Gigantic New Cargo Plane Put On Budget

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration has announced a $750 million Christmas present for the Air Force, but has kept its silence about decisions that will produce less joy in the services.

The single dramatic item in the new military budget, discussed by President Johnson and defense chiefs Tuesday, appears to be the gigantic cargo plane which will be developed over several years at an eventual cost of $750 million.

A portion of the airplane development money will be included in the new budget being sent to Congress next month. Called C-5, the plane is intended for service in the 1970s.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara discussed the C-5 design, a product of Air Force studies last year, after Tuesday's conference at Johnson's Texas ranch. This news deflected attention from some other aspects of the new defense budget.

Army Loses Men
The Army will lose 15,000 men, authorized on a temporary basis two years ago for an experimental air assault division.

The Air Force will begin a manpower drop which will reach significant proportions in several years and probably will total more than 12,000 in the next 18 months.

The Navy will gain somewhat in authorized manpower, mainly for Polaris submarines, but will face recruiting difficulties because of speculation that the military draft may end.

The Army will continue development of its Nike-X anti-missile system but will not put it into production. McNamara will not approve deployment of Nike-X unless Congress simultaneously votes a big fallout shelter program.

Limited To Parts
The Air Force will be restricted to developing parts of a possible new strategic warplane, chiefly engines and electronics, despite its urging that a plane itself be built.

The Air Force Minuteman missile program will be limited to the presently authorized figure of 1,000 of which 650 now are operational. It wanted another 200. It will buy, however, more of the advanced Minuteman 2 missiles to replace older versions.

The Navy will give up several new warships it had wanted in the new budget.

The present prospect is that the new federal budget may reach $103 billion, of which the defense share would be somewhat under $50 billion.

This year's defense spending is $49.8 billion and McNamara would like to shave it next year. This makes for a tight squeeze because of heavy fixed costs. For example, the military, civilian and retired payroll runs to about $20 billion a year.

Nearly all the rest is spent under contracts — for maintenance, operations, production and research. And the market for industry is going to tighten.

Requests for appropriation of new money, to be spent over several years, will be cut in the new budget, thus indicating a downturn for future years.

Malaysians Surround Invaders in Swamp

PONTIAN, Malaysia (UPI) — More than 30 Indonesian guerrillas landed on Malaysian territory at dawn today from two boats in the Straits of Malacca, according to officials here.

Malaysian authorities rushed security forces to the area of the incursion and declared 100 miles of coastline facing Indonesia off limits to ships and boats. The invaders were reported trapped in a swamp.

A Malaysian spokesman said the invaders landed from two large boats at the mouth of the river three miles north of the town of Kukup on the western coast. Police pinpointed the spot as about 30 miles west of Singapore.

A spokesman said four of the Indonesians, dressed in civilian clothing and carrying British-made submachine guns, captured two young boys. A third boy and a Malay adult escaped and spread the alarm.

About three hours later, other villagers spotted 20 armed guerrillas crossing a road about one mile inland.

Malaysian field force police and a regiment of Malay troops converged on the coastal strip, which is the same general area where 108 guerrillas staged the first Indonesian invasion of the Malaysian mainland on Aug. 17. Most of the interlopers were either killed or captured.

Another Probe Due TFX Plane

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, who joked only Tuesday that he "spent more time before the investigating committees of Congress than in the development" of the controversial TFX fighter-bomber, appears headed for some repeat performances.

The Senate permanent investigations subcommittee plans to resume its probe into the TFX. The first model of the much fought-over warplane made its first flight Monday at Carswell Air Force Base in Fort Worth.

The chairman of the investigating subcommittee, Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., said the next hearings would be held during the coming session of Congress and would concentrate on the cost and performance of the plane.

The first phase of the hearings, which lasted more than eight months and several times sparked bitter exchanges, dealt with the award of the contract to build the plane to the General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth.

The military chiefs reportedly were in favor of giving the contract to the Boeing Corp. of Seattle. Congressional critics said that political expediency landed the contract — expected to be worth $7 billion if the plane works out — for General Dynamics.

McNamara defended the contract award to General Dynamics, arguing that maintenance and repair costs would be lower with their version.

Charges Pend In Shooting

Charges were expected to be filed in Gray County Court today against an 18-year-old Pampa youth in connection with the shooting of his father-in-law.

Pampa Police Chief Jim Conner said charges of attempted murder or aggravated assault would be filed against the man pending outcome of the condition of the father-in-law.

Raymond Miller, 37, of 608 N. Wynne, was transferred to Northwest Texas hospital in Amarillo early Wednesday after being shot four times with a .22-caliber pistol.

Amarillo hospital attendants said Miller was in critical condition.

Police said the 18-year-old, who's name will not be released until charges are filed, told them he shot Miller because he was beating his (Miller's) wife and was intoxicated.

Police said they found the weapon used in the shooting outside the house.

Fair Weather for Santa, Christmas

Santa Claus will have no trouble landing his jet plane on the Pampa Airport Christmas Eve. The runways will be clear. There is no snow in sight.

Floods, Snow, High Winds Pound U.S.

Compiled From UPI Wire Dispatches
Heavy rains, snow and wind dampened the outlook for a Merry Christmas for many states throughout the U. S. today.

Floods roared out of control in Northern California, Oregon and Nevada today and no letup is in sight.

New danger spots developed in Nevada and Idaho.

Unusually mild temperatures melted snow packs in sections of the Rockies and triggered wild Chinook winds that caused damage in Colorado.

Thick fog swept eastward from the Mississippi River, making driving hazardous. Snow and bitter cold swept across the northern tier of states.

The floods in California forced more than 6,000 persons to flee their homes and at least seven are reported dead.

Nobody could tell what devastation lay ahead but already two days of incessant rains had brought havoc along the valleys of the Eel River, along the Oregon coast and around Reno.

Richard Trable, federal flood specialist in Sacramento, told California Gov. Edmund G. Brown that Eel River flooding was so bad "it could be expected to happen only once in 1,000 years."

