At the Front With Hancock.

Far at the front with Hancock,
Down the impregnable line,
Through the dark mass of the war clouds
Victory used to shine.

Calmly the fearless soldier
Rode and surveyed the front,
Cheering and nerving his comrades,
Bearing the battle's brunt.

When the fierce fighting was ended,
Out at the front so far,
Victory then upon Hancock
Smiled through the waste of war.

Still at the front was Hancock,
Holding the line of peace,
Strong for the cause of freedom,
Justice against caprice.

Firmly the soldier statesman
Stood for the law and right,
Just as he stood for the Union
Through the fierce days of fight.

Now at the front rides Hancock,
Leading a splendid band,
Patriots, friends of freedom,
Gathered from all the land.

Hail to the soldier statesman,
Honored in peace and war,
Surely he rides to triumph,
Such as no fraud can mar.

The Tomato.

Many Americans think that the tomato, now in season, originated in this country because it is so freely used here, and that it has become quite recently an article of food. The origin of the vegetable, or fruit, as some claim that it is, is not positively ascertained, though there is reason to believe that it was first found in South America, and that it was cultivated centuries ago in Mexico and Peru. Several varieties were known in England toward the close of the sixteenth century, and Gerard, the surgeon and botanist, speaks of it, we think, in his "History of Plants," having himself introduced it into the kingdom as an exotic. Dodoens, the Netherland herbalist, mentions the tomato as early as 1583 as a vegetable to be eaten with pepper, salt and oil. It belongs to the nightshade family, and was used in cooking by the Malays more than a century and a half since. It is extensively raised in Southern Italy, and employed there as an accompaniment to nearly every dish, particularly to macaroni. But neither there nor anywhere else in Europe is it commonly eaten, as it is here, separately and in quantities. In England it is sparingly produced, requiring a hot-bed in the Spring, and is in consequence high-priced. The Indians formerly called it golden apple, and now call it love apple, as it was once designated in this country. The appearance of the tomato on the table has greatly increased in Europe within a few years; but in no land is it a regular dish—much as it is used for a sauce abroad—as it is in the United States where it is also pickled, preserved and confected.

The opinion was expressed to us yesterday by an intelligent gentleman, who has just returned from a tour through Northern and Western Texas, that the present cotton crop will reach 1,250,000 bales. He claims that this opinion is backed by others who have had opportunities of observation equal to his own. It is conceded, however, that this large estimate can only be reached by having a good picking season.—Houston Post.

A man has just died in New Orleans of eating matches. The poor, impatient man couldn't wait till after death for his brimstone.

The Will-Power.

Some one once made the pleasantry: "What is mind? No matter! What is matter? Never mind!"

Where matter leaves off and mind begins, is a question that has puzzled, and still puzzles, all our philosophy.

But that the one influences the other, is a matter of fact which cannot be questioned. Emotion causes a variety of physical, no less than of mental results. Mind operates on matter; our intellectual and spiritual being on our bodily. If grieved we weep; if in fear we grow pale; if angry, or hurt we blush.

Fright may bring on headache. The juices of the body have been known to be dried up by great terror; even the coloring matter that circulates through the hair like water through a tube, has been destroyed by fear.

The nervous system acts upon the rest of the body and produces these changes. In grief it increases the flow of the liquid that we call, when it comes from the eye in drops, tears. In blushing, it swells the small blood vessels that lie close to the skin, and they let a larger quantity of blood flow along them, and this gives the redness to the flesh that we call a blush.

The will may control, not all, but many of these emotions. A person may conquer fear, for example, by a vigorous effort of his will; crying, by thinking of some less sad subject, and blushing by changing the line of thought he is pursuing.

For instance, if another is taunting him for doing what seems to be open to ridicule, let the person reflect that he is in his own opinion, standing up for what is right and this consciousness of rectitude will take the place of consciousness of self and ten to one cure the evil.

In a thousand ways the will has a vast influence over the body. It may make us brave instead of cowardly. Let a man fully make up his mind that he can and will walk through graveyards at night, and though he may have been timid before, and though he may suffer a little in doing so, he can do it. The will is either master of us, or we are of it. It makes the soldier stand his ground in time of battle. It lets us do a mean thing, or it makes us do a brave one.

A boy or girl who is awkward in company, who feels ill at ease, as some very excellent young persons do, may, to a great extent, and it may be, entirely cure themselves by a resolute exercise of the will. A thing is often practically half done already the moment we make up our minds that it shall be done.

