7 Escapees Terrorize Ruby Trial Witness

Four Are Recaptured

By TOM JOHNSON

DALLAS (AP)—Seven prisoners staged a spectacular break from the Dallas County Jail Friday and terrorized a former strip-tease dancer who was about to testify in the Jack Ruby murder trial.

"Oh, my God, he's after me," cried 19-year-old Karen Lynn (Little Lynn) Bennett, as she saw an escapee brandishing what looked like a pistol.

Little Lynn, who worked for Ruby in his Carousel Club, is pregnant and several days overdue for birth.

Four men were recaptured shortly after the break about 3:30 p.m. The other three still were at large today.

The escape wrought shouting confusion in the hallway outside the courtroom where Ruby was on trial, but the session was not interrupted. Few inside were aware of the melee.

"Little Lynn" was being escorted to the women's room by Mrs. Melvin Belli, wife of the head defense lawyer, and Mrs. Rosemary Allen, a sheriff's deputy, when she saw an escapee with a pistol stuck in the back of a hostage, Mrs. Ruth Thornton.

Mrs. Allen shouted for help and then she and Mrs. Belli took "Little Lynn" into the protection of a stairwell, behind a steel door.

Lynn regained her composure after the excitement subsided, and was calm when she took the stand as a witness for the defense.

Sheriff Bill Decker said the escape began when seven prisoners pushed their way into an elevator as it stopped on the sixth floor near a table where the weekly soap ration was being distributed to prisoners and demanded to be taken to the second floor.

There they took the keys from the jailer operating the elevator and poured into the hallway that runs from 40 or 50 feet to the door of Judge Joe B. Brown's court, where Ruby is being tried for the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Two jailbreakers ran into Probate Court. One—Johnny R. Jenkins, 31—was captured by Burnell Hall and H.H. McKaye, administrative assistants to the probate judge.

The other man—who wielded a realistic pistol fashioned from soap, cardboard and a pencil and painted black with shoe polish — went into Probate Court. He shoved a pistol in the back of Mrs. Thornton, about 60, widow of a former district judge, and demanded: "Show me the way to get out of this place."

Mrs. Thornton said he told her he would not harm her if she showed him the way. "I said, 'Let's go,'" she related.

As the escapee and Mrs. Thornton moved toward Judge Brown's court and a stairway leading to the sidewalk, she told newsmen, deputies and spectators to "please step back... please stay back."

Outside, Deputy Sheriff Charles Player took the fake gun from the prisoner. Other deputies then overpowered him. The prisoner, C. David Gregory, 20, was held on armed robbery charges.

Apprehended shortly after the break in different parts of Dallas were Hershell Crocker, 26, sentenced to life in prison for two robberies, and Tommy P. Calverley, 28, convicted of armed robbery. All four are from Dallas.

At large were Randolph R. Hudnall, 21, of West Palm Beach, Fla., being held for military authorities; Billy Ray Brock, 36, Dallas, sentenced to 15 years for robbery; and Leonard F. Driggers, 29, Dallas, in jail for alleged theft.

King Paul Is Mourned In Greece

By GERALD MILLER

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—In a hearse with drawn black curtains, the body of King Paul was brought to Athens today to lie in state. Behind it rode his popular, 23-year-old son, now King Constantine, whose ascension to the throne in time of crisis tempered the grief of the nation.

Paul's body was taken from suburban Tatoi Palace to the Royal Palace in the center of this capital. It was placed in the main ceremonial hall, where three hours after Paul's death Friday night Constantine took his oath to defend the Greek nation and the orthodox faith. It will remain there until Monday when it will be moved for public viewing at the Metropolis, the Greek Orthodox cathedral.

With Constantine was his mother, Queen Frederika. Constantines' fiancee, Princess Anne Marie of Denmark, and his sister, Crown Princess Irene, rode behind them.

The Greek public appeared to have confidence in Constantine, now the world's youngest reigning monarch, in an hour of national crisis over the dispute between the Greek and Turkish communities on Cyprus.

King Paul, 62 and in the 17th year of his reign, died Friday of a series of complications arising after surgery for a stomach ulcer Feb. 21.

Women wept in the streets as church bells tolled and a lone cannon atop Lycabetus Hill boomed an hourly salute to the dead ruler.

Expressions of regret poured in from world leaders, including President Johnson and U.N. Secretary-General U Thant.

King Constantine—a 6-foot-3 sportsman already beloved by his people as "Tino"—has spent years being groomed for the throne.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson paid a surprise visit Friday night to a party attended by Mexican and United States Congress members.

His departure was marked by a quick stop by the limousine in which he was riding to let a speeding ambulance go by.

TESCO Plans Huge New Plant

COLORADO CITY, — Texas Electric Service Company will build a half million kilowatt electric generating unit as an addition to its Morgan Creek Power Plant near here, Beeman Fisher, president of the company, announced Saturday morning.

The big new unit, which will cost approximately $30,000,000 will make the Morgan Creek Plant one of the largest electric generating plants in the Southwest, Fisher said. When this unit is completed, the plant will have a total generating capability of 833,000 kilowatts, two and one half times its present size.

Preliminary design work has been under way for several weeks pending final decision to locate the plant here, Fisher said.

Orders for equipment will be placed immediately. The plant is to be completed and tested for operation in early 1967.

Fisher said that rapid and continuing growth of the area served by the company, as well as forecasts of continued growth, prompted the decision some months ago to build the new unit, but that the location was not decided upon until studies were completed.

"Many factors had to be considered in selecting a site," Fisher said. "Chief of these factors involved an adequate water supply and technical matters in the efficient operation of the entire company power system which extends from the Fort Worth area to beyond the Pecos river in West Texas," Fisher said.

The company has ample water here to supply cooling water for the big steam condensers of the plant. It owns Lake Colorado City as well as the adjacent Champion Creek Lake. These lakes are connected by pipeline. Colorado City purchases its municipal water supply from these lakes.

Natural gas to fire the big boiler of the new power generating unit, as well as the boilers of the five existing units, will be supplied by a big pipeline being completed by the Odessa Natural Gasoline Company from near Crane to the Morgan Creek Plant and by the Lone Star Gas Company system.

The huge boiler of the new unit will be 202,000 cubic feet in size, as compared with the 104,000 cubic foot boiler of the largest unit now at the plant, and will consume nearly five mil-

About That Coliseum

Financing construction of a coliseum will not increase anybody's tax bill for the simple reason that Scurry County is just about out of debt now and taxes allocated for paying off the present debt can be switched to a coliseum.

Few counties ever get out of debt. They may operate for a period of years without obligations outside routine operations, but in most such cases they still owe a debt — a debt to the citizens occasioned by negligence in providing facilities and services for the public benefit.

Why should a bond issue be voted? Why can't the county save up the money and pay for projects as they develop? Why is the bond election the first step toward actual construction?

To begin with, county governments are not in operation to build up surpluses. They are expected to maintain their specified operations and then levy taxes to cover them plus any capital improvement programs the taxpaying voters may approve.

When a capital outlay proposed, the first big order of business is to acquire approval of the taxpaying voters. Although a lot of preliminary work will remain after the bond election, there really isn't much that can be done until it is determined that the taxpaying voters want it.

All remaining preliminary work toward construction of a coliseum will entail some expense. Although they might spend a little money for some general preliminary work to assure themselves that a project is feasible and that sufficient interest exists to call an election, the commissioners court would indeed be premature to authorize any substantial expenditure for such things as detailed plans, a building site, etc., before the bond election is held.

Approval by the taxpaying voters is the "green light" required to actually set the project in motion. It is the next step in the coliseum proposal, and it must take place before anything else can be done.

New City Started In Scurry County

BY DICK ROBERTS

Seven new couples moved to Snyder last week.

And already, the new residents have made themselves at home. That's no small accomplishment either, since the new residents had to build their homes after they arrived.

It's true that they were expected, and that Jay Ramsey and his park crew had gone to considerable effort to prepare a place for them to settle, but still, everybody has to make changes to suit themselves when they move into a new home.

That's the way it was Thursday when the first occupants of Snyder's prairie dog town moved in. About 10 holes had been started, just to give them a little help, but while they seemed to appreciate this help, and used the holes, which had been on an angle about 18 inches deep, as a start, they had to get busy moving dirt to get the holes really homelike.

The construction work on their new homes came at the end of a busy day for the prairie dogs.

At about 10 o'clock that morning they had been removed from a large steel cage in a warehouse at MacKenzie Park in Lubbock where they had been staying while waiting for transportation to their new home. Some of them had been in that cage for a couple of days or so, because prairie dogs catching takes just a little time.

Normally, if the prairie dogs are wild, a bread-baited trap is suitable for catching the little fellows. But at MacKenzie Park, so much bread, donuts, popcorn and other goodies are furnished by visitors to their nine-acre city, that stale bread in a trap isn't too inviting to the residents.

Therefore, other methods of catching them have to be employed. H. B. (Barney) Barnett, head of the park patrol service at MacKenzie Park, went fishing for the prairie dogs to fill Snyder's request.

If "fishing" for prairie dogs SOUNDS peculiar, think how peculiar it must LOOK to passersby who see a grown man with a fishing rod and reel casting out onto an open spot of prairie, and then reeling in a Cynomys ludovicianus. That's a prairie dog.

Mr. Barnett, (who says he got his nickname "Barney" only after TV's Barney became popular) baits a hook with bread. When a "dog" picks it up, a quick jerk catches him in the paw. However, the little paws are so tough from digging in rocky soil, that it doesn't hurt the dog, and doesn't even draw blood.

But after just a few dogs are caught, Mr. Barnett has to stop fishing. Why? Because his activities draw such a crowd of curious spectators, that the little fellows get nervous and retreat to their holes. That's the reason it takes a while to as-

There will also be displays of Scurry County Indian artifacts.

Committees to work on various phases of historical activities in the count will be set up at the Monday meeting. Hugh Taylor is president of the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee.

New City Started In Scurry County

BY DICK ROBERTS

Seven new couples moved to Snyder last week.

And already, the new residents have made themselves at home. That's no small accomplishment either, since the new residents had to build their homes after they arrived.

It's true that they were expected, and that Jay Ramsey and his park crew had gone to considerable effort to prepare a place for them to settle, but still, everybody has to make changes to suit themselves when they move into a new home.

That's the way it was Thursday when the first occupants of Snyder's prairie dog town moved in. About 10 holes had been started, just to give them a little help, but while they seemed to appreciate this help, and used the holes, which had been on an angle about 18 inches deep, as a start, they had to get busy moving dirt to get the holes really homelike.

The construction work on their new homes came at the end of a busy day for the prairie dogs.

At about 10 o'clock that morning they had been removed from a large steel cage in a warehouse at MacKenzie Park in Lubbock where they had been staying while waiting for transportation to their new home. Some of them had been in that cage for a couple of days or so, because prairie dogs catching takes just a little time.

Normally, if the prairie dogs are wild, a bread-baited trap is suitable for catching the little fellows. But at MacKenzie Park, so much bread, donuts, popcorn and other goodies are furnished by visitors to their nine-acre city, that stale bread in a trap isn't too inviting to the residents.

Therefore, other methods of catching them have to be employed. H. B. (Barney) Barnett, head of the park patrol service at MacKenzie Park, went fishing for the prairie dogs to fill Snyder's request.

If "fishing" for prairie dogs SOUNDS peculiar, think how peculiar it must LOOK to passersby who see a grown man with a fishing rod and reel casting out onto an open spot of prairie, and then reeling in a Cynomys ludovicianus. That's a prairie dog.

Mr. Barnett, (who says he got his nackname "Barney" only after TV's Barney became popular) baits a hook with bread. When a "dog" picks it up, a quick jerk catches him in the paw. However, the little paws are so tough from digging in rocky soil, that it doesn't hurt the dog, and doesn't even draw blood.

But after just a few dogs are caught, Mr. Barnett has to stop fishing. Why? Because his activities draw such a crowd of curious spectators, that the little fellows get nervous and retreat to their holes. That's the reason it takes a while to as-

COUNTY FAIR GROUP TO LAUNCH EFFORT TUES.

Activities of the Scurry County Fair Association are expected to get underway next week following a meeting Tuesday of the Association.

L. M. Dawson, chairman of the organizational committee for the Association, announced Friday that the charter for the organization had been received from the Secretary of State incorporating the association as a non-profit organization.

Dawson expressed his appreciation to the Snyder Jaycees for their help in obtaining the charter, especially their paying of the necessary fees.

The meeting has been called for 7 p.m. March 10 in the district courtroom.

Leroy Colgan, county agent of Dawson County, will meet with the group to share his experiences gained over several years of organizing and working with the Dawson County Fair. He will also answer questions, which should be of considerable help to the local group.

Officers of the Association will be elected Tuesday night, and the length of the directors' terms will be established.

