Water Storage Bill Approved By Senate

By JERRY PILLARD
AUSTIN, AP—Senators approved today a bill to ease future water problems by helping build bigger and better federal reservoirs.

The Senate passed the House on a voice vote a measure to let the state use up to $50 million in purchasing space when the federal government builds a water storage reservoir in Texas. Only $15 million could be spent on any one project.

The water development plan was approved by voters last November, but needs enabling legislation to put it into effect.

Bills to create a committee to study long-range needs in the field of higher education and creation of a separate agency to attract tourists to Texas won tentative House approval Monday. Each needs a final vote to go to the Senate.

The Senate has already approved a separate measure to set up a 25-member committee to study education beyond the high school.

In enacting the measure, the House tacked on three minor amendments.

Connally's backers have won initial tests to cut down the number Connally would name to the committee.

The House refused 125-24 to limit Connally to 15 appointments, with the lieutenant governor and House speaker sharing the other 14. A similar amendment was defeated in the Senate 20-2.

Backers of the tourist development agency bill contend that Texas will receive about $400 million for every $1 spent, with about $25 coming in extra tax money.

Efforts to pass a tourist attraction bill in the special session one year ago failed.

The Senate took up on a bill dealing with water storage. Backers of the bill to permit

Cold Spell Heads For Texas Today

By The Associated Press
A late winter cold snap, blowing off the area-covered Rockies, surged toward Texas Tuesday.

Forecasters said by nightfall, gusty north winds, blowing dust, rain showers and plunging temperatures were expected in the upper Panhandle.

The Weather Bureau called for possible snow showers in the area by early Wednesday. The bureau raised a tick mark warning in Southwest Texas.

All of North Texas was due sharply colder temperatures overnight and the cold front was expected to trigger rainstorms in much of North Texas as it moved southeastward.

Meanwhile, a low pressure system funneled moisture off the Gulf into South Texas early in the day, causing considerable fog in Southeast and South Central Texas. All of South Texas was cloudy, and increasing overcast was predicted for North and West Texas.

Before the cold weather was due, temperatures were in range into the 60s in North Texas with temperatures in the 50s common in southern areas. In contrast, temperatures Wednesday were expected to range some 30 degrees lower.

The cold air was expected to have little effect in South Texas, however, where spring-like temperatures have been common for several weeks.

A return to milder weather from the west by late Wednesday was the Weather Bureau prediction, as the cold is due to quickly make southeastward.

Long-range forecasts called for temperatures ranging 2 to 9 degrees below normal at mid-week, returning to normal by late in the week.

Plane Skids On Runway

BOSTON (AP)—An Eastern Airlines DC7 with 15 passengers and a crew of five skidded on a rainy runway at Logan Airport today and dumped into a snow bank. No injuries were reported.

Frank Sweeney, chief inspector for the Massachusetts Aeronautics Commission, said after viewing the plane at the accident scene.

"From the skidmarks on runway it appears on preliminary inspection that the plane made a normal landing, but skidded on slush toward the left."

The plane knocked down a few landing lights along the runway and crushed its own right main landing gear, causing it to list badly to the right. The only other damage appeared to be bent propellers.

Sweeney quoted the pilot of the plane, Capt. Edward R. Ledeker of McLean, Va., as saying he felt no crash when the plane touched down on the runway.

The plane came in from Washington, D.C.

TOOK TWO MONTHS TO SAVE THE POOCH—Little Sox, a dog of doubtful parentage, is held by Mrs. Pat Johnson, right, humane association president, and Mrs. Peggy Hayes, an association official, after they spent two months trying to snare the dog near Media, Pa. The dog faced slow strangulation because it had been left to roam as a pup with a tight collar. As the dog grew older, the collar grew tighter. Little Sox successfully evaded the women for two months until successfully drugged food was set out for him. Finally caught, Little Sox had the collar cut free, and is now looking for a home. Solons Appalled By D. C. School Setup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six members of Congress toured two public schools Monday in the capital. "Some congressmen still have two wash basins in their offices," remarked Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore. "These conditions are a disgrace in a society which calls itself affluent."

Mrs. Green led the group investigating the need for construction funds for Washington schools.

In the Hine school, the group noticed mops and buckets on a staircase and were told by Principal Howard E. Holden, "This is the only place we have on this floor for janitors' supplies."

They stepped over debris left over from a 1959 fire which damaged the third floor. They walked under hanging wires—part of the bell system on the dimly lighted first floor.

So the tour went. And when it ended, Dent, Mrs. Green and the others—Reps. John Brademas, D-Ind., Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., Carlton Sikes, D-Md., and Albert H. Rees, D-Minn.—were astounded.

"It is a bight on the prestige of our country to have these conditions in the nation's capital," said Dent. "There is just no excuse."

The District of Columbia and its public facilities are the special responsibility of Congress.

Odessan Accepts 1st Baptist Call

Dr. A. L. Lightfoot, pastor of Crescent Park Baptist Church in Odessa, has accepted a call to become pastor of First Baptist Church in Snyder, it was announced today.

Dr. Lightfoot will move here April 1, and his first sermon in the new congregation as pastor will be at the 11 a.m. service on Easter Sunday, April 14.

He also plans to meet with the local congregation at the mid-week service on April 3.

Dr. Lightfoot will succeed the late Rev. Walter A. Mitchell as pastor of the church here. Rev. Mitchell was killed in a traffic crash near Abilene last September. In the intervening months, the Rev. Byron Bryant, director of public relations at Hardin-Simmons University, has served as interim pastor.

A native of Santa Anna, Dr. Lightfoot was licensed and ordained to the ministry following his marriage to the former Vesta Evans of Santa Anna. He attended Howard Payne College, East Texas Baptist College, Hardin-Simmons University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

PARROTTVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Widespread flooding brought more misery today to some areas which a few hours earlier had suffered the ravages of a series of tornadoes that hit parts of Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi.

The twisters left five known dead, scores injured and property damage in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Flood waters poured over much of east Tennessee, where seven persons had been reported missing after a tornado struck in the vicinity of Parrottville, a small town near the North Carolina line.

One observer described the Parrottville area as resembling a giant's lake.

Jerry Coakley, 37, was killed when a wall caved in while he slept in his Parrottville home.

Two women were injured fatally when their homes were destroyed in Gullman County, in northwestern Alabama, where the first twister struck in mid-afternoon. Five other north Alabama counties were hit.

A few hours later, a series of tornadoes battered across north Mississippi, killing a man in the Starkville area. The twister hopped across the eastern two-thirds of Tennessee in an erratic path from the Alabama border to the Great Smokies.

Flood threats posed more problems in several Tennessee and Alabama areas.

