Election Called Friday, December 21, To Enlarge Junior College District

The Donley County School Board, in a called session on Friday of last week, acted upon petitions presented to them by voters outside the present Clarendon Junior College District, and called an election for Friday, December 21, to vote to enlarge the present junior college district to coincide with the boundaries of the Clarendon Consolidated Independent School District.

Also, at the same session of the County School Board, the Hedley School District petitioned the board to call an election to allow that district to vote to come into the college district. That election will also be on Dec. 21.

There will be two voting places in the Clarendon district. Those people residing in the old Lelia Lake district will vote at Lelia Lake and everyone else who resides outside the college district, but inside the public school district, will vote at Clarendon. Hedley voters, of course, will vote at Hedley.

The vote of the people who reside outside of the Clarendon college district, but inside the public school district, will count as one election even though there will be two voting places. All the votes will be counted as one election and that territory will either come in or stay out as a whole.

The Hedley district, on the other hand, may vote to come in or stay out as a district. The Hedley vote will have no bearing on the other election.

Both the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce and the Clarendon Junior Chamber of Commerce have assured school officials that their organizations will help in enlarging the district. This must be done in order to obtain the necessary funds on which to operate the college as a separate unit from the public schools.

Bulldogs Lose In Odessa Tourney

The Clarendon Junior College Bulldogs participated in the Odessa College Basketball Tournament last week and failed to win in three games. They lost to Odessa College, 79 to 68; to Lubbock Christian College, 66 to 36, and to Schreiner Institute, 73 to 61.

The Bulldogs played well against Odessa in the opener on Thursday night. The host Wranglers pulled away in the last five minutes to win. Jimmy Boyd, a freshman guard from Vernon, led the scoring in this game with 22 points. Bill Bentley made 16 points and Randall Murry made 11.

In Friday's game against Lubbock Christian College, the Bulldogs couldn't do anything right and played perhaps their worst game of the young season. They were behind only 30 to 22 at the half but could score only 14 points during the last 20 minutes. Bentley led the Bulldog scorers in this game with 12 points with Boyd and Max Courtney coming in with eight each.

Saturday's game with the tall Schreiner team was a little better played game on the part of the Bulldogs, but their defensive mistakes spelled their doom. Boyd again led the Bulldogs in scoring with 21 points with Bentley and James Allen making 14 each.

High School Basketball Teams Split Pair With Samnorwood Tuesday

The high school Bronchoettes jumped into a 15-6 first quarter lead and at half time still maintained an 11 point margin as the score at the half was 30-19. Dorothy Richey and Sharon Williams did all of the scoring in the third quarter to keep the local girls in the lead 44-30 entering the final period. The Bronchoette guards pulled their usual series of bad passes, fumbles and give-away game in the last quarter and the Samnorwood girls closed the gap to 40-44 with 5 minutes left on the clock. The Bronchoettes managed to pull the game through, 51-48, as Dorothy Richey tallied 30 points for Clarendon and Darlene Rainey poured in 41 points for the opponents.

The Bronchos took a 42-32 defeat from the Samnorwood Eagles here Tuesday night. Clarendon was ahead the first quarter, 13-4, but a second quarter scoring spurt from the Eagles made it 16-16 at the half. From then on Samnorwood took the lead and held it. High point man for Clarendon was Dwight McAnear with 15, next was Jerry Elmore with 7, John Cearley and Truman Richey with 5. Samnorwoods Lindley put in 17 points for his team's victory.

Miss Patricia Wooten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wooten of this city, was among 36 students at North Texas State who have been named to Who's Who among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Scholarship, character, participation in extra-curricular activities and indication of future usefulness to business and society were the points considered in making the selection.

Miss Wooten was selected from the School of Education Department.

Missionaries To Present Program At Assembly Of God Church Friday

Walter and Elsie Kornelsen will present a program at the Assembly of God Church Friday evening, December 7, at 7:30 p.m. on missionary work being done by the Church in Nigeria, West Africa. The public is invited.

Colored pictures, native costumes and curios will be used in presenting the message.

Rev. Kornelsen has spent one term in Liberia as a missionary and two terms in Nigeria. The Kornelsens have pioneered and helped open more than 139 churches in Nigeria in the past nine years.

Rev. Kornelsen has some of the best missionary pictures to come from Africa. These are very educational, informative and entertaining.

Bulldogs Play Wayland Frosh Monday Night

Coach Don Dorman's CJC Bulldogs will play their second home game of the season here next Monday night against the Wayland College Freshmen.

The Bulldogs won their first two games of the season against Sayre, Oklahoma, but ran into stronger competition in the Odessa College Tournament last week and lost three games which brings their season's record to 2-3.

The Bulldogs are suffering from inexperience and lack of height. They have one tall boy, 6-8 Max Courtney, but from there the height ranges from 6-2 down. Courtney, Alvin Scott, Bill Bentley and Joe Lennon are the only boys on the squad with any previous college experience. Courtney and Scott were occasional starters last year but neither Bentley nor Lennon saw much service. This forces Coach Dorman to have to depend heavily upon freshmen.

Some of the freshmen who are being counted upon are Jimmy Boyd, James Starkey, Randall Murry, James Allen and LeRoy Garrett. Boyd is currently the top scorer on the team although he missed one game and was slowed considerably in the tournament last week with a sprained ankle. He made 51 points in the three tournament games and seems destined to become a dependable performer for the team. Allen and Starkey will improve with experience as will Murry and Garrett. Other boys on the squad include Garland Lancaster, Hubert Bronniman and Sammy Johnston.

Probable starters for Monday nights game will be Courtney, Scott, Bentley, Starkey and Boyd. Game time is eight o'clock.

