64th Anniversary

'Big U' Celebrates In Costume

The year was 1916 and Sayre, Okla., was somewhat insulated from world conflict by distance and technology when the brothers Snell opened their grocery store.

It was both a popular gathering and buying place and the proving grounds for customer service with a personal touch and innovative ways of stocking and selling merchandise that have grown into two divisions of "The Big U"—United Supermarkets.

That first store was an "across-the-counter" operation as were all grocery stores 64 years ago. A large photograph in an easel in the lobby of the Perryton United Supermarket shows the long, narrow store space. Behind the counters down each side were the shelves of canned goods and other non-perishable merchandise.

Customers called out items from a shopping list or from memory, or scanned the shelves behind the aproned, sleeve-garbed clerk at the counter.

This was an era of a particular method of shopping and delivery that died out with the advent of the supermarket concept. In the days of the Sayre store and countless other individual or family operated stores like it across the land, mother would write her grocery list and a son would park his "coaster" wagon in front of the store and deliver the list. The order was filled, sacked and set in the wagon. The lad would firmly grasp the tongue's "T" handle and haul the grocery order home pretending he was one of the big old "C" cab trucks that hauled the big stuff around town.

The supermarket system of showing and selling foodstuffs was born in the lean years around the turn of the 20s-30s decades. Self-selection by the customer meant more customers could be waited on each day—plus the innovation of "impulse" buying never prompted in the old over-the-counter shopping.

The average supermarket of that day could be operated with a minimum of help, too. Stocking and re-stocking could be done after closing hours along with the sweeping out.

Times prospered again and so did the supermarkets. Baskets were not capacity enough. There came the carts and other developments.

Among these developments was a restlessness among the Snell family members.

One brother, Jack Snell, crossed over into Texas and began building United Supermarkets until this small-town, first-name customer groceryman discovered he had a chain store operation. It was almost the same story in Oklahoma where the other brother had branched out from Sayre.

The Snells held to one thing they had determined when they first began to develop growth. United Supermarkets would never become franchises that were the playthings of corporation-type stockholders. Each United Supermarket, whatever the community, has remained almost a "mom 'n' pop" type operation with ownership and operation held within the community where the stores could continue the original Snell theme of a personal relationship with the customer.

It sums up this way: the "Big U" has kept the concept that the customer is the "Big You!" Nowhere is this being better demonstrated than at the Perryton United Supermarket during the weeks of the big old-fashioned 64th anniversary sale now in progress. Wednesdays and Saturdays, heaviest shopping days in the community, store personnel is decked out in the mode of the era when the Snells opened at Sayre in 1916. The ladies have long skirted dresses. The men are attired in white "stiffed-kady" hats with red, white and blue bands and matching red, white and blue arm garters.

There is even a 1916 model tractor parked out front.

Inside, the normally, friendly, festive store atmosphere has turned into a virtual midway.

Jack Snell's son, Robert, heads up the Texas United Supermarket complex with headquarters at Lubbock. He is credited with much of the concept of decor and setting for the festivities of the 64th anniversary.

The Snells have pointed to many things they believe contributed to the size and success of United Supermarkets today. Quite possibly, the basic story is told by a sign you can see hanging at the rear of that first store when you look at the old picture. The sign reads: "Spot Cash!"

Members of the Spearman city council held a budget session as a lengthy part of the regular meeting, Tuesday night, still holding the line against a tax increase but approving hikes in sewer and ambulance service rates.

The base rate for both residential and commercial sewer service will go from $3.50 to $5.00. This is SEWER service ONLY!

The hike in the fee for an ambulance "run" locally was 20 percent, raising the cost of that service from $35 to $42.

This emergency medical service (ambulance) was one of the reasons no final budget form was adopted, Tuesday night. Some equipment will have to be replaced. Some additional equipment will be needed requiring what budget-ese calls "capital outlay."

Spearman City Manager Jim Murray explained that two other entities contributed $150. per month each to the operation of EMS but, thus far, the city is the only entity that has made any capital outlay for this service.

It was decided to delay finalizing the budget until these entities could be contacted regarding capital outlay.

This is typical of the problem any city government faces: covering the cost of providing goods and services to its citizens without raising taxes.