The coastal storm center sent winds howling across the Rockies. Lander, Wyo., reported winds of more than 80 miles an hour Tuesday and gusts up to 100 miles per hour. Homes were uprooted, house trailers flipped over and power lines blown down in the Boulder-Denver area of Colorado.

Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield broadcast to the people of his state that the situation could get much worse. Brown and Hatfield both proclaimed the stricken areas of their states as disaster areas. They also ordered their state National Guards to the disaster areas to assist volunteers, conservation camp prisoners, sheriff's deputies and Red Cross officials already on the scene.

In northern California's Humboldt County, the Coast Guard reported that one of its helicopters was missing and presumed down with three men aboard. The heroic chopper crew had rescued 16 persons off Cock Robin island at the mouth of Humboldt Bay and was looking for other stranded flood victims when radio contact was lost at 6:30 p.m. A search party was launched by sheriff's deputies. At Reno, the Truckee River, swollen by two days of torrential rains, surged over its banks into the downtown area Tuesday night. Police barricaded streets bordering the river channel through the glittering Casino area and quickly closed three of the six bridges across the fast moving stream. But gambling continued as usual in the downtown area.

The weather bureau in Reno said "the worst is yet to come" and City Manager Joe Latimore said that already there was more water in the river than during the 1955 flood, but that the channel had been enlarged since then.

Six of the flood deaths took place in Oregon where two persons were electrocuted and four

Johnson Turns Budget Talks To Foreign Aid

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson, finding cause for optimism in his budget cutting drive, turned attention today to the controversial money matter of foreign aid.

Agriculture and postal problems also were on the agenda in his close-to-deadline talks with top aides on how much spending can be cut to meet his goal of keeping the budget under $100 billion next year.

These meetings, which Johnson began at his ranch Monday, were highlighted Tuesday by an announcement that he had given a go-ahead for development of a "gigantic" new transport plane to haul troops or military cargo at jet speed anywhere in the world, dubbed the "C-5."

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara announced Johnson had approved inclusion of $157 million in next year's budget to begin the project, which ultimately will cost $750 million in development and $1 billion in production fees. McNamara said he hoped to have 58 of the gargantuan craft flying by the middle of 1969.

But McNamara also said that military spending in the next budget would be perhaps $500 million lower than in the current one, which is expected to total $49.8 in defense outlays.

Johnson hoped for similarly encouraging word from today's visitors — Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski and Foreign Aid Director David E. Bell.

The foreign aid program is one of the toughest annual jobs for a president to push through Congress. Johnson did better than most last year, in requesting $3.5 billion and getting $3.25 billion. But he had to insist that every cent of the full amount was needed to get even close to that figure.

NEW COUP — Gen. Policy Blast Leveled By U.S. At Vietnamese Military Coup

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is serving notice on South Vietnamese officials that a stable government is Saigon is the "basis" for U.S. assistance in the war against the Communists.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was expected to elaborate at a news conference today on a policy statement issued Tuesday night by the State Department with President Johnson's approval.

The statement said that "a duly constituted government exercising full power on the basis of national unity and without improper interference from any group is the essential condition for the successful prosecution of the effort to defeat the Viet Cong and is the basis of U.S. support for that effort."

The U.S. statement was a request to South Vietnamese military leaders to cease interference in the civilian government established in Saigon last November.

But it stopped short of saying the United States might withdraw support if interference continued. State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said it was not an ultimatum.

The statement gave full backing of the Johnson administration to the U.S. ambassador in Saigon, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor. One of its purposes was to answer criticism voiced against Taylor by Gen. Nguyen Khanh, head of the South Viet Nam's armed forces.

It also was a reply to a statement by Khanh Tuesday in effect endorsing last weekend's move by military officers against the High National Council which served as a legislative body.

Khanh in private conversation was reported to be highly critical of Taylor.

The State Department said "Ambassador Taylor has been acting throughout with the full support of the U.S. government."

Firemen spread safety nets when one terrified woman crawled screaming out onto a window ledge on the sixth floor of a hotel. Regaining her composure, she climbed back inside.

The tremor registered 5.7 on the Richter scale at the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena. The disastrous Alaska earthquake last March registered 8.5 and the San Francisco quake in 1906 was equal to 8.3 on the same scale.

Although the earthquake Tuesday shook a far wider area than others in recent years, its intensity was less than the severe quakes in Southern California in 1933 and 1952.

Dr. Charles Richter of Caltech, who devised the Richter scale, said the tremor appeared to have been centered about 250 miles south of Pasadena — in Baja California, Mexico.

"Pretty soon those big chandeliers were doing the watusi, moving up and down," Fitzgerald said. "By that time, the building was doing a slow roll like a ship at sea."

Apparently there were no injuries or deaths, but some residents of the earthquake zone ran horror - struck into the streets and extensive property damage was reported.

Leaders Ready to Go Alone

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — South Vietnamese military leaders were reported today to be considering a proposal that they adopt a go-it-alone policy without American help in the anti-Communist war.

Usually reliable sources said Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, commander in chief of the armed forces, proposed a campaign of sustained anti-Americanism at a meeting Tuesday of the generals who purged the civilian high national council and arrested some of its members.

The move brought criticism from the U.S. government and pressure from U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor to resist the high council or risk a revision of plans for major increases in American aid.

Resists Freeing Civilians
But the sources said Khanh told the generals the army could get along without American aid. They said he also told the generals they no longer should tolerate Taylor's efforts to force them to free the arrested civilians and to reinstate the council, the nation's acting legislature.

The sources said Khanh hinted at enlisting the support of the nation's Buddhists for anti-American and Taylor go-home demonstrations. This would not be difficult since the Buddhist leadership also has a strong dislike for Taylor.

The sources which distributed this report always have been correct in the past. But recently they have shown a strong anti-Khanh bias. As a result, observers felt this bias could have exaggerated the anti-American element of Khanh's reported plan at the expense of its anti-Taylor element.

Raps U.S. Position
However, following the meeting with the generals, Khanh issued an order of the day Tuesday in which he denounced the council and attacked the U.S. position on Sunday's partial coup.

