Reynolds Family Asks Indictments Against Libby And Ab Be Dropped

TORCH SINGER MAY ESCAPE MURDER TRIAL

Uncle of Heir to Tobacco Fortune Asks Dismissal Of Charges

DOUBTS SUICIDE

Letter to State Solicitor Says Evidence Lacking To Support Charge

JEFFERSON, N. C., Oct. 18. (UP)—State's Attorney Carlisle Higgins, in a statement to the United Press tonight, said he was "undetermined" whether to move to quash the indictments against Libby Holman and Ab Walker, jointly indicted on charges of murder in the death o. Smith Reynolds, heir to the tobacco millions.

WINSTOM SALEM, N. C., Oct. 18. (UP)—The family of Smith Reynolds, young tobacco heir who was mysteriously shot and killed at his home here on July 6, today requested that murder charges against Libby Holman, Broadway bride of Reynolds, and Ab Walker, his lifelong friend and secretary, be dropped, if the state's attorney agreed with such action.

The position of the family was divulged today in a letter from W. N. Reynolds, titular head of the tobacco house, to Carlisle Higgins, state solicitor, which read as follows:

Doubts Suicide

"Ever since the death of my nephew, Smith Reynolds, I have been very much interested in and have given very careful and thoughtful attention to everything that I could learn about the tragic occurrence. Knowing Smith as I did, and realizing the many fine traits of character that he had, I am convinced that his attitude toward life was such that he would never have intentionally killed himself.

"Nothing that I have been able to learn about the case has been sufficient to change my mind in that respect.

"On the other hand, it is equally true, in my opinion, and in that of Smith's brothers and sisters, that the evidence fails to prove conclusively that Smith was murdered.

"I realize that the matter of handing these indictments is officially in your hands as the representative of the state and that no individual has or ought to have anything to do with the question of whether or not the cases are prosecuted or dropped.

Comment and Speculation

"But there has been a great deal of comment and speculation as to what the attitude of Smith's family is toward these cases. With that fact in mind, I am taking the liberty of writing you this letter by way of disclosing that attitude and of saying to you that if in the discharge of your further official duties with respect to these cases you come to the conclusion that it is right and fair and in the public interest that the cases be dropped, then that action on your part will

'Beer College' Opens Term With 19 Alert Students Hearing Lecture

Veteran Brewers Brush Up on Trade With View to Making Most of Expected Repeal of Volstead Law

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (UP)—Chicago's "beer college" threw open its doors today after being closed 16 years. An alert class of 19 students, who believe the home brew era is about over, settled down to study brewing from yeast to foam.

First lecture classes met in a vacant drug store at 2374 Lincoln avenue, above which are the offices of the Wahl-Henius institute, conductors of the school. From lectures, delivered in sonorous English with a gutteral German tang, the class went around the corner, up some stairs and into a laboratory where the students watched barley grow and yeast plants sprout.

Students All Brewers

All the students are brewers, engaged now in making near beer and similar products. When they finish the five months course at the beer college, at a tuition cost of $500, they will be master brewers.

There are eight "professors" on the faculty, headed by Director Max Henius and Dean F. M. Dupont. Dean Dupont lectured today on "brewing as a science," while the students, ranging in age from 25 to 55, and coming from seven different states and from Canada, sat at their desks taking notes like school boys. Dean Dupont poked fun at the home brewers.

Recipes "Backward"

"Brewing has been a home industry during the period of prohibition," he said. "The recipes which have been followed have been at times based on exactly the opposite principle from that which should be followed by a real brewer."

"People have the idea that Europeans make better beer than Americans, but that's wrong," said the dean. "Before prohibition, American brewers made beer that couldn't be matched anywhere. It had stability. The foam was just right. When the cold white foam touched the roof of one's mouth, tickling just a little, that was mighty fine beer already."

OIL OPERATOR HURT IN FALL

C. A. Vasser of Burk In Hospital Here

C. A. Vasser, 42, of Burkburnett suffered a sever fracture of the skull at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when he fell from oil derrick machinery, striking his head on a tractor wheel. He was given emergency treatment at the Burkburnett hospital and transferred to the Wichita General hospital at 9:20 o'clock Tuesday night. He was injured in an oil field accident near Burkburnett.

Mr. Vasser had not regained consciousness at a late hour Tuesday night and attendants at the hospital declared his condition critical. Mr. Vasser is an independent operator in the Burkburnett field but was assisting in preparations to pull casing at a well on the Meridian lease, located on the Van Cleave farm one mile east of Burkburnett.

The injured man fell a distance of about six feet after losing his balance. He struck the gasoline tank of the tractor on his back and then fell to the ground, his head striking a cleat on a wheel.

Mr. Vasser has been active as an independent producer in the area for about 12 years. His wife and two children were at his bedside at the hospital late Tuesday night.

Carrie Nation's Aide Condemns Dry Law

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 18. (INS)—Mrs. Myra McHenry, prohibition leader in Kansas and the nation for several decades, and lieutenant of Carrie Nation during the latter's saloon-smashing days, today declared the eighteenth amendment to be a failure and urged its repeal.

"The government has made a mess of fighting demon rum and I am convinced that state laws are most effective in enforcing prohibition."

Mrs. McHenry, who now is 83 years old, said she would take the stump throughout Kansas and urge repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

WINTRY BLAST BRINGS FREEZE TO SIX STATES

Snow and Heavy Rain Fall As Temperatures Drop To Freezing

COLD TO CONTINUE

Nebraska, Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, Wyoming, Montana Affected

DENVER, Oct. 18. (AP)—Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, Montana, Nebraska and Wyoming felt the sting of winter today.

The entire southern portion of Wyoming was shrouded in a heavy impenetrable fog that crippled air transportation. Snow and freezing temperatures were general in Wyoming. The first snow of the season fell at Santa Fe, N. M., today and there was a light snow flurry in Denver this afternoon.

Transcontinental air traffic was halted in Wyoming, the ships being ordered grounded at Salt Lake City and Rock Springs.

Heavy Rains Fall

Central and Northeastern Wyoming was visited by heavy precipitation last night and snow blew into that section today. There were nine inches of snow at Sheridan and Lander this morning and a heavy fall swept over the Yellowstone region.

At Miles City, Mont., the snow depth had reached five inches this morning.

Coldest temperatures of the day were recorded at Sheridan, with 24 above zero, and 26 at Lander.

Cold weather will continue tomorrow in New Mexico, the United States weather bureau said.

The west and central sections of Nebraska were hit by snow and a rain that turned quickly to snow, visited the eastern section of that state. There was six inches of snow at Cedar City, Utah.

COLDER WEATHER PROMISED HERE

Wichita Falls' Indian summer weather of the past few days was scheduled to end early Wednesday with a drop in temperature. The mercury reached a maximum of 94 degrees Tuesday afternoon but at 5 o'clock the barometer had dropped to 28.69 with the temperature at 90 degrees.

A cold north wind struck Forgan, Okla., at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, sending the mercury to 40 degrees, reports received by the M-K-T railway dispatcher here said. A local forecast posted by the Texas Electric Service company weather bureau announced cloudy skies for Wednesday with possible rain and colder temperatures Wednesday for Wichita Falls.

The mercury dropped to a low of 63 degrees early Tuesday morning. Skies continued clear for the fourth consecutive day in Wichita Falls and at 5 o'clock in the afternoon a southeast breeze was recorded with a maximum velocity of 12 miles per hour. Early Tuesday afternoon counter breezes sent gusts of sand through the city.

East Texas Producers Enjoined by Court

TYLER, Texas, Oct. 18. (AP)—Judge R. H. Brown granted in district court at Henderson today further writs enjoining alleged overproduction of oil in Rusk county.

The suits were filed by Willis E. Gresham, special assistant attorney general, and were based on information obtained by the oil investigation section of the state railroad commission.

One suit against Harry H. Holden and E. E. Van Eman charged overproduction of 246 barrels Oct. 10. Two suits were filed against Nat Wissman and the Wissman Oil corporation, one charging overproduction of 2,450 barrels from Aug. 3 to Aug. 31, and the other alleging excess production of 463 barrels beginning Sept. 12.

Auto Executive Blames Tariff for Depression

DETROIT, Oct. 18. (INS)—The high tariff was blamed for the depression in the automotive industry in a letter from Edgar W. Smith, assistant to the president of General Motors Export company, released today by Democratic campaign headquarters here.

The letter revealed that Chevrolet exports have dropped from 17.7 per cent of its business in 1929 to 4.9 per cent this year; Buick from 10.2 to .04 per cent and Oldsmobile from 4.3 of all factory sales to .03 per cent.

"One of the principal factors responsible for this decline in exports of our products from United States sources, has to do with the tariff situation," the letter said.

Bandit Takes $44 In Gas Station Holdup

A lone bandit took $44 in a raid on the American Refining properties filling station No. 6 at Eleventh and Holliday at 10:05 o'clock Tuesday night. The thief approached Operator J. H. Brotherton with drawn pistol as he was transferring receipts from the cash register to the safe.

Mr. Brotherton was ordered not to look at the man, who had a cap pulled low on his forehead. The hijacker forced Mr. Brotherton to walk ahead of him west on Eleventh to an alley where he was released. Police Chief Dick Morris accompained officers to the station for an investigation.

Virginia Flood Isolates Negroes and White Man

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 18. (AP)—Swinging through tree tops, one negro reached safety this morning, leaving three others and a white man on a small island threatened with inundation by the rising waters of James river here.

Police and volunteer rescue workers this afternoon continued efforts to bring ashore the quartet which huddled around a driftwood fire in the midst of swirling waters. Reports of conditions farther up the river indicated their perch will be flooded by nightfall.

Poem-Penning Pastor's Lawyers Withdraw Alleged Suicide Note

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 18. (UP)—Attorneys defending the Rev. S. A. Berrie against charges that he poisoned his first wife to marry a young, petite Sunday school teacher, tonight announced they would withdraw as court evidence a suicide note allegedly written by Mrs. Fannie Berrie before her death.

The state charges Berrie, 52-year-old handsome minister gave his wife strychnine poisoning so he could marry 19-year-old Ida Bess Bright.

Up until tonight, defense attorneys had planned to introduce as testimony a note, assertedly written by Mrs. Berrie in which she declared that she was "tired of life."

The attorneys withdrew the note when Judge W. J. Crump questioned them as to their defense plans after they had objected to having four relatives of the first Mrs. Berrie attempt to identify handwriting on a photostatic copy of the note.

The note first came to light six weeks ago when the dead woman's Bible was taken to Rev. Berrie in his jail cell. The minister claimed

Norris Bares Hoover's Record On Labor As Roosevelt Tours

SENATOR AIRS JOB BARTERING

President's Stand on Anti-Injunction Bill Ripped

CLEVELAND, Oct. 18. (AP)—Senator George W. Norris called upon labor tonight to oppose the re-election of President Hoover in an address which vigorously criticized "unrelenting administration opposition" to the Norris anti-injunction bill and accused the "Republican machine" of falsely claiming for the chief executive credit for its enactment.

Second Address

The Independent Republican senator from Nebraska was making his second address in behalf of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic nominee for the presidency.

"If President Hoover at any time during this fight had wanted to pass this legislation so he could honestly claim credit for its enactment into law," said Senator Norris, "one hint from the White House and the fight would have been ended."

The senator, who bolted the Hoover candidacy in 1928 to support Alfred E. Smith, also charged that Secretary of Labor Doak in a conference with Donald Richberg, counsel for labor interests in committee hearings on the legislation, had "suggested he might be able to exert a great deal of influence," to obtain for Richberg a federal judgeship.

Tells of "Promise"

"Now let us see this picture," said Senator Norris. "Let us get into all its hideousness:

"Mr. Doak informed Mr. Richberg that he was acting on behalf and at the suggestion of the president of the United States and it was deemed necessary for Mr. Richberg to come to Washington to give some important assistance.

"When he met the secretary, Richberg was informed that the president was worried over the pos-

Boy's 'Lung Infection' Proves to Be Rivet

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 18. (AP)—The lung "infection" affecting 12-year-old William Harvey Short of Smackover, Ark., for six years had turned out to be a copper rivet. He was recovering in a hospital here from the operation that removed the rivet.

A delegation of physicians from Houston, Texas, on their way to a meeting of the American College of Surgeons at St. Louis, witnessed the operation and left with the rivet which will be the subject of a discussion of the convention.

William swallowed it at play, but his parents doubted his story. Months later, physicians were called and malaria treatments were given. X-ray pictures revealed an abscess on the lung and the boy's father was urged to take him west.

Two weeks ago his condition grew worse and hope for his recovery faded.

It was decided to bring him to Little Rock. A new X-ray picture disclosed the rivet.

San Angelo Woman Trys To Break Will of Uncle

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18. (AP)—An action brought by Mrs. Helen McCollister Thompson, formerly of San Angelo, Texas, and now of Chicago, and Archie Thomas McCollister, of San Angelo, to break the will of the late Thomas McCollister, their uncle, was heard by a jury in Superior Judge Timothy L. Fitzpatrick's court here today.

McCollister died last February at the age of 84, leaving the bulk of his $45,000 estate to Jane E. Butts of Burlingame, a business associate.

The contestants charge that their uncle was of unsound mind when he made his will in 1929, omitting them as legatees.

Hoover Devotes His Entire Day To Detroit Talk

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—President Hoover today devoted virtually all his working hours to plans and preparations for his next major re-election speech for next Saturday night at Detroit.

A schedule for the trip to Michigan was stamped with tentative presidential approval. It called for as many as eight appearances in West Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio cities before reaching Detroit.

The president plans tentatively to leave the national capital Friday night, with his first stop at Charleston, W. Va., the next morning.

After leaving West Virginia, the president probably will stop at Ashland, Ky., before continuing to Columbus, Delaware, Marion, Carey, Upper Sandusky, Fostoria and Toledo, all in Ohio.

STIMSON CALLS F. D. 'RECKLESS'

Secretary of State Flays Demo Candidates

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—Secretary Stimson told the National Republican club tonight that Franklin D. Roosevelt by an "incredibly reckless irresponsibility" had delayed economic recovery.

The secretary of state said Roosevelt had "dealt a blow" at recovery by an attack on President Hoover's economic measures and the reconstruction corporation in his speech on "the forgotten man."

Turning to the vice presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket Stimson said President Hoover did not have Speaker Garner's "willing support" in balancing the budget. He added that the activities of the house "set back the cause of recovery at the most critical period of last spring."

Roosevelt, Stimson said, "has told us of King James' ferry boats and Alice in Wonderland and Humpty Dumpty, but upon specific questions upon which more than anything else the economic recovery of this nation depends he has said nothing."

Roosevelt has remained silent on the bonus, he said, when "every day of silence was a blow to the credit of his government and the restoration of business."

DEMO CHEERED IN ROCHESTER

Most of Address Hinges On State Issues

ABOARD ROOSEVELT SPECIAL, Oct. 18. (AP)—Turning from a tumultous welcome today at Rochester where he urged several thousand persons to support the state Democratic ticket in November, Franklin D. Roosevelt moved to Buffalo to raise his voice again in behalf of the state ticket before crossing into Pennsylvania to carry his presidential fight into the farm belt again.

In his first speech of his second major campaign trip, the Democratic candidate devoted virtually all of his attention to telling Rochester citizens what he considered the Democratic party had achieved in the state during the last four years.

Echoing Applause

As he appeared on the platform in the same hall where he was nominated for the governorship in 1928, Mr. Roosevelt had to wait while the structure echoed with applause for several minutes.

As he began his speech, Governor Roosevelt referred several times to Alfred E. Smith—once as "my old friend Al Smith"—and each time it brought resounding cheers.

The governor related the various measures he said the Democrats had been responsible for enacting —naming the workmen's compensation law, park, highway, water power and other social legislation.

"Al Smith," he said, "would still be governor of New York if we hadn't decided to run him for the presidency. But we did, and we did our best to elect him."

Aid "Forgotten Man"

Mr. Roosevelt said that William J. Donovan, the Republican nominee for governor, had ridiculed the "forgotten man." Much of the legislation that he cited, he said, had

Orville Wright has been invited to attend the exercises, which will be under the direction of a commission composed of Secretary Hurley, Secretary Adams and Secretary Chapin.

County Judges Hear Plight of Railroads

GALVESTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—Claude Pollard, former attorney general of Texas, told delegates to the annual convention of county judges and commissioners today that railroads were confronted with a serious problem because of truck competition and that an immediate solution of the transportation problem was needed.

Pollard, now a representative of the Railway General Managers association, spoke in place of Gen. John A. Hulen, president of that association, who was unable to appear.

