State Poll Tax Reduction To $1 Is Given Approval

stitutional Levy Of $1 Is Favored With 25 Cents For Counties And 50 Cents For State Taken Away

Many To Be Aided

Cut Of $750,000 Annually In Revenue Fund Is Estimated But Increase In Payment Of Taxes Is Expected

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 27—Reduction of the state poll tax to $1 was approved today by the Texas house of representatives, a bill that would carry out the reduction having passed by a vote of 106 to 26.

In all but eight counties the reduction would be 75 cents under the existing rate. The constitution levies a poll tax of $1 for the benefit of the public school fund. To this the state added 50 cents and all but eight of the state's 254 counties tacked on an additional 25 cents.

Levy Is Prohibited

The bill would prohibit the counties or the state from levying any poll tax in addition to the $1 provided by the construction.

Authors of the bill contended that the $1.75 poll tax prevented many citizens from exercising their right of franchise. Some even favored abolition of the $1 constitutional tax on the theory that it was unfair to levy a tax on the right of a person to vote.

There was considerable opposition to the proposal to prohibit counties from levying the 25 cent tax.

Amendment Defeated

An amendment that would have given the counties this privilege was defeated, 64 to 58.

It was estimated that decreasing the poll tax to $1 would deprive the general revenue fund of approximately $750,000 annually. This decrease would be partially offset, sponsors of the bill contended, by

Reichstag Is Partly Razed

Historic Building Is Damaged By Fire; Dutch Communist Confesses That He Set Fire To Valuable Structure

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Feb. 27—Historic Reichstag building, built at a cost of more than $6,000,000, was partly destroyed tonight by fire that police described as being of incendiary origin. The blaze was checked after police and firemen had battled the flames two hours.

A man who called himself a Dutch communist was said by police to have confessed setting the fire, which started simultaneously at three or four points and within a few minutes enveloped a large part of the structure in flames.

Throngs Pack Streets

In a few minutes every fire engine in Berlin was on the scene. Police worked to hold back tremendous throngs which packed the streets near the building.

No estimate of the damage was immediately available, although at 10:30 p. m. when the whole east wing was ablaze and it seemed apparent only the west wing could be saved, it was said the damage already had amounted to several million marks.

Plan Of Hoover For Participation Is Opposed

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 27.—A virtual embargo on the shipment of arms and ammunition to Japan and China was announced today by Sir John Simon, the foreign secretary, in the house of commons.

There is one condition — orders and contracts already placed by the two countries will be completed and shipped with the sanction of the government.

England Stays Neutral

Coincident with his announcement, the foreign secretary stated that in no circumstances would Great Britain allow herself to be drawn into the conflict. It was felt that in this statement lies the key to the whole policy of virual embargo.

It was said unofficially that should an actual state of war between China and Japan come about, the Japanese navy easily would be able to seize shipments of arms to China and that if sometime that shipment happened to be in a British bottom it would be very difficult to escape involvement.

Opinion Is Divided

Opinion was divided among members of parliament as to which country would be most affected by the government's decision. The Chinese ministry protested it was unfair, asserting that since Japan now is accepted as the aggressor, China would be permitted means of defense. The Japanese embassy declined to discuss the matter.

It is believed that both countries are about equal in war orders already placed, but Japan is thought to be well stocked with finished material, and well provided with means to finish materials. Her chief need is raw material.

Ideas Of Orders Given

This latter is not necessarily affected by the Simon policy. The arms order of 1931, upon which that policy is based, specifies only what may be termed fighting material, such as arms, munitions, airplanes, etc.

An idea of orders for arms placed recently in Great Britain by the two belligerents was made available tonight. On Dec. 6 there was an order

Denison Fight May Result In Loss Of Funds

Chance That Texas May Lose Federal Aid On Highways Is Seen Unless Controversy Is Finally Settled

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 27.—Claim of F. L. Denison of Temple to the chairmanship of the Texas highway commission still had not been challenged by court procedure today but a move to determine his status was expected momentarily.

W. R. Ely of Abilene and D. K. Martin of San Antonio, members of the commission, did not respond to a request from Denison to attend a conference with him. Denison said, however, that he would attempt to arrange a meeting with the commissioners soon.

Denison Stays Away

Denison did not visit the highway department, but spent considerable time in a downtown office he is occupying in conference with attorneys.

Meanwhile, there came a report from C. E. Swain, federal highway district engineer for Texas and Oklahoma with offices in Fort Worth, that the wrangle over the chairmanship might affect this state's federal aid standing, at least temporarily.

Settlement Necessary

He said that ordinarily the government withholds approval of any work until such disputed claims are settled.

"We must deal with the legal and recognized commission," Swain said "and if a legal question arises as to lawful authority of any member of the body we must withhold any action until it is decided."

He pointed out that when the Oklahoma highway commission chairmanship was in controversy last year all federal highway aid projects were held in abeyance until the matter was determined.

Hearings originally were scheduled to start next Monday.

Father Still Confident Of Son's Return

Boettcher Refuses To Divulge Contents Of Letters He Has Received From Abductors Of 31-Year-Old Heir

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Feb. 27.—Confident he would receive another communication from kidnapers of his son within the next 20 hours, Claude K. Boettcher, multimillionaire father of Charles Boettcher, 2nd, refused today to divulge to police contents of letters he received from the abductors containing instructions on how to pay $60,000 ransom.

His revived hopes for the safe return of the 31-year-old heir, who has been missing since Feb. 12, was expressed to Police Chief A. T. Clark. The chief asked Boettcher to give up the letters, believing detectives might find in them an overlooked clue to the solution of the kidnaping.

Expects Definite Word

"I expect to have definite word from the captors of my son before tomorrow morning," Boettcher told Clark. "If I do not hear from them before then, I will confer with my advisors as to the best plan of procedure."

He refused to say why he thought he would hear from the abductors but it was known the Rev. D. B. Dagwell, rector of the exclusive St. John's Episcopal church, visited Boettcher's great stone mansion twice during the morning. Mr. Dagwell previously had delivered to Boettcher three communications which Boettcher admitted were from the kidnapers.

Another Sign Of Hope

Another sign of bolstered hopes was seen in the statement of R. L. Laird, a private investigator for the Boettcher family, who said he had traveled 12,000 miles since the night young Boettcher was abducted from his home garage.

"I have some information that changes the entire complexion of the case for me," Laird said, "it is something authentic and reliable but I cannot divulge the information now."

MIAMI, Feb. 27.—Mayor Anton Cermak, Chicago, critically wounded by Gieuseppe Zangara, the assasin, resisted the inroads of pneumonia to the satisfaction of his physicians tonight.

Despite his continued grave condition, an 8:30 o'clock bulletin said Mayor Cermak showed "surprising resistance to the pneumonia process."

Area Not Enlarged

Dr. J. W. Snyder said the area of the lung congestion had not increased since afternoon when it was reported to have doubled since first discovered.

Dr. Snyder expressed satisfaction at Mr. Cermak's increased display of spirit and interest today, and added:

"There is every indication he will live through the night."

Use of the oxygen tent to relieve his breathing, which was easier tonight, was continued.

Senate Blocks Criticism For Highway Body

Investigation Of Commission Terminated By Overwhelming Vote; Criticism Is Refused For Members' Actions

Charged With Loss

Probe Followed Charges Made By Governor Ferguson That Loss Of $1,000,000 Suffered By Bond Depreciation

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 27. — The senate committee of the whole voted overwhelmingly early tonight to terminate its investigation of a certain transaction involving the state highway commission and to refuse to criticise the actions of the commissioners.

The vote was 26 to 0 with one pair. Four senators however, voted aye with the reservation that they were not in favor of that part of the resolution refusing to criticise the commission. It was indicated that they might make an effort to strike out that paragraph when the report of the committee of the whole is given to the senate.

The investigation was started after Governor Miriam A. Ferguson had sent up a special message asserting that she had been informed that certain actions of the highway commission had resulted in a loss of more than $1,000,000 to the state's road funds.

Mrs. Ferguson said her information was that securities placed in escrow by the Security Trust company of Austin to protect road construction funds deposited with it by 22 counties had depreciated in value until they were not worth forty cents on the dollar.

