Three Lamesa Jailbreakers Are Captured Sunday Afternoon Near O'Donnell

GOVERNOR BEAUFORD H. JESTER

(Special To The Journal)

LAMESA, July 11.—Three prisoners who cracked the Dawson county jail twice in three days were caught napping Sunday.

Bedraggled, unarmed and offering no resistance, the trio were far from "potentially dangerous" as the sheriff described them when they first broke jail.

Sheriff Roy King and Deputy Sam Floyd found the three asleep under a railway trestle at 1:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon less than a mile south of O'Donnell. The officers had tracked them 17 miles along the railroad right-of way.

The men, L. E. Ables, 27, Roy Gene Brown, 23, and Earl Sidney Abbott, 21, are under indictment on charges of robbing a Lamesa filling station May 21. All are from Ada, Okla.

This time they were taken to Lubbock—for safekeeping.

The "break" in the case came at 9 o'clock Sunday morning when S. D. Hunt reported to Lamesa officers that his kitchen had been raided between 9 and 10:30 o'clock Saturday night while he and his family were at a movie. Hunt lives one-half mile north of Lamesa on the old Lubbock highway.

He said ham, bread and milk had been stolen from his kitchen after the screen of a kitchen window had been forced to gain entrance.

Sheriff King and Deputy Sheriff Sam Floyd went to the Hunt residence and began following tracks from the place along the old Lubbock road, which is unpaved, and along a parallel railroad track.

Recent showers made the job of tracking the footprints easier, and they were picked up at regular intervals along the way. King and Floyd took turns, one on foot while the other drove along slowly in the car.

Near O'Donnell cemetery, just south of the city limits, King, on foot, came upon the men in the culvert. At the time, Floyd was in the car, circling the cemetery on a side road.

The trio were awakened and returned to Lamesa. They were taken to Lubbock at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon by Floyd and Highway Patrolmen E. B. McKnight and J. C. Welch.

Presumably the men will be kept in Lubbock county jail until tried. The trial date on armed robbery charge has not been set. Charges on the jail braks probably will not be filed until conviction is obtained on armed robbery count.

It was presumed that the three men hid out near some stock pens north of Lamesa after their escape at 2:30 a. m. Saturday.

Meanwhile, Sam Burkett, 20, of Levelland, who had been charged with "aiding a felon to escape," had posted $2,500 bond.

In a signed statement Saturday to County Attorney Vernon Adcock, Burkett said he had been "talked into" opening a combination lock on the men's cell.

Burkett had been jailed by the Texas Highway patrol for investigation on another matter.

The men broke out of the Lamesa jail early Thursday morning by using a table leg to pry a steel plate from the cell door, using the same lever on the bars of a window and then tying sheets and blankets together to drop to the ground. They were captured Thursday afternoon in an abandoned frame house near Lamesa.

Saturday morning they duplicated the feat, prying open the same window and

Shivers Is To Take Over As State's Chief

Body Will Be Flown To Austin; Final Rites Set At Corsicana On Wednesday

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, July 11.—Governor Beauford Jester of Texas died in his sleep aboard an Austin-Houston train last night.

The 56-year-old governor's body was found in his berth by a porter at 7:30 a. m. today. He was the first governor of Texas to die while actively in office.

Justice of the Peace Thomas Maes said the governor had been dead four or five hours. An official inquest verdict said death resulted from natural causes, but Maes told reporters death apparently was from coronary occlusion, a blood clot.

Lieut. Gov. Allan Shivers was at a farm five miles from Woodville when he received word of the governor's death. Shivers planned to leave immediately for Austin, arriving there in mid-afternoon.

He said his plans for taking the oath of office to succeed Jester were indefinite but that the ceremony probably would not be held for two or three days.

Meanwhile, the governor's body was to be flown to Austin at 4 p. m. today in his favorite Texas Air National Guard transport plane, the Bluebonnet.

Brig. Gen. Harry Crutcher, Dallas, commanding officer of the 63rd Air Guard fighter wing, was to pilot the plane.

An escort of 25 fighter planes was to accompany the transport plane.

The body will lie in state in the state Senate chamber in Austin from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. tomorrow. Funeral services and burial will be held Wednesday at Corsicana, the governor's home.

Left Call For 7:30

Jester boarded the train at 11:15 p. m. last night in Austin and retired almost immediately. He left word to be called at 7:30 a. m.

His Austin office said he planned to go to Galveston for a physical checkup and rest following strenuous duties incident to last week's closing of the fifty-first legislature.

The governor's wife, in Austin, received word of her husband's death through a telephone call from Corsicana. A short time later she conferred with Robert W. Henderson, close Houston friend of the governor, and authored him to have the body taken to the Houston funeral home.

She asked that the body be embalmed but that no one be permitted to view the remains pending further instructions.

Discovered By Porter

The body was discovered when Southern Pacific pullman porter Charlie Jimerson went to aweken the governor.

Southern Pacific officials later called Maes and Dr. H. L. Evans, a surgeon on the staff of the Southern Pacific hospital here.

Following examination of the body, Evans declined to talk with reporters except to say any information on the cause of death would have to come from Maes'

Violent Death Toll In Texas Mounts To 17

Highway Accidents And Drownings Top Weekend Fatalities

(By The United Press)

Automobile crashes, drownings, gunfire, the weather and an explosion accounted for at least 17 deaths in Texas during the weekend.

The body of a Wichita Falls steel worker, James Bryan Williams, 37, was recovered from Lake Wichita last night, two-and-a-half hours after he toppled from a motor boat one-half mile from shore. One of four companions in the craft said Williams either fainted or suffered a heart attack, causing him to fall into the water.

Wildford Ernest (Shorty) Anz, well known rodeo clown, died yesterday before reaching a hospital following a collision with a truck near Hillsboro. The 35-year-old entertainer was returning to his home at Waco. His wife and three children were injured. Also hospitalized were the truck driver and a companion.

Baby Is Killed

An 11-months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Greer of Kilgore died shortly after reaching a Kilgore hospital last night. Mrs. Greer was seriously injured in the automobile accident near Kilgore. Greer escaped injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard B. White drowned yesterday in the Brazos river north of Waco. White, a Waco fireman, lost his life trying vainly to save his wife.

Freak lightning during a brief Houston thunderstorm was blamed for the death Saturday of 10-year-old Jay Lynn Engelmann whose skull was pierced as he walked toward his Golden Acres, Tex., home. A playmate was stunned by the bolt.

L. D. Shetter, 24, drowned in a stock tank on a farm near Burleson Saturday while his brother watched, unable to rescue him. Neither of the men could swim. Shetter fell off a raft in the tank.

Past Control Demands Cut

President Accepts Deficit Spending As Policy To Ward Off Depression Trend

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Truman today cancelled his call for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase. He bowed to a temporary deficit spending policy to head off any depression.

"No major increase in taxes should be undertaken at this time"—were the President's words. Also "We cannot expect to achieve a budget surplus in a declining national economy."

In a stunning reversal of his stand, Mr. Truman sent to Congress a midyear economic report wiped clean of his past demands for price, wage or other business controls.

Instead—stating that unemployment is acute in some areas—he proposed 11 new laws to build up jobs and production, boost consumer income and buying power, and loosen federal lending.

All the ideas were familiar. Most were not drastic. They included public works planning, but not more public works; the Brannan farm plan; expansion of social security and jobless pay; extended GI benefits.

Crisis action isn't needed, Mr. Truman said, because the economy still is strong and healthy. It can hit a soaring annual output of "well above $300,000,000,000" in a few years, he predicted. That is one-fifth higher than today's national production.

But there is nothing healthy about more unemployment or less production," Congress was told. "Such trends can and must be reversed by positive action, private and public. . . .

"Our own people insist upon the maintenance of prosperity, and will not tolerate a depression."

The President's council of economic advisers, in an accompanying report, was somewhat more optimistic in general tone than Mr. Truman. It found the business outlook reassuring. But agreed that federal action is called for.

"We may have the unique and fortunate experience of liquidating a major inflation without falling into a severe recession," the three-member council reported.

In a sentence certain to win the acclaim of business, Mr. Truman took his stand against any major increase in taxes.

Only estate and gift taxes should be raised, he said. He added that the transportation tax on goods should be wiped out and the "carry-over" of losses in corporation taxes should be liberalized.

The Expected Results

The expected results: (a) Better profit prospects for industry. (b) A small net loss in federal revenue, in place of the thumping boost in corporation rates and income taxes which the President asked in his January economic message and for which he spoke again only a month ago.

The President flailed at legislators who insist on government economy to the point of cutting "essential national programs" like defense and foreign aid. "Nothing could represent greater economic folly," he said.

"If we tried to avoid a budget deficit by cutting essential expenditures, we would contribute to lower national output and lower employment, federal receipts would fall further, and the burden upon federal expenditures would increase.

"We cannot expect to achieve

$30,000 Club Building Asked

Lubbock county commissioners were asked to take action toward construction of a $30,000 club building for the women of precinct No. 1 at a regular meeting in the courthouse this morning.

A committee of Mrs. H. F. Godeke, Mrs. O. R. Copeland and Mrs. Vic Cade appeared before the court with tentative plans for the building, which would be erected on a site three-fourths of a mile south of Five Points community on the Slide road. They were accompanied by F. A. Kleinschmidt, architecture professor at Texas Technological college.

The commissioners took no action other than to consider the request.

Business Rush Noted In City

Hundreds of shoppers swarmed downtown Lubbock stores today as merchants enjoyed a rush business at this month's "Dollar Day."

"It's the biggest crowd I've seen this year—Saturdays included," said N. H. Lassiter, a downtown traffic officer. "Even before the stores opened this morning, the streets were crowded with people. And it was practically impossible to get a parking place after 8:30."

Crowds Are Large

Store managers echoed Lassiter's estimate.

"We've had our biggest 'first Monday' since our January clearance sale," said one. "The crowd in the store has been large all day, and the people seem to be spending well."

Another manager said his store had accommodated its heaviest traffic since January, and added "Today might even compare favorably with that. There was a nice crowd right from the opening moment."

"We had our best "Dollar Day" in April," said a third manager,

Lawyer Cited For Contempt

An unscheduled exchange that apparently was vague to most courtroom spectators resulted at midmorning in 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue's ordering a Fort Worth attorney, Chester B. Collins, to county jail under a three-day contempt commitment.

Collins, who was allowed the courtesy of remaining in an office on the ground floor of the jail—away from the lockup portion—merely dismissed the incident as an outgrowth of "a procedural stand."

He told reporters early this afternoon he was "not ready" to discuss plans, if any, to seek his release from jail under habeas, corpus remedy.

The commitment was issued at a preliminary stage to trial of a divorce action of J. A. Chatman, a Lubbock negro physician, against his wife Hortense Chatman of Fort Worth.

A member of the firm of Croslin, Pharr and Salyars, associated with Collins as counsel for the woman, said he was "uncertain what happened; I just didn't hear what was said."

Another member of council, on the other side, said he wouldn't know "until the court reporter transcribes the exchange."

Government May Charge Interest On Funds Advanced For Big River Project

House Group Approves Canadian Dam

BY SARAH McCLENDON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 11—The House Public Lands committee today approved unanimously the construction of the proposed $85,000,000 water conservation project on the Canadian river near Sanford, northeast of Amarillo.

The committee's action, however, incorporated conditions not included in the approved voted last Friday by one of its subcommittees.

The committee agreed that interest should be charged by the government on money advanced to build the project, but would allow the Secretary of the Interior to determine the rate.

Reps. Gene Worley and George Mahon, of the Amarillo and Lubbock congressional districts, protested this feature of the approval.

Supporters of the project have hoped to obtain the money without interest, with the cities obtaining water supplies from the project reimbursing the government for the principal over a period of 50 years.

The speedy action by the whole committee, like that of the subcommittee last Friday, took the most optimistic supporters of the project by surprise. They had expected the committee to study the proposal for several days, at least, before acting upon it.

DELEGATION RETURN FOLLOWING HEARING

Most of the members of the South Plains-Panhandle delegations who attended the subcommittee hearing on the Canadian river project in Washington Friday returned to their homes over the weekend.

They included Lubbock City Commissioners Clarence Whiteside and E. K. Hufstedler, City Manager Steve Matthews and Irving J. Jones, representing the chamber of commerce and city water resources board.

Returning with them via airliner were Mayor Sam Richardson of Lamesa, Mayor R. O. Stark of O'Donnell and City Commissioner J. B. Huckabay of Slaton. Mayors Winfield Holbrook of Plainview and Art Chesher of Littlefield.

If Maturity Is Self-Sufficient State Of Being, Then Why Wait To Marry, He Asks

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Will you please answer the following in your column? As I understand, one should be mature and self-sufficient before contemplating marriage.

But if one were completely mature and self-sufficient, he wouldn't need a mate, it seems to me. He would be a perfect philosopher—a Socrates or Plato.

If a man really loves a woman, he feels that life would not be complete without her; he needs her. And if he waited until he could do without her—that is, until he had become mature, or self-sufficient, wouldn't love have flown? What do you say?

Signed F. R.

MAN DOESN'T KNOW WHEREOF HE SPEAKS

DEAR F. R.: It seems to me that you are playing with cliches the substance of which, as originally meant, you don't understand—due as much to your unripe experience at living, as to your failure to consult the dictionary, or other sage source of exposition, before attempting to make philosophic use of these borrowed terms.

The term "maturity," as applied to human character or personality, has reference to optimum health of social attitude in adults—an attitude of responsible, helpful, truth-seeking devotion to the general good. And "self-sufficiency" has an opposite meaning, to-wit: it has to do with the hypothetical aim of achieving personal satisfaction without external aid or cooperation.

