Bitter Fighting Revives Fears For Russo-Japanese War

Jap Retaliation Expected After Great Battle

Grave Turn Taken When Soviet Planes Bomb Korean Railroad And Artillery Barrage Laid

By J. D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

KOGI, Korea (Near the Siberian Border, by Courier to Yuki), Aug. 6.—A Soviet Russian air raid this afternoon on Korea brought a Japanese army communique which declared it only a question of time until the Japanese would retaliate.

A reliable eye-witness reported 24 Russian planes bombed the Tumenrashin railway at a point 15 miles northwest of Yuki as well as a highway running from Yuki. It was termed the most intensive aerial attack ever made against a Korean objective.

RUSSIANS SAID REPULSED

YUKI, Korea (Near Siberian Border), Aug. 7.—(Sunday) (AP)—A Japanese communique said today Soviet Russian troops staged a night attack on disputed Changkufeng hill but were repulsed with heavy losses.

The communique said three Soviet regiments began advancing shortly before dusk Saturday, accompanied by many tanks.

They charged Japanese positions and by midnight were repulsed after severe hand-to-hand fighting, the communique said.

Japanese reported today that about 100 soviet airplanes were involved in yesterday's invasion of Korean territory.

Railway communications were interrupted. The railway runs within a few miles of the Changkufeng sector, scene of hostilities in the Soviet - Russian - Japanese dispute over the Siberian-Manchoukuoan border.

Artillery Barrage Laid Down

The communique, issued by the northern Korea army headquarters, said the Soviet raiders also attacked Korean villages. Korea is Japanese territory. Manchoukuo is a Japanese protectorate.

The communique said also that Russian artillerymen "shelled Changkufeng and nearby Shuiliufeng heights fiercely since early morning."

"The Japanese policy heretofore has been patient, but now we are highly indignant at this unwarranted manifestation of the Soviets' challenging attitude whereby they crossed the border and bombed peaceful Korean villages," the communique said, adding that today's attacks brought the total of aerial incursions over Korea to 77.

Twenty Planes In Dogfight

This writer saw more than 20 planes engaged in a dogfight in the direction of Changkufeng.

The eye-witness who brought the report of the railway bombing to this mountain village overlooking Changkufeng said that no Japanese planes engaged the attackers.

Four Escape Gun Battle

DALLAS, Aug. 6. (AP)— Two men and their women companions, described by officers as wanted in Kermit Mo., for highway robbery, escaped from police tonight after a running gun battle from Dallas to Fort Worth.

Squad policemen Earl Mowat and W. E. Lasseter said they were attempting to overhaul a sedan with a Missouri license plate when the occupants smashed the rear-vision glass with a pistol butt and started firing with a shotgun, pistol and rifle.

Blasts from the shotgun sprinkled the squad car. The officers returned the fire, but the car outdistanced them.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Decker said he had information the quartet was wanted in Missouri for a holdup several days ago.

Spanish Insurgents Lay Claim To Smashing Ebro Victory

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier) Aug. 6. (AP)—The insurgent general staff reported an offensive which started late today had broken through government lines at several points along the Ebro river front in eastern Spain.

Government fighters were said to be in headlong flight in the Fayon sector of the Ebro front while their comrades in the north kept the offensive with a general push against Tremp, hydro-electric center about 75 miles south of the French frontier. Three thousand government fighters were reported killed and 2,000 taken prisoner.

Warner Oland, Screen Actor, Death Victim

(By The Associated Press)

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Aug. 6. (AP)—Johann Warner Oland, the Charlie Chan who escaped a thousand terrible deaths on the screen, died of bronchial pneumonia today in his native Sweden.

News the 58-year-old and portly stage and screen star died came from the home of his estranged wife, the former Edith Shearn of the stage, who was preparing for a hurried trip to his bedside.

The end came at 2:30 p. m. (5 a. m. P.S.T.) in a Stockholm hospital

WARNER'S FRIEND BURIED

PARIS, Aug. 6. (AP)—An aged Catholic priest who called Pearl White his benefactress today pronounced the funeral oration for the film star of the old silent thrillers. She played opposite Warner Oland, who died today, in old days.

She was buried in the presence of only a dozen of her most intimate friends.

Years ago when the actress bought a country place at Rambouillett, she gave the priest, Father Theodore Neslay, a little church and burial ground on a corner of the estate.

after being moved from the home of Eric Stocklasse, Scandinavian artist and friend of the actor, in Tyresco, near Stockholm.

Burial To Be In Sweden

Mrs. Oland cancelled reservations on airplanes and steamer, made five days ago when she first learned of her husband's illness. She received word only yesterday his condition was critical.

Harrison Ryon, the widow's attorney, said Oland will be buried in the little Swedish town of Umeo, his birthplace, as was his request.

Oland's departure to Sweden more than a month ago was almost as mysterious as were the movements of Arthur Earl Derr Biggers' famous detective that he portrayed.

Chinese Parts Confusing

He had reached a separate maintenance agreement with his wife after her suit filed a year ago.

Mrs. Oland charged in her suit that the actor "so disregarded his duties as a husband that he caused her much mental anguish." She declared excess drinking was the cause of their trouble. As Charlie Chan, she said, he earned $90,000 in 1936.

Before Oland quietly sailed from Los Angeles, he had agreed to do

Erroneous Tip Says Hawaiian Clipper Found

Japanese Navy Radioed Steamer Asking It To Watch Ocean, Leading To The Rumor

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Aug. 7. (Sunday)—The Japanese navy today radioed the steamer Canberra, en route from Australia to Japan, to go by way of Douglas reef to look for the missing Hawaii Clipper.

The navy's announcement of the order said the United States embassy had reported the big plane found and asked aid. The embassy later denied this.

Douglas reef is just north of the route the Clipper expected to follow from Guam to Manila when she took off July 28.

Cause Of Rumor Traced

Eugene H. Dooman, counselor of the American embassy, said the Pan-American airways had calculated the Clipper might be in the vicinity of Douglas reef and had asked the embassy to request Japanese aid.

As a result, he said, he asked the Japanese navy if such help could be given and the navy radioed the Canberra Maru, which happened to be the nearest vessel to the reef.

Powder Burns Tell How Five Killed

NORTON, Kan., Aug. 6. (AP) — Powder burns around forehead wounds that killed a mother and four sons here this morning were cited by officers tonight in explaining how the father was able to shoot each with a single shot rifle without awakening the others.

The father, George Dobbie, 39, was found dying of a wound in the mouth by a messenger sent to learn why he had not appeared on his job as a tractor operator for the county.

His wife, 34, and their four sons, George, jr., 17; Glen Donald, 15; Raymond, 12, and Floyd Gene, 11, were dead when found.

Sheriff C. W. Holland said he believed Dobbie placed the single shot .22 caliber rifle between the eyes of each of his victims, muffling the explosions. The gun was found lying on Dobbie's stomach.

Torrid Heat Wave Felt

(By The Associated Press)

Heat and humidity combined Saturday to bring distress to widespread areas, particularly in the east.

Although cooler weather was reported by the Chicago weather bureau in the extreme northern plains, lower Missouri valley and north Atlantic states the thermometers in most eastern and southern sectors showed readings above normal.

At least 42 deaths had been blamed on high temperatures, humidity, and torrential rains, the past four days. Eight persons—members of families—drowned Friday at Sevierville, Tenn., in the wake of rains. Twenty other deaths were reported in upper New York state. Pennsylvania counted two dead. Newark, N. Blinding, Radio-Controlled Speed On Road Planned

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—From coast to coast, by auto, in 23 hours.

A highway on which this can be done has been designed to be shown at the World's fair here.

It shows cars running 100 miles an hour with more safety than possible today. It is called the highway of the future.

Science has made all necessary "parts." Cars and materials are either on the roads today or in experimental shops. The highway, a nearly straight line that passes all cities, was designed by Norman Bel Geddes.

Many authorities have approved it as an exhibit of what can be done.

The first of these new roads which may ultimately web the country is designed to start in New Jersey and head into California north of San Francisco 2300 miles in length.

Two scenes would strike the motorist as extraordinary.

One would be traffic lanes separated by three-foot high walls curving concavely outward and upward from the roadbed. He would recall that in many places he had driven over miles of roads bordered by similar structures only six inches high. And that when at 70 miles an hour he veered dangerously close to the outside edge of the

Corrigan To Make Visits

NEW YORK, Aug. 6. (AP)—Still wearing his oil-smeared brown leather jacket, Douglas Corrigan forgot his slight chest injury today and motored to Camp Smith at Peekskill, N. Y., to review the "fighting Irish" of the famous old 69th infantry regiment.

After the review, Corrigan returned to New York to rest before attending a testimonial dinner sponsored by the Dublin society of New York. Fifty-seven Irish organizations were represented.

Mayor LaGuardia who expressed regret at Corrigan's chest injury and invited him to be his guest again when he returns Thursday from visits to Boston, Newark, Baltimore and Washington, D. C.

New Deal Gains Victory; Radio Charges Heard

All Power Of Government Used To Defeat Him, Chandler Charges In Address

(By The Associated Press)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 6.—Sen. Alben W. Barkley's lead on returns from today's Democratic senatorial primary over Gov. A. B. Chandler was 32,244 at 11:30 p. m., central standard time tonight.

The report at this hour was from 3,106 of the state's 4,313 precincts. Eighty counties were complete. Kentucky has 120 counties.

The tabulation gave Barkley 208,804 and Chandler 176,560.

Senator Barkley was leading in seven of the nine congressional districts.

The first report from Jefferson (Louisville) county of 36 precincts gave Barkley 3,247 votes to 849 for Chandler. The counting in the county did not begin until after 9 p. m. (central standard time).

ASKED HELP—FOR REASON

GREENUP, Ky., Aug. 6. (AP)—Bunlen Thacker, 74-year-old farmer, became a father for the 21st time today and was so nervous he had to ask an election clerk to mark his primary ballot for "Governor Chandler for Senator." Thacker thanked the clerk and apologized because his 32-year-old second wife was unable to vote.

Leads In Five Districts

A check of the votes by districts showed Barkley leading in five of the nine congressional districts. In the sixth district embracing Kentucky's famous bluegrass region, the vote was Chandler 20,120 and Barkley 19,994. Chandler had slight leads in the eighth and ninth districts in the mountainous region of eastern Kentucky. Barkley was ahead in the seventh district by a small margin.

In the Republican senatorial primary John P. Haswell continued to pick up a lead over his four opponents. Haswell had the backing of the state administration. Haswells vote was 6,694 on returns from 874 precincts in 36 counties.

In a national broadcast tonight from his home in Versailles Governor Chandler said "All the power of the federal government" had been used "to bring about my defeat."

More Primaries Are On Week's Chart

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. (AP)—Next week's senatorial primaries in Arkansas, Idaho and Ohio received some attention in Washington tonight pending definite word from Kentucky as to the outcome of the Barkley-Chandler race, in which President Roosevelt had boldly intervened.

In Idaho next Tuesday, when Sen. James P. Pope and Rep. D. Worth Clark put their rivalry for the Democratic senatorial nomination to a test, a much sharper issue of New Deal versus boldly asserted independence will be involved.

Senator Pope is running on his record of consistent support of administration measures. Representative Clark has been off the New Deal reservation frequently. He is committed to an independent course.

On Tuesday also, there will be senatorial primaries in Arkansas and Ohio and a non-senatorial primary in Nebraska.

In Arkansas and Ohio, a direct showing of Roosevelt favor for renomination of Senators Caraway and Bulkey has given a national interest to the Democratic contests. But it is in Idaho that the strongest New Deal backing has been rallied behind Pope.

Administration Takes Hand

Secretary of State Hull broke his political silence recently to point out Pope's strong support of the New Deal trade pact venture. National Chairman Farley has extended his good wishes to Pope. Weeks ago, President Roosevelt himself gave aid and comfort to Pope's proposals for

Flat Land Erosion Problems More Acute Than Those On Uneven Topography

Dust Bowl Base For Reports

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINTON, Aug. 6. — A study of 20 "dust bowl" counties has indicated to agriculture department soil experts that wind erosion is likely to be more serious on relatively flat land than on areas on uneven topography.

The counties, selected as the greatest sufferers from wind erosion, are in Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. Serious erosion ranged from as low as 20 per cent of the land in Oldham county, Texas, to 78.4 per cent in Morton county, Kan.

In Oldham county, the percentage of land lying on slopes of greater than two per cent was 86.8 per cent, while only 33 per cent of the area of Morton county had topography that was uneven.

Explanation Found In Report

On the other hand, said a report prepared by Arthur H. Joel, of the western conservation survey office, a high percentage of serious wind erosion was found in areas where the percentage of cultivated land was greater or more land was susceptible to erosion.

Pointing out that the increase in slope is an important factor in erosion by water, the report said of wind erosion:

"Plain lands lack not only the protection of forest cover but also the protection of ridges, knolls and other natural elevations, such as are provided on rolling and hilly areas.

"As a result, the winds have an uninterrupted sweep for many miles and practically all lands with insufficient vegetative cover are subjected to the erosive action of the wind."

Differences Indexed

"On lands of uneven topography," the report continued, "(wind) erosion seems to have a more localized effect. Because of the numerous topographic obstacles it seems but natural that the force and direction of the wind would be greatly modified locally on lands of uneven topography."

The report said the relation of slopes to wind erosion was not yet well understood and was a field meriting considerable careful research.

The percentage of lands in the 20 counties affected by serious wind erosion and the percentage of land within them lying on slopes greater than two percent follow:

Morton county, Kan., 78.4 per cent seriously affected and 33 per cent of uneven topography; Stevens county, Kan., 76.9 and 28; Stanton county, Kan., 75.1 and 36.2.

Baca county, Colo., 70.4 and 40; Dallam county, Texas, 67.8 and 12.1; Sherman county, Texas, 61.3 and 17.6; Hamilton county, Kan., 61.1 and 58.9; Beaver county, Okla., 60.7 and 73.

Ochiltree county, Texas, 60.4 and 22.9; Hartley county, Texas, 60.1 and 35.5; Seward county, Kan., 58.4 and 40; Texas county, Okla., 54.6 and 28.5; Deaf Smith county, Texas, 53.8 and 28.5; Cimarron county, Okla., 51.8 and 45.5.

Hansford county, Texas, 51.8 and 32.9; Moore county, Texas, 49.8 and 38.5; Powers county, Colo., 28.9 and 41.2; Grant county, Kan., 27.2 and 20; Bent county, Colo., 20.5 and 51.5, and Oldham county, Texas, 20 and 86.8.

Old Cowpokes Who Couldn't Head A Pig, Riding Back To Home Range, The Old XIT

(By The Associated Press)

DALHART, Texas, Aug. 6.—Old punchers who are branded as clearly as the XIT was ever burned in the hide of a steer are riding back to their home range for their annual roundup.

Not a one of them could get a job on a hog ranch, for saddles shaped their legs, and no honest-to-goodness, bow-legged cowhand could head a hog. But the punchers are here for a good time tomorrow and the next day at the XIT reunion.

Around the hotel lobbies and on the curbstones old tales are being retold. That's the fun of the reunion for most of the punchers, including Ab Blocker, one of the most renowned of trail drivers, and W. E. (Uncle Billy) Jarrett, who 52 years ago walked 177 miles from Trinidad, Colo., to old Tascosa and learned to call for square dances before he got a job on the XIT.

They'll See Transformed Range

The punchers used to tide in off the 3,000,000-acre range to Tascosa and other towns to wet their whistles, try their luck at the monte bank, shake a leg in the dance halls and perhaps burn a little powder and lead. But tomorrow and the next day the punchers will be entertained.

They will have a chance to shake their legs at squares, quadrilles and other old-time dances. Or they can try those bowed limbs at more modern steps with the tempo set by swing orchestras. They can also see flesh shows, today considered rather modest floor shows, which likely would have shocked Tascosa back in the 'eighties.

Sand Dunes Dot Range

Persons arranging the big reunion have collected around a thousand saddles and horses for the parade. That number of horses wouldn't have been a very big remuda on the XIT when the boys were handling thousands of head of cattle on the range that covered 10 big Texas counties. The XIT horses grazed in grass belly-deep. Today there are sand dunes on some of the old range. Fields dot what was once the biggest range in the world. Beefy, white-faced, blooded steers, which couldn't stand a trip across the former XIT range, graze in the pastures, successor to the big steers which could go into a wild stampede just this side of Abilene or Fort Dodge after a rough trail trip across the territory and the Kansas prairies.

Cooperative School And Job Training Said By Leifeste Well Under Way In Lubbock

"Work on the organization of the cooperative school and employment training program is well under way," Sam Leifeste, coordinator for the project, said Saturday.

Several Lubbock firms have stated they will participate in the program by taking one or more trainees. Arrangements have been made to place boys and girls in part-time employment at a furniture store, jewelry store, shoe store, two hardwares, a clothing store, a paint and paper store, an electric shop, a radio station, and several grocery stores.

"It has been impossible to communicate with all employers who may want trainees," Leifeste said, "but an effort will be made to discuss the subject with them soon."

Would Help Decide Vocation

"Juniors in high school who have chosen a vocation wherein they can find four hours daily employment in the regular school term will be given an opportunity to get various experiences in that work and at the same time to continue their school course in such a manner as to permit them to graduate with their regular class," he explained. "The program is designed to aid the trainee in the selection of his vocation and then to provide coordinated training both on the job and in his studies.

"Although the number of trainees who can be taken into the program must be limited, we still can accommodate a few well-qualified boys and girls.

"This is primarily a training program, with the training designed to make for a reasonable degree of vocational efficiency."

Shorthorns Will Be Shown Here

Five prominent breeders from other states of milking shorthorn cattle plan to exhibit herds aggregating 75 animals in the Panhandle-South Plains fair here next fall, according to word received at the chamber of commerce Saturday from Miles Milhoan of Wildorado, Texas, director of the National Milking Shorthorn society.

The information was contained in a letter from Milhoan accepting appointment as judge of the milking shorthorn division of the approaching fair. He served in similar capacity last year.

Milhoan's letter said the exhibitors to whom he had reference are operators of large farms in Illinois, Kansas or Wisconsin. They already have filed entries in the approaching fair at Amarillo and intend to bring their herds to Lubbock from there, he said.

Officials of the fair association here, however, said that formal entries have not yet been filed.

City Commission Thursday To Study Procedure For Calling Bond Election

Streets, Water, Sewer And Fire Improvements Would Be Made

BY H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Study of the legal procedure must be followed and perhaps the first steps necessary to the calling of a city bond election are scheduled for consideration at the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission at the city hall Thursday afternoon, according to information given at the city hall Saturday.

The session of the commission, it was added, likely may go far in determining what the amount of the proposed bond issue may be, the rate of interest to be offered and the specific nature of the improvements for which financing will be sought.

The figure most often mentioned during discussions at the city hall of such an issue is $150,000. It is regarded there as extremely improbable that the proposed amount will be higher and that if there should be any variation from that figure, it will be lower.

Last Such Election In 1929

If the election should be ordered, it will be the first time since 1929 the citizens of Lubbock have been called upon to issue bonds to finance public improvements of long range type.

In that year, $425,000 in bonds were voted, of which $228,000 was for street improvement, $85,000 for sewer extensions, $75,000 for airport improvements and $40,000 for water department improvements.

Since that time Lubbock has grown from a population of approximately 20,000 to a city conservatively estimated at more than 30,000 people, officials pointed out.

Current Revenues Have Sufficed

During the nine years, all the improvements have been financed from current revenues in spite of the fact that most of work has been of the "permanent" type intended to serve citizenship of Lubbock many years, city officials explained. They added further that many of the improvements have been of the type which, with rarest of exceptions, are built by cities with bond issues.

What individual amounts of bonds for specific purposes may be proposed remains to be determined. Improvements to which consideration has been and will be given, according to opinion in authoritative circles, include: storm sewer across the southern part of the city; a new sewage disposal plant; street improvements; water improvements; and expansions of the fire department including alterations in the city hall.

Future Growth Imposes Demand

For some of those, the city hopes to receive Public Works administration grants to apply on a portion of the cost. On others, the entire expense must be borne by the city. But, regardless whether grants are received, it is the virtually unanimous opinion of city officials that all work must be done unless development of Lubbock is to be seriously retarded.

The storm sewer and sewage disposal plant are described primarily as being health measures. The alleged inadequacy of present sewage disposal facilities has led to damage suits against the city and it is the opinion of attorneys that if Lubbock loses in that suit, others of similar nature will follow. It is not considered beyond the range of possibility that sufficient judgments might be won from the city unless facilities are enlarged to pay for several sewage disposal plants.

Bristling Penalties Threatened

In connection with fire department expansions, the city has been warned that higher insurance rates will be the inevitable results unless improvements are made.

Sewer line and water extensions are described as vital needs solely because Lubbock has grown so rapidly. Lack of distribution systems has forbidden the development of many otherwise desirable residential sections. It has retarded development of others of desirable nature now only partially settled. There is no question, officials say, that residential building will more than keep pace with expansions of distribution systems which, once in the ground, become improvements of the most permanent type.

