TEMPLE POLICE CHIEF MURDERED

Father May Hang For Death Of Daughter

MOODY GIVES BACK QUESTIONED CASH

MONEY SENT HIM BY LEGISLATORS REFUSED BY DAN

BOTH SATTERWHITE AND BOBBITT GET REFUND ON CONTRIBUTIONS

(By the Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 20.—Attorney General Dan Moody has returned the contributions of Lee Satterwhite and L. Bobbitt, candidates for the state legislature, he stated in a statement attached to his expense account filed with Secretary of State Friday.

Moody's statement read that he was "credibly informed and believes that these contributions were merely transmitted through these persons and were in fact made by Marshall Hicks of San Antonio and A. B. Martin of Plainview."

In a sworn statement of expenses in his first gubernatorial campaign, Moody stated that he had received contributions of $250 each from Satterwhite, speaker of the house, and Bobbitt, member of the legislature, each of whom are candidates for reelection. The election laws prohibited the acceptance of contributions by one candidate from another.

Accounts Are Compared
Expense accounts for the run-off primary filed today showed Mr. Moody received $665 in contributions and disbursed $408; Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson expensed $103 and received $114 in contributions.

Texas County Plans To Profit From Oil

BEAUMONT, Texas, Aug. 20. (AP)—The palm of Jefferson county, Texas, is itching for the King Midas touch. This county is honeycombed with oil wells spouting oil liquid wealth at a great rate, since ancient Spindletop has been revived, but the county officials stand by with empty pockets.

So, the county commissioners have conceived the idea that perhaps they can lease a road for drilling purposes and thereby corral a few of the millions that are going elsewhere. The county commission deliberated on the question yesterday. A county road runs through the field, and it has been suggested that the county could either close the road or narrow it. A large number of producing wells are within a few feet of the road, and it is said if the county could find some legal way to lease the public highway it would gain millions in royalties. Some lawyers state it would be unconstitutional to do so.

A meeting of the federal district federation of labor unions has accepted in principle the foregoing proposal, but final action upon it will be taken at a subsequent meeting. The plan proposes that rent shall be deposited in banks periodically and be available to landlords when they repudiate the league boycott.

Plaintiff Wins In Cochran Co. Tax Suit

The State, plaintiff in a civil suit styled the State of Texas vs. J. H. Burrus, was awarded judgment in district court today when the case, transferred here from Cochran county, was heard before Judge Clark M. Mulligan. The case involves taxes assessed against defendant Burrus on certain property in Cochran county. The case was first tried October 24, 1925 before Judge Mulligan, when the plaintiff was awarded judgment, but this decision was set aside November 21, 1925 upon motion of the defendant. The judgment granted today covers the amount of taxes claimed by the state to be due, interest on deferred payments, and penalties. The defendant served notice of appeal. Calvin Henaley, county attorney of Cochran county, with G. E. Lockhart, of Lubbock, represented the state, and the defendant was represented by Rattiff and Burks of this city.

New Well Comes In North of Brownwood

BROWNWOOD, Texas, Aug. 20. (AP)—The A. F. Bowers well on the Carson tract seven and a half miles north of Brownwood, flowing by heads, one hundred barrels daily at 125 feet, in Brown county's newest wild cat producer. Yesterday more than one hundred thousand dollars was involved in lease transactions near the well, and all men are flocking here in large numbers. The Bowers well is about midway between Brownwood and the Lester-Fry production in the thirty field.

More Building In City Than Can Be Found In Permits

Building in the city of Lubbock, which, it must be admitted, has lagged a little this year in comparison to last, especially in the earlier part of the year, is now getting under way with a vim, and according to city officials, a closer check is being kept on the amount of improvement that is going on than has ever been done heretofore.

Grover C. Merrill, building and electrical inspector for the city, is devoting his full time to these phases of the city program, and there is very little of this nature of improvement that escapes his supervision.

Formerly there has been a great amount of building done by citizens of this city that does not show on the city's record. Mr. Merrill said, in commenting that had all of such work been reported, the city would have shown at least as much again building as was shown on the records last year.

He continued that the same amount will hold good this year, and considering the fact that strict enforcement of the building ordinance has been carried on since the first of July, this year also will probably show a great deal less than really was done.

Investigation Fruitful
When he took over enforcement of the ordinance, there was quite a dearth of violation, Mr. Merrill said. He began to check up on the situation, and found, by a survey of the city, that there were many buildings, many of them nearly finished, on which there had not been issued a permit.

Building here jumped last month over twice the amount the previous month, partly due to this cause, and partly due no doubt to the bright prospects for a bumper crop, but Mr. Merrill attributes the bulk of the increase to the first mentioned cause. The issuance of permits is step by step on the increase at the office of City Secretary F. W. Groce, and it is believed that the total from now until the first of next year will swell the year's total to well beyond last year's mark.

"Rent Strike" May Be Called By Mexicans

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 20. (AP)—The union workmen of the federal district are considering proclaiming a "rent strike" as a counter measure to the economic boycott of the Catholics. Workmen, if the strike is called, may refuse to pay house rent to landlords who are members of or support the league for the defense of religious liberty's boycott.

A meeting of the federal district federation of labor unions has accepted in principle the foregoing proposal, but final action upon it will be taken at a subsequent meeting. The plan proposes that rent shall be deposited in banks periodically and be available to landlords when they repudiate the league boycott.

Galveston C. C. Gets Praise From Capshaw

GALVESTON, Tex., Aug. 20. Rain Continues And Floods Sweep Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 20. (AP)—With the death toll in Ohio due to floods in the past few days standing at five and with thousands of acres of the state's finest corn land and a number of highways under water, rain was again forecast for today. Although a number of streams were reported receding last night, additional rainfall today was expected to send them to new high levels.

COURT CONVICTS WALLACE GAINES IN MURDER CASE

DEATH PENALTY GOES TO MAN IN SEATTLE; HE FILES APPEAL

(By the Associated Press)
SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 20.—Wallace Cloye Gaines, charged with slaying his daughter, Sylvia, faced the gallows today. He was convicted of first degree murder in superior court here last night, and the jury fixed the penalty at death by hanging.

As the verdict was returned the prisoner collapsed, but quickly regained his composure, leaving the court room under guard erect and indifferent.

Calls It "Body Blow"
"It sure was a body blow," was his only comment. Gaines' attorneys immediately presented motions for arrest of judgment and for a new trial.

The conviction of Gaines brought to a close a trial that has attracted more attention than any other criminal proceeding in the history of Seattle. The state's case against the defendant was circumstantial, being no eye-witness testimony.

Sylvia Howard Gaines, 22, pretty and a graduate of Smith College, Northampton, Mass., was killed the night of June 16. Her battered body was found the next morning on the shore of a lake about two miles from the Gaines' home.

State Contention Gravitates
The state contended that the girl was killed as the result of an attempt on her part to end an unnatural relationship with her father, and witnesses used to show that a clandestine relationship existed between them.

In circumstantial case the state produced a number of witnesses testified that they had seen "a man" several times in the vicinity of the slaying the night the girl was killed.

Gaines denied that he killed his daughter. He admitted that he quarreled frequently with her, but declared that the quarrels were caused entirely by her objections to his heavy drinking.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gaines, second wife of the defendant, also testified in behalf of her husband.

Catholic Episcopate In Mexico Is Opening New Campaign To End Long Struggle; Will Appeal To Congress

Saved 1000 Lives

(By the Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, Mex., Aug. 20.—The Catholic Episcopate began careful study today of the question whether it shall petition congress to amend the religious regulations which have caused a cessation of masses and other ceremonies in the Catholic church or whether it shall make an appeal to the supreme court to pass upon the question of the validity of the religious provisions of the constitution.

This step is being taken following receipt by Archbishop Mora del Rio of a letter from President Calles in answer to a request from the Episcopate for suspension of the regulations. The president informed the Archbishop that he proposed to uphold the constitution as it relates to churches and declined because of the offices, "political and philosophical convictions" to request congress to amend the fundamental law.

He Makes Suggestion
The president suggests that if the Episcopate desires any modification of the law that it may have recourse in any attempt to have congress change it or appeal to the supreme court for relief. He says that if the Episcopate should introduce an amendment bill in congress he will not use his presidential prerogative to have it withdrawn.