Torrential rains—nearly 5 inches at Russellville, Ala., and 3.67 inches at McMinnville, Tenn.—went along with the whirling winds.

The Gullman area victims were Geraldine Bowen, 34, and Minnie Dunn, 73.

J. Frank Manderson, Alabama civil defense director, estimated damage in the Gullman area alone at $250,000.

Among the injured were Mrs. Bowen's sister, Marilyn Brock, 14, and two of Mrs. Dunn's sons, Herman and Joe.

Tornadoes also were reported in Colbert, Limestone, Pickens, Walker and Madison counties in Alabama. The Weather Bureau said a twister touched down twice in the vicinity of Huntsville but no damage was reported. The Marshall Space Flight Center is at Huntsville.

Six communities in Mississippi—Helford, Shetland and Lewis Store in the Starkville area, Vaiden, Hamilton and Ackerman—reported storms. A pipeline hauler, T. Kelley, 48, died in the wreck of his big rig at Reform, Miss. son David, 7, died today in a hospital. Mrs. Kelley was injured.

Several other persons were hurt and about 50 homes were damaged in Mississippi.

The storm system moved into Tennessee late in the afternoon. Tornadoes touched down twice near Lawrenceburg, just north of the Alabama line, circled northward and struck near Murfreesboro and McMinnville in the mid-state area, dipped south to Jasper, near the Georgia line, then hit mountainous area around Parrottville.

The Weather Bureau said the Stones River in Doneson, a Nashville suburb, would be five feet above flood stage by 6 p.m. today, and the Harpeth River was expected to crest at five to six feet above flood stage and nearby Kingston Springs during the day.

Machen Rites Are Set Here

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for William E. Machen, 71, of 194 Third or Fifth Street.

Machen died at the Veterans Hospital in Big Spring at 7:30 a.m. March 11 following a long illness. Before his illness he worked in the oilfields. Mr. Machen was born Jan. 18, 1892.

The services will be held at the Morris Avenue Baptist Church. Mr. Machen was a member. The Rev. James L. Rogers, pastor of the church, will officiate. Burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens under the direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Mr. Machen is survived by his wife, Mrs. Pearl Machen; two daughters, Mrs. Charlene Chevrolet of Angleton and Mrs. Edith Pearl Rogers of Channel View; three sisters, Mrs. Josie Bushy and Mrs. Maude Curry of Lubbock and Mrs. Mabel Brooks of Leamont; two brothers, Jake Machen of Marston and Homer Machen of Oklahoma City, Okla.

SHS Journalism Students Subject To Many Emotions

EDITOR'S NOTE—Snyder High School journalism students, who prepared a series of articles in connection with observance of "Texas Public Schools Week" last week, discuss some of their own activities associated with production of two publications.

Relief and pride and even a tiny bit of amazement.

At one time or another, everyone experiences a few strong emotions, but publications workers at Snyder High School are very well acquainted with them. At least 17 times during the school year journalism students feel these things.

The journalism class, composed of 15 juniors and seniors is responsible for the production of the school newspaper, The Tiger's Tale, published 16 times yearly. The annual staff, 17 members strong, copes with the problems of producing a yearbook recording the school's activities.

Although the Tiger's Tale comes out only once during the year, in May, annual workers probably feel more relief and amazement than a newspaper reporter, for they have waited and worried and wondered for nine months about the fruit of their labors.

Publications work at Snyder High School is sponsored by Miss Carolyn Payne. To be eligible for the newspaper staff, a student must be of junior classification. He receives a solid credit for first year participation, and an activity credit if he works a second year.

Annual staff requirements call for the junior classification, at least 7-C average, and a rudimentary knowledge of English grammar. Member of both staffs need to be willing to work long and hard, with pride in what they do.

The Tiger's Tale is published bi-weekly in alternation with classroom lectures on different areas of journalism. The students do the

Three Killed In Road Crash

FLOYDADA, Tex. (AP)—Three unidentified persons driving a Florida car were killed today in a two-car collision 15 miles east of this South Plains town.

It was the second three-person fatal crash in the same general area in 24 hours. Three persons died in a two-car head-on crash Monday night near Truckmorton.

Killed today on U.S. 75 were two women and a baby about 2 years old.

The accident scene was about 65 miles northeast of Lubbock.

Four Snyder Women Attend State Workshop In Lubbock

Action without study is failure. It is above the concept that problems can be solved simply if they are named and numbered. We are trying to accomplish a better understanding of this world—not necessarily to like—so we can make better policies of action and fulfill the educated woman's role in the changing structure. So spoke Mrs. Edith Sherrard, staff associate from AAUW Headquarters in Washington, D. C. at a luncheon sponsored by Lubbock Branch of AAUW in Lubbock's Women's Clubhouse Saturday.

Mrs. Sherrard culminated a 10-day tour of 40 AAUW branches in Texas en route to Denver for the Triennial Convention planning session. The International Convention will be held in June in Denver.

Mrs. John J. Haslam, chairman of program development, Texas division, commended Snyder's branch for its achievement this year. In the afternoon session Mrs. Lida Rhoades received congratulations for the fine participation of the Snyder branch in the workshop programs for 1962-63. Percentage-wise, Snyder had the best attendance among the 75 women at the Lubbock workshop at which representatives from Amarillo, Canyon, Dumas, Mulhouse, Big Spring, Lamesa, Levelland, Ballis, Kermit, Corpus Christi, Orange, and Kerrville were present. Mrs. Earl Blackburn, Berger, is the state chairman of social and economic issues committees and presided.

Four areas of study or interest for the new program are "The American Family in a Changing World, Expectations for Education, Occident and Orient, and Bridging the Gap Between Science and the Layman."

Mrs. Sherrard explained that the AAUW is not just another club but a program offered for members to grow intellectually, to widen opportunities for women, and to employ education for the good of society. Added up, these three purposes mean that the graduate keeps the college habit of learning, analyzing, creating, so that she becomes freshly conscious of her humanness and makes fuller use of her potentialities. "It means that you are concerned about situations in a community or in the world; you undertake a study of that situation in order to effect a change; you wish to explore and extend your experience in order to know more. This means enlivening imagination and memory to discover forms and relations that bring order into thinking, sharpen awareness, and enrich understanding."

Specifically, Mrs. Sherrard explained how the program is developed at the local branch level in the area of social and economic issues in regard to the consumer who has "from 6,000 to 10,000 items from which to shop in a 'Texas-size' supermarket. With a keen sense of humor, she pointed out that the steering committee is set up in June—a high-sounding name for two to four friends who put on their thinking caps and come up with questions about consumer-protection such as:

1. Eat, drink, and be wary—A study of the food and drug association.
2. Advertising—Am I being taken in?
3. Chemicals and the consumer.
4. Cost of individual higher education.
5. Consumer spending—claims of face cream.
6. The teenage target of advertising.

