INSURGENT VICTORY NEAR

Momentum Of Voting Gains Before Noon

Total Of 1150 Votes Cast At 1:30; Mayor And Two City Commissioners Named

Approximately 1150 votes had been cast at 1:30 today in the election to choose a mayor and two members of the city commission.

Balloting had gained momentum steadily almost from the moment the polls opened at 8 a. m. at Central fire station at the city hall, election officials said.

Candidates Are Listed

Candidates from among whom voters were choosing are, in the order they are printed on the ballot:

For mayor—Pink L. Parrish, former state senator, and C. E. Slaton, automobile tire dealer.

For commissioner, place No. 1—L. D. Pup Thomas, tailor, and W. B. Price, incumbent.

For commissioner, place 3—A. S. Jackson, real estate dealer; L. R. Rampy, roofing contractor; and Hub Jones, automobile dealer.

George Has Withdrawn

The name of T. J. George, linen supply dealer, also is printed on the ballot as a candidate for place 3, but he withdrew several days ago.

Present members of the city commission, additional to Price, are Mayor Ross Edwards, and Commissioners W. G. McMillan, J. A. Fortenberry and A. J. Richardson. Richardson's term expires.

Pace "About Average"

The voting was termed by veteran observers as "about average," indicating that the final total would be between 2,500 and 3,000.

However, reports were that candidates had become increasingly active, indicating that voting late today might be even heavier than the usual belated rush.

Polls will close at 7 p. m.

Reorganization's Defeat Given Up

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 5 — Republicans and revolting Democrats virtually abandoned hope today of killing the government reorganization bill in the house, but concentrated instead on trying to riddle it with amendments.

Although granting that concessions made by administration leaders probably would swing enough votes to pass the measure, the opponents sought to strike out three more controversial provisions.

Those provisions would create a new welfare department, substitute a single administrator for the three-man civil service commission, and create an auditor general to check up on federal expenditures.

Elimination of those sections would strip the bill of everything except general presidential authority to consolidate and revise federal agencies, and permission to employ six white house assistants.

Under a compromise by administration lieutenants, the president's reorganization orders could be overridden by a majority vote of congress. Various agencies, including the veterans bureau, could not be incorporated in other departments.

Democratic backers of the bill were so confident of eventual victory that they made no attempt to complete a poll to determine how the members would vote.

Final Drive Of War Is On In Sweep To Sea

Catalonia Is Cut Off From Rest Of Loyal Territory; Barcelona Is Objective

(By The Associated Press)

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier) April 5 — Spanish insurgent armies, driving to win the civil war this spring, cut Catalonia from the rest of government Spain to accomplish their first great objective and swept on today toward Barcelona, their enemy's provisional capital.

A secondary advance was moving toward Valencia.

Communications Severed

Communications between these two major coastal cities remaining to the government were severed yesterday when insurgents reached Tortosa, looking down upon the Mediterranean.

POWER IS SHUT OFF

BARCELONA, April 5 (AP) — Electric power was shut off suddenly in central sections of Barcelona at 3 p. m. today (9 a. m. CST), stalling street cars and extinguishing lights.

Citizens of the government capital, expecting interruption of power momentarily because of reports insurgent armies were menacing power stations, believed some stations had been captured or hit by shellfire. The electric company, however, insisted the interruption was temporary.

Machine-guns and field artillery raked the road from Tortosa, rendering useless the last highway link between Catalonia and the rest of government Spain, which includes Madrid and Valencia.

Generalissimo Franco's troops were preparing to occupy Tortosa

Eldred Not So Good In Farming

PARSONS, W. Va., April 5 (AP)

Mothers sometimes warn unruly children that potatoes will grow in their ears, but four-year-old Eldred Bright of Elk, W. Va., went one better—corn grew in his nose.

Eldred pushed a grain of corn up his right nostril two weeks ago. After small roots pushed down from the boy's nose, his alarmed mother rushed him to Dr. Samuel Weisman.

The physician removed the grain—which had sprouts about half an inch long.

"An upper respiratory infection had set in," the doctor's wife quoted him today, "but now the boy is in fine shape.

"The heat and moisture of the body provided a fine starting bed, but I doubt Eldred will want to be that kind of farmer again."

Victims Of Merciless Killers

Bodies of Mrs. Hazel Frome, 46, (below left), and daughter, Nancy, 23, (right) of Berkeley, Calif., were found near Van Horn Sunday. They had been brutally murdered. The two women were en route east to visit a daughter and sister in South Carolina. Their unoccupied car was found near Pecos and a search begun for the bodies. The bodies showed evidence of the women having been tortured before they were slain. One of the greatest manhunts in the history of the Southwest has been launched for the killers.

Passage By Week-End Is Objective

Improvement Of Business Is Said Possible Under Bill; Profits Tax Is Debated

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 5 —The finance committee sent to the senate today the revised five billion dollar tax revision bill with a statement that the measure would clear the way for business improvement.

Numerous changes made in the measure by the senate committee included elimination of the administration-sponsored undistributed profits tax, which the house had continued in a modified form.

Debate Begins Wednesday

Senate debate on the measure will begin at noon tomorrow.

In its report, the finance committee said "the major amendments proposed by the committee have been adopted with the view of going even further than the house bill in an effort to stimulate and encourage business."

"If business goes ahead, and there is no reason why it should not go ahead under the provisions of the bill as reported," the report added, "then there will result more taxable net income, with a consequent increase in the revenue."

Norris Opposes Proposal

Before the committee forwarded the measure to the senate, Norris (Ind-Neb) said he would oppose the committee's recommendation for eliminating the undistributed profits tax.

The levy, widely criticized by business spokesmen, has been sponsored by administration fiscal experts and approved in modified form by the house.

Would Encourage Expansion

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) asserted that a substitute flat rate of 18 per cent on corporation income, approved by the finance committee, would increase business certainty and encourage expansion.

Norris, however, declared he did not like the elimination of the profits tax "at all."

"I think a corporation should pay something for the privilege of incorporating," he said. "There is no reason why they should be permitted to accumulate huge surpluses without being taxed for it."

Approves House Provisions

Norris said he approved house provisions exempting from the profits levy those corporations having net incomes of $25,000 and less.

Members of the finance committee, meanwhile, made plans to push the bill to passage by this week-end.

Some committeemen said the continued economic recession has strengthened support of the revised bill. Talk on Capitol Hill that the administration may seek an increase in next year's requested $1,000,000,000 relief appropriation, they added, may lend impetus to a campaign for broadening the tax base.

Baffled Authorities Gathering Meager Clues In Frome Deaths; Robbery Is Believed Motive

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, April 5—Baffled authorities gathered meager clues today, basing on them their theory that robbery motivated the brutal slaying of Mrs. Weston G. Frome and her attractive daughter, Nancy, in the hills of West Texas last Wednesday.

El Paso officers entered actively into the investigation after a day of fruitless searching by authorities for clues in the sagebrush region of Culberson county, near Van Horn, where the mutilated and partly decomposed bodies of Mrs. Frome, 46, and Nancy, 23, of Berkeley, Calif., were found Sunday.

Making Complete Investigation

Sheriff Chris Fox said officials were making a complete investigation locally of all possible connections of the case here.

The investigation was being made, he said, "since there is some feeling certain events leading up to the deaths of Mrs. Frome and Nancy originated in this city and county, and also on the request of Frome and Police Chief John Greening of Berkeley."

Both District Attorney Roy D. Jackson of El Paso and Sheriff Albert Anderson of Van Horn held out the belief that the murders were committed for money.

Tried To Get Information

"I'm almost convinced that whoever murdered the women tortured them in an effort to make them tell where the money the murderers believed the pair had was hidden," Jackson said.

"I believe the slayers were disappointed in not finding more money, tried to find more, and when they found no more, tortured the women in an attempt to make them talk.

"There might have been some other motive behind the torture-murders, such as trying to gain some other information the women might have possessed, but I rather think robbery for money was behind the slayings," the district attorney said.

CONTRIBUTIONS INVITED

AUSTIN, April 5 (AP)—General contributions to a reward fund to stimulate the search for the slayers of Mrs. Weston G. Frome and her daughter near Van Horn were invited by Governor James V. Allred today.

He acted on the suggestion of Tom C. Patten of Dallas, oil operator, who said he would pay $500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the guilty persons.

"I think it is a very commendable idea and hope others join in helping to wipe out this terrible blot," Governor Allred said.

The governor previously had officially posted a reward of $1,000, which was considerably larger than usually is offered by the state.

Large Classes Of Hogs Slow Up Judging At Stock Show; Parade Set For Wednesday

Large classes of hogs that slowed up judging, featured the morning program of the eighth annual South Plains Junior Fat Stock show, and no results had been compiled at noon.

More than 40 animals were in the light hog class which paraded before E. M. Regenbrecht, judge, in the hog pavilion. He took his time in sifting the animals and finally was left with a class of 20 animals in the lighter gr From these he made his selections of the first ten, or money, class.

Other Judging Conducted

Selection of the heavyweight class followed. That class also had a record number, with sifting out of some 20 or more before narrowing down to the first ten money animals. Group classes and grand champions were to be named later.

Sheep were judged by Ray C. Mowery north of the agricultural building. There were 76 animals left in the classes. Results will be made known later in the day.

Stangel Starts On Calves

W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department of Texas Technological college was to start judging of calves at 1:30 o'clock.

Contract Is Let On Texas Dam

(By The Associated Press)

TEMPLE, April 5 — C. F. Lytle company of Sioux City, Iowa and Al Johnson Construction company of St. Paul, Minn., were awarded the general construction contract on the Palo Pinto county Possum Kingdom dam last night for their low joint bid of $3,287,303.

Directors of the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation district also awarded 20 contracts totalling $453,008.75 for 12,000,000 pounds of steel for the dam.

