Political Show In Northwest, Deep South

The Northwest and the Deep South were the arenas today for the Taft - Eisenhower and Kefauver - Harriman - Russell jousts for presidential-nominating votes.

At Spokane, Washington Republicans convened a two-day session at which the state's 24-vote delegation will be chosen. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower had the edge in advance figuring over Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio.

At Baton Rouge, Louisiana Democrats met in convention to name a 20-vote delegation to the party's national convention. Louisiana was one of four southern states which went States Rights, Democrat in 1948.

The Seattle representatives apparently held the balance of power in Washington. They have agreed to vote as a unit and for Eisenhower at Spokane, where they comprise nearly one-third of the state delegation. Taft forces are sniping at this agreement as undemocratic and improper.

Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia got a boost from North Carolina yesterday in his quest for the Democratic nomination. Russell forces won full endorsement for him at a Raleigh convention.

Although the 32-vote delegation was not instructed on how to ballot at the party's July 21 nominating convention in Chicago, a poll showed 16 1-2 votes favored Russell.

This would put the Georgian hard on the heels of W. Averell Harriman of New York in the Associated Press tabulation of pre - convention delegate strength. Harriman, with a total of 83 1-2, is second to Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, with 116. Russell had 47 before yesterday.

Another Southern meeting added one more vote to the nation-wide tally of Taft's delegate support. An avowed Taft man was named a district delegate from Alabama yesterday.

The state will send 14 delegates to the GOP convention July 7 at Chicago. One other is pledged to Eisenhower, two are uninstructed and 10 will be chosen later this month.

Taft thus leads Eisenhower 391 to 339 in the Associated Press tabulation, which is based on concessions, pledges, instructions and avowed preferences.

Republican nomination requires 604 votes, Democratic 616.

Reach Agreement On WU Strike Terms

Gulf Wildcat Flows Oil, Gas On Test Today

Another strike has been made by Gulf Oil Corp. in its Haggard pool 16 miles north of Pampa.

The company's No. 1 John Haggard was flowing in excess of 100 barrels of oil an hour this morning during a drillstem test from 6728 to 6772 feet. Gulf reported the well flowed 237 barrels of oil and 1,490,000 cubic feet of gas in the first two hours and 10 minutes of the test. The flow was coming through at 5-8-inch choke in the bottom of the hole and at 1 inch choke at the top.

Flowing pressure at the top was about 250 pounds.

The test was begun at 6.50 a.m. today with gas to the surface in three minutes; mud in five minutes and oil spray in six minutes.

The flow was turned into separators at 7-10 a.m. and by 9-20 had flowed the 234 barrels of oil. The test was still underway at the time the report was made.

The present strike is in a different level from which Gulf recovered 14,500,000 feet of gas Wednesday. The gas was obtained from 6,678-6,708 feet. An earlier test recovered in excess of 11 million feet of gas and 23 barrels of salt water per hour.

Meanwhile, operators still are trying to limit the flow on the No. 1's little sister, pool-opening No. 2 Haggard, to 100 barrels of oil a day. A 12-64-inch choke has been installed.

School Issue To Be Voted On Saturday

The case of the $400,000 school bond issue and tax rate increase will go to the jury at 8 a. m. tomorrow and the verdict returned by 7:15 p. m.

Voters of the Pampa Independent School district, starting at 8 a. m., and ending at 7 p. m., will cast their ballots on three major school issues:

1. A bond issue of $250,000 for construction of a 12-room elementary school in the southwest quarter of town.

2. A $50,000 bond issue to rebuild rotting west stands at Harvester Park.

3. A proposal to raise the current $1 maximum tax rate per hundred dollar valuation to $1.25 to meet the cost of paying off the bonds and regular operating cost which includes, recently, increased salaries for teachers.

Voting will be held in the lobby of the Junior High School. Only property owning school taxpayers are eligible to vote in the election.

During the past 10 days a concerted effort by supporters of the issue has been made to put the bond issue across.

They have contended that half-day sessions will be needed to accomodate all students in the district if a new school is not built to relieve the load on the fours present elementary schools. The new school, if built today, would be filled immediately.

They have also contended that rebuilding the stadium at Harvester Park is not an athletic buildup, but is necessary because of the bad condition in which the west side stands are now in. Rebuilding them is strictly a safety matter, and a group of Pampa citizens want to have the misfortune of having the stands collapse when occupied by the thousands of people.

There has been no organized or strong opposition to the bonds or the tax rate increase.

During this week, Rex Rose, a member of the school board, spoke before each of the civic clubs on the bond issue.

If Pampa schools are to be run on the same basis with the same high quality teachers and training they have had in the past, an increase in tax rates will have to be approved, Rose told the Lions club yesterday.

The main issue, he said,

Pact Hinges On Federal Okay Of Toll Boosts

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Union and company officials agreed today on terms for ending the Western Union strike. The agreement provides for a wage increase for the union, but only if the company gets government permission to boost telegraph toll.

The 26,000 Western Union employees, members of the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union (CTU), have been on strike for 51 days. Under the terms, the earliest date for resumption of full telegraph service would be Monday.

The agreement was reached after an all-night session climaxing a week of intensive negotiations. It included two big ifs:

1. Western Union must get federal authority to increase telegraph rates.

2. The pact must be ratified by the membership of the AFL-CTU. A union spokesman said such ratification is in doubt.

Announcement of the agreement was made by Cyrus Ching, head of the Federal Mediation Service and officials of the union and company.

The company said the workers would be back on the job Monday. W. L. Allen, international president of the CTU, said, however, that such a return would be contingent on approval of the terms by the union membership.

The basic terms of the contract involve these things:

1. A shift from the 48-hour work week to one of 40 hours, with no change in pay, for those hired before Nov. 1, 1941.

2. A flat 10-cent-an-hour increase for workers hired after that date.

Those hired after the 1941 date were employed on the basis of a 40-hour week, receiving 40 hours pay.

3. Abolishment of the union shop among WU employes but establishment of what a mediation spokesman called an "agency shop."

4. Employes working 35 hours a week would get a flat $22-a-month increase.

5. Messengers would receive an increase of five cents an hour.

WU workers would not have to join the union as heretofore, it was explained, but those who decline to become union members must pay dues.

Company spokesmen would not say how much rate increase would be asked of the Federal Communications Commission, but Allen said he understood the company would ask a flat 10 per cent hike.

Allen said the union "is in accord with the application and we offered our cooperation and support to the company in its application for such a rate increase."

Stabbing Case Here Is Solved In Vernon

The knifing of Hershell Lee, 27, late Wednesday night was solved in Vernon shortly after 9 p.m. yesterday Chief of Police Jim Conner reported this morning.

Conner said a man, identified as Hayward Hudson, was picked up late last night by Vernon police on a description furnished them of the car Lee's assailant was driving at the time of the stabbing.

The Pampa chief quoted Vernon officers as saying Hudson had admitted the stabbing and claimed self defense. Hudson was also quoted by the Vernon officers as declaring "four or five men threatened to jump on him and beat him up."

Hudson is believed to have lived in the 500 block S. Gray, the locality where his light green Mercury was spotted. Police learned the owner of the car worked for Brown and Root Construction Co. However, the suspect apparently feared he was spotted and hurriedly packed all his belongings and left town shortly after work yesterday. He said Conner added, that he was going after his wife at Carthage. A radio alarm went out and he was picked up in Vernon around 9 p.m.

In the meantime Lee remained in Highland General Hospital and was reported in "fair" condition. The blade of the knife entered his back to the left of the spine and under the ribs, making a cut about four or five inches deep.

Police did not know when Hudson would be returned to Pampa to face charges here.

GI DOOMED — Pvt. John T. Vigneault, 19-year-old U. S. soldier shown at the start of his trial recently in Nuernberg, was sentenced to death for murdering two Germans and stealing their car. Pleads For Foreign Aid . . .

Rayburn Says U. S. Has Lost Air Lead

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Speaker Rayburn told the House today "we have lost air superiority" to Russia and "the margin of our atomic superiority . . . is daily disappearing."

He said that clogged American war production lines resulted from "criminal negligence" which should be investigated.

Rayburn left the Speaker's chair to deliver one of his rare speeches in support of a $6,889,100,000 foreign aid program for next year, which the House is considering.

The Texas Democrat attacked opposition demands for foreign aid cuts up to one billion dollars and opposed a partisan approach to the bill. This "is not election year in Soviet Russia," he said in his prepared speech.

"Every time we reduce the defense program of our allies, by so much we reduce our security," Rayburn said.

"If the price of freedom is eating hoecake and molasses, I'm for that."

At another point he said the price of freedom has always been high. "But the price of defeat is death and slavery."

The speaker, mentioned as a possible Democratic presidential candidate, said:

"I'd rather see my party go down in defeat and never arise if it should attempt to deceive the American people by holding out to them false promises of a reduction of their burdens based upon the false premises that this government has done, and is doing, all that it can do to assure the security of the nation."

Rayburn referred to testimony of Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief of Staff, that certain types of ammunition had been rationed because of production shortages. This subsequently has been denied, most recently by Gen. Ridgway.

Beckworth Due In Today

Rep. Lindley Beckworth, seeking the U. S. Senate seat being vacated by Sen. Tom Connally, will be in Pampa at 7:30 p.m. today, and will speak from the north lawn of the city hall.

