Senate Split Delays Vote On Farm Bill

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Despite a presidential plea for action, the Senate recessed tonight without reaching a vote on the hot issue of farm price supports.

Although Democratic leader Lucas called the Senate to meet an hour earlier than usual tomorrow in an effort to clear the bill, the delay threatened the drice for final adjournment of Congress this week.

The House and Senate appeared to be far apart on their farm legislation theories, and other prospective items of sharp dispute such as the displaced persons bill also await action.

Before today's unsuccessful drive to clear the farm measure, President Truman summoned his congressional leaders to the White House to ask them to speed action.

HST's Stand Not Clear

It was not entirely clear, however, whether Mr. Truman favored the so-called flexible crop support bill sponsored by Senator Clinton Anderson (D-NM), his former secretary of agriculture, or one providing higher, less flexible support levels.

Presiedntial Secretary Charles G. Ross said Mr. Truman told his legislative lieutenants he wanted them to "get together on a bill he can sign." Ross wouldn't say what kind of a bill was specified. Rep. Cecil F. White (D-Calif) had reported after a call yesterday that Mr. Truman was strong for supporting basic crops at 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is a level calculated to give the farmer purchasing power equal to that of a past period generally favorable to agriculture.

The Anderson bill calls for extending the present supports for basic crops such as corn, cotton and wheat at 90 per cent of parity during 1950. After then, however, the support levels for every basic crop except tobacco could drop to as low as 75 per cent of parity. Tobacco would be supported at 90 per cent whenever controls applied.

The House, months ago, voted to continue the present 90 per cent support levels through 1950. The majority wanted no part of a flexible system. The government keeps prices up by making non-recourse loans on surplus production, or by buying up surplus crops outright.

A sharp Senate-House dispute was in prospect because of the basic difference in viewpoints about support theories.

If the two houses cannot agree in a conference, the delayed-action Aiken farm law passed by the Republican 80th Congress goes into effect next year.

It permits a flexible support

STUDENT TRAPPED IN STORM DEBRIS—Miss Gayle Keen, 20, of Frostproof, Fla., her face contorted by pain, awaits rescue from wreckage in which she was trapped when 80-mile winds toppled the Sheridan Hotel's 60-foot chimney in Minneapolis, Minn. The masonry crashed through the roof of the three-story west wing, where the girl had a room. She suffered head cuts and a possible fractured leg. She was enrolled in an airline hostess school. Meanwhile, the death toll in the gales which swept the midcontinent rose to 21 Tuesday. Heavy damage was caused in the storms. (AP Wirephoto.)

Soviet UN Delegate Urges Arms Count

Atom Bomb Census Demanded By Reds

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 11.—The Soviet Union demanded tonight a full count of atomic bombs and other arms in the war chests of the 59 members of the United Nations.

It was the first such proposal from the Russians since President Truman on Sept. 23 said there was evidence of an atomic blast in Russia.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob A. Malik made his brief proposal at the end of a long, quarrelling session of the UN Security council.

The two-line proposal said:

"The Security council deems necessary the submission by member states of information on conventional armaments as well as information on atomic weapons."

Warren R. Austin, United States delegate and council president this month, said in a statement after the council adjourned that any census of weapons without verification is meaningless.

British Seek Concessions

"This is another attempt to fool the public," Austin added.

The United States did not speak today but Britain's Sir Alexander Cadogan bluntly told Malik that he thought the Russians should make some sort of concessions in view of their minority position on all arms questions voted on in the UN.

Malik answered that the Soviet Union had stated its position many times and that in turn he was willing to listen if the west had anything new to propose.

After the meeting, Malik was asked to expand his proposal. He told newsmen: "Read the resolution; it's very clear." Asked whether it could be assumed Russia has atomic weapons, he said "read the Tass communication." This referred to the announcement by the Soviet news agency on Sept. 25 that the Russians now have atomic weapons at their disposal.

Malik often has contended in arms debates that atomic bombs

Military Prisoner Jumps From Cargo Plane On 'Dare'

(By The Associated Press)

NASHVILLE, Ark., Oct. 11 — A military prisoner bailed out of an Air Force plane on a dare over southwest Arkansas today. He was apprehended five hours later walking nonchalantly along a highway.

The soldier, identified as Pvt. Howard Shinneman, 23, of the Forbes Air Force base at Topeka, Kans., suffered only a scratched finger. He said it was his first parachute jump.

He is being held in the county jail here for Air Force officers.

Sheriff Captures Soldier

Sheriff Arthur E. Hicks and an unidentified "courthouse friend" captured the soldier at 5:30 p.m. (CST) 5½ miles southeast of Nashville.

The sheriff's wife, who explained she was speaking for her husband, said Shinneman told them he jumped from a C-82—"flying boxcar"—when the southbound ship was flying east of Nashville around 1 or 1:30 p.m.

He said he did it because "the guys bet me I wouldn't." He didn't identify "the guys."

Mrs. Hicks described the prisoner as nice looking. She said he seemed to be in good spirits when they brought him to the county jail.

Prisoner Walks In Mud

Shinneman said he walked about five miles in mud after he landed.

At Shreveport, La., the Barksdale Air Force base public information officer said Shinneman and nine other prisoners were being transferred to Barksdale, future home of the Forbes AFB when Shinneman made his spectacular break.

The plane, a C-82 twin craft commonly known as the "flying boxcar," has two doors at the rear of the fusilage designed for use by parachutes in time of war.

The public information office said Shinneman was be-

Chinese Communist Drive Nears Canton

CANTON, Oct. 11. (AP)—Chinese Communist troops in an unchecked drive thrust today within 40 miles of this dying Nationalist capital.

Canton was in its last days as a capital. The next will be Chungking, wartime capital 600 miles to the northwest.

The foreign office abruptly ended its business about the time reports circulated that the Communists had seized Tsingyun, 40 miles north.

Canton technically still is the capital, but that is all. Everyone is too busy packing to attend to official business.

Acting President Li Tsung-Jen is expected to fly to Chungking tomorrow.

Murray Sees Strike Victory

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11 — Philip Murray told his striking CIO United Steelworkers today they will have a victory shortly.

Murray spoke to 15,000 cheering strikers at Youngstown, O., as the government set out on its fourth attempt at peacemaking in the economy-crippling strike.

The steelworkers and CIO president ignored government olive branch waving and shouted to his men:

"I assure you that before very long we will all be happy.

"The strike will be ended and the steelworkers will be the victors.

"The American people will be the beneficiary."

Steel Leaders Lashed

Murray lashed out at leaders of the steel industry for denying free pensions and insurance to their workers "while looking forward to big non-contributory pensions themselves."

It is Murray's first speech on a pep stumping tour of major steel cities.

As Murray spoke, the steel blow continued spreading to allied industries with the International Harvester company layoff of approximately 3,500 employes at its Chicago plant due to depleted steel supplies.

U. S. Conciliation Director Cyrus S. Ching started arranging meetings with industry leaders to see what can be done about halting the 11-day shutdown idling 454,000 steelworkers.

First Session Set

First session will be with Bethlehem Steel company, the nation's No. 2 producer, in New York on Thursday. And by the middle of next week, said Ching, he will have conferred with three or four major producers, including the giant U. S. Steel corporation.

Ching said sessions also are slated with the union in the peace try.

Government intervention in the coal strike took a more definite path. Operators met at Charleston, W. Va., to talk over developments in advance of renewed contract talks tomorrow with United Mine Workers Chief John L. Lewis.

Lewis' 380,000 bituminous diggers east of the Mississippi are on strike in his fight for a new con-

Amarillo Claims Men Jailed Here

Amarillo authorities last night accepted custody of 25-year-old twin brothers from California, held here since their arrest Sunday, after employes of two Amarillo supermarkets identified the pair as the men who hijacked two firms there last summer.

Sheriff Grady Harrist announced the men would face armed robbery charges in Potter county.

Pair Are Identified

The brothers, Edward Lee and Leo Earl Rader, already implicated by their father in West Coast robberies, were readily identified by three witnesses from lineups in county jail,, newsmen were told by Chief of Police A. S. Harper and Capt. J. L. King, both of Amarillo.

A witness brought here from Roswell, N. M., meanwhile was unable to connect the brothers with an August 29 robbery there.

C. A. Anthony, an employe of the Roswell Safeway Market, which was robbed of $3,000 in currency, silver and checks, said the Californians were not the ones responsible for that hijacking.

He said the men who appeared there were smaller and had straight hair. The twins have curly hair. Anthony was brought here by Roswell Sheriff George Wilcox and by Roswell Chief of Police Tommy Thompson.

The Amarilloans who made the

Intensive Search Launched For Missing Seminole Girl

SEMINOLE, Oct. 11 (Special)—State Highway patrolmen and Gaines county officers tonight were directing toward El Paso an intensive search for a 12-year-old Seminole girl, missing since early this morning.

The girl, Mary Donna Nelson, was last seen by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Nelson, Monday night about 10:30 when they put her to bed. She was gone this morning.

She was not reported seen in Seminole today, and officers are working on the possibility that she may be headed for California, where a grandmother lives.

Her parents said she probably was wearing blue jeans, a white T-shirt, a brown suede jacket, and brown shoes. She is 5 feet, 4 inches, weighs 110 pounds, has blue eyes, and long brown hair, possibly in braids.

70,000 MORE WORKERS NEEDED ON PLAINS

Area Cotton Men Face Grave Labor Shortage

BY C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche Staff Writer

WITH COTTON fields opening rapidly day by day, South Plains farmers face the greatest labor shortage in history in their task of gathering the area's largest cotton crop.

Not only does the labor shortage worry them constantly, but the weather has been cutting capers the past several days to add new wrinkles to their tanned brows.

Only about 30,000 of 100,000 laborers needed to gather the crop are now at work in the area and arrivals from other sections of the state are slower than normal.

Appeals For Aid Issued

From County Agent Dave Sherrill and B. T. O'Connell, manager of the Lubbock office of the Texas Employment commission, came appeals Tuesday for co-operation of the residents of the area in aiding farmers with the gathering of the crop.

Both Sherrill and O'Connell suggested that students "pitch in" to do their part in harvesting the crop. High school and Texas Tech students will be asked to go into the fields in their spare time during the next two or three weeks to offset as much as possible the labor shortage.

For the past several days, a truck furnished by the TEC, has been transporting approximately 20 students from a location at Ninth and College to cotton fields in the immediate vicinity of Lubbock. The truck leaves the College Avenue location at 7:15 a. m. daily and returns at noon; departs again at 12:45 p. m. and returns at night.

Students Earn Extra Money

Two score or more Tech students have been taking advantage of their spare time to earn extra spending money and college expenses by this means.

"It would be wonderful for the farmers of this area if several hundred high school and college students would volunteer to help gather the crop and at the same time they would be earning some spending money," Sherrill said. He said students could average about a dollar an hour in the fields.

Their only expense is the price of a cotton sack, about $2.65.

A total of 9,940 laborers are needed right now in Lubbock county, O Connell said, and the total is rising rapidly every day as the cotton opens. Approximately 16,000 pickers will be required to gather Lubbock county's crop alone.

DELAY in the arrival of pickers on the South Plains is attributed to a number of factors.

In the first place, the cotton crop in other sections of Texas is later this year and pickers are staying longer in the fields in Central and Central West Texas because of the higher prices paid for picking cotton in those areas. Prices for picking in those areas range from $2.50 to $2.75 a hundred and crew leaders are getting 50 cents for weighing and hauling.

The prevailing prices in this area are $1.75 for pulling and 25 cents for weighing and hauling. The price in a good many counties off the Caprock is $2, with weighing and hauling 25 cents.

Pickers are eager to come to this area, O'Connell said, for the $1.75 rate for pulling is equal to $2.75 and $3 for picking in other areas.

Seeking More Pay For Work

Crew leaders are reluctant to leave the lower counties because of the 50 cents they are getting for weighing and hauling. They are shopping around on their arrival on the South Plains in an effort to get an extra ten cents per hundred for weighing and hauling.

Another factor in the labor shortage is the slowness of the Mexican nationals or "braceros" to move through the red tape process so that they can work in this area. Only 150 of the Mexican Nationals have arrived on the South Plains, although 13,700 have been contracted for in the nine-county area of the Lubbock TEC office. Lubbock county farmers alone have contracted for 4,700 of the Mexican nationals.

IF SURPLUS and idle labor, plus students, housewives and others would join in helping the farmer harvest the crop in the next two weeks, it is believed the labor shortage could be alleviated somewhat, observers believe.

One truck now is picking up approximately 30 housewives in the Hub Homes area and carrying them to adjacent fields for cotton pulling. In addition, soldiers at Lubbock Air Force Base have joined in the movement and are picking cotton in the fields in the Hurlwood area.

"We've got farmers who'll go any where and do anything to get hands," O'Connell said.

Gather Hundreds Of Pounds

He said the average Mexican laborer could gather from 900 to 1,000 pounds of cotton a day and that many of the Mexican women, weighing only about 100 pounds, gather as much as 800 pounds of cotton a day.

Demands for laborers on the South Plains as listed by the TEC office, with number of pickers needed, yield, prices paid, and agents to contact are as follows:

Dawson county, 5,000; pulling ¼ to ½ bales; $1.75 in field, weighing and hauling 25 cents; direct to TEC office, Lamesa.

Lamb county, 4,000; Bailey county, 1,000; pulling $1.75 in field; weighing and hauling 25 cents; direct to J. D. Jordan, TEC office, Littlefield; crew size up to 100.

Terry county, 1,000; pulling one-third to ½ bales; $1.75 in field, W&H 25 cents; direct to Lloyd Dawson, county agent, Brownfield.

Lubbock county, 9,940; pulling one-third to ½ bales; $1.75 in field; W&H 25 cents; direct to Vernon O'Farrell, TEC Labor camp, 1002 Edna, Lubbock.

Crosby county, 2,800; pulling $1.75 in field; W&H 25 cents; direct to T. H. Holmes, TEC Labor camp, Ralls.

Slaton, 1,500; pulling $1.75 in field; W&H 25 cents; direct to Ted Burrows, TEC Labor camp, Slaton.

Dickens county, 200; pulling $1.75 in field; W&H 25 cents; direct to Citizens' Gin, Dickens

Hockley county, 2,750; Cochran county, 750; pulling one-third bales, $1.75 in field; W&H 25 cents; direct to Fred Presley, TEC, Ransom Bros. lot, Levelland.

Floyd county, 500; pulling ¾ bales; $1.75 in field; W&H 25 cents; direct to Joseph Von Wernich, Consumers Fuel Assn., Lockney.

Deaf Smith and Castro county, 400; pulling $1.75 in field; W&H 25 cents; direct to TEC office, Hereford or Hereford Gin Co.

Motley county, 200; pulling ¼ to ½ bales; $2 delivered to gin; direct to Rufus Emmons, Motley county agent.

The Lubbock TEC office serves Hockley, Cochran, Lubbock, Dickens, King, Kent, Stonewall, Crosby and Garza counties. Lamesa's office serves Dawson, Borden, Gaines, Terry, Lynn, Yoakum and Scurry counties. The Littlefield TEC office serves Lamb, Bailey, Castro and Parmer counties and the Plainview office covers Hale, Floyd, Briscoe and Swisher counties.

Near-Record Harvest Seen

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Good harvest weather is assuring the nation of its second largest volume of crops in history and a record supply of corn for producing meat, dairy and poultry products.

Reporting this in its October crop summary, the Agriculture department said also that farmers in the broad Great Plains region are making good progress in seeding winter wheat for harvest next year.

Conditions were sufficiently favorable during September, the department said, to boost total production prospects one per cent despite a slight drop in the corn estimate. The total crop volume is indicated at 131 per cent of the 1923-32 base, second only to last year's 137 per cent.

May Be Last Year

This may be the last year for some time, however, that crop production approaches this year's level. With surpluses mounting in the case of cotton, corn, wheat, oilseeds and some lesser crops, the government is preparing to take action to reduce output next year.

Controls of some kind have been indicated for wheat, cotton, tobacco, corn and other crops.

The Agriculture department estimated Texas would produce 52,332,000 bushels of a national corn crop expected to amount to nearly three and a half billion bushels.

The department figured the national crop at 3,476,986,000 bushels. This would be the second largest crop of record. The estimate said Texas' yield per acre would be 21 bushels.

The national rice crop was estimated at 89,559,000 bushels, of which Texas' share was expected to be 23,782,000 with a yield of 46 bushels per acre.

The weather has given Texas citrus a beating, with the result the department predicted an orange crop of 19 per cent of normal and a grapefruit crop only 12 per cent of normal. Texas' Orange production was estimated at 1,400,000 boxes, grapefruit at 4,800,000 boxes.

This year's huge output is due

Testimony Heard In Scurry Murder Case

SWEETWATER, Oct. 11. (AP)—Two witnesses said today they heard a commotion in a Scurry county jail cell and later found Robert C. Sperry, 48, dead.

One of them testified he saw Henry W. Strickland, 20, with a club and heard him laugh after Sperry was found dead.

Strickland is on trial, charged with murder in the death last June 27 in the jail at Snyder.

Joe Caswell of Snyder, who was in jail then, said Sperry was brought into the jail at 7:30 p. m. And was found dead less than an hour later. He said Sperry was either drunk or ill and was put to bed.

Four men were in the jail runaround, Caswell said, and Strickland went in the direction of Sperry's cell. Caswell said he heard blows struck and a voice saying, "I'll teach you to tell them I stole your watch."

The prisoners later found Sperry was dead and called help. On cross examination, Caswell said he had thought the commotion in the cell was just a fight.

Weldon Lee of Snyder, another prisoner at the time, told of hearing the commotion and seeing Strickland with a club. After the prisoners investigated and found Sperry dead, he said, Strickland laughed and said, "I think we have a stiff in here."

ALLRED, CONNALLY OKAYED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. (AP)—The Senate Judiciary committee today approved President Truman's nomination of Ben C. Connally and James V. Allred as U. S. district judges for South Texas. Connally is a son of Senator Connally (D-Tex). Allred is a former Texas governor and also a former U. S. district judge.

Blandy Urges Supercarrier

BY MAX BOYD
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. (AP)—Admiral W. H. P. Blandy declared tonight that proposed cuts in the Navy seriously imperil the nation's security and he urged a restudy of the stop-work order on the supercarrier United States.

Blandy said that in the case of the Atlantic fleet, which he commands, projected money cuts will reduce its force "dangerously below" minimum estimates.

He declared that disclosure of an atomic explosion in Russia is one factor which makes it advisable to re-examine Secretary of Defense Johnson's decision to stop work on the supercarrier. It was estimated to cost $185,000,000.

Appears At Night Session

Blandly appeared at a night session of the House Armed Services committee, currently hearing the Navy's side of the inter-service dispute over the importance of the Air Force and its big B-36 bomber. Earlier Navy witnesses had told the committee that Russia can shoot down the B-36 with guided rockets and said that even if the pride of the Air Force should escape them its "barbaric" atomizing of cities would strip the U. S. of self-respect.

In response to questions by Chairman Vinson (D.-Ga.), Blandy said he would be glad to see legislation looking toward construction of a supercarrier .

Blandy told the committee the carrier which Johnson killed was "a ship designed to be part of a force which could pick its own fight at a time and a place of its own choosing."

Limit Claimed Set

"With the carrier United States, our ability to command the sea would have been strengthened and improved," the fleet commander said. "Its lack places an arbitrary limit on that ability."

Blandy said there is such a thing as "reducing a carrier task force to such puny proportions that it practically constitutes a suicide force."

Rep. Bates (R.-Mass.), asked if the proposed slash in naval aviation will have that effect.

"Yes, it does, Mr. Bates," Blandy answered.

Reds Hail East German Leader

BERLIN, Oct. 11. (INS)—Wilhelm Pieck, Moscow-trained Communist, tonight was made president of the Communist East German state, guarded by goosestepping elite guards reminiscent of the Hitler era.

The election was by "acclamation," not by the ballot box, in a state which the Western Allies have denounced as an illegal Soviet dummy.

The 73-year-old Pieck has been a Communist leader since the party's founding in 1919. He spent the war years in Moscow and returned to Germany in 1945 behind the conquering Russians.

Bonn Government Hit

His Communist state regime is pledged to "eliminate" the legally-elected West German state created by the Western Allies at Bonn. In his acceptance speech Pieck said:

"As to the Bonn government it still is a question whether we eventually will recognize it and work together for a united Germany or whether we strive for a united Germany alone."

(The British foreign office made public its rejection of a recent Soviet protest note about establishment of the federal republic at Bonn. The British note said Russia bears "entire responsibility" in not unifying Germany under the Potsdam pact principles.)

Johannes Dieckmann, president of the Communist-created parliament, hailed Pieck as "Germany's

Tahoka Woman Slightly Hurt When Struck By Auto Here

Mrs. Paul Howell, 43, of Tahoka, was injured slightly about 4:10 p. m. Tuesday when she was struck by a car at the intersection of Main and Ave. L.

Attendants at West Texas hospital where she was taken by the driver of the car said she would be held there overnight for observation. Her injuries were described as bruises, abrasions and laceration of the head, left arm, and legs.

Police records showed that Mrs. Howell was crossing Ave. L on the south crosswalk when she was hit by a car driven by John Albert Morton, 30, of 2206 Ave. O. Morton, who was turning south on Ave. L from Main street, was given a ticket for failure to yield right of way to a pedestrian.

DEDUCTIBLE CLAUSE CHALLENGED

Wind, Hail Insurance Dispute To Be Carried To High Courts

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 11.—One angle of the question of whether you or the insurance company will pay for hail or wind damage under $100 on your house headed for the high courts today.

District Judge Jack Roberts ruled that the Board of Insurance Commissioners does not have legal authority to require such policies to include the $100 deductible clause.

The $100 deductible means that if a hail storm knocks less than a hundred dollars worth of shingles off you roof, you pay the repair bill. The insurance company pays the bill for damages over one hundred dollars.

The ruling by Judge Roberts in 126th District court was only on the question of whether or not present laws give the commission authority to require the deductible clause.

Paul H. Brown, fire insurance commissioner, said the state would appeal the decision.

Last week, the commission announced rate reductions that it said would save Texas policyholders more than $2,000,000. The commission said the $100 deductible clause made this possible.

The commission has said that if insurance companies must pay for damage within $100 on such common weather scourges as hail-

Warmer Weather Seen As Frost Forecast For Area Is Canceled

By TOM DAVIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

TOSSING out a previous forecast for a possible light frost on the South Plains this morning, the weatherman now says the area will have fair skies and no important temperature changes today, tonight and Thursday.

