Insect Control Plans Drafted

COLLEGE STATION, July 14. (AP) Members of the cotton insect control section of the state-wide cotton committee approved here today the final draft of a tentative report recommending a program of economical control of cotton insects as a means of increasing income of cotton farmers.

The recommendations cover activities for the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, the Texas agricultural experiment station, and the Texas extension service. Work of the two former would be experiment and research, the latter educational and demonstration work.

Should Battle Insects

Eugene Butler of Dallas, chairman of the committee, said he believed federal funds should be used to battle insects, which Dr. F. L. Thomas, state entomologist estimated caused an average loss of 14.2 per cent of the Texas cotton crop—over a million bales yearly—during a ten year period.

Thomas cited aid given the grasshopper fight in the last three years in urging federal aid to combat cotton pests.

Additional recommendations included the setting up of central headquarters with stations located at representative locations; placing of additional entomologists in the field full time; and additional men during the growing season.

The use of future farmers and 4-H club boys in cooperation with exension workers was suggested that they may receive field training as well as assist in gathering needed basic information.

Count Hoping To See Child

LONDON, July 14. (AP) — Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow decided today to remain in London until he has seen his young son Lance, mentioned as the cause of trouble that may lead to a Danish divorce of the count and the former Barbara Hutton.

The 42-year-old Danish count was said to have declared he was "anxious" to see the handsome blond boy, but at a court hearing yesterday the nobleman promised not to visit the London mansion where Lance is under heavy guard nor attempt to communicate with Countess Barbara.

Making No Settlement

"I am making no settlement on the advice of my solicitors," the London News Chronicle quoted Haugwitz-Reventlow as saying.

"But I have not seen my son for four weeks and I am anxious to do so. The matter is being handled by my lawyers and until it is settled I shall know no more than you do."

The paper said the count's secretary stated the count would make legal application for permission to see the son "if necessary."

Since the mother, heiress to the Woolworth fortune, already has made Lance a ward in chancery, putting him beyond control of either parent. Any meeting of the father and son probably would require court sanction.

Loans And Grants Totaling Millions Are Approved By PWA On Thursday

Naval Repairs Are Ordered

WASHINGTON, July 14. (AP) — The Public Works administration approved today allotment of $8,710,100 for federal projects and grants and loans totaling $3,869,534 for 28 new non-federal projects.

The federal list allocations included $6,055,000 for the navy bureau of yards and docks to be spent on repairs, additions and new buildings at the naval academy at Annapolis, the naval air station in Seattle, the naval training station at Norfolk and 14 other naval stations.

Other Divisions Aided

The agriculture department received grants amounting to $2,365,100 for the construction of new greenhouses, heating plants, laboratories and other buildings as well as repairs and improvements for the department's experiment stations conservation projects.

The grants included:

Anxious Wives Of Fliers Are But Mere Spectators When Big Plane Sets Down

NEW YORK, July 14. —The anxious wives of three members of the Hughes around-the-world flight crew were mere spectators for a time today as the flyers landed at Floyd Bennett field.

The wives—Mrs. Thurlow, Mrs. Connor, and Mrs. Stoddart — were momentarily held back in the press of the vast crowd when the plane landed, in spite of the efforts of a special squad of policemen.

As the great silver plane circled overhead Mrs. Stoddart yelled:

"Hurry, boys."

Mrs. Connor smiled.

All Like A Dream

"Aren't you proud?" she said to her companions. "Isn't it wonderful. It's all like a dream."

Mrs. Thurlow thought it was "the best looking ship I've ever seen."

Mrs. Stoddart tried to light a cigarette. Her hands shook. She finally got the light and smoked nervously.

When at last they got through to greet their husbands, this was what they said:

Mrs. Stoddart (with a kiss)—"Thank God you're back!"

Mrs. Thurlow (kiss and embrace) "Tommy."

Mrs. Connor (too excited for more) —"Oh, hello."

Politics Discussed At Kiwanis Club

Politics furnished the meat of Thursday's program for the Kiwanis club luncheon at the Lubbock hotel, with the four leading candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor making pleas for votes and support.

Chairman L. C. Ellis, county Democratic chairman, presided and introduced the speakers. He preceded the introduction by announcing candidates were to state their stands on three questions, woman suffrage, birth control and divorce laws. The crowd voiced approval of the talks of the candidates.

W. D. Benson took the part of Ernest O. Thompson, Amarillo candidate, who represented himself as a candidate, not merely of the dust bowl area of West Texas, but of the entire state. His record as mayor of Amarillo was cited as an example of what he would do as governor.

E. L. Klett portrayed the part of William McCraw, attorney general, the "red head from Dallas," who is seeking the honor. Klett took a side-swipe at his opponents. J. D. Carnett made a brief talk for W. Lee O'Daniel and then introduced his hill-billy band. The trio played two selections, with Carnett directing them. He forgot, however, to make a collection.

George Berry made a plea for Tom Hunter, introduced "Mrs. Hunter," and told what he would do down in the executive mansion at Austin

President O. W. English introduced three new members, Rex Baxter, Olen Stewart and Thomas Murphy. Several visitors including Alvin R. Allison, V. G. Woolsey and Dr. M. H. Benson spoke briefly.

The number of hours which we sleep is not so important, according to one expert, as seeing that our sleep is untroubled.

Houston, Where They Know Howard Hughes As "Sonny," Celebrates His Trip

Aunts Beaming With Pride

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, July 14.—Down here, where they still know him as "Sonny," Howard Hughes' feat of circumventing the globe in almost as many days as it took Magellan's sailors years to do it, was celebrated today.

His two maternal aunts, Mrs. J. P. Houstoun and Mrs. Fred Lummis, beamed with pride as they discussed the history making flight which both followed avidly by radio and in the newspapers.

They Knew Him When

It has been three years since the slim young flying enthusiast dropped in on the town of his birth but many of the town's 400,000 residents feel they know him and a great many of the workers in the huge brewery and oil well machinery plant he still owns knew him when he was a lad.

His triumphs are celebrated by his employes with an extra stein of beer over the Rathskeller, which is located on the huge oil well drilling bit plant left him by his late father, Howard Robard Hughes, who came here from Keokuk, Iowa, when the first oil well was punched in Texas' soil, and invented a bit that revolutionized oil well drilling.

Got It From Father

Many suggested that Howard got his liking for speed from his father, who bought one of the first automobiles sold in Texas and proceeded to drive it at top speed.

Former Governor W. P. Hobby, newspaper publisher, who knew the elder Hughes, said frequently he rode with the inventor and held his breath as they tore down the road at 30 miles an hour when that was a dizzying pace.

Mrs. Lummis said she doubted that Howard Hughes got as big a "kick" out of speed as his father, who, she said, once raced Barney Oldfield.

"Howard seems to enjoy the technical knowledge he gets out of his flights more than he does setting up records for speed," she said.

Mechanical Genius

The aunt pictured her nephew as a "mechanical genius."

"Why when he was 12 years old," she said proudly, "he invented an electrical bicycle that actually operated. And he tinkered with radios when he was a kid and became quite an expert."

Mrs. Houstoun sat close to a radio to hear descriptions of the flight.

"I'm so excited and interested," she said, "that I don't have time to think about his life in Houston. He left here about 12 years ago and his uncle, Rupert Hughes, has written about everything of interest about sonny that I know."

Hughes, who married Miss Ella Rice, niece of William Marsh Rice, founder of the Rice institute, left Houston for California a short time after being divorced here.

Returns But Infrequently

He returns to Houston infrequently and most of the time for only short periods. His last trip here was a stopover on a flight from Miami to the west coast.

The brewery and drilling bit company, valued at approximately $20,000,000 are of little concern to the aviator. He leaves management of the two huge enterprises in the hands of others.

He still maintains residence here at the home of Mrs. Lummis, wife of a doctor, who proudly brought down from the attic the amateur radio set Howard tinkered with years ago before he learned to fly.

Just as Hughes plane touched the ground at New York, the whistle at the tool company plant here gave an extra sharp chirp and the employes, who were at lunch knew that the flight was over.

They whooped it up and sailed hats in the air while newspapers rushed extras on the street.

ALL BUT POLICEMEN

CHICAGO, July 14. (AP) — Police went into action when a man telephoned the station and said excitedly, "There's a body on the corner of Grand and Halsted. Looks like murder."

Two officers sped to the scene. Sure enough, they found the body, its back covered with blood. But the "body" was a clothing store dummy and the "blood" was catsup.

'Just A Joke'

Home in bed was blond screen actress Ula Love, above, while her Hollywood agent sent police out on a widespread search by reporting her "missing." The agent said he "feared foul play" because Ula hadn't reached Hollywood from Memphis. Ula's mother said of course she hadn't reached Hollywood—because she hadn't left Memphis—and commented that "it must have been a publicity stunt we didn't know anything about."

Lockney Plans On Celebration

LOCKNEY, July 14. — Postponed from July 1-2 because of harvest, a two-day celebration is scheduled for Friday and Saturday here.

Baseball games, old fiddlers contests, bicycle races, and other events are scheduled. Committees have been working on the plans.

Many Events Slated

Friday's events include bicycle races for boys and girls, in age groups in the morning, basket picnic at noon, double header baseball game between Barwise and Francis, and Irick and Lockney; bathing beauty revue at Isis theatre at night. Elimination of fiddlers contest follows.

On Saturday there will be a parade in the morning, with a homecoming of Lockney Christian college students at 1 o'clock. Relay and other races will be held in the afternoon, with a baseball game between winners of Friday's events, a husband calling contest is planned, with finals in the fiddlers contest at night.

Bids For Leasing Of River Bed Tract Being Opened

AUSTIN, July 14. (AP)—The state board of mineral development today opened bids for leasing that part of the Wichita river-bed tract awarded the state in an agreed court settlement with the Venmex Oil company.

Land Commissioner W. H. McDonald originally had renewed a lease on the tract for the Venmex company, which later was cancelled by the board at the insistence of Governor James V. Allred, board chairman, who said a contract more favorable to the state should have been made in view of the KMA field development.

Among bidders on the tract to which the state was given title in the court settlement and which was estimated to amount to 60 per cent of the value of the old lease to the Venmex company were S. H. Fagadeau of Wichita Falls, C. O. Davis of Dallas, Farrell Drilling company of Fort Worth, L. R. Eddy of Gladewater, G. W. Drilling company and Consolidated Oil company.

All wines do not improve with age. A wine which is indifferent at the start usually will get worse as it gets older.

Rites For Former Resident Will Be Held On Saturday

Funeral rites will be read by Rev. R. M. Hocker, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Sanders chapel for D. R. Wood, 59, who lived in Lubbock before moving to California 15 years ago.

Wood died Wednesday at Stockton, Calif.

Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery.

Survivors include J. W. C. and J. V. Wood, sons, and Mrs. Mary Bost, Mrs. A. L. Allison, Mrs. W. W. McCrummen and Mrs. Clark Zachary, daughters, all of Lubbock.

Other survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wood of Abilene; a daughter, Mrs. Stella McCasland of Kermit; a brother, Harley Wood of Smyer; and three sisters, Mrs. Ida Montgomery, Mrs. J. C. W. Davis and Mrs. N. J. Fulfer of Abilene, as well as the widow, Mrs. May Wood.

Bearers will be Lon Daniel, Scheborn Howard, Frank Cook, Neal Hill, Talmadge Hill and Jim Dew.

When a dish turns out poorly, Portuguese cooks chastise the statue of their patron saint, which stands always on the kitchen shelf.

Lions Club Delegates Will Be Entertained In City

Members of a committee from the Lubbock Lions club met in offices of the chamber of commerce here Thursday afternoon to make preparations for entertaining delegates to the international convention of the organization at Oakland, Calif., Tuesday through Saturday of next week who will pass through Lubbock Saturday.

The special train is scheduled to arrive here at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon and will leave an hour and a half later. Members of the committee in charge of entertaining the visiting Lions are John Jackson, W. H. Carpenter, John Toles, and Jack Dudley.

When here, the visitors will be taken on a tour through Lubbock. Transportation will be furnished by members of the club here, it was announced.

Toles will head a delegation of 10 Lions which will meet the special train at Post and accompany the delegates here.

Aviation Group Meets Today

C. E. Maedgen, chairman, called a special meeting for 9 o'clock this morning of the aviation committee of the chamber of commerce. Policies of the group will be discussed, in directors room of the chamber.

Later in the forenoon, members of the group will meet with a committee composed of representatives from Amarillo, Big Spring, San Angelo, San Antonio and Lubbock which was appointed to urge the designation of an airmail line serving those points.

Another Line Rumored

One of the topics for discussion, probably at both meetings, may deal with rumors concerning an airmail line from El Paso through Carlsbad, Lubbock, Roswell, Amarillo and Albuquerque to Pueblo, Colo. What the prospects of creation of such a line may be are uncertain, officials said, although it has been a subject of recent news stories in several New Mexico newspapers.

Members of the Lubbock Chamber's aviation committee are, additional to Maedgen: Amos Howard, John Green, W. H. Rodgers, Hub Jones, W. B. Price, M. R. Smith, jr., J. O. Jones, Clent Breedlove, R. F. Hinchey, Vernon Herndon, Fremont Berger, A. P. Holt, Dr. Ben B. Hutchinson, Robert Bean, Harold Griffith, Clayton Gammill, jr., Robert J. Allen and Lee Hubby.

Chairman of the inter-city aviation committee is J. H. Greene, manager of Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. Other members are Tom Cotten of Amarillo, J. C. Deal of San Angelo, C. F. Dieter of San Antonio and Maedgen.

Members of the inter-city committee will be guests at a luncheon at Lubbock hotel at noon. Each of the committee members probably will be accompanied by others, and some may fly here, the chamber of commerce was advised.

No Cash Available For Flood Control

WASHINGTON, July 14. (AP)—Secretary Ickes told reporters today it was "very doubtful" if any PWA relief funds would be allocated for the $375,000,000 flood control program authorized by congress last session.

He made the statement in answer to a question as to the likelihood of an allocation for the largest single project authorized in the flood control act—a $54,000,000 dam on the Red river between Texas and Oklahoma.

