Weaver Is Accused Of Killing His Wife By Washburn Lawyer

Final Arguments Being Presented

By JIM BOWMAN

WACO, Tex. (AP)—A defense attorney today directly accused Harry Weaver of killing his wife, for whose car-bomb death Harry L. Washburn is on trial.

In final arguments before the sensational televised case against the 39-year-old Houston businessman went to the jury, Defense Attorney C. S. Farmer declared:

"Old man Weaver has already committed one murder and now through this jury he is seeking to commit another. . . . Old man Weaver was the guilty man in this case."

Leading off final arguments for the state, Earl Smith, special prosecutor from San Angelo where Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver was killed by a car bomb last Jan. 19, declared:

"The horrible nature of the crime demands only one punishment—death.

"Nothing was to stop him (Washburn) from profiting from the Weaver family." He said Washburn tried at first to hire others to kill, then decided "if I can't hire somebody to do it, I'll do it myself."

Dist. Judge D. W. Bartlett, in his charge to the jury, said whether Washburn was personally present at the explosion scene was not material. He also said Washburn's failure to take the stand in his own defense must not be held against him. He also said that whether Washburn killed the "wrong persons"—whether, as the state contends—he intended to kill Weaver instead of Mrs. Weaver—was not to be taken into consideration by the jury.

The defense had not offered testimony connecting Weaver with the killing. But defense attorneys' questions had raised this implication at times. In final arguments today they said Weaver had declined to take a lie detector test.

Also arguing for the state were Asst. Dist. Atty. Burney Walker, Waco, and Dist. Atty. Tom Moore Jr., Waco. Cliff Tupper, San Angelo, was to close for the defense.

Both sides rested after the defense produced a document signed by Washburn and the Weavers for Washburn to accept $5,000 for withdrawing all claims against the West Texas ranch couple.

The document also alleged that the Weavers had interferred with Washburn's marriage to their daughter and had damaged his character by claiming he broke into their ranch home and threatened them. Washburn and the daughter were divorced and he gained custody of their two children.

The defense put 16 witnesses on the stand in an attempt to cast doubt on the state's circumstantial case.

The defense sought to establish these two main doubts:

1. That the tires on Washburn's car were too old and worn for him to have dared to make an extremely fast trip to San Angelo, Tex., site of the murder, and back to his Houston home the night before Mrs. Weaver was killed.

2. That a dog which barked at strangers was at the home where the Weavers were staying and would have warned of any tampering with the automobile.

Mrs. H. P. Swisher Jr., of Houston testified that Washburn's tires were so worn that she and her husband switched them to their car before trading it to a dealer.

Milton Ragsdale of San Angelo said he often had observed the dog, penned in the back yard, usually barked when strangers approached.

County Judge Glenn Jenkins of San Angelo told of taking Mrs. Weaver's will from a bank safe deposit box and testified that Weaver said to "get the codicil (addition to the will) out of the box." No codicil was found, he said. Weaver was willed only a small portion of his wife's estimated $330,000 estate.

Judge D. W. Bartlett refused a defense motion for an instructed verdict.

STATE'S STAR WITNESS—Ray Fife testifies in Waco, Tex., in the Harry Washburn murder trial that Washburn tried to hire him to kill his former father-in-law, Harry Weaver. Washburn is charged with murder in the death of his former mother-in-law, Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver, killed when a bomb exploded in her automobile in January.

Capone Associate Slain In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Assassins' bullets killed another associate of the old Capone crime syndicate last night.

Alex Louis Greenberg, wealthy 64-year-old brewer and reputed onetime mob financial adviser, was the victim of the third gang-style rubout of syndicate buddies in 17 months.

Greenberg was slain on a South Side street as he and his wife prepared to enter their car after dining at a restaurant.

Mrs. Greenberg said she knew of no reason why her husband was killed, but Police Capt. Thomas McLaughlin said, "It appears as though he was paying someone and might have muffed a payment."

Police began rounding up known hoodlums for questioning.

Mrs. Greenberg, 43, told investigators she and her husband had just walked out of the Glass Dome Hickory Pit, a restaurant at 2724 S. Union Ave., and were standing at the door of their car when two men whose faces she did not see walked up.

She first related that the men engaged her husband in a brief conversation, then:

"I heard several shots and saw flashes."

Later, however, she signed a statement in which she said no words were exchanged before the men opened fire.

She said Greenberg staggered after the men as they fled on foot, then collapsed in the street about 12 feet from the curb.

Mrs. Greenberg ran back into the cafe, screaming, "Call the police. A man's been shot."

The first officer to arrive found her lying across her husband's body, sobbing.

Capt. McLaughlin said he based his belief that Greenberg had been paying money to someone on entries found in his checkbook. The police captain said they totaled $4,627.83 between May 26 and Oct. 4.

Students Here Will Try For Region Group

Several Snyder High School band and choral students will go to Abilene tomorrow for tryouts for the all-region band and all-state choir.

Melvin Montgomery, school director of instrumental music, said he will take 10 students for the tryouts. Each of the 90 bands in this region is allowed to take up to 10 per cent of its membership. There will be about 400 band students trying out for the 104 places on the all-region band.

Those from Snyder who will try out for the all-region band are Karleen Roberts, a junior who was all-region and all-state last year on cornet; Lynn Tankersley, a junior trombonist who was in the all-region band last year; Von Dell Drinkard, a senior who also made the all-region band in 1954 on snare drums; Jane Patterson, a junior alto clarinetist who made both all-region and all-state bands last year; Judy Noah, a junior who plays bass clarinet; Royce Scrivner, senior on bass violin; Doris Agee, a senior who was on last year's all-region band on baritone saxophone; Karen Crooks, a junior who plays flute and piccolo and who made the all-region band in 1954; Marjorie Norton, a junior on oboe and English horn; and Chiva Boss, junior cornetist.

The tryouts for the all-region band will be held tomorrow morning at McMurry College. The 104 chosen will rehease tomorrow afternoon under direction of James Nielson, director of bands at the University of Oklahoma, and the band will be presented in a concert in McMurry's auditorium at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Fifteen of the 104 will be chosen to represent the region on the all-state band which will rehearse in Dallas four days in February during the annual meeting of the Texas Music Educators Association and will be presented on the evening of the last day in a concert at Fair Park Auditorium. The 15 chosen will be one first chair player from each section except the clarinet section, from which three will be chosen.

Bob Clinton, school choral music director, will take 13 choral students for tryouts for the all-state choir.

No all-region choir is selected. Tryouts will be held in Abilene, and 32 students from this region will be chosen for the 300-voice all-state choir, which will meet at the same time as does the all-state band and will present a concert on the same night in Dallas in February. The 32 students will be made up of eight from each of the voice sections—soprano, alto, tenor, and bass. Each choir in the region is allowed to take 20 per cent of its members to the tryouts tomorrow.

From Snyder will be Charles Roe, a senior bass; Roe Lashaway, junior bass; Tommy Gary, senior bass who was a member of the all-state choir last year; Davie Floyd, junior bass; Doug Smith, senior tenor who also was chosen to the all-state choir last year; Jimmy Pior, junior tenor; Roger Kerbow, junior tenor; Ann Porterfield, senior alto; Virginia Parrott, senior alto; Harilyn Ward, senior soprano; Wanda Crook, junior soprano; Pat Taylor, senior soprano; Joyce Blakely, senior alto.

Negro Admits Slaying Of Couple In Illinois

CARLYLE, Ill. (AP)—Sheriff Dan Parker said today a husky 34-year-old poultry worker admitted slaying a young southern Illinois couple and later led them to bodies of a man and woman hidden in wells.

Parker, Clinton County Sheriff, identified the man as Filmore Young of Carlyle. Young, a Negro, works with his father in a small poultry and egg business.

The sheriff said Young related in an oral statement shooting the couple, Harold Smith, 30 and his wife Arlene, 35, the night of Nov. 27 in their home at nearby Lebanon, Ill., 25 miles east of St. Louis.

Parker said Young gave no immediate reason for the slayings.

Deputy Sheriff Clifford Flood of St. Clair County, in which Lebanon is located, reported that the nude body of a woman was found in a well at Posey, a small community 25 miles southeast of Lebanon, and the body of a man in a well near Boulder, a village 35 miles northeast of Lebanon. The bodies were not immediately identified.

Flood said Young came under suspicion after reports that he had been seen acting strangely on a country road near Carlyle. He said a farmer, Emil Brinkman, reported giving Young's stalled car a push and later finding a blood-stained towel and a rag. The towel later was identified as one from the Smith home, Flood said.

Sheriff Parker said Young was seized last night and admitted the slayings after two hours of questioning, and said he hid the bodies in the wells.

The Smiths' disappearance was reported to police Nov. 29 by relatives who went to the Smith home and found windows and a door punctured with bullet holes. Officers said the interior was spattered with blood.

Authorities said Young five years ago was acquitted in Clinton County of murdering his wife.

Acreage Cut Is Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reductions in acreage allotments and price supports for the 1956 rice crop are virtual certainties, Agriculture Department spokesmen said today.

With a huge carryover from last year and a big crop this year, Secretary of Agriculture Benson will have little choice but to trim the acreage and cut the price support for next year's production.

Under the law the secretary must announce the acreage allotment before Dec. 31. He already has announced his intention of proclaiming a control program and is expected to set the acreage after Christmas.

Department rice experts said Benson undoubtedly will make the maximum acreage cut allowed by law—15 per cent. This 15 per cent applied to the 1955 rice acreage allotment of 1,928,000 acres would mean about 1,640,000 acres for 1956.

On price supports, experts said statistics would support a drop to about 75 per cent of parity but pointed out that Benson is not required to make that deep a cut if he deems a smaller reduction more feasible. Under law, price supports for rice may range from 75 to 90 per cent of parity. For the 1955 crop the support price was 85 per cent.

Rice growers will vote, probably late in January, on whether to accept marketing and acreage controls. They must accept them in order to get the highest available rate of support.

Postmen Dressed Up In New Shirts, Ties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Keep your eye out for a jauntier mailman. The Post Office Department has approved a restyling of the garb for 100,000 letter carriers and special delivery messengers. Trousers and jackets will continue to be cadet blue-grey, but hereafter there will be blue instead of grey shirts and maroon ties and uniform trim instead of the present black.

Chapa Trial Winding Up

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—Both defense and state rested today in the D. C. Chapa case and it appeared the Duval County case would go to the jury before nightfall.

Dist. Judge Otis T. Dunagan began preparing his charge to the jury and gave opposing sides two hours each for final arguments.

Percy Foreman, Houston criminal lawyer defending Chapa against charges of converting $1,400 in school district funds to his own use, announced he would ask that Dist. Atty. Harry Loftis of Tyler be prohibited from making final arguments.

Foreman said he was basing his request on the claim Loftis was not in court to hear all of the testimony. That is a federal court rule that has never been raised in state courts, Foreman told reporters.

There were two witnesses in the 18th day of the trial and the 13th day of testimony.

Harold Stringer, vice president of the Tyler Bank and Trust Co., identified by the state as a handwriting expert, examined tax receipt signatures and identified them as Chapa's.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Sam Ratliff, put on the stand by Foreman, described papers giving immunity to Diego Heras. The defense claims Heras burglarized the Benavides School District tax office of money and tax records.

Attempts to get a song about a race horse once owned by Chapa, who was 60 yesterday, failed yesterday.

A state witness testified that Chapa's income tax records didn't show the sale of the race horse, Indian Charlie. The Alice, Tex., accountant who worked on Chapa's income tax returns, said Chapa listed work horses but no racing quarter horses on his income tax for 1952 and 1953.

