A FAMILY BUSINESS

Gothards Mark 57 Years In O'Brien Service Station

Like the cute little "Energizer" rabbit, Edrie and Dwight Gothard just keep 'going and going and going.' The couple is observing 57 years in the service station business in O'Brien.

Dwight said that they wanted to express their appreciation to their loyal customers who have made all these years possible. An appreciation ad appears elsewhere in this week's issue.

Opened in June 1935, the station remains relatively unchanged through the years. It was built in 1928 by Dwight's father and started out with Mobil products. After 43 years with Mobil, there was a short switch to Texaco before the permanent change to Fina.

The station has always been run as a family business, and the couple was assisted for a while by their son who just recently retired as school superintendent at Mertzon and moved back to Blackwell.

The station is open daily from 6:30 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. with the exception of Sundays.

Edrie has always been at her husband's side in the business, but her health in recent months has made it almost impossible. The couple has a good standby now in Audie Johnston, a longtime friend and neighbor who ably assists them when needed.

In spite of their 57 years in business, Edrie and Dwight are still strong in their desire to provide the best service available to their customers. Many of their friends stop by for a visit whether or not they need gas.

The station is one of the few these days that is not self-service, and the couple plans to keep it that way. They pride themselves on old-fashioned, courteous service.

In addition to gasoline, and the regular stock of service station supplies, Dwight also stocks good, used tires.

Congratulations to this fine couple for these 57 years they have given and also for letting their customers know just how much they appreciate their patronage. Edrie and Dwight are setting a good example for all of us to follow.

Free Soil Tests Scheduled July 25 Thru August 14

The Soil Conservation Service and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are sponsoring free soil tests for producers in the Seymour Aquifer Water Quality Project July 25 through August 14.

Soil sample bags and information sheets are available at local SCS, ASCS or County Extension Service offices in Haskell and Knox Counties. Soil sample bags are also available at Benjamin Fertilizer and Terra International in Knox City; Allison Farm Supply in Rule; Zeissel Brothers Fertilizer, Quality Implement, Parker Implement, Farmers Grain Coop, and Knox Prairie Coop in Munday; Farmers Gin and Home State Bank in Rochester; O'Brien Coop Gin or Rhineland Coop Gin.

After taking the soil sample, return it to any of the participating businesses, SCS or Extension Service employees and the sample will be sent in for analysis. The results will be mailed to the producer.

The soil sample will be tested for nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, calcium, magnesium, sodium, sulfur, salinity, and pH.

Name and sample number must be on both the sample bag and information sheet. The type of crop to be grown and expected yield are also needed on the information sheet.

In addition to the free soil test program, the Seymour Aquifer Project also gives free water tests. The water sample will be tested for nitrates. Water samples can be left at the Soil Conservation Service offices in Knox City and Haskell.

Irrigation water as well as drinking water should be tested annually for nitrates. High nitrates in drinking water can be a health risk and encourage growth of algae and other organisms which may produce undesirable tastes and odors.

Nitrate levels in irrigation water can be credited as fertilizer for crop production.

For more information on soil or water testing call the local SCS, Extension Service or Seymour Aquifer Project office at (817) 864-3334.

Screening Offered

The Haskell - Knox Coop will be offering eligibility screening for entry into the Early Childhood Special Education Program.

Children who are between 3 to 5 years of age may qualify for the Early Childhood Special Education Program on the basis of one or more of the following conditions: speech or language disability, mental retardation, orthopedic handicap, other health impairment, hearing impairment, visual impairment, deafness of blindness, learning disability, emotional disability, or autistic disabilities.

Parents wanting to set up a time for their child to be screened need to contact the principal's office at 658-3147 between now and July 28th. Inquiries may also be directed to the Haskell-Knox Coop at 658-3851.

Vera Revival This Week

Vera Baptist Church will be holding revival services Wednesday, July 21 through Sunday, July 25 with Randy White, pastor of First Baptist Church in Munday, as the evangelist.

Nightly meetings will begin at 7:00 p.m. with adult prayer meetings and a booster band for the children. Worship services will begin at 8:00 p.m.

Jack Maddox, pastor of the Vera Baptist Church, will lead the music with Jackie Shroyer of Shroyer Music Ministries of Fort Worth and James Maddox and Nichole Paterson of Lubbock as the guest singers.

According to Rev. Maddox, everyone is invited to attend the services which will be held outside at the Vera Community Center. Those wishing to drive up and sit in their car may do so.

Shot Clinic Scheduled

The Texas Department of Health will conduct an immunization clinic in Knox City Tuesday, July 27.

Shots will be given from 10:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. at the Knox City Community Center and the clinic will be open through the lunch hour.

Parents or guardians must accompany their children. Adult immunizations for tetanus also will be given.

According to officials, during July and August, all immunizations will be free of charge. The service is offered to everyone. Children between the ages of 4-12 are eligible to receive a second MMR3 (measles) vaccine.