Bishop Diaz, secretary of the Episcopate, commenting upon President Calles' reply, said: "We must recognize that President Calles is frank in his reply to the Episcopate's letter, as he declares his philosophical and political opinion for bids him from transmitting our request to congress."

"In the second place he is granting us the right which the constitution denies clergymen, in admitting that we have the right to make a petition because the constitution denies us everything. In the third place, the President admits that we have not rebelled against the laws in ordering a suspension of religious services."

"His reply points out a way to settle the conflict."

May And December Marriage Stopped

PARIS, Missouri, Aug. 20. (AP)—Cupid's plans went awry here yesterday and an April and December wedding was indefinitely postponed.

Luther Sebastian, 26, of Shelburne, Mo., had won Mrs. Lucy Greenup, 22, after a whirlwind courtship that started last Saturday. The license had been secured, the minister summoned and the wedding guests were gathering when the prospective bride's mother and a son of the intended bride arrived. Sebastian was taken home by his mother while his 72 year old fiancée was lectured by her son on the trials of matrimony.

ASSAILANT GETS AWAY FOLLOWING FATAL SHOOTING

BELTON STREET SPRAYED WITH HAIL OF SHOT; NO OTHERS HURT

(By the Associated Press)
BELTON, Texas, Aug. 20.—Wilsey Fisher, chief of police of Temple, Texas, was shot and killed today as his wife stood at his side on the street. Fisher was preparing to enter his automobile in which were three orphaned children of Mrs. George Burtchell, killed in an automobile accident Tuesday.

The shots which killed Fisher were fired from an automatic shotgun in the hands of a man in an automobile who immediately left the scene in the car. Three shots were fired. Mrs. Fisher was not injured.

Was Attending Funerals
Fisher came to Belton to attend Mrs. Burtchell's funeral and had been carrying for the three Burtchell children. The shooting occurred in front of the funeral parlor.

The car in which the man fired the shots was last seen going toward Killeen.

Fisher was active in the recent campaign in which Albert Bonds, former sheriff of Bell county and John Eigham, sheriff were candidates for sheriff, and worked against Bonds. The former sheriff charged Fisher with criminal libel.

Believed In Nolanville
Deputies at the sheriff's office said that Sheriff Bigham had gone to Nolanville where Bonds has relatives in an effort to find Bonds. A man at Guffy's garage told officers that Bonds had stopped there after the time of the shooting and had the tank of his automobile filled with gasoline. The man said Bonds stood by the car holding a gun which was cocked.

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO BE? A COW IN A FIELD

The old copy-books put it this way. "There is no such word as 'can't.' It is at first you don't succeed, try, try again!" We chirped each morning after roll call among our other daily doses maxims in school. It took a smart little seamstress to walk me up and teach me my life's lesson. One day it happened that I was to "do a stunt" at an entertainment. I was only a girl and to get to work and make up a humorous speech, moreover to put it into rhyme as they suggested, was about the same as undertaking to rewrite Karna in Singapore. I flatly refused. Who did they think I was? It was bad enough to get up and face people without having to make up your own speech, and in poetry at that!

When I got home I started at the front door to blow off the accumulated steam of my wrath. I blew it off through the hall and up the stairs and into the sewing room where spring sewing was in process of consummation. I told the whole story to my mother and received what I was looking for, her sweet sympathy and the gentle assertion that "it was a shame." Suddenly the little seamstress who came twice each year to dress the family turned around from the machine and pulled her glasses down on her nose. "What you want to be?" she said tartly. "A cow in a field?" "Well, you can't even be a cow," I said. "If you don't know how?" "Bah!" said she, yanking up her glasses and turning her back again. Soon the old machine was roaring away. I went to my room and sat on the edge of the bed and thought, "A cow in a field? A cow in a field? I suppose she means just living and never trying." I put on my hat and went to see the chairman of the committee. I did it! I don't know how good it was, but I did it. To this day when some seemingly insurmountable thing seems large, I say to myself, "A cow in a field!" and I see the little seamstress at the sewing machine, her broad short back expressing eloquent disdain.

Baptist Class Behind Food Sale Saturday At Minter-Gamel

The "Daughters of Ruth" Sunday school class of the First Baptist church will conduct the food sale at Minter-Gamel dry goods store Saturday afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock. Each girl is requested to bring pies, cake, or candy by 1:45 o'clock. The money is to go to help pay for their piano, and if a girl cannot bring food she is asked to contribute a dollar.

Dainty Fad

Menus for the Family

BREAKFAST—Orange juice, cereal, thin cream, crisp broiled bacon, scrambled eggs, rye toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Creamed spinach with broiled tomatoes, graham bread, frozen fruit salad, toasted crackers, milk, tea.

DINNER—Broiled veal, scalloped potatoes and onion, buttered new beets, head lettuce with Russian dressing, tapioca cup, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

The dish suggested in the luncheon menu is most attractive. The spinach is served in its cream sauce, surrounded by a ring of broiled tomatoes. Hard-boiled eggs can be put through a ricer and sprinkled over the top of the spinach for an additional bit of color. It doesn't take a minute longer to make this appetizing combination dish than it does to "dish up" each vegetable separately and it actually saves a dish when time for dish-washing.

Frozen Fruit Salad
One package Neufchatel cheese, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 1/2 cup seeded white grapes, 1/2 cup shredded pineapple, 1/2 cup diced peaches, 1/2 cup heavy cream, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Work spinach with a fork until smooth. Slowly add mayonnaise, blending thoroughly. Whip cream until firm and beat in lemon juice and salt. Combine with first mixture. Skin and seed grapes before measuring. Pare and dice peaches. Add fruit to dressing and turn into a mold. Pack in four parts ice and 1 part salt and let stand three or four hours. Remove from mold and cut in slices. Serve on crisp and chilled lettuce.

Wrap a dish towel wrung out of very hot water around the mold and the frozen mixture will slip out easily. (Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

A WOMAN'S DAY ABROAD
BY ALLENE SUMNER

ROME, Italy, Aug. 20.—Having discussed with some poetic abandon such epical subjects as flower markets, perfume factories and the disintegration of brides at Monte Carlo, we will now return to my favorite theme: How much does it cost?

Nor am I altogether to blame for this crass bent. Each mail brings a letter containing this classic line: "And for heaven's sake tell us what it's costing! Can we possibly make it yet next year?"

One learns from bitter experience only. Travelers who had done Italy told us in Paris that we would find things "ever so much cheaper in Italy."

We learned, however, that these same travelers were bitterly paying their good 425 francs per day for room and breakfast wherever we, in the shadow of the bedizened Eiffel Tower, were spending something like 15 francs each—It was 45 cents then—for the same necessities.

Our advice to all young men and women who would "go east, young man, go west," is—stay in France and say nothing. For when you leave France you begin to spend money—oh, you'll be able to stand it—maybe two dollars for a room. But when one has been accustomed to spending 20 cents, the change comes with difficulty.

Nor does it wait for Italy! In Avignon, for instance, quaint little town on the rushing Rhone which you read about in your Cassius poetry, we paid 11.50 francs, however, that your paid hotel price in Europe is but the third of it dearie! This year the conventional ten per cent for service is twelve or fifteen everywhere, and the cute little government stamps costing this and that hit the bills on all four corners.

CONDITION—Strained, or tired eyes. DIAGNOSIS—This may come from working in insufficient or unaccustomed light. TREATMENT—An eyewash is excellent for cleansing and resting the eyes. Diluted boric acid is helpful occasionally, or merely plain water may be used. It is well not to do much for your eyes without consulting an oculist, since they are so very delicate. After a ride in the dust, always wash your eyes thoroughly, with the lids closed, and remove the dust from the eyelashes, and cleanse the eyeball with water or boric acid in an eyecup. For a cinder or any matter in the eye, an eyecup bath is also advised.

they marked the bags without opening. A dollar dinner in the restaurant, buffet, then on to Genoa, eight hours away.

One leaves leather bed comforts behind in France, also its garish striped wall paper and enters the land of garlanded colored porcelain wall bowls, fleas and biting flies, yellow wall paper, Roman tiled floors, and prices a third higher.

But naught to complain of—palatial rooms, three meals a day, for $2.50 each. On to the colosseum and forum!

