HAS GLORIA SWANSON TWO MATES?

Marriage of Gloria Swanson, acknowledged "queen" of Hollywood, to Michael Farmer, wealthy Irish sportsman, which has been rumored for the past several months, has been confirmed by Mayor John Murray, of Elmsford, N. Y., who declares he officiated for the couple last August. Hollywood has been speculating as to whether Miss Swanson might be open to bigamy charges inasmuch as her divorce from the Marquis Henry de la Falaise, only becomes final now. The Marquis, in turn, is reported about to wed Constance Bennett. The four principals are below.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL ATTENDS COURT HEARING

Arguments to sustain a petition asking for a temporary injunction to restrain the Railroad Commission of Texas from enforcing provisions of house bill 335 and arguments against the issuance of the injunction, were being heard this afternoon before Judge Clark M. Mullican of the 99th district court in the case of Jeffreys vs. the enforcement officers of Lubbock and Lynn counties. Court adjourned at noon until 1:30 this afternoon when arguments were resumed.

Following the reading of the petition of L. P. Jeffreys by his counsel, G. E. Lockhart, at the opening of the court, Elbert Hooper, an assistant attorney general from Austin, made a lengthy argument in defense of the railroad commission and regulatory authority.

Answer Read

Mr. Hooper read the answer of the railroad body to the suit and then began the presentation of recent court decisions sustaining the enactment of the law.

"This is the first time that the constitutionality of the law has been squarely raised in a state court," Mr. Hooper said in reading excerpts from the decision of the tenth district court of appeals at Waco on Saturday. "We have two decisions sustaining this law, one by a three judge federal court and the other by the court of appeals.

During the course of his argument, Mr. Hooper was asked several questions by Judge Mullican relating to the operation of the law and the interpretations placed on it by the attorney general's department.

"The law does not apply to the occasional and incidental haul" he said in response to a question of the court. "It does not apply to the

SIX ARE INJURED IN WEEK-END ACCIDENTS

THREE ARE BURNED IN BROWNFIELD BLAST; THROAT SLASHED

Lubbock hospitals this morning and Sunday received a man and two children suffering from burns, a man whose throat was cut on a barb-wire fence, and two men whose hands were injured when caught in machinery.

When gas became ignited and exploded in a tourist camp cabin at Brownfield about 4:10 o'clock this morning, R. Brashear, 57, of Winters, and his small daughters, Alta, 15, and Jessie, 12, were burned. Brashear was hauling household goods to Wellman for another family and the two children accompanied him.

Burned Severely

The three were received at Lubbock sanitarium, where attendants said Brashear was burned severely on the face, arms, hands, and right eye. The two girls were burned on the face, arms, and hands, and severely on the back.

Although Brashear was unable to explain how the explosion occurred, as the three were asleep at the time, he told sanitarium attaches, gas escaping from a jet in the cabin had been ignited. A short circuit in the electrical wiring system possibly caused the gas to catch fire, he theorized. No gas was escaping from the pipe in the cabin when the man and his two daughters retired Sunday night, so far as they knew. They left an electric light burning and the explosion did not break it, sanitarium attaches were told.

Alvie Brashear, who had accompanied his father and sisters to work at a Brownfield gin, was at the tourist camp filing station when the explosion occurred. Just after he inquired whether the three had gotten up, the fire broke out. He came to Lubbock with the injured members of the family. Damage to the cabin was slight, he said.

OFFICERS FROWN ON MAN'S OFFER TO EXCHANGE BONDS FOR FREEDOM

(By The Associated Press)

LINCOLN, Nebr., Nov. 9.—Gus Winkler's offer to exchange stolen bonds worth $600,000 for freedom from the charge of helping rob the Lincoln National bank of $2,500,000 last year was frowned on today by County Attorney Max G. Towle.

Declaring he has no disposition to compromise with crime, the prosecutor indicated he would reject the offer.

He said pressure to accept it had been exerted on him by officials of the robbed bank, Attorney General C. A. Sorensen, Illinois officers, who helped hunt the holdup men, and members of Chicago's "secret six," business men's group helping war on crime.

The offer for the return of securities included all but $30,000 of the negotiable paper taken in the robbery.

Winkler in making the offer, said Towle, continued to deny participation in the robbery and said he had an air tight alibi. He said he was in a Buffalo, N. Y., hotel the day of the robbery, September 17, 1930. He asserted during a conference at Chicago recently, that he did not have the bonds but could buy them. Winkler is under $100,000 bond pending trial for the robbery.

During negotiations within the past three weeks, Towle participated in two conferences at Chicago, with Winkler and others.

COMMANDER OF CHINA ARMY TO FIGHT

FIGHTING IS RESUMED BETWEEN CHINESE, REBELS TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Nov. 9.—Rengo (Japanese) News agency today reported General Mah Chan-Shan, commander of the Chinese Heilungkiang province army opposing Japanese forces in Manchuria, today issued a manifesto declaring war against Japan asserting his determination to fight to the bitter end.

The manifesto was dated November 7 and was addressed to the Chinese nation.

General Mah telegraphed Chang Hsueh-Liang, Chinese governor of Manchuria; General Chang Tso-Hsiang, governor of Kirin province, Manchuria and commander of all Manchurian forces north of the great wall, and Wan Fu-Lin, governor of Heilungkiang province, asking them to mobilize all Kirin troops at Mah's capital, Tsitsihar, less than 50 miles from the Japanese position.

FIGHTING RESUMED

TIENTSIN, China, Nov. 9 (AP)—Bursts of machine gun fire crackled on the western outskirts of the city just before nightfall and it appeared that yesterday's fighting between Chinese police and a rebel force had been renewed.

The streets in the Japanese concession were deserted and there was an ominus quiet in the city itself. It was reported Chinese troops moving from Lang Fang were headed toward Peiping instead of towards Tientsin.

Prepare For Attack

All during the day the police had made preparations for a renewal of the attack by 2,000 rebels who participated in riots last night near the entrance to the Chinese city from the Japanese concession.

During that fighting the Japanese troops were reported to have sent 40 shells into the Chinese section.

ANNUAL STATE CONFAB SET TUESDAY

ENCOURAGEMENT FOR ARTISTS, WRITERS, MUSICIANS GIVEN

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Woman's Editor

Encouragement will be given to Texas artists, writers and musicians through the 60,000 club women of the state, if recommendations adopted this morning by the board of directors, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, are approved by the general body of the organization in convention here during the next three days.

Delegates from clubs over Texas were arriving today as the board of directors sat in the Hilton hotel with the president, Mrs. R. P. Lindsay of Mt. Pleasant, presiding. At noon, there was a registration of 118 women. Several hundred are expected for the formal opening of the convention on Tuesday morning.

The part that Texas club women have in influencing legislative matters concerning education, highway beautification and libraries was indicated in recommendations.

Changes Proposed

Several constitutional changes will be submitted to the convention during the thirty-fourth annual session here during the week, following recommendations voted by the board of directors this morning. As an economy measure, a recommendation was voted to publish only one year book during each administration of two years. Other measures are of a technical nature.

Following the general plan which brought an exhibit of pictures to Lubbock this week and will cause the Texas federation to purchase some oil painting of a Texas subject, Mrs. Lindsay recommended today that further stimulation of Texas talent be given through an

Boost In Cotton Yield Indicated

SECOND LARGEST CROP IN HISTORY SHOWN BY REPORT TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—Favored by ideal weather, the south is picking a cotton crop of 16,903,000 bales, an increase of 619,000 above the yield indicated a month ago.

The crop represents the second largest in the history of cotton production and comes at a time when unusually low prices are prevailing. The 1926 harvest—17,977,000 bales—alone exceeds the current production estimate.

The department attributed a large share of the increase shown today in the November 1 report to the fact that in October allowance was made for greater than average potential loss of open cotton because at that time there was an unusual amount of open and unpicked cotton in the fields.

Weather Favorable

Favorable weather conditions, however, made field losses during October considerably less than average. All during October temperatures in the south were above the average and rainfall was light.

Up to November 1, there already had been ginned 12,129,546 running bales, counting 401,083 round bales as half bales and including 5,401 bales of American-Egyptian.

When the department on August 8 forecast 15,684,000 bales, cotton prices declined precipitately. Since then the forecasts have indicated a progressively higher production.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP).—Cotton held steady today after receipt of a government crop report showing an increase of 619,000 bales in Nov. 1 estimates over those of a month previously.

The March position reopened at 6.79 cents a pound, unchanged from the price quoted before receipt of the report and 25 cents a bale below Saturday's close; July reopened at 7:19 cents, up 10 cents a bale from Saturday's close and up 30 cents a bale above the pre-report price.

COTTON IGNITED

Two cotton samples which were ignited in a cotton office at 1313 Texas avenue about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon were carried outside and the only loss was on the two samples, the fire department reported. Origin of the fire was undetermined, though the department's report indicated a lighted match possibly had been dropped on the cotton accidentally.

"TOUGH TONY" TAKEN IN DRIVE TO PUT GANG IN JAIL

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 9—The government has caught another reputed Capone follower in its drive to put members of the gang behind prison bars or deport them.

Antonio Capezio, known to the police as "Tough Tony" suspected by authorities of having been one of the gunners in the machine gun massacre of seven gangsters on St. Valentine's day in 1929, is the man seized. He was arrested by police as a bank robbery suspect. No one could identify him as such but he was ordered held by W. F. Watkins, an immigration agent.

Watkins said he had information Capezio was born in Italy in 1901 and was never naturalized in the United States.

Capezio is the fourth reputed Capone gangster who has been caught. Tony "Mops" Volpe was seized last spring. A deportion warrant was issued, but Volpe appealed to the courts. A decision is expected soon.