According to the psychologists Strecker and Appel, who have collaborated in a definition of maturity, it is a quality of personality composed of a number of elements. In sum, it is "morale in the individual."

SELF-SUFFICIENCY BEGS OFF MATURITY

THEY NOTE that maturity includes reliability, persistence in the face of trials, the capacity to give more than is asked or required in a specific situation; the ability to size things up and make one's own decisions; also the capacity to cooperate, to work with others in a group or under authority; and above all the qualities of adaptibility and reasonable compromise.

The mature person behaves in accord with the truism that "we are all members one of another," and undertakes to secure the good life for himself by contributing his utmost to the general good; whereas the would-be "self-sufficient" man is anti-social in attitude, in the sense that he seeks refuge in a vacuum, to avoid the discomforts of give-and-take with humankind.

The man who aims at "self-sufficiency" is dedicated to a lost cause. That way madness lies; for nobody can live rationally, for long, to himself alone. Even the religious who renounce the world, to seek fuller attunement to the will of God while on earth, gather together in "community" with kindred souls — as did Jesus in drawing his apostles around him.

HE CONFUSES LOVE WITH DEPENDENCY

BUT perhaps in using the term "self-sufficiency" you really had "self-reliance" in mind—which refers to innate confidence in one's own strength or powers, and is an attribute of maturity. In any case, it seems apparent that you hold "love" to be a state of parasitical dependency upon another's interest—and that I say is a wrong notion.

The hallmark of maturity is "abundance" of attitude; thus the mature man loves that he may bestow. One man has said, "Love is the desire to give fulness of life." And another defines love as "that state in which the satisfaction and security of another person is as important to oneself as one's own happiness." As for Socrates and Plato—it's my curbstone opinion that they were peculiarly morbid in respect to love. M. H.

Reds Delaying Berlin Trucks

BERLIN, July 11. (AP)—The Russians have choked off truck cargoes for west Berlin to four an hour—96 a day—on the Helmstedt autobahn. All other highways to the city have been completely closed.

A report to the American military government that all trucks must be completely unloaded for inspection indicated that this figure might be further reduced. An average of 300 trucks a day had been traveling the Helmstedt road lately.

No Explanation Given

There has been no explanation yet from the Soviet military government for the "little blockade." Russian border guards said, however, they were acting on telephoned orders from their highest Headquarters in Germany.

One truck leaving the British zone with 10 tons of glass for Berlin took an hour to pass the Russian check-point because of the unloading and loading provision. In the meantime no other trucks were allowed to pass.

"If the Russians are merely attempting to prevent the importation of black market goods, they would have some reason to require this rigorous inspection," an American officer commented.

"But since they have shut down at all points except Helmstedt, it seems obvious there are other motives."

Breach Of Agreement

Some Allied officials indicated they believed the stoppage was a Russian move to force the Allies to meet Soviet trade terms in forthcoming east-west negotiations.

The British notified the foreign office in London of the restrictions, calling them a "clear breach of the Paris agreement" reached by the Big Four foreign ministers last month.

Slight Reduction In Wheat Crop Is Seen

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—The Agriculture department today forecast this year's corn crop at 3,530,185,000 bushels and the wheat crop at 1,188,690,000 bushels on the basis of July 1 conditions.

This is the first estimate of the year for corn. It compares with last year's record of 3,650,548,000 bushels and with a ten-year (1938-47) average of 2,787,628,000 bushels.

The wheat estimate is 148,286,000 bushels less than 1,336,976,000 forecast a month ago. It compares with last year's big crop of 1,228,406,000 bushels and with the ten-year average of 991,950,000 bushels.

The winter wheat crop was put at 932,095,000 bushels. This is 104,646,000 bushels less than 1,036,741,000 forecast a month ago, 990,098,000 last year and 726,553,000 for the ten-year average.

All spring wheat was estimated at 256,595,000 bushels. This is 43,640,000 less than 300,235,000 forecast a month ago, 298,308,000 last year and 265,397,000 for the ten-year average.

Durum wheat was put at 48,766,000 bushels in the first forecast of the year for this type. Production last year was 44,742,000 and for the ten-year average it was 36,256,000.

General And Commodore Meet Death In Explosion Of Boat

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The general who headed the Army's public relations and a retired Navy officer were killed when a cabin cruiser exploded on th Potomac river yesteroay.

The dead Maj. Gen. Vernon E. Prichard, 57, and Commodore Wilfred L. Painter, 41, USNR.

Navy Captain Sergius N. F. Loboshez and Johannes Johannesen, 40, steward at the fashionable Corinthian Yacht club, were carried on hospital critical lists today

Eyewitnesses credited Col. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, one of those aboard, with great personal courage.

Biddle, soldier, athlete and diplomat, told reporters the 50-foot cruiser Halcyon was just pulling away from the yacht club dock en route down the Potomac when the explosion occurred.

"I was standing on the bow of the boat with my wife and Mrs. Prichard," Biddle said. "We weren't more than two of three yards from the dock when we heard this huge explosion and the three of us were shot into the river. There was a lot of debris and flame.

"I swam to my wife and brought her to the dock posts and then grabbed Mrs. Prichard. Both of them were dazed, and I guess I was, too. Then I joined someone else in the water who said that General Prichard had gone down. We dived under and I grabbed him just a few feet beneath the surface and pulled him to shore."

Harbor police theorized that gas fumes collected around the boat's engine during refueling, and exploded when the engine was started.

All of the ten persons aboard were hurtled into the water. Most of them escaped with minor injuries.

Three Hurt In Auto Collision

Three persons were injured, one seriously, at 10:10 a. m. Sunday when two cars collided on U. S. Highway 84 and Ave. A, just outside the city limits.

Most seriously injured was Mrs. W. D. Meyer of Slaton route 1, who suffered internal injuries, West Texas hospital attendants reported.

Also injured was her grandson, David Melton, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Melton of Dallas. Attendants said he was released from the hospital today after receiving treatment for a broken nose.

W. W. Turner of 3408 Ave. J. was taken to the same hospital but his condition was not announced today.

State highway patrol officers said a charge of driving a car with defective brakes was filed against W. D. Meyer, husband of the injured woman.

His 1941 Ford crashed into the side of a 1949 Kaiser driven by Turner's brother, William T. Turner of Pyote, throwing W. W. Turner out of the car. The Turner car was headed east and the Meyer car north when the accident occurred.

Britain Will Review Financial Plight, World Trade Problems

LONDON, July 11. (AP)—Britain hopes to find a solution to her dollar problem by September.

That is the upshot of a three-day, closed-door conference here between United States Treasury Secretary John Snyder, British economic chief Sir Stafford Cripps and Canadian Finance Minister Douglas Abbott.

Before Snyder left for Brussels on the next stage of his European tour, the three issued a joint communique. It promised fact-finding discussions right away and more ministerial talks in Washington in September.

Moratorium Ordered

"The aim," it said, "must be the achievement of a pattern of world trade in which dollar and non-dollar countries can operate together within one single multilateral system."

The men met at the end of a week which saw Cripps tell Britain her dollar and gold reserves had sunk almost $400,000,000 below the $2,000,000,000 danger line, and order a three-month moratorium on all but urgent dollar purchases.

The communique emphasized that "remedies (for Britain's) plight) other than financial assistance such as that provided by the United States and Canada must be explored."

"No suggestion was made that sterling be devalued," the statement said. Cutting the value of the pound in order to make British goods cheaper in terms of dollars has been widely recommended in the U. S. to help Britain out of her plight.

Conference Scheduled

It urged all countries concerned to review their policies to obtain a wider, manysided trade.

Britain, running out of dollars, has been making exclusive barter deals with countries like Argentina where she needn't pay in the scarce currency.

The policies to be reviewed, unidentified in the communique, presumably would include such bilateral deals, dollar purchase cuts, and possibly United States tariffs which many Englishmen claim keep this country from earning dollars.

The whole British commonwealth will sift its financial policies in a conference starting here Wednesday.

Policies To Be Debated

Finance minister of the seven dominions — Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Pakistan and Ceylon—will meet with Cripps.

Britain's own policies will come under the scrutiny of parliament in a debate starting Thursday in the House of Commons.

Yesterday's official statement, recognized the vital part played by the European recovery program in bolstering the economies of Britain and other European countries.

It reaffirmed the allegiance of the signing powers to the aims of the international monetary fund. These boil down to free, healthy world trade.

Legion Head Scores VA Ban On Meetings

FORT WORTH, July 11. (AP)—Banning of American Legion meetings at the Veterans Administration hospital at Legion, near Kerrville, was scored by Bill McCraw, American Legion state commander.

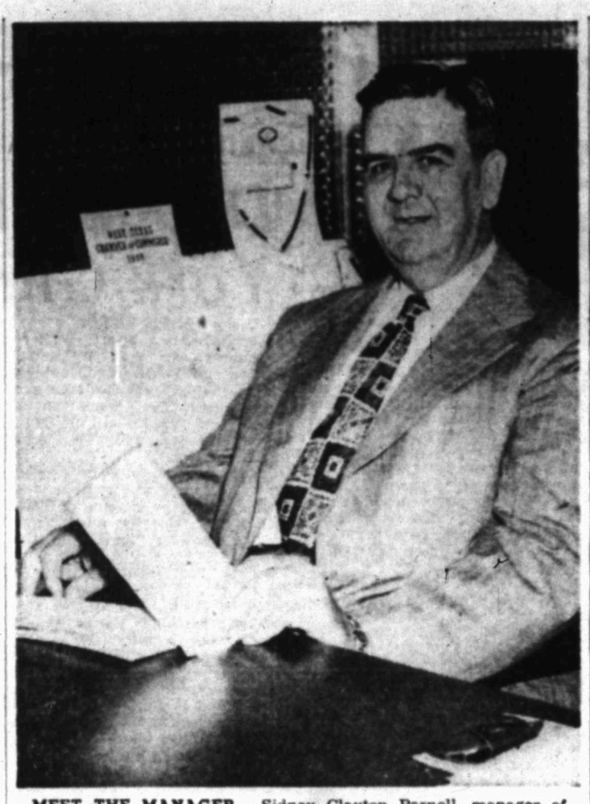

McCraw told a fourth division meeting of the Legion that action of the doctor in charge of the hospital would be taken up with the administrator of veterans affairs in Washington.

"This post which had operated at the hospital for 20 years was told it had to move to Kerrville and that no further meetings would be allowed in the hospital," McCraw said.

"The hospital," he declared, "was built by the American Legion and the state of Texas and then sold to the Veterans administration."

Milton Snoddy of Graham was named commander of the fourth division. Mrs. B. J. Hardeman of Waco was elected president of the women's auxiliary.

Life insurance owned in the United States at the end of 1947 totalled $188,000,000,000.

Search For Mystery Vessel Discontinued

NORFOLK, Va., July 11. (AP)—The Coast Guard has discontinued its search for a mystery vessel reported burning and abandoned by its crew in the Atlantic southeast of Cape Hatteras.

Two planes and two cutters were ordered from the 20,000 square mile search area at nightfall yesterday. There was no comment from Coast Guard officials on the possibility that the SOS that touched off he hunt may have been a hoax.

The cutter Mendota picked up the distress signal Saturday morning as she stood a weather watch off Bermuda.

The SOS—which failed to include the vessel's name, master's identity, and description—said the ship was fighting an engine room fire.

Minutes later a second call corrected the ship's position and said the crew was abandoning the vessel before uncontrollable flames.

No further messages came.

In all two Coast Guard planes, an Air Force bomber, and the cutters Mendota and Matagorda combed the distress area.

Not so much as a piece of driftwood was spotted by the searchers in a vigil that lasted some 36 hours.

Hubbers Pound Out Victory Over Clovis Pioneers, 13-6

Amarillo Drops Double Bill To Abilene; Lubbock Meets Dukes

(By The Associated Press)

Lubbock yesterday moved within .002 percentage points of the first place Albuquerque Dukes in the West Texas-New Mexico League, downing Clovis 13-6, in one of three scheduled games played.

In the other two, Abilene walloped Amarillo in both halves of a double header, 13-2 and 9-3.

It was a wet afternoon at Albuquerque and Borger. The Duke's tilt with Pampa was postponed because of rain and Borger's first contest with Lamesa was called in the third inning because of rain, Borger leading 3-1.

★ ★ ★

Clovis pulled into the lead over Lubbock in the sixth, after trailing 5-0 until the fifth, but 11 errors by the Pioneers threw them for the final loop.

Errors Hurt Clovis

Don Hensick gave up three Clovis runs in the fifth and another three in the sixth. Then, Clovis turned around and made four more errors in the eighth which—combined with six hits—accounted for eight more Hubber tallies.

Clovis' three in the fifth came on four hits and Lubbock's only misstep of the day. Their other three came on a walk and three more hits. But that's as far as they got.

Thirteen men walked to the plate for Lubbock in the eighth, and eight of them went home.

At Amarillo, Will Roca, Abilene's Cuban pitcher, drubbed the Gold Sox in both sides of a twin bill. Roca held Amarillo to only 10 hits—five hits a game.

Player Is Injured

But Amarillo's greatest loss came when Right Fielder Dick Gentzkow was injured in the first game. Gentzkow hit a post in trying to retrieve Hayden Greer's clout to his territory and had to be taken to an Amarillo hospital via ambulance.

The first game marked Jimmy Reynold's eighth loss in 17 starts, and in the second, Wilbur Sooter was handed his second defeat of the year against no wins for the Sox.

Home runs by Blue Soxers Joe Wessing, Hayden Greer, Earl Perry and George Sturdivant in the first game drowned the Gold Sox hopes for victory and Manny Concepcion and Sturdivant hammered Sooter's pitches across the way in the second.

