By Associated Press.

This is positively stated by those close to the government, although the Gearman counter proposals have not been made public here.

Dr. Simons, the foreign secretary, did not present the new proposals to the richstag today for the reason that there is a paragraph in the note to President Harding suggesting that he feel free to query back for further information any point not clear before [illegible] the note to the entente.

The Germans suggest making an [illegible] in the payment of the reparations flexible, dependent upon the recovery of German industries. An international loan is suggested, to be floated immediately for the purpose of placing ready cash at the disposal of the entente, but no sum is named.

Germany expresses her willingness to pledge the customs revenues as guarantees and further offers to deliver manufactured articles to the allies with the understanding that Germany will pay the producers and get credit on the indemnities. Germany also offers immediate participation in the work of resteration in the devastated areas; labor and materials to be supplied by Germany and credited against the indemnities.

No suggestion is made of Germany's

CONFESSES MURDER OF TWO WHITES

Negro Under Death Sentence Admits Killing Woman and Daughter.

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, April 25.—Virgil Sampson, 24 years old, negro, under sentence for criminal assault upon a young girl at Honey Grove recently, confessed today to having murdered Mrs. Blanch Wadford and her 3-year-old daughter at the Wadford home south of Paris on January 1, 1920.

Luther Wadford, husband of Mrs. Wadford and father of the murdered child, is charged with the crime and has been confined in the Lamar county jail since his arrest after the double killing. The negro was a witness against Wadford at the latter's examining trial.

The negro was brought here from Paris yesterday by two state rangers and the sheriff of Lamar county and was placed in the Dallas county jail for safe keeping. Feeling was running high against him at Paris in consequence of the attack upon the girl, official said.

Sampson was convicted in Paris on April 12 for the assault, according to his confession, and was sentenced to be hanged May 27. The negroe's statement was made by him voluntarily to District Attorney Maury Hughes and Sheriff Dan Harston this morning.

"I'm telling the truth about this," the negro declared at the close of his confession. "I would have told it at Paris, but I was afraid of being burned by a mob. I don't want anybody else to suffer for what I have done."

VOLSTEAD FIGHTS TO OUST BEER

Author of "Dry Law" Introduces Bill in House to Prohibit Sale of Malt as "Tightening" Measure.

Chairman of Judiciary Committee Declares Beverage Has No Medicinal Value Despite Doctors' Claims.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—As the first step of the fight in congress so tighten up the Volstead prohibition enforcement law, a bill designed to prohibit the sale of beer on a doctor's prescription, was introduced in the house today by Chairman Volstead of the judiciary committee.

The measure would not prohibit use of wine for medical purposes, but would make more specific and stringent the regulations on this subject.

Declaring there was no real necessity for beer as a medicine, Mr. Volstead announced that his bill described as supplemental to the national prohibition act, was put forward at this time to meet the situation created by the opinion of former Attorney General Palmer, that beer and wine, under the Volstead act, could be prescribed for the ailing.

Tentative regulations announced last week by prohibition Commissioner Kramer, but which must await approval by David Blair, the new commissioner of internal revenue, an arbitrary limit of 4 7-8 gallons of beer and three gallons of wine was fixed as the maximum that might be prescribed by a physician at any one time. Mr. Palmer had ruled that the law fixed no limit.

Regardless of what Commissioner Blair may rule, Mr. Volstead indicated that the prohibition forces in the house were prepared to take the beer bull by the horns and let the world know that there will be no beer. The bill will be referred to Mr. Volstead's committee for clearing and report. Members opposed to any modification of the dry law said tonight it probably would be reported to the house substantially as drawn. There were predictions from many dry quarters that its passage was certain.

After counting noses on the committee, Mr. Volstead is strongly of the opinion, he said, that there will be no turn back on the question of prohibition.

After turning thumbs down on beer, the new Volstead bill would close the gates to importation of liquor and shut down distilleries, until the present stock of about 40,000,000 gallons now in bonded warehouses had been exhausted. The bill also would impose certain additional restrictions on the manufacture of acoholic preparations, "masquerading as medicine and tonics, which prohibition leaders assert are drinkable.

Still another tightening up section would meet the demand from some quarters that the attorney general should have a more direct share in the enforcement of the law.

Oklahoma Asks Wichita County Patented Lands

Attorney General Freeling Contends Red River Has Shifted Northward and Requests Commission to Award Portion of State From Childress County to Texarkana.

BY B. N. TIMMONS
Record News Staff Bureau

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Contending that the course of Red River has been altered to the northward since February 22, 1821, the date of the ratification of the Spanish treaty, and that the rightful boundary of Oklahoma is along the south bluff lines of the river bed, Attorney General Freeling of Oklahoma asks that the Supreme Court appoint a commission of three to permanently fix and mark this boundary, in the decree submitted today to the court for approval, following the victory of Oklahoma in the Texas-Oklahoma boundary dispute.

Such a holding as asked in the decree submitted to the court by Freeling would take not only the oil lands in Wichita county, including those patented by the state of Texas, but would take hundreds of square miles of rich river bottom farm lands from Childress county to Texarkana.

Texans Vigorously Resist.

Texas attorneys, including Attorney General Cureton of Texas and former United States Attorney General Thomas Watt Gregory, of Texas, who, with the attorneys for the Federal government, intervenors in the suit, also submitted decrees, vigorously dissenting from Freeling's stand.

The Texans contend that the bank of Red River is the land which holds in place the waters of Red River between high water mark and low water mark.

They contend that high water mark must not embrace heights which the river reaches in extraordinary freshets which occur only at long intervals.

Formal Consideration of Resolution Will Begin in Upper Branch of Congress Tuesday Morning.

In the senate the Knox peace resolution, revised in minor detail was reported favorably by the foreign relations committee and announcement was made by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, republican leader, that it would be called up tomorrow.

Two similar resolutions dealing separately with Germany and Austria were introduced in the house by Chairman Porter of the foreign affairs committee, who announced that they would not be taken up until after the senate acts on the Knox measure.

Although the senate is to begin formal consideration tomorrow of the Knox resolution, it was not certain tonight that actual debate would start before Wednesday.

An informal conference tomorrow between Senator Underwood of Alabama, democratic leader and minority member of the foreign relations committee, with a few other prominent democratic senators, was planned to discuss a course of procedure. Senator Underwood said he expected democratic action would be similar to that on the first Knox resolution, which was vetoed by Former President Wilson. DR. DOUGLASS DENIES CLAIM OF DAIRYMEN

Denial of assertions made by a farmer to the Record News Monday morning that the dairies of the town were improperly kept and improperly or only inspected, was made Monday afternoon by Dr. A. H. Douglass, city health officer.

"Who is he, anyway?" asked the health officer, "if these conditions exist I would like to know them.

"Our inspections show that milk furnished in this city comes from 95 per cent inspected cows and the dairies are in as good condition as will be found in Texas, though I am frank to say they are not on a par with the dairies in northern dairying sections.

"During the last two years the dairies have made great improvements and I believe these men are conscientiously trying to perfect their establishments. Anyone can pick out isolated cases of neglect, but so far we have never had any trouble with the dairymen after pointing out defects.

"Our tests of animals furnishing the city its milk supply show that tubercular infection is not prevalent.

"The department would really appreciate people telling it of irregularities in the milk business, but we must have specific facts and not merely fancies.

"As for our friend in Monday morning paper, I say 'let him ramble.'"

State Senator Impressed With Wichita Falls

"I have heard much of Wichita Falls, but I can truthfully say, on my first visit, that the half has not been told me of your wonderful city," declared Senator Woodville Rogers of McKinney, the youngest member of the Texas state senate, who is visiting Judge C. F. Spencer here. Senator Rogers, who is 30 years of age, represents the district composed of Collin, Hunt and Raines counties.

He is in Wichita Falls on a purely social mission, Senator Rogers says, although he did state that he hoped to be able to make some speeches in the congressional district next year in behalf of his colleague in the senate, Guin Williams of Decatur, who will be a candidate for congress.

As a member of the lower house of the legislature, Senator Rogers resigned to enter the army at the beginning of the war, and participated in practically all of the major operations in which American troops were engaged.

Following his return from the army at the last election, he was selected to represent his district in the upper branch of the legislature.

He is the author of the bill making appropriation for the hospital for former soldiers, victims of tuberculosis, at Kerrville.

AMERICANISM CHIEF TOPIC OF DISCUSSION

was the most important work for the club women to take up, the most valuable service they could accomplish for themselves and homes and cities.

The Highest Interest.

"There are many things that are important.

"Child welfare work is important.

"The waging of battles for civic betterment is important.

"Philanthropy is important.

"To beautify your surroundings is important.

"To influence legislation of the right sort, for social, industrial and moral health, is important. One thing may appeal to one, another thing to another.

"But there is one thing which should be of highest interest and importance to all. The Americanization of our people.

"Not alone the Americanization of the immigrant, but the Americanization of our own children.

"They should be taught the history of their country, that they may love it. They should be taught the government of their country, that they may understand it and grow to be intelligent citizens. They should be taught the agricultural and industrial possibilities that they may become valuable citizens.

"Our own great statesman, Mirabeau B. Lamar, has said, 'Education of the people is the greatest safeguard of democracy.'

"We are working in the homes for this betterment of living conditions, we are making a scientific study of homemaking, of child raising, are putting our homes on the budget system and operating as any well regulated business.

"But we will have to go outside Americanization work. We must work with our ballot.

"Must Use Ballot"

"There are many laws that pertain to the home, and the children in the home. We must use our ballot here, must use it unitedly, and continuously."

Mrs. Henry's address took up various phases of the work of the tasks that are at hand for the women to take up. She reviewed in a very interesting manner a number of phases of the development of womep's clubs up to the present time, and closed with a strong appeal for the united effort of the women of the first district in the Americanization work.

Mrs. Floore, the state president, further accented this appeal, and made a strong plea for more union among the women.

She referred to recent legislation for a wage scale for women and girls in Texas. But very few of the club women, she said, who had professed an interest in this law made their wishes known to their representatives. The opponents of these bills she said all made their wishes known in the matter.

Must Pay Poll Tax.

Women must pay their poll taxes and vote for the right measures, she said.

Mrs. Floore closed with a reminder that "women's work is the same today, as when our grandmothers lived. God made us home makers and housekeepers. Our sphere of activity has only widened, the world is now our house but our work is the same, keeping this house good, sweet and wholesome for the children."