MEXICAN COTTON PICKERS SLAIN

RICHMOND, Texas, Nov. 9 (AP)—Two Mexican cotton pickers were found clubbed to death yesterday near here and two others were sought today by authorities as the slayers.

One of the victims was identified today as Pedro Balboa, the Fort Bend county sheriff said. The other remained unidentified.

The sheriff added that the two suspected slayers, who had been living in a cabin with the victims, had come to this region from Jim Wells county, Texas, and were believed headed back toward that county.

IMPRISONED FOR YEARS IN CLOSET, LITTLE GIRL HAS FIRST PLAYMATE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—A wan, little 13-year-old girl has the first playmate she can remember. With toys and plenty to eat.

She is Edith Riley, whose parents are charged with imprisoning her in a windowless closet for almost the last quarter of her life.

Now she is in the children's ward of a municipal hospital. A red-headed fellow-patient is the first playmate she recalls having, she shyly informs a questioner. Smiling strangers gaze down at her among the dolls and toys sympathetic folk her own age have sent. And as she finishes a meal of goodies, the like of which she did not know existed, she pats her stomach and sighs happily.

It is a new life for her.

Her father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Newton Riley, are in another section of the city. Things have changed for them, too, since last week. Under $2,500 bond they await the decision of the grand jury whether they kept the little girl in the closet, beat her and through other abuse arrested her development.

They contend she was placed in the closet only when they had to leave her alone; that she had always been abnormal; and that they kept her home because they believed she would be cared for better than in an institution.

SCHOOLS WILL OPEN TODAY

SESSIONS ARE BEING RESUMED AFTER HALT FOR PICKING

Levelland schools were to reopen Monday after being closed for cotton picking.

Estacado schools also were to reopen Monday after being closed for the same reason. A. C. Jackson, superintendent, made the announcement recently.

The Levelland schools have been closed for six weeks. They started in September but were closed when it became apparent scarcity of pickers would greatly delay crop gathering.

To Be Full Term

C. J. Conaiser, president of the Levelland board, announced that there would be a full term in spite of the closing. Every other Saturday will be used for class work and the term will extend into June.

At Olton classes will operate on an early schedule, the closing time being 1 o'clock in the afternoon. This permits children to pick cotton until dark. Sessions open at 8:30 in the morning.

Southland schools started a program of opening classes at 8 and closing at 12 to permit children to pick cotton. Southland expects to be able to run for nine full months.

Many rural school have also resumed class work in all sections of the South Plains. Some of the larger rural and independent schools are working the plan of closing at 12 or 1 o'clock to permit children to pick cotton.

Others To Open

Several of the larger schools will not open until next Monday. Spur and O'Donnell are two of these schools. Amherst, closed for a short time, is also opening next week.

Idalou schools will open November 23. This was the latest announce-

OWENS TRIAL STARTS

GALVESTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The murder trial of Theodore Owens, accused of slaying Clarence Gregory of Houston, began in district court today. Gregory was shot to death in a street gun fight last spring.

Thefts Reported To Police Department

A black topcoat belonging to C. W. Stedham of Wolfforth was stolen Saturday night from the Uptown Dance palace, police were told.

Police reported a Chevrolet coupe, belonging to C. H. Knox of Wolfforth and listed as stolen Saturday night, later was found.

J. R. Miller, Deaf Smith county sheriff, of Hereford, has asked Lubbock police to watch for several musical instruments stolen from the Hereford High school building last Tuesday night or early Wednesday.

PLAINVIEW FANS TO ATTEND GAME

With little hope of winning the game but with every reason to believe that their Bulldogs will put up a stubborn front and fight with all they have to make the contest interesting, Plainview fans will board a special train Wednesday at noon and follow the high school gridsters to Lubbock. The Lubbock High school Westerners meet the Bulldogs of Plainview High at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon on the Texas Tech field.

Low round trip rates and the brevity of time needed for making the trip will make it possible for a large number of Plainview students and fans to make the trip, according to reports from the Bulldog town.

The special train leaves Plainview at 12:30 o'clock, arriving at Lubbock at 1:30 o'clock. It is likely that the Plainview delegation will stage a downtown parade immediately preceding the game. Departing at 6:30, the train is due to make the return trip in one hour.

MRS. ADAMS IS MENTIONED

SAN ANTONIO WOMAN MAY SEEK VACANT WURZBACH POST

Although she will make no formal statement until the close of the convention of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs here on Thurrday, Mrs. Alexander Adams of San Antonio has expressed a willingness to be a candidate for representative to congress to succeed the late Harry M. Wurzbach, who represented the fourteenth district. Wurzbach, Texas' only Republican congressman, died Friday.

"I am in the hands of my friends", Mrs. Adams said this morning. "At their behest, I may be a Democratic candidate in the district. However, I shall make no formal statement until after this convention closes, for after 20 years of club work I continue to believe that club work and politics should not be mixed.

"I am a club woman and not a politician," she asserted.

Governor Sterling has called no special election for the district. Mrs. Adams does not know of any other prospective candidates, she said this morning, explaining that San Antonio friends had called asking her to consider this place just prior to her departure for Lubbock. It was generally conceded the district would elect a Democrat, further strengthening the Democratic control of the house.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

BACKWARD CHILD

TO MANY a backward child going to school has very little lure. He rarely has successes at his lessons. Now everyone enjoys most what he enjoys best, and enjoys what he does best, and enjoys discouragements must be met by the child who every day and every hour at school finds himself a failure! Just imagine yourself trudging off to school knowing you are not going to be able to answer the questions which will be asked you in the retitation, not going to be able to do the problems set for you to do while other children are going to do them easily and quickly, and are going to have to wait while you work and worry in confusion, they thinking all the while what a dumb-bell you are.

We are not born equal in ability to learn. Even within the same family one child may learn with great speed and ease while another may learn with slowness and great difficulty. But people do not fall into two great classes, geniuses and dullards. There are all degrees of brightness, which is to say that there are all degrees of dullness. We parents generally call a child backward who cannot keep up in his work at school, who lags one or several grades behind.

He may be brighter than we think he is; he may be duller. We parents rarely are good judges of his degree of native intelligence. The school psychologist, where there is one, should be able to give us pretty accurate information. In many of the best school systems there are special classes for those children who are two or three years behind their grade.

If your school has no psychologist, get into touch with the nearest university or college and call upon a psychologist there. Sometimes such services are given free. Never is the fee very large. Don't waste your time and money on a quack. Usually your teacher can tell you a good deal about the child's learning troubles. It is well to keep in very close touch with her. Teachers and even psychologists can, of course, make mistakes by labeling the child duller than he really is. But if they both find the child low in ability to learn you will be pretty safe in accepting their advice.

Of course it is not easy for a parent of average or superior intelligence to believe his child is by nature dull. He is more likely to accuse the child of laziness and the teacher of incompetence. Some such parents forever torment the slow child, making life miserable for him and eternally hound the teacher, imposing on her time and patience.

No parent or teacher can put new cells into the child's head nor create a new brain for him. All anyone can do is to help the child develop what he has.

Most teachers, indeed, expect slow children to do more than they are able to do. Only gradually is the school making the work easy enough for the backward child.

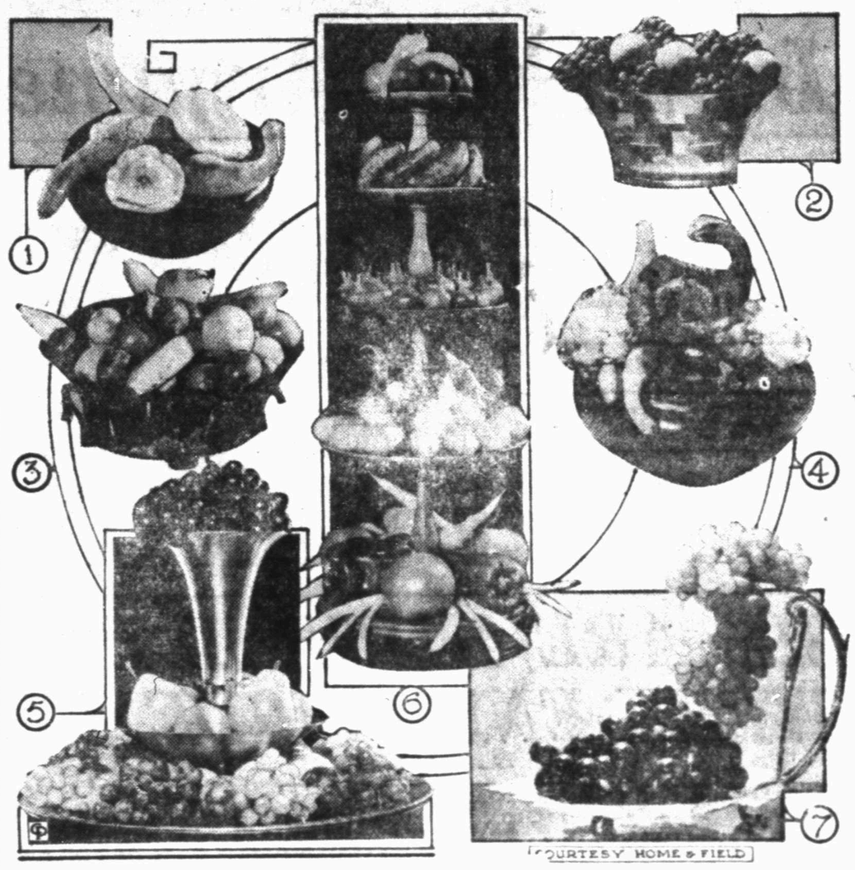

An occasional skilful teacher with one or several very dull children in her class sets them at work simple enough for them to enjoy success. To such a child of the fourth grade for example, may be given second grade spelling, reading or arithmetic if that child can do well at things no more difficult. She encourages the child, helps him to succeed and helps him to celebrate successes. Fortunate the backward child with such a teacher.