City Pays Cash—Gets "Paper"

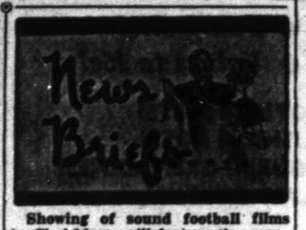

The proposed street improvement issue would be designed to create a revolving fund which would make possible an uninterrupted paving program. Those bonds, drawing perhaps four per cent interest, likely would be retired with the money paid by property owners for pavement bordering their property. The property owners pay six per cent upon their obligations until paid.

Need for such a revolving fund, according to officials, results from the fact that the city pays for the paving as the work is done, most important accomplishment of which is that it keeps many men steadily employed who otherwise would be jobless most of the time. However, the property owner has four years, if he desires it, in which to pay for his part of the paving. Thus the city puts out cash and gets back "paper."

Funding Deemed Necessary

Although it is perhaps the very best of paper, at least half the property owners, unless installment payment was possible, would find it financially impossible to have paving done and the city, even if it desired, could not force them to do it. Under the present system, most property owners "jump" at the opportunity to obtain improvement of their street.

The fact that the paving brings a heavy drain upon available cash, officials said, is amply demonstrated by the more than 10 miles of street surfacing which has been or will be put down and paid for on city streets this summer. At such rate, officials believe that Lubbock soon will catch up with its paving needs unless growth should be even more phenomenal than has been the case the last few years. However, the present list of applicants for paving will not enable the city to catch up, even if work continues at a maximum uninterrupted pace, for at least another year. And officials are in agreement that work cannot go on uninterruptedly unless a fund is set up from which it can be paid for.

Dr. Roger Seaman Knapp, son of the late Dr. Bradford Knapp who was president of Texas Technological college, Saturday had his state medical license filed with the district clerk here, permitting him to practice medicine and surgery in Lubbock county. Glenn Garland Porter also filed his license with the clerk, U. Brown.

Monthly Crosby county sing song will be held at Smith Ward school at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, R. H. Nowlin, Crosby county superintendent, announces. A large crowd is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crawford of Daugherty in Floyd county are parents of a son weighing 8 pounds 15 1-4 ounces born at 8:03 Saturday night at West Texas hospital.

Two Lubbock men, 34 and 42, were arrested Saturday night by law enforcement officers here and held pending filing of charges of violation of state liquor laws. The younger man was arrested in the 1500-block Avenue G and the older in the 100-block Avenue M. Arresting officers were O. E. Rush and S. O. Boyd of the police department and Frank Mitchell and Dallas Cramer of the Texas Liquor Control board.

Here Are Some Of Leading Figures In Ralls Paving Enterprise

When a contractor started work on a state highway near Ralls recently, citizens of that bustling little city decided it offered an opportunity to have needed street paving done. So they learned the contractor's terms, raised the money among themselves and the 26 blocks of work will be paid for as soon as it is completed, sometime during the coming week, according to Mayor Will Marr. Some of those who took the lead in bringing the improvement to realization are pictured above. They are, from left to right, back row: C. Sowell, W. P. McKee, E. A. Henry, J. Edd McLaughlin, Secretary L. A. Coward of the chamber of commerce, and C. C. Green; kneeling, front row, also left to right, A. L. Winfrey, P. B. Ralls, Mayor Marr, T. H. Holmes, L. D. Moss and L. A. Beetles Invade Times Square In New York; Get Attention

By Associated Press Feature Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—It takes a holdup at the corner drugstore to get a person steamed up about crime. And it takes Japanese beetles in Times Square to make a New Yorker realize there really are insect pests.

Until a few days ago, your average New Yorker never heard of the grasshopper plague in the West. Or he thought of it as one of those things that "can't happen here."

But late July brought a horde of the plant ravaging Japanese beetles into the heart of the city. They didn't find much to eat in Times Square, but they had a good time in the parks and roof gardens.

Vice-President Excited

Sixty varieties of flowers grow in the roof garden of the National Surety company. When the beetles hit town, the company's vice-president got excited.

"There are at least 100,000of those babies down here," he reported. "Why, in an hour you can pick a quart of them."

Picking is one way to fight the pest, which has been spreading ever since it was discovered in New Jersey 22 years ago. But New Yorkers who get around know you can buy beetle traps. Army headquarters for the Second Corps area, on leafy Governors Island, has a hundred of them, and some suburban towns give prizes to children who trap the most beetles.

New Warning

Suburbanites are getting used also to seeing a new kind of sign on lawns. It doesn't read, "Keep Off The Grass"; it warns that lead arsenate has been sprinkled around to kill the invaders—and that lead arsenate is poison.

Of course, all this may not be so important as fighting grasshoppers. But it's frightfully important to the New Yorkers. So is a holdup at the corner drug store.

Mrs. Jack Oakie Files Divorce Suit; Charges Mental Cruelty

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6. (AP)—Jack Oakie, the wise-cracking, swashbuckling comedian, was sued for divorce today in a complaint filed by Venita Varden Oakie in superior court. She charged mental cruelty.

"Jealous, quarrelsome and abusive," read part of the complaint.

"He had a violent temper," the former actress charged, "flew into sudden rages, and on many occasions, without provocation, and in the presence of mutual friends, used language which caused her great embarrassment, humiliation and mental suffering."

Jerry Geisler, attorney for Mrs. Oakie, who filed the papers, said a property settlement had been signed. The Oakies separated about 10 days ago.

Women's Temperance Union Is Ready For Another Campaign

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6. (AP)—Leaders of the Woman's Christian Temperance union today gave repeal "10 years at the most" for survival and announced the organization's campaign for national prohibition of the liquor traffic would be renewed at the next session of congress.

Mrs. Izora Scott of Washington, D. C., national WCTU director, said Senator Morris Sheppard (D-Texas) probably would seek the union's objective by introducing a resolution to amend the constitution.

New Song To Be Dedicated To Corrigan At Galveston

(By The Associated Press)

GALVESTON, Aug. 5—Swing music jitterbugs soon will have their own version of Douglas Corrigan's "wrong-direction" flight from New York to Ireland. Two Galveston women, Eloise Drake and Christine Smith, announced today that they had written a swing song memorializing the flier's feat, which they call "If Your Compass Is Turned Around."

Conway R. Shaw, well known Galveston musician, commended its musical merit. The composers said that the song would be dedicated to Corrigan at the reception which will be given him when he visits Galveston, his birthplace.

No Rest Even For The Dead In Army's Maneuvers

FORT SAM HOUSTON, Aug. 6. (AP)—There will be no rest, not even for the "dead," in the third army's mimic warfare which started here today with the largest concentration of troops in the southwest since World war days.

Army officials were so intent in giving their troops the maximum training possible that they have ruled "walking dead men"—official casualties—will be expected to keep up with their units. Only those, in the army's own words, "needed to test the organization of the medical corps" will be removed from their detachments.

Neither will there be surcease from marching and shooting mythical bullets at mythical foes or "captured" individuals and units. They will be expected to tag along with the official dead and maimed and "thus retain contact with the problem.

Woman Held On Morals Charge To Be Released To Dumas

When the tip reached the office of Sheriff Tom Abel Saturday from authorities at Dumas to arrest a woman on a misdemeanor charge of swindling with worthless check, the suspect was in jail.

The woman, 34, had been arrested by W. J. Tucker and Carl Francis of the police department several days ago in a downtown hotel and had entered a plea of guilty of a charge of vagrancy and being a common prostitute.

She was fined $25 in corporation court and was serving a jail sentence in lieu of payment of the fine when officers learned she was wanted at Dumas.

She had been "mugged" and fingerprinted by police.

Jas. P. Posey, chief deputy sheriff, said the woman would be released to Dumas officers probably today.

Landon, district agent of the Texas Predatory Animal Control association, reports 826 coyotes; 124 bobcats; 74 wolves and 7 mountain lions were taken by 114 trappers in June. A. L. THE THREE BUDGETEERS

"Oh, dear," sighed the first, "I'm so tired. I finally found what I wanted, but I'm worn out."

"It's lovely," sighed the second, "but I paid more than I wanted to."

"It's easy," said the third. "I've been studying the advertisements for days, and I knew where to look for what I wanted---and how much I'd have to pay."

Hopkins Arranges Conferences To End South's Pressing Economic Problems

Jobs For Farmer Closely Scanned

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 6.—Harry Hopkins arranged conferences today with southern state and regional WPA directors to lay before them the initial step in President Roosevelt's "frontal attack" designed to eradicate causes retarding the South's economic development.

The works progress administrator said the first move would be inauguration of a between-seasons employment program for needy farmers to "provide supplementary income to workers at a period when income from private sources would be at its lowest ebb."

Rolls To Lengthen

He said he had given administrators authority to "add a total of 200,000 persons to the WPA rolls pending the time when labor would be needed for picking cotton."

In a nation-wide broadcast from Memphis last night, Hopkins listed the South's greatest needs as:

1. Increased farm income.
2. Equalized educational and health opportunities.
3. Cheaper power to attract industry.

Lauding the South's economic struggle as a "saga of human accomplishments," he described its immediate problem as a "lack of purchasing power."

Handicaps Listed

He asserted there were thousands of southerners in rural areas whose diet consisted of "grits, greens and gravy."

Handicaps to the South's development, Hopkins said, are:

1. Concentration of financial power in too few people, most of whom live outside the South.
2. Penalty of the existing freight rate structure.
3. Tariff policy.
4. The one-crop agricultural system and the credit system it entails.

In Washington last night, Representative White (R-Ohio) referred to Hopkin's trip south as a journey to "knock down a straw man" created by "vicious economic meddling by New Deal theorists."

Farmer Selling More Abroad

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. (AP)—The agriculture department reported today that American farmers sold $155,000,000 more agricultural products abroad during the fiscal year ending June 30 than during the previous 12 months. The largest gain was in wheat and the sharpest decline was in cotton.

The total value of farm exports increased from $732,474,000 to $887,682,000.

Exports of wheat, flour, corn, corn meal, barley and rice were valued at $200,262,000 compared with $30,725,000 in the previous year. The value of raw cotton shipped into foreign markets dropped to $305,070,000 compared with $374,469,000 in the 1937 fiscal year.

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF LUBBOCK COUNTY RURAL HIGH SCHOOLS:

JOSEPH R. GRIGGS

Every consolidation, every bond issue, every building that has been demolished, and every building program that has been carried out in Lubbock County rural schools has been authorized by a majority vote of the people in each respective rural high school district. When the new elementary school buildings of Roosevelt and New Deal are finished, the building program for the Lubbock County rural high schools will be completed. The hardest part of our rural educational program, that of consolidation, voting bonds, tearing down buildings to meet PWA requirements, will be past.

But the most important part is ahead of us. This important program is to operate schools so economically that it will not be necessary to raise taxes above the present level. The grouping of our schools has equalized educational opportunities over the county and has also equalized school tax valuations. Land was valued from $10 to $30 per acre in our rural schools before the grouping, but now 92 per cent of the land in our rural high schools is valued no higher than $15 per acre for school purposes and the remaining 8 per cent no higher than $20 per acre. I urge you to compare these low valuations with an accredited school on the South Plains. With economical and efficient management it will not be necessary to raise the tax from this level. I can and will so direct the school affairs in such a manner that these taxes will not be raised.

The program is not yet completed and I appeal to you to permit me to finish the program underway. I have worked hard and earnestly so that the rural children may have equal opportunities with those of the city. The foundation has been laid; but the present problem ahead of us is to so carefully direct our schools that we can hold expenditures within the income and keep our schools in sound financial condition. This I am doing and will continue to do so long as I am your county superintendent.

I earnestly solicit your continued cooperation and support for re-election to a SECOND TERM.

Joseph R. Griggs

Pioneers Of Crosby County Will Observe 13th Annual Reunion; Program Varied

(Special To Avalanche-Journal)

CROSBYTON, Aug. 6—Plans are complete for the Thursday and Friday 13th annual West Texas Old Settlers reunion to be held at the famous rock house, built by Hank Smith in Blanco canyon in the late 70's.

Badges this year will carry a picture of the first courthouse or house of justice to be erected on the South Plains, at Estacado, then county seat of Crosby county.

Erected at the old uaker colony in 1887, the structure was used as a courthouse until 1900 when it was discovered that the county seat was actually in Lubbock county instead of Crosby. At that time the county seat was moved to Emma, near the present town of Ralls.

Pioneers To Speak

"This acted as a house of justice for 13 counties," explained Mrs. Evelyn Smith Lowrie, organization secretary-treasurer, "and, as this is the 13th reunion, this seemed very appropriate."

Glad Snodgrass, mayor of Floydada and a Floyd county resident since boyhood, is president of the association. John M. Kerlin, of near Ralls, who has lived nearly half a century on the same farm, is vice-president. Mrs. Lowrie is a granddaughter of Uncle and Aunt Hank Smith.

Committees of the association have been working several months on plans.

There will be speaking each day, by pioneers of the South Plains, under an arbor on the old Hank Smith place a short distance from the rock house where R. B. Smith, a son who was born there, lives.

Old time square dancing, singing, an old fiddlers contest and other events are planned. The Crosby county sing-song is to be held.

Amusements include the Dudley carnival, here for several years.

Prizes are to be given winners in the fiddlers contest and in an amateur contest, a new feature.

Several thousand persons are expected for the two days. The reunion is an event that draws attendance from all sections of Texas and from New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Women Note: This Is Supposed To Be What You'll Wear---Whether You Like It Or Not!

BY ALICE MAXWELL

PARIS, Aug. 6. (AP)—Ideas borrowed from many lands gave an inter-national flavor today to winter style shows.

Gypsy skirts with colorful velvet appliques on broadcloth evening dresses were shown by Paquin.

Chinese embroidered tunics were displayed with tube-like skirts slit up both sides to the knees.

Suits in Scotch heather wools shared attention with Persian-patterned coats and dresses. Some coats were of English tweeds. Coats and suits were elaborately trimmed with furs—skunk, lynx, seal, astrakhan, beaver and fox—with big collars, bulky sleeves and vertical bands and panels.

An afternoon bolero had ermine and astrakhan. Long evening coats were of mink and broadtail. Black lace evening dresses were trimmed with black astrakhan bands.

Day dresses showed a tendency to wider flared skirts with accentuated hip lines. Sleeves were raised at the shoulder and widened at the elbow.

Ohio's Federal Aid Endangered

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. (AP)—The social security board announced today it would undertake an investigation to determine whether Ohio should be cut off the old age pension list because of the alleged political activities of Davey and H. J. Berrodin, chief of the state's division of aid for the aged.

The board said Davey and Berrodin had appealed to pension recipients to vote for the governor because of his assistance in obtaining the pensions.

The board warned the governor eight months ago, it was said, against sending campaign letters to pension beneficiaries, but, the board claimed, he enclosed such a letter in the checks sent them about two weeks ago.

Berrodin was accused of enclosing a similar letter recalling Davey's part in securing old age pension funds.

Military Men See Grave Repercussions In Acts

TOKYO, Aug. 6. (AP)—Japan's undeclared border conflict with Soviet Russia raged unabated on the Siberian frontier today as diplomats of the two powers tried to bring peace out of their still widely divergent viewpoints.

A Soviet battalion of unspecified strength made a slight advance on the disputed Changkufeng heights which the Soviet declare are Siberian territory.

A Japanese army communique said red troops "advanced apparently planning to attack but were dispersed by Japanese artillery while Soviet planes roared over Korean soil adjacent to the battle zone.

New Instructions Given

(The military situation was believed to have taken a grave turn with Japanese retaliation expected.)

Domei—Japanese news agency—reported the Japanese ambassador to Moscow, Mamoru Shigemitsu, had received fresh instructions to proceed with diplomatic negotiations sticking to lines already laid down in conferences with Soviet Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff.

Despite military developments, the foreign office spokesman remained optimistic that frontier fighting would be kept to an isolated area and that "some progress" toward a peaceful solution had been made by the Shigemitsu-Litvinoff talks.

The Conservative is Congressman D. Worth Clark, 36.

Gift Of $100,000 To Scouts To Be Split

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 6. (AP)—Boy Scout executives of Oklahoma and West Texas agreed today to split four ways a $100,000 gift from Frank Phillips, Bartlesville oil man.

The approximately 100 scout leaders agreed to divide the gift between camp sites, expansion, endowments and equipment.

James P. Fitch, regional scout executive, Dallas, and W. C. Smoot, Bartlesville, treasurer of the Frank Phillips' foundation, conferred with Boy Scout executives representing each of the 13 areas in Oklahoma and two in West Texas to participate in the gift.

Fitch said allocations to each area still were under discussion and he doubted if they would be announced.

Smoot said the Phillips donation was a "starter" and it was hoped communities themselves would be encouraged to aid the scout movement.

Kentucky Goes For Barkley

to Kentucky and made a speech against us," he said: "They ran the WPA from 33,000 to about 100,000 . . . ."

In conclusion the governor said: "We've made a gallant campaign and still have a smile on our face and a song in our hearts."

Barkley Also Speaks

Senator Barkley in a radio speech from Paducah said:

"My friends, I have very little to say, except that I'm delighted with what seems to be an overwhelming nomination to the United States senate."

Tabulation of the vote in Breathitt county where Lee Combs, former sheriff and an election commissioner, was killed Thursday night and Sheriff Walter Deaton also an election commissioner, was wounded was postponed until Monday. The Hart county tabulation also was postponed until Monday.

Barkley had the personal backing in the race of President Roosevelt.

Three Have No Opposition

Thre of the eight Democratic congressmen were renominated without opposition. These were Noble J. Gregory of the first district, Beverly M. Vincent of the second and Edward W. Creal of the fourth.

Bloodshed marked rivalry between the Barkley and Chandler factions in Breathitt county. Former Sheriff Lee Combs was killed on the stairway of a building housing Barkley headquarters. His brother, Lewis Combs, county chairman for Chandler and Sheriff Walter Deaton were wounded. Five men, including the Barkley county chairman, are sought in the shooting.

Lewis Combs said he and his brother went to the building where precinct committeemen had been called to oust their father S. L. Combs as county Democratic chairman.

President Took Hand

President Roosevelt, early in July, came into Kentucky for a one-day speaking tour. He made three speeches favoring Senator Barkley. The president in one speech lauded Barkley but tempered his words with praise for Chandler. In other speeches Mr. Roosevelt praised Barkley but did not mention Chandler.

Charges that federal and state funds were being used in the campaign was one of the many highlights. The senate campaign expenditures committee took cognizance of the reports and sent investigators into the state.

This was followed by a public report that the investigators had found the existence of such a condition and warning from the committee that a hearing might be held before the successful candidate for senator took his seat in the next congress.

Statements from two physicians that Governor Chandler, who became ill in a Louisville hotel after a speech, was suffering from "poison" in drinking water, created a campaign sensation. Major Joe Burman of the state highway patrol, who traveled with the governor, said three other poison attempts had been made on Chandler's life.

development of phosphate lands.

There can be no doubt that Pope is carrying administration colors against Clark. Pope's defeat would have a sharper sting for the administration than primary elimination of New Deal-approved senate incumbents in Arkansas or Ohio.

State election factors are involved in Ohio to complicate the race of Senator Bulkley for renomination and make the outcome difficult to forsee.

In Arkansas, the only woman senator, Mrs. Caraway, is making her first unchaperoned campaign for re-election, the late Huey Long having invaded the state in her behalf six years ago.

Damaging Evidence In Carroll Trial Is Given By Sheriff

SOUTH PARIS, Me., Aug. 6. (AP) Francis M. Carroll's one-time superior, Sheriff F. E. Francis, today told a jury trying Carroll on a charge of killing Dr. James G. Littlefield that Carroll, when arrested on a morals charge, blurted out: "God, sheriff, you don't think I had anything to do with murdering Dr. Littlefield, do you?"

The morals charge, Francis testified, involved Barbara, 18-year-old daughter of Carroll and erstwhile sweetheart of Paul M. Dwyer, 19, who confessed the killing and accepted a life imprisonment sentence.

Convention Rule To Stop FDR Is Talked

By JOHN W. HENDERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. —A proposal to restore the two-thirds rule in the 1940 Democratic convention may become a rallying point for anti-administration Democrats if President Roosevelt stands for a third term.

A group of southern politicians is already calculating the chances of winning enough northern support in 1940 to restore the rule, which once gave the "solid South" an effective veto power in party councils.

This same group formed a bloc in the last congress against some of the president's proposals.

Would Lessen South's Strength

Under the two-third rule, scrapped in 1932 when Mr. Roosevelt was nominated, no candidate could win the Democratic presidential nomination without a two-thirds convention vote. The South had more than a third of the delegates and thus could withhold the nomination from anyone it opposed.

If anti-Roosevelt forces could muster a majority in favor of the two-thirds regulation in 1940, they capture a potent weapon with which to fight any third-term drive.

Politicians discussing the subject declined to be quoted by name until, they said, the president had disclosed his intentions definitely.

Roosevelt's Words Recalled

Mr. Roosevelt's best known statement on the question thus far was made at a Democratic banquet on March 4, 1937, when he said:

"My great ambition on Jan. 20, 1941, is to turn over this desk and chair in the White House to my successor, whoever he may be, with the assurance that I am at the same time turning over to him as president a nation intact."

Speculation over the president's intentions has provided major conversation for politicians this summer.

Charles Michelson, the Democratic party's publicity director, joined the discussion today, saying in his weekly column:

"My guess is that Franklin D. Roosevelt would take a case of the hives rather than four years more of the headache that being president means."