She insisted that by studying the dangers of polluting waters with detergents and by understanding consumer triggered advertising, the magic would be taken out of science, and the AAUW member would have more self confidence as a knowledge-

Mrs. Lock Hostess To Winsome Class

The Winsome Class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Flora Lock Thursday evening with 14 members and one guest present.

Mrs. Louella Stoker brought the program. Her most inspiring devotional was taken from Psalms 37:5, Proverbs 16:3 and Duteronomy 3:13.

The social hour was spent playing games and eating a delicious salad plate prepared by the hostess.

38 Snyder Women Attend Workshop

The Snyder School Food Association women attended a workshop in Odessa last Friday. Thirty-seven women and their supervisor, Mrs. Opal Spikes made the trip.

Rev. Lightfoot of the Crescent Baptist Church gave an interesting talk on "Doing Our Best in Our Work."

Eight cafeterias over the district were present.

Maxine McNew reported on the executive board meeting she attended in Fort Worth last month.

GOP Leaders Say Policy Toughened

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican leaders appear to be veering away from the kind of criticism of President Kennedy's Cuban policies that might let the Democrats try to hang a "war party" label on them.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., who has been the No. 1 GOP critic of the administration's course, came up with an endorsement Monday night for actions he said appeared to be hardening the President's policies toward Cuba.

He felt it as important, Keating said, "to speak up in support of the government when it moves toward a more vigorous policy on Cuba as it is to criticize when it is not."

This seemed to fit the pattern laid out earlier by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois when he said he agrees with Kennedy that a full blockade of Cuba would amount to an act of war and "I don't want to go to war."

How much these statements reflected reaction from the country was not divulged. But Dirksen said he was "up half the night" answering long distance telephone calls from persons who wanted to congratulate him on his television statement.

Keating, whose mail is flooded with letters about Cuba, seemed to be happy to find some presidential moves he could praise instead of condemn.

He told a Rockville Center, N.Y., audience that "bipartisan support like the rock of Gibraltar will back up whatever measures may be necessary to end the Cuban menace." He added that "when the government adopts a firm policy and stands fast by it, criticism will be stilled."

Keating voiced support for Kennedy's announced intention of pressing members of the Organization of American States for action to track down Communist agents and to counter their activities.

He said this was the real offensive threat from Cuba.

Keating tagged as "a new and important commitment" the statement of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that the United States does not stand by while Soviet troops put down any rebellion against the Castro government.

He took a swipe at McNamara's

Feb. 8 television presentation, saying it was three-fourths concerned with justifying past actions and only one-fourth devoted to "the substantial Soviet threat remaining" there.

But, he said, administration leaders recently had given "factual, hard-hitting evidence of the present dangers" of the threat of subversive activities and Communist infiltration from Cuba.

"I hope that the officials of our government, who bear heavy responsibilities in this area, have now accepted this thesis and that the signs I have noted truly reflect a new willingness to face up to the hard facts in Cuba."

SP Clerks May Balk

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Faced with what a top union official termed a "Southern Pacific ultimatum," officials of the strike-minded railway clerks were to meet with Federal Mediator Frank O'Neill today to decide whether to continue talks with the company.

Two closed-door joint sessions ended with union officials withdrawing to consider the SP's latest offer, O'Neill said.

The presence of C. L. Dennis and William McGowan, vice presidents of the 275,000-member Railway Clerks union has given the SP negotiations a test-case appearance.

O'Neill said he was not optimistic about chances of averting a strike.

A clerks' walkout would halt traffic along 8,000 miles of Southern Pacific track as far east as El Paso.

Besides the 11,000 members of the SP unit of railway clerks, 38,000 railway employees in other unions would walk off their jobs in sympathy, the clerks say.

The main issue is unemployment due to automation.

The union says 1,000 clerks a year have been automated out of work since 1956. The union is bargaining for job guarantees and a retraining program for workers made obsolete by new methods and machines.

French Railmen In Sympathy Strikes

By DAVID MASON

PARIS (AP)—A series of two-hour strikes in support of the striking coal miners threw France's railway system into confusion today.

Many suburban and long-line trains were delayed from 15 minutes to two hours. Commuters were thrown off schedule. Many were unable to crowd into the few trains running and had to take buses or private cars.

The rail workers set no precise time for shutting down any particular line. Instead they planned each walkout as a sudden, surprise action. Uncertainty hovered over the whole rail system.

The coal strike entered its 12th day with neither the government nor the 200,000 idle miners giving ground.

The miners continued to defy a government draft order which threatened them with fines, imprisonment or loss of pension rights as long as they refused to go back to work. They demand lifting of the draft and opening of negotiations as conditions for their return to the pits.

The government has said it will not negotiate while the miners flout the draft order. It has taken no action to enforce it.

Both sides refused to budge on the workers' demand for an 11 per cent wage increase plus a 40-hour week. The government, which owns and operates the nationalized mines, has refused to offer more than a 5.7 per cent wage hike and a promise to restudy wage scales next year.

SCANNING THE WORLD

Red Party Session Set

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist parties of the Soviet Union and China have agreed to a meeting to explore their ideological differences.

Whether it will be a summit conference between Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Chinese Communist chief Mao Tse-tung was not mentioned in the announcements published here and in Peking Monday. Informed sources said nothing much can be accomplished unless the two top men meet.

Communist China had been holding out for a general congress of the world's 81 Communist parties to take up the question of whether peaceful coexistence with the capitalist world or militant opposition is the best way for Communism to conquer. Khrushchev called for less public vituperation and a two-party party.

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union has at least 20 nuclear submarines, many with surface-to-surface missiles, Britain's civil lord of the Admiralty, Cecil O'Rowe, told Parliament Monday.

Jane's Fighting Ships reported earlier this year that the Soviet Union had 12 operational nuclear submarines with five or six more due for completion each year.

The United States has 27 nuclear submarines, 10 of them equipped with Polaris missiles.

BERLIN (AP)—Four young men escaped to West Berlin today night from communist East Germany.

Police said the four sneaked past border guards and through the barbed wire at four different points of the city's border.

CALCUTTA, India (AP)—Indian and Pakistan negotiators met today for a fourth round of talks on the Kashmir dispute.

The previous talks ended with each government proposing partition of Kashmir State along a line unacceptable to the other. India now controls the most important two-thirds of the disputed Himalayan state.

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists have reinforced their borders with Hong Kong and Macao to prevent possible infiltration by Nationalist saboteurs, arrivals in the two colonies report.