Questioned whether an exception might be made for the carrying out of the $11,500,000 dike construction program on the Connecticut river in New England, Ickes replied:

"I don't know, but I don't think there will be any allocation for projects authorized in that bill."

The measure did not appropriate money to put it into effect.

Painful Injuries Suffered By Patrolman In Mishap

SAN ANTONIO, July 14. (AP) — Painful head injuries and a broken right elbow were suffered by State Highway Patrolman E. H. Gilbert when his motorcycle overturned in loose gravel on an outlying road last night.

He is from San Angelo and has been stationed here since June 1.

BATON ROUGE, La., July 14.—It isn't often that the people of a whole state pay much attention to the campus campaign and the election of undergraduate officers of the state university.

But when Russell Long started his drive for president of the student body of Louisiana State University here, the people of Louisiana cocked their ears and peeled their eyes to hear and watch the hottest, most spectacular campaign in L. S. U.'s history.

For 19-year-old Russell Long, in face, voice and electioneering methods, is the reincarnation of his father, the late Senator Huey P. Long. And now that Long has demonstrated his ability to poll almost as many votes as did his two opponents combined, Louisiana is wondering whether another member of the Long dynasty has leaped into the saddle to ride to the political wars.

Long received 1892 votes; Claiborne Dameron, 1203 votes; and "Blondie" Bennett, against whom Long concentrated his campaign, only 796 votes. If Dameron demands it, Long must enter a run-off primary, but Dameron is expected to withdraw instead. Said Long after the election, with the confidence typical of his father: "We've got 'em licked to a frazzle."

Adults with no family or personal interest in the outcome of that L. S. U. undergraduate campaign, have flocked to the L. S. U. campus to watch its progress through rallies, parades, mass meetings, and have gasped at the sight of Russell Long in action.

"It's Huey come back again!" They have said it over and over. Huey Long's fantastic pug nose, his windmill gestures, his torrential flow of language, his eyes hot with excitement, his storm of vituperation at his opponents, are all there again on this earth in his son Russell Long.

Swim-suited coeds with "LONG" lettered on their bare backs, as at right, introduced a novel note into Russell Long's campaign for the campus presidency. At upper left, Shirley Leche, coed niece of Governor Richard W. Leche, prettily campaigns for Long from a sound truck. A glimpse of Russell Long, lower center, as he addressed a pre-election meeting, is startling reminiscent of his father, Huey Long. Claiborne Dameron, lower left, was Long's closest competitor in the campaign.

Russell Long's campaign was a hurricane. He used his father's methods. Showmanship! Russell Long organized a corps of fair co-eds to parade around the Louisiana State University campus in the scantiest of swimming suits, with LONG in big black letters painted on their bare young backs. He organized loud-speakers on trucks to roll about the campus.

The morning of the election, he plastered L. S. U. campus with black-printed handbills, the same kind of political dodgers in the same kind of type his father used to issue to plaster Louisiana from one end to the other. "BEWARE OF LAST MINUTE LIES!" they were headed. "The Ship Is Sinking and Blondie Bennett and His Gang Are Blowed Up!"

They went on to promise L. S. U. students a co-operative laundry, a co-operative book exchange, a straightaway bus service between the campus and Baton Rouge, if Russell were elected, and all "at no additional increase in fees." Just as Huey Long used to promise new highways and bridges, free school books, "and all with no increase in taxes!"

Whiffs of tear-gas and fistfights marked Russell Long's meeting when it was held the night before election.

He shouted vituperation at the "laundry trust" that he said was charging students at L.S.U. twice what they should pay; offered to resign the presidency of the student body if he couldn't get them, without extra fee, a cooperative laundry plant on the campus, a co-operative book exchange and a straightaway bus service to town. It was like Huey Long attacking the trusts in his Louisiana campaigns in 1923 and 1927. Same voice, same gestures, same tactics.

Nearly 8000 Louisiana boys and girls attend L.S.U. from every parish (county) in the state. If Russell Long makes good with them, how high will he climb? Will the Long dynasty rule on into a second generation? Louisiana is asking that, very seriously, today.

If you ask Russell Long that question, his answer is: "Yes!" His avowed intention is to follow in his father's footsteps. He is building up his machine, statewide, on the L. S. U. campus. He is studying law and specializing in debate. He is planning to make politics his business, his profession, his vocation and his avocation, as his father did before him.

State Income From Tax Upon Oil Shows Slight Decline

AUSTIN, July 14. (AP)—The state's income from the tax on gross production of oil dropped only $72.877 while production was off 11,330,099 barrels for the first five months of the year, Comptroller George H. Sheppard reported today.

The decline in revenue, much less than anticipated, was due apparently to a firming of price, Sheppard said.

The oil tax is 2 3-4 cents per barrel, or 2 3-4 per cent of value when the price is more than 1 per barrel.

Production on which tax was paid and revenue for 1938 included: January, 40,405,198 and $1,340,450; February, 35,038,567 and $1,161,509; March, 40,709,389 and $1,346,927; April, 40,322,453 and $1,334,712; May, 37,164,409 and $1,228,770. No tax is paid on state royalty oil.

IT'S CHERRY TIME! BAKE CHERRY PIE

Here's a wonderful recipe

Even if you've never baked a pie in your life before, try this one. See how easily triple-creamed Spry, the new ALL-vegetable shortening, cuts into your flour—what tender, flaky crust you get. Women who have been baking for years are amazed how much better their pastry is since they've been using Spry.

Spry gives lighter cakes, too, in half the mixing time. Crisper, more delicate fried foods that are so digestible a child can eat them. Try Spry. Use it for all baking and frying. And make this wonderful cherry pie today. It's a treat!

Fresh Cherry Pie

4 cups fresh red cherries, pitted
3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon butter
1 recipe Spry Pie Crust

Combine cherries, tapioca and sugar and let stand while pie crust is being made. Roll ½ of dough and line a 9-inch pie plate. Fill pie shell with cherry mixture. Dot with butter. Moisten edge of pie with water. Roll remaining dough for top crust and cut a few slits to permit steam to escape. Fit top crust over cherries and seal edge of pie. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 30 to 40 minutes.

Spry Pie Crust (9 in.)

2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅔ cup Spry
5 tablespoons water (about)

No need to chill ingredients to get flaky crust with Spry. Sift flour and salt together. Add ½ of Spry and cut in until mixture is as fine as corn meal. (Takes only a jiffy with triple-creamed Spry!) Add remaining Spry and continue cutting until particles are size of navy bean. Sprinkle water, 1 tablespoon at a time, over mixture. With a fork, work lightly together until a dough is formed.

(All measurements in these recipes are level)

Try Spry for lighter cakes, crisper fried foods, too

Congressman Fritz Lanham Of Fort Worth Has A Large List Of Opponents

Often Opposed FDR Policies

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another of a series on the congressional races in Texas).

By HARRELL E. LEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

FORT WORTH, July 14. — Fritz Lanham of Fort Worth, veteran of two decades in the national house of representatives, has more opponents in the July 23 Democratic primary than any other member of the Texas congressional delegation.

Challenging him are Alvin E. Amos, first-term state representative from Fort Worth; Curtis McBroom, Fort Worth attorney and former resident of Weatherford, Lanham's old home; A. H. Wheeler, Arlington publisher; J. J. Connolly of Fort Worth; B. F. Barnes of Weatherford; and Dr. F. E Harrison of Fort Worth.

Has Opposed FDR

Lanham has opposed President Roosevelt on certain measures and some of his adversaries attempt to make it an issue.

"I have supported President Roosevelt many times," the ten-term representative replies. "There are some things on which I have not agreed. If congressmen voted the way someone said every time we might as well not have a congress."

Lanham has said he is very fond of the president both personally and politically. He points out that in past years he campaigned for Mr. Roosevelt in doubtful areas.

Had Four In 1936

The Fort Worth representative had four opponents in 1936 yet was spared the necessity of making a run-off campaign. He garnered 22,711 votes in the first primary to 15,044 for Julien C. Hyer and 12,623 for the three other candidates, one of whom was Dr. Harrison. Hyer then decided to withdraw.

Amos says he is 100 per cent for the New Deal. He urges elimination of lobbyists and boss control of government, abolition of child labor and enforcement of a minimum wages and maximum hours law. He has the indorsement of many old age pensioners here.

Dr. Harrison, who received but 1,630 votes in the 1936 race, operates a clinic-hospital. He states he favors federalization of old age pensions without paupers' oaths and protection for small independent business.

Stand By President

One of Wheeler's campaign planks is headed: "Stand by the president." A publisher of small town newspapers for 30 years, he asserts he is for the New Deal with reservations which any independent editor would make.

McBroom stresses support of the president's program in its entirety.

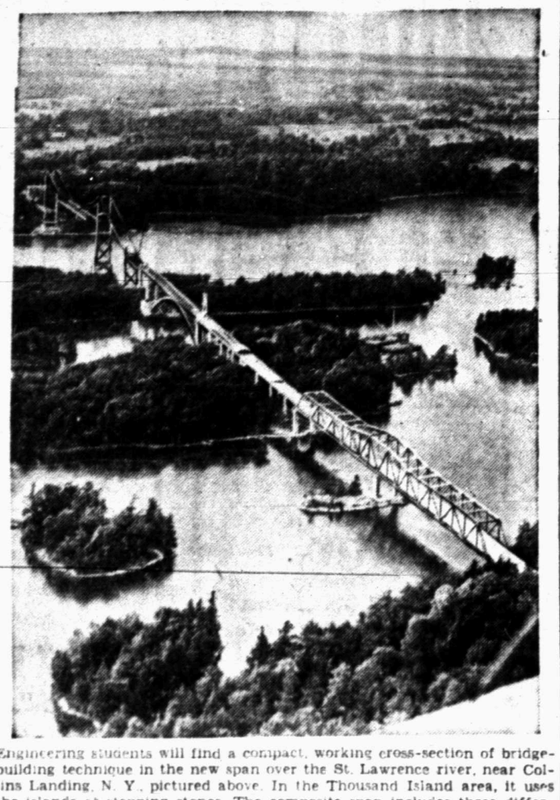

Counties in the district in addition to Tarrant are Hood, Johnson, Somervell and Parker.

In the district southeast of here, Luther A. Johnson of Corsicana, whose service in congress is only four years less than that of Lanham, is opposed by H. Fountain Kirby of Groesbeck, widely-known district judge, and Noble Cook of Thornton.

Johnson seldom has had opposition. He received considerably more than a clear majority over four opponents in the first primary of 1936.

He is regarded as a supporter of the Roosevelt administration. The district comprises Navarro, Limestone, Ellis, Robertson, Freestone, Leon, Hill and Brazos counties.

St. Lawrence Bridge Is 3-In-1 Span

Engineering students will find a compact, working cross-section of bridge-building technique in the new span over the St. Lawrence river, near Collins Landing, N. Y., pictured above. In the Thousand Island area, it uses the islands as stepping stones. The composite span includes three different bridge forms: in foreground a continuous truss span joins Hill and Constance Islands; next is a steel arch bridge to Georgina Island, with the suspension type as the final link to the Canadian mainland.

Scots Celebrate Famous Battle 600 Years Late; No Saxophones

GLASGOW, July 14 (AP)—Six hundred years late, a ball was held here to celebrate the battle of Bannockburn, when Scottish troops under Robert Bruce routed the forces of King Edward the Second.

Members of the Scottish Home Rule party sponsored the celebration on the better-late-than-never principle as propaganda for their goal of Scottish separation from England.

Dancing at the ball was to bagpipes as saxophones were banned as un-Scottish.

Australia's "Flying Doctor" Is Awarded Aviation Medal

SYDNEY, Australia, July 14 (AP)—Australia's "flying doctor," Dr. Clyde Fenton of Darwin, has been awarded the "Oswald Watt Medal" for 1937.

The medal is presented annually to the aviator who does the most brilliant work in the air during the year in Australia. Dr. Fenton flies thousands of miles every year to attend patients.

Bride's Family Pays Expenses, Except When Taken To Courts

OAKLAND, Calif., July 14. (AP)—The etiquette books say that the family of the bride pays for the wedding, but when the question is settled by law it's different.

In a suit brought for an unpaid bill for 80 wedding dinners Township Justice Harry W. Pulcifer ruled that the families of the bride and bridegroom should share the expense.

Author And Critic Praises South For Its Literature

NEW ORLEANS, July 14 (AP)—Burton Rascoe, author and critic, says "the south practically dominates the literary scene now."

Rascoe, here from New York to spend his vacation, stated that the literary standard of a section should be judged by its "literary consumption" as well as its production. The south rates high in both respects, he concluded.

The year 1935 was England's busiest since 1916 in its lifeboat service. During the year, 378 launches were sent to vessels in distress.

Final Band Concert Is Postponed Here

The final concert by the Texas Technological college summer band, scheduled for Thursday night, was postponed until 8:15 o'clock tonight, according to announcement from officials of the college's summer recreation program. Postponement was because of rain.

The concert will be presented in the college gymnasium under direction of Mark H. Hindsley, assistant director of University of Illinois bands and a guest conductor.

The concert will be free, said D. O. Wiley, director of the band school.

Two oboe solos will be presented by Milburn E. Carey, director of the Phillips university band at Enid, Okla., and twice winner of national oboe solo contests.

A baritone trio comprised of R. L. Floyd of McLean, Harold Tucker of Slaton, and Elmer Hinkle of Altus, Okla., will play, with band accompaniment.

The band school will end Saturday. Hindsley is serving on the staff this week, offering demonstrations before both concert and marching bands.

Co-Ed Attacked, Escort Tied To Tree

Rosanna Sandberg (left), Kansas State college co-ed of Hutchinson, Kas., was bound, attacked and left for dead in a field near Newton, Kas., by an armed abductor. Mark Cain, jr., (right), the girl's escort, was tied to a tree, but freed himself with a small knife on his watch chain.

Something New In Building Permits Noted Thursday

Something new in the way of building permits appeared at the inspector's office Thursday. It was a permit for $1.50, and cost $1.

The permit was issued to A. C. Ludlam for erection of a temporary sale sign at 1205 Broadway.

The week's building permit total climbed to $87,266.50 with addition of Thursday's four permits authorizing construction estimated to cost $6,891.50.