The forecaster said the low in Lubbock this morning should again be near 40, to match the chill reading of Tuesday morning, coldest of the current season. Previous low here was 44, posted on Monday morning.

High temperature for today is expected near 72, after a Tuesday high of 68.

The weatherman explained that frost had been mentioned as a possibility for this morning until winds shifted to the east.

The Morning Avalanche gathered up a few figures in preparation for the first frost, and since they won't keep under the warm afternoon sun, here is the chilling information straight from the deep freeze.

Average date for the first killing freeze is between Nov. 3 and 10, according to weather records

Writer Denounces Navy Attack On Air Force, A-Bomb As Unjustified

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Dear Admirals:

Believe me, I agree with you that it's a bad, bad thing to deflate the Navy. It's as bad as puncturing the effectiveness of the Army and that of the fly boys. These are rough days. Noticed the radar fans near the Pentagon today, and they were working.

The other fellows are being cut, too, under this order to take a load of about 800 million or billion (it doesn't seem to matter any more) off the backs of the taxpayers. Probably they'll be bellyaching too, in time. But for some time now you've been doing it, the public is beginning to get the wrong impression.

Duties Still Important

You've devoted so much time to the Air Force's B-36 that it is beginning to sound like the Jap fleet of 1941, or the Russian schnorkel flotilla of today. It ain't bombing us. It's on the same team with you. Sure, it's obsolete. All planes are, while still a year away from the prototype. So is almost everything in the war line, including battleships and bazookas.

Read the other day that one of your fellows complained the sole role of the Navy's aviation in the future, the way things are going, will be the destruction of schnorkel subs and clearing the landing beaches. Even the first part of that is of enormous importance.

Navy Job Essential

If the Russians really took all those half-finished schnorks and shanghaied the Kraut experts to complete them and build more, seems to me that the Navy's air role is as important as anything the fly boys have in mind. And it's a job that only the Navy could do. The fly boys think the schnork is something that brought 'em.

Saw some of your young fellows practicing schnorking off Bermuda a couple months ago and never ran into a better or more efficient bunch. Masters! Please don't discount what they can do, from the deck of big or little carriers. Their work might in time save not only the Army, with its boatloads of GI's, and the Air Force, with its needed cargo ships filled with supplies, but also the Navy itself.

Affirmative Thinking Urged

Why not stress that side a little, instead of the sophomoric nonsense of giving out handouts in a dark hall? How about a little affirmative talking, instead of negative and sometimes irrelevant blasts on an Air Force plane. You've got a lot of glorious things to talk about, affirmatively.

Been reading, too, the remarks of your Comdr. Gene Tatom. The good comdr. told the congressmen (who were worried about getting home next Saturday to mend a few literal and figurative fences) that the Russians would shoot down B-36's like fish in a barrel, because of their jets and radar. The Germans and Japs shot down a lot of B-17's, B-24's and B-29's. But an awful lot of them got through, too. And have you seen Germany and Japan?

Statement Called Untrue

Comdr. Tatom said, "You could stand in the open at one end of the north-south runway at Washington National airport and have an atomic bomb explode at the other end of the runway without serious injury to you."

If that were true, which it isn't, it still wouldn't be a fair premise. You could get missed by a $25.-000 broadside from the U.S.S. Missouri, too, but that is no immediate reason for beating it into plowshares. The fly boys just seem to want to buy a bigger, better bomber, which is their duty. And you want the A-bomb you're knocking, don't you?

Navy Charges Denounced

As for the bomb, two old model T types exploded about as high over Hiroshima and Nagasaki as the aforesaid runway is long. Killed, maimed or infected nearly a quarter of a million people and prompted a tough nation to quit fighting. Another, exploding a few fathoms under a chained fleet at Bikini on July 23, 1946, is still poisoning life out that way. Ships touched by its radioactive steam are still dangerous to work on for any length of time.

It's hard to write anything about the military appropriations grab that doesn't offend one or more of the services. Yet, it seems to me, the Navy has been on the defensive when it could be on the offensive. It wants to "fight" the B-36 at 40,000 feet; says the Air Force can't hit anything with a A-Bomb from that height. It hit its previous A-targets from about 30,000, and must have improved. Everything else has, including the Navy—whose own aerial use of the A-bomb (now being practiced by the non-speech-making Navy) would have to be from great height. It's a must.

Relax, boys, and tell us what a great Navy we've got—not what a bad airplane another branch of the service has. Besides, a fellow with fleas, a sour stomach and a shoulder gun shootin' arm that doesn't work much better than they did in the war of 1945, will be the bloke who finally has to win the next one . . . if any.

Rice is becoming an important crop on the delta of the Rhone River.

AIRMAN'S FAMILY WIPED OUT

Mother-In-Law Is Blamed For Troubles That Led To Slayings

FORT WORTH, Oct. 11. (AP)—A distraught airlines pilot whose family was wiped out by a grandmother's gun said today in-laws should leave married couples alone.

"You can do something," 37-year-old Richard Gordon Finch told newsmen shortly after arriving from Michigan. "I would like to suggest that in-laws leave married people alone."

Justice of Peace Whit Boyd ruled today that Finch's mother-in-law, Mrs. Edith Walker, about 60, shot and killed his wife and two children and then killed herself. The bodies were found yesterday in beds of the modest suburban Finch home here.

Finch told reporters his mother-in-law had been visiting his home "off and on" for 13 years. Several months ago, he said, his wife told him Mrs. Walker planned another visit. Finch said he told his pretty 33-year-old wife "it wouldn't work out."

But Mrs. Walker did come, and last Sept. 16 Mrs. Finch filed suit for divorce. Last Friday Mrs. Finch called her attorney and asked that the suit be dismissed.

Finch said he did not know his wife had changed her mind.

"If I had I would have been back here and I might have stopped this thing. If this suit was actually withdrawn I know it precipitated the shooting. I wish they had wired me."

Three Are Slain

Killed, besides Mrs. Walker, were her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Finch, 33; Penelope (Penny) Finch, 8, and Richard Allen Finch, 7. A .22 caliber pistol was found near Mrs. Walker's hand. Homicide Detective A. C. Howerton said the gun bore Mrs. Walker's fingerprints.

Finch, a former Air Force colonel who flew presidential missions during World War II, has been piloting American Airline planes. He was visiting his parents in Ann Arbor, Mich., at the time of the shootings, which officers said occurred Saturday night or Sunday.

He said he would order his children's bodies cremated and the ashes scattered from an airplane over Eagle Mountain lake near here, where he said the family lived "happily" at one time.

An armed guard surrounded the Finch home today as crowds of curious gathered around the small suburban residence.

Earlier Suit Dismissed

The pilot expressed belief Mrs. Walker was instrumental in an earlier divorce suit filed by his wife. The original divorce action was dismissed when the couple became reconciled in 1948.

Finch said the death weapon was kept at his home in a fishing tackle box with a .38 caliber pistol and shells. He said he thought both guns probably were loaded.

He asked if his wife's fingerprints were found on the gun. He was told no.

"I'm glad to hear that," Finch replied.

Went On Chinchilla Hunt

The divorce petition said the couple was separated last June 12. Finch said he left Fort Worth about then on a chinchilla hunt in the northwest and Pacific coast. He said he corresponded with his wife during his absence.

After the separation he moved to Dallas. Not long ago he went to Ann Arbor to visit his parents, Prof. and Mrs. Frank Richard Finch. The elder Finch has been an engineering professor at the University of Michigan 43 years.

His mother accompanied Finch to Texas. They arrived by plane in Dallas, stayed there overnight, and came to Fort Worth this morning.

He said his wife was one of three children by Mrs. Walker's first marriage and said his mother-in-law had been divorced from her second husband, Jim Walker, a retired Santa Fe railway worker now employed in a San Antonio veterinary hospital.

Detective Howerton said a Michigan police officer, Lt. George Spaulch of Ann Arbor, told him by telephone last night "the story he got there was that the mother-in-law was trying to keep Finch and his wife from going back together."

Finch had been on leave of absence from the American Airlines because of ill health.

Texas Citrus Farmer Accused Of Grand Larceny In New York

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct, 11 (AP) — An operator of a citrus farm at San Juan, Tex., is being held in county jail here pending trial. He is accused of third degree forgery and first degree grand larceny.

Cecil P. Mulholland, 45, pleaded innocent yesterday to the charges in the alleged embezzlement of more than $150,000 from the Tobin Packing Co.

He was employed by Tobin until June, 1948.

William J. Hammill, 45, of Rochester, another former Tobin employe who faces the same charges, pleaded innocent last Wednesday and is free on $5,000 bail.

The Tobin company discharged Hammill about a month ago, shortly after the discovery of the alleged larcenies.

The pair is accused in two indictments of making false entries in the Tobin books to conceal misappropriation of $133,028 over a period of years, the specific theft of $1,140 on Jan. 3, 1948, and the omission of entries on the Tobin book to show cash received.

Both Hammill and Mulholland had served as Tobin Credit managers.

Arizona Fliers Look To Long Rest After Setting Flight Mark

YUMA, Ariz., Oct. 11 (U.P.) — Pilots Woody Jongeward and Bob Woodhouse looked forward to a "good long rest" today as townsmen planned a gala celebration in honor of their new World endurance flight record.

"It sure feels good to get our feet on something solid again," the weary ex-Navy fliers said yesterday as Jongeward brought their little Aeronca cabin plane down after 46 days aloft.

Old Record Falls

They landed at Yuma county airport after being in the air 1,124 hours, 14 minutes and five seconds. The old record of 1,008 hours was set at Fullerton, Calif., last spring by Bill Barris and Dick Riedel.

"We wouldn't want to go up again" said Jongeward, 31, and Woodhouse, 26. "It was getting rugged toward the last, and the constant noise and vibration seemed to deaden our nerves. We're ready for a good long rest."

A crowd of 10,000, including their wives and parents, cheered as the plane landed. The pilots were unsteady on their feet at first and friends good-naturedly pulled them from the cabin as the crowd surged forward.

Jongeward and Woodhouse had hoped to stay in the air indefinitely, but a burned-out magneto forced them back to earth. Emergency fire and rescue crews stood by all night in case the defect might cause a crash as they refueled from a speeding ground vehicle.

The pilots estimated that they flew 89,920 miles during the flight at an average speed of slightly more than 75 miles an hour. They never ventured more than 400 miles from the home base.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

THIS is National Business Women's week and once again the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, Inc., is calling the attention of the public to the various fields of endeavor in which women are engaged. Their programs over the nation this week are directed to better performance in a better world.

Theme of the national federation is "Twentieth Century Unlimited" and as business and professional women over the nation look back on their progress during the first half of this century which is rapidly approaching its close, they can see how far has been their advancement.

The working woman is not a local figure but is a world citizen with responsibilities to people everywhere.

THIS has been called the American century because the world seems to be looking for us for help in solving its many problems. It also may well be called the Woman's century. The women have extended their interests during the last fifty years past the hearth and fireside and have affiliated themselves with organized civic, business and professional groups; they have entered industry and business, both management and labor and may be found in government and politics. During the hectic years of two world wars they showed they were made of too strong substance to be called the weaker sex.

And yet through it all the truly intelligent woman has retained her femininity and charm. She has not become hardened and cheap because she entered fields formerly thought of as being exclusively for men.

AND THAT brings up an interesting question. Why are so many fields thought of as being strictly masculine and yet men are never restricted as to their place. For instance one hears a woman's place is in the home and in the kitchen. And yet some of the world's best cooks are men. The needle is thought of as a woman's implement but men tailors enjoy a profitable business. In the field of interior decorating there are as many men as women.

When you hear the question, "Where is the proper place for a woman?" you always heard the answer, "In the home." Well, that's correct. We'll admit that the most lasting influence of women is in the home, for behind all men, great or small, are women. The fight for decent conditions in communities, for improvement in food, housing, school, health and recreational facilities must be led by the women of the home—the wives and mothers.

As the Hon. Margaret Chase Smith pointed out not long ago, if there is any proper role for today's woman it is that of the alert and responsible citizen in the fullest sense of the word. Citizenship is without sex. It makes no distinction between the rights and responsibilities of men and women—in America. Since the granting of suffrage to women, the only differential between men and women as citizens has been the availability and acceptance of leadership.

Right now the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs is working to promote the passage of the jury service constitution amendment in the November election. The women to whom we have talked seemed in favor of eligibility to serve on juries. And yet if they show the inertia there that has characterized their privilege of suffrage rights, their position as members of the jury will not mean much.

We think that life today is a challenge to women. It is regrettable that many women refuse to show any interest and aggressiveness in public affairs.

THIS may be disquieting news to men who think women should be deprived of the rights for which they have fought through the ages: one-half of the world's population is constituted of women.

If we really took advantage of the opportunities that are available, there is no way of knowing how important a role we could play on the world's stage.

European Trip Is Reviewed

"A Woman's Glimpse of Europe" was the title of the talk Mrs. M. Norvel Young gave on her summer travels, when she spoke for Lubbock Woman's Forum Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Jimmie Kerr introduced the speaker and the musicians, Mrs. Charles Moeser and Mrs. James Atcheson. Mrs. Moeser, accompanied by Mrs. Atcheson, sang "The Lovely Song My Heart Is Singing" (Goulding) and "The Blackbird" (Weatherby). Mrs. J. B. McCauley presided for the meeting and the introduction of guests.

The guest day tea and program were held in the home of Mrs. Clem Boverie at 3210 Twenty-third.

Mrs. Young described St. Paul's cathedral, one of five designed by Christopher Wren which are standing today. Forty-seven of his churches were destroyed during the war. While visiting the British museum, Mrs. Young reported that she saw the Bible found on Mt. Sanai which was purchased by England from Russia.

Sees Peace Palace

As she saw the Peace Palace in Amsterdam, the speaker said she felt that it stands as a silent symbol of the inability of peoples and countries to get along with one another.

In Switzerland, Mrs. Young's favorite European country, she sat in a class of Emil Bruner, famous theologian. At each place she visited, Mrs. Young was impressed with the kind attitude of the people toward Americans, and she was also impressed that all the persons with whom she talked know something of Texas and wanted to know more. She noticed, too, that in the war torn countries, the people are clinging to the glories and beauties of the past.

The speaker described Egypt as being wonderful and terrible, rich and poor, gaudy and pitiful. She stated that the people along the "muddy Nile" have multiple uses for its water — they drink it, wash in it, bathe in it, and irrigate with it.

Mrs. Young explained that one of the best parts of an overseas trip for any Christian is the visit to the Holy Land. She saw Jerusalem, the Mount of Olives, Sea of Galilee, Gethsemane, etc.

Quote From Psalms

To open her talk, Mrs. Young gave a quotation by David from Psalms 139 about taking the wings of the morning and going to the uttermost parts of the sea. After seeing many wonders in many parts of the world, the Lubbock woman stated that women in America are held on a higher plane, are respected and more blessed than women in any other place. For our privileges, especially religious freedom, we should fight, she said.

Hostesses with Mrs. Boverie were Mesdames J. L. Downs, Earl Archer, Noel Stalnaker, Gradie Bownds and D. B. Pope. They arranged the tea table with a hand-made drawn cloth and crystal and silver appointments. In the center of the table was a bouquet of rose and wine mums and tinted cattail interspersed with dark green and wine leaves. Semi-circles of dark green candles were placed on either end of the table.

Mrs. Ralph Krebbs Is Circle Hostess

Fourteen members and one guest of the Evening circle of Forrest Heights Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the home of Mrs. Ralph Krebbs, 3111 Twenty-eighth, Monday night.

Mrs. J. D. Teague conducted the program and gave a devotion. Mrs. D. W. Goode, assisted by Mrs. R. L. Turley, taught the third lesson of the study, "Japan Begins Again."

The next meeting is to be Oct. 17 in the home of Mrs. Goode, 3116 Twenty-eighth.

STUDY UNIT TO MEET

Mrs. H. C. Lewis and Mrs. Everett Miller will be hostesses to AAUW Child Study unit 4 this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the former, 3415 Twenty-ninth.

Pioneer Needle Club At Tuesday Meeting

Guests of Pioneer Needle club Tuesday afternoon were Mesdames W. E. Ragle, I. R. McLarry and J. B. Vickery.

Mrs. J. L. Birdwell and Mrs. W. C. Edwards were hostesses at the meeting in the home of the former on Levelland highway.

Institute Is For Nurses

Each year at the one-day institute held for District 18, Texas Graduate Nurses association, material concerning state, national and international nursing affairs is discussed. At this year's institute which is to be conducted today at Lubbock Women's clubhouse, 2020 Broadway, Miss A. Louise Dietrich of El Paso, general secretary of the nurses state organization, and Mrs. S. J. Brown of San Antonio, state chairman of the planning and structure committee, will be speakers.

The meeting which is sponsored by the Texas Graduate Nurses association will open at 9 a.m. Nurses and student nurses from the 18 counties of District 18 are to attend.

Miss Dietrich is to speak on world health, federal and state legislation which affects nurses and district problems. Mrs. Brown will discuss "One Organization or Two."

The first formal district institute was held Oct. 5, 1932, at Beaumont. At that meeting, topics discussed were: Eight hour day, special training for special jobs, how to assist in distribution of nursing, programs for meetings, state headquarters, study of nursing schools in Texas, the international council of nurses in Paris, France, and biennial statistics. Seventy were present for the program.

Nurses' institutes are held yearly in the 20 districts of Texas. The Wednesday meeting will be the 17th institute for District 18.

Want to study the important 60% of your next new car? Start with this road's-eye view!

Fact to remember: When you look at a car, any car, you only see about 40% of what you're paying for.

That's why—when experienced buyers come in to look at a Packard—we often invite them to take a "road's-eye view." We like to show and describe hidden values such as these:

● Double-solid-panel body construction—over a frame that looks husky enough to be the backbone of a battleship!

● Special alloys that make the engine almost "wear-proof." Fact: In high-speed, 25,000-mile endurance runs, Packard cylinder wear is less than the thickness of this newspaper page!

● Extra ball and roller bearings—more than you'll find in any other car in Packard's price class. Like the jewels in a fine watch, these costly bearings guard vital parts against wear.

The list goes on and on, and on—and it covers all the big reasons for Packard's superior safety and comfort . . . and Packard's amazingly low operating and upkeep cost.

And how consistent has Packard quality been—in the hidden features, as well as the on-the-surface features? Answer: Of all the Packards built—in the last 50 years—over 50% are still in service!

PARTY ALERTED FOR ELECTION

Churchill Rejects Suggestions For Minimum Wage Legislation

BY R. H. SHACKFORD
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 11. — Winston Churchill, Conservative party leader, today rejected suggestions that Britain adopt by legislation a minimum wage for all workers.

Churchill spoke at a local government conference of the party, a preliminary to the 70th annual party conference opening tomorrow.

"Just because the Social party got into office the last time by making all kinds of promises, it ought not to be supposed that that is the way to gain or hold the confidence of the British nation," Churchill said.

"Anyhow, that is not the course I am going to advise you or the Conservative party to follow in the immediate future."

His statement was a repudiation of Lord Beaverbrook, who had advocated a minimum wage of six pounds ($16.80).

"Beaverbrook's opinions are his own, but it is my duty to say that they must not be taken as the policy of the Conservative party," Churchill said.

Party Altered For Vote

The Conservatives already had alerted their organizers for a general election by the fourth week of November.

Lord Woolton, Conservative party chairman, issued orders for party workers to be prepared for a labor government announcement setting either Nov. 21 or Nov. 24 as election date.

Prime Minister Clement Attlee's government continued silent but observers believed an announcement would be made soon after Parliament reconvenes for its regular fall session next Tuesday.

Observers believed much hinged on the advice of Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin, who returns from the United States tomorrow. Attlee has called a cabinet meeting for Thursday.

Britain's Union of Bank Employes demanded equal pay for men and women.

Women's Club Plans Carnival For Oct. 20

Oct. 20 has been set as date for the annual winter carnival and dance of Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club, it was announced Tuesday.

The carnival will open at 7:30 p. m. and the dance, at 9 p. m., at the Playmor on Slaton highway. Ross Edwards orchestra will play.

Hamburgers and home-made pies and cakes will be served.

All proceeds will go to Girlstown, U.S.A., building fund.

The club regularly gives money to Girlstown and in addition has decided to sponsor the annual winter carnival and dance as a benefit for Girlstown.

Tickets will go on sale today at Lattimore's and Mark Halsey No. 1. A booth will be maintained in the Hilton hotel lobby Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next week. Price is $1.20, including tax. That price will provide admission to the carnival and the dance. Those participating in carnival games will pay additional charges.

Patients' visitors have stolen 179 towels, 15 sheets, 19 woolen blankets, 113 pillow cases and 23 children's blankets from the Provincial Hospital in Port Elizabeth, South Africa, recently.

Surgeon Fails To Find Whistle In Child; Nickel Found Instead

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 11. (AP) —A whistle in his mouth, two-year-old Hamilton Connell stumbled on the run and fell.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Connell of Cameron, Mo., picked him up. But they couldn't find the whistle. They surmised he might have swallowed it.

After waiting a week in vain for the whistle to appear, the parents brought Hamilton to the hospital here.

A surgeon operated yesterday and removed a nickel.

'Grandma' Defies Tradition At National Meet In Atlanta

By IRWIN SAFCHIK
INS Staff Correspondent

ATLANTA, Oct. 11 — Grandma—the little old lady who's supposed to be surrounded by rocking chairs, rheumatism, gossip and land-o-goshens—met with some three hundred other grandmas in Atlanta today and talked about:

1. Permanent peace;
2. Better radio programs for grandchildren;
3. Welfare work;
4. Blood donations;
5. And a lot of other things grandmothers aren't supposed to have the vaguest ideas about.

Special Day Recognized

They were still happy about the fact that Grandmother's day was recognized in 20 states on Sunday, Oct. 9, even though department stores haven't put the special sale of recognition on the holiday.

They met at the National Grandmothers' club convention, a rollicking affair that's been going on for eight years. The three hundred pairs of twinkling eyes in Atlanta represented three-thousand other pairs of twinkling eyes which stayed at home but definitely did not attend to their own knitting.

These women—some of them didn't stop at being grandmothers but advanced to great-grandmotherhood—came from 23 states. They opened their convention with all the zest traditionally reserved for pouring sulphur and molasses down junior's throat.

Tonight they made a rousing success out of stunt night in which—among other activities usually reserved for the kids—the Vincennes, Ind., delegation acted out the saga of "Dumb Dorie Goes to the Movies."

