J. C. Alsup Dead

Jim C. Alsup, 73, died in a San Angelo hospital at 10:20 Tuesday morning, following his wife in death just nine days.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the First Baptist Church with Rev. W. J. McCawley, pastor, officiating. Interment was in Foster Cemetery beside the grave of his wife who was buried Tuesday of last week.

Mr. Alsup had been in failing health recently and was in a serious condition at the time his wife died.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. John Ray of San Angelo; three brothers, B. T. of Sterling City, Tobe of Kerrville, and Ellie of Midland.

Johnson's Funeral home of San Angelo was in charge of arrangements and Roland Lowe assisted. Pallbearers were Lee Hunt, Hal Knight, Frank Cole, Webb Hudson, Henton Emery and Mud Allen.

Temp Foster took some cows with calves to the auction in San Angelo Monday. Temp said he got $150 a pair for them. He got a pair last week (almost exclusive) and upon being asked about it he said, "My memory is getting so bad I can't remember from one rain to the next."

Charged in Wife's Death

Garden City - Earl Hamilton Williams, an employee on the Roy C. Davis ranch near here, was charged in Justice Court here with the slaying of his wife, whose battered body was found in a house on the Davis ranch Sunday morning.

Glasscock County officials said Williams had signed a statement admitting he beat his wife to death with his fist. Sheriff Walter Teel of Glasscock County has not been able to find any weapon used in the slaying.

Coroner Walter Grice, in his verdict, said Mrs. Williams had died of a "broken neck after being hit with a blunt instrument."

Williams is being held in jail with no bond having been set.

Funeral services for Mrs. Williams, who is survived by her husband, four sons and one daughter, were held at Vealmoor Wednesday.

Maurice Barrymore (John's talented paw) was asked the best way to become a famous actor. . . . "What is the first thing one must learn?" queried John. "How to speak?" . . . "No," was the reply. "How to starve."

The Showfolks: Bea Lillie once played chemin-de-fer at a Paris casino when she suddenly hiccupped. The croupier thought she called out "banquet" and paid her 150,000 francs!

Goodrich Speaks to Lions

Rev. Robert Goodrich of El Paso spoke to the Lions Club Wednesday on "Open and Closed Minds". Rev. Goodrich is currently doing the preaching at the Methodist revival now in progress at the tabernacle.

The prize went to president Worth Durham. Joe Emery, president of the club's softball team, reported that the club still had a good standing in the second half of the tournament - no games played yet.

Wayne Berryman was the guest of his father, A. A. Berryman.

Revival Closes Sunday

The Methodist Revival meeting which started last Sunday will close with the meeting here next Sunday night. Services are being held each night at 8:00 o'clock in the tabernacle with Rev. Robert E. Goodrich of El Paso doing the preaching. Rev. Ed H. Lovelace, local pastor, is leading the singing. All residents of the community are cordially invited to attend the remaining services of the revival.

Attend Family Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sparkman and son, H. returned Tuesday night from a family reunion in Ft. Worth.

Accompanying them were their guests, Mrs. Nora Davis of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson and daughter, Peggy, of Junction City, Kansas. They visited their sisters and brothers, Mrs. Willie Clements and Virgil Smith of Ft. Worth and Mrs. Walter Clements of Dallas. This was the first time in 50 years the family had been together.

From Ft. Worth they went to Hillsboro and visited the old homestead. About 25 attended the reunion.

Roy C. Davis, Palomino horse breeder, was named president of the Texas Palomino Exhibitor's Association last week at the annual meeting held in Mineral Wells. He succeeds D. L. Haralson of San Angelo.

The Commissioners Court met Monday in regular monthly session and attended to routine business.

T. P. Simpson Dead

Funeral services for T. P. Simpson, 93, were conducted here at 10:00 a. m. Tuesday at the Methodist Church. Burial was in the City Cemetery. Lowe Funeral Directors were in charge. Rev. J. D. McWhorter conducted the rites, assisted by Rev. Ed. Lovelace.

Mr. Simpson, who formerly lived in Sterling City, died in a San Angelo hospital at 6:50 a. m. Monday.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Maggie Martin of San Angelo and two sons; Alvah Simpson of Los Angeles, Calif., and Pink Simpson of Abilene.