Rev. B. F. Todd of Fresno, Calif., visited his mother, Mrs. A. P. Todd, Monday through Thursday of last week and also visited relatives in Amarillo.

The development and administration of the new land-use adjustment programs authorized under the new Food and Agriculture Act of 1962 and will be the responsibility of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Basketball Teams Will Host Turkey

Local fans will have a chance to see the high school basketball teams perform next Tuesday night, Dec. 11th. Game time is set for 7:00 p.m. This will be the last home game for both teams until they begin conference play with McLean here on Jan. 15th.

Both teams will travel to Claude tomorrow night. This will be the first meeting for the boys' teams this season and they are probably evenly matched, but the strong Mustangettes will probably prove to be too much for the Bronchoettes, as the local girls were defeated in the last meeting to the tune of 52 to 28.

Last Friday night both boys' and girls' teams took easy wins from Lakeview. The Bronchoettes jumped into an easy 14-4 first quarter lead that allowed the substitutes to get some valuable experience. At half time the score was 23-15. Jeanette Rampey, a sophomore guard on last year's team found her mark for 21 big points as pivot forward. Sophomore Dorothy Richey had to sit out the last quarter with five fouls, after she had tallied 18 points. Another sophomore, Regina Borden put in 11 while Sandra Longan, freshman, had 5 and Cheryl Fredric, a freshman, layed in 2 well handled shots for her 4 points.

The guard end was sparked by junior Connie Martin's high geared tactics, with some outstanding work from seniors Mollie Floyd and Janie Ivey, sophomore Ann Mills, juniors Melissa Patterson and Pat Banister and Karen Hill, a sophomore. The final tally was Clarendon 59 and Lakeview 34.

FINCH WINS SHOTGUN

Clearing Weather Improves Cotton Harvest Outlook

Crop gathering has been at a stand-still the past several days due to the foggy, rainy conditions which have plagued the area and left a total of .59 inch of moisture to start the month of December off good in the moisture column which is not relished by the cotton farmer at this time.

The late fall has assisted in producing a better crop than had been anticipated but unless the weather turns for better crop gathering conditions, prospects of a better turnout may be reversed. Only a small percent of the cotton crop has been gathered to date so if drying conditions prevail, gin yards will be overflowing within a very short time.

Today, December the 6th, is the big bull sale at the fair grounds in Clarendon. Flip Breedlove, County Agent and secretary and manager of the show, says that Col. Walter Britten, Auctioneer, will start the sale promptly at 12:30 noon.

Seventy-six head of bulls are in the barns and all groomed up and ready for the sale. Fifty-two Herefords, eleven Angus and thirteen Galloway bulls will go through the auction ring. The first bull to sell in each breed will be the grand champion sale bull of each breed. These will be followed by the reserve champions and then according to classification. The bulls will be sold by breeds and each breed completed before starting to sell the other breed.

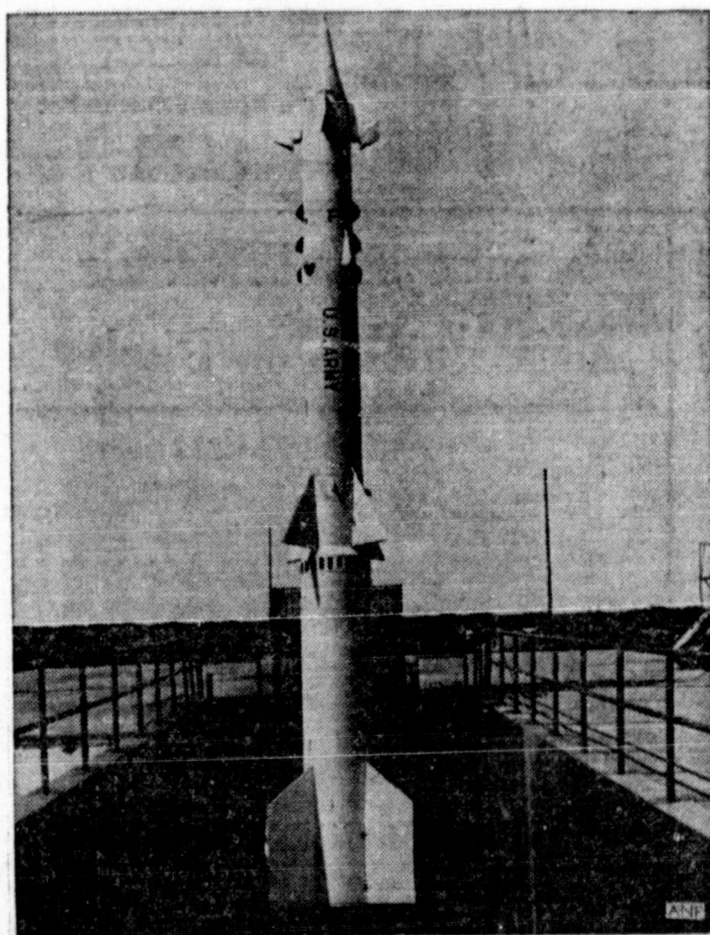

W. H. Cooke, III, president of the organization of The Rolling Plains Registered Beef Cattle Association says that the offering of bulls this year is one of the best we have ever had and some good herd bull prospects will be offered. Everyone is invited to the sale.

Also if you know of any youngster that might be left out at Christmas please call any of the local ministers or any member of the Jaycees so that their name might be put on Santa's list.