Frank A. Vallejo, an oil company employe, tried to introduce the lyrics of the song about a race that Indian Charlie won in 1952 in Mexico. The author wasn't named nor was Vallejo's connection with Indian Charlie ever made clear. Anyway, Defense Atty. Percy Foreman wouldn't buy the offer, and the judge ruled the lyrics were heresay and therefore not admissable.

The defense introduced the Indian Charlie angle and said the horse was sold for $6,000, apparently to show that this money was used to pay off loans.

Accountant Benson testified that the records showed Chapa paid $17,952 on bank loans with no indication of the source of the money.

The case was brought here from South Texas on a change of venue.

Scientist Told To Help Nation In Solving Integration Problem

WACO (AP) — Scientists should come out of their seclusion and help the nation solve problems brought on by desegregation of public schools, the Texas Academy of Science was told today.

"There is little evidence that Negroes as a group are by nature less intelligent than white people as a group," Dr. Joseph U. Yarborough of Dallas said in a report prepared for the academy.

But erasure of the color lines in schools presents problems of fear, anxiety and adjustment on the part of the children so important that scientists must help, said Dr. Yarborough.

"At no time has there been a greater need for the application of the scientific method to the behavior of man in relation to other men," the Dallas industrial psychologist declared. "Scientists . . . must abandon their position of seclusion and safety and make a frontal attack upon contemporary social problems."

"Any plan of desegregation must give careful consideration to the dynamic nature of fear in the learning situation. If possible, the element of fear must be kept out of the school if its normal functions are to be carried on with little or no impairment."

Another speaker, Dr. John R. Mayor of Washington, D.C., said in a prepared report that the nation's schools are not turning out nearly enough scientists and engineers.

"Available statistics indicate there have been serious decreases in college enrollments in engineering and the natural sciences since 1950," said Dr. Mayor, who is director of the American Assn. for Advance of Science's program for science teacher improvement.

"At the same time conservative estimates . . . are that more than 50,000 new engineers and scientists are needed annually. About one-half of the 200 major corporations surveyed by the National Science Foundation reported grave shortages. . . . There is no immediate prospect for an improvement in the situation."

Dr. Mayor urged that college and university scientists deliberately make of themselves a pressure group to improve science-teaching in the schools. He said the most serious problem is that secondary school students do not have "a desire for knowledge, an ambition to increase the fund of the world's knowledge through their own study and research, and least of all a genuine pleasure from concentrated effort in academic areas."

Red Germans Take Over Border Duty

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany announced today its frontier police have taken over from the Russians the task of controlling the borders.

They have orders to be courteous but to resist any efforts to interfere with the "sovereignty" of the state.

The announcement, from the press office of Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl, said the guarding of the borders would be conducted in such a way as to respect four-power agreements guaranteeing American, British and French garrisons in isolated Berlin free access to the West.

In addition, the government statement appeared to make a point of difference between the East German zonal frontiers and the boundary between the Western sectors of Berlin and the Soviet East sector. The latter border will be handled by the regular Communist people's police. The zonal frontier duty is in the hands of the specially trained and heavily armed border police.

The changeover took place nine days ago, the announcement said.

The Soviet Union announced Sept. 20 it was granting East Germany full sovereign rights to police its borders but added it would retain responsibility over traffic between Berlin and the West "for the time being." The divided city is 110 miles inside East Germany.

Inside Berlin itself is an Iron Curtain within an Iron Curtain. The Soviet sector border runs through the city for 28 miles. By four-power agreement, the city is "open" to all American, British, French and Russian traffic. The issue of whether this would continue was brought up by the Russians themselves on Nov. 27.

That day, two American congressmen, one with his wife, and an American escort officer, were detained for four hours in East Berlin.

The German Communist police complained that a radio telephone in the American Army car violated East German laws. Soviet Maj. Gen. P. A. Diblora supported the East German view. He said East Berlin is no longer occupied by the Russians but is, instead, the sovereign capital of a sovereign state. The Western powers protested, declaring they insist the Russians abide by treaties on the four-power status of Berlin.

New Farm Program Being Worked Out

THURMONT, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower and his chief advisers hammered out the beginnings, at least, of a new farm program today.

The President met wtih his Cabinet in snowy weather at Camp David. He came to the camp by automobile from his farm home near Gettysburg, Pa.

The central subject matter of the meeting was indicated by the fact that Secretary of Agriculture Benson arrived with the largest staff of consultants, including Undersecretary True D. Morse.

Eisenhower's chief speech writer, Kevin McCann, also sat in on the meeting, which obviously was devoted to drafting portions of the President's State of the Union message.

The President, arriving at 8:40 a.m., spent more than a half hour conferring with Postmaster General Summerfield and others in the presidential lodge before going into the Cabinet meeting.

He walked the 200 yards from his quarters to Laurel Lodge, where the meeting was held, in a light snowfall. He was accompanied by Summerfield and two White House aides, Sherman Adams and Wilton B. Persons.

Men Who Tried To Aid Woman Freed In Strange Indiana Case

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Describing the case as "almost fantastic," the Indiana Supreme Court yesterday freed two men whose effort to help a woman in distress had led to 10-year sentences for auto banditry.

Arnie Roark, 28, disabled World War II veteran, and Jay Holcomb, 19, both of Lawrenceburg, Ind., were ordered freed immediately. In its decision the high court went beyond its customary practice of ordering a new trial.

The two had been at liberty on $5,000 bond since Feb. 17, ten days after they were committed to 10-year terms in the Indiana Reformatory by the Deorborn Circuit Court.

This chain of events, as related in testimony before the Supreme Court, led to their arrest:

While driving past the farm of Charles and Zolla Wiesham, the two were stopped by Mrs. Wiesham, who asked them for $5 bus money to visit her sick husband at Indianapolis. They could, she said, get the money back by taking two sacks of wheat from the Wiesham barn and selling them.

While getting the wheat, Roark, Holcomb and a companion, Ed Coronett, were wounded by shotgun blasts fired by Joseph Dall, 32, a tenant, who told the court he thought they were thieves.

Roark and Holcomb, critically wounded, crawled to a neighbor's. Coronett, the court decision noted, has not been seen subsequently and it is theorized by police he may have died in the hilly brush country.

Mrs. Wiesham testified in the first trial she had sent the men into the barn.

Judge Frederick Landis, who wrote the unanimous Supreme Court decision, said no testimony had been brought out at the trial to show the men had planned to use their car in removing stolen property, a requisite to an auto burglary conviction. Even if they had been guilty of stealing, Landis' decision said, their conviction should have been for petit larceny, which might have brought them no more than a fine.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Fisher Venture Shows In Reef

Urice Drilling Co. of Fort Worth No. 1 Norris Green, Southwest Fisher County wildcat, recovered interesting signs of possible discovery production in two drillstem tests in a Pennsylvanian reef lime.

A one-hour test was run at 5,969-6,000 feet. Gas surfaced n 14 minutes and recovery was 400 feet of heavily oil cut mud, which was 40 per cent oil.

A two-hour test was taken at 5,975-6,010 feet. Recovery was 650 feet of heavily oil cut mud, which was between 20 and 40 per cent oil.

An earlier test at 5,315-51 feet, of unreported length, recovered 15 feet of slightly oil and gas cut mud and 20 feet of mud.

After operator runs electric logs the project will drill deeper. It is contracted to 6,8000 feet to test the Ellenburger.

The prospector is two and one-half miles north of Gannon and one and one-quarter miles southwest of the Pink (Canyon Sand) field. It is 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 263, block 3, H&TC survey.

The Chicago Corp. No. 1 H. L. Hamitt and others, Northwest Fisher County exploration, two miles northwest of Rotan, developed gas and recovered free oil in a one hour and 25 minutes drillstem test.

The investigation covered the zone at 3,696-3,741 feet in the Noodle Creek lime. Gas surfaced in 25 minutes. The recovery was 1,188 feet of free oil and 300 feet of very heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud.

Flowing pressure was 550 pounds and shutin bottom hole pressure, in 30 minutes was 1,275 pounds. Operator was to drill 10 feet deeper and then run electric logs.

This operation is a southeast offset to the same concern's No. 1 Hargrove, the opener and lone producer in the Hargrove (Noodle Creek) field.

Intex Oil Co. and Sun Oil Co., both of Midland, will drill their No. 1-301 J. W. Nichols and others, as a 3,500-foot operation in West Scurry County, nine miles northwest of Snyder.

It is three-quarters of a mile west of the Revilo (Glorieta) pool, and 467 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 301, block 97, H&TC survey.

Roark, Hooker & Hill of Abilene, No. 1-E Guitar Trust Estate, is to be a 3,300-foot development in West Howard County, one and three-quarters miles southeast of the Varel (San Andres) field.

It is 2,310 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 11, block A, Bauer & Cockrell survey, and five miles northwest of Big Spring.

Theft Suspect Surrenders To Officers Today

HOUSTON (AP)—A former drug store clerk accused of borrowing several thousand dollars from residents of a small Texas town on the strength of a non-existent 11 million-dollar estate surrendered here today.

"My consience began to bother me," said William Morris White, 31, after giving himself up today on a $150 theft charge.

White had won the hearts of the small town of Brenham, Tex., after promising the congregation of a nearby rural church he would build them a $300,000 church building.

The theft charge was filed by Henry Lehrmann, Brenham beer distributor, who said he advanced White several thousand dollars on the strength of his story about the inheritance.

Drenham Sheriff Tieman Dippel said White told people there he was to inherit the big estate from his mother, Mrs. Viola Simmons of Little Rock, Ark.

After the theft charge was filed against White and he disappeared, a sister living in Houston, Miss Margaret Morris White, 37, said their mother died penniless in the Austin State Hospital two years ago.

White told reporters today he had been "all over" during the past three weeks while police in several southwestern states hunted for him. He said he last worked about a year ago as a warehouseman. Asked how he had lived since then, he said:

"Let's not talk about that."

He said he had been traveling in a 1955 car which he and Lehrmann's son had purchased jointly. After saying his conscience had begun to bother him, he added:

"I thought that Henry (Lehrmann Jr.) was probably having to pay the notes on the car and I wanted to get the other business cleared up."

Sheriff Dippel took White to Brenham this morning. Before he left, White told reporters, "I always wanted to be a preacher."

Leslie King, Austin attorney who had represented White in the plan to build the church, told reporters he had advanced White $2,500 on the strength of his inheritance claim.

Little Trouble Comes From Threatening Note

ROSEMEAD, Calif. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies went through the motions today of investigating a threatening letter that was dropped into the mailbox of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Doviat.

The note read: "To your husben, if this is his wife: Dear Sir, I wanted you to give me $2 cash by Friday morning at 5 minits to 8 o'clock am. If you don't give me the money by then your wife will be gone by the time you get home. Don't call the police or go to them. You are being followed by my min. Put the money in the grass. (signed) The Dart.

"The Dart," Mrs. Doviat told officers, is an unidentified boy about 6 or 7 years old. She said she saw him drop the letter in the box.

Dulles Says Soviet Purpose Still Same

By BERNARD GAVZER

CHICAGO (AP)—Western countries, to meet Russia's new challenge to their security, must bolster their alliances and maintain "selective retaliatory power," says Secretary of State Dulles.

Stating that the Russians have had no change in purpose but "merely in tactics," Dulles said last night, "Our capacity to retaliate must be, and is, massive in order to deter all forms of aggression."

"But if we have to use that capacity," he added, "such use would be selective and adapted to the occasion."

The secretary of state repeated his massive retaliation theme in a major foreign policy address at a dinner meeting of the Illinois Manufacturers Assn. When it was first advanced some two years ago it frightened some Europeans but Dulles stressed it was "a firm foundation for peace."

