'LUBBOCK DAY' CROWDS VISIT FAIR

Crooks' Nemesis Buncoed

LIFE SAVINGS TAKEN FROM FORMER LOS ANGELES COP

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29—For twenty two years Anthony Connelly was a nemesis of crooks. A year ago he retired from the local police department as a lieutenant, put his life savings of $20,000 in a bank and departed for Ireland to visit his aged mother.

Today Connelly was without his $20,000—but he was on the trail of "his man" in Montreal, Canada, and he had taken a vow not to give up until he had brought to justice the man who duped him out of his savings.

The story of Connelly's misfortune was told by his former superior officers here today. Connelly met a man on a trans-Atlantic liner. Together they found a pocketbook containing several telegrams giving tips on horses. The purse belonged to a "betting commissioner" whom they later were able to locate aboard ship. The so-called commissioner supplied them with tips on horse races which netted them money.

Then the three of them—Connelly, his companion and the "commissioner"—at the suggestion of the latter, decided they would make a killing by each placing $20,000 on a certain horse. Connelly returned to Los Angeles, withdrew his savings and placed them with the "commissioner." He's still looking for him.

After several days in the local police record room, Connelly picked out a bunco man's picture as being the likeness of the man who took his money. The former lieutenant went to Montreal in an effort to bring the man to justice.

EXPLOSION OF BOMBS WILL BE PROBED

CHILDREN ENDANGERED AND DENVER THROWN INTO A PANIC

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 29.—The explosion of a group of bombs, one of which endangered the lives of 50 children in a church school, occupied the attention of police here today.

Six bombs in all were fired within a few hours of each other last night, resulting in the destruction of one home and a general panic in North Denver and two suburbs. The first three did no damage.

Police originally ascribed the first reported explosion in Valverde to small boys but abandoned this theory after a terrific blast rocked the Holy Family church in North Denver.

Dash To Safety

Fifty members of a church school club dashed terrified from the building. The blast stopped the motion picture machine in the Oriental theater across the street and hundreds of theater patrons rushed for exits.

Mrs. Mary Jackson, who lives near the church, told police she saw a "stout man" leave a car, walk up an alley behind the church school and run out later, a second before the explosion.

A few minutes later a bomb blast rocked a neighborhood a few blocks distant, shattering windows and knocking goods from store shelves for several blocks around.

Police were investigating these explosions when a fourth blast wrecked and set fire to a house owned by Custer Rand in Barnum, another suburb. Rand, who lived next door, could not be found last night.

Thousands of persons stayed in the streets until daylight today, afraid to return to their homes.

Roberts County Fair Exhibit Wins

SECOND PLACE GIVEN LAMB AT FAIR

COLLINGSWORTH THIRD IN COUNTY DISPLAY JUDGING TODAY

Roberts county, with a total of 956.2 points, was awarded first place in the county exhibits competition of the Eighteenth annual Panhandle-South Plains fair, D. F. Eaton, superintendent of the agricultural department, announced today.

Lamb county placed second, Collingsworth, third and Collin fourth.

The placings were as follows:

County	Points
Roberts	956.2
Lamb	941.0
Collingsworth	938.7
Collin	938.5
Quay, N. M.	932.7
Potter	931.8
Hockley	907.5
Bailey	901.5
Dawson	895.2
Haskell	889.7

Judging started in the arena this morning at 10 o'clock with W. T Magee, Levelland, handling the Herefords and Fred Hale, College Station, the Duroc-Jersey hogs. The hog judging will continue during the afternoon.

In the agricultural building judges were working on other displays. Results in the community exhibits are expected to be ready tonight. Other results will probably be made public Wednesday morning.

Walter Burton, poultry judge, began with the club boys exhibits this morning. He is not expected to complete his work before Wednesday morning, Aubrey Ashley, superintendent, said.

Russell Middleton, Amarillo, rabbit judge also began his work. Results are to be announced later in the day, it was indicated.

Lindberghs Survey Flooded Area Today

NANKING, China, Sept. 29 (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, accompanied by Dr. Borcic, health expert of the League of Nations, were en route to Hankow today on their third aerial survey of flooded regions in China.

The aerial investigators planned a stop at Wuhu, 75 miles southwest of Nanking, to inspect relief work in progress there.

NAVY HOLIDAY IS OPPOSED

LEAGUE FAVORS U. S. BUILDING FLEET TO PACT RATIO

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—Opposition by the navy league of the United States today faced the government in its consideration of proposals for a world naval holiday.

The league charged yesterday the proposals would widen the ratio between the American fleet and that of other nations signatory to the London naval treaty. It said the American people, if they are not "deceived," also would find the suggested holiday unacceptable.

A holiday which would bring the United States nearer the treaty ratios would find approval with the league, however, and it expressed hope President Hoover would be able to devise one.

"We have very cogent reasons for believing that a naval holiday that would tend to set the United States back from attaining these treaty ratios with the British and Japanese would be counter to the interests of the country and unacceptable to the American people, if the latter be informed rather than deceived," the league said in its statement.

Man, Wife Found Slain In Bedroom

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Technical Sergeant Benjamin Sala, 57, and his wife, 40, were found dead in the bedroom of their home late yesterday.

Sala was shot in the back and his wife in the mouth. A heavy pistol with bullets missing from five chambers was found on the floor beside the woman.

Children playing near the house heard shots and advised military police who found their partially clad bodies.

Three Are Killed When Train Wrecks

ASHKUM, Ill., Sept. 29 (AP)—Three men, including the engineer and fireman, were killed last night when an Illinois Central passenger train, bound from Chicago to Mattoon, Ill., was wrecked. Six passengers were injured.

LUBBOCK SAFE IS LOOTED

PARTIES LOOK TO MISSOURI ELECTION

PARTY CONTROL WILL BE SOUGHT IN SIX OTHER CONTESTS

BY CECIL B. DICKSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP) — Missouri was the crystal ball into which Republican and Democratic chieftains looked today for an indication of which party will control the next house of congress.

As ballots were cast in the seventh district of that state for a successor to the late Representative Samuel C. Major, Democrat, both national congressional committees awaited the outcome avidly. It was expected to indicate the trend of six other special elections to fill house vacancies, all of which have been held by the night of November 3.

Republicans Lead

At present the Republicans have 214 seats, the Democrats 213 and the farmer labor party one. The last November elections gave the Republicans 218; the Democrats 216 and the farmer labor 1.

Democrats hope to retain the seventh Missouri seat, regained by Major after two years of occupancy by John W. Palmer, Republican, and to capture the first Ohio vacated by the death of Nicholas Longworth, Republican nominee for speaker for his fourth term.

Although they have but little hope of taking the remaining five, they would tie the seats 217 to 217 if the first Ohio fell to the Democratic fold. With the assistance of Kvale, farmer labor, Minnesota, they could organize the house because it takes onl ya majority of one to do it. Kvale, however, has not indicated with which party he will vote.

The Democrats are reported unanimous for Representative Garner of Texas, their leader for the past two years, as nominee for speaker. Thus, they can present a united front to the Republicans on organization.

Sterling Denies He Will Not Run Again

HOUSTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Governor Ross S. Sterling issued a statement late yesterday characterizing statements he would not be a candidate for re-election as "wholly unauthorized and without foundation."

"I have noticed certain newspapers over the state are claiming that I will not be a candidate for re-election. I am too busy attending to the state's business to be conducting a campaign. I feel that the people of Texas will be better pleased by my pursuing this course rather than talking of re-election," Governor Sterling stated.

Pangborn, Herndon Delay Pacific Hop

SAMUSHIRO, Japan, Sept. 29 (AP) —Adverse weather today caused Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, jr., American fliers, to postpone the start of their projected trans-Pacific flight, originally set for early tomorrow.

Weather permitting, the fliers now plan to hop off at daylight Thursday although they might start before noon Wednesday should the weather improve sufficiently.

Watson Thinks Beer And Prohibition To Be Barred

UTILITY FIRM PURCHASED

WEST TEXAS SYSTEMS AT ABILENE AND CISCO SOLD

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, Sept. 29.—Confirmation of negotiations for sale by the West Texas Utilities company of its gas distribution systems in Abilene and Cisco, to community Natural Gas company was given here today jointly by Price Campbell, president of the utilities company, and Chester L. May, operating vice president of the Community Natural Gas company.

Consideration was withheld, and both executives said consummation of the deal depends on examinations of abstracts and title papers. The contract for sale, however, was signed at Dallas yesterday.

Mr. May came to Abilene to initiate a clean-up inspection of gas properties involved in the sale, and to look around for quarters.

Abilene probably will be made district headquarters for the gas company's properties covering 35 towns. Boundaries of the district will be north to the vicinity of Vernon, south to Ballinger, west to Colorado and east to Strawn. May said that if the headquarters deal goes through the company will station here the general superintendent of the western division, accounting department records departments, together with the local manager and operating staff.

SAYS BOTH PARTIES WILL AVOID DRY LAW QUESTION

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Beer and prohibition generally will be barred from both Democratic and Republican national conventions next year, if Senator Watson of Indiana is correct as a prognosticator.

And it will be stamped firmly from the Democratic platform if his party harkens to the plea of Senator McKellar of Tennessee.

Both yesterday added their voices to the drip, drip of liquor talk that promises to spill over into coming congressional sessions and the 1932 elections.

The Republican senate leader forecast both conventions would abandon any attempt to commit their parties on the prohibition issue.

Against Wet Plank

Senator McKellar, in an address at Rogersville, Tennessee, said nothing but a wet plank could prevent a Democratic victory in 1932. He appealed for a campaign based on economic issues and the tariff.

Meanwhile, on capitol hill, the debate brought cleavage between two administration stalwarts.

A proposal by Senator Bingham of Connecticut to sponsor anew, a bill for four per cent beer was met by a challenge from Senator Capper of Kansas, doubting that the beverage would act as a tonic for economic ailments.

While one of those organizations opposed to prohibition was reported asking members of congress their views upon submission of the prohibition question to state conventions, as proposed by the American Legion, a powerful offensive was planned by the drys.

Famous Mint Cafe At Juarez Closed

EL PASO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Misfortune which beset the Mint cafe, famous borderland resort in Juarez, reached its climax yesterday when Governor Andres Ortiz of Chihuahua announced the cafe's state business permit was revoked.

Governor Ortiz said many "kicks" were registered against its operation. The cafe's recent misfortunes included condemnation by the city building inspector of one of its walls which resulted in a court fight to obtain a permit to rebuild. A fire of mysterious origin subsequently damaged the building badly.

POLICE BEGIN PROBING OF ROBBERY

MORE THAN $400 IN CASH TAKEN WITH WAREHOUSE SAFE

A small safe containing $436 in cash was rolled through an unloading door at Magnolia Petroleum company's warehouse at Twenty-fifth street and Avenue H and carted away early this morning. Police began investigation of the robbery soon after opening of the warehouse office, from which the safe was taken.

Indications were that the burglars came along an unloading track, unlatched a window after breaking a hole in the glass and, after entering the building, unlocked the unloading door from the inside. A pair of coveralls, over which the safe had been rolled to lessen the sound, was found.

Stains Are Found

Tobacco juice stains on the northwest corner of the intersection indicated a lookout had been stationed there. A Magnolia company retail service station is on that corner and the warehouse and offices on the southwest corner.

Fresh marks indicated two automobiles were used in the robbery, believed to have been executed between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning. Ross A. McWhorter, local agent for the oil company, reported extent of the loss.

Other Thefts

Theft of a gold bridge and several gold plates from his office in the Brown building was reported to police this morning by Dr. T. W. Haymes, a dentist.

A mirror and curtains were taken from a servants house at her residence, Mrs. J. W. Kennedy, 1110 Avenue Q, told police this morning. Negroes vacated the quarters late Monday, she said.

A Ford sedan belonging to N. J. Rogers of Spur was stolen here Monday night and a Chevrolet roadster owned by Leonard Williams, 10 miles east of Lubbock, was taken Monday, police were notified.

Coolidge Says He Supports Hoover

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Former President Coolidge is a headliner in today's issue of the Saturday Evening Post with a political article reiterating his farewells to the presidency and supporting President Hoover.

Mr. Coolidge's actual words, however, were wrapped up in copyright restrictions, which prohibited republication in newspapers until tomorrow morning—although the Post itself was on sale throughout the country this morning.

LOAN AUTHORIZED

AUSTIN, Sept. 29 (AP)—Governor Ross S. Sterling today signed a bill passed by the second extraordinary session of the Texas legislature authorizing a loan of 3,000,000 from the state highway department funds to the general fund of the state. The loan will bear three per cent interest.

THOUSANDS JAM FAIR GROUNDS TODAY AS STORES, SCHOOLS AND BANKS CLOSE FOR DAY

LAST YEAR'S ATTENDANCE MARKS EXPECTED TO FALL AS LUBBOCK TURNS OUT EN MASSE FOR ITS ANNUAL DAY AT EXPOSITION HERE

The steady click-click of the turnstiles at the gate of the Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds early this afternoon assured officials of one of the greatest "Lubbock Day" attendance totals as thousands of people filed through to view the exposition's attractions. With practically all of the city's stores, the banks, schools and postoffice closed, Lubbock was turning out en masse for the fair.

The attendance for the day was expected to exceed last year's "Lubbock day" by several thousand. A total of 14,364 persons visited the fair last year. In spite of the rain 9,121 people attended the opening day activities Monday.

Employes Attend

Included in the visitors today were hundreds of downtown employes, local stores offering their clerks the afternoon off so that they might have ample time to view the exposition.