Total for July was shoved to $166,867.50 and for the year to $1,414,711.33.

Among the larger permits were: Henry P. Clay, owner and contractor, to construct a one-story adobe residence at 2621 Twenty-third street, $3,500; and N. C. Woody, owner, and J. R. Thomas, contractor, to construct a one-story frame residence at 1708 Twenty-fourth street, $2,500.

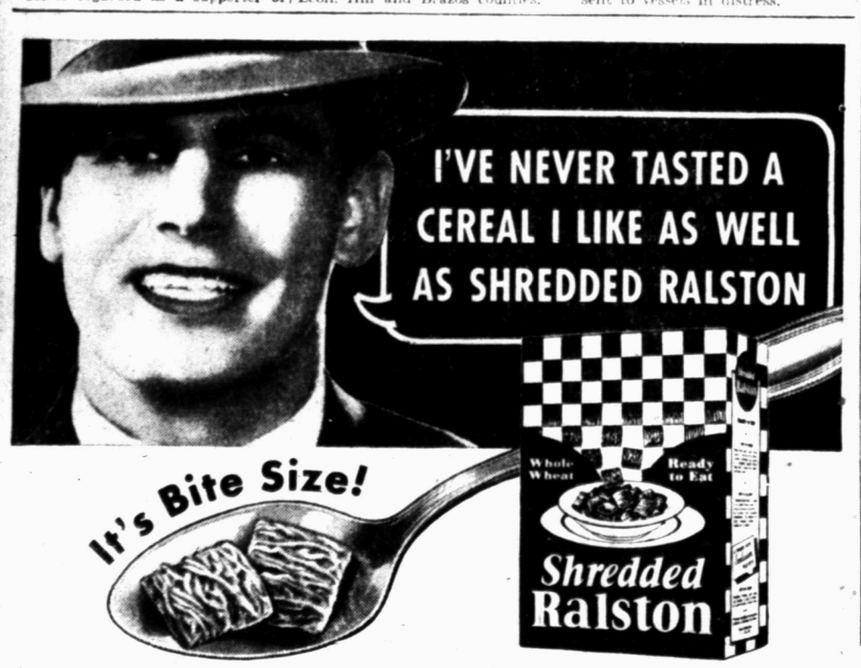

Killing Of Lions Puts Witch Doctors Out Of Commission

NAIROBI, July 14. (AP)—Witch doctors, who make a big profit from the sale of charms against man-eating lions, are blocking the efforts of authorities to wipe out the beasts, according to the Tanganyika game department.

The savage doctors, it is declared, have obliterated lion trails on several occasions after natives have been seized and eaten to prevent the game rangers from tracking the beasts.

Audit Of City Books Offered

An independent audit showing that "books and records of the city were found to have been kept in an unusually complete and accurate manner" during the fiscal year ending last March 31 was received by the city commission at its semi-monthly meeting Thursday afternoon from W. W. Condray, certified public accountant of Lubbock.

Contract to make the audit was awarded to Condray on his bid of $600 several weeks ago.

Figures Corroborated

The audit, officials said, corroborated the figures which are made from month to month in the city's auditing deparment.

After commenting that city records "reflect competence and diligence in the operations for the period under audit," Condray's report continued:

"Records and receipts of the engineering, health and building departments need more systematic attention. Keeping of these records has become rather burdensome because of the failure to require payment of fees at the time receipt therefor is issued in many cases. The management has given instructions that this practice be stopped.

To Get Proper Care

"Records of consumers' meter deposits have been needing attention for several years. . . . We are informed steps will be taken to insure their being given proper care.

"Records of the tax department reflect a need for systematic work.

"Delinquent taxes as shown by all rolls decreased during the fiscal year in the amount of $13,569. This is a desirable trend, but we were informed that no aggressive action is now being taken toward the collection of delinquent real property taxes.

"Systematic attention should be given to the collection of occupation taxes. The collector is in need of legal advice as to the taxes which are collectible under state law.

Not Of Great Consequence

"A few instances were found where purchases in excess of $100 had been made without the taking of competitive bids. . . . There were found only two cases where the taking of bids had been neglected for no apparent cause, and these purchases were not of great consequence."

Business transacted by the commission was wholly routine, perhaps the most important matter being the authorization of storm sewer construction from Avenue M to Avenue K in the vicinity of Fourth to Second streets. Total cost will approximate $8,000, of which the WPA will pay $3,784.75, the city $2,539.65 and the Santa Fe railroad the remainder.

An ordinance forbidding the keeping of livestock within certain prescribed residential areas was passed on second and final reading and will go into effect Aug. 15. The ordinance was adopted after an election several weeks ago.

To Prepare Application

Formal authorization was given to H. N. Roberts, local engineer, to prepare an application for a Public Works administration grant in the construction of a storm sewer across the southern portion of the city. Tentative estimates are the project will cost $350,000 of which the PWA will be asked to pay 45 per cent. A city bond issue will be necessary to finance the balance, officials said.

City Engineer Marlin R. Smith, jr., was authorized to represent the city at a water conservation conference called by Governor James V. Allred for July 29 in Austin.

Mrs. J. E. Delavan proposed to sell to the city for $8,000 a right-of-way across her property to open Twenty-third street between Avenue H and Texas avenue. Twenty-third, officials explained, would provide direct routing for traffic from downtown into the western and southern parts of the city. City Manager W. H. Rodgers was authorized to offer Mrs. Delavan $5,000 for the property, on which a tourist camp now is situated.

Needs To Be Solved

The city manager also was instructed to investigate best methods of solving needs of the garbage department for additional equipment.

Installation of stop signs on Avenue O at Fifteenth streets was ordered.

Payment of $19 to W. W. Campbell, Lubbock attorney, for damages to his automobile when a motorcycle ridden by Policeman S. O. Boyd collided with it July 9 at Tenth street and Avenue L was authorized. Boyd's leg was injured in the crash.

Cliff Meador, street paving foreman, was placed on a salary of $165 per month on the recommendation of Billy Clark, paving superintendent. Meador has been employed on an hourly basis in the past.

Contractors bonds approved were: Otis Rich and W. P. Walkup, general; B. B. Rhodes, sub-general; and H. & H. Electric company, R. G. Henry and M. E. Lawrence, electric.

Last Rites For Mike Levine Held At Wichita Thursday

WICHITA FALLS, July 14. (Special)—Last rites for Mike Levine, 79, native of Poland and father of the founders of department stores here and at Lubbock, were conducted here at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Rabbi Aaron Rabinowitz.

Levine died in a hospital here Wednesday night after an illness of six months.

He moved to Wichita Falls in 1909 after coming to the United States from Poland in 1897. His two sons, Morris and William, established a store here, then later opened another at Lubbock.

Survivors, besides the two sons, are three daughters, Mrs. Morris Zeitlin of Wichita Falls, Mrs. J. Foreman of Vernon, and Mrs. Sol Glickman of Wichita Falls; 11 grandchildren, and a great-grandchild.

Indian Bees Sting Six Persons To Death; Two Camels Perish

SIMLA, India, July 14. (AP)—Six camelriders of a passing caravan were stung to death by a swarm of bees in Suratnagar. According to the only survivor, the caravan, which had halted near the jungle, was attacked by bees shortly after the men had lighted a fire to cook their food, just below the bee-hives.

The victims, who ran in all directions, were stung to death within a few minutes. The insects next attacked the camels and two of the animals perished also.

Get Wise to Constipation!

When you're constipated, it's a great temptation to be satisfied with quick relief. But physics may become a habit. And they don't keep constipation from returning. It's so much better to get at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat what most people do, chances are the only thing the matter is you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean how much you eat. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

What to do? Eat a little Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day and drink plenty of water. This crunchy toasted cereal is not only rich in "bulk"—it also contains the natural intestinal tonic, vitamin B1. All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Buccaneers Leave New York Half Game Behind; Yankees Maintain Advantage

Belated Scoring Gives Pirates Win, 3 To 2

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, July 14.—The Pirates won a "heartbreaker" 3 to 2 victory over Pat Freddy Fitzsimmons and the Brooklyn Dodgers in 11 innings today to climb half-a-game in front in the National league pennant race.

Blanked with three hits for eight innings for Freddy's knuckler, the Bucs shoved two runs over in the ninth on a wild pitch, and then won out in the second extra frame when Lee Handley tripled and Lloyd Waner came through with his third single.

Young Jim Tobin, who took over the pitching chores in the ninth after Cy Blanton had been relieved for a pinch-hitter, pitched hitless ball through the final three frames and received credit for his seventh win against three setbacks for the season.

Fitzsimmons appeared to have a shutout cinched going into the ninth, but, with one out, the Waner brothers reached him for successive singles. Both advanced on a fly and Fat Freddy let them score when he pitched wild past Catcher Merv Shea, tying the score.

ERRORS HELP CINCY

CINCINNATI, July 14. (AP) — A pair of errors in the first inning gave the Reds the only run of the ball game for a 1 to 0 victory over the New York Giants today as Bucky Walters bested Harry Gumbert in a mound duel. The setback left the Giants half a game behind the National league lead.

Homer Peel Accepts Terms Of Mudhens

FORT WORTH, July 14. (AP)—Homer Peel "went up" from the Texas league for the fourth time today.

The slugging outfielder, who in nine seasons had compiled a batting average of .331 against Texas league pitching, announced he had agreed to terms offered by the Toledo Mudhens and will join the American association club at Kansas City Friday night.

Technically, his transfer is a straight trade between the Mudhens and the Fort Worth Cats, who are to receive the veteran pitcher Fred Marberry.

Peel was unexpectedly fired last Friday night as the Cats' pilot.

Pitcher Jackie Reid is filling in as Peel's "temporary" successor.

The United States produces 68 per cent of the petroleum, 60 per cent of the cotton and 35 per cent of the coal of the world.

Gliding Star Calls His Shots

Showing American gliding fans something new by naming his destination and then landing right there, Peter Riedel, German sailplane ace now competing at the national meet in Elmira, N. Y., mounted his motorless airship, aimed at New York City, and landed there smartly after a 182-mile ride on air currents. Previous gliding technique had been to take off and trust to luck to find some not-too-hard landing place. Recently Riedel beat all U. S. distance records by gliding 225 miles from Elmira to Arlington, Va., airport.

Gramly May Mount Rubber Against Midland Tonight; Wink Final Is Postponed

Midland's hustling, hard-hitting Cardinals, who came from the cellar depths to second place in something like two weeks and who now would like very much to help bump the Hubbers from top position, invade the local ball yard to carry their challenge in person to the Lubbocks.

It will be the second night game here, unless more rain intervenes. Last night's scheduled series closer with Wink was postponed because of extremely wet grounds, but most of the moisture can be cleared from the field today if Old Sol will come in for an assist.

Second Night Game

The contest will start at 8:30 o'clock, or as soon thereafter as possible. The lights will go on shortly after 8 bells for infield workouts.

Manager Hack Miller had not made a definite pitching choice last night but indicated Marvin Gramly might toe the rubber against the invading Cardinals. Frank Grabek and Charley Bryan will stand ready for relief duty, or either of them may start.

The Lubbock-Midland series continues tomorrow night, weather permitting, and the club leaves town for a double header Sunday at Big Spring, a third game Monday, then comes home for Tuesday and Wednesday night games against Hobbs.

Lubbock Semi-Pros Play Hamlin At Local Park Sunday

Baseball will continue Sunday at the Lubbock ball park, the local semi-pros taking on the powerful Hamlin independents in the absence of the professional Hubbers.

Manager Hollis Payne's team, loser in four of 14 games played this season, has dropped three to Hamlin, and will try to break the losing streak Sunday afternoon in a game starting at 3 o'clock.

Leading Netters To Enter Tournament

Indications are that the cream of Lubbock tennis circles will embark Sunday in the city tournament sponsored by the Lubbock City Tennis club.

Although Marshall Gordon, three-time winner of the event and defending champion, will be unable to protect his title, as array of brilliant racqueteers have filed entries. Wilson Chapman, member of Texas Tech's net team and co-holder with Harry Jordan of the 1937 doubles championship, probably will rank favorite.

H. L. Burgess, Dub Rushing, Newt Walton and others plan to go after the title. A new cup will be offered this year, Gordon's triple conquest having netted him permanent of the original challenge trophy.

Pairing will be made at 7 o'clock Saturday night at the Varsity bookstore, following deadline for entries at that hour. One dollar entrance fee will be charged each singles entry and each doubles team.

Picard Ousts Sarazen From PGA Tourney; Hines, Snead Runyan Enter Semi-Finals

By BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE, July 14.—Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., pro, who never won a National championship, today ousted Gene Sarazen, stocky Conneticut gentleman farmer who has won them all, from the 1938 P.G.A. championship and advanced into the semi-final round with three other pre-tourney favorites.

Picard, taking advantage of Sarazen's afternoon putting lapses to wipe out the lead Gene took with the four-under-par 68, won at 3 and 2.

Tomorrow Picard will go up against Paul Runyan, from White Plains, N. Y., who took major honors in 1934. He put out Horton Smith today at 4 and 3.

Hines Meets Snead

In the upper half of the draw it will be Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, N. Y., against Sluggin' Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Hines gained a 2 and 1 victory over Eyron Nelson, of Reading, Pa., and Snead routed Jim Foulis of Chicago, 8 and 7.

For Picard, Hines and Snead it is a brand-new experience to be this far advanced in the pro's own championship. Runyan edged out Craig Wood in a 38-hole final at Buffalo, N. Y.

Sarazen, playing in what may be his last National championship, held a 1-up advantage over Picard at the end of the morning round. A four-foot birdie putt put Picard even on the 19th; he went one up with a stone-dead chip while Sarazen was visting two traps on the 21st, and gave Gene only one more hole the 33rd the rest of the way.

Runyan Overcomes Lead

Like Picard, Runyan had to wipe out a deficit before going on to win, leading for the first time when he sank one from 20 feet away on the 16th.

Where Picard and Runyan were on their games to win, Hines was lucky against Nelson and Snead had a breeze with Foulis, only surprise survivor into the quarter-finals.

Hines, 4 up on the morning round with a 69 while Nelson went ten strokes higher, had his lead cut in half by the 27th. As they stood on the 34th tee, they were all even.

