Where Everyone Cares

PORTER RICHARDSON submitted the winning entries in the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce slogan and emblem contests. The emblem (pictured above) will be used to promote Colorado City, along with the selected slogan dubbing Colorado City as the place "where everyone cares." Chamber of Commerce Manager Larry Winders noted that there were numerous entries in the slogan and emblem contests and that the decision was difficult. Richardson will receive a plaque for winning the two contests.

Mitchell County Voters To Hit Polls Saturday

Local leaders will be elected Saturday when Mitchell County residents cast their ballots at the polls.

Voting polls will be open in Colorado City, Loraine and Westbrook to elect representatives to the city councils, school boards and to the hospital district.

In Mitchell County, three of the six races are contested—the Colorado Independent School District board of trustees election, City Council of Colorado City and Westbrook Independent School District board of trustees.

At the close of absentee balloting Tuesday,

53 ballots had been cast across the county. Absentee voting for the Loraine city council race will continue until 4:30 p.m. today (Thursday).

Mitchell County Hospital District board of directors election has four positions open with incumbents seeking reelection without opposition. Candidates will be listed on the ballot in the following order: Herbert Mearse, Bobby Lemons, Willie Landau and Preston Morris.

Dennis Walding is election judge for the hospital district and alternate judge is Mike Burt. Emma Williams and Mildred Boyd will serve as clerks.

Voting in the hospital district election will be from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Mitchell County Courthouse lobby.

George Witten, Root Memorial Hospital business manager, noted that voting will probably be "extremely light" in the hospital district election and not more than 100 votes are expected to be cast.

At the close of absentee voting Tuesday, no votes had been cast.

In the City Council of Colorado City election, a heavy turn-out is expected, according to Brenda Tarter, city secretary.

There are eight candidates seeking election to four positions on the City Council of Colorado City. Names will be listed on the ballot in the following order: Ray Dillard, Rick Perkin, Sammy Parham, Nancy Hamner, Elmer Martin, Macca Findley, A. R. Straub and J. O. Dockrey Jr. Perkin and Dockrey are incumbents seeking reelection.

Voting in the City Council of Colorado City election will be at city hall from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Sue McGuire will serve as election judge, and Dwaine McGuire is alternate judge. Clerks are Diana Findley and John Morgan.

At the close of absentee voting Tuesday, 31 ballots had been cast for the city council election. Mrs. Tarter noted that she expected at least 500 to vote Saturday since the race is hotly contested.

In the CISD board of trustees race, there are three candidates seeking election to two positions. Entered in the race are Eddie Mitchell and Gene Blassingame, both incumbents, and Dr. Billy Bruce Bridgford. Candidates will appear on the ballot in the following order: Mitchell, Bridgford and Blassingame.

Chamber Selects Slogan, Emblem

Colorado City area Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture now has a new slogan and emblem.

The slogan and emblem was chosen from entries submitted during a contest in February and March and the winner selected during Monday night's regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

The winning slogan and emblem were both submitted by one person, Porter Richardson, who will receive a plaque in recognition of his having submitted the winning entries.

The slogan is "Where Everyone Cares" and the emblem shows gears with the words Colorado City Chamber of Commerce around the outside of the meshing gears and the words "Geared For Progress" on the inside of the gears.

The emblem and slogan along with a small banner bearing the word "Ambassador" will go on the blazers worn by members of the Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors Club, the official welcoming group of the Chamber.

The selection of the winning slogan and emblem entry was among a number of items on the Chamber of Commerce board meeting agenda.

Included in the action by the board was to purchase 36 red and black vests for Chamber workers to wear at the fly-in and rodeo and to purchase three different post cards, 3,000 of each with local scenes. The cards are to be sold by local merchants.

The scenes to be on the cards will include the Colorado City Opera House, Colorado City Museum and a scene at the Lake Colorado City State Park. Depending on how well the cards sell, more scenes may be ordered at a later date.

A 22-page policy statement regarding the operation of the Chamber also was reviewed, modified and adopted by the board. The policies involve the duties of employees, officers, board members and committees.