Stan Surma put one out in the fourth, with Al Carr on base, for the Gold Sox only two runs.

Tonight, Lubbock goes to Albuquerque to fight for first place, Pampa goes to Clovis, Lamesa to Amarillo and Abilene at Borger.

The Philadelphia Phillies have gone the longest without a major league pennant of any of the big league teams; they last won in 1915.

East Texas Loop To Hold All-Star Tilt

(By The Associated Press)

Teams from the north and south points of the East Texas baseball league meet in their annual all-star game in Marshall tonight.

The northern squad will be made up of the stars of Marshall, Gladewater, Longview and Paris. The southern squad will be composed of players from Tyler, Kilgore, Henderson and Bryan.

The north will be heavily favored. Marshall, Longview and Gladewater are one-two-three in the standings. And Paris is only one game behind fourth-place Kilgore, the top team of the south squad.

The managers of the two 16-man squads will be chosen before the game by a vote of the managers. Prior to the game, the East Texas Sports Writers association will hold a meeting.

Yesterday, the Bryan Bombers defeated Longview, 6-4, knocking the Texans out of first place in the standings. Marshall took over the top spot, downing Tyler, 4-3. Paris defeated Kilgore, 9-2. And Henderson walloped Gladewater, 15-0.

Marshall snapped a six-game Tyler winning streak.

Bryan came from behind with three runs in the fourth frame on two doubles and a single and were never headed.

Paris rushed across seven runs in the seventh inning to defeat Kilgore.

Dub Scott of Henderson limited Gladewater to only two hits in shutting out the Drillers.

Brothers Harry Walker, of Chicago and Dixie Walker of Pittsburgh both entered the 1949 season with lifetime batting marks over .300.

Fine Slated To Start Against Cats

Texas League All-Stars To Battle Fort Worth Tuesday

FORT WORTH, July 11. (AP)—Standout individual players in the Texas league band together tomorrow night to try and whip the Class AA circuit's top team—Fort Worth.

A capacity crowd of 8,147 is expected to jam La Grave field for the ninth all-star game.

The blaze which May 15 destroyed most of the Fort Worth club's grandstand will prevent the game's attendance record from being threatened. A record 12,636 persons last year watched the all-stars rally in the final frame to whip Fort Worth, 4-2.

To Start Fine

Al Vincent, manager of the Tulsa Oilers, is managing the all-stars for the second straight year and has announced he'll start San Antonio's Tommy Fine on the mound.

Fort Worth Manager Bobby Bragan has a number of chunkers to use—in fact he has said he plans to use nine pitchers against the all-stars But he'll use Eddie Chandler first.

Salty Parker, Shreveport manager, has been invited by Vincent to act as his coach. The Tulsa pilot edged Parker in voting for the team's manager.

Fort Worth won the right to act as host to the all-star game again this year by topping the standings after games of July 4. The Cats are still there.

Burns In Cleanup

Vincent announced his own hard-hitting right fielder, Russell Burns, will act as cleanup batter for the all-stars.

Burns is hitting well above .300 and is a big extra base hit threat.

While most of the pitchers on the all-star squad are expected to see action, Henry Wyse of Shreveport will be saved for the finishing stint.

Vincent's batting order announced yesterday:

FAN IS HURT

DALLAS, July 11. (AP) — Lloyd R. Webb, 13, was struck in the right eye by flying glass last night while attending a Texas league baseball game here.

Sundown Tops Refiner Team

The pitchers enjoyed a relatively good day Sunday as Denver City, Sundown, Post and Seagraves chalked up victories in Oil Belt league play.

All four games saw the winning hurlers turn in commendable performances in a schedule which saw Denver City and Seagraves retain their spots at the head of the pack.

The "showdown" between the two front-running teams comes next Sunday, when they clash in a crucial doubleheader at Seagraves. Meantime, both have single games with other teams during the week.

Yesterday's schedule found all eight teams of the circuit in action.

Sundown Tops Refiners

At Levelland, Baldy Joiner's Sundown crew unleashed a 20-hit barrage to swamp the Refiners, 14-4.

The victory was Sundown's 11th against eight defeats. Levelland now has won 11 while losing nine.

Tonnie Smithers, lanky Sundown righthander, used a blazing overhand fast ball to hold the Refiners well in check. Smithers tired late in the game, and gave way to R. F. Medford in the last of the ninth. During his eight innings on the mound, Smithers allowed only six hits while striking out seven.

Smithers' mates gave him an early lead with two runs in the first and four more in the second. They added single tallies in the fourth and fifth before Levelland scored its first marker in the bottom of the fifth.

Ethridge Paces Attack

Seven Sundown hitters collected two or more safeties each in the assault on four Levelland hurlers. John Ethridge, former Sundown High athlete now attending TCU, led the parade with two doubles and a single. His brother, Doug Ethridge, and Catcher Joe Carpenter also had three hits apiece. Richard McChristal, Jim Burtner, Joiner and Smithers each hit safely twice.

For Levelland, Jack Gage rapped out two singles and Pete Trammel poled out a triple, the longest hit of the game.

Jack Carnell, Levelland starter who was shelled from the hill in Sundown's four-run second frome, was tagged with the defeat. Curt Wilson, Billy Pearcy and Gage also saw mound duty for the losers.

Joiner turned in the day's fielding gem when he went deep into left field from his shortstop position to make a one-hand stab of a looping fly off the bat of O. C. Blair.

The game drew some 400 fans.

Faulkner Gets Win

Lefty Faulkner stole the spotlight as he pitched and batted Seagraves to a 5-0 triumph at Tahoka. In addition to tossing a neat five-hitter, Faulkner clubbed out three triples to drive in four runs.

Bill Holcomb pitched steady nine-hit ball for the losers, but his mates couldn't produce a run against Faulkner's southpaw slants.

Willingham and Cope had two hits each for the victors, while Jim Barnett hit twice for Tahoka.

Puttsy Gentry, Seagraves manager, was elected from the game by Base Umpire Max Walthall for Gentry's "riding" of the umpires while acting as a baseline coach.

Approximately 250 persons saw the game.

Denver City exploded for four runs in the first inning against Slaton and then coasted in behind Hook Epperson's nine-hit hurling.

Bobby Joe Lewis hammered out three hits, including a homer, to pace the Denver City attack. Doc Keel, Cy Jones, Dorrance Guy and R. D. Prather had two safeties each.

Gray, Davidson and McCoy each hit safely twice for Slaton.

A crowd of 150 attended, as the new covered grandstand at Denver City was used for the first time.

Post Scored Victory

Curly Barnett gave up a run in the first inning, then blanked last-place Brownfield the rest of the way as Post scored a 9-1 triumph at Post before 200 fans.

The lone Brownfield counter came when Dewite Moore tripled, then came home on a passed ball.

Bob Beall blanked Post for three innings, but the Millers broke loose for three runs in the fourth and four more in the fourth to sew up the verdict.

Barnett struck out six while walking one, and received errorless backing from his mates. Beall fanned nine and issued five bases on balls.

Doug Simpson paced Post's hitting with a pair of triples and a single, while R. C. Martin had two singles for the losers.

CARDINALS BEAT REDS TWICE

Dodgers Drop New York Giants, 7-3

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pennants are won by great pitching staffs—but the Brooklyn Dodgers haven't one. So they are basing their flag hopes on a crackerjack infield—Gil Hodges, Jackie Robinson, Pee Wee Reese and Billy Cox.

Robinson especially is singled out as the man who is doing the most to keep the citizens of Flatbush happy. But the other three are contributing heavily to the cause.

Jackie, first negro to play in the majors, is the Dodgers' chief offensive threat. The all-star second baseman leads the majors in hitting with a lofty .362 mark. He's toos in hits with 111 and in stolen bases with 20. He's tied with Hodges for National league runs batted in honors at 65. And second to Rees in runs scored with 68 to Pee Wee's 69.

Hits In Clutch

Robinson came through in the clutch twice in the rain and mud at Ebbets field yesterday to help beat the New York Giants, 7-3, and keep the Dodgers in first place.

He singld with the bases loaded in the third to give the Dodgers a 2-1 lead and after the Giants had tied it, he singled home Duke Snider for what proved to be the winning run in the seventh.

A defeat would have dropped the Dodgers into second place as the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals scored a double triumph over the Peds in Cincinnati to cut the Brooklyn advantage to a half game.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen pitched the Red Birds to a 4-2 triumph in the ooener and Lefty Al Brazle, with help in the ninth from Gerry Staley, downed the Reds, 7-4, in the final.

The last place Chicago Cubs smashed Pittsburgh's eight-game winning streak, blasting the Pirates, 8-6 and 9-6, at Forbes field.

Phil Cavarretta was the batting star in the opener, driving home five runs on a pair of triples, a double and single in the first game and a two run homer in the second. Ralph Kiner socked two four-baggers for the Pirates to increase his total to 23, best in the majors.

Yankees Rained Out

Rain postponed a game between the Boston Braves and Phils at Philadelphia and a doubleheader between the Yankees and Washington at New York.

Bobby Feller received credit for a 7-4 Cleveland triumph over the St. Louis Browns in a game that was called at the end of six innings because of rain. The second game was postponed.

Jackie Graham drove home all of the St. Louis runs with a pair of homers. His 14th and 15th of the season. The victory moved the Indians to within five and one half games of the Yanks.

The Boston Red Sox took a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-5 and 11-10, to stretch their winning streak to seven games.

Dom DiMaggio decided the first game with a three-run home run in the fourth inning. Sam Chapman clouted two homers and Hank Majeski one off Ellis Kinder for Philadelphia.

The second game was called because of darkness after the Philadelphia half of the eighth. Manager Connie Mack notified plate Umpire Cal Hubbard he would protest the ruling.

Detroit and Chicago split a pair, the White Sox taking the opener, 4-2, and the Tigers the nightcap, 1-0, although held to two hits by Randy Gumpert.

Lefty Bill Wight held the Tigers to five blows in beating Hal Newhouser. Gumpert walked Pat Mullin in the first inning and then yielded a run-scoring double to Dick Wertz. Art Houtteman held the Sox to four singles.

Broncs Split With Roswell

(By The Associated Press)

First-place Big Spring Broncs have gained half a game on the two deadlocked second-place clubs, Vernon and Midland, in the Longhorn league baseball race. The Broncs now sport a ten-and-a-half-game advantage.

Big Spring split a double-header last night with the Roswell Rockets. The Broncs whitewashed the Rockets in the opener, 6-0. The Rockets shutout the Broncs in the nightcap, 1-0.

Sweetwater Nine Wins

Sweetwater banged out 16 hits to defeat Vernon, 9-1. Sweetwater's manager, Duke Gyselman, hit a three-run homer.

Fourth-place San Angelo counted five runs in the first inning and went on to defeat Midland, 8-6.

The Ballinger Cats won both ends of a double-header with the Odessa Oilers, 12-7 and 5-1.

One hundred and ninety-two breeders produced 323 horses which were successful in one or more of the 562 stake races run during 1948.

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

Suspension of Grover Seitz, shrewd, colorful and capable manager of the Pampa Oilers, came as something of a shock. It was more of a shock because the suspension came as a result of his allegedly kicking Umpire Binz, one of several individuals parading around the league in blue this year in disguise. Grover kick an umpire? Our sympathy is with him. We have no question but that he would like to, but we also have no question but what it was entirely accidental if he did. Grover has a temper, but it's not ungovernable.

● ● ●

We haven't really gotten our dander up about the umpiring in the league this year. Maybe it's because we're resigned to the fact that it is going to stay terrible. If the umpiring were on a par with the playing, it would be far better for the circuit in general. Anyone who was in the crowd the other night at Rosenthal Field still must be laughing over a call on Al Duarte. With a runner on first, Duarte swung to help the runner's effort to steal. Strike? Heavens, no. The badblood called it a ball! But you can't blame the ump. He didn't have his Seeing Eye dog with him.

● ● ●

Saturday night at Jumbo Webster Field, Maurice Shop of San Angelo obligingly played dead for the Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers again. We say again, for the San Angeloans have now gone 28 innings without a run off Lubbock pitching. And at the same time, the Blue-Beamers won the second game without the benefit of a hit. The lone run came on an error. Nevertheless, the double victory definitely insured the Blue-Beamers of being in the Shaughnessy playoffs at the end of the season. And Ralph Bumpass says that they'll be ready for Crane at that time.

● ● ●

Reece McGee, the new addition to the Blue-Beamers mound staff, reminds you a good deal of Jackie Neel. He isn't as fast as he was reputed to be or if he is, he didn't show it Saturday night. But he did show a fine assortment of curves, drops rise balls and what have you. San Angelo batters plainly were puzzled and could do next to nothing with him. The way his stuff broke reminded the softball fan of Neel almost to the letter. He'll be a big help to the club in the playoffs. And speaking of Neel, he's still winning games for the Mercedes team. His latest was an 11-inning 1-0 shutout.

Wilson Head of Denver City has announced his 1949 football schedule and it looks rugged. He also wants to fill another date, September 2, in Denver City. If anyone has an open date that day, get in touch with Wilson at Denver City. The remainder of the schedule reads: Sept. 9, Kermit; Sept. 17, Wink at Wink; Sept. 23, Crane at Crane; Sept. 30, McCamey; Oct. 7, Andrews at Andrews; Oct. 14, Monahans at Denver City, Oct. 21, Fort Stockton at Fort Stockton; Oct. 28 open; Nov. 4, Pecos at Pecos; and Nov. 11, Seminole at Denver City (afternoon game).

