Beauty Contest Will Be Held Here Friday

Twelve young ladies will march across the stage of the Community Building this Friday night, August 28 and one of these misses will take the first place honors for the county in a contest sponsored by the Farm Bureau. The winner will receive a free all-expense paid trip to Amarillo to participate in the district contest.

A complete program of entertainment will be given, according to Monty Mitchell, in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Lowell Wells and her champion Quail Girl's Chorus will give new musical numbers, Bill King of Dozier and Bennett Goodloe and his band will provide the musical entertainment for the evening. The first part of the show will be music from 8:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. The queen contest will begin promptly at 9:00 p.m. and following this will be continuation of more music. This will last as long as you like it, Mitchell stated. There will be no speeches and we want to invite everyone. This is yours and you can come and enjoy it as long as you like, he declared.

Girls that have entered by noon Wednesday, August 26, are: Fayette Peoples, Buck Creek; Wanda Rose Phipps, Crossroads; Sonja Atkinson, Elizabeth Wilson, Quail; Joe White, Marella; Janelle Langford, Lillie; Sue Harvey, Billie Sue Ward, Mary Bess McKinney, Betty Wood, Joy Martindale, Nelda Scott, Sherrie Grogan, and Laverne Purkey, Samnorwood.

Judging will be on appearance, poise, and personality. Prizes of $15, $10, and $5 will be given for first, second, and third place honors.

Then the following Wednesday, August 27, at Amarillo in the American Legion Hall on West 7th Street a district wide conference of members of the Farm Bureau will be held, according to Riley Dunson, secretary-treasurer of the local Farm Bureau office.

"The people engaged in farming and ranching have a great responsibility facing them this year," he said. They must decide (1) the policies that they want to incorporate into the national farm program, and (2) who shall speak for the farmers. Some progress has been made in developing a Farm Bureau in Texas. The record of accomplishments in the State Legislature is very good. This year that is coming, 1954, may be the year of action on a national basis and the voice of the Texas farmers and ranchers will be determined by the membership in the Texas Farm Bureau Federation," Mr. Dunson said.

Everyone is invited to attend this important meeting.

Mrs. Percy Wells Has Operation

Mrs. Percy Wells underwent an operation for gallstones at St. Joseph's hospital Tuesday morning, August 25. Mr. Wells said that she was resting well Wednesday morning and that she seemed to come through the operation in excellent condition.

"Give Beef Through CROP" Meet Sept. 1

Fred Shaller of Canadian, general chairman of the "Give Beef Through CROP" movement, has called a meeting in Wellington to be held at the Courthouse Tuesday, September 1, at 8:30 p.m.

At this time plans will be made for Collingsworth part in the movement. The plan as outlined by Mr. Shaller is this in brief: The livestock committee of CROP has set a goal of 26 cars of beef cattle from the Panhandle and high plains. The cattle will be assembled at the stockyards in Amarillo by September 10th, at which time they will be dedicated and shipped to Fort Worth to be processed for shipment overseas.

Mr. Shaller is giving four head of fat yearlings to the cause. He said while in Wellington last Friday: "Knowing that cattlemen are concerned about your overseas neighbors. CROP invites you to share in this thrilling opportunity by giving surplus cattle to the refugees of Europe, the destitute in Korea and the needy in other countries. This is your opportunity to share through CROP and by sharing prove that Christians do care."

"CROP," Mr. Shaller said, "is the Christian rural overseas program that sent 90 per cent of all foods to the hungry people in the world in 1952 that was sent by any volunteer agency. By administering aid directly through our churches and missionaries, we reduce our taxes, eliminate waste and corruption and promote the love of Christ."

All cattlemen and others interested are invited to the meeting that will be held in the courthouse on Tuesday, September 1.

The Ultimate Weapon

Mr. Malenkov may have been lying, and he may not, when he said that Russia now has the hydrogen bomb. However the case may be, the only safe course for the free nations to pursue is to act as though Russia already had the bomb. Some day she will have it and then we must face destiny's tragic question: Is the continued freedom of the free world worth its possible cost? That cost could be not only many millions of lives but the total wreck of a great part of our material civilization.

The choices are few. One would be a so-called preventive war. Communist morality would permit Russia to start such a war if the gang in the Kremlin thought they had a chance of success. Democratic morality, on the other hand, forbids such an aggression, and no democratic people would approve or support it.