"Circumstances Might Arise . . ."

Michelson wrote:

"It will not be so easy a choice, at that. Circumstances might arise that would make it impossible for him to lay down the burden. The world may be at war . . . or some other equally acute emergency may eventuate that would forbid a change of administration, and the man in the White House is not the kind of individual who would let his personal desires interfere with what seemed to him to be his duty."

Views expressed by members of congress and others indicate that the third-term issue will be debated hotly in the national legislature next year. Here are some of the opinions:

Senator Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.): "I keynoted the president into the White House, twice and I might possibly do it again in 1940."

Various Comments Heard

Senator Burke (D-Neb.): "It (a third-term bid) would split the Democratic party into a thousand pieces."

Interior Secretary Ickes: "If the reactionaries in the Democratic party want a real test of President Roosevelt's strength with the people, I suggest that they continue to work for a situation that will result in the people being given an opportunity to vote directly on the proposition of whether or not they are for President Roosevelt and his policies."

WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins: "Ninety per cent of the people on WPA favor the Roosevelt administration."

Senator Lewis (D-Ill): a Third-term effort would "destroy the Democratic party" but the president is not such a man as to present himself for a third term."

Senator Smathers (D-NJ): "There is no one big enough or strong enough to carry on for him."

His 13-year-old brother, Bobby, who won the Oklahoma title in 1937 and who with his father, G. C. Parker, sr., won the National father-son crown, will compete along with his father. Jack Lindsay, Okmulgee, Okla., Southwestern skeet champion in 1937 and the '38 winner of the 20-gauge title, is entered. Mrs. Roy Porter, Harlingen, Texas, Southwest women's skeet queen this year, is expected to be a contestant.

Warner Oland

three more Charlie Chan pictures this fall.

So convincing were his roles as a Chinese that Oland was mistaken by Chinese for a Chinese on a vacation trip in the Orient.

Had Humble Beginning

Oland came to America in 1893 with his father Jonas Oland, a half Russian. They settled on a farm in Connecticut. Before many years he was in Boston, working in a machine shop to earn $6 a week while he took voice lessons.

In his first stage appearance there he played one of the day Gascons in a Sarah Bernhardt production. Then he understudied Edward J. Morgan, creator of the role of the "Christian." Then he went on the road.

Oland saved his money, and after his marriage in 1908, produced and played in Ibsen's "Peer Gynt." As a producer Oland made and lost a small fortune.

Won, Lost and Won

In 1910 he made his motion picture debut, getting $25 a day to play John Bunyan in "Pilgrim's Progress."

Again he returned to the stage, purchased a little theater in New York, and lost all he had.

It was in the silent days of Hollywood that he started playing Oriental roles and Causcasian heavies, starting out in Theda Bara's picture, "Jewels of Madonna."

Charlie Chan was brought to life on the screen by Oland in 1931 and he made 17 Chan pictures. By a muscular contraction of his eye lids and by brushing the ends of his eyebrows up and his mustache down, he could, without makeup, look like an Oriental.

Earl Young Had Been Wanted To Answer Frome Case Questions

EL PASO, Aug. 6. (AP)—An ex-convict who was shot to death when he attempted to escape from Hot Springs, Ark., officers yesterday, had been sought for questioning in two of the southwest's major mysteries, Sheriff Chris Fox said here today.

The sheriff said he had been looking for the man, Earl Young, 28, of Lebanon, Pa., in connection with the slayings near here last March of Mrs. Hazel Frome and her daughter, Nancy, of Berkeley, Calif.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation also sought him, Fox said, for questioning in the three-year-old disappearance mystery of Mr. and Mrs. George Lorius and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heberer, Illinois tourists.

Hot Springs authorities telegraphed here that Young had been in the vicinity of El Paso when the Frome women were slain.

German Company Plans To Send 24-Passenger Plane To U. S.

BREMEN, Germany, Aug. 6. (AP) —The Focke-Wulff airplane company plans to send a 24-passenger plane on the Condor type on a non-stop flight to New York as soon as possible, perhaps Monday.

Secrecy attended the preparations today and a spokesman for the firm intimated nothing would be announced until the plane arrived in New York.

The air ministry, however, said plans for the flight had been completed with its permission and support. The machine was said to be ready today, but the composition of the crew was not finally determined.

Two Important Meetings Slated

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, Aug. 6.—Leaders of the Republican party in Texas indicated today plenty of bad medicine would be brewed for the Democrats at a meeting of the Republican state executive committee here Monday and the party's state convention Tuesday.

The committee will prepare the temporary roll of delegates for the convention, settle any contests and conduct other routine business. The convention will choose a slate of nominees to oppose the Democrats in the November general election.

GOP Encouraged

Former Gov. Arthur M. Hyde of Missouri, secretary of agriculture in the cabinet of President Hoover, will address the committee Monday night, while Cong. Dewey Short, of the seventh Missouri district, will sound the convention keynote.

John W. Philp of Dallas, director of organization for the state party, said Republicans were much encouraged "by the large number of malcontents in the Democratic party" and would undoubtedly make "a very definite bid" for Democratic support in 1940.

He said the Republicans were "very much alive to the situation" and predicted "the minority party in Texas will certainly be heard in Texas this year and the next two years to follow."

May Have Congressional Entry

Much interest centered on whether the Republicans would name a candidate to oppose the Democratic nominee in the 20th congressional district (San Antonio) and would make a serious effort to elect him. In the July 23 primary, Paul J. Kilday defeated Maury Maverick, the incumbent, for the Democratic nomination.

The Republicans are holding a convention to make nominations, instead of conducting a primary, because in the last general election they polled less than 100,000 votes for their candidate for governor. If they had cast more than 100,000, a primary, under state law, would have been mandatory.

In 1936, C. O. Harris, the Republican gubernatorial nominee, received 58,842 votes against 782,083 for Gov. James V. Allred, a Democrat, who was seeking re-election.

A total of 103,711 votes were cast for Landon for president, compared with 734,485 for Roosevelt.

Fisherman Delivers Fish Of Prayer; It's The Truth!

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 6. (AP)—L. R. Russell told a tale today about a fish delivering a prayer from its mouth.

About 280,000 American troops were engaged in the Spanish-American war.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. (AP)—The United States and Soviet Russia renewed today a commercial agreement in which the Soviets expressed the intention of increasing their purchases of American goods beyond a minimum of $40,000,000 a year.

This minimum was exceeded in the first nine months of the year covered by the previous agreement, which expired yesterday.

In return for the guaranteed Soviet purchases, this government gives Russian imports benefits of the tariff and other concessions in the reciprocal trade treaties already signed with 17 nations.

Despite Criticism, Minister Marries Seven Couples

ANACORTES, Wash., Aug. 6. (AP) —Seven couples were wed here at the mariners' pageant last night before the largest crowd in the history of the town, despite opposition of the ministerial association, which called the mass nuptials "undignified."

Rev. William F. Goodrow of Lopez Island Congregational church tied the seven-way knot. The local ministers who opposed the multiple marriage previously said any pastor who performed the ceremony would be "prostituting the profession."

Returns from a dance were added to other presents given the couples.

Mr. Goodrow's name was kept secret by the pageant committee until he took his place to perform the marriages.

Only six couples were scheduled to be married, but Ruth L. Fleming, Oxford, Ohio, and Ervin W. Spencer, Port Angeles, insisted on being included. Miss Fleming met Spencer on a western vacation trip.

Model Plan Showing How Future Motorists Will Drive 100 Miles An Hour By Radio-Controlled System On Roads Set Up

road, the "concave" turned him back to safety automatically.

The other would be at night. No headlights lighted. But on the pavement, ahead of the car for 400 feet, and moving at the car's speed, a flat sheet of light.

The moving light would come from tubes inlaid at the tops of the walls, so as to shine only down on the pavement, and to light, under radio control only the 400 feet in front of the car.

The highway is double, one way east, one way west.

Its new speed principle is three tracks of "must" speeds. There is a single lane at one edge for 100 miles an hour, a middle track of two lanes for 70 miles, an outer track of more than two lanes for 50 miles. The speeds allowed vary five miles more or less than the "must."

There are switch lanes for changing from one speed of road to another.

Here is where radio gadgets play a new role for saftey. The radio controls can be installed, Geddes says, for not more than $5, by the manufacturers.

They flash red and green lights on the dash and give the driver spoken instructions from automatic stations set along the road.

The radio will, he says, carry a short-wave zone of safety which warns the driver when he is too close to a car ahead or when he is at a safe distance to one side for passing.

At the "switches" into lanes of different speeds automatic signals will flash whether other cars are too close for entering safely.

There will be no stops of any sort on this road. Traffic will be monitored by officers in signal towers every 10 miles, with glasses able to watch five miles on either side.

Turning on and off will be via the 50 mile lanes, and with turn-off or on taking the full speed.

Idalou Plans For School Opening

(Special To Avalanche-Journal)

IDALOU, Aug. 6—Teacher assignments for the Idalou public schools, which open Monday, Aug. 15, were announced today by G. A. Lowrey, superintendent. There are 22 teachers on the faculty.

At the same time, registration schedules were announced, as follows:

Thursday, all children living in Idalou and all who ride buses 1 and 4, in grades 7 to 11, will report at the schools at 9 o'clock. In the afternoon children in grades 7 to 11 riding buses 2 and 3 will register.

Others Report Friday

Friday morning children riding buses 5, 6 and 7, in all grades will report at 9 o'clock.

Children from grades 1 to 6 in all three districts will register on Monday, Aug. 15.

Buses scheduled for forenoons Thursday and Friday will leave on the usual schedule, while buses 2 and 3 will leave the school at noon.

Has Enrollment Of 663

Idalou has a scholastic enrollment of 663; seven buses are operated five days a week. There are five modern school plants, including a high school, grade school and gymnasium in Idalou and buildings at Liberty and Becton, all modern structures.

Scholastic affiliation is now 30 1-2 units, an increase of 10 during the past few years. This was accomplished by adding a commercial department with 3 units, an agriculture department of 4 units, two units of music, one of band and orchestra and the other public school music and one in physical education.

Public Address System Installed

This summer a public address and radio system was installed, which connects the high school, grade school and gymnasium. A modern electric program clock, operating the bell system in all buildings, was installed. There is an electric score board in the gymnasium.

During the summer, Supt. Lowrey and the janitor have torn down all outdoor toilets and modern indoor toilets and showers have been installed in the gymnasium. Over 300 feet of sidewalk was laid during the summer. Some boys assisted. Last spring, before school closed, 400 feet of sidewalk and a large lawn was built with aid of the student body.

Supt. Lowrey is optimistic over the coming term, saying he has an unusually strong faculty this year, with nearly every teacher holding either an M. A. or B. A. degree or both. There are 9 graduates of Texas Technological college; 6 from W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon; 4 from E. T. S. T. C. at Commerce, one from Abilene Christian college, one from Sam Houston Teachers college at Huntsville and one from George Peabody Teachers college, Nashville, Tenn.

Teachers Are Listed

Teachers assignments by the superintendent include:

Liberty elementary, G. N. Manning, principal; Miss Bell Cross, primary. Grades 1 to 5 are taught, with 40 pupils.

Becton elementary, A. A. Brock, principal; Mrs. J. F. Jordan, Miss Hazel Lawson, Mrs. A. A. Brock, assistants. Seven grades are offered and there are about 128 pupils.

Idalou elementary, J. L. Hunt, principal; Miss Lily May Fitzhugh, first grade; Mrs. Pauline Brown, second; Mrs. Ina Williams, third; Mrs. J. B. Boynton, fourth; Miss Lyndelle White, English in fifth and sixth grades and physical education for all high school girls; Elmo Kelleh, health in the fifth and sixth grades and physical education for all high school boys. J. L. Hunt teaches arithmetic and geography in the grades. There are 250 pupils in this building.

Idalou high school, N. B. Wilkerson, principal and science; Mrs. G. M. Harrod, English; Miss Blanch Zeman, commercial; Miss Reva Newsom, speech and Spanish; O. O. Williams, social science; Coleman Cowan, vocational agriculture; Miss Catherine Couch, home economics; J. N. Joiner, band and orchestra; Miss Nelle C. Guinn, librarian and Supt. Lowrey, mathematics.

Final District Scout Swimming Contests To Be This Week

Lamesa on Monday night and Muleshoe on Tuesday night will be times and places of the final district meets preliminary to the council-wide Boy Scout aquatic tournament in the American Legion pool at Plainview Friday night, according to the announcement Saturday by Earl M. McClure, council executive.

Reports from Plainview indicate, McClure added, that General Chairman Clyde McGraw of Plainview is arranging the biggest swimming meet there in the history of the council.

Participating in the Lamesa district meet at 7:30 p. m. Monday will be troops from Brownfield, Ropesville, Plains, Gomez, Slaton, Post, Tahoka, O'Donnell and Lamesa. Henry Norris will be director of the meet.

Muleshoe city pool will be scene of the district meet there at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, and competing troops will also be represented from Levelland, Whiteface, Morton, Pep, Anton, Littlefield, Amherst, Sudan, Bula, Circle Back and Muleshoe. S. C. Beavers of Muleshoe will be director.

Boys placing first and second in each event in the district contests will qualify for the Plainview.

Troop No. 22 of Lamesa will be defending the council championship which it has won three times consecutively. McClure predicted, however, that the troop will face harder competition than ever before. The Lamesa group, of which the American Legion is sponsor and Joseph N. Spikes is scoutmaster, was defeated in a dual meet for the first time several weeks ago by No. 35 from Spur of which the Rotary club is sponsor and G. B. Wadzeck is scoutmaster.

Pickup In Activities Shown In Oil Operations In Area

BY JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

Stanolind No. 2 Slaughter, northwest offset to Gulf No. 1 Gordon, most south-easterly well in the Slaughter pool in southwestern Hockley county, showed oil and gas an intervals below 4,957 feet and had 300 feet of oil in the hole after coring to 4,980. It is in the southwest corner of labor 75, league 37 Zavala county school land. Gulf No. 2 Mallett had drilled to 4,815 and was to run pipe at 4,850. Richardson No. 2 Slaughter was standardizing after cementing 7-inch casing at 4,720 feet, seven feet off bottom. Skelly No. 1 Ellwood, wildcat, had reached 4,850 in lime.

The Texas Co. No. 1 Wright, eastern Cochran county wildcat in the southeast corner of labor 26, league 96, Mills county school land, topped the solid lime at 3,002 feet, 360 feet below sea level, reportedly 87 feet higher than Meeker No. 1 Livermore, a dry hole 1 1-2 miles to the southeast, and had drilled past 4,065 in lime.

Has Record Flow

A record oil flow for that part of the West Texas Permian Basin north of Ector county—5,429.98 barrels by Humble No. 47 J. S. Means on the east side of the Means pool in north central Andrews county—and an increase in both locations and completions from sub-normal figures the week before were among favorable West Texas developments this week. On the negative side were low markers by a wildcat and a test between the Denver and Walker areas in Yoakum county and by one wildcat each in Gaines and Cochran counties.

Humble No. 47 Means in Andrews county made its record flow through 2-inch tubing and a 2 1-2-inch casing outlet after being treated with 10,000 gallons of acid, with the total depth 4,510 feet. The gas-oil ratio was only 295-1. The well is 1,983 from the north, 2,002 feet from the east line of section 10-A35-psl, a south offset to Humble No. 46 J. S. Means, which recently extended production one-half mile east. Humble staked No. 49 J. S. Means, a diagonal southeast offset to its big well.

Andrews Pool Opener Completed

The southern Andrews county pool opener drilled by R. R. Rhodes and J. D. Tomkins of Midland and Walter J. Donnelly of Ft. Worth on the E. W. Cowden land was completed for an official flow of 635.61 barrels of oil through a three-quarter inch choke on 2-inch tubing. It topped the pay at 4,165, drilled to 4,220 feet and was treated with 6,500 gallons of acid in two stages. Location is 330 from the north, 2,310 feet from the west line of section 1-42-2n-T&P, seven miles south of the Fuhrman pool in Andrews and five miles northwest of the North Cowden field in Ector county.

A few days before the well's potential was taken, the owners sold to the Montecito Corp., of which Ben F. Nysewander, Jr., of Midland is president, a one-half interest in and operating control of the strike and the 320-acre lease on which it is located. The first of several new tests provided in the deal, No. 2 Cowden, was staked 880 feet west of the discovery, and Sinclair-Prairie is drilling an east offset.

Makes 25 To 50 Barrels

Olson Drilling Co.'s (formerly H. S. Forgeron's) No. 1 Lockhart & Brown, five miles west of the Fuhrman pool in Andrews, pumping off bottom at 4,780 feet, recovered all water the first 5 1-2 hours, then made four barrels of oil the next hour and a quarter. It was estimated good for 25 to 50 barrels daily. Location is 1,650 from the north, 330 feet from the east line of section 20-A43-psl.

Ohio Oil Co. No. 1 Averitt, which last fall extended the Seminole pool in Gaines county a quarter mile west, was deepened from 5,073 to 5,116 feet apparently without striking water and with probably an increase in oil. It prepared to make a natural test. The well, which initially flowed 168 barrels daily, is 660 from the north, 1,980 feet from the east line of section 228-G-WTRR.

Osage Drilling Co. No. 1 B. E. Miller, Gaines wildcat in the southwest corner of the northwest quarter of section 281-G-WTRR, topped the Yates sand at 3,390 feet, 45 feet above sea level and 218 feet lower than in J. L. Frick and Osage No. 1 T. S. Riley, 2 1-2 miles to the southeast, which indicated a four-mile northwest extension to the Seminole pool. Drilling continued below 3,400 in anhydrite and sand.

Phillips Drilling Co. No. 1 O'Brien, Yoakum county wildcat immediately south of Plains and in the northeast quarter of section 442-D-John H. Gibson, logged the first brown lime stringer at 4,170 feet, 526 feet below sea level and about 75 feet lower than in Magnolia No. 1 Webb, a dry hole two miles to the southwest. It had reached 4,370 in lime and anhydrite. Magnolia No. 1 Lynn, northwest of the Denver field and northeast of the Walker pool, topped the anhydrite at 2,170 feet, 1,474 feet above sea level, which is lower than in the nearest producers. The test, in the northeast quarter of section 770, drilled ahead below 2,970 in anhydrite.

John M. Cooper and others' No. 2 Bert Page in Schleicher county was drilling plugs from cemented 5 1-2-inch casing at 5,331 1-2 feet preparatory to deepening from 5,337 feet, in the Bend, basal Pennsylvanian, where it recovered several gallons of light green oil before running pipe. It is three-quarters of a mile southeast of Cooper No. 1 Page, discovery distillate producer, both in section 40-L-GH&SA.

Locations Made For 37 Tests

Locations were staked for 36 field tests and one wildcat in 11 counties compared with 22 and one, respectively, in eight counties the week before. The wildcat is Culberson & Irwin No. 1 J. F. Nunn, a scheduled 3,700-foot test in northwestern Reagan county, 660 from the north, 1,980 feet from the west line of section 26-B-L&SV. Twenty-nine producers were completed and two failures abandoned in 10 counties compared to 23 wells and five dusters in 10 counties during the preceding week.

Magnolia No. 1-15 University, 1 1-4 miles southwest of Magnolia No. 1-16 U, a small pool opener in eastern Crane county, struck a small amount of water in drilling to 3,267 feet and plugged back to 3,252 feet to further test oil showings between 3,200 and 3,235 feet. It is in the southwest corner of section 15-30-U. The Texas Co. No. 1-G State, 1 1-2 miles northwest of the discovery and in the northeast corner of section 7-30-U, topped the solid lime at 3,002 feet, 360 feet below sea level, and 81 feet higher than the pool opener.

Gulf No. 8 Waddell, quarter mile north of Gulf No. 4 Waddell, first of Gulf's major producers from the Ellenberger, lower Ordovician, in western Crane county, was abandoned at 6,116 feet, having swabbed more water than oil. It was in the northwest quarter of section 4-B27-psl.

Death Corridor Is Safety Zone Now; Reason Unique

AUSTIN, Aug. 6. (AP)—Mother nature has curbed fast driving on U. S. highway 90 from Uvalde to Langtry.

The important east-west artery, sometimes called a "death corridor" by traffic experts, is resplendent in a new dress of blooming purple sage. One result is that motorists are slowing down to view the scenic beauty.

Jac Gubbels, landscape engineer for the highway department, calls it, without qualification, "one of the seven wonders."

Recent rains brought on the most profuse blooming of sage, or senisa, in many years and the right-of-way is blanketed in varying shades of purple blossoms, Gubbels said.

Returning from a tour of the area, he reported many drivers, encountering the floral splendor, reduced their speed as low as 20 miles per hour in order to observe the subtle shading of color fully.

Southern All-Stars Take Texas "Dream Game" 7-0 To Even Four-Year Series

Edinburg Flash Scores Only Touchdown

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

The score was 7 to 0 in favor of the South, because the South had the better line and the simpler system—for high school gridders.

The occasion was the fourth annual gridiron contest between a handpicked squad of senior high school football players of the north side of Texas and a handpicked squad of senior high school football players from the south side of Texas. It climaxed the sixth annual Texas High School Football Coaches association coaching school and revealed the cream of collegiate football potentialities as graduated by the state's schools.