She told both houses of the leg-

Aged Pioneer And Native Of Texas Dies At Amarillo Home

AMARILLO, Feb. 27. —(AP)—Mrs. Kate O. Jones, 96, a native Texan whose father, John Huff, immigrated to Texas with Austin's colony from Missouri, died at her home here today.

She was born at Bay Prairie, Matagorda county, late in 1836. She married Henry F. Jones, one of the few men who escaped from the Goliad massacre in which nearly 400 men lost their lives. Jones died in 1877.

Mrs. Jones moved her family to the South Plains in 1891. They later lived in Floyd, Oldham and Hartley counties, and had lived in Amarillo since 1897. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. L. F. Hold and Alice Jones, of this city, the last of five sons having died a year ago.

Former Deputy Is "On His Toes" And When Burglary Suspect Stages Break He Gives Chase And Makes Capture

JOE RIEGER, former deputy sheriff, believes that when anyone runs out of a courthouse something is wrong. So—

When Floyd Pitts, young burglary suspect, dashed out of the west courthouse door yesterday afternoon, the diminutive former officer gave chase.

In a mechanical cotton picker box, on a vacant lot in the 1300-block of Texas avenue, Rieger found Pitts.

"Hello, Floyd, what're you doing in there?" Rieger asked.

"Nothing," the panting youth replied.

"Well, let's go back," the ex-deputy sheriff suggested. A few minutes later, Pitts was in 99th district courtroom, where, with Leo Lynch, he was tried for burglary of Levine's. The jury had not reported late last night, Judge Clark M. Mullican said.

"I guess I played hell," court attaches reported the 20-year-old suspect said when he entered the courtroom.

Pitts and Lynch were being carried to the courtroom for trial by Jailer Parum Posey about 1:30 o'clock. Pitts darted into the east door, slammed it, and side-stepped through a crowded corridor. Jess Carter,

Japs Expect To Capture Jehol In Next Ten Days

Defense By Chinese Is Stiffening As Fighting Rages

(By The Associated Press)

CHINCHOW, Manchuria, Feb. 27. —Officers at Japanese headquarters predicted today the armies of Japan and Manchukuo would have the province of Jehol in the hollow of their hand in ten days.

By March 10, anniversary of the battle of Mukden in the Russo-Japanese war 28 years ago, they said, Jehol City will have fallen and the province will be ripe for annexation to Manchukuo.

Chinese Stiffening

That was the prediction, but the Chinese defense appeared to be stiffening and there was no relaxation of the bitter weather along the entire front.

General Heijiro Hattori with a brigade of infantry was checked in southeastern Jehol by Chang Hsiao-Liang's Chinese regulars, fighting their first engagement in this campaign.

The general reported he had carried part of Shamoshan pass, driving the Chinese back, but the fighting continued, apparently the heaviest since invasion of Jehol began.

Attack Is Shifted

The column advancing westward toward Jehol City from Chinchow was more successful. It took Chaoyang after some resistance, then suddenly shifted the attack northwest against the town of Chienping, where the Chinese were defending a difficult mountain pass.

The army of the north, pushing down toward Jehol City from Kailu, was having the worst time of all.

The march led them through part of the Gobi desert, where sand drifts and soft mud in the river bottoms blocked tanks and trucks. Despite these difficulties General Mogi reported he had reached Lungchikwang junction, about 100 miles south of Kailu. The Chinese under General Feng, he said, were retreating in disorder toward Chihfeng.

Weather Is Vicious

In all sectors Japan and China must fight not only each other but also the vicious winter.

Japanese reports estimate 3,000

Elective Public Utilities Commission Being Favored

AUSTIN, Feb. 27. (AP)—Approval was given today by the committee on municipal and private corporations of the Texas legislature to a bill to establish an elective public utilities commission of three members to take over supervision of all public utilities in the matter of rates.

This duty now is performed, to a limited extent, by the Texas railroad commission. The committee indicated unfavorable reports would be given to all other bills on the subject.

Eighteen Face Indictment In Insull Scheme

Names Of Three Insulls Lead List Of Those Named After Further Probe; Huge Plan To Defraud Charged

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 27— The $150,000,000 financial bubble that Corporation Securities company turned out to be was charged against Samuel Insull and 18 associates today as a gigantic scheme to defraud an investing public.

Indictments entailing possible punishment by 125 years in federal prison and $250,000 fine for each defendant were returned by the federal grand jury.

Insulls Lead List

The names of three Insulls led all the rest—Samuel, an exile in Greece; Martin, in a Canadian refuge, and Samuel, Jr., still active in utility affairs here; but with them the jury named several of Chicago's leading capitalists: Stanley Field, chairman of the Continental-Illinois National Bank and Trust company; Edward J. Doyle, president of Commonwealth Edison company, and Harold L. Stuart, head of Halsey, Stuart and company.

The 25 counts allege, in substance "a scheme and artifice to defraud and to obtain money from prospective investors by false pretenses, representations and promises in the sale of Corporation Securities company of Chicago common stock."

May Return Others

Other indictments may be returned, for government prosecutors have made manifest their determination to bring the senior Insull home from Athens, where thus far he has defeated the efforts of American justice to bring him to trial. State charges of larceny and embezzlement in the Insull financing failed to gain extradition. Similarly, the use of United States mails to defraud is not an extraditable offense, and attorneys regarded it improbable Insull could be removed from Greece should the rumored indictment for concealment of assets in federal bankruptcy materialize.

Death was attributed to diabetic coma, it was said. The girl, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Hankins, became seriously ill Sunday night. She was carried to the sanitarium yesterday morning for treatment.

Pallbearers will be John A. Keathley, Ralph Bedford, Bill Collins, Marlis D. Ratliff, L. L. Stubblefield, Percy Denton, H. H. Griffith, and Weldon F. Hankins.

Trio Named In Suit Charging Tax Oversight

British Ambassador And Two Former Officials Of Internal Revenue Bureau Named In Olson Case

Statute Is Cited

Former Investigator For The Senate Brings Charges For People Of Nation; Foreign Companies Involved

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Andrew W. Mellon, ambassador to Great Britain and former secretary of the treasury, and two former officials of the internal revenue bureau today were named defendants in a $220,000,000 suit charging alleged connivance with officers of foreign steamship companies to evade just income taxes.

Named with Mellon were David H. Blair, one-time commissioner of internal revenue, and Alexander W. Gregg, former acting general counsel for the bureau.

Filed By Olson

The suit was filed in the District of Columbia supreme court by David A. Olson, who resigned recently as investigator for the senate stock market inquiry committee after charging his efforts were being blocked by Senator Norbeck (R., S. D.) and others on the committee.

The papers charged Mr. Mellon not only failed to collect $100,000,000 in delinquent taxes from foreign steamship interests but placed the government in such a position it was compelled to refund some $10,000,000 to the companies. The identities of the companies were not disclosed in the suit.

Based On Old Statute

The suit was based upon a statute of 1863 which prohibits the defrauding of the government by trickery and makes federal officials liable for double the amount of damages suffered by the government.

Although filed in Olson's name, it is on behalf of the people of the United States, so that any damages awarded would revert to the treasury department.

Olson, through his attorneys, alleged that the federal authorities wrongfully permitted the foreign CHICKENS that are allowed to roam are a menace to gardeners in the city.

One of the readers of this column called in recently to ask that a reminder be run here to chicken owners to keep the fowls penned. "My neighbors have some chickens," she stated, "and they are ruining my flowers and garden already. The people are nice. I hate to complain to them or to say anything to the authorities about the menace. Perhaps if you will put something in your column it will help," she added.

The neighbors, it seems, are from the country and have never been accustomed to confining the range of their chickens.

That is not the first complaint about chickens that I have heard. The fowls are ruining other gardens and flower beds.

Almost everyone hates to complain to neighbors because the neighbors do not always receive the complaint in a very friendly spirit and few people want "hard feelings" in their neighborhood. However, the person who lets his chickens damage property of other people is certainly in the wrong.

It is exasperating to attempt to have flowers and a garden and have the neighbors' chickens ruin everything. Some people do not seem to realize that damage can be done in winter as well as in the summer time and turn their chickens out during the cold months. But many flowers come up in the fall and grow all winter. Bulbs remain in the ground and an industrious hen will dig pretty deep to get down to the tender sprouts.

