Wildflowers Blanket Area With Profusion of Beauty

It's that time of year when wildflowers of all descriptions burst out in a profusion of color along the highways and biways of South Texas.

There are bluebonnets, of course. They are the state flower. And, there are primrose, yellow daisies, white daisies, thistle, Indian paintbrush, Indian pinks, wild phlox, daggers, bluegrass, native clover and many more.

But you don't have to know their names to appreciate their beauty and color -- blue, pink, yellow, red, lavender, you name it.

All you have to do is to take a drive into the country, and you're bound to see some. They are not everywhere, but usually you can find them in the highway right-of-way and in pastures along the road.

Texas Highway Department maintenance personnel who keep the highway right-of-way in shape usually keep their eyes peeled for wildflowers and keep their mowers away from them until the blooms are gone. They also report the best looking patches they see.

Some have reported that the wildflower crop is not as good this year because of the relatively dry winter.

Nevertheless there are plenty of wildflowers to see.

Coy Truelove of the Rockport headquarters of the Highway Department reports: "Along Texas 35 between Rockport and FM774 there are primrose, yellow daisies, thistle, Indian paintbrush, bluebonnets and bluegrass. Primrose, yellow daisies, thistle and bluegrass can be found along Texas 113. Bluebonnets, primrose, Indian paintbrush, wild phlox and buttercups are blooming along Texas 361 from Aransas Pass to Texas 35. Primrose and thistle are growing along FM 136. Yellow and white daisies, Indian paintbrush, and thistle are blooming along FM 881. Yellow daisies, primrose, thistle and Spanish daggers can be found along FM 1781, and thistle, yellow daisies, primrose, daggers and bluegrass are blooming along FM 2040."

Another place that is blanketed by bluebonnets and yellow daisies is the Rockport Cemetery.

Easter Sunrise Service is Set

The Aransas County Ministers Association will sponsor the traditional community Easter Sunrise Service on Sunday, March 30. The service will begin at 7:00 a.m. on the Bayfront.

The location of the service has been changed this year due to a construction project near the Navigation District building. The new site, just a few yards away from the old, is between the Navigation District Office and the Parks and Wildlife Marine Lab and Aquarium.

In past years seating has been provided; this year, however, the Ministers Association requests that you bring your own folding chairs or blankets.

The service is scheduled to last approximately a half hour to avoid conflict with early services in various congregations.

Methodists Set Service

The work of ordained deacons in the Evangelical Methodist Church in Bolivia will be highlighted this Sunday in First United Methodist Church, with Jim and Annette Morriss of Austin speaking at both worship services. They will be the last in a series of five speakers in the church's "Alive in Mission" emphasis.

Annette and Jim Morriss returned to the United States in July, 1973, after serving four years as workers for the Bolivian Methodist Church. They are lay persons who decided to apply to the World Division, Board of Global Ministries of the United Methodist Church after Jim made a trip to Bolivia where he learned the need for personnel to work in the eastern tropical lowlands of that country. The Bolivian Methodist Church administers extensive work in that area in the fields of education, medicine and public health, agriculture and community development.

Following a six-month orientation period at the Missionary Orientation Center in Stony Point, New York, Annette and Jim and their two children spent five months in language school at Cuernavaca, Mexico. They arrived in Bolivia in 1969 to take up their assignment in Montero at the Methodist Rural Institute where Jim served as District Administrator, Treasurer and District Superintendent. Annette spent much of her time teaching missionary children and coordinating women's work in the district. She also was busy with the guest center and home activities.

The Morriss family is now on leave of absence from overseas service to give their children a chance to catch up on their education. They live in Austin

Scoutcraft Fair a Success

On March 15, there was presented a scoutcraft fair that exemplified scouting.

Scout troops participating were Troop 280, of Rockport; Troop 2, of Aransas Pass; Troops 27 and 26 of Ingleside; and Troops 349 and 345, of Portland.

Cub Scout Packs participating were Pack 49. Rockport; Pack 27, Ingleside; Pack 341, Aransas Pass; Pack 20, Portland; and Pack 29, Port Aransas.

From these groups ribbons were awarded. There were eight first place Awards of Merit and Honor; and three second place Awards of Merit.

Pack 49, of Rockport, sponsored by the Rotary Club, received a first Award of Merit and Honor. Not only was this a first in an award for Pack 49, but also a first time to be involved in a scoutcraft fair.

During the entire fair, Pack 49 had a den involved in doing a scout project pertaining to conservation. The Webelos den made bird feeders from coffee cans and plastic milk jugs. Den 2 made original scenes from oyster shell clusters, clay, ceramic animals and twigs. Den 3 made hanging baskets from plastic butter tubs and potted a small plant in them. They also planted flower seeds in egg cartons to later be transplanted. Den 1 made wooden and glass bird feeders.

The cubs did the entire decorations for their booth. A banner declaring Pack 49 was across the back of the booth. Den flags and achievement charts were on display. Projects that the cubs had done in den meetings, or at home, covered an entire table. Also on the walls of the booth were silhouettes of the bobcat, wolf, bear, silver and gold arrow points that the cubs had done for their booth.