Directors of the Scurry County Fair Association were chosen at the organizational meeting several weeks ago. They are: J. N. Eicke, Carl Williams, Mrs. Jimmy Beck, C. A. Daugherty, M. C. Fowler, Mrs. Guy Stoker, Jim Sterling, Leroy Key, Mrs. Raymond Robinson, Frank Barnes, Martin Murphy, Mrs. Alfred Davis, Hugh Taylor, Alvis Minton, H. W. Cargile, Claude McCormick, Max West, Roger Mize, Mrs. Roy Hanson, Mrs. A. Z. Glover and Mrs. S. L. Terry.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You have always insisted that the white wedding gown and veil are symbols of chastity and vriginity, and should be worn only by brides who have earned them. Now you quote from St. Thomas Aquinas and seem to have wavered from your original stand. I certainly believe in the forgiveness of sins, that even the sin of unchastity can be, and is, forgiven by the Lord if the sinner is truly repentant. But this forgiveness does not remove the consequences of the sin. The unchaste woman may be forgiven by the Lord, but she still loses her right to the symbols of virginity. I urge you to remain firm in your original position. Our young people learn that there are certain penalties for unchastity and rewards for purity.

A CONCERNED PASTOR

DEAR PASTOR: I remain firm in my stand, and waver not the slightest. I printed the Catholic point of view, though it is not my own, in fairness to my readers.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My son has been married approximately six years, and so far all they have been able to raise are dogs. They seem very satisfied, and there is never any mention of their having children. They have two Boston bulls at present and they treat them like babies. Should I ask my daughter-in-law if that's the best she can do?

DISGUSTED MOTHER-IN-LAW

DEAR DISGUSTED: Ask your son. But don't be surprised if he tells you he'll "do better" when he's doggone good and ready.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Our father is a surly, argumentative type who could never get along with anybody. Mamma was an angel, and even she couldn't please him. She died two years ago and now Father is 59 and lives alone. He tried living with each one of us (we are all married) but he never lasted over two months with any of us. He left every place mad! Just before Christmas he wrote each of us telling us not to buy him anything because he wasn't buying us anything — not even the grandchildren. My oldest sister was so ashamed she bought her children gifts and put "Love from Grandpa" on the cards. Now he has sent us each another letter saying that when he dies he doesn't want to "bother" any of his children with the burial — that he has everything fixed up with the Veterans' Burial Association. Should we ignore him or try to make the peace?

SPEAKING FOR THE FIVE OF US

DEAR SPEAKING: It is sometimes difficult to tell whether a person is sick, or just "acting ugly." Someone in your family should keep in touch with him because he appears to need help. Try to keep the peace even if you must go 95 per cent of the way. You won't regret it.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem. The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It feels like nothing on but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

About 150 dogs a year are shipped from MacKenzie Park's Prairie Dog Town. Mr. Barnett said that every year he expects the demand to be filled, and that the request for dogs will stop. But so far, every year there's somebody wanting prairie dogs.

Often the requests come from zoos. Normally, zoos trade animals, but all that MacKenzie Park has ever wanted or taken in trade for their prairie dogs are some swans, sent in exchange by a zoo in Maryland.

The furthest that Lubbock prairie dogs have gone is to Morocco, North Africa. At last report, those prairie dogs were doing fine, and Mr. Barnett had received a picture of them and their Arab benefactor.

At first glance, Snyder's prairie dogs seemed to be calm, cuddly little fellows, resting peacefully in their cage in Lubbock. But before Barney even started to move them into their traveling cage, he donned a heavy leather glove. It seemed like an awfully big glove for such little dogs.

But in a minute, his wisdom, born of experience, was proved. Those cuddly little fellows can bite! The first one to bite the glove drew a good loud "ouch" from the owner of the hand in the glove.

But, bites or no bites, all the dogs were transferred to the smaller cage, and started their trip to Snyder.

Mr. Barnett explained that prairie dogs join colonies, and that members of other colonies better not trespass on the real estate occupied by another. If one does stray across the property line, the fur really flies until the trespasser goes back where he belongs.

Under normal circumstances, only one family occupies a hole and the L-shaped holes don't interlock. Mr. Barnett said, however, that where Prairie dogs are confined to an areas as they are in Lubbock or here in Snyder, probably all the holes of each colony will interlock.

Mr. Barnett said that prairie dogs use their holes for more than just living quarters. If a snake should make the mistake of invading a prairie dog hole, he won't come out again.

Prairie dogs are just not good hosts to snakes. When the snake gets in the house, the owner just closes off one room of his house—the room where the snake is. And when a prairie dog closes off a room, and tamps the dirt in place, nobody is coming out of that room again.

The same method is used when a prairie dog dies. Normally he will die underground, and his friends and relatives will seal off his room. Should he die above ground, he is pulled down into the hole where he is sealed up. About a year later, the room is again opened, and whatever bones remain are carried above ground, and the room is made ready for use again as living quarters.

Prairie dogs have one family a year in the spring. A litter usually consists of from three to seven pups. The gestation period is about six weeks, and the chances are that some new citizens will be born here this month.

Snyder's prairie dogs are a part of the relative handful of survivors of a prairie dog population which was estimated to have exceeded 400 million on the Texas South Plains before the white man came.

Lubbock was near the center of a prairie dog colony which covered 37,000 square miles just 100 years ago.

Snyder's prairie dog town was built so that children, today, (and grown-ups too) could see and enjoy this symbol of the old West, and to maintain this link with our heritage.

The new steel tower transmission line recently completed between Odessa and Fort Worth which ties into the Morgan Creek Plant and other plants of the company, is a vital part of the company's orderly development of its strong power system, Fisher said.

This "backbone" line, now operating at 138,000 volts is capable of transmitting large blocks of power. A double conductor or "bundled" second circuit is now being added to this line between the Morgan Creek Plant and Odessa. This work is to be completed in the spring, and the second circuit will be added to the line between Fort Worth and the company power plant near Graham, with completion scheduled for next year. The "backbone" line between Odessa and Fort Worth is to be converted to 345,000 volt operation in 1967 when the new unit at Morgan Creek Plant goes into operation.

Also included in the overall construction program is the installation of large new substations at various load centers.

Texas Electric Service Company's power system is interconnected to the power systems of Dallas Power & Light Company and the Texas Power & Light Company, Fisher said. The latter system also is interconnected with the system of Houston Lighting and Power Company.

"By 1967 these interconnected systems will include 345,000 volt lines from Odessa to the Fort Worth - Dallas area and south to Houston and will tie together more firmly power plants with capability of over ten million kilowatts," Fisher added. "Interconnections with systems of other companies operating wholly within the state constitute a statewide power grid. There is no need for the Federal government to spend any money to build facilities to interconnect the systems of the companies which make up this Texas grid. These companies realized the advantages of interconnections many years ago and built these facilities with funds provided by investors in the securities of the companies," he said.

Turk Hostages To Be Released

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Turkish Cypriots hoped today for reunions with about 200 Turkish hostages held by the embattled island's Greek community.

Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president, ordered release of the hostages Friday in an effort to calm Cyprus' Turkish minority.

He said they would be turned over to the International Red Red Cross today.

As new fighting resulted in two more deaths, Makarios also promised his government "will make every effort and will take all necessary measures in order to suppress any unlawful acts and to enforce law and order."

Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani of India, named commander of the U.N. Cyprus peace force, said the release of hostages by both sides will "help the situation here enormously."

Dr. Fazil Kuchuk, Turkish Cypriot vice president, said the Turks will free their "few Greek hostages if Makarios carries out his pledge. Kuchuk said the Greeks had 207 Turkish Cypriots.

Kuchuk said the release of hostages would not solve the Cyprus problem. He said the proposed U.N. peacekeeping force must disarm the Greek community before the Turks lay down their arms.

At the United Nations, Secretary-General U Thant found unexpected difficulties in creating the international force, authorized by the Security Council Wednesday.

He invited six nations to provide troops. Sweden promised a battalion of about 800 men for the three months' duty stipulated by the council, but asked for assurances that Sweden will not be the only neutral nation participating and questioned the force's size, status, duration and duties.

Brazil rejected Thant's bid for troops. Finland, Ireland and Canada indicated reservations about joining the force, while Austria was considered likely to contribute only a noncombat hospital unit.

Thus, a large share of the peacekeeping role may continue to fall to the British, who have reluctantly kept 7,000 soldiers on Cyprus in anticipation of the arrival of the U.N. force.

Continued British participation was indicated by Gyani's expressed desire to name the British Cyprus commander, Maj. Gen. R.N.P. Carver, as deputy commander of the international force. Britain reinforced its garrison on Cyprus shortly after the outbreak of communal fighting on the former British colony last December.

Fighting continued for the third straight day in scattered areas of the island Friday. Two Turks were killed and a Turkish girl and four Greeks were wounded.

Proposal For A Coliseum Merits Positive Appraisal

The proposal to issue bonds for construction of a coliseum here is being presented strictly in a positive manner and taxpaying voters should consider it on that basis when they go to the polls next Saturday.

There had been talk and speculation about such a project here for some time, but usually there were other community affairs which claimed most of the attention of citizens. There are other potential activities which merit consideration even now, but the coliseum project has finally moved to the center of the stage. It must remain there until a decision is reached.

In arriving at their decision we feel that voters should keep in mind that the coliseum is the only project at issue in next Saturday's voting. In so doing, they should be reminded that a vote for the coliseum most certainly is not a vote against any other project.

Although it can properly be related to many factors in community life, the coliseum must necessarily stand alone as a project at this stage. We believe that such a position is fully justified, and consequently recommend a favorable vote on the coliseum bonds.

THE "Write" WAY

By RUTH FOWLER BROWN

Dear Ruth:

I drive a parcel pick-up and delivery truck and one one of my stops there's a woman who always hands me notes regarding the delivery and so on. There's nothing wrong in the notes, but it seems to me she could tell me her instructions without writing them in flowery notes. In practically every one she tells me what she's been doing, like "went to the show last night," or "plan to go to the races Saturday," or "there's a dance at the Palm Club Tuesday". My question, Ruth, is — is she nuts?

Delivery Boy

Dear Boy:

She's nuts about the Delivery Boy! Why don't you ask her for a date? Her handwriting shows she's a good dancer, likes sports, is an interesting and gay person — you could do worse.

• • •

Dear Ruth:

Are the samples of writing in your column really written by the people who ask the questions? Since most of the writing makes a sentence, or at least makes sense, I don't see how a sentence running across a sheet of paper can be made to fit into your column. Do you copy the writing?

Curious

Dear Curious:

No, we're not copy cats. What you see in the column is the actual writing from the letters we receive. What happens is that our Gal Friday clips a suitable sentence from each letter, then cuts it apart and pastes it back together on white paper as a two or three line sample fitting the column width. We call her Sticky Fingers.

• • •

Dear Ruth:

A relative of mine recently wrote me saying she was coming out to visit us this summer. I enjoy having her here about 3 days, which exhausts all the family gossip. After that we have nothing to talk about except her complains of being so old and lonely, and wishing she could find a nice widower.

I'd like to see her, but she always overstays her welcome. She says she'll only stay a few days this time, but before I answer her, could you tell me if I should believe her?

BRENDA

Dear Brenda:

I'm inclined to say "if you think she's a pest, don't ask her to be a guest" — but with the kind and sympathetic nature revealed in your handwriting, I can visualize your frown of disapproval now, and imagine you'll invite her regardless of what I say.

Her handwriting shows depression, frustration, loneliness, and restlessness. She'll overstay her welcome this time, too, because she finds happiness with your family and hates to return to her own lonely life. How about lining up some nice widowers for her during her visit. Things would be pleasanter all around and — who knows — you might get her married off!

Pity The Ill-Attired Bunny Babe

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Should a Bunny girl be fired for wearing crooked ears?

No, says the AFL-CIO Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders International Union.

Neither, says the union, should she be bounced from her job if she doesn't live up to the code of the Playboy Clubs requiring a "well-fitting costume, matching ears, clean and fluffy cottontail."

The union, in a national organizing campaign in behalf of the pretty night club waitresses, wants to substitute orderly grievance procedure for the Playboy Club Bunny Manual."

The union officials announced at a press conference that they are preapred to take legal action under the National Labor Relations Act to protect the rights of the approximately 600 Bunnies who work at Playboy Clubs in New York, Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis, New Orleans, Phoenix, Miami and Manila.

The union wants to institute shop stewards in place of "Bunny mothers," who now regulate the working conditions of the waitresses in the chain of night clubs founded by Playboy Magazine Publisher Hugh Hefner.

In gathering evidence to make a federal case out of the working conditions of the Bunnies, union officials quote one girl as saying she was squeezed into a uniform "so tight that the zipper caught in my skin." The Bunny mother told her to inhale again, and the result "would have made Scarlet O'Hara blanch," the girl said.

Some examples from the manual:

An improperly arranged cottontail, it is made clear, could lead to dismissal.

Another thing that disturbs the union is the system of "checkers" who test the Bunnies by trying to get them to break Playboy Club rules.

"Try to date Bunnies. Try to get Bunnies' phone numbers. Invite Bunnies to parties and see if they accept," says the instructions to the Bunny checkers.

