Holiday Death Toll In Texas Leads Nation

State Reports 20 Highway Fatalities And Five Drownings

By The Associated Press

Late reports Monday placed Texas first in the nation for traffic fatalities during the four-day Fourth of July holiday weekend.

Four deaths from accidents Sunday brought the state traffic toll to 20, three ahead of New York, in second place with 17.

Five drownings and four other fotal accidents brought the Texas weekend total to 29. New York's total was 37.

Mrs. M. L. Garvin, 67, died in Fort Worth Sunday morning from injuries received in an automobile collision Saturday night.

Also in Fort Worth, Douglas Dewitt Davis, 5-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Davis, died early Monday from injuries sustained when the family car overturned near Birdville Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. Davis received minor injuries and a daughter, Betty, 3, was injured seriously.

At Amarillo, Claude E. Trimble, 72, was killed late Saturday when hit by a truck as he crossed a street.

Other late fatalities reported included:

Ocie Lee Lusk, 43, a carpenter, was struck and killed by a freight train Sunday as he walked across a crossing at Houston.

Edgar L. West, 26, of Houston, survivor of nine major Pacific naval battles, was electrocuted Saturday while installing a radio ground wire.

Don Freeman, 8, son of H. M. Freeman of Longview, was killed early Sunday morning in a collision of two automobiles.

Frank Dunn, who lived near Tyler, was killed when his automobile went into a roadside ditch and overturned near Kilgore.

Miss Kitty Simms O'Keefe, 16, high school student, was killed in an automobile accident at Amarillo Sunday.

Claude Martin, 35, was found dead beneath his truck which had struck a tree near De Kalb Saturday.

Mrs. Nona Mae Perry, 21, was burned to death at Houston in an apartment fire Sunday.

Howard Hughes Seriously Hurt In Plane Crash

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—His collar bone and seven ribs broken, his lungs punctured in six places, Howard Hughes was given a fighting chance to live Monday after crashing an experimental plane into three houses and a garage in Beverly Hills late Sunday.

The millionaire movie maker and plane builder was reported "resting easily" in Good Samaritan Hospital. Physicians said the degree of shock suffered by the 41-year-old sportsman in the next 24 to 48 hours would be the determining factor.

Hughes also suffered a broken nose, third degree burns on his hands, and possible skull and left leg fractures in the crash and explosion of his newest plane, the XF-11, unofficially reported to be the fastest long-range craft ever constructed. He was alone on the test hop.

Staggers From Wreckage

Aided by an unidentified Marine sergeant, Hughes staggered from the burning wreckage, was rushed to Good Samaritan for surgery and treatment in an oxygen tent.

Hughes plane had been in the air an hour and one-half. He had radioed the control tower at Burbank airport that his landing gear was not functioning.

Twenty-five minutes before the crash, Hughes radioed that he was having engine trouble. He said he was going to try to make an emergency landing on the Los Angeles Country Club course. That was the last message from him.

Property damage in the crash was estimated by firemen at $10,000. No one except Hughes was injured, however.

E. H. Barron, president, called the meeting and urged attendance by all directors.

Committee Head Terms Testimony Of May About Combine 'Inadequate'

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Rep. Andrews J. May (D-Ky) told the House Monday "there is something sinister in these attacks" on him in connection with the Senate investigation of war profits.

REP. MAY

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Chairman Mead (D-NY) Monday termed "wholly inadequate" the testimony Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky) gave the Senate War Investigating Committee June 4 concerning his relations with an Illinois munitions combine.

Mead commented after putting into the record a transcript of May's testimony at a secret session last month.

The committee had just heard Thomas O'Connell, one of its investigators, testify he was handed $500 in a Chicago hotel with the understanding that he would resign and withdrawn from the investigation.

O'Connell said five $100 bills were given him by Joe L. Martinez, a former Mead committee investigator, as "expense money" preliminary to O'Connell's accepting a political campaign job in New Mexico.

O'Connell said he gave the money back next day.

In his statement to the committee, Chairman Mead said:

"He (May) was not under oath. He left the impression with the Body Of Slain Woman Found In Glasscock Home

BIG SPRING—(AP)—The body of Mrs. Earl Hamilton Williams, 47, was found in a house on the Roy C. Davis ranch in Northeastern Glasscock County Sunday.

Her husband, a ranch employe, told officers he discovered the body upon awakening Sunday morning. He said he last saw her Saturday about 6 p. m. when she left the house to attend a dance.

A coroner's report said she died between 8 p. m. and midnight.

Howard County officers have been unable to find the murder weapon, believed to be a piece of wood or a hammer. A small lake near the house was drained without success.

The couple came to this section about three months ago from Durant, Okla., officers said. They were caring for the Davis place while the owners were absent.

Cotton Acreage Upturn Reported

WASHINGTON—(AP)— The Agriculture Department reported Monday that 18,316,000 acres of cotton were in cultivation on July 1, or 3.2 per cent more than a year ago.

