Didn't Do Right By Little Nell

The girlish ambition to go on the stage which caused a young, inexperienced girl to marry a carnival employe who made her dance the "Hootchy-Kooky" in an abbreviated costume for the pleasure of his "base and immoral" friends" is the basis alleged in a petition for divorce filed in district court here this morning.

A Lubbock gorl, who was only sixteen years old at the time of her marriage to the 36-year-old man, filed the petition, which states that, at the time of her marriage, she was "just a school girl without much education, and had no experience in worldly matters, and knew nothing at all of men; that the defendant paid marked attention to her, made ardent love and flattered her, appealing to her vanity and girlish ambition to go on the stage; that he complimented her physical form and pictured for her a bright and brilliant future in the theatrical world; that she was plain and unsophisticated and, charmed by the stories he told of himself and h's wealth, she was overpowered and he won her confidence and affection which led to their contract of marriage."

POISON USED BY GOTHAM'S BANDITS NOW

FATAL DRUG PLACED IN COFFEE BY ROBBER OF LABORATORY

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 27—A man who worked alone on a robery which mystified police today killed a watchman with a powerful poison dropped in coffee, clubed a truck driver's helper into unconsciousness with a revolver and bound and gagged the driver at the Guggenheim Brothers laboratories on 202 Street.

The man robbed the chauffeur of $24, and rifled the files of the laboratories but did not attempt to open the safe where about $1000 worth of experimental metals were kept.

The man evidently had poisoned Henry Gaw, 29, the watchman, when he was interrupted by the arrival of the truck with a load of tear gas from Baltimore. At the gate of the plant Chester McCauley, the helper, was met by an unidentified man who admitted the truck and later inside the building struck McCauley on the head and bound Elmer Mayhew, 21, of Baltimore, the chauffeur.

The watchman's body was found on the second floor. Although an autopsy has not yet been made, analysis of the coffee remaining in the can used by the watchman showed it contained poison.

Police expressed the opinion that the killer was a former employe of the laboratory and had been admitted by the watchman.

Train Rolls Over Damaged Trestle

As a small tremulous crowd looked on breathlessly, the Santa Fe passenger train from Crosbyton this morning passed across the second Crosbyton railway bridge, one and one half miles northeast of the city, which was partially destroyed and materially damaged by fire early yesterday afternoon.

Although the structure had been declared safe and passable by the Santa Fe engineering department, many feared that the giant, charred braces, eaten into by the raging blazes yesterday, could not hold up under the weight of the loaded passenger train.

The trestle was examined by railway engineers after the local fire department had extinguished the blaze about 4 o'clock yesterday afternon and was declared safe for trains. The bridge was tested out last evening by a switch engine and found to be capable of holding the weight.

Originating apparently from a grass fire, the blaze, fed by the creosite treatment on the braces, spread rapidly to all parts of the structure and threatened complete destruction.

"We have been favored by pleasant weather", Dr. Rollo said, "and it is probable that additional cases will break out with the first quick change in temperature." He intimated that the influenza wave would reach here in a more serious nature at some later date this winter, and warned the public to take every precaution to avoid it.

BYRD AND COMPANIONS STAND FACE TO FACE WITH VAST UNEXPLORED BARRIER

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 27—Commander Richard E. Byrd and his companions today stood face to face with the vast unknown of Antarcticia they set out to explore.

In a wireless to Curtis D. Wilbur, secretary of the navy, through the New York Times, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and associated newspapers, Commander Byrd announced the arrival of his ship, the City of New York, at the great mysterious ice barrier which drives its wedge into the continent of ice and snow surrounding the South Pole.

At the Bay of Whales the party has challenged the towering ice cliff of the barrier that stands sentry on the last frontier of geographical exploration, 2,400 miles beyond the last outpost of human habitation.

From this great ice-capped continent of 5,000,000 square miles, Commander Byrd and his scientists hope, with the aid of airplanes, to wrest secrets which will add to men's knowledge of the globe upon which they live.

Arrival of the ship on Christmas day brought the explorers to the scene of their adventure in what is mid-summer at the "Bottom of the World," when milder temperatures and less unfavorable weather offer the most auspicious conditions for flying and scientific exploration.

The first task which faced the party was the landing of their planes and other equipment. This had to be sent up to the top of the ice cliff for establishment of a base from which air excursions and dog-

NEW CHICAGO PROSECUTOR GIVES ANALYSIS OF CITY'S CRIME RECORD

BY ALLEN L. DALRYMPLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Dec. 27—(AP)—John A. Swanson, a six feet two giant whose 200 pounds seem cramped in the office of the state's attorney which he assumed this month, put Chicago crime under the microscope today, analyzed its causes and prescribed his remedy.

"Don't look for miracles," said the man who swept into office as the voters' protest against rampant crime. "Citizens themselves must show some of the backbone and courage which they expect of me and my assistants."

He spoke of the bombings that have destroyed thousands of dollars worth of property; he talked of slayings, of hoodlum rule, of gangsters and gunmen; and he picked each felony apart, seking its basic cause.

The "immense revenue collected by organized crime" is, in the state's attorney's opinion, the principal obstacle in Chicago law enforcement.

Millions for Protection

"A great share of this immense revenue, running into millions, is collected from liquor law violators, and is spent for protection," he said.

"Why do we have more bombings in Chicago than other cities? It is a peculiar psychology, this bombing. Why we of Chicago seem to suffer more from this form of terrorism I do not know.

"Dynamite is not hard to obtain. Workers have no great diffjobs where they are employed, and

Christmas Spirit Even In Prison

DALLAS, Dec. 27 — (AP) — Old Scrooge of "Christmas Carol" fame has another rival for a benevolent Christmas spirit.

E. V. Allen is in the county jail sentenced to death for robbery of the Cairo, Tex., bank on Dec. 13, 1927. Henry Helms, also under death sentence for robbery of the Cisco, Texas, bank on Dec. 23, 1927, is in the same jail.

On Christmas day, Allen's and Helms' jail mates took up a collection so the doomed men's sentences might be appealed. There was only $75 so allen said to Helms:

"You take it all. There isn't enough for both of us to pay lawyers for working for the appeal; I'll take my chances of not sitting in that chair."

MINNESOTA ORPHAN GIRL WINS SUCCESS IN ART

Wanda Gag thrills so now to the joy of long days free to draw as she will that she has forgotten the weariness of those other days, when she made all the little Gags "eat fair" and bought them food at the sacrifice price of designing costumes for stylish stouts. Below Miss Gag's picture is a little inset of an illustration from her book.

BY JULIA BLANSHARD
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 27—An Englishman asked a group at tea the other day, "Does anyone here know Wanda Gag personally? After seeing some of her etchings at the Metropolitan Art Meuseum I immediately hunted up two for myself. Her name intrigues me as much as the vitality of her art."

Someone in the group sat up straight. It was a woman from Minnesota.

"Do I know Wanda Gag," she laughed. "About 12 years ago our whole community took sides on Wanda. She was a 'little mother' or a 'stubborn child,' depending on which side you supported.

"Wanda never has weighed over 100 pounds. Then she was a very slight little thing in her teens, looking about 12, oldest of seven orphans left destitute by the death of a Bohemian artist and his wife. Wanda had just finished a year at art school and won a New York scholrship. Our best families insisted she take it and let the county orphan asylum do its bit by the three youngest Gags.

Put Away Scholarship

"Wanda asked no advice, shut her scholarship up in the bureau drawer, turned a deaf ear to the orphan asylum and began to organize.

"The county gave them $12 a month for food and stale rolls filled in some of the chinks. Wanda taught school, her two next oldest sisters worked after school, they all drew Christmas cards and Wanda managed the five sisters and one brother. They all wore hand-me-downs. She was 25 before she ever bought herself a brand new dress!

"'Eat fair' was the Gag family motto. Wanda would take seven plates at mealtime and meticulously divide everything seven ways. Justice was as important as stale rolls in her scheme.

"The town stormed and talked 'undernourishment.' Wanda was adamant. Her little family's integrity and independence was far more important than full stomachs. She weathered the gale, got two girls through school and ready to teach and then amazed the small town by selling off the ramshackle old place their parents had owned and moving their few bits of furniture to Minneapolis where they were unknown and owed no one the courtesy of listening to bad advice.

"Through these years of scrimping, Wanda had not been able to keep from drawing. Settled in a new place, she got out the old scholarship and dusted it up, found it could be renewed and rode a chair car to a hall-bedroom in New York. She told me once:

"'Perhaps the most disillusioning thing in life will prove to be my discovery when I got to New York that what you wanted to do didn't necessarily pay but that designing slenderizing clothes for stylish stouts, sketching fine frocks for the frivolous and simpering misses for magazines did.'