Commissioner J. A. Boddeker of Galveston county, who also is a member of the state blind commission, urged better education for the adult blind in the state.

CONSERVATION BOARD ISSUES YEARLY REPORT

Petroleum Shows Signs Of First to Emerge From World Depression

CONTROL EAST TEXAS

Rising Prices for Crude Increase Purchasing Power of Industry

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—President Hoover was told today by the federal oil conservation board that the American oil industry "gives indications of being the first basic industry to emerge from the world depression."

The board coupled with this expression in its annual report to the chief executive a warning to the petroleum world that continued stability will depend largely on the situation in the east Texas area" and urged a strengthening of control and conservation measures through joint interstate and federal efforts.

Prices Double

After reciting that crude oil prices at the end of the first six months of 1932 were twice the levels of a year ago and five times the 1931 lows, the board continued:

"The effects of the industry's rising purchasing power are beginning to be felt.

"East Texas was for many months the greatest potential asset and the greatest current liability of the oil industry. The behavior of this area during the autumn of 1932 and the succeeding winter will be a major factor in the industry's rise or recession.

"The permanency of the present improvement will therefore depend largely on whether the state cooperation manifested in the production compact of September, 1931, and in the creation of the oil states' advisory committee, is continued to a permanent basis through an interstate compact, or is relaxed as conditions improve.

Control Needed

"Unless satisfactory machinery for stabilizing the production branch is adopted, no improvement in refining and marketing practices will be wholly effective; but if constructive tendencies on the production side are made permanent, corresponding improvement in the other branches may be expected to follow."

In a section of its report dealing with balancing supply and demand, the board said:

"Both the immediate potential supply of crude oil and the quantity recoverable over a period of years are dependent upon a factor which no state has found means to effectively control, and which stimulates production without direct relationship to the demand for oil—the system of offset drilling necessitated by the prevalent doctrines of ownership.

Authority Untested

"The state's authority to control this basic factor, drilling, is largely untested except for some successful efforts to control spacing of wells. No state has endeavored to declare an oil pol to be a unit and to require the development of it as a unit for the common protection of all owners.

"In the main, efforts of the states to effect stabilization have commenced with the production phase and have left the development phase relatively untouched.

"There has been increasing recognitionthat the states can solve the problem if they act together, and that an interstate agreement for coordination of production programs with joint estimates of demand, coupled with federal control over imports, is an effective method."

The report, touching on exploration of fields, said:

"Drilling should be undertaken only to supply a demand for oil or gas for present consumption and to maintain an adequate reserve for future use. Laws which compel a contrary result through offset drilling are out of harmony with the facts.

"The tendency of some leaders of the petroleum industry toward unitization and the enactment of federal and state laws authorizing such plans of development are signs of an enlightened understanding of the problems facing the industry today."

The problem of devising a proper

Wichita Valley Producing Nation's Finest Vegetables, Dealer Declares

Marketing problems of the Wichita valley, with a view of assisting newly established tenants in this section, were discussed at a called meeting of the Wichita Valley Development association Tuesday afternoon. The next regular meeting of the group will be Nov. 8.

George Keith of the Wichita Produce company spoke at the meeting on the necessity of proper packing and production of quality produce in obtaining a market. Mr. Keith pointed out that produce trucks from Amarillo and other points in the Northwestern Texas Panhandle are making regular runs to Wichita Falls to secure irrigated valley produce. This market can be built up and improved if an assured source of products is provided, he said.

Growers in the irrigated valley are making a mistake in placing their products on a foreign market. Cooperation with produce dealers in Wichita Falls would provide

Democrats And Socialists Assail Ford For 'Intimidating' Workers

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (UP)—A storm of Democratic and Socialist protest today greeted the action of Henry Ford, automobile manufacturer, in placing bulletins in his plants advocating the re-election of President Hoover.

Leaders opposed to the president united in describing the posting of bulletins as "intimidation" of workers in the huge Ford plants.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, issued a statement declaring that "for a long time we anticipated that this would be a last frantic move of the Republican leaders."

A statement issued from the office of Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for president, declared that:

"The 'cracking down' process, which began a week ago with a report that a New York bank had told its employes to vote for Hoover, is continued and given powerful impetus by Ford's cynical statement. . . . This is the coercion and terrorism which Socialists have learned to expect from past experience."

certainly have no criticism from me or from the other members of Smith's family. In fact, I think that, under the circumstances, all of us would be quite happy if it should be your decision to drop the cases. Distressed as we all are over Smith's unfortunate death, none of us can find any pleasure in a prosecution that was not fully sustained by the circumstances of his death.

"I am taking the liberty of sending a copy of this letter to Judge Stack for his confirmation.

"With personal regards and best wishes, I am,

"Yours very truly,

"W. N. Reynolds."

The above letter was given to the press by B. S. Womble of the Winston-Salem legal firm of Manley, Hendron and Womble, attorneys retained in the case by the Reynolds family.

Evidence Lacking

Attorney Womble issued the following statement in conjunction with Reynolds' letter:

"Something like two months ago we were retained by members of the family of Smith Reynolds to investigate the circumstances surrounding his death with the view of advising with members of his family as to their joining with the state in the prosecution of the pending indictments.

"This matter has received very careful and thorough attention with the result that we have been unable to discover evidence which in our opinion would justify us in advising the family to join in the prosecution of the indictment, and we have so informed members of the family."

The above statement was captioned:

"Statement of W. M. Hendren and B. S. Womble of the law firm of Manley, Hendren and Womble."

Died at Gay Party

Young Reynolds, play-boy heir to an estate estimated at $15,000,000 held in trust for him in a Baltimore bank, met, wooed and won the beautiful Broadway "torch singer" only a year ago. He was deeply interested in aviation, and spent many hours with his plane. He frequently entertained on a semi-lavish scale at Reynolda, seat of the family here.

On the night of July 5 there was a gay party at Reynolds, at which, evidence at a coroner's inquest disclosed, considerable liquor was available. Smith was represented as having retired after the party, ahead of his wife, who, witnesses said, had been swimming in a private pool of the estate with Walker, a guest at the party.

What occurred at the time of Smith's death never was divulged. Miss Holman, professing the deepest love for him, told the coroner's jury she had suffered a lapse of memory for several days, recovering it "in a flash" at the time Smith was shot.

With his death, there arose a question as to disposal of his estate, which he would not have inherited under the terms of his father's will until he attained the age of 28. It was interpreted, however, that Miss Holman would not receive a penny of the millions, that her unborn child similarly would not share in the estate, but that Smith's daughter by a previous marriage, would be entitled to a share.

In a statement the signers pledged their support to Roosevelt and Garner, but asserted Mrs. Miriam A. DALLAS, Oct. 18. (AP)—M. H. Cahill of St. Louis, chairman of the board and president of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas lines, said here today that for the first time in 160 weeks, revenue freight cars handled by the M-K-T lines last week exceeded the total for the corresponding week of last year.

"The number of cars loaded and received from connections for the week ending Oct. 15," Cahill said, "was 8,659, as with 8,393, for the same period of 1931. It was the first time since the first week in September, 1929, that weekly revenue freight figures have been greater than those for the same week of the preceding year.

"In common with other southwestern lines, our loading figures have been showing a downward trend since September, 1929, as compared with the preceding year. There has been an upward trend since late in July, but not until recently have the totals been approaching those of last year.

"An indication that the upward business trend is gaining momentum in the Southwest may be found in the fact that the Katy's daily average of loadings and receipts from connections is 1,413 for the first two weeks of October, as compared with a daily average of 1,497 for the same period last year."

A record number of passengers was carried by Imperial Airways across the English channel in June, 4,311 persons being flown.

Poultryman Sets Trap For Rats—Catches Everything Else

KINSTON, N. C., Oct. 18. (AP)—The troubles of Malachi Berry—so far as rats killing his chickens are concerned—are over.

Rats threatened to exterminate the flock so Berry set a trap. On successive nights he caught:

The family cat.
A stray dog.
A neighbor's cat.
A goose out after hours.
The neighbor's cat again.

Berry threw the trap in a corner of the barn and the next night rats killed the rest of his chickens.

HITCHHIKER HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

Healdton, Okla., Man Near Death at Vernon

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 18.—A hitchhiker was near death in a hospital here tonight after he had been struck by an automobile on highway 5, seven miles east of Vernon late this afternoon.

The man, W. A. Ashford, 50, of Healdton, Okla., is suffering from compound fractures of both legs, broken arm, and contusions on the face. The legs were broken just below the knee, and physicians fear amputation of both will be necessary. The arm is broken at the wrist.

Miss Anthes Gladden, residing near Harrold, was the driver of the car that struck Ashford. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Larue Gladden. The man was walking on the highway when a truck stopped to give him a ride. Ashford was said to have dashed across the highway and into the path of the oncoming passenger car.

The man was brought to the hospital here by a passing motorist. He was en route to Vernon from Healdton in search of work. He resided in Vernon during 1910 and in 1920. At those times he was employed by a compress and by railroads.

an improved agency of marketing, it was stated.

Mr. Keith declared the irrigated valley is producing the best carrots, turnips and other types of vegetables in the world, and the valley offers excellent tomatoes, snap beans and cucumbers. Possibility of an onion crop also was discussed. A plan of shipping valley produce in mixed cars also was considered at the meeting.

The association directors favor plans for securing additional Swedish and Bohemian farmers on a rental basis until it is seen if they are adapted to this section.

S. P. Otto attended the meeting and discussed cooperative dairying. He explained the system in use in several communities. Mr. Otto and Joe Meurer, field manager, were requested by President B. B. Greever to further investigate the milk situation in the valley with a view to calling a meeting of producers. It was pointed out that a scarcity of milk now exists on the local market.

H. A. Gray was named chairman of a committee to go ahead with plans for a public market in line with the auction sales held last winter at Call field. The association plans to conduct the public market downtown this season. Other members of the committee are Mr. Meurer, County Agent G. C. McGown, Mr. Otto and Darrold Kahn.

Illicit Affair Charged To Rev. Berrie and Bride

to have found it concealed in the pages of the book.

County Attorney Phillip Oldham, in his opening charge to the jury of 11 business men and one farmer, said this afternoon that he intended to prove the note a forgery. Mrs. Berrie's relatives, two brothers, a sister and a sister-in-law, emphatically denied that the handwriting was that of the dead woman, he declared.

The afternoon session ended with Oldham seeking to impeach the testimony of his fifth state witness, Mrs. Ruth Berrie, the defendant's daughter-in-law. Oldham questioned Mrs. Berrie 15 minutes and M. D. Hartsell, defense attorney, cross-examined her for more than an hour regarding the first Mrs. Berrie's physical symptoms just before she died.

Oldham's opening statement to the jury charged the minister and his young wife with illicit relations before the preacher's wife had died. Before he spoke, he suggested that all women leave the courtroom.

One woman left, threading her way through the crowd of 400 spectators that jammed the small room.

"An examination of the body of the first Mrs. Berrie after she had collapsed at church and died last March 21, disclosed strychnine poisoning," Oldham asserted. "The state will show that, months before this alleged poison death, the Rev. Berrie and this young Ida Bess Bright had carried on an illicit affair."

Berrie, a handsome man who dyed his hair black to cover up greyness about his temples, secretly married the young girl shortly after his wife's death. He was arrested and indicted after the first Mrs. Berrie's sister had the body exhumed and an autopsy performed.

The prosecutor read four love verses the minister assertedly penned to the young girl before Mrs. Berrie's death.

"Berrie's young bride admitted intimacies with this preacher months before Mrs. Fannie Berrie died," Oldham said. "When questioned by Police Chief John Wilsey, Berrie made similar admissions."

The announcement of Defense Attorney M. D. Hartsell that Berrie would testify in his own defense brought from Oldham a warning to the jurors "to question the dependability of the minister's testimony."

The prosecutor charged the defendant's statements to police after his arrest as "containing several discrepancies."

"When first arrested and advised of the post mortem, he said he never had met Ida Bess Bright outside of regular church work," Oldham said. "And he was married to her."

The defense, Hartsell said, would base its case on the contention that Mrs. Berrie committed suicide. A purported suicide note, found in the Berrie family Bible, will be introduced into court. The note was discovered by the pastor himself while he was in jail, writing church hymns to provide funds for his defense.

Thirty-four defense witnesses will be introduced in an attempt to prove Mrs. Berrie's death either was a suicide or resulted from an overdose of sedative tablets.

Roosevelt Opens Second Big Tour

been enacted for the benefit of "the forgotten man."

One by one Mr. Roosevelt took up the major phases of the legislative program he said had been enacted under his direction as governor.

"Who is responsible for our old age pensions?" he asked.

"This old bolshevik, Roosevelt," he answered his own question.

"How do you stand on the bonus now?" a man shouted from the gallery a moment later. The governor took no notice of the interruption.

Waterway Issue

He assailed the stand he said the Republicans in the state had taken on the St. Lawrence waterway.

"You've got three weeks in which to think these things over," he said. "Go out and ask the Republican candidate for governor how he stands on the St. Lawrence waterways question."

"You can't take a man just because he has a good war record and expect him to be a good governor," he said, referring to Donovan.

"Hoover had that," interjected a man sitting in the balcony.

Roosevelt praised Lieut. Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, saying he was well qualified for the governorship, and called for his election.

Unemployment Problem

Turning to the unemployment problem, Mr. Roosevelt said it was a threefold one—national, state and local. He said it was the duty of each successive unit to step in when a smaller one was unable to care for its own needy. Under the Democratic program in New York, he said, the state had gone farther toward meeting the problem than any other state.

In conclusion, he said that "When I go down to Washington I propose to start something new.

"I'm going to ask the governors to come down to Washington and talk things over," he said.

Mr. Roosevelt said he had never been asked by the present administration in Washington for his opinion on any state matter.

One-third of Ohio farm land is mortgaged, it is estimated.

Catarrhal Deafness May Be Overcome

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels, you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost.

Secure from Allison's Drug Store or your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (double strength). Take this home and add ½ pint hot water and a little sugar. One tablespoonful four times a day should quickly relieve distressing catarrhal head noises, clogged nostrils, difficult breathing and dropping mucous, and improve hearing. All victims of catarrhal deafness or head noises should give Parmint a trial.—Adv.

Group Solicitations To Launch Community Chest Drive Thursday

The initial local activity in the 1932 Community chest drive will be launched Thursday morning by keymen of industrial Wichita Falls in the group solicitation division. Seventy chest officials, division majors, keymen and firm representatives attended a dinner Tuesday night at the Wichita club when final plans for the group campaign were completed.

J. S. Hargett is colonel of the division and presided at the meeting. Courtland Yount, chest bureau representative, closed the meeting with a detailed explanation of campaign mechanics. Materials were distributed at the dinner and campaign facts and information issued the workers.

Harry Hines and Walter D. Cline were principal speakers at the meeting. Mr. Hines declared the interest shown by workers attending the dinner indicated a determination to put over the 1932 program. The challenge of the relief emergency for the approaching season offers a real opportunity for charity, he said.

"It is part of the responsibility of the 'ob holder to assist in the relief of the unemployed. The contribution asked for the 1932 chest is small on a basis of this responsibility," Mr. Hines said. A minimum contribution of one per cent of salary is the goal sought for the campaign. "We have the power and weight of worthy agency behind us and we must go forward to the goal," he said.

"The attendance of workers at this meeting is the largest number present for any group solicitation division gathering in the history of the chest in Wichita Falls," Mr. Cline said. "I am confident that we as citizens of Wichita Falls, are conscious of the emergency facing us and will see it through," he added.

Mr. Cline pointed out that Wichita Falls holds the best record of any city in the south participating in the unified relief program of the chest. This city has the lowest campaign cost record, lowest per capita cost and lowest distribution cost in southern cities.

OIL INDUSTRY LEADS UPTURN

Conservation Board Makes Report to Hoover

method of controlling drilling, the report said, "is the most critical one facing the oil producing states," adding the need for coordinated exploration and development programs was "essential" to conserve resources.

Reviewing steps toward interstate cooperation, the board held that proration among the states so far "remains relatively untouched." It said the authority of each state stopped at its own borders and repeated previous recommendations for compacts correlating states' police powers to govern the domestic flow. Such compacts would provide for an interstate-federal cooperative agency to work for uniformity in conservation steps.

Recommends Tax Laws

The board recommended uniform gasoline tax laws, explaining this did not mean a uniform rate of tax, contending existing rates "are resulting in diminishing returns of tax money." It set forth as five major requirements of a uniform tax law:

The rate should not be unduly high; the incidence of the tax should be uniform, with no exemptions for material actually used as motor fuel; definition of the material subject to the tax should be broad; funds from the tax should not be diverted to uses other than for the benefit of motor vehicles; prompt payment of tax collections to the state. It added:

"A properly written uniform gasoline tax law, thoroughly enforced, will do much to abate present conditions which are contrary to the best interests of the industry, the public, and the state, and which in some areas are becoming almost intolerable."