This, says the union, is nothing but "espionage on the job."

Glenn Treated For Concussion

By RONNIE THOMPSON
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Marine Lt. Co. John H. Glenn Jr., spaceman turned politician, underwent treatment for a brain concussion today in a hospital familiar to him from his astronaut days.

Glenn, who bumped his head on a bathtub in his apartment Feb. 26, was transferred yesterday from Columbus, Ohio, to Wilford Hall Hospital on Lackland Air Force Base here.

The 42-year-old Ohio senatorial candidate, who quit the U. S. space program to go into politics, has been at the hospital several times previously, but only to undergo periodic physicals and tests as an astronaut.

Pajama - clad, Glenn smiled but was not talkative as he was lowered from a military air transport services (MATS) plane into a waiting Air Force ambulance at Kelly Air Force Base. The ambulance whisked him to nearby Lackland AFB where he immediately checked into the hospital.

Doctors would not speculate on how long he would be in Wilford Hall. However, Dr. Earl Brannon Jr., chief of orthopedic surgery, said in a news conference:

"We're almost sure he'll be out by April 1."

Glenn, who originally planned to be retired from the Marines March 1 until he fell, is now scheduled to be mustered out april 1. He is expected to immediately swing into his campaign for the Ohio Democratic senatorial nomination in Ohio.

Dr. Brannon, who accompanied Glenn on the six-hour flight to Texas and who has worked with him during previous visits to the hospital, pronounced the former astronaut in "good condiction."

However, he said, the fall injured his inner ear and disturbed his equilibrium.

"He can stand and walk," Brannon said. "But after a time he gets dizzy and suddenly looses his sense of balance."

Brannon said sometimes it takes two or three weeks to overcome an injury of this type. He said there is apparently no permanent brain damage.

The doctor said the purpose of Glenn's transfer to Wilford Hall, one of the Air Force's top hospitals, was for recuperation. He added that since Glenn's medical records from his astronaut days were already at the hospital, this would facilitate some treatment.

Newsmen were not allowed to move closer than 25 feet to the ailing colonel, but at the airstrip and at the hospital. Also, camera lights were not allowed while taking pictures.

Brannon explained that Glenn was tired.

"He had been moved around a lot," the doctor said. "We didn't want to expose him to too much."

Mississippi's Vote Laws Are Ruled Constitutional

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi's controversial voting laws have been found constitutional in a 2-1 decision by a three-judge federal court panel.

The ruling came Friday in a suit by the Justice Department which said the laws were shaped with the intent of barring Negroes from voting. The suit was dismissed.

The laws specify that a voter must be of good moral character and able to read, write and interpret the state constitution to the satisfaction of the registrar.

"No provisions of the state constitution or a statute of Mississippi deprive any citizen of the right to vote because of race or color," the majority opinion said.

The majority was comprised of District Judge Harold Cox of Jackson, Miss. and Judge Ben Cameron of Meridian, Miss., member of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Cameron recently accused the 5th Circuit's chief judge of packing three-judge panels with judges who favor civil rights.

Judge John R. Brown of Houston, Tex., a member of the 5th Circuit, was the dissenter. No dissenting written opinion was issued.

The majority ruling said it was not saying that bad administration of the laws could not give rise to suits.

However, the opinion said, "administration cannot change the constitutional status of the law on its face."

The mississippi voter registration laws discriminate, the majority said, "but in a way that is nowise unconstitutional."

Song Writer Needs Drab Surroundings

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Songwriters—at least some—get their best inspirations from looking at drab, gray walls of city apartments.

Composer Ben Weisman recently moved from New York to Hollywood to write "Fun in Acapulco" for Elvis Presley.

His alifornia studio looked out on the blue Pacific.

"It looked like Acapulco but it was too distracting for song writing. So I pulled the curtains shut—and got my work done."

Was Peter A Pope?

Since the entire structure of Catholicism rests upon the premise that Peter was a Pope, this claim will be considered in detail.

Peter did not fit the Papal pattern because he was married (See Matt. 8:15). In following Christ, Peter "left all" (Matt. 19:27), but he did not leave his wife (1 Cor. 9:5). Peter was an older as well as an apostle (I Peter 5:1). It is required that elders be married men with faithful children (Titus 1:6).

Peter did not fit the Papal pattern because he was poor. When asked for alms, he said, "Silver and gold have I none" (Acts 3:6). Peter was unable to pay a half-shekel tax until provided with the money by a miracle (Matt. 17:24-27). He did not dwell in palaces, surrounded by gold and jewels.

Peter did not fit the Papal pattern because he was humble. He would not allow anyone to call him "father," since this was condemned by Jesus (Matt. 23:8-11). The only title he ever claimed for himself was "Simon Peter, a servant and apostle of Jesus Christ" (2 Peter 1:1). Peter was never carried about on a throne for throngs to bow down before him. When Cornelius bowed before him, Peter said, "Stand up, I myself also am a man" (Acts 10:26). Foreseeing the arrogance and pride of false religious rulers who would be powerful, he exhorted elders not to lord it over the church (1 Peter 5:3). He spoke of himself humbly as "a fellow-elder" (1 Peter 5:1), and when he used the term "chief Shepherd" he was referring not to himself but to Christ (1 Peter 5:4).

Peter did not fit the Papal pattern because he did not consider himself infallible. Jesus once rebulked Peter by saying, "Get theee behind me, Satan" (Matt. 16:23). Peter denied his Lord three times. Peter was guilty of a serious error of conduct in which he led others into error. He was rebuked "before them all" by Paul (Gal. 2:11-14). In considering a doctrinal question in Jerusalem Peter was only one of the speakers (acts 15). It was James, not Peter, (Acts 15:19) who spoke the final word.

Peter did not fit the Papal pattern since he did not teach that he was the head of the church. Peter taught of only one "chief Shepherd" (I Peter 5:4), and that was Christ. Peter taught that the "stone" and "rock" upon which the church was built was not a man but Christ (1 Peter 2:6-8). This teaching agreed with the conversation that Jesus had with Peter (Matt. 16:15-19) where they were not talking about on which man to build the church, but the great question Jesus asked was, "Who say ye that I am?" When Peter gave the correct answer, Jesus answered, "Upon this rock I will build my church." Peter as given the keys of the kingdom of heaven with the power of binding and loosing. This power was shared by the other apostles (Matt. 18:-18, John 20:21-23). Since Peter did not consider himself the head of the church, he made no provision for anyone to succeed him. He said nothing about successors.

Peter did not fit the Papal pattern because the other apostles did not regard him as their superior. Paul said, "I am not a whit behind the very chiefest apostles" (2 Cor. 11:5). And it was Paul who had publicly rebuked Peter for his erroneous conduct (Gal. 2:11-14). Peter was referred to as one of the pillars of the church (Gal. 2:9). Note, Peter was ONE of the pillars, not head of all the churches. The church had been "built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus himself being the chief corner stone" (Eph. 2:20). The church was built on the "apostles," plural, not on one apostle. Although false teachers have attempted to build the church on Peter, "other foundation can no man lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ" (1 Cor. 3:11). Peter was one of the favorite three of the Lord, Peter, James, and John. He was impulsive and a natural leader. He was a beloved and faithful apostle. He was prominent but he was not pre-eminent.

Peter did not fit the Papal pattern because he was not in Rome. There is no Biblical evidence that he was ever in Rome. Paul wrote to the Roman Christians and saluted 27 persons (Rom. 16:3-15) but did not mention Peter. In the last letter Paul wrote to Timothy from Rome, he said, "Only Luke is with me," and "At my first defense, no one took my part, but all forsook me" (2 Tim. 4:11, 16). Where was Peter? He was not in Rome.

Peter did not fit the Papal pattern because Peter taught doctrines different from that of the Pope. Peter believed in baptizing only those who had been taught and who had believed and repented (Acts 2:38). There is no record of his baptizing anyone who was too young to understand what he was doing. Peter taught that disciples of Christ should wear the name "Christian" (1 Peter 4:16). Peter did not believe in traditions, but taught that God's word contains "ALL things that pertain unto life and godliness" (2 Peter 1:3). Peter agreed with the doctorine that Jesus Christ is the only head of the church (Col. 1:18, 2:10, Eph. 1:22, 4:15, 5:23), and that Christ nowhere authorized any man to be head of the church on earth since "All authority in heaven and on earth" has been given to Christ (Matt. 28:18).

Summary: Peter did not fit the Papal pattern, because,

1. He was poor.
2. He was humble.
3. He did not consider himself infallible
4. He did not teach that he was the head of the church
5. The other apostles did not consider him their superior.
6. He was not in Rome.
7. He differed in doctrine from the Popes.

When it is proved that Peter was not a Pope, the whole structure of Catholicism falls, with the so-called "successors" of Peter. Catholicism has no true foundation. The doctrine of the supremacy of Peter and that he had successors is contradictory to the Lord's teaching and plan.

THE FIRST BIG STEP in their trip from Lubbock to Snyder was taken when Snyder's new prairie dogs were placed in a traveling cage. Here H. B. Barnett, MacKenzie Park patrolman who had caught the animals, places them in the cage with the help of Jack Farren, Towle Park foreman.

THE NEXT STEP was an 80-mile ride in the back of a pickup. Farren placed a cover over the cage for two purposes — to protect the prairie dogs from the wind, and also to keep it dark so that they would remain a little more calm.

THE LAST STEP in the prairie dogs trip was this jump from the cage to the welcome earth of Towle Park. Farren and Jay Ramsey, park superintendent, released the prairie dogs shortly after noon Thursday into the area which had been prepared for them. Steel wire, 42 inches deep around their town will keep them at home.

Numbers Shock Internal Revenue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Internal Revenue Service officials were startled when their new computer system turned up 39 tax returns that had the same identification number.

They got another shock when they learned the number had been given out by a five-and-dime chain store 25 years ago.

An IRS official said today that government tax sleuths came up with this explanation:

A variety store chain placed sample Social Security cards in thousands of wallets it sold in 1938. The cards bore the number 078-05-1120 — a number picked at random.

Many taxpayers confused the specimen number with their own number issued by the government.

The billfold business must have been pretty good in 1938: The Social Security Administration found 5,755 of the sample numbers by 1943, and it had considered the matter closed.

But two years ago Congress gave IRS permission to require a tax identification number on every return. In most cases, the Social Security number is the tax identification number.

Most of those wallets probably are a little tattered by now, but No. 078-05-1120 lives on. When taxpayers copied their Social Security numbers onto their returns, it showed up 39 times.

The computer system, the national identity file, spotted the duplications since it matches names and numbers of all taxpayers. It is used to guard against a persons obtaining two or more refunds by filing two or more returns. It is used also as checks on persons who failed to file and those who have moved since filing their last return.

The file also ferreted out a few erroneous numberes copied from billfods sold by another company in 1945.

A few other numbers obviously were copied from magazine or newspaper articles which had illustrations of a Social Security card.

But the champ is No. 078-05-1120. The IRS source didn't know whether things have been straightened out at the Social Security Administration.

Blockade Of Cuba Ineffectual

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fidel Castro may have 200 million sugar dollars this spring to widen the crack in the crumbling U.S. economic blockade of Cuba, exile experts estimate.

The estimate — contingent upon harvesters winning their race with anti-Castro saboteurs — came as Havana radio, monitored here, told of increasing trade relations with Cuba throughout the world.

"We now have credit as do few other countries," the radio quoted the prime minister as saying, "despite efforts of imperialism to strangle us economically."

The Cuban sugar growers association in exile estimated this year's crop at 3.3 million tons. This compared with 3,821,000 tons last year, smallest in 18 years.

A spokesman for the exile group said that if Russia releases to Cuba all over 2 million tons, as expected, Castro could keep a million tons to buy machinery, parts and other things needed to bolster his shaky economy. On paper, Cuba is obligated to sell her sugar to Russia for 6 cents a pound in merchandise. The world market is higher.

4 Children Die In Fire

TAFT, Okla. (AP)—Four children burned to death here Friday night in a fire that leveled their frame home.

The victims were the children of Mrs. Kathryn Nunley, who escaped with four other children.

Linzy W. Wilson, superintendent of the Taft State Home two blocks from the Nunley home, identified the dead children as Karen, 11; Eric, 3, and twins Nannette and Annette, about 2.

Wilson said the walls fell within 15 minutes after the blaze was discovered.

"You couldn't get within 40 feet of that house after it had been burning six or eight minutes," he said.

Two youths who tried to rescue two of the children were driven back by the heat. The youths said they could hear cries from inside the house.

Two bodies were recovered immediately but firemen said it would be some time before rescuers could probe the burning embers for the other two bodies.

Buffalo Bill Show Star Dies Friday

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — John Edward Connolly, 72, one-time bareback riding star with the William F. (Buffalo Bill) Cody Wild West Show, died Friday.

He was gassed while fighting in World War I and a lung disorder forced his retirement in 1940 after 10 years as a musician with name dance bands.

