CAUSTIC CRITICISM TARIFF BILL VETO

CONGRESSMAN UNDERWOOD SAYS
PRESIDENT TAFT'S ACTION
UNJUSTIFIABLE.

"LIKE GEORGE THIRD"

Declares Board is Unlawful Body
Without Authority to Decide
Such Questions.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—Representative Oscar Underwood, chairman of the House ways and means committee in an interview last night severely criticized President Taft's course in vetoing the tariff bills passed by the special session of Congress. The floor leader of the House majority says the President has acted "with the arrogance of a George III."

"The great men who wrote the Constitution of the United States," said Mr. Underwood, "realized that the English people had secured their liberties from an arrogant and despotic executive because maintaining the power in the legislative branch of the Government to raise taxes and pass the supply bills for the maintenance of the Government. They, therefore, provided in the Constitution of the United States that all revenue legislation must originate in the House of Representatives, giving the people the primary power to enact the legislation imposing the burdens of taxation."

Taft's Promise to People.

"Mr. Taft won his election because of a promise to the American people to revise the tariff downward. It is now admitted by the President as well as everybody else, that the Payne-Aldrich law did not fulfill these promises as again renewed by the President of the United States, but in the last Congressional election the people were unwilling to rely further on broken promises, and elected a Democratic House on the issue that there should be an honest revision of the tariff downward. The Congress has presented to the President an honest revision downward of the woolen, cotton, chemical and iron and steel schedules, and has also passed what is known as the farmers' free list bill putting on the free list certain articles, most of which produced no revenue and were sold abroad cheaper than at home, and are large competitors in the foreign markets, and relieved the masses of the people from many unjust burdens of taxation."

"The President vetoed these bills, and has, with the arrogance of a George III, announced to the people of the United States that their representatives in both branches of Congress are incapable of legislation, and that the people must wait until a so-called tariff board, clerks appointed by the President himself, have ordered the legislative branch as to how and when they can enact laws for the relief of the American people. The position taken by the President goes far beyond the mere question of tariff rates and tariff revision. It is an unwarranted assumption of authority on the part of the Executive, unjustified from any point of view from which you look at it."

"I hope that the American people will wake up to the real issue involved in the President's vetoes and repudiate the unjustifiable assumption of power."

Mr. Underwood says the tariff board is an illegal body. He reasons on this point as follows:

"The tariff board is unauthorized by law. When the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill was enacted it contained a provision providing for minimum and maximum tariff rates and authorized the President to negotiate treaties with foreign countries granting to them the minimum rates for concessions made to American commerce for the purpose of developing our foreign trade. To carry out the provision of this section of the act, the President was authorized to employ certain persons to enable him to make these negotiations and to advise the Executive Department in reference to the administration of the law. There was no language contained in the act that authorized these employees to act as a tariff board, to secure information and advise Congress. In fact, realizing that the so-called tariff board has no authority to act in these matters, an effort was made at the last Congress to pass a law creating a tariff board for this purpose, but it was finally rejected and did not become a law. The President has already negotiated treaties with all foreign Nations and extended to them the minimum tariff rates under the Payne tariff law without any material concessions on their part to the people of the United States. There is, therefore, no reason for the continuation of the employees authorized by the Payne act for the purpose for which the original authorization was granted, and the retention of them for other work by the Executive is an unjustifiable assumption of authority."

AUTOMOBILE TURNED TURTLE—TWO HURT

It seems that Horn with another party was in the city yesterday and deciding to return to Petrolia, secured the services of Wiley to drive him in a car and as company for the party G. D. Riggsby and Will McClellan agreed to go along in the car. When about five or six miles out Horn asked permission to drive the machine, which was granted, and after going between one and two miles the accident occurred. In attempting to guide the machine from one side of the road to the other it was overturned and Horn and Wiley sustained injuries as indicated above. Riggsby was not in the machine at the time, having gotten in a car with Bob Sanders, who had passed the party and was driving ahead. With the exception of Horn and Wiley, other members of the party escaped injury, notwithstanding the machine turned turtle and after the accident was found to be laying along the road side with the wheels upward. Immediately after the accident communication was secured with Wichita Falls and Dr. Everett Jones went to the scene in his auto and brought Horn to the Wichita Falls Sanitarium, where his wounds were dressed, while the Sanders machine brought Wiley in and his wound was dressed by Dr. Meredith at his office in the Kemp and Kell building, the injured man being later removed to his home.

Both parties are reported today to be resting well and serious results are not anticipated as a result of the unfortunate occurrence.

DALLAS BUSINESS MEN TO VISIT WICHITA FALLS

A representative of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce is expected here in the next few days to arrange for a trip by a train load of business men to this city in the near future. The party will travel on a special train and will remain here over night.

BOY MAKES FLIGHT.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 25.—Having as one of four passengers 9-year-old Mearns Noggle, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Noggle, Gladstone Apartments, who is credited with being the youngest boy in the world to make an aerial flight, the balloon Philadelphia II, ascended from the Athletic Grounds at Twenty-Eights street and Passinink avenue shortly before noon today.

The ascension was made in honor of the forty-fourth birthday anniversary of Dr. Thomas E. Eldridge, a member of the Philadelphia Aeronautical Recreation Society, who piloted the balloon. The other passengers were John Noggle, father of Mearns, and Frank Middleton, a Government employee at Washington.

Charlie Walton, a Denver switchman, is detained from his work on account of sickness in his family, one of the children having been quite sick for several days.

SEE GUSHERS AT ELECTRA

Valuable Prizes Offered By Chamber of Commerce There For Best Write-Up.

The business sessions of the annual convention of the Northwest Texas Editorial Association came to a close at noon today and this afternoon the editors are at Electra seeing the oil field and will be the guests of the Chamber of Commerce of that place at a banquet before their return to this city this afternoon.

