REDS TAKE INITIATIVE SOUTH OF STALINGRAD

CISCO EXPECTED TO MAKE, EQUIP 50 KITS

Mrs. W. W. Wallace, head of Red Cross work in Cisco, announces they are ready to order articles for soldiers' utility kits. The cost of equipment for each kit is $1, Mrs. Wallace said, and Cisco must make and equip 50 of these kits that are to be given to soldiers only as they board ships for foreign service. Each kit contains 12 useful articles.

Individuals are requested to give this fund to the Red Cross chapter, as many women do not belong to clubs that ordinarily donate to the cause.

Cash donations for the purpose may be turned in to O. L. Duckett at the Cisco Gas Corporation, or to Mrs. Wallace at the work rooms, which will be open Friday afternoons. Ed Freyschlag, Red Cross county chairman, has notified Mrs. Wallace that the money must be collected this week, hence it is urgent that donations be made at once.

SECOND JAP LINE TAKEN

GEN. M'ARTHUR HEADQUARTERS, Oct. 1.—Australian troops have captured the Japanese second defense line in the Owen Stanley mountains of New Guinea and are continuing their advance.

After taking the Ioribaiwa Ridge in the first phase of the offensive four days ago, the Aussies pressed forward yesterday to take the Nauro Creek and ridge, 10 miles to the north.

They captured quantities of Japanese supplies and equipment added to that they had gained at Ioribaiwa.

The enemy troops were retreating toward their main base on the north side of the mountains, the village of Menari about four miles north of Nauro and it was indicated that if they failed to hold Menari their position would be serious.

The Japs, who have been within 32 airline miles and a little over 90 road miles of Port Moresby on the south New Guinea coast, were now about 60 miles away and still retreating.

MacArthur's new Douglas A-20 (Win-motored medium bombers) escorted by fighters, had opened an attack on the Menari base and supply lines on both sides of it. In their sweeps yesterday they started several fires and it was indicated they inflicted casualties on the retreating enemy.

MacArthur's communique gave the hope that his Australians were within sight of a victory second only to that at Milne Bay where an enemy invasion was destroyed.

One formation of Fortresses bombed installations at Buna. Another attacked the Wairopi Village bridge over the swift-flowing Kumusi river, near Koroia on the north side of the mountains. They hit the approach to the bridge on both sides with heavy demolition bombs and it was left sagging. Supply dumps were machine gunned.

Consolidated bombers made a night attack on the Japs air base and dispersal areas at Buna, on Bougainville Island in the Solomons.

Other Consolidateds made a night attack on the airbase, dispersal areas for enemy flying boats and supply depots at Buka Island.

FOOTBALL AT 3 PM. FRIDAY

The Stephenville Yellow Jackets will invade the Lobo lair Friday afternoon to pile up another of their lopsided victories, which has been their rule during the season, and they expect no serious opposition from the Coach Monroe Sweeney an local team, it is asserted.

Announces the game will start at 3 o'clock sharp—no later. Admission is 55 cents for adults and 30 cents for students and men in the service. This includes tax.

Last year the Yellow Jackets defeated the Lobos by a score of 36-6. They have an even stronger team this year and it still remains to be proven just what the Lobos are this year.

Cisco looked good at Big Springs after the boys got their bearings, Sweeney says. The younger men showed up better than the letter men, probably owing to their enthusiasm in their first battle.

With a week's training, the entire team may look entirely different and give the fans some delightful thrills by showing their metal.

The spirit of fight a team puts into the game is always a very deciding factor in any battle—football or war.

Mr. Sweeney says his team will be out there and will give the best they have. If they do it, it will be worth the price of admission.

DEFENSE GUARD DISCUSSED AT ROTARY LUNCH

The Rotary program today was in charge of E. Hooks, who introduced Top Sgt. D. G. Streater, of the defense guard, who, Hooks said, would tell something of that body's duties and training. Rotarian Hooks said that perhaps the Lions were bringing too many programs for the Rotary club of late. He told of a recent survey in Sweetwater clubs which showed the Rotarians are not always necessarily old men's clubs.