Attendance was light this morning but shortly after the noon hour, they began pouring in and by 3 o'clock the grounds were a teeming mass of humanity as visitors made their way through the exhibit buildings and around the midway.

Not only were Lubbock citizens out early but incoming cars revealed that today is also to be one of the banner days in the way of attendance from over the territory.

Delegations Arrive

Delegations from Abernathy, Dickens, Olton, Slaton and Spur were also here as today is also designated as their time at the fair.

This afternoon's feature, besides the regular vaudeville and free attractions, is a football game between Abernathy and Olton high schools. Pep squads from both schools and a delegation of rooters arrived early and were preparing to support their teams in the contest which is being played on the fair park field.

Judging of exhibits got under way this morning with officials studying one of the greatest entry lists ever seen here. Scoring of county and community exhibits as well as individual entries was held Monday afternoon and this morning, the county winners being announced as

SIDELIGHTS OF ANNUAL FAIR

ROY DAVIS LAUDS FAIR DAIRY SHOW

"This is the best dairy show I have ever seen at the Panhandle-South Plains fair," Roy Davis, Plainview, superintendent of the dairy division, said last night.

"We have 115 Jerseys by 32 breeders; 32 head Holsteins from 7 exhibitors and 16 Guernseys from six exhibitors.

"The animals are the best I have ever seen. We are getting more high class dairy animals here and the show is drawing more and more each year."

Judging of dairy cattle does not start until Wednesday morning. Charles N. Shepardson, College Station, is the judge.

SORGHUM BREEDERS HAVE GOOD DISPLAY

Nine certified grain sorghum breeders from over the South Plains have a wonderful display of certified seed at the fair this year.

Breeders are: J. W. Hammock, Sudan; W. A. Goeth, Abernathy; Harry Love, Anton; J. A. Dunn, Lamesa; G. E. Beakley, Levelland; R. Q. Stubbs, Lubbock; W. M. Poole and Son, Muleshoe; T. D. Hammill, Levelland and James Burroughs, Lubbock.

SPECIAL JUDGES ARE USED MONDAY

Three special judges were used yesterday afternoon in the general exhibits display, D. F. Eaton, superintendent of the department of agriculture, announced.

George Samson, Post, one of the best known experts on fruits and vegetables, judged the melons. Mrs. Don L. Jones, of Lubbock, a former home demonstration agent, and Miss Marie Tarwater, Levelland, agent for Hockley county, judged the canned fruits in the county and community exhibits.

RABBIT DISPLAY IS BEST IN HISTORY

Russell Middleton, Amarillo, well known breeder and judge of rabbits, started this morning to judge the rabbits on exhibition at the Panhandle-South Plains fair.

There are 75 rabbits on display this year, by far the largest number shown here.

This is the first show to be held under the auspices and supervision of the American Rabbit and Cavy association," A. S. Eads, superintendent of the department said.

"ONE-MAN" EXHIBIT HERE FROM COLLIN

A "one-man" county exhibit is that of Collin county, with W. C. Dysart, Melisa, showing products from his farm near that town as the county display.

Mr. Dysart was born and reared in the county, but spent a number of years on the North Plains, returning a few years ago.

He raises corn, wheat, oats, alfalfa, millet and cotton. His cotton this year is averaging a half bale to the acre.

"I have 80 exhibits on display," said Mr. Dysart. "All are the products of my farm. We live off our farm. Last year our

POSSIBILITY SEEN OF THIRD SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 29—The Texas legislature, nearing the hour set for sine die adjournment of its second called session, today faced complications that might move Governor Ross S. Sterling to call it back in a third extraordinary session immediately.

Defeat of the bill in the senate which would have directed drilling for oil in the bed of the Sabine river will cost the state millions of dollars, Governor Sterling declared on his return from Houston today.

He said he had information the state's share of the oil under the river bed would aggregate 20,000,000 barrels and he declared a representative of one of the major companies told him yesterday that should the state sink a single well in the river his company would be obliged to drill 30 offset wells.

Willing To Settle

"He said they even would be willing to settle with the state for its proportionate share of the royalty without the necessity of the state drilling," Governor Sterling said.

As word spread the governor contemplated a new call, groups of senators and members of the house gathered in his office, and there were suggestions from some that the sine die adjournment for 6 p. m. today be reconsidered. Others said this could not be done because the house was far short of a quorum, many members having left for home. There was a majority in the senate.

Seven Jurors Named In Alsup's Trial

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 29 (AP) —District Judge P. A. Martin sought to hasten examination of prospective jurors today as preparations continued for the fifth trial of John Alsup, former Fort Worth policeman, charged with murder for the slaying of Isaac Tate, negro, during an alleged attempted holdup of the First State bank of Polytechnic at Fort Worth. Another negro also was killed at the time.

Six jurors were chosen yesterday and only one was added during the morning session today. The state continued to qualify veniremen under their witherspoon to assess the death penalty.

NEGRO POPULATION IN LARGE CITIES DOUBLES DURING THE LAST DECADE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—The changing racial complexion of cities of more than 100,000 population was pictured today by the census bureau.

In all but Philadelphia of the five cities having a million population, the negro group had more than doubled in the past decade. In four cities the negro population had increased by more than 200 per cent, in 16 cities by more than 100 per cent.

The Indian was shown to have become far more citified. Chinese and Japanese groups displayed a steady growth in cities where they have sizeable colonies.

Mexicans appeared for the first time as a distinctive classification, cities showing more than 10,000 of them being Los Angeles, 97,116; San Antonio, 82,373; El Paso, 58,291; Chicago 19,362; Houston, 14,149.

In El Paso, the segregation of the Mexicans, hitherto lumped into the "white" classification, caused a 44.6 per cent decrease

EPISCOPALIANS ADMIT DIFFERENCE OF OPINIONS OF PROHIBITION LAWS

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 29—The house of bishops and house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopal church were agreed today there is a widespread difference of opinion as to the wisdom and desirability of retaining the 18th amendment in its present form.

They also were agreed there is a widespread difference of opinion as to the wisdom and desirability of retaining the church's marriage and divorce canon in its present form.

On the prohibition question, they decided to do nothing because of the highly controversial issues involved. On the matrimonial question they hoped to effect a compromise.

The section on the prohibition question presented in a report by the committee of twenty-one on industrial dislocation, world peace and prohibition and lawlessness, was adopted by the house of bishops last Friday. The deputies concurred yesterday.

The report set forth that enforcement of the prohibition law "has been steadily resisted and has been accompanied by graft, corruption, lawlessness, murder and political cowardice and hypocrisy."

First Premium List At Fair Is Announced; Praise Section

Quality Improved For Textile Show

The first awards in the women's department of the annual Panhandle-South Plains fair have been announced by Mrs. Hub Jones, director. This list is for the curio, antique and relic division, of which Mrs. W. F. Schenck is superintendent.

Articles that are shown in the women's building this fall are of better quality than in other years, according to judges. Miss Myrtle Murray, district home demonstration agent, who assisted in judging in the culinary, textile and club divisions, praised, particularly, the quality of textiles shown, the cakes and the butter. She has judged in a number of the annual fairs here.

Work Efficient

Mrs. Hub Jones and her corps of directors and superintendents in the women's building have been particulary efficient in their work this fall, Miss Murray said. She was assisted with a part of her judging by Miss Bess Edwards, assistant home demonstration agent of the state. Miss Murray and Miss Edwards are of College Station.

First, second and third places were awarded in this division and the lists are made in that order. The list follows:

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

MOTHER'S CARE

I guess we dads little know the nervous strain the average mother of young children is subjected to. Since she has no maid, she not only has the burden of the household cares but also the care of the little children. No matter how systematic she may be, one or two children beginning to creep or toddle bring constant interruption. The cake is about ready to be taken from the oven when Jean of four inadvertently pushes the door against the fingers of her baby brother. Or the mother is talking on the telephone when the baby screams as if seriously injured. Jean had just rescued from his grasp her precious doll he had appropriated. Perhaps company is expected within a few hours and the dinner program is considerably delayed. Mother is pressing forward at her best when Jean is heard from the rear of the house. She had fallen and slashed her knee. First aid must be applied It is just time for the baby's dinner and he is yelling for attention.

Any mother knows about these trying moments with the little children at home. If she goes away with the children, even if she has naught to do but care for them, she really will have opportunity for rest and relaxation. If these children are under five or six years of age a number of new problems will arise just because they are not home. There are many new persons, causing new adjustments. Of two or three children, the youngest will probably get most attention, stirring up feelings of jealousy.

For a mother to be engaged in household affairs all day is in itself a heavy task; but so to spend day after day, with constant interruptions and constant attention needed by the children and on top of all this, to have her sleep at night often interrupted, calls for expenditure of nervous and physical energy we fathers know little about.

Just how so many mothers can live through it all is to be wondered at. One of the mysteries to me is that so many mothers not only live through it but smile through it and maintain their youth remarkably well, while their childless sisters, comparatively free of such care and nervous strain, wrinkle and grow old at a younger age.

Mother Nature must have furnished the mothers of our little children with a large source of hidden nervous energy. Nevertheless too many mothers are compelled to draw upon these physical reserves. We dads have an opportunity to reduce their burdens. We can't, of course, supply the child with Nature's food. Yet there is nothing else about the baby's care we cannot learn to do well, in case we choose to do so.

I wish mothers of small children would, while busy, persuade their husbands to read this article to them. One or two more fathers might grow a little more appreciative of the mother of their children. Let any father of one or two children under five send his wife off for a day or two of complete rest, and stay home himself and care for the children, if he thinks her job is easy. Then he will change his mind. I have tried it. It works.

Circle Gatherings Interest Baptists

Women in the First Baptist church met in units Monday afternoon to transact circle business and for study lessons.

Officers were elected in a meeting of Circle 10 with Mrs. C. O. Akard, 2510 22nd street, and Mrs. Akard was named chairman. Mrs. Tom Campbell, general president of the W. M. S., presided at this meeting.

Mrs. W. D. Grimes was elected vice-chairman with Mrs. W. K. Lewis as secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Clementine Vaughn as Bible teacher. Mrs. Vaughn taught the circle lesson Monday afternoon.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson, 2421 21st street.

Mrs. Fred Litton taught the Bible lesson for a meeting of Circle 1 with Mrs. G. M. Pearson, 1721 27th street. Others who were present were Mesdames J. D. Carroll, Ney Hunt, Frazier McCrummen, W. H. Trice and H. C. Whitworth. The unit will meet next with Mrs. Carroll.

Meeting with Mrs. F. B. Malone, ten members of Circle 5 heard a devotional and mission lesson taught by Mrs. C. N. James. The next meeting will be with Mrs. James at 805 Avenue R.

The hostess, Mrs. George Moore, was presented with a shower of handkerchiefs when members of Circle 4 met. This group is to meet again with Mrs. J. R. Reeves, 1519 14th street, on October 13.

Seven women attended a meeting of Circle 9 with Mrs. I. S. Doak, 2222 Main street. Mrs. W. A. Stahl presided at the business meeting and Mrs. W. M. Lowrimore taught a Bible lesson. Mrs. E. R. Allen was a visitor.

Eight women attended a meeting of Circle 7 with Mrs. J. H. Hankins, 2401 Broadway, and Mrs. Fred W. Sparks taught the Bible lesson. Mrs. W. F. Frye was received as a new member.

Mrs. Maple Wilson, the chairman, led the devotional. Mrs. A. M. Leftwich was elected secretary-treasurer to fill a vacancy.

Korea Is Topic At Methodist Program

Mrs. C. A. Bickley taught a lesson on "The Present Economic Situation in Korea" Monday afternoon at a meeting of the First Methodist Mary Helm auxiliary at the church. Others who assisted with the program were Mesdames C. P. Carlock, Claude Burrus, Joe Bowman and A. S. Meinecke. Mrs. J. B. McCauley was in the chair for a business session.

Presbyterians Are In Circle Lessons

Six circle meetings of the First Presbyterian Woman's auxiliary drew 68 women to gatherings on Monday afternoon.

Twelve of the number attended a Circle 1 meeting with Mrs. D. T. Jennings, 2122 16th street. Mrs. Gus McCleary led the lesson. Mrs. T. R. Prideaux was hostess to Circle 2 in her home at 2408 13th street and there were 9 in attendance. Mrs. J. H. Ewing led the devotional. Others attending were Mesdames R. V. Kimmell, H. D. Bizzell, Joe Wilson, W. E. Graham, Ed Ainsworth, R. S. Rodgers and W. H. Edgett.

Mrs. S. C. Wilson led the program and Mrs. C. J. Wagner conducted the devotional when 12 members of Circle 3 met with Mrs. R. W. Matthews, 2109 18th street.

Mrs. A. H. Leidigh led the program at a meeting of Circle 4 with Mrs. H. A. Davidson, 2011 10th street. She was assisted by Mesdames W. R. Spencer, J. A. Pressley and Davidson and Mrs. B. T. Hambright led the devotional. Twelve were in attendance.

Meeting with Mrs. J. H. Murdough, 2317 18th street, 12 members of Circle 5 heard a lesson taught by Mrs. H. F. Godeke. Eleven women attended a meeting of Circle 6 with Mrs. R. F. Hule, 2335 20th street, and heard a program presented by Mrs. Guy McAfee. Mrs. W. O. Daniels and Mrs. E. J. Parsons assisted with the program and Mrs. N. A. Payne had the devotional.