The Electra people are offering several oil additions there as prizes for the best writeups of the field. The prizes are well worth while and it is expected that all will enter into the competition.

Memphis was selected as the place of meeting next year and the following officers elected: Orion Proctor, Bridgeport, president; R. S. Shuttler, Olney, vice president; T. J. Durham, Wellington, secretary; Edgar Proctor, Bridgeport, treasurer.

President Proctor has not yet named the members of the executive committee.

Resolutions were adopted thanking the Chamber of Commerce, and the citizens of the city for hospitality and entertainment.

Several interesting talks were made at the morning session. L. E. Haskett, of the Childress Index, discussed the linotype in a weekly office.

A. C. Bush of the Wichita News spoke on "Padding and its Consequences."

Orion Proctor delivered some good advice on subscription contests.

O. C. Harrison, predicted that in twenty years from now the editors of Northwest Texas would come to this convention in automobiles and flying machines.

Just what their wives will say when they go back home and are found bespattered with oil spray can only be conjectured.

RENEWED ACTIVITY IN PETROLIA FIELD

The developments at Electra during the past few months have diverted attention from the Petrolia oil and gas field but within the last few weeks new rigs have started at Petrolia, and extensive developments are expected within the next few months.

The Petrolia Round-Up this week says:

The Fort Worth Oil Company who has a location on the Parker lease southeast of town is reported to be down about 1700 feet and the drillers are expected to bring it in soon. This location is out of the proven territory and will open up a new field if a good well is brought in. This well is being watched with much interest by people who are interested in the oil field as well as property owners out in that direction.

The stockholders of this company are composed principally of Fort Worth capitalists and business men, some of them will be in Petrolia to watch the well come in the last of the week.

W. C. Sutherland brought in another good shallow well for the Groves Pumping Company Monday.

The Producers Oil Company has placed a string of cable tools over Byers No. 8, and will drill the well deeper. This well was brought in some time ago with a rotary rig but very little oil was struck and it is thought by drilling deeper into the sand a good well can be made.

The 99 Pumping Company is reported to be making some good time on their well located west of town.

Marriage licenses were issued this afternoon to Ambrose Yeager and Miss Freddie Nicholson of this city and to George Groves of this city and Miss Gussie Yarr of Petrolia.

DEAD FROM WRECK NOW NUMBER 25

SIXTY OTHERS INJURED IN CRASH NEAR MANCHESTER, NEW YORK, YESTERDAY.

EXCURSIONISTS ABROAD

Numerous Grand Army Veterans in Cars That Plunge Down Embankment With Crash.

By Associated Press.
Manchester, N. Y., Aug. 26.—A carload of rough pine boxes was delivered here at daylight this morning and carted to the temporary morgue where lay twenty-two bodies of those killed yesterday in the wreck of the Lehigh Valley train on the trestle over Canadigua Creek. These twenty-two with three others in the morgue at Rochester, are probably the complete list of the dead unless more deaths occur among the sixty injured.

Number of Veterans on Train.
Crowded with passengers, many of whom were veterans and excursionists from the G. A. R. encampment at Rochester, the train, made up of fourteen cars, was forty minutes late when it reached Rochester Junction, and from there sped eastward to make up time.

Derailment at Trestle.
The engines and two coaches had just passed the center of a 400-foot trestle over Canadigua outlet, 150 yards east of the station, at 12:35 o'clock, when the Pullman car Austin, the third of the long train, left the rails. It dragged the dining car with it, and two day coaches and two Pullmans in this order followed. All bumped over the ties a short distance when the coupling between the day coach and the rear end of the diner broke. The forward end of the train dragged the derailed Pullman and diner over the trestle safely, after which both plunged down the south embankment and rolled over.

Plunge Into River Bed.
The free end of a day coach, in which most of the victims were riding, shoved out over the gulf, and followed by another day coach, stripped the rear guard of the south side of the trestle and plunged to the shallow river bed, more than forty feet below.

The end of the first day coach that went over struck the east embankment of solid masonry, and, with the other sixty-foot car behind, shot against the wall with terrific force. Both cars were filled with passengers and in a few moments the cars lay a mass of crumpled wood and glass, under which men, women and children many of whom were killed instantly, were buried.

The greatest destruction occurred in the first day coach, and a dozen people later were taken out dead from the second day coach.

SUNSET CENTRAL LAYS OFF 800 MEN

By Associated Press.
Houston, Aug. 26.—Eight hundred men, machinists, blacksmiths, and carpenters in the Sunset Central shops here and in San Antonio have been laid off until Sept. 1, as the result of a general retrenchment, according to the company. Some of the employees believe it is a warning that they must not press the demands presented for shorter hours.

New York, Aug. 26.—Harry N. Attwood who concluded his record breaking flight from St. Louis to New York yesterday, has abandoned his intention of flying to Boston. It is indicated that he may retire from the flying game as he feels he has aviation honors enough.

There was a hush in the court room as the sheriff unrolled the bloody brown coat worn by Beattie on the night of the murder. The witness said the color of the garment resembled that of the coat worn by the man at the roadside.

He was instructed to look at the defendant and to state if the man he saw was about the same size.

"Yes," said the dairyman slowly, "about the same size."

"Have you seen the Beattie automobile since the murder?" Snyder was asked. He said he had, and that generally it agreed with the car he had seen on the roadway.

"It was a big four-passenger car," he said, "and the top was yellow."

The Beattie car has a yellow top.

Will Sign Agreement.

Houston, Texas, Aug. 26.—It was announced today that the Sunset Central lines will sign the Liverpool cotton agreement.

Ownership of Real Estate Not Necessary.