Football fans probably will have little trouble calling to mind Al Blozis, giant tackle for Georgetown university and later, the New York Giants. We remember him well, for we were living in Washington, D. C., at that time and saw him in action many times. He was a big guy—and as tough on the football field as he was big. He also indulged in the shot put, an event in which he managed to shatter records with the consummate ease of an athlete putting away a big steak. Al went into the service—early—and gave his life in France. Today, as befits a fine athlete, American soldiers in Germany engage in sports in Blozis Hall, a gymnasium erected in Frankfurt in his memory. Nothing could be more appropriate.

Are you interested in college football? You are? Well, there's a fine new volume coming off the presses entitled "College Football." It has 800 pages, compiled and edited by Christy Walsh, founder of Sportswriters, Inc., of Hollywood. You'll have such intresting information to read as the fact that the late Franklin D. Roosevelt was a plunging fullback at Groton school, that Gen. Dwight Eisenhower starred in football at West Point and that Don Miller, present United States attorney for Ohio, was one of the famed Four Horsemen of Notre Dame. Over two years of study went into the volume.

THE ROUNDUP: Gene Machado, former Clovis infielder, has jumped his contract. He was sold by Salt Lake City to Boise and apparently didn't want to report . . . Marvin Christianson, who started the season pitching for Albuquerque, is on th East squad in the annual Longhorn League All-Star game . . . Bob Crues of Roswell is on the West team as centerfielder . . . John Bottarini, late of Clovis and Pampa, is catching for Temple . . . And Bob Ramsey, former Hubber pitcher-outfielder, is playing the Temple outfield. We heard he won his first mound slot and then couldn't win again . . . Joe Budny, late of Amarillo, is one of the top Texarkana hurlers . . . Gordon Donaldson, efficient press secretary for the Golden Gloves in Fort Worth, is playing fine ball again this year for Gainesville . . . Don't be surpriser if Jackie Neel joins the Blue-Beamers for the playoffs! . . . Marcus and Hugh Welch of San Angelo Standard-Times were here to cover th softball game Saturday night.

Ray Marshall Gets Victory

One top championship contender fell by the wayside Sunday as play began in the 1949 Lubbock Country club tournament.

Ross Mitchell, long-hitting youngster who was a quarter-finalish in the recent Abilene invitational, lost to Raymond Marshall, 3 and 2, in a first-round match as other favorites advanced according to schedule.

Fourteen of 16 championship flight matches were completed Sunday. The other two must be finished before the first-round deadline Tuesday night, and all second-round matches must be completed not later than Thursday.

Consolation pairings will be announced in Wednesday morning's Avalanche and Evening Journal.

Jimmy Goldman, who Saturday tied with Dick Jennings for medalist honors, won a playoff for the prize by firing a four-under-par 67 in his first-round triumph over Ray Biggers. Jennings, playing in the same foursome, posted a 70 as he ousted Lofton Burnette, 5 and 4.

Jennings' score was the best of the day.

Play also opened Sunday in four lower flights of the tourney, with practically all first-round matches reported by the end of the day.

In one of the day's strongest rallies, George Livermore, one down with two holes to go, birdied No. 17 and then won No. 18 to edge out Tom Ingram, 1 up, in a fourth-flight match.

Shallowater Beats Lubbock Nine, 5-3

SHALLOWATER, July 11 (Special)—Shallowater turned back Lubbock in a Cotton Belt League baseball game here yesterday afternoon 5 to 3 behind the combined six-hit hurling of Jimmy Clark and Hulen Fowler.

The home team took a one-run lead in the first inning, watched Lubbock tie it up with a counter in the second and then went back into the lead with a single tally in the third.

In the sixth inning, Shallowater pushed over three runs on two singles, a fielder's choice, a walk and a pair of Lubbock errors. They never gave up that advantage, although Lubbock rallied for two runs in the ninth to cut the final margin to two runs.

The line score:

Lubbock	010 000 002	3	6 4
Shallowater	101 003 00x	5	10 2

WHEAT WASTE AVERTED

HOISINGTON, Kan. (U.P.)—A railroad is giving an assist to combat the acute grain storage problem. The old Missouri Pacific shop building in this central Kansas town has been leased for a year to enable storage of 350,000 bushels of wheat from the bumper 1949 crop.

Swimming Meet Won By College Station

COLLEGE STATION, July 11 (AP)—College Station's entry overwhelmed all others in winning the team trophy in College Station's first annual swimming and diving meet.

The local team scored 359 points to 92 for second place Tyler. Nacogdoches finished third with 53 points, followed by Fort Worth, 48. North Texas State 38, Park City of Dallas, 35, Houston 22, Kilgore 12, Dallas, 11, and Rosenberg three.

Jane Kneip of Fort Worth and Charlton Haddon of Houston won three firsts each to tie for high point honors with 18.

LOBSTERS NEED HOUSING

LOS ANGELES, (U.P.)—The housing shortage has hit the southern California spiny lobster, according to University of California zoologists. The lobsters have run short of protected breeding space, causing a big loss to the fishing industry. U.C.L.A. experts think that thousands of feet of hollow tile or some sort of submerged prefabricated concrete housing may be the answer.

Today's automobiles have between 24 and 30 light bulbs.

Dallas Eagles Blast Indians

(By The United Press)

The Dallas Eagles, no strangers around the top of the Texas league standings, were back knocking at the top-flight door today, while the pace-setting Fort Worth Cats continued in the throes of a slump.

The Eagles, displaying a bit of their former batting power plus sharp fielding and two good pitching performances by Andy Sierra and Roy Sanner, whipped the tough Oklahoma City Indians 4-2 and 7-1. Leo Wells homered in each game for the Eagles and paced the club with sparkling fielding. It was Sanner's ninth win without a loss.

Eagles Win Two

With the Eagles winning two, the Cats dropped a pair to Tulsa, 6-3 and 3-0, to run their loss streak to six straight and cut their lead to only two games over the Dallas nine. The Oilers won the overtime first game on Eddie Knoblauch's three-run homer in the ninth, while Al Boresh fashioned the nightcap shutout.

In the Dallas-Oklahoma City twin bill, the Eagles completed four double plays to run their season total to 112 in 91 ball games, practically a par pace with the season-record of 208 set by Beaumont in 1926.

Sports Move Up

The third-place Shreveport Sports were only a half game out of fourth spot after dropping a 4-3 verdict to the Beaumont Exporters, who rode to victory on Keith Thomas' two home runs, the second coming in the sixth for the winning margin.

A big, five-run seventh inning enabled the cellar-dwelling Houston Buffs to trim San Antonio 9-5 as Clarence Beers went the route for the victors. Big Lou Ortiz provided the main batting punch for the Buffs with a homer in the fifth and a bases-loaded triple in the big seventh.

The clubs wind up their short series in the same parks—Oklahoma City at Dallas, Tulsa at Fort Worth, Beaumont at Shreveport and San Antonio at Houston—tonight then moved into Fort Worth for tomorrow night's all-star game.

Charles Will Seek Clear Heavy Title

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 11.—Ezzard Charles admitted today that although he has National Boxing association recognition he doesn't class himself as heavyweight champion of the world.

"How does it feel to be heavyweight champion?" the muscular Cincinnati clouter repeated as he encircled his slender waist with a massive silver belt, set with diamonds and rubies.

"I don't know. I got more satisfaction out of winning the Golden Gloves.

"I don't feel like the champion because too many people are talking about other fighters. When I beat the rest of them I'd probably feel different."

Dons Fabulous Belt

It was an honest admission as he donned the fabulous Police Gazette belt, emblematic of the heavyweight title, and posed for pictures to be sent to his fans.

It is his now. But he acted like a man trying it on for size. For Ezzard fingered the roll call of the mighty etched on its flashing plates—the names of Sullivan, Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Jeffries and the others who held it—almost as if an apology to those legendary gladiators of the past.

Two men stand between Charles and a feeling of championship completeness—Gus Lesnevich and Lee Savold. He'll tackle Lesnevich on Aug. 10 and, later, probably be matched with the winner of the London bout between Savold and Bruce Woodcock.

"If I can win those two I might feel different," he said soberly. "And I'm not making any rash claims, because anybody can beat you if they hit you right."

Charles Not Satisfied

That took him back to the Walcott fight, one in which he was criticized for not knocking out old Jersey Joe when he had the aging veteran in trouble. Charles wouldn't talk about his failure to satiate the customers' lust for action but you could see that he wasn't too satisfied even though his plan of evasive battle carried him to victory.

"I said it before and I'll say it was just another fight as far as I was concerned. Winning it did not make any difference in my feelings."

His long fingers unclasped the belt and laid it carefully in its plush case and there was a promise in his eyes that he would make himself worthy of such honors.

Texarkana Noses Out Austin Club, 5 To 4

(By The Associated Press)

The Texarkana Bears and the Austin Pioneers wind up a crucial two-game series in Austin tonight, with the Bears clinging to first place by a one-game margin over the Pioneers.

Texarkana took over undisputed possession of first place yesterday by edging Austin, 5-4. Austin now trails the Bears by one game. Fourth-place Waco walloped third-place Wichita Falls, 14-8.

Fifth-place Sherman-Denison downed last-place Temple, 5-2. And Greenville defeated Gainesville, 4-3. The heat got the best of both starting pitchers, a base runner and one umpire in the Greenville-Gainesville game.

Texarkana's Lou Fitzgerald scored the winning run against Austin in the first of the ninth on Morris Card's fly. Joe Budny of the Bears limited the Pioneers to nine hits.

Waco tallied six runs in the first frame and five in the fifth to blast Wichita Falls.

A three-run homer by Gene Hodge in the eighth inning gave Greenville the edge over Gainesville.

Gov. Jester Is Found Dead In Pullman Car Berth At Houston

inquest report.

Jimerson said he went to Jester's birth at the designated time and called several times but that the governor did not answer.

Was Lying On Back

He said the governor, dressed in pajamas, was on his back, his hands folded across his stomach.

The porter then summoned the train conductor, O. D. Pierce, Houston, who looked into the berth and then called State Highway Patrolman W B. Hawkins, who was at the station to meet the governor.

Hawkins, who said he had been waiting at the station since 7:05 a. m., went to the berth and called to the governor, at the same time shaking the mattress and trying to rouse Jester.

Captain Was Called

"Governor, governor, this is Hawkins, don't you know me?" the patrolman called.

When the governor made no response, Hawkins called Capt. Glen Rose, head of the state highway patrol office here.

Meanwhile, the conductor and other trainmen felt the governor's pulse and said they were certain Jester was dead.

The governor occupied a lower berth on the pullman car "Berkley," part of the Southern Pacific's night train from Austin.

The train had left Austin at 11:30 p. m. last night and arrived here at 5:15 a. m.

Has Not Taken Oath

Shivers informed the governor's office at Austin that he has not yet taken the oath of office and would stand by. A highway patrol detail was sent to Woodville.

William McGill, Jester's executive secretary, said the governor's body would be removed from the train and taken to a funeral home immediately.

Jester had been ill with food poisoning during the last strenuous days of the legislature, but apparently had recovered.

In the closing hours of the session, he brought the state budget into balance by vetoing $17,000,000 from one of the major appropriation bills. He had promised to call the legislature back into special session by next January if a constitutional amendment calling for annual sessions is not adopted at the polls in November.

The session he promised would be to consider a building program for the insane and other wards of the state, and to consider taxation and other finance matters unsettled by the just-ended session.

Jester's friends credited him with having kept Texas in line with the national Democratic organization during the last presidential campaign. He had carried his fight for state's rights—including state ownership of the tidelands—through the Philadelphia national convention to a point just short of breaking from the national party organization.

When it came to the showdown, Jester and the Democratic party in Texas, of which he was the titular head, stayed with President Truman and the national organization.

Jester last week declined an invitation from Speaker Sam Rayburn to be in Washington today for a conference with officials of other states on the tidelands problem. He said then he had too much work on his desk to take time out for the trip.

At the family farm in Woodville, Shivers said Jester's death was a great tragedy for every person in Texas.

Much Internal Strife

Jester's administration of the governorship for two years and six months was marked not only by the internal strife that tore the Democratic party, but by two legislative sessions that took great forward strides in advancing public services.

Jester, who had campaigned twice on a no new tax platform, had lately admitted the need for new taxes to finance these extensions. He had urged legislation for establishment of a tax commission and one to study needs of state colleges, but the 51st legislature turned him down.

At the capitol, flags were immediately lowered to half-staff and state offices were closed. Shocked state officials and employes gathered around teletype machines to read the news.

"We just can't believe it, "one state employe said.

The state Supreme court at Austin postponed its Wednesday meeting until Friday.

McGill announced that Weldon Hart, assistant executive secretary, was en route to Houston with a highway patrol escort to assume charge of the body.

Battle Over Personalities

Jester swept into the state's highest public office more than two years ago. His victory ended a battle over personalities in which Homer P. Rainey, ousted University of Texas president, was his arch opponent.

Jester proclaimed he was campaigning on the "people's path," and promised no new taxes.

Taking office Jan. 21, 1947, Jester said his objectives included a progressive and solvent state government, meeting the needs of public education, health, social welfare, law enforcement, capital and labor, safety, and the conservation of natural resources.

A 46-year-old ambition was fulfilled when Jester became governor.

Affable, distinguished-looking 53-year-old Beauford H. Jester first expressed his idea of becoming governor at the age of 7 when he asked his mother what a lieutenant governor was. His father, George T. Jester, had been elected to that office.

Told that the office was next to the governor, young Jester replied:

"Well, I want to be the real governor."

He became the "real governor" —twice in a row.

Was Rail Commissioner

The dignified but smiling lawyer and gentleman farmer from Corsicana who described himself as a "liberal but not a loose Democrat," stepped into the governor's office from his railroad commission office where he served since 1942.

He made only three contested political races, all three successful. His first was for the railroad commission post to fill an unexpired two year term. In 1944 he was re-elected without opposition, the first time in 20 years that a candidate for that important oil and gas regulatory office had run unopposed. The fact was attributed to Jester's warm and friendly nature along with a spotless record in office.

