Ask Us

Q—Other than Wednesday evening, when was the last time it rained in Snyder?

A—Although some areas in the county witnessed brief, scattered showers earlier this month, the last official rainfall in Snyder was over 2½ months ago — Tuesday, Sept. 1 — according to the water pump and filter plant.

In Brief

Texas Lotto

AUSTIN (AP) — The winning numbers drawn Wednesday night in "Lotto Texas" are:
27-31-39-44-45-47.

No one hit the Lotto Texas jackpot of $4 million, which means the jackpot will grow to at least $8 million, officials said today.

Steve Levine, of the state lottery, says he expects Saturday night's drawing to be "lotto crazy."

Wednesday night's drawing was the second for the lotto game. Since no one picked the correct six numbers, the jackpot will carry over.

Local

Boys Club

An organizational meeting of the Scurry County Boys Club board of directors will be held at 7:30 this evening in the TU Electric Reddy Room.

100% support key for economic growth

Someone to "sell Snyder" and 100 percent support of the community were stressed Wednesday as essential ingredients for economic development.

The information was contained in a report to the Scurry County Board of Development following a recent fact-finding trip.

Chamber Manager Ricky Fritz and newly appointed chamber director Joel Hook gave a presentation of their trip to Pueblo, Colo.; Coeur D'Alene, Idaho; and Palm Springs, Calif. The trip was funded by the BCD to gather economic development information from cities which have been able to attract new industry.

According to Fritz, Snyder has a lot of the basics in place for a successful economic development plan, with an established area foundation, economic development committee, board of county development and enterprise zone.

He stressed that in order for any economic development plan to work, all of the groups should work together, and community support for the growth of Snyder is essential.

"We cannot base economic development on secondary jobs," said Hook. "The people who have lost jobs in Snyder had primary jobs making anywhere from $20 to $25 per hour. We do not need to replace these with $7 per hour jobs."

Fritz said that in Pueblo, which lost 4,500 steel mill jobs in 1984 and reported an unemployment rate of 20 percent, a large problem was a lack of pride and enthusiasm from the residents.

The city began a program called "Discover Pueblo," which included a slide presentation highlighting some of the city's positive points. Economic development groups then merged and formed the Pueblo Economic Development Corporation, which receives 45 percent of its funding from the city and county and the other 55 percent from private donations.

According to Fritz, PEDCO began offering land to industries at

'Arms/Man' begins run at 8 tonight

Western Texas College's second play of the 1992-93 school year, "Arms and the Man" opens this evening in the Fine Arts Theatre on campus.

Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for students. Shows are at 8 p.m. today, Friday and Saturday, and at 3 p.m. Sunday. College students will be admitted free with a WTC identification card.

Cast members are Kristi Mize as Raina Petkoff, Gina Daniel as Catherine Petkoff, Greg Combs as Major Paul Petkoff, Beau Norris as Major Sergius Saranoff, S. Wade Freeman as Captain Bluntschli, Kim Duncan as Louka, Virgil Snell as Nicola and Heith Hodges as the Officer.

The play is under the direction of WTC drama director Michael Endy.

"Arms and the Man," George Bernard Shaw's fourth attempt at playwriting, is a satirical comedy which deals with the twin themes of love and war.

"ARMS AND THE MAN" — Gina Daniel, as "Catherine," describes a great cavalry charge to her daughter "Raina," played by Kristi Mize, in WTC's production of "Arms and the Man," which opens tonight in the Fine Arts Theatre.

Leadership course to be renewed by WTC and chamber

Western Texas College and Snyder Chamber of Commerce have announced the ninth session of Century II Leadership Scurry County, a program aimed at developing community knowledge and leadership skills.

The class will begin Monday, Jan. 11, 1993, and conclude on June 28, meeting twice monthly on Monday afternoons.

Tuition is $225 for each student, payable to Snyder Chamber of Commerce. The deadline to apply is Dec. 30.

The instructor will be Dr. James Palmer, division chairman for the social and physical science divisions at WTC.

Century II Leadership is aimed at developing and maintaining a pool of well-informed and well-motivated men and women qualified to assume present and future leadership roles in Scurry County. The course will address such topics as the economy, government, education, health care, criminal justice system and petroleum industry in and around the county. The course concludes with an all-day tour of agricultural interests in the county.

The course initially meets at Western Texas College. After the first session, classes meet in various locations, such as city hall, the county courthouse, Cogdell Hospital, the oil patch and "on the farm."

The Century II Leadership program began in 1983. Its graduates include county commissioners, county judges, mayors, city council members, school board members, teachers, members of the Board of County Development and many others in responsible positions in their chosen field of work.

Applications are available at the chamber of commerce. For more information, contact Dr. Palmer or John Gibson at the college or Ricky Fritz at the chamber.

For lighted parade...

Float entries mounting up

With the deadline nearing, organizations are lining up to enter Snyder's Dec. 5 lighted Celebrate Christmas Parade.

Organizer Pat Cunnington said more than a dozen groups have already entered floats, and 12 other organizations have made oral commitments, but haven't confirmed. The deadline to enter is Friday.

"We'll take entries as late as anyone wants to make them Friday," said Cunnington, who also directed Snyder's first lighted parade last year.

Registration forms are available at the chamber of commerce and Humble-Smith School.

First place traveling plaques will be awarded for best theme, best use of lights and most unique floats. There is no entry fee.

Groups can still register a float after Friday. However, the float will not be eligible for awards.

Confirmed float entries are from Ira High School, Ira eighth grade, The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints, Snyder Police Department, Cogdell Memorial Hospital, Landes Home Furnishing, Kmart, Kathy Moore's third grade class from Central, DARE, Carousel Arcade, First United Methodist Church, Billy Tim Atwood, Scurry County Museum and Snyder Chamber of Commerce, which will sponsor the Grand Marshal's Float.

Other groups or individuals have also notified Cunnington about decorated golf carts, a horse and buggy, clown and go-cart and a fire truck.

Any organization or individual may take part in the parade. Those who plan to do so are asked to contact Cunnington or the chamber in order to be worked into the parade lineup.

Cunnington said volunteers are still needed to help with Santa's float and to assist in lining up the parade on Dec. 5. The parade will begin in the Snyder Shopping Center parking lot at 6 p.m.

Murder-suicide leaves 2 dead at prison dorm

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — A prison employee and her estranged husband were shot to death in what authorities say was a murder-suicide early today inside a Texas prison dormitory.

David Nunnelee, spokesman for the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, said Louella Taylor, 39, of Conroe, a correctional officer at the Goree Unit since February 1991, was found shot to death about 4:30 a.m.

The body of her estranged husband, Joe Lee Taylor, 34, of Spring, was found nearby. Mrs. Taylor had at least two wounds to the head, while Taylor had at least one wound to the head.

Prison officials said Mrs. Taylor had a restraining order against her husband and often had other guards escort her to the dormitory, but was alone this morning.

Walker County Sheriff Dale Myers said Mrs. Taylor, who worked the 8 p.m. to 4 a.m. shift, had just returned to the dormitory to find her estranged husband waiting for her in a hallway.

"It appears from the initial investigation that the husband was waiting on the wife," Myers said. "They were separated and she had a protective order against him. She got off work and went to the dormitory. He met her in the hallway, exchanged some words."

He said residents in other rooms heard the conversation and then several gunshots.

"Several shots rang out, I think she dropped, and he immediately turned the gun on himself and killed himself. They were both found laying together in the hallway," Myers said.

Faculty art show begins

The public is invited to a faculty art show in the Fine Arts building at Western Texas College.

The show opens today and will run from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. weekdays through Dec. 9.

Included are works by Ben Sum, Ty Brunson, Carol Bullard and Jack Price. Featured are blown glass, fused glass, ceramics, paintings and drawings.

Some of the works will also be for sale.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Man who beefs too much will often find himself in a stew."

---

We delivered a missed newspaper over in the east part of town the other day and ran across a really kind, but honest lady.

She had created the all-purpose door message posted by her front entrance. It read:

"If you're asking for money, I'm all out. If you're after something, mine's being used. If you want me to sign petitions, I vote on election day. If you want my vote, I've already made up my mind. If you're asking for directions, I don't know either. If you want to borrow my phone, it's busy. If you're delivering, set it by the door. If you're looking for that girl, she lives next door. Unless you're a friend, I'd appreciate not being bothered at all."