Most of the money to operate a city providing necessary goods and services come from ad valorem taxes. That is a fancy term for property tax. Ad valorem taxes involve two things: a tax base and a tax rate.

A percentage of the fair market value (valuation) of both private and business property becomes the tax base. Most Texas entities have been setting their tax structure at 40 percent of fair market value. In the near future, by law higher than city government, it will go to 100 percent.

According to Orville Latham, and valorem tax consultant for the city, calculated on this tax base-tax rate structure and estimating that variable of collections, income for the city of Spearman from ad valorem taxes next year should be some $217-thousand.

City Manager Murray told the council he projected his budget preparations on anticipation of $213-thousand. By so doing, if Latham's projection of unpaid taxes is too low, the budget will not fall short.

Union Church Gets A New Minister

The Union Church of Spearman has a new minister.

Steve E. Rogers and wife, Debi, have been in their new home at 21 S. Endicot for some days now and he is well into the business getting acquainted with the work of his new church field.

The couple moved here from Pampa where he was minister of the Lamar Full Gospel Assembly four years.

The Union Church here, like Rogers' former pastorate at Pampa, is categorized either "interdenominational" or non-denominational and either is fairly accurate. Each church is autonomous without a central governing body but well aware of like congregations throughout the land through spiritual fellowship and results of a spiritual ministry.

"We live and work in harmony with all churches," Rogers said. "We do not draw our ecclesiastical skirts about us and remain aloof either spiritually or in community spirit."

"Actually," he continued, "I have found all the Spearman ministers most friendly and capable of very fine gestures and I enjoy that kind of fellowship with God's men."

One of these gestures was to invite Rogers to speak at the combined Thanksgiving services that are traditional here with that season. Those who already have a church home will have opportunity to hear him and know him then if not before.

"For those who do not, as yet, have a church home, we have a welcome." The new minister smiled. "Our type of congregation -- except for denominational ties -- is spiritually orthodox and fairly conventional in our form of worship."

The Union Church has a Sunday School program for all ages so that it is truly a family church. This is followed on Sunday morning by a worship service.

Sunday evening at 5:30, there are youth services followed by a prayer time at six and evening worship at 6:30.

Usually, when a person of spiritual persuasion enters into a full time ministry within their faith, a talent or gift for some particular work usually emerges. With Steve and Debi Rogers it is a strong influence and association with young people.

At Pampa, Rogers produced and conducted a radio program on a local station with a "talk show" format and "call-ins" that proved very popular with young and old alike but particularly, with young people.

Asked what kind of a preacher he was, Rogers grinned -- and gave a most intriguing answer.

Now, such a question usually discovers whether a minister as a pulpit speaker is strongly evangelistic; a more scholarly, bible-teaching type -- and so on.

Rogers noted that a minister of such a congregation as the one he serves would have to be evangelistic if it is composed of a body of born-again believers.

"However, God did not just leave it there at the Cross," Rogers said. "From the Cross to the end of Holy Writ, then in a backward look through all biblical teachings, there is the outstanding fact that the Christian Life should give people answers to everyday problems -- and that is the heart of my preaching and my personal contacts of ministry."

Musically, the Rogers are singers.

"In school together we would go out to area churches with a singing group from the school," Debi explained. "Now we sing together on many occasions. We don't claim to be concert quality but we love the Lord and like to think it shows in the joy of our singing."

Steve and Debi met at school. He went from his native Lubbock to a Bible College at Dodge City, Kans. near her hometown.

"Ere long, they were married and returned, together, to Lubbock to attend Trinity Bible Institute. It was here Rogers was licensed to preach and later ordained by the World Bible-Way Fellowship.

Now, they feel Spearman is going to contribute another exciting chapter to their ministry and their life together.

Union Church is at 31S. Endicot.

Eagle Feathers Fly!

The Spearman Lynx bounded, clawed and scratched their way through a nest of Eagles, Friday night, to make the feathers fly and put Spearman High School in the winning column of teams once again.

The Sanford-Fritch Eagles, under the able coaching of Mike Benway drew reception on the opening kick-off of the ball game.

They were only able to make four yards with it then the ball went over to the Lynx on a punt.