He charged some council members were inciting revolt on the home front while the army was shedding its blood in the field.

Then, in two obvious barbs at the United States, Khanh also said:

"We make sacrifices for the country's independence and the Vietnamese people's liberty, but not to carry out the policy of (See VIETNAMESE, Page 3)

Holiday Business Shows Increase In Pampa Stores
Last-minute shoppers were having their inning today in Pampa stores.

Merchants said the Christmas business had slackened today but there still were the late shoppers who happened to think they had forgotten to get a present for Aunt Minnie or Uncle Ben.

The late shopping spree was expected to extend through tomorrow. Most stores will be open until 9 p.m. today with one or two even planning to remain open until midnight.

Tomorrow, Christmas Eve, most stores will close at 5 or 6 p.m.

The consensus of most Pampa merchants today was that 1964 Christmas business was running ahead of last year.

This is borne out by post office reports that holiday mail shipments both in and out of Pampa were ahead of 1963.

New Corps Plan Being Talked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A report on the federal government's higher ranking civil service workers recommends that President Johnson consider creating an elite corps of top civilian workers, similar to the military officers' corps.

The report, by David T. Stanley of the Brookings Institution, said that by giving a top employee pay based on a rank and duties identified with his organization, the government could make flexible use of one executive in many departments and agencies.

Stanley's study, "the higher civil service," concludes that there is no "alarming need for reform." But, he said, if quality is to be maintained in high government levels, the president, the agency heads and the personnel executives "must keep pushing, moving, developing and innovating to improve this vital resource."

Stanley studied the personnel records and interviewed some of the government's 16,000 employees making between $16,460 and $24,500 annually.

He found that the average top civil servant is a college man in his 50s and has spent 20 years in the same federal department advancing six or seven times until moving into the large, private office.

Generally, all are dedicated, happy with the pay and satisfied with their work.

Most of the engineers and scientists in the upper government brackets get their satisfaction from the challenges, scope and variety of their duties. They value chances for achievement and independence.

Many key administrators draw satisfaction from the sense of public duty and contributing to public policy.

Most had one big gripe—"government complexity." It includes slow procedures, multiple clearances, too much paperwork and duplication of effort.

Raid Federal Party

CHICAGO (UPI)—Federal officers felt right at home when they staged a raid on a Christmas party where illegal drinking was going on.

In fact, they were at home when they entered the press room of the new federal building and ordered about 50 guests Tuesday, including U.S. district judges, to break up the party.

U.S. guards of the General Services Administration carried out the raid.

In the room were at least three federal judges. Abraham Marovitz, Joseph Sam Perry and Julius Hoffman. There were also nine federal prosecutors, a dozen U.S. marshals and newsmen assigned to the building.

any foreign country. . . "Although the armed forces support a clean civilian government, when necessary they still have the task of acting as an intermediary to settle all disputes and differences if they create a situation favorable to the common enemies: Communism and colonialism in any form."

Following this, Khanh gave an interview to an American newspaper in which he said that unless Taylor "does not act more intelligently, the United States will lose Southeast Asia and we will lose our freedom."

Charges Interference

Khanh accused Taylor of "unimaginable" political interference.

This brought a prompt statement from the U. S. government in Washington, warning that continued American support here was based on maintenance of a government free of "improper interference" by the military.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman today issued an icy denial of Khanh's charges that Taylor was hurting both the United States and Viet Nam by interfering in Saigon's politics.

"Ambassador Taylor has undertaken no activities which can be considered improper in any way in view of United States involvement and commitment in this country," the spokesman said. "All his activities are designed to serve the best interests of both Viet Nam and the United States."

Mrs. Evelyn Thoma Price, violinist, Miss Dietta Hills, flautist, and trumpeters will be John Price Jr. David Wilks, and Marshall Gardner.

Beginning at 11:15 p.m. Thursday with the prelude for organ and violin, the Overture from "The Messiah" by Handel, a service of carols and anthems will be sung prior to the mass, including the Lohman arrangement of "Hark! The Herald Angels," "The Snow Lay On The Ground" (Sowerby), "Stars of Glory" (Janowska), "The Lullaby of Mary" (old Polish carol), and a new musical setting of "O Little Town of Bethlehem," especially written for the St. Vincent's choir by Cary and performed first last year. For the first time in English, the traditional "Adeste Fideles" will be sung during the procession to the manger where the blessing of the crib by Father Brennan will take place.

A cord of 20 acolytes will assist in the procession, attended by Miss Janet Akst, Miss Pat Neslage, and Miss Beverly Simon who will carry the figure swept away by the rampaging flood waters.

More than 500 persons were evacuated at Stanfield, Ore., and several families fled when waters gushed through down town John Day, Ore., where city officials warned of dwindling food supplies. Forty-seven persons were taken from the Twilight Acres Nursing Home at Pleasant Hill southwest of Eugene and other mass evacuations were reported at Tillamook and in the Rogue River area. A spokesman for the governor said "thousands" of Oregonians had been evacuated, but he declined to name a figure.

Shortly after midnight, water overflowed the Dorena Dam of Cottage Grove and a rise of 8 or 9 feet was predicted. Orderly evacuation was started in Saginaw and Creswell. The dam itself was reported undamaged.

Reynolds, Dock Strikers Parley

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI) — James J. Reynolds, a top Labor Department strategist under presidential orders to stall a dock strike on the Gulf and Atlantic coasts, met again today with shippers and longshoremen. He says the situation is "fluid."

Reynolds, an assistant secretary of labor, calls himself a "catalyst" in the talks. He met with both sides Tuesday and planned more sessions with both today before returning to Washington.