Miss Pearl Warren Is Honored By Three Of Her Friends

Misses Lois Tubbs, Sylvia Wilson, and Mable McClendon entertained on Wednesday evening at the country home of Miss Wilson, honoring Miss Pearl Warren, who it is to be married Saturday to Mr. P. H. Nixon. The rooms were decorated with pretty cut flowers. The guests upon arriving were entertained with music rendered by Miss Willette Waters. Upon the arrival of the honoree rainbow ice cream and angel food cake was served. Following this the guests gathered around the table upon which was placed a unique "wishing well." On the walk leading to the well was a miniature bride and groom. In the well the bride-to-be found a little "love note" telling her that there was always happiness at the foot of the Rainbow and that she must search for it. By following the thread of happiness she found a beautiful rainbow at the foot of which was a basket filled with lovely gifts. The gifts were opened and admired.

The guests who registered in the bride's book include the following: Misses Leah F. Moore, Ann C. Dyess, Allice Herndon, Phyllis G. Burleson, Sylvia Johnson, Pearl Hensley, Sue Bryan, Almada Murray, Edna Tweedle, Glenns Honey, Willette Waters, Paist Caudle of Hale Center, Carrie Little, Mary Scott, Janis Little, Vera Wilson, Mesdames S. Queen Marie, Rumaia, Is Enroute To America

(By the Associated Press) PARIS, Aug. 20.—The people of the United States soon are to see one of the most handsome and astute members of European royalty Queen Marie of Rumania.

At the end of next month the queen will leave for New York. It is her hope to visit each of the 48 states of the union and probably the chief cities of Canada. She will not adopt an incognito, but will travel as a queen. Therefore, she will be unable to visit the homes of citizens as a formal guest and will put up at hotels except when in Washington, where she probably will lodge at the Romanian legation.

She desires to travel through the United States as much as possible by automobile so that she may obtain an intimate view of American life.

Kiwanians Have Big Time At Melon Feed

Determined to make the most of their out-of-doors meeting, Lubbock Kiwanians, their wives, if the individuals and their other friends, were entertained Thursday evening with the regular weekly meeting held at 7 o'clock in the county park, where about 150 people and forty ice-cold watermelons had a couple of bouts, to the utter destruction of the melons.

Kiwanis President Garland Woodward made announcements for the meeting, after which Jim Haxey in charge of the program of the evening turned his part of the program over to the orchestra of the Brunk's Comedians, here this week, and which was later voted the official band of the Kiwanians. Mrs. Speer addressed the club briefly on prison reform, and Dr. J. O. Granbury and Rev. W. A. Bowen spoke as long as Woodward would let them. The next meeting of the club, Thursday, August 26, will be held in the Coffee Shop of the Hotel Lubbock.

Mrs. Friend Hostess To Auction Forty-Two Club

The Auction Forty-Two club was entertained at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2665 Broadway, last Wednesday evening. Garden flowers of nasturtiums and ginnias were used in profusion to decorate the rooms. Guests and members for the evening were Mesdames, and Mesdames Bass Arnett, W. H. Bledsoe, W. O. Stevens, J. T. Hutchinson, Gus Ford, Olin Brashear, Roger Pierce, Fred Standefer, Mesdames A. B. Conley, Parsons, Hoover, of Sherman, Okla., who were served refreshments consisting of stuffed tomatoes, pickled beets, potato chips, olives, hot rolls, lead tea at the close of the evening entertainment.

CARDS PRESSING LEADERS AS HOT SUN BEATS DOWN

METZLER FROM SPUDS HITS 3 SAFETIES FOR CONNIE MACK

The St. Louis Cardinals today were only four points behind the Pirates, leading the National League.

Fourteen safe punches gave the Cardinals a six to two conquest over Brooklyn yesterday. It was a special six to one victory over the Dodgers in seven starts. With his eight hit pitching he threw in a double and single.

Pirates Break Even

Pittsburgh could do no better than gain an even break with Philadelphia losing the first, 3 to 1, and taking the second, 4 to 6. A home run by Nixon in the tenth inning of the opening contest downed the Pirates. Yde granted only four hits in the shut out.

Chicago returned to power in the struggle for fourth position by turning back the Giants, 2 to 1, on four safeties. Blake permitted no blows but they caused little damage.

The Boston Red Sox recorded their sixth victory, beating Chicago, 1 to 0 when Hummelstedt erred in the seventh after Jacobson's double.

The Philadelphia Athletics went into a tie with Cleveland for second place in the American League when Gray and Willis gave Detroit a home run and three singles. The score was 3 to 1, and Frank O'Rourke, seldom classed as a slugger, was the man who made the circuit blow. Metzler, who has replaced the suspended Al Simmons in the Mack outfield, produced three hits, all singles.

He Retains Title

TIGER FLOWERS

Tiger Flowers, negro middleweight champion of the world, who, for the second time, defeated the former champion, Harry Greb, of Pittsburgh, Flowers, the title that he would give Greb a opportunity to win it back.

Billy Evans Says

Failure of Macks

The failure of the Philadelphia Athletics this year has been one of the surprises and disappointments of the American League.

Probably no one feels worse about it than Manager Connie Mack unless it is the players themselves.

"For one, though, the Athletics would be the strongest sort of a pennant contender from start to finish. The club, the previous season, had shown so much power at the bat that it looked like the most dangerous team in the league.

It was a known fact that the infield had a tendency to be erratic at times, but the impression seemed to be that power at the bat and pitching strength would overcome any infield faults that might crop out.

This has not proved to be so.

Had Right Dope

Early in the spring when the Athletics were floundering about in the second division while baseball fans gasped at the very idea, I discussed the situation with one of the best pitchers in the American League.

"I am afraid the Athletics are going to find the road to the pennant much tougher than the experts have predicted," he said. When I asked him for an explanation, he replied:

"I look for the team to be considerably shy on batting power in comparison with last season. In other words, I am of the opinion that four or five of the players batted above normal last year, say anywhere from 25 to 50 points.

"These young players have set a very high standard on which they will be judged. If they fail to maintain their 1925 pace at the bat, criticism is sure to follow.

"I think it might have been better for the club's chances this year had not some of the youngsters performed so seasonally last season."

Mack Shifts Players

Personally, I couldn't get the pitcher's viewpoint at the time, I didn't agree with his dope. However, a comparison of the 1925-26 averages rather bear out the contention made early this spring.

While the pitching on the whole has been good, some of the star members of the staff have not been able to win consistently. True, the breaks have gone against the A's, but they usually go that way with a losing club.

Certain weaknesses have cropped out at various times in both the infield and outfield, due either to injuries or slumps in play. These conditions have necessitated shifts in the lineup which ordinarily are not helpful.

As a rule, pennant-winning ball clubs in the majors go through the season with but few shifts. In all probability, no club has made more changes in line than the Athletics unless it has been the St. Louis Red Sox.

Yanks and Indians

Incidentally several other clubs in the American League have disappointed either because of the collapse of veteran stars, injuries or other causes known to the general public.

Did not the Yankees show strength at some of the experts conceded the club in the spring, the American League race would have been a hectic one this year.

Several clubs, New York and Cleveland exceeding expectations, Chicago probably just a trifle below normal, the rest of the clubs have disappointed.

The conditions have made for an average race that would have been a really hot one from the start had the Yankees been held in check to date that has been impossible.

Tiger Flowers, Negro Middle King, Gets Newspaper Decision After 15 Round Battle With Ex-Champ Greb

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Tiger Flowers, Atlanta negro, remains middleweight boxing champion of the world, after a sensational 15 round struggle with the man from whom he took the crown, Harry Greb of Pittsburgh.

Flowers made good his defense in Madison Square Garden last night before 15,000 persons but did not receive the unanimous vote of the officials. Referee Jimmy Crowley favored Greb.

Greb Looks Better

In far better condition than he was when he lost the crown, in the same ring, Greb was credited by newspapermen with capturing six of the fifteen rounds while eight went to Flowers.

and one was even. A smashing offensive which had the negro in trouble in the last two rounds, probably drew the vote of the referee.

Flowers carried the attack to his opponent from the start, but Greb countered with stiff blows to the head and several times pushed the champion to the ropes. Both men went to the floor during the fight after wrestling about.

Greb Bleeds

Cuts were opened over Greb's eyes. His body was a target for the champion's straight shots.

The challenger's last minute rush was the old "windmill" attack without the cutting drive it was wont to carry.