As a result of the agitation incident to the recent bond election and that scheduled to take place in this precinct at an early date, and in order to secure a definite opinion as to the qualifications of voters in elections in which the issuance of bonds is involved, Mr. Harvey Chennault of this city addressed a letter to the attorney general at Austin with reference to the matter, to which communication the reply below has been received. The opinion as reproduced herewith is self-explanatory and is as follows:

Austin, Texas, Aug. 23.

Mr. H. Chennault,
Wichita Falls, Texas.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your favor of the 21st inst., we beg to advise that in elections held for the purpose of determining whether road bonds shall be issued by a county, all persons who are qualified voters in the county and who are resident property-tax-paying voters therein are entitled to vote in such election.

It does not require that the voter shall own real estate and does not require that his name should appear on the assessment roll. It is sufficient if he own any property in the county or precinct for which the election is held, on the first day of January of this year which property is subject to taxation.

Yours very truly,
C. E. MEAD, Assistant Attorney General.

PUT OUT FIRE WITH LEMONADE.

Lamp Explosion Occurs in Connecticut Church During Aid Society Entertainment.

Middleton, Conn., Aug. 25.—A boiler full of lemonade was the only thing that saved the Congregational Church in Eastford Village from destruction when an alcohol lamp exploded at a fair which the Ladies Aid Society was holding there. A short entertainment had been planned during the evening, and it was while this was taking place that the accident occurred.

The explosion of the lamp set the carpet on the platform afire and at the cry of fire a general rush for the door ensued. A large boiler of lemonade was standing near by and a couple of cool-headed young men seized this, and, throwing it on the flames, extinguished them.

Mrs. Henry Bartlett the president of the society, was seated near by at the time the explosion occurred and the burning fluid caught her clothing. She was severely burned before some one threw a raincoat about her, smothering the flames.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 26.—Another lively row took place in the Senate this morning when Cofer of Gainesville, moved that the committee on commerce and manufacturers, to whom was referred the Hudspeth resolution endorsing Bailey's tariff stand to be instructed to submit a report. Several fervid speeches were made. Senator Mayfield offered an amendment to the resolution endorsing the Junior Senator's choice for Governor of Texas (Thomas H. Ball of Houston), and tried unsuccessfully to have it also referred to the committee.

Senator Real, of Kerrville, rebuked the Senate for its nonsense.

Senator Townsend of San Angelo, declared he preferred Ball for Governor against any other man in Texas. Finally the resolution by Real to table both the Cofer motion and the Mayfield amendment was adopted. This action finally kills the Bailey endorsement.

The trial of W. H. Gray, an anti-Houston, charged with contempt of the legislature for refusal to answer the questions of the Senatorial investigation committee will be resumed this afternoon in the Senate. That body was too closely occupied with local measures and the Bailey resolution this morning to reach his case.

Senator McNealus, of Dallas, who collapsed on the floor of the Senate yesterday as the effect of injuries sustained in the static encounter with Wolters Tuesday night, is confined to his room today. His physicians expressed the opinion that his condition will prevent him from taking a part in the further proceedings of this session of the legislature.

The House finally passed the eight hour bill this morning. It goes to conference now.

W. Potter, of Merkel, Texas, one of the witnesses cited to appear earlier in the week before the bar of the House to answer charges of contempt appeared before the House election investigating committee today and answered the questions propounded and was exonerated of the charges against him. He said he was an anti and made speeches in the last campaign and received compensation therefor.

FACED MATERIALS WILL BE POPULAR

REVERSIBLE CLOTHS IN SILKS AND WOOLLENS MUCH IN EVIDENCE.

CHIFFON FOR BLOUSES

Big Conventional Flowers Embroidered in Fall Waists are Very Pretty Effects.

New York, Aug. 26.—The summer season has passed its climax, and although it is still warm and the lightest summer toilettes are still seasonable, the thoughts of women begin to turn toward autumn and the surprises in fashions which it may bring. The regular fall fashions will not be divulged until later, when the leading houses have their autumn openings, but the late summer models are full of hints of things to come and new materials and trimmings are already displayed in the wholesale houses and even in some of the most progressive retail shops. Only a few of these new things, however, are allowed to reach the counters. The others are guarded from the public eye until the actual opening of the fall season and new importations are coming in daily.

If one may judge by the imported stuffs up to date the two faced materials are to be much in evidence both in silks and woollens. One can find these effects in all weights and the supple of satins. Just how these materials will be used remains to be seen, though in connection with the overall coats the riddle is easy to read, for already stunning coats fashioned from the double faced stuffs are on view, and for that matter models in such materials were launched last spring.

Soft neutral tones often have reverse sides in brilliant color and the bright green or blue or cerise or orange shows in collars, cuffs, etc. Smart coats are made up in one-tone polo cloth or similar material backed with white, a huge white collar being chic and becoming if not as serviceable as one of a darker hue. Checked effects are much used for the reverse side of plain tone woollens. In some cases the whole coat is really reversible.

What has been said of the heavier coat materials applies as well to the lighter weight double-faced cloths designed for suit purposes. The color combinations in these double-faced materials are extremely varied and often strong of contrast.

Just what the autumn season will have to offer in colors cannot be stated now. It hardly seems possible that there are variations still to be run up on the primal lines, but there may be slightly different nuances of well known lines and when the season is well along one or two shades will, of course, become enormously popular. The yellows and the various tones of beige, champagne, sand, etc., have been gradually claiming a place high on the color list this summer, and a correspondent well informed on the subject writes that at least two of the famous Paris dressmakers are taking up these colors with enthusiasm for fall uses.

Just what will be done with the taffetas which have come into emphatic favor during the summer no one will know. The material has not run its course, has not even reached the highest point of its popularity. It will undoubtedly be much worn throughout the fall, but whether it will continue in vogue during the winter is a question impossible to answer at the present time.

