BLAST AFTERMATH — An employe of El Paso Natural Gas Co. looks over the damage caused by an early morning explosion at a natural gas processing plant near Goldsmith, Tex., today. Three workers were killed and three injured by the explosion.

Permian Gas Blast Kills Trio, Two Hurt

GOLDSMITH, Tex. (AP) — Three men were killed and two others injured early today when an explosion ripped through a natural gas processing plant in this West Texas town.

The blast, caused by a ruptured pipeline, occurred at about midnight at the El Paso Natural Gas Co. plant.

The force of the blast dented several surrounding metal buildings and stripped a pickup truck of its tires.

Windows were broken in a 300-yard radius.

The explosion was felt in Goldsmith, a town of 400 persons about a mile from the plant, and also at a nearby area where many plant employes live in company housing.

One man said the explosion "shook" his trailer house.

The Goldsmith Volunteer Fire Department received the call about 12:20 a.m., a fire department spokesman said.

All other pipelines immediately were shut off. The fire was put out about two hours after the blast, although firemen stood by after daylight as the damaged structures smouldered. Fire units responded from Odessa, 50 miles to the southeast, Gardendale, Andrews, Monahans and Kermit.

The dead, burned beyond recognition, were identified by the company as James C. Fife, 25, an oiler; Robbie J. Carpenter, 48, a plant operator, and James E. Lackey, 49, the shift supervisor.

Robbie Joe Carpenter, 48, of Goldsmith, was the brother of six Big Spring area residents, including Frank Carpenter, Big Spring; Mrs. Edna Erwin, Cuthbert; Mrs. Jackie Muinch, Colorado City; Mrs. Ruby McMeekin, Sand Springs; Kent Carpenter, Colorado City and formerly of Big Spring and L. W. (Jack) Carpenter Jr. of Andrews.

Services are pending at Easterling Funeral Home in Odessa. Other survivors include his wife, Janie Sue of Goldsmith, two children, Mrs. Janie Christian, Goldsmith and one son, Joe Allen Carpenter, Eunice, N.M. and two grandchildren.

Born April 21, 1928 in Mitchell County, he had lived in the West Texas area all of his life.

Services are also pending at Easterling for James E. Lackey, Odessa. He is survived by three sons in Odessa.

Services are pending at Hubbard-Kelly Funeral home for James O. Fife of Odessa. Among his survivors are his brother, Sam Fife, Odessa, and his parents in Goldsmith.

Virgil Faulkner, 49, of Odessa, was taken to Odessa Medical Center Hospital with second degree burns over 40 per cent of his body. He was listed in guarded condition.

Plant employe Mike Arthur was hospitalized in satisfactory condition after suffering from smoke inhalation.

Another employe, Harold Frymier was treated and released. He was cut while escaping the blast.

Two other men on the plant's overnight shift fled uninjured.

Goldsmith fire department personnel went throught the town telling residents to evacuate.

Company spokesman John McFall said in El Paso the explosion occurred between two buildings, knocking out two multi-story cylindrical vessels. A cooling tower also caught fire.

McFall said the rupture was in a 12-inch pipeline between two sections of the plant.

He said the plant is designed to handle 200 million cubic feet of gas per day and is one of their larger plants.

LOW CLEARANCE — A Salem, Ill., police officer ducks under branches as, armed with a shotgun, he searches through a heavily wooded area near Salem Sunday for four convicts who escaped from the Marion Federal Penitentiary. Police have resumed their search of a 27-square-mile area at daybreak today, backed up by federal and state units, including tracking dogs and two Special Weapons and Tactics teams.

Mayor Hurt, Fire Confined To Tanks

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A nine-alarm oil refinery fire which sent Mayor Frank L. Rizzo to the hospital with a broken thigh was confined to an area near one of the storage tanks this morning, fire officials said.

"We have it surrounded," Fire Commissioner Joseph R. Rizzo, the mayor's brother, told reporters early today outside the Atlantic Refinery Co. (ARCO) oil refinery on the Schuylkill River.

"We're keeping the area cool. We're in a lot better shape than we were seven hours ago. We're just plain pouring water on it."

More than 350 firemen and 150 ARCO employes worked in gusting winds to subdue the inferno, which was described as "stabilized" but not under control.

The fire broke out Sunday afternoon in an eight-foot trench containing a dozen pipes, setting off a series of explosions and sending plumes of flames hundreds of feet into the air.

The cause was not known.

The giant 800-acre refinery is up river from the Gulf Oil Co. plant in south Philadelphia where eight firemen suffered fatal burns fighting a blaze Aug. 17 at a Gulf Oil Co. refinery.

The ARCO blaze sent seven persons to the hospital, but the only serious injury was to Rizzo, who suffered a broken right thigh when he was knocked down during a rush to escape an explosion.

Rizzo was operated on this morning and had a stainless steel pin inserted in his right leg just below his pelvis. He is expected to recuperate at Hahnemann Hospital for at least 10 days, doctors said.

The 54-year-old mayor, who is campaigning for re-election, will have to use crutches for about two months, according to the doctors.

The 6-foot-2, 250-pound former police commissioner broke his thigh when he collided with either a fireman or one of his bodyguards and fell on a concrete strip, according to preliminary reports.

"There was a big flash of light," said Anthony Fulwood, one of the mayor's bodyguards. "We ran. We had no idea how big it (the explosion) was going to be and how far it was going to reach. So we just ran."

Rizzo arrived at the refinery shortly after 7:30 p.m. after he decided to cut short his evening campaigning and inspect the blaze, a campaign aide said.

Asked this morning about the chance of further explosions, Fire Commissioner Rizzo said: "At this point, I would say there isn't any chance of the tank blowing up.

"We've been holding our own all night and now we will confine our efforts to close in on the center of the fire. Now that daylight has come, maybe we'll develop more ways to put more lines on it."

Rizzo said the fire was confined to south Philadelphia area around a tank containing about 35,000 barrels of oil used in blending gasoline.

He said the blaze was fed by fuel from an adjacent tank, but flames prevented firemen from getting to valves to shut off the fuel flow.

At an earlier press conference, plant manager M.J. Volandt said the plant had received a safety inspection last month from an ARCO consultant.

Came Close To Patty In March

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Sacramento police apparently came close to stumbling upon Patricia Hearst six months before she and two Symbionese Liberation Army companions were arrested in San Francisco.

Last March, officers investigating a robbery-murder visited the rundown Sacramento duplex where Miss Hearst and William and Emily Harris hid out for several months, Detective Sgt. Sam Somers said Sunday.

The case was unrelated to SLA activities, and Somers said that as far as he knows police did not talk to Miss Hearst or the Harrises.

Time magazine said Sunday that the three, using false identities, were routinely interviewed by police and that their aliases were found on police records after federal agents discovered the hideout.

But Somers said, "There's nothing to reflect that any officer talked to anyone using any of the aliases they had been using."

Miss Hearst, 21, was kidnaped by the SLA on Feb. 4, 1974, but later said she had joined the terrorist band. She is being held near San Francisco on federal bank robbery charges.

Mutiny, Murder On The High Seas

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A question of jurisdiction over a high seas mutiny puzzled three nations today as a Panamanian freighter's five crewmen sat in a city jail after reportedly admitting they killed their four officers and scuttled the ship.

"We are continuing to interrogate them," said Louis Gidel, deputy regional director for the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service. "We will try to ascertain the facts of the sinking of the ship Mimi and the circumstances surrounding the disappearance of the ship's four officers."

The captain of a West German freighter that picked up the five crewmen out of a life raft in waters northeast of Cuba on Saturday said one of them confessed to stabbing the Mimi's four officers, all West Germans, and that the four other crewmen went along with the mutiny.

Manfred Oppermann, captain of the freighter Lalli, said, "From what they said, it certainly looks like a mutiny at sea. They admit they killed the officers."

"Whatever the dispute was, it was not spontaneous," Gidel said. "It apparently had been going on for some time."

Gidel said that if charges were to be brought against the five crewmen, four Indonesian seamen and a Filipino cook, "there's the question of who has jurisdiction ... I honestly don't know who would."

He said representatives from Panama and West Germany have been in touch with the U.S. government about the incident.

Reports out of Bonn today said the West German government was studying the jurisdictional question to determine if it should seek the extradition of the five survivors.

Representatives of the U.S. Coast Guard and the FBI, lawyers for the Mimi's Panamanian owners and its insurance company and officials of the Norfolk, Va., firm that managed the ship were with immigration authorities when the Lalli pulled into this southeastern Florida port with the five crewmen.

FBI, Dogs Hunt For Escapees

SALEM, Ill. (AP) — Four federal prison escapees who had held a 73-year-old man and his wife hostage for five hours remained at large today following a high-speed chase that ended when their getaway car crashed near here.

Nearly 200 federal, state and local police officers and three tracking dogs — two German shepherds and a bloodhound — flown in from Philadelphia by the FBI combed a 27-square-mile area of woods and rolling hills about 5 miles east of Salem late Sunday.

Three officers and two area farmers said they had spotted the four men, who escaped Friday with another inmate by using a homemade electronic device to open the gates of Marion Federal Penitentiary, considered one of the nation's most secure federal prisons.

The fifth escapee was captured Sunday morning after the fugitives' car crashed. Police said the dogs picked up a fresh lead on the other four late Sunday but lost it.

Victor Schaefer, FBI special agent in charge of the manhunt, halted the search late Sunday night.

Tracking dogs and police — including two five-man Special Weapons and Tactical Units — resumed the search early today.

Schaefer said the search will continue "as long as it takes — until we get them or have a good reason to believe they've gone."

"It's always a matter of time," said the dogs' handler, Bill Schiavo. He said the three dogs have chalked up about 300 arrests in FBI searches throughout the country.

The convicts made their way to the rural community of Buncombe, about 20 miles south of Marion, and forced their way into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Dotson.

Dotson said one of the men put a butcher knife to his throat and the men held the couple captive in their home for about five hours while they ate, showered, slept and planned strategy.

The escapees took guns, clothing, food and the couple's car when they left early Sunday morning.

About two hours later, a Salem policeman saw the car. He and another officer gave chase in separate patrol cars until the fleeing car crashed along U.S. Highway 50 while attempting to make a U-turn to evade the pursuing officers.

One of the escapees, Arthur T. Mankins, 37, of Germanton, N.C., apparently injured his leg in the crash and was unable to flee with the other four. Mankins, serving a life sentence for murder, was returned to the Marion prison.

The other four inmates were identified as Edward P. Roche, 39, of Katonuh, N.Y., serving 39 years for two bank robberies; Maurice Philion, 40, of Oakland, Calif., serving a 50-year sentence for bank robbery, assaulting a federal officer and attempted escape:

Henry Gargano, 43, of Chicago, serving 199 years for bank robbery and murder; and Dennis D. Hunter, 26, of Salem, Ohio, serving a 25-year sentence for kidnaping, assaulting a federal officer and escape.

Roche and Gargano reportedly were the ringleaders in the escape plot, officials said. Roche apparently fashioned the electronic devices, similar to an electric garage door opener, in a prison shop class, police said.

Turkish Elections Favor Land Release

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Mid-term Senate elections gave Premier Suleyman Demirel a stronger role in Turkey's governing coalition today and greater scope for a conciliatory stand on the Cyprus conflict.

Losers in Sunday's mid-term voting for over one-third of the Senate seats were right-wing parties opposed to easing Turkish claims in Cyprus following invasion of the island 15 months ago.

Both Demirel's conservative Justice party and the leftist Republican People's party were the chief winners in the bitterly fought election. The Republicans, headed by former Premier Bulent Ecevit, are the country's largest party and chief opposition to the conservative coalition.

With 54 of the Senate's 153 seats at stake, the Justice party won 26 and the Republicans 25, the state radio reported. The radio said one seat was still in question and two went to the right-wing Moslem National Salvation party, a member of the coalition and arch opponent to any softening of Turkey's stand on Cyprus.

With 60 per cent of the vote counted, the Republicans won 43 per cent of the popular vote and the Justice party 41 per cent. The Republicans gained fewer Senate seats, however, because of the distribution of the votes, party sources said.

In the 1973 general elections, which left no party strong enough to govern alone, the Justice party had only 29.8 per cent of the vote, the Republicans 33.3 per cent and five small parties divided the remaining 36.9 per cent.

Intercepted Conversations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Security Agency intercepted conversations of leading antiwar figures in 1969 and 1970 and obtained information about the personal life of civil rights leader Ralph Abernathy, the Washington Post said today.

