Gould Heiress Joins Dinner Pail Brigade

Mrs. Gloria Gould Bishop, youngest daughter of the late George J. Gould, is no longer a member of "the idle rich." She has turned bread-winner, and not only gives instructions in dancing, but breeds and trains dogs. She is shown with "Lightnin'," half-brother of the celebrated "Strongheart."

Pavements and New Bridge To Open Oklahoma

Construction of a new free bridge across Red River near Burkburnett, preliminary surveys for which were made Thursday, is expected to be but one of a series of developments that will give Wichita Falls a new outlet to Oklahoma City, Tulsa and the north. Paving projects in various Oklahoma counties, notably Grady and Commanche, will be the others.

A bond issue has already been voted in Grady county, of which Chickasha is county seat, for an extensive highway improvement, and a large bond issue will be voted on within the next ten days by Commanche county tax payers for similar improvements there. A hard road system in the latter county would mean much to the thousands of Wichitans who annually trek to Medicine Park.

Pavement To Oklahoma City.

Paving of Grady county further north would give a paved road practically all the way from Wichita Falls straight into Oklahoma City and thence on to Tulsa. Construction of the bridge near Burkburnett, too, is giving impetus to the hard road programs of these two counties. Oklahomans generally have been anxious to secure a free bridge into Texas, and with such a structure now assured it is regarded here as certain that the hard roads will be built as rapidly as possible.

The Lee highway question has also been injected into the picture and in some quarters it is believed that the new free bridge will have the effect of bringing traffic over that transcontinental road through Wichita Falls.

Surveys Are Made.

Preliminary surveys made for the bridge Thursday by G. W. Mayo, federal bridge engineer; G. C. Wickline, bridge engineer of the Texas state highway department and Walter Burnham, bridge engineer of the Oklahoma state highway department established it at a point near the present toll bridge across the river. It will be more than 3,000 feet long, of concrete and steel, and will cost approximately $250,000.

Present indications are that actual work can be started within the next 90 days.

Gravel Slide Fatal to Man at Walters

WALTERS, Okla., March 5.—Clarence Davis, employed by the Ford garage to haul gravel to a construction west of Temple was killed when his truck upset yesterday. He was covered with about eight feet of gravel.

Davis had been hauling gravel for several days, making regular trips. Having failed to return on schedule time a party was sent on the route to find the delay who found the body in a gravel pit covered and crushed. His wife, Mrs. Clarence Davis and children accompanied the body to Grandberry, Texas, for burial.

TEXAN DROWNED

Man Falls Overboard Between Boat And Dock At Tampa, Fla.

TAMPA, Fla., March 5.—B. L. Alfana, 30, Port Arthur, Texas, was drowned here today when he fell overboard between a tug boat and the docks. His body was recovered.

Hubert Harrison Is a "Very Sick" Man

Hubert Harrison, manager of the chamber of commerce, who is quite ill with pneumonia at his home, 2603 Ninth, is reported improving.

The chamber's manager, though not critically ill, according to reports from his bedside is a "very sick man." He had, but recently recovered from an attack of the flu and information last night was to the effect that his lungs had been left weakened by the attack.

SUMMER WEATHER ARRIVES

Wichita Falls And North Texas Gets Touch of Warmer Temperatures

North Texas got a touch of real summer weather Thursday and sweated and loafed through it in typical spring fever style.

A high temperature and warm wind combined to sap the energy of most everybody, although at the same time it was a pleasing reminder that the rigors of winter have finally disappeared.

A strong wind that whipped in big clouds of dust from the south and east made things uncomfortable at times but at no time did the breeze get unduly boisterous.

Continued clear and fair weather was the prediction for Friday.

ADOPT APPROPRIATION ACT

Both Houses Pass On Bill And Send It To Governor.

AUSTIN, March 5.—(AP)—With the adoption today of the conference committee report on the eleemosynary appropriation bill by both houses of the legislature, the second of the four major appropriation bills is ready for the governor's approval. The bill provides $7,808,240 for the maintenance of the state's eleemosynary institutions for the biennium. This figure is $80,260 less than was recommended by the board of control and is $900,470 less than was requested by the various institutions.

RENEW PRISON AFFAIRS

Senate Organizes As Committee To Hear Additional Evidence.

AUSTIN, March 5—(AP)—The investigation of the Texas prison system was renewed tonight by the senate on its behalf, when it organized as a committee of the whole to hear any evidence to be presented by the 23 prison officials and employes whose resignations were demanded in the report of the joint investigation committee.

The majority report of the joint committee naming the officials was adopted by the house but the senate refused to concur until further evidence was adduced.

FREDERICK CHILD DIES.

Burns Received From Bon Fire Prove Fatal to Landrum Girl.

FREDERICK, Okla., March 5.—Little Miss Erie Fern Landrum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Landrum, living south of Tipton, died at the Tillman county hospital Thursday from burns inflicted Tuesday when her dress caught fire in the yard of the Landrum home from a bon fire which her 15-year-old brother, Albert was using to burn some trash and leaves in the yard.

VIOLINIST TO WED

Noted Musicial Will Mary in Early May.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., March 5.—The wedding of Mischa Elman, Russian-American violin virtuoso, and Miss Helen Katten of San Francisco will take place early in May, according to announcement here today by the violinist. The exact date of the wedding has not been designated.

Miss Katten is a member of a California family. Elman, although of Russian birth, is now an American citizen, he said.

GRAND JURY IN HOUSTON OPENS PROBE OF VICE

Constable's Department Comes Under Official Eye

HOUSTON, March 5.—The Harris county grand jury Thursday morning began investigations of the activities of the Harrisburg Constabulary, conditions in the Harris county jail, and alleged horse race bookmaking on downtown streets.

The grand jury was said to be investigating both the number and character employed as deputy constables by Constable J. W. Milam. Records of Deputation in the office of County Clerk Townsend show that Milam has eleven deputies, when under the law, he should have only two, says Horace Soule, district attorney. It also is charged that Milam is working consistently in Houston territory and filing complaints in one of the justice courts, the other court judge having refused to take the complaints.

That Constable Milam has been granted additional deputies by county commissioners in order to work the ship channel district is understood to be the reply he will make to inquiry regarding the number of deputies.

Son-in-law's Death Hearing for Monday

WALTERS, Okla., March 5.—A preliminary hearing for Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Forest charged jointly with the murder of their son-in-law, George Hicks, here four weeks ago will be heard before County Judge Lon Morris here Monday, March 9. Many witnesses are to be heard on both sides.

The Forests are charged with first degree murder and have been confined in the Comanche county jail since their arrest.

The state's case will be handled by County Attorney Toby Morris and special prosecutors D. B. Madden and Walter Hubbell. The defence will be in the hands of John Thomas of Lawton and Mathers and Matson of Oklahoma City.

SUED FOR MISTAKEN SHOT

Neighbor Files Against Man Who Mistook Him For Burglar

ST. LOUIS, March 5.—Damages of $50,000 were asked in a suit filed here yesterday in behalf of Arthur Hettenbach, 14, against Alfred Sutherland, a neighbor who shot and wounded the boy as he attempted to get into his home through a window on the night of February 18, last.

The boy attempted entrance through a window because he had forgotten his latch key, he said, and Sutherland told the police he mistook him for a burglar opening fire with a revolver. It is held in the suit that a bullet struck the boy's spine and will leave him permanently injured.

TWO SENTENCED FOR MURDER

Slayers of Japanese Woman Sentenced to Die

ARUNR, Ga., March 5.—Ray Arnold of Sacramento and E. K. Sayer of San Francisco today were sentenced to death on the gallows for the murder of Mrs. I. Ninimoys, a Japanese woman at Penryn, last November.

Attorneys for the defendants filed notice of appeal which automatically suspends execution.

FREDERICK MAN TO MOVE.

Drug Store Owner Purchases Business Place in Wichita Falls.

FREDERICK, Okla., March 5.—Announcement was made in Frederick Thursday by Early Parks, formerly part owner of the Crescent drug store here, that he had purchased the Chambers drug store in Wichita Falls, Texas, and would move to that place immediately to take charge.

65 WILDCATS FOR WAGGONER PASTURE LAND

Greatest Play In History On Single Estate Being Seen Now

ALL CABLE-TOOLS

Eastern Wilbarger Coming Into Own, To Live Or Die

What will probably rank as the greatest wildcat boom in the history of the oil industry on one property is already well underway on the Waggoner county where tests drilling and contracted to start within a short time have reached the number of 65.

Better than 25 contracts, most of them made on the basis of a half section for a well, although these terms vary with the location, have been let in less than a week since the showing in the Noble well a week ago yesterday afternoon.

Here and There.

In most localities a farmer considers himself fortunate to get a well on his land; on the Waggoner pasture, a realm that is in itself larger than many a king's domain, the prime minister, Bob Moore, manager of the Waggoner estate, doles out a half section here, a quarter section here, a section over there, and two sections if you'll drill there. He takes in return your promise to use cable tools and give the Waggoner estate refusal of the oil.

South Vernon started the boom on the Waggoner pasture. A few rigs here and there dotted the mesquite covered hills and started down; the showings obtained in three of them has started the boom, a boom that will mean 65 drilling rigs in southern Wilbarger county within 30 days.

Six West of South Vernon.

Six of the 65 will be located west of South Vernon and the Sigler group, two will be in Baylor county, the rest between South Vernon and Electra, broadly speaking.

With one exception they'll all be wildcats, Levy et al's No. 2, Waggoner, being the only offset to production. Contracts are being taken on plots with an entire disregard of the old dry holes, relics of five years ago, that dot the country.

The boom that six months ago hied itself to south Archer county and north Young seems to have taken its abode in Wilbarger now, a water shut down in the Olney area having postponed activity there to a large extent.

Some Not Waggoner.

While the greatest part of the development will take place on Waggoner property, there are a few notable exceptions, Schoonmaker et al on the George, Levy-Kane et al on the Wheeler, Texas company on the Castleberry, Gulf on the Zipperle, Brownlee et al on the Brownlee, and others.

The idea among operators now seems to be that Electra development for several reasons passed up eastern Wilbarger; showings obtained in the Gulf No. 1, Waggoner, Levy-Kane-Morton No. 1, Waggoner, and the old Noble Waggoner well have convinced many that the territory is a good bet, and with two actual wells, miles apart, as a basis the territory is getting its play now, a play that puts fault zone wildcatting to shame and has probably never seen its equal on one estate in the history of the oil industry.

Will Dig to Find if Rockwall Wall Is Real

DALLAS, March 5.—Plans are being made to excavate extensively at Rockwall, Texas, to determine whether the wall of rock there is a natural formation or was built by man. Announcement of the plans was made yesterday by Col. Frank P. Holland, publisher of Holland's Magazine. The work will be under the direction of Dr. James E. Pearce and Dr. L. T. Patton of the University of Texas.

Origin of the wall has been the subject of much speculation for years. Some hold the opinion the wall or walls were built by man in prehistoric times. Others say they think the formation to be a natural formation.

GERMAN LABORERS STRIKE

Dissatisfied Workmen Lay Down Tools Without Waiting Settlement

DRESDEN, Germany, March 5.—Dissatisfied with low wages and enraged because the railway administration recently voted huge increases for the highest officials while ignoring the lower paid workers, railway men in various parts of Saxony today laid down their tools without waiting the result of the wage negotiations at Berlin.

Freight is badly congested and the passenger service has been continued only under great difficulties and numerous delays.

THEATRE PERMIT LET.

Bernhard Allowed Night of Extension on Mother's Lease.

PARIS, March 5.—Maurice Bernhardt's right to five year extension of his famous mother's lease on the municipally owned theatre named in her honor was upheld today by the court of cassation.

The case has been before the courts for nearly two years and in the appeal stage was decided twice in Maurice's favor and once in the city's favor. The decision today settles his right to the theatre for three years more under the terms given by the city to the great tragedian.

STATE CLOSES CASE

DALLAS, March 5. — The state closed its case here late today in the trial of E. C. McDearman, charged with the murder of H. E. Guynes, in criminal district court.

She Kills Him and Collects

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 5. The United States circuit court of appeals today sustained the federal district court of Philadelphia in awarding $35,568 insurance money to the estate of Oscar W. R. Rosier, who, with his stenographer, was shot and killed by Rosier's wife.

The award was made under a double indemnity of insurance policies for an accidental death. The insurance companies paid the single indemnity but fought the double payment on the contention that Rosier met death while "violating the law."

The decision rested on the question of whether statements made by Mrs. Rosier after the shooting that she "caught" her husband and the stenographer "violating the law" were admissible. The court decided they were not admissible.

Mrs. Rosier, who was acquitted of the killings, is entitled to one third of the award.

GAS TAX BILL AND LESS-COST LICENSE DEAD

Two Of Jim's Pet Administration Measures Killed By Senate Action

AUSTIN, March 5.—The gasoline tax increase bill and its companion bill to cut motor vehicle registration fees, are dead, this time for good.

The two measures have been set by the senate state affairs committee for hearing next Thursday night, Chairman Wirtz announced. This is after the day for the senate to consider house bills. This is the third killing for the two administration measures for which James E. Ferguson personally appeared before the committee, at which time he clashed with Senator Parnell.

The committee originally reported them adversely. The senate refused to accept a minority report, but gave them a lease on life later by recommitting them. The bills would have raised from one cent to three cents per gallon the gasoline tax and cut from average of $16 to average of $6 car registration fees.

Gas Rate Bill Is Argued in Senate

AUSTIN, March 5.—(AP)—The proposition of eliminating the state railroad commission from any authority to regulate gas rates or hear gas cases appeals gave the senate extended debate at the afternoon session today and was pending when recess was take until 8 p. m., for the prison investigation hearing.

Of particular interest to North Texas cities, where there has been considerable litigation over regulation of gas rates, the Moore bill introduced by Senator Moore of Cooke county, held the center of the debate.

TO CONDUCT ALAMO CHAPEL

Brigadier General W. S. Scott Will Deliver Address in San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, March 5.—Brigadier General W. S. Scott, retired, will deliver the annual memorial address commemorating the fall of the Alamo at the service to be held in front of the ancient chapel Friday afternoon. This is the 89th anniversary of the fall of the Alamo before the onslaught of thousands of Mexican troops under the dictator, Santa Anna.

The original Bowie knife said to have been used by James Bowie before he perished with his fellow countrymen in the fall of the Alamo, will be presented to the Alamo museum by Harris Bell of Austin.

KEIM RESTING EASILY.

Foster Dies as Result of Injuries Sustained in Auto Accident.

Frank Keim, well known local automobile dealer who was injured late Wednesday afternoon in an automobile wreck near Lake Kemp in which H. E. Foster of South Bend, Ind., was fatally injured, was reported Thursday night to be resting easily and apparently on the road to recovery.

Mr. Foster died at 7:30 Thursday morning in the general hospital without regaining consciousness. The remains will be sent to his home in the north for burial.

REMARRIED, WANTS DIVORCE

Wife of President of Izaak Walton League Sues Husband.

CHICAGO, March 5.—William H. Dilg president of the Izaak Walton League of America today was made defendant in a suit for divorce. Mrs. Margurite Ives Dilg charged desertion, non-support and cruelty. In 1922 she alleged he beat her because she did not want to take the children on their house boat Minneiska on the Mississippi. On the trip their son, William, Jr., was drowned, she said. Mrs. Dilg once before was divorced from Dilg, married another man and then had that marriage annulled and re-married Dilg.

STANDS UPRIGHT—DEAD

MT. PLEASANT, Texas, March 5.—Jim Ross, negro, oil mill employe, was found in a standing position smothered to death here today, after a cave-in of cotton seed in a bin.

