MOTOR LICENSES AND PEN SYSTEM HOLD ATTENTION

GAS TAX LEGISLATION IS HELD CONSTITUTIONAL BY SUPREME COURT

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Mar. 16—Legislative clocks were running two hours behind time at noon today, the hour set for adjournment of the regular session, and it seemed likely that the house and senate would continue to work until late this afternoon or tonight.

Neither senate nor house clock will be allowed to register 12 o'clock it was indicated until both houses have decided what they will do with the motor license fee bill, the penitentiary reorganization bill and the text book measure. The former appeared to be doomed but efforts were being made to reach agreement on the latter, with indications that these efforts might take several hours.

FIGHTS DISTRIBUTION

Senator Stuart of Fort Worth was seeking to gain a concession to grant the larger counties of the state $100,000 from the motor license fee money instead of the $50,000 carried in the bill as it passed the senate. Other senators were seeking to retain the terms of the bill as it passed the upper house while house members were holding out for a larger apportionment of fee money for county purposes. The house members also sought an agreement that would guarantee the county

"Thought Survey" Planned By C. C.

A series of approximately 20 meetings, composed of about 25 representative members each, is being planned now by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce as a medium for a "thought survey" to assist in the upbuilding of the city and trade territory. It was announced from the offices of the organization this morning. As soon as plans are completed the meetings will begin, it was said.

The series will be conducted in hourly meetings, with a chairman at each meeting, and citizens present will be given an opportunity to express their opinions regarding factors which, in their minds, the Chamber of Commerce can get behind and carry out for the betterment of the community and section. At the close of each meeting those present will be asked to put their suggestions on a card and at the conclusion of the series the cards will be graded to give the organization an idea concerning the activities most desired by the people. The plan will also form the basis for additional upbuilding work for the Chamber of Commerce to do.

Revival Of Junior C. of C. Here Planned

U. S. TREASURY GETS BILLIONS

Holder Of Liberty Loan Bonds Transfer These For Five Year Treasury Notes

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 16.—Money flowed in and out of the treasury today in perhaps the largest volume for any day since the war, the treasury reaching into the billions.

At night, Secretary Mellon, still deluged by reports from all sections of the country estimated that holders of at least one third of the outstanding second liberty loan bonds had accepted in place of those securities, which fall due next year, the latest offering of five year treasury notes.

Likewise, Mr. Mellon was confident that his estimate of $600,000,000 would be good for the total income tax collections for the first quarter of the year which were due today.

Optimism Prevails

General optimism prevailed at the treasury over the acceptance of his proposal for meeting the second liberty loan issue, the first of the world war bond issues to come due.

More than three billion dollars of these bonds which bear 4 1/2 percent

"Just as good" won't do with women shoppers

WOMEN, because they shop, have learned to distinguish values. Only by comparison have they learned of the wide difference in hosiery. They know exactly what they want and substitutes won't do.

So with coffee. Only by comparing their flavors can you choose the one coffee you like best. Then, it is easy to avoid substitutes by always calling for your favorite coffee by brand name.

We could tell you of the wonderful flavor and delicate aroma of Folger's Coffee. How you would enjoy each steaming cup of this blend of the world's finest coffees.

Instead, we ask you to compare Folger's Coffee with the brand you are now using by making the Folger Coffee Test. It is the logical, easy way to shop for coffee.

The Folger Coffee Test: Drink Folger's Coffee tomorrow morning; the next morning drink the coffee you have been using; the third morning drink Folger's again. You will decidedly favor one brand or the other. The Best Coffee Wins. That's fair, isn't it?

interest had to be met in 1926, and if a good part of them are converted into the five year notes, the treasury will have that much longer in which to provide the money supply.

Interest on the first income tax returns for the year extended to the White House and the capitol as those figures are expected to give the gauge of the prospective tax reduction in sight for next winter.

The treasury also was busy today accepting the payment of $200,000,000 in treasury notes dated May 15, 1927, which fell due Tuesday. To meet this demand Secretary Mellon sold $425,000,000 in certificates of indebtedness.