The use of chiffon for blouses has increased tremendously since last year. Women have learned how graceful and becoming the chiffon blouse is and how easily such a blouse may be slipped over different slips to make pleasing changes with the one coat and skirt costume. This year some of the chiffon blouses are used over foundations of metallic brocade, which is wonderfully soft and supple. The glistening brocade of the lining is so rich in itself that such blouses need no further trimming than a line of gilt or dull silver cord around the neck opening and at the edge of the sleeves. Sometimes a double row of tiny metal buttons is set down the front.

The craze for stenciling has now invaded the realm of dress, and it is impossible to foresee where it will end. Many of the new chiffon and silk blouses for fall show stenciled patterns which are outlined with beads in very effective style. This trimming is really very charming and of course, is much more quickly applied than the same amount of embroidery would be.

In new embroideries in fall waists very pretty effects have been achieved by working big, conventional flowers with silk floss and filling in the centers with colored chiffon or dyed lace.

Most of the chiffon and silk blouses have shallow lace yokes set in the rounded or V-shaped décolletage and more and more high, boned stock collars are noted at the top of these yokes. Dutch necks will doubtless be worn in the house, but with the trig, good looking autumn street suit, a high collar around the throat is by far the smarter choice.

There is a growing tendency to discard the peasant sleeve with its clinging shoulder line for a close-fitting sleeve set into an arm's eye, and many of the new sleeves bell out toward the lower edge. Long shoulder lines, however, will undoubtedly continue for some time to come and some waists show shoulders extending several inches down over the arm, with the sleeve set in between the shoulder and elbow in quaint, old-fashioned style. Many of the French blouses of lingerie material have long sleeves edged with pleated trills which fall over the hand, a picturesque, but rather untidy fashion which never finds enthusiasm with women who have some kind of work to do.

For trot-about wear with morning tailored suits the silk blouses with mannish cut and long sleeves are immensely chic. These blouses are made of washable silk and mercerized pongee fabric which is very silky and lustrous. They are perfectly plain, with a few tucks in front to lend sufficient fullness over the bust, and mannish sleeves finished with turned back cuffs. The high turnover collar is pinned trimly beneath a four-in-hand tie of silk.

In the early fall days the shops always show flannel shirt waists and attractive flannels by the yard for making up these waists for winter wear; but flannel waists are really too warm in our heated houses and under fur and heavy cloth coats. Also, they are too informal to be really smart with tailored suits.

Women find the foulards of this season especially charming; they afford the minimum of weight and of warmth and yet are correct for all occasions. A woman generally looks well-dressed when wearing a figured foulard gown trimmed with plain-colored satin, with touches of white or ecru lace.

Fashion insistently demands that the collar and jabot shall correspond. If the collar is Irish lace the jabot must not be Cluny, or vice-versa. Whatever one is the other must be. The willow plume seems to have had its day and probably will make its final exit with the summer.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 31 and September 1 and 2 of next week applicants for teachers licenses will be examined by Superintendent Fairchild at the court house. On Thursday applicants for permanent licenses will be examined.

State Superintendent Bailey says that there exists a misunderstanding of the law with respect to building to certificates of higher grades. The law requires that before one is entitled to attempt to build to a certificate of higher grade he must obtain a State second grade certificate, after which he may be examined in one or more of the additional subjects for the higher grade certificates at any examination and so continue until he completes the examination in the additional required subjects. One who applies for and obtains only a county second grade certificate is deprived of the privilege of building on such certificate to any certificate of higher grade. The county third grade certificate is no longer issued, and certificates of all classes and grades, except the county second grade certificate, are issued under the new law by the State Department of Education.

"LIQUOR" AT OYSTER PRICES

Oysters shipped in open tubs have to be re-iced many times in transit. The ice is put in the tub WITH THE OYSTERS. As fast as one piece melts another is put in.

This melted ice washes the fine sea flavor out of the oyster—bloats it—bleaches it—makes it taste flat and insipid.

The melted ice is the "liquor" which is sold to you at OYSTER PRICES.

Sealship Oysters

The full flavor of the oyster and nothing else. Sealship Oysters are sold by us exclusively, because they are HONEST oysters. Air-tight containers are packed solid with oysters AT THE SEASIDE—and SEALED. Ice is kept packed around these containers during the entire journey; but no ice or water ever touches the oysters.

There is no railroad ice "liquor"—nothing but solid oysters.

Our customers say Sealship Oysters TASTE the same and ARE the same as oysters eaten at the shore.

Try them yourself and be convinced.

First shipment for this season due tonight.

The Wichita State Bank
Wichita Falls, Texas

There are many banks in the country larger than The Wichita State Bank. They may have more capital and perhaps do a greater volume of business. But for the smaller business man, farmer or manufacturer, had it occurred to you that the small bank is the best place for the beginner to go?

The big bank is often cold-blooded and independent. Your business in the big bank is but an incidental detail, and your interests are scarcely noticed.

The small bank, however, can give you business more time and attention, for it is interested in your success.

This bank while small in comparison to some of the large banks, has ample means and facilities to properly care for your business. Its officers have time to consider your interest and welfare. Your business will be welcome and will receive their best attention.

THE TRANSFORMATION WORKED BY IRON HORSE

(Hammon News)

Last January the "iron horse" with its screaming whistle woke the echoes of the hills and valleys and a little city of a thousand souls sprang into being, and commerce began its insistent clamor. Then a little later, men with transits and levels began to get busy, soon followed by scrapers and plows. Then large material yards were laid out and Hammon became the head construction camp for the invasion of Kansas and Colorado by the men behind the Wichita Falls railway, and men, teams and material were rushed on up the line. Hammon had settled down in her mind that she was one of the many stations on a great trunk line of road, when one morning another corps of surveyors dropped off the train and started a new survey west up the valley of the Washita river, toward the plains of the Panhandle of Texas. So it now looked as if this city was to be the branch point. And now comes the startling news from the east that the same commanding spirit that has bulidied a system of roads has beneficently assimilated the Butler-Clinton road, and that it will be brought into our little city by the river. So it now begins to be apparent why the powers that be bought so much land at the site of Hammon—twice as much as at any other point on the line. They knew they would need it for the immense business to be concentrated here, as fate intends a commercial emporium to be built here, and that soon.