The cubs sold a grand total of $486 worth of tickets to help sponsor the fair. Several awards will be given out at the March pack meet to cubs who earned them by selling a certain number of tickets. While selling tickets, Pack 49 cubs also found all five of the mystery prize certificates, in Rockport. Cubs finding the certificates were Webelos cub Charles Daniels; cub Kenneth Von Huevel, Den 2; and cubs Ricky Hill, Frankie Stengel and Mikeal Dupnik, Den 3.

During the ticket sales there emerged a highest ticket seller. He is Alan Vollmering of Den 3, who sold $55 worth. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Mostella.

All in all it was a most enlightening evening for people to see what scouting is all about. These cubs really work for all they earn and deserve help and encouragement from everyone.

The cub scout motto is "Do Your Best" and Pack 49 has lived up to it in the highest regard. Hearty congratulations are given to you and keep up the good work.

County-wide Sanitary Sewage System Under Consideration

Exploration of the feasibility of a county-wide sanitary sewage system will be resumed, it was decided at a meeting of trustees of Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District in the county courthouse March 11.

Renewed interest and activity by the District board followed a recently published Associated Press news story from Austin to the effect that federal funds to help with sewage disposal plant costs have again been made available by a U.S. Supreme Court decision. The story stated that Texas cities would share in a total of $64,193,850 in federal funds. This is in addition to some $111 millions released earlier.

Because the proposed Aransas County sanitary sewage project would require that more than 50 percent of its funding come from federal funds, consideration of such a plan was halted when funds were cut off.

Renewed availability of federal funding makes it feasible to resume active consideration of the problem, according to Jack McDavid, president of the Conservation Board. However, he pointed out that the plan is far from an accomplished program.

Consideration of a county-wide sanitary sewage system was undertaken actively by the District board about two years ago. At that time interested engineering firms were asked to prepare preliminary feasibility plans on a speculative basis because the Board has no funds with which to pay for an exploratory study, according to McDavid.

Three firms -- Naismith Engineers, Inc., Urban Engineering and Lockwood, Andrews and Newnam -- expressed interest and offered guidance on the feasibility of a county-wide sewage system and assistance on where to seek funds to pay for a preliminary study on which to base a request for federal and state funds.

It was recommended that first of all support for such a program should be obtained from the Coastal Bend Council of Governments which already had completed an extensive survey of sanitary sewage needs for this area.

This step was taken last April when COG gave its approval for Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District to apply for federal funds. Previously Rockport and Aransas County officials had endorsed the District's decision to pursue the matter.

Next it would be necessary to obtain funds, possibly about $10,000, to pay for an engineering feasibility study to be used in submitting a request for federal funding. About this time, previously appropriated federal funds were frozen,

Metal Trades Names Winners

Projects were on display for visitors in the Metal Trades VICA club during Public School Week open house.

Projects made by the students were judged by three outside community members on appearance, quality, and design basis.

First place went to Gary Marshall for a barbecue pit on wheels.

Third place went to Danny Flores and Reagen Lee, fourth to George Benavidez and fifth to Jimmy Jordan.

The boys have completed many other projects which were not on display due to delivery to customers.

The school appreciates the cooperation and orders of the community as well as out of state customers, and were pleased to see the many visitors throughout the week and at the open house.

Tax Relief For Over 65

One of the first objectives of the A.A.R.P. organization when it came into being in June, 1973 was to do everything in its power to secure for those over 65 that had a homestead, the $3,000 exemption that had been proposed and suggested by the state legislature.

First of all, the County and County Commissioners voluntarily made this grant possible.

Just recently, the City Council of the City of Rockport followed.

Then on March 10 the Aransas County School Board granted this exemption.

Members and officers of the A.A.R.P. organization, on behalf of the many in this community who live in a homestead and are over the age of 65, wish to thank publicly the local governmental leaders for taking this step which will mean much to many members who are on fixed or low income.

To those who are entitled to this exemption, please remember that you must file an application and prove that you are 65 or older with (1) County Tax Assessor's office not later than April 30th, (2) the Aransas County School Board tax collector, not later than April 30th and (3) the City Hall not later than March 31st.

Please check these dates and make your application so you will not lose out on this.

Goliad Horse Races Start March 22

Race horses from twenty-five states are beginning to descend on historic old Goliad in preparation for their annual Spring Race Meet. The Meet, scheduled for three consecutive weekends, begins March 22 through April 6. La Bahia Downs officials are predicting a record breaking meet with Stake entries running ahead of 1974.

The opening weekend will find trials in the Anticipation Derby on Saturday, March 22, and in the South Texas Derby March 23. The South Texas Derby has an estimated purse of $30,000 and will feature some of the country's top 3 year olds at 350 yards. The Anticipation Derby has an estimated purse of $7,500. This graded Derby will be run at 300 yards.

Several additions are being offered at the Spring Meet. Barbecue beef, which was famous for years at the Goliad track, will be offered each Sunday and on the Saturday of the Futurity trials March 29. A second bonus for visitors is the special Program Coupon drawing which will be held each day. Numerous prizes will be awarded to the lucky winners.

Saturday, March 22, will be Kiddy Day and all children under 12 will be admitted free. Sunday, March 23, will be Corpus Christi Day. Special guests from that sea shore city will be recognized.