About 2,000 northern Chinese troops reportedly arrived early this month to bolster the border with Portuguese Macao.

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Sabotage of two pipelines today held down the flow of crude oil to the Lake Maracaibo refinery of the American-owned Creole Petroleum Corp., but officials said production had not been curtailed. The pipelines were ripped open Sunday night by bombs thrown by men the Venezuelan government said were followers of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Nation's Oil Flow Rises

TULSA (AP)—Texas oil production dropped last week, but gains in Louisiana and Oklahoma brought an increase in nationwide output, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Production last week averaged 7,485,523 barrels a day, up 43,750 over the previous week.

Texas output was down 20,200 barrels a day to an average of 2,580,000 daily, reflecting a decrease in the March allowable. Louisiana, with an increased March allowable, was up 29,000 to 1,338,000. Oklahoma gained 28,700 to 536,000.

Arkansas produced 73,000, Colorado 112,300 and New Mexico 304,200.

STABBING VICTIM COMFORTED BY OWNER—Donna Chadwick, 15, consoles Rusty, her 7-year-old red roan quarter horse, who had a narrow escape when the animal was stabbed along with two other horses in the stalls at Del's Riding Stables in Pasadena, Texas. Rusty, the most seriously injured, suffered a puncture wound some six inches deep that missed the jugular vein by a hair. Police are seeking the person or persons who stabbed the animals. All are expected to recover after extensive treatment. (AP Wirephoto)

Solon Says RFK Had 'Nurse Maid'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., has fired a shot across Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy's bow.

He told the Senate Monday the Coast Guard had to act as a nurse maid for Kennedy when he and his wife went sailing on Chesapeake Bay last October. He called it an arrogant action that forced a boat in distress to wait hours for assistance.

Speaking for Kennedy, the Justice Department replied that Williams had given a "distorted version of the incident."

All that Kennedy asked for was that the Coast Guard be able to locate him in case of an emergency, the department said.

That was only two weeks after the riot at Oxford, the University of Mississippi, and a few days before the Cuban crisis, the department said.

Williams later scoffed at the possibility the Cuban crisis was involved, saying the attorney general was "kidding somebody then or is kidding somebody now."

In bringing it up to the Senate, Williams said a constituent was cruising the Chesapeake Oct. 11 when his boat developed engine trouble.

In response to his SOS, a Coast Guard cutter sped over and its officer discussed the trouble but told Williams' constituent he was unable to render assistance because he was under orders to trail Kennedy in case his boat developed engine trouble, Williams said.

"The result was that the man and his party were left with a stalled motor to await assistance from some other source, which hours later came from a private company which towed them to port," Williams said.

In reply, the Justice Department issued a statement with this version.

Kennedy and his wife borrowed a sailboat of Deputy Atty. Gen.

Hobbs High Hosts Talent Show Friday

HOBBS—Danny McArthur, disc jockey for radio KRBC in Abilene, will be the master of ceremonies for the annual talent show scheduled here Friday at 8 p.m.

The show, always a top springtime attraction here, will be staged in the Hobbs High School auditorium. Entries are still being accepted, and any person with a particular talent wishing to take part is asked to call Hobbs High School.

Various types of talent from throughout this area will be seen, with winners being named in three divisions and first and second place trophies being given at conclusion of the judging.

The three divisions of competition include grade school high school, and adult.

Roosevelt's Confirmation Is Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans appeared resigned today to letting Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. win confirmation as undersecretary of commerce.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., said in advance of Roosevelt's scheduled public appearance before the Senate Commerce Committee he does not expect any serious fight to be made against the nominee.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said he was advised Republicans will delve into the record of the son of the late president.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating, New York Republicans, have let it become known they will not fight the appointment. Roosevelt, who lives in Washington, was listed by President Kennedy as a New York appointee.

Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., who has expressed doubts about Roosevelt's qualifications for the $21,000-a-year post, was set to quarterback the opposition questioning in committee.

Now 41, Roosevelt served two terms in the House. He tried for the Democratic nomination for governor of New York in 1954, but had to settle for the state attorney general nomination. He lost to Javits while W. Averell Harriman was winning the governorship.

Republicans say Roosevelt might like to try for a political comeback against Keating in 1964. Republicans have indicated interest in Roosevelt's registration in 1956 as an agent of the Dominican Republic.

They have noted that Roosevelt's only business connection has been in ownership and management since 1957 of a foreign car agency.

Rocket Pit May Boost Moon Trip

WOODBINE, Ga. (AP)—Man's journey to the moon could be helped along with a rocket testing pit 12 stories deep—mostly below sea level—expected to be built in southeast Georgia.

Thiokol Chemical Corp., said from its Huntsville, Ala., plant Monday that a contract for such a pit in Camden County has been awarded to Rich Steers Inc., of New York.

The cost of the contract was not disclosed.

The pit would be more than 50 feet in diameter and 120 feet deep and capable of handling solid fuel rocket motors generating up to 12 million pounds of thrust, essential for deep space probes.

Scientists have been studying the possibility of using solid fuel instead of liquid propellant for the moonshot program, but no decision has been disclosed.

Thiokol is competing with Aerojet General and Lockheed Propulsion for the contract to build the huge rocket engine for space exploration.

The Air Force is expected to award a contract in April or May.

Thiokol President Joseph Crosby said earlier his company would build a multi-million-dollar plant near here if it gets a government contract for the huge rocket engine.

Thiokol announced the allocation of $10.5 million for the proposed plant in January, and work on the first phase of construction has been under way since.

Helicopters have been found useful in cattle roundups.

CREATIVE COOKS

Ingenuity Means Special Treats

BY LUCY DYSART

Vivacious Helen Dillaha's "home cookin'" is as varied and interesting as Helen herself. Whether she is preparing dinner for just the family, or for a lot of friends, the food is always delectable.

Her entertaining ease is exemplified by the unusual treatment she gives the simplest ingredients, resulting in a "party special" treat anytime. The excellent recipes listed below are very good examples of Helen's ingenuity in the kitchen.

MORE

2 tablespoons oil
1 medium sized onion finely chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
1 pound ground beef
2 eight-ounce cans tomato sauce
1/2 cup California burgundy
1 cup corn meal
1 cup, or small can, whole kernel corn
2 eggs
1 cup grated cheese
Salt and pepper to taste

Heat the oil in a heavy skillet. Add the onion, pepper and beef. Cook, stirring with a fork, until beef is browned. Add the tomato sauce and wine and bring to boil. Stir in the corn meal, cooking constantly for 3 or 4 minutes. Remove from heat and add corn, three-fourths cup of cheese, salt and pepper. Last, stir in slightly beaten eggs. Turn into greased casserole and top with remaining

1/2 cup cheese. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees for one hour, or until firm. Serves 6 or 8.

