Number of Texas Farms Has Been Made Public

THREE PERCENT INCREASE SHOWN IN TEXAS FARMS

510,469 Farms on January 1, 1935, Compared to 495,489 in 1930

FINDING COUNT MAY LOWER FIGURE

Will Eliminate Places Not Defined as "Farms"; Harde-man County With 1,408

Harde-man county has 1,408 farms as of January 1, 1935, compared to the 1930 census of 1,388. It is revealed in a report of preliminary tabulations of the 1935 census released by William L. Austin, Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce.

Texas is shown as having 510,469 farms compared with 495,489 in 1930, an increase of three per cent. The number of farms reported for 1935 is subject to revision downward after schedule received from the field have been edited, as the editors will eliminate returns from places not included in the Census definition of "farm."

The preliminary report showing nearby counties and comparison with 1930, follows:

SOONER STATE IS GIVEN BRUNT OF DAMAGE BY FLOOD

Portions of Highways, Farm Crops and Bridges Swept Away

REPAIR WORK NOW UNDERWAY

Later Damage Results Following Additional Rains to Swell Streams

Although Texas has received its share of damaged highways, railroad tracks and bridges, loss of lives, crops, and other property, as a result of the floods this spring, a trip to the border state of Oklahoma convinces the Sooner state was hardest hit.

Highway 23, north of the Red River bridge for more than a mile, shows the effects of how damaging flood waters were. The approach to the bridge was washed away as was the highway in different spots. Cost of repairing will run into the thousands of dollars. West of Altus, Okla., the Salt Fork bridge, more than half the length, was carried down stream during the first heavy rise. A temporary bridge built on to what was left of the old bridge is being used until rebuilding is completed on the old bridge.

The highway was scuttled considerably also. The bridge over the same river just to the east of Olustee was unable to withstand the impact of the flood. This was close to where several loss their lives when houses were carried downstream.

The bridge on the Eldorado-Quanah road, just outside of the Eldorado city limits, was out of use for a time due to the approachments being damaged, and for a time the old bridge, near the new one, was brought into use.

Additional damage to bridges and railway tracks and also to highways has been done since the first, and most severe, flood, in many years. Millions of dollars damage has already been checked.

AWAIT PRODUCTS TO RESUME WORK AT TRC CANNERY

Local Plant Established High Record of Output, Efficiency, Last Year

Although reports originating in Quanah to the effect the Texas Relief Commission's canneries in that city and Chillicothe would reopen on June 15, Local Administrator Crutchfield, declared, however, that the Chillicothe plant would resume operation immediately upon receiving enough vegetables to insure its running.

Last year the Chillicothe cannery established a high record of output and efficiency in operation, and with the cooperation of vegetable growers in this section of the country there is no reason why such a record cannot be maintained, local officials assert.

GRAND JURY ENDS WORK THIS TERM

Return Six Indictments in Tuesday Session

Reconvening Tuesday the Harde-man county grand jury returned six indictments against six individuals for the current term of Forty-Sixth District Court in Quanah. It was the final session. Their indictments bring the total for the term to nineteen, including having been returned by grand jury's first session.

Mrs. Roy Sutton is visiting this week in New Mexico.

Hall and Fisher Sentenced to Penitentiary in Under-wood Case

Will Hall and Bill Fisher of Childress were each given five-year sentences in the state penitentiary upon conviction of the 46th district court jury at Quanah last week on a burglary charge. The defendants were charged in connection with the theft of meat from the Claude Underwood farm, near this city.

Hall and Fisher also received five-year sentences in Vernon recently upon conviction of a charge of burglarizing a meat storage house in Wilbarger county. The sentences will be cumulative, according to District Attorney Ed Gossett, making a total of ten years.

Robert E. Swain was given a two-year suspended sentence on a charge of selling intoxicating liquor.

Bill Handy received a two-year prison term on a burglary charge. Handy was recently given a 60-day jail sentence upon conviction in a misdemeanor case, reduced from a felony theft charge. J. D. Alexander, indicted in the same theft case, received a 30-day jail sentence.

Ed House was given a three-year prison sentence on a cotton theft charge. Stanley Bird, negro, received a one-year sentence on a liquor sale charge and Delmar Tucker of Chillicothe was given a two-year suspended sentence on a burglary charge. James R. Seifers was acquitted on a charge of selling liquor.

Trial of criminal cases in the current term at Quanah has been completed and Judge W. N. Stokes discharged the jury.

The grand jury reconvened Tuesday for a final investigation.

KIRKLAND WELL PLANS CEMENTING OFF WATER FOUND

Well Reported to Have Made Considerable Water With Little Oil

Operators were preparing to cement off water in the Alma Oil Company No. 1 Low, Childress county test south of Kirkland, it was reported Monday night from that field.

The well was reported to have made considerable water with a little oil Monday. By some reports, water was said to be brackish, indicating salt water close to the oil of the producing formation. Other reports were that the well was drilling water. The well was drilled with water containing a high gypsum content and drilling mud was said to be more salty than the water made by the test. Bottomed at 5,655, the test had trouble with bridle in tubing but this was washed out. Operators washed for twelve hours with clear water and then started swabbing again. They swabbed down inside tubing 1,500 feet showing 15 per cent oil in hole with the rest wash water. The well was shut down overnight and Monday morning operators found fluid 500 feet from control head. The fluid was found to be about 5 per cent oil and the rest water, with reported salty taste.

Verdict on the area will be delayed as operators will require some time more, especially in view of the threat of heavy gas to cement, drill out and attempt to recomplete. Casing is set around 5,830 feet.

Drilling Begins
The Hamilton, et al., was to have begun drilling on the test southeast of Chillicothe, Davenport farm, on last Monday. One of the officials declared the hole would be sunk to a depth of 4,000 feet. It is located one and one-half miles west of the test made sometime ago on the Dreischer farm.

Memorial Service To Be Held Sunday

MURRELL GIVEN SENTENCE OF 4 YEARS IN PEN

SUSPENDED SENTENCE ASSESSED AT QUANAH HAS BEEN REVOKED

Revoking of a two-year suspended sentence assessed Luke Murrell in Forty-Sixth District Court at Quanah on a chicken theft charge is scheduled in district court tomorrow.

Since his conviction in Quanah Murrell has been convicted of burglary at Dallas and given a two-year, penitentiary sentence. The sentence will be cumulative, making a total penitentiary sentence of four years. Murrell has been transferred from the Dallas jail to the Quanah jail.

HOME OWNERSHIP IS MADE EASIER RESULT NEW PLAN

Building Now Can Be Paid For Like Rent; Initial Payment About 20%

Home ownership has been preached for many years. But the ways and means to home ownership provided for the public at large have been largely based upon many unsound principles and faulty theories.

Few homes are purchased for cash. Few homes are built and financed upon a cash basis. Homes, because of their stable character, and because of the fact they are real property, have been financed by mortgages—thus supposedly providing a sound investment for those who have money to lend, and a way to ownership for the borrower.

This method of home purchase has been a burdensome one. If you are a home owner today, the chances are you paid down a certain sum when you bought the property, and then borrowed the balance on mortgage. If you could not pay cash for 40 to 50 percent of the property's value, you probably had to take out a second mortgage. Hence, mortgages have proven a burden rather than a way to ownership because of the fact that second mortgages have had to be refinanced approximately every 7 years, and first mortgages every 3 to 5 years.

The easiest way to pay for a home is to pay for it as you pay rent. You can buy or build a house on exactly that basis. Your initial investment in the property can be as little as 20 per cent of its cost. You may borrow the balance—up to 80 per cent of the appraised value—not more than $15,000—from an approved lending institution, covered by Government insurance, and repay the entire amount on a monthly basis.

You may take up to 20 years to pay. You may pay in 12 or 15 years, if you like. Each month you pay an installment which not only includes the interest and a part of the principal sum borrowed, but includes also a twelfth part of the annual taxes, mortgage insurance premium, and the first and other hazard insurance premiums.

Any responsible person, with a steady income, can borrow under this new system. Applications must be filed with the Federal Housing Administration to make insured mortgage loans.

Property primarily to be used as a residence, provided it meets the simple requirements as to location, character of neighborhood, and type of construction, may be financed by an insured mortgage loan.

RESIGNATION IS FILED SATURDAY GOES TO BISHOP

New Work is Said to be Pro-moted; Leaving Will be Sorely Felt Here

TO BEGIN DUTIES THERE ON JULY 1

Was Re-Elected to Fill Position for Local Group Few Weeks Ago

W. M. Gourley, for the past few years secretary of the Chillicothe Chamber of Commerce and vocational agriculture, teacher in the Chillicothe high school, resigned Saturday.