Beckworth, who has been representative of the 3rd Congressional District for 14 years, is making a tour of the Panhandle, speaking in several cities and towns.

Mrs. Beckworth is now on tour in South Texas in her husband's behalf, making speeches of her own.

The short, stocky lawmaker, in his advance campaign literature, gave no hint as to what subjects he would talk on besides his past voting record in Congress.

His talks, according to his travel itinerary over the Pnhandle, are evidently short, leaving some time for possible question and answer periods.

He is described by those who know him personally as a "hot campaigner" and a "great visitor."

Beckworth will be faced at the polls July 26, by Texas Attorney General Price Daniel who announced his candidacy shortly after the first of the year.

County Grand Jury Is Recalled Today

The Gray County grand jury was recalled this morning to clean up its January term of court work before being replaced by the June term jury.

A long list of felonies, including forgery, theft, and others will be handled by the jury this morning and this afternoon.

At the same time Judge Lewis M. Goodrich swore in the jury commission for the June term of 31st District Court. They will select the new grand jury and four lists of petit jurors and turn the sealed envelopes over to the district clerk for opening on the Court's direction.

Hwy. 60 Traffic Re-Routed As Northern Span Collapses

Traffic on U. S. Highway 60 is being re-routed today through Borger, Stinett, and Perryton on to Oklahoma on Highway 117 since the collapse of a span at the north end of the Canadian River Bridge last night.

Coming on the heels of the U. S. 60 National Convention, this collapse finds the Texas Highway Dep't. waiting for steel shipments to complete constructio of a new bridge just east of the present one.

It was still indefinite today how long traffic would be interrupted, but it was mentioned that bulldozers might be used to throw up a dump at the north bank of the irved and the bridge would be closed for only a short time.

The collapse came when a loaded wheat truck, driven by Harry Avery, pulled on to the bridge last night about 10. The truck fell into the river bed, but Avery was not injured. He was on his way to Houston from Booker, Okla.

A main gas line across the Canadian was also broken when the span collapsed. Fearing that the escaping gas would ignite, the Canadian firemen were called. However, the gas was shut off on both sides of the break and a fire hazard was averted.

Travellers from Oklahoma get back on U. S. 60 at Panhandle and those going to Oklahoma turn back to Canadian at Perryton or cross over to Enid and Tulsa in Oklahoma, according to the state highway department.

U. S. Officers Face Demotion In Wake Of Koje Incident

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Unless new facts develop about the incidents at the Koje Island camp of Red prisoners of war, Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said today, some U. S. officers should be demoted.

An official report on the capture and release of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd former commander of Koje Island, is in the hands of Pentagon leaders now. The report is from the Tokyo headquarters of Gen. Mark Clark, new Far East military boss.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), as acting chairman, called a special session of the Senate Armed Services Committee to examine the report at 2 p.m. EST. He termed the Koje incidents "a fiasco."

Byrd said the capture of Gen. Dodd by the Red POWs he was supposed to be holding, and Dodd's release under an agreement with the POWs by Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson "are matters of tremendous importance."

Bridges, ranking GOP committeeman, told a reporter:

"If the final facts confirm the preliminary reports, I think stars should be taken from both brigadier generals and perhaps some others."

Bridges and other senators, including Chairman Russell (D-Ga), have absolved Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, former Far Eastern commander, from responsibility.

They heard Ridgway in secret testimony, says his orders for release of Gen. Dodd had not been followed and that Ridgway had not learned full facts when he left Japan. Ridgway is replacing Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as Allied commander in Europe.

Taft Claims Control Of Credentials

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio today claimed they will control the party machinery through which delegate contests must pass before reaching the floor of the presidential-nominating convention.

Rep. B. Carroll Reece, southern manager for Taft, told this reporter surveys indicate the Ohio senator's supporters will hold the majority vote in more than half of the 52 state and territorial delegations to the convention opening in Chicago July 7.

Regardless of the number of votes it casts on the presidential nomination, each delegation is entitled to one representative on the convention's important credentials committee. Each representative is elected by majority vote of his delegation.

Reece said he believes Taft men on the credentials committee will outnumber supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gov. Earl Warren of California and other GOP presidential contenders.

Rival Taft and Eisenhower delegate slates already have been chosen in Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi, which will cast a total of 37 votes on this nomination.

If a similar split develops in Texas at a May 27 convention, that state's 38 votes may be added to the contest list. The combined total of 75 could be decisive in a close race for the nomination.

The credentials group gets the contests only after the Republican National Committee first has passed on them and has made up the temporary convention roll.

8,000 Empty Cars Ready to Haul Wheat

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Southwestern rail lines have notified farmers that 8,000 empty cars are stored in the Texas-Oklahoma-Kansas grain belt to handle the wheat harvest.

The executive and railroad contact committees of the Southwest Shippers Advisory Board met here yesterday at the group's annual convention.

Jet Ace Says Communists Use Better Pilots, Tactics, Planes

TOKYO — (AP) — America's newest jet ace said today the Communist MIG 15s recently began to use a new foul weather defense tactic that has proved effective against U. S. Sabre jets and bombers.

Col. Harrison R. Thyng, commander of the Fourth Fighter Interceptor Wing, said the fast Russian-made MIGS are controlled by radar observers on the ground and dive out of heavy overcasts to strike Allied planes.

Red pilots only recently began flying in bad weather, he added.

The colonel told a news conference MIG pilots are no longer trainees.

"They are using their best pilots in brand-new planes," he declared.

Asked if some MIGS are manned by Russian pilots, Thyng replied:

"When we come up against a real hot boy up there, we get the impression he's a Russian. You see some funny things up there. Sometimes we get close enough to enemy cockpits to notice differences in size and types

Helper's Heart Big As Boss' Bank Roll

CHICAGO — (AP) — Playing the role of a good Samaritan came easy for Anthony C. Adams, a $42 a week messenger-handyman whose heart was as big as his boss' bank roll.

When Adams appeared at his favorite saloon on Archer Avenue the boys would start whooping it up. Adams (The Colonel) always would pick up the tab. His tavern pals agreed Adams was a good - time guy.

And, it was disclosed in felony court yesterday, Adams was overly generous with the bar — with his employer's funds — to some of his friends.

Prosecutors James A. Brown and Wiliam Brumlik told Judge Charles S. Dougherty that Adams over a two-year period had spent and given away $34,300. The total may be higher, they said.

Adams, 43 and a bachelor, was in court on a forgery charge.

Adams was a messenger-handyman in the office of William Wood Prince, Jr., president of the Union Stock Yards and Transit Company. He took care of many of Prince's personal matters and had access to company vouchers to draw the money.

The prosecutors said Adams would make out a voucher to a friend and would forge Prince's name on it. A company employe then would make out the check and give it to Adams.

Adams, the prosecutors said, apparently spent little of the money on himself. He turned over his $42 weekly pay check to his mother and she gave him $10 a week spending money.

"I played Santa Claus with the money," Adams was quoted by Brown and Brumlik.

They said he had told his drinking companions he was a $2,000 a month engineer and held the rank of colonel in the Air Force in World War II. Adams, however, has been employed at the stock yards for 25 years.

The prosecutors said that once Adams gave nearly $10,000 to a saloonkeeper "because your kids would like it much better if you fixed up the house."

Trace Of Rain A Help But Farmers Want Still More

A trace of rain last night left farmers still unsatisfied with the amount of rainfall this year in Pampa and the immediate surrounding area.

An official report of last night's rain was .05 inch, bringing the total since June '51 to less than five inches, according to Foster Whaley, county agent.

Irvin Cole, an old-timer south of town, said this was the least amount of rain ever received since he's been here for this period of time.

Mobeetie and Laketon farmers reported only traces of rain last night also.

More moisture in the southern and northeastern part of the area, said Whaley, gives farmers in these areas a better chance for good wheat crops.

Pioneer Predicts 39,000 New Fares

DALLAS — (AP) — Proposed new routes and extensions of present routes would mean 39,413 passengers a year to Pioneer Airlines are asking for similar routes, Pioneer predicts.

"Pioneer's proposals would not result in an appreciable competition to any other carrier," Harding Lawrence said, "because Pioneer's objective is to provide local service to communities along the proposed routes."

Pioneer and Trans-Texas Airways are applying for new or extended routes. The hearing on the proposals began May 15 and is expected to continue until the end of the week. The two airlines are asking or similar routes. Objecting airlines are Braniff, Central, Continental, Delta, Eastern and mid-Continent.

Lawrence claimed existing routes operated by Pioneer have provided only 9.8 per cent competition factor, a much lower estimate than made by the intervening air lines.

In building his case, the Pioneer's spokesman contended Pioneer's government mail subsidy is lower than the Trans-Texas subsidy.

Business Getting Furrowed Brow Over Female Buying

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — (AP) — This is the restless season when businessmen start worrying. Today it's about women.

"What to do about women?" asks a stock brokerage firm.

Down in the garment district brows are furrowed over this one: "Where are waistlines going to end up this fall — high and empire, or the long, lean muddy look?" Wandering waists can ruin fall business if you guess wrong.

Some department store managers are asking: "Would mother shop longer and spend more money if we install devices to keep the small fry amused and thus end their sway as mental handicaps?"