"Ever practical and now goaded by the savage desire to be utterly free economically, Wanda did commercial art for two or more years, sending money home to the little Gags who fortunately were less little each day. Finally Wanda brought the whole family one by one, to a New York tenement on the East Side. They were all now contributing. Wanda was free!

Finds "Tumble Timbers"

"Retirement was what she wanted. She roamed the countryside and found a deserted house, cheap. 'Tumble Timbers' is now known to the world by the sandpaper portrait Wanda made of it, an artistic invention that, her use of sandpaper with India ink and brushes.

"Wanda is making up for the lost years, ferociously perfecting this experiment and that. She has even written and illustrated charmingly a juvenile story book, 'Millions of Cats' (Coward-McCann, Inc.) She is now experimenting in oils. 'I do not know whether they will give me exactly what I want. But, it is such joy to try.' Knowing her, you feel somehow that whenever what she wants does materialize, it will be well worth waiting for."

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

SHIRKING THE DISAGREEABLE WILL MAKE YOU A FAILURE

Overheard on the street car between two high school boys: "So and So skips all the classes he doesn't like." Now it so happens I know So and So, although I didn't know the speakers. And I know that is the trouble with him. Such a fine looking chap. But he does just that, skips out when things don't go to please him. Never faces the music. I wonder what life will have in store for him. Will he shirk the drudgery in every job he takes until his employers grow tired of it and fire him? Will he marry and leave his wife to face all the unpleasant things in their martial life? If he does he will only have himself to blame for failure. That is, as far as one can be held responsible for the shaping of their own character after heredity, environment, home and school training, etc., have done their share. It's better to face the knocks, folks. It's hard, but you grow stronger and more able with every victory.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I have been going with a boy for quite a while and am secretely engaged to him. We can not be married for quite a while, as I must finish my schooling. Now he has gone away for a while but he will be home for Christmas. There is another boy who likes me and wrote me a friendly letter. I answered it and told him I could not correspond with him as I am going steady with another boy. He answered and said he understood, so he would not write any more. He is in a sanitorium and I do feel sorry for him, so do you suppose it would matter if I wrote to him in a friendly way, Mrs. Lee? I would be very grateful if you would please answer this.

"JUST DOLLY."

Why not put the matter up to your fiance, Dolly? If he would not mind you occasionally writing to the other boy no one else would care.

* * *

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I have been going with a girl about three years that I'm very much in love with. We have been engaged about six months but she still wants to go with other boys. I have come to this city and taken a job so we could be married, and now she won't even answer my letters, so what must I do? Forget her or go back and try to make up to her?

"BROKEN HEARTED."

It looks pretty hopeless, doesn't it? Why not keep your job for a time at least, and leave her alone? You wouldn't be happy if you married her, as she evidently is not ready to settle down. Maybe you could go to see her after awhile and find out if she has missed you and wants to make up.

Terribly Worried: I think you are listening to a lot of idle talk, my dear. As long as you are a nice little girl, I am sure your boy friend's parents won't take the extreme measures you think. If you get a chance, get some older person who knows his family to introduce you, and then you can make friends with them.

Officers Brave Apiery To Make Liquor Catch

RAYMONDVILLE, Texas, Dec. 27—(AP)—Raymondville officers have demonstrated that they are not afraid of bees, and as a result a liquor distilling joint at Lyford, situated in what was supposed to have been a bee farm, was raided.

A 60-gallon copper still, three barrels of mash, a 50-gallong jug and 6,000 empty bottles were seized and two men arrested.

Ranger Tom Herd, City Marshal George W. McDougald and Deputy Sheriff Lee Durham were the raiding officers.

The yard in which the still was located was so full of bee hives that most people gave the place a wide berth but the officers pushed their way through to a little house that contained the plant.

NO STATEMENT FROM HOOVER

UNCERTAINTY AROUND MAJOR LEGISLATIVE TOPICS PERSISTS

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27—To the uncertainty about the proposed special session, farm relief and tariff revision has been added the report that Herbert Hoover was not inclined to give his preferences about legislation until after his inauguration.

With the news that he was on his way to Washington it was felt by some perplexed congressmen that a few words from the president elect would restore harmony. These few words may not be said.

Just at present there are some who favor a special session for farm relief. Others favor a special session but want the tariff revised. Still others want both considered and finally some want no special session at all.

Opponents of a special session for farm relief think that a satisfactory farm bill could be passed by this congress. They point out that a bill, conforming to administration ideas, has already been introduced by Senator McNary of Oregon. President elect Hoover said during the course of the campaign that he would call a special session of congress if some solution of the farm problem were not found before he took office.

Among those who think that a satisfactory farm bill could be passed before March 4, are Speaker Longworth and Representative Tilson, the majority floor leader.

Mr. Longworth's views and Mr. Tilson's views on the time for farm relief are almost diametrically opposite to Senator Borah's views. The Idaho senator, a staunch Hoover supporter during the campaign, takes the attitude that the Republican party promised a special session for farm relief and that the promise should be carried out.

Most of the members of the Congress sympathetic with farm relief feel that a farm bill is needed but others think that the most good would come to agriculture by a judicious alteration of tariff schedules.

LEGISLATURE

The Anti-Evolution bill, along the lines of those effective in Arkansas and Tennessee, will be introduced by Representative James W. Harper, of Mount Pleasant, a Baptist minister. He is one of several ministers who will be house members. He did not, however, join the large group of Protestant clerics who supported and aided Senator Love's crusade against Governor Alfred E. Smith, democratic presidential nominee. The Rev. Mr. Harper says he is the only minister of his section who supported the democratic ticket. He made several speeches for the ticket in the campaign prior to the November election.

Representative R. L. Kincaid, a physician of Crowell, an old member of the house, re-elected, is one of the several favoring the 10-day notice on marriage license applications. It is not definitely known here yet who will introduce the bill.

Would Limit Liquor Prescriptions

The proposal to limit whiskey prescriptions to half pint is fathered by Representatie A. H. King of Throckmorton. His theory is that if whiskey is good for medicine a half pint ought to be just as good as a pint at the time it is needed. Moreover, he contends that such a bill would further limit the "drinking evil."

Representative V. E. Conway, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Commerce, will introduce a bill to make wife desertion a felony. Only a misdemeanor now, the present classification of the offense caused some trouble in extradition of men from other states to answer desertion charges in Texas.

Seek "Sterilization"

Sterilization, or some sort of "eugenic measures" to curb the reproduction of feeble-minded and insane persons, is favored by Representative Grady Woodruff of Paradise. Representative Crowell and others. It has not been announced definitely who will introduce a bill along this line or what it will provide. Woodruff was a member of the house sub-committee which made a survey of eleemosyary institutions under resolution of the 40th legislature.

A new member of the house, H. H. Ray, of Troy, declares that he believes "in long hair and long dresses for women," but so far as is known no legislation on these or kindred subjects has been proposed.

Another item in whiskey reform temperance union providing for a liquor permit division in the state comptroller's department to enforce prescription regulations and prosecute violations. This bill got through the 40th legislature with most of the money cut out, but was vetoed by Governor Dan Moody. The division would be financed by fees collected on liquor prescription permits by the comptroller.

SPEAK-EASY MAN EATS THIRTEEN SANDWICHES IN FUTILE EFFORT TO SAVE BARKEEP PAL.

(By Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 27—A patron in a bar room ate 13 sandwiches today in a vain effort to save his friend, Walter Benwell, the bartender, from arrest.

Prohibition Agents James Dillon and Carol Byrd interrupted the patron just as he had placed two one dollar bills on the counter in the barroom.

"What are you going to buy with that money?" asked Dillon.

The customer first glanced at the bartender and then replied: "Sandwiches."

"Two dollars worth of sandwiches?" Dillon asked incredulously.

"That's right," the customer said staunchly. "I'm hungry."

The bar tender began to pile up sandwiches on the bar saying that the customer was a "card" and always ate lots of sandwiches.

The loyal friend of the house ate two sandwiches, then a third, drank a glass of water and got away with Nos. 4, 5 and 6.

The customer managed to eat, according to Dillon, 13 sandwiches before he said in a rather stifled voice: "I think this will hold me until supper."

Byrd and Dillon then produced a search warrant, seized a quantity of beer and liquor and arrested the bartender. The customer gloomily shook his head.

it can be bought without a great deal of red tape.