Connolly managed a music store here prior to his band career.

Barry Says He 'Has It Made'

By WALTER R. MEARS

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) —Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., set off on the final day of his campaign in the New Hampshire Republican presidential primary with the confident declaration, "I have it made."

Goldwater told a news conference he believes he will top the popularity contest in Tuesday's balloting and take from 7 to 10 of the state's 14 convention votes.

The Arizona senator said he would not be surprised if Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, came in second to him with a write-in vote, thus topping his chief rival New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Speculating on the Democratic primary to be held the same day, Goldwater said that if a write-in vote for Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy as a vice presidential candidate reaches major proportions "President Johnson is going to be faced with a bear."

"And if he picks Bob Kennedy as a vice president the Republicans are going to beat him — they're going to beat him anyway, but it will be easier.

"Bob on the ticket would make the South see red," Goldwater said.

Goldwater said even if he loses in New Hampshire he will go on campaigning for the presidential nomination.

The senator said he feels sure of convention support from Indiana, Illinois, and the rest of the Middle West.

New Greek King To Be Married

ATHENS (AP)—Greece is to have a new queen who, like her predecessor, is a non-Greek Nordic matching the classic Greek mold of beauty.

Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark, 17, after her marriage to the new King Constantine — tentatively set for next January — will succeed to the place on the throne held by Frederika until the death of King Paul on Friday.

Frederika is a former German princess.

Not All Actors' Sons Follow Suit

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Not all sons of famous actors are following in their father's profession like Jim Mitchum, Pat Wayne, Jody McCrea and others.

Peter Holden, the 18-year-old son of William Holden, is a photographer. He worked on his father's movie "Paris When it Sizzles" with Audrey Hepburn.

Paramount is using some of the stills to publicize the movie.

Says father: "I would prefer him to be a lawyer—especially since all the pictures he took were of Audrey."

Transplanted Hand Must Be Removed

BOSTON (AP) — A spokesman for Peter Bent Brigham Hospital said today surgeons have decided to remove the hand attached to an Ecuadorian sailor last month.

The hospital said the operation will be performed at the hospital this morning.

The patient, Julio Luna, 32, a petty officer in the Ecuadorian Navy, arrived at the hospital Friday night after a plane flight from Guayaquil, Ecuador, where the transplant operation was performed.

The hospital issued this statement:

Examinations and tests conducted during the night indicated that the natural rejection mechanism of the patient had progressed to the point that prolongation of the transplant would jeopardize the health of the patient's own arm."

The hand that was attached to Luna's injured arm at Guayaquil was that of a man who had died a short time before. Such use of a corpse's hand was thought to be unprecedented.

The operation was performed by Dr. Roberto Gilbert on Feb. 13 after a grenade explosion shattered Luna's hand.

Luna was brought to Boston after physicians noted dark spots on the new hand, raising the threat of gangrene.

Border Sets New Records

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

LAREDO (AP)—Five records already were in the books and two others had been tied today as the Border Olympics swung into the university and college classes.

Texas A&M's Danny Roberts went after shot put and discus records as the university division held its preliminaries. Having already bettered the shot put standard of 57 feet 5¾ inches and throwing the discus within inches of the mark of 167 feet 9 inches, Roberts appeared to be the most certain of the record-smashers.

But there were a score of records in danger, a half-dozen of them overall.

Texas A&M was one of the favorites in the university class where defending champion Abilene Christian is not expected to come close to repeating. Baylor and Texas were other favorites.

Texas Southern was poised to win the college division title for the fifth consecutive time.

Howard County went after its sixth straight junior college division championship and appeared destined to make it. The Big Spring school furnished three of five records set in five finals and seven preliminaries Friday. Howard County also qualified in 12 final spots and had the top relay teams.

San Antonio Highlands appeared ready to win the high school championship as the school tied the 440-yard relay record of 42.5, had the third best mile relay team and qualified in nine individual spots.

The high school class produced both of the record ties. Houston Lamar equalled the mile relay standard of 4.21.1.

Warren McVea, the great San Antonio Brackenridge football player, featured the high school preliminaries with a 9.8 100-yard dash, indicating by the ease in which he led his heat that he would be a serious contender for the record of 9.6 when he runs in the high school finals this afternoon.

Records in the junior college division were: Bob Parker, Howard County 14.8 in the high hurdles; Joe Draper, Howard County, 39.8 in the 330-yard hurdles; A. J. Williams, Howard County, 22 feet 11 inches in the broad jump; Roger Kirkwood, Victoria, 10:01.1 in the two mile, and Dickie Uzzle, Blinn, 185 feet 9 inches in the javelin.

Junior college and high school finals are scheduled this afternoon with university and college finals tonight. Randy Matson, the talented freshman Texas A&M shot putter who has done 62 feet 5 inches, will appear in an exhibition.

Adamson, Austin Meet In Finals

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — Four free throws in the final seconds clinched Class AAAA semi-final victories Friday for Dallas Adamson and Stephen F. Austin of Houston putting those teams against each other today in the finals of the state schoolboy basketball tournament.

In all, champions were to be determined in five divisions, B, A, AA, AAA and AAAA.

Besides Adamson and Houston Austin the other finalists were Clear Creek and Graham in Class AAA; Lancaster and Canyon in Class AA; Henrietta and Talco in Class A and McAdoo and Hutto in B.

Houston Austin relied on Larry Skinner's two free tosses with six seconds remaining in a three-minute overtime period to hold off Fort Worth Haltom's Jumping Buffaloes, 74-72, and give the Mustangs a second shot at the title they first won in 1961.

A reserve guard, Tony Gorman, scored his only two points of the game on free throws with two seconds left and insured Adamson's 62-59 victory over San Antonio Lee, who poured in 28 points in the fourth quarter, too late and too few.

Adamson, who has surprised many observers by making it this far, is in the state tournament for the first time.

Haltom and Lee were scheduled to meet in a third place game this morning.

McAdoo, who has never lost a tournament game and won state Class B titles in 1960 and 1963, was scheduled for a 9 a.m. championship tilt with Hutto, a surprising central Texas power. McAdoo, bolstered by four starters off last year's championship team, almost didn't make the final round as Frankston pressed them to the final buzzer before falling 82-78 Friday in a semi-final game.

The total of 160 points scored by both teams broke the old record of 150 set by Mauriceville and Aspermont in 1961. Frankston's Jimmy Moore tallied 42 points, missing by only two breaking the single game individual scoring mark of 43 shared by George Scott of McAdoo, 1960, and John Ray Godfrey of Aspermont, 1962.

Moore came back in a third-place game against Hawley to score 28 points, giving his team a 69-39 victory and claiming for himself the tournament three-game individual scoring record with 95 points. The old mark was 93 points scored by Godfrey in three games in the 1962 tournament.

Moore also had 25 points in Frankston's quarter-final victory over Celeste, besides his near record performance against McAdoo.

Hawley was pushed into the losers bracket after the Bearcats' furious fourth quarter rally fell short and they dropped a 66-65 game to Hutto in the semi-finals. All-state Jim Kruger was high scorer for Hutto in that game with 22 points, while Hawley's all-state player, Eddie Trice, was high for his team with 27.

In other consolation action Friday, South San Antonio got 26 points from Phillip Dugger and 21 from all-state Larry Black to edge Kilgore, 55-52, in Class AAA. Thomas Molina scored 19 points to pace San Diego as the Vaqueros from south Texas ran past Hardin-Jefferson, 51-45, for third place in Class AA. Wayne Weaver with 14 was high for Hardin-Jefferson.

Jimmy Kizer, Tommy Bridges and Jimmy York combined for 45 of East Chambers' points and the southeast Texas team beat Sanford-Fritch from the Panhandle, 54-44, for third place in Class A.

UC Tennis Team Defeats Texas A&M

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — The University of Corpus Christi tennis team beat Texas A&M 5-1 in a dual meet yesterday which featured a doubles match with brothers of three Mexico Davis Cup players in action.

The match which attracted the most attention had Gabino Palafox and Miguel Osuna of Corpus Christi outlasting Raul Contrerras and Luis Roja 6-2, 4-6, 6-1.

Gabino, Miguel and Raul are brothers of Mexico's Davis Cuppers Antonio Palafox, Rafael Osuna and Pancho Contrerras, respectively.

A&M's only win came in the No. 2 doubles with Richard Barker and Ricky Williams defeating Edwardo Guell of Chile and Steve Stockton of Garden City, N. Y., 6-1, 6-2.

In the singles Palafox trimmed Rojas 6-2, 4-6, 6-1; Don Kierbo beat Barker 6-3, 7-5; Guell edged Contrerras 7-5, 4-6, 6-4; and Stockton nudged Williams 6-4, 4-6, 10-8.

Dayton Will Play Without Blackburn

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The last University of Dayton basketball team coached by the late Tom Blackburn will finish its season here tonight, as scheduled, against DePaul.

"That's the way Tom would want it," Mrs. Libby Blackburn told university officials Friday. Later in the day her husband, who compiled one of the nation's outstanding college basketball coaching records in his 17 seasons at Dayton, died of lung cancer. He was 58.

Funeral services will be held here at 10 a.m. Monday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

The soft-spoken, popular Blackburn took teams to the National Invitation Tournament 10 times and won the tourney championship in the 10th try, in 1962.

Blackburn jumped from high school coaching ranks to the Dayton job and compiled a 352-140 record with his 17 Flyer teams.

Blackburn died at Miami Valley Hospital, where he was admitted last Saturday. It was the fourth time since last September that he had been taken to the hospital.

In September, surgery revealed that he had lung cancer, and tumorous tissue was removed from his left lung. A few weeks later, he was out of the hospital, getting his team ready for the 1963-64 season.

ACC Plays In Finals Of Region 4

BEAUMONT (AP) — Abilene Christian College and Southeast Missouri State meet tonight for Region 4 NCAA basketball championship.

Abilene Christian downed Lamar Tech of Beaumont 73-71 and Southeast Missouri beat Colorado State College 83-79 in the opening round Friday night of the regional tournament.

Abilene Christian overcame an 11-point deficit in the second half and staged a perfect freeze with 2½ minutes left to turn back Lamar Tech.

The Abilene team, making 52 per cent of their field goal efforts, were paced by Jim Reynolds, who tallied 25 points.

ACC has a 17-8 season record.

The Missouri-Colorado game started slowly, but Southeast Missouri finally pulled into the lead by using a run and shoot technique.

Southeast Missouri finished the regular season with an 18-5 record.

Lamar Tech and Colorado State will meet tonight before the Abilene Christian-Southeast Missouri game to determine third place in the tournament.

Houston Leads In Border Golf Finals

LAREDO (AP)— The University of Houston boasted a 36-stroke lead going into the final 18 holes of the Border Olympics Golf Tournament today and appeared certain to repeat as champion.

If the Cougars make it, they will be winning their eighth title in 13 years. They had 863 for 54 holes. Texas was second with 899 and North Texas State was third with 902.

San Antonio Alamo Heights had 299 in the first 18 holes yesterday to take the lead in the high school division. Corpus Christi Ray was second, 10 shots behind, Odessa was third with 315. The final 18 holes was played today.

Hungry Pros In Pensacola Lead

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Two victory-starved veterans of the golf tour wars — greying Fred Hawkins and dapper Ken Venturi—led the 69-pro field into the third round of the $30,000 Pensacola Open today.

Hawkins, a 40-year-old golfer from El Paso, Tex., had the upper hand with his nine-under-par 135. He held a one-stroke advantage over the 32-year-old Venturi, who shot the tournament's hottest round, a 65, Friday on the 6,380-yard par-72 Pensacola Country Club course.

Venturi, one of the top stars of tournament golf in the late 1950s when he scored 10 victories, hasn't won since the 1960 Milwaukee Open. Most of the intervening time he has been hampered by a muscle spasm.

However, Hawkins has been through a much longer dry spell. He has been a consistent money winner and 20 times a runnerup, but won his only 72-hole championship in 1956, the Oklahoma City Open.

Lurking right behind the front runners is defending champion Arrold Palmer, who has won 40 championships but is still looking for his first title this year. Palmer, who shot a 68 Friday, carded a 137 total along with Miller Barber, a bespectacled tour player from Texarkana, Tex., who is still trying to enter the winner's circle.

Also hot in pursuit of the $4,000 first money are three tour veterans with 138—George Bayer, Bill Collins and Doug Sanders, who won the Pensacola Open in 1962.

Gary Player, the 1962 PGA champion, shot a second-round 68 to move into a tie at 139 with Mike Souchak, Gardner Dickinson Jr., Jack Rule Jr., British PGA champion Peter Butler and Australian Bruce Devlin.

First round leader John Barnum slipped to a 73 and dropped into a seven-man tie at 140.

More Nominees For Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Northern Dancer and Hill Rise, who have burned up the turf in recent weeks, were included today among the 138 thoroughbreds nominated for the 90th Kentucky Derby.