The board recommended modification of the antitrust laws to aid the refining branch of the industry, but said this question should be "regarded as open to future decision." It concluded:

"There is room for greater coordination under existing statutes."

Senator Norris Airs 'Bartering'

sibility that the anti-injunction bill might be pressed for passage in that session and he was anxious to see whether some compromise might not be worked out.

Richberg Demurs

"Mr. Richberg demurred when he found he was called to Washington to hold a conference with Attorney Emery (counsel for opponents to the act). He felt it would be useless to attempt any compromise with the man who so bitterly opposed the bill and who represented corporations which had always opposed that kind of legislation.

"Mr. Richberg informs me that when he was talking about this legislation with the secretary, Secretary Doak asked Mr. Richberg whether he would not like to be appointed to the federal judiciary and suggested he might be able to exert a great deal of influence in that direction.

"No pledge was made, of course. No direct promise was made, but while they were discussing the anti-injunction bill and while Mr. Doak, at the president's request, was trying to get some kind of compromise, this representative of the president of the United States suddenly flashed upon the scene a life tenure office upon the federal judiciary."

The senator's address was devoted entirely to a discussion of the legislation he introduced, and its enactment. The anti-injunction bill passed in the last session of congress, curbs the power of courts in issuing injunctions in labor disputes, outlaws the "yellow dog" contract forbidding employes to join unions; and provides for a trial by jury in contempt cases not occurring in court.

Sunset News

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, Oct. 18.—An interesting song service here Sunday afternoon was attended by visiting singers from Bowie, Alvord, Chico, Park Springs, Turkey Creek and a number of other classes and communities.

Rev. H. H. Henry of Wichita Falls occupied the pulpit at the Park Springs Baptist church, five miles west of Sunset, Sunday morning and evening.

School opened at Smyrna, two miles northeast of Sunset, Monday morning with a goodly number of pupils in attendance. Mrs. Lois Hall and Miss Lola Smith were present to assume their duties as teachers of the school. Mrs. Hall is beginning her fourth successive year as teacher at this place and Miss Smith is beginning her first year. Smyrna is a small school but is classed among the best rural schools in Montague county. It has been a one-teacher school for several years, but an increase in the number of pupils in the district during the past year has been sufficient to justify the employment of two teachers for the present term.

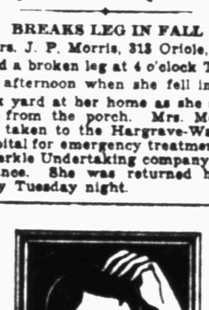
Two couples of young people of Denver community, north of Sunset, were recently married at Davidson, Okla., by the pastor of the First Baptist church of that place. They are Baylor Jackson and Miss Bill Burrows and Hoyt Winton and Miss Nora Messer. They will all reside at Wellington, Texas.

Wilbur Johnson, 86, has been seriously ill for more than two weeks, at his home in Sunset. Mr. Johnson is a civil war veteran.

Wilse Anderson, 84, is visiting in Alvord. He has spent most of his time in Sunset for three years, but is a pioneer resident of Wise county, having located in Wise county in the early days of the settlement of this country.

Barney Kelly of Birmingham, Ala., visited here last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Jackson.

Abner Shoemaker and family from Vashti visited relatives in this city Sunday. They formerly resided in Pleasant Ridge community, north of Sunset.



Scalp Itch?

Let Mrs. W. A. Blackburn, of East Providence, R. I., tell you how she ended dreadful scalp itch.

"I was always troubled with a dry, itching scalp so I decided to see whether JAPANESE OIL would also help me. It certainly did; after 2 weeks I was no longer tortured with that dreadful scalp itch."

One application of JAPANESE OIL, the antiseptic liniment, seldom fails to relieve itching. A few more applications each night before retiring removes all dandruff. Then use it twice a week to keep your scalp clean, stop falling hair and promote strong, healthy hair growth.

JAPANESE OIL, the antiseptic medicine for the hair and scalp, costs $1 at any Rexall Drug Store or other good druggists.—Adv.

Tokay Wine Festival Under Way in Hungary

TOKAY, Hungary, Oct. 18. (AP)—The historic Tokay wine harvest festival was in full swing in villages of this region today.

Growers of the famous Tokay wines, which legend relates "make the dumb speak and even the diplomats tell the truth," have been scraping depths of an unprecedented depression for more than a year. But the word has passed around that wine imports into the United States may be permitted soon and this has inspired great enthusiasm in this week's celebration.

In some places wine has been literally cheaper than water, with fire departments using barrels of it carelessly for extinguishing blazes where water is scarce.

Young County Farmer Saves Land by Terracing

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, Oct. 17.—C. C. Calvin, a Young county farmer living near Markley, says that terracing saved his farm from ruin. With the aid of a county agent, he terraced his entire farm in 1917.

"Since that time," he said, "my farm has continued to produce good crops, comparatively, every year." Then he pointed to a field across from his farm that had been turned out for six years because of poor production. "Needle grass and burrs are all that has grown on that field in that time, while my farm is producing and does not have a ditch or wash on it." Terracing, he said, meant the difference to him.

Nearly 500 brands of tobacco are now being grown in the British empire.

How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedeke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at Allison's Drug store or any drug store in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back.

But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.—Adv.

Kill that COLD before it takes root!

Danger Lies In Letting a Cold Settle in the System!

Get at It Quick, from the Inside!

Never neglect a cold. Even a "slight" cold may be the start of something serious. Treat a cold quickly and treat it thoroughly. Don't fool yourself with half-way measures. A half-cured cold is a cold never cured.

A cold calls for a COLD remedy! Preparations good for half a dozen things besides cold can't be as effective as a cold calls for. Many popular remedies often only make the cold worse because they are constipating and also make the system acid.

A cold calls for internal treatment. A cold is an internal infection and only internal medication will reach it. Local, or external applications are only surface treatments and can't reach the root of the trouble or prevent the infection from spreading within the system.

The 4 Things Necessary

Ask your doctor and he will tell you, the wisest thing you can do when you feel a cold or grippe coming on is to take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. This is the treatment a cold calls for. It is direct, internal and complete. It does the several things necessary. First of all, it opens the bowels, a vital step in expelling a cold. Second, it kills the cold germs in the system, drives out the poisonous infection and reduces the fever. Third, it relieves the headache. Fourth, it tones the entire system and fortifies it against further attack.

This is the treatment wherein lies real relief—and SAFETY! Anything less is inviting serious complications.

Relief with Comfort!

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine may be taken with utter safety by young and old. It is non-narcotic and produces no bad after-effects. It does not upset the stomach, nauseate, or make the head ring or swim. Thousands yearly depend on Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine as their protection in all cases of colds and grippe. Thousands tell us that their doctors frankly admit they could write no better prescription.

Every drug store in America sells Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine in convenient, pocket-size boxes, cellophane wrapped. Taken promptly a few Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine tablets will usually expel a cold overnight and thus prevent the infection from spreading within the system and becoming dangerous.—Adv.

Proration Hearing Set At Pampa for Oct. 29

AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—Advisability of setting a maximum per well allowable for the Panhandle oil field will be discussed at a hearing of the Texas Railroad commission at Pampa, Oct. 29, R. D. Parker of the commission's oil and gas division, said today.

Parker said the commission also would hear applications for exemption from observance of the proration orders in the field. The commission recently adopted a sweeping order eliminating all exemptions and Parker said the Panhandle docket was reopened so that any injustices caused by the blanket order could be adjusted.

Fort Worth and Wichita Falls have been pulling together for fifty years and it is our hope that the Anniversary Celebration has strengthened the ties of friendship existing between the two cities.

None of the pioneers now living will be privileged to celebrate Wichita Falls' Centennial but it is our sincere hope that the traditions held dear by those who were with you last Tuesday will hold true and that on that occasion Fort Worth will be on hand to rejoice with you again.

Miss Margaret McLean

Approximately 200 Fort Worth citizens boarded a special train in that city to attend Wichita Falls' birthday party, Sept. 27. Arrangements for the trip were in charge of a group of pioneer Fort Worth citizens, who signed the letter received by Mr. Cline expressing appreciation for the privilege of participating in the party.

Museum For Jubilee Documents Suggested By Fort Worth Man

Suggestion that a permanent marker or museum be established in Wichita Falls to preserve documents and other available exhibits of the golden jubilee party for the centennial celebration of the city's anniversary has been received by the chamber of commerce.

The suggestion came from Charles G. Cotton, trade extension department manager of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Cotton made the suggestion in calling attention to a letter mailed to Walter D. Cline, jubilee president, by the Fort Worth special train committee expressing appreciation for the privilege of participating in the program.

Mr. Cotton's letter said in part: "It is of possible interest to you to know that every signature on the letter is bona fide and original. The letter now is of passing significance but if placed in among other documents and preserved until Wichita Falls' Centennial celebration, it no doubt possesses some very tender sentiments and happy recollections for some privileged to be present at that occasion.

"This is merely a suggestion, but since your event was such a success would it not be fitting to consider the erection of a fitting monument or marker at an appropriate place, possibly downtown, and have this marker contain such documents as should be preserved for posterity and probably for perusal in connection with ceremonies held during the centennial. This suggestion probably will not have any value but being to some extent a sentimentalist and a lover of tradition and the pioneer, this thought merely occurs to me as being fitting. If Wichita Falls should consider such a proposition, I would like to be privileged to contribute at least $1 towards the erection of such a marker as a tribute to the pioneer and the early founders of your city."

Defendant Recites Houston Slaying

HOUSTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—The story of the shooting of J. A. (Shorty) Mangum, 41, was told this afternoon by Hershel Gray of San Antonio, on trial on a murder charge growing out of Mangum's death.

"I had heard that Mangum was threatening my life," said Gray, "and about 8:30 on the morning of the shooting he came to the place where I was living.

"He jerked out a pistol and said: 'Get back in bed if you don't want your hair parted with a bullet.' I said: 'Are you crazy, Shorty?' He said: 'Don't talk back or I will kill you. If you don't get out of town and go back to San Antonio I am going to murder you.'

The defendant said he met Mangum later in the day.

"He said: 'Here; come here.' I walked over to his car. The door was part way open. He began cursing me right off and was reaching for his pocket.

"I said: 'Don't do that' and jumped back and started shooting. I thought he was going to kill me."

ROYAL GERMAN COUPLE TO WED

Nobility of Five Nations Attend Ceremonies

COBURG, Germany, Oct. 18. (AP)—Germany's first royal wedding since it became a republic will be celebrated here tomorrow and Thursday on the occasion of the civil and religious ceremonies uniting the beautiful Princess Sybille of Saxe-Coburg and Gustaf Adolf Oscar, eldest son of the Swedish crown prince.

Royalty and nobility of Scandinavia, Germany, Great Britain, Bulgaria and Russia were gathering tonight in this ancient city for the festivities.

The bridegroom, who stands in direct line to inherit the throne of his 74-year-old grandfather, King Gustaf V, greeted his relatives there while waiting for the civil ceremony which will be performed tomorrow. Next day, the religious ceremony will be celebrated at the ancient St. Moritz church where Pastor Schanze, the bride's old tutor, will deliver the wedding oration.

The 24-year-old Princess Sybille is a great-granddaughter of Queen Victoria of England and the latest official list of guests bears the names of 67 members of European royalty and nobility.

The former Czar Ferdinand, who spends his exile in Coburg, is to be a principal guest as senior chief of the house of Coburg. The bridegroom's 50-year-old father, the Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf, and other Swedish royalty, including Princess Ingrid, whose name rumor has coupled with that of Prince George of Great Britain, are also attending.

President Von Hindenburg sent two candelabra and a porcelain fruit dish as gifts and granted permission for a company of the reichswehr to mount guard over the old Coburg castle where the civil ceremonies are to be held.

Jackson County Has Tax Payment Rush

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Oct. 18.—While collections at the office of the Jackson county treasurer are not so large from the standpoint of dollars as at sometimes during the term of office of Miss Vanna Hopper, treasurer, she believes that never has she and employes in this office spent a busier day than Saturday.

The reason for the unusual rush was because of the large number of small amounts of tax being paid, most of the payments being made for personal property, Miss Hopper explained. More than two-thirds of the payments received Saturday were sums of less than $10 each. The largest was issued for $243.37.

A total of $5,100 was collected during the day.

The rush has been in progress during the entire month of October, with an unusually large number of small tax receipts being written.

OVERSEA TRADE CLIMBS AGAIN

Both Exports and Imports Increase in September

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—For a second consecutive month, American trade increased in September.

A commerce department analysis today showed that both exports and imports were higher last month, continuing a rise from lows for the year established in July.

September exports were $132,000,000 compared with $109,138,000 in August and $106,830,000 in July. The September imports rose to $98,000,000 from $91,100,000 in August and $79,420,000 in July.

For the first nine months of this year, goods shipped out of the United States were valued at $1,188,894,000 compared with $1,841,775,000 in the same period of 1931. Gold imports of $27,957,000 in September left the country with a gain of $27,897,000 worth of the metal because only $60,000 was withdrawn. A year ago the imports were $49,269,000 with exports $28,708,000.

Silver imports in September also exceeded exports by $1,483,000, totaling $2,352,000.

The commerce department reported, too, that last week's grain exports amounted to 1,137,000 bushels against 870,000 the week before. More wheat and corn were shipped out of the country; less barley and oats. Shipments to Canada, however, dropped from 908,000 to 712,000 bushels.

Dorothy Dailey of Sunflower was crowned queen of the Mississippi delta cotton festival this year.

Inspiring Features Mark Federated Quarterly Meet

A playlet, "Inasmuch," written by Mrs. S. E. Trevathan, was a feature of the quarterly meeting of the Federated Missionary society meeting held in the educational building of the First Methodist church Tuesday afternoon. Beautiful interpretation was given to the characters, "Mary," played by Mrs. Sterling Crumpler; "Jane," Mrs. Jozach Easley and "Ruth," Miss Inez Terrell. Mrs. O. F. Coleman, accompanied by Mrs. J. M. Wright, gave the beautiful voice numbers. The story was a vivid depiction of the life and works of the Federated Missionary society.

Mrs. R. A. Lincoln, program chairman, presented the interesting numbers. Mrs. J. E. Hall gave a violin number, "Adagio," with Mrs. Lucile Brooks Huff at the piano and Mrs. Stanley M. Raub conducted the song service.

Mrs. Trevathan Presides

The meeting was opened with the president, Mrs. S. E. Trevathan, presiding, and a very beautiful devotional was given by Mrs. Wayne Somerville, with Mrs. C. Y. Tully, accompanied by Mrs. J. E. O'Brien, singing the devotional hymn, "That Beautiful Garden of Prayer."

Mrs. F. T. Datson reported on the three months of summer work and made a special plea to the various churches for the month of October and coming winter months. The pantry was stated to be almost empty and donations from gardens as well as from shelves are welcomed. She told of how mothers are being taught to take care of their families in balanced luncheons at school and stressed the fact that November is the month when so many will be returning from the cotton fields and donations will be necessary. The detailed work of the nursery was reported as moving nicely and special emphasis was placed on the fact that the children are being taught self-confidence and that they are making good grades in school.

Mrs. M. C. Batey made an interesting report of the story telling hour and Mrs. J. A. Kemp, in her report on the kindergarten payed a sincere tribute to Mrs. Datson.

Miss Beach, who is a rural community worker and pastor of the Cache, Okla., church, pronounced the benediction.

Mrs. Wayne Somerville, who had welcomed the group in the name of the hostess group, the Woman's Missionary society of the First Methodist church, invited the guests to remain for a social hour and refreshments. Approximately 175 were present.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

And now, my, oh my, our learned friend, Mr. Einstein, (how does it happen no one ever mentions his initials?) is indicating the earth is several billion years older than scientists have hitherto estimated.

Many billions more of tears have been shed than we had contemplated; many billions more heartaches and heartbreaks have been felt; many billions more of loved little babies have come into the world and many billions more quiet, cold bodies have been laid to rest.

But what difference, we would like to know, do a few billions make in estimating time? One thing that causes us to admire Mr. Einstein—and it is purely patriotic—has been the fact that he intends to divide his time in the future between Germany and the United States. But when it comes to that "theory" of his, we have been utterly baffled and offer no apology—and over this new discovery we feel no thrill.