Cement Bids Rejected

All bids on 330,000 barrels of cement were rejected, however, and officials indicated the district would re-advertise.

Among firms awarded steel contracts were the Texas Steel company, Fort Worth, $51,740 for straight reenforcing steel; Southern State Steel company, Dallas, $169,398 for bent reenforcing steel; Omaha, Neb. $70,875 for crest gates; Wyatt Metal and Boiler Works, Houston, $32,000 for pen stocks; Dallas branch of the Pittsburg-Des Moines Steel Co., $17,940 for steel for the power-house superstructure and Crane company, Dallas, $6,226 for miscellaneous pipe fittings and valves.

To Stand Expense

Under its contract signed with WPA last week and approved by directors yesterday the district agreed to stand expense of installing generating equipment estimated to cost $850,000 and to provide lands for the reservoir area of the dam.

The Works Progress administration has allocated $4,500,000 for construction work, but contracts were expected to approximate $4,400,000.

Demo Rift To Affect Votes

BY JOHN HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 5—The rift between the conservative and so-called "New Deal" elements of the Democratic party, created by the court bill fight and widened by the struggle over government reorganization, may have but a limited influence on senatorial primaries this year.

Eight of the Democratic senators who joined the court bill opposition early in the fight are up for renomination. So far only two of them —Van Nuys of Indiana and Gillette of Iowa—are facing strong opposition within their party.

Reprisals Predicted

Many observers predicted late last summer that the administration would make reprisals against foes of the court bill almost without exception, although Democratic Chairman James A. Farley declared there would be none. So far at any rate, there has been virtually no outward show of punitive moves.

Of significance in the general political picture is the fact that none

Increase Of Four Per Cent In Cotton Acreage Provided In Farm Act Amendments

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 5—Amendments to the new farm act designed to improve the cotton and tobacco programs were before President Roosevelt in the White House today.

After little debate, the members completed congressional action by adopting a joint senate-house conference report on the legislation. The amendments, if signed by the president, would:

Increase the cotton acreage of each state by 4 per cent to correct certain inequities.

Fix federal benefit payments for early potatoes at 5.4 cents a bushel.

Fix a 5,000-acre minimum acreage for states in which the cotton production has been at least 3,500 bales annually.

Make eligible for federal cotton price adjustment payments any farmer whose commodity was destroyed by fire or flood.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the agriculture committee told the house the provisions would result in an increase of about 425,000 bales in the national cotton production contemplated under the recently-passed farm act.

The amendments would fix a cot-

Relaxation Of Rules Studied

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 5—Administration business advisers gave serious consideration today to proposals to relax restrictions on federal loans to railroads in receivership.

One representative said such loans would supplement financial aid already being extended to railroads not in receivership.

To Fit Into Program

They would fit into whatever program Mr. Roosevelt may advocate for restoring distressed roads to profitable operations. He is expected to send a message on the railroad situation to congress in the next day or so.

Many informed persons believed the administration was depending heavily on revival of the carriers to aid general business recovery.

A more direct attack on the recession as far as the average business man was concerned, however, was foreshadowed by house passage of the senate bill to give the reconstruction finance corporation almost unlimited discretion in making loans to aid commercial and industrial enterprises.

Loans Are Authorized

The bill also carried authority for loans to municipalities and other political subdivisions for self-liquidating public works, opening the way for a renewed outflow of federal millions into the channels of trade.

Senate approval of a single house amendment will send the RFC bill to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature. That amend-

Chinese Slow Up Jap Drive

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, April 5 — Turning stubbornly in their tracks, Chinese retreating from the ruined city of Taierchwang again slowed up the Japanese drive today toward the Lunghai railway, east-west transportation artery of Central China.

Taking advantage of night-time relief from Japanese artillery and aviation, Chinese dug patchwork defenses along the grand canal and Japanese admitted severe fighting still was going on near Taierchwang, center of a 17-day battle.

Chinese still did not admit Japanese had occupied all of the city, and asserted that attacks at Yihsien, Hanchwang and Tsaochwang proved a constant rearguard threat to the Japanese.

Blum Seeking Dictatorship

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, April 5 — Socialist Premier Leon Blum battled with parliament today for dictatorial powers over the economic and financial life of France, predicting bankruptcy and civil strife unless radical measures were taken.

Blum demanded that the lukewarm chamber of deputies and the hostile senate vote him full decree powers. Rightists reacted at once with the charge that his program was "a plan for a Marxist (socialist) dictatorship and revolution."

SESSION IS SUSPENDED

PARIS, April 5 (AP)—Premier Leon Blum's demand for sweeping powers to control France's economic life by decree today threw the chamber of deputies into such an uproar that its president, Edouard Herriot, suspended the session.

This came half an hour after debate began on the premier's financial program, which many political observers predict will cause his downfall.

Defeat By Senate Seen

The general political opinion before the struggle began in the chamber (at 2:30 a. m. CST) was that the bill would be passed by the chamber and voted down by the senate.

Political experts accorded the premier only a slight chamber majority, however, and predicted a heavy adverse resignation.

Contains Only 80 Words

The premier's bill by which he hoped to attain sweeping authority contained only 80 words. It gave him the right to decree all measures "judged indispensable to meet the necessities of the national defense, protect the holdings of the Bank of France and rehabilitate the nation's finances and economies."

In a preamble of several thousand words, Blum set forth what he proposed to do. His plans ranged from virtual foreign exchange control to a levy on capital and a two-year moratorium on public debt payments.

Investigators For TVA Case Named

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Vice President Garner and Speaker Bankhead named three Democrats and two Republicans from each legislative body today to conduct the congressional investigation of the Tennessee Valley authority and private power companies operating in the area.

Speaker Bankhead named Representatives Mead (D-NY), Driver (D-Ark), Thomason (D-Tex), Jenkins (R-Ohio) and Wolverton (R-N. J.).

Vice President Garner appointed Senators Donahey (D-Ohio), Brown (D-NH), Schwartz (D-Wyo), McNary (R-Ore), and Borah (R-Idaho).

The Republican members named by Bankhead were recommended by House Republican Leader Snell of New York.

Garner told reporters he had consulted no one not even the appointees, before announcing the selections.

The joint board will make a broad investigation of TVA ordered by congress following dissension among the directors of the TVA, which led to President Roosevelt's dismissal of Chairman Arthur E. Morgan.

U. S. Postmasters Instructed To Accept Packages Again

WASHINGTON, April 5. (AP)—The postoffice department advised 45,000 postmasters throughout the nation today that C.O.D. (collect on delivery) packages again can be accepted for delivery in Mexico.

C.O.D. service to Mexico was ordered suspended last Wednesday when Mexican postal authorities declined to accept money orders payable in the United States. That order was cancelled today when authorities across the border exempted money orders issued in payment of C. O. D. charges on parcels from the United States.

SMALL METEORITE FALLS

CHICAGO, April 5. (AP)—A small meteorite fell into a parkway in suburban Winnetka last night and the sound of the crash and the bright light started rumors of an explosion. Policemen Lester Barker and Thomas Schultz found a two-inch fragment of the meteorite, which had cut a five-inch hole in the sod and buried itself.

Skeleton Found Is Believed To Be Missing South Texan

HOUSTON, April 5 (AP)—Officers theorized today that a skeleton found in a wooded section yesterday at Spring, near here, was that of C. A. Evans, 66, who disappeared June 9, 1937.

Sheriff Norfleet Hill said a pair of glasses found had been identified as belonging to Evans. Two holes in the skull indicated a bullet had penetrated the man's head.

Evans wife turned over to police a note she said her husband left when he disappeared.

Third Largest U. S. Wheat Crop Seen

CHICAGO, April 5 (AP)—The third largest United States winter wheat crop on record and the largest since 1931 was indicated today by estimates of probable 1938 production released by six Chicago grain experts.

The crop authorities, who compiled their figures from data supplied by farmers throughout the farm belt, issued estimates of winter wheat production ranging from 692,000,000 to 755,000,000 bushels.

The average was 717,000,000 bushels, which compared with the latest official department of agriculture estimate on December 1 of 630,000,000. Last year the harvest totaled 685,000,000.

The average indicated a crop condition at 79.2 per cent of normal compared with 73.8 a year ago.

Labor Hostilities In Mexico Renewed; Two Workers Killed

MEXICO CITY, April 5 (AP)—Renewal of hostilities between the Confederation of Workers of Mexico (CTM) and the regional confederation of Mexican Workers added to the government's worries today as it prepared for a long legal fight over the expropriated oil industry.

Two workmen were killed and several persons wounded, including two soldiers, in a half-hour gun battle yesterday at Acapulco. A score of persons were arrested.

The battle between the two unions started over the right to unload a cargo of building materials from the German ship Wesser.

McCraw Is To Open Campaign, April 23

ARLINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Attorney General William McCraw will open his gubernatorial campaign in this, his home town, on Saturday, April 23, Mayor W. F. Altman said today.

Altman made public McCraw's letter of acceptance. The attorney general appealed for a "campaign completely void of mud-slinging and personalities."

Altman said the date was set for the convenience of McCraw, who leaves April 10 for Miami, Fla., to direct Texas' fight for the $5,000,000 inheritance taxes from the estate of the late Col. E. H. R. Green, eccentric financier son of Hetty Green.

Altman, general chairman of arrangements, said special honor would be paid to McCraw's father, John B. McCraw, who published the Arlington Democrat years ago. The attorney general was born here Aug. 15, 1896. Altman said a "block long" bouquet would be presented the candidate's mother.

Plane's Landing Gear Repaired In Mid-Air As Instructions Are Received By Radio

By JACK B. BEARDWOOD
Associated Press Staff Writer

SALT LAKE CITY, April 5.—A veteran pilot, working stoically against a diminishing fuel supply, repaired a crippled landing gear through the floor of his Western Air Express transport here early today and then landed the ship safely.