Talk about Alladin's Ring and its magic, it can't hold a candle to Frank Kell and his bunch, who have figured it out, and as always heretofore are doing more than they promise. Here at Hammon will be the Queen not only of the alfalfa fields, but crowned queen of the Washita Valley. Almost "mine eyes have seen the glory."

MUST BELIEVE IT

When Well Known Wichita Falls People Tell It So Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Wichita Falls the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman and child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading:

Mrs. Lillie McCarthy, 705 Scott avenue, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "Two years ago Doan's Kidney Pills procured from the Wichita Drug House, were used in our family with very satisfactory results. We found them to be a tonic for the kidneys and also very effective in relieving kidney weakness in children's cases. I publicly endorse this remedy at that time and as I have since heard of kidney instances where Doan's Kidney Pills have proven beneficial, I feel justified in confirming by former statement."

Votes on Commission Plan. Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 26.—A special election was held in Knoxville today to decide the question of the proposed amendment of the city charter so as to provide for the commission plan of government. Advocates of the commission plan, including nearly all of the business men of the city, have waged a vigorous campaign in its behalf and are confident that the final results of the balloting will show a substantial majority in favor of the charter amendment.

ST. PAUL GIRL WEDS TURKISH DIPLOMAT

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 24.—The marriage of Miss Josephine Kalman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kalman of this city, to Richard Edward Blaque, son of the Turkish ambassador in Berlin, took place this afternoon in the St. Paul cathedral, in the presence of nearly one thousand guests, among them many persons of prominence from various parts of the United States and Europe.

Miss Cecelia Kalman was her sister's maid of honor and among the bridesmaids was Lady Kathleen Beresford, daughter of Admiral Lord Charles Beresford. Following the ceremony at the cathedral the wedding party and guests attended a large reception at the home of the bride's parents.

The bridegroom who was born in the United States while his father was serving as Turkish minister in Washington, belongs to a distinguished Ottoman noble family and is regarded as one of the coming men of the Sultan's diplomatic service. The bride of today first met the boy two years ago when in Berlin as the guest of Secretary and Mrs. Coholle of the American embassy. She was presented at the Kaiser's Court and created considerable of a sensation among the military and aristocratic set on account of her Gibson girl style.

WAS BITTEN BY A RATTLESNAKE

(Hammon Advocate)

Over in the Wild Horse country, while working in the broom corn field, Charley Cline was bitten by a rattlesnake. Dr. Lee Borroh was called immediately, and when he got over there they had done the wise thing and corded the leg tightly above the wound to keep the venom from spreading throughout the body. The doctor made incisions in the flesh, took out some of the affected tissues, and dressed it. The next day, they telephoned in to ask if it would be safe to walk around some. Later news is to the effect that he is getting along very nicely.

BIG AVIATION MEET OPENS AT BOSTON

Boston, Mass., Aug. 26.—Attracted by a prize list totalling nearly $50,000 in cash, some two-score of the most noted aviators of America and Europe have gathered here to take part in the second big flying meet to be conducted under the auspices of the Harvard Aviation Society. The meet was formerly inaugurated on the aviation field at Atlantic today and will continue for an entire week. One of the big events of the program will be a cross-country flight of 160 miles, for which a cash prize of $10,000 has been offered by a Boston newspaper.

Campaign in Maryland. Baltimore, Md., Aug. 26.—The political campaign in Maryland virtually closed today. The primaries will be held next Tuesday, when both parties will select candidates for governor and other State officers to be elected this fall. Interest centers chiefly in the contest between Arthur P. Gorman, and Blair Lee for the Democratic nomination for governor.

A new law in New Hampshire forbids the posting of baseball scores in saloons.

AMARILLOITES WILL "SEE 'EM FLY"—MAYBE

Aviator Hugh Robertson has arrived in Amarillo, according to the Amarillo Daily News, which prints a supposed photograph of the supposed Robertson, which looks surprisingly like Pontius, the Flying Dutchman. It is regarded here as a remarkable coincidence that two aviators should look so much alike.

In mentioning the arrival of Robertson, the Amarillo News says: "Aviator Hugh Robertson arrived from St. Louis yesterday afternoon bringing his big Curtiss aeroplane and mechanics. The big bird was at once taken to Glenwood Park, where the hangar will be erected tomorrow and the work of assembling the biplane begun.

"Robertson is very much impressed with the long stretch of open country and remarked: 'This country must have been made to order for aeroplanes.' "Mr. Robertson brings word that Aviator Cessna was injured last Saturday in St. Louis much worse than at first reported and that he is still confined to his bed, but it is hoped that he will be up and around so as to arrive here in time for the flight on Sept. 3 and 4.

"Preparations go steadily on for the other attractions at Glenwood on the two big days and taken all in all it will be every minute a time of varied amusements."

Stopped Those Pains.

Copper Hill, Va.—Mrs. Ida Conner of this place, says, "For years, I had a pain in my right side, and I was very sick with womanly troubles. I tried different doctors but could get no relief. I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I took Cardui and it relieved the pain in my side, and now I feel like a new person. It is a wonderful medicine." Many women are completely worn-out and discouraged on account of some womanly trouble. Are you? Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Its record shows that it will help you. Why wait? Try it today. Ask your druggist about it.

I will open a private school Sept. 11th. Primary work a specialty, same books and course of study as used in public school. For further information call on Mrs. A. J. Miller at 702 Lamar avenue. Phone 662.

WHY HONUS-WAGNER

WILL BE BADLY MISSED

Some of the Things Which Make the Big Dutchman Valuable.

