Mavericks Face Tough Ballinger Friday

The first of the Eastland Mavericks' Formable Three will be on tap here Friday evening when the Ballinger Bearcats visit Maverick Stadium.

Kickoff time will be 7:30 p.m. and from all indications, this could be the game of the year to date for theMavericks. It's been pretty easy sailin' so far, but when Ballinger fields a team they mean business

The Bearcats come here under Coach James Williams command with a last year record of 6-3-1.

They have 12 returning lettermen and Eastland Head Coach Shirley Frazier sees their strong points as youth, size, and unpredictability.

"Although not having one of their best years in the win-lose column, the Bearcats are big, strong, and fast," Frazier states.

In the Bearcat backfield are two all-district performers in Johnny Hoffman, 175 lb. senior fullback, and Johnny Slaughter, 180 pound junior running back. Both are from outstanding West Texas football families.

Quarterbacked by Billy Jernigan, 160, Junior, who has great speed and become noted as a scrambler, the Bearcats have two fine recievers in Field, a split end, and Johnsona flanker.

Defensively, the Bearcats, pose a definite threat because of their size. Guards Haliburton, 270, and Jones, 230, anchor the center of the Cat line. Linebackers Hoffmann, slaughter, and Perez, 170, are outstanding defensive personnel.

The Mavericks came out of the Hamilton game with only minor aches and bruises. Ronald McCleskey, with a badly sprained back is the only Maverick unable to go at full speed this week.

Tony Thomas has been named Outstanding Defensive Lineman by his co aches for the Hamilton game. A repeater, Thomas is credited with five tackles and two assists. He did an outstanding job in the game, the line coaches report. Tony is a 190 pound sophomore.

Selected by the line coaches for an Outstanding job Offensivley is Gary Barnes, 170 pound junior.

BEST WE can determine, we'll all FALL BACK, clockwise this coming Sunday, when we move our clocks BACK an hour before going off Daylight Saving Time. The five Sundays of this month has had some news media going in circles. Many were announcing last weekend that we should set our clocks back, thinking the fourth Sunday in October would get it, but best bet is to set 'er back an hour before you go to bed Sunday night--then if all goes well, you'll be on time to work Monday.

DON'T THINK anyone regrets the trial completion this week. It was a taxing thing on all, and especially due thanks and a rest for a job well done, are District Judge Egl Conner Jr., Court Stenographer Mrs. M. G. Key, Court Clerk Joe Gray and his Deputy Mary Jane Rowche as well as the many law enforcement officers and others who labored through the two and a half week ordeal.

Super-spectators hung on every word and one old timer even suggested that it would be nice if a television set could be set up in the lobby so's they could keep up with "As the World Turns" as well as the drama inside the courtroom.

MAJOR CHANGES in unemployemnt insurance and tax laws by both Federal and State statute will affect most Texas employers beginning Jan. 1, 1972. Employers with one or more workers for twenty separate weeks in a year, employers who pay as much as $1500 in wages in any quarter of the year, and nonprofit organizations (churches are exempt) will be subject to the new law. Thetax base will increase from $3000 to $4200, and the Maximum tax will increase to 4 percent. These are only a few of the changes.

At the request of many individuals and groups, a series of meetings to be held throughout the State. The meeting in this area is sponsored by the Abilene Chamber of Commerce and will be in the Abilene Civic Center, 1100 North Sixth Street, Abilene, on Tuesday, Nov. 9, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Discussions will cover subjects vital to employers and will include many helpful suggestions. Some of the items to be discussed are tax coverage now and 1972, experience tax rates, tax base, tax rate computation, insurance benefits, chargebacks, protest procedures, and suggested menas to reduce employment insurance costs to employers. A question and answer period is scheduled.

Alsup's Fables by Herman Alsup

Eastland has been very busy this week with the murder trial going on. If you have tried to find a parking spot you know exactly what I mean. At one time during the trial the only parking place left was on Plummer street, which is three and half blocks from the square. Maybe the courts should build a special parking lot just for its own u:??????

Every store in Eastland has started receiving its new Christmas merchandise. Some of the stores are already decorated for Christmas, and others are getting out their decorations. I guess everyone should start thinking about Christmas because its only about 58 more days.

Daylight saving time will go OUT early Sunday morning. At 2 a.m. you will get an extra hour of sleep as you will either stop your clock for 1 hour or turn it back to 1 a.m.

I had the opportunity to be one of the judges of the Hollywood Vasserette Halloween party Wednesday morning at their plant in Eastland. It was a real experience and plant manager

Touchdown

Gene Johnson presented all the awards. Some of the costumes were "o ut of sight" to say the least. Everyone seemed to have a good time and I think they have just released a new record that is dedicated to Manager Gene. Maybe he will let us print the words to it some time.