Calvary WMS Has Gathering Monday

A social hour followed the program Monday afternoon at a meeting of the Calvary Baptist Women's Missionary society with Mrs. J. H. Comer, 1612 Avenue Q. Mrs. P. L. Wimberly talked on "The Master's Joy."

Those who were in attendance were Mesdames I. R. Clements, C. D. Tapp, W. H. Hall, E. E. Rodgers, C. D. Puckett, C. J. McCarty, Roy Parks, Dewey Flannagan, L. F. McCrummen, O. E. Early, W. H. Balch, H. E. Tippitt, C. B. Jones, D. A. Wilson, J. A. Alred, Wimberly, B. F. Foster and C. L. Naul.

NAZIMOVA. Who would guess, looking at this recent photograph, that she is over 40! More fascinating than ever she seems, this star who won early stage fame in The Doll's House, became a favorite of the screen in such hits as Salome, and returned to the stage recently in The Cherry Orchard.

NAZIMOVA SAYS, "I am over 40 years old!"

Famous stage and screen star declares years need not rob you of Youth

"ONLY the woman who looks it is afraid to admit her age," says Nazimova. "But I am proud of mine—look at me—I am over forty!

"It is easy to be lovely at sixteen, but to be still lovelier at forty . . . well, that is easy, too, if a woman is wise! Actresses rarely look their age, you notice. Like me, they guard their complexions with Lux Toilet Soap.

"It is a marvel, that soap. For years I have been faithful to it—and my skin is so soft, so smooth. A woman's age is not the measure of her charm—oh, no."

How 9 out of 10 screen stars guard complexion beauty

Nazimova is only one of countless, perpetually youthful stage and screen stars who use Lux Toilet Soap to guard complexion beauty.

In Hollywood, actually 605 of the 613 important screen actresses, including all stars, use this fragrant white soap regularly. Surely your skin should have this gentle, luxurious care!

FREIGHT RATE IS SLASHED

SOUTH PLAINS WINS IN ITS FIGHT FOR REDUCTION

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the Texas Railroad commission, Monday notified A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, that the commission had granted an adjustment of carrier rates on cotton from six South Plains towns to Houston, Galveston, and Texas City.

Effective October 16, Lamesa, Brownfield, Littlefield, Floydada and Crosbyton, are to receive three-cent reductions in cotton freight rates to the gulf points. Plainview and Lockney received two cent cuts. The new schedule will give the first group of towns a rate of 95 cents per 100 pounds, and the latter two, a rate of 98 cents. Under the mileage schedule which went into effect several weeks ago, Lamesa, Brownfield, Littlefield, Floydada and Crosbyton were placed in the 98 cent class, and Plainview and Lockney were in the $1 rate class. Lubbock is in the 95-cent class.

Association Formed

In order to obtain adjustments in the rate, the South Plains Freight Rate association was formed here during the latter part of August and the Railroad Commission was petitioned to revise the schedule. It was pointed out that some of the towns were being penalized because they were less than five miles outside of the 95 cent zone. Mr. Davis and Arthur P. Duggan of Brownfield made trips to Dallas and Austin in the interest of the association. As a result of the matter being called to the attention of the commission, a public hearing was held in Lubbock September 14, and testimony from the petitioning towns was heard by O. D. Hudnall. The traffic bureau of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce presented the petitioners' case.

Decision in the case was made by the Railroad Commission last Friday.

Findings Reported

The Commission's findings and decision, follow in part

"Prior to the readjustment of rates that took effect June 15, 1931, the rate on cotton from all of these points was 93 1-2 cents per 100 pounds to these port cities

"These complaints, primarily, charge discrimination in connection with the readjustment of rates. It was unanimously testified to at the hearing that all cotton in the territory is bought on a Houston basis—the Houston price less the freight to Houston, and the complaint was supported by testimony to the effect that owing to the very close proximity of the cotton producing territory adjacent to these towns to stations and shipping points in the 95 cent territory, cotton heretofore marketed at these towns will be trucked by the pioneer and sold at nearby marketing points in the 95 cent territory.

Little Difference

"Considered singly, it may be said that the situation surrounding each of these complaining towns individually is probably not different from that surrounding many other points in the state under the new adjustment of rates. Boundary lines between groups must be drawn somewhere, and whenever they are drawn there are likely to be and probably are many interior cotton marketing points just above them that will have lower rated shipping points to content. There are eleven such boundary lines in Texas under the new adjustment and it might seem that we should hesitate to start a disruption without knowing where it may be stopped. But here it seems to us that regardless of what precedent may be established is a situation that merits careful consideration and some correction, considering, as a whole, this cotton growing territory on the Panhandle and the locations of the petitioning points there to.

"In reaching our conclusions in this case we are not unmindful of the fact that in the cooperative proceedings pursuant to which the new adjustment of rate was made there was a finding by the Interstate Commerce Commission of discrimination and preference, Texas vs Oklahoma, and that in order for such prejudice and preference to be removed there must be no substantial disparity between the cotton rates from Oklahoma and from Texas points to the Texas Gulf ports. We do not see that what we are doing here will create any substantial disparity between the rates from Oklahoma and from Texas points to these ports, or create any discrimination against Oklahoma

COLORADO SEEKS TO HAVE SOMETHING DONE ABOUT THE SILVER SITUATION

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 29. (AP)—With more at stake than any other American state, Colorado is striving mightily to have something done about the silver situation.

Dozens of ghost cities, abandoned and ruined, testify to the wealth that once poured from Colorado's mines and Coloradoans are hoping and working for the day when silver may again be mined profitably.

New Life Given

England's temporary suspension of the gold standard has given new life to the ghost camps which lie deep within the mountains. It is only a breath, however, and the burros still graze undisturbed in the main streets and pine trees still grow up in broken pavements.

As part of the campaign to remonetize silver, Colorado merchants and banks are insisting on the use of silver dollars to the exclusion of paper bank notes behind which there is no silver reserve. Paper money is daily becoming more scarce as the movement grows.

United States Senator William H. King of Utah is demanding a world conference, in which China and India will participate, to do something about the monetization of silver.

Old-timers in the mines are sure silver is coming back, but say it has a long way to come. They agree remonetization of the metal on a fair ratio to gold would open Colorado's mines.

Silver is seldom found in the pure state. It is mixed with copper, lead, zinc and other metals. Colorado mines can produce silver for 46 cents an ounce. Hence, with the metal on a commodity basis, it cannot be minded with profit while selling at from 25 to 30 cents an ounce.

Coloradoans see in England's renunciation of the gold standard a hope for demonetization. They see a hope that, with silver as money, a vast trade with China and India may be opened.

CHANGE OF LIFE

FOR over fifty years, women have been taking Cardui for troubles like Mrs. M. C. Weatherford, of Tahlequah, Okla., describes below: "I had spells (during change of life) when I could not stand up. I had the headache all the time. I was dizzy and had attacks of nausea. I read about Cardui, so I got a bottle to try. It helped me so much that I continued to take it until I was entirely past the critical period of my life. I have given Cardui to my girls. It has been a wonderful medicine in my home."

Cardui is a mild, purely vegetable tonic.

REVOLT AGAINST SOVIET COMMISSARS AND REVOLUTIONS IN CAPITALISTIC COUNTRIES ARE BEING MAPPED OUT

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Plans for a revolt against the Soviet commissars, for communistic revolutions in all capitalistic countries, and for reseating a monarch on the throne of Russia are being mapped out nightly behind the locked doors of secret societies here in the largest Russian colony in the world.

Every shade of political thinking is represented among the thousands of emigrants who have come to this city since the revolution in their own country, but only the communistic stand on soap boxes and give street corner crowds an inkling of their ideas.

Monarchists Secretive

The monarchists are particularly secretive and for that reason there has been no public comment on last weeks reports that Archduke Cyril Vladimirovitch, pretender to the throne and counsin of the late Czar Nicholas, is coming to the United States to take part in a conference at which plans will be made to restore Czarism.

There are many monarchists societies here and among their members are dozens of men and women who still cling to their old world titles, but their officers vehemently denied the report when finally persuaded to talk.

"Its ridiculous," said Ivan Pouschine, secretary of one of the organizations working for a return of things as they were. "There's nothing to it."

Laugh At Rumor

He and other monarchists laughed at the rumor a $1,500,000 fund for monarchistic propaganda had been raised here, two-thirds of which was said to have come from the private fortune of the late Grandduke Nicholas.

But it is no secret that there are monarchistic groups here and in Chicago which seek to turn back the pages of history and make Russia a land of czars again.

At present one of most active of the hundreds of Russian groups in New York is the Brotherhood of Russian Truth, an organization so highly secretive that even its members do not know the names of the officers.

Its avowed object is to overthrow the Soviet republic and its motto is "communism will die but Russia will live."

DAIRY COMMITTEE WILL PLAN SHOW

Preliminary plans for the 1932 Panhandle-Plains Dairy show at Plainview will be outlined at a meeting of the executive committee of the dairy association in the city building there at 11 a. m. Thursday.

P. C. Bennett, president, of Amarillo, has announced.

The executive committee is composed of the following: P. C. Bennett, Amarillo, president; J. R. Rigler, Plainview, vice-president; W. B. Lee, Spur; Henry Ansley, Amarillo; B. Sherrod, Lubbock; Grady Shipp, Plainview; S. J. Payne, Tulia, past president, and O. L. Stansell, Floydada.

Dates of the fair are April 11-14, 1932.

Several Lubbock men, active in the fair work, will probably attend. D. F. Eaton, county agent, is an honorary vice-president and W. L. Stangel is also active in the work.

A twenty-six inch gas line is under construction between Skellytown in the Texas Panhandle and the principal cities of Minnesota, Minneapolis and St. Paul.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCTOBER 4TH TO 10TH

Thoughtful people throughout the United States will again observe Fire Prevention Week, as suggested by the President in his annual proclamation.

This year October 4th ushers it in. Commercial, civic, social and other organizations will hold appropriate meetings. Millions of school children will take part.

You can make a definite contribution to Fire Prevention Week by increasing your efforts to safeguard your own home and business.

STOCK FIRE INSURANCE

has always been an active factor in Fire Prevention Week—through the National Board of Fire Underwriters and other organizations, and through its local agents in all states.

The purpose of Fire Prevention Week is not only to reduce the fire waste, but to save human lives. In doing that, further reductions in the average cost of insurance will be justified—a cost that has consistently declined for many years.

ATHLETICS ARE SUPERIOR TO CARDINALS IN PITCHING CALIBRE

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

Jim Crowder, who does sports publicity for West Texas State Teachers college, mailed out a story early this week that it not intended as a compliment to Texas Tech's Matador gridsters and coaches, but which really is a testimonial bouquet to the superiority of Tech's gridiron team over the Canyon Buffs.

* * *

The Buffs, it would seem, worn and torn in body and mind, bearing visible signs of a one-sided struggle in which they were the losers, went back home after their 21 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Matadors and told a grim story of the "unsportsmanlike conduct" and "unnecessary roughness" of the Tech collegians. Mr. Crowder sought Coach Burton and his typewriter and pounded out the following phrases:

* * *

". . . The Buffs emerged from the Texas Tech game in a rather bad plight for the next encounter. . . Jack Spence, the 185-pounder who ran wild against Panhandle A. and M. received some cracked ribs that will probably keep him on the side lines for two or three weeks. . . Ronald Woolever, guard, received a badly wrenched leg and may be out for a game or so. Cow Williams suffered a return of chronic knee trouble that will place him on the disabled list for some time . . . . aside from the above mentioned injuries, practically every Buffalo that got in the Tech game came out with either one or two black eyes, or with his eyes gouged in such a way that it will be several days before they will be able to see clearly. . . . .

When questioned about the game Coach Burton said, "I never like to say anthing about a game that we have lost. But I was surprised at the unnecessary roughness that prevailed. I do not believe that such games as this one will do anything for the good name of football."

* * *

Take it from one who saw the game and who has looked from cover to cover, you will not find a single reference in the football rules book as to how hard a defensive man may tackle a ball carrier, nor how hard any man can block another. It doesn't say where you may tackle the ball carrier as long as he is carrying the ball in the field of play.

The rules do take care of unnecessary roughing and unsportsmanlike conduct. Maybe Tech did get a bit rough. The Matadors paid for it with double interest, in 130 yards of penalties.

As we saw it, last Friday night's game was a contest won legally by the best, the strongest, and the best-conditioned team. Strict training, rigid enforcement of training rules and strenuous drills had rounded the Matador team into a well-conditioned, healthful bunch of players who had the edge in every respect over the visitors from Canyon. As for the eye-goughing, there must be something wrong with a man who will squat placidly in the line of scrimmage while an opposing lineman rams his thumbs in the squatter's eyes and gives a sharp twist. Self protection sometimes results in a scrap, but there's no rule against aggressiveness.

Dutchey Smith, assistant to Pete Cawthon with the Tech varsity, will scout the Haskell Indians Saturday at Lawrence, Kansas. Dutchey chuckled right mirthfully when he read the Canyon story about the game here Friday night and called attention to a story out of Lawrence in regard to the Haskell game last week, particularly these lines: . . . "Pete Shepard, the fourth year quarterback, with his face swathed in bandages, his right eye closed and his face badly swollen, may not be able to play in the K. U.-Haskell game here next Friday night." And Haskell is known as one of the toughest playing crews anywhere.