His second contested race began —this one for governor—with a prayer from his then 85-year-old mother for Divine guidance, and a notice in his hometown newspaper that he was a candidate for governor. Discounted early in the race as a strong contender, he soon overcame odds and ran a tough race ahead of 12 opponents, four of whom withdrew. He was re-elected last summer.

Of Pioneer Family

Jester, the first governor in the second century of Texas statehood, was born Jan. 12, 1893, of a pioneer family. As far back as 1846 his family began coming to Texas and in 1858 his father, the late George T. Jester, came to Corsicana.

In 1894, the year after Beauford Jester was born, George T. Jester was elected lieutenant governor of Texas and served two terms, while Charles A. Culberson was governor. Beauford Jester's father was previously a member of the Texas Senate during Governor Hogg's administration and was an ardent supporter of Governor Hogg. He helped Governor Hogg carry out his campaign platform for the creation of a railroad commission.

His father was also a prominent layman in the Methodist church, and his mother, Mrs. Frances Gordon Jester, 88 years old on San Jacinto day, has long been a Sunday school teacher in Corsicana.

In Corsicana, Jester went to public school.

Leader At University

After finishing high school, Jester entered the University of Texas. He was a leader in student activities, helped organize the glee club and became a member of Tau chapter of Kappa Sigma. His work on the Daily Texan when it became the first college daily paper in the south earned him membership in Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalistic fraternity. He was also elected to Friar, honorary senior academic society. He took his B. A. degree at the University of Texas in 1916 and the following fall entered Harvard law school.

His course at Harvard was interrupted in 1917 when America entered the first World war, and he came back to Texas and entered the first officers training camp at Leon Springs.

He was commissioned captain of infantry at the end of the first officers training camp, and in August, 1917, was assigned to Company "D, 357th Infantry, 90th Division." He commanded this company from the date of its organization to it demobilization.

Held Several Posts

Jester had been elected president of the First Officers' Training Camp association, Leon Springs; president of the 90th Division Veterans association; and post commander of the Johnson-Wiggins post 22, American Legion, Corsicana.

On his return from overseas, Jester again entered the University of Texas, where he took his law degree in 1920. Immediately thereafter, he put up his shingle and began practicing law in his home town. Soon after he opened his law office, the Powell oil field came in near Corsicana.

Jester practiced law in every court in the country, from the justice of the peace court to the U. S. Supreme court. For sixteen years he served as president of the Navarro County Bar association and was director of the state bar, 1940-41.

In 1921 he married Miss Mabel Buchanan of Texarkana, Ark. They had three children—Barbara (Mrs. Howard Burris), born in 1925, Joan, born 1929, and Beauford, jr., born 1938.

Plainview cutoff road.

An existing traffic light sometimes backs up south-bound traffic over the Santa Fe mainline tracks, causing serious hazard and forcing the trains to proceed at five miles per hour, Wagner explained.

He proposed a signal system that would halt highway traffic north of the track as the trains approach. Cost was roughly estimated at $5,000, of which the railroad would be willing to pay half, he said.

Payments Approved

Detailed estimated are to be received within the next few days, and possibility of a special court session to discuss the situation was mentioned.

Other business of the court was routine this morning. Reports and financial statements were approved payment of bills to J. D. Hufstedler Truck company for a pickup truck, $1,378.97; to Martin Smith company for a fogging machine to go on the truck, $1,695; to Dickinson Motor company for truck repairs, $287.55; to Dunlap's Department store for a jail refrigerator, $450.35 less $25 allowance for a refrigerator traded in; and $163.01 to Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway company for a crossing on U. S. Highway 87.

President Kills New Tax Talk As Deficit Policy Is Accepted

a budget surplus in a declining national economy.

"There are economic and social deficits that would be far more serious than a temporary deficit in the federal budget."

Cut In Prices Urged

Mr. Truman urged businessmen to lower prices where possible, to keep sales and production high. But don't cut wages in order to reduce prices, he advised; that cripples the worker's buying power and everyone gets hurt.

These were his requests to Congress—they are of "vital importance," he said:

1. Shun any major tax boost. Repeal the transportation tax, except on passengers, liberalize the carry-over of losses by corporations. Raise estate and gift levies.

2. Lengthen the time limit for repayment of loans made to business by the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

3. Launch a study of the investment and development needed for an expansion of the economy.

Congress Badly Split

4. Adopt "an improved program" of farm income supports. (Congress is badly split on the farm program; House Democrats will discuss a stand tomorrow.)

5. Raise the minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to at least 75. Broaden its coverage. (Such legislation is still in committee on Capitol Hill.)

6. Bring more industries under unemployment compensation. Increase the benefits. Lengthen the period of idleness covered.

7. Extend for one year—to July 25, 1950—the veterans' readjustment allowances, or so-called "52-20" program. This program got its nickname from the provision for unemployment pay to veterans at the rate of $20 a week for a maximum of 52 weeks.

8. Raise social security benefits. Extend coverage to more persons. Increase direct public aid grants. (A social security bill may come from the House ways and means committee in about a week.)

Federal Works Planning

9. Let federal agencies speed the advance planning of federal works and acquire sites. Help states and localities to do the same.

10. Provide technical aid to develop the world's backward areas and encourage foregin investment.

11. Restore the reciprocal trade agreements act, to bolster world commerce. (The House has passed such a bill; a Senate fight awaits.)

The President bade businessmen, workers and farmers and Congress members to heed this advice:

"We cannot have prosperity by getting adjusted to the idea of a depression—by cutting investment or employment or wages or essential government programs.

"We can be prosperous only by planning and working for prosperity, by increasing private investment, production, employment and purchasing power, and by carrying forward essential government programs."

Mr. Truman pledged every effort to economize and to restore a budget balance "at the earliest possible time." As one of the most insistent past advocates of a balance and of national debt reduction, he blamed today's red ink on the "untimely" tax cut voted by the Republican 80th Congress. Another mistake, he said, was the failure to give him the anti-inflation powers he sought. Their absence helped to produce the present dangers, he said.

Must Accept Deficit

The President's economic council, in its survey on which Mr. Truman based his message, concurred that this is not the time to hike taxes or, on the other hand, to drastically diminish the flow of federal dollars. It said:

"The appearance of a government deficit will have to be accepted."

The President emphasized that no signs indicate a depression like that of the 1930s. He said saner business policies now prevail and said there are now many safeguards to cushion a recession.

Some more of his findings: production in first half 1949 dipped only 1½ per cent from the record level of last-half 1948. Real earnings were maintained, bank deposits and money supply dipped 2 per cent. The personal income of consumers edged down 1 percent. Consumer spending dropped 3 per cent. The rate of saving rose.

Employment (averaging 58,000,000) is still high, but unemployment has been increasing and veterans and others leaving school are finding it much harder to obtain work than a year ago," the message said.

"Production is still high, but it is lower, particularly in some industries, than it was last year. Business investment is at a high rate, but plans for new investments are being made with caution.

Decline Is Moderate

"The 1949 decline has been moderate, and the opportunity is now ours to reverse the trend and achieve maximum production and consumption of goods and services without the evils of inflation."

Some industries now will have difficulty expanding, the President conceded. But the government "can always take conscious and positive action." This need not be crisis action, he emphasized—

"Unemployment has not risen to the dangerous levels which would call for all-out emergency measures. . . the economic situation does not call for an immediate and sweeping expansion of public works."

In one keynote passage the President declared:

"The life and spirit of the American economy is progress and expansion.

"We need to use the productive capacity of a growing labor force. We need to translate the improved productivity and managerial skills into constantly increasing output. . . .

"We can achieve within a few years a national output well above $300,000,000,000, valued at current prices. . . .

"To restrict business investment, curtail production, reduce employment or slash wages, because our economy has declined somewhat, would only serve to drag us further downward. . .

"It is vitally important that government policy be based upon the determination to achieve a constantly growing economy. . .

"Our friends abroad know that their well-being and hopes for world peace are greatly dependent upon the economic strength of the United States.

"Those opposed to our system and way of life are hoping for the vindication of their prophecies that economic collapse is inevitable in a free society.

"Ours is at once a fateful responsibility and an inspiring opportunity . . ."

In general, the message was calculated to reassure business. Nowhere was there mention of the array of anti-inflation powers which Congress has largely ignored.

Now dead for certain, they included standby price and wage control authority; allocation of scarce materials; extension of bank credit controls and installment-plan buying curbs; regulation of grain and other commodity exchanges to curb inflation. Neither was there mention of the government building industrial plants when private capital fails to do so.

"but today might do as well. The traffic looks just about as good. It definitely is a much better 'Dollar Day' than last month's."

"Wonderful Business"

"We've had a wonderful crowd and wonderful business today," reported another manager. "I think it may be our biggest crowd of the year."

Department stores in the downtown area were handling an unusually large amount of traffic during the morning hours, and the buying trend spilled over into other businesses.

The construction of a new jail had been discussed in Lamesa for several months, but apparently the project had been abandoned.

'HONEYMOON'—They had planned a different honeymoon. Betty Bowen, 16, and her fiance, 19-year-old Alwyn Ivers planned it as they sat in his car one night, two days before their scheduled wedding. Today Betty's "honeymoon" is a lonely vigil in the shadowed, silent corridors of Los Angeles General Hospital. Alwyn and she got married—but it was a near tragic ceremony at his hospital bedside, where he lay fighting for his life. While they sat in his car, planning their honeymoon and their life ahead, a pistol-wielding bandit suddenly appeared. The boy bravely tackled the armed man wresting the gun away. They struggled. The pistol cracked three times. One bullet went wild. One smashed through Alwyn's neck and jaw. The other killed the bandit.

Woody Smith, identified on records of the sheriff's department as a negro, claimed he was hijacked of approximately $20 Sunday afternoon after he and five others had been arrested when gambling near Shallowater.

He said one of the gamblers, Elonzo Moore, did not have the money to pay a fine, so Smith was sent to get the money from Moore's "boss man."

Would Recognize Men

Smith said he got the money and that, on his return, three men in a car he described took the money from him.

He said he would recognize the men and their car.

Arresting officers were the liquor board, the sheriff's department and a state ranger.

Lillie Lee of 1617 Ave. C, had called the sheriff's office 15 minutes before her husband Willie was stabbed with the ice pick. In that call she asked the he be arrested. After the stabbing she called again and reported what had happened. She was not arresled.

Purse Reported Stolen

The sheriff's department was informed from Slaton that a tall, negro woman had stolen a purse in a cleaning establishment in Slaton.

The proprietor, a woman, said the incident happened when she had gone to the back to hunt customers' clothing.

The suspect left a coin purse on the counter, and it contained identification papers of a Lubbock business woman who has a store in 1100-block Nineteenth. The Lubbock woman had not discovered that her purse had been taken, but recalled that such a woman had been in her store Saturday.

The negro woman answers a description of a suspect who reportedly has stolen purses lately in Amarillo, Plainview, Lubbock and elsewhere.

Her method is to take purses of store employes from under counters after sending clerks to the back of the store under various pretenses, investigators said.

Chiang And Philippines Chief Plan Anti-Communist Program

BAGUIO, Philippines, July 11. (AP) — An informed diplomatic source said today President Elpidio Quirino and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek had reached agreement on a four point anti-Communist program.

The points listed as having been agreed upon by the Philippines president and the "retired" president of Nationalist China were:

Formation of a Pacific union, a united front against communism, economic collaboration and further strengthening of ties between China and the Philippines.

The Philippines, China and Korea would form the nucleus of the proposed union. The plan is to get the union into working order as soon as possible and to extend invitations to other Pacific nations and Asiatic countries to participate.

Arms Aid Ruled Out

The diplomatic source said an invitation to President Syngman Rhee of Korea to come to the Philippines for discussions was being prepared. Rhee voiced sentiment in favor of a Pacific pact recently.

Military aid was ruled out in the discussions between Quirino and Chiang.

There was no official statement on the military aspect of the two-day old talks which brought the Chinese Nationalist leader from his Formosa retreat to Quirino's summer capital. A communique last night hinted that the proposed Pacific union was the No. 1 topic.

An informed source, however, said that, banded together, countries of the western and southwest Pacific could help each other politically and economically. But these nations, it was felt, do not have the armed might to justify a mutual military assistance pact.

Nations Listed

A spokesman declared at midday that the conversations were "progressing very well." The question of economic collaboration was explored at the morning session.

Earlier, another source said it had been agreed tentatively that the Philippines, Nationalist China and American-occupied South Korea should initiate the anti-Red front. Then invitations would be extended to such neighbors as Siam, Indonesia, India, Australia and New Zealand.

Chiang, with a party of 14, came by plane yesterday. He has set up his headquarters on Formosa since "retiring" as president of China. Chinese communists now occupy much of the country he ruled so long.

Quirino told newsmen he gathered from private talks with Chiang that the generalissimo intends to return to Formosa and fight on as best he can against the Communists.

One of Chiang's advisers, former information minister Shen Chang-Huan, indicated the question of Japan's participation in the Pacific alliance was "out of the picture for the time being."

Carey started as a messenger boy with the Tenison National bank in 1919. He later went to the Dallas Bank & Trust company, which later merged with the Dallas National bank.

He was named vice-president of the bank last January.

Survivors include his wife, two brothers, and two sisters.

Lightning Strikes Same Place Twice

SYDNEY, July 11. (AP)—So you think lightning never strikes twice in the same place?

Think again.

Lightning struck the Carlton hotel, Sydney at 5:50 p.m. one Saturday night in June.

A parapet caved in.

It struck the same hotel at 7:10 p.m. the same night. A ceiling fell in.