Victory for the South last night at Texas Tech stadium, before approximately 7,500 cash customers who became interested in last year's interscholastic league race and last week's coaching school, brought the standing to a 2-2 deadlock, the South having won in 1935, the North having won by shutouts in 1936 and 1937. Games have been played at Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco and Lubbock, respectively.

South's victory came in the early innings. Harold "Preacher" Fleming of Wichita Falls had made a most magnificent run, of nearly 25 yards, early in the game. On the next play, the North lost eight yards, due to the South's charging line. Then R. B. Patrick, quarterbacking for the Norths, and who played a grand game in his position, fumbled the ball on the North's 35-yard line, and J. M. Russell of Cleburne recovered for the South, after a six-yard loss. Cam "Powder" Harrel of Conroe cut through for a 23-yard gain. Fred Hall, the bare-foot back from Waco, rammed through to the one-yard line. Harrell and Hall failed to gain, then Brumley called himself to the front, crashed through for a touchdown on fourth down, then went back to kick goal.

That was the scoring of the ball game.

More amazing that the scoring, more astonishing than anything else that could be mentioned at this point, was the reaction to the coaching that the boys of both sides had received during the week beginning Aug. 1.

Each day since then Harry Stuhldreher, head man at Wisconsin, and Bill Meyers, Paschall High, Fort Worth, his assistant, have been driving the Northern All-Stars through days of strenuous workouts. Lynn Waldorf, head coach of Northwestern university and in charge of the Southerners, had taken things less seriously and strenuously, but it so happened that he had the best line material to begin with, and the line told the tale last night.

Coaching school officials last night declared the affair a success from financial and enrollment standpoints. Registration at the school exceeded by one third that of any previous school, and financial returns here more than doubled those of former engagements.

Waldorf had coached his team along the wing-back system and the Southerners ran their plays from both double and single wingback situations, held by many to be the more simple system for high schoolers. On the other side of the line of scrimmage, Stuhldreher, leader of the famous four horsemen of Notre Dame fame back in the middle '20s, clung to Rockne formations and shifts, deception and trickery. And the way in which his team executed the plays was something great to see, considering that the boys had worked less than a full week. The Notre Dame style, which takes time to teach and learn, looked nice enough, lacking only natural power and ability.

College coaches in attendance saw numerous "prospects" pleasing to the eye.

The North could not score against the South, mainly because of the South's heavy line that stood pat and met the dry-cracking, dough-popping Irish offense like a stone wall meets a rubber ball, or something like that.

Southerners played in Northern territory most of the evening.

Harrell, Hall, Bob Brumley, and Noble Doss played in the Southern backfield and through the Northern line all evening, their ways cleared by such stalwart linemen as Derwood Peveto of Port Arthur, Co-Captain Charles McGaffey of the same school, Ted Brannon of the state championship Longview team, and the ends, Joe Schwarting of Waco and J. M. Russell of Cleburne.

Waldorf alternated his team, sending in a wholesale substitution as early as the first quarter, and playing with the second team were such hotshots as Jesse Hawthorne of Port Arthur at end, G. W. Dickey, John Burleson and Harvey Haskett in the backfield. Other notable linemen were Chal Daniel of Longview, Clyde Rogers of Corpus Christi, Walter Swanson of Austin and Euell Wesson of Temple.

But keeping up their end of the state "dream game" were stars from the northern part of the state, and Lubbock's Jack Ware, tackle, went in to do a bit of good. College coaches who scouted the game would be pleased, no doubt, to have among their freshmen this fall such linemen as Ronald Brumbaugh of Fort Worth's Riverside, Saxon Judd of Vernon, Jay Lowry of Fort Worth Paschall, Harold King of Amarillo,

Goshen Citizens Awaken To Find Opening Of Races

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 6. (AP)—This sleepy little village of 3,500, celebrated as a harness horse racing center since the revolutionary war, awakened today to find itself a budding metropolis as the kings and queens of trotters and pacers arriving for the opening of the grand circuit meeting tomorrow.

The $100,000 five-day session at W. H. Cane's Good Time park reaches its peak Wednesday when a dozen or so high ranking three-year old trotters clash in the 13th $40,000 Hambletonian, the Kentucky derby of light harness horse racing.

J. P. Mathews of Pampa, Arthur Goforth of Wichita Falls, Odell Damerall of Wichita Falls, the outstanding center; Lilius Virder of Abilene, Nick Pappas of San Angelo, etc.

And among the Northern backs who showed well were, in addition to Fleming of Wichita Falls, such grid graduates as Dan Reese of Fort Worth's North Side Preston Johnson of Newcastle, Horace Young of Sweetwater, Ray Niblo of Adamson, Dallas, Quarterback R. B. Patrick of Olney and Jim Wardy of El Paso.

Not A Blue Note In A Portfolio

Henry Armstrong may be a fearsome subject to many, but Lou Ambers plays and warbles "Oh, Ma-Ma, Get That Man for Me—" after a workout at Summit, N. J., where the lightweight leader is preparing for his 15-round championship contest with the wearer of the welter wreath at the Polo Grounds, Aug. 10. The kitten on the keys has nothing to do with the volume.

Baseball Has Lost Its Inside Touch With The Advent Of Live Ball, Heavy Hitting

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

Much baseball strategy passed with the inside technique that disappeared with the advent of the lively ball.

Connie Mack laughs in relating what happened the first time Eddie Collins and Jack Barry of the old Athletics attempted to check Donnie Bush and Ty Cobb with one of the cleverest defense plays ever designed.

Bush led off for Detroit . . . reached first frequently. The shortstop was fast, and with Cobb batting third, a run always was imminent when Bush got on base.

So Collins and Barry evolved this plan. When Cobb broke for second Collins was to run in behind the pitcher in a direct line between second base and the catcher.

If Bush, on third, started home when the catcher threw, Collins would take the ball and from that short distance throw him out at the plate. However, if Bush remained on third, Collins would duck, and let the ball through to second where Barry would receive it and tag Cobb sliding into second.

Sure enough, Bush reached first and Cobb drove him to third with a hit. Collins and Barry knew what to expect and were not disappointed. On the first pitch, Cobb broke for second, Collins ran over to his new position, but the crafty Bush, noting that strange maneuver, did not move from third, and Collins, as per agreement, ducked and let the ball go through.

However, Barry had also been watching Bush instead of Collins, and the ball hit him full in the stomach, knocking him off the bag and nearly out. Whereupon Bush sprinted across the plate.

The point is that infields design nothing of the kind today.

Players More Resourceful

The jackrabbit pill has removed competition from the game. Baseball engagements are endurance contests more often than not. The players of yesteryear were more inventive and resourceful.

Lena Blackburn, the former infielder now coaching the Athletics, doesn't attribute it all to the hopped-up sphere, either.

"Base-runners today are too busy fanning with umpires to catch signs, if any", he says.

"Certainly, the percentage now is in batting runners around, but Cobb would run mighty well today, too. Why, he'd never stop running on some pitchers, young Bob Feller for example. Base-runners today do not study the mannerisms of pitchers. They don't know how and aren't interested in getting a lead.

"Base-runners of my day were always sliding back to the bags. Cobb lived in the dirt. Now so-called base-runners run back to the sacks, and stove up their legs in doing it."

Cobb and the old boys believed that the base lines belonged to the base-runner. Any infielder who blocked them, did so at his own peril.

Blackburn asserts that he hasn't seen spikes sharpened in 20 years.

Joe Medwick and Pepper Martin of the Cardinals are two of the few good, old-fashioned players of today who are not afraid to slide, show their spikes, and are difficult to tag.

Customers Get Action

The exciting squeeze play . . . with the runner on third going with the pitch and the batter bunting . . . disappeared with the coming of the lively pellet.

They hit and run today, but haphazardly. Doing this properly requires too much practice and skill. The batter must guess which player is going to cover second . . . the shortstop or second baseman . . . and drive the ball through the gap. It is the most difficult play in baseball to execute.

Cut-off plays are gone. The ball is hit so far that it doesn't pay a club to waste time perfecting them.

Shortstops like Bush, Ray Chapman, and Swede Risberg used to go far back and to their right on the grass to get their meat hands on hoppers hit past the third baseman, and throw the runner out at first. Shortstops such as Leo Durocher could do this today were the ball not so lively. A shortstop had to have a great arm when the ball was made in such a way that he could field it.

Shortstops and other infielders before the jackrabbit sphere handled many more chances than those of today.

Big Ed Walsh is right. Infield play has been greatly minimized.

The customers get action instead of science.

Many prefer it, but the dyed-in-the-wool fan would like to see the game given back to the ball player.

El Chico Equals Record To Capture Saratoga Special

SARATOVA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 6. (AP)—El Chico, unbeaten two-year-old from the barn of William Ziegler, jr., took another long leap toward the 1938 juvenile turf championship today when he equalled the six-furlong track record in winning the 36th Saratoga special.

He stepped the distance in 1:10 2-5 under 122 pounds. He led from end to end and reported to the judges three lengths on top for his fifth straight victory.

George D. Widner's Eight Thirty, supplying what little contention there was, came in second by four lengths. Mrs. Payne Whitney's Third Degree finished third, far clear of the five other two-year olds.

Wichita Falls Cowboy Is Among Rodeo Leaders

SALINAS, Calif., Aug. 6. (AP)—Cowboy standings compiled today by the Rodeo Association of America showed Paul Carney, Galeton, Colo., in first place with 4,208 points.

Burel Mulkey Salmon City, Ida., last month's leader, was second with 4,057, and Nick Knight, Cody, Wyo., ranked third with 3,577.

Other leaders included Vic Schwartz, Wichita Falls, Tex., 2,626.

Armstrong Seeks His Third Fistic Crown This Week

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 6. — Little Henry Armstrong, the brown dynamo from the Pacific slope, goes shooting next week for something no boxer has ever attained—a third major ring title in less than a year.

Last October Henry belted out game little Petey Sarron of Birmingham to become undisputed featherweight champion of the world.

Wins Ross' Title

Seven months later to the day he made a quick raid into the welterweight division to wear down a stout-hearted but bleeding Barney Ross and annex that title. Lou Ambers and his lightweight crown are next to the list.

Ambers and Armstrong are booked over the championship 15-round route at the Polo grounds Wednesday night. If the Armstrong winning streak continues, he'll be the first man in boxing history to wear three crowns at the same time.

Armstrong, hailed as the outstanding fighter of 1937, was a 3 to 1 favorite at the start, but the best you could get along Broadway today was 13 to 5 on the negro and most of the operators were stingy about that.

Ambers Money Comes In

Ambers is looking like himself again after a so-so campaign on the Pacific coast. And during the last few days a flood of Ambers money has poured into Broadway—insisting on odds however.

Armstrong is the betting choice but most fight men around town think Ambers is just the chap to give the negro the sternest test of his life. Ambers' punches are not stiff enough to knock fellows out, but over a long distance he can wear them down. He proved that in his fights with Tony Canzoneri from whom he won his title.

Gooch Gives Pie Traynor Credit For Bucs' Rise

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 6. (AP)—Being as it's a popular pastime now trying to discover who fed the Pittsburg Pirates raw meat, Johnny Gooch, the club's florid pitching coach, was tacked down and accused of having a hand in the deal.

The old catcher, it might be added, has been on the suspect list for some time, ever since Manager Pie Traynor said he had "done wonders" with the Pirate pitching and that he was, without much doubt, the smartest coach in the business.

"It's nice of Pie to say that," said John, guardedly, "but I'm afraid there isn't any truth in it. Pie has been handling the pitchers himself, and he's done about the finest job I ever saw. You know, we haven't got much of a pitching staff, don't you?"

What About Cy and Bob?

The witness was interrupted, gently, and reminded that, after all, Cy Blanton and Bob Klinger were among the leading flingers of the National league on the latest averages, with 17 victories and four defeats between them.

"Maybe so," Gooch conceded, "but there's been a lot of luck mixed up in it. Why, Russ Bauers, the pitcher we had counted on most hasn't been able to get started at all. We've been going terribly. None of our boys can finish a game they start."

Too bad, too bad, he was consoled. But how, in the face of all this misery, did he account for the fact that the Pirates were out in front of all those other teams?

Pie Deserves The Credit

"Well, I guess they're just worse off than we are. Those Giants are pretty much up in the air. Now, if we can keep them from lighting maybe we'll win that pennant. That is, if Klinger keeps pitching like he has been. He's a great pitcher, that boy.

"But don't let Pie tell you I've had anything to do with the pitching we've been getting. This talk about anybody making a pitcher is the biggest bunk in the world. The only man who deserves any credit for developing a pitcher is the manager who gives him plenty of chance to learn his trade."

Youngsters In Finals Of Marshall Tourney

MARSHALL, Aug. 6. (AP)—A profusion of stars dropped today as young Jimmy Goldman of Dallas and Tommy Bolt of Shreveport, La., emerged from a scramble of par-shooters to enter the finals of the Marshall Country club's golf tournament.

It will be the second time they have faced each other in the meet. They tied for medalist honors, which Goldman won in a play-off.

The Dallasite entered the championship round by eliminating Reynolds Smith, also of Dallas, 4 and 3. Bolt, Ark-La-Tex champion, bowled over Fort Worth's hope, Billy Bob Coffey, 3 and 2.

In the quarter-finals matches, Goldman downed Earl Stewart, state high school champion, 4 and 3. Coffey defeated Harry Todd of Dallas in 19 holes.

Smith squeezed by Bill Clark, Gladewater, in 19.

Johnson, Hagen Top Week's Mat Card

Ungentlemanly Jack Hagen takes his spite out on Gust Johnson, the big Swede from Minnesota, Wednesday night in the main event at the Auditorium.

Hagen has been showing up well since his return here several weeks ago and has worked up to the top spot. Johnson tucked Andy Tremaine away in the main go last week.

Sheik Mar Allah again brings his cunning and underhand tactics into play this week against Tremaine. The Arizonan may take the Persian roughness out of him. He is one of the better young grapplers hereabout.

Barbara Winslow Is Winner In Women's Net Singles

EAST HAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 6. (AP)—A steady, effective net attack enabled Barbara Winslow of Hollywood, Calif., to win the singles final in the Maidstone club invitation tennis tournament today as she defeated Dorothy Workman of Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-4.

Doubles honors went to the second seeded team of Dorothy Bundy of Santa Monica, Calif., and Miss Workman. They defeated Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of New York and Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France, the top-seeded duo, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

RAIN HALTS MATCHES

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 6. (AP) — Rain today forced postponement of the start of the Eastern Grass courts tennis championships at the Westchester Country club. A full schedule of matches was planned tomorrow.

Mike Cochrane Is Deposed As Detroits Tiger Pilot

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Aug. 6.—Walter O. Briggs, sr., owner of the Detroit Tigers, announced tonight Gordon Stanley (Mickey) Cochrane no longer is manager of the American league club.

Del Baker, coach in charge of the club when Cochrane has been incapacitated, will complete the season as manager, Briggs said.

Cochrane will be paid for the remainder of the present year Briggs added.

They Reach Agreement

Briggs said he and Mickey conferred today and "it was agreed he would no longer continue his connection with the Detroit Baseball company."

"I regret sincerely," the owner continued, "the termination of our baseball relationship, both from a personal standpoint and because of the contribution which Mickey Cochrane made to Detroit and the club when he came here as manager and catcher five years ago.

"But it seems apparent to both of us that for the good of the club, and in justice to the supporting fans, a chance should be made. My son (Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, jr., club secretary) and I wish him every success in his future plans; and we pledge to the Tiger team and to the baseball fans the best efforts of the club management to procure for the team satisfactory baseball leadership."

In 1934 and 1935, Cochrane's first and second seasons with the Tigers, they won the American league pennant and in 1935 added the world championship.

Subsequently Black Mike was handicapped by a recurring illness and this was climaxed by suffering a fractured skull in 1937, when he was accidentally hit by a pitched ball.

Since then Mickey has not played in a regularly-scheduled game and has managed the team from the bench.

This year the team has made a poor showing and at present is in the second division.

MICKEY COCHRANE

Bobby Riggs Defeats Sidney Wood To Cop Meadow Club Crown

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 6. (AP)—Bobby Riggs of Chicago, America's second ranking tennis player, dealt a crushing blow to Sidney Wood's comeback campaign today when he beat the New Yorker, 6-0, 6-3, 7-5, in the final of the 43th annual Meadow club invitation tennis tournament.

The young Chicagoan took another long step toward clinching the No. 2 singles berth on the United States Davis Cup team. Before the match he and Wood were recognized as two of the outstanding candidates.

The start today was delayed while Wood visited an osteopath, who assured him no harm would come from his playing. He had complained of sore muscles.

The doubles final produced an upset when Frank Kovaks and Bobby Harman of Oakland, Calif., overcame the smooth southern team of Frank Guernsey, jr., of Orlando, Fla., and Russell Bobbitt of Atlanta, 1-6, 9-7, 1-6, 6-4, 6-4.

SUN EGRET WINS

PAWTUCKET, R. ., Aug. 6. (AP)—Finding the heavy track to his liking, A. Compton's Sun Egret romped home an easy winner in the $5000-added Roger Williams handicap at Narragansett park today to pay $6.20. The three-year-old was two lengths and a half in front of Felix Spatola's Wise Prince at the finish and was timed in 1:40.3 for the mile.

Wally Berger Proves He Is Baseball's Best Bargain

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The biggest baseball bargain of the year, if the batting averages mean anything, was the Cincinnati Reds' deal acquiring walloping Wally Berger from the Giants for little more than a song.

The Giants sent Walloping Wally along with cash to get Alex Kampouris, who was somewhat of a bust, and is doing bench duty now, while Berger is batting second in the National league standings.

Ernie Lombardi has been setting the pace at top.

Wally collected nine hits in 23 chances during the week ended with Friday's games to boost his average six points to .339 and take over second place from Ducky Medwick of the Cardinals, who fell to third with .332.

Lombardi hit safely only four times in 15 chances to drop four points to .354.

Trailing the three leaders in the leading ten batters with 200 or more times at bat were Stan Hack of the Cubs, fourth with .330; Buck McCormick, Reds, .329; Arky Vaughan, Pirates, .328; Ival Goodman, Reds, .327; Mel Ott, Giants, .325; Jojo Moore, Giants, .321; and Buck Jordan of the Phillies, with .319.

Jimmy Foxx Finally Gains First Place In American

CHICAGO, Aug. 6. (AP)—Jimmy Foxx, Boston Red Sox first baseman who has been knocking at the door of the American league batting leadership recently, has finally crashed it.

Semi-official averages included Friday's games showed the Red Sox star fence buster had captur-

Finals In Lions Club Net Event Set For Today

Tennis champions from two states met and crossed racquets Friday and yesterday in the annual West Texas Tennis tournament being sponsored here by the Lubbock Lions club. Play yesterday was advanced into the semi-final stages, with semi-final and final matches in the three divisions scheduled for today.

Twenty crack courtmen from various parts of the country were featured in the men's singles event in which the hottest play took place. George Richey, San Angelo, advanced to a quarter-final hole after defeating M. T. Key, Lamesa, who had beaten M. Replin.

Wilson Chapman, all college singles champ of Tech, was well on his way to the top after winning over Roberts and Pancher Upshaw in match play. Also possessors of choice quarter-final spots after defeating one or two opponents in first and second round matches were Slaughter; Dub Rushing; Cullen Crain; Bud Binning, who is registered in three divisions; H. A. Bozeman and Stanley Sasser.

Junior Competition Fast

Bud Binning, speedy courtman from Lawton, Oklahoma, headed the field in the junior singles division with a win over David Storey, Lubbock, and Billie Matlock, San Angelo, advancing into the semi-final bracket.

Binning will play either Henry Batjer, San Angelo, or Louis Sasser, also of Lawton, Oklahoma, for the title in his division. Batjer advanced to his position by a win over Bob Crowley and will meet Louis Sasser for the semi-final spot. Sasser took a win from Morris Replin, who had previously won from Bill Roberts, Lamesa. Replin hails from Littlefield.

Defending Titlists Lose

In the men's doubles division, White and Stone, crack Amarillo defending champs, drew a bye in the first round and dropped their second match to a Donaldson-Pierce combination who had just beaten the Roberts-Key team. Binning-Batjer defeated Burgess-Walton in the initial play and will meet Ritchie-Matlock for the quarter-final spot.

Upshaw-Bozeman beat out Roberts-Crowley and then dropped their second match to Rushing-Chapman, local ace doubles team. Crane-Pantner beat Beene-McCarty in their first round and then met a "brother act" team, Sasser-Sasser, from Lawton and dropped the match.

Championship matches are expected to reach their peak this afternoon, tournament officials announced late yesterday.

Blood Transfusion Is Given Daughter By Ruth; He Is Weak

NEW YORK, Aug. 6. (AP)—Babe Ruth's 22-year-old adopted daughter, Julie, was doing "very nicely" in the hospital today, but the one-time home-run king himself was too weak—for probably the first time on record—to sign autographs.

Ruth was donor of a 500 cubic centimeter blood transfusion for his daughter yesterday. A motorcycle police escort rushed with him from Ebbetts field, where he coaches the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball team, to the hospital.

The daughter underwent an operation a week ago for a glandular condition in the neck. She had failed to rally satsifactorily, showing symptoms of anemia which made the transfusion necessary.