He asserted last night the policy of collective security—backed by an "arsenal of retaliation"—will form "the ultimate deterrent" against the possibility of full-scale attack by the Soviet Union.

"What I have just been saying is what I said five years ago," he said.

Dulles, who helped form the collective security program under the Truman administration, added:

"That program has now become a reality."

The massive retaliation theme was first advanced by Dulles in a speech Jan. 12, 1954. He said the United States would depend primarily on "a great capacity to retaliate instantly by means and at places of our own choosing" to any Communist attack.

Fears were voiced that this might touch off World War III if ing merely on its capacity for the United States reacted in such a way to a minor Communist assault.

Dulles later clarified, qualified and expanded his statements. In substance, he said the United States had no intention of depending on massive atomic retaliation to scare off possible Communist aggressors. Instead, the United States would deal separately with each case in the most approporiate manner.

In answer to reporter's questions, Dulles asserted there is no change in the redefined policy of massive retaliation. He told newsmen it was a theme that needed repeating and that his speech was basically one of "reiteration."

Dulles, dressed in a pin-striped suit and wearing a green and white striped tie, sat between tuxedo-garbed guests at the speaker's table. Some 2,000 guests attended the dinner in the Conrad Hilton Hotel's grand ballroom.

Dulles said free Asiatic leaders will not be "easily duped" by a Russian campaign of promises of aid to underdeveloped areas in the world. He said they are aware of the danger of communism.

Because of this, he said, "we need not become panicky" at Russia playing the role of benefactor. The Soviet's "false promises," he said, "fool" no one.

In his applause-sprinkled speech, Dulles said the administration has "no doubt" that Congress will "patriotically respond" with appropriations for giving aid to less developed lands. He said appropriations would be on the "same order of magnitude as last year."

Dulles recently reported that the level of over-all foreign aid to friendly countries is $2,700,000,000 annually.

He said that "we shall seek somewhat more flexibility than heretofore."

Asked to detail this flexibility, Dulles told a newsman that it "would give us more choices in where we will spend the money, and the places where it will be spent will not be decided beforehand."

He said he had no specific countries in mind which would receive increased aid.

In his speech he said Western European nations must bolster their alliances and find "unity on a more intimate basis."

He said a greater unity eventually would increase pressure on Russia to loosen its grip on its satellite countries, and added:

"This may speed the day when the Soviet rulers will come to realize that to hold these Eastern European nations in subjection involves an obsolete reactionary practice, entailing costs, moral and material far outweighing the seeming advantages."

Repairman For Adding Machine Is Well Paid

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP) A man who spent two hours repairing an adding machine in a Whittier department store got $7,455 for his efforts.

When he was just about finished with the adding machine he asked cashier Lela E. Thompson if a cardboard box of checks and money on her desk constituted the day's receipts. She said they did.

To her amazement, the man began stuffing the funds into a briefcase. She protested, but he told her he had a gun, and made his getaway.

It developed that nobody had called for an adding machine repairman.

Negro Orders Son To Leave After Threat

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—An elderly Negro says he ordered his teenage son to leave Arkansas because the boy's life was threatened anonymously during the bitter dispute over racial integration in public schools at Hoxie, Ark.

Clarence Braxton, a 73-year-old farmer, yesterday testified in U.S. District Court here that he sent 16-year-old Joseph Braxton to live with a brother in Washington State because, "I didn't want my boy to get what that whistling boy got."

Braxton was referring to the recent murder of Louis Emmet Till, a Chicago Negro youth, who was killed in Mississippi after allegedly "wolfe-whistling" at a white woman.

Attorneys for the Hoxie School Board, which integrated schools in the small East Arkansas town last July, called Braxton to the witness stand in an attempt to prove that three pro-segregation organizations created a "reign of terror" in Hoxie during a campaign to force revocation of the board's integration order.

The board is seeking a permanent injunction to prohibit White America, Inc., the White Citizens Councils of Arkansas, and the Hoxie Committee for Integration from interfering with operating of the racially mixed classes. The proposed injunction would prevent the segregationists from boycotting or picketing the schools, trespassing on school property, or threatening school officials.

Two school board members and Supt. K. E. Vance testified yesterday that they had been threatened with bodily harm if segregation was not returned to the schools. Mrs. Marion Boarman told the court that attendance dropped 50 to 60 per cent after the segregationists started their drive against the integrated classes.

U.S. Judge Thomas C. Trimble already has issued a preliminary injunction on the basis of a school board suit. Federal Judge Albert Reeves of Kansas City is conducting the current hearing to determine if Trimble's order shall be made permanent.

Although some areas have rice surpluses, some of the rice-eating peoples may go hungry because price and political struggles prevent their getting it, says the National Geographic Society.

INTERNATIONAL DESIGNER PATTERN

Norman Hartnell, dressmaker to England's Queen, naturally believes in clothes that are fit for a queen without succumbing to the alphabet for silhouette identification. Here, in beautifully understated simplicity, is his princess model, its full length gores opened at the neckline to give an effective notched detail. The back of the neckline, which is slightly lower, is cut straight across for a new and interesting interpretation of a square. A style that takes to any texture, it is most successful in stiff silks and sheer wool for big city wear. In linen, pique or novelty cotton, it's ideal for resort and cruise wear. This pattern is cut to Designer Measurements, not Standard Pattern Measurements. Size 12 requires 4¾ yards of 39-inch material for dress with ¾ length sleeves. Interfacing requires ⅜ yard of 39-inch material. To order Pattern No. S-285, address International Designer Patterns, P.O. Box 993, G.P.O., Dept. SX-13, New York 1, N.Y. State size. Send $1.00. Airmail handling 25c extra. International Designer Pattern Booklet "A" is available for 25c. If paying by check or money order, make it payable to International Designer Patterns and add 4c for handling.

KING OF WHAT?

GOD RAISED CHRIST FROM THE DEAD TO SIT ON DAVID'S THRONE (Acts 2:30,31). Christ is reigning now (1Cor. 15:25); hence He is reigning on David's throne. But Solomon sat on David's throne (1Kings 2:12); also Solomon sat on God's throne (1Chron.29:23). Hence, David's throne in reality was God's throne and Solomon sat upon it.

CHRIST IS REIGNING AT GOD'S RIGHT HAND ON DAVID'S THRONE (Acts 2:30,31). But Christ is "by the right hand of God exalted, . . . Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye crucified, both Lord (ruler) and Christ (anointed)." (Acts 2:33-36). From this preaching by the Holy Spirit through the apostle Peter, the Jews were corrected in their misconceptions, and they understood that Christ should sit on David's throne in heaven to rule over the universe; and they repented (Acts 2:38,41).

WHEN CHRIST RETURNS, HE WILL END HIS REIGN — NOT BEGIN IT! (1Cor.15:25-28). Those who are looking forward to the return of Christ to establish His kingdom surely must be in error on this point. He will return, certainly! but He will end His reign when He does.

CHRIST IS KING OF KINGS AND LORD OF LORDS (1Tim. 6:15; 1Pet.3:22). If He is not reigning over His kingdom now, of what is He King? Those who are "born of water and of the Spirit" are in the kingdom (John 3:5); they have been "translated . . into the kingdom of His dear Son." (Col.1:13). Christ is the King; they are obedient subjects and "reign" with Christ on the earth (Rev.5:10). Christ is King over His kingdom—the church (Matt. 16:18,19).

"THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST SALUTE YOU." (Rom.16:16). Nineteen hundred years ago, the church you read about in the New Testament was established. Today, she has the same name, worship, organization, dictrine, and life.

Tune in KSNY on Tuesdays and Thursday at 7:15 p. m. and hear C. Dale Brooks.

Under An Alias

On the basis of recent talk on both sides of the political fence it seems likely that if Congress does anything much about formulating a new agricultural program at its session opening in January, or if either party commits itself to a vote-catching farm policy for campaign purposes — and both parties had jolly well better — the product will bear more than a faint resemblance to the Brannan Plan of recent fragrant memory.

Charles Francis Brannan of Denver, who served as Mr. Truman's secretary of agriculture from 1948 to 1953, brought forth the Brannan Plan for crop and price controls in 1949. Even the Democrats refused to sanction a dry run of this plan as it would apply to wool, hogs and potatoes, and Republican orators made the very name of "Brannan Plan" sound like something the cats had dragged in.

Yet in 1954 the Republican administration adopted a wool program that closely resembled Brannan's original proposal, all the while stoutly protesting it bore no resemblance to the same.

Brannan's program for perishable or non-storable farm products, making up 75 percent of the whole, would have allowed them to sell in whatever quantities and at whatever prices they would bring under the law of supply and demand.

To close the gap between what the products would bring on the open market and what the producers should have received, the government would pay the difference, under new parity formulas. But only farmers who cooperated in soil conservation practices would be eligible for these bonus payments, and the total amount paid to larger producers would be limited. This last provision was obviously aimed at helping the small farmer keep his head above water.

You hear a great deal of discussions from both parties these days about a new farm program based on inducements to farmers to take land out of production, in interest of soil conservation.

But of course it won't bear the name of Charles F. Brannan. It will merely be his plan under an alias.

Mr. Murray's Idea

Demonstration of the atomic bomb at Hiroshima and at Nagasake is credited by most competent observers with ending the war with Japan several months ahead of time, and thus saving perhaps many times the number of lives lost by action of the bombs.

And small wonder. Nothing since the dawn of intelligence in the human animal has been experienced on earth remotely resembling the power of the A-bomb.

Thomas E. Murray, holdover Truman appointee on the Atomic Energy Commission, seems to think a demonstration of the power of the hydrogen bomb could convince all mankind that future war is unthinkable. (The H-bomb compares to the most powerful A-bomb as Niagara compares to a leaky faucet; the modern A-bomb compares to the Hiroshima bomb as Texas compares to Rhode Island.)

So Mr. Murray proposes that the U.S. invite all the world's leaders, including those of Russia and Red China, to attend a demonstration of the hydrogen bomb at Eniewetok Island, apparently on the theory that this would have the same effect on would-be aggressors that Hiroshima had on the Japanese warlords, and there would be no further nonsense about war.

Unless they are bereft of their senses, Russia's leaders already know just how powerful an H-bomb is, since they've set off hydrogen devices themselves, and for all we know may have a stockpile of them equal to or more powerful than our own. So a Murray-style Eniewetok wouldn't be news to the Russkies and their Chinese pals. Our scarcely-veiled threat of "massive retaliation" hasn't so much as registered on the Commies.

Mr. Murray's colleagues on AEC, all Eisenhower-appointed, quickly blasted his proposal as "contrary to the judgment of the Atomic Energy Commission." They seem to think it would be interpreted as a sort of muscle - popping, you'd - better - be - good show of strength, a kind of ultimatum.

And so it would. To paraphrase the toothpaste ads, you can't just go around all day popping your muscles at people—especially when their muscles are equal to yours, and quite possibly a whole lot equaller.

Gold Cadillac Is Symbol Of Successful Woman Real Estate Operator In Dallas

By TIM PARKER
The Associated Press

"I don't know why you should say anything about it," says Ebby Halliday of her gold Cadillac.

"After all, I have a black Cadillac, too. What you ought to tell about is how we're working together to lift standards of our profession.

"And don't you dare say anything that makes it look like any housewife can drop her dish cloth and jump into the real estate business and make a pile of money. It's just not true."

The gold Cadillac, though; she does drive it most of the time?

"Well, yes. It's good advertising."

It's a sort of trademark. There's only one gold Cadillac, in Dallas at least. "There goes Ebby Halliday," people say when they spot it.

The long ,gold-painted Cadillac with the green plastic top also is a symbol of feminine success in a very competitive business field.