Since women usually hold the pursestrings, they can be a problem to businessmen.

But they do control more and more money every year. And stock brokers are out to get some of it. Courses in finance for women have been conducted around the country for some time now by brokerage houses wishing to indoctrinate the fair and wealthy sex in stock buying. The courses are well attended but they appeal to women who are already interested.

Now a brokerage firm — the multi - partnered, jaw - breaking firm of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane — is out to interest the ordinary woman who goes shopping, with the same sort of come - on ads that the merchant uses, appealing to the same womanly instincts.

"Mom's litle dividend," says Merrill Lynch and son on, "takes care of a spring suit, a speciay-occasion hat, and she doesn't have to spend a penny of her principal or ask anybody for a dime."

No woman could resist that line of approach, the brokers are persuaded by their advertising agency, Albert Frank - Guenther Law.

"Weigh the advantages of one stock over the other just as you would with a coat or dress," the brokers tell the little woman. "How will it go with the rest of your investments?"

The brokers, who make their living out of commissions on the buying and selling of stocks, hope to boost business by convincing women to stop being "financial ostriches" hiding from stocks and bonds . . ." TThey re really so simple."

Others are just as anxious, of course, to help the ladies shop. Want a fabric like various ones used in redecorating the White House? A New York department store has duplicates of most of the designs in stock. Others can be purchased from various fabric firms that made them for the President's mansion.

To get back to that ever-present puzzler for women — what to do with junior while you're shopping. Stores here, in Detroit and Shreveport, La., are reported to have installed mechanical horses to keep junior quiet.

Moving picture machines, like devices in penny arcades, are set up in stores in New Yor , Philadelphia, San Francisco, Houston, Fort Worth, Buffalo, Chicago, Wilmington, Del., and other cities. Give junior some small change for them, and you can spend the rest of your money in peace and quiet in other parts of the store.

That leaves nothing to worry about, except where is the waistline coming to rest finally — the armpits or the hips? Is the straight silhouette of the twenties coming back? If you like to worry, concentrate on the middy look. Or college boy panty raids.

Man Voluntarily Ups Maintenance Money

BIGGLESWADE, Eng. — (AP) — C. J. Jeeves, who's been paying his wife 2 pounds 15 shillings ($7.70) a week since they separated, asked the court's permission yesterday to send along a little more.

The astounded judge, who said he never had heard of such a thing, granted Jeeves' request to increase the maintenance money to 3 pounds ($8.40).

It's the increased cost of living, Jeeves explained.

IT'S Your DEAL

You Must Obey Wild Card Rule

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"How many wild cards are you allowed to meld with a pair," asks a Canton, Ohio, correspondent. "Some say that you may meld three wild cards with a pair, but others say that you can never use more wild cards than natural cards. What is the rule on this subject?"

You are allowed to have up to three wild cards with any meld at all. It doesn't matter how many natural cards you have in the meld, just so long as you have at least two of them.

Let me make it specific. Suppose you have a pair of kings. You may put those kings down with one wild card, or with two wild cards, or with three wild cards.

Suppose you have three kings. You may put them down without any wild cards at all, or with one wild card, or with two wild cards, or with three wild cards.

The same is true if you have four kings, or five kings, and so on. And, of course, the rule applies to queens, or jacks or any other denomination.

This rule applies at any time in the hand—whether it is for your initial meld or later on. You are always allowed up to three wild cards in any meld.

Q—In a game of Samba I melded ace-king-queen of hearts, and my partner later melded ten-nine-eight of hearts. If I should draw a jack of hearts later in that hand, may I unite the two melds and complete the samba with the jack?

A—Yes. You are allowed to combine two sequences in this way in order to complete a samba. Note, nowever, that this is possible only when you combine two three-card sequences with a new card. A samba may never include more than seven cards.

Q—In a game of Samba, the opponent at my right discards an eight of hearts. Am I allowed to take that card with three eights that are in my hand, and then meld that eight of hearts with a sequence? It is not a question of count, for the initial meld has already been made.

A—No. If you take a discarded eight with two or more eights from your hand, all of them must be melded as eights. You cannot use that discard in a sequence.

Wife Is Divorced By Cowboy Actor

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — He had to stay home and look after the kids when he should have been earning a living, Western Actor Duncan Rinaldo, 48, testified in winning a divorce on desertion charges.

He said yesterday his wife, Lea, 43, "was apathetic toward me, left me repeatedly and neglected our children." Under a settlement she gets $10,000 and permission to visit the three children in the presence of an adult.

Cabot Holds Dinners For Employes

Foremen from the Schafer A and B Plants of the Cabot Carbon Company will meet for a job relations training and refresher course tonight at 6:30 in the dining room of the Country Club.

Dudley Steele, assistant production manager for Cabot, will deliver the main address. The meeting is to help train foremen to promote better relations between employes and employers.

Special entertainment is to be provided by the Squeaky Door Four, barbershop quartet composed of Bunny Shultz, E. O Wedgeworth, Dude Balthrop, and Mack Hiatt; and by the dancing students of Mrs. Jeanne Willingham.

This dinner and program is a follow-up of one last night at the Country Club for non-supervisory employees of the Schafer A and B Plants, the Schafer Laboratory, and the Cabot Engineering Company.

Approximately 70 employees were present at this time to receive certificates for having completed a 6-hour course in job realtions training.

Certificates were presented by W. L. Marshall, superintendent of Schafer A, John Brown, superintendent of Schafer B; Jarvis Johnson, laboratory supervisor; and Jimmy McCune, acting for Bob Vail, vice-president in charge of Cabot engineering department.

Special guests for the meeting were Don Conley, director of the Cabot safety department; Bert Arney, assistant safety director; Ralph Prock, company pilot; O. L. Fitzrandolph, editor of the Cabot magazine from Boston; and Jimmy McCune, assistant director of industrial relations.

Reno Stinson, director of industrial relations, served as master of ceremonies and Steel was the main speaker. Entertainment was furnished by the Squeaky Door Four and the student dancers.

to raise the tax rate in order to maintain teachers' salaries t their present rate and to continue elementary school classes on their present full-day schedule.

If the tax rate is not increased, he said, the stadium can't be replaced nor the new elementary school built. He stressed that the stadium replacement is strictly a safety precaution and not an athletic buildup; and that the new elementary school is for "needs right now" and is not just an expansion program for "what might be in the future."

Actor's Rites Set For Today

NEW YORK — (AP)— The body of John Garfield, who rose to theater fame in the school of hard knocks, will be laid to rest today in a peaceful cemetery.

Funeral services were set for 12 noon (CST), followed by burial in nearby Westchester Hills Cemetery.

The 39-year-old actor, a product of the slums, died Wednesday of a heart attack.

Even in death there was turbulence.

Hundreds of noisy, squealing bobbysoxers and women fans created a disorderly scene at the 76th street funreal home where his body was on view.

At one time, the family ordered the chapel closed but finally relented when the shouting throng refused to leave.

Some 6,000 persons viewed the body during the day.

Another union official, the prosecutors said, was given $5,000 to pay on a mortgage on his home and $5,000 for an operation.

Brown said Adams was arrested after fellow employes became suspicious upon hearing of his gifts and told police. He was released on $10,000 bond and the forgery case continued to June 20. Brown, however, said he would present the case to the grand jury.

Moose Schedules Teen-Age Dance

The third in a series of teen-age dances will be held at 8 p.m. Friday by the Pampa Moose Lodge.

The dance is held in the lodge auditorium and is chaperoned by lodge members and members of the Women of the Moose. Teen-agers are allowed use of the auditorium on alternating Friday nights for their dances under a part of the lodge's youth activities program. It is open to any teen-ager coming to the door for admittance.

Farmers Inspect Lelia Lake Farm Of S. H. Miller

A tour of the S. H. Miller farm at Lelia Lake, in the Donley Soil Conservation District was under way today by a group of farmers interested in the development of Kentucky 31 Fescue grass.

Miller whose farm has an unusually highwater table has been experimenting with this particular kind of grass for land near rivers. Planted last fall, the nine acres of grassland has "more than cared for 17 head of cattle since April 22," said Elvy Sargent, soil conservation administrator.

The tour was being directed by Al Snyder and James G. Gould, district technicians. Farmers of McLean and Pampa with land that needs a grass that can "stand wet feet" will make the tour.

They include Milton Carpenter, Charlie Carpenter, James B. Noel, Jim Woods, and Clyde McGee, McLean; and Glen Studebaker, Pampa.

Bus Chartered For Gray Delegation To Lubbock Farm Meet

McLean farmers have chartered a special bus for 29 members of the community to attend an awards dinner sponsored by the Agriculture Club of Lubbock next Monday evening.

The group will accompany Guy Beasley who was chosen recently as the outstanding conservation farmer in the Gray County District and James Cliett, outstanding "comeback" farmer for the region.

These men, both McLean farmers, were chosen as winners of Scripps-Howard newspapers and the annual contest sponsored by other business firms in a campaign to "save the soil and save Texas." They will be honored at the dinner.

Also planning to attend the meeting are several agriculture and business leaders in Pampa. They include Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Jackson, W. A. Wagoner and son, Paul Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Whaley, Elvy Sargent, E. L Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Al Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. James Strawn, O. E. Wedgeworth, Irvin Cole, and possibly others.