The resignation was filed with the board of directors of the chamber of commerce and also the school board. He then advised Dr. T. A. White, College of Arts and Industries at Kinzville, he would accept his election to a position as vocational agriculture teacher at Bishop, six miles from Kinzville. His resignation came on the heels of his acceptance for another year with the local work, but he explained "Had not I received this offer, which I feel is a promotion over the present work, I would have remained. The program for the coming year was all mapped out, and I would have started plans for holding the Chillicothe Valley Fair after my return from a vacation."

Mr. Gourley stated he expected to do part time in teaching college students of C. A. & I., who are training for jobs as teachers of vocational agriculture. The college and the high school will share the expense of the salary to be paid. He does not know just where his headquarters will be, but thinks perhaps it will be Bishop. He expects to also have

NEW OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED

J. A. McCaw is New President of Lions Club

Officers to serve the coming year for the Chillicothe Lions Club were installed at a smoker held in the American Legion Hall Tuesday night. No meeting of the club was held at the regular hour of Tuesday noon.

Succeeding Roy Sutton as president is J. A. McCaw; first vice-president, C. R. Tubbs; second vice-president, Raymond Touchstone; third vice-president, Grady Roberts; secretary, Roy Sutton; lion tamer, C. B. Hays; tall twister, Carter Forbes.

The new directors are Dr. E. A. Vesel and J. T. Boaz, Jr.

Miss Doyce Young will continue to serve as the club sweetheart and pianist.

The program for the evening's smoker consisted of vocal selections, a quartet composed of Paradise, Dan T. Wilson and Taylor Stuckey.

The event proved a success in every way, members voicing their opinion that such an affair be staged more often.

Mrs. Alfred Improving
L. W. Allrod and family, Mrs. Doek Shila and Mrs. Ellie Shila were in Wichita Falls Monday to see Mrs. Alfred. Judge stated she is doing fine and recovering very satisfactory, the attending physician believing Mrs. Allrod would be able to return home in about three months.

OUR HATS ARE OFF TO THEM

Read the editorials in your big dailies and in your local papers, large and small. They represent an earnest effort on the part of the hard-working editors to give you an analytical opinion on matters of vital importance. You may disagree with the opinions frequently. That is to be expected, but the editorials will serve to keep your thoughts focused on the things picked out by men trained to weigh relative values. Our hats are off to the editors of the big daily newspapers and the smaller local newspapers. We read them religiously. They are doing a grand job.

FOUR-FLUSHERS

There are four-flushers in card games, and there are four-flushers in other games. Indeed, there are four-flushers when the hat is passed for many a good and worthy cause.

These last mentioned are the fellows who subscribe larger amounts than they intend to pay, hoping thereby to draw momentary prominence and popularity. Their game is a most deplorable one, for the "good cause," counting on their subscription, goes ahead and ultimately finds itself by so much in the hole.

Many a worthy cause has suffered from this sort of four-flusher long before he has been put in his proper place in the community. Pity it is that nothing can be done with him.

TIME TO SNAP OUT OF IT

The great government relief program is in motion, backed by appointees of the President who have in charge the spending of billions for work and relief. For three years the public treasury has answered the calls for help from the distressed masses. Each time it has been said that "this is temporary until private employment can take care of the unemployed."

Well, statistical reports show gains in our national industries. Things are better. Meanwhile, idleness has become a habit with many who have secured relief. Local communities and officials have shut their eyes to these conditions. The time has come to help your unemployed neighbor get back to work and for the unemployed person to hustle for a job. Factory whistles are blowing and everything is "raring to go."

Now we can snap out of it, and by doing so, end the depression. Let everybody try to do.

SOME QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Is this a good time to be in debt? Will the government pension be aged? Will the value of the dollar go down? What is the general business outlook? Are we in for a deluge of printing press money?

Will the housewife have to pay more for groceries in the weeks to come? These are in truth questions of some moment, though the answers to them are rather obvious.

Is this a good time to be in debt? There is no good time to be in debt unless the loan is a business one and the money has been used for something which will return the principal with a profit.

Will the government pension be aged? Probably some sort of an age pension will be passed but its payment will depend on the continued financial stability of the government.

Will the value of the dollar go down? Of course. It is going down every day and will go farther. Inflation will expedite the process.

What is the general business outlook? Rather good while the government is disbursing the five billion dollars. After that it will be otherwise. We are building an economic structure which leans on government gratuities.

Are we in for an ultimate deluge of printing-press money? There is small doubt of it. The huge federal expenditures are not stimulating the return of normal business, and hence further relief expenditures of the same sort will be required when the present money is gone. Excessive borrowing will curtail the government's borrowing ability and paper money must be printed instead.

Will the housewife have to pay more for groceries? The price of everything we must have will go up as the value of the dollar goes down. There may be occasional fluctuations in the price of food, but the steady trend will be skyward. This is inevitable on the road we are traveling.

We used to know them as tramps and hoboes, now we call them the "voluntarily unemployed."

WHAT TAXES PAY FOR

There is a vast amount of kicking about taxes these days, and most of it is just. Our nation was born of a tax dispute, and dissection and argument over taxes has always been an American prerogative. Sometimes, though, we overdo it, even in these tax-oppressed days.

A statistician, figuring out that the average taxpayer in this country works one day a week for the tax collectors, makes a fine story out of it. And nearly everyone takes a grim satisfaction in feeling sore about it. But if it so, is it really so bad as everybody thinks?

What do we get for our taxes? Police protection. Fire protection. Schools. Libraries. Parks. Streets and highways. Street lights. Sewers. Garbage collection. Courts in which to maintain our rights. Government—local, state and national—and all its manifold activities and services without which our modern society could not function. National defense. And many other benefits. We might even say nationality and patriotism, because without the things our taxes pay for we could not be a civilized organic nation.

Maybe, after all, all this is really worth one day's work a week.

ROADS FULL OF TOURISTS

Gasoline companies report a demand for road maps and touring information 20 to 40 per cent greater than normal for this time of year. Automobile clubs are receiving many inquiries. Perhaps there is no way of telling, short of questioning patrons, whether this indicates a new vacation urge based on an improving personal financial condition, or whether touring is the method chosen by many Americans to get their money's worth of travel before inflation, just in case there should be any.

But whatever the immediate cause of so many more persons turning to the highways this summer, most of the efforts are likely to be good. The only bad effect is the possibility of more accidents; but if motorists and pedestrians really put their minds on avoiding this peril, they can do so. The good effects include all the usual benefits of travel to the open-minded, intelligent traveler. They enable citizens of any section of the country to get acquainted with those of other sections. And they include the purely material benefit of stimulated consumption of gas, oil, tires, clothes, food, souvenirs and the rest.

THE BONUS QUESTION

President Roosevelt certainly handled the bonus issue without kid gloves and, thereby, has incurred the political enmity of many veterans and others who have sought the passage of the measure.

A sound monetary policy must be obtained whether or not the bonus or any other money is paid. If financial experts believe that payment of the bonus would definitely bring inflation and its evils and is not for the best interests of the country, the bonus should not be paid.

There are a great many veterans who feel strongly on the bonus and wherever they gather it is the paramount topic of conversation, with arguments waxing warm. Each side has its adherents among the soldiers who served overseas.

The immediate need for cash in so many instances has, without question, brought the matter to a place of national prominence. Veterans who have been out of work need the money; of that there is no question. On the other hand, it is brought out that in many cases those who are making the most noise about it are those who are not in sore need of the bonus money.

THE PRICE OF HASTE

Haste causes nine out of ten automobile accident deaths.

There are various forms of hasty driving—all of them reprehensible, all generally unnecessary. Exceeding the speed limit is the most common form and is the most important single cause of fatal accidents. Reckless driving—such as cutting in and out of traffic, passing on hills and curves, etc.—is another form. So is driving on the wrong side of the road. So is usurping the right-of-way—which is an especially prolific source of accidents, serious and minor, in towns and cities.

Last year haste in its many forms was the direct cause of about 30,000 deaths, to say nothing of hundreds of thousands of injuries and property damage running into millions. At best, the hasty drivers might have saved a few seconds or a few minutes by being reckless—they might have reached some distant objective half an hour sooner than if they had driven carefully. What a price they and their innocent victims paid for that potential saving of time.