U. S. ARMY'S NIKE ZEUS anti-missile missile has a new look. The new configuration has shorter, more blunt control surfaces replacing triangular fins near the nose of the missile. During a recent test firing at White Sands Missile Range, N. M., the new fins resulted in a considerable increase in performance of the Zeus. Western Electric Company is prime contractor for the Zeus system. Bell Telephone Laboratories has design and development responsibilities and Douglas Aircraft builds the missile.

REDFIELD, IOWA, REVIEW-SENTINEL: "Do you know how much less income (Federal) tax you would be paying, if there were no national debt? If your income tax is $1000 in 1963 — and there was no interest to pay, the budget would be balanced and you would have to pay only $898. — Excessive interest payments can break the back of an industry — it can do the same to government, or the individual taxpayer."

One Rural Accident Investigated In County

The Highway Patrol investigated one rural accident in Donley County during the month according to Sergeant J. W. Wilson, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

This wreck accounted for an estimated property damage of $715.00.

The rural accident summary for Donley County from January through October of 1962 shows a total of 31 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were two persons killed and 22 persons injured. The estimated property damage amounted to $20,125.00.

We are on the threshold of November and December which signals the start of our Holiday season and the cold grim "Traffic Facts." During the last five years there has been a total of 11,902 traffic fatalities in Texas. Of this total 2,354 or 20% were killed during the months of November and December. For the year thus far there has been 1,841 traffic fatalities as compared to 1,766 for the same period of 1961, an increase of 75 or 4% with deadly November and December yet to come.

"These cold grim traffic facts alone are a challenge for every responsible citizen throughout this state to join in an all out effort to stop this needless tragedy this Holiday Season. This can be done by obeying all traffic laws and being a defensive driver; that is, be prepared for the unpredictable actions of the other driver," stated the veteran Patrol Supervisor.

It is reliably estimated that scholarships totaling more than $300 million a year are available to college students.

CHAMBERLAIN CENTER

From the American Medical Association News: "There are elderly people who need help. They should be helped and they are being helped. But the evidence is overwhelming that the majority of the aged are caring for themselves, that the financial situation of the elderly is getting better rather than worse, and that a federal tax to pay for the aged's health care would be an unfair burden on younger wage earners. The melancholy picture of the elderly is a fraud. It is a crude caricature and should be seen for what it is — an insult to the aged and a disservice to the nation."

Land Bank Reduces
Interest To Borrowers

The Federal Land Bank of Houston has announced that effective on January 1, 1963, it will reduce temporarily to 5% the interest rate on all outstanding loans which presently bear a rate in excess of 5%. The contract rate on new loans will continue to be 5½% but interest on loans closed on and after December 1, 1962, will be billed temporarily at 5% until further notice by the bank.

In making the announcement, Hal Weatherford, President of the Bank, said that of its $260 million of loans outstanding more than $100 million bear contract rates in excess of 5% and that the savings to Texas farmers and ranchers by this action will be more than a half million dollars in the year 1963 alone. Weatherford said this is the fourth time the Bank has voluntarily reduced the interest on its outstanding loans.

The Houston bank makes long-term farm and ranch loans through 73 Federal Land Bank Associations located throughout Texas. The one serving this area is the Federal Land Bank Association of Memphis, located in Memphis, Texas and of which Mr. M. E. McNally, Jr., is manager. Mrs. Jane Bownds of the Donley County Abstract Company serves as local contact representative in Clarendon.

MONEY IN YOUR POCKET

Some people may think that retail business doesn't change much — that it just consists of buying a stock of goods, adding on a profit, and welcoming the customers.

That is a far cry from the case. Retail business is affected, directly and strongly, by the vast technological changes of our age.

One interesting example is cited in an editorial in Chain Store Age. It has to do with push-button warehouses. It says: "... the need to streamline chain store warehousing operations becomes more pressing every day. The fight to keep merchandise moving, to keep inventories low, to increase productivity has always been waged by the chains, but today's competitive pressures make it more imperative than ever to win that fight."

Like all changes and developments, this one has built-in problems. A push-button warehouse is extremely expensive and questions of labor-management relations enter in. So there won't be an overnight changeover from standard warehousing methods. But the hope is that solutions to the problems will be found, and that automation will bring about greater efficiency and reduced costs.

The consumer may never see a push-button warehouse or any other kind of warehouse. But he has real interest. For he, alone, must pay the costs that are a part of retailing.

ALGAE ON FLOWER POTS CAN BE CONTROLLED

College Station — Nurserymen and florists and to a lesser degree home gardeners have faced the continuing problem of algae on clay flower pots which left the pots unattractive and in instances cut sales.

Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, reports that U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists have been able to control the algae effectively through the use of a commonly used commercial disinfectant. The disinfectant is a 10-percent solution of a quaternary ammonium compound (para di-isobutyl phenoxyl ethoxy ethyl dimethyl benzyl ammonium chloride).

A 1 percent solution of this active ingredient, used as a dip, kept flower pots free of algae for 24 weeks in tests conducted by the scientists, Smith said. The dip can be prepared by adding nine parts of tap water to one part of the commercial disinfectant.

In the tests, a .5 (five tenths) percent solution controlled algae for 12 weeks on new pots but was seldom effective for longer than six weeks on used pots.

The researchers said the solution is selective in its action. It had no significant effect on test plants growing in treated pots. It did, however, nullify the usual effect of phosfon, a plant-growth regulator sometimes used to shorten chrysanthemum stems without changing bloom size.

When chrysanthemum pots were sprayed with a solution containing both phosfon and the disinfectant, the algae were controlled but plant-stem growth was not retarded. The scientists suggested, therefore, that florists apply the dip only to the outer surface of pots in which phosfontreated chrysanthemums are grown.