OPS Says Rumored Cotton Ceilings Not Contemplated

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Federal price officials assured Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White yesterday there was nothing to reports a lower ceiling price for cotton is being considered.

The old price level was 45.36 cents per pound. White said there were reports that when cotton prices, which now range below 40 cents, reached 43.36 cents the OPA would slap a ceiling on at that figure.

White said Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall assured him the 43.36 cents level would serve only as a "trigger."

"If trading reaches the point of 43.36 then the old price ceiling of 45.36 will go into effect," White said.

White said he also asked Secretary of Agriculture Brannan for $27,500 for crop market reporting services in Texas. The money would be used to match state money available for reporting services for grain sorghums, rice and livestock auctioning.

Grandview Holds Graduation Rites

Seventh grade graduation services at Grandview school Wednesday night promoted four students and was in recognition of all honor students of the school.

Jimmy Eakin, Allan Babcock, Franklin Baggerman, and Nace Baggerman will enter Pampa Junior High School next year.

B. R. Nuckols, county superintendent of schools, was the main speaker for the event. The class presented gifts to Mrs. Marion Husted, in charge of the cafeteria for the past year, and to Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hendricks, teachers.

Pampa Methodists To Attend Session

Delegates from the First Methodist Church will attend the Northwestern Texas Methodist Conference in Lubbock May 28 to June 1.

At the close of the conference new appointees for all Methodist churches in the area will be announced by Bishop William C. martin, Dallas.

Those attending from here will be Dr. and Mrs. Orion Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lively, Frank Culberson, and Roy Johnson, who is to serve as the official song leader for the meet-

What's your station? What is your destination? "There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the ends thereof are the ways of death." We are all aboard the train of life. Around the next curve may be your station. This is the road which leads to life eternal. You may travel in this way if you will. Are you ready, prepared? Are your plans made? "The path of the just is as a drawing light that shineth more and more unto the perfect day." The 'Great Conductor' counsels: "Strive to enter in by the narrow gate!" To those who follow His counsel he says: "Ye shall find rest unto your souls." What is your station?

LOCUSTS PERIL MID-EAST FOOD SUPPLY—The worst locust plague in 100 years threatens the food supply of 15 nations in an area stretching from Egypt to Pakistan. White area on above Newsmap shows countries with a total of 1.5 billion acres of land which are infested with the dread insects. The problem has become so serious that Russia is cooperating with the United Nations in a united effort to control the menace.

Dick Powell Mulls Over Career's End

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Now it's Dick Powell who's toying with the idea of ending his acting career.

Recently the story was tagged onto Mrs. Powell, known to the movie-going set as June Allyson. She was reported as being ready to chuck her movie career in favor of another one at home with her two children.

"I don't know how that story got started," said Powell. "June has never said that she would quit making pictures. But I'm sure of one thing—she's through making bad pictures.

"I can't understand this studio (MGM). Here they have the outstanding female attraction on the screen today; the polls have proved that and yet they have no pictures for her. In the recent announcement of future products, there wasn't one picture named for her. The pictures she has done lately have not been outstanding.

"June has gotten to the point where she doesn't care. She has a year to go on her contract. But I'm sure she would just as soon spend it at home — unless something great comes along."

Powell indicated that he would be willing to toss in his makeup kit. He seemed serious about his intention.

"I've been in it 25 years," said the actor, whose youthful appearance belies the years. "I was five years in the East and 20 out here. That's long enough to be an actor."

He admitted that getting out of the acting business is a tough assignment. "It's tougher than getting out of musicals, and you know how long that took me," he said. "But I won't really be getting out of the business, just into another field. I want to be a director."

Powell nearly achieved his ambition recently. He had a friend, writer Bill Bowers, whip up a screen story and they sold it to Paramount, along with Powell's services as director. But when the script got no action at Paramount, they arranged for RKO to buy it.

Then the deal hit a snag. Jean Simmons was cast into the picture, and her contract apparently called for director approval. Powell was aced out of the director's spot. But RKO has promised to let him direct another one.

Meanwhile, Powell's acting career shows no signs of slowing. He is currently appearing with Lana Turner, Kirk Douglas, Walter Pidgeon and Gloria Grahame in "Tribute To A Bad Man." Powell is also wound up in television.

He and a partner are preparing a TV film series which will star Powell and three other big-name players on alternate weeks.

Veronica Lake Asks Court For Divorce

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Film director Andre Detoth caused her "grievous mental and physical anguish" Actress Veronica Lake charges in a divorce suit.

Her brief complaint, filed yesterday, made no detailed specifications. She asks custody of their three children. The couple married in 1944 and separated in 1950, the complaint said.

Shivers Sees No Ouster At National Meet

AUSTIN — (AP) — Gov. Shivers of Texas says he doesn't expect to be kicked out of the National Democratic Convention at Chicago.

He said if majority rule is carried out there, he can see no reason why the Texas delegation should not be seated.

Shivers also had this to say at a news conference:

1. He believes Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia has "an excellent" chance of winning the Democratic nomination.

2. He hasn't heard of any move to oust the Texas Democratic National committeeman, Wright Morrow of Houston.

3. He hopes the national convention will get along without a bolt.

4. The recent Loyal Democrat statement asking President Truman to reconsider his tidelands veto position was "weak and milk - toasty. They sounded like junior ADA's" (Americans for Democratic Action).

5. He found no indications in Washington of any real concessions to the South and Texas at the national convention but he wouldn't expect any until just before the convention.

Shivers said that Claude Gilmer of Rocksprings would be acceptable to him as temporary chairman and keynoter of next week's state convention, but that the matter has not been decided. Gilmer is chairman of the statewide committee for an uninstructed delegation.

Asked if he would still feel allegiance to the national party if the uninstructed delegation is not seated, Shivers commented the question was speculative.

"I would feel bad about it," he said. "That's speculative. It would have to await the turn of events."

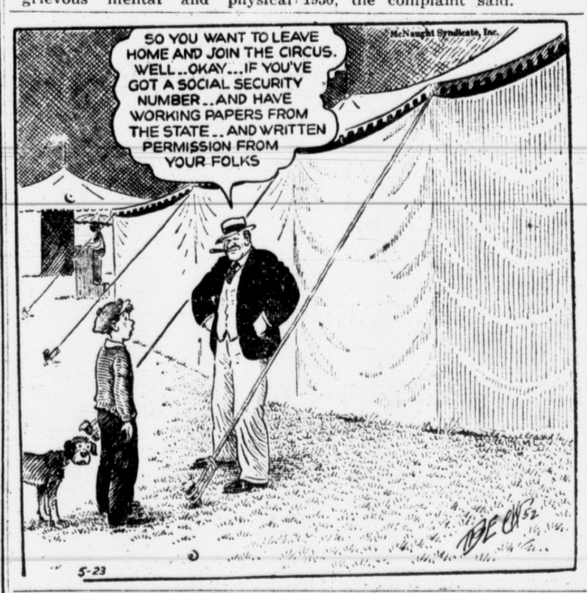

Then he said he didn't expect to be kicked out.

Anniversary Couple Likes Baseball

PLAINFIELD, N. J. — (AP) — Baseball played Cupid for a couple 50 years ago and they are still fans today.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Dodge recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. They met at a baseball game in which Dodge was a player for a local team. The couple often go to New York to watch the Yankees and Giants, their favorites.

"In all our 50 years together we have never been separated a day," says Mrs. Dodge.

Churchman Says Sickness Troubles U.S.

NEW YORK — (AP) — A "sad, secular sickness" blankets much of American life, the moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. says.

The Rev. Harrison Ray Anderson, of Chicago, told the opening of the church's 164th annual general assembly that the spiritual sickness — "like a fog" shrouds education and entertainment and other fields.

"A moral decay creeps its slow but sure way through America from the little white house on the village street to the White House in another town," he said.

But despite the signs "on the "devil's side," he told Presbyterian delegates from throughout the country, "the church is on the march and is winning through."

"Everywhere young men and women are coming forward to help the church," he said.

He said the gospel has been "carried to every land," that the old conflict between so-called science and faith has been resolved, that "theology is no longer in disrepute."

"The word of God has found us again," he said.

Eight hundred and eighty commissioners, representing the church's 259 presbyteries, and hundreds of other church officials are here for the general assembly, the church's supreme governing body.

Anderson, enumerating recent strides made by Christian churches, said a stalemate caused by differences over "personal commitment to Christ and effective social living" in the community has ended.

"Evangelism which begins with the surrendered heart and goes on to the redeemed community is in the saddle," he said.

But, he added, all is not "on the side of the angels."

"Every other man in America is outside Christ's church. . . ." he said.

"Liquor, sexual immorality and suicide have their devotees.

"Money that belongs to God is misappropriated by multitudes of Christians who are shocked by these practices in Washington but see nothing wrong whatsoever in taking God's tithe for personal or family uses. . . ."

Anderson told fellow Presbyterians that their church, which went through a dark period of losing 6,013 members in the 1930's, gained a net total of 273,445 in the 1940's.

Despite the death of 300 Presbyterian pastors in Korea, he said, 600 young Koreans — two for each dead pastor — now are studying to replace them.