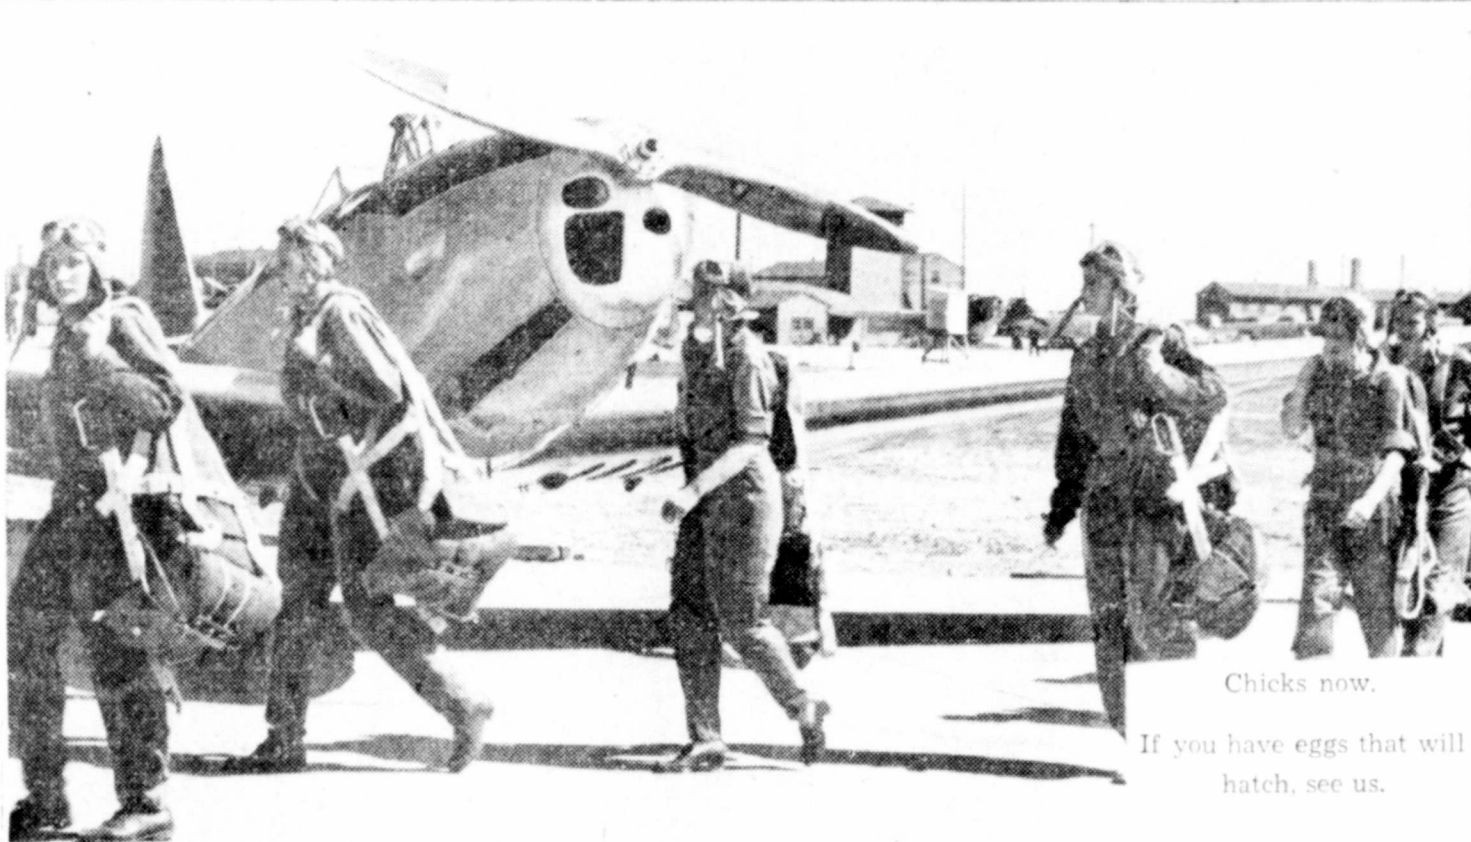

Sergeant Streater said the defense guard was an outgrowth of the old national guard, whose duty was to defend the community when danger threatened, in the absence of the regular army defense unit.

Cisco is not a unit of the Texas Defense Guard because it has not been able to qualify on account of numbers in attendance. Streater mentioned the fact that about one hundred men responded at a meeting in January, but now he said, barely 30 men are in regular attendance.

Officers consist of Capt. O. L. Stamey, Lieut. Sim Ledford and Wyatt Jacobs; Top Sgt. D. G. Streater and Sgt. George Boyd. Drill time is each Friday from 8 to 10 o'clock.

