Generals Vote To Cut Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP)—A committee of regular Army, National Guard and Reserve generals has secretly voted 11 to 10 for a controversial plan to drop 15 National Guard divisions and four Reserve brigades, it was learned today.

Narrow as it was, the vote is regarded as a boost for the plan, which is believed to have at least the general blessing of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The proposal—latest step in a year-long Pentagon drive to streamline the Reserve forces—is expected to encounter stiff opposition from powerful members of Congress.

The 21-member Reserve Forces Policy Committee voted last week. The regular Army, the Guard and the Reserves have seven representatives each on the panel.

Pentagon officials have classified details as secret. The Army said details include information on force structure, manning and equipment levels, and mobilization and contingency planning which could assist a potential enemy.

It is known that the effect of the latest reorganization proposal would be to place virtually all the combat units of the Army backup forces in the National Guard, and service support outfits in the Reserve.

The cutting edge of the Guard would be reduced to 8 divisions and 18 independent brigades—a total of 42 brigades—manned at nearly full combat strength.

This would mean abolition of 15 Guard divisions which now form a reinforcing reserve at about 50 per cent of full strength. There are about 1,000 units in each of the 15 divisions.

Officials said most of the men now in these low-priority divisions probably would be absorbed into first-line outfits.

The officers and enlisted men in the four Army Reserve brigades tabbed for elimination also are expected to wind up in high-priority units. These brigades are manned at between 75 and 90 per cent of maximum strength.

Under the plan as now drawn, even the eight high-strength Guard divisions would be revamped geographically.

The effort is being made to give as many states as possible at least one brigade of abut 4,500 men each. Several of the large states would get as many as three brigades.

Guard officials have said about 4 brigades are needed to permit the states to handle internal problems such as civil rights disturbances and natural disasters.

The package will be considered by Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, and Secretary of the Army Stanley Resor before being sent to McNamara for final approval.

In successive stages dating back more than five years, McNamara has sought to cut away those Guard and Reserve units which he considered surplus to war plan requirements and too lightly manned and equipped to be of any quick use in a mobilization.

Eight Perish In Collision

GOLDTHWAITE, Tex. (AP)—Eight persons were killed, including a trucker and an Alabama couple and five of their children, in a Central Texas highway crash Tuesday night.

Three other children of the Alabama couple and a second person in the truck suffered injuries.

Earl T. Waller, 36; his wife Pauline, 31; and their eight children were hurled from their 1954 car when the collision occurred as the car turned onto U.S. 84 fifteen miles east of here.

Two other Waller children, Eddie, 8, and Roy, 7, were in fair condition, at Goldwaite Hospital. The driver of the tractor-trailer, Paul L. Justice, 32, of Connellys Springs, N.C., was in good condition.

Haiphong Area Hit By New Jet Raids

SAIGON (AP) — A powerful strike force from three U.S. aircraft carriers bombed a MIG airfield just outside the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong today and two of the city's thermal power plants, including one inside the city limits.

The raid just after noon cost one Skyhawk jet shot down by Red gunners, the 536th U.S. combat plane reported lost over North Vietnam. The pilot was missing.

The two power plants had been hit before on April 29, but the raid on the Kien An airfield 5½ miles southwest of Haiphong was the first against that MIG base. It was the third MIG base bombed by American warplanes.

In the ground war the northwest corner of South Vietnam continued to be the hottest front as U.S. Marines fought another battle with North Vietnamese troops and Air Force B52s made two attacks in support of the Leathernecks. The Marines claimed 31 North Vietnamese dead in a five-hour fight Tuesday but reported 24 Marines killed and 19 wounded.

The jets that raided the Haiphong area streaked off the flight decks of the carriers Enterprise, Hancock and Kitty Hawk.

A U.S. spokesman said the noontime raids had good weather and the pilots reported their bombs on target. However, there was no immediate assessment of bomb damage.

Following the previous raids on the power stations, pilots reported the lights of North Vietnam's major port went out for one night.

The power plant inside Haiphong, in a northwest sector of the city, is part of an industrial complex which includes a cement plant that also has been bombed. The other power plant is just east of the Haiphong city limits.

The coordinated strikes from the three carriers were among the heaviest raids ever made on the Haiphong area.

The Kien An airfield is evidently one of the secondary bases for the North Vietnamese air force's jets. A spokesman said MIG'S had been seen operating from the field in the past few days but he did not know if there were any on the field when it was hit.

He also had no word on whether MIG opposition was encountered in the air.

American warplanes have previously blasted the MIG bases at Kep, 37 miles northeast of Hanoi, and Hoa Lac 20 miles west of the capital.

A spokesman said Tuesday that Hoa Lac field, hit five times, could no longer be used.

Although three MIG bases have now been hit, the North Vietnamese air force has at least three other jet fields which have not been bombed. These are at Phuc Yen, Gia Lam and Cat Be, all in the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

Temperature Sizzles In Texas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hot air billowed northward across Texas today to reenforce assaults on spring heat records.

The mercury hit highs ranging up to a sizzling 110 degrees at Presidio in the Big Bend country Tuesday, and no relief was in sight.

Brisk south winds herded warm, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico inland over East and Central Texas, while hotter and dryer air flowed northward from Mexico across West Texas.

The weather calmed at least temporarily as a front stalled diagonally across the state through areas near Orange, Abilene and Dalhart.

Aside from the scorcher at Presidio, top marks Tuesday included San Angelo 105, Laredo 104, Wink 103 and Junction and Midand 101. The San Angelo and Midland readings set new records for the date.

Forecasts held out a possibility of thunderstorms by evening in Northwest Texas and scattered showers by Thursday in Southwest Texas. No moisture was predicted in other sections.

Long range predictions, covering the next five days, called for temperatures averaging up to 8 or 10 degrees above normal in the central and east parts of the state and 5 above elsewhere. Scattered showers were expected in Central and East Texas.

MUSICAL GROUP — These Central Elementary students are part of a 6th grade boys choir that will perform at the Spring Festival Concert at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the high school auditorium. 'Sparkle' Has Emphasis At C-C Session

"Operation Sparkle" got major emphasis at Tuesday's meeting of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors.

Reports were presented on two beautification committee sessions and Chamber officials urged that everyone notify the Chamber office if plans for any improvements to property in the coming months.

Operation Sparkle is a contest conducted by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to stimulate community improvements in cities and towns in the WTCC area. When notice of projected improvements is received at the Chamber office, arrangements will be made to take "before and after" pictures which will be used in exhibits to be presented to judges.

The board also was given a report on the WTCC convention at Del Rio, which was attended by a local delegation and several other routine committee activities.

School Choirs To Present Concert

The Vocal Music Department of the Snyder Public Schools will present its Spring Festival Concert at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the high school auditorium. Featured on the program will be a 6th grade boys choir, consisting of 65 boys from all of the elementary schools in the system.

They will sing "America," "This Land Is Your Land," "Bonua," and "Poor Lonesome Cowboy." Appearing as guest choir will be the Lamar Boys Choir which recently attained a superior rating at the UIL Contest held in Abilene.