An adaptation of that message might be a good answering machine recording.

Jack Denman likes to remind us, if we live long enough, that we'll better understand some of the ailments experienced by senior citizens.

In a local store the other day, we overheard a conversation between two good friends, both elderly, that was a preview of ole what's-her-name and her friend Martha Gist in a few years.

The first woman said, "I'm really sorry I'm late, dear, because it's been a long time since I've been here."

The friend responded, "That's okay, because I didn't realize I was late in getting here until I found out that I was coming from where I was supposed to be going."

The two good friends walked off, arm-in-arm, laughing and talking.

Texas inmate executed

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — A jovial Jeffery Lee Griffin was executed early today for a robbery at a Houston convenience store that left two people dead nearly 14 years ago.

Griffin, 37, a former male model, had been on the Texas death row since 1979 for killing David Sobotik, 19, who died of numerous stab wounds made in a pattern surrounding his heart.

Griffin was laughing with a prison chaplain as witnesses filed into the death chamber.

"There's a smiling face," he told one witness.

Asked if he had a final statement, he cheerfully replied: "I want to say bye to my mom. I love her, my aunt, my fiance Regina in England. I'm going to be free."

Then he nodded to an assistant warden and told him, "You're a good warden. I'll see you. I'm ready."

He was pronounced dead at 12:17 a.m. CST, six minutes after the lethal drugs began entering his arms.

Griffin's execution was the 53rd in Texas since the state resumed capital punishment in 1982 and the 11th this year.

Kids Speak Out Against The Wasteland That's TV

DEAR ABBY: I am a fifth-grade elementary school teacher in Axtell, Texas. I have read your column for years and believe that you want what is best for children and families. Allowing vulgarity, profanity and sexually explicit material in the movies and on TV to go unchallenged only weakens our country's moral fiber and family unit.

Your recent survey showed that "67,783 readers felt many movies and TV shows today insult our values, intelligence and morals. Only 213 readers disagreed."

I asked my students (all 10-year-olds) to write a few sentences expressing how they feel about what they see and hear on TV and in the movies. I submit their comments.

MRS. JEANIE OWENS, AXTELL ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

DEAR ABBY: I do not like the scenes that the TV stations put on the TV screens. All that kissing embarrasses me.

COLT WEST

DEAR ABBY: What I see on TV embarrasses me when my cousins are watching TV with me. Thank you for wanting my opinion.

KRISTIN HARRIS

DEAR ABBY: I don't like dirty words on television. One day another girl asked me, "What does that mean?" It made me feel stupid.

NATASHA WILSON

DEAR ABBY: I don't think it's right when some parents don't know what their children are watching on TV. Young children do not need to watch that filth.

JEREMY BENNETT

DEAR ABBY: I am tired of dirty language on TV. I am also tired of the nasty videos.

CATHERINE HERNANDEZ

DEAR ABBY: I wish there was at least one show that people of all ages and races could enjoy together.

LACY WITT

DEAR ABBY: I think there is too much violence and cussing, but most of all it is embarrassing to kids when people kiss on TV.

LAURA LUPU

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with the kissing and all the other mushy stuff on TV. I am 10 years old and in the fifth grade. Thank you.

ADAM LAW

DEAR ABBY: I don't like some of the fighting and killing on TV. It is just not nice. This is my opinion.

ALINA TANASA

DEAR ABBY: I really hate the bad talking and kissing on television. Thank you.

NATALEE DOLLINS

DEAR ABBY: I am a 10-year-old at Axtell Elementary School, and I am writing to you to state my displeasure at the illicit material used on VCR tapes, in movies and on television.

Crime in a city near me has risen 37 percent. Sometimes I get scared when I hear the news about kids killing kids in school. I wonder if these kids have been watching all the violence on television, and then try to copy it. I was always told by my parents that killing doesn't make you a grown-up. I was also told that to be a grown-up, I am to treat others as I want to be treated.

JOHNATHON DOOLET

DEAR MRS. OWENS AND STUDENTS: Your thoughtful letters are much appreciated. If enough of us demand better TV and movies from the networks and film studios, we'll get results!

Missing checks worth $200,000 returned

BRYAN, Texas (AP) — A missing box of payroll checks worth more than $200,000 has been returned to Brazos County after sitting in a Dallas post office for three weeks.

The checks, meant to pay vendors, were mailed to a woman in Dallas who had requested an application for a Brazos County absentee voting ballot.

The box of about 260 county checks found its way back to Brazos County Treasurer Sandie Walker's office Monday.

The box originally didn't have a top, Ms. Walker said. No one knows who put a top on the box or stapled the envelope to the box.

District garden clubs to meet in San Angelo

District VIII of the Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., will hold its fall convention in San Angelo on Nov. 20-21 with this year's theme being "The Song of the Pioneers."

Convention chairman is Maurine Robinson, president of the San Angelo Council of Garden Clubs, and the co-chairman is Arlelle Brininstool. Host clubs are Senisa, Verdue, Western Hills and San Angelo. These clubs make up the San Angelo Council.

Registration will begin at 3-4 p.m. Friday and again Saturday, starting at 8:30 a.m. Pre-convention activities have been planned to include a visit to historic Fort Concho. The program for the dinner at Zetner's Daughter Steak House on the evening of Nov. 20 will include a lecture and exhibit of rare Concho pearls.

On Saturday, all convention activities, including registration, will be held at the Convention Center, adjacent to the La Quinta Inn. The program will be given by Joycelin Graves of Ozona, using the convention theme.

art's plunge straight into four hearts was more tactical than technical. He didn't expect to buy it in three hearts, and his bid made it harder for the opponents to judge the situation.

West led the diamond ace and followed with the 10 when East encouraged.

Declarer judged, from the bidding, that the spade ace and heart king were split, not both in one defender's hand. So, if East had the heart king, West would have the spade ace and the contract was in no jeopardy. But just in case West had the heart king, Stewart laid down the heart ace at trick three. When the king dropped, declarer drew trumps and had 10 tricks.

Over the shoulder of a writer

Frank Stewart is a prolific bridge writer. His latest book, "My Bridge and Yours" ($11.95, P.O. Box 962, Fayette, AL 35555), adopts a style first used by Englishman Terence Reese. There are 70 deals, 44 of them tough and 26 even tougher. You "listen in" on the thoughts of Stewart as he bids and plays his cards. However, unlike Reese, Stewart is happy to go off on tangents. Also, you will find more debatable actions in Stewart's book — but perhaps that makes it more realistic.

Today's deal, number 35 in the book, features what Reese termed a second-degree assumption.

North's three-club cue-bid showed at least three hearts and 10-plus points. East didn't open two diamonds, because he held two three-card majors: a decision with which I have sympathy. But once he had passed initially, his three-diamond bid, with a singleton club, was pointless. Stew-

Early speaks at BSP meet

Members of Beta Sigma Phi met for its regular semi-monthly meeting at the Snyder Country Club on Nov. 3. Jenny Early presented the program.

Miss Early, a member of the Snyder High School forensics team, was introduced by program chairman, Betsy Griffin. She gave a demonstration on persuasive and informative speaking. To illustrate the UIL event, she gave a seven-minute speech on one of the political presidential candidates.

Following the program, she answered questions concerning SHS student involvement in UIL speaking events.

Vice president Martha Knowles conducted the business session. Members were reminded of the upcoming couple's social.

Hostess for the meeting was Jackie Buckland and Mrs. Knowles won the hostess gift.

Howard Classic begins with WTC-Blinn battle

The Dusters are 8-1 and riding a 7-game winning streak under first-year coach Ron Jones, including an 80-72 come-from-behind win over Cisco Junior College Monday at Scurry County Coliseum.

Other opening round games at the Howard Classic include Western Junior College Athletic Conference member South Plains College against Cisco at 4 p.m. and host Howard, the WJCAC preseason favorite, squaring off against Grayson County JC at 8 p.m.

Friday finds WTC facing Cisco for the third time this season in the noon contest, Grayson and South Plains playing at 4 p.m. and Howard entertaining Blinn in the 8 p.m. nightcap.

Saturday's tilts include Blinn vs. SPC at noon, WTC against Grayson at 4 p.m. and Cisco vs. Howard in the tourney finale at 8 p.m.