There's an aunt on one side of our family who is prouder of the family tree than anything she possesses; and on the other, an uncle went to terrific expense to find his genealogy for several hundred years. But the only reason we see for going back a comparatively short period is to find those ancestors who enable you to become a D. A. R., a Colonial dame or a member of the U. D. C., for all which organizations we feel a real pride.

It is, however, today, that seems the great time to us. Not the billion or million or even thousand years ago, though history, when it is reliable, is of deep fascination. Now and the future are times that count. No one who has children can help wishing the future world will be a better place for them.

It is the female of the sex that is supposed to be susceptible to derision about age so we hope the old world is not classed as "she." The continents that are worn into great caverns and ravines and that have disappeared beneath the ocean, had their day. We might as well let them go, save for the culture they have carried on their bosom to this day and time.

Which would bring us, if we went into it, to a discussion of whether heritage or environment is the greater thing. Culture is a quality of mental and moral and spiritual training that becomes refinement when it is inherent for generations.

But learning is a thing that may be developed according to one's desire and one's brain capacity. Some brains are like oriental people; they develop early. Some are slower in capacity for grasping information, but often hold it longer.

Knowledge, however, is a thing each man or woman must get for him or herself. We live our little allotted span and hope to give the benefit of what we have hoped and aspired to and suffered from, to our children, but they must live their own lives, no matter how ours went.

There's much more in life, though, than just culture or learning or riches. A long funeral train and an enormous list of pallbearers may pay honor to the passing. Little, almost unknown lives, often leave sadder hearts.

We just can't find it in our heart to grieve over the few billion years we have had added to the earth's age. The old "kind hearts," etc., keeps eternally ringing in our ears. Lives worthy of love are greater than just years of which we do not know.

The club count will follow directly after luncheon and a cash prize will be given the county having the largest attendance. Mrs. P. L. Myers is in charge of the decorations and the tables will be brilliant with bowls of golden cosmos. Many reservations have already been received from seven counties.

Mrs. G. T. Singleton, president, was in charge of the business meeting when an outline of plans was made for the coming season and when reports were heard from standing committees.

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

TO THE TEACHER

The success or failure of the children in school depends upon the quality of the teacher. The principal may be the most skilled and learned of men, the supervisors may be the most efficient and stimulating of people, but if the teacher is not all she needs to be the children must fail.

That is a heavy responsibility for anybody to carry. Teachers feel it keenly. They are personally humiliated if the children of their class fail. They take it to heart and lie awake, worry themselves into headache, nervous disorders and exhaustion of body and mind.

The only way to cure exhaustion is to prevent it. The teacher impatiently asks how she can do that with a class the size of hers, with an army of supervisors and parents and interested outsiders demanding the maximum of return from her. "If some of you people would get off our backs we would live longer and do better," said one exasperated and exhausted teacher.

I agree with the teacher that the pressure is often more than any human being can endure. The thing for her to do is to slip out from under whenever she feels the load pressing too hard. Take a week-end off. Stay out of school for a day or two and do whatever you think will refresh you the most. You can arrange your work so that the substitute can carry on for a few days. The change will do the class good. They will appreciate you the more when you return. You will feel so glad to get back, so fit and ready, that you will catch up and go ahead with great speed and success.

I never could get up any enthusiasm for the teacher who boasted of a hundred per cent record of attendance for 40 years. I rather agree with the school board member who, when the board drew up a set of resolutions congratulating this punctual regular teacher, took off his glasses, looked searchingly into the face of each of the men about the table and said, "Gentlemen, didn't this woman ever have a grandmother, or an old aunt, or somebody close to her who passed on? Wasn't she ever tired or sick or wasn't anybody in her family ever married? Wasn't she human somewhere?"

Teachers are human. They feel deeply. They suffer keenly. They feel the troubles of a community pressing upon their spirits. They must learn how to carry their load lightly; how to comfort others without taking over their grief; how to push children ahead without taking over their failures; how to excite and how to calm emotions without taking them as their own. They must be themselves without identifying themselves with all who come their way.

Each teacher must help himself to live a healthy well-balanced life. I know how hard this is and because it took me many years to even glimpse the truth I set down here, I am trying to pass it along to the younger ones in the hope of making their lives easier, their work more successful.

Cultivate your body and spirit as a duty if you would be a good teacher. Never work to the point of exhaustion and when you feel yourself looking over the edge of normal healthy thinking, stop work and go fishing for whatever sort of fish you like the best.

(Copyright, 1932, by Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Mrs. Post Tells More About Silver

By EMILY POST

Author of "Etiquette, the Blue Book of Social Usage"

Dear Mrs. Post—(1) Could you give a few suggestions to me as to how I could use cocktail forks for evening parties? I have some lovely sterling silver forks, which I have never used as I do not have time to entertain at dinner. By the way, is it proper to use them for a fruit cocktail? (2) Also, how is a bread and butter knife placed on a table when the table is set?

Answer—(1) I suppose you could use forks for fruit cocktail but an orange spoon or teaspoon would be much better. Cocktail (or oyster) forks are suitable for every sort of cold shellfish—but for nothing else that I can think of. (2) On the bread and butter plate.

Dear Mrs. Post—Should my wedding silver be marked with my present initials or my future ones or with my husband's coat of arms?

Answer—Use crest alone on flat pieces, with motto if you choose on an important piece. A coat of arms is much too detailed. Or if you prefer that the silver be definitely labeled yours, use your own initials, either present or future, as you choose. In other days a Mary Lee Smith, who was marrying John Jones, had her silver as well as her linen marked M. L. S. But as most of the Jones families have found it annoying that everything in the house should forever be marked with an S., it has gradually become customary to mark a future Mrs. Jones' linen and silver M. S. J.

Dear Mrs. Post—Do you think that mixed patterns of flat silver look impossibly bad? I have plenty of silver but unfortunately it doesn't all match? Most of it is plain, but the fish knives and forks are fancy—also I have odd dessert spoons and forks, and again different butter knives.

Answer—While it is usual and best that flat silver for all courses shall match, it is by no means unheard of, even in lavishly appointed houses, to use an implement of different pattern for one course or another. Dessert spoons and forks do not appear with other silver, so their difference would not even come into question.

DIZZINESS
relieved by Black-Draught

"I decided to take Thedford's Black-Draught, as I had been having bilious spells," writes Mr. Chas. E. Stevens, of Columbus, Ind. "When I get bilious, I feel sleepy and tired and do not feel like doing my work. I get awfully dizzy. I know then that I had better take something. After I found how good Black-Draught is, that is what I have used. I guess it rids me of the bile, for I feel better—don't feel like I am dropping off to sleep every time I sit down. MOTHER—Watch this Girl . . . This is the Time You Should be on Your Guard

"My back bothers me," she quietly complains . . . "I guess I'll lie down." Have you ever felt this way yourself?

Despondent, Listless Girls

SHE LOOKS despondent, worn-out and depressed. Young girls budding into womanhood often get quiet and wistful. Lassitude overtakes them. They should be watched!

"I have a headache," they quietly complain. "My back bothers me. . . . I guess I'll lie down."

These are the symptoms, mother. And you should be on your guard.

During this "trying time" every young girl needs the helpful benefit of a strengthening medicine like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Neglect now only invites suffering and unhappiness later on. Pain destroys beauty. Worry ruins the disposition.

That's why so many attractive young women become faded prematurely. The pretty girl of 18 becomes a languid lady at 25.

Suffering isn't natural. Remember that. It may be brave and heroic . . . but it's unnecessary.

When your daughter becomes tired-and listless . . . won't you give her Vegetable Compound Tablets . . . just as other mothers do? For over fifty years this medicine has been considered a SAFE and ACCEPTED household remedy.

The very fact that it's been in use a long, long time, gives women extra confidence. They know it must be good . . . or so many women wouldn't take it.

And how true that is! For our records show that 98 out of every 100 women who write us actually report benefit from the strengthening treatment of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of either the tablets or the liquid. Don't postpone for another day the blessed relief this medicine brings.

ABSENTEE VOTE STARTS TODAY

Nine Amendments Carried On Election Ballot

Absentee voting for the general election of Nov. 8 will begin at the county clerk's office here Wednesday, and will continue through Nov. 4, it was announced Tuesday after the official ballots were received by Miss Elizabeth Hall, county clerk.

Wichita county voters who will be out of their own precincts on Nov. 8 may call at the county clerk's office and cast their ballots there, or may write in for ballots, mark them, and mail them to the county clerk. In the two primaries, the absentee vote here was one of the heaviest in the history of the county.

Only Democratic nominees for district, county and precinct offices appear on the ballot, but for state and national offices, there are eight columns on the page. In addition to the columns for Democratic, Republican, Socialist, Communist, Jacksonian, Liberty and Independent parties, there is an added column for the insertion of other choices for any of the listed offices.

Almost a complete list of candidates appears for the Republican and Socialist parties, and a large number of nominees of the Jacksonian and Liberty parties also are entered.

The nine proposed state constitutional amendments carried on the ballot are as follows:

Providing that the permanent university fund shall be invested in bonds of the United States, the state of Texas, or counties of said state, or in school bonds of municipalities, or in bonds of any city of this state, or in bonds issued under and by virtue of the federal farm loan act approved by the president of the United States and amendments thereto.

Providing for the right to redeem land sold at tax sale within two years from date of the filing for record of the purchaser's deed for less than double of the amount of money paid for the land.

Bar to Tax Collection

Providing that the state, county or subdivision thereof or any other municipal corporation may be barred from the collection of delinquent taxes after they have been due for a period of at least 10 years.

Permitting officers and enlisted men of the national guard, the national guard reserve, and officers of the officers reserve corps of the United States and enlisted men of the same and retired officers of the United States army, navy and marine corps and retired warrant officers and retired enlisted men of the same to hold other offices, positions of honor, trust or profit under this state and to vote at any election, general, special or primary in this state when otherwise qualified.

Providing that only qualified electors owning taxable property in the state, county, district, political subdivision, city, town or village where the election is held and which has been duly rendered for taxation shall be qualified to vote at elections held for the purpose of issuing bonds, or otherwise lending credit or expending money or assuming debt therein.

Authorizing counties and cities bordering on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico by vote of two-thirds majority of the resident property taxpayers voting thereon to levy and collect such tax for construction of seawalls, breakwaters, or sanitary purposes as authorized by law and authorizing the creation of a debt for such work and the issuance of bonds in evidence thereof.

Exempting $3,000 of the assessed taxable value of all residence homesteads from state taxes.

Combining in the one office of assessor and collector of taxes the office of tax assessor and tax collector.

Providing that the legislature may authorize a Texas centennial commemorating the heroic period of early Texas history, and celebrating the century of our independence and progress; to prescribe times, places, manner thereof and making an appropriation therefor.

Runaway Boy Quits Job Because Of Dislike For Girls

Femininity Has No Appeal For Lad Who Prefers Jail Life

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Oct. 18.—A 12-year-old boy who ran away from his home near Minco, Okla., had little trouble finding a job despite the depression, but quit his new found employment because he "did not like to be around girls."

His first stop after leaving home 10 days ago was at Marlow, where he found a job picking cotton. "There were some girls out there and I never did like to be around girls and so I just quit and went on down the road," he explained to county officers.

The boy, who gave the name of Murrell Falles, was found at Comanche by Bill McIlvain, policeman there, and brought to Duncan, while officers attempted to get in touch with relatives.

After four days, his parents had not come for him, and officers offered to release him, but he was enjoying life at the jail and asked to remain. Undersheriff Raymond Sharp Tuesday was attempting to find a home for the boy with some farmer who has no daughters.

ALLRED TO SPEAK HERE

Demos Plan Big Rally On Election Eve

Plans for a mammoth Democratic rally in this city about one week before the election on Nov. 8, with Atty. Gen. James V. Allred as the principal speaker, were announced Tuesday by Luther Hoffman, who has charge of the rallies now being staged throughout the 13th congressional district in support of the Roosevelt-Garner ticket.

P. B. Cox and H. W. Fillmore have been assigned to speak at rallies in Jack county next Saturday in preparation for an intensive campaign throughout that area both for campaign funds and for votes. Mayor Walter Nelson Jr. headed a committee which spent Tuesday in Archer City, Olney and Graham in conference with Democratic campaign leaders there. Julian McFall went to Clay county on a similar mission.

National Democratic headquarters here reported a continued activity in the sale of campaign medallions throughout the district.

Sales in this city Tuesday afternoon were featured by a telephoned order from Mrs. Lillis Morgan, 1810 Elizabeth, for the immediate delivery of nine medallions.

J. O. Cowart and Denny J. Cole will head a committee which will visit Wilbarger county Wednesday to perfect plans for the final windup of the medallion campaign there.

From Clay county, Chairman V. Lefevre reported a continued brisk distribution of the Roosevelt-Garner medallions.

It was announced that Governor Roosevelt would speak from Pittsburgh at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday and from St. Louis at 9 p. m. Friday and that his addresses could be heard over WFAA, Dallas; WBAP, Fort Worth; KPRC, Houston, and WOAI, San Antonio.

Horticulturist At Lawton Perfects Cotton To Revolutionize Industry

Farmer Exhibits New Variety With 15 Bolls to Twig Which Will Produce Four Bales of 1 3-8 Inch Staple to Acre

LAWTON, Okla., Oct. 18.—A. D. Cosgrove, who resides 11 miles southwest of this city, farmer horticulturist and son of a horticulturist, Saturday for the first time exhibited here a new variety of cotton that may revolutionize the raising of the staple and will doubtless make Mr. Cosgrove immensely wealthy. He has exhibited to the general public for the first time the result of 40 years study and experimentation in cotton production.

Forty years ago, Mr. Cosgrove stated, his father told him if he could make two bales of grass grow where now only one will grow, he would greatly benefit the world. He told his father he would endeavor to get that result with cotton. The Cosgrove family then resided in Texas and planted large acreage to cotton.

Four Bales to Acre

Saturday Mr. Cosgrove brought samples of the result of his 40 years study and labor and says he believes his efforts have been crowned with success. He says his seed will produce and has produced, four bales of cotton to the acre. He exhibited one stalk of his cotton, said by ginners to be of as high grade as ever produced in the Southwest, which had 15 bolls on one twig. The staple measured 1⅜ inches. There were 176 bolls on the stalk, the bolls averaging 1¼ ounces; the cotton on the entire stalk weighing 15 pounds. There are 10 to 12 locks to the boll, more than double the average number.

Mr. Cosgrove has entered into a contract whereby a company will place his seed upon the market in 1934, but until that time not a seed will be sold, he says. To illustrate the importance of his find in the agricultural world, a representative of Luther Burbank once offered him $1 for each seed he would sell and upon another occasion, the states, he was offered $8,000 for eight bushels. He again refused to sell for he was "not ready."

SIX INJURED IN TOLEDO RIOT

Jobless Crowd Demands Public Relief

TOLEDO, Ohio, Oct. 18. (AP)—At least six persons, including two patrolmen, were injured when several hundred unemployed citizens and destitute farmers rioted, late yesterday, in the Lucas county courthouse here.

Hand-to-hand fighting broke out when a group of policemen and sheriff's deputies attempted to eject the crowd after its members refused to leave the building unless given relief.

Several of the rioters and policemen were knocked to the floor, tramped upon, kicked and beaten.

Militant Progressive Newspaper In Wisconsin Supports Democrats

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 18. (INS)—The Capital Times, militant organ of the progressive LaFollette faction of the Republican party, announced today it will support the Roosevelt-Garner ticket.

The paper, edited by William T. Evjue, called upon all progressives to vote for the Democratic nominees.

"It would be the worst kind of moral depravity for the Capital Times to support the Republican nominee for president of the United States—a man who has unflinchingly stood at the opposite pole of everything for which this newspaper has been fighting," said a front page editorial.

"We are at the cross roads. To the left is the sound, constructive liberalism of Franklin D. Roosevelt, a man whose record as the governor of the greatest state in the union shows that he has had the courage to place the public interest above the interests of private privilege and greed.

"To the right are the forces of special privilege and organized wealth supporting the Republican nominee for president, Herbert Hoover, and already intimating that the country is headed for a form of fascism behind which will stand a dictatorship of wealth.

"We believe that the immediate duty of the patriotic American citizen is to administer a stinging rebuke to a party which under Harding, Coolidge and Hoover has brought us to our present sorry estate."

The editorial declared that "we believe Franklin D. Roosevelt to be bigger than his party" and declared reactionary forces opposed his nomination because they feared his record on taxation, relief, the tariff, agriculture and utilities.