As the six-passenger plane circled over city airport, an ambulance, fire truck and ground crew held a "death watch" when it appeared the transport, which was carrying no passengers would have to attempt a crash landing.

But Pilot Henry Hollenbeck of Salt Lake City, working on radioed instructions, lowered the left landing wheel, stuck in the plane's undercarriage, by means of a strap taken from one of the transport's seats.

As he worked, Co-Pilot A. S. Mooney, Jr., of Salt Lake City, droned the plane in monotonous circles over the airport.

Hollenbeck, a husky, tanned aviator, scoffed at the danger when the big bi-motored silver ship, its left motor smoking

Girls To Take Bows On Gowns, Hair And Gloves In Ultra Feminine Fashion

Ribbons Everywhere Say The Stylists

BY ROSETTE HARGROVE
Associated Press Feature Writer

PARIS, April 5 — Ribbons in the hair, around the neck, wrist and waist. Ribbons slotted or drawn through an off-the-shoulder decollete or emphasizing a dropped waistline. Little-girl sashes tying in an ingenuous bow at the back, in front, with long, fluttering ends. Ribbons embroidered in delicate colors or reminiscent of the precious embroideries seen on church vestments. And of course ribbons on hats, twisted in pert and airy bows by the deftest hands in the world — those of the Parisian midinette. In this season of ultra feminine fashions, there are ribbons everywhere.

Lanvin used ribbon to stress her new low waistline which caused such a stir during the recent showings, and to make it even more striking, this ribbon usually was in some striking color. Maggy Rouff, on the other hand, went one better and some of her dresses were trimmed with three bands of ribbon — one under the bust, another at the normal waistline and the third on the hips. Lanvin does this too, and is also the author of threaded ribbon effects below the hips. These appear in a spectacular afternoon ensemble made up of a slim black satin skirt and a white silk grosgrain fitted tunic top. An ultra-wide but soft black faille ribbon is threaded through widely spaced slots below the hipline, tying in an enormous bow on the side.

Nearly all Bruyere's evening gowns are completed by a ribbon belts with long streamers, between three and four inches wide, and usually embroidered. They supply the color contrast and the decorative effect too.

RIBBONS IN THEIR HAIR

Chanel places black faille ribbon bows in the hair, down the front of a dress, on the gauntlets of evening gloves, all completing a very simple evening gown of rather heavy black lace. The bodice is one of the new strapless affairs, held up by the ribbon which is threaded through at widely spaced intervals. With this dress the bow in the hair is worn down at the back, almost at the nape. The same sort of bow, only in gold lame ribbon this time, and worn well in front, accompanies a natural linen gown heavily embroidered in gold thread. The skirt is slim and the bodice is draped onto a low "necklace" strap of the fabric. Chanel completes this dress with one of her heavy and ultra-wide rigid gold bracelets.

Is yours a neighborhood of "puddle jumpers?"

If your sidewalks look like this, it's time to modernize with concrete walks.

Concrete walks drain quickly and are free from puddles of standing water.

They're safe and sure under foot, wet or dry.

They improve the appearance of the neighborhood and increase property values.

And they're moderate in first cost.

It may be that new concrete walks in your town can be built at very low cost with WPA labor and provide needed employment. Ask your officials about it—and urge them to rebuild now with concrete.

'Miss Wichita Falls'

MISS ELIZABETH HUFF

WICHITA FALLS, April 5, (Special)—Miss Elizabeth Huff has been named "Miss Wichita Falls" for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention to be held in Wichita Falls April 25, 26 and 27. A granddaughter of Judge R. E. Huff, pioneer Wichitan, and a city founder, Miss Huff will be the official hostess to other West Texas beauties when they vie for the convention crown.

Miss Huff will be the "Oil Queen" for the convention pageants, on Monday and Tuesday nights during the sessions, when beauty nominees for Queen will be presented. Representing the host city however, she will not compete for the title as "Her Majesty, Miss West Texas."

Choir Contest Is Tonight

Awards will be presented and the final contest conducted in the Lubbock County Interscholastic league at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the First Baptist church, before the largest assembly of rural school pupils in the county during the year, said Joseph R. Griggs, county superintendent.

Probably about 1,500 will attend, said Griggs.

Eleven choirs will enter the choral singing contest, E. L. Farr, Shallowater superintendent and county director general, had announced. Every rural school in the county is to be represented either in the grammar or high school division of choral singing.

The program follows: Song, "The Eyes of Texas"; invocation, Rev. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church; welcome, representative of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; announcements, league directors; choral singing; presentation of awards, Griggs.

Directors To Gather

A meeting of county league directors will be conducted at 7 o'clock at the church, Griggs announced Monday night.

No choir competing will have less than nine members, exclusive of the director. The county choral singing director is Mrs. Lillian Butler of Slaton.

Individual awards and trophies for all-around champions and for schools winning in the various contests will be presented. Slaton has been declared winner of the all-around championship in the high school division and Frenship has secured enough points that decision in choral singing could not change its first place standing in the grammar school division. Choral singing does not count points in the high school division.

To Present Medals

Metal medals will be presented to first and second place individual winners.

Trophies for the meet were furnished by Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and civic clubs.

County league contests opened March 25-26 with grammar school contests. Most high school events were held last week-end.

Buccaneers Hoist Flag Of Warning

Twelfth of a series from the spring training camps.

BY JOHN BEEKMAN
NEA Service Correspondent

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., April 5—Not since 1927 has Pittsburgh had a pennant winner, but you can take the word of Pie Traynor, ever optimistic maanager of the Bucs, that things will be different this year.

"If our pitching holds up the way it has so far this spring, Pittsburgh will have the best club it has had in my four years as manager," the Smoky City pilot promises.

Have Three Good Rookies

"We have three good rookies on hand to fill out the mound staff and with Johnny Rizzo providing some much needed punch in the outfield there's no reason to suppose that we can't improve on last year's showing."

That seems to sum up the situation effectively, for the infield is taking care of itself at last and the Brothers Waner have given every indication that they'll carry on every bit as effectively as last season when Paul wound up with a batting average of .354, good enough for fourh place, and Lloyd came in with .330, to rank tenth.

Three Spots Sewed Up

Three spots in the infield appear all sewed up, leaving only third base open to competition.

"I still haven't made up my mind about Bill Brubaker and Lee Handley," Traynor explained. "I've put handley over with Bill because I don't want to take any chances on being caught short."

Suhr In Fine Shape

"Young will handle second base. He isn't as strong a hitter as Handley but he can handle himself a lot faster on double plays. Handley was a third sacker before he came to us and seems to feel more at home there.

"Brubaker was coming fast at the close of last season, and, of course, if he hits that stride again, I'll keep him in there."

Gussie Suhr is a fixture at first. The Pirate captain has been cavorting around like a youngster in spring games and should have a big year.

Vaughan In Comeback

That takes care of three of the four infield jobs and brings up the matter of Arky Vaughan. Two years ago Vaughan started slipping down the batting percentage column after leading the National league with an average of .385.

The powerful Pirate shortstop appears well on the way to a comeback. Thoroughly recovered from a leg injury that slowed him down last year, Vaughan has started hitting with his old time effectiveness, and has a lot of his old speed back as well.

Woody Jensen, who is experimenting at first base, has been replaced in the outfield by Johnny Rizzo, a graduate from Columbus. The Pirates paid the St. Louis Cardinals $25,000 in cash and traded Catcher Tommy Padden, Outfielder Bud Hafey and First Baseman Bernard Cobb for the slugging right-hander.

Strictly A Hitter

Rizzo batted third in the American association last year with an average of .358 as well as hitting in 36 consecutive games. He should make a real mate for the Waner brothers if he comes through as expected.

John Dickshot will be kept as a utility man for the outfield.

The Pirates are carrying 13 twirlers, nine of whom were with the club last year. Veterans are Cy Blanton, who won 14 and lost 12; Russ Bauers, who took 13 and dropped but six; Joe Bowman, with eight and eight; Ed Brandt, who won 11 while losing 10; Mace Brown, who finished with seven and two; Red Lucas, with eight and 10; Bill Swift, who won nine and lost 10; Jim Tobin, six and three, and Ken Heintzleman, who came up from Knoxville late in the year.

Newcomers are Bob Klinger, up from Sacramento in the Pacific Coast league where he won 19 and lost 13; Southpaw Marvin Duke, winner of 21 games for Montreal while dropping but eight; Truett Sewell, who won 16 and lost 12 for Buffalo, and Bill Clemensen, up from Hutchinson, Kansas, where on option he won 16 and lost 10.

The enthusiastic Pie was hopeful that one or even two of this quartet would come through with colors flying.

Todd Will Do

"It will furnish just the punch we need, if just one of them develops into another Bauers," Traynor explained. "I'm figuring on Bauers and Jim Tobin as regulars this year."

Bauers, a quiet right-hander, was the big noise among the Pirate rookies last year, and with an impacted tooth and a couple of troublesome tonsils taken care of, is counted on to better his 13 victories of 1937.

No team is complete without a capable backstop and in Al Todd the Pirates are exceptionally fortunate. Todd, if anything, is better than he was last season when he caught in 128 games, hit .307 and led all rivals in putouts, total chances, assists, and double plays.

Behind Todd is Ray Berres, who is capable of filling Todd's shoes in respectable fashion. Berres caught 105 contests for Brooklyn in 1936 and was the leading backstop in the American association last year.

Baer Is Nominated To Regain Title

LOS ANGELES, April 5 (AP)—Max (Poppa) Baer nominated himself today to regain the heavyweight boxing crown but refused to bet a nickel on the Louis-Schmeling fight.

"It looks like a toss-up to me," said Baer.

"Louis has improved a lot and Schmeling is still smart and still in good condition. I wouldn't bet a nickel on that scrap.