Seems that Don Kinnaird local insurance man had to make a quick trip home the other day. As he walked into his building something fell from the ceiling. He wouldn't say whether it was the ceiling or the roof. Wonder if he was insured?

Surprise Fellowship

The Youthot the First Baptist Church honored the church's Youth Director, Franklin Krause, Sunday evening with a surprise fellowship. It was held after the evening worship wervice and the occasion was his first anniversary with te church.

The fellowship hall was decorated with Peanut characters. The srving table was covered witha Peanut Character table cloth. The centerpiece was a dog house with Snoopy resting ontop of it. The roof of the dog house was covered with money bills which was an appreciation gift to Franklin. Above the table were large gold letters spelling "Happy Anniversary".

As Mr. Krause entered the fellowship hall everyone began singing 'For He's a Jolly Good Fellow". About seventy-five attended.

What Kind Of Policy Is Best?

People who are interested in buying life insurance often ask which kind of policy is best. The answer, according to the Institute of Life Insurance, is that there is no "best" policy.

Life insurance companies offer a variety of different policies because each one is best for a specific purpose and value. It all depends on the need and circumstances of the policy buyer and his family.

In average family circumstances, the "straight life" policy is probably best, as it is the lowest-cost permanent policy, assuring protection for life. Its flexibility makes this policy especially responsive to different family needs.

For people who are looking for temporary insurance, term insurance is the most economical. Thus for a policy to cover a bank loan or a personal loan, a term policy for us long as the loan is expected to be outstanding might be best.

On the other hand, a straight life policy builds cash values which can be drawn upon in emergencies. Persons who have term policies can convert their temporary insurance to a permanent straight life plan when they are able to afford the higher premiums.

For homeowners, a reducing term insurance policy is worth looking into. In case of death, funds will be available to pay off the mortgage in full. But even this type of policy may not be best for all mortgage protection.

Some people prefer to use a cash value policy in connection witha a mortgage. The cash value can serve a dual purpose -- as an emergency fund to help meet current payments, or to help prepay the mortgage earlier than the stated maturity date.

Carbon to Tortuga -- Quite a Big Leap

It's a long way from Carbon, Texas, U.S.A., to Tortuga, Caribbean, but not as far as it used to be for Carbon-native Mike Collins, now of Eastland.

Mike used to think the sand got hot in Carbon, but now he knows it gets hotter and the sun shines brighter on Tortuga, off the coast of Haiti, where bright hopes for the future now lie.

Around Eastland National Bank, where Mike is a vice president, he's known unofficially as Mr. Dupont Caribbean, which is the name of the corporation which he owns jointly with fellow-Eastlander Don Pierson. Dupont holds the 99-year lease on Tortuga and work is underway to develop the island as a free port and tourist attraction extraordinare.

Showing off his island to a delegation of bankers and others recently, Collins hosted a Dupont-owned plane to the island over the symbolic Columbus Day holiday weekend. (Columbus' flag ship, the Santa Maria, sank off Tortuga.)

On board for a look-see at the so-called Caribbean paradise were J. P. McCracken, chairman of the board of Eastland National Bank and president of Cisco's First National Bank; Mrs. McCracken; Eastland Mayor James Reid, vice president of the Eastland Bank; , Jeff Glazner, bank vice-president; Mrs. Glazner; Al Celcer, pilot; Bill Thompson, co-pilot; Johnny Paul Grimes, crew member and a junior at Eastland High School; Mrs. Margaret Corbell, Collin's mother-in-law; and Collins.

The group flew from Eastland to PortAu-Prince, capital of Haiti, in about 12 hours with two refueling stops, then flew onto the island the next day.

The DuPont project has been written up extensively by the major papers and speculation runs in both directions -- will the undertaking succed; if so, why; if not, why not. Will the cheap labor, low prices help make it work? It's all a gamble now and anybody's guess.

The Haitian way today is a slow, easy-going way. Will development spoil that? Who could say.

Life used to be slower in Carbon too, and Collins describes the fly-away to Tortuga as an exhilarating experience, unequalled by any other. Who knows, perhaps tens of thousands of change-seeking tourists will take the fly-a way to Tortuga to recapture that feeling of eascape from today's jangled every-day world --and make Dupont work.

Collins and Pierson are banking on it.

UF Reaches 20%

The Eastland United Fund has reached $2039.75 as of today. This is 20% of the goal and complete reports have been turned in from JRB Eastland National Bank and Aztec Mobile Homes, who reported 100%.