When Should You Use Ice?

Certainly you don't want to serve milk that has been improperly kept; you don't want good butter to get stale too quickly, you don't want vegetables and meats spoiled—and when the thermometer gets up to present-day heights those are the things that will happen that will happen unless you have your ice-chest filled with ice.

Start Ice Delivery

It is false economy to do without ice when foods require it for preservation. Too it is dangerous to health to serve foods that are perishable and that are not properly kept.

YANKS AND GIANTS ARE OFF TO FLYING START FOR SEASON

HEAVY HITTING YANKS GAMES OF TUESDAY

ES SET FIND IN TEX. KIE WHILE QUINN IS OPTIMISTIC

(The Associated Press)
YORK, Mar. 16.—New York's season contenders have developed a heavy hitting punch for the opening season. The Yankees, led by Earl Brown, and the Giants, led by Lindstrom, are both showing signs of being ready to fly.

Browns Beat Robins

The Brooklyn Robins, who have been the favorite to win the National League pennant, were defeated by the Yankees in a close game today. The Yankees scored in the ninth inning to win 3-2.

Philadelphia Athletics

The Philadelphia Athletics, who are the favorite to win the American League pennant, were defeated by the St. Louis Cardinals today. The Cardinals scored in the ninth inning to win 3-2.

McCarthy Disappointed

Chicago Cubs manager, John J. McCarthy, was disappointed in his team's performance today. The Cubs were defeated by the St. Louis Cardinals in a close game.

Coriarity Sees Results

Managerial ire because of two years of losing has resulted in a new attitude among the players. The team is now showing signs of being ready to fly.

French Talk Costly

The French telephone user must pay for all wiring and furnish his own instrument. It is not only costly, more here than in America to get a telephone, but the French have more difficulty in getting connections and in making themselves understood over the wires.

Reds Entrain Today

Cincinnati Reds will bid adieu to their camp at Orlando, Wednesday, and will be on their way to St. Petersburg for the opening of the season.

Golf Bugs Begin Elimination Play

First elimination flights in the "dark horse" tournament for country club members and associates will start today and continue through tomorrow. Drawing for pairs in the tournament was held last evening at the Hotel Drug among the sixteen qualifying members. The pairs are: Don Mitchell and W. B. Powell; Buddy Stewart and J. R. Germany; L. H. McLarty and Floyd Bowen; John Jarrott and Frank Jones; Bud Roberts and Dr. Fred Standifer; Joe Dick Slaughter and O. L. Peterman; S. A. Wells and Eric Pusoy.

Harvard-Bengal Fight Forgotten On Oxford Crew

OXFORD UNIVERSITY, Mar. 16.—Whatever athletic enmity exists between Harvard and Princeton universities in the United States, they have put it aside at Oxford where five Americans, three from Princeton and two from Harvard, are on the first Torpid crew.

Boley At Shortstop

Another new player in whom Connie Mack pins confident hope is Joe Boley, a mere youngster of 28. He will play shortstop, with Chick Gallagher, the club's regular short fielder for seven years, subject to call.

Nacogdoches Grappler Wins E. Texas Crown

NACOGDOCHES, Texas, Mar. 16.—Jack Elliott, 160 pound Nacogdoches grappler, won the East Texas middleweight wrestling championship here last night by defeating "Stay Comb Kid" Brantley of Marshall in straight falls.

Hallas Is Awarded Wichita Falls Bout

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, Mar. 16.—Charles Grip was disqualified in the second fall and the wrestling match Tuesday was awarded to Billy Hallas, Cincinnati Greek. Hallas won the first fall with a flying head lock and the second ended when Grip clamped on a strange hold that referee Thor Jensen ruled disqualified.

ATHLETICS TO COUNT MUCH ON TRIED VETERANS

BIG RESERVE STRENGTH AUGURS WELL FOR VETERAN PILOT

(By BRIAN BELL)
FORT MYERS, Fla., Mar. 16.—(AP)—Legs are the rub in the camp of the Philadelphia Athletics. If a baseball team plays on its legs as an Army travels on its stomach, Connie Mack may be able to read his baseball fortune in the pines of some of his famed athletes.