A second choice would be to placate Russia by making concessions. The first concessions might seem of secondary importance: a Communist-rigged election in Korea or Germany; tolerance of a Russian controlled puppet Government in Austria; a blind eye to Communist advance in Indochina and Burma and Malaya. But the autocracies grew by what they feed upon. One concession would lead to another until Western Europe, the Far East, the Middle East, Africa, already tortured by the mad folly of racial discrimination, all would come under Communist—that is to say, Russian—domination.

By this whittling down process the free world, even with the support of countries that are anti-Communist if not precisely free, would grow steadily smaller and weaker. We cannot suppose, even so, that Russia would be allowed to attain world supremacy without a struggle. But this struggle, desperately accepted by the dwindling free world, would fail. To win in this great crisis of humanity, liberty must at all costs stand its ground. To give way is not the means of avoiding atomic war. To give way now is to incur the frightful risk of communism ruling over an abomination of desolation.

When the choices are so stated it becomes clear that the democracies, despite their innate hatred of violence, must reject the way of appeasement. Russia's possession of the H-bomb, if indeed she does now possess it, changes no moral law. If freedom was good before this, it is still good; if it man's destiny to be a creative individual and not a worm in a dunghill, that is still his destiny; if freedom can be defended only by the shedding of blood, then men will so defend it in preference to the living death of the slave state.

Moscow should be made to understand that this is inevitably democracy's opinion and intent. It is true that the dictators' creed does not admit any appeal to humanity or to common sense. We may, however, impress upon them that in spite of today's terrible dangers we are resolute that if they take the sword the men of the free world will certainly see to it that they and their system perish by the sword.

With this message which the free world must of its very nature send to Russia's rulers there must go a message to all the masses of mankind, including those under Communist despotism. To those masses we can truthfully say that democracy stands for life and for peace and for goodwill among men; that free men are never the enemies of other free men; that unless this and other free nations are physically attacked we shall fight by ideas and not by the instruments of death; that if ever the atomic deacon is loosed in its full horror in this earth it will not be by our desire.

But retreat will not save us, nor will it save civilization. This country and the majority of its brothers in the United Nations stand and have stood for seven years for the international control and peaceful development of atomic energy. The faith which makes this position possible will be a vastly more powerful force in the world than any material weapon—even that fearful one which harnesses and projects the violence of the sun itself. The ultimate weapon is not the H-bomb. It is man's instinct and determination to be free.

The Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note. The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek is way over his head this week, he's talking about education.

Dear editor:

I read the other day where a man said there was one thing about the school system he couldn't understand.

Said the schools of this country are turning out a lot of graduates, but he'd noticed there were a lot of so-called uneducated people never went to school much who were makin a lot better livin than the educated people. He wanted this explained.

I will explain it. The reason is there is no substitute for hard work and hard thinkin, and the school system ain't got any courses in them subjects in its curriculum. It's just hard to get teachers who can handle them two subjects.

However, I would like to say in a hurry that in regard to hard work and there not being any substitute for it, as far as I'm concerned I ain't lookin for a substitute for it. Most of the substitutes I've encountered are worse than the original, and as for me and hard work, I just don't want to be associated with the idea.

The schools are able to teach a man to read and spell and figure and trim his fingernails, all right, although I've seen some people who went clean through the school system and couldn't spell or read or write any better than some people who quit in the eighth grade, in fact, I've observed that college degrees frequently ain't no reflection at all of a man's education. Some people can get an M. A. degree and still not know any more than they did when they had just a B. A., and some people can get a Ph. D. degree and still not show any marked improvement over what they knew when they was back in the B. A. class. In lots of cases, under this Gilmer-Aiken system, the only way on earth to tell how many degrees a teacher's got is to look at his pay check. It's the only place it shows. In fact, there are some people who claim degrees are only records of how many classes you attended and stayed awake in, not how much you absorbed, which is a matter out of my field, although I guess there are people who absorb more than others, although some of them don't know what to do with what they do pick up. Education some people is like givin certain young boys a high-powered automobile. They just ain't equipped to handle it.

As far as makin money goes. I'm not equipped to speak on the topic, but I'd like to say that stay-in ignorant may not be a bar to makin money, but it ain't no help either, and a man who can get ahead without any education, there ain't no tellin where he could have gotten with a little. Might have been even a foreign diplomat.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

World Needs the Ministry of Jesus

"The Son of Man," said Jesus, referring to Himself, "came not to be ministered, but to minister, and to give His life a ransom for many."

The dictionary says that it means to supply as something needed.

And the outstanding fact of all humanity is human need. It is the one common denominator of the human family.

Jesus came to supply man's need, or to teach men the way to God's supply. There was no need of man to which Jesus did not minister.

And that ought to be written in the present tense, for there is no need to which Jesus does not minister today.