Music Stuay Club

Music Study Club of Eastland will meet in the Woman's Club, November 3, at 3:30 p.m. honoring, Mrs. J. C. Dyer, president of the third district of Texas federated Music Clubs, and Mrs. S. E. Hitson, third vice president of third district on Federation Day.

Leader for the day will be Mrs. Richard Rossander. As Diustrict III president, Mrs. Dyer will discuss "News and Advantages of Federation."

Mrs. Hittson will give a talk on "Division of Life and Special Memberships."

Hostesses for the meeting are: Mrs. Dale Herndon, chairman, Mrs. Floyd Robertson, and Miss Vai Hoose.

"Members please take notes," says Marjorie Van Hoose, Club Reporter.

Letter To Senior Citizens

This has become a complex world, and ther are many new problems confronting prople today who have loved ones.

These problems include burial plans which can be underwritten by old line legal reserve insurance companies, with loan and cash values, paid-up burial coverage, guaranteed level rates, government benefits, socia security and veterans benefits.

Funeral arrangements are so much easier to make while the family is still together. So, since you do care for your loved ones and while there is still time, why not take the time to contact a professional for assistance without obligation. He'll be glad to give you a full explanation of options that are available and benefitss you may be entitled to receive.

Carbon News

Thirty-two ladies gathered at the Community Room of the Carbon Methodist Church, Thursday, Oct. 21, for their third "Get To-gether." This is too promote fun and fellowship for the older people of our community. We play games and give prizes and show arts and crafts. Our first meeting started with eighteen ladies, so you see we are growing fast. Mrs. R. C. Mehaffey had charge of the games with Mrs. Joe Mehaffey assisting. We had great fun. We also had a great surprise when Mrs. Mary Black, age 93 years old, came in with her smiling face to share our fun and fellowship. She got the prize, of a seed flower arrangement, for being the oldest one there. Mrs. J. E. Ramsey got a fur flower arrangement for being married the longest time, (since 1904). Arts and crafts are displayed on tables, so if you are making something, bring it, and share your ideas with others. If any of the younger women would like to help entertain these women please contact Billie Stacy. We meet every 1st and 3rd Thursday in the month. Mrs. Rosetta Hagan will be in charge of the fun and games Nov. 4. Visitors are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Athal Claborn of Merkel spent Tuesday night with her mother, Mrs. Harry Hall. On Wednesday they called on Mrs. O. M. Claborn in Rising Star and all went on to Comanche and Mullin where they visited with Mr. Claborn's brother and family.

Mr. John Guy, J. F. Guy, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Guy were in Lubbock to attend the funeral of their daughter and sister, Mrs. Irene Wright. Others from Carbon were: Mr. and Mrs. Cullen Rogers, Mrs. Bernard Campbell and Mrs. Dulin Sandlin.

Mrs. Maude Montgomery, a former resident of Carbon passed away Sunday in Heritage Manor Nursing Home, Hemphill. Funeral services were in Higginbotham Chapel in Gorman Wednesday. Burial was in Murray Cemetery.

Mrs. Montgomery was born March 16, 1892 in Grayson County. She was a member of the Penetecostal Church. Survivors include two sons, J. A. and Monte of Ft. Worth; two daughters, Mrs. Cleo Wright of Long Beach Calif. and Mrs. Hensley of Hemphill. One brother Buddy Thompson of Enid, Oklahoma; two sisters Mrs. Fannie Millican of Ft. Worth and Mrs. Roxie Carolye of Grapevine,; 11 grandchildren and 6 great grandchildren. Pallbearers were Glen Justice, Dick Foster, J. E. Jackson, L. V. Jackson, Dickie Burgess and W. J. Greer, Jr.

Mrs. Gertie Westcott and her daughter, Mrs. Lena Henderson of Big Springs visited with Mrs. H. Hall Thursday.

Mrs. John Timmons and daughters, Mrs. Odis Rodgers and Mrs. Cullen Rodgers, of Gorman spent Thursday with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Edward Stacy.

Among those from Carbon attending the funeral of Mr. John Reed in Eastland on Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hogan, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Johnson, Mrs. Myrt Maness, Mr. and Mrs. Cody McDaniel, Rev. and Mrs. R. Life in Penitentiary Sentencing Due Creel

Formal sentencing of James Creel, 33, is expected sometimes within the next two weeks in 91st District Court.

A five-woman, seven-man jury deliberated just over three hours Tuesday before convicting Creel of murder with malice aforethought in the March 15 strangulation death of 10-year-old Tona Worthington, an Abilene fifth grader.