HUBBER CREW TO DEFEND HONORS AT DENVER MEET

BULK OF NEEDED FUNDS RAISED BY FANS FOR WESTERN JAUNT

The Lubbock Hubbers will go to Denver the latter part of this month to defend their first place honors won three last year, amid such a storm of publicity, and they will be in the fight from beginning to end.

The fans of Lubbock finally "kicked in" with the bulk of the amount necessary for the trip, it is revealed in a report of I. F. Holland, secretary of the Amateur Baseball Association here, who is custodian of the funds. Several committees took over the responsibility of raising the fund following a mass meeting held Wednesday, these committees made a thorough canvass of the city, and Thursday night had reported $2500 collected during the two days.

Over $2500 Collected

The amount now in the hands of Mr. Holland totals approximately $569 in addition to the little more than $600 pledged by the Board of City Development "if the Hubbers go to Denver."

The boys are now participating in the tournament at Amarillo without any salary at all, and on half expenses—certainly cheap, enough, service—and are winning. The Hubbers are hoped to go into the final round at least, and are recognized as favorites in the tourney, despite the feeling of apparent resentment held by some towns regarding the class of baseball they must produce to win over the club.

The tournament at Amarillo will close Sunday with a double header. Three teams will emerge from Saturday afternoon's double header to contest for final honors Sunday, and reports from Amarillo have it that the Hubbers are favored to be among these.

Denver Meet Opens Aug. 27

The Denver tournament will open Friday, August 27. Some of the personnel of the Hubbers machine will probably go on to Denver from Amarillo, but the most of the boys will return here, and will be taken to Denver by automobile, several interested fans already having offered their ability as chauffeurs and their machines for the purpose. Others, however, will be gladly accepted, for not less than fifteen men will be taken along, necessitating at least four average sized cars.

Just who will be added to the playing roster for the Denver tournament is not yet known here pending the return of the club from Amarillo, but the team will be bolstered all possible as far as is consistent with available funds. Fans, however, feel content to leave this entirely in the hands of Skipper Allen, knowing that in this means, the best club possible will be produced. The veteran Skipper, battle scarred from many diamond encounters, has already assembled a crew of ball chasers who are the dread of all contestants, and he will offer even stronger competition at Denver than was shown at Amarillo.

AMATEUR TITLE TO BE DECIDED BY 175 TEAMS

(Special to the Journal)

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 20.—By winning from North Texas and East Central Texas, respectively, last week West Texas and South Texas are ahead in the race to determine which section of the state has the best chance for an unopposed title fall, according to an announcement by the Southland Life Insurance Co. today. Both sections are undefeated, North and East Central Texas having dropped two contests apiece.

Since life insurance is considered an extremely reliable barometer of prosperity, the Southland Life Insurance Co. has undertaken to ascertain conditions in the state, offering trips to the world's series as prizes for production by agents and a cup to the section showing the greatest prosperity with the largest production of applications for life insurance. The contest has two more weeks to run.

One of the first agents for the Southland Life Insurance to qualify in the contest is one of Nell H. Wright's men at Canyon. Contrary to reports received here today that Mr. Wright had qualified, he told a Journal representative this morning that as yet he had not qualified for either of the three prizes offered. The prizes are based on three separate counts; namely, the highest percentage of exceeding the business record for August of last year; the greatest number of applications signed up; and third, the greatest number of home-ruins, consisting of four bases of policies at $1,000 each. The Canyon agent qualified by selling a home-ruin policy of $4,000.

HUBBERS LOSE TO BIG LAKE IN AMARILLO MEET

STORMY TENTH INNING WITH QUATTLEBAUM UP IS TOO MUCH

The Lubbock Hubbers have met their first defeat at the Amarillo tournament, but are still in the running for Texas amateur baseball championship. The trial was handed Thursday at Metropolitan park at Amarillo by the bey of T. C. U. diamond artists playing under the colors of Big Lake, but it took ten innings to do it. The final count was 8 to 6.

Quattlebaum husky southpaw, who has been delegated to the mound by Skipper Ed Allen, had a stormy session when he took up mound work in the tenth with the score tied. He walked two men, then hit another to fill the bases, and B. Williams, short fielder for Big Lake poked out a double scoring two men to take an edge on the counting that the Hubbers could not master.

Cook, recent Hubber annexation, assumed charge of the mound for the Hubbers at the opening of the contest, but was benched at the end of the inning after Big Lake had scored two runs. Hale, diminutive right hander was sent in by Skipper Allen, and he was touched for two runs in the third, but the Hubbers knotted the count in their part of the second and third, with two runs in each session.

From here the contest settled. Big Lake counting one in each the fifth and sixth, and the Hubbers came back in the sixth for two more to again tie up the count. In the seventh, eighth and ninth, both went scoreless, and in the tenth Quattlebaum was sent in for the Hubbers, and Big Lake counted two more "that shouldn't have been."

Today's schedule will eliminate either Canyon or Amarillo. These two meet this afternoon, and each team has lost one game. A double header Saturday will eliminate one more team, leaving three in the running for the double bill Sunday, but the exact schedule for the last two days has not been learned here.

In the meantime, the fans of Lubbock have been "digging in" for the necessary funds with which to send the Hubbers on to the Denver tournament, and according to reports today, this fund is just about in the hands of the various committees that have been working the past two days. Other subscriptions, however, will be accepted by the committee in charge.

Score by Innings:

Big Lake	202	011	000	2-3	10 2
Lubbock	022	002	000	0-4	7 0

Cannon, Hill and Payne; Cook, Hale, Quattlebaum and Allen.

DIAMOND DISPUTES ECIDED

By BILLY EVANS

Pitcher in act of delivering ball to batsman accidentally drops it to the ground. What is the ruling?

If there are runners on the bases at the time the dropping of the ball by the pitcher is construed as a balk.

In such a situation the ball becomes dead and all baserunners are entitled to advance one base.

If there are no runners on at the time, no penalty is imposed if the pitcher drops the ball to the ground while in the act of delivering it to the batsman. It is merely treated as an accident.

Both major leagues are now a unit in this interpretation.

Date Set For Rotary Ball Game At Slaton

Friday, September 10 has been selected as the date for the annual baseball game to be played between the Lubbock and Slaton teams, Claude Miller, Slaton Rotary Secretary, advised the Journal today. The members of the Lubbock team, together with rosters from the club here, will journey to Slaton, attend the regular weekly luncheon, and the game will follow in the afternoon, Mr. Miller said.

The tilt at Slaton will be the second annual diamond conflict between the two teams, the Slaton aggregation having lost to Lubbock here last year by a 15 to 2 count. The Lubbock team, champions of the civic club league of this county, will probably have the same lineup which defeated the Kiwanis club here a few weeks ago.

Things Worth Knowing In Sport

Urban "Red" Faber has been hurling for the Chicago White Sox since 1914. That makes 13 seasons in the big show. During that time Faber has hung up a great record.

In only one season has "Red" dropped below the 400 mark. That was in 1924 when he won but nine games, losing 31. In 1924, his debut year, he copped eight while dropping a like number.

Four times Faber has passed the 20-game mark in victories. He had his best year in 1915 when he won 24, losing 13. In 1917 and 1918 he allowed but 1.93 and 1.22 earned runs per game respectively.

AN OPEN LETTER

Lubbock, Texas,
August 20, 1926.
Directors of the Board of City Development,
A. B. Davis, Manager,
Gentlemen:
Since Lubbock is soon to open a new half million dollar hotel and considering that that hotel will be visited by hundreds of people daily, do you not think it advisable that some plan be placed into effect to put before these visitors a few of the salient facts concerning Lubbock and its territory?

The Journal believes that here is an opportunity of boosting Lubbock and giving constructive information to a large and ever changing group of people. What do you think of the idea?

"MA" AGAIN

When Ma offered her resignation let with Dan Moody she thought she had a cinch. Then when she announced she would withdraw from the second primary, she thought that would help her in the election. But she had lost. Then Jim thought he saw a chance to keep Dan Moody's name off the ballot and thwart the will of three-fourths of the voters of the state. So he changed Ma's mind again. But this latest Ferguson trick failed before the state executive committee, and it will fall more ignominiously before the voters in the second primary.—Gainesville Register.