The agency intercepted the conversations of Jane Fonda, Dr. Benjamin Spock, "Chicago Seven" defendants Abbie Hoffman and David T. Dellinger and former Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver, the newspaper said in a story by Bob Woodward.

The agency's job is to intercept and break the messages and codes of foreign countries and to protect the secret communications of the United States. The Post said NSA Director Lt. Gen. Lew Allen Jr. would have no comment on the story.

SERVICE AT YOUR DOORSTEP — The Downtown Lions Club will launch its annual broom and mop sale here this afternoon. Three members of the club, Tom Henry, Morris Rhodes and Ted Hicks (left to right) display some of the wares club members will be selling door-to-door for the next three evenings. Ironing board covers, dish towels, barbecue brushes and other items will also be available. Those missed by the salesman can call 3-0561 and have any or all of the items delivered. Proceeds go toward the purchase of glasses for needy children. Last year, an estimated $1,600 was raised in the campaign.

Police Try To Enforce Beirut Truce

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Joint teams of Lebanese security forces and Palestinian guerrillas hunted snipers in Beirut today as they tried to enforce the fragile cease-fire between Christians and Moslems.

Isolated machine-gun battles were reported in three outlying suburbs during the night. But authorities said sniping by extremist diehards in Moslem areas was the only serious truce violation in the city.

Twice during the night the joint Lebanese-Palestinian patrols came under sniper fire near Palestinian refugee camp. These snipers were believed to be members of radical guerrilla groups.

Both Yasir Arafat's Al Fatah guerrillas and the Saiqa organization sponsored by Syria said they would "strike with an iron fist against the anarchist and unruly elements that are trying to recreate chaos and commit murders and looting to rekindle the fighting."

Israel Gets Suez Use

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli cargo will pass through the Suez Canal for the first time next week as part of the second Sinai agreement with Egypt, sources close to Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin said today.

The sources said an approximate date of Oct. 22 had been set for Israeli passage in technical talks with the Egyptians conducted through an American mediator.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic party leaders, striving to build an atmosphere of harmony and compromise, are considering limits on credential challenges and floor fights at next year's presidential nominating convention. The Democratic National Committee's executive committee is meeting today to recommend rules to govern the party's convention that begins next July 12 in New York City. The full 361-member national committee then will consider the proposals Tuesday and Wednesday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every week, usually on Monday, Presient Ford gets a written report on the state of his 1976 campaign and he says he likes what he's seen so far. Ford has expressed satisfaction with his campaign manager and confidence in his three-month-old organization despite debate among political advisers and allies over the way the operation is going. Critics, some of them at the White House, contend campaign manager Howard H. Callaway hasn't done enough fast enough to organize in key primary states.

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The Venezuelan government is offering about $900 million today to 29 foreign oil companies as compensation for their nationalized holdings in Venezuela. Mines and Hydrocarbons Minister Valentin Hernandez said last-minute deductions had reduced the total about $100 million. The companies, most of them American, have 15 days in which to accept or reject the offer. The oil nationalization law signed by President Carlos Andres Perez on Aug. 29 requires the companies to surrender their concessions and properties in Venezuela by Dec. 31.

Agency's Work Is Vital

The United Way campaign of Howard County is in the midst of its annual drive for funds. Response to the appeal for donations has been warm but not especially outstanding. The needs of the agencies the drive supports may be greater than ever before.

With some of the agencies, there is never enough money to go around but, without United Way help, their jobs would be impossible.

The timing of the United Way campaign has been questioned by some. More than a few point out that it coincides with that time of year when property taxes must be paid by individuals who settle their levies in lump sums.

Unfortunately, too, these are not the best of economic times. Family budgets are hard-pressed, and the squeeze is going to get harder. With some, that provides an excuse for cutting back on United Way giving.

But, if times are hard for United Way donors; they become doubly so for the agencies supported by the United Way. They need more help than ever and local citizens shouldn't fail them.

The United Way is invaluable to our community. The work done by the money it raises is vital to thousands of persons. And the money dealt to the various agencies by the directorate is kept in circulation in the Big Spring area.

It Cost The Taxpayers

Shed a tear for that Republican from Virginia, Sen. William L. Scott, who was selected as the "dumbest" member of the upper house, quoting from a survey of Senate staff members by a magazine.

More recently, he has been branded as a "diplomat's nightmare" in a story appearing in the Washington Star.

Scott, who took his wife along on a 24-day junket to 10 Middle East nations, denounced the Star's story from the floor of the Senate. He said the allegation that he turned the government financed tour of the Mideast into a nightmare was "pure nonsense," and that the newspaper's story was "inaccurate from start to finish."

The author of the article, Lisa Myers, said she was standing by her account which quoted a State Department official who refused to be identified. The quote was that "to put it bluntly, it was a diplomat's nightmare. Scott managed to insult every country...."

According to the story, Scott even managed to mistake the Suez Canal for the Persian Gulf. The Senator denied this.

Whether or not Scott managed to insult every country he visited may be debatable. But there is no doubt that his unproductive junket with wife, aide and military escort officer, cost the taxpayers $15,787 and in this time of inflation and recession that's an unnecessary affront to taxpayers and the jobless Americans alike.

You Can Diagnose

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

One thing and another:

One of the better stories to come out of World War II concerned the mercurial Gen. George Patton and his Third Army.

Noting he was near the city of Thier, Allied Supreme Headquarters wired him not to try to take the city on the grounds it would require at least four divisions and the cost would be extremely high.

By the time Patton had time to digest the contents of the message, however, his troops had already overrun Thier. His answer to the wire was short and to the point:

"Have just taken Thier with one division. Shall I give it back to the so-and sos?"

Diagnose his problems the next time you meet up with a friend.

Some doctors will tell you that sweaty hands are usually a tipoff to anxiety. Finger joints which have swollen could mean arthritis or, if you prefer, rheumatism. Enlargement of the last joint in any finger would indicate rheumatic heart disease.

The fingernails, if they have a "watch crystal effect," could point to tuberculosis or chronic bronchitis.

Some medics say they can look into one's eyes and tell him what's wrong with him (and a lot of patients think a doctor should understand their problem immediately after they walk into his office, even though they volunteer no information). Others, however, diagnose after looking at the whole face. Does it have good color! Is the skin elastic or flaccid or sagging?

Why does popcorn pop, did you ask? That's easy. Because it has water in it. When popcorn is heated, the moisture inside the kernel turns to steam. When the steam has built up enough pressure the popcorn kernel explodes to many times its original size, with a definite 'pop'. Next question.

If you cross a midget and a martini, do you get a shrimp cocktail?

If you covet a little time to yourself, just try being on time for an appointment.

A lot of mothers feel some dread rather than pride when their babies start eating solids because their diets usually consists of pencils, keys, newspapers, bugs and electrical cords.

Agencies which deal in public services in the state of Nevada receive some odd requests. Not too long ago, the Reno Chamber of Commerce received a letter from a school girl which read:

"I would like to know your population, and please send me some poker chips."

The best definition of the phrase "split second" I've heard recently:

"It's that interval between the light turning green and the guy back of you blowing his horn."

King Piqued

WASHINGTON — Washington went into a tailspin last week when King Hussein of Jordan refused to accept 532 Hawk surface-to-air missiles that the United States urged him to buy.

HUSSEIN WAS angry because he said the United States had attached conditions to the sale. And Henry Kissinger was worried because Jordan could upset his Missiles for Peace game plan.

This is what was going on at the State Department during last week's crisis.

"Mr. Secretary, this cable just arrived from Jordan. Hussein is very upset because someone told him he could only use the Hawk missiles we're selling him for defensive purposes. He said he's never been so insulted in his life."

"Who told him he could only have them for defensive purposes?"

"I don't know, sir. Some damn fool who wasn't clued in on the big picture."

"Well, fire him. We can't have our State Department people telling foreign leaders when they can shoot our missiles in the air."

"Yes, sir."

"This is very serious. Do you relize if King Hussein refuses our missiles, then Israel could refuse them and then Egypt could become suspicious and would not buy any, followed by Saudi Arabia, Yemen and Abu Dhabi? My whole Middle East peace plan is based on everyone buying American missiles.

"NOT TO mention planes, tanks and spare parts. If we allow Hussein to get away without buying the Hawk missiles, it will upset the military balance in the area. How can we justify selling Israel so many missiles if Hussein doesnt' take any?"

"You better get me King Hussein on the phone . . . Your Highness, Henry here . . . What do you mean he doesn't want to speak to me? . . . Tell him I'm sorry he feels insulted and that's what I'm calling about . . . Thank you . . . Ah, Your Highness, it's good to hear your voice . . . Now please, Your Highness, there's been a misunderstanding . . . That's right, I told you could have the Hawk missiles with no strings attached . . . There aren't any strings attached . . . We have this stupid law passed by Congress that U.S. weapons can only be sold to countries who need them for defense . . . You know how they are. They don't want someone to start a war for no reason at all . . . Of course, I know you wouldn't start a war . . . Sure I trust you . . . We trust everyone in that area . . . Do you think we'd sell weapons to people we didn't trust? . . .

"Wait, wait . . . Listen to me. All you have to do is promise us you won't use any of the Hawks offensively or transfer them to another country . . . It's just a formality. Do you think we're going to come into your country and say, 'Hussein, what did you do with the missiles?'

"Your Highness, have I ever lied to you? Once you buy them they're yours to do with as you like. You can shoot them all on New Year's Eve for all we care . . . I know the Russians have offered to sell you SAM missiles, but they're no match to the Hawk. Our Hawks will give you twice the bang for the buck . . . It's in this month's Consumer Reports . . .

"I'LL TELL YOU what. If you take the Hawks, we'll throw in $3 million worth of Red Eye shoulder-fired rockets and a brand-new $90 million Vulcan antiaircraft gun system . . . No, you don't have to accept any bribes from Lockheed or Northrop . . . We'll make this one a straight sale . . .

"I don't want to beg, Your Highness, but your acceptance of a multimillion-dollar arms deal from the United States mean a lot to me . . . As a friend I'm asking you, please take them . . . You'll think it over? Thank you, thank you from the bottom of my heart . . . I don't know how I can ever repay you . . . Goodby."

"Do you think he'll take them, sir?"

"He better — or we'll never have peace in our time."

Crash program

Canadians More Effective

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The economies of the United States and Canada are so intricately linked that trends in one country freely migrate across the border and soon are reflected in the economy of the other.

Each is the leading trading partner of the other. Each owns huge industrial assets in the other. In response to interest rates, investment funds flow across the border in either direction, almost as if it didn't exist.

Still, there are contrasts, and none appears more obvious right now than differences in the techniques used by government officials to handle the recession-inflation pressures of the past two years.

A study by Chase Manhattan Bank suggests Canadianofficials were more effective in obtaining good results than were American, perhaps because they took more aggressive, direct action. And they are planning more.

Later today the Canadian government is scheduled to announce a program of action against inflation and other economic problems that Finance Minister Donald MacDonald already has termed "unprecedented in peacetime."

As the Chase study notes, consumer inflation in the two countries was precisely the same in the period from the end of 1973 to early 1975, rising by the identical 11.3 per cent average annual rate.

However, the divergence between industrial output in Canada and the United States was substantial. In the same period Canadian output rose at a 9.6 per cent rate, but U.S. production declined at a 6.5 per cent rate.

"Clearly, the U.S. industrial slowdown set in earlier and has been more intense than the drop in Canadian industrial production," Chase observes, documenting the statement further with comparisons of Gross National Product.

Canadian GNP, adjusted for inflation during the same time period, fell at an annual rate of 0.9 per cent, while the decline in the United States amount to 6.3 per cent on an annual basis.

A noteworthy difference also occurred in real disposable income, with Canadians enjoying a 17 per cent increase last year while in the United States such income actually fell.

Canadian unemployment was less severe. It reached a peak of 7.2 per cent in June 1975, but in the same month the U.S. jobless rate rose to 9.1 per cent. Throughout this year, the jobless rate in Canada has been lower than in the United States.

Says Chase: "The statistics examined suggest that the popular belief that Canada is at the mercy of U.S. trends is not true despite the close economic ties between the two countries."

EDITORIALS/OPINIONS

Limited Victory

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — Far from signaling congressional abandonment of its grabs for foreign policy, the remarkably solid vote in the House recently restoring arms aid to Turkey was a case apart: a product of intense lobbying efforts by President Ford himself.

With Secretary of State Henry Kissinger keeping discreetly in the background, it was Gerald Ford who turned the tide on Turkish aid. But the President's glittering array of lobbying tools detract from the significance of the vote.