The Capital Times' announcement today had not been unexpected following the defeat in the primaries of Gov. Phil LaFollette and Senator John J. Blaine.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

This newspaper puts at your disposal a corps of trained researchers in Washington who will answer questions for you. They have access to the government departments, the libraries, museums, galleries and public buildings and to the numerous associations which maintain headquarters in the nation's capital. If they can be of assistance to you, write your questions plainly and send with three cents in coin or stamps to The Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—What is the length of the Boston Light marathon swim?—M. D.

A.—The accepted distance for the swim from Warren Bridge, Charlestown, to Boston Light is 12½ miles, but the route varies from year to year. With perfect conditions, the shortest route is about nine miles, but with adverse tides, it is nearer 15.

Q.—When and how much has the salary of a member of the house of representatives been changed?—M. M. S.

A.—The salary of members of congress has been changed several times. Originally representatives received $6 a day, in 1789, which was raised to $8, almost immediately. In 1865 a flat rate of $5,000 a year was granted. In 1874 an act was passed raising the salary to $7,500, but this act was immediately repealed and the salary remained at $5,000 until 1900 when it was again raised to $7,500. In 1926 the salary was raised to $10,000 a year. At the present time, this amount is reduced to $9,000 during the general cut in government salaries.

Q.—In how many cases are automobile accidents due to mechanical failure in the automobile?—H. G.

A.—In 1,281,400 accidents studied, in only 56,330 cases were the accidents due to mechanical difficulties. This is only one time in 23.

Q.—When and where are boats sold which have been confiscated for violation of the prohibition act?—C. W. H.

A.—The bureau of prohibition says that each prohibition district has its own clearing house for confiscated goods and that an effort is made to keep it as cleared up at all times as possible. A notice concerning the cars and boats to be confiscated is posted in the local papers where such sales are to take place. These sales are conducted as public auctions.

Q.—Who originated the card display used by the naval academy at football games?—L. N. N.

A.—The card displays are introduced at the naval academy during the 1930 football season by Midshipman N. C. Copeland, a member of the 1931 class. However, it was not Copeland's original idea. He received his information regarding these stunts from Stanford university at Palo Alto, Calif.

Q.—Why will ivy live in water?—M. B.

A.—The bureau of plant industry says that ivy planted in water gets its sustenance from the air, the water, and from the stored up material in the plant itself. Ivy planted in water will not continue to grow indefinitely. It will, however, under favorable conditions thrive for quite a while, the length of time depending upon how much plant food there is in the plant and in the water.

Q.—How much money was spent in this country by the Allies during the world war?—R. T. P.

A.—The only record of indebtedness of European governments or corporations to Americans is the record of funded indebtedness. What is owed on open account is not a matter of public record although likely to be reflected in the exchanges. In 1914 the total of governmental and corporate funded indebtedness to the country was $44,670,000; in 1915, $817,529,000; in 1917, $720,297,000. This is believed to furnish an excellent index to the purchase of war supplies as most of this was governmental debt. The bonds of the Allies sold readily here and the proceeds were used largely to buy munitions.

Riches And Worry

THE late Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of the world's richest man, paid two private detectives an average of $744 a month to guard her during a period of more than eight years.

This bit of news, made public during the settlement of her estate, casts an odd little sidelight on the lives of the very wealthy.

Great riches, apparently, have their drawbacks; among them, the fact that the very wealthy person can never be really carefree. As far as any one knows, Mrs. McCormick had no more enemies than any ordinary woman—which is about equal to saying that she had none at all. But she felt obliged to retain two guards all the time. Why? Simply because when you are exceedingly rich you can never quite be sure what is going to happen to you.

Now the present moment is not exactly a good time to ring the changes on that old saw, "money doesn't bring happiness"; not when several million Americans haven't even got the price of a plate of ham and eggs. There are many, many people in the land who would be perfectly willing to put up with any inconveniences or dangers that the possession of unlimited funds might bring.

But it is perfectly true, nevertheless, that of all ways to get happiness one of the poorest is to try to buy it.

There are certain minimum requirements for which money is essential. We need a decent place to live, decent food to eat, a chance to bring up our children so that they can get a fair break in life, a little freedom from everlasting worry about the job and the bank account. You can figure out now far our country has to go by reflecting on the vast numbers who have never had any of these things.

But once you have those things, money has done just about all it can do for you. After that it's up to you. If you haven't the inner resources, the philosophy of life, the zest for living that will enable you to find your own happiness, money won't buy it for you.

This incident of Mrs. McCormick's guards is an illuminating commentary on the loneliness and the worry that can exist in the home of a millionaire.

Protect Them From Diphtheria

IT IS rather distressing, in as progressive a city as Wichita Falls, to have 10 cases of diphtheria quarantined in the period of one week. The sympathy of the public will go out to these children and to the anxious parents who must watch them fight for their lives. It should be a reminder to all parents that it is within their power to protect their children from this dread disease.

For several years newspapers, magazines, physicians, P.-T. A. leaders, health authorities and others have preached the doctrine of immunizing children against dipththeria. The serum used for this offers no hazards to the child. There are no permanent ill effects. The reaction is mild—far milder than vaccination against smallpox—and the child is given immunity against one of the most terrible diseases of youth.

The medical fee for this treatment is comparatively small. Any competent physician can explain the history of the serum, its effects and can administer the treatment. For those who cannot pay, the city of Wichita Falls will provide free serum and free medical service. There is no reason why informed parents should wait until their children are threatened. The time to secure immunity is before exposure or infection.

An Example For Industry

A COMPANY which owns extensive iron ore properties in the upper peninsula of Michigan announced not long ago that on Nov. 1 it will call 1,200 miners back to work—not because there is any new demand for its ore, but simply because it recognizes a duty to its employes.

The name of this concern, you might be interested to know, is the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company. Its mines have been idle for a long time; it has at its properties, already mined, a stock of 3,250,000 tons of ore, and its shipments this year have only been 175,000 tons. The company could exist very nicely for some time to come without bringing another bucketful of ore out of the ground.

But the miners couldn't; and the company has accepted its responsibility in a very commendable fashion. Its action deserves high praise. Would that it might be copied by other companies all over the nation!

Justice For The Insane

LAST spring the state of Iowa hanged one Joseph Altringer after convicting him of the murder of a 12-year-old boy. After the execution, a doctor experienced in psychopathic research conducted an extensive examination of the criminal's brain; and now he reports that the man was suffering from a brain disease and should have been sent to an insane asylum instead of to the gallows.

If there ever was a straightforward, unanswerable argument for the revision of our criminal court practice, this surely is it. As things are, the "insanity defense" is overworked in cases where there is no justification for it, and yet fails utterly to protect men who ought to come under its provisions. How many other men, do you suppose, have gone to the scaffold when, like Joseph Altringer, they should have been sent to an institution for the mentally sick?

Portrait of a Man Talking to Himself

The pithy and pungent crack appears to be The Thing—even in politics....The Republicans know—they appreciate how much of a wallop may be packed into brevity—and their forthcoming slogan will sweep the nation and gather more votes than any oratory....It's a funny crack, too—"Bringing prosperity back to America is an Elephant's job—not a Donkey's!"...Wonder what wit thought that one up? It's swell!....The Times radio oracle calls Mr. Jolson's voice a plaintive tenor....Well, it isn't—it's a baritone....Wonder if the gazettes carried that news?...I mean about the mistrial for Senator James J. Davis....A poll of the jurors revealed 10 for conviction. ...The thing that got me at the McLarnin-Leonard bout was learning that Leonard was always the Irishman's ring idol—and there he was trimming him....And when I remarked to George White that I had never seen Benny Leonard in a ring before, he said: "You still haven't seen Benny Leonard!"....He must have been grand in his time....And I made a sour face at Referee Donovan when he halted it, but that shows how much I know about mercy.

Wonder how important it is?....That melody which is supposed to have the better minds along Tin Pan dizzy....It seems that the girl who wrote "Lullaby of the Leaves," and other hits, has startled the Street by composing a tune with a total range of six notes—a feat, it is argued, that has no precedent in the history of popular music.... I wondered what became of Charlie Coe, who won added renown and some rebukes for his microphoning of the Sharkey-Schmeling encounter....He is stumping for Mr. Hoover and newspapers now Christen him "The Firebrand of the G. O. P." and he is rated by some as the "greatest political orator since Bryan!"....Well, now!...It appears that my comments recently about the late Charles Bronson-Howard were unfair to some, who point out that he had his enemies—as who hasn't?—but that he was unusually talented and wrote two best sellers when he was 15, and a year later he was the youngest war correspondent in the world....He was also the originator of the revue form of entertainment—creating the first revusical for Gaby Des Lys in Paris....No wonder some people picked on him....He was among the capables, which is another way of spelling "target."

Good for Carvath Wells, the noted hunter!...Who discovered the piece of the Ark which drew all that publicity in the journals.... His forthcoming picture, "The Jungle Killer," which he produced, will expose all that stuff about wild animal hunting....He tells the truth about so-called "wild" animals, and hunters that go to Africa to get a hatrack for a 45th St. speakeasy. ...The subject of the film is to preserve wild animal life, and the big producing companies are opposed to it....Of course!....It will make their planned "wild" stuff look silly—and they make heavy money humbugging the public....Like some showmen who misquote critics in their blurbs....Which reminds me that it's about time the drama defenders had a good fight—with ahybody, I mean....Some one who will go to the bother to repeat the old argument....For, without controversy or the spotlight, the critic becomes dormant and unimportant....And all controversy is exciting....Not since Congressman Sirovich focused attention on them has there been any to-do, and this is not good for the craft....."Merrily Yours," John Rogers, that grand old-timer, who press-agented many stars, reminded us that "when you're not seen and your name isn't in the papers—then you are practically dead!"

The trivia that comes up in a day is not unexciting for me.... That subscriber, frinstance....Who complained to the publisher about a sugary paragraph I penned for one who had passed on....Goodgahd!....Imagine being spanked by a reader for tossing a posey at somebody!....For writing something nice!....Come to think of it, my major headaches came only from writing pleasant things.... The legend persists that I am always in trouble, or in a court over this or that, which is distant from the facts.... Never been court, except once....As a witness for a newspaper against a sap who sued for money for a poem that was contributed....And my one lawsuit was brought by a pair whom I defended on the microphones....It wasn't anything I penned for a newspaper....But they hadn't heard my chatter, and sued for plenty on the ground that if Winchell said anything "it couldn't have been good."....And so what happened? ...So nothing happened!....Except that I had to be needlessly annoyed for trying to defend them from a wrong charge printed elsewhere.... The only sound counsel I ever got from an editor came in this manner....I was worried about some complaints that were bunched in a day over an item, and I went to him in a fret, and he comforted me with: "Don't worry....I once had to fire a columnist after two years. Because in all that time no one ever sent in a letter of compliment or complaint about his stuff. And so I decided that nobody was reading it!".

Wonder if Roosevelt is up on his Voltaire?....Who, after many years of absence returned to Paris, and the public went wild, and paid him great homage....But he kept his head...."What crowds greet you!" some one said to him, and Voltaire equipped: "Alas, there would be just as many to see me on the scaffold"....That panhandler in the 50s doesn't suspect what some lads have plotted against him....Night after night he has the gall to come around durak and beg for coins.... The other night he jingled his pockets, all of them crowded with silver pieces, and he boasted that he does some heavy talking in a day and night to gather them.... "Then why not pay for the sandwiches you grub from the delicatessen?" he was asked....But he snarled and insulted his betters.... Not one of the cabdrivers in the line in front of the place had one-third his money....And so when he comes around tonight he will be robbed, and his coins given to one of the breadline funds...One of the forthcoming revues will make the wait for the initial curtain amusing....By offering comical cracks in the program about the cast and the proceedings.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE MOST NON-POLITIC U. S. PRESIDENT—Zachary Taylor (1784-1850) became a popular favorite as a result of his brilliant victory over the Mexican general, Santa Anna, Feb. 23, 1847. Within a month thereafter a Whig convention in Iowa nominated him as their candidate for the presidency. He would have been the candidate and nominee of the opposition party, too, had not the Democratic leaders succeeded in stemming the tide in a last-minute frantic effort. Taylor, whose mature years were passed in the military service of his country, admitted that he had never voted in his life and that he had never allied himself with any political party. He held no views on any political topics and the Whig party which nominated him failed to issue any electional platform that year. He was elected and served from March 4, 1849, to his death in 1850.

A FOREIGN NATION WITHIN THE U. S.—The Yaqui Indians have taken refuge in Arizona fleeing from Mexican retribution for a rebellion against the government. Their capital is a little village near Tucson, Ariz., called Barrio Pascua. The Yaquis were notorious as the bad boys of Mexico, but since they settled as squatters in the United States they have been behaving in an exemplary fashion. They elect their own ruler, and their tribal council for the settlement of their disputes. They speak their own language and fly their own flag.

THE LIFEBOATS—The lifeboats of the Rex are driven by an arm-pedal arrangement in the operation of which every occupant of the boat can participate. The hand-power so developed is transmitted to a smaller propeller.

BABES ON BROADWAY

By JANE DIXON (Copyright, 1932, Jane Dixon)

SYNOPSIS

Tony Brookes was orphaned when she was 18 by an automobile accident in Centerville, her home town. She lost her first job, in a New York dress shop, and one in an art gallery because she was too honest about the wares she offered. Leslie (Lee) Moran, a model, was discharged at the dress shop the same day as Tony. Each had no money and Tony shared her third floor back room at Mrs. Higgins' with her. Lee became a taxi dancer at El Tango where she met middle-aged Adam Leonard, whom she called Uncle Lenny. While the two girls were at a night club with Leonard and Donald Kemp, a lawyer from another city, Mrs. Leonard saw them and made a scene. Leonard, unhappily married, had Kemp arrange a divorce for him. Lee astonished Tony by telling her she was to pose as correspondent. Tony fell in love with Tom Stewart, a young engineer who was in love with Lee. He waited for Tony at Mrs. Higgins' one night just before he was sent to New Mexico, kissed her and seemed to be about to make a declaration of love when the victim of a "ride" was dumped on the sidewalk at their feet. Tom hurried Tony into the house and disappeared, and Tony waited in vain for word from him. Lee moved to an apartment. Tony had been designing dresses for some time now in the studio of M. Montieu, a client of Kemp's. Kemp had been very attentive and Tony knew he loved her. Lee prevailed on Tony to accept Hal Sample's invitation to a week-end party at fashionable Haven beach. Jock Selden accompanied them in Sample's limousine.

INSTALLMENT XVIII

The vast pile of stucco and mullioned windows where they were to stop was called The Lombard. It appeared to Tony to be mushrooming along the beach under acres of red tile roof. Deep arched corridors, open to wind and water, gave it dignity. Such a place would be expensive of course, and fashionable.

"We'll meet you in the winter garden as soon as you've brushed up," Hal Sample said. "If there's anything you want that isn't handy, ring for it. And don't beautify too much. I'm famished."

"Me, too!" Lee chattered. "I'd like creamed chicken on toast and alligator pear salad. What's a few pounds more or less. Step on it, Tony—where's our bags—oh, I see, the Russian colonel over by the elevator's got them. Gee, that Canada special of Hal's sure made me woozy."

The suite Tony was to occupy with Lee was the most luxurious she had ever seen.

"All this room, for just us? Tony exclaimed. She was drawing back the orange gauze curtains of a window. The view was over the water.

"Reeks of the rich, what?" Lee spilled powder over the top of the black laquered bureau. I've heard of The Lombard. We used to send piles of stuff for dames here from Simone's. Little Lee never dreamed then she'd be one of the bloated inmates."

"It is strange our being here, when only yesterday it seems we were wondering how to divide a roll and a cup and half of coffee for breakfast."

"Just shows you what a girl can do if she uses the brains she was born with. How do you like the boy friends?"

"I like Hal Sample. He's jovial. The other one—Mr. Selden—I'm not sure he approves of us."

Lee interrupted lip rouging long enough to make a grimace at an imaginary Jock Selden. "Just too bad about him. Maybe he was expecting a couple of grand duchesses. He'll come out of it. I'm glad you have a taste for Hal because I've made up my mind to annex Jock Selden. He's ripe and he ought to be plucked."

"Lee, please don't do anything—"

"You wouldn't do. I won't. Anyhow, not much. This Selden boy has kind of got my number. He does things to me." Lee sprayed perfume over her bright blond hair.

"He seems morose. Perhaps there is some other member of the party he's interested in."

Lee pulled her hat down over her shining hair, fluffing it out pertly from under the brim. She watched Tony covertly, in the glass.

"Listen, my dear, if the others don't show up right away, forget, will you? Hal wasn't sure, at the last minute, they could come, and he didn't want to tell us for fear it would spoil our fun."