The board also heard reports from a number of committees. Among those reports was one from the tourism and sports committee with Larry Blassingame reporting that the Chamber will help out with this weekend's Lone Wolf Rodeo and the district track meet to be held here later this month.

Director Ken Godsey reported that the Chamber is working with another Industrial prospect and Director Loyd Ledbetter noted that plans for the July 4 fly-in are progressing. See CHAMBER, Page 8

Williams Is To Be Honored

Dr. J. D. Williams Jr., doctor of veterinary medicine, will be honored at a retirement reception Sunday.

The reception will be held at the C. C. Thompson Room of City National Bank and will be from 2-4 p.m.

Dr. and Mrs. Larry Helms and the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce will host the reception. The public is invited to attend.

I WON $50, Will Parker (Greg Chaney) tells Ado Annie Carnes (Quin Thornburg) in this scene from the Colorado City Playhouse production of "Oklahoma," as he tries to convince her to marry him. Miss Carnes father has said Parker can marry his daughter if he has $50 cash. However, Parker has spent the $50 he won in a steer roping for presents and this poses a problem since he doesn't have cash money. Tickets for Thursday, Friday and Saturday night performances of "Oklahoma" have all been sold.

City Manager Begins Duties

"I think that she has done an outstanding job," new City Manager Ray Mason said Tuesday in referring to Brenda Tarter who has spent the past four months temporarily holding the city manager's job while doing her regular duties as city secretary.

Mason went on to add that the town was fortunate in having her as city secretary and that he was fortunate in having her help in his job.

Mason officially began his duties as city manager on Monday, thus bringing to a final conclusion the city's search for a successor to James Campbell who resigned as of the end of November to accept a similar position in Corsicana.

The new city manager, who is a native of Denver City, comes here from Tahoka where he has served as city manager since June, 1976. He was previously a coach and teacher in the Tahoka school system.

Mason had high praise for Colorado City during his time here so far. He said that everyone has been cooperative in helping him get settled into his new job.

He went on to add that his office would be open to anyone who needed his help. He noted that though he expected problems, since they came with all jobs, he expected to take an optimistic approach to his work. He stressed that your attitude on a job has a lot to do with how well you succeed.

Mason and his wife, Brenda, have two sons, Richard, 13, and Michael, 10.

He is a graduate of McMurry College in Abilene with a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education and public speaking.

THOSE SEEKING election to the City Council of Colorado City were offered the opportunity to express their views to the public in the Record and four of the statements appeared in Sunday's edition of the Record. Listed below in alphabetical order are the remaining statements submitted by the candidates seeking election. Four slots are open for election to the council and eight candidates are in the race. The election will be Saturday at city hall.

G. Blassingame

"I think we are obligated to offer the children of this community the best possible opportunity for a well rounded education. The basics—reading, writing and arithmetic—are a must. We should offer some liberal arts courses, some vocational training courses, athletics and extracurricular activities so that graduates of Colorado City Independent Schools will be ready to either enter college to further their education or enter the job market."

