling, don't they?

But don't get me wrong — I loved 'Oliver'. It is a smash hit, and it has been running for months and needs a boost from the like another line at the box office. A ticket to 'Oliver' is the same kind of status symbol in New York today as a ticket to 'How to Succeed in Business without Really Trying' was a year ago.

As for 'Oliver,' the acting is marvelous, the music is great, the pace superb and the sets tremendous. But I am afraid that the name 'Twist' has been dropped from the musical comedy. For 'Oliver' has just about as much to do with 'Twist' as 'Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf'.

In this prettified version of the Dickens novel, poor Nancy is still a pious, old-fashioned, and the mischievous villain, Bill Sikes, but the latter does it discreetly and in dim and foggy shadows where it will not bother the audience.

Even the dancing scene in the workhouse, where Oliver and a horde of other small boys are starved for food and where Oliver has the temerity at mealtime to ask for "more," is only an extension of a rousing song, "Food, Glorious Food," and a dance by Oliver and his hungry companions. And an excuse for a lot of funny stuff, between Rumble and the Widow Corney who are systematically starving the children.

I cannot help but wonder how many adults and children, too, who have seen 'Oliver' and have never read 'Oliver Twist' will go away from the theatre convinced that the Dickens story must be a very, very funny book, indeed. And never dream that it was a powerful work of social protest, a damning

You've Lived If You Can Remember—

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the things the old feel sorry for the young about is that they have so few memories.

This century has seen more change than any in history, perhaps too much for the welfare of all.

But the roller-coaster ride we've had in the last two generations certainly has left a treasure trove of recollections, both sweet and bitter. And you can hold your own in the nostalgia derby if you can remember when:

A nightcap was something a man wore to bed—not a last belt from a bottle to wind up a party. You could get in a fist fight in an argument over such heated questions as the protective tariff and the free coinage of silver.

The newspaper feature sections on Sunday carried visionary predictions that eventually man would be able to fly nonstop in an airplane from coast to coast. The height of elegance was to be able to afford an iron stag in your front lawn.

People threw away their box tops because there was no place you could mail them for a quarter and get something back.

Only Norwegians and kids on barrel staves ever went skiing.

We all felt grateful to Warren G. Harding for returning us to normalcy—whatever that was.

Rupert Hughes scandalized the literary world by writing a book pointing out that George Washington had snored like an ordinary human being.

If a man had gold in his teeth, it was a pretty safe bet he either was a banker or had a steady job with a railroad.

The ambition of many a housewife was to have her husband take her out to dinner at one of those new-fangled cafeterias.

A small boy whose mother made him carry a handkerchief to school in winter was the class sissy.

Almost every town had a family in which one of the children chewed tobacco at an early age.

Author Sinclair Lewis started lecture groups by pulling out his watch and giving God one minute to strike him dead.

During prohibition the serious drinkers imbued everything from bay rum to Jamaica ginger, and even for safety's sake was banned from the basement while father bottled his home brew.

The family doctor created a neighborhood row when he raised his price to $5 for a home call.

Nobody felt unsafe because every boy in town carried a jackknife, usually attached to his pants belt loop by an old shoe string.

Most of us dreamed of saving enough money to retire to the country in their old age and run a chicken farm.

Everybody knew the police officer on the beat by his first name and on cold days invited him in for a cup of hot coffee.

The biggest topic of discussion in the local barbershop was whether Jack Dempsey could have stood up to John L. Sullivan in his prime.

One of the most hated chores of childhood was emptying the clumpy pan of water under the family icicles.

A high school girl's prestige at the annual class picnic was partly measured by how many petticoats she wore.

More people had heard of Harvard than of Harvard University.

Junior Editors Quiz on SOCRATES

QUESTION: What did Socrates do that made him so famous?