It is all right for the thrifty person to keep chickens in town but they should be confined. If you have chickens be sure there are no holes in the pen through which the chickens can squeeze. Your neighbor may be making a desperate effort to create a beauty spot at his home and he can't spend all of his time outside shooing your chickens home.

By the way, chickens are not the only menace to gardeners. Dogs and children are terribly destructive in some neighborhoods.

If you want to help make the town beautiful, one of the first things to do is to see that you are helping the neighbors to keep their places beautiful.

SEASONING TRICK

THERE is a trick of seasoning that French people have long used but which is not so generally known in this country. That is adding a dash of sugar to vegetables to restore natural sweetness lost after picking or to help blend flavors when two or more vegetables are cooked together.

HOW IT'S DONE

CHICKEN salad, as prepared by Jacques Gessell, chef d' cuisine of the Hotel New Yorker, is supposed to be one of the famous dishes prepared at that hotel. Here is the way he does it:

FOR ST. PATRICK'S DAY

SINCE St. Patrick's day is coming and many party menus will be done up in green and white, here is a suggestion for the day:

For Irish rosettes, use one-fourth cup mayonnaise, two packages (six ounces) of cream cheese, one loaf of sandwich bread and sweet pickles.

To mayonnaise add cream cheese and blend thoroughly. Remove crusts and slice loaf of bread lengthwise. Spread lightly with cream cheese and mayonnaise mixture. Place a whole sweet pickle across end of each slice and roll bread around pickle. Wrap tightly in waxed paper and put in ice box. When ready to serve, cut in slices like a jelly roll.

Former Banker Freed On Bond

J. K. Wood Granted $1,500 Bail Monday After His Arrest In Corsicana; Eluded Officers For Seven Years

J. K. Woods, charged here with forgery and passing a forged instrument, an offense claimed to have been committed seven years ago, was released in $1,500 bail Monday afternoon.

After eluding authorities more than seven years, five of which supposedly were passed in South America, Wood was arrested about 9 o'clock Sunday morning in a house in which he was living in Corsicana by Sheriff Tom Abel of Lubbock county and a Navarro county deputy sheriff. Wood was returned to Lubbock by Sheriff Abel.

Wood was indicted last December by the 99th district court grand jury which charged he made a note purporting to be by "W. A. Wood," August 4, 1925, for $4,000, payable 90 days and negotiable in the First State bank, and the same at the National bank in Lubbock. He passed the false note at the sheriff Abel and Assistant District Attorney Burton S. Burks said Wood is an officer in the Slaton State bank when he made and passed the note.

Estimated to be 35 to 40 years old, Wood has a wife and two children, who were in Corsicana when he was taken into custody.

Upon learning Wood had returned to the United States, authorities here had attempted to trace the accused forger. How long he had been in this country before his capture was not determined, Sheriff Abel said.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 27. —(AP)—Cotton was rather dull today with price trends affected by the course of securities and evening-up transactions in advance of tomorrow's Mardi Gras holiday here. Values were well supported however and although higher levels of the morning were not maintained, the close was 2 to 6 points net higher. A private estimate placed world consumption of all kinds of cotton for the first six months of the season at 12,057,000 bales against 11,660,000 for the same period last season.

The opening was quiet but steady with Liverpool cables about as due. Private cables reported some scale down buying, local support and trade calling. Manchester cabled little change with a fair business. First trades there 1 to 4 points up and after fluctuating within a point or two prices rallied with stocks and on covering by ring shorts for over the holiday. May traded up to 6.02, July to 6.15 and October to 6.33 or 9 to 11 points above Saturday's close.

Late in the morning prices reacted 4 to 6 points in sympathy with some reaction in stocks and then turned easy in the afternoon on weakness of stocks and wheat. Prices made new lows for the day in the late trading at 5.92 for May, 6.04 for July and 6.22 for October or 10 to 11 points down from the highs of the morning. There was a rally of 2 to 3 points right at the end and May and July closed 2 points net higher and December 6 points net higher.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 1 to 2 penny points down.

Port receipts 11,204, foreweek 22,016, for season 7,164,964, last season 8,471,297. Exports 11,010, for week 15,739, for season 5,508,596, last season 5,749,464. Port stock 4,598,094, last year 4,740,648. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 162,689, last year 152,762. Spot sales at southern markets 5,295, last year 17,989.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 27. (AP)—After holding steady during most of the day on covering and trade buying with May selling up to 6.06 or 12 points net higher, cotton lost most of its gains under increased offerings promoted by renewed weakness in the afternoon stock market. May sold off to 5.97 and closed at 5.98, with the general market closing steady at net advances of 1 to 6 points.

The opening was 1 to 5 points higher on steady Liverpool cables, and trade buying believed to be partly for foreign account.

Offerings were light and it did not require a great deal of buying to send the market up to 5.95 for March, 6.18 for July and 6.37 for October or about 10 to 12 points net higher.

At these figures, selling increased and the market weakened during the last hour. Nearly all the early gains were lost but the market was steadied by continued trade buying or covering at the close, which was a point or two up from the lowest on most positions.

Houses with Liverpool, continental and Japanese connections were said to be among the early buyers, and there was also a moderate demand from the domestic trade. Local spot men reported a firm basis, although southern spot markets were said to be quiet.

The New York cotton exchange service reported world's consumption of cotton of all growths during the first half of the current season at approximately 12,057,000 bales, against 11,660,000 last year and 10,979,000 two years ago. Liverpool cables reported a quiet market with liquidations absorbed by trade calling. Exports today 10,871, making 5,508,038 so far this season. Port receipts 11,065. U. S. port stocks 4,648,063.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT
BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 27. (AP)—Stocks zigzagged today in contrast to last Saturday's abrupt break.

At times the market seemed to have tapped a fresh reservoir of courage, for numerous leaders ran up from fractions to couple of points as selling pressure lightened, but there was a general sag in the last hour and the average net change was a fractional loss.

Wall street was naturally preoccupied with banking affairs and the measures being taken to re-establish confidence or readjust certain situations. On the whole, week end news in this connection appeared to have shown a favorable balance, embracing, as it did, the announcement that Ford cash was being put into Detroit banks. Also, no further "banking holidays" were announced, though in some Ohio and Indiana communities limited withdrawals were decided on.

Stocks, generally speaking, spent more time in higher than in lower ground. Initial offerings were quickly taken up by covering shorts or other buyers and when special support appeared for the rails many pivotal issues in other groups took heart. The rise was leisurely, however, and subject to recurrent setbacks; the market closed on one of these sags. Trading was fairly active, volume reaching 1,238,150 shares.

About 85,000 women are in the employment of the U. S. gvoernment, according to the Civil Service League.

Grains

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Feb. 27. (AP)—Demand was good for wheat and fair for the other light offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain market as the week started.

Prices Monday ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth freight paid, delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard according to protein and billing 52 1-2, 53 1-2. Barley No. 2 nominally 33-34; No. 3 nominally 32-33. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 lbs 63-65; No. 3 milo 56-64; No. 2 kaffir per 100 lbs 54-55; No. 3 kaffir 53-54.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn No. 2 mixed 38 1-2, 39 1-2; No. 2 white or yellow 39 1-2, 40 1-2.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats No. 2 red 24 1-2, 25 1-2; No. 3 red 23-24 1-2.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 27. (AP)—Overwhelmed by a rush of selling to stop losses, quotations on all future deliveries of corn pitched headlong downward just before the market closed today.

Wheat and other grains quickly joined in the tumble started by corn. Every low-priced record reached heretofore this season was broken in the corn market, which showed a maximum of 1 1-4 cents a bushel today. May corn contracts dropped to 23 1-2 cents, the bottommost point since 1897.

The selling stampede in corn was started by a commission house with many rural clients. Offerings from this source were generally interpreted by traders as an effort to liquidate holdings, and the market was caught bare of supporting orders.

At the last, however, some of the larger professional traders became active buyers, and corn rallied a little, with closing prices unsettled, 1-2 to 7-8 under Saturday's finish, wheat 3-8, 5-8 down, oats 1-8, 3-8 off, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 2 cents.