Lamesa Golfers To Play Here Today

Lamesa's golfing troupe will invade Meadowbrook golf course this afternoon for special intercity matches with Lubbock mashie swingers.

Matches will start at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The Lamesans outpointed the locals Sunday, 17 to 14, in Lamesa.

The visitors will be aided by golfers from towns near Lamesa in order that every Meadowbrook player who wishes may have a match.

All Meadowbrook players are requested to be on hand early, Pro J. W. Byrnes said.

Clovis Tennis Tournament Expected To Draw Well

CLOVIS, N. M., Aug. 6. (Special)—Apparently destined to be bigger and better than ever, the sixth annual New Mexico-West Texas tennis open here Aug. 12, 13 and 14, is expected to attract an even greater number of entries than last year's record-breaking 100.

This tournament, sponsored by the Clovis News-Journal, has become one of the most popular tennis events in this section of the country, and last year 26 out-of-town players, including teams from Amarillo, Lubbock, Roswell and other cities, made off with virtually all the trophies. This year's trophies, incidentally, will be more elaborate, in anticipation of a bigger entry list.

Lubbock Raps Cardinals, 13 To 10, In Series Opener Saturday Afternoon

Hubs Overcome Big Advantage Late In Game

By TOM MILLER
Avalanche Sports Staff

Lubbock finally got around to some hitting after shaking a listless start Saturday afternoon at Parris field to beat Midland, 13 to 10, in a free-hitting contest.

Home runs by Johnny Taylor and Skipper Hack Miller in the eighth inning put over the winning tallies. Miller's clout was one of the longest hit at the local orchard this year, clearing the railroad right-of-way behind the leftfield barrier. Taylor had scored Watty Watkins ahead of him before Miller's swat.

Second Game Today

Second game of the series with the Cardinals is scheduled at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Manager Hack Miller has nominated Tommy Fleming, elongated righthander, to do pitching chores today. Fleming has turned in a good job of flipping since joining the club July 17. Chief Benny Franklin likely will toe the slab for Midland.

Final game of the series will be played Monday night when women and children will be guests of the Lubbock management.

The Cardinals got off to an eight-run lead off Marvin Gramly and Ernest "Big Bill" Terry in the first four frames and appeared to be well on their way to victory. The Hubbers lacked the usual ginger and were watching too many of Tommy Warren's fat ones whiz by.

Three-two Beers crashed at three-run homer of Gramly in the second for Midland's first counters. Jimmy Morris and Frankie Nelson had walked and Barney Barnhill had sacrificed out.

Morris opened the fourth with a pass, Nelson singled; and Barnhill again sacrificed. That time Beers doubled to left, scoring Morris and Nelson. Gramly was derricked in favor of Terry, and Warren greeted the big boy with a double down the thirdbase line, counting Beers. Larry Battle beat out a bunt and Jimmy Guinn scored Beers with a single to center. Spanky Ballinger walked, but Jake Suytar ended the frame, when Terry converted his grounder into a double play, to Stevens to Mosel.

Lubbock Start Scoring

The Hubbers came back with four runs in their half of the fourth after Battle bobbled a perfect double play ball. Miller singled past third and Carr hit to Suytar, who threw to Battle, but the shortstopper dropped the ball. Mal Stevens struck out and Bob Mosel popped to Suytar.

Pete Melito drove Miller and Carr across with a double, then he and Gramly, who got a life on Battle's third miscue, scored on Joe Gedzius' double to center.

Taylor's double, Miller's walk, Carr's triple and Stevens single gave Lubbock three more in the fifth. Midland had scored once of errors by Gedzuis and Carr and a long fly. The Cards got another when Terry hit Battle with a pitched ball to open the sixth and Guinn and Suytar came through with singles.

Hubbers Pull Even

Lubbock pulled even in that chapter when Gedzuis opened with a single and scored on Taylor's second two-bagger. Miller walked and Carr punched him and Taylor over with a double to right.

Watkins beat out a bunt to start the Hubber eighth, then Taylor, after slicing off a couple of bunts, lined one over the leftcenter palings. Miller followed with his lusty blow.

None of the four hurlers worked effectively. Eleven of 23 hits went for extra bases, the Hubbers getting 25 bases on 13 hits.

It'll Make Lots Of Soup

Imagine the surprise of A. J. Humphreys when he found a 20-pound turtle on the end of a fishing line. Anyway, that's his fish story. Pictured above is Humphreys, a Lubbock cotton broker, as a youth held up the turtle beside the Country club lake Thursday. He presented the turtle to Lee Hubby, manager of Lubbock hotel, for turtle soup.

Putting The Bee On Frogs

By Collier Parris

(Editor's note: With a sigh of relief at the end of a rather trying but altogether pleasant week, we turn this column today over to Mr. Bus Ham, sports editor of the Daily Oklahoman, Oklahoma City, who is one of the visiting scribes attending the coaching school and last night's ball game. The first few paragraphs were written especially for the Avalanche-Journal, the latter part for Ham's column appearing today in the Oklahoman.)

BY BUS HAM
Sports Editor Daily Oklahoman

IF this ever sees the light of day, it will be because Skipper Charley Guy and Sports Editor Collier Parris are awfully short on copy for the Sunday morning paper.

But they asked for it, so here it is, with this much aside before you get in up to your neck:

If you gentlemen of Lubbock ever decide to bottle up that exhilarating night breeze that sweeps in off the rock, put me down as your Oklahoma agent. Man, you've got climate out here.

And don't ever again let that firebrand, Pete Cawthon, and that ambassador of goodwill, Dutchy Smith, close the doors of your coaching school. It has become a national institution.

LITTLE "Dutch" Myer, who doesn't come up to the shoulders of his tall tackles at Texas Christian university, is the kind of football coach with whom you enjoy squaring off.

No hedging for him. He lets you have it both barrels, straight from the hips. He is almost brutally frank, and he spares no one, not even his own team.

"I'll admit I believe we are going to have a pretty good club at T. C. U. next season," he said, and didn't bat an eye. "My line will average 210 pounds, and that's something to start on."

LET'S see, T. C. U.'s last great line was in 1932. And to this day whenever anyone pops off about what a powerful forward wall he is going to have, a comparison is drawn with those Frogs of six years ago.

"But what I can't figure out," picks up Myer, this time with a grin, "is how they've got us beating Rice and Rice is already on the way to the Rose Bowl. We're both in the same league, you know."

As the audience enlarges, Myer confesses that Rice has not defeated T. C. U. since 1924. And last year, as champions of the Southwest conference and Cotton Bowl winners, the Rice Owls made only three first downs against T. C. U.

"ERNIE Lain didn't cause us any concern," Myer said. "That Cordell boy is the Rice ball player. He's got everything."

Harry Stuhldreher, who rode with Notre Dame's immortal "Four Horsemen," wouldn't go out for football if he had it to do all over, at his weight.

Only 13 hairs from baldness, fuller through the middle, but not many pounds heavier than he was in 1922, 1923, and 1924 as a slashing 153-pound back at Notre Dame, he said:

"THE game is getting top heavy. The coaches are going beef crazy. You have to weigh 230 pounds in order to play tackle, 215 pounds as an end, 190 to 200 to be a backfield man nowadays.

"Where would the Four Horsemen fit into a personnel like that. Crawley, Miller, Layden and Stuhldreher, from 153 to 165 pounds.

"The running game is being destroyed. Football is basically a running game, but those 235-pounders can't move, and you can't move them. So nobody moves.

"That's what has brought on your laterals and forwards. Anything is resorted to in order to get away from those giants. But it's taking the real drama out of the game, the ground attack.

"THERE never was anything prettier or more thrilling in football than a well-executed running play; hard blocking in close, speedy, shifty running by the ball-carrier, the break into the open, a fine blocking down field, a long touchdown run.

"But all of that is going out as the bigger and beefier players come in. The Four Horsemen would have been crushed by the tackles of today. I wouldn't want any of it."

Coaches who are here from three of the major gridiron fronts, the east, Big Ten and Southwest, ought to know who's going to be who next autumn, if anyone can tell this far in advance of the actual campaign.

In the east it will be Dartmouth, Cornell and Harvard, the Ivy league, exclusively, of course.

In the Southwest, Rice, the Texas Aggies and Texas Christians. (But remember, the favorite never wins in this league.)

In the Big Ten, Minnesota, Ohio State and Wisconsin, with Illinois and Indiana stronger, Northwestern threatening.

Conspicuously absent at this ranking coaching school are Big Six conference representatives. Tom Stidham of Oklahoma university was coming out, but couldn't get away at the last minute.

ARKANSAS university is the only Southwest conference member that does not have someone here riding herd on all-state high school stock. But that's another state, off the recruiting range here.

New York Sports Scribe Here To Do Yarn On Texas Tech's Peter Willis Cawthon

Kyle Crichton, above, sports and drama expert for Collier's magazine, is shown as he lolled in Avalanche-Journal editorial rooms yesterday. For five years a member of Collier's staff, Crichton—who pronounces his name as if it were spelled "Krite-un"—was in Lubbock yesterday gathering material for a forthcoming story based on the coaching career of P. W. Cawthon, head football coach and director of athletics at Texas Tech. Before coming here, Crichton spent some time in Houston, Cawthon's old home, getting "background" on the Tech mentor. Before he joined Collier's, Crichton was on the staff of the old Life, a humor magazine, and Scribner's. He broke into the magazine field from newspaper work in Charleston, W. Va., and recently lived in Albuquerque. He now lives in New York when he is not traveling on assignment.

STOCK TRADING BRISK
NEW YORK, Aug. 6. (AP)—Stocks bore the recovery van in today's market, many reaching new high territory for the year or longer with gains running to 2 points or so at the best.
The list encountered more insistent profit taking in the closing hour of the brief session and peak prices for the majority of leaders were reduced.
It was the liveliest Saturday since July 2, with transfer totaling 829,060 shares.
The Associated Press average of 60 issues was up .5 of a point at 50.5 and on the week was ahead 1.4 points.
Motors, steels, rubbers, rails and a wide assortment of specialties were in the forefront of the day's push.
Brookers attributed the extensions of Friday's rally mainly to the continuance of high business hopes and the impatience of traders and investors to put idle funds to work.
Bonds, particularly rails, followed stocks on the forward trek, but commodities lacked rising vigor.
During the short proceedings new tops for 1938 were registered for General Motors, Briggs Mfg., Greyhound Corp., Goodyear, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Celanese, Libby-Owens-Ford, du Pont, American Can, Phelps Dodge, Delaware and Hudson and Texas Corp., among others.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 6. (AP)—Cotton futures prices recovered early losses of 2 to 4 points today and, under evening up operations, closed net unchanged to 2 points higher.
Business was limited in anticipation of the government crop report due Monday.
The October contract closed at 52. Dec. at 8.59, Jan. at 8.60, March at 8.66, May at 8.70, and July at 8.73 bid to 8.76 asked. Spots closed very quiet with middling 2 points higher to 8.57 cents a pound on sales of 241 bales.

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, Aug. 6. (AP)—Cotton moved over a narrow range today as the trade awaited Monday's government cotton crop report. December recovered from 8.46 to 8.52 and closed at 8.49, with final prices 1 point net lower to 4 higher.
The market opened 1 to 2 points lower in partial response to easier Liverpool cables and under pre-bureau liquidation. December sold below 8½ cents for the first time on the current decline in the early trading but more price fixing was uncovered and prices turned steadier. Liverpool and Bombay also bought here, but on the whole transactions were small.
The trade is expecting a government crop estimate of around 11,300,000 bales.

AVERAGE PRICE
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 6. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten Southern spot markets was 1 point higher at 8.50 cents a pund; average for the past thirty market days 8.81 cents a pound.

Substitute Food Plan Of Army

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. (AP) — A streamlined substitute may soon replace the concentrated food which the army has used as an emergency ration since the World war.

Officials disclosed today that a special board is considering a combination of highly concentrated foods patented by a military expert on diet, Maj. Paul Logan of the quartermaster corps.

The emergency ration, an essential for combat troops, has not kept pace with advances made in weapons and other equipment since the World war, officials said. The same two and one-third pound can familiar to millions of World war soldiers has remained the army standard for use by the fighting man when separated from his field kitchen.

Japs Use Similar Tablets

Major Logan's invention was reported in military circles to promise economy, lesser bulk and weight and more calories.

The brown cakes contained in the cans of World war days were scientifically designed to sustain a fighting man for a day. Those who have tasted the ration, which smacks of chocolate, rate it as "not bad," but few are eager to make it a steady diet.

Some armies, notably Japan's have experimented with means other than food to spur fatigued fighting men, but American medical corps officers are frankly skeptical of their value.

Reports from China have said that tired Japanese troops received "energy" and oxygen tablets. Army specialists said oxygen tablets would not be practicable because their effect was only temporary.

Rotarians Go Today To Plainview Meet

President Warren P. Clement and Secretary Sam T. Davis of the Lubbock Rotary club plan to go to Plainview Monday for a 127th district meeting of club executives and secretaries. Several chairmen of club committees also may attend.

Meeting will be in the Hilton hotel and will last all day. Linton H. Estes, Wichita Falls, district governor who succeeded J. Edd McLaughlin, will preside.

There are 51 clubs in the district, comprising Northwest Texas. Membership is about 2,000.

McLaughlin will present attendance trophies to Burkburnett, Panhandle, Slaton, Ralls, Post, Lockney, Borger, Weatherford, Childress and Quanah.

Frank R. Day of Plainview will lead the morning sing-song. Fred Wemple, Midland, past district governor of the old district, No. 41, is to speak. At noon luncheon will be served.

In the afternoon O. B. Sellers, a former district governor, and H. B. Benjamin of Borger will speak.

Texas, Mexico Fight Worms

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 6. (AP) — United States and Mexican agricultural authorities unified efforts today for a fight on the pink boll worm infesting the Rio Grande valley along the international boundary.

R. E. McDonald, in charge of pink boll worm eradication for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, bureau of entomology, who met here yesterday with Guillermo Liere, director general of the Mexican department of agriculture, said immediate and drastic steps would be taken to control infestation.

Infestation Increases

McDonald said studies in the Brownsville-Matamoros cotton growing area showed infestation had increased greatly since last season and that crop damage was 50 per cent and more.

He and Liere have agreed, McDonald said, that all cotton plants are to be killed immediately after the crop is picked, and said they hoped that in view of the early maturity of the crop in the affected section plans will succeed.

In addition to cleaning the fields, which has already begun, all cottonseed produced in the area will be sterilized and movement of all products which may carry infestation to other areas will be halted.

Boll Worm Infestation Threat Causes Allred Proclamation

AUSTIN, Aug. 6. (AP) — Restrictions on movement of cotton and cotton products in Kleberg county, reported lightly infested by pink boll worms, was ordered in a proclamation issued by Gov. James V. Allred today.

The emergency measure requires that all cotton and cotton seed must be certified as free of the worm before it can be sent out of the county.

J. M. Dee Curto, state entomologist, said he would recommend that the quarantine be extended to Nueces county.

Jackie Coogan "Off" Bottle

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6. (AP) — Jackie Coogan, trying to regain at least some of the fortune he earned as boy in the old silent movies is ready to go to court in his $4,000,000 accounting suit against his mother and stepfather after admitting in a deposition that his dead father, John Coogan, once threatened he might not receive the money.

The deposition of the 23-year-old actor was one of the last preliminaries to the trial set for Nov. 14 of his suit against Mrs. Lillian Coogan Bernstein, and his business manager, Arthur L. Bernstein.

Strict Question Asked

Charles J. Katz, attorney for the Bernsteins, asked:

"Didn't your father tell you during a conference at Santa Clara:

"'You can't live on past performances, Jackie. If you continue to live this way, we can cut you off. We can give you just as much or just as little as we wish. If you go on this way, it will be the latter'?"

"Well, not in just that language," Jackie replied.

Has Quit Drinking

Katz also asked questions as to whether Coogan used intoxicants while attending Santa Clara university, from which he was expelled.

Frank Doherty, attorney for Coogan, now back in pictures and the husband of actress Betty Grable, interrupted the deposition at one point to ask Coogan if he did not later visit a church with his mother and take a pledge never to drink liquor again.

"Have you ever indulged in the use of alcohol since that time?" Doherty continued.

"No, I never have," the actor responded.

Childs Condition Improves After Bronchoscopy

After a bean had been removed from his left bronchus and he had recovered from a slight attack of bronchal pneumonia, 2-year-old Carl Dwain Pulliam was dismissed from a Lubbock hospital Saturday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pulliam of Idalou route 1.

The bean had obstructed the passage to the right lung. It was removed through a bronchoscopy. Two days later a tracheotomy was performed, making an opening into the trachea to aid breathing. The baby had developed the slight attack of pneumonia before entering the hospital June 28. The case was unusual in that an object ordinarily lodges in the right rather than the left bronchus.

Building Permit Total For Week Climbs To $49,685

Two building permits, one for a substantial sum, were issued Saturday by Lubbock's city building inspector, boosting totals for the week, year and month.

The two permits aggregated $3,900, sending the total for the week and month to $49,685 and for the year to $1,556,677.18.

Larger of the permits went to W. B. Carter, owner, and Ray Givens, contractor, to construct a one-story frame residence at 2519 Twenty-sixth street, $3,500.

Air Travel At 20,000-Foot Level A Snap, Says Tomlinson, Altitude Trail Blazer

D. W. TOMLINSON
"There's No Such Thing As A Sub-Stratosphere"

By DEVON FRANCIS
Associated Press Aviation Editor

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 6 — D. W. Tomlinson, a large fellow with a positive manner, probably has inhaled more pure oxygen high up in an airplane than any other man alive. So it irks him to hear anyone go dramatic about flight in tomorrow's supercharged airliners.

It will be as simple as elementary arithmetic, he says. Speeds should be in the neighborhood of 225 miles an hour, 45 miles faster than present speeds. An air transport leaving Los Angeles at 5 a. m. will be in New York at dinner time, including the three hours' difference in the clocks.

That will be more than four hours faster than current flights.

Like Sitting On The Porch

Tomlinson won't deny that he has done some hazardous flying in his high altitude research, but he bristles at any suggestion that airliner operations at 20,000 feet will be more dangerous than sitting on the porch of a summer evening to listen to the crickets.

Let's take an arm chair ride with Tomlinson in his "flying laboratory," the plane he has used for three years in determining optimum flight levels for Transcontinental & Western Air. The company plans to inaugurate service with supercharged cabins, to assure passengers an adequate oxygen supply, next spring.

Tomlinson, who used to scare the daylights out of spectators when he did aerobatics for the navy, has climbed to 35,000 feet, almost seven miles above the earth.

Sub-Stratosphere? Bosh!

"Mind you," he says, "the transport planes won't fly at that height. It wouldn't be profitable. It would cost more in gadgets and special equipment than it would be worth. But regular flight at 20,000 feet is only a matter of compressing air and fuel for the engines and making the air inside the ship a little more dense for the passengers and crew."

Somewhere above 35,000 lies the stratosphere, explored only by a few airplane pilots and balloonists.

"There's no such thing as a sub-stratosphere," says Tomlinson. "Somebody invented that to be dramatic."

At 20,000 feet, in an open cockpit, a pilot needs oxygen occasionally, but he can go without it for minutes at a time without obvious ill effects.

Cities Of Cubes

The earth is a vast flat plain, frequently like a checkerboard. Those are farm lands. Cities look like collections of tiny cubes. If visibility is good, the eye can pick up the horizon 300 miles away. There are no "bumps" which, particularly in summer, requires a passenger at lower levels to keep his seat belt fastened.

"In normal, high-altitude flight," explains Tomlinson, "an automatic cabin pressure control device will start operating soon after the take-off. Air pressure will remain the same as it is at 1,000 feet until the plane reaches, say, 8,000.

"By the time 20,000 is reached, cabin pressure probably will be that of the outside air at 12,000 feet. That remains to be worked out."

Just A Draft

What if a window was shattered at 20,000?

"Bosh!" exclaims Tomlinson. "The passenger next to it merely would notice a draft. Extensive tests on that very thing were run by the army, and nothing happened. In that event, the plane naturally would start down to a better atmospheric level, but nobody would suffer ill effects."

At 20,000 feet, tomorrow's transport will be above virtually all turbulent air and 95 per cent of all storm conditions, Tomlinson believes. Occasionally it will fly around thunderheads which, anvil-like, sometimes mushroom up to 40,000 feet.

High-altitude flight will not be used for short hops. It will be only for 2- or 3-stop transcontinental service and for non-stop services like that between New York and Chicago.

Anglo-French Money Talks In European Advances

By JAMES C. OLDFIELD
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Great Britain and France are strengthening their diplomacy with hard cash to combat Nazi Germany's economic advance down the Danube through southeast Europe.

Europe's brand of "dollar diplomacy" today quickened with developments in three spheres tied closely with the Berlin-Rome trade system:

1. A British trade delegation arrived in Bucharest for trade talks designed to bring King Carol into closer British commercial cooperation.

2. Bulgaria — brought into the widening circle of London and Paris sway by a British-French loan of 375,000,000 francs ($10,357,500) mainly for rearmament—may receive even more money from Britain than they granted Aug. 5.

3. Belgrade reports indicated Premier Mussolini's economic ally, Yugoslavia, may be weakening before the temptation of British and French financial facilities.