In their turn, the Lynx used Quarterback, Steve Tindall, Rocky Randall and Jeff Lackey on a drive up field that ended in a field goal attempt that ended in a penalty-handicapped failure.

It was about the only Lynx slow-down in the first half, too, which the Cats dominated all the way leaving Eagle feathers at every point of contact with the visiting Birds.

The Lynx had their shaky moments in the first half, too. Lackey and Randall sparked a 55-yard drive marked by a fall (Karey Bodey), a fumble (Karey Bodey) but he held on to it and the next play is an incomplete pass. Another pass on a fourth down with three yards to go was intercepted by the Eagles', Steve Cunningham. A quarterback sack was followed by a receiver fumble recovered by the Lynx and Jeff Lackey and Karey Bodey began the march that went to the enemy five yard line.

It was Lackey who went into the end zone for the first touchdown of the game.

There followed one of those quirks that will be talked about until football is replaced with something else. Following Lackey's TD, Monte George toed for the point after and it was low and headed for an "NG" but an Eagle reached up, hit the ball, raising it up and putting it through the uprights to stand for a point.

Lynx: 7-Eagles: huh-uh!

From that point it was a back-and-forth affair with most of the pressure on the Eagles and the half ended 7-0 with the Lynx ahead in rushing, too, racking up 121 yards to 24 for the Eagles.

In the locker room during the half time period, the Eagles' head knocker must have told them football was for the Birds because they came out to truly harass the Lynx during the third quarter.

Right at the start of that period almost, the ball went to the Eagles on a turnover giving the Birds the ball on the Lynx' 26. In this drive, a Lynx personal foul penalty gave the Eagles a first-and-goal situation.

The Lynx defense holds and the ball goes over to them on downs at the five. They couldn't move it out and a punt, shunted to miss the waiting Kelly Miller went only to the 32 yard line. In the ensuing play, a Lynx personal foul fine puts the Eagles at the Lynx 18. Gary Oppenheff gets the ball down to the seven with a first-and-goal and Eagle Doug McCoy scores. Miller's kick is good and the ballgame is tied up 7-7.

It was seasaw time again until Tindall and Lackey set one up and Rocky Randall powered over for another TD and the kick was good for a 14-7 tie-breaker.

While ineffective in scoring, the Eagles keep the Lynx busy until Steve Tindall broke away for a 67 yard touchdown run.

The kick for point-after was no good and the score was 20-7 and that proved safe for that was how the game ended despite some pressure by the Eagles.

It was Lynx night for luck with the turnovers. The Eagles gave them five and all at good field position. The Cats pushed for 14 first downs in 236 yards of rushing. They tried five passes and had two intercepted.

The Eagles moved to 10 first downs, tried 12 passes and completed five. They were the lightest on penalties: three for 25 yards while the Cats drew seven for 42 yards.

The Eagles displayed the same weakness--turnovers--that posted a loss to Clarendon the previous Friday night.

The Lynx demonstrated they were a team rather than a setting for one or two stars. While Rocky Randall had his moments, they were not as many as the previous tilt against the Elks. Lackey and Bodey were the workhorses under Lynx general Steve Tindall who turned in his usual outstanding performance. He

Mrs. Jessie Thompkins To Celebrate 95th Birthday

The family of Mrs. Jessie Thompkins extend a special invitation to her relatives, friends and neighbors to join with them in helping her celebrate her 95th birthday.

The memorable occasion will be held Sunday, September 21, 1980 from 2:00-5:00 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Weckesser, 703 S. Archer, Spearman, Texas.

Aunt Jessie, as she is known to many, has experienced many changes throughout the years—covered wagons, trains, automobiles, airplanes, and the space flight to the moon; tents and half dug-outs for homes, no running water, electricity nor gas; sparsely settled communities to thickly populated areas and cities.

In June of 1901, she and her parents, the late Jake and Amanda Mathews and a brother and sister left their comfortable home and a thriving business in Young County Texas to come to the Panhandle to help pioneer a new land. All of their possessions were loaded in covered wagons, and with extra horses and a cow, the party set out. Her parents traveled in an old buggy. The others drove the wagons. They were on the road for 13 days, and as she relates it, not very comfortable ones. While on the Road, they encountered heavy rains as well as dirt storms.