HERE AND THERE: Returning from the Carlsbad Caverns Sunday night we were served coffee at Lovington by Moody Smith, former Westerner flash . . . he took advantage of the job instead of coming to Tech . . . told his employer before he went to work that he was going to take Thanksgiving Day off, or else. . . and go to Amarillo . . . Tech has picked a tough one to start the 1932 season. . . Texas A. and M. at Amarillo. . . The Tech business office tried to keep it a secret, apparently. . . announcement of the signing of the contract appeared in state papers before we or the Tech coaches knew about it. . . The high school rooting section beat the tar out of the Tech rooters last . . . the crowd at . . . the largest Vines, the . . . has been . . . body except . . . and Abra- . . . than 25,-

OLTON TO PLAY ABERNATHY AT FAIR

WORLD CHAMPS HAVE BETTER FIELDING

NATIONAL LEAGUERS POSSESS FASTER INFIELD

(NOTE—This is the second of three stories sizing up the relative strength of the world series rivals)

BY ALAN GOULD
Asociated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Measured by the calibre of pitching or the yardstick of fielding skill and experience, the world's champion Athletics possess a margin of superiority over the Cardinals in defensive strength for the baseball championship battle.

The National league champions have a faster infield, featuring the Frisch-Gelbert combination around second base. The A's otherwise, have an edge on the mound, behind the bat and in the outfield, especially if the sensational ball hawk, Mule Haas, is back in top form.

Lefty Grove and George Earnshaw, the twin aces upon whom the hopes of another quick American league victory are based, always have had the benefit of sterling support from their teammates. Inspiration works both ways when either of these fast-ball flingers is on the mound.

It's an old baseball axiom that "you can't hit what you can't see" and at times last October, it appeared some of the Cardinal batsmen were not properly vizualizing the smoke of Grove and Earnshaw, let alone penetrating it with any substantial success. Walberg and Hoyt will form the second line of pitching defense for the A's.

The Cardinal twirling defense will be distinctively a gamble, if Gabby Street is forced to rely on Paul Derringer and Bill Hallahan, instead of Burleigh Grimes and Jess Haines, veterans of the Red Bird flock. Derringer is a newcomer to series fire. With Hallahan, it's either a shutout or a knockout. He blanked the A's the first time he faced them last year and was routed in two innings the next time.

The A's infield has never been the club's strongest point. Foxx, for instance, does not compare with Bottomley as a defensive worker, although big Jimmy is steady. Bishop is not so spectacular as Frisch, one of the great defensive second basemen of all time. Boley, an old reliable, cannot cover the ground, nor has he the arm that Gelbert owns. The Mack substitute, Williams, is more on Gelbert's style. Dykes is about on par with either Adams or High at third.

A's Outfield Best

On the outer patrol, the A's have two of the finest fly-chasers in Al Simmons and Mule Haas. Hafey, in left, and either Pepper Martin or Orsatti in center, for the Cardinals, do not quite measure up to the exceptional standard of their rivals. Watkins or Roettger, in right field for the National leaguers, lack the experience of the veteran Bing Miller.

Mickey Cochrane may have one or two mechanical faults behind the bat. His arm is good, though not the best in the back-stopping business, but the great Mack receiver's all around ability surpasses that of the clever Jimmy Wilson, No. 1 catcher for the Cards.

HAINES TO SEE NO ACTION IN SERIES

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29 (AP)—Except for Pitcher Jess Haines, who probably will see no action because of an arm injury, Manager Gabby Street expects the St. Louis Cardinals to be at their full strength for the world series.

Gabby said today he believed both John (Pepper) Martin, center fielder and "Sparky" Adams, third baseman, will be ready for action in the first game against Philadelphia here Thursday.

Injured Sunday

Martin, who suffered a wrenched left knee in Cincinnati Sunday, worked out with his teammates yesterday, handling himself without favoring the injured knee to any noticeable degree. Adams, who sprained an ankle Sept. 20, also worked out.

Haines, Street said, probably will not pitch during the series. The big right-hander pulled a muscle three weeks ago, and has not pitched since.

With Haines out of consideration, it was regarded as likely today Street would send Paul Derringer, giant right-hander, against the Athletics in the opening game.

Street ordered another workout for this afternoon, after the players return to Sportsman's park from a "victory parade" through the downtown streets. They will be joined in polishing up maneuvers by Bill Walker, left hander of the Giants, who has volunteered his services.

Southwest Teams Prepare For Tilts This Week-End

T. C. U. FACES TULSA, MINUS SERVICES OF CENTER ACE

(By The Associated Press)

Signal practice and in some cases light scrimmage, featured yesterday's conference football practice. With all seven conference members playing this week-end, coaches were busy polishing up their best plays.

Texas Christian faces Tulsa university Saturday minus the services of J. W. Townsend, 190 pound center. He received a blow on his larynx which paralyzed his vocal cords last week in the Louisiana State game. He was not in uniform.

Hogs Meet Hendrix

With only minor injuries received in the College of Ozarks game last week, the University of Arkansas Razorbacks went through a hard workout yesterday in preparation for Hendrix college this week. It was apparent that Karr and Murphy, through their brilliant playing last week, won regular positions in the backfield.

Coach Jennings at Baylor is busy trying to repair damages created when Pat Parker, counted on as a regular this year, was declared ineligible. Finding a player to replace Parker in the Baylor backfield is a difficult problem, but Jennings hopes to have his cohorts ready to play St. Edward's this week-end.

Because they all had hard opposition last week, the University of Texas Longhorns, Southern Methodist Mustangs, Texas A. and M. Aggies and Rice institute Owls spent yesterday ironing out flaws revealed in their victories last week.

Mexico To Invade Gridiron In U. S.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 29 (AP)—The University of Mexico football team will leave Saturday on its second invasion of the United States.

It will play the University of Denver Oct 9, the Southern Methodist reserves at Dallas, Texas, Oct. 15, and the University of Tulsa at Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 7.

Mississippi college will send its team to Mexico City to play Dec. 5. The Mexican team is in charge of Coach Frederick J. Linehan, former Yale lineman.

Maureen Orcutt Is Canadian Medalist

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 29. (AP)—The defending titleholder, Maureen Orcutt of Englewood, N. J., and 16 other competitors from the United States survived for the first match play round of the Canadian women's golf championship today.

Miss Orcutt captured the medal in the 18-hole qualifying round night for St. Louis.

The Athletics will arrive in the Missouri metropolis Wednesday afternoon, too late for a workout at Sportsmans' park, where the first game of the series is scheduled Thursday.

Aboard the A's special train besides the players will be their wives, Mayor Mackey, Thomas S. Shibe, president of the Athletics; Mrs. Thomas Shibe; Mrs. Connie Mack; Mrs. Earl Mack and several Philadelphia officials.

S. M. U. MUSTANGS AGAIN ARE TO BE AERIAL CIRCUS OF SOUTHWEST LOOP

BY BILL PARKER,
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Sept. 29 (AP)—Coach Ray Morrison of the Southern Methodist university Mustangs admits he has a good team this season but that all he hopes for is to be somewhere around the top when his final Southwest conference game is played against Texas Christian.

Pressed for his prediction on the Mustangs, Morrison said:

"I hope to be somewhere near the top when we battle T. C. U. in our last conference game, but as for predicting a championship, it looks like too tough a year on all of us for that. The return of Marion Hammon to his tackle position, and the recovery of Weldon Mason, who was injured most of last year, gives me an experienced club, and one that I believe will win a few games."

Southern Methodist, known as the aerial circus of the Southwest conference, will be just that again this season. Morrison's system is to flood the air with passes plus a running attack from pass formations, and this year he has enough versatile backfield players to keep the opposition guessing when the Mustangs are on the offense.

The return of Hammon, 1929 all-American tackle who was scholastically ineligible last year, was just the tonic needed to give Southern Methodist one of the conference's outstanding front walls. In the backfield, Mason, who played little last year, ranks with the finest backs of conference history, defensively and offensively. He is the key man for Morrison's passing and running attack. For power plays, Morrison has Howard Sprague.

The Santa Barbara, Calif., planning commission has formulated plans for a truck highway on which pleasure automobiles would be barred.

yesterday with an 80, a stroke ahead of Mrs. Alexa Stirling Fraser of Ottawa, 1929 winner, and two strokes ahead of Marjorie Kirkham of Montreal, closed champion of Canada. Virginia Van Wie of Chicago and Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City tied for sixth place with 83.

ART SHIRES TO STAY IN MINORS ANOTHER SEASON

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 29 (AP)—Art Shires, the colorful first baseman of the Milwaukee Brewers, is resigned to a fate which seems to decree that he must languish another year in the minors. No one in the majors is clamoring for him in a very loud voice and Art fears that, this season at least, he has been overlooked.

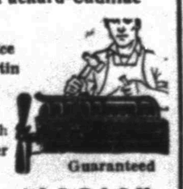

Shire, probably the original what-a-man, was eased out of the Chicago White Sox for assorted misbehaviors and a year's penance in the American association was supposed to be good for his cocky spirit. And now, indications are, there will be two years more around first base in Milwaukee.

Determined to regain the good will of major league moguls Shires did behave in Milwaukee—pretty well.

"I admit," said he, "that I lifted a stein or two on occasion, but I was always out there the next day to play and produce. I thought I was entitled to another shot in the big show, and I was disappointed when no one put in a bid for me."

But he'll be no sulking wall flower.

Shires made an impressive record with Milwaukee. He was batting close to .400 all season.

AMHERST HIGH IS DEFEATED BY COWBOYS

LUBBOCK SECOND TEAM RUNS WILD MONDAY AT FAIR PARK

Continuing the football program at the Panhandle-South Plains fair, the high school grid teams of Olton and Abernathy meet this afternoon at 3:45 o'clock in the second game of the week's card of six.

Yesterday afternoon saw the Lubbock High school Cowboys, formerly known as the Pioneers, defeat the Amherst High school team, 50 to 0, in a free scoring contest to open the football week. Coach Swede McMurray's heavier Lubbock players had little trouble in holding the visitors to almost nothing while Truman Hutson, "Butter" Brock, Joe Nelson and others carried the ball for long, consistent gains and touchdowns in every quarter.

Long Runs Feature

Long runs featured the contest, Bradley and Hutson streaking down the field for 25 and 45-yard sprints more than a few times to touchdowns.

The Cowboys scored once in the first quarter after a pass from Nelson to Hutson gained 20 yards to place the ball on Amherst's 30-yard line. Bradley took it to the 4-yard line a couple of plays later and Joe Nelson went over for a touchdown. Two came in the second, Bradley, Hutson and Brock advancing the ball from midfield to the goal line in five plays. Nelson helped the trio next time and the same thing was reported in three long plays.

Price Bradbury blocked a punt on the Amherst 30-yard line and crossed the tape ahead of the field shortly after the third quarter opened, and Nelson kicked goal. A few minutes later, Hutson took the ball on the 35-yard line and sprinted for a touchdown, and came back to take it on the 48-yard line two minutes later to scamper half the length of the field, shaking off half a dozen tacklers, for another touchdown. The visitors were on offense only once during the entire period.

Hutson jammed across another touchdown early in the fourth after advancing from mid-field to the 20-yard line. He went over from the 10-yard line for the touchdown. Another blocked kick resulted in the next tally, Love taking it on the 32-yard line and racing for a touchdown. Stone caught a pass over the line for extra point. Little "Stumpy" Bradshaw took the ball at the 40-yard line and drifted down the left sideline for the final score in the fourth.

WESTERNERS, TECH TO TAKE TO ROAD

Lubbock is without its major football teams this weekend as the Tech Matadors and High school Westerners take to the road, the Matadors playing their next two games out of town.

Coaches Cawthon and Smith had their Texas Tech gridsters out yesterday afternoon in a general workout, called attention to some weaknesses displayed in the Canyon Buff game last Friday night and sought to correct these faults. Work on pass defense was done with two teams lining up against each other in light scrimmage.

The Matadors leave early Friday morning for Las Cruces, N. M., where on Saturday they meet the New Mexico Aggies from State College, N. M. It will be the second meeting of the clubs. Last season the Matadors were able to take a 14 to 0 victory over the Aggies here. Returning home for a week of practice, the Matadors journey to Dallas for a mid-week game with the Haskell Institute Indians on October 13. They return here to play the Colorado School of Mines on October 23.

Lubbock's high school Westerners worked out lightly yesterday but will get down to more serious business today as they prepare for their second road trip, this time to Lamesa to meet the Golden Tornadoes. The game will be played Friday afternoon.

Big Six Teams In Grind For Games

MISSOURI WILL MEET TEXAS; SOONERS TO PLAY OWLS

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 29 (AP)—Big Six coaches at Nebraska, Missouri and Oklahoma are putting in long hours with their charges this week in preparation for important intersectional clashes next Saturday.

Coach Dana X. Bible, whose Nebraskans tangle with Northwestern, kept the varsity busy on aerial defense yesterday.

With only three days of practice remaining on the home grid before journeying to meet the University of Texas, Coach Gwinn Henry of Missouri lost no time in seeking a backfield combiation to use against the Southwest conference champions. Hatfield and Gill are on the injured list and Coach Henry used Johanningmeier, Bitner, Stuber, and W. Asbury in one quartet and Van Dyne, Edmiston, Llancaster and E. Asbury in another.

The Oklahoma varsity tested its defense against the freshmen who were armed with plays used by the Rice Owls, with whom the Sooners open their schedule.

Injury Jinx Gets Ace Of Polo Team

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—The injury jinx which has followed the Hurlingham club of Buenos Aires through its North American polo invasion finally has struck down Lewis Lacey, 10-goal leader of the South Americans.