With both on the green, Hines from 16 feet, sank his putt to go one up. On the next Hines, after hitting two of the tournament's finest shots to be 15 feet from the pin in 2, won the hole by three-putting. His last putt laid Nelson a stymie and Eyron, tried to putt past, saw his ball go just wide, and lost hole and match with a 6.

Snead had no trouble with Foulis. A morning 70 left him 4 up; a combination of Foulis errors and straight shooting ran the West Virginian's margin to 7 up at No. 27. A 15-footer for a birdie ended the match on the 29th.

Columbus Golfer Eliminates Medalist From Western Amateur Event In Second Round

(By The Associated Press)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 14.—Barney Hunt of Columbus, O., a former Buckeye State public links champion, crushed the Western Amateur golf championship hopes of sensational Burleigh Jacobs, jr., of Milwaukee, today, eliminating the Wisconsin youngster who yesterday won medalist honors, in the second round of match play, by a 4 and 2 margin.

Two former Western Amateur title-winners, Johnny Lehman of Chicago, and Paul Leslie of Jefferson City, Mo., and Louisiana State university, also went to the sidelines. William Reed, jr., of Indianapolis, conquered Lehman, one up, and Leslie bowed to the veteran Cleveland star, Maurice McCarthy, by the same margin.

Wilford Wehrle of Racine, Wis., seeking a second straight title, and Gus Morelyand of Peoria, Ill., a former Western champion, remained in the battle. Wehrle defeated Bills Sixty, Milwaukee, 2 and 1, and repeated in eliminating Eddie Meister of Cleveland, 4 and 3. Moreland defeated Bob Sulser of Cincinnati on the final green in the morning, and conquering Lyn Lardner, another Milwaukee player, 2 and 1, in the second round.

MIDLAND, July 14. (Special)—The Cardinals swept the two-game series with Clovis, winning here tonight, 9 to 5. The victory put the Redbirds in second palce a game ahead of the Pioneers.

Tex Stuart, Pioneer receiver, was the big noise for the visitors clouting homers in successive trips to the platter in the second and fourth innings. The bases were deserted each time. Jimmy Morris hit a homer for Midland in the sixth with no one on.

Jap Government Decides Not To Sponsor Games

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, July 14.—Warring Japan decided today against holding the 1940 Olympic games in Tokyo.

Confronted by hostile world opinion, threatened boycotts and continuance of the conflict with China, the government withdrew its support of the games in a sudden action announced by Marquis Koichi Kido, minister of public welfare.

Formal cancellation rests with the city of Tokyo, to which the games were awarded by the International Olympic committee, but its reaction was summed up by Mayor Itta Kobayashi, who said:

"The city of Tokyo has an obligation to the world to hold them and fulfill its pledges. In my opinion, it is better for the sake of the nation. However, when the government decides as a matter of national policy to call off the games, I have no choice but to accede."

Meeting Scheduled Today

The government itself has a formal step to take—approval by the cabinet of Marquis Kido's action. It is scheduled to meet tomorrow.

Only once in the previous history of the modern Olympic games, revived in 1936, has there been a cancellation. That was in 1916 when plans to hold the games in Berlin were wrecked by the World war.

(In Newmarket, England, Sount Henri de Baillet Latour, president of the International Olympic committee, said he would call a meeting shortly to decide on a new site for the 12th Olympic games).

The first battle fought by Americans under the stars and stripes was the Battle of Oriskany, August 6, 1777.

Chessmen Have Become Tanks And Soldiers As Nazis Put Game On Military Basis; Leadership Qualities Are Being Sought

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, July 14. — "Tac-tic," a new militarized kind of chess, is being played by Nazis, young and old in Hiler's Reich.

Produced under army auspices, the game, it is asserted, "develops tactical and strategical thinking" and "instills qualities of modern leadership."

"Tac-tics" is played between "red" and "blue" forces, on a board of 121 squares instead of the traditional 64.

Each side plays 18 pieces: six infantrymen; four artillery figures (shells), three tanks, two bombing planes, two pursuit planes, and the main piece—a symbolic eagle, to checkmate which is the aim of opposing players.

Move On Diagonals

Pieces can be moved along diagonals, indicating strategic lines such as highways and railroads, complicated by "barred" areas representing lakes or watercourses.

Different rules apply to each move. The soldierman pawn moves one square in any direction; tanks up to three squares (or may move as knights do in ordinary chess); artillery up to four squares, and planes up to five.

Capturing powers are very intricate. Thus, an enemy piece may be taken by forward, backward or sideways movement, never diagonally.

Planes may jump over all other pieces, except enemy artillery or enemy planes.

All pieces may move across a river, but not along its banks—planes alone excepted. Lake sections may not be occupied or crossed. Planes may cross, but not "occupy."

Papers Run It

Artillery may capture any piece across others, but does not take its victim's place.

And so on. The winner is the side which "checkmates" the other's eagle, or "kills" all the opponent's infantry, or reaches the third enemy line with no fewer than five pieces, not including planes; or, when the opponent has no more than five artillery and tank pieces left.

Scores of German papers run a regular military chess corner. The German Labor front encouraged the game from the beginning, and instituted a regular course of instruction for the game. In the first six months of its existence, 75,000 sets were sold, its promoters said.

WAR GAME

Militarized chess, supposed to develop tactical thinking, is popular in Germany. A player is about to move a shell, signifying artillery.

Withdrawal Of Japan Paves Way For Finland Olympics

NEW YORK, July 14. (AP)—The sudden collapse of Japan's plans to stage the 1940 Olympics automatically removes current causes of dissension, notably in the United States, and likewise paves the way for Finland, if it desires, to take over conduct of the next international games in an atmosphere of "spartan simplicity."

Confirmation of belief that Helsingfors, capital of Finland, would have first call as alternative site, came from Count Henri de Baillet Latour of Belgium, president of the International Olympic committee, less than 24 hours after Tokyo's decision to withdraw.

TEXAS YOUNGSTERS WIN

HAVERFORD, Pa., July 14. (AP)—Texas eliminated Philadelphia today from the doubles section of the National Junior Interscholastic tennis championship. Playing in a light rain, Ralph Eads, jr., and Bruce Kellam of Robstown, Texas, defeated E. Victor Seixas, jr., and Charles Lord, Philadelphia, 6-4, 6-3.

Women's Driving Contest Is Postponed Until Tonight

A "ladies night" driving contest, postponed from Thursday night because of rain, will start at 9 o'clock tonight at Joe Bihl's Tee Box Driving range, Fourth street and College avenue.

No men will be permitted to practice after 8 o'clock, leaving the range entirely to women, Bihl said. All women are invited to enter competition, winner of which will receive an award.

A "doctor's" contest is scheduled Tuesday night.

France is the only European country whose present birthrate shows an improvement on the pre-war figure.

In Berlin, 596 persons died of diabetes from Dec. 29, 1935, to Aug. 29, 1936.

Youth Takes Medal In Angelo Tourney

SAN ANGELO, July 14. (AP) — Youthful A. G. Moulder, ace linkster from San Angelo's Glenmore Golf club, punched a par 71 for medalist laurels today in the qualifying rounds of the San Angelo Country club ninth annual invitation golf tournament. Runners-up to Moulder were R. R. Lacy of Sweetwater, Lee Ramsel of Fort Worth and James Farr of San Angelo wih 72's.

Billy Bob Coffey of For Worth, defending champion, came in with a 73. Walter Beall of San Angelo and C. E. Covington, San Angelo city champion, also had 73's.

The San Angelo Mertz Cup team yesterday regained the trophy after a three-year drouth, defeating an all-West Texas squad captained by Coffey, by a count of 6 1-2 to 5 12.

Texas Politics

is a year of great awakening on the part of the people and a demand for new faces and new ideas in state government."

The battle for the office of land commissioner went ahead with Bascom Giles pounding on an appellate court's decision which commented on abuse of "official discretion" of the office. Incumbent William H. McDonald countered with an assertion that "none of my opponents have had any experience in the oil business."

Continues Hurried Jaunt

In the railroad commissioner's race, C. V. Terrell, chairman seeking re-election, continued a hurried jaunt over the state with the remark "my chief satisfaction out of making such a rigorous campaign is that it gives me first hand knowledge of the way the commission's policies are being received by Texas as a whole." John Wood urged the adoption by all states of a uniform maximum truck load limit; Robert A. Stuart girded for 21 addresses Friday and Saturday in the South and Central Texas region; and Jerry Sadler said "the plain people are going to throw off the yokes and elect a railroad commissioner who is in sympathy with the producer and consumer."

Twenty Persons Are Believed Lost In Crash Of Plane

ROME, July 14. (AP)—Twenty persons were believed to have lost their lives today when an Ala Littoria lines seaplane fell into the Tyrrhenian sea between Italy and the island of Sardinia on a flight from Cagliari, Sardinia, to Rome.

Officials of the airline said 16 passengers and a crew of four were on board.

Livestock

19—Livestock For Sale

Lubbock Auction And Commission Co.
AUCTION SALE EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

LUBBOCK AUCTION AND COMMISSION COMPANY'S market jumped the gun on recovery again this week. Prices moved upward so rapidly the trade couldn't keep front figures on their mind, and it was one of the nicest arranged scrambles that man could devise.

Buyers scrambled for steers, yearlings, cows, heifers and to make it unanimous, stocker and feeder dealers got into the affray with no intention of being ignored. The glamour of the week centered on good butcher cattle, and stiff competition didn't frighten the buyers in the least. All classes of cattle sold 25c to 50c higher than last week.

We have the buyers coming to us for their needs, and we are looking to you—our good customers—to keep us supplied with enough cattle to satisfy our many buyers.

If you have no way to get stock in, wire or phone us for trucking service.

We are bonded for your protection!

19—Livestock For Sale

Snyder Livestock Market
Of Lubbock, Texas

Since the recent general rain there is a broad demand for stocker cattle and the market for butcher cattle continues good. We had about 500 cattle in our sale Thursday of this week which sold on an active market at good prices. In addition to cattle going through the sales ring we sent out 250 head of stocker cattle on order to Illinois and Indiana. We feel safe in telling you to bring your cattle to this market and they will sell as high or higher than on any other market. We will have cattle to sell at private sale every day in the week. We are well equipped to take care of your cattle and have competent yard men and salesmen. For best results consign your cattle to — ments when they poured water on the blaze. Origin was not known immediately.

A light shower was beneficial at Crosbyton, blowing in from the southeast. There was practically no wind, and no lightning was reported.

Railroad dispatchers said the rain apparently was heaviest between Lubbock and Abernathy, and bus drivers said rain to the westward was hard.

Poland Building Two Steamers For South American Trade

GDYNIA, Poland, July 14. (AP)—Two boats being built for the Gdynia-South America line will be named Sobieski and Chrobry after King Jan Sabieski, who defeated the Turks at Vienna in 1683, and Boleslaw Chrobry, the first King of Poland, crowned in 1025. The Sobieski will be ready at the end of this year, while the Chrobry will make her maiden voyage early in 1939.

RALLY BECOMES SETBACK

NEW YORK, July 14. (AP)—The stock market again mixed its rallying signals today and a mild forenoon rally turned into a setback running to a point or more in the final hour.

At an opening sell-off, following yesterday's late relapse, blocks of 1,000 to 2,500 shares changed hands. Steels and motors led a subsequent recovery move, but it was noticed that the ticker tape slowed appreciably on the attempt to push up the favorites.

Transfers amounted to 1,180,970 shares compared with 2,618,950 the day before. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .6 of a point at 47.3.

Continued confusion over steel prices and wage, coupled with the belief of some analysts that the market, having established what technicians know as a "double-top" — twice equalling the approximate high mark of the recent recovery without being able to get through—was in line for further "correction" before making another try at the recent peak.

Prominent equities in arrears were U S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Douglas Aircraft, Western Union, Westinghouse Air Reduction, Johns-Manville, Santa Fe, Du Pont and Allied Chemical.

Texas Pacific land trust was a lively performer, ending a shade on the upside following reports drilling operations had resulted in a sharp jump in potential crude production in this company's territory.

Others to end moderately ahead were Davis Chemical, Continental Baking "A" and Cerro De Pasco.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 14. (AP)—Cotton traders marked time today pending pertinent developments on the new crop and future prices fluctuated narrowly. The close was steady at net advances of 2 to 3 points.

Toward mid-session buying became more aggressive due to a pick-up in June consumption figures. The census bureau said 442,742 bales were taken by consuming establishments during the month compared with 425,684 in May and 680,521 in June last year.

July contracts closed at 8.70-bid, Oct at 8.75, Dec at 8.84, Jan. at 8.84, March at 8.89 and May at 8.93.

Spot cotton continued dull with sales totalling only 210 bales. Middling advanced one point to 8.80.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 14. (AP)—Cotton moved irregularly today in quiet trading October which had sold up from 8.57@8.69 closed at 8.63 with final quotations unchanged to 7 points higher.

The market opened unchanged to 4 lower. Favorable weather in the cotton belt brought in liquidation. After selling from abroad was absorbed, prices responded to moderate demand. Contracts became scarce. Closing prices were unchanged to 2 points higher, except July which furnished 7 higher on belated covering.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, July 14. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton at ten southern spot markets today was 8.70 cents a pound, for the past 30 market days it was 8.72 cents.

Safe Of Patent Medicine Days Bears Name Of Buffalo Bill

LA CROSSE, Wis., July 14. (AP)—In the office of B. Ott & Sons Machine company is a safe bearing the firm label of Cody & Powell, evidence that "Buffalo Bill," once was in the patent medicine business here.

Cody's partner, Dr. Frank Powell, once a mayor of La Crosse, was known far and wide in the eighties as "White Beaver," and concocted Indian medicines and herb cures. Later, Cody & Powell went into the business of roasting bran as a coffee substitute.

Under Cody's name, on the safe appears a picture of Buffalo Bill astride a horse; under Powell's is an Indian scene and a painting of an all-white beaver.

The safe was bought from a junk dealer 14 years ago and is in daily use.

Daguerrotypes required 30 minutes for a sitting.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 14. (AP)—Overwhelmed by floods of selling after government loan plans had been studied, wheat tumbled 3½ cents here today and more than 4 cents at Winnipeg.