LP GAS SAFE IF HANDLED PROPERLY

College Station—LP gas, or liquefied petroleum gas, is now being used more and more on Texas farms and ranches as a fuel for tractors and for household purposes, says Henry O'Neal, extension agricultural engineer, Texas A&M College. As with any combustible fuel, safety precautions are necessary when using LP gas to prevent injury and damage by explosion or fire, O'Neal adds.

One important precaution is to locate the tank at least 50 feet from any major building and 20 feet from other tanks containing flammable liquids, according to O'Neal. Also, the tank should be located so that it is isolated from open fires, sparks and other sources of ignition.

If a pump is used on the tank, erect a low fence around it to prevent accidental damage to the pump, hose connections, and the pipe fittings which may cause dangerous leaks.

Low spots and holes around the tank should be filled because LP gas is heavier than air and gas that leaks from the tank will settle in these low spaces and become a fire hazard, O'Neal says.

If leaks are suspected in the tank they should not be detected by using a flame, he warns. Keep away from the tank and call the local service man.

LP gas is a fuel and should never be used for cleaning purposes or to inflate tires.

According to O'Neal, LP gas is a safe fuel and can be used without fear of explosion or fire if proper care and safety practices are observed.

WINSLOW, ARIZ., MAIL: "There was a time when forests were devastated by loggers and lumbering companies, greedy to get the last dollar from this growing wealth. Now the picture is much different. Only certain mature trees are taken for lumber and almost everything but the bark is being used for one beneficial use or another... It is heartening that among other advances made in our scientific age, nature's wood products are now being utilized to such a great extent."

responsibility of various segments of the coordinated Rural Areas Development (RAD) program.

The objectives of the long-range land-use adjustment programs assigned primarily to ASCS are to help farmers and ranchers to:

A. Permanently convert to other productive use land regularly used in but not suited for the production of crops.

B. Permanently convert to other productive use land regularly used in the production of crops that is suited to that use only occasionally.

C. Convert to other uses land used in, and suited for, production of crops, but not currently needed for crops.

"These new programs," he said, "will enable farmers to expand grasslands, and to develop recreational use of private lands."

To encourage farmers to participate in long-range land-use changes, the Department can offer them transition or adjustment payments to lessen the immediate economic impact of the change from crops to other uses, as well as cost-sharing, including materials, services, and other assistance they may need for conservation measures.

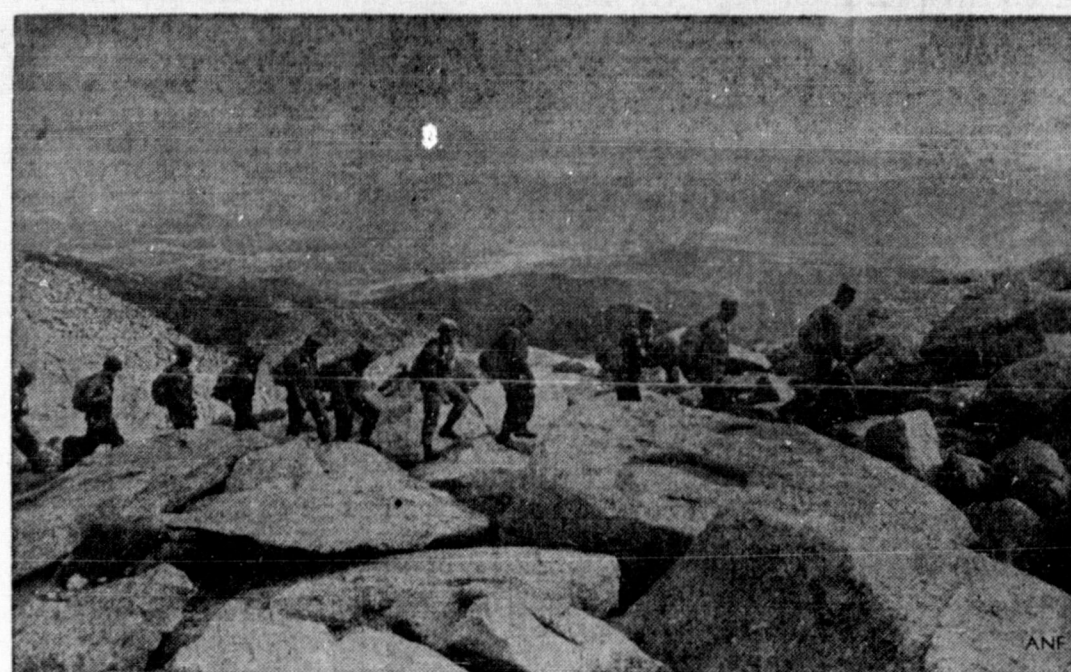

"Agreements with farmers and ranchers to convert land to non-crop uses will be made at the local level by the ASC county committees. The agreements will be based on farm conservation plans which farmers have developed in cooperation with local soil and water conservation districts and with technical help from the Soil Conservation Service.

Deadline Nears For Wheat Diversion Program

December 14 is the last day for signing up under the 1963 wheat stabilization program for farms in the winter wheat area. This means that only about 6 days remain in which growers may file application to take part in the 1963 wheat stabilization program.

Farmers who participate in the 1963 program will be eligible to receive special payments for voluntarily diverting a part of their allotment or base acreage from the production of wheat and devoting that acreage to a conservation use, and they will also qualify for extra price support payments and for the regular price support loan or purchase agreements.

Under this voluntary wheat reduction program, farmers may divert from 20 to 50 percent of their wheat allotment or base acreage, with special diversion provisions for small farms. The diverted acreage must be devoted to an approved conservation use.