He was painfully hurt when he was struck in the face by a lofted ball hit by a teammate in the eighth and final chukker of a match between Hurlingham and Templeton in the Monty Waterbury handicap tournament yesterday.

Physicians said apparently no bones had been broken and that the injury, although painful, was not serious.

Templeton, by winning the game, 10-8, reached the final round of the tournament and will face Greentree for the title tomorrow.

ELLSWORTH VINES ADDS NEW TITLE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29 (AP)—Ellsworth Vines, national tennis champion to the sports world, but just "El" to those who know him, at the age of twenty has set a real mark at which future netsters may shoot.

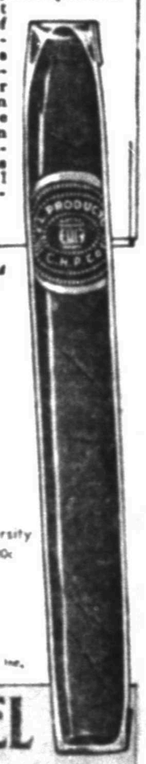

In one season this gangling, good-natured sophomore from the University of Southern California bounded from the rank and file of net men to win or assist in winning 24 titles, more than were ever recorded before under a single name in one year.

He climaxed this season yesterday to celebrate his birthday by teaming with Keith Gledhill, a Stanford senior, to defeat the national doubles' champions, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, to win his second Pacific southwest crown in as many days. Sunday he successfully defended the singles honors by turning back the English threat, Fred Perry.

Amarillo has the largest highway underpass in Texas. It is seven hundred and seventy feet long, connects two main portions of the city and carries the traffic of eight state highways. Three hundred carloads of steel and concrete were consumed in its construction, and it cost a quarter of a million dollars.

DEMOS WARNED TO STAY DRY

SENATOR McKELLAR IN APPEAL FOR PARTY TO AVOID PLANK

(By The Associated Press)

ROGERSVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 29.—A warning to his party to avoid the liquor issue in next year's presidential campaign was sounded last night by Senator K. D. McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, in speaking at a barbecue given in his honor by Demrcrats of the first Tennessee congressional district.

Nothing but a wet plank, he said, could stand in the way of Democratic victory in 1932. It would result in the loss of millions of dry votes, he asserted, and would not give the Democrats one additional ballot since "the wets are going to vote against Mr. Hoover anyway."

No Chance Of Defeat

"If we make the fight on economic issues, on the tariff, on just taxation, on economy, on honest government, on enforcing the law against Trusts and Combinations, on looking after America's affairs, there is not a chance for us to be defeated," the Senator declared.

"But, if we are not misled into making the liquor issue the sole issue in this campaign, we will win in a walk. With the liquor issue in this campaign, we will be put into a false position and one that will give to Mr. Hoover his only possible chance. With the issue out of the platform, we will win in a walk. With the liquor issue in the platform, it will be the only issue, as we all know, and we will lose the advantage of all economic issues and there is no telling what will take place."

Declaring the prohibition laws "have never been enforced by the Republican party," McKeller said he did not think "there should be any provision in the Democratic platform on the liquor question except enforcement of all laws."

McKellar said he believed Governor Frank D. Roosevelt of New York could win and would make a "splendid president."

Housewives "Can the Surplus" for Needy

A "Can the Surplus" campaign, the object of which is to preserve the surplus fruits and vegetables of the preseent bumper crops for distribution among the needy this winter, is spreading among Ohio housewives and seems likely to find favor in other states. Above is a group of women of the Grace Reformed church at Akron canning fruit, donated by farmers, in the church kitchen. At the left is Mrs. Daniel E. Morgan, wife of Cleveland's city manager, at work. The movement is supported by newspapers, city officials, women's clubs, church organizations and other groups.

REPORT ON ROADS

This report is furnished daily by the South Plains Automobile club, local branch of the American Automobile association.

All roads throughout the South Plains are passable and in fairly good condition.

Route recommended to Oklahoma City, due to detours on U. S. Highway 66. Follow State road 53 to Dickens, State road 106 and 24 to Seymour, No. 277 from Seymour to Wichita Falls, State road 79 to Devol, Oklahoma, same road to Waurika, Oklahoma, U. S. highway 81 to Chickasha, going to Oklahoma City by way of Amber, Tuttle and New Castle. Paving east to Chickasha, detours mostly gravel.

Best route to Dallas: Follow Highway No. 7 to Snyder, 83 and 18 to Anson and Breckenridge, U. S. No. 80 to Dallas.

Style Show Models To Meet Thursday

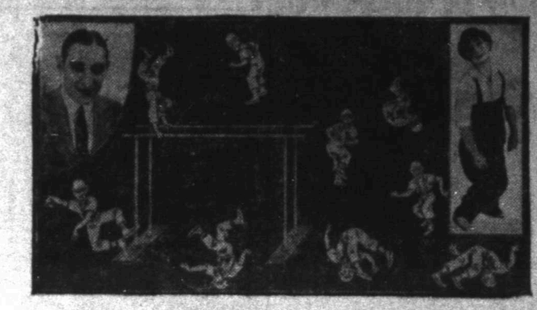

Prospective models at the style show which will be staged in connection with the fourth semi-annual West Texas Market week here will meet at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Hilton hotel.

Young women not already recruited and who wish to participate in tryouts are urged by the local chamber of commerce to attend the meeting.

Market week will be Oct. 5, 6 and 7. Retail merchants and wholesale houses alike will present exhibits and live models.

Film Comedian Performing At Fair

Bert Clinton comes direct from the movie studios at Hollywood with new tricks and funny stunts on the parallel bars. He is a rare funster with many new angles to get the laughs. While in Hollywood he was a "double" for the late Larry Semon, film comedian. He performs three times daily at the fair this week as one of the free attractions, at 3:30. 5:30, and 7:30 o'clock.

Grading, Drainage Work Is Delayed

Work of grading and drainage on state highway No. 137 between Lubbock and Brownfield, in Lubbock county, is not expected to start for about two weeks, it was said at the office of Guy R. Johnston, construction engineer for the state highway department.

The work order to the contractor has not been received and is not expected for about two weeks. Nothing will be done until this is received. The highway commission let the contract last week.

Meantime, the detour has not been announced. It is said by highway department officials that No. 24 west from the junction of 137 west to the Hockley county line is to be used as the detour. There is a good county road on the county line south from No. 24 connecting with No. 137 at the Hockley county line.

Two Fire Alarms Are Answered Here

Two fires resulted in alarms summoning the Lubbock fire department Monday. A blaze in the shop of the DeLuxe Cleaners at Main street and Avenue J at 2:30 p. m. was attributed to spontaneous combustion. Some clothing in the shop was damaged.

The second fire was at Beacon Service Station, 1215 Thirteenth street, when a gasoline tank became ignited. Fire department officials said the fire probaby was caused by a short circuit in the electrically operated pump. The damage was slight.

Accident Victim Shows Improvement

Marked improvement having been observed in her condition, five-year-old Arlene Wood, critically injured when hit by an automobile Wednesday morning, was moved to her home at 1905 Avenue H from Lubbock sanitarium this morning.

The child suffered eight rib fractures and a punctured lung when run over by a car at Eighteenth street and Avenue H. Pneumonia was feared. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wood.

THERE'S THE "HIDDEN QUART" IT STAYS UP IN THE MOTOR AND NEVER DRAINS AWAY....

The first time you use Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil, a pint to a quart will cling to, penetrate and combine with metal surfaces and stay up in your motor. This "hidden quart" never drains away! Because of this, Germ Processed Oil gives you sure protection at all times that no other oil can give.

Almost half of all your motor wear occurs while starting. The "hidden quart" of Germ Processed Oil stays up in your motor even after your car stands idle for weeks... and gives safe lubrication while you're starting. It stays up in cylinders to form a strong piston seal, which makes starting easier and quicker. Other oils drain away, leaving parts unlubricated. The "hidden quart" has saved hundreds of motorists costly repair bills by protecting motors when thru accident crankcases were emptied miles from town.

Only Germ Processed Oil gives you the extra benefits of the "hidden quart".... for only Germ Processed Oil has penetrative lubricity, the ability to penetrate and combine with meral surfaces. From the first fill on, you'll always have that "hidden quart".. worth its weight in gold! Fill now with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil at any station displaying the Conoco Red Triangle.

Thought For Today

And thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth the wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous. —Exodus 23:8.

* * *

Who thinketh to buy villainy with gold, shall ever find such faith so bought—so sold.—Shakespeare.

On The Wall

Gerard Swope's program for the stabilization of industry, outlined in his recent speech before the National Electric Manufacturers' Association in New York, simply proves once more that no one on earth can be quite as radical as the big business man.

Head of one of the largest industries in the world, Swope plunges boldly into a series of proposals that would sound fearfully socialistic, not to say subversive, if they came from a politician.

To group the industries of the nation into gigantic trade associations under the friendly supervision of the federal government; to provide for every worker life insurance, accident insurance, unemployment insurance and a pension system that would enable each worker to retire at 70 on half pay; to give workers and the general public a controlling voice in the administration of these schemes—this, surely, is as radical a set of suggestions as any one could ask.

Nevertheless, this, or something like it, will undoubtedly be put into effect in the not too distant future. Swope himself asks, "Shall we wait for society to act through its legislatures, or shall industry recognize its obligation to its employes and to the public and undertake the task?"

One thing or the other must be done. The American public is in no mood to let the experiences of the past two years be duplicated a little later on. Purblind industrialist can emit gasps of horror about "governmental interference" and "the dole" until they are hoarse; Swope has indicated the path they are going to follow, and they might as well recognize the fact.

Of course, putting a program of this kind into effect would be an enormously difficult job. But since when has American industry shied away from jobs because they were difficult? It has been our boast for two decades that our business and industrial leaders are the wisest on earth. Now is their chance to prove it.

Swope has done much to restore the ordinary citizen's confidence in the industrial leadership of the nation. His program is radical, to be sure; but radical measures are needed, and if industry cannot evolve them itself it can rest assured, as Swope remarks, that society will act, through its legislatures.

Public Figures

In a time such as this, when it seems to be the mode to criticize and denounce politicians and other public officials, the wave of resentment against those serving the people is likely to reach unexpected heights.

It would be well to remember that despite rumor and gossip there are many honest, capable men sincerely trying to do their best. They should be appreciated, even if some of their fellows stoop to the contemptible practices and downright dishonesty typical of the worst kind of politician.

Certainly it must be encouraging for a good public servant to find out that there is deserved praise for a job well done. It must be a source of strength when the temptation to take easy money from graft happens along. For if he knows that those he serves appreciate him he is less likely to say "Nobody cares, I might as well get what I can." We are all human that way.

And so, when handing out bouquets of thorns it might be well to bring along a few roses, too. Every community in America has one or more officials deserving praise. It is the duty of the public to see that they are appreciated. And it is not necessary to wait until election.

The president has told our veterans what's likely to go to the Hoover.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says a woman likes to tell what she knows while a man is satisfied with telling what he thinks.

* * *

The Plainsman has no inside information on the next war aside from a definite commitment that for awhile, at least, there'll be no wheatless days.

THEY are using buggies down in Central Texas—they are using buggies. That is the truth if you've ever heard it. Everywhere you go you see buggies, buggies and more buggies. It's a sight for sore eyes.

And they're not new buggies, either. You won't see any of these spanking "speedster's" with red wheel and rubber tires. You see the oldtime buggies, with dusty tops thrown carelessly back as dobbin plods along the highways and the byways. Folks have just naturally dug 'em up from the far off corner of the barn, slapped some grease on 'em, tightened a spoke or two and gone to riding in 'em.

Between Abilene and Stephenville, and back between Stephenville and Eastland, The Plainsman saw 25 buggies Saturday if he saw one. That's more buggies than he's seen in eight years on the Plains.

It just goes to show that folks are starting from the ground floor on their way back to normalcy, and it isn't a bad idea, either. It's a little tough on the gas, oil and automobile men but they'll gain by it in the long run, as one of them declared yesterday.

THERE are a lot of folks who can get along with horses and buggies if they have to, because they've got plenty of time on their hands. It isn't necessary for 'em to dash around at 60 or 70 miles an hour when six or seven miles will get them where they want to go in plenty of time.

There's nothing wrong with horses and buggies—remember how swell the banker used to look on Sunday afternoons when he drove those white stockinged sorrels in a high trot down Main street?—and a lot of folks will be better off driving them as long as Hoover prosperity lasts.

CAN somebody do something in the way of finding a job for this lady? She wants work — needs it badly. And if the tone of her letter means anything at all, she will make a good hand for someone.

Here is her letter, received a day or so ago:

Dear Plainsman: I wonder if you can do anything with this situation. Seems like folks will listen to you.

I'm a widow with three children in school, ages 9, 11 and 12.

I've been in this town one year and I will work. I've applied to laundries, hospitals and stores; have answered housekeeping advertisements. I have asked people for laundry. I can't be away from my children all night and nearly all housekeeping places want a housekeeper to stay all the time.

I have spent about $300 since I've been in this town, and I haven't been on any charity. My people in Oklahoma have had to help me but I don't want help—I want work.

I don't mean to be a grumbler but I do feel blue.

I'm a reader who enjoys your column.

Very respectfully,
Eunice G. Price,
508 Avenue Q.

THE worst thing about present economic conditions is that people who want work—and who will work long and faithfully if given a chance—can't find the work to do.