Doubly fortunate if he has parents who are as considerate and wise in dealing with him at home, who do not charge him with laziness and indifference, who do not compare him with a brighter child, who give him tasks at home at which he can succeed, who make the child feel he has a worthy place in the family, contributing his honest portion.

Harvest Harmony Makes The Table Gay For Fall Dinners

Bush and crookneck squash used as centerpiece, 1; peaches and grapes in combination, 2; decorative fruits in old Louis Philippe basket, 3; brilliant vegetables in basket, No. 4; 5 and 6, formal arrangements for fruit and vegetables; 7, green and blue-black grapes in grape-leaf dish.

Art Supplied to Central Press By Home & Field Magazine

HARVEST harmonies are rich and colorful. No need to look far for decorative pieces for your autumn table. You have them at your grocer's or in your own fruit and vegetable cellar.

As a suggestion of the charming manner in which your table and home may be trimmed for any fall festivity or for Thanksgiving, look at the way in which waxen white flat bush squash is used in combination with beautiful gold colored and curved crooknecks in a sturdy antique oak chopping bowl, 1.

Deep blue and peach are an appropriate color combination for the heavy modern French bowl of deeply etched glass decorated with silver applique, 2. Oranges might replace the peaches to give an even more delightful combination—more vivid, at any rate. A tonal composition in yellow might be made by shading from a ring of greenish yellow limes through successive circles of yellow lemons, deep golden oranges and still deeper red-orange tangerines built into a mound and topped by a large, very pale grape fruit, making a symphony in color tones.

An old Louis Philippe basket of rosewood provides the touch of fine tradition to a characteristic medley of decorative fruits, pictured 3.

The decorative possibilities of vegetables have been largely neglected but what could be more beautiful and harmonious for the informality of the country home than the grouping of cauliflower, cabbage, squash, peppers, etc. in the black pottery bowl of Indian design, 4?

More formal and aristocratic arrangements are shown 5 and 6. The exquisite proportions of the three satin finished copper bowls, 5, super-imposed to form a single container, make the success of the piece which uses a color scheme of green, gold, peach and copper, in deep contrast to the coral grapes. Six is an old Louis Philippe provincial etagere decked with small green and scarlet vegetables.

In a silver grape-leaf dish taken from an old Georgian shell design, 7, and reminiscent of the original's classic beauty, translucent green grapes droop in graceful symmetry over a bunch of dull-black royal grapes.

Name Of Texas P-TA Association May Be Changed; Meeting In San Antonio

The twenty-third annual convention of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations in San Antonio, November 10-13, will mark the last meeting of that body under its present name if revisions to the by-laws already recommended by the board of managers are adopted by the convention body. Realizing that there is tautology in the present name since mothers are also parents, but striving to conform to the national congress of parents and teachers the Texas board of managers in its january meeting recommended that the name be changed to the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Other proposed revisions simplify the form of organization in accordance with the findings of the two year trial of the work of the State organization on the plan of making everything contribute to one of the three heads, structure, program, project.

Elect Officers

These revisions will be voted on Tuesday afternoon. On Wednesday from 11:30 to 1:00 the officers for the coming biennium will be elected.

This convention program departs from the custom followed for the past seven years in that there is no opening banquet on Monday evening, but there will be a closing banquet Thursday evening when the new officers will be installed by the retiring president, Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith. Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs will deliver the address on this occasion.

The fourth annual graduation exercises for those delegates who have completed the correspondence course in parent-teacher work will be held Thursday afternoon instead of at the annual banquet as heretofore.

Cut Day Off

With the board of managers meeting Tuesday morning, delegates registering at the same time, and formal opening of the convention Tuesday noon, one day is cut off of the meeting.

On Wednesday the illiteracy luncheon planned by Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs, at which Dr Ray Lyman Wilbur will be honor guest and speaker, will have right of way.

With these exceptions the San Antonio program follows the usual form—officers and chairmen will report and conferences on parent education by Dr. Ada Hart Arlitt will be held. Classes on parliamentary procedure by Mrs F. H. Marek, and publicity by Mrs. Will T. Dechard, will be conducted Wednesday and Thursday mornings.

Addresses will be made by Dr Ray Lyman Wilbur, director of the White House Conference; Dr. Charles G. Maphis, member of the illiteracy committee; Dr. Ada Hart Arlitt, national chairman of parent education; Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the University of Texas; Hon. S. M. N. Marrs, state superintendent of public instruction; Mrs. Walter McNab Miller, American Child Health association; and others.

The meeting closes with the banquet and is followed by a meeting of the new board of managers on Friday morning.

Virgil Gore of Lubbock, director of young people's work for the conference, told of the program of work for the young people's division.

The next rally is to be held in Levelland on the second Sunday in February.

Visiting Club Women To Be Shown School

Visiting club women who are in attendance at the convention of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs here are to be shown through the Senior High school building tomorrow afternoon, it was announced this morning. Members of the Lubbock Parent-Teacher Association council are to be hosts for the occasion and open house is to be held from 4:30 until 5:30 o'clock.

The guests will be served tea in the home economics rooms of the school. Mrs. R. V. Kimmel is in charge of arrangements.

MATADORS LEAVE TODAY FOR GRID CLASH WITH TEXAS MINERS

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

Monday afternoon, November 9, 3:15 o'clock, time this gets to the street, the Texas Tech Matadors should be nearing the state line. In another hour or two they'll be driving into Roswell. They'll work out there and spend the night there, hopping over to El Paso tomorrow. Wednesday afternoon will find them matching wits and football yardage with the Texas Miners.

Here at home we'll spend Armistice Day by being thankful for the peace enjoyed by the nation at large and for the peacefulness we hope in which the Lubbock Westerners will let the Plainview Bulldogs down in a District 1 championship game. There is a possibility of two games, a double-header as it were, for Lubbock fans Wednesday. Negotiations were under way Saturday for a night game between the Tech freshmen and the West Texas Teachers freshmen.

Except in practice and against the Matadors in the first game of the season, Lubbock fans have had no opportunity of seeing the Tech frosh in action this season. If the game is arranged it might be worth seeing. Suggest you glance over the sport pages tomorrow and see if actual agreement to the game has been made.

In view of their defeats thus far the freshmen gridsters out at Tech have shown little to permit the purchase of extra postage stamps to be used on a letter to the folks back home, but a closer study of the situation will reveal several first year gridsters of certain promise and potentiality. The squad as a whole has served as a receptacle for the fury of the Matadors in practice and it has been good practice for the yearlings. So far as their probable worth or lack of worth to the varsity next year is concerned there is no cause for immediate alarm. It is to be remembered that the 1931 varsity is made up chiefly of second year men, who, if Coach Dutchey Smith enlightens us, will be juniors next year.

Among the first year men who seem to be looking up as probable assets to the varsity outfit are Adrian Clark of Denison, Rowe of Livingston, Floyd "Alabam" Tuck of Alabama, Douglas Hill of Lamesa, Fred Peters of Mart, Smythe Blackie Reynolds of Beaumont now and formerly of Lubbock and Mundine from Taylor all backs. Fish linemen who seem to be taking things seriously in view of a probable varsity berth among a host of others are the Curfman Brothers of Electra, Benson of Tahoka, Melton McCuiher of Lubbock, Smith of Sherman, the Merrin bros. of Seymour, Woodrow Wilson of Mexia, Barrett of Sulphur Springs, Larsen of Amarillo, Gilmore of Olney and Gilmore of Olney, two Gilmores.

Did you you probably didn't unless you were one of the 300 who were present see how Chester McCarty handled that center position for the Lubbock High school team Friday against Childress? The boy who is growing into a young man looked good. Bob Crawford was on the sidelines but McCarty was doing some fine substituting which means that in case Bob Crawford gets hurt or in the studies the Westerners may not necessarily be out of the game. Bob is a great center, one of the best I am school centers we've ever seen, but McCarty is a good substitute for him. He'll be regular center next year. He was tearin' 'em up in there Saturday p. m.

And Bill Davidson continues to look good in the backfield. He started Saturday in lieu of Cecil Merrill who was out with a bad arm, and stayed in until the last down. Did some nice work, too, and his goal-kicking is something to brag about. Which goes to show that if any of the four regulars happen to get knocked out he can be replaced by Davidson with little or no loss of strength to the lineup. Davidson hasn't had quite the experience owned by some other boys, but he has another year and he'll be a regular all the way next year. He can fill almost any position in the backfield, but we like to see him run at fullback. Barnett, regular full, twisted an ankle Saturday and may be out of the Plainview game.

Coach Blair Cherry is reported to be revamping his lineup up at Amarillo in preparation for the Thanksgiving Day game. According to information reaching this desk, he can place a team on the field of which the lightest man weighs 165 pounds. Bob Howes, the big gun in the Sandy backfield against Pampa, is reported to have been shifted to the line, and that's good news to Lubbock, maybe. Amarillo doesn't have too many ball toters as high powered as Mister Bob. The change will be watched with interest.

WESTERNERS READY FOR BULLDOGS

TECH TO SEEK REVENGE FOR DEFEAT

CAWTHON COHORTS TO PLAY AT EL PASO ON WEDNESDAY

Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchey Smith and 27 of their best Texas Tech Matadors clambered aboard their big bus today at noon and headed toward El Paso where, on Wednesday, they meet Mack Saxon's Texas School of Mines eleven in one of the most important games of the season.