The fall came when the Chicago market had temporarily jumped about 2 cents from earlier moderate declines that preceded announcement of the government's proposals. At first, the loan plans were generally construed as likely to be a stimulus to higher prices, an idea prevailing that producers would eagerly seek loans and that large quantities of wheat would be withheld from the market.

Later the complexities of the government plans became more and more apparent, and selling rushes ensued, with the day's bottom prices current just before trading was ended. Absence of any definite knowledge of what the official basic price at seaboard points would be led to fears the government might be overloaded with wheat, and would export burdensome supplies at a loss.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ⅛ to 2 cents lower than yesterday's finish, July 71⅞@71¾, Sept. 72@72⅛, corn 1⅜ to 2 cents down, July 58⅞, Sept. 60⅞@60½, oats ¼ to ⅜ off, rye showing 1 cent drop, and provisions unchanged to 17 cents a setback.

Wheat Loans

government subsidy payments which AAA officials have estimated may total between $125,000,000 and $150,000,000 before the next harvesting season.

Wallace hinted the government might subsidize exports if necessary to sell a large part of an expected exportable supply of 250,000,000 bushels.

Wheat submitted as collateral for loans must be stored either in commercial warehouses, or in approved bins, or granaries, on farms.

Loans on farm-stored grain will be made directly by the commodity credit corporation through loan agencies of the reconstruction finance corporation.

Loans on commercially-stored wheat will be made through banks and the RFC agencies. Banks may discount their loans with the Commodity Credit corporation.

Bear 4 Per Cent Interest

The loans will bear 4 per cent interest and will expire in seven months if on commercially stored grain and on May 31, 1939, on farm-stored grain.

Farmers eligible for loans are those who did not exceed by more than 5 per cent the acreage allotted to them by the government for planting of so-called soil-depleting crops.

Borrowers will have the privilege of withdrawing grain from loan at any time by paying off the loan and accrued interest and storage charges. They also will have the privilege of surrendering the wheat to the government at the maturity date as full payment of their obligation. In this event, the government would assume storage and other accrued charges.

Age Is No Barrier

That age is no barrier to love is demonstrated by Herbert D. Boutail, 63-year-old retired machinist of Athol, Mass., and his intended wife, 16-year-old Ann May, who are shown above in a blissful moment before their marriage. Boutail said he feels 40 and expects to live many years. Ann May says he is "young, too."

First Takeoff

leave the field. When we got off, I had to get the ship up to 175 miles an hour to keep it from 'mushing' (flying tail-heavy) and I realized that it would be a close proposition, with the range of the ship. There was barely enough gasoline to get to Paris."

Gives Detailed Account

Hughes gave a detailed account of the navigation which permitted him to reach every objective on the journey on straight lines.

"We used four methods of navigation: first, contact, which is dead reckoning and drift sighting; it depends mainly on visual sights of the ground.

"Second, when we were above the clouds, we could navigate by shots of the stars and sun. The third and fourth methods were direction finding by the plane's and by land radio stations, and those are all right if there's not too much static.

"I had two of the best aerial navigators who ever lived."

The fliers encountered a few surprises in Russia, mainly through the usual language difficulties in a strange land.

Hughes disclosed that he had been planning this flight for three years, adding: "but, then, I've been thinking about flying ever since I was 14 years old."

It Worked Perfectly

Hughes said it was really his Sperry gyro pilot which did the flying, except for takeoffs and landings. "It worked perfectly all the way around," he asserted.

There was plenty of bad weather along the way, through the four days.

"We never saw a wave all the way across the Atlantic," he said, "except for a glimpse of Boston harbor. We sighted Ireland through a hole in the clouds.

"We had a lot of ice at high altitudes and no de-icers, because they would have added 150 pounds to our weight."

The pilot said he and his companions "used up a lot of oxygen" from the ship's tanks while they were flying at high altitudes.

"Sometimes," he said, "we went as high as 16,000 feet, and a lot of the time we traveled along at 12,000."

Hughes compiled a complete set of notes as he flew. He said this log ran 30 or 40 pages.

Arms Conference

Roosevelt continued, "wishes that it were safe for the nation to spend less of our national budget on our armed forces.

"All know that we are faced with a condition and not a theory—and that the condition is not of our own choosing.

"Money spent on armaments does not create permanent income producing wealth, and about the only satisfaction we can take out of the present world situation is that the proportion of our national income that we spend on armament is only a quarter or a third of the proportion that most of the other great nations of the world are spending at this time."

Confidence Is Shown

The president said he regarded the San Francisco and New York expositions of 1939 as demonstrations of confidence that the United States "and all the western hemisphere" will be at peace during the year.

"The year 1939 would go down in history not only as the year of the two great American world fairs," he said at the conclusion of his address, "but would be a year of world-wide rejoicing if it could also mark definite steps toward permanent world peace.

"That is the hope and prayer of the overwhelming number of men and women and children in all the earth today."

Great Welcome Given Fliers

broke up almost immediately, and further questioning of Hughes was postponed until the party arrived at Whalen's New York home.

The wives of three of Hughes' comrades were dancing with excitement as the big ship circled overhead, but a friend of Ed Lund, Miss Eleanor Hoagland, was not present. She had collapsed earlier at the airport from the nervous strain of the four-day ordeal and had to be taken to her home in Manhattan to recover.

Have Little To Say

When at last the wives got through the dense crowd to greet their husbands, this was what they said:

Mrs. Stoddart (with a kiss): "Thank God you're back!"

Mrs. Connor, (too excited for more): "Oh, hello!"

Mrs. Thurlow (kiss and hug): "Tommy!"

As Hughes descended wearily from the plane, his white shirt soiled and deep lines of exhaustion on his face, photographers shouted for him to remove his hat, but he left it perched on his head, just as it was when he started.

Flight officials estimated the globe-girdling junket cost $300,000, with a fuel consumption averaging 72 gallons per hour to hurl the 25,000-pound ship, with its 65-foot wing span, around the "great circle"—a little less than one fourth as fast as sunlight circles the world.

That's Real Traveling

Siberia yesterday—New York today. Even that contrast pales against the Jules Verne fantasy, "Around the World in Eighty Days," first published in 1872, and Hughes' feat of making the circuit in 91 hours—just under 4 days.

He had roared across the grey tumbled wastes of the Atlantic ocean, on the 3,641-mile hop from New York to Paris, in 16 hours and 35 minutes, better than twice as fast as Lindbergh made it in his "Lone Eagle" venture more than a decade ago.

Then on to Moscow on a 1,675-mile stretch, across 1,380 miles of Soviet steppes to Omsk, another 2,177-mile hop to Yakutsk, Siberia, and finally across the Bering Straits to American soil once more—a gruelling 2,456-mile flight to Fairbanks, Alaska, and the end at this point still across another long continent.

Fights Through Rain

From Fairbanks, Hughes forged on through lightning and rain over the lofty Canadian Rockies, fighting his ship through the storm at terrific speed on the semi-final leg to Minneapolis, covering the 2,441 miles in 12 hours and two minutes. They had jettisoned sleeping bags, heavy clothing and a rubber boat at Fairbanks to make the plane lighter for the take-off.

Near the breaking-point, but glad to get cigarettes which they dared not smoke in the ship, the five aerial musketeers made the last 1,054 miles on sheer nerve. But all they would admit, as Ed Lund expressed it, was:

"We were a little tired."

Since last Sunday, Hughes said, they had barely caught "forty winks" on the whole nerve-frazzling flight, with the din of the two big 1,100 horsepower motors drumming in their ears.

Slept About 4 Hours

"I slept about four hours," Hughes said.

The others slept little more, taking cat-naps on a piece of canvas stretched on the cabin floor of the plane.

Nor had they exactly dined like epicures. On the hop from Fairbanks to Minneapolis, they subsisted on cold canned fruit, although the ship's larder was bountifully stocked—just in case of the crisis which never even came close.

"We had no trouble at all except the failure of the radio transmitter after we left Fairbanks," Stoddart said.

In Fairbanks, Hughes had chatted briefly with Mrs. Wiley Post, widow of the famed aviator who held the previous round-the-world record, and who crashed to his death with Will Rogers at Barrow, Alaska, on August 15, 1935. Mrs. Post was there enroute to Barrow to dedicate a memorial to her husband and Rogers.

Brilliant Exhibition

As news of Hughes' successful landing in New York flashed out across the land, Wiley Post's co-flier on a globe-circling flight in 1931, Harold Gatty, in Auckland, New Zealand, hailed his feat as "a brilliant exhibition of modern flying."

Two of the fliers' wives, Mrs. Stoddart and Mrs. Connor, remembered even in the midst of all their excitement to bring along clean shirts for their husbands, but Mrs. Thurlow forgot, and Hughes had to wait until the official motorcade bearing him and his companions reached Grover Whalen's home in Greenwich village. There a Chinese house servant hurried out to a nearby store and returned with fresh linen for the weary and grimy flight leader.

The lean, dark-haired Texan, who inherited a $17,000,000 fortune from his father at the age of 18, wearily grinned his thanks.

"That's what I need — plus a shave," he said.

Mystery Wreck Is Uncovered In Waters Of Mississippi

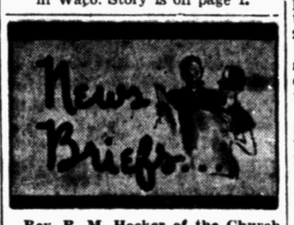

RED WING, Minn., July 14. (AP)—Dredging operations to remove a sand-bar in Lake Pepin of the Mississippi resulted in discovery of the skeleton of an ancient river steamboat. The pointed prow revealed the wreck was that of a steamboat, but did not lend a clue to its name or period.

The only explanation of the boat's presence was that it disappeared in the days when the area was thinly inhabited, and the Mississippi was the sole means of ingress to the northwet.

State President

O. W. Ribble, above, Thursday was elected president of the Texas State Florists association at its convention in Waco. Story is on page 1.

Rev. R. M. Hocker of the Church of the Nazarene at Avenue Q and Fourteenth street Thursday announced a 10-day revival meeting would begin at that church tonight. Dr. and Mrs. A. S. London of Kansas City, Mo., will be evangelists. Services will be held at 10 o'clock each morning and 8:15 o'clock each night.

Discussion of an annual club encampment will be chief business of a meeting at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the county agent's office of 4-H club leaders, said John W. Palmore, assistant agricultural agent.

Sufficiently recovered from injuries suffered July 4 when he fell when fishing, E. B. Varner was removed to his 2148 Nineteenth street residence Thursday from Plains hospital. He had suffered a broken hip.

Lubbock High school Thursday issued reports and diplomas to students at conclusion of a summer term. Approximately 35 students completed requirements for graduation. Texas Technological college examinations will begin this morning and continued through Saturday.

Two pilots, D. Graham of Pampa and Piercy Lee Curtis of Hillsboro took off Thursday from Municipal airport after having spent the night in Lubbock. Graham was en route to Wicket and Curtis to his home.

Reunionists

lumbia, Washington, Nashville and other points were vying for the capitol site. The town came into being when Salado college was incorporated. Closing of the college a quarter century later spelled decadence, and railroad facilities in nearby Temple and Belton hastened the commercial decline of "The Athens of Texas."

In 1881, a statewide election had been held to determine the site for the University of Texas. Austin, Waco and Salado were among the towns in the running. Austin won, of course, but the fact that some votes were polled for Salado probably gave rise to the legend that the town made a strong bid for the state capitol.

Denied its "Pierian Spring," the town's chief claim to fame was that Sam Houston visited there and quaffed the waters of the spring-fed Salado, a stream for which the town was named.

The Spanish meaning "salty" is a misnomer in this case because down the rock-ledged banks of the stream trickles some of the freshest, sweetest water found at the foot of the balcones fault—and there is the usual saying that whoever drinks these waters will come back again.

And the reunionists, if they follow the traditional temperance of the town, will confine themselves to spring water. There is a story, which survived even 13 years of prohibition, that a saloonkeeper once invaded the precincts of this rock-ribbed citadel of religion and education.

The good ladies of the town, so the story goes, took their knitting and quilting, repaired to the saloon, occupied all the chairs provided for customers, and went on with their handiwork. The barkeeper quit, whipped by what may have been Texas' first "sit-down" tactics against liquor.

One Never Knows What One Can Do Until He Becomes A Man

SHERMAN, July 14. (AP)—Ulner Hershel Green, of Bowie, Tex., perspired as he picked up a telephone and fumblingly put through a call for supplies for the CCC camp where he was stationed. Then he wiped his brow and grinned self-consciously.

"A feller never knows what he can do till he tries," he remarked. Green, who is 21, had just completed the first telephone call he ever made.

Fatal Crash

men, and Mrs. Trawick and her son were in a 1933 Ford coach going west and the Morrows, in a 1935 Ford sedan, were going east. The accident happened two miles west of Hurlwood.

Machines Telescoped

Investigators said the machines were telescoped and found entangled in the middle of the pavement on highway 24. They said the machines were not damaged as severely as might have been surmised from the number of fatalities and injuries in the wreck. They met almost squarely head-on, officers said, but not "tire for tire" since the right fronts of both machines were damaged less than left fronts.

Ambulance drivers who arrived at the scene of the mishap only a few minutes after it happened, said they found the body of Collins in the road. Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Trawick and the child were in the car.

All investigators blamed the accident for the most part on the blinding rain. Several persons who passed along the road about that time said the fall cut visibility to zero.

G. D. Holbrook of 1622 Sixteenth street, deputy state superintendent of public instruction, was the first to the scene of the accident.

"I first noticed the cars about 35 yards ahead of me," he said. "That was as far as I could see in the rain. I was driving with my lights on at a slow rate of speed.

Sanitarium Notified

"As soon as I saw part of the persons were dead and the others injured, I drove as fast as was safe to Hurlwood and notified the sanitarium to send ambulances."

Holbrook was returning from Morton where he had been on school business, he said. He was alone.

Upon arrival at the wreck scene Holbrook said he saw Mrs. Collins was dead, the driver was dazed, and the boy was bloody.