Pallbearers were James H. McCabe, Clell Ainsworth, John Copeland, Harold McCabe, Darrell Garrett and Leo Radde. Honorary pallbearers were W. J. Swann, Joe Emery, Riley King, J. S. Cole, C. J. Copeland, C. J. Bell, Emmett Westbrook, and J. F. Bryson and D. C. Lummus of San Angelo.

Noratadata Club

Mrs. G. C. Murrell was hostess to the Noratadata Club and guests when she entertained in her home here recently. Tables were arranged in the yard, and a salad course was served preceding games of bridge.

Prizes were given to Mrs. Tommie Johnson, high score, Mrs. Trion Revell, Bingo, and Mrs. Roland Lowe, high cut.

Club members present were: Mmes. Martin C. Reed, Harvey Hennigan, Fred Allen, Joe Mims, A. K. Garrett, Forrest Foster, Joe Emery, Reynolds Foster, Revell and Johnson and Miss Sue Nelson.

Guests: Mmes. Robert Foster, Riley King, Herman Garlington, Foyl Wilden, Roland Lowe and A. T. Bratton.

Misses Lucille Hodges, Freda Mae Hodges and Ruth Cole.

Feed Situtation Bad

M. C. Mitchell, local feed store owner, says the feed situation is facing the worst shortage in history. The companies have cut off the dealer's commissions and still have no feed for operators - to speak of. Mitchell says he will gladly help try to locate feed for anyone, but he advises everyone to buy when and where they can.

Absentee Voting Begins

Absentee voting began on Monday of this week and will be continued until July 24th - three days before the election.

Anyone who is going to be out of the county on July 27 should go by the clerk's office and vote absentee.

Nomination in the Democratic Primary is tantamount to election in Texas as everyone knows.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McEntire, Jr. and little daughter, Ruth Elliott are spending the week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McEntire, Sr. The younger McEntires are from Hollywood, California.

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. McElroy Ray and son, Sammie, have returned home to Dallas after visiting Mr. Ray's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Glass. Other visitors at the Glasses last week were Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Ray, Jr. of Belton. Mrs. W. E. Grigsby of Sanderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glass, is here this week visiting. Mr. Glass observed his 85th birthday last week.

Carlene Ballou of Albuquerque, N. M. is here visiting the M. E. Churchills and the Earl Baileys.

Dr. W. J. Swann says he weighed the little Dees baby and it now weighs two pounds and four ounces. Doc said the little premature baby was gaining all the time.

R. J. Pederson, employee of the Soil Conservation Service, underwent an appendectomy last Friday in a San Angelo hospital. He is recovering nicely.

J. S. Cole, Sr., cashier at the First National Bank, is on his vacation.

L. F. Wallace is tending to the courthouse lawn and building while A. W. Dearen is on his vacation.

Notice, Prospective Collegians

Students who plan to enter college this fall should see Supt. O. T. Jones or Principal Chesley McDonald by August 15th. Transcripts have been sent to colleges for Betty Jane Donalson, Peggy Hinshaw, Joe Snead Jr., Billy Findt and Ernestine Cole.

For boys who have been in the service Dan Dearen, Weldon Phillips, Joe Conger and Tom Dee Davis have had transcripts sent to Texas Tech College at Lubbock, Texas.

SCHOLASTIC CENSUS

Any child now living in the community who has not been placed on the school census anywhere, and between the ages of 6 and 18 can be placed on a supplementary roll now according to O. T. Jones. For information leading to securing another one on the census roll you may help your school and receive a reward of $1.00 for each one accepted. This should be attended to soon.

Any student who has moved to this community from any of the counties or schools adjoining our county should be transferred before July 31st. See Supt. O. T. Jones for information regarding this transferring or have the County Supt. from the other county to make this transfer.

Child Bridegroom

LOUISA, KY. — (Soundphoto) — Delbert "Shorty" Sprouse, 18, is shown with his 79-year-old bride-to-be, Mrs. Mattie Lyons Large, a widow with 49 grandchildren. Denied a marriage license because he is a minor, Delbert finally obtained consent of his parents and got a license shortly thereafter. Although they have not found a minister to marry them, plans are going ahead for the wedding to be at Mrs. Large's home at Gladys, Ky. The Large and Sprouse families have been neighbors for years.