ANSWER: Historians regard the ancient Greeks as the founders of our Western civilization, because so many of our ideas and ways of thinking have come from them. There were three great philosophers whose thinking has especially influenced us. Socrates, born about 469 B. C., is the first of these. He saw that people around him had opinions about things but had not turned these opinions into knowledge. Because Socrates sought this knowledge, taking an idea and testing it out to see if there was truth in it, we venerate him today for starting people in trying to understand the world around them. Socrates believed in God and that man had a soul, and he thought men should search for knowledge that is good for their souls. He was unjustly accused of having influenced others wrongly and condemned to drink poisonous hemlock. The great philosopher is famous for the calm and dignified way he instructed his students in his last hours and then quietly drank the poison. Socrates' famous pupil, Plato, founded the first "academy" or university. Plato's pupil, Aristotle, helped lay the foundations of natural science and so Socrates' search for knowledge was carried on.

FOR YOU TO DO: The ancients liked to do portraits in white marble, like the bust of Socrates. Try a portrait bust of one of your friends or yourself, looking in a mirror. Use a piece of white soap as the material. It costs beautifully.

Drugs Sent To Cuba Get Special Label

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Footnote to history:

Some of the drugs sent to Fidel Castro as ransom for Cuban prisoners carry a special marking. They were labeled this way as a means of learning whether Castro sells or barter them abroad rather than using them in Cuba, a pharmaceutical manufacturer says.

Drugs accounted for about half of the $53 million in goods which Castro made the price for releasing 1,113 Bay of Pigs prisoners at Christmas time.

Makers of the drugs, surgical instruments and baby foods contributed their products to make up the ransom figure. They were convinced Cuba was in desperate need of such items, with drugs in short supply there, and health problems becoming very serious. But some items requested by Castro made them wonder whether the Cuban government really intended to use them all in Cuba, or exchange or sell them for other products his economy—or his military establishment—needs, this informant said.

So, as a tracer, one pharmaceutical manufacturer put a special mark on the packages of drugs he supplied. The drugs were not altered in any way.

"We'll be able to tell if they show up in Russia or South America, or even eventually in the United States," said this source, who asked not to be identified.

Drugs are a big seller in black markets, he explained. The choice of pharmaceuticals as a main item in the prisoner barter is interesting, he added. U.S. medical experts visiting the Soviet Union have gained an impression that the Soviet Union is not producing all the drugs it would like to produce for its own citizens, he said.

Cuba's request for drugs could mean the U.S.S.R. is unable or unwilling to supply these items, although the Soviet Union has sold or bartered other essentials to the Castro government.

Daily Crude Flow Drops

TULSA (AP)—U.S. oil production declined last week, the Oil and Gas Journal said today. Average daily production was 7,219,125 barrels, down 38,425 from the previous week, the magazine said.

Oklahoma output dropped 24,900 barrels to an average of 499,700. Colorado was down 1,200 to 109,100. Arkansas produced 75,000. Louisiana 1,357,000. New Mexico 301,000 and Texas 2,510,300.

Inter-Arab Force In Kuwait Dissolved

CAIRO (AP)—The Arab League has announced the dissolution of the inter-Arab force set up in oil-rich Kuwait to resist Iraqi territorial claims in 1961. The league said Monday the reason was "the encouraging situation along the Iraqi-Kuwaiti border."

Reliable sources said, however, that Kuwait opposed dissolving of the force and is still fearful of Iraqi strongman Abdel Kerim Kassem.

Iraq has been boycotting the 15-nation Arab League ever since it admitted Kuwait to membership.

Prince Lu's Remains Reinterred Monday

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The remains of Prince Lu of the Ming dynasty, who died in 1662 on Quemoy, were ceremonially reinterred there Monday.

Nationalist troops discovered the remains in 1959 while they were constructing underground tunnels on the Communist-embellished island. President Chiang Kai-shek ordered a new tomb built.

Lady With Smile Joins Philosopher

By MILES A. SMITH

NEW YORK (AP)—The Lady with the smile is joining the philosopher with the contemplative air.

The lady is Lisa, known as the "Mona (Madonna) Lisa," sometimes called "La Gioconda" because she was the wife of a man named Giocondo.

Her portrait was painted 4½ centuries ago by a great man and great artist, Leonardo da Vinci.

The philosopher is Aristotle, the ancient Greek, who in the 13th century was painted by Rembrandt, as "Aristotle Contemplating the Bust of Homer."