Determine that you will be cool, collected, listen attentively lest you make a blunder, keep ears and eyes open in order to be at ease and appear well, and ten to one, you will carry your point.

The efforts of the will keep you up, somewhat as a pair of inflated bladders do in swimming. The will may be made a great friend. It controls, to a great extent, the nervous system.

The nervous system is, as it were, the boiler that moves the rest of the engine; but the will is the engineer that keeps the boiler up to the "hundred and plenty to spare" as the railroad men say—supplies the fire, pokes it, piles on the coal, furnishes the steam, and sees, too, that it is applied in the right way.—Rev. K. W. Lorne, in Golden Days.

Stock Raiser's Meeting.

At a meeting of the Shackelford County Stock Association, held at Albany, August 21, 1880, the following proceedings were had, to-wit:

On motion of J. C. Lynch the chair appointed Messrs. S. J. Conner, Mode Johnson and John Shelton a committee to ascertain the amounts due parties for guarding the trail during the last drive. The following amounts were allowed:

G. R. Carter, 1 1/2 months, $75.
J. M. Draper, 2 months, 80.
A. A. Clarke, atty. fees, 50.

On motion of J. C. Lynch it was agreed to begin the fall round ups in the 8th district on the 24th of September, and that Albany be the place of meeting on the eve of the 24th.

On motion of S. J. Conner the following resolutions were adopted: WHEREAS, Drovers during the late drive had no particular trail through the county, therefore, be it

Resolved, That parties driving cattle on what is known as the Beef Trail be requested to keep within the limits of one and a half miles on each side of said trail from the south boundary line of Shackelford County to South boundary line of Throckmorton County inclusive, crossing the Clear Fork of the Brazos four miles above Fort Griffin.

Resolved, That we hereby pledge ourselves to give any information or assistance to any and all persons driving cattle on said trail who shall adhere to the provisions of the foregoing resolution, at the same time discountenancing any and all persons who do not.

On motion of J. C. Lynch the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to ascertain and levy force sufficient to hold the stock within the limits of what is known as the Lynch and Ellison range for the ensuing winter, and that J. W. Ellison, H. C. Bright, and E. K. Manning be appointed said committee.

On motion the secretary was ordered to furnish to the Texas Live Stock Journal the Echo and the Tomahawk, a copy of these proceedings, with a request that the same be published.

The President's Salary.

A well informed Washington correspondent of the Boston Traveler tells how much of his salary an economical president can save. He says: As the salary of the office is fifty thousand dollars per year, the president has been enabled to save between thirty-five and forty thousand dollars each year. President Hayes will retire from the White House about one hundred and forty thousand dollars better off than when he entered. The government pays for everything about the White House, except the actual food, and the most of this is obtained through the Commissary Department at contract price. The servants and employees are paid for by the government, and the president is under no expense except to pay for his clothing and the cost of maintaining the table. The president's family have done very little entertaining—not a quarter as much as President Grant did—and this has been a great saving in expense.

It was composed of earth, trillite, iron, nickel, cobalt, phosphorus, copper, sulphur, lead, silver, gold, silica, magnesia, alumina, soda, lithia and potassium, all distinct, yet all altogether like the particles of a granite block.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1880.

OUR TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Gen. Winfield S. Hancock,
Of Pennsylvania.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,

Hon. Wm. H. English,
Of Indiana.

FOR GOVERNOR,

Gov. O. M. Roberts,

FOR THE LEGISLATURE,

Judge C. K. Stribling, of Shackelford County.

FOR DISTRICT JUDGE,

Judge T. L. Hutchison, of Comanche.

Subject to the action of a Convention.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY,

John Bowyer,
of Callahan County.

For District Attorney.

It is with pleasure that we place at our mast head this week the name of John Bowyer for District Attorney. We feel assured that if elected he will prove to be the right man in the right place.

The subject of this article is a young man of fine mental ability, of sober industrious habits, of good moral character, and is entirely devoted to his profession in which he ranks in the lead; while his having filled (and that, too, with much honor to himself and credit to our county) the office of County Attorney, well qualifies him for the office to which he now aspires. We feel confident in venturing the prediction, that, if elected—and we think he will be—he will prove to be an officer of which the whole district can and will feel justly proud. Callahan will give him a good send-off and we proudly commend him to our sister counties in the district. Our frontier district needs good and efficient officers to enforce the laws—men who are not to be cowed down and intimidated, and in this respect Mr. Bowyer has been weighed in the balance and found not wanting.