The grandmothers will close their convention Wednesday just like any convention would—with a decision where to meet next year. Pennants hanging on the backs of certain delegates indicated that Akron, Ohio, is going all out for that honor.

St. Petersburg, Fla., provided the oldest and youngest grandmas. Youngest is Mrs. Willa Shroyer who is only 30 while Mrs. Sophie Barthlott proudly boomed that she's 81.

The ladies take pride in their statistics. They seem happiest about "Grandma" Moon, of Macomb, Ill., who is the owner of 28 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

President of the group is Mrs. Bea Good, of Medina, N. Y., whose name is considered a slogan for other grandmothers.

Mrs. Frances Long, president of the Atlanta chapter, is running the convention with Mrs. Vera Mae Hansel, president of the Orlando, Fla., group.

Mrs. Long ran down the list of activities that she and the other "girls are most interested in." She said:

National Holiday Sought

"We're even trying to get Congress to make Grandmother's day a national holiday."

Mrs. Long said that getting better radio programs for children is among the club's more forceful crusades at this time. "We even have people working for us in the networks," she said slyly.

No action has been taken by the national group as a whole on comic books.

Mrs. Long, however, gave every indication that the comic books are going to be pretty closely watched by a lot of white-haired ladies from now on.

For about 30 years early in the 19th Century, small American handmade glass cup plates commemorated in pictures and lettering everything of headline interest concerning American ships.

LABOR STRIFE CUTS SPENDING

Business Expected To Prosper If Nation's Strikes Settled

By T. W. KIENLEN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 — By all the indicators businessmen should prosper in the final three months of 1949, but whether they do depends on settlement of the steel and coal strikes.

The strikes in America's two basic industries will cause only temporary dislocations if settled quickly. But if they drag on—in the steel mills, especially—the damage may be irreparable.

Economic Rally Seen

This is the opinion of many experts. Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder thinks a speedy agreement in steel and coal could signal a new economic rally. Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer finds the national economy to be basically sound. But he has warned that consumer spending already is being cut down in the wake of labor strife.

Before Philip Murray called out the CIO Steel Workers to join the coal miners in idleness experts in the retail trade optimistically looked for the biggest Christmas on record in 1949. Today the probable spending volume is in doubt.

National Income High

Savings still are huge and the national income high in spite of the strikes but widespread labor trouble makes people cautious, the experts point out.

Secretary Snyder and others have called attention recently to the $200,000,000,000 backlog of U.S. savings as a potential market for just about everything that American manufacturers produce. And because they have such savings, Americans have been eager and willing to buy out of income.

Proof of this is furnished by the federal reserve board report that instalment credit—time payments—rose in August to a record high of $9,613,000,000, a gain for the month of $282,000,000.

Inventory Buying Rises

Furthermore, businessmen who early in the summer feared a price slump and cleared their shelves of high-priced stock, have for the past two months been buying inventory again. The result has been a rise in business loans in eight weeks of $553,000,000 to $13,384,000,000.

Industrial production, too, has recovered from a mid-summer slump, according to the federal reserve, while unemployment has dropped from the seven-year high of 4,095,000 reached in July to 3,351,000 in September. Employment in September was 59,411,000 against 59,947,000 in August. A year ago the total at work was 60,312,000.

But the key to the future is held by steel and coal.

A leading economist has pointed out that a long steel shutdown can force curtailment of production in such lines as automobiles and refrigerators, while a sustained coal strike would prove harmful to such industrial activity as the production of steam and electric power.

"We're facing a real buyer's market," he said, "and a long strike could do a lot of damage."

Public Is Urged To Take Tests During Diabetes Campaign

It is a matter of life or death that America's million undiagnosed diabetics be discovered, else those persons ultimately will contribute to the statistics which make diabetes eighth among all diseases as a cause of death.

In Lubbock county, the warning of the American Diabetes Association, Inc., in connection with a nationwide diabetes detective drive, apparently was beginning to elicit more response.

Specimens for urine sugar tests were beginning to arrive at the City-County Department of Health, and rural schools were asking their students to collect specimens to send to the laboratory.

Tests Are Free

One entire family telephoned that its members would have the tests made.

One woman, a diabetic the last 12 years, was driving in her car to the residences of friends, taking containers and asking that they collect urine specimens that she might deliver to the laboratory.

All laboratory tests are free, in connection with Diabetes week. The American Medical association and the U. S. Department of Health, as well as local medical and health groups are cooperating in the detection drive.

Everybody—from cradle to grave—is a "candidate for diabetes."

Fat Persons Warned

Everybody who is akin to a diabetic should have the test made, and determine that all members of his family should do likewise. All fat persons, particularly, should be tested, or persons whose weight has changed quickly.

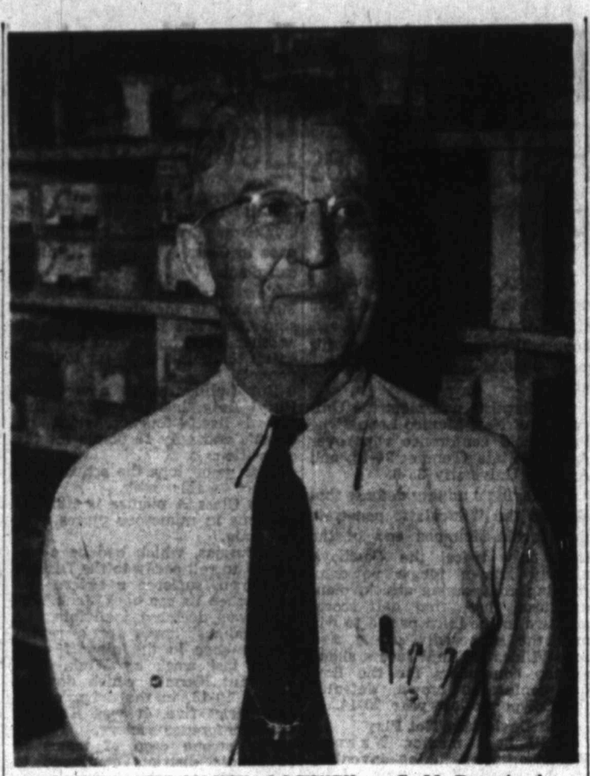

Results of the tests will be referred to private physicians, and the physicians can interpret findings where tests show positive.

The drive is being conducted in all 48 states and parts of Canada.

"The only thing that will make it a success is to get the urine sugar specimens to the laboratory," it was announced here and elsewhere.

"Be sure the tests are collected, at home, at the city laboratory on the first floor of the city hall, or at the John Halsey Drug store—from one hour to two hours after a meal. A prescription bottle will do. If collected at the drug store or the laboratory, containers will be furnished.

"If they are found and treated, diabetics may expect to live quite normal lives so long as they eat a proper diet, take adequate exercise and receive sufficient insulin to convert the sugar they eat into energy."

Chicago Boy's Alligator Story Proves To Be True

CHICAGO, Oct. 11 (U.P.) — Mrs. Lillian Horky didn't believe her son Ronald, 13, when he announced: "Mother, there's an alligator in the back yard."

Shortly afterwards, a neighbor called up and told Mrs. Horkey she'd better check up on the funny looking animal running around on her property.

Sure enough, she found a 38-inch alligator. Police captured it and took it to the station where it was claimed by Donald Tetrev, 21, who said he'd had it for a pet for 10 years. He said it had escaped twice before from the tank he keeps it in along with another 'gator, three turtles, four crabs and four frogs.

Rotary Club To Visit Experiment Station

Members of the Lubbock Rotary club will spend their luncheon hour today at the Texas Experiment station east of Lubbock, it was announced Tuesday by Dave Sherrill, chairman of the club's rural-urban committee.

Rotarians will drive to the experiment station, where a barbecue lunch will be served after which a brief tour will be made of the experiment farm. Don Jones, station superintendent and club member, is program chairman. Demonstrations of several machines will be made during the program.

Cars will be available at the east entrance of the Hilton hotel from 11:45 until 12:10 for Rotarians desiring transportation, Sherrill said.

"It's the first chance Rotarians have had in a long time to get a little dust on their shoes and we believe they will enjoy it," Sherrill said. "We promise that the program will end promptly at 1 o'clock."

Austin Woman Takes Position With Lubbock TB Association

Miss Virginia Greenwaldt, who moved to Lubbock from Austin, began duties Tuesday as executive secretary of Lubbock County Tuberculosis association.

She succeeds Mrs. Elsie Ailes, who resigned recently.

Miss Greenwaldt is a graduate of George Peabody college in Nashville, Tenn., and received nursing education at Brackenridge hospital in Austin. She is a registered nurse.

She formerly served as a clinical instructor at the Baylor university School of Nursing; as night supervisor and as surgical nurse in San Angelo clinic-hospital, and as director of nurses in Hugh Chatham Memorial hospital in Elkin, N. C.

Hilton Hotel Chain May Buy Waldorf-Astoria In New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP)— The head of the Hilton Hotels Corp., today declined to comment on reports that the company planned to buy the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

Conrad N. Hilton, president, said there was nothing to report on whether negotiations were under way.

Such a sale of the 47-story hotel long has been rumored in hotel circles. Waldorf officials, who have denied the reports in the past, were not available for comment on the current rumor.

The 2,200-room Waldorf-Astoria, opened in 1931, cost about $40 million. The current report said that 366,360 shares of Waldorf stock would go to the Hilton firm for about $6 million.

Westerners Drill For Pampa

Running Features Daily Grid Work

Another long scrimmage in preparation for the Pampa Harvester game Friday was undergone Tuesday at Chapman field by the Westerners, and it was not until after dark that the players quit the practice field.

Evidently striving toward having the first team ready for a full game, Coach Pat Pattison is giving the boys wind sprints and lots of running in addition to the regular work.

Coach Pattison is not underestimating the strength of Pampa, and in line with the "one game at a time" policy is considering the Harvester fray the game of the year. This year's tilt is non-conference, but last season Pampa came from behind a 19-6 edge held by Lubbock to win, 26-19, and Coach Pattison is trying to prevent history from repeating itself by having his eleven in shape.

Pampa Lost Only One

Thus far Pampa has lost but one game, that loss being a 14-6 decision by Wichita Falls last week. The Coyotes are considered the number two team in the state by sports writers, and the narrow margin of victory considerably boosted Pampa's stock. The week before Pampa nosed out an inspired Vernon team, 8-7.

Comparing the Pampa-Vernon score with the Westerners-Vernon result would give the Lubbock team a great edge in the upcoming tilt, but sometimes the underdog has a tendency to play harder against an old foe. So a jam-up battle is predicted for Friday evening at Jones Stadium.

Tickets On Sale

Tickets for this week's game may be bought at the athletic office at Lubbock High school. A large crowd is expected, and the choice seats will probably disappear fast.

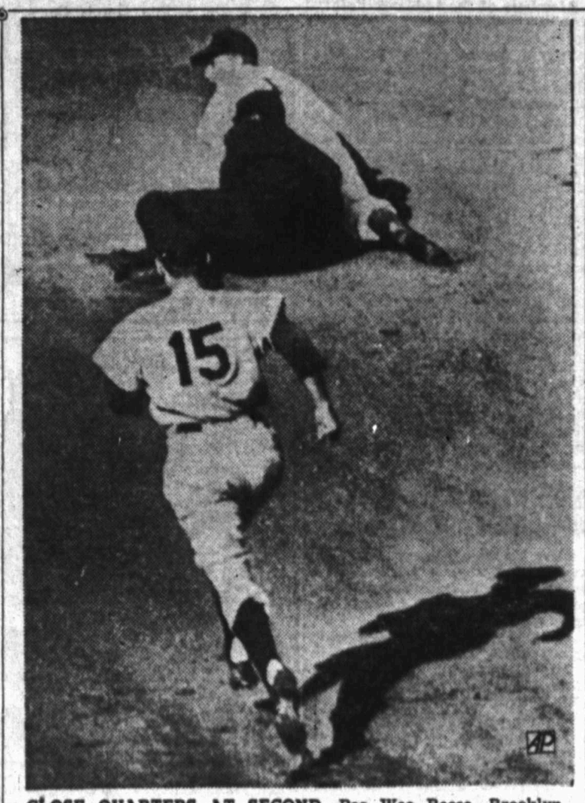

Yesterday's practice was marked by a minimum of hard scrimmage. Usually Tuesday is the day of the rough practice, with Wednesday and Thursday being the days for adding polish to the offense and defense.

Early practice was marked by blackboard work and group drills, with the linemen under Coach Bill Floyd and the ends getting attention from Coach Fred Taylor.

Concentrate On Passing

Play practice, with new plays thrown in, occupied the remainder of the session, with the exception of wind sprints. Concentration thus far has been both on passing and ground plays, and if pressed the Westerners can be expected to open this week.

A few injuries are reported in camp. Morris Turner is nursing a bruised knee, and End Dean White pulled a muscle in his left thigh. White participated in the heavy work, however.

CLOSE QUARTERS AT SECOND—Pee Wee Reese, Brooklyn shortstop, and Umpire Art Passarella sprawl on the ground near second base after a pickoff attempt failed in the first frame of the final World Series game. Moving from first to second is Tommy Henrich of the Yanks. Reese and the umpire tangled when Pitcher Rex Barney threw high to second trying to get Phil Rizzuto of the Yanks. Phil went to third. (AP Wirephoto.)

City Elevens Card Full Weekend Slate

A full schedule again faces football teams in the City School system this week, with games Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Three games at Chapman field spotlight the program, with the Westerners taking on Pampa Friday at Jones Stadium. At 3:30 p.m. Thursday J. T. Hutchinson Junior high meets the Lamesa Juniors at Chapman field, and O. L. Slaton goes to Plainview.

The Pioneers are at home again this week, with a game at 8 p.m. at Chapman field with Plainview B. In their first meeting two weeks ago the teams fought to a 13-13 tie in Plainview, and the rematch promises to be a thriller.

Dunbar High is out of town again this week, with a game scheduled at Abilene.

Saturday the Midland B team invades Chapman field for a game at 8 p.m. with the Cowhands of Lubbock High. The Cowhands lost their last game to Odessa after winning over Plainview and Lamesa by top-heavy scores, and since then there have been long and steady practices held to correct mistakes made in the last contest.

The Saturday schedule is completed with Carroll Thompson playing Odessa Junior High.

DUKE DENIES SUNDAY REPORT

Lamesa Baseball Officials Will Build Park, Stay In WT-NM Loop

LAMESA, Oct. 11 (Special) — Lamesa baseball club officials today asserted that they definitely intended to build a completely new baseball park before next season and that they would remain in the West Texas-New Mexico League unless forced out by other members.

The club officials were commenting on a "well informed source" quoted in a sports column written by Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor Joe Kelly appearing in the Oct. 9, Sunday paper. The source stated that he had information that indicated Lamesa baseball club officials did not intend to build a new plant and that the WT-NM League desired to expand, easing Lamesa out and taking El Paso in.

President H. A. Duke said today that plans are going forward as previously announced for the construction of a new ball park here before the next WT-NM League season gets going. Duke says that at least 144 of 176 $100 box seats for the new park already have been sold and "baseball interest here seems to be at an all-time high."

Dr. R. F. Nix, a member of the board of directors, reports that over $10,000 in box seat money has already been paid. Other directors, Dr. Sam Frazier, Bill White and Ed Dubose, agree that the Loboes are looking forward to a successful 1949 season in the WT-NM League.

Duke said that it would take a vote of all the other clubs, as well as that of the league president, Milton E. Price, to oust Lamesa from the loop. The Loboes definitely do not desire to step out of the WT-NM League and into the Longhorn, Duke asserted.

Lobo officials have inspected new parks at San Angelo, Ballinger and Sweetwater and a completely modern, spacious park is being planned.

Duke noted that the matter of the loop moving up to a "B" classification was one for the league to decide upon, but he indicated strongly that Lamesa would favor remaining a member of the league if and when "B" classification was approved.

He noted that Lamesa attendance last season was a new high of over 75,000, more than several larger cities in the loop registered, and he said that the Loboes expected to play before more than 100,000 fans here next season.

Dempsey Refuses Job As Referee Of Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11 (INS) Jack Dempsey, offered the referee post in the Ezzard Charles-Pat Valentino championship fight in San Francisco Friday, was reported today to have turned down the offer.

Dempsey was asking $5,000 for his appearance in the third man's job but because the fight will be a charity affair, promoter Bill Kyne offered him only $1,000.

Although the state athletic committee had already cleared the way for the former champ's appearance, he refused the job. The commission was reported favoring Frankie Brown, a local fight official, now that Dempsey won't appear.

H-SU And Lobos Play This Week

ODESSA, Oct. 11 (Special)—Undefeated in two Border conference starts, the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys will play their next loop tilt on a neutral field here Saturday night.

The Baptists will meet the University of New Mexico Lobos. The Pokes hold conference wins over Arizona State (Tempe) 34-13, and Arizona University 35-0.

Displaying a mighty defense that allowed the Wildcats to penetrate the Hardin-Simmons end of the field only twice, the Cowboys, already known for a powerful running and passing attack, manufactured three first half scores and two in the third period to win over the supposedly strong Arizona Wildcats. The Wildcats, slated as top contenders for the Border conference crown, defeated the Cowpokes last year 20-14.

Davis May Not Play

H-SU head mentor Warren Woodson, after taking inventory on the physical condition of his gridsters, sent his charges through a light workout. A heavier session, both on offense and defense is slated for today.

All-Conference and All-American mention Wilton (Hook) Davis was injured in the Saturday night tilt which was witnessed by a capacity Homecoming crowd. It is doubtful if the Austin flash will be ready for the New Mexico tilt.

Davis ran for a net of 79 yards and set up the initial score with a 45 yard gallop. His two understudies Nolan Tiger and Sophomore Harold Taylor took over for the injured Davis. Taylor accounted for three of the H-SU scores, receiving a John Ford touchdown aerial, and carrying the ball over from the one and two yard markers.

Cowboys Strong Team

Sparked by members of Coach Al Milch's last year's undefeated and untied freshmen team, the Cowboys allowed the Wildcats to get past the midfield stripe only once on their own initiative.

A pass play—Fred Batiste to Bill Glazier—was good for 16 yards late in the third quarter down to the H-SU 33. That was close as the Wildcats managed to get the H-SU goal line.

Both head mentor Woodson, and line coach Murray Evans were pleased with the defensive work displayed by the "Pokes."

Scoring honors for the Cowboys are well distributed. All-conference end, Bob McChesney, leads the Ranchers with four six-pointers to his credit. Davis and Harold Taylor have gone over three times, and Brooks Allen, Chick Tiger, John Ford, and Dunnie Goode have scored once each. Cliff Swain has sent the pigskin 13 times between the uprights. He has attempted 15 kicks.

Redlegs Announce Purchase Of Outfielder Russ Burns

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11. (AP)— The Cincinnati Reds today announced the purchase of outfielder Russ Burns from Tulsa in the Texas League.

Burns dove in 153 runs during the season just ended to lead the Texas League in that department. He had 41 doubles, four triples and 27 homers. His batting average was .338.

The new Cincinnati player is 29 years old, is six feet, one inch tall, weighs 210 pounds, and bats and throws righthanded. He makes his home in Independence, Kas.

Jayhawks Will Take To Air When They Meet Oklahoma Team

LAWRENCE, Kas., Oct. 11. (AP) Kansas is going to throw the ball around Saturday when they meet the Oklahoma Sooners.

Coach J. V. Sikes has had the Jayhawks throwing forward passes in practice and he gave them a double dose today. The reason could be traced partly to scout Reb Hogan's report.

Top Class A Elevens Meet

(By The Associated Press)

Little Luling this week tries to stop New Braunfels' fast-moving pace in Class A football. It might can do it.

New Braunfels, which lost to Monahans in the state championship game last year, is back with another powerhouse that has rolled up 182 points to 33 for four opponents.

But Luling, under new Coach Buryl Baty, has compiled a fine record itself—four victories, no defeats and only 12 points for the opposition.

This game tops the schedule in District 24 this week.

The Class A picture is still out of focus in numerous places over the state.

Falfurrias, which had been expected to roll easily to the District 29 crown, suffered a severe setback when its ace back, Jack Wilkins, was declared ineligible.

Monahans' hopes for a repeat performance in the playoff were jolted last week by Wink, 14-0. This put Kermit, which downed Crane, 19-13, in the driver's seat in District five. It was Kermit's fifth conference victory.

The strong crop of teams in panhandle districts continued to build up staunch records. Phillips, Dalhart, Hereford and Lefors are undefeated and untied. Floydada dropped out of this classification when it lost, 18-19, to Abernathy. It was once-beaten Abernathy's third district victory.

Phillips' last minute, 26-20, victory over Childress was its 101st victory since Coach H. C. "Chesty" Walker took over in 1939.

Littlefield dumped Class AA Brownfield, 47-7, and added to its claims as District Four's north zone power.

Irving and Garland are rolling toward a crucial meeting in District 12, while White Oak is setting a hot pace in East Texas.

Central Texas' districts have already taken on a decided hue of favoritism. Brenham dominates District 23, Lavega ousted Itasca from the favorite's role in District 19 with a 46-6 victory; Franklin kept pace with Mexia in District 20, beating Teague, 38-13; Rosebud moved to the front in District 21, beating Georgetown, 34-0, as Killeen was upset by Belton, 6-12.

Lampassas strengthened its claim in District 22 by thumping Fredericksburg, 26-0. Burnet, another strong contender in this loop, beat San Saba, 7-0.

EAGLES BUY SCHERTING

DALLAS, Oct. 11. (AP)— The Dallas Eagles of the Texas League have purchased outfielder Harry Scherting from Vernon of the Class D Longhorn League. Scherting bats and throws lefthanded, is 22, and last year hit above .350 for the Dusters.

Squad Works On Baylor Plays

Raiders Prepare For Homecoming Tussle

It was half and half at Texas Tech yesterday, half scrimmage and half dummy scrimmage, with the players on the practice field looking at Baylor plays coming off easiest.

Coach Dell Morgan took several players over to the turf of Jones Stadium and sent them through a rugged scrimmage against the freshmen. It was one of the hardest head knocking sessions of the year and not entirely pleasing, although there were some bright spots.

The freshmen put up heavy resistence and several times threw the varsity for losses. They were strong on pass defense and, sparked by the work of Richard Crawford, 154-pound linebacker, broke up varsity plays over the center in pretty good shape.

Bailey Performs Well

Halfback Herman Bailey turned in one of the better performances for the varsity, which was composed of first, second and third string players. Fullback J. W. Thompson also showed to good advantage, while Quarterback Bill Lyman's passing was better than it was Saturday night.