TOOL NO. 1: In a private Oval Office huddle last Monday with Peter Agris, publisher of the Hellenic Chronicle in Boston probably the most influential Greek-American newspaper, Mr. Ford made the national security argument so persuasively that Agris postponed his return to Boston. He stayed here, transmitting the President's message to Capitol Hill.

Tool No. 2: Feeling compelled to veto a $100 million tobacco price support bill the day before the Turkish aid vote, Mr. Ford quietly ordered the Agriculture Department to allocate $15 million worth of extra tobacco purchases under Public Law 480. That unannounced action diluted tobacco state fury over the veto.

Tool No. 3: To drive home his point that the Turkish aid-ban has endangered the North Atlantic Alliance (NATO) in the eastern Mediterranean, Mr. Ford ordered NATO Ambassador David Bruce here from Brussels to talk turkey to fence-sitting House members.

The success of these presidential tools, after humiliating failure in the vote last August, has produced a vague euphoria in highquarters here: that the White House has turned the tables on a Democratic Congress insatiable in its encroachment upon traditional foreign policy preserves of the executive.

In fact, nothing could be farther from the truth.

THE TURKISH arms embargo is a crystal-clear case of an intended remedy turning out worse than the disease. Beyond this case, the bitter fight between Kissinger and Congress is showing no signs of fading. That fight includes demands, from both Democrats and Republicans, that intimate details of diplomatic talks be made public, and is consequently undermining American diplomacy.

"We are being asked bluntly by foreign countries whether we can guarantee that their words won't appear in a Senate document," one foreign policy insider told us.

While Kissinger is part of this problem, he is merely the top of an iceberg which formed long before he came to Washington as the most freewheeling Secretary of State in history. The iceberg started forming in the mid-1960s when Lyndon Johnson used the Tonkin Gulf resolution as legal underpinning for escalation of the Vietnam war.

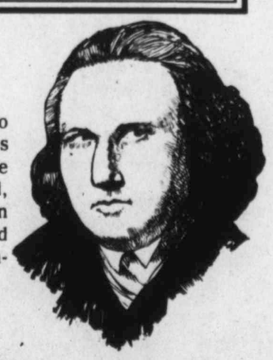

IT IS NOW overwhelming the administration's foreign and national security police. Congressional intervention, including tell-all investigations of the Central Intelligence Agency and the long delay in approving the Eyptian-Israeli Sinai agreement, undercuts this country's credibility abroad for years ahead.

The current example concerns negotiations for a new base agreement with Spain. In private talks at the United Nations between Kissinger and Pedro Cortina Mauri, Spain's foreign minister, the deadlock over a new agreement has begun 'to crack.' But Kissinger cannot give Cortina the total assurance Spain wants that whatever deal Kissinger negotiates will end up as the "real" American position.

Apple Won't Keep Doctor Away

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can a diet consisting of apples (one a day) and meat, no fish, be harmful?

The reason for this diet is to stabilize my blood sugar. It's either too high or too low. A couple of years ago my doctor told me I was a mild diabetic. I used to take pills, but discontinued all medication.

At present I'm not under the supervision of a doctor. I'm 20 years old and female. — A.A.D.

Your letter has confused me.

If your are not under the supervision of a doctor, how do you know your blood sugar varies so? You certainly cannot have the equipment necessary to conduct "kitchen" blood tests. And if you are going only on the basis of do-it-yourself urine tests, you may be fooling yourself.

The condition of the urine is not necessarily an indication of the condition of the blood. If you were once suspected of having diabetes, you should find out if there is still cause for that suspicion, and I'm afraid only a doctor can provide the answer to that. Diabetes cannot be cured — only controlled.

Your apple a day may keep the doctor away, but, in your case, I'm afraid not for very long. The diet you mention lacks variety, bulk and vitamins. It is unsatisfactory.

I suggest you end the attempt to be your own diagnostician, dietician and chemist.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What would be the cause of a discharge from the navel? It looks like pus and has an odor. Would it be some infection? How would you get an infection in the navel? — Miss E. M.

This is usually a fungus infection. Some belly buttons are deep, and material can get into them and not be removed by ordinary bathing. The area should be cleansed with a cotton swab.

There are preparations your doctor can prescribe to clear up the infection. One is a hydrogen peroxide preparation. This liquid can be "puddled" (for want of a better term) into the belly button while you are lying down. Another is a gentian violet solution which is painted on with a swab.

My Answer

Billy Graham

You keep saying that we should read the Bible. Just what portions should we read? Where should we begin? I would appreciate any help. H.B.

My suggestion is to begin with the four Gospels, for this is the record of the "Greatest Life Ever Lived", our Lord. It tells us how He came, what He did, and how He died, how He conquered the grave, and how He ascended into heaven. It also gives us a code of life: the Sermon on the Mount. This is the place to begin.

Years ago I sat down to read the life of a great man, and my life was changed. That man was Jesus Christ. What He has done for millions He can do for you— if you give Him the opportunity.

Even if you don't understand all you read, read it anyway — just the reading of God's Word is inspiring, instructive and soul refreshing. When you come to a verse that speaks to you, meditate on it!

A Devotion For Today

"The Lord said to him, "Go, return on your way to the wilderness of Damascus."
(1 Kings 19:15, RSV)

PRAYER: O God, when trials, temptations, or discouragements come flooding into our lives, grant us the grace to recognize them as opportunities. Thus may we develop the quality of endurance. Amen.

LEE GORDON

Father, Son Team Up In Oct. 24-25 Play

A father-son combination is involved in the production of "Blithe Spirit," which will be presented by the Hawk Players in the Howard College Auditorium Oct. 24-25.

The father is John S. Gordon, who is directing the Noel Coward comedy about a happily married man who is confronted by the ghost of his first wife.

Gordon, instructor of speech and drama at the college, has had a long career in the theater. He has directed such productions as "Music Man," "Carousel," "Bye Bye Birdie," "Macbeth," "Come Blow Your Horn," "The Fantasticks" and "Guys and dolls."

Born in Colorado City, he graduated from McMurry College in Abilene in 1949 with a B. S. specializing in theater.

He has done post-graduate work at the University of Houston and received an M. A. in theater from Stephen F. Austin University.

He also attended a theater workshop at San Jacinto University in Pasadena, Tex. He acted during two summer seasons with the Roundhouse Players in Abilene, directed a professional theater stock company in Washington, D. C., and taught drama, speech and English in the Pasadena ISD. For many years, he was in the investigative field, first as a federal law enforcement officer, then as a private investigator in undercover work for business and industry. Later, he handled fraudulent insurance claims.

Lee Gordon, who takes the lead role of Charles in "Blithe Spirit," is a freshman at HC, majoring in forestry and sociology. He played the role of Dr. Sanderson in the recent Big Spring High School production of "Harvey."

In his home town of Houston, Lee had the lead role in "All Because of Agatha," a major role in "Firebugs" and appeared in the UIL contest production of Shakespeare's "Macbeth."

Lee was lighting director for last spring's dinner theater musical, "The Fantasticks" at HC.

He is a member of the National Thespian Society and has additional theatrical experience as stage manager, property crew head, on sound and set crews, and in publicity and advertising.

His hobbies are surf fishing, hunting, scuba diving, football, baseball and swimming.

Firm Declares $1 Dividend

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The Board of Directors of American Petrofina, Incorporated, meeting here recently declared a semiannual dividend of $1 per share on the Class "A" and Class "B" common stock for the second half of 1975. The dividend is payable Oct. 30, 1975, to shareholders of record at the close of business Oct. 20, 1975.

Koreas Plan Red Cross Conference

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea agreed today to meet with North Korea on Oct. 23 to try to arrange a resumption of Red Cross talks to reunite separated families.

South Korea also proposed that political talks between the two governments be resumed.

Red Cross representatives from the two Koreas held seven plenary meetings in 1972-73 to seek ways to reunite families separated by the division of the Korean peninsula. North Korea has boycotted the talks since August, 1973, because of the South Korean government's stringent anti-Communist policies.

The South Korean Red Cross proposed a meeting Sept. 12 to discuss resumption of the talks, but the North Korean Red Cross suggested that the meeting be held Oct. 23 in Panmunjom, the truce village in the demilitarized zone between the two countries.

The Red Cross talks in 1972-73 were accompanied by political talks between the two governments to arrange peaceful coexistence between them, and they, too, were suspended by the North because of the southern government's militant anti-Communism.

Resumption of these talks was proposed by Chang Key-young, acting co-chairman of the North-South coordinating committee.

Vallee Returns To Alma Mater

ORONO, Maine (AP) — Rudy Vallee, the 74-year-old crooner, returned to the University of Maine campus for a nostalgia filled weekend.

He recalled that he transferred to Yale four decades ago because his love for a local girl was unrequited.

"I met her while registering for college and fell deeply in love with her," Vallee said. "We had quite a few dates, but in the spring she jilted me for a baseball player, some guy name Jack who had a raccoon coat and an automobile, and I had neither."

Bank President Strapped For Cash

EUREKA, Calif. (AP) — Herbert and Garnet Rasmussen were sound asleep in their bedroom when the lights blazed on. Two masked intruders were pointing rifles at their heads.

It was 2 a.m. Sunday, the beginning of 14 terrifying hours that ended Sunday afternoon when authorities removed a "bomb" that had been strapped to Rasmussen's back. The intruders forced Rasmussen, president of the Bank of Leleta in nearby Fortuna, to empty a bank vault and turn the money over to them under a death threat.

Rasmussen's attorney, John Gromala, said it would not be known until later today exactly how much money was involved, but he said Friday is pay day for many people and "there obviously was a substantial amount of money in that vault."

FBI agent Richard Miller declined to say whether the agency had any leads, saying the extortionists "were completely covered up with masks, gloves and clothes. It's a difficult case."

Rasmussen, reached at home by telephone, said he was not ready to talk about his experience. Gromala said the Rasmussens were unhurt but were "still quite shook up over the whole thing."

Gromala said the Rasmussens were separated after the intruders broke in. Mrs. Rasmussen was tied to a tree outside the house for 8½ hours.

Rasmussen was taken to General Hospital as bomb experts attempted to determine whether the device taped to his back was a live explosive. He was later moved to another less-populated area for further examination, where the device was removed and dismantled about 4 p.m.

The FBI said the bomb was inoperative.

Busing Issue Fuels Disorder

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Police used tear gas to disperse anti-busing demonstrators who started fires and hurled rocks and bottles, while pro-busing forces staged a peaceful demonstration in a weekend of public debate over school desegregation.

A police officer and a Kentucky state trooper were slightly injured by rocks Sunday night as about 500 anti-busing denonstrators gathered at a shopping center in the southeastern Jefferson County community of Jeffersontown. No arrests were made.

Jeffersontown Mayor Herbert S. Meyer and police spokesmen gave the crowd five minutes to disperse after the mayor said the crowd became "just generally disorderly, burning tires, starting fires, setting off fire crackers, running into the street and blocking traffic."

He said "tear gas was released on the edges and they backed up 300 feet from us, then started coming in waves, coming out of the crowd with rocks and hurling them at police."

Meyer said finally two squads of police waded into the group and "dispersed the crowd and they left."

"It's a shame people are fighting against their own people," the mayor added.

Later, firemen were called to the Jeffersontown High School where someone had thrown gasoline on a school bus and ignited it, but it resulted in only slight damage.

Meanwhile, a Jefferson County group favoring peaceful school desegregation will meet "within a week or so" to plan further activities after a weekend boost from folksinger Pete Seeger.

"Progress in Education was set up to fight the racism and inequality in schools and the injustices that are taking place," said Jackie Garrett, the group's coordinator.

More than 500 sign-carrying demonstrators took part in a downtown rally and march sponsored by the group Saturday.

Forest Fire Chars Colorado Timberland

EAGLE, Colo. (AP) — High winds continued to fan a raging forest fire that has consumed 3,200 acres of timberland in northwestern Colorado since it broke out on Saturday, a U.S. Forest Service spokesman said.

Nearly 500 fire fighters were called up to help battle the blaze today. The fire, burning out of control in the White River National Forest, was believed to have been started by hunters, the spokesman said.

"The wind is the biggest factor right now," said Jack Smith of the Forest Service. "We just can't do much in that wind."

The Forest Service said federal, state and local fire crews are fighting the blaze and calls have gone out to crews in California, South Dakota, and Wyoming for assistance.

The Forest Service said that because of dry conditions, low humidity and gusting winds there is no way to tell when the fire will be brought under control.