CATTLE TRADE PROBLEMS TO BE IRONED OUT

Annoying Questions Due For Discussion At Annual Convention

IN SAN ANTONIO SOON

Texas And Southwestern Cattlemen Plan Big Programs

SAN ANTONIO, March 5.—Some of the cattle industry's most annoying problems, chief of which are financing and marketing, will be discussed by speakers of authority at the forty-ninth annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association, which will be held in San Antonio, March 17, 18 and 19.

The tentative program has been announced by H. L. Kokernot of San Antonio, president of the association after a conference with E. B. Spiller of Fort Worth, secretary of the association.

Governor to Speak.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, D. A. Millett, chairman of the National Livestock and Meat Board; Carl Williams of Oklahoma City, authority on market problems; A. C. Williams of Washington, D. C., member of the federal farm loan board and others will appear on the program.

Fred H. Bixby of Long Beach, California, president of the American National Livestock association, has been invited to attend and address the convention, Mr. Kokernot said. A response has not been received from Bixby and he is hopeful he will accept the invitation.

Business sessions of the convention will be held in the Princess Theatre.

An extensive entertainment program has been arranged for the delegates. A number of affairs have been unplanned for the ladies who attend.

Kokernot said indications are that the attendance will be as large as any in the association's history.

Amnesty Wins a Hollow Triumph

AUSTIN, March 5.— Ferguson amnesty, after three days of losing skirmishes in the house, won a technical victory today when the house by a vote of 65 to 68 refused to adjourn until tomorrow at 10 a. m., recessing instead. The house had defeated a motion to adjourn until 9 a. m., 55 to 74.

In quick order the house refused to recess until 7:30 p. m., and a recess until 9 a. m., was ordered, 73 to 61.

This action keeps the house on the senate calendar, on which the Ferguson amnesty bill is slowly rising to the top. Heretofore motions to set it for special order have consistently failed.

LEGISLATORS TURN SCOUTS.

Solons Agree to Do One Good Turn Daily for Period of A Week.

AUSTIN, March 5.—(AP)—The legislature today committed itself to the Boy Scout pledge and promised to do one good turn daily for one week upon request of a troop of Austin Boy Scouts that gave brief programs before each house. In recognition of their promises, the members of the legislature are now wearing small square knots upon their coat lapels.

The Scouts, in celebration of the 14th anniversary of the order in Austin, appeared before each house, repeated the pledge to the flag, the Scout oath and the Scout law.

Amputate Leg of Man at Childress

CHILDRESS, Texas, March 5.—W. W. Alexander, traveling salesman of this city, underwent an operation Wednesday, having his left leg amputated below the knee. A blood clot developed into blood poison and the leg was amputated in an effort to save his life. Mr. Alexander's condition remains critical.

QUICK TRIAL ASKED.

Senator Wheeler Requests that Case Be Set Immediately After Mar. 15.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., March 5.—Request that the trial of United States Senator Burton K. Wheeler, under indictment in federal court here on a charge of having represented a client before the department of the interior after he had taken office as a senator be set as soon after March 15 as possible, was made of United States District Judge Charles N. Pray here today by S. C. Ford of Senator Wheeler's counsel.

CARLOAD WHISKEY SEIZED

Booze Was Camouflaged as "Oyster Shells" From Coast

MOBILE, Ala., March 5.—Seizure in Kansas City, Mo., of a car load of whiskey in disguise from Biloxi, Miss., revealed nothing new in the artifice of gulf coast bootlegdom in its efforts to "carry on" with the interior, according to various prohibition officers here.

Camouflaging booze as "oyster shells" was merely a slightly revised version of the old play at strategy by coast bootleggers, they said.

FOUR PERISH IN FIRE

Blaze Takes Toll of Children While Parents Are at Dance

FREEDOM, Wyo., March 5.—Four children of Sylvester Robins, ranging in age from one to five years, perished in a fire which totally destroyed the home of their parents here last night. When the parents returned from a dance the flames were so well under way that rescue efforts were futile.

Borglum's Aide

While Gutzon Borglum is declaring he will "rot in jail" before he will compromise on the issue raised by his dismissal as constructing artist of the confederate memorial at Stone Mountain, Ga., local authorities are seeking J. C. Tucker, (above), superintendent of Borglum. He is wanted on the charge of "malicious mischief," because of the destruction of the models and plans of the memorial, following Borglum's dismissal.

BORGLUM NOW AGREEABLE TO A CONCILIATION

Stone Mountain Sculptor Would Meet With "Big Southern Men"

NEW YORK, March 5.—Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor, left New York this afternoon for Greensboro, N. C., to appear at a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus recently issued in connection with the malicious mischief charges preferred against him following the destruction of the Stone Mountain memorial models.

Mr. Borglum, returning to the city this morning from Cleveland, Ohio, said that if the memorial association "of its own volition will stop all this silly stuff of trying to indict me for breaking an egg, there will be no difficulty in holding a conference with a dozen big southern men, including representatives from Atlanta in carrying out the project as planned."

"Otherwise," he added, "they are putting me in a position where I must deal with them through the courts thus closing all possible diplomatic relations. There are no obstacles whatsoever involving the making of perfect models for the memorial as planned that could not be agreed upon by such group of men meeting with me."

"The controversy never would have risen," he continued, "had the financial committee itself not shifted the responsibility of raising funds upon my shoulders and so kept me constantly seeking contributions for the work.

"I have been laboring for ten years under the unfair and almost impossible position of financing and creating public interest in my own project, a tremendous undertaking, which required my entire time as an artist."

The sculptor said he planned to stop in Washington and Raleigh on his way to Greensboro.

UNSEEN BABY DEPARTS.

Longworth Child Leaves for Washington.

CHICAGO, March 5.—Paulina Longworth, three weeks old, granddaughter of the late President Roosevelt, will leave Chicago for Washington, D. C., tomorrow "unseen and unphotographed" her mother, "Princess Alice," of Roosevelt days in the White House and wife of Congressman Nicholas Longworth, new speaker of the horse of representatives said today.

Mrs. Longworth said the baby was "getting better and better every day," but added that "from now on we can furnish no news."

Big Increase Seen For Wichita Asylum

AUSTIN, March 5.—Texas jails will be cleared of all insane persons confined in them as a result of a compromise agreement whereby the old blind institute buildings in Austin may be used as an asylum for one year, it was announced this morning by Representative Eugene Blount, chairman of the appropriations committee.

Mr. Blount said the Austin building will be used until facilities may be arranged at the Wichita Falls Asylum for the care of the patients, when they will be transferred there.

MOB THREATENED AT RENO

Mexicans Employ Lawyer to Aid Country Man Who Killed Officer.

RENO, Nev., March 5.—Threats of lynching of A. Decosta, a Mexican, who shot and killed a deputy sheriff at Elko early Monday and who has since pleaded self defense, have led 75 Mexicans of Elko to form an association to retain a lawyer for Decosta. Reports that the Mexicans had formed a guard around the jail were denied today. It was said that while there is some race feeling evident, no talk of fighting or serious trouble has been heard.

CHARTER GIVEN FOR NEW ROAD THROUGH PLAINS

Fort Worth And Denver South Plain Line Authorized At Austin

C. B. & Q. SUBSIDIARY

200 Miles Long Between Estelline And Center Of Castro County

AUSTIN, March 5.—(AP) — A charter for a new Texas railroad 200 miles long from Estelline, on the Fort Worth and Denver, in a southwesterly direction to the center of Castro county, was obtained here today under the name of the Fort Worth and Denver South Plains Railway.

J. H. Barwise, Jr., Fort Worth, general solicitor for the Colorado and Southern Lines, and John A. Hulen, Houston, traffic manager of the Fort Worth and Denver railway, procured the charter. It is understood the new line, which is one of the most important railroad projects in Texas in a number of years, is a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy interest because Hale Holden, president, and G. C. Burnham, executive vice-president of that company, are among those whose signatures appear on the charter application.

Through Western Counties.

The road is planned to run through the counties of Hall, Briscoe, Floyd, Hale, Swisher, Lubbock and Crosby. The western terminus is to be near the center of Castro county.

Railroad men state this new line carries unusual interest in connection with the announced plans of the Fort Worth and Denver City railway, of which the new line apparently is to be a subsidiary, to operate its road into Dallas early this spring. It is believed to be part of the plan of the Burlington interests in carrying out their proposed development of the southern plains county and would give close connection between Dallas, Fort Worth and the Panhandle and south plains country.

One of the signers of the charter application is Major J. M. Van Zandt, Fort Worth, who, as a member of the Texas legislature in 1873, procured a special act incorporating the Fort Worth and Denver City to build its line from Fort Worth into the Panhandle.

Anti-Ku Klux Bill Goes to Governor

AUSTIN, Mar. 5.—Masking in public by any secret organization went under the ban today when the house concurred in senate amendments to the Mankin anti-masking bill after a bitter parliamentary struggle. The amendment, was an entirely new bill written by Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, written at the request of Representative Mankin of Georgetown, he declared in the house.

The bill, one of the democratic platform demands, now goes to the governor for signature, which is said to be assured, as Governor Miriam A. Ferguson made her principal campaign on an anti-ku klux klan issue, at which organization the bill is said to be aimed.

SOUGHT DIVORCE; TO WED?

Chicago Woman Believing She Would Be a Mother, Uses Faked Name

CHICAGO, March 5.—Belief that she was going to become a mother led Mrs. Helen Frederick to pose as Mrs. James Grippando and attempt to secure a divorce under the assumed name so she could marry her already married lover, she told Judge Joseph A. Sabath when she appeared on a charge of contempt of court today.

The judge, inclined to leniency because of the two children of the real Mrs. Grippando and the child yet unborn, sentenced Mrs. Frederick to 10 days in the county jail and Grippando to 30 days. He elicited a promise from Grippando to return to his wife when his sentence was served and one from Mrs. Frederick not to see Grippando again.

BRIDGE PLANS GROW.

Wednesday Meeting At Frederick Helps Prospects for Span.

FREDERICK, Okla., March 5.—Prospects for the building of a bridge across Red river at Davidson, Okla., took on a more favorable aspect, Wednesday, when a delegation from Vernon, consisting of R. W. Nichols, president, and R. M. Fielder, secretary of the Venron chamber of commerce, and Cy Long, manager of the Perkins-Timberlake store in that city, arrived in Frederick, with information that they had negotiated with Harry Bovay of Stuttgart, Ark., to begin building the bridge within the next six months, and to push it to completion.

STOKES' FACE A TARGET FOR HIS WIFE, HE SAYS

Hotel Owner Says Helen Left Two Scars On His Features

CHICAO, March 5.— Testimony that Helen Elwood Stokes once scratched her husband's face and chased him with a butcher knife when he demurred at renting an apartmept at $25,000 a year has been detailed by the husband, W. E. D. Stokes, on the stand in his own behalf in his trial here on charges of conspiracy to defame her.

The alleged assault occurred early in 1916, shortly after the birth of the second child. Stokes said, in an apartment on West 72nd street, New York.

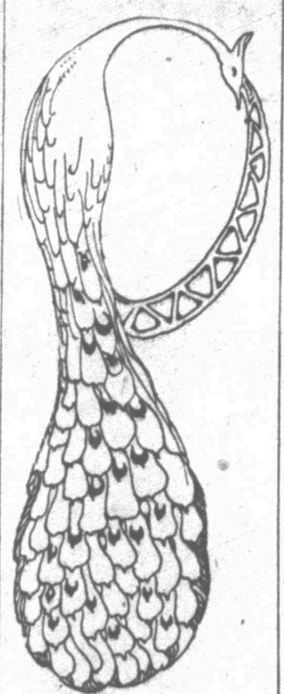

Mrs. Stokes was living there, her estranged husband testified, "with Mrs. Ethel Yerkes Connery, a woman whom I had never liked Mrs. Stokes to associate with."

"I called there about 5:30," the aged New York hotel owner related. "When I went in she locked the door. She told me she had rented an apartment on Riverside Drive for $25,000 a year. I told her she had an elegant apartment at the Ansonia and that I couldn't afford to pay $25,000 rental.

"I was putting my arms into my top coat at the time and she rushed at me and scratched me. I still have two scars here," indicating his forehead, "and another here," pointing to his right cheek.

"I tried to get out but the door was locked and I ran into the dining room. She grabbed a butcher knife and started for me. Mrs. Connery's cook ran out and let me out through the kitchen."

Little Snow-White

The Gold Miners.

Today you see the last of the seven little dwarfs in the story of "Snow-White." Children who follow this story every day will have a whole set of "Snow-White" dolls that they can use in playing the story many times. Watch for a new cut-out each day.

The seven little dwarfs with whom Snow-White lived were miners. They dug for gold in the mountains just beyond the great forest. Sometimes they would come home with sacks of shining gold. They told Snow-White that some day they would buy her fine clothes and she should dress as a queen's daughter should.

But Snow-White did not care about being a queen's daughter. She was very happy as she was, and grew more beautiful every day.

(Color the seventh dwarf's suit green. The sack is brown and the coins are golden. Trouble is coming for Snow-White! Watch for it tomorrow.)

ELECTRA WILL GIVE DECLAMATION PRIZES

ELECTRA, March 5.—In connection with the literary events which will be held during the county interscholastic meet, four splendid cups have been offered the winners in the declamation contests by the local Parent-Teacher association. Cups have also been offered by the Electra chamber of commerce, the Lions club and the Rotary club and according to a report received from B. M. Dinsmore, it is quite likely that other awards will be made to the schools or individuals who are winners in some of the literary events.

Carbon Black Bill Offers Mess Of Pottage For Panhandle Birthright

Giant Store Of Energy Will Be Nation's Fuel

In exhaustible Supply There Ready For Gas Lines

PENNIES VS. DOLLARS

Conservation Agent Opposed To Carbon Black Measure

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD
Record News Staff.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 5.—Those who are behind the scenes say that the agents of the Carbon Black trust are pushing the bill which will destroy, in time, the natural gas asset of Texas. There are a few land owners with natural gas deposits on their lands, who are pushing the bill.

For the few pennies in sight they are willing to destroy this great asset of their state. If they would be patient in the very near future a great pipeline will be built to carry their gas to the growing cities and towns which are gas consumers and then instead of pennies they would receive dollars in the shape of royalties.

East Texas.

A case in point; Two years ago many good people from the gas fields of East Texas came to Austin and appealed to the lawmakers for a law that would permit them to sell their natural gas in dirt cheap lots to the makers of Carbon Black.

They slipped the bill over in the senate. Friends of conservation rallied and after a most exciting battle the Carbon Black trust met with defeat. The bill failed to pass.

Then what happened? Why the growing cities of Port Arthur, Beaumont, Orange, and many of the smaller towns on the gulf coast demanded natural gas for light and heat and power.

A big pipeline has been built and now the owners of natural gas wells in East Texas are to be supplied with rich markets for their product. Really the lawmakers who defeated the Carbon Black bill placed big money in the pockets of these owners of natural gas in the East Texas fields.

Pipelines Some Day.

In the very near future big pipelines will be constructed to carry the gas from the Panhandle fields to the great gas consuming markets of North West, central West and central Texas cities and towns, where the demand for natural gas for heat and light and power purposes is growing by leaps and bounds.

Friends of conservation of the chief asset of Texas should be on their guard. They should kill this Carbon Black bill. They should do for the Panhandle gas fields what the pipeline companies have done for the owners of the East Texas gas field.

Incidentally speaking Chairman Clarence Gilmore of the state railroad commission is for the conservation of this greatest asset of the people of Texas in the creating of a vast industrial skyscraper manufacturing civilization. He is opposed to Carbon Black destruction of the natural gas supply.

