Ballots Place Authority In Hands Of Municipalities By Vote; Hot Debates Feature Activities

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 18.—Legalized betting on horse racing had been outlawed, but repeal of the 58-year-old statute prohibiting operation of Sunday movies seemed certain of passage at the conclusion today of hot house debates.

Mustering 74 votes, opponents of the Avis measure which would have created a contribution system for wagering on horse racing was disapproved, but later 75 ballots passed the Dunlap measure, placing authority for controlling Sunday shows in municipal hands. A final vote on the bill likely will be taken within two days.

Sunday Shows Allowed. Speaking in support of the local option theatre bill, Land declared that of 652 Texas towns where theatres were located, Sunday exhibitions are allowed in 427.

Expressions of opinion on the bill brought a sharp exchange of rival forces, climaxed with McGill's statement that "if you want to send me to hell, just make me go to the church and hear such language as I have just listened to from the gentleman from Parker," referring to an attack on the bill by Forbes, Weatherford minister.

"These small town moralists drive me to a dangerous mood," McGill concluded. Forbes trained his guns on the bill with assertions that it attempted to make inroads on the moral life of communities. He charged that it discriminated against other businesses now prohibited from operating on Sundays.

Legionnaires To Hold Big Banquet

Auxiliary To Meet With Allen Brothers Post At Tech Cafeteria Thursday Night; Program Planned

Lubbock members of the American Legion, and of the Women's Legion Auxiliary, will meet for a banquet and special program next Thursday night at the Tech College cafeteria. It was decided at the regular meeting of the Allen Brothers Post held last night. The banquet will begin at 7 o'clock, and will be followed by speeches and the program. Special music will be furnished for the occasion, which is expected to be one of the biggest affairs ever sponsored here by the Legion.

About 70 Legionnaires were present at the meeting last night, the entertainment part of the program including music by the Green Brothers and the Legion Quartet, composed of J. A. Raley, Dr. V. V. Clark, L. M. Brooks and Vaughn E. Wilson. A talk was made by Dr. W. E. Cravens, and Dr. G. H. Ester reported preparations for the post's minstrel, which will be given soon, as progressing rapidly.

"Corporal" F. D. Rupe, who served as commander of the local post in 1927, was voted the thanks of the organization for his valuable work for it during his residence in Lubbock for the past three years. Mr. Rupe is leaving Lubbock for El Paso.

The post voted to change its meeting place from the basement of the Temple Ellis building to the Labor Temple, corner of Avenue F and Thirteenth, and its meeting night from Monday to Thursday, twice a month.

President-Elect Enroute To Washington Again

HOOVER TRAIN EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The click of wheels against rails sounded in the ears of President-elect Hoover once more today as his special train bore him from his vacation home at Miami Beach back to the Capital for his inauguration two weeks hence.

BIRD BILL SIGNED. WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—President Coolidge today signed the Norbeck migratory bird bill establishing bird refuges in various sections of the country.

Saves $175,000 Conductor Chases Gem Bandit

GALVESTON, Feb. 18.—(P)—An interurban conductor's courage saved a New York firm an estimated $175,000 in jewelry here late today when he recovered 3 sample cases from a man who seized them from the rear platform and attempted to join a confederate waiting in an automobile.

The interurban was leaving for Houston when the theft was attempted. H. G. Dean, the conductor, saw the man seize the bags and jump from the car as it stopped at a street near the city limits. Dean gave chase on foot, following the man across one of the busiest streets of the residential section. As the conductor gained, the thief dropped the bags, drew a pistol and fired 3 shots at Dean, none of which took effect. The man deserted the jewelry cases and ran to a coupe which had been following the interurban. The coup turned down a side street but later reappeared on the main highway leading to Houston.

Ben Frackman, jewelry salesman, said the jewelry was valued at $175,000.

Four Cent Gas Tax And License Slash Voted Last Night

House Committee Reaches Agreement After Six Weeks Of Consideration; Bill To Be Voted Soon

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 18.—Opposing factions in the house committee on revenue and taxation reached a true tonight after six weeks of consideration and compromise on a license fee reduction of 35 per cent on private vehicles and a four cent excise tax on gasoline. Speedy house action on the proposed cut is expected.

Under the reconciliation the horse power fee will be eliminated from private trucks, amounting to a 19 cent slash in present fees, while tractor and motorcycle registration costs will remain the same.

After four hours of argument the committee decided to apportion license fees under $50,000 to counties in which the sum originated, counties will share one-half of the state above $50,000 with the state but no county would be allowed to receive more than $300,000 from this source.

Operation of the bill as a law would place maintenance of the state highway department on the shoulders of less than thirty of the more thickly populated counties of the state.

Snowstorm Halts Rescuers' Work

DURANGO, Colo., Feb. 18.—(P)—Efforts to reach the little mining community around the Sunnyside mine near Silverton, Colo., where 400 men are believed to be suffering from a shortage of food as a result of having been snowbound since Feb. 3 were halted tonight by a raging snowstorm which stopped all work in Animas canyon.

Group To Visit Washington March 2, Voluntarily To Make Statements; Wurzbach Charges Flayed

(By Associated Press)

BROWNSVILLE, Feb. 18.—A group of Texas republicans will ask that they be allowed to testify before the senate election investigations committee, R. B. Creager, republican national committee man for Texas, said today.

Creager sent a telegram to Chairman Brookhart of the committee, advising the Iowa senator that the Texas delegation would visit Brookhart on March 2. The Texans at that time will request that they be permitted to testify before the committee, Creager said. In justice to the republican leaders of Texas, the

Washington Hears Debate Between Reed And Borah On Prohibition Question

(By Associated Press)

Synthetic Foods Is 1950 Forecast

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Two masters of oratory—Jim Reed of Missouri, and William E. Borah of Idaho—took opposing sides in the senate today and for three and a half hours spoke to a listening chamber on the problems of prohibition.

Reed announced the law in a continuation of the speech he began Saturday. Borah made a thundering appeal for enforcement. Neither was interrupted and the promise of thrust and counterthrust which had filled the galleries faded as the Missouriian walked over to the seat of the senator from Idaho at the end of the discussion and grasped his hand.

Law Is "Hilicious Crime." Reed began his speech today by again describing the law as a "hilicious crime." After two hours he took his seat and Borah claimed the floor. Reed was on his feet again when the Idahoan had concluded but Senator Hefflin, of Alabama was ahead of him. Whatever Reed had intended to say went unsaid.

The silver-haired Missourian retires from the senate March 4 by his own dictate, and, as if to express an eulogy on behalf of the senate, Senator Borah at the outset of his remarks expressed regret at the passing of the man "whose industry, courage and genius have placed him among the foremost men in his day."

Sits Beside Sheppard. Sitting as usual beside Sheppard, of Texas, father of the 18th amendment, Reed, his face flushed, listened to his colleague on the republican side of the aisle and when the side was unable to get in a reply he walked over to shake hands with Borah at the finish.

There was nothing personal in their discussion. Reed in his measured words pleaded for state control as the answer to law violation and as a means of ridding America of its "snappers and spies, its sneaks and criminals, who have been employed with our money to haunt our doors."

Borah, in thundering tones, his hair disheveled as he shook his head and pounded home his points.

Body Of Missing Reporter Found

International Search Is Ended Monday With Discovery; Ask Investigation

(By Associated Press)

LAREDO, Feb. 18.—An international hunt for Harry Williams, Laredo reporter, ended here today when a body found in the Rio Grande was identified as that of the 24-year-old man.

American consul Stephen Aguirre at Nuevo Laredo immediately telegraphed Washington for permission to allow officers and secret service men to enter Mexico and search for Williams' assailants. Although the body was so badly decomposed it was difficult to establish that Williams had been slain, officers said they inclined toward that theory since there were no indications of suicide.

In Washington Monday

(By Associated Press)

Senator Borah replied in the senate to the prohibition attack of Senator Reed of Missouri. The house refused to pass a senate bill for another survey of the Columbia river basin under procedure requiring a two-thirds vote.

Representatives of the leather industry asked the house ways and means committee to place tariff duties on their products. The senate confirmed the nomination of Representative Garrett of Tennessee to a judgeship on the Customs court of appeals.

The house judiciary committee decided to create a special sub-committee to investigate the charges against Federal Judge Winslow of New York. Colonel Lindbergh left for New York and in a letter urged legislation, later passed by the house, to extend the air mail to South America.

Counsel for Harry F. Sinclair presented arguments to the supreme court in an appeal from his conviction for refusal to answer a senate committee's questions.

The supreme court held the government could determine whether the Standard Oil company of California has title of oil lands embraced in the Elk Hills naval reserve.

Free Conference Committee Of Both Houses Allows Return Of Appropriations For Summer Salaries

Equipment Okehed

Half Of Amount Asked For New Buildings' Equipment Given; Request Is Still Short For School

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 18.—A free conference committee of both houses today reached a compromise agreement on the educational emergency appropriation measure.

The committee decided that unpaid salaries of teachers in 1928 summer schools would be paid but that salaries would not be reimbursed for schools paid out of another fund.

Texas Technological college at Lubbock was given $25,000 for equipment for two buildings. The bill passed by the senate called for $50,000 appropriation for that purpose and the house had cut out the entire amount.

Four building permits, issued Monday, amounted to $13,500 and brings the month's total to $37,122, for 46 permits. Since January first there have been 112 permits issued for a total of $460,850. Monday's permits were as listed below.