Two aerial tankers and two helicopters were used Sunday to drop fire retardants in the area, and several bulldozers and other ground machinery were also used.

The fire is concentrated about 16 miles northwest of Eagle, on the Western Slope of the Colorado Rockies.

About 300 hunters were trapped in the area Saturday, but Smith said all them have been evacuated safely and there have been no reports of injuries.

A Forest Service spokesman said the fire is burning in an area of insect-killed timber, making efforts to control the blaze more difficult. However, Smith said the area weather forecast predicted the possibility of cooling temperatures today and a chance of precipitation, which would help slow the blaze.

Houston Loses Bid For Rate Settlement

HOUSTON (AP) — The City of Houston has lost its bid to have a dispute with Houston Lighting & Power Co. settled here.

The Texas Supreme Court ruled Wednesday that the trial of the HL&P rate case will be held outside Harris County. The case involves a rate increase requested Feb. 12 by HP&L and denied Sept. 23 by the Houston City Council.

HP&L had asked for disqualification of all civil district judges in Harris County because, the firm said, they would have a direct monetary interest in the outcome of the suit because each judge would be affected by the proposed rate increase.

The proposed rate increase would provide the company with $76.2 million annually in additional revenues.

The rate increase, which would be 15 per cent, would mean a $3.58 monthly increase for the average residential customer from $23.18 to $26.76.

LATIN AMERICAN CULTURE

Laredo: Poor Border Town Or Thriving Texas City?

EDITOR'S NOTE — Not long ago, Laredo, Tex., ranked last in its category in a federally financed study of the "quality of life" in American cities. What is Laredo like? An AP newsman files this report:

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Amid palms and scarlet bougainvillea in an elegant hotel courtyard, casually dressed businessmen mingle at the convention cocktail hour while costumed musicians gently strum a Latin song.

On a crowded sidewalk lined with tables of jeans and rubber sandals, voices chatter in Spanish and merchants' loudspeakers bounce with Mexican radio versions of the Top Twenty.

At the city hall, cars crawl around the block searching for elusive parking places.

In the makeshift lobby of a portable building, a housewife in a fashionable print shirt and baggy slacks conducts her family's bank business. The bank's planned modern facilities are under construction nearby.

A middle-aged Mexican-American, sockless and unshaven, waits with others at the Texas Employment Commission offices for an interview. He has been out of work six months.

This is Laredo, Tex., curled in a bend of the shallow Rio Grande across from its sister Mexican city, Nuevo Laredo.

In the air above, a long-haired U.S. Customs agent in a single-engine plane is returning to the municipal airport after a trip up and down the Rio Grande spying on drug smugglers. The smugglers wade across the Rio Grande from Mexico with burlap bags of marijuana bricks on their backs.

At the corner of Hidalgo and Salinas, a conservatively dressed young executive from Monterrey, Mexico, emerges from a men's haberdashery with an armload of American-made $15 dress shirts. Nearby, business is booming at another store, opened by a Mexican-American who once was a salesman at the first store.

Outside of town, on mesquite-dotted ranchland, drilling rigs probe for natural gas and a toothless former agricultural worker with a Spanish surname says he isn't going to pick another cantaloupe. He's now moderately wealthy from the gas exploration.

As the interstate highway abruptly ends at the outskirts of downtown, an out-of-town motorist jerks his head from side to side. He cautiously navigates one-way, single-lane streets, and at a stop sign, he proceeds almost blindly because the ancient buildings jut to the street's edge.

The aging hands of a midwife soothe a woman in labor. The mother, days before delivery, walked across the international bridge from her home in Mexico to bear her child in Laredo. The child will be born a U.S. citizen.

For better or worse, this is Laredo, Tex.

It's worse, said a "Quality of Life" study financed by the Environmental Protection Agency, than any other city surveyed in its population class under 200,000.

Residents, former residents and city leaders disagree strongly or mildly, depending on who is talking. There also is occasionally agreement.

The EPA now concedes that the Quality of Life in Laredo and other low-ranked cities in the study may not be as bad as the study portrayed. An EPA official has said the agency was disappointed in the study's results and congressmen wondered out loud why such a study was done.

Laredo Mayor J.C. Martin says, "Perhaps if the EPA would spend some time in helping cities do something, we could have achieved a better rating."

"We know our liabilities. What we want is assistance in getting things done," he said.

Martin blames the federal government's action or inaction on the problems which the study cited.

A former resident, business executive Jim Hale of Fort Worth, says Laredo defies comparison to most other American communities. "I think it could be compared to Brownsville, Del Rio, someplace like San Diego in California or a place or two in Arizona," says Hale, mentioning border cities in Texas and elsewhere. "But you can't compare it to Birmingham, Mich."

"I liked it," says Hale of his life in Laredo in 1970-72, "and I'd like to go back. You have really the best of two worlds, the Mexican and the American. The people are convivial, the food is excellent. The atmosphere just suits me very much."

The Mexican culture is pervasive in this city of 75,000. When Laredo was established in the 1750s, it was a part of Mexico.

Now, there are 451 listings for Martinez in the phone book and 22 listings for Smith. There are 400 Rodriguezes and 16 Joneses.

It rains infrequently, averaging 18.6 inches a year. Frequently, it is hot in the late summer. The average year-round temperature is in the 70s.

There are slums. There also are posh suburbs.

There is relatively high unemployment, but counted in those statistics are migrants who spend warm winters in Laredo once their harvest work in the north is finished. Officials say some Mexicans who once worked in Laredo collect unemployment and welfare at U.S. post office boxes.

The federal government shut down the Air Force base, leaving civilian support workers jobless. But the first private leasors of space at the base are opening shops.

And, since the figures were compiled for the Quality of Life study, Laredo is experiencing the start of a natural gas boom after the first strikes by drillers.

City leaders boast Laredo is the most active inland port in the country. Per capita retail sales are among the highest in the nation, they say.

Antonio Rodriguez, a retired carpenter who speaks English with a heavy accent, says Laredo is "pretty nice" but has its share of bad politicians. The streets are bad also, he says, and Laredo's quality of life is sometimes "good for some people."

But Laredo is home. "I am a Laredo man. We like Laredo," he says.

Sixty per cent of Laredo's streets are unpaved.

"The thing that appears on the outside is our unpaved streets," says Joe Richards, who moved to Laredo in the 1940s. "But that is not the lifeblood of the community."

To Richards, the lifeblood is that his family has become bilingual and mixes easily with another culture. The population is 86 per cent Spanish surnamed.

Crime is low, Richards says.

"The thing that threw them off," Richards says, referring to Midwest Research Institute, which prepared the Quality of Life study, "was that this is a Latin American culture."

Mayor Martin says, "One of the things for which our people are criticized is our low mobility and our close-knit families. It is true our people do not want to move to other cities and that families are close."

"But this is exactly what sociologists are citing for moral deterioration in our American cities and for the increase in crime rates in juvenile delinquency in the country," Martin says.

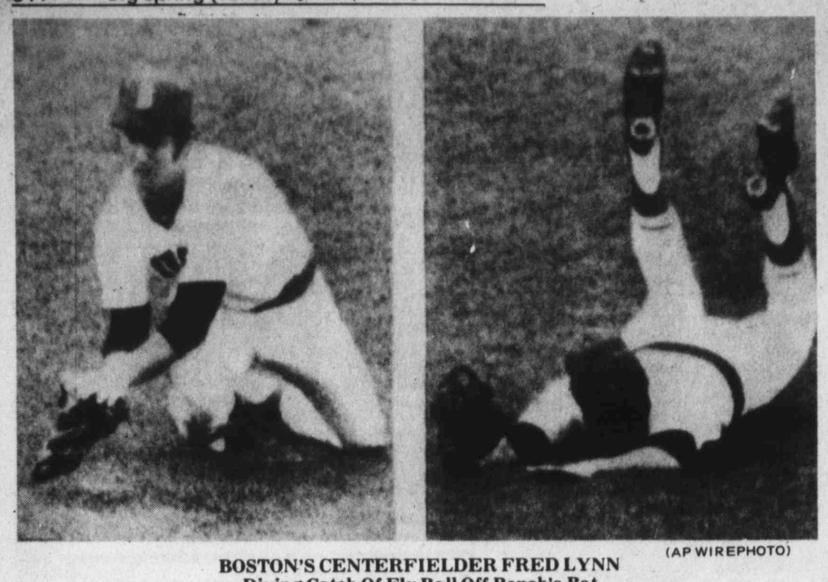

He says Laredo has problems only the federal government can solve because of Laredo's international location. The federal government delayed building of a second international bridge, leaders assert, which would have enhanced the economy and also the quality of life.

If the survey were to use today's data, Laredo would fare better, Martin said. "Our economy is now perhaps the most vibrant in the state.... Laredo has almost forgotten it lost its major industry (the Air Force base) two years ago."

"It's easy to forget when it's been transformed into an airport and industrial center," Martin says.

"But," Martin says, "the EPA, by making this report, may have killed all industrial growth for several years."

Reds Tie Up Series, 3-2

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds have escaped the clutches of "The Green Monster." Now, they plan to spring something scary on the Boston Red Sox — their feared running game.

"We're glad to get out of here alive," Manager Sparky Anderson said after his Reds beat the Red Sox 3-2 Sunday and tied the World Series at one game apiece.

Their running slowed to a crawl by a treacherous wet field and their power short-circuited by effective, off-speed Boston pitching, the Reds made adjustments Sunday and now carry a split of the first two games back home to Riverfront Stadium for Game 3 Tuesday night.

"The weather hurt us here because the footing was bad in the infield," said Joe Morgan after Sunday's dramatic victory in venerable Fenway Park.

The rain-drenched field wasn't the Reds' only problem. The Red Sox' pitihing gave the National League champions a scare, too, keeping their powerful right-handed hitters away from that close, luscious wall in left field known as "The Green Monster."

"The Boston pitchers have been pitching outside and not letting us hit to the wall in left," said Morgan. "So, as a result, our right-handed hitters had to make adjustments and go with the pitches instead of trying to pull them."

That's what Johnny Bench did in the ninth inning to get the Reds started toward victory in a tense game that befitted the occasion. Bench hit an outside pitch from Bill Lee into right field for a double, and eventually came around with the tying run when Dave Concepcion bounced an infield single off reliever Dick Drago that Denny Doyle stopped behind second but could not make a throS FD 3 Concepcion then stole second and came home with the winning run on Ken Griffey's double to left center while the disappointed Boston crowd of 35,205 sat stunned.

The weekend split gives the Reds a distinct advantage in this best-of-seven series because the next three games will be played in Cincinnati. Morgan, for one, isn't planning on coming back to Boston.

"I believe we can beat anybody anytime," said the unflappable second baseman. "And I believe we can win three straight at Riverfront because we'll be able to get our running game going there."

With the help of an artifical surface and a sleek vacuum cleaner machine called a "Zamboni," games are rarely rained out in Cincinnati. So Morgan knows the track will be fast and clear for the Reds' racehorses.

Except for Sunday's ninth inning, neither running or hitting were among the things that the Reds did with any effectiveness in Boston. Checked 6-0 in Saturday's opener by Luis Tiant's baffling series of deliveries, it seemed for eight innings on Sunday that the Reds would be frustrated again in gloomy Fenway.

Lee, usually tough at home, held the Reds to four hits and one run over the first eight innings and led 2-1 going into the ninth. When the southpaw went out to the mound for the last inning, he got a roaring ovation from the red-hot Boston fans. But he didn't stay around long enough to enjoy the adulation.

Mindful of the cozy wall in left, Lee kept the ball outside to Bench and the Cincinnati slugger hopped on it. "I was looking for a pitch away," Bench said. "I noticed their shift against me and wanted to hit it through the open spot — and I was fortunate to get it that way."

That was all for Lee, who left amidst a thundering ovation. That brought in Drago to face the dangerous Tony Perez, and Anderson had no intention of having the long-ball hitter bunt Bench to third.

"I had no thought of bunting," Anderson said. "I would never bunt with Perez in that situation. It would be embarrassing to Tony."

It worked out the same way as a bunt, however. Perez hit a grounder to short and Bench moved to third to set up Concepcion's game-tying hit that followed George Foster's short fly to left.

Concepcion, whose error earlier set up Boston's second run in the sixth inning, more than made up for it with the hit and subsequent steal of second. That put him in position to score easily on Griffey's rifle shot to left-center.