Even the basic physical needs of man for food, health, housing and welfare can be met in our modern, complex world only as men learn to be mutually helpful and minister to one another in the spirit of Jesus. It is ministry that the world needs most.

But the supreme ministry of Jesus was the ministry of salvation, the ministry in which He did indeed give His life a ransom for many.

There appeared in a boys' paper once a picture of a shipwreck at sea. A vessel, returning from the California gold mines, was going down.

The picture showed miners casting their bags of gold across the deck with the cry, "Take it, who will; we are all going down."

The man who has spent his life getting and grabbing, and even been successful at it, is like those miners, little as he realizes it.

"My God shall supply all your need," says the Apostle. And first in man's need is the kingdom of God, and His righteousness.

Talk of getting the children ready for school is again being heard. It will certainly seem strange not to have school at Loco this year, but we want the best for the children. All students here will attend the Wellington schools this fall. C. T. Roberts, superintendent of the Wellington schools, and Jim Woods, a member to the school board, were at the Loco school building Tuesday and moved the equipment from the lunch room to the cafeteria at Wellington where it will be put into use.

All residents of the Loco community are asked to meet at the Loco school auditorium Tuesday night, September 1, for an organization meeting for a community center. The Loco school building has been given to the community for the purpose of a recreation center and meeting place provided the community can be organized to care for it. Various committees must be chosen for maintenance of the building. All home demonstration club and 4-H club members are especially urged to attend, as plans are being made to provide a meeting place for these clubs at the school building. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. C. W. Adkins received a letter from her sister, Mrs. Cecil Cayton, Jr. of Vega, Monday, saying that Mrs. Cayton will undergo bone surgery in the near future and have a broken hip socket replaced with a silver ball. Mrs. Cayton received a broken hip in a fall from their car in February. She had the cast removed July 15. Her doctor reported that a series of X-rays showed the break had not healed and the operation would be necessary.

SALT FORK

By MRS. R. H. ISBELL

The showers and cool weather is being enjoyed by every one.

Sunday school was well attended Sunday. Had a large crowd of visitors. Hope they'll come again.

Quarterly conference was well attended Saturday also. Bro. Michael and wife of Wellington were present. He served as District Superintendent in the absence of Bro. E. E. White who was sick with the flu. Bro. Michael preached a soul stirring sermon at the eleven o'clock hour. Dinner was served at noon.

Business of the circuit Methodist Churches was held in the afternoon and all four churches were represented and had good reports.

Visitors in the Wright and Isbell home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Isbell and Billy, Mr. and Mrs. Don Isbell, Miss Viola Isbell of Corpus Christi, Mrs. Maxwell and Edna Ellen Wright spent the afternoon.

Miss Viola Isbell visited in the G. C. Isbell home in Wellington Saturday.

Edna Ellen Wright visited Mrs. Opal Maxwell and boys visited in the C. A. Wright home Friday.

Rev. Allen and family are back home from a visit with their parents in Arkansas. They were very much surprised and also pleased, with the redecoration of the parsonage. Fresno and Salt Fork folks had been very busy painting and papering the house while they were away. New window shades and curtains had been put up in the bedrooms also. R. H. Isbell is painting the outside of the parsonage.

Bobby and Sebrén Groves who have been living with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Morris, since their daddy passed away have moved to Amarillo now to live with their mother, Mrs. Zora Bell Groves.

Mrs. Groves has bought a home and has an elderly lady living with her to help care for the children while she is away at work. She works at a beauty shop and is doing real well. She hopes to be able to have her own shop soon.

Visitors in the Morrow home over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Morrow and two children, Miss Mary Morrow of Clarendon, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sweeden and Maricel of Cloud Croft, New Mexico. They all attended Sunday school. Mr. Sweeden had their movie camera with him and took pictures of the Sunday school groups. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cummings were dinner guests in the Ira Morrow home Sunday.

Other visitors at Sunday school were Mr. and Mrs. Weaver and daughter that have moved on the C. D. Damron place at Cottonwood. Mrs. G. C. Isbell and Billy, Mrs. David Peters and children drove over to Childress Saturday to meet Miss Viola Isbell who came in on the bus. Miss Isbell is on her way home from California. She visited friends and relatives in different places. She left Needles, Calif., early Friday morning for Wellington. She visited the Ted Isbells and her sister, Mrs. Juanita Bratcher in Needles. She is leaving here the first of the week for her home at Corpus Christi. She has a beauty shop there.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wright and Charles went to Blair Sunday afternoon to be with the Bruce family. Mr. Bruce passed away Sunday morning. All his family were at his bedside. They use to live near Wellington.