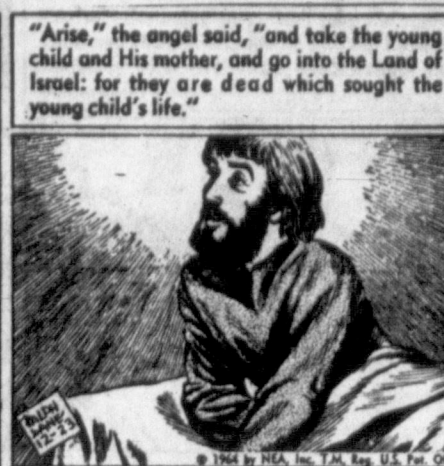

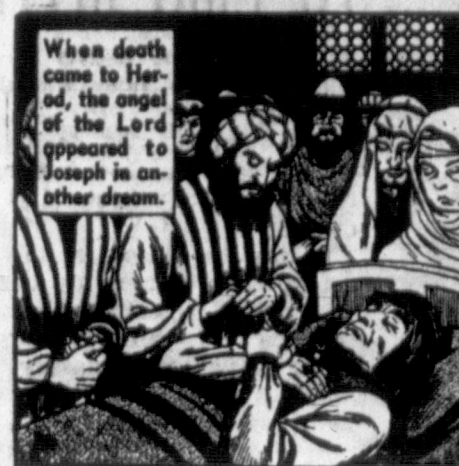

"We hope we will have defined the issues a little more clearly so that both sides can proceed with collective bargaining," Reynolds said.

David Stowe, a nationally known arbitrator who heads the federal government's manpower utilization study, was working with Reynolds. Both men asked the union not to strike now.

"If the parties found it possible to resolve their differences up there (in New York), we can down here," he said.

Reynolds was referring to the contract approved a week ago today by North Atlantic locals of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA). The pact included an 80-cent raise over the four years of the contract and a slow cut in the traditional work gang from 20 men to 17.

The First Christmas

When death came to Herod, the angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream.

"Arise," the angel said, "and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young child's life."

Joseph sought to follow instructions, but when he heard that Archelaus was reigning in Judea in the room of his father, Herod, Joseph feared to go there, and turned aside into Galilee.

Calvin Hill, 820 E. Browning, a member of the 1954 graduating class of Pampa High School, will play host Saturday night at the fifth annual Christmas reunion for members of the Class of '54.

This year it will be held at 8:15 p.m. Saturday in the Youth Building of First Christian Church, N. Starkweather.

Hill said today, due to the fact Christmas falls on Friday, many out-of-town class members are expected to join with local '54 graduates at the annual get-together.

Jimmy Bond, now residing out of state, was president of the 1954 class which had a membership of 183 seniors.

"All husbands and wives or sweethearts of class members are invited," Hill said.

CARELESS CUTTING KILLS PRECIOUS TREES

After seeing some poorly pruned trees in Pampa recently, it seems this is an appropriate time to make some comments on this subject.

Trees suffer from numerous natural hazards including drought, hail, heavy ice on branches and disease, but none of these compare with the one man-made hazard which is referred to as the "tree-topping disease."

Sometimes the home owner even pays money to have his trees disfigured. Men representing tree experts may claim it will be good for the tree or it is vital to the tree's well being that they "top" it. It may work with chrysanthemums but not with shade trees. In too many cases the final results are unsightly stubby trees as well as shortening the life of the tree by many years.

Quoting from an article printed in "The Daily Oklahoman," Al Engstrom, an expert forester, says "In cases of severe tree topping all of the food manufacturing organs of the tree, the twigs, branches and new buds have been removed. New ones must be produced before the tree can grow again. "This natural surge to survive causes the tree to put forth clusters of branches at the end of each stub. These are unsightly and the sign of an improperly maintained tree."

Engstrom says the stub wounds also admit disease organisms to enter the tree even if the stubs have been painted. He says that a branch over two inches in diameter should never be cut. The only exception to this is if the branch is cut at its base where the branch joins a larger branch or the trunk of a tree.

Engstrom says the only reason for pruning mature trees is to keep them from interfering with houses or other trees. Then the proper way to correct this is to take the whole branch off at the trunk.

Quoting from "America's Garden Book," pruning should serve merely as an aid in building a strong framework, and in guiding the natural growth. Systematic yearly care includes the removal of broken branches and of any diseased or dead wood, and the cutting away of any branch which may be interfering with the development of other branches.

Naturally, trees and shrubs should be pruned back when transplanting. It often happens that when transplanting is done, a considerable amount of roots are cut off. Those that remain are very likely to be insufficient to absorb enough moisture to provide for the needs of the normal leafage the plant has or will soon develop. To bring about a more assured balance of intake and outgo of water (moisture is lost through the leaves), it is necessary to prune back the tops of plants at transplanting time.

To prevent the destruction of trees through careless pruning some cities have passed an ordinance which provides for the examination and license for tree surgeons.

Members of the Pampa Garden Club are grateful to E. C. Sidwell for a $25 donation toward civic beautification of Pampa. Sidwell has donated toward this project for several years.

"Vintage" colors highlight clothes for the back to college set. Autumn colors are "soaked" in carnation, wine, blueberry, beajolais, and other rich deep shades.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have gone with this young man for a year and we have decided to be married. He told me that he wants me to make a big bonfire before we are married and I am to throw in all my old scrapbooks, letters, pictures and all the reminders of my past romances. He agreed that he would do the same, but he hasn't nearly the stuff to throw in that I have. Abby, what do you think of this? Is this a general practice before marriage? Personally, I would like to keep these reminders of my past good times.

SENTIMENTAL
DEAR SENTIMENTAL: It is not a general practice, but if you were sure of your feelings for him you wouldn't question it. Tell him you'd like a little less heat and a little more light on the subject. He obviously is plagued by insecurity. Wait until you know him better before you go for the match.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please inform brides-to-be that most churches have rules and regulations about wedding procedure? I am tired of these young girls who come waltzing into my office to tell me what kind of "schmaltsy" songs they are going to have in the ceremony and all the other trills and gimmicks that are not in keeping with the church's long-standing ritual. I've seen weddings ruined because brides have insisted on having tiny flower girls and ring-bearers, against the advice of their clergymen. Please, Abby, ask brides-to-be to include the clergyman while making their wedding plans instead of telling him what they are going to do in his church.