"I saw that those who were alive had to have medical assistance immediately," he said. Holbrook returned from Hurlwood to the wreck and awaited until all the victims had been transferred to Lubbock. Holbrook also had notified Capt. W. W. Legge of the Texas Highway patrol and he, in turn, sent investigators. By the time the deputy superintendent had returned, several cars of persons had arrived at the accident scene.

Physicians expressed fear sight of Miss Morrow might be impaired, or even lost, because of the accident. Her head and face were thrown into the front of the car in which she was riding, breaking the windshield.

The crash was described by investigators and traffic authorities as one of the most serious in this area recently.

Arrangements for funeral services and burial Thursday night awaited communications with or arrival of relatives from Oklahoma, Morton friends of the family said.

Only names of survivors of Mr. and Mrs. Collins known Thursday night were the daughter in the sanitarium here, Mrs. Mildred Butler of Morton, a daughter, and Zack and John Collins, sons. The child killed had no brothers or sisters, friends said.

A survey of the wages of women in beauty shops made by the Woman's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor showed operators in four cities averaging $14.25 a week.

Tour Of Hereford Group At Lamesa

(Special To The Avalanche)

LAMESA, July 14.—The Hereford tour of the Texas Hereford association visited and inspected the John Henry Dean Hereford ranch near here today. The party was made up of 125 Hereford breeders of Texas and 80 visitors.

R. J. Kinzer, secretary of the American Hereford association, and Frank Farley of the American Hereford Association Journal, headed the group.

Entertained At Ranch

The cattlemen arrived at the ranch shortly before noon and were entertained at the ranch headquarters with a barbecue.

The tour was the third conducted by the association and it started at Albany. It ended late this afternoon at Big Spring.

Dean, owner of the ranch, is one of the leading Hereford breeders of this area and is known widely as an exhibitor of Hereford show stock. He plans to leave early in September for a tour which will take him to all the large stock shows in the county. His trip will end in March.

Owner Of Grocery Is Death Victim

SONORA, July 14. (AP) — Bert Jones, owner of a grocery store at Roosevelt, Kimble county, died here today of wounds shortly after he was brought from a camp on the Llano river. Sheriff B. W. Hutcherson said Jones' throat had been cut.

The sheriff said he was going to Camp Allison, where a two-day barbecue and celebration was in progress, to investigate the affair.

Hutcherson said Jones, his jugular vein and muscle in the throat severed, staggered to a dance platform at the camp from the surrounding woods, saying he had been cut.

The body was taken to San Angelo.

Site Near Englewood, Colo., Chosen For Federal Jail

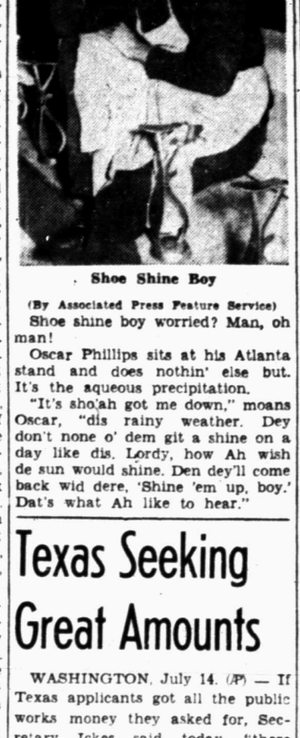

WASHINGTON, July 14. (AP) — Attorney General Cummings chose a site near Englewood, Colo., today for construction of a new $1,450,000 federal jail.

Construction will begin within 30 to 45 days.

The institution will house approximately 600 federal law violators, who receive sentences up to 18 months. Most of them will be what the justice department terms "casual" offenders—violators of federal liquor and postal laws.

Between 20,000 and 25,000 volumes are added to Oxford's famous library, the Bodleian, every year.

Texas Seeking Great Amounts

WASHINGTON, July 14. (AP) — If Texas applicants got all the public works money they asked for, Secretary Ickes said today, "there wouldn't be any left for the rest of the country."

He had been asked at his press conference if he had considered an application of the Brazos river conservation and reclamation district for assistance in a proposed $35,000,000 dam construction program.

"Oh, I know all about it," he said, and added that Texas had "even out-noised California in the number and amounts of their applications."

He did not say whether the Brazos district would get an allotment.

County Tax Valuations Expected To Show Sharp Increase Over Last Year

Slash In Tax Rate Rumored

The greatest increase from any representative year to another was predicted Thursday when H. B. Bryan, county tax assessor-collector, estimated unofficially county tax valuations this year would be approximately one million to one and one-half million dollars more than last year.

May Exceed $24,000,000

It will set the assessed valuations at more than $24,000,000, which compares with $22,981,835 for 1937, and will set a new all-time high mark since years before the depression.

His forecast—the first hint of prospective assessed valuation totals for the present year, led tax authorities to predict that continuation of the increase must inevitably be reflected in further reductions of the county tax rate from its present all-time low of 50 cents on the $100 of assessed valuation.

Prediction Is Qualified

Tax observers, however, qualified their prediction by saying that it is more likely to be ordered next year than this year; and that the cut depends primarily upon continuation in the increase of valuations without sharp offsetting economic disturbances. Every indication is, they added, that climbs in property valuations will continue.

Increase this year above last was attributed chiefly to two factors. One was the number of new businesses which have come to Lubbock county and the number of new structures—business, residence and industrial — which have been erected or enlarged. The other, said courthouse observers, has been the thoroughness of the assessment.

Comparison Given

The prospective valuation total of $24,000,000 or more this year compares with the following totals for pervious years:

1930—$25,131,980.
1931—$24,929,297.
1932—$22,411,423.
1933—$21,933,387.
1934—$21,815,742.
1935—$21,997,261.
1936—$22,231,186.
1937—$22,981,835.

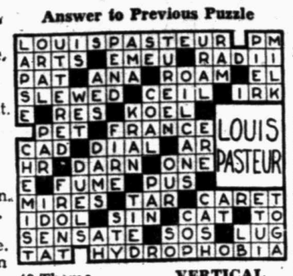

The drop between 1930 and 1931 was described as being due to the natural results of the depression. The precipitate fall of more than $2,500,000 between 1931 and 1932 was the result of an arbitrary cut

Answer For This Question Proves To Be An Easy One

It was easy to answer this one.

"Would you kindly inform where I might buy a small burro or donkey reasonably?" asked a letter from Wheator Matthews of 410 Powers building, Rochester, N. Y.

The chamber of commerce, to whom the letter was addressed, could have drawn a ring around West Texas, or the entire southwest and sent a list of those who paid poll taxes. Almost everyone in the list could have informed the easterner how to buy a burro.

Never Heard True Account

He probably never heard the true account of how the country got so flooded with burros that cowpunchers declared open shooting season on them and, despairing of ever killing them, rounded them up on the open range and drove them over into New Mexico.

It was at Midland. A promoter started a recreation lake project that eventually was abandoned because the lake bed wouldn't hold water.

Burros Brought In

In order to harden the bottom the burros were brought in, plenty of them, judging from later events. The dam was completed and a night or so later one of the greatest rains ever to fall in that section broke the dam and scattered burros over a lot of square miles, said oldtimers.

Burros mixed with the cattle and roamed all over the country.

Hence the killing and the roundup and drive. Cattle needed the grass.

So, in a wide section, there are plenty who will tell the New Yorker where he can get all the burros he wants, and cheap enough.

Three out of every five new automobiles porchased are bought on the instalment plan, according to statistics.

of 20 per cent in all assessments because of the distressed economic conditions.

Would Be Greater

Officials explained that if the same basis of assessments had been used this year as in 1930 and 1931, the tax valuation total for the current year would be well above $26,000,000 for an all-time high mark.

Bryan will complete his first official estimate of valuations for submission to the county commissioners court by Aug. 15 when that body may meet to set the new county tax rate.

The state rate, which now stands at 49 cents of the $100 of valuation, may be set by the state tax board any time after July 20, but expectation is that it will not be until after the July 23 primary.

Bryan said that the assessment work has involved the listing this year of well in excess of 50,000 individual property items for 12,000 to 13,000 individual property owners.

Earle Dodges Investigation

GOV. GEORGE EARLE of Pennsylvania has been pursuing tactics peculiar for an innocent man in his attempts, first to forbid and now to retard, a grand jury investigation of his administration.

His complaints are those usually voiced by an official under investigation — that attempt is being made to make him a victim of politics. And it is possible there could be something to his complaint because the aroma of roses never has been associated with politics in Pennsylvania.

But an official whose skirts are clear of questionable dealings has nothing to fear, even when dirty politics pries into his acts. On the contrary, if such an investigation should be made and should prove the charges unfounded, it would strengthen his position as perhaps nothing else could.

Not only would exoneration of Governor Earle help him, but it would benefit the entire national administration to which the Pennsylvania executive owes his political existence. The entire controversy revolves about the handling of the huge federal relief appropriations in that state, and should there be reason—as there is reason—to suspect graft in Pennsylvania, it tends to cast suspicion on the handling of federal relief monies in other states. It reflects upon the entire federal setup, to which Gov. Earle is deeply indebted.

If the governor is as innocent as he insists is the case, does it not seem logical that instead of doing all he can to hamper the inquiry he would insist that it be immediate and thorough?

Any other attitude on his part justifies the suspicion that he may have something to hide.

The Lubbock County Mirror

ONE of the genuinely significant evidences of development in Lubbock county was the estimate Thursday by County Tax Assessor-Collector H. B. Bryan that assessed property valuations this year will exceed those of last year by $1,000,000 to $1,500,000.

The significance lies in the fact that every penny of the increase—and more—has been added to the wealth of Lubbock county within the period of a year. It is represented by such things as new buildings of various kinds in the towns and on the farms, by purchases of personal property and by improvements. It means an increase of around 5 per cent in a single year without the benefit of anything approaching boom conditions.

The additions to the tax roll are, in short, the evidences by the people who live here and those who have moved to our county of the faith they have in our future.

With Our Contemporaries

"Bro. E. I. Hill told us last week that he never worries, which is all very fine, but in the same issue of the Lynn County News he seemed to be worrying because Coke Stephenson didn't have a platform, and was just going over the state shaking hands and was worried because Tom Hunter has too much platform," Andy Stricklin points out in the Terry County Herald. "Poor old E. I."

"The man on the street says the fellow that's raising so much kick about the kids sitting so close together in the cars has forgot about how it used to thrill him when he and the lady friend swung in the old hammock," A. E. Richards says in the Meadow Star.

"There are surely plenty of candidates for governor for every one to find one which will suit him, there being that lucky or unlucky number 13 whose names were certified to go on the ballot," R. W. Jones notes in the Whiteface News.

"It is quite a husky task Seminole is undertaking in 'throwing' a big free barbecue for the members of the Texas Highway commission and members of highway 15 association," Sam Malone points out in the Seminole Sentinel.

"The grass is fine, and so are the wild flowers," E. I. Hill notes in the Lynn County News. "In Tahoka and some of the surrounding country the Tahoka daisy is blooming in profusion."

The One-Minute Sermon

Ye that love the Lord, hate evil: he preserveth the souls of his saints: he delivereth them out of the hand of the wicked.

Light is sown for the righteous, and gladness for the upright in heart.

Rejoice in the Lord, ye righteous: and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness.—Psalms 97; 10 through 12.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

PEN AUTOGRAPHER

Working closely with a well-known fountain pen manufacturer, Dana Bushong of Fort Madison, Iowa, does unique work in engraving true autographs on either the gold bands or on the points. He learned to copy signatures exactly from a forger, who told him that autographs always had to be copied upside down to get them true. Mr. Bushong has now engraved more than 40,000 pens, many for European kings and their officials, including a special gold and platinum diamond-studded pen made to order for a government official in Egypt at a cost of $1,250.00.

Joseph Sandham — hero; he thought he was on top of the world until he smacked into

Kelly Archer — heroine; she she was headed for the altar until she sfacked into

Joseph Sandham — hero; he ED, the WEASEL—gangster; he thought he was headed somewhere, too, but affairs somehow got mixed up.

* * *

Yesterday: Joe stops to unload the candy before entering Canada and Kelly flees down the highway like a red-headed deer. The Weasel raises his hand to shoot.

CHAPTER X

A quick glance was enough to show Mr. Sandham what to do. With a lightning-like movement he knocked the Weasel's hand toward the ground.

"Don't shoot, for God's sake," he shouted. "I'll get her." Then he was off, speeding after the flying Kelley. He overhauled her within 40 yards.

The Weasel lumbered up, puffing. "I—I could kill you both," Kelly said savagely.

"Holty-toity," said the Weasel. He grasped her arm.

Joe's right fist clenched. If this big baboon attempted to maul Kelly he was going to take a pop at him, gun or no gun. But the Weasel didn't. He escorted Kelly back to the car in genteel fashion.

"Now, me gal," he said. "Don't try dat again."

"I'll try the first chance I get," stormed Kelly viciously. "Why didn't you shoot me if you're so tough about everything?"

The Weasel pointed to Joe. "Him. He got right in da way."

"In other words," put in Joe, "I saved your life. Our grandchildren will hear about that."

"Well, why didn't you shoot him too?" Kelly said to the Weasel. "It would have been a service to humanity."

The Weasel grinned. "Him an' me's pals."

"Two of a kind," snapped Kelly.

Joe climbed into the car.

"Well," he said, "if the abuse session is over, let's go. Time's a-wastin'."

The Weasel helped Kelly in. She resumed her seat with bad grace.

"I wish I had that gun for two minutes," she said spitefully. "I'd make the fur fly around here."

"Dis dame," said the Weasel jovially, "is damn near as tough as Cissy."

The crossing of the border was uneventful. A preoccupied customs official took a sweeping glance at the empty car, Joe filled out the necessary papers and they were in. Through the ceremony the Weasel sat on the front seat with Kelly, his gunpressed against her side.

Once on the road for St. Catharines, however, Kelly found speech again.

"Look here," said Kelly, in perplexity, "what is this anyway?"

"Shall we tell her?" Joe asked the Weasel.

"Why not?" said the great man. "We're almost dere."

"Well then, Miss Archer," said Joe, "let me inform you that you're being kidnaped."

Kelly jumped. "Kidnaped?"

For a moment Kelly looked grave. Then she gave a light laugh.

"That," she said, "is the most outlandish thing I've ever heard of."