Death Mystery Thought Clear

Woman And Four Men Arrested In Slaying Of Chicagoan In July; Life Insurance Said To Be Motive

CHICAGO, Feb. 27 (AP)—The haze of mystery which enveloped the death last July 16 of George Carl, whose widow said his fate was "written" three days in advance on the cards of a fortune teller, began to clear today, the police claimed.

Vera Frances Carl, 36, his widow, was under arrest with four men, who, police said confessed Carl was slain to obtain $15,000 insurance. She has denied being an accessory.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert, state's attorney investigator, revealed the alleged confessions. He said John Milosic, 50, father of two children, admitted he persuaded Mrs. Carl to get her husband to take out life insurance and agree to his death.

Her brother, Ivan Grilec and Joseph Fess, 26, the latter as the actual killer, also confessed Gilbert said. Edward Veselka, according to Capt. Gilbert, admitted he had considered doing the killing but demanded more than the $800 fees received.

During the early investigation last summer, Mrs. Carl told of visiting a fortune teller three days before the death and of drawing three cards, "murder, widowhood, and official inquiry." Gilbert said the fortune teller was not involved.

"I'll be in a position where anything I might say might be interpreted as speaking for the president," Garner said. "I don't propose to do that, unless asked to."

Youngest Globe-Trotter Is Son Of Former Quanah Man

QUANAH, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Probably the youngest globe-trotter related to this section of Texas is the eighteen-months-old child of Lieut. Welborne Griffith of the United States army.

Soon after the child was born in the Hawaiian islands it was taken to New York. From there it went to Panama and on to Manila. It then continued its travels to Shanghai, China, where its father was in charge of the military police. Recently it returned to the United States and then to the Philippines, where the father is stationed.

Restraining Order Granted L. W. Jarvis By Judge Here

L. W. Jarvis has filed suit in county court for an injunction to restrain A. L. Scoggin, J. R. Dickey and L. H. Holt, constable, from selling a 1931 model Ford roadster owned by Jarvis to satisfy a county court judgment.

A restraining order was granted by Judge E. L. Pitts. The defendants Scoggin and Dickey had attached the car and were to have offered it for sale today, the petition said. Scoggin and Dickey had a judgment of $196.27 against the plaintiff.

WOUND IS FATAL

BEAUMONT, Feb. 27. —(AP)— George W. Kelly, 66, Newton county farmer, died at a hospital here today, 48 hours after he was found with a slashed throat across the grave of his wife in a secluded cemetery near Bleakwood.

A new feeling for men past fifty

If you've let yourself grow systemically old, here is a way to stimulate yourself without the slightest harm, and, in fact, with effects beneficial to the entire body.

This method of stimulating a sluggish system to new life is a doctor's discovery, so no one need hesitate to try it or believe in it. It is a sane, sensible way to keep keenly alive.

The only medicine you take is a most likeable and remarkable syrup made with fresh herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. The benefits are many, and far-reaching. Its immediate effect on the lower bowel gets rid of lingering poisons better than a powerful laxative. In fact, you will need no other laxative if you take an occasional spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

If you regard yourself in fairly good health now, you might still find after a week or two of this gentle stimulation that you were only in a state of half-health before. It makes an amazing difference in the way one feels, especially at an age when one inclines toward auto-intoxication. (Daily headaches, failing appetite and tiring too easily are apt to be symptoms of a toxic condition.)

Women, too, get decided benefit from a few weeks' regulation with this simple prescription that can be had at all times at any drugstore. Mothers give this same syrup to children, and raise their families without a day's worry over chronic constipation, or even the sluggishness so common in childhood. The bowels move like clockwork.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is perfectly safe for anyone of any age.

ILLUSION:
The Oriental girl reclines on a sheet of plate glass supported by two slaves. The magician waves a white sheet in front of the pretty maiden . . . pronounces a few magic words . . . Presto! She has disappeared in thin air.

EXPLANATION:
"Disappearing" acts are among the most popular in the repertory of the magician. Dogs, horses, girls, whole rooms disappear—whisked into wings, dropped through trapdoors, hidden by mirrors. But this "disappearance" is a bit different. One of the "slaves" is a hollow dummy. When the magician holds up the sheet the lithe little lady disappears completely—into the convenient figure of the dummy.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED . . . IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

There is also a trick of cigarette advertising, whereby a few magic words are used to create the illusion of "Coolness."

EXPLANATION: Coolness is determined by the speed of burning. Fresh cigarettes, retaining their full moisture, burn more slowly . . . smoke cooler. Parched, dry cigarettes burn fast. They taste hot. This makes the method of wrapping very important. Improperly wrapped cigarettes begin to dry out as soon as packed.

Camels are cooler because they come in the famous Humidor Pack of welded, three-ply, MOISTURE-PROOF cellophane . . . and because they contain better tobaccos.

A cigarette that is fresh, full of natural moisture, and blended from choice, ripe tobaccos tastes cooler than one that is harsh and acrid. For coolness, choose a fresh cigarette, made from costlier tobaccos.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Try Camels . . . give your taste a chance to sense the difference. You'll appreciate it!

One-Sixth Of Year 1933

WITH the closing of today's business there will have been passed by the first two months of 1933. One-sixth of the New Year is gone. We are, by the minute, the hour and the day, plunging further and further into the twelve-month which 59 days ago was the subject of great and varied introspection.

And what have we of Lubbock and the South Plains found thus far?

We have found that while 1933 is no repetition of 1928, neither is it as bad as pessimists feared it would be. In few, if any instances is it worse than 1932; from many angles it is appreciably better.

Right here in Lubbock and on the South Plains, 1933 finds, in most instances, a citizenship bulwarked against depression. We have surveyed the condition, have decided that we had just as well make the best of things and are doing just that. Where a year and two years ago we were looking for a miracle, now we realize that there'll be no miracles and we've set to work to pull ourselves out by our own bootstraps; we've finally come to realize that if there is a Santa Claus he only works on Christmas Eve and for the kiddies.

Business is not as good as we would like it to be, but we don't expect it now as we once did when present economic conditions first went into force. Neither is it as bad as we feared it might be and, generally speaking, people are feeling better than they were a year ago today.

There is nothing mysterious about 1933. There is nothing unusual about it under present standards save that, with a change of national administrations and a slight drift toward normalcy, it may wind up as the year which will set us well on the way out of depression.

While 1933 could be considerably better to most of us than it is being, it likewise could be infinitely worse.

Let's sit tight in the buggy, quit peering breathlessly ahead for "the corner" and make the best of what the year offers. By so doing we'll be happier and perhaps a shade more prosperous.

WHY LAWS ARE NOT RESPECTED

Widespread criticism of our methods of applying justice is, admittedly, unhealthy.

Yet what beside widespread criticism can be expected in the face of conditions typified by the John W. Brady case, latest development of which is the restoration of the rights of citizenship to the one-time appeals court justice, the former assistant attorney-general and potent politician?

Brady, a man well along in years, was convicted of slashing to death his youthful paramour. For the act he drew a three-year prison term in a trial marked by a change of venue and the aid of powerful legal friends. He served scarcely half of the term and was released, with time off being granted for "extra work" and good behaviour. Now, thanks to Governor Miriam Ferguson, Brady to all legal intents and purposes has been made as good a citizen as walks within the confines of the Lone Star state.

It makes no difference that his victim, Lehila Highsmith, lies in her grave.

It makes no difference that he was convicted of the high crime of murder in which there was no suggestion that Brady slew in self-defense.

The state has marked the debt to society as "fully paid."

There is a great hue and cry that "we must respect the laws," which certainly would be a good thing for the country.

But the kind of example set by the Brady case is not calculated to engender much respect for the system under which we operate. All the way through the case, as one follows it step by step, is visible that something is wrong with the way justice can be applied in special cases.

We have no desire to persecute John Brady. We consider his experience tragic—not only to him and to his family but to his victim and the members of her family.

But the Brady case constitutes a principle—an example of how our laws may be legally frustrated and set to naught. And it further serves to show one reason why laws are so often jeered at instead of being respected.

A New York customs inspector was shocked at a photograph of one of Michel Angelo's sacred paintings. If that had been a modern painting it might have passed without question—no customs inspector could understand it.

Secretary Wilbur says the government has turned to science to solve the Indian problem. If the scientists can explain how 1000 acres in Manhattan are worth a pint of whisky, we'll buy a copy of their report.