With Hans Wagner out of the game, perhaps for the remainder of the season, it is brought home how valuable a man the long-armed Dutchman really is. Here are some of the reasons he is so considered:

Is thirty-seven years old and in his fifteenth season with the National League.

The greatest batsman that the National League has ever known.

In fourteen years he has never failed to hit for over 300. He has led the National League at the bat for seven years, and in fourteen seasons has made over 2,200 hits.

Is the batsman most dreaded by National League pitchers. He never looks for his base on balls, and time after time he has killed a deliberate attempt to pass him by jumping out for a bad ball and awaiting it.

The most modest and unassuming player known to baseball.

Began life as a barber. May quit the game a bloated bopholder.

Names his own terms when signing up with the Pittsburgh team.

Has played every position on the team, and done equally well in most of them.

Is a great base runner and is the Ty Cobb of the National League when on the sacks.

Tries to retire from the game every spring, but his owners and the Pittsburgh fans will not allow him.

In a double-header at Pittsburgh last August, made seven hits, including two home runs, three doubles and two singles, in seven times at bat.

Eddie Collins of the Athletics.

Probably the greatest incident of "breaking" into baseball in the history of the national pastime, was that of Eddie Collins, the crack second baseman of the Athletics.

Edward Trowbridge Collins first came into the limelight as a ball player at Columbia College. He generally played shortstop, but sometimes took the outfield. Before leaving college, Eddie got in wrong with the college authorities by playing professional ball under the name of Sullivan, and this ended his playing there.

Edward went over to New York and played with John McGraw of the New York Giants, for a chance to play on his ball team and won out.

Dave Pultz, a former member of the Athletics, happened to see the young Edward in action, and promptly took a shine to him. Going over to Philadelphia, Pultz talked it over with Mack and asked him to come over and take a look at the kid, and before night Collins was signed up.

Connie decided to play the lead on second and he has proved the best second baseman in the game today.

Collins was a stellar light in the world's championship series against the Cubs. He even outshone his brash little rival, Johnnie Evers. He led the league in stolen bases and was well up in the batting list.—Baseball World.

Cravath, Grimshaw and Denny Sullivan, three ex-Boston American players, are leading the American Association in stick work.

The Longest Walk.

Dots Miller and Chief Wilson were talking baseball yesterday and incidentally discussing a game lost by the Pirates. Miller had struck out, as had Wilson.

"Chief," said Dots, "do you know what is the longest walk in the world?"

"No, I don't," replied Wilson. "What is it?"

"Well, it's the walk from the plate to the bench after striking out," said Miller, and Wilson agreed with him.

"That's one time," added Miller, "when a ball player doesn't know what to do with his hands and feet."—Baseball World.

UMPIRE BUSH FOR PENNANT SERIES

Texas League Man Secured To Umpire the Six Games With Cleburne.

President St. Clair of the Texas Oklahoma league, announced today that the services of Umpire Bush of the Texas League had been secured for the post-season series of games between Wichita Falls and Cleburne, which series was scheduled to start at this place this afternoon continuing here for three days, after which the teams will be transferred to Cleburne.

This action on the part of Mr. St. Clair was taken in order that there might be no occasion for complaint regarding the decisions, as is often the case when the indicator is handled by someone without authority, and also that an umpire might be had who would have no hesitancy in enforcing the rules of the game. Mr. St. Clair states that Mr. Bush will be upheld by the league in his work and those of the players who offend and are punished accordingly may expect to take their medicine.

The New Cork Center Ball.

"It isn't the cork center that makes the ball lively and causes so much hitting," said a veteran student of baseball yesterday. "It's the fact that the pitchers find the ball too hard to curve with their former skill. You see, the cork center is so large that twice as much force is required to throw it as the ball is like the one used in cricket. It is like wood and the pitchers in gripping it between the thumb and fingers find that the surface does not give. You can make a soft ball curve almost at will. Anybody who knows will admit that. But the hard ball, such as the big leagues are using now, is far different. The pitchers can't get the old breaks and shoots and as the ball necessarily cuts the plate straight and fast the good batsmen kill it. You'll find that all the best pitchers are having trouble this year and most of them will tell you that the old curves are impossible. The ball used two years ago was just soft enough near the surface to permit of a tight grip, and that meant plenty of effectiveness."—Baseball World.

RUBE MARQUARD

The $11,000 Beauty Who Is Winning Games for the New York Giants This Season

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE STRUGGLE

The National League struggle is the best for years and ought to be close to the very end. Five clubs have made a very good showing. New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and St. Louis. The knowing ones were convinced that the St. Louis bunch should do so much better than the Cincinnati Reds. It looks as if the weakness of the league were Cincinnati, Brooklyn and Boston and that they will finish in that order. Brooklyn has some of the finest material in the country but somehow fails to land. The Phillies have aroused the most enthusiasm in years in their own city by the fine work they have been doing. Pittsburgh has made some sweeping changes in its team yet has found it self strong enough to make matters warm for its opponents. We are now threatened with Honus Wagner as a first baseman, and if that is done a position that has been weak long enough will be strengthened. Honus is still fast enough to make a good showing at short, and thanks to the are he has taken of himself, ought to be able to do so for some time to come. The German can play almost anywhere. Had he been an outfielder he would have made one of the finest in the land owing to his wonderful round covering ability and that great arm of his. Manager Fred Clarke still continues in the game and still figures as one of the finest outfielders in the country.