Senator Allan Shiver's platform for lieutenant governor briefly includes: Real assistance to Texas war veterans, increased salaries for teachers, a first class university for the colored, better highways and farm to market roads, redistricting, full payment of old age pensions, reorganization of the legislature with 60 day sessions each year, an expanded public health program, reorganization of the pardon and parole system, equal responsibility from both labor and management, economy in state government.

Skating at Gym Every Night-Starting Monday

8:00 to 10:30 O'clock

Roller skating under the direction and supervision of a Mr. Morton of Abilene will begin next Monday night at the school gym, announced recreational director Chesley McDonald this week.

Sponsored by the P.T.A., the skatings will be held each Monday through Saturday night from 8:00 to 10:30. Other clubs of the town will assist in handling refreshments, said McDonald.

An admission charge of 40c will be made. Spectators will be admitted free. Afternoon classes will started if the demand is great enough, said McDonald.

McDonald said it was being planned to air condition the gym.

For Meals of Distinction Serve Your Own Homemade Jelly

Home made jelly adds distinction to any meal. Good jelly is made by cooking the correct amount of sugar with the juice of any full flavored fruit. Many juices can be used as is, but some require the addition of fruit acid or a solidifying agent called pectin and others need both acid and pectin.

Tart apples, blackberries, dewberries, cranberries, currants, gooseberries, grapes, sour plums, sour oranges, usually have enough of both acid and pectin for making jelly. Apricots, cherries, peaches, raspberries, pears, strawberries usually lack either or both acid and pectin, but make excellent jelly when combined with an equal amount of tart apple jelly juice or with commercial pectin. If pectin is used, the instructions supplied with it must be followed.

It is a good plan to can unsweetened fruit juice and make it into jelly as needed, because freshly made jelly has a much better flavor than that which has stood several months.

We are indebted to Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director for Ball Brothers Company, manufacturer of fruit jars, for a few notes which should be helpful to those who have not already mastered the art of making jelly or superior quality.

JELLY NOTES

For natural jelly "like mother used to make," use fruits which under normal conditions contain enough pectin and acid to yield a good jelly.

For unusual jellies, combine the juices of such fruit as red cherries, strawberries, or apricots with an equal amount of apple juice or with a good commercial pectin.

Fruit should be hard-ripe for jelly making. Under-ripe fruit lacks flavor, that which is "cream and sugar" ripe won't jelly; however, some persons prefer to use half under-ripe and half fully ripe fruit.

Cook fruits until soft but not mushy to extract the juice. Cooking is necessary in order to extract the pectin from the pulp. Cut apples in small pieces, skin, core and all. Crush small fruits before cooking.

Remove grapes from stems and caps from berries to prevent off-flavor.

The amount of water to add to fruits for cooking varies. Apples require enough to cover. Most juicy fruits need just enough to prevent sticking; however, a few, cranberries, for example, require more.

If you have no jelly stand and bag, tie two thicknesses of cheese cloth over the top of a deep enamelware kettle of a clean dish pan. Pour the hot fruit on the cloth and let drip free of juice. (The fruit from which the juice has drained may be put through a colander and used for making butter or jam.)

Don't make the mistake of using too much sugar. The general rule is three cups to one quart of juice, but currants and green gooseberries usually work out better if three and a half to four cups of sugar are used to each quart of juice.

Cane and beet sugar are equally satisfactory for making jelly.

One-fourth of the granulated sugar called for in a recipe may be replaced with corn sirup.

Sugar crystals are likely to form in jelly if: (1) it is cooked too long, (2) too much sugar is used, (3) there is not enough acid in the juice, (4) it is left standing unsealed.

The needle shape crystals in grape jelly are caused by the tartaric acid in the grapes. These crystals seldom form in jelly made from unsweetened canned juice. Canned juice should be strained before using. Jelly made from fresh grape juice is less likely to contain crystals if the juice is left in the refrigerator for 24 hours before using. It should be strained to remove any crystals which may form in it.

Gummy jelly is usually caused by overcooking or by long slow cooking.

Jelly may be cloudy if: (1) the juice is not carefully strained, (2) under-ripe fruit is used, (3) allowed to cool too much before pouring into glasses, (4) sauce pan is held high above the glass when the jelly is poured (this traps air bubbles).

Jellies may "weep" if: (1) not cooked enough, (2) glasses are filled too full, (3) glass not clean above the paraffin, (4) paraffin more than one-eighth inch thick or does not touch sides of glasses.

Use regular jelly glasses as they are the right size and shape.