Dental Exams For Students

A progress report on a voluntary dental examination program for Aransas County elementary school students was made by Dr. Ronald D. Levy and Dr. J.M. Shellenbergar at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club March 12 at Ramada Inn.

The local dentists examined approximately 1,000 pupils as a contribution to improved dental health among school children of the county. They conducted simple examinations to reveal cavities and any possible abnormal or diseased mouth conditions during the dentists' days off from office routine. The second week in February was designated as Children's National Dental Health Week.

Dr. Shellenbergar reported that 490 of the children examined needed dental work, mostly repair of cavities. Parents were notified through the school nurse. He said the decay problem among local school children was serious but there was little evidence of disease or mouth tumors.

Dr. Shellenbergar said there appeared to be little difference in the decay problem percentages in the three school areas - Rockport, Fulton and Live Oak. In each instance about 50 percent of the children examined had cavities which needed attention.

Both he and Dr. Levy were agreed that many parents are too little concerned about the fate of so-called baby teeth. They pointed out that presence of these teeth is essential to proper development and spacing of adult teeth. In some instances decay and abscessing of baby teeth may actually prevent appearance of adult teeth, the dentists asserted.

It is the hope of the dentists that this examination can become an annual event and that their reports will stimulate better teeth care, including proper cleaning, among Aransas County children. Dr. Levy started the program alone last year before Dr. Shellenbergar opened an office in Rockport.

Dr. Shellenbergar reported that Bee County College has a dental hygiene program teaching course and has offered to have its students provide dental health education and tooth cleaning service for local school children if they are transported to Beeville in busloads on a designated schedule -- all without charge.

Girls Team Volleyball

The Lady Pirates closed out their volleyball schedule this past weekend in hard fought district play. Though the varsity came out in fifth place in the district, they gave each team a tough time of it.

The opening match on Thursday night with Gregory-Portland was hard fought but the girls stopped short to lose 13-15 and 4-15.

The next morning Aransas Pass was the victor after the two teams split games, 11-15 and 14-12, winning the last game 13-15.

Rockport went overtime in at least one game of almost every match. The girls dropped their next match with Sinton, splitting games again, 6-15 and 15-11, but losing the third game 5-15.

They ended the day on a happier note by defeating Flour Bluff in two games, 15-13 and 15-9.

All of the above opponents placed above Rockport in the district, Gregory - Portland coming in second, Aransas Pass third, and Sinton fourth, except Flour Bluff which came in sixth.

The next day Rockport met Bishop which finished first in the district and lost two close games 12-14 and 11-13. Rockport went on to defeat Taft 15-8, 10-15 and 15-8 and then ended the day by defeating West Oso 15-4, 14-16, and 15-10.

The top scorers for Rockport in the tournament were Sandy Williams and Opal Hesseltine. The entire team put forth a fine effort during the tournament.

There are five seniors graduating this year: Nelly Dominguez, Cindy Haigood, Charlene McLead, Sandy Williams and Opal Hesseltine.

WIETING'S CAPITOL REPORT

This Week in Austin:

State Representative Leroy Wieting has introduced into the Texas House of Representatives legislation dealing with leasing of bottomland in coastal waters for cultivation of oysters and that would regulate the sale of noxious water plants.

The oyster lease act is designed to foster the business of cultivating oysters by private enterprise. The Parks and Wildlife Department will regulate the leasing in such a manner that there will be no undue damage to the traditional oyster fishery but in a manner that will encourage a sustained and flourising oyster industry.

Among other things, the bill would raise the amount of land a person can lease for cultivating oysters from 100 acres to 500 acres. Rep. Wieting feels this bill will be beneficial not only to the economy of South Texas, but also to the world as it will open up new methods of producing food. "Our coastal waters can be farmed just like regular farm land without harming the ecology," Rep. Wieting says, "But at the same time can be used to produce great amounts of food."

The second bill would enable the Parks and Wildlife Department to publish a list of noxious aquatic plants and prohibit their sale. This would include plants harmful, or potentially harmful, to human life, those which impede navigation on public waterways, or those that diminish the quality of water.

Rep. Wieting says that certain aquatic plants sold commercially have been introduced into public waters and have flourished. "Now these plants are clogging waterways and becoming a health hazard," according to Rep. Wieting.

Rep. Wieting also plans to introduce a resolution calling for establishment of a ten member citizen committee to advise the Parks and Wildlife Department on matters relating to commercial and sport fishing.

The purpose of the committee would be to help resolve the resistance and misunderstanding often encountered due to regulations by the Department. The committee would be composed, as equally as possible, with members of both the commercial fishing and sport fishing industries on the Texas Gulf Coast. The Speaker of the House and the Lieutenant Governor would each select five members for the committee. Those selected to serve on the committee would do so for a period of two years. They would receive no compensation for serving on the committee.

Automobile Program Benefits

The Veterans Administration is advising 60,000 potentially eligible veterans of expanded eligibility for automobile grants and adaptive equipment.

A.A. Hunter, VA Regional Office Director, said that letters will be sent to these veterans, including 5,000 peacetime veterans with service between December 31, 1946, and June 27, 1950, who are eligible for these benefits for the first time.

Extension of the automobile program benefits for disabled veterans was signed into law by President Ford last month.

Eligibility is limited to those veterans with service connected disability for permanent loss or use of one or both hands or feet or impairment of vision of both eyes to a prescribed degree, and service during or after World War II.

