PWA To Seek To Expand Program

MORE MILLIONS WILL BE ASKED IN MOVE TO CREATE JOBS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The PWA quietly is paving the way for another huge appropriation for projects designed to create jobs in every corner of the nation.

The administration is certain, well informed persons said, to ask for more millions perhaps billions. How much congress will provide is a question that can be answered only with a guess.

Amount Not Decided

The exact amount to be asked has not been decided. The question of how much will be spent is linked, apparently, with future trends in private business activity. President Roosevelt, though not mentioning PWA specifically, has said government spending and lending will taper off as soon as private initiative takes over the job.

His industrial recovery chief, Donald Richberg, said in New York yesterday that a "clearly emerging" issue is whether private enterprise shall re-employ "four or five million willing workers" or whether government must try to do it. He said he preferred to have private resources do it.

To Speed Up Work

The PWA is preparing to lay before congress a list of operations which might be launched quickly if its coffers, once brimming with $3,700,000,000, are replenished.

A number of government agencies, accordingly, have been asked to speed up public works projects for which they have received funds already and to determine what future developments might stimulate employment.

"Pretty Boy" Is At Home To Stay

SALLISAW, Okla., Oct. 26 (AP)—Charles A. (Pretty Boy) Floyd came home to stay today.

In the chill gloom before dawn, a crude wooden box with iron handles was unloaded on the station baggage platform.

Two brothers of the notorious desperado, E. W. and Bradley Floyd and an undertaker, stepped forward to claim the body.

Whether the public will be allowed to view the body of the outlaw slain in Ohio by federal officers has not been decided. The body was taken to a funeral home where it will remain until the funeral services at the Akins community Sunday afternoon.

HUNT IS MADE FOR BODIES

MAN ADMITS SLAYING SIX PERSONS AND WOUNDING TWO

(By The Associated Press)

QUEBEC, Oct. 26.—Police said today that a former mail carrier admitted slaying six persons and wounding two others yesterday.

Officers hunted for the bodies of two of the dead while doctors worked to save J. B. L. Morin, postmaster of Quebec, from becoming the seventh to succumb. A mail clerk, the eighth victim of crazed gunfire, was wounded only slightly.

Three Bodies Found

Two sisters, a niece, two nephews and his former employer were the ones whom J. Rosaire Bilodeau said he killed while running amuck. He led officers last night to the bodies of the three women and search was started in a woods for the nephews.

The dead were:

Oscar Fiset, divisional superintendent of the Quebec postal service.

Marie Bilodeau, 63, Bilodeau's sister.

Rosalie Bilodeau, 62, also a sister.

Yvett Gauvin, 21, his niece.

Bilodeau also said he killed his nephews, Gaston Gauvin, 20, and Fernand Gauvin, 18, brothers, who are missing from home.

"Taken For Rides"

Authorities said Bilodeau told them he disposed of the five relatives by taking them on two automobile drives. First he drove his

SENATE PLANS ACT MONDAY ON REPORT

PLAN IS APPROVED BY HOUSE BY MAJORITY OF TWO THIRDS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 26—Final legislative action on a bill to give emergency relief to financially hard-pressed delinquent taxpayers today was delayed by the senate until Monday.

A conference report on the bill, which would release penalties and interest for payment by March 1 and provide reduced penalties for deferred remittances through 1935, filed by Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth. On his motion the question of adopting it was set for Monday morning.

House Adopts Report

The house previously had adopted the report by a majority of more than two thirds.

Companion legislation, to provide a permanent method for easing the burden of payment of property taxes, was sent to a conference committee for adjustment of differences between the two houses. The senate and house agreed in principal, but differed in details, especially proposed discounts for early paymenis and scale of penalties for late remittances.

First to clear all legislative hurdles was a bill to remit approximately $6,000,000 ad valorem taxes to the Brazos river conservation and reclamation district for a huge flood control and hydro-electric power project on that stream. Remitted taxes would be used as the basis of an application for a $50,000,000 federal loan.

It bore final approval of both houses. Actual transmittal to the governor may be effected today.

Debate Resumed

The house resumed debate on a senate bill to form the lower Colorado river authority, a public agency to develop and operate with a $4,500,000 PWA loan and grant the

Negro Attacker Is Held By Mob

ARMED BAND OF HUNDRED MEN STORM JAIL AND TAKE CONFESSED SLAYER FROM OFFICERS; FATE IS UNKNOWN SEVERAL HOURS LATER

(By The Associated Press)

BREWTON, Ala., Oct. 26.—An armed mob of about 100 men stormed the Escambia county jail here today between 2 and 3 a. m., and seized Claude Neal, 23-year-old negro, who allegedly confessed yesterday to the attack and murder of Miss Lola Cannidy, 23, at Greenwood, Fla., a week ago.

Sheriff G. S. Byrne said the men came to the jail in 30 automobiles bearing Florida license plates.

"We're going to take him to Marianna (Fla.), and turn him over to the girl's father and let him do what he wants to with him," leaders of the mob told Jailer Jaike Shanholster.

At 10 a. m. today nothing had been heard from the mob or its captive, Sheriff Byrne said.

Shanholster, who was covered by pistols by the mob leaders, unlocked the negro's cell door, said the chief.

"They assured Mr. Shanholster they were not going to harm him (Neal) and were going to turn him over to Miss Cannidy's father at Marianna," said Sheriff Byrne. "Of course, I know something has already happened to him."

Jail attaches said the negro was placed in the first of the 30 cars and that the others trailed behind.

JAPAN NOT TO MODIFY PLAN

U. S. AND BRITISH OIL PROTESTS ARE TO BE IGNORED BY NIPPON

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Oct. 26—Japan disclosed today it has told the United States and Great Britain it is unable to ask Manchoukuo to modify a proposed oil monopoly program and advised them to approach the Manchoukuan government directly.

Violations Claimed

Representations had been made to Tokyo by the two countries, along with the Netherlands, alleging the monopoly would violate the nine-power treaty and the "open door" policy and work serious hardships on foreign oil companies.

The foreign office, in the summary made public today, said Japan's position was outlined in informal notes handed the Anglo-American embassies nearly three months ago.

Japan asserted the measures would not violate the "open door."

Earlier a spokesman for the foreign office said the nine-power treaty, guaranteeing the "open door" in China, is "inapplicable to Manchoukuo."

"May Be Withdrawn"

Various pledges made by Japanese and Manchoukuan leaders to maintain the open door in Manchuria were unilateral declarations

STATE ALTERS ITS CHARGE

TO CLAIM LINDY BABY SLAIN BEFORE TAKEN FROM ITS CRIB

(By The Associated Press)

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 26—The contention that the Lindbergh baby was killed before it was snatched from its crib at Hopewell on the night of March 1, 1932 has been disclosed as a charge the state will make at the trial of Richard Bruno Hauptmann.

This disclosure, coming from an authoritative source, followed a revelation that Dr. John F. Condon, the "Jafsie" of the Lndbergh case, had identified Hauptmann was the man to whom he paid $50,000 in ransom money on a Bronx cemetery a month after the kidnaping.

May Contend Either

Hitherto it had been expected the state would simply charge at Hauptmann's trial at Flemington on January 2 that the baby had been dropped when the ladder broke under the weight of the kidnaper.

A high authority said the state's contention that the baby was killed in the house would not prevent the prosecution from charging also that the child was killed in the flight down the ladder, or even subsequently.

"It is necessary to prove the child met death in connection with the burglary," this person said, "that is all. It is immaterial whether death occurred before the burglary, or during the burglary and the New Jersey law permits the prosecution to contend either or both."

East Texas Crude Price Still Aloft

KILGORE, Oct. 26. (AP)—East Texas crude oil prices remained aloft today as federal forces worked at the task of plugging a hole through which countless barrels of illegally produced petroleum has escaped from the rich field—endangering the nation's price structure.

Three price cuts reported in the mid-continent industry failed to shake the vast East Texas field and a general price of $1 a barrel still prevailed.

Bank-Government Cooperation Seen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—High officials of the American Bankers association, expressing confidence that their 60th convention marked "better understanding" with the government, put their policy of cooperation into effect today.

Officers of the association planned to lunch with George N. Peek, head of the import-export bank, to discuss what private bankers can do to assist this government undertaking designed to increase trade.

OPEN CLASHES REPORTED IN TWO AREAS

FASCIST HOME GUARD AND CATHOLIC STORM TROOPS AT ODDS

(By The Associated Press)

VIENNA, Oct. 26—Events in Austria appeared to be heading toward a crisis today. The political situation at present seems to be more dangerous and complicated, veteran observers said, even than it was before July 25, when Chancellor Dollfuss was assassinated.

Differences between the Heimwehr (fascist home guard) and Catholic storm stroops appear to be increasing daily, despite official assurances to the contrary.

Fighting Reported

Open clashes between these two armed groups, on which the government depends almost entirely for its existence, were reported today from Innshruck and Graz. In Innsbruck the fighting was so serious police had to be called out and are now on double duty.

Renewed activities by the powerful but suppressed socialist and communist opposition, as indicated by raids last night and the arrest of more than 70 alleged propaganda agents, also are worrying the government.

It was reported today that Austrian troops which had been concentrated around the Austro-Yugoslav border since the July insurrection in this country had been withdrawn and dispatched to upper Austria and upper Styria, where communist and socialist forces were said to be planning separate uprisings.

Differences between political leaders themselves seemed to be developing toward the point where an open breach is unavoidable.

Heimwehr leaders are demanding that the country's new corporative parliament which will be inaugurated December 1, be composed entirely of representatives of the country's auxiliary armed forces. This demand for 100 per cent representation is strongly opposed by Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg and other Catholic leaders, especially Leopold Kunschak, head of the Catholic Trade union.

Housing Campaign To Open Here Soon

Lubbock's campaign under the federal housing act for the remodeling and repairing of homes and business structures is expected to be started shortly, W. G. McMillan, field manager, said today.

The executive committee, headed by John D. Mitchell, is planning to have its program ready within a few days. The city will be zoned, with a chairman in charge of each zone, and a campaign made to get property owners to agree to remodel their property.

Local banks are cooperating with the campaign. Building supply concerns and stores handling materials for repair and decorating also are cooperating.

RELIEF PROBE IS PROMISED FOR GROUP

HORDES THREATEN TO STARVE IN CAPITAL UNLESS AID GIVEN

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 26—"The starving hordes of Travis county," a little band of hungry men and women who threatened to starve themselves to death in the very halls of the state capitol, stayed at home today and awaited promised visits of relief officials.

Case workers of the local relief agency agreed to investigate their condition after the group had marched on the capitol with the avowed intention of "peacefully starving in the corridors of the state house."

Investigation Promised

They loitered about the galleries of the senate and house until nightfall and then wandered to the front steps of the building. They studied the statutes of General Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin—heroes of this state.

Shortly before midnight J. H. Lucas, representative-elect of Henderson county, mounted the steps and addressed the little band, huddled at his feet. If they would go to their homes, Lucas told them, he would personally see that each case would be investigated. They dispersed.

Previously, the band had sent a petition to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

"In desperation we come to you," the petition said. "All we ask is to be allowed to peacefully starve to death in the corridors of the state house."

Relief Units Flayed

Their compaints were registered against the relief administration of Travis county and indirectly, against

FIRST LADY DEFENDS FDR POLICIES IN SPIRITED BRUSH WITH CANDIDATE

(By The Associated Press)

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 26.—From her spirited brush with a Republican candidate over the policies of the president, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt turned back today toward her old home at Albany in her political stumping tour.

Of her decision to campaign for her friend, Mrs. Caroline O'Day, Democratic candidate for congressman-at-large, the president's wife said:

"In my own state where I have worked and know many people, I am sure they will understand."

In a speech here last night, which followed her impromptu defense of the new deal at Buffalo earlier in the day, Mrs. Roosevelt declared she had expected criticism for departing from White House precedent. This had always held the first lady apart from politics.

"Despite the fact that a number of people think a woman in the White House should not take part in politics, I decided after thought that in my own state where I have worked and know many people I am sure they will understand," Mrs. Roosevelt said.

"The principal reason is because I happen to believe in democracy and the need of the right type of women in politics."