Still smarting under the rebuke of a 31 to 0 defeat by the Miners last season, the Matadors thought to be some stronger now, welcome the opportunity to gain revenge and at the same time stretch their string of 1931 victories to six. At the same time they respect the gridiron powers of their opponents in spite of setbacks suffered by the latter this season and are not going into the contest blindly.

The Matador lookes nothing less than good last Friday night against the allegedly powerful and more experienced Abilene Christian college Wildcats leaders in the western division of the T. I. A. A. and thereby restored faith in themselves as well as regaining the confidence of their fans. The victory, 26 to 6, was the fifth of the season against two defeats. After losing to the Baylor university Bears on the previous week-end by an overwhelming score at Waco there was little hope that the sophomore outfit would stag such a brilliant comeback.

The short canoe of time between the A. C. C. and Texas Mines game will do no particular good to the Lubbock collegians and the long trip to El Paso in the interim is not considered to prove beneficial. Several members of the team are still suffering the ill effects of the Baylor game there being no less than half a dozen Charley horses, not to speak of several minor cuts and bruises and complications of same resulting from the Waco contest. These were increased in the A. C. C. game and the team is not in its best physical condition as they march on El Paso.

Regulars May Start

Coach Cawthon may take no chances with his shock troops or second team in the School of Mines game. He started the second string in every game so far this season, replacing it in the first and second quarters with the regulars, but the latter outfit may get the starting call Wednesday. The shockers remained in the game for only half a dozen plays Friday night, going in to stage a stellar defense on their own goal line to prevent what looked like a certain touchdown. For four downs they held the eager Wildcats inches away from the goal line in one of the neatest bits of defensive line play ever seen here.

Coach Mack Saxon's veteran crew will not recognize many of the Matadors whom they so mercilessly defeated here last season when the teams meet Wednesday, but there are just enough veterans in the Tech lineup to remember the score last year and to pass on the word to the sophomores. Captain Jack Durham, now a guard, big George Langford, tackle, Harlan Howell, end, Ross Ayres, guard, Shorty France, halfback, and Speed Moffett, quarterback were in the lineup against the Miners last year and are due to see service again this week.

In addition to France and Moffett in the backfield there is another name not entirely foreign to the Miners. "Slick" Close, formerly of Wayland college, now a regular halfback with the Matadors, has seen service against the Miners and the name is well known to Saxon's crew. The other regular back is Harold Crites, running at fullback.

Schedule Released

A tentative schedule for next season released by Tech officials late last week calls for the Texas Miners to play here next season in one of the greatest football cards ever arranged for the Bullfighters. No less than three Southwest conference teams and 2 Rocky Mountain conference clubs appear on the schedule. Baylor university comes here, the Texas Aggies meet the Matadors at Amarillo during the Tri-State fair and the University of Arkansas' Razorbacks are scheduled to appear with the Matadors in a feature game at the state fair at Dallas.

The University of Denver and the Colorado School of Mines from the Rocky Mountain conference, Notre Dame's "B" team, Louisiana Polytechnical college and the University of New Mexico round out the tentative schedule for next year. Seven major games, including the Simmons university Thanksgiving day game, are to be played at Lubbock if the present schedule holds true.

LOUGHRAN FACES UZCUDUN FRIDAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)—Tommy Loughran, who has fought some 130 ring battles since he began his fistic career in 1919, this week will tackle one of the three leading heavyweights he never has met in a business way—Paulina Uzcudun of Spain. The other two are champion Max Schmeling and Primo Carnera and Tommy may get a shot at both before many months have passed.

Loughran, a strong favorite as a result of his string of eleven successive victories, meets Paulino in the head-line ten rounder in Madison Square Garden Friday night. Paulino, perhaps, has seen his best days but he still is a rough and ready workman who will extend any heavyweight in the business.

Ponies, Frogs Unbeaten In Southwest Conference

S. M. U. FACES BAYLOR AND T. C. U. PLAYS STEERS SATURDAY

BY BILL PARKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 9 (AP)—Leading the Southwest conference race in points scored with 80 and in games won with 4, the Southern Methodist Mustangs unbeaten and untied this season resumed training today for next Saturday's game against the Baylor Bears. It will be the Mustangs semi-final conference game.

Winning by narrow margins but winning nevertheless, the Texas Christian university Frogs have scored 20 points in three conference games but remain in a tie with Southern Methodist for the conference lead. The Frogs play the University of Texas Saturday at Austin in their quarter-final conference contest.

Others Out of Race

The rest of the conference field is out of the race with from two to three defeats against them. If Southern Methodist trims Baylor, it will send the Mustangs against Texas Christian November 28 at Fort Worth with an unmarred conference record. Should Texas Christian conquer Texas Saturday at Austin, the Frogs will be favored to enter the November 28 game with an undefeated conference record since they are overwhelming favorites to take Baylor in their semi-final game.

Baylor lost a 25 to 0 decision to Texas last week, uncovering little against the driving attack of the Longhorns. Although their running and passing plays never produced touchdown results Saturday, the Mustangs clearly outplayed Texas A. and M., for an 8 to 0 win. Two blocked punts, one by Delcambre in the second period for a safety behind the end zone, and one by Willis Tate in which Burleson fell on for a touchdown, gave Southern Methodist victory.

Gallant Battle

It was a gallant battle trimmed with a 62-yard broken field run by Blanard Spearman and an accurate place kick by Cptain Harlos Green that saved Texas Christian from defeat Saturday against Rice and left the Frogs in a conference tie with Southern Methodist. Spearman got loose for his long gallop in the first period.

Texas Christian is in for a torrid fight at Austin Saturday. The Longhorns, kicked over in conference games by Rice and Southern Methodist, turned the boot the other way Saturday to drop Baylor from conference championship consideration 25 to 0. It was the first time since their early season game against a weak Missouri team that the Longhorns clicked.

The Texas A. and M. Aggies and Rice Owls will stage a conference battle at Houston. Both have one conference win and two defeats.

The University of Arkansas is idle this week following a 13 to 13 tie with the University of Chicago Saturday at Chicago.

THREE LEAD IN TIAA CHASE

A. C. C., DENTON AND TEXAS A. AND I. TO SEEK LOOP TITLE

DALLAS, Nov. 9 (AP)—Three undefeated football machines were racing abreast down November's trail in the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic association this week.

Two of the teams, Texas A. & I. of Kingsville, "baby" member of the T. I. A. A. and North Texas Teachers of Denton, represented the Eastern division of the association. Abilene Christian college of the western division was the third thousand percenter.

Only the Stephen F. Austin Teachers of Nacogdoches, thrice beaten in conference play, remained between Kingsville and the championship of the eastern division. North Texas, late at starting, had three games ahead.

Last week's conference schedule was light but it had an important bearing on the race's trend in the eastern sector. Kingsville dropped in on the Sam Houston Bearkats to dump them out of a tie at the top.

Other results:

Abilene Christian 6, Texas Tech 26.

McMurry College 0, Southwest Texas 18.

New Mexico Military Institute 0, West Texas Teachers 7.

DALLAS, Nov. 9 (AP)—Undefeated and its goal line uncrossed in conference competition, Simmons university was leading the Texas conference football race today.

The Cowboys, however, had two hard football games ahead of them, one Wednesday. The Simmons-Trinity university game was booked as one of Waxahachie's Armistice Day features. The other game, with Howard Payne, a battle of rivals, was scheduled for November 20 in Abilene.

Southwestern university and Austin college were the only Texas conference teams to meet last week, Austin college winning 19 to 13.

St. Edwards and Howard Payne also were scheduled for an Armistice Day game in rownwood.

Southwestern was billed to travel out of the conference to El Paso to meet the School of Mines Saturday.

PLAINVIEW TO MEET LOCALS WEDNESDAY

GAME TO BE FEATURE OF ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM HERE

With only two days in which to recover from the ill effects of one game and get in shape for their third district championship contest of the season, the Lubbock High school Westerners are due to receive some hard work this afternoon. They meet the Plainview Bulldogs here Wednesday afternoon.

Although they are big favorites over the Plainview entry in the District 1 race, the Westerners will be caught short in two or three departments when they go up against Froggie Lovvorn's outfit in the Armistice Day program feature. Eugene Barnett, regular fullback and one of the most dependable men in the backfield, sustained a broken foot in Saturday's conflict with the Childress team. One bone was fractured and hospital treatment was necessary. At the time of the injury it was thought he had turned an ankle, an x-ray later showing a broken bone.

Merrill On Sidelines

Cecil Merrill is still on the sidelines with a badly swollen arm, the result of a strain at the elbow. It is not likely that he will be used against Plainview. Bill Davidson played in Merrill's place against Childress with such force that the latter was not missed to any great extent. He is a valuable man however, and is counted on to do some plain and fancy ball-toting before the season is over.

Melvin Griggs, regular guard, was not able to start Saturday but may get in the game against Plainview. A trick knee causes Griggs a lot of grief and particular care must be taken with the member. He is one of the most valuable men in the line, a fine blocker on the defense and a support to the entire club. Captain Bob Crawford did not suit out for Saturday's game, due to a slight negligence of scholastic requirements, but should be ready to go Wednesday. In his absence last Saturday Chester McCarty played a good game at the pivot position.

A rather hard workout, with no scrimmage but plenty of signal and exercise work, looms for the Westerners this afternoon. Another not quite so intensive will follow tomorrow and the team will go up against a team whom nothing would please better than a victory over the league-leading Westerners.