THE Northern press is very indefatigable in howling about the census returns. Our increasing prosperity don't suit them very much; although the figures have been made and sent up by commissioners appointed by a Radical president, still they don't suit the times. The principal reason given and the only objection is that the figures are too large. The northern howlers don't like to see the South prosper for it hurts their cause; but she will prosper, nevertheless; her healthy climate, rich soil and generous hearted people are becoming too well known for the emigrant to be deterred by the lying misrepresentations and damnable fabrications of the northern press.

They Die Hard.

Judging from the kicking, struggling, groaning and howling of the Radical party, we are convinced that they die very hard, but these death howls are in perfect keeping with their nature, and true to their instincts. It has not been our intention to deal extensively in politics, but there are times when forbearance ceases to be a virtue and we must speak. A Republican paper published at Mount Vernon, Missouri and bearing the significant cognomen of Fountain and Journal, which for its lying capacity and utter disregard for truth, honor and justice, certainly accord for it the position at the top of the pile of Radical northern journals. We shall give our readers a few samples. In speaking of organizing a Garfield and Arthur club, it says:

••• The whole matter in dispute now between the Republicans and Democrats is whether secession was right or wrong and whether the States have the right to secede or not. All men who oppose this view of the matter are opposed to Hancock and English. If there are any Republicans this year who cannot go to work in good earnest for the party, they may reasonably expect that hereafter the party will be too busy to work for them when they ask it. It is now or never. If we are defeated in this canvass in Lawrence County there is no one to blame for it as much as men who can and will not work, and men who can always find a number of men on the Democratic ticket who are a great deal better than the opposing men on the Republican ticket. This would be the case if the ticket was made up of white robed angels from the regions of eternal day and the Democratic ticket was filled out with vile traitors from the devil.

This statement is published on Sept. 2, 1880. By such howls as this they expect to delude the ignorant northern voter, if there are such ignorant enough to vote for a salary-grabber and custom house thief for president and vice-president. There is one thing certain in this, that is, the voters will not be compelled to strain their eyes to find the better man on the Democratic ticket.

Six school houses have been built recently in Little Rock, Ark. That is the way to kill off Democracy. It retreats before the march of intelligence like an owl before the rising sun.

You may think so now but after the election you will think like the man who was going to annihilate a rat with a flail—the flail didn't operate just right, but struck him in the head and there was a funeral. The rat still lives and so does the Democratic party, and the progress of education is just the food that will stimulate and perpetuate it.

And now comes a correspondent from Merriam, Miss., to the Indianapolis Journal copied in a supplement of this lying sheet:

I came South in 1868 and have been South ever since, and I feel it my duty to write you this letter in the hour of our desperate need. There is no free speech here; no free press. Everything is under the control of the old secession leaders. They are bulldozing the whole country, and if they get control of the National government, God help us and the Nation. Our four years' struggle was for nothing. The boys who gave their lives for the Nation have died in vain.

The men who vote a Democratic ticket in Indiana are digging graves for their children—let me say that to them—and bloody graves, too. Secession is yet alive and is fostered by the government. The infernal old rascals who led the movement here, pardoned by the government, are now in the lead again, and hope by the nomination of Hancock and English to fool the public and get control of the National government. If they do they will organize the militia and prepare for another war. I am here, an old soldier and an old Democrat (God forgive me for ever voting the ticket), and I know what I say is true. If any of your Democratic editors, or English himself, unknown, will come through this country and say he is a Garfield man or a Greenbacker, he will go home with a different view of the South. It is said it is a split South. So it is, and any man who dares to oppose it in Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Alabama or Arkansas, is a dead man, if he does not run. The people are so sure of the election of Hancock and English that they are growing more and more arrogant. I was a Democrat almost to disloyalty in 1864, and I say now to all those who love the Union and equal rights, vote against anything that is supported by the solid South, for the solid South means the Southern Confederacy. In the name of God, of humanity, justice, right and reason, I appeal to the boys at home to vote them down, and show these fellows here that we are not blind and deaf, and that we respect the memory of the gallant fellows who fell from Bull Run to Appomattox.