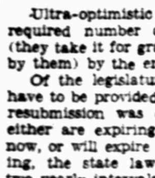

No man is bigger than the things required to get his goat.

Repeal Before '35 In Doubt

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

Washington Monument

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Members of congress (both houses) who voted for prohibition resubmission, at the same time expressing the opinion that not enough states will ratify repeal to take the eighteenth amendment out of the constitution, undoubtedly were "playing safe" to a great extent.

Casting resubmission votes, while simultaneously professing personally dry principles, obviously was a fairly satisfactory method of straddling the issue.

Those who adopted it hope it will prove satisfactory, anyway.

Nevertheless, there are not a few out-an-out wets who also regard the prospect of repeal's ratification by the necessary 36 commonwealths with considerable skepticism.

Must Be Tested

Only an actual test can solve the problem.

Ultra-optimistic repealists still maintain that the required number of state conventions can be held (they take it for granted that ratification will be voted by them) by the end of April, at the latest.

Of the legislatures, by which the conventions will have to be provided for, 41 were in session at the time resubmission was ordered, but 19 of these sessions either are expiring by state constitutional limitation now, or will expire very shortly, and, generally speaking, the state law-making bodies assemble only at two-yearly intervals. Two, to be sure, will meet later this year, and five meet in 1934; but this is insufficient, by a wide margin.

Thus the indications are mighty strong, unless a really extraordinary rate of speed is attained, that prohibition will continue to prevail until early in 1935, anyway—or unless 25 or 30 extra legislative sessions are called, which is rather too much to expect, for the one purpose, in the present hard times.

How the convention plan of acting on the repeal proposition will work out in practice is problematic.

Wets' Idea

It was of wet origin, and was hit upon in the hope that the over-representation of the rural districts, which prevails in most legislatures, could be so counteracted as to give the damper urban areas their fair share of delegates. However, as the legislatures will have to furnish the convention machinery, it is hard to see how they can be prevented from furnishing it according to their various wet-and-dry preferences.

The clause in the resubmission proposition continuing the federal prohibition of the shipment of intoxicants into dry states is the one fly in the wet's ointment—provided ratification of the repeal resolution follows.

It may not turn out to be a fly of any serious consequence.

Or it may breed trouble for Uncle Sam, with wet states, concerning whose slopover into dry territory he is called on to halt.

INSULL "RACKET"

Testimony taken at the senate banking committee's inquiry into the Insull failure is nearly impossible to summarize, there is so much of it, but the conclusion Chairman Norbeck draws from it is compact enough —"A two-billion-dollar racket."

NO SOLO TRIP

When Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt planned to motor alone to Washington for inauguration, it seems she forgot that Secret Service Chief Moran has to "o. k." all presidential and presidentially-elect family plans. If she insists, she will be permitted to drive her own car—under escort.

THE NEXT SPEAKER

According to form, either Congressman Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee or Congressman Henry T. Rainey of Illinois should succeed Vice President-elect Garner as speaker, but there is a chance that they will offset one another, making a balance-of-power candidate the winner. In which event the best bet is Congressman John McDuffie of Alabama.

AFTER HUEY'S SCALP

Congressional progressives' conviction is growing that Huey P. Long's enemies are shaping Louisiana's senate seat contest with a view to "getting" the "Kingfish" as well as barring Senator-elect John H. Overton. Though not all its members greatly like Huey, the progressive bloc will raise the Capitol dome before they will let the "interests" "frame" him.

FRANCE AND ITALY

Students of foreign affairs speak anxiously of the situation recently disclosed by France's abrupt diplomatically rough demand (indorsed by England) on Austria to explain a small purchase of arms, a few weeks ago, from Italy. The incident's seriousness lies in the fact that the French jab so obviously is intended for the Roman government, suggesting a far tenser Franco-Italian strain than generally had been suspected.

WOODCOCK NOT UPSET

Prohibition Administrator Amos W. W. Woodcock is not seriously upset over the certainty of a sharp reduction in the new budgetary allowance for dry law enforcement.

Funds for his bureau's activities are provided up to the end of the current fiscal year, June 30, and long before that he expects to be out of office. Consequently the cut will mean nothing to him personally. His Democratic successor will be the official to feel it.

And, by the way, despite prospects of the early modification of the Volstead act, and perhaps outright repeal of the eighteenth amendment, there is plenty of competition for the post of prohibition administrator under the new regime. Applicants evidently take the view that it will be a job for a while, anyway.

FEDERAL BUREAUS TO CHARGE

The new national administration's economy program will not mean the out-and-out elimination of quite all the federal bureaus under attack as redundant.

Some of those which it is planned to continue at least tentatively for a while, shortly will begin to levy special charges for their services, in an effort to render themselves self-supporting. Information-gathering, in particular, will be expected to pay for itself.

Budget-shavers say the experiment will furnish an excellent test of the real value of many of Uncle Sam's activities. Those which are worth much will survive, it is foreseen, and maybe will resume free service when the pinch is over. Those for which the public refuses to foot the bill will go entirely into the discard within a year or two.

THE MOST DISTINGUISHED LADY OF SCIENCE

Mme. Marie Curie, (nee Sklodowska) co-discoverer of polomium and radium, is the only person to have received Nobel prizes from more than one section. She received the award for physics (jointly with her husband and M. Becquerel) in 1903, and was again awarded the Nobel prize in chemistry in 1911.

Mme. Curie, who is of Polish descent, (daughter of a professor of physics in Warsaw) succeeded her husband Pierre Curie as professor of physics and director of the physical laboratory at the Sorbonne. Her scientific experiments, consisting of tedious and innumerable fractional crystallizations, yielded a minute sample of pure radium salt which made possible the precise determination of the atomic weight of radium.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SHEILA SHAYNE, whose parents were well known vaudeville entertainers, is in New York looking for a job. Sheila is a dancer. After much discouragement she is hired to substitute for DAISY GLEASON, another dancer, who has sprained an ankle. While rehearsing at JOE PARIS' song shop Sheila meets TREVOR LANE and DICK STANLEY, rich and socially prominent. Dick urges Lane to include Sheila in the program of entertainment at a party he is giving. Sheila declines but Dick comes to the theater later and persuades her to come.

At the party she meets several celebrities, including GORDON MANDRAKE, well known producer. She sees Dick frequently during the next few days and he tells her Mandrake is going to offer her a part in a play. Presently Daisy Gleason is able to dance and Sheila is again out of work. She makes the rounds of the agents' offices without results. Then Mandrake calls and offers her a part in his new play.

Rehearsals begin and Sheila becomes friendly with JIM BLAINE, one of the principals in the cast. The show opens in Atlantic City for a tryout week. On the morning after the opening night Jim calls Sheila to tell her about the newspaper reviews. She meets him at breakfast.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

"I wanted you to know first," Jim Blaine told Sheila seriously. Sooner or later the rest of the company will know it. Still," his voice was filled with sudden eagerness, "maybe they'll be so busy reading their notices that they won't see the front page."

"Front page?" Sheila repeated, mystified. "Are you on the front page? What have you been doing?"

There was instant concern in her voice. The front page to her spelled trouble.

"If I have, will you stand by me?" he asked.

She gave him a surprised look. "Of course. You know that. But my standing by you can't help much."

His voice rang out. "Thanks a lot. No, don't be afraid. I haven't done anything very terrible. That is, you and I won't think so. The company won't either, I dare say. Good publicity for the show, maybe," He learned across the table, touching her hand confidentially. "You see, I'm sailing more or less under false colors. I've always wanted to act and the only way I could do it was to run away. My father thinks I am in Europe—or he did think so until breakfast this morning." Jim pushed the newspaper toward Sheila. "Look here!"

There was Jim's picture on the front page. It was Jim certainly, but the caption below read: "Norman B. Etherington, Jr., who was discovered last night appearing in a musical show in Atlantic City. Private agents who have been on the trail of young Etherington for weeks found him singing in 'When Lights Are Low,' soon to open on Broadway. Young Etherington was forbidden an operatic career by his parents who believed him to be studying in Munich until his aunt, visiting that city—"

"Aunt Emily would!" Jim groaned ruefully. "You see, my Mother was an opera singer. She died when I was a kid. Then Dad married the girl the family picked out for him and all was well. Mother—she isn't my own Mother, of course, but she is a peach—sympathized with my wish to sing but Dad was horrified. It had to be the furniture business or nothing! Well, my Mother left me a little money and I decided to go to Europe to study. I stayed a year and then my money gave out. Dad wouldn't give me any more and I couldn't tell him that I had been—er—extravagant."