"Anyway, I'm to meet the winner in September and then you'll really see a million-dollar fight."

Max said he thought Schmeling would take the title back to Germany, if he won it, "so it looks like little Joe and me all over again. And there'll be a different ending this time."

LEWIS WINS DECISION

PHILADELPHIA, April 5 (AP) — Light Heavyweight Champion John Henry Lewis of Pittsburgh outpointed Bob Tow, 202, Alexandria, Va., to win a 10-round decision over the protege of former Heavyweight Champion Jim Braddock in a non-title bout before a crowd of 7,500 here last night. Lewis weighed 183.

Short, Short Stories

THAT WAS A bum steer the other day, the assertion that the White Sox and Pirates would be playing in Clovis tomorrow. . . The Pirates are playing, but not the White Sox. . . . Dutch Kaufhold's Phillips 66 Oilers of Amarillo are providing the opposition for the Pirates. . . But it's still an opportunity to see a big league team in action. . . unless you want to wait till Thursday and see the White Sox and Pirates play at Sweetwater . . . or Friday when they play at Abilene. . .

Sweetwater's Board of City Development is sponsoring the game there. . . Chambers of commerce and other civic organizations are sponsoring big league and minor league exhibition games at other cities in Texas. . . and the U. S. . . We must be too old fashioned—or too far advanced—in Lubbock. . . The local B. C. If you're planning to see the game Thursday in Sweetwater or Friday in Abilene, better wire in for reservations. . . They're selling the ducats. . . but fast. . .

The national pastime will be in Lubbock one week from tomorrow . . . The Hubbers leave their Longview training base Saturday, headed for the Hub of the Plains . . . playing at Wills Point and Sweetwater en route. . . . Then meet the National Baseball School All-Stars here in a two-game series beginning Wednesday. . . They'll meet a South Plains semi-pro team the following Sunday. . . How's about making it three in a row, so far as teams of this section are concerned?. . .

Coach Pete Cawthon leaves today for Lafayette, Ind., where he'll be a principal lecturer at Purdue university's football clinic, beginning Friday. . . Line Coach Dutchy Smith will be in charge of the Red Raiders while he's gone. . . . He and Ed McKeever, with Ed running the backs. . . And Ed, probably the brainiest quarterback in Tech history, can do a fair job, at that. . . The boys'll be off from Wednesday, April 13, until Tuesday, April 19, on acc't of Easter holiday. . . Then the real work will begin, ending with the game on the night of April 30 with Sul Ross. . .

Putts Win In Augusta Play For Picard

BY KENNETH GREGORY
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5—No one was more certain that Henry Picard would win the All-Star Augusta National golf show than the "Hershey hurricane" himself.

Tall Henry isn't the bragging type, but he is the sort of golfer who will tell you when he feels that they're going to hang up his number in a tournament.

The Pennsylvania pro, 40 years old and a native of Plymouth, Mass., practiced only once before the start of the golfing feature of the winter and the putts were rolling for him. They continued to roll and that's the story of the victory that won him $1,500.

And, for Ralph Guldahl of Chicago, the National Open champion who was edged out of the big prize a year ago, it was the failure of putts to roll that cost him a possible tie and play-off for the championship.

Looking back over the scoring records, one finds that Picard and Guldahl were exactly even through 69 holes. But at the 70th hole, Guldahl three-putted, where Picard got his par. Again at the 72nd, the big Chicago champion three-putted and Picard came along to get his par.

There is where the winner grabbed two strokes that saved him from deadlocking with Guldahl and Lighthorse Harry Cooper of Chicago, who knocked off a sub-par 71 on the final round to finish in a tie for second place with Guldahl.

COOPER LEADS CIRCUIT

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5 (AP)—Harry Cooper, Chicopee, Mass., who finished in a tie with Ralph Guldahl, Chicago for second place in the Augusta National golf championship, led the money winners of the 1938 winter circuit, which came to a close here Monday, with total earnings of $4,448.

Henry Picard, winner here, ranked third for the season's winnings.

Johny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., was second. Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., former Texan, ranked fifth. Ben Hogan of White Plains, N. Y., formerly of Fort Worth, Tex., was eleventh.

Baseball May Be Great American Game To Lot Of Folks But Not To Proofreaders

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 5—Baseball may be the great American game to lots of folks, but to lots of proof-readers it's no fun at all.

This year's rookie crop, a painful study of training camp rosters showed today, ranks with the best in the alphabetic big leagues.

Among the super-tongue-twisters are:

Joseph Victor Lawrence Krakauskas—Washington Senators.

Julius Cisar—Who's going to provide some arguments—Brooklyn Dodgers.

Leslie William Tietje—Back in the league again after giving the spellers a year's rest—St. Louis Browns.

Outfielder Leo William Nonnenkamp—How many N's?—Boston Red Sox.

Pitcher William Ehrensberger—Spelled with four E's—Phillies.

Robert E. Uhle—Ah, another Uhle in baseball—Chicago White Sox.

Cannonball Heintzelman—El or le?—The Pittsburgh Pirates.

Lou Vezilich—Another one for the St. Louis printers—Playing for the Cardinals.

Proofreaders can always be proud of Pete Appleton, however. Before he came to the Senators he was Peter Jablanowski.

Al Schacht, Baseball's Clown, Returns From Annual Swing Without Having Had Look At Rookie Resembling Johnson

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

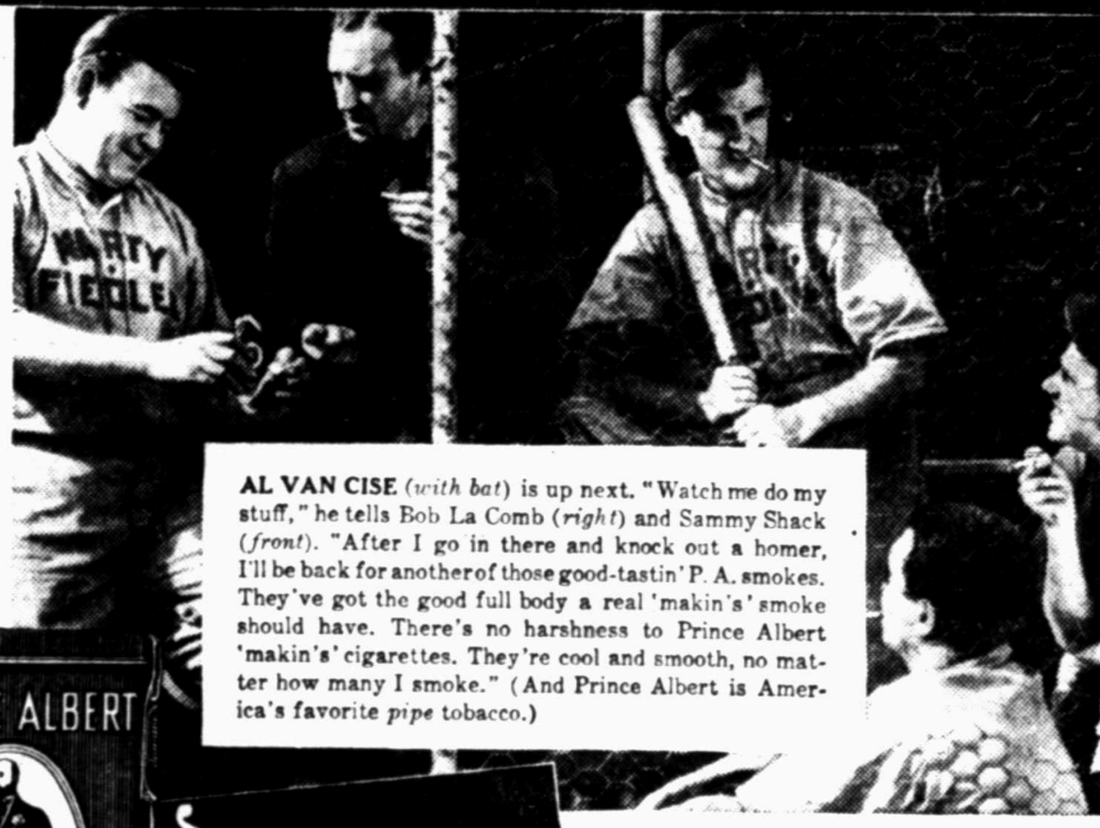

NEW YORK, April 5—Al Schacht, the baseball clown, is back from his annual tour of the training camps, and he still hasn't spotted that rookie pitcher who can throw a ball like Walter Johnson used to.

Every spring when Al makes the rounds of the camps, working out and lining up engagements for the season, he keeps watching the young pitchers, searching for that easy, flowing motion that made Johnson his idol. He's about decided now that he'll never find it.

Army 'Plays' At War—In Dead Seriousness Before Presiden

ong over rough ground, plunging through gullies without slackening speed, army tanks were put heir paces at Ft. Benning, Ga., as the U. S. Army's largest training school prepared for an ex- pection by President Roosevelt. Every mobile branch of the army is represented at the Georgia here maneuvers covered 97,000 acres.

Here's the kind of an onslaught "enemy" forces would have to face if they sought to engage the U. S. Army in battle. In the top picture war planes cover the movement of high-speed tanks, while in the lower picture infantrymen advance over open territory, during maneuvers at the Ft. Benning, Ga., army training school.

PAUL SIGNS CONTRACT

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. — The report that Pitcher Paul Dean had signed a contract with Boss Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals was the chief item of news today as the Gashouse gang checked in for a game with their Columbus farm. The Cards, it is said, got waivers on their pitching problem child so he could attempt a comeback with one of their minor league "branches."

CLEVELAND'S TURN

BRYAN.—It was Cleveland's turn to be the "home" team in its long series with the New York Giants today, and Bill Terry was thankful. The Giants supplied the baseballs for yesterday's exhibition at Austin, and 23 of them were hit into the crowd.