For every driver who is hasty because of a genuine need to get somewhere in a hurry, a hundred drivers are hasty for no sound reason at all—because they are congenially careless, irresponsible and incompetent. How long are we going to permit these drivers to sacrifice thousands of lives a year on the altar of recklessness?

The old saying that self-help is the only worthwhile kind of help, was never truer than in the case of modern agriculture.

Another thing this country needs is a good five-cent chain letter.

DROWNED MAN'S BODY IS FOUND

Victim of Pease River Located by Boy Sunday

Body of Chester Robinson, 30, construction engineer of the state highway department at Quannah, who was drowned in Pease River Thursday night, May 27, was recovered at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Rufus McFadden, 16, located the body as he walked in advance of his father, Wes McFadden, and Clyde Burks and Melton Burks. The body had drifted about five miles below the Crowell-Quannah bridge on Pease River. As young McFadden turned to see how far he had distanced his companions, he saw Robinson's body protruding about two inches out of the water. Robinson's clothing had not been torn, but was covered by a thick coating of sand.

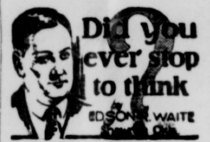

MIDGET ELECTED CAPTAIN TEXAS TECH MATADORS

WALKER NICHOLS, ONCE TOLD TOO SMALL TO PLAY FOOTBALL, NAMED LEADER

LEIBROCK, June 5—Walker Nichols, who three years ago was told that he was too small to play football, was named captain for next year's Matadors of Texas Technological College, by Head Coach Pete Cawthon.

Nichols, a scrappy guard who is particularly qualified for that place in the Notre Dame system, was awarded one of the medals for outstanding play last year. The new leader was also chosen secretary of the Double "T" club, an organization of Texas Tech lettermen.

The Matadors' new captain, who is from San Angelo, appoints Cawthon's tradition of upholding a lineman as captain. Jack Durham of Hamilton varsity center, was captain in 1930 and again in 1931; Ross Adams of Cuero, guard, 1932; Elva Baker of Abilene, guard, 1933; and Malcolm Martin of Lorenzo, end, 1934.

Community progress is synonymous with community effort.

Too many people regard with bias indifference all but what affects their own personal comfort and convenience and give little thought to those factors that make them possible.

When business is lagging is the time to spend more money for advertising. Business men who advertise feel a depression much less than those who cut down expenses by cutting down advertising.

While the desire to ride is instinctive in every person, the automobile business would not be what it is today had it not been for the tremendous clamor which has been built up around the pleasures of ownership of a motor car through automobile shows, millions of dollars worth of advertising, and automobiles enthusiastically presented directly to the prospect by the retail salesman, so says Roy H. Faulkner, president of a well-known automobile company.

The surest way to get satisfactory results in any undertaking is to find the best method of doing the job and then get busy and do it.

The trade-at-home man is the one who gets the best of everything.

Just Between ...Us...

BY THE NEWS HOUND

Looking over an exchange newspaper the other day, I came across a heading "Dead Man Walks Away." Perusing the news story I found the title to be rather misleading. The man was not dead. It was proved out later he had been asleep. Therefore, being dead and being asleep, are two different matters, one being important, the other not considered of enough news value to get into a newspaper. I take it then the reporter—and the head writer—were trying to make something out of the fact the man was sleeping.

Since the NRA has been "outlawed" by the Supreme Court, and President Roosevelt in his speech the other day showing his disappointment by averting, "We are back in the horse and buggy days," and warning the public cotton may drop to four and five cents and wheat around 25 cents, rather got me to thinking that perhaps he might be right. Should he be found correct it would be a very bitter dose for us in an agricultural section to swallow. In fact, so much that we doubt if some could recover. You see the NRA and AAA are in cahoots; that is, the NRA was first born and its brother, AAA, later. What affects one affects the other so it can be seen farmers will be hurt and hurt bad if they are forced to sell their commodities again at pre-Roosevelt prices.

In this particular community we paid little attention to the workings of the National Recovery Act. We doubted its good in some respects, yet it has proven life-saver to many industries in the larger cities, and for labor. Therefore, as one I am willing to see the Blue Eagle remain to flaunt its wings to the world in general that Uncle Sam is trying to recover from a very sick spell; Mayhag when the Constitution was written such a procedure was viewed as dictatorial and was not to be countenanced, so the Supreme Court must be correct. On the other hand this country is in a problem—perilous one, too—of trying to keep everybody from starving. I maintain, therefore, Congress now in session, should take this into realization. Conditions must be met, regardless.

I have learned that the Altus, Okla., baseball players are not so much baseball players as they are marathon runners. They outdistanced our boys over there the other afternoon until our boys were "arrogant" trying to keep up with them. It is quite evident these Altus boys like to run, so they have gained considerable exercise, and not to be mean about it they exercised our boys in a way, while provoking, still might in time prove, out a well done job. I am told our boys have been without any exercise since last May 12. Naturally, they do need exercise to loosen up their muscles.

As to the Altus boys they are participating in something else for exercise. One of them tells me they were in Vernon on May 26, stayed there during the afternoon and upon reaching Red River en route home, found the water to be somewhat higher than was the case when they crossed that morning. The manager decided he would make swimmers out of them and ordered "un-dress," then commanded them to march

QUANAH WOMAN DIES IN CRASH

Wedding Plans Halted Result of Fatal Collision

DALLAS—June 2—Mrs. Sophie Chase, 26, of Quannah, mother of four children, was fatally injured today in an automobile collision at Garland road and Buckner boulevard here.

Two persons died after another collision at the same intersection yesterday.

Mrs. Chase was a passenger in a car with B. H. Price of Pampa, who told officers here and Mrs. Chase were to have been married tomorrow.

Nearly Through Planting Joe Jones, living on the Dodson farm south of Chillicothe, was in town this last week and stated he had just about finished cotton planting. Joe hopes this year's yield will be an increase from what it was in 1934, otherwise he thinks farmers might as well go hunt for a place to hide themselves.

Tommy and Pauline Clancy of Houston have arrived to spend the summer months with their aunt, Mrs. T. B. Nuckles.

Into the water! Finally he barked out another order to "swim" and they did that—and so they reached the Oklahoma side, to continue on their way home.

Perhaps Chillicothe will be given more attention from the oil boys since they are losing interest over at Kirkland. Drilling on the Hamilton et al. well, located on the Davenport farm in southeast Hardeman county was to have been started Monday afternoon. They are to sink the hole to a depth of 4,000 feet. I hope they get something besides mud and water, and moreover, I am more in line with Horace Turner in that getting oil splattered all over me wouldn't hurt one time if oil could be brought in. I like oil—or the effects oil causes. For a time, it beats raising cotton and wheat a whole lot. People get more excited and when they are excited in that manner they are feeling good, and when feeling good they spend more money. I like to see people spend money.

It used to be after a couple had raised their children to grown-ups, the children would then get married and leave. When the last one was gone the couple felt bad, lonesome. Now they get to see their children and the children's children, to feed all of them—the depression caused that.

RELAX AS YOU RIDE ON CONCRETE! EVERY car is a better car on concrete—more pleasant to drive—swifter but safer. You see better at night—stop quicker even in the rain. You save money on gas, oil, tires, car repairs.

To the dividends of joy and comfort and safety that concrete yields—add cash savings of as much as 2 cents a mile in reduced driving costs compared with the expense of using inferior surfaces.

LOANS ON COTTON MAY BE AFFECTED BY COURT RULING

AAA Officials Assert NRA Decision May Bring On Big Change

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Regarding the AAA as shaken by the Supreme Court's decision, officials said Sunday they believe extension of the 12c loan on cotton to cover the 1935 crop may be affected by the ruling.

While various predictions about extension of this loan peg on prices have been made, AAA officials steadfastly have refused to comment. They said no prediction of any kind could be made until after the first 1935 cotton crop estimate in August.

However, some AAA experts said privately that in view of the expected decision of the Supreme court on the Bankhead cotton control law in the fall and the uncertain course of action facing the entire farm program there might be some hesitancy in granting a new loan. The 12c loans on the 1934 crop, due to expire July 1, recently were extended until Feb. 1, 1935.

AAA records showed that 10c and 12c loans, for 1932 and 1934, on 1,800,000 bales in the cotton pool, totaled $47,809,900.

Loans on cotton outside the pool, a total of 4,387,849 bales, aggregated $267,686,797.

Of the total loans, the Government actually advanced only $33,171,000 in cash. The rest was handled by banks, with the paper guaranteed by the Government.