The jury then discussed the case for an additional one hour and 40 minutes, before setting punishment at life in prison. The state had sought the death penalty.

Defense attorneys had no immediate comment on a possible appeal, but unofficial word around the Eastland courthouse was that there might be some questions raised as to the arrest of Creel, and or other technicalities

The final verdict came at 10:15 p.m. ending a trial which began Oct. 11 with the selection of a jury.

Creel shook his head slowly from side to side after hearing the punishment. His wife, Sharon, sitting in the first row, showed no emotion at either the guilty verdict or the punishment.

The courtroom spectators who stayed to the bitter end — about 150 of the 300 plus who had been here prior to the jury deliberation — were hushed at the announcement of the punishment verdict.

Surrounded by a cordon of eight lawmen, Creel was taken from the courtoom first, then Judge Earl Conner Jr. thanked the jurors for their service and dismissed them.

Members of the Worthington family lined up outside the jury box and personally thanked each juror as court was recessed. Mrs. Worthington hugged the five women jurors.

Criminal Dist. Atty. Ed Paynter of Abilene, who headed the prosecution, tearfully asked the jury to assess the death penalty for "a rapist killer who deserves no mercy."

In asking the jury to assess the death penalty, Paynter said, "I don't think there's a person on God's green earth who wouldn't say that this is one of the worst cases he's ever seen.

"The only proper punishment for a crime of this type — for a rapist murderer — is death in the electric chair."

Paynter also told the jury that the death penalty would "provide a deterrent force to people like this who would hurt our children."

Defense attorney Jim Cross of Abilene asked the jurors "not to be hasty to take the life" of a man who has spent 16 years of his life in the armed forces of his country.

The jury was instructed by Judge Conner to assess Creel's punishment at "death in the electric chair, life, or any number of years in the penitentiary not less than two."

At 8:55 p.m. the jury sent out a note asking, "Is there any sentence we can give, other than the chair, that will guarantee he will not be released?"

Judge Conner returned the jurors to the jury box and informed them that they "must assume that the defendant will serve whatever term of confinement" the jury gives him, and added that the jurors are instructed "not to consider any action of the Board of Pardons and Paroles."

No death penalty has been assessed by an Eastland County jury since 1934, according to veteran courthouse officials.

Creel shook his head slowly from side to side as the murder verdict was read by Judge Conner. He was "shielded" from the courtroom audience by five policemen, standing shoulder to shoulder behind him at the counsel table.

He conferred briefly with his court-appointed attorneys, Cross and Jim Robinson, both of Abilene, and Bill B. Hart of Eastland, then both the state and defense announced that they would present no evidence on the punishment phase.

The jury, then, never heard evidence mentioned earlier in the day to the effect that in 1964, Creel was tried for oral sodomy and forcible rape involving an 11-year-old girl in Germany. He was acquitted of those charges.

When the guilty verdict was announced, members of Tona's family hugged each other and cried softly on the first row of the courtroom.

Foreman of the jury was W. B. (Bill) Wright of Cisco, the first attorney in the history of Eastland County to serve on a jury.

Other members of the jury included Mrs. Willie F. Qualls of Cisco; Mrs. Alfred Burcham, Rising Star; Calvin Ainsworth, Ranger; Mrs. Jimmie Gann, Eastland; Mrs. Jackie M. Wilson, Eastland; Don Hull, Rt. 1, Eastland; Pat Fisher, Eastland; B. F. Bender, Cisco; Billy W. Parnell, Ranger; Virginia Page, Rt. 3, Cisco; and Max Anderson, Ranger.

Creel never lost his composure Tuesday morning during his more than 90 minutes on the witness stand.

He admitted talking to two of Tona's former classmates near Reagan School about 4 p.m. the afternoon Tona disappeared.

"We talked about their baseball game ...They mentioned they had had an argument with another girl, and I talked to them about sportsmanship—that they were playing to have fun," he said.

He added that Tona's name was never mentioned by either him or the girls and that he "certainly did not" ask any questions about her.

Creel said that he was in the Reagan School area letting his female German shepherd dog run from about 4 p.m. to after 7 p.m. on that afternoon.

Creel testified that he had made almost daily trips to the wooded area around Reagan school and Scarborough Park to let his dog exercise. He said that on the afternoon of March 15, he let the dog run in the area nearest the school several times, and in the area near S. 7th at Little Elm Creek several times, transporting the dog back and forth in his car.

He said that due to these daily excursions, he was familiar with the paths and trails throughout the area where the state contends Tona was probably raped and killed.

The driving he did in the area on that afternoon, while exercising his dog, would account for the cactus thorn being found in his tires and the "haygrazer" type grass being found underneath his car, he said.