Carlton Fisk's single knocked in a run to give Boston a 1-0 lead in the first inning and the Reds tied it on Perez' run-scoring bouncer in the fourth. Carl Yastrzemski, who scored both of Boston's runs, came home on a single by Rico Petrocelli in the sixth.

STEAL LEADS TO WINNING RUN — Dave Concepcion gets a safe call from umpire Dick Stello after stealing second Sunday in the ninth inning of the second game of the World Series. Sox shortstop Rick Burleson (7) is late with the tag. Concepcion's steal put him in position to score Cincinnati's winning run in their 3-2 victory over the Red Sox.

BOTH RECORDS 5-0

1-2 College Teams Pass Poll Tests

By The Associated Press

It's possible for Ohio State and Oklahoma, the 1-2 teams in The Associated Press college football ratings, to meet in a postseason bowl game ... but it won't be a head-to-head showdown for the national championship.

Since the Big Ten has relaxed the rule which required its champion to play in the Rose Bowl and all other conference members to stay home, No. 1-ranked Ohio State conceivably could meet runner-up Oklahoma in the Orange, Sugar or Gator Bowls, say, but it would mean that some other team had (1) beaten out the Buckeyes for the Rose Bowl trip and (2) undoubtedly moved ahead of them in the ratings.

Both teams boosted their records to 5-0 Saturday, Ohio State with a 49-0 rout of winless Iowa, Oklahoma by defeating fifth-ranked and previously unbeaten Texas 24-17 on fullback Horace Ivory's tie-breaking 33-yard touchdown dash in the closing minutes.

However, as the ratings now stand, a 1-3 postseason pairing is possible and Ohio State could meet third-ranked Southern California in the Rose Bowl for the fourth year in a row. The Trojans kept pace by defeating Washington State 28-10 in a Pacific-8 Conference game as Ricky Bell rushed for 217 yards and one touchdown and Danny Reece returned five punts for 133 yards, including a 64-yard scoring jaunt.

The 2-4 teams are set for a Big Eight Conference meeting Nov. 22 when Nebraska travels to Norman, Okla. The fourth-ranked Cornhuskers blanked Kansas 16-0 Saturday as Mike Coyle kicked a field goal in each of the first three periods and Terry Luck threw a 26-yard TD pass to Brad Jenkins in the fourth quarter.

The 5-6 teams are scheduled to meet in College Station, Tex., Nov. 28 but only sixth-ranked Texas A & M still has a chance to be undefeated. The Aggies, held to a 10-9 halftime lead by stubborn Texas Tech, pulled away after the intermission following an interception at the one-yard line by All-American Pat Thomas and cruised to a 38-9 triumph as record-breaking Bubba Bean added a 94-yard scoring gallop to a 47-yarder in the first quarter.

Elsewhere, seventh-ranked Alabama swamped Washington 52-0, No. 8 Michigan tripped tied-for-15th Michigan State 16-6 and ninth-ranked Penn State romped over No. 10 West Virginia 39-0 in their Eastern showdown.

In the Second Ten, Freddie Williams rushed for 201 yards, including a 32-yard touchdown, to lead No. 11 Arizona State past New Mexico 16-10. Missouri, No. 12, walloped No. 14 Oklahoma State 41-14 behind Steve Pisarkiewicz' record 20-27—371 aerial acrobatics, which included scoring tosses of 32 and 75 yards to Henry Marshall.

Several Question Marks Thrown Up

By The Associated Press

The Southwest Conference now has itself enough question-marks to successfully market a television soap box opera serial.

—Can Texas Coach Darrell Royal regroup his battered Longhorns after their Sooner "hangover" to take the fight to suddenly rejuvenated Arkansas in the Ozarks Saturday?

—Can anyone really stay within three touchdowns of the Texas Aggies when their offense runs on the same octane with their awesome defense?

—Can Baylor Coach Grant Teaff awaken his hibernating defending champion Bears with another "miracle"?

Texas, of course, lost 24-17 to Oklahoma but also took a tremendous physical pounding in the process.

"It's going to be hard for us to be ready in a week's time, but that is what athletics is all about," said Texas Coach Darrell Royal. "You have got to bounce back. You can't curl up and die because you lost a ball game. There's more to our team than saying we will lose one game and then quit."

Texas meets Arkansas in Fayetteville Saturday and the Razorbacks suddenly find themselves atop the SWC ladder with a 2-0 ledger after a 41-3 trouncing of Baylor.

Arkansas recovered eight of nine Baylor fumbles in the rout, prompting Razorback Coach Frank Broyles to remark "This is the best we have tackled in a long, long time."

Baylor, now 0-1, gets a week off to try to recover the magic that led the Bears to their first SWC title in 50 years in 1974.

"Arkansas whipped us from one end of the field to the other," said Baylor Coach Grant Teaff, who has seen his team tumble from the lofty summit of a tie with Michigan to successive losses to South Carolina and the Razorbacks.

Texas A&M stomped Texas Tech 38-9 behind Bubba Bean's 180 yards rushing to up the sixth-ranked Aggies' record to 5-0. The preseason favorites tackle Texas Christian, now in the throes of a 15-game losing streak, at Fort Worth Saturday.

In other games over the weekend, Mississippi State bombed Rice 28-14, North Texas humiliated Houston 28-0 and Southern Methodist outlasted TCU 28-13 on Friday night.

Texas won a lot of respect from No. 2 rated Oklahoma in the bruising battle played in the sauna-like Cotton Bowl.

"Texas is much better than Colorado," said Sooner split end Steve Davis. "They are a heckuva ball club. They played us off our feet. The Texas players were good sports. They complimented us after the game and that's something I don't know if I could have done if we had lost."

Oklahoma defensive back Scott Hill chipped in with this unsolicited opinion: "I don't think A&M will take 'em (Texas)."

Sooner noseguard Dewey Selmon concluded: "Texas, if they go after everybody else like they went after us, will win the Southwest Conference...that...or at least a bowl bid. They gave us headaches."

The Texas-Texas A&M game, of course, is always a biggie. But that's looking too far ahead. Heavens, A&M plays at Arkansas Dec. 6 in a nationally televised game if you really want to stretch things out.

The SWC soap box opera obviously has a lot of dramatics left.

Pan American Games Formed

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The first of an avalanche of sporting events in the VII Pan American Games began today, heralded by a colorful and tradition-laden opening ceremony at Azteca Stadium.

The first competition among the 4,000 athletes from 33 Western Hemisphere countries was in track and field, with finals scheduled tonight in the men's long jump, men's 10,000 meters and women's discus. The Games, a quadriennial event that are more a source of Latin pride than meaningful pre-Olympic competition, include 19 sports and run through Oct. 26.

The four-hour opening ceremony here Sunday officially started the Games with Rodolfo Gomez, a 20-year-old distance runner from Mexico, lighting the Pan American torch. At the same time, 10,000 pigeons, which were supposed to fly out of the packed 105,000-seat soccer stadium, were released.

Confusion followed when most of the birds, disoriented in the partly domed stadium, circled and began to dive-bomb the parade formations of athletes on the playing field. That broke up the ceremonies a few minutes early, but otherwise the festivities went according to plan, thanks in part to rigid government control and some of the tightest security precautions in the history of these Games.

Police and Mexican army personnel with automatic weapons kept a wary eye on the standing-room-only crowd, which was generallly orderly.

The appearance of the Mexican athletes during the traditional introduction and parade brought most of those attending to their feet in a screaming, singing, chanting, impromptu demonstration.

The United States delegation, which is expected to again dominate the competition even without a few premiere athletes who stayed home, drew a loud chorus of whistles — the international equivalent of boos.

But the Americans seemed unperturbed. While most of the other delegations waved at the crowd, many Americans broke ranks to take pictures of their comrades.

The Americans were whistled at almost as loudly as were Mexican government officials, including President Luis Echeverria.

Cox Leads Chicano By Three

Royce Cox fired a one-over par 72 Sunday afternoon at the Comanche Trail Course to lead the Chicano Golf Tournament by three strokes.

Final 18-hole play will be conducted next Sunday, including a field of 60 entries.

Trailing Cox is Larry Galindo with a 75 followed by Jerry Barron's 76 and Joe Sharpnack's 77.

First flight leaders include Eddie Acri, Leonard Chavarria, Abe Gonzales and Pete Deanda, all tied at 81.

Second flight low scores of 88 were posted by J. O. Gilbreath, Nick Sanchez and Rica Flores.

Joe Moreno, Manuel Reyes and Willie Hill share the third flight leadership with individual 94's. Fourth flight competitors finds Lupe Carrasco in front with a 102 tallied by Joe Juare's 103 and Rene Rayos' 104.

Club Approval Seems Assured

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Veeck, baseball's old maverick, seems assured of gaining approval in his bid to purchase the Chicago White Sox, The Associated Press learned Saturday.

Sourcces told the AP that American League owners have given informal approval to Veeck's purchase of the white sox for a reported $10 million.

However, formal approval will take a little time while lawyers and accountants work out things. Final passing of papers may not take place until Nov. 15.

Veeck has been out of baseball for many years. He formerly was an owner of the old St. Louis Browns, the Cleveland Indians and the White Sox. His Chicago club won the American League pennant in 1959.

While in baseball, Veeck irked league owners with his various promotional gimmicks. At St. Louis, he even used a midget to pinch hit.

SCHOOLGIRL VOLLEYBALL

Big Spring Home With San Angelo

Trailing District 5-4A volleyball leader Midland by a single game, Big Spring looks to league member San Angelo here Tuesday at the Steer gym. Two games are on the calendar, JV at 6:30 p.m., and varsity at 7:30 p.m.

The Big Spring varsity proudly shows 5-1 in league play and 11-4 over-all. Odessa High was the latest to be added to Big Spring's win string last Thursday.

Going into the Bronco game, Big Spring had shared second place with Cooper, but the Cougars the same day, fell to the wayside against Midland.

Big Spring's JV is also playing at a torrid clip, 4-0 in district and 7-4 for the year.

Following the San Angelo match, the Big Spring varsity will turn attention to the Howard College Tournament Friday and Saturday. Midland is defending champ with Big Spring the tournament winner behind the Bulldogs.

Quarterback Club Meeting Tuesday

The regular season meeting of the Big Spring Quarterback Club will assemble at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday at the high school cafeteria.

Film of the 53-25 Big Spring loss to Midland will be shown plus a scouting report on Permian, Steer homecoming opponent at 8 p.m., Friday.

Pro-Group Files Fair Shake Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A professional arm wrestling organization has filed a $253,000 suit claiming it didn't get a fair shake from the National Football League and the CBS television network.

The World Professional Arm wrestling Association of California, Inc., contended in its Superior Court suit Friday the NFL and CBS contracted to have it stage the arm wrestling matches between pro football players being shown during halftime shows on game telecasts.

OAKLAND DEMOLISHED

Cowboy Devotion Breaks Up Giants In 4th, 13-7

By The Associated Press

The Oakland Raiders might not believe it, but it was love that demolished them in Kansas City.

"I know this may make me sound silly, but love, as much as anything, contributed to our success," said rookie Kansas City Coach Paul Wiggin after his Chiefs won their first game of the season.

"Once we got the momentum, guys on our bench who never even have lunch together, who have nothing in common but football, were hugging each other and dancing around in a strong feeling of unity. There were other factors, certainly, but an emotion that I can only describe as love was definitely one of them."

Besides love, the Chiefs had a number of other things working for them, including quarterback Mike Livingston's arm, the running of Woody Green and Ed Podolak and a defensive crew who came up with the big plays early.

The Chiefs shocked Oakland 42-10, handing the Raiders their first loss of the season and their worst defeat in 14 years.

In other National Football League games Sunday, it was: Minnesota over the New York Jets 29-21, Cincinnati over New England 27-10, Houston over Cleveland 40-10, Detroit over Chicago 27-7, Pittsburgh over Denver 20-9. Dallas over the New York Giants 13-7, Buffalo over Baltimore 38-31, New Orleans over Green Bay 20-19, Miami over Philadelphia 24-16, Atlanta over San Francisco 17-3, and Los Angeles over San Diego 13-10 in overtime.

St. Louis will be at Washington tonight.

Oakland lost three fumbles and had three passes intercepted. After Livingston and Walter white connected on a 48-yard touchdown pass, the Kansas City defense swiped two Oakland passes in the first period and the Chiefs' offense turned them both into scores. One theft set up Green's five-yard touchdown run and another resulted in a one-yard TD dive by Livingston.