But the freshmen also were gaining ground pretty well, with Halfback Waldo Young running hard and well and Quarterback Carl Madison tossing some damaging passes. The Fish gave the varsity squad all it wanted and caused the only serious injury of the day.

Halfback Walter Maloney sprained his right ankle and may be lost for this week's game against Baylor. A half hour after the injury, there was no apparent swelling in the ankle, but Trainer Mason Gorby wasn't sure whether it would heal enough to allow Maloney to play.

The remainder of the varsity was sent into dummy scrimmage against the freshmen, who used Baylor plays. The Fish walked through various formations that the Raiders will face Saturday and several passes of the type Adrian Burk is expected to throw worked too well to suit the coaches.

Today, further work will be done on Baylor plays, with players getting instruction in defense against Bear formations. Meanwhile, the remainder of the squad will go through offensive drills in an effort to put more teeth into the scoring machine.

Fight Pairings Are Announced

Sponsors of the Oct. 18 Bill Henderson-Manny Ortega pro fight card here Tuesday announced the pairings for two four-round preliminaries which complete the 32-round program.

Charley Neff, the rugged but awkward Petersburg lightweight, will go against Tony Olivas of El Paso, and Billy Brackeen, Slaton, will meet Sam Inagio, also of El Paso.

Top attraction on the five-fight card had been announced earlier. In addition to the Henderson-Ortega main event, Gene James of Lubbock will face Amarillo's Dickie Brown in a heavyweight match, and Leonard Duncan of Hale Center will mix it with Dick Smith, Oklahoma City, in a middleweight go. Distances for these bouts are 10, 8 and 6 rounds, respectively.

Officials of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 2466, sponsor of the show which will be held in Chapman fieldhouse, said that

Parker To Go On Net Tour

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP)—Frank A. Parker, 33, who has toured the world as an amateur tennis player for more than half his life, agreed today to continue touring as a member of the —Jack Kramer-Pancho Gonzales professional troupe.

Bobby Riggs, tournament manager, said that Parker will come here Thursday to sign a contract and will make his professional debut against Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Ecuador, at Madison Square Garden Oct. 25. Parker will receive $500 a week for a six-month period for his part in the show, which will tour 100 cities.

Parker, who was discovered by Coach Mercer Beasley as a ball boy in Milwaukee, has been a prominent player since he was 15. He won his first title, the National Boys championship, at that age in 1931. Since then he has acquired 14 other assorted National titles, including the United States men's singles championship in 1944 and 1945.

After reaching the semi-finals of the 1949 men's singles before losing to Gonzales, Parker was in line for a first ten ranking for the 17th year if he had remained an amateur.

Parker also was a member of three United States Davis Cup teams, in 1937, 1939 and 1948, but he was not selected this year.

His final amateur competition was in the Pan-American championships at Mexico City last week.

Long known as a colorless player who had a great backhand stroke but a weak forehand, Parker worked until he developed an adequate all-around game.

Robinson Star Nine Opens Southern Trip

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP) — Jackie Robinson's All-Star baseball team opens a crowded southern trip tomorrow afternoon at Newport News, Va., which promoter Ted Worner predicted would draw a total attendance of 150,000.

Robinson's team includes three other negro major league players —Roy Campanella and Don Newcombe of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Larry Doby of the Cleveland Indians—and is augmented by athletes from the Negro American League. The competition will be furnished by various southern negro teams.

The complete schedule includes, all games at night except as indicated:

Oct. 23—New Orleans (afternoon); Oct. 23—Baton Rouge; Oct. 24—New Orleans; Oct. 25—Alexandria; Oct. 26—Shreveport.

Hapless Tahoka Still Seeks First Win

4-A Team Meets Post On Friday

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

TAHOKA, Oct. 11—Five straight defeats on the gridiron this season haven't stopped Tahoka's Bulldogs, who still are determined to "knock over someone" in District 4-A South.

So far, it's been a rough year for the inexperienced Bulldogs, and more trouble is in sight. In fact, on Friday night Tahoka plays host to the Post Antelopes, best Class A team on the South Plains in 1948 and still a potent aggregation.

Coach Jim Foust himself can't put his finger on the factor that has kept Tahoka out of the victory column this fall. In fact, it seems that the trouble stems from several shortcomings—lack of experience and size, and failure to get the squad spirit at a peak before each week's game.

Scored In Every Game

Tahoka has done well in the scoring department, counting in every game except one, but to date the opposition always has racked up more points.

Despite the Bulldogs' failure to win, the townspeople's support of the team hasn't lagged. Capacity crowds have attended the three home games already played, and another big turnout is anticipated Friday night for the Post encounter.

The Bulldogs, who last year finished in a three-way tie for third in District 4-AS with a 1-3 record, employ the T formation. Most of the passing, however, is done by Fullback Tom Chandler, after a direct snap from center.

Husky Clark Farr, left halfback, has been the team's outstanding runner this season, while Center Bert Stevens has handled the punting chores.

Assisting Foust with coaching duties is Wayne Pipes.

The Remaining Schedule

The remaining Bulldog schedule: Oct. 14, Post at Tahoka; Oct. 21, open; Oct. 28, Tahoka at Denver City; Nov. 4, Tahoka at Seagraves; Nov. 11, Tahoka at O'Donnell (day).

Tahoka's roster, with weights and classifications (asterisks denotes letterman):

ENDS—Conrad Ratliff (145, Jr.); Bill Burkhart (125, Sr.); Ronny Gurley (135, Jr.); Don Brice (115, Soph.); Horace Strickland* (156, Sr.).

TACKLES—Beryl Tippit* (175, Sr.); James White* (180, Sr.); Jerry Stevens (175, Jr.); Delwyn Tunnell (160, Sr.); Jackie Slover* (160, Jr.).

GUARDS — Bob Tippit* (156, Sr.); Dan Martin* (158, Sr.); Delwyn Kelley (147, Soph.); Wiley Curry (140, Soph.); Ronnie Browning (115, Soph.).

QUARTERBACKS—Lynn Halamicek (115, Soph.); Duwaine Townsen (154, Sr.).

Bauer Sets Pace In Open Tourney

FORT WORTH, Oct. 11. (AP)—Heavily backed favorites advanced into the second round of the Women's Texas Open golf tournament here Wednesday with 15-year-old Marlene Bauer continuing to set a torrid pace.

The petite Long Beach, Cal., tyke, winner of the Western and National Junior crown, easily disposed of Mrs. W. K. Stripling, jr., of Fort Worth 9-7. Medalist Marlene was two under par for the 11 holes.

Polly Riley of Fort Worth, the defending champion, disposed of Mrs. J. T. Mays, also from Fort Worth 5 and 4. Polly faces her first serious test in Marlene Wednesday in the second round play.

Marlene's 20 year old sister also posted a 9-7 victory, sidelining Mrs. Dave Gaut of Memphis, Tenn. Mrs. George (Babe) Zaharais, three time winner of this tournament, easily bruished aside Mrs. A. R. Hancock of Gladewater 9-7.

Alice meets Marilyn Smith, the Kansas state champion and Babe faces another state champion, Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., in Wednesday matches. Marilyn ousted Los Angeles' Ann Pedroncelli 3-1 and Marjorie moved ahead with a 4-2 triumph over Dallas' Mrs. George Noble, jr.

One of the prime favorites, Patty Berg of Savage, Minn., dropped Mrs. J. I. Stephenson of Fort Worth 6-5 and her opponent Wednesday, Helen Detgwiler of Decatur, Ill., defeated Mrs. Ray Fellows of Tulsa 8-7.

Another leading contender, Arkansas state champion Betty Mackinnon of Mt. Pleasant, was one over par through 13 holes in ejecting Mrs. George Thompson jr., of Fort Worth 7-5.

REYES REINSTATED

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP)—Napoleon Reyes, who left the New York baseball Giants to play in the Mexican League, has been reinstated into organized baseball the National League club announced today. Reyes, who makes his home in Havana, will report to the Giants spring training camp in Phoenix, Ariz., next March.

Green Wave Goes After Irish Saturday

CHICAGO, Oct. 11 (AP) — On a mission of revenge, a Tulane eleven bristling with talent and bitter memories of a record 59-6 trimming when last they met two years ago challenges mighty Notre Dame Saturday.

The psychological aspects of this contest at South Bend, Ind., where the late Knute Rockne used psychology as a phantom 12th man on the field, weigh heavily against the Fighting Irish.

It is small comfort to Irish Coach Frank Leahy that his team, victorious in three starts, has been rated a two-touchdown favorite. Tulane also is a triple winner and the game is a showdown for top ranking in the nation. Tulane has already engulfed Alabama, Georgia Tech and Southeastern Louisiana.

Leahy knows Coach Henry Frnka needs only to point at the record book to make his Green Wave boil and surge.

Not only did the 59-6 clouting of Tulane two years ago mark the largest Irish score by a Leahy-coached team, but it was the fourth straight Green Wave loss to Notre Dame in as many meetings.

There are more than a score of Tulane lads back from the 1947 team. Eight of next Saturday's starters writhed, either on the field or on the bench, under the Irish avalanche of points. Two of them, Guards Bob Franz and Dennis Boyle, started the 1947 debacle.

There probably won't be any harder smacking backs on the field Saturday than Fullback Eddie Price, who became quite a football player since the Irish last saw him, and Bill Svoboda, a halfback who also was fanned by the Irish breeze two years ago.

Add to those, Center George Maddox, Tackles Max Bruen and Dan Rogas, and End Rex Patridge, who also are likely to get the starting call in Tulane's revenge crusade.

The game has been a sell-out at the 56,000-seat Notre Dame stadium since early August.

Frnka reportedly covets a victory over Notre Dame more than the championship in his Southeastern Conference and will pull out all stops, especially with such league foes as Alabama and Georgia Tech out of the way.

Country Club Golf Winners Announced

Third round play in Lubbock Country club's President Cup golf tourney was completed the past week, and the number of golfers remaining has been narrowed to 16 persons.

Play in the handicap tournament will continue this week with fourth round matches, and results will be posted by Sunday night.

Last week's results included Q. B. Taylor over W. E. Granberry, 1-up; Jim Black over Tom Ingram, 3 and 2; Orville Stewart over T. L. Sampson, default; Cecil Horne over George Carter, default; W. T. Fain over Wilkie Talbert, 2-up; J. E. Yates over Roy Cooper, default; M. R. Trip over Hugh Anderson, 4 and 2; and S. R. Forsythe over J. B. McCauley, 2-up, in the upper bracket.

Lower bracket scores included H. M. Chick over Preston Cochran, 1-up; O. A. Terry over John Scoggin, default; Chick Trout over G. G. Aycock, 3 and 2; John Raley over Dr. M. F. Swart, 1-up; J. A. Raley, jr., over K. N. Clapp, 1-up; Paul Pught over C. E. Fish, 1-up; Bob Harvey over F. L. McRee, 3 and 2; and Bill Bartley over R. J. Cheatham, 1-up.

Pairings this week are Taylor vs. Black; Stewart vs. Horne; Fain vs. Yates; Tripp vs. Forsythe; Chick vs. Terry; Trout vs. John Raley; J. A. Raley, jr., vs. Pugh; and Harvey vs. Bartley.

Brain Injury Is Fatal To Boxer

DETROIT, Oct. 11. (INS)— Lightweight fighter Talmadge Bussey of Detroit died today of a brain injury suffered in a bout last night with Chicago's Luther Rawlings and the boxing commission immediately ordered an investigation.

The 27-year-old boxer succumbed to a brain hemmorrhage at 12:18 (EST) at St. Mary's hospital despite the removal of a blood clot and other brain surgery.

Michigan Boxing Commissioner Floyd Stevens, of Grand Rapids, will conduct the hearing in Detroit at 5:30 p. m.

The fighter's death was the ninth boxing fatality in the nation this year, but the first in Michigan since 1929.

The Wayne County coroner's office ordered an autopsy and inquest, and the prosecutor will question all connected with the fight tomorrow.

Referee Herman Spinelli awarded Rawlings a TKO in the ninth round after the Chicagoan bombarded Bussey with three fast left hooks.

Bussey collapsed in his dressing room and a physician worked on him 10 minutes while a pulmotor was enroute.

Referee Spinelli summoned Commissioner Dr. Joseph Cahalan to the ring at the end of the eighth round, but a near-riot prevented the doctor from examining Bussey.

TCU And Aggies Tangle Saturday

FORT WORTH, Oct. 11. (Spl.)—The 26th Southwest Conference meeting of T.C.U. and Texas A. & M. football teams takes place here Saturday, and it is a game which marks the continuance of the oldest annual series on the Christian schedule.

The Frogs and the Aggies have met every year from 1924, the year after T.C.U. was admitted to the Southwest Conference, to date. The Frogs have held a decided upper hand in this period, winning 15 of the 25 previous games, losing only seven, with three ending in ties.

But it has not always been so in the meetings between T.C.U. and Texas A. & M., for prior to the time when the Frogs became members of the Southwest Conference the Aggies won 17 of 19 contests between the two schools, lost only one, and one of these games was a tie.

Saturday's affair is thus actually the 45th T.C.U.-Texas A. & M. game, and the Aggies hold the all-time upper hand with 24 victories, 16 losses and 4 ties. The Frogs won the opening game between the two, 30 to 6 back in 1897, and then did not win another game from the Aggies until 1925, the second meeting after they became Southwest rivals.

T.C.U. will be after its third straight victory over Texas A. & M. Saturday and also its third straight over the Aggies in Fort Worth. The last time that the Frogs won a game in Fort Worth, incidentally, was from the Aggies on Oct. 18, 1947, nearly two full years ago, and in the interim they have dropped five and tied two on their own field.

The home field advantage has been a distinct one for T.C.U. since the two became Southwest rivals, the Frogs winning seven and losing only three conference games played in Fort Worth with two ending in ties.

Biggest score ever run up in an Aggie-Frog game was the 48-to-0 Texas A. & M. victory in 1919. T.C.U.'s largest margin was its 34-to-6 triumph over the Aggies in 1938.

Longest winning streak in the series was the 12 victories won by the Aggies between 1898 and 1908, while the Frogs won eight straight from 1928 through 1935.

SPORTS Slants
BY CHOC HUTCHESON

This next fight of Bill Henderson's, against Manny Ortega at Chapman fieldhouse Tuesday night, might be quite a corker.

I say "might" because in dealing with the pro fight game, it's wise to exercise considerable caution. If the fighters are in good condition, there's always the possibility of a rousing battle. If they're not, you can prepare to fumigate the arena.

That's what this Henderson-Orgeta affair boils down to (if you'll pardon the prepositional ending).

Henderson, you may rest assured, will be ready. The Levelland Larruper never has much difficulty getting into condition, because he's seldom out of condition.

If Ortega gets into top form (and his handlers send word that he's really serious about this bout), you can look forward to a lulu Tuesday night. Because Manny is a rough customer when he chooses to be.

I last saw Ortega while he was winning a state Golden Gloves championship at Port Worth in 1944. As I recall, he was a classy performer (although too fancy with the feet) who packed a stiff wallop in both fists.

Since then, Ortega (a native of Dalhart who, they say, doesn't speak Spanish) has done quite well by himself as a pro mittman. Among other things, he has stopped Manuel Ortiz, the world bantam champ, and that's a trick never duplicated by any other fighter.

At one time, Ortega was well up in the national featherweight rankings. He has skidded a bit, but still is listed No. 3 in Texas. Henderson is ranked fifth among the lightweights, which indicates that the two are about on a par.

If Ortega's condition is as advertised, it should be a real scrap.

Joe Hall and Max LaDuke, who will be Olton's starting guards in Friday night's crucial 3-B game at Dimmitt, weigh only 135 and 126 pounds, respectively . . . Joe Kirk Fulton became the initial holder of the Lubbock Gun club's Challenger trophy Sunday by breaking 93 of 100 skeet targets. Clyde Tatum, jr., was runnerup with 89x100. To gain permanent possession of the trophy, Fulton must defeat 13 challengers in succession. If any challenger upsets Fulton, he takes charge of the trophy, and begins defense of it against the 13 top challengers, etc., until someone wins the trophy for keeps . . . Gene James is now Texas' No. 3 heavyweight, behind Dolf Quijano and Whitey Berlier . . . In a move designed to increase the outfield speed, Boston's Braves have bought Sam Jethroe, the negro comet who this year stole 89 bases for Montreal, from the Brooklyn Dodgers. The price tag wasn't disclosed, but was thought to be in the neighborhood of $150,000. Boston also picked up speedy outfielder Bob Addis from the Brooklyn chain (St. Paul). Branch Rickey harvested a total of $300,000 from sale of a few of his "farm crop" stars.

A question I'd like to see answered (via a four-man race) is "Who is the fastest Westerner—in full football uniform and carrying a pigskin—over the 100-yard route?" Some day when nothing's stirring on the practice field, I'd like to see Coach Pat Pattison line up these four for a sprint. My guess is that at least several hundred Lubbock High rooters would turn out to witness such an event . . . Minnesota's starting line averages 216 pounds per mammoth . . . An "in-the-know" Dallasite recently estimated that Doak Walker has drawn $750,000 into the Southern Methodist university athletic coffers . . . Ed Sides, of the City Club gym on College avenue, is starting preparation for this winter's Golden Gloves tourney early. He's taking a team of amateurs to Clovis next Wednesday night for a team match. On the Lubbock squad are Dick Christie, L. W. Utley, Rooster Crossnoe, Bob Dulaney, George Melot, Dan Williams, Pat McClarty, Ray McLarnin, Johnny McWhorter, James Bickel and Travis Fry.

Fenton Tackles Getz At Arena

A real match has been signed for the main event at Sled Allen's wrestling arena tonight, with Al Getz and Rod Fenton battling it out for top honors.

The promoter is giving the fans a match often requested but which up to now has been impossible to make because of disagreement between the two wrestlers.

Both have recently returned to the area after successful mat campaigns elsewhere and both are in fine shape and ready to go the full hour if necessary.

Pat O'Dowdy will have his hands full with Herb Parks in the semi-final bout. Parks has stacked up lots of experience since breaking into the fight game back in the 1930's, meeting all comers in his weight division in this country and abroad.

Parks, a native of Canada, is interested in promotion of the game in his own territory and spends most of his time in that section around North Bay, Ontario. Parks prefers the clean, scientific part of the game, but he will be out for a rough evening with the wily O'Dowdy.

Pat has been around this area for many years, and he can be depended on to supply lots of action not customarily seen in a purely scientific match. Both are expected to go all out to win, with the match rated as a toss-up.

Appearing in the preliminary event are Bill Brooks, the five-by-five of the ring, and Dory Detton. Brooks has been in a bad mood since losing to O'Dowdy last week and can be depended on to try hard for the decision over Detton tonight.

Detton and his style of wrestling are well known to fans in this territory and will be seen in the opener at 8:30 p.m.

Tickets may be bought at the arena today until 5 o'clock.

Black, Blue, Green, Lavender, Magenta and Violet are all names of Texas towns.

what numbers and kinds of ships would be taken out of the Atlantic fleet because of the reduction.

So far as his command is concerned, he said, he was told what ships were to be decommissioned, and wasn't consulted on that.

Cuts in the Navy this year, he said, were intended to "bleed us down" for more cuts next year.

Blandy "Concerned"

Blandy said he does not consider Navy morale to be at "a dangerously low ebb," as others have testified. He said he prefers the word concern.

He said that "certainly" he thinks the Navy is concerned and very much disturbed over the way things are going in the defense setup and what is happening to appropriations.

Vinson wanted to know what factors have brought about that concern.

"We are all aware, painfully aware," Blandy replied, "of the projected cuts for next year which we must begin to put into effect at once in the naval forces.

"Those forces, in my case, are going to be dangerously below the minimum estimate I have submitted to the chief of naval operations."

What effect would there be on the entire security of the nation, Vinson asked.

"A very dangerous effect," Blandy told him.

Proposal Is Made

He proposed that the Army, Navy and Air Force each should determine the weapons and devices needed to execute thir own missions "without being dictated to or out-voted by officers of other services."

And he suggested that, so long as one service stays within its appropriations, it should not be prevented by the others from obtaining additional weapons or forces.

"The present procedures of the joint chiefs of staff are faulty in that respect," Blandy said, "and in my opinion there lies the principal source of our present difficulties."

The Atlantic fleet commander expressed hope that Congress will write into law an idea advanced for study by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga), of the House committee. It would prevent Secretary Johnson from making administrative cuts in service appropriations without consulting the lawmakers.

Other Navy witnesses earlier today trained critical fire on the B-36 bomber. They suggested that Russia can shoot it down with guided rockets and that, even if the pride of the Air Force should escape them, its "barbaric" atomizing of cities would strip the U.S. of self-respect.

Three Navy officers and a Marine Corps air authority went before the House Armed Services committee to contend that the intercontinental atom bomber is being over-emphasized, and close air support for ground troops neglected, by present defense policies.

One of them, Commander Eugene Tatom, stirred up angry denials and criticism with his statement yesterday that you could stand in the open in ordinary clothes and escape injury from an atom bomb blast only 6,855 feet away.

Senator McMahon (D - Conn), chairman of the joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, rose in the Senate to declare Tatom's statement "silly" and untrue.

"It is dangerous to over-emphasize the importance of the atomic weapon," he said, "but God knows it may be fatal to under-emphasize it."

Referring to Secretary of Defense Johnson's cancellation of Navy plans to build a super aircraft carrier several months ago, McMahon said the Navy had wanted the super carrier to deliver the A-bomb to all parts of the world.

"Now that they don't have the super carrier, it (the atom bomb) isn't so good," he added.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass) warned that the present public quarreling over grand strategy might be enough to convince a hostile power that now is the time to attack the U. S.

Faulty Radio Contact Charged In Probe Of Mexican Air Crash

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 11. (U.P.)—A commission of senators and deputies investigating the Sept. 26 crash of an airliner in which 25 persons were killed today charged that air communications were unsatisfactory between Mexico City and southern Mexico.

The commission said the Mexico City airport flight control office, in a practice demonstration yesterday, was unable to establish communications between either Oaxaca or an airliner en route to Mexico City from Oaxaca. This was the route the ill-fated transport plane was flying Sept. 26 when it smashed into a snow-covered peak of Popocatepetl south of Mexico City.

The commission or senators and deputies will continue its probe of the crash this week along with other official and private organizations investigating the disaster. Airlines operating within Mexico have reported a serious drop in business since the Sept. 26 crash.