Sunrise In The City

Tilting at old, well-established traditions is a risky business. Yet today we feel impelled to break a lance with the time-honored saw which has it that nature is more easily to be enjoyed in the country than in the city.

To be sure, the city parks and lawns
can never compete with the rolling fields and wooded uplands of the countryside. Nor can the city offer anything like the broad rivers and quiet pools of the open spaces, when the wind is whipping up little ripples in the water and the sun is high overhead.

But early in the morning the city can meet the country on an even footing. Morning in the country is a time of delight. In the city it is a time of transfiguration.

This is best observed by the fortunate man whose journey to his place of work takes him due west, so that the sun rises behind him.
This man, if he has eyes, sees his familiar city in a new light.

Before him stretches the street, cutting a geometric line through the buildings on either hand. The buildings in the foreground are of medium height, with the piled terraces of the downtown office buildings and department stores rising behind them, step after step. The morning light brightens them strongly, magnifying their height, so that the furthest seem to stretch upward unbelievably.

The air is clear and fresh. Streets, sidewalks and buildings—all somehow look cleaner than usual, as if the night had in some way taken away the city's grime and soot and refurnished them
so that they might greet the sunrise properly.

The city-bound worker suddenly discovers that the city which rises before him is not the city he knows. It has changed, grown more spacious and airy, undergone some strange kind of purification. The windows in the tops of the most distant buildings catch the sunlight and reflect the dawn with myriad sparkles of glistening radiance, whining like beacon lights over the narrow streets below.

For the moment reality is gone.
The downtown district, so noisy and unromantic by day, is transfigured and turned to a gleaming mirage from beyond the horizon. Its prosaic skyscrapers become turrets and dazzling towers, built for beauty and not for power.

THE PLAINSMAN

Talk about methods of getting business! One Lubbock barber shop has stopped its subscription to "The Police Gazette" and has ordered in its stead
the "Ladies Home Companion."

The day is coming when a right snappy Sunday school party will draw more public interest than a larruping good murder. At least if the unusual thing makes the best news.

"So live that when thy summons comes to join that innumerable caravan" that the reporter who writes the story will not have to include the time-worn phrase of "a strong smell of intoxicants surrounded the wreck."

The Plainsman hopes that the baseball enthusiasts of Lubbock will get behind a strong city league organization this year. He believes that a great deal of good can be gotten by individuals entering into city league baseball as well as by those who view
the games. It begins to look now that Lubbock will not support a semi-pro team in 1927 and the next best thing to do is to have a good, fast municipal organization. The Plainsman believes that the affair should really be organized, a constitution and set of playing rules adopted and adhered to and schedules drafted and kept to the letter. The day of the "slap-bang" city league should be gone in Lubbock.

The present legislature has started steps to take Texas peace officers off the fee system and put them on a straight salary, as a result of a recent ruling made by the United States supreme court. The decision is undoubtedly a good one for the people—a whole.

Nathan Leopold has been found to be back of the series of jailbreaks at Joliet in which two officers have already been killed and which embraced plans to poison every guard in the famous penitentiary so that all of the prisoners might escape. The Plainsman thought at the time Leopold and his partner in the fiendish murder of little Bobby Franks, "Angel Face" Dickie Loebe, were sentenced to life imprisonment instead of being sent to the chair, that it was a grave error in judgment by the court. Now he is more certain of it. The electric chair is much too human a method of extermination of criminals of the Leeb-Leopold type. They should be taken care of in a way which would be imprinted indelibly upon the minds of other sinners who seek to "sally for a thrill."