CHANDLER TRIES TO AID

FORT WORTH.—Add Spurgeon Chandler to the small list of New York Yankees helping make the team look something like World champions. The Georgia right-hander went seven innings against Houston yesterday and, but for two mix-plays, would have had a shut-out. As it was the Yanks couldn't win, though they got nine walks and four hits inside five innings.

LET HURLERS GO

SAN ANTONIO. The St. Louis Browns today cut loose two pitchers. Ewald Pyle, who won 7 and lost 12 for Des Moines last year, went to the San Antonio farm, and Bill Miller was shipped to Hollywood of the Coast league on option.

BAD NEWS FOR ROOKIES

ATLANTA, Ga.—The good news that Outfielder Wally Moses had accepted the Athletics' terms will be bad news for at least two of Connie Mack's rookies, probably Ace Parker and Herb Barna, when the roster is out. Hard-hitting Moses' holdout siege was the longest the A's have had since Al Simmons got obstinate, back in 1930.

CUBS GET RUSSELL

BISBEE, Ariz. — The Chicago Cubs today acquired the Veteran Jack Russell in an effort to bolster the pitching staff.

Russell, a righthander who has served with Boston, Washington and Detroit of the American league, was obtained as a free agent.

Manager Charley Grimm said he would report to the club in San Antonio Thursday.

SCHOOLBOY IN ACTION

LAKELAND, Fla., April 5. (AP) — With Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe hurling the first five innings, the Detroit Tigers defeated Buffalo of the International League, 5 to 3, in an exhibition baseball game here Monday.

Rowe, attemping a comeback after having been out of action most of last season with an injured pitching arm, allowed seven hits, walked two and yielded one run.

FUNERAL RITES TODAY

DALLAS, April 5 (AP)—Funeral services will be held today for the Rev. Charles Louis Dealey, 74, pastor of the Pilgrim's Chapel here, who died Sunday.

The American Legion has Emperor Victor Emmanuel of Italy as an honorary member.

Baseball's Clown

except when he gets around to the subject of Johnson.

"Why do people keep talking about who was the greatest pitcher when anybody with any sense knows there was never one even close to Walter?" he asks.

"When I look at some of these guys they call fast-ball pitchers these days it hands me a laugh. Why, Johnson threw a ball harder when he was loafing along behind a one-run lead than anybody else ever has."

A Little Exciting

As time passes the phenomenal speed of Johnson becomes only a legend to a new generation, so it is a little exciting to hear Schacht bring it back to life.

"Some days when Walter really felt like throwing that onion it was plain murder for the opposing team. They would just stand back and wave their bats until everybody, even Walter, was laughing. On days Johnson was due to pitch for us you could count on two or three members of the other team reporting sick. They didn't like to face him and you couldn't blame 'em.

Umpire Pulls One

"Funniest thing that ever happened was one day when our regular catcher got a split finger and we put in a young fellow named Rip Williams to catch Johnson. Walt was pretty fast that day, and Billy Evans was calling strikes behind the plate.

"The first one went over Williams' shoulder and hit Evans an awful thump on his protector. An umpire in those days wasn't armored up like he is now. The second pitch also went right past Williams and cracked Evans square on the shin. So help me, Billy grabbed his shin and turned around and bawled out that the game was called on account of darkness. I'll swear he made it stick, too, and the sun wasn't even down."

Chaff Separated From Wheat In National AAU Tourney

BOSTON, April 5. (AP) — It took nine hours and slam-bang action in three rings to separate the chaff from the wheat in the National A. A. U. boxing championships and today, with the field reduced from 175 to 64, the tourney appeared in position to uphold its customary standards.

During the long opening session of a program that will not end until Wednesday night, when eight new champions will be crowned, exactly 111 competitors, drawn from 20 states, the District of Columbia and the Hawaiian islands, were eliminated in the two rounds of trial bouts.

As a result of that wholesale massacre of championship hopes, the tourney settled down to a survival of the fittest. Tonight 64 of the nation's outstanding amateur boxers will continue a competition that is expected to improve with every further reduction of the field.

STRAFACI LEADS TOURNEY

PINEHURST, N. C., April 5 (AP)—Frank Strafaci of New York led a field of 175 players Monday in the qualifying round of the 38th annual North and South amateur golf tournament with a round of 32-38—70, two under par.

A strong wind made playing conditions difficult, but it required a score of 80 to qualify. Seven players who scored 81s will play off tomorrow for five remaining places in the championship flight of 32.

Basketball Not To Undergo Changes

CHICAGO, April 5 (AP)—Basketball, the nation's leading indoor sport, is streamlined enough for those who teach it.

That was the concensus of the National Association of Basketball Coaches after a round of committee reports.

If any changes are forthcoming in today's final discussion, they will probably be minor, a preliminary report on rules and suggestions indicated.

While the report spiked rumors of drastic changes, it presaged the possibility of heated debate on the three-second rule applying to players within the foul circle. Many coaches feel there should be no count on players as long as they are on the side of the foul line nearest the center of the court.

Two other questions considered likely for debate were whether officials should handle the ball after a field goal and whether the number of time outs should be increased or timeout periods lengthened.

Elimination of the center jump was deemed a success and it appeared there would be no change in the rule. It also was indicated the 10 second rule for getting the ball across the center line would be retained although minority action for this elimination was expected.

HUSKERS PLAYING BEARS

Second Man Faces Charge At Olton

OLTON, April 5 (Special)—Tommie Moore, about 35, farmer near here, has been charged with burglary in connection with the taking of the safe from the county tax collector's office here last week, according to information given Monday by M. W. Brewer, justice of the peace, before whom the complaint was filed. He is in jail here.

A third man was questioned Monday, usually authoritative sources said. Bond of $1,500 was set for George Doggett, about 35, Olton farmer, who was charged with burglary Saturday. Brewer said he did not know if Doggett had posted bond.

Approximately $500 of the estimated $1,300 in checks taken from the safe after it had been crashed in was located in a culvert near Olton. The remainder of the checks and the estimated $800 to $900 in cash had not been found, it was said.

Mrs. F. A. Loyd, sheriff, swore to the complaint against Moore. Assisting Mrs. Loyd and her staff and County Attorney Billy Hall in investigations are other Lamb county officers, Bill Mabray, police identifications officer at Lubbock, and Frank Mills, Texas ranger.

Doggett and Moore are brothers-in-law, officers said.

ACCORDING to a recent news story, a group of students at Washington university, St. Louis, has gone into the insurance business.

The "policies"—and we offer the information here for the benefit of the lads and lassies at our own Texas Tech — offer protection against "flunking" any subject in the curriculum.

It sounds like a swell idea.

But in case any Tech student gets the idea of opening a similar business here, we offer a few suggestions, dug up out of our own experience when in college.

Why not offer "policies" on:

Insurance against insomnia at early morning classes?

Insurance against forgetting everything you went to college to learn, a month after graduation?

Insurance against remembering the things you never had the slightest use for, but had to learn in order to get a degree?

Insurance against post-graduate unemployment?

The field has limitless possibilities and it seems to us that there's money to be made in it!

THE general run of readers call them "funnies." Newspaper people call them "comics" and, in correspondence spell it "comix."

But did it ever occur to you that more than 90 per cent of the strips in newspapers are neither comical, nor even gay?

Did you ever notice that more of them are a long way from having happy themes?

This was called to The Plainsman's attention by the fact that the St. Louis Star-Times has recently become somewhat worried over its "funnies," which, according to that paper's editor, are entirely too gruesome.

So impressed was the Star-Times boss with his problem that he brought it before his readers and asked them to write in their opinions.

They did, with considerable alacrity.

SOME of the readers liked the comics as they are, replete with thrills, cops vs. bandits plots, tragedy and expectancy.

Others agreed with the Star-Times editor that too many "funnies" overstepped the bounds of propriety, especially since they are so whole-heartedly consumed by the kiddies.

The score, when tallied, was about 60 to 40—60 per cent of the readers stringing along with the strips as they are and 40 per cent agreeing that there should be more humor and less tragedy in the features.

The Plainsman has never stopped to consider the problem before, but after reading of the goings-on in St. Louis he studied the strips in both The Evening Journal and The Morning Avalanche.

Here's what he found:

With the exception of an occasional release of "Out Our Way" and "Our Boarding House," in the morning paper, and "Alley Oop" in the afternoon paper, there is little humor in the strips being run in the two dailies. And, technically, neither "Out Our Way" nor "Our Boarding House" is a "strip—both are "blocks." We found, however, plenty of humor in Ed Reed's "Off The Record," "Flapper Fanny," "Side Glances" and "Hold Everything."

For Love Of Polly

CAST OF CHARACTERS

POLLY CHELSEY, heroine; stranded in London when war betaks out.

JERRY WHITFIELD, hero; the Yankee who sees her through.

CABELL BANKS, privateer captain.

Yesterday: with deep concern, Polly awaits the return of Jerry, meanwhile bearing the brunt of unkind village gossip.

CHAPTER XXIX

Spring night in Connecticut, and the scent of lilacs through the window. Polly's baby sleeping in his cradle. Polly in her bed. Near the door lies the mongrel dog on guard, his whiskered nose on his outstretched paws, his ears twitching — the little dog that has come so far and knows his destiny.

Spring night on the Atlantic off the coast of England, the same moment in the span of time, yet later as hours are counted. Two vessels riding close, one newly captured.

". . . About the prisoners," Jerry Whitfield was saying to Cabell Banks. "I'd like to get rid of them."

"Yes. It's bad business keeping prisoners. You've got to feed and exercise them. In the end they're apt to take your ship away from you. My advice is, set them ashore tomorrow on the first island you can safely touch."