BENITO THE OMNIPOTENT

Italy is winning its way back, and most of the credit goes to Benito Mussolini.
Say what you will about Fascism, omnipotent dictatorship, suppression of free speech. Have any theories you wish about Mussolini's system. It might not work in any other country, under any other conditions or under any other control. But it does work in Italy.
Deposits in the postal savings banks of Italy increased 104,000,000 lire in one month. In terms of dimes and dollars, that means a gain of about $246,000 in the postal savings banks, with probably an equal amount in other banks.
Unemployment declined by more than 14,000 within a month and now there are fewer than 80,000 idle workers in the country. Labor and economy have swept Italy like an epidemic, propagated by the Prime Minister, Secretary of State, Minister of War, Minister of Foreign Affairs, Minister of Marine, Minister of Aeronautics and Minister of Corporations—all of whom are Mussolini.

Sometimes, of course, Benito makes himself ridiculous by meddling and manifesto, as when he "settled" the Noble-Ellsworth quarrel about who summoned the Norge on its flight across the pole.
"I want to say in a voice of thunder that you were responsible for this glory," he shouted as he recently kiassed Noble before the populace. "In vain did others try to steal that glory.
You, with other Italians, wisely guided that ship to the end of its extraordinary voyage."
Being Minister of Aeronautics, Benito probably thinks he knows what he's talking about.

RICHES

Whether you're wealthy, or whether you're not, is not just a question of how much you've got.
That angle to riches is all tommy-rot. Let's throw the thing out and just see if it's not.
The man who is poor, though quite happy at heart, 'cause living through life he is doing his part, can always, at worst, breathe the free open air, and say to the world, "By golly, I'm fair."
He holds his head high, since his conscience is clear. There's nothing on earth that he ever need fear. His bread and his butter may come rather tight, but at least, when he gets them, it isn't on bluff.
Then, turn to the man who has money galore, so much that the one thing he craves for, it more!
He views all the world with a sort of a doubt, 'cause money is something to worry about.
If you have enough to go lightly along, and keep on the right road, and off of the wrong, you needn't much worry. Turn cheerfulness loose, 'cause say, after all, you're as rich as the deuce.

IN NEW YORK
SEE-SAWING
and BROADWAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Out there the west begins to get next to the tourist possibilities they have a summer sport known as "dude wrangling."
It consists of gathering groups of
"dudes" from points east, herding them on a "dude ranch," dressing them in Stetsons and cowboy attire and, for a liberal fee, giving them a taste of "western life."
The Broadway variation on this pastime is "yoked steering."
It is sort of a return favor to those living west of the Hudson.
It consists of gathering groups of "yokels" from points west, herding them on the gay white way, dressing them in night club attire and, for a liberal fee, giving them a taste of "Broadway life."
The "steerers" are, for the most part, wise and attractive gals who have achieved 13rd degree membership in Broadway.
They are ex-hostesses and chorines put at liberty by the fact that so many night clubs close their doors when the hot nights arrive.
But well do they know that tourists from everywhere are hitting town and their eye is particularly cast for the buyers from way points for the fall and winter season.
They have "tie-ups" with various resorts under which they receive a good percentage of the money spent.
Some of them use professional models, giving a fee for an introduction to a "butter and egg" prospect. The model meets the easy-money-man in pursuit of her daily duties. The buyer wants to "have a party." The model agrees to help him. She "knows a girl who knows Broadway." And she gets hold of the "steerer." A day or so after she is rewarded with a check.
Sometimes the "steerers"—particularly those who have been night club chorines—manage to get model jobs and thus make an even fatter profit.
Each "wrangler" has a particular supper club to which she "steers" her prey.
The pretty maid assures the "visiting fireman" that he must be prepared to "do a little spending" and, wishing to be a "wise guy," the victim winks knowingly.

WASHINGTON

WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS MEN HAVE FOLLOWED CAMP-BELL'S FOOTSTEPS

By CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—W. R.
Campbell has been official guide at the State, War and Navy building under 16 secretaries of state, 14 secretaries of war and 11 secretaries of the navy.
It would have been 13 secretaries of the navy, only the Navy Department was crowded out. Into another building, during the World War, and never managed to get back in again.
Today, in reality, it's the State and War building, and, at that, it houses but a small fraction of the War Department.
Campbell doesn't recall in just what year he did his first guiding, but "Grover Cleveland was President.

Thomas F. Bayard was secretary of state, William C. Endicott was secretary of war and William C. Whitney was secretary of the navy," he says, which makes about 40 years of it.
"I was in the naval construction bureau for 18 or 20 years," relates the veteran citizen, "but my health broke down and I needed lighter work.
"Young Captain Poole was a superintendent of the State, War and Navy building," he said, "to try guiding people ever since, except during the World War, when the building was closed to visitors.
"You'd be surprised—the people I have guided. The greatest men and women of America and Europe—yes, and Asia and Africa, and many an odd corner of the earth—I've shown about this building."
"It's rich in historical associations, you know," he continued. "Look, when Jefferson Davis was secretary of war that clock stood on his mantelpiece.
"That flag draped Lincoln's coffin when he was buried at Springfield.
"That one, over there, floated over haunted down when he left Germany."

QUEER QUIRKS
of NATURE

He can fly hundreds of miles.
By AUSTIN H. CLARK
Smithsonian Institution.

Almost the whole world over you will see this pretty little butterfly, for the only places where it is not found are the polar regions.
It is the most common butterfly in Egypt, where it flies throughout the year. It is abundant elsewhere in north Africa, in South Africa and in the higher parts of India.
Two years ago it was the most common butterfly in New England, but since then it has almost completely vanished.
This is a shy and nervous butterfly with a rapid dashing flight. Dry, open places, especially dusty roadsides and hot and sandy regions, are its favorite haunts. It is very fond of flowers, especially thistle flowers and sweet white flowers like those of the button-bush and privet.

Decaying fruit has an irresistible attraction for this butterfly, and after prolonged indulgence in an orchard it sometimes becomes sadly intoxicated.
When disturbed, this butterfly commonly circles irregularly about and returns to the place from which it started. But, unusually strong upon the wing, it is capable of flying for enormous distances. It has been found at sea 600 miles from land, and in 1879 immense swarms appeared in Europe, coming across the Mediterranean from north Africa.
No matter how common it may be we have nothing to fear from it, as its caterpillars feed almost entirely on thistles. They are sometimes found on hollyhocks and occasionally on other plants, mostly obnoxious weeds; but the thistles are especially their favorites.

Helpful Health Hints

HAY FEVER AND ASTHMA CAN BE CURED

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

It is sometimes possible to desensiti-zate persons to the hay fever pollen.
This desensitization usually should be begun 15 or 16 weeks before the time when the symptoms begin, and end about a week before.
In an extensive experiment, it was found that one-fourth of the patients thus treated remained free from hay fever symptoms, one-fifth practically free, one-third had only about 25 per cent as much trouble as previously, and another one-fourth had not more than one-half as much trouble as previously.

Inject Pollens.

Another method is to begin the desensitizing before the usual time of onset of the symptoms and to carry the process right through the hay fever season. A third method consists of four or five injections of small amounts of the extract after the hay fever has set in. The latter method is not especially approved, since it injects pollens into the system of a patient who is already suffering from pollen.

In the treatment, about three drops of a dilution of the extract, so weak that it will not cause a reaction of the skin, is injected under the skin of the upper arm. At least five days later, preferably seven, another injection is given, the amount of material being increased gradually from week to week so that the patient feels no ill effects from the treatment, except a slight local swelling.

No Ill Effects.
By this gradual increase the person develops in his body a tolerance to the pollen and a resistance against it, so that by the end of the treatment, if it is successful, he does not feel any ill effects from breathing the pollen in the air. Treatment during the symptoms, as has been said, is not as successful as that given before the time when the symptoms come on.
It has been found that many persons are sensitive not only to the pollen of plants, but react with symptoms of asthma to the action of protein substances from various foods.
In such instances, the physician also makes a skin test of the patient to determine his sensitivity to food substances and the patient will gain much relief by avoiding those foods in his diet after the exact substance has been determined.

CO-OPERATIVE DEVELOPMENT

There's a big idea behind the movement to give publicity to the wheat and cotton belt of the South Plains of Texas. It is not new in its application, but is new in this section.
One community in the section in which the organization is to be perfected cannot grow without benefitting in some manner the other communities.
There is room in all of them for great development and expansion.
Someone has advanced this mistaken idea: Why this section is known everywhere. It is not necessary for us to advertise it.
That is wrong, dead wrong.
Newark, N. J., has been a potential seaport for years. No one recognized it. The Port of Newark is becoming known through efforts of the citizens to advertise it. In many of the national magazines the Port of Newark is being advertised. Factory sites are being announced. All is over the signature of the Mayor of Newark.