The $125,000 - added classic May 2 also attracted two fillies, Blue Norther and Highland Brume. Only one filly, Regret, in 1915, ever won the 1¼ mile race at Churchill Downs.

Calumet Farm, which hasn't placed a starter in the Derby since 1958, nominated four from its stable, Kentucky Jug, Full Well, Ky. Pioneer and Real Change.

Terrell Wants To Take On Cassius

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Tall Ernie Terrell sat there in his dressing room in Madison Square Garden and surprised absolutely no one.

"I want Cassius X," proclaimed the third-ranked heavyweight who had just failed—thoroughly, completely and absolutely—to distinguish himself, in a dreary, highly unprofessional 10-round decision over Germany's Gerhard Zech.

"I can beat Cassius X (a reference to heavyweight champ Cassius Clay) any day of the week," said the 6-foot-6 Terrell, who did little to demonstrate it in the nationally televised bout Friday night.

Twice in the early rounds the clumsy Zech, a one-time Berlin butcher boy, who fights from a left-handed stance, was wrestled through the ropes, sitting there sprawled and awkward while busy referee John Colan pulled Terrell off of him.

Terrell, from Chicago, was wrestled off his feet in the sixth. Still again, he almost went through the ropes when he charged Zech and the German lumbered out of the way.

Still again, in the fifth, Zech came out of one of the numerous wrestling matches in a corner off-balance and stooped, his gloves touching the floor. Terrell stood over him and pounded on his back.

Terrell, who weighed 206½ for his first fight in seven months, knocked the German down twice with flashing right-hand leads to the jaw in the first round, Zech taking a nine-count on each and peering beseechingly at his corner.

He seemed unable to defend against the right and suffered a cut under the right eye in the second, a bloody nose in the fourth. Time and again Terrell spun him with the right hand, and ended up directly behind the bothered, bewildered German, who weighed 214.

All officials scored for Terrell. Judge Arthur Aidala and the referee called it 6-3-1, including the round penalty, and judge Marvin Goldberg had it 5-4-1. The AP scored for Terrell 6-2-2.

It was Terrell's 35th win against four losses. Zech is now 27-2-1.

Wellknown Trainer Suspended

Luro, trainer of Northern Dancer, one of the early Kentucky Derby favorites, was suspended Friday by Gulfstream Park stewards after the drug procaine was found in urine of Gay Lothario, winner of the 10th race on Wednesday's opening program.

Luro, who has trained such horses as Decidedly and Victoria Park, was ordered to appear before Gulfstream Park stewards Tuesday.

"He really had nothing to do with it," said Dr. Francis Southard, a veterinarian who said he had been treating Gay Lothario for a throat infection and using a medicine known as tetracycline.

He said that in order to speed up the treatment, he used aziummycin, which contains a preservative of procaine penicillin.

Southard said when he saw Gay Lothario's name on Wednesday's program, he told Luro it would be all right for the horse to run because he believed the effect of the drug would be worn off by then.

"This was strictly an unintentional thing on my part," Southard said. "Luro should not be implicated in any way."

Boston's Gino Cappelletti scored 113 points without scoring a touchdown in the American Football League last season.

Craft Names Colts' First Batting Order

HOUSTON (AP) — Manager Harry Craft has named the Houston Colts' first batting order of 1964.

It is an array that has Nellie Fox batting second and Johnny Weekly, Jim Wynn and Bob Aspromonte in the spots where the Colts hope to generate some badly needed power in the National League baseball race.

Craft actually listed two batting orders for Sunday's nine-inning squad game, but admitted that one represented the "present" and the other the "future" of the Colts, with the exception of pitching in each case.

The "present," represented by Coach Jimmy Adair's whites, had Al Spangler in left and leading off, followed by Fox at second and Pete Runnels at first base.

Ferree Leads In Puerto Rico Open

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) —Four strokes blanketed a quintet of touring golf pros today as third round play began in the Puerto Rico Open, last stop on the Carribean circuit.

Jim Ferree of Corona, Calif. fired a four-under-par 68 Friday and took the halfway lead at 140. One stroke behind were Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa. the fourth time since last September that he had been taken to the hospital.

Also in the running after Friday's trip around the new Dorado Hilton course were Jay Dolan of Leicester, Mass., 142, and Al Besselink of Philadelphia, 143. Besselink shot a three-under par 69 and Dolan a 72.

Tigers Edged By Monterey

The Snyder Tigers fell to the Lubbock Monterey Plainsmen 7-5 in the home-opener of the year Friday. The contest was played on Towle Park Field.

The Tigers were playing without the services of three starters. Leslie Brown and Drew Bullard were gone to Austin with the basketball team, and Martin Benitez was absent because of a death in his family.

The Plainsmen tallied two runs in the top of the first to go ahead in the game. However, the Tigers took the lead once, in the bottom of the fourth. Monterey came back with three more runs in the top of the fifth to gain the lead for good.

Lubbock's first two runs came off of a single by Haggard and a home run over the left field fence by Ellette, the only homer of the game. Don Barrett scored Monterey's only run in the second. He singled, stole second, and came in on Martin's double.

The Plainsmen got a single run in the fourth on an error and a base-hit. Four singles and a walk enabled Monterey to tally the three runs in the fifth.

Snyder's first score came in the second. Two singles and two bases on balls produced the run, scored by Rodney Gray.

J. N. Wall scored for the Tigers in the third. He walked to reach first, was sacrificed to second by Jim Marcum, and came in on Robert Foree's double.

Wildness on the part of Monterey pitcher Hughes led to the 3-run Tiger rally in the fourth. He walked two batters and hit one. Mack Galyean, Corky Fox and Wall all scored runs in this inning.

Jerry Owens started on the mound for the Tigers. He was relieved in the top of the sixth by left-hander Rob Hall.

The Tigers will see action again Tuesday when they play host to the Tom S. Lubbock Westerners. Snyder defeated Lubbock last Tuesday behind the pitching of J. N. Wall.

Hank Iba Nears 700th Victory

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's been a struggle, but Hank Iba, one of the best known coaches in college basketball, finally may notch the 700th victory of his coaching career tonight.

"The Iron Duke" of Oklahoma State, as Iba is called, sends his Cowboys against Kansas in an effort to join Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, Ed Diddle of Western Kentucky and the retired Phog Allen of Kansas in the select 700-victory circle.

No. 700 seemed a cinch for Iba a month ago after the Cowboys chalked up victory No. 698. But then followed four straight defeats to Nebraska, Iowa State, Missouri and Colorado. The Cowboys finally hit No. 699 last week against Nebraska.

Things went according to form Friday night as unbeaten and top-ranked UCLA won its 26th straight, fourth - ranked Duke reached the final of the ACC championship tourney and fifth-ranked Wichita beat Drake in the playoff to determine the Missouri Valley Conference representative in the NCAA tourney.

UCLA withstood a late rally by Southern California to down the Trojans 91-81 and complete its regular season without a blemish. Duke defeated North Carolina 65-49 and needs only to defeat Wake Forest in the ACC final tonight to qualify for the NCAA. Wichita overcame Drake 58-50 in a close game until Kelly Pete put the Shockers ahead for good at 44-42.

Immediately after its defeat Drake accepted an invitation to play in the NIT at New York. That completed the 12-team NIT field, New Mexico having accepted a bid earlier in the day.

The San Francisco Dons won their 17th straight, 80-58 over Pepperdine while Wake Forest qualified for its ACC title game with Duke by defeating Clemson 86-64.

In other Friday games, Stanford defeated California 61-59 in overtime, Washington downed Washington State 57-52, Syracuse whipped Connecticut 58-49 and Providence rallied to defeat Brown 72-67 in a game that originally was scheduled for tonight.

Falcons, Red All-Stars Victorious

The champion Falcons defeated the Gold all-stars, 31-23, in the fifth grade division, and the sixth grade Red all-stars decisioned the Gold all-stars, 41-30 in the Boy's Club Basketball League all-star games Friday night in the Travis Junior High Gymnasium.

The Falcons presented a balanced scoring atack to hold the lead throughout the fifth grade encounter. Gary Gallman and Bruce Almond scored 8 points each, Bobby Weaver chipped in with 6, while Bobby Thompson and Glenn Rambin had 4 each and James Langridge 1.

For the fifth grade Gold all-stars, Mike Shearburn collected 8 points, Bid Cooper 7, Gary Shields 6 and Tony Breedlove 2.

In the sixth grade game, the winning Red all-stars were paced by Lee McNair with 16 points and Lew Capote with 14. Howard Murphree had 4, John Lacik, Tommy Anger and Larry Greene had 2 each, and Phil Ator 1.

Wesley Bishop was top scorer for the sixth grade Gold all-stars with 12 points, while Don Light had 8, Mark Gilstrap and Billy Bowden 4 each and Lynn Wilson 2.

Game officials were Worthan Lloyd, DuWayne Prince and J. P. Ward.

Coaches of the teams included Buck Rambin and Mutt Thompson, Falcons; Avon Rushing and Charles Freeman, fifth grade Gold all-stars; Howard Jones and Pinky Ferguson, sixth grade Red all-stars, and Carl Herod and Bob White, sixth grade Gold all-stars.

Pascual Can Concentrate On Pitching

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

His financial differences with Minnesota settled, Camilo Pascual turned his concentration today toward becoming the first American League pitcher in 10 years to win 20 or more games in three consecutive seasons.

The Twins' sparkling right-hander signed his contract Friday after spirited negotiations with club President Calvin Griffith. Pascual said he received a $7,500 raise, giving him $46,500 for 1964.

The 20-game feat the Cuban native could achieve isn't rare by any means. But 10 years without such an accomplishment is.

Bob Lemon was the last American Leaguer to do it, winning 22, 21 and 23 games in 1962-53-54. He also did it in 1948-49-50.

Pascual won 21 and lost nine last season after finishing 20-11 in 1962. His 2.47 earned run average in 1963 was the third lowest in the league and the best for a right-hander.

The 30-year-old hurler also led the league in strikeouts for the third consecutive season, fanning 202 batters.

The spring season for the New York Mets began Friday night in typical Mets' fashion. They lost 6-4 to the Mexico City Reds in the first of three exhibition games in that city.

Dominate Dream Team Selections

FORT WORTH (AP) — St. Mary's and St. Edward's tied for the Big State Conference Basketball championship also finished in a dead heat in the all-conference team race, claiming two places each on the squad.

St. Mary's beat St. Edward's in a playoff and then knocked off East Texas State last week for a berth in the NAIA Tournament. It is represented by senior Ken Sampson and junior Buddy Meyer on the all-conference five.

St. Ed's placed Mike Otolski, the only freshman nominated, and Paul McDermott, a junior. Otolski seldom started a game but wound up with a 19-point scoring average.

Other members of the first team are Texas Wesleyan's fine senior captain, Pete Brown, and Texas Lutheran's ace, John Schlender. Brown averaged 16.9 points and Schlender 16.4.

Sampson had a tremendous three-game series against East Texas State in the playoffs after averaging 16.9 points through the season, he hit 21 of 23 goal attempts in the three games. He also averaged 13 rebounds per game over the season.

Six players were elected to the first and second teams because of tie votes cast by the conference coaches, Ed Messbarger of St. Mary's, Ed Norris of St. Edward's, Elmer Hanebutt of Texas Wesleyan, Verl Westergard of Texas Lutheran and Myron Dees of Southwestern.

Loyola Defends NCAA Cage Title

By The Associated Press

Chicago Loyola, surprise winner of the national collegiate basketball championship last spring, begins defense of its title Tuesday as one of 37 teams seeking top honors in two major college post-season tournaments.

The 25-team NCAA tournament, which includes top entries from all major conferences, climaxes a season of scrambling for titles which weren't all decided until Saturday's last regular-season games. It opens with sectional competition at four locations Monday and Tuesday.

A tripleheader at Philadelphia Monday and doubleheaders at Dallas Monday and at Evanston, Ill., and Eugene, Ore., Tuesday will send the nine winners into four regional tournaments Friday and Saturday. Loyola, rated only ninth this season in The Associated Press poll, plays its first tournament game at Evanston against Murray State, the Ohio Valley Conference champion.

The 27th National Invitation Tournament at New York's Madison Square Garden, oldest of the post-season events, begins Thursday with 12 teams but without a defending champion. Providence, the 1963 winner, is in the NCAA tournament this year.

Both tournaments wind up Saturday, March 21. The four winners of the NCAA regionals next weekend will gather in Kansas City for national semi-finals and final March 20-21. The NIT has afternoon and night sessions scheduled next Saturday in the first round; and quarter-finals; more quarter-finals are scheduled March 17; semifinals March 19, and the final the afternoon of March 21.

In addition to the big ones, smaller colleges have their two national tournaments scheduled for the coming week. The 32-team NAIA tournament opens in Kansas City Monday with Pan-American of Edinburg, Tex., as the defending champion. The final is Saturday. Eight survivors of the NCAA small college sectionals will play off at Evansville, Ind., Wednesday through Friday.

A total of 154 wells were plugged, including 89 dry holes.