"There never was sounder advice," Jerry replied. "And we'd both better head south at once. Come daylight, Old Mother Frigate will count her chickens—" [illegible]

"We'll sail together, of course. I'll have my French pilot pick your island. Good night—"

Cabell went over the side alone and rowed himself back to the Gray Gull. Presently the two ships were cleaving the night like a pair of friendly birds flying south.

The old French pilot knew of an island that would do. A ship he sailed had once put in there for a new mast the year he got his second wound fighting for Napoleon.

"It's inhabited," he told Cabell in his provincial French, "but none too comfortable." The old man laughed hard at the thought of "the English dogs" having to stop there. (It was always "English dogs" when his wounds hurt him.) "They will have to live on carrots and goats' milk, the fine rascals! No roast beef for a while!"

The island proved to be just where the old Frenchman said it would be, and they reached it next day before sunset. The Gray Gull stood by while Jerry took the May Queen as close to shore as he dared.

There must come now the difficult work of unloading prisoners. Most of the British sailors in the forecastle cabin would be armed. Jerry recalled; only those in the deck fight had lost their weapons. A slip now, one careless or incautious move on his part, and the ship would be taken from him. In this event he and his men would hardly be set ashore on this island. They would be taken in irons to Dartmoor prison or to the vile hulk ships reserved for American privateers who overreached themselves.

At this moment, with elation behind him and grim necessity ahead, Jerry could think of Polly clearly. Not as a dim sweet dream in the darkness, but as a flesh and blood wife in a pine-paneled kitchen, sewing a seam before an open fire. In her strength and courage, in her promise of fruition and home to a wandering man's heart, Polly was America, and America was Polly. For such a woman and such a country, men cultivated level heads and humble hearts.

It was the quarter-deck cabin that Jerry unlocked first. In person he conducted the four sullen officers up the ladder and across decks to the rope ladder that took them to the waiting shore boat. He remembered to be conventional, knowing that the English expected every American privateer skipper to be a boor.

From the forecastle cabin a few men were called at a time and disarmed. Fists and tempers were active. The prisoners had naturally concerted during the night and day to overthrow their captors. Jerry warily stationed them in the boats with oars in their hands, each matched by an American oarsman, with another pair of his men to guard the boat. And so the transfer was made from ship to island without loss of life.

This accomplished, the May Queen and the Gray Gull put to sea again and sailed west. That way lay home.

Though there was threat of storms, good weather held, and this was fortunate. Both ships were lightly manned, and on board the May Queen bruised bodies and blackened eyes were prevalent. Jerry and his original 12 men could attest to the prowess of British fists, even when swung by sleepy drunkards. Jerry's left cheek was crazily split where the surprised helmsman's knuckles had placed their one protesting blow. His moccasined feet were painfully sore from the scuffling British boots that had trodden over them.

Yet the wonder of this beautiful brig made his aches and bruises seem as nothing to Jerry Whitfield. He ran over the ship like a gratified boy who cannot believe his luck. He was mute and awe-struck as he studied her broad decks and beautiful cabin, her stout canvas and strong spars and realized that they were his to command. For by the laws of war, she was his! There was only Cabell Banks to dispute his ownership, and Cabell had spoken. Cabell had stood in the presence of both crews just before they left the island and said:

"Captain Whitfield boarded the May Queen against my advice and without my assistance. She is his. I have nothing to do with her, except to share the cargo according to agreement."

Because of the cargo the two captains were proceeding together now to an American port. They wished a court of admiralty to pass on their prize in order that all might be legal.

And so for the second time they put in at Wilimington for matters of business. They learned now that privateer skippers needed sharp wits, for the cargo they had on their hands was rich and extensive. Dealers were in port from cities as far away as New Orleans and New York. The two young seamen were no match for these crafty gentlemen, and so their goods went for less than it was worth.

Yet satisfaction prevailed. Cabell was able to pay his debts and restock the Gray Gull for a long cruise, besides laying by a tidy sum in the bank against another barren season. Jerry was able to buy provisions without stint for the big May Queen and to engage a larger crew. The sailors received their prize money hilariously and swore allegiance.

On the night of departure from Wilmington, Cabell and Jerry sat in the Gray Gull's cabin and

A COMMENDATION FOR GOOD TASTE

The audience and cast who ended a performance when one of the actors collapsed and died on the stage in a Santa Barbara, Calif., theater are to be commended for their good taste.

The dropping of the curtain was in defiance of the tradition, "The show must go on," which is one of the oldest—and by far the most over-worked—of the theatrical profession. Patrons of the theater have had to gag through the centuries on effusions relating to the nobility, the courage, the unselfishness of this or that actor who has "smiled while his heart was breaking."

Grant that on occasions the performer does display intestinal fortitude under distressing circumstances. Isn't that true also of the preacher, the doctor, the lawyer, the teacher, the clerk—yes, even of editors and ditch diggers? In their case, they carry on without the possibility that some sob-writer will gush tearfully because of what they have done. In their case, there usually is less reason to suspect that the real motive of sacrifice could be put in the words, "The show must go on—so that the box office may remain open."

This is no attempt to belittle the many fine heritages which belong to the theater and to the theatrical profession. But it does state that few audiences would enjoy the remainder of a performance if they were aware that Death had entered upon the stage after the initial curtain had lifted.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 5—After 27 years in sail and steam, Captain Chris Christensen has come to anchor in the back-lot lagoons and sound stage tanks of movietown. He goes down to these imitation seas in imitation ships— in schooners built on rollers, in barques fashioned of cardboard and plaster in clippers mounted on hydraulic rockers.

Samuel Coleridge, who never saw a movie, sang of a painted ship on a painted ocean. That is the nautical world of Cap'n Christensen, but he loves it. Before he came here, his practical seafaring mostly was just a hard job. In Hollywood he deals exclusively with romance and high adventure.

As commander-without-commission of the movie navy, the captain of course has some real sailing to do. For when a ship is to be used in a picture, the studio has to have two ships—a real one for long, scenic shots and a duplicate, built on the lot, for closeups. Rigging the real ships in proper character and building and rigging the duplicates is Christensen's job.

Few Dull Moments

When he was only 12 years old, he ran away from his home in Aalborg, Denmark, and shipped as deck boy on the "Knight of the Thistle," an English three-masted barque bound for Buenos Aires. By the time he was 19, Christensen was a first mate, and at 22 received his master's papers.

He had his share of excitement. Once, in the copra trade, his schooner caught fire and burned off Hawaii. He skippered a steamer that was caught in a typhoon in the China Sea, and all the superstructure was carried away. In 1916, in a four-master bound for Bermuda, he kept his storm-tossed, foundering ship from going to pieces by dropping chains around the hull. The crew spent 72 hours in the water before they were rescued.

But Cap'n Chris got married and decided to remain ashore. On the chance that Hollywood could use his nautical talents, he came here, but it was not a sea picture that introduced him to movie work. He happened to be at the studio where Douglas Fairbanks was making "The Thief of Bagdad," and a call went out for anyone who knew how to splice a wire cable. Christensen did it; he helped fix up the rigging for the film's famous magic carpet.

Plenty Of Work

Since then he has been constantly in demand. He was the ship builder and technical director for the silent productions of "Captain Blood" and and "Moby Dick." Later he worked on the talkie version of "Captain Blood." Also "Mutiny on the Bounty". In fact, scarcely a sea picture has been made in the past 10 years on which he hasn't been a builder, rigger or technical adviser.

Right now he's busy at 20th-Fox on Robert Louis Stevenson's "Kidnaped." The ships in this picture are of such old style that none of the rigging and deck equipment could be bought. The captain designed everything required for authenticity. Of course he never sailed on such ancient ships, but he has made himself an authority on the construction and terminology of everything that ever floated, from galleons to gondolas.

In addition to nautical pictures, Christensen still is in demand by stunt men to arrange any rigging used in their work. There are no more cautious people in Hollywood than the men who risk their necks for a living.

Tricks Of The Trade

Speaking of sea pictures, you may have wondered how, in scenes filmed on wave-tossed vessels actually on the ocean, the camera always manages to remain upright and fairly steady. It's done with the "iron egg." First a tall wooden framework is built on deck, and from it are suspended the camera and a big ball of iron weighing a couple of tons. Thus the camera is free to swing like a pendulum, and the result is stability within 5 degrees, no matter how the ship may toss.

For years, movie photographers were handicapped at sea by the spray, which fogged their lenses. Now they have a self-wiping windshield, which is a disc of plate glass about eight inches in diameter, rotated in front of the camera lens by a high speed motor. Pressure plates about its circumference keep it wiped and polished. The disc moves so rapidly that even in a hard, driving rain the small space in front of the lens is always clear.

Well, How's The Stock Market Doing?

Pat Harrison, Hurriedly Trying To "Relieve Business," Nearly Cost It Additional Taxes

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Chairman Pat Harrison and his Senate Finance committee may be kept busy explaining a hurried leap to "relieve business" which would have the effect of increasing the total corporation tax burden by around 10 per cent.

Rodney Dutcher

The committee substituted a flat 18 per cent rate on corporation profits for the House proposal of a 20 per cent tax with four cents deductible for each dollar paid out in dividends — known as the "20-16 plan."

Corporations with net incomes of less than $6500 would pay a smaller tax under the committee bill than under the House bill. So would corporations which distribute little or none of their profits through dividends.

But corporations above the $25,000 mark which distributed considerable sums of earnings through dividends would pay more in taxes than they would under the present law. And corporations earning between $6500 and $25,000, even though corporations earning less than $25,000 are given special "relief" provisions, would pay more than under the House plan.

More And More

And the net result would be that all corporations would pay the Treasury $75,000,000 more than they would if the present corporate surplus tax law were retained and $97,000,000 more than the House plan would levy. Treasury estimates on which both Senate and House rely say the present low would bring in $673,000,000 in corporate income taxes for 1938, the House plan $851,000,000 and the Finance committee bill $948,000,000.