Mrs. Roosevelt's appearance at Buffalo had reprecussion in a rally addressed by Robert Moses, Republican candidate for

TEXAS SENATORS ASK RICE TO OFFER BROADCAST ON OWL-STEER GRID TILT

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 — Texas senators by formal resolution today requested Rice Institute to permit a radio broadcast of its team's football game with the University of Texas.

Senators Joe Moore of Greenville and John W. Hornsby of Austin stated in the resolution many persons could not obtain tickets. A broadcast would benefit not only Texans but those of other states interested in the two teams because of intersectional victories, they noted.

By refusing a broadcast, Rice officials were "not dealing fair," they averred.

"This legislature has made itself sufficiently ridiculous by dealing in matters not vital to public policy," admonished Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur.

"This is about as vital to the peace and happiness, and security and welfare of Texans as some of the legislation we have discussed," retorted Senator Moore. "Why penalize our boys and girls?"

"Huey Long paid the way for his boys and girls to see their big game tomorrow," interjected Senator George Purl of Dallas, "but our boys can't even hear their game."

"Texas has received more favorable national publicity in the last three weeks because of its gridiron conquests than for a long, long time," added Senator Moore.

Banker Accused Of Begging On White House Steps

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—A banker borrowed a quarter from a reporter today and was accused by President Roosevelt of begging from the White House steps.

Francis M. Law, retiring president of the American Bankers association, found himself minus the change to pay a taxicab bill when he arrived at the White House for a call on the president. He borrowed the quarter from a White House correspondent.

When the story reached Mr. Roosevelt, he smilingly accused Law of begging from the White House steps.

To restore Law's credit, Robert V. Fleming, vice president of the bankers association, loaned him a quarter in the presence of the president and this was returned to the reporter.

MODERN MARCIA RIDES THE TRAIN OF TOMORROW AND DISCOVERS A THRILLING NEW COFFEE, TOO!

WHY THIS RARE MOUNTAIN COFFEE GIVES YOU RICHER TANG AND FLAVOR

Really DIFFERENT from Any Other Coffee Known!

THERE'S no mystery about coffee. There are many grades of coffee just as there are many grades of silverware. The cheaper coffee comes from the lowlands. And the richer-flavored coffees come from high up in the mountains.

Because Folger's is real mountain coffee—it is deliciously different from the lowland coffees used in ordinary brands. Folger's is grown on tiny plantations high up in the mountains—where clear, bright sunshine, steaming tropical rains, and an odd type of volcanic soil combine to give coffee a rare winy tang and extra rich flavor that makes ordinary coffee taste thin and flat by comparison.

Experts know this. And they'll tell you there's no way of roasting or packaging coffee that can bring out flavor that nature didn't put there in the first place! Delicious tang and flavor has to be grown in—as it is in Folger's!

It may be news to you—but you can easily afford to serve this finer coffee in your home. For even though you may pay a few pennies more per pound for Folger's—it's so much richer in flavor that you can use ¼th less! That means you get more cups—and after all, that's the way to figure a coffee's cost—by its price per cup.

Folger's fresh mountain flavor is especially appealing to men! This coffee is served in the dining cars of 10 great railroads; in many of the finest hotels and clubs where men's tastes are catered to! Order Folger's for your home today!

TO GET BETTER DRIP COFFEE—Use FOLGER'S DRIP GRIND—Vacuum-Packed! You can't get best results by using cheap coffee or the wrong granulation. Right Of Rooster To Crow Is Upheld

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Oct. 26 (AP)—The court has upheld a rooster's right to crow in this city, irrespective of its effect on a nervous neighbor.

The nervous one appealed to Magistrate S. H. Adams to do something about the cock's noise-making every morning between the hours of 4 and 6.

"My neighbor once had a bantam rooster with a crow like a tin whistle," he complained. "I gave him $2 for the rooster just to get it out of the way. Then he bought a man-sized rooster with a voice like a fog horn. I can't stand it. I'm a nervous man."

Magistrate Adams searched the statute books but failed to find legal grounds for stopping the crowing.

Work of the expedition is scheduled to continue all winter.

POLICE GUARD FLOYD AIDE

ADAM RICHETTI UNDER HEAVY GUARD; FEAR GANG INVASION

LISBON, O., Oct. (AP)—Police and deputized riflemen throughout Columbiana county continued to stand guard today against a possible invasion by henchmen of Adam Richetti and his slain pal, Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd.

Authorities asid they were taking precautions not only against an attempt to free Richetti from the old county jail here, but also to protect those who aided in the apprehension of the notorious outlaws.

Ten marksmen with repeating rifles covered approaches to the jail. Sheriff Frank Ballantine said they will remain on duty until officers from Columbia, Mo., arrive with papers for Richetti's removal there to face murder charges.

Department of justice agents, who were refused custody of Richetti when they sought him for the Union station massacre at Kansas City, also have not been withdrawn completely from the territory.

At least two federal operatives remained in East Liverpool. It was reported that they were continuing to investigate a theory that accomplices of Floyd and Richetti had accompanied them to Ohio.

RELIEF NEEDS ARE ASKED

ADMINISTRATORS TOLD TO ESTIMATE THEIR REQUIREMENTS

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Texas Relief commission has asked county relief administrators to submit estimates of their relief requirements for November.

Administrators were requested to report promptly and to avoid guesswork in their calculations. Estimates were sought on the number of new cases due primarily to drouth, to a decrease in seasonal farm employment on the increased cost per family due to lack of gardens and on seed and feed costs necessitated by the dry weather.

H. L. Davis, field supervisor, said the commission did not anticipate a noticeable increase in the November case load because October has been a mild month.

The commission also directed county administrators to survey livestock feed requirements and available supplies. Persons having feed surpluses for sale were requested to communicate immediately with the commission.

THREE AMERICAN PHYSICIANS ARE TO DIVIDE NOBEL AWARD IN MEDICINE

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 26 (AP)—Three American physicians who reckoned their success by the measure of their victory over the dread pernicious anemia today were awarded the 1934 Nobel prize in medicine.

Dr. George Minot and Dr. William P. Murphy of the Harvard medical school, and Dr. George H. Whipple of the University of Rochester, will divide the prize. It is most unusual for the award to go to three persons.

Once Held Incurable

The three scientists long battled the disease which until eight years ago was considered incurable.

Dr. Minot won wide scientific acclaim by his discovery in 1926 that liver cures pernicious anemia in human beings.

While Dr. Whipple in Rochester, N. Y., was proving that liver had helped clear up cases of anemia in animals, Dr. Minot and Dr. Murphy in Boston were using liver in the treatment of human beings.

They arrived at their results separately, but each has publicly paid tribute to the work of the other.

Began Work Early

Dr. Minot, 49, years old, is a director of the Throndyke Memorial laboratories at the city hospital in Boston and a professor of medicine at Harvard. The son of a doctor who continued his practice until he was in the eighties, Dr. Minot began his lifework early.

He was still a young medical student when his father, Dr. James J. Minot, called him into consultation in the case of a rare blood disorder in a ward of the Massachusetts General hospital. Two experienced physicians had been baffled by the case, but the young man diagnosed it correctly.

In 1925, he and Dr Murphy began the joint treatment of ten cases of pernicious anemia in human beings, using liver as a remedy. The actual announcement of their discovery was not made until the following year.

Heads Medical School

Dr. Whipple, a native of Ashland, N. H., and a graduate of John Hopkins medical school, has accomplished most of his scientific research since he went to Rochester in 1921 as dean of the Rochester Medical college.

He was formerly associate professor of pathology at Johns Hopkins, professor of research medicine and director of the Hooper foundation for medical research at the University of California medical school, and for two years dean of the school.

He has been president of both the American Society for Experimental Pathology and of the American Association of Pathologists and Bacterialogists.

REGENT ASKED BY EL PASO

MEMBER OF BOARD TO LOOK AFTER COLLEGE OF MINES SOUGHT

AUSTIN, Oct. 26. (AP)—El Pasoans, hopeful of regaining representation on the board of regents of the University of Texas for the College of Mines and Metallurgy, are boosting prospective candidates for the post even before the Nov. 6 general election.

For 18 years there was a member of the board from El Paso to look after interests of the College of Mines located there. It is a unit of the university, along with the School of Medicine at Galveston.

Two Are Mentioned

El Paso lost representation on the board when Governor Miriam A. Ferguson replaced R. L. Holliday and two others last year. Holliday and Frank Clayton have been mentioned for the position.

No promise or intimation of appointment has been made, of course, as a candidate for a public office is prohibited by the constitution from so doing prior to his election.

James V. Allred, Democratic nominee for governor, will have the customary three appointments to the board, although there will be four new members. L. J. Sulak of LaGrange, appointed last year by Governor Ferguson, will resign after his election as state senator in time to permit the administration to nominate another to complete the five years remaining of the term.

Those whose six-year terms expire in January of next year are Charles I. Francis, of Houston, formerly of Wichita Falls, Beauford Jester of Corsicana and Edward Randall of Galveston.

They were appointed by former Governor Dan Moody. Those appointed by former Governor Ross S. Sterling will serve two years longer and those by Governor Ferguson four years more.

If custom is followed by the next administration, one of the three appointees will be from Galveston, seat of the School of Medicine, the university's second branch.

MEXICO FACES ONE PROBLEM

EDUCATIONAL POLICY CONFLICT MAIN ONE FOR RODRIGUEZ

MEXICO, D. F., Oct. 26 (AP)—A conflict over educational policies is the only important immediate problem before the government as General Abelardo Rodrigues prepares to leave office as president December 1 after a little more than two years of an eventful "businessman's" administration.

The educational conflict is not of Rodriguez's making, it having grown out of opposition of students and Catholics to the plan of the governing national revolutionary party to make socialism the education of the state, and it is unlikely that it will be solved before he retires and President-Elect Lazaro Cardenas takes over the presidential duties.

Progress Made

Outside of this conflict, the record of Rodriguez's administration is one of freedom from any important internal disorders, and of considerable progress in putting into effect the aims of the revolutionary government. Known as a business man rather than a military leader or a politician, although he has held important military and government positions, Rodriguez has directed the legislation of a program designed to give numerous benefits to the working and agricultural classes and to guide the country toward a goal of socialism and nationalism.

Since he was named president on September 3, 1932, to finish the term of Pascual Ortiz Rubio who resigned, Mexico has recovered almost completely from the effects of the world wide depression, partly because of the government's monetary and industrial policies and partly on account of favorable international developments. Official reports show business and industry are now enjoying periods of prosperity, and the country's financial status appears better than it has been in many years.

Minimum Wages Set

Among the most important social measures General Rodrigues has put into effect is the minimum wage law, modeled on a program he developed while governor of Baja California. While still far from the ideal of a "minimum salary of eight pesos for eight hours of work," this law makes compulsory salaries of from one to three pesos daily with a resultant increase of the public purchasing power by 547 million pesos annually. In the several labor conflicts he has been called upon to arbitrate, the president has decided in each case in favor of the workers.

Codification of the agrarian laws and establishment of an independent agrarian department to realize the revolutionary aim of "land for every man who needs it," as well as speeding up of the land distribution program, is also counted among the most important steps taken while Rodriguez has been in office.

No Revolutions

Not having had to spend time and money fighting revolutions, the government has concentrated on material works, such as the Laredo-Mexico City highway which will be completed shortly and the partial rebuilding and beautification of the capital. With the cooperation of the government, commercial aviation has been efficiently developed by both Mexican and American companies.

During his term, a previously vague tendency toward economic nationalism has been crystallized by such laws as those intended eventually to take the mining and petroleum industries out of foreign hands. At the same time foreign relations, and particularly those with the United States, have been improved by settlement of the claims question, signing of a treaty for rectification of the Rio Grande, and preparations for a treaty to settle the problem of international water rights. A proposal providing a method for resuming payments on Mexico's foreign debt is to be sent to congress before the president leaves office.