NEAR THE TOP—Approaching the summit of Pikes Peak are members of the 5th Infantry Division Noncommissioned Officers Academy Mountain Rescue Team, who climbed the 14,110 ft. peak in a two-day hike recently. Leading the way are 2d Lt. Evan Marshall and Harold G. Sorenson, civilian mountain climbing instructor. The trek was just another training exercise for the veteran Fort Carson, Colo., rock climbers who completed six rescue missions in the region during the past year. Elements of the 5th Division (Mechanized) will take cold weather and mountain climbing training this winter.

Growers are cautioned, however, to sign up for only the amount of acreage they intend to divert from 1963 production. Failure to divert the full amount of acreage signed up would result in loss of diversion and price support payments, as well as loss of eligibility for the regular wheat price support loan or purchase agreement.

Cotton Quota Polling Places Set

Polling places where Donley County farmers may cast ballots in the referendum on marketing quotas for the 1963 upland cotton crop were announced recently. The referendum will be held on Tuesday, December 11.

The polling places are located as follows:

A & C Communities — County ASCS Office

B Community — Paymaster Gin, Martin

D & E Communities — Pointer's Drug Store, Lelia Lake

F & G Communities — West Texas Gin, Hedley

H Community (West part) — Jesse Grogan's home, Alanreed

H Community (East part) — Bernard McClellan's home, McLean

Polls will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Every effort has been made to inform farmers fully about the allotment-quota program, so that the outcome of the referendum may represent the considered opinion of all the voters. Farmers eligible to cast ballots are all those who engaged in the production of upland cotton crop of 1962. Approval by at least two-thirds of the growers voting is necessary if the quotas are to go into effect.

Issues to be decided in the Dec. 11 referendum are (1) quotas or not quotas, and (2) the level of price support to be available for the 1963 cotton crop.

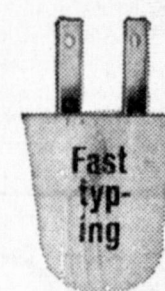

Remember this is important, both you and your wife should go to the polls and vote.

Our favorite letter during the Thanksgiving Season came from a long time reader who lives at 307 N. East St. in Oberlin, Kansas. She is an ex-teacher, a poet, and on top of all that an inspiration to each of us who have written to her in these many years. Her name is Miss Dorothy Johnson. Her trouble has been the crippling arthritis which now is threatening to leave her helpless to walk at all. Write to her, and pray with us that she will walk again. The rest of the story comes from her letter and from the poem which she wrote special for us. She says: "It is good to 'think Thanks' every day in the year and to express them too, but it is also good to have the special day during this beautiful time of year for a special time of thanks. My legs have played hooky and refuse to carry me these days. I couldn't walk much before, but I do miss the steps I could take even though painful. It seems to be something I have to accept for now anyway, but I am trying to keep the door of hope wide open. I think of those who have spent many of their good years in bed and am grateful for what I have had. Thanks for keeping faith with us."

The above quote from her letter gives us the background for the poem to follow. Remember that it is written with the thought in mind that she may not walk again. But, with all her might holding the door of hope wide open.

Between now and Christmas please write to Dorothy. The answer you receive will bless your heart as well. Too, be sure and remember her in your prayers that the hope to which she clings will become a reality. And Now The Poem.

WALKING

By Dorothy Johnson
Walk in warm sunshine and through falling rain;
Walk in soft moonbeams to a starlit refrain,
Walk in the wind, and the cold, and the snow,
And walking with God wherever you go.
Walk in humility, but with honest pride;
Walk with good will, and with purposeful stride,
Walk joyfully and lovingly — straight and tall,
Walk in sweet springtime and the glorious fall.
Walk with a child and with a puppy dog;
Walk in serene faith through misty fog.
Walk with patience through pain or sorrow;

Walk hopefully toward a bright tomorrow.
Walk in worship, in work, and in play;
Walk for others — hold a hand along the way,
Be grateful for the steps you take, and then,
Keep faith with those who would walk again.

LIBRARY NOTES:

EDITH BARNES

Most of you who read Ann Lander's column in the newspaper don't agree with her every time but over a period of time she hits the nail on the head a lot more than she misses.

The same is true of her book "Since You Ask Me." The chapters on teenagers should be read and reread by parents, teenagers and all others who have an interest in the younger generation, which should mean all of us!

A few quotes from this part of the book: "I do not believe children should be terrified of their parents (as some of us were) but neither should parents be terrified of their children." "... if you expect consideration and respect from your children, you must give it. Children have rights and you must acknowledge and respect them."

"Your major job as a parent is to equip your child to lead an independent, productive, useful life. Live with your child not for him. For the most part, let him take his own lumps but don't let him jump off a cliff to learn first hand what's at the bottom. Be firm but fair. Respect him and his rights and you won't have to worry about his respect for you."

If there are any gout sufferers around, "My Bout With Gout" by John Kobler in the October 6 issue of "The Saturday Evening Post" is a must.

Quoting: "... I say proper treatment because, some doctors are evidently still unfamiliar with the remarkable and mysterious drug probenecid, Benemid,

CHECK THE RULES BEFORE YOU HUNT THE BONUS DEER

AUSTIN — Many hunters still do not know how to use the bonus deer tag attached to their regular hunting license this year. Here's the way it works, according to H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary for the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

First of all, it can be used ONLY on antlerless or doe deer. It cannot be used on buck deer. Before you can use this bonus tag you must have an antlerless deer permit. The antlerless deer permit can be obtained only from the landowner on whose land you are hunting. You MUST have this antlerless deer permit before you can kill an antlerless or doe deer.