A Mess of Pottage.

He is opposed to the railroad commission being clothed with power to issue permits for Carbon Black. His contention is that the commission would be compelled to issue permits to all comers and this would lead to an early completion of the natural gas supply. It would be like selling one's birthright for a mess of pottage.

Nine-tenths of the people of the Panhandle and all West Texas for that matter, are opposed to this Carbon Black legislation and included in the list are to be found the names of the unselfish builders or developers of the great western empire.

Texas is a billion dollar agricultural state. Texas is a billion dollar livestock state. Texas can be made a twenty billion dollar manufacturing state.

Texas has the longest coast line of any American state. Texas can be made the greatest maritime state in the sisterhood. Texas has more sea port cities or towns or sites than any American state. Texas has all the raw materials except coal which are used for manufacturing purposes.

Pennies vs. Dollars.

Texas, as a chief asset has vast fields of natural gas. Now why should this great natural asset be given over to the Carbon Black trust and depleted because a few men wish to place pennies in their pockets today when if they would wait awhile dollars would roll in their pockets from the natural gas consumers and the factories and mills of Texas will be as numerous and the dividends as large as those of New England or the great Central states of America.

Our senators and representatives surely love Texas and will vote to make it the skyscraping manufacturing and maritime commonwealth of the union.

Bid for Varsity Land Hereafter

AUSTIN, March 5.—A bill placing the sale of University of Texas oil and gas leases under the same auction system by which public lands are sold was passed in the senate today. It came over to the senate as the Kembell bill to extend lease privelege three years, but a substitute was presented changing the plan from the 10 cent an acre flat rate to the competitive bidding system.

Fire Credit Rates Lessened to Cities

AUSTIN, March 5. — Thirty-one additional cities received fire insurance rate reductions today including: Decatur 12; Henrietta 15; Albany 3; Breckenridge 15; Roby 15; Graham 15; Jacksboro 15.

News of the Fields

North Montague Test

Daniels - Ruthis - Petroleum Producers were reported on the sand yesterday at 1,270 feet in their No. 1, S. E. Howard, north Montague county, and setting casing to test.

Burns, Burns

L. T. Burns is shut down for water at 930 feet on his No. 1, fee, located in the northeast corner of the south half of Block 85, TE&LCO survey, southwest of Olney, with the prospects for getting water and starting up again not very good.

Texas Company, Hill

The Texas company's No. 2, Hill, in the southeast corner of the north half of block 2408, TE&LCO survey, Hamel pool, was taking another core yesterday morning at about 1,360 feet, with the sand reported showing a little oil.

Wells, Waggoner

Wells et al were still grinding up tthe bailer in the bottom of their No. 1, Waggoner, in the southeast corner of the northwest quarter of section 21, H&TCRR blkc 14, Wilgarber county, yesterday, depth 800 feet.

Texas Company, Graham

The Texas company intended to start up again yesterday on their No. 1, Graham, located in the northwest quarter of block 193, TE&LCO survey, abstract 440, northeast of the Peter Kemp area, north Young county. The well has been shut down for water sometime at 1,335 feet.

Texas Company, Gist

The Texas company is drilling in hard lime in its No. 3, Gist, north Montague county, past a last reported depth of 1,603 feet. This was the well that recently blew in a big gasser in a sand expected to produce oil.

Richardson, Wallace

Richardson Brothers No. 1, Wallace, located in the west end of the Martha Trammel survey, block 1, due east of Rendham, Baylor county, was drilling yesterday below a last reported depth of 1,595 feet in hard lime.

Atlantic, Hayter

The Atlantic Oil Producing company has a sand at 1,324 feet in its No. 1, Hayter, located in the south half of block 1598, northeast corner of the lease, TE&LCO survey, south side of the Harmel pool. Casing will be set to test.

D'Yarmett, Waggoner

E. C. D'Yarmett has taken two sections in northeastern Baylor county from the Waggoner estate on a drilling contract basis, two cable tools tests to be put down, one in section 62 and one in section 64, T&NORR company survey, just north of the road between Fulda and Maybelle.

Texas Co., Castleberry

The Texas company's No. 1, Castleberry, located in the center of the northwest quarter of section 66, R. L. Castleberry land, block 14, H&TCRR survey, southeast of South Vernon, Wilbarger county, is under-reaming ten-inch pipe with the total depth given as about 1,500 feet.

Texas Company, Smythe

The Texas company is drilling at about 2,00 feet on its No. 1, Smythe, located near the northwest corner of TE&LCO survey, block 3020, about seven miles northeast of the town of Throckmorton, Throckmorton county.

Burton-Ruff, Waggoner

Burton and Ruff were setting ten-inch pipe yesterday at 1,320 feet to shut off the water from the sand at 1,315 feet in their No. 1, Waggoner, located in the northwest corner of the southeast forty acres of the southeast quarter of section 49, block 14, H& TCRR survey, Wilbarger county.

East Carey Test

Petroleum Producers - Andrade-Harvey et al were drilling yesterday below a last reported depth of 1,250 feet on their No. 1, Kunkel, in the southwest corner of their 51-acre tract east of the Carey pool, south Archer county. It was not known yesterday how much deeper the test was to be drilled.

McKanna, Waggoner

J. E. McKanna was erecting a derrick yesterday for his No. 1, Waggoner, located i nthe southwest corner of section 48, H&TCRR block 4, Wilbarger county, approximately 3,000 feet northeast of the Noble well in the hills that lie to its north. The test will be a cable tools hole.

McKanna expects to start today on another derrick in the northeast corner of west half of section 31, block 4, a half mile due south of the Noble well. These derricks represent the two closest in tests that are being started inthe territory around the new well.

Texhoma, Burnett

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company has a well in its No. 1-E, Burnett, a mile and a half southwest of the Fowlkes Station production. The hole was standing yesterday partially filled with oil from sand at 1,639-40 feet, and had every indication of making a good producer without further drilling into sand.

Located as it is in distinct wildcat territory it has the distinction of being the single strike of importance in Wichita county in some time. It is located near the center of section 2, T&NORR company survey.

Plains, Erwin

The Plains Production company was drilling yesterday below 1,450 feet and expected to finish up a 1,500 foot contract and abandon their No. 1, Erwin, located in the northwest quarter of the R. E. Erwin farm, Frederick Giebenrath survey, abstract 231, just west of Spring Creek in Throckmorton county. The well is reported to have had 30 feet of oil showing.

The failure on the west side of Spring Creek definitely encloses this little town between four dry holes, three of which were drilled simultaneously recently, one other by the Plains company.

Gulf, Wilson

Gulf Production company's No. 2, Tad Wilson, SPRR survey, abstroc. 1072, northeast of the Waite Phillips district, Archer county, will drill deeper in the sand after bailing dry at 1,604-06 feet yesterday by taking 96 barrels of oil out of the hole, following which the oil rose more than 400 feet in the hole in less than sveen hours.

M-F, Waggoner

Murchison and Fain have erected a derrick and will rig up rotary immediately for a test in the southwest corner of the southeast 40 acres of the southeast quarter of section 32, H&TCRR survey, block 4, two miles southeast of the Noble well, Wilbarger county.

Levy-Kane, Wheeler

Levy-Kane were underreaming to 1,625 feet yesterday in their No. 1, Wheeler, in the southwest corner of the north half of the northeast quarter of section 56, H&TCRR block 4, Wilbarger county. The test is carrying six-inch pipe.

M-F, Throckmorton

Murchison and Fain have spudded and are drilling at past 300 feet on their No. 1, W. A. Jennings, located in the southwest corner of block 2173, TE&LCO survey, Throckmorton county, approximately ten miles due east of the Throckmorton town site.

Noble Well

Sloan Oil company had the string of 3 1-2-inch pipe on the ground yesterday for their No. 1, Waggoner, the old Noble test located near the center of the section 42, H&TCRR survey, block 4, Wilbarger county, and expected to get it run sometime last night. A special packer had been made for the small casing.

The well made several flows during Wednesday night, filling the cellar and running some oil to the tanks a quarter mile away on the hill. The boilers are being fired with this oil as fuel.

If the small casing can be run without parting and a proper seat that will hold found for it the well has every indication of making a good producer, possibly bigger than is generally expected.

KING STILL ATTENDED

Physicians Visit British Monarch Although Condition Improved.

LONDON, March 5.— Physicians still visit the king daily. There has been no setback and it is hoped that in a day or two his majesty will be able to take a little exercise in the sheltered garden of the palace.

The royal trip to the Mediterranean will begin before the end of next week, even if the weather conditions are unfavorable.

The doctors have decided that Prince George must undergo an operation for removal of his tonsils.

Waggoner Lays New Waterline

East Wilbarger Area To Be Supplied From Four-Inch Carrier

A four-inch water line to take care of development and wildcatting in the new Levy district of the Waggoner pasture east of South Vernon, Wilbarger county, has been laid by the Waggoner Refining company, and will be ready for use in a day or so.

The line is some three or four miles long, taking water from the dam at Rock Crossing, Beaver Creek.

With the impending development on the Waggoner ranch assuming large proportions the water problem there as in other parts of the district is beginning to take on a serious aspect. A dozen tanks here and there are damed up to catch every drop that falls, but these have been greeted with clear skies up until now.

A special caution against the waste of water has been posted by the Waggoner estate in every derrick on the large property.

Argue Roxana's Suit Before Boone

Arguments consumed the entire day Thursday in the hearing of Roxana Petroleum company suit against the North American Oil and Refining company and the Bank of America of New York. The case is one in which T. R. Boone, Wichita Falls attorney, is sitting as master in chancery. He was appointed by Judge William H. Atwell, U. S. district judge of Dallas, before who mthe suit was originally filed.

The dispute involves the lease to some 6,000 acres of Young county oil lands.

MOB REWARDS OFFERED

Georgia Governor Wou'd Catch Men Who Burned Negro.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 5.—Governor Walker has offered $500, the maximum reward of the state, for the capture of the leader of the mob which last Monday burned a negro at the stake near Roskyford, Ga., after his alleged assault upon a 14-year-old white girl.

Rewards of $100 each were offered for the arrest of other members of the mob.

SOONER CRUDE PRICE RAISED

TULSA, Okla., Mar. 5.—A 15-cent advance in prices of top and bottom grades of mid-continent crude oil was posted today by the Kay County Gas company, a Marland subsidiary. Oil of 41.6 degrees gravity now brings a flat market price of $2.50 per barrel, while the lowest price listed is $1.70. The Waite Phillips company also announced an increase ranging from five to 15 cents a barrel.

Production Up Second Time Now

NEW YORK, Mar. 5.—(AP)—The daily average gross crude oil production in the United States decreased 3,850 barrels for the week ending February 28, says the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. Daily average production east of California was 1,341,750 barrels, a decrease of 4,050; California 602,000, increase 200.

Oklahoma shows a daily average production of 475,600 barrels, a decrease of 8,600; Kansas 85,250, decrease 550; prth Texas 86,700, decrease 1,350; east central Texas 171,700, increase 2,700; west central Texas 53,450, decrease 600; north Louisiana 49,500, decrease 550; eastern 98,500, increase 500; Wyoming, Montana and Colorado 89,250, increase 150; Arkansas 107,250; increase 2,650; Gulf Coast and southwest Texas 124,550, increase 1,600.

Daily average imports of petroleum at principal ports for the week were 288,714 barrels compared with 200,857 the previous week.

No changes were reported in crude oil prices for the major districts, mid-continent being quoted $1.35 to $2.35 a barrel; Pennsylvania, Bradford district, $3.85, all other grades $3.75; gulf coast grade "A" $2.60, grade "B" $1.75 and California $1.25 to 2.40 a barrel.

Crater Lake Drained by Tunnel Seepage

DENVER, March 5.—Slowly diminishing through subterranean channels waters of Crater lake, 1,300 feet above the Moffat tunnel on the crest of the continental divide, are leaking into the great railroad bore, it has been officially and scientifically determined, according to authorities.

The seepage, which began through the rock seams in the eastern portion of the tunnel February 15 at the rate of 1,600 gallons a minute, has dwindled to about 261 gallons a minute and the lake today is nearly empty.

Crater lake lies in a region covered with snow from 30 to 40 feet deep and steps must be taken, according to officials, to stop the leaks before the spring thaw, lest the onrush of Crater lake's supply should too rapidly engulf the bore where several hundred workmen are engaged on the project.

Work has not been hampered because the slope of the tunnel provides a natural drainage system.

Bazette Sand Shows Nothing

FORT WORTH, Mar. 5.—Humphreys-Boyd's No. 1, Walthall, Bazette, drilled five feet of sand yesterday showing nothing, and will bail down tonight, preparatory to deepening to the lower Woodbine sands if bailing uncovers nothing better than the sand cuttings have prepared them for. Depth was 3,058 feet.

Wortham did 76,000 barrels of oil from 208 wells up to 7 a. m. Thursday morning.

POETIC JUSTICE?

Perhaps, there is a certain poetic justice in the Kurdish revolt. Turkey, after having raised so many "holy wars" to vex her European neighbors, finds herself confronted with one as the price of progress in the near east. Her program of severing religion from politics and of achieving genuine nationality has deeply offended the Kurdish chiefs, who have always been restive under her rule, and provided them with the means of inciting a general rebellion. The principal Kurdish grievances against Turkey are the abolishment of the Caliphate and the unveiling of Moslem women. To the fanaticism of the wild mountain people these mere surface indications of the modern spirit animating the leaders of a new Turkey seem to be veritable sacrilege.

With such trifles at issue, Kurdistan has caught fire at an alarming rate. The spread of the revolt is shown by the fact that those participating in it have increased within a few weeks from about 4,000 or 5,000 armed adherents of the Sheik Said to 30,000 active warriors. If the rate of increase is maintained Turkey's army of 150,000 men will soon be well matched if not surpassed in numbers. But, of course, it is not numbers which makes the revolt dangerous, though doubtless these will prove troublesome.

The seriousness of the uprising is due to its fanatic character and the nature of the territory in which it has occurred. If the religious prejudices of the Kurds have been profoundly wounded, a war of a most desperate character may be waged. The wild country offers ample opportunity to prolong the conflict by resorting to desultory fighting. Raiding and escaping to the mountains will likely be the policy of the rebels if they cannot risk pitched battles in the open. Not conquest but complete subjugation may be required to pacify the country.

NOT ENTIRELY PLEASED.

President Coolidge has asked that Postmaster General New furnish him with an analysis of the house postal salary raise and rate increase bill, indicating that he is not entirely pleased with the conference measure which is substantially the same as that passed by the lower house of congress. The house did its best to meet the executive viewpoint, and the conference committee has shown itself equally deferential. But even so, the president is not satisfied.

The president's displeasure centers upon provisions that would make the salary raise retroactive to January 1, and the rate increases effective April 15. These provisions mean that additional disbursements will be required from the treasury before extra revenue can even be counted upon. The immediate loss is estimated at $22,000,000, which is a considerable sum in view of the fact that the balancing of the budget has become a delicate process on account of tax reductions and the administration's desire to show substantial surpluses. Moreover, it is possible that the extra revenue to be raised by the conference measure will never quite balance the additional expenditures which that measure authorizes. The expenditures are certain, the revenues uncertain. The president's hope to have revenues equal expenditures in the postoffice department may be disappointed.

A PARTY TO HIS LIKING.