Mr. Streater then introduced Sergeant Hays, who gave the manual of arms, with comments. E. L. Cain, past president of the Breckenridge Rotary club, was a visitor.

The Ro-Ta-Tor came out this week with a full page devoted to the biography of G. R. (Pete) Nance, secretary-treasurer of the club.

MAJ. DONOVAN WILL ADDRESS TEXAS OILMEN

DALLAS, Oct. 1.—The part played by the Texas oil industry in defense activities will be outlined before the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association convention which opens here Friday, October 9, by Maj. Gen. Richard Donovan, commanding the eighth service command.

Major Donovan, an army man of over 30 years' service, now stationed at Fort Sam Houston, will address oilmen attending the Texas Mid-Continent oil convention on the subject of "The Functions of the Eighth Service Command." His address will be of unusual interest to Texas oilmen, since it will stress the importance of cooperative effort in defense work and particularly as it involves the protection of vital oil properties in the event of an enemy attack through the Gulf coast.

The Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association, through its statewide representation, has worked closely with the eighth service command of the U. S. army in safeguarding vital oil fields and refining centers against enemy attack, according to the announcement. Major Donovan will cite the value of this work to the armed forces and will stress the importance of complete coordination of army and civilian forces in the defense of vital industrial centers throughout the state.

Other speakers on the convention program include Donald R. Knowlton and D. E. Buchanan, both officials of the federal government; Lt. Col. D. B. Burns, head of selective service in Texas; George Sawtelle, president of the association and a nationally prominent oil executive and adviser to the federal government, whose name will be announced in a few days.

REDUCTION IN USE OF MEAT HAS STARTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The civilian population began today to limit its consumption of meat voluntarily, so there would be enough for men in the armed services and for lend-lease shipments.

The voluntary plan, setting a maximum weekly consumption of 2½ pounds per person each week, will be in effect until official coupon rationing plans are inaugurated.

It was ordered by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, acting as chairman of the food requirements committee of the war production board.

Wickard said the voluntary ration would provide a fair sharing of the meat supply, which has already been limited for civilian consumption. The food requirements deliveries by packers during the remainder of the year.

For the final quarter of 1942, packers may deliver only 80 per cent of the beef and veal that they did in the final quarter of 1941. Other percentages were 95 per cent for lamb and mutton, and 75 per cent for pork.

ORDINARY CASE

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—Habit is killing a lot of Texas people.

A survey by state police statisticians showed that accidents involving trains and motor vehicles increased from 2.63 per cent of the total in the same period this year. This was an increase of 4.98 per cent of the total in the same period this year. This was an increase of 86 per cent.

And why were 58 persons killed in the last eight months?

It's because the victims—mostly farmers, truck drivers and tradesmen—have failed to realize that train schedules aren't what they used to be. They're people who used to know when the trains run, and they never bothered to look out for a train unless one was due.

But now troop and supply trains come whizzing by at all hours, and these people are being hit and killed by trains that weren't supposed to be there—according to their subconscious reckonings.

All 44 of the drivers were men; 40 of them lived in rural areas; and 38 lived near the scene of their particular accident. And 26 of the collisions occurred on country roads or in towns of less than 2,500 population.

MINORITY RACES

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 1.—Eleanor Roosevelt says that "other nations can believe in our sincerity only as we show them by example, not in lofty talk, how a democratic and Christian country deals with minority races."

POWERFUL, UNEXPECTED COUNTER-ATTACK THREATEN NAZIS' RIGHT FLANK AND CAUSED PANIC

MOSCOW, Oct. 1.—The Russians have seized the initiative south of Stalingrad, recaptured three villages, and today were reported driving Axis forces back in panic.

This powerful counter-attack now was threatening the enemy's right flank while a week-old counter-offensive against his left flank pressed slowly down between the Don and Volga Rivers above Stalingrad.

The Germans were counter attacking the threat above Stalingrad in frantic haste, but failed to take an important height wrested from them yesterday.

The Army organ Red Star, reporting that three villages had been seized south of Stalingrad, said the routed Axis forces were mostly Rumanians. The Soviet noon communique said only that "The enemy was dislodged from a village on the outskirts southwest of Stalingrad."

Front-line advices said that northwest of Stalingrad, where two German infantry divisions and 2 tank divisions had advanced slightly yesterday, pressure was a little more intense, but enemy progress was now insignificant.