As soon as you get your antlerless or doe deer the bonus tag must be tied along with the permit to the foreleg of the deer. You can use your other two tags on antlerless deer so long as each has an antlerless deer permit to go with it. The bonus tag is located by itself at the far left of your license. The bonus tag and the antlerless or doe deer permit are two entirely different forms.

Before you kill an antlerless or doe deer, be sure to check with the landowner and get your permit. Remember, you CANNOT use the third, or bonus, deer tag on buck deer. Only the two tags together at the far right of your licenses can be used for bucks. The antlerless or doe permits can ONLY be obtained from the landowner on whose property you intend to hunt.

WHEN SOCIETY'S IN TROUBLE

Life magazine quotes a man who, after a varied career, is president of a major commercial airline at the surprisingly young age of 36, as being resentful of a too protective society. In his words, "Free enterprise... lets the cream top out. Suppress this, make everybody a common man, and society's in trouble."

The paternalistic state, the welfare state, the all-powerful state, no matter what name we give to it, is designed to treat everybody as a common man. By implication, if not by admission, the supporters of this kind of a state are arguing that people are too stupid, too foolish, or too incompetent to take care of themselves, and that only a central government can be trusted to do that for them.

And that is certainly a reason why our society is in trouble — and why there are signs of possible deeper troubles ahead. We can't adopt socialism, as we are doing, and remain a free nation.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

since last January's special session.

The once-dark, dusky setting for the biennial battle of State lawmakers had been transformed in their absence. Every desk, chair and table had been refinished to a glowing light oak shade. Shiny new seats replaced the drab, worn ones in the balcony. And the brass rails were gleaming.

Most noticeable was a new $20,000 gold wool carpet with a brown Seal of Texas woven into the section installed directly in front of the speaker's stand.

SENATE PAY PROBLEM — About one-third of the House now have qualified for the 58th Legislature and have been added to the payroll. But the 10 new senators-elect probably won't start drawing their $400 monthly pay until January 8, when the 1963 session begins.

A recent ruling by the attorney general that "members of the Legislature" now could qualify for the payroll brought inquiries from seven new senators as to whether they would be included. The term "Legislature" also applies to senate members.

But Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo, acting lieutenant governor, and several other senior senators said the official opening date has been the customary time for senators to take office and they think the custom should stand.

SENATE SWEEPSTAKES — A small glass bowl and an handful of tiny capsules will decide the political destiny of Texas Senators, come January.

Once each 10 years, Texas' 81 senators must "draw straws" to determine who will serve a four year term, and who will serve for two years.

Drawing is required by the state constitution.

Normally, half the state senate is elected for 4-year terms, overlapping with the other half which still has two years left to serve. However, after each 10-year census and redistricting of the Legislature, all the senators must run for office.

Last time such a drawing occurred was in 1953.

Nine senators who will face the glass bowl in January were around that year, and five of them drew two-year terms then.

Ten senators will start serving their first term in January, and one other will be attending his first regular session in the upper chamber.

BILLS-DRAFTING UNDERWAY — Business really has picked up in the Texas Legislative Council the past two weeks. House committees turned to the TLC many recommendations for the 58th Legislature to consider. They provided the state's research unit with grist for numerous bills to be presented in January.

House Committee on Saving Taxes, headed by Sen. George Parkhouse, received a lot of attention during its hearings. Subjects under discussion included:

A recommendation by the committee to end taxes on intangible property, such as mortgages on homes and stocks and bonds. Dallas tax collector Norman Register claimed this would cost his city $3,500,000 annually.

Revision of regulation of the railroad industry, which is governed by about 300 state statutes, some of them outmoded.

Adoption of a merit salary plan for public school teachers. The committee's education subcommittee suggested keeping the present minimum salary scale and basing future changes on a cost-of-living index.

A recommendation by the subcommittee on highways and roads to keep two license plates on vehicles. Although the state would save $200,000 annually by using only one plate per vehicle, police officials believe identification is easier with two.

THE DISTAFF SIDE — Only one woman will be seated in the Senate and two in the House of Representatives come January.

They are: Sen. Nevelle H. Colson of Navasota, Rep. Myra D. Banfield of Rosenberg, and Rep. Maud Isaacks of El Paso.

The small percentage of women legislators (1-30 in the senate and 2-148 in the house) is par for the course in state government.

Although about 5,020,770 of Texas' 9,960,000 citizens are women, only 50 women are among the 561 appointees on 87 state boards and commissions — less than 9 per cent — and there are no women on the 30 boards and authorities which govern the state's waterways.

Gov.-elect John B. Connally stated in his campaign platform that he advocated "the appointment and selection of women in those areas of government in which the moral tone of the community is directly affected."

Several state agencies guided by gubernatorial appointees are responsible for the "moral tone" of the community, including: The Texas Youth Council, Department of Public Safety, State Liquor Control Board, Board of Corrections and Department of Public Welfare.

If women in Texas ask to share this responsibility, 1963 may be a political leap year.

OIL SUBGROUPS NAMED — A recently named advisory committee of the Texas Railroad Commission has set up three committee subdivisions.

A liaison subdivision headed by J. E. Kendall of San Antonio includes J. W. Collins, Amarillo; C. G. Condra, Ft. Worth; J. I. O'Neill, Midland; Fred W. Shield, San Antonio; and E. Bruce Street, Graham.

A legal and drafting subdivision is headed by Attorney J. K. Smith of Ft. Worth. On the committee are A. R. Ballou, Dallas; F. H. Pannill, Midland; C. E. Thompson, McAllen; and H. R. Thompson, Houston.

The third division, a technical group, is headed by R. Clair Underwood, Wichita Falls.