Ebby Halliday got her real estate start when the Clint Murchisons put her in charge of sales for a Murchison housing development in 1945. Now she has three office outlets, 16 employes, and sponsors a boys' baseball team called the Ebby Halliday Warriors.

Back recently from a real estate seminar at Columbia, Mrs. Halliday is convinced the days of easy entry into real estate are over. "In five years most of our professional real estate people will have college degrees in real estate law and urban land development," she believes.

Eleven years ago there wasn't a woman on the Dallas Real Estate Board. Today 59 of the 437 members are women. They include some of the city's biggest operators.

Lois Hair, a slender, green-eyed mother of two, lost her husband in the war. She soon was looking for a home for herself and daughters, Jan and Lynn, now 13 and 16.

That was in 1944. It didn't seem to her that the real estate people she talked to were trying very hard to help her. She decided that someone who made a real effort to help home-hunters could make a go of the real estate business.

She started with an office in her home. Now she has an "atmosphere" office near the SMU campus and employes 5 saleswomen. The office is Early American with a pot-bellied stove, home-style desks, and a cookie jar for the visiting youngsters.

Mrs. Hair, who wears her reddish brown hair in a saucy pony tail, says the real estate business meets one important requirement: She can go horseback riding weekends with her two daughters and take long vacations each summer with them.

Mrs. Mildred Broyles, 42, slipped into the real estate business while helping her husband, attorney Carl Broyles, settle estates. She has a small office and does a steady, growing business.

"I don't want it to get out of hand," says Mrs. Broyles. "I have a son, Jim Carl. He's 9 and Mr. Broyles and I won't give up our family life."

Why do women do well in real estate?

"Because a home is a little closer to a woman's heart than to a man's," says Mrs. Broyles. "A woman knows right away whether she feels at home in a house, and a saleswoman can sense it. Emotions play a big part in home-buying, and I guess women are more emotional."

Living Room Yields Lot Of Information About Any Man

By STAN SWINTON
(For Hal Boyle)

BRIONI, Yugoslavia (AP)— You can find out a lot about a man if you poke around his living room for a while—even a dictator.

For instance, Marshal Josef Broz Tito, President of independently Communist Yugoslavia, likes boats—be they models or real speedboats. His taste in antique statuary is excellent and his taste in painting embarrassing.

You reach the Tito mansion by walking up a winding drive, past fountains lighted with changing colors at night and wooded groves where white-tailed deer hide.

Just short of the house, you see the sleek convertible Tito loves to drive. Too, you pass carriages drawn by magnificent grey horses. And then you are looked over by security guards and into the house you go.

The living room is the reverse of cozy. The big room is floored in black marble. At the far end is a piano, prettily painted gold and ivory. Five model ships are spotted around the room: an old galleon, a big model of the coastal vessel Vladimir Nazor in drydock, and three sailboats.

Inside a glass case are dozens of beautiful Roman statuettes, all magnificently preserved and executed with a grace which hints they likely were the work of Greek slaves. Tito proudly reported all were excavated on Brioni.

Oddly out of place in the room is a Spanish cavalier in delicately painted porcelain—but not nearly as out of place as a large statue of a nude girl with her hand covering her face. This stands outside on the veranda.

The veranda stretches the length of the house. From it you can look down through the oak trees to a snug artificial harbor in which Tito keeps his speedboats, which he pilots himself. A winding cement staircase littered with acorns lead up to the house.

Often Tito climbs into a speedboat with his handsome brunette wife and roars out to Vanga, a smaller island. There he likes to exercise a hobby shared with President Eisenhower—cooking. Tito is an ardent amateur chef.

The home of the boss of Yugoslavia is that of a man of action, except for the oddly out of place piano and Spanish cavalier. But most out of place of all is the one big oil painting which stands in his living room.

The frame is battered, the painting torn in several places. It shows plump women holding down a cow, while cherubs wing about, and as a work of art it is very inferior.

The dynamic Tito spent most of his life as a revolutionary, often in hiding. I felt that he must have picked up a conviction somewhere along the line that a living room should have a big painting and he didn't care very much what his looked like.

There wasn't a book or magazine in the room.

Yes, it's mighty interesting to spend an hour in a man's living room. You can learn a lot about him, including a man who rules a nation.

Texas Farmers Due To Buy $179-Million Worth Of Electrical Items In 5 Years

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas farmers and ranchers are expected to buy 179 million dollars worth of electrical equipment in 5 years.

This was estimated by the Rural Electrification Administration (REA). The report said that during the next 20 years electrical equipment and appliances sold in rural areas of the country may have a total estimated value of 24 billion dollars, or an average of $5,300 per farm or ranch.

During the next 5 years, nationwide farm electrical purchases are expected to hit $5,300,000,000, an average of $1,100 for each farm and ranch.

Texas' prospective purchases rank it 13th among the states. California is first. Oklahoma's estimate is 73 million dollars; Louisiana's 57, Arkansas' 86, and New Mexico's 9.

The study said purchases of all kinds of electrical equipment in Texas between 1960 and 1965 should total 204 million dollars.

Some Texans seem to have the map of their state on them.

These's the case of four men who stopped here for a quick once-over of the nation's capital en route to a meeting of the National Assn. of Vocational Teachers in Atlantic City Dec. 1-8.

They stopped at a branch post office in the center of the Capitol building.

The postal clerk, Elmo Taylor, of North Carolina, saw their broad-brimmed white hats as they gave him a howdy and said:

"You men must be from Texas."

They looked pleased. They were Bob Post, Colorado City High School teacher; Joe Winkle, Pittsburg High School teacher, Sterling Beckham, Sulphur Springs High School teacher; and Lewis Taylor of Austin. All are officers of the Texas Vocational Agricultural Teachers Assn.

Names of delegates to the recent White House Conference on Education underwent some scrambling to avoid provincialism in the round-table discussions.

The mechanical brain used in scrambling the names of the 1,800 participants came up with some combinations that caused lively discussions.

The list for Table 8 showed what an assortment could turn up: On the list, but not here for the meeting, was Gov. Shivers. Others included two school superintendents from California and Missouri, a brewer from Utah, a North Carolina insurance executive, a Minnesota judge, and the wife of the board chairman of a Washington newspaper.

Among those at Table 1 were Paul Keaton of Snyder, who is in the truck and tractor business, and Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller.

Edward H. Harte, San Angelo newspaper official, was a participant. He said such discussions are broadening, but that little of a specific nature can come of them regarding handling of local school problems. The Texas delegates opposed federal aid to education, fearing it would lead to dictation of school policies by Washington.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Information Officer Enjoys Iceland Job

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Miss Naomi Huber drove a new car she bought last June until August before she knew where to turn on its parking and headlights. She also plays golf at night and joins thousands of other workers for an early morning swim in an outdoor pool in winter before going to her office.

This may seem odd to you, but it's part of everday life in Iceland where Miss Huber has been serving as cultural officer of the U. S. Information Services since May of 1954.

In the "Land of Ice and Fire" there is no darkness during the three summer months from June through August. Likewise there are only four hours of daylight during November, December and January.

Houses in Reykjavik, the capital, where Miss Huber is stationed, are heated from hot springs water piped from 20 miles away. Hot water for use in the homes and for the numerous swimming pools which are used by everybody before going to work, from Iceland's President Asgeir Asgeirsson on down, also comes from springs and geysers.

"Its rather exhilarating to dash from the dressing room through the cool winter and plunge into a pool of steaming water," Miss Huber told me on a recent trip to Washington. "Iceland has a classless society. VIPs and workers alike join in the various sports."

Miss Huber, who expects to return to her Icelandic post in January, deplores the fact that so many folks think of the Midnight Sun country as a place "only of icebergs, igloos and polar bears." The Gulf Stream touches its southern tip and she says it's not as cold in Reykjavik as in New York or in Bucks County, Pa., where she maintains her legal residence.

Miss Huber, who hails from Lumberville, Pa., but was educated in Switzerland, her parents' birthplace, is responsible for all American cultural relations in Iceland and works with the University of Iceland and through art, music, theater, library and education channels. She is also in charge of the exchange leader, teacher and student program and the book

Hollywood Today

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Have you ever done something in your life for which you can give no good reason?"

This was Imogene Coca's comment on the fact that she gave up a TV contract which would have guaranteed her $100,000 annually for the next nine years.

It happened a couple of months ago, and the wispy Imogene is still not quite sure why she did it.

"Everything in my life has been calculated," she observed. "This is the one thing I did that was not reasoned out.

"But I think it must have been right or somebody would have protested. I told my lawyer and my agents my decision and all they said was, 'Shouldn't you think it over?' I told them I had thought it over and I wanted out.

"Then they told NBC and the network people said, 'Shouldn't she think it over?' They said I had thought it over, and that was all there was. The contract was dissolved."

She has had no regrets. Her earning power will no doubt exceed what NBC would have paid her. She has returned to night clubs, having played the Sahara in Las Vegas and now appearing at the Beverly Hilton. In February she'll do a satire on TV in a spectacular for her old Show of Shows boss Max Liebman. She's being sought for her dramatic debut on TV by the Steel Hour and Producer's showcase.

So don't fret about our Imo; she's doing fine.

That wasn't true of her last adventure in TV. When she, Liebman and Sid Caesar split up their Saturday night show, she went to a half-hour format. It died.

"The show didn't work out," Imogene admitted. "There are good reasons why it didn't. In many respects, a 90-minute show is easier than a half-hour one. On Show of Shows, I would be on five times, doing a different thing each time. If people didn't like a domestic comedy, perhaps they'd like the next thing I did. There was more to choose from.

"But it's almost impossible to fit a revue-type performer into a 22-minute show. You don't have time to work up to anything or to give a variety of performances."

Variety is the keynote of her future career. Instead of sticking to TV, she'll dabble in all fields.

Doctors Can't Answer All Questions On Ike's Health

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is 65. The Republicans hope he will run again. He's their chief hope of winning in 1956. But can he run?

The word of his doctors on whether he can run and what they tell him—perhaps in February—depends on the condition of his heart.

But one of the most vital things they cannot tell him about at all is the condition of his arteries.

There was nothing wrong with Eisenhower's heart the moment before he suffered the attack. The trouble was in one of the blood vessels to the heart.

Its walls had thickened. Finally blood through that vessel was shut off. This lack of blood damaged the heart. Eventually a scar formed.

Then this problem arose as it does in such cases: Just how badly was the heart damaged? That would take time to show. How could the damage show? The heart could get enlarged. Varying waves on the electrocardiogram would indicate something wrong too.

The doctors have been making constant checks. So far they've reported Eisenhower has been doing allright. If they found the heart was too damaged to undergo the rigors of the presidency, they'd tell him so. They haven't yet. They are still checking.

Immediately this question arises: the question about his arteries, not his heart.

One blood vessel was affected to the point of closing. If one vessel was in bad shape, one might ask, isn't it reasonable to assume the other vessels to the heart are just about as bad and that it's only a matter of a short time before another closes and he has another attack?

It isn't reasonable to assume that, and this is said on the advice of one of the best heart doctors in the country. Why? Because only one section of one artery may have been so thickened it would close.

This was the specialist's explanation: Doctors know that one vessel was badly diseased. The closing of it was proof. But they don't know whether the other vessels are in that shape. Eisenhower might never have another heart attack.

But the older a man gets, generally, the more the deterioration in his blood vessels. Generally, that is. And generally, a man younger than Eisenhower would have less reason to expect a heart attack than Eisenhower.

Business Itself Expected To Spend More Next Year

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—What will give the boom increased zip in 1956? Will it be still greater spending by the average family, by government, by business?

Those willing to stick out their necks now and predict still better times in the next six months believe the added something which will spur the economy into a still faster pace than in booming 1955 will be spending by business itself.