Joe spoke now at length.

"For a long time now I've been looking around for a way to make some easy dough. Well, I ran into you by chance. And when that business of going to Boston came up, it gave me an idea. I thought you came from a pretty well-to-do family, probably. Your uncle's house was quite hosty-totsy, anyhow. And I . . . well, I decided to make a killing. I never, my dear young lady, had the slightest intention of taking you to Boston. I was waiting for a convenient opportunity to slug you over the head, toss you in the back of the car and hit for the camp of a friend of mine up in Vermont. He isn't using it now and it would have been an ideal place to keep you until I could have gotten in touch with your folks.

"Unfortunately for me, the Weasel got into the picture and I have to split with him. But so what? My cut of the dough we'll get from your father will keep me in clover for a long time. And as for this cussed candy truck," he stated viciously, "I'll run it into the first river once I've got the money."

"What utter rot," said Kelly. "Beyond my name, you know practically nothing about me."

"Don't I? I've already told you that I suspected you came from a wealthy family. Well"—he reached into a pocket on the inside of the door and drew out the paper that the Weasel had obtained from the filling station attendant—"this confirmed it. Plenty."

Wonderingly, Kelly took it. For a moment she stared wide-eyed at her own likeness. Finally she spoke, defiantly.

"If you think you can scare my father, you're crazy. He knows I can take care of myself."

"Maybe so. But he'll come through to keep your mother from worrying. She's probably hysterical by now."

Kelly's eyes narrowed to bright slits.

"I've never known anyone," she said, "that I detested as much as I do you."

"That's perfectly okay with me," said Joe. "Your opinion is immaterial. I'm after money and nothing more."

"You said it," put in the Weasel, who had listened to all this with approving ears.

For a short time there was silence. Finally Kelly said: "Listen, Joe."

"Hello."

"All those—those things you told me, then? They were"—her voice dropped—"just lies?"

Joe laughed, an unnecessarily loud laugh. "You mean about falling for you? Wanting to marry you and all that? Gee, women are dumb. I never knew one yet who didn't turn out to be a sucker directly a man told her he loved her. Of course, they were lies. You don't think I'd be dope enough to want to get married, do you?"

Kelly's face twisted.

"Now I know," she said, her mouth tight, "that you're the rottenest person I've ever met."

* * *

Twilight drew around Ontario. Thickened into darkness. The car droned on. And presently the lights of St. Catharines winked ahead of them.

"Right t'rough da town," the Weasel directed.

A half mile out of St. Catharines, the Weasel ordered Joe to turn off on a dirt road which led in the general direction of Lake Ontario. Down this the car plunged through shadows for 10 minutes. Then, suddenly, the Weasel's left hand gripped Joe's shoulder.

"Stop here," he commanded tersely.

Joe strained his eyes through the gloom. With difficulty he discerned the outlines of a small clapboard house, set back at some distance from the road. From where the car was parked no light was visible. The place seemed as dark and lonely as the road down which they had just come.

"So this is your hideaway, is it?" Kelly said to the Weasel. "What a delightful place. It looks like a deserted grave."

"Ain't so deserted as it looks," said the Weasel. "Cissy'll be waitin' fer me inside, sure."

"Cissy?"

"His girl," Joe explained. "The place does seem dark though, Weasel. Maybe Cissy took a runout powder."

"Not a chance," said the Weasel. And said it almost reluctantly, Joe thought.

Leaving the car they stole quietly around the house. A light was shining from a kitchen window and the shade was only half-drawn. They peered in and perceived a blond girl playing solitaire at the kitchen table.

"Dat's Cissy," whispered the Weasel.

A modulated whisper from Ed the Weasel might have been likened to steam escaping. Inside, the blond girl raised her head, sat for a second alert and suspicious, like a snake listening.

The Weasel tapped three times on the window pane. Suddenly the blond girl was out of her chair and darting catlike across the room. The light went out. A moment of silence passed. Then, through the keyhole of the kitchen door, a voice rasped: "Who's there?"

The Weasel cleared his throat. "Just me, baby," he said loudly. "Open up."

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

HERBERT LEHMAN'S budget-balancing blasts at Albany irritate White House intimates more deeply than his letter to Senator Wagner denouncing the court-packing plan. The "good right arm" is hammering hard on his presidential friend's solar plexus.

The governor must know—which makes his behavior all the more noteworthy—that Mr. Roosevelt is extremely sensitive at criticism of his financial policies—lending and spending, deficits, heavier taxes, the mounting national debt. For Mr. Lehman to boast that he has wiped out F.D.R.'s $100,000,000 gubernatorial deficit, also that he may use a $6,000,000 surplus to reduce taxes, is regarded here as downright insulting—an extremely unfriendly act.

Mr. Lehman, however, has some reason for resentment at Mr. Roosevelt's recent attitude. The President has declined repeatedly to comment on the governor's announcement of his Senate candidacy, probably because it was made without White House consultation. All Mr. Roosevelt knows, he replies to insistent questioners, is what he has read in the papers—and therefore he can't say whether he approves or not. That's what polite diplomats call a "rebuff."

DOMINANT: Politics is simply repeating itself in the case of Lehman versus Roosevelt. The governor is giving the President a dose of the same medicine the latter handed to Al Smith—and for the same human reason. The feud is personal as well as political.

In 1936 Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Farley staged a Roman carnival at Philadelphia in order to force Mr. Lehman to run again. To discerning insiders it was a phoney show, with politicos prodding on the marchers and rushing orders to the bandmaster to turn on the jazz. But in 1932 Mr. Lehman had run far ahead of Mr. Roosevelt, and that vote-getting power was wanted by the White House. Mr. Lehman had made full arrangements for a trip around the world, but reluctantly agreed to cancel them, to the extreme dissatisfaction of Mrs. Lehman. Certain friends also warned him that he was being "used." Subsequent neglect by the White House apparently convinced the governor they knew what they were talking about.

Now the man at Albany wants to demonstrate that he, not Mr. Roosevelt, is the political leader of New York state. So he intends to grab off the Senatorship and also name the candidate for governor, thus making himself a dominant figure at the 1940 convention—maybe the man who will name the nominee.

DEVICE: New Deal financiers are making magic which even a Houdini might envy—also bankers. They have hit on a scheme for increasing deficits without boosting the public debt.

In the past, whenever Lender Jesse Jones needed money, he borrowed it from the Treasury, which in turn got it from private investors. Whatever Mr. Jones borrowed, and whatever Mr. Morgenthau supplied, was written large on the books as a charge against the public debt. Under the new arrangement the R.F.C. will float its own securities both for new financing and to repay the Treasury the sum originally advanced as working capital—a tidy total of approximately $760,000,000. The R.F.C issues will be government guaranteed, but they will not be direct obligations listed under the head of debt.

Other government agencies and corporations will finance themselves in the same way—as soon as a couple of lawyers and financiers furnish the answer. Thus the spend-lend program will be primed by many hundreds of million dollars more than Congress authorized at the last session. It gave the permission several years ago—without konwing it.

WORRIES: White House economists' concern over Wall Street is political as well as economic. They're afraid that it may blow up in their faces at the wrong time—possibly a few weeks before the November elections.

Their private view is that stocks are skyrocketing too fast. They think there is some justification for a rise, partly psychological partly more substantial. Whereas insiders were predicting nothing more than an improved final quarter a few weeks ago, now they hint that conditions may continue upward for the remainder of the year. The Wall Streeters, in their opinion, are simply anticipating better times, and dragging in the public with their magnetic optimism.

But they doubt whether the rise can be sustained over a long period. Should it last only three months the market would begin to sag as the voters were preparing to go to the polls. It would have a disquieting effect on public opinion at a critical time, tending to discredit the New Dealers' third pump priming effort. The only recourse then—political, that is—would be to charge another Wall Street plot. And that might not work a second time.

REPUDIATION: Unlike more ebullient colleagues, Henry Wallace has quarantined himself against political boll weevils seeking A.A.A. assistance in primaries and elections. The shrewd Iowan informs them that they must hoe their own rows; he won't even furnish seed or tools.

He has to keep a sharp watch to prevent the boys from slipping things over on him. Recently a western Senator asked him to line up the farm hands and A.A.A. workers for his candidacy. Mr. Wallace explained that he couldn't think of using his official influence in favor of any office seeker or any party. Then, with a shy smile, he suggested that the Senator himself knew a thing or two about politics, and that he could mobilize the agricultural vote by old-fashioned methods.

The politico apparently thought that Henry was simply keeping the record straight—talking with his fingers crossed. On the stump and in letters he proclaimed that he was appealing to the farmers "at the suggestion of your beloved Secretary of Agriculture—Henry Wallace." Soon as Henry heard of this misuse of his name, he sent a sizzling telegram—about 500 words long—repudiating the misrepresentation. Henry may not make many friends that way, but he may make fewer enemies than he would otherwise.

NEW YORK
By Alan Barth

C. I. O. and A. F. of L. unions are joined in a fight-for-life struggle against the sweeping injunction against picketing which New York Supreme Court Justice Salvatore Cotillo granted recently. They fear it may reduce picketing to a purely theoretical right. The decision will be appealed—and, if necessary, carried to the top court—but the injunction can't be set aside earlier than October when the Appellate Division of the Supreme court meets.

Meanwhile the unions have been employing new techniques to publicize their protest. They descend suddenly upon busy blocks in flying squadrons, stage a brief parade, shout their slogans, then disband before police can interfere. They've also taken to the radio and have been using airplanes with kite streamers to state their case.

The flying squadron tactics are not picketing in any recognized, conventional sense. Authorities are skeptical about their legality. If they are parades, they should be licensed. If they are picketing, then they're violations of the injunction. But the airplane stunt, legal lights admit, is legitimate advertising and can't be stopped.

BACKFIRE: Behind the American Labor party's tentative nomination of Sidney Hillman to fill the late Royal S. Copeland's Senate seat, informed observers discern the fine Hibernian hand of Tommy Corcoran. It was his idea, they say, to save the New Deal from Herbert Lehman.

As far as the American Labor party is concerned the idea has backfired badly. It hasn't in the least persuaded New York State's Democratic party to give up Lehman. And it's left the A.L.P. in a far worse trading position than it enjoyed before. The most bewildering aspect of the case to laborites is that Hillman journeyed to the White House and consulted F.D.R. before accepting. Astute insiders suspect that the President rather liked the notion of giving New York's governor something to worry about.

The upshot is that the A.L.P. is likely to have very little voice in the naming of Democratic candidates. It is now endeavoring earnestly to induce the Democrats to name its man McGoldrick—for almost anything. That would save its face. But after what McGoldrick did to Democrats in New York City during his brief incumbency as comptroller, they're about as much inclined to name him as to name Tom Dewey.

Side Glances---By George Clark

"Remember—you mustn't kiss anyone but mother and daddy, your grandparents, aunts, uncles, and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Wenby, and Mr. and Mrs. Bilk."

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says a woman is getting desperate when she says baldness and a wide girth are becoming to some men.

* * *

Edwin H. Stuart, Pittsburgh philosopher, rises to remark that "the radio is a new and noisy method of letting peddlers into your home!"

* * *

THE PLAINSMAN saw a car parked on one of our downtown streets the other day that looked more like a billboard than anything else.

Almost every part of the windshield was plastered with stickers—the driver having left himself a little circle just above the steering wheel through which he might peer at the road.

"We've Been to Carlsbad!" boasted one sticker. "We've Driven Up Pike's Peak!" cried another. Still another read "Goodbye, California—But We're Coming Back!"

We didn't read any of the rest of them, on account of already having an empty feeling in the pit of our stomach.

* * *

Motorists should realize two things about those tourists stickers.

In the first place, nobody gives a whoop about whether they drove their car up Pike's Peak, whether they've been to California, Carlsbad Caverns, or Timbuctoo.

And in the second place, windshields are constructed of clear glass so drivers may have full vision as they kick the old bus down the road at all the way from 30 to 80 per.

Anything that impairs vision is no good.

And may cause a lot of trouble.

* * *

THE disgusting spectacle starring Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow, etc., and etc., and her no 'count count is probably running pretty true to form, after all.

You wouldn't expect anything out of Woolworth's that wasn't tawdry and cheap.

That Man on Avenue Q says a little experience can upset a heckuva lot of theory.

* * *

THERE'S nothing under the sun—with the possible exception of Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey combined—that can compare with a good, old Texas Democratic primary.

No, sir!

And as this year's first primary swings into the stretch we can think of but one comment that hasn't yet been made several times. That's:

"Som fun, eh, keed?"

As noted by this department yesterday, Bros. William McCraw and W. Lee O'Daniel are at present occupying the spotlight with some very statesmanlike campaigning.

We told you yesterday about Mr. McCraw's claiming that Mr. O'Daniel should not be elected because, being born in Ohio, he must be a Yankee carpetbagger. We also told you that Mr. O'Daniel, in forthright answer, said he should be elected because the good people of Ohio gave two cannon, known as "The Twin Sisters," to Texas patriots in their fight for freedom from Mexico.

Now, if you have a steady nerve and a strong stomach, we'll tell you some more.

* * *

SINCE our yesterday's report of the lunatic fringe of campaigning, there have been additional bursts of statesmanship from both Messrs. McCraw and O'Daniel.

You'd hardly believe it, but—

Mr. O'Daniel, enlarging upon his report of the gift of cannon from Ohio, says Mr. McCraw, in spite of being a native Texan, probably never heard of "The Twin Sisters." And "if he had," says Mr. O'Daniel, "he'll probably ask for their 'phone numbers!"

Score one for Mr. O'Daniel.

But Mr. McCraw is not to be taken lightly as a statesman, either. No, sir.

Referring to Mr. O'Daniel's proficiency as a vaudeville star in the gas lamp circuit, he comes out with this:

"Can you imagine the immortal Jim Hogg, with a sign on his back and on top of a truck, singing 'Pappy, Please Pass the Biscuits!' "?

We've gotta rack one up for Bro. McCraw on that blast. Not even the wildest imagination can place Jim Hogg in any such position.

ONE DOESN'T know Mr. O'Daniel, however, if he thinks such a thing will stop him in his tracks.