INTERSECTIONAL FOOTBALL GAMES TO PLAY SECOND FIDDLE TO CONFERENCE GAMES IN SOUTH, EAST THIS WEEK

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—For the first time this season, intersectional football competition will play second fiddle this week to strictly sectional combat with the South and east the principal storm centers.

The South, in fact, becomes the football capital of the nation, at least for a day, with crucial encounters between Georgia and Tulane on the one hand, and Tennessee and Vanderbilt on the other. Georgia, Tulane and Tennessee all are unbeaten and untied while Vanderbilt, after accepting beatings from Tulane and Georgia, has come along fast in recent weeks.

In the East, in spite of such intersectional contests as Notre Dame and Navy, Georgia Tech and Penn, and Washington & Lee and Princeton, far greater interest will center on a half dozen sectional struggles. Of the major unbeaten eastern teams, Cornell, Harvard, Syracuse, Fordham, Temple and Bucknell all face possible trouble.

The Big Ten and Pacific Coast conference titles virtually have been clinched by Northwestern and Southern California and apparently nothing can stop Utah from annexing the Rocky Mountain crown again. A wide open fight between Southern Methodist and Texas Christian features the Southwest conference and Nebraska, Iowa State all have a chance for the Big Six championship.

NATION'S LEADING GRID SCORERS

(By The Associated Press)

Bob Campiglio, a big bruising halfback who plays in comparative obscurity with West Liberty (W. Va.) Teacher's college, has taken the lead in the national race for individual football scoring honors.

Campiglio jumped far into the lead with a total of 140 points in seven games Saturday when he scored 10 touchdowns and eight points after touchdown for 68 points against Bethel of Kentucky. His sensational play against Fordham recently led Frank Cavanaugh, Fordham coach, to call him the "best back Fordham has faced this year."

Bob Monnett of Michigan State scored 32 points against Ripon to hold second place with a total of 126 points.

The leader in each of the nation's nine major groups or conferences follows:

East—Campiglio, West Liberty, Midwest—Monnett, Michigan State, 126; Rocky Mt.—Christensen, Utah, 76; South—Felts, Tulane, 68; Pacific—Mohler, Southern California, 54; Southwest—Ledbetter, Arkansas, 42; Big Ten—Fay, Michigan, 42; Pardonner, Purdue, 41; Missouri Val.—Duncan, Grinnell, 37.

LEVINSKY WILL FIGHT CARNERA

CHICAGO, Nov. 9 (AP)—King Levinsky, powerful punching young Chicagoan, fighting Primo Carnera.

That match was in the making today for the Chicago stadium Nov. 19. Levinsky, the reformed fish peddler, has signed for the ten round bout. Carnera has agreed to terms and the only hurdle to be passed is sanction of the Illinois State Athletic commission.

Carnera is under suspension in states under jurisdiction of the National Boxing association because of a fine assessed against him by the Italian Boxing union for failure to fulfill a contract to box in Italy. Carnera advises he is ready to pay the fine and will have a representative at the meeting of the commission today to post a bond guaranteeing payment.

Levinsky will be conceeding the Italian giant some 55 pounds.

LARGEST ELECTRIC PLANT

Europe's largest hydro-electric plant has just been completed in Westphalia, Prussia. The giant plant will generate about 160,000,000 kilowats of electricity.

TOP FLIGHT IS DERBY FAVORITE

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)—It's a far cry from November's wintry blasts to a May day in Kentucky but already another C. V. Whitney thoroughbred is slated to rule as the winter book favorite for the 1932 Kentucky derby.

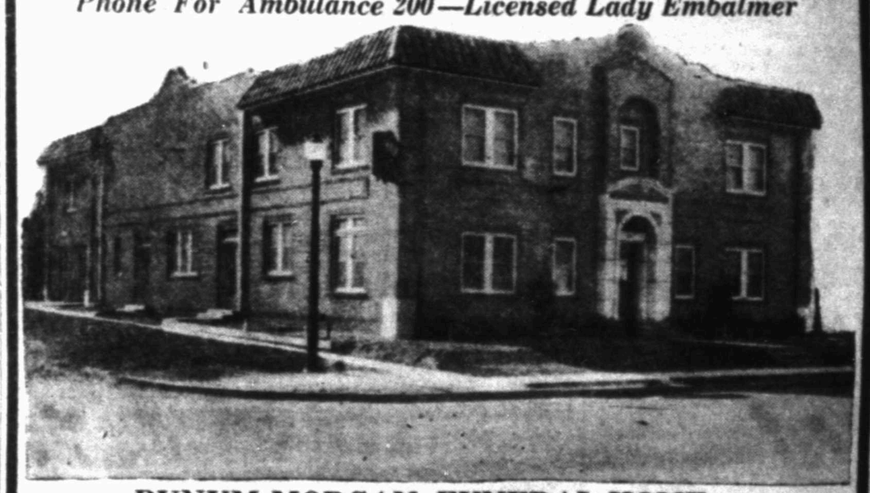

Last year it was Equipoise, leading money-winning juvenile of 1930, that caught the purse strings of the multitudes. This year it is Top Flight, rated as the turf's greatest filly since Whitney's Regret won the derby in 1915.

In the climb to the top of the two-year old division, Top Flight won seven consecutive stakes and set four money and one speed record. The five records were established in winning the Pimplico futurity last Saturday.

The futurity purse of $56,170 rolled up a grand total of $218,900, making Top Flight the year's greatest money winner. Twenty Grand, three-year old champion, previously led with a total of $218,545.

The triumph also established Top Flight as the greatest money winner of her sex in the world, surpassing the mark of $197,915 established by the English mare, Sceptre.

An Old Desire

Souvenir hunters, according to newspaper dispatches, have already begun to descend on Milan, O., birthplace of Thomas Edison.

Bark has been torn from trees about the house in which the inventor was born, and all kinds of loose objects have been carried away. Presently, no doubt, there will be souvenirs for sale, and passing motorists will stop to be photographed in front of the birthplace, and the usual dreary and inane round will be in full swing.

Just how any man in his senses can be gratified to possess a bit of bark from a tree that grew by the house where Edison was born is a trifle hard to understand. But this hunger for trivial mementoes of the great is an old one, and it expresses, however, clumsily and cheaply, a very real need.

For human greatness is not such a common thing that we can calmly pass by the places where it has moved. The ordinary mortal, for all his occasional braggadocio, is a very humble sort of person. He knows, as well as anyone else, the greatness of the gulf which separates him from an Edison.

And so, when he gets a chance to touch the skirts of greatness, so to speak, he takes it; and he takes home a bit of bark, or a banal snapshot, or some similar trinket, not because his soul is cheap and undiscriminating but because it is the only way in which he can have some tangible reminder that he was once in the vicinity of a man whose head touched the stars.

In the regular course of events we get precious little to bolster our self-esteem. Signs of greatness are rare, both in ourselves and in our neighbors; and the daily record of human silliness and greed that newspapers give us is not apt to be inspiring.

So, when we bump up against the earthly trappings of a man who was truly admirable, our impulse is to grab off something—anything, even a pebble or a bit of old cloth—as a keepsake. For it is something more than a visible sign that we have traveled and have seen fine sights. It is a talisman by which we can reassure ourselves that the race to which we belong can, on occasion, produce some magnificent specimens.

Russie In Movies

The theatrical magazine, Variety, reports that Hollywood studios are preparing to concoct a number of movies dealing with Russia — and are doing it with a good deal of nervousness and uneasiness.

It is the difficulty of steering a safe middle course that causes the hesitancy. On one hand, the studios have no desire whatever to issue films that could be construed as propaganda for the Soviets. On the other hand, their executives fear that if the picture displease radical groups in this country the theaters that exhibit them may get into trouble.

There is undoubtedly a tremendous amount of interest in this country in Russian affairs today. But the movie-makers are just experiencing what newspaper and magazine writers, dramatists and novelists have gone through already; the extreme difficulty of presenting the truth in an interesting manner without being accused of propagandizing for one side or the other.

EACH Westerner letterman and each of the two Lubbock High coaches will be wearing a gold football before long! Yep, they've got a lead pipe cinch on it because Lubbock football bugs have opened up their hearts and pledged the balls for a Lubbock victory over Amarillo on Turkey Day.

Of course, the boys have to thump the Sandies to get the fo tballs but that's only a formality if they don't get too cocky between now and then.

We've got a better club than Amarillo.

Westerner Head Coach Weldon Chapman told The Plainsman that he thought 22 pledges would be plenty but there were enough fans clammoring to get in on the deal that 24 balls have been secured.

There is a probability that 'Chap' may letter two more boys than he thinks he will now and it won't hurt to be fortified.

Personally, The Plainsman hopes there is one ball left over so it can be presented to M. H. Duncan, superintendent of schools, who during the past several years has done more for high school football in this district than all the rest of the superintendents put together.

BUT to stop worrying about details, here's the list of the fellows who have pledged balls in the Westerner campaign.

Homer Grant and John Dalrymple of the Panhandle Construction company; Jerry Jarett, of the Cinderella shop; Roy Furr, of the M-System grocery stores; Spencer Ashton Wells, of Hemphill-Wells company; R. J. Keller, of Carter-Houston company; Gust Kallas, of the Tech Cafe; Parker Prouty, business manager of the Avalanche and Journal; Ellsworth J. 'Jack' Parsons, of the J. C Penney company.

H. H. Shell, of the Shell Construction company; Durwood H. Bradley, district attorney; T. E. Crites, of the Mistletoe Creameries; Ray F. Hinchey, vice-president and general manager of the West Texas Gas company; the American Business club; Marlis D. Ratliff, of the Ratliff-Rogers Buick company; Dick Smith, of the Bell Ice Cream company; Dick White, of the Lubbock Poultry and Egg company, and The Plainsman, hired hand at the newspaper. All those in this list will buy a ball apiece, accounting for a total of 18 of the trinkets.