The new moves followed Britain's successful £16,000,000 ($80,000,000) loan and credits July 4 to Turkey—Europe's Balkan outpost whose friendship may be vital to either side in any future war through control of the entrance to the Black sea and the eastern Mediterranean.

Both British and French officials publicly have denied this economic offensive is designed to encircle Germany.

But privately they admit the two countries are entrenching themselves as strongly as possible behind what economic interests they possess in central and southeastern Europe.

Otherwise, well informed sources said, there would be nothing to prevent Germany's economic sway from becoming supreme from Vienna to the Black sea—and it's a short step from economic conquest to political control.

Outstanding Records Made By Boys In Poultry Projects

Ten of the 43 4-H club boys of Lubbock county who are carrying on poultry demonstrations as their club projects, are making outstanding records, John W. Palmore, jr., assistant county agent, reports.

Most outstanding demonstrations are those of Jimmy Davis, a Becton community boy and a group from the CCC camp at Mackenzie state park. Both projects are large ones and give an excellent demonstration of management, of laying hens and raising baby chicks.

Culled Out 51 Non-Layers

Davis, Jan. 1 this year began keeping records of his flock which then consisted of 339 birds. In April he found the birds were not all layers, so culled out 51, leaving 288.

During the 7 months the hens laid 2,431 dozen eggs, which sold for $332.65. Feed included 1,250 pounds of grain, 3,500 pounds of egg laying mash and 905 gallons of skim milk, with a total expense of $99.60. He provided green feed all the time, with cracked oyster shell. His profit for his labor and investment was $223.05.

Built Model Poultry House

At the CCC camp the boys, under direction of their leader, bought 200 baby chicks and built a model poultry house from scrap lumber. Tar paper was used for a covering and to give added warmth, but not making it air tight. An electric light was used for heating during cold weather and chilly nights.

The boys so far have lost very few chicks. The flock is healthy and birds are growing fast.

ed first place with a .354 mark, three points better than Earl Averill of Cleveland, who lost nine more points last week. Foxx fell off two points but benefited by Averill's costlier drop.

The week's best batting spree was Rip Radcliff's of the Chicago White Sox, who slugged away at better than .500 to jump 36 points into fifth place with .340, a point behind his teammate Hank Steinbacher.

Trailing in order after Foxx and Averill were: Cevil Travis, Washington, .347; Steinacher, .341; Radcliff, .340; Hal Trosky, Cleveland, .335; Red Wolfe, New York, .329; ackie Hayes, Chicago, .329; Doe DiMaggio, New York, .327; and Buddy Myer, Washington, .327.

Committee members are O. J. Sexton Alex McDonald, R. C. Hopping, Don L. Jones, Ray Forbes, A. H. Maas Charles Still, J. B. McCauley, Marion Sanford, J. B. Crisler, R. G. Porter, Frank Campbell, Ray Farmer, Paul Favis, Lennis Baker and Douglas Wilson.

Choice of several motor trips in and near Lubbock will be offered the visitors as forenoon diversions. At noon, they are to attend a luncheon at Hilton hotel where Sexton will be toastmaster.

REMODELS HOME

ROARING SPRINGS—Dr. J. F. Hughes has started remodeling his residence here, including decoration and a new foundation. A porch is being added. W. H. Nichols is contractor.

Lines Extension Will Continue

Eighty seven Lubbock county farmers are enjoying for the first time electric service from their own cooperative power system, following the energizing Friday of 41 miles of the South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc. It is the first rural electric line in the county and the second in Northwest Texas.

Just as fast as farmers have their houses wired and inspected, will additional miles of high line be placed in service, explained Chas. C. Fagg, superintendent, in making the announcement.

Need More Customers

"Within the next ten days or so the entire 135 miles of high line will be energized, we hope," he explained. "The lines east of Lubbock should be finished within two or three days; the line to Hurlwood, 25 miles, is completed, but there are not enough customers per mile yet to start energizing."

Regulations require at least two customers per mile before the government will authorize service to start.

In the immediate future, that is before the close of August, Fagg expects about 300 customers for the 135 miles. Potential number of customers is around 450, he explained.

Woodrow, Union Posey Benefit

Lines now in service are south from Lubbock to Woodrow, thence to Union, north to Posey and a loop of about 5 miles in that community. There are several side lines off the main line, to serve small groups.

None of the gins on the high lines have been connected. It is expected they will be, however, when ginning starts.

One of the customers is the new Cooper rural high school at Woodrow. Besides the school building proper there will be five or six residences and other buildings joined.

Farmers of the Woodrow community with service are enthusiastic over power, said Alvin D. Allen, secretary-treasurer of the cooperative. Allen said he enjoyed reading by the electric lights Friday night. Farmers will hook up their radios to the new power soon. Household appliances also will be added as new customers get used to the convenience.

Meantime, officials of the cooperative, headed by W. M. Ross, president, and Harry N. Roberts and Hawley, Freeze and Nichols, are working on additional lines. Roberts is preparing plans and specifications for about 125 miles more of high line, to serve several hundred customers.

The application is expected to be ready to be presented to a meeting which Rural Electrification administration has called for Aug. 17 at Austin. Another meeting will be held in Greenville.

REA has had a large sum allocated for work in the United States and the local group anticipates a chance to expand its work in the county.

Meantime, two other groups, one in Lamb county and the other in Garza, Lynn and Terry, have worked up a program. The former group is sending in its application, while the latter already had had an application in Washington and is preparing to take additional steps soon.

C. Z. Fine of Posey is vice chairman of the local board. Directors include S. S. Alcorn, Lewis E. Countess, C. E. Lilley, M. H. Barton, with L. A. Howard as attorney.

There are about 1450 movie extras in Hollywood.

A GOVERNOR'S CHOICE

EACH retiring governor in Texas leaves a passage or more underscored in a Bible. An Austin correspondent last week wrote Governor Allred has underscored two passages from the Gospel of Matthew. They are the 11th and 14th verses from the fifth chapter which lists the beatitudes. And last week, President Roosevelt suggested if man ever accepts the Sermon on the Mount as the way of life, turmoil, creed and strife will be no more.

She will take pre-med work at Hardin-Simmons university this fall. Sweaters And Skirts Are "Musts" At Majority Of Colleges; Buy Saddle Shoes Is Suggestion

BY MARIAN YOUNG
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—No matter where she lives in later years, or how, no wardrobe she ever assembles will be more important to any girl than the one she picks for her first year at college.

Not yet mature enough to be reasonably happy in an atmosphere where clothes count for so much—unless her own are absolutely correct, a great percentage of her success on the campus very definitely does depend on her wardrobe. Discontent and self-consciousness, brought on by having to wear wrong clothes in the midst of right ones, are likely to be reflected in her grades as well as her social life.

Therefore, any girl who is going to be a freshman this fall, ought to spend more time and thought on clothes than she ever has before.

Inquire Before Buying

The ideal start, of course, is to find out exactly what type of costumes the smartest upper classmen on that campus wear. A note to the Dean of Women, a thorough perusal of catalogues from the Dean's office—especially those which show informal pictures of last year's undergraduates—and a letter to the college shop of some reputable department store should suffice. Once you know what other girls will be wearing, be guided by that knowledge.

Pick classics, such as good sweaters and good skirts, first. And this is no time to strive for originality. You can work out individual touches that will distinguish your own particular classics, later on.

In addition to the very best sweaters and skirts you can afford—and don't sacrifice quality for quantity—take a separate jacket or two. At a majority of colleges, the girls wear practicaly nothing except sweaters and skirts and jackets and skirts. Simple, well tailored shirtwaist dresses in interesting silks and soft wool are second choice.

Your fall suit can play several roles. For instance, if it's a three-piecer, you'll wear the long topcoat over all your dresses and with one or two of your separate skirts and sweaters. The suit skirt will be worn with a sweater sometimes. And the short jacket will come in for its share of doubling too.

Right now, suits with plain skirts and striped or plaid jackets and topcoats are ultra smart. If you can manage to get a truly fine tweed suit, by all means do so. A tweed suit is the most shining example of a classic. Certain to be as good next year and the year after as it is for fall, it will give wonderful service and is sure to be something of which you'll be proud as long as it lasts.

Unless you're going far south to college, a fur coat is something you-

Freshman Clothes

'll want and need and love. Look at boxy jackets and bulky swaggers and straight-hanging, three-quarter length types. Unless you can have two, by all means get an informal looking fur coat for classes and general wear rather than a fitted, dressier model for an occasional weekend in town. Incidentally, if getting an expensive fur coat means stretching your budget to the breaking point, just be happy with a less expensive one. There's nothing wrong with a lapin swagger, providing it's smartly cut and lined with good fabric.

This year, in the opinion of college shop experts, who were co-eds themselves just last year, one should continue to wear pearls with sweaters and blouses under sweaters—even pullovers. And they like long sweaters, the longer the better, pastel flannel scarfs to tuck into the necklines of odd jackets, saddle shoes by all means, and embroidered monograms on everything. Suede calots and small felt hats with brims get the most votes when it comes to hats. In co-educational schools, semi-sports shoes lead in popularity. But in women's colleges, saddle shoes are an integral part of the sweater-and-skirt uniform.

from Lou to Louella . .

DEAR Louella: Since nothing whatsoever has been said about the Sub-Debs of late, I'd like to bring them into the public eye by talking about one of their members, tall, blonde, gorgeous Dorothy Kelly, daughter of the Edward T. Kellys of 2618 Twenty-first street. She is one of the loveliest-to-look-at young women I've ever seen running around in Lubbock, and she acts as lovely as she looks, if you know what I mean.

I've had all kinds of interesting mail of late, but most of it has been from people of whose travels you are familiar.

Mrs. Crenshaw Writes

Mrs. C. C. Crenshaw, who always remembers me when she takes a long trip with her family each summer, wrote from Reno, Nev.:

"We are California-bound! Seeing lots of magnificent mountains, lovely streams, and yesterday the miles of snow-white salt flats out of Salt Lake. Anne is getting a great deal of valuable information, as well as pleasure out of trip."

I also had a long letter from Mrs. Maurice Hylton who moved recently to Wichita, Kans., after a year or more of living in Lubbock and working with the local Beta Sigma Phi sorority chapter. She says, in part:

"I am really falling in love with Wichita. This is a home-loving town and almost everyone owns his own home and furniture. We have made some most interesting friends, and have not lacked for something to do.

"There are three big chapters of Beta Sigma Phi here, and all have invited me to their social gatherings." Her address is 710 So. Water, Apt. 4.

Mrs. Pebble Talley the other day received a card from Mrs. Vernon Brown sent from Florence, Italy. Mrs. Brown is the only Texan in the party with which she is touring Europe.

YOU possibly have read by now of the June marriage of a Tech college employe which took place in Shreveport, La. The bride met her Atlanta, Ga., spouse-to-be, as you probably read in today's paper, in the Louisiana city in which neither had ever visited. They made a date with a preacher by telephone, and also a florist. En route to the florist's they got lost and, after wandering around more or less hopelessly, asked a motorcycle cop for directions. The cop escorted them to the florist with such grace and good humor that the couple asked him to witness their wedding. He not only accepted but cleared the traffic with his motorcycle as the couple followed him to the church.

Lulu, not finding time to write this week, telephoned her bits of news, as follows:

Langstons Leaving

"The Lonnie Langstons are leaving soon for California from which place, Lonnie will leave for Canada on a fishing trip.

"Dr. Doyce Clark, who is interning at Shreveport, is spending the week-end here.

"Bill Yates didn't look very happy the other day when he learned by wire that his best girl, Polly Parrott (formerly of Lubbock and now of Abilene), couldn't come here this week-end.

"'Chape' (Charles) Chapin is here for a few days in his very own open-air airplane. (Chape is living in and around Dallas these days, I think, and he'd better come to see me or I'll refuse to ride in that plane.)

"ROSSER Abbott, formerly of Lubbock and the United States Naval academy, was here last week. It is rumored that in Tulsa he will soon start business with his own oil company.

"Gosh, these good-looking coaches in the city all week have kept me in a dither!"

Lulu also was wondering if Del Morgan's wife and two children were here with him. Not knowing, and having been queried on the same subject the preceding day, I called Mrs. Cawthon Friday.

She said in her lovable East Texas accent: "Ah don' know for sure, but ah think he's goin' to Quanah today to git his family, and if that's true, he oughta be back heah with 'em tonight." I've butchered what she said miserably, but I thoroughly enjoy hearing her, or her husband or the Georgia-Alabama Earl Heards talk.

Bryants Have Guests

Week-end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bays Bryant of 2123 Twenty-seventh street have been her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Marr of Ralls, and Dr. and Mrs. William L. Marr and children of Galveston, Mrs. Bailey Post of Haskell and Mrs. Trav Richards of Glendale, Calif.

I couldn't begin to list all the guests in the city nor tell you all that has been done by way of entertaining them. Here's just a sample, though, of the common interest among the guests:

MR. and Mrs. Frank Pratt, who lived here awhile and now live in Midland, are spending the week-end with Miss Delia Wilkinson who gave a luncheon honoring another Mrs. Pratt of Midland who has been visiting Mrs. Lorainne Bucy and Mrs. W. W. Rix's sister, Mrs. Reeder of Houston who has been here quite a long time. There!

By the way, I almost forgot to tell you that Mrs. Dick Green, who has been in a hospital in Colorado Springs these past six or seven years, and her young son, Dixon, who has been staying all that time in St. Louis are at home in their Nineteenth street residence, much to the delight of their many friends.

Yours, Lou.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Parmele and daughter, Jeanne, of 2104-B Sixteenth street have returned from a visit to Fort Worth, Dallas and Granger.

Oil Development Story Is Told

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 — Scientists believe, says the American Petroleum Institute, that petroleum, one of the oldest natural products used by man, was formed from decomposed marine plants and animals buried in mud of ancient seas.

Dr. Robert T. Hill, eminent Texas geologist, defined it as "fermentation of oleagenous matter in sea mud."

Mud Becomes Stone

Sketching the origin and development of America's petroleum industry, a statement from the institute says the mud became stone, forming what is known as "source rocks" of petroleum, and which are found on every continent.

People used petroleum centuries before the Christian era and Noah calked the ark with "pitch," a form of petroleum gathered on the shores of the Dead Sea. Early Chinese used oil and natural gas, and invented a method of drilling. Early settlers of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio considered "rock oil" a cure for rheumatism.

George Washington, visiting western Pennsylvania in 1753, bought land containing an oil spring and listed it in his will as one of his more valuable possessions.

Found Oil Springs

Oil was found first in this country floating on top of springs. Later, wells were dug and oil lifted to the surface in buckets.

The genesis of exploiting this natural resource on a quantity scale lies back of the American Civil war. George H. Bissell, visiting his old teacher at Dartmouth college, Prof. Crosby, noticed on the desk of the latter a small bottle filled with dark fluid. Prof. Crosby told Bissell it was a kind of mineral oil that came from salt wells and floated on creeks in Pennsylvania, adding he thought it could be refined and used for illumination.

Bissell's mind was filled with a great plan and soon he formed America's first oil company the Pennsylvania Rock Oil company. Stills to refine the oil were built and lamps were made to burn it, but not enough oil could be found in the salt wells or creeks.

One day Bissell saw in a store window at New York a salt well derrick and the impression it conveyed was transformed into a determination to dig a well especially for oil at Titusville, Pa.

Accordingly, the first commercial oil well was begun in the neighborhood where George Washington had found oil a century earlier. A railroad conductor—a tall solemn man named E. L. Drake — was given charge of the drilling. He told the people of Titusville he was drilling an artesian well to forestall ridicule.

After months of drilling the "artesian" well produced nothing. People laughed and exclaimed, "Drake's Folly!" but the driller was not discouraged. An old blacksmith named Uncle Billy Smith made special tools for drilling through hard rock with the aid of a steam engine.

One day in August, 1859, when the hole was nearly 70 feet deep, Sam Smith, one of Uncle Billy's sons, looked into the well and there, less than a foot from the top he saw rising a dark fluid.

"Oil! Oil!" he cried, a shout heard around the world because it was the first commercial oil well ever drilled. Within a year thousands of prospectors were drilling wells throughout the neighborhood.

Coffer-Miller Group Here Tuesday Night

A play, "The King's Dilemma", by the Coffer-Miller players at 8:15 o'clock Tuesday night in Senior High school auditorium will open this week's summer recreational program of Texas Technological college.

The play by the visiting entertainers will depict one of the six marriages of Henry VIII, that to the German princess, Ann Von Cleves. Martha Miller and Jess Coffer, stage and radio actors, will be starred.

Other programs scheduled this week are a watermelon feast at 8 o'clock Wednesday night on the lawn south of the administration building; "Romance in the Rain," full-length motion talking picture, at 8:30 o'clock Thursday night on the lawn; and a dance from 8:30 to 11 o'clock Friday night in the women's dormitory.

After this week, only one other feature remains on the summer recreational program, a play to be presented by the speech department under direction of Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, professor, tentatively set for Aug. 18.

BUT ANYWAY, IT SPROUTS — PAHOKEE, Fla. (AP)—J. R. Miller doesn't know whether to use a piece of furniture he has in his living room as a table or as an ornamental shrub.

Miller looked at the table two days after he had purchased it at Ocala and discovered leaves sprouting from the legs. The sporuts, some two inches long, have pushed their way through the varnish.

Hickman Once A Star In Football

(By The Associated Press)

WHITESBORO, Aug. 6 — Capt. Fred Hickman, appointed recently chief of the Texas State Highway patrol, formberly was a football star at Sherman and Greenville and had two years and seven months training in the United States marines.

Hickman was born at Whitesboro Jan. 20, 1899, and attended Whitesboro public schools. When America entered the World war he joined the marines as a volunteer, enlisting at Denison May 2, 1917, and was discharged Aug. 20, 1919.

Returning home, he entered high school at Sherman and was graduated the following spring after making an outstanding record on the football eleven as fullback. He entered Wesley college at Greenville and again starred in athletics, being a member of a football team that went to the finals with Stephenville Plowboys for state championship of junior colleges.

Hickman became a member of the patrol March 1, 1927, when the highway department organized a group of license and weight inspectors to supervise truck regulations. The continued this service until the state highway patrol was organized in January, 1930, then became commander of the first school in which 50 rookies were trained in traffic regulations.

Has Risen Successively

In the first patrol assignments, Hickman was promoted to captain and had charge successively of the Wichita Falls and Houston districts He was later transferred to San Antonio and had charge of the patrol and drivers license office. In June, 1937, he was transferred to Austin and named chief enforcement officer of the license division, which office he held until he received his latest promotion.

Hickman was married Jan. 18, 1933, to Miss Katherine Denton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Denton, pioneer citizens of Greenville. They have two children, J. Fred Hickman, two, and Richard Wade Hickman, five months old.

Ward And Reeves County Alfalfa Crop Is Enriching Farmers

PECOS, Aug. 6. (AP)—Early indications are that this year's alfalfa crop in Reeves and Ward counties will pour thousands of dollars into farmers' pockets. There are around 4,500 acres planted in the two counties, a substantial increase over last year's acreage.

The hay crop has been harvested and alfalfa seed crop, the big-money-producer, is getting under way. Last year the seed brought 14 cents a pound, 17 cents for the certified variety.

Last year the seed was shipped in carload lots and this year prospects are for a much larger production. Production is expected to be around 300 pounds to the acre which will mean a return of around $42 or better and with 4,500 acres sown to alfalfa the growers expect a return of around $200,000.

Library Has Old School Document

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 4 — Among the rare books of the Texas collection at the University of Texas library is a photostat copy of the first volume of "The Rules and Regulations of Salado college, also an outline of its organization," published at Belton soon after its adoption by the trustees May 15, 1860.

The school had been organized as a joint stock company in October, 1859, with Col. E. Sterling C. Robertson as the leading spirit, chief benefactor and president of the board of trustees. A 20-year charter from the legislature provided the school should be non-sectarian, co-educational, should grant diplomas, etc.

Rev. Tenney First President

The "rules and regulations" informed those interested that the Rev. Levi Tenney, a Presbyterian minister, was the first head, and contained a section praising the natural beauty and healthfulness of the surrounding countryside (Bell county). Another said the object of the school "is to be prepared alike for advanced students in the ancient and modern languages, mathematics, etc., and for the humbler primer, cutting off all necessity for going or sending abroad for a thorough education."

Other rules were calculated to prevent "all manner of foolishness." Vigorous steps were taken to see that men and women students had no opportunity to mingle on the school grounds, in the boarding houses — where room, board and laundry were $10 a month — or to correspond.

School Grew Rapidly

The school grew rapidly and even during the Civil war had an enrollment of 307 in a town of 600 population.

Financial troubles beset it from the beginning when Col. Robertson gave 100 acres of land, including the picnic grounds and two large springs, and the 50 members of the stock company each paid $100 to establish the college. In 1861, Herman Aiken contributed 20 acres to be divided into lots and sold for the benefit of the school, but in 1869 it was necessary to ask contributions, which ranged from $500 to $50, and even included labor and hauling. Yet $1,500 remained due the contractor.

Became "Ghost" School

At the forced sale Col. Robertson bought the property, Nov. 6, 1877, and became sole owner of Salado college. It was carried on under agreement with Col. Robertson until his death in 1879, but a year later the charter expired and Salado college joined the procession of Texas "ghost" schools.