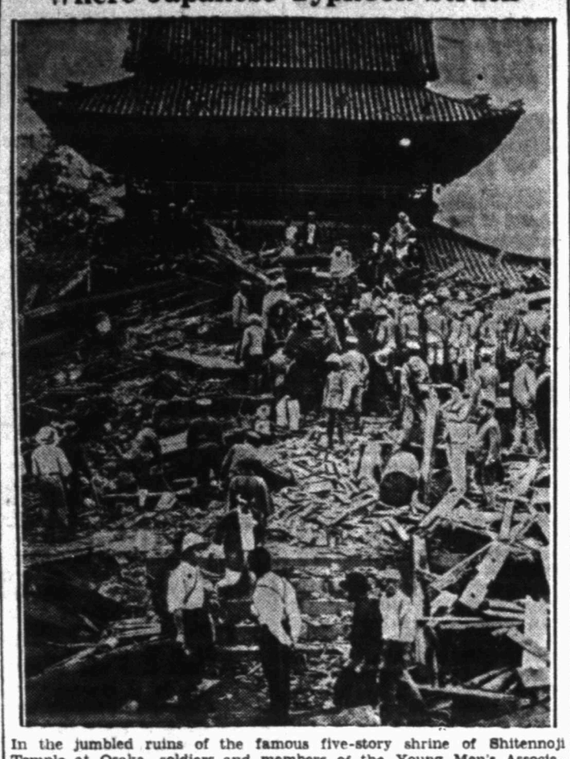

Most Popular Chief

Friends of Rodriguez attribute his personal popularity, which they claim is greater than that of any recent president, in part to the fact that both officially and personally he has more than generous in his attitude in regard to his political opponents. After the recent presidential campaign in which the oppositionists made many vituperative attacks against him both as a man and as president, Rodrigues personally requested that no charges be brought against them. He has also freed many persons arrested on allegations of anti-government activities.

Rodriguez is also regarded as an unusual figure among Mexican officials because of his lack of ostentatiousness. Except on state occasions when an escort is compulsory, he never travels with a bodyguard, riding generally alone or with a friend in his automobile. Frequently he goes alone with his wife to the moving pictures. The president learned baseball and other sports in his youth, and now at 39 is a skillful golfer, with a 76 on the difficult Mexico City course as his best score.

In spite of reports that he will be named director of railroads or to some other important government position, Rodriguez has repeatedly stated that on retiring from office he will return to take charge of his various business interests.

A tip to coffee lovers. Whatever the method you use (Drip or Percolator), buy a coffee prepared for that method. It's important. Here's why. In a Drip Maker, boiling water drips only once through a coffee prepared to yield its flavor quickly. In a Percolator, water passes many times through a coffee prepared to yield its flavor slowly. No coffee should try to serve both methods. "A Jack of all trades is master of none." There are two Schilling Coffees—one for Drip—one for Percolator.

YOUR GROCER WILL HELP YOU KEEP HEALTHY AND HAPPY

Delicious Cereal Promotes Regular Habits

The right kinds of foods form the very basis of health. You need nourishment for strength and energy. And you need "bulk" to prevent common constipation.

Otherwise, this ailment may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy. You can correct it, usually, by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN adds generous "bulk" to your daily menu. Tests show this "bulk" is similar to that found in leafy vegetables.

Inside the body, the fiber of ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

ALL-BRAN is also a good source of vitamin B and iron.

Isn't it safer—and pleasanter—to enjoy this food in place of taking patent medicines?

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will overcome most types of common constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into fluffy muffins and breads.

Remember, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is all bran with only necessary flavoring added. It contains much more kind of "bulk" than part-bran products. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ROOSEVELT ANSWERS WITH SMILE ALL QUESTIONS ABOUT CALIFORNIA RACE

BY CECIL B. DICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—President Roosevelt answered with nothing but a big smile today all questions about the California gubernatorial situation. In other Democratic quarters, however, it was indicated the administration is now looking somewhat askance toward the campaign of Upton Sinclair, the Democratic nominee.

Altogether the situation appeared confused because of a growing division of sentiment among Democrats here toward the former socialist's candidacy. Meanwhile, it was officially emphasized again that the White House is maintaining a "hands-off" policy.

Two Possibilities Seen

Talk around Democratic headquarters indicated many of the party leaders are taking the position that Sinclair has gone too far afield in advocating his "End Poverty in California" program, particularly in view of the platform adopted by the state convention.

From another source came word that some administration chieftains felt if Sinclair defeated Frank F. Merriam, the Republican nominee, his victory might lead to one of two things.

First, it was said, it might cause a spread of the Sinclair ideas to the other states and thereby affect the administration's national legislative program by encouraging demands for more radical measures.

Second, the word was that this victory under the Democratic label might impede what appears to be the conservative turn of the government and thus affect chances of the party in the 1936 elections.

Reaction Feared

On the other hand, it was noted that a Republican victory in California might tend to enhance that party's chances in the next presidential elections by starting a reaction.

That the national Democratic organization has been put in a tight spot by Sinclair's campaign is conceded in political circles. This attitude was expressed particularly in view of a mysterious letter Chairman Farley sent to California in connection with the candidacies of Sinclair and Senator Hiram W. Johnson, Republican independent supported by the administration.

TERRELL ASKS REAL AFFAIR

RETIRED CONGRESSMAN FAVORS CENTENNIAL TO "SELL TEXAS"

AUSTIN, Oct. 26. (AP)—George B. Terrell—the Texas Democrat who retired from congress because he could not reconcile his conservative views with "new deal theories"—waived some of his longtime rules to urge Texas to forget its depleted treasury and stage a real centennial in 1936.

The congressman-at-large from Cherokee county, who was the lone Democrat to oppose President Roosevelt's $950,000,000 CWA appropriation, proposed a "celebration that will sell Texas to the world."

"Would Advertise Texas"

"I know many patriotic people oppose the centennial celebration at this time because of the financial depression," Terrell stated.

"No one is more economical with public funds than I am, and I realize the present financial stringency, and know how difficult it is to raise money.

"But a great centennial celebration will bring millions of people to the state and hundreds of millions of dollars will be spent in Texas, and the advertising Texas will get is more than worth the money cost of the exposition.

"I have always opposed diverting the gasoline tax from the highway fund, and the present tax is high enough, but I see no other safe and sure means of raising the necessary funds to put on a creditable and worthwhile exposition.

Waives Opposition

"Therefore, I waive my opposition to increasing the gasoline tax in order to secure the necessary funds to secure the greatest undertaking in the history of Texas—a celebration that will sell Texas to the world."

He proposed as "the quickest, easiest and surest way" of providing funds an increase of one cent a gallon gasoline. He estimated the boost would yield $8,000,000 a year. One provision included in his plan was repeal of the extra levy by April, 1936, when the exposition would be opened.

"Congress will probably appropriate $5,000,000, if the state makes an adequate appropriation to assure financial success," he predicted. "Dallas will vote $3,000,000, and with those funds a creditable celebration will be assured."

"Texas will never have another opportunity equal to this one," Congressman Terrell admonished, "to advertise her great natural resources and wonderful progress. This opportunity should not be lost through indifference and division of sentiment as to the methods and means of raising the money."

William Rufus, or William II, son and successor of William the Conqueror, was the only bachelor king of England. Edward V and Edward VI were never married, but they died before reaching their majority.

Amarilloan Asked To Buy His Own Cow

AMARILLO, Oct. 26 (AP) — The trick might have worked in the day of the rustlers.

An Amarillo man lost a cow and had an idea. He advertised in the paper that he wanted to buy a cow. The third cow offered him was his own.

Try To Beat This Home For $2365!

A beautiful home, with a farm of 15 acres, for $2365 sounds like Utopia, but it's an actuality in Crossville, Tenn., with the dwelling shown above as evidence. This is one of the completed homes in that federal subsistence homestead district, built of Crab Orchard stone, beautiful three-colored sandstone quarried in the homestead area, and hand-hewn timbers, obtained nearby at little cost. The homesteader pays part of his home cost in cash and part of it in labor.

AGED WOMAN DECLARES THERE'S TOO MUCH GRUMBLING ABOUT HARD TIMES

CROWELL, Oct. 26 (AP)—Mrs. N. A. Crowell, 73, "mother" of this Foard county town that bears her name, thinks there is too much "grumbling and worrying" about hard times.

Mrs. Crowell, with her husband, George T. Crowell, and three children, came to this section of West Texas in a wagon from Dallas in 1886 and made their first home in a dugout.

At that time, Mrs. Crowell declared, Oak Cliff, Dallas, could have been bought for $800.

Proud Of Hardships

"Some people think I wouldn't like to admit that I lived in a dugout, but I certainly am not ashamed of the hardships that my family had to put up with," Mrs. Crowell said. "Hardships must be met by all pioneers, and I am proud I may be called one of the pioneers of this section.

"We had just as hard times then as we have now," she continued, "but there wasn't as much grumbling and worrying then as now. Everybody was up against it, anyway, and we just looked forward to better times. All of us loved each other so much and that helped us to enjoy life a lot in spite of hard times."

Snake Pays Visit

The Crowell family soon learned that screens were necessary even in 1888. Once when Mrs. Crowell was in the bed sick she heard a rattling. She looked up and saw a large rattlesnake coiled in the window, which was level with the ground.

She called a girl who was helping with housework. The girl attempted to scare the snake away by pouring hot water on it. But the rattler went the wrong way, dropping into the room and crawling under a large trunk. One of the men had to be called to the house to kill the snake. Then screens were put up.

Foard county was created by the legislature in 1891 and a town was started on Crowell land and was given the name Crowell. Shortly afterward, the county government was organized, and Crowell was named the county seat.

Mr. Crowell died in 1909.

Mrs. Crowell, known affectionately as "Mother Crowell," is suffering failing health now, but she is well informed on current events.

"While we did get a lot of enjoyment out of the old days, I would hate for my children to go through with all we did," she said, "for at times the struggle was mighty hard and discouraging."

MEXICANS ARE GOING BACK

THOUSANDS SWARMING ACROSS BORDER TO THEIR HOMELAND

LAREDO, Oct. 26. (AP)—Unable to cope with the economic conditions prevailing in the United States, thousands of Mexicans are swarming back to their homeland.

Repatriation of these unsuccessful emigrants entails largely their finding livelihood in Mexico as agriculturists, either as independent farmers of farm laborers, for other industries in the southern republic cannot absorb them.

Movement Swells Heavily

Since the break of the depression in 1929, there have been successive waves of Mexicans recrossing the border, seeking a living in their original homes. About two years ago the "back to Mexico" movement reached a peak, then abated for a time, but now it has again swelled heavily.

The movement of Mexican nationals, mostly unemployed, from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and other states began to show marked increase about October 1 and has gradually become greater.

Officials say the movement this year may be as heavy as that of 1932, when about 50,000 Mexican nationals abandoned the United States through the port of Laredo.

Let's find out why
Turkish tobacco is so important to a good cigarette

Native tobacco grower telling American tourists how Turkish tobacco is cured.

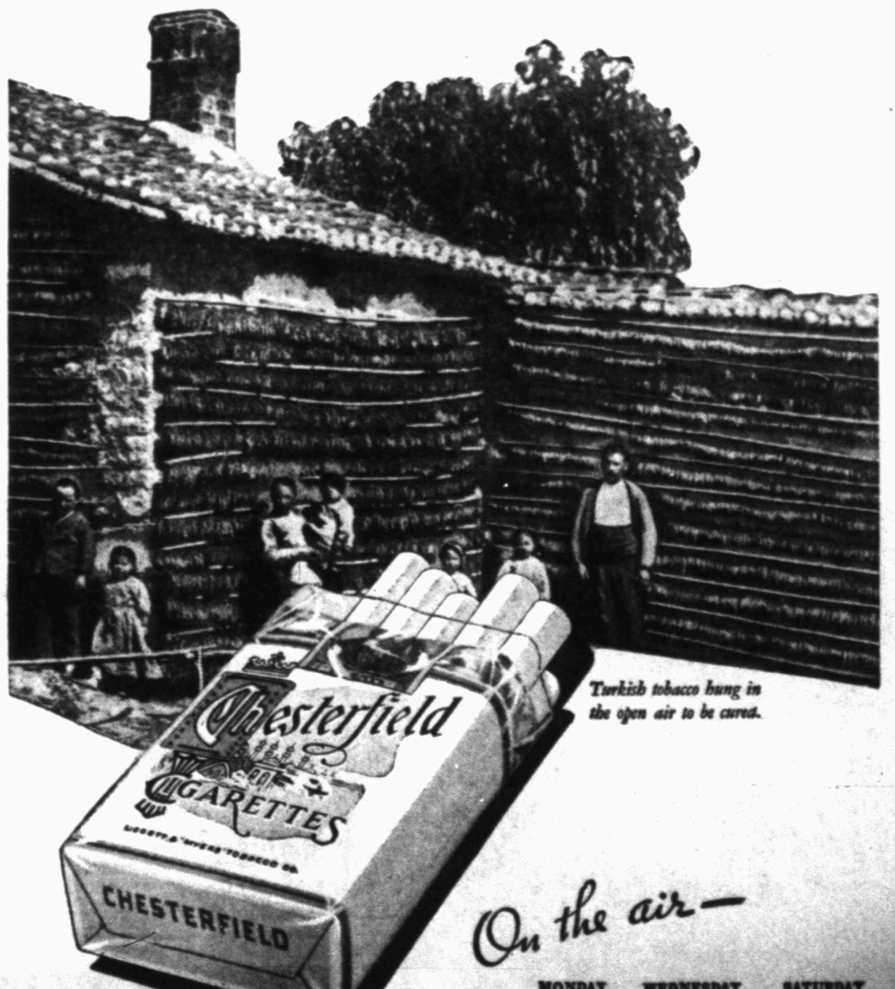

On the sunny slopes of Smyrna..in the fertile fields of Macedonia . . along the shores of the Black Sea . . grows a kind of tobacco that is different from any other tobacco in the world.