Bravely he returns to the fray with a tear-jerker which would do credit to the screw-ball campaign of Hon. Karl Crowley, who, in case you haven't heard, has come all the way back from Washington to unblushingly tell the few who will listen that "I am making this campaign because I want to save Texas from the politishuns and want to be of service to my people!"

Reads Bro. O'Daniel's tear-jerker, offered to ease the sting, if any, of the fact that he was born in the wilderness North of the cawnpone country:

"Although born in Ohio, W. Lee O'Daniel is a living tribute to the memory of Robert E. Lee. O'Daniel was given the name of Lee in compliance with the dying request of his mother's brother who found a haven of refuge, instead of enmity and hatred in the South, the candidate for governor announced today.

"'How I received my name was a family story in my home that always brought tears to my mother's eyes,' O'Daniel related. 'My mother was a very young girl during the Civil war, but her favorite brother was a Yankee soldier. When he was wounded and dying on the battlefield, a Southern family took him in and nursed him. Before his death he wrote to my mother and told her of their kindness. He requested her, if she ever had a son, to give him the name of Lee in memory of Southern kindness to a wounded, homesick Northern boy.'

We don't doubt that the story brought tears to the eyes of Bro. O'Daniel's folks. Fact of the matter is, we burst out in tears when we read it.

Pappy, pass them biscuits. Or, on second thought, the smelling salts!

Seriously, the quotations above have been taken direct from publicity matter sent The Plainsman—as it has been sent every other editor in Texas—from Bros. O'Daniel and McCraw.

We haven't faked a bit of it. It's their story that they want relayed to you.

We hope you enjoyed reading it, if for no other reason than to wonder what, if anything, this campaign hullabaloo is all about!

* * *

MAYBE—if it's not too much to hope for—an unceasing barrage of blah-blah will result in the majority of Texas voters pulling themselves up short to ask themselves just what campaigns are for.

THE GOVERNORS RACE

Editor, The Avalanche: Five candidates have made appeals to Lubbock South Plains people in their race for governor. First Clarence Farmer, then Lee O'Daniel, shortly following came William McCraw, fourth, Tom Hunter and lastly E. O. Thompson. The crowds hearing the four last named candidates were in number approximately the same. The messages of the four last named were entirely different. O'Daniel's speech was interspersed with love, laughter and song. Hunter's appeal was to the head and heart; McCraw's appeal was in commendation of himself with strong recommendation of his ability and training for the governorship, while Thompson visualized on bringing to Texas numerous factories.

All and all, our people have heard four major candidates in the race for governor. I listed four major candidates four weeks ago but only three of those remain in the final ending. Previously, I listed Karl Crowley, Fort Worth, with McCraw, Hunter, Thompson. Mr. Crowley has been crowded off the track by O'Daniel, also of Fort Worth. Now, on the next to last week of the political show looms the Dallas candidate; the Wichita Falls candidate; the Amarillo candidate and the Fort Worth candidate. Let me say to you readers that I can, right at this moment, tell you who it will be. Confidentially, my friends, the successful man will be Mr. Tumpity-tump who receives the largest vote.

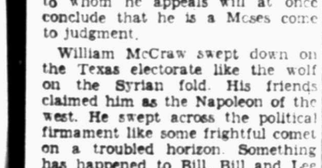

As above mentioned, the messages of these potential candidates have different types of appeal. Disobedience caused the fall of man in the garden of Eden. If we win our way back to the Eden of the future many are contending that it will be through the agency and influence of music. Music is the wine of the soul, the exhilaration of the palate and the hope of the race—some of the race. Mr. O'Daniel has identified his campaign with song and sentiment. He intersperses it with sharp thrusts at professional politicians. He draws laughs from all classes and if he would take one suggestion from the writer I feel that he would be classed as the fastest and most furious candidate of all times. He has the Ten Commandments as a platform—that is good reading and every one knows that. He has music which appeals to the head, heart and feet, which take in most of us. He has climbed the ladder of laughter and tired bomb shells of mirth into the hearts of men, women and children—that too, is something. He swings a hard punch in the political prize ring to the left jaw of Thompson and McCraw whom he dubs as professional politicians. This too, goes over with John Public. Now, if Mr. O'Daniel should carry on one side of his band wagon 500 gallons of cold beverage and on the other side 50 gallons of cold water the dear voter to whom he appeals will at once conclude that he is a Moses come to judgment.

William McCraw swept down on the Texas electorate like the wolf on the Syrian fold. His friends claimed him as the Napoleon of the west. He swept across the political firmament like some frightful comet on a troubled horizon. Something has happened to Bill. Bill and Lee loomed large and loud up to two weeks ago. Their ambitions clashed while Bill's red top was showered with Lee's flour and turned his hair suddenly silvery. Bill in turn spat upon the yankee gabardine of our own Lee. The daily papers are head-lined with the story of the death grapple of these two political gladiators. Sitting in the corner of the prize ring, Bill tells his friends that he will knock Lee out on the fifth round when he hands it to him that he voted Republican in 1932 and lost and has not paid a poll tax since. Lee whispers to his aids that Bill will go down on the next round when he tells the ring side watchers that Bill's daddy ran for office on a Republican ticket.

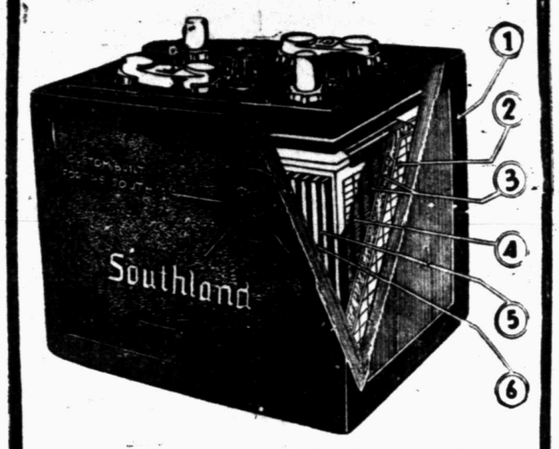

Tom Hunter, the optimistic sage of Wichita, has consistently stood on his 12-point platform and made radio and speech appeals to the dear public. Thompson, likewise has avoided any reference to his competitors in the race for governor. Both Hunter and Thompson take the position that O'Daniel and McCraw are perfectly honorable men and the things said by each of the other are in all respects true and correct. The ringside seats are well filled while the Blue and the Gray swing right and left seeking opportunity for a final knockout. Hunter and Thompson are in boxes by the ringside, watching.

O'Daniel and McCraw are showing the effects of the hard contest. It is believed by sport fans that neither will be able to contest in July with the doughty Wichita Falls candidate or the crafty and adroit Amarilloan. The public is anxiously waiting the equally-matched gladiators and at the same time wondering if like snakes they will kill and destroy each other, leaving Hunter and Thompson to draw the crowd in August.

Very truly yours,
J. A. (Ab) Humphries.

EVERLAY Poultry FEEDS

TARZAN UNDER FIRE — By Edgar Rice Burroughs

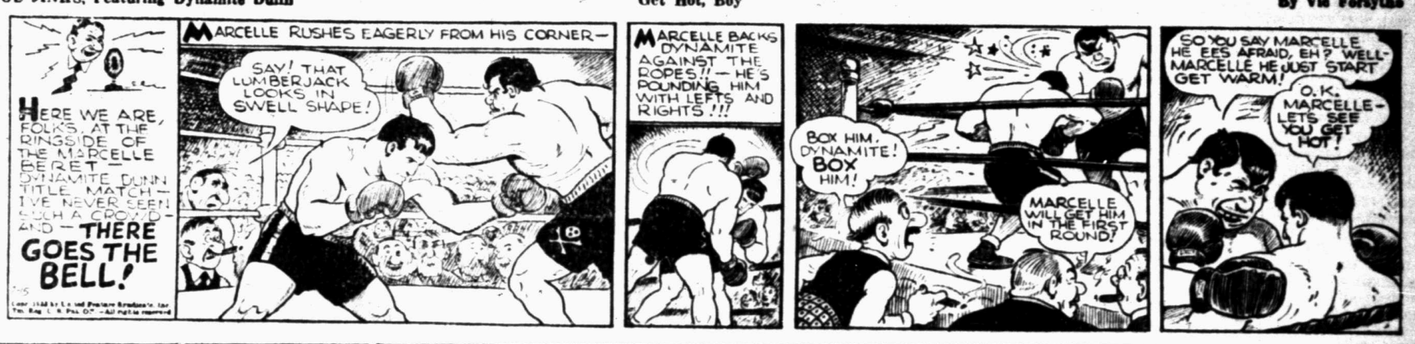

Dick and Yvonne, marching with their brutish captors, noted that the trail led constantly into higher ground. Presently they saw hills looming ahead. Yvonne trembled, for she had heard the sun-worshipers say that in the hills lay the site for the new temple.

The man called Blk, who had discovered the site led them into the mouth of a ravine which rose steeply upward into the hills. The great trees of the jungle disappeared and, in places the undergrowth gave way entirely to rocks that supported no vegetation.

"What will Doc do now?" quavered Yvonne; "he won't be able to follow us; he won't be able to help you, Dick — poor Dick!" "Oh, good old Doc will find a way," Dick replied jauntily, but his optimism was merely a mask for the hopelessness in his heart.

Behind them, Doc came to the edge of the jungle. The trees were too scattered to offer a continuous trail above ground; and in most places the underbrush was too scant for shelter. He would continue his pursuit only by exposing himself to the enemy's eyes!

Farm Checking Work Started

Five supervisors checking performance of Lubbock county farmers with the 1938 agricultural program, Thursday began work on farms in the county, J. C. Smith, county supervisor, announced. There will be 16 or 17 supervisors in all and each will have an assistant.

Other supervisors are to be named as rapidly as possible. By Monday or Tuesday, said Smith, all should be at work. Aerial maps made from pictures taken last year will be used for checking of the farms.

Cooperation Is Asked

"We are asking that farmers arrange to be present when the supervisor and assistant check the farm land," Smith said.

At least two months will be required to check all of the more than 2,700 farms in the county, it is believed. Instructions on measurement have been given supervisors and helpers. As individual farm checks are received at the county agent's office, Smith and a force of helpers will go over them to recheck figures.

Supervisors and helpers for the following communities were named and began work Thursday: P. L. Collins, supervisor and John Allen, assistant, Slaton; A. J. Brown, supervisor and Earl Merrill, assistant, for north of Shallowater; Sherman Nelson, supervisor and Melvin Harvey, assistant, for south of Shallowater; J. H. Barnett, supervisor and Leo Lowrey, assistant for southeast of Shallowater and northwest of Lubbock and Pete Robinson, supervisor and R. G. McNeeley, assistant for Monroe.

Amateur Night Will Be Held At Parks

Tonight will be amateur night in city parks, said John W. Wilson, supervisor of the summer recreational program. More than 150 persons will participate.

The programs will start at 8:30 o'clock, half an hour earlier than those in the past, Wilson reminded.

Scenes of the events will be Pioneer on Seventh street, Carlisle on Twenty-seventh, Mackenzie and Booker T. Washington. V. H. Moore will be master of ceremonies at Mackenzie and Hop Halsey at Pioneer. Others are yet to be named.

Those desiring to compete, the supervisor said, must appear at the park of their preference not later than 7:30 p. m. and there report their name and the number they are to present to the supervisor.

Numbers will include instruments of various kinds ranging from such "standards" as violins and harmonicas to freaks of the bazooka and washboard type. Readings, tap dancing, vocal solos, acrobatics and the like were suggested among other numbers to complete the program. Competitors may be either individuals or groups.

Winners at each park will be given tickets to the Palace theater.

Wilson also announced that boys' and girls' volley ball teams of Seventh street park defeated Mackenzie park late Wednesday. The boys won two straight, 15-8 and 15-6. The Seventh street girls won two out of three, the scores being 15-9, 10-15 and 15-7.

Highway Officials Are To Attend Seminole Session

SEMINOLE, July 14. (Special)—Two thousand or more persons probably will attend a barbecue and highway association meeting here Friday, when Harry Hines, highway commissioner of Wichita Falls, and Julien Montgomery of Austin, state engineer, visit Seminole.

A two-day program will be sponsored by Seminole Chamber of Commerce and by East-West Highway association. Candidates will speak Saturday.

Eight pen-fed beeves will be barbecued for the affair on Friday.

Speakers Are Scheduled

Speakers for Friday include: Sam Richardson, Lamesa, president of the highway association; J. A. Elliott of Fort Worth, U. S. bureau of roads district engineer; Charles G. Cotten, Fort Worth, director of trade extension and highways, Fort Worth C. of C.; Harry Hines, Julien Montgomery, S. J. Treadaway, Abilene, division engineer and Hunter Jones, Breckenridge, member of the association.

For the highway association meeting, Lamesa is sending a large group, with its high school band; Hobbs, N. M., is sending a group and a band; Snyder hopes to have 200. Other delegations from Dallas, Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Breckenridge, Anson, Roby, Gail and El Paso. Victor L. Minter, secretary of the Carlsbad N. M., Chamber of Commerce is to bring a delegation also.

Opens At 10 A. M.

Meeting opens at 10 o'clock with a band concert by the Lamesa band. After a song and invocation, A. L. Duff of Seminole will welcome the visitors. Jones of Breckenridge will respond and President Richardson will give his report. Commissioner Hines will make the last talk of the morning.

After the barbecue at noon a business session will be held. Following introduction of visitors and delegates, talks will be made by Elliott, Montgomery, Treadway, Cotten and Minter. Election of officers will close the program.

Organized In 1930

The East-West Highway association was organized in 1930 and has held annual meetings in towns along the route since that time. The association was organized for the purpose of sponsoring and encouraging the completion of Texas state highway 15 through Texas, and U. S. highway 62 by way of Carlsbad and on to El Paso. When the road is completed, it will be the shortest route from Fort Worth by way of Carlsbad caverns to El Paso. All of the road west from Roby to the New Mexico state line was recently placed on the Federal Aid system, and it is hopad that the unpaved gaps will be completed soon.

Sam Richardson of Lamesa is president, Victor L. Minter of Carlsbad, is New Mexico secretary, and A. G. Bearden of Lamesa is Texas secretary of the association.