At ones Tony knew "the others" would not "turn up." That it was never meant they should. Her impulse was to repack her bag, to find her way back to town. She was perfectly capable of taking care of herself whether there were four of 40 in the party, but she resented the deception. Then she remembered Hal Sample, his joviality, his apparent lack of guile. He doesn't know about the others, she reasoned. That is why Lee asked me not to mention them. I'll stay. I owe that much to him. He's doing everything possible to make it a gala affair. I must stop being a prig.

Tony tilted to a rakish angle the vagabond beret Lee had insisted she wear.

Sunshine and music flooded the Lombard Winter garden. A glorified solarium, glassed, stretched to the water's edge. From vinery threading the ceiling, gilt and teakwood cages were suspended and in them lemon and orange canaries hopped about excitedly. When the music ceased the birds trilled until it seemed their tiny throbbing throats must burst. Flowers were everywhere. It was spring in this garden. Tulips in bright pink bonnets peered out of stone urns and clumps of jonquils and of inquisitive daisies bloomed in wicker baskets against screens of fern and stately palm.

"It's too lovely to be true!" Tony exclaimed when they were seated at a table nearest the water.

Hal Sample smiled appreciation. "Not half bad."

"They might let in some air," Jock Selden complained. Smells like a green house."

"Count me out on the air, but in on the food," Lee remarked. "Creamed chicken with a side dish of broiled steak and French fried potatoes. How about you, Tony?"

"I'm resigning myself to the tender mercy of Mr. Sample."

"Make it Hal," Sample urged.

"To the tender mercy of Hal."

Lee wailed, "I know, she wants a fruit salad. She lives on her art."

"And dies hungry," Jock Selden could be diabolical when he grinned.

Tony was becoming accustomed to the acid in Selden. It no longer reacted on her. "Not necessarily," she said, and smiled so sweetly that the diable in Selden's smile guttered out.

During the remainder of the time at table Jock Selden paid her the compliment of putting away his spleen. He, too, could be jovial when the mood suited him.

"A friend of mine has a place here," Hal Sample said when they had explored the arched galleries of the Lombard. "It's rather tricky. We might drop in on him later but first I'd want to know who he's putting up. Some of his mobs are right and some of them—well they won't do."

"What's wrong with them?" Lee wanted to know.

"Why—why—say, that's a hard question to answer."

"Then don't answer it," Jock Selden advised.

"If one of you will keep me company I'll run over and get the guest list. I'll rush it and whoever goes can wa... outside in the car. Any volunteers?"

"Take Tony," Lee said so quickly that neither Tony nor Jock Selden could respond. Sample was disconcerted by the sharpness of the order.

"Delighted, if she cares to come." He was delighted. His round face beamed approval. Nice youngster, Tony. A bit quiet. Maybe just strange or overwhelmed. She ate up the winter garden.

"Of course I'd like to go if—"

"Toinette is staying with me," Jack Selden did not make a statement. He declared. Even Lee's ready tongue found no counter for the finality in his voice.

"Looks as if you've drawn me, Hal." Lee said with a toss of her head. "Let's go, Jock wants to whisper sweet nothings to Tony."

"We've got to put on all the dog," Lee told Tony when they were dressing that evening. "This friend of Hal's lives in a palace with grounds and gutriders. Looks like the public library."

Tony thought aloud, "I wish we were going to the Winter Garden again, just the four of us. It's the most beautiful place. You couldn't dream it unless you'd seen it."

"You haven't seen anything yet, darling. Wait until you cast the orbs on this palace effect we're visiting. I'll bet it makes that winter garden greenhouse look like a bungalow. Some one's at the door. See who it is, like a lamb, while I struggle into these sandals."

The some one was a bellboy with two boxes, Orchids for Lee. Deep, purple violets with a gardenia in their center for Tony. Jock Selden's card was enclosed in both.

"Orchids," Lee said, trying them on her bare shoulder before the mirror. "I don't know whether to laugh or cry. Every chorus girl in the racket counts her orchids to tell how well she's getting along. Gee, Jock's clever. He knows my speed, and yours, too."

As they were leaving The Lombard a boy called Lee's name.

"Telephone for Miss Moran."

Lee was gone so long that Tony was on the point of seeking her out in the line of booths. Just when she would have done so, Lee emerged. Lee's face was flushed, her laughter strained. She drew Tony aside while the men were finding the chauffeur.

"Uncle Lenny's turned up in the city and he's been paging me all over hte place," Lee said in a low voice. "He's got a nerve when he's supposed to vamoose for a week, and Montieu called you. Something about a sketch you gave him."

"Oh, Lee, it's the evening dress. It came to me all of a sudden and I turned it in Thursday. Did Montieu—did he accept it?"

"How should I know? You don't expect that dumb Gretchen of a maid I got to get things straight do you? How'd you suppose she ever found me here? She must have been pitying keyholes and heard us talking. If she tells Lenny there'll be another murder mystery for the police to solve."

"Let's ask Hal Sample to take us back tonight," eagerly from Tony.

"A hot chance. Miss the friend's palace and the pool tomorrow and the rest of the fireworks? Let Uncle Lenny cool his heels. He walks on 'em too much, anyhow. I'm collector of orchids and I've got my eyes on a prize bloom."

Tony would rather not recall the evening in the beach house Lee described as a palace. The house itself was fantastic. A Dr. Caligari's cabinet. The owner had a penchant for horror. He liked to congeal the blood of his guests with cabinets that opened without apparent motivation to revealed monstrosities of the sea or of science. The walls were marines to give one the impression of moving about under water and suddenly meeting a denizen of the deep bound on destruction. Altar lights burned in skulls collected from the deserts of the world. Incense exuding from gaping mouths and glaring red eyes. Beasts of the jungle snarled from dusky corners and reptiles with darting fangs peered out from tropical foliage.

There was sardonic humor in the host's smile when Tony and Lee drew back, involuntarily, from the atmosphere of horrific phantasy.

Tony did not like the other guests. They were subtle, unnatural, like the house itself.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—When Senator George Moses of New Hampshire came down to New York long enough to predict that the Republican national ticket would sweep unchecked "from Maine to Maryland," word that Al Smith would campaign personally in four of those states had not yet been noised about.

GEORGE H. MOSES

"Friend Al" was as yet a man of mystery, so far as his part in the election doings of the year was concerned.

It would be interesting to know if Moses would care to repeat his prediction and take in quite so much territory in the face of forecasts of Smith's actual participation in the national campaign in New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

Laying Battle Lines

There can be no doubt that the former governor's aloofness from the Roosevelt-Garner campaign up to that point has been among the important factors entering into the calculations of both campaign organizations in reckoning their electoral chances on the eastern front.

"Big Jim" Farley, Democratic national chairman, said that right out loud in his address to the Democratic faithful of Rhode Island. The Smith-Roosevelt rapprochment at Albany, he said, was the "greatest event in the campaign thus far."

But be the electoral effect of Al Smith's active intervention in the campaign what it may, the announcement of his four-state stumping program and that he will crowd much of it in that last week in November before election day serves to emphasize that the eastern front is going to be a lively place that week, and for several weeks before that.

Why not? Take that Maine-to-Maryland sweep of which Mr. Moses speaks. It includes some 108 of the 531 electoral votes to be decided Nov. 8. That is a solid chunk of political power.

Big Guns Coming Up

President Hoover is to deliver an address in New York City. That was the first step of his personal campaign decided upon, although he probably will take it last, or near the last.

Governor Roosevelt has shaped his touring so as to close his campaign in his home state on the heels of a New England drive.

Now Al Smith is scheduled to cover a four-state circuit just before voting starts.

Secretary Mills, a chief shock-trooper of the Republican national campaigners, no doubt also will be talking in New York just before he votes there.

John W. Davis, another former Democratic presidential nominee, has an east front assignment for those last two weeks.

Truck Driver Gets Year For Haskell Boy's Death

26 STATE CLASS A CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES SLATED THIS WEEK

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

The Coyotes will meet the Grandfield, Okla., Bearcats here Friday afternoon for the fourth time in 10 years.

In the last three meetings of the clubs, Grandfield has been victorious every time. It is about time the Coyotes put a stop to that sort of thing.

The teams met last in 1927, when the Bearcats defeated the Coyotes in the latter's first game of the season, 13 to 0. Wichita Falls that year had a pretty fair defensive team, but nothing to speak of on the offense.

Before that, the clubs played in 1926 and in 1925.

In 1925 the Pack went to Grandfield. The Pack that year had a pretty strong club, and expected no more than easy practice skirmish with the Bearcats. But they got fooled. Grandfield, led by Eversole, a powerful backfielder, scored three touchdowns in the first five minutes of the game and assumed a 20 to 0 lead. The Coyotes recovered from their daze and depended upon Hunky Ray's great punting to prevent further scoring, but they couldn't score themselves and the final score was what it was after the first five minutes—20 to 0.

In 1926, Grandfield came to Wichita Falls and played a freak game with the Coyotes. It lasted until darkness and had to be called for that reason. Grandfield won, 16 to 6. Incidentally, Eversole, star of the previous year, made one of Grandfield's touchdowns by a long end run when it was so dark the Coyotes could hardly see him.

Consolation Dept.

Anatole France, great French writer, once said that the only reason scholars dig into the history of the past is to escape the burdens of the present.

Whether this accounts for a little research just completed by some faculty members and students at the high school is not known, but the statistics unearthed are quite complimentary to the Coyotes.

The statisticians have unearthed the total scores of football games between Wichita Falls and leading teams in this district over a period of 11 years, beginning in 1920 and including the 1931 season.

In 71 league games since 1920, the Coyotes have won 38, lost 27 and tied six, scoring a total of 995 points to 709 by their opponents.

The total scores:
Coyotes 346, Quanah 60.
Coyotes 129, Electra 88.
Coyotes 108, Vernon 136.

When it is considered that the Coyotes this year have scored only 27 points compared to Vernon's 126, Quanah's 71, Electra's 45 and Childress' 38, the science of ancient history comes in quite handy for the locals.

The above dope and some additional statistics giving the number of games attended by various faculty members is to be published in the next issue the The Wichitan, school publication.

Blackerby Rolls In

George Blackerby, former Texas league baseball star, hove in sight this week from California, where he had a good year with the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast league.

Blackerby socked the ball for an unofficial average of .310 this season, quite an improvement on his hitting with the same club in 1931. That year he was barely within the .300 circle.

George will spend the winter in Wichita Falls, as usual, and will occupy his spare moments as a football and basket ball official. During the last few years Blackerby has become known in this section as a very competent official in both of the sports.

The Drug Store Q. B.

Several of the fans who read our account of how the Coyotes might have won that Quanah game have informed me that our efforts to be a drug store quarterback were quite ludicrous.

We maintained, in an orgy of second guessing, that if Quarterback Cleve Pierson had pulled another line buck on fourth down, instead of a reverse, Wichita Falls would have made those two yards.

Our opponents claim a short pass would have caught the Indians flat-footed and would have won the game.

Since there is no way of proving either point, we maintain we are as correct in our guess as they are in theirs—and further that probably all of us couldn't make the C squad on the soda fountain team.

Incidentally, our remarks the other day and those today should not be construed as a criticism of Quarterback Pierson's work. Far be it from this writer to pan that kid, a little 15-year-old scrapper who is not only one of the best broken field runners on the squad, but a signal caller who is making life rather uncomfortable for J. E. Powell, the regular quarterback. If the play that Pierson had called on that fourth down Saturday had worked, Pierson would have been the town hero. We think he is a hero as it is, for it wasn't his fault that the play failed.

Shift Sends Gilmore To Olney Backfield

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, Oct. 18.—In an effort to get more coordination in his attack, Coach Albert Acker juggled his Cubs again today. The shifts of most importance involved Co-Captain Gilmore and Clint Hennig, who changed places, sending the big Dutchman back to an end post in lieu of Gilmore, who takes a halfback post. While today's changes may not mean permanent places for any one, they are indications of what may happen. Other changes indicated the graduation of Hoyt Williams up from the B squad to the center position in place of Crawford. Perkins, a regular guard, will likely be shifted to tackle and Walter True sent in to play his guard post. A. Pyeatt was sent back to the B squad.

With these changes Acker has five high class ball carriers in Co-Captains Gilmore and Graves, Elmore, Rue, and St. John. In cases of emergency Hennig and Perkins can play in the backfield and Graves and Gilmore can go into the line.

MOST DISTRICT RACES ARE ON

Only Three in League Have Yet to Start

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Twenty-six elimination games will be played in the class A division of the Texas Interscholastic league state football championship race Friday and Saturday. With the exception of districts 2, 14 and 16, all individual district championship races have started.

The Pampa Harvesters, with 19 to 0 victories over Borger and Plainview, are pacing district 1 with two victories and no defeats.

Colorado and Sweetwater, with one win each, are setting the district 3 pace. Colorado recently defeated McCamey, and last Saturday, Sweetwater whipped Midland, 54-0.

Down in the Valley

District 4, far down on the Texas-Mexico border, started its race last week when Bowie of El Paso trimmed Fabens, 25 to 0, and Ysleta whipped El Paso high, 19-0, to give the two victors the district lead.

In district 5, Vernon and Quanah are in a two-way tie for the leadership with a win each. Wichita Falls dropped to third place last week by losing a 6 to 0 game to Quanah. Vernon stopped Childress in a stubborn, 13 to 0 affair.

Sherman's 31 to 0 victory over the Dallas Highland Park team two weeks ago is the only championship game so far in district 6, giving the Bearkats the district lead.

Masons Have Two Wins

District 7 is well into its championship grind with Fort Worth Central, the powerful Fort Worth Masonic home and Fort Worth Polytechnic teams tied with perfect percentages. The Centralites and Masonic home boys have two wins each against one for Wesley Bradshaw's Polytechnic aggregation. Masonic uncovered power last week to beat Fort Worth Northside, 40 to 0, Central smothered Fort Worth Stripling, 21 to 0, and Polytechnic grabbed a 14 to 0 verdict from Mineral Wells.

District 8, composed entirely of Dallas high schools, has Sunset, Oak Cliff and Dallas Tech leading with one win each against no defeats. Sunset holds a victory over Woodrow Wilson. Oak Cliff recently walloped Forest, and last week, Dallast Tech trimmed North Dallas.

The recent game where Texarkana jolted Sulphur Springs is the only one so far in district 9 where Texarkana leads.

Athens Leads District 10

The race in district 10 started last week when the Athens Hornets stung Lufkin, 6 to 2, and Palestine waltzed over Nacogdoches, 20 to 0, making these two teams the pace setters for this district.

Corsicana's crushing 67 to 0 victory over Hillsboro last week opened the race in district 11 where only this one game was played.

There's a three-way tie for first place in district 12 between San Antonio Brackenridge, Tivy of Kerrville and San Antonio Thomas Jefferson. Brackenridge boasts three wins, Kerrville two and Thomas Jefferson one. Alamo Heights of San Antonio holds down second place with one victory and a defeat. Results in district 12 last week saw Kerrville beat San Antonio Tech, 19 to 0, Brackenridge nose out Del Rio, 9 to 6, and Thomas Jefferson drub San Antonio Alamo Heights, 13 to 0.

Houston Teams Win

Two Houston teams, John Reagan and Sam Houston, are showing the way in district 13 with a win each. The district 13 race started last week. John Reagan bested Bryan, 31 to 0, and Sam Houston overwhelmed Houston Milby, 97 to 0.

Clinton Leads Southwest Oklahoma Conference; Hollis, Elk City Second

ALTUS, Okla., Oct. 18.—Clinton retains the lead in the Southwestern Oklahoma conference with a 14 to 0 victory over Cordell, closely followed by Elk City who handed Erick a 12 to 0 beating, and Hollis who engaged Clarendon, Texas, in a non-conference go and won, 31 to 0.

Altus and Frederick also improved their standings with wins over Mangum and Hobart, as did Carnegie with a 12 to 6 score at Mountain View.

Featuring this week's play is the Clinton-Elk City game which will be played at Clinton Friday. These two undefeated and unscored on teams should furnish a thrilling battle for the lead in the conference. There seems to be little to choose between the two although Elk City has a dope advantage in comparing their 34 to 0 win over Cordell with Clinton's 14 to 0 victory, however Cordell played a much better game against Clinton than in the Elk City game.

Other games find Altus a favorite in the game with Erick, Carnegie and Mangum should play a close game with Mangum a slight favorite to win their first game although Carnegie has the more impressive record. Mangum displayed lots of fighting spirit in the Altus game last week.

Weatherford visits Hobart with little to chose between them, and Hollis is an overwhelming choice to whip Sayre.

Frederick goes to Vernon, Texas, for a non-conference battle with the strong Lions, and will undoubtedly have their hands full as Vernon always boasts a powerful team. Snyder comes to Cordell in a non-conference tilt in which the Southwestern conference entry is favored to win, while Mountain View will be visitors at Roosevelt in still another non-conference battle.