Mrs. Paul Donald, first vice president, was in the chair, and her opening remarks were in an extravagantly complimentary vein.

Dr. H. D. Knickerbocker, pastor of the church in which the sessions are being held, delivered a stirring invocation.

Mayor Gives Welcome

'VARSITY CLUB MINSTREL SHOW MAKES BIG HIT

The University club minstrel and vaudeville which opened Monday night is above the average of home talent affairs and better than a great many "big time" "vodevil" bills, the act "In the Spring," presented by a cast of high school students consisting of seven charming girls and one boy, especially deserves the title of "headliner."

The bill is really a "potpourri" of black face acts, jazz music, song numbers and is well balanced, pleasing and of just enough duration to "get over" well.

A capacity house enjoyed the first performance of the show which will be repeated again tonight only, as the matinee which had been announced has been called off.

To get back to the show. "In the Spring," presented by Misses Marguerite Fisher, Dorothy Eargle, Jane Walters, Louise Scott, Ethel Owens, Marjorie Dulin, Onetia Deems and Carl Sparks, is a delightful playlet which has as its idea the age old fact that "in the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."

Doc Ross's well known jazz makers start the bill off. Miss Lillian Evans added a song to the contributions of the orchestra which was greatly appreciated.

Following the initial act are several songs by Mrs. Lucille Henderson Allbright and a novelty pianologue act by Prof. Frank Loew.

What would a Wichita Falls minstrel be without George Hodgins? This time he and "Happy" Thomas put on a blackface skit which is unique in that the jokes are new. Happy plays a blue number also.

"In Song Land," presented by Mrs. Paul Larkin, and Cullen Massie, with Paul Larkin at the piano, consisted of several popular songs. "Didn't You," from the hit of Chicago last summer "The Sweetheart Shop," and "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody," from "Follies of '19," are among the numbers on this act which were especially good.

The minstrel act concluded the show. Norris Ewing acted as interlocutor, Ben Neal and "Happy Roy" Thomas, end men, with the chorus of the following: R. J. Crow, Hans Hansen, Dell Brasher, Paul Von Allmen, George Jehle, Grover Bullington. All of the musical numbers of this ace were well chosen and well sung and the repartee was timely.

The University club has a few tickets yet unsold for tonight's performance, which will be the last one given.

To take the opinion of the majority of those who saw the first night's performance this is about the most pleasant way to help out a good cause and see a good show.

Mendelssohn's Athalie, and "Chansen Ballad," (Bachman.

The Musicians club chorus, with Dr. L. D. Parnell as director, gave two selections, "Sweet and Low," and the Bridal Chorus from "The Rose Maiden."

Mrs. O. J. McKnight was the accompanist.

Miss Berenice Jackson, violinist, with Mrs. A. H. Britain as accompanist, played Tirindelli's "Hungarian Aira."

Miss Florence Sammons, pianist, played the Etude in D flat by Liszt.

The only out-of-town musicians on the program were Mrs. George Roselle of Fort Worth, and her accompanist, Miss Lytton, also of Fort Worth. Mrs. Roselle sang three numbers, "Lo Hear the Gentle Lark," "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," and "Wake Up."

Owing to illness in his family, it was announced from the platform, Hubert M. Harrison, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, was unable to be present and deliver the address of welcome for that body.

Delegates Arriving Early.

Around 150 delegates and visitors arrived Monday morning and afternoon in readiness for president's evening, which was the first public session.

Monday afternoon from 3 to 4:30 the executive board was in it's annual business session at the Kemp hotel. Mrs. Mark Henry, the president, was in the chair and reports were made from practically every district chairman, either in person or by proxy.

From 4:30 to 5:30 an informal reception was held in the hotel mezzanine parlors for executive board and other distinguished visitors. The presidents of the local clubs and the members of the city federation board and chairmen of the special and standing committees were present to meet these visitors.

At 6 oclock the board was honored with a banquet at the hotel, as guests of the city federation. Mrs. W. W. Silk, Mrs. A. H. Britain, Mrs. Carter McGregor and Mrs. Luther Hoffman were acting hostesses for the occasion.

The banquet was an unusually attractive social affair, the tables being centered with crystal baskets of roses, and all appointments being in keeping. There were 50 guests at this banquet.

Wealthy Young Man Denies He Bothered Girls

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 25. — Herbert Prentiss Crane Jr., wealthy Young man charged with annoying Louise Sturm, age 13, and Marie Fisher, age 11, in Lincoln Park, testified in his own behalf today at his trial, denying the charges and also telling of an alleged attempt by a member of the state constabulary to blackmail him out of $500 the day he was arrested.

Crane denied that he was in Lincoln Park the day of the alleged act and said that when he was taken to the police station and the girls were asked if he was their assailant, they "nooded slightly, but said nothing."

Later, he said, L. J. Kessel of the state constabulary came to him in his cell and said:

"Crane, your identification is positive. You sign this confession, let me have $500 and you can go home tonight. I'll whitewash the whole business and fix it up with the children and you'll hear nothing more about it."

Crane testified that he told Kessel that he had never seen the children.

CAMP SITE FOR SCOUTS IN PROSPECT

Definite announcement of the purchase of a permanent camp site for the Boy Scouts and the Y. W. C. A. in the near future was announced by H. E. Taylor, Scout executive Monday morning, following a meeting of the Scout executive committee. G. C. Woods, W. S. Curlee and W. D. Cline were appointed a committee to investigate a number of sites which have been proposed. According to Mr. Taylor, the committee has not fixed on a site and will investigate several before making a decision. Mr. Taylor says there are at least three being considered.

When the camp site is purchased it is the intention to erect club buildings and these will be used by the Scouts on regular week end excursions during the summer.

Mayor Cline at the meeting Monday donated the Boy Scouts a Ford truck, saying he intended using his salary as mayor for purposes of this kind, and that it would all go to benefit the city from which it came.

Members of the executive committee present at Monday's meeting, which was held at 11 o'clock, were: W. B. Cline, W. S. Curlee, Judge C. B. Felder, D. M. Perkins, Myles O'Reilley, B. D. Donnell, C. H. Clark, J. W. Culbertson and H. E. Taylor.

Small checks are still coming in for the Scouts budget for the year though the entire amount of $6,000 has not yet been raised, according to Mr. Taylor.

A new shipment of patrol flags, colors, badges and hand books arrived Monday and another shipment is expected in this week.

Troop 13, with Scoutmaster T. W. Caskey, made its first hike of the season Saturday, spending the day on the river.

JUDGE NAPIER SETS 5 CASES FOR DOCKET

Only four or five cases were set for trial Monday morning by Judge Ed Napier of the 78th district court after calling the week's setting of 60 non-jury cases. The remaining cases were postponed or dismissed.

In the case of W. J. Brown vs. Charles E. Fritz with a counter suit, Judge Napier Monday afternoon refused to give judgment for damages asked by both parties.

The case concerned a drilling contract in which the plaintiff asked damage for the alleged failure of the defendant to allow him to drill a second well after he had drilled one test.

In his counter suit the defendant asked for damages for the alleged negligent drilling of the first well by the plaintiff. The plaintiff was awarded $900 damages for expenses in connection with the drilling of the first test.

TAKES CARE OF 5 CHILDREN

Mrs. Taylor's Sickness Ended by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Roxbury, Mass.—"I suffered continually with backache and was often despondent, had dizzy spells and at my monthly periods it was almost impossible to keep around at my work. Since my last baby came two years ago my back has been worse and no position I could get in would relieve it, and doctor's medicine did not help me. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have found great relief since using it. I keep house and have the care of five children and I am very thankful I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound such a help. I recommend it to any woman suffering as I was before I used it."—Mrs. MAUDE E. TAYLOR, 8 St. James Place, Roxbury, Mass.

Backache is one of the most common symptoms of a displacement or derangement of the female system. No woman should make the mistake of trying to overcome it by heroic endurance, but profit by Mrs. Taylor's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

NEW MAP SHOWS HOW GERMANY HAS FARED SINCE WAR

Germany has won all the plebiscites but one held in disputed territory since the war. She lost the first zone of North Schleswig on February 10, 1920, but since then has won plebiscites in the second zone of North Schleswig, East Prussia, West Prussia, Karsten and Upper Silesia. Another plebiscite will be held in Austrian Tyrol on April 24, when residents will be asked to vote on the proposition of annexation to the German republic.

SCHOOL BOARD LETS CONTRACT FOR BUILDING

Letting the contract for the new Lamar school building to Taylor Brothers on a bid of $33,336, decision to change the building plans of the contemplated Washington school and appointment of a committee to make investigation and return recommendations on the proposal to erect two small school buildings, one to be built near the stock pens, for negro children and another east of the railroad tracks, for the Mexican population, consumed a busy session of the school board Monday morning at the Wichita State bank.

In connection with the contract for the Lamar building, W. W. Brown, secretary of the board, announced that the plumbing contract went to Hoffman and Co.; the heating to S. P. Osborne and the electric wiring and fixtures to the Dosch Electric company. Mr. Brown estimated that the total cost of the completed building will be approximately $40,000.

While bids for the Washington building were temporarily held up, pending proposed changes in the plans and location, members said that two bids were under consideration.

The Lamar school building will have eight rooms and from the standpoint of architecture and comfort, will be the equal of any building in the city, board members said.

The evening of Friday, May 6, was definitely set for the "get acquainted" banquet, given by board members to all teachers of the city schools and to which each teacher is requested to bring written suggestions for the betterment of the schools of Wichita Falls.

Election of teachers and discussion of proposed sites, now under consideration, probably will consume the next session of the board, according to members.

CLUB HUSBANDS WILL BE GUESTS AT RECEPTION

Club husbands, usually much neglected, according to the popular fiction, are to get their inning in First District Federation meeting tonight, when they will be among the honored guests at the reception to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Clint Wood. The presidents of the various clubs and their husbands are to form the house party, and the district and state officers are to be in the receiving line. Mrs. Mark Moore is hostess chairman and her assistant hostesses are Mesdames Wood, C. R. Hartsook, W. M. Priddy, C. W. Snider, Newton Maer and C. F. Spencer. The musical program will be under the direction of Mrs. O. J. McKnight.

The men of the city are expected to attend the reception with their wives, it is announced. In fact, no husband is to be permitted to be absent unless he has a good excuse to offer, and being out of town is the only legitimate excuse, barring a desperate illness.