Boil jelly glasses 20 minutes to sterilize—then drain dry.

Cook jelly rapidly and in small batches, not more than two quarts at a time.

Jelly must be cooked to the finish point. That's when it sheets from a metal spoon. This happens when instead of leaving the side of a tilted spoon in a stream, the last of the sirup divides into two large drops which meet and then slide off the spoon together.

Leave at least one-fourth inch space at the top when filling jelly glasses. Do not spill or splash jelly on the inside rim of the glass.

Use a sterilized spoon to remove bubbles or scum from jelly before it is covered with melted paraffin.

When covering with melted paraffin, turn the jelly glass in the hand so that the paraffin will touch the sides of the glass all the way around. Never use paraffin more than once.

Cover jelly with metal lids and store in a dry place. Dampness causes spoilage.

Haphazard methods yield haphazard results whereas following reliable instructions gives reliable results in form of excellent jelly.

Mrs. Brodie*BALANCES the Budget!

"You have to be a trained seal to balance a budget these days!" complains Mrs. Brodie.

"Everything costs so much! Take clothing—when you can get it," says Mrs. Brodie, "and look at the price tags! And food—that's simply skyrocketed! House furnishings—if you can find a house to furnish—are way up!"

"But not electricity!" says Mrs. Brodie. "No, indeed!" says Mrs. Brodie.

"Electricity

has been coming down steadily for years!"

"Electricity," says Mrs. Brodie, "is just about the easiest thing in my budget to balance!"

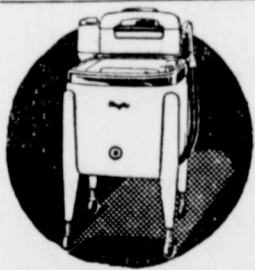

If you have a budget to balance—and who hasn't?—you'll appreciate that the low cost of electricity is no accident. It took plenty of practical planning and experience on the part of the folks in this company who—like Mrs. Brodie—have budgets to balance, too.

Mighty Fittin'—Those Old- Time Tomato Preserves

"How dear to my heart are the scenes of my childhood!" Memories of old oaken buckets belong to a vanishing generation but almost everybody has fond recollections of the favorite foods of his childhood. Every year a good many people write Gladys Kim-brough, Home Service Director for Ball Brothers Company, manufacturer of fruit jars, requesting a recipe for pickles or preserves "like my mother or grandmother used to make."

An Old Favorite

A recipe popular a half century ago appeared in an early edition of the Ball Blue Book. It reads:
"To every pound of small yellow tomatoes allow one pound of sugar.
Put the tomatoes and sugar together and to every seven pounds of sugar allow the juice of three lemons. Let stand together all night and in the morning drain off the sirup and boil. (The recipe doesn't tell how long, but 10 minutes should do.) Put in the tomatoes and simmer for twenty minutes after they boil. Remove the tomatoes and allow the sirup to boil until thick.
Just before taking from the fire, add the lemon juice. Put the fruit in the jars and cover with boiling sirup. Seal immediately."

If a more modern recipe is wanted, you might try:
2½ pounds (peeled) small tomatoes
2½ pounds sugar
2 cups water
¼ ounce whole ginger
1½ lemon (sliced thin)
½ ounce of stick cinnamon

Boil together water, sugar, lemon and spices for fifteen minutes; add tomatoes, a few at a time, and cook gently until the tomatoes become bright and clear. Then pour into shallow pans, cover and let stand over night. Pack the cold tomatoes into hot jars and strain the sirup over them. Process twenty minutes at simmering.

If you are wondering where you are going to get the sugar, as who isn't, here is your recipe:

Recipe for Less Sugar

2 pounds tomatoes
2 cups sugar
2 cups corn sirup, light or dark ½ cup water
1 lemon
1 small orange
1 stick cinnamon
2 pieces ginger root
6 whole cloves
½ cup raisins

Use small, firm, red, yellow or green tomatoes. Scald one minute. Dip into cold water. Skin but do not core. Combine sugar, sirup, water, lemon, orange (sliced thin) and spices, and simmer 30 minutes. Remove spices. Add tomatoes and boil gently until they are bright and clear. Add raisins. Cover and let stand over night. Pack cold tomatoes into hot fruit jars. Boil sirup until thick as honey and pour over tomatoes. Process 15 minutes at simmering.