After varying fortunes as a public and private school, the building burned in 1900. Citizens, alumni and others contributed to a new building but it burned before being completed. Undaunted, they began a third building, which, after 24 years use as a private and public school also vanished in flames.

The Temple and Belton chapters of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas erected a roadside marker where the college stood, the only tangible reminder of one of Texas' pioneer institutions of higher education.

Oldest Lamb County Resident Is Dead

OLTON, Aug. 6.—Mrs. J. H. Johnson, 96, better known as "Grandma," died at the home of her daughter Mrs. J. S. Davis in Olton Monday. She was the oldest resident of Lamb county and had hoped to be able to live to be 100, thus becoming the first county resident to reach that age.

So far as can be ascertained from records, Mrs. Johnson was the first person to reach the age of 96.

Approximately 400 Boys Expected To Register At Silver Falls Encampment

Varied Program Is Arranged

By J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Silver Falls lake, four miles east of Crosbyton, in Blanco canyon, will be the scene of great activity and interest to 4-H club boys of the South Plains Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, when an annual 4-H club encampment will be held.

Under plans made at a meeting at College Station in July but 20 per cent of the boys of the district can be accommodated. About 350 to 400 boys are expected.

Boys will be accompanied by the county agent or club leader and by club sponsors.

Notables Expected

L. L. Johnson, state club leader and James W. Potts, a former Lubbock county club boy and recently named assistant to Johnson, plan to attend. K. J. Edwards, district agent leader will be present as well as county agents from over the district. Several others from the extension service likewise are expected.

Scheduled speakers include: C. Dutch Hohn, College Station, assistant agricultural engineering specialist; Herbert C. Hilburn, editor of the Plainview Herald and president of West Texas Chamber of Commerce; E. J. Spacek, Abilene, with W. T. C. C.; G. G. Gibson, extension dairy husbandman; W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department, Texas Technological college; R. E. Callendar, extension service wild life specialist. Two outstanding club boys of the district, Ellis Britton of Hale county and John Adams of Swisher county, also will speak. Both are well known in Lubbock, having competed in Panhandle-South Plains fairs and South Plains Fat Stock shows.

Expense Is Slight

The boys will report Monday. Total expense is expected to be about $2 a boy.

Lubbock county boys and leaders, headed by John W. Palmore, jr., assistant county agent, will report about 10 o'clock Monday to assist in getting the encampment started.

Five Lubbock county boys, Joe Doyle, James Potts, J. B. Potts, Billy Rush and Douthitt Grinstead, will stage a candle lighting ceremony Tuesday night.

Following is the schedule of events:

Monday, 3 o'clock baseball and other games; 5, swimming; 6, supper; 7 to 8, getting acquainted; 8, address of welcome by R. H. Nowlin, superintendent of Crosby county schools; 8:10 to 9 entertainment by Lubbock Lions club; 9 to 10, games; 10, lights out.

Tuesday: 6 to 7 a. m., swimming; 7, breakfast; 8 to 12, baseball and other games; noon, dinner; 1 to 3, rest period, with county agents hearing Messrs. Hohn, Hilburn and Spacek; 3 to 4, baseball; 4, demonstration by Gibson and talk by Stangel; 5, swimming; 6, supper; 7 to 7:30, entertainment by Hohn; 7:30 to 10, candle lighting, short talk by Britton.

Estimated 15,000,000 Hoppers Caught On Ranch Near Amarillo

AMARILLO, Aug. 6 (AP)—Approximately 15,000,000 grasshoppers have been caught on the Miles Bivins ranch in Potter county.

A workman has been operating a 'hopper catcher 50 days catching about 25 barrels daily. County Agent Ted Alexander estimated that a bushel of 'hoppers would weigh 40 pounds. Counting 300 hoppers to the pound, the multiplication shows it takes 15,000,000 hoppers to weigh 50,000 pounds.

The 'hopper catcher remained in operation but the reduction in the 'hopper population was not noticeable.

The 'hopper plague on the Plains has been the source of many tales of the caliber of nearly all fish stories.

One, involving a single 'hopper instead of 15,000,000, was told by Mrs. W. B. Mauldin of Amarillo. She said an English sparrow landed in her back yard and caught a grasshopper so large the bird had to make three attempts before it managed to take-off.

Even the oldest of all 'hopper gags—the one about the 'hoppers gnawing on barbed-wire fences to sharpen their teeth—has been told. It was new to the newcomers. It brought smiles to oldtimers who had forgotten it.

GIN IMPROVED

ABERNATHY, Aug. 6.—T. B. Stone, local ginner, has begun construction of a cotton conditioning house at his gin. It will be 32x70 feet and 32 feet high. Capacity will be 210 bales of unginned cotton. It is located south of the gin and will be of sheet iron and frame, with a concrete foundation.

If History Repeats We're Due To Get 10 Years Of Rain

By Associated Press Feature Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—Weather forecast for the next 10 or 15 years—RAIN.

Perhaps that's what the United States can expect. For the drouth cycle from 1930 through 1936 may have run its course, says J. B. Kincer of the Weather Bureau.

THE BIG DROUTH the old-timers talk about is the one that lasted from 1886 through 1895. Map shows the lack of rainfall during the growing seasons of those years.

FOURTEEN WET YEARS followed the dry cycle shown in the first map.

THE DRY SPELL of the 1930's was the first big drouth since the one of 1886-1895. In 1934 only the New England states and part of the south had rainfall above normal. In other states, precipitation was as much as 48 per cent below normal.

RAINFALL during the first half of this year was 12 per cent above normal for the whole country. The Atlantic seaboard, drier than normal the first half, began to catch up in mid-July with floods in some sections.

Texas Receives 3,684,963 Acres

(By The Associated Press)

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 6.—The Texas wheat allotment for 1939 is 3,684,863 acres, the state AAA office at Texas A. and M. college was informed from Washington.

The allotments are made at this time to give winter wheat farmers the information well before planting time, E. N. Holmgreen, administrative officer in charge of the Texas office said.

The acreage, however, will not be allowed to counties and then to individual farmers within counties, he indicated. The national allotment is 55,000,000 acres under the terms of the new farm act.

Average Is 4,955,426

The state allotment for 1939 compares with a 1938 planted acreage of 5,315,000, a 1928-37 average of 4,955,426, and a 1928-32 average of 3,929,000 acres. The allotment for 1939 is based on a figure of 74.36 per cent, uniform for all states, of the 1928-37 average, with allowances made for trends.

Wheat growers who comply with their 1939 allotments will be qualified for advantages which other phases of the farm program offer, Holmgreen said, such as price adjustment payments this year, 1939 conservation payments, 1939 wheat loans program is in effect next year, and a renewal of crop insurance program policies next year.

Quotas To Be Uniform

If marketing quotas are in effect in 1939, such quotas will be a uniform percentage of these acreage allotments multiplied by the normal yield for the farm. Such quotas will be in effect if supplies exceed normal domestic consumption and exports of wheat by 35 per cent, and if approved by two-thirds of the wheat growers.

Allotments were made to 39 states, with Texas the fourth largest wheat state on the basis of the allotments. Kansas received the largest, 11,067,349 acres, and Oklahoma 3,783,954.

Allotment For Lubbock County Is 23,881 Acres For 1938

Lubbock county's wheat allotment acreage for fall planting in 1938 has been received by the county agricultural association, said C. C. Jobson, county agent.

Allotment is 23,881 acres, E. N. Holmgreen, administrative officer of the AAA in Texas, said. Definite allotment for each farm will be made later.

Shelterbelts Of Plains Country Growing In Spite Of Hooters; More Trees To Be Planted

(By Associated Press Feature Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. — For four years the hooters — including many congressmen—have been trying to kill that shelterbelt idea in the western plains country.

But there stand the shelterbelts —84,000,000 trees—swaying serenely in the prairie winds. Trees have been placed on 13,000 farms, in strips 115 feet wide. The total length of these strips is 7,000 miles — in a north-south zone 100 miles wide.

And now the government has announced it plans to plant trees this year in 6,000 more miles of strips.

Trees—But No Forest

You don't hear so much hooting these days — perhaps because the government isn't going in for so much publicity. Most of the jeers came from people who thought there was going to be a solid, 100-mile-wide forest stretching from Canada to Texas. Because of that misconception, the forest service had to do a lot of explaining.

It explained that shelterbelts are really short strips of trees and shrubs usually planted 10 rows wide. From a quarter to three-quarters of a mile long, they run along theside of a farm from which the most damaging winds blow. The purpose is to deflect the wind so it won't blow the soil away, to lessen extremes of temperature, and to save moisture.

The fact is, the forest service pointed out, that prairie farmers for generations have been doing haphazard shelterbelting on their own.

Farmers Must Help

Now the forest service supplies the trees from its own or leased nurseries. The government, using relief labor, plants the trees. The farmers and the communities in the shelterbelt zone supply the land and cultivate the trees.

On a typical 160-acre farm, there will be about 8,000 trees, occupying about 10 1-2 acres. Trees have been planted in North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Rhode Island is only 1/470th the size of Alaska, but has ten times more people.

A South Dakotan cultivates his shelterbelt.

Range Building Practices Done On 118 Ranches In Crockett

OZONA, Aug. 6 (Special)—Improved range-building practices are being carried out on 118 ranches, covering 1,700,000 acres in Crockett county, V. J. Van Zandt, county agent, reports. This is a summary of the 1938 program.

This is a 30 per cent increase over participation in 1937. Payments are expected to be approximately $165,000, as compared to $112,000 last year. This was the amount received in February this year.

One of the improved range practices being carried out is building of surface tanks, 42 having been constructed with a total of 223,048 cubic yards of dirt excavated. Six hundred fifty-seven miles of range ridging done on the contour has been measured, and many more miles are to be done. Twenty-three miles of spreader terraces have been constructed in connection with the ridging work.

Deferred grazing checked to date shows 5,573 acres, on four ranches; prickly pear, lachugilla eradication on 42,681 acres has been completed and as much more will be this year. Six wells have been drilled by five ranchers.

BUILDING READY SOON

ARTESIA, N. M.—Artesia's new $140,000 high school building will be completed the last of the month. J. J. Widmer of Carlsbad is contractor.

Conservation Makes For Profit, Says Spade Farmer

SPADE, Aug. 6. — "I am confident that my crop yields over a period of five years will be increased at least 20 per cent as a result of the use of soil and moisture conservation practices," says Deck Heard, who owns and operates a 156-acre farm three miles northwest of Spade.

Heard, who has owned this farm 15 years, observed that his land was being damaged by both wind and water erosion and adopted the use of a general contour system in 1934 and 1935. At that time, he says, wind erosion was causing the formation of moderate sand dunes and sheet erosion was resulting in other spots.

Realizing that general contour farming was not enough to check erosion on his land, he consulted A. B. Chapman, superintendent of the Soil Conservation service CCC demonstration camp at Littlefield, early in 1937, and adopted a complete erosion control program.

Changed His System

He terraced his field, and then adopted a strip crop plan, planting cotton in strips of 36 rows, alternated with grain sorghums in 12-row strips. The cotton yielded three-fourth of a bale to the acre, while the grain sorghums produced a ton of headed grain to the acre. The sorghums were hand headed with a stubble of from 16 to 18 inches being left on the field and protected from grazing by livestock.

"This stubble protected my field from blowing last Spring and erosion on my land now has been practically eliminated," Heard says. "I am sure my yields will be increased 20 per cent over a period of five years, and believe that strip cropping provides the solution for controlling wind erosion in this section."

Labor Needs In Area Requested

Farmers who are planning to employ a number of farm workers during harvest are asked by Fred C. Wendt, head of the Texas State Employment service, to contact him before harvest time and to state their requirements for the fall. Extra helpers for emergencies also may be secured.

No charge is made for this service of placing men, either to the worker or the employer, Wendt pointed out.

Workers who want employment in the fields this fall should get in touch with him at once, Wendt said. His office is 918 Main street, first door east of the Lubbock National bank.

"Complete neutrality is maintained by the employment service in the matter of wages," Wendt said. "Such agreements are completed entirely beteween the employer and the worker."

Wendt is planning several concentration camps for cotton pickers from outside the territory. These will be maintained at central points outside Lubbock, where farmers may secure helpers without having to travel long distances to get help.

Hollywood On The Loose..

Bruce Lester, John Payne, Marie Wilson Among New Stars To Click Of Late

BY ROBBIN COONS
Associated Press Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6—Like to pick new stars as they start to climb?

This week's preview grind will give you a field day.

New talent like this makes you wonder what the factories are yelling about.

Scarcity of leading men? There's a good bet named Bruce Lester in "Boy Meets Girl." There's another in "Garden of the Moon." John Payne's the name. It's not a new one, but it hasn't clicked before.

Do they want a sure thing in the comedy sweepstakes? Let 'em look twice at Marie Wilson.

And a potential child wonder? Let 'em listen to the mammas and grandmas clucking over Donnie Dunagan of "Mother Carey's Chickens."

Taken For A Ride

"BOY MEETS GIRL" takes Hollywood for a dizzy ride on a mile-a-minute track of dialogue. It's fast, furious, funny, and it tops the stage version. You know the story—or where have you been? Cagney and Pat O'Brien are the looney film writers. Marie Wilson's the waitress who spawns the prodigious infant Happy. Bruce Lester's the boy friend—after the fact, nicely glossed over for the censors. Ralph Bellamy's the producer, and Frank McHugh the agent. Dick Foran's the cowboy. Lloyd Bacon mixed the ingredients with accent on speed and the laughs spill over the sides of the dish. In Hollywood, anyway.

More Fast Talk

THERE'S more fast talk in "Garden of the Moon," Pat O'Brien providing most of it as manager of a local night club easily identified as the Cocoanut Grove. It's feud stuff—Pat versus John Payne.

Payne, James Stewart-ish in appearance, got this role originally intended for Dick Powell. After previous false starts, he acts and sings this time to do his wife (Anne Shirley) proud. Maragret Lindsay, too often a stick of a lass, shows new life.

Director Busby Berkeley took these principals, a host of supporting players, some good tunes and smart showmanship values, and whipped up what looks like a sure-fire click. Important in the story is Jimmie Fidler, movie commentator, playing himself.

Family Stuff, And Good

IF YOU like simple, appealing, human stuff you'll go for "Mother Carey's Chickens." Not much of a plot. It relies on romantic, amusing, hart-warming incident for its major strength. Family stuff, and good.

Anne Shirley (doing John Payne proud) and Ruby Keeler, playing straight with no dancing, share the romantic burden with Frank Albertson and James Elison. Fay Bainter is the widowed mother, excellent but granted little opportunity for brilliance. The new child Dunagan is sensational—cluck, cluck!— in that tangled wallpaper scene, and the whole piece, under Rowland V. Lee's direction, carries a cumulative warmth.

Martha Toned Down

"ive a Sailor" tones downomarM "GIVE ME A SAILOR" tones down Martha Raye and presents her transformation from an ugly duckling into a legs-contest winner with Glammer and It. Bope Hope, very smooth, and Jack Whiting are the young men involved, and Betty Grable is the selfish sister.

I laughed myself into fits at some of Martha's early business—that beauty mask sequence in particular—despite a premonition about the turn things would take when she quit clowning and Began to It. My worst fears were realized. Martha had better give up Glammer—especially in the vicinity of the Gorgeous Grable.

The pteranodon, a creature that lived during the Cretaceous Period, is the largest flying animal that ever existed. It had a wingspread of 21 feet.

Idol Has Role Of Prize-Fighter

MOVIE fans of Lubbock may take their choice this week in the film bill of fare.

Bookings run the gamut of emotions from the 'he-manizing' of the ladies' favorite, Robert Taylor, through crime, mystery, wild westerns, comedy, simple romance and jungle love.

Robert Taylor's new role in "The Crowd Roars," showing at the Palace through Tuesday, promises much for the Taylor worshipers. It is a triumph for the current matinee idol and provides the surprise of the year in his first prize-fight role. A virile, two-fisted one that shows he can dish it out as well as take it. Maureen O'Sullivan is starred with him in the romance with competition furnished by Jane Wyman as her school chum.

Morgan Nearly Steals Show

Frank Morgan as Taylor's father, a dissolute ex-vaudeville 'Ham' comes near stealing the show from the rest of the cast.

Taylor is also featured in another film showing the first of the week and although seen here perviously, it is due to draw a good attendance as the story is outstanding. It is "Magnificient Obsession" showing at the Cactus Sunday and Monday. Irene Dunne is starred with him in the dramatic picture taken from Lloyd C. Douglas' best-seller.

A wild socialite family and a noted tramp get all tangled up in "Merrily We Live" at the Broadway today and tomorrow. The tramp becomes the chauffeur and mentor-general of the menage. Starred are Constance Bennett, Brian Aherne, Alan Mowbray, Ann Dvorak, Patsy Kelly and Billie Burke.

"Madame X" At Tech

The story of a woman who spent twenty hectic years of her life for the price of one reckless hour is unraveled in "Madame X" showing at the Tech Sunday and Monday. Gladys George, John Beal, Warren William and Reginald Owen are in the cast.

Today's offering at the Lindsey brings an old favorite, Jack Holt, back to the screen in a new role, warden of a men's prison. The film is "Reformatory," a gripping expose of life in a boy's 'reform' school, fast-paced and filled with human interest. Charlotte Wynters, a newcomer to the screen, Ward Bond, Frankie Darro and Bobby Jordan, star of "Crime School" and "Dead End' are in the cast.

"Mannequin" At Lyric

Spencer Tracy and Joan Crowford are together in "Mannequin" at the Lyric through Monday. It is the romantic story of a rich man who meets a poor girl, wife of a worthless chiseler and wins her only to lose her through a misundertanding and regain her love after he loses his bank roll.

A thrilling earthquake, trapping Dorothy Lamour, Ray Milland, Lynne Overman and hundreds of native extras provides a smash climax to the tropical romance, "Her Junge Love" at the Texan today and tomorrow which rounds out the shows for the first-of-the-week bookings at Lubbock theaters.

Robert Taylor and Maureen O'Sullivan are the lovers in "The Crowd Roars" at the Palace through Tuesday.

'Posted' Stencil Is Received By Agent

A stencil for making signs for "posted" against hunting farms, was received by the county agent's office and sent to Z. L. Evans, Shallowater, president of the Shallowater Game Management association, formed recently.

More than 40 farmers of that section pledged over 18,000 acres of land as posted against hunting, in order to protect quail and other game birds, said C. C. Jobson, county agent. Since the formation of the group, a large number of farmers have indicated a desire to get into the group and have their farms posted.

The stencil is 12x24 inches. Boards will be used for thestencil and placed at prominent places around each farm.

Evans told Jobson that he made a small cover for quail a day or two after the group was formed. Next morning he observed a number of birds at the cover.

Numerous farmers, Jobson added, have told him they wanted to protect quail and other game birds outside, it was explained.

Before closing in the summer, all the seed outside the house was processed.

There are a large number of quail covies in the county. Cover for the birds can be made out of odds and ends around the farm, at little cost.

Slaton Oil Company Open And Seed House Being Cleaned

SLATON, Aug. 6.—The West Texas Cotton Oil Co. mill here is open and the seed house is being cleaned of seed so as to be ready when seed begins to come in. Opening is earlier than usual.

Prospects are now for early arrival of seed. It has been found not the best practice to store seed

Market Reservations Continue Briskly

Twenty unsolicited reservations for space at the fall semi-annual Western Wholesale market, here in October, have been received by the association, Luther A. Godwin, president, said.

Dates have not been announced definitely, but advanced registration from firms previously showing here is larger than ever before.

Godwin said he believed this fall's market would surpass anything this city has ever known. Letters indicate the wholesale manufacturers have begun to realize the South Plains is in the "white spot" of the nation and that there is much business in this section of the state.

PRACTICING CONSERVATION

NACOGDOCHES, Aug. 6. (AP)—Fifteen farm owners or operators in the Lily Grove community near here have listed 2,000 acres of land for protection and management of wildlife, Travis Maclendon, forester with the regional soil conservation service staff, said the action was in co-operation with the Carisso Creek Soil Conservation association wildlife preservation program, which has approximately 14,000 acres in the county practicing such conservation measures.

The first cotton gin in Andrews county was completed recently. The county has an allocation of 33,000 acres of cotton.

Mowery To Judge In South Plains Fair

Ray C. Mowery, associate professor of animal husbandry department of Texas Technological college, has accepted a post as judge of the swine division of the 25th annual Panhandle-South Plains fair. Mowery has judged the fair several years and has been superintendent. He is one of Texas, widely known livestock men.

Frenk Well of Hale Center, many years a Durham or Milking Shorthorn breeder of northwest Texas, has accepted the superintendency of the dual purpose division of the fair. Well said he believed this year's show would be the largest in the history of that division.

Advance registration from four of the largest Shorthorn herds of Texas has come in. It is expected by fair officials that by the first of next month there will be a record registration of animals in this class.

Hitler Slices Some More Bologna; Britain's King May Visit U. S. World Fairs

Nazis Not "Ready For War"

Germany Is Trying To Run Another Bluff

THE declaration attributed to a German official, who was not further identified, that the nazi nation is "absolutely ready for general war" can be nothing more than another slice of Hitler bologna.