Is it to be wondered at that a lying pup like the author proves himself to be should receive a reception that would make himself feel ill at ease in any respectable community where he may cast his lot? But this is only a fair sample of the electioneering lies that are put in circulation by the supporters of Garfield and Arthur. A more diabolical lie was never uttered. He may have described the reception he has received, but we know there it not a foot of soil within the boundaries of the United States where a man is any more at liberty to express his own sentiments than in Texas, the statements of lying Radical mountebanks to the contrary, notwithstanding. They must have a desperate case, indeed, to require perjuring themselves before God and man to keep their miserable worm-eaten, water-logged hulk afloat. Go on with your howlings for your power is waning. The nocturnal gloom which has pervaded our atmosphere is fast disappearing and a bright effulgent light is dawning, the rays of which will lead the Democracy to a glorious victory. Rave and howl, you political mourners! Your cause needs your sympathy, but your damnable lying won't save you from an inevitable but meritorious defeat.

WM. H. MALTBY, editor of the Corpus Christi Free Press died on the 25th ult.

A VERY large stream of foreign gold is being shipped to the United States. The steamer Canada brought 2,610,000 francs from Havre, the Herder brought $1,765,600 foreign gold, and the Werder $50,000. The bank of England has just sold £100,000 gold, for shipment to New York.

WE have devoted considerable space this week, to northern sore-heads, but we think when the fair name of our country is thus assailed by one who claims to have been born and bred a Democrat, (still, were justice meted out properly he would be languishing behind prison bars), we can no longer let it go unnoticed, but must hurl the lie back into the author's teeth. The flames of the infernal regions, will be too mild to do justice to his perjured soul.

WM. H. PARVIN, P. M.

Beautiful cool nights.

County Attorney Bowyer left yesterday for Brown County.

The heaviest rain we have seen for a long time fell here last Wednesday.

Prof. G. W. Crutcher has our thanks for favors extended to the CLARENDON.

Sheriff Jones has our thanks for a large bundle of papers which are highly appreciated.

Wm. Waddell is in town and will leave this morning, taking supplies for Messrs. Byler & Waddell's ranch.

Ed. Seay left for Brownwood last Saturday, and returned again Monday, looking none the worse for the trip.

The offices of County Commissioners are of the most important, yet, there is not a single announcement. What is the matter?

Many persons are wisely concluding to patronize home industry, and giving us their job printing, thus keeping the money in the country. Let the good work go on.

Messrs. Brown Seay and F. S. Bell arrived here during the week, from the ranger's camp. The former has gone on a visit to Brown County, and the latter will remain here.

See the new advertisement this week of J. E. Thomas, who is still practicing his profession in our courts and holds himself in readiness to attend to all business intrusted to him.

The Waterman Hotel is considered the cheapest and best house in the city of Fort Worth. It is a new house and is kept in the very best style, the table always spread with the best the market affords.

We call the attention of our readers this week to the announcement for County Surveyor, of L. T. Cochran, who is the mail contractor between Belle Plain and Eastland, has been a long time a citizen of the place, and we are informed has had ample experience as a practical surveyor.

Our citizens have been for some time agitating the matter of getting an organ for the Sunday school. We think this is a very commendable object, and we are informed that his Honor Judge Hutchinson has stepped to the front and headed a subscription for that purpose, by sending a five-dollar bill. This is a good starter and we hope to see the sum soon swell to a sufficient amount to procure the instrument. Who is next?

Mr. Bell announces himself this week as a candidate for the office of County Attorney. For the last twelve months he has been with the rangers where he has acquitted himself in a highly creditable manner. Mr. Bell, by his sober, upright and unexceptionable conduct since he became a citizen of Callahan County nearly two years ago, has won for himself many warm and fast friends. In his election to the office of County Attorney, the county will secure the services of one who will be courteous, faithful and efficient in the discharge of the duties of the office, and we most cordially recommend him to the people as one worthy of their suffrage.

Court Proceedings.

The following is a list of civil cases disposed of during the last term of the District Court:

E. E. Miller vs. Mary Miller, divorce granted.

Chism and Peter vs. James Hart, suit on note, continued on affidavit of defendant.

State vs. R. M. Stevens, suit for forfeiture of asylum lands, continued for service.

Callahan County vs. T. J. Norrell et al, action on official bond, continued by consent.

State vs. J. M. Henderson, sheriff Tarrant County, failure to return civil process, dismissed on payment of officers costs.