Fort Worth Resident Succeeds Lubbock Man As Auto Group Head

GALVESTON, Oct. 11. (AP)—Thomas F. Abbott, jr., of Fort Worth was elected president of the Texas Automotive Dealers association as the group's annual convention ended tonight.

He succeeds Walter G. Alderson of Lubbock. W. A. Williamson of San Antonio was re-elected first vice-president and general manager, while C. P. Simpson of Houston and Harry Kelly of Austin were elected second and third vice-presidents, respectively. Fort Worth was selected for the 1950 meeting.

Warmer Weather

since 1911. However, the State Experiment station near Lubbock reports that Nov. 4 has been the average date for killing frost for the past 10 years.

Earliest freeze dates reported in 38 years were Oct. 19 in both 1916 and 1917.

Opinions vary on the date for the latest killing freeze. K. N. Clapp, area observer for Anderson and Clayton cotton brokers, puts in Dec. 5, 1933. Experiment station records show Nov. 8 in 1933, and offer Nov. 26 in 1944 as the latest date.

However, Clapp explained that his records show that the temperature on Nov. 8, 1933, was 30 degrees with wet weather, pointing out that a wet freeze doesn't kill crops as quickly as a dry freeze.

"Cotton on high spots was not killed by the Nov. 8 freeze," Clapp said, "and my records are for general freezes that stop the growth of vegetation."

Last year, the mercury went to 33 degrees on Oct. 7 at Lubbock, and spotted frost covered scattered parts of the South Plains. However, the official date for 1948 was Nov. 6.

Other dates down the line are Nov. 22, 1934; Oct. 28, 1938; and Oct. 22, 1945.

Whatever the date this year, Experiment station records back to 1911 show that the area has an average growing season of 212 days—from the last freeze of winter to the first of autumn.

SMALL TWISTER REPORTED IN LONGVIEW SECTION

(By The Associated Press)

A small twister formed in a heavy thunderstorm near Longview Tuesday night but apparently broke up high in the air without having done any damage.

Thunderstorms and rain were general through the Longview section of East Texas. West Texas was fairly clear and cool.

Afternoon rains in southeast Texas hampered residents of the Houston area as they repaired damage left by last week's flood.

Thunder and heavy rain hit Longview about 6 p. m. Bob Reeves, control tower operator at the Gregg county airport, said the twister formed at the leading edge of the storm. It swirled away to the east about 1,000 feet in the air, then apparently dissipated.

Thundershowers were reported at Tyler, southwest of Longview, and at Linden, to the northeast. Marshall reported ominous-looking clouds in the direction of Longview.

Czech People Swept By Fear Of Arrest

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 11 (AP) — Communist police roundups threw a fear bordering on hysteria into large sections of Czechoslovakia's 13,000,000 people tonight.

Some estimates heard by western sources of the total seized or marked for arrest ranged to 30,000 and 40,000. But these estimates could not be confirmed.

Police gave out no information —not even to tearful relatives seeking a trace of missing ones.

Although the tempo of arrests appeared to be receding from its peak of last week in Prague, many landlords, architects, confectioners and small shopkeepers were still being picked up and their businesses confiscated. In some cases their apartments were seized and their families dispossessed.

The main drive appeared to be against the propertied classes, but the widespread arrests, reaching through Bohemia and Moravia, were accompanied by purges of government employes, the clergy, army and even the Communist ranks. Slovakia, as yet, appeared untouched by any extraordinary wave of arrests.

Boost In Salary For Cabinet Tops Hurdle

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. (AP) — Cabinet members, who haven't had a raise in pay since 1925, got good news today.

Senate and House conferees agreed to boost cabinet members' salaries from $15,000 to $22,500 a year. They also approved a pay raise for more than 200 other top-flight federal officials at an annual cost of $1,087,000.

The bill still must be approved finally by the House and Senate, but no opposition is expected there.

And it still must be signed by President Truman, but he's expected to do that enthusiastically.

Mr. Truman repeatedly has asked for higher pay scales for government officials, saying that it's hard to get—and keep—first rate men unless the salaries are first rate, too.

Missing Actress Is Feared 10th Victim Of Sex Slayer

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 11. (INS)—Police reluctantly believed today that Jean Spangler, glamorous actress missing since last Friday, may be the tenth victim of a series of shocking sex mutilation slayings in Los Angeles.

More than 200 police reserves began scouring the 4,000-acres of heavy brush and tangled trees of the Griffith park area where the beauty's battered purse was found.

Authorities said that they would seek evidences of an intense struggle or a shallow grave in the wooded tract.

The laughter-loving beauty who had scored in television movies disappeared without a trace on Friday night.

HEAT RECORD SET

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP)— Today was New York City's hottest Oct. 11 in recorded history. The day's high temperature of 85.1 degrees beat the previous record high for the day—Oct. 11, 1883,—by more than four degrees.

Suspects Identified

identifications here "had not seen pictures of the men in the morning papers," Pounds told Sheriff Harrist he had ascertained.

The suspects were identified in separate lineups. One stood in line with five other prisoners, then the other did the same in another tank.

"There was no hesitancy whatever," newsmen were told.

"The witnesses were unanimous in calling out the number (the suspect's position in the lineup) of the person they identified.

"Each time the identification turned out to be one of the Raders."

Sheriff Harrist also received a telephone call from Chief of Police Bates of National City, Calif., one of the places where the men are suspected of having staged a hijacking.

Bates indicated he would like to extradite the men as quickly as possible.

He was told that Texas now has accusations against the men which are actionable in the court.

Chief Harper and Captain King said the two places robbed in Amarillo were the Piggly-Wiggly market at 1500 Polk street on June 22, and McCart's supermarket at 1001 Taylor on July 9.

Two men answering descriptions of those held here did both the Amarillo jobs, it was related.

They went into the back door of McCart's supermarket, at 6:55 a. m., rounded up store employes, forced the manager to open the safe and took approximately $11,000 in cash and checks (slightly more than $6,000 in cash), locked the employes in a toilet, and left.

They had what appeared to be a .38 caliber snub-nose nickel-plated pistol and another pistol, probably an automatic, investigators were told.

There was much similarity in description and methods of operation in the other robbery there, witnesses said. Two men entered the store at 7:30 a. m. by a back door, herded employes together in a toilet, then moved them to a walk-in ice box, and forced a store employe, Noel Holiman, to hand them change from the cash register. The amount was $138.16. One of the men had a nickel-plated pistol, it was agreed.

Such a pistol was found in possesion of one of the suspects when arrested here Sunday by police.

Law enforcement on other fronts, meanwhile, settled to fairly routine activity.

City police announced they were holding a 33-year-old Lubbock man pending filing charges in county court of carrying a pistol. The man was arrested in the 200 block Ave. K by Patrolmen L. P. Miller and C. D. Dickey shortly before 9:30 p. m.

Witnesses said the man had gone through several houses of the Latin-American section of the town, threatening tenants with a pistol. The arresting officers said they saw the man throw the weapon to the ground at their approach.

Lubbock Man Posts Bond

The sheriff's department announced that Gene Lotspech, 30, of [illegible] who was charged earlier in the day with felony theft, had been released after posting bond of $1,000 set by Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn.

In county court Tuesday, Frank Everett Brians, 47, of Lubbock, pleaded guilty of drunk driving and was fined $75 and costs. His driver's license was revoked for six months.

Bob Christian, 36, of Oklahoma, was fined $50 for theft under $5 and $15 for drunkenness, corporation court officials said. He stole several plugs of chewing tobacco, it was alleged.

Assault Charges Filed

Assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr said Tuesday that charges of rape had been filed against a Lubbock man on complaint of a waitress.

The woman told officials the man had offered her a ride about 5 p. m. Tuesday, taking her first to a dry-cleaning establishment where she had business, then to a point north of the city where the alleged assault occurred.

The man had not been taken into custody late last night.

Mattie Farris of 2512 East Ave. D complained to police that two blankets, total value $10, had been stolen from her.

A 53-year-old Dallas man was being held by city police Tuesday pending further information from Dallas authorities.

The man was arrested after he appeared at a clinic here seemingly, physicians said, "out of his mind." Dallas officials were called after attendants gained the impression the man had been associated with a drug store there. It was learned later that a man of the same name was under indictment for robbery in Dallas.

scale, ranging from 60 to 90 per cent of parity.

The White House conference was attended by leaders from the House and Senate.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) chairman of the Senate Agriculture committee, said he got the impression Mr. Truman wants supports at 90 per cent of parity, at least for next year.

Rigid Supports Claimed Favored

Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture committee expressed the opinion that everybody except Senator Anderson and Senate Democratic leader Lucas (Ill) favors 90 per cent supports.

The Senate debated a number of proposed amendments to the Anderson bill.

It adopted 44-28 an amendment by Senator Magnuson (D-Wash) providing that future agreements under the reciprocal trade law must not lower the barriers against importation of farm products if their entry would conflict with farm aid programs.

By a voice vote the Senate rejected an amendment to allow the secretary of agriculture to waive production controls for two years on reclamation project lands brought into production for the first time since 1938.

The Senate turned down an amendment by Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) which would have brought Angora rabbit wool under the price support program.

Parents Of Indiana Polio Victim Are Sought In Texas

LEBANON, Ind., Oct. 11 (U.P.)—Relatives today asked newspapers and radio stations to help them find the parents of a 24-year-old woman who died of polio last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Love, Lafayette, Ind., were believed en route to San Antonio, where they planned to spend the winter.

Their daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Love Giles, 24, wife of Cecil Giles of Lebanon, died in Denver Saturday. The body was returned here but funeral services were delayed until Mr. and Mrs. Love could be contacted.

Relatives said the Texas Highway patrol was not able to locate the Loves and a check of San Antonio hotels was fruitless. The last word Giles received from his parents-in-law was a postcard, mailed Friday from Texarkana, Ark.

Convict Slain, Another Is Wounded In California Prison

FOLSOM PRISON, Calif., Oct. 11. (INS)—"Ukelele slayer" Frederick David (Chuck) Galloway was critically wounded and Hollywood's notorious "Phantom Burglar of Bel-Air" a decade ago was killed today in a savage knifing at Folsom prison.

Dead was 49-year-old lifetimer William Borton who looted a million dollars in furs and jewels from plush Hollywood estates before he was sentenced to prison as an habitual criminal in 1939.

The 47-year-old lifer, Galloway, son of a Santa Cruz, Calif., editor and the central figure in a jazz age murder provoked by a fight over a ukulele, was wounded in the head and back.

He was not expected to recover from the brawl which flared with vicious suddenness in the prison barbar shop.

Two convicts were held for questioning but prison authorities refused to disclose their names.

Associate Warden William Ryan said a prison-made knife — a "shiv" in convict lingo — two knives and an ax were found beside the prostrate forms of Galloway and Borton in the barber shop.

to fairly large production of most individual crops, rather than record-breaking production of a few. Only rice and tree nuts promise record production, while corn and soybeans will be near record. On the other hand, of the few crops below average, hay, peanuts, potatoes and sugar beets are only slightly below.

Nearly 128,000,000 tons of livestock feed grains are being produced this year, a quantity second only to the 137,000,000 tons last year.

With a record carryover of corn and relatively large carryovers of oats, barley and sorghum grain from last year, feed supplies on farms will be the largest ever available.

The 36,500,000 tons of food grains now estimated, though exceeded in each of the past three seasons, is larger than in any earlier year. Included in a bumper wheat crop of 1,126,000,000 bushels, virtually all of which has been harvested.

A battle admittedly could delay adjournment still more and possibly postpone the quitting time until Hallowe'en.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said there will be a fight on the bill if military leaders have failed to achieve an "integrated plan" for defense of the Atlantic pack countries.

Hearings Begin

The House Appropriations committee began hearings on the measure. Defense Secretary Johnson, Undersecretary of State Webb, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and others were heard.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) predicted that the hearings will end Wednesday and the House pass the bill Friday. He said he expects the group to approve the full amount requested by the President.

The Senate Appropriations committee plans to start hearings as soon as the House group concludes.

The opposite position was taken by Jesse D. Carter, an Austin attorney, who challenged the commission's order. He said it discriminated against small insurers, especially home owners.

The original insurance commission order was issued in 1945. The commission then ruled last June 13 that policies with optional rates could not be issued. Under that proposal, policies could be written under which any damage would be assumed by the insurance companies— at a higher rate.

Many Youngsters See Free Performance

Two Circuses Bring Acts To Large 'Big Top' Crowds Here

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

The circus came to town in a big way Tuesday, with the Rogers Bros. and Clyde Beatty circuses presenting both afternoon and evening performances for circus fans —young and old—of the South Plains.

And, as might be expected—since Lubbock and South Plains residents always have been rabid "big top" supporters—attendance at both afternoon and evening performances by both circuses was large.

For many local yongsters the day was of the red letter variety, for it was the first circus performance they had seen. The Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the Rogers Bros. show here, distributed approximately 600 circus tickets to local youngsters who otherwise would have been financially unable to attend. The free tickets were made possible by the generosity of local merchants.

Girlstown Founder Attends

At last night's performance of the Rogers Bros. circus, 10 girls from Girlstown, U. S. A., accompanied by Miss Amelia Anthony, founder of Girlstown, were guests.

A capacity crowd of about 2,200 attended the night performance of the Rogers Bros. circus, which was located in the fairgrounds. An afternoon show was held at 4 o'clock and was attended primarily by several hundred school children.

Highlights of the show included Capt. Eddie Kuhn, wild animal trainer, who presented a show inside an iron cage with panthers, bears, and lions; the Doll Sisters, a trapeze team; Billy Sheets, animal trainer; Frankie Lou Woods, who performed on the high trapeze; and a pair of elephants, "Shirley Temple" and "Suzie Q," who were put through their paces by Miss Woods.

And, since no circus is complete without clowns and comedy routines, the entire two-hour show was interspersed with clown acts.

The Clyde Beatty circus, which pitched its tents south of East Broadway behind the Parkview Lodge, had a large attendance at its 2 o'clock performance Tuesday afternoon and a crowd of approximately 3,500 persons at the evening show, which began at 8 o'clock.

Featured act of the show was Clyde Beatty himself, who appeared in the ring in a lion and tiger taming performance. Other outstanding performances were turned in by a group of acrobats in a teeter board act, and by an exhibition of acrobatics by eight large elephants in the two side rings.

Officials Of Mental Hygiene Society Plan Nov. 18 Meeting

The executive board of the Lubbock county Mental Hygiene society met Tuesday in the study of Dr. Travis White at the First Christian church to make plans for a Nov. 18 meeting.

Dr. White, acting president of the society, presided.

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Technological college, will be principal speaker for the Nov 18 meeting, to be held in Fellowship hall of the First Christian church. Society members and visitors will attend.

Eldon Fuller, chairman of the nominating committe, will report at the session.

Attending the Tuesday meeting were Dr. White, Mrs. L. B. Holly, secretary, Miss Grace Palley, Dr. Agnes True, Dr. L. Hutchins, Mrs. Richard Sheehan, Mrs. J. J. Willingham and Fuller.

Mistrial Is Ordered In Trial Of Tucker

CHICAGO, Oct. 11. (INS)—The mail fraud conspiracy trial of auto designer Preston Tucker and seven associates came to an abrupt halt today when federal Judge Walter J. Labuy declared a mistrial.

The judge concluded the trial and dismissed the jury on a motion by the defense counsel protesting prosecution testimony. At the same time he warned government prosecutors to "guard carefully against a recurrence of this incident in the new trial."

His reference was to the questioning yesterday of surprise witness Mark J. Mourne, Denver attorney and a cousin of Tucker, who testified that one of the defendants in the case is an ex-convict.

Judge La Buy ordered 123 jurors be drafted for a new venire and announced the trial would resume Monday.

George B. Parker, Widely Known Newspaper Editor, Is Claimed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. (U.P.) — Funeral services were held today for George B. Parker, editor-in-chief of the Scripps-Howard newspaper chain who died yesterday at the age of 63.

The services were held at St. John's Episcopal church. The body was cremated.

Parker, a native of Ithaca, Mich., spent almost all his 40 years in the newspaper business with the Scripps-Howard chain. A vigorous writer and crusader, he won a Pultizer prize for editorial writing in 1936.

He began his newspaper career with the old Oklahoma News a year after his graduation from the University of Oklahoma in 1908. In the ensuing years, he served as city editor, managing editor and editor of the News.

In 1920, he became editor of the Scripps-Howard Cleveland Press. Two years later, he was named editor-in-chief of the chain's southwestern papers with headquarters in Houston.

In 1924, Parker was named general editorial executive of the Scripps-Howard Newspapers, and, three years later, he became their editor-in-chief.

INDIAN LEADER TO TOUR NATION

Truman, Government Leaders Welcome Nehru On U. S. Visit

By PIERRE LOVING
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—President Truman welcomed Indian Premier Pandit Nehru to the United States today as "the loved and respected leader of a great nation of free people."

The President, his cabinet and congressional leaders turned out to greet the visiting dignitary at Washington National airport with full officials and military honors.

Mr. Truman's personal plane, the Independence, bearing the official party from London, zoomed into the airport on schedule at 3:30 p. m. (CST).

Accompanying the spiritual and political heir of the murdered Mahatma Gandhi were Nehru's daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, and Sir Girja Shankar Bajpai, secretary general of India's ministry of external affairs.

In his brief welcome, Mr. Truman said:

"Destiny willed it that our country should have been discovered in the search for a new route to yours. I hope that your visit, too, will be in a sense a discovery of America.

"I extend to you the hospitality and good will of the people of the United States with the hope that your visit among us will leave you with the firm conviction that we are indeed your warm friends."

Nehru told the President he was "deeply grateful for your warm words of welcome at this moment when for the first time I am setting foot on the soil of this great country." He added:

"I come to you, Mr. President, bringing to you and this great republic the cordial greetings of my government and my people and of the new republic-to-be of India. And I trust that these two republics of the western world and the eastern world will find many ways of working together in friendly and fruitful cooperation to our mutual advantage and for the good of humanity."

After the airport ceremonies, Nehru was escorted to Blair House, Mr. Truman's temporary residence, where he will be a dinner and house guest tonight.

Tour Of U. S. Planned

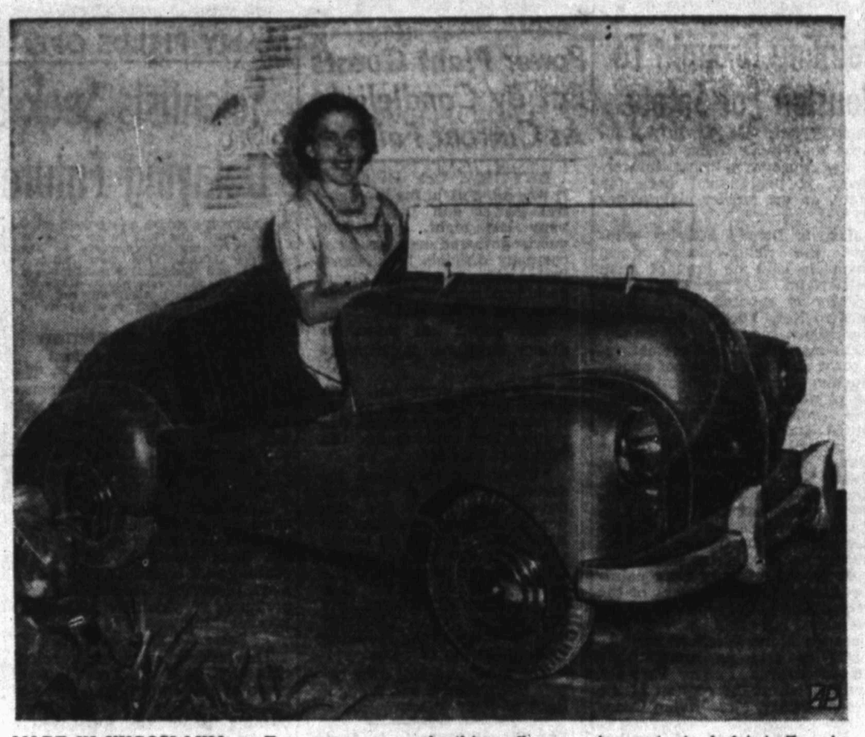

Nehru will undertake a coast-to-coast schedule including visits to New York, Chicago, the Tennessee Valley authority, San Francisco and Vancouver. He goes to New York Saturday.

The prime minister is billed for several public addresses, and numerous receptions will be given in his honor.

Nehru has listed no special topics for discussion with American officials during his Washington visit.

However, there is expected to be an exchange of views with respect to the Chinese Communist regime recently set up at Peiping.

Nehru is known to oppose any military link between India and either the east or the west. But American leaders recall that he summoned a conference of Asiatic states last year which led to a settlement of the Dutch-Indonesian conflict and warded off Communist advances.

Four Die In Kansas Train-Auto Wreck

WICHITA, Kans., Oct. 11 (INS)—Four persons were killed today and a fifth was injured critically when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a speeding Rock Island passenger train in Wichita.

The dead included two teen-age girls who were being driven to school when the crash occurred. The auto was dragged nearly 100 feet down the tracks from the Wichita crossing.

The dead are:

William M. Cole, 67, of Concordia, Kans., driver of the car.

Rovena Loveland, 12, granddaughter of Cole.

Mrs. Elizabeth Loveland, 40, Rovena's mother.

Peggy Ann Smith, 13, of Wichita.

The Loveland girl and her grandfather were killed instantly. Mrs. Loveland and the Smith youngster died later at the hospital.

Barkley Scheduled To Make Address In Colorado Monday

DENVER, Oct. 11. (INS)—Vice-President Alben (Veep) Barkley will make a dinner address in Denver, Monday at 8:30 p.m.

The Veep will speak at a joint dinner of the Colorado Resources Development council and the Mid-Continent council of development agencies.

Barkley notified newsmen in Washington, D.C., he will discuss the proper utilization of Colorado's resources, and will stress applying state resources for national defense.

The vice-president's speech will be broadcast by five Denver radio broadcasting stations.

Lubbock Lions Club Is Urged To Support Chest Campaign

Two members of the Toastmasters' club, Wm. R. Sewell and Waggoner Carr, made talks on the Community Chest to feature the luncheon program of the Lubbock Lions club at the Hilton hotel Tuesday noon.

"Years ago we were more neighborly and we had more time to spend with our neighbors," Sewell said, "but today a crisis may have passed with our neighbors before we know what's going on.

Neighbors Need Aid

"The trouble with most of us is that we have little time in which to investigate the needs of our neighbors. The business of expressing our generosity has been delegated to the Community Chest."

"The words, which our forefathers wrote into the Declaration of Independence that 'all men are created equal and are endowed with certain inalienable rights, life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness,' has made us a charitable nation," Carr said.