THESE Turkish tobaccos are the only tobaccos of foreign cultivation that are used to any great extent in making American cigarettes.

Turkish tobaccos are famous for their spicy aroma, and a blend of the right kinds of Turkish tobacco with our own home-grown tobaccos is better than any one kind used alone.

In Chesterfield we balance mild, ripe tobaccos grown in this country with just the right amounts of the right kinds of Turkish.

It is by blending and cross-blending these different tobaccos that we make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.

Turkish tobacco hung in the open air to be cured.

TAX ASSESSOR IS REMOVED

ED C. YOUNG CHOSEN TO REPLACE HOLLAND IN CITY OFFICE

City commission, meeting Thursday at City hall, removed the third major city official since the new mayor and city commissioners took office in April.

The ousted official was R. A. Holland, who had served as city tax assessor and collector for the past eight years.

Young Is Named

Less than five minutes after Mr. Holland's "at your request" resignation had been read by Mayor Ross Edwards, Ed C. Young, defeated commission candidate in the 1932 election and a candidate this year until a few days before the election, was named to fill the office.

Mr. Holland's resignation is to be effective November 1.

Following the commission meeting, he said he had been requested by Mayor Edwards to hand in his resignation. The request was made at 11:30 a. m. Thursday, two hours before the commission meeting.

Vote Is Unanimous

Mr. Young was named to the office upon motion by Commissioner A. J. Richardson and a second by Commissioner J. C. Royalty. The vote was unanimous. No other applicant for the post was considered, although each commissioner said he had received one or two other bids for the post.

Mr. Young this year announced as a candidate for the place Richardson won on the commission. A few days before the election Mr. Young withdrew from the campaign.

Discussion regarding salary of the office preceded election of Mr. Young and on Richardson's motion the pay was placed at $150 a month. Mr. Holland had received $225. Evidence that Young's election was "cut and dried" was given when a commission member said $150 was acceptable to the new official. Bond for the office is to be reduced from $25,000 to $10,000.

"Well, there's $900 more saved," Mayor Edwards remarked after Young had been named to the post.

Milk Ordinance Passed

Other action of the commission during the afternoon included passage at a second reading of a standard milk ordinance providing for sale of Grade A milk only in the city, and rescinding of an order calling for a hearing with Southwestern Bell Telephone officials October 30 regarding rate reductions.

The order was rescinded by the commission after an agreement with telephone officials in which the company pledged to pay a one and one-half per cent of gross revenues on the local exchange as a franchise tax until March 1 when an annual statement will be scrutinized by city officials to determine further action on rate reduction efforts.

The franchise tax will bring in from $1,200 to $1,500 annually, it was estimated.

Case Is Explained

The agreement was reached after A. O. Thomas, district manager of Lubbock, N. H. Moore, Amarillo district manager, and J. B. Patterson of Dallas, had explained their case to the commissioners.

City Manager W. H. Rodgers was instructed by the commission to "bear down" on enforcement of an ordinance against all-night parking of automobiles on downtown street.

Reading of Mr. Holland's resignation came near the close of the session, the majority of which had been taken up in discussion of the milk ordinance and the telephone situation.

Mr. Holland had been an employe of the city for the past ten years, working for two years in the tax office before being made assessor and collector in 1926.

No Immediate Plans

He said he had no immediate plans for the future.

Action on the tax man's resignation and appointment of a new man marked the third major change in the city's personnel under the new regime. City Secretary Jim Holt and Police Chief Wiley Metcalfe were replaced by new men soon after the new commission took office. W. O. Stevens replaced Holt and H. L. Johnston took Metcalfe's post.

John F. Bacon recently resigned as commissioner, declaring he was opposed to activities of the new commission.

On each occasion of the change in personnel at the City hall, the new commissioners have evidently ignored section 10 of the city charter referring to "further duties of the city commission" which states "The City Commission shall appoint the City Secretary, City Treasurer, City Marshal, City Tax Collector and the City Attorney, upon the recommendations of the City Manager and may remove either of said officers upon the recommendation of the City Manager or at will."

City Manager Rodgers made no recommendation Thursday in the change, remaining silent as he has done on the two previous removals.

Royal robes were once made from silk furnished by pen shells found along the Mediterranean. This mollusk spins the silk to moor its shell to the rocks.

The expression "stony-broke" originated from the old custom of breaking a craftsman's stone bench when he failed to pay his debts.

Double Wreck; 2 Die

Derailed with two other coaches in a wreck on the Rock Island railway at Iowa City, Ia., this club car was sliced open its entire length a few minutes later when a second passenger train crashed into it before warning signals could be posted. Passengers were hurled from their berths and seats and pinned under splintered wood and steel. Two were killed and eight injured, four critically. The rear car of the second train is seen at the right.

Retreat

ROCKFORD, Ill.—Burglars broke into the Illinois Central railroad freight house, but fled after prying open one packing case and looking inside.

The case contained Bibles.

Tragedy

CHICAGO—John Robinson, father of two children, had been out of work three years. Finally he landed a job. It meant his family could get off the relief roll and he left for work with a smile on his lips.

"You look 30, John," Mrs. Robinson said as he left, "but remember you're 50. Take it easy, but hurry home for supper."

Robinson never reached his job. He died of a heart attack on the street. The excitement had been too great, the doctors said.

Protection

BALTIMORE — Because two recent burglaries cost him $100 in goods, Abraham Shearer bought a watch dog for his tailor shop. Yesterday the dog chewed up two fur coats worth $500.

Neatest Trick

CONSTANCE, Ky.—A posse that combed hill and hollow looking for Arthur Halstead, charged with burglary and housebreaking, looked for some little time before they found their man. Then they discovered why he had been so elusive. He had joined the posse to search for himself.

Lucky Dad

FAIRMONT, W. Va.—Harry C. Connor, assistant night county jailer, became the father of a new baby daughter, and possessor of a year's supply of his favorite chewing tobacco.

With brother deputies, he wagered a keg of beer and cigars all around against the chewing tobacco that his expected new child would weigh over eight pounds. It weighed eight pounds and two ounces.

O, Gentle Wind

BERKELEY, Calif.—The police didn't blame the flower pot which fell two stories from a window and struck Miss Naomi Filber, 26, on the head. They entered her case at the emergency hospital where she was treated for a scalp wound as "victim of a vagrant wind."

It costs London more than $70 a week to maintain each bed in its smallpox hospital, and $25 to maintain each bed in its fever hospital.

LIVES LOST IN CHURCH WAR

CALLES FAVORS MOVE TO EXPEL CLERGY FROM MEXICO

MEXICO, D. F., Oct 26 (AP)—The first deaths resulting from the current official movement against the Catholic church in Mexico were reported today from Queretaro. Mistaken identity caused them.

Delayed dispatches from Hercules, Queretaro, just outside the state capital, said police and soldiers fired upon each when both forces mistook the other for persons attempting to prevent carrying out of the governor's order to close all churches. Several were killed and a number wounded.

Calles Backs Drive

Anti-Catholic elements, encouraged by the support of General Plutarco Elias Calles, moved to bring about the expulsion from Mexico of all archbishops and bishops.

The former president and "supreme chief" of the revolution told deputies and senators who visited him at Cuernavaca that Mexican Catholics were planning a subversive movement but the government "will know how to meet it."

"I am in accord with the majority of points in the plan of action formulated by the chamber of deputies against reactionaries and the clergy," he said.

Favors Expulsion

"I regard the expulsion of archbishops and bishops as necessary because they are the direct cause of the present agitation and especially because they are organizing in preparations for a movement."

A proposal by the chamber of deputies for expulsion of archbishops and bishops is still before the directors of the National Revolutionary (government) party. Meanwhile, churches have been closed in six states and priests expelled from several of them.

Other Rosa Volunteers officers elected included the following: A. B. Swank, Wills Point, first lieutenant and second in command; J. P. Kieber, Dallas, and W. E. Fitzgerald, Shreveport, La., second lieutenants; J. C. McHaney, San Antonio, secretary and treasurer. A first sergeant and line sergeant will be selected from among junior members of the company to be elected within a few weeks.

School Children To Visit The Capitol

GALVESTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—About 800 school children, many of whom have never seen the state capitol, will visit Austin on Saturday on an educational tour to be sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association council.

The trip, which will last one day, is one of a number of visits being made to the capitol by school children from cities in Texas.

Lubbock Faces Sweetwater, Tech Meets Loyola Tonight

MUSTANGS ARE UNDERDOGS OF GAME

WESTERNERS FAVORED TO DOWN INVADERS IN LOCAL CLASH

Sweetwater High school's football squad, whose zoological nickname is "the Mustangs," may also be designated as the underdogs when they meet the Lubbock High Westerners in an inter-conference embroglio at Matador Field, 7:45 o'clock tonight.

The Westerners occupy the favorite's pedestal and should stow away their antagonists without uncoiling their neaviest punches.

Last year and many of the years before that, slapping the Ponies about was a heavy chore. But this fall the calibre of Coach Ed Hennig's herd is not so high, according to scores of the football games they have, so far, played.

The Mustangs are to arrive here late today. They are to catch a night train so they won't be with us long. Long enough, however, to spring a tremendous up-set. Rise from the ruck of a poor season's start to smite the Westerners.

Westerners Are Alert

So it is against anything like this that the pupils of Coaches Weldon Chapman and Berl Huffman will be alert. The Mustangs work from a nine-man line with a tricky variation of the Southern California shift.

The physical condition of the Westerners will not be uniformly good for the struggle. There are no broken legs or noses, but the workouts during the latter part of this week have been very hard at Fair Park, and have left their trail of bruises and aches.

Morris White, Chapman's brilliant running halfback, stepped into one of the irrigation canals that someone has been digging around and through the high school practice lot. Morris stepped into one of these little ditches while running down under a pass. He fell and hurt his leg against a pipe. This may handicap White considerably tonight.

Chapman indicated yesterday that he would start the same line of huskies who have carried the Westerners through a stiff quintet of games, thus far, with a record of four victories and one deadlock.

The backfield will consist of White, Robert Allen Hill, Charles Calhoun, and "Squarehead" Barnes. Starkey Whitehorn, Dixie White, Weldon Phillips, Woodrow Aycock, Robert Dowell, Captain Howell Young and Ocie Griggs will be on the line.

Wednesday the Westerners hustled through their stiffest drill of the week. A lot of practice at blocking and tackling was included in the workout. Then to top off the session the reserves, coached in Sweetwater plays, were hurled at the regulars.

Ticket Sales Good

There was no abatement in the training camp regime yesterday.

E. J. Lowrey, business manager of athletics at Lubbock High, reported a brisk sale of tickets yesterday. The ducats, now on sale at J. and J. Sporting Goods store, will be sold at the field after 5 o'clock this afternoon. Price for adult tickets is 75 cents. Texas Tech students will be admitted for 25 cents providing they present student activity booklets.

DECATUR HERE ON SATURDAY

BAPTISTS WILL MEET TECH PICADORS IN NIGHT CONTEST

First glimpse of the Texas freshmen football machine for this year may be obtained when the Picadors come to grips with Decatur Junior college at Matador Field Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

The Picadors play only two home games this season. The contest Saturday night is one of them.