Extension of the cotton loan was one of the problems believed under consideration by administration farm officials as they drafted amendments designed to strengthen the entire farm program against constitutional challenge. These were scheduled for conpletion by Monday or Tuesday.

It was believed that the amendments would include marketing agreements, but would eliminate the controversial licensing provisions of the AAA. Some form of Federal rules and regulations such as those utilized by the Federal Trade Commission or the Interstate Commerce Commission, probably would be substituted for the licensing provisions.

WHAT FARM FOLKS ARE NOW DOING

Timely Tips on What Farmers Folks are Doing in Texas

Clarksville: From four and one-half to six tons of alfalfa per acre have been harvested by Martin Stiles of Annona in Red River county who has 21 acres in alfalfa, according to C. M. Knight, county agent. The lowest price paid for alfalfa hay, according to the county agent, is $20 per ton.

"This new feed crop almost eliminates the need of corn and other grain crops that are selling at such high prices. It permits me to sell a few bushels of corn that I would otherwise have to feed my livestock in order to finish spring farming operations," Stiles says.

Caldwell: A net profit of $31.15 for the month of April from her flock of 183 hens is reported by Mrs. Walter Dueswell of Barleson county, according to G. C. King, county agent. Mrs. Dueswell says that her hens laid 2754 eggs or 313 dozen, which sold for $58.70. In addition, she sold three chickens for $1.50, bringing her total receipts to $60.20.

She bought 1190 pounds of mash which cost $20.45, and 400 pounds of grain which cost $8.60 making a total expense of $29.05.

Marshall: One hundred acres seeded with Bermuda and lespedeza in March 1934 on the farm of Bob Rogers of Harrison county is also coming along fine. Lowry thinks the contours will help his upland pastures a great deal, according to the county agent.

The 1199 acre pasture of the Peterson brothers which was cleared and brushed during 1933, with 5 acres seeded to white Dutch clover, black medic, Dallas grass, carpet grass, Bermuda grass and lespedeza, is also furnishing excellent pasture.

Kerrville: Forty-eight dollars was made recently by the Kerrville Home Demonstration Club sales day at which aprons, children's clothing, quilts and pillow protectors, home made bread, cakes, pies, jelly, native ferns and east were among the articles sold. All home demonstration clubs in the county contributed and cooperated in the sales and the proceeds were turned over to the county home demonstration council to help fill the budget of $162.25 for the year.

Another sales day will be held June 22 in connection with the wardrobe achievement day, according to Miss Frances Wilroy, Kerr county home demonstration agent. Each club will sponsor one event until the full amount called for in the budget has been raised.

Plainview: "It's easy to make rugs from the threads of burlap sacks," says Mrs. O. E. Fayer of the Stoneback Home Demonstration Club, according to Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, Hale county home demonstration agent. "You pull three threads, twist them, and thread your needle. That's much quicker than cutting one-fourth inch strips of material to use. Good burlap sacks are plentiful and easy to dye. They do not drink the dye as woolen materials do, so this makes them cheaper."

Mrs. Fayer has sent one of her burlap hooked rugs to the Extension specialist in home industries for standardization.

Nacogdoches: A mattress cover of heavy material which will fasten at one end with snaps so that it may be removed and washed is being made by Zela Mae Johnson, Nacogdoches county bedroom improvement demonstrator. Her new 50 pound home made mattress, according to Miss Norma Stokes, home demonstration agent. The mattress was made at a demonstration at Zela Mae's home supervised by Miss Stokes.

In taking care of the mattress, Zela Mae expects to sun and beat it every sunny day for three weeks. After she begins using the mattress she will tuck it each day when she makes her bed and sun and beat it every week when possible.

In the awarding of prizes, the appearance, horsemanship and riding apparel of the girl, and the appearance, performance and equipment of the mount will be considered by the judges. The judging will take place in the rodeo arena of the Reunion grounds on the mornings of the first and third days of the celebration and the winner of prizes in past years will not be eligible for awards at the 1935 reunion.

Sponsors are required to furnish their own mounts and equipment, but grooms and forage will be provided by the Reunion.

The girls will ride in the parades to be held during the Reunion, and will be guests at a round of social affairs in their honor, including dances, teas and receptions.

Mrs. L. M. Harly of Stamford has been selected as hostess to the sponsor, Miss Clara Mae Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Jones of this city has been chosen as Stamford's sponsor.

If strawberries are not available at the moment, you need not suffer through inability to try the recipe. Use crushed pineapple instead, with these differences:

STRAWBERRY MARLOW
1 cup crushed 20 marshmallows
fresh 1/2 cup cream
strawberries 1/2 cup water
orange juice 1/2 cup cream
1 tablespoon sugar
stiffly beaten

Wash, hull and crush the berries. Mix them with the orange juice and sugar, and let them stand for 30 minutes. Meanwhile set on the marshmallows with the water until they are liquid and smoothly blended. Add cold and beginning to stiffen, combine with the stiffly beaten cream. Pour into refrigerator trays and freeze without stirring.

PINEAPPLE MARLOW
16 marshmallows 1/2 pint cream
1 cup canned 1/2 cup water
crushed 1/2 cup cream
pineapple stiffly beaten

Steam marshmallows over hot water with the pineapple until they are melted. Cool the mixture. When the liquid is slightly stiffened, combine with the whipped cream. Pour into containers and freeze without stirring.

ALTUS SMOTHERS CHILLICOTHE IN BATFEST SUNDAY

Make Merry at Expense of Three Pitchers and Abundance of Errors

Chillicothe's Cubs, showing the effects of no practice work and playing their first game since May 12, fell victims to an onslaught on the part of the Altus, Okla., Advertisers last Sunday afternoon in that city by the score of 16 to 3.

Practically every player who took part in the melee for the Bruins committed a miscue. They were far off their regular habit of play, and before the game had been finished the switch in positions became comical. Woodrow Willett, ace of the local pitching staff, started on the hillcock and got by in very nice shape. He was jerked as the Bruins took the field in the fifth session, however, and gave way to Bruce Taylor, a wrong-hander. The latter failed to show any effectiveness, the Advertisers bashing his offerings for two hits and a run and in the next frame got him for four solid hits and six runs before they had been retired. He allowed the same number of hits and runs in the next Altus half, and all told the Oklahomans garnered ten hits good for 13 runs before he gave way to George Wright with two men away in the 7th.

Wright checked the Advertisers from then on without a hit or run.

Ollie Walker opposed the Bruins, allowing six hits and three runs. One of the hits was a homer by Kat Ramsey.

Be it said in favor of the Bruins' pitching staff, however, that regardless of who may have been in the box he could not have won. The mates were off their stride and turned in about twelve or thirteen misplays, and if you ask anyone they will tell you that happens to be a goodly number.

Now that they have a bad game out of their systems they will face the Iowa Park Buffaloes in a double-header on the home soil next Sunday afternoon. It promises to be a far different brand of ball, and a good crowd is due to be on hand for the fracas—both of 'em!

Score by Innings: R. H. Chillicothe, 010 100 010—2 Altus, 102 016 005—16 15 Batteries—Willett, Taylor, Wright and Ramsey, Canafax, Walker and Herring.

STEWART WITH PAMPA MAKING FINE RECORD

PROVING ACE OF PITCHING STAFF FOR SEMI-PRO BASEBALL CLUB

Carl Stewart, Chillicothe lad, is going "great guns" with the fast Pampa Roadrunners semi-professional baseball club, according to newspapers' reports from that city.

Here, in part, it reads of what Stewart is doing:

"Apparently back in old-time form this season, Carl Stewart is being looked upon as one of the Road Runners' strongest moundmen. The only member of the team not to taste professional baseball, Stewart won more games than any pitcher on the team in 1933. Early last season he underwent an operation for appendicitis and it was not until the end of the season that he was getting in condition to pitch. He started slowly this year but developed fast the last few weeks, winning two games, both shutouts, one against the Mexican Charros team 9 to 0, and the other against Phillips of Berger, 10 to 0. Stewart started playing ball with the Humble Oilers at McCamey in 1929 and was also with that team in 1929. He pitched for Corpus Christi in 1931 and the following year moved to Childress. He spent 1932 pitching for several independent clubs in this section, coming to the Road Runners in 1933."

Before joining other clubs Stewart worked for the Chillicothe team, but has become more effective each season, and today is one of the best right-handers in all West Texas. Many who have seen him work in the box pronounce him better than the average now toiling in the Texas league.