The standing:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.	Pts.	Op.
Clinton	3	0	1.000	39	0
Elk City	2	0	1.000	46	0
Hollis	1	0	1.000	20	6
Altus	2½	½	.833	56	0
Sayre	1½	½	.833	50	0
Carnegie	2	1	.667	19	13
Hobart	1½	1½	.500	7	33
Frederick	1½	1½	.500	7	33
Mountain View	½	1½	.167	6	15
Mangum	½	2½	.167	6	51
Weatherford	0	1	.000	6	27
Erick	0	1	.000	6	19
Cordell	0	3	.000	6	55

Games for October 21

Elk City at Clinton (night game).
Snyder at Cordell (non-conference).
Frederick at Vernon (non-conference).
Weatherford at Hobart.
Hollis at Sayre.
Mountain View at Roosevelt (non-conference).

Results Last Week
Mangum 0 at Altus 32.
Carnegie 12 at Mountain View 6.
Cordell 0 at Clinton 14.

Cotton Season Brings Munday Better Business

Special to The Record News.

MUNDAY, Texas, Oct. 18.—With favorable weather for gathering cotton, Munday has staged a business revival during the past three weeks such as it has not experienced in many years.

Business concerns report heavy sales and everybody is busy. Hundreds of families have come into the Munday area during the past few weeks, attracted here by the excellent cotton crop. They have been absorbed into the cotton fields as fast as they have arrived. However, it is stated that there is no demand for additional pickers in the territory, as with favorable weather the crop will be gathered very rapidly, there already having been more than 3,000 bales ginned at the local plants, and an equal number ginned in the outlying territory.

Arkansas Squad Gets Drill in Fundamentals

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 18. (AP)—The University of Arkansas football squad was put through a long drill in fundamentals today and wound up practice with a brisk scrimmage in preparation for the Louisiana State game at Shreveport Saturday.

Head Coach Thomsen expressed satisfaction with improvement shown by the sophomores who played against Baylor last week and announced that seven of them would start this week's game, which will be the team's 27th annual engagement.

TEXAS COACH GETS TEARFUL

Says Steers Haven't Much Chance Against Owls

AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—That the University of Texas Longhorns have only an outside chance for victory over the Rice Owls at Houston Saturday was the gloomy report handed Coach Clyde Littlefield by Assistant Coach C. J. Alderson who scouted the Owls in their game against the Loyola Wolves last Saturday.

After the Longhorn squad heard the scout's verdict, smiles were replaced with scowls and the squad took the field in an ugly mood, which presaged a red-hot battle when they meet the Feathered Tribe head-on at Houston Saturday.

Taking no chances on injuries, the Steer mentor banned scrimmages for the week and sent his charges through stiff signal drills, perfection of a better pass defense and dummy scrimmage.

AGGIES PRACTICE PASS DEFENSE

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Oct. 18. (AP)—The Texas Aggies practiced pass defense today, fearing that the Baylor Bears would resort to a passing game Saturday.

Peck Merka, a tackle, brought the injured list of Aggie linesmen to five today when it was discovered that he had twisted a knee in the Texas Christian game last Saturday. At first it was thought to have been only a bruise.

Just Hungry

BOSTON.—There's no telling what William Mahoney will do when he's hungry. When police found him he had broken the glass door of a restaurant, and finished eating a pie and several ham sandwiches. When they walked in he was lighting a cigaret. "I was hungry," he explained.

COYOTES PLAY PRACTICE GAME

McKinney Back in Top Shape in Long Scrimmage

The Coyotes scrimmaged yesterday afternoon with actual game conditions prevailing most of the time, as preparations went forward for the Grandfield game here Friday and the much more important game with Vernon a week later.

After Coach Jefferies had put the squad through a heavy session of fundamentals, two teams took the field, each bolstered with a smattering of regulars. They kicked off and were about half through a regulation game, with the first string team three touchdowns ahead, when Jefferies intervened and concentrated the boys on the old goal line punch.

Bob Decker scored the first stringers' first touchdown shortly after the kickoff when he picked up a blocked punt and ran it over. Burns McKinney and J. Z. Powell scored the other two touchdowns on lengthy runs.

McKinney's play is back to normal after his ragged play against Quanah Saturday. The fleet-footed backfielder, the principal running threat of the Coyote attack, had an "off day" against the Indians, the first time his play has wavered in his entire school career. But McKinney is philosophic enough to realise that the jinx hits the best of them sooner or later. He is bearing down in practice, and should be in his usual top form by the end of the week.

The first string team started the practice game yesterday with Greenwood and Brandon at ends, Decker and Tollett at tackles, Foster and McDaniel at guards, Rice at center, and Hawthorne, Pierson, Thompson and Fletcher in the backfield. The lineup included one shift from the old order, that of W. D. Tollett from center to tackle. Numerous changes in this lineup were made. Toward the last only Pierson of the first four remained in the backfield, with Jasper McBride, Burns McKinney and J. Z. Powell substituting for Hawthorne, Thompson and Fletcher. Powell called signals, while Pierson was used as a halfback.

The eleven facing this bunch started out with Robinson and Williamson at ends, Allen and Leroy McBride at tackles, Byrd and Johnson at guards, J. L. Creecy at center and Jimmie Hill, Powell and later Beck at quarterback, Jasper McBride and Cleo Creecy in the backfield.

Boston Baseball Trade Still In Doubt But Several Deals Are Expected Soon

By EDWARD J. NEIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—Even though all hands deny that the Braves, Cubs, Giants and Reds already have hooked up in one of the biggest of all baseball trades, managers all over the National league are tugging at the trunks of rival clubs like thieves in an apple orchard. Before long the fruit may fairly rain down.

There seems to be little foundation at the moment for Boston reports that Wally Berger, clubbing center fielder, and Babe Herman of the Reds ultimately will land here with the Giants to team with Mel Ott in one of the major league's outstanding outfields, with Kiki Cuyler and Gabby Hartnett winding up with the Braves, Freddy Lindstrom and Shanty Hogan with the Cubs, and Pat Malone at Cincinnati.

But—Bill Veeck, president of the Cubs, is reporting heading East with designs on the outstanding talent of the Giants, Dodgers, Braves and Phillies.

Max Carey, manager of the Robbins, is perched in full view of Sam Reardon in St. Louis, pleading his cast for one of the Cardinals' three first basemen.

Bill McKechnie, of the Braves, is in Boston, eager and willing to talk trade.

Billy Terry, bowing to the adulation of home crowds at a private celebration, has one ear cocked for long distance calls from the Giant office in New York, where he left a list of what he wants, and what he will give.

Ancient Steve McKeever, new president of the Dodgers, points to $300,000, set aside from the profits of the past season for the purpose of acquiring new talent.

While Carey, in St. Louis, attempts to pry either Jim Bottomley, Jim Collins, or even Pat Crawford away from the Cardinals, McKeever wants two right-handed pitchers of quality to round out a team he believes will be the strongest in the league. Already the Dodgers have spent $30,000 for Walter Beck, a right-hander who won 27 and lost 9 with Memphis last season.

The only man definitely considered on the block in Brooklyn is Dazzy Vance, the veteran who used to burn up the league. Hack Wilson, despite his failure to reach great heights with the Dodgers last season, drove in 122 runs.

The Cubs, facing stiffer home opposition next year by the White Sox's purchase of Al Simmons, Mule Haas, and Jimmy Dykes for $75,000 are scheduled to make a wholesale drive to repair the fences battered down by the Yankees in the world series.

PONIES BACK FROM SYRACUSE

Team Didn't Have to Use Passes, Says Coach

DALLAS, Oct. 18. (AP)—Coach Ray Morrison and his Southern Methodist Mustangs returned from New York today where Saturday they defeated Syracuse university, 16 to 6. Tired after the long train ride but willing to carry on, the Mustangs went from the union station to the Southern Methodist practice field where for two hours they engaged in routine practice. John Burleson, linesman, and Whitey Baccus, halfback, were nursing minor injuries, but will be ready for the Mustangs' game here Saturday night against Centenary college.

In explaining why his club used only a few passes against Syracuse after he had announced a return to the forward passing game, Morrison said it was not necessary because his backs gained consistently through the Syracuse front wall. Morrison plans to combat the Centenary team with passes Saturday night.

Fishermen Pay $3,410 To Fish in Lake Altus

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Oct. 18.—A sum of $3,410 has been paid this season for fish caught out of Lake Altus.

This sum of money was collected from the time the lake was opened for fishing on May 1 to the end of the month of September, according to records which have been compiled at the office of Miss Jessie McKinley, city clerk.

Several annual permits for fishing in the lake have been sold by the city, while the major portion of the sales are for shorter periods.

Doctors in the wilderness of central Alaska are often called out on a 10-day trip by dog sled.

FOXX RECEIVES PLAYER AWARD

Home Run King Selected Loop's Prized Hand

By ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—Jimmy Foxx, the Maryland mauler and new home run king of the major leagues, is the choice of the experts as the American league's most valuable player for 1932.

The first baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics, by polling 75 points out of a maximum of 80 in the vote conducted by a committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, beat his New York rival, Lafruping Lou Gehrig, by a decisive margin. Gehrig, winner in 1927 and new runner-up for the third successive year, received 55 points.

Klein Receives Honor

The selection of Foxx makes the most valuable player contest an all-Philadelphia affair this year, Chuck Klein, Phillie outfield slugger, already has been designated as the National league's outstanding star of the year, in preference to Lon Warneke of the Cubs and Lefty O'Doul of the Dodgers. The vote in both contests was made public by J. Roy Stockton of St. Louis, chairman of the selection committee in each league.

Foxx is the third of Connie Mack's outstanding stars to gain this individual distinction within the past five years. Mickey Cochrane won the official league award in 1928. Bob Grove was the choice last year of the writers' association, which has taken over the job of selection since the formal awards were abolished by the National and American leagues.

Foxx's Greatest Year

Although nosed out within the last week for the batting championship by Dale Alexander of the Red Sox, Foxx enjoyed his greatest year despite the slump of the A's as a team. The big first sacker, with 58 home runs, set a new major league record for right-handed batsmen and came the closest of any one to touching Babe Ruth's high mark of 60. Foxx also led both leagues in runs driven in, with 167, and wound up with a batting percentage of .364.

The result of the American league poll put a premium on slugging. Foxx, Gehrig, Heinie Manush of Washington and Earl Averill of Cleveland finished in the top four places, in order, with Lefty Gomes, Yankees southpaw pitcher, fifth

DE VALERA FOR IRISH REPUBLIC

House of Commons Told Of Recent Conference

LONDON, Oct. 18. (AP)—In a report to the house of commons today on last week's negotiations over the Anglo-Irish controversy, Dominions Secretary J. H. Thomas said President Eamon de Valera had told him the only permanent solution of the conflict would be the establishment of a united Irish republic.

Mr. Thomas' report clearly showed that no progress toward reconciliation had been achieved. In fact, the breach was widened, as the Free State delegates countered Britain's demand for land annuities with a demand for some 400,000,000 pounds (currently $1,380,000,000) for alleged over-taxation in Ireland during the century and a quarter after the act of union in 1800.

Mr. Thomas gave no indication about what step the government would take next in connection with the tariff war with Dublin.

Although the Free State president contended that the establishment of a united Irish republic was the only way to solve the controversy, he conceded, Mr. Thomas said, that such a republic should have some sort of connection with the British empire.

The Anglo-Irish controversy had its inception in annuities claimed by England for land turned over to Irish farmers. Mr. De Valera refused to remit these annuities, and a tariff war resulted.

Mr. Thomas said that in the London negotiations Mr. De Valera presented his case thus:

(1) He denied the validity of the agreements on which the payments to Britain were based.

(2) He asserted that no ultimate financial settlement ever was made.

(3) He contended that a new settlement should be made covering all financial matters, including alleged over-taxation in Ireland since 1800 and the alleged loss sustained as a result of Britain's departure from the gold standard. The total claim was about 400,000,000 pounds.

There was a free exchange of views, Mr. Thomas said, and "although the government were actuted by a sincere desire to end the unhappy dispute it was obvious that the Irish Free State representative had no intention of either admitting the validity or the justice of the previous agreements."

Young People Hold Rally At Memphis

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Oct. 18.—A young people's rally of the Clarendon district was held here at the First Methodist church Saturday and Sunday. Approximately 150 young people and leaders from Clarendon, Quitaque, Turkey, Estelline, Lakeview, Dodsonville, Plaska and other towns in the district were registered for the two days. Bob Birchfield of Dodsonville is president of the organization.

Hoover's Oratorical Brigade Sweeps Country With Pleas For Re-Election

Administration Marshals Largest Number of Talent Ever To Battle on Presidential Campaign Front

By CHARLES S. HAYDEN
Record News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—If President Herbert Hoover doesn't win the election Nov. 8 it will not be through any lack of forensic ability, for never before have the oratorical forces of an administration been marshaled to such a degree on the campaign battle front. True, no one among the cabinet officers and their assistants who are flitting about the country from stump to stump are as powerful advocates as Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes or Senator William E. Borah, who led the Hoover oratorical brigade four years ago, but what they may lack in force they make up in numbers.

Eight Cabinet Speakers

No less than eight members of the cabinet have been called upon to participate actively in the campaign with a series of speeches while 10 members of the "little cabinet," consisting of assistant secretaries, have taken to the hustings and are spreading the administration gospel far and wide.

The cabinet members actively promoting their party's cause are Odgen L. Mills, secretary of the treasury; Patrick J. Hurley, secretary of war; Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state; Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of interior; Charles Francis Adams, secretary of the navy; Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture; William N. Doak, secretary of labor; Walter F. Brown, postmaster general.

Thus far neither Atty. Gen. William D. Mitchell nor Secretary Roy D. Chapin of the commerce department have participated in the oratorical bombardment, although the former did issue his highly critical report on the bonus marchers, issued on the eve of the Portland convention of the American Legion, while the latter contents himself with encouraging statements as to improvement in business conditions.

"Little Cabinet Orators"

The "little cabinet" members who are, have been or expect to be on the campaign firing line before election day include the following:

Ernest Lee Jahncke, assistant secretary of the navy; F. Trubee Davidson and Frederichk H. Payne, assistant secretaries of war; William R. Castle Jr., undersecretary of state; W. Irving Glover and John W. Philp, assistant postmaster general; R. W. Dunlap, assistant secretary of agriculture; David S. Ingalls, assistant secretary of the navy; Joseph M. Dixon, assistant secretary of interior; F. K. A. Eble, commissioner of customs; Arthur A. Ballantine, assistant secretary of the treasury; and Julius Klein, assistant secretary of commerce.

Of course President Hoover is his own best spokesman and since abandoning the plan for a "front porch" campaign, making speeches at Des Moines and Cleveland, with short talks at cities en route, has made an impression. Just how far reaching this has been only the results on election day can tell. Vice President Charles Curtis has been barnstorming through the country but the Republican national committee has allowed him to make but one appearance in the East, when he opened the campaign in Pennsylvania. His views on prohibition, it is felt, might result in heckling and, since the vice president has been known to lose his temper, it was deemed best to keep him out of harms way.

Didn't "Ring Bell"

Former President Calvin Coolidge, according to the strategy of Chairman Everett Sanders, was to be the "ace" of the campaign and a monster meeting was staged for him in Madison Square garden, New York. However, while the ex-president was given a most cordial reception, his speech was a distinct disappointment to members of the G. O. P. high command. They suggest it was more in the nature of a plea of confession and avoidance which, delivered in the dry flat monotone, somehow didn't "ring the bell." Perhaps the ex-president will be used in New England during the closing days of the campaign but the reception of his speech in New York has effectually quelled any demand that he tour the country.

Ginnings in Sunset Area Below Early Estimates

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, Oct. 18.—At the close of Saturday, Oct. 15, 233 bales of cotton had been ginned at Sunset since the ginning season opened here Sept. 3, a far less number than an earlier prediction had estimated. In August the crop in this section was estimated at 1,000 bales, but the yield will fall considerably short of that number. Boll weevils destroyed all except the bottom crop of bolls and damaged a large per cent of the bottom crop.