The high school choirs will present various selections from the years' repetoire. The following are the selections: "Slender Young Birch" by Dvorak, "Beatitudes" by Glarum, "Eternal Life" by Dungan, "A Walk With Peter and Paul" by Bright, and "Creation" by Scott and narrated by Otis Archie.

The girls choir will sing the following numbers: "Now I Lay Me own To Sleep" by Thompson, "He's Gone Away" by Ronald, and "Sunrise" by Bright. The boys choir will sing "The Maid of Amsterdam," "Roadways," "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," and "Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines."

The Madrigal Singers and the Boys Quartet will sing several selections. Emily Kincaid will sing a folk song entitled "Gone The Rainbow."

The program will conclude with the singing of the finale, "From Sea to Shining Sea," by all choir members. The price of admission is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. Proceeds will help cover expenses of the choir tour. The high school choirs are under the direction of Jim Casey.

30 On Tour At Fluvanna

A delegation of some 30 Snyder businessmen, headed by members of the Chamber of Commerce - Producers Club, made a tour Tuesday to the Fluvanna community.

The tour was arranged by the Producer's Club (gold coaters) and coincided with a visit to Fluvanna by judges in the Texas A&M Extension Service rural community improvement contest.

The judges were highly complimentary of Fluvanna's community improvement work, much of which has been spearheaded by the Fluvanna Young Farmers Chapter.

Visitors on the tour gathered at the Fluvanna Community Center where refreshments were served by ladies of the community.

Occupational Training Is Okayed For Travis School

Snyder School Trustees last night approved a proposal for adding occupational training to the curriculum at Travis Junior High School, took their first look at a compilation of budget proposals from the various school departments and immediately sharpened their pencils.

The board also got a report from a cafeteria evaluation team, discussed personnel needs for 1967-68 and adopted a policy on teacher contracts.

For several weeks the board had been collecting budget requests from the various departments, and last night the first overall total was presented by the administration. It came to some $144,000 above the 1966-67 budget, without considering the possibility of a teacher pay raise.

Dr. Robert Clinton said the compilation of requests was "the starting point" for developing the finished budget proposal and he asked for guidelines in refining the overall proposal. It was the concesus of the board that substantial reductions would be required. In fact, the board took action to delete part of one item which had been budgeted. It voted to discontinue payments to the city for special services, except for four school crossing guards. Previously the school has participated in financing one patrol car.

Pat Falls, assistant superintendent, and Jack Gorman, principal of Travis Junior High School, presented the proposal for occupational training at Travis. They said preliminary studies indicated that facilities at the old Lincoln School building could be used for the laboratory or actual training, while students involved in the program could be moved to the main Travis building by bus for their academic courses. The occupational training, costs of which are shared by the Texas Education Agency, provides training for both boys and girls in fields such as mechanics, repair operations, homemaking, food service, domestic service, etc., along with a specialized academic curriculum.

The project, here, which can be put into operation this fall, will involve 64 pupils at Travis and will be regarded as a sort

Tourism Cited As Fastest Growing Industry In Area

Tourism is the fastest growing industry, especially in this part of the country, and points of historical interest are major factors in promoting such an industry.

This was emphasized Tuesday afternoon by Phil Davis, Chief of Community Relations for the Texas Tourist Development Agency. He spoke at a regional meeting of County Historical Survey Committees at the Snyder Country Club.

Davis said 19,236,000 tourists spent an average of 5.8 days each in Texas last year. They spent over a billion dollars. If they could have been enticed to stay over an extra day, they would have left $188 million more in Texas, Davis declared. Of the total amount spent, $86.4 million went for taxes.

"These are taxes we did not have to pay, yet our state treasury benefitted," Davis declared.

He said 24 tourists per day stopping in a town are equal to an industry with a $100,000 annual payroll. Estimates this year indicated that tourists in this country will spend at least $32 billion, and Davis said that communities who prepare for them will benefit most.

Davis suggested that communities organize through their historical committees, chambers of commece or other groups to identify possible points of interest in their respective areas and then promote and advertise.

The Hemisfair which will be staged in 1968 in San Antonio offers the entire state an excellent opportunity to attract extra tourists, Davis reminded. He said seven and a half million Hemisfar vistors are expected of pilot project. Members of the board and administrators agreed that such a program in a junior high school would require ultimately some continuation at the senior high level if the program is to be effective.

Mrs. Audette Harkins, School Lunch Room Supervisor for the Texas Education Agency, who headed an evaluation team, gave the board a report on the team's observations of school cafeteria services here. The board had asked for the survey in an effort to plan for a reduction of fiscal deficits in the cafeteria operations. Mrs. Harkins pointed out several areas which might be modified to provide more efficient and less expensive operation. She suggested that the director of School cafeterias be given more time to circulate among the cafeterias of the various schools to assist with organization of cafeteria staffs, scheduling, etc. Also, she suggested that reduced rate lunches instead of "free" lunches in some cases could probably help reduce the deficit in operations. Children should be asked to pay whatever they can when they apply for special consideration in the lunchroom program, Mrs. Harkins suggested.

Following Mrs. Harkins' report, the board instructed the administration to present specific proposals, based on a study of the evaluation, for lowering cafeteria expenses and to present them at the next meeting.

The policy on teachers contracts provides that resignations after April 15 must be presented at least 30 days before the effective dates and that the administration must have a suitable replacement lined up before the board will approve such resignations. April 15 is the deadline for routine notifications on contracts. Teachers who do not indicate otherwise by that date are presumed to have executed contracts for the following year. At the same time, teachers who are not notified otherwise by the administration by that date, are assured contracts for the following year.

In other business, the board decided not to renew the contract of Edgar Taylor for collection of delinquent taxes, since the school tax assessor - collector is handling most of this work.

A proposed budget for a summer recreation program was approved in the amount of $1,572. The board also okayed continuing participation in the Scurry County Boys' Club summer program in the amount of $600.

The board voted to continue participation in the USDA commodity program for the lunch room program during the 1967-68 school year.

Invited guests attending the meeting included Ralph Wesson and Dr. John Blum and three classroom teachers, June Brock, Carol Casey and Margie McNair. Don Browning, minister of East Side Church of Christ, gave the invocation.

Says Study Impractical

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., chairman of a Senate Appropriations subcommittee, said Tuesday it was a "waste of money" to try to figure out ways to transport water from the lower Mississippi River to West Texas and Arizona.

Sen. Ellender said such a project would "involve moving the water 800 miles and lifting it 3,500 feet."

Congress was asked to provide funds so Army Engineers might participate in any study of proposals to move the water.

Calvin Watts of the Louisiana Public Works Department was spokesman for the Lower Mississippi Valley Flood Control Association before the subcommittee Tuesday.

Watts said he agreed with Sen. Ellender, but wanted to make sure that if such a study is made Army Engineers will participate in it.

Surpluses Show Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's investment in farm surpluses has dipped to the lowest level since September 1953.

The amount, as reported by the Agriculture Department, was $3.95 billion on March 31. This compared with $6.36 billion a year earlier. At times in the past the investment exceeded $9 billion.

But the outlay of the department's price supporting agency — the Commodity Credit Corporation—is running at a record high level. Its losses for the first nine months of the fiscal year ending June 30 was $3.28 billion compared with $2.31 billion in the like period last year.

This increase in losses reflects a larger volume of payments made to farmers for complying with programs designed to prevent overproduction.