Senator Robert M. LaFollette now has a party to his liking. It has no name. Nor has it any substance or reality. It exists wholly as an indefinite prospect. It is to be brought into being by a future national convention for which no concrete plans have been laid. All that is known about it is that it is yet to be. This bold conception was the work of a nondescript gathering of delegates left over from the sine die adjournment of the conference for progressive political action. Completing the dim outline of their ideal, the delegates adjourned without fixing any date for a future meeting.

If the expected new party arises, it must be the result of a general coalescing of state organizations, which presumably will rise of themselves to give Senator LaFollette the organized support which he desires. So far as a draft plan is concerned it can be discerned only in the provision of a report calling for a new party consisting of autonomous state organizations. These organizations are to send delegates to a future national convention. They are to have representation according to the vote given by their respective states to the independent-progressive candidate. This requirement will make Wisconsin supreme in the national convention, if it is ever held, and insure that the new party, when brought into being, will be a LaFollette party and nothing more.

ANOTHER FREE PASS BILL.

Representatives Moore and Jacks have offered a bill in the Texas house which would repeal all existing legal restrictions upon the issuance of free passes or service franks by railroads, street railways, interurban lines, express, sleeping car, telegraph and telephone companies. As Mr. Moore explains, this measure "would put the state in the same position as before the anti-pass law was passed."

The authors of this bill regard it as an improvement upon the free pass measure vetoed by Governor Ferguson. The vetoed bill only permitted railroads to give free passes to legislators and their families. The Moore-Jacks bill allows railroads and other public service corporations to render free service to anybody and everybody. Therefore, its authors believe it a very fair measure. Yet it is certain that such a law, instead of promoting "equal and exact justice" would be productive of discrimination and injustice. No matter how much latitude the statutes allow them, public service corporations cannot serve everybody gratis. The great majority of their customers must pay, and the larger their free list the heavier will be the burden borne by their paying customers. The Moore-Jacks bill, if enacted, would simply enable persons powerful in government and business to enjoy special favors at the expense of the average citizen.

NOT READY FOR JUNIOR HIGHS—OR CARBON BLACK

A bill calling for the creation of Junior High Schools in all the counties of the state was put to sleep by its enemies in the Texas house of representatives. Like Carbon Black it will bob up again two years hence and then there will be another battle royal.

Speaking of Carbon Black one of the backers of the bill remarked to a law maker, "What has posterity done for me that I should conserve the natural gas on my farm? I need the money. I have gas for sale. If I can not sell it for domestic purposes why shouldn't I sell it to the makers of Carbon Black?"

It is said that one of the backers of the Carbon Black measure takes down in Royalties one Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars a year. Posterity did nothing for him. He is willing for posterity to hustle for itself or go hang itself.

If the Carbon Black manufacturers had their way in Texas the supply of natural gas would be exhausted in a very few years and the supply of Carbon Black would be sufficient to supply the demand of the business world for a hundred years to come.

Carbon Black had nothing to do with Junior Highs, but the champions of the latter are reminded that conservation of the vital resources of a commonwealth are just as important as educational advancement.

Education is going to win in the long run. There is a brighter day coming for the boys and girls of Texas. It is important that conservation should win in the long run and now is the time to begin it.

If there are vast gas deposits in the Panhandle in the very near future the gas will be needed for domestic purposes as well as manufacturing purposes in all the cities and towns in Texas.

Pipe lines are easily built and the supply must respond to the demand until the source of the supply has been exhausted. It is to the financial interest of the owners of these gas wells that the Carbon Black people be held in check and not be permitted to waste one of the valuable commodities of this commonwealth.

Texas has a great future as a manufacturing state. Within a year a large cotton mill has been started in Fort Worth, and now it is announced that another cotton factory, the largest in the southwest, is to be erected in that city.

Why destroy the fuel supply? Why destroy the power supply? Why sell for a song a product which is certain to sell for a fancy figure in the near future when Texas comes into her own?

MADDEN MAY BE SPEAKER.

Congressman Martin B. Madden of Illinois hopes to be the speaker of the new congress. His friends have counted noses and predict that he will overwhelm Congressman Nicholas Longworth of Ohio.

Madden is a millionaire. He was born in England. He landed on these shores without a penny in his pocket. He created a large fortune. He invaded politics. He has been a member of the lower house for a quarter of a century. He represents the famous black belt in the city of Chicago. There are a hundred thousand negroes in his district.

Nicholas Longworth is a native buckeye. He was rocked in a golden cradle and fed out of a diamond decked spoon. He married Princess Alice, the only daughter of the late Theodore Roosevelt. He has served in congress many terms and is one of the rich Americans who has never been an idle American.

If Madden defeats Longworth for the speakership it will be another knockout for the Roosevelt family. Last fall young Theodore, who was born in the Purple, was defeated for the governorship of New York by Al Smith, who opened his eyes in tenement and sold newspapers to place money in the family purse before he was ten years of age.

Al Smith has been candidate for office sixteen times and never met with defeat. Madden has been a candidate many times with never a defeat marked up against him. It must be true that the accident of birth does not serve as a handicap to the advancement of an ambitious man in this land where Old Glory floats.

By Dr. Frank Crane

VIRTUE UNCONSCIOUS.

The best virtue is unconscious.

When we do a good deed and expect a reward for it and call for people to come and look at it, or even regard it ourselves with complacence, its quality has been somewhat diluted.

Honesty may be the best policy, but the man who is honest because it is the best policy is not quite honest. We do not know whether he would be honest with himself when he is alone or not.

The right manner of doing good has been described by Marcus Aurrelius. He says that a man who does good in the best manner, "does not even know what he has done, out he is like a vine which has produced grapes and seeks for nothing more after it has once produced its proper fruit. As a horse when he has run, a dog when he has caught his game, a bee when it has made its honey, so a man, when he has done a good act, does not call for others to come and see but goes on to another act, as a vine goes on to again produce grapes in its season."

Virtue is so sublime and wonderful that it need no advantageous aids. It is for this reason that a man cannot be paid for doing good, and while virtue has great value it has no price.

The only way to do good is because you cannot help it, because your nature is such that you produce only good. This is the goodness of the good.

The goodness of the bad is something that is put on for occasion. It is borrowed and artificial and does not have the effect of goodness that is real and genuine.

There is only one way to do good all of the time, and that is to be a good man. When one automatically rejects evil impulses and responds to those which are good, when his every act is prompted by a worthy motive, such a man has a right to estimate himself as good although he probably does not think of it.

The only way to be of benefit to your fellows is to be of such a character that you unconsciously produce that which is helpful and beneficial to them.

All goodness that is conscious is of value only as it trains us for the unconscious kind.

This is probably what is meant when it is said that for every idle word a man speaks he shall give account in the day of judgment. For what we speak of purpose no man can say, but what we speak with no purpose at all, and from pure idleness, is a revelation of what we are, ourselves.

As Marcus Aurelius says further: "Art thou not content that thou hast done something comfortable to thy nature, and dost thou seek to be paid for it, just as if the eye demanded a recompense for walking?"

The only really good man is therefore one who is good for the pleasure of it. Virtue is indeed its only reward, just as the eye is happiest when seeing, or the feet when walking.

This is not to be taken as an attempt to minify the benefit of trying to do something which you are convinced is right but to which you are not disposed. For it is only by a constant attempt to do good that the desire to do good becomes automatic. A good disposition, you may say, is the silt of good deeds. It is the result of having done good over and over.

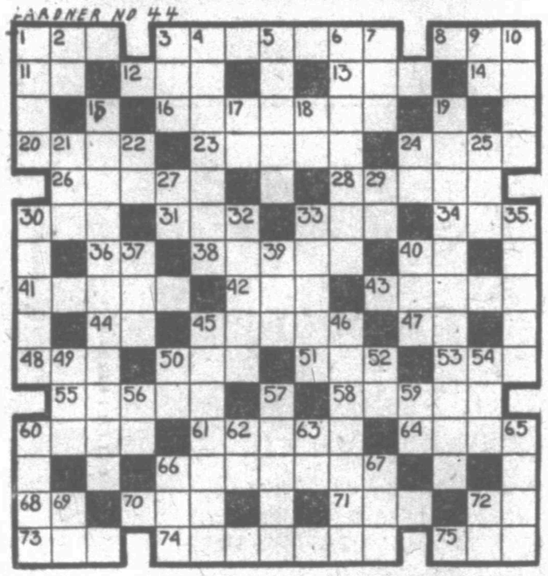

It is said in Holy Writ that "Whosoever will do these sayings of mine, he shall be likened to a man who built his house upon a rock." This does not mean that the sayings are a rock, nor that the Master Himself is a rock, but that which is the rock is the fact of one having long practiced doing good. Character rests upon practice.

But the end is attained only when practice has been continued so long that it becomes automatic, that it has, so to speak, drifted down into the depths and become unconscious. It is for this reason that the best quality of goodness is unconscious. Indeed, the aim and end of all goodness is to become unconscious, and it is found that the most worthy characters and the most dependable are the most unconscious of their virtue.

The Yanks Are Coming!

Cross-Word Puzzle

Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal; if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may of course begin both a horizontal and vertical. The definitions for the correct words to fill the form are found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words linking with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved the puzzle correctly it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED.

Irrigation

SPEAKER ON THE SUBJECT OF IRRIGATION.

At a recent meeting of one of the business organizations here a gentleman from a nearby state spoke briefly on irrigation and mentioned the danger of water logging. This caused one of the members to turn to us and say, "Why is it that every one who starts to talk about irrigation always ends up by saying something about water logging?"

No doubt this same question has arisen in the minds of many of our citizens who from time to time have listened to speakers on the subject of irrigation.

There are a number of reasons why they always mention the danger of water logging. Every one who knows irrigation at all knows that the excessive use of water is its greatest menace. In fact it is about the only drawback to irrigation.

Then on new projects it is the practice to belittle this danger and to maintain that on account of surface topography or underground conditions that particular project can never be hurt. It is all bunk. They can all be water logged and most of them are in whole or in part sooner or later.

Again to any one who has seen thousands of acres of fertile irrigated land with fine homes and all improvements become a marshy waste it becomes a sort of duty on his part to warn people ahead of time so they will avoid the danger.

To any one who investigates our water supply and finds it about the largest per acre in the United States and then looks over our land and sees how it lies the dangers that confront us are at once apparant.

So don't get out of patience with the next man who tells you to use little water and cultivate lots. He is trying to do you a good turn.

HOW IT STARTED

"Wet Your Whistle"

Phohibition days have dimmed somewhat the popularity of this phrase. Yet it is by no means extinct.

Slang and American slang is its flavor, but it turns out to be of old English origin, going back all the way to Chaucer for its first recorded use in his "Reves Tales," as follows:

"So was Hire joly whistle well wette."

"Wet your whistle" seems to have had a French counterpart, for as early as the Thirteenth Century we find in a translation of "The Battle of the Wines," by Henri d'Andell, these lines:

"Listen now to a great fable,
That happened the other day at table,
To good king Phillipe who did incline,
To wet his whistle with good white wine."

MATTERS OF HEALTH

When Willie says his throat is sore,
When Willie's eyes are red;
Keep Willie home from school, my friend,
Keep Willie still in bed.

The average man with lots of wealth
Is not concerned about his health—
In fact he seldom counts the cost
Until, Alas! his health is lost.

I've met many people,
But I've yet to behold
The fellow who hasn't
A cure for a cold.

The prevalence of "colds" is coincident with the closing and heating of houses.

Parents who do not sow the seeds of truth in the fertile brains of their young children, leave fertile fields for sordid weeds.

Man thinks a lot of stocks and bonds
And of the things that he can sell;
But seldom thinks of stagnant ponds
Or the microbes in the well.

Though the water from the spring or well may be crystal clear and sparkle like the morning dew, it may also contain myriads of virulent preservative.

More Truth Than Poetry

NO APPLICANTS

A king should be a man who scoffs at danger,
Who sets but little value on his life,
Who never is perturbed when some grim stranger
Approaches him with hatred—and a knife.
A Balkan king must be particularly
Aloof from all the common forms of fear,
For if the least bit timorous or scary,
His reign will hold for him but little cheer.

Yet in the Balkans, sundry kings are reigning
And seem to be contented with their lot;
They swing their sceptres, calm and uncomplaining
Unterrified by threat, revolt or plot.
They think that if they stick to their positions,
In time they'll quiet down the raging reds,
Outlive the old rebellious and seditions,
And die, as monarchs should die, in their beds.

Yet vacant still remains one seat of glory,
Within the center of the Balkan zone,
A seat of which you've heard in song and story—
Nobody seems to want Albania's throne.
They've advertised for princes through the nations,
They've paged young men of every titled race,
But up-to-date there are no applications,
For this well-paid and most exalted place.

For much as princes crave the regal splendor,
That still upon this famous throne survives,
Though they love power, the love is still more tender
That they still fondly cherish for their lives.
At this reluctance one can hardly wonder,
For this Albanian populace is queer,
And if their reds and rebels do not blunder
They get a brand new monarch every year.

WHY HE SLIPPED

Apparently Trotzky was yellower than he was red.

CHILDREN'S CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one leter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

Running Across.

Word 1. A roadway built over a stream. Part of one is shown in the picture.
Word 5. A male sheep.
Word 6. Resist.
Word 9. The border, edge or margin of anything.
Word 10. Wretchedness.

Running Down.

Word 1. Used by the housewife in keeping the home clean.
Word 2. To strike with a quick, smart blow.
Word 3. A mischievous child
Word 4. Foe.
Word 7. Material, containing metals, taken from mines.
Word 8. A respectful title used in addressing a man without using his name.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE Answered.

What Today Means To You

By MARY BLAKE

Pisces.

Today's planetary aspects are adverse, and remain so until sundown. An unsettled condition will prevail, and there will be nothing to inspire either courage or optimism. On the contrary, there will probably be experienced a general feeling of inertia and dissatisfaction, and a proneness to find fault, and to quarrel. Only great self-control and poise will cause you to pass the day without regrets. In the evening, the vibrations are stimulating, and will inspire as much confidence as lack of it was engendered earlier in the day. The signs denote that a proposal will be received with favor, and possibly, enthusiasm. A marriage, solemnized under such benign influences, will be eminently successful.

A child born today will be, more or less, free from the vicissitudes of infancy, but, according to the signs, will probably suffer a physical "set back" during the period of adolescence This, however, need not cause any worry, as proper care and vigilance will avert any untoward results. Its disposition will be a very agreeable one, and its character founded on truth and candor. It will, at all times, be readily amenable to refined surroundings and cultured environment. More than likely, it will develop literary or artistic tendencies, and these "slumberings" should not be belittled, but should be encouraged, and it should be assisted in the realization of what may appear to others as only dreams. It will possess an extremely attractive personality, and will enjoy a great amount of well deserved popularity.

If today is your birthday, you are very active persevering and ambitious. You have very studious habits, and are very fond of good reading. Unless you have already achieved that material success of which you have dreamed, or feel that you are on the right road to do so, you are "a square peg in a round hole," and should, as soon as conditions permit it, seek "fresh fields and pastures new" where by proper sowing, you can attain a harvest commensurate with your desire and predilections. "Faint heart never won fair lady" and lack of courage—the nerve to create your own Fate—never attained a worth-while goal.

In your home life, you are quite happy, as a result of the congeniality of your disposition, and your willingness to shrug your shoulders at, or make little of, trifles, that would cause worry to those who, excluding the "mucklee" of life, think only of its "mickles."

Some Of The Principals In Tonight's Junior College Presentation

THELMA CAIN

YANCY CUMMINGS

VAUGN BUCHANAN

JUANITA KINSEY

"Am I Intruding?" billed as a surprise-laden three act comedy, will be offered by students of the Junior College tonight at the college auditorium for the benefit of the first college annual. The play, given under the auspices of the college Spanish club, will be the initial entry of the college into the field of full-length drama, but the cast will bring out a number of actors already well known in local dramatic circles from performances of the high school and the community theatre.