DUTCH OVEN DUCK

2 game ducks
3 large stalks celery, thinly sliced
3 large carrots, thinly sliced
1 large white onion, quartered
Salt and pepper to taste
1/2 cup soy sauce
1/4 cups tomato juice
1 can (12 ounces) beer

Stuff ducks with the celery, carrots and onion seasoned well with salt and pepper. Pour half of the soy sauce into 1 duck and skewer tightly to keep in as much soy as possible. Do the same with other duck. Put ducks in large Dutch oven or covered roaster and add tomato juice and beer. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for 2 hours, basting occasionally with liquid in pan. Turn off heat and leave in oven for 30 minutes longer before serving. Serves 6 to 8.

GRAHAM CRACKER CAKE

Mix:
48 graham crackers rolled fine
1 cup butter
2 cups sugar
6 eggs
1 1/2 cup sweet milk
1/4 pound grated coconut (canned)
1 pound pecans, cut coarsely

Mix all ingredients thoroughly. Bake in tube pan (greased, floured and lined with brown paper) for about one hour. When cake is cold, pour bourbon over and serve as fruit cake.

TOP TV TONIGHT

By BUD EVANS

7:30 CBS "Red Skelton", as George Appleby, works in a clock shop where ghost star Jackie Coogan has the role of Mr. Baldwin. Skelton is on the verge of being fired for incompetence until he reveals that he is developing a formula that grows hair. Marilyn Maxwell is seen as Clara Appleby. In the Silent Spot, Skelton pantomimes a theatre janitor who creates his own drama on an empty stage.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

6:30 NBC "Laramie". Steadfast in his search for the truth, Slim Sherman prevents the hanging of an innocent Indian and helps restore the Arapahos to respect in the community. Jack Gaylor and Frank De Kova are seen in "The Unvanquished".

7:00 CBS "Lloyd Bridges". Singer Gogi Grant undertakes her first acting role in "The Sheridan Square", a comedy about a hard-boiled television writer whose wife habitually brings home hordes of beatnik guests.

7:30 NBC "Empire". Joanna Barnes and John Vivyan are guest stars in "Down There, the World", the drama about a shrewd, beautiful businesswoman who matches wits with Jim Redigo for high financial stakes. Phillip Ober is seen in the role of Walter Kenner. COLOR.

8:30 NBC "Dick Powell Theatre". Two hopeful young immigrants arrive in the San Fernando Valley in 1912 and buy a small piece of land, unaware that a tyrannical neighbor wants the tract and is making plans to drive them off. William Shatner, Geraldine Brooks and Robert A. Brown are starred in "Colossus". Robert Taylor appears as host.

8:30 CBS "Jack Benny". A beautiful girl and two hoodlums kidnap Jack Benny and hold the comedian for ransom. Merry Anders is featured with Warren Kernerling and Robert Foulk.

9:00 CBS "Garry Moore". stays on the west coast and features singer Keely Smith and the comedy team of Allen and Rossi. Dorothy Loudon and Ray Casale are featured.

9:30 NBC "Chet Huntley". compares the British and American systems of dealing with narcotics users.

Mississippi was the first state to recognize the property rights of married women. In 1839 it adopted a law giving wives equal rights with their husbands in buying or selling property.

Approximately two out of five executive positions in American industry are filled by professional engineers.

Newspapers In New York Await Vote

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight major New York newspapers, their presses idle for 95 days, must wait at least until Monday to resume publication.

The striking printers union has set Sunday for a membership meeting to vote on ratification of a proposed contract.

Striking stereotypers and mailers are still negotiating with the publishers on new contracts.

The publishers and six nonstriking craft unions also must agree on new contracts.

A major problem of negotiators is persuading the AFL-CIO New York Newspaper Guild to extend its contracts with the publishers by more than four months—making them expire at the same time as contracts covering the craft unions.

Publishers agreed to a common expiration date for contracts of all 10 newspaper unions—a major demand of the printers—provided the other unions went along with it.

Guild contracts with the dailies expire Oct. 31, 1964. Negotiations bogged down Monday on the issue of getting the Guild to extend its contracts to expire two years from the date publication resumes.

Guild representatives said they would seek an interpretation of the contract expiration issue from Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the Guild, said "If we are going to be asked to extend our contract, we want other things. Money is a consideration—and other things beyond money."

The Guild, which represents 6,000 editorial and commercial department employees, accepted an $8.50-a-week package increase over two years in newspaper contracts it negotiated last fall.

The printers, members of Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union got a $12.53 weekly package over two years, under the mayor's settlement terms.

In Cleveland, Ohio, two papers are closed—the Plain Dealer and the Press & News. That blackout reached its third day today. Contract negotiations were held Monday between publishers and two of the three striking unions—the mailers and printers. The machinists union also is on strike.

Look Alikes Learn They're Really Twins

BINGHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP)—Roger D. Brooks of Miami, Fla., and Anthony J. Milasi of Binghamton look enough alike to be twins—and as it turns out, they are.

Brooks was approached by a stranger in a Miami restaurant last fall and asked if he were Milasi. Of course, he said he wasn't.

But Brooks was orphaned soon after his birth more than 24 years ago, and he knew he had a twin brother whom he had never met and whose whereabouts he did not know. Each had been adopted by different families.

He immediately began to check and determined that Milasi was his brother.

They met here last weekend and discovered that the case of a twin taken identity that led to the reunion was understandable.

Both are 6 feet 3 inches tall. Milasi weighs 210 pounds and Brooks 208. Both have brown hair and blue eyes, both wear size 13 shoes and they comb their hair the same way. Neither is married.

Brooks is the adopted son of Mildred Brooks of Miami, and Milasi is the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Milasi of Binghamton.

The stranger whose inquiry led to the reunion is Mark Prattalano of Boston, a student at Miami University who had worked with Milasi during the summer.

Nearly 254 million passenger-car repair jobs are undertaken each year by the nation's automotive service garages.

Animal Clothing Campaign Could Hike U. S. Economy

BY INEZ ROBB

Eureka! In the first place, it would, rescue the textile industry from the doldrums. Empty government warehouses of all that surplus cotton, rejoice the wool industry, and rejuvenate factories that produce machinery for the manufacture of cloth, thereby creating a demand for more steel, which would in turn give the iron and coal industries a shot in the arm.

Nor is that all. Now jobs would absorb the unemployed, including school dropouts. New factories essential to turn out sufficient textiles would give the building industry a shot in the arm. The demand for garment workers would lift the well-known Seventh Avenue out of the doldrums.