Thank You
Gene Blassingame

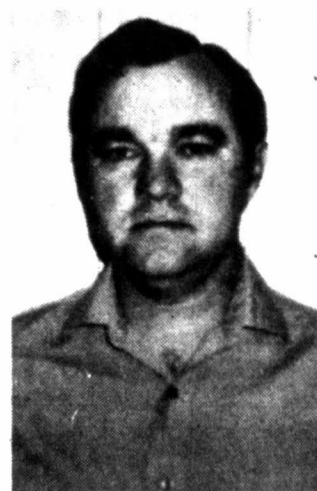

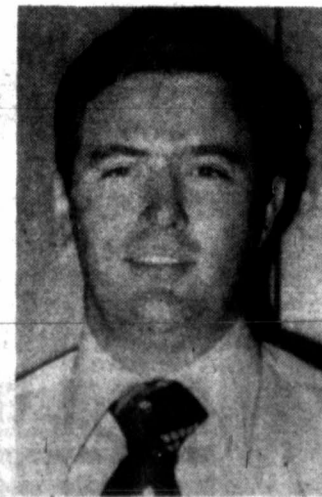

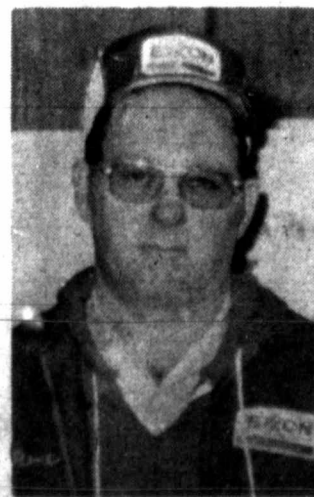

B. Bridgford

"In the past few weeks I have been asked why I presented myself as a candidate for the Board of Education of Colorado Independent School District. I feel a deep obligation to help repay, through service, the many fine board members, administrators, teachers and school employees of the past, so that our children will be given the same opportunity that I received almost 25 years ago.

"Secondly, I believe we have a fine school system today, but I also believe that new energy See BRIDGFORD, Page 8

E. Mitchell

"I believe that we have an excellent school system in Colorado City. I have enjoyed working with the rest of the school board, the administration, teachers and faculty and kids and parents. I believe we have an open line of communication from the kids all the way up through the faculty, board and parents. We need to strive to keep the best interest of the kids in mind in everything we do and always have a 'listening' ear to the problems as they arise. As a board member we do not always See MITCHELL, Page 8

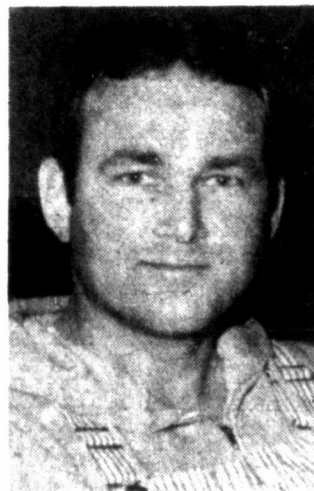

Ray Dillard

"Due to circumstances beyond my control, I was unable to meet the deadline of the first edition of the Colorado City Record. However, for those who are supporting me in this campaign, I would like to make the following statement:

"I pledge myself to total involvement in City Government. I want to know your desires and will extend your wishes to the City Council."

"I have been involved in Colorado City since returning here in 1975. I am an active member in the Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue See DILLARD, Page 8

Sammy Parham

"Being a native of Colorado City, my background of its layout is almost second nature. By layout, I mean the community, its citizens, and its businesses which I think should have priority in that order.

"To maintain a community is like managing one's own projected budget. Get done what needs to be done within the budget and then shut it off. This doesn't mean one should hibernate for the duration of the budget period. It simply means one cannot justify setting up a budget and then turning right around and having deficit spending."

See PARHAM, Page 8

Rick Perkin

"Having served six years on the city council I can best predict the future of Colorado City by a combination of past experiences and my future dreams.

"The past six years experiences have taught that we must keep up our physical and fiscal plant. The next worth of our city relies to the greatest part on upkeep which we already have, our water treatment plant, water distribution system, sewage plant, garbage trucks, sanitary landfill, fire department, police department, airport, cemetery, civic center, museum, swimming pool, See PERKIN, Page 8

A.R. Straub

"To citizens of Colorado City: If I'm elected, I will make no promises but will work my best in the council."

"I think our employees need better wage earnings to help them to make a better living. "If I'm elected I will try to cut down all wasteful spending. "Colorado City Airport: I think Colorado City needs a city airport. To have this city airport, I think that we should have special fund raising activities instead of a bond election or borrow any money to finance the airport. Walls Hosts Meeting For Meleah Class

The Meleah Class of First Baptist Church met March 19 at 7 p.m. in the home of Patsy Walls.

Winnie Roach presented a program on "Self Improvement-Inside Out." She mentioned ways to improve the outward appearance through proper use of makeup so that the inner self might come through.

Refreshments of coffee and cake were served to Suzie Magill, Laverne Blassingame, Jean Burroughs, Jeanna Blassingame and Viola Iglehart.

Also Doris Jones, Jane Findley, Carolyn Godsey, Patsy Walls and Janie Inman.

Trash Topic Of Meeting

Consideration of an agreement to have Colorado City collect Loraine trash monthly was the main topic of business at the Loraine City Council meeting Tuesday.