And Newark is developing and growing by leaps and bounds. One of the largest mail order establishments has put in a large warehouse and shipping depot at Newark. It is such a business as any Atlantic port would like to have. Newark is coming into its own through its own efforts.
Who does not know of the Imperial Valley of California? The Imperial has something in recent years of our own Magic Valley on the Rio Grande?
A highly concentrated advertising campaign can be undertaken co-operately which the resources of the respective communities individually could not possibly justify.
This plan is worthy of the thoughtful consideration of all citizens in the territory affected—eight counties of the South Plains—Plainview Herald.

THE VANITY CASE

BY CAROLYN WELLS COPYRIGHT 1925 N.E.A.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MRS. PRENTISS sees lights mysteriously appear and disappear in the HEATH household next door one night, and the next day Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is agog with the murder of MYRA HEATH and the disappearance of her husband, PERRY.

House guests of the Heaths are LAWRENCE INMAN, heir to Myra's fortune, and BUNNY MOORE, vivacious, golden-haired, to whom suspicion points because of her refusal to answer questions.

Myra Heath was peculiar. She never used cosmetics, never wore colors. She had a mania for collecting glass, and it was a rare old whisky bottle from her collection that the murderers used to kill her. Candles were burning at her head and feet and nearby was a card marked, "The Work of Perry Heath." Strange of all, she was heavily made up with rouge.

The peculiar thing about Heath's disappearance is that all the windows and doors had been locked on the inside the night before and were found that way in the morning. Finger prints of Bunny Moore and Inman were found on the bottle.

At the Country Club, the murder is discussed by SAM ANDERSON, Heath's rival for the club presidency; AL CUNNINGHAM, who is trying to solve the crime, and others. Some believe Heath the murderer. Anderson disagrees. TODHUNTER BUCK, nephew of Mrs. Prentiss and in love with Bunny, suggests to Cunningham that Heath also may have been murdered.

EMMA, a waitress in the Heath home, tells of seeing Bunny ascend the stairs about the time of the murder, carrying her vanity case. Later Bunny is amazed to get a phone call from Perry Heath advising her to keep silent.

Detective Mott puts Bunny under a grilling, accuses her of the crime and she faints.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVI

Todhunter Buck sprung to catch her, his own lips white and quivering with fury.

"How dare you!" he cried, "no police authority gives you a right to frighten a young lady like that!"

"Don't show contempt for the law, or interfere with its processes, Mr. Buck," Mott said, sternly, in no wise deterred by Tod's outburst.

It was at this moment that Al Cunningham arrived. He looked curiously at the little group.

Bunny, whose fairness had been merely momentary was clinging to Buck's arm, her face drawn with fear and terror, her whole frame trembling with nervous excitement.

Inman was apparently dazed—his hands moved twitchingly and he was looking wildly about, but was seemingly unable to speak.

Mott was stern, implacable, like an avenging instrument of the law, and Todhunter Buck was trying to control himself, and master the situation.

Seeing a good chance, as Cunningham's entrance made a slight diversion, Buck whispered to Bunny, "Come on!" and without further ceremony, he led her swiftly through one of the open French windows, across the terrace, and over across the lawns to his aunt's house.

"My dear child!" said that good lady, as she took the distressed girl in her arms, "what have they been doing to you?"

"They've been persecuting her, Aunt Emily," the nephew declared hotly. "That man Mott is a brute! A beast! I wouldn't have minded if he had asked Bunny questions if he had been courteous about it. I wouldn't have minded even his accusations, if he had shown a decent consideration for her. But he banged his talk like a sledge-hammer and he glowered at the poor little thing like a demon of wrath—oh, he was horrible!"

By reason of Toddy's valiant indignation and Mrs. Prentiss' cooling endearments, Bunny began to revive her drooping spirits, and recover her color.

"You are both so good to me!" she exclaimed, "it sort of makes up for that awful man's treatment of me. How could he say I would—do that to Myra! Oh, Mrs. Prentiss, who did it? Who killed her? And who could touch up her face after she was dead? Perry couldn't do that! I'm sure he couldn't, I couldn't—and Larry couldn't!"

"What about the servants?" Mrs. Prentiss was secretly disconcerted with curiosity.

"It's too absurd to imagine! He'd be doing that as none of the others was about—"

"Emma," suggested Mrs. Prentiss.

"Oh, Emma, she couldn't use a lipstick as that one was used!"

"Her husband could have done it," put in Tod.

"Oh, no!" Bunny looked agonized. "They were not entirely congenial, but he never would kill her!"

"But didn't he often urge her to use color on her face?" persisted Mrs. Prentiss, still curious.

"Yes, we all did. We coaxed her to try it now and then. But nobody could make Myra do anything she didn't want to do."

"Did Carter, her maid, want her to use make-up?" said Toddy, suddenly.

"Oh, yes, but she had stopped asking Myra to do so. Myra had scolded her too often for suggesting it."

"I'll bet she's the murderer, then," said Buck, thoughtfully. "She had opportunity, in the sense that anyone in the house had opportunity. She had motive if, as we've heard, Mrs. Heath left her a sum of money in her will. And if she did kill her mistress, she's the only one in the house who could apply that careful make-up, and who would have the callousness, the heartlessness to do it. Why, if you or Mr. Inman or Mr. Heath had killed the lady, not one of you could have been so devoid of common human feeling as to put on that make-up!"

Bunny gave him a grateful glance.

"Of course we couldn't!" she exclaimed. "And, though it seems too dreadful to suspect Carter, yet—well, she is a mysterious sort of woman—"

"How?" eagerly inquired Mrs. Prentiss.

"Oh, nobody knows anything about her early life, where she came from and all that. Then, she was a fearful temper—Myra discharged her three times for impudence and tantrums."

"It was certainly a crime of passion," Buck said, musingly. "You see, Mrs. Heath, for some reason, went down to the studio late at night. Then somebody came to her there, and had—must have had a discussion with her, that became a quarrel, a desperate quarrel, and resulted in the prison, whoever it may have been, impulsively grabbing up that bottle and bashing Mrs. Heath on the temple. When the poor lady died, the heartless, soulless murderer, proceeded to make up that dead face, to see how she would look. And, you see, Bunny, they used your vanity case. That is pretty well proved, too. I think, now, how did that vanity case get back in your room?"

Though Buck spoke casually, Bunny looked up at him quickly, to see if he were laying a trap for her.

"But if so, he got small satisfaction."

"I don't know," she said, slipshod.

"Didn't you carry it upstairs, late at night, at half past one, as Emma declares?"

Todhunter Buck spoke gently, but he evidently expected an answer.

"No," said Bunny. "Emma made that up. She is a born liar."

Buck said no more, but lighting a cigaret, he strolled out on the porch.

Meantime, Al Cunningham was listening to Mott's emphatic statements that the Moore Baby was the murderer of her friend and hostess.

Jerry Inman treated the idea with scornful contempt, but Cunningham, with open mind, listened to the detective's arguments.

"You see, it couldn't have been Heath himself," Mott declared, "because he went away after the house was locked up. I haven't a doubt but that he was the man seen by the chap who sat in the back arbor with Katie, at about one o'clock that night. In fact, the young fellow has declared himself certain that it was Heath who sneaked away from the house. Well, the whole thing occurred after that, do you see? Very likely Mrs. Heath saw her husband out, and locked the door after him. He was in the habit of going off to New York suddenly and unexpectedly, and nobody thought anything of it. Then, say Mrs. Heath came back to the studio. Somebody came to see there, and that somebody killed her. It must have been somebody in the house. As to the question of Miss Moore, there are too many positive bits of evidence against that girl to let suspicion stray in any other direction. She was in love with the husband, therefore, of course, jealous of the wife."