Vikings 29, Jets 21

After New York moved out front 21-20, Minnesota blocked a Jets' punt out of the end zone for a safety, then Chuck Foreman, who caught two scoring passes, ran five yards for another score to ice the Vikings' victory. Minnesota had led 20-7 with 5:22 remaining in the third period before quarterback Joe Namath led the Jets' comeback.

Bengals 27, Patriots 10

Cincinnati, riding the passing of Ken Anderson, scored a second period field goal by John Smith and two touchdowns in the third quarter to grab a come-from-behind victory, their fourth straight of the young season. After Smith's three-pointer knotted the score at 10-10, Essex Johnson swept around end for 12 yards and a TD and Anderson fired a 37-yard touchdown pass to Conrad Joyner.

Oilers 40, Browns 10

Billy Johnson raced 81 yards with the second half kickoff for one score, and quarterback Dan Pastorini threw three TD passes to Mack Alston as Houston buried winless Cleveland.

Lions 27, Bears 7

Quarterback Bill Munson threw touchdown pases to Charlie Sanders, Ray Jarvis and Jon Staggers as Detroit smothered the winless Bears. Horace King ran 15 yards for another Lions score as Chicago scored its only TD on the final play of the game.

Cowboys 13, Giants 7

Down 7-6, Dallas cornerback Mark Washington intercepted a New York pass and Roger Staubach moved the Cowboys in for their lone TD, a fouryard pass to Jean Fugett. Doug Kotar scored a five-yard touchdown for the Giants to give them a third-period lead.

Steelers 20, Broncos 9

Lynn Swann made two spectacular catches, keying a firsthalf surge that gave Pittsburgh the victory. The Steelers' defense limited Denver's offense to just three Jim Turner field goals.

Bills 38, Colts 31

O.J. Simpson rushed for 159 yards and Jim Braxton scored three touchdowns, the final one to break a 31-31 tie with 6:04 to play, as Buffalo pulled out the victory over a tenacious Baltimore team. Lydell Mitchell, who ran for 107 yards and caught three passes for 53 yards, scored four times for the Colts.

Saints 20, Packers 19

Rick Szaro booted a 21-yard field goal with 22 seconds showing on the clock to lift New Orleans over winless Green Bay. The Packers had moved out front 19-17 with two minutes remaining on a 45-yard field goal by Joe Danelo. Green Bay, with Steve Odom taking the opening kickoff 93 yards for a score, built a 16-0 advantage before the Saints, behind Archie Manning, came roaring back.

Dolphins 24, Eagles 16

Fullbacks Don Nottingham and Norm Bulaich roared through the Philadelphia line time and again to lead Miami to its victory over Philadelphia. The Dolpins were comfortably in front, 24-9, when the Eagles scored on a 39-yard pass play from Roman Gabriel to James McAlister.

Falcons 17, 49ers 3

After Atlanta jumped out to an early lead on Steve Bartkowski's passing, the Falcons' defense intercepted four San Francisco passes to even the Atlanta record at 2-2. Bartkowski was injured in the third period, but it was not believed to be serious.

Rams 13, Chargers 10, OT

A 22-yard field goal by Tom Dempsey at 9:27 in overtime lifted Los Angeles past San Diego. The two teams had tied 10-10 in regulation. Dempsey's three-pointer was set up by the running of Lawrence McCutcheon, Cullen Bryant and Jim Bertleson and James Harris' passes.

A&I, Angelo Tied

By The Associated Press

Texas A&I Coach Gil Steinke only has a jump in pulse rate when he wins national championships.

The Javelinas' 37-7 rout of East Texas State Saturday night was nice but Steinke took a we'll-play-'em-one-game-at-a-time stance.

"I think you can tell by the scores that we've got several contenders facing us," said Steinke, who guided the Javelinas to a fourth small college national title last year.

Texas A&I's victory and Angelo State's 52-0 pasting of Sam Houston left the two clubs knotted with 3-0 records atop the LSC standings.

East Texas was ranked No. 6 in the NAIA going into the match with A&I's top-ranked team. A crowd of more than 16,000 fans turned out for the showdown in Kingsville.

Texas A&I hurled 568 yards of offense at the Lions, who could manage only 138 steps themselves.

In other games Saturday, Abilene Christian ripped Stephen F. Austin 24-3, Southwest Texas crushed Tarleton State 42-6 and Howard Payne defeated Sul Ross 31-10.

Bryan Unbeaten On Field In 4A

By The Associated Press

Bryan, Cuero, Cameron, Seagraves, and Big Sandy. Those are the targets of every schoolboy football team in their classifications because the schools proved once again Friday night why they are the cream of The Associated Press high school football poll.

Bryan, the best 2-3 team this side of Ohio State, whipped Waco University 35-7 to remain "unbeaten" on the field in Class 4A. Bryan lost two games in the classroom because of an ineligible player but that doesn't harm the school in district play.

In 3A, defending state champion Cuero had all kinds of trouble from scrappy Gonzales before taking home a 25-15 victory.

Cameron blasted Austin Westlake 28-3 to retain its Class 2A kingpin role.

In Class A, Seagraves mashed Sundown 41-0.

Big Sandy blasted Union Hill 60-0 in Class B games.

Class A
1. Seagraves (6-0) beat Sundown 41-0.
2. Groveton (6-0) beat Alto 41-6.

9. Tulia (6-0) beat Panhandle 39-7.
10. Post (4-1) lost to Slaton 12-7.

Hurricane Grounds Up Cincinnati

By The Associated Press

Missouri Valley Conference foes of defending champion Tulsa have been warned that Tulsa's only answer to the blitz isn't a draw or screen pass any more.

The Golden Hurricane have discovered the running game. The ground attack coughed up 233 yards and a 24-16 victory Saturday night over Cincinnati at Skelly Stadium.

Carlisle Cantrell, Ronnie Hickerson and friends hammered away at the Bearcats. Cantrell enjoyed his second stright 100-yard rushing game and Hickerson had six carries which measued seven yards or better.

Hickerson's total of 48 yards would have been more impressive except for a bad pitchout which cost him 15 yards.

Coach F. A. Dry said Sunday that the Hurricane hurt Cincinnati's blitz several times with the running game.

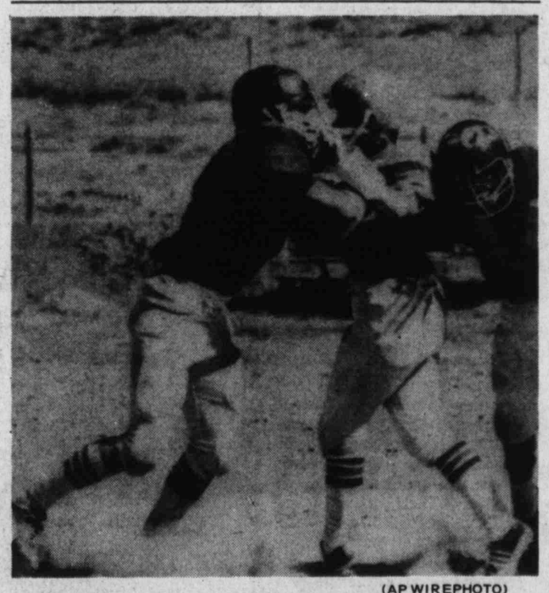

"In the past we had to find some way to counteract the blitz with our passing game. I was also pleased with the way our backs are breaking plays now for good yardage. Used to be four, five or six yards was a good gain for us."

Dry also said that the added threat of the run has helped several other areas of Tulsa's game.

"It keeps the secondary oriented to our running game and keeps heavy coverage off our receivers," he said.

"We got some long gainers off the pass against Cincy. If we keep running well, we also expect our completion percentage to get better. We had over 60 per cent Saturday night," he added.

The running game also has made rotating quarterbacks Hickerson and Jeb Blount more balanced. Blount threw 12 times, completing seven, and Hickerson threw 10 times, also with seven completions.

CAUGHT IN THE MIDDLE — Sally Gutierrez didn't get any special treatment Friday when she crashed the all-male barrier of New Mexico high school football from Albuquerque Indian School. Sally, who plays offensive guard and defensive end, was crunched between two blockers from Albuquerque Indian School as she tried to get to the ball carrier. Sally and her Quemado teammates lost, 20-0.

Hale Irwin Repeats As Piccadilly Champ

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) — Hale Irwin, ice-cold and relaxed, can call himself the world match play champion for the second straight year.

He won the Piccadilly Tournament Saturday with a 4 and 2 victory over Al Geiberger, the veteran from Santa Barbara, Calif., in a dour and dull final over Wentworth Club's 6,997-yard par-73 course.

But Irwin, from Kirkwood, Mo., would be the first to agree there's a slightly hollow ring about the title this year. The championship, spread over three rounds of 36 holes each, is by invitation and the best eight in the world should, in theory, be playing.

But this year most of the big names — Jack Nicklaus, Johnny Miller, U.S. Open Champion Lou Graham and Gary Player — were otherwise engaged. The only current titleholder still playing was Tom Watson of Kansas City, the British Open champion.

Making up the eight were John Mahaffey of Houston, Tex., and Jack Newton of Australia — runners-up in the U.S. and British Opens — Graham Marsh of Australia, Bobby Cole of South Africa and Peter Oosterhuis of Britain.

Irwin slaughtered Oosterhuis 9 and 8 in the first round and overran Newton 4 and 3 in the semi-final.

The Piccadilly is about the only major match play tournament left these days, apart from international matches like the World Cup and Ryder Cup. And Irwin pointed out the need to make mental adjustments to a style of competition he rarely meets.

There has been speculation that this year may be the competition's last, but three of the Americans said they enjoyed the tournament.

"I've never had so much fun in my life," said Watson. "It's a unique tournament," said Geiberger. "They treat you fine — where else do you get a house, a cook, a limousine and a chauffeur?"

"It's a helluva good tournament," said Irwin. "Thirty six holes a day is a bit of a grind but I really enjoyed it and I'd like to come back again."

Irwin collected $20,500 while Geiberger got $10,250 for finishing second.

Torchlight Parade Launches Reunion

Homecoming plans highlight the week's activities at the high school this week, with a number of events set for Thursday night through Saturday.

A torchlight parade Thursday night from in front of the Malone Hogan clinic to the courthouse square will officially kick off the event.

A bicentennial parade is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. Friday and pre-game activities, including the crowning of the homecoming queen, will take place at 7:30 p.m., Friday prior to the Steers-Permian Panther football game.

There will be an open house for exes at the high school from 2-4 p.m. Saturday with a Hall of Fame induction at 2 p.m.

In keeping with the patriotic theme of "America's Great Moments" which will be used for the parade theme, the exes selected George O'Brien of Midland, winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor during the Korean conflict, to be placed in the Hall of Fame.

There will also be a dedication of a plaque to all students who at one time attended Big Spring High School and who were killed in any war. Anyone with a relative who died in a war should check with Craig Fischer, assistant principal, to be sure his name is included.

Snyder Man Is Brought Here

A 52-year-old Snyder man, Elwood Weeaks, was brought to a Big Spring hospital Sunday night following a shooting incident north of Snyder early Sunday. His condition was reported as stable.

Weeaks apparently was shot at about 12:05 a.m., Sunday at his rented home 2.2 miles north of Snyder, according to Scurry County Deputy Sheriff Dan Callaway.

Juanita Delores Weeaks, wife of the injured man, notified the couple's landlord, Jimmy Clayton, who lives nearby, of the incident.

No charges have been filed in the incident, according to Callaway, but the shooting is still being investigated.

A bullet struck Weeaks in the neck. He eas hit by a slug fired from a 30x30 deer rifle.

Traffic Leading Killer In Texas Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

Accidents on streets and highways again accounted for more violent deaths in Texas during the weekend than any other cause..

The toll tabulated by The Associated Press between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday went to 17 fatalities, including 10 in traffic and five shootings.

Officials said Jewell Rowan, 67, of Waco, was killed when he was struck by a car Sunday night as he walked across a street in Waco.

Billy Pritchard, of Medina County, was shot and killed Sunday at a residence in Devine, authorities said. Officers said a 40-year-old woman was arrested in connection with the shooting.

Authorities said Audrie Louise Schweers, 27, of Nacogdoches was killed Sunday afternoon while skydiving at the Harrison County Airport at Marshall. She had jumped from an altitude of about 5,500 feet and her parachute apparently failed to open until she was about 300 feet from the ground. She hit the concrete runway and died instantly, officers said.

Ronald Lewis McDonald, 25, of Houston was killed early Sunday when the car he was driving in Houston crashed into a ditch.