Members of the council previously discussed building a landfill for Loraine and land was leased for that purpose.

However, because of certain specifications which must be met before a permit may be obtained, the cost of a landfill would be too high for Loraine.

Thus, after much discussion, the council decided to propose an agreement to Colorado

City to haul the trash once a month on Wednesday, thereby eliminating the need for a landfill for Loraine.

Presently Loraine customers pay $1 for trash pick-up, but if the agreement with Colorado City is made, the cost will be eliminated.

In other business, the council voted to give Brenda Lee, city secretary, an $100 per month raise. Next month, she would have been employed as city secretary one year. Mrs. Lee makes $650 per month.

At Tuesday's meeting, the council briefly reviewed the budget for next year.

Marino Places In Contest

Marci Marino, seventh grade student at Colorado Middle School, placed ninth in the regional spelling bee Saturday in Lubbock.

Miss Marino represented Mitchell County in the regional spelling bee when she won the local spelling bee held last month.

She was eliminated from the regional contest when she misspelled the word "aspersion" but she was awarded ninth place out of 19 contestants.

"She gave a very good showing," said Doyle Lowrance, principal at Colorado Middle School.

Miss Marino is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Marino of 912 East 12th.

Colorado City Business And Professional Women's Club To Celebrate 50th Anniversary

The Colorado City Business and Professional Women's Club will celebrate its 50th anniversary Sunday at a tea in the Lone Wolf Electric Medallion Room beginning at 2 p.m. and ending at 4 p.m. The public is invited to come and help the club celebrate.

The Colorado City Business and Professional Women's Club was organized at a group meeting conducted at the office of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce on the evening of April 12, 1929. Those present at this meeting were Mmes. Elizabeth McCleary, Mayme Taylor Dozier, Thelma McSpadden, Carolyn Turner, Myrtle Crowder, Laura Root, Elizabeth Doss, Pearl Hemby, Elizabeth Kirkpatrick Jones, Joe Key, Stattie Rice, Louise Hardison and Ruby McGill. Mrs. Elizabeth McCleary was appointed temporary chairman and the meeting adjourned until April 18 for the organization proper.

On the evening of April 18, 1929, five members of the San Angelo B&PW Club met with the group in Colorado City to perfect the organization of the club here. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Elizabeth McCleary, president; Miss Abbie Sevier, vice president; Mrs. Josie Ree Randle, second vice president; Mrs. Anna Ferguson, treasurer; Miss Joe Key, recording secretary and Miss Elizabeth Kirkpatrick, corresponding secretary.

The following is a list of the club's charter members: Elizabeth McCleary, Josie Ree Randle, Mary Jones, Myrtle Crowder, Anna Ferguson, Thelma McSpadden, Mayme Taylor, Frances Armstrong, Billie Baugher, Ruby McGill and Pearl Hemby.

Also Lillian Pond, Eloise Pond, Jewel McDonald, Kanna Yater, Joe Key, Rubelle Smartt, Neta Mae Davis, Jewel Collier, Hazel Kay and Ruth Dorn.

The cactus was selected as the club flower and green and white were chosen as the club colors.

The motto adopted for the club is "Better Business Women for A Better Business World."

The club purposes are to elevate the standards for women in business and the professions; to promote the interests of business and professional women; to stimulate the local and state organizations and to extend opportunities to business and professional women through education along lines of industrial, scientific and vocational activities.

The first donation of the Colorado City B&PW for a civic project was $20 to the band shell at Ruddick Park.

The club financed one girl through high school. The speakers for the first year were: Dr. Anderson from the State Health Department; R. B. Creagor of the National Republican Committee and our own Dr. P. C. Coleman.

The projects of the club reveal the history of the times.

During the 1930-33 "Depression" the club members worked with the drouth and cooperative work with the United Charities.

The club distributed 1,500 garments to 45 families in the rural communities in 1930. They placed an orphan baby in a home for adoption; provided several layettes for expectant mothers; spent $125 for new clothing for the needy and financed the high school girl through her second year in high school.