York Cross To Hanback

Marvin E. Hanback of Snyder has been awarded the designation of Knight of the York Cross of Honour. The honorary degree, highest in the York Rite of Freemasonry, is conferred only on those who have held the highest office in each of the four bodies of the rite.

Hanback thus has become one of the comparative handful of about 400 from over four and a quarter million Freemasons in North America and the Philippines to qualify this year. In the past 38 years, 11,010 have received this designation.

Hanback has served as Master of Hermleigh Lodges in 1944, high priest of the Snyder chapter of Royal Arch Masons in 1959, master of Snyder Council of Royal and Select Masters in 1960, commander of Snyder Commandery, Knights Templar in 1962 and was elected to membership in the Texas Priory with his election confirmed on May 5 by the Convent General of the Order.

In 1955, Hanback served as District Deputy Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter of Texas.

Rubble To Be Searched

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—An anonymous telephone caller told Fire Chief A. C. Jones Tuesday that he saw a man standing in an upstairs window of the vacant Texas Hotel just before the four-story building was destroyed in a $500,000 fire Sunday night.

Jones said the man called because he wanted to clear his conscience.

Fire Marshal Reece Bowen said transients often used the building. Bowen sent a letter to the city manager Tuesday, saying he wants debris cleared away from the structure immediately by the owner or the city will move into the building to search for a possible body in the ruins. A dozen businesses were damaged in the fire.

The building was owned by W. C. Miller of Dallas.

TOURISM

from other states.

"Some of them will pass through Snyder," Davis predicted, "and if you can get them to stop for a day or two here, your economy will benefit."

The Hemisfair will be Texas' first actual world's fair, Davis said.

Following up Davis' suggestions, Truett Latimer, Executive Director of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, told of a state-wide plan to try to get more tourists off the freeways and interstate highways to see points of interest.

Designated "Travel Trails of Texas," the project, at the request of the governor, is being developed by a committee which includes the Texas Tourist Development Agency, the Parks and Wildlife Department, the State Library and the Historical Survey Committee. The committee plans to ask county judges, chambers of commerce and county historical survey committees to submit possible trail routes in their areas. After selections are made, the Texas Highway Department will publish maps of the trails and these will be given the usual distribution to tourists.

Identifying signs will be placed along the trails and other promotional activities will be pursued in connection with the project.

Latimer said there are many opportunities for promotion of tourism. Sometimes, however, shortages of funds and other factors make it necessary for promoters to use some ingenuity. He cited as an example the Chisholm Trail Centennial celebration. A committee was appointed to develop this, but it was not given any funds. However, the Santa Fe Railway ultimately donated a club car, which has been turned into a traveling exhibition facility. It will be taken as nearly as possibly up the old Chisholm Trail by rail. After the tour, the Texas Historical Survey Committee and other agencies hope to get it back into Texas so that it may be shown throughout the state.

Representatives of half a dozen county historical survey committees were here for the regional meeting, which was presided over by Hugh Boren Jr., president of the Scurry County Committee. Following the session at the Country Club, the group made a tour of some points of historical interest, starting with the "witness tree" marker near the Scurry County Library, and ending at the S. D. Hays ranch where the group saw the skin of the white buffalo killed by J. Wright Mooar.

Boren announced that the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee has ordered a fiberglass replica of the white buffalo which will be placed beside the county marker on the courthouse property.

ROBO WASH

DEAR ABBY: My husband, who appears for all the world to be an ideal husband and father, is beginning to worry me. I don't know what's got into him lately, but he has become so anti-religious. He was brought up in the Catholic church. I became a convert for his sake. Now he has turned against religion like a madman. When I say grace at the table he shouts, "Thank me for the food — not God!" (And right in front of the children, too.) He refuses to go to church, and makes fun of me and the children when we go. I asked our priest to come over and speak to him, but he wouldn't let the priest in the house. What am I to do, Abby? He seems all right otherwise, he's just got this thing about religion. Do you think he'll get over it?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: This "thing" your husband has about religion is a symptom of mental illness. Talk to your family doctor and together perhaps you two can work out a way to have your husband examined physically and mentally. Don't wait for him to "get over" it. He needs treatment.

DEAR ABBY: A new couple moved to town. They didn't know a soul, so my husband and I took them under our wing and introduced them to all our friends.

Now that they are no longer lonely, they have been entertaining all the people we introduced them to, and they haven't been including us. I think this is a lot of nerve. What do you think?

USED

DEAR USED: Good manners would dictate that they show their appreciation to you in some way. But they are under no obligation to "include" you when they entertain those whom they have met thru you. Don't feel "used." Everyone has the privilege of choosing his own friends.

DEAR ABBY: Everyone else airs his gripe in your column, so I want to add mine. It's this blackmail business of "tipping." I'm a salesman, and nobody has ever tipped me for doing a good job. And why should he? I am just doing the job I'm getting paid to do. When I take a woman out to dinner if I don't hand out tips to doormen, waiters, captains, hatcheck girls, and the man who parks my car, I look like a cheap skate.

We could sure take a lesson from our European cousins. There they add 15 per cent to the bill and there is no tipping.

SICK OF TIPPING

DEAR SICK: For good or ill, (and I dislike tipping, too) many persons serving the public have been forced to rely on tips for a substantial part of their income. Their base pay is low and tips are supposed to provide a living wage. Adding a percentage to the bill is not always practical. So, annoying tho the system is, a lot of people are trapped in it — including both the tippers and the tipped.

When you look for the most room and the smoothest ride and the best value, you'll end up with a Chevrolet wagon everytime.

Chevrolet Impala, roomiest in its class. While extra roominess is perhaps the best reason for buying a Chevrolet wagon, consider, also, these bonuses: Body by Fisher, Chevrolet dependability, flush-and-dry rocker panels and Magic-Mirror finish. Chevelle Malibu, smoother, quieter ride. A Malibu not only gives you a Full Coil suspension ride, but the body mountings are double-cushioned. And Chevelle carries plenty. It opens wide, 54.6 inches, to be exact, 28.5 inches high. Flip the second seat down and you've got 86 cubic feet of cargo space for all your gear. Chevelle was built to take a lot. Chevy II Nova, best equipped for the money. All-vinyl upholstery is standard. Flush-and-dry rocker panels that clean themselves are standard. Separate panels beneath each fender to inhibit rust are standard. Mono-Plate rear suspension to smooth the ride is standard. Price? Below standard.

KEEP DESSERT LIGHT and cool these warm June days. Serve your family or guests this fluffy, festive-looking Butterscotch Cream Pie. While it looks rich it's made with cottage cheese that versatile dairy food known for its low-calorie count and generous amounts of nutrients it contains.

Cream Pie With A Caramel Flavor

You can call it caramel or call it butterscotch . . . call it cheesecake or cheese pie . . . . by any name this dessert is just as delectable and as simple to make. There's just enough butterscotch in it to give a wonderful old-fashioned flavor, and a blend of cottage cheese and whipped cream makes it delightfully creamy and light.