The maximum amount for automobile grants was increased from $500 to $3,300.

The VA was authorized to provide, repair or replace adaptive automobile equipment for any conveyance acquired by any veteran entitled to this benefit before he purchased a vehicle with VA assistance since January 11, 1971.

Adaptive equipment was defined to include that which is needed to assist a veteran enter or leave a vehicle or that deemed necessary for the safe operation of a vehicle. Included are power-assist items and air conditioning.

The new law provides for driver-training programs at various VA hospitals, regional offices and other medical facilities to instruct veterans in the use of the adaptive equipment.

Mr. Hunter said that this training will be available to any veteran or member of the armed forces who requires such instruction, even if the person does not qualify for the automobile grants or special equipment.

VA's research and development in the field of adaptive equipment, conveyances and rehabilitation devices will be expanded under provisions of the new law.

Gaydell Baines lost 31 pounds

Mrs. Gaydell Baines, a well known Houston artist and art teacher lost 31 pounds and 43 inches with the Pat Walker method over 3 years ago. Today she is still slim and trim, we know how to keep it off. Mrs. Baines writes: "In my profession, before I started reducing, the only exercise I normally got was in my right arm and painting all day threw my posture off. I knew I needed to reduce. I looked terrible and felt the same . . . now I'm proud of myself."

The exclusive Pat Walker figure program has been effective for millions of women of all ages. Safe passive exercise tones your tissue, improves your circulation and removes unwanted pounds and inches . . . without crash dieting. You enjoy complete privacy in elegant surroundings and you do not have to disrobe. In fact, you can take your half-hour treatments anytime, because you don't need special clothing and you won't even muss your hair. Call today for a figure analysis and a complimentary treatment . . . there is no cost and no obligation. We will plan your personalized program and tell you the total cost of your figure correction before you even begin (based on $2 per treatment).

Fix-It Tip

House painting is best done in the shade. As the sun moves around your house, you move too, but in the other direction. The work will be cooler, easier and less tiring.

There's more than comfort involved, however. The sun's heat will draw the oils in the paint to the surface. Paint in the shade and there's less danger of paint failure.

Paint during clear, dry weather. If there has been a heavy rain, wait several days for the siding to become thoroughly dry.

Don't start too soon in the morning if there has been a heavy dew. Give it time to evaporate.

B.J. Crowley's HOROSCOPE

Week of March 30, 1975

ARIES--The Arian has tremendous drive. He is almost always successful. He is often an over-achiever. Seldom is he a quiet person, talking so much he has few secrets. He likes people and wants them to like him. Best color is red, lucky numbers are 2 and 4 and lucky day is Sunday.

ARIES--March 21 to April 20--Expect a good week. Circumstances are stacking up in your favor. Continue to do the right thing. You'll end up a winner.

TAURUS--April 21 to May 20--Play the role of peacemaker. Remember that small minds have small ideas.

GEMINI--May 21 to June 20--Brownie points will be earned this week by not what you do, but by what you don't do. Be sympathetic, but avoid getting involved in someone else's hassle.

CANCER--June 21 to July 22--If you don't like being a social butterfly, don't be one. Your preference for the company of family and close friends rather than casual acquaintences is within your right.

LEO--July 23 to Aug. 22--Make a list of routine chores and complete one before moving on to the other. Keep your surroundings neat and clean.

VIRGO--Aug. 23 to Sept. 22--Get off of your high horse and stop being so contrary. You gain nothing by it. It serves only to make others around you miserable.

LIBRA--Sept. 23 to Oct. 22--Avoid associates who bore you or get on your nerves. Cultivate friendships with those you enjoy.

SCORPIO--Oct. 23 to Nov. 22--Work to develop a greater sense of compassion. You have a great deal to offer humanity with your above average capabilities.

SAGITTARIUS--Nov. 23 to Dec. 21--Better postpone that spree you have been "itching" for, whether it be spending or otherwise. A moderate approach is needed now.

CAPRICORN--Dec. 22 to Jan. 19--Think positive! When you wish to make a point, talk softly. People will listen more willingly with a more receptive attitude, than if you loudly proclaim your wishes.

AQUARIUS--Jan. 20 to Feb. 18--If you feel tired, it is because you are fighting life too hard. Relax! Those things you constantly fret about are beyond your control anyway.

PISCES--Feb. 19 to March 20--You can reach the pinnacle of success if you will learn to delegate authority and stop trying to do everything yourself.

Short Takes

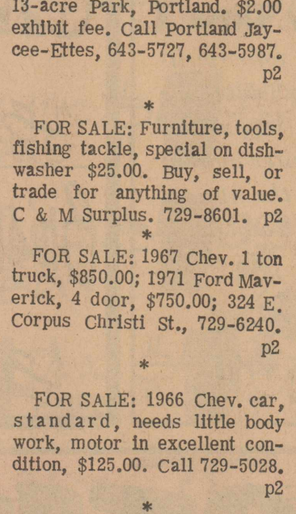

Down to Earth

Dolly Madison, wife of America's fourth president loved to wear bejeweled turbans, use snuff, play cards for money, and entertain 15 or 20 people at dinner. She was one of the most popular first ladies in U.S. history.