No forecast on production was given. If the yield per acre equals last year's 251 pounds, however, and the fully July acreage is harvested, production this year would be about 9,158,000 bales.

The indicated acreage this July compares with 17,749,000 acres in cultivation a year ago and with an average of 25,608,000 for the 1936-45 ten-year period. Last year's crop totalled 9,015,000 bales compared with the ten-year average of 12,293,000.

The department said this is the first upturn in cotton acreage since 1942.

The acreage in cultivation July 1 and the percentage of the 1945 acreage, respectively, by states included:

Arkansas, 1,660,000 and 107; Louisiana 900,000 and 104; Oklahoma, 1,120,000 and 95; Texas 6,350,000 and 104; New Mexico, 116,000 and 99; Arizona, 145,000 and 94; California, 359,000 and 113.

COMMISSIONERS MEET

The Midland County Commissioners Court was in session Monday with routine business on the agenda.

RAT RUNS RAMPANT—

Riotstick Ruins Rodent's Revolt

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)— A huge rat, obviously angry at being caught in a mousetrap, was waiting for Louis Somershoe and his family Monday when they returned from a weekend out of town.

The rat, with the trap clinging to one leg, chased Somershoe, his wife, and their two small sons onto tables and chairs.

Somershoe finally managed to elude the rat long enough to telephone police. Officer Joe Kelly arrived in a riot car and dispatched the rat with his riotstick.

National Interest Focuses On Senate Race In Minnesota

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Minnesotans voted Monday in a senatorial primary that promises to have visible effect on the trend of national and foreign political policies.

Wrapped up in the Republican race in which Senator Henrik Shipstead is seeking renomination in a battle with Gov. Edward J. Thye are issues that may resound in Congress and be felt in the 1948 Presidential campaign.

Thye carries with him into Monday's contest the hopes of Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen for the next GOP Presidential nomination. If Thye wins, Stassen will recover much of the prestige he lost in Nebraska last month when he backed Gov. Dwight Griswold in an unsuccessful effort to wrest the Republican senatorial nomination from Senator Hugh Butler.

If Thye loses, Stassen's friends here say he is through. They add that this probably would convince the Repbulican leadership that no candidate who holds the strong views on international cooperation expressed by Stassen could expect the politically-necessary solid support from the Midwest in 1948.

Weather

Continued warm weather Tuesday with not much change in temperature. Maximum temperature Sunday was 96 degrees, minimum Monday was 74 degrees.

TRIESTE—(AP)—American troops here have been ordered held in their barracks to prevent a recurrence of anti-Allied demonstrations by pro-Italian groups which injured 11 persons Saturday night.

BUDAPEST—(AP)—Hungarian informants report that Soviet Lt. Gen. Sviridov has sent Prime Minister Ferenec Nagy a note which may cause the collapse of the predominantly small holder government, which is largely anti-Communist in its leanings. They said Sviridov's note contained demands for disbanding of the Hungarian Boy Scout and Catholic Youth organizations on the grounds they are "Fascist."

Council Still Deadlocked On Conclave Bids

Russia Steadfast In Opposition To Invitation Question

PARIS—(AP)—The foreign ministers council recessed after a morning meeting Monday, still deadlocked on the question of sending out invitations for a 21-nation peace conference July 29.

Arguments that have marked Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's opposition to sending invitations for the conference unless they were accompanied by a strict code of rules for its procedure were presented again Monday in the face of pleas by Secretary Byrnes and Secretary Bevin to have the invitations go out immediately.

The American and British secretaries said they were willing to discuss procedure rules as suggestions but would not attempt to foist them on the other nations.

Meet Again Monday

The ministers were to resume their session late Monday.

Sources close to the council said that failure to reach an immediate solution of the procedural problem upon which the foreign ministers have been deadlooked since Friday might result in indefinite postponement of the proposed peace conference.

The Soviet news agency Tass, meanwhile, injected a new note of dissension into the proceedings by asserting that the British, American and French representatives had begun "secret" talks concerning Germany from which Russia was excluded.

Whether there was any information for the Tass report could not immediately be ascertained.

Russia Makes Demands

The deadlock on the peace conference stemmed from Russia's insistent demands that the Big Four impose a set of rules of procedure on the conference.

These rules, which Russia proposed be sent out with invitations to the conference, included a proviso that a two-thirds majority vote of the conference should be required in order to make any changes in the draft treaties submitted by the foreign ministers.

American sources maintained that with six Slavic states—Byelo, Russia, Czechoslovakia, Poland, the Ukraine, the USSR, and Yugoslavia—traditionally voting as a bloc, the two-thirds rule would make it virtually impossible for the peace conference to change anything in the draft treaties without the approval of those nations.

Nation's Holiday Death Toll Lower Than Anticipated

By The Associated Press

The nation Monday counted up 224 dead in traffic accidents during the four-day independence celebration, but this toll was far less than had been expected and even considerably below that for an ordinary four-day weekend period.