Gas wildcatters totaled 28, oil four.

Davis May Set New Record

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Tommy Davis has a chance to become the first ball player since Ty Cobb to lead both majors in hitting three years in a row. Nobody has done that hat trick since the late Georgia Peach did it in 1917-18-19.

Granted the averages were at a slightly different level. When Cobb won he hit .383, .382 and .384. Tommy led both leagues with .346 in 1962 and .326 last season.

"Sure, I'd like to make it three in a row," said Davis, the Los Angeles Dodgers' star left fielder. "But that is not my primary aim. I'm a team player. You have to give yourself up every now and then. The main thing is to win and make money.

"Being a champion means to me that I have proven to myself that I am a major league batter against the major league pitching of today.

"I'm not a colorful player. Not like Willie Mays who makes those spectacular catches or Willie Davis who runs fast and makes those fantastic grabs. I'm not flashy. I do it as easy as I can. I try to get the jump on the ball. That was the way Joe DiMaggio used to do it. Make it look easy."

Nobody has won three in a row in the National since Stan Musial in 1950-51-52. And it has been almost a half century since Cobb led the majors three straight times. Tommy's bid should be a high spot of the 1964 season.

O'Hara Lowers Own Mile Record

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Amazing Tom O'Hara lowered his own indoor mile record to 3:56.4 Friday night and confidently announced he possibly could have run two seconds faster.

A Chicago Stadium crowd of 18,307—a record turnout for the Chicago Daily News Relays—cheered the frail - looking, 21-year-old Loyola of Chicago senior to his blistering effort.

Three weeks ago the 130-pound O'Hara knocked two seconds off Jim Beatty's indoor mark with a 3:56.5 in the New York AC Games at Madison Square Garden.

Last week in the Knights of Columbus Meet in the Garden he did 3:58.5, setting an indoor 1,500-meter mark of 3:43.6 en route.

He passed the 1,500 juncture in 3:41.6 Friday night.

Not until just before the race did the red - haired Irish lad know that Jim Irons of the Toronto Olympic Club was in the field primarily to pace him through the first half - mile — and what a job Irons did.

With Irons showing the way, O'Hara swung through the first quarter in 58.1 and hit the half with a sizzling 1:58.8.

Irons dropped back and O'Hara's most feared opponent on the board oval, Jim Grelle of the Los Angeles Track Club, moved up.

Then O'Hara opened up, passing the three-quarters in a remarkable 2:59.8. At this point, Grelle was a beaten man. O'Hara just cruised the final 440 in 56.6.

"I honestly think I could have run at least one second faster and possibly two," said O'Hara, whose last indoor mile of the season will be in Cleveland next Saturday.

"I felt extra good at the end. That first quarter was my best because of the terrific pace by Irons. Around the half - mile mark, I decided to make my move because I wanted to open up as big a lead as possible on Grelle, who has a tremendous final kick.

"I knew all through the race that I could run faster if I wanted to let out."

No other meet records fell. The pole vault mark of 16 feet was tied by C. K. Yang of Pasadena, Calif., and Henry Wadsworth, Miami, Fla.

Black Muslims Give Cassius New Name

NEW YORK (AP) — Elijah Muhammad, leader of the Black - Muslims Friday night bestowed upon heavyweight champion Cassius Clay the name "Muhammad Ali."

Clay first heard the news of the Muslim honor over radio station WWRL in a weekly broadcast made by the head of the religious sect. Neither Clay nor his associates knew the meaning nor the significance of the honor the Black Muslim leader had bestowed upon him.

The heavyweight champion merely shook his head over a dish of ice cream and said: "I am honored."

Thursday Clay said he would be known as Cassius X, thereby abiding by the laws of his newly acquired religion.

Snyder To Host Sports Car Rally

The Snyder Sports Car Club will host a rallye Mar. 15 for sports car drivers from the western region of Texas.

Entrants in the rallye will be from Midland, Odessa, Abilene, Lubbock, Amarillo and Big Spring.

The rallye course is planned to cover some 100 miles, using secondary roads in four counties. All average speeds will be well below the posted speed limit.

Each car is manned by a two-member crew consisting of a driver and a navigator. The navigator's duty is to keep the driver on course, on time to the split second, and to see that the mileage is accurate to within a tenth of each mile covered.

The aim and purpose of the local club us to improve the skill of driving, and above all to stress safety. Most cars are equipped with seat belts as well as other safety equipment that is used at all times, whether it be on a reallye or on the streets in everyday driving.

Ollie and Luna Maude Bruton will be rallyemasters for the Mar. 15 rallye. They will have the assistance of the Snyder Citizens Band Radio Club.

This assistance of the radio club is a good example of the safety measures taken in the local club events.

The entire course will be patroled by the two-way radio cars. Some of them will time the contestants into unknown points along the route, relaying this time of passage, to the second, to the central control located at the finish point.

In the event a contestant should become lost, or have trouble of any kind, this information too can be instantly called into the central control. Each car and crew is accounted for at all times during the event.

Anyone in this area that drives an imported car, or any type of sports car, or is interested in sports cars, is urged to contact any member of the local club for information about membership in the club.

Cotton Bill Sent Back To House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's election year cotton - wheat bill moves back to the House and an uncertain fate Monday.

Designed to pump $1 billion more into incomes of cotton and wheat farmers and domestic cotton mills, the hard fought legislative package won Senate approval Friday night, 53-35.

This was short of the strong backing assistant Democratic leader Hubert Humphrey expected.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S. D., floor manager for the new wheat program in the Senate bill, said he hoped for a quick Senate-House compromise which could send the bill to President Johnson by March 15.

This appeared optimistic with some indication that the House leadership may not clear the bill for action before April 1.

Because spring planting time is near or at hand for some farmers, original plans were to pass the campaign year bill by March 1.

For a time Friday it appeared that the unusual coalition of senators from cotton and wheat growing areas and the textile mill regions might fall apart.

Their combined votes had batted down a series of amendments, most by top - heavy margins, until Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., veteran chairman of the Agriculture Committee, moved to limit the new cotton program to two years, instead of four.

Ellender has been battling a majority of his own committee, which approved a new subsidy plan for domestic cotton mills expected to cost $312 million this year and more later.

The provision would let these domestic mills buy cotton at the same lower prices available to foreign purchasers for six years.

Cotton has been supported at 32½ cents a pound for growers but foreign purchases have been near world price levels of about 24 cents.

The new program would lower supports to 30 cents and put domestic and foreign mills on the same purchase level, with taxpayers meeting this difference.

Ellender, contending this new departure should be tested first for two years, drew support of 45 other senators — 21 other Democrats and 24 Republicans.

Some supporters of the new voluntary wheat certificate program, which is limited to two years, voted to limit the new cotton subsidies to the same period.

Sen. John Pastore, D-R.I., who had led a group of mill state senators in support of the cotton - wheat bill, vehemently protested that four years were needed to aid domestic textile interests.

The angry reaction was evident soon afterward as Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., moved to strike the entire wheat section from the combined bill.

This was narrowly beaten 45 to 42 when Pastore and other textile mill supporters apparently sought retaliation.

More than a dozen amendments remained as the senate worked past the dinner hour as it has most nights for more than a week. But most of these were abandoned or called up, explained, and then withdrawn as weary senators yelled "vote, vote."

The Senate combined the cotton subsidy program, previously passed by the House, with the new wheat program in an obvious effort to broaden its support.

House supporters of the new wheat program have been unable to bring it out of the house agriculture committee.

This will complicate efforts to get quick action on the combined measure.

An echo of the closest Senate battle came after passage.

Sen. Riman Hruska, R-Neb., lost by a 46-44 margin an effort to tack onto the bill an amendment which would have forced a 40 per cent reduction in imports of foreign beef and meat products.

Hruska reoffered his import quota proposal Friday night as separate legislation which would apply to beef, poultry, fish and meat products. He invited other senators to co-sponsor it.

Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen said this would offer a "chance for all repentant sinners" to sign up.

Little Needed For Smash Hit

By DAVE SMITH

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It really doesn't take much to be a smash hit in the entertainment world.

All you have to is sing more or less on pitch, try not to fall on your physiognomy when you dance, take a few acting lessons and not have a face that would stop a sundial. And have the stamina of a Clydesdale and not need any sleep.

Talent or no, you've still got to lift that barge.

Take Gene Barry. Fact is, Barry does have talent — bagsful of it, some say. He has won praise as a song-and-dance man, musical comedy star on-and off-Broadway actor, film star and television idol. His lady fans will tell you he is not exactly ugly, either.

But all that talent would be for naught if it weren't for the fact that Barry also has the ability to work like a one-armed paperhanger and still arise next morning with a full head of steam.

Barry probably became best-known as television's Bat Masterson, back when Westerns dominated the video. To give his show a different touch, Barry—an impeccable off-screen dresser — decided to invest the grim-jawed old gunslinger with a touch of sartorial elegance. Bat became something of a dandy, and the fans loved it. The show was such a success that Barry nearly worked himself ragged.

Now Barry is the star of "Burke's Law" — a television detective series in which, as a member of a city police department, Burke nonetheless dresses like Cary Grant and does his sleuthing in his own Rolls-Royce.

"Burke's Law" was conceived as a satire on the tremendously popular detective series trend, says Barry, and once again the fans are eating it up. The show has been on for a year, it'll be back next year, and the industry oracles figure it'll be good for a third season.

Barry, waging a constant war against bloodshot eyes, works from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. five days a week on the series, then goes home, eats dinner, reads the next day's lines and falls into bed sometime after midnight.

Days off? "I just catch up on the things I've let go through the week," says Barry.

Some of those things: his Barbety Production Co., which is already planning feature films and television shows — which Barry will appear in and direct —for the day when "Burke's Law" has run its course; a recording entitled "Barry's Law —Love," in which he returns to his early role as a singer; fan mail; his wife, Betty, and two sons, and plans for an eight-week summer vacation, when the current "Burke's Law" series is all filmed.

Vacation? "Yeah," says Barry, "we're going to Europe for about seven of the eight weeks. Just a regular tourist-type tour. I've never been to Europe, so we're going to do the whole thing."

Then does he plan to sleep during the remaining week? "I'd like to," he says, "but I probably won't. I just can't be idle. I have to have something to do."

13 Arrested In N. Y. Mob Scene

NEW YORK (AP) — Civil Rights demonstrators staged a sit-down in police headquarters and a lie-down on a Triborough Bridge roadway Friday. Thirteen persons were arrested, traffic was snarled and headquarters revamped its security measures.

Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy warned that his department "will not submit to rule by pressure or mob."

The demonstrations occurred a few hours apart: First came a protest outside Murphy's office in the downtown headquarters building against alleged police brutality. Three demonstrators handcuffed themselves to iron grillwork. Police cut them free and booked them, along with four sympathizers, on misdemeanor charges.

At the Manhattan approach to the Triborough Bridge, which connects Manhattan with the Bronx and Queens, about 40 demonstrators clogged the roadway and backed up traffic for 20 minutes during the evening rush hour.

Six demonstrators sat down in the roadway, then lay down and refused to move. The six, their arms linked, were dragged away by police. The four men and two women — three of them Negroes — were booked on misdemeanor charges.

The bridge demonstration began with seven persons dumping garbage on the approach to protest school conditions in East Harlem. All are members of the Congress of Racial Equality.

In 1657, officials of early New York, then called Nieuw Amsterdam, launched the first anti-litterbug campaign, fining first offenders the equivalent of $1.20.

Admits To Strangling

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Sheriff's investigators who questioned more than 300 persons over a 19-month period have found a former mental patient they say has admitted strangling 12-year-old Marion Brubaker in a woods near Akron.

The slaying was admitted Friday by William Lewis, 49, of Hubbard, according to Maj. Alan Morrison of the Sheriff's office. Lewis, who makes potholders and peddles them door-to-door, was arrested Wednesday in Canton.

The nude body of Miss Brubaker, daughter of the Rev. Clair D. Brubaker, pastor of Hisswood Chapel was found in a wooded section in the Portage Lakes area south of Akron in August 1962. The girl had not been criminally assaulted.

TOMMY KIRK and Annett are starred in "Misadventure of Merlin Jones," which is coming to the Palace Theater here Sunday, March 15.

Dana Andrews Is Looking Ahead

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It was an event marked with sentiment for Dana Andrews. He was back at the Goldwyn studio where he got his start in films exactly 25 years ago.

He had let his hair resume its natural silver for his role in John Sturges' "Satan Bug." But otherwise he seemed little changed from the handsome Texas lad who got his start in "The Westerner" with Gary Cooper and Walter Brennan.

It was on the Goldwyn lot that Dana made such successes as "Best Years of Our Lives" and "My Foolish Heart." But he is not one for much reminiscence. The present looks good to him, not to mention the future.

The reason for his optimistic outlook is his second profession —that of real estate operator. He may well be the wealthiest union head in the world: he's president of the Screen Actors Guild.

"It all started in 1960," he recalled. "I was paying most of what I earned in taxes."