O. O. Mabry, 2001 Sixteenth street, five room brick veneer residence, $4,000. D. J. Lowrey contractor, R. C. Burns, 2403 Fourteenth street, three room brick veneer residence, $2,000. R. W. Walker, contractor, L. J. Free, 1816 Twenty-sixth street, five room brick veneer residence, $3,500. J. F. Bozner contractor, Glenn Hunt, 1420 Avenue K, four room brick veneer duplex, $4,000.

Congressman - Elect Must Answer to 5 Indictments In Austin Court; Jury Selection May Be Long

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 18.—Augustus J. McCloskey of San Antonio, congressman-elect from the Fourteenth Texas district, was forced to criminal trial on an indictment charging for trial and an effort to obtain a jury to dismiss the indictments because of technical flaws. Both prosecution and defense announced ready for trial and an effort to obtain a jury was begun.

The trial was brought here on a change of venue from Bexar county (San Antonio). At the time of the election, McCloskey was county judge and the returns which on their face will send him to Washington to replace Texas' only republican congressman, Harry M. Wurzbach, passed through the congressman-elect's hands.

Indications late today were that the first testimony might be delayed a day or so, because of time necessary to empanel a jury.

Hale Dentist Is Freed In Shooting

(Special To The Avalanche)

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 18.—Following a deliberation of only half an hour, the jury in the case of Dr. C. L. Barnes, Hale Center dentist charged with murder in connection with the death of Miss Jeannette Long, at Hale Center, several months ago returned a verdict of not guilty.

Miss Long is said to have stepped between Dr. Barnes and B. A. Maddox, Hale Center real estate man, during an argument between the two men, just as Barnes fired a pistol, the young lady being fatally wounded.

Senate Votes To Place Amendment In Road Program

Woodul, Sponsor Of Bill, Declares Move Is Made To Kill Bond Plan Entirely In Legislation

Love Gives Change

Motion To Recess Until Today Noon Prevents Re-commitment Of Issue; Rewrite Resolution

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 18.—Plans might be issued for construction of lateral roads as well as state highways under the terms of an amendment to the road bond proposal adopted today by the senate.

The senate spent the day rewriting the resolution calling for a constitutional amendment on the issuance of bonds and recessed until tomorrow without voting on it.

The lateral road amendment offered by Love, was opposed by Woodul, sponsor of the resolution. With only one exception those said to oppose the original resolution voted for the Love amendment.

Woodul said a determined effort would be made tomorrow to strike out the lateral road provision. He charged further that opponents of the bond issue joined with Love to adopt it because its effect would be to kill the proposed constitutional amendment when submitted to the people.

Wirtz declared the amendment would kill the purpose of the "Joint Resolution" which was declared its effect would be to "kill the whole thing."

Love said the amendment would enhance the resolution's chance of becoming a part of the constitution because the "boys from the forks of the creeks," were interested in lateral roads.

Moody Appeals To Solons On Prison

Governor Declares Prison Board Should Have Power To Relocate and Concentrate State Pen System

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 18.—Power to relocate and concentrate the penitentiary system should be delegated to a board, preferably the prison board with the probable addition of two or three state officials, Governor Moody told the legislature in a message sent to both houses today.

He urged that experts be commissioned to make a survey of conditions affecting the system's proposed concentration and give the board advice and information.

He suggested that the board finally submit its plan to the governor and legislature, with the understanding that the legislature would have the power and right, "if even a minority of your members are opposed to the plan as determined upon," to have a special session called "to express your opposition and present your request for any changes, alterations or modifications of such plan."

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MADAME RUBINSTEIN

Manufacturers of foot comfort appliances have earned millions through their mechanical aids to health and appearance. There are so many of these appliances that I hardly know where to begin. Perhaps I shall not be remiss in telling you first of one very simple corrective measure. It is not exactly an appliance, since it is built into the shoe upon your request. It is quite customary for foot specialists to advise a building up of the inner arch to throw a child's foot into the correct position.

I know personally of two cases in one of which the child showed a tendency towards bow legs and the physician to which he was taken recommended a special shoe with an extra strip of leather inserted between the soles on the outer arch. The child's feet were speedily thrown into the proper alignment and the condition corrected before the bones had set. In another case that I know of, a tendency towards knock-knees was prevented through building up the inner arch. In both cases, you see, an incorrect position of the arch was to blame for a serious deformity. Fallen arches can be corrected in their early stages through giving your feet the support of a built-up arch. You must be careful to have the arch support fitted, and you need a real diagnostician to tell you the exact measurement of your requirements. If the support is a fraction of an inch the wrong way, you are bound to find a great deal of discomfort in what should be a physical benefit.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton

Not a few mothers have the perplexing problem of stealing to deal with. It is most unfortunate and distressing to have the baby we adore and watched, as we thought, so carefully through the first few years, suddenly develop before our horrified eyes into that most reprehensible of beings—a thief. Seemingly possessing no scruples whatever, he helps himself to nickels from our pocketbook, food from the ice box and everything it moves his fancy to possess.

What can we do? Punishment only makes him worse. The important thing is, not the theft, but the motive that lies behind it.

Children steal for various reasons. Not only do they inherit the habit of the ever-shifting condition of his psychological development depending on his age. For instance, a child of four is not likely to be actuated by the same motive when he steals as a child of nine.

Children must be watched and guided very, very carefully in the most trivial things when they are very young. Strange as it may seem—children are not born to honesty—neither are they born to dishonesty. The best way to describe it is to say that they are neutral.

You Weren't Born Honest. In plain words children have to be trained to be honest, just as they have to be trained not to break other children's playthings or destroy other people's flowers. These are incipient forms of dishonesty. The next step is to take other children's playthings and walk off with other people's flowers.

If a child is stealing money it is probably not a sudden thing. The psychology of stealing in other forms very probably has been crystallizing in his make-up through several years, unnoticed by his parents.

Don't scold or whip him. Talk to him seriously. Show him how he will be shunned and disliked by everybody—how people despise a thief. Tell him that Uncle Jack whom he adores will never look at him if he does that again.

If he repeats it, then take stern measures. Put this threatened boycott into actual operation for a few days. Make him feel his shame most acutely.

Probe For Motive. If he still persists—then go into it as if you were searching for radium. Spend hours, days, weeks if necessary and don't stop until you find out "why" he steals. What is his motive? Is he ashamed to see other children with spending money while he has none? At almost any cost, if that is the reason, put him on a small weekly allowance.

Is he jealous of someone? Does Tom have a knife he covets? Is he saving what he steals to buy a knife like Tom's? Work that out carefully. It is the most inexcusable form of dishonesty. It is deliberately planned and the motive is bad.

Some people steal from sheer unhappiness. Quite often from idleness. Be eternally vigilant. Do not allow the slightest dishonesty to get by. As a corollary to this—never tolerate a lie. Stealing and lying go hand in hand.

THE KITCHEN

With more work done in the American kitchen each day than in office, factories, stores, or any other place of business, this same American kitchen has benefited by none of the industrial progress which has simplified man's labor.

This change is made by one Hildebrand Kneeland of the Department of Agriculture who has just completed a survey of the nation's kitchens. She puts the blame squarely on the house builder who, she says, is quite content if the kitchen has a nice white sink and a modern scheme of apple green and cream.

For years women have been howling for efficient kitchens, and for years architects have gone on considering the kitchen as only a room which must have doors and windows and harmonize in shape with the rest of the home, but that's all.

It begins to look as if house-building is a dandy field for the ambitious woman who hankers for "a career."

HOW TO HOLD HIM
Right seat on the heels of a new little book with ten recipes for gaining a man's love comes a magazine article by Corinne Lowe on "Ten Ways of Losing a Man's Love."

Then, boiled down, seem to go like this:
1. Never tell him unpleasant truths about himself.
2. Don't be an efficiency engineer restricting a man on every move in his life from how to carve the chicken to how to shave himself.

3. Don't be jealous.
4. Don't "let yourself go." This means don't go in for the collection of double chin nor think it makes no difference how you dress or look around the house.

5. Don't be a wet blanket and regard a husband as the mere father of your children and the house as your house and a place where he is merely tolerated.
6. Don't lose your mental curiosity in the rituals of housewifery and be capable of only personal, housewifely conversation.

7. Don't be a dirt chaser who creates too prophylactic a home from which men flee more swiftly than from the actually slovenly house.
8. Be not devoid of a sense of humor.

9. Don't be extravagant, gossying a man on to more and bigger penalties, making him feel that he is important only as a nickel grubber.
10. Do not be incapable of any emotional life, acting as if you were merely "putting up with your husband."

Glycerin Mixture Stops Constipation

The Morning Avalanche Menu for the Day

BY SISTER MARY
BREAKFAST — Stewed dried peaches, cereal cooked with chopped figs, cream, tomato omelet, crisp toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON — Cream of lima bean soup, croutons, macedoine of vegetables, stale cake pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER—Ham loaf, grilled sweet potatoes, creamed cauliflower, pineapple and raisin salad, coconut cream pie, milk, coffee.
Hamm Loaf.
Two cups minced lean ham, 1-2 cup stale bread crumbs, 2 eggs, 1-2 cup milk, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, few gratings nutmeg.

Put ham through food chopper several times. Combine with crumbs and add milk. Add yolks of eggs well beaten, pepper and nutmeg. Fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Put into a buttered pan, cover with buttered paper and bake in a large pan of water in a moderately hot oven. When firm to the touch turn out of the pan and garnish with parsley to serve. Monday Is Busy Day For County

Several Appear Before Judge Bean to Answer Charges; Sheriff Hardy Reports 42 in Jail

Monday was a busy day in court so far as the county of Lubbock was concerned.