Rain Assists Contractor in Excavation Work

Eighty feet of storm sewer excavation that didn't cost the contractor a penny is the result of Monday night's rain, according to W. S. Curlee, street commissioner, who said it was reported to him that Contractor Foley's work was that much advanced by the heavy downpour early Monday morning.

While it perhaps benefited Mr. Foley, the contractor, in this way, it stopped work on the sewer project, according to the engineer's department and prevented work starting on the resurfacing of Ohio street, which was planned for Monday. The rain has rendered work on the drainage ditch from the East lake to the river impossible and this work will be retarded at least a week, members of the engineer's department say.

General reports from farmers seen at the city hall is that the rain will benefit pastures around the town and is generally beneficial to the growing crops.

The ancient city of Nineveh was eight miles wide and 14 miles long, was surrounhed by a wall 100 feet in heighth and so wide three chariots could be driven abreast on its top.

ROAD WORK TO GO ON WITHOUT SALE OF BONDS

The failure to sell the remaining million and a half county road bonds Monday will not delay the carrying on of the county road projects until after the completion of the road now in process of construction between this city and Iowa Park, according to members of the commissioner's court. The county at this time has approximately $110,000 from interest and sinking fund which is available for the concrete road and it is believed that this together with the state appropriation will be sufficient to finish the Iowa Park road.

Members of the court were surprised Monday when no bids for the bonds were received. The bonds had been extensively advertised and due to the fact that Dallas and Tarrant counties have recently sold road bonds of the same kind as those of this county it was expected that several bids would be submitted.

When no bids were received Monday the court ordered that the bonds be removed from the market. It is expected that another attempt will be made later to sell the bonds.

Members of the joint building committee of the commissioner's court and the city council reported to the court that the architects—Sanquinet, Staats, and Pate, would hold open house in regard to the building plans for the hospital addition at their offices on the Tenth floor of the City National Bank of Commerce building.

Tentative plans will be completed and local residents are requested to examine them Thursday afternoon at the architect's offices.

By vote of the court W. W. "Pat" Murphy was ordered to present a yearly report covering the income and disbursement of the county for the last year. Lee Prescott, commissioner from precinct No. 2, was authorized to purchase a Ford roadster for use in road work in his precinct.

COMMISSIONERS VOTE ALLOWANCE TO SNOW FAMILY

The wife and five children of Doc Snow, who is confined to the county jail pending appeal of a case tried here several months ago, were awarded $5 a week aid by the county commissioners' court Monday.

The award was made after Mrs. Snow had said that she was unable to support the children entirely from her own employment.

Snow is under sentence to 20 years in the penitentiary, following his conviction on a murder charge. He killed two officers in a gambling house raid at Kemp City last fall, it is alleged.

THE GRAHAM TRIP.

A few weeks ago Frank Kell offered to get back of any organization which would have for its goal "Wichita Falls 100,000 in 1920." Since this proposal was made various steps have been taken to make the goal a realization. This is well. For when a man of Mr. Kell's practical vision sees such a possibility the remainder of us can well afford to become and remain busy.

The first step in the realization of this goal was the visit of several hundred of our leading citizens to Graham Friday to celebrate the opening of the Southern extension. Rather the celebration of the completion of the Southern was the immediate reason for the Friday holiday.

Its true significance was far deeper than that. It was in the nature of neighbors taking a day off for a good time together, such as can come only from those who have a high mutual regard. And back of their good time was the predominating consciousness of appreciation for a great service rendered.

All along the way the excursion train passed waiting men, women and children. People to whom the coming of the new railroad brought the market and city closer. It brought also the magic and wonder of the nearby metropolis. Sometimes the group would be two or three men, with their teams standing in the nearby fields, sometimes women rested on their hoes and watched, frequently the groups were small knots of children. Theirs was not just idle curiosity in watching. They felt, even if not clearly, that the coming of the new road was bringing them a bigger out-look, greater opportunities. That its coming meant almost literally "A new heaven and a new earth."

No better proof of this deeper meaning could have been offered than the spontaneous demand for a speech from Mr.Kell on the part of the Graham citizens. Mr. Kell was not on the crowded program. But that did not matter. They wanted to hear from and see the man who had brought them a bigger life as individuals and a community. They wanted to hear from him and see him so that they might pay tribute to the man most responsible for the great service rendered them.

Wichita Falls has for a motto "The City That Faith Built," but that could be changed to "The City That Faith is Building." What might have been a casual trip Friday was in reality a splendid manifestation of our city's best spirit. It gave ample evidence to our friends between here and Graham and in Graham that we are whole-heartedly interested in them and their undertakings.

No man nor community gets more out of the world than he puts into it. If this be true then such support as was given the Friday trip will make a really great city here sometime. If each of the celebrations and undertakings to be fostered in the future by the Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants association is as well supported, then the goal proposed by Mr. Kell can be easily attained.

AN INSIDIOUS DRUG.

It has come. A formal pronouncement against tea has just been handed down by Dr. Allen Starr, emeritus professor of neurology at Columbia University, who classes tea as an intoxicant which may be about as harmful to some persons as alcoholic liquor or narcotic drugs. He urges physicians to recognize evils following the excessive or improper use of tea—and improper use is not a matter of cupfuls, but of the constitutional limitation of the tea toper. Many persons should not drink tea, even in the dainty moderation of the afternoon social ceremony. The neurologist says many ailments now are wrongly diagnozed and charged to other causes when tea is the genesis.

And since the Columbia neurologist has wised them up on the matter, progressive medical men may be expected hereafter to attribute a generous share of whatever ails everybody to the use of tea. Tonsils and teeth, which have been saddled with the blame for a heap of bodily ills, ranging from gout to baldness, will now have a respite while things are hung onto tea.

Does the reader remember that the final and overwhelming drive against alcoholic liquor was launched with a specific indictment by eminent medical men? It was. So the pronouncement of the Columbia University's doctor is portentous. It will take more than a Boston tea party to save the pleasant but insidious brew. Even if the neurologist and others were not arrayed against it, tea drinking is a form of indulgence, of dissipation; it is agreeable; it tends to sociability—to frivolity, even, or at least to cause one to forget for time some of one's troubles and restrictive irritations, so it is not to be tolerated in an era of official repression and supervision of everything. Ten years hence those who are still slaves to the tea drug may furtively obtain it of blind piggers, who may have as much difficulty in bringing it across international borders as the illicit importers of hootch are having in keeping the country inundated.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer. CHEAP STEEL AS A BUSINESS TONIC.

The cut in steel prices says the Boston Post (Ind. Dem.) "is indirectly of as much importance to the average man as a cut in food prices" and it is in this light that the newspapers comment upon the United States Steel corporation's announcement of a reduction in the price of the product of this "basic industry." Prediction of a corresponding fall in the prices of other products and a stimulation of business in general and home-building in particular can be found in many editorial columns, though some of the more cautious editors warn their readers that the drop is hardly enough to have immediate widespread effect. Whether wages will fall in proportion is a question of speculation.

The "profiteering" of the steelmakers is alluded to by many who, like the Petersburg (Va.) Index Appeal (Ind.) feel that the reduction "will add much to the impetus of building in the United States," but lament the fact that there was "no reduction in the prices of steel nails." The Brooklyn Eagle (Ind. Dem.) thinks that "more than a beginning has been made" though it is "sufficiently belated." It explains:

"In all other directions there was a compulsory obeisance to the law of supply and demand, while the steel trade went on prospering at the expense of the consumer and incidentally to the detriment of those who were seeking to solve the housing problem."

As to the question of wages the Eagle remarks that "it has been alleged that the company has been charging $30 a ton more than was necessary to declare its customary dividends and it does not need to be alleged that the payroll must share the common fate." To the Johnstown Democrat (Dem.) the results obtained were simply due to 'a victorious "strike." It says:

"The public has managed to rub along without new structures of various kinds and seemed disposed to stay out of the market. The result is the slice in prices made by the Steel corporation."

Until now Mr. Gary has been "measureably successful" in controlling prices "enough to secure enormous profits, but not enough to involve a violation of the Sherman law" says the Philadelphia Record (Ind. Dem.); now, "Mahomet Gary goes to the mountain." However, "it would have been better for the community if the price cut had come several months ago, and steel consumers had been tempted by low prices to keep their men employed."

Admitting that the Steel corporation has been a "hanger back" and that "other companies have been doing the trick for four or five months past" the Chicago Tribune (Ind. Rep.) welcomes the "two-fold" effect:

"Its first effect is to hold out a prospect of relief and business betterment to almost every manufacturing and operating process which gets its material directly or indirectly from the Steel corporation, whether it be a railroad, a motor factory or a machine plant. The second is to influence those concerns which have not yet dared cut their price and take their loss, to do so now, and by liquidating old stocks and starting off on a new basis, to do their part in general readjustment."

The Birmingham News (Dem.) quotes Ethelbert Stewart, government price expert, who declared in New York recently that "cheaper prices in steel will tend to bring down prices to the consumer of scores of commodities in every day use" and this the News believes, will mean "the resumption of many industries." This "stimulation" says the Duluth Herald (Ind.) is "one more of the steadily growing list of factors making for recovery" to normal conditions. The Chicago News (Ind.) believes that the steel cuts "will prove beneficial to business in general and the building situation in particular" and the South Bend Tribune (Ind. Rep.) enumerates the industries which it believes will feel the effects:

"Agriculture, the greatest of industries, by permitting the easier prices in farm machinery; transportation, the second in size, by permitting the purchase of rail and bridge materials; building, the third occupation, by allowing better quotations to prospective owners; and automobiles, by giving car makers access to raw materials at lower prices."

IGNORANT ESSAYS

By J. P. McEVOY

TWIN BED LECTURE.

(A letter comes to the Doveleigh home, addressed to Mr. Doveleigh, in a neat feminine hand. If you could read Mrs. Doveleigh's thoughts they would sound like this):

Well, I'd like to know who this is from. A woman writing to my husband and sending it to the house, too! Maybe it is just an advertising circular. I wonder if it is. It would not do any harm to open it and see. It might be something important that he would want me to call him up about. It might be from some relative who is very ill. I really ought to open it and see. I could tell him that I thought it was from some relative. But maybe it isn't from a relative. Who do you suppose it could be? (Holds letter up to the light and tries to read it.) Well, she folded it up pretty carefully, I'll say that for her. I can't make out a word of it. I'd like to know what business she has writing to my husband.