Consumers turned the trick this year—spending their money or credit at a rate that confounded the experts.

Government spending had been the extra filip that sent the economy to its previously record heights in the 1950-53 period.

But business spending plans for early 1956—as announced in detail today by the Department of Commerce — show the most gains planned by any of the nation's three top spenders: the consumer, the government, the businessman.

Secretary Weeks got a one-day scoop on his department by tipping off the percentage figure to the National Assn. of Manufacturers—12 per cent more spending for new plants and equipment in the first three months of next year than in the booming 1955 period.

Consumer spending will still be by far the greatest prop to the economy. At present they are spending at an annual rate of better than 258 billion dollars. This is 8 per cent higher than in 1954.

All signs so far are that they will continue to spend at that rate, or a little higher as personal income totals rise. Three out of four consumers contacted in recent polls have said they thought times would be as good next year as this.

Early last summer, however, however, consumers were saying they expected to spend more than they had been—and this fall they have done just what they said they would. Recently their tune has changed. Now most of them say they expect to spend as much next year as this, but they don't plan to spend more.

Backyard Operation

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—A Miami, Okla., physician has a first class exhibit for his game room—and he captured it right in his own backyard.

Dr. J. P. Van Horn found a huge pelican in his yard. The bird apparently had been knocked to the ground by a bolt of lightning.

Academic Route

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Driving along Sunset Blvd. in the fog-smog enroute to an appointment, Dr. Wallace Sterling, president of Stanford University, got his directions mixed.

Mrs. Sterling quickly straightened him out in simple academic terms: "Why, we're just going toward USC and away from UCLA."

Unfair Question

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—When Professor Norton Barr Crowell commented that he served in the last war, a student cracked, "Oh, are you that young?"

Crowell returned breezily, "Oh, I'm pretty young. And I'm younger now than I will be next year when you take this course again."

GUIDEPOST LITERARY

WHOOP-UP COUNTRY: The Canadian-American West, 1865-1885. By Paul F. Sharp. University of Minnesota.

The colorful country about which Sharp provides this colorful record spreads out of Montana into Alberta and Saskatchewan, north and east of the old Whoop-Up Trail. This route, now roughly U. S. Highway 91, stretched from Fort Benton on the Great Muddy to Fort MacLeod on the Oldman.

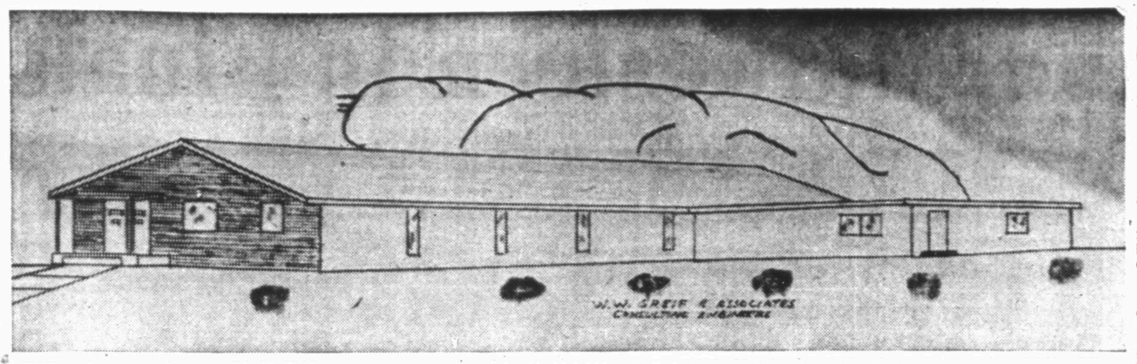

Meriwether Lewis was the first American to report on this home of the Blackfoot Indian. It had its "whisky forts" where, often through a hole in the stockade, guns, blankets, whisky and rum were swapped by avaricious whites for the peltry of thirsty Redskins. For Whoop-Up, one of these trading centers across the border, got its name perhaps from what we call whooping-it-up, or from other meanings of the phrase—round-up, or flight.

Along the old trail rumbled bull-trains, muletrains, express wagons, Concord coaches; there would be teams of 12 to 14 yoke of oxen, with three heavy wagons per team, and 7,000 pounds or more of freight per wagon.

In an excellent chapter on the so-called Cypress Hills massacre, Sharp reduces the affair to another white man-Redman fight, and tells of the formation of the Northwest Mounted Police. Canada was less willing than the United States to leave the frontier country to ruffians and scofflaws, and its new force, after a blumbling start, became a model of its kind. While Sitting Bull's Sioux could wipe out the American Custer, Canada's Mounties officer could and did give the same Sitting Bull a kick in the pants.

On the American side a single sheriff ruled an area half the size of New England, though eventually with the help of the Army and whooping-it-up was beaten out of the Whoop-Up country.

THE SPANISH CHURCH OF CHRIST, one of the youngest churches in Snyder, will soon be in a new building, being built by the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ. Above is a sketch of the building by Frank Darby of Greif & Associates. The building is located at Fourth Street and Avenue S.

Spanish Church Of Christ Is In Building Program Here

(Nineteenth of a series on Snyder and area churches.)

Launching of construction of a new church building has been a big step in progress of the Spanish Church of Christ, a congregation not quite three years old.

The building, being built for the congregation by members of the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ, is under construction by T. E. Shelburne & Son at the corner of Fifth Street and Clairemont Road. Contract cost is $21,454. The structure will have an auditorium, which will seat 150, four classrooms, and two dressing rooms. Three lots were purchased at the location for the church. Frank Darby of Grief & Associates here prepared plans for the building.

The Spanish Church of Christ was started Feb. 18, 1953, when J. W. Treat of Abilene Christian College spoke to the first group in a service at the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ. At that time the Spanish group had five members. That minister baptized three persons. He continued work here until September, 1953, when Kenneth L. Robison of Abilene was employed. He baptized one person between then and October, 1954. During his time here, the congregation began meeting at the corner of Avenue S and Twelfth Street, where services will be held until the new building is complete.

Joe Arrieta has been minister of the group for more than a year. He came here from Monahans as the first fulltime minister for that congregation. So far he has baptized 17.

The Spanish Church of Christ is supported by the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Crhist and Fluvanna Church of Christ. It is still under the eldership of the Twenty-fifth Street congregation and will remain so until it becomes financially independent and has sufficient membership.

At the present time, two committees of the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ are working with the Spanish congregation. They are the building committee, made up of G. M. Brown and Donald Ray Scott, and the finance committee, composed of E. J. Richardson, Sr., and H. F. (Abe) Rogers.

Services at the church include Sunday Bible classes at 9:30 a.m., worship services at 10:55 a.m., Sunday evening worship at 8 p.m., and Wednesday services at 8 p.m.

Among those who have aided the church by teaching Bible classes are Mrs. G. M. Brown, Mrs. Ted Norton, and Mrs. Annie Martin.

Rev. Cole Chosen As Mission Consultant

The Rev. G. M. Cole, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, has been named an "approved worker" and consultant for the Department of Direct Missions, Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Rev. Cole will assist churches over the state, at their invitation, in raising special funds for church budgets and building and expansion of mission projects. He will continue his pastorate here while working at the new duties.

"Straight is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it." Matthew 7:14. A playground does not need a straight path, but the highway to important goals must be straight. Much of the work of the road makers of our day is consumed in straightening out winding roads of yesterday. Trucks loaded with food for hungry people, ambulances carrying the sick and automobiles filled with travelers pointed toward home ...all are demanding the straight road.

Great spiritual leaders and teachers have insisted through the centuries that every soul must demand the same sort of "straight and narrow way" along which to move with directness and devotion toward the "good goal." We find goals that are destructive if we tarry too long with the jostling and self-indulgent throng along wide roads which are only midways for State Fairs and playgrounds for immature spirits. The kingdom of God is not reached in such fashion. If you are bent toward the Heavenly goal...choose the "straight and narrow way" that leads to life everlasting.

The "straight and narrow" road begins exactly where you are standing today. If you will but lift your eyes to the hills of God, the path will be seen. The footprints of noble pilgrims, who have gone before, will be shining bright as day. The "straight and narrow way" is the only way.

Midland, Lubbock, Wayland, Midwestern In Finals

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

"THE GAME OF the century" will be unreeled tonight in the collegiate finals of the 3rd annual Canyon Reef Invitational Tournament at Tiger Gym where the Midwestern Indians of Wichita Falls and Wayland Pioneers of Plainview will clash for the title.

Local fans may be seeing the Region 8 NAIA finals in advance tonight.

In all likelihood Midwestern and Wayland will again clash in the Regional NAIA finals as they did last season.

Wayland copped last year's championship game by 79-71, to advance into the national tournament.

Word out of the Midwestern camp is that the Wichita Falls crew is vowed to even the score with the Pioneers tonight.

But Wayland has just as fine a team or perhaps better than last year's outfit.

So, tonight's game should be the best tilt ever unreeled at Tiger Gym.

Tigers Impressive

We were indeed pleased with the showing made by the Tigers in last night's game with Lubbock which opened the season for the Bengals.

For a team that had been working out only two days, the Tigers far suprassed what most local fans had expected of them last night.

They gave Lubbock a fine scrap and the Westerner's didn't ice the decision until late in the fourth period. It was the sixth game for Lubbock so the Westerners were far ahead of the Bengals in experience.

Then, too, the Tigers were playing without two of their five returning lettermen, Jack Spikes and Don McNew. Spikes and McNew are still nursing football injuries and probably won't see much cage action before Christmas.

When these two return, the Tigers will be in good shape to make a serious bid for the District 1-A/A cage crown.

The fact that the Tigers have three conference games before the Christmas Holidays may ruin their chances at the title.

Spikes and McNew aren't expected to be back in the fold by that time and the three games are against tough opposition, Sweetwater (Dec. 16th here); Plainview (Dec. 17th there); and Levelland (Dec. 20th there).

If the Tigers could manage to win two of these they may make a serious bid to capture the crown or maybe even win one of the three.

District 1-AAA is possibly the only district in the state that has conference games scheduled before Christmas. Reason for this in 1-AAA, of course, is that our district is loaded down with nine schools and to get all games in by the deadline, some had to be scheduled before the holidays.

It doesn't matter too much except that it poses an extreme handicap to the football champion.

Pick Garland, Port Neches

The top quote of the Canyon Reef tournament thus far was made by Trinity coach Houston Wheeler.

Wheeler, whose Trinity team was having a rugged time against highly regarded Wayland, was overheard to say in the dieing moments of yesterday's game:

"My gosh, they're trying for a 100 and we're trying for 50."

If it was of any consolation to Wheeler, Trinity reached its goal while Wayland fell one shy, the final score being Wayland 99, Trinity 51.

Two visiting sports scribes were on hand for the opening games of the tournament yesterday and last night.

They were Bob Milburn of the San Angelo Standard-Times and Bob Herdein of the Wichita Falls News.

Nice to have you around, fellows.

Crystal balling:

Garland 19, Texarkana 6. (The Owls keep rolling with Mr. Boyd at the helm.)

Port Neches 13, Alice 7. (Gordon Lebouef and Co. should move into the finals although we would personally like to see Alice, coached by a native Snyderite, Leo Rigsby, come through.)

Abilene 35, Sunset 7. (The Eagles will breeze into the finals for the second straight year.)

Tyler 20, Baytown 14. (Baytown will be minus its starting quarterback which gives the edge to Tyler.)

Stamford 26, Breckenridge 19. (Stamford got by a toughie last week in beating Phillips and this should give them enough inspiration to take the Buckies into camp.)

Stinnett 19, Ranger 14. (The Panhandle team is state championship bound.)