E. H. Lee, upon entering two pleas of guilty for swindling, in county court Monday morning, was fined $3 and sentenced to one day in jail under both counts, by Judge Robert H. Bean.

Lee is said to have given a "cold" check in payment for an automobile, at Slaton several days ago. He was arrested in Dallas and brought back to Lubbock about a week ago.

Dan Foster was fined $1 and costs by Judge Bean on a plea of guilty to the charge of vagrancy.

W. W. Sparkham, charged with swindling, was remanded to jail in default of making bond of $250 in each of three charges, when pleading not guilty.

Bish Childs, negro, was fined $1 and sentenced to one day in jail, on a charge of aggravated assault.

Sheriff Wade Hardy is authority for the information that there are now 42 inmates of the county bastille.

FINES TOTAL $30
Fines of $20 were paid in city corporation court Monday morning by seven of 15 negroes who were caught in a raid on a gambling game in the "Flats" Sunday.

The other negroes remain in jail.

Officers H. B. Brown and J. D. Johnson conducted the raid, lining the 15 negroes up and marching them to the police station.

A fine of $50 was paid by a white man, charged with vagrancy, in city court yesterday.

Pulverator Plow Is Demonstrated At Tech Monday

A crowd of several score interested farmers and business men yesterday watched a demonstration of mechanical cultivating machinery held on the west part of the Texas Technological college campus.

The Wallace Pulverator—which is a combination plow and disc harrow—was used for demonstrations during most of the day. The Pulverator plow breaks the ground and pulverizes the soil, all in one operation, and is characterized as the most efficient apparatus of its type ever offered to the farmer.

Does Double Duty
One advantage of the Pulverator as was brought out in the demonstration, is that it breaks up and pulverizes all kinds of soil, as well as, vegetation, at the time it is plowing in the field.

The machines are especially valuable in this part of the country due to the level topography of the plains soil. Their wide use is forecast by those who were sponsoring the demonstration.

The Massie-Harris company, formerly the J. I. Case Plow Works, of Racine, Wis., sponsored the demonstration and M. W. Wood, and E. W. Todd, were the factory representatives on hand. Sherrod Brothers Hardware company, local agents for the machines, cooperated in the demonstration.

MIX FOOTBALL AND LACROSSE Cotton Picking Machines Tried Out Near Lubbock

Navy athletic authorities, believing lacrosse good training for football, encourage all gridiron players to play lacrosse during the season.

Black peppermint was first grown commercially about 65 years ago and has now almost entirely superseded the white.

What is naturally hoped to be near the final goal, following about 5 years of experimenting and the expenditure of many thousands of dollars, was perhaps started Monday with the trying out of the newest cotton picking machine, by engineers of the International Harvester Company.

The experiments have been carried on at the A. E. Griffice farm, 7 miles north of town, on the Plainview highway, and if the success achieved Monday continues, it is evident to an onlooker that it will not be long until the world will be informed that, at last, a mechanical cotton picker has been perfected.

Seven different types of machines have been tried out here this season, the I. H. C. men in charge of the experiments being, C. C. Bolte, R. W. Henderson, B. R. Benjamin, C. R. Hagen, Frank Senicka, Joe Gibbs, and W. S. Skinner.

Other than the machines being tested the company has kept a complete machine shop, built on a large truck. This shop is equipped with a lathe, drill press and all necessary electrical equipment, electric shears, etc.

NEGROES HAVE FIGHT
Several lacerations from a pocket knife put one negro in the hospital and another negro in the county jail Sunday afternoon, it was learned from the sheriff's office yesterday. The cutting affair occurred in a servants' house on Tenth street.

WILL TRY NIGHT FOOTBALL
Chicago will have its first taste of football at night next fall when Notre Dame plays Drake at Coldiers Field under electric candlepower.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritation, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

"Voila! reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet - the trim figure is always fashionable"

Paul Poiret, Famous Parisian Creator of Fashions

"If you want to keep slender (and who doesn't in these days) avoid sweets and smoke Lucky Strikes. There seems to be something about them; possibly the flavor, that satisfies the craving for the rich things that add weight.

"Voila, reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet—the trim figure is always fashionable. Advertisements that I saw when I recently arrived in America, said:—'The best way for sugar to be eaten is as a flavor of foods'. They are quite correct in cautioning a modified use of sugar. Sweets to excess are bad. I advocate a few puffs of the Lucky Strike toasted flavor when sweets tempt.

"I may add that I smoke Lucky Strikes myself, and I think they have contributed much to the state of mind which has helped me to create my greatest successes.

"Lucky Strikes are certainly an inspiration!"
PAUL POIRET

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This surely confirms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

Texas League Baseball Season Will Open On April 17

Dallas Steers Appear To Be Real Threat In 1929 Baseball Derby

THAT DISTRICT MEET

A district basketball tournament in Lubbock without the Westerners of Lubbock high entered will not seem real. Always contenders for the District Two crown, the Westerners carried off honors last season, but will be forced to sit by and look on Friday and Saturday when the 18 county champions gather here for the two-day fracas. Coach Morgan's cagers, minus the services of the scoring ace, Hayden Moody, entered the county meet last week confident of victory, but their confidence was too strong as their first game with the Slaton Tigers demonstrated. The Bengals were considered the weak sister of the meet, but their performance in winning over the three other teams entered was far from weak. The local aggregation played listless basketball and before they were aware of what was going on, had lost by a scant three point margin.

It was a bitter dose for the Morgans to take, but the Tigers must be given credit for playing head-up basketball. Monroe had been bowling over all opposition in pre-tournament games, but in the game for many years, admitted that they knew nothing about the game. It was too much for even the most far-sighted to figure out. Slaton came to the meet as a team that had made a little headway and won over the entire field. Undoubtedly the Slaton aggregation is much stronger than we gave them credit for being, but it is doubtful if Coach Morgan's team is the strongest in the county.

Coach Froggle Lovorn's Ralls Jackrabbits will likely be up and at 'em when the district fracas opens on Friday. The Rabbits not only won the Crosby county title with little trouble, but won the Floydada invitation meet in a walk-away. Ralls fans are not in the least reticent in predicting a district championship for their Rabbits. They should win over the Lubbock county entry handsily, but after seeing the county meet, we would be foolish to make any predictions. Nothing will be surprising now.

ON TO CANYON

Tech cagers make their last stand of the current basketball season Wednesday and Thursday night of this week when they invade the stronghold of the Canyon Buffaloes for a return series. Humbled by Coach Burton's sharpshooters in the recent series here, the Matadors are in high spirits over the prospect of avenging the brace of defeats handed them by the Herd. The return of Walker and Fisher to the lineup will add greatly to the scoring strength of the crimson crew. Walker rested during the Sul Ross series, but is back in harness this week and will likely be the mainspring of the Matadors' attack. Fisher returned to the lineup after a three weeks' layoff following a knee injury suffered during the five game series played in Abilene.

Basketball teams the country over are bounding down the home stretch this week in their various conference races. The Arkansas Razorbacks have practically clinched the Southwest Conference title, facing only two more games with the Texas Aggies in Fayetteville this week. Texas clung to second place in the race Saturday night by nocking out the Farmers in a typical Longhorn-Aggies battle. In the Texas Conference, the Simmons university quiet, led by a comfortable margin and are almost sure to cop the gonfalon. Denton Teachers and the East Texas Teachers of Commerce are fighting it out for the T. I. A. A. crown. Both stayed in the race in week-end games, winning over the Sem Houston Teachers. The Eagles meet the Daniel Baker Hill Billies in Brownwood Friday and Saturday night in what promises to be a hot series. The Billies have won nine games in a row and will likely be hard to stop.

In the Big Six basketball race the Oklahoma Sooners are favored to cop again, having won all eight of their conference starts. Missouri, in second place has lost but one game and that to the Oklahomans. The Sooners have but two games to contest between them and the Big Six title. These are with the Kansas Aggies and Missouri. The Tigers may prove a stumbling block in their path, since the Bengals have recently regained their form and will be fighting for the championship which they lost to the Sooners last year by a hair's breadth.

Schedule Adopted By Clubowners Of Loop In Long Session Sunday Calls For 164 Games In 152 Days

Beaumont, San Antonio, Dallas and Shreveport get Opening Day Games; Season Ends Sept. 15

DALLAS, Feb. 18. (P)—A schedule calling for the opening of the Texas League baseball season on April 17 was adopted by loop clubowners here today. The season will close September 15.

President J. Doak Roberts, who has been ill for seven weeks, had prepared about half of the schedule and the remainder of it was completed in sessions which began here yesterday and lasted until late last night.

The first games will see Houston at Beaumont, Waco at San Antonio, Fort Worth at Dallas and Wichita Falls at Shreveport. The following day Dallas will open the season at Fort Worth, Waco playing host to San Antonio, and Houston receiving Beaumont, will see the first games on April 19. On the twenty-third, Wichita Falls will begin play at home with Shreveport.

Dallas, Shreveport, Wichita Falls and Fort Worth draw the closing games on September 15, playing, respectively, Waco, San Antonio, Beaumont and Houston.

Labor Day and July 4 games, when receipts are pooled and divided, will see Beaumont at Houston, Waco at San Antonio, Shreveport at Dallas and Wichita Falls at Fort Worth.