"So charitable, in fact, that our government is now engaged in the process of sending millions of dollars overseas to people who are in need. Yet, sometimes we send so much oversea that we forget that we have neighbor right here at home who are in need," Carr said.

Work Is Explained

He then explained briefly the eight organizations which share in the Community Chest and the work they do and closed his talk with the remark, "You build a strong Lubbock when you fill up the Community Chest."

Leete Jackson was program chairman and introduced Sewell.

It was announced at the luncheon that the Lions will gather at the farm of Vernice Ford, club member, in the near future and pick cotton at the rate of $3 per hundred in an effort to raise funds to send the Tech Men's Chorus to the Lions International convention at Chicago next summer. Lions agreed to either take part in the cotton harvesting or pay $5 toward the fund.

R. C. Harvey, jr., Sharon, Pa.; Karl Kasbeer, Washington, D. C., and Bullock Hyder, Denton, were out-of-town guests at the luncheon.

Why is the Servel GAS Refrigerator the choice of people with experience?

Only Servel STAYS SILENT LASTS LONGER

Everywhere, families have discovered that there's one refrigerator different from all the rest . . . gives you more years of noise-free, worry-free service. It's the Servel Gas Refrigerator.

The secret? Servel has the simplest of all freezing systems. Not a single moving part. No machinery to wear. No motor to get noisy. A tiny gas flame does the work. So Servel stays silent, lasts longer. (In fact, thousands of America's almost 3,000,000 Servel owners report that their Servels are still on the job after 15, 18 and even 20 years.)

You'll be delighted with Servel's new features, too. Plenty of ice cubes, easy to get at. Lots of room for fresh and frozen foods. Come in today and see the beautiful models. Select your new Servel Gas Refrigerator—the choice of people who've had experience!

Meet Don Clark— Another "Do-it-yourself" American

Today he's his own boss!

Donald M. Clark of Dover, Delaware, doesn't believe anything need stop a man from making a go of what he wants to do! Three years ago he combined the two things he liked best—flying and farming—and set up for himself one of the first aerial crop-dusting services in Delaware. Savings from Army pay bought the first plane. Now through profits he has six planes, flown by fellow Air Force vets. So Don's "Flying Flit-Gun Squadron" is paying off . . . at the age of 25 he's his own boss . . . and he did it on his own!

☆ It's the American Spirit!

YOUR OWN MAIN STREET, too, has its Don Clarks. They're the folks who find their own "new frontiers" to develop, who carve out their own futures. They wouldn't have it any other way!

Yes, the "do-it-yourself spirit" is still as strong in America as ever. One proof: 78 million people are holders of life insurance. They hold it because they want to take care of their own on their own . . . to put children through college . . . for retirement . . . for financial emergencies.

Through life insurance they can achieve these things which so many Americans want. So the life insurance business has grown to match their needs. With more than 150,000 trained agents throughout the country, 584 separate life insurance companies compete aggressively to help Americans help themselves!

It's a Fact . . .

It's a fact that the service of the life insurance agent is essential . . . because:

- Families have different incomes, different numbers of children. Some want maximum protection now, some want to assure a college education for their children, some want to plan for retirement . . .
- Life insurance companies are constantly developing new kinds and combinations of policies to meet these and other individual needs.
- It takes the experience that only the trained agent has to help you plan your insurance so as to accomplish what you want.
- Today more than 150,000 life insurance agents are qualified through training to help the people of America get the most out of their life insurance.

To make sure that you have a life insurance plan best suited to your present family needs, consult your own agent. Life insurance is a service! And the help of your agent's skill and training is yours for the asking. *The Institute of Life Insurance—central source of information—60 E. 42nd St., New York 17, N. Painting Brought To Houston For Safety

HOUSTON, Oct. 11. (U.P.)—Leonardo da Vinci's Mona Lisa, one of the world's painting masterpieces, is being kept here for safety, an art fancier claimed today.

Marquis Donald D'Oyley exhibited the richly-colored work, which he said he brought from Switzerland a year ago. Until recently is reposed in a safety vault in New York City, said the Frenchborn marquis.

The marquis, 50 and prematurely gray, shuffled a stack of papers vouching for the authenticity of the painting. He said it was the only genuine Da Vinci in the United States today.

Contrary to the claims of the Louvre Art museum in Paris, where the usually accepted Da Vinci original hangs, Marquis D'Oyley claimed the Mona Lisa of Mrs. Giaconda —who posed for four years at the turn of the 16th century — was in his possession.

"It is one of only four paintings known to be the work of the master. The Louvre has one of the originals, but this is the real Gioconda Mona Lisa," he stated.

D'Oyley said he brought the famous canvas from Vevey, Switzerland, at the request of the present owner, Mrs. Vivian Cuenodlyle.

"She was fearful of another world war and wanted the valuable work kept in this country," he said.

Power Plant Guests Eat By Candlelight As Current Fails

BAYVIEW, Oct. 11. (U.P.)—It was a big night for the Central Power and Light company last night. Some 350 guests gathered here to hear company officials brag about their new $4,000,000 plant, capable of meeting any emergency, the utility said.

The guests sat down to dinner, but something happened.

The light went out. One power and light company official, out of the darkness, explained they couldn't find the fuse box. Said he:

"We've had this place for several years but I never have found where the fuse box is." A guest reminded the light company officials not to use a penny in the fuse box. Candles were brought and the guests started eating. But, equipped with flashlights, the company officials remained outside the swanky building looking for the fuse box.

The meal was half over before they found it and brought light to their guests.

MANY FIELDS OPEN TO POSSIBLE DEVELOPMENT

Scientists Seek Solution Of Technical Difficulties Delaying Future Industrial Use Of Atomic Power

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article, third and last in a series of atomic energy developments in the United States, tells how military needs and technical difficulties are holding back atomic power. However, scientists remain confident the day when the atom will turn wheels is just ahead.)

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 — The late President D. W. Morehouse of Drake university used to tell his astronomy classes that "if I had on this desk a piece of the sun the size of a dime, it would burn up everything within a half mile."

A detached piece of the sun admittedly would not continue to react in the same way and if it did there would be no way of containing it on a desk, but the remark illustrated the extreme temperatures of which Dr. Morehouse was speaking.

Powerful Heat Possible

Theoretically, the atom scientists now have the possibility of creating something like a piece of the sun—a fierce, almost everburning fist of heat, small, yet so powerful it will drive ships indefinitely and furnish cities with power.

However, it is not practical to deal in sun-like temperatures, and the moderating materials in an atomic reactor take up space. So the reactor turns out to be larger than a fist, more the size of a ship's battery.

Through this must run a super cooling system, to draw off heat rapidly and convert it into power, through steam, mercury vapor or some other medium. The heat for a small sun is to be created but not allowed to concentrate.

Heavy Protection Provided

When the reactor had been surrounded with at least a four-or-five-foot thickness of mixed concrete and lead or its equivalent material to stop radiation, it would be the central unit for a power station.

It would also be a motor, but too large so far as development is now known to have gone to be placed in anything less than a seagoing vessel.

These were the first uses envisioned for the atom, before the bomb was conceived, and they now appear to be last on the list of atomic possibilities likely to be realized in the near future.

Medical Uses Develop

Medical uses for the atom and unforeseen applications, such as the extensive use of radioactive materials and tracer atoms, instead are forging ahead.

Atomic Energy Commissioner Sumner T. Pike estimates that the bomb-related development of more efficient devices such as pumps and valves and of new materials alone would be worth the atomic investment.

Atomic power, for other than military purposes, is estimated to be twenty years in the future. First concrete steps toward achieving it are being taken under contracts with Westinghouse and General Electric company at Chicago and at Schenectady, N. Y.

Experimental Motor Planned

The Chicago contract calls for construction to begin this year on a prototype for an atomic ships's motor. A prototype is an experimental model, but by the AEC's definition it must also be capable of operating.

If this is successfully completed and placed in a ship, it will probably be the first unit to propel man by the power of the atom. A pound of atomic explosive is supposed to contain enough power to keep a heavy automobile running continuously for fifteen years.

At Schenectady a reactor to produce electricity is being built. A leading atomic scientist is willing to bet that the Schenectady reactor will not produce enough electricity to "run the pile," but it will serve as a pilot operation for future atomic power plants.

Decisive Power Possible

Soviet Russia's acquisition of atomic energy has focused attention in Washington on the influence and economic power which industrial uses may place in the hands of the atom-supplying countries, if the world continues on a peacetime basis.

Whether atomic power will ever compete with coal is debatable. Present estimates are that because of costly installations it would be ten times as expensive—even if the "breeder" process is successful and fuel cost is virtually nothing.

For this reason it is thought that atomic power may have its first industrial uses where coal is unavailable, especially in backward countries, where the proportion of mechanical power is low.

Extensive Control Produced

The atom-supplying country would then be given a peculiar influence. It could provide electricity and otherwise raise the standard of living in a favored country, but it would retain the power to withdraw these gains at any time.

The fuels in an atomic furnace would have to be re-processed every few months, to remove "ashes" which spoil the reaction. For a long time to come, experts from the atom-supplying country would probably be required to operate the plants.

Since economic influence might prove decisive, the AEC plans for both domestic and foreign reasons to push ahead as rapidly as possible in developing industrial uses.

Economic Development Considered

One project under careful study would relate the atom on a long-term basis to President Truman's "point four" program for bringing technical advances to underdeveloped areas.

The main requirement for this phase of the work are a peaceful prospect in the world and the solution of numerous technical difficulties.

It appears that to be efficient the power reactors will have to operate at higher temperatures than are usually handled, probably above 2,000 degrees fahrenheit. There are numerous difficulties raised by radioactivity and lack of sufficiently heat-resistant materials.

A survey of these problems caused the AEC to issue last spring its cautious estimate that practical power was still years in the future but several of the main difficulties have since been solved.

Truman's Sister To Attend Texas Eastern Star Meeting

Muleshoe Church Set For Groundbreaking

MULESHOE, Oct. 11. (Special) Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new $75,000 First Baptist church building here will be conducted at 4 p.m. Thursday, it has been announced.

Mrs. L. S. Barron, only surviving charter member of the Muleshoe First Baptist church, which was established about 30 years ago, will join Ray Griffith, chairman of the Board of Deacons, in turning the first shovel of dirt.

Rev. O. F. Dingler, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church at Austin, who is currently conducting a revival at the Muleshoe First Baptist church, will speak. Pastor of the Muleshoe church is Rev. A. W. Blaine.

Architects for the building are Butler and Brashear of Lubbock. H. L. Wilhite is superintendent of construction and will have charge of work on the building. No formal contract was awarded.

H. L. Blackburn and W. M. Pool, pr., members of the Board of Deacons, announced plans for the groundbreaking ceremony.

Strip Tease Performance In Lamesa Costs Blonde $50 Fine

LAMESA, Oct. 11 (Special)—A blonde stripper today was stripped of $50 including costs when she made the mistake of performing here Monday night while Constable Roscoe Moore was in the audience.

The woman, who is with a carnival stopping here for the Dawson County Fair, was arrested on the spot and brought before Justice of the Peace D. M. Campbell today. She pleaded guilty to charges of indecent exposure.

Her husband was fined $50 including costs for aiding and abetting the act.

PLANS ARE MADE FOR 64 GIRLS

Girlstown Residence Expected To Be Completed By Nov. 13

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche Staff Writer

"By Jan. 1, we will have a full house of 64 girls," Miss Amelia Anthony, founder and director of Girlstown, U. S. A., said during a visit to Lubbock Tuesday.

The residence now under construction, with a goal of Nov. 13 for completion, will allow Girlstown to expand its membership from the present 10 girls who live there.

600 Seek Admission

"Over 600 girls are waiting to get into Girlstown, which means our building program in Girlstown is just starting," said Miss Anthony.

Plans have been drawn for a barn which will serve as a dining hall and general assembly hall, where girls will present plays for Scuth Plains residents once a month and where the Girlstown chorus and Girlstown orchestra plan to present radio shows. The barn also will serve as a meeting place for civic clubs, church organizations and business firms and organizations interested in Girlstown.

"By the time the barn is completed ,it will be time to start the workshop," said Miss Anthony. In the workshop, girls will be taught skills with their hands so they may make useful household items and where seasonal projects will be conducted.

Furniture Making Is Hobby

The Girlstown director has a hobby of making children's furniture. She will teach that to the girls, so they may make children's furniture along with adult furnishings.

"We will do that not only to teach our girls how to be good housewives, but we will do it for income for Girlstown," said Miss Anthony. Items made in the workshop will be sold.

Construction of the residence which will house 64 girls was started Aug. 13. The walls will be roof-high by the weekend, said the director. Twenty-five bricklayers are to work Saturday and Sunday to complete laying of pumice blocks. The partitions and roof will be started next week.

If weather continues as good as it has been this week, chances are fair that construction will be completed by Nov. 13. On that date, the cornerstone is to be laid and the building is to be dedicated. The cornerstone laying had been postponed earlier because of bad weather.

A crew of five to seven men is working daily. Labor organizations of Texas are paying the salary of the men five days weekly and the men are donating two days labor weekly.

The Building and Construction Trades council of Lubbock mailed letters this week to labor organizations in several other states. Donations received in answer to those letters will be used for labor for completion of the residence and for the barn.

Miss Anthony said at least two

Downtown Lots Sell For $80,000

Southwestern Bell Telephone company has contracted to purchase five downtown lots on the corner of Main and Ave. M from First Baptist church for consideration of $80,000, it was annuonced Tuesday.

The five 25-foot lots are described as lots 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, block 115, original town of Lubbock.

Plan Major Addition

The property measures 125 by 125 feet at the rear of the present telephone building and will become the site of a future major building addition, said C. H. Cale, Lubbock district manager of the telephone company. No immediate plans have been made for the construction, he added.

The First Baptist church is erecting steel at present on its new church plant at Ave. V between Broadway and Thirteenth, a building project that will cost well in excess of $1,000,000.

Owns Other Property

The church still owns property at the corner of Main street and Ave. N where the present brick building stands.

The sale of the property to the telephone company is the first transfer of downtown church property. Both the Baptist church property and the Broadway Church of Christ property at Broadway and Ave. N have been advertised for sale for some time.

At the present time, Cale explained, work is progressing on the telephone company's expansion program here to serve present customers and permit future growth. The program provides for conduit, poles, wire, and aerial and underground cable in practically every section of the city.

40 Per Cent Complete

One of the major jobs now in progress will provide more facilities in the south and east sections, and is now about 40 per cent complete, Cale estimated. Construction work in these sections is scheduled for completion late this year.

Another large project which will add to the outside network of wire and cable in the north and northwest sections is about 15 per cent complete and should be finished by the end of the year, or early next year, he explained.

Also in the plans are similar construction jobs to serve residences in the east and southwest parts of the city, to be placed in service during the coming year.

More equipment to serve telephone users also will be installed in the central office, Cale said. "We plan to add 2,200 more lines and equipment for 2,500 more numbers at the telephone office, at a cost of $200,000," he explained.

"This will completely fill the Club To Sponsor X-Ray Unit Here

The new Hub City Kiwanis club announced Tuesday at its regular weekly luncheon that it will sponsor as its first community project a mobile chest x-ray unit, here Oct. 25 to 29 and Nov. 2 to 12.

The announcement was made by Dr. Jason O. Gordon, president of the club, shortly before he introduced Dr. William H. Gordon, who explained the significance of the project.

Dr. William Gordon said the new mobile unit was developed by the Army, and was capable of taking 1,500 chest x-rays each day. It was used at Texas Tech last year to x-ray chests of 3,700 students, 34 of whom were found to be suffering from some type of chest ailment.

Taxpayers Back Program

"The program is not charity," he stressed. "We all are paying for it with our tax dollars, as the units are financed from and sent out from Austin."

Dr. Gordon said that probably one out of every ten persons in Lubbock county is suffering from tuberculosis, cancer of the lungs, or some other chest malady. He said the tuberculosis death rate today is only a tenth of what it was 50 years ago, not because of any cure discovered, but because carriers are being segregated and are not infecting others.

"If the program is carried out successfully here every year, it will virtually eliminate tuberculosis in Lubbock county," he said.

Dr. Gordon explained the mechanics of the project and gave some facts and figures about tuberculosis in the United States, Texas and Lubbock county.

To X-Ray Tech Students

The unit will x-ray Tech personnel and students from Oct. 25 to 29, then will move downtown Nov. 2 to 12. It is open to everybody, but especially to food handlers, maids who take care of children, others who give personal service, young women who work inside, and older persons.

Dr. Jason Gordon accepted the chairmanship of the project, which the club is co-sponsoring with the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association. He will be in charge of ten committees working out details of the unit's visit to Lubbock.

Club Vice-president Jim Spears

Street Parade Slated This Afternoon

Dawson County Fair Set To Open Today

LAMESA, Oct. 11. (Special)—What is expected to be the biggest and best Dawson County Fair in history opens here Wednesday, with fair officials expecting more than 5,000 to attend on opening day.

More than 500 entries for the four-day fair were made before exhibit entry lists were closed at 8 p. m. today.

Judging in the South Plains Horse show will begin Wednesday morning, but the first official recognition of the fair will come at 4 p. m., with a parade through downtown Lamesa.

Band To Play

Floats by merchants, civic clubs, schools, and other organizations, with a cash prize for the school float winner, are featured in the parade along with the Lamesa High School band.

The parade route will be from the Methodist church on North Third west to Wasson, down Wasson to North First, down North First to the square, then west to Houston, and south on Houston to the fairgrounds.

The "Queen of the South Plains," Joy Culp, 17-year-old Lamesa High school senior, will be crowned Wednesday night at Lobo park during the first presentation of the pageant "Boom Days," which will be presented at 7:30 each night of the fair.

Miss Culp, the winner over eight other contestants for the honor, was presented tonight at a coronation ball in the Recreation hall in the City park. She will be crowned by Harley Sadler of Abilene, former state representative and widely known showman. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Culp.

The horse show includes over 100 entries from a wide area of West Texas. Divisions to be judged Wednesday are the halter, Quarter-horse, Palomino, and halfbreed classes.

The morning schedule Wednesday also will include judging of agricultural, ladies', educational, community, and farm youth exhibits.

Earl Sears, general superintendent of the fair, said there will be more exhibits this year than in the past. "Not only will there be more, they will be better," Sears said.

L. R. Morris will be in charge of the individual agricultural exhibits. There will be five regular divisions in this class. They will be grain sorghums, cotton, sheaf grains, forages, grains and seeds, and fruits and vegetables.

A junior division will draw exhibits from the Lamesa, Welch, O'Donnell and Ackerly FFA Chapters and the various 4-H clubs throughout the county. A. H. Essary is in charge of the division.

The educational exhibits will tell a story of improved farming and entries are expected from the Union and Klondike 4-H clubs, the Lamesa, Welch, O'Donnell and Ackerly FFA chapters and the Lamesa FHA chapter. J. W. Reed will be in charge.

A special contest in the agricultural exhibits will attract entries of an unusual nature. It will include flowers, farm products and vegetables produced in Dawson County which are not ordinarily grown here.

Thirteen of the county's communities have indicated that they will enter exhibits in the community exhibit section. They are Mesquite, Hancock, Key, McMarty, Midway, Ackerly, Sparenberg, Klondike, and Patricia, Union, Pumpkin Center, Welch, Woody and Grandview and the veterans vocational school.

Ford Well In Scurry County Is Tested For Production

SNYDER, Oct. 11. (Spl.)—Thomas W. Doswell, Henry Ford II and others, No. 2 C. W. Addison in the Sharon Ridge Canyon reef pool, topped the pay at 6,670 feet, operators report.

Packer was set at 6,670 feet. Gas showed to the surface in five minutes and oil in 18 minutes. On ½ inch choke on bottom, well flowed into pits at an estimated rate of 150 barrels of high gravity pipeline hourly.

Operators No. 2 C. W. Addison. Approximately 18 miles southwest of here, is located 660 feet from the north and 631.1 feet from the southwest one-fourth of section 122, block 25, H.&T.C. survey. Elevation is 2,302.4 feet.

TEC Reports Job Openings Here

Unemployment in Lubbock? Bosh, said the Texas Employment commission as it figuratively hung up a "Help Wanted" sign Tuesday.

Demands for 150 persons to fill jobs were placed with the TEC today, and so far workers to fill those jobs haven't been found, said E. W. Sawyer, placement manager.

Many Workers Needed

"We need applicants for jobs as typists, stenographers bookkeepers, clerical workers, salesmen and salespersons, meat cutters, mechanics of all kinds, carpenters, routemen and route salesmen, laborers of all types, maids, day workers, hotel and tourist court domestic workers, waitresses and soda fountain workers," Sawyer explained.

"We were told of 96 job openings in Lubbock Monday, and we only filled approximately 40 of them."

Services Slated For Former Lubbock Man

RALLS, Oct. 11 (Special)—Funeral services will be conducted here Wednesday at 2 p. m. for Niel Goggans who died at 9:30 p. m. Monday in Amarillo.

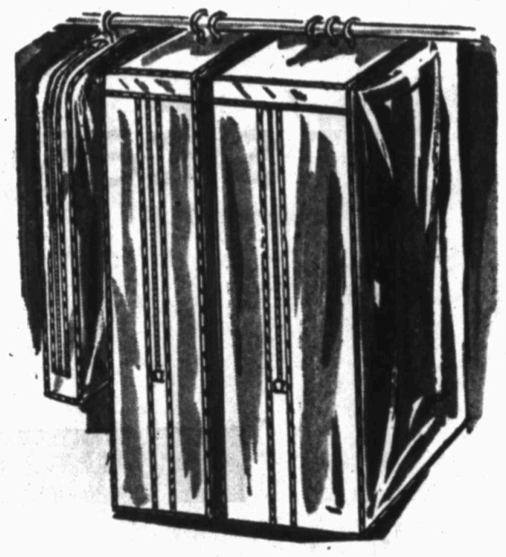

Goggans came to Crosby county 42 years ago from Bell county and lived here until moving to Lubbock 12 years ago. Later he moved to Amarillo.

Rites will be held at the Ralls Church of Christ with Elder Charles Watkins of Lubbock officiating. Burial will be in Emma cemetery with the Marr Funeral home of Ralls in charge.

Goggans is survived by two sisters, Mrs. C. B. Travis of Ralls and Mrs. Clyde Heasner of Wellman and one brother, Hugh Goggans of Waco.

Nephews will serve as pallbearers.