Garland Favored Over Texarkana

By The Associated Press

Five games Friday night will determine all except three semi-finalists in classes AA and A of Texas schoolboy football.

The big showdown comes Saturday when finalists in the upper echelons—classes AAAA and AAA—are decided and the semi-final brackets are completed in the lower divisions.

Friday night Olney meets New London at Denton and Hillsboro goes to Lockhart in Class AA. In Class A, Chillicothe and Leverett's Chapel clash at Kilgore, Crosby and Luling at Brenham and Hebbronville and Deer Park at Deer Park.

Saturday Stamford plays at Breckenridge and Saturday night Nederland at Weslaco in remaining quarter-final games of Class AA. Stinnett and Ranger get together at Childress Saturday afternoon in Class A.

Breckenridge, New London, Hillsboro and Nederland are favored to reach the AA semi-finals with Ranger, Chillicothe, Luling and Deer Park expected to get there in Class A.

Mighty Abilene, seeking a second straight Class AAAA crown, entertains Dallas Sunset while Tyler and Baytown battle at Baytown Saturday to decide finalists of Class AAAA. Abilene is an overwhelming favorite while Tyler is a mild choice to take out Baytown.

In Class AAA Saturday, Garland entertains Texarkana and Alice gets Port Neches at Alice. Garland and Port Neches are choices to push into the finals of this class.

The headline game of the entire state is that at Baytown where undefeated, untied teams clash. It's Tyler's high-powered offense against the league's toughest defense.

Nederland and Weslaco also tangle in a fight between unbeaten teams.

Mildand and Lubbock will clash tonight at 7:30 for the High School Division title while Midwestern and Wayland will renew and old feud at 9 for the College Division championship.

In opening round games yesterday afternoon and last night, Midland nudged Andrews, 56-45; Lubbock downed the host Snyder Tigers, 62-52; Wayland breezed to a 99-51 victory over Trinity; and Midwestern pulled away in the third quarter to clip McMurry's Indians 89-61.

Meeting for the consolation titles today will be Snyder and Andrews at 2:30 p.m. and McMurry and Wayland at 4 p.m.

The Tigers put up a better tussle than expected in their game with Lubbock's Westerners. It was the season opener for the Bengals due to the extended football season but Coach J. P. Ward's charges put up a heated scrap throughout most of the game.

The Bengals led all through the first quarter but Lubbock caught fire in the second period while the Tigers grew cold and took a commanding 32-17 halftime lead. The Tigers had led 10-9 at the first quarter mark.

It was that second quarter that spelled defeat for the Tigers. The Bengals outscored the Westerners in each of the other three quarters but the 15-point difference in the second quarter was too much for the Black and Gold to overcome.

Alan Snead and Jerry Taylor led the Tiger scorers with 14 points apiece. Snead hit most of his shots from the corners.

Taylor, easily the game's finest floor man, dropped in most of his points on drive-in shots. Taylor fouled out of the game with 3:40 minutes to go.

Milton Ham followed Taylor and Snead in scoring for the Tigers with 13 points.

Max Hood with 17 and Bobby Sumner with 16 led the Westerner scoring.

It was Don Eddleman, through, who sparked the Lubbock rally that overtook the Tigers in the second quarter. Eddleman dunked in two free tosses to make it 11-10 in the early seconds of the second quarter and after Snyder had tied the count at 12-12 and 14-14 it was Eddleman who unknotted the score each time.

Eddleman led the second quarter Westerner spurt with nine points. He wound up with 14.

Following is a brief run-down of the other three games:

Midland-Andrews

Midland's Bulldogs rallied in the third quarter to catch the Andrews Mustangs and then breezed home with a 56-45 decision. Andrews led throughout the first half, 17-10 at the first quarter mark and 31-24 at halftime.

The Mustangs pushed their advantage to 37-29 before the Bulldogs caught fire. Midland scored 13 points while the Mustangs went scoreless that sent the Bulldogs into a 40-37 lead and the Midlanders led rest of the way.

Donnie Benham of Andrews was the game's top scorer with 23 points, 17 of which came in the first half. Hershell Allen led Midland with 17 points.

Wayland-Trinity

Wayland's Pioneers built up a commanding 46-26 lead over the Trinity Tigers and then coasted in with a 99-51 decision.

Max Newman led the Pioneers with 20 points. The 6-8 Pioneer center only played in the first half.

Roger Tatsch led Trinity's scorers with 14 points.

McMurry-Midwestern

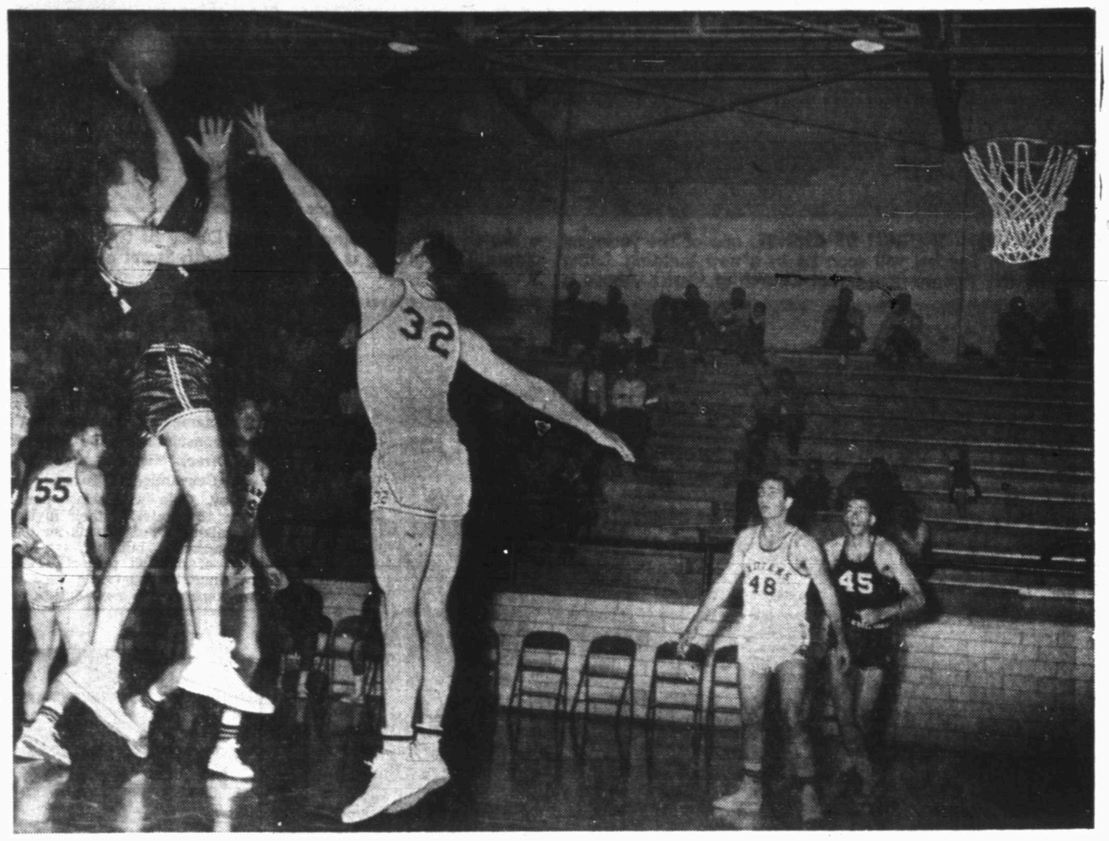

Midwestern was never behind in its game with McMurry but the McMurrians were able to make a game of it until the middle of the third period when the Tribesmen from Wichita Falls pulled away.

McMurry tied the score at 10-10 midway through the first quarter. A minute later Midwestern broke the tie and then led rest of the way. After falling behind by seven points, McMurry narrowed the gap to 23-26 with five minutes left in the first half.

Midwestern then pulled away to a 41-32 halftime lead. The winners hiked their lead to 49-34 before McMurry made its final bid by narrowing the gap to 51-41. Midwestern staved off this rally and pulled away again and coasted in.

Ray Schumann with 23, Cotton Fitzsimmons with 19 and O'Neal Weaver with 17 led Midwestern's attack. Don Taylor led McMurry with 23 points followed by Bud Shelton with 19.

Tech Chances Good On SWC Admission

UP AND IN—Ray Schumann, Midwestern forward, drives past Boyd Sylestine of McMurry and lays one in as the Midwesterners romped to an 89-61 victory in the first round of the Canyon Reef Tournament last night at Tiger Gym. Schumann led the Midwestern attack with 23 points. Midwestern meets Wayland for the College Division title tonight. (Lee Watson photograph)

DALLAS (AP)—The Southwest Conference faculty committee opens a session today that may bring in the league's first new member in 33 years.

Texas Tech is up for a vote once more and its backers are exceedingly optimistic that the big West Texas college will crack the tight barr... Athletic Director DeWitt Weaver of Tech said he thought the school had its best chance yet of making it.

Five votes are needed and Tech expects to start out with three known backers—Texas Christian, Baylor and Texas. Arkansas and Texas A& M are considered the pivotal points, with Rice and Southern Methodist not likely to come over.

The faculty committee meets this afternoon, tonight and tomorrow morning and its deliberations will be revealed at a press conference about noon tomorrow.

Athletic directors and head footnoon and recommended two things: A fifth official in football and moving up the period for signing letters of intent (athletic contracts) to April 1. The date has been April 15.

Several other conferences already have the fifth official. The Southwest Conference has been talking about it for a year but this is the first time for the coaches to recommend it.

Moving up the letter of intent period will mean an earlier start on getting hot college prospects. High school athletes participating in spring sports still cannot be signed, however.

The faculty committee opens its meeting with the question of expansion most prominent on the agenda. There already are two motions on the table: 1. To invite Texas Tech; 2. To invite Tech and Oklahoma. Three votes are necessary to get them off the table but apparently Tech has enough votes for that already.

In an editorial entitled "The Case For Texas Tech," the Dallas News today says it "hopes the Southwest Conference will admit Texas Technological College to its membership..."

The News says it "does not presume to direct conference action, but Tech's case has outstanding merits." The News adds: "Texas Tech is serving efficiently the fastest-growing section of Texas. Its logical area is larger than tha tof many states. It has come to maturity in the Texas family of institutions of higher learning and is entitled to participate in the activities of that family, including athletics."

Spartan Mentor Coach Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Hugh Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State's Rose Bowl-bound Spartans won football Coach of the Year honors by the biggest margin in the 21-year history of the competition conducted by the New York World-Telegram & Sun and Scripps-Howard newspapers.

Daugherty received 199 first-place ballots of the 492 cast by members of the American Football Coaches Assn. according to the compilation announced today.

The 40-year-old Michigan State coach succeeds Henry "Red" Sanders as the country's No. 1 coach. Sanders coaches UCLA, the Spartans' opponent in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2.

Daugherty's nearest rival was Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, the 1949 winner, who received 54 first place votes. Woody Hayes of Ohio State was next with 42. Then followed Bear Bryant, Texas Aggies, 29; Abe Martin, TCU, 26.

Patterson-Slade Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Youthful Floyd Patterson of Brooklyn step out of the light-heavyweight ranl again tonight, meeting veter Jimmy Slade of New York in a fight that could propel either boxe on to a shot at Rocky Marciano heavyweight championship.

Election Set

VICTORIA (AP)—Officers of the Longhorn Junior College Conference will be elected at its winter meeting at Houston Saturday. J. D. Moore of Victoria will preside as president. Kilgore, Wharton, Del Mar, Victoria and Tyler will be represented.

Owls Stampede OU 5 By 62-47

By The Associated Press

One Southwest Conference basketball team, Rice, won over Oklahoma, 62-47, Thursday night while another, Arkansas, lost to the Oklahoma Aggies, 70-66.