STATE ALLOTTED $2,500,000 FOR MONTH OF JUNE

HAD MADE APPLICATION TO FEDERAL GOVERNMENT FOR $4,000,000.00

AUSTIN, June 5.—Redditally reduced allotments for the relief population of Texas are in prospect for the month of June. It has been announced by Adam R. Johnson, state relief administrator.

Federal authorities notified Johnson that the state will receive $2,500,000 for general relief, although application was made for more than $4,000,000. Budgets, therefore, were made up on the basis of a state caseload of 219,000. Although the caseload has dropped steadily since January 1, Washington officials have repeatedly expressed dissatisfaction with the number of families on relief in Texas.

"Accordingly, our per case grants will be reduced from $17 in May to about $10 in June," Johnson said, "and our total relief disbursement from $5,612,000 in May to $3,391,000 in June."

"Although at first sight this may appear to be dreadfully severe, we expect thousands of cases to quit the relief rolls in June for employment on farms where they can make more than $10 we are able to give them. Farmers everywhere are calling for labor to help them cultivate their crops and we feel that in the case of the employable families there should not be any suffering because of this reduced grant."

June funds will be spent by the counties for purposes described in the following budget:

General relief, $2,125,342; hospitalization, $8,963; rural subsistence, $725,063; capital goods, $532,154.

To meet these obligations, the Texas Relief Commission will receive $2,500,000 from the federal government and $400,000 of state funds for general relief. Other grants for the special program of rural rehabilitation, student aid and emergency education are expected to be received from federal sources during the month.

Murders In State Show Increase of 440 In Five Years

AUSTIN, June 4.—The number of suicides in Texas has decreased during the last few years, according to Dr. W. A. Davis, director of the bureau of vital statistics of the State Health Department.

There was an increase from 415 suicides in 1929 to 772 in 1931 and a further increase to 828 in 1932, the greatest number during the last five years. Following 1932, suicides have decreased from 711 in 1933, with a further decrease to 705 in 1934.

A gradual increase has occurred in fatal accidents which totaled 3,112 in 1930 compared with 4,013 in 1934.

The increase in accidental deaths has been closely associated with the use of motor driven vehicles. In 1931 there were twenty-three deaths due to collisions between automobiles and railroad trains, compared with sixty-nine in 1934.

Accidents in air transportation increased from twenty-seven in 1932 to forty-six in 1934.

The greatest increase, however, was found in automobile accidents involving no other vehicles. The records of 1934 show an increase of approximately 79 per cent over 1932, there being 297 deaths due to automobile accidents in 1930, compared with 1,533 in 1934.

A much greater increase in homicides is shown. The records show 686 murders in 1930 and 1,106 in 1934, an increase of 440 or 76 per cent during the five-year period.

WHAT LOCAL C-C IS DOING HERE

Service Available from Hours 8 to 5 Each Week

The local chamber of commerce maintains a six day a week service for the public. The office hours from 3 to 5 o'clock. It is true, however, that the office is open for longer hours than that. Frequently night meetings are held, for example a group of wheat farmers of this community held their meeting in the office Monday night which lasted for three or four hours. The chamber of commerce mail, other services, clubs that meet once a week for an hour, keeps up regular service throughout the month and the year. Since the beginning of the chamber of commerce year, April 1st, careful records are being kept of the personal service and calls made at the office. For the month of May the following written daily record shows, number of farmers calls, 58 as follows:

On poultry, 2; garden, 10; livestock, 4; terracing, 5; crops, 3; government, 11; miscellaneous, 17. Total 58.

Types of service for people in town: miscellaneous, 11; gardens-yards, 3; Red Cross calls particularly school children for school supplies, 29; number of letters written, 88; number of out-of-town calls, 11.

This activity does not include the many calls concerning the rural soft ball league, their meetings, other committee meetings, and outside services.

At the end of the year an annual report will show the summarized reports of the organization. To meet all the demands of the town and community, it requires constant daily service of many hours of this organization.

Sixty-Eight Dogs Killed At Vernon

In a drive to Vernon of stray dogs, sixty-eight were killed in that city up to noon Wednesday. It resulted from the death of Mylo Dean Saunders, 7-year-old child, bitten by a "mad" dog a month ago. Several cats have also been slain.

Robie Lou Young Wins County Bedroom Contest

Five 4-H club girls have worked hard for the comfortable and attractive bedrooms they now have. Robie Lou Young of the Medicine Mound 4-H club won first place making and improvement of 490 points at a cost of $14.34. Lesta Lightfoot of the Williams High club won second with an improvement of 460 points at a cost of $18.79. Eileen Milligan of the Liberty club spent $16.74 and made an improvement of 411 points. Oleta Ferguson of the Medicine Mound club placed fourth with an improvement of 380 points and a cost of $37.61. Oleta has a most attractive room, but the addition of new furniture ran the cost up. Grace and Frances Fiers of the Acme club spent $8.50 and made an improvement of 133 points.

All demonstrators now have comfortable and adequate bedrooms. Not one of the five bedrooms had a study desk, but all five have table and chair for study. All except one of these desks were home made.

All rooms with the exception of Eileen Milligan repaired their rooms. Eileen was able to repair her paper so that papering was not necessary. The five rooms had the woodwork repainted. All of the floors were refinished with the exception of Grace and Frances Fiero and they added a new rug. New draperies were added in all rooms. New shades were added to four of the rooms and the fifth had draperies added which when draped served as shades.

Mrs. Carl Stewart and little daughter, Carol, of Pampa, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Stewart, this city, and L. D. Meharg at Medicine Mound.

Mrs. P. P. Turner and daughter, Betty June, were visitors in Duke, Okla., Monday.

D. Warren of Childress was a business visitor in the city Wednesday, and went from here to Odell, accompanied by H. B. Turner.

Fine Vegetable Garden Raised By W. B. Fomby

They're congratulating W. B. Fomby—and a good reason for doing it. He has a fine vegetable garden—one of the best he has ever attempted since coming to Chillicothe from Farmersville. Yes, indeed, he is being complimented. Friends having seen it cannot but help admiring the fine work that has gone into its making, and realizing, too, if what the results are going to be. "My! how wonderful it would be if W. B. ever got the notion in his head of remembering friends some of the products."

Mrs. A. E. Howard had as guests Sunday Mrs. W. H. Ballew, Mrs. Spradling, Mrs. Dunbar and Mrs. Stella Brunson of Vernon.

Paul McGinnis and R. S. Shuman were in Altus, Okla., Sunday.

Mrs. Claude Estes was a visitor in Odell Wednesday.

SUPREME COURT

Hands Down Ruling 'NRA' Unconstitutional

In a decision handed down this week by the Supreme Court the National Recovery Act cannot be enforced because it is unconstitutional. Therefore, it can mean this: Larger towns that have been forced to adhere to the NRA in the way of stores charging certain prices, while towns under 2,500 population have escaped this order, may operate hereafter as they see fit. In other words larger towns can meet prices quoted by smaller towns.

To keep the business already built up due to this ruling, smaller town stores are going to find the fight to be a little more stronger on the part of larger towns to recover some of the business. That means, also, smaller towns must show they are not "fraidy cats" and fight back. AND TO FIGHT PROPERLY WITH MODERN WEAPONS their local newspaper—in Chillicothe

BRIDGE BUILDERS MEET

For the second time this year the Bridge Builders were delightfully entertained at the Boucher home.

Four games of bridge were played. Jeanne Hayhurst won a point on "Playing the Game" for high score, and Maella Campbell won low score. Mrs. Jack Bart was a guest of the club.

Enty plate refreshments were served to the guest and members. Miss Maella Campbell will be hostess next Friday.

MISS REYNOLDS BECOMES BRIDE OF MILES ISBELL

Miss Frances Reynolds became the bride of Miles Isbell in a wedding ceremony performed by Rev. Reed, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Lawton, Okla., on last Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Both parties are well-known here. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Reynolds. She is a graduate of the Chillicothe high school, and was residing with her parents up until the wedding. Mr. Isbell is connected with the grain business in Oklahoma City, but at one time resided here.

Following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Isbell departed for a trip that will take them to California and Old Mexico. On their return they will visit here before going to Oklahoma City where they will make their home.

TEBLS OF SIMPLE FLOOR FINISH

Boiled linseed oil gives a floor finish which is comparatively inexpensive, easy to apply and suitable for close-grained woods, members of the Big Valley Home Demonstration Club were told by their home agent, Miss Elsie Phillips, at the meeting last Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Carl Wall.