The action centers around the efforts of Horace Vare to keep the tricky adventurer, Blair Hoover, from squeezing him out of his holdings in the Bluebird Motors corporation. The attempts of rustic Jerry, son of an old friend of Vare's in younger years, to help Vare out of his difficulties while at the same time managing to conquest of the love of Vare's daughter, Marjory, bring about many ludicrous intrusions and highly tangled knots of circumstances.

Good For Amateurs.

A serious-minded group, consisting of Vare's studious niece, Jane, and her equally serious secretary, Earnest, furnish an appropriate contrast to the opposite light-hearted group centering around Jerry. The adventurer, Dickie Waldron, whose chief business seems to be raising a mustache, the slangy young sister, Mona, the pert little French maid, strong in her beliefs and affections, and the mysterious Mrs. Hastings, all serve to raise the comedy to the height of the best ever offered by amateur acting here.

Miss Juanita Kinsey, director of publis speaking and dramatics at the Junior College, and high school, who is directing the production needs no introduction to the city, having placed before the public many performances of high merit the last six years.

Cast of Characters.

For music to precede and intersperse the action of the play the high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Winnifred Alvis has been employed. The cast includes: Mrs. Hastings, Vaughn Buchanan; Blair Hoover, Carlton Bowman; Earnest Rathburn, Stnfill Bailey; Marjory Vare, Ethel Pennington; Dickie Waldron, Yancey Cummings; Mona, Thelma Cain; Horace Vare, Evan Harris; Violet Vare, Janice Maloney; Peter, Conan Cantwell; Dora, Kathleen Melat; Gerald Mays, Edward Kadane; Jane, Ora Pennington.

Fan Would Change Monicker Of Wichita Falls League Entry

Top O' Morn Stuff

Refrerees in Wichita Falls fight rings have found it almost impossible to please the crowd. Time after time they've been hooted from the canvas because of decisions they rendered, and some times because of the manner in which they handled the bouts. We've been asked to give our version of what it is that should govern a referee in giving a verdict. Every fight bug has his own ideas on the subject. Far be it from us to clash our opinion with his.

* * *

One of the Marquis of Queensberry rules that is violated constantly is the one relating to hitting in the clinches. The rule very distinctly says the contestants shall not bit in the clinch, a clinch being constituted by both men holding, either with one or both hands.

For the benefit of the readers of this column who have requested information on the score, we are printing the revised Marquis of Queensberry rules herewith:

(1). All contests to be decided in a roped ring, not less than sixteen feet nor more than twenty-four feet square.

(2). Contestants to box in light boots or shoes (without spikes), or in socks.

(3). In all contests the number and duration of rounds must be specified. The limit of rounds shall be twenty three-minute rouns; the interval between the rounds shall be one minute. The gloves to be of a minimum weight of six ounces, and shall be provided by the promoter.

(4). The contestants shall be entitled to the assistance of not more than four seconds, who are to be approved by the promoter; and no advice can be given by the seconds during the progress of a round.

* * *

(5). In all contests the decision shall be given in favor of the contestant who attains the greatest number of points. The points shall be for—Attack: Direct, clean hits with the knuckle part of the glove on any part of the front or sides of the head or body above the belt. Denfense: Guarding, slipping, ducking or getting away. Where points are otherwise equal, the preference to be given to the contestant who does most of the leading off, or displays the best style.

(6). The reference may disqualify a contestant for delivering a foul blow intentionally or otherwise, for holding, butting, palming, shouldering, falling without receiving a blow, wrestling, or for boxing unfairly by hitting with the open glove, the inside or butt of the hand, with the wrist or elbow, or for roughing.

(7). If, in the opinion of the referee, a deliberate foul is committed by a contestant, such contestant shall not be entitled to a prize.

(8). The referee shall have power to stop a contest if, in his opinion, a man is unfit to continue, and thnt man shall be deemed to have lost the contest.

(9). No seconds or any other person shall be allowed in the ring during the rounds. Each contestant shall be entitled to the assistance of not more than four seconds, who must take up a position outside the ring during the rounds, and who must not, under pain of disqualification of their principal by the referee, coach, assist in any manner, or advise their principal during the rounds or enter the ring during the progress of a contest. A second refusing to obey the orders o fthe referee shall be removed from his position, and replaced by another approved by the referee.

* * *

(10). The contestant failing to come up when time is called, or refusing to obey the referee, he shall lose the contest. A man on one knee, or when on the ropes with both feet off the floor, shall be considered down.

(11). If a contestant slips down he must get up again immediately. His opponent must stand back out of distance until the fallen man is on his feet, when the contest shall be resumed. A contestant who has knocked down his opponent must immediately walk to his own corner, but should the fallen man be knocked down in that corner, the contestant delivering the knockdown shall retire to the farthest corner. A man knocked down must rise unassisted in ten seconds or lose the contest.

(12). Should a glove burst or come off, it must be replaced immediately to the satisfaction of the referee. The time thus lost shall be considered as no part of the stipulated period of the round.

(13.) The contestants shall not hit while in a clinch. A clinch shall be constituted by both men holding, either with one or both hands.

(14.) The referee shall decide — (1) any question not provided in these rules; (2) the interpretation of these rules.

GRANDFIELD HIGH BEATS FREDERICK

GRANDFIELD, Okla., March 5.—In one of the speediest games seen on the local court this season the Grandfield high school basket ball team took a close contest from the Frederick high quintet by the score of 25-23. The game was anyone's from the start, the score first favoring one and then the other team.

Charles Tant for Grandfield played stellar ball for the victors while Douglas White of Frederick led his teammates in their stand against the fast Grandfield cagers.

In the first game of the evening the Grandfield girls quintet, led by the speedy Patrick, forward, defeated the Frederick girls team by the score of 34-9. The game was sluggish throughout.

FARRELL-CRUICKSHANK BEAT HAGEN-KIRKWOOD

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 5.—Two stirring matches in the semi-final round of the international four-ball professional golfers' tournament were played here today and as a result Johnny Farrell and Bobby Cruickshank, the Tampa team will meet Gene Sarazen and Leo Diegel of Hollywood in the final match tomorrow.

Farrell and Cruickshank defeated Walter Hagen and Joe Kirkwood, 3 up and 2 to play today while in the other match Sarazen and Diegel set down Mike Brady and Tommy Armour by 4 and 2. Both matches were somewhat in the nature of surprise victories.

MOCO TO MEET SULLIVAN FRIDAY

HARVEY SEEMS TO LIKE IDEA BUT SAYS IT SHOULD BE LEFT TO VOTE OF SPUDDER FANS

First Baseman Golvin Returns His Contract to Club With His Jawn Henry Attached

Walter Golvin, king of Texas league initial sack guardians, returned his signed contract to Spudder officials yesterday, and announced that he would soon be following it from Los Angeles for the Spud training camp. That was the only choice bit of sporting news which emanated from Spud headquarters Thursday. That was enough. Golvin, many will agree, is one of the best if not the very best first baseman outside of major league baseball. Anyhow, that's what Spudder moguls think of him, and his performance with the Spudders after he joined them at the fag end of the season of 1924 tends to carry out that belief.

Next matter of interest: How about changing the Spudder monicker? That was the suggestion made yesterday by one rabid Spudder fan. President Harvey when approached on the matter declared that any thing which suits the fans suits him also. He ruminated a moment, and then: "It might be a good idea, and then it might not. But the proposition doesn't sound very bad, at that."

Not Bad Idea?

Here's the way the fan put it: "The Spudders are preparing to enter on their sixth pennant chase. Five years they've spudded in, so to speak, earned a first division berth. This year they certainly have higher ambitions With the team Harvey and Tanner have lined up, the Spudders certainly hope to do more than merely spul in. They're going over the top like a gusher, or, at least, the prospects are better than ever for such. Why not give the club a stronger name than Spudders? They've passed the spud stage."

After listening to this, Harvey thought a bit longer, smiled, nodded. but said nothing. Apparently he was in sympathy with the point brought out.

The fan's parting shot was: "Let's put it t on vote of Wichita Falls baseball enthusiasts. If they want to change the name, let 'em suggest some."

Others Did It.

"Do it," answered the Spudder prexy.

Waco fans have just finished a heated voting contest to decide what to call the new entry of the Brazos village in the Texas league. They completely ditched the old cognomen, Navigators, also passed up the name of Waco's Texas association club, Indians. The Waco nine will be known as the Cubs, the Waco Cubs.

Not so long ago San Antonio changed its club monicker from Bronchos to Bears. Dallas doffed the Marines and is calling its team the Steers. Beaumont ditched Oilers in preference to Exporters. Now, according to our friend the Spudder fan, it's Wichita Falls' turn.

Of course, should it be decided to change the Spudder monicker, prizes will be awarded to the individuals hitting on a satisfactory substitute.

Coyotes Romp Through Speedy Practice Session

Squad Flashes Brightly In Fielding On Rough Ground

The Coyote baseball club went through a snappy workout on the grounds back of the Junior college Thursday. Hall, assistant coach, was in charge of the lads in the absence of Coach Henderson, who had journeyed to town for the purpose of obtaining a few choice warclubs for the pack.

With Hall hitting to the infield and outfield the boys showed again the brilliant fielding that was displayed Wednesday and pulled a few fine catches despite the roughness of the ground and the small amount of practice.

Verna Bullard and "Lefty" Lesley strutted their stuff about the first bag and seemed to be ready to push Coyal Francis for his place at this sack.

At second Olin Harvey flashed a fine brand of fielding of the deceptive bounders down his way and gobbled up several difficult catches. Perk Ray also showed goon the second bag. Shorty Rundell seemed better on high liners than on ground balls, spearing many high ones by leaps into the air.

Stacey Jenkins played his usual polished game of ball about the short field. "Peachy" Bland showed up well on grounders but his peg to first seemer to be aimed a bit too low.

Rufus Neel also played well about third as did Larry Roberson, both lads should make a pretty fight to oust Rowdy Curtin, who has been out with an injured hand.

Dee Woodson worked behind the plate in the absence of "Red" Hicks and did a good job of the affair, showing a peg that will be hard to improve upon.

Captain Bill Andree was able to toss up a few on the sidelines as did a few other heavers of the staff.

FIRST CHRISTIANS TO MAKE STRONG BID

First Christian church baseball players intend to put in a strong bid for the Sunday school league pennant this year, said Bill Spreen, director of men's work, yesterday. Players will meet Sunda yfor the purpose of lining u pa team, selecting a captain, and picking a manager.

Track Prospects At Electra This Year Not So Bad

Tigers Depend On Hammon And Guy Thomas To Produce

ELECTRA, March 5. — An excellent turn-out of track candidates responded to the first call of the season by Coach "Bully" Gilstrap. Although the services of Lawton Thomas, last year Electra flash, is lost, the chances for again having a track team that must be recokoned with is now evident from early appearances.

In Hammon the Tigers have a weight man who placed last year in the weight events at the state meet and won the javelin throw at the S. M. U. meet a bit earlier in the season. Since the javelin has been placed as a regular interscholastic event, the chances for a win here is also good. There is also a possibility of a place in the state meet from Guy Thomas who will confine most of his efforts to the low hurdles.

Superintendent Dinsmore has announced that the Tigers will not put out a baseball team this year, although every effort is now being made to develop some tennis stars on the three new courts at the high school in order to place in some of the tennis matches in the county interscholastic meet which will be held in Electra on Friday and Saturday, April 3 and 4.

CRUMPLER IN SHAPE

GALVESTON, March 5. — Roy Crumpler, southpaw hurler with Galveston last year, and now a member of the Waco club in the Texas league visited friends here today enroute to Waco.

Crumpler reported that he is in the best shape of his career and is looking forward to a successful season. He leaves tomorrow morning for Waco.

FIVE PANTHERS TURN OUT

FORT WORTH, March 5.—Five candidates for the Panther baseball team, five times Texas league pennant winner, appeared at the park today for the first work out of the season. In the absence of Manager Atz, who is in New Orleans, the team is in charge of Dugan Phelan.

Muny Roster At 200 Mark City Requires

Work On Grass Greens To Start First Next Week

They're pouring concrete for the new Muny golf club's clubhouse now. Won't be long until the building is completed, and then Wichita Falls boasts one of the best structures of its nature in the southwest. The building will be ready for use probably in little more than 90 days, said club Secretary W. E. McBroom, Thursday.

The entire 18-hole course is completed, and many golfers have been taking advantage of the situation the past few days. Work on the grass greens is to start about Monday, according to park officials.

Further announcement was made Thursday by McBroom to effect that the required quota of 200 mmebers to be enrolled at $25 per year in keeping with contract with the city has been completed. The city will apply $5000 to the building of the club house.

$500 IN TROPHIES GO TO GIRL A. A. U. WINNERS

WACO, March 5. — Five hundred dollars worth of beautiful trophies and individual awards will be given to teams and players entering in the girl's high school basket ball tournament to be staged here for the Texas A. A. U. championship on March 26, 27 and 28.

Nothing Definite About Burke Go, Says Mr. Kearns

"Champ Will Fight As Many Times As Public Demands"

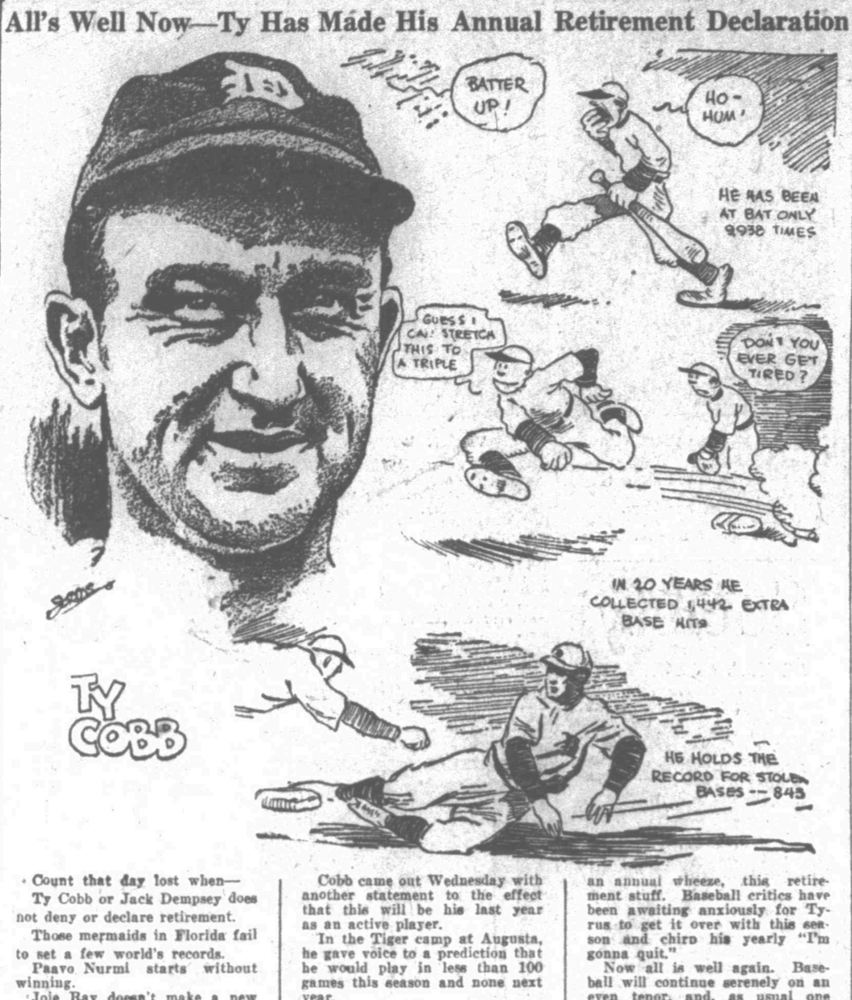

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Mar. 5.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, said today that no definite arrangements have been made for the champion to meet Martin Burke, New Orleans heavyweight, in a title match this summer.