The "Aristotle" became famous when the Metropolitan Museum of Art paid $2.3 million for the masterpiece at a Parke-Bernet auction in November 1961, outbidding the Cleveland Museum of Art.

Ever since, it has been the Metropolitan's biggest drawing card, running up new attendance records.

The "Mona Lisa," whose regular place is a special section of the Grand Galerie of the Louvre in Paris, has been on loan to this country from the French government. She attracted huge crowds at the National Gallery in Washington from Jan. 8 to last Sunday.

The Metropolitan will have a preview for her Wednesday night and from Thursday through March 4 the public will create a great jam to see the double feature.

MEXICO CITY — As if the world doesn't have enough problems, we now get the disquieting news that more than 1,700 different, known species of mosquitoes are bugging around unrestricted.

To make matters worse, the bug scientists are trying to suppress the real facts of this crisis. They would like to hush us into a false sense of security with the announcement that "only about 70 species of mosquitoes live in Mexico."

Sorry gentlemen but I cannot accept this. The flouting of such phrases as "more than 1,700" and "only about 70" fools no one.

Considering that this actually is the case (and don't think for a

People In The News

By The Associated Press

Dr. Edward R. Annis, president-elect of the American Medical Association, says American doctors would react more violently against government control of their profession than their Canadian counterparts did last year.

Most of the estimated 700 physicians in Saskatchewan Province went on strike July 1 for 23 days in protest against the provincial government's new compulsory medical plan.

At a Nashville, Tenn., news conference, Annis called the Saskatchewan incident "peaceful" and "descriptive." The Miami, Fla., surgeon said that the provincial government "locked the doctors out of the practice of private medicine."

Crown Prince Faisal, prime minister of Saudi Arabia, has installed three of his brothers in key posts, apparently another move to bring the oil-rich desert kingdom firmly under his control.

The appointments, announced by Mecca radio and heard in Damascus, Syria, appeared to weaken the position of Faisal's brother, King Saud, who has been under medical treatment in Switzerland.

Prince Abdullah was named commander of the National Guard, Prince Mashal became governor of the Mecca region and Prince Salman got the governorship of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia's capital.

King Saud's sons had held the posts.

Jean Paul Sartre's book "Le Mur" (The Wall), is not, indeed, an appeals court in Athens, Greece, has ruled. The court acquitted the book's Greek publishers and its translator on charges that they put out pornographic literature.

Defense witnesses, among them outstanding Greek poet, told the appellate court that if Sartre's book of five short stories was pornographic, then the partially nude, armless statue of Venus de Milo ought to wear a bathing suit.

Permission Asked To Sell Jewelry

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—An attorney serving as executor of the late Marion Davies' estate is asking court permission to sell $35,000 worth of her jewelry to pay debts and inheritance taxes.

Gregory B. Baurer filed the petition in Superior Court Monday and named the buyer as Diabone Inc. of Geneva, Switzerland. Thirty-four pieces are involved in the proposed transaction.

Miss Davies, a former film actress, died Sept. 22, 1961, at the age of 64.

The crowds will be guided through a special lane, rope-guided, beginning at the main entrance on Fifth Avenue at 82nd Street.

As the line crosses the center of the great hall, the shuffling thousands will see, about 20 paces off to their right, the Rembrandt—spotlighted between two huge tapestries.

The lines will flow straight to the rear of the main floor, to the high-ceilinged medieval sculpture hall, a place of many religious figures, tapestries and fading banners.

There, at the foot of a great choir screen, will be the "Mona Lisa" shielded behind bullet-proof glass and separated from the mass of humanity by another line of ropes.

The great screen, consisting almost entirely of vertical lines, gives the hall the air of a cathedral. It is composed of wrought iron, 32 feet high, and was created in 1666 for a Spanish church.

As in Washington, there will be a Marine guard, and many security measures which are not being disclosed.

The preparations have been painstaking. For four weeks a little black box has been resting at the scene, recording temperatures and humidity, to insure a proper atmosphere for the delicate work. The temperature is supposed to be 62 degrees and the humidity 45 per cent.

moment I believe these figures, just where does that leave the more than 1,630 other types?