I think I'll open it and find out. I don't have to tell him anything about it. But, then, he might discover. It's postmarked New York. I ought to be able to read some of it. (Holds up to light again.) No, not a word. I wonder if I could steam it. I bet I could. I could put it back and seal it up and he would never know the difference. That's just what I'll do. Suppose he finds its out — I'd never hear the end of it. Well, it's his own fault. I'd like to know what business he has getting letters from New York. A wife has a perfect right to open her husband's letters and I don't care whether she has or not, I am going to open this one any way. (Takes it to the stove and holds it over kettle.) My, it's getting discolored. Now he'll know for sure that I opened it. Well, I might as well be hung for a sheep as a lamb.

If he's getting letters from women it's certainly my business to know it and I am going to find it out right now. (Takes letter out of envelope.) My Dear Mr. Doveleigh:

I am sure you will be glad to learn that our annual sale on neckties and pajamas opens the first of the month. All the new styles and colors will be represented. I am sure you will be particularly interested in the wistaria shades and we have the loveliest magenta you ever saw.

Do you need any sox or underwear? And how is your supply of shirts? Dont fail to take advantage of this sale. It is the opportunity of a life time.

Sincerely yours,
SNAPPER & SNAPPER.

Just an old advertisement. I won't show it to him and then he'll never know I opened the letter. It wasn't from a woman, any way. But, then, there is no use in taking chances. You never can tell about these men.

Now that you have read this whole page, look back over it again. Notice how wide the appeal is. All ages and sexes will laugh with McEvoy.

DINNER STORIES

A man the other day denied that John Bunyan was the author of "The Pilgrim's Progress." Being vehemently contradicted, he thus replied:

"No," said he, "I question even if he contributed to the work, for it is impossible that a bunion could contribute to any pilgrim's progress."

Some men never let an opportunity slip. They make the most of every chance, as, for instance, a certain organ-grinder who once played his organ outside the house of Masengni, the famous composer. Masengni is often driven wild by hearing his music "murdered" on piano-organs, and on this occasion he left his house and interviewed the street musician.

He did not send him away. He merely took the handle of the instrument, turned it around faster and quickened the time.

The organ-grinder smiled his thanks. Next day he again appeared in the street. This time his organ bore a large placard on which was inscribed: "Pupil of Masengni!"

A school teacher was using her most ingratiating manner to make the subject of physical geography attractive to her pupils.

"Now, can anyone tell me what shape the world is?" she pursued her Socratic method.

A dirty-faced urchin arose rapidly as his hand unfurled to the summons:

"Please, ma'am," he said, "my father says it's in a hell of a shape."

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

O. F. TRAIN BOY IS GONE.

O. O. M., who is on a trip west, assures us in a letter that the old-fashioned train butcher seems to have reformed. He says: "The train boys do not carry glass revolvers filled with colored candy. It is something a young generation should see. It teaches them self-sacrifice. In my days every boy or girl train passenger wanted one, but I never knew a parent to invest:

"There has been a great uplift among train boys, too. They used to be called 'butchers' and they seemed to my youthful mind to represent all that was worldly and wicked. Now they call them 'train pages'. And they carry the 'Atlantic Monthly' on top, instead of the 'Police Gazette.'

"Once, traveling from Gallipolis to Cincinnati, a train boy whispered something mysterious in my ear and slipped me a sealed package. It had come straight from Paris and was full of naughty pictures. It must not be opened until I had left the train. I gave him 50 cents and that night in my hotel room, with all the curtains down, I opened it. It was a back edition of Hostetters almanac."

Science and Philosophy.

An individual, who has much time to think, entertained us with the following at our club recently:

"The great fundamental law of the physical universe, upon which indeed its very existence depends, is what is called 'the conversion of energy,' namely, that wherever there is a force there must be another force opposite and equal to it; the reason why, if you strike your fist upon a table you hurt your knuckle, is the table strikes back with a force relatively equal to that which you have used, and wherever we turn we have similar experiences of positives and negatives, plus and minus, which are equal and opposite, not only in physical phenomena perceived by our sense organs, but also even in our very conceptions in the realm of abstract thought."

This modern "hootch" is bringing out some great theories.—Marcel.

GIVE 'EM THE SMOKE--STOP THE FOREIGN SWARM AND THE UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM WILL SOLVE ITSELF

NOSING 'ROUND WASHINGTON

BY ROBERT CORTES HOLLIDAY

Author of "Walking-Stick Papers," "Broome Street Straws," "Men and Books and Cities,"

"Who's the old bird gettin' so many pictures took?" inquired a loitering passerby.

A hum of much good nature was coming from the motley throng about the steps before the executive office of the White House. "Beer and light wine," called out some one, apparently in echo to something just said by the queer-looking character being photographed by the battery of camera men and a rattle of laughter went around through the group.

"That's old Cokey," replied some one. "He's down here to get Debs out," he added. The amiable and celebrated "general," who a number of years ago had led his "army" on to Washington, was smiling like a very wrinkled and animated potato into the lenses of the cameras which had been moved to within a couple of feet or so of his nose.

My friend and I crossed the street to the state, army and navy building. We had been there the other day to see a young man in the state department to whom he has a card. Had been much struck by his beauty. And wondered if handsomeness was a requisite for a statesman in this administration.

Now we sought the press room. Presented our credentials to a press association man there. Cordial chap, said "stick around". Others floated in. Pretty soon the press association man heartily calls out to my friend (whose name is Augustus), "George, come on." And we trail along with about 50 others into the ante-chamber of the new secretary of the navy, who at half past 10 is to give his first interview to the newspaper men.

Funny looking corridors, by the way, in this building. Swing doors all about, constructed of horizontal slats, and in general effect bearing a picturesque resemblance to the doors of the old-time saloon.

I noticed that as we went along my friend punched in one side of the crown of his soft hat and raked it somewhat to one side of his head. He felt, I suspected, uncomfortably neat for the society of this bonhomie crowd of bonna fide newspaper men, and did not wish to appear aloof by being too correct in attire.

The company passed along the corridor and into the anteroom under a heavy head of tobacco smoke. There the press association man presented each of the flock in turn to a chubby little fellow behind a railing, which I took to be secretary to the secretary; and presently the delegation was admitted to the inner office, a suspicious apartment where one passed first an enormous globe, then a large model of the old Kearsarge in a glass case; and at length we ranged ourselves closely before a mountain of a man in a somewhat saggy suit. Clean shaven, massive features, very bald dome, widely smiling, Secretary Denby looks just a bit (I thought) like Mr. Punch. His voice comes in a deep rumble and he has entirely ample ears. Trousers too long.

No; he had not seen the story in that morning's paper which was handed to him by one of the reporters. He would not confirm this; he would not deny that. After all, he had been "only a week on the job." And one might so very easily be "judicious." "Wily old boy," was one comment as the party trailed out and made for the press telephones, discussing among themselves "how would you interpret" this and that?

Next at 11 o'clock the secretary of state was down on the newspapermen's schedule. We went into a kind of waiting room across the corridor from the real offices of the secretary. Most conspicuous decoration a huge painting of a Bey of Tunis, the presentation of which (the inscription said) had something to do with condolence from France on the death of Lincoln. Also on one wall a portrait of Daniel Webster.

Mr. Fletcher, under secretary of state, appeared before us. Very dapper gentleman. Athletic in build. Fashionable clothes. Gray hair, but youthful in effect. Handsome, smooth shaven face. Suggested an actor, or perhaps a very gentlemanly retired pugilist. Held beautiful shell spectacles in hand before him. Stood very straight. Had another fellow along side of him to supply information when himself in doubt. When asked concerning some one who was in jail, inquired "Where is the old boy?" Smiling cordially, seeking continually for an opportunity for some joke or pleasantry, trying bravely to keep up a strong front, but obviously becoming more and more uneasy under the ordeal of rapid fire questions about Russia, Germany, Japan and so on and so on. On being asked concerning diplomatic appointments under consideration, bowed briskly, replied "A great many," and escaped—almost, it might be said, fled.

Secretary of war next on the list. Full length portraits in his office of Generals Pershing, Bliss and Petain. Many flags, historic ones (presumably), in glass cases. Heavy build, Secretary Weeks, very wide across the middle. Struggling mustache, drooping. Very direct and businesslike in manner. Entered room saying, "Well, there are a number of things I have to tell you gentlemen." Frank and positive in his statements and denials. Stood twisting a key-ring as he talked. Wore neat pin in tie. When told that at the war department was supposed to have such and such a thing under consideration, he replied, tapping himself on the breast, "Not this part of the war department." One questioner sought to obtain from him a more direct reply to a question that had been put to the secretary of the navy. He answered, "I know nothing about the navy." When there was nothing more apparently that he had to say, he concluded the audience very deftly.

"He's a different guy, ain't he?" was one correspondent's observation as we passed out of the room. "One of the biggest men in the government," he added. "Gives the impression knowing as much about the job as Baker did when he left."

Wichita Falls Record News

John 14:15, "If ye love me, ye will keep my commandments," was the text chosen by Dr. J. W. Loving of the Floral Heights Baptist church Sunday morning and he delivered a forceful though short sermon and emphasized the commands which Christ left us.

He made mention of the fact that so many people take the stand that the theaters, moving picture shows, etc., are run for the glory of God on Sunday; that is they insist on them being run as though this was the case. And they seem to be possessed with the idea that the preachers and women won't let them do as they wish, simply because they don't want them to operate.

He also made mention of the fact that when the Sunday closing law was violated the offender was given a paltry fine of $25, making it possible for him to still violate the law and operate his business at a profit. He said this fine should be increased with each offense as the law provides and no more clemency shown them than any other law-breaker.

That the people seem to have forgotten the fact that the commandments of God have already been made and cannot be made to fit the choice of each individual, quoting from Oliver Wendell Holmes:

"In vain we call old notions fudge
And trim our conscience to our dealing,
The Ten Commandments will not budge,
And stealing will be stealing."

RECIPES FOR A DAY.

Rice Delight—Boil one-half cup rice, one can tostoes, one onion, one tablespoon cheese, salt and pepper, one-half pound of chopped steak browned in butter. Put in a deep dish, pour sauce and rice over meat, cover with bread crumbs and brown in oven. This is a delicious dish.