The National Safety Council says 400 persons normally die in traffic mishaps during an ordinary four days which include a Saturday and Sunday. Weighing this average to allow for extra holiday traffic, the council had estimated 450 would lose their lives in road accidents from 6 p. m. last Wednesday to 12:01 a. m. Monday.

The council had predicted 1,300 persons would die violently but only 495 violent deaths were reported, including the traffic fatalities, 159 drownings and 112 deaths from miscellaneous violent causes.

No Let Up In Heat In Sight For Texas

By The Associated Press

The U. S. Weather Bureau Monday said there is no let-up in sight for the current heatwave that has all Texas sweltering in the high 90's and above 100.

Only a few widely scattered showers brought temporary drops in pin-point areas over the state Sunday. Continuance of such showers is the only relief the weather bureau promises.

Wichita Falls turned in a high of 102 for Sunday, with Guadalupe Pass registering Sunday night's low with 59. Pampa was the state's second hottest spot with 100.

Rioting In Trieste

Civilian police arrest a demonstrator during riots in Trieste, Yugoslavia. Both Italy and Yugoslavia are claiming this Adriatic port but it appears that the foreign ministers of the Big Four, meeting in Paris, have settled the question by agreeing to internationalize the city.

A Scharbauer Rides Again As Top Hand For Ranch Interests

By TANNER LAINE

A true son of the West and friend of Midland throughout his years, the late Clarence Scharbauer, Sr., beloved and respected cattleman and rancher, somewhere today is happy and smiling, and proud.

The button he loved, his son, Clarence Scharbauer, Jr., is taking over.

The son was 21 Saturday. Monday he begins the responsibility of the ownership and direction of the vast, sprawling Scharbauer estate—the home of fine beef cattle and source of vast richness in oil.

The Scharbauers can take responsibility with a good head on their shoulders at a very young age. Clarence Senior at 10 years old was selling newspapers in the streets of New York, and supporting a family. At 19 he was supervising the huge Scharbauer interests of West Texas.

Colorful Clarence Scharbauer, Sr. was mixed up in everything that meant growth and prosperity for Midland. He was just as much at home in the presence of civic leaders as he was in the saddle out on his ranches.

He fathered many enterprises which have become boosts for Midland. He still is missed and missed a lot.

What of the son? The young man? The young cattle baron?

Son Was in Service

Clarence Junior has just returned from service in the U. S. Navy. Two and one-half years this young man gave for his country before stepping up to accept the leadership of the many Scharbauer holdings.

The magnitude of his estate and his ownings does not affect Clarence. He is a clean-cut and capable young man. His dad trained him well. He sent the son to the ranch at a very early age. He made him learn ranching from the bottom up.

Clarence Scharbauer, Jr., was just one of the hands when he was growing up. He took his tour with the cowboys, and they swear by him.

Saturday he was roping calves at the Pecos Rodeo. Monday he is owner and responsible for some of the largest ranch holdings in Texas and New Mexico.

He inherits much more than ranch land. There is the Scharbauer Hotel. There is a radio station. There are the many oil wells and other properties.

As with his father, the ranches are the first love of Clarence.

You see him around town and you know him and he knows you. He is friendly and unaffected. He wears working ranch clothes and he talks the West Texas language.

Clarence Senior died in 1942. He left his vast estate to his son to take over when the boy became a man. Saturday he did. Monday he steps down from the oil painting picture of a ranch boy that hangs in the Scharbauer Hotel and becomes a ranchman.

Top hand today is Clarence Scharbauer, Jr., and he sits the saddle well.

Southwest Ector Wildcat Taking DST To 7,390 Ft.

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor

E. E. Fogelson and Cosden Petroleum Corporation No. 1-D-C University, Southwest Ector County wildcat, in the Penwell shallow field, and in northwest quarter of section 1, block 35, University survey, contracted to around 9,500 feet to explore the Ellenburger, was at 7,390 feet, in a lime, understood to possibly be Silurian, and was taking a drillstem test Monday.

Operator had not reported having logged any shows of oil or gas—but such evidences must have been encountered for the test to have been ordered.

No Oil Developed

Northern Ordnance, Inc., No. 1 Walker, South-Central Gaines County wildcat, in section 45, block 6, H&GN survey, and about 10 miles south of Post, was to drill ahead from 2,475 feet, after the section from 2,410 feet to total depth had failed to show more than slight signs of oil.

After swabbing the hole out, natural, and finding only extremely light signs of petroleum, operator treated the open hole with 8,000 gallons of acid.

The formation took the acid well. Residue and load from the treatment was swabbed out. The well then swabbed heads of acid water and formation water, with slight signs of oil. It was determined that the section could not produce oil in commercial quantities, and the deepening was ordered.

Slight Gas Signs

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 E. P. Cowden, Southwest Andrews County exploration, on the southeast side of the Dollar Hide field, and in northwest quarter of section 13, block A-55, psl survey, was bottomed at 10,650 feet, in Devonian, taking a drillstem test.

A test was run for one hour and 20 minutes at 10,574-620 feet. Recovery was the 2,000-foot water blanket, and 120 feet of gas cut drilling mud. No signs of oil, or of salt water developed.