The Lady Dusters' next home appearance will be the Dec. 3 WJCAC opener against Howard.

Bonds wins second NL MVP

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Reluctantly, Barry Bonds attended a news conference called to announce he'd won his second National League Most Valuable Player award in three years.

Reluctantly, because it got in the way of a workout.

"How many ballplayers have started their intense workout program right now?" Bonds' father, Bobby, wondered Wednesday. "And he's been MVP two of the last three years.

"And he's started it. He's been talking about it since Monday. On Monday, he was saying, 'I've got to get ready for the season.' Like it starts next week. I once watched one of his winter workouts and I thought he was crazy, doing that. After the year that he had, I didn't think he was crazy."

The elder Bonds was a proud father as his son became the 10th player to win more than one NL MVP, joining such Hall of Famers as Stan Musial, Willie Mays and Ernie Banks.

And Barry wants more.

"I want to do it again," Bonds said of the MVP award at the office of his agent, Dennis Gilbert. "I'm 28. I want to be the first to do it four times."

Bonds, a free agent, was an easy winner over Atlanta's Terry Pendleton, receiving 18 of a possible 24 first-place votes in balloting by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Bonds finished with 304 points, followed by Pendleton with 232 points, including four first-place votes, and San Diego's Gary Sheffield with two first-place votes and 204 points.

"I think this is probably the most important one because this one I'm giving to my mom. She deserves it," Bonds said of the award.

Bonds led the Pittsburgh Pirates to their third straight NL East title by hitting .311 with 34 homers and 103 RBIs. He also scored 109 runs and walked 127 times.

The left fielder also won the MVP award in 1990 and was runner-up to Pendleton last year.

"I have a lot or reactions," Bonds said. "Last year, statistically I thought I had a shot. I was very happy for Terry Pendleton. He's a good friend of mine."

It doesn't appear he'll be with the Pirates next season because they probably can't afford him, although no one is saying for sure right now.

"I haven't closed the door to anything," Bonds said. "I don't really want to get involved in the negotiations. My agent will let me know what's going on."

The teams reportedly most interested in Bonds are the New York Yankees and Atlanta Braves. During the NL playoffs, Bonds went house hunting in the Atlanta area.

Gilbert declined to discuss any figures.

Bonds and the Pirates have come very close to playing in the World Series in each of the last three years, losing to Cincinnati once and Atlanta twice in the NL playoffs.

Corso's prediction upsets A&M coach

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — ESPN announcer Lee Corso says he was merely stating a fact when he told viewers last weekend to look for Florida State to leapfrog past Texas A&M in the weekly Associated Press college football poll.

When indeed the AP voters moved Florida State to No. 3 in the country, just ahead of the Aggies, Corso was considered the culprit by A&M football coach R.C. Slocum and others.

Wednesday, Corso was on the A&M campus to tape a segment on Slocum and the Aggies to air at 10:30 a.m. on ESPN's Game Day, but found himself defending himself.

The Aggies struggled to get past Houston, 38-30, to improve their record to 10-0 in a game telecast by ESPN last Thursday night. Florida State routed Tulane, 70-7, two days later.

Slocum, who said he didn't want to talk about the polls, pointed out that Corso is a Florida State graduate.

"I thought it was a little unfair to the national television audience that he was making a campaign for Florida State," Slocum said.

"What I said on Thursday night was to watch for Florida State to leapfrog Texas A&M. I said watch for it," Corso told the Bryan-College Station Eagle.

"On Saturday, I said there were only 27 points between Florida State and A&M in AP. All it takes is a few voters to change their mind. I said Florida State would bomb Tulane by 45 points (a 70-7 victory) and A&M had beaten a mediocre Houston team by only eight points.

"That was a statement of fact. I never said SHOULD (pass A&M). Please put that down."

"My job is to predict what should happen," Corso added. He said "It would be stupid" to assume that being a FSU grad clouds his statements. Last year, Corso said he correctly predicted FSU would lose the national championship because it had a horrible deep-snapper and a horrible placekicker.

Corso said it's absurd to think he influences the AP voters by what he says on the air. "I can't even influence my wife," he said.

Corso's Top 4: No. 1 Miami, No. 2 Alabama and No. 3 a tie between A&M and Florida State.

"Think I'm stupid?" he asked.

Ranked teams to meet at NIT

by The Associated Press

The preseason NIT is keeping the college basketball cupcake count down.

The early season is usually filled with games between teams that have little in common except for uniforms and sneakers.

Thanks to the tournament that started the season on Wednesday night, there will be two matchups of ranked teams in Friday night's semifinals.

Fourth-ranked Indiana beat Murray State 103-80 and will play host to No. 17 Tulane, a 70-54 winner over Wagner. Ninth-ranked Florida State downed Siena 89-80 and will play host to No. 19 Iowa State, an 84-69 winner over Indiana State.

In Wednesday night's other games, Texas-El Paso beat George Mason 90-71 and No. 24 UCLA downed St. Louis 68-54. They will play their quarterfinal game Friday night at UCLA.

Tonight, Delaware is at No. 6 Seton Hall and Tennessee visits Rutgers, with the winners meeting Saturday.

The semifinals will be Nov. 25 in New York, with the championship game two nights later.

Tulane scored the first 12 points of the game on the way to victory over Wagner as Anthony Reed scored 22 points, six in the opening three minutes.

"For the first time out of the box, I think the kids did a good job," Tulane coach Perry Clark said. "The kids came out well. They were a little flustered at times, but it was a good win for us."

Now comes Indiana, a Final Four team last year that has four starters back.

"We're going up there to win," Clark said. "We are not just going up to play a good game and come home."

The Green Wave forced 14 turnovers on the way to a 35-20 halftime lead and Wagner, which was led by Miladin Mutavdzic's 19 points, never got no closer than 11.

"We got off to a slow start," Wagner coach Tim Capstraw said. "Anthony Reed really took it to us."

No. 4 Indiana 103, Murray St. 80

The Hoosiers made 37 of 42 free throws in the easy win, with Greg Graham leading the way with 12 of 13 as he scored 22 points.

"The main thing is to concentrate," Graham said. "Free throws are really going to be important for us, because those are easy points. You're not going to get any easier points than free throws."

The Hoosiers held Murray State to two field goals and six free throws over an 8-minute span and took a 48-28 lead.

Calbert Cheaney and Alan Henderson each had 13 points for the Hoosiers, while Frank Allen had 19 for the Racers.

No. 9 Florida St. 89, Siena 80

The Seminoles played without starters Charlie Ward and Douglas Edwards, but guards Bobby Sura and Sam Cassell each had 24 points.

Ward is still tending to his duties as starting quarterback for Florida State's third-ranked football team, and the point guard won't return until after its bowl game. Edwards, a junior forward, was suspended for academic reasons.

Cassell filled in for Ward by handing out nine assists and Sura took care of the outside shooting, going 8 for 11, including all four of the Seminoles' 3-pointers.

Senior guard Mike Brown scored 28 points, including five 3-pointers, to lead Siena, while Lee Matthews added 22 points and 9 rebounds.

No. 19 Iowa St. 84, Indiana St. 69

Sophomore Julius Michalik scored a career-high 24 points and matched his personal best with seven assists to lead the Hawkeyes to their fourth straight season-opening victory.

No. 24 UCLA 68, St. Louis 54

The Bruins rallied from a 34-28 halftime deficit behind the 21 points and nine rebounds of Loyola Marymount transfer Richard Petruska.

Texas-El Paso 90, George Mason 71

Eddie Rivera had 19 points and six assists to lead the Miners, who led 52-37 at halftime after a 25-7 run. Antione Gillespie added 16 points for Texas-El Paso, while Johnny Melvin had 15, Roy Howard 14 and Ralph Davis 13.

Donald Ross led George Mason with 17 points.

Injury could keep Haley on sideline

IRVING, Texas (AP) — For the second straight week, the Dallas Cowboys will go into an NFL game with defensive end Charles Haley at less than full strength.

In fact, coach Jimmy Johnson said the quarterback-trapping specialist may not play in Sunday's game in Phoenix against the Cardinals. Haley is battling a groin injury.

"He's worse off than what we thought he was. There's no question he adds a lot to our defense when he is healthy," Johnson said Wednesday.