He read a best-selling book on how to make a mint in the real estate market and decided to try it.

"One day I came home and told my wife I had just invested $300,000 in a piece of property," he said. "Mary went crazy. 'How can you do that?' she said. 'If we lose that, we'll have nothing.'"

The $300,000 investment returned a $150,000 profit, he said. He was off and running. So far he has launched seven large operations, the biggest being a $2½ million complex of 12 buildings in nearby Garden Grove, which is finishing this month.

Dana didn't go about his new interest haphazardly. He took four real estate courses in the University of California extension.

Valley Trains To Stop Service

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—Inconvenient schedules of the only passenger train operating in the Lower Rio Grande Valley indicate the Missouri Pacific Railroad plans to drop this service, Brownsville Chamber of Commerce directors complain.

They directed Jim Hiester, chamber president, to serve formal notice on the Texas Railroad Commission of their concern.

Missouri Pacific discontinued its day train to Houston July 1, 1962. It changed the night train schedule to make it leave Brownsville at 6 p.m. and reach Houston at 2:30 a.m. Pullman service was discontinued on the night train at the same time.

Oscar Can Be Cause Of Jealousy

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What happens in a household where the wife has an Oscar and the husband, also a star, doesn't?

"It creates a state of mind," says Paul Newman, "which can best be described—for want of a better word—as extreme jealousy."

Paul is married to Joanne Woodward, who won the best acting Oscar in her first starring movie, "Three Faces of Eve."

Newman, nominated this year for "Hud," is up for the third time.

If Newman wins an Oscar he's going to get it the hard way.

Newman is a new kind of star. Unlike a John Wayne who plays heroes bigger than life or a Gregory Peck who specializes in sympathetic roles—or even a Cary Grant who is the master of light comedy—Newman is a specialist in playing losers.

"Life is full of losers—so why shouldn't they be portrayed?" he asks. Often, as in "Hud," he plays despicable characters.

This, as any Academy Award voter will tell you, is the toughest way to win an Oscar.

Newman, a graduate of the Actor's Studio, could best be described as a Tennesse Williams' type of hero—downbeat.

It hasn't hurt him at the box office, and apparently not with the female audience.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

TEQUISQUIPAN, Mexico — Well a jolly day to everybody who is shoveling snow off the sidewalk and shouting for hot coffee because I am sitting here beside a swimming pool catching a healthy sun tan.

Isn't that enough to make you hate everybody?

Before you start reaching for the map, let me say that Tequisquiapan is a nice little town with an ancient atmosphere just over the mountains from civilization in the State of Queretaro.

It has cobblestone streets, a fascinating market and is surrounded by real estate loaded with character. When the sun sets, all the ravines and crevises in the mountains are shadowed and stand out like a relief map against the orange - tinged skyline.

The main attraction hereabouts, aside from peace and quiet, is a set of warm mineral springs. Good for everything from emotions to the hoof and mouth disease.

Mr. Gonzalo Rio took a look at Tequisquiapan one day and said, "Gee." He immediately set up a modern, Western-style hotel with a turquoise swimming pool in the center of the yard.

So we obnoxious types lie beside the pool and after baking a few minutes on the front side, slide in the crystal waters to baste for some more baking. And wonder how it is with the blizzards back home.

The hillside slopes gently down to a baby river which some gentleman put a dam across. They are now growing a lake and the hotel customers scoot across it in bright colored sail boats. One of these days, after a big rainy season, it will be a large lake with a lot of boats and fish of all sorts.

Senor Rio is also putting up a 200 plus home retirement colony here. Paved streets, water, lights and a regular modern city within the colonial setting.

And he has donated a number of public works projects for the old town. Tequisquiapan loves Mr. Rio.

From the big glassed-in dining room you eat broiled shrimp and sip icy Mexican beer. Watch the ladies fling themselves in the pool and splash away their cares.

A gentleman from Michigan glances at his watch and murmurs, "Well, I guess the noon whistle is blowing back home about now."

His wife adjusts her bathing cap and says, "I don't hear a sound and who needs it?" And leaps in the water.

Shortly before bedtime the clients begin filing down to the private baths. Pint - size swimming pools (indoors) with tepid mineral waters, clear and churning in and out to keep it fresh and heathful.

Half an hour in one of these baths and you sleep for three days, you are so relaxed.

"The water is excellent for the scalp," the headwaiter remarked, looking cautiously at my thin spot during the dinner hour. "It makes hair grow like the King's Lawn."

He leaned a little closer and confided, "It also rejuvenates one. You emerge from the warm baths with the vigor of a young bull."

As it happens, I am unable to stir any interest in a rejuvenation process. Having children ranging from one year up into the twenties.

However, I could use a good night's sleep (considering the times I've spent changing infants at incredible hours of the morning). For that reason — and positively no other — you will hear me splashing in the private pool around 9 p.m.

Space Center Completed

HOUSTON (AP)—The Manned Spacecraft Center is about to become the center for its thousands of employes.

More than 500 workers, including Dr. Robert Gilruth, center director, and the 29 astronauts, move into new offices before Monday at the Clear Lake site, 22 miles southeast of central Houston.

But even with the 1,400 persons housed at the center this weekend, there still will be an estimated 1,900 working elsewhere.

A Manned Spacecraft Center spokesman said the payroll had 3,383 persons Friday.

The $134 million center will have 37 major buildings on 1,600 acres when the center is completed in 1965.

Ice Jams Crush Vermont Bridges

WINDSOR, Vt. (AP) — Vermont officials today watched heavy ice jams packed against two bridges across the Connecticut River after flooding Friday destroyed two spans over tributaries.

Colder weather slowed the melting of deep snow in the mountains and the water level fell in the Connecticut River which forms the border between Vermont and New Hampshire.

No new damage was reported although water still covered lowlands and filled cellars of homes and business establishments on both banks of the river.

The ice jammed against the toll bridge at Windsor, one of the oldest of Vermont's covered bridges, and heaped against the abutments and underpinning of a steel bridge at Ascutneyville, several miles below Windsor.

The ice formed a dam which sent the water from the rain and thaw over hundreds of square miles of lowlands on both banks of the Connecticut River, which forms the border between Vermont and New Hampshire.

Estimates of damage to property were upwards of $2.5 million. No injuries were reported.

Water flowed several feet deep over low spots in 25 miles of U.S. 5, a Vermont highway that runs north and south alongside the river.

At several points, ice cakes a foot thick were shoved across the highway by the rising water. Highway Department workers used bulldozers to push the ice off the road.

A 400-foot steel bridge, valued at $750,000, was wrecked. The bridge spanned the White River close to its confluence with the Connecticut River at White River Junction.

Huge ice chunks lifted on the rising flood raised the bridge off its foundation Friday and the structure tumbled into the river. The span formed a section of Route 5.

Police Chief Thomas Taylor said all highways were open to traffic early today as the flood waters receded. Cooler weather slowed the flow of water from the melting snow in the mountains of Vermont and New Hampshire.

'Frisco Is Scene Of Mass Pickets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Arrests of more than 100 civil rights pickets today and a mass lobby sleep-in at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel, climaxed the largest protest demonstration ever called in San Francisco.

Demonstrators, about 80 per cent of them white and of college age, blocked three entraces to the hotel after negotiations between the hotel and protest leaders broke down. They sang and clapped their hands.

Police Chief Thomas Cahill said he had "no choice" but to order the arrests after some 500 pickets ignored requests that they move from three entrances to the hotel which they had been blocking.

Joining Cahill in his plea were Terry Francois, former San Francisco NAACP leader, and Willie Brown, chief attorney for the demonstrators.

Dozen of demonstrators went limp and linked arms as they were carried into police vans, after Cahill ordered his men to make "non-violent arrests.

The demonstration was called by the AD HOC committee to end discrimination and leading civil rights groups joined the protest against alleged racial bias in hiring by the hotel. Hotel management has denied discrimination.

Senate Beginning 'Rights' Debate

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate begins its historic debate on the civil rights bill Monday.

"We have reached a point where we can no longer evade or avoid this issue," declared Democratic leader Mike Mansfield as he announced he was bringing the controversial measure to the floor.

The way was cleared Friday when the Senate, running behind its timetable, sent to the House by a 53-35 vote the administration's election-year cotton and wheat plan.

The civil rights measure, the most sweeping in this century, is certain to set off a Southern filibuster which some leaders believe may tie up the Senate up for months.

But Mansfield said it was time to face the issue and dispose of it "one way or another."

He cautioned, though, that "no senator should be so disillusioned as to think this is going to be an easy matter. Nor should he think, no matter where he comes from, that there is going to be political profit in it."

An early skirmish was already in the offing.

A supporter of the measure, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said he would attempt Monday to send the bill to the Judiciary Committee for 10 days of hearings.

The administration had bypassed the Southern-led committee in order to get the bill before the Senate. But Morse said he felt it would be better to follow normal procedures.

Approval of two-thirds of the senators—67 if all 100 are present—is needed to invoke cloture, and the margin is difficult to attain.

Morse—and Mansfield has in past expressed similar feelings—apparently feels it would be the better part of valor to follow the customary pattern and not irritate any support.

But Mansfield said he would fight Morse's plan.

Denies Rumors Of Hatcher's Resignation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House denied Friday night a broadcast report that Andrew T. Hatcher would resign as assistant press secretary and become ambassador to Togo.

MRS. EDITH McKANNA presented an informative and colorful program to the Snyder Garden Club and their guests Thursday morning on the patio of Martha Ann Woman's Club. The out-door setting was bedecked by 18 lovely Japanese arrangements in containers brought from the Orient by Mrs. McKanna. She lived and studied the Japanese customs and their highly technical arranging for several years.

Garden Club Workshop Held Thurs.

Snyder Garden Club met Mar. 5th, in the Martha Ann Womans Club for an Artistic Design workshop.

Mrs. Edith McKanna conducted the workshop which stressed, "Adapting The Oriental Influence."

Mrs. McKanna gave a short history of Japan and Japanese flower arrangements, saying in part: "Japan has been ruled by one Imperial family since 712 A. D. There are 655 people per square mile and two acres of land per person.

"Most plants grow well in Japan. Some vegetables are grown in sand and pebbles. The use of chemical fertilizers is now an accepted thing. Bamboo is as much a part of Japanese life as cotton is to ours. Many of their fruits are used to make dyes for fabrics.

"The Japanese have close family ties and these feelings are carried into their flower arranging.

"Creating a Japanese arrangement adaptable to our 19th Century is done through the proper use and placement of the container and materials we have at hand."

She urged that we keep in mind the three elements, heaven, earth and man, and that we use the materials of the four seasons. The seasons of flower arranging in Japan work out as bulletins and act as a calendar. Flower arranging has for many centuries grown to be a part of the structure of living and serves as a link between the universe and man. Each of these are independent but an indispensible part of a perfect whole, in other words, a togetherness, she said.

"One must keep in mind a mountainous country of 655 people per square mile, with a great respect for the Buddhist religion.

"These principles should be remembered in Japanese flower arranging:

1. Elements of design
2. Placement of composition
3. Four seasons of workable material
4. Form, line and texture, as well as color, light, shadows and proper containers

"The two styles of Japanese arrangements are Moribana, which is natural and colorful and can be elegant in design. The second is Nageiri which is a representation of flowers as they grow and is often called the thrown in style. The flowers are usually limited to one or two kinds."

Mrs. McKanna discussed the many beautiful arrangements she had made for the workshop and told the history of the Japanese containers and accessories.

Mrs. John O'Banion was hostess for the meeting.

Shelling Tip

To make shell removal easier from hard-cooked eggs, pour off the hot water and immediately immerse the hard-cooked eggs in cold water. Shells then will slip off easily.

Hot Chocolate Tricks 'N Treats

Hot chocolate and marshmallows are long-standing flavormates. For an extra-rich marshmallow flavor, whip marshmallow cream with the hot chocolate milk, and then float a whole marshmallow in each mug. Or, if you want a deep, dark chocolate drink, melt in semi-sweet chocolate pieces.

For an orangy taste, use a few drops of orange extract. Garnish this one with candied orange peel. Rum extract will give you hot chocolate with a bracing flavor, delicately suited to the winter sports spirit.

Try Lemon Bavarian For Treat

Lenten season is often the time many decide to go on a diet: After all the good, rich food of Christmas tide, it seems to be a good time to whittle off a few extra pounds.

Even if you are on a diet, you might like to splurge on delicious desserts once in a while. Lemon Bavarian, a delightful concoction, is rich, tart and sweet all at once.

This fluffy confection takes only minutes to prepare and will be a special reward for sticking so closely to your diet.

LEMON BAVARIAN
(Serves 9)

2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
½ cup water
2 egg yolks
½ cup sugar
Rind of 3 lemons, grated
Juice of 3 lemons
2 egg whites, beaten stiff
1½ cups whipping cream whipped and sweetened

Soften gelatin in water and place over hot water until dissolved.