Since beasts of similar nature like similar climates, it is a pretty clear implication that we have on about 70 American Hemisphere type of mosquitoes and the rest dwell behind the Iron Curtain.

In other words, what our scientists refuse to admit openly is that Western World mosquitoes are outnumbered some 23.34 to 1 by those from the Communist World.

Even if we ignore the Gestalt Theory and follow Scarce's tables of equalization, we find a relatively low number of Communist mosquitoes would be willing to defect to our side.

Additional information gleaned from the Mosquito Report reveals that the Anopheles breed is probably the most dangerous. It is interesting to note that even though scientists refuse to commit themselves on vital issues, Mexico ran this vicious insect out of the country and they are now against the law.

At any rate, there are more than 175 types of Anopheles gadding about and we might take time to explain just why there are more than 175 types.

This particular species, known as the Faibol of The Mosquito since it was the first to be developed, was named after its originator, Anopheles, who was a distant relative of the Greek dramatist Sophocles.

The deadly little beast came into being after months of laboratory experiments in which Anopheles cross-bred hummingbirds, caterpillars and swordfish. By using the basic Japanese formula for stunting trees, Anopheles managed to produce a small but sturdy specimen.

It is interesting to note (again) that Anopheles' achievement was directly responsible for his own destruction. In April, 436 B.C., he conceived a fiendish scheme for enriching himself at the expense of others and historians believe this was the beginning of the end.

Swarms of specially trained mosquitoes were sent out each night to feast on human beings. When they returned satiated and gorged, Anopheles tossed them into a huge vat and boiled them. The liquid composed of around 96 per cent human molecules, was later dehydrated and the powder sold to carnal tribes in cans labeled "Instant People."

However, these mosquitoes could count as well as the next person and eventually they caught on. One night they attacked Anopheles in a blind rage and devoured him completely. The only thing left of Anopheles was his name, which the insidious creatures stubbornly refuse to give up.

Since being run out of Mexico, these mosquitoes reportedly have taken up political exile in Cuba where they may well be slowly dying of malnutrition.

Entrance Delays Opening Curtain

NEW YORK (AP)—A funny thing happened Monday night to four people on the way to sit seats at "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum"—they delayed the opening curtain.

The audience burst into applause at the entrance of Mrs. John F. Kennedy, Prince Stanislas Radziwill and his wife, Princess Lee Radziwill and an unidentified man.

The princess is the sister of the First Lady.

Hobby Launched With A Counterfeit Coin

BY LUCY DYBART

Twenty-five years ago, a rust-eaten, lead bucket with approximately 100 counterfeit "silver" dollars and several molds in it was dug up on a small farm six miles east of Snyder on the old Camp Springs Road.

No mystery was solved, nor was there any running gun battle between counterfeiters and FBI agents. After the initial flurry of excitement was over, nothing really happened, except that a hobby was born.

When M. M. Clark obtained one of the coins, interest began. Now, he holds quite a collection of vintage coins, which he has collected over a period of years. He has never been in the buying, selling or trading end of coin collecting — he simply keeps any "old timers" which come his way. Most of his coins happened along between 1924 and 1936 when he owned a local service station. In making and receiving change, he found some of his best specimens.

Particularly interesting are two 3½ inch by 16 inch two-dollar greenbacks. The oldest is of the 1869 series and signed by Frank White, then United States Treasurer. Unusual, not only in size but in that President George Washington's picture appears on the bill, it certifies that the note is worth two silver dollars.

The second bill pictures the usual president of the two-dollar bill — Thomas Jefferson — and is of the 1917 series during Woodrow Wilson's administration, and there is no mention of the bill's value in silver dollars.

Mr. Clark pointed out the multiple ink thread, holding the bill up to the light. On the back, extremely fine and delicate script explains a fine of $5,000 for counterfeiting or passing of a counterfeit note. This just might be a reasonable explanation of why the 100 counterfeit "silver" dollars were never passed. Although they might have looked authentic to the untrained eye, they never could have passed the biting or solid test for their composition was of lead and tin — two elements never noted for total qualities.