Pea Soup—After peas (dried) are thoroughly cooked, take up in soup plate, add a little cream and butter. Use stale bread browned in oven. Cut in cubes. It is very filling and nourishing.

Fruit Salad—Slice pineapple, two apples, two bananas, one-half grape fruit and walnuts. Mix all with olive oil and a little vinegar. Put a small ball of cream cheese in pineapple on individual dish and spread the cut fruit around it. This makes a very good dessert as well as a salad. Also use dates if desired.

TO REMOVE STAINS.

Tea and Chocolate Stains are hard to remove, therefore soak them in cold water and borax, then apply boiling water as for coffee stains.

Milk Stains—Wash them out while fresh in cold water.

Glue Stains—Apply vinegar with a cloth.

Grease Stains—Place a blotter over the stain and iron with a very hot iron.

Grass Stains—Wash with naphtha soap and water or if the colors are not delicate, apply ammonia and water until the stains turn brown, then rub with naphtha soap and soak in warm water. If the goods are thick make a paste of cold raw starch and apply several times until the stains are removed.

Brass Stains—Rub either lard or olive oil on the stain, then wash with warm water and soap.

Furniture—Should leather covered chairs look shabby, boil one-half pint of linseed oil and when it is cold stir into it one-half pint of vinegar. These ingredients should be mixed thoroughly and the result bottled well.

SUGGESTIONS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

To Remove Shine From Black Skirts—Remove shine and clean skirts by taking warm water, putting in enough good white soap to make a good suds, then add a little vinegar to the suds. Lay skirt on table, take a brush and scrub on right side with suds (do not make it too wet); if there are spots, scrub them out. Then rub on wrong side until dry.

To Clean White Enamel Woodwork or White Enamel Furniture—First wash the woodwork with suds of white soap and a little common soda; then wring cloth quite dry, dip into baking soda and rub on woodwork, rinse with clear water and wipe dry. This process brightens the enamel and makes it look like new.

To Wash China—Don't use very hot water or much soap in washing china that has much gilt on it.

There are worse things than going to school these nice spring days, but you don't notice them until you grow up.—Arizona Republican.

This oxford is the best of its kind that has ever been made. It is a combination last which means that the toe construction is wide while the heel is narrow. The narrow heel is wide at the bottom and narrow at the top near the ankle. So accurate is the fitting that this oxford could be worn without lacing and the heel would not slip out. The fit around the instep is close and gives a bracing effect. In all leathers with or without rubber heels.

Staging a rally in the ninth inning that netted one run, but fell short by the same number, the Spudders bowed in defeat to the visiting Panthers in the third and last game of the series by a 5 to 4 count yesterday afternoon at Athletic park. The contest was hard fought from the first stanza until the last and it was anybody's ball game until the last man was out. Two home runs by Sears and the superb pitching of Whittaker featured the game, the latter allowing but six hits and setting the Spudders back in order in six of the nine frames. Bowman started for the homelings and went along fine until the seventh when the Panthers romped on him for three runs, all of which were due to circuit clouts. A free-for-all fight in the eighth marred what was otherwise a real ball game.

Three in Front.

Eden's outfit as usual had to overtake a lead in the very first chapter, "Ziggy" Sears' home run giving the visitors a one-run lead. The Spudders, nothing daunted, took advantage of three errors, coupling them with two hits and pushed not one, but three counters across to their half.

The count stood thus until the seventh with both pitchers hurling invincible ball. Abe Bowman was a trifle wild, issuing two free tickets in the third, two in the sixth, but was saved from being scored upon in both innings by superb fielding.

Two home runs mixed with two walks in the seventh spelt the defeat of the Spudders and gave the visitors enough runs to lead in the number made. They were never headed. A walk and three singles in the eighth spelled the retirement of Abe Bowman after two were out, and Kroh was assigned to take up the burden. Abe had two gone, but the bases were loaded. Floyd looked around the field and then compelled Phelan to pop to Tanner. Tanner made a running catch of the fly and got plenty of applause from the crowd.

Rally in Ninth.

The ninth looked like a repetition of the final frame of Sunday's contest, the Spudders deciding it was time for a few runs.

McDonald opened the last stanza with a ringing single to right, his second of the game. Sears let the ball get through him and Mac went to second. Whittaker weakened for a moment, giving Clark a free passage to first. As Miller was out of the game for being one of the principles in the eighth-inning fracas, Kitchens was sent in to bat. "Pop" had the count three and two, then soaked the ball to deep right, but Obst, who was playing for Coombs, grabbed the ball for a putout.

Ruth was given another chance to win a game when he batted for Gross and came within a base of doing it when he singled to center, scoring McDonald. Works forced the pitcher-slugger at second, but was safe at first on the play.

Bischoff Fans.

With the tying and winning runs on the bags and two outs "Smiler" Bischoff ambled to the plate with the admonitions of 1,300 spectators for any kind of a hit. The first ball pitched was wide and high, but the umps called strike. The second looked low, but Kane yelled "two." The third was a ball, but the fourth came straight and true over the heart of the pan. Bischoff swung a la Casey, missed it, and the game was over.

Thus a perfectly exciting and well played baseball game went down in the annals of history as another contest played, but those who saw the game will never forget the most unsportsmanlike show of temper evinced by Kraft and Miller in the eighth inning that brought both teams in an almost free-for-all fight.

Miller Less to Blame.

Miller was less to blame than Kraft for the mixup, although both men contributed to the fray. Miller had just retired the visitors with a wonderful shoestring catch of Taylor's fly in the eighth inning and was passing first base on his way in to the bench. The crowd was still applauding as the players came in. Kraft said something that would not appear to be good stuff to print and Miller answered back. The rest of the conversation was not understandable from the stands, but something more than just a friendly speech must have been made. Miller turned away and as he did Kraft, who had a ball in his hands, heaved it at Jake, hitting the Spudder on the shoulder. Miller picked up the ball and would have probably heaved it back, but Kraft rushed into a clinch. Salm parted the would-be battlers before either had a chance to exchange a blow, but as he did so entered into the fight himself. Kraft didn't like the size of Salm evidently, for the backed off in the crowd of players that surrounded the principals.

Umpire Kane handled the situation with aplomb when he fired both players for the rest of the game. Kraft was escorted from the field by the police as was Miller a few minutes later, when Jake refused to believe he was out of the game.

While undoubtedly both players were to blame for the fracas, the unsportsmanlike manner of Kraft in hitting Miller in the back with the ball ,made whatever excuse Kraft had for losing tim temper, invalid. The rest of the Panthers have conducted themselves like real gentlemen, including Kraft, up until almost time before they were due to leave and then with the exception of Kraft, continued to show the spectators they were out to win ball games and not to stage fistic battles.

The Spudders left town last night with the Panthers and the teams will play at Fort Worth this afternoon.

FROM THE ROOF

No more gamese here until May 9.

Three errors by the visitors gave the Spudders a chance to score three runs in the first.

Gross took McElwees place in the right field for the day, the reason, unexplained.

Give Miller all the credit in the wrold for his catches in centerfield. The swift boy brought down seven during the fray and ended the day with the best seen in many a day.

Miller's 7th and last catch which he caught on his shoetops and then fell down, but held the ball, was the cause of the argument with Kraft. What either of them said was enough to start a fracas, but nobody but themselves know the language used.

Umps Kane drew the "boost" on several occasions but the palm must be handed to the old-time major league hurler. He runs the game like he owns it and the players know it.

Rumor has it that Kraft was fined ten bucks for his share in the fracas yesterday afternoon. Night Chief McDonald says otherwise. Kraft is down on the books as a disturber of the peace. Miller's name does not appear on the blotter.

For the first time this season McDonald led all the rest in the number of hits, runs and assists in one game. Tex played like a demon now that he has gotten over an attack of grippe that has bothered him all during the opening days.

Kane pulled one boner during the game when he called Sears safe at first in the final frame. "Ziggy" had walked and Kroh caught him asleep off the bag. The umps wasn't looking so the put-out wasn't accomplished.

Sears seemed to have Bowman's goat. He hit Abe for three homeruns and walked twice in the five times he faced the big Spudder hurler.

DEMPSEY MAY GIVE BRENNAN ANOTHER FIGHT

NEW YORK, April 2 —Jack Dempsey is marking time these days, waiting for his coming battle with Georges Carpentier to roll around July 2.

Since he won the title Dempsey has done a lot of marking time. His bouts with Billy Miske and Bill Brennan have been the only ones of any importance in which he has appeared, and Manager Kearns has often lamented the fact that opponents have been so scarce.

Dempsey will not be such a lonesome champion in the future, however, if present indications do not go amiss. There are several of the heavyweights eager to mingle with Jack who are merely waiting until after the Carpentier bout.

If Dempsey beats the Frenchman—and he will be a ringside favorite—he will have only a short time to rest up before he must start training for his Labor Day affair with Jess Willard. Tex Rickard has this match sewed up and means to go through with it.

In addition to Willard, there is talk of a return bout between Dempsey and Bill Brennan. Fred Fulton is also on the trail of the champ, and Bob Martin and Bob Roper are coming on. Harry Greb is another battler who insists that he wants a chance at Dempsey, but it would seem that in the face of Greb's recent attitude toward a match with Tommy Gibbons , he must be joshing the public.

Prospects Are Many.

Greb was offered a bout with Gibbons by Dave Driscoll, the demon Jersey City producer. Driscoll wanted Sir Tom and the Pittsburgh battler the worst way and was prepared to give them a liberal slice of the gate. But Greb could not see it. He told Driscoll he would rather have Gibbons in Pittsburgh, where "we could draw much better."

Still on the trail of Greb, Brennan, Martin and the champion himself, Tommy Gibbons goes on his way, merily knocking off opponents the promoters are able to get for him. He has disposed of three men in four rounds in his last three bouts up to this writing, beating Al Reich in one, Paul Sampson in two and Sergeant Norcross in one. With such a heavyweight championship prospect as Gibbons coming on and the Carpentier and Willard matches in view, the curly headed champion will have an opportunity to make quite a profitable thing out of his title.

Johnny Buff, who recently knocked out Abe Attel Goldstein in two rounds and laid claim to the American flyweight title, is eager for the coming of Jimmy Wilde, who is expected to invade the United States again in the near future.

Wilde is coming to America for the purpose of getting Pete Herman into the ring again. He believes he can offset the knockout Herman scored at his expense in London. He would also like to take on as many Yankee boxers as the promoters can dig up for him and he will find Buff ready to oblige him.