No one was hurt.

Czech Church Head Guarded

PRAGUE, July 11. (AP)—A visitor to the palace of Archbishop Josef Beran said yesterday the Roman Catholic primate of Czechoslovakia is kept under lock and key by police.

The visitor, a high church leader, said restrictions imposed on the archbishop by the Communist government were so severe that the archbishop's residence is "like a cell."

"A plainclothesman unlocks the door to let you in and locks it upon the archbishop when you leave," he said.

The leader of the church's struggle against government control has not left his closely-guarded palace since June 19, the day Communist hecklers broke up his sermon in St. Vitus Cathedral.

Called Semi-Captive

Archbishop Beran described himself in his last pastoral letter as a semi-captive. The government says, however, that he is free to leave his palace.

The church leader who visited him said the archbishop intends to remain in the palace as a "gesture of protest against the government actions against the church."

"If he left he undoubtedly would be locked out and this symbol of protest would be lost," the churchman added. He said the 60-year-old primate is in good health and his spirit is unbroken.

The official Communist party newspaper, Rude Pravo, repeated government statements that there are no restrictions on religious freedom in Czechoslovakia.

The newspaper asserted the primate and his bishop's had "evoked a conflict and declared war upon the people's democratic government."

Man Charged With Dallas Murder Dies

DALLAS, July 11. (AP)—Louis D. Decker, 64, charged with beating his 85-year-old mother to death with a claw hammer, died of a heart attack last night.

Decker was stricken in his county jail cell.

Sheriff Bill Decker said the man had been ill most of the time since he gave himself up a few hours after the slaying of his mother. Mrs. Dwierke Decker, his mother, had been ill for eight years. She had been blind, deaf and crippled for three. The son cared for her at night.

"I killed her because she bothered me, and I got tired of taking care of her," he told officers at the time.

Ancient 1914 Auto Has Modern Touches

BAY CITY, Mich., July 11. (U.P.)—Automobile dealers like to brag that their latest models are the best yet designed for comfort and convenience.

But a 1914 Cadillac owned by W. J. Moore has them all beat.

This high, wide and handsome car features swivel chairs, a refrigerator, a telephone and a steering wheel that can be moved to give the driver more comfort. The interior is almost as roomy as a railroad car and has side curtains for complete privacy.

The car has a running board big enough for picnics and a mechanical sign in the rear that flashes left and right turns, stop and slow.

This fancy auto has a wheelbase of 168 inches and takes a 36 by 4.5 tire on a wooden-spoke wheel.

Foreigners In China Warned

SHANGHAI, July 11. (AP)—A Communist newspaper used the case of a jailed U. S. vice consul to lay down a warning to foreigners in Red China.

The American, William M. Olive, 32, Ironton, Mo., was released Saturday after three days imprisonment growing out of a minor traffic altercation. U. S. Consul General John Cabot said Olive was "utterly, brutally beaten" by Communist police.

The consulate said Olive, unable to speak Chinese, was taken to a precinct police station after his consular jeep got mixed up in a parade. It said he was beaten, handcuffed and jailed. Strong protests to higher Communist officials brought his release.

The Liberation Daily spoke of the traffic incident as "imperialist provocative action" in an editorial yesterday. It declared:

"The people's government will not tolerate foreign nationals to treat our people with arrogance, roughness or slight.

Americans Warned

"Under the people's government, any imperialistic provocative action will be appropriately punished. Imperialistic, aggressive elements must be wiped out of China."

There was a special warning to Americans: "You must abandon your provocative action at once or you will reap the consequences."

Workers finally consented to let two American officials of the Shanghai Telephone Co., leave their offices Saturday after keeping them there 26 hours. The employes were angry over failure to receive back pay.

The officials, W. F. Flanley, general manager, and Maxey Smith, industrial relations manager, were released on Flanley's promise the American-owned company would attempt to meet the overdue payroll through collections.

Priest Dies After Beating By Negro

NEW ORLEANS, July 11. (U.P.)—A 68-year-old priest, member of an order which is devoted to work among negroes, died late last night of a skull fracture caused by a bludgeoning he received from a "psychopathic" negro longshoreman.

The Rev. Fr. John F. Neifert, priest of the Order of St. Joseph, underwent an operation Saturday to relieve pressure from the fracture. But he failed to rally.

Death came to the priest at 10 p. m. in Hotel Dieu hospital here last night.

The aged priest was beaten early Friday morning with a 10-pound cargo hook as he knelt at prayer in the Holy Redeemer church. Police were holding Frank Bates, 42-year-old negro, who confessed the beating and asked for penance.

They described Bates as a "psychopathic" case.

The church was locked for 24 hours following the bloodshed, according to Catholic Canon, and was reconsecrated Saturday by other priests of the St. Joseph order.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulgy person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit — back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Texas druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Nearly one and a half million bottles of this preparation, called Barcentrate has been sold in Texas in the past four years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Barcentrate from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonsful twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

Educators Uphold Right To Join Red Party

BOY'S CHAINS REMOVED—Ronald Henley, 13, waits patiently as authorities work to remove a log chain from his neck. He was found chained to a tree in Nashville, Tenn. He told officers his father did it because he ran off to a movie. Cutting the chain are (left to right) E. H. Drake, a jail employe, and Special Investigator J. C. Gann.

Dismissal Of Prof Flayed

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—The American Association of University Professors (AAUP) upheld today the right of teachers to belong to the Communist party.

It did so in the face of a National Education association recommendation last week that Communists be barred from the teaching profession.

"So long as the Communist party is a legal political party, affiliation with it should not be regarded as a justifiable reason for exclusion from the academic profession," the professors' statement said. This reaffirmed stands taken in 1947 and 1948.

College Is Condemned

At the same time the AAUP—stirring echoes of Henry Wallace's try for the presidency last year—condemned an Evansville, Ind., Methodist college for firing a faculty member who headed a local Wallace committee.

The AAUP committee on academic freedom and tenure, in its annual report published today, said five other teachers, in unspecified colleges, reported they were dismissed because of their support of Wallace.

The committee took no stand regarding these five, however, because they were serving probationary periods and had not yet achieved full status.

Furthermore, it said, the evidence they offered against the colleges was oral, hearsay or circumstantial. It did not identify them.

Discharges Studied

The AAUP is still studying the discharge of three University of Washington professors accused of Communist activity, the report said. Findings are not expected to be completed until next fall.

Through the committee, the association condemned the dismissal in April, 1948, of George F. Parker, assistant professor of religion and philosophy at Evansville college.

Parker was fired two day: after presiding at an Evansville meeting addressed by Wallace. Anti-Wallace pickets booed Wallace and Parker.

Ralph E. Himstead; AAUP general secretary, told a reporter the college administration probably will be placed on the association's censured list at the next annual meeting in March, 1950.

Two colleges which have been on that list for up to 10 years have been restored to good graces because of changes in administration, the report said. Both have acquired new presidents.

They are John B. Stetson university, Deland, Fla., accused of the arbitrary discharge of three

THE QUESTION

What is one characteristic that is a sign of greatness in any person?

THE ANSWERS

MRS. JAMES A. RAY, 3607 Ave. E, secretary of Southwestern Investment Co.: "Humility is one of them. The humble person isn't so cock-sure that he doesn't have an open mind. The humble person can see the viewpoint of others."

PRESTON SMITH, 2808 Twenty-second, state representative and owner of Smith theaters: "The way I recognize greatness in anybody is by their simplicity and by their recognition of small problems. I admire people who will take the time to talk about small problems, because there are so many more small problems than there are great problems."

WINSTON REDWINE, Tahoka, pianist: "I think mainly it is a conscientious understanding of the human spirit and a love for fellow man. At the root of all personalities, before greatness can be achieved, a person must understand his fellow human being to the greatest degree possible. Understanding of one's fellow man widens your own personal horizons. If we had great understanding of our neighbors, our relatives, of any contact that we have, we wouldn't have war, we wouldn't have starvation, and intolerance, including racial prejudice, would be abolished. To know completely any human being, of course, is humanly impossible. We must strive, however, to live in harmony with our fellows. We must do this before any personal greatness can be achieved."

MISS JOHNNIE MARGARET PRICE, 2405 Fourteenth, educational director at St. John's Methodist church: "I think it is the ability to have simplicity in all actions — to be yourself. In any type of life, we find that true simplicity will lead to sureness and security."

ARNOLD MAEKER, 1811-A Sixteenth, manager of Engineering Service, Inc.: "I think the one mark of greatness in any man is his power of conviction in what he believes. A man cannot be great if he is not convinced of himself."

MRS. KEN DAVIS, 3405 Ave. V, secretary of Great American Reserve Insurance Co.: "I believe the ability to stick to something — to any ideal or aim that you might have in life — and not let anyone else change your opinion. At least, in their own mind, anyone comes out ahead by doing that. First, they need to make up their own mind that it is a good ideal."

Dock Workers Stay Off Job

LONDON, July 11. (U.P.) — Ten thousand London dock workers voted today to continue their wildcat strike despite a government threat to use emergency powers against them.

Word of the vote was flashed to 10 Downing street, where the cabinet was meeting in emergency session. It already had warned that it would ask King George VI to declare a state of emergency if the strikers refused to return to work today.

Immediately after the cabinet meeting Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee and Home Secretary Chuter Ede were expected to visit Buckingham palace and ask the king to issue the necessary proclamation in consultation with his privy council.

Reds Blamed

If this is done, Ede probably will announce the proclamation in the House of Commons this afternoon.

Under a state of emergency, the government could take over all activities at the struck docks. Trade union agreements would be suspended and summary trials of any persons could be held at any hour of the day or night.

The proclamation probably would become effective at midnight tonight.

Cabinet members and union leaders have denounced the strike as Communist-led. They charged that the Communists were trying to sabotage Britain's economic recovery.

Victim Of Crocodile Gets Artificial Arms

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya, July 11 (AP)—A 53-year-old Chinese gardner has a new pair of arms, thanks to the inventiveness and skill of Malayan residents. Lim Kim Foo, who lost his arms when attacked by a crocodile a year ago, will soon leave the general hospital fitted with the artificial arms.

They were invented by A. T. Mellowship, superintendent of the Artificial Limb and Orthopaedic Appliance Centre. They were hand-made by a team of six highly skilled workmen, five Chinese and an Indian.

"MISS CHINATOWN"—Over 4000 Chinese gathered in Pleasanto, Calif., to see 19-year-old Fanny Don crowned "Miss Chinatown 1949." The University of California co-ed receives a $250 wardrobe and trop to Hollywood along with the title.

Flying Made Easy By New Type Airplane

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 11. (U.P.)—Two college professors believe they have developed the perfect "flying flivver" for private use.

Their "helioplane" will fly as slow as 27 miles an hour and can land on a tennis court.

The plane's name was chosen because it has the appearance of a conventional plane with the advantages of a helicopter.

The inventors, Otto O. Koppen of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Lynn Bollinger of Harvard Business School, said the planes' ability to fly at a slow speed largely eliminates the danger of stalling—a principal hazard in private flying.

The helioplane, which can fly with a maximum speed of 112 miles an hour, will clear a five-story building only 100 yards from a take-off point.

The plane's large wing spread and oversize propeller enable it to stay aloft and descend at slow speeds.

Crucial Labor Test Forecast

WASHINGTON, July 11. (U.P.)—President Truman's economic advisers said today the nation faces "a crucial testing" of labor relations in the second half of 1949. They warned that industrywide strikes would "darken the business outlook."

The advisers in their report to Mr. Truman urged that labor and management "strive to work out adjustments" in the basic mass-production industries, "bearing in mind the need both for holding business costs down and for maintaining consumer purchasing power at high levels."

Steel Strike Looms

Their report was released as the government sought to head off a steel strike which could start Saturday.

Federal Mediation Chief Cyrus Ching, reportedly under White House orders to avert a steel strike at any cost, scheduled a meeting later in the day (4 p. m. EDT) with industry and union representatives to try for a settlement of the contract dispute.

Mr. Truman's advisers expressed concern over a possible deadlock in negotiations in basic industries.

"While a still very high cost of living encourages a determined attitude on the part of labor, the uncertain business situation encourages an equally determined attitude on the part of management," they said.

Would Darken Outlook

"Should industry-wide strikes result, they would not merely reduce the spending ability of the directly affected workers but would also spread loss of production and income to other areas and thus darken the business outlook."

The advisers noted that wage increases in the first half of the year averaged between five and 10 cents an hour, plus health, welfare and retirement programs and additional paid holidays. But, they said, major negotiations are still unsettled in the coal, rubber, steel, automobile, and electrical machinery industries.

"The development of a trend in wage settlements, which might have widespread effects, necessarily awaits the settlement in the dominent mass-production industries which are still engaged in negotiation," the advisers said.

The Stanford student body has donated $500 for emergency relief among 31 of its Oriental students.

Robert Ryan Declares He's No Tarzan

Male Cheesecake Has Film Capital In Another Dither

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, July 11.—Here's the newest thing under the Hollywood sun—male cheesecake.

Ever since Mack Sennett's bathing girls, Hollywood cheesecake has sold like—well, cheesecake. Now it is getting another gender, reports Robert Ryan.

The actor discovered this after starring as the punchy prizefighter in "The Set-Up." It was his first postwar film in which he showed his naked chest. Since then a vast amount of his fan mail asks for his photo, specifying he should be as undraped as possible.

Public Has False Ideas

And when he tours the country, photographers have been asking him to do a Gypsy Rose Lee before the shutters click. All this amazes big Bob.

"Heck, I'm no Tarzan," he says, adding with a canny eye to business, "but if that's what they want, I'll give it to 'em."

Ryan hinted the male cheesecake trend might come from a belief that male stars wear falsies, too.