Jim flushed suddenly. His money had given out because he had financed a friend but he couldn't tell Sheila this.

"So you are one of the Etheringtons?" she murmured. She had heard of the family. Everybody had. They were an old conservative family. And rich.

"You don't mind my deceiving you, Sheila?" Jim asked humbly. "The name, Jim Blaine, is — well sort of mine. My middle name is Jim and Dad's name is Blaine. Etherington, of course, was out of the question. Everyone would have known that name. And I didn't want to get this job through pull."

"How did you get it?" Sheila asked.

"Why I just asked for it," Jim grinned. Then he explained quickly. "Oh, it wasn't that easy! I came to New York and moved in to an apartment near some friends of mine. But I began eating in the places where show people eat. A chap I met there—" He paused.

Wisely Sheila nodded. "I know", she said. "Someone you loaned money to."

"Anyhow," Jim went on, "this chap told me they were trying voices at Schumann's. I dropped around. They weren't many men, you know. I didn't know it until later," he grinned, "but they tried me out for the chorus first. The what's-his-name in the derby and shirt sleeves said, 'Anyone unwilling to sing in the ensemble, will kindly leave!' I didn't connect that high sounding phrase with the chorus. I just thought it meant sing in groups, you know. In fact it didn't occur to me that they would take me at all!

"They did. They sent me over to a show that was rehearsing and I had stepped into the door before this chap from Mandrake's handed me a contract! Just like that! Didn't even try me out."

There was pardonable pride in his voice. "If I were a girl," he went on seriously, "I'd lose courage in this business. If my living—my next meal maybe—depended on landing a job I think Id go crazy. Why, Sheila, I saw the most beautiful girls—"

"I know," she said, nodding.

"They had good voices, style, carriage, grace, everything! And most of them were weeded out in a few minutes. Dozens of them! Better looking girls than I knew there were anywhere."

"You should go to a 'call' from Greenfeld for his 'Frivolities'," Sheila told him wisely. "The girls who answer those calls—of course all kinds do answer them — but some of them are marvelous!"

"Ermine coats and all that sort of thing?" asked Jim, relieved that his little confession had gone over so easily, yet also slightly piqued. It should have made more of an impression.

"Not at all! They wear tailored suits — marvelous things. And slick little hats. You never see such clothes exhibited for sale — I mean I don't I suppose they come from 57th street shops. Frilly blouses. Beautiful shoes. And the complexions those girls achieve! And the accents!

"The ones who land the jobs certainly earn all they get. They work hours every day to keep their complexions and their figures perfect. One girl I know who weighed hardly 105 pounds used to weigh herself every day (of course they all do that) and if she had gained a single ounce she would watch her diet like a hawk. Her father and mother were 'inclined to stoutness' she told me.

"Those girls even try not to think because thinking can make wrinkles. They never go to other shows or even read newspapers—except possibly the financial pages."

"Do they speculate?"

"Sometimes. Mostly, though, some admirer speculates for them and reading the market news is simply a sort of ceremony because they seldom know how their money is placed. They never know whether they are winning or losing so they don't worry."

"And," Jim added gravely, "they never lose."

"I suppose not." Sheila smiled. They walked to the theater slowly. A rehearsal was to be called at noon and would continue until the matinee performance.

At the theater there was a surprise in store for them. It was not the news about Jim Blaine in the morning newspaper that seemed to be attracting attention back stage. As Jim and Sheila passed through the stage door it seemed to the girl that the doorman looked at her curiously.

There was the sound of loud voices, arguing, explosive. One of the voices was feminine, shrill and angry. The others were low-pitched, meant to be conciliatory.

Marion Randolph, the star, was having her say and evidently didn't care who knew it. Mike and the stage manager were doing what they could to placate her.

Jappy Foster, a member of the chorus, appeared around one of the flies, her eyes round with interest. She looked at Sheila curiously, disappeared and came back again with an equally interested companion. The two girls whispered busily.

"What's all the commotion?" Jim asked jokingly. "Is it time to feed the animals."

But Sheila did not reply. As if turned to stone she waited for what she knew would be inevitable. It came abruptly. Marion Randolph's voice rose hysterically:

"I don't give a damn about her talent! I tell you Shayne goes out of this show or I do. You can take your choice right now."

Second Suit Involving Tax Funds In Closed Slaton Bank Is Filed Monday

A second suit involving tax funds tied up in the closing of the First State bank at Slaton was filed Monday in 99th district court. State of Texas is plaintiff, and defendants are Lola M. Clark, independent executrix of the estate of A. J. Clark, and the New York Casualty company. The suit is for $2,-144.37.

On Dec. 1, last year, a similar suit involving county funds was filed by County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson against the casualty company, surety for Mr. Clark, former tax collector.

The losses, both to state and county, were occasioned by default of the Slaton bank, it has been said. Cashier's checks had been secured by the collector's office from the Slaton bank, and were in transit to the depository at the time the Slaton bank closed its doors, Mr. Wilson said. The cashier's checks were never honored by the closing bank, and as a result neither county nor state received the funds involved.

The petition filed yesterday, by James V. Allred, attorney general, and Everett F. Johnson, assistant, set out that Mr. Clark, as tax collector of Lubbock county, drew three cashier's checks from the First State bank in Slaton and deposited them in Lubbock National bank, the county depository, which each time "gave credit for same as an ordinary deposit."

In an alternative account, the state asked recovery from Mrs. Clark and the casualty company, through which the county tax collector made bond of $74,800.

The previous suit was for $3,-236.09.

Oil Is Spread On Caliche Paving To Preserve Surface

Oil is being spread on the caliche paving on highway 137 between Seminole and the Andrews county line, H. T. Field, of Field Brothers and McCelvey, local contractors, report. The oil is being used to preserve the caliche surface.

Four tank cars of oil have been delivered by the Santa Fe to the concern at Seagraves. It is being hauled to the job.

No date has been mentioned for the letting of the asphalt surfacing contract by the state highway department. It is not thought one will be let until warm weather.

Work Of Terracing Reported Progressing Through County

O. G. Tumlinson, county agent, and his assistant, R. N. McClain, have terraced more than 7,300 acres on 57 Lubbock county farms since January 1. The projects were done through terracing schools in which farmers were instructed in terracing.

"We now have nearly 200 requests for terracing of farms," the agent said. He announced that a terracing demonstration will be conducted on the T. Z. Goodjohn farm in the Hardy community Wednesday.

GOOD TAX COLLECTIONS

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 27 (Special) Fifty per cent of the 1932 taxes for Lamb county's government were collected, Clint Griffin, collector, reported here. The previous year 55 per cent was collected. Collections for 1932 were $58,426.89, compared to $74,495.05 last year. The difference is due to sharp reductions in valuations.

NEW LITTLEFIELD BUSINESS

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 27 (Special) —B. P. Fitzgerald and Tom Lowe have bought the equipment of the Evins Cleaners. They have opened a cleaning plant in the former location of Globe Clothiers.

Matadors Offer Buffs A Lively Scrap But Lose; Play Again Tonight

Towering Buff Quintet Takes 43-29 Victory

Tech Outbattles Visitors From Canyon But Height Is Victor As Fortenberry Leads Mates To Another Victory

Dell Morgan's Texas Tech Matadors swarmed over the West Texas Teachers Buffaloes, alleged "tallest team in the world," here last night to outplay and outrush them throughout the game, but the perennial T. I. A. A. champs took advantage of superior height to win a 43 to 29 victory.

The teams meet tomorrow night in the final game of the series and the season's last for Tech. It starts at 8 o'clock.

A charging offense that kept the Buffs very busy easily made Tech's team the gallery favorite, but once the Buffs got the ball under the basket it meant two more points for the Canyon school.

Tall Joe Fortenberry, although covered closely by Polk Robison, emerged high scorer with 16 points. Tech's Alvin Crews looped five buckets and two free goals for runner up honors.