Without a robust Haley, the Dallas Cowboys defense became vulnerable in a 27-23 loss to the Los Angeles Rams.

Although Haley has recorded only two sacks since he joined the Cowboys from the San Francisco 49ers, he's had 32 quarterback pressures, recovered two fumbles and cleared the way for teammates to record five sacks.

The Cowboys were able to sack Jim Everett only one time last Sunday as the Rams passed and ran through the NFL's previously top ranked defense. A limping Haley tried to play with the sore left groin but couldn't get near Everett.

"Haley is valuable because he adds a lot to the pass rush," said Johnson.

"It was obvious Charles was not at full speed on Sunday. It was the first time we had dealt with a Charles Haley injury. He felt he was able to go. We thought once he warmed up he could give us a pass rush. This has got to be a concern," he added.

Haley said the injury has taken away his primary weapons.

"I do a lot of quick moves, and I couldn't do it every time I tried to. Playing with pain is something you have to learn as a pro player," Haley said.

The Cowboys will start Jim Jeffcoat against the Cardinals if Haley can't go, and Leon Lett also will see action from the end position.

The Cowboys also will be starting rookie Kevin Smith at left cornerback for veteran Issiac Holt, who said he understands the move to put the team's No. 1 1992 draft pick into the starting lineup.

Smith said he's glad to be getting his chance.

"It's something I've worked hard for. I think I'm prepared," the former Texas A&M star said.

But to tighten their defense, the Cowboys need Haley. Safety Thomas Everett said not having a hale and hearty Haley hurts.

"He can be a tremendous defensive force, a big weapon," Everett said.

Howard Classic begins with WTC-Blinn battle

The Dusters are 8-1 and riding a 7-game winning streak under first-year coach Ron Jones, including an 80-72 come-from-behind win over Cisco Junior College Monday at Scurry County Coliseum.

Other opening round games at the Howard Classic include Western Junior College Athletic Conference member South Plains College against Cisco at 4 p.m. and host Howard, the WJCAC preseason favorite, squaring off against Grayson County JC at 8 p.m.

Friday finds WTC facing Cisco for the third time this season in the noon contest, Grayson and South Plains playing at 4 p.m. and Howard entertaining Blinn in the 8 p.m. nightcap.

Saturday's tilts include Blinn vs. SPC at noon, WTC against Grayson at 4 p.m. and Cisco vs. Howard in the tourney finale at 8 p.m.

The Lady Dusters' next home appearance will be the Dec. 3 WJCAC opener against Howard.

Bonds wins second NL MVP

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Reluctantly, Barry Bonds attended a news conference called to announce he'd won his second National League Most Valuable Player award in three years.

Reluctantly, because it got in the way of a workout.

"How many ballplayers have started their intense workout program right now?" Bonds' father, Bobby, wondered Wednesday. "And he's been MVP two of the last three years.

"And he's started it. He's been talking about it since Monday. On Monday, he was saying, 'I've got to get ready for the season.' Like it starts next week. I once watched one of his winter workouts and I thought he was crazy, doing that. After the year that he had, I didn't think he was crazy."

The elder Bonds was a proud father as his son became the 10th player to win more than one NL MVP, joining such Hall of Famers as Stan Musial, Willie Mays and Ernie Banks.

And Barry wants more.

"I want to do it again," Bonds said of the MVP award at the office of his agent, Dennis Gilbert. "I'm 28. I want to be the first to do it four times."

Bonds, a free agent, was an easy winner over Atlanta's Terry Pendleton, receiving 18 of a possible 24 first-place votes in balloting by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Bonds finished with 304 points, followed by Pendleton with 232 points, including four first-place votes, and San Diego's Gary Sheffield with two first-place votes and 204 points.

"I think this is probably the most important one because this one I'm giving to my mom. She deserves it," Bonds said of the award.

Bonds led the Pittsburgh Pirates to their third straight NL East title by hitting .311 with 34 homers and 103 RBIs. He also scored 109 runs and walked 127 times.

The left fielder also won the MVP award in 1990 and was runner-up to Pendleton last year.

"I have a lot or reactions," Bonds said. "Last year, statistically I thought I had a shot. I was very happy for Terry Pendleton. He's a good friend of mine."

It doesn't appear he'll be with the Pirates next season because they probably can't afford him, although no one is saying for sure right now.

"I haven't closed the door to anything," Bonds said. "I don't really want to get involved in the negotiations. My agent will let me know what's going on."

The teams reportedly most interested in Bonds are the New York Yankees and Atlanta Braves. During the NL playoffs, Bonds went house hunting in the Atlanta area.

Gilbert declined to discuss any figures.

Bonds and the Pirates have come very close to playing in the World Series in each of the last three years, losing to Cincinnati once and Atlanta twice in the NL playoffs.

Corso's prediction upsets A&M coach

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — ESPN announcer Lee Corso says he was merely stating a fact when he told viewers last weekend to look for Florida State to leapfrog past Texas A&M in the weekly Associated Press college football poll.

When indeed the AP voters moved Florida State to No. 3 in the country, just ahead of the Aggies, Corso was considered the culprit by A&M football coach R.C. Slocum and others.

Wednesday, Corso was on the A&M campus to tape a segment on Slocum and the Aggies to air at 10:30 a.m. on ESPN's Game Day, but found himself defending himself.

The Aggies struggled to get past Houston, 38-30, to improve their record to 10-0 in a game telecast by ESPN last Thursday night. Florida State routed Tulane, 70-7, two days later.

Slocum, who said he didn't want to talk about the polls, pointed out that Corso is a Florida State graduate.

"I thought it was a little unfair to the national television audience that he was making a campaign for Florida State," Slocum said.

"What I said on Thursday night was to watch for Florida State to leapfrog Texas A&M. I said watch for it," Corso told the Bryan-College Station Eagle.

"On Saturday, I said there were only 27 points between Florida State and A&M in AP. All it takes is a few voters to change their mind. I said Florida State would bomb Tulane by 45 points (a 70-7 victory) and A&M had beaten a mediocre Houston team by only eight points.

"That was a statement of fact. I never said SHOULD (pass A&M). Please put that down."

"My job is to predict what should happen," Corso added. He said "It would be stupid" to assume that being a FSU grad clouds his statements. Last year, Corso said he correctly predicted FSU would lose the national championship because it had a horrible deep-snapper and a horrible place-kicker.

Corso said it's absurd to think he influences the AP voters by what he says on the air. "I can't even influence my wife," he said.

Corso's Top 4: No. 1 Miami, No. 2 Alabama and No. 3 a tie between A&M and Florida State.

"Think I'm stupid?" he asked.

Injury could keep Haley on sideline

IRVING, Texas (AP) — For the second straight week, the Dallas Cowboys will go into an NFL game with defensive end Charles Haley at less than full strength.

In fact, coach Jimmy Johnson said the quarterback-trapping specialist may not play in Sunday's game in Phoenix against the Cardinals. Haley is battling a groin injury.

"He's worse off than what we thought he was. There's no question he adds a lot to our defense when he is healthy," Johnson said Wednesday.

Without a robust Haley, the Dallas Cowboys defense became vulnerable in a 27-23 loss to the Los Angeles Rams.

Although Haley has recorded only two sacks since he joined the Cowboys from the San Francisco 49ers, he's had 32 quarterback pressures, recovered two fumbles and cleared the way for teammates to record five sacks.

The Cowboys were able to sack Jim Everett only one time last Sunday as the Rams passed and ran through the NFL's previously top ranked defense. A limping Haley tried to play with the sore left groin but couldn't get near Everett.

"Haley is valuable because he adds a lot to the pass rush," said Johnson.

"It was obvious Charles was not at full speed on Sunday. It was the first time we had dealt with a Charles Haley injury. He felt he was able to go. We thought once he warmed up he could give us a pass rush. This has got to be a concern," he added.

Haley said the injury has taken away his primary weapons.

"I do a lot of quick moves, and I couldn't do it every time I tried to. Playing with pain is something you have to learn as a pro player," Haley said.

The Cowboys will start Jim Jeffcoat against the Cardinals if Haley can't go, and Leon Lett also will see action from the end position.