Creel said that he did not own any flight boots on the day that Tona was slain, that his had been stolen last October and had not been replaced.

Police Lt. W.T. (Bill) Davis called later as a rebuttal witness, testified that Creel was wearing flight boots with laces he described as "parachute cord" when he was questioned near Reagan school shortly after midnight the day Tona disappeared.

Creel testified that he was wearing a white T-shirt, as many state's witnesses had said, but said he was wearing white tennis shoes and brown checked pants, as only one state's witness — one of Tona's former classmates whom he said he talked to near the school about 4 p.m. —testified. Others said that he was wearing fatigue-type pants and flight boots.

He said that the Snicker candy bar found in his car's front seat — which the state contends belonged to Tona — "just happens to be my favorite kind of candy bar, Mr. Paynter."

He added that when he went home for dinner he would sometimes take a Snicker bar from his refrigerator and put it in his car. He said that the candy could have been left there by one of his four sons, also.

Creel said that he had been issued the handcuffs introduced into evidence by the state earlier when he was attached to a military police squadron at Sheppard AFB, Wichita Falls. He said they had been in his car, "ever since" and had not been used except one time on a military suspect.

As to the kernels of popcorn found in his car, Creel said, "I imagine it was left over from a trip to the drive-in." He explained that when he and his wife would take their sons to the drive-in, "we would take both cars and let them sit in the Volvo with their popcorn and soda pops. Then they could yak all they wanted to and we could watch the movie in peace and quiet."

Creel testified that he took the mat out of the trunk of his car on Saturday, March 6, explaining that he remembered the date because he had planned to use some carpet remnants to upholster the trunk the following weekend.

Creel underwent a blistering, one-hour cross examination by Paynter, but retained his composure most of the time. At the conclusion of his testimony, he apparently became angry and said, "I did not murder anyone, and I don't give a damn what anyone says."

When Creel testified that it was not uncommon for him to spend four or five hours a day exercising his dog, Paynter asked if he even took the dog for rides.

"Yes, I'd take her for a drive Mr. Paynter," Creel said.

"And did you ever take her out for an ice cream cone?" Paynter asked in an obvious attempt to rattle the defendant.

"No, but I would get her candy, Mr. Paynter," he added.

Creel told Paynter that he had A-positive blood, as the state had already proved, and that he had a vasectomy "off base" in Germany in 1964. He explained "at that time, vasectomies were not authorized in military hospitals."

Paynter also asked Creel why he washed part of his car bumper before police arrested him March 16. "Were you rubbing Tona Worthington's blood off there, Creel?"

"No, I certainly was not, Mr. Paynter," he said.

Asked where he got "the cut on your chin" shown in one of the photographs made the night of his arrest, Creel said he didn't know.

"You got that put on there by a little girl's finger nails, didn't you?" Paynter asked.

"Certainly not," Creel said. "I might have done it shaving."

Paynter asked Creel to take off his Air Force uniform coat and roll up his sleeve to show his tatoos to the jury. As he removed the coat, he handed it toward Paynter.

"I don't want it, Creel. You hold it," Paynter said, turning his back and walking away. At this point, someone in the crowded courtroom clapped. defense attornies jumped to their feet in objection, and Judge Conner quickly restored order.

MAYBE YOU DON'T NEED INSURANCE----
. . . If you don't own a home, furniture, jewelry or a car, you can get along without the services of an insurance agent. But for the most of us, life is not that simple. Modern living has become so complex that the protection of property and personal liability is a major problem and we must be insured. The individual you can always depend on for accurate solutions of your insurance problems is your local agent.

Mavericks Meet Old Rivals At Eastland

Latin Club Or[illegible]

BY ABE LICON

[illegible] folks, it's time to uncover [illegible] last year's overcoat and your [illegible] muffs, because it's winter [illegible]. The wind's a-blowing and [illegible] my! it's cold. Although it's not Thanksgiving, I want to give [illegible] thanks now. I'm thankful [illegible]'re not in the "old red-brick [illegible]house." my, we'd freeze! So [illegible] much ventilation as it has is not good for them cool. (No, this is not a quotation from Shakespeare or [illegible]fellow.) The most popular song [illegible] these the Home Fires Burnin'." We're wondering if it's [illegible]'s cold in Alaska.

What Is Weather?

Perhaps you would reply: "Weather is what you talk about when you can't think of anything else to say."

Or, "Weather is what is always bad when you want it to be good."

My definition of weather is: Weather is composed mostly of air, and air is composed of atmosphere, that is, where it is not occupied by other subjects such as mountains, elephants, houses, etc. When the atmosphere becomes unusually dense, or unusually scattered, that is when weather takes place.