PROBLEMS TO BE STUDIED

New Good Neighbor Commission Head To Seek Improved Relations

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Oct. 11 — Neville Penrose of Fort Worth elected chairman of the Good Neighbor commission, said today the group will seek the formula to make Texas a good neighbor in Mexico's eyes.

"The legislature has appropriated $20,000 a year for this commission," he observed. "The legislature wishes this commission to find out and to tell it why Texas is not as good a neighbor as it might be.

"That is our job."

Penrose Elected Unanimously

Penrose was elected chairman unanimously by the other eight commission members.

The chairmanship has been held by R. E. (Bob) Smith of Houston, who was not reappointed to the agency when his term ended. Smith was chairman almost from the inception of the commission in 1943.

Penrose, in his brief, prepared speech of acceptance, said most informed Mexicans "probably will say that we (Texas) are not as good a neighbor as California . . . Arizona . . . or New Mexico."

Texans Want Answer

"And why is this? That's the question the people of Texas want answered. That's the reason for this meeting today. That's the reason for the inception of the Good Neighbor commission of Texas."

Dr. Julian Saldivar of Dallas suggested that the commission enlist the aid of other organizations.

"We need every organization we can get hold of to help out—the Pan-American round tables, Lulacs (League of United Latin-American citizens), Rotary, Lions club," he said.

He touched on the question of what term should be used when speaking of people in this state who are of Latin-American descent.

Proper Name Sought

"I believe most of them like to be called Latin-Americans, but I believe that term should just apply south of the border. Should we do without this first term and just describe them as Americans? I believe we should."

Dorrance Roderick, president of the El Paso Times, said, "No one in El Paso ever calls a citizen a Latin-American or an Anglo-American."

Tom Slick, San Antonio oil operator, rancher and inventor, voiced hope that some day people may be able to travel between Mexico and the United States the way they do today between this country and Canada—"without even knowing when you cross the border."

The next commission meeting will be held at Fort Worth, Dec. 5.

Firemen Rescue Patients From Blazing Sanitarium In Indiana

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 11 (INS)—Twenty-six patients of the Whiting Mineral Springs sanitarium were rescued by fast working hospital attendants and volunteer firemen today when fire destroyed the half-century-old institution near Martinsville.

Most of the patients of the sanitarium were elderly persons taking mineral springs treatment. Prompt action by firemen and employes was held responsible for removal of all without injury.

Firemen managed to check each of the 30 rooms in the old building before it was consumed by fire. Patients were housed temporarily in the nearby Martinsville sanitarium and the Cohn-Barnard sanitarium.

The cause of the blaze was not determined immediately. Damage was estimated at $75,000 and power service was cut off to several communities in the vicinity.

13 Lubbock County Students Included On Wayland College Roll

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 10. (Special)—Thirteen Lubbock county students are among the 480 enrolled at Wayland college, Dean Raymond E. Mendenhall announced here today.

They are Cicero Pendley, Loyd Phillips Moore, Mary Ruth Jopling, William Calvin Davis, Preston Bennett, and Connie Jo Wood, all of Lubbock; Oma Dell Franklin, of Abernathy; Mary Frances Preston of Wolfforth; and Joan Green of Slaton.

Main Subjects Given

Pendley, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Pendley, is a freshman.

Hilton, son of Mrs. J. W. Hilton, is majoring in English and minoring in journalism.

Miss Wales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Wales, is majoring in physical education and minoring in history.

Johns, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Johns, is majoring in chemistry, and minoring in Bible.

Miss Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Robinson, is majoring in physical education.

Music Major Included

Miss Jopling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Jopling, is majoring in music.

Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis, is majoring in history and minoring in Bible.

Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Foster, is majoring in English.

Miss Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wood, is majoring in religious education and minoring in piano.

Miss Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Franklin, is majoring in education and minoring in Bible and speech.

Religion, Art Combined

Miss Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Green, is majoring in religious education and minoring in art.

Wayland's maximum enrollment, set at 500 by trustees, has almost been reached. Along with the new students, there are 13 new faculty members.

Improvements on the campus include a newly renovated basement in the administration building which houses the journalism and photography departments, the Wayland World Press, and a student recreation center. A new dining hall will soon be built.

State Commissioner Weighs Problem Of Tax Collection

WESLACO, Oct. 11. (AP)— State Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald weighed a double problem today.

Under the bill creating the Texas Citrus commission McDonald is required to assist in the collection of taxes "if asked."

And — yesterday he was asked. But McDonald thinks the three-cent a box tax on citrus fruit, as voted by the commission, is unconstitutional. He thinks the commission unconstitutional too.

The citrus group knew of McDonald's views when they decided to ask for his help. But as Attorney Vernon Hill explained it, "even if he only gave half-hearted support it seemed it would be helpful and less expensive for us. I believe the tax could be collected very simply if everyone rallied around."

Hill assured the citrus men McDonald would not be liable for money collected if, as McDonald has argued, the courts were to rule the tax illegal. Under the commission proposal the tax would be used for advertising and research.

Chairman L. C. Skaggs said McDonald assured him a few weeks ago that if Attorney General Price Daniel upheld the tax, McDonald would cooperate 100 per cent. Daniel last week ruled it legal.

Registration Still Is Open In Tech Education Workshop Course

Registration is still open to persons wishing to enroll in education 4316, workshop in curriculum and instruction, which will hold its first session in the Texas Tech administration building at 7 p.m. today.

Designed especially for teachers, the course will be directed by R. L. Davidson, assistant professor in education. Three semester hours residence credit, graduate or undergraduate, can be earned under the course. Work may be done on the primary, elementary, secondary or administrative level.

To meet once a week, the class membership will decide at tonight's session the night and time for subsequent classes. The course is sponsored jointly by the Lubbock school and the department of education and psychology and division of extension at Tech, J. H. Millikin, director of extension, said.

The meeting tonight will be in room 308 of the administration building.

Meat Packers Aid In Providing Vital Drugs In Fight For Health

By GERALD B. HEALEY
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Meat packing plants took on new importance tonight as a provider of drugs for the sick.

Armour and company laboratories recently gained nationwide attention by producing the anti-arthritis drug, acth.

But the fight by meat packers against disease actually started nearly 60 years ago when a 28-year-old woman walked wearily into a doctor's office in Madison, Wis., with a dropsylike swelling on the face, a dry and wrinkled skin and a slow pulse rate.

Patient Improves Rapidly

The doctor, James A. Jackson, diagnosed the condition as sluggish action of the thyroid gland.

No satisfactory treatment for the condition was then known and patients usually died within a short time.

Dr. Jackson had a sudden inspiration. He wrote to P. D. Armour, founder of the Armour company, and asked that he be sent some dried animal thyriod.

The patient was fed the thyroid powder, containing iodine. She improved rapidly. Today, at 85, she is hearty and still taking the thyroid powder.

New Products Used

Treatment of thousands similary stricken continued down through the years.

Armour scientists have been experimenting on new products for the treatment of disease over all those years.

Today, there are liver extract for pernicious anemia, male and female sex hormones, insulin for diabetes, enzymes to aid digestion, epinephrine to aid asthmatics and mucin for peptic ulcers.

Glands once thrown away are shipped to the Armour laboratories from 18 major plants.

500 Studies Underway

Dr. J. D. Porsche, assistant director of research, said 500 studies are going on at Armour at any given time.

He said that not all experiments are successful, but much is learned even from failures.

For instance, bovine blood was made ready for blood banks during the war but public response to blood bank appeals made it unnecessary to use the blood of cattle.

But the technique used by Armour in processing the bovine blood was adopted by the Red Cross in processing of human blood.

If Columbus had sailed to the new world in the spring instead of the fall, it is likely that he would have landed in the United States because he was following birds in flight.

Cottonseed Support

PROSPECTS appear encouraging for improvements in the handling of the federal cottonseed support price program. If this happens, Rep. George Mahon, of the district, will be due credit for an important assist in bringing it about.

The handling of the support program has been highly unsatisfactory to farmers and others interested. Washington announced several weeks ago that cottonseed would be supported at about $49 a ton, as compared with the then prevailing market price of $30 to $35.

The Commodity Credit corporation was supposed to put the program in operation. But, after a few weeks, complaints began flooding into Washington from all cotton producing areas that the supports on seed were not being paid. Reasons given for this failure were vague and varied.

South Plains farmers were told the "moisture content" of their seed was too high to make it eligible for the support price. Few farmers, or anyone else, understand just what is meant by "moisture content." It seems to have something to do with the ability of the cottonseed to withstand storage without damage.

But our farmers did know this: Instead of getting $49 a ton for their seed, they had to sell at the market at about $35.

The complaints finally led to the appointment of a joint House-Senate committee to investigate. Mr. Mahon was a member of the group. They held several meetings with officials of the CCC. A note from Mr. Mahon reports that the "CCC agreed to work out a cottonseed purchasing program which, it was thought, would make the support price effective."

The implications were quite clear that the CCC officials heard some vigorous congressional blistering. But still unexplained are the reasons, if any, for delays in putting support prices into effect.

It is all to the good that the CCC agreed to take corrective steps. Mr. Mahon believes they will mean several additional millions of dollars to West Texas producers. But the fact remains that the delays already have cost those producers many millions — and, beyond any question, a great many people interested in cottonseed would like to know why.

It is to be hoped that members of Congress will find the answer to this question and follow it by whatever action seems appropriate.

Columbus Day

STUDENTS of the subject do not pretend to know when, or by whom, America was discovered, but they agree it was hundreds of years before Christopher Columbus set foot on the New World just 457 years ago today.

This, however, detracts nothing from the honor due Old Chris, nor from the importance of his effort. The news of his findings was spread to all the nations of Europe as rapidly as communication facilities of his time would allow. The earlier visits by the Norse, and others, to the strange new continent far to the west were known only to themselves and their immediate associates.

Christopher Columbus changed the course of world history as nothing to that time had done because, in a sense, his visit was advertised. He touched off the greatest era of exploration the earth has seen, or ever is likely to see unless—perchance, men may contrive the way some day to reach the planets and the stars.

Even if that should happen, Columbus Day still will mark one of the most important anniversaries known to mankind.

The Green Light

VISION and foresight within the Texas citrus industry were drawn to attention again a few days ago when an attorney general's opinion upheld certain taxing authorities given during the last session of the legislature to the newly created State Citrus commission.

The commission was created at the urgent request of citrus growers and processors, who will pay the taxes affected. Their foresight and vision was illustrated by the fact that one-fourth of the taxes collected are to be expended for research and unspecified sums for advertising the qualities of Texas citrus fruit. No finer citrus is grown in the world, but it has been at a disadvantage in competition with lavishly-advertised California and Florida fruits.

The validity of the expenditures were questioned before the attorney general. But they now have been upheld by him in an opinion which goes far toward clearing the way for Texas citrus growers to let the world know that they produce a fruit second to none in quality.

Doesn't That Noise Upstairs Keep You Awake?

Someone To Love

BY IRENE LONNEN ERNHART
Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: Ted Duncan has married Jenny Foleska "on the rebound" after his fiancee, the wealthy Liz Conover, eloped with another man. He has told Jenny and tries to convince himself that it is all over with Liz. On the return from a short honeymoon trip, Jenny finds an eviction notice at their home where they had planned to live. Ted suggests that they live with his mother, sister Harriet and brother Joe. Jenny's friends advise against it, but Jenny goes with Ted. At the first meeting with Ted's family, Ma Duncan tells Jenny "Ted made a perfect fool of himself gettin' married to spite Liz Conover.")

VIII

ONE day Jenney asked Tod how much the apartment was costing him.

"I don't ask you what you do with your money, Jenny!" he said, flaring up.

"But Tod, we ought to pool our resources. You are going back to college this fall. That'll take money. You said Markwood costs more than the State University. I asked about this apartment, because when we moved in you said your mother was looking for something less expensive."

"She is looking. Places are hard to find." They were in the tiny bedroom. Jenny was sure the rest of the family could hear them. She lowered her voice. "Are we going to go on living here, with no privacy and no feeling of permanence?"

"What's wrong with this apartment? I'm paying $150 a month for it. It ought to be good enough for anybody. That's quite a chunk of money!"

"Of course it is, darling, and that's the point I'm trying to make. When you quit your job and start to school, how are we going to pay that much? I only make $40 at the shop—"

"I've been thinking about it."

"Why doesn't Joe get a job?"

"Ma's been trying to get him on at the tire factory. I spoke to her about Joe the other day, if you must know." He walked to the window now and stood there sullenly looking out into the darkened street. His broad shoulders sagged a little and his hair was rumpled.

THE sound of traffic floated up from the street below. The muted blast of Joe's radio came out of the living room, and water was running in the bathroom adjoining, where Harriet was washing out some things.

"If we live here this winter I don't know how you'll be able to study," Jenny said, "and besides—I just hate it!" She really hadn't meant to tell him that, but it had burst out before she thought.

"For heaven's sake," Tod cried in exasperation, as he turned about, "this heat is bad enough without your needling me all the time! Don't you suppose I hate it too!" he shouted. "I despies the cheapness of it, all, the whole tawdry commonplace way we live! There's no fun in it anywhere. This wasn't the kind of life I planned to have. I hate my job, this arpartment, having nothing to look forward to!"

Jenny stared at him in shocked disbelief, and then she whispered hoarsely, "Go on — say it." She clung with one hand to the foot of the hideous waterfall bed. "You're sorry—"

Jenny's brown eyes swam with quick tears.

Tod's eyes softened and he came toward her and put his arms around her and held her close. "Never, never," he whispered, rubbing his chin in her hair, "think I'm sorry we got married, Jenny. You'll have to forgive my temper. I didn't mean half the things I said. It's the heat."

Jenny fell into the habit of staying in town quite often with Nina on those nights when Tod was out of town. They would cook a quick supper at Nina's apartment, and then they'd go to a show, or spend the evening together. If she didn't stay all night at Nina's it would be late when she got home. And one Sunday morning she heard Ma talking about it to Tod.

"Sometimes it's 11 o'clock, and she don't say a word about where she's been or nothin'. And I sometimes wonder when she says she's stayin' all night with that Nina."

"Little you know about what sort she is."

"Cut it out, I said! If Jenny wants to go some place in the evening—"

"Mark my words, you'll find out what kind she is!"

Jenny had slept late, but she threw on her robe and came into the kitchen where they were eating breakfast.

TOD shoved back his chair and came around to Jenny, put his arm across her shoulders and said grinning, "Hello, sleepyhead!" He pulled out a chair for her, got the coffee pot and poured her coffee. Jenny felt her anger melting. She had intended having it out with Ma and Tod then and there, but the way Tod bustled around looking after her comfort, and the way Ma got up and flounced into the other room, made it impossible.

Then came a Thursday evening in August, and Tod was not due home until Friday. Nina had suggested that she and Jenny really splurge — have dinner at a nice place and then take in a new show. Jenny even had a new dress, a sheer black crepe she bought cheaply from Max because the summer was almost over. And she had found a hat to go with it, a Dutch bonnet with a lacy brim.

They were to dine at Greenbriar, the swankiest place in town, soft lights, dreamy music and wonderful cocktails. They had just been seated when Jenny, happening to glace toward the door, saw Tod.

She thought she must be mistaken, because Tod wasn't due home until the following day. But it was Tod all right, and he went directly to a table in the far corner. Liz was at the table.

Nina saw Jenny's face. "Jenny!"

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

PLEASE forgive me if today's column seems lugubrious.

Perhaps you better not read on, because I shall deal with Death.

Yet, maybe, after all, you had better read on, because Death comes to all of us some day and there is no sense in avoiding a subject that concerns you and me so personally and so inescapably.

BRANDEIS

I read a wonderful editorial in the Bridgeport, Conn., Post.

It talks of Death not as something to be feared, but as a friend who takes all your sorrows, all your pains, all your worries away and leads you gently to eternal sleep and to a glorious Hereafter.

His name was Basil Caparell.

You probably never heard of him, yet there is hardly a newspaper publisher or editor in this country who didn't know "Cap" and love him.

"Cap" was one of the top sales executives of the syndicate which distributes this column.

When I first started "Looking at Life," about seven years ago, it was tough sledding.

After a year or so I was discouraged and wanted to give it up.

"Cap" said "No, don't quit. You've got something good. Keep it up. I'll help you."

And "Cap" did help me. He went out himself and sold the column to newspaper after newspaper—until today it is published in some 150 of them, in many countries.

I wanted to write a eulogy for "Cap."

I couldn't. I was too choked up when the New York office called and told me the news of his passing.

So my wife, who knew him well, sat down and suggested something.

Here it is. She wrote it:

"'Cap' was a man whom once you met you never forgot. Not because he was handsome, for he was not. Not because he was rich, for he was not. Not because he was impressive, for he was not.

ON HST'S DEMANDS

Program Not Filled

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—"How has President Truman fared with his legislative program with the present session of Congress," asks M.T. of Columbus, "by comparison with his 1948 campaign pledges, and the agenda which he submitted last January? My Democratic and Republican friends can't seem to agree on whether he has been a strong or weak executive."

Answer: It is easy to understand the disputes and dilemma of the partisans which M. T. mentions. Naturally, the Democrats will maintain at the session's end that Mr Truman has done a masterful job as leader of Congress. Inasmuch as that body was overwhelmingly Democratic, at least nominally, they cannot admit otherwise. The Republicans will make contrary claims.

TUCKER

Disregarding both sides' propaganda, the answer can be only relative. However, the President's record will suffer chiefly because of the extravagant promises he made last year, which were embodied in the message he sent to Capitol Hill last January. He achieved only a minute portion of that program, and his failures concerned the more basic and far-reaching features of it.

The lack of accomplishment is all the more remarkable when it is recalled that, in summoning the special "turnip session" after the 1948 convention at Philadelphia, he declared that his legislative demands could be fulfilled in a month's time. Despite a nine-month meeting, Congress has not given him any of his Fair Deal proposals.

VICTORIES: President Truman, for instance, hailed extension of rent control as a great triumph, although the opposition forced him to accept amendments permitting increases and decontrol in many sections. He did obtain his housing bill, and that stands out as one of his major victories.

Almost his only gain for labor was increase of the minimum hourly payment to seventy-five cents, and that was modified so as to exempt many thousands of workers. Indeed, union leaders are quite disappointed with his efforts on their behalf, as the current epidemic of strikes reveals.

Mr. Truman's principal wins were scored in the field of foreign affairs. He obtained extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements law, and without any hampering revisions. He won approval for the North Atlantic pact, new Marshall Plan money and European rearmament.

But it is probable that a man named Stalin, with his atomic threat to world recovery and peace, was quite as responsible for this as Mr. Truman himself.

SCORE: Normally, enactment of these measures along with the necessary appropriation bills would constitute a fairly good record for the Congress and the Administration, especially as debate and settlement of so many controversial foreign problems required a great deal of time. But Mr. Truman has an extremely negative score with respect to his more important proposals.

He did not achieve repeal of the Taft-Hartley act. He has abandoned his Civil Rights program for this session at least. He failed completely to establish a health insurance system. His aid-to-education bill bogged down because of the religious controversy.

Extension and expansion of the Social Security structure seems doomed for this session, although it might squeeze through at the last minute. His two-price, Brannan farm scheme is dead.

He has not advanced Franklin D. Roosevelt's favorite issue of public power an inch, for he gave only lip service to the St. Lawrence project, the Missouri Valley Authority and a similar development for the Northwest.

It is generally forgotten that he also wanted price control and allocation of materials in key industries, as well as a $4 billion tax increase. He did not get those, of course, because his economic advisers had misread the trends.

* * *

LINDBERGH: "Can you tell me," inquires L. C. R. of Greensboro, N. C., "if Colonel Charles L. Lindbergh ever renounced his American citizenship? Also, what did he do in World War II?"

Answer: No, Colonel Lindbergh has not renounced his citizenship. Not even his shabby treatment at the hands of Franklin D. Roosevelt could induce him to do that.

Air Force officers inform me that his services before, during and since World War II have been outstanding. As I wrote in my column at the time, he was the first knowledgeable American to warn the appropriate Congressional committees of Hitler's tremendous air power and potential. He was largely responsible for the great increases in appropriations for this arm in 1948.

SERVICES: During the war, especially in the Pacific theater, he taught our airmen how to conserve gasoline by taking advantage of wind currents and other propulsion factors, as an automobilist saves fuel by knowing the behaviour of his car. High officials credit him with saving the lives of many men who might have fallen in the ocean instead of making their home bases.

He has been a confidential adviser on air development, foreign bases and other questions in the last few years, but his accomplishments cannot be revealed for security reasons.

In short, if the non-political higherups of national defense could have their way, he would be given a D.S.C. for services.

TRUE: "Is it true, or is it just a political joke," asks F.O. of Brooklyn, N. Y., "that the headmaster of the 'Roosevelt School at Hyde Park' is a man named Trotsky?"

Answer: It is no joke. I saw the school's advertisement recently in the educational supplement of The Sunday New York Times. But I doubt if there is any ideological connection between the school, its headmaster and the Hyde Park family.

Mrs. J. B. Edwards was elected as a delegate from the Lu-Beta Delphian chapter of the State Federation of Women's clubs, which meets in Mineral Wells, at the meeting of the local club Thursday afternoon at Texas Tech college. Mrs. J. H. Hankins was elected as an alternate delegate.

Among the other matters of business taken up was the adding of $25 to the loan fund of $57, and the giving of the total amount to Dean J. M. Gordon at Texas Technological college for the use of students there.

New members added to the club were Miss Bryan, Mrs. W. N. Hale, and Mrs. Clark Mullican.

CONGRESS TO STUDY PROPOSAL

World Federation Plan Pushed

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — In the lore of our own west a legendary institution was the "Last Chance" saloon, a plain, weathered clapboard edifice perched at the end of Main street in those numerous tiny habitations which, themselves, sat on the edge of the seemingly boundless plains that rolled toward the sunset.

STOKES

Inside, about the bar, there was usually a congenial atmosphere as neighbors who lived miles apart passed the time of day. Often it was a debating society. On occasion it was the scene of brawls and gun fights, or the place where local feuds were talked about familiarly, for they were numerous and there was no law but the law of the gun.

Set Up Own Rule

But, as our empire moved westward, new folks moved in who wanted to live and work and raise their families in peace and quiet. They made that plain. But it was not until the strong men in the community saw it, too, that something was done about it. And one day they got together, like as not in one of those "last chance" saloons, and decided it was time for law and order and elected themselves a sheriff from among them and gave him a badge and told him to enforce the law and they'd back him up.