In the American League Ty Cobb has not only succeeded in doing superb work in all departments but is playing faster ball than ever and never has done more work to win games for his club than this season. He is fairly in a class by himself, and top-notch that he is; plays with the same reckless disregard of results as ever. A man of the speed of Ty is bound to cause trouble for someone, but it is sheer nonsense that he will consent to stop up for some player who fails to get out of the way. It is nothing if not dangerous to catch a man like Cobb when he is making for a base under full headway and any fielder who attempts to stop him does so at his own peril and need not wait for apologies from Ty if he comes to grief. Attempts galore have been made to prove that Ty is a dirty ball player, and those who howl the loudest at him are the ones who would do the same for him were he a member of the team in the city for which they root. It all depends whose ox is gored. Talking about Ty, it must not be forgotten that his side partner, Sam Crawford, is also going some superb ball tossing for the Detroit team. Crawford is another member of the old guard who has no difficulty in making good year after year. Detroit will find it a difficult matter to replace him when his playing days are over.—Baseball World.

Giants Again in Lead.

New York, Aug. 26.—New York again went into the lead yesterday by defeating Pittsburgh in the third game of the series. Hendrix, a recruit, pitched a great game, holding New York to two hits. He was retired in the eighth to let Campbell bat for him and New York won in the second half of the inning by bunting two hits and a steal with a pass. Ames was wild at the start, but only one run was scored against him. Crandall, who succeeded him in the third, pitched a steady game, errors by Doyle, giving Pittsburgh their run in the eighth. Gibson made a notable catch of Fletcher's foul in the eighth, striking his head against a post in front of the press box in getting the ball.

Good Conditions in Southwest Texas.

San Antonio, Aug. 26.—(Special)—Heavy rains in all parts of Southwest Texas, put pastures in fine shape and cattleman are jubilant over the prospect of cattle in fine condition when the autumn round-up comes. Almost every part of the state has been visited by rain within the past two weeks and in some places the amount precipitated has approached a 100d. At Dalhart in the Panhandle country the down-pour was four inches.

Cotton growers, too, are much elated over the fine prospects for an increase in the crops as a result of rains. While it is true that rain in the picking season does not add to the moisture added to the life of the plant and prolongs the picking season.

Call for Dry Farming Congress at Abilene September 27-28

Haskell, Texas, Aug. 26.—J. E. tion and culture and the crops best suited to the soil, climate and season. Texas Dry Farming Congress, has issued the following call for the meeting at Abilene, September 27-28:

The fact that throughout a large area of the United States, known as Central West Texas Dry Farming Congress at its meetings in Haskell region, which is admittedly of a semi-arid nature, a system of preparation and tillage has been developed, which gives greatly increased yields as well as certainty of yield under most trying conditions; the fact that greatly increased yields have been secured wherever the U. S. Co-Operative Farm Demonstration methods have been carried out and the further fact that farmers here and there throughout our own section have produced far better results than the general average of the country, gives rise to the well founded belief that there is a better system than that generally practiced, and, which may be adapted to our section, therefore it is but the plain dictate of reason, sane judgment and self-interest, yes, self-preservation, that we should earnestly seek the underlying truths upon which such improved system is based.

The long continued prevalence of adverse seasonal conditions throughout our country and the meager crop returns make this proposition clear to all unprejudiced minds.

It is the purpose of this Congress that its members shall reason together, receive information along these lines and promulgate it as far as possible. To this end every farmer in this section is invited to attend this Congress at Abilene, either to become a member or as a mere seer and a hearer.

Program

Negotiations are in progress to secure the strongest array of speakers and lecturers—men who are equipped with scientific knowledge and fortified by actual experience—at this congress to discuss the vital, fundamental questions pertaining to agriculture in this section, that ever appeared before a West Texas audience. As soon as the program is completed it will be sent out for publication in the newspapers.

Entertainment.

Abilene has on a number of occasions demonstrated its hospitality and ability to entertain by its successful handling of large gatherings. It has ample facilities of all kinds for taking care of this Congress. Having invited its assemblage there, we are assured by Mr. B. E. Looney, secretary of the Abilene 25,000 Club, that no effort will be spared in providing for the convenience and comfort of the members nor to make the Congress a pleasant and profitable experience to all who may attend it.

Membership.

Recognizing the fact that the welfare of every business and interest of our country is interwoven with the success or failure of its agriculture, the membership of this Congress is not restricted to farmers alone. Every business man should familiarize himself with and acquire an intelligent view of the objects and purposes of this movement.

Honorary Members.

State Commissioner of Agriculture.

State Senators and Representatives, Secretaries of Commercial Organizations.

Presidents of County Farmers Unions.

Presidents of District Farmers Unions.

Presidents of Farmers Institutes.

County Judges.

Editors of West Texas.

Mayors of towns and cities.

Industrial Agents of Railroads.

Each of the above officials is hereby authorized and requested to appoint five delegates to this congress, having in view the intelligence and capacity of the persons appointed.

All who attended the last meeting at Haskell, are recognized members without further appointment.

Come whether you are appointed a delegate or not. The only difference is that the accredited delegates will vote and participate in the organization of the Congress. You can join after you arrive if you desire to do so.

By order of the Executive Committee and President.

Respectfully,
J. E. POOLE, Secretary Central West Texas Dry Farming Congress.

Pains All Over.

Houston, Texas.—"For five years," says Mrs. L. Fluheneck, of this place, "I suffered with pains all over, and especially in my back and side, and was so sick and weak I could hardly do my housework. A friend told me of Cardui. Since taking it, I feel so much better! Now I can do all my housework and pains don't bother me any more at all." Cardui is a strength-builder. Fifty years of success have proved it. During this time, Cardui has relieved the female ailments of over a million women. Why not try it? Your druggist sells it.

Equality of strength in both arms occurs almost twice as frequently among women as among men, a very large majority of the latter being stronger in their right arms than in their left.

$45,000 BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT APPEALED

(Henrietta Serchlight)

J. L. Huggins, the wealthy Henrietta cattle man, against whom Mrs. C. T. Carey, 414 Taylor street, secured $45,000 damages for his failure to marry her, in the district court of Clay county last May, filed his appeal in the court of civil appeals Tuesday.