Green Wave

Sheathed in their green uniforms with candy-stick socks of jade and white, the husky-bodied Picadors are a comforting sight when one thinks of the hard games for Tech probably forthcoming next season.

Yesterday the team shined up its offense in a scrimmage with the varsity reserves. Today the squad will take a light calisthenics drill, although none of the workouts this week have been particularly strenuous. Injuries are already rife in the squad and Coach Ballard is taking no chance on addition causalities. Turn, one of the guards, is now in the hospital, not with a football injury, however. Keen another guard is out with hurts.

Decatur continues to be a team about which no information may be obtained. When the team trots on the field it will be like the Masked Marvel entering the wrestling arena. All the information Ballard has about the club is that it will definitely be here Saturday night.

Burned Child Fears The Fire, But Football Guesser Hardier

PROGNOSTICATOR BACK AGAIN WITH WEEK'S GRID FORECASTS

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—The burned child may fear the fire but football guessers are a hardier, or a less wise, breed.

Notwithstanding the scars already incurred in the line of duty this season, they were at it again today, hoping old man upset would keep his meddling fingers out of the pie for once. From this corner, week-end prospects seemed about as follows:

Yale-Army: Army, unbeaten, untied, unscored upon and untested. Yale, beaten once but coming along fast as witness the 37-0 rout of Brown last week. The Cadets, led by Jack Buckler, seem to have far the better running attack but must beware of that demon passer, Jerry Roscoe. A not-too-certain ballot for Army.

Minnesota Is Favored

Minnesota-Iowa: There's no choice but Minnesota here but the Gophers will have to keep Oze Simmons and Dick Crayne well covered and keep their own game at the same high level that overcame Pitt.

Stanford-Southern California: Here's the logical spot for one of the season's outstanding upsets but it's a sheer impossibility to pick anyone but Stanford.

Alabama-Georgia: Close action almost certain but Alabama's Crimson Tide, leading Southeastern conference contender, gets the call.

Rice-Texas: The Southwest conference title may hang on this one with Rice a narrow choice.

Penn-Navy: Penn has shown encouraging progress the last two weeks but hardly enough to overturn Navy's unbeaten array, featuring Buzz Borries and Bill Clark.

Illinois Gets Nod

Michigan-Illinois: Michigan finally broke its touchdown famine against Georgia Tech last week but seems fated for another beating by the Illini and their tricky offensive.

Washington-California: Both are regarded now as possible Pacific coast conference champions and it probably will take a "break" or two to decide this tussle. A vote for Washington.

Baylor-Texas A. and M.: The results to date would seem to indicate an edge for Baylor, but there's little to choose between them.

Carnegie Tech-Purdue: The Boilermakers look too strong for Carnegie.

Fordham-Southern Methodist: One of the Southwest's best pitted against the team that was roundly outplayed by St. Mary's last week. A perhaps too-trusting vote of confidence in Fordham's ability to solve the Mustangs' passing.

Ballot For Irish

Notre Dame-Wisconsin: Notre Dame beat Purdue by two touchdowns; Purdue beat Wisconsin by two touchdowns. Two and two makes four. That won't be the margin in this game, but a vote for Notre Dame just the same.

Tulane-Georgia Tech: Tech returns from its midwest invasion just in time, probably, to take a beating.

Vanderbilt-Louisiana State: Two Southeastern contenders collide here and one's title hopes will crash. The coin says Louisiana State to win.

Washington State-Oregon State: A close one, Washington tate.

Harvard-Dartmouth: Stringing along with another unbeaten but untested outfit, Dartmouth, narrowly.

Holy Cross-Colgate: Holy Cross perfect record will be seriously threatened here but the Crusaders get the nod.

Northwestern-Ohio State: This Ohio State team is good.

Gents Should Win

Centenary-Texas Christian: Centenary usually spells trouble for most Southwest conference teams; last week's defeat of Texas indicates this year is no exception.

Utah-Oregon: Utah never has much luck against Pacific coast conference teams. A ballot for Oregon.

Tennessee-Duke: No tougher one on the list than this one, Duke favored.

Brown-Syracuse: Syracuse to remain unbeaten.

Chicago-Missouri: No reason apparent why Chicago should stumble on this one.

Nebraska-Iowa State: Dynamite concealed in this vital Big Six conference game but Nebraska none-the-less.

Auburn Gets Vote

Auburn-Kentucky: Auburn has won only one game in five but the Plainsmen have played well enough to indicate this may be victory No. 2.

Maryland-Florida: Two air-minded teams with the issue apparently resting on completed passes. Tossing the coin, Maryland.

North Carolina-North Carolina State: On the records, North Carolina.

Columbia-Penn State: Two branches of the "cat" family, with Columbia's Lions favored over the Nittany Lions.

Georgtown-New York university: Georgetown.

Kansas-Oklahoma: Oklahoma, mainly because Kansas hasn't scored a point on a major rival so far.

Tulsa-Kansas State: Kansas State in a hard-fought one.

Breather For Hogs

Arkansas-Missouri Mines: The Razorbacks of Arkansas in a breather.

Washington & Lee-Virginia Poly: Apparently the spot for the Generals to win their second Southern conference game.

Virginia-Virginia Military: Virginia.

Mississippi-Sewanee: Mississippi.

Colorado-Colorado Aggies: On comparative scores, which frequently lie, a timid vote for the Aggies.

Colorado Teachers-Montana State: the Teachers.

Denver-Wyoming: Denver gets the call.

Bucknell-Villanova: Bucknell's hard to beat at home but precedents mean little this season.

Pitt-Westminster: The Panthers, eased up.

Friday games:

Duquesne-Detroit: Detroit wants revenge for last year's licking and may get it.

George Washington-Wake Forest: a vote for the Colonials from Washington, D. C.

Washington Univ.-Drake: Washington.

ARLINGTON DOWNS' FALL RACE MEET IS GIVEN AN AUSPICIOUS INAUGURAL

DALLAS, Oct. 26. (AP)—Groomed in all its splendor and crowded with Lone Star state celebrities, Arlington Downs' 21-day fall race meet left the post yesterday with an auspicious inaugural.

An estimated crowd of twelve thousand persons roared approval of a fine ride by Jockey C. Parvin when he brought Crout au Pot down the stretch a winner in the $1,500 inaugural handicap. Clarify, the Corsicana stable and W. C. Stroube entry, heavily played at the pari-mutuel windows, was just another horse in the race when Crout au Pot flashed a lightning burst of speed to overtake Desert Call and Siskin a few yards from the finish line.

Crout au Pot was entered along with Desert Call as the Mrs. A. M. Creech and B. Creech entry. It was a field day for Mr. and Mrs. Creech. Crout au Pot's victory was worth $1,320 in purse money, while Desert Call's part for third place netted $150 to the Creech bankroll.

In the other feature race, the $1,000 Lone Star handicap, Jockey Parvin clicked with another splendid ride to put Hasty Glance in front and kept him there to add an additional sum of $700 to the Creech money vault.

Just to make the day perfect, Mrs. Creech's 3-year-old filly, Genteel Lady, won the fifth race at the Texas State Fair park track located only 18 miles from Arlington Downs.

Fear that the Fair Park races would suffer a sharp decline in attendance when the Arlington Downs meet opened proved groundless. Approximately twelve thousand persons saw the Downs program, and an estimated crowd of 4,500 persons saw the attractive Fair Park program.

Crowds at both tracks enjoyed a gala day. Perfect weather and fast tracks added to the enjoyment.

GRID SPOT ON RICE-TEXAS CONTEST

SUPERIORITY WILL BE SETTLED TOMORROW IN HOUSTON TILT

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The most discussed Southwest conference football question of which is the superior team, the University of Texas or Rice institute Owls, will be definitely settled tomorrow when they clash at Houston.

The Feathered Tribe, undefeated this season, turned in another workout yesterday behind locked gates. It was rumored that Coach Jimmy Kitts aided the Owls in putting on finishing touches to a set of new formations to be used against the Longhorns.

Houston All Agog

Houston, a city that has been football mad since Rice inaugurated the season by beating Loyola, has gone insane over the game. All tickets were sold long ago. Scalpers are requesting huge prices for the few ducats available.

The Owls spent much of yesterday in passing and kicking practice. The Rice power-house attack of Bill Wallace and John McCauley is ready. Kitts has refused to predict the probable score. "It will be a close game. I hope we win," he said.

There is nothing new on the Bohn Hilliard situation at Austin where the Longhorns are carefully preparing to shoot the works against Rice. Some critics claim Hilliard will play. Others deny he will compete. Injured in the University of Oklahoma game, Bohn has been out of uniform for eleven days. He is Texas' ace halfback, and he will be badly needed by the Longhorns when they take the field against Rice.

Longhorns Entrain

Texas' workout yesterday consisted of practically everything in the book such as passing, punting blocking and running. "Duke" Gilbreath, big halfback who is tied for the Southwest conference scoring lead, is primed to match his plunging power against that of Wallace and McCauley. Buster Jurecka, halfback and passer, has his throwing arm ready for plenty of pass tossing just in case the Texas backs are unable to penetrate the Rice line. Yesterday's workout was the grand finale for the Longhorns. They left Austin today for Houston.

The Texas A. and M. Aggies entrained today for Waco where tomorrow they will battle the Baylor Bears in a conference game. Coach Homer Norton headed a crew of 28 fighting Aggies out of College Station. It will be Baylor's home-coming game. The Cadets tapered off their training yesterday with a dummy scrimmage. They planned a light signal drill at Waco. Waiting for the Aggies, the Bears swept through a breezing workout and were pronounced fit and ready by Coach Morley Jennings. It is doubtful if Lloyd Russell, Baylor's star back, will be able to play because of injuries, but Jennings can still put a strong lineup on the field.

Frogs To Shreveport

The Texas Christian Frogs turned in a long and hard workout before embarking for Shreveport where they will battle Centenary in a non-conference game. Coach Dutch Meyer planned to send the Frogs through a light drill today on the Shreveport gridiron. George Kline, halfback, did not make the trip because of a broken hand. Darrell Lester, giant center who has been injured, made the trip and probably will play even though he may not start.

At Fayetteville Coach Fred Thomsen drilled the University of Arkansas Razorbacks long and hard on pass defense in preparation for Saturday's game against the Missouri School of Mines.

The Southern Methodist university Mustangs are en route to New York where Saturday they will battle the strong Fordham university crew.

SPORTOGRAPH by COLLIER PARRIS

Title Copyright 1933

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26—Loyola university's Lions may think they are strangers to Texas Tech's Matadors, and they may look unfamiliar in the face, but they are due for surprises when the Red Raiders start tossing personally addressed verbal bombs across the line of scrimmage tonight.

That report of a telegram mailed from Texas to Loyola football authorities may or may not be the McCoy, but there's no doubt that Texas Tech's gridders know a lot about Loyola's gridders, and there haven't been any telegrams from that end. On the special train, Coach Cawthon passed out mimeographed copies of names, numbers, weights and positions of Loyola players, together with any number of diagrammed plays ostensibly used by the Lions. He told the boys to get acquainted with the Lions, fix clearly in their minds the names and numbers and positions and know the individuals against whom they are to play.

So already the Matadors are insulting each other with calls of "Hey, you Lubisch?" or "back in your chair, Scarvada," or Schellga, or Nocerni, or Vitalich, Gallassti or Agameonial, to mention a few of the Loyola Irish. The Raiders can call numbers when they call names, too. They know that Mojica is No. 59, that Laboretta is No. 35, that Schneiders is 25, etc.

The boys do this, however, when the coaches are not listening. The players have strict orders, also mimeographed, to remain in their own car and to participate in no playing, no joking, until after WE WIN THAT GAME, and they are on the whole, an orderly bunch of young gentlemen. Other orders are: Take your books along and study—keep up with classes, do not over eat—keep your stomach in shape; study those play charts," and the final exhortation, "Seniors, you can't be beat; make history for Texas Tech on the Coast."

When they arrived in Los Angeles Thursday morning the Matadors went immediately to the Hollywood-Roosevelt hotel in Beverley Hills. After breakfast they were free until noon, after which they were back in the rooms until 4 o'clock when they went for a walk. Friday will be spent under surveillance of coaches.