Postmen's Hazards

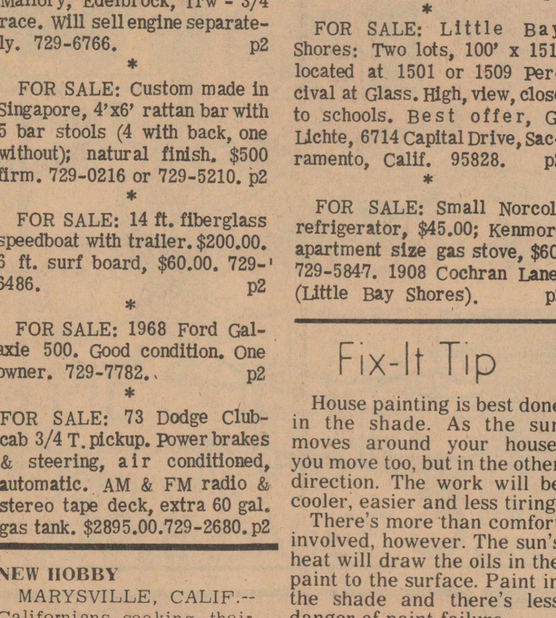

Mailmen in the United States have difficulty with dogs, but things could be worse — Egyptian mailmen complain of being nipped by camels, postmen in Brazil have been bitten by jaguars, a Tongan Island letter carrier was killed by a shark and Afghanistan had to suspend rural deliveries because leopards ate the mailmen.

Tizzy

"But you can't go steady with anyone else, Herbie. I still own the tires on your car!"

SWEETIE PIE

"When you were learning to point, I hope you also took lessons on how to open your own cans of dog food!"

Palm Tree Trimming Service

A new service to help beautify Rockport and surrounding area. We will trim your palms for $10 each and a special price for every one thereafter and clean up mess with the help of our new Beautification Wagon. "From a company who cares."

Cady And Miller Unite

Miss Georgia Ann Miller became the bride of Charlie James Cady, Jr., Friday evening in the Calvary Baptist Church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, Sr. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie James Cady, Sr., of Rockport.

Rev. C.J. Molmen officiated in a candlelight ceremony.

Miss Patty Cady, sister of the groom, registered the guests and others in the house-party were Mrs. Curtis Thompson, Miss Rebecca Kay Madden, Miss Sandra Lanranski and Miss Linda Stapper.

The bride wore a sweetheart gown made of lace with puffed sleeves and tiered ruffles. A tiara of flowers and beads held her lace-edged illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses with lace and satin streamers.

Richard Solis was best man and ushers were George Miller, Jr., and Calvin Cathy.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social hall where the bride's table was laid with spring flowers and lace. The four-tier wedding cake was decorated with sweet peas in spring colors.

The groom's table was laid with lace over yellow cloth and held the open Bible with a long stem yellow rose and a German chocolate cake decorated in yellow.

Following their honeymoon the couple will live in Bloomington, Texas.

Seas' Treasures

Scattered through earth's 300 million cubic miles of seawater are an estimated 10 million tons of gold, 500 million tons of silver and 20 billion tons of uranium.

Untapped Oil

Untapped oil shale in the United States probably contains more than 2,000 billion barrels of petroleum. The richest known deposits extend through parts of Colorado, Utah and Wyoming.

TOPS 849 News

The decision to change Morning TOPS to an evening meeting came as a result of increased membership, and the inability of a growing number of members to attend morning meetings.

Men, teens and pre-teens are among the members; therefore work and school attendance made it difficult for those people to attend club meetings in the mornings on a regular basis.

The Club would like to emphasize the fact that TOPS can be a family endeavor in the fight against obesity, and welcome men, women and youngsters to the evening meetings that TOPS 849 holds every Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. (weigh-in 6:30 p.m.) in the Methodist Youth Building in Rockport.

Pre-teen Princess of the week was Donna White with a 2½ lb. loss, runner-up was Kelly Hutson with a 1 lb. loss. Club loss for the week was 35¾ lbs. The winners of the recent weight losing contest were Team No. 1.

The secretary wishes to apologize for erroneously referring to the Surf Room in Corky's Restaurant as the Bamboo Room. It is in the Surf Room that TOPS 849 will be holding their annual awards ceremony on Monday, March 24.

Division Winners:

Division #4...Men's, 1st Place, Charles Gaskin, 17½ lbs.

KIW Reach Your Goal charm, Charles Gaskin. Runners-up to king or queen of week, Feb. 18, Jerry White; Feb. 25, Mary Moses; Mar. 4, Shirley Rice. Runner-up to queen of month, Feb., Rita Beatty. Queen of month charm crown for Feb., Mikki Deason. Tape charm for Jan., Rachel Boyce. 6 month perfect attendance, Happy TOPS charm, Feb. 18, Charles Gaskin; Feb. 25, Jerry Oliver. Ten pound stars, March 13, Rita Beatty, 1; March 4, Mary Moses, 1; Charles Gaskin, 3; January 21, Lynn Hewes, 1.

Metal Trades Winners Named

Patrick McCready placed first in metal-arc welding, representing the metal trades class in VICA competition, which was held at Del Mar Tech in Corpus Christi. He competed against students from area IV, which extends southward to Del Rio and Eagle Pass eastward to cities beyond Victoria.