WE'VE got a "Last Chance" saloon of sorts in New York today, though its polite name is United Nations. There are gathered the strong men and the "hands" of the great ranchers of the world today whom we call "diplomats," also politely. Sometimes there's a friendly atmosphere there. Always it's a debating society. And constantly there's talk about the feuding going on in our community, which is the whole, wide world.

The rest of us folks in the world have been talking anxiously among ourselves for a long time now about having a community where we can live and work and raise our families in peace and quiet. But the leaders of our community in the "Last Chance" saloon in New York don't seem to get the idea yet.

Now they're in a dither and somewhat excited because one of the two biggest ranchers has now got hold of the same deadly weapon, known as the atom bomb, that the other big rancher has got — and with bad blood between those two big fellows, too. Folks in the community want something done about all this. But all we hear is talk about each fellow getting more and bigger guns, and dining up more smaller ranchers in the neighborhood and passing guns out to them, and dispersing the bunk houses of the hands on the place and digging holes in the ground to hide in and work in.

All we want is for those fellows in the "last chance" saloon to get togther and organize a real community government with the same law for everybody, and a sheriff and a posse to enforce it. Law is the only way, for folks always are going to squabble among themselves.

Solons To Study Plan

All of which is directed to something that's going to happen here this week among representatives of your own Congress of the United States, one of the two big ranchers. This is public hearings on Wednesday and Thursday by the House Foreign Affairs committee on a resolution sponsored by 105 House members and 22 senators, nearly a fourth of Congress, which says:

"It is the sense of the Congress that is should be a fundamental objective of the foreign policy of the United States to support and strengthen the United Nations and to seek its development into a world federation open to all nations with defined and limited powers adequate to preserve peace and prevent aggression through the enactment, interpretation and enforcement of law."

A LOT of big words — congressmen and diplomats still talk that way — but all it means is for those fellows in our "Last Chance" saloon in New York to do just what those fellows did in that "Last Chance" safoon in our own west in the early days. If Congress would pass that, it might stir up those fellows in New York. That was the very way that the United Nations, itself, was started — by Congress going on record for our people in resolutions .

All of you folks can't come here to tell the committee how you feel, but you can write or wire about it. Congress listens to you if you raise a fuss, as any old-timer around here can tell you.

GOVERNOR FEARS NO 'GRAB'

Shivers Says Federal Aid May Be Answer To Water Problems

ABILENE, Oct. 11. (AP) —Governor Allan Shivers said today federal help may be the best present answer to West Texas water problems.

The governor, whose attorney general recently criticized West Texans for inviting the Interior department to give it a hand, told Abilene Reporter News staff member Kathryn Duff;

"The people are going to have services from their government. If they can't get them from their local government they'll go to the state. If they can't get them there they will go to the federal government."

Encroachment Feared

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has drawn fire from some who fear federal encroachment by the Bureau of Reclamation.

Attorney General Price Daniel criticized the West Texas Chamber of Commerce action recently on the grounds that federal intervention would take over responsibilities which he said belonged to the state.

The governor expressed no fears of encroachment if the projects are self liquidating. He pointed to the Canadian projects on the north plains as a good solution.

Definite Programs Urged

Gov. Shivers said, "We must work out a definite program for surface water as well as underground water. We will have just as big a legislative battle over new water laws as there was over oil conservation."

"Texas is big enough and strong enough to supply these services," the governor added.

Barbecue Marks Opening Of New State Office Building

Employes of three state agencies and their families were guests at a barbecue held at the new state office building northeast of Lubbock at 6 p. m. Tuesday.

The building, new permanent quarters of the Highway patrol, Driver's license bureau and Texas rangers, was formally opened at the meet. Special guests included city and county officials, are a law enforcement officers, and several state officials. Joe Fletcher, assistant director of the Highway patrol, and Bill Browman, state communications supervisor, were flown to the barbecue from Austin by Mac Westerman, a highway patrolman.

Capt. Ed Posey, in charge of the Lubbock district of the Highway patrol, said an estimated 200 persons attended the affair.

Dallas Auto Thieves Steal Car Loaded With Dynamite

DALLAS, Oct. 11. (U.P.)— Auto thieves who took a new car from owners of the Joe Chitwood shows at the State Fair of Texas actually were sitting on a "keg" of dynamite.

The car, painted white and bearing the number "17" boldly painted in red on both sides, was stolen about midnight.

In the rear of the car, officers said, was enough explosives to blow the car and its occupants to "bits."

The dynamite is used in the opening scenes of the show when workmen explode a board walk.

Lubbock Grocers To Launch New Credit Rating System Here

A credit rating system for grocery store customers will be launched in Lubbock before Nov. 1 by members of the Texas Retail Grocers association, Clyde Stovall, district president, said Monday night.

Stovall outlined the plan at a meeting of the organization held in the Rocket room of Womble Olds building. Sixteen members attended.

The credit system, similar to that operated by the Retail Merchants association, will be the first attempt in Texas and possibly the nation to apply it to retail grocery stores, Stovall said.

He said plans have been approved by state headquarters of the association, and legal aspects are now being checked in Austin.

"Members will have credit records on customers," Stovall said, "and such records will be made available to all merchants participating."

A "walking" secretary will work out of the association's office here, going from store to store to circulate the credit ratings. In addition, the secretary will write letters of collection for any store needing that service.

Stovall said that approximately 100 grocery stores in Lubbock belong to the association. A total of 280 stores are in the district, which reaches out to Brownfield, Lamesa, Crosbyton, Plainview and Levelland.

"The plan will be tried first in Lubbock," Stovall said, "and will be expanded over the district if it is successful."

Stovall explained that the association is composed of independent grocers, most of them with neighborhood stores specializing in personalized service to customers.

Lubbock K. Of C. To Hold Columbus Day Observance

Columbus Day will be commemorated by the Knights of Columbus at 8 p. m. today as they entertain their wives and friends with a dance in Blakeslee hall, 2305 Main.

Prior to the dance, Rev. Frank Gilchrest, chaplain at the Lubbock Air Force base, will give a short talk. In further observance of the day, members of the organization will receive communion at the 8 a. m. mass, Sunday.

Lubbock Man Is Hurt In Blast

The condition of E. J. "Bud" Wallace, superintendent of the Lubbock public school maintenance department, who was burned late Tuesday morning when accumulated gas in the Senior High school basement exploded, is "fine," attendants, at West Texas hospital reported Tuesday night.

A new boiler was being wired in the basement of the building and Wallace, 49, was burned when he set a match to the pilot light, causing gas accumulated there to explode, school authorities said.

Building Remains Undamaged

There was no serious damage to the building, Principal Floyd Honey said Tuesday night. "We have had light and gas inspectors make a thorough check of the school building," he said, "and such a thing will not happen again."

Working with Wallace in the basement were Troy Peeples of Lubbock, owner of the Peeples Electric shop; J. E. Ball of Lubbock, his helper; and E. W. Graham of Big Spring, representative of the Temperature Control company. None of the others were hurt.

Witnesses said flames leaped up through an incinerator shaft and shot ten feet out into the first floor corridor of the building. A smokestack on top of the school was blown off.

Wallace Suffers Burns

Wallace, suffering from second degree burns, will be hospitalized for several days of treatment. He suffered burns of the right and left arms and scattered burns of the head and neck. He was taken to the hospital by an ambulance.

Firemen were stationed at the school the rest of the day to make sure there would be no outbreak of fire or another explosion.

Classes were not interrupted and Principal Honey made an announcement a few minutes after the blast assuring the students and teachers of their safety.

Invalid Grocer Is Robbed By Picture Minded Thieves

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 11 (U.P.)—Five times since 1931, Grocer M. C. Morton has sat helplessly in his wheelchair while his store was being robbed.

So he wasn't flattered yesterday when two men came in and showed him a picture of himself, taken after a holdup last year.

Then they emptied his cash register.

1. That an election be held in said City of Idalou, Texas, on the 29th day of October, 1949, at which election the following propositions shall be submitted:

PROPOSITION NO. 1

"Shall the City Council of the City of Idalou, Texas, be authorized to issue the bonds of said City in the sum of Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars, maturing serially in such installments as may be fixed by the City Council, the maximum maturity being not more than Thirty (30) years from their date, bearing interest at a rate not to exceed Five (5%) per cent per annum, for the purpose of improving and extending the Waterworks System of said City, to be issued in accordance with and secured in the manner provided in Articles 1111-1118, both inclusive, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, each bond to be conditioned that the holder thereof shall never have the right to demand payment of said obligation out of funds raised or to be raised by taxation, secured by a pledge of the net revenues from the operation of said system, and if the Waterworks Revenue Bonds are voted, as provided in Proposition No. 1, to be secured additionally by a pledge of the net revenues from the operation of said Waterworks System."

2. That said election shall be held at City Hall within said City, and the following named persons are hereby appointed directors of said election, to-wit:

W. B. Shelton, Presiding Judge.
J. E. Wells, Judge.
D. B. McInroe, Clerk.
F. G Selman, Clerk.

3. The said election shall be held under the provisions of Chapter 1, Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, as amended, and only legally qualified electors who own taxable property in the City and who have duly rendered the same for taxation shall be qualified to vote.

4. The ballots for said election shall have written or printed thereon the following:

PROPOSITION NO. 1
"FOR THE ISSUANCE OF WATERWORKS SYSTEM REVENUE BONDS"
"AGAINST THE ISSUANCE OF WATERWORKS SYSTEM REVENUE BONDS"

PROPOSITION NO. 2
"FOR THE ISSUANCE OF SEWER SYSTEM REVENUE BONDS"
"AGAINST THE ISSUANCE OF SEWER SYSTEM REVENUE BONDS"

Concerning each proposition, each voter shall mark out with black ink or black pencil one of the above expressions, thus leaving the other as indicating his vote on the proposition.

5. A substantial copy of this resolution signed by the Mayor of said City and attested by the City Secretary shall serve as proper notice of said election. Notice shall be given in accordance with Article 704, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, as amended. The Mayor is authorized and directed to have a copy of said notice posted at the City Hall and at two other public places within said City not less than fifteen days prior to the date fixed for holding said election. He shall also cause said notice to be published on the same day in each of two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published within said City, the date of the first publication to be not less than fourteen days prior to the date set for said election. Except as otherwise provided in said Article 704, as amended, the manner of holding said election shall be governed by the laws governing general elections.

ADOPTED AND APPROVED this the 3rd day of October, 1949.

FOY HUDSON,
Mayor, City of Idalou, Texas

ATTEST:

RAILS SPARK RALLY

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP)—Sustained demand for railroad shares set off a market rally today that carried stocks to another new high point for the year.

The gains were fractions to around 3 points with some issues going up as much as 4 points.

Motors followed the rail lead early in the session and were joined by the oil group later. Other sections of the market followed along.

Wall Street sources again voiced their belief that strikes in the coal and steel industries would end soon before the crippling effects of hundreds of thousands of idle workers seriously damaged the nation's economic structure.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks stepped up .6 of a point to 47.4, a new high since Nov. 4. The rail component of the average made the best progress with a rise of .8 of a point. Industrials were up .5 of a point and utilities rose .2 of a point.

There were 1,117 individual issues traded the greatest number since June 13, when 1,127 issues appeared on the tape.

There were 109 new high points reached by individual stocks in today's market, and only one new low was touched.

The volume was 1,660,000 shares as against 1,120,000 Monday, one of the best in about a month.

Oils were late in coming to life as a group. When they did, some of them spurted forward. Lion Oil was up 1⅛ at 31. It moved up early in the day, adding to the gains made Monday on an announcement of new wells. Skelly Oil jumped 4⅛ to 115⅛ in the latter part of the trading session.

Gains and closing prices of some of the leaders follow: Nickel Plate up 3 at 83¼, Northern Pacific ½ at 18¼, International Paper 1¼ at 64¼, Westinghouse ⅝ at 27⅝, Studebaker ⅞ at 25¼, General Motors ⅞ at 65¾, Allied Chemical 1 at 191, Youngstown Sheet and Tube 1½ at 68¾, Goodrich 1 at 62¾, Phelps Dodge 1⅝ at 43¾, Santa Fe 1½ at 98½, and Standard Oil (NJ) Texas Co., Paramount (Old) General Electric, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Homestake Mining, Anaconda Copper, Republic Steel and Chrysler.

The bond market pushed higher in one of the most active sessions in two months.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP) — Cotton futures were firm today on trade and commission house buying which readily absorbed hedge selling and liquidation. Failure of the market to decline on the half million bale increase in the government October delivery and Washington reports indicating that the administration favors 90 per cent of parity loan all helped the market. There was a good deal of evening-up in nearby October futures and switching to later months prior to expiration of October contracts on October 14.

Futures closed 30 to 90 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 11 (AP)—The average price of middling 15/16ths-inch cotton today at 10 designated southern spot markets was 21 cents a bale higher at 29.64 cents a pound; average for the past 30 market days 29.80; middling ⅞ths-inch average 28.14.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 11 (AP) — Wheat eased toward the close of today's board of trade sessions, and corn dipped below the previous close, but soybeans and lard pushed upward.

The easiness of corn was attributed to a lower cash grain market. There was some profit cashing in wheat, but the demand for beans offset realizing sales.

At the close wheat was ¼ to 1¼ higher than yesterday's close. December $2.12¼-12. Corn was ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, December $1.18¾-12. Oats were unchanged to ⅛ higher, December 67⅛. Rye was ⅛ to 1 cent higher, December $1.49½.

Tuberculosis Tests Of Students Reveals 71 'Positive' Reactions

Seventy-one students showed a positive reaction and 15 showed a doubtful reaction to tuberculosis tests given last week in Lubbock public schools, it was revealed Tuesday in a summary announced by Lubbock County Tuberculosis association.

A total of 2,125 students received the tests, a new form called the Plastotest.

The number of positive and doubtful reactors was considerably less than the corresponding figures for last year, when a total of 2,747 students received the tests and 223 showed positive reaction and 74 showed doubtful reaction. Some of the difference in figures may be due to the different type of test used this year. With the test formerly given, results were not considered as accurate as with the new test, the Tuberculosis association announced.

Mailing of notices to parents of doubtful reactors was scheduled today, followed by notices to parents of positive reactors, then negative reactors later this week.

Doubtful reactors are being asked to report to the tuberculosis association building at 916 Ave. N Saturday morning for second tests. Positive reactors will be asked to report to physicians for x-ray examination to determine whether active tuberculosis is present. Positive reaction indicated only that the tuberculosis germ has entered the child's body and not that active tuberculosis is present.

Doctors who read results of the tests were Drs. Arthur Jenkins, C. B. Batson, Pauline Miller, Ivan G. Mayfield, T. M. Lunceford, G. S. Smith, Roy Riddel, jr., Glen B. Payne, J. D. Donaldson, jr., O. Brandon Hull, Roy G. Loveless, J. A. Chatman, E. E. McClure, Robert H. McCarty, J. B. Rountree, jr.; and James G. Morris. Mrs. Bobbie McLeod, nurse of the tuberculosis association, also read some of the results.

Tests for students in Lubbock county schools will open Oct. 31.

Girlstown Residence

additional women are needed to join the family of Girlstown. They should be from early 30's to 50 years of age. Minimum salary is $150 a month and room and board. The women would guide and direct activities of the children in the home and in conjunction with school work. Their duties will be "the normal duties of any home," said the director. They will have one day each week free from duties. Women interested may contact Miss Anthony at Girlstown near Whiteface.

Miss Anthony took the 10 girls of Girlstown to the circus in Lubbock Tuesday night. It was the first time for any of the 10 girls to attend a circus.

While here, the director received a check for $215 from Lubbock unit 26 of the Texas Association of Accredited Beauty Culturists. The unit recently sponsored a dance as a benefit for Girlstown.

Fort Worth Man Introduces Two Wives, Dies From Poison

FORT WORTH, Oct. 11. (AP) — Police said today a man with two wives introduced them to each other last night and then killed himself with poison.

He was Norman R. Lewellen, a cafe manager, in Fort Worth.

The first wife, whom he married eight months ago, is an expectant mother. The second, Mrs. Beatrice Thurman, produced a marriage license saying she and Lewellen were married last week in Terre Haute, Ind. Both are 27.

Arriving in Fort Worth with the second wife last night, Lewellen took her to the home of the first Mrs. Lewellen, who lives with her mother, Mrs. L. N. Brothers. He introduced the wives.

While words flew between them, Lewellen asked for a glass of water. He swallowed two pills and said:

"It will take only five minutes now."

He was dead on arrival at a hospital.

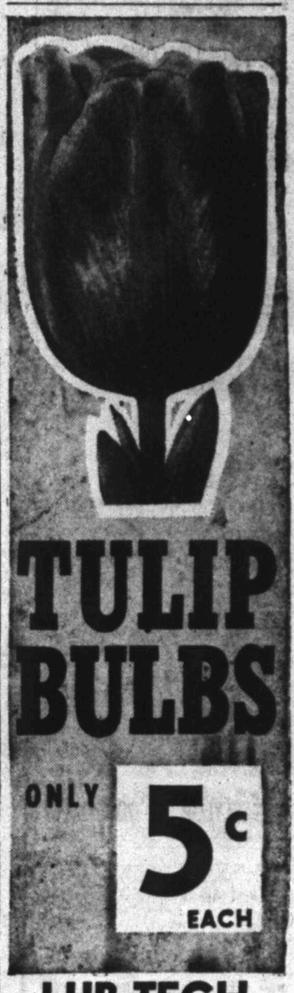

Mrs. Thurman has four children by a previous marriage. The first Mrs. Lewellen said her husband told her he had to go out of town "on business."

Boy Attempts To Cash Stolen Pennies—Owner Calls Police

HOLLISTER, Calif., Oct. 11. (AP)— A 12-year-old boy walked into an electrical store with $40 in pennies yesterday and asked, "Would you give me dollar bills for these?"

Proprietor Harold Jordan immediately called police.

IMMEDIATE DEMAND UNLIKELY

Railroaders May Seek Pension Boost As Result Of U. S. Action

By HAROLD W. WARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Possible expansion of the federal government's social security system may mean new agitation by approximately 1,800,000 railroad workers to boost their old age pension, too.

The railroaders have had a more liberal—though costlier—program since August 29, 1937, when Congress enacted a special retirement act. They have been talking lately about bettering it.

The demand is not immediate, however, like the jousting of Philip Murray, John L. Lewis, and Walter Reuther for new or bigger pensions from the steel, coal and auto industries.

More Workers Included

The House, by a vote of 333-14, decided last week to bring another 11,000,000 workers under the federal system and to hike the payments for an elderly couple from around $85 to $126 a month. All benefits would be upped 70 or 80 per cent, according to House estimates. The Senate is expected to act on the measure after next January.

Under the railroad act, the worker who has earned $300 a month for 30 years can retire at age 65 with $144 a month. That's tops for a single person. If he is married and has dependents, the amount would be even greater. The old age pensions from the railroad fund actually are averaging about $84 a month.

Average Would Jump

That compares with approximately $26 a month on the average for those retiring under the federal system. (The proposed new act would increase the average to about $45.)

There are many reasons for the wide difference between the federal and the railroad benefits.

Principally, it is because the railroad system blanketed in all the prior service of employes before Aug. 29, 1937. Without contributing any money toward those extra benefits, the railroader gets credit for the years he spent in the service of any rail carrier before that date.

The federal system, which now covers about 35,000,000 employes outside the railroads and other excluded occupations, began with the social security act of Aug. 14, 1935. Old age pension credit began January, 1936.

Higher Tax Levied

Just as the benefits are higher, the payroll tax is higher on the railroads. Instead of the 1 per cent payroll tax paid by workers and employers to the federal old age insurance system, the railroad worker pays 6 per cent of the first $300 a month of his salary or wage. The railroad employer pays an equal amount.

Besides the old age payments, the railroad system provides income in case of disability. The House-approved legislation would incorporate some of those features in the federal system.

Under the rail plan, the worker may retire at 65 with full benefits. Or he may continue to work, if he wants, but he must pass physical tests depending on the type of work he does. If he wants to retire at 60, he may do that, but at reduced pension.

Interest, Credit Increases

The principal advocates of the railroad system say it is different from the federal plan also in that it is "actually sound." They mean that as the worker's interest in the fund increases, the credit with which to pay his pension also increases.

Some critics say the government merely places an I.O.U. in the railroad retirement trust fund, and uses the money as it needs it. In a way, that's correct, the experts say, but the I.O.U.'s the government leaves in the till are special-issue U.S. Treasury bonds, paying 3 per cent interest.

A good question is: Why have two funds? Why not merge the railroad fund into the general federal system?

First, the railroad pension system is the outgrowth of employer-financed plans, some of which date back over almost a century.

Second, when the railroad system was adopted, there were thousands of workers almost immediately eligible for pensions, without any contribution to the fund. The percentage of those with long service prior to the start of federal social security still is high. They would lose all that credit toward a bigger pension if they were swallowed up in the federal system.

Body Of Child Found Under Wrecked Train

MEADE, KAN., Oct. 11. (U.P.)—The body of two-year-old Crystal Dutton was found today in mud and water beneath the car in which she was riding when the Rock Island's Imperial passenger train plunged through a flood-weakened trestle near here early yesterday.

Her death brought to six the number of victims of the accident.

The other victims were Mrs. Clarence Moon, Liberal, Kan.; Mrs. B. G. Fraser, Decature, Ill.; Junior Mitchell, 17, Tucumcari, N. M.; Joe Robinson, 62, Los Angeles, negro chef, and Hoe Wade, Los Angeles, negro member of the diner crew.

The sheriff's office at Meade reported that the body of the child was found at 10:15 a.m. after a searching party of more than 50 citizens of Meade and Fowler returned to the wreck scene today to hunt for it.

The baby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dutton of Port Huron, Mich., and another child escaped serious injury. The mother was under a doctor's care. The child slipped from her hands as she attempted to hold both her children.

Dutton aided officers through the night as they searched the wreckage for the baby but they found no trace of her in the partly submerged cars. The large group of officers and citizens returned to the scene at daybreak to search the entire area.

About 75 persons were injured in the wreck. Thirty remained in hospitals at Liberal and Fowler today, four of them in critical condition.

Job Openings On Foot, Mouth Disease Commission Announced

PECOS, Oct. 11. (Spl.)— Applications for jobs with the Foot and Mouth Disease commission in Mexico City will be taken at the office of J. P. Taylor county agent, here during the week of Oct. 14-20.

1. Speak Spanish fluently.
2. Five years experience in handling cattle.
3. Posses a high school education.
4. Be a citizen between the ages of 25 to 45.

The work being done by the commission in preventing the spread of foot and mouth disease to the United States is vitally important.