"We hope to shut off the source of dynamite to the racketeers and blackhanders."

Foreign Element Troubles

"Chicago is a hundred cities in one, made up of all nationalities," he continued. "A good percentage of the inhabitants do not read or speak American."

"It is difficult to imbue these foreigners with respect for law and order. Countries that have been drilled for centuries in obedience to law where the inhabitants are of one race, do not have the problems we in America do."

To aid in his big job, State's Attorney Swanson said selection of juries must be speeded up, more judges must be obtained and there must be cooperation on the part of the citizenry.

Ideal for Criminals

"Chicago," explained Mr. Swanson, "Is ideally located for criminals. Highways and railroads radiate in all directions. The city is a dumping ground for undesirables.

"Chicago covers a great deal of territory in comparison to its larger sister city, New York. Long, straight, wide streets tend for an easy get-away and there are 5,500 policemen to guard the city's three million inhabitants. New York has three times that many police for a population twice as large, and a smaller territory to cover.

"petty grievance" against the railway. There had been no major labor differences, railway officials said, and they expressed confidence that a trace of those responsible for the wreck would be found.

F. J. Mackie, assistant general manager of the Santa Fe who was on the train with his wife, praised the presence of mind and ability of Engineer A. C. Long.

"Long brought the train to dead stop in fifteen car lengths," said Mackie. "It was one of the greatest feats of locomotive engineering I ever have seen, and it prevented a catastrophe."

MANIAC BLAMED FOR MEXICO TRAIN WRECK

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 27 (AP)—Dispatches from Chihuahua state that two trainmen were killed and Governor Marcelo Caraveo of the state of Chihuahua and a number of others were injured when a train was wrecked. The locomotive plunged into an abyss when it passed over a bridge the supports of which had been weakened by a fire.

Governor Caraveo, General Ferreira, chief of military operations in the state and about 100 other prominent citizens were returning from the opening of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad link between Chihuahua and Ojinga on Sunday when the wreck occurred.

Those killed were Francisco Rodriguez, fireman, and Manuel Candia, a trainman.

Governor Caraveo suffered a lacerated knee and his condition was not regarded as serious.

One dispatch said that Foesndo Sandoval was arrested and claimed that four armed men forced him to burn the bridge supports.

Another report was that the wreck was the result of an act of a madman. He was stated to have told railroad officials that he was cold and started a fire under the bridge to keep warm and when the bridge caught fire, he let it burn.

Bombing Attempt In Chicago Fails

CHICAGO, Dec. 27 (AP)—An attempt upon the lives of Mayor Joseph Klenha of Cicero, his wife and their two children, failed yesterday when the fuse attached to 12 sticks of dynamite sputtered out within an inch of the explosives.

The dynamite had been placed on the porch of the Klenha home, where the mayor found it when he went out for his newspaper. Officers believed the plot to assassinate the mayor of the Chicago suburb was rooted in disagreement over municipal affairs.

HARVARD GETS BIG DONATION

THREE MILLION GIVEN BY HARKNESS FOR 'EXPERIMENTING'

(By Associated Press)

BOSTON, Dec. 27—The Boston Golbe in a copywrighted article tomorrow will say that Edward S. Harkness of New York, Yale graduate and multi-millionaire, is the donor of the $3,000,000 gift to aHrvard university which was announced as an anonymous benefaction November 8 by President A. Lawrence Lowell with the intimation that the fund would be used to initiate an experiment on the reorganization of the university.

Harkness gave the money to build and endow a "house" or group of dormitories, dining halls, and common rooms, which will be operated as a separate educational and social unit, a college within a college. It is said that if the experiment is a success the Harvard authorities will divide the entire university into similar units, completely altering the current conception of student groupings in American institutions of higher learning. It is understood that Harkness has indicated his willingness to make further contributions toward the projects.

The Globe will say that it understands that Harkness first offered several millions to his own Alma Mater to finance a similar experiment but apparently his offer did not appeal to Yale.

Harkness was graduated from Yale in 1897. His father, Stephen V. Harkness, began his career in a small town, Gracer, and laid the family fortune as one of the original partners of John D. Rockefeller in the development of oil prosprties. The estate of the late Mrs. Stephen V. Harkness, appraised less than a year ago, amounted to more than $100,000,000.

Both Harkness and his mother have been liberal to Yale. Among Mrs. Harkness' benefactions which totalled $9,000,000 was the group of buildings known as the Harkness Memorial, in memory of her son, Charles W. Harkness, Yale 88, who died in 1916.

There are about 1,000,000 square miles of lake and river surface on the entire globe.

BIBLE GAVE A. AND M. FIVE TITLES DURING 13-YEAR REIGN

(By Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 27.—Coaching of the Dixie brand of football, inaugurated in the Big Six conference in the first year of its existence this year by Bo McMillin, will be conducted at a second conference school next fall by Dana X. Bible, newly named head football coach at the University of Nebraska.

Coach Bible, who goes to the Cornhusker institution to succeed Coach Ernest E. Bearg, will meet Coach McMillin, the famous All-American Center College star of 1921, in a new role when Nebraska engages the Kansas Aggies in football at Manhattan next fall, the role of coach vs coach.

Their last meeting was as coach vs player during McMillin's student days, and Bible, who ranks with McMillin as among the greatest athletes the tiny college at Danville, Ky., ever produced, held the upper hand in his capacity as coach of Texas A. & M.

That meeting was at Dallas at the end of an all-victorious season for Center's Praying Colonels. Following their startling 6 to 0 victory over Harvard and other unsetting decisions the Colonels stopped over for a game with the Texas Aggies and Coach Bible's powerful team knocked Center's aspirations by administrating a 21 to 14 defeat.

Bible was born in Tennessee, attended Center and the University of North Carolina, then came to Texas to acquire football fame. Since becoming head coatch at Texas A. & M. in 1917 he has won five Southwestern Conference championships.

McMillin is a native of Texas and went over into the Old South to prove his mastery on the gridiron. As quarterback of the famous Praying Colonel teams he twice was chosen All-American quarterback and has been called the all-time all-American quarterback.

He came to the Kansas State Agricultural College this year, but due to lack of material had an unsuccessful season.

GLOOM SETTLES OVER COLLEGE STATION

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 27 (AP)—Gloom settled over the student body and faculty of Texas A. & M. College last night when it became known that Dana X. Bible, Aggie gridiron mentor for 13 years, had coached his last Farmer eleven and had signed a three-year contract to coach the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Bible, in a statement expressed sincere regret at leaving the school he had piloted to five Southwest Conference football titles, but declared he could not turn down what he felt was an opportunity to advance in his profession. He was not influenced by the salary Nebraska offered, he said, as Texas A. & M. had offered to meet the advance.

Aggie alumni over the state are making plans to give the popular little coach a fitting farewell. A "love feast" to be attended by hundreds of former Aggie students and athletic officials of the Southwest, probably will be held at Ft. Worth.

School officials have given a thought to the question of Bible's successor. The hope that he could be induced to remain at Aggieland did not die completely until yesterday, when the announcement came from Lincoln that he had accepted the Husker post. Among those prominently mentioned for the position was Paul Tyson, phenomenally successful coach at Waco high school, but doubt was expressed that the Tiger mentor would desire the job.

DEMURRERS ECHO ELECTION PROBE

EDINBURG, Dec. 27 (AP)—General demurrers to all of the allegations upon which independent republicans are basing their contests of the November election for county and local offices in Hidalgo county, were on file in district court today.

Those filing demurrer, were A. Y. Baker, sheriff, Cam Hill, county clerk, J. E. Leslie, district judge, A. W. Cameron, county judge and W. D. Chadwich and W. L. Lipscomb, county commissioners.

Robert Henderson, only independent declared elected, filed a demurrer to the contest which his democratic opponent for county commissionership has launched against his election.

Girl Saves Children, Home Is Burned

VERNAL Utah, Dec. 27 (AP)—When the flaming attic and roof of Edwin Collier's home last night sent burning embers onto a bed on which an infant and a 3-year-old boy were sleeping, Mary Collier, 12, saved the lives of both children by carrying the baby out first and then running back to the room to rescue her brother. Within a few minutes the room was a mass of flames, Mr. and Mrs. Collier were not at home.

The girl suffered slightly burned hands from the fire, which started from an overheated stove and completely destroyed the home.

SHAKE-UP IN FOOTBALL RULES LOOMS FOR ANNUAL SESSION

(By Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 27—Football coaches representing almost every American university and college were in New Orleans today to attend the twenty-third annual convention of the National Association of Football Coaches, and many proposed changes in the rules will be heard.