Warren Petroleum Corporation has staked location for a wildcat to around 6,400 feet, in Northeast Coke County, to test for pay in the Ellenburger.

East of a Dry Hole

The project will be Warren's No. 1 J. T. Hamilton estate, and is 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 275, block 1-A, H&TC survey. It will be three-quarters of a mile east of same company's No. 1 Flower, abandoned as dry in May,

Judge Rules OPA Death Does Not Affect Suits

CHICAGO —(AP)— Circuit Judge Robert Jerome Dunne ruled Monday that the death of the OPA did not affect suits pending for violation of the act before June 30.

He refused to dismiss a suit against Milton Feilchenfeld, operator of three South Side meat markets, in which the OPA seeks an injunction and damages, alleging over-ceiling sale of meat.

Price Rises Of Last Week Show Need Of Controls, Senator Says

President Truman Reported Ready To Sign Present Version Of Legislation

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) appealed Monday for quick revival of OPA, saying that price rises reported in the last week emphasize the "need for resumption of controls."

Opening Senate debate on compromise legislation extending OPA, Barkley also asked his colleagues not to "thresh over old straws" in discussing the controversial measure.

"We have already seen the results of one week of the lack of price control," he said, urging speedy action.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A prediction of presidential approval was thrown behind the compromise OPA renewal bill Monday as Senators dug in for a showdown fight over whether—and how—to revive price controls.

With the nation entering its second week since the death of the war-born agency, a Capitol Hill adviser to President Truman let it be known he "has no doubt" that the Chief Executive will sign the pending measure if leaders can bludgeon it through Congress in its present form.

This official, who declined to be quoted by name, emphasized to a reporter that he was not attempting to forecast Truman's reaction if any of a new series of restricting amendments are written into the measure.

The word that Truman apparently is satisfied with what Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) was able to bring out of the banking committee was passed down through the ranks in an obvious attempt to offset the criticism voiced last week against the compromise by OPA Administrator Paul Porter.

Odessa Murder Suspect Held Without Bond

ODESSA—(AP)— County Attorney W. O. Shafer said John L. Nall, 28, charged with murder in connection with the shooting of the husband of his former wife, would be held here without bond until grand jury action is taken on his case.

Nall was returned here from Austin Sunday.

The defendant was charged with the shooting of Glen T. Thornton last Wednesday. Mrs. Thornton, to whom Nall had been married eight years before they were divorced, was beaten unconscious at the time her husband was slain.

Nall lived in Palestine, Texas, most of his life, moving to Houston following his divorce in April, 1946. He was married in 1939.

He told officers he was an electrical engineering student at A&M College from 1934 to 1936.

Truman Appeals For Passage Of Loan To British

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman told the House Monday that unless it votes the $3,750,000,000 British loan, "it will be difficult, if not impossible, to proceed with the United Nations program for international economic cooperation."

Economic conflict between Great Britain and the United States, Truman said, would be "disastrous to the economic well-being of both countries."

The President and Secretary of State Byrnes personally made new appeals for the loan as some administration leaders privately voiced concern at how the House will vote. Debate on the loan starts Monday.

Truman appealed for consideration in the House by Democrats and Republicans, without reference to party affiliations.

Brynes, in a cablegram from Paris where he is participating in the foreign ministers conference, declared "the British loan is the first essential economic step toward peace and security."

C Of C Directors To Hear Highway Report

Midland's overall highway program will be submitted to members of the board of directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting in the Private Rining Room of Hotel Scharbauer at 8 p. m. Monday. Fred Wemple, chairman of the chamber's highway committee, will make the report.

Reports of other committees also will be heard and other matters of importance will be acted upon, officials said.

O. C. Harper, president, urged a full attendance of board members.

Famine Faster

Claude A. Baxter, former Los Angeles chef, is about half-way through with his planned 100-day fast to arouse public sentiment and action to aid the world's starving children. He's pictured sipping coffee on the 43rd day, by which time he had lost 42½ pounds.

Miguel Aleman Claims Victory In Mexico Vote

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Miguel Aleman, 42-year-old candidate of the powerful government party (PRI), Monday claimed election as president of Mexico in balloting Sunday which brought charges of fraud from his principal opponent, former Foreign Minister Ezequiel Padilla.

Two deaths and a number of minor casualties marked the voting, in which the army was used for the first time in history to police polling places.

Although the results will not be known officially until Thursday, Aleman declared there was no doubt of his election and formally thanked the people of Mexico for "the great honor they have conferred upon me." His defeat would be regarded here as a tremendous political upset.

Padilla, candidate of the Mexican Democratic Party, charged that the election in the federal district, which includes Mexico City and its environs, was "stained by the gravest of frauds" and added:

"The army maintained order, but did not have facilities to avoid fraudulent maneuvers x x x."

Approximately 3,000,000 Mexicans were estimated to have voted in the elections, at which 174 deputies and 58 senators were chosen in addition to a president. Both houses of congress are now controlled by a heavy government party majority.