METHODIST MINISTER IN NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

DEAR ABBY: My husband is always telling old jokes. Should I, or shouldn't I, laugh? Not only that, but he tells the same old jokes to the same people. His feelings are easily hurt, and I wouldn't intentionally hurt him for the world. But I can see when he starts to tell a joke that everyone has heard it before and he is boring them. When the "joke" is over, he gets a few polite little laughs and he is laughing harder than anybody. What should I do, if anything?

NOT LAUGHING
DEAR NOT: Tell your husband that his jokes, though amusing to those who have not heard them before, are growing whiskers for those who have — including you. But be gentle about it. He may be boring others, but he is obviously wowing himself. And not everybody can do that.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have just received a wedding invitation. We have never met the couple who are to be married. Our only connection with them is that the groom's mother lives across the street from us. I have a "waving" acquaintance with her and her husband, but my husband doesn't even know who they are.

Doesn't an invitation to the wedding ceremony and reception call for a wedding gift? I feel that the only reason we were invited was for the present they hoped we would bring. I resent being taken advantage of. To avoid being hypocrites, are we not entitled to decline the invitation? How should this be handled?

FEELS PUT UPON
DEAR FEELS: Decline the invitation and send the couple a congratulatory card.

Harvesters Free Throw Past Caprock Longhorns

By JEFF COHANE
News Sports Editor

The Pampa Harvesters played one of their poorer games of the season last night, but still had far too much class for the visiting Caprock Longhorns.

Eyes of Texas On Surprise of Georgia

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — The eyes of Texas are on the surprise of Dixie.

ACC Takes Rest After Tough Tilts

ARILENE, Tex. — Abilene Christian's basketball forces take a well-earned holiday after dividing a pair of games with major college teams Oklahoma City University and New Mexico State.

The Wildcats ended the New Mexico game, 70-69, but fell to the run-and-shoot Chiefs from Oklahoma City, 73-64, in a week-end twin bill. ACC will take a 5-3 record into the Christmas break. Its other losses were to Oklahoma State and Midwest.

The Wildcats will return to drills Monday to start preparing for a Jan. 2 return bout with Midwestern in Abilene. Two days later on Jan. 4 ACC takes on intracity foe Hardin-Simmons in the first meeting of the year between the two schools.

The Wildcats—host Tarleton Jan. 7, then open the Southland Conference season at Arlington State, Jan. 9.

Coach Dee Nutt isn't convinced his young Wildcats have developed into a top-flight ball club, despite their fine record against some rugged opposition.

"We need to improve," Nutt said Monday. "We are always happy to win but we have been making too many mistakes. The boys have shown signs of being a good club but they still aren't there."

One thing which Nutt has to be pleased with to date is the performance of his 6-2 junior, Charles Cleek. The towering Las Cruces, N.M., lad has carried the Cats with his prolific scoring.

Cleek has scored 154 points for a 19.3 average and his total is remarkable considering that the Wildcats as a team have only registered 61.0 points a game. He has been consistently accurate, having connected on 63 of 118 field goals for a 53.4 percentage. Cleek also leads the team in rebounding with 69 for an 8.6 average.

Spencer Pickens, the only senior on the club, is hitting 10.4 a game and is the top percentage shooter with a 56.6 reading. Terry Priest has scored 78 points for a 9.8 average and Jerry Morgan 74 for a 9.3.

The Wildcats boast two of the better marks in the country in team field goal percentage (.531) and defense (.581). At the charity line the Cats have hit 72.1 percent, with Cleek setting the pace with an even 80.0.

pulling away to an 83-62 victory. The game was strictly a march from free throw line as 50 fouls were called, with Pampa canning 31 of 41 charity attempts and Caprock 18 of 31. The Longhorns made a game of

It in the first quarter, but, slow and sure like death and taxes, the Harvesters gradually upped the margin on the deadly shooting of Mac McWilliams. McWilliams' 26 points and the deadly sniping from the free stripe were the differences as Pampa's passing was wild, their shooting off and Caprock's 6-4 Gary Day gave a good account of himself on the backboards.

Both teams had starters in serious foul trouble from the first quarter, when Ron Curlee picked up his third infraction, although only two men heard the buzzer.

Pampa led from the opening bucket by Lanny Lewis against a Caprock press, moving to 8-2 as McWilliams hit for five straight points. Caprock rallied behind Dennis Stratton to move ahead, 11-10. The two teams swapped the lead and McWilliams and Lewis hit in a row and Roper Roper hit a pair of free throws to pull Pampa ahead, 22-16 at the quarter.

Both teams pressed, and broke each other's press with a run-and-shoot game through the second period, but both were missing badly. Pampa steadily built up the lead as Roper and Davy McDaniel took over on the boards, the pair getting plenty of free throws to build the edge up. Lewis hit with three seconds to go for a 38-29 halftime lead.

McWilliams and Roper then broke the Longhorns' backs, as they scored 20 points between them in the third quarter while Caprock's whole team garnered only 13, building the lead up to 62-42 going into the final frame.

Substitutes played out the last quarter, with the run-and-shoot and the walk-and-free throw plays continuing.

The Harvesters remain undefeated in district 3-4A with this, their fourth win, making them 12-2 for the season, with a week off before going to Plainview next Tuesday.

The Shockers had an equally easy time of it in the opener, coasting to a 63-57 win. Fourteen of the Shockers got into the scoring column, headed by Larry Stephens and Steve Williams with nine points each.

But although Georgia got its yardage in short chunks, the Bulldogs had a well-balanced ground attack. Halfbacks Bob Taylor and Fred Barber also gained more than 300 yards and seven runners averaged 3.3 yards per carry or better—just the ticket for getting that first down in three tries.

Georgia was dead last in the SEC in passing. The Bulldogs averaged only 58.2 yards per game through the air and completed a total of only 31 of 82 passes in 10 games. But they were fourth in rushing and ran with the ball more times than any other team in the league.

PACKERS SIGN FULLBACK
GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Utah fullback Allan Jacobs, a 6-foot, 205-pounder, has been signed by the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

GIANTS SIGN FRICK
NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Giants have signed their ninth round draft choice, John Frick, a 6-3, 225-pound tackle from Ohio University.