Mental Patients Get Training

ST. PAUL, Minn. — (AP) — A practical job - training program for mental patients has been launched in Minnesota. Patients with suitable backgrounds who are soon to be released from the Hastings State Hospital are brought on weekdays to St. Paul for a few hours' training in clerical and stenographic work at the public institutions divisions offices.

Israel Doctors Now Graduating

JERUSALEM — (AP) — The shortage of physicians in Israel may be eased somewhat when the first 62 students full trained at the medical school of the Hebrew University Hadassah Hospital in Jerusalem receive their doctors degrees next month.

Shortly afterwards the cornerstone will be laid in the hills west of Jerusalem for a new dassah Medical Center to supplement the present hospital buildings and laboratories.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Watch Your Use Of Psychic Overcall

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Probably every experienced bridge player is familiar with the psychic overcall of one no-trump based on a long "escape" suit. An example is provided in today's hand. South ovrecalled with one no-trump, expecting to run out to hearts if he got doubled.

This idea, although it cannot be expected to deceive experienced opponents, sometimes produces good results. If your opponents happen to be just out of school, you may talk them out of the hand.

Even against naive opponents, however, this psychic overcall is unsafe if you are vulnerable; and is particularly dangerous if you are vulnerable and the opponents are not. This hocus pocus is most effective when you are non-vulnerable aginst vulnerable opponents.

When today's hand was actually played, West happened to be a very experienced player. As the bidding indicates, West was not deceived for a moment. In fact, North was the only player at the table who didn't know what was going on.

When North bid three no-trump (a doubtful raise) South had to scramble back to four hearts. This was promptly doubled, and South was severly punished for ignoring the vulnerability.

West opened the ace of spades and continued the suit, ruffing the third spade with one of his low trumps. The defenders then took a diamond and two clubs, setting the contract three tricks.

East and West found it very pleasant to chalk up 800 points, as the result of this hand. It was even more pleasant when they realized that if they had been left to their own devices they could not even have made a game.

Roy L. King Wins TCU Fiction Award

FORT WORTH, Texas -- Roy L. King, 801 E. Malone, Pampa, has received second place award in the Narrative of Fact or Fiction Freshman creative writing contest at Texas Christian University.

His entry, "The Dry Years," was entered in the under-graduate creative writing contest held at the University. The awards were given in Ed Landreth Auditorium of TCU's Fine Arts Building on Creative Writing Day.

A graduate of Pampa High School, he is a freshman religion major at TCU. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. King of Pampa.

Pampan Receives OU Certificate

STILLWATER, Okla. — Clarence W. Tetters of Pampa was among 106 students receiving certificates May 21 as graduates of Oklahoma A&M College's School of Technical Training.

Tetters received a certificate in diesel and stationary engines and automobile repair and service management, one of 13 two-year courses offered at the school, which is part of A&M's Oklahoma Institute of Technology.

In joint ceremonies with the School of Intensive Business Training, certificates candidates heard a graduation address by George H. C. Green, Oklahoma City Banker. A reception for parents and friends was held immediately preceding the program.

Charges Aid From Leftists

Republican pre-convention activities boiled anew with a blistering three-page prepared statement by Henry Zweifel, state Republican chairman, which was sent to newspapers over the state.

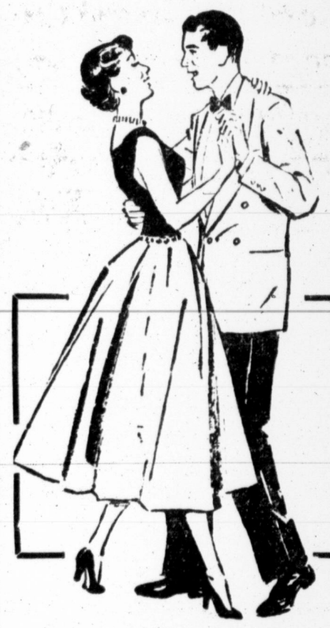

Zweifel centered his blast at backers of Eisenhower, declaring they were backed by the "notorious left - wing group" that "all the people of Texas can hear from this faction is 'majority rule.'"

In his statement Zweifel mocked the "majority rule" by referring to "a majority of Democrats in the U. S. wanted Wallace for vice - president in 1944 and successor to Roosevelt; Did that make it right — a majority of the United Nations voted to send 875,000 of our fine boys to Korea; did that make it right — this same majority compels them to fight with their hands technically tied behind thme; does that make it right?"

He charged the "small group" causing all the uproar about the 'majority rule' does not represent one percent of the state's total population."

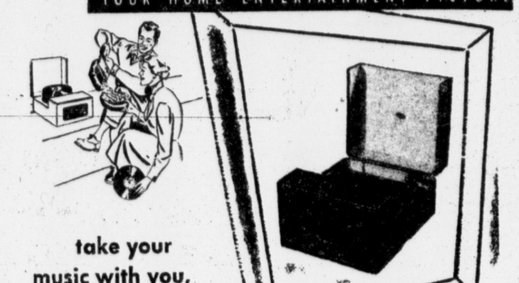

Zweifel aimed one barrel at Ronald J. Kahn, Dallas, saying: "And we have a Sidney Hillman in Texas, (Hillman, deceased, was powerful union leader and political boss in the New Deal machinery. He was head of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America) who under his own statement as late as Oct. 25, 1951, declared he was not a citizen. He is not a voter in his home precinct in Dallas, Texas. His name is Ronald J. Kahn, a British subject who was born in Germany. He is a paid Eisenhower organizer at a salary of $1,000 per month — working in the background, organizing the Eisenhower forces, and instructing them in their near revolutionary tactics."

The GOP chairman berated the 1,000 car cavalcade being built by Eisenhower forces to attend the Mineral Wells convention on May 27, saying it was a defiance of the ruling of the court and constitutional authority. He referred then to the ruling handed down by District Judge Betts of Austin on May 17, which rejected a suit brought by Eisenhower backers over Republican county conventions.

VOTE

First: The Tax Vote Increase:

This is imperative to support the operation of our schools with the increased enrollment whether or not new schools are built. There needs to be enlargemnt and improvments to cafeteria, salaris must be maintained at a level to command qualified and competent Teachers. It cannot be too strongly emphasized that without more revenue, the present standards cannot be maintained.

Second: A New Elementary School:

The greatest congestion now and in the next few years is in our elementary school plants. They are all overcrowded, and unless new space is provided, children will surely be forced to attend in shifts next September. The School District owns a site for a new school in the southwest part of town, and it is believed the first additional school should be built there in order to best serve the needs of the children.

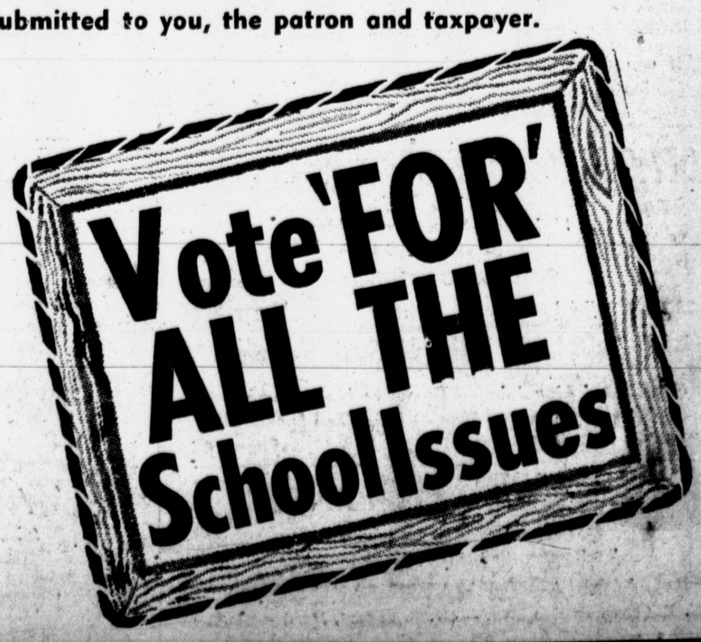

Third: Stadium Improvements:

Your Board feels the old west side stands are a source of danger to large crowds. We cannot afford to have them condemned as unsafe or risk a tragedy.

Fourth: Is the Program Too Conservative?

Some people have expressed this idea. It could be your school authorities are conservative. It is their intention to meet school problems as they arise, rather than anticipate far into the future. Be sure when there are further needs, they will be submitted to you, the patron and taxpayer.

Mag Well Believed Deepest In Permian

DALLAS — (AP) — Magnolia Petroleum Co. has drilled what is believed to be the deepest oil well in the huge Permian Basin of West Texas.

It is the company's No. 1 University in the east central Andrews county. The wildcat well has gauged a daily potential of 555 barrels of 44.7 gravity oil flowing through perforations between 13,840-884 feet through 1-2-inch tubing choke.

Gas-oil ratio was 422-1 flowing tubing pressure was 100 pounds. The well also flowed oil from the Devonian, but that pay was cased off.

The well is 11 miles northeast of Andrews, 660 feet from the north and west lines of Section 17, Block 8, University Survey.

Patient Should Be Told Truth, Says MD

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Should a doctor tell a patient he has cancer, if the physician is flatly asked the question?

Dr. John W. Cline of San Francisco, president of the American Medical Association, says yes.