The schedule, covering 152 days, provides for 164 games.

Football Stars Are Too Smart For Coach Kerr

By NEA Service.
WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 18. Football at Washington and Jefferson suffers not only from dumbness on the part of its athletes but also from too much proficiency in studies.

The 1928 team missed three fellows who were eligible to play because they finished their college work in three years. They graduated and didn't come back for the extra year of football they could have played.

Ed Paulie and Roy McMunn, ends, who could be a great help to Kerr next fall, recently announced that they wouldn't be back. Both of them are graduating this year, one year ahead of time.

Climbing into the ring in New York on September 12, 1915, came young Mike Gibbons, eager to joust with one of the most feared boxers of all time—the great Packey McFarland.

The bout had created a lot of interest. When the lids crawled through the ropes a packed house roared around them. The receipts were $58,069, considered a big gate then, and the promoter later said he made $18,000 profit.

McFarland was at the turning point of his great career. He was getting old. His wizard fists were

Tech Facing Buffs In Season's Final

Matador Cagers Train Hard For Return Series With Teachers At Canyon; Have High Hopes

Facing their most bitter rivals of the hardwood court in the final case series of the current season, Coach Victor Payne's basket loopers went through a stiff practice session last night and will put on the finishing touches tonight before going to Canyon Wednesday for a two-game return series with the Canyon Buffaloes on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

The Matador basketloopers are on edge to put up a stubborn fight to regain lost laurels with the "Thundering Herd." Coach Burton's aggregation has proven the pemeess for the local sharpshooters, but the crimson crew is in high spirits over the prospect of downing the Buffs in this last series of the season.

Strengthened by the return of Ransom Walker, and Leon Fisher to the lineup, the Matadors are in high spirits over the prospects of downing their arch foes. Following a layoff during the Sul Ross series, Walker is ready to go again, and Fisher has regained his speed after suffering a knee injury during the Abilene series.

Closing the Sul Ross series with their fourth straight victory after the disastrous Canyon invasion, the Tech cagers ran their season's average to .667, having won 12 of the 18 games played. A double win over the Buffaloes would end the season for the crimson with 14 wins and 6 defeats.

As the series with Canyon ends the season for the local aggregation, a large number of Tech and town case fans are expected to accompany the team to the home of the Buffaloes.

Giant Hurlers In 2-Hour Workout

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 18. (P)—Every pitcher took his turn on the hill during the two-hour workout of the New York Giants Monday and everybody grabbed a bat to take a crack at the ball. It was another day of sunshine to give the Giants four in a row since they started spring training on Bear Field last Friday.

Pitcher John Scott, who came with the early arrivals last Thursday night, is still nursing a sore hand which he cut with a butcher knife while killing hogs on his farm at Warrenton, N. C., shortly before joining the team, but he says it is healing.

CHAPTER TWO OUT FOR ADVENTURE

American sports writers became excited because Gene Tunney not only could read but liked to. I wonder what they will think when I say that I not only like to read good books but paint pictures, too?

It is fine recreation, putting people and scenes down on canvas in colors. However, I am not so very good at it and will stick to fighting.

As a boy I read a great deal of Shakespeare's writing. We had to learn German schoolboys are taught Shakespeare in the primary grades. Werner Scheff is my favorite author. You probably have never read his books. He is a popular German writer. I also like to read Jack London, and the works of Herr Hauptmann and Herr Sudermann.

Max, a Wrestling Champ
I have just finished a good book. It is "The Boxer and the Lady," written by Louis Hemon. It is in German so you may not be interested.

Don't think all my boyhood was spent reading books. I liked to play. The Germans are very strict in teaching youngsters how to exercise. Our rough and tumble games were encouraged.

We boys in Klein-Luckow played soccer, tennis and did a lot of swimming when only a small boy. I am proud to say that I was not yet 14 years old when I won a wrestling tournament.

My school days were over when I got work in Hamburg. Two years later I wanted to go to sea, following in the footsteps of my father. My mother bitterly opposed it.

District Tourney Will Attract 18 County Winners

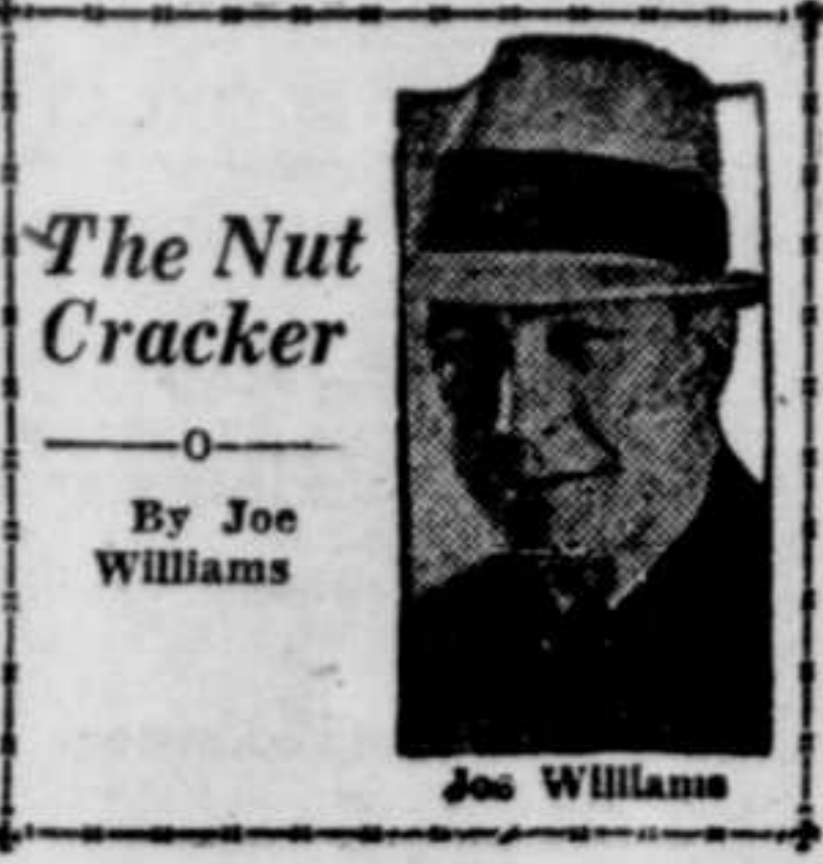

E. Y. Freeland In Charge Of District Two Meet To Be Held Here Friday And Saturday

Basketball champions of eighteen counties will meet in Lubbock on Friday and Saturday of this week to participate in the District Two cage tournament of the Interscholastic League. Ewing Y. Freeland, Tech athletic director, is the district chairman and will be in charge of the meet. All entries for the meet have not yet arrived but are expected within the next few days.

The following counties will be represented: Andrews, Bailey, Borden, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Perry and Yoakum.

In the majority of the counties in this district, the finals were played off last week, but in some instances, a playoff was necessary. These will be held during the early part of this week in order that the champion will be known before the district tournament begins here Friday.

The winner of the tournament held here will meet, the champion of district one of which the center is Canyon. District one meet is to be held on the same days as the district two tournament here. Lubbock was the victor in last year's tournament, but after losing to Slaton in the county meet last week, the Westerners will be forced to sit by and look on this year. The Slaton Tigers went through the Round Robin schedule undefeated, proving to be the "dark horse" of the meet.

The Nut Cracker By Joe Williams

Gus Sonnenberg, the new grasping champion, says the wrestling racket needs new faces. New faces, and a few new ears, too.

The old ears, where wrestlers have them, don't look so good, but during a match the pachyderms have been known to hear one another perfectly. Thus:

"I'll toss you tonight, Frothing-ham, and next week in Omaha you toss me . . . Then we'll go on to Chicago."

Gus says there's a great chance for college men in the sport, with all their necking experience there should be.

Speaking about the need for new faces, Strangler Lewis thought he was going to need a new stomach, but he was butted him out of the arena in their Boston match.

A London man offers 2000 pounds for a fight for the world's heavyweight championship between Phil Scott and Tom Heeney. There must be a little Scotch in that guy.

Dallas Club Will Have Offensive Team This Year

Mavericks Look Like Best In League On Paper; Have Strong Infield Outfield; Weak At Plate

BY JERE R. HAYES
Times Herald Sports Editor
Written For The Associated Press

DALLAS, Feb. 18.—Concentrating their efforts on building up a ball club that can hammer in runs, Dallas Moguls believe they have added enough power offensively to make the Steers a real threat in the 1929 baseball derby.

Assuming the "Houston Buffs," Wichita Falls Spudders and Fort Worth Cats are up to "war time" strength, the Mavericks of this city look like the best bet in the league on paper. Unfortunately, these "paper champions" don't mean anything.

The Steer inner cordon will be made up of Wilbur Davis on first, Manager Milt Stock or Hap Morse at second, Bill Huber at third, and Ray Flaskamper at short. This department has been strengthened a hundredfold—the addition of Flaskamper taking care of that. Again Davis is unquestionably a better hitter than last year's first-sacker, guardian, Oglesby may be better defensively, but Davis has the edge in hitting. Stock, if he is an improvement, on Morse, will play second. Otherwise, Hap will be back at the mid-station. And Hap's no slouch at the job. Huber outlast Tate something like 75 points in the same class of baseball last year, so it is reasonable to presume the hot corner will be protected by a better hitter; Huber, isn't a Tate at fielding, but he'll do very well. At short Flaskamper will be an improvement in every way over the 1928 performer. Flash is about the best in the league as short.