For more information, readers should call (817) 864-2609.

Greg Clonts Represents Nation's Community Banks

KNOX CITY - Greg Clonts, President and CEO of Citizens Bank, with offices in Knox City and Abilene, recently met with 100 community bankers from across the country to discuss the challenges and opportunities facing today's banking industry.

As a member of the American Bankers Association's Community Bankers Council, Clonts helps assess the professional, regulatory and legislative needs of the nation's 10,000 community banks.

"With bank competition continually growing, the need to keep up with the latest in financial management and technology is greater than ever," Clonts said.

"We exchange innovative ideas with each other to help us improve the way we serve our customers. These meetings also help the ABA produce the products and services necessary to make us better bankers," Clonts said.

The meeting focused on other critical concerns such as reducing the regulatory "red tape" forced on banks and their customers, as well as legislative issues.

The American Bankers Association is the national trade and professional association for America's commercial banks. Assets of the ABA member banks are about 90 percent of the industry total. Approximately 94 percent are community banks with assets of less than $500 million.

Should You Reach 9-1-1 By Mistake, DON'T Hang Up !!

9-1-1 is issuing a plea for help!

With the 915 area code being so close to the area, Jan Rolston, coordinator of the Knox County 9-1-1 system, has asked residents that should they reach 911 by misdialing or by mistake; PLEASE DO NOT HANG UP! Should you happen to reach the emergency number by mistake, STAY ON THE LINE. Mrs. Rolston explained that when people hang up, the dispatcher must return the call to the location where it has been made. With people knowing that it is illegal to dial 9-1-1, they panic, hang up and do not answer the return call. Therefore, when there is no answer at the other end, the local police department must then respond to the location to see if there is actually an emergency.

Officials ask your cooperation in this matter as a lot of time and effort could be saved if those who do get connected with 9-1-1 by mistake would stay on line and respond.

O'Brien Happenings

By Audie Johnston

"One of my golf partners had hit two balls out of bounds, dumped one into the water and, on a short par three, had buried his tee shot in the sand hazard beside the green. He calmly dropped his seven-iron across his bag and sighed, 'I'm not upset because this is the worst game I've played in the past ten years. I'm upset because my wife thinks I'm out here having fun.'"

"Cover Up - - An aunt of mine kept a hat by her front door and whenever the doorbell rang, she would put it on. If it was someone she wished to see, she would remark how lucky it was that she had just come in. If it was someone she wanted to avoid, she would say how sorry she was, but she was just going out."

Researchers say they see a flareup of arthritis among retirees after children and grandchildren visit. They hypothesize that stress may be more a factor in the disease than previously thought.

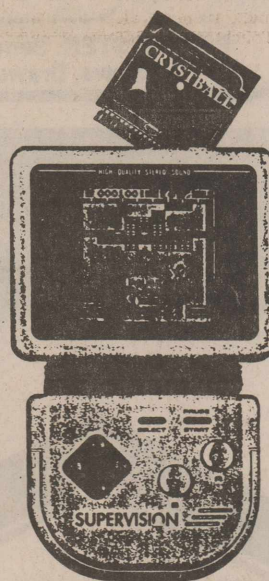

According to the American Heart Association, the Southeast and South Central states tend to have the highest rates of death from stroke. Worst rates are in South Carolina, District of Columbia, Mississippi and Georgia.

Abandonment of Railroad To Hurt Area Farmers

Area farmers will be hit another blow when and if the railroad is abandoned, as they will have to pay higher shipping costs on the wheat they grow and that is if grain elevators can find enough trucks.

The Texas & Oklahoma Railroad Co. has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to let it abandon 156.49 miles of line in Hardeman, Foard, Knox, Haskell, Jones, Stone-wall, and Fisher counties.

The T&O bought the stretch of line from the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway in May 1991, and pledged to try for one year to make it profitable, even though the Santa Fe had struggled and tried to abandon it for years.

Joe Kovalchick, president of the T&O, said the seasonal nature of the rail line's main business - wheat, which is harvested once a year - made it impossible to continue operating. He said the ICC had taken no action on the company's request.

Towns along the rail line include Odell in Wilbarger County; Chillicothe in Hardeman County; Margaret and Crowell in Foard County; Truscott, Benjamin and Knox City in Knox County; O'Brien, Rochester, and Rule in Haskell County; Hamlin in Jones County; and Longworth in Fisher County.

Grain elevators in these towns will have to find other ways to ship grain if the rail line is abandoned.

Reports on the sick of the community are more encouraging tonight. Lois Golden was able to be released from the hospital last week and is recuperating at the home of a daughter in Crosbyton. Reports on Saturday were that she is progressing nicely. Shirley Brown has had a real good week - is feeling better than she has in quite some time. The report we got today on Kathy Benson's father, J.B. Reynolds, is that he is feeling better, also. All this news is good and we pray that these folks will continue to have good days.