Its crust is just about the simplest you can make. You merely mix butter, sugar and graham cracker crumbs, press into a pie plate and bake for 5 minutes. While it bakes and cools you can be stirring up the filling, made with unflavored gelatin, egg yolks and a bit of sugar and salt. Half a package of butterscotch pieces melts right in, adding luscious flavor, and don't forget a dash of vanilla.

Fold in cottage cheese to make the filling creamy and its flavor dairy-fresh. It's a good way to add milk protein to the family's diet in a dessert they'll enjoy. Next add beaten egg whites for airy lightness, and last fold in the whipped cream to add luxurious smoothness.

This heavenly filling is chilled, then heaped into the waiting crust and topped with toasted coconut. Butterscotch Cream Pie is a gem of a dessert to serve your family or guests.

Butterscotch Cream Pie

CRUST:
1 1-3 cups graham cracker crumbs (16 squares)
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ cup (½stick) butter, melted

FILLING:
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin.
¼ cup cold water
3 egg yolks, beaten
¼ cup sugar
½ cup butterscotch pieces
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups cottage cheese, sieved
3 egg whites
¼ cup sugar
½ cup whipping cream, whipped
1-3 cup toasted flaked coconut

To prepare Crust: In a small bowl mix together crumbs and sugar; stir in butter. Press mixture firmly and evenly against bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate, building up slightly around rim. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven 5 minutes. Cool on wire rack. To prepare Filling: Sprinkle gelatin on water to soften. In a small saucepan combine egg yolks, sugar, butterscotch pieces, salt and softened gelatin. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until butterscotch pieces are melted. Add vanilla and cool; fold into cottage cheese. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form; add sugar and continue beating until stiff. Fold into cottage cheese mixture; then fold in whipped cream. Chill until mixture mounds; turn into crust. Sprinkle coconut on top; chill.

As China Grows Stronger What Does Future Hold?

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The public mind is so occupied by Vietnam there is hardly any talk of what lies beyond it even though what lies beyond it will haunt this country for years to come.

Red China, for instance. A bit of the future was mentioned Tuesday by President Johnson—but without dwelling on it, as if it could be taken for granted forever.

He was at a luncheon honoring Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's right-hand man on Formosa, C. K. Yen, vice president and premier of Nationalist China, with which this country has a mutual defense agreement.

Johnson said this country is committed to the defense of Formosa, which was just stating the obvious since this has been the case ever since the United States, after first wanting nothing to do with it, took Formosa under its wing during the Korean War.

"It is an alliance tested in time of war, tempered by our struggle against forces that would have destroyed us both," said Johnson, without mentioning Red China or communism.

As a nation the Red Chinese are still in their infancy. They didn't take over mainland China until 1949, which is when Chiang and such forces as he had left, fled to Formosa.

But the revolutionary fanatics, like Mao Tse-tung, are still alive.

And the American war against their next-door neighbors, the North Vietnamese Communists, is something like the barrier President Harry S. Truman set up in Europe with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to stop the spread of Soviet communism.

NATO served another purpose in holding communism back: It gave that revolutionary fanatic, Joseph Stalin, time to die. The American war in Vietnam, a similar holding action, is giving the early Red Chinese fanatics time to die.

In the Soviet Union more moderate men took over after Stalin, although that was almost 40 years after their revolution, a period long enough for the Soviets to come out of primitiveness by industrializing and modernizing.

It was also long enough for new generations of Soviets to develop different motivations. Scientists, managers, party workers found security and well-paying jobs.

This is enough to take the revolutionary zeal out of most people for now they had selfish, personal reasons for wanting to preserve what they had obtained and valued the good life more than revolution, war and chaos.

This is probably the basic reason why the Soviets are easier to get along with now. But Red China, trying to modernize in a hurry, is still pretty much in its original primitive condition.

In time some of the conservatism which overtook the Soviets may do the same to the Chinese, when the zealots like Mao are gone, and life and jobs are better.

But by that time they should be a heavily armed nation, with enough nuclear power to lay this country to waste. By then the Vietnamese war should be settled with, perhaps, the Americans gone from Asia.

But will a new generation of Chinese, once they have the power to match this country's, sit still? Probably not, for then the United States must face a problem it doesn't encounter now in China's present weak condition.

It's this: When the Chinese are strong enough to devastate this country in a nuclear war, will this country be willing to risk its existence to save Formosa if the Red Chinese decide to seize it? They claim it as part of China.

To carry the thought further: Would the United States be willing to risk everything, since it might mean nuclear war with China, to save Southeast Asia from a Communist take-over of one kind or another?

It seems certain the Chinese won't sit still, if they are judged by American attitudes alone. The United States, for example, would hardly permit Moscow or Red China to butt into Latin America with men and arms.

All this is in the future. The best this country can hope for is that if communism in Asia can be held back long enough, new generations there will be more moderate.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEA MONSTERS

QUESTION: For about how many years was the coelacanth supposed to be extinct?

ANSWER: Men have long imagined that great monsters, typical of past periods, might still be lurking in the depths of the sea, to suddenly appear on the surface. Our purely imaginative drawing at the top illustrates this idea, featuring the long extinct reptile tylosaurus. None of these ancient creatures had ever showed up — until suddenly, in 1938, a big ungainly fish was hauled from a depth of 240 feet off the South African coast. It was like no living fish. It belonged to the group called coelacanths, which had appeared 350 million years ago and were thought to have become extinct from 50 to 60 million years ago. Notice the strangely-shaped tail, with the little second tail stuck on behind. The fins are of great interest, for the lower ones are mounted on legs, which the coelacanth is believed to use crawling over the bottom. The fish excited world interest. If a sea creature supposed to be extinct for 60 million years was suddenly found alive, what else might the mysterious depths of the sea have to offer?

Remember that old saw about a pole vaulter never vaulting again if a pole breaks on him?

Well sir, it's just a bunch of baloney. Ask Drake Snyder.

The other day Drake was vaulting when the pole snapped on him. He fell and was knocked unconscious when he struck the ground. Later the same day Drake was back at practice, and he cleared 11-6.

And speaking of guts, we recall a remark made by Robert James, the Lamesa coach, following Tommy Bullard's victory in the 880 yard run at the district track meet. You may remember that Tommy put on a great finish to win the race ahead of several boys who were considered to be faster athletes.

"He won that one on sheer determination," said James. "I'd rather have a small boy who has a lot of desire than a big guy who doesn't care," he added.

James is a product of the Snyder School System. He coached at Temple of Class AAA before joining the Tornado staff a couple of years ago.

And chalk up Freddie Benitez' victory in the mile run at the regional track meet in Odessa as another result of sheer determination. He was up against some tough competitors, and won the race with that "extra kick" down the stretch.

Congratulations to the Tiger track team for winning third place at the State Meet. It was an impressive performance, especially considering the fact that Teddy Brown became ill during the Meet. As a result, an alternate was used on the mile relay team. Teddy still won third place in the 440. There's no telling what he would have done if he'd been in top shape.

Morris Smith, the alternate did a good job. The time posted by the mile unit was only one-tenth off the 3:17.5 posted at regional. And the Bengals had the same time as El Camp, the team that won the distance race. Morris won the open quarter at Hobbs and is a bright prospect for next season.

FIVE-FOOT-TWO

Petite Blonde To Call Strikes

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bernice Gera doesn't want to play first base for the Yankees but she sees no reason why she can't stand behind the plate and call balls and strikes.