The Cowboys also will be starting rookie Kevin Smith at left cornerback for veteran Issiac Holt, who said he understands the move to put the team's No. 1 1992 draft pick into the starting lineup.

Smith said he's glad to be getting his chance.

"It's something I've worked hard for. I think I'm prepared," the former Texas A&M star said.

But to tighten their defense, the Cowboys need Haley. Safety Thomas Everett said not having a hale and hearty Haley hurts.

"He can be a tremendous defensive force, a big weapon," Everett said.

Ranked teams to meet at NIT

by The Associated Press

The preseason NIT is keeping the college basketball cupcake count down.

The early season is usually filled with games between teams that have little in common except for uniforms and sneakers.

Thanks to the tournament that started the season on Wednesday night, there will be two matchups of ranked teams in Friday night's semifinals.

Fourth-ranked Indiana beat Murray State 103-80 and will play host to No. 17 Tulane, a 70-54 winner over Wagner. Ninth-ranked Florida State downed Siena 89-80 and will play host to No. 19 Iowa State, an 84-69 winner over Indiana State.

In Wednesday night's other games, Texas-El Paso beat George Mason 90-71 and No. 24 UCLA downed St. Louis 68-54. They will play their quarterfinal game Friday night at UCLA.

Tonight, Delaware is at No. 6 Seton Hall and Tennessee visits Rutgers, with the winners meeting Saturday.

The semifinals will be Nov. 25 in New York, with the championship game two nights later.

Tulane scored the first 12 points of the game on the way to victory over Wagner as Anthony Reed scored 22 points, six in the opening three minutes.

"For the first time out of the box, I think the kids did a good job," Tulane coach Perry Clark said. "The kids came out well. They were a little flustered at times, but it was a good win for us."

Now comes Indiana, a Final Four team last year that has four starters back.

"We're going up there to win," Clark said. "We are not just going up to play a good game and come home."

The Green Wave forced 14 turnovers on the way to a 35-20 halftime lead and Wagner, which was led by Miladin Mutavdzic's 19 points, never got no closer than 11.

"We got off to a slow start," Wagner coach Tim Capstraw said. "Anthony Reed really took it to us."

No. 4 Indiana 103, Murray St. 80

The Hoosiers made 37 of 42 free throws in the easy win, with Greg Graham leading the way with 12 of 13 as he scored 22 points.

"The main thing is to concentrate," Graham said. "Free throws are really going to be important for us, because those are easy points. You're not going to get any easier points than free throws."

The Hoosiers held Murray State to two field goals and six free throws over an 8-minute span and took a 48-28 lead.

Calbert Cheaney and Alan Henderson each had 13 points for the Hoosiers, while Frank Allen had 19 for the Racers.

No. 9 Florida St. 89, Siena 80

The Seminoles played without starters Charlie Ward and Douglas Edwards, but guards Bobby Sura and Sam Cassell each had 24 points.

Ward is still tending to his duties as starting quarterback for Florida State's third-ranked football team, and the point guard won't return until after its bowl game. Edwards, a junior forward, was suspended for academic reasons.

Cassell filled in for Ward by handing out nine assists and Sura took care of the outside shooting, going 8 for 11, including all four of the Seminoles' 3-pointers.

Senior guard Mike Brown scored 28 points, including five 3-pointers, to lead Siena, while Lee Matthews added 22 points and 9 rebounds.

No. 19 Iowa St. 84, Indiana St. 69

Sophomore Julius Michalik scored a career-high 24 points and matched his personal best with seven assists to lead the Hawkeyes to their fourth straight season-opening victory.

No. 24 UCLA 68, St. Louis 54

The Bruins rallied from a 34-28 halftime deficit behind the 21 points and nine rebounds of Loyola Marymount transfer Richard Petruska.

Texas-El Paso 90, George Mason 71

Eddie Rivera had 19 points and six assists to lead the Miners, who led 52-37 at halftime after a 25-7 run. Antione Gillespie added 16 points for Texas-El Paso, while Johnny Melvin had 15, Roy Howard 14 and Ralph Davis 13.

Donald Ross led George Mason with 17 points.

New lottery game announced

AUSTIN (AP) — A new Texas Lottery game featuring a holiday theme, improved odds of winning and environmentally-friendly playing tickets has been unveiled.

The new "Stocking Stuffer" scratch-offs are made completely from recycled paper. The tickets themselves also are recyclable.

Players win by matching three holiday symbols found beneath the game ticket's scratch-off latex covering. Winners will receive the prize listed in the prize box on the ticket.

The ticket is the first foil-free, 100 percent biodegradable instant lottery ticket made on recycled paper, officials said. The Texas Lottery is test marketing the ticket to determine whether to manufacture future tickets in the same manner.

Sinus 'problem' could be allergies

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Why is it so difficult to get relief from a sinus problem? I've suffered for 35 years, have been to two ENT specialists, have moved and I am simply miserable all the time. Help.

DEAR READER: I wish I could help you. Have you considered seeing an allergist? Perhaps your "sinus problem" isn't sinus at all. Allergic reactions, such as rhinitis, can cause sinus congestion and are easily treated with antihistamines.

Go to your primary-care doctor and ask him to refer you to an allergist.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I average five little hemorrhages on the surface of my left eye each year. What are the reasons for this pathological problem?

DEAR READER: If your "little hemorrhages" affect the white of the eye, they are harmless. Called "scleral hemorrhages," these are bruises caused by the rupture of tiny blood vessels — or from minor trauma, such as rubbing your eyes at night. If, on the other hand, these ruptured blood vessels are affecting the front of the eye or the pupil, this condition may affect vision and should be examined an treated by an eye doctor.

To be on the safe side, I suggest that you have an examination from an ophthalmologist.

DEAR READER: Please write something about myelofibrosis. Is this a form of cancer and what can be done for the condition?

DEAR READER: Myelofibrosis is a chronic disorder of the bone marrow, leading to anemia and an enlarged spleen. Some forms are associated with leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, myeloma and other malignancies. Other forms are related to infection, tuberculosis and the toxic effects of radiation. Still other forms are "idiopathic," meaning the cause is unknown.

The diagnosis is made by a bone marrow examination, showing extensive scarring and replacement of blood-forming cells.

The prognosis and treatment depend on the cause.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Blood Donations and Disorders." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Brightest teens fear economic futures, AIDS and violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's brightest high school students are gloomy about many of the same domestic ills that drove their parents to vote in record numbers this election — their economic futures, violence and AIDS.

The 23rd Annual Survey of High Achievers, released Wednesday, found nearly one-third of the students had considered suicide, more than 40 percent had experienced violence in schools and nearly half had dealt with pressure to have sex.

It also found more than three-quarters were more concerned about contracting AIDS than they had been a year ago, while more than half worried that their generation would fare worse economically than their parents.

"If large numbers of our most accomplished young people feel this way, it spells trouble for the entire generation," said Paul Krouse, publisher of "Who's Who Among American High School Students," which conducted the survey.

Krouse said the findings portray a "generation that is sexually aware, politically indifferent, personally depressed, economically anxious and fearing for their safety."

Educators said that, while the survey demonstrates considerable gloom among students, much is likely to be attributed to the typical anxieties of adolescence combined with the heavy attention to the nation's domestic woes this year, which helped draw a record 104 million Americans to the polls Nov. 3.

"Adolescence is a time of transition and change ... that always bears out these sort of concerns, but I think everything has been heightened by the social and economic circumstances of the last three or four years," Bob Hochstein of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching in Princeton, N.J., said in an interview.

Added Marilyn Monahan of the National Education Association, the nation's largest teachers' union:

"The survey confirms for us that we're not talking around these kids, that they're picking it up, talking about themselves and are just as fearful about the direction of the nation."

Krouse's publication sent out questionnaires to 5,000 students nationwide with A or B averages asking for their views on their future, sex, politics, suicide, violence, drugs and alcohol. There were 2,092 respondents: 73 percent were female and 81 percent were white.

Among the most poignant findings, Krouse said, was a strong fear among even the brightest students about "downward mobility."

Fifty-four percent said they expected to have more difficulty than their parents in starting a career, 58 percent expected more difficulty in buying a house and 60 percent anticipated more difficult in affording an education.

"If our best and brightest young people are concerned about their future opportunities, one can only imagine the pessimism running through the entire generation," Krouse said.