However, Miss Phillips made mention that linseed oil as a finish for the floors has been somewhat in dispute resulting through carelessness in applying, which then coils dust and becomes unsightly. This can be avoided by applying oil while hot and wiping off the excess after it has dried about an hour. Hot oil penetrates deeply and is absorbed more quickly than cold oil, she said. She cautioned members that they should not allow the oil to stand until it becomes oxidized or "rummy" before the excess is removed. This finish protects the wood from grease stains and prevents the wood from drying out. It may be wiped with warm, soapy water without harm.

Most of the members gathered at the Wall home Friday morning for an all-day quilting, and those present were: Mrs. F. J. Koeninger, Mrs. M. C. Turner, Mrs. S. Z. Bailey, Elsie Faye Turner, Katherine Bailey, Mrs. Bill Dodson, Frances Bailey, Mrs. W. W. Johnson, Mrs. Elbert Easley, Mrs. Edna Stringer, Mrs. T. H. Wall, Rula Belle Evans, Mrs. M. T. Bellamy, Mrs. L. P. Hightower, and the hostess, Mrs. Carl Wall, and visitors were Mrs. F.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Francis were visitors in Altus, Okla., Sunday.

MEETING HELD

The Althean Class of the First Baptist Sunday school held the monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Harry W. Norwood Tuesday night.

The meeting opened with a prayer by Mrs. Earl Wofford. The devotional was given by Mrs. Erbie Varnell, which was followed by several sentence prayers.

Since the class had decided to elect officers every six months a report was given by Mrs. J. C. Fish from the nominating committee, and the following were elected by the class: Mrs. E. E. McClesky, teacher; Mrs. J. E. Johnston, assistant teacher; Mrs. Earl Wofford, president; Mrs. Douglas Golden, first vice-president; Mrs. Ray McClintock, second vice-president; Mrs. Harry Norwood, third vice-president; Mrs. Erbin Sims, secretary; Mrs. Randal Boucher, assistant secretary and reporter; Mrs. Erbie Varnell, pianist.

The night for the class meeting was changed to the first Monday night of each month. Refreshments were served to seventeen members of the class.

Bennie Joe Wilson of Archer City is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Glazener.

Over 300 Miles Be Given Over Plan For Texas

John D. Jones of Wichita Falls, state project director, announced this last week that approximately three hundred miles of trees will be planted in Texas under the Plains Shelterbelt program during 1935.

Difficulty in obtaining the consent of farmers to use strips of land for planting was listed by Mr. Jones as one of the chief problems of the project.

"Dry weather did not damage the nursery stock," he said. "The only damage came from stock but, at that, 75 per cent was saved. However, we expect to make replacements, and the one-quarter loss will not affect the project. In the future, when better stock is obtained, losses will be held down to 50 per cent we hope."

The state director pointed out that approximately 2,500,000 trees will be grown in the Chillicothe nursery for planting next spring, during February and March. The amount of planting has not been authorized, but probably the planting will extend over 300 miles scattered in areas throughout the Texas belt and not in concentrated plots.

To Fence During Fall
"Land for planting will be secured this summer and fenced and prepared during the fall months," Mr. Jones said.

"The planting this year was not representative of the future, because the project was handicapped in selection of land and the lateness of the first planting. The organization was not set up until Feb. 15 and no field men were at work until April 1."

Activities this year include the planting of two half-mile strips—one near Shamrock and the second near Childress—for demonstration purposes.

A field day will be held May 27 in the planting area at Childress, with members of Texas Tech and A. & M. College, county agents and soil conservation workers invited to head a discussion of the best cultural methods for the 1935 planting.

"Planting strips are to be 100 feet wide with 32.5 feet clearance on each side. The 100-foot strips will be fenced and scrub trees will be planted on the edges with the higher trees in the center," Mr. Jones said. "Only 1-year-old trees will be used in the strips, which will be laid out to prevent prevailing winds. In Texas mostly southwest and southeast."

"Where possible, the strips will be planted along section and boundary lines, so that farming will be hampered as little as possible. Length of the individual strips will depend on the land. Only farm land will be used, never land used for pasturage."

Significance
The true significance of the project will not be realized before 25 years, the state director pointed out. The chief benefit will be the protection of the land against winds which carry away the top soil and evaporate moisture.

"An obstruction to the wind will give protection for 20 times its height on the leeward and 10 times the height on the windward side," Mr. Jones said. "As the project is strictly a farm relief measure, workers will be secured from the areas where the work is being done. It will take several years," he said, "for the farmers to realize the value of such a project to the land, although in several parts of the country shelterbelts have been planted by the farmers themselves."

Roger D. Morris, formerly located at the Tucson, Ariz., station, arrived in Wichita Falls Saturday to join the shelterbelt forces as one of the two unit directors. With him were Mrs. Morris and their son, Morris is a graduate of the Ames Forestry school and has had 15 years service with the forestry division.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Cummins of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Press Fowler met at Lake Kemp where they spent the week-end together.

Plan Texlahoma As Forty-Ninth State of Union

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 4.—A proposal to create a forty-ninth state to be known as Texlahoma to be composed of twenty-three Oklahoma counties and forty-six in Texas, is being placed before citizens of the two states, it was disclosed here Tuesday. Chester Keyes, representative from Oklahoma county, announced he had received a questionnaire from A. C. Sights of Clinton, temporary chairman of the new state organization, asking if he were favorable or against the new movement. Keyes said he opposed it.

The new state boundary would begin at the northeast corner of Alfalfa county, extend west along the north boundary of this state to New Mexico, south along the New Mexico line to the southwest corner of Cochran county, Texas, east to the southeast corner of Clay county, thence north across Oklahoma on the east boundary of the following counties: Comanche, Caddo, Blaine, Major and Alfalfa.

The Oklahoma counties affected had a population in 1930 of 460,968 and the Texas counties, 559,000, a total of 1,019,968. Formation of the new state, Keyes was advised, was proposed because of alleged "rank discrimination" by the parent states against the counties within the described territories by those in official authority.

BORN IN GERMANY SEVENTY YEARS AGO, CAME TO UNITED STATES IN 1870; THAT PERSON IS L. W. WEFER

First Settled In Ohio, Near Toledo; Came to Lone Star State Eleven Years Later; Has Been Resident of Hardeman County On Two Different Occasions.

Over in Germany there was a youngster to see the light of day. That was in the year of 1865—well, about seventy years ago. That youngster has grown in size during all these succeeding years, until he has become a full-fledged man—and a MAN (all the name implies) and today lives about eight miles north of Chillicothe. L. W. Wefer.

While this is not said merely to make Mr. Wefer feel good—although if that is done, all the better—yet, the main purpose is to say he does not look that old—doesn't get around like a person that age—more like one of about sixty.

Mr. Wefer doesn't remember too much about Germany because he was brought northeast of Toledo, Ohio. Lived there for eleven years then he came to Fayette county, Texas. He remained in that county for ten years, coming to Baylor county where he lived for the next three years. He didn't take to Baylor county so much in those days, hearing a great deal about Bell county. There he made his first cotton crop—during the "gold standard" era.

Well, this person became tired of Bell county, so he ups and moves to Montague. Now, as everybody knows Montague is a good old place. Large crops are not raised there, of course, but there is always something made—enough to keep people living. He was in Montague for ten years. In 1905 he decided to east his lot with Hardeman county folks, locating on a farm just this side of Wilbarger county, buying it from the Davis boys. He stayed on it for a time then sold to M. M. Smith, and in turn bought the Jack Johnson farm in the Jackson Springs community.

Up until the time he sold this latter place matters had run along fairly well for him. But, after trading the Jackson Springs farm for land in Poard county, he soon realized the mistake he had made. "That's where I went busted," he declared, so he pulled up stakes and got out of the country. Decided perhaps Oklahoma would be an improvement. He went to Sayre, remained there for the next five years, and having lived in Hardeman county once before, learning to love it, he wanted to return. He did—in 1918. Ever since that year he has been a real Hardeman county citizen and citizen.

to barely eke out a living. Yet, he has more than a living. He is a real, sincere worker. He is industrious to the minute degree. In fact, if more were like kind this country would not be suffering so much from a depression.

Of course there was something to work for all during the time he spent in Texas. Yes, indeed! For instance: Down in Washington county there used to live a young lady by the name of Miss Sallie Studdart. She caught L. W.'s eye in parlance of the street—or as the younger generation would say—"I fell for her right off."

Mr. Wefer finally worked up courage enough to ask her to become Mrs. Wefer. She decided there were worse men, of course, and so consented, so in the year of 1889—September 5—they were married.