Kearns said that an announcement by Lew Diamond, manager of Burke, concerning the "title bout" grew out of a conversation that Diamond had with the champion's manager in Los Angeles recently.

"Dempsey is ready to fight any time. When sufficient funds are forthcoming with a logical site and competent promoter, different arrangements for a championship bout will be made," Kearns said.

"All this talk of Dempsey's retirement after two final bouts this summer is newspaper talk," Kearns declared. "The champion will fight as many times as the public demands."

All's Well Now—Ty Has Made His Annual Retirement Declaration

Count that day lost when—

Ty Cobb or Jack Dempsey does not deny or declare retirement.

Those mermaids in Florida fail to set a few world's records.

Paavo Nurmi starts without winning.

Joie Ray doesn't make a new boast.

There is a fight in Madison Square Garden without a riot.

Cobb came out Wednesday with another statement to the effect that this will be his last year as an active player.

In the Tiger camp at Augusta, he gave voice to a prediction that he would play in less than 100 games this season and none next year.

Like the well known Tennyson's Brook, Mr. Coob seems prone to run on forever. That's an annual wheeze, this retirement stuff. Baseball critics have been awaiting anxiously for Tyrus to get it over with this season and chirp his yearly "I'm gonna quit."

Now all is well again. Baseball will continue serenely on an even tenor, and, as usual one Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the Georgia Peach, will continue to burn up the American league.

SUPERBAS IN HOT WATER WHEN DAZZY VANCE REFUSES TO SIGN

Ward and Meusel Flock Into Yank Camp With Sore Arms—Frisch Okehs Giant Contract

NEW YORK, March 5.—(AP)—Frank Frisch of the Giants has signed, Dazzy Vance of Brooklyn has not signed and Aaron Ward and Bob Meusel have appeared in the Florida training camp of the Yankees along with sore arms.

Frisch after a conference with Manager McGraw between practice sessions at Sarasota yesterday admitted that he had accepted terms, but refused to discuss his salary. McGraw also was silent, but word leaked out that the Giants' captain had accepted the $18,000 papers which he held a year ago.

With Frisch in line McGraw encountered more trouble when Bill Terry, somewhat overweight, declared the amount offered him was not enough. Bill is the only full fledged first baseman in camp and took part in the practice despite his dissatisfaction.

The information from the Brooklyn camp at Clearwater, was surprising as President Ebbets had announced that Vance was under contract for three years at a reported salary of $50,000. The pitcher, who startled baseball last summer, declared that he had not signed and would not sign a contract which included the 10-day release clause. Ebbets explained that the National cague rules demanded that such a clause be inserted so Dazzy quit after morning practice and went to the golf links.

With Howard Ehmke, one of the Red Sox's star twirlers, and Valentine Picnich, catcher, back in the fold, the Boston American league outfit at New Orleans is nearer actual playing shape than ever. Both put their names to contracts yesterday. Ira Flagstead, whose outfielding was a feature of the last season playing, is now the only one of the regulars missing from the lineup.

Braves May Quit Miami

The Boston Braves may desert St. Petersburgh for Miami Beach next spring, it was reported at National league headquatters. A disagreement with the New York Yankees over use of the St. Petersburgh grounds is said to be the cause.

The absence of four known holdouts, McManus, Jacobson and Danforth of last year's squad and Leo Dixon, a backstop bought from St. Paul, is not working any inroads on Manager George Sisler's training plans.

Sisler has arranged the days so that no time is lost and so far has not tightened up on the young moundsmen.

Walter Johnson, whose right arm was a potent factor in the rise of the Washington Americans to the baseball pinnacle last year, has virtually abandoned aspirations as ownership in a minor league club and intends to take up residence in Florida as a real estate operator two years hence. Walter made this statement at the Tampa, Fla., training camp yesterday in explaining why he signed a two year instead of a one year contrac with the club the othe day, stating he already had purchased some property in the alligator state. President Griffith bought another of his lately acquired veteran hurlers into the fold yesterday when Dutche Ruether accepted terms and signed up.

Manager Eddie Collins of the Chicago White Sox found plenty of shortstop material decorating the club training camp at Shreveport, La., and the fight is on for the regular berth.

Seven candidates are on the scene and another is expected. Ambitious and hustling, they are Harvey McClellan, veteran, who was out most of last season because of illness; John Butler, who starred last year with Wichita; Ike Davis, former Columbus player, and three others.

Bischoff Arrives

George Bischoff, husky catcher obtained from Fort Worth, arrived yesterday and was active in practice.

Reports from the Florida training camps of the Philadelphia clubs told of fine weather and rapid improvement in the condition of the players.

At Fort Myers, Manager Connie Mack has divided his 31 men into two squads and has ordered six-inning games daily in addition to the morning batting and pitching workouts.

Hughey Critz, last of the Cincinnati Reds to sign up, was not the last to report at the Orlando training camp. He arrived there yesterday, increasing the squad to 11 members. Ten more wil report before the end of the week.

Martin Burke Matched With Dempsey, Said

New Orleans Heavy Was Champ's Pupil At One Time

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. — (AP)—Martin Burke, 26, New Orleans heavyweight, has been matched to meet Champion Jack Dempsey in an eastern city for a title fight within the next five months, it was announced here today by Lew Diamond, Burke's manager. Diamond said the his announcement was sanctioned by Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey.

Diamond expected that the bout would be held in July.

"I have been authorized by Kearns to get bids for the fight," Diamonds said. "Dempsey and Kearns have both promised that the first man to be met is Burke. This will be one of the two final bouts in which Dempsey is to appear before closing his ring career. After Burke he will meet Tommy Gibbons. Burke was a former pupil of Dempsey's and is liked by the champion.

"There are three possible sites for the fight, some city in Michigan, Philadelphia or New York."

FREDERICK MATMEN ENTER TOURNAMENT

FREDERICK, Okla., March 5.—Already winners of the southwestern conference championship wrestling tournament and having won five out of their six matches, Coach Clifford Keen and his Frederick Cardinal wrestling squad left Thursday for tillwater to take part in the state wrestling tournament. Coach Keen has built up one of the strongest grappling teams in southwestern Oklahoma and it is predicted by conference officials that the Cardinal aggregation will take several events in the state tournament.

Collins In His 11th Year Still One Of Game's Greatest

Prospect Of Leading Sox To Flag In 1925 Not So Good

NEW YORK, Mar. 5.—(AP)—Baseball has known many mighty men and high in the list of heroes stands the clan of Collins.

There was a great third baseman, Jimmy Collins of Boston, and one of the name still plays with the American league team in the Bay state capital, John (Shano) of Pittsfield, Mass. There was still another—the left handed pitcher Ray, who also found a haven with the Red Sox after leaving the University of Vermont; Rip Collins pitched for the Yankees at one time. They were numerous.

Today, however, the name of Collins can mean only the marvelous Edward Trowbridge Collins of Lansdowne, Pa., and the Chicago White Sox, who once deserted the clan and called himself Sullivan as a member of Connie Mack's Athletics. That happened in the days when Eddie was a student at Columbia university.

Still a Star.

The year 1925 finds Collins established as one of the game's greatest second basemen and manager of the club that he has served for 11 years. His lot is that of Cobb, Speaker, Sisler and Harris—star to manager—and it is probable that the experienced Charley Comiskey, president of the White Sox, drew upon the experience of Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators in sending his keystone man after a pennant.

Collins found his way to Philadelphia's bal lparks in 1906 and played shortstop and third base in eight games. In 1907 he played shortstop during 10 contests and erased the name "Sullivan." As second baseman, third baseman and shortstop in 1908 he played in 102 battles and batted .273.

Here the marvelous quartet that was to became one of the most renowned infield combinations in baseball went into action with Stuffy McInnis at first, Collins at second, Jack Barry at short and Frank Baker at third. It became known as the $100,000 infield, yet a few years later Collins alone was sold for half that price. Only McInnis of the other three remains in harness and he is reported to be defying the Braves' efforts to attach his name to a contract.

Collins started to hit and in only two seasons, 1917 and 1918, has he fallen below the .300 mark. He batted for .369 in 1920, the highest average he has ever attained. Last season after 18 years in major league baseball, the phenomenal Philadelphian was among the first ten in the list of sluggers with .349 and led the regular second basemen in fielding, only Mike McNally, then with the Yankees, gaining a notch above him. Collins led the league at second base in 1921 and 1922, but bowed to Aaron Ward of the Yankees in 1923.

The White Sox manager's chances for a winning team judging from results of the past are even. Harris and Speaker, other playing managers, have won world championships, but Cobb and Sisler have theirs to gain. His material is meagre, for the Chicagoans still suffer from the havoc caused by the scandal of 1919 when Cicotte, Felsch, Jackson, Gandil and the others went out of the organized game forever, leaving only two stalwarts to carry on—Ray Schalk, the catcher, and Edward Trowbridge Collins.

JOHN WARD DIES

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 5.—(AP)—John M. Ward, former captain of the New York Giants, died here late yesterday. His body will be sent to Babylon, N. Y., for burial.

MRS. G. H. HAMPSHIRE SHOWS WAY IN WOMEN'S GOLF ASS'N CLASS A FLAG TOURNAMENT

Mrs. C. S. Wyatt Carries to Number 11 Hole to Win Trophy of Class B Competition

Mrs. G. H. Hampshire, president of the women's golf association, showed her associates just how the ancient and royal should be played, yesterday, by romping through the tenth green and winning the class A section of a stiffly contested flag tourney. Mrs. A. W. Fisher was runner up finishing on the ninth green. Both women had handicaps of five.

Mrs. C. S. Wyatt, runner-up last week in class B, came through with colors flying Thursday, and led that field making number 11 hole. Mrs. Wyatt's handicap was 11. Mrs. Fred T. Kingery with a six handicap finished but a spare 10 feet behind the victor, while Mrs. J. A. Fisher came third about 20 yards behind the runner-up.

A blind bogey was inaugurated by Judge Finley Weldon in connection with the tourney. Mrs. W. P. Bolding captured the prize. Silver loving cups were awarded to two leaders in the flag meet by Mesdames W. S. Abbott and J. B. Hatchett.

Following the tournament and luncheon a number of the players hooked up in putting competition. Mrs. Leslie Stringer won out with a 40.

No definite plans were made for next week's play, but there is talk of working up a mixed tourney possibly of the foursome two-ball nature.

Mr. Darcy Does His Stuff Behind Barred Doors

Australian Won't Let Any Of Trammel's Followers Watch Him

Jack Darcy, Australian welter who expects to flatten Duke Trammel, Fort Worth lad of the grave-yard punch, some time before the finish of a ten-round embroglio next Thursday eve on the American legion card at the Wichita theater, yesterday took his first workout here. It was semi-secrecy.

Darcy intends to work behind closed doors. One of his reasons is that he does not want any of Trammel's followers to tip the Duke off as to his style of milling. Darcy is working with the idea that in surprise half the victory is won. Maybe right, at that.

The Australian didn't step very hard yesterday. Corralled a lanky black boy to use as a punching bag. Black boy didn't seem to know the first rudiments of the game. Darcy toyed with him. Rarely tried to lay a glove on him, but finally slapped a sudden right hook to the chin and sent the ebony lad dow nfor a short count. The Australian picked his mistreated sparring mate up, stepped back, and clipped him a gentle tap for another knockdown. That portion of the workout was finished right then and there.

He intends to hit the ball harder today.

Lottery Loan May Finance 1928 World Games

AMSTERDAM, March 5.—(AP)—A lottery loan will finance the 1928 Olympic games if the chamber of deputies at The Hague refuses to vote the appropriation of 1,000,000 florins for the games, now before the house, the Dutchee Olympic committee has decided. The tickets will be put on sale in every country which took part in the Olympic games at Paris, provided its law permit loans with lottery features. This excludes the United States.

WACO CLUB PLANS KNOT HOLE GANG

WACO, Texas, March 5. — "Hey, Skin-nay—look here. "We're in luck. Hot ziggidy." No more fill freckle face Waco youths squint one eye through artificial knot holes or climb telephone posts and adjacent roofs to see the Waco team in action. "Then days is gone forever." Today we have the Knot Hole gang.

At a meeting of the directors of the Waco Athletic association, those generous and big-hearted sportsmen decided that the first problem for them was to see that the youngsters of Waco were amply taken care of at the youngster's own game—baseball. So they decided to follow the plan of Wichita Falls, Houston and Beaumont baseball lclubs and organize the Knot Hole gang. J. Albert Greene was appointed a committee of one to organize and operate the Knot Hole gang.

The Story of a Social Climber

by Lucille Van Slyke

Back at the dingy little hotel Rosalie watched Quim make arrangements for another room, thinking dully, how perfectly he managed everything as he utrned, quite casually, saying:

"Only one bed in your room?"

"Just a small one," her throat was stiff. "Maybe—if the man has a double room," she was in torture lest Quim might think she wanted him to stay. "Nannette ought not to be by herself," she added hurriedly.

"Excellent idea," said Quim calmly.

He went up with them in a rather rickety elevator, supervised the moving of Rosalie's belongings from a rather small sideroom to the much more luxurious one that he had engaged. He tipped the boy and the maid who handled the luggage, bent to kiss his small daughter and murmured: "Have a good sleep."

"Daddy, you didn't kiss Rosy Lee goodnight," Nannette reminded him.

The touch of his lips on her cheek made Rosalie shiver.

When he was gone she sat down, biting her lips. Quite mechanically she helped Nannette undress, grateful for the child's chatter. Dully she lived through the moment when the little girl knelt, said her prayers and added quaintly: "and blessing my Rosy Lee for coming back."

The child's arms around her neck as she bent to kiss her goodnight, almost choked her.

"It's been vurry lonely," the child whispered. She fell asleep quickly. She wasn't at all pretty but there was something rather appealing about her thin body lying there so quietly. Rosalie sat for a long time, looking at her, thinking back to the day when she had first seen her and exulted in the shy adoration in the little girl's eyes. The child stirred restlessly as the telephone buzzed.

Chet's voice rasped over the wire. "For heaven's sake, where have you been? I've been trying to find you—"

"Sssssh," cautioned Rosalie." I can't talk, Chet—Nannie is asleep."

"But I have to see you," he insisted. "Come down stairs." The peremptory tone in his voice decided her.

"I can't—tonight—" she said.

CHAPTER 76.

The Way of the Temporizer Is Hard.

Chet's voice waxed angry over the wire.

"If you mean that you're going to throw me down again," he began.

"Please!" she tried desperately to hush him, "I don't mean anything at all. Just that I can't go downstairs tonight. I can't leave Nannie alone. She'd be frightened if she woke up."

"What on earth did you keep her with you for?" Chet was weary, exasperated and in a maelstrom of dilemma. "You promised me the last thing before you left Emsville that you wouldn't see him again, that you'd send the things back he gave you, that you'd let him know you couldn't stick it out—that you—"

"Sssh!" she interrupted. "He came. I didn't know he was coming. I couldn't help it. There wasn't time to say anything. The poor child," she sighed compassionately as her eyes rested on the sleeping Nannette. "She went through a terrible experience, really. Geschin took the little monkey over there and the dogs came in, two horrid Pekingese that Mrs. Perry kisses and cuddles, just disgustingly. They got into some sort of fight and Mrs. Perry ordered her maid to shoot poor Gwen and Nannie saw the little thing die and—"

"Rose!" Chet's tone was sharp. "Stop talking and listen to me! I tell you I have to see you. I'm not interested in dogs and monkeys and that kid. These passports have to be—"

She interrupted him as swiftly and decisively as though she had been Quim himself.