In 1933 the local B&PW built a large round stone table and thirty seats at Ruddick Park. The speaker for this year was the honorable George Mahon. A special study was the "Ten Year Objective" adopted by the Clubs of the Texas Federation. In 1934 the theme was "25 Years Ago." This subject was discussed by various speakers.

The subjects discussed covered women's contribution toward national security; value of local planning in solution of our fundamental problems and what is the power of minority groups?

The 1935 project was to furnish hot lunches for an underprivileged boy during the entire year. There was no school lunch room then.

Prizes won at the amateur hour program at Ruddick Park were a source of income for this year.

Various projects were carried out through the succeeding years, such as typing tuition to high school students and 100 per cent membership in Red Cross for Mitchell County.

In 1940 a tea was given honoring Judge Sarah T. Hughes, who spoke on the subject, "Obligations of Women As Citizens in Democracy."

In the war-torn years of the 1940's topics discussed were our county in a war-torn world, in times of war, prepare for peace and women of yesterday, today and the future, presented by Mrs. J. G. Merritt.

Projects for this year were First Aid courses and home nursing as provided by the Red Cross.

A source of funds was a Minstrel show staged in the Palace Theater, which was leased from the owner, Ross D. Dixon.

Also the group donated $100 to the March of Dimes, organized the Girl Scouts for Mitchell County and supported and finally secured rights for women on the jury service, statewide. In 1976 the B&PW helped organize the club in Big Spring, Snyder and Lorraine.

The Colorado City B&PW Club reached the highlight of all projects and contributions when they were the first donors to the new Mitchell County Library. They gave $2,000.

The Club has always selected a girl, a member of the Senior class, to receive the B&PW Scholarship award. The award amounts to $300 now.

A girl to represent the club in the Tumbleweed Parade was also chosen and at Christmas, they entered the Light-A-Window Contest and won a prize.

Also at Christmas, a basket of food, toys and clothing is given to a needy family. This practice is still done every year.

The club floats entered in the Christmas Parade have won first and second prizes for many years. Christmas cards have also been sold by club members as a way of making money.

The B&PW donated the piano and water fountain that are in the Civic Center and they decided to serve tables in the Civic Center, which is still practiced.

During the days of the Mitchell County Rodeo, they sold programs and cold drinks as a way of making money.

The Colorado City B&PW has always participated in civic affairs, is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and has always encouraged the membership to be 100 per cent in paying poll tax.

The club scrapbook, has won recognition at the annual State Conventions in the past years, having won first place, second place and at one time special recognition was given.

Also for three years the local club entered the C. City on Parade, a spring showing of fashions and sold advertisements. They sponsored this event as a money making project.

In 1963 the club hosted a tea honoring the state president, Mrs. Hope Conroe of Lubbock. Her topic for discussion was "Never Underestimate

The Responsibility of a Woman."

In 1969 they celebrated their 40th anniversary with a tea. A patriotic program was presented under the direction of Elizabeth Jones.

The Colorado City B&PW has many members of which they have been very proud, but the history would not be complete without making mention of Mrs. McCleary, Myrtle Crowder, Mary Jones, Ruby McGill, Eloise Pond, Ruth Dorn, Mozelle Richardson, Esther Grubbs Thomas, Ruby Hines, Perna Hart, Elizabeth Kirkpatrick Jones and Linda Perkins. This is just a partial list of the deceased members.

The club scrapbook was dedicated to the memory of Mozelle Richardson, Elizabeth Kirkpatrick Jones and Linda Perkins during the appropriate year.

The club would like to also mention Ida Kirschbaum, one of the members honored in 1978 for 46 years of club membership.

In attaining 50 years of membership in Colorado City, they have seen many changes, but the members are looking ahead, waiting for another challenge for civic improvement in the community.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin - Top oil industry executives came to the State Capitol this week to deliver what amounted to somber predictions about this country's ability in the future to get reasonably priced fuel needed to power the nation's economy.

Oil company executives spoke at the Texas Railroad Commission's annual state-of-the-industry report. And, from the outset, it must be said that the "state" of the industry appears good. Government figures show that oil company profits jumped almost 30 per cent in the first quarter of this year.

Overall, corporate profits increased more than 26 per cent in the same period.