THREE MEN DIE IN GUN BATTLE

Mexican Officials in Tobacco Shoot Out Difficulties; Fourth May Succumb

(By The Associated Press.)
 MEXICO CITY, Aug. 20.—Bitter rivalry between political factions in congress has culminated in a street battle with fatalities.
 Colonel Antonio Garcia, and a son Tomas Garcia of Tabasco, and Deputy Marcos Diaz were killed yesterday and Deputy Santiago Caparrosa was shot several times. A number of bystanders also were wounded.
 Fighting has been disrupting the results of the congressional election held in July, and a guard of federal troops has been stationed in the chamber to prevent factions from combat. The political situation has been in no way connected with the strife.
Many Shots Exchanged
 Fighting started yesterday evening in front of the Turbide hotel. A number of deputies, estimated at from seven to twenty, began shooting from opposite sidewalks. The street was crowded with pedestrians and automobiles many shots were exchanged.
 The fighting was next done to one of Mexico City's fashionable American tea rooms. A number of American women were inside.
 The shooting began when former Governor Garcia and a party of his friends encountered a group of political enemies on Naderos avenue, which to Mexico City is what Fifth Avenue is to New York.
Fourth Man May Die
 Garcia was wounded in the face and Garcia was instantly killed. Diaz died several hours later from his wounds. Deputy Caparrosa is at the point of death.
 Garcia for a long time has been one of the stormy petrels in Mexican politics. Several months ago during a visit to Mexico City, an unsuccessful attempt was made by political enemies to assassinate him.
 When Congress convenes September 1, it is expected that bills to prevent Congressmen from carrying pistols and also removing the special privilege of immunity under which deputies are exempt from arrest, will again be offered. At every session of congress for many years such bills have been introduced, but always have died upon the calendar.

C. OF C. PROBE OF FAKE POSTER CALLING FOR COTTON PICKERS IS CONTINUING WITH LITTLE RESULT

POSTAL INSPECTORS AND FEDERAL DEPARTMENT OF LABOR IS AIDING INVESTIGATION; C. C. HERE NOW AWAITING FURTHER INFORMATION

With the postal department and the United States Department of Labor busily engaged in ferretting out the truth, the investigation, launched by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce recently as the result of a fake advertisement, posted in the postoffice at Bienville, La., is going slowly forward, officials of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce stated today.
 In his first statement, given as the result of two telegrams sent him by the C. of C. here, W. L. Huchak, postmaster at Bienville, stated that a poster, advertising for cotton pickers in Lubbock county had been displayed in his lobby, but that the sign, placed there by unknown persons and signed by the C. of C. here, had later been taken down. The sign set forth that 1,000 pickers were needed in Lubbock where cotton was "between four and five feet high and promised a yield of a bale to the acre." The Chamber of Commerce first got its information from one Edgar Bott, aged 29 or 32, of Bienville, who grabbed a train and hustled to Lubbock to get a cotton picking job as soon as he saw the poster. The commercial organization investigated Bott and found him to be just what he said he was and Manager A. B. Davis, as a result of his investigation of the boy, is certain that information given by Bott was truthful. One of Bott's statements was that he had seen the postmaster tack up the card and was one of the first to read what it had to say. It offered a wage of $1.50 per hundred pounds, he said.
Investigation Begun
 Immediately following the receipt of the information the Chamber of Commerce opened an exhaustive probe, determined to find who was behind the organized effort to injure the economic reputation of the county. C. W. Woodman, assistant director of the United States Department of Labor and postal inspectors were appealed to and the investigation was immediately opened. Postmaster John L. Vaughn, of Lubbock, told the Journal late yesterday that inspectors were working on the proposition but would not report their findings to him, going direct to the Chamber of Commerce with their facts when through. Thus far, however, no report has been made to the organization here by the inspectors.
Letters Are Received
 Postmaster Huchak, of Bienville, now says that the notice was not a printed card, but was typewritten, and that he did not post it. A letter, written to him by Director Woodman, of Fort Worth, was forwarded here by Mr. Woodman and reads as follows:
 Bienville, La., Aug. 12, 1926.
 U. S. Department of Labor,
 Fort Worth, Texas.
 Gentlemen:
 In reply to yours of 11th, beg to advise that I did not post a sign for cotton pickers wanted at Lubbock, Texas.

 However, there was a notice to that effect posted here offering $1.50 per hundred for pickers.
 This notice was written on a typewriter, and signed by the chamber of commerce, typewritten.
 I do not know where this notice originated from, or who posted same.
 Yours very respectfully,
 W. L. HUCKAHAY, Postmaster,
 The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce

VANTY CASE

Carson Wells

"Look here, Mott," Larry burst forth, "I will not sit here and hear that child maligned without a word of protest. Miss Moore is absolutely incapable of such a thing as murder!"
 "Don't be absurd, Mr. Inman," Mott's tones were icy, relentless. "Just because a woman is young and pretty, she can't be put outside the pale of suspicion. Miss Moore's finger-prints are on the bottle, under your own, Miss Moore's vanity case was used, also her crimson scarf. Miss Moore was seen going upstairs with that vanity case in her hand after the time the murder is assumed by the medical men to have been committed. Miss Moore was found crying wildly in the next morning when the servant came to tell her of the tragedy. She already knew it! I have checked up all my facts. I have sifted all the evidence, and I find no flaw in my reasoning, no loophole of escape from my convictions. I, too, am amazed at such a crime at the hands of such a young and beautiful girl!"
 "Your accusations are not without truth and justice, Mr. Mott," Cunningham said, very seriously. "And it does seem that you have evidence, of a sort, against Miss Moore. Are you going to arrest her?"
 "Not immediately. But she is under surveillance and an attempt to leave Gaybrook Harbor would, of course, result in her attention. But we have reason to believe she has knowledge of Mr. Heath's movements. He doubtless knows of her crime, and is lying low against the time when she can get away and join him. Then they will both disappear and never be heard of again."
 "You know this?" asked Cunningham gravely.
 "Not by actual proof, but by the strongest implications. And here comes my messenger now, with word of Heath's present whereabouts."
 Mott unfolded a note brought him by a boy, and with a brief exclamation of annoyance, he declared:
 "Well, I suspected as much! When Heath telephoned Miss Moore this morning, he was in New York, in a pay station."

A human interest story of the rise of the street gamin to the success story wanted in the worst way and finally got, is the picture being shown at the Palace Theatre again today and Saturday, the last of a three day run here.
 "Kiki," the street gamin, "wins" the interest and sympathy of the spectator at the beginning, with her absurd and yet pathetic efforts at rising to stardom in the theatre stage life she lived so well and her methods of gaining the man she loved better.
 "Kiki" is a First National Picture, with Norma Talmadge playing the stunner role, and the picture is a Talladega success. She is well supported by Ronald Colman as Victor Romal, manager of the Revue, as well as other contributions to the composition of an excellent cast.
 "My father was a Corsican; my mother was a Corsican; and I am a Corsican," is the way Kiki sums up her repertorial that makes her love the man of her choice with all her soul, even when the love is unreturned; and Kiki's ruses and advances to Victor Romal from the clutches of the star of the revue make a well balanced story, interesting from beginning to end.

Scouts Becoming Accustomed To Camp

Boy Scouts who are encamped at the Boy Scout camp grounds near Fort are becoming accustomed to camp life and the Scout school, being held in connection with the camp is progressing under full speed, according to word received at Scout headquarters here.
 In addition to the 44 boys who are in camp from the Scout troops in Lubbock, there are 15 from each of the ten troops of Lamesa, one from O'Donnell, two from Shilton, and two from Tahoka, besides a number of adult Scout leaders, conducting the school. W. E. Marcus, executive of the Buffalo Trails Council, at Sweetwater, will arrive in camp today, and remain until Sunday before returning to his home.

ROOSEVELT RAPS PRIMARY SYSTEM

Money Ruling Elections, Says Teddy's Son, In Urging Convention Plan

(By The Associated Press.)
 NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Theodore Roosevelt estimates that election expenses in the United States amount to $20,000,000 in a presidential year, and is convinced that the convention system has been proved superior to the primary system in nominating candidates.
 "Organ of expenditure," such as was revealed in the recent Pennsylvania and Illinois primaries, he told the New York republicans club last night, are a "burning disgrace."
 "As things stand, a poor man has no chance to whatsoever in the primaries," he said.
Says Costs Increasing
 "Not only has money flooded our pre-election party machinery in ever-increasing amounts, but election costs are steadily mounting. In the United States in a presidential year, $20,000,000 of more are spent in the elections. Even in an off year there is close to $10,000,000 spent."
 He advocated control of a convention by a vote power resting with the voters, the convention acting chiefly as a nominating committee for primary candidates.
 "Money must not control government," he said, "we must strictly curb the use of money in our politics."