By rights, weather should be classed as one of the wonders of the world. When it is summer we wish it was winter, and in winter we pray for summer to hurry back. In rainy weather there is altogether too much mud, and in dry weather the dust is a sight.

Many attempts have been made to eliminate and to create it. There are substitutes, ice factories, fire, shower baths, electric fans, and clothes, but none of them can get the real old thing.

Oh, yes, this discussion of weather brings a topic into my mind of which is not altogether such a "wonderful" thing."

On Armistice Day, during a small snowstorm, (oh! this weather) the Eastland Mavericks and the San [illegible] Bobcats had a hard-fought [illegible]. After the sand had settled and the pop man had sold all his [illegible] the Bobcats held the big end [illegible]

[illegible] had a weight [illegible] Mavericks were [illegible] to overcome, because of the [illegible] they had received in the Abilene game.

With but a few faithful fans to cheer them, the Mavericks, after a brave struggle, were not able to place the score in their favor. Before the first quarter of the game ended, Angelo had chalked up 14 points. Here two of the cripples, Osbourn and Daniels, were sent into the game and played top-notch football. In every game, be it checkers, maj jongg, or football, there is a hero. (Such as seen in Tom Mix's wild and wooly pictures.) Well, anyway, in the battle at "Sheep Town" there stood out in radiance on of these, which was no other than Red Jones. Stopping the wild Bobcats with low, hard tackles and making pretty runs, he was the treat of the day.

But we cannot say too much for one, because there were ten more boys that never ceased fighting. Of these Hall Johnson played another great game. He threw passes for 35 yards and carried the ball 103 yards. In the line Jimmie King and Bog-catch Vaughn played a notable defensive game. Half-pint Overbey and Moon-faced Osbourn also were outstanding players in the backfield.

The Angelo team was in the lead, by scores, from the first quarter, but the fighting Mavericks were not defeated until the whistle blew, ending the game. If fumbles and breaks, which were so costly, had not occurred, the game might have had a different ending. Well, folks, we can't help this little episode by talking. We just know it happens to the best of teams and to the best of families. Let's hope for [illegible]t against Cisco. Boys, show those Loboes what kind of animals these Mavericks are. It can be done! Why wait? Do it now. We're behind you and believe you'll do it.

Heard Here and There

Many compliments have been received of the pep squad that was at San Angelo. Besides the four pep leaders of which one was absent, if there had been twelve more there would have been an even dozen and a half. Noise! Yes, they had it—plenty. But these B-beats raised too much "sand." Anyway, we're glad we were represented.

Josephine Martin wants to know what part of the bus "he" occupied and with "what." Jim, speak up. She'll find it out sooner or later.

Well, people, this leaves me well and hoping it finds you the same. There seems not to be very much more news of importance, except that Willie ate a lizard last Tuesday and had the stomach ache for forty-eight hours, and Susie has broken out with the itch again, and the old catfish had kittens and is doing nicely. So long.

...AND TO HAVE LATIN TOURNAMENT

The privilege of being host to the West Texas Latin tournament [illegible] been accorded the Eastland [illegible] School in recognition of the high standards which have been maintained by its Latin department. The Classical Association of Texas annually designates the organization of Latin tournaments, for the purpose of unifying the Latin curriculum and for making both the student and the teacher realize fully the great practical value of Latin. Only those high schools whose Latin departments are of high rank are selected as centers of this important work.

The recently organized Latin Club, the Senatus Popolusque Romanus [illegible] its sponsor, Miss Ivie Wilson, has already actively begun the work of planning and financing the tournament, which will be held in April. At that time the Latin department hopes to prove to its guests, approximately one hundred and fifty, that it is worthy of the distinction which has been awarded it.

THE LATIN CLUB ORGANIZES

With Miss Ivie Wilson as sponsor the Latin students of E. H. S. have organized a splendid club [illegible] the S. P. R. (Senatus Popu[illegible] Romanus) and plan to make this [illegible] year the most successful [illegible] the Latin Department has ever known. The organization is somewhat different from any of the previous years and is much more complete and on a larger scale than Latin Clubs of the past in this school.

Among the innovations introduced by the competent sponsor are the long list of officers essential to the success of any club for this year is Miss Brazil Hillyer, brilliant third year student of Latin. For greater efficiency the S. P. R. is divided into two societies. The Patricians, including all Caesar and Virgil students, and the Plebeians, including all first year students. The Consul of the former of these is Milburn McCarty, popular midget of the second year class. Helen Williams is Consul of the latter. The remaining officers (one for each society respectively) are: Censors, Glenna Gillespie and Francis Cunningham; Praetors, Virginia Weaver and Peggy Taylor; Tribunes, Belva Dee Hillyer and Jack Rollins; quaestor, Author Vaughn and Jack Mosely; Aediles, Maydelle Sikes and Louise Weaver.