The students had four weld positions in which they were judged, overhead, vertical, horizontal, and flat. Each weld was in a "T" position. Two other students competed also, Donnie Oliver and Mike Horton. Next step is the state contest to be held in Houston April 24-26.

The school is proud of these young men who have worked hard to get this far and hope they continue in the competition on to national. If they succeed, the national competition will be held in Washington, D.C. in June.

The Kinsey Report

I appreciated receiving the following letter and I know that my wife will be surprised and pleased when she reads it:

*

Dear Mr. Editor,

I am writing this letter to you in behalf of your lovely wife.

About 6 years ago your wife gave me a small pot of 3 plants - one was a lovely croton about 5" high. I replanted it and the croton grew to be about 24" tall. It finally spread and I replanted shoots from it. The main plant is 3 feet high and full of shoots.

One of our nurserymen asked me if it was real, as it was so beautiful. A week later my plant wilted. It looked so sad. The next day I had a bad car wreck and was in the hospital 3 weeks.

I asked my husband about my plant and he said it was still wilted.

Two days before I came home from the hospital my husband said "Your plant's leaves are wonderful. It's growing."

I always loved this plant and prayed it would grow. I talked to it lots of times, and told it "Mrs. Kinsey gave you to me so you had better get with it." I firmly believe this plant wilted and knew something bad was going to happen - and when I came home - it started to put out new leaves. What do you believe? Most people think I have a green thumb but I think something higher up had something to do with it, and it was a most lovely gift from Mrs. Kinsey that I never forgot.

OUTDOORS 'n things

by L. D. NUCKLES

If you are anything like me you have always been a little vague about what causes the tides in the ocean. I have always known that it had something to do with the moon and let it go at that. It may be that our tides here on the Texas coast are so erratic and weak that I just haven't paid much attention to them. Our tides are so weak that wind direction and velocity affect them very strongly. Sometimes when the tide is supposed to be going out the wind, blowing in the opposite direction, is strong enough to hold the water in and we just don't have a low tide that day. Our tides are usually measured in inches instead of in feet as they are in most places. Here we have only one high tide and one low tide each day, but in most areas they have two distinct highs and two distinct lows each 24 hours.

In studying the tides we find that some of the contributing factors are: the rotation of the earth on its axis, the elliptical orbits of the moon around the earth and the earth around the sun, the angular distances of the sun and the moon from the earth's equator, and the minimum and maximum distances between the earth and the moon and the earth and the sun. Combinations of these factors cause tides to fluctuate from a set pattern. One unusually high tide that occurred in 1433 A.D. was caused by conditions so rare that such a tide will not be seen again until the year 3800 A.D.

Three factors caused the 1433 tide: the sun and moon were directly over the earth's equator with the sun, the moon, and the earth in a straight line, the moon was at its closest point to earth, and the earth was at its closest point to the sun. All these conditions will not occur again simultaneously until the year 3800 A.D.

If the power of the tides could be harnessed, without upsetting the environment, another ocean resource could be utilized. The Bay of Fundy between New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, for example, has the most powerful tides in the world. A flood tide moving into the bay carries more than three and one-half billion cubic feet of water. If such a tide occurred at Rockport, Aransas Bay would be dry at low tide and the water would reach as far inland as Sinton at high tide. To harness the tides at the Bay of Fundy, however, would require a dam some 87 miles long.

A more practical tidal power plant is being built at St. Malo, France. A dam only 760 feet long will channel the tide through turbines to generate electricity. These are reversible turbines to work on both flood and ebb tides. If this pilot plant is successful it should produce as much electricity as a steam plant burning one-half million tons of coal a year.

Although this will surely help in the task of producing more energy with less air pollution, we are not yet sure what adverse effects will be produced by this diversion of the tides. So the scientists continue to work, trying to produce the energy that the world demands without producing conditions that will destroy our environment.

Nursing Home News Items

Last week was a busy one at the Center. Monday afternoon Mr. Kiely was here to play the piano again and we had another big turnout for this occasion.

Tuesday morning found the social director off to school again.

Tuesday afternoon the Order of the Rainbow Girls, with the Mother Advisor, Mrs. Florence Stewart, came and put Easter bunnies holding a big egg, which said "Happy Easter," on every resident's door. Thank you so very much for this nice decorating.

Tuesday afternoon the Friendship Club of the Mobile Inn Trailer Park of Rockport came for their game day. A great time was had by all.

Thursday morning the Pentecostal Church came out for their weekly service.

Thursday afternoon the Aransas Pass V.F.W. Auxiliary had their game day.

Friday, as well as Thursday and Saturday was used in getting everyone ready for our big Saturday night.

Saturday we put up our Easter decorations and then that evening we had a big and most enjoyable "Easter dance." Music was furnished by a string trio, composed of Vernon Kleypas, Howard Black and Mr. Cooper. They sure can make beautiful music and everyone had a nice time.

During the dance the ladies of the Altar Society of St. Mary by the Sea Catholic Church of Aransas Pass served cake which was given by Mrs. Martha Swenke, punch and cookies which the ladies made. It was a most wonderful event and one that will not be forgotten very soon.

Sunday morning church services were held and attended by our residents.