A $10,000 net income company would pay $1530 tax under the Senate plan as against $1325 under the House bill. A $100,000 net income corporation which distributed 75 per cent of its earnings would pay $14,748.40 under present law, $17,000 under the House bill and $18,000 under the Senate plan.

On the other hand, a $100,000 income company which distributed no profits would pay $20,000 under the House bill and only $18,000 under the Senate plan.

Bar Braggart

The Securities and Exchange commission has just dropped charges against a New York public accountant accused of misrepresenting himself as an SEC officer — a charge which, if proved, would have disqualified him from practice before the commission. Evidence was largely based on a conference between the accountant and two corporation officials, SEC found the charges not substantiated.

"The record shows that most of the Biltmore conference of Oct. 12 took place in the bar, and that each of the persons present had two or three alcoholic drinks," the SEC found solemnly. "This circumstance does not inspire great confidence in the memory of the witness as to exactly what was said on that occasion."

In contrast to most SEC proceedings, the trial was fairly lively. An SEC lawyer, prosecuting the charges, offered evidence as to the accountant's "braggadocio."

"All you're charging him with," said Commissioner Jerome Frank from the dais, "is super-egotism. You wouldn't disbar a lawyer for that, would you? You might decimate the bar!"

"And the bench?" suggested the SEC lawyer.

Later Frank suggested that the accountant might have been misunderstood.

"Haven't you ever been misunderstood?" he asked the attorney.

"I'm married," was the reply.

For Posterity

But just to make sure you can see them 1000 years from now, if you stick around, Oglethorpe university is sealing a copy of the films, along with other movies, in a crypt to be opened by posterity for historical research a few centuries hence.

For Love Of Polly

enjoyed a last talk. They were going their separate ways. Cabell across the Atlantic again, Jerry to Connecticut to see Polly.

"It's a thing I can hardly believe," Jerry said. "Me going to Polly at last. Going in my own ship."

"The fortunes of war, my boy. Down yesterday. On top of the world today. And don't forget tomorrow's an uncharted country. . . By the way, My banker gave me some papers I left with him on our last stop here. I've get a confession to make. That letter you wrote Polly and gave me to post. . . . Well, it was with the papers. I found it when I opened the packet. There's nothing I can say except I'm sorry. I was almost crazy at the time, you'll recall, over debts. It's a poor excuse, but all I have. I've just posted the letter to Polly with an apology from C. Banks. . . . Forgiven?"

"Of course," Jerry said. "I reckon there's nothing we couldn't forgive one another after what we've been through. Polly's sensible. She'll take it all right."

And so in their large masculine way they disposed of the matter of a mere letter, shook hands, swore eternal friendship, and parted. Later, they saluted as their two ships left the harbor. One ship stood toward the east. The other headed north, following the coast line — the May Queen bound for Connecticut.

Some British warships stood off Norfolk, and these drove her out to sea. Two of them followed her, and because they kept together like a pair of gadflies, Jerry dared not fight them but fled before them, hoping to lose them and so turn home again. This monstrous game kept up for a fortnight. And then one day the May Queen's lookouts reported that the gadflies had parted company and only one remained.

Jerry went to meet this ship in combat. And so they tested the May Queen's long guns. There was bloodshed, and five of Jerry's men were buried at sea, but there was victory too.

Entire System Was Wearing Out

Then Gly-Cas Amazes; Kidneys And Stomach Regulated; Eats, Sleeps Good, Nerves Quieted

"It seems impossible for any medicine to do what this new Gly-Cas has done for me," said Mrs. M. E. Jenkins, 1503 North Sixth St., Waco, Texas. "For five years I had been in a miserable condition. I was badly constipated, extremely nervous and my entire system became clogged with poisons. Soon my stomach and kidneys were affected. I was forced to get up many times during the night and my back felt like it would surely break. I was unable to get the sleep I needed and was tired all of the time. My stomach became disordered and regardless of my diet I suffered with gas and bloating after every meal. I put many medicines to the test in my case but met only with repeated failure. But finally I tried this new Gly-Cas—and it was wonderful.

"Now I understand why everyone is praising this new herbal remedy," continued Mrs. Jenkins. "My stomach and kidneys are now fine, nerves are quieted and my bowels are regulated. Those poisonous gases have been removed from my system, eat and sleep good and new strength and energy has been given me. I cannot say too much for this new Gly-Cas for it has accomplished what all else had failed to do."

Gly-Cas is sold by the Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns.

"MATCHING MEN WITH JOBS"

THE BAKER COMPANY'S new radio program is an effort to familiarize the business men of Lubbock and our territory with the work of the Texas State Employment Service and to thereby assist qualified persons to receive desirable jobs.

For thirty minutes, beginning at 2 P. M. each Sunday, several men and women will be interviewed as to their ability, past experience, and recommendations for holding a job. The business executives of our territory are asked to telephone the Texas State Employment Service or Radio Station K F Y O if they know of a position open to a qualified employee. Of course there is no charge to either the employer or the employee. You are also invited to telephone The Baker Company and express your opinion, suggestions, or criticisms concerning this program.

The men to be heard on the program are carefully selected by the officials of the Employment office and they are selected strictly on their ability to fill a job—not on their need of a job.

Don't fail to listen—this will be a sure way to become more familiar with actual business and economic conditions in your own trade territory.

itself.

An insurgent communique announced their troops had pushed six miles to the north, east and south of Lerida on the central sector of the Catalan front. Government troops were said to be in full retreat, presumably to take a desperate stand in fortifications stretching between Balaguer and Borjas Blancas, approximately in the center of Catalonia.

With insurgents moving north and east from Tortosa and east from Lerida, their two columns could join for what might be decisive battle at these government defenses—about 60 miles west of Barcelona.

A third column, meanwhile, was moving south from the Tortosa sector, towards Castellon de la Plana, 37 miles north of Valencia. These troops occupied Morella and moved forward on the road to San Mateo.

Plane Incident

badly, landed.

"There was nothing to worry about after repair instructions were telegraphed to the airport from the Lockheed plant in Burbank, Calif., and then radioed to us," he said.

Hollenbeck found the wheel was jammed when he prepared to land at Idaho Falls, Idaho, en route on a regular run to Great Falls, Mont. He headed the new-type ship, in use on the Salt Lake-Great Falls run for the past three months, back to Salt Lake City.

Western Air officials, expecting Hollenbeck would have to make a "belly" landing, summoned fire fighting and ambulance equipment.

The plane had been aloft almost four hours when the pilot lowered the wheel into landing position. Hollenbeck figured he had enough gasoline to fly it another hour.

A large crowd, attracted by the motors that roared overhead for more than 50 minutes, had hastened to the airport to await the landing.

While the plane remained above the city airport, officials secured from the Lockheed plant at Burbank, Calif., instructions on disengaging the wheels, and within a few minutes the two fliers succeeded in placing them is landing position.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP) — Cotton futures opened down 6 to 11 with weak cables and foreign selling partly offset by trade buying. May 8.50; July 8.57; Oct. 8.62; Dec. 8.65; Jan. 8.64; March 8.70.

Resistance was again encountered at 8½ cents for May but as the offerings from abroad continued that delivery eased to 8.45, the lowest level since January, and prices generally sold off to net losses of 10 to 12 points. July eased from 8.57 to 8.52.

The market continued under pressure until Liverpool had closed, when prices rallied a few points on trade buying. By midday July had recovered from 8.51 to 8.54, and the list was 9 to 10 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 5 (AP)—Cotton futures lost from 40 to 50 cents a bale on opening trades here today due to local and foreign selling which was brought out by weak overseas markets.

May 8.60, July 8.66, Oct. 8.75, Dec. 8.76, Jan. 8.78 and March 8.82, or 8 to 10 points net lower.

Trading became quiet at net declines of 12 to 13 points and trade demand and realising brought partial recovery.

Near mid-session May sold at 7.61, July 7.65, Oct. 7.74, and Dec. at 7.73, or 8 to 12 points under the previous close.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 5 (AP) — With the Liverpool wheat market showing new low price records, Chicago quotations tended downward early today. Cables said all deliveries in the English market were influenced by favorable crop reports from the United States and that Australia continued to press offerings.

Opening ¼-⅝ lower, May 82-82⅛, July 78⅞-79. Chicago wheat futures then climbed further. Corn started unchanged to ⅜ lower, May 59⅜-½, July 60¾-⅞.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP) — Stocks struggled feebly toward recovery in today's market but most leaders met with little or no success.

A slight forward tilt was in evidence at the opening. It failed to hold as small offerings appeared. There was subsequent spotty improvement and around the fourth hour, prices were no worse than moderately mixed. Dealings were sluggish throughout.

Buying ardor apparently was chilled partly by a slide in major commodities, wheat at Chicago hitting a new low for the season before rallying slightly. Secondary rail loans continued to exhibit improvement in the bond department.

Rules Relaxation

ment eliminated a provision that loans to railroads must be approved by the Interstate Commerce commission.

Already Part Of Law

Administration officials said the requirement was not needed because it was already part of the law under which the RFC operates. In effect, the ICC now must certify that the line receiving a loan can be expected, on the basis of present and future earnings, to meet its fixed charges.

Administration advisers contemplate proposing that congress relax this restriction so the RFC may have a freer hand in approving loans, especially to roads in receivership.

Only To Sound Firms

Such loans, one informant said, would be made only to roads having sound financial prospects. Those "Hopelessly in the hole" would be unable to obtain aid. In many cases the latter then would have to merge with more profitable lines.

The president's message on railroads was to accompany a special ICC report which was the subject of a conference yesterday between Mr. Roosevelt and representatives of railroad labor and management.

Guarantee Is Proposed

One proposal suggested at the meeting, authoritative persons said, was that the government guarantee the railroads a fair and profitable level of earnings so they could maintain wages and employment and get needed new equipment.