"For the life of me, I don't understand why women can't be baseball umpires," the blonde, 35-year-old Long Island housewife said today. "Look who you have doing the job now, a bunch of old men in their 50s, many of them fat and out of shape.

"You don't have to be an athlete to be an umpire. All you need is to know baseball, have good eyesight and good judgment. There are a lot of women who can fill that bill.

"I'm certain we will some day have women umpiring in the major — maybe sooner than you think."

It may be Bernice- a 5-foot-2, 125-pound package of energy who says, "I have loved, eaten and lived baseball since I was eight years old. I want to find a place in baseball, preferably umpiring."

Bernice has applied - and been accepted - for the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Baseball School, opening June 1. The first woman ever to be admitted to the camp, she will spend four weeks there absorbing instruction from such baseball Hall of Famers as Max Carey and Bob Feller.

"I have a letter and telegram confirming my enrollment," Mrs. Gera said. "They know I'm a woman, and they didn't turn me down. I'll see how things go. When I get out, I'll probably start making applications to umpire."

The youngest of five children of a coal miner, Bernice began playing baseball with her two older brothers when she was eight in her home town of Indiana, Pa.

She often filled in as an outfielder on a boys' team. In her teens, she moved to Detroit where she pitched and played outfield with the Highland Parkers, a women's softball outfit.

She had a trunk full of trophies when she moved to New York in 1949, later marrying a free lance photographer, Steven Gera. She couldn't shake her interest in baseball.

She started coaching Little League teams and giving exhibitions for charity. She has hit against major league pitchers and performed with such personalities as Roger Maris, Sid Gordon and Cal Abrams. She gave a batting demonstration at Kansas City three years ago - at the invitation of Charles O. Finley, the owner of the A's.

"I'm going to give a batting exhibition against Bob Feller in West Palm Beach in June," she said. "If I do say so myself, I am a good batter. I can hit the long ball."

The shapely Mrs. Gera has a certificate attesting to the fact that she has 20-20 vision, but that's not the main problem.

Most ballplayers have good eyesight, too, and who's going to make them keep their eyes on the ball?

Astros Hit Dodgers, 5-2

HOUSTON (AP) — Larry Dierker, age 20, lasted eight innings and held Los Angeles to eight hits Tuesday night as the Houston Astros beat the Dodgers, 5-2 on the batting of Ron Davis.

The Astros took a 2-0 lead in the fourth when Joe Morgan tripled home Sonny Jackson, who had doubled, and then scored himself as Rusty Staub grounded into a double play.

Singles by Gene Michael, losing pitcher Don Sutton and Ron Hunt gave the Dodgers a run in the fifth.

Davis singled in the seventh to drive in Ron Brand, who singled and went to second on a sacrifice.

NEW COMBO — Pilot Walter Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers (right) and vice-president Fresco Thompson seem well pleased with the National League champions' new double play pair — shortstop Gene Michael and second baseman Ron Hunt.

Mets Slip Past Cincinnati, 3-2

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ron Santo, who started the season in a batting slump, recently had shown some signs of improvement.

But the hard-hitting Chicago Cub third baseman improved all over the place Tuesday with the first 5-for-5 game of his career as the Cubs pounded San Francisco 10-2.

At one point early in the season, Santo was hitting something like .086 and not until the Cubs returned for their current home setand did he start getting some hits. He has 10 of his 18 hits in the club's last five games.

"When I started hitting the ball well, but wasn't getting base hits, I began thinking I was doing something wrong," said Santo. "I tried to adjust here and there when there was no need to.

"Finally, I told myself to forget about it and just get up there and swing. Now the base hits are falling in and it's about time."

Also hitting a lot better in Wrigley Field's familiar surroundings is Ernie Banks with eight hits — two of then homers — and eight runs batted in during the last five games. He had two hits, one a two-run double, in Tuesday's triumph.

In other National League action, St. Louis topped Pittsburgh 6-3, Houston beat Los Angeles, 5-2, Philadelphia nudged Atlanta 3-2 and the New York Mets slipped past Cincinnati 3-2 in 11 innings.

In the American League, Detroit edged Cleveland 4-3, Chicago topped Baltimore 5-4, Minneapolis pounded Washington 11-1, New York topped California 2-1 and Kansas City split a twin-night doubleheader with Boston. The A's won the first 4-3 and Boston the second 5-2.

The Cubs scored four times in the sixth inning, with pitcher Ray Culp's two-run triple the big blow. Glenn Beckert homered for the Cubs and Tom Haller of the Giants extended his hitting streak to seven straight before grounding out.

Orlando Cepeda had four hits, drove in two runs and scored two himself in the Cards' victory. Roger Maris, who has been passing up the long ball for base hits, got his first National League homer.

Ron Davis' homer and run-scoring single led the Astros past the Dodgers and Larry Dierker picked up his third victory against two defeats with some ninth-inning relief help from Claude Raymond.

Reliever Dick Hall for the Phillies got Hank Aaron to hit a foul fly with the bases loaded and two out in the eighth, preserving the Philadelphia victory. Don Lock's two-run homer gave the Phils the margin.

Tommy Davis' 11th-inning homer gave the Mets their win and handed Mel Queen his first defeat after four straight triumphs. Queen came in the game in the eighth and handcuffed the Mets on six strike outs until Davis' shot, his third, ended the game.

Pros Out Of Olympics?

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The International Olympic Committee plans a crackdown in the 1968 Games at Mexico City in an effort to prevent any professionals from competing.

Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the IOC, said Tuesday that athletes will have to list their occupations and the names of their employers on a new Olympic entry form.

In the past, he said, the amateur status of the athletes had to be confirmed by the signatures of the president of their sports federation and Olympic committees, but that professionals still managed to compete.

"In the next Olympic Games for the first time we are going to try to control the rule on amateurism," Brundage said.

"We don't want people in the Olympic games if they make their livelihood from sport."

He added that proof that an athlete was not a true amateur would still be difficult to obtain and asked newspapers to print any evidence of professionalism to help the IOC crack down.

Texas Loop Tilts Are Exciting

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas League baseball may not be worth losing sleep over one night, but don't miss the next because the excitement might run higher than an old Western movie.

Tuesday evening was one of those times you should have been out to the ball park, and the home teams had all the fun - a triple play by Austin, a three-hitter by Dallas - Fort Worth and four home runs, two doubles and a triple by Amarillo sluggers. Two of the three games went extra innings.

Second baseman Walt Hriniak and shortstop Jack Crist teamed on the triple play as Austin edged El Paso 1-0 in 12 innings.

Amarillo belted 17 hits, including two home runs by John Griffin, and moved into a first place tie with El Paso by whipping Albuquerque 15-2.

Dallas - Fort Worth pushed over a run in the 10th inning to beat Arkansas 2-1 as Dave Dixon and Archie Reynolds tossed the three-hitter.

A two out single by Bob Connolly scored Crist from second base to break up the scoreless duel betwen Austin and El Paso. The run came off reliever Eric Spelman after Walt Wolf pitched 10 innings and gave up eight hits.

Skip Guinn also went 10 innings, giving up six hits and striking out 10 for Austin. Joe Cisterna held El Paso hitless the last two innings and received the victory.