Well Deserved Victory

The victory, though by a margin of 14 points, was a richly deserved one, for the Buffs had to fight every inch for points. Their almost super-human height was responsible, because as far as the game of basketball is concerned the Matadors had it all over the north Panhandle team. Tech's accurate and lightning-like passing, fast dribbling and smart out-of-bounds plays, coupled with the fast charging offense, needed only a few more well-aimed shots. The Matadors were in possession of the ball practically as much as the Buffs, but Morgan's hot shots, Wilson Gilmore and Polk Robison, missed enough tosses to win two games.

It was a fairly rough contest, and each side lost a man via the personal foul route. Thomas, Tech's starting guard, and Comer, Buff forward, were expelled.

The crowd gave Fortenberry two of his points when Referee Frank Kimbrough's decision on a foul was roundly booed. The booing continued until Fortenberry received three shots when only one was due him. The last two counted.

The fans were entertained during the rest period by tumbling exhibition and rope-spinning show staged by Bill Stubb's acrobatic class, and by "Boots and her Buddies," an all-girls dance orchestra.

The Matadors hopped off to an early lead when Crews and Fortenberry sunk field goals for the first four points. Comer and Fortenberry tied it up, however, with crip shots. Robison pitched a free toss to take the lead for Tech again and Crews added a point. Colvin rung a free shot and Comer hit a bucket to take the lead. Robison tied it up with a free shot, but Stroud's long field goal gave the Buffs a lead they never relinquished, although Tech was within two points of the Buffs later in the game.

The half ended with the visitors leading, 20 to 15, and there was hope that Tech would continue its rushing game to keep in sight of victory.

Crews Starts Second Half

Crews lessened the margin with a field goal to start the second period, but Fortenberry retaliated and Stroud tossed another long one, almost from the center of the court. The Buffs scored twice where Tech tallied once almost everytime during the last half, but never did the Matadors quit trying and never did they fail to "ride" their taller foes when the opportunity presented itself.

From the Lubbock series, the Canyon team goes to Kansas City to compete in the National A. A. U. tournament, where they already rank as favorites to reach the closing games.

Freddie Miller Favored To Beat Baby Arizmendi Tonight

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27 (AP)—Freddie Miller, National Boxing association's world's featherweight champion, stood as the favorite tonight to punch his way to victory over Alberto (Baby) Arizmendi in their 10-round title bout tomorrow night.

Reports Arizmendi was suffering with lumbago, which proved to be unfounded after a doctor's examination, helped to keep the Cincinnati southpaw on the long end of the betting odds.

Bird Dogs Offset By Rabbit In Big Show

National Show Is Featured By Smart Dogs

GRAND JUNCTION, Tenn., Feb. 27 (AP)—Slightly disturbed by a diversion, when one contender pointed a couple of rabbits, the national championship field trials for bird dogs opened here today on the historic Ames plantation.

The gallery and certainly the handler, Chesley Harris, were slightly upset when Kremlin, a fancy pointer owned by Jacob France, Baltimore, froze to a point on the two unsought bunnies.

Except for that, things went smoothly all day with Bilious Ben, Kremlin's brace mate, running the best heat. Ben, pointer owned by B. H. Talbut, Cleveland, and handled by W. H. Jones, did exceptionally well and found seven coveys, the record for the day. The only flaw in his work was some indecision about the exact location of his birds.

Kremlin covered the ground well and didn't tire, but for about 40 minutes he was lost to the judges. He found four coveys and three singles.

Edgewood Ben, one of the two setters entered in the race, went down with Yankee Doodle Jack in the morning brace. Ben started well and found six coveys but toward the end of his three hour heat he blowed down. Ben is owned by B. B. Edell, Charleston, W. Va., and was handled by O. S. Redmon.

Jack, a pointer belonging to S. H. Vredenburgh, Vredenburgh, Ala., started well for his handler, John Campbell. Although he found five coveys, he tired toward the last.

Pop Warner To Resume Trip From Fort Worth Today

FORT WORTH, Feb. 27 (AP)—Feeling much easier from his attack of lumbago, Glenn S. "Pop" Warner, one of the nation's outstanding football coaches, who has been visiting with Bennie Winkelman, Central High School Coach, since Sunday, said tonight that he would resume his journey to his Palo Alto home tomorrow.

Warner, who spent the larger part of this morning visiting about the city, returned to his hotel rooms this afternoon to receive several football coaches of Fort Worth and other cities.

Levey Pads His Average By Turn-Around Batting

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 27 (AP)—Jim Levey, short-stop of the St. Louis Browns who raised his batting average from .209 in 1931 to .280 last season, credits the improvement to batting left-handed against right-handed pitchers.

"That was a good tip Bill Killefer gave me," Levy confided, as he rested from a game of basketball with the team he managed this winter.

"I'm anxious to get to Florida with the first squad and put in all the batting practice possible."

H. L. Doherty To Offer Cup To "World's Golf Champion"

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 27 (AP)—Henry L. Doherty, Utilities Magnate, announced here today he would offer annually, beginning this year, a world's championship golf trophy to be competed for by winners of the American and British championships.

This year's trophy will be awarded to Gene Sarazen, holder of both titles who today defeated Olin Dutra, Metropolitan and P. G. A. champion, 11 and 10 in a special 72-hole match.

The Doherty Trophy competition will be held here each winter. In the event the American and British opens are won by the same player, the championship contest will be played against the winner of the P. G. A. title.

Major League Players Start Trek To Camps

Yankees, White Sox, Tigers On Way For First Workouts In Spring Camps; L. Gehrig Still Holding Out

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The advance guard of the world champion New York Yankees entrained today for St. Petersburg.

There was no indication Lou Gehrig and the Yankee management were any nearer an agreement on the slugging first baseman's contract when the party of four pitchers, Charley Devens, Russell Van Atta, Pete Jablonowski and Vernon Gomez, left the Pennsylvania station.

The major part of the squad, including infielders and outfielders, will leave for the Florida training camp next Monday.

Tigers To Santone

DETROIT, Feb. 27. (AP)—Manager Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers prepared to leave tonight for San Antonio, with the advance guard of the club's training camp crew, five pitchers and two catchers.

The batterymen will begin their workout Wednesday, but will not be joined by the entire squad until March 6. Pitchers in the group leaving tonight were George Uhle, veteran right hander, Frank Nekola, Holy Cross southpaw recalled from Newark, Luke Hamlin, Izadore Goldstein, right handers, and Carl Fischer, who came here today from his home in Middleport, N. Y. Frank Reiber and Gene Desautels are the catchers.

Asked whether he believed the Tigers will finish higher in the league standings this year Harris replied:

"I don't hesitate to say that the club is stronger than it was a year ago, but I have no way of knowing how much stronger the other clubs are. We expect our chief opposition from the Yankees, Athletics, Washington and Cleveland."

Aggies Take Win Over Methodists

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Texas Aggies climbed into second place in the Southwest conference basketball race tonight by handing the Southern Methodist Mustangs a 32 to 22 trimming.

Leading the Aggie attack was Joe Merka, center, who turned in the best game he had played this season. He scored 12 points and gave his team the tip-off most of the time. Besides this, he grabbed the ball repeatedly off the backboard.

Close guarding was a feature of the game. Bull Marcum, Aggie guard, held Whitey Baccus, Mustang forward, to eight points. Graber, Mustang guard, made it difficult for Captain Joe Moody, Aggie forward, to get loose. In the second half Moody went scoreless and Baccus tallied but two points. Jocko Roberts also turned in a nice game at guard for the Aggies.

Walter Powell, Southern conference football official, was excused from jury duty in Atlanta city court, when he explained to the presiding judge he was scheduled to officiate at a game in Mississippi.

Off For Camp

Sam West, above, former Washington Senator outfielder, now the property of the St. Louis Browns, leaves his Lubbock home today for St. Louis on the first leg of his journey to West Palm Beach, Fla., where the Browns will soon inaugurate spring training. West and Mrs. West, who spend the winters here, came to Lubbock in October following the end of the big league season. He goes to St. Louis of the American League after six years as regular outfielder for the Washington Nationals. His transfer is the result of a trade whereby St. Louis acquired three former Washington players, sending as many and some cash to the Senators.