Lawyer's Guild May Seek Clark Removal

CLEVELAND—(AP)— The National Lawyers Guild is resolved to seek the removal of Attorney General Tom C. Clark unless he "reverses the policies" of the Department of Justice.

Irked by a speech Clark made recently in Chicago, the guild so decided in a resolution adopted at the final session of the organization's 10th annual convention Sunday.

Speaking before the bar association in Chicago June 21, Clark said one of the greatest dangers to "civil liberties of our fellow citizens and one which should be taken literally by all the members of our profession, is the method of Communism and Fascism to shackle democracy by indirection."

New Mexico Milkmen May Halt Deliveries

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(AP)—A. F. Black, president of the Middle Rio Grande Milk Producers Association, said 200 dairies in a four-county area are ready to halt local deliveries Monday unless Albuquerque distributors meet a demand for an increase of 50 cents a pound in the price of butterfat.

Illusion And Reality

The Navy has just completed tests of a ram jet engine called the "flying stovepipe" which prove, according to one engineer, that "the ram jet is a practical method of achieving high speed flight at high altitudes."

But what the engineer, the Navy and everyone else apparently forgot to mention was that the Nazis proved the "flying stovepipe's" practicality two years ago, when they used it to power the deadly V-1 weapon.

The recent Army Air Forces show at Wright Field unveiled some interesting new aircraft developments and promised others, such as a plane capable of supersonic speed.

But shortly afterward it was announced that a new American corporation had been licensed to build British jet propulsion and turbine aircraft engines in this country. Since the British obviously don't hope or want to build engines for our military planes, it may be assumed that they feel capable of competing with American industry for commercial jet-engine customers right in the Americans' own back yard.

These two examples tend to dispel the prevalent impression among Americans that our country leads in all phases of aviation development, as it actually does in the transport field. Obviously, that impression is not accurate, as the aviation subcommittee of the Mead National Defense Committee pointed out in a recent report.

But the Mead subcommittee findings, based on long and thorough inquiry, did not attract much attention. The report said substantially what a half-dozen other exhaustive surveys have said in the past year:

We lack a "clear and farsighted national policy in aircraft research and development."

We lack adequate facilities for that research and development.

Our wartime aircraft production, while approaching the miraculous, was still attended by delay, confusion and mistakes.

The British government is "energetically supporting" research.

Russia has an extensive aviation research program.

German leadership in jet propulsion and guided missiles was "a direct reflection upon the scope of our aeronautical research and development in prewar years."

These things are not news to the Army and Navy or to the aircraft industry. They shouldn't be to the rest of us. Yet, though the story has been told so often that it's beginning to sound like a broken record, neither the requested policy for facilities nor funds are yet at hand.

For fiscal 1946 the Army asked $245,677,400 and the Navy $148,256,450 for research and development. Congress granted the full Navy request and gave the Army $200,000,000. But the Bureau of the Budget recommended only $115,000,000 for the Army and $61,000,000 for the Navy.

The Mead report states again the familiar fact that 'actual and projected improvements in aircraft and missiles threaten to dissipate our historic natural defenses." For the sake of our national safety until peace is secure, a way should be found to impress Congress and the country with what we DON'T have in the way of newest-type air power, rather than to provide a steady diet of information that leads to complacency.

Some fellows are so suspicious they count their fingers after shaking hands.

1944, which swabbed a small amount of oil from the Ellenburger, topped at 6,392 feet.

Warren and Humble Oil & Refining Company are understood to own a spread of about 10,000 acres around the location for the new exploration.

Hunt Oil Company No. 1 Hill, Southeast Winkler County prospector, in section 9, block B-11, psl survey, and about eight miles southeast of Kermit, was swabbing to test on perforations at 6,185-6,220 feet, in the Tubb-Permian.

That section had shown some interesting signs of possible production in cores and drillstem tests.

The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-P-31, University, 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 27, block 31, University survey, has been completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 558.36 barrels of 44.2 gravity oil, flowing natural through a 3/8-inch tubing choke, from Devonian pay, above total depth at 9,000 feet.

Extender Shows Good Flow

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 2 Hare, 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 33-21s-37e, and an old shallow producer on the north side of the Penrose-Skelly field, in the Eunice area of East-Central Lea County, New Mexico, and which has extended the production from the Drinkard, lower Permian pay, perforated casing set on bottom at 6,490-6,504 feet; at 6,516-54 feet, and at 6,556-6,602 feet, with a total 352 shots.

The project was swabbed 10 times and kicked off and flowed 175 barrels of oil in 10 hours, through a 1/2-inch choke, with an average shakeout of one per cent drilling water.

In a subsequent 10-hour flowing test, it make 193 barrels of oil, through a 1/2-inch choke, with a cut of two-tenths of one per cent basic sediment. Gravity was 38.4 degrees and gas-oil ratio was 1,137-1. The project is now to be officially completed and put on production.

committee that he made a few disinterested telephone calls that were more or less incidental. Testimony has since revealed that he made many telephone calls which were repetitious and troublesome.