Hriniak started the second inning triple play by catching Ethan Blackaby's fly ball and tagging Tom Egan, who was running from first to second base. Hriniak tossed the ball to Crist, who tagged Don Wilkinson trying to return to second.

Nate Colbert, the league's home run leader, got his eighth of the sason and Lee Bales hit his first homer as Amarillo pounded four Albuquerque pitchers. Griffin and Bales each batted in four runs.

For the second time in four games, Byron Browne, a .205 hitter, delivered the winning blow for last place Dallas - Fort Worth. His 10th inning single Tuesday night scored Gene Etter from second base to beat Arkansas.

Major 9's Cut Rosters

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Walt Bond has to be wondering just what a fellow has to do to stay in the major leagues and Mike Epstein seems to be heading for another shot at the minors' Most Valuable Player award as baseball's final cutoff date arrived today.

By midnight, local time, tonight, all the major-league clubs must have cut their rosters to 25 players and most of the teams still have a few performers to assign elsewhere or release them.

Minnesota announced Tuesday they were sending pitcher Dwight Siebler to their Denver PCL Farm and were getting rid of outfielder Andy Kosco, possibly in a trade.

They gave Bond his outright release, even thought in 16 pinch-hit appearances the big outfielder had five hits, one home run and five runs batted in. Last year at Denver, Bond hit .313.

Epstein, best player in the minors at Rochester last year, still was the subject of discussion in the Baltimore hierarchy Tuesday, but the unofficial word seemed to be that he would be sent back down.

The Orioles had been trying to make a trade for the hard-hitting first baseman, but the other teams apparently couldn't meet their price.

The only clubs besides the Twins to have reached the player limit are Atlanta, the Chicago White Sox and California.

Tigers Thwart Late Lobo Rally, 4 To 3

LEVELLAND — A miss is as good as a mile as Levelland's Lobos found out here Tuesday afternoon when their last-inning rally fell short and Snyder's Tigers walked away with a 4-3 victory in a closely contested District 3-AAA baseball battle.

Elsewhere Tuesday, Lamesa bombed Brownfield, 9-1. Thus the district championship will be decided in a 2 p.m. battle at Lamesa Saturday when the Tornadoes host the Bengals. Both teams are tied for the lead with 9-2 league records.

It was a see-saw battle at Levelland. The Tigers took a 1-0 lead in the 1st when Dink Foree took first on a fielder's choice, stole second and scooted home on David Cadena's double down the right field line.

Levelland tied it up, 1-1, in the 2nd as Merced Puente doubled, went to second on a wild pitch, and stole home. The Lobos went ahead, 2-1, in the 4th. Puente did the honors again. He walked, advanced to second on a fielder's choice, and took the final two bases on wild pitches.

Snyder grabbed the lead, 3-2, with two runs in the 6th. Cadena singled, stole second, and came in on Steve Moffett's double. The little Tiger second baseman took third and home on passed balls.

The Bengals increased the margin to 4-2 in the 7th. Lane McMillan singled, went to second on a passed ball. Buddy Powell drew a free ticket to first, and Foree singled to load the bases. Terry Holt then drew credit for an rbi when Williamson, the losing pitcher, walked in a run.

Roy Hunter, the winning pitcher, began to lose control in the 7th. He walked four men. Puente scored on the last walk and Dukes was credited with an rbi. Then, with the bases loaded and two away, Rob Golden took the hill. Smith blasted a deep fly to right field and Lane McMillan made a great catch for the third out.

Experiencing a touch of wildness, Hunter hit one batsman and walked seven. However, he fanned eight and allowed only two hits. The Tigers touched Williamson for six hits and four runs. Cadena was the leading hitter with a double and a single in four appearances at the plate.

Sourpuss with false teeth now laughs loudest

"Because of terrible yellow denture stains and bad breath, I always held back from smiling. Everyone called me 'sourpuss.' One DENTUR-KLEEN FOAMING tablet made the difference. All stain and offending food particles were foamed away. My false teeth have never looked so clean and white, felt so fresh, thanks to foaming DENTUR-KLEEN." Free samples available at

Twins Crush Solons, Detroit Trips Tribe

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The advice Rod Carew gets doesn't go in one ear and out the other. Both ears are too busy listening — one ear to one language and the other ear to another.

Sometimes, however, Carew's bat does the talking, such as Tuesday night when he rapped three hits, giving him eight in two nights, as Minnesota crushed Washington 11-1.

Carew is an American who was born in Panama and learned Spanish fluently before moving to Brooklyn. As a result of his bilingual ability, the 21-year-old second baseman gets advice in Spanish from his Latin teammates and advice in English from his U. S. teammates.

Sometimes the advice comes during a game — even during a pitch.

"Once," the rookie explained, "Cesar Tovar yelled, 'Mira el toque,' from center field while Harmon Killebrew was telling me to be heads up from first base. Tovar was telling me to watch for the bunt. I expect both so I've ben able to handle it."

Carew also has been able to handle American League pitching, and it's partly because he's listened so well.

"They told me in spring training to take the bat off my shoulder and swing," the left-handed hitter said. "That's what I've been doing. Tovar and Tony Oliva told me to just go up there and stroke the ball. Don't try to hit it out of the park. "It's paying off so far. I never thought I would do this well. But the guys tell me they're going to keep falling in."

The hits have fallen in so well so far that Carew is hitting .342, third best in the league.

Pretty soon he'll be able to start giving advice of his own in Spanish and in English.

In other AL games, Detroit edged Cleveland 4-3, Chicago nipped Baltimore 5-4, Kansas City topped Boston 4-3 before bowing 5-2 and New York squeaked by California 2-1.

In the National League, New York edged Cincinnati 3-2 in 11 innings, St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 6-3, Philadelphia nipped Atlanta 3-2, Chicago nipped San Francisco 10-2 and Houston downed Los Angeles 5-2.

Carew stretched his streak to seven straight hits before he was given credit for a fielder's choice on a run-scoring squeeze bunt. He also drove in a run with a double while Zoilo Versalles knocked in three with two singles and Killebrew delivered two with a double and a single.

Home runs by Al Kaline, with one on, and Bill Freehan, with none on, powered Detroit past Cleveland. Catcher Duke Sims, who let in a Tiger run with a passed ball, homered for the Indians.

Chicago extended its winning streak to five games and Baltimore's losing string to five. Pitcher Gary Peters tripled in the seventh inning and scored the decisive run on Don Buford's single. Tommie Agee and Roy Hansen homered for Chicago while Boog Powell connected for the Orioles.

Kansas City won the opener of its doubleheader when Don McMahon walked Bert Campaneris with two out and the bases loaded in the eighth inning. But Boston struck back in the nightcap, scoring all five of its runs in the ninth — the last three on Carl Yastrzemski's two - out double.

The New York Yankees got just three hits against California, but two of them helped score runs. John Kennedy doubled in the third and scored on Jim Fregosi's error, and Elston Howard singled in the fourth and later scored as Kennedy flied out.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is published by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — A fellow in my car pool filed his return after I did but he has already gotton his refund. How can I find out what happened to mine?