The fact that valuations and costs of necessities and luxuries have gone down isn't so serious. We can stand a lot of that.

The worst feature is the employment situation.

The Plainsman certainly would like to see this lady be given a chance at a job and will act as a 'clearing house' for folks who think they might have some work for her.

If you have something to offer and can't locate Mrs. Price, call The Plainsman, at 13 or 14 and he'll take the responsibility of placing Mrs. Price in touch with you.

A group of business men were talking earnestly and very technically about the price of cotton, the farm board and Mr. Hoover. They discussed many angles of the subject when one of the men glanced around and saw an old negro listening intently.

"Well, Uncle Mose", the man said jokingly, "what do you think about all this business?"

Uncle Mose scratched his head while waiting for his mind to get in motion.

"Wal, sah, boss", he said, "it's done got down to this. It 'pears to me like ef he cain't pay no more for it than he is, Mistah Hoover's liable to have to come down here and pick his own cotton!"

Another advantage of having a dominating personality is that you don't have to think of so many snappy comebacks.

Nearly 50 Foreign Service Officers Have Died Or Been Killed In Line Of Duty In Far Corners Of The Earth

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—The State Department recently compiled a list of about 50 foreign service officers who have died in the line of duty and a bronze tablet with their names probably will be placed somewhere in their honor.

About nine out of 10 of these victims were consuls. Diplomatic officers in the foreign service go to capitals where their chances of survival are better. Consuls are sent to all sorts of posts. The "honor roll" shows that they have died or been killed in Santa Maria, Aux Cayes, Mantinique, Apia, Anatanakabe, Messina, Teheran, Catania, Matanzas Bay, Bahia, St. Thomas, Acapulco, Funchal, Demarara, Tumbez, Colon, Guayaquil, Callao, Durango, Bassorah, Bagdad, Aguas Caliente and other such places.

Seven of them, mostly in the early days, were lost at sea. Five died in earthquakes or volcano eruptions. Three were murdered. Four died from exposure to extraordinary hardships. Two were drowned trying to save a life. And 29 succumbed to diseases which they would handly have encountered at home—such as yellow fever, cholera, smallpox, high altitudes and malaria.

Thomas Nast, the famous political cartoonist, is on the honor roll. In 1902 he obtained an appointment as a consul at Guayaquil Ecuador, which was then a notorious pest hole. He had hardly arrived at his post before he succumbed to yellow fever and promptly died.

Back in 1780 one of our first consuls was lost at sea and in 1811 Joel Barlow of Connecticut, the new minister to France, went to Russia to confer with the invading Napoleon, got caught in the rush during the retreat from Moscow and perished from cold and starvation.

In the last 15 or 20 years hardly anyone in the foreign service has died in an epidemic or from a plague common to the place of his assignment, indicating a general improvement in medical knowledge and sanitation in some of the posts once regarded as highly dangerous.

The consuls do the "dirty work" of the foreign service, in contrast to the secretaries of legations and embassies in the same grades of the service whose work is less arduous and whose social duties are more so. They represent practically every branch of the government and, to some extent, all business men and private citizens. Their jobs as officials of the State Department include protection of American citizens and their interests, political and economic reports to Washington, serving in consular courts in countries where extraterritoriality exists—notably China, notarial services, relief of American seamen and attending to their estates, matters of citizenship, registration of Americans, passport services, alien visa control, deaths of Americans in their territories and attention to the estates of such Americans, witnessing marriages, recording vital statistics and a great amount of correspondence.

They answer trade inquiries from American business men and miscellaneous inquiries from others back home, receive and forward mail of travelers, advise tourists and salesmen and watch the welfare and whereabouts of traveling Americans as far as possible.

They work for the Commerce Department on such matters as extension of our trade and advising as to trade opportunities, the entry and clearance of American ships and discharges or desertions of seamen, and report to it on fisheries, lighthouses and measures and standards. They report to the Navy Department on hydrographic data, lighthouses, harboring and coaling facilities, wireless stations, port regulations, movements of vessels and various marine data. They report to the Post Office Department on postal affairs. They tell the Agricultural Department about crop and market reports and estimates, plant introductions, weather, entomology, biology and so on. They do other jobs for the War Department, the Labor Department—especially regarding immigration, the Federal Reserve Board, the Justice Department—on extradition matters, for instance, the Interior Department and the Shipping Board.

Thus, they are likely to be kept pretty busy, regardless of climatic conditions which may afflict them. Most members of the consular service are on salary of less than $80 a week.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening in care of this paper, Central Press Association, 1653 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene," "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding," and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

BREAKFAST

THE FUNDAMENTAL principles of a sane reducing diet, we said yesterday, were:

1. System. 2. balance. 3. measurement. So let us start with breakfast.

Half a Cantaloupe
Prepared Rice
Poached Egg on Whole Wheat Toast
One pat of Butter
One slice of Toast
Glass of Milk

"Why, that's a good breakfast," you say, "enough for anybody. More than I usually eat."

But wait a minute. Let us remember Number 3, measurement. How much of each of these? And another thing, let us remember system. This is breakfast and there is to be nothing between now and lunch—no sampling of crackers. And only breakfast, lunch and supper. No candy at 4 p. m. No midnight lunch before going to bed—so I can sleep.

If you are going to reduce sanely you must know the amounts of your food portions. The best way, of course, is by weighing on scales. But you can measure the dimensions of food portions and come pretty close. The Detroit Dairy and Food Council (910 Stephenson building), publish an interesting series of colored pictures of food portions, actual size, which can be laid out for reducing diets, diabetic diets, etc., and give an accurate idea of the size, weight and measurement of each article. This breakfast is taken from their list.

The half cantaloupe is four inches in diameter. It weighs 130 grams, or 4 1-2 ounces. It has 33 calories. It contains 8-10 grams of protein, no fat, 7 1-2 grams of carbohydrate, small amounts of calcium, phosphorus and iron and vitamins A, B and C. On the basis of acid-alkaline balance it has 9 7-10 excess on the alkaline side. Its roughage value is 2 7-10 grams of fibre.

The rice is half a cup (10 grams, or 1-3 ounce), 35 calories, protein, 8-10 grams; no fat; carbohydrate, 7 8-10; contains calcium, iron and phosphorus; 9-10 excess acid; negligible roughage.

The poached egg weighs 50 grams, the toast 30 (both together 3 ounces). Measurements, 3 1-2 by 3 1-2 by 1-2 an inch, 148 calories. Protein, 9 6-10 grams; fat, 5 1-2 grams, carbohydrate 14 9-10 grams; calcium, sulphur phosphorus and iron, vitamins A and B; excess acid, 7 7-10 ;one-half gram of fibre.

Dr. Clendening

Milk. One glass, 7 ounces, or 200 grams, 138 calories, protein, 6 6-10 grams; fat, 8 grams; carbohydrate, 10 grams; calcium, phosphorus and iron. If raw it contains vitamins A, B and C. If pasturized, A and B with possibly some C and D. Excess alkalinity, 3 6-10.

Butter. 10 grams, or 1-3 ounce; square 1 3-4 by 1 1-4 by 1-3 inch; 77 calories, protein, 1-10 gram, fat 8 1-2 grams; small quantities of calcium iron and phosphorus, vitamin A. Neutral in reaction.

Small slice of toast. 3 1-2 by 3 1-2 by 1-4 inch. Weight, 15 grams, or 1-2 ounce. 40 calories, protein, 1 1-2 grams; carbohydrate, 7 7-10 grams; excess acid, 1.

Total calories for breakfast 471.

Balance. Protein, 19 3-10 grams; fat, 22 grams; carbohydrate, 48 grams.

All vitamins present.

Minerals present, especially the important ones, calcium, phosphorus and iron.

Fibre or bulk present.

TWO ARE KILLED

MESQUITE, Sept. 29 (AP)—Two men were killed Monday when a freight train collided with the truck in which they were riding at Ragan crossing, three miles east of Mesquite. The dead: H. M. Guynes, 65, Mesquite farmer, his son, Oliver Guynes, 43.

Patty Arbuckle, arrested recently, was given a sobriety test and was found sober as a judge. What judge?

When a Californian feels a quake, it's an incident, but when an Ohioan feels one, he says he's had great luck with his last batch.

But while Ohioan (and everybody else) let it rain, a Californian blithely confesses it's the first time in a decade.

The Nautilus crew quit and Sir Hubert Wilkins paid it off, showing that at least the expedition was substantial.

Rudy Vallee is appearing in a naughty Broadway show. They'll spoil him yet.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Sept. 29—Scattered notes from a Manhattan ramble. . . . After midnight in Sophie Tucker's suite in the Park Central . . . three of the most famous old troupers gathered for a sentimental reunion, celebrating Sophie's return from her London music show success . . . Fannie Brice, Blossom Seeley and Sophie.

They fell to singing the tunes that have figured in stage history. . . . Each of them had created a definite style of entertainment. . . . Years ago, when the old Barbary Coast was San Francisco's uncensored "hot-spot," Mlle. Seeley was putting the Grizzly Bear and kindred numbers on the map. . . . Fannie Brice was doing her great "Monkey Rag" number and, after that, "My Man." . . . Sophie was doing such songs as "Yiddisher Mamma."

So until dawn began to break over the river, the three sang and chatted. . . . What an all-star cast!

They fell to talking about old Riesenweber's cafe on "the Circle."

This was the first of the night clubs as they now exist. And here it was that the first jazz band got its break. A small cover charge eventually appeared for the first time. And all the stage folk whose names have since flashed over the world went there to play and eat and sing. There was no fee for their services. A Jolson or a Cantor or a Berlin or a Brice would sing, play or dance just for the fun of it—or to amuse their companions.

Struggling composers would rush in with some new hit, hot from the pianos of Tin Pan Alley, and would dash it off to see what the kibitzing show folk thought of it. . . . Some of the most spectacular hits the nation has ever seen were thumped out there by ambitious young melody scribes.

When the Original Dixie Land band arrived, a sensational change came over the place. Here was an aggregation of youngsters from New Orleans out of Chicago. Not one could read a note. But how they could "fake" and interpret! The very craziness of their playing brought jazz into being.

They had been hired first for a southern political rally. Their only instruction was to "make a lot of noise." They had gone to hock shops and secured their horns and fiddles and such. The noises consisted of cow-bells and drum gadgets and ear-deafeners in general, all of which eventually were adopted for regulation bands.

At the time, it seemed a freakish cacophony; a melange of assorted and weird sounds.

In later years, many who had contributed talent found themselves getting their start as entertainers.

Nor have these old songs ever lost their flavor. To this day the crowds call upon La Brice to sing "My Man." And Sophie Tucker's "Red Hot Mamma."

Well, just a few weeks ago Ruth Etting revived Norah Bayes' favorite "Shine on Harvest Moon," and it's the song hit of the Follies after all these years.

Sophie told me that while visiting in Vienna she went into a phonograph store to see if her records were on sale. She introduced herself to the storekeeper who almost stopped traffic by running into the street shouting to all pedestrians; pleading with them to come into the store and see his distinguished visitor.

Incidentally, she's going to take another chance with the talking pictures if she can get a story to suit here.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The marmoset jumped all around and seemed excited till it found a resting place on Clowny's arm. Wee Clowny cried, "Oh, gee! I guess that I have made a hit. Upon my arms he's glad to sit. I wished I owned him for a pet. He's tame as he can be."

The Travel Man said, "Well, my son, I must admit that would be fun, but if you took that marmoset back home he'd surely die. They're very delicate, I'm told and cannot stand the bitter cold. He's better off right here, beneath a warm and sunny sky."

"All right," said Clowny, "but let's stay with him a little while and play. I'll bet he knows some funny tricks. I'll try him out and see." He held the monkey very tight and said, "Now you will be all right. I'm merely going to put you on the limb of some big tree."

Upon the limb it looked real proud and then it started squealing loud. The next thing that the Tinies knew, 'twas hanging in mi air. Its little tail was curled aroun a branch that hung down towar the ground. Soon Scouty sai "Come on, let's go. We'll leave th monkey there."

And so they walked for sever blocks and finally reached som monstrous docks. "What are the loading on that ship?" asked Cop py. "Fruit, I'll bet." They shortl found that he was right. It was a interesting sight. "Oh, red banan as," Clowny cried. "A bunch I'd lik to get."

The boat was anchored out a b and rowboats tossed 'long side o it. On heavy ropes the big sh took its cargo up on board. Beside the red bananas there were parrot lifted through the air. "Hey, poll wanna boat ride," one large parro loudly roared.

IDWEST COMBED FOR TWO SLAYERS

OSTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—The mid- t was combed today for Del Cabe and W. S. "Shilo" Scrive- alleged members of a bank rob- band, named by the Harris nty grand jury in indictments rging murder in the slaying of . "Keggy" Jones and his wife. he grand jury returned indict- nts against McCabe and Scrive- yesterday. Jones and his wife e shot to death in their Hous- apartment Aug. 31. Officers had fessions of two purported mem- s of a gang in which were state- nts the two were slain as a re- ocal act of friends of John rris, killed two days earlier. ouston and Dallas officers who nt to St. Louis to investigate the ying of Cherris left for Texas night stating they had gained information of value. Five of six ons were released yesterday af- the Texas officers, Pearcy F. ard, Houston police chief, and btain Leonard Pack of Dallas tioned them at length without rning anything about the three ings.

FAIR SIDELIGHTS

grocery bill was but $26.