An unidentified male pedestrian was struck by a car and killed late Saturday on Interstate 10 near downtown El Paso. He carried no identification on his person and officers still were trying today to learn his name through fingerprints.

A collision of a car and an ambulance killed Kathy Sonnier, 18, of Beaumont. She was driving the car and the ambulance was on an emergency call in a residential area south of Beaumont.

Troy Duane Wilson, 4, died Saturday when he was struck by a car outside his home in the port area of Beaumont, police said.

Waco police said Mohammud Rasoolzadeh, 26, a Baylor University student from Iran, died of gunshot wounds suffered during a disturbance Saturday night at a Waco residence.

Police said a man tentatively identified as William C. Scott, about 60, of Sun City, Ariz., was found shot to death Saturday in a Houston motel.

Three persons were killed Saturday in the collision of a station wagon and a cattle truck on U.S. 90 west of Bracketville. They were identified as Kent Isabel, 24, of Ballinger; Donald Justice, 25, of Kermit, and Clyde R. Herrmann of D'Hanis.

Gilbert Lane, 56, of Amarillo was found dead Saturday after firemen extinguished a blaze in the bedroom of his residence.

A car and a gasoline tank truck collided Saturday on Texas 50 north of Matador and the crash killed Bobby G. Hodges, 34, of Vernon, a passenger in the car.

Oscar Cortez, 33, of Dallas was shot to death by Dallas policemen Saturday night after a minor hit-and-run traffic crash, authorities said. Officers said they returned gunfire after the driver of a car shot at them.

Plans Are Shaping Up For Nov. 4 Election

County Commissioners Court began preparing for the Nov. 4 constitutional election today.

The court appointed Joseph Turcott, a computer specialist, as election judge for the central counting station.

Punch card ballots will be tried, and the county is awaiting delivery of some punch card ballot machines for demonstrations.

Hours for the election were set at 8 a.m.-7 p.m.

In other business, the court:

Voted to provide commissioner's precinct four with the road department construction crew for four-week periods.

Although County Engineer Neel Barnaby is allowed some leeway, the other three precincts are assigned the construction crew for three-week periods.

Commissioner Jack Buchanan said 40 per cent of the county's roads are within his precinct.

Referred a letter from Sheriff A. N. Standard to District Judge Ralph W. Caton. Citing a tradition, Standard requested the court increase the salary of Chief Deputy Bill Whitton to the level being paid Guy Talbot, special investigator for the district attorney.

Talbot was authorized a $100 monthly pay increase and charged with the added responsibility of assistant probation officer. Judge Caton has researched legislation making the special investigator also an adult probation officer.

Decided to purchase two new dump beds from Hobbs Trailers rather than trying to utilize old beds for new trucks. The county will pay $2,029 each for the new beds.

Talked with E. E. Gresham of Big Spring High School about a work-study program and placement of one of his students.

Accepted a request from Mrs. Lulu Adams, justice of the peace in Coahoma, for appointment of Sandra Jobes as a part-time assistant.

Mrs. Jobes will replace Vicky Parks, who does not want to return to work in the office. Mrs. Parks is the widow of Texas Highway Patrolman Jimmy Parks.

Authorized entertaining bids for a file cabinet for the district attorney's office but tabled a request for an electric typewriter.

Agreed to pay $486 yearly for maintenance of 11 office machines, including parts.

And heard Barnaby tell about pumps being started again at Knott this morning. The county road department is draining a lake flooding a road here.

RAY FARABEE

Farabee Speaker

SWEETWATER — State Sen. and Mrs. Ray Farabee, of the 30th Texas Senatorial District, will be featured at a Legislative Workshop at the Holiday Inn in Sweetwater Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Sweetwater's Branch of American Association of University Women (AAUW is sponsoring the event with the objective of determining ways for citizens to become more effective participants in local and State government. The public is invited to attend.

The proposed revision of the Texas Constitution will be a major topic on the program, along with such issues as public school finance reforms and land use legislation and planning.

Farabee, a member of the Senate Committee on the Texas Constitution in the 64th Legislature, will shed light on the proposed revisions to the Constitution at the Workshop. On Nov. 4, 1975, the voters of Texas will have the opportunity to vote on a revised constitution for the first time in 100 years. AAUW is vitally interested in bringing the issues before the public at the Workshop on the 18th.

A native of the 30th Senatorial District of Texas, Ray Farabee is a businessman and practicing attorney in Wichita Falls. He attended Midwestern University and earned degrees from the University of Texas at Austin. Farabee was elected to the Texas Senate in November, 1974. Currently he serves on the Senate Finance Committee; Jurisprudence, where he is Vice-Chairman of the Sub-Committee on Civil Matters; Natural Resources Committee; as well as the Texas Constitution Committee

The Senator has taken an active part in professional and community activities, including serving as President of KIDZ-TV, a non-profit educational television station, and past president of the Wichita County Bar Association and past vice-president of the State Junior Bar of Texas.

At the Legislative Workshop, Mrs. Farabee will address the participants on issues of legislative concern, and the Senator and Mrs. Farabee will entertain questions from the group following their remarks.

Anyone interested in attending the Workshop is asked to contact Mrs. Sharon Wilson immediately. They can send name, address, and $6 for lunch and materials to Mrs. Wilson at Hillcrest Apts. 28, Sweetwater, Texas 79556 or call 915-235-9773 or 235-5881 for information.

Roberts Is CC Prexy

LAMESA — Perry Roberts was elected president of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce at its board meeting Thursday night.

Roberts, executive vice president of Lamesa Federal Savings and Loan, will succeed Elwood Freeman as president Jan. 1.

Jerry Harris, a Dawson County farmer, was elected vice president and Don Bethel, partner in a tire company, was named treasurer.

The chamber board also approved a three per cent tax on motel rooms, a proposal which will be passed on to the City Council for adoption as an ordinance.

Tickets for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet, slated for Monday, Oct. 20, are currently on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Man Recaptured

Greg O. Peredez was charged with attempting to escape after he jumped out of a police car and fled at 12:25 a.m. Sunday.

He had been arrested by John Burson and Josh Sullivan for a possible DWI charge and placed in the back of the car and handcuffed.

He apparently jumped out and ran while they were attempting to arrest a second prisoner. Sullivan chased Peredez on foot and arrested him sitting behind a bush about a block and a half from the original arrest scene.

Local Firm Has Snyder Contract

A Big Spring firm, Bost Construction Co., was low bidder on the proposal to demolish the main building of the former Travis Junior High School in Snyder. Bost agreed to raze the structure for $4,100.

Scurry County will underwrite the demolition expense. The county will then revamp the band and shop buildings on the campus and use them for offices. The shcools will continue to use the gymnasium on the property.

Four bids were received on the demolition project, ranging upward to $38,952.

FBC Scene Of Workshop

"O.K. Classroom" is the title of the 17th District PTA Fall Workshop. It will be held in Big Spring, Tuesday, Oct. 21 at the First Baptist Church. Registration will be from 9 a.m. to 9:30 a.m.

The program for the workshop, which is open to the public, will be taken from the book "I'm O.K., You're O.K." It will be an interchanging of ideas, showing helpful techniques for dealing with people whether it be parent to child or adult to adult.

Dr. Jim Lewis, assistant director of planning and development at West Texas Education Center, and his team will be conducting the workshop program. Dr. Lewis has been with the WTEC about five years. He is a psychologist who was a professor at Sul Ross University before coming to Midland. Also, he spent a year in Ganado, Arizona, working with the Navajo Indians.

Bill Whitfield, one of Dr. Lewis' team members, is an instructional consultant with WTEC. He was an elementary principal in Monahans for five years and a junior high assistant principal for two years before accepting his present position.

Currently he is working in the child abuse program. Assisting the two gentlemen will be Ms. Marie Neece, also a member of the WTEC team. She was a teacher at Pease Elementary in Midland for three years before moving to Germnay to teach there. She went to work in August for WTEC as state drug co-ordinator.

More Thefts Are Checked

Five CB radios and one two-way General Electric radio were stolen from parked vehicles over the weekend.

Don Box reported one stolen from his vehicle Sunday night while it was on a parking lot at Howard College. Kenneth Townsend reported one removed from his vehicle Sunday afternoon while parked at 704 Johnson.

Mrs. Clayton L. McDaniel, Gail Route, reported one stolen from her vehicle Sunday afternoon while parked at 4th and Runnels. Eddie Houston, reported a GE two-way radio taken from the trunk of his car while parked at 113 N. Scurry before 7:45 p.m. Sunday.

D. F. Tubb reported one stolen from his vehicle around noon Sunday at 308 W. 18th. Steve Smith, 508 Edwards reported a CB radio, film and camera taken from his vehicle around 11:40 a.m. Sunday.

Entire Community Is Enriched By Scouting

Scouting is another movement supported by funds from the United Way and people who know that community life is enriched through Scouting.

Scouting is an organization that helps boys and girls to grow to be happy, resourceful citizens in their world of tomorrow. As Scouts continue in the program they gain knowledge and responsibility that inspires each to develop his other values and a sense of worth as an individual.

Scouting offers programs for girls from ages six to 17, and boys from eight to 16. It enables children from differing cultural, ethnic and economic backgrounds to share their heritage, and to develop skills in areas of their choice and interests.

Scouting in America provides training courses, workshops, seminars, camping trips, pilot projects, and national and international conferences for children and adults.

Special programs present opportunities for career exploration and vocational guidance. Groups undertake projects directly related to improving the quality of our environment. All in all, Scouting creates a climate where youths plan and make decisions with adults to help effect positive social change.

Scouting offers a variety of international opportunities to travel and work with brother and sister Scouts in nearly 90 countries through the World Association of Scouting.

Programs will be opening up for a whole new generation of Scouts through school, church, and civic groups. For more information contact your local scoutmaster.

IN TEXAS

Tower Predicts Ford Would Beat Reagan

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex, predicted today that President Gerald Ford could beat Ronald Reagan in a 1976 race in Texas for the GOP nomination.

"It would be close but I think Ford would win," said Tower, who with former presidential aide Anne Armstrong, heads Ford's campaign in Texas.

Former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally said Sunday on a national television panel program that he thought Reagan could beat Ford in Texas, "if the election was held today." "Most Texas Republicans feel that a Reagan candidacy would just be divisive," Tower said.

Tower said his committe would make an announcement later in the week about setting up campaign organizations in every congressional district of the state and a state headquarters. "We have a good strong committee behind the effort," he said.

Tower commented at a news conference he called to announce that governors of all 50 states had been asked to work for the calling of a national convention to draft an amendment to the U.S. Constitution to prohibit forced busing.

"The only foolproof way to do it is by amending the Constitution," Tower said.

Such a convention could be called by two-thirds of the states, or 34, approving a Congress-passed resolution on the convention.

Tower said no amendment has ever been proposed by a constitutional convention but he pointed out that about 10 years ago 33 states, one less than the necessary two-thirds, passed resolutions supporting an amendment that would have permitted states to apportion one house member of their legislatures on a basis other than population.

Tower's Capitol news conference was the first of 10 appearances in eight Texas cities during the Congressional recess.

Speaks To Club

Burt Andries, supervisor of the Big Spring Boys Club, spoke to ABC members at their weekly meeting Friday noon at the Settles Hotel.

The Boys Club receives one-third of its funding support from United Way. In 1967, the club was formed and officially opened the following year and has been at its present site, 212 East Third, since 1971.

Membership dues are 50 cents annually and includes boys from the ages six to 17. Big Spring has 500 members and between 70 to 100 boys utilize club facilities daily.

The Boys Club is opened from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m., Monday through Friday and all day Saturday, closed Sunday.

BS Exploration Inc., Stockholders To Meet

The annual meeting of the stockholders of Big Spring Exploration Inc. will be held in the company offices at 611 Gregg Street at 2 p.m., Thrusday.

Holders of shares of the common stock of the corporation of record at the close of business Aug. 31, 1975, will be entitled to vote at the conclave. There are 829,113 shares of common stock outstanding. Each share of the stock is entitled to one vote.

Five members will be elected by the board of directors to serve a one-year term. Nominees are P. W. Malone, John B. Roden, Ted O. Groebl, Jack Margolis and J. M. Woodall.

Auditors will be present for the annual meeting. The annual audit has been prepared by the firm of Hollingsworth, Wilson, Lee and Reynolds, Big Spring.

Malone, chairman of the board, issued a statement which said that net earnings for the year ending last May 31 were the largest in the history of the company and book value of the stock had reached the highest level in over a decade.