Mr. Clark's "lucky piece" is a worn 1857 half-dime, much smaller than the modern dime. In comparison, its 1834 copper penny is within a hair's breadth of equaling our 50-cent piece.

Other interesting coins are the large 1963 and 1967 two-cent coins and star nickels, which predate the well-known buffalo issue, 1932 quarters and the special 1925 Stone Mountain half dollar issued as a memorial to the "valor of the soldier of the South," depicting Gen. Robert E. Lee and his beloved steed, "Traveler."

While coin collecting is Mr. Clark's leisure hobby, making people "read" is his on-duty hobby. It certainly is not with any but the best intentions that he accomplishes this, but human nature being what it is, frequently rewards Mr. Clark's words of advice with sheepish grins and less than grateful attitudes. As Lake Thomas patrolman and law enforcer, the lake's Maurice Clark is often pretty unpopular while carrying out his line of duty. His job is to protect the lives of lake enthusiasts and to uphold the lake regulations.

M. M. CLARK
... relaxing with 'Miss Tammy'

For those who might not know, these laws include a 50-cent daily recreation permit, or an annual $5 permit. State law requires that each person must have a life jacket when in or near the water. Clark realizes that a lot of people think the daily or yearly permits are too steep, but he went on to explain why the fees are necessary. Only five lakes in the state were built through local or area bond issues. All others were financed either by the federal or state governments. Lake Thomas construction was financed by Snyder, Odessa and Big Spring for their municipal water supply through the Colorado River Municipal Water District. So, the fees, along with the sale of water, help finance the project.

Anyone between the ages of 17 and 65 who boats, fishes or skis is required to have a permit. Picnickers are exempt, but should remember the 50¢. "Yes, my darling daughter, you may go out to swim, but don't go near the water."

If Clark had his way, the state law would be revised to read that each person afloat would be required to wear a life jacket, for he has seen many accidents happen so quickly that the persons involved did not have time to grab preservers. Many times his 40 horsepower boat has raced to the scene of an accident in time to save a possible fatality.

A real life drama happened not long ago when a girl received a crippled leg in a freak skiing accident. Luckily, Clark was on the spot to save her until the boat could return and receive the victim. In the course of a day, Clark cautions many offenders against reckless boat driving, sitting on the boat sides and lack of life jackets. He likes his job, but his best and happiest days are the quiet and uneventful routine ones. He's there to help, and that is what he courteously does.

During the winter months, the Lake Thomas crews are busy paving roads, planting trees and getting ready for the warm, outdoor months.

During the day, Clark is at the lake and the Mrs. Clark is at her, Marjorie Beauty Salon, of which she is co-owner. But in the evenings both are at home at 2903 Avenue X, mostly just relaxing and pampering Miss Tammy, their pet Chihuahua.

However, on pretty weekends, you can usually find the enthusiastic Clarks at — you guessed it — their's and Snyder's favorite lake.

Astronauts To Train On 'Bedstead'

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — American astronauts will train for a landing on the moon in a bedstead-like "flying simulator" at the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston.

Astronaut M. Scott Carpenter and Dr. Robert B. Voas of the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston gave new details of a weird flying device designed to give spacemen the feel of a lunar landing while flying over an American desert.

They told about it at a symposium on space medicine at Brooks Air Force Base Monday.

The aircraft, officially known as a "flying simulator," will feature a metal frame about 14 feet high and about that length at the base, giving roughly the appearance of a flying bedstead—Carpenter said.

It will sport two engines—a special jet engine at the center of the frame and a rocket engine.

The jet will operate in such a way as to cancel out five-sixths of the earth's gravitational pull, thus simulating conditions above the low-gravity moon. The rocket engine will be used to lower the craft gently to the desert surface, and then enable it to rise again.

The astronaut would ride in a car fastened to the metal frame, and would work the controls of both engines.

Pick Biloxi For Session

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — An invitation to meet at Biloxi, Miss., Alaska, for June, 1965.