Another reference to Tech's victory possibilities was made by coaches in the copy of rules and schedules. "If we win, we will go on tour in bus of Hollywood, etc., Saturday morning."

As the train neared Belen, there was a distinct movement all over the train, but particularly in the football car. With a loud hubbub, the gridders found their uniforms and scurried out to the high school football field, a barren rectangle on which they did not take unnecessary chances. In the cool mountain air, they rushed through a pleasing workout. Belen spectators asked "Do you always yell and holler like that when you work out?"

Although it's something of an exclusive crowd that boarded the train as strictly fans, it had a fine time. Card games occupied several foursomes. Dominoes and even checkers were played in some of the cars. It was an orderly crowd. The lunch room at Vaughn, N. M., was so crowded that some had to stand in line and await their turns. The football party ate in a separate dining room. The menu had been selected in advance.

At Vaughn and Belen, large crowds of natives stood waiting on the platforms, and automobiles were provided by local citizens to carry football players and fans to the practice field.

LEST WE FORGET, it's Friday and time to do a bit of guessing. Back at Lubbock tonight, the Westerners should have little more than a workout with Sweetwater but you should go out and encourage the boys anyway. The score could be around 60 to 0 if the Westernet coaches and players so willed it, but reserves are likely to get in a lot of time so the outcome should favor Lubbock by about 37 to 6.

It's a job to figure out the possible score of the Tech-Loyola game. We've a hunch the Matadors will put it over, but not by a large score. They may feel petty good if they win by a touchdown, say 7 to 0. Second guessing, we'd say 13 to 7. The Red Raiders appear to be in the proper frame of mind. They're on a lion hunt, and the game hangs around Loyola.

DO NOT FORGET the Tech freshman-Decatur college game Saturday night at Matador Field. It's one of two opportunities to get acquainted with the Picadors this season, since three of their five games are played away from home. There was little dope on the Decatur team when we left, but the Baptists should be pretty strong. They rank a favorite over the Picadors, but we're picking the men of Ballard and Baker to win, by a couple of touchdowns.

Remember also the football party at the Auditorium tonight. It starts with a dance, for those who care to dance, at 9 o'clock, and continues with a play-by-play report of the Tech-Loyola game, starting about 10 o'clock. The Auditorium is sponsoring the dance. The Avalanche-Journal is bringing the play-by-play and descriptive to you. Both concerns are working together to make it a successful party and to give you your money's worth. Ned Bradley's orchestra will furnish the music.

MATADORS AND LIONS READY FOR CLASH

RIVAL COACHES PLAN TO START SECOND STRING LINEUPS

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 26 (AP)—Texas Tech's Red Raiders were prepared for their intersectional football clash tonight with Loyola university at Gilmore Stadium.

The Texans with a 50-piece band and 125 rooters arrived here late yesterday and took an anything but quiet workout under the lights of the stadium as a motion picture company on location was grinding out films under the shadow of the goal posts.

The invaders took the field with blood-curdling yells and shouted loudly as they rushed through their workout.

Reserves To Start

Coach Pete Cawthon of Texas Tech and Coach Tom Lieb of the Loyola Lions both threatened to start their second string elevens.

The Raiders were slight favorites on the basis of their impressive record this season, although Loyola has lost only to the unbeaten Santa Clara eleven.

The Lion forward wall, which soundly outplayed Santa Clara's line last week, is Lieb's strongest card. Coast experts say that the Loyola line is as good as the lines of Southern California in 1933 and '32.

Sparkplugs of the Loyola attack are two last and slip-hipped lads, Halfback Byrne and Field General Whalen. Byrne is a sophomore, weighs 160 pounds, and is said to be a devastating combination of Orville Mohler's elusiveness and the speed of Cotton Warburton.

Lions End Practice

The Lions finished their practice sessions this week by hurling a volley of footballs into the air, hinting that they plan an aerial attack tonight. While Assistant Coach Manfred Vezie directed the pass offense and defense Thursday, Head Coach Lieb gave his personal attention to the guards and tackles.

A crowd of 20,000 was expected for the contest starting at 8:15 p. m. (P. S. T.)

That Girl on Broadway says Shakespeare's plays will never become really modern until they start showing Lady Macbeth pleading insanity.

Philadelphia leads all American cities in the use of asparagus but Washington is still ahead in applesauce.

A COUPLE of days ago The Plainsman climbed into Charlie Whitacre's nice new automobile and, with Abie Davis and Oscar Lykes, went down to Seagraves, Seminole and across to Hobbs and Lovington to take a "look-see" at the oil development down that way.

The group made the trip as a sort of a fore-runner to a Lubbock goodwill jaunt which will be run that way before long.

Everybody has been hearing a great deal about the possibilities of a big oil play around Seminole.

The situation does look good and the chances are there will be quite a bit of activity around there this winter and next spring.

But the people of Seminole are using the good, old horse sense for which West Texas cow country folks are famous.

They're not going "hog wild."

TURKEY are waiting to see what they can see. Every house in town is occupied and every available office is in use.

There has been a little building there, but not too much.

If and when they discover that they've got a boom by the tail they plan to swing into action to take care of it.

But they're not going off half-cocked, which is a splendid idea.

Until coming to Lubbock on the fourth day of January, 1924, The Plainsman spent his entire life dodging hijackers and high prices in the various oil fields of Illinois, Oklahoma and Texas.

He has seen a score or more of boom towns and as many oil booms.

And the truth of the matter is that an oil play ruins just about as many towns as it makes—hence an orchid for the Seminole folks who are playing close to the boards.

SEMINOLE is not booming yet, although there is every hope for bringing in a real field some 18 miles southeast of there, as well as for a pool extending northward to the vicinity of Seagraves.

The Santa Fe is (even though they'd probably deny it if you asked 'em) seriously considering applying for the right to extend its Lubbock-Seagraves branch line to Seminole and, perhaps, even further through Andrews and to connect with the T&P.

When the Santa Fe makes its application you can say to yourself that the present discovery has blossomed into the real thing.

Watch the papers!

Hobbs is in the best shape it's been for a long time.

With 86 new wells to be drilled in the offing so that leases may be protected, its streets are filled with people and cars are parked as closely together as it is possible to get them.

Most of the cars, of course, bear Texas licenses, but just to show you how things are going, there were three cars parked in a row bearing California, Louisiana and Illinois licenses!

That's the unvarnished truth.

THERE has been considerable leasing activity in the vicinity of Lovington, too, according to Wesley McAllister, the land man.

Folks are feeling pretty good over that way and Lovington long has prospered by falling heir to the Hobbs overflow.

All in all a probably lousy spring will be aided a good deal by the oil flurry at Lubbock's back door.

Anyway, we hope so.

* * *

Restrictions on jurors may have to be eased up. It's getting harder every year to find 12 men none of whom have been either prosecuted or defended by some of the laywers in the case.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says the right kind of a civilization is the one where the high chair is busier than the electric chair.

* * *

THERE has been a lot of talk about the present city administration's making changes in the personnel of officials at City hall.

A lot of people are of the opinion that the administration is erring and a lot of others are glad to see the shake-ups.

It all depends upon which way you look at it.

Personally, The Plainsman is interested in the city government only from one angle—that of a citizen.

He doesn't want any job. Doesn't have any friends, or kinfolks, who must be taken care of if possible.

Hence, he is interested in results, rather than in practices of the administration.

* * *

THE PLAINSMAN hates to see anybody lose a job, any time, and particularly in times like these.

But the majority of the voters last spring indicated that they wanted a change in administrations and they got the change.

The stand-pat rules of politics from Broadway and 42nd Street to Punkin Holler are the same.

To the victor belongs the spoils.

Film Colony Discards Its Extravagant Mode Of Living; Costly Automobiles And Lavish Meals Become Scarcities

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26—Hollywood is getting sensible!

That's a pretty broad statement, but recent observations around the film colony indicate that it is just about true.

Seldom these days does one see the expensive silver-plated and hand-painted automobiles which used to be such a mark of distinction a few years ago. Most of the stars today can be found driving popular-priced cars.

And one is far more apt to find roast beef than frogs legs or pheasant on the table a dinner time. Bank accounts have been swelled many times beyond their former sizes, too.

Paul Kelly seems to express the opinion of the entire community when he says, "Appearance be hanged! Who cares about appearances? We're selling what we happen to be on the screen—not what we are in private life."

* * *

Not a la Dickens

Add movie incongruities: The "David Copperfield" players on location eating lunch from a "chuck wagon" presided over by a cowboy cook.

Newsboys Pick 'Em

If you want to get the real lowdown on your favorite film notables, talk to the newsboys who station themselves in front of the various studios. They get an insight rarely seen by others.

I got plenty of "dope" the other day from Dave Key, the 11-year-old youngster who sells magazines at the Paramount entrance.

"Bing Crosby doesn't buy many magazines, but he's a swell guy, says Dave. "I got his autograph four times one day. Jack Oakie's a good guy, too, but he never buys anything. Marlene Dietrich used to be awfully stuck up, but she got over it. She even talks to us kids now—and buys lots of magazines. But now that Max Baer's back, he's my favorite."

"How come?" I ventured.

"He's the champ, ain't he?" was the scornful reply.

Author's Dream Comes True

The only screen story David Butler ever conceived, he sold—and then didn't get a chance to write it. He told the story to Sol Wurtzel, Fox executive, who purchased it immediately. Then William Consulman was assigned to write the script. Butler is directing it, though.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

GERMANY STANDS ALONE

Another step in the bloodless war between Germany and the great commercial nations was taken when Germany served notice on the United States that the trade treaty between the two countries would be ended Oct. 14, 1935—since the treaty provides that one year's notice of abrogation must be given.

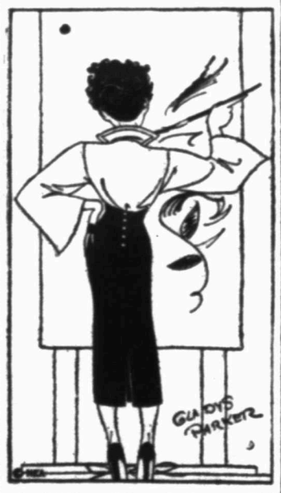

The situation, stated simply, is that Germany, through diminution of her foreign trade, can not acquire enough foreign currency to pay her foreign debts. Her foreign trade has diminished partly through boycotts imposed by Jews, Socialists, and others who do not like the Nazi regime, partly through unfavorable tariffs. Therefore Germany has been compelled to use her debts as a club with which to force the foreign purchase of German products.

"Buy enough German goods, and we'll be able to pay you what we owe you," is Germany's ultimatum to her creditors. So Germany has been making separate agreements with various nations, and she would like to make one with us.

The attitude of our state department is that the United States must be treated as a most favored nation. If Germany is going to pay Holland and Switzerland in full, she must pay us in full. Great Britain has taken a similar attitude. She says, in effect, that if Germany does not pay in full, she will intercept German purchases in Great Britain and refuse delivery. The American argument is that if Germany can find foreign currency in which to pay some nations, she must use it to pay all. The German contention is that she will pay those who trade with her sufficiently, and if America wants payment, she must buy more German goods.

The struggle is likely to continue for a long time, with severe losses all around.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 — The money magicians whose incantations once charmed our president have found quarters in the same ashcan which houses the professional rain-makers who hired themselves out to end last summer's drouth.

Prof. George F. Warren of Cornell, who used to have the president's left ear, and Prof. James Harvey Rogers of Yale, who monopolized the right ear, spoke different pieces. But the White House now is equally oblivious to them both.

Warren, who guided the gold policy through its most spectacular jumps, was around seeing Roosevelt the other day. No one had asked him to come, but he had been pounding on the White House door for days, so they let him in.

He wanted to tell Roosevelt the gold maneuvers had helped the country enormously, which Roosevelt doesn't believe, and to urge more of the same.

* * *

Rogers Also Shelved

Professor Rogers also has been here. Hardly anyone knew it. He didn't even get inside the White House, though he might have if he had demanded an audience, without waiting for an invitation.

Months ago he had been sent on a mission to study the silver situation in China. He cabled reports to the Treasury. About the middle of September he returned here, saw Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, and expected a call to the White House, which never came.

His friends are rather bitter at Morgenthau, who they think helped keep Rogers from a chance to talk to the president. Rogers has gone back to his teaching job at Yale.