IN another list, all by his lonesome, is another fan who called The Plainsman with this proposition: "I want to buy a football for some Westerner gridster but I don't want anybody to know who I am except you. Can I do that?"

"You bet", cheered The Plainsman, "I'll mark you down as "the mysterious Mr. X"—and that's who he is. He makes Number 19.

The other five balls were secured through the patriotism of the men who work on the general staff and the operating staff of the South Plains Pipe Line company—many of whom used to live in Amarillo. If you remember — and you should — these pipe line boys were on the job last year, too, kicking in to furnish several of the mementoes the last time they were passed out.

Lead by the big boss of the pipe line company, Clarence Miner, who pledged five bucks, each of the following men tossed a dollar into the five ball pot:

H. E. Kimbell, J. M. Sickels, J. Cooley, Edward Rogers, J. P. Leach, E. E. Kral, Clinton Lackey, Walter Ford, R. H. Spikes, R. D. Watkins, V. H. Venable, Watson Spears, V. J. Jordan, G. H. Spears, T. S. Heath, Z. A. Kimbro, M. C. Bradley, H. O. Dalton, T. J. Sutherland, C. L. Hafer, R. E. Bird, M. Lackey, B. V. McBride, O. L. Ellis and Albert Kimbro.

ONE interesting thing is the number of football donors who formerly lived in Amarillo but who have moved to Lubbock, bringing with them their football support. These fellows, onetime Sandie rooters, are Westerner rooters now and they're 11 in number. Look 'em over:

Jerry Jarett, Parker Prouty, Clarence Miner, Roy Furr, J. M. Sickels, Walter Ford, V. H. Venable, T. S. Heath, C. L. Hafer, O. L. Ellis and Ray Hinchey.

Pretty good sports, they must be, in The Plainsman's opinion.

Dino Grandi Of Italy Will Serve As A Tomato Net For Mussolini When He Comes To America For Conferences

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy, when he comes here to talk things over, will serve as sort of a tomato net for Premier Benito Mussolini.

DUTCHER

Mussolini wanted to come to Washington. His embassy here broached the matter to the State Department. The department hemmed and hawed. The project lapsed. Secretary Stimson and his subordinates, it is learned, had reeled at the thought of guarding thousands of roofs and office windows as Benito rode through New York streets. The least that might be expected of anti-Fascisti, they were sure, was a bombardment of overripe tomatoes. Visions of New York Fascisti and anti Fascisti fighting and tossing each other from high rooftops strengthened the fear that Mussolini's entry might turn into a terrible international mess.

So here comes Grandi.

H. G. WELLS, at a tea given by the Overseas Writers, proved to be short, chunky, voluble, soft-spoken and very genial. He makes a noble effort to keep his large bald spot covered. He teamed here with his publisher, Nelson Doubleday, who is for all practical purposes about 11 feet tall. Egged on, Wells talked frankly and fully of international problems, but not for quotation.

"Remember," he said in parting, "I didn't say a thing against France."

Whereupon there was a great roar of laughter.

THERE was a dinner the other night for John Beard, the British labor leader. The committee, made up of people interested in labor problems, asked Senator Costigan of Colorado to preside. Everyone showed up in ordinary dress, having been told Beard was "that kind of a labor leader." Everyone, that is, except Senator Davis of Pennsylvania, former secretary of labor, who arrived in full dress.

Davis sat at the head table with three sheets of prepared speech. He said he had been asked to preside and had come all the way from Pennsylvania. Costigan got word to committee members that he was withdrawing in favor of Davis. They sent back assurance that he had been asked to preside and would be expected to do so. Costigan thereupon presided and the party was over before Senator Davis had a chance to make the speech. The misunderstanding has not yet been cleared.

FIRST diplomatic parties of the season indicate that the embassy liquor situation continues to tighten. Most diplomatic salaries have been cut and two legation staffs are paid in pounds sterling, which aren't worth as much as they were. Guests find the punch less satisfactory and the practice of serving hard liquor in secluded side rooms more prevalent. The best that can be said for most embassy punch is that it makes you sick if you drink enough of it. Party veterans always shun it and begin search at once for the side room and its highballs.

FASHIONS IN DRUGS

THERE ARE fashions in drugs just as there are in hats or automobiles or movie actresses. Oliver Wendell Holmes had a poem about a medical Rip Van Winkle. The old gentleman got very discouraged because the new doctors coming along said his day was passed. All the remedies and treatments he used were out of date. They were the ones who had the new things. So the old fellow wandered away like his namesake, the other Rip Van Winkle and slept for twenty years. When he woke up and began to inquire into how sick people were treated he expected to be even more old-fashioned than he was before. But lo and behold, he was right in the vanguard of progress; all the old remedies he used to use were acclaimed as of the greatest value and the very latest thing in medical science.

Dr. Clendening

Undoubtedly the most popular drug of our day is aspirin. It is used by people for colds, for headaches, for neuritis, to put them to sleep, and for I do not know how many other things.

It cannot be said that it fits the Rip Van Winkle theory exactly, because it never was popular before it was only produced about 30 years ago. It is derived from the salicylates which were familiar in the treatment of rheumatism. Chemically it is acetly-salicylic acid, or a sort of vinegar salicylate. The salicylates were used for rheumatism and especially to ease pain. Aspirin is primarily used for the same purpose.

It is an extremely safe drug. I say that with all knowledge of the warnings that are held out against its bad effects on the heart. These warnings arose, I am convinced, from peculiar experiences with certain peculiar individuals, who have an idiosyncrasy for aspirin. They are a small part of the population, but they undoubtedly exist and equally undoubtedly aspirin affects them very dangerously, even in the smallest doses. It gives them what looks like a heart attack—they turn blue, have difficulty in breathing, etc.

For most people, however, it is perfectly safe, and can be used in quite large doses without harm. The symptoms which warn you to stop are not heart symptoms, but ear symptoms—ringing in the ears, deafness, etc.

What will it do? I think it unquestionably is good for infections. It is, in my opinion, the best drug we have for the early stages of a cold. It certainly helps headaches and neuritis and pains of all sorts. Does it put you to sleep? No, I do not think it does. But then, if you take five grains of it, and think it will put you to sleep and you go to sleep, the effect is just the same as if it did.

Al Capone's bodyguard asked for mercy on the charge that he carried a loaded pistol into court during Al's trial. Maybe he just carried it as a plaything—a rattle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9—It is 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the northern border of Longacre Square.

And Longacre Square, if you don't happen to know, is that combination of two triangles just beyond Times Square.

At the northern tip, a concrete fencelet, about a foot or so high, marks the boundary. Beneath, the subway groans its grinding dirge. It is the song of the Manhattan underground! Damp air trickles through the grating on hot days and there is even the slightest suggestion of lost greenery about the edges.

But now it is unseasonably warm for late October, and this part of the nation's amusement capital is cluttered with derelicts. Just overhead, and slightly to the northward, the electric lady who swings from her trapeze through the night, is resting. The lights that create her and announce the name of a certain shaving cream become a formless mass of glass bulbs gathering the day's dust.

A huge sign moves out from the front of a movie theater, like some illumined wave that threatens to swallow everyone within reach. But it blinks on and off in a monotonously innocent fashion. Still, it seems about to leap from its corner. And, suddenly, one realizes that Broadway has its daylight bright lights as well as its night time display. Half the movie house marquees in the neighborhood are blinking ineffectually in the glaring sun.

This is the gay capital of the amusement world—and just after midday!

Women and girls, men and boys are rushing to get to the theaters! Taxis jam and shriek their whistles! The Palace Theater, which is a study in hectic comedy. Close to the curb stand a dozen or so of work actors, talking to each other, talking to sympathetic friends; talking . . . talking. In the lobby there is that just-before-the-show excitement.

But on the fencelet around Longacre Square there is another scene.

Packed in a bent triangle are men who do not even bother to sit. They just sit. One by one, two by two, they drift up. They pick a newspaper from the street. The paper was left by the last man who occupied his tiny space on the little abutment. If there is no paper, they walk casually past the big refuse can at the eastern corner, and frisk about until a newspaper is discovered.

Then they sit. The unseasonably warm sun beats down. At least, they are warm. The show world is all about. People have traveled across a nation to look at the signs and symbols that hem them. But these men of Longacre Square do not look up.

Two hundred eyes look only at the pavements and at the papers that are many hours old. Now and then one stops and talks to another.

These are not broken down showmen drawn by the magnet of a broken down showman would put on some sort of show. He would talk and bluff and pretend. These men have drifted in from Broadway's westerly side. Why they have picked this gay capital not even they know! They are there . . . And the world goes by!

LAMESA SKEPTIC WRITES ABOUT HOOP SNAKES

Dear Plainsman: Yes sir, you are absolutely right about the hoop snake, only the horn is on the end of the tail. The snake will grab onto something with its mouth and proceed to whip its victim with its tail, much as the old-fashioned game of "pop the whip" is played.

Another queer thing you have missed in your column is the Yoakum county sand storm. With my own eyes I have seen the sand so thick in the air that there were a couple of prairie dogs about ten feet up in the air digging for dear life. This happened on the old Tom Ivey ranch.

I have seen it so dry up there that one could hardly live. In fact, I have had to prime my horse before he could drink. While I was up there I formed the acquaintance of the original tough man. He used a prickley pear for a saddle, a rattlesnake for a quirt and drank carbolic acid instead of the usual "cake".