New stores, required as outlets for animal merchandise, would trigger a boom in retail trade and create still further jobs in merchandising. Advertising agencies would be swamped with new accounts in coast-to-coast campaigns for, just as an example, "Bikinis for Bowser."

There is scarcely a segment of our economy that would not feel the powerful upward surge implicit in a law to clothe our four-footed friends. Think of the opportunities open merely in American meat for wardrobe mixtures! And the first order of the new day in that field should be Mother Hubbards for monkeys and hubbards, appealing exhibition animals.

Nor is the idea of clothing for animals wholly new. In most large American cities shopkeepers supply pajamas, raincoats, fur bennies, pajamas and cocktail jackets for pampered dogs and old hat.

We have had matching mother-and-daughter and father-and-son outfits for many years. It should be easy for a designer such as Dior to contrive matching outfits for a grand dame and her Great Dane or for Missie and her Mailie. Let Cassini show the way by getting busy on a wardrobe suitable for their station, for Macaroni and Charlie.

Simply to cover an animal's nakedness, whether Black Angus, Percheron or the family parakeet, simply will not do in the richest nation in the world. Animals, like humans, will need entire wardrobes, not only for the changing seasons, but for their changing social obligations. It will not only the Black Angus but the dry-cleaning industry in clover, to name only one.

Yes, what this country needs is a garment industry geared to the animal kingdom. What about a snappy slogan, "Clothes for Critters," to launch the project that will get the GNP and the economy job on track? It is just possible that the late Clifford Prout Sr., who left $400,000 to promote the cause of covering animal nakedness, will someday be the patron saint of the New Frontier.

Columnist Jumps To Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions.

Business leaders are usually pictured as cool and well-adjusted, the real balance wheels of our civilization.

Actually, the industrial tycoon and the military chieftain as well— is often more temperamental, neurotic and insecure in judgment than are many successful artists, writers and sculptors, who find in the discipline of their art a calming influence.

But the two classes in America most suspicious of the motives of others are probably movie stars and professional baseball players.

The first robin may be only a foreshadowing of spring, but the robin you see building a nest that really assures you spring is here.

Nothing takes away the less confidence of a grown person more than losing a front tooth.

We have never met anybody over 40 who was satisfied with a new portrait photograph.

The simplest way to move to the rear of the bus is to follow a determined fat lady.

If you want to avoid a talkative barber, get your hair cut by an older one; the older he is, the more his feet probably hurt—and the more his feet hurt the less likely it is he'll want to tell you his views on the state of the world.

A man who knows he is a snob usually makes a grouching and stimulating companion. It is those who are snobs and don't know it who bore us most.

No matter how worthless a fellow feels, it always helps his self-respect to get his shoes shined.

A man will spend his last dime having a good time, but women always keep a cash reserve somewhere in those portable trunks they carry.

To anyone with common sense it is more inspiring to watch a small girl chanting as she skips rope than it is to spend an hour looking at the "Mona Lisa."

A marriage is a skill intact if, when a husband goes carousing, the wife is certain it was some friend who led him astray.

Few things stir antagonism in a fellow more than theft of his golf clubs from his parked car while he's attending Sunday church services.

No one is really quite ready for marriage if she can't cook an omelet without getting eggshells in it.

Asks Change In Tax Plan

AUSTIN (AP)—Rep. Bill Davis of Midland wants the House to ask President Kennedy for a change of mind on the administration tax proposals.

Davis introduced a resolution to that effect Monday and it was sent to the House Small Business Committee. He said he hopes to have an early public hearing on the measure.

The resolution notes that the petroleum industry pays about 27 per cent of all local property taxes and 30.2 per cent of all state taxes yet the national administration proposes new federal tax burdens.

Davis asks that the house go on record as opposing the proposed taxes. If approved by representatives, the resolution would go to the President, Vice President, Secretary of Treasury and all members of Congress.

4-Year Extension of Draft Passes

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — A four-year extension of the draft law, passed by the house with only three dissenting votes, begins its Senate journey today.

The Senate Armed Services Committee opens hearings on the Pentagon proposal with Assistant Secretary of Defense Norman S. Paul as the leadoff witness.

The bill cleared the House Monday on a 367-3 roll call vote. The only no votes came from Reps. Homer E. Abele, R-Ohio, H. H. Gross, R-Iowa, and George E. Brown Jr., D-Calif.

"I can't understand for the life of me, with all the stories I hear about the unemployed youth of this country, why the armed services can't get all the manpower we need on a voluntary basis," Gross complained.

Lamesa Man Is Sentenced

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Carey Demott, 24, of Lamesa got a four-year sentence Monday for stealing an airplane and flying it to Mexico.

This is the second time Demott has been convicted of airplane stealing. The plane was stolen this past June from a Midland airport. Two other men flew the private craft to Mexico with Demott and these two are still in jail in Piedras Negras.

The three broke out in December and Demott made it across the Rio Grande. Border Patrolmen arrested him.

His companions were seized in Mexico again.

Demott got a three year term in 1959 for stealing another airplane. U.S. Dist. Judge Adrian Spears said Demott would have gotten a five year term except he has been in jail since June.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

By JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY— Now it all started one day when the Lady from Puebla was reading one of the newspaper psychologists who said everything including flat feet was a result of emotional troubles. So she studies me for a moment and then announced, "You're sick."

"Me?" I said. "I'm in the prime of life whereas most 47-year-old boys are worse run down than a dollar alarm clock."

And she snorted and said, "I don't mean that way. You're emotionally sick. All you do is sit around playing chess and smoking foul cigars and you scratch your stomach when you watch Marshall Dillon on TV. This is a sign of emotional illness."

"We don't even have a psychiatrist," she said. "Psychiatry is the most modern innovation here and we don't have a spoonful of status. Everybody in my family has at least one psychiatrist and the members with the highest social standing have two or three."

"But look at your family," I said. "They hang by their knees from towel racks and peel bananas with their feet."

Then she snapped, "At least they know WHY they do these things. You have no idea why you like cigars and scratch your stomach."

"I don't care why I like cigars and I scratch my stomach because it itches," I said.

"Big deal. You're going to see a psychiatrist right away and we'll find out why your leg was stiff for three days last week."

So I said, "My leg was stiff because I fell down the stairs."

"Your emotions are so unbalanced you can't even stand up," she said. "See a psychiatrist."

Well, a few years back I was a professional wrestler at nights and ground out wire service copy in the day, but the Lady from Puebla doesn't fight fair. She doesn't know the rules and hits with a closed fist. So I went to see Dr. Siebert Fraud.

He looked at me and asked what was the matter.

And I said, "I'm happy but I can't do anything about it."

He picked up a pencil and wrote, "Patient doesn't adjust well to life situations."