Sunday afternoon Rev. Avery, along with the adults and young people of the First Christian Church of Ingleside, came over for their monthly "sing-in." Again, thanks to all who are helping in making this Easter season an enjoyable one for our "little people."

I would like to thank Emma's Flower Shop of Rockport for the lovely pot plant they gave to us.

A very special "thank you" goes to Mrs. Gilbert Ritz who made miniature Easter baskets filled with candy and presented each resident one.

LIVE OAK SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Irmalee DeForest visited the fourth grades of Live Oak Elementary and showed the children three ancient pots found in Peru. Mrs. DeForest also showed the children a gold ring made in Peru. The classes have been studying the Andes Mountains of South America.

Diana Herman brought a newly laid egg to class and showed the children the porous shell, membrane and beginning embryo. Leslie Miller brought two young chickens to class. The fourth grade science classes have been studying the life cycle of birds and fish.

NO TWO CHILDREN ALIKE

At what age should children learn and be able to do certain things?

Obviously, no two children are alike. One walks and talks earlier than another, and both are normal, healthy children. But there are a few general mileposts from the Texas Medical Association.

--One month -- Can lift chin off table.

--Two months -- Can lift chest off table.

--Three months -- Reaches for objects but without success.

--Four months -- Can sit with support.

--Five months -- Can sit on lap and can grasp small objects.

--Six months -- Can sit in high chair and grasp a dangling object.

--Seven months -- Can sit alone.

Eight months -- Can stand with help.

--Ten months -- Can creep.

--Eleven months -- Can walk if led by one hand.

--Twelve months -- Can pull up and stand with help of furniture.

--Thirteen months -- Can climb up a few stairs.

--Fourteen months -- Can stand alone.

Now -- if your child is either ahead of this schedule or behind it -- there's no point in developing either an unwarranted pride in its precociousness or an unwarranted pessimism over its slowness.

Remember -- no two children are alike.

Use IRS Label and Envelope For Speedier Refund, IRS Says

Austin -- Taxpayers can help speed up any refund due by filing their tax returns now and by using the pre-addressed label and envelope that came with their tax packages, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

Howard C. Longley, acting district director of Internal Revenue for southern Texas, explained that the Austin Service Center can process returns faster if the peel-off lables are used and they arrive in envelopes provided in the tax packages.

"Because this envelope is coded for sorting by special equipment," Longley said, "the Service Center can handle the return faster and get the refund out sooner."

Another advantage to using the envelope in the tax package, according to the IRS spokesman, is that is reduces address mistakes made by the taxpayer who prepares his own envelope.

"If the return can bypass two manual sorting procedures," the IRS director said, "then obviously the processing is faster and the refund is issued that much sooner."

The chief advantage to the label that came with the tax package, according to the tax official, is that the taxpayer's name, address and social security number are printed on it. The possibility of making an error is remote.

"In using the label on the tax package, check the information on it and make certain it is correct," he advised. "If you find an error--for example, your address has changed--simply make the correction right on the label. Then, peel off the label and transfer it to the front of the 1040 or 1040A," he said.

Marriage Calls For Financial Partnership

College Station -- Marriage should be a financial as well as emotional partnership, one family resource management specialist recommended this week.

"To attain this, frank discussions about money available and each partner's desires and needs are necessary," Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System, said.

One important point to remember when figuring income available is to base plans on net income--what's left after taxes, the specialist reminded.

Also, income from all sources needs to be considered.

"Each partner should understand who is to be responsible for paying the bills or balancing the checkbook at the end of the month. Together the couple should list any fixed expenses and outstanding debts, such as loans or installment payments."

One of the best ways to avoid the potential crisis of unexpected bills coming due is to set aside a definite amount of money from each pay period, she noted.

"Fixed expenses to consider are mortgage or rent payments, taxes, insurance premiums or education costs. Savings should also be considered a fixed expense by setting a certain minimum to save and treating this as another fixed expense," the specialist advised.

STATUE OF TRUMAN

INDEPENDENCE, KAN.--A statue of Harry S. NEW LOW-COST VETERANS GROUP LIFE INSURANCE

An estimated 2.7 million Vietnam-era veterans separated from April 2, 1970, through July 31, 1974, are eligible for new low-cost veterans Group Life Insurance (VGLI), But they must apply before August 1, 1975. The new program is designed as interim protection during readjustment to civilian life, according to the Veterans Administration.

Servicemen discharged since August 1 receive application forms automatically, but those discharged before the insurance became available must apply, A.A. Hunter, VA Regional Director, said.

Nonrenewable, five-year term coverage is available in $5,000 increments up to $20,000. Monthly premium for the maximum coverage is $3.40 for veterans aged 34 and under and $6.80 for those 35 and over.

Former servicemen may convert Servicemen's Group Life Insurance to VGLI without medical examination if applications are received within 120 days of separation. Applications after that time must include evidence of good health. This requirement is waived for veterans with VA-rated, service-connected disabilities.

Application forms are available from the Houston VA Regional Office, 2515 Murworth, Houston, Texas 77025, and veterans service organizations. Completed forms and premiums should be sent to the Office of Servicemen's Group Life Insurance, 212 Washington St., Newark, N.J. 07102.