A — You should soon receive your refund or a letter explaining why you have not received it. An inquiry to our offices about the refund now would not speed things up but only add to the workload of employees processing refunds.

There are a number of reasons why one particular refund claim might receive faster processing than another. Mistakes on a return, information omitted, or the selection of the return for audit before the refund is issued are common reasons for refunds delays.

Q— Some travel and entertainment expenses I claimed are being questioned. What records do I need to back them up?

A — Your records should estabish the amount, the time and place and the business purpose of the expense. You should also be able to show your business relationship to persons being entertained.

A current diary, one in which entries are made close to the time expenses are incurred, supported by items such as cancelled checks, receipts and paid bills should be maintained to substantiate travel and entertainment deductions.

Q — I just moved and have a question about my return. Who should I contact, my present district director or the one in my old office?

A —Contact the district office serving you now. To help IRS identify your return, be sure to give your Social Security number, former address, and the district where the return was filed.

Q — Even with graduated withholding and claiming no exemptions I still had tax to pay when I filed. Can I increase my withholding even further?

A — Yes. File a new withholding certificate — Form W-4 — with your employer indicating the additional amount you would like withheld from your paycheck.

Q — On a second job, is there any way you can get them to stop taking out for Social Security? My main job takes care of that with plenty to spare.

A — The law requires each employer to withhold Social Security tax on the first $6,600 of wages paid each employee. At year-end, a credit may be taken against income tax for any excess withheld due to having more than one employer.

Q —I plan to take in Expo 67 after a business conference in Montreal this summer. Will this have any effect on the deductibility of my travel expenses there and back?

A — Yes it might. Depending on the circumstances of your trip, only part of your travel costs associated with the business conference may be deductible. You would have to allocate the travel expenses to and from Montreal between business and non-business activity if the following conditions apply:

1. You were outside the United States more than one week.

2. Twenty - five percent or more of your time outside the U. S. was devoted to non-business activity.

3. You had substantial control over the arrangements for the trip,

4. A personal vacation was a major consideration in the decision to make the trip, and

5. You as a manager, are related to your employer, or you weren't reimbursed for your travel expenses.

Note that this business travel rule only applies to travel outside the U. S. If you went on a business trip to some U. S. city and then went sightseeing, the amount of your business travel costs which would be deductible depends on the primary purpose of the trip. For detailed rules on traveling get a copy of Publication 463, by writing your District Director.

Q — Is there any way you can buy bonds for a child and avoid having to pay tax on the interest yourself?

A — Yes, have the bonds issued solely in the child's name or in his name with your name as beneficiary. Then the interest earned on the bonds should be reported as income by the child.

LBJ Says Great Society Vital To 1968 Reelection

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) Conceding the going is tough, President Johnson has laid his 1968 re-election chances on the line of "Great Society" accomplishments and the fight against "naked aggression" in Vietnam.

The President left little doubt he expects to be the party's nominee next year when he told a glittering Democratic dinner at which about 3,000 persons paid $250 a plate Tuesday night: "If the Democratic party continues to serve by giving the greatest good to the greatest number in the year 1968, as we come around the turn, we'll come home for the victory the people deserve."

Johnson told the cheering Democrats he believes the party's success depends on how voters react to efforts to shore up economic security of the elderly, curb crime, counter air pollution and secure rights for all citizens.

"That will demand of us at home and abroad the will, yes, the character, to persevere when the going gets tough," he said.

"It will take character to stand for freedom against naked aggression, and when some say it is none of our business to resist it."

This challenge found two of the President's chief war policy critics—Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark.—busy elsewhere.

Kennedy was on his way to California. Fullbright, an object of caustic presidential remarks at a similar dinner last year, did not appear. His wife said he was unreachable.

Tongue in cheek, Johnson greeted members of "our quietly, completely unified party." He said if this was incredible—a word Fulbright has used in describing some of the President's Asian policies—it also was traditional that Democrats like to fight.

Johnson called on the voters to turn back the Republican "wreckers" he said want to dismantle the "Great Society" program.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey described Johnson as "our leader, if you will it, in the years to come next year and after 1968."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who has opposed escalation of the Vietnam war, was not called upon for any remarks.

House Speaker John R. McCormack, D-Mass., dutifully predicted Johnson's re-election.

These anti sundry other speeches were delivered against a backdrop of a 9-by-12 foot photo of Johnson—sitting in the Oval Room rocker the late President John F. Kennedy made famous—gesturing with both hands, his rimless glasses in his right fist.

Except for a mention of Kennedy by the President, any other evidence of the Kennedy regime was conspicously lacking in the trappings and the program.

Wheat Crop Outlook Is Dismal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department prepared to issue a new forecast today on the size of the weather-troubled winter wheat crop.

Plagued by drought in the Southern and Central Great Plains during the winter and early spring, the crop recently was hit by freezes in Kansas. It appears the crop will be considerably less than the 1,287 million bushels indicated after planting last fall.

In April, winter wheat was forecast at 1,162 million bushels. No forecasts for spring wheat will be give until later in the growing season. The department has said a spring crop of 320 million bushels is possible.

Government officials are hopeful the combined winter and spring crops will be around 1.5 billion bushels.

A larger than average crop is needed because wheat surpluses no longer exist and foreign demands continue to be strong.

Production last year was 1,310 million bushels. Plantings this year will be around 30 per cent larger under government recommendations.

Today's report also was due to give an idea on the damage a spring freeze caused the southern peanut crop and to show whether milk production is continuing to move ahead of last year.

Legislature Approves Water Control Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—The Legislature has approved a bill setting up the Texas Water Quality Board to take the place of the Water Pollution Control Board.

The bill now goes to Gov. John Connally, who recommended the bill as a step toward stronger water pollution control.

The Senate concurred with House amendments to the proposal Tuesday.

The bill sets up a seven-member board, three of whom will be appointed by the governor to represent the public rather than special interests, as is now the case with the Water Pollution Control Board.

New Nizam Of Hyderabad Worried About Finances

By M.H. SIDDIQI

HYDERABAD, India (AP) — His grandfather was among the wealthiest men in the world, with a fortune so large that no one knows its exact size.

But His Exalted Highness Nawab Mir Barkat Ali Khan Bahadur, the new nizam — honorary ruler — of Hyderabad, is worried about his financial future.

He will get an annual government privy purse of only two million rupees — $267,000, a fifth of what his grandfather received when India's 600 former princely rulers were pensioned off in 1948. They were allowed to retain their titles but without any powers.

As a result, the new nizam has started an economy drive that has broken with all the traditions once associated with the ruling princes.

His most drastic action has been the dismissal of at least 25 per cent of his grandfather's former palace staff of 14,000. Many of them were dependents of the late nizam's family, reported to have included 42 wives, 37 children and more than 50 grandchildren. They had cost an estimated $1.6 million a year to keep. Many did nothing but sit cross-legged and sleep most of the day.

"There is no palace, now for those who do not work," the new nizam said in an interview. "An economy drive is essential. I will get only two million rupees a year, much less than my grandfather, and I have to pay income tax and estate duty, unlike him. That's why I have issued quit notices to almost all of the old staff members."

"We might even start industries, thus providing employment to thousands, including many from our own palace who have been doing nothing for years, absolutely nothing," he said.