Buff is no chicken. He is nearly thirty-five years of age and has a sizable family over in Jersey. But he is every inch a battler and he seldom if ever fails to give the fans a big run for their dough. He has proven to the satisfaction of his admirers that he is a legitimate flyweight, for he was strong and fast in his bout with Goldstein after making 110 pounds at 2 o'clock.

INDIANS WIN COBB AND TRIS BRAIN BATTLE

Glancin' 'Round The Sport World
WITH VAN

[illegible] says that his easiest fights during his entire career were the four he had with the boy he took into camp in annexing the title, namely, Pete Herman. Lynch believes that he could whip Pete every night in the week as he knows his style and says that he has his number.

Joey prizes his wallop above all others, for he says if it hadn't been for his right he wouldn't have been able to present his good old dad with a half-ton and a 2½-ton truck. Old Man Lynch was in the trucking business with horses for years and years and he's still in the game, but he doesn't know which he is the prouder of, "My Boy Joey," or his new trucks.

The following is a true copy of a letter, which has its splendid side, even if the English is a little mixed. The gospel of athletics is spreading, and this boy of the far east is fired with it. The letter, sent to a sporting goods store, reads:

"Beirut 24 March 1921.

"I, the under mensbined, is an inhabitant of Beirut in the American University come to write you this few lines asking from your kindness to send me your honorable catalogue containing the full athlatic stuff in order to pick up the articles needed."

If that boy doesn't become an athletic somewhat after the American plan it will not be for the reason that he hasn't tried. His name is Abdel Rahman Ousta.

Georges Carpentier will leave France May 7 for the United States, according to a cablegram received by Jack Curley recently from Francois Descamps, the Frenchman's manager.

Descamps asked Curley to arrange for suitable quarters for Carpentier. It is thought the final selection of quarters will be at Long Beach, R. I., which will come up to all the expectations of Carpentier and his manager.

Talk is that Art Fletcher, following the death of his father and brother recently, may quit baseball and give his attention to looking after family business matters. Philadelphia fans shiver with fear while Fletcher is making up his mind, for the Phils hardly could do without their captain and shortstop.

Dan Moeller, veteran big league outfielder, has decided he can not make it his year and has quit the Des Moines team. He came back in pretty fair shape last summer, but the spring time is no time for an old-timer. He may return to the game when the sun is hotter.

Club backers in the Western association have adopted a rule that will put a lid on players sneaking off to play for independent teams now and then and that will also prevent managers loaning players for a piece of change. Any player who takes part in an independent game is to be suspended for ten days and the manager of the team permitting it shall be fined $300.

In his recent fight against Moutrot it is stated Pete Herman was robbed of the verdict. Every Boston paper, without exception, declared Herman was robbed and yet the verdict will stand in the record books as a defeat for the little New Orleans fighter. There should be some way to clothe a boxing commission with authority to reverse the decisions when an incompetent or crooked referee pulls one of these queer-looking things. Some day it will come to this state, for we are progressing slowly but in the right direction all the time.

NEW YORK, April 25.—With definite selection today of "Boyle's thirty acres," adjoining Montgomery Park in Jersey City, as the site of the arena for the Dempsey-Carpentier heavyweight championship bout July 2, training plans of the contestants tonight were being laid accordingly.

Location of the Dempsey camp has not been finally selected, but it is generally understood that the champion will select Atlantic City while the Frenchman will train on Long Island, probably at Manhasset.

According to present indications, Carpentier's training will be conducted along much more secret lines than Dempsey's. His manager, Francois Descamps, plans to have the European champion follow much the same line of training as when in England preparing for his bouts with Beckett and Wells, it is said.

Little of Carpentier's training will be done in public—possibly only some light exercises, road work and shadow boxing.

As far as is known, Dempsey will not follow any such campaign. Wherever his camp is located, the public will be admitted to witness the training at a nominal charge, as has always been his custom.

SITE ANNOUNCED By TEX MONDAY

NEW YORK, April 25.—The arena for the Dempsey-Carpentier bout to be staged in Jersey City on July 2, will be erected on a plot known as "Boyles' Thirty Acres," situated just south of Mongomery Park. Promoter Tex Rickard officially announced the site here this afternoon.

The site of the arena is within a few minutes walk of the various ferries and the inter city under ground tube service. Three railroads, serving the southwest, pass within a few blocks while several broad boulevards, suitable for heavy automobile travel and parking, are close by.

Starts Work At Once

The work of leveling the plot for the erection of the 50,000 seat arena will begin at once. Rickard desires to complete the mammoth stadium in time to stage one or two more bouts of importance before the heavyweight contest.

One of the principal considerations which caused Rickard to choose this site was its proximity to large railroad yards.

Virtually every railroad running into Jersey City has informed him that there is a steady and growing demand for special trains from points in the west and south and they will be parked overnight in the yards.

COUNCIL WILL FIX SALARIES DURING WEEK

Preliminary budget reports, the appointment of Dr. W. P. Lowrey as city health officer and a decision to call a meeting of the council this week to discuss salaries and personnel featured a long drawn out session of the city council Monday night.

The city street department will need approximately $149,381 for this year and for other work done by the street department for other departments $46,513 will be asked.

Thirty thousand dollars will be needed by the water department for a few months, according to Councilman Bonner, but will be repaid and he expressed himself as believing that the water department in the course of the year will be at least self-sustaining.

Cemetery Improvement.

Commissioner Reed stated that he would need $20,000 for curbs and gutters at the cemetery and that the park budget as recommended some time ago by the park board met with his approval. This calls for about $23,000. Several other items were mentioned.

Police and Fire Commissioner Bralley's report had been submitted last week but was not available for discussion at the meeting Monday night.

No Cut for Low Salaries.

From sentiments expressed by Mayor Cline and several of the commissioners the salaries of the lower paid city employes will not be greatly pared, though Commissioner Bonner stated that the city's pay roll was a very expensive one and that there was not a man in the city's employ drawing less than $4.50 per day, this common labor, and that the salaries of others, outside the water department, where there are some $100 a month men, were $125 per month at a minimum.

No cut will be made in city commissioner's salaries, if the mayor's sentiments are followed and neither will the salary of mayor be put below $200 per month. It is now $300. Mayor Cline said, that while the salary of the office could be dispensed with by him entirely, there might come a time in the city's affairs when some really competent, able and needed man would be deterred from accepting the office on account of lack of pay from it.

Discussion of Appointment.

Dr. Lowrey's appointment was made by the mayor after a short discussion as to the merits of two of the four applicants and he was not the doctor originally suggested for the office by Dr. Reed. After the discussion Dr. Reed said he saw the views of members of the council and himself made the motion that recommended Dr. Lowrey to the mayor for appointment to this office.

Request for permission to erect a drug store in the 1500 block on Monroe street by E. H. Cunningham was deferred pending recommendations by the school board as to whether it would interfere in any way with their plans for the erection of a school near there soon.

Paving contractors who have been held to the five year maintenance bond were released by the council and pass to the one year clause which has been customary in this city for the past few months.

Park and Cemtery Boards

A cemetery board consisting of Bert Bean, Mrs. Frank Kell, Mrs. M. M. Addicks and Mrs. A. H. Carrigan was appointed by the council on recommendation of Dr. Reed and on his recommendation R. O. Harvey was declared by the council as chairman of the park board.

The First National bank's bid of 5.76 for the city's money was accepted as against the bid of 5.40 on the part of the City National Bank of Commerce. This was done with the proviso, however, that the bank be told that the term of the bid extended only until July 1, 1921, instead of for a year, as both bidders evidently understood. There is a state provision that declares the depository shall be bid upon after the first meeting of the council in July and it was through misunderstanding in regard to this that the bids were accepted and opened.

Declaring The Record News the official medium of the city in which all legal notices, such as ordinances, etc., are to appear, was an act of the council.

Street Ordinances.

The council was late in getting started as the mayor, who was speaking before the federated clubs, was delayed and W. S. Curlee took the chair and started the meeting with the passages of street paving ordinances on their third and final readings. These ordinances were: Nos. 357, Collins avenue paving; 356, Brook street paving; 355, paving Lucile street; 354, paving on Ohio street from Eleventh street to the Wichita Valley tracks; 353, paving ordinance; 352, paving on Ninth street; 358, granting franchise to Denver for switching trackage; 359, advertising for bids for paving on the north end of Indiana avenue; 360, advertising for bids for paving on Fifteenth street; 361, advertising for bids for paving on Holiday street; 363, advertising for bids on Sixth street.

A. B. Grimes and C. C. Head were added to the city's plumbers examination board at the suggestion of "Daddy" Moore of the engineer's department.

The board consists of these two practical plumbers, the city plumbing inspector, the city engineer and the city health officer.

Plumbers contracting work in Wichita Falls are subject to examination by this board to determine their ability to do work that will stand ordinary usage and conform with the city's regulations governing such matters.

Ordinance 363, tending to simplify the procedure of street paving ordinances was passed on its first reading.

PRETTY GIRL FORSAKES MOVIE ACTING FOR APRON MAKING AND EARNS FORTUNE

Miss June Rand, known as "Sassy Jane," and some of her creations.

When Miss June Rand left finishing school in Missouri and went to Los Angeles to have a try at the motion picture game she found that "extra" work, which was all she could get to do, was not enough to support her. She counted her capital one day and found that she had less than five dollars on hand. While pondering what to do next she made herself a little apron to wear about the house for work. A neighbor admired it and wished for one. Miss Rand sold the one she had made. Then she made two or three others for friends and acquaintances. Today she has a million-dollar business, is president of her own company, and supplies the country with the most flattering little aprons imaginable. Taking less than five dollars as her capital, three years of work, and a lot of personality, this pretty young woman has made "Sassy

SELECT JURY FOR TRIAL OF VILLA RAIDERS

By Associated Press.

DEMING, N. M., April 25.—Selection of a jury was begun this afternoon in the trial of 16 alleged Villista bandits, charged with murder in connection with the raid on the border town of Columbus, N. M., on March 9, 1916, by a detachment of Villa's troops. Hopes of aid from the Mexican government in the defense of the prisoners apparently were faint. Visconti Visconte, Mexican consul at Columbus, arrived here this morning from El Paso, where he conferred with the consul general of Mexico in regard to the advisibility of the Mexican government taking a part in the defense of its subjects.