At the annual meeting of the Ohio State Medical Association, Dr. Cline was queried on whether the physician should always tell the patient the truth.

"If the patient puts you on the spot," he answered, "you have no right to lie to him, even if he asks you 'do I have cancer?'"

Studebaker Claims To Be Oldest Automobile Firm

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — The oddity almanac:

Remember the old Dagmar?. . . shiny sides. . .great on curves . . .and carried a front and rear bumper. . .

The Dagmar (1922-1927) was just one of 2,500 kinds of automobiles made in America since the turn of the century. . .only 21 survive today in this fiercely competitive industry. . .Studebaker, which started making covered wagons 100 years ago, claims to be the oldest firm still in existence. . .but dad or granddad recall going courting in cars bearing such vanished tradenames as Mercer, Rickenbacker, Oldfield, Maxwell, Velie and Stutz Bearcat. . .

Speaking of covered wagons, did you know that some 1,700,000 Americans now live in trailer coaches? . . . in 12 years the industry's annual sales jumped from $10,000,000 to $248,000,000. The length of the standard trailer has increased from 15 feet to 30, and you can buy 'em up to 45 feet. . .these have four rooms and stall showers. . .until the government entered the market, 68 percent of the trailers were bought by defense workers, 25 percent by servicemen. . . suggested industry theme song: "Oh, The Sun Shines Bright. . . On My Old Kentucky Trailer". . .

Government economy note: Industrialist Fred A. Wirt says the federal debt of about 260 billion dollars means that "every infant born in the United States assumes, the second he or she draws breath, a debt of $1,700" . . .maybe that explains why the first thing babies do in this world is to break out crying. . . who wants a mortgage on his diaper at birth?". . .

Fact - is - stranger - than - fiction department: The Columbia Gazetteer says only 30 Russian towns are named after Stalin to 36 for Sergei Kirov, a Soviet bigwig assassinated in 1934 . . .many of the coach dogs you see in firehouses never hear the firebell. . .the Dalmation breed had a high percentage of deafness . . .tulips, now comonplace, were worth more than their weight in gold after they were introduced into Holland from Turkey in 1565. . .such a mania for them swept Europe that a single tulip bulb once sold for a load of grain, four oxen, 12 sheep, five pigs, two tubs of butter, 1,000 pounds of cheese, four barrels of beer, two hogsheads of wine, a suit of clothes, and a silver drinking cup. . .

After a drop in value like that you'd think a tulip would be ashamed to hold its head up today. . .

Children - and - small - animals department: A report has just reached us from Australia of the arrest of a kangaroo for shoplifting. . .its owner had trained it to steal items and hide them in its pouch . . . detectives seized the kangaroo when an alarm clock it had secreted on its person unexpectedly began to ring. . .the surprised animal immediately made a full confession and blamed the whole thing on its owner.

(Editor's note: this newspaper is unable to vouch for all of the strange facts in Boyle's almanac, and particularly this one.)

The almanac's monthly sports forecasts: the New York Gaints will soon go into a sharp slump, and when they emerge manager Leo Durocher's hair will be thinner than ever. . .at least three former world's champion boxers will sadly opine that fighters aren't what they were in the good old days. . .well, who is?

Busy Week On The Farm

AUSTIN — (AP) — It was a busy week down on the farm last week.

The United States Department of Agriculture has reported farmers in all parts of the state took advantage of open weather to rush planting, replanting, cultivation of growing crops and baling good quality first hay cuttings.

Strong south winds and growing crops rapidly dissipated oil moisture during the week.

Timely light to heavy weekend showers fell over practically the entire state but moisture deficiencies continued serious over much of South, West and Northwest Texas.

Knox County delivered the season's first load of wheat but active combining was not expected until next week.

Cotton planting progressed slowly in the Northwest. Chopping and cultivation were general in southern central and southeast counties.

Good progress was reported for commercial vegetable harvesting, but many areas with growing crops were in need of rain. The lower valley cantaloupe harvest was active and solid carlot movement started from Laredo.

Maturity of cool season grass and clovers was hastened by high daytime temperatures and strong winds. Western and southern ranges and pastures still needed additional moisture.

Telephone man on the way up

THERE'S ALWAYS ROOM AT THE TOP IN THE "UP FROM THE RANKS" TELEPHONE BUSINESS

"CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR PROMOTION"—familiar words in the telephone business. Many times, men and women have started at the bottom and reached important, responsible positions in telephone work. That's the kind of employer the telephone company is—a firm believer in promotions and advancement from within its own ranks.

THIS "UP FROM THE RANKS" PHILOSOPHY is of direct benefit to every telephone user. It helps attract and hold the many capable people we need to furnish good telephone service. It helps create a "spirit of service"—one of the biggest reasons we're able to keep your telephone service expanding and growing in value.

A TELEPHONE CAREER is many things. It's security. It's pleasant, friendly people to work with. It's a chance to get ahead. And while no one has ever made a fortune in the telephone business, it's good pay and interesting work. But above all, telephone people are your friends and neighbors, doing an important job for the community — proud that their efforts provide you with telephone service equal to the world's best.

PAMPA DAILY NEWS

OUR TOWN
by Wanda Campbell

When Ann Sidwell, daughter of the Gene Sidwells, flew from Lindenwood College to Dallas for a week end at SMU's Zeta house with Joan Stroup and Betty Wilson, it climaxed a week-long celebration of Joan's and Betty's 20th birthdays. . .It was their 16th celebration together. . .The dual parties began when the girls were four years old (wearing Shirley Temple (curls) and Mrs. R. B. Fisher, wife of our one-time school superintendent, entertained them with a birthday party. . .Maybe this year's celebration was the best. . .Not just because there was a big dinner at one of Dallas' fine restaurants, luncheons and parties on the campus, and the extra big packages from their parents (Jessye Stroup and the H. C. Wilsons). . .But because this may be their last birthday celebration together. . . Grade school, junior high, high Grade school, junior high, high school, and two years of college are behind them and they'll probably be going separate ways after this year. . .It's a record of a long happy friendship, unspoiled by schoolgirl peeves and misunderstandings . . . the kind of friendship few young girls know . . .It makes the rest of us just little sad to see them grow up and grow apart. ..but probably 16 years from now, yes, even 60 years hence, Betty and Joan will remember their happy birthdays together and make a wish for each other.

Glimpses Of Yesteryear

Five Years Ago

Mrs. Ed Weiss was announced as new president of the Parent Education club at a luncheon in the home of Mrs. E. L. Biggerstaff.

Mrs. Oran Payne was re-elected president of the Episilon Sigma Alpha.

10 YEARS AGO

Parties continued for Mrs. Glen Pool, Mrs. M. C. Overton, Jr., and Mrs. Bob Tripplehorn. Mrs. Pool was moving to Wichita Falls with her family. Mrs. Overton was joining Dr. Overton in San Diego where he was stationed with the Navy, and Mrs. Tripplehorn was to join her husband in Houston.

Everyone was talking about the declamation, "I Am Proud," which won Bill Waters, high school student, fourth place in the state declamation contest.

15 YEARS AGO

A reprint of the speech given by Mickey Ledrick in the "My Home Town" contest at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Brownwood appeared in the News.

Tennis games provided entertainment when the Play-Awhile club met. Mrs. Ellen Kretzmeier and Mrs. Ethel Clay were among the members present for the meeting.

Miss Donaldson To Present Students In Recital Here Tonight

Mrs. Elise Donaldson will conclude her annual recitals tonight at 8 p.m. when her younger students will present a program in the Central Baptist church.

The program will include the following students and selections: Tommy Thompson, "The Busy Mill Wheel;" Sharon James, "Loop The Loop;" Wayne Kreis, "The Clown Dance;" Karen Monohan, "The Star Gazers;" Jim Cook, "Step In Time;" Patricia Rohde, "The Tumblers;" Gwendolyn Carver, "Jack - In - The - Box;" David Tripplehorn, "Climbing;" Sue Ann Thompson, "The Elf And The Fairy;" Patricia Foster, "Flitting Butterflies;" Bethlyn McGlothlin, "Woods At Dawn;" Janet Osborne, "Little White Butterfly;" Ann Tripplehorn, "Kobold's Dance;" and Michael Brown, "Album Leaf In A Minor." Dorthy Green, "Cotton Fluff;" Rebecca Rice, "Dance of the Brownies;" Linda Steele, "Spanish Gypsy Dance;" and Brenda Brown, "Fireflies."

Other numbers include a duo, "Criss - Cross," by David Tripplehorn and Miss McGlothlin; a duet, "Ten Little Indians" and "Bug - A - Boogie," by Tommy Thompson and Miss Rohde; a duet, "May Day Polka," Miss Thompson and Miss Gwendolyn Carver; a duo, "March of the Wee Folk," by Miss Thompson and Jim Cook, and duo, "Flying Leaves," by Michael and Malcolm Brown.

The program will be concluded with the "Concreto — In Elf Land" by Miss Steele with Carol Paxson at a second piano.

Miss Carolyn Carver, vocalist, will sing "Thine Alone" during the recital.

Bill Hutchinson Elected Methodist Choir President

New officers of the Sanctuary Singers, adult choir of the First Methodist Church, were installed at a meeting in the church's Fellowship Hall this week.