Behind the willow, Jack Mealey, is tabbed for the first-string job. He should be better this year, his second in class A baseball, and he was regarded as star last season. His assistant will be elected from Josh Billings, holdover; Don Benn, purchased from Akron, with a .351 clubbing record; Lynn Boggers, a utility man who will try his luck at catching. There should be a slight improvement in this department, but it still seems to be one of the weak spots.

Bunion Derby To Go Through Texas

DALLAS, Feb. 18.—(P)—C. C. Pyle's second annual "Bunion Derby," to leave New York Easter Sunday, will be routed through this section over the Broadway of America here today.

Pyle is conferring here with a view to making Dallas one of the eighty night control points on the New York-Los Angeles trek. He will confer Wednesday with Fort Worth Association of Commerce officials regarding a night layover there.

Proposed control points in this section include Muskogee, Holdenville, Colgate and Durant, Okla., and Sherman, Dallas, Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Ranger, Cisco, Abilene, Sweetwater, Colorado, Big Spring, Midland, Odessa, Monahan, Pecos, Kent and El Paso.

College Sextette Noses Out Myrick

The Business College girls team of the City Basketball League were forced to extend themselves last night to nose out the Myrick Building sextette, 13 to 11, in a hard fought contest.

Ellison and Mathews, the leading scorers of the women's division of the league were held down by close guarding in last night's tilt, and their lead was none too comfortable throughout the game. Franklin, Hopping and Logan played strong defensive games for the Myrick outfit.

Ellison carried off scoring honors with nine points while Murray of the Myrick outfit was close behind with seven.

Champs Clash In Houston Tourney

HOUSTON, Feb. 18.—(P)—At least eleven champions and former champions will be among golfers who tee off tomorrow in the fifteenth annual Houston Country Club invitation tournament.

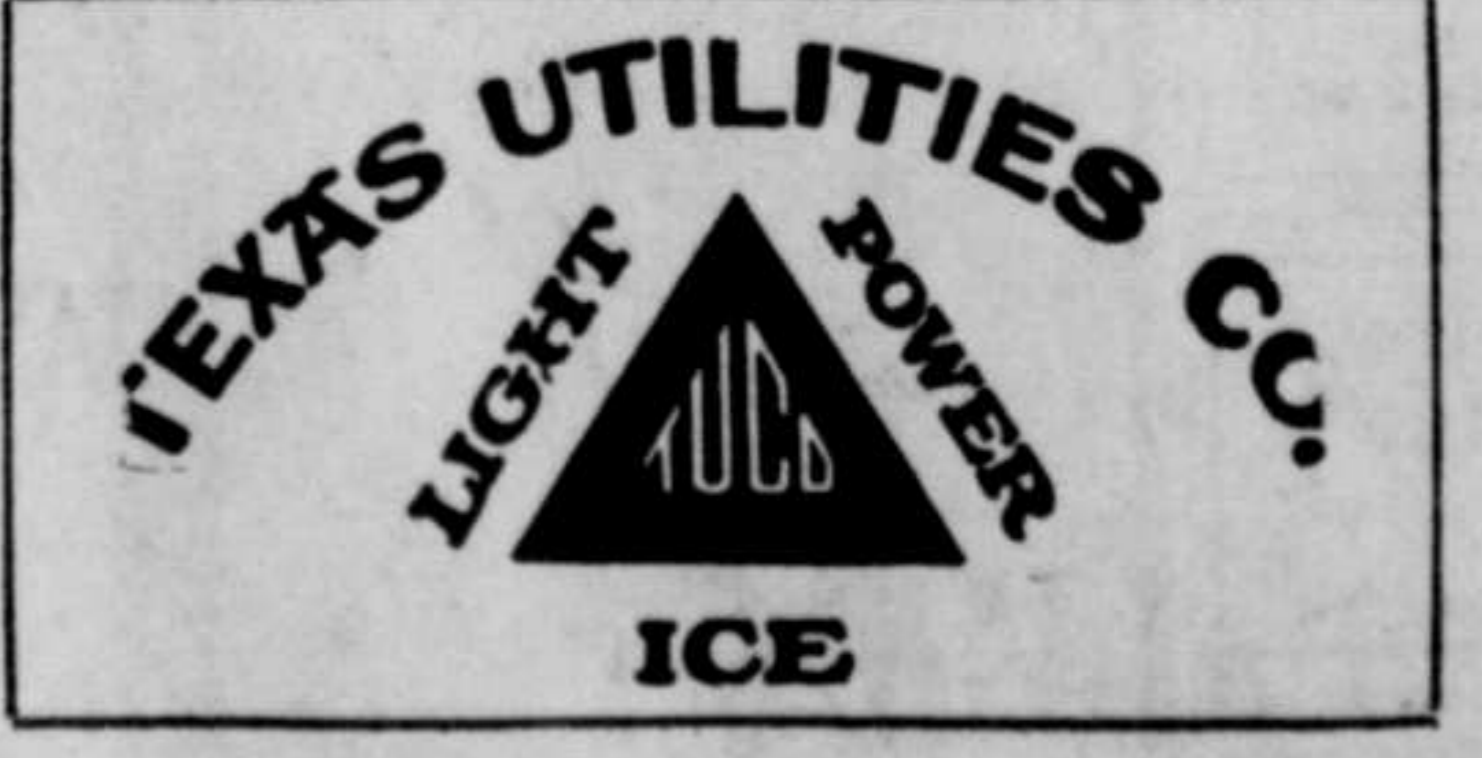

Five holders, or former holders, of the Texas amateur crown and former champions from Louisiana and Oklahoma are included in the list. Jack Speer of Houston, present Texas amateur king, with four of his predecessors, Ossie Carlton and George Rotan of Houston, Tommy Cochran of Wichita Falls and Lewis Levinson of San Antonio will take part in the invitation meet. Speer won the invitation event last year and Rotan has won it six times.

Edwin McClure, Louisiana state champion in 1927, is on hand as is Keefer Carter of Oklahoma City who has held the Western amateur title as well as the Oklahoma championship.

Legislators Asked Change Of Scene

Resolutions Call For First Called Session In Houston; Would Prevent Lobbyists From Activities

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Feb. 18. — Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller said he would hold out of order a resolution introduced in the senate today asking for the holding of the first called session of the legislature in Houston.

The concurrent resolution was offered by Sen. W. R. Cousins of Beaumont. It was laid on the table. Cousins asserted that transfer of the legislative scene of action would enable the legislators to get away from capitol lobbyists and would give them an opportunity to become acquainted with the Gulf Coastal region.

DUNEDIN, New Zealand, Feb. 18. (P) — The steamer Eleanor Bolling supply ship of the Byrd antarctic expedition, cleared the port here today but was forced to take shelter behind the heads at the entrance of the bay by a terrific South Sea storm. At midnight she was awaiting the dawn in the hope that the storm would subside. The vessel, heavily laden, is en route to the Byrd base, "Little America," in the Bay of Whales.

I.C.C. Authorizes Rate Reductions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (P) — A series of reductions in railroad refrigeration charges on fruits and vegetables moving from Southeastern states to northeastern consuming territory was ordered today by the Interstate Commerce Commission effective April 15.

On the important traffic in citrus fruits and vegetables from Florida to New England and North Atlantic states, the commission ordered a reduction of approximately 15 per cent in the refrigeration charges. On berries from Florida to the same destinations the reduction ordered was 23 per cent and on melons and other Florida fruits a reduction of 8 per cent.

NEGRO IS SOUGHT

Texan Slugged And Robbed By Black Saturday

TEXARKANA, Feb. 18. (P) — Police were searching today for a negro believed to have slugged and robbed Oscar Crane of Dalby Springs, Texas, yesterday. Crane's head was crushed, and he was not expected to live. Saturday Crane brought 100 rabbits here to sell, and is believed to have had considerable money with him when attacked. He was found on a sidewalk of the business district.

THE PEACE MIRAGE

Since the signing of the Armistice more than ten years ago people have been hearing of war preventatives. Yet each time a plan has been offered, objections have been made among the contracting parties as to the amount of disarmament necessary in each particular case.

More recently came the Kellogg Peace Pact which all the great powers hailed as the great sesame and answer to the troubled problem and all the smaller nations approved. Seemingly it was the final declaration of war against war.

Perhaps all these are evolutionary steps, the growing pains of a civilization that is becoming enlightened but where there is dynamite lying around there is sure to be an explosion and where there are guns there is sure to be an itch to see how they are going to go off.

We have had enough of war and enough of diplomatic quibbling. The people of the world desire for peace and it is time they were given a guarantee that disputes will be settled at a round table. It is time the sun shone with the light of peace without its rays being filtered through war clouds.

A HOPEFUL SIGN Twenty-five years ago about one-seventh of the young people of high school age were enrolled in school. The Department of the Interior in making public the statistics declares high school enrollments have doubled during the period.

This interesting growth of secondary education in recent years indicates at the present time at least half of the population of high school age is in actual attendance. The proportion is even higher in the cities.

As we view it this reflects very plainly our prosperity. The greatest significance, however, lies in the fact that education now is more general than ever before. It is gratifying because of the beneficial effect it will have on the nation. History reveals that ignorance breeds more dissension, more discord and more unhappiness than any other cause. The nations of the world which rank lower than ours in point of education have come to recognize the fact and are taking whatever means possible to remedy the condition.