Twelve children are living to make this couple happy. There were thirteen born to this union, but one died. Being twelve it took sometime for L. W. to think of their names, but he started out with Mrs. Hannah Holcomb of Kellyville, Okla.; Mrs. Georgia Cuzine, Mountain Air, New Mexico; Mrs. Edna Smith, Chillicothe; Mrs. Viola Cox, Mangum, Okla.; William Wefer, Amarillo; Mrs. Annie Edgar, Headrick, Okla.; Lonnie Wefer, Chillicothe; Mrs. Lillie Mae Turvaille, Chillicothe; Mrs. Frances Turvaille, Chillicothe; and Mrs. Olivia Scott, Chillicothe.

Everybody who has had the opportunity of knowing Mr. Wefer like him. He is friendly, honest and conscientious. He enjoys living in the Chillicothe community, and is going to stay, to continue making this community a fine citizen. The success he has made since coming here has been aided greatly through the efforts of his family. They, too, have worked diligently to reap the reward that comes to those who are willing to do.

As for going back to Germany Mr. Wefer doubtless never will. He was too young when he left there to know anything about it, other than to love it mainly because it is his native country. But, the greatest love he holds for any country of course is his home—the United States.

If you have never seen Mr. Wefer just watch closely in the next few weeks as he will be in town offering for sale berries and other fruits, and you can tell it is him. He produces some of the best in this part of the country, and he is expected to "cash-in" on a number of sales this year.

Series of Articles Taken From the Bexar Archives at the University of Texas and Pertaining to History of State.

By LORENE DRUMMOND

Series I, No. 13

AUSTIN, June 4.—In their desire for territorial possessions on the North American continent the French had pushed south from Canada, down the Mississippi and thence westward up every tributary to the Father of Waters. In this way they had driven a thin Indian wedge between the narrow fringe of English settlements on the Atlantic Coast and the far-flung Spanish outposts of the Southwest.

Picturesque and individualistic fur traders had built fortresses for themselves, and hides and hoofs and horns of the buffalo and wild cattle were part of the booty. At the same time, they had not the rich territory for their nation. The first news of the movements of these couriers de bois that dribbled through to the Spaniards was regarded then to defensive measures. The stories of riences and homes to be had in the golden west lured the adventure loving Anglo-Americans ever onward. The Boones, the Nolans, the Beans and their type began to concentrate on the Sabine and to seek for opportunities to enter Texas—the Promised Land. They, like the French, could handle the Indians, though not in the same way. The Frenchman would take off his shirt to give to his Red brother; the Anglo-American more frequently resorted to extermination when Indians were "bad." Homes they wanted; and freedom they were determined to have from the Indian depredations and from any political or racial domination whatsoever. Such insistence could not be denied.

The story of the westward march of Samuel Davenport has been chosen as typical of the great Anglo-American migration. A record of this trek to Texas and the motives which actuated Davenport is given in the Bexar Archives, in the official documents of the Spanish government for the Department of Texas.

These archives are now in the library of The University of Texas and are being translated from Spanish into English by university translators. Davenport's story is told in an "Affidavit of a Foreign Vassal," written in 1809 to the commandant of the Province of Texas. It shows that commerce was the chief attraction which foreigners to Texas, and also illustrates the ease with which they secured entry through Louisiana at the turn of the eighteenth century.

It is significant that the Spaniards from the beginning feared the encroachment of other nationalities. "God save us Spaniards!" was the prophetic exclamation uttered by one resident of Natchez in 1787, when a group of commissioners, one of whom incidentally was a relative of Samuel Davenport, arrived from Georgia to mark the boundaries of that state. In his affidavit to the commandant, Davenport set forth his story as follows: "Don Pedro Samuel Davenport, general trader for the Indian nations of the Province of Texas, and citizen of the Pueblo of Nacodoches, with due respect, make known to you that, in compliance with the proclamation of the viceroy of New Spain, published in this pueblo by order of the commandant-general of the Interior provinces, I do state:

"That I am the legitimate son of Don Guillermo Davenport and Dona Ana Davidson, now deceased, natives and former residents of the town of Carlisle, Cumberland county, Pennsylvania; in the United States of America.

"That, having lost my parents by death when still very young, I set out from my native country when sixteen years of age and, almost without delay, went to the Province of Louisiana, entering it twenty-four years ago. There, in different locations, I engaged in well known, being employed, and I well know firms of that branch of business and engaging in said business on my own account.

"That, fifteen years ago, I came to this pueblo, where, without any difficulty, I settled; since, during that period I mention, Louisiana where I was already known, was, like this pueblo, under Spanish rule. Shortly after settling in said publico because of my conduct and the honesty I have always shown, I earned the confidence of the Spanish government and was made a partner of Don Guillermo Barr, the general trader for the Indian nations of the province. This employment I have discharged for ten years to the satisfaction of the said government.

"That, seven years ago, I married Maria Louisa Ganoa, a native of Natchitoches, Louisiana.

"That my age is forty-five years, my religion, the Roman Catholic. Of this I have given proofs to the public here that can be supported by witnesses and certificates. Likewise, I have proofs that I have always tried to show my personal affections for the Spanish government not only in this pueblo but also in Louisiana.

"That I have papers to prove my identity; but this is because, although I started from my native town with mine, while I was travelling through the Indian country of the United States in company with other persons, the Indians attacked us, killed three of the company and the rest of us were able to escape only with our lives, all papers being lost, mine among them. Therefore, not having taken the precaution to secure others—since I have been and am known to the inhabitants of Louisiana and this pueblo and province—I present to you this statements—which I sign under oath—in fulfillment of the provisions of the said proclamation, June 16, 1809."

(Signed, S. Davenport.)

Spiced Raisin Nut Loaf

3 cups sifted flour; 3 teaspoons double action baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon; 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg; 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar; 1/2 cup finely broken walnut meats; 1 cup finely cut raisins; 1 egg, well beaten; 1 cup milk; 4 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and spices, and sift again. Add sugar and mix well, then add walnut meats and raisins. Combine egg, milk and shortening, add to flour mixture and blend. Bake in greased loaf pan, 3 1/2 x 4 x 3 inches, in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour, or until done.

Hansford county has gone in for concrete subirrigation tile in a big way this spring. Through an agreement with relief agencies labor has been furnished from the relief rolls for making and installing the tile while the farmers have furnished the cement and sand and have agreed to pay one-fourth of the produce from the subirrigated garden for the year 1935. In this way 39,900 feet of tile have been put down.

Twenty other gardens using 12,000 feet of tile have been subirrigated by farmers in this county working independently—making a total of 32,000 feet of tile which will subirrigate Hansford county gardens, according to G. Lester Boykin, agricultural agent for the county.

Hampshire county tried out lath subirrigated gardens a few years ago finding them satisfactory but not very durable. Last year County Agent H. M. Cantrell supervised the installation of tiled relief gardens which proved very successful. This year 16,000 feet of concrete tile have already been made and laid in the county.

Nearly five miles of concrete tile have been made and laid by relief workers in Ochiltree county this spring, according to the report of J. T. Stovall, county agricultural agent. The exact figures are 25,957 feet. The tile has been furnished in such cases as actual material costs plus a one-fourth toll of the garden crops which are produced on the subirrigated land. The material cost has been approximately one and one-fourth cents per foot.

Constitutional Amendments

TO BE VOTED ON FOURTH SATURDAY IN AUGUST

H. J. R. NO. 48 HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to Section 1, of Article XVII, of the Constitution of Texas, providing that Constitutional Amendments may be submitted by the Legislature at Special Sessions under certain conditions; providing for the question on the adoption of such amendment and providing for the proclamation and the publication thereof; describing the form of ballot, and making an appropriation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 1, of Article XVII, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Section 1. How the Constitution is to be Amended. The Legislature, at any biennial session, by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, to be entered by yeas and nays on the Journals, may propose Amendments to the Constitution, to be voted upon by the qualified electors for members of the Legislature, which proposed Amendments shall be duly published once a week for four (4) weeks, commencing at least three (3) months before an election, the time of which shall be specified by the Legislature, in one weekly newspaper of each county, in which such a newspaper shall be published; and it shall be the duty of the several returning officers of said election, to open a poll for, and make returns to the Secretary of State of the number of legal votes cast at said election for and against said Amendments; and if more than one proposed Amendment, the number of votes cast for and against each of them; and if it shall appear from said returns, that a majority of the votes cast, have been cast in favor of any Amendment, the said Amendment so receiving a majority of the votes cast, shall become a part of this Constitution, and proclamation shall be made by the Governor thereof; provided however, that in cases of extraordinary emergency affecting the State as a whole, Amendments to the Constitution may be proposed in the manner hereinabove set out upon the submission of the proposed Amendment by the Governor at any Special Session."