(Intended for Last Week)
Well, the homecoming day is past now. There were lots of relatives and friends there to congratulate Mother Cummings. It had looked like for a time several months ago that Mother Cummings wouldn't be here for this home coming, but she is doing fine now and very happy greeting friends and loved ones.

Dinner was served as noon and such a bountiful dinner it was, could have served that many more. Singers come from Wellington, Shamrock, Kelton and Friona.

Mrs. Walter Boucher and Mrs. Ben Farmer were visitors in our community last Thursday morning. Mrs. Boucher is a former resident of the Salt Fork community. She was called back here from California to attend the funeral of her step-brother, Frank Luckido, who passed away last week. His home was at Fritch where the funeral was held. Burial was in a Amarillo cemetery. Wednesday, Mr. Luckido's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Smith came with Mrs. Boucher to Fritch. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Farmer attended the funeral also, and brought Mrs. Boucher home with them for a short visit. The group left for California early Friday morning.

Mr. Ham of Middle Wells came Friday and attended the closing services of the revival meeting at Salt Fork Friday night. Mr. Ham came for his daughter, Miss Jean Ham, who furnished the music for the revival. They left for home after church Friday night. Mr. Ham was very anxious for Jean to be in Dumas Saturday to enter the music contest to be held there.

A very touching and inspiring service was held Friday night. Miss Ruthie McCaskill of Wellington surrendered her life to the Lord for special work. If things are worked out as planned she will be the fourth member of an Evangelistic party composed of Rev. Russell Allen, Charles Marshall, Miss Jean Ham and Miss Ruthie McCaskill, soon as the girls finish high school. Every one predicts a great future for these workers.

Jimmy Dale Peters was taken into the church by vows and baptism Friday night in a very sacred service. His grandmother Peters of Wellington and several other relatives attended the service.

There was another boy of the Junior Sunday school class to have been there for the baptism service, but never got to come. So he will be there next preaching day. W. C. Dollar Has Lived on Same Farm Near Quail Since 1913

Mystery farm No. 3 proved to be more of a mystery than the first two, with Elvis White turning in the only correct guess, namely that it was the W. C. Dollar farm near Quail.

Others who guessed were James Colson, Mary Morrow, Ronnie Colson and J. W. Thomas and they guessed the homes of Ed Crawford, D. W. O'Brien, Grover Graham and Gibbs Glenn respectively.

The Dollar home is one mile south, one east and a half mile south of Quail. Mr. Dollar, who has been a subscriber to The Leader since 1911, bought this particular farm from Don Weaver in 1913 and has lived there to the present time.

At the time he bought the farm, the house consisted of two rooms and a half dugout. Since then Mr. Dollar has added three more rooms and a bath as well as the barn and other buildings seen in the picture. Mr. Dollar, who is a bachelor, lives with his sister, Mrs. Joe Adcock.

He farmed the land himself until recent years; but at the present time it is operated by Homer Duckworth. They also raise beef cattle on the farm with each man owning the same number but owning them individually and not in partnership. The principal crops are cotton and feed; but Mr. Dollar remembers the time when his principal income was from corn and hogs; but he says that went out with the advent of the corn borer in this section.

Considerable soil conservation practices are observed by Mr. Duckworth such as deep breaking and planting of cover crops such as rye in the winter months. Like most of the crops in the Quail section this year the cotton and feed on the Dollar farm looks like it will make well above the average this year.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Smith had Mr. and Mrs. Archie Roberts of Lefors visiting in their home over last week end. Roberts is superintendent of the Lefors school.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Lewis and son of Dallas visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ball over last week end. Mr. Lewis is the former Neeta Ball.

Far more miles per gallon on the trips YOU take!

On long trips, short trips, all trips, you get far greater gas mileage out of a '53 Chevrolet. It offers important savings in everyday driving over everyday roads!

Out to the golf course. Off for a week-end of fishing. Half across the country on a full-scale vacation. Wherever you go—however you drive—you're going to get there on a lot less gasoline in a fine new Chevrolet.

The truth is, this year's Chevrolet owners are enjoying the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. Plus more power. Faster acceleration. More "steam" for the steep hills.

That's the beauty of Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in Powerglide* models, and the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrill-King" engine in gearshift models. They squeeze much more out of regular gasoline—more miles, more pleasure.

Along with this greater gas mileage, you get lower over-all upkeep costs. And Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field. Drop in and let us show you how you'll be better off in every way with a 1953 Chevrolet!

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.