Giant Coach Alie Sherman plans to give Frick a shot at the starting guard position.

Mixon played his finest game as he took down 18 rebounds and scored 19 points, smacking nine of 12 free throws home in the second half to break open a close game. Mobeetie completely dominated the rebounding, 61 to 23, with Jim Johnston pulling down 18 also. Mixon got plenty of shooting help from Billy Whitten with 26 and Gerald Gudgel with 11. Kenneth Abernathy led the losers with 18.

Whitten shot Mobeetie into a 15-3 quarter lead. Abernathy came back to cut it to 30-24 at the half, but Mixon broke it open in the third frame, 30-35. LaForn Bradley was red-hot at the basket and Mobeetie couldn't get the ball downcourt to add up to a girls win for Kelton. The Lionsesses led throughout the game as LaForn scored 34 and Joyce Walters 11. Judy Uzel and her Hornette mates took the defensive boards, but Mobeetie's forwards couldn't break through Kelton's equally tight defense. Judy Rowell had 20 points and Judy Bailey 10. Mobeetie is off until a Jan. 5 date with Briscoe.

Mobeetie is off until a Jan. 5 date with Briscoe.

Mixon played his finest game as he took down 18 rebounds and scored 19 points, smacking nine of 12 free throws home in the second half to break open a close game. Mobeetie completely dominated the rebounding, 61 to 23, with Jim Johnston pulling down 18 also. Mixon got plenty of shooting help from Billy Whitten with 26 and Gerald Gudgel with 11. Kenneth Abernathy led the losers with 18.

Whitten shot Mobeetie into a 15-3 quarter lead. Abernathy came back to cut it to 30-24 at the half, but Mixon broke it open in the third frame, 30-35. LaForn Bradley was red-hot at the basket and Mobeetie couldn't get the ball downcourt to add up to a girls win for Kelton. The Lionsesses led throughout the game as LaForn scored 34 and Joyce Walters 11. Judy Uzel and her Hornette mates took the defensive boards, but Mobeetie's forwards couldn't break through Kelton's equally tight defense. Judy Rowell had 20 points and Judy Bailey 10. Mobeetie is off until a Jan. 5 date with Briscoe.

Saban Sweetened By Coach Honor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lou Saban admitted today that being named the American Football League's coach-of-the-year sweetened a career that has had some bitter disappointments.

Saban, once fired as head coach of the Boston Patriots, directed the Buffalo Bills to their first Eastern Division title this season, climaxed by a 24-1 triumph over the Patriots last Sunday.

The normally sober-faced Saban was beaming when he learned of his selection by a United Press International panel of 24 writers who covered the AFL.

"This, to me, is a great tribute and I'm very appreciative," Saban said.

Says Team Responsible
"There's no question that the team was responsible. They made the coach look very good out there," he added as he ran the Bills through drills for their championship clash with San Diego Saturday.

Saban won the honor by a single vote over Boston Coach Mike Holovak, 12-11, with San Diego Coach Sid Gillman receiving the other ballot.

Saban said he thought either Holovak or Gillman "could have been named. A great deal depends on the success of the team and there are so many other facets."

"I want to pay tribute to my assistants — Joel Collier, Jerry Smith, John Mazur and Harvey Johnson," Saban continued. "All of them have done a tremendous job not only this year but since I've been associated with them."

Fired By Boston
The 42-year-old former Indiana quarterback succeeded Buster Ramsey at the helm of the Bills in 1962. He was fired by the Patriots on Oct. 10, 1961 after compiling a 6-12 record.

Saban inherited a last-place Buffalo team which had managed only 11 victories and one tie in 28 games. In 1962 the Bills finished third in the East with a 7-6-1 mark. The same record in 1963 earned them a tie for first with Boston, which won the pennant in a playoff.

Handling the league's outstanding and unpredictable rusher, Cookie Gilchrist, has been one of Saban's primary concerns.

The stormy Gilchrist was placed on waivers by the Bills last month after a run-in with Saban. But the coach managed to smooth things over; Gilchrist was withdrawn from the waiver list and has played brilliantly since.

All-Star Coaches
AUSTIN (UPI) — The Southwest Conference's two newest head coaches will be the football instructors at the 33rd annual Texas High School Coaches Association clinic in Dallas Aug. 1-5.

Southern Methodist's Hayden Fry, who has just completed his third season as a head coach, and Texas A&M's Gene Stallings, who is taking over at Aggie land for his first head coaching job ever, were named Tuesday as grid instructors.

Don Haskins of Texas Western and Ralph Tasker of Hobbs, N.M. High School were named the basketball instructors; SMU's Eddie Lane will be the training instructor, and a pair of Dallas high school coaches, Abe Barnett and Dolph Regelsky, will lecture on baseball.

The track instructor is yet to be announced.

The coaching school will be climaxed by the annual all-star basketball game on Wednesday night, Aug. 4, in Memorial Auditorium and the all-star football game in the Cotton Bowl the following night.

CANYON — The West Texas State Buffaloes have a busy holiday schedule arranged, playing three games in seven days in the friendly confines of Buffalo Fieldhouse where they own a six-game winning streak against collegiate opposition. Texas Western's 61-53 win over the Buffs last January 25 was the last WTS loss at home.

Wednesday night, Jimmy Viramontes and his athletes entertain Hayward State of California in a pre-Christmas intersectional battle. Hayward, lacking somewhat in the height department, has already suffered defeats at New Mexico and Arizona on this trip with Texas Western to play before coming to Canyon. Jeff Washington is the tallest Hayward starter at 6-4.

The holiday doubleheader returns to the Panhandle after a seven-year absence. Monday, December 28, Hardin-Simmons plays North Texas State in the opening game starting at 7 p.m. in Buffalo Fieldhouse. Idaho State of the Big Sky Conference meets West Texas State in the nightcap. Tuesday's schedule shows Idaho State and Hardin-Simmons in the opener and North Texas State and the Buffaloes winding up the proceedings.