At the end of the 13 days, they reached their new home in Hutchinson County Texas, a small one room rock house. The one room house had to be used for the kitchen leaving their tent as the bedroom.

It was late when they arrived and there was no wood to build a fire, so much to the surprise of Jessie and her mother, cow chips were used as fuel.

On October 21, 1906, Jessie Mathews and Raine Tompkins were united in marriage. They established their home in Hutchinson County in what is known as the Lieb Community. It was a wonderful community with the Lieb family, the Womble family, the Jarvis family, the Harbourn family and many others sharing the good times and the bad.

Two daughters were born to this union, Alda Tompkins Mitts and Eileen Tompkins Sutherland.

In 1927 the couple moved to Spearman. Raine passed away on March 10, 1933 and Jessie had to pick up the pieces of her shattered life. This she did with grace and dignity.

Through the years following her husband's death, Mrs. Tompkins has led a fulfilling life; always with a smile and a kind word to everyone she meets, a helping hand to those in need and a friend to all who know her.

Mrs. Kelly Ray Rosenbaum

Fredda Jean Bedford and Kelly Ray Rosenbaum were united in marriage at 11:00 a.m., September 13, in the First United Methodist Church, Abilene, Texas. Pastor Charles D. Whittle performed the ceremony. He was assisted in his duties by the bride's brother-in-law, Douglas J. Stenberg.

Methodist pastor from Roscoe, Texas.

The wedding united the families of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Bedford of Abilene, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Livingston W. Rosenbaum of Marshall Texas.

Miss Cynthia Sue Edwards of Abilene was Maid of Honor.

Steven Greever of Spearman was Best Man.

The Bride's parents hosted a reception in the Church courtyard following the ceremony.

Mrs. Rosenbaum is a 1973 graduate of Cooper High School. Mr. Rosenbaum is a 1971 graduate of Spearman High School. He is also a graduate of Texas Tech University with a BA in Science and Agriculture with emphasis on Landscape and Architecture. He is employed by Gardens of the Southwest of Abilene.

The couple is at home at 1289 S. La Salle, Abilene, Texas 79605.

The Rosenbaum family were long-time residents of Spearman and are well known in this community.

Feeder cattle stood at 203,000 head, a 3.57 percent increase. Brown attributed the increase to the summer drought as ranchers brought more cattle into feedlots for relief from dry and barren pastures.

Seed varieties are dwindling, scientist warns

COLLEGE STATION — Some species of food crops are threatened with extinction as a result of a dwindling variety of plant seeds, says a genetic scientist at Texas A&M University.

"Scientists have been narrowing the gene pool through hybridization, making it difficult to find the old genetic varieties that could be used if the modern seed strains become diseased or are changed by the environment," said Dr. Homer Blackhurst, professor emeritus of horticulture.

Blackhurst explained the newer food crops have been developed to make mechanical harvesting easier to permit the highest possible output for large-scale production.

The horticulturist said it's not advantageous to narrow gene pools of plant species, because as time, the environment, the economy and people change, there may be future need for plants that are at present looked upon as weeds. Many crop plants were weeds a short time ago, he said.

had some precarious moments but made up for them in that 67 yard gallop he had to undertake when all receivers were covered.

The only disappointment of the game was the lack of fans out to see the Lynx play. Friday night's performance proved they were the losers and a record turnout is expected next Friday night for the renewal of competition between the Spearman Lynx and the Gruver Greyhounds, dormant for a number of years.

This is not a tall story... it's true. There's a pitcher for the Houston Astros, James Rodney Richard, who's 6-foot, 8-inches tall with hands big enough to hold seven baseballs at one time.

Persons about to marry and spouses, without the intent to defraud pre-existing creditors, may by written instrument from time to time partition between themselves all or part of their property. Spouses may exchange a community interest in property owned or to be acquired for a community interest in other community property. The amendment would allow spouses to agree in writing that income or property arising from any separate property is to be separate property rather than as community property as it would be in the absence of an agreement. SPORTS ROUNDUP

7th

The 7th grade Lynx football team played their official first game, although the score ended up to be the Wild Cats 32 and the Lynx 0, the score didn't show how the Lynx played.