Among the later arrivals were 70 eastern coaches, headed by Glenn Meehan of New York University, who came to New Orleans on a special train.

Executive sessions were on today's program and it is thought many of the proposed changes in the rules, including "Pop" Warner's plan to eliminate tie games by awarding victory to the team making the mos tnumber of first downs in cases where actual scoring is tied, will be presented.

TROOPS SENT TO DIAMOND FIELDS

CAPETETOWN, Dec. 27—Two hundred picked police men have been rushed by bus to diamond fields of Namaqualand, where defiance of the government's prohibition against prospecting threatened violence.

Reports received here told of clashes between police and the people, desperate because of crop losses from drought.

No definite information was obtainable.

It was understood that 2,000 at a recent meeting at Port Nolloth demanded that the government throw open 34 acres of state diggings or else employ additional diggers. This demand was coupled with the threat that if it was not granted by Friday the state diggings would be "rushed".

Immigration Chief Slain; Man Is Held

ROSEAU, Minn., Dec. 27 (AP)—A man who gave his name as George Ryan was held today while authorities sought a motive for the slaying of Robert Lobdell, an immigration inspector, whose body, a bullet wound in the head, was found in a road near here last night.

ROCKNE RECORD

Only Thirteen Games Lost In Eleven Years

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 27 —(AP)—Since Knute Rockne became football coach in 1917, Notre Dame has played 111 games, winning 92, and losing 13 and tying six, the athletic department has revealed in the football annual just released.

The records show that 1928, When the Ramblers lost four games out of nine, was the poorest during Rockne's coachship. Yet, Rockne classed the team as one of the gamest he ever coached.

Of all the teams Notre Dame has met in the Rockne regime, Nebraska has been the hardest to defeat, the records show.

SICKNESS MAY HAMPER GEORGIA TECH TEAM IN BIG CLASH

(By Associated Press)

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 27—Tackle workouts have put the University of California Bears into such shape that beginning today they will undergo but one practice session daily until their meeting in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day with Georgia Tech.

Coach Alexander encountered some adversity yesterday when the Georgia Tornado's regular guard, Raleigh Dvennon and his understudy, Jim Brooke, were sent to camp to recover from fevers.

It was Tech's first heavy scrimmage. The Yellow Jackets worked behind locked gates.

CENTRAL PUTS FAITH IN PASS

TEXANS TAKE TRYOUT AFTER ARRIVAL ON PACIFIC COAST

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27 (AP)—A squad of 25 rangy young Texans, footballers of Central High School, Fort Worth, disported themselves with considerable enthusiasm through a strenuous two hour workout on the coliseum turf here yesterday after their arrival from Texas for the game Saturday with an All-Star Southern California prep eleven.

The Panthers showed little evidence of having just completed a two and a half day train ride, but at that Coach Ben Winkleman was not altogether pleased with their showing and announced that he was going to send them through two practice sessions today.

"All of the players are in fine shape as far as the lack of injuries is concerned," Winkleman said, "but they need work and plenty of it to shake those train legs of theirs and get used to this new climate and atmosphere."

The Texans uncorked an interesting array of plays, and performed like a well-drilled aggregation. The impressive part of their practice was the way they tossed a football around. Winkleman is a believer in the use of rugby pass, and he has about five backs who can rifle the pigskin with proficiency.

WILL ATTEMPT TO PREVENT LEASING

AUSTIN, Dec. 27. (AP)—In the absence of Gov. Moody a request for a special session of the legislature to pass laws in an attempt to prevent the leasing of 103,000 acres of University oil land, sent to the Governor by Robert L. Holliday, acting for the university regents awaited the executive. Holliday announced in El Paso that he had made the request by telephone. Moody was not in Austin and it was supposed that he was on a hunting trip. The leases, which have been already advertised are to be let January 2. Holliday said that the price would probably be worth three dollars an acre when as a matter of fact the land is worth about $10,000 an acre.

'Love And Affection' Is Bequest To Wife

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27 (AP)—Fred Thomson, 37, portrayer of western screen roles, who died here today, left his widow only "my love and affection."

"I do this at her own request and in the belief that she is already provided with sufficient means for her care", he said in his will, which was filed for probate today. Mrs. Thomson, better known as Frances Marion, is a scenario writer.

Thomson's will provides that his estate shall be shared equally by his mother, Mrs. Clara F. Thomson, and his three-year-old son, Fred Jr. The document said he believes his wife will provide for their adopted son, Richard Thomson, 9 years old.

NO MORE CAPTAINS FOR CARNEGIE TECH TEAMS

By NEA Service

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 27.—Carnegie Tech will follow the lead of Dregon State, Ohio State and other teams who do not have football captains.

Judge Wally Steffen, Carnegie Tech's coach, recommended that the Skibos follow the same system as Ohio States uses, that of naming a field captain for each game and electing an honorary captain for the season after the schedule has been played. His suggestion was adopted.

As a result, Howay Harpster, captain this year and practically unanimous choice for All-America quarterback honors, will go down as the last Carnegie Tech captains, unless the new system is changed in later years.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

Henry L. Farrell

DISCIPLINE'S IRON HAND

When the Cleveland Indians are willing to risk $25,000 on an old pitcher like Jim Zinn and will allow a pitcher like Vic Aldridge to be waived out of the major leagues, there seems to be something peculiar about the magnates' sense of valuation.

The Indians are drawn into the case merely to illustrate the case of Aldridge. Maybe the Indians didn't want him and maybe the 14 other clubs didn't want him when the Giants put him up. But it seems that four or five clubs could use him.

Some smart baseball men, however, do not think it is peculiar or strange. They profess to see through it thoroughly and they hold up the former Pittsburgh and New York pitcher as a victim of the disciplinary hand of baseball.

Coming at the time it did, the definite release of Aldridge to the Newark International League club gave the magnates something to hold over any of their young men who may balk on terms.

LOOK OUT, YOUSE GUYS!

"See what happened to Aldridge!" they can say "You're no better than Aldridge and you'll go to if you try any monkey business."

Aldridge was a chronic holdout and he had an argument with Barney Dreyfus every time he signed a new contract and he was always late in reporting. When he was traded to the Giants last winter for Burly Grimes he held out for dough and refused to report.

When he did report he was not in shape and was of such little value to the club that McGraw loaned him out to Newark.

And McGraw blamed him for the loss of the pennant.

TEETH IN THEM THERE RULES

More than a year ago when Boston wasn't such a good spot on the money map Ace Hudkins fought Al Mello and lost on a foul. The Massachusetts Boxing commissions suspende dhim but the Ace had his dough and he left the town laughing at the commission. He would never want to go back to the Boston sticks again and he didn't care.

Since the new Garden was built in Boston the town has been removed from the financial sticks. Good dough and important dough can now be commanded by the boxers in Boston and Hudkins wanted some of that dough.

Yes, he was willing to accept a match for the proper money, he told the promoters there and they offered him the proper money.

Then the commission had a stroke of memory.

"Hudkins is suspended in this state," the commission said.

"Aw, that was a long time ago. Let's forget it," Hudkins said.

"Yes, it was a long time ago," the commissioners said. "But a lifetime is longer and we set you down for life."

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP)—The New York Times says today that Tex Rickard will anounce tomorrow from Miami, Fla., that he has signed Jack Dempsey to fight Young Stribling at Miami on February 26.

HUDKINS WILL BATTLE DEVOS

ACE FROM NEBRASKA TO BATTLE BELGIAN MIDDLEWEIGHT

NEW YORK, Dec. 27—(AP)—One of the most important social events of the boxing season involves Ace Hudkins, of the Hudkinses of Nebraska, and Rene Devos, Belgian middleweight now connected with the Biddles of Philadelphia. They will fight it out tomorrow night with the prospect that most, if not all of the white shirt fronts of the famous "600 millionaires" will be in evidence.

Devos, fast and a good hitter, has impressed critics as the best foreign 160-pounder to come to these shores since Tommy Milligan. He will find Hudkins the most willing and persistent opponent he has met. There is no doubt whatever about it being a scrap.

RETIRED GENERAL IS WED IN BALBOA

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27 (AP)—Major General Ulysses Grant McAlexander, retired, known as "The Rock of the Marne," today was on his way to Hawaii for a honeymoon. His bride is Mrs. Grace Palmer Craig, San Francisco psychonalyst and lecturer. They were married at Balboa, Canal Zone.