Prejudice on the part of the jury is set up as one of the grounds for a reversal of the judgement.

It is recited that when the jury came in they submitted a verdict that was a curious mixture of the verbiage of verdicts in criminal and in civil cases, as follows:

"We, the jury, find the defendant, J. L. Huggins, guilty as charged in the indictment, and assess his punishment at $32,000 actual damages, and $10,000 special damages."

The verdict's wording was changed to conform to civil procedure under the courts instruction.

Mrs. Carey sued Huggins for $65,000 damages, alleging that he had failed to keep his promise to marry her. Mrs. Carey is 23, while Huggins is 63. Huggins owns 14,000 acres of land, according to his testimony in the trial of the case.

Mrs. Carey testified that she met Huggins in an apartment house, on Fifth and Throckmorton streets in Fort Worth, during recent cattle men's convention. She says he proposed to her before the year was over, and that she accepted him.

Mrs. Carey alleged in her original petition that Huggins renewed his promise from time to time until January 1, 1911, when he said he could not marry her. Mrs. Carey testified in the trial of the case that Huggins had given her in money and in diamonds about $7,500 his largest single gift being $3,000 on September 1, 1907. Huggins denied in the trial that he had ever proposed to marry Mrs. Carey.

Helen Lowell will star during the coming season in "Next," a new farce by Rida Johnson Young and expects to open her season early in September.

The Cotton States League teams do not seem to be able to stop Vicksburg. The Hill Billies look like sure winners.

SPUR FARM LANDS

A wonderful new farming country of rich valleys and uplands is being opened to actual home-seekers in the upper Brazos country, at prices from $12 to $18 per acre, one-fifth down, balance distributed over six years, payable on or before maturity. These lands produce as heavily and as reliably as high priced lands of Central and East Texas. No boll weevil, no hog cholera. Great cotton and feed crops are maturing this year—a bale to the acre will not be unusual. Several last year's purchasers will pay out their lands in full from this year's cotton crop. This is YOUR chance for a home in a reliable, productive country. Buy direct from us as owners. Considering price and production in a wide range of farm crops, there is no equal chance in agricultural Texas. Railroads through lands, thriving towns, fine healthful climate, altitude 2300 feet, good schools, good churches, good neighbors. We earnestly invite inspection of the wonderful Spur while crops are yet in the field. A large percentage of those who investigate are buying. Secure your home before prices advance.

WICHITA FALLS MOTOR COMPANY TO BEGIN OPERATIONS IN SEPTEMBER

Motor Trucks and Delivery Wagons Will be Manufactured—Model Cars are Now in Operation in Detroit—Forty Mechanics Coming Early in September

The Times presents herewith reproductions from photographs of the sample cars of the "Wichita Falls" Motor Company, recently constructed at Detroit under the supervision of C. A. McKiernan, patentee of the siggle lever control to be used on the products of the factory at this place.

The cut of one of the cars shows Mr.
graph having been taken on the streets of Detroit. These cars are the exact model of the cars to be manufactured at this place, and in addition to the patterns shown herewith other designs will be made on special order. Every part of the cars with the exception of the tires and one or two small parts, will be turned out

in the factory here, and the work incident to the completion of the cars
employment to a large number of men. J. G. Culbertson, secretary of the company, states that forty skilled mechanics will be sent from the
east to Wichita Falls early in Sepember to be employed in the factory.

Other laborers, and a large number will be required, will be secured from among our home people and these will be given an opportunity to learn the work as fast as conditions will permit.

Mr. Culbertson announces that tools for the factory, valued at several thousand dollars, have already been shipped and are expected early in to begin an extensive advertising campaign as soon as the factory is started and there is little doubt that the demand for the cars will equal or exceed the capacity of the plant within a few months at least.

The McKiernan device, it is claimed, will make the operation of trucks by inexperienced drivers practical, thus obviating the principal objection to

two small parts, will be turned out
in the factory here, and the work incident to the completion of the cars
employment to a large number of men. J. G. Culbertson, secretary of the company, states that forty skilled mechanics will be sent from the
east to Wichita Falls early in Sepem-
ber to be employed in the factory.

September. The sample cars referred to above are expected to reach Wichita Falls by September 10th and Mr.
McKiernan is expected to return to the city about that time.

The illustrations shown herewith represent two classes of delivery cars that occupied by Mr. McKiernan being intended for light work, such as the use of such trucks. The motor trucks now in use necessitate the employment of expert drivers and this has prevented their general use. It has claimed for the McKiernan patent that it makes it impossible to tear out the gear of a machine. It also makes the operation of a machine easy and safe.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon A. C. McClure by making publication of this citation, once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return hereof in some newspaper, published in Wichita County, Texas, to appear at the next regular term of the Justice Court of Precinct
No. 1 in Wichita County, Texas, to be the 15th day of Aug. A. D. 1911 in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 4123, wherein G. C. Patterson is plaintiff, and A. C. McClure is defendant, said petition alleges, that on or about Jan. 16th, 1911, A. C. Mc-Clure, defendant herein executed, and delivered to G. C. Patterson, plaintiff herein, a certain promissory note in the sum of $160, due on or before

Aug. 1st, 1911, with interest from date at the rate of 10% per annum, and providing for 10% additional on the amount of principle and interest, then due as attorney's fees if default was made in the payment thereof; that to secure the payment of said note, defendant A. C. McClure executed and delivered to plaintiff G. C. Patterson a chattel mortgage lien on personal property as follows: One blue horse mule about 8 years old, about 15 1/2 hands high; one black mare mule about 8 years old, about 15 1/2 hands high; one blue mare mule about 8 years old, about 15 1/2 hands high.

The said note is now long since past due, and, although demand have often been made of defendant for its payment, defendant has failed and refused to pay same, or any part thereof, to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $160.00.

next term thereof this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.