"We believe in making our ving off the farm. We are a ear ahead—that is, there is nough stuff canned for us to ve on more than a year. We anned two beeves this summer. We can our own pork and, in act, everything we can."

RAIN JUDGERS OF ECH ATTEND FAIR

Members of the grain judging eam of the school of agriculture Texas Technological college, have been attending the Pan- handle-South Plains fair to get pointers on types of grain orghums.

On the team are: Hugo Mika, allinger; Carlton Carmichael, Kerms, N. M.; Paul Hardy, Bonham; Marshall Howard, myer and Howard Beard, Lub- ock.

The boys, under the direction f H. J. Bower, head of the de- artment of agronomy, inspected he displays of grain sorghums nd had a regular grain judging ontest.

NEGROES

n the "white" column, al- hough the city grew by 32.1 er cent.

Ten years ago the Indian, rue to his roving tradition, ept to the open spaces. Only ight cities in the list of those ow totaling more than 100,000 ould boast 100 Indians.

Now 23 cities have more than 00 Indians, and one city, Tulsa, as 1,847. There were but 271 ndians in Tulsa in 1920.

El Paso's Indian population, erhaps due to a more careful lassification among Indians nd Mexicans, dropped from 46 to 28.

How 'Love Butcher' Lured Women Victims by Mail

Scores of his pictures, like the one at the upper left, were sent by Harry F. Powers, West Virginia "Bluebeard," to women throughout the country with whom he corresponded through matrimonial agencies. On the back of the picture appears a note, lower left, penned by Powers, while he was living at Miller, S. D., under the name of "Joe Gildaw." One of the many other postcards found in Powers' effects by Clarksburg police is shown at the right. It is from a woman at Vanderbilt, Pa. A penciled number "216" (appearing just under the postage stamp) is a secret mark used by Powers in a code partly deciphered and in which, officers say, "P-15" meant "graveyard," this mark having been found on the correspondence with women he slew. The poem on the card at the lower right is from the woman at Vanderbilt.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29 (AP)—Cotton had a steady opening today. While Liverpool was a shade lower than due, sterling exchange was steady at yesterday's advance. First trades here showed losses of two points, but this was soon recovered on moderate price fixing by mills.

Later in the first hour, prices eased off a little owing to weakness in Egyptian cotton, December dropping to 6.08 and January to 6.19, or 3 to 4 points below yesterday's close.

Near the end of the first hour the market was steady and a shade above the lows, with trading very moderate.

The market was sluggish all morning, easing off point by point on some hedge selling, which however was light in comparison with increasing crop movement and large trading in spots in interior markets.

The hedges were absorbed by some trade buying and price fixing by the mills. December eased off to 6.08 and January to 6.18, or 4 to 6 points down from both the opening figures and yesterday's close.

Near noon the market was quiet and steady and one to two points above the lows.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged to a decline of 4 points under a moderate volume of southern selling combined with some selling here for continental account and liquidation which may have been promoted by relatively easy cables.

Traders, however, seemed to be paying less attention to Liverpool fluctuations, which were attributed partially to changes in sterling rates.

Liverpool cables reported hedging and general liquidation in that market and said Manchester was quieter with the decline in cotton checking business.

Trading was comparatively quiet and prices fluctuated within a relatively narrow range later in the morning. There was some selling on action of the stock market, which sent the price of December off to 6.06 and March to 6.30, making net losses of about 7 to 12 points, but part of this was recovered with the midday market quiet and steady at net declines of 5 to 6 points.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: Oct. 5.91-asked; Dec. 6.10; Jan. 6.18-bid; March 6.39; May 6.58; July 6.75.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: Oct. 5.90; Dec. 6.12; Jan. 6.22; March 6.41; May 6.60; July 6.77.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Fresh selling disturbed the stock market today. Early losses of 1 to 2 points or more put numerous pivotal shares at new lows, but rallying tendencies, apparently based on steadiness of the rails, reduced or cancelled the declines. However, trading became dull on the rise and prices tapered off again.

United States steel recovered half of a 2 point decline. American Telephone, which broke 2 1-2 came back about a point.

Eastman fully regained a moderate recession and American Can, after duplicating the old low, rallied fractionally. General Motors was off a point. Coca cola again slumped, selling down 9 points. Kresge lost more than 3.

New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Atchison, Union Pacific and other rails resisted the downward trend, and moderate net gains were sprinkled through the group.

Call money renewed at 1 1-2 per cent.

Livestock Market

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Sept. 29 (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Hogs, 300; rail hogs steady to 10c lower; truck hogs steady; top 5.55; bulk medium to choice 1.75 to 2.40 pound truck hogs 5.40 and 5.50; around 200 pound rail butchers 5.50; packing sows at 4.00 and 4.25, or steady.

Cattle 3,200, 700 calves; slaughter steers steady to slightly lower, 4.50-5.50; other classes about steady; good fat cows 3.25; good choice fed yearlings 8.50; other good fat yearlings in 7.00 range; sausage bulls 2.40; calf trade steady; good mixed stock calves 5.00-5.50 desirable heavy slaughter calves 4.50-4.75.

Sheep 300; good to choice fat truck lambs at 5.00, or strong to higher.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Grain prices turned downward early today, influenced by Liverpool reports of increased pressure to sell Canadian wheat abroad and by cheaper Russian offerings. Further declines in Wall street securities also were a bearish factor. Opening 1-8 to 5-8 cent lower, wheat afterward sagged further. Corn started at 5-8 to 3-4 decline to 1-8 advance with new crop deliveries outdoing the season's low price record, but later kept near the initial range.

Einstein Plans To Visit America Soon

BERLIN, Sept. 29. (AP)—Professor Albert Einstein, accompanied by Frau Einstein, is going to the United States for the second time to continue his scientific studies at Mt. Wilson observatory.

He already has booked passage but refuses to name the date of sailing or the ship because he does not wish his visit interferred with.

"Cotton Fields Or Jail" Edict Works

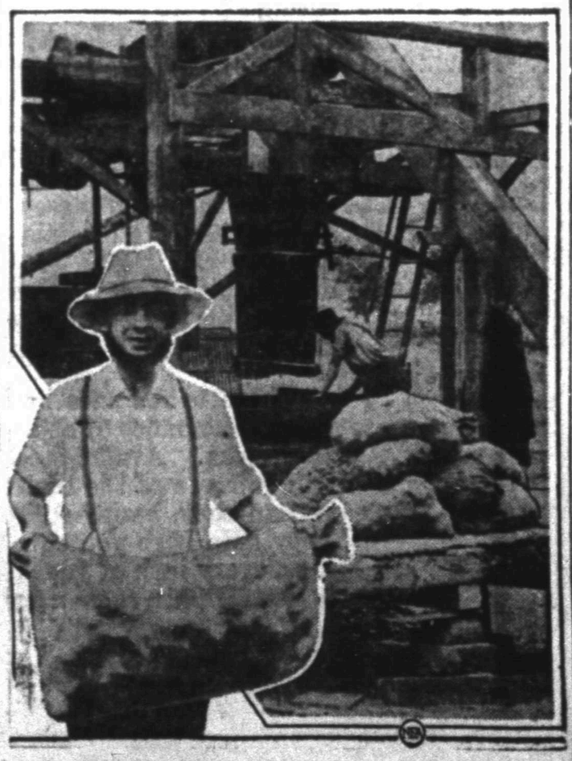

TEXARKANA, Sept. 29. (AP)—The habitual loafer was gone in Texarkana today.

Those who did not go to the cotton fields yesterday when Texarkana and Bowie county's edict of "go to work or go to jail" became effective fled. Officers said habitual loafers who steadfastly refused to pick cotton at fort cents a hundred had changed their minds or had departed.

Amish Flock Is Aiding Poor

Learning of the "Can the Surplus" campaign to aid the poor, members of the Amish colony near Akron, O., joined the movement with their cider mill. Apples were pressed and apple butter made. Here is the Amish "mill" in action. At the left is John Miller, a typical member of this religious sect.

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

(By The Associated Press)

Ban Combination

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa.—State highway police have disqualified a combination automobile driver. Elmer McQuait, who was blinded by an accident, operated the clutch, gear shift and accelerator of hs car while his ten-year-old son sat on his lap, steered and directed operations. Although they had no accidents, police opined it was too dangerous.

Women To Cook

NEW YORK—Women cooks will have charge of a special kitchen in the new Waldorf-Astoria. Their job will be to prepare typical American dishes such as boiled dinners and pot likker. Says Oscar, the boss: "There is a general feeling in America that women are far superior to men in native culinary arts."

Old Ally Speaks

ST. LOUIS—An old ally of bandits has spoken in the cause of law and order. Robbers attempted to hold up a brokerage office. Evett D. Nix fished an ancient single-action pistol out of a brief case and fired one shot. The robbers fled. The gun was one Nix took from Bill Doolin, a member of the Dalton gang, in the old days when Nix was a deputy U. S. marshal in Oklahoma.

Ladies' Man

OAKLAND, Calif.—Norman Flood's twenty-eighth wife has had her marriage annulled. She was not his last wife, however, for one he married later caused him to be sent to prison for bigamy. He said he had been married 29 times in 20 years and had more than 400 sweethearts.

Murders, Cheap!

EVANSTON, Ill. — Murders $200 each. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago association of commerce, told Northwestern students the current rate for having folks bumped off in Chicago.

Workers Strike

WASHINGTON — There's been a strike against Uncle Sam for higher wages. Yes sir. Fellows making the roof on the agricultural building want $1.25 an hour instead of 90 cents. They quit and returned on assurance of arbitration.

Lands A Job

NEW YORK—Louis Crawford has landed a job with a flying tackle. Hearing the cry, "Stop, thief," he chased a man who ran by, tackled him neatly and turned him over to police. Grateful detectives asked him how they could show their appreciation. "Get me a job," said Crawford. He got one.

Protect Horses

MEXICO CITY—Horses in the bullfight arenas are to be protected with pads like American football players. A new regulation makes it obligatory to provide pads for the horses to protect them from being gored by the bulls. The horses are blindfolded and heretofore have had not defense against the bulls, save the picador's lance.

Plan Memorial

MINEOLA, N. Y.—Before next summer the Lindbergh Society, Inc., hopes to complete a memorial to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his New York-to-Paris flight. The society owns six acres of land at Roosevelt field, from which Lindbergh took off and plans to build a huge beacon, mounted on a granite base.

Believed Miracle

NEW YORK — Willy Rody, who, with two companions, dropped into the sea near the end of an attempted trans-Atlantic flight and survived six days of buffeting, believes their rescue was "a miracle of faith." The prayers of the Portuguese, Fernando Da Costa Viega, Rody said at a "thanksgiving service," kept hope alive for the three men. Christian Johanssenn, German pilot, attended the service with Rody. Da Costa Viega is confined to his hotel room recovering from injuries resulting when the plane came down.

Sure To Win

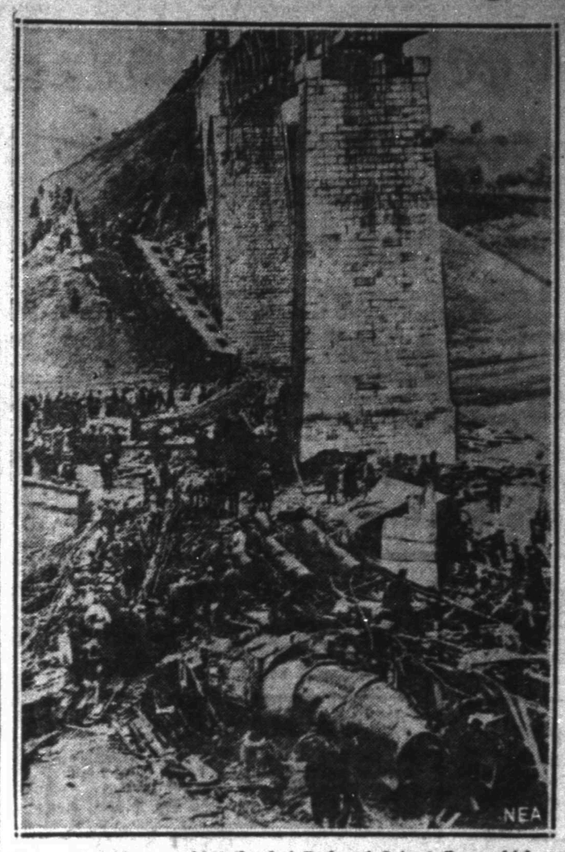

NEWBURGH, N. Y.—Bill Smith is certain to be elected in a fight for county supervisor. The Democratic candidate has the same name as the Republican.

Farmer Killed As Train Smashes Car

GREENVILLE, Sept. 29 (AP)—Charles Gibson, 60, Hunt county farmer, was killed today when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by the Bluebonnet, crack Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train, at Peniel crossing. Gibson was alone in the car, which was demolished. The accident happened but a short distance from his home.

Unofficial estimates place the total production of the 1931 wheat crop of the Texas Panhandle at fifty-seven million bushels.

After Crack Train's Fatal Plunge

The awe-inspiring wreck of the fast Budapest-Ostend flyer, which was hurled from a high trestle by a bomb explosion, is vividly portrayed in this photo taken immediately after the accident at Bio Tiragy, Hungary. Twenty-five passengers were killed, and here rescue crews are shown searching for bodies in the wreckage. Note the tremendous height from which the train tumbled to destruction. Anticapitalist plotters were blamed.

Fireworks, Tonight

This evening's program will find the usual vaudeville performances in front of the grandstand at 8:30 with the fireworks display at 9 o'clock.