Old Master's
What is to come we know not.
But we know
That what has been was good—
was good to show,
Better to hide, and best of all to bear.
We are the masters of the days
that were:
We have lived, we have loved, we
have suffered—even so, Shall we not take the ebb who had the flow?
Life was our friend. Now, if it be
our foe,
Dear, though it spoil and break
us—need we care
What is to come?
Let the great winds their worst
and wildest blow,
Or the cold weather round us
mellow slow;
We have fulfilled ourselves, and
we can dare,
And we can conquer, though we may not share
In the rich quiet of the after-glow
What is to come?
—William Ernest Henley: "What Is to Come."

WASHINGTON LETTER

STEDMAN, ONLY CONFED-ERATE VET IN CONGRESS,
WOULD SERVE AT 100

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON, March 14.—Major
Charles Manly Stedman, the south's grand old man in congress, cherishes
a desire to be the first centenarian to sit in either house.
He is 86, and hence nearer the 100-
year mark than anyone now serving.
Stedman will begin his ninth term
as representative from the fifth North Carolina district next December.
This last congress compared very favorably with any he ever served, the major admitted after it had breathed its last. "They're nearly all very high-class men, despite what anyone says.
They have to have some distinction to bring them here. The reason I like being in congress so well is that it gives a personal association with men
of ability and character."

After the war, he was at his brother's side in Fairfield, N. C., when the brother, Robert Winship Stedman, was killed by a Confederate deserter named Morrow. Robert had friend Morrow's face for calling a friend a liar. Morrow subsequently shot Robert five times as Major Stedman stood by.

"Put my bun on my arm," Robert directed the major as he lay dying on the ground. The major obeyed, and Morrow fell dead with three bullets in his body. Robert Stedman died five minutes later.

Because two of them saved his life,
Major Stedman has always had a warm regard for negroes. They all voted for him down home. Once he expressed gratification over the fact that all the negroes and all the women in his district had voted for him.
Major Stedman says "Uncle Joe"
Cannon was the best friend he ever had in congress, and tells many stories of the former speaker.

"He was a splendid old man," the major recalls. "From his death bed he sent me his love and said he wanted me to stay in congress all my life.
You know, he was born five miles
from Greensboro, my home."
Down in Stokes county, in my district, they make the best whiskey in the world and 'Old Man Joe' was very fond of good whiskey.
"One time I got a gallon of the finest,
oldest whiskey in the county and I brought it up for 'Old Man Joe.' I took a little sample in a bottle to him on the floor and we adjourned outside while he sampled it. And after he swallowed it, he said,
" 'I'll be damned if you don't live among a civilized people! That's the best whiskey I ever had.'"

Justajingle
The youngster laughed when father slipped
And fell upon the floor.
But father chanced to hear him, so
He doesn't any more.

Daily Memory Test

FOR THE CHILDREN
"Now you ask one" today was doing especially for children. But don't be too sure that a lot of grown-ups couldn't get some good mental exercise out of it, too. The answers are printed on next column.

- 1-What is wrong with this picture?
- 2-Who was Miles Standish?
- 3-What historic event occurred at Chateau Thierry, in France, in 1918?
- 4-On what day does Thanksgiving
fall?
- 5-What was General U. S. Grant's middle name?
- 6-Where did Lee surrender to Grant?
- 7-For what was George Young of Toronto famous?
- 8-What is the capital of Minnesota?
- 9-What is the national flag of France called?
- 10-How old does an American have to be to vote?

Fireboys Allowed
Full Quota Of Sleep

Fire Chief W. E. Twitty and his Globe fighters awake this morning, rubbed their eyes and wondered.
For the first time in several nights
their stumber had been undisturbed by a fire alarm and naturally they were surprised to find that they had been allowed a full quota of slumber.
The boys are not taking anything for granted, however, and will probably be gulled out twice tonight to make up for the rest. "We're ready to go any time," they said, "but we'd a little rather go in the daytime than at night."

Drunkenness Trial
In City Postponed

A Lubbock citizen, who is fighting
in city court a charge of intoxication, will not come to trial today in keeping with the docket. Municipal Magistrate J. T. Inmon said this morning.
The absence of his lawyers, who have business in the District court term at Crosbyton, has caused the case to be postponed, Mr. Inmon stated.