"The committee has invited him to testify in open session and give whatever information he may have, but he has so far failed to accept that invitation."

The committee has received testimony from Army ordnance officers that May repeatedly importuned them to give contracts to the Illinois combine. The interlocked companies received over $78,000,000 in contracts and their officers were paid salaries which Mead called "war profiteering at its worst."

Mead said it was his understanding that May had requested that the June 4 testimony be made public and further that he had "intimated that it was to be his answer."

May Asked Hearing

When the committee heard May, Mead said, it was at the Kentuckian's request, and no mention was made of Erie Basin Metal Products Company or Batavia Metal Products Company checks, which figured in public testimony as having been given to the Cumberland Lumber Company of Prestonsburg, Ky., for lumber which was never delivered.

Further, Mead said, "no mention was made of the signatures of A. J. May which appeared on the backs of some of the checks." May was not cross-examined, the chairman added.

Newsprint Shortage May Not End In 1947

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Sam R. Bloom, director of advertising of The Dallas Times-Herald, told members of the Texas Newspapers Advertising Managers' Association here Sunday that he could not see a supply of newsprint to meet the demand "before some time in 1947 or later."

"I've spent practically the last year in Canada trying to relieve our newsprint shortage," he said. "There is little or no possibility that the capacity of the Canadian mills will be increased." He said he believed the situation would improve gradually.

If telephone service is slower ...here's why!

We're taking emergency steps to bring telephone service to people who are waiting.

We're adding more telephones to switchboards already heavily loaded—more telephones than the switchboards were ever intended to handle. This may slow up telephone service here at the busiest times of the day.

In normal times we wouldn't even consider such action. But many people are waiting for service. And new equipment is hard to get and takes considerable time to make and install. The size of the job staggers imagination. Telephone equipment is needed everywhere in large volume.

That's why it is necessary to load the present switchboards to the very limit.

As fast as we can in the face of material shortages we're pushing our construction program. Our first goal is to serve everybody who is waiting. Then we'll restore service to prewar standards as quickly as we can. It will cost a good deal. This year we plan to spend 47 million dollars in the five states we serve.

Sometimes you may not hear "Number, please?" promptly
With switchboards here heavily loaded, the operator may not always be able to answer your signal as promptly as she and you would like. This may be true especially during the busy calling hours, in midmorning and early evening.
If you do not hear the operator's "Number, please?" for a few seconds after you lift your receiver, we hope you'll understand why. She will answer just as soon as she can.

"STILL snubbing Jim Hallock, Sally?" Carolyn asked casually.

Sally felt the blood rush to her cheeks and tried to answer indifferently, but it wasn't too convincing. "I haven't seen Doctor Hallock to talk to in days, Carolyn. And I don't think I snub him."

"He thinks you do, and it's really too bad, because he's such a fine young man. I'm very fond of Jim—Dick likes him, too, don't you, darling?"

"Fine chap. He's going into the service very soon now, I hear. He seems eager to go. I hope he comes back safely. After this mess is over America is going to need his sort. There aren't too many of them."

Sally said nothing for a moment. She was hoping against hope that Blair Canfield's name would not be brought up and as if her very fear generated the thought, Richard Gregory said sympathetically:

"So many fine young men will not come back. Of course there are any number of the missing who later are found in concentration camps or stranded on uninhabited atolls far off the beaten track and most of them appear none the worse for the experience. I have found it a very good idea to hang on—not to give up hope."

"But, Dick," Carolyn protested, "Sally was a child and Blair couldn't have been much more when he went away. What do youngsters of seventeen or eighteen know of love? They might not even like each other now. Have you ever thought of that, Sally?"

"Why must we talk about it?" Sally asked wretchedly.

"BECAUSE it is spoiling your life, darling," the young physician persisted. "Dick is going to see what he can do about it. He has ways and means of finding out things and perhaps your Blair is alive somewhere. If so, you should know and if he actually is dead—why, then you can put him completely out of your mind and life. I don't mean to sound callous, darling; but you are too young to spend all your life grieving over a childish romance."

"I'll find out what I can, Sally," Richard Gregory promised her, "and will let you know as soon as I have anything definite to report."

Sally said nothing. Her heart was lead—her mind in a turmoil. What had she done? This Richard Gregory would discover there was no aviator by the name of Blair Canfield lost in the Pacific at the beginning of the war. Then what? Just what did that make her? She heard the clock in the hall chime ten and stood up.

"I've got to go, Carolyn," she said and scarcely recognized her own voice. "I'm on a very special case right now—Doctor Channing—and there are certain things I must do tonight. The dinner was delicious, Mrs. Bacon, and I have enjoyed meeting you, Mr. Gregory."

"May I walk back to the hospital with you, Sally?" Carolyn's fiance asked as she slipped into her light coat.

"It really isn't necessary," she demurred. "I don't mind going alone—I'm not the least bit timid —"

"I can believe that," the young man grinned. "But just the same I want to go, if I may."