Serving on this committee are M. D. Abel, Midland; E. T. Adair, Ft. Worth; Lester Clark, Breckenridge; J. W. Crutchfield, Corpus Christi; Roland Gouldy, Wichita Falls; Gene Howell, El Paso; J. C. Hunter Jr., Abilene; Ed Keller, Houston; N. E. Loomis, Longview; and John Lynch, Houston.

Liaison subdivision, says Pres. James B. Russell of Abilene, will work closely with the Railroad Commission, the Texas Research League and other associations or bodies concerned with oil and gas regulations.

TEN-POINT PROGRAM — The governor's Committee on Children and Youth is prepared to make several recommendations to Gov. Price Daniel. They include:

Expansion of the state juvenile parole program of the Texas Youth Council.

Creation of a state home for dependent and neglected Negro children who cannot be placed in foster homes.

down.

Recommendations are based on reports from several committee members who also are representatives of state agencies.

JUVENILE JURISDICTION — Juvenile courts lose jurisdiction over minor delinquents who come of age before the court can commit them to the Texas Youth Council.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said that juvenile court "after judging a minor to be delinquent and placing him in temporary custody of his parents, has no jurisdiction once the minor attains the age of 17 in the case of a male, and 18 in the case of a female."

CENTRAL STATE OFFICE — The state's 24 licensing boards may soon be placed under a single administrative agency.

That's the recommendation being considered by a special House interim committee studying operations of the boards.

Now each board has its own administrative office.

The Texas House committee is studying states that reportedly save money by having a central office, thus pooling secretarial and clerical help.

Under the proposed plan, each board would continue to conduct its own examination of applicants.

HISTORICAL MEDALLIONS — The Texas Historical Survey Committee awarded historical building medallions to 17 buildings noted for their place in Texas history.

Included were the John Dewberry home near Bullard; Gary House near Starrville; Gingerbread House in Chireno; Leverett House in Overton; the county courthouse at Dickens; Halfway House near Chireno; the W. A. Brown home in Jacksonville, and Shelby County Courthouse in Center.

Also, the Moores-Watts-Pryor home in Texarkana; First United Presbyterian Church at Ballinger; Central Christian Church in Nocona; Fort McKavitt near Menard; Episcopal Church in Graham; Mission San Saba; First National Bank in Jacksboro, and Field Officers' Headquarters at Fort Richardson.

TEXAS STANDS SEVENTH — Texas tied with Georgia, New Jersey and Tennessee for 7th place among the "Top Ten" States in industrial development for September.

Twenty-five new plants were opened in 21 towns, according to the Texas Industrial Commission. Small towns such as Center, Big Spring, Hallsville, Hallettsville, Knox City, Willis Point and Yantis, as well as big cities, were successful in attracting industry.

CAMPAIGN COSTS TOLD — Democrat John Connally spent less to win the November general election than did his defeated opponent, Jack Cox.

Expense reports filed with the Secretary of State show Connally spent $193,740.

Cox reported spending a total of $261,072.

SCREW WORMS WIDE-SPREAD — Dr. John L. Wilbur Jr. of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture's Animal Disease Eradication Division reported that all but 13 counties were infested by screwworms in the period from September 23 to October 27.

Screwworm-free counties were Ector, Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Camp, Cass, Marion, San Augustine, Sabine, Jasper, Newton and Orange.

Under the screwworm eradication program, 351,551,050 sterile flies were released in October in an area bordered by Terrell County on the west; Coleman, Brown and Comanche counties on the north; Calhoun County on the east and the Mexico border on the south.

LCRA VALUE INCREASED — The Lower Colorado River Authority increased its assets by $967,266 during the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1962. Assets now total $74,612,618. The Authority's net worth increased from $3,500,000 to $26,048,937.

Revenues from plants at Austin, Buchanan, Granite Shoals, Inks, Mansfield, Marble Falls, Comal, Kerrville and the new Gulf Coast Water division totaled $540,404, while expenses ran $418,103.

LCRA's books have balanced in a similar manner since 1958 — about a half-million annually for expenses and a half-million annually in revenue.

EIGHT FIELDS "SLANTED" — The slant-hole scandal has spread into eight fields in seven East and South Texas counties.

Latest summation by the Texas Railroad Commission indicates 212 illegally deviated wells have been discovered by inclination tests in 127 leases in the eight fields.

Involved so far are the sprawling East Texas field, with wells in Rusk, Gregg and Upshur Counties, Coke, Hawkins and Quitman fields in nearby Wood County; Danville field in Rusk County; Friendswood - Webster field in Harris County; Ganado field in Jackson County; and Hopson field in Karnes County.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Capital city folks already are getting "Inauguration Fever."

"Inaugural plans for Governor-elect John B. Connally will be far more elaborate than any held in the past decade." So reports Frank Erwin, secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, who is in charge of arrangements.

Festivities will begin the evening of January 14 when 5,000 Democrats are expected to pay $25 a plate for a Victory Dinner in Austin's Municipal Auditorium.

On the morning of the 15th, there will be an interfaith Prayer Breakfast in the Driskill Hotel.

At noon Governor-elect Connally and Lieutenant Governor-elect Preston Smith will be "sworn in" in a ceremony supervised by the State Senate and House of Representatives.

Inaugural parade, following the ceremony, is expected to be one of the largest ever held in Austin. High school bands from all over the state are accepting Connally's invitation to participate. Many out-of-town floats also will participate. Also taking part will be the U. S. Navy, with a salute to its former secretary, John Connally.

The Capitol and all state buildings on its grounds will be illuminated that evening. All Texans will be invited to greet their new chief executive and other elected state officials and enjoy refreshments and entertainment in the Capitol.