SAINT AND SINNER

COPYRIGHT 1926 NEARY ANNE AUSTIN

FAITH had been hoping against hope that the nurse would permit her to see her brother-in-law, but that will be the young person welcomed her eagerly.

"I'm so glad you've come. He's been begging me to phone for you, Miss Lane. But you won't stay long—five minutes, perhaps? He's very weak, you know."

"It's Faith, Chris," Faith said softly, as she bent over the long, still form in the high, narrow, white bed.

"Faith? Didn't Cherry come?"

"Cherry's come, you know, Chris," Faith told him gently. "She's in jail. Don't you remember?"

"Oh, yes," he said vaguely, weakly. "Did she send me a message? I've written to her every day and she won't answer my letters. Does she get them?"

"I don't know, Chris. Probably the warden has been instructed not to let her communicate with you. How do you feel, Chris?"

"Terrible," he moaned, moving his head restlessly. "Did Cherry send me a message?"

Faith weakened suddenly, betrayed her sister for the first time. "She wrote you a letter, Chris. She—she cried in court when she read in the papers about your illness. Impulsively she drew Cherry's scribbled love letter out of her handbag and put it in a weakly outstretched hand. "I can't read it," he groaned, his hand dripping limply back to the crinkled white counterpane. "Read it to me, Faith."

Faith conquered her aversion for the man who had brought all this trouble upon her beloved little sister, and, in a monotonous voice, read what Cherry had written—not for Chris' eyes but for the press.

"Chris, my darling husband. My heart is too full to write much, dearest, but I want you to know that I would be at your bedside night and day if it were possible. I had counted so much on your sitting beside me during the trial, giving me the support of your love and tenderness. But my innocence shall bring me through this terrible ordeal, and, thank God, you will escape it. For I shall be cleared and you will never be brought to trial. He of good courage, my beloved, as well as quickly as possible, so that when it is all over we can be together again. I love you, my husband. Your devoted wife, Cherry Lane Wiley."

The dull black eyes brightened, the mustached mouth twitched with a tremulous smile. "She—she wrote that, Faith? You're—you're not fooling me? Let me have it. I want to feel it. I want to kiss it."

Faith did not answer, but she slipped the scribbled message into the white-gloved hand that trembled for it.

"I—I thought she hated me," Chris Wiley said in a low voice.

Faith hit her lips to keep back the words—"She does! She does hate you! What did you do to Cherry, Chris?"

She was glad when a rustle of starched garments told her that the nurse had entered the room. Bending over her brother-in-law, she laid her cold lips upon his cheek, then, without a word, she almost ran out.

To Bob, who was waiting for her in his car before the hospital door, she gasped, in a sob, "What is the matter with me, Bob? Why can't I hate people whole-heartedly like Cherry can? Am I weak, a fool? I'm sorry for Chris, Bob. Oh, the world is a terrible place to live in, Bob! It would be better for all of us if we had never been born!"

"Nig better for me," Bob told her gently. "For you see dear, in spite of all this hell we're going through now, I'm glad I'm alive, for I love you and you love me."

Nose Can Be Cause of Plenty of Trouble

SOME people are never happy unless they are manipulating some of their organs with the idea that they are improving their health habits.

The nose is a peculiar organ under the best of circumstances. It was presumably developed for purposes of breathing with the idea that the passage of air through it would warm cold air and screen out dust and germs. The warming of the cold air is accomplished by the sinuses, which are not infrequently the seat of infection.

Of these sinuses there are six, two frontal sinuses just above the eyebrows, the ethmoid sinus which opens into the upper part of the nasal cavity, the two maxillary sinuses in the upper jaw bone on either side of the nose and the sphenoid sinus back of the nose.

Inflamed by Colds

These sinuses are lined with membranes which tend to become inflamed when the person catches cold or develops any of the infectious diseases which center about the nose and throat. When the inflammation occurs, there is a liberal secretion of fluid into the sinuses.