Beat egg yolks and sugar together until light and fluffy. Stir in rind and juice of lemons. Gradually beat in gelatin. Chill until slightly thickened.

Fold in beaten egg whites and whipping cream. Place in mold and chill until set, or spoon into dessert dishes and chill. Garnish with whipped cream if desired.

Biscuits will be crisp, flaky and buttery in the center if you roll the dough ¼ inch thick, spread with softened butter and fold it over before cutting. When the biscuits are baked, they will split open.

Hot Mint Chocolate Is Nourishing Drink

Hot Mint Chocolate is also an easy and nourishing treat. After pouring hot chocolate milk into the individual cups simply insert a peppermint stick into the cup and use as a stirrer.

An attractive garnish is a marachino cherry and a whole marshmallow speared with a toothpick and floated in the hot chocolate milk.

3 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon salt

¾ cup shredded cheese

Line greased 6x10 - inch baking dish with boiled ham. Combine water, butter, and salt in saucepan. Bring to boil. Remove from heat. Add cream. Stir in potato flakes. Broil until browned.

Rhubarb Pie That's Always In Season

When thinking of family favorites for dinner consider items that are at their peak of the season. It is easier on the budget and will often stimulate ideas for new recipes.

With rhubarb in season shortly, home economists offer this suggestion for rhubarb pie with a new twist. It combines delicate sour cream with the tart rhubarb for a new taste sensation.

SOUR CREAM RHUBARB PIE

1 9-inch unbaked pie shell
1¼ cup cut fresh rhubarb (or frozen; if frozen, drain the juice and use less sugar)
1 cup sour cream
1½ cups sugar
1 tablespoon flour
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
6 tablespoons sugar
3 egg whites, beaten stiff

Put rhubarb in pie shell. Mix sour cream, 1½ cups sugar, flour and egg yolks. Pour over rhubarb. Bake at 350 degrees one hour. Cool slightly.

Add 6 tablespoons sugar gradually to beaten egg whites. Spread over pie and bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes.

Ice Cream Balls

For last-minute, yet fancy desserts, try gay ice cream balls. These can be scooped, decorated and refrozen. Good toppings to roll the ice cream balls in are chocolate sprinkles, coconut, cinnamon candies, crushed peanut brittle or even crushed pralines.

A tip for a flaming dessert. Dip a cube of sugar in lemon extract. Put the cube on the top of a scoop of ice cream and ignite just before serving.

Chopped parsley, chives, paprika, lemon or lime juice added to melted butter, makes delectable topping for broiled fish, shrimp or lobsters.

Necklines Vary In Paris Show

By LUCIE NOEL

PARIS (AP)—Oo-la-la, those Paris fashion necklines!

That was the comment buzzing through haute couture circles today as famous fashion houses released photographs of the spring and summer modes they displayed for buyers and fashion writers in showings that ended three weeks ago.

The hemlines remained about the same—generally covering the knees. But the necklines . . . well—

Necklines varied from a sexy, low-cut daring depth to scooped-out fronts.

Suit necklines and blouses are built up, with suits featuring white linen collars and cuffs and blouses with large pussy cat or butterfly bows to short narrow ascots, worn off center.

If hemlines are at a status quo, interest is lent by pleating, multiple, sunray, fan, accordian, or shutter. Kerchief points appear on dressy sheer fabrics, scallops and flying pleated panels on daytime shirts and dresses.

Focus is on the waistline, which tends to drop to the hips either by a low-placed belt, martingale or bows, or a fool-the-eye pointed yoke.

Focus, too, is on shoulders. They are arched, sometimes built out or slightly puffed.

Every designer is talking about shape achieved through skilled cut and intricate seaming.

Suits look younger with their just-below-the-hipbone jackets, pleated skirts and cut, which fits the body closer.

Clam juice can sometimes be substituted for fish stock in recipes, so keep the handy bottled clam product on hand.

FOR SERVICEMAN

After an appliance has been serviced in your home, the manufacturers suggests that you ask for an itemized bill on the cost of the service and the parts replaced. Before the serviceman leaves, check the appliance to see that it is operating properly. It's also a good idea to find out if there is a guarantee on the service job and parts.

Next time you make meat balls from ground beef and pork, add a little grated Parmesan cheese along with the other ingredients.

Chicken Mushroom 'Tater Roll

1 cup mashed potato flakes
1½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
1 egg
¼ cup cooking oil
CHICKEN FILLING:
½ cup finely chopped onion
½ cup finely chopped celery
¼ cup butter
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon papper
1-3 cup milk
1 can cream of mushroom soup
2 cups diced chicken
MUSHROOM SAUCE:
1 can cream of mushroom soup
¾ cup dairy sour cream

Combine potato flakes, flour, baking powder and salt in large bowl. Combine milk, egg, oil; add to dry ingredients. Stir just to moisten. Knead lightly on floured surface. Roll to a 12x18-inch rectangle. Spread with Chicken Filling. Roll as for jelly roll, starting with 12-inch side. Place on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Service with Mushroom Sauce.

CHICKEN FILLING: Saute onions and celery in butter until tender. Stir in salt, pepper, milk ¼ cup soup and chicken.

MUSHROOM SAUCE: Combine remaining undiluted soup with sour cream in saucepan. Heat just to boiling.

Hint: For a more colorful filling, stir in 1 tablespoon each chopped pimiento and parsley.

To make straight or curved lines and steams, dots and buds, use a plain round opening in your pastry tube. Tubes with flat notched openings are sometimes called "leaf tubes" and form leaves and petals.

This Cherry Kuchen Uses Cake Mix

With all the convenience foods on the market today, life in the kitchen is becoming more fun and less work. One convenience food that has been a boon to homemakers is cake mix. However, variety in food is still essential for appealing meals.

Cherry Kuchen is a delightful change from the ordinary cake, yet still employs the convenient cake mix. This rich dessert has endless possibilities.

Using the same base and the same rich topping, you can change the filling to suit the likes of your family. Although she has used cherry pie filling, you might like to experiment with sliced peaches, sliced pineapple or even apple pie filling.

CHERRY KUCHEN
(12 Squares)

1 package white cake mix (dry)
¼ pound butter
1 1-pound can cherry pie filling
1 cup dairy sour cream
¼ cup sugar
1 egg, beaten

Crumble cake mix and butter together until mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Pat mixture into 13 x 9 x 2 inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes, or until lightly brown. Cool.

Spread cherry filling over cake.

Mix sour cream, sugar and egg together. Spread over cherry filling. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until sour cream topping is set.

To get a clean cut through a meringue topped pie, put butter on the knife blade before cutting.

Forecasts Are Foolish, Says Expert

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)— A petroleum economist says it is rather foolish to forecast how much crude oil will be produced in the United States 30. 40 and 50 years from now.

Richard Gonzalez says the United States has sufficient oil reserves for many years, but that ultimate total production will be determined by economic factors rather than by physical limitations.

"We should quit wasting time on predictions of ultimate production and concentrate attention instead on the outlook the next 20 years," said Gonzalez, a frequent member of oil industry expert panels which testify before committees of Congress.

About 145 billion barrels of oil have been produced in the United States since 1959.

Gonzalez a director of the Humble Oil & Refining Co., said current estimates of ultimate U.S. crude output range from 170 to 500 billion barrels.

"Neither the optimists nor the pessimists are able to prove the superiority of their views to an impartial critic," Gonzalez said.

He said two points probably can be made with certainty.

"First, the extent of commercial occurence of petroleum deposits has far exceeded earlier expectations," he said. "Second, petroleum production in the United States will be determined in practice by economic forces within the much larger limits of physical existence. Accordingly, we need to consider the outlook for future production in economic terms."

Oil discoveries so far, he said, have exceeded expectations largely because scientific methods have steadily increased ability to locate, develop and produce oil and gas at costs that have enabled them to increase their position in the energy market.

Canal Is Still Operating Smoothly Despite Squabble

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

PANAMA (AP) — Along the Panama Canal's 40 miles of waterway, the angry political events of the past two months seem strangely remote.

Despite the heated debate between Panama and the United States, the canal continues to operate with the same smooth efficiency that has been its hallmark since the first ship passed through in 1914.

Ships come and go at a rate of about 30 a day, just as they did before the current crisis. The lifeline of commerce remains open, offering a short cut of nearly 8,000 miles between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Even Soviet ships ply across the isthmus, although the Russians have denounced the U.S. role in Panama.

A typical eight-hour crossing amid the peaceful green-carpeted hills along the canal route can seem deceptively simple. Actually, operation of the "big ditch" requires the varied skills of more than 14,000 persons.

The 2,825 - ton Norwegian freighter Baleares made such a transit the other day—from the Pacific to the Atlantic side—hauling a cargo of bananas from Guayaquil, Ecuador, to Gulfport, Miss.

During most of the trip, the Baleares' master, Capt. Jan Andal, 33, kept to his cabin. His vessel was guided through the waterway by a skilled canal pilot, Paul Guerriero, 32 a pleasant, round - faced seaman from Ridgewood, N.J.

The Baleares, which makes the trip every two weeks, was one of 29 cargo vessels that passed through the canal that day. They carried crude oil, barley, cement, wheat, flour, beer, whisky and even dried blood and fertilizer.

Guerriero is one of 120 canal pilots. They are on 24-hour call except on their days off. With 3½ years experience, Guerriero earns base pay of $13,000 a year. His income will go up to $19,600 in another four years when he reaches senior pilot status.

On the day of the Baleares' crossing, Guerriero's work began at 5:30 a.m. A car picked up him at home for the short ride to the Balboa anchorage and a launch took him to the Baleares in midchannel.

Aboard the ship he sat on a high stool on the bridge softly calling orders to the helmsman. During a lull he ate a breakfast of bacon, eggs, toast and scalding black coffee while standing.

Canal pilots are busiest at approaches to the locks where huge concrete-lined chambers—42 feet deep, 110 feet wide and 1,000 feet long—are filled with water to raise ships 85 feet in three steps. This is the level of Gatun Lake, a 164-square-mile body of water between the sets of locks at each end of the canal. The lake was created by damming the Chagres River.

On this trip, the 377-foot Baleares and a smaller freighter entered the chambers in tandem, guided by steel lines attached to small but powerful electric trains called "mules" running along the length of the locks on each side.

In the third floor of the control house, a gleaming white building on a concrete island amid the locks, operator Frank J. Dolan, 62, a chunky, red-faced Irishmen from Wayne, N.J., pulled a lever and the giant chamber doors slowly began to close behind the Baleares and her tandem mate.

Dolan, chewing on the first of 15 cigars he would reduce to ashes that day, and Denton W. Broad, 54, Huntsville, Ala., were handling traffic. They worked in a large, many-windowed room over a long, black-topped table filled with chrome knobs, red and green flashing lights and tall gauges.

When the giant chamber doors outside had closed, Dolan turned on one of the world's mightiest faucets. In eight minutes, 26 million gallons of water gushed into the chamber, lifting the two ships 27 feet to the level of the water in the next chamber.

The process was repeated twice more until the ships reached the level of the lake.

"Eddie Rickenbacker saw this and said it was more complicated than operating a plane," said Broad with a touch of pride.

"You can very easily wreck the whole system if you're careless," added Dolan, who will retire in a few weeks.

Russian ships are boarded by 20 Marines and a naval officer for the crossing.

"This makes the Russians very unhappy," said Capt. Frank V. Kerley, 44, New Orleans, La., a pilot for 15 years. "They are a cold bunch, but a few of them defrost a bit before the crossing is completed."

Kerley also said canal pilots must be tactful.

"One thing we try to remember is that in boarding another man's ship we are entering his home and we must act accordingly. No matter how vile it may look and how foul it may taste, you drink what he offers you. If it hasn't killed him, it won't bother you."

The Baleares completed her transit at 5 p.m. after waiting two hours for her turn through the downside chambers at the Gatun locks.

At the Colon breakwater entrance to Limon Bay on the Caribbean side of the isthmus, Guerriero's job was done and Andal again took over his ship.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: What makes the Arctic tern famous?

• • •

ANSWER: Terns are small, graceful birds related to the gulls. Their bodies are more slender and they are more active than the heavier built gulls. The Arctic tern is similar to the Common tern which nests along the Atlantic coast but it's forked tail is longer and its bill a bit shorter. A world champion flyer, the Arctic tern nests from northern New England to within 450 miles of the North Pole. After nesting, these birds head south and show up on the shores of the Antarctic continent, having travelled as far as 11,000 to 12,000 miles—further than any other migrating bird.

Why this enormous trip twice a year?

Some scientists think that sunlight acting on birds' bodies may trigger them to migrate at certain times. By flying as he does, the Arctic tern works in more hours of sunlight than any other animal since the sun shines continuously in both the Arctic and Antarctic at the times the terns are there. This may help them in gathering their food of small fish, insects and crustaceans.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Color the large Arctic terns so you will know what they look like. Make the back and wings of the top bird pearl gray, with white tail and red bill. The bottom bird needs only bright red on feet and bill. Blue on the oceans will make the birds look real. 3-7