Bill Hutchinson is the new president, succeeding Mrs. W. E. Crowson; Miss Janie Branson was re-instated as vice-president; and Miss Angela Duncan is the new secretary-treasurer replacing Mrs. Lloyd Wilson.

A short choir rehearsal, refreshments and a social hour followed the installation. Hostesses were the retiring officers.

Bell Demonstration Club Plans Pie Supper

Bell Home Demonstration club members will hold a pie supper Saturday at 8:30 p.m. for candidates.

The supper will be held at the Bell school house, southwest of the city.

The public is invited.

Central Baptist Circles Meet Here

Central Baptist church circles met this week in homes of members for Bible study. The Annie Sallee circle met in the home of Mrs. John Browning. Mrs. A. H. McPeak gave the opening prayer.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. E. R. Gower, John Browning, A. H. McPeak and Fred Williams.

The Geneva Wilson circle meeting opened with a song, after which they had a season of prayers. Those present were Mmes. June Durham, A. P. Holligan, Charles Broxon, M. C. McClendon, and H. L. Atkinson, in whose home the meeting was held.

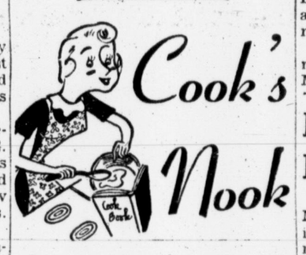

The Lillie Hundley circle met in the home of Mrs. Ralph Higgins with Mrs. Ralph Arms directing the periodical program. Mrs. Noah Jones opened the meeting with prayer.

Participating on the program were Mmes. Carl Sexton, R.E. Warren and Arms. Others attending were Mmes. Nolan Cole, Melton Burns, Charley Thomas, Noah Jones, James Enloe, and Mrs. Wayne Cobb who closed the meeting with prayer.

The Mary Hill Davis group met in the home of Mrs. J. C. Scott. Mrs. C. P. Coats opened the meeting with prayer and assisted Mrs. Ray Babbs in presenting the program.

Those present were Mmes. E. M. Clark, Sam Batteas, C.P. Coats, Bob Bailey, Frank Silcott, Earl Miller, and D. C. Cornett.

Mrs. Herbert Lam was hostess to the Mary Martha circle. Attending were Mmes. J. F. Webb, Francis Lam, Wanda Moore, Dorthy Moore, Mary Nell Love, Floyd Crites, Scottie Gates, Eline Snow, Dorthy Lam, and two visitors, Mrs. Sid Largen and Mrs. W. J. Gooding.

For enjoyable, economical eating, flavorful frankfurters take the prize. Franks have a place on almost everyone's list of favorite foods. . .Grandma likes slices floating in bowls of old fashioned split pea soup, Junior wants "Hot Dogs" with plenty of mustard and pickle.

For a treat the entire family will enjoy, served stuffed baked frankfurters topped with barbecue sauce. The stuffing may consist of bread dressing, sauerkraut or mashed potaores. Here's a dish that's novel and unusually tasty —baked frankfurters stuffed with pineapple.

A juicy layer of crushed pineapple is sandwiched between thick, meaty frankfurters, and crowned with a spicy sauce.

PINEAPPLE STUFFED FRANKS
1 pound frankfurters
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple (2 cups)
1-2 cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teasps. Worcestersire sauce
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
3-4 teaspoon sugar
1-4 cup chili sauce

Split frankfurters not quite through. Spread out half the franks, cut side up, in a greased baking dish. Spread with partially drained pineapple. Top with remaining split frankfurters. Cook onion in fat until tender (about 10 minutes). Stir frequently so as not to burn. Add remaining ingredients and cook for 5 minutes. Spoon sauce on franks. Bake in a 350 F. oven for 30 minutes. 4 to 5 servings.

The friendly frank teamed with Spanish rice is a combination you'll want to serve often. This hearty dish, served with a salad beverage, and dessert, makes a satisfying and easily prepared meal.

FRANKFURTER SPANISH RICE
1 pound frankfurters
1-2 cup chopped green pepper
1-2 cup chopped onion
3 tablespoons fat
2 1-2 cups tomatoes (No. 2 can)
1 1-4 teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1-8 teaspoon pepper
1 clove garlic, chopped
1 bay leaf
3 whole cloves
3 cups cooked rice (1 cup uncooked)
parmesan cheese (optional)

Cook onion and green pepper in fat until soft. Add remaining ingredients, except rice and frankfurters. Simmer, uncovered, 15 minutes. Remove bay leaf and cloves. Add rice and half of the frankfurters, sliced. Cover and simmer 5 minutes. Brown remaining whole frankfurters in a little hot fat. Serve with the Spanish rice. If desires, sprinkle rice with Parmesan cheese.

Mrs. W. T. Cass Hostess To Merten Demonstration Club

Mrs. W. T. Cass was hostess to the Merten Home Demonstration club when the organization met for a color program presented by Mrs. Bea Goodnight.

Mrs. Goodnight demonstrated with charts how to use color effectively in the home, explaining that we react toward color. She stressed that homemakers should not match color, but harmonize colors.

She described the different periods of furniture and pointed out color schemes that blended with furnishings, and displayed colored pictures showing some of the most popular trends in interior decorating.

Mrs. V. Day gave a demonstration on sewing and gave suggestions on making button holes and belts.

"Before making a belt," Mrs. Day said, "Shrink the belting. In putting in a circular skirt hem, always lengthen the machine stitch and sew around the skirt hem, gathering slightly. This eliminated rough places in the hem.

Mrs. Clyde Edmondson directed recreation.

The hostess served angel delight pie and punch to Mrs. Day, Mrs. P. J. Boyd, Mrs. J. C. Steward, Mrs. Edmondson, Mrs. A. M. Nash, Mrs. Jack Prather, Miss Linda Kay Day, and three visitors, Ellen Ann Prather, Mrs Goodnight, and Mrs. C. A. Williams.

The next meeting will be June 3 in the home of Mrs. Boyd.

Mrs. Francis will be hostess to the board of directors in her home Monday night at 8 o'clock.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Mankind's salvation is inseparable from a right understanding of his Maker, God—an understanding we can begin to gain today—points out the Lesson-Sermon titled "Soul and Body" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, May 25.

The Golden Text states, "Bless the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name" (Psalms 103:1).

Further stressing that salvation is in understanding God are these words from the Bible: "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else" (Isaiah 45:22).

From the Christian Science text book will be read this statement: "Truth will at length compel us all to exchange the pleasures and pains of sense for the joys of Soul" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, page 390).

The spiritual sense of Life and its grand pursuits is of itself a bliss, health-giving and joy - inspiring. Mary Baker Eddy ax Molberg became the first pitcher to win five games season as he hurled the s to a 13-4 victory over Borger Gassers at Oiler last night. The win evened the three-game series, with sugar game scheduled for tonight.

Votaw faced Gassers for four innings Sun- in Borger and allowed but run, that coming on a mental lapse by Votaw himself when he failed to cover first on what should have been a third ou...

Tonight will also be a special night at Oiler Park as the Oilers have obtained the services of baseball's top acrobat, Johnny Price. Price, who has performed before all of the major league clubs, world series crowds and baseball fans the country over, will start his show at approximately 8 o'clock.

Good Support

Molberg got good support, both at bat and afield from his mates. The Oilers slugged out 15 hits, three of them home runs, and turned in one double play while committing one error, that on Deck Woldt who was shifted into second base to replace Manny Temes, out with a pulled leg muscle.

The Oilers grabbed off a quick lead in the first when, with one out, Bobby Brown walked. He went to second while Woldt bounced out, took third on a passed ball and scored on a wild pitch. Then, on the next pitch, Jake Phillips, who broke out of his batting slump, got a home un to start off a perfect four-or-four night.

Borger took the lead back in he third. Drake opened with a ine single to left and went to hird on a double to the fence by Windy Eldridge. Joe Duffield bounced out and Hal Epps, making his first appearance with the Gassers, walked to load the bases. Ed Carnett singled to plate Drake and Eldridge, Epps stopping at second. Bill Manning forced Carnett, Epps moving to third. then the Gassers put on the double steal against the rookie catcher, Greg Solis, and Epps scored.

Pampa tied it in the fourth when Phillips doubled to the leftfield fence and scored on Sudol's bad - hop single through short. Epps untied it with a home run down the rightfield line, fair by inches, in the fifth with none in. But then the Oilers went to work.

Big Sixth Inning

Bobby Brown opened the sixth with a bleeder single in front of the plate. Deck Woldt doubled to the fence in right, Brown stopping at third. Phillips singled to left to plate both runners. Bartkowski forced Phillips and Sudol walked. But Don Moore slammed a home run over the leftfield fence to score three more runs and also bring in lefty Bob Spence to pitch for Borger.

Solis greeted him with a single to center, but Molberg forced Solis for the second out. Bauerback singled Molberg to third and he scored on Brown's second single of the inning. Woldt hit a soft liner back to Spence to retire the side.

Phillips started a three-run seventh inning with a single to left and scored as Stan Bartkowski drove a crackling home run over the leftfield fence. Spence walked Sudol and gave up a single to Moore before he was pulled for Joe Garcia. Garcia walked Solis but got Molberg to hit into a double play, Sudol scoring. The big Cuban righthander then walked Auerbach and Brown to reload the bases and bring in Price to fan Woldt to retire the side.