General McAlexander arrived here from Panama on the transport Somme December 17. Efforts to interview him then failed. The marriage became known yesterday when a steamship company revealed that he had booked passage for "Major-General Ulysses Grant McAlexander and wife."

McAlexander won his title "Rock of the Marne" when as a colonel commanding the 38th infantry he held an important position against attacks by the German army. The Germans flung themselves repeatedly against McAlexander's forces for three days in July, 1918, but finally abandoned the attempt.

Thought For Today

It is with a word as with an arrow: the arrow once loosed does not return to the bow; nor a word to the lips.—Abdel Kader.

Deathless

The design for the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, in Arlington cemetery, has finally been selected.

It will be a beautiful buidling; an affair of white marble, with tall pillars across the facade, wearing an attitude of peace, simplicity and dignity. Within there will be a bier of sculptured marble, with bas-relief figures of Victory. Peace and the Soldier revealed at one end.

In it will lie the body that has become a national symbol—a symbol of sorrow, conflict and exaltation. Deathless life, everlasting victory, final triumph over the world and its myria dcross currents—these are the things that our shrine of the Unknown Soldier means to us.

Yet, when you stop to think about it, we are a strange people. Why do we have to select one dead boy out of 1100,000 to bring these things to our attention? Why can nothing but a death on the field of battle, and a national monument conceived in all the reverence and beauty of which we are capable, mean these things to us? When can we realize that the humblest man on earth, born to be forgotten and defeated at every turn, is as much a divine miracle and a living testimonial to the immortality and nobility of the human soul as any heroic victim of shell fire that we could find in all our battlefields?

Perhaps, because we have grown so skillful at making and using machines, we have lhet a little of our old oppreciation of the sacredness of each human individual. A man, by himself, does not mean quite as much in our eyes now. He can be replaced too easily by an automatic whirligig of metal, or blown to bits too easily by a shell.

It may be that when the newness of our machine age wears off a little we shall be wiser. We may be able to see, then, that the ordinary, unsung individual whom we miscall "the common man" fights great battles, wins magnificent victories, goes down bravely to bitter defeats. We may be able to realize that the hope of the race, the meaning of life and the secret of a soul that is deathless because it wills to be deathless are all locked up in his plain, undistinguished life story.

Each individual on earth, if he had his deserts, could be housed in a national monument of white marble. The Unknown Soldier, justly enough, has become an inspiration for us—an eternal symbol of man's greatness. But, if our eyes were a bit clearer, we would not need to go to Arlington for such symbols. They are all about us, every day of our lives.

Too Much Kindness

There surely isn't any over-supply of kindness in this world. Yet it is quite possible for an individual to bestow too much kindness on a loved one.

H. Addington Bruce, specialist in juvenile problems, writes in the current Good Housekeeping that a child's character can be ruined by over-kindness.

"A mother who lavishes too much love upon her child fials to promote his growth in unselfishness, self-reliance, judgment and enterprise," he says. "She need not flatter herself that this ruinous over-love will insure her the child's gratitude in later life."

Then he cites many cases of juvenile delinquency in which the guilty child had had, seemingly, every advantage that kind parents could bestow.

Nine Orchestras

If you have been harboring the idea that America lags far behind other countries in the matter of musical appreciation and musical ability, listen to these words by Deems Taylor, New York critic and composer. "There are nine orchestras in America which stand superior to the orchestras of any other country in the world."

Mr. Taylor made this statement at a meeting in Cleveland, where the tenth anniversary of the Cleveland orchestra's existence was being celebrated.

His remark upsets the notion that to get the best music one must go abroad. Indeed, it even shows that one need not even go to New York to enjoy orchestral music of the highest class. Such cities as Chicago, Minneapolis, Detroit, Cincinnati and others have orchestras as good as any music lover could ask. The country is no longer lagging in the world of music.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

The Plainsman is toasting his feet before the old home fires, and enjoying the realities of the good eats of the Christmas time, as prepared by the hand that rocked the cradle he flounced around in, and we presume he has neglected to send in the regular installment of dope for this column, and therefore the Substitute is called into to fill this space and mark time until the next installment shows up. We imagine however that this is caused by the congested mails during the Christmas season and there will be a budget of fresh thoughts arrive in time for the next Journal.

The Substitute and the Girl on Broadway are not on very friendly terms since the last time we wrote this column, she refused to put out anything for the first paragraph, and so we had to start it off with something less philosophical.

If the Plainsman was here he would possibly comment on the small number of drunks as compared with the number of people in Lubbock, on Christmas day, and we believe the number was very small, compared with the number who seem to have an ieda that the only way they can celebrate any occasion is to get tanked up on crazy stuff, that people choose to call intoxicants.

* * *

Personally we do not think that this word intoxicating should be used in connection with the stupidity that the present quality of "drinks" produces, and we doubt if the public in general are really interested in "twenty being drunk" unless twenty names were given in connection with it and then business would pick up at the newspaper office. It does not make much difference how proud a fellow is that he was "drunk last night" he does not especially want to see his name in print, in connection with it the day after.

Being envious is one of the things that the Lubbock people seldom ever if at all allow to get into their system. Lubbock has always put forth every effort to work with every town on the South Plains, and for that reason she has enjoyed a friendship that few towns have. Once in a while we notice that some of the editors who are new in this country, and have come from sections of the state where there is envy and jealousy and strife among towns, and they undertake to draw Lubbock in her broadminded liberal disposition into a controversy. Listen to this from a nice city to the South of us where an editor was recently imported from the east and who has not gotten fully saturated with the broadminded ideas of the west, evidence of which is clearly shown in this squib from his paper:

"Lubbock is a pretty good town we all admit. However, it has its handicaps, some of them serious. For instance, it is about 65 miles from Lamesa. Lubbock need not be unduly worried about this. Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Chicago, and New York suffer the disadvantages of being remote from Lamesa in a much greater degree.

Since Mayor Chester P. Mills has been paid $25,000 for the best dry law enforcement plan, we are looking for a big change in the enforcement plans of the nation. The plans have not been made public, but it ought to effective since it cost so much and is considered of such great value. If the present plan could just be stopped short in the road, the fellows who have been indulging in the spirits of the Eighteenth Amendment during the past few years, would all die out. They all have perforated stomach, and within the next few years will be quietly sleeping in silent city. The thing to stop the spread in the beginners department, and all will be well in the future.

Since Lubbock got through Christmas day without any serious fires caused by carelessness on the part of those celebrating the occasion, we see no reason why our people cannot be exceptionally cautious all the year round, and in that way our fire losses would be reduced to a small amount, and the insurance rate would be reduced, and we would have money enough to build better and bigger homes.

* * *

Without a few lines of poetry we hardly think this column would be complete so we have decided to try once more and here is the results of our efforts:

Of a road hog's nerve;
He met a fellow
Who would swerve.

With HOOVER in Latin America

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the fourth article of a series by Rodney Dutcher, NEA Service Washington correspondent, who is with President-elect Hoover's good-will party in South America.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

Copywright, 1928, NEA Service, Inc.

EN ROUTE WITH HOOVER IN LATIN AMERICA — Central America, in our foreign policy, has been regarded as more important from the standpoint of strategy in connection with the Panama Canal than as an outlet for American exports.

They are small republics. Construction of another canal through Nicaragua—which has been discussed for years—would tend further to define them as special political-economic wards of the United States.

In spite of or perhaps partially because of these factors, they have been by no means overlooked in the penetration of American capital abroad and in our search for markets. Future expansion of our exports to Central America will be limited largely by the fact that they are so predominantly agricultural in their pursuits and that their purchasing power hinges from year to year on crop conditions.

The proposed Nicaraguan Canal, under discussion for years, is shown here by the double line in the map above, from Britto to Greytown.

U. S. Investments Heavy

American investments in these countries are estimated at around $250,000,000. A great part of their steamship and railway systems is under American control and in recent years a fairly steady demand for American capital has been principally inspired by a desire for better railroad and port facilities.

Economically and hence psychologically, it is interesting to note, the Central American republics have always faced westward toward the Pacific—a fact of interest to our own Pacific ports. A continental road is now being completed, however, that will actually bring Salvador, Guatemala and even Honduras nearer to the Gulf and the United States.

Education of the masses of people, which some of the governments are trying to see to, will play an important part in future development. A great Indian population lives in poverty through this section, often in peonage, and subsisting on tortillas and beans. Despite all the coffee raised, coffee is often regarded as a luxury among these people; crude native cheese is used in place of butter.

Costa Rica Excels

Costa Rica, with a high percentage of pure Spanish blood, is highly developed and is perhaps the most "civilized" of them, according to our own standards.