And, the 1978 federal decontrol act is expected to mean $1 to $3 billion in additional revenues this year for oil and gas companies.

But it wasn't skyrocketing profits that oil executives came to talk about this week. It's the forecasted shortages of what they sell that has them worried.

Executive vice president James E. Barnes of Conoco Oil Co., said a serious gasoline shortage may grip the nation in two months unless the tap in Iran is turned back on and oil begins to flow to the U.S. again.

Barnes and John K. McKinley, president of Texaco, Inc., sounded what has become the oil industry's catch-all phrase to end all problems: "more decontrol."

Barnes, McKinley and colleagues claimed Texas alone has 100 billion barrels of known reserves not being sucked out of the ground with present technology because there is no profit in such undertaking and present regulations are prohibitive.

But U.S. Congressman Bob Eckhardt of Texas said in a press conference in Washington this week that more decontrol would not produce a surge in exploration.

Eckhardt pointed out that U.S. oil producers plan to drill 49,379 wells this year. That's the highest number of planned drillings since 1959. But on the other side of those numbers, is the simple fact that for more than 100 years the U.S. was the world's largest producer of oil. No longer.

Today, the United States is by far the world's biggest consumer of oil. And as a nation we have slipped to third behind Russia and Saudi Arabia in the production of crude oil. While our appetite for oil has gone up, our ability to find it and get it out of the ground has gone down.

Meanwhile, predictions are that gasoline will soon climb to $1 a gallon. The rising price of fuel already is one of the biggest contributing factors to a 10-12 per cent annual inflation rate. But even more importantly, the primary reason for our worldwide economic power—cheap fuel—may be long gone. For years, Europeans and the rest of the world have paid heavily for gasoline and other crude oil products.

Spot shortages of gasoline already exist in the U.S. One spokesman for a farm supply cooperative in the Texas Panhandle claims some tractors are standing idle because of no diesel fuel.

Sunday closings at gas stations are for the most part the rule now, not the exception. And those who remember the oil crunch of 1973, say what may be around the corner is something we didn't see during the Arab oil embargo—gas rationing.

"We are in the most precarious international situation since World War II," said Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace almost two months ago. His statement seems even more correct now.

Prices Soar
Unfortunately, energy isn't the only subject that leads almost inevitably to bad news. The U.S. Labor Department announced this week that consumer prices jumped 15.4 per cent in February. Telling consumers what they probably already know, the Labor Department said the price of food went up, the cost of paying off a home loan went up, and, as might be expected, the price of gasoline jumped too.

Higher home loan interest rates contributed heavily to the February jump in prices. Mortgage interest costs rose 3.1 per cent last month due almost primarily to the fact that New York and California lifted state usury law ceilings.

Bills still pending in the Texas Legislature would raise the ceiling in this state, but so far, legislators have been waiting to see what interest rates will do on their own before taking any action. Some surveys indicate that for the average home buyer, mortgage money in the state is drying up. Texas is now one of only 12 states with a 10 per cent or lower usury limit.

Short Snorts
Some heavyweights—Sen. Grant Jones of Abilene, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and even Gov. Bill Clements—have been kicking around the idea of a one-year state budget because of the unpredictability of state revenues.

But Speaker of the House Bill Clayton says the Legislature has had experience with one-year spending drafts and everytime they have ended up "costing more money."

Sen. Babe Schwartz of Galveston said this week that next to the 55 mph speed limit, playing bingo is "the most singularly violated law in the country." Moved by that claim, senators approved a constitutional amendment legalizing bingo under certain circumstances. The amendment now heads for the House where there will surely be some tough sledding ahead.

Homeowners will be paying less for property insurance beginning July 1 thanks to a move by the State Board of Insurance that reduced rates by 4.1 per cent statewide. Texans will cough up $38 million less for property coverage in the next 12 months.

Gov. Bill Clements

won one and lost one in the Senate this week. Senators confirmed the governor's appointment of William P. Daves to the State Board of Insurance but rejected William B. "Monk" Edwards who had been named by Clements as judge of the 125th District Court in Harris County. Charges that the governor had used "unbelievable pressure and threats" to salvage the nomination were "called 'political garbage' by Clements."