"I think the public has an idea we're blown up with air," he said. "Actually, film actors have better builds than the average American male. They have to; it's part of their business."

To prove his theory, Ryan offered the perfect Hollywood male, composed of the best parts of the community:

Neck—Lex Barker.
Shoulders—Alan Ladd.
Chest—Kirk Douglas.
Arms—Robert Mitchum.
Midsection and hips—Sterling Hayden.
Legs—Errol Flynn.

Ryan mentioned others with good all-around shapes: Bill Williams, Vic Nature, Donald O'Connor, Guy Madison, and in the small, handy size, Mickey Rooney.

Ryan recalled the controversy a decade ago over whether Robert Taylor had hair on his chest.

"That's no test of ruggedness," said Ryan, who has a fair-sized stubble on his chest. "The greatest specimen of a man I ever saw was Max Baer in his fighting prime. And his chest was hairless."

But some film stars take no chances. There is still a market here for chest toupees.

WALTER L. HAYS, of Orlando, Fla., an insurance man and president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, has gotten a lot of publicity lately on what he calls his "Formula for Success."

Hays started from economic nowhere following service in World War I and now heads a company lending millions of dollars annually. The success of his concern stemmed largely from the fact that he dared to break out new trails in the insurance business—to do things differently, and more economically, than they'd always been done before.

Here, essentially, is the Hays "Formula for Success." For young people, and ambitious people who're not so young, it reads like this:

First: The ability to get along with people.

This is made up of the following five subdivisions:

(A) Enthusiasm. An enthusiastic person never wants for friends. Enthusiasm is the most powerful instrument which we have at our command.

(B) A genuine smile. Carnegie, the great steel man, said Charles Schwab had a million dollar smile. Mr. Schwab became the head of the greatest corporation of his day, and his principal asset was his ability to get along with people.

(C) Show appreciation to people for their friendship, for their business.

(D) Let others talk, ask their opinions.

(E) Don't win all the arguments.

Second: The power of work.

(A) Intelligently directed effort.

(B) Unadulterated hard work.

(C) Have the burning desire to succeed—to such a degree that you are willing to pay the price with work to achieve success.

Third: Integrity.

(A) Believe in a Supreme Being.

(B) Honesty. Whenever you give your word make it good, regardless of cost.

(C) Form good habits.

(D) Be loyal.

Fourth: Training.

Training means to take advantage of the opportunity at hand to learn everything you can which will better fortify you in your social and business life. A college education is not imperative, but it is important — and specialized training on the work you will do is important.

(A) Always be a student. There are always things to learn.

(B) Don't make the same mistake twice.

(C) Continue to improve yourself.

Whether or not the Hays formula, carefully followed, will make a success of everybody, we don't know.

But it's a lead-pipe cinch that following it won't hurt a soul.

ALL intelligent people know it is silly, ridiculous and, furthermore, untrue, to say that all Jews, Methodists, Roman Catholics, Presbyterians, negroes, blonds, brunets, of bowlegged people are good, bad, honest, dishonest; handsome, ugly; smart, or dumb.

All intelligent people know it is silly to allege that all persons in any group—social, religious, racial, or economic—are good citizens, or bad citizens.

But it also is silly, ridiculous and in opposition to the right of free speech to suggest passage of a law bearing on what is called "group libel," in an effort to silence opinion any one person, or any collection of persons, may have about any other individual, or group of individuals.

On the federal and state statute books we already have plenty of laws governing slander and libel—plenty to safeguard the rights and reputation of every individual, no matter who he is, what his antecedents, how he worships.

To go farther is not only unnecessary, but would be dangerous to rights of free speech and might foment widespread trouble and distrust.

★ ★ ★

Currently pending in the Congress is a piece of proposed legislation titled H. R. 2270. Under this bill, punishment by fine and incarceration is provided for any individual found guilty of violating it by referring disparagingly to any racial or religious group.

H. R. 2270 was introduced by five Congressmen. Four of them are from New York: Keogh, a Catholic; Javits and Klein, Jews; and Keating, faith not listed in the Congressional Directory. The fifth, Douglas, of Illinois, is a negro. As the sponsorship suggests, H.R. 2270 is class legislation aimed at giving special privilege to minorities. Hence it probably is unconstitutional.

But constitutional, or unconstitutional, H.R. 2270 can only make the racial and religious cleavage in the country worse. Just as you can't legislate people into heaven, neither can legislation force people of different faiths and racial strains to better understand each other.

That must come from education and experience, not from lawbooks.

★ ★ ★

TO BE sure, we have a long way to go in this country in the matter of racial, religious and social tolerance. Passing laws in an effort to force toleration is no shortcut. While charges of intolerance most frequently are aimed at the majority, the citizen with his eyes open cannot fail to note that the majority has no copyright on racial, or religious prejudice, both of which also are found among the minorities.

Greater evidence of goodwill on the part of the majority and the minorities, alike, it seems to us, will bring about better race and religious understanding and acceptance than all the laws that can be devised.

MANY a guy who wouldn't think of risking all his available cash reserve on one turn of a roulette wheel will climb into an automobile and risk his life a dozen times during a day's drive.

The National Safety Council has worked up some statistics on driving risks and while we're not overly strong for statistics, we recommend that these be read and digested by all those preparing to get into the old family bus and go on a vacation.

Have a look here:

At a constant speed of 45 miles per hour, you can drive 400 miles in 8 hours and 54 minutes. At this rate of speed, if you have an injury accident, the chances of someone being killed in it are 1 in 16.

At a constant speed of 55 m.p.h., you can drive that 400 miles in 7 hours and 18 minutes, but if you have an injury accident the chances of someone being killed in it are 1 in 12.

Step up your constant speed to 65 m.p.h., and you can knock off those 400 miles in 6 hours and 10 minutes. BUT, if you have an injury accident at that speed the chances are 1 in 6 that somebody will be killed.

In other words, those 20 miles between 45 and 65 are fraught with grim danger—and the percentages apply to you and whatever loved ones you may have with you on that vacation trip.

Be careful!

BY DREW PEARSON: ENGLAND THREATENS TRADE PRACTICES SHE AGREED TO REJECT

Marshall Plan At Height Not Actually Working

WASHINGTON—Here are some things to remember about the British monetary maneuverings which amiable Secretary of, the Treasury John Snyder is trying to straighten out. The story goes back to war days, but can be summarized chapter by chapter.

PEARSON

Chapter 1 — Bretton Woods: at the Bretton Woods monetary conference in 1944, Lord Beaverbrook and Winston Churchill argued that Britain could not go back to normal free-trade relations after the war, that Britain must live by its wits, would have to put across th same cut-throat barter agreements such as negotiated by Hitler (and as now signed with Argentina).

Roosevelt and Morgenthau urged that there was not much use defeating Hitler if the allies were to adopt his methods afterward, and the British finally came around to the idea of letting trade take it normal channels—provided they got a loan from th U. S. A.

Chapter 2—British loan: in 1946, Britain got a post-war $3,750,000,000 loan from the U. S. A. This was officially considered a loan, and statements made by this column that it was actually a grant were denied. However, it is now conceded that the "loan" is pretty much forgotten, will never be paid.

One condition of the loan was that Britain would abandon her "sterling-dollar pool." This was an arrangement, necessary during the war, by which British colonies and dominions sent their dollars to London, and were then permitted to spend only such dollars as London dictated. In other words, all dollar purchases in the British empire were rationed by London. Australia, for instance, could not buy from the U. S. A. unless London so decreed

Chapter 3—The Marshall plan: after abolishing the sterling-dollar pool for a short time as per agreement, the British went back to it again in 1947 This was shortly before the Marshall plan and at a time when the British once again were appealing for financial help. If they got help, the British promised, they would again abolish the sterling-dollar pool.

* * *

The Current Crisis

Accordingly the Marshall plan was worked out, and under it Britain receives the largest grant of all countries. Adding up the Marshall plan, the loan, and other aid, the United States has now poured an average of a billion dollars a year into Britain since the end of the war.

Chapter 4 — The current crisis: despite the Marshall plan and the British loan, plus other interim relief, the British are still just as badly off. This also goes for many other western European countries.

As a result, Sir Stafford Cripps now threatens to do what Britain promised not to do under the loan agreement —once again restore the sterling-dollar pool. In fact, he has already abolished further purchases from the U. S. A. Cripps has also done what Beaverbrook and Churchill promised not to do at Bretton Woods — namely adopt cut-throat barter agreements, such as the recent Argentine meat pact

What all this boils down to is that the Marshall plan, at the height of its operation, is not really working, despite the fact that the plan has been administered with a great speed and a reasonable degre of efficiency.

Facts in the case—In Congress, they blame the British crisis on the Labor government and socialism. This ignores the fact that other western European countries are likewise badly off, also that Britain has made more heroic economies than most.

It also ignores the fundamental trouble with England and western Europe generally, namely, that it is eating more than it is producing; that it has too high a standard of living for its wealth; and that it expects us to pension it off.

This is a crude way of putting it, but it might be cheaper in the long run for us to take over England, as a son takes an aged parent under his own roof.

The British once were affluent because they were milking Asiatic colonies. Millions of people in those colonies lived just above the starvation level, while the British empire wore ermine. But with a social revolution in Asia, the British have to live on their own crowded island, with little help from the grown-up and independent dominions.

The same is true of the Dutch, also affluent at one time from milking Asia, but now in desperate straits; and, to a lesser extent, the French, who still have North Africa.

* * *

ANOTHER basic fact ignored in the western European situation is that you can't keep on increasing labor pay unless labor produces. And labor costs are rising in England and France with no commensurate rise in production. So we make up the difference by pumping Marshall plan money into Europe every year.

Result—Today American and Canadian manufactured goods can outsell British goods almost any place. Our labor produces more; our methods of manufacture are more modern.

Snyder's remedy — Amiable John Snyder would remedy all this by devaluing the pound. This is only another way of reducing wages and profits. When you can't compete with another country's goods you have to cut costs by cutting both wages and profits.

Politically, cutting wages is difficult. So devaluing the pound accomplishes the same thing less painfully without letting British labor know it. In the end, of course, British labor has to foot part of the bill, because the pound buys less and labor's income is reduced.

This is why Sir Stafford Cripps is so opposed to devaluing the pound.

At best, devaluing the pound is only a temporary stopgap. The fundamental trouble with England and western Europe remains. More permanent remedies for Britain's desperate plight, therefore, will be discussed in future columns.

"It Isn't The Job I Expected To Give You--"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

MEMO to brides: If you would make your marriage as happy as you expect it to be, avoid the following mistakes, made by many a loving wife before you.

MILLETT

Never let jealousy dictate your actions. The quickest way in the world for a woman to lose a man's respect is to let him suspect that she is jealous of him.

Don't over-estimate the power of tears over a man. Laughter will hold him closer than tears.

Don't "discuss" your marriage to death. The more problems you can solve without talk the happier your husband will be.

Never criticize your husband's family. Even if you don't hurt him more deeply by such criticism, you'll surely hurt his pride.

Never pry into his affairs. Accept what he tells you of his own free will, but don't force him to tell you more than he wants to. Remember it is the prying wife who has a husband who "never tells her anything."

FORGET POSSIBLE "RIVALS"

DON'T regard every attractive woman your husband meets as a potential rival. Remember he's yours. Just relax and pay no attention to all the "how to hold your man" advice that will come your way.

Don't be ashamed to think your husband is wonderful. A lot of wives seem to think that to stand in with the girls, they have to join in on all the "aren't-husbands-exasperating" discussions that come up. Pity such wives, if you like, but don't give them a chance to pity you or make you feel sorry for yourself.

See your husband off to work every morning—with a good breakfast under his belt. No husband likes to think a little extra sleep is more important to his wife than he is.

Take pride in the job of homemaking. He'll respect your job if you do.

Never be ashamed to admit that you were in the wrong. All wives in time realize their husbands aren't perfect—but some wives never realize their husbands haven't perfect mates.

"Try And Stop Me"

JOHN VOELKER, the prosecuting attorney of Marquette county, Michigan, has a favorite poker story concerning a doctor who was taking a frightful shellacking when lo! in a hand of stud he finally got aces back to back. Furthermore, everybody stayed. On the next turn of the cards, the doctor drew another ace! Unfortunately his friend Joe, sitting at his right, chose this moment to suffer a heart attack and slumped over the table.

The players rushed him to a couch where he breathed his last. "What'll we do now?" the white-faced players implored the doctor. "Out of respect for the dead," he replied promptly, "I suggest we finish this hand standing up."

UNNECESSARY, BUT HARMLESS

The only justification for the anti-lynching bill, passed by the Texas Legislature a few days ago, is the possibility that it might help to head off a further intrusion of the federal government into the affairs of the individual states.

There is no need for such a law. It duplicates those already on the statute books under which participants in a lynching are guilty of a murder for which the death penalty might be imposed. Under existing laws, murder by lynching is just as much murder as any other kind.

The new law applying specifically to lynchings does not change the conditions and protections that have existed. The only objection to it is that it is totally unnecessary. But, if it succeeds in its purpose of discouraging official Washington from sticking its nose into this phase of the business of the individual states, it will serve a useful and justifiable purpose.

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

"Jesse James" Relates Story Of Historic Slaying, Escape

STANTON, Mo., July 11.—The old man who looks, acts, and talks like Jesse James, and who claims, at 102 years of age, to be Jesse James, says that the man who was killed and buried as Jesse James was a fellow named Charlie Bigelow.

RUARK

The suspicion among the people who have unearthed him is that the killing was a cold frame-up, designed to allow Jesse to escape, and that there was plenty of political help in the operation.