Hammer Out for Hutchins

Secretary Ickes, by the way, is chiefly responsible for Roosevelt's move to bring President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago—the boy wonder of higher education—into the administration. Ickes is a Chicagoan, a friend, and an admirer.

Hutchins may or may not become the brightest star in the Brain Trust. But he certainly won't be the most popular one.

Possibly there's some professional jealousy in the suggestions of other New Deal professors and lawyers that 35-year-old "Bobby" will be found primarily to be promoting himself and his future.

Anyway, it's the Harvard Law School boys abounding in the emergency agencies — who tell you that Hutchins made such a splendid breeding ground of intellectual ferment, and sociological study out of the Yale law school that it just didn't turn out any good lawyers.

Crown Princes to Pass

Prediction in these dispatches that the three "crown princes" of NRA would be on the way out after General Johnson's retirement may turn out to be only 66 2-3 per cent correct.

Johnny Swope, son of General Electric's Gerald Swope and chief of the NRA field section, and Robert K. Strauss, son of the ambassador to France and holder of one or two high NRA posts, won't be with us long.

Appointment of these inexperienced youngsters to strategic jobs was one of innumerable NRA mistakes which the new administration will repair.

But young Lieut. Kilbourne Johnson, son of the departed general, is another case. Some of the new NRA bosses insist that Kilbourne has shown executive ability and can be useful.

They admit, if you press them, that it might be a bit embarrassing to feel any other way about it. Johnson is on leave from the army, detailed to NRA at his father's request, and the army won't recall him unless and until NRA requests it.

Any such request would be a slap at the general which nobody wants to take.

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

By CARLETON KENDRAKE
©1934 NEA Service Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

When DAN BLEEKER, junior publisher of The Blade, learns that CHARLES MORDEN, police reporter, has been mysteriously killed he determines to employ SIDNEY GRIFF, famous criminologist, to solve the murder.

Morden had been assigned to learn all he could about FRANK B. CATHAY, wealthy and prominent, who had threatened to sue The Blade because the newspaper reported Cathay had been arrested. Later it was proven that the man arrested, giving the name of Cathay and accompanied by a girl called MARY BRIGGS, was an imposter. MRS. CATHAY assures Beeker her husband will drop the charges if The Blade publishes a retraction, and this is done.

A day later Morden is found dead. Shortly afterward comes news that Cathay is dead—possibly of poison.

Bleeker tells Griff that in Morden's last report he said he had important information involving a woman but did not mention her name.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER X

Bleeker looked across at Griff. "Well," he said, "you've got quite a reputation for getting results. I'm not going to worry about methods; those are up to you. What you want us to do is to try to find Mary Briggs—which we're already doing—and on the disappearance cases involving some woman who has disappeared within the last 48 hours."

"Correct," said Griff. "The first thing to do is to locate the girl. And in the meantime I will see the doctor in Riverview who thinks it's a poison case and will also interview Mrs. Cathay."

Bleeker showed some surprise. "I thought you wanted us to make all the contacts," he said.

"No," Griff told him. "I want you to get the facts. I'm a criminologist, not a detective. I don't go out and gather facts but I want to contact the principals. I want to watch them talk."

Bleeker smiled and said, "You mean listen to them talk."

"No," Griff replied. "I want to watch them talk. I've found out you can learn more about a person's character by watching his lips when he talks than in any other way."

Bleeker looked thoughtful, slowly nodded his head.

Griff scribbled a number on a sheet of paper which he tore from his notebook. "That," he said, handing the paper to Bleeker, "is the private, unlisted telephone number which is assigned to you for the life of this case. Give that number only to the men who are in your closest confidence. Don't ever try to call me on any other telephone. When this case is over that number will be changed."

Bleeker folded the paper thoughtfully.

"There's something I'd like to ask you about."

"What is it?"

"Around 10 o'clock on Monday night—the night our newspaper pulled its boner by mistaking the imposter for Cathay—a detective by the name of Shillingby was murdered. A man by the name of Decker was apparently the only eyewitness to that murder. He told his story to the police officer who first appeared on the scene and promised that he would be available whenever he was needed as a witness. There was a lot of confusion. Decker took advantage of it and disappeared. Later on you telephoned the police that Decker had come to you."

Griff watched the newspaper man with frowning concentration. "What about?" he asked. "How does that affect this case?"

"It doesn't," Beeker said. "I'm representing a newspaper. Decker came to you. That was an unusual thing for a witness to do. He told you something that he didn't tell the police. As a newspaper man, I'm interested."

"And," Griff said ominously, "you're using this other case as a lever to pry my lips open, and make me dispose a professional confidence. Is that right?"

"No. Badly as I want the news, I wouldn't do that. But remember that The Blade is employing you. It's Blade money that is going to pay you. We make our money from distributing news. Sooner or later the facts about Decker are going to come to light. You'll know when that time will be. When that time does come I want The Blade to have the first chance at the story. I want it on the inside track."

"Suppose," said Griff slowly, "it should appear that Decker was unnecessarily alarmed? Suppose that he doesn't know a thing other than what he told the police? Suppose he came to me in a state of fear which bordered on hysteria? Suppose, further, that there was no reason why Decker shouldn't have vanished for a while? He had no business matters which necessitated his presence here. Suppose I put Decker under cover, not because I thought it was necessary but simply because he was nervous, because that was what he wanted and because he was willing to pay for my services in covering him up?"

"Would you," asked Bleeker, "say that those were the facts?"

"No. I wouldn't make any such statement. I am simply asking you

WOMAN OFFERS HER VERSION

WITNESS DETAILS HOW INSULL SOLD FAMILY WORTHLESS STOCK

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP)—The financial pages never said anything about Mary Jones, but she stopped the show Thursday in the hundred million dollar Insull mail fraud trial.

Mrs. Mary R. Jones brought the jurors forward in their seats while she told her story. It focused the affairs of Samuel Insull's Corporation Securities company on the Jones farm at Ridott, Ill.

Story Blunt and Simple

For four weeks, the jurors trying Insull and 16 others, all important in middle western finance, have heard technical testimony about investment trusts, liquidating value of stock, syndicates, and intricate financial operations. Mrs. Jones' version of the case was blunt and simple.

"They got $15,000 of our money," she said. "You get pretty wrought up when you trust people to the limit and they treat you like that."

Insull, sitting four feet away in Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson's court, bit his finger, and fumbled with his watch chain. The 16 defendants sitting behind him looked solemn.

A grandmother white hair showing behind her black hat, Mrs. Jones told how she paid for stock in Insull's corporation securities company, which prosecutors claim was worthless.

Mortgaged Farm

"We put a mortgage on the farm," she said grimly, "we borrowed the money at the First National bank at Freeport."

She sent a check to Insull's Utility Securities company to buy some stock in the National Electric company, Mrs. Jones said.

"Did you get what you ordered?" Prosecutor Leslie E. Salter inquired.

"No," said Mrs. Jones indignantly. "They sent us stock in the Corporation Securities company, and said it was a better investment. The letter said the cashier had changed the check.

"Had Implicit Faith"

"We thought they were working to our advantage," Mrs. Jones explained to the jury. "Why, we had implicit faith in them. That's why we're where we are today."

Her information about the stock came by mail. "It's all in writing," she thought the stock was a good investment, not at all speculative, Mrs. Jones said.

The determined farm woman was one of a long line of victim witnesses who took the stand, school teachers, a farmer, seamstress and others beyond the working age.

Judge said Prosecutor Salter had the impression was only a part of the government presented testimony that Raymond F. McNair, trust receiver in equity for Insull, that it had only about $82,000 in assets besides unsecured notes receivable when he took it over April 17, 1932.

About 11 per cent of the 2,018,000 motor cars and trucks produced in the United States and Canada last year were sold in foreign countries.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 1 to 3 lower under southern and foreign selling and on an unfavorable view of general business conditions. Dec. 12.27; Jan. 12.29; March 12.32; May 12.38; July 12.42; Oct. 12.24.

Trading was moderately active at the start, and offerings were absorbed by a fairly good trade demand, particularly in the near months. The market held steady after the call. Prices worked up a point or two from the initial quotations.

The opening transactions in cotton for delivery during October, 1935 showed a discount of about 18 points as compared with the July price, but houses with Liverpool connections were sellers of that position after the call and the discount later increased to about 22 points, with the new October selling at 21.21 compared with 12.43 for July.

Liverpool cables said trade buying in that market met some hedging against outside growths and sales of near months by spot houses accompanied by reports of freer southern offerings.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26 (AP) — Cotton today opened barely steady. First trades here were unchanged to two points down and the market for a time after the start traded at the opening prices, 12.28 for December and 12.34 for March. Near the end, of the first half hour, although the stock market was easier, prices improved slightly on trade buying and December moved up to 12.30 and March to 12.39, or 2 to 3 points above the previous close.

There was only moderate trading during the morning and prices fluctuated narrowly without definite tendency.

December advanced to 12.31 early and March to 12.39, or 3 points above the close of yesterday. Later prices eased off 7 to 8 points from the early highs on long liquidation and in sympathy with outside markets. December dropped to 12.24 and March to 12.31, down 4 to 5 points from yesterday's close.

Near noon prices recovered two to three points, making the price level 1 to 3 points under the previous close.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP)—Setbacks of grain prices formed the rule early today. Weakness of foreign markets, together with talk of proposed radical changes in Canadian government plans of wheat trade regulation, had a bearish effect. Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Financial markets were of faint heart today and the downward trend continued in most speculative categories.

With little new light on the economic or political pictures, selling in stocks was about as active as in the preceding session and losses of fractions to 2 or more points predominated. Various secondary bonds were also under pressure, although prime investment issues held up fairly well. Grains and cotton were moderately lower. The dollar was again a firm factor in foreign exchange dealings, especially against the British pound.

Shares of Consolidated Gas, which led yesterday's reaction, met some support and were about even. American Telephone and such rails as Union Pacific and N. Y. Central were resistant. At the same time Bethlehem Steel and Baldwin Locomotive preferred dropped nearly 4 points, Bethlehem common and U. S. Steel preferred were off 2 each and other losers of 1 to 3 included Eastman Kodak, U. S. Steel common, American Rolling Mill, Tobacco B, Case, Chrysler, Air Reduction, Montgomery Ward, U. S. Smelting, American Smelting and Du Pont. Radio preferred dropped 3 and the preferred B was off nearly 2. The oils and alcohols were narrow.

ENDORSEMENT IS CLAIMED

SINCLAIR FOLLOWERS SAY FARLEY BACKS THEIR CANDIDATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. (AP)—An "endorsed by James A. Farley" label was pinned to Upton Sinclair today by supporters of the Democratic candidate for governor of California.

As the gubernatorial campaign reached a new pitch, filling the air with rumors of withdrawals and plots, Sinclair backers in Los Angles displayed a photostatic copy of a letter purportedly written by the postmaster general and chairman of the Democratic national committee endorsing the candidacies of the former Socialist author and Senator Hiram Johnson, seeking reelection.

Congratulations Extended

"California Democrats, Republicans and Progressives alike," the letter said, "are to be congratulated for their wise judgment in selecting Hon. Hiram Johnson as the nominee of all parties for United States senator. By electing the Hon. Upton Sinclair, your popular Democratic candidate for governor, California will have a combination of leaders in Washington and in Sacramento who can cooperate in the best interests of the people of the state and of the nation."

The letter bore the letterhead of the Democratic committee and was addressed to "president of the Associated Democratic Club of Whittier, Calif."

Voters Warned

Meanwhile, Sinclair who is running against acting Governor Frank F. Merriam, carried his "End Poverty in California" into the north part of the state warning voters to "be prepared for anything in the last days."

Republican headquarters denied a charge by Sinclair that supporters of Governor Merriam were about to broadcast circulars falsely proclaiming the withdrawal of Raymond L. Haight, Commonwealth and Progressive candidate, in favor Merriam.

"Merriam already is overwhelmingly in, so why worry about Haight?" was the essence of the Republican reply.

lacking the binding force of treaties," he continued, "and hence may be withdrawn at any time."

Thus he indicated protests by the United States and Great Britain against a Manchoukuan oil monopoly would do them little good. Both claimed violations of the nine-power treaty.