Finally, the Texas State Teachers Association approved by a vote of 884-549 a resolution backing the concept of collective bargaining and ordered efforts in that direction.

Four years ago, TSTA delegates to the Texas State Teachers Association convention opposed a similar resolution by a 10-1 margin.

Colorado Middle School Chatter

Colorado Middle School has chosen the 1979-80 cheerleaders. To try out, the girls had to do two of their own yells, then an out-of-town cheerleader taught the girls one yell. They were taught in groups and were given ten minutes to learn the yell. Each group did the yell in front of the judges. The judges chose the girls on how well they learned the yell, their outward personality and how they performed in groups.

The cheerleaders for the seventh grade next year are Traci Blackwell, Becky Franco and Page Powell. The eighth grade cheerleaders are Becky Albin, Christina Castillo and Robyn Turner.

Congratulations and Good Luck!

Pam Wilson

On April 29th, the 7th and 8th grade band will travel to Abilene for UIL. The band is required to play 3 numbers. The ones Mr. Newman chose were "Spartans of Tomorrow," "Salute to Brahmans," and "Two Lyric Pieces" going in that order. The first number is a march and the melody changes from section to section. The second number is royal and the clarinets and flutes carry the melody mostly.

On the third number it is mostly of chimes and every section has the melody.

Kerry Spivey

For about 3 months the UIL choir has been getting ready for the Cisco Choir Festival which was on March 29. Here are the results. The students that were the UIL Choir members, soloists and ensemble groups from the choir program. We left at 4:35 a.m. and when we arrived at Cisco we went to Cisco Junior College.

We went to the warm up room and then to the auditorium to listen to a choir. We went on stage and had a picture taken and then we sang "May Day Carol," "Now Sing We Now," and "Praise The Lord."

We were rated on that and we got a II (which is an excellent). We then went to the sight reading room. We sang one song. We rated a III on that. After the sight reading, we went to the buses and Mrs. Holder told us that if we were not doing a solo or an ensemble we could all get on one bus and stop at a road side park to eat lunch.

About nine girls did this. The rest went to the park and ate lunch there. In the afternoon, we went back to the Cisco Junior College and sang.

There were 20 soloists, three trios and one boy quartet. Out of that there were three first division medals given. These went to Carolyn Green, Kristy Frizzell and Kerry Wright.

The Choir groups would like to thank Mrs. Ford (who played the piano), and Jodi Bolin and Sheila Crenshaw who played for the soloists and ensembles.

Congratulations to everyone on their fine work.

Loretta Morris

Friday, the 30th, the 7th and 8th grade band went to Cisco for concert.

We left at 8:30 Friday morning. We took 3 buses and 3 sponsors with us—Mrs. Northcutt, Mrs. Glasscock, Mrs. McKinney and Mrs. Newman.

On the way over, we stopped in Clyde for about 45 minutes at the Dairy Queen and then we loaded back up and went to Cisco. We got our coats on and went on the stage and warmed up.

We warmed up for about 20 minutes and then we played. First we played "Spartans of Tomorrow" and "Salute to Brahmans." Right after we played, we went to sight reading.

Mr. Newman told us how the sight reading song went and then we played the song. After we played we went to the auditorium and waited for the ratings.

They announced the ratings and we got a I in concert and II in sight reading. The twirlers made a I. Allyson Haggerton and Sheila Crenshaw also made a I.

After we found out our ratings we went to the Mall of Abilene and stayed for about 2 hours and then we got home about 9.

Andrea Swinney

The boys FCA is sponsoring an "Ugliest Man on Campus" Contest. The students nominated the "uglies."

The contestants are Tip Chaney, Steven Molling, Raymond Bassinger, Tony Nobles, Cory Rogers, Doug Wike, Ben Gonzales, Troy Erwin and Leonard Rico.

Each contestant has a large jar with his name on it. The students vote by placing pennies in the jar of their choice. Each penny is good for one vote and the winner will be announced at a later date.

Teresa Gorham

This last trimester of Art, the students will be painting with acrylics. We will be painting pictures such as flowers and landscapes.