Then he sat back and asked, "What was your childhood like?"

Two Democrats and a Republican sought to have the bill amended, but their proposals never got off the ground.

Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., wanted the draft extension held to two years. He said with the world situation in a state of flux, the next Congress should have a chance to act on the draft, too.

The amendment was rejected on a 40-43 standing vote after Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee said "of all times for letting the world think we are reducing our force, this would be the wrong hour and the wrong time."

The other amendments had similar goals. Rep. Thomas Pucinski, D-Ill., wanted the maximum draft age cut from 26 to 22 years.

Rep. Charles E. Foorall, Rep.-N.Y., proposed an amendment declaring it the sense of Congress that more men should be drafted when they are 18 1/2 or 19, instead of at the present average of 23 years.

Pucinski's amendment was turned down on a voice vote. Goodell's on a standing vote of 134 to 86.

The bill extends the draft law to July 1, 1967.

It also keeps in effect for four more years a suspension of statutory ceilings on the size of the armed forces. Without that, military manpower would have to be trimmed by more than 500,000.

—Continues the system of dependents' assistance allowances, ranging from $55 to $105 a month, for enlisted men in the lower grades.

—Extends "the doctors' draft" and the provisions for special pay for medical men ordered to military service.

Miami Police Using Electronic Computer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami's Metro police force intends to continue using its electronic computer in traffic control.

The machine was crammed with accident data Saturday. After it produced its analysis of where the most accidents were likely to occur, to motorcycle policemen went to the area and patrolled it for eight hours.

"We don't know if we actually prevented any accidents," said Lt. Quentin Weaver. "All we know is that we had 10 accidents a year ago and none Saturday."

"Unfortunately happy," I sighed. "I had a wonderful time hunting, fishing, playing football and going on Boy Scout hikes."

So Dr. Fraud wrote, "Strong schizophrenic tendencies."

"What sort of work do you do?" he asked.

"Newspaper," I said, crouching lower in the chair. "I've been a correspondent for about 25 years. The doctor glared at me and wrote, 'Psychopathic liar.'"

"You realize, naturally, this is very serious," he said.

"I'm sorry, I'll kill myself if you advise it."

"First rational thing you've said," he muttered. "Why do you hate your parents?"

And I said, "I don't. I think they're pretty wonderful but I apologize."

"You can't seem to understand that delusions of happiness are merely a futile defense against reality," he growled. Then he took out a book and said, "Look at these ink blots and tell me what they look like."

"Ink blots," I said, studying them carefully.

Dr. Fraud closed the book and shook his head. "A tragic inability to accept unhappiness but we may be able to save you with electroshock, hospitalization and medication. That'll be two thousand dollars in advance, please."

Like the Lady from Puebla says, we'll be broke for the rest of our lives but it is worth every cent. We got status now.

Strangling Case Puts Town On Edge

BELEMONT, Mass. (AP) — The fashionable Belmont-Hill section of this suburban town, rarely touched by violence or crime, lay shrouded in fear today following the strangulation of a murder—the ninth in Greater Boston since June—of a prominent 62-year-old woman.

Police sought a cleaning man, hired through a state employment office, who was working in the Scott Road home where Bessie Goldberg was found strangled with a silk stocking Monday.

The murder of the petite, dark-haired woman, a volunteer worker at Boston hospitals, stunned this quiet neighborhood.

Police converged on the area but had difficulty gaining entrance to nearby homes to talk with neighbors. They said terrified women refused to open their doors.

Mrs. Goldberg's body was found lying on the living room floor by her husband Israel, when he returned home from his realty office about 4 p.m.

Goldberg told police he talked with his wife by telephone at 2:30 p.m. and asked if the cleaning man had arrived. He said she told him the man was there. She did not indicate there was anything wrong.

Dr. David C. Dow, medical examiner, said the woman had been strangled. He declined to say if there was evidence she had been sexually molested.

Police said the Negro cleaning man was supplied by the Massachusetts Division of Employment Security. A bulletin described him as 35 years old, with scars on the center of his forehead and the corner of his left eye.

Police said the man has records for car theft in Illinois and robbery in New York. His last known address was in Cambridge.

Mrs. Goldberg was a volunteer worker at Massachusetts General Hospital and the U.S. Naval Hospital in Chelsea.

Since the first slaying, June 14, 1962, police have been stymied. The first six victims and Mrs. Goldberg were either elderly or middle-aged. Only the seventh and eighth victims were young.

In most cases, but not all, there was sexual molestation.

Although several apartments were ransacked nothing was taken. Police said the Goldberg home apparently was not robbed.

Many of the victims had some connection with a hospital.

Businessmen Call Strike

MORELIA, Mexico (AP) — A city-wide strike called by businessmen paralyzed this capital city of Michoacan Monday in the wake of student riots that left two women and a child injured.

Police and soldiers who had put down the rioting with tear gas maintained guard to quell any new outbreaks.

Riots Sunday climaxed 40 days of tension and recent demonstrations over the dismissal of several teachers on charges of misuse of university funds. The teachers were dismissed and several students expelled by El de Gotari, rector of the University of San Nicolas.

Opponents, who accused Gotari of being a leftist, says he refuses to open his books to prove his charges.

Changes Are Protested

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The opposition party of National Action (PAN) says it is not satisfied with new electoral law changes which could give it 20 out of the 178 deputy seats in Congress.

Adolfo Christlieb, head of PAN, said Democracy and fairness can be obtained only in a free election in which all votes can be counted accurately and openly.

He urged reforms which would give opposition parties a fair chance to win senatorial, state and city elections, as well as an opportunity to seat more deputies.

The government recently inaugurated election reforms which could guarantee minor parties up to 20 seats in the house, even if their official vote count did not show they had won in their areas.

Three Persons Die In Road Collision

THROCKMORTON, Tex. (AP) — A head-on collision of two automobiles east of here Monday night killed three persons and injured three others, two critically.

The Department of Public Safety identified the dead as Leocadio V. Quiroz, 34, and his daughter, Aracelia, in both of Breckenridge, and Mrs. Maxine Bennett Pate, 43, of Westmoreland, Calif.

Injured critically were Mrs. Pate's husband, Willis Matthew Pate, 47, and Quiroz's wife, Mary, 38. Less seriously hurt was the Quiroz 6-year-old daughter, Eva.

The collision occurred on Texas 24 about 17 miles east of this North Central Texas town.

Mrs. Jones Has All The Answers

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Waiting for Mrs. Jones' might well be the title of the program on tap today for a House Commerce subcommittee.

Hallie Jones, co-owner of the small Kansas City radio audience survey firm, Robert S. Conlan Associates, got a big buildup in her Monday when the subcommittee attempted to check on the accuracy of the firm's program ratings.