"I can't go downstairs tonight, Chet. Quim is coming here at nine o'clock tomorrow morning to get Nannette to take her out in the country. You'll have to wait until they are gone. You will have to come after they are gone. That's the best I can promise now."

She hung up the telephone rather limply, and sat down in terror lest the strange new Chet should try to force his way upstairs to her. But long minutes ticked away in which nothing happened, so finally she undressed herself and climbed into the bed beside Nannette's to lie stark awake, desperate with worry about the morrow.

Chet's behavior simply dazed her. Just what she had epected of him, she didn't know, but instead of bullying her as he had attempted to do, she did feel he might have shown some consideration for the state of her feelings. For all that he was so gruff now with her, she could not forget that he had literally slunk away at the sight of Quim. That part hurt.

Yet, she asked herself, reproachfully, what else could we have done?

All night Quim's sombre eyes seemed to reproach her! Poor Quim, who had been so kind to her, who had done so much for her! She told herself that she didn't love him, that she couldn't, that it was Chet, the young splendid Chet, that she loved.

But somehow, Chet hadn't seemed very splendid tonight.

Morning found her white and shaken, perilously near the breaking point.

Nannette awakened early, clambered out of her bed and snuggled down beside Rosalie.

"Poor Gwen!" she took up yesterday's woes. "It's vurry sad to think that today we have to bury her. I know I shall cry, shan't you?"

Instead of which Rosalie laughed hysterically.

"No, dear, I shan't," she confessed. "She aws cunning but she was a terrible nuisance, you know she was. And rather silly to have around really. There are lots of kinds of pets that are much nicer."

The telephone whirred, Nannette scuttled to it crying.

"Might be daddy," but turned away with a whisper, "It's some man to talk to you, Rosy Lee." She handed the receiver to the shivering Rose and ran thoughtfully to get her dressing gown, standing tiptoe to try to drape it across her shoulders.

Chet again!

"How soon will you be down?"

"It's only a little after seven now," she faltered.

"But I simply must see you."

Desperately she sparred for time. "We're not dressed yet. I told you last night Quim would be here at nine o'clock. Maybe I can see you at ten."

"Rose," his voice was stern, "I swear to you that if you try to throw me over again I shall—"

She didn't dare wait for what he might threaten.

"I won't. Only I can't see you now. Not till after I've seen Quim. Don't make things so hard for me, Chet please. Do go! Please! I'll promise to see you at ten o'clock."

She managed to keep her voice steady but her hands were shaking as she held up the receiver. Suddenly she sat down limply on Nannette's bed and began to cry.

But she pulled herself together and helped the child dress and dressed herself and packed the bags. The time until nine o'clock seemed interminable, almost.

They went down to wait in the small anteroom, the same place where Nannette had run to her last night. It looked even more tarnished and dingy in the daylight than it had the night before. The draperies smelled of stale cigar smoke. The whole place was hateful.

Quim came in promptly at nine, looking older than Rosalie had ever seen him look, more gaunt, more grey somehow, with a queer dull bruise along his grim jaw and a sort of cut over his eye.

"Daddy, you're hurt!" Nannette ran to him.

"Banged a bit," he admitted cautiously. "Nannie," he said suddenly. "Do something for daddy, will you? See that dining room over there? Go in and tell the head waiter you want a table for three persons, that your father will be there in a few minutes, order some fruit; orange juice for me and whatever you think you and Rosy Lee would like, some cereals and coffee, and chocolate for you—and—run along, dear—and wait for us. I have to talk to Rosy Lee a minute."

"Is it a secret?" the child asked, all curiosity.

"Yes, darling, I hope it's a secret," he said queerly. "We'll come soon. You go order the breakfast."

She went importantly, swishing her brief skirts behind her, looking back thoughtfully. They weren't laughing or whispering as grownups usually did when a secret was afoot.

Quim sat awkwardly on the edge of a small chair.

"Rosalie," he said quietly, "you don't need to scream or faint or anything like that. But I think it's better to be quite frank with you about what happened after I left you here last night. A chap came over to the club about ten o'clock. Chap from that newspaper that sent him out to Briarcliff to see you when we were married. He had some sort of cock and bull story he'd gotten hold of somewhere, that you were starting for the west to get a divorce. Another chap came while he was there with a worse tale, said that you and this Ferguson fellow were sailing for South America this morning. It got them out—" he felt of his chin thoughtfully, "but I dug out of 'em where they'd gotten the tips from their stories. They mentioned no names but I could link it up. Your old friend Dicko. So I went down to his apartment."

"Quim!" she cried out.

"Faugh," he ejaculated suddenly. "He's soft! There wasn't much satisfaction in it, even. I—well, we had a bit of a scuffle. I'm rather sure he's shut up for the time being. There was rather a boyish glint in his eyes as he disclaimed the satisfaction of last night's episode. "What a mess though," he added drearily. "Oh, how could you?" his temper suddenly flared out. "If you couldn't stick it out with me any longer—if you love this Ferguson chap—why didn't you tell me, Rosy Lee? Why didn't you tell me I'd have managed it for you—some more dignified way—the right way—the—" his voice stopped suddenly. "Some way that wouldn't be so sordid."

CHAPTER 77.

Quim's Way and Chet's.

Shaken and mulliated, yet somehow strangely proud of Quim, Rosalie sat with downcast eyes, listening to her husband.

"He fought with Dicko! About me!" she thought exultantly. "And he threw those reporters out—because they were going to write things about me."

His voice, steadier now, rumbled along harshly, just as she had heard it scores of times when he was talking business with his secretary.

But this was a dreary business that Quim was discussing.

"I suppose you couldn't help yourself," she heard him saying. "After all, I must remember that you are both young. That you loved each other before you ever saw me. But do you remember this. That what I am going to suggest is not entirely for selfish reasons, though I don't mind confessing you've given my pride a nasty jolt. I feel too, that having given you my good name once to protect you, gives me a sort of right to demand that you let me protect it, now. Believe me, I do want to protect you, too—after all, you're my wife," his voice stammered. "If you love him as much as you think you do, if he loves you as much as you think he does, you ought to be willing to wait a little, long enough to straighten out this mess decently."

"Quim," she tried to interrupt.

"When Chet telephoned me this morning, I asked him to wait until I'd talked with you."

Produce

AUSTIN, March 5.—At Texas points today eggs were steady around 6.50 per case of 30 dozen, notwithstanding a fluctuating exchange market which was a quarter to ½c lower in Chicago and generally steady to firm at unchanged prices at New York. Butter at Texas wholesale markets was steady on packing stock at 15@16c; strong on creamery at 47c for "A" grade and 46 for "B" grade.

Poultry was also strong on ad advancing market, hens selling for 20 to 21c, springs 40 to 45c; old roosters 9c; turkeys 25c pound liveweight; geese $1; ducks 75c; guineas 25c each.

AUSTIN, March 5.—Eight commodities shipped by Texas yesterday totalled 187 cars, including three of 162 cars of lettuce, 59 of 109 cars of cabbage, 62 of 76 cars spinach, two of 70 cars grapefruit, 37 of 105 cars mixed vegetables, six cars of beets and 16 of carrots.

Shipping point markets continued in a bad way, spinach trading at loading stations centering around 30@40c bushel cash track and 40c usual farms carlots at Laredo. At lower valley points, with the grower agreement to hold for $15 a ton wagonloads dissolved, the market receded to $8@$10 ton with wire orderslet of carlots registering a few sales at $12 to $14. Beets and carrots in the field were unchanged, the former bringing growers 20 to 30c bushel and the latter 10@15c. On a mixed car basis to the wire order trade beets were quoted out at $1 to $1.10 and carrots 65 to 80c bushel. Most shipments of straight cars were on a joint account basis.

CHICAGO, March 5.—Poultry alive, unchanged.

CHICAGO, March 5.—Butter, higher; creamery extras 46c; standards 45½c; extra firsts 42@44½c; firsts 39@41½c; seconds 36@38c.

Eggs, lower; receipts 14,730 cases; firsts 26½@27c; ordinary firsts 25@25½c.

STOCKS

NEW YORK, March 5.—Despite repeated attempts to bear traders to unsettle the general list stock prices today made irregular recovery from recent low levels with more than a dozen issues attaining their highest prices in a year or more. Buying was influenced by the effective support provided by powerful financial interests at the opening, relatively lower money rates, the unexpectedly generous dividend distribution by the directors of the American Locomotive Co., reports of a decrease in crude oil production for the week ended February 28 and other constructive trade news. American Car and Foundry was one of the outstanding features, soaring 10 points to a record top at 220, despite President Wooden's reiteration that no increase in the dividend was contemplated as a result of the stockholders approval today of a change in capitalization from 300,000 shares of $100 par value to 600,000 shares of no par value. This company, which owns a large block of American Locomotive stock will benefit materially by the large cash distribution on the latter.

American Locomotive saw-sawed within a range of four points during the day, establishing a record top at 144¼ for the present stock. It closed at 143¾ for a net gain of nearly 2 points. American Can fluctuated within a radius of five points, closing at 181¼, up 3¼ on the day.

Other outstanding industrials strong spots included American Safety Razor, Associated Dyregoods, Commercial Solvents "B," Federal Light and Traction, General Electric, B. F. Goodrich, S. K. Kresge, Laclede Gas, Manhattan Electrical Supply, Maxwell Motors "B", Remington Typewriter and United States Cast Iron Pipe, all of which closed from 3 to 6 points higher.

Some of the buying in United States Steel common, which closed fractionally higher at 123¼, was based on the speculative belief that stockholders of the corporation also will be awarded more liberal dividends later in the year.

Persistent accumulation of Baltimore and Ohio, which showed an extreme gain of nearly 3 points at the record top of 83¼ apparently was based on expectations of higher dividends. Renewed activity and strength of the St. Paul issues, the preferred closing 2¼ points higher at 22¾ revived rumors that Henry Ford had interested himself in the property in order to save it from receivership. Buying of Louisville and Nashville, Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis which advanced 3 points to a record top at 148, was based on reports of its early acquisition by one of the large southern trunk lines.

Call money was in greater supply, renewing at 3½ and then easing to 3¼. The time money market was quite with no change in rates. Commercial Paper held steady between 3¾ and 4¼ per cent.

Demand sterling rallied a cent to 4.77½ at the opening in reflection of the raising of the Bank of England's rediscount rate from 4 to 5 per cent, but it cancelled part of its gai ainster on realizing. Other European rates showed nomina improvement, French francs holding fairly steady under 5.10 cents.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, March 5.—Cotton futures closed steady at net advance of 14 to 21 points.

NEW ORLEANS, March 5.—The cotton market was disposed to be somewhat reactionary during the greater part of the morning in today's session, although at the lowest levels reached prices were only 9 to 9 points under the close of yesterday. It came back strongly in the afternoon, however, and at the highest showed gains of 31 points on May and 42 on October. There was a moderate reaction in the final trading which cut down the gain to some extent but final results showed net gains of 14 points on May and 21 on October.

Although Liverpool came in better than due the market opened little changed from the previous close, first trades showing a loss of one point in near months and a gain of two points on new crop positions. After advancing a few points after the opening call, mainly on the map showing of continued dry weather in the west, prices eased off gradually until May traded at 25.86, July 26.02 and October 24.97 or 8 to 9 points under the previous close.

After fluctuating aimlessly within the narrow range around noon the market turned decidedly firm during the afternoon owing to denials from many markets there had been any weakening in the spot basis, rather disquieting reports from the drouth sections of the west and reports from New York that some of the stock there was soon to be shipped out both for exports and for domestic mills. May traded as high as 26.15, July 26.36 and October 25.39 or 31 to 42 points up from the lows and 22 to 34 points above the previous close. Prices eased off moderately in the final trading on realizing and the close showed net gains for the day of 14 to 28 points on old crop months and 19 to 21 points on new crop positions

LIVE STOCK

FORT WORTH, March 5.—Live stock prices were strong to unevenly higher Thursday and things were popping in most all bids. The chief feature was the sale of hogs in carlots at 13.80, the market supporting an advance of 30 to 40c. Calf prices were up 25c or more, and a sale of yealers representing a full load, was made at 9.00. A load of good yearlings brought 8.60.

Receipts were estimated at 3,000 head of cattle, 700 calves, 1,500 hogs and 400 sheep.

Steers sold on a strong basis, fat cows gained 25 to 50c, and were mostly 35@50c up for the week; yearlings were steady to strong, bulls steady and feeders strong.

Several deals of steers were made at a spread of 7.00 to 7.40, a relatively large number of feishy cows were taken at a range of 5.00 to 5.50.

Numerous sales of yearlings were reported at 7.50 to 8.50, and an increased business was noted in calves good enough to go at 6.00 to 7.00. Cattle buyers were out at an unusually early hour, and the trade was a very active, snappy affair.

Canners proving an exception to the general rule, did not show any strength and were neglected until the last. Several cars of hogs made 13.75, but only one car was choice enough to bring the top—13.80. Bulk sales made a range of 13.25 to 13.50. Sows and pigs were mostly 50c higher, sows selling up to 12.50, with fat pigs reaching 10.50. A large number of feeder pigs brought 9.75 to 10.00.

Demand for sheep and lambs was broad but receipts offered very little that was attractive. Sales indicated a fully steady trend and the supply went over the scales early in the forenoon. Some wethers were taken at 9.00.

Cattle, 3,400 incuding 700 calves. Market steady on steers and yearlings, 15@25c higher on fat cows, 25c higher on calves; beever 8.50@7.50; stockers 8.50@7.25; fat cows 5.00@5.50; cutters 2.25@2.75; canners 1.75@2.10; heifers 2.25@7.50; yearlings 3.50@8.50; buls 2.50@4.50; calves 2.50@9.00.

Hogs, 1,500; 30@40c higher; top 13.80; 13.75@13.80; good mixed 13.65@13.75; bulk 13.25@13.65; best medium weight good light 13.50@13.65; fair mixed 13.00@13.50; fair light 12.75@13.00; common 8.50@10.50; packing sows 11.00@12.50; pigs 7.50@10.50.

Sheep, 400; market steady; lambs 13.50@16.50; feeders 12.00@15.00; yearlings 10.00@12.00; wethers 9.00@10.5; ewes 8.00@9.50; culls 1.50@3.00; stockers 3.00@5.00; goats 1.50@3.00.

City National Is Mecca To Crowds Thursday Night

Thousands Join Lobby On 35th Anniversary; Music And Flowers

The City National bank did itself proud Thursday evening.

If, 35 years ago, the men who conceived and organized the bank, located at that time at the corner of Seventh and Indiana streets, could have but looked into the future and seen the 12 story building wherein the City National bank would be located in 1925, they would no doubt have been able to smile at the hardships the years were to bring them.

Thirty-five years ago the bank clearings of the institution did not exceed $20,000 each day, according to Wiley Robertson, vice president. Yesterday on the bank's thirty-fifth anniversary the clearings were over $300,000.

The cause of this rapid growth could be understood last night when from the hours of 7 to 10 o'clock, an unestimated number of patrons passed through the lobby of the bank at the greatest open house the institution has ever held. It celebrated the thirty-fifth anniversary of what Natham Adams, president of the American Exchange bank of Dallas called "one of Texas' foremost banks."