The Wildcats already had a game under their belts, so they were experienced. This was the first for our Lynx. Mike Lopez played real good on defense; Ramon Goodheart & Monte Morris played good on offense; and Shane Sumner played good, also. The Seventh grade Lynx are small. The Wildcats had big backs, which sort off looked like Franco Harris -- big, and hard to take down.

Coach Hagar said that he promised to do better next week against Perryton.

I think that with this game under their belts, that the seventh grade Lynx will be ready to play against Perryton. I believe that the kind of boost the seventh grade Lynx need is for their fans to be behind them all the way. Believe me that does a lot for ones pride.

This Thursday, September 18, ya'll come & see our seventh grade Lynx play the Perryton seventh graders. It promises to be real good-of course any game with Perryton is a "Biggie." Lets show our Lynx that we have Pride to-for them.

8th

Coach May is the coach of the 8th grade Lynx football team. The Eighth grade Lynx opened the season at River Road and bringing home a victory. The final score was Lynx 8, Wildcats 0. It was a defensive struggle thru the final minutes.

Coach May said that he thought that our Lynx had recovered a couple of fumbles. The penalties weren't that much except for illegal procedure and near the end a couple of 15 yard penalties, but other than that the yellow Hanky was issued no more. Coach May said that Mark Pearson--QB--ran 45 yds. in the opening minutes to set up the only touch down for the game. Two plays later Mark Pearson ran-like Earl Campbell --and got the Touchdown. Mark also boot legged in the two points after touchdown to make it Lynx 8 - Wildcats 0. Everybody got of play-1st string, 2nd string, etc., because our Lynx were making yardage like crazy. Coach May also said that the Lynx had "Super Defense--letting the wild cats have 50 yds in total offense. Now that is super; not even the Steeler offense could have penetrated, I'll bet!

The Wildcats only threatened once and that was near the end of the game and they only got there by penalties by the Lynx. Our Lynx, though, held them--not letting them get a touch-down--at the three when time ran out.

Teddy Vela, Brian Paul, Cole Ivey, Mack McLain and Mark Pearson amde big plays during the game. Coach May said that his bunch are "polishing up" on "rusty screws" this week and the early part of next week and will be ready for the Perryton game here in Spearman starting at 5:00 this Thursday.

So lets show up and make the Lynx want to for the "Pride of the Panhandle", Spearman, Texas!

TO LYNX

BEAT PERRYTON!!!

9th

The 9th grade Lynx officially opened their season. Coach Larry Morris is optimistic about his bunch.

Although, the Lynx lost to the Wildcats 20-0, they looked pretty good for the starting of a brand new season. The 1st quarter was scoreless, but the second quarter was where the Wildcats got all their points. Somehow, I believed that the Wildcats had "surprise plays" to have gotten so many points.

Well, the third & 4th quarters were just "pure defense" Coach Morris said that Mark Guthrie played very good defense, and Luis Nava played real good offense especially in the 4th quarter.

The next ball game is against Perryton at Perryton at 5:00 in the evening this Thursday, September 18.5

GO LYNX BEAT PERRYTON

Jr. Varsity

The Jr. Varsity is coached by Coach Collingsworth. The Jr. Varsity Lynx opened their season at home against the Wildcats from Riverroad. Our Lynx won 14 to 8.

The Lynx, James Farmer, scored from 25 yards out; Cam Collingsworth scored from 4 yards out; and Jimmy Morley got the 2 point conversion.

Tracey Vernon and Jimmy Snider played "extremely well" James Farmer did a swell job as a "scorer" for the Lynx. The offensive line did a great job or else they wouldn't have been any scores at all, right? Right! Billy Pat Underwood did a SUPER job Quarterbacking. The Lynx "only dropped 2 passes". The backs ran very well. The secondary did a swell job 95% of the time. The kicking game was fantastic! Ya'll have heard this saying "The kicking game will either win the game or lose the game." Well, the kicking game won it--matter of speaking. For example: The punting put the opponent real deep on their side of the field and so did the kick-offs.

If anybody was ready for somebody; the Lynx are ready for Perryton.

GO LYNX BEAT OL' PERRYTON!!!