It was the fourth straight for Rice as Joe Durrenberger, with 20 points, led the Owls to victory at Houston.

The Oklahoma Aggies fought an uphill battle at Stillwater to beat the Razorbacks in an overtime thriller.

Baylor plays Washington at Seattle, Southern Methodist meets Iowa at Iowa City and Texas Christian takes on Alabama atTuscaloosa Friday night.

Oklahoma, hitting only 9 out of 20 free throws, led only once against Rice. That was when a basket by Joe King gave the Sooners a 10-9 advantage. Durrenberger teamed with Fred Woods, who got 16 points, to jump the Owls to a 50-36 lead shortly after Ed Abbey, Sooner forward, fouled out in the Center Leroy Bacher led Oklahoma opening seconds of the second half. with 23 points.

The Oklahoma Aggies tied the score at 64-64 when center Ron Peier made a free throw with 8 seconds left. Then the Oklahomans scored three field goals in the overtime period to gain their second victory of the season.

Guard V. R. Barnhouse of the Aggies was high scorer for the night with 19 points. The Porkers were paced by forward Manuel Whitley, who got 18 points.

Arkansas appeared on its way to its first victory of the season as it held a 24-11 lead at half time.

Doby Talking Terms

CHICAGO (AP)—Larry Doby, the new Chicago White Sox baseballer, arrived today to sign his 1956 contract. The Sox acquired the slugging outfielder from Cleveland in a deal for outfielder Jim Busby and shortstop Chico Carrasquel.

Bobo 3-1 Choice To Whip Sugar Ray Robinson Tonite

CHICAGO (AP) — Champion Carl (Bobo) Olson, a 3-1 favorite, makes his fourth middleweight title defense tonight against a man who has whipped him twice, aging Surgar Ray Robinson, at the Chicago Stadium.

This scheduled 15-round battle bring together a 27-year-old Olson who was flattened last summer by Archie Moore trying an upward c... a 3...-year-old Robinson at the peak of a questionable comeback.

NBC will telecast and broadcast at 10 p.m., EST.

The chief reason for this International Boxing Club - sponsored bout is that Olson lost considerable prestige in his third-round KO by light heavy champion Moore last June 22 and that Robinson made a quick return from an erstwhile song-and-dance career.

Olson was knocked out as a 22-year-old rookie by Robinson in 1950 in 12 rounds at Philadelphia, and dropped a 15-round decision to him in a 1952 middleweight title bout at San Francisco.

Olson was regarded a terrific battler until he tried to match blows last summer with Moore.

In the second of his six comeback fights, Robinson nearly was chased back into retirement by Ralph (Tiger) Jones at the Chicago Stadium last Jan. 19.

But Sugar Ray, who abdicated the 160-pound crown Dec. 18, 1952, clawed back into contention with victories over Johnny Lombardo, Ted Olla, Garth Panter and Rocky Castellani.

That set up tonight's battle even though Robinson has not fought since winning over Castellani in 10 last July 22 and Olson has been idle since a slim decision over Joey Giambra last Aug. 26.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the IBC, said appeared a crowd of about 10,000 would pay $140,000 into the stadium tills. Another $75,000 will come from TV-radio fees.

Olson gets a 35 per cent hunk of all revenue, against 25 per cent for Robinson. If Robinson defeats Olson, a contract held by Bobo's manager Sid Flaherty calls for a rematch in 90 days.

IN THIRD MEETING — Bobo Olson, left, and Sugar Ray Robinson meet tonight for the World's Middleweight title. Olson, the current champion, is a 3-1 choice although he has never beaten Sugar Ray. Robinson won the only two bouts between the two to date.

Campy Wins NL MVP 3rd Time

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy Campanella, baseball's Comeback Man of the year, today joined one of the sport's most exclusive clubs when he was named the National League's Most Valuable Player for the third time.

Only five players have won the coveted Most Valuable trophy as many as three times. The 34-year-old Brooklyn catcher and Stan (The Man) Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals are the only National Leaguers.

Jimmy Foxx, that great slugger who played for the Athletics and Red Sox; Joe DiMarrio of Yankee fame; and Yogi Berra, New York catcher are the three in the American League. Berra received his third MVP award a week ago.

One might think that Campanella, who is used to hanging up Kenesaw Mountain Landis plaques (the official trophy given by the league) in his St. Albans, N.Y., home, would be a little blase about receiving another. But not so.

"I get a bigger kick out of this one than I did the other two (1951-53)," said the big Negro catcher aho beat out teammate Duke Snider by five votes. "I didn't look forward to this one and it is a wonderful surprise."

But immediately Campy said he has no intention of resting on his laurels.

"I think I've got a few good seasons left," he said. "The worst has happened," referring to an injured hand of 1954 which held his batting average to .207 in 111 games. He didn't receive a single vote in 1954, when the Dodgers fell apart and finished a poor second to the Giants.

Campy zoomed back to .31 this year, hit 32 homers and drove in 107 runs as the Dodgers easily won the National League pennant and then beat the Yankees for their first World Series title.

The Campanella-Snider voting was one of the closest since the Baseball Writers Assn. took over the poll some 25 years ago.

The Brooklyn catcher, receiving eight first-place votes from a 24-man committee, polled 226 votes compared to 221 by Snider. The Duke also had eight first-place votes.

The first major tournaments of the college basketball season open tonight with Alabama, the second-choice pride of Dixie, defending its Birmingham Classic title while Duquesne tries to improve on the runner-up role it took in the Steel Bowl last year.

'Bama, ranked No. 6 in the Associated Press poll and unbeaten in its two starts, sends 6-8 Jerry Harper against Texas Christian's Horned Frogs, who are just 1-2 despire the high scoring of 6-7 Dick O'Neal, in the big game at Birmingham, Ala.

Houston and Valparaiso, which gave Marquette a fit for 20 minutes or so before bowing Wednesday night, fill out the four-team clash. Alabama, best bet to give Kentucky a tussle for the Southeastern Conference crown, and Houston are favored to meet in the final tomorrow night.

At Pittsburgh, Duquesne's Dukes, who whipped Carnegie Tech in their only game this far, meet Geneva while Pitt and Westminster (Pa.) round it out. The Dukes, beaten by George Washington in the title game last year, and Pitt (2-0) are expected to play for the crown tomorrow night.

Very little went on among the collegians last night. Seton Hall nudged Western Kentucky's youngsters 87-85 in overtime at Madison Square Garden. Maryland disposed of William & Mary 52-51 as Nick Davis hit a set shot with five minutes left and Oklahoma A&M struggled to a 70-66 overtime decision against winless Arkansas.

Dick Gaines and Ed Petrie scored 51 points between them for unbeaten (3-0) Seton Hall after Western Kentucky, only a 9-point loser to Alabama this season, constructed a second-half surge with sophomore Owen Lawson scoring 35 points.

Karl Spooner, Dodger southpaw pitcher, is living in Hollis, N. Y., and selling automobiles in Brooklyn.

HITLER'S PRIVATE LIFE

Hitler Becomes Broken In Health

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in the series on the private life of Adolf Hitler as told by his personal valet.)

By HEINZ LINGE
Hitler's Personal Valet
(WORLD COPYRIGHT 1955)

BERLIN — As the world which Hitler had built up so ruthlessly began to collapse around him like a pack of cards, I watched him become an old man despite his years; a man broken in health. Few in Germany knew — very great care was taken to see they should not know — that the Fuehrer was by that time dragging his left leg ;that his left eye had developed a ceaseless twitch; that he couldn't see well; that his hair was greying and his face waxen from a life that was now being lived almost entirely underground.

In these straits the Fuehrer turned for help, as he had for so many years, to his physician Dr. Theo Morell, the only doctor in whom he seemed to keep faith for any length of time. Dr Morell was a specialist in intestinal diseases and many famous stage and screen stars as well as society folk were among his patients.

In appearance Morell, it seemed to me, was a most unpleasant man. Obese and with hairy hands that seemed always to be moist and clammy, he yet seemed to exert an almost-hypnotic influence over Hilter.

And he remained one of the men in the shadows around the Fuehrer until, with Berlin in ruins and the end in sight, he begged his master for permission to flee.

It was in 1936 that Morell came on the Hitler scene. And very soon he prepared a special medicine with which the Fuehrer was extremely pleased after a trial.

"Morell is my man," he told me. "He has saved me from my pain. I have asked him to look after me."

In addition to his stomach pains Hilter suffered from insomnia and he had about a dozen different kinds of sleeping pills which he would use in rotation.

His idea was that by using them that way he would not become an addict of one particular drug.

All these sleeping pills were prescribed by Morell, who told the Fuehrer he could swallow as many as he liked at night because great care had been taken to see that none was dangerous.

It was under Morell's direction that Hitler agreed to take injections before any important public occasion.

The Fuehrer was scared that his stomach pains would start up in the middle of a big speech. One injection was to prevent that possibility and another, given at the same time, was to step up his energy, perhaps to counteract the deadening effect of the first injection.

In the days of the war these injections became more and more frequent and toward the end, speech or no speech, Hitler was receiving jabs with the needle every second day.

"It would be better that all the medicines and sedatives for the Fuehrer should be injected straight into his blood," Morell told me one day. "That way they do not have to go through his stomach, which is already carrying a load."

Those last words were very true. In addition to all the medicines I have mentioned the Fuehrer would take still more from a fear that he would put on weight. He had a violent reaction to any thought that he was accumulating fat. His method of slimming was to take a powerful laxative, followed by opium to quiet the stomach!

Then immediately after the opium he would take yet another type of medicine, the purpose of which was to kill any germs that might be accumulating in his body.

I became almost a doctor myself in the end, for I always carried around with me a large case full of drugs, tablets, hypodermics and needles.

And these I had to know and be prepared to administer at the right time.

Eventually Hitler became suspicious even of these. After the attempt on his life in July, 1944, he gave orders that instead of buying them from chemists and issuing them to him I had to have them examined by the security people first.

Notwithstanding the doctor's early success, the Fuehrer's stomach pains had returned and he became obsessed with the idea that they would cease if only his food were suitable and properly served.

First of all he obtained the services of Fraulein Manziarly, who was recommended by Morell, as a dietitian and cook. She came from a clinic at Berchtesgaden.

Then he caused his vegetables to be grown specially for him in earth which had been fumigated and into which only selected manure had been mixed. From time to time samples of this soil were taken to be tested.

The water in which the vegetables were cooked was examined regularly in laboratories to make sure it was not contaminated in any way.

When the war started to go badly for him, Hitler's nerves began to suffer and belladonna was prescribed regularly to quiet him. Despite this his left hand began to shake at about the time of Stalingrad and he found difficulty in controlling its tremor.

There were also symptoms in his left leg at that time, though not as bad as in his hand.

If you examine any pictures of Hitler taken at about that time or later, you will notice that he always had his left hand pressed against his body or clasped in his right hand in front of him. Only thus could he prevent his hand from shaking violently.

About this time, too, Hitler complained that his skin was itching all over.

All this time Hitler was taking strychnine in the stomach pills prepared by Morell.

Other doctors told the Fuehrer that these tablets were more likely to poison him than to cure him. But Hitler dismissed their suggestion and almost immediately the doctors concerned disappeared from headquarters and were never seen there again.

Meanwhile, Morell in addition to his constant attendance on Hitler was busy in other ways. He had created factories to produce a powder which was claimed to be the finest in the world to deal with Russian lice. The soldiers did not seem to think it was much good, but Morell had enough influence over Hitler to have an order issued that the Wehrmacht was to buy that powder alone.