At no time throughout the three hours did the crowd in the bank diminish, and others were waiting to go through the mysterious safety vaults, the tellers windows, the clearing house, where the bank clearings for each day are sorted and counted in less than one hour.

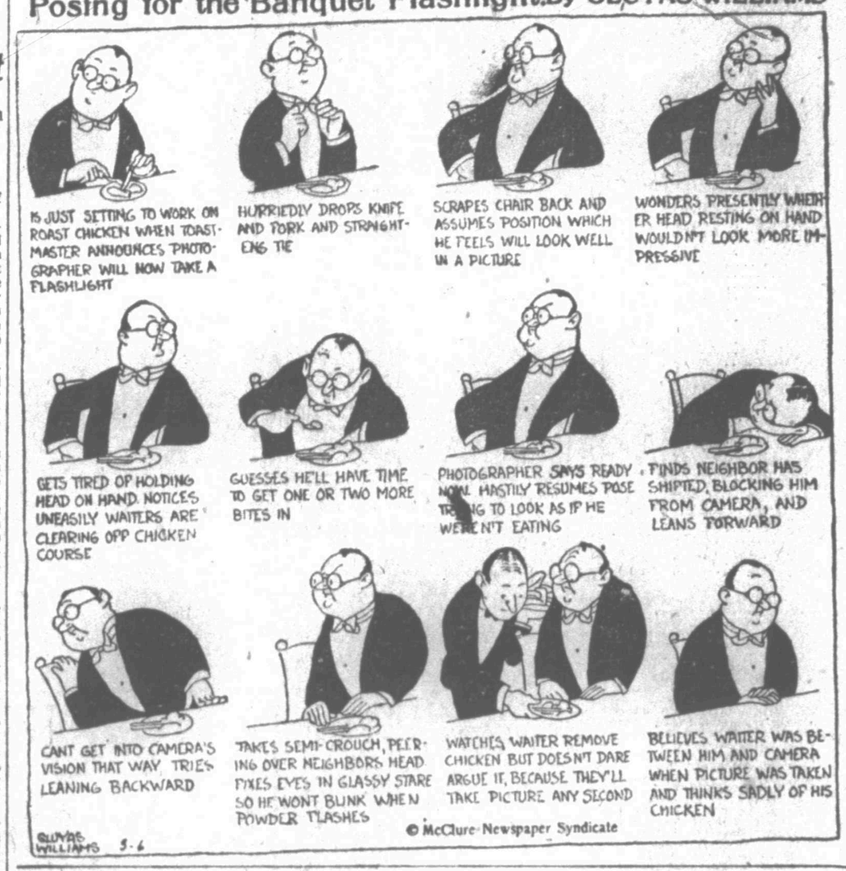

Down in the safety vaults, secure behind the barred doors, that would prevent any attempted robbery, an employe exhibited various bonds of the institution, some of them mounting into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Throughout the lobby were employes, vice presidents, directors, and the president himself, P. P. Langford.

A floral wreath—a gigantic "35" made up of over 6,000 blossoms, was set up the center of the lobby while many baskets of blossoms from various business firms here were placed all over the banking room. The huge figure of roses was the work of the Wichita Floral company and attracted considerable comment from the crowds.

Music by an orchestra was given throughout the evening and souvenirs were passed out.

Tucker And His Orchestra Head Wichita Program

Five Other Good Acts Make Up Excellent Bill

Al Tucker and his society orchestra are headliners at the Wichita theater today and Saturday. Here is a musical organization which has gained renown not only by its musical ability but by its dress. It is the last word in male sartorial art. Mr. Tucker is an excellent conductor and a master of instrumentation as well.

Then there is Mel Klee, who calls himself the "Prince of Wails" and then demonstrates most conclusively that he is entitled to the appellation. Mr. Klee is a blackface monologist.

Florence Brady and Gilbert Wells reached the heights as singles in vaudeville and now that they have combined their efforts, they make a splendid pair. Miss Brady is generally known as "The Girl With Miles of Smiles." Mr. Wells is a popular composer and is generaly known as "A Gentleman from Mississippi."

John T. Ray and Miss Florence Everetts present an entertaining and amusing skit entitled "At the Cloak Room," a good combination of songs, dancing, comedy and clever dialogue.

Robert Gehan and Marjorie Garretson mix classical music and jazz. Mr. Gehan is an operatic baritone and Miss Garretson is a singer of blues. Their program is the high lights of both and the combination is highly satisfactory.

Amazon and Nile are a team of India rubber contortionists who present a clever fantasy called a "Tropical Enchantment." The scene is a jungle. Among the denizens of the jungle are a couple of huge lizards and these animals deport themselves in a most astounding manner.

$357,00 Record For New Permits

Building permit records took wings and flew Thursday morning when a $330,000 permit for the new Snider-Harvey building at 812-18 Eighth street was issued by Building Inspector Fred Smith. Total permits for the day, eight in all, amounted to $357,000. A permit for $10,000 was issued in favor of construction on the new Napier building in the 800 block Lamar avenue, and six others for smaller structures of the $5,000 class were also given out.

The month of March now bids fair to take high place with those others which have seen unusually high permit records. There is a possibiiy of another permit of around $400,000 being issued this month, if the Snider-Perkins building at Ninth and Indiana is started.

O'Brien Minstrels at Palace, March 12

When the Neil O'Brien Minstrels are seen at the Palace Thursday, March 12, matinee and night, it will be found that a very novel opening overture has been devised and a prologue of unique character introduceing the entire company in their efforts to make you happy for a while, followed by the usual first-part in all its glory in new dress of brilliant colors with a coterie of comedians such as—Neil O'Brien, Billy Beard, "Sugarfoot" Gaffney, Billy Henderson, Walter Arnold, Jack Blake, Tommy Sherry, Billy Redd and Chas. Dooley, and such vocalists as—James Berardi, Master Tommy LaZear, Dave Jourdan, Walter Anderson, Chas. Wright, Lea Laird, Herman Williams, Sherman Carr, Geo. Bracken, Chas. Leahy, Joseph Cronin, Russell Orser, Virgil Bessy and Spencer Westbrook will hold full sway for fifty minutes.

Much may be said of the second part of the show which is promised as being the most noteworthy of any yet offered in the twelve previous seasons of this organization. Among the many other features will be a new act written and staged by Neil O'Brien and in which that famous comedian will appear entitled "Hot Dog."

Subpoena Serving For Collier Case Keeps Smith Busy

Sheriff And Deputies Are Rounding Up Witnesses For March 16

Subpoenas for witnesses in the trial of the state vs. Frank Collier, former mayor, now under indictment and $25,000 bond for the murder on Feb. 14 of Elzie Robertson, are being served by Sheriff Fred K. Smith and his deputies. Sheriff Smith spent the entire afternoon Thursday with a list of 25 or 30 Wichitans who have been called to testify. The list includes a number of city officials, prominent business men and others.

The Collier trial has been set down for Monday, March 16, in the 89th district court. Should both state and defense announce ready, an effort will be made then to secure a jury in this county and proceed with the case. It is certain that the state will be prepared to ask for an immediate trial, but it is problematical whether or not the defense will be.

A special venire of 300 men has been drawn on orders of Judge P. A. Martin and notices mailed out to the talesmen.

To Start on New Addition to Jail

Work will be started next Monday on erection of the new annex to the county jail, it was announced Thursday by T. H. Rowell, representing the Southern Steel company of San Antonio, which has been awarded a contract for the work. Mr. Rowell stated that he would begin assembling material for the new lock-up the first of the week and expected to push the job as rapidly as possible.

The county commissioner recently determined that jail facilities here were overcrowded and that more room was needed for the safe keeping of all prisoners. The annex, which will merely be an addition to the existing structure, will provide this much needed room.

Feel Achy After Every Cold?

ARE you lame and stiff; tired and nervous—constantly troubled with backache and twinges of pain?

Have you given any attention to your kidneys? Grip, colds and chills, you know, are apt to be mighty hard on the kidneys. And if the overtaxed kidneys fail to properly filter the blood, impurities accumulate and throw the whole system out of tune. Then may follow daily backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and annoying kidney irregularities.

In such conditions a good stimulant diuretic should help the kidneys flush the poisons out of your system. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. Are recommended by folks you know. Ask your neighbor!

HERE IS WICHITA FALLS PROOF:

Will McDonald, proprietor blacksmith shop, 603 Third street, says: "My idneys acted irregularly, making it necessary for me to get up during the night. I had a dull, throbbing ache in my back. If I stooped, a sharp catch took me and I could hardly straighten. Doan's Pills were recommended so I got them and they soon regulated my kidneys and rid me of backache."

Disappointing, Is C-C's Statement

At Least 1,000 Odd Fellows Not Accommodated For State Convention

"Wichita Falls citizens are falling down seriously on the matter of offering beds for the accommodation of the thousands of visitors who will pour into the city for the Oil Fellows' Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly, March 15 to 18," stated Fred L. Haskett, assistant manager of the chamber of commerce, who is acting in behalf of that body in attempt to secure accommodations for the visitors.

"At least a thousand of the delegates at this time have not been provided for. Of the 3,600 expected, 1,500 will sleep in the Pullmans chartered for that purpose, 1,000 will sleep on cots purchased by the chamber of commerce, 200 can be cared for by local hotels, and 214 will be entertained in Wichita Falls homes that have offered quarters for from two to six delegates each," Haskett states.

"The 214 refers to men cared for, not the number of homes that have responded. The situation facing the city has been known for over a week and response from the citizens has been very disappointing. Five hundred homes should be able to care for the remaining thousand homeless visitors, and it is up to the city as a whole to assist the Odd Fellows in this hospitality."

Church Census Not Ready for a Week

Figures on the city wide religious census taken March 1 by local Baptists, will be available by the end of next week, as far as Baptist statistics are concerned, says LeRoy Moore, director of religious education for the First Baptist church and one of the officials heading the census.

"It will, of course, take several days for workers to check the cards and compile comprehensive information pertaining to the religious status of the population of the city, but by the last of next week, we hope to have some interesting figures for publication," Mr. Moore concluded.

BRADFORD OUSTS SQUATTERS.

Eviction Proceedings Meet With No Difficulty, Constable Reports.

Eviction of squatters in the Front street district, ordered in a recent judgment by Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district court, is being made by Constable C. L. Bradford. About 15 families will be compelled to vacate and remove houses that, it is contended, are situated in a public street.

This eviction is the signal step in the long row between the city and a number of residents near the Wichita river who, the city claims, are occupying public property.

The constable has found no difficulty in removing the families, he has reported.

Oklahoma Impressed With Kiwanis Paper

That the recent Kiwanis addition of The Record News is attracting attention outside of Texas has been evidenced by a letter received here Thursday by a city official. It came from the secretary of the Ada, Okla., Kiwanis club, and among other things said: "I am in receipt of 50 copies of the Kiwanis edition of your Record News which I will distribute at the next luncheon. Julian Bobo and his associates are putting Wichita Falls on the map in the Texas-Oklahoma district. The edition is a worthy enterprise and the proposed day nursery is certainly worth while."

The edition in question was issued Feb. 21 and carried a mass of advertising and news matter concerning the Kiwanis club and day nursery, which the organization is sponsoring. By means of it well over $1,000 was realized as the club's share of the proceeds and this sum will be applied on a fund for building of a permanent day nursery home.

REVENUE STAFF GROWS.

Two Additions Made Thursday to Internal Revenue Office Here.

Two additions to the staff at work in the internal revenue office here were made Thursday with the arrival of Hope Wilson and Norma Hopkins of Greenville and Abilene, respectively. They have been assigned to the revenue offices there but were transferred to Wichita Falls to assist in the annual rush of tax payments which is now under way.

Income tax returns are coming in rapidly at the local office now and will so continue until the 15th, which is the last payment date.

9 Out for Police Job; Sets Record

A race that, in point of numbers at least, will make history for this city and county will be run April 7 when ballots are cast for city police commissioner. Nine candidates have already announced their intentions of seeking this post and with two more days in which to file petitions it is rumored that two or three more men are considering entering.

Two years ago when J. H. Patton was elected park and health commissioner he had seven opponents, making eight in all; and last fall when Fred K. Smith was elected sheriff he defeated six other contestants. So far as is known, these set high marks in the number of entrants.

The only new candidate to appear Thursday was O. B. Kelly who has been more or less of a factor in local politics for the last five years. He asks election as police commissioner and makes the ninth man to seek the post.

Friends of various candidates were busy yesterday circulating petitions in their behalf. All must be signed by 100 qualified voters and filed with City Clerk W. E. McBroom by Saturday night.

WASTE OIL MAKES SMOKE

Black Haze to North of City Thursday Excites Curiosity.

Wichita Falls was shaded on the north and west all day Thursday by a hazy black smoke cloud caused by the burning away of a large quantity of waste oil near the American Refinery plant north of town.

The fires started about 3 o'clock Thursday morning and formed a picturesque scene for those abroad at that hour. It burned most of the day and the wind rolled the dense smoke far out from the blaze. Fortunately the breeze was in the right direction and but little of it came over the city.

NEGRO IN JAIL; USED GUN

A negro man who drew a revolver and threatened to wipe out most of the 1700 block Tenth street, more or less, was locked up at the city hall early Thursday night pending a further investigation of his trouble. Police were summoned by an excited negro who thought quick death was camping on his heels.

Trouble between the obstreperous black and another negro started the rumpus.

In just a few days—quicker than you ever dreamt of—these wonderful health building, flesh making tablets called McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets will start to help any thin, underweight little one.

After sickness and where rickets are suspected they are especially valuable. No need to give them any more nasty Cod Liver Oil—these tablets are made to take the place of that good, but evil smelling, stomach upsetting medicine and they surely do it.

A very sickly child, age 9, gained 12 pounds in 7 months.

Ask Smith Drug Co., Tipton Drug Co. or any druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—as easy to take as candy and 60 tablets, 60 cents.

Child-birth

HOW thousands of women, by the simple method of an eminent physician, have avoided unnecessary miseries through many months and up to the moment Baby has arrived, is fully explained in the remarkable book "Motherhood and the Baby." Tells also what to do before and after baby comes, probable date of birth, baby rules, etc., and about "Mother's Friend," used by three generations of mothers, and sold in all drug stores everywhere. "Mother's Friend" is applied externally, is safe, free from narcotics, permits easier natural readjustment of muscles and nerves during expectancy and childbirth. Start using it today. Mrs. E. E. Kerger, Shyton, Minn., says: "It pulled me through." Send for book today, to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA-16, Atlanta, Ga. "Mother's Friend" is sold at all drug stores.

Why He Succeeded

From hard work on a farm to the study of medicine in Cincinnati, where he was graduated in 1862, was the course which Dr. R. V. Pierce took.

In his younger days he practiced medicine over a large district. It was then the ne woil fields near Titusville, Pa. Finally he determined to put some of his prescriptions in ready-to-use form in order to reach a larger number of families.

He thus early moved to Buffalo, N. Y., and established the World's Dispensary, where he put up Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for the blood as well as the Favorite Prescription for women, carefully preparing them from roots, barks and herbs and placed them with druggists everywhere.

During the last 60 years Dr. Pierce's Discovery, for the blood, has been sold in larger quantities by druggists all over the United States than any other medicine. It is a tonic in its effects on the stomach and digestive apparatus; an alterative in its action on the blood, liver and skin. It increases the appetite, stimulates the digestion, enriches the blood, and makes both men and women feel as they did when they were young and care free.

Ask your nearest druggist for Doctor Pierce's Discovery, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10c for trial package of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.