Salvador is at worst a close second with a widespread land ownership, dense population an dintensive agricultural cultivation.

Guatemala which has 60 per cent Indian population, 2 per cent white and the rest mixed Indian-Spanish, is only fairly well developed. Hoover did not visit Guatemala owing to poor anchorage facilities for his battleship.

Honduras and Nicaragua with their large Indian population, are the least developed of all.

Low price levels are generally prevalent and progress has come to Central America mostly at the demand of foreigners. The bulks of Central American armies are still concentrated at the various capitals; the largest cities are generally clustered and except in Salvador huge tracts of land remain uncultivated, unexploited and comparatively uninhabited.

There appears to be an opportunity for more scientifically managed plantations as well as for development of the new territory.

Import Cotton Goods

Cotton fabrics, used for clothing, are the principal item of imports from the United States. The bulk of our exports to all Central American countries come pretty close to the bare necessities of life not manufactured domestically.

Then tendency of the American government and of American capital to frown on all revolutions has unquestionably helped the Central American republics to stabilize themselves and thus obtain a firmer foundation for increased proeperity.

The outstanding economic fact of the region, however, is that all are virtually one-crop countries. When staple crops are large and bring high prices nearly everyone is prosperous and happy. And vice versa.

With Our Contemporaries

OUR WORST SIDE

South Americans are being shown the worst side of North Americans and they are getting tired of it, according to one of the correspondents accompanying the Hoover party on its tour in part of the Latin American countries. It is alleged that the only news they get from our country as well as motion picture films deals with crime and sensations centering around Hollywood, all of which have given South Americans an erroneous impression of the "culture, intelligence and endeavors of those living in the United States."

In all seriousness can we enter a plea of not guilty to the indictment? Isn't it a fact that our news agencies have looked more to the criminal habitues of Chicago for news than to institutes of science and reasearch, universities and opera, where American life should be depicted. And if they have, is it surprising that our neighbors in foreign lands should become imbued with false ideas with respect to our love and admiration of the higher things in life?

But, who is to blame? News agencies and newspapers serve what the appetite of the American people call for. A Hollywood sensation involving one of the obscure members of the screen profession attracts more reading interest than a great scientific discovery announced from some institute of distinction. War between gangsters or racketeers in Chicago or some eastern city get a much better play in the news columns than some outstanding art display in which the soul of the artist is displayed and which carries an appeal to higher emotions of the people.

If the South Americans dislike the character and quality of news and pictures we send them it is because our own people see things differently. It is the demand that controls the supply and press associations engaged in the work of collecting and disseminating news for the people, also motion picture producers, are governed by what the people appear to prefer. And quite naturally, they assume that what is of interest to North America will also interest news readers and please theatre audiences in all countries. We are glad to know that it is not that way. Perhaps the story brought to us will serve as a mirror in which we can see ourselves and be moved to make a change.

Newspapers will be very glad to minimize the debasing things while emphsaizing the good and true — that which will elevate and make for better citizenship in every way, but newspapers, like the merchant, have to live—and that depends on being able to sell customers what they desire. We ought to court and be able to hold the good opinion of all peoples of the world, and when we find we have fallen into error we should correct it. Where could we make a better start?

In New York

By Swan

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Dates on nothing in particular and everything in general: Peggy Joyce, the blond who prefers gentlemen, surprised the Broadwayites the other night by turning out to be a praiseworthy actress . . . Which reminds me that Billy Dove is said to be a blond just now . . . And after all these years . . . Owen Davir, jr., is appearing in his daddy's latest play and says he can recite the names of all the Davis Jr., writings . . . Which is more than we can do.

And Claudette Colbert, who really has million-dollar legs, has been signed by the talking pictures . . . Greta Garbo ordered a hundred pair of Fifth avenue stockings sent out to Hollywood just before she took ship for Europe. . . . Any time a woman doesn't come back to claim a hundred pairs of hose we'll go to Europe and stay there.

The staff of Life will have to shift elsewhere for its bread. . . . Which means that Robert Sherwood, the movie critic, has left. . . . And Bob Benchley, they say, is going. . . . and Norman Anthony, the editor of Judge, is going to move in.

And they say that Paul Whiteman is all hot and bothered because someone asked him to play the pound of flesh in a revival of "Merchant of Venice" . . . Dhich reminds me that Richard Mansfield's widow has organized a company to take Shakespearan productions on the road . . . And Alexander Woollcott, the ex-critic, who was going to stay in South France for three years, is back again in first-night seats for a monthly magazine.

Which reminds me that gossip has become quite as marketable a commodity in New York as in the country weeklies. Four out of five New York newspapers now run departments devoted to gossip, after the fashion of the small town "personal" columns.

The chief difference lies in the fact that New York cannot be as general in its gossip as the lesser communities. There are too many Joneses and Smiths to give them even passing heed, unless they participated in a murder or a startling breach of promise. People in the public eye are selected for the morsels printed in Manhattan—writers, artists, actors, songsters and notables or near-notable. Many of these are national as well as local figures.

And while going in for things that are largely of New York, I might add that Hope Williams is the cute little actress upon whim the "cognoscenti" have decided to smile this season. . . Thanks to the unceasing comments of the fame-makers, Miss Williams is to be included hereafter in the "who's who" of the Broadway stage. . . A year ago she appeared in "Paris Bound," and her reappearance this season was closely watched.

Also, M. Ziefeld's new music show, "Whoopee," is the season's performance most likely to be showing on Broadway next Fourth of July.

One of my favorite characters has disappeared from the waiting room of the Pennsylvania railroad stations. He's the negro porter who goes about with a welledged scraper removing gum from the floors. When I inquired about his absence, I was told that fewer people chew gum in winter than in summer—a bit of information which should be included in something or other—and that the scraper is needed only in the late morning—an hour when I seldom visit the station. His all-day activities are necessary only in gum-chewing season.

Grover Whalen, New York's official welcomer, is said to be slated for the job of police commissioner. The theory may be that the killer of Arnold Rothstein is waiting to be sure he'll be cordially received before he surrenders.

The Prize Winner for This Year—128 Pounds Lost.

"I am the mother of three children. I am 27 years old and sometime ago weighed 238 pounds. I lost at the rate of two pounds a week by following your booklet very carefully. I now weigh 110 pounds—a loss of 128 pounds—and feel wonderful. My doctor says he would like to give you a medal for your wonderful work. I will never be able repay you for what you have done. God bless you. MRS. A."

LULU HUNT PETERS, M.D.

We have had reports of losses as high as 137 and 138 pounds before this year, but you are the prize winner this year, Mrs. A. You were wise to keep in touch with your physician as you had to have such a tremendous reduction.

I wish you would write us again and give us some details: Does overweight "run" in your family?; your height and physical activities; how low a caloric intake you went on; if your food tastes have changed entirely; how long you were accumulating your excess weight; and what exercises you took and anything else that is of interest.

Will you do that for us, please?

The instructions which Mrs. A. followed can be obtained by following column rules.

"Recently I had my urine tested and it was reported O. K., yet my back, across the kidneys, is very sore. Across my hips the ache is almost unbearable. But only at night. During the day I keep going and do not notice it so much but when I awake at night I could cry with pain and I can scarcely turn over. "MRS. E."

I see you are a believer in patent kidney-medicine ads, Mrs. E., for they lay great stress upon pain in the back as a symptom of kidney disease. But it is not a symptom of kidney disease at all as the examination of your urine has shown in your case.

You have some muscle and ligament strain which may be primarily caused by a lowered resistance from absorption from some infection, either from the tonsils or teeth or from the intestinal tract, etc., and it is probable that you don't get enough exercise of the back muscles. I would have an examination to see if you are normal and then I would advise your taking up the Tummy Ten exercises, balancing your diet, and, until the strain is overcome, have your back strapped.

Get a spool of adhesive tape (two or three inches wide) and cut off three or four lengths long enough to pass across the back from the front of one hip to the front of the other. Have them applied one at a time, and overlapping tightly, while standing.

On top of the straps you can apply hot water bags or electric heat, and massage can be given through them.

This can be done by some other member of the family if you cannot go to your physician.

Put a support, such as a small pillow, at the hollow of your back at night.

Send for our article on the Atonic Abdominal Wall which outlines the Tummy Ten exercises.

Dear E.—I'm sorry I cannot diagnose your troubles. Only a physician who examined you could do that.