Oh yeah!

I. M. Skeptical.

P. S.: I will vouch for the truth of the statement about the joint snake. I kicked a joint snake one time and he came apart. Unfortunately, however, when he reassembled himself he got his head on the wrong end and drug himself to death.

I did the same thing to another one and when he came apart I threw one of the middle joints away and the head and tail wore themselves to death searching for the connection portion of their anatomy.

I. M. S.

(Dear Skep: Your letters are interesting to say the least. Have you ever heard the story about the traveling man who spent the night in the farmhouse? Regards, The Plainsman.)

HURRAH FOR POST!

Dear Plainsman: If those Scotch citizens of your fair town cannot willingly provide your high school squad with gold footballs, just count me in.

We are all pulling for those Westerners.

(Dear Herbert: That's the spirit! Look on Column 2, of this page, and you'll find that Lubbock fans came through in a big way for the Westerners but never-the-less I appreciate your interest and generosity. While it is no surprise to us that our friends in Post are pulling for the Westerners, we appreciate hearing about it anyway. Best regards, The Plainsman.)

DOCKET IS SET IN COURT

CRIMINAL TRIALS TO COME UP IN 99TH THIS WEEK

Criminal cases for the November term of 99th district court were set this morning by Judge Clark M. Mullican. Trial of the cases was deferred until Tuesday because of a hearing, pertinent to enforcement of a truck operators permit law, which began before Judge Mullican this morning.

Judge Homer L. Pharr opened the November term of 72nd district court here this morning. This is non-jury week in 72nd court.

No Cases Wednesday

As Wednesday is Armistice day, no cases were set by Judge Mullican for that day. Several cases were not docketed definitely. Those set for Tuesday were cases of C. E. Alexander, charged with incest; Brewster Dillard, theft exceeding $50, and G. J. McCleskey, burglary.

Thursday—Bill Burns, burglary; B. H. Jones, driving an automobile while intoxicated; Tom Garcia, chicken theft, and George Mayberry, a negro, prohibition law violation and perjury.

Friday—O. L. Sechrist, chicken theft; C. L. Dickson, arson, and M. A Scott, arson.

Cases of Dewitt Shelton, a negro facing a murder charge, Dawson P. Parker, charged with bigamy, and B. H. Dildey, alias A. B. Mallow, with perjury, were not set. Dawson's case possibly will be dismissed, it was indicated.

owner of the merchandise hauling his own property or to the occasional or casual haul. But it does apply to the man who makes his business on the highways."

Denies "Vested Right"

Mr. Hooper denied "vested right" for any one to do his business over highways. These avenues of travel were he stated, "for the ordinary activities of the public."

The law applies to a man who contracts to haul a commodity "between two incorporated towns." It does not apply where one town or community is not incorporated. However, should the road between a community and an incorporated town go through another incorporated place, the law would apply.

The legislature charged the commission with the regulation of "common carriers" of the state, he said. He pointed out that the rate structure was established by the commission protected the public and the common carriers, including trucks and railroads.

A large number of truck owners from this section and several bus men were present in the courtroom.

Mr. Jeffrey is represented by Lockhart, Garrard and Brown and by B. P. Maddox, of Tahoka. The sheriffs and county attorneys of Lynn and Lubbock counties, J. H. Edwards, truck and bus inspector for the railroad commission, Jack Reaves, highway patrolman and others, were represented by Mr. Hooper. G. H. Nelson, county attorney of Lynn county, and Vaughn Wilson, county attorney of Lubbock, and William Evans, his assistant, were in the courtroom.

ACCIDENTS

accident at his home two miles southwest of Beulah. An automobile which he had cranked while it was in gear carried him against a barbwire fence and his throat was cut from side to side and his right ear virtually cut off. As the automobile started forward, Luke attempted to leap aside but was caught on the radiator.

Attendants at Lubbock sanitarium, where Luke was received Sunday night, said he had suffered considerable loss of blood and that possibility of saving the ear was remote. He was expected to recover, they reported this morning. Luke's wife and small son took him to Littlefield, where he was placed in an ambulance which carried him to Lubbock.

O. B. Burgess of Amherst underwent amputation of the second finger on his left hand Sunday morning at West Texas hospital after the hand was lacerated severely in a gin accident at Amherst.

W. N. Nichols of Lubbock left Lubbock sanitarium this morning after his right hand, which had caught in machinery at a laundry here was treated. The hand was injured severely, attendants said.

M. C. Eakin of Moody was received at Lubbock sanitarium late this morning suffering from injuries received when an automobile in which he was riding was struck by a Santa Fe freight train at Ropesville. Extent of Eakin's injuries had not been determined early this afternoon.

A preliminary examination revealed broken limbs, bruises and lacerations, and possibly a fractured spine. He was to undergo x-ray photography this afternoon.

A companion of Eakin also was injured. The two men were taken to the sanitarium in a Rix ambulance. Attaches of the sanitarium indicated identity of the second man, not believed seriously hurt, had not been learned early this afternoon.

Santa Fe attaches here said the automobile was struck by a local freight train, of which J. H. Smith of Lubbock was engineer, en route from Lubbock to Seagraves.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9 (AP)—The cotton market here had an active but easier opening today. Liverpool was about as due considering the improvement in sterling and first trades here showed losses of ten to fourteen points, due to considerable pre-bureau liquidation and hedge selling. December dropped to 6.51, January to 6.57 and March to 6.75.

When these offerings were absorbed the market rallied 3 to 7 points from the lows on some covering. Prices in a measure were supported by favorable textile statistics for October, the figures showing an increase of 46.9 per cent in sales over production. The unfilled orders at the end of October showed an increase of 61.7 per cent.

The market was very active all morning. Prior to the issue of the government report prices had rallied 10 to 11 points from the early lows with December at 6.61, January 6.68 and March at 6.82.

After the report was given out giving an estimate of 16,930,000 bales with ginnings to November 1 of 12,129,544 running bales the market eased off 2 to 4 points.

Traders considered the estimates about what had been expected and prices soon rallied sharply on covering by shorts and trade buying due to the strength of stocks. By the time the demand was satisfied December traded up to 6.88, January to 6.95 and March to 7.10 up 21 to 32 points from the pre-bureau figures and 24 to 25 points above the previous close.

The market then eased off 15 to 16 points on profit-taking but near noon rallied again to 6.78 for December, 6.84 for January and 7.00 for March, to within ten to eleven points of the morning's high and 13 to 15 points above the previous close.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady today at a decline of 7 to 12 points on relatively easier Liverpool cables, southern selling and selling for New Orleans account. Trading was rather active and offerings were absorbed by covering and trade buying, with prices rallying 3 to 4 points during the first minutes of trading.

December which sold off to 6.53 under the initial pressure, rallied to 6.60, while March advanced from 6.72 to 6.82, and the general list was within 2 or 3 points of Saturday's closing quotations at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables said hedging had been taken by covering in that market and reported production of cotton yarn increasing.

The carded cloth statistics showing an increase of 4.5 per cent in stocks but also an increase of 51.7 per cent in unfilled orders made a favorable impression on sentiment, which probably helped sustain the market in advance of the government report. When the market closed to receive the crop figures, December was selling around 6.58 and March 6.78, or about 4 to 6 points net lower, and while the government crop indication of 16,903,000 bales was slightly above the average of recent expectations, offerings were readily absorbed when the market reopened. December, after some irregularity, sold up to 6.86 and March to 7.10, making net advances of about 20 to 26 points on the active positions on trade buying and covering. This bulge was not fully maintained as offerings increased slightly later in the morning, but the midday market was fairly steady and 10 to 13 points net higher. Ginnings prior to November 1st were reported to be 12,129,456 bales.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Refusal of rails to advance checked an early rally of 1 to 2 points in stocks today, although the advance in utilities and industrials was resumed after representative issues had sold moderately under the previous close on reaction.

Atchison dipped nearly 3 points while Union Pacific, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Northern Pacific were off 1 to 1 1-2. U. S. Steel, American Telephone, American Can and Consolidated Gas moved about a point on either side of Saturday's final quotations. Trading was active during the early advance, slackened on the setback and then picked up again when buying was renewed. Rails stiffened on the second upturn. Eastman and International Silver were strong, each rising about 3 points.

Call money renewed at 2 1-2 per cent.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 9 (AP)—All grains except rye tended downward early today. Rye scored a quick advance of one cent. Bears laid stress on Liverpool reports of heavy sales of Australian wheat to Europe and on prospects of drouth relief in United States winter wheat territory southwest. Rye strength was ascribed to possibilities that the market would catch fire in case of sudden large export purchases. Opening 3-4 to 2 cents lower, wheat afterward rallied somewhat. Corn started 3-4 to 1 1-8 off and subsequently held near the initial limits.

alternating biennial award to a Texas artist, musician or writer. If this recommendation passes, plans for the award will be detailed to the board of directors in the next regular meeting.

Jones To Talk

A pre-convention program is scheduled for this evening at 8 o'clock at First Methodist church. At that time Lubbock will extend an official welcome to the visitors with Mrs. William Dingus, general chairman of local arrangements presiding. Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo is to talk at this program on work confronting the next congress of the United States. This meeting and all other business sessions of the convention are open to the public. The convention proper will open at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at the First Methodist church, where all business sessions will be held.

There was a luncheon today for all registered delegates. There is to be a tea for the visitors this afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul W. Horn.

The board of directors of the Texas organization went into session at 9 o'clock this morning. Recommendations made at this meeting will be submitted to the general convention during the week.

By unanimous vote of those assembled today, Mrs. E. P. Turner of Dallas was nominated for life membership on the board of directors.