The survey also found 78 percent of students were more concerned about getting AIDS than a year ago and 27 percent said they would get tested for the disease if schools provided it confidentiality.

But 41 percent said they were likely to have sex even if a condom, the key to AIDS prevention, was not available.

Forty-five percent reported feeling considerable pressure to have sex and 26 percent described themselves as sexually active. Among the sexually active, 43 percent reported having sex before age 16.

Police note two arrests

Snyder police made two arrests for disorderly conduct and worked three traffic accidents Wednesday and early today.

In response to two separate disturbances, police arrested a 27-year-old woman at 4:25 p.m. Wednesday in the 1900 block of Coleman and a 34-year-old man at 3:23 a.m. today in the 3700 block of Avenue U for disorderly conduct-language.

After responding to the disturbance call this morning, police also filed reports for Class B assault and family violence.

At 11:41 a.m. Wednesday, police worked a one-vehicle accident at 5700 Dorm Drive on the college campus. Involved was a 1972 Chevrolet pickup driven by Jeffery Black of Rt. 3 which struck a yield sign. Damage to the sign was estimated at $50. The pickup was towed from the scene.

Officers worked a hit-and-run at 4:46 p.m. Wednesday in the Lawrence IGA parking lot. Involved were a parked, unoccupied 1984 Ford pickup owned by Tommy Arnold of 313 36th St. and an unknown vehicle which left the scene.

At 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, officers investigated a mishap in the Great Western Motel parking lot. Involved were a 1976 Ford driven by Edward M. Ryder of Douglas, Wyo. and a parked, unoccupied 1991 Chevrolet owned by Flint Engineering & Construction Co. of Tulsa, Okla.

Police were also called to the 3200 block of Avenue K at 2:15 this morning where it was reported that a man was having problems. The individual was escorted to the police department where he met with MHMR officials and was later transported to Big Spring State Hospital.

House keeps school finance plan alive

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Gib Lewis says leaders may try again as early as Friday to win House approval of a proposed constitutional amendment on school finance.

The proposal was loaded up with several tax and education provisions before winning preliminary approval Wednesday on a heavily partisan vote of 86-59.

That's short of the two-thirds required in the 150-member chamber to try to put it on the ballot for Texas voters. However, it allows leaders another try to get the 100 votes they need.

"We had to find out where the votes were. Now we know," said Lewis, D-Fort Worth. He said that if the votes can't be picked up, "you call in the dogs and go home."

Only two of the 58 House Republicans voted for the measure, and five were shown absent for the vote.

One of Lewis' top lieutenants, Rep. Hugo Berlanga, D-Corpus Christi, said, "If we don't get some Republican and bipartisan support on the effort, I mean we are doomed. This session is over."

Rep. Kent Grusendorf, R-Arlington, said, "There are other alternatives available" to Wednesday's proposal. He also noted concerns that a bill to implement the proposed amendment would result in higher local property taxes.

The proposal would authorize redistribution of some local property tax money from wealthy to poorer school districts.

In addition, the House put in a provision requiring approval from Texas voters for lawmakers in the future to impose a state income tax. The provision would mandate that at least half of the revenue from an income tax in the first year be used to reduce school property taxes.

Another provision added by the House would prevent the state from mandating programs for education unless it also funds them, with some exceptions. But it said any state programs should be paid for under an equalized system, so wealthy school districts that get virtually no state money still would have to comply with the mandates.

Among other changes, the House also tightened the limit on the amount of local property tax money that could be redistributed.

The House Public Education Committee had put the limit at 2.75 percent of state and local public education money, but the House changed that to 2.5 percent.

Public education is funded mainly from local property taxes and state aid, and the Texas Supreme Court has said similar revenues should be available to school districts that have similar tax rates.

But it ruled in January that the current system of redistributing local property tax money among districts, within counties or groups of counties, violates the state constitution. It gave lawmakers until June 1, 1993, to fix the system.

Gov. Ann Richards strongly pushed for the House to pass a proposed amendment, paving the way for a conference committee to work out differences between it and a proposal approved last week by the Senate.

White House said absolved following passport case probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department's inspector general says the Bush White House didn't order the "heinous" attempt by department officials to dig up political dirt from Bill Clinton's travel records, but he suspects it knew about the effort.

Acting Secretary of State Lawrence S. Eagleburger, meanwhile, publicly apologized Wednesday "for the department being in this mess" and disclosed he had offered to resign because the episode occurred on his watch. He said President Bush refused the offer.

Eagleburger addressed a news conference at which he fully endorsed the report of Inspector General Sherman M. Funk, who concluded that department officials had rummaged Clinton's passport and travel records for the wholly improper purpose of trying to find something to "influence the outcome" of the Nov. 3 election in favor of President Bush.

Funk's report was based on interviews with 69 people, including James A. Baker III, the White House chief of staff and former secretary of state. It concluded that a handful of department officials — with recently fired Assistant Secretary Elizabeth M. Tamposi foremost among them — were behind the bizarre episode.

"That is a very heinous activity and shame on the Department of State that it happened," Funk said.

His report absolved the White House of directing the search for evidence that Clinton had considered renouncing his citizenship while a student at Oxford University in England in the late 1960s.

But pressed by reporters on whether White House officials knew about the search, which turned up nothing incriminating, Funk replied: "My supposition is there was knowledge at the White House. ... I suspect it, yes."

He said it would be "sheer speculation" whether the Bush campaign's attack on Clinton's character and patriotism had created a climate for searching the Democratic candidate's records.

Support needed for economic development

$1 per acre, as well as offering to build buildings at zero percent interest, attracting industry to the city.

Industries visited by the pair while in Pueblo included B.F. Goodrich and McDonald Douglas.

Prior to the trip, Fritz met with Dusty McCormick of the Texas Department of Commerce, who emphasized that Snyder needs to promote its positive points. Things pointed out by McCormick were the number of people from Snyder who have become celebrities, and the prairie dog town in Towle Park, which he said many people would come to see if they knew about it.

According to McCormick, the commerce department helps with referrals for industry and business, but only if a city has an organized economic development plan. He added that the city must also work with economic development departments of utility companies to promote the city.

The commerce department has said it will help Snyder with its economic development plan when a rough strategy has been outlined.

Fritz told BCD members that a similar trip was taken by persons in Lubbock in order to attract food and fiber processing plants for their city.

"Their goal to attract these businesses is to train 1,000 volunteers to sell Lubbock in their business dealings and travel," said Fritz. "We have the volunteers. We just don't know how to sell Snyder."

According to Fritz, a newspaper owner in Coeur D'Alene, a town which lost two of its four wood mills in the mid-1980s, took an old motel in the city and turned it into a lakeside resort.

He then had a brainstorming session with others in the community, with a five-year plan organized to further the development of the city.

Coeur D'Alene citizens pledged to give a certain amount toward economic devlopment each year for five years. The city got a California manufacturer's guide and began making cold calls on businesses, asking them to relocate to Coeur D'Alene.

Fritz said that within four years, the city had attracted 34 small manufacturing companies, including 29 from southern California.

According to Fritz, Coeur D'Alene has no enterprise zone and no sales tax revenue. "They sell people on their quality of life," he said.

Palm Springs, which is a primary retirement spot in the United States, is currently building a resort called Sun City, Palm Springs. The resort is 20 miles out in the desert, and features $200,000, 1,800 square-foot quadraplexes.

The city has hired a former industrial consultant as director for economic development.

Hook and Fritz presented a list of recommendations for Snyder, based on information from their trip.

Included on the list were the ideas of someone to sell the city to outsiders and community support of growth, as well as designing a five-year economic development plan, cold calls and follow up calls to outside industry, a clean-up Snyder campaign, positive attitude campaign and studying all available materials.

The pair also suggested that construction people be contacted concerning the possibility of building structures for businesses at a cost of $25 per square foot for utilities and the shell of the building, and that the city keep in contact with the commerce department and department of agriculture.

"I don't think we are that far out of the race," said the chamber manager. "I feel we can get there from here."

Fritz told BCD members that he would like to condense the presentation made to the board and present it to the general public sometime in the near future.

Board Chairman Jack Smartt said that a lot of decisions have to be made in order to get an economic development plan underway. "The main thing is I hope people stay with it," said Smartt.