The year's program has been planned, one of the outstanding features being the West Texas Latin Tournament which is to be held in Eastland instead of Abilene. We consider this a great honor for a city of this size, and each member of the Latin Department is striving to make it a success. The club has already a fair amount of money in the treasury and have made plans to secure more by [illegible] tickets [illegible] the musical [illegible]rel and playlet, given [illegible] Mrs. Leonard and Miss [illegible]

If the saying, "Work means success," is true, we are sure that success can be the only result for the Latin Club of '28.

SENIORS ORDER CLASS RINGS

The sample ring, which the Seniors have been expecting for some time, arrived last week. Since the ring proved to be extremely satisfactory, the secretary began immediately canvassing for the necessary amount of money. She was so successful that within two days the money was collected and the order sent to the company.

This ring, we hope, is to become the standard ring of Eastland high school. It is [illegible] a fitting symbol of the [illegible]

[illegible] Star State, Texas) in the center with an oxidized background. Eastland is placed at the top of the ring, High chool at the bottom. On each side burns a lam of knowledge.

The rings are due in about three weeks. The Seniors, as well as the entire school, are eagerly awaiting their arrival.

DR. ISBELL TALKS TO THE STUDENTS

The week beginning November 7, is observed throughout the United States as National Education week. East[illegible] high school observed this week with a series of well-planned chapel programs.

On [illegible] day, November [illegible] the program consisted of a song, "Bat[illegible]," by the [illegible]

Your UF Gift $200 to S nds USO Needs

USO is one of 16 worthwile agencies of the Eastland United Fund and is budgeted for $200 of the $8,675. total.

Eastland's own Mrs. Marene Johnson is a director of the National USO Counsel and makes an appeal for support of the always-needed USO.

Nearly $1,400 has already been collected here.

Nov. 16 is "Goal" day.

Mrs. Johnson suggests a double-barrel approach to this worthy cause: give through the United Fund and then make up Christmas for individual servicemen of your choice.

She reports, USO for the sixth consecutive year has completed its Christmas list suggestion survey of military personnel in the Vietnam-Pacific area and the results reflect America's changing role in that hemisphere.

In reviewing the USO survey, we find that "1971 USO Holiday Gift Suggestions" no longer includes such prior year combat zone staples as heavy duty work socks, foam insoles for combat boots, shoeshine equipment or insect repellent.

Although the American role in Southeast Asia is changing as many thousands of servicemen continue to be withdrawn from Vietnam, USO cautions that over 160,000 members of the American Armed Forces still serve in Vietnam alone, and will remain 10,000 miles from home throughout the coming holiday season.

USO strongly counsels against any diminution of gift promotion activities in "demonstrating that during this holiday season all Americans remember and care about each and every serviceman and woman remaining overseas."

Monday, October 18, Mr. and Mrs. Feba Williams of Eastland were involved in an automobile accident, near Stephenville, when they were involved in a crash with a diesel truck on Highway 377, going East toward Grandbury.

They were carried to Stephenville hospital, where Mr. Willi ams was reported very seriously injured. He was treated for serious arm and head injuries.

Last report, the couple were doing much better. Friends wishing to send cards or letters are asked to write: Feba Williams, Stephenville Hospital and Clinic; Room 250, Stephenville.

Williams is a previous lingtime janitor of Eastland High School, and is an active member of the United Pentecostal Church.

Attend Church

The Leon-Bosque RC&D Project includes Bosque, Comanche, Eastland, Erath and Somerville Counties. The program is sponsored by the Commissioners Courts of the five counti es and by the Bosque, Palo Pinto and Upper Leon Soil and Water Conservation Districts. The directors will meet Thursday to begin planning the program.

This is the word that we have been waiting for, Fambro said. Project Directors have worked with individuals, local groups, and interested agencies to devel op a resource plan for our area. The plan has been reviewed and endorsed by Governor Preston Smith.

The authorization by the Secretary of Agriculture gives us the go ahead to help local towns and communities to secure needed programs of assistance, Fabro said. Our overall objective is to promote our economic growth through the development and wise use of our natural resources and to improve the civic, social, health and recreation opportunities to benefit all people in our Project Area.