I DON'T CARE Workmen were making repairs on the wires in a Norwood schoolhouse one Saturday when a small boy wandered in. "What you doing?" "Installing an electric switch," one of the workmen said.

The boy then volunteered: "I don't care. We've moved away and I don't go to this school any more."

SATIRICAL LADY "So you want a divorce, Rastus?" "Yes, sub, judge, yo' honah-Ah sholy does." "What's the trouble?" "Count on ma wife makin' an ironical remark." "An ironical remark?" "Yes, sub-she says if you don't go to work, I'll hit you in the face wid dis flatiron."

NO MIDDLEMEN NEEDED "Won't you give a shilling to the Lord?" said a Salvation Army lassie to an old Aberdeenian. "How auld are ye, lassie?" he inquired. "Nineteen, sir." "Ah, weel, I'm past 75. I'll be seein' Him afore you so I'll hand it to Him myself."

The most amazing piece of news breaking within the past few days was the announcement from Fort Worth that the Tarrant County Bar Association had declared that county not to be in need of an additional court-county or district. We can't believe it-unless the lawyers believe it will be cheaper to cut out another court than to have to build another temple to house it.

Colonel Stewart, chairman of Standard Oil of Indiana, certainly put one over Mr. Rockefeller in his fight for control of the organization when he cut a $15,000,000 melon for the stockholders the other day. Holders of the company's securities, we imagine, will hesitate a long time before unhorsing a man who makes as good a showing as that.

On the Firing Line at the Nation's Capital

STEWART DISCUSSES WASHINGTON BLOWOUT BY CHARLES P. STEWART

Washington Correspondent for Central Press and The Avalanche

ASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Police have been doing their best lately to clear the streets in Washington. In readiness for next month's presidential inauguration festivities. Among others, four gamblers were caught and convicted.

Mercy, in moderation, was offered them by Chief Justice Mc Coy of the District of Columbia supreme court, if they would snitch, wholesale, on Washington gaming and gamblers. The hard-core culprits preferred prison to squabbling and each got three years of the former.

To the local underworld's perverted sense of honor this reticence on the quartet's part appeared as very noble. It was resolved to pull off a benefit performance in one of the capital theatres, to help their respective families.

Seemingly the families needed it. Anyway, the wife of one of the captives had been evicted from her home, with her six smallest children, and the seven of them were camped on a mattress in the street, in '18 or 20 degree weather, when some tough eggs who knew the woman's husband rescued and sheltered them.

The benefit was a corking success. Actors and actresses of every degree of excellence, musicians, dancers, vaudevillians of all sorts and both sexes gave their services gratis until there was no more room on the program.

The house was packed. Fly Cops say every bootlegger, racing tout, racketeer, gangster, crook and near-crook in Washington and Baltimore was on hand, his frail with him—that quite a few came from as far as Philly and Manhattan. Also there were a lot of nominally respectable people who were merely curious or really fit sorry for those gamblers' families.

The affair netted five grand and several centuries over. The question is: Was this blowout a beautiful illustration of the fellowship of man—even in underworld circles. Or was it a horrible example of the national capital's contempt for law, order, morality and decency?

Listen to some of the comment: "It (the benefit) seemed to me rather a disgusting demonstration. I can understand why here should be so much appreciation of what those four convicted gamblers did."—Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, chairman of the senate's District of Columbia committee.

"In my opinion the performance was staged to create a false public sentiment in the trial of the 'gamblers' cases."—Assistant Attorney General H. Collins, who prosecuted the four gamblers.

"To contribute to a fund to aid in defeating the intent and purposes of the law is not good citizenship."—Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, police superintendent of Washington.

Honest to gosh, dear reader, in the simplicity of my heart I would have taken the other side of this debate until I hear the contrary arguments. Now I see I was wrong.

But at that, any time I find myself up against it for a friend in need, believe me, I'll cast my vote for some tender-hearted burglar.

WOMAN QUICK TO USE HEALTH FAD

EDITOR'S NOTE—The fourth article of Dr. Fishbein's latest series of seven articles on "The Human Body and Its Care" is presented here. The series, in pamphlet form, can be obtained from the American Library Association, 86 East Randolph street, Chicago.

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

The human being is a credulous animal and women are even more credulous than men. Superstitions regarding health have been prevalent since the beginning of time and strange follies for the control of disease are constantly working. Like a dangerous ferment, to disrupt man's intelligence. Hence hygienists work energetically to overcome wild accusations made by superstitious people and the claims of those who profit commercially by opposing scientific medicine.

The physical culture movement has meant much for the advancement of mankind so long as it has been kept within rational bounds. Its tendency has been, however, to adopt all or nothing policies regarding breathing, diet, starvation and outdoor exercise which are likely to do as much harm as good.

Moderation The most ancient and established maxim in the field of hygiene is moderation in all things. It is well known that any force which is potent for good may also be potent for harm. Among the peculiar follies of the physical culture movement none is so reprehensible as the notion that breathing in one type is significant in the causing of disease or in the cure of various complaints. Breathing may be to a large extent controlled, but it is also to a considerable extent automatic. All systems of breathing, such as abdominal breathing, rhythmic, deep breaths and other schemes, are irrational. Nobody ought to live for his lungs alone.

The cold bath fanatic is a menace to his associates, because he is not satisfied to indulge himself in his fad, but endeavors, as all fanatics, to convince his friends.

Cold baths taken in the morning stimulate the nerve endings in the skin and drive the blood from the surface, to which it returns with a rush when the person comes out of the bath and rubs himself briskly with a towel. This is pleasant and invigorating but it throws a considerable burden on the organs of adjustment and may be harmful to those whose organs do not respond readily.

Exercise Exercise is useful for stimulating the reactions of the body systems. But exercise does not mean marathon races or hundred-mile walks. The road to health does not lie in the exceptional performance, but in well conducted and suitably regulated physical activities.

The fanatics who subsist largely on hay, grain and oats are not all either thoroughbreds or jackasses. The vegetarians, the whole-wheat fanatics, the fresh fruit followers, the dangerous combination theorists and other food fanatics do more harm than good.

The rational view is that all the things eaten by man are of value taken in proper amounts at proper times. Starvation outlaws do as much harm as any others. An occasional rest period may be helpful to the human digestive tract but long abstinence from food place burdens on the digestion, which are not its due. So frenzied and fallacious are American habits of diet that every Babbitt is willing to listen to his neighbor's suggestion as to what he should eat.

TOMORROW—New discoveries in medicine.

Rockefeller's Millions!

SO THINK WE

We think it is certainly a pity to cut down the big trees that has taken twenty years or more to grow on the plains, but the vision of those who planted them was not sufficient to see that they were being planted in a spot where a four or a fifteen or twenty story building must someday be erected and hence the trees must come down.

We think there is one advantage that our friends have, because we are poor, we do not expect them to buy everything that we see when we are walking with them down town.

We think the main difference in the "good old days" and now, is that you used to spend just what you had, and now you spend all you have and all you ever expect to have, and some that you are very doubtful about.

We think that if the people who meddle in other people's affairs would put in half the time attending to their own business, the world would be a much more pleasant place to live.

We have some "friends" who seem to think they cannot carry on our own business, and they must "nose" around and as a result there is not much use for one to try to do anything.

We think that some folks condemn a great many things that they really do not know anything about, and if they did they would not condemn it.

We think that too many people go ahead before they know they are right and for that reason there is sometimes a great deal of trouble.

We think if a great many people would not spend so much time trying to figure out just what is the trouble with things that they could not remedy if they really knew what the trouble was they would have more time to work on the things that they really could do some good at.

We guess we will be hearing a great deal about the starving Chinese in as much as we are hearing about a rice famine in the rice belt of the Chinese nation.

The Way Of The World

BY GROVE PATTERSON

THE FAILURES OF ORGANIZATION The real failure of much organization work lies in the refusal of the members of an organization to feel personal responsibility for corporate action. They are glad enough to have their names on the roll of all sorts of organizations that stand for all sorts of things, but they are not willing to bear any actual responsibility. Such persons merely encumber an organization. They mean nothing and less than nothing to its life and usefulness.

SHIRKING LEADERSHIP There is no larger and more deadly failure than the failure to assume the leadership of which one is capable. There are, of course, few people who really have the capacity for leadership. Most of us do well if we can make a fair job of following. But there are men and women who are competent for leadership. For them to shirk is immeasurably worse than for the incompetent leadership to be as they are. The trouble is that many, knowing their capacity for leadership, are more for comfort than for doing a real part.

OLD SENECA There's inspiration in these words of the old Roman Seneca, in the midst of the storms of life: "Oh Neptune, thou canst save me if thou wilt, or thou canst drown me! But whether or not, I will hold my rudder true."

NERVOUSNESS There is sometimes real cause—organic cause—for nervousness. Usually this is not the case. Most people who suffer from nervousness suffer because they are not sure of themselves. They are at odds with themselves. They are in the midst of a mental conflict. They know which way they ought to go, but feel not strong enough to move. They are holding to practices which they know they should discontinue. One part of nature within them is out of harmony with the other part. In the midst of conflict, in the refusal to surrender what is bad and be content with what is good—or what they really believe to be good—they are tense and nervous. They gradually are quite curable, without medicine, though not always without difficulty and much patience.

Tribute Is Paid To Melville Stone

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—In a gray stone church made bright with thousands of blossoms, funeral services were held today for Melville E. Stone, the grand old man of American journalism.