This gala evening event is a brand new innovation.

DRAFT CALL UP — The State Selective Service director says Texas' December draft quota calls for 235 men.

This is an increase of 82 over November.

Col. Morris Schwartz said the December call is the state's share of a national quota of 6,000 men, all for the Army.

Local boards will send no men for pre-induction physical and mental exams.

Schwartz said the December quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on December 1, except for volunteers and those legally termed delinquent under the draft law.

SHORT SNORTS

Governor Daniel has named Jenkins Gerrett of Fort Worth to succeed Lincoln Borglum of Beeville as a member of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee of the Texas Historical Foundation.

Sen. Tom Creighton, chairman of the Texas Election Study Committee, says public hearings will be held in Austin on December 6-8 to discuss changes in the Texas Election Code.

The Board for Hospitals and Special Schools has voted unanimously to make Richmond the next site of a school for the mentally retarded.

The two per cent general sales tax is meeting estimates of its sponsors. Taxes on cigarettes, hotels, natural gas, motor vehicles sales and inheritances are exceeding expectations.

Ernest O. Thompson, who has served on the Texas Railroad Commission longer than any other man, is back at his desk after a long illness.

Society to Abolish Capital Punishment has announced that legislation will be introduced in January in a new effort to abolish the death penalty. . . . House general investigating committee has ordered a contempt of the Legislature citation drawn against former Gregg County Judge Earl Sharp for his failure to appear at a committee hearing.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

FEDERAL EXPENDITURES

The highly controversial subject of Federal expenditures has received much attention this election year. It occurred to me that the people of our District might be interested in knowing the extent of Federal money flowing into the District, both as direct expenditures and under the Federal Loan and Insurance Programs. Our office made a complete breakdown of this subject matter as applied to the 18th Congressional District of Texas. It was interesting to note that had all of the Congressional Districts received the same Federal money, loans and insurance, as our own 18th, the Federal Budget would have been some 40 billion dollars in arrears. In other words, the Federal deficit would have been

PROPER DIAGNOSIS AIDS PLANT DISEASE CONTROL

COLLEGE STATION-- Should disease strike your crops, shrubbery, or lawn plants, an accurate diagnosis is essential in planning a preventive program. Aid in diagnosis can be obtained by consulting your county agent, nurseryman or pest control operator. Texas A&M College operates diagnostic laboratories at College Station and Weslaco.

A plant pathologist is available for consultation at each of the laboratories, says Dr. David W. Rosberg, head, Department of Plant Physiology and Pathology, Texas A&M College. The pathologists are anxious to work with the growers of Texas on plant disease control problems and Rosberg offers the following suggestions to aid growers in making the most efficient use of the laboratories.

In order for the pathologists to make an accurate diagnosis, they must have certain information regarding the plant trouble. Rosberg suggest that the local county agent be contacted and that copies of MP-512, "Identifying Plant Diseases" and Plant Disease Diagnostic Laboratory form D-418 be obtained. Growers should follow the outlined directions in mailing specimen to the nearest laboratory.

What can you expect from this free diagnostic service? If possible, the pathologists will give a tentative diagnosis and suggest a program to bring the plant disease under control. Frequently, Rosberg says, it is necessary to make additional tests to determine the cause of the trouble. In any case, he continues, the laboratory will get a report back to the grower as soon as possible.

Additional information on the free service is available from the local county agent or from the extension plant pathologist at College Station, Harlan E. Smith or Robert C. Lambe at Weslaco.

TEXAS HORSES FEWER BUT WORTH MORE

COLLEGE STATION — Since the days of trail drives and the walking cultivator the horse has taken on a new role in the U. S. and even in the great cattle state of Texas. According to Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M College, the number of horses in Texas and the U. S. is steadily declining and there are more and more leaving the cattle trail for the working stock is legendary, horses are becoming pleasure animals, are being placed in more shows and used more for just plain riding. Their numbers declined on Texas farms and ranches about 27 percent between 1954 and 1960, the specialist says. However, the total for the U. S. decreased some 36 percent during the same period and the Lone Star State still has more horses than any other.

But with this lessening in numbers has come an increase in the average farm value of horses. In Texas the average farm value of horses increased an amazing 187 percent between 1954 and 1960 while the U. S. average increased only 37 percent.

This makes Texas horses worth about 31 million dollars, Uvacek points out. In 1960 the state average farm value per head was $126 or about $13 higher than the U. S. average. In this year horses accounted for 3 percent of the total livestock value in Texas which was more than all the goats or all the hogs, Uvacek says.

Thus while horses are generally becoming fewer, Texas can brag that it has the most, with the largest total farm value and worth more each than the nation's average horse.

VENTS REMOVE MOISTURE FROM HOMES

College Station — Cool weather means hunting season, and warm glowing fires and heaters and open flames mean the return of the annual problem of sweating walls and windows, according to W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer, Texas A&M College.

A considerable amount of moisture is given off when open flame heaters are burned, he says. When this moisture contacts a cold surface it condenses to a liquid state, the sweating you see.

To solve this problem all gas heating systems, gas refrigerators, dryers and water heaters should be vented, Allen says. This can be best done in a new house when it is built or when an old one is remodeled, but it is sometimes possible to vent space heaters through a closet or old chimney. But some condensation will still occur if the open flame type heater is used.

Allen also suggests the use of good insulation when new homes are built and where practical it can be installed in older houses.

Properly venting of stoves, clothes dryers, water heaters, sinks, dishwashing areas and shower areas will solve the moisture problem in many homes. Check your appliances today to see if they can be vented to prevent mildew and sweating in those areas of the house where excess moisture occurs, says Allen.