Other business for the board included a brief discussion of the Oct. 24 TDCJ Appreciation Day. Smartt presented a letter from Price Daniel Warden Les Woods thanking the board for the event.

Approval of minutes from the October meeting and the financial report were the only other items on the agenda.

Packs 61, 177 have annual pushmobile

Packs 61 and 177 participated in the annual district pushmobile in the parking lot west of Everybody's Thriftway. Each den built a pushmobile car. One scout drove the car while two scouts pushed. Requirements included each car to be fitted with brakes, safety belt and safety helmets for each boy.

After a parade lead by a Snyder Police car, the competition began according to dens, based on the age of the scouts.

In the Tiger Division, Den 6, Pack 61 was first place; Den 5, Pack 61 was third place. In the Wolf Division, Den 1, Pack 177 wa rst place and Den 4, Pack 61 was second place.

In the Bear Division, Den 6, Pack 177 was first place; Den 7, Pack 61 was second place; and Den 4, Pack 177 was first place; Den 2, Pack 61 was second place; and Den 3, Pack 61 was third place. Pack 61 won second place for its time

The pushmobiles themselves were judged for "Best Design" and "Most Original." They were judged on basic design, seat belt, steering, brake, finish-decor, craftsmanship and other. First place for this category went to Tiger Den 6, Pack 61. They named their car USA.

Second place for "Best Design" went to Tiger Den 5, Pack 61. Their car was named the Orange Flame.

First place for "Most Original" was Tiger Den 1, Pack 177. Their car was named Tiger. Second place for this category went to Tiger Den 3 of Pack 177. Their car was named Tiger Tail.

All drivers and pushers reported a safe and fun-filled time.

Officials, tabulators and judges for the pushmobile were Warren Wallace, district executive; Margaret Morris, district commissioner; Kenneth Gibson, assistant den leader of Pack 61; Theresa Vest, committee chairman for Pack 61; and Sylvia Fletcher, assistant district commissioner.

In October, the Cub Scouts theme was "Fire Detectives." They were involved in learning good and bad uses of fire and safety rules in dealing with fire.

All dens presented a skit, an audience participation piece or a song dealing with fire and safety or things they learned at Day Camp during the summer.

Leaders for this year were presented to the parents and guests. They are Larry Vest, cubmaster; Theresa Vest, committee chairman; Sylvia Fletcher, secretary/treasurer; John Gibson, Webelo II den leader; Wayne Stark, Webelo II assistant den leader; Larry Vest, Webelo I den leader; Jana Palmore, assistant den leader; David Stokes, Den 4 Bear den leader; and Darlene Stokes, Den 4 assistant den leader.

Others are Robert Boyd, Den 7 leader; Linda Key, Den 7 assistant den leader; Darlene Stokes, Wolf den leader; Cyndy Masias and Rudy Hernandez, assistant den leaders for Wolves; Paul Mey, Den 5 Tiger den leader; Deana Floyd, Den 5 Tiger assistant den leader; Tina Tidwell, Den 6 Tiger den leader; and Wynola Early Den 6 Tiger assistant den leader.

All leaders and cub scouts received year pins according to the number of years in Cub Scouts. Receiving the Bobcat award were Jeremy Stark, Clynt James, Joe Pechacek, Trent Boyd, Joshua Key, Jayme Boulware, Cruz Reneteria; Michael Allen, Kyle Bartels, Cory Cochran, Jared Hagins, Danny Masias, Bobby Sands, Seth Sands, Matthew Stokes and Manuel Tarago.

All receiving the Bobcat were new scouts or scouts moving up from Tigers.

Many other achievements were earned over the summer and the first of the school year. Webelos II had Michael Gibson, Aquanaut, and Ben Rollins, Artist.

Webelos I receiving achievements were Neil Cooper, Eric Garcia, Trey Gibson, Matthew Grimmett, Scott Vest, Rance Palmore, Clynt James, Joe Pechacek and Pace Millhollan. All these scouts received the communicator pin. Scott Vest also received sports loops for the ultimate, volleyball and fishing.

Many Bears received awards also. Aaron-Hud Benitez got one silver arrowpoint for the Wolf and sports loops for archery, fishing, ultimate and volleyball. Michael Fletcher got one silver arrowpoint for the Wolf and sport loops for archery, fishing, ultimate and volleyball. Nathan Hines received one silver arrowpoint for Wolf and sports loops for archery, fishing, ultimate and volleyball.

Tyson Kubena got the Bear patch, one gold and two silver arrowpoints, sports loops for archer, fishing, ultimate and volleyball. Ryan McAnally received one silver arrowpoint for the Wolf and sports loops for archery, fishing, ultimate and volleyball. Keith Sharp got one silver arrowpoint for Wolf and sports loops for archery, fishing, ultimate and volleyball.

Justin Stokes received the Bear patch, one gold and two silver arrowpoints, and sport loops for archery, fishing ultimate and volleyball. Jarrod Tanner got one silver arrowpoint for Wolf and sport loops for archery, fishing, ultimate and volleyball.

Several Wolves received awards. Danny Masias got sport loops for baseball and basketball. Bobby Sands and Seth Sands both received a baseball sport loop and a baseball pin. Matthew Stokes received sports loops for baseball, archery, fishing, volleyball and ultimate. He also got a baseball pin. Manuel Tarango received the Wolf patch, one gold and six silver arrowpoints, baseball pin, sports loops for baseball, archery, fishing volleyball and ultimate.

All Tigers in Den 6 received their Tiger patch and pin. These scouts are Tucker Early, K.J. French, Richard Gradney, Thomas Plock, Kendall Tidwell and Perry Wadleigh.

All the Tigers in Den 5 received their Tiger pin. They are Cody Broker, Clayton Floyd, Bryan Huddleston, Jeremy May, Dustin Orsak and Joshua Proctor.

Hospital renovates pediatrics ward into special 'Kidsville'

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — There are a few myths among children who fear hospital stays.

Some think nurses will stick them with great, big needles. Others have heard doctors put cold, scary things all over your body.

But Providence Hospital in El Paso has launched an $850,000 project to dispel those fears.

The hospital on Wednesday officially opened a renovated pediatric ward that turned the drab, ominous wing into a colorful place called "Kidsville."

"Many times hospitals can be traumatizing," said Norma Bastin, Providence Memorial Hospital child-life specialist. "Children are afraid of separation, mutilation. They fear they're going to be hurt somehow. They fear pain."

Kidsville is a place where fuzzy green dinosaurs jump out of giant computer screens, blue mountains are capped with chocolate fudge syrup and a life-size Humpty Dumpty gets put back together again.

It's a place where kids can run their own radio show, videotape their hospital stay and ride tricycles down cobblestone halls.

Young patients can take their stuffed animals' blood pressure with a real cuff, listen for heartbeats with a stethoscope and play dress-up with surgical garb.

Kidsville halls are colorful three-dimensional murals. It has a playroom and a learning center, with textbooks and tutors, so children can keep up with schoolwork.

PUBLIC NOTICE

GTE Southwest Incorporated (GTESW) and Contel of Texas Inc. (Contel) have filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to seek approval to provide two new private line services and to change rates for existing services. GTE's intraexchange DS1 Service will be offered pursuant to the rates proposed with this filing and will no longer be available through concurrence with GTE's interLATA access tariff rates which are lower. Contel's intraexchange DS1/DDS Service will be offered pursuant to the rates proposed with this filing and will no longer be available through Contel's current private line tariff rates. Existing customers with DS1/DDS Services will not be affected by these rate changes. DS1 1.544 Megabits per second (Mbps) Service and Digital Data Service (DDS) will normally be used for the transmission of data communications or large volumes of voice communications between two locations. These services are optional and will not affect the existing rates of customers who do not order these services. The estimated annual effect on GTE-SW's revenues in the first year is $1, 080, 567. The estimated annual effect on Contel's revenues in the first year are $42, 383.

DS1 Service

DS1 Service is an intraLATA Private Line Service which provides a dedicated, high capacity channel which may be used for simultaneous two-way transmission of voice data or other digitally encoded customer information signals. DS1 Service provides a transmission speed of 1.544 Mbps and is designed to provide an average performance of at least 95 percent error-free seconds of transmission over a continuous 24-hour period.