Following a conference with him, R. F. Hamilton of Deming, appointed by the court to defend the prisoners, said that no action had been taken by Mexico.

District Attorney Forrest Fielder said he would ask for the death penalty or acquittal.

zation of the commissioners to run the boundary as outlined and to mark upon fast land that boundary by the erection of permanent and suitable monuments.

Freeling proposed that the commission be authorized to receive evidence on seven days' notice, unless notice be waived, the evidence of Texas to be closed on or before August 1, and of Oklahoma on or before October 1.

Object to Commission.

The Texans vigorously objected to the appointment of the commission suggested by Freeling, declaring that the court itself must decide what constitutes the south bank before a commission would have anything to work on.

It is understood that Justices Pitney and Vandeventer indicated that the Texas contention that a supreme court decision on what constitutes the south bank was necessary before the appointment of a commission to mark the boundary was made, was ground well taken.

In addition to the boundary question, Freeling in his decree went further and asked that that plea of intervention of the United States in so far as proprietory rights is concerned be dismissed as not properly within the issues of the case. Freeling further asked that all pleas of persons claiming as placer or mineral rights claimants, or as riparian owners, be dismissed as not properly within the issues of the case, nor within the original jurisdiction of the court.

Effect of Decree.

The effect of Freeling's decree would be to give the entire disputed area to Oklahoma, eliminate the United States, which intervened for it's Indian wards, and also leave the state of Oklahoma free to dispose of the oil land as it sees fit, without regard to the present holders of land under Texas patents.

The decree submitted by the United States government agreed with that of Oklahoma, except that it insisted that the government remain in the case in behalf of Indian wards.

HUNS WILLING TO PAY ALLIES 200 BILLIONS

willingness to assume the indebtedness of the allied powers to the United States.

Germany's counter proposals are so intricate and involved that the experts who have read them express the opinion that they may be misinterpreted, as the London offer was by persons who did not analyze them carefully and work out the total amount that would have been yielded.

Not Received in Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The only information received by Secretary Hughes today concerning the character of Germany's counter proposals regarding reparations was that contained in press dispatches. The communication embodying the proposals, which was handed yesterday to Loring Dressel, American high commissioner at Berlin, by Dr Walter Simons, the German foreign minister, had not arrived when the secretary finished his day's work.

What course Mr. Hughes will take in dealing with the question was not indicated today. It was said, however, that until he had studied the counter proposals carefully the communication would not be made public unless it had already been published by Germany or by one of the allies, to whom a copy or summary may have been sent.

Diplomatic representatives here believed it probable that the secretary would take up the question involved directly with the foreign officers of the allied governments, rather than their representatives here, in order to expedite negotiations. It was pointed out in this connection that the supreme council is due to meet Saturday and the French are expected to begin their occupation of the Ruhr May 1 in case an agreement is not reached with Germany in the controversy.

NOTED LEGLESS BANKER DEAD AT AGE OF FIFTY

By Associated Press.

ST. PAUL, April 25.—Michael J. Dowling, banker of Olivia, Minn., widely known for his success in life after losing his legs, an arm and and a hand in his early boyhood, died at a hospital here today. He was 55 years old.

Following the signing of the armistice, Mr. Dowling made an eight months' tour of England for the British government, lecturing to disabled war veterans on rehabilitation.

For the last two and a half years he had been touring this country in the interest of war wounded.

Suffering amputation of both legs, his left arm and the greater part of his right hand when 14 years old as a result of exposure in a blizzard, Mr. Dowling was shortly afterward left an orphan and became a county charge. He bargained with the county commissioners, who became interested in his case, and sent him to Carlton college. His rapid rise followed.

MOST FAMOUS SOCIETY BEAUTY ... TO FOLLOW FAD OF ENGLISH NOBILITY

Mrs. Lydig Hoyt.

American social favorites seem to be taking up the fad started by members of the British nobility—that of deserting society to enter the movies or star behind the footlights. The latest American belle to take this step is Mrs. Lydig Hoyt, known as the most beautiful society woman in New York city. She has joined the Norma Talmadge studio in New York and will co-star with Norma in the picture "The Wonderful Thing." Mrs. Hoyt was formerly Miss Julia Robbins. She recently appeared in a charity pageant at the Metropolitan opera house and drew attention with her remarkable beauty.

BURKBURNETT, April 25.—N. W. Pruett, Mrs. J. F. Spiver and the small child of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Johnston, all of whom were bitten early last week by a small dog, which later died of rabies, left today for Austin to take treatment at the pasteur institute.

The dog was killed on last Friday, when it was showing symptoms of rabies and the head sent to Austin for examination, where it was learned that the animal was afflicted with hydrophobia.

CONSOLIDATION OF FIVE ROADS BEING PLANNED

WASHINGTON, April 25—A plan to consolidate all the railroads into five great transcontinental systems, was filed into the interstate commerce commission today by Fred Brown Whitney of Waukegan, Ill., as a citizen of the United States and stockholder in various railroads.

Mr. Whitney expressed strong opposition to regional consolidations, declaring such a plan seemed rational for the few roads most fortunately situated, but that it did not "seem to be preferable method for marshalling the countrys resources behind our foreign trade."

It is suggested that the preferrable scientific method, so far as ... trade is involved," he added, "... provide great transcontinental ... lines of traffic and so far as ... possible, incorporate therein as ... erals the roads running northerly ... southerly, especially from the ... Lakes to the gulf."

NEW YORK SUGAR.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The raw sugar market was quiet and while no business was reported, the undertone was easy and uncontrolled sugars were still avail- able at last prices or 5.02 for centrifugal. There was no change by the committee, which quotes 4¾ for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 5.54 for centrifugal. To conform to the lower rulingsh of the spot market, leading refiners reduced their quotations of refined sugar 20 to 25 points to the basis of 7.00 to 7.25 for fine granulated.

Sugar futures were easier, particularly the May delivery which showed declines of 11 points at one time under scattered liquidation. Others positions were about a point lower, although there was a lit- tle rally in May near the close with final prices 1 to 7 points lower for active positions. May closed at 3.89; July 4.04; September 4.07 and December 3.97. /All bid.

NEW YORK COFFEE.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The market for coffee futures was lower today owing to disappointing reports from Brazil and con- tinued near month liquidation. Rallies of 8 to 10 points from the lowest on covering were not fully sustained, owing to late reports of en- couraging markets and after selling un- der from 6.2 to 6.35, September closed at 6.20 bid. STOCKS HAVE BIG INNING ON EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, April 25.—Further variable accessions to last weeks be- lated advance were registered in the course of today's active and expan- sive stock market. Rails were almost the only important issues to derive little or no benefit.

Accompanied by a turn-over of about 1,075,000 shares, the popular oils, motors, steels, coppers and ship- pings and various specialties scored extreme gains of 1 to 5 points. This advantage was moderately reduced before the close, however, on exten- sive selling for profits.

Reasons for the relative backwards of rails were found in advices over the week end from leading railway terminals.

Most other incidents were encour- aging, notably the stronger domestic bank position and the trend of events abroad

Anomalous conditions prevailed in the money market, all demand loans holding at 6½ per cent on the ex- change, although that quotation was again shaded by a full 1 per cent in most outside negotiations. Interior banks were reported to have added to local reserves, but time funds, even for the shorter maturities, were un- altered.

Liberty issues, which comprised the bulk of the day's operations in the bond market, closed at nominal re- cessions.

Bill Raising By Amateurs Is Found Here

Crude work in raising one dollar bills to bills of the ten dollar denom- ination will prove more than a "ten to one shot," according to Chief of Police Lee Huff. He said Monday noon that the four bills circulated Saturday were amateurish in the ex- treme and he believed the chances are good to apprehend the mutilators of the one dollar bills.

Three bills of this sort were turned into banks by people making Monday morning deposits from Saturday's business and instantly detected and one was found by a merchant before taking it to the bank.

A nought, crudely drawn, following the figure 1 on the bills was the sys- tem used.

COTTON DOES BETTER WITH BAD WEATHER

NEW ORLEANS, April 25.—Dur- ing a good spurt of the session in cot- ton today, the market was steady and declined to do better because of con- tinued unfavorable weather conditions over the belt and the opinion that English news pointed to an early ending of the coal strike. In late trading, however, the market weak- ened under predictions of large May tenders tomorrow, which is first no- tice day for that month, and the close was at the lowest, at net losses of 7 to 13 points. Highest prices were reached following messages from Liv- erpool, speaking in a hopeful way of coal strike negotiations.

Trading months were sent 10 to 12 points over the close of last week, May touching 11.80.

The certificated stock in this mar- ket is 32,516 bales and reports today had it that several firms had made preparations to tender a thousand bales of spot each on May. There is some doubt over very large end- ers because the premium on the dist- ant months more profitable for most profitable for most owners of tend- erable cotton to transfer their con- tracts to later months.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, April 25.—A more hope- ful view as to prospects for early adjust- ment of the British labor troubles and settlement of war reparations, led to ad- vance in the cotton market during today's early trading. The uncertainty of develop- ments along these lines still exercise a restricting influence, however, while the market seemed to meet increased southern offerings around 12.76 for July and the price later broke to 12.59 for this posi- tion with the general market closing bare- ly steady, net 10 points higher to 6 points lower, the more active months showing net losses of 2 to 6 months.

The market opened at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 1 point, but soon did better on the reports of a better feel- ing in Wall street, the firmness of foreign exchange and more favorable advices from the dry goods. Unsettled weather condi- tions in the south and reports that a can- vass of southern bankers by a promi- nent Japanese firm pointed to a decrease of 32.4 per cent in acreage, contributed to the forenoon advance which carried about 10 to 13 points net higher on the active positions; May sold at 12.16 and October to 13.37, but there was further May liquidation, which led to reselling in later months by the buyers of May contracts and the market was weaker later in the day under southern New Orleans and local selling. Apprehensions that shipping might be tied up by a strike of marine engineers, probably contributed to the late decline, but the feature most emphasized around the ring was the increased south- 970 last year. Port receipts 24,135. United States port stocks 1,459,234.

Reid Advises Men to Seek New Business

"If you don't enjoy your business, either get into some that you do en- joy or look around for the reason why you do not derive satisfaction from it," C. W. Reid advised mem- bers of the Kiwanis club at the week- ly luncheon Monday in the princ pal talk of the program.

Mr Reid's talk dealt briefly with the part that personality plays in business life with reference to the raising of the standards of ethics practiced by Wichita aFlls business men.