But the white bearded old invalid will not admit much among those lines. He will not attempt to explain the murder of the man named Bigelow by Ford, nor will he venture an opinion as to why both Fords and his brother, Frank, were immediately pardoned by Gov. Tom Crittenden of Missouri.

"But if that'd been me Bob Ford shot," he says, "Frank would have killed him and Charlie both."

* * *

Man Is Killed

The old man says he had him a string of runnin' horses, and two came down with distemper. "I fetched 'em to St. Joe to isolate 'em." he says. "I had a house there I wasn't using for a spell—not until after some runnin' races at Excelsior Springs.

"This fellow Charlie Bigelow looked enoukh like me to be my twin, and he was huntin' a house. I told him and his wife they could use my place for a spell, until after the races, and he moved in.

"One day I was out in the barn doctorin' my horses when I heerd a gunshot in the house. When I heerd that gun go off I knowed it wasn't no play-party, because we argued with guns in them days. I run into the house and there was Bob Ford, standing over Bigelow with a gun in his hand and blood on the floor.

"I said to Ford: 'Looks like you killed him, Bob," and Bob says: 'Looks like I did, Jesse'. Then I says: 'This is my chance, Bob. You tell 'em it's me you killed. You tell my mother to say so, and you take care of that Bigelow woman. I'm long gone."

* * *

THE old man says he got on one of his horses—a good horse, a four-mile horse—and he lit out. He says he went to Kansas City to Memphis to New Orleans, where he took a boat for Brazil. He kicked around South America for a spell and came home, an dthen went to Mexico. He settled later in Oklahoma, and claims to have been elected, under the name of J. Frank Dalton, to the territorial legislature. He later moved to Texas.

Mr. Dalton, or Mr. James, says it was real easy to escape detection, since he had either been in Quantrill's raiders or had lived the restricted life of an outlaw for 19 years, from his 15th birthday on. Few people knew him well, many were dead, others had their mouths sealed, and it was vast country. He says he visited his son only once, when the boy was about 20 and working in a Kansas City cigar store. The son is now in an institution in California.

The fiery old boy's white goatee bristles when he speaks of the enlargement on the Jesse James legend. "I went to see a movie about me, once," he says, "I left after 15 minutes. And that damn' silly business about me standing on a chair to hang a picture. You've all be in that house in St. Joe," he said to a surrounding circle. "You know what a low ceiling it's got. Why would a man as tall as me be standing on so-and-so chair to hang a picture when I could do it easier standing on the floor?"

* * *

Not Yet Disproven

Ancient Jesse James, if that he be, does not seem to care whether anybody believes him or not, and often sulks up and will talk to no one. Only the people around him — Frank Hall, his discoverer, and Lester Dill, a kindly man who provides the old gent with a home and medical attention, seems fanatically interested in nailing down the legend.

If the old man has not been proven, he has not yet been disproven, and there is certainly a chance that he is all he says. I prefer to hope that he is telling the truth. For Jesse James or no Jesse James, that old boy in the Ozarks cabin had a tremendous life. He didn't buy those bullet scars at the store, or his skill with a six-gun out of a dime novel. Nor did the son of the late governor of Missouri have J. Frank Dalton write the history of the James gang just because he liked the name of Dalton. If the old man wasn't there, those 67 years ago, he was certainly thereabouts.

San Antonio is the oldest city in Texas, with its first permanent settlement established in 1718 along with the founding of the mission.

Civil War Vet Death Victim

STEPHEN DUPUIS

BROWNFIELD, July 11. (Special)—Stephen Dupuis, 104-year-old Confederate army veteran and Brownfield resident since 1941, died at 10:40 p. m. Sunday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. C. B. Worsham, after an illness of four days.

Dupius, a native of Avoyelles parrish, La., had been active until Wednesday, when he became critically ill. Only two weeks ago, he attended a Turner community reunion.

Was Dispatch Carrier

The retired farmer maintained a keen interest in current events until the time of his death. He was very bitter about President Truman's civil rights program.

He enlisted as a dispatch carrier under General Taylor when he was 16-year-old and served throughout the Civil war. Although he did very little actual fighting in the war, he often commented about some of his narrow escapes while carrying important messages.

Survivors Are Listed

"Bad weather and poor food were my greatest obstacles," he said.

Survivors include another daughter, Mrs. Belle Eden; three sons, J. L., S. T. and J. W. Dupuis; seven grandchildren, 16 great - grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.

Services and burial will be held at Alexandria, La. He will be buried in his Confederate uniform. The body will remain at the Brownfield Funeral home until 7 p. m. today.

Party Names Catholic Church As Enemy

Czech Communist Plans For Destroying Church Revealed

(By The United Press)

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 11 — A Communist directive to party members today named the Roman Catholic church as "our greatest enemy" and outlined a plan to "liquidate" the church order in Czechoslovakia.

The directive, dated June 28, reached the United Press through a reliable source. It was distributed to Communist workers in a factory at Zlin (Gottwaldov) in connection with recruiting for a three-day government - sponsored religious festival, July 3-5.

It said "it is necessary to fight against the church because it is our most dangerous enemy."

Principal points in the directive were:

1. "It is necessary to put honest-thinking Catholics against (Archbishop) Josef Beran . . . This is not a matter of church liquidation, but of liquidation of the church order."

2. "We do not want to liquidate the (Catholic) faith. We want to tear all threads between the Vatican and the Czechoslovak heirarchy." We must build a strong dam against the bishops and archbishops."

3. "We wanted originally to find agreement with the church. The church, however, did not want to join this agreement. Today, agreement will be much graver and cruel for the church."

Seven Remain On List

Seven schools remain on the list. The list censures the administrative officers and covering board only, and informs the public that "unsatisfactory conditions of academic freedom and tenure" prevail. There is no reflection on the faculties or the schools generally.

The censured administrations still on the AAUP list, and the date of censuring:

Five Persons Heat Victims

(By The Associated Press)

It's going to be hot again.

The weather was more than warm yesterday. It wilted three baseball players and an umpire in a game at Greenville and a Dallas man polishing his automobile.

At Greenville, two pitchers had to be relieved, a base runner dropped in his tracks and an umpire tumbled into a dugout after the final play. Greenville won the game, 4-3.

Jack Taylor, 25, suffered heat exhaustion while polishing his automobile.

Dallas' 100 degrees was the highest recorded by the weather bureau yesterday.

Guadalupe Pass was the state's coolest spot, with 81 degrees.

The forecast today for East Texas is partly cloudy with widely scattered thundershowers and not much change in temperatures. West Texas was supposed to have cloudiness and widely scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers.

BRANDING IRONS TELL STORY

NORMAN, Okla. (U.P.)—Dr. Ellsworth Collings, University of Oklahoma professor, says the history of Oklahoma is written in branding irons. To prove his point, he displays his collection of 350 branding irons, which he says trace the development of Oklahoma from Indian Territory days to the present.

Lightning Strikes Hereford Golfer

AMARILLO, July 11. (AP)—J. M. Posey, 23, of Hereford, is reported "coming back to normal" in an Amarillo hospital today after he was struck by lightning Sunday on the country club golf course.

B. R. Waldrep, also of Hereford, was slightly injured by the same bolt. He was released by the hospital after first aid.

George Aulbach, club pro, said the lightning burned the hair on the back of Posey's head, burned his chest, melted his belt buckle and the zipper in his trousers, burned his hand and seered a hole in the leather grip of his club.

Two other members of the foursome, W. E. Phillips and J. H. Channer, both of Hereford, were not injured.

TRAVEL NOT BROADENING

NEW ORLEANS (U.P.)—A. J. Sauviac, 65, who retired as a railroad engineer after a 40-year career, estimated that he piloted trains a total of 200,000 miles without ever getting over 15 miles from home. He spent his whole career on a switch engine.

Rodgers Is Jaycees' Man-Of-The-Month

C. A. Rodgers, 34-year-old piano company owner, today was honored as the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce man of the month for June at the club's weekly luncheon meeting at the Hilton hotel.

Horace Gearhart presented the scroll award to Rodgers, who served as program chairman of the club for a year.

Members also heard committee reports including Chairman Clifton Haynie's plans for a Miss Lubbock contest to be held at the Lindsey theater July 26.

Reagan Howell, jr., chairman of the aviation committee, reported plans for the Jaycee-Plymouth Model Plane contest to be held at Lubbock Air Force base Saturday and Sunday.

Representatives of the Lubbock club will attend installation dances at Lamesa Tuesday night and Tahoka Thursday night.

L. T. Davis of Lamesa was a guest at the meeting. Selvin Walton, formerly of Kilgore, was introduced as a new member. Jeff Lewis gave the invocation and R. S. Wilkinson presided.

New Revolt Menaces Republican Leader

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—A new revolt threatened today to put Hugh D. Scott, jr., out of his job as Republican national chairman.

Scott dismissed the rebellion lightly, but Republican leaders said they would not be surprised if a group of national committee members force a meeting which might vote Scott out.

Originating in a secret session at Pittsburgh over the week-end, the anti-Scott movement apparently had gained strength among national committee members who sought unsuccessfully to unseat him in a meeting in Omaha, Neb., last January. Scott won that test, 54 to 50.

Paralyzed War Vet Watches Helplessly While Wife Is Shot By Man Whose Love She Spurned

MADISON, Wis., July 11. (U.P.)—A paralyzed veteran of World War I said today that he watched helplessly as a middle-aged carpenter killed the veteran's wife because she spurned his love.

Mrs. Sadie Jackson, 45, an attractive and vivacious roadhouse waitress, was shot to death outside a delicatessen where her husband, Julius, 50, waited for her in their car.

Jackson named George King, 44-year-old carpenter, as his wife's assailant.

Captured At Road Block

King, a widower, was captured early today at a road block six miles south of here as he headed out of town in his son-in-law's car.

He was booked on suspicion of murder but denied Jackson's charges. He claimed that Mrs. Jackson had wrested the .25 caliber pistol from him and shot herself, according to assistant District Attorney William McCusker.

However, Jackson's version of the shooting was corroborated by a passer-by, Arthur Fetterhoff, and other witnesses.

Jackson said that King had been "pestering" his wife to go out with him. They met some time ago when King did carpentry work at the roadhouse where she worked to support her husband and herself.

Saturday evening, Jackson said, King waited outside their house and accosted Mrs. Jackson when they came out to go to their car. He said they quarreled and King left.

Jackson said he was seated in his car, waiting for his wife to finish shopping about 8 p. m. yesterday, when King drove up in his son-in-law's car.

King got into the Jackson car, sliding into the driver's seat.

"He started to tell me a story about my wife running around with other men," Jackson said. "I told him I didn't believe a word of it and ordered him out of the car.

"Just then my wife came out of the store and saw King. She also told him to get out."

Jackson said King stepped out of the car but turned to Mrs. Jackson and said:

"I'll teach you a lesson. You've been running around with too many men."

Then, Jackson said, King pulled the pistol from his pocket and shot her.

Staggered Into Store

Mrs. Jackson, struck twice in the chest, dropped her packages, whirled half about and staggered back into the store as King leaped in his car and drove away.

She died in the store a few moments later.

Jackson said he was helpless to prevent the shooting because his condition prevents him from moving swiftly.

Neighbors described Mrs. Jackson as "a likeable woman who worked hard to support her husband" and to care for him since his condition prevented him from holding a job. They said she had a "good reputation" and never had been known to keep company with other men.

Stalin's Son Boasts That Red Air Force Is Invincible; Russian Aviators Praised

MOSCOW, July 11. (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin's son, Vassily, a lieutenant-general at 29, boasted yesterday the Red air force was "invincible."

In a newspaper article broadcast by Moscow radio, he said Russia laid the foundations of aviation science, progressing from the first helicopter in the world to the present high speed jet planes.

There is not a Russian plane, he said, in which his father's instructions are not embodied. He gave Russian aviators credit as the first to "put out the lights of Berlin." Soviet aircraft designers "are marching ahead of world science," he claimed, and Soviet pilots "Fly further, higher and swifter than any."

And Soviet aviators, he added, "stand vigilantly . . . on guard for peace throughout the world."

Vassily was recently promoted from guards major general in aviation to guards lieutenant general. His article was published and broadcast in connection with Russia's aviation day, to be celebrated soon.

Eight Men Overcome By Gas Plant Fumes

BAYTOWN, July 11 (AP)—Eight refinery workers were reported recovering in a hospital after being overcome by sulphur dioxide gas.

Plant officials at the Humble Oil and Refining company said the gas escaped from a naptha re-run unit after a safety valve blew out yesterday.

Those overcome by the fumes were Carlos Worley, 39; Lester Know, 39; Walter L. Simpson, 45; James F. Heater, 26; Iverson G. Lea, 45; Joseph Leatherwood, 29; J. M. Taylor, 51, and Langford Lanier, 40, all of Baytown.

North Korean Army Suffers Red Purge

SEOUL, July 11 (AP)—A former first lieutenant of the North Korean army said today the Communist controlled northern army is going through its third major purge.

The lieutenant of cavalry, who surrendered to the South Korean republican army, said he assumed suspected anti-Communists would be sent to Russia as laborers. He said he believed this was done with officers purged on Aug. 17 last year and with enlisted men purged on Jan. 5 of this year.

Detroit Policeman Held In Car Theft

DETROIT, July 11 (AP)—Patrolman Edward F. Borchardt, ace stolen car retriever in his police platoon, became too well acquainted with the tricks of the trade he was fighting.

He was held today on a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile.

Resigning from the police department, the 26-year-old Borchardt told Inspector Albert Shapiro he used a small tool to start the ignition and admitted he learned the trick from car thieves.

"He seemed to have an uncanny knowledge of the ways of automobile thieves," Shapiro reported.

Borchardt explained he took the car because he "thought it would be nice to have one."