A critical situation prevailed however in a workers' settlement in the northwestern part of Stalingrad, as well as in the central part of the city. The Nazis constantly hurled new forces into battle, thinking finally to gain the victory that had been denied them for 38 days, striving to make good on Adolf Hitler's promise that Stalingrad will be taken.

Nor was the danger of the general situation at Stalingrad minimized. The Army organ Red Star warned that the battle was in its most decisive phase, that the enemy had brought up large reinforcements in a final desperate bid to take the city.

47,305 KILLED

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Air raids during the first three years of the war killed 47,305 British civilians and injured 55,658 sufficiently to require hospital treatment, Home Security Minister Herbert Morrison told the House of Commons Thursday.

In the greater London area, he said, 20,110 were killed and 26,071 injured.

SEPT. ARMS OUTPUT SHY, SAYS NELSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production Board reported Thursday that munitions output in September still was "spotty," indicating the month's output of planes, tanks, ships and ordnance would not be closer to the goal than the August production record, which he has described as not a record "we can brag about."

"It was spotty again last month," Nelson said in response to a press conference question whether September had brought improvement in the manufacture of war implements.

BUY MORE WAR BONDS!

There is a great deal of talk at this time concerning proposals for enforced purchasing of War Bonds. Some such plan as this may become inevitable under any circumstances. And it is certain to be adopted in the relatively near future unless the people substantially increase their voluntary purchasing of Bonds and Stamps.

The treasury some time ago established a goal of $1,000,000,000 worth of Bond and Stamp sale monthly. That goal has not been reached. It must be reached and passed if the war is to be properly financed, and if excess purchasing power, the creator of inflation, is to be reduced.

American business has responded superbly to the War Savings challenge. The banks, for example, long ago started stressing War Bonds in their advertising and displays. They have done everything in their power to encourage the public to buy, and they have paid out of their own pocket the heavy promotion costs.

A similar work on a nationwide scale is being done by retailers. The chains were the first, and thousands of independent stores have joined in. Retailers are making special efforts to increase the sales of stamps as well as bonds, and they have been notably successful. A very high percentage of all War Savings are made through stores today. In their case, as with the banks, the participating stores are paying the expenses, and they are promoting stamps and bonds in the possible way.

The public has responded well to these drives—but not well enough. In these days of high wages are at record levels in the war centers and almost everywhere, a man or woman can quickly obtain a good job, all of us can afford to take all or part of a change in stamps when we shop in stores. All of us can afford to buy one or more bonds each pay day. Certainly, giving up some luxuries is a mighty small price to pay to help the war effort along. The duty of every American is to cut his personal expenses severely, and to put the money into war savings. Remember that next time you go to the bank or to a retail store featuring bonds and stamps.

VOTING

Harry L. Hopkins, the president's "alter ego," leads the National Inventors' Council that is not important whether Republicans or Democrats are in the coming election. "The important thing," he says, "is that we elect men to congress who will help to win this war."

If Mr. Hopkins and his politically-minded Washington friends will keep this in mind constantly, everything will be OK because that is what Americans in general are thinking. This is a less political controversy, and political posing and campaigning throughout the nation now than there has been at any similar time for a generation.

It is important to preserve the two-party system. So vital is this principle that, if there were danger of a minority party dying out, leaving a majority party in absolute control of the government, intelligent members of the dominant party itself should swing over to restore a healthy opposition. The demise of either party would be a tragedy for the other.

But there doesn't seem to be any danger of that. With everybody supporting the government now in its war job, it is safe for anybody to vote the ticket he prefers.

SECOND FRONT

Take a pack of cards and stand them up against each other. Touch a card at one end, and all are affected, even to the farthest card at the other end.

The war is like that. American attacks on the Japanese in the Pacific make them slow to attack Russia, and thus aid Hitler. It is once again the task of the British, trying to conquer Madagascar, and relieve German pressure on Nor-

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisons waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisons waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backache, rheumatism, pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or heavy passages with stinging and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

As one businessman to another We're talking facts, remember! Such as the fact that steel for every tank, ship, and gun must be made of 50 per cent scrap. And the terrible fact that America's mills are starving for this scrap—without enough on hand for even 30 days more production!

Which puts it up to you;

And you, as a businessman, have a double job to do. Clean out your home—and scour your place of business, factory, office or store... for every single bit of scrap.

And when you see the stockpile grow—for the mills to take when it's needed—be glad that you've done your part... that your work may have saved some boy from a needless death!