Editor's Note—Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each article, to cover the cost of printing and handling. For the pamphlet on reducing and gaining, 10 cents in coin with fully self-addressed, and stamped envelope must be enclosed. Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

The World And All

BY CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

IN THE MAIL

Not often do I print complimentary letters from my readers. And yet, I don't know why. It isn't because I dislike to receive them. This letter, for instance, made me glow for a whole day. It's from Columbus, Ohio.

My Dear Mr. Driscoll: Because I think appreciation never is amiss, I am writing to thank you for your column bearing the heading "Most Lives." I happened to read it on a day when everything seemed so hopeless that I certainly had hit bottom in feeling sorry for myself. I suppose many, if not most of us, continually ride that seesaw of disappointment and faintly reviving hope. I am very grateful for the boost up from the ground end. I imagine that even a successful columnist must wonder sometimes on an off day if there is any use in grinding the stuff out, and if it ever makes any difference to anyone who reads it. And so I felt impelled this time to say, "Yes, thank you."

MARY CAMPBELL SPEAKER.

Then, there is a letter from Mrs. Viola Tabler, of Berkeley, California, from whose letters I have quoted heretofore. She says:

It is shocking to me that you should recommend that criminals be used for medical experimentation. I believe it is an acknowledged fact that criminals are the product of improper rearing. After the criminal has been made by ignorance and stupidity, greed and brutality, and he has been hounded and restrained by our prison system, you would consider all this not enough! You would turn him over to be tortured for medical experimentation—a relic of the Dark Ages. Man's inhumanity to man!

Mrs. Tabler, I fear, misunderstands me. I'd like to help remove the causes of criminality. That's quite a problem. It needs study and work. But what about the criminal who has already done his murder? He must be dealt with, too. I can't shed any tears for his having to go to prison. Rather, I'm sorry for the surviving relatives of the murdered person. And I'd like to see Mr. Murderer given a chance to pay back his debt to humanity by submitting to such humane medical experimentation as reputable medical institutions may publicly approve of. Not torture.

There's a good letter on scrap books from Mrs. H. W. Wildt, Alexandria, Virginia. She has more than 24 cigar boxes filled with classified newspaper clippings. She finds much educational material in the daily newspapers, as anybody can. I am always at work on several scrap books and clipping files myself, and my largest file is on pirates, of course, since that is my liveliest hobby.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 27 (AP)—The cotton market opened easier in sympathy with relatively lower Liverpool cables and circulation of notices for 7,000 bales of January cotton yesterday and today. First trades showed losses of 4 to 8 points. The market received good support on the dip and January advanced to 19.54 and March 19.61 or 2 to 6 points above the early lows.

The recovery was short-lived, towards the end of the first hour March made a new low at 19.54 while January duplicated its earlier low of 19.48 or 6 to 9 points under yesterday's close.

For the remainder of the morning the market was dull. Near noon January sold at 19.51 and March 19.75, or 5 to 6 points under yesterday's close.

NEW YORK TRADING

Trading was quiet after the call, with prices holding around 20.20 for March and 19.93 for July at the end of the first half hour, or within a point or two of yesterday's closing quotations.

The market acted as if notices were being stopped, as January sold about 3 points over March compared with a discount of 4 points at the close yesterday. At midday trading was quiet, with active months 1 to 6 points net lower.

DAY OF REST FOR COOLIDGE

PRESIDENT HOPES SOON TO START FAVORITE ENTERTAINMENT

(By Associated Press)

SAPELO ISLAND, Ga., Dec. 27.—After a journey of nearly 24 hours between Washington and Sapelo Island a day of rest was arranged for President Coolidge today by his host, Howard E. Coffin.

Numerous trips to points of historic interest in the adjacent country are in prospect for the chief executive, however, and before long he hopes to include his favorite recreation of shooting and fishing on the estates of Mrs. Coffin and in waters surrounding his Island home.

Governor L. G. Hardman of Georgia had cancelled a trip to California where he expected to see the football team of Georgia Tech oppose California in the annual New Year's Day Tournament of Roses to call at Sapelo Island today and welcome the President and Mrs. Coolidge to Georgia.

In contrast with the busy atmosphere that surrounds the executive offices at the White House, Mr. Coolidge found himself secluded upon an almost inaccessable island off the South Georgia coast.

Sapelo, one of the largest of the Sea Island group, lies some 25 miles north and east of Brunswick. Nearby are St. Simons and Jekly Islands, while sixty miles farther up the coast is the City of Savannah.

One telephone line, hastily installed, constituted the president's sole means of direct communication with the mainland, although a Sikorsky seaplane was moored just off the shore ready to be put to any use that the president might desire.

Wine-making is the principal industry of Portugal.

BUILDING HERE STILL GREATER

TOTAL WILL REACH A HIGHER FIGURE BY YEAR'S END, VIEW

That the unparalleled total of building permits in this city for 1928 will reach even higher marks by the end of the year next Monday was indicated yesterday with the granting of a $7,000 permit to Joe Baldridge for the construction of a brick tile and plaster business building at 807 Avenue H.

This permit increased the month's total to $95,400, only $4,600 below the $100,000 mark, as compared with the building total of December a year ago which was $77,126.

The 677 permits issued this year aggregate $3,124, 419. At the present time 855 construction jobs are under way in Lubbock, entolling a total expenditure of $778,889. Of this number the largest is the $275,-000 chemistry building of Tech college.

Other jobs under construction at this time include:

Coca Cola building, $12,400; Mrs. Hugh Taylor's residence, $9,500; O. R. Gable's residence, $9,000; Earl Hunt, business building, $12,000; Nineteenth Street Methodist church $9,000; J. B. Maxey, store, $10,000; George P. Kuykendall, residence, $18,000; W. R. Stout, residence, $8,-500; Fred Snyder residence, $25,000; Dalrymple & Moxley garage, $15,000; Pardue residence, $14,000; Dr. M. C. Overton residence, $30,000; Fort Worth & Denver depot, $45,889; L. H. Plain garage, $10,000; McLeod & Simmons laundry, $12,750; H. O. Wooten bonded storage building $25,000.

EARTH CRUST NOT FINISHED

THIS IS VIEW STATED BY SCIENTIST AT GOTHAM MEET

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 27—The earth's crust probably is not "dead" and finished in shape, the American Association for the Advancement of Science was told last night by Dr. Bailey Willis of Stanford university.

Instead, even the stable bottom of the Atlantic Ocean now may be heating up preparatory to causing land shifts. The theory is that scores of miles down in the rocks that form the skin of Mother Earth, great blisters form, as big as whole states, and that as they melt the rocks the resulting upthrusts make the earth's surface what it is, and whatever it may change to.

But there was nothing of possible human catastrophe in Dr. Willis' picture, for he spoke in the new time concept of science, his changes requiring millions of years.

He comfortingly named well known places where in the slow time scale such shifts actually seem now under way.

Dr. Willis' address inaugurated the annual convention of the association. His subject was "The Origin and Developments of Continents." He said all continents are great plateaus of granite, standing high above the sea bottoms, which are of basalt, a heavier rock.

Hygienic rules for cooking and eating were embodied in the Hindu religious laws to ensure their observance and they are observed to this day by all except the unorthodox.

CRITICS SAY MILLS WON $25,000 FOR SUGGESTING SCHEME ALREADY IN USE

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—In certain quarters there is the feeling that Major Chester P. Mills has received $25,000 for suggestions already in operation.

Major Mills, former prohibition administrator of the New York district, won $25,000 prize offered by W. T. Durant for the best plan of enforcing the dry laws.

James M. Doran, prohibition commissioner, said he regarded Mills' proposals as "merely an exchange of old stuff for new money."

"Durant has purchased a gold brick," declared James P. McGovern, counsel for the Industrial Alsobol Institute and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman ssid that Mills' plan was largely enforced at the present time."

While no government official connected with prohibition enforcement praised Major Mills' suggestions, not all of the comment was critical.

Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, general secretary of the World League against Alcohol, characterized it as a "real contribution," and Senator Capper of Kansas, said that "taking the enforcement of the Volstead Act out of politics is highly important."

Austen G. Fox, chairman of the Moderation League, commented on what he termed the "merry confidence" of the Mills' plan and asked why it was abandoned after the latter had retired as administrator for the New York district."

WIFE CAME NEAR TO WINNING PRIZE

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Chester P. Mills, wife of the former New York prohibition administrator, nearly beat her husband to the $25,000 Durant prize for the best prohibition enforcement plan, the prize committee disclosed today.

A plan submitted by Mrs. Mills kept company with that of her husband until the final sifting of the half dozen considered to be the best of 23,230 contributions, Dr. William H. Alen, chairman of the committee said.