"Of course you may," Carolyn told him. "Good night, darling, and when you see Jim Hallock, be a little kind to him. He deserves it."

SALLY said good night and the two started out on the long walk back to the hospital. They had gone scarcely two blocks when Richard Gregory asked softly: "Just what is there about this Blair Canfield, Sally? Just why do you want me to keep hands off?"

And because Sally was upset and at the end of her rope, she blurted out the whole story almost in one breath. The hand on her elbow pressed gently and the voice that had haunted her for weeks murmured sympathetically:

"I think I understand, my dear. You're not the stuff of which successful liars are made, hence your feeling of embarrassment and shame. But you haven't committed a very heinous crime, Sally. I doubt if anyone, even the man himself—were such a person in existence—could find it in his heart to censure you. My advice to you is to forget it—the entire affair. Put Blair Canfield—and that name sounds strangely familiar to me somehow—entirely out of your life. What about this young Hallock? He seems a fine chap and Carolyn thinks he's fond of you."

"No!" the girl cried. "Don't you see? He knows about—he thinks—he's heard—"

"That's all right," the man said evenly; "competition is often a very good thing."

"Shall you tell Carolyn, Mr. Gregory?" she asked dubiously.

"Why should I?" he countered. "And why not waive formalities, Sally? After all, I'm going to marry one of your best friends. 'Dick' is very easy to say and I want us to be friends. No, I shall be quite unsuccessful in getting any information regarding Blair Canfield — possibly even prove conclusively that he is dead. It shall be our secret, Sally. No one else need ever know. Feel better?"

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

There was a battle of wits on today's hand in a recent tournament and careless defenders lost the contract. Fred L. Karpin of Brooklyn, N. Y., read through East's keen defense and made a nice play to make his contract.

At most tables declarer trumped the ace of diamonds with a small spade and took four rounds of trumps. The ten of clubs was led and the finesse taken, and if East won with the king the contract was safe because the losing hearts were discarded on the good clubs.

At some tables East refused to win with the king of clubs, and declarer cashed the ace and king of hearts, hoping to drop the queen doubleton, and if that did not work, intending to take another club finesse. Then of course East won the second club finesse and a heart trick was cashed.

Karpin took the club finesse immediately after trumping the first diamond. When East refused to win, Karpin then cashed the ace and king of hearts and led the third round of hearts with the intention of ruffing a heart with the ten of spades if the hearts did not break. This play made his contract.

Many big hands are lost because declarer takes too much for granted. Because the ten of clubs stood up in this case, some South players assumed that East did not have the king, but the holdup of the king was a simple defensive play.

Absentee Balloting For Primary Starts

By The Associated Press

Texans have already started casting absentee ballots in the first Democratic primary, three weeks hence, while candidates for major offices stumped in all parts of the state.

Absentee voting, with results carefully guarded by legal processes designed to insure secrecy, officially started Sunday and will continue until July 23.

Ballots so cast by persons unable for legally specified reasons to be in their precincts July 27 will be carefully guarded by county clerks and delivered to election judges two days before the primary. These early ballots will be counted on election day.

State Street Loafer Has Radical Solution

CHICAGO—(AP)—Inflation is hitting the boys on South State Street—Chicago's bowery.

One of them told a reporter that his living costs had gone to $18 a week — with flophouse lodging boosted from 15 cents to 30 cents and meals upped to 70 cents from 20.

"That's too much," this party said. "A guy can't relax." He said he planned to escape the vicious circle by going to work.

Nelson Squeezes Out Victory In Columbus Open

COLUMBUS, OHIO —(AP)— Byron Nelson, one of Texas' prize gifts to golf, is back on the winning trail.

Nelson, who now plays out of Toledo, Ohio, headed Monday for the Kansas City Open with a check for $2,500 in his pocket as the result of a two-stroke victory Sunday in the $10,000 Columbus Invitational Open golf tournament.

The triumph was the first for Nelson since he won the Houston Invitational in May.

His victory Sunday over the 6,697-yard Columbus Country Club course was a typical bit of workmanship. He was three strokes out of the lead at the end of the first round Friday. The 36-hole post found him two strokes off the pace but when the final 36 holes came up he peeled eight strokes off par to shoot 69-67 for a 72-hole total of 276. That was 12 under par and won top money.

The first place boosted Nelson's 1946 winnings to $16,703.75, second only to Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa.

American League Hurlers Prove Superiority On Eve Of Mis-Matched Major All-Star Classic In Boston Tuesday

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

National League partisans, already fully aware that their favorites will enter Tuesday's all-star contest in Boston against the American League's best on the short end of the worst mis-match in the classic's 13-year history, must have experienced that sinking sensation Monday.

If any National Leaguer nursed a hope that the junior circuit's pitching twins, Cleveland's Bobby Feller and Detroit's Hal Newhouser, would not be "right" for the "dream game," that must be dispelled by now.