Officers of the RC&D Steering Committee serving with Fambro area Vice--Chairman Jack McCarty of Glen Rose, Secretary W. D. Raley of Dublin, and past chairman Gene Gilbreath of Dublin. Other members of the Project's Steering Committee are Eugene Baker of Gorman, Sam S. Powers of Desdemona, Ham Locke of De Leon, Jerry Vines of Comanche, Coy Wall of Dublin, Lucille McCleskey of Stephenville, Judge Temple Summers and Walter Ernst of Glen Rose, Bellamy Bertleson of Cranfills Gap and Oris Pierson of Clifton.

5-County RC&D Plans To Be Mapped Thursday

The Leon-Bosque Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) Project has received word that they have been authorized for operations by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin.

Chairman Joe Fambro of Stephenville received a telegram notifying him of this authorization. The telegram from Congressman Omar Burleson reads as follows: "Soil Conservation Service and other Agriculture De partment authorized to proceed to assist Leon-Bosque RC&D. Congratulations."

Sunday's Subject

Like the Halloween mask, that hide's one's face, sin onscures one's true identity.

This aspect of the nature of sin will be brought out at Christian Science church services Sunday October 31, in a Bible lesson-sermon entitled, "Everlasting Punishment."

From Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, the citiation will b red: "The likeness of God we lose sight of through sin, which beclouds the spiritual sense of Truth; and we realize that likeness only when we subdue sin and prove man's heritage; the libetty of the sons of God."

"But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, andthe end everlasting life," a Bible selection states.

Services in Eastland will begin at 10 am in the First Church of Christian Science, on the corner of Plummer and Lamar.

Xi Alpha Zeta Holds Meet

Xi Alpha Zeta of Betha Sigma Pi, met in the home of Mrs. Anne Johnson, Monday 25, at 7:30 p.m. President, Mrs. Jenny Matthews, presided.

Plans were made, concerning a rummage sale to be held in the Leslie building on the North side of the square, Tuesday, and Wednesday, November 9 and 10.

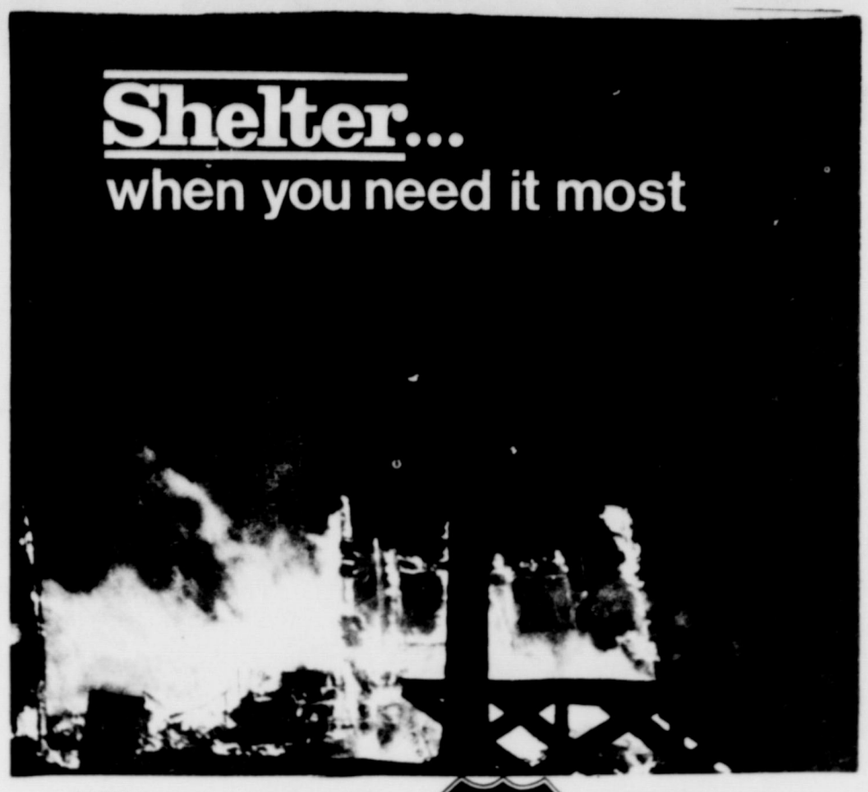

Members will collect rummage at stores on the previous Monday.

Business and various projects were discussed.

Francis Walters presented a program title, "The Art of Conversation."

Members were served dips, strawberry dessert, candy, cookies and tea.

'THANK YOU' -- says members of the Eastland Lions Club who held their annual Halloween Candy Sale Tuesday evening. Chairman Darwin Miller reports a successful sale, with all candy being sold in less than 2 hours. Proceeds, about $300, will go directly to th the Crippled Children's Camp from the candy sale.