"We all do homage to the business man who has personality and are at- tracted to him because of his re- gard for the niceties of manner," Mr. Reid said.

"The man who has a smile for everyone and who tells of the good traits of his friends passing in silence on his faults is the man who achieves a great advantage in business and who other things considered equal, is the one to whom business men are at- tracted," he added.

The Kiwanis club motto, "We Build," was praised by the speaker as typifying the highest purpose for which any club could strive, provided they build for moral as well as ma- terial stability.

On account of the conflict with the Shrine ceremonial of May 9 it was decided that the luncheon on that date be called off.

A tentative date of May 13, which comes on Friday, a fact that did not deterr members from acting favorably, was set for the presentation of the charter of the club by the district governor. This date is not final as the ability of the district governor to be present on that date is not known.

A "ten spot," put up by Ben Neal, for the attendance prize, was annexed by Walter Caldwell, who complied with the provisions of the donation "toot Sweet."

Silent boosts in the form of in- dividual chocolates were given by Mr. Couch.

Miss Theresa Veale sang two num- bers accompanied by Mrs. McKnight.

WHEAT FALLS ON OFFERINGS FROM SOUTH

CHICAGO, April 25. — Notable weakness developed n the wheat mar- ket today owing largely to reports of heavier offerings in the southwest. The close was unstable, 2½ to 51-4c net lower with May $1.25 3-4 ti $1.26 and July $1.04 1 4 to $1.05. Corn lost 1¼ to 2c. Oats 1 1-8 to 1½ and provisions 15 to 55 cents.

May delivery of wheat was especi- ally affected by evidence that sup- plies southwest had become much easier to obtain. It was said that tenders of holdings had been free and that Kansas in particular gave in- dications of an increased movement this week. The trade practically ig- nored a forecast of freezing tempera- tures tonight in Kansas and Ne- braska.

Corn and oats sympathized with the wheat decline, although it was esti- mated 500,000 bushels of iorn were bought for shipment to Europe. Lower quotations on hogs carried provisions down.

WIFE OF NOTED OIL MAN WANTS PART OF ESTATE

By Associated Press.
RANGER, Texas, April 25.—Division of the estate of the late Billy Edwards, prominent oil man of the King-Bee field, who was shot and killed by his wife, Anna Belle Edwards, in Oklahoma City will be effected in the state courts of Oklahoma, it became known here today.

The widow is suing Edwards' parents for half of his estate and has obtained an injunction restraining them from removing diamonds alleged to be worth $30,000 from a safe deposit vault. Edwards died childless and his parents claim the widow has no right to the estate, it is said. Mrs. Edwards maintains she is entitled to half because it was through her efforts the community property was accumulated.

Testimony taken before a special examiner here today tended to show that Mrs. Edwards conducted two rooming houses during the oil boom and otherwise aided Edwards in amassing much wealth. Testimony that he had beaten and mistreated her several times also were presented. It is said that this testimony would be used in the woman's defense when she goes on trial in connection with the killing of her husband.

RANGER PENSION BILL INTRODUCED

Record News Staff Bureau.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25.—Representative Parrish today introduced a bill in the house, making it possible for those rangers, serving between 1852 and 1901, whose records were lost in the great fire that destroyed the state capitol, to be pensioned without having certification of their period of service.

According to the provisions of the bill a ranger, who can present at least two affidavits from men with whom he served, is eligible for the pension.

"There are many deserving men among the old-time rangers, who are now almost without support and I intend to press this bill, affording them relief, for immediate action," Congressman Parrish said.

ACTION ON DEMONSTRATOR IS POSTPONED

Following a stormy session Monday afternoon during which one commissioner indicated that he favored the employment of a farm demonstrator and one had made known his opposition, the county commissioner's court postponed for one week final action on the matter of employing a demonstrator for this county. The postponement came after a lengthy meeting, during which representative farmers and business men at Burkburnett, Iowa Park, Electra and this city were heard.

Commissioner L. L. Kunts of precinct 3, led the opposition to the proposal. Backed with a petition signed by 171 representative business men and farmers of the Iowa Park section, several of whom were present at the meeting, he declared himself unalterably opposed to the employment of a demonstrator.

"The employment of a farm demonstrator means that we will raise two bales of cotton in place of one, two heads of cabbage where we have been raising one and the trouble with the farmer now is over production," declared Mr. Kunts in voicing his objections.

"Some of you men here asking for this farm demonstrator live in town because you were a failure as a farmer and now you are coming around and trying to tell the rest of us who have stayed on the farm what to do," declared Mr. Kunts, making personal reference to individuals who had just expressed themselves in favor of the proposition. Two others living in the vicinity of Iowa Park, expressed themselves as opposed to the employment of the farm agent. With Mr. Kunts, their arguments were to the effect that a farm demonstrator was not needed by the farmers.

Haynes Favors Proposal.

Commissioner H. H. Haynes of precinct 4, Electra district, indicated that he favored the employment of the demonstrator. Lee Prescott, commissioner, precinct 2 and J. L. Jackson, commissioner from precinct 1, both asked that definite action be postponed as they had received little indication as to whether or not residents of their precincts favored the plan. It is believed that Judge J. P. Jones will oppose the employment of a demonstrator in case the commissioners are evenly divided in the matter.

Talks in favor of the employment of the demonstrator were made by W. R. Arnold, mayor of Iowa Park; E. R. Brown, president of the Chamber of Commerce at Electra, and B. T. Johnson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of that city; Dr. A. H. Douglas, head of the sanitary department of this city; M. B. Oates, agricultural agent of the Fort Worth & Denver railroad; H. J. Flusche, farmer, living near Electra, and several other speakers.

Petitions were presented from Electra, Burkburnett and this city with over 250 signatures requesting the court to employ the county demonstrator for the county.

The speakers brought out that this city and Clay county were the only counties on the Fort Worth & Denver railroad between Fort Worth and Texline which did not employ a farm demonstrator. They brought out that the cost to the county would be comparatively small, probably not exceeding $3,000 a year as the chamber of commerce bodies of the county had agreed to share at least 50 percent of the total cost.

Answering the objections of Commissioner Kunts, one speaker pointed out that the duty of the farm demonstrator would not only be to increase the agriculture production of the county, but would at this time primarily be to aid the farmers in securing better market conditions.

Marguerite De La Motte

There has been so many fans writing in to praise or to ask about "that pretty girl who played in 'The Nut' with Fairbanks, that it seems wise to show our very newest picture of Marguerite De La Motte. So here she is, and we agree she is pretty.

Miss De La Motte comes from the far north, her home being Duluth. She was educated in San Diego, however, and began her screen career with H. B. Warner in "The Pagan God." Later she appeared in a picture with Jack Pickford and more recently she played in Metro's production of the Drury Lane melodrama, "The Hope." Her beautiful eyes are hazel and her hair is fair and she lives in Los Angeles, for those who care for detail.

Charley Studies Painting.

Charles Ray has taken up the study of oil painting with no less an instructor than Rob Wagner, former head of the art department of a Los Angeles high school, who has gained later fame as the Saturday Evening Post humorist. He is teaching Ray the rudiments of oil-color and the star, who is somewhat of an amateur portraiteur, already has commenced a canvas.

Mat Moore's Next.

Matt Moore, brother of Tom and Owen, has been cast to play opposite Seena Owen in Fannie Hurst's new story, "Back Pay," which is being directed by Frank Borzage, the famed director of "Humoresque."

What They're Doing.

Conway Tearle is producing "Ye Shall Pay."

Carter De Haven is choosing a cast to support himself and wife in "My Lady Friends."

Wesley Barry is to appear in a Marshall Neilan version of "Penrod."

Bill Hart has given Mary Garden the sombrero he wore in many of his pictures.

Another film version of the Bible has been made. This by the French. It contains ten episodes in 22 reels.

Mack Sennett's next two features will be "His Dream Girl" and "Her Dream Man."

"Rip Van Winkle" is to be produced in pictures with Thomas Jefferson, a son of the original Rip.

Constance Talmadge is taking a six weeks' vacation, having completed "Woman's Place."

Four to five thousand drawings are required for an animated cartoon. That is why few of them are more than 250 feet.

Margaret Sousa, daughter of the famous band master, appears in "Lest We Forget."

'AUNT EM," UTAH'S GRAND OLD LADY IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

By Associated Press.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 25.—Mrs. Emmeline B. Wells, 93 years old, known as "Aunt Em" and "Utah's grand old lady" who for many years was president of the Relief society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, died today.

Mrs. Wells, at Nauvoo, Ill., in 1844, became acquainted with Joseph Smith, the father of Mormonism, and was a friend of Brigham Young in Salt Lake City. She was one of the first women to vote in Utah under the law of 1870.

In 1879 Mrs. Wells presented congress with a memorial asking that children born in plural marriage be made legitimate.

NIGHT SHOWS PLANNED FOR ANNUAL RODEO

The night show of the Round-Up which will open Thursday will be some show itself, according to Tom L. Burnett and Bryan Roach, manager and assistant manager, of the event. Last year there was no night show and there were so many contestants that many of them had to do their work after the regular performance in order to allow the judges sufficient time for judging all contestants and this year there are a great many more contestants than last year, so all events left over from the regular afternoon performance will be thrown into the night show with a number of special features engaged especially for the night performance.

California Frank Hafley has been engaged by Mr. Burnett to assist with the night performance and will present his high jumping horse, "Ghent." This act gives little Joe Hetzer an opportunity for some comedy of the Will Rogers type. Miss Mamie Francis, world's champion lady horseback rifle shot, will also perform at the night show, and Tiny, the famous bucking Shetland, for which a prize of $10 will be posted for any newsboy who can ride the little demon.

Other features that will be presented at the night show will be an old-time ranch horseback quadrill, Indian dances accompanied by special red fire illuminations, Little Joe Hetzer and his famous bucking Bovolupus, special bronc-riding, steer-riding and bulldogging features will round out the program.

Dr. John Fletcher will probably captain the local team in the first game against the broncho busters and he is known as one of the most clever polo pilots in this section of the country.

Dave White will captain the cowboy team and those who have seen him in action say that he is a wizard with the mallet and is able to hit the ball from any angle.

Colonel George Harvey, who started on September 15, 1910, from Trenton, N. J., for London, England, expects to arrive in the British metropolis within a few weeks—Baltimore Sun.