A recommendation was made by Dr. Annie Webb Blanton of Austin that the educational program of the organization be continued and that a committee from the Texas Federation of Women's clubs be appointed to confer with a state board on a proposed tax revision measure.

"The education of club members and the public concerning the problems of the state and the educational systems is the remedy for situations such as the present depression," Miss Blanton explained, in recommending that the club women of the state continue with an educational program.

Proposal Submitted

Looking to the Texas Centennial celebration in 1936, Texas club women may be asked to work out a unified program of highway beautification through the planting of shrubs and flowers. This proposal came through a recommendation from Mrs. J. L. Lovejoy of McKinney.

Another recommendation to be presented to the convention will be that Texas club women, in co-operation with others from the South-Central section of the United States, lend assistance and help in increasing the sale of cotton goods. This proposal came through Mrs. W. R. Potter of Bowie, director for Texas in the General Federation of Women's clubs.

Club women will have an opportunity this week to vote on a recommendation from Mrs. W. C. Martin of Dallas that the Texas Federation of Women's clubs help in the preservation of the smaller cooperative markeets and the preservation of cotton co-operative marketing in Texas, a measure, as it was explained in the board meeting, "in which many women of the state are vitally interested."

Greetings will be sent from the board of directors of the club meeting here to the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, assembling in San Antonio in annual session Tuesday, according to a vote this morning.

The following officers and department and committee chairmen, all members of the executive committee attended the meeting.

RAILWAY MAY ASK FOR MORNING INSTEAD OF A NIGHT TRAIN

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 7 (Special)—Officials of the Fort Worth and Denver South Plains have under consideration an application to the Railroad commission of Texas for authority to change its trains on the South Plains lines from night to morning trains.

This information was learned by citizens from J. D. Farrington, new general manager, and F. D. Daggett, general passenger agent. They were here on an inspection trip, it being Mr. Farrington's first visit since he took over the general managership under General John A. Hulen, vice-president. The officials sounded out citizens on a proposal to have trains leave Dimmitt and Plainview and Lubbock in the morning, to arrive in Fort Worth and Dallas late in the afternoon.

"It's news to me. This is the first I have heard of it," R. E. Stroup, agent in Lubbock, said when asked concerning a reported change in the train time for Lubbock. "Mr. Farrington did not mention anything about a change while he was here."

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinymites set out today to see if they could find a way to run into some real good fun that they all could enjoy. They sat together on the ground. Then Clowny heard a funny sound and, looking up into the air, he loudly cried, "Oh, boy!

"What is that, soaring up above? It's something funny and I'd love to get a real close look at it. I wish that it would land. It's making quite a whirring sound. Why doesn't it come down to the ground? Perhaps someone is in it, so I guess I'll wave my hand."

He did, and then he loudly cried, "I'm sure it is a man I've spied. Yes sir! He's waving down at us, for all that he is worth." Then Scouty jumped and said, "Hurray! Look, lads! He's coming down this way." And, sure enough, the thing that he was in slipped down to earth.

"Why, that's an autogyro, boys. Gee, but it makes a lot of noise. He's better shut his engine off, or he'll rise in the air." The whirring sound then promptly stopped and out a funny fellow hopped. He walked up to the Tinymites and cried aloud, "Ah, there!"

"Hello yourself," wee Coppy cried. "Say, would you give us all a ride? We'd love to soar around a bit, if we'd be safe and sound. Within an autogyro we have never had a ride you see. We're ready, every one of us, right now to leave the ground."

"All right, hop in," the man replied. "I'll gladly take you for a ride. All you need do is sit real still and let me run the ship." So, in they jumped and, my what fun! They shortly heard the engine run and then they drifted into air, off on another trip.

(Clowny does a daring thing in the next story.)

SANTA'S HAIR WHITENS UNDER TASK

LEAD SOLDIER, CHINA DOLL OF GENERATION AGO WON'T DO FOR MODERN YOUNGSTERS

BY JANE EADS

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)—Santa's hair is growing whiter and the wrinkles in his jovial brown deeper as he and his millions of workmen labor to make the cry of a baby doll, the growl of a teddy bear and the mechanics of a play train more realistic for this year's crop of Christmas children.

The little lead soldiers that marched to a make-believe war, the china doll and the wooden trains of a generation ago won't do. Modern youngsters want airplanes that fly, dolls that feel and look and talk like humans, electrically operated playthings and complicated, constructive toys that set the adult brain awhirl.

Science and pyschology have played a large part in the manufacture of modern toys. The results accomplished have been fascinating. Philip L. Kirkham, vice president of one of Manhattan's largest toy concerns, explained today.

Already eager children are gazing wide-eyed and wistfully at the toys on display. Johnny is thinking up his letter to Santa, wishing for a model roadster with balloon tires, the boy-sized sailboat, and electrically run boat. He wants an airplane in which he can sit and run the propeller and roll over the sidewalk as if he were flying.

Betty would adore the doll house in which she can walk about. The kitchen and bath are equipped with the latest in modern plumbing. She would love to give her smaller dollies a real shower in the beautiful new tile tubs with shower equipment. And Dolly's wardrobe will need replenishing. There are leather aviation togs, fur coasts, umbrellas, kid gloves, rubber overshoes, kid purses, lorgnettes and even eye glasses.

John Tiger, Clay county, N. C., farmer, harvested 18 tons of red clover from two cuttings on six acres.

THE BRUTE!

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Married three months and not one kiss from her husband! That's what Irene Trieble, 24, says in her divorce complaint filed against her husband, Eugene, 35. As if this were not enough, he likewise criticized her cooking and spent most of his time at home sleeping.

NEW LIFE STIRRING ROCKIES WITH QUESTS FOR GOLD PEOPLING CITIES

BY EDWARD F. NELSON

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 9 (AP)—Renewed life is stirring in the rockies. New quests for gold are peopling ghostly cities. The livestock industry is recovering and dairy and poultry price increases are encouraging the farmers who are contemplating aggregates in millions.

Production in sugar beet factories is reflecting exceptional autumn weather and laying the basis for increased activity all along the business line. Onion growers are expecting three to five times last year's prices.

Sheep Receipts Higher

Sheep receipts on the Denver market are two weeks ahead of last year with production costs down 20 per cent.

Oil drilling is stimulating population and business in northeast Colorado and bringing employment to idle hands. Wyoming farmers are looking forward to $5,000,000 from potatoes, beans and sugar beets. Montana is enjoying improved prices for corn, barley, turkeys, butterfat, eggs and hay and lower wheat yield is offset by high protein content worth a premium of 4 cents or more.

Cash distribution of $19,375,000 is forecast for the beet crop which pressed 21 of the factories of the great western sugar company to record production.

The new activity in gold mining is centered in Colorado and Montana. Fixed price for the precious metal, coupled with reduced mine operating expenses, has brought renewed life to such famous, but long neglected districts as Cripple Creek, Boulder, San Juan, Clear Creek and Gilpin counties.

Business Stimulated

The oil development in northeastern Colorado brought a brisk movement of business in that section including building of a new town. Influx of capital and labor in connection with the oil field activities stimulated business generally. Twenty five of the major oil companies have taken leases in this district and 10 to 15 new wells are being drilled at a cost of $100,000 each.

Department store trade showed seasonal increase in September which brought the volume to a little short of average.

Air transportation gained by leaps and bounds with extension of airmail routes. The Western Air Express reported for the first ten months an increase in business volume of 71 per cent over the same period last year. As a result of this, and the extensions of the Cheyenne-Pueblo air mail route to El Paso and Amarillo, Western Air during October spent $40,000 rehabilitating eight airplanes, and increased its space at the Denver municipal hanear.

Building operations in Denver include erection of a $5,000,000 courthouse and city hall, a large library at the University of Denver and a new theater costing $1,000,000.

Radio Singing Is Profitable To Her

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—The fact Kathryn Parsons, the girl o yesterday [illegible] WABC-CBS means more than one might think.

The other day she received a letter from a mid-western banker who had heard her singing over his radio set. He wanted to know if she was the same Kathryn Parons who had deposited a $200 Liberty bond in his institution back in 1918.

It's the same Kathryn all right. She had forgotten all about the bond.

The casualties during the past week were Penn, Massachusetts State, St. Mary's of Oakland, Cal., Kansas State, Utah Aggies, Depauw, Maryland, Ursinus, Stanford and Waynesburg.

Still out in front is Davis & Elkins college of Elkins, W. Va., which has tallied 299 points against none for the opposition in eight successive victories.

HE'S PARTICULAR

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—One Jacksonville drinker is particular who arrests him. He recently walked up to Patrolman Burley Smith, informed him that he was drunk, and expressed the desire to go to jail. Let's go, Smith said. No, said the manager, you won't do. I want Officer H. V. Branch to put me in jail. Branch had to make the arrest before the intoxicated one would go to jail.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

B. E. Needles Sold 38,000 Gallons Of Gasoline Last Month

What Would You Do?????

You can no longer buy cotton, wheat, corn, sugar, oats, hogs, and stocks on the all-time low prices possible only a few months ago.

It is too late, they are all advancing in price, everything is on the upward trend but the prices on Goodrich Tires have not advanced one cent.

Prices on rubber are advancing, and it is logical that the prices of Goodrich Tire will advance if rubber continues to climb upward in price.

We have purchased carloads of tires at the all-time low prices and during this November month the trade-in allowance will even be greater, allowing you more for your old tires than ever before.

Now don't you think it is more wiser to buy Goodrich Silvertowns now than before the prices on rubber climb upward until it is impossible to extend to you the lowest tire prices of all time on tires that are known to be 58 per cent better.