The statement obviously was intended for the consumption of nations whom Germany considers potential antagonists and whom she would like to intimidate. This particular blast seems to have been aimed in the general direction of Czechoslovakia, which Germany covets.

One condition of which we may be safely certain at the moment in this world of uncertainties is that no nation is "absolutely ready for war." The term, "absolutely ready" is understood to mean, in this case, that no nation can become engaged in war with absolute certainty of victory, because none can be sure until the test actually comes which nations will be friends or which will be enemies.

If and when the time comes that any of the dictator nations feels it is "absolutely ready for war," it is a safe bet that war soon will begin.

It Is A Needed Survey

WHILE the motives for which the information is intended may be debatable, none-the-less the survey of the natural gas industry now being conducted by the Federal Power commission is one that is needed.

Purpose of the survey, as explained by the federal officials, is to collect information concerning production, gathering, transportation and distribution facilities within the natural gas industry. When it is completed it should answer more accurately two important questions which cannot now be answered with any certainty. Those questions are: How much gas have we now? What seems to be the potential supply?

With that information, the industry and the nation can draft more intelligently a program for the utilization and conservation of this vast resource while we still possess it but which, eventually, must be exhausted unless another more satisfactory fuel is found.

The gas industry as a whole is said not to look with too great favor upon the power commission's activities. It is the industry's fear that the inquiry is merely a prelude to further regulation and to further taxation which, those in the industry claim, is threatening strangulation and bankruptcy.

The companies perhaps are justified in their fear. But despite that fact, it is important that the nation should know just where it stands insofar as its supplies of natural gas are concerned. With that knowledge, it will be better prepared to cope with any condition which may arise.

Lubbock Is "Sprucing Up"

ALTHOUGH Lubbock's amazing amount of building activity centers largely around home construction—as it should—it is both interesting and gratifying to note that a great deal of money has been spent, is being spent and soon will be spent in "dressing up" our ever-expanding business district.

Many structures have been remodeled in recent months. Others are now undergoing remodeling and still more are to be given "new faces" before the rush of the fall and winter trading season begins.

The Lubbock of today is a vastly better looking little city than it was even five years ago. And if the wave of improvement continues, it will next year be a better looking city than it is today.

It is no exaggeration to say that this great Plains trading post is the brightest, most enticing community between Denver and San Antonio and between El Paso and Oklahoma City.

And that is as it should be.

Moreover as for me, God forbid that I should sin against the Lord in ceasing to pray for you: but I will teach you the good and the right way.

Nazis Grin And Central Europe Wriggles In A Dither—And It's All Because:

Belgium Wages "Mock War" On France

By MILTON BRONNER
NEA Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Aug. 6 — For the first time since the World war, a considerable portion of the Belgian army held maneuvers recently near the French frontier.

The problem: How to ward off a French invasion of the provinces of Hainau and East Flanders, which would threaten Brussels, Antwerp and Bruges. The French attack was supposed to come from the direction of the city of Valenciennes.

It was really an epoch-making event in the modern history of the Belgian army, because since 1918 all previous maneuvers had studied the problem of how to defend Belgium against another German invasion. It was an earnest demonstration of Belgium's determination to be neutral once more. Before the world war, Belgium's neutrality was guaranteed by various nations, among them England, France and Germany. But when the war broke out, Germany violated that neutrality and her troops marched and fought their way through Belgium. England used that as its cue for entering the war, drawing from the German Chancellor the contemptuous phrase that the British had come in for "a mere scrap of paper"—namely the guarantee of Belgian neutrality.

FOR LONG years after the war ended, Belgium was an ally of France. Belgium was the little brother of France. Therefore, while France built the Maginot line along its frontier with Germany, no similar line was built along the Belgian frontier.

In 1936 came a change. King Leopold made his famous speech in which he outlined his desire that Belgium should once more become a strictly neutral state. The Germans were delighted and quickly recognized this neutrality. They have been similarly delighted—just as France has been made uncomfortable — by the recent Belgian maneuvers on the French frontier.

BUT INSIDE Belgium, things are not so happy. Belgium is divided into the Walloon section on the southeast, where the most of the people by preference speak, write and read French, and the Flemish section where the people mainly use Flemish, a tongue akin both to Dutch and German. The Flemish have for years claimed that the Walloons dominated and for years have been fighting to have Flemish used on an equal footing. They have won. But these recent maneuvers of the army have started bitter polemics.

Various influential Walloon papers denounced the maneuvers on the French frontier as "unheard of," as a sign that Belgians were forgetting their trusty ally of the World war. A society of Walloon liberals denounced the maneuvers as "an insult to France." Another Walloon society said that Walloon officers and men in the Belgian army would never fight French brothers in arms.

THE FLEMISH papers replied in equally heated tones. One of them pointed out that the maneuvers were logical and that the army had not built a line of fortresses along the French frontier such as it had on the German.

The situation became so serious that Premier Spaak thought he had better take a hand. In a speech at Berchem he said it was the army's duty to hold maneuvers in all parts of Belgium, so that the troops could learn the lay of the land in all directions and along all frontiers. He asserted it was just as foolish to say that the recent maneuvers indicated a possibility of warfare against France, as would be to say that maneuvers centered on the town of Beverloo in the province of Limbourg, indicated that Belgium contemplated an offensive against Holland or Germany.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ira Bennett

THROUGH Frank J. Hogan, its new president, the American Bar association will gain close personal touch with public men who make the wheels go 'round. Although a Republican, Hogan mixes with all sorts, and few individuals can rival him in the number of his acquaintances.

Once a year Hogan gives a dinner "down at Hogan's," which is attended by a mixture of New Dealers, raptorial royalists, prehensile jobholders of high and low degree, attorneys, writers, and even Senators. No one is allowed to make a speech, but otherwise a pleasant time is had by all.

Bitter antagonists on the national stage are just "regular fellows" at Hogan's. They are punctured by skits prepared by iconoclastic writers, reinforced by sly digs from Toastmaster Hogan—and they like it.

The lawyers at these parties never fail to twit Hogan on his $1,000,000 fee from Edward L. Doheny, but as a loyal Blackstonian he doesn't mind.

Hogan's hobby is Shakespeare and rare manuscripts. His collection is fine, but it didn't cost $1,000,000.

PRECEDENT: King George VI to visit the New York and San Francisco world fairs! Why not? King George V would have visited the Panama-Pacific exposition in 1915 except for the world flareup.

Herbert Hoover, a mining engineer, lived in London and was a booster of the exposition. In 1912 Hoover proposed that King George go on a British battleship through the Panama canal, which was to open in 1913, and proceed to San Francisco. He could land for a few hours at the exposition and be welcomed by the President of the United States or his representative, and return to his ship, which is technically British soil. He could proceed to Vancouver and thence through his own Dominion of Canada to Halifax and take another battleship. Thus he would be under his own flag all the time except for a short visit at San Francisco.

King George approved of the plan and would have made the voyage except for the outbreak of the war.

INSOLUBLE: Another brilliant plan for bringing British and American heads together was foiled in 1927. It might have led to a settlement of the war debt bogey. Vincent Massey, Canadian minister at Washington, had as his guest Philip Kerr, ambitious young former secretary to Lloyd George. They doped out a plan to induce Prime Minister Baldwin to visit Canada and quite casually drop down to the border, where he could meet President Coolidge, who was summering in the Black Hills.

Feelers were put out and everybody seemed to think it was a good idea. Baldwin had made the first debt agreement and might have tried his hand again. Coolidge was willin'. But again European conditions intervened to prevent Baldwin from visiting Canada. Ramsay MacDonald became premier, and he and President Hoover met at Rapidan. But the debt difficulty was insoluble then.

ERROR: An enterprising young man in Pittsburgh is writing a thesis for his Ph. D., and has taken for his subject the life of the late Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia. An interesting episode has been dug up concerning Elkins' career in Congress as a delegate from New Mexico, back in 1876. But for an innocent misstep by Elkins, New Mexico would have become a state in that year, along with Colorado.

Elkins had worked like a Trojan, and engineered the statehood bill through the House. It went to the Senate, and he succeeded in getting it through that body—but with an amendment, which sent the bill back to the House. The session was growing short. Elkins shuttled back and forth along the 750-foot corridor that connects the two houses.

As he hastily entered the House he heard a burst of applause, and noted that members were flocking around a noted Northern member and congratulating him. Without knowing what the speaker had said, Elkins joined the crowd and shook the orator's hand. The speech had advocated sending federal troops into the South to supervise elections and see that the negro got a vote. Southern members were furious. They had supported Elkins' bill, but now they deserted him en masse and blocked the statehood bill. Because of that handshake it was 36 years before New Mexico became a state.

JOINED: Chairman Warren Madden and the two Smith boys (not related) who constitute the National Labor Relations board are stormy petrels in spite of themselves. The astonishing action of Gov. Kraschel of Iowa in declaring marital law and "telling the cock-eyed world" that there will be no Labor Board hearings in the "military districts of Iowa" left the Labor Board triumvirate a little breathless but undismayed.

Madden religiously believes in the Wagner act. He is a firm jawed fellow and relishes a fight. Charges that he is manipulating the Labor board to promote the C. I. O. make no difference in his drive ahead policy—and the Smith boys stand with him. No T. V. A. squabble splits the Labor board. It has been bumped several times by adverse court decisions, but it also has won most of its test cases. The adverse decisions will be carried up by the board, regardless of consequences.

Chairman LaFollette of the Senate Civil Liberties committee stoutly defends the board and asserts that it must be fortified by new legislation.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

A SLAB of human granite effectively blocks the attempts of the railroads to force a wage cut on their employes. Alexander F. Whitney, hard-boiled head of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, refuses to yield an inch to the most eloquent arguments.

Mr. Whitney, now 65 years old, started out as a railroad brakemen. Thirty-seven years ago he was named chairman of a special grievance committee for his union. In 1907 he was made vice-president of the brotherhood and in 1928 he became its president. He has always had the reputation of being a tough customer, utterly incorruptible and equally impervious to diplomacy or threats.

He has lost none of his vigor or firmness with the passing years. Other rail labor officials have frequently quarreled with him, but they can never afford to ignore him. He has one of the most positive personalities in union circles, and if anything ever comes of the plan for a super-federation of labor—to include A. F. of L., C. I. O. and railway brotherhoods— he is sure to play a dominant role in the new setup. At the moment his strategy is to stall off the railroad's demand for a wage cut in the hope that a traffic upturn will weaken their case. So far it is working very well.

WORTHY: The rail managements, for their part, are more ably represented in the current negotiations than they usually have been in the past.

Very few people, even in the railroad world, had ever heard of H. A. Enochs, chairman of the Carriers' Joint Executive committee, until a few months ago. He had a long and successful but unspectacular career with the Pennsylvania, finally attaining the office of vice-president in charge of labor relations. He did such a good job in that capacity that big timers in the industry figured he was the best man available to handle the thankless task of trying to persuade the unions to take a cut.

Too often in previous battles with the unions, spokesmen for the managements have tried to get by with bluster and bluff. Enochs started with the simple thesis that the roads must reduce labor costs if they are to stay in business and backed it up with strong statistical evidence. He has stuck to it with courage and tenacity, refusing to be diverted or browbeaten. He has been courteous and considerate of his opponents—the atmosphere of the parleys is exceptionally amicable—but entirely firm. He is a foreman worthy of Whitney's steel.

Tangle Of Happenstances, Incredibilities

J. B. Prietsley's "The Doomsday Men" Is Fun To Read

"THE DOOMSDAY MEN," by J. B. Priestley; (Harpers, New York).

J. B. PRIESTLEY has gone very charmingly daft for the space of one novel. This book he calls "The Doomsday Men," and sends into a troubled world today. It is definitely not "important" in the sense the word usually is used by lit'ry people. But it is just as definitely good entertainment.

There is only time to start prospective readers on their trail. They will begin on the French Riviera, at a tennis tournament in which a young English architect and a slightly younger and quite mysterious American girl win the mixed doubles. The young architect finds, at the end of the tournament, that he has fallen in love with his partner in spite of the fact that at the end of each day's play she has quietly slipped into a very large car and been driven away. He manages, at last, to take the girl to dinner and tell her that he loves her. She kisses him and leaves him.

In England a young and excellent American scientist is hot on the trail of a famous physicist. He finds him in a London instrument store, but he denies his identity. Later the American chap traces his fellow-scientist to his hotel, is sent to the country by him and his brother, and "framed." The American only just manages to escape, and catch his boat for home.

In Los Angeles a newspaper reporter is murdered, and from Honolulu his brother comes to investigate. He discovers that a group called the Brothers of Judgment have had something to do with the murder, attends a meeting of the Brothers, and with considerable danger gets a slight clue to the whereabouts of Father John, leader of the sect.

And (perhaps you see the famous arm of coincidence stretching itself in the distance) shortly the English architect, the young American scientist and the brother of the murdered reporter meet in Barstow. Shortly it becomes evident that Father John, the father of the mysterious tennis-playing girl and the touchy scientist are all named MacMichael. Which is about all you need to know, now. "The Doomsday Men" is a gorgeous tangle of happenstances and incredibilities. But it's fun to read.

Announcements On Opening Of Lubbock Public Schools Issued By Supt. Irvin

Fall Term Opens On September 12

In preparation for the opening of Lubbock Public schools on September 12 announcements of interest to parents and Lubbock's many new citizens were made by Superintendent W. B. Irvin Saturday.

Schools are expected to show considerable increase in enrollment this fall, Irvin said. Total enrollment for last year was 6,392, while enrollment the first month of school was 5,108.

No Transfers Granted

All parents have been asked by the superintendent to heed the new zoning for schools. Parents should not ask for transfers within the city prior to the opening of school, for none will be granted until the end of the first week, if at all. Because of enrollment conditions it is possible that schools will be unable to grant transfers, Irvin said.

Faculty members of the public schools will be in Lubbock on September 10 for the first general faculty meeting to be held at 10 o'clock in the Senior High auditorium.

Rule On 6-Year-Olds

School laws allow children 6 years of age on or before September 1, 1938 to be admitted to public school free of charge. Children who are 6 years old from September 2 to November 1 inclusive may be admitted at the beginning of school if they pay the tuition fee of $4.50 per month for the first four and one-half months. There will be no beginning classes at the opening of the second semester, so 6-year-olds must enter at the first of the first term or wait until the next school year.

Vaccination for small pox is required of all children entering schools in Lubbock for the first time, Parent Teacher officials are planning a pre-school health round-up to aid schools in getting children vaccinated and ready for school when it starts. Parents should see that children receive their vaccinations within the next two weeks so that they will not be hindered with sore arms during the first few weeks of school, Irvin said.

Students Should Enroll

Students who will attend Junior and Senior High school and are not already enrolled will be enrolled during the week of September 5. Principals Carroll Thompson of Junior High and R. W. Matthews of Senior High will be in their offices during that week to advise new students and assist old students with their problems. Definite plans and office hours will be announced later.

School boundaries as announced for 1938-39 are: Senior High school, grades nine, ten, and eleven for the entire district; Junior High school, grades six, seven, and eight for the entire district; Dupree school, grades one through high five south of Fifteenth street and west of Avenue Q; George M. Hunt, grade one through high five, south of Fifteenth street from Avenue Q east to the Santa Fe railroad; K. Carter school, grades one through high five, north of Broadway and west of Avenue Q and north of Tenth street and east of Avenue Q to the Santa Fe railroad; Central Ward school, grades one through high five, south of Broadway to Fifteenth street and from College Avenue east to Avenue Q, south of Tenth street to Fifteenth street east of Avenue Q to the Santa Fe railroad, and all children riding school buses, grades one through high five, except those stopping at Sanders school; Sanders school, grades one to high five inclusive east of the Amarillo branch of Santa Fe railroad; Guadalupe school, grades one through high five inclusive for Mexican children; South West Ward school, grades one through high five inclusive for its area; Dunbar school, all colored pupils in grades one to four inclusive will attend the old school building, and all colored pupils in grades five to eleven inclusive will attend the new school building.

To Gives Tests Here

Roger Plaisted, pictured above, first aid and life saving representative for the American Red Cross, is scheduled to arrive in Lubbock today to give life saving tests and confer with officials of the Red Cross chapter here. Life saving examinations are to start at the city swimming pool in Mackenzie park at 9 a. m. Monday. Plaisted will remain here through Tuesday.

Santa Fe Railroad Building Littlefield Loading Docks

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 6. — Five cattle loading docks are being built by the Santa Fe railroad here near the Peyton Packing Co. plant. Five cars can be loaded at a time.

Material for the docks was received in January. About that time the packing company shipped all its livestock to El Paso. Fifteen men are working on the job.

Later, it is reported, the railroad may enlarge its pens.

New Milo Type Is Developed

West Texas within the next few years should see a blight resistant milo replacing the present type and county agents ar cooperating in the propagation of the new type, being developed by Lubbock and Chillicothe experiment stations.

In a letter to all county agents, E. A. Miller, extension service agronomist, pointed out crop prospects for the new type this summer were very good and that the seed distributed last spring appears to be making good yields.

Advocates Field Days

Miller advocated each agent holding a field day at the farms of farmers growing seed to show others just what is being done.

The two stations distributed about 20,000 pounds last spring.

All went to selected farmers through county agents and vocational agriculture teachers.

Don L. Jones, superintendent of the Lubbock station, said he believed that the greater part of the farmers receiving seed were able to save it and that the new seed was making a good growth.

Fair Response Made For Subsidy Papers

With about one out of every four cotton producers in Lubbock county making applications for a 3-cent per pound subsidy on the cotton they produced last year, County Agent C. C. Jobson reports a fair response by farmers in applying for payment.

Up to the present time approximately 550 applications have been mailed to state Agricultural Adjustment Administration offices in College Station from the county. More will be mailed this week.

The county, Jobson said, received but 1,000 applications. He hopes that he will be able to get more soon, as the supply will soon be exhausted. Daily, farmers call at his office in large numbers to make applications. A special clerical force to handle applications has been added.

Jobson again urged farmers making applications to bring with them form letters giving their serial number of the work sheet to have this information will greatly facilitate handling of the application in the office, he added. Number of pounds produced also is desired.

There are about 3,000 farms in the county. Subsidy payment is 3 cents per pound on 65 per cent of the farm's base cotton acreage.

NEW GAME DIRECTOR

LAMESA—C. E. Frisley of College Station has been assigned to this district as regional director for the state game, fish and oyster commission, it was announced by T. A Harris, game warden.

Crosby 4-H Club Boys Demonstrating Gilt Work To Show Possibility Of Hog Raising

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

CROSBYTON, Aug. 6.—Crosby county 4-H club boys who are engaged in gilt club work, are demonstrating possibility of a brood sow on every farm in the county, in the opinion of Ralph Howe, county agent, which is directing the club work.

"Tabulation of results obtained so far this year, by five of the leading club boys of the county, show that pigs can be grown out at half the expense and less than half the trouble, if a good quarter-acre pasture of wheat, cane or sudan is furnished for each gilt that is to be developed into a brood sow," he said in discussing the work.

Five Taking The Lead

"J. W. Lindsey, jr., Crosbyton; J. W. Allen, jr., Ralls; Glenn Nimms, Owens; Paul Williams, Robertson and Billy Hood, Lorenzo, are the five 4-H club boys who are taking the lead in demonstrating 'good luck is good management.' Each of these boys has provided the following equipment, with its approximate cost, quarter acre pasture, fenced hog proof, $4.06; sanitary watering trough, $1.35; shade in pasture, 40 cents; V-type slop trough, 83 cents and oil rubbing post, 5 cents; total cost, $6.71.

"From actual records, this average investment of $6.71 for equipment will be paid back in feed economies in developing one pig for a brood sow. Nimms and Williams have provided self feeders for their gilts, to develop them until they reach about 125 pounds in weight. From then on a limited grain ration can be fed so that the gilts will not get too fat.

"One advantage in providing this equipment is the fact that should the boys forget to feed their animal every day, or be away for a day or two, the pigs will have plenty of pasture and water to care for them without danger of loss."

ROAD COMPLETED

CROSBYTON—A nine-mile road improvement job south of here, has been completed with WPA labor, John Harvey, superintendent, said. There were three and one-half miles of caliche and three of clay base. All bridges were refloored and five stringers of steel added. There were employed 147 men on the job.

TARZAN UNDER FIRE No. 79 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The fatal moment had arrived. Yvonne stood with the knife poised above the boy who lay helpless on the sacrificial altar. Already Gulm had given the signal, but the girl remained motionless, paralyzed with horror. "Strike!" the high priest repeated angrily.

"I cannot—I cannot kill him. I will not!" Yvonne wailed in anguish. Gulm, the high priest, was seized with mad fury. He would not be defied! "Strike!" he thundered; "or you die!" Dick looked up at the girl. "Strike!" he urged; "there's no other way!" . . .

. . . Even if Tarzan were free, he could not possibly reach the spot in time to save Dick. But he was not free; he was the prisoner of twenty spear-armed savages. And they were unswerving in their determination to take him back to a cell in the garrison town.

"Come! March!" the chief demanded. Tarzan shrugged, as if he were resigned to captivity, but his cunning mind was teeming with thoughts of escape. There was only one way—a hazardous way. Failure meant certain death. Nevertheless, he must take the risk.