Bob Feller

Feller, already named by American League All-Star Manager Steve O'Neill as his starting pitcher, whipped the Chicago White Sox 3-2 for his 15th victory of the season. The Indian fireballer whipped six batters to raise his season total to 190 in 179 innings. The Sox, behind Eddie Lopat's two-hit twirling, copped the nightcap, 5-0.

Newhouser, expected to hurl the middle three frames for the Harridge clan, turned in a brilliant five-hit performance in blanking the St. Louis Browns 3-0 in a single fray. It was the 10th straight time the lefthander had tamed the Brownies, and his 16th triumph of the season—tops for all hurlers.

Spud Chandler, the choice to twirl the final three frames for the American Leaguers, did not fare as well. He yielded five hits and three runs in six innings to the Athletics as the New York Yankees and Philadelphia divided a doubleheader. The Yanks won the opener 7-3, but the 4's won the second 4-1 as young Bob Savage outhurled Chandler for his first victory of the season.

Sox Increase Lead

The Red Sox increased their first-place lead over the runner-up Yankees to seven and a half games by taking the measure of Washington's Senators twice, 11-1 and 9-4.

The St. Louis Cardinals' Howie Pollet yielded only three hits as he shut out the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-0 in the nightcap of a doubleheader for his ninth win of the year and his fifth in his last six starts.

The Cards also won the opener 4-3 to gain a full game on the front-running Brooklyn Dodgers, who now lead by five games as a result of their split with the Boston Braves. A ninth inning two-run rally gave the Hubmen a 3-2 victory in the opener but the Brooks came back to win the nightcap 4-2.

The New York Giants downed the Philadelphia Phillies twice to wrest sixth place from their opponents. The Giants clubbed out a 10-2 second game win after Mickey Witek's two-run homer won the opener 2-1.

In a single encounter, Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-2. Johnny Vander Meer went all the way for his fifth victory.

Cats And Rebels Stage Thriller For Loop Fans

By The Associated Press

The leading Fort Worth Cats and third-place Dallas staged another thriller Sunday for benefit of Texas League fans with the Cats coming out on top, 8-7.

The score was tied and two out in the home half of the ninth inning when Boris Woyt stole home to break up a two hour and 43 minute game which had been a heated contest all afternoon.

Stiff competition for close battles came from the Tulsa Oilers and the Oklahoma City Indians. Lou Vezeleich's single to deep short drove in Clarence Maddern from third and gave Tulsa a 5-4 ten-inning decision.

The Oilers were trailing, 4-3, going into the home half of the ninth when Joe Rullo slammed a home run over the fence and sent the game into overtime.

The San Antonio Missions increased their second-place standing in the league as they swept a twin bill, 6-0 and 5-1, from Shreveport. Ed Cole limited the Missions to five hits in the opener. Sig Jakucki turned in his 10th win of the season, giving up only four hits.

The Beaumont Exporters swept a doubleheader, 2-1 and 4-0, from Houston with the pitching of Manager Jim Turner and John Bianco. In the nightcap, Bianco set the Buffs down with only two hits.

We, at Dunlap's in Midland,

Challenge

the repeated statements of chronic gossipers and "cry-baby" commentators, about machines running very rapidly in re-marking merchandise.

With the inception of the OPA and its tributaries, we have followed as nearly as humanly possible these regulations:

RMPR	330	Women's and Children's outerwear.
RMPR	578	Preticketed garments.
RMPR	208	Maximum prices for work clothing.
MPR	177	Men's and Boy's Tailored Clothing.
MPR	547	Maximum prices for low price garments.
MPR	580	Wearing apparel and house furnishings.
MPR	607	Revision of prices by manufacturers.
MPR	332	Simplified Men's and Boys' shirts and pajamas
RMPR	506	Maximum prices for staple work gloves.
RMPR	304	Specified utility shirts.
MPR	580	Section 13, which orders and approves price marking.
RMPR	301	Rubber and products of which rubber is a component.
MPR	584	Personal and household accessories.
MPR	140	Sanitary napkins and tampons.
GMPR		Commodities and services.
MPR	339	Ladies' hosiery.
MPR	142	Retail prices for summer seasonal commodities
MPR	210	Retail prices for fall and winter commodities.
MPR	602	Synthetic Textile products.

Every item in this tremendous stock still wears the price tag it was wearing June 30th. Not a single one has been changed and all preticketed items are still in full view and will remain so until sold at that figure or given away.

When you look at all the rules and regulations of the OPA as outlined above, you'll understand that it hasn't been a "picnic" checking each item that enters our back door for re-sale under all of the classifications and categories imaginable. But, we are still doing it!

We, at Dunlap's in Midland, assure you that price stability and price policy as established under free business enterprise many, many years ago still hold true in this West Texas Institution.

AND WE PROMISE

THIS STORE will advance no prices on merchandise on hand!

THIS STORE will not exceed our margin of pre-war years!

THIS STORE will resist all unwarranted price increase on supplies!

AND

THIS STORE will use our best efforts to continue bringing you nationally known, nationaly advertised, quality merchandise tomorrow, just as it has in the last quarter century.