Lubbock May Get Labor Bureau As Help To Harvest

This Lubbock will have a district office of the Federal Department of Labor, extending through the cotton picking time on the Plains, it is almost a certainty, the officials of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce announced today.
 A. E. Robertson, representing the Texas division of the department and working under the direction of C. W. Woodman, assistant director of the United States Department of Labor at Fort Worth, will be here in the next few days to study economic conditions on the Plains and will probably be able to state definitely whether or not the office will be placed here.
 While he is in Lubbock Mr. Robertson will probably discuss with Chamber of Commerce officials here the posting of a fake advertisement at Bienville, Louisiana, recently, calling for 1,000 cotton pickers for immediate work in Lubbock county. The Department of Labor and the postal inspectors of Texas and Louisiana are busily working on the cases now. The fake advertisement was posted in the postoffice of the Louisiana village.

Two Cars Stolen At Roswell Same Night

Roswell, New Mexico, is now having a surge with automobile thieves, according to information received by the Lubbock county sheriff's department, late Thursday. Two cars were stolen from the streets of the city Wednesday night, one a Ford coupe and the other a Ford touring car, advices received here, asking assistance in recovering the stolen property said.

If It's Charity, Why Charge It To Advertising?

Some merchants appropriate quite a substantial sum of money each year for advertising.

But when the expenditures for advertising space are analyzed, one frequently finds items which are not real advertising at all.

When space is bought to oblige a friend or to 'support' some organization, when advertising is bought from reasons of sentiment or charity—that is not real advertising from the business standpoint.

By all means make the donations which you desire to make. But why charge it to advertising? The Journal is an advertising medium strong enough to carry your advertising and produce maximum results.

Merchants buy their goods, choose their locations, hire their employees on a strictly business basis. Advertising—the force which holds old customers and brings new ones—is too important for trifling. Concentrate your advertising in—

Nobody Injured In Two Collisions Here

Activity on streets of the city, as regards mixups of automobiles, took on a sudden spurt yesterday, when two collisions happened within an hour of each other, shortly after noon. The Packard sedan driven by Mrs. W. O. Stevens was slightly damaged when it collided head on with a Chrysler, at the corner of Ave. M. and 15th streets; and two Fords suffered minor injuries to springs, fenders, and tires when they went together on Ave. H at 15th Street. The names of the drivers were not learned.

New Modes for Autumn Wear

Introducing the Latest Versions In Frocks

With the waning of summer, Fashion's fancy turns from pastel tinted crepes and chiffons to frocks and wraps of heavier fabric, that reflect the rich woody tones and tawny blends of autumn's falling leaves.

Smart simplicity predominates in new apparel, enhanced by the deft use of plaits, braiding and embroidery as trimming. There is a newness and distinction about each of these garments that proclaims it a courier of the new mode.

Partial List of Pioneers Made Up As Get-Together Of Old Timers Is Planned For Lubbock On August 26

Pioneer days, when Lubbock barely was, and when cowboy trails led in all directions from what is now the Hub of the Plains, in place of State Highways and railroads, will be recalled Thursday afternoon, August 26, when Andy Wilson and Bob Crump, well known citizens of this county, will be hosts with others to all individuals who have been in Lubbock county and in surrounding counties of the South Plains for the past twenty-five years.

Twenty-five years is quite a time, especially when its duration includes such development as the past twenty-five years have on the South Plains; but according to records here, there are well over a hundred thirty who are eligible for entertainment at the meeting on Thursday, when the number will gather at 3 o'clock for an old-fashioned feed of beefsteak, cowboy stew and coffee, along with whatever else may be brought for the picnic lunch. The following is a fairly complete list of those residents of Lubbock and adjacent counties during the quarter century.

- List Is Given.
- Mrs. Mollie D. Abernathy, John W. Jarrot, E. M. Jarrot, Hiley Boyd, Joe Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Penney, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stanford, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Green, Mrs. Hardin Green and family, George Green, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lindsey, Ralph Lindsey, Mrs. Kenneth Carter and family, Mrs. J. E. Bowles, P. F. Brown and wife, J. T. KEEN INTEREST SHOWN IN COUNTY EXHIBITS FOR 1926 STATE FAIR

With enthusiasm already at high pitch as a result of the various activities toward agricultural effort in Texas, keenest interest is manifest in the $10,000 cumulative premium over a five-year period offered by the State Fair of Texas, according to J. A. Moore, superintendent of the State Fair agricultural department. Mr. Moore is convinced that at least sixty Texas counties will enter the State Fair contest, and declares that every section of the state will be represented. This conviction was expressed after visits in East, West, and North Texas counties, following announcement of the county contest. "County exhibits at the 1926 State Fair," Mr. Moore said, "should prove revelations in every particular. Interest is the keenest I have ever seen it. Those interested in showing the advantages of their several localities, are already diligently at work gathering every variety of farm product to be placed in the various county exhibits. They are carefully considering the requirements of the score cards and selecting their exhibits accordingly, and in the work of preparing exhibits the matter of attractiveness is also entering to a greater degree than ever before. Even to those who do not appreciate agricultural versatility, the exhibits will prove of paramount interest from an artistic standpoint." Numbers of counties, Mr. Moore says, are planning "county days" at the State Fair, upon which large delegations will come in and by their numbers and enthusiasm, direct attention to the county exhibit in which they are particularly interested.

STATE FAIR MEETING FOR C. OF C. MEN

Saturday, Oct. 16, will be Commercial Executives' Day at the 1926 State Fair of Texas. According to announcement by John Boswell, of the Southwestern Development Department, Dallas Chamber of Commerce, arrangements have been completed, and a large attendance is expected. The commercial executives are those hustling, enterprising, efficient folk, connected with various chambers of commerce throughout the state, who are constantly striving to bring to the attention of the people outside, the advantages to be found in the several sections of Texas. Entertainment plans anticipate a luncheon for the visiting secretaries, when the Dallas Chamber of Commerce will be host. Of course a visit to the State Fair is on the program—it wouldn't be complete otherwise.

It is expected that the next meeting place of the Commercial Executives Association will be decided at the State Fair gathering.

FRIO COUNTY TO SHOW PRODUCTS AT STATE FAIR

News from Pearsall and Dilley, in Frio County, is that the Chambers of Commerce in both those hustling towns, are hard at work in co-operation with business men, property owners and realty people, on plans for an extensive county exhibit at the 1926 State Fair of Texas, Dallas, Oct. 9-24. Dudley F. Bredthauer is making a thorough canvass of the county in the effort to obtain the choicest products to be displayed in the Frio county exhibit.

SPECIAL FAIR DAY FOR ORDER OF RED MEN

Members of the Order of Red Men are to have a special day at the 1926 State Fair of Texas. S. C. Mansfield, secretary of Oneta Tribe, No. 49, of Dallas, has made request for the designation of Tuesday, Oct. 12 as Red Men's Day, and the calendar has been so marked by Secretary W. H. Stratton of the Fair Association. Tuesday, Oct. 12 is also Dallas Day at the 1926 State Fair.

They're Neutral

NEW YORK—Russell C. Medcroft and Jean May once played husband and wife in "Golden Days" now they are married, but they are to be independent of each other professionally. He's not to star her in plays he writes. The author of "Cradle Snatchers" became the husband of the leading lady of "The Poor Nut" at a hurried ceremony performed by a judge in the Portchester police station at 4 am.

Fifteen and Clever!

Yes, right there under the bed is where Ann hid the bandits "safely" away. By NEA Service.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Ann Schechter, 15, was alone with her 16-year-old sister in the third-floor Schechter flat when the three bandits burst in the door.

Two of the bandits were wounded. They had tried to hold up a truck driver, and the driver had a gun which he used to good effect.

It was but a moment before Ann comprehended, "Under the bed!" she commanded.

"If the dicks come, don't give us away!" pleaded the bandits as they hid.

The dicks came. They knocked. Ann went to the door.

"Anybody hitting here?" one asked. "No sir, not a soul," said Ann. But she nodded her head excitedly, and winked.

"I winked both eyes," laughs Ann. "I never could wink just one of them to save my life."

There isn't much more to tell than that.

In walked the detectives. A few moments later, and walked both the detectives and the bandits.

"It sure was a lot of fun!" says Ann.