Viramontes unveiled a somewhat different starting alignment in the Buffaloes 97-83 win at Sul Ross State last Saturday. Ben Finley, 6-7 junior transfer from Denton, and Gail Simpson, Borger guard who had been slowed by illness, started in place of Cal Taylor and Jim Strahan, respectively.

The Buffalo coach had been displeased with the team's performance in their last three games, all on the road, especially the 83-82 overtime win over Eastern New Mexico last Thursday in Portales and felt the changes would give the team better overall strength.

The move paid off handsomely as the Buffs led by 17 points at halftime and, with the second five playing most of the way, stretched the margin to as many as 26 before the Lobos cut it to 12 in the last minute.

After having achieved a 62.7 field goal percentage at Portales, the Buffaloes hit only 47.3 at Alpine, their worst night of the year, but they hit 43 field goals, the highest production of the season in that department.

After four games, the WTSU team field goal percentage of .541 led the nation, but this figure has now dropped to .536. Kirby Pugh, leading scorer and rebounder for the Buffaloes, was ranked second nationally in the field goal percentage with 72.5 before the last road trip on which he hit only 14 of 25. His 21.8 average placed him fortieth in scoring.

Canadian Splits Pair
HIGGINS — Visiting Canadian split a pair of ball games here last night, Higgins winning the boys tilt, 78-74 and Canadian the girls game, 49-32.

The Cats led throughout the game, holding as high as a 20-point lead, before blowing it to a fast — break and press. Jay Roth gunned in 32 points for the winners, Butcherboy Eckles had 29 for Canadian.

The Kittens led all the way as Squeaky Petree slammed home 33 points.

Canadian takes the holidays off.

Lion Coaches Get Jobs
DETROIT (UPI) — Three of the five fired Detroit Lions assistant coaches said today they have received job probes from other professional football clubs.

Also Forte, one of the three, said he would probably quit the game rather than abandon his sand and gravel business here. Forte was a part-time offensive line coach.

End Coach Bob Nussbaumer and defensive line aide Les Bingaman were the other two who admitted receiving job soundings.

"I think you can safely say I'll be in football next year," Nussbaumer said. He and Bingaman said they got telephone inquiries on job openings Monday.

The three, along with Sonny Grandellus and Don Doll, were fired Monday by team owner William Clay Ford. Ford, however, kept on George Wilson as head coach.

Visitors Upset College Scene

By United Press International

College basketball fans must either cheer for the home team or back the loser most of the time.

Only a wide-eyed freshman has unwavering faith that this team will return from a road trip undefeated, and Tuesday night was probably enough to make him a believer in the odds.

Third-ranked Minnesota relied on double figures by five players to smother Loyola of Chicago 89-75 on its home court to set an example.

The Gophers never let Loyola come closer than 12 points in the second half and led by as much as 20 points during the first stanza.

Mel Northway and Archie Clark bucketed 19 points apiece for Minnesota while Frank Perez contributed 20 to the Ramblers' losing cause.

Billikens Drop Kentucky
Seventh-ranked St. Louis came from behind on Bob Cole's field goal with five minutes left to beat the visiting Kentucky Wildcats 80-75.

Pat Riley of Kentucky led all scorers with 23 points, but Cole, who added six more points after his go-ahead goal for a total of 19, provided the difference for St. Louis.

Detroit became an un hospitable host by beating Colorado State 75-73 on a shot by John Watson with four seconds left. Fans had to wait until the final buzzer before the final stopped rolling around the rim and finally dropped in to give Detroit a win after it had been behind by nine points earlier in the game.

Davidson's 10th-rated Wildcats won another home-court heart-stopper over Virginia 78-74, and Brigham Young hung a 112-71 loss on the Ohio State Buckeyes.

At least two exceptions stunned home teams, however. UCLA, fifth-rated nationally, got a 28-point effort from Gail Goodrich to beat Southern California 84-75 in a non-conference tilt, and Oklahoma City defeated Creighton 82-73.

Nebraska withstood a California comeback for the second straight night to edge the pressing Golden Bears 63-59, only the night before the Cornhuskers had defeated the Bears 87-80.

Vanderbilt knocked Miami of Ohio out of the unbeaten list with a 74-68 victory to strengthen its 11th place rating. The Commodores scored 15 straight points late in the first half to overcome an 11-point Miami margin.

Clyde Lee led the Commodores with 25 points and tied a school record with 25 rebounds. Michigan State spurred to an early lead and downed Loyola of New Orleans 94-70.

Other home court winners included: Duquesne over Gonzaga 83-69, Georgia over Clemson 93-75, Iowa State over Marquette 73-64, Akron over Bucknell 65-63, and Tennessee over Florida State, 65-43.

Murray State and Western Kentucky advanced to the finals of the Ohio Valley Conference tournament at Louisville, Ky. Murray State beat Tennessee Tech 79-75 and Western Kentucky whipped Eastern Kentucky 82-73.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Receive Your Invitation Yet?

It will require the facilities of three large hotels and Washington's National Guard Armory to take care of LBJ's Inaugural Ball, since they're not having it in the Pentagon. Putting on the Presidential strut simultaneously in multiple locations is nothing new, but it keeps the Committee in a fine swivet and requires a regiment of workers. It also keeps the President and Vice President and their spouses on the jump since it is obviously necessary to cover all four arenas.

We mention this now since "invitations" (to buy tickets at $25 apiece) have been mailed out to 30,000 mysteriously chosen Americans, and if you can find one of these, you might be able to make a buy. The price is the same as in 1960, but the boxes (where you can sit down) will be $750 instead of $350.

Society Editor Wauhila La Hay of the Washington Daily News, in discussing the gathering uproar, quotes the Committee Chairman as pointing out that tickets for President Grant's dancing party cost $20,

"so that means there hasn't been too much inflation."

But, if we are to credit reports of the day, tickets to Grover Cleveland's Inaugural Ball, sixteen years after the Grant festivities, cost five dollars and admitted "two ladies and one gentleman." And it might be noted that all the 12,000 tickets printed were sold.