As of now, we are painting flowers. Sure, it may be hard for students to paint, but we just need to put our minds to it and study the pictures.

Patricia (Pep) Holguin

This week in Girls P.E. we have been doing track and field. We've done the shot put, discus, the 660 yard run, broad jump, 55 yard dash and the 100 yard dash.

On the days that have been cold, we've done relays and played dodgeball inside. When the days get warmer we hope to do more track and field events so that next year, if we take track, we'll know how to do each event.

Ranne Performs In Play

Eddie Ranne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ranne, Westbrook, recently performed in a historical musical play titled, "Sweet Flower Mound Land." He played the role of Samuel Lusk.

The production was presented at the Galerie of the Performing Arts in Lewisville, Texas. The play, written and directed by Mary Webb, is a blend of historical facts, local legends and the author's imagination.

The play has received two awards: one for the play as Outstanding in Texas and the other to Mary Webb for Outstanding Community Service and Leadership.

Ranne is the choral director for Lewisville High School in Lewisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ranne attended the performance.

In recent years we have stressed helping the slow student and learning disabled student. We are lucky with recent oil activities in the county which is helping pay for the building program without putting stress on the tax budget. The only major project coming soon, I believe would be Kelley and Hutchinson school buildings which need at least some renovation.

Students wishing to transfer into the Colorado Independent School District have until April 30 to apply.

Other Wolves' stalwarts who are being counted on to come through by Coach Robert Damron include: Dwayne Staats in the long jump; Squeaky Hanks in the pole vault; Ruben Garcia in the mile and Clay Hammond in the high jump.

Damron stated that Breckenridge would have to be rated as the favorite in the meet. The Buckroos have won every meet they have competed in so far this season and racked up 113 points in the San Angelo Relays to run away and hide from the rest of the field. The coach also mentioned Clyde and Post as two squads who are expected to be tough.

The last time the Lone Wolf Relays were held, Class AAA teams competed and Sweetwater came home first with Colorado City finishing third.

Every team in District 6-AA with the exception of Ballinger will be taking part in the relays on Saturday.

Nursing Home News

The Young Ladies of the First Baptist Church of Loraine invited five of the lodge ladies for dinner Monday night. Those enjoying the evening were Rosie Pierce, Thelma Johnson, Mae Stringfellow, Opal Rabes and Effie Stevens.

The Bible study on Saturday morning is being taught by Loyd Hair and Mrs. Mable Graham alternately. We really appreciate them taking the time to come and teach our study.

The residents of the Nursing Home gave Jerry Wooddell a going away party last Friday and presented her with three pot plants. Cake and coffee and punch was served. Mrs. Wooddell has taken the position of activity director at Root Valley Lodge in Colorado City. We will miss her very much.

Our Bingo prizes were donated this week by T. J. Green, Dorothy Merket and Mrs. Marion Duncan. Our many thanks to them.

Here's why it takes fuel to make electricity.

It takes fuel to make electricity. A lot of people don't understand that, but it's true. Most of the power plants in this country require steam to generate electricity. To make steam you must boil water; and that requires a lot of heat. That's why we have to buy and burn large amounts of fuel, such as lignite coal and natural gas, every month. The steam we make with it turns the generators that make your electricity, which we distribute to you right when you need it. The fuel we use costs money, more all the time, which is why we show it separately on your bill. At Texas Electric, we want you to know what you're paying for. And to remember: it takes fuel to make electricity.

Cara Of Thanks

I do not have words in my vocabulary to express the appreciation and love to all my wonderful friends, young and old for the love, mercy, prayers, visits, telephone calls, cards and flowers they showered me with while in the hospital. This is something money can't buy. The doctors and staff of the hospital were out of this world. They made my stay more like a pleasant visit than a sick one. I pray God's richest blessings on each of you. I love you.
Mrs. McWilliams

Card Of Thanks

It is with a grateful heart that I attempt to thank Bennett's friends of 79 years for all the kindnesses & attention shown him during his long illness. It meant a great deal to him and to me. There were so many and so much that it humbles me. All I can say is thank you and may it all be returned to you. Our special thanks to Dr. Cowan. Sincerely Nell G. Scott & All of the Scott Family