She arranged to fly in from Kansas City today to answer dozens of questions about the operation of the Conlan survey business, which its president, Robert E. West, said he couldn't answer.

West, though he worked for the firm for 12 years and has been president since he and Mrs. Jones bought it out in 1959, declared he "couldn't put a survey together to save my life" and handled only the sales end of the business. Time and again, West deferred to Mrs. Jones, superior knowledge of business details, saying "Mrs. Jones handled all field work" and "That's Mrs. Jones' department." The reported answer became such a joke that even West joined in the laughter.

"Mrs. Jones sure does a lot of work," he remarked at one point. "She certainly is an invaluable woman," Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., remarked acidly.

Rep. Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., read a brochure that said Conlan

Associates employed "program editors," "verifiers," "calculators," "tabulators," and so on.

West testified the firm now employs five persons, including himself and Mrs. Jones. He said he had inherited the brochure's wording from the firm's previous owners and that it had eight employees then.

Rogers insisted, "Who are your verifiers?" he asked.

"Well, Mrs. Jones," said West. "I don't even know what a verifier is, sir," West replied, joining the laughter.

"Who are your tabulators?" Rogers prodded.

"Well, Mrs. Jones," said West. "What about calculators?" Rogers asked.

"I think tabulators and calculators are about one and the same thing," West answered. "I think there's a distinction, but I don't know what it is."

The Kansas City firm, West said, makes telephone surveys in various cities to determine what percentage of the audience listens to a particular radio station.

The actual telephoning, he said, is done by independent operators from a list kept by his company. Testimony showed they are paid $22.50 for 16 hours of telephone surveying per week. The surveys were sold to stations at prices ranging from $600 to $100.

The Conlan firm is the first in the rating and survey field to come under the subcommittee's public scrutiny in a wide investigation that has been 18 months in the making. Other bigger firms are scheduled for later in the week, including the Nielsen Co. which dominates the television audience rating field.

Cuban Doctor Blames U. S.

WACO (AP)—A Cuban doctor who took part in the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion, and who now practices in Corsicana, blames the United States for failure of the invasion.

Dr. Orlando Heron told the Waco Rotary Club Monday that Cuba has become a training base for sabotage which threatens the rest of Latin America.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro took over Cuba with the full blessing of the U. S. State Department, and that there has been no guarantee or positive proof that Russian missiles have been removed.

"The longer we wait to throw Castro out the more difficult it becomes," he said. "I don't know how we are going to do it but we have got to do something."

Heron said the Bay of Pigs invasion failed because the invaders had no air cover.

He said the quarantine of Cuba accomplished nothing because the United States "didn't stop a single Russian ship" and that the U. S. government has no way of knowing if missiles were removed.

Test Ban Talks Rock Along Without Chance Of A Pact

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chitchat is the most charitable description for the long years of American-Russian talks to ban nuclear tests. Secretary of State Dean Rusk has just said he sees no agreement in the near future.

The talks, at the rate they've been going, can continue for more years with still no agreement. Very likely, sooner or later, the big powers will resume nuclear testing as they did last year.

This will bring the usual outcries and protests. Then when the tests are finished, again judging by the way they have been going, the United States and Russia will chew the fat some more.

Even agreement of some sort will be a hollow arrangement unless the French and Red Chinese agree not to test. Since they're not taking part in the negotiations, they can't be bound by any deal the United States and Russia make.

It is easy to speculate that one reason for Russian reluctance right now to agree on a test ban is its concern for Red China, that it wants to stall to give the Chinese Communists time to make some tests.

What isn't known is what personal motives the United States and Russia may have—since information on nuclear development is completely secret—for not signing an agreement now.

Each side, as could be expected, blames the other for the failure. It's an old story and it's getting monotonous. Over the years the only ones optimistic about agreement were the dreamers.

Just how far off a test ban looks can be underlined from the statement by Rusk that the United States is continuing talks with Russia in the hope of reaching at least a first step toward halting the arms race.

What does a first step mean? Just breaking the ice? Just making a little progress? If so, then more steps, meaning more talks, will be necessary to give a ban agreement any significance.

The Russians, who had consistently refused to agree to any inspection system inside their country, last December consented to permitting at least three on-site inspections. Then they backed off that.

The United States, which at one time had insisted on at least 10 on-site inspections, reduced its requirement to 7. The Russians wouldn't buy that. Rusk says he doesn't know why the Russians backed off that.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, harked out the Kennedy administration for talking too much in public. "It's a very poor procedure," Fulbright said.

Now it turns out when the United States trimmed its on-site inspection demand to seven a newspaper was told about it before the American delegation at Geneva had said this country's allies and the neutrals.

Meanwhile the Republicans have warned the administration not to make too many concessions. Besides they said, the administration has been inconsistent in what it says it will insist on before agreeing to a ban.

This whole business is getting as tangled up in politics as how to deal with Fidel Castro. It's a sorry sight at this moment and day.

Cubans Sign Up For Special Training

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Seventy-eight members of Brigade 2506, which invaded Cuba and was held prisoner for 20 months, were inducted into the U.S. Army Monday.

They will train at Ft. Jackson, S.C., under a special program worked out by the Defense Department and the Cuban Revolutionary Council. It is separate from the military setup created for regular Cuban refugees, which has drawn about 2,000 recruits since last summer.

The Defense Department said about 400 brigade members have signed up for the special training.

There's no reason to think it will get better any time soon.

Says Moral Issue Vital

FORT WORTH (AP)—The Rev. Charles Wellborn, former pastor in Waco, told the Christian Life Commission Workshop on Moral Issues today that "without moral responsibility, man is not man."

"To be man, made in the image of God, implies creative moral responsibility," he told the Baptist group.

"Only by comparison with absolute rightness—after goodness—does wrong assume reality. Without such a standard there is no moral responsibility.

"Without moral responsibility, man is not man."

The delegates dispersed to study groups after hearing addresses from Rev. James Harris of Fort Worth, and Leon McBeth, teacher at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Women who cook electrically know...

Electric cooking is CLEAN because it's flameless

A flameless electric range cooks with heat as clean as electric light—the same clean heat you use to iron clothes. There is no fuel grime to smudge your pots and pans, so they stay bright and new-looking. Clean-up time is reduced to a minimum.

Since electric cooking is flameless, there is no flow of air into and out of the oven, carrying heat and cooking vapors into your kitchen. Your kitchen walls, curtains and woodwork stay fresh and new looking with less washing and care.

Electric cooking also is cool, fast, accurate and economical. See your dealer and change now to a 1963 flameless electric range. Electric cooking is one of the nicest things about living better electrically!