In the case of infection, the fluid must drain freely from the nose. This cannot be accomplished if there are physical obstructions such as enlargements of any portions, or deflection of the structures that cause blocking. The correction of such misconstructions is obviously a job for an expert.

If deformities are present, the use of lotions, antiseptics, or washes of any kind can do little good and many do much harm. It is safe to say that nasal washes should not be used regularly or except on the advice of a physician.

Sometimes, particularly in large cities, where the air is full of dust and soot, or in poorly ventilated rooms where the atmosphere is dry, persons may be annoyed by dryness and crusting of the nasal membranes. In the out-door air the natural power of these membranes to secrete fluid will keep crusting normal and permit them to be easily removed with the handkerchief. If the air indoors is as dry as to cause an undue amount of crusting, the correction should be applied to the ventilation and not to the nose.

Unquestionably, infection is sometimes transmitted by the nose to hand method. It is safer to avoid inserting the finger or anything else into the nostrils.

Babies and little children not infrequently stick beans, peas, or other objects into the nose. If the child will blow the nose, it is safe to say that the nasal washes should not be used regularly or except on the advice of a physician.

As A Woman Sees It

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

SEA LEGS ARE NO DOUBT A DECIDED ASSET—BUT! How quickly we are to criticize the rich who won't help their poor relations!

I know! It's a bit difficult to be grubbing along, robbing Peter to pay Paul, while under Uncle Charley's or Aunt Molly's heartstone there reposes a nugget of gold.

We lie awake nights thinking about that pot of gold when, if we'd spend the same time thinking about changing our system of living, or managing it might bring more profitable results.

Even without results, it is not as harmful as thinking about some one's money that might help us, and which we know isn't going to help us. There isn't anything quite as discouraging as thinking about the help one doesn't get.

I've broadcast my hobby about what I should do if I had money until I think my friends are tired of hearing it. Here it is: I should like to take a satchel and fill it with hundred dollar bills and go from door to door and inquire politely, "Does any young couple live here who have children and who are worried about money matters? If so, will you tell me just how much you need to give you a fresh start in the world? I'd be so happy to give it to you, and a couple of hundred more to salt down for a damp day."

But, of course, if I did so, I should be flying directly in the face of all logical progress, I am told. That I would be unmaking citizens instead of making them, and creating pauperism. My mind says "yes," my heart says "no." So often I have needed a ring at my belt; I wouldn't mind a timid knock even now.

That is why so many fathers and uncles with money are seemingly stingy. They are probably more interested in the individual, of course, than the citizen, but the principle is there. John, or Tom, must develop self-reliance and sea legs. No one can grow sea legs if he has no rough weather to give them to him.

But as for me, I'd get a wonderful kick out of my handful of bills.

Ben Johnson said, "Gratitude is a lively sense of favor to some."

It may be that Dad or Uncle Charley know that, too.

Gas Tax Upheld
AUSTIN, Mar. 15 (AP)—Validity of the one cent gasoline tax levied by the 28th legislature was upheld today by the supreme court when it granted the state judgment for the tax against the Pioneer Oil and Refining company, reversing the appellate court and affirming judgment of Travis county district court.

Judgment for the state against the Pioneer company in the sum of $88.50 and against the Slump Oil company, also involved in the suit, for $95.00 was granted by the supreme court.

Grants Partial Judgment
Suit was filed by the state to recover gas tax against the Pioneer company. District court granted judgment for gasoline sold in "retail" fashion only and the court of civil appeals reversed the decision, apparently upholding the contention of the company that the tax without a clear line being drawn on the question of the definition of the words "wholesale" and "retail" would be unfair, discriminatory and ambiguous.

The supreme court held that the legislature intended the tax to apply to all persons or firms selling gasoline within the state.

BANDIT SLAYER HELD AS DRUNK

Charged With Failure To Give Aid After Car Strikes Girl At Handley

FORT WORTH, Mar. 15.—N. P. Buchanan, 2, who shot and killed two bandits here December 26, 1933 when they sought to hold him and a woman companion and was himself almost fatally wounded, spent Tuesday night in the county jail after charges had been pressed against him for failure to render aid, driving an automobile while drunk and carrying a pistol.