Last night saw hundreds of people visiting the midway of the Dodson's World fair shows.

Wednesday is expected to be the feature day of the week, thousands of school children from over the territory to be admitted free to the grounds in observance of "school day".

AMARILLOANS WILL BE HERE WEDNESDAY

AMARILLO, Sept. 29 (Special)—Amarillo Wednesday will return Lubbock's interest in the Tri-State Fair here last week by sending an organized delegation to the Panhandle-South Plains fair at Lubbock.

Wednesday has been designated "Amarillo Day" at the Lubbock Fair.

Potter County's agricultural exhibit which was not shown at the Tri-State Fair due to lack of space, was taken to the South Plains exposition on Saturday and is now in place under the supervision of Frank Ford, assistant Potter County agent. Potter County's exhibit last year placed second.

Heading the local group of visitors will be Manager O. V. Vernon of the chamber of commerce; Mason King head of the chamber's trade extension department, and P. C. Bennett, director of the agricultural department.

A wide variety of attractions is being offered at Lubbock in the way of agricultural displays, livestock exhibits and amusements.

SUIT IS FILED

AUSTIN, Sept. 29 (AP)—Attorney General Jame V. Allred has filed suit in district court against the National Underwriters of America, seeking to enjoin them from doing business in Texas, alleging a permit had not been issued.

NOT TO RESIGN

MANILA, P. I., Sept. 29 (AP)—Governor General Dwight F. Davis announced he had decided to take a temporary leave of absence instead of resigning his post.

STANDARD SUSPENDED

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Danish government suspended the gold standard today by rushing the necessary legislation through both houses of parliament.

"Depressed"

Once among the wealthiest of English nobility until taxes and reduction in income affected her estates, the Marchioness of Curron, of Kedleston, Alabama, London's leading American-born hostess, has recently been in sore financial straits. Now she is reported as having reached a satisfactory arrangement with her creditors.

Concrete Pouring Showing Progress

Pouring of the slab on state highway No. 8 between Lubbock and the Lynn county line has progressed several miles north of Woodrow from the south end.

It is planned to open up the slab between Woodrow and the county line as soon as the concrete has "set" to the required strength. The first mile or so has set but because there are no cross roads between Woodrow and the Lynn line, the pavement has not been used.

State highway officials believe that the contract will be finished early in November unless there is an unexpected delay due to heavy rains.

No Action Taken On Beer Petition

NEWARK, Sept. 25 (AP)—An effort of New Jersey's congressional delegation to unite on a petition to President Hoover for legalization of four per cent beer was lost today in a fog of silence.

For four hours party leaders conferred yesterday with David Baird, the republican gubernatorial standard bearer, and then adjourned, giving no official indication as to what took place.

Additional Charges In Fee System Quiz

AUSTIN, Sept. 29. (AP)—Three of four Central Texas sheriffs recently indicted in connection with alleged extortion of witness and mileage fees were indicted on additional charges by the Travis county grand jury investigating the fee system yesterday.

A fifth indictment was returned against Clinton D. Lewis of Burleson county. Two bills were brought in again; John R. Bigham of Bell county, making three against him and one was added to two already pending against Woody Townsend of Bastrop county.

ONE MAN KILLED

CLEVELAND, Tex., Sept. 29 (AP)—An unidentified man was killed and another injured seriously near Cleveland last night when their automobile overturned on the Houston-Shreveport highway. A third occupant of the automobile escaped uninjured. He told officers he was a "hitch-hiker" and did not know the names of the other two men.

ACTRESS KILLED

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Sept. 29 (AP)—Virginia Doyle, 24, film actress employed by the Warner Brothers National studios, was killed early today in a collision of the large sedan she was driving and an electric freight train near Cahuenga Pass, north of here.

GOES ON TRIAL

PAXTON, Ill., Sept. 29 (AP)—Earl B. Frost, of Texarkana, Ark., a United States army private, went on trial in circuit court today on charges of killing George Yeater, of Malta, Mont., a fellow soldier. Yeater was killed in an automobile near Chanute field army post, Rantoul, Ill., allegedly during a quarrel with Frost.

MAN FOUND DEAD

PITTSBURG, Tex., Sept. 29 (AP)—Oscar Bass, 18, was found dead by members of his family near his home two miles southeast of Pittsburg yesterday. A pistol bullet had penetrated his heart. A note to members of his family was found nearby.

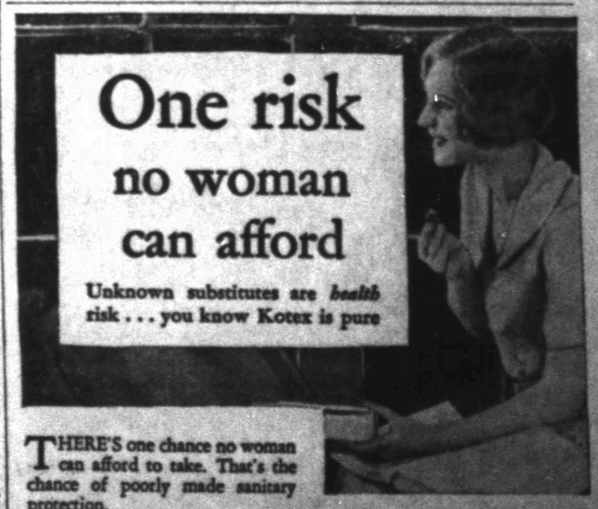

DIES OF INJURIES

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 29 (AP)—Edward J. Ackermann, 46, died at the Baylor hospital last night from injuries received in a dynamite blast on Blanco road about 12 miles from San Antonio early Monday afternoon.

IN THIS WEATHER!

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Policeman George Preeze was hot, despite his name. Imagine his surprize when he saw walking down the street Michael Elroy dressed up in a winter overcoat with the thermometer hovering around 90. Preeze had a suspicion that Elroy was a bit balmy due to the heat. He took Elroy to jail and they investigated. They found that he had purchased the coat at a sale. Elroy went on his way a free man, but prudently carrying his coat on his arm.

JOB BUREAU IS PROGRESSING

OVER HUNDRED HAVE REGISTERED SINCE OFFICE OPENED

Since an employment bureau was opened here under the auspices of the newly formed County-City Welfare association September 18, more than 100 men have registered at the office in former quarters of United Charities, County Judge E. L. Pitts said Monday. Persons filing needs for laborers totaled about the same, the county judge said.

United Charities officially continues until Thursday, October 1, when its formal absorption by the county-city association will be effected.

"During its short existence, the employment office, under the direction of H. M. Cowan, has been very successful in bringing unemployed and jobs together," Judge Pitts said. "Not all of those placed have been in the cotton fields. Mr. Cowan has had several calls for persons who desired to find workers in several different lines.

"There are still many worthy persons out of employment," he said. "We would appreciate having those who have odd jobs about their places of business or residences call the employment office, telephone number 209, and place their names with Mr. Cowan."

PARK SERVICE IS SEEKING TO SAVE TRUMPETER SWAN FROM EXTINCTION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—In practically single-handed combat, the national park service has undertaken to save from extinction the trumpeter swan.

This greatest of American water fowl, which once wintered in great numbers on Chesapeake bay and in California, has been so nearly exterminated that only 30 to 50 are known to exist. Yet, even this remnant gives the park service hope. A few years ago nobody could find any.

Trumpeter weighs about 20 pounds and has a wing spread of eight to ten feet.

In Yellowstone park and adjoining sections their nests and little families have been found on islets in hidden lakes.

Naturalists of the service have been spending days carefully hidden behind rocks watching the cygnets (baby swans) through field glasses.

In almost every instance, they found that the five or six cygnets who took their first swimming lesson the day they broke the eggs had dwindled to one or two within the first month. Ravens, Otters, owls and coyotes are under suspicion.

Because the parks are the only places to save the birds the naturalists are going to suspend one of the rules of sanctuary and will kill any animal found guilty of eating the priceless cygnets. But the evidence must be conclusive.

LITTLE DRUNKENNESS

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29 (AP)—Dr. P. Scott McBride, general secretary of the Anti-Saloon league, asserted here today that there was little drunkenness at the recent American Legion national convention in Detroit.

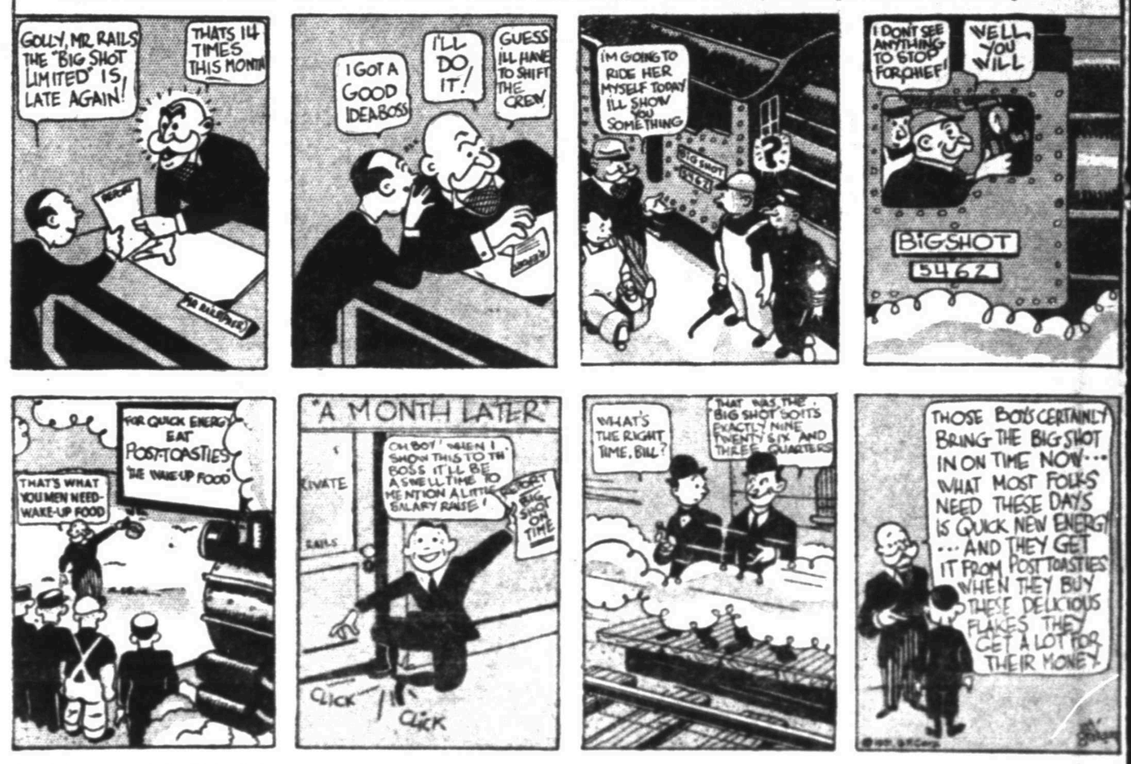

Special Train For Grid Game Favored

The Texas Technological college athletic council Monday night authorized a special train to Dallas for the Texas Tech-Haskell Institute football game there October 13. The special would be on the Fort Worth & Denver City line.

The day of the game, which is "Dallas" day at the Texas State fair, has also been designated as "Tech and South Plains" day. The game is to be played in fair park stadium.

Low excursion rates are being offered for the trip and rail officials are planning for a large train, expecting many South Plains people to take advantage of the offer to visit the fair.

"SPEEDING UP THE LIMITED" An advertisement of General Foods Corporation

HEIRLOOMS OF 1931

A YOUNG member of some far-off generation will take down a piece of stemmed glassware from a cupboard. . . . "Look, they used this glass on their daily table." . . . He will lift a length of glowing drapery from a chest. . . . "They used this curtain at their window."

Heirlooms such as these will indicate to them our 1931 civilization. But there will be another record—the pages of our newspapers and magazines. Here in advertisements they will read of everything worthy that is possessable today. They will sense the countless shops that carry these offerings . . . the endless labor in factories, improving, perfecting things.

Likely enough they will marvel a little that you can buy goods so fresh ("This mayonnaise might have just been made in your kitchen") . . . so carefully prepared ("It took us three years to perfect this cream") . . . so dependable ("This cigarette has always the same satisfying fragrance") . . . so recent ("Only the other day this diamond bracelet came to this country").

Perhaps those far-off readers will want to make some of these purchases themselves—and won't be able to, because of time and distance intervening. But you can! You do! Neither time nor distance deters you. Here it is—anything you wish to buy. Homespun tweeds from Scotland . . . breakfast flakes from sunny wheatlands in the West.

There is romance back of every advertised good thing. Romance of change, of the ceaseless effort at perfection. Avalanche-Journal advertisements are true mirrors of the best to be had today. They give you an easy, happy survey of all that is buyable. They help keep you chic in yourself, your surroundings, every inch of your purchasing. . . . Read them and remember their news.

"Spots On Vests, 'Ain't' On Lips Ruin Of Pastors"

GALESBURG, Ill., Sept. 29 (AP)—Moore ministers fail because of "spots on their vests and 'ain't' on their lips" than from an other cause, Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes told a class of 22 men who were ordained to the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church here.

The ordination services were conducted as part of the annual central Illinois conference of the church.

"No man should say he is sanctified to the work of our Lord when he habitually goes around looking like a pig," Bishop Hughes said.

"And how can you expect a man to win souls when he makes every intelligent person in his congregation cringe every time he speaks a sentence?"