Some of the labor spokesmen told the president that the increase in business which could be expected from a resumption of railroad spending probably would pull earnings up far enough to make guaranty payments unnecessary.

Cost $300,000,000

They estimated that in any case the cost to the government would not exceed $300,000,000 a year.

Official concern over the railroad situation, coupled with the emergency speed with which the RFC lending bill has been shoved through congress, was regarded by many persons as evidence that the administration does not intend to wait for business to pull itself out of the recession.

Government economists say now that the trend is toward a slight improvement this spring, followed by a more substantial upturn in the fall.

SIT-DOWNERS HOLD PLANT

DETROIT, April 5 (AP) — Sit-down strikers of the CIO-affiliated United Automobile Workers held the Bonalite division of the Swedish Crucible Steel Co. in suburban Hamtramck today. They demanded a new working agreement. The plant employs about 125 persons.

FIVE DIE IN CRASH

LONDON, April 5 (AP)—Five men were killed today in a Royal Air force bomber crash at Tibthorpe, Yorkshire. The bomber had been on a night flight. It was the thirty-second RAF crash since January 1, with a total of 52 deaths.

Meager Clues Are Available

able jewelry, was also still inclined to the robbery motive.

Jackson, in commenting on the jewelry left with the bodies, said, "the murderers apparently only wanted money, or jewels which they might dispose of without attracting too much attention."

Anderson said a final checkup of valuables showed the girl's gold bracelet and the mother's diamond ring still missing.

Money Was Missing

Found on the bodies were Mrs. Frome's wedding ring, her diamond-studded bracelet watch of white gold and diamonds and Nancy's necklace watch and diamond ring. Officers said the women had between $125 and $150 when they left El Paso, but the money was missing.

Roy Chitwood, investigator for the district attorney's office, said the autopsy report of Dr. W. W. Walte showed "conclusively" that the women were not ravished. He said both were shot, with different caliber bullets, once behind the ear.

Investigators Assigned

The Texas state department of public safety assigned two patrolmen and sent two Texas Rangers to Van Horn to aid the investigation.

Sheriff Anderson held only a faint hope that the few fingerprints taken from the abandoned car of the two by State Patrolman John Reese would be of value. The prints were sent to the public safety division at Austin, he said, together with a man's handkerchief, a pack of paper matches, a quantity of hair, and parings, items found clutched in Nancy's hands.

Value Of Prints Unknown

Anderson said nothing could be said of the value of the fingerprints, "until we find something to check from."

"We don't know whose prints they might turn out to be," he said.

Anderson said it would "probably be a day or two before examinations of clues are completed."

Officers kept an alert watch throughout West Texas. They were surveying highway No. 1 closely, checking all suspicious looking vehicles.

Seek Men And Women

Two men and two women—one a decided blonde—became objects of the hunt as authorities were spurred by demands of Governor James V. Allred and others for capture of the killers.

Piecing together random bits of information, authorities advanced as their best theory that four persons were involved in the crime.

Neither of the two slain women, officers said, answered descriptions by informants of women they said they saw sitting in a "mystery automobile" following the Fromes' machine last Wednesday.

Authorities in El Paso were attaching significance to broadcast descriptions of two men who recently held up a loan office official, and were wanted for other Texas offenses.

Officers here also renewed a search for a man described as a drug addict and an ex-convict from Los Angeles, where he was wanted in connection with a robbery-murder.

Political Situation

of the most aggressive leaders of the court bill opposition has to stand for re-election this year. Wheeler of Montana, Burke of Nebraska, Byrd of Virginia—all come up in 1940.

Aligned With Opposition

Aligned with the opposition, however, were these six Democrats whose terms are expiring—Clark of Missouri, George of Georgia, Lonergan of Connecticut, McCarran of Nevada, Smith of South Carolina, and Tydings of Maryland.

National political developments to date have given them little reason for disquiet. Rumors that the administration might take a hand against George are yet to be confirmed.

In Indiana, where both major parties will nominate at conventions in May, a stiff fight is in prospect among the Democrats for the seat of Van Nuys. If he loses the nomination, as the state party leaders say, he is expected to run as an independent.

Others In Field

Two other candidates for the nomination are in the field—Samuel D. Jackson, Fort Wayne lawyer, and Alex E. Gordon, Indianapolis labor leader.

Several anti-administration senators, including Burke, have declared their intention to aid Van Nuys' independent race.

Senator Gillette's opponents in Iowa include Representative Otha D. Wearin, who announced his candidacy after what he described as "conferences at the White House." While the implication declared that the administration is not against him.

More intense than the fights involving anti-court bill senators are several developing around supporters of the measure.

Governor A. B. Chandler of Kentucky has come out against Senate Majority Leader Barkley, and the campaigning in that state until the primary August 6 promises to be as lively as any in the country. Mr. Roosevelt has thrown administration support to Barkley by stating his appreciation of the senator's work.

Crawford also completed a well in the same vicinity late last week. It tested for approximately 720 gallons a minute, one of the best producers in the city water system, city officials said. His drilling contract is $3 per foot.

A fourth well is to be drilled as soon as that on which the contractor is preparing to start has been completed, officials said.

ton producer's acreage allotment at not less than 50 per cent of his 1937 acreage. If he cooperates with the agriculture department in the new program, he would be allotted, in addition, 50 per cent of the acreage he diverted from cotton last year.

During consideration of the amendments, Representative Taber (R-NY) charged the government uses compulsion to obtain approval of its farm policies.

Copy Of Poster Shown

He exhibited a copy of what he said was a poster placed in the Greenville, Miss., courthouse, urging cotton farmers to produce records of their plantings in recent years. Taber said the poster warned all farmers to "come in this year" with those reports.

Representative McFarlane (D-Tex) arose to say cotton farmers had approved marketing quotas for this year by a 92 per cent majority in a recent referendum.

Seen And Heard At The Stock Show

More livestock "authorities" were on hand Monday for the opening of the junior fat stock show, but the greater majority of these had to qualify in the senior class. Dads had to keep their eyes open so as not to get in the road of the exhibits. One marked feature, however, was there was little talking when the boys were near; conversation as to quality of calves being confined to groups of adults.

CALVES DRESSED UP

Elmer Rush, the official barber, was on hand with his electric clipper and he dressed up the calves in great style, removing surplus hair. Several times he had an unruly customer and it took the combined efforts of the exhibitor and a spectator or two to keep the animal still long enough to cut its hair.

HAS LARGE GROUP

J. Walter Grist, aggie gradute of Texas Technological college, now a vocational teacher at McAdoo, Dickens county, brought one of the largest groups of boys here for the show. He had 35 boys and they brought 18 pigs, 24 lambs and one calf. One calf died Sunday. Grist was in charge of terracing work in the county agent's office last winter, before going to McAdoo.

JASON GORDON HERE

Jason Gordon, Parmer county agent and former assistant here, said his job was putting tags on the calves. He is assistant superintendent of the beef division and while here met a lot of his friends over the county. Parmer county, he added is looking good, with excellent wheat prospects. Rain and snow last week helped the wheat, he added.

CASEY IS HELPING

Neil Casey Fine, the Lubbock county boy who is making good out at Texas Technological college, jumped in and helped out in the handling of registration of calves. Casey, as he is known, is a former Lubbock club boy who went through Tech, graduated with high honors, was on a champion livestock judging team or two and is on the faculty. He also has helped coach some high grade teams since leaving school.

POTTS IS GARZA AGENT

Another Lubbock county 4-H club boy who is making good after graduating from Tech is Jim Potts, Garza county agent. He has conducted a countywide program that has attracted state-wide attention, because of its general all-around character. The ranchers of Garza county have a program that is second to none in Texas. Men like Jay Slaughter, Giles Connell, Tillman Jones, Tom Morgan, George Samson and other leaders are solidly behind the program.

MAY COME BACK

T. H. McArdle, Californian, who has the Hereford steer, Big Jim, formerly owned by Will Rogers, says he may come back to Lubbock when his present contract is over. He has been in Texas most of the time for the past 18 months and says he likes the country, especially what he has seen of Lubbock. Big Jim is a gentle animal and apparently does not mind crowds as they watch him.

CANES ARE POPULAR

Walking canes were popular among the boys. Having seen W. L. Stangel, Ray Mowery, Dr. E. G. Harbaugh, Casey Fine, C. C. Jobson, Jason Gordon, Homer Thompson and county agents and vocational teachers, swing their yellow canes, the boys follow suit. A cane merchant yesterday did a landoffice business.

REEVES IS ON HAND

J. Frank Reeves, Fort Worth Star Telegram photographer, who makes all the fat stock shows in the state, was here Monday, as usual. He had his camera out yesterday, testing it to see if he could get the proper focus. He has not missed a show here.

TAKES AFTER FATHER

Davis Pounds, assistant county agent at Crosbyton, is another Lubbock county boy who has made good. Davis takes after his father, Douglas Pounds, who has been swine superintendent of the fair for years. He has produced exhibited and judged hogs, as well as been a show superintendent and thoroughly knows the game.

"Funeral services will be held at Wilson C Kratzers parlors in Richmond, Calif., Thursday at 2 p. m. for family and immediate friends."

Two Robbers Accost Man And He Displays His Neat Tricks

CHICAGO, April 5. (AP)—Two robbers accosted Milton Berg and — presto — he restorted to his magic tricks.

"When one of them put his fingers in my watch pocket, I took a deep breath, catching them," he reported to Sergeant Walter Thomas with pardonable pride. "As he struggled to extricate them, I took my wallet from another pocket and flipped it over a fence. He stepped behind me to search my hip pocket. I took my watch from my vest and put it atop my hat."

The holdup men left. Berg went to a police station to demonstrate his technique. It was a masterful exhibition. Until he wiggled.

The watch crashed from his fedora to the floor.