Section 2. The foregoing Amendment shall be submitted to the electors of this State who are qualified to vote on proposed Constitutional Amendments at an election to be held on the 24th day of August A. D. 1935, at which election each ballot shall have printed thereon for those favoring the Amendment the words:

"FOR the Amendment to Section 1, Article XVII, of the Constitution of Texas, providing that Amendments to the Constitution may be proposed at Special Sessions of the Legislature under certain conditions." And those against the Amendment shall have printed the words:

"AGAINST the Amendment to Section 1, Article XVII, of the Constitution of Texas, providing that Amendments to the Constitution may be proposed at Special Sessions of the Legislature under certain conditions. Each voter shall strike out with pen or pencil the clause which does not indicate his desire regarding the above proposed Amendment."

Section 3. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and to have the above proposed Amendment published in the manner and for the time required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Section 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000), or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the funds in the Treasury of the State to pay for the expenses of said publication and election.

The above is a true and correct copy.

GERALD C. MANN, Secretary of State 43-4c.

Section 51-b, which shall read as follows:

"Section 51-b. The Legislature shall have the power by general law to provide for the limitations and restrictions and regulations as may be deemed by the Legislature expedient, for old-age assistance, for old-age assistance of same not to exceed Fifteen Dollars ($15) per month each to actual bona fide citizens of Texas who are over the age of sixty-five (65) years; provided that no habitual criminal, and no habitual drunkard while such habitual drunkard, and no inmate of any State supported institution, while such inmate, shall be eligible for such old-age assistance; and that the requirements for length of time of actual residence in Texas shall never be less than five (5) years during the nine (9) years immediately preceding the application for old-age assistance and continuously for one (1) year immediately preceding such application.

"The Legislature shall have the authority to accept from the Government of the United States such financial aid for old-age assistance as that Government may offer not inconsistent with the restrictions hereinbefore provided."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the electors of this State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1935, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment, shall have printed on their ballots the words:

"FOR the Amendment to the State Constitution authorizing the Courts to place defendants on probation." If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution.

"AGAINST the Amendment to the State Constitution authorizing the Courts to place defendants on probation." If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution.

Section 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for such election, and shall have the same published and such election held as provided by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Section 4. The sum of Four Thousand Dollars ($4,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the funds in the Treasury of the State to pay for the expenses of said publication and election.

The above is a true and correct copy.

JUST THINGS GOSSIP

Not long ago: An officer versus a bootlegger. It was along about eleven o'clock at night. This officer saw a car driving towards a certain place, known by him to be where the "fire water" might be sold. He jumped into his car and followed—with his automobile headlights out, parked alongside this other car. The owner of the place came out as the officer was talking to two young lads. These youths made all kinds of excuses for their being at the place, finally departing. "Hey, what did you fellows want," asked the owner, and as he pointed the question, turned back towards the house and said to the wife, "Don't throw out that gallon until I say so." He came on out and then recognized the officer.

Didja' ever hear about Mollie Low's oil well?

I never thought a certain business man of Chillicothe was superstitious, yet he drove an extra block as a preventative from crossing the path of a black cat.

So funny to me why so many of these Chillicothe men are having stomach trouble along about now.

Is that wonderful vegetable garden at the Briggs home the result of Bill's work—or somebody else's?

Frank Henry—the one man in town who has no liking for electric refrigeration.

Horace B. Turner at Kirklind the other day wishing the well would be brought in with a bang! spouting oil all over spectators. "I would like to smell like oil one time," H. B. imparted to a friend.

Writing about oil made us wonder what become of all that excitement so evident last week, and what the manager of a hotel, charging more than double the regular rates, making no reservations for his old patrons, will now do?

Speedy Shuman, bill collector on the first day of each month, can tell exactly how much you owe without even looking at the statement. "Efficiency, thou art a jewel," in other words.

The News Intertype operator mistaking a young lady the other day for his wife. Or, did he make a mistake?

Now I wonder again how come Bill Ritter to know so much about raising vegetables.

Peegee Turner trying to please everybody with street grading service and with some unable to do it, however, the amount of work he puts in. Peegee has his own opinion about the whole bunch but goes his way saying not a complaining word.

Ben Wofford just entered the office, and I'll wager he plans to depart for some running stream where fish are plentiful and hungry! But, should there be bad weather Benjamin would claim, with the biggest egg word he ever used—dadblast!!

Some love, some don't; That makes it tough. On those that won't.

Clarence Gurnsey, the young gentleman of much esteem, is departing from a country town to where things are more civilized—Dallas. Clarence, whether you were aware of it or not, has been hiding in the hills north of town—there are any hills out that way. He appeared on the streets Friday. Suggested that his name be kept out of the paper, and of course I like to be accommodating.

Yes, bill collectors are fine people—if they stay away from you.

New Equipment

Work of installing new equipment in the Texas Relief Cannery here was started this week in preparation for the opening of the plant for the summer run. The capacity will be greatly enlarged, it is said.

HIGH SCHOOL HONOR ROLL IS ANNOUNCED

THIRD SIX WEEKS FINDS LORENE FRANCIS LEADING WITH 93.3 PER CENT

W. E. Hancock, city superintendent of schools, announces there are three students having made an average of better than 90 per cent for the entire high school term, Lorene Francis, 92 and one-half, Elsie Higginbottom, 92.4, and Glendine Varnell, 91 and 5-8 per cent. They are, therefore, placed on the honor roll for the year.

He also mentioned Charles Reynolds as having compiled an average of better than 90 per cent, but during the first semester was in the grade school, then transferred to the high school for the second semester.

High school students who have been on the honor roll one or more of the 6 week's periods during the school year just closed, includes a total of twenty. The list: Martina Beene, Zandal Boucher, Harold Burrell, Otto Calhoun, Glenn Campbell, David Coats, Ora Lee Doty, Lorene Francis, Floy Lynn Harkins, Elsie Higginbottom, Dorothy Jean Hayhurst, Della Frances Lance, Pauline Mitchell, Shirley Plummer, Charles Lynn Reynolds, Donald Sable, R. D. Thompson, Jr., Glendine Varnell, Dan Cooper Wilson.

For the honor roll of the last six weeks the following are listed: Glenn Campbell, David Coats, Lorene Francis, Dorothy Jean Hayhurst, Elsie Higginbottom, Pauline Mitchell, Charles Reynolds, Glendine Varnell and Dan Cooper Wilson.

(Continued from Page 1) applications from 648 more," said Adam K. Johnson, state relief director. "School superintendents are reminded that all applications found to be in order will be approved immediately. Those not in order will be returned to superintendents. Checks to teachers will go forward as soon as money for the program is received from Washington." The 1,192 applications received by the Texas Relief Commission request $864,107.27 to pay the salaries of 6,940 teachers and 655 bus drivers, who continued to perform their duties in order that their school might proceed to the end of their normal terms after funds for their maintenance had been exhausted.

A staff of examiners has been assigned to expedite the work of clearing the remaining applications. The work is expected to require three or four weeks' time. Superintendents were requested NOT to worry about applications not returned to them for corrections.

"If school heads do not hear from their applications, in most instances it means they have been approved and that we are waiting on funds from Washington to supply the requested aid," said Mr. Johnson.

Gourley Quits

A model shop and class room for high school and college students will be erected at Bishop, he understands.

Departure of Gourley, after having served here for some time will be sorely felt. He was instrumental in Chillicothe establishing a fine record in vocational agriculture work, being on a par with many of the larger schools in the state. To him also must be given main credit for getting the Chillicothe Valley Fair started and carrying it through to success. Likewise the same is true in staging the poultry show each year. His work has been of the highest order, recognized by the Chillicothe public as one of the bright spots in placing this community in the first rank. He understands his work thoroughly, and he enjoys in putting over projects for the betterment of the people and community. His going from Chillicothe will be greatly missed not alone in these two jobs, but also in church and civic affairs.

GIBBS GETS APPOINTMENT AS ACTING POSTMASTER HERE

Official notice was received here by T. S. Gibbs last week to become acting postmaster, and he assumed his new work Saturday, succeeding M. T. Jones, who resigned.

The new postmaster has not made any changes in the staff of employes so far, matters running along as during the time Jones served.