As the services began, the 120,000 miles of telegraph wires of the Associated Press, of which he was general manager for more than a quarter of a century, fell momentarily silent and throughout the world the men and women who work in the news organization which grew under his leadership stood in silent tribute to his memory.

Berne, Switzerland, Feb. 18. (AP)—In honor of Melville E. Stone, all services of the Swiss Telegraph Agency throughout Switzerland including the league of nations branch at Geneva suspended work for one minute at two o'clock New York time. All employes stood with bowed heads in tribute, as did the staff of the Associated Press.

PRESS COMMENT

"C. OF C." MEANS "SOMETHING DOING" One striking feature of West and Northwest Texas newspapers is the frequency with which there appears in the heading a couplet that signifies the motivating influence behind the very remarkable development recorded in the news columns.

How many of us have noticed that among all the words, phrases and combinations of words, not appears so frequently as the couplet "C. of C." employed as an abbreviation for Chamber of Commerce?

Every time we use "C. of C." in a newspaper heading, or "Chamber of Commerce" for which it stands, there is denoted a community purpose, plan, proposal or activity.

No live town is without its active commercial body, and the publications active in community affairs play up that organization to the fullest extent.

If business man or citizen is looking about for evidence that the commercial organizations are responsible for the development on every hand, he need look no further than the daily or weekly chronicles of events in a given community.

The metropolitan dailies go to a greater extreme in using the couplet "C. of C." or that for which it stands. They comb the state for industrial and agricultural news, and they almost invariably find it interwoven with the activities of the commercial organizations. Hence the larger dailies fairly bristle with crisp, bright headings in which "C. of C." is outstanding.

If one has not noticed this, that one does not read carefully the newspapers. Such an one will probably be found listed among those who have not estimated the community's Chamber of Commerce or kindred organization at its intrinsic value.

If the newspapers have one outstanding lesson for us, that teaching is that the Texas community that does not make of its Chamber of Commerce a live forceful entity for advancing every community cause is not getting anywhere. All of the newspapers can be wrong, and without exception they drive home this teaching.

We have with us one great truth to which there is no exception, not even so much as a variation: The communities that are continually bringing home the bacon maintain and support to the limit the Chamber of Commerce.

Bear in mind, there IS NO EXCEPTION to this. As for Kermit, it has proven what its Chamber of Commerce can do. But it does need to go further, and to rally to the support of its organization in a larger sense, in a more practical way, in a more enthusiastic manner.

We are doing MUCH. We could do MUCH MORE if a larger percentage of the citizens and business men would join the organization and give their financial support as well as moral support.—Kermit Tribune.

Today's Poem

A DEVOUT LOVER I HAVE a mistress, for perfection's rare In every eye, but in my thoughts most fair. Like tapers on the altar shine her eyes; Her breath is the perfume of sacrifice; And whoso'er my fancy would begin, Still her perfection lets religion in.

We sit and talk, and kiss away the hours As chaste as the morning dew, Kiss the flowers; I touch her, like my beads, with devout care, And come unto my courtship as my prayer.

Grand Rush of Legislature Is Started This Week

Big Offensive Of Forty-First Session Starts; 17 More Working Days Left With 300 Bills Up

BY R. W. BARRY
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

AUSTIN, Feb. 18. (AP)—The big offensive of the 41st legislature is at hand. The grand rush to pass hundreds of bills before sine die adjournment, only three weeks removed, is about to start. Some 300 bills are on the calendar in the house, and there remain only 17 working days of the regular session, if the legislators labor on Washington's birthday and Saturdays.

Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller in the senate and Speaker W. S. Barron in the house have taken double hitch on the reins to check a stampede which might result in the passing hurriedly of scores of measures which under leisurely consideration might be kept from the statute books.

Present No Exception. It is customary for legislators to start their biennial work with reluctance and a characteristic to finish up at top speed. This legislature is no exception to the rule. If anything, it got off to an even more sluggish start than many of its predecessors. But a large amount of work can be done in the closing days. Night sessions will be started this week in the house. The legislature has accomplished little in big things so far. It has passed the resolution calling for a constitutional amendment to increase the supreme court membership to nine, thus accepting one of the governor's recommendations for "court reform." It has rejected the governor's suggestion that employees of the state be placed under the civil service merit system. This week it will consider the highway bond issue proposal and bills effecting a reorganization and concentration of the penitentiary system, both of which are advocated by Governor Moody. Interest in the outcome is keen with the governor personally active in support of both.

Stocks Advanced Timidly Following Credit Tightening

Extreme Nervousness Displayed At Opening And Business Reduced; Call Money At 7 Per Cent

BY CLAUDE A. JACGER Associated Press Financial Writer NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The stock market resumed its advance, rather timidly, today, after last week's retreat forced by tightening credit rates and the attitude of the federal reserve board toward excessive absorption of credit in speculation.

The market showed extreme nervousness during the most of the session, and business was in reduced volume total sales approximating but 3,475,550 shares. Call money renewed at 8 per cent, but went down to 7 1/2 in the day, in contrast to Friday's closing rate of 10. This stimulated considerable short covering and scores of issues closed 2 to 14 points higher.

An encouraging development was the American acceptance council's report that total outstanding acceptances decreased but $3,214,617 in January, a month in which a seasonal drop is to be expected, and in which the total fell off about $220,000,000 in 1928.

Time money was firm, with little available under 7 3/4 per cent. The day's business news included the placing of the new Du Pont stock on a $4 annual dividend basis equal to $14 on the old stock, in comparison to its $10 rate in 1928.

As an example of the erratic fluctuations of the day, Radio ranged from 333 to 347, and closed at 343, up 8 points. Utilities and Coppers led the day's advance.

American and foreign power jumped more than 14 points to a new high, and American Power and Light and American Water Works moved up 6 to 4 points. Andes Copper mounted 6 1/2 points to a new high at 80 1/2.

While Chile, Green Cananea and Kennecott sold 4 to 5 points higher. Rails were generally firm. Aitchison, Delaware and Hudson, and New York Central advancing about 3 to 4 points.

Among the few soft spots were Case Threshing and National Tea, dropping 15 and 9 points, respectively, in small turnovers. In the commodity markets, wheat made moderate gains as low temperatures were reported over the winter wheat belt. Cotton was steady in dull trading.

Southern Cotton Is Steady Monday On Narrow Range

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18. (AP)—The cotton market was only moderately active today with prices fluctuating within a comparatively narrow range. Values were sustained by varied bullish influences including a private report making fertilizer sales in eastern belt states to the end of January smaller than last year.

Liverpool cables were steady at the start here and were reflected in an opening gain of 1 to 4 points. Prices continued to advance after the start on buying promoted by the bullish fertilizer report and prospects for unsettled weather in the belt. At the end of the first hour May sold at 19.51, July 19.53 and October 19.33, or 7 points above Saturday's close.

After easing off a few points from these levels on some liquidation the market steadied later in the morning and on renewed buying active positions showed net gains of 6 points at noon.

Offerings increased however, and operators liquidated the March option in advance of the first notice day for that month, February 23. On the subsequent decline March traded off 11 points under the previous close while later positions dropped 4 to 5 points.

During the afternoon the market was steady and fluctuated within the early range. Receipts, 14,344; for week, 26,931; for year 8,222,465; last year, 7,049,688. Exports, 1,299,4; for week, 6,203; for year 5,872,135; last year, 4,899,857. Stocks, 2,130,728; last year, 2,188,646. Stock on shipboard 132,110; last year, 125,397. Spot sales, 19,006; last year 11,320.

Prices Steady On Fort Worth Market

FORT WORTH, Feb. 18. (AP)—Slaughter steers about steady in today's market, while canner and cutter cows and bulls, fully steady. Butcher and beef cows weak, while slaughter yearlings and heifers about a quarter lower, with trading slow. About a dozen loads of slaughter steers ranged from 9.50 to 11.65. Several cars sold 9.50 to 10.50.

Bulls fully steady, fed bulls 8.50 common light bulls 6.50. Slaughter yearlings and heifers sold 9.50 to 11.25. Canner and cutter cows steady at 3.00 to 6.00. Butcher and beef cows 8.00 and less, steady. Calves mostly a quarter lower 9.75 to 11.25. Cull calves mostly around 7.00.

Stocker cows sold at 6.60 to 8.00 with some stocker steers at 10.00. Sheep consisted mostly of woolled fat lambs and some Louisiana common sheep; slow, woolled fat lambs, 15.75, about a quarter lower. Truck mostly quarter higher, with sales up to 2.75.

New York Market Has Slight Rise In Cotton Prices

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—Early advances on relatively steady Liverpool cables, which promoted some covering and trade buying, were followed by rather irregular fluctuations and partial reactions in cotton today. After selling up to 20.13 at the start, May contracts eased off to 20.06 under liquidation or realizing and closed at that figure. The general market closed steady net 1 point lower to 6 higher.

The market opened steady at an advance of 2 to 6 points and sold about 4 to 8 points net higher in the early trading. The market apparently was influenced by better Liverpool cables than expected and reports that sales of cotton goods last week had exceeded production in one of the leading local houses.

The early advance was accompanied by reports of a steady spot situation in the South but there was not a great deal of support after the initial buying orders had been supplied. Much of the trading consisted of switching from March to later months and trade interests were credited with taking the near month contracts against sales of later deliveries.

The first notice day for March contracts in the local market will be February 26. Some local brokers say a considerable interest remains to be evoked up. Reports that fertilizer sales in the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi to the end of January amounted to 315,000 tons against 312,000 last year may have contributed to the early advance.