W. H. Moore vs. T. P. R. W. Co., continued by consent.

J. N. Olds vs. J. P. Brown et al, action on a note, continued for service.

J. I. Kilpatrick vs. Chandler and Turner, to divide and partition land, W. J. Maltby, G. W. Crutcher and L. T. Cochran appointed commissioners, commissioners' report received, judgment accordingly.

M. S. Hall vs. Ward & Poe, suit on an account, dismissed at plaintiff's costs.

State vs. Jos. Albritten, W. D. Strickland and R. S. Vickory, sci fa, dismissed.

State vs. W. C. Tinker, J. F. Collins and E. Jackson, sci fa, judgment for $200 costs, appealed.

Laying the Corner Stone.

EAGLE COVE, 9-9-1880.
EDITOR CLARENDON:—

Bishop Garret, Episcopal Bishop of Western Texas, will lay the corner stone of the church, "The good Samaritan," in Eagle Cove, on Sunday 12th inst.

We would be glad to have all who feel interested in the good work present. The Bishop is a man of rare intellect and energy—more than repays the effort to hear his sermons. Eleven o'clock service at the arbor on Pecan Bayou.
M. O. A.

Last Thursday evening an individual at the Avenue Hotel whose clothes, we presume, did not exactly fit him, and who was attempting to play the "Smart Aleck," suddenly took wings—that is, he flew up and came down near the middle of the street. He didn't know whether he had been on the railroad and had collided with a construction train, or whether the predicted change and general demolishing of our planetary system had taken place, but when he picked himself up and went to the saloon to stimulate his scattered senses, he remarked that that trotting harness had the damndest elevating effect on that track he ever did see.

Mr. D. J. Beeler, brother of R. T. Beeler of the firm of Turner & Beeler of this place, and son of Dr. Beeler of Weatherford, we are pained to learn, was most foully murdered a short time since in New Mexico, near the Eureka Mining Camp, eighty miles south of Silver City. His comrades had gone away and a band of Mexican bandits surrounded the cabin and finding him alone, killed him and took his valuables, horses, guns, etc.

Hall's Hair Renewer is nature's own remedy to restore gray or faded hair to its natural color and beauty.

STATE NEWS.

Judge Goode will be a candidate for mayor of Dallas.

Land in Taylor County is selling at from 50 cents to $3 per acre.

Austin is to have her city election over again. The last one is said to have been illegal.

In an affray at Leesville, Gonzales County, recently, three Littlefields were killed by three Martins. The difficulty was the result of an old feud.

The Greenback convention at Willis, Texas, on the 21st ult., consisted of twelve white and thirty-two colored delegates. The poor colored man is so easily deluded.

On the 15th of July last the families of J. W. Johnson, consisting of a young son and daughter, and his son William, wife and children, and Capt. W. Ector, left Cleburne for El Paso. News has just reached Waco that the entire party was murdered by Indians a few days ago.

Mr. C. H. Jenkins, of the Brownwood Investigator reports times dull in Belle Plain. Well, we presume the times did seem dull to him, but our merchants and business men are all doing a good business. We should think it dull, too, were we to go to a place and find not one political associate. Mr. Jenkins felt isolated and alone. Colonel, times are good here and money easy, but Greenbackers, vary a one.

LARGEST BOOK PUBLISHED.—The new edition of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, just issued, is believed to be, in the quantity of matter it contains, by far the largest volume published. It now contains about 118,000 words defined, and nearly 15,000 words and meanings not found in any other one dictionary. The Biographical Dictionary, just added, supplies a want long felt by the reader and student, in giving the desired information so briefly. Never was any one volume so complete as an aid in getting an education.

S. M. Fry is still the "boss" Boot & Shoe dealer in Fort Worth. He keeps constantly on hand an immense stock of the most stylish and also of the most serviceable goods, which he sells at astonishingly low prices. Go and see for yourself.

During the late storm Dr. Edward Buckley and Captain Lee Hall, reached Sycamore Creek, west of Brackett, Kinney County, and stopped in its bed to water their horses. While the animals were drinking, a roaring was heard up the creek, and they saw a great volume of water rushing towards them, crushing down trees and everything in front of it. They barely escaped to the hill, and, looked back, saw one of the most wonderful sights that the average man in a life-time might expect to see. The creek was full of water, a great river, and where they had watered their horses a moment before, was now a rushing current fully forty feet deep.

MIRTHIGRAMS.

Why is a vain young lady like a confirmed drunkard? Because neither of them is satisfied with the moderate use of the glass.