ETRUSCAN ARTISTS - THE GREAT COPIERS

The civilization of a mysterious race of people called the Etruscans has continually fascinated archeologists and art historians. The civilization flourished for 600 years (700 to 100 B.C.) in Tuscany, a lush blend of mountains, valleys and beaches which extends in a triangular fashion from the west coast north of Rome, pointing inland across more than half the width of the Italian penisula.

The Etruscans were the first non-Greek people in Western Europe to develop a higher culture and although they copied much that was Greek, they combined Greek with Eastern culture and adapted it to their own traditions and genius. The Etruscan language which was the language of all the people, has not yet been deciphered, but the 10,000 inscriptions borrowed from the Greek alphabet have provided facts about this obscure race which emigrated from Smyrna in two groups, it is speculated, when famine devastated that near Eastern land.

At the height of its power, the states of the Etruscans extended from the Italian Alps in the north to the Sorrento peninsula in the south. There were 12 independent Etruscan cities. Their elaborate temples were adorned with terra cotta revetments and sculpture which reflected the Greek styles. Their homes had vestibules and atriums and the tombs of the aristocratic Etruscans were luxuriously appointed.

The Etruscans had what can be described as nothing less than a passion for Greek ceramics, especially the Attic vase. Their own metalwork was so outstanding that it was traded throughout the world, as evidenced by the finding of a 6th century cauldron in Sweden. Like the cauldron, the metal tripods, vases, helmets, lamps and incense stands were produced for utilitarian purposes. The carpentry and cabinet work was also exceptional and examples of elaborately carved furniture have been found in Etruscan tombs, along with colored pillows, mattresses and coverlets which hark back to that civilization's heyday.

Products of the 12 cities varied and reflected the preoccupations of their inhabitants. The tomb walls of Tarquinia are covered with painting depicting the sports of hunting and fishing, terra cotta burial urns in Capua have finely carved groups of figures on their lids. Cinerary urns found in Chuisia exhibit the practical nature of the people. One urn is in the form of a seated woman and the head is the stopper (removable). Other urns are in the form of mini-houses with the house door as the opening.

The fortunes of the Etruscans waned and they were forced to fight the Greeks, the Gauls and the Romans. They finally became pirates and by 241 B.C. the Roman ingress marked the end of Etruscan independence. This talented race again proved how adaptable they were by becoming latinized and adopting all the classic art forms of the Augustan Age.

In 1831, Michael Faraday moved a magnet through a coil of copper wire and found that an electric current was produced in the wire. This great discovery is the principle on which all electric motors and dynamos are built.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Command" Performance

Three days before concert time, a rock singer informed the promoter that he had changed his mind about doing the show. The promoter hastened into a local courtroom for help.

"I want a court order commanding him to perform," he said. "That is what he agreed to do when he signed his contract."

But the court denied the promoter's request. The court said it had no authority to force an unwilling man to sing.

This is the law's usual attitude with regard to contracts that call for personal service of one kind or another. Although the courts may award dollar damages for breach of contract, they generally won't force a singer to sing, a painter to paint, or a baseball player to play baseball.

Why? Because, say the courts, it would be too hard to tell whether the performer—acting under compulsion—was really doing a good job or was only going through the motions.

Furthermore, a forced performance is considered too close to involuntary servitude. Courts are reluctant, said one judge, to "turn contracts of service into contracts of slavery." (In that case, he refused to force a dancer to dance.)

Sometimes, however, a court will put indirect pressure on the performer by at least forbidding him to "do his thing" for anybody else. Thus, a basketball star who broke his contract was ordered by a court not to play for another team.

But even this lesser form of pressure is used only if the performer's services are unique—that is, if his employer cannot find a reasonably satisfactory substitute. For example:

A piano company went to court to prevent a disgruntled salesman from going to work for another firm. But the court decided that the circumstances did not justify such a drastic order. The court said the company was not facing any "irreparable harm," since it could hire another salesman to do pretty much the same job.

TV COMMENTARY

By John Smiley

CHER is coming on strong and may be on the way to charming the audience Sonny could not stir. Her recent special, which prefaced her new series, was fifth in the Nielsens.

COMING ON STRONG is vital when it comes to the ratings game. For example, "Archer" came to life on January 30th, lacked strength in the rankings, and expires March 13th. Then there was "Khan." The oriental sleuth discovered America February 7th, drew a boo, and unhappily joined his honorable ancestors February 28th.

AS FAR AS mid-season shows are concerned, it seems one must come on strong or expire.

AS CERTAIN new shows bite the dust, others step out into the main street of TV programming. "We'll Get By" is a new situation comedy on CBS, starring Paul Sorvino and Mitzi Hoag. Another newcomer is "Love Nest," centered around two oldsters sharing unmarried bliss in a trailer park.

NBC is producing a pilot TV-movie called "Woman in Jeopardy," starring Shirley Jones. If the show comes on strong, the network will schedule it as a series and Miss Jones will face a new peril every week. The producer of the show is Ross Hunter, who did such films as "Airport," "Thoroughly Modern Millie" and "Pillow Talk."

FLIP WILSON will appear on NBC April 30th in a special. Joining him will be Sammy Davis, Jr., William Conrad and Helen Reddy.

Hope

Smith: "Hope is really a wonderful thing."