In the first place, the spokesman said, Japan is unable to "receive representations which should properly have been made to Manchoukuo.

"However, since foreign powers do not recognize the independence of Manchoukuo, insisting it is still a part of China, their representations logically should have been made to Nanking."

The Japanese press has been forbidden to mention the oil monopoly.

FIGHT IS SEEN OVER BONUS

ADMINISTRATION WILL OPPOSE NEW DRIVE FOR PAYMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Roosevelt administration will fight the new campaign for cashing the soldier's bonus immediately.

That the struggle in the next congress will be terrific few observers denied today. The movement for immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates gained new momentum when the American Legion advocated it yesterday at the annual convention in Miami.

White House Silent

Though the White House had nothing to say, its position was unmistakable. President Roosevelt's speech in Roanoke, Va., last week was generally regarded as aimed at the bonus drive. He said veterans are "better off" than any other great group, and declared the care of "the disabled, the sick, the destitute and the starving" was "the first thing."

The legion resolution held that paying the bonus now would "increase tremendously the purchasing power of the consuming public" and give relief to certificate holders "who are in dire need and distress."

The veterans administration estimated that it would take $2,506,000,000 to meet the veterans' demands. Of this, the veterans would get about $2,006,000,000. The rest would go to repay money advanced by the government for loans on the bonus certificates, which mature in 1945.

WORK STARTS ON ECONOMY MILLS

Construction has been started on the rebuilding of the Economy mills, Fifteenth and Avenue B, destroyed by fire several weeks ago, W. G. McMillan, contractor, said today.

The buildings will contain approximately 10,000 square feet of floor space, the main structure being 37 by 76 feet and two stories high. Work of construction is expected to be finished in about 30 days. Between 25 and 30 men will be employed.

Installation of machinery will follow the completion of the building. The plant plan has been rearranged to provide a better handling of grain and equipment, Claude Tatum, president of the company, told the contractor. Newest type of machinery is being ordered and the plant will be one of the most modern in this section.

Total expenditure of plant and building will approximate $25,000, it is said. The company, operating here for a number of years in mixing grains and feed rations, serves a wide territory over the western half of Texas and eastern New Mexico.

William B. Groat, candidate for congressman-at-large, declared:

"It is my humble belief that the first lady of the land should mind her own business and stay out of partisan politics."

Moses deplored the booing which greeted criticism of the national administration by Miss Natalie F. Couch, Republican candidate for congressman-at-large. It was Miss Couch, speaking from the same platform as the president's wife at a meeting of the league of women voters, who aroused Mrs. Roosevelt to a defense of the president's policies.

LEGISLATURE

Buchanan dam sixty miles northwest of Austin.

One amendment which provoked controversy was disposed of but 32 others remained for discussion. One of those remaining dealt with the much debated question of West Texas water rights.

Most of yesterday was devoted to debate on an amendment to prohibit the payment by the authority of any fee or commission for obtaining a loan, selling bonds or procuring land or appurtenances for the project. It was adopted 71 to 39.

Legislation to provide state aid for a centennial exposition in 1936 drifted in preliminary stages. Neither an appropriation bill nor special revenue measures had emerged from committees. Developments on both angles of the matter were generally slated for next week.

JURY IGNORES MERCY PLEA

HILDRETH GETS DEATH SENTENCE AFTER HE PLEADS GUILTY

BIG SPRING, Oct. 26 (AP)—The death sentence hung over W. R. Hildreth, 46-year-old automobile salesman, today, after his conviction by a district court jury for the ice-pick slaying of his wife, Docia.

The defense did not immediately announce its future plans after the jury, guided by Hildreth's sudden plea of guilty, returned a death penalty two hours after given the case.

Sobs For Mercy

Hildreth sobbed for mercy and told the court he was sorry as he changed his plea from not guilty to guilty when the indictment charges was read. The state vigorously countered with a demand for the death sentence.

Hildreth's daughter, Mrs. Carlton Coburn, gave a vivid account of the slaying.

"I heard three horrible screams," she said. "I jumped up and ran to where my mother lived (next door). I met my father coming out of the back door. 'She's in there—she needs you' he said."

Couldn't Budge Pick

Mrs. Coburn said she found her mother lying on the floor—the metal staff of an ice pick lodged in her hip. She tried to remove the pick, Mrs. Coburn testified, but said "I couldn't even budge it."

Twenty-one wound, two of which penetrated the woman's heart, were found on the body, Mrs. Charles Eberly, undertaker, and Dr. T. B. Hoover, testified.

the Texas legislature, now in special session, and the state relief administration. They claimed they were among 1700 persons recently sliced off the relief rolls. Many were entirely destitute, they asserted.

Charges of having been "heartlessly refused aid" and "ruthlessly ignored" by the Texas Relief administration and the state board of control were contained in the petition to Governor Ferguson. She gave them no answer.

One of the purposes of the special session called for relief for the needy.

Hunt For Raymond Hamilton Renewed

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 26. (AP)—Raymond Hamilton, youthful Texas desperado, was hunted today as one of two men who kidnaped William Lane, Missouri rural mail carrier, in a mad dash to escape officers with whom they engaged in a gun fight.

Capt. William J. Baxter, of the Missouri highway partol, said two of his patrolmen who participated in the encounter near Buffalo, Mo., Wednesday, had identified the escaped Texas convict as one of the men.

Hamilton and his companion abandoned their car and commandeered that of Lane, taking him along as a hostage, after the highway battle. The mail carrier was released unharmed near Yahola, Oklahoma, late yesterday.

DON'T BE MISLED

By someone selling you on the idea of some ingredient that they put in their feeds that possibly you have never heard of as generally is the case.

Someone is always trying to sell you as well as the manufacturer on the idea of some ingredient that you can put in a feed or maybe already have in a feed that due to its contents the feed containing this item is far superior to any feed you can buy. It is generally the case that these ingredients I am calling your attention to are so high due to the effort put forth in promoting the sale of such that the price is prohibitive from their use.

TEXAS CATTLE BRAND MAY BE USED ON STAMP

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 26 (AP)—A Texas cattle brand, a sort of trade mark that had its inception when the first longhorns crossed the Rio Grande, may be used on a postage stamp issue.

Postmaster General James A. Farley has expressed interest in a suggestion of Marion F. Peters of Plainview that the cattle industry be symbolized on U. S. postage.

Peters, who has possibly the largest collection of cattle brands in the world, requested Farley to consider a famous brand as art for a future stamp issue.

In reply, Farley said, "cattle raising is indeed one of America's basic industries and recognition thereof in a proper manner would be most appropriate. Our stamp program for this year has taxed the capacity of the bureau of printing and engraving, however, and we are unable at this time to give serious consideration to additional issues.

Peters has made arrangements for Charles T. Coiner, artist who fashioned NRA's blue eagle, to make the first suggestive layout of a cattle brand for submission to the postoffice department.

The earliest history of pipe organs cannot be traced exactly, although it is assumed that they were developed from bagpipes and Pan pipes.

Built Up Strength By Taking Cardui

Here's her own account of how Mrs. T. W. Hardin, of Greer, S. C., was benefited by taking Cardui: "I suffered a great deal from weakness in my back and pains in my side and felt so miserable," she writes. "I read of Cardui and decided to try it. I felt better after I took my first bottle, so kept on taking it as I felt such a need of strength, and it helped me so much."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

what your position would be if it should turn out those were the facts."

"Then I'd appreciate it very much if you'd let The Blade 'discover' Decker when it's time for him to put in his appearance."

Griff dropped his legs to the floor, pushed his tall frame up from the chair, stood six feet of lean, hard efficiency. The bathrobe flared open enough to show his silk lounging suit as he strode to the door and placed his hand on the knob.

"Perhaps," he said in a tone of finality which left no doubt that the interview was over, "that might be arranged."

He bowed and held open the door.

Dr. P. C. Cooper was fat, cherubic, steely-eyed and thoughtful. He surveyed his visitor appraisingly, studied Griff's card.

"Criminologist," he said, musingly.

Griff nodded.

"You're investigating some particular case?" Cooper asked.

"The death of Mr. Frank B. Cathay. He died yesterday afternoon, I believe."

"That is correct. May I ask just what is the nature of your interest in the case, Mr. Griff?"

"I am investigating it."

"You said that before."

"I am seeking information."

"For whom?"

Griff smiled and shook his head. Dr. Coopr's eyes became more thoughtful.

"I can tell you," said Sidney Griff, "what I want to find out, and that's all."

"And I," Dr. Cooper said, "can tell you nothing."

"Even in the interests of justice, Doctor, you cannot discuss a case?"

"When I have been employed to treat a person," Dr. Cooper said, "I can tell no one what I have discovered in connection with my treatment, save the properly constituted authorities, and only then when I am subpoenaed as a witness and even under those circumstances I would not be free to divulge any matters of professional confidence. That is, any communications which were made to me by my patient."

Griff watched the man narrowly, his eyes level-lidded in thoughtful concentration, and focused upon Dr. Cooper's mouth.

"Only, Doctor, matters which were necessarily communicated to you in connection with the diagnosis and treatment. Isn't that correct?"

"That is technically correct. Such matters as were communicated to me by my patient, for the purpose of assisting me in making a diagnosis, or giving treatment. But you will understand my own judgment upon those matters is final. In other words, the law allows my own conscience to be the sole judge of what is and what is not a professional confidence."

"The seal might be removed from your lips by the surviving representatives of the dead man?" asked Griff.

"I believe not. It is a personal and privileged communication."

Griff extended his hand, and after a moment's doubtful delay, Dr. Cooper took it.

"I am," said Griff, "very pleased to have made your acquaintance and very grateful for the information you have given me."

Dr. Cooper's eyes widened in surprise. "But I have given you none," he said.

Griff's smile was one of calm amusement.

"Oh, yes you have, Doctor. You've told me, not in so many words but in between the lines, so to speak, a very important fact."

"What fact?" Dr. Cooper demanded truculently.

"That competent legal counsel has seen fit to see to it you were properly and forcefully coached upon the law of privileged communication, made by a patient to a physician. Good morning, Doctor."

And the criminologist left a slightly confused, very much annoyed doctor staring at him.

RUTH HINTED AS ATHLETIC PILOT

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP)—Babe Ruth's uncertain status with the New York Yankees apparently is going to furnish the "hot stove" league with its principal item of conversation this winter.

Since the Babe made his famous pronouncement at Detroit during the world series that he would not remain with the Yankees simply as a pinch-hitter, rumors have come thick and fast, connecting his name with various managerial berths.

The latest one, widely circulated yesterday, said Ruth would succeed Connie Mack as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics next season. Just what basis in fact, if any, this yarn might have still was to be learned today for the story came when the two principals, Mack and Ruth, were on shipboard halfway out on the Pacific, on their way to Japan for a baseball barnstorming tour.

Even so there were plenty of denials.

BE SURE AND ATTEND GRID PARTY TONIGHT

A combination dance and football party at the Auditorium tonight will feature reports of the Texas Tech-Loyolt game and music by Ned Bradley's orchestra.

The game will begin at 8 o'clock, Pacific time, two hours later than Lubbock time. Fans here may attend the Lubbock-Sweetwater game at Tech field, starting at 7:45 o'clock, and then have time to hear the play-by-play over a public address system.

The Plainsman, Lubbock Evening Journal columnist, will announce the plays.

Starting at 9 o'clock at the Auditorium and resuming at intermission and after the broadcast, Bradley's orchestra will provide music for those who wish to dance.

Centenarian Lives In Dickens County

SPUR, Oct. 26 (Special)—Joe Blackwell, who was 100 years of age on October 5, is believed to be the only man of that age in Dickens county. He was honored with an informal celebration at te home of a daughter, Mrs. J. P. Goen, on her ranch near here.

Born in Arkansas in 1834 he moved to Texas more than 60 years ago and settled on a ranch near Weatherford. Later, when that section became settled up, he bought a ranch near Paducah. There he remained until all of his children were married.

Mrs. Blackwell died in 1889. After leaving his ranch he came here to live with his daughter.

There are three other children: Dr. T. H. Blackwell of Spur and Joe Blackwell, Yuma, Ariz., and another daughter, Mrs. Mattie Davis, Hot Springs, N. M.

Music was devised by the gods to lure the sun-goddess from a cave where she had retired, according to Japanese legend.