The accident which occurred one-half mile east of Handley Tuesday afternoon, was one of three which figured on police reports. Buchanan, William Alexander Thompson, 31, died Tuesday night from injuries received Sunday when he was struck by an automobile. Mrs. Hattie Horton, about 22, clothing store clerk, was struck by an automobile early last night, receiving injuries which may prove fatal.

Appeals Courts

The following proceedings were had in the Court of Civil Appeals for the Seventh district at Amarillo today: Motions overruled; E. Jeffers et al vs W. L. Duceer, et al to dismiss appeal; Luer E. Robertson Stephens vs W. H. Stephens, rehearing. Affirmed; George L. Pace vs James Ferguson, from Wichita; Pink L. Parrish, Mayor et al vs J. E. Wright, from Lubbock.

Reversed and remanded; Alts Hibbs vs City National bank, from Wichita; W. S. Langford vs E. P. Nevin, from Wichita.

Criminal Appeals
AUSTIN, Mar. 15 (AP)—Proceedings in the court of criminal appeals today include: Affirmed; H. C. Patterson, Bekari, Luther Hughes, Potter; M. T. Delaney, Panola; Barton Roberts, Austin; A. C. Miller, Angellia; C. C. English, Jefferson; Clara L. Clem, Wheeler; W. Cano Campere, Hidalgo; J. G. Cortina, Nacogdoches; Guada Olupé, Aulla, Wilson. Reversed and remanded; Frank Newborn, Jefferson; R. V. Brown, Wilbarger; John Miller, Williamson; W. P. Ulmer, Jones; E. E. Keller, Carson. Appellate motion for rehearing overruled; Dora Anderson, Potter. Submitted on brief for both parties; Felicia Hall, Galveston; Mon Coffee, Wilbarger.

Criminal Appeals
AUSTIN, Texas, Mar. 15 (AP)—Because of errors in the court's charge, the court of criminal appeals today reversed the seven-year sentence imposed on John Miller of Georgetown on conviction of murder in connection with the Ku Klux Klan street fight at Sealy, September 5, 1932. Miller was convicted of slaying Robert Schaffner, Schaffner's father, P. C. Schaffner, and two other men also were slain. The 99 year sentence of Frank Andrews, Dallas county, for the slaying of Arthur Berry, January 5, 1926, was reversed and remanded and the appellant's motion for rehearing granted. A 28 year sentence imposed on Clara L. Clem in Wheeler county in connection with the slaying of J. S. Clem, December 8, 1925, was affirmed. States motion for rehearing in the case of George W. Riddle from Dallas county, convicted of receiving deposits for an insolvent bank and sentenced to two years, was overruled.

COURT DECRIES BLACK BOTTOM

Refuses To Permit Girls To Parade Costumes That Are Charged As Improper

(By The Associated Press)
JACKSON, Miss., Mar. 15.—The Black Bottom was barred from the court room today in the trial of Geo. E. Wintz, manager of the Music Box

Review for alleged presentation of chorus girls on the stage of a local theater improperly clad. The action came from Judge Longino when attorneys for the defense sought his permission to introduce two chorus girls in the costumes in which they presented the dance which brought the action. Attorneys for the state said that they would neither approve nor oppose such action, but Judge Longino said that he would not permit the presentation in court of any theatrical performance that had been charged with impropriety. The move by defense attorneys came after three members of the chorus had testified that the costumes were not improper and one of them had stood before the jury with the offending garments stretched across her street clothes to show the manner in which they fit. The girls said that they were like any other bathing suit and said that they were required to wear trunks with them. Two stage workers who viewed the performance from behind the scenes said that they saw nothing improper or objectionable. By agreement the testimony of other members of the chorus was dictated into the record and read to the jury. The girls agreed that the suits were alike except for size. All members wore bathing suits and trunks, they said and the garments were not transparent.