Mistress (horrified).—Good gracious! Bridget, have you been using one of my stockings to strain the coffee through? Bridget (apologetically).—Yiz, mum, but shure, I didn't take a clane one.

They say that the people of these United States are recklessly extravagant and yet the Vermont man who bought the wrong kind of pills for a sick wife, to avoid having them wasted, took them himself.

Clergyman to newly married pair: The married state imposes various duties. The husband must protect the wife, while the wife must follow the husband wheresoever he goes. Bride: Lor', sir, can't that be altered in our case? My husband is going to be a letter-carrier.

Madam de Stael says: In the hour of danger woman thinks least of herself. True! When the lightnings flash, the thunders roll and the drenching rain pours down, she devotes her agony of thought to that new dress and love of a hat likely to be destroyed.

Oh, let us love the candidate, he's so smiling and so bland, oh, let us be compassionate and take him kindly by the hand; and deem him not importunate, should his affection overflow, but love the gentle candidate because he loves the people so.—Georgetown Record.

Some people are affected differently by different effects from what other people who are not affected similarly by an agency that is like unto the same kind of an agent bearing proportion to the first cause.—Cincinnati Gazette.

You're another.—Peck's Milwaukee Sun.

There are more ways than one to keep a husband home evenings. The wife might put up a cask of beer in one corner of the dining room, cover the floor with sand, and hire two or three dirty fellows to fill the place full of smoke from vile cigars. A woman with any sort of tact can make home as happy and cheerful as a beer saloon.

Dan Rice the great clown has quit the religious business and gone back to the circus.

Some of the most eminent scientists in the land are of the opinion that the Polar regions at one time possessed a tropical temperature, and were the original home of man, and combat the ordinary theory that the Aryan race of man originated in the Pamir Highlands of Central Asia, spreading thence into Europe and India.

The Texas & Pacific road authorities say the board of directors of the company have telegraphed to construction management to complete the road to El Paso by January 1882, in stead of 1883, as originally contemplated. It is surmised this is a significant move against the Huntington road building east, and the Texas & Pacific has determined to reach El Paso first, to secure important advantages.

A public laboratory for the analysis of chemicals and patent medicines has been established in Japan, and no patent medicine or mixture can be sold in that country until after it has been thoroughly tested and pronounced of merit at said laboratory. Should such an institution be established and a similar law enacted in this country no doubt but a very large portion of the worthless mixtures which now flood the country at the present time would be condemned.

Tale of a Texas Centipede.

C. D. Parham, messenger for the Southern Express, is responsible for the following story: While at Texarkana in the discharge of his duties, he purchased some peaches of a boy who was vending them on the depot platform. They were unusually large and fine, being of the clingstone order, and Mr. Parham devoured the first one with great relish. The second one was even more toothsome, and, after removing all the meat that was possible from the stone, he placed the latter in the mouth while he turned his attention to duty. Several times he felt something tickle the roof of his mouth, and, when at leisure, again examined the stone carefully. Protruding from one edge of it he discovered something that resembled a spider's leg, and, when touched with a knife, it gave evidence of life. Mr. Parham called to his side George Stanton, an Iron Mountain engineer, and J. R. Martin, agent for the Southern Express at Texarkana. The stone was carefully opened with a knife, and there, snugly imbedded, was a centipede. It was in a torpid state at first, but the sunlight brought it into full vigor in a very few seconds, and it began to look around for a place of more safety. It was placed under a hat until a bottle could be procured. It was forced into its new glass prison and securely corked with the intention of bringing it to St. Louis. On the trip the bottle was accidentally broken, and Mr. Parham was compelled to fight against his will, to kill his dangerous prisoner. It measured a fraction less than two inches in length.—St. Louis Republican.

The severest hail storm witnessed in the United States, if not in the world, took place July 1, in Warren County, Missouri. The stones were of various sizes, ranging from the size of walnuts up to blocks of ice ten and a half inches long, five inches wide and one-half inch thick, and fell to a depth of six inches on a level, over forty square miles of territory. The damage was necessarily great, the crops being totally destroyed and many fowls and sheep killed outright. The ice smashed not only windows but sashes and blinds, and so injured most of the roofs of houses in the path of the storm that new ones had to be put on.

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual remedy yet discovered for diseases caused by derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and effectual treatment. AYER'S PILLS are especially applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these PILLS are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.