Major Mills said he would have been less surprised had Mrs. Mills won the prize than he was at his own success.

The plan submitted by Mrs. Mills calls for the education of communities to the necessity of cooperation, more federal judges, more careful selection of prohibition agents, large bonds for manufacturers using alcohol, public reports by prohibition administrators, additional treaties to control smuggling and closer supervision of breweries and the withdrawal of sacramental wines.

SEARCH ORDERED FOR STEAMER

SEATTLE, Dec. 27 (AP)—Vessels of the North Pacific were asked today to search for the Italian steamer Cilda Scuderi, long overdue at Kobe, Japan. The vessel said from Seattle November 5 with a crew of 25, and since has not reported her position.

The navy department has asked all vessels on the northern trade route to watch for the craft. The Scuderi, formerly the Emperor of Montreal and the Canadian Trader, is registered from Genoa. She was built at Port Arthur, Ont., in 1919, and is a steel schooner of 2176 tons.

Anti-Noise Law Boosted by Deaf

HAVANA, Dec. 26. (AP)—It remained for a deaf alderman to put through an anti-noise bill for Havana, sometimes declared the noisiest city in the world.

The alderman is Juan Borrell. In an address before the council today Borrell strongly complained of the constant street racket and what he termed the "eternal noise marathon."

It was not until the measure was adopted that some one recalled that Borrell is so deaf that he does not even hear the night nine o'clock cannon fired at old Cabanas Fortress.

Children Guests At Theaters Here

Hundreds of children of the city were guests at the Palace, Lindsey and Lyric theaters yesterday afternoon as a part of the Kiwanis Cheer Fund program. The kiddies were presented with tickets, complimentary from the management, in the boxes given to them for Christmas.

The children attended the Palace yesterday and Tuesday and the Lyric yesterday from 10 to 12 o'clock in the morning.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

GAS COMPANY FACING SUIT

$46,998.99 IS ASKED BY MOORE CONSTRUCTION FIRM IN PETITION

Charging that the West Texas Gas company had failed and refused to pay for completed pipe line construction contracted for, a suit for $46,998.99, styled John W. Moore, under the trade name of John W. Moore Construction Company, vs. the West Texas Gas Company was filed in the Lubbock division of the Federal District court for the Northern District of Texas yesterday.

This was the third case in law to be filed in the federal court here. The plaintiff is represented by W. D. Girand and Leonard Pearson.

The suit is based on alleged contracts for pipe line construction between Lubbock and Midland, Canyon and Hereford, and Slaton and Post. The petition alleges that all of this work was completed by the construction company and that it was approved by the gas company, which "is now unlawfully withholding from the plaintiff" the aggregate sum of $46,998.99, claimed to be due for services rendered.

Ratliff's Real Estate Bargains

The following list is fine for you to investigate during Christmas week. Those for sale are far below the price they will ever be again. You have been waiting for bargains in realty, do not wait too long. They will either be taken by some judicious buyer for the sure profit or the owner will arrange to hold them.

No. 1. Is that property on Avenue Q. You are overlooking a rare investment and splendid location for suburban store.

No. 2. Is that wonderful quarter of unimproved land, now is your time to reap a great profit, for the owner says sell.

No. 3. The owner has a $2,000 interest in a fine quarter, well located, he says sell for a good automobile.

No. 4. Is a beautiful brick in Highland, reasonable loan, no second notes, exchange for automobile or lots.

These are just a few of the attractive investments we have listed. Come to see us.

BROWNFIELD, Dec. 26—The corn crop of this county is coming on the market at a lively rate with a price of fifty-three cents the bushel which promises to increase as there is an active demand with representatives from several Texas milling companies ready to absorb all offerings. Estimates of the total crop range around 1,000,000 bushels and about one-half of this will be sold. Maize is also being offered but production will not be as large as corn.

Prison Sentence Just Signifies Travel For One

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Dec. 27— (AP) —A prison sentence offers most men a chance to settle down for a time but to Jack P. Jones serving a prison sentence from Wilbarger county, it is nothing but an opportunity to travel.

Jones told police who arrested him here last night that he had escaped from the prison at Huntsville six times and been recaptured as often. His last escape was made Nov. 30 when he left the prison with 29 other convicts. Officers located him at a rooming house here.

INAUGURATION TO SHOW SIMPLICITY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.— (AP)— Hope for the flare and blare of old fashioned inauguaration, is not entirely dead, though Herbert Hoover declares for simplicity.

Skeletonized plans for the ceremony will be ready for the president-elect when he reaches Washington. It would be no surprise if he says once again that he wishes his inauguaration to be simple.

Nevertheless, many visitors are expected in Washington and the town is going ahead with plans to entertain them, with Colonel U. S. Grant, 3rd, in charge of the general inauguarl committee.

The entertainment committee, headed by E. C. Graham, has hired the Washington auditorium for five days, March 1 to 5 and another committee is engaging choirs, orchestras and dancing ensembles.

The churches are expected to be asked to cooperate with the committees making inaugural plans.

Tariff Protection For All Is Sought

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 27 (AP)— A policy of protection applying with equal force to every industry of the country is favored by Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, majority floor leader of the house, as a foundation stone for the tariff structure changes to be decided upon by congress.

"We in New England," said Tilson in an address before members of the Connecticut Chamber of Commerce today, "should favor proper protection for farming, mining and other industries just as we ask and need it for purely manufacturing industries. A policy of protection must be based upon principles broad enough to cover the nation or it cannot stand."

The Tinies, when they'd eaten all the canes they could, heard Jack Frost call. "Come here, you little fellows! I've a dandy plan in mind. I'm very sure that all of you will do whatever you can do to please your old friend, Santa. Here's a hunch that's very kind.

"You see, when you were helping him get all his Christmas things in trim, it quite upset our Toyland. Now the place looks just a fright. Perhaps you'll all be very keen to join right in and help me clean. It won't take very long I'm sure, for us to fix it right."

"You bet!" cried Scouty. "We are game. Why, really it would be a shame, if Santa Claus came sailing back and found things in a mess." Then to the rest he cried, "Don't shirk. Instead let's all sail in and work. We'll have to rush 'cause he'll be coming back here soon, I guess."

"Oh, no he won't" Jack Frost replied. "By this time he has gone to hide within his little northland home where he can get good rest. But, even so, well rush along and see that nothing's looking wrong. Then, when he does arrive here, all you Tinies will be blessed."

And so they worked till all Toyland was swept and cleaned, and looking grand. When Jack Frost saw what they had done, it opened up his eyes. "Well, well," said he, "this sure is fine. You've had your turn; now I'll have mine, I'll do you all a favor. It's to be a big surprise.

"Outside of Toyland you will find a box that proves that Santa's kind. It's something that he left for you. Now, let's run out and see!" They found the box out in the snow, and Clowny said, "I'd like to know what is inside. Just look at it! It's big as it can be."

VARIED VIEWS ON DRY PLANS

PROHIBITION CHIEFS ASSERT MOST IDEAS ARE BEING USED

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec., 27—Federal officials today expressed the opinion that the $25,000 prize winning prohibition plan by Chester P. Mills was a good one but that practically all of his suggestions now were a part of the dry law enforcement machinery.

James M. Doran, prohibition commissioner, said he regarded Mills' proposal as "merely an exchange of old stuff for new money". Eeymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement ,declared he had no criticism to offer except that Mills' suggestions already were being carried out to a large extent.

Mills, a former prohibition administrator for the New York district, was awarded the $25,000 Durant prize for the best plan for enforcing the dry statute. Among other things his proposal advocated curbing diversion of industrial alcohol, suppressing independent denaturing plants, and a closer scrutiny of permits. He also urged that prohibition enforcement be taken out of politics.

At the time Mills left the prohibition service he charged it was due to politics, but Doran ,the next day, said that this was not true.

Doran today said the major source of illicit liquor was not diversion of alcohol, but was in smuggling and illicit distilling from grain and corn sugar. Diversion, he said, almost had been eliminated.

Volstead Not Very Greatly Impressed

ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 27—(AP)— Andrew J. Volstead said today that he was not particularly impressed by the Mills plan to make prohibition effective.

"Major Mills (winner of the Durant $25,000 prize for a program of prohibition enforcement) is entitled to a good deal of credit for not proposing a reorganization of the service," said Mr. Volstead, author of the federal enforcement act. "The prohibition forces have been organized almost to death. It has been the bane of the service almost from the very start."

Mr. Volstead said the prohibition bureau already is operating along the lines of "stopping the source" outlined by Major Mills.