Orange Bookkeeper Held For Shortage

ORANGE, Feb. 18. (AP)—Falsion Sanford, bookkeeper of the First National bank of Orange, was held here today on charges of embezzlement of funds from a national bank. He will be transferred to Beaumont tomorrow for arraignment. F. R. Peterson, bank examiner reported that a shortage of $20,300 existed in the bank, and Sanford was arrested.

There were no signals in the early days of railroads—when drivers of trains met on a single track line they had to argue it out. Later, a post was erected midway between stations so the "who had passed the pillar must go on, and the other go back."

Grocery Exchange Offered Farmers Here

Local Plant Has Good Patronage

Offering a new and different kind of medium to the farmers of the South Plains, the Farmers' Produce and Grocery company, 1312 Avenue H, gives the producers not only a chance to sell their products but to exchange them for groceries at the same time.

Basing the future of the company on the need of such a farmers' medium in a central point of this agricultural section, the produce and grocery company was established about eleven months ago. Business during this less than a year period has been splendid, placing the company as a positive institution on the South Plains.

G. R. White, for five years manager of the North Side Grocery, is in charge of the Farmers' Produce and Grocery company. Mr. White predicts that business during 1929 will be even better than during the past year.

In addition to handling a full line of produce, the company has cream, chickens, full stock of groceries and cow and chicken feed. Brownfield, Tahoka, Slaton, Idalou and all sections of the South Plains furnish the produce for the company.

Carnett Electric Has Rapid Growth

Sensing the vast possibilities of Lubbock and the South Plains, J. D. Carnett came here about ten months ago from Oklahoma and opened up the Carnett's Electric Shop, 1209 Broadway.

Today Mr. Carnett claims that his company is beyond a doubt the biggest thing of its kind in the Southwest. The local store deals with retail business only, drawing trade not only from all parts of the South Plains but from parts of New Mexico as well. Six employees are used to carry on the business.

The Carnett company does general electrical contracting, house wiring, in addition to being agent for Majestic radios, lamps and electrical appliances of all kinds.

MID-WESTERN LIVESTOCK KANSAS CITY, Feb. 18. (U. S. D. A.)—More activity was in evidence around the 11-market circuit on fed steers and yearlings. Matured steers showed slight strength at some markets, while lightweight steers and yearlings were steady to 25 cents higher. Other killing classes were little changed. Stocker and feeder classes were on a steady to weak basis demand centering upon thin light weight steers. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 49,600 a decrease of 4,000 from a week ago and 5,000 short of the corresponding day last year.

Hogs found a fairly active outlet to shippers at prices 15 to 25c higher than Saturday, but packers were bearish and at several points made their purchases at steady to easier rates. Total offerings were around 130,700 as compared with 153,000 last Monday and 152,658 a year ago.

The sheep supply approximated 65,000 a decrease of 2,000 from a week ago but 3,500 heavier than a year ago. Fat lambs were tendered an uneven decline of 15 to 30c, the river markets showing the most loss. Aged stock on a steady 25c lower basis.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 18. (AP)—The Moran Corporation of the South, which has headquarters at Shreveport, La., has completed a six-inch natural gas line from White Point to Ingleside. The line, which has been pending pending arrangements to take care of the oil.

Beauty Parlor In Rapid Growth Here

No better example of the rapid growth in popularity of beauty parlors scattered throughout the residential section of a city can be found than in the Charlotte Beauty Shop, 1914 16th.

Located in the center of a good residential section, this shop has developed a trade which draws patrons not only from all sections of the city but which attracts considerable out-of-town customers as well.

Coming here three months ago with nine years experience in beauty culture work, Mrs. Paul Moore opened the shop, and its success was immediate. Mrs. Moore previously was in the beauty parlor business in Fort Worth and New Mexico. In the shop here two assistants are employed.

A red and gold color combination is carried out by the decorations, including the red and gold drapes. All kinds of beauty culture are done in the shop, which contains complete equipment of all kinds necessary for this work. Violet ray and numerous other bits of electrical apparatus are included in the equipment.

Federal Sales Continue Good

Federal tires and tubes continue to enjoy a good sale in Lubbock and throughout this territory, according to word from the J. F. Frye Rubber company here.

The Federal double blue pennant tire is proving about the most popular product in the line. Considerable of the sales are residents living outside Lubbock. Service, not only one tire, but on all other wants of the motorist, is a feature at the Frye company.

The automobile accessory business, and the gasoline and oil end of the Frye trade continue big factors in the business.

Oil Notes

Full production of the McCarty Oil company number one Gray, a wildcat on the west line of section 591, 15 miles north of here, has been suspended pending arrangements to take care of the oil.

The well, which hit pay Friday night, was drilled to 1,160 feet before operators were halted. The Pecos Valley Oil company number two Fee, six miles further north on section 22 of Block 10, an offset to Pecos Valley number one Fee, continues flowing by heads at an estimated rate of 250 barrels a day.

Hale County Woman Victim Of Wounds

Funeral services for Mrs. J. L. Garner, 51, of Cotton Center, Hale county, were held from the Rix Morticians' chapel Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. G. P. McCollom, pastor of the Nineteenth Street Methodist church, officiating. Burial was in the Lubbock cemetery.

Mrs. Garner had been in a local hospital for about a week, following an accidental discharge of a pistol, thought to be unloaded, which wounded her in the abdomen. The pistol was in the hands of a youth to whom her husband had just sold it, when the accident occurred. She was thought to be improving, after the bullet was removed.

In addition to her husband, survivors are six children, Dallas Kay, of Amarillo; Pearlie Jay, Fort Worth; Mrs. Ruby Brown, Lufkin; John R. Kay, Lufkin; Jeanette Kay, Lufkin, and Mrs. Francis Sublet, Lufkin.

Barah Says "Fight"

Prohibition is not a problem of 10 days or of 10 years, he said, and "Possibly we can not prevent the use of alcohol entirely, but shall we surrender or shall we fight?" he answered; "Fight!"

He said state control would multiply the problems of national prohibition 48 times.

House Members Present.

The floor was crowded with house members who had deserted their side of the capital. Steps leading down to the seats in the gallery were jammed with men and women. More stood in the doorways in defiance of senate rules. Outside long lines waited with a forlorn hope that perhaps some would leave before the oratorical display was over. Disappointment was their lot, however, for scarcely a soul stirred throughout the nearly four hours that Reed and Barah held the floor. The air in the poorly ventilated chamber became heavy but still the crowd, listening closely and with rapt attention, stayed on until the final word had been spoken.

BILL IS APPROVED

Survey For Pecos Reservoir Approved By Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—A bill to authorize expenditure of $25,000 for a survey looking to selection of a site for construction of a proposed $2,000,000 storage reservoir at Red Bluff on the Pecos river in Texas was approved today by the house irrigation committee. The sum of $2,000,000 was authorized in 1926 for construction of the dam, but the secretary of the interior and the reclamation commissioner informed the committee that an insufficient amount had been appropriated for the survey and and tests.

KEEP FIT THIS WINTER!

To Be Well Keep Your Kidneys Active.

DO you get up this winter mornings feeling stiff and achy—bothered with nagging backache, drowsy headaches and dizzy spells? Are the kidney excretions too frequent, scanty, or burning? Colds and chills increase the poisons in the blood and bring extra work to the kidneys. Heed the early warnings. Don't let kidney trouble get a firm hold.

For normal kidney action to cleanse your blood of poisonous wastes, use Doan's Pills. Urates everywhere endorse Doan's.

50,000 Users Endorse Doan's:

Mrs. Frank A. Keller, 223 Wyoming Ave., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "When I had occasion to use Doan's Pills, I found them wonderful. My kidneys were not acting right. I felt rather tired and achy and out of sorts. I began taking Doan's Pills and they gave me wonderful relief. I have a real deal of confidence in Doan's."

Talkies Service Starts at Palace

After a preparation of several weeks interspersed by two disappointments in openings, "talkies" motion picture service was inaugurated in the Palace theater Sunday and is to continue as a regular entertainment feature in the theatre.

Delay in the opening was caused by the failure of the company installing the machinery to ship two essential units of the equipment. These arrived late Saturday and the service was given to capacity crowds Sunday. A sound picture is being played the first of the week but 100 per cent talking films have been booked, it was said yesterday.

started others making thousands of compounds, many of which occur as the result of life processes.

"Now it is possible," the scientist declares, "for the chemist to start with carbon or coal and water and to build up a sugar, many different ones, in fact. Some would be identical with sugars made by plants. They would taste sweet and could be used for food. He might modify the procedure to obtain a fat. If he added some nitrogen to his raw materials he could get a simple, protein-like compound. These substances could be used as food, although their price at the present time would be prohibitive, as compared to the natural products."

(Special To The Avalanche)

CANYON, Feb. 18.—Handicapped by a delay in reaching Canyon just twenty minutes before the game started tonight, the Lubbock high school cage squad was noosed out 23 to 22 by the Canyon Eagles here tonight. The Lubbock team had a cold drive and was forced to play the contest without eating.

The game was a well-played contest from start to finish with neither side being over 6 points in the lead at any time. Canyon led 11 to 5 at the half. A free pitch in the closing moments of the game decided the victory for Canyon.

Dowell and Holmes led the scoring playing for the South Plains boys with Canyon's rangy center was credited with the bulk of his team's offense. Cletus Crump, of West Texas Teachers, refereed the contest.