Advice To Investors

By Charles W. Storm—Editor of the "News Service of Wall Street"

J. R. C.—What is your opinion of Wheeling Electric first mortgage 5 per cent bonds?

Answer—Wheeling Electric company first 5s, 1941, are rated as a high grade investment and are quoted 98 bid to yield 5.28 per cent; Wheeling Electric company is a subsidiary of American Gas and Electric company and supplies electric light and power to 13 communities in West Virginia and Ohio including Wheeling. It has done well in past years but recently earnings have been adversely affected by general conditions. However, capitalization is well balanced and conservative management is efficient so that the first mortgage bonds continue to occupy a strong investment position. Interest requirements are being covered currently better than three times and such charges should not become burdensome. The 5s of 1941 representing sole funded debt are outstanding at $3,084,000 and hold a first lien on properties valued at more than twice that amount.

R. W.—Please tell me something about Gold Dust common stock.

Answer—Earnings in 1931 declined to $1.73 per share of common against $3.61 in 1930. Book value of common about $14 a share. Ratio of current assets to current liabilities over 4 to 1, working capital nearly $16,500,000. Best Foods division recently segregated into controlled company in which General Foods has interest. Is introducing "Silver Dust" companion product to "Gold Dust." Company reasonably well situated in package specialty and flour milling industries, but facing stiff competition. Stock pays $1.00 annually and is a speculation.

A. B. M.—Is there any assurance that American Water Works and Electric will continue to pay the present dividend rate on the common stock next year.

Wichita Falls Record News.

Answer—The company faces no important near term debt maturities and has maintained a fair cash position, which affords some assurances that the dividend action to be taken when directors meet to decide upon next year's initial payment will not be adverse to stockholders, although earnings have declined to a level little above the current $2 rate of payments. The present basis was instituted with payment of 50 cents on Aug. 1, against quarterly disbursements of 75 cents previously. Earnings for 1932 are now estimated at around $2.10 per share. Some stability has been afforded by operation of water properties, but income from sale of electric power has declined sharply because of the highly industrialized character of the areas served. By the same token, however, and also because of a sizable leverage factor represented by the capital setup, gradual expansion of steel mill operations and other industrial activity will find quick response in per share earnings.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—An early advance in cotton was followed by fractions under liquidation and southern selling but after easing off from 6.36 to 6.18 for December prices steadied on covering with that delivery closing at 6.26. The general market closed steady, net unchanged to 3 points higher.

The opening was 3 to 7 points higher in response to relatively firm Liverpool cables and prospects for rains in West Texas and Oklahoma. The early offerings were readily absorbed by trade buying and covering. Liverpool and Bombay buying was also reported.

Reports from Bombay said the Indian boycott had been lifted and Liverpool cables reported Bombay and scattered buying with trade calling in that market, also an increasing turnover in cotton cloth, especially for Indian account.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18. (AP)—Although an early advance was lost in cotton today, a sharp upturn in stocks influenced a good demand in the late trading and final prices showed gains of 6 to 8 points. The early strength was due to good cables and covering but the market encountered hedge selling and this coupled with a lack of buying support forced prices down most of the 8½ bale under the high. The subsequent advance buoyed prices 13 to 15 points from the bottom level.

Port receipts 23,065, for week 144,661, for season 2,279,197, last season 2,675,197. Exports 33,152, for week 95,214, for season 1,647,841, last season 1,648,373. CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (AP)—A 10-point bulge in early cotton trading today was turned into a 6-point net loss before midday. A rally followed and final prices on the board of trade were unchanged to 5-6 points net higher. The opening was 2-6 points up which was a poor response to cables that were about 12 penny points better than due. A slight further advance occurred in early business, but the bulge soon faded out when a downward trend developed in securities but there was a shaky rally on trade buying. Rain fell over the Atlantic coast states, but the rest of the belt was clear. Rain and colder was forecast for the extreme east and clearing for the rest of the belt.

Liverpool Cotton

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 18. (INS)—Spot cotton was quiet at the opening today with prices nearly steady. Sales totaled 13,000 bales, including 2,000 American bales.

Stock Prices Gain On Market As Rail Shares Again Lead In Upturn

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (US)—On continued light trading stocks today managed to close with fractional net gains. No particular significance could be gleaned from the session, although optimists presumably will attempt to interpret quite bullishly the performance of the rail shares. These closed with an average gain larger than the industrial or public utility groups.

The rails have on several occasions led the way for the entire list, both on the upside and downside. Actually, the full fluctuations from high to low throughout the market were too limited to suggest more than temporary and speculative importance. Tobacco shares were distinctly weak and for a time threatened to upset the entire list. A late rally, however, closed the market moderately higher on the day.

Sterling exchange suffered the sharpest drop for any day this year, showing a loss of more than four cents to the pound. Frankly, many well-informed observers have been anticipating lower levels for the English currency for some time. England's stabilization efforts delayed such a movement for many months, but it is recognized that the English situation still is none too comfortable.

The reports that the pound would be stabilized around $3.50 have of course turned out to be false. Worthy students of British affairs recognize that stabilization would be foolhardy until the major issues in the nation's financial affairs are definitely settled. These include final settlement of the war debts, adjustment of the German commercial debt to Britain, and balancing of the British budget.

It may be that there is under way a movement out of English currency into American investments, although this would be difficult to determine beyond question. Nevertheless, it was reported that several houses with British affiliations were buying American shares today, particularly railroad stocks. Europe of course is very familiar with American rail issues and any major flow of English funds here would at least in part found reflection among the rails. Union Pacific, Atchison, New York Central, Canadian Pacific, Pennsylvania are among the best-known issues among European speculators and investors.

Such purchases, under the circumstances, however, need not be motivated entirely by investment considerations, since they would represent primarily a desire to move funds out of England temporarily.

Weakness in tobacco stocks was explained by reports of serious inroads being made into the leading companies' business by the 10-cent cigaret brands. The percentage of 10-cent cigarets being sold is known to have substantially increased in recent months. It was also reported that the September cigaret production report due soon will show possibly a 8 per cent decline, after August had disclosed the first gain in months, compared with corresponding 1931 months.

Reynolds "B" dropped to 30, where the yield is exactly 10 per cent on the $3 dividend, which last year was covered by a 64-cent margin, American Tobacco "B" closed at 67⅞, to yield 8.84 per cent on the $6 rate (inclusive of $1 extra). American Tobacco's income last year equaled $9.07 a share. Lorillard finished at 13. Its yield on a $1.20 dividend is 9.23 per cent; earnings in 1931 equaled $2.13 a share. Liggett & Myers dropped the severest, 1¾ points, yet the stock is one of the most favored issues in the group, though relatively inactive compared with the other leading cigaret shares. At 57¼ Liggett yields 7 per cent on the $4 dividend, in addition to which $1 extra has been paid, which would bring the yield up to 8.75 per cent. The company in 1931 earned $6.87 a share.

Commodity markets were generally quiet. Steel operations for the current week were reported at 20 per cent, up slightly from the preceding week and this helped steel common somewhat, the stock closing up 1⅛. Most other leading issues were firm throughout the session. Atchison closed up 3¼ points, American Can 2. DuPont 1. Alaska Juneau returned to the active list.

The New York City financial situation was closely watched. It is felt that drastic economy here would have favorable repercussions throughout the country. A satisfactory solution of New York's problem was especially awaited in view of reports concerning other municipal situations.

Speculative sentiment was inclined, from the short-term view, toward a modest optimism. This was predicated m

Escaped Convict Given Two Years in Trial Here

J. R. Simmons, alias James T. Booker, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary after pleading guilty Tuesday before Judge Allan D. Montgomery in the 30th district court to a charge of theft over $50.

The sentence was made to run concurrently with a five-year balance of a six-year term which Simmons has yet to serve in the Louisiana state penitentiary. That term was imposed on a burglary charge also, it was stated. Simmons was said to have escaped from the Louisiana prison several months ago, and admitted his identity after being fingerprinted and photographed at local police headquarters.

The defendant was arrested here in connection with the theft of an automobile which was wrecked a few moments after being taken from its parking place. Louisiana officers have been notified to come for the prisoner.

Valentine Wins Student Approval In First Of Series Of Concerts

Before student bodies which filled the auditoriums of Wichita Falls Junior college and the Zundelowitz Junior high Tuesday morning, it took John Valentine, character baritone, just about two minutes to bring his hearers completely under his spell of an excellent voice supported by consummate dramatic finish.

Engaged under the auspices of the department of public school music for a series of four concerts in this city, Mr. Valentine scored a complete success in his first appearance, and afforded the junior college and high school student bodies a genuine musical holiday.

Spoken continuity which links together the numbers comprising Mr. Valentine's program create the atmosphere for each song, and convert the recital into a district unit. Dramatic interpretation makes of each number a living story, clear in detail and rich in color; but a masterful restraint preserves the thorough musicianship with which Mr. Valentine is equipped.

No group of songs offered Tuesday aroused more delightful enthusiasm than the rollicking "Rolling Down to Rio," and "De Glory Road." In the latter number, Mr. Valentine enacts a thrilling story of the cotton field negro's vision of his ascent to Heaven.

For a group of cowboy songs, Mr. Valentine dresses in full regalia as a cowhand, and sings favorite range melodies with great sincerity.

The ranking artist of the team, Mr. Valentine, received abundant support from Marshall Elder's piano in Tuesday's concerts. Accompaniments were unfailingly in fullest accord with the singer, and were in themselves brilliant tonal pictures. Mr. Elder also won lasting applause with a number of piano solos, his comprehension and sympathy for the composition equalling a masterful technique.

Wednesday's program includes two recitals, the first at the Reagan Junior High school at 10:45 a. m. and the second at the Junior college auditorium at 3:30 p. m. The closing concert, that to be given Wednesday afternoon at the Junior college auditorium, is for elementary school pupils and for the public generally.

Nominal admission prices are being charged. Net proceeds of the concerts will revert to the public school music fund. The artists were presented at both schools Tuesday by Miss Erma Nala Voss, supervisor of music in the public schools here.

HOME GARDENS HELP NEEDY

Free Seed Returns Fine Harvest to Planters

With the breath of winter already felt in the air, numerous families aided during the past year by the Family Relief association are in better position to face the coming winter months because of the home-garden campaign waged by the association last spring, according to Mrs. R. P. Willis, secretary.

Besides having provided a constant and varied supply of fresh vegetables through the spring and summer for many needy families, the gardens made possible by the association's distribution of seeds have produced supplies which have been canned and saved against the winter's needs.

One woman, according to Mrs. Willis, improvised a pressure cooker, arranged it over a wood fire, and canned about 70 quarts of vegetables. The store includes green beans, squash, okra, cucumbers, black-eyed peas, and soups. Use of sample cans recently has shown that the produce is being preserved in first-class condition.

Many of the families given an opportunity during the spring to work for groceries also were supplied with garden seeds, the home gardens totalling at least 95. In some cases, a surplus over family needs was raised, and in the absence of equipment for canning, was sold to add to the family's means.

The distribution of seeds last spring included turnips, mustard, beans, beets, onions, peas, okra, squash, swiss chard, radishes, lettuce, and spinach. The association plans a resumption and extension of the same service next spring, Mrs. Willis said. The Family Relief association is one of nine organizations operating under the supervision of the community chest, for which the annual drive is now being planned.

BOWIE ROAD PLANS READY

Three Underpasses Provided at Rail Crossings

Plans for eliminating the present crooked overpass on state highway No. 50 west of Bowie were checked by Division Engineer D. M. Puckett here Tuesday. The plans will be forwarded to the Austin office of the highway department at once for final checking and advertisement of bids on the project.

In addition to elimination of the overpass west of Bowie the project includes elimination of the present low underpass east of that community. The plans call for three underpasses. Two of the structures will be built under the Denver and Rock Island railroads west of the present overpass and the third will be constructed east of Bowie under the Denver tracks. The third also will serve highway No. 2 traffic.

The plans call for 3.96 miles of grading, drainage and concrete pavement. The new surfacing will connect with city paving in the town of Bowie. Highway No. 2 enters Bowie from Ringgold and follows the same routing as No. 50 after leaving the community. The plans have been made to handle future construction of No. 2 out of Bowie.

Division engineers have been working the past week on re-surveying the right of way for No. 5 across Montague county. Field notes and maps of the route will be furnished county officials of Montague as soon as possible in order for work to proceed on securing the 100-foot right of way for the highway.

City Issues Serum in Fight on Diphtheria

Efforts of the public to check the spread of diphtheria by providing immunization through the use of serums was continued Tuesday, according to Dr. R. B. Wolford, city health officer.

Twenty additional children were given serum injections at the city health office Tuesday, and two new cases were quarantined. More than 50 persons were inoculated against diphtheria at Dr. Wolford's office Monday, and three cases were quarantined.

According to telephone calls received at the city health office, it was said, numerous other children were given the serum injections by family physicians privately obtained. Dr. Wolford repeated his announcement that all persons unable to procure their own serum treatment should report to the city health offices for that purpose as a measure of individual and public safety.

Mr. Falls explained the fundamentals of the game of football to the girls so that they might enjoy the game more. After Miss Mangum, the pep squad sponsor, gave the girls a few instructions, the squad was dismissed until the next drill day.

C-C To Suspend Committee Work For Chest Drive

Committee activities of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce will be postponed until Nov. 1, except for major projects that require immediate attention, President A. E. Kelly said Tuesday. This program is planned in view of the community chest drive and the enlistment of chamber members in divisional chest work. A business meeting of the chamber directors was held Tuesday morning.

The lull in activities will be taken as an opportunity by officials for vacations. Members of the group did not take summer vacation periods due to intense jubilee activity. Manager John Boswell plans to leave Wednesday or Thursday for Dallas to attend the mid-year meeting of the Texas Commercial Executives association of which he is president.

A board meeting will be held Friday night and the membership of the T. C. E. A. will be guests of the state fair at Dallas Saturday. Mr. Boswell and a group of the association members will leave Dallas Saturday night for Memphis, Tenn., to attend the annual meeting of the National Commercial Secretaries association. The convention opens Monday for three days. Mr. Boswell plans an outing before returning to Wichita Falls about Nov. 1.

Miss S. J. Tyers, corresponding secretary for statisticians of the chamber, will start her vacation Saturday. Mrs. Wilson Reedy, office secretary and bookkeeper will leave when Miss Tyers returns. Other members of the staff took early summer vacations.

RETURNS FROM CONVENTION

R. E. Wentling, local manager of the W. T. Grant company, returned Monday from Atlanta, Ga., where he attended a six-day convention for store managers. Mr. Wentling declared prospects for business are brighter for the fall and winter in the country through which he traveled, particularly in Texas.

Members of the group protested the "unlucky" number but were overruled when the success of the party in charge of 13 leaders was recalled.

The group included Walter D. Cline, A. E. Kelly, Leslie Humphrey, Tom Burnett, B. D. Donnell, R. E. Huff, Lester Jones, Horrace Robbins, R. E. Shepherd, Marvin Smith, T. J. Waggoner Jr., John F. O'Donohoe and John Boswell.

Mr. O'Donohoe, finance chairman, pointed out the widespread distribution of jubilee funds with practically all bills paid. The total cost of the 50th anniversary celebration was approximately $23,000 with the majority of expenditures for labor. A check for $1,311.55 to cover the federal tax on the rodeo show was mailed by the organization Tuesday.

The jubilee funds of $23,000 were secured with subscriptions by local citizens totaling about $7,000 before the party, approximately $14,000 in receipts from the rodeo and $2,000 in receipts from the pageant.

The jubilee executive committee originally included 14 members but resignation of one of the group as plans for the party were being formed was accepted and the place unfilled.

Committee To Name Successor To Rev. Bratton

A committee to secure a successor to the Rev. W. D. Bratton, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, to take charge of the local parish Dec. 1, 1932, has been named by the vestry of the church. The resignation of Mr. Bratton to accept a call to the Grace Episcopal church of Memphis, Tenn., was accepted by the vestry at a meeting Monday night.

The committee includes Merrill W. Blair, Tarlton Morrow and Dr. Wallace J. Masters to work with J. H. Allison, senior warden, and E. C. Jordan, secretary. Mr. Bratton received the call to Memphis last week and went to that city to confer with Grace church members, returning here Saturday. Mr. Bratton's resignation was accepted with regret by the vestry on behalf of the congregation and the group is drafting resolutions for presentation to the retiring rector.

Mr. Bratton has served the local parish five years, coming here from Houston. He is the son of Bishop Theodore DuBose Bratton of Mississippi.

What Has LIGHT To Do With Education?
Boys and girls have enough unpleasantness during their school careers without deliberately adding to it with difficult study periods due to improper lighting. Eyes grow tired and weak, dispositions are ruined, little bodies fail to develop, and there is trouble all the way 'round, unless particular notice is taken of home and school lighting facilities. And it's so simple—so easy to have good light in proper proportions. All you have to do is add a globe here, change one there, move the portable lamp around a bit and keep all sockets filled. Inadequate lighting is nothing but false economy—there is no reason for it.