The 30,000 invitations to the LBJ cantico, according to Miss La Hay, are expected to produce about 20,000 cash sales.

Further, it might be mentioned that the Capital is reacting much more calmly to the President's announcement that he will be inaugurated in a black business suit instead of a cut-away than it did a few years back to Ike's refusal to wear a silk hat on a similar occasion. But the Ball Chairman, when asked if there would be square dancing, is said to have snorted: "What do you want? The first white-tie hoe-down in history?"

Why not? LBJ certainly expects to be the "caller" right afterward.

Revolt in Congress Needed

Star performer at the recent Philadelphia convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation was the venerable, white-haired, senior senator from Vermont, Farmer George David Aiken, who begins his 25th year at his Senate desk.

Branding the Supreme Court's "one-man, one-vote" decision on reapportionment of State legislatures an "infringement of democratic rights," the Senator demanded that his hearers "rise up on (your) hind legs and fight..." And the speaker assured them that he was prepared to start fighting as soon as the doors of Congress open.

The Senator will fight, he said, for a Constitutional amendment to overturn the Court's ruling and establish the right of each State to decide for itself whether seats in both houses shall be apportioned by population, such as was passed by the House last session, but killed in the Senate.

Allowed to stand, the decision could only result in a Congress controlled by city members and the loss to agriculture of "much of the protection and services it now receives under Federal law." "An urban-controlled Congress," he declared with un-sailable logic, "would be interested in food and fiber of the highest quality at the cheapest price, regardless of how or where produced."

Legislatures representing both areas and population have constituted, he said, "one of the most cogent reasons for the rapid growth and development of the U. S." And he asked, if the Court's decision stands, "is there any reason to doubt that a move to reorganize the U. S. Senate on a population-only basis is not far off?"

Evidently the Senators did not think of that why not, we wouldn't know when they voted down the corrective amendment that would undoubtedly take a lot of steam out of the inevitable drive to reform the "most exclusive club in the world." Senator Aiken would take care of this menace and many more undreamed of, however, by having Congress "settle, once and for all, the question of the powers and limitations of the U. S. Supreme Court."

We're all for the Green Mountain Statesman, along with the Farm Bureau people who endorse Constitutional protection against spreading the sidewalks over the whole State.

Don't Pay Us—We'll Pay You

Have you heard the latest in income tax proposals? It's that people be paid NOT to pay income taxes!

Don't laugh. This may be for real. It's reported to be under consideration by a government tax force in Washington.

Here's how it would work: Mr. Glomp makes $2,500 a year. He has a wife and four children.

He can, under the new proposal, forget about paying an income tax, since the plan sets up an automatic $3,000 tax exemption.

Mr. Glomp can do more than forget about paying an income tax. He can claim exemption of $600 for each member of his family from the tax he's not paying.

Six times $600 equals $3,600. On top of this, he also can claim a minimum standard deduction of $800.

A total exemption of $4,400. But remember — Mr. Glomp has earned only $2,500 during the year. What about that?

Why, under the proposed plan the government would pay Mr. Glomp for not having earned as much income as the total of the exemptions he could have claimed had he earned enough to pay an income tax, which he hadn't.

It would pay him 15 per cent — the 1965 rate for an equivalent amount of taxable income — of the $1,900 difference between actual income and total exemption.

This would come to $365.

So Mr. Glomp would be handed a government check for $285 for not having had to pay any income tax.

Simple, eh?

You say such a plan is fantastic — that is could never happen?

Don't bet on it.

A Columnist Earns His Salt

NEW YORK (NEA) — Generally, we do not question the stories on television, being content that the machine still comes equipped with an off-on switch. After a hard day of work, nothing is so relaxing as a few sustained objections and a subdural hematoma or two.

The only show we never watch is The Reporter. Not that we dislike dramas about the newspaper life. It is just that the relentless hero, Danny Taylor, looked to us like an agent for the American Society of Newspaper Publishers.

So, it was, quite by accident that we discovered that there soon will be an enormous change in Danny. He will acquire a new apartment. He will get a new car. He will get a dandy new suit. In short, all the earmarks of fantastic success will be his.

We could not believe it. But on inquiring further we discovered that it was absolutely true. Danny is due for a raise.

According to the show's creator, Jerome Weidman, the show's ratings have been terrible because reporters like Danny Taylor went out of style in the 1930s.

Consequently, Danny has been raised from $7,000 per year to $80,000. "After all," Mr. Weidman said, "he is supposed to be the best damn columnist in the country, so why shouldn't he get paid for it?"

We had no answer to that question. In fact, the more we thought about it, the less answer we had.

It occurred to us, however, that when it came to damn columnists in the country, we were just as much a damn columnist as Danny Taylor. And so, right after lunch the other day we went in to see the boss about a raise.

"What?" he queried briskly. He had once been a newspaperman himself and still enjoyed a brisk query after lunch. "A raise," we said.

"How do you spell it?" he asked.

"R-a-i-s-e," we said slowly while he wrote it down on his cuff.

"A raise?" he said, more hurt than angry. "If I remember correctly, I just gave you a raise on February 11, 1959. What do you want another one for?"

We have found it best to make the request on the basis of need. But since our car was repossessed and we seemed to be doing quite well on a low protein diet, we felt it was only fair to explain:

"Because Danny Taylor got a raise."

"Really?" The boss said. "How much did I give him?"

"He doesn't work here," we said. "But he's the best damn columnist in the country."

"Well," the boss said, "there you are."

"Where?" we asked.

"If you didn't work here, I'd be happy to see you get a raise," the boss said. "In fact, I might even think about hiring you. How much did this Taylor fellow get?"

"He went from $7,000 per year to $80,000," we said.

The boss wrote the numbers on his cuff, and after studying them for a few moments, he said:

"I want to do what's right for everybody. You go out and see if somebody will offer you $7,000 and then come back and we'll discuss it."

We could not help breaking into a happy grin. "Gee, thanks," we said.

"Not at all," he said. "I'm always willing to pay a man what he's worth, once I know what it is. As for this Taylor fellow. Why don't you invite him to the office Christmas party?"