DEATHS

Linda Johnson

STANTON — Mrs. Linda Johnson, 28, of Stanton died in the Martin County Hospital in Stanton Sunday afternoon following a lengthy illness.

Services will be at 3 p.m., Tuesday in the First Baptist Church here with the Rev. David Blancett, pastor, officiating.

Burial will take place in the Evergreen Cemetery in Stanton under the direction of Gilbreath Funeral Home.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Stanton Aug. 7, 1947.

Survivors include a daughter, Erycka Francyne Johnson, Stanton; her mother, Mrs. Hattie Parker, Stanton; a sister, Evelyn Howell, Midland; two brothers, Clifton Parker, Graham, and Vernon Parker, Stanton; her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Bruce Crain, Ackerly; and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Viola Parker, Mount Vernon, Tex.

Joyce Shuler

Mrs. Jack (Billie Joyce) Shuler, 39, was found dead at her home here Sunday morning. Death was attirbuted to natural causes.

Services will be held at 2 p.m., Tuesday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel. Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of the first Baptist Church, will officiate. She will be buried in Mount Olive Memorial Park.

Mrs. Shuler was born on June 30, 1936 in Huntsville, Ala. She married Jack Shuler May 17, 1966 and they moved to Big Spring in 1974. Mrs. Shuler was a member of the First Baptist Church, and the American Legion Auxilliary.

Survivors include her husband, Jack Shuler, of the home; two sons, Roger Bishop, Haxelgreen, Ala., and Ronnie Bishop, Big Spring; a daughter, Miss Elisabeth Shuler, Big Spring; a stepson; Danny Shuler, Big Spring; her parents, Mr. And Mrs. H. BIG SPRING HERALD

SECTION B — BIG SPRING, TEXAS, MONDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1975 — SECTION B

'Nuts And Bolts' Will Entertain At Banquet

The theme, "Reach Out, America!", will be interpreted by a popular singing group, the "Nuts and Bolts," when it is presented during the entertainment portion of Thursday's luncheon at Big Spring State Hospital.

Held quarterly to honor volunteers, the luncheon is sponsored by the Volunteer Services Council and will take place in the Allred Building on campus, beginning at 12 o'clock noon. This year, new club representatives will be honored along with current volunteers.

Persons planning to attend the luncheon should make reservations by calling the Volunteer Services office (267-8216, Ext. 308) before 5 p.m., Tuesday.

Don DeLeeuw, council president, will preside during the presentation of certificates of recognition to the hospital's 1974-75 volunteer "Go Getters," Al Valdes, Ted Ferrell, Ted Hatfield and Jim Beam. These men have been called upon to provide special services for the hospital during the past year.

Joining other guests at the head table will be Paul Ruiz ("Uncle Sam"), A big Spring High School student who has been chosen to represent the Howard County Bicentennial Commission at local functions.

Announcement of a new volunteer council project will be made by Jim Baum, past president of the local council and current vice chairman, Region I, Volunteer Services State Council.

Guests are expected to attend from Big Spring, Midlan, Colorado City, Ackerly and Lamesa.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE
from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, OCT. 14, 1975

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime is fine for going to an influential person and getting the advice you need. You would be wise to relax more and conserve your strength for the days ahead.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Contact an influential person you know and plan how to become more successful. Rest and relax at home tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Ideal day for talks with higher-ups which can help gain your finest aims. Engage in social activity in the evening.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Go to new sites with interesting persons who can help you get ahead in the future. Sidestep persons who like to argue.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Listen to the suggestions of debtors and creditors so that you can get your affairs in far better order.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Obtain the data you need from associates so you can operate in a more modern vein. A new contact can be helpful to you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Use more modern appliances so that you can do your work more efficiently. Be more fair-minded with co-workers.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Making plans for putting your creative ideas to work is wise at this time. Strive for increased happiness with mate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Meet with closest tie and make long-range plans for the future. Study a new venture that could be profitable.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) An expert can help you improve your routine duties so that you save time and make more money. Relax tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A financial expert can give you the advice you need so that you can solve a money problem. Think constructively.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Handling personal affairs during the day is wise at this time. Accept any invitations of a social nature today.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Plan time for looking into new ventures that are interesting and for which you've had little time in the past.

Gets Million Dollar Suit Settlement

HOUSTON (AP) — Kenneth E. Porter, 54, who contended a defective tire caused a wreck which left him unable to walk, has agreed to a $1 million settlement with Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

Porter had asked $3 million. Attorneys for the tire manufacturing firm announced Tuesday they were ready to settle for $1 million without trial.

The settlement was agreed upon just before jurors for the case were to be selected before State District Court Judge John Compton.

Attorneys for Porter, who was injured in a Marine Corp. training accident in 1938, said he had to stand up to drive a specially-equipped van.

LEGAL NOTICE

AN ORDINANCE CALLING AN ELECTION TO CONSIDER A ONE PERCENT LOCAL SALES AND USE TAX WITHIN THE CITY OF COAHOMA, AND ESTABLISHING A DATE FOR SUCH ELECTION

WHEREAS, the CITY OF COAHOMA is in need of additional revenues with which to provide needed services for its citizens; and

WHEREAS, many cities within the State of Texas have utilized a one percent local sales and use tax to obtain additional revenues under the authority of Article 1066c of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Aldermen of the CITY OF COAHOMA has decided by a majority vote at its regular meeting on the 11th day of September, 1975, to call and hold an election on the question of a one percent local sales and use tax within the CITY OF COAHOMA;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Aldermen of the CITY OF COAHOMA, Texas:

That a city election shall be held to determine whether or not the citizens of the CITY OF COAHOMA are in favor of the adoption of a one percent local sales and use tax.

It is further ORDAINED that the ballot at such election shall have printed on it the following:

"FOR adoption of a one percent (1 percent) local sales and use tax within the City."

"AGAINST adoption of a one percent (1 percent) local sales and use tax within the City."

Such election shall be held on the 4th day of November, 1975.

Susan Finley Slated To Speak To FEW Chapter

Ms. Susan Finley, government teacher at Big Spring High School, will be the featured speaker for the Thursday, Oct. 16 meeting of the Big Spring chapter of Federally Employed Women. The meeting is set for 7 p.m. at the NCO club at Webb AFB.

Ms. Finley's theme will be the "Due Process of Law — The 14th Amendment."

Ms. Finley received a bachelor's degree in political science from Kansas State University, and also holds a Master's degree in Political Science from Kansas State University. She is working on her Doctoral dissertation in Penal Reform to be awarded by the University of Oklahoma.

She has been a teacher for twelve years, and took over the government classes at BSHS last year at mid-term.

Ms. Finley is a member of the National Organization for Women, the American Association of University Professors, and the American Civil Liberties Union. She also belongs to the Classroom Teachers Association, Policy Studies Organization, and the Fortune Society.

All members of the FEW club are urged to attend the meeting.

Blue Room Scene Of Reunion

The Big Spring Country Club Blue Room will be the scene of a reunion of the Big Spring High School Pep Squads, years 1935, 1936 and 1937. The reunion will be at 10 a.m. Saturday.

One of the items on the agenda is a brunch. Members of the clubs need to make reservations by calling Mrs. Helen McCrary at 3-2182.

Mrs. McCrary and Ms. Jewell Cauble are serving as joint chairwomen for this year's reunion.

Carpet Care

Whether heavy traffic from frequent summer guests, the oozing contents of a peanut butter and jelly sandwich or a canape from a cocktail party have left their marks on your carpets, you can clean them yourself, says Dorothy Humphrey, consumer information specialist for Johnson Wax. Even if the stain results from a pet disaster.

"Use a knife or spatula to lift solids off your rug or carpet," Miss Humphrey advises. "If the spot still is moist, blot it using clean cloths or paper towels. Blot lightly to avoid spreading the spot."

MOMENTS TO REMEMBER — Newly married Mr. & Mrs. Horace Roberts spend their last moments together prior to being separated following their wedding in Miami, Fla., Friday. The bride, formerly Miss Jeanette Bell was sentenced to two years in prison for robbery and burglary and Horace Roberts was sentenced to 10 years for robbery and burglary. A Miami judge allowed them to be married in the jail chapel moments before the sentence was carried out.

Wedding Precedes Separate Prison Sentences

MIAMI (AP) — A public defender escorted the bride down the aisle to exchange marriage vows with the groom under the watchful eyes of the judge. Then officials led the lovebirds away — to separate jail cells.

Jeanette Bell, 21, and Horace Roberts, 24, were married Friday before beginning prison sentences — two years for her and 10 years for him — for robbery and breaking and entering.

The couple was sentenced earlier this week after pleading guilty to the charges. They were arrested seven months ago during a burglary attempt, police said.

Public Defender Bruce Levy, who gave the bride away, said Roberts pleaded guilty in order to protect his bride and to get a shorter sentence.

The new Mrs. Roberts admitted she was scared shortly before the ceremony Friday, but she was reassured by her new mother-in-law, Lula Roberts, who told her:

"Just think of the good times. Your whole life is ahead of you. You can make anything you want of it."

Roberts, who said he has a $200-$300-a-day heroin habit, admitted that he, too, was frightened at first but said after the wedding, "I feel fantastic now."

Circuit Court Judge Arden Siegendorf, who agreed to marry the pair before they began serving their sentences, said the newlyweds would not be allowed any time alone in the Dade County Jail.

Let Polish Dry

Give your fresh coat of floor polish enough time to dry before applying a second coat, says Dorothy Humphrey, consumer information specialist for Johnson Wax. This is particularly important with acrylic products such as Future on vinyl floors. The need for excessive drying time could mean that you're being too generous with the polish.

Annual HC Pageant In Planning

Members of the Fine Arts Department of Howard College are finalizing plans for the Miss Howard College pageant to be presented Thursday, Nov. 6 in the college auditorium.

The Fine Arts department, under the direction of Ken Sprinkle, is in charge of the annual pageant. The contest is open to all Howard College girls.

Six positions will be awarded in the pageant. Announced will be Miss HC, first, second, third and fourth runners-up, and Miss Congeniality, a position decided by the girls in the pageant.

Six judges will be appointed to select the winners. Plans are to have two people from the Big Spring community, two Webb representatives, two faculty members or administration, and two Howard College students to serve as judges.

Edna Guevara was last year's Miss HC. She is now a student at San Angelo State University.

Sprinkle stressed the need for more support for the pageant. He stated that the deadline for girls to get their petitions in may be extended through Oct. 17. Petitions should be given to Dean Anna Smith or Sprinkle.

Saliva May Be Diagnostic Tool

Saliva may eventually rank with blood and other bodily fluids as an important diagnostic tool for the health professions, Columbia University researchers predict, based on studies of the saliva of diabetics and patients with alcoholic cirrhosis.

Divorcee Wants Green Light On Romance

DEAR ABBY: I'm nobody's fool, but this is going to sound like a foolish letter.

I'm 31, have two sons and have been divorced twice. I am a beautiful woman with a home in the country and many friends, and everybody thinks I've got the world by the tail.

They should only know how miserable I am.

I recently met a man who seems interested in me, but he's very bashful. He stops by, eats and plays with my boys, but he never stays long.

He's married but says he wishes he weren't. No children. He's a big, rugged cowboy and looks like George Montgomery — Dinah Shore's "ex."

Abby, I've dated lots of men in my life, but this is the only one I really want.

I have never messed with a married man and vowed I wouldn't, but he isn't happy, there are no children involved and I truly think he cares for me.

Should I go after him, throw my body at him, or forget it and keep daydreaming? I've never felt like this about a man with whom I've never even been intimate.

What I want from you is a yes or "go-ahead sign" to clear my conscience. I really want this man.

NAMELESS IN TEXAS

DEAR NAMELESS: If he wanted you as much as you want him, he'd do something about it. He's married and strictly off limits. With all you have going for you, you should be able to rope a nice single man.

This weekend, call any other state* and talk five minutes for 86¢ or less... usually less!

*Except Alaska and Hawaii

Emmett Kelly Jr. for Southwestern Bell

Our weekend One-Plus rates are so low that you can talk awhile and still spend less than a dollar. For instance, a five-minute coast-to-coast Long Distance call dialed direct all Saturday and Sunday until 5 p.m. is only 86¢. An out-of-state call spanning fewer miles costs even less. If you can't wait till the weekend these same low rates are in effect every night from 11 p.m. to 8 a.m.

Where One-Plus dialing isn't available, One-Plus rates apply on station calls. If you dial direct and reach a wrong number, call the operator. You won't be charged.

Travel by Long Distance... and stay awhile.