Dr. Clarence W. Spears has promised University of Wisconsin students and fans that football practice for the Badgers next fall will be open to the public, at least half the time.

Sarazen Beats Dutra To Win World's Title

Although Unofficial, World's Golf Championship Goes To Open Champ After One-Sided Victory At Miami

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 27 (AP)—Three consecutive rounds of below par golf gave Gene Sarazen the "unofficial world's golf championship" today, as he smothered Olin Dutra, 11 up with 10 holes to play in their 72-hole match.

Tying the Miami Biltmore course competitive record in the morning with 31-36—67 and doing the first nine holes of the afternoon in 34, Sarazen ended the match by halving the 62nd hole in three.

Sarazen, British and American open champion, was seven up on Dutra, Metropolitan and P. G. A. Champion, as today's second 36-hole play started, having registered 67-68—135 yesterday, against Dutra's 72-73—145.

Going out this morning in 31 strokes, Sarazen moved his lead to 10 up and held it there at the 54th hole.

He increased it to 11 by winning the 55th and made it 12 by taking the 59th, only to have Dutra win the 60th.

SAM HOUSTON WINS

SAN MARCOS, Feb. 27. —(AP) — Rough play and erratic goal shooting marked the basketball game tonight in which Sam Houston defeated the San Marcos Teachers 45 to 21.

Brownfield Replaces Post In South Plains Golf Loop; McMillan Honored

Meadowbrook Owner Named President For This Year

W. G. (Bill) McMillan, owner of the Meadowbrook Golf club here, was elected president of the South Plains Golf league at a meeting of the board of directors here Sunday.

Resignation of the Post club, winners of the league title last season, was accepted and Brownfield's application for membership to replace Post was affected yesterday. The membership now embraces golf clubs at Brownfield, Tahoka, Slaton, Plainview and Lubbock. Lubbock Country club and Meadowbrook are members.

Charles M. Taylor of Slaton was elected secretary of the league Sunday, succeeding John Edmisson of Lubbock Country club. McMillan succeeds Joe Dick Slaughter of Country club as president of the league.

Members of the board of directors who met at the Hilton hotel were Calvin Cannon of Plainview, C. N. Woods of Brownfield R. L. Badger of Littlefield, Edmisson of Lubbock Country club, Taylor and McMillan.

Minimum Set

The directors made a ruling which requires that a minimum of thirteen players represent every club in league competition. There is no maximum limit, but each home club is required to provide an opponent for each visiting player or forfeit one point.

There will be a league tournament at the end of the regular season. The league schedule will be announced shortly by Secretary Taylor. A trophy will be selected this week and displayed in each of the league towns. The season begins April 2, with matches played every other Sunday afternoon.

LIONS TAKE THIRD

DENTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—The East Texas Lion of Commerce went into a tie for third place in the Lone Star Conference tonight by defeating the North Texas Teachers' college Eagles, 34 to 26. It was the final game for both cage teams.

Rites Read For Confederate Vet

TAHOKA, Feb. 27—(Special)—James K. Polk (Uncle Jimmy) Fleming, 87, a Confederate veteran, was buried in Tahoka cemetery this afternoon, following funeral services conducted by the Rev. H. C. Smith pastor, at the First Methodist church at 3 o'clock. The Confederate veteran, who died at 5:30 o'clock this morning, had resided in Tahoka the past quarter of a century.

Masonic lodge members had charge of the burial rites.

The aged man's death came as the result of an extended illness.

He is survived by a son, Emmett Fleming of Tahoka, and three stepchildren who reside in other sections of the state. His second wife has been dead several years.

"Uncle Jimmy" came to Tahoka in 1908. He was born in Montgomery, Montgomery county, Arkansas and would have been 88 years old, March 11. He moved to Tahoka from San Saba county after moving to Texas when he was but a year old.

Slaton Using Relief Funds

R. F. C. Money Being Used For Cleaning Work And Odds And Ends Of Municipal Rehabilitation Program

(By Staff Correspondent)

SLATON, Feb. 27. — A large amount of cleaning work and odds and ends of municipal rehabilitation work has been done by the city of Slaton with Reconstruction Finance corporation funds, records of A. J. Payne, secretary of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, show.

The city is enlarging Englewood cemetery grounds, adding a strip of land about 150 feet wide along the north side. A new entrance is being built at the southeast corner, giving two entrances to the grounds. The new area is being grubbed.

Sidewalks Built

Other work includes the laying of sidewalks around the Santa Fe park. The walk is along the south side of the area is about 900 feet long. The walk will be of caliche and gravel.

The city contemplates spreading fertilizer over the grass plat around the city park in the center of town. Gravel and caliche may be placed on the driveways into the park.

Discussion is being had on the proposal to pay for caliche surfacing of the street from the state highway to Mercy sanitarium, operated by the Sisters of Mercy.

Gravel Spread

Some gravel has been spread around the high school, including a connection with the city paving. More will be used, Payne said.

Men were put to work cleaning debris of the fire which some weeks ago gutted the L. T. Green building. Inside the building considerable cotton owned by the Slaton Cotton Oil mill was destroyed.

There are about 150 men being used in the work. The amount of work to be done during March and April depends on the money that is made available by the R. F. C. For January and February $400 per month was given the city.

for one million 7.9 millimeter cartridges; on Dec. 14 there was another order for the same amount; on Dec. 21 there was an order for twenty million cartridges, and on Jan. 10 for fifteen million. It was understood that the orders were placed with Wickers, Ltd. and with the Imperial Chemical industries.

Powerful Opposition Of Borah Raised To Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The powerful opposition of Borah of Idaho was raised today against American participating in an embargo on arms shipments to the orient.

"To put an arms embargo on China and Japan," the chairman of the foreign relations committee told newspaper men, "is to take sides with Japan under the conditions and circumstances that now exist."

Others who have taken the same view as Borah have contended Japan already is well-equipped while China must seek war supplies abroad.

Borah spoke on developments abroad after Democratic house leaders had blocked for this session action on President Hoover's proposal to emplower the chief executive to place embargoes on shipments of arms and munitions to countries in conflict.

islature in her message dealing with the matter that she had been informed checks drawn on the counties' funds in the trust company had been impounded by the highway commissioners and while they thus withheld the securities continued to become less valuable.

It developed that the checks were withheld because the trust company did not have available funds to meet their immediate payment and the highway commission and counties involved desired not to force sale of the bonds and other securities on a poor market, thus sustaining an immediate loss.

It was revealed in correspondence between Cone Johnson, highway commissioner, and the attorney general's department that there was a disposition to cooperate in an effort to ultimately realize the full value of the securities.

Knapp Speaks Before Studes

Need Of Technical Education In Texas Is Described By Lubbock Educator In Speech At Dallas Monday

DALLAS, Feb. 27 (AP)—Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, told Forest Avenue high school students today that Texas needs technical education to enhance her glory far beyond anything known before.

He explained the need for future leadership in his address, given at the opening "Texas Week" assembly at the school.

"A country has three things that go to make up its greatness," Dr. Knapp said. "First is natural resources, including climate and minerals, about which nothing can be done. Second is natural endowment of its people, little of which can be changed and only then very slowly. Third is that which is acquired, such as intelligence and skill and this is governable. It is education."

Pointing out that cost of raw materials made up not more than 18 to 20 per cent of the finished product, Dr. Knapp urged greater technical training in Texas for turning that material into manufactures without sending them out of the state.

A petition signed by a number of persons in a circular form is called a "round robin."

C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neuralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold. (adv.)

Texan Able To Divine Secrets

BROWNWOOD, Feb. 27. (AP)— A man who claims ability to divine the secrets of the depths of the earth, and cites evidence to prove it, is Dr. F. B. Garner, a resident of Brownwood for a quarter of a century, coming here from Uvalde in 1906. He is a cousin of John N. Garner, next vice president of the United States.

Dr. Garner says he possesses a sort of sixth sense which enables him to "feel" the presence of oil or gas beneath the earth. He says the feeling is rather hard to explain, but when he stands over ground having oil or gas underneath there is a "feeling right here," placing his fingers in the general region of his stomach.

He says he has located five or six good oil fields in this section of the state. He also has condemned many locations, he says, and has seen dry holes drilled on them.