In December, 1964, was accepted Monday by the executive committee of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

No action was taken on a similar invitation from Anchorage, Alaska, for June, 1965.

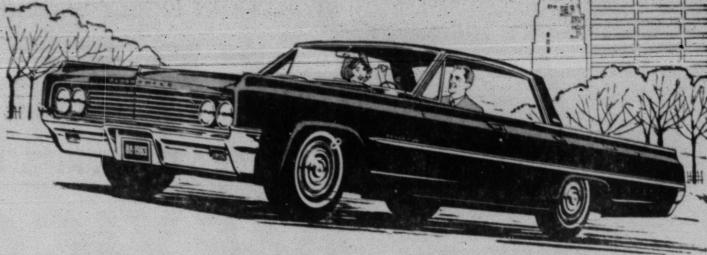

The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Tues., Feb. 5, 1965

Routine matters took up most of the session. The committee is made up of governors or their representatives from 11 of the 38 compact states.

Gov. Matthew Welsh of Indiana is compact chairman.

The group tabled a proposal that a liaison committee be formed to keep the compact abreast of pending legislation and other matters in Washington.

Decayed Tooth Can't Heal Self

This is the third in a series of questions and answers on dental health published by Snyder News in cooperation with the Seventeenth District Dental Society, Texas Dental Association, in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week Feb. 3-9.

Does a decayed tooth ever heal itself?

No, it does not. Once decay has begun in a tooth, the only way the progress of this disease can be stopped is for the dentist to remove the decayed part and place a restoration in the tooth. If the tooth is not restored, the decay process continues until, eventually, the tooth must be removed.

Does fluoridated water really reduce tooth decay?

Fluoridated water is the most effective public health measure in reducing dental decay, as proven in more than 30 years of research. If you could drink fluoridated water, you will have as much as 50 percent fewer decayed teeth as you would have if the drank fluoride-deficient water.

President Kennedy and his family drink fluoridated water. So did the Eisenhower's when they lived in the White House. More than 40 million Americans, in addition to millions of people in England, Germany, The Netherlands, Belgium and many other countries, drink fluoridated water. In Ireland, fluoridation is required by law. The American Medical Association found fluoridation safe and endorsed its widespread use.

The cost of this protection is often as little as a dime a year per person—less than the price of one ice cream cone. The cost of a single filling equals one person's payment for fluoridated water for about 30 years.

Will we have a vaccine against tooth decay some day?

As dental researchers learn more and more about the role of mouth bacteria in causing tooth decay, a vaccine may become a real possibility.

State Song Proposal Hits Some Snags

AUSTIN (AP) — The problem of whether the Texas A&M band would play the "Eyes of Texas" as the state song came to the legislature Monday night.

Rep. Bill Walker of Cleveland, who wants to shelve "Texas Our Texas" in favor of the University of Texas song, caught the brunt of questions from committee members.

"People just don't know and don't recognize the state song when it's played," he said. "They do recognize the 'Eyes of Texas.'"

Mrs. Myra Brewster of Austin, president of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs, said her organization's 500 clubs "would just rise up in arms" if the state song is changed.

"If any three out of 21 members of you on this committee can get up and sing at least one chorus of our state song, I'll withdraw my proposal," Walker said.

No one took the challenge.

Rep. Sam Collins of Newton County thinks the Aggie band can learn to play the "Eyes of Texas."

Rep. Ben Jarvis of Tyler wanted to amend the bill to make the "Yellow Rose of Texas" the state song.

The song proposal went to a subcommittee.

Chiropractors At Seminar

Dr. R. J. Weaver and Dr. N. E. Gambrell attended an X-ray seminar in Lubbock on Saturday and Sunday, sponsored by District 3 of the State Chiropractic Association.

Speakers at the seminar included Dr. Charles E. Smith of Fort Worth, member of the TSCA insurance committee. He presented an illustrated lecture on X-ray information required by insurance adjusters to properly adjust claims.

Additional information was presented to the group by Dr. W. S. Deel of Levelland, state director of TSCA from District 3, and by Dr. William N. Lanford of Lubbock.

More than 50 area chiropractors attended the session.