The doctor also established factories for manufacturing vitamins and these, too, the army was ordered to purchase. He also prepared a special hormone which brought him in more money.

Soon after the tremor appeared in Hitler's hand he told Morell he was suffering from pains in the head and that he also thought he had high blood pressure.

It was decided that leeches should be used and in addition that blood should be drawn off from his arm.

And after each blood-draining operation Hitler would sigh with relief and say: "Ah, good. Now I have a free head again."

He often complained of heart trouble but dropped this particular worry after cardiograms had been taken and he was assured that his heart was perfectly healthy.

And eventually there even came a time when he wanted his head examined.

That was soon after the July attempt on his life and he felt that perhaps the blast of the exploding bomb might have damaged his brain.

After an X-ray he was assured his brain was all right.

He was jubilant about that and told me: "You know, no other part of my body is of any importance to me except my head."

As the Allies closed in, Hitler spent more and more time in the bunker.

People who came to see him after an absence were shocked at his appearance. They, and I, tried to get him to leave the bunker.

But he only replied: "Linge, I don't want to move around. I want to be here."

Drops were prescribed for his bad eye, drops which only I was allowed to administer. And every time I carried out the operation Hitler would say: "Ah, Linge your hand is steady enough."

He was looking like an old man now and I think he began to realize it.

"I do not have to thank the enemy for my grey hairs," he would say. "I have to thank my generals who have let me down."

Though he blamed his generals, he excused his doctor when, during those last days, Morell pleaded with him to be allowed to leave Berlin.

I had seen Morell begging with tears pouring from his eyes for permission to go.

And when at last Hitler granted that permission, he turned to me and said: "Morell is a doctor, not a soldier."

For the moment there were no outbursts of hate and rage; no banging of fists on the desk. The man who had said: "It is written in the stars that I shall build Germany into the greatest country in the world, was weary and old beyond his years. And the vengeance of the rest of the world was near at hand.

FLAGMEN HIT BY SPEEDING RACER—Two volunteer flagmen, Larry Bashore, 32, of Bellflower, Calif., and Mike Jones, 18, of Whittier, Calif., are knocked flying through the air by a sports car during the Palm Springs, Calif., road races. The car which struck them has spun around and is hidden behind car number 120B. One of the flagmen sustained a broken leg, the other two fractured ribs. Milford Troubled By Desegregation

MILFORD, Del. (AP) — Fourteen months after a dispute over continued segregation of white and Negro pupils, the Milford School District is involved today in a disagreement over relations with integrated schools.

The situation now has not aroused the intense feelings apparent last fall when 10 Negro boys and girls sought admission to the all-white Milford school in this south-central Delaware town of 5,700.

At first, the Negroes were accepted as students. Then resentment arose and after a boycott of the school by parents and white pupils, the Negroes were ordered from the school. The Delaware State Supreme Court has since ruled the Milford School Board erred in admitting the Negro pupils without first receiving acceptance from the State Board of Education of an integration schedule.

The Negroes now are attending a segregated high school in Georgetown, Del., 17 miles south of Milford.

Recently, the Milford student council wrote a letter to the School Board which asked the board to spell out just what the integration policy would be in the future with regard to sports, and other activities.

The student council, headed by Edward J. Steiner, a tackle on the football team, then asked the board for a meeting to have the questions answered. The students asked to be allowed to bring their parents to the meeting. The board agreed to the meeting but canceled it Nov. 29.

The board, elected last May, after it campaigned on a prosegregation platform, defeated a slate of candidates headed by Steiner's father Edmund F. Steiner, a wool processor. Steiner had served on an interim board which ran the system after the original board involved in the integration dispute last fall resigned. The Steiner slate advocated a go-slow integration policy.

The 17-year-old Steiner, a 238-pound six-footer, and Dr. Paul Malie, high school mathematics teacher and student council adviser, said the student council is not interested in whether the School Board follows a prosegregation or prointegration policy. "What we want is for the board to lay down a line and hew to it in their future decisions."

The board in its statements said politics was involved, that the defeated board candidates were trying to embarrass the present board. The elder Steiner denies this.

SUPPORTS DIXON - YATES CONTRACT — AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss tells the Senate antimonopoly subcommittee in Washington that he still thinks the objectives of the Dixon-Yates contract were sound even though "a conflict of interest" may have made it void. The committee, headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Ky) is probing for possible criminal statue violations in the handling of the now abandoned contract for private construction of a plant to feed power to the TVA.

Johnson Role Is Revealed

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune says Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) expects to be a favorite son candidate at next summer's convention.

A Washington dispatch by Walter Kerr added, however, that Johnson had made it clear he will be no more than a favorite son candidate.

"He (Johnson) maintains this is the only way of heading off a bitter factional fight within the state party next spring," the story said.

Either face to face or by telephone, the newspaper said, Johnson contacted Adlai E. Stevenson, the only announced Democratic candidate; Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) and told them of his plans.

Johnson suffered a heart attack last July.

In his talks with the three men, the story continued, Johnson "explained his intention of becoming Texas' favorite son as a move to prevent rival delegations from his state from showing up at the Democratic nominating convention....

"Privately, he (Johnson) says that after the first ballot he himself will support Mr. Stevenson if at the time Mr. Stevenson still holds a commanding lead for the nomination."

Colin Kelly's Son To Follow After Father

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Colin P. Kelly III says he wants to follow in the footsteps of his famed father, one of the first air heros of World War II, by going to West Point—or perhaps to the new U. S. Air Academy.

The 15-year-old preparatory school student told The Associated Press: "The only doubt I might have is whether I ought to go to West Point or to the new air academy out in Colorado. It would be one or the other.

President Roosevelt recommended young Colin for a 1956 appointment to West Point shortly after his father Capt. Colin Kelly was shot down in the Pacific by Japanese fighter planes three days after Pearl Harbor. Capt. Kelly kept his B17 airborne long enough to order several of his crew to parachute to safety.

Young Colin said he wished to correct reports from New York yesterday that he was in doubt whether to accept the West Point appointment—which Roosevelt recommended be made in 1956.

"I've never seriously thought of anything but the appointment, either to West Point or to the new air academy maybe," Kelly said.

He said that because of his age he "couldn't accept the appointment until 1957, and we're agreed at home that a year of college first would be best. That's usually done, I think."

The boy lives in suburban Chester Heights with his mother and stepfather J. Watson Pedlow, former Navy officer and now a chemical engineer. Colin is president of his school class, an outstanding athlete and is to get his Eagle Scout award Dec. 15.

'Ave' Given Label Of Tammany Hall

WASHINGTON (AP)—Comments of Republican senators added up today to an apparent GOP attempt to pin a Tammany Hall label on Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, eyed as a prospective Democratic presidential aspirant next year.

In the wake of a jab at Harriman by White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, Sen Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said in an interview that "I've assumed he is a Tammany Hall candidate."

In a somewhat similar vein, Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) said that Harriman may not be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination but "at least the leader of Tammany Hall seems intent on making him one."

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said that Tammany has wanted to name a candidate in the past but that no one wh has had a chance for the prize wanted "the handicap of Tammany Hall."

Carmine DeSapio, Tammany leader, is Harriman's chief booster for the Democratic nomination. He described Tammany Monday in a radio talk as the New York County Democratic organization and said that "except for the myth that has been created . . . it is no different from any other organization."

Harriman has said he is not an "active" candidate for the nomination, although he said his name will be submitted to the nominating convention "in good faith," not just as a "favorite son" candidate.

DeSapio had said earlier that Harriman would be more than a "token" candidate.

Hagerty referred to DeSapio's statement yesterday in telling newsmen at Gettysburg that Harriman was the first man in history to be "nominated" for the presidency by Tammany Hall.

"For a man who isn't a candidate," said Hagerty, "it seems to me very surprising that he allows himself to be put in a candidate's position by the leader of Tammany Hall."

Two Live Together

OMAHA (AP)—A story on how two Omaha brothers—an attorney and a doctor—lived in the same house for 12 years without speaking was revealed yesterday in a will contest.

The story came out when Dr. Frank C. Karlovsky went to court to contest the will of brother James W., who died two weeks ago.

James W. Karlovsky left $1 to the doctor and rest of his $6,000 estate to a cousin, Emma Kalcik. Dr. Karlovsky's petition said Emma moved in with them in 1943 and a dispute over her presence started the long silence.

He charged Emma had "undue influence" over his brother.

Eggs For Vandals

DENVER (AP) — Something new has been added to the arsenal of a band of vandals: eggs filled with paint. J. A. Davidek told police yesterday two such eggs were thrown at the front porch of his home. He said the vandals apparently puch a small hole in the shell, drain the egg, and fill the shell with paint.

Taylor Urges Stable Program Of Defense

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, urges a more stable defense program, saying that sudden changes in the arms budget can throw our military machine out of gear.

Speaking at the annual dinner of the American Ordnance Assn., Taylor said the defense program should be "designed for the long pull and be unaffected in its main lines, by short-term adjustments in foreign and domestic policies."

The association presented Taylor with its Crozier Gold Medal for outstanding service in the field of military preparedness.

Report Meeting Set In Fund Campaign

The first report meeting in a building fund campaign being conducted by members of the First Baptist Church will be held at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the church.

Nearly 160 members of the church are working in the campaign, which has four drives. Paul Sheahan of Roanoke, Va., is heading the campaign.

The church is striving for a minimum of $250,000, to be paid over a period of three years, for the purpose of constructing a new edheational building.

Workers will have two more report meetings following the one scheduled for tonight.

Self Reliance Given Boost

NEW YORK (AP)—The man who will head the National Assn. of Manufacturers in 1956 declared that the United States "has gone completely overboard on security."

"Everything has to be secured—jobs, wages, hours," said Cola G. Parker, NAM president-designate, in an address prepared for delivery at the association's annual convention.

Parker called on the 3,000 industrial leaders attending the convention to set an example for the country by insisting that their communities refuse to accept federal government help wherever possible.

"We have no right to criticize the farmer or the laborer for his reliances on government unless we stop doing it ourselves," he said.

"Let us stop relying on the Great White Father, who has nothing to give us except what he took away from us in the first place."

Parker declared that "in the 41 years from 1913 to 1954 our taxes were multiplied 45 times—from two billion dollars a year to more than 90 billions. Even more importantly, Uncle Sam's bite of this total widened from 33 per cent in 1913 to 75 per cent last year."

Parker, retired board chairman of Kimberly-Clark Corp., Neenah, Wis., will be formally elected president of the NAM at a meeting of the Board of Directors tonight. He will succeed Henry G. Riter III, president of Thomas A. Edison, Inc., West Orange, N. J.

Former Snyder Man Taken To Hospital

Nathan Rosenberg, former Snyder merchant, who has been in ill health for several weeks, is now under treatment in the Harris Hospital in Fort Worth, friends here have learned.

Rosenberg lived in Snyder for many years before moving to Fort Worth some five years ago. He formerly managed the Ben Franklin Store here.

British Peer Offers Atomic Bomb Plans

LONDON (AP)—A British peer has come up with this plan to prevent the surprise use of atomic bombs: The United Nations should take over the world's supply and bury them halfway up Mt. Everest.

Lord Fraser of North Cape told the House of Lords the U. N. would have sole custody of all nuclear weapons under his plan. He suggested a limit of 300 to 500 bombs.

"In the event of aggression and resistance by an aggrieved power," he explained, "the Security Council would consider taking out one of the atomic bombs. If there was mobilization by a great power, the Security Council would take immediate action to use all the bombs."

Benny Is 62

DENVER (AP)—Just for the record: Comedian Jack Benny announced—in public—he will be 62 next Feb. 14. Benny spoke at a $100-a-plate dinner raising funds for General Rose Hospital here last night.