DS1 Service is available in and between all exchanges of GTE-SW and Contel where digital facilities exist. DS1 Service is available on a point-to-point intraLATA basis between two Customer Designated Locations (CDL),between a Serving Wire Center (SWC) and a CDL, between a CDL and a point of connection with another service provider or between two SWCs.

IntraLATA DS1 Private Line Service is comprised of three rate elements: DS1 Local Loop, DS1 Transport and DS1 Transport Termination. Each element is described below.

DS1 Local Loop

This rate element is for the cable facilities from the CDL to the SWC. The customer has two payment options for the purchase of DS1 Local Loops. There is a month-to-month plan or term contract Optional Payment Plan (OPP).

The month-to-month payment basis allows the customer to establish and disconnect DS1 Services, without penalty, other than to meet the minimum service interval of one month's service, as needed. Under the month-to-month service, the additional DS1 Local Loop rate applies only when the additional DS1 Local Loop (s) is (are) ordered at the same time and between the same two CDLs as the first DS1 Local Loop.

The OPP plan allows the customer to select a term of service (1 YR, 3 YR and 5 YR) with lower monthly rates associated with longer term contracts. If the customer selects an OPP, additional DS1 Local Loops may be ordered and installed at the Additional DS1 Local Loop rate between any SWC and CDL covered by the OPP, at any time during the term of that OPP.

DS1 Transport

This rate element is for the mileage sensitive charges for transporting a DS1 signal between Serving Wire Centers. Transport occurs only when the two CDLs being connected are served by two different SWCs.

DS1 Transport Termination

This rate element is for the equipment to terminate DS1 Transport at the SWCs. This charge applies only when DS1 Transport is required for the service configuration of the customer. One transport termination charge applies at each end of the DS1 Transport.

Proposed Rates and Charges for DS1 Service are as follows:

| | Nonrecurring Charge | Monthly Rates |
|---|---|---|
| DS1 Local Loop | | |
| Month-to-Month | | |
| First System | $ 1,000.00 | $ 298.00 |
| 12-month term | | |
| First System | -0- | $ 283.00 |
| 36-month term | | |
| First System | -0- | $ 255.00 |
| 60-month term | | |
| First System | -0- | $ 226.00 |
| Additional System | $ 130.00 | $ 130.00 |
| DS1 Transport | | |
| Per airline mile | -0- | $ 16.00 |
| DS1 Transport Termination | | |
| Per Termination | -0- | $ 40.00 |

Digital Data Service

Digital Data Service (DDS) is an intraLATA Private Line service which supports synchronous, full-duplex transmission between the CDL and the SWC or the point of connection with another telephone company at transmission speeds of 2.4, 4.8, 9.6, 19.2 and 56 kilobits per second (Kbps). DDS provides a transmission path for digital data signals within the same LATA.

DDS Service is available in and between all exchanges of GTE-SW and Contel where digital facilities exist. DDS Service is available on a point-to-point intraLATA basis between two CDLs or between a CDL and a point of connection with another service provider.

IntraLATA DDS Private Line Service is comprised of three rate elements: DDS Local Loop, DDS Transport and DDS Transport Termination. Each element is described below.

DDS Local Loop
This rate element is for the cable facilities from the CDL to the SWC. The customer may establish and disconnect DDS Local Loops without penalty other than the minimum service interval of one month's service, as his/her needs demand.

DDS Transport
This rate element is for the mileage sensitive charges for transporting a DDS signal between SWCs. Transport occurs only when the two CDLs being connected are served by two different SWCs.

DDS Transport Termination
This rate element is for the equipment to terminate DDS Transport at the SWCs. This charge applies only when DDS Transport is required for the service configuration of the customer. One transport termination charge applies at each end of the service.

Proposed rates and charges for DDS are as follows:

| | Nonrecurring Charge | Monthly Rates |
|---|---|---|
| DDS Local Loop | | |
| 2.4, 4.8, 9.6, & 19.2 Kbps | $ 85.00 | $ 85.00 |
| 56 Kbps | $ 85.00 | $ 95.00 |
| DDS Transport | | |
| Per airline mile | | |
| 2.4, 4.8, 9.6 & 19.2 Kbps | -0- | $ 1.60 |
| 56 Kbps | -0- | $ 3.20 |
| DDS Transport Termination | | |
| 2.4, 4.8, 9.6, 19.2 & 56 Kbps | | |
| Per Termination | -0- | $ 20.00 |

This filing has been assigned Consolidated Docket Nos. 11408/11435. The deadline to intervene in this docket is January 1, 1993.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information, should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas, 78757. # Study: mild blood pressure improves with drug treatment

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The millions of middle-aged people with very mild high blood pressure appear to live longer and better if they take medicines as well as adopt healthier lifestyles, a major study concludes.

How to handle mildly elevated blood pressure has long been a controversy in medicine. Current guidelines suggest that such people should be encouraged first to lose weight, cut down on salt and get more exercise.

The latest study shows that while better living will substantially lower blood pressure, adding medicines drops it even lower and appears to ward off more heart attacks and other serious health problems.

About 40 million Americans are thought to have mildly elevated blood pressure — around the low 90s diastolic.

Diastolic pressure is the second and lower number generally given in a blood pressure reading. Diastolic is a measure of arterial pressure between heart contractions. The higher number is systolic, the pressure during contractions.

The study found that people who changed their lifestyle were able to lower their diastolic pressures nine points, while those who also took one of five different blood pressure drugs reduced theirs by 12 points.

Although the difference is small, it resulted in about one-third fewer heart attacks, strokes and cases of angina in the drug-treated group.

"We asked the question: Are you better off at 82 off drugs rather than 79 on drugs? The answer is: You are better off on drugs," said Dr. Richard Grimm Jr. of the University of Minnesota, who directed the study.

Grimm presented his findings Wednesday at the annual scientific meeting of the American Heart Association.

Dr. Claude Lenfant, director of the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute called the study important. But, he added, "It should be stressed that lifestyle changes alone can lower the blood pressure of many with stage one (mild) hypertension to safe levels without the need of a drug regimen."

Grimm's study was based on a four-year follow-up of 902 people whose diastolic blood pressures averaged 91. Any blood pressure over 90 is usually considered to be elevated.

The volunteers, whose average age was 55, were all enrolled in intensive lifestyle modification programs. They were also randomly assigned to take dummy pills or one of five blood pressure drugs — beta blocker, calcium blocker, alpha blocker, ACE inhibitor or diuretic.

While those on drugs did better, there was no difference in effectiveness of the various medications.

Grimm said he agrees with the widely accepted strategy of starting off with lifestyle changes alone.

"But a lot of people will need drugs, and our study says, Don't be afraid to add drugs," Grimm said.

Astro-graphs By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

Nov. 20, 1992

Sow the fields you've already plowed before turning new soil in the year ahead. Your probabilities for substantial accomplishments could be rooted in familiar areas.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you have something important to do today, try to tackle it as early as possible. Your competence and effectiveness could begin to diminish as the clock ticks on. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There's a chance your curiosity might get the better of you today and prompt you to ask probing questions of friends they'd rather not answer. Be considerate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Indecisiveness could severely dilute your possibilities for achievement today. Once you make a decision, follow it through until you achieve the results you desire.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you fail to clarify your instructions properly, subordinates might not perform up to your expectations today. Don't assume they know as much about the assignments as you do.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Suppress the urge today to gamble on things about which you know little. You'll do OK — if you stay in your own bailiwick.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You have a stabilizing influence over others today, especially those with whom you have close ties. They're apt to come to you with problems they can't resolve.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Conditions in general are rather iffy today, but there is still a possibility you could capitalize on a material opportunity. Don't throw in the towel should things get a bit rough.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You could be adept at managing critical situations for others today, but you might not be equally as adroit in handling your own affairs. Don't be careless with the latter.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Although you're a quick thinker today, your first thoughts might not be your best ones. Serious situations should be studied from all angles before you act on them.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Guard against the inclination today to prejudge others before all the evidence is in. This could prove unwise; your emotions might override your logic.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Being able to make a silk purse from a sow's ear is a possibility for you today. If you use your smarts, you might be able to turn an unlikely development into something profitable.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Conditions similar to an unpleasant experience might be replicated today. However, this time you'll know how to come out of it unscathed.