However, the most noticeable change to residents of this city 400 miles east of Bombay has been the recent whitewashing of the palace walls. They had not been scrubbed for 20 years.

With his close watch on expenditures, the new nizam is following a tradition of personal thriftiness carried on by his grandfather, Nawab Mir Osman Ali Bahadur, who died Feb. 24 at the age of 81. Although he wasted large sums on his palace staff, Mir Osman Ali seldom indulged in personal luxuries. He ate only two small meals a day, although he was addicted to tea and a cheap brand of opium. When he died, the 5-foot-3 nizam weighed only 85 pounds.

Mir Osman Ali tapped his grandson to be the new nizam, passing over two sons whom he felt were spendthrifts.

Barkat Ali Khan was born in France in 1932 to the nizam's eldest son, Prince Azam Jah, and Princess Duree Shahwar, daughter of Abdul Majeet Khan II, ex-caliph of Turkey. He attended Harrow and received his master's degree in English literature and history from Cambridge University in 1956. He then underwent a year of training at famed Sandhurst Military Academy.

In 1959 he married a 19-year-old Turkish student of architecture, who was studying at Bartlett College. Today the new nizam and Princess Esra Jah have a son, Azmat Jah, 6, and a daughter, Shahkiar Fatima, 4.

Master Of Scant Coverage Bares New Areas In Show

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — That master of minimum coverage, Rudi Gernreich, has bared new areas for fashionable nudity for next fall in his latest collection.

Tuesday the California designer, who originated toplessness, lopped away vertically at the minidress, cutting a swath from the neck to the navel and alarmingly beyond. The resulting exposure harmonized with thighs left bare by matching patterned stockings that did not quite reach that high.

Add to that the Japanese school boy and girl look, the gangster look, the kindergarten kid look, the hard-edged art look, the nun look, the court page look, and you get the idea of the roles Gernreich thinks women might feel like acting out next fall.

"Fashion today is play acting," Gernreich explained before displaying his collection for Harmon Knitwear. "Women assume various attitudes with the clothes they wear."

Without elaborating on the attitudes of women who expose their navels, he assured buyers he would add up to five inches of skirt for those who thought his court page tunic lengths were more evil than medieval.

The costumes for childishness consisted of Buster Brown hats, middy tunics with round collars and red bows, matching knee socks, short pants for the school boy look, and matching underpants for the school girl look; and a satchel strapped to the back.

For the even more retrogressive woman there was a kindergarten costume, pin-striped smock over navy leotards with red sleeves and red legs.

Gernreich's black haired model charged into the showroom puffing a cigar and wearing a wide-lapeled double-breasted, gray pinstriped gangster suit, a matching fedora-brimmed hat was cocked jauntily on one side of her head. A stiff collared shirt and a wide, wild black and white patterned tie completed her "attitude."

Bold stripes and blocks were set into vivid-hued tunics and stockings for the woman who has a yen for impersonalized art in her wardrobe.

A modern nun's costume consisted of high black leggings over white tights-like long underwear — a white tunic with flowing wide sleeves, a black sleeveless tunic over that, and a white scull cap wrapped under the chin worn under a black hood. Without the black hood and the tunic, the model appeared to be ready for hospital surgery.

Pandemonium resulted, however, when the first model appeared in bared below the navel costume. The yellow and brown patterned, sleeveless, body-length costume was cinched at the middle with a black patent leather belt. Mid thigh-length stockings were of the same double-knit fabric.

There were short-skirted versions with calf length socks, pants suit styles and even floor length hostess dresses where the bare thigh was not emphasized. But the navel was.

Area's GI's Reminded Of Deadline

"Hurry!" is the advice of Hugh Boren, Jr, president of the Snyder Board of Realtors, to veterans of World War II who have not used their eligibility to buy a home under the VA program.

Boren pointed out that July 25, 1967, is the deadline for World War II veterans. They will not be able to take advantage of the no-down-payment, VA-guaranteed type of financing after that date.

He declared now is a good time to buy a home for veterans and non-veterans alike, and said the National Association of Real Estate Boards, with which the Snyder Board of Realtors is affiliated, has received reports from all parts of the country indicating that the mortgage money situation which existed last year has eased dramatically, and indications are that conditions will continue to improve.

While interest rates are declining a bit from their record highs of last year, Boren said it would probably be unwise for most potential home buyers to wait for them to come down further. "They simply are not dropping fast enough to compensate for the steadily increasing costs of building new dwellings, and as new-house costs go up, so do existing-home prices."

The Realtor noted that, in order to use the GI bill provisions for home loan guarantees, veterans must have a certificate of eligibility, which requires some time to obtain. Since the deadline is drawing near for World War II veterans, he urged those contemplating using the GI bill to get their certificates and make a decision on a home as soon as possible.

Boren said the expiration date for Korean War veterans is 1975, and for veterans who served after 1954, the deadline is 10 years after discharge, plus one year for each three months active duty, but not in excess of 20 years from date of last discharge.

10-Month Term Plan Needs Another Vote

AUSTIN (AP) — A bill creating experimental 10 - month school programs needs another vote to be passed by the House.

Representatives granted tentative approval Tuesday to the measure, which would involve 50,000 students in selected school districts around Texas.

Rep. DeWitt Hale, Corpus Christi, said his measure would take effect with the 1967-68 school year. A 10-month school year was recommended in 1958 action, he said.

MICKEY NUNLEY

Nunley New President Of Boys' Club

Mickey Nunley has been elected president of the Scurry County Boys' Club.

Nunley, who has been serving as first vice president of the Boys' Club board during the past year, succeeds Walter Hales as president. Hales was presented a trophy and a gift certificate for his works as president.

Other officers elected include Charles Freeman, first vice president; Vernon Young, second vice president, and Buster Anderson, secretary - treasurer.

In other business at the board meeting, hours of opening and closing the club were discussed and a committee was appointed to make a study and report back to the board.

Robert L. Kissire, Executive Director of the Club, gave the board a progress report and outlined plans he has made for the future. J. D. Hinton, architect, was a guest of the board and he answered several questions about the new building. The board also voted to keep a scrapbook and placed Vernon Young in charge of this project.

52,500 persons were killed and 4,400,000 injured in traffic accidents last year. A survey showed that alcohol was a contributing factor in more than half of all fatal accidents.

April Water Production Shows Gain

For the first time, April production for the Colorado River Municipal Water District has exceeded a billion gallons in hitting 1,083,295,389.

The tip-off came in March, however, which also had an unprecedented month of 1,016,885,956 gallons.

The April output was 16.65 per cent over the same month a year ago and boosted the year's total to 3,815,737,000 gallons, which is 13.32 per cent ahead of the first four months of 1966.

The member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder used 754,828,200 gallons during April, an increase of 21.94 per cent. Odessa took 429,170,000 gallons, up 24.40 per cent over April a year ago; Big Spring 266,082,000 up 23.32; Snyder 59,576,200, down 6.49.

Seven oil company customers required 328,467,189 gallons, which was up 6.06 per cent over a year ago.

If the current trends continue, the district will be called upon to deliver a billion gallons more during 1967 than it did last year.

While oil companies have raised their draw this year, the major reason for the heavy gains is the large amount being taken by the member cities.