Clovis, Amarillo Next

The final Pampa run came in the eighth as Phillips again led off, this time wth a walk. Sudol sngled hm to second and Solis sngled hm home.

After tonight's game with the Gassers, the Oilers host the Clovis Pioneers in a three - game series with an afternoon game on Sunday. Then to close out the home stand, the Amarillo Gold Sox come in for three days.

OILER OOZINGS: Temes' injured leg isn't expected to keep him out of the lineup long. . . Yesterday's game was the first he has missed this year. . .The home runs were Phillips' fifth, Bartkowski's sixth and Moore's third. . .Moore nearly missed ifrst base watching his disappear over the fence. . . Bartkowski knew his was gone and didn't even have to watch it. . . When Carnett went hitless in the first game of the series it was only the second time this year he hadn't hit safely in game. . .The Oilers pulled the hidden ball trick in the third when the Gassers' pulled the double steal. . .Woldt's relay to the plate was over Solis' head, hit the backstop and disappeared under the protective padding installed three weeks ago. . .Solis couldn't find it.

Pitchers Have Field Day With Four Shutouts Against Hitters

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Remember Willie Keeler who ed to "hit 'em where they 't?"

t seems th at modern day hit- s are hitting 'em where they .

Take the American League, nerally regarded as a power cuit. Junior circuit pitchers ve turned in 25 shutouts, a -hitter, and three - one hit- s. National League pitchers ve come up with 19 shutouts t nary a no - hitter or one- t performance.

Pitchers sparkled both on the mound and at bat in both leagues yesterday with National League hurlers stealing the show with four shutouts.

Curt Simmons, showing no signs of rust following his tour of army duty, turned in the gem of the day. The lanky lefthander pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-0 three - hit triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Rush Blanks Braves

Simmons fanned eight walked five and aided his own cause by slamming a three - run inside the park home run in the sixth inning to seal his third triumph and second straight shutout.

Zeros were the order of the day at Boston where the Chicago Cubs and Braves traded shutouts. Bob Rush blanked the Braves 3-0 on four safeties in the opener and contributed to the attack by driving in a run on a single and double.

Warren Spahn turned the tables in the nightcap, scattering nine hits in hanging up a 5-0 victory. Home runs by Bob Thorpe and Sam Jethroe eased Spahn's road.

Lefty Monte Kennedy put in a strong bid for a regular trick by pitching the New York Giants to a 6-0 four-hit victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Kennedy walked only one and fanned two in besting Gerry Staley who was seeking his eighth triumph. Staley has lost two games, both at the hands of the Giants.

Pitchers encountered a rough afternoon at Brooklyn where the Dodgers came from behind to beat Cincinnati, 8-7, and protect their half game lead over the Giants.

Dodger Rally Wins

The Dodgers, fresh from their record making 15 run first inning against Cincinnati Wednesday night, tallied four runs in the eighth inning to wipe out a 7-4 deficit.

Roy Campanella, returning to action after a three day layoff because of a bruised hand, tied the score by socking one of Dutch Hiller's change of pace pitchers for a three - run romer. Frank Smith was rushed in but failed to douse the fire. Andy Pafko cracked Smith's first pitch for a double. Pafko moved to third on a bunt and scored the winning run after Gil Hodges flied out.

Joe Adcock, injured later in the game, smashed a grand slam homer for Cincinnati and Grady Hatton connected with one on to lead the Red attack. Adcock collapsed on the Cincinnati bench following a hard slide into second base in the eventh inning. He was forced to retire.

Mickey McDermott pitched and helped bat the Boston Red Sox to a 3-2 decision over the Cleveland Indians. McDermott singled in the ninth and slid home with the winning run when Johnny Pesky and Billy Goodman followed with singles.

The loss cut Cleveland's lead over the runner-up Washington Senators to two games. The Senators whipped the Browns, 4 - 2, in a night game at St. Louis. Home runs by Ed Yost and Mickey Vernon off former Senator Gene Beardon and a ninth inning relief trick by Tom Ferrick helped Bob Porterfield to his fourth victory.

Rain washed out the game between the New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox. Philadelphia and Detroit were idle.

Gulf Defeats Pipeline, 13-12

Gulf Research defeated Northern Natural Pipeline, 13-12, last night to complete the week's play in the Pampa Industrial Softball League.

Good hitting by both clubs sparked the free-scoring affair, with Richardson the winning pitcher for Gulf.

The games are played at Lion's Club Park.

Grover Austin, Jr., Shares Medalist Honors In Greenbelt

Grover Austin, Jr., former Pampa city golf champion, fired a three-over par 75 in the qualifying round of the Greenbelt Golf Tournament yesterday to share medalist honors with Wink Cole of the host Frederick, Okla., club. Wink if the brother of the defending champion, Dodie Cole, who came home with a 78.

Austin and Ruhl Samples president of the Panhandle Men's Golf Association, are the only two Pampans participating in the tournament. Pro Johnny Austin, brother of the co-medalist, is official starter for the 15th annual tournament.

The 32-man championship flight was scheduled to begin play this morning with only one round today. Finals are set for Sunday. There are four other flights of 16 men each to complete the tournament.

Three other strokes in the 96-man field broke 80. Audie Little of Quanah shot a 77, Andy DeWees of Frederick had a 78, and Bill Jerrel of Electra turned in a 79.

A tornado alarm was sounded during the night last night, and while most of the visiting golfers took to storm cellars, no damage was done and the tournament was scheduled to continue.

Jersey Joe's Age May Make Him Victim Of Ez Charles

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. —(AP)— Is Jersey Joe Walcott's age catching up with him? Can the heavyweight champion of the world, at 38 (?), beat back the challenge of 30-year-old Ezzard Charles in Philadelphia June 5?

No one doubts that Jersey Joe has the heart, spirit and punch to keep the heavyweight title in his reflexes? Men of 38 don't how about those legs, his wind, his native Camden, N.J., but usually make a living fighting in the ring.

Walcott, his manager, Felix Bocchicchio, and trainer, Dan Florio, all emphatically answer "yes" to the big question. Then they chorus, "If you don't believe us, come on out and watch.

Walcott proceeded to run 3 1-2 miles. Then he donned the gloves and went six rounds, two sessions each with three partners.

Walcott, who hasn't boxed in almost a year, looked good. He was punching sharply, stepping endless. The champion actually lively and his endurance appeared seemed ready for the big fight right now.

Joe was asked if his layoff wouldn't affect his sharpness.

"I'll be ready for Charles and the title isn't going anywhere but back to Camden. After Charles, I want to defend the crown again in September. I don't care who the opponent is.

"Retire? Not until I can't climb into the ring," said Joe.

Nitcholas Hangs Up Sixth In Row

ABILENE — (AP) — Gray-eagle Otho Nitcholas ran his victory skein to six straight against no defeats here Thursday night as the Blue Sox broke a five-game losing streak to defeat Amarillo, 11-4.

A "ladies night" crowd of nearly 2,000 warmed quickly to Nitcholas who helped his own cause be smashing the walls with doubles on his first two trips to the plate, knocking in a runner each time. He added a single later on to compile the best individual hitting record of the game.

Les Mulcahy, Amarillo catcher, slammed his second home run of the series and the Gold Sox got their sixth in the first two games when Chick Howard, husky left-fielder, blasted one over the left wall.

Oilers Obtain SMU Infielder

The Pampa Oilers announced yesterday afternoon that they had aigned rookie infielder Hal Hayes, captain of this year's Southern Methodist University nine. Hayes, a second baseman, will report to the team as soon as graduation is completed at the Southwest Conference school.

Hayes played for Oiler Manager Jake Phillips when Phillips guided the Sinton Oilers to fourth place in the National Baseball Congress Tournament at Wichita, Kan., in 1950. Hayes was named on the all-national semi-pro team that year.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Pacific Coast League's determination to keep its best athletes and gradually to build itself into major league stature is likely to be put to a severe strain before the current campaign ends if Hal Gregg sustains his present fiery pitching pace with Oakland.

At last report the big right-handed speedballer had won eight straight for Manager Mel Ott's team, one of them a seven-inning no - hitter. Representatives of three big league clubs are reported following him already and taking turns buttering up Brick Laws, the Oakland president.

Gregg, who was one of the National League's top hurlers back in 1945 when he won 18 and lost 13 for Brooklyn, is making a phenomenal comeback after several seasons in the outer darkness. He underwent a delicate back operation during the past winter which appears to have effected a complete cure of the ills which had threatened to end his baseball career. He will not be 31 until July, so he might easily have five or six fine years left in his system.

His Trouble Came

Gregg began having arm trouble soon after his 18-game year with the Dodgers, and Branch Rickey unloaded him on Pittsburgh in 1947 in a multiple player deal by which Brooklyn acquired such talent as third-Baseman Billy Cox and Pitcher Preacher Roe and the Pirates wound up with their memories. Gregg could do nothing for the Bucs, and Manager Billy Meyer finally had to give up on him completely two springs ago.

The big, personable fellow dropped from sight until the past spring. A friend in Los Angeles told the writer he had played some golf with Gregg since the operation and that Hal was loaded with confidence. Then, one night, we saw him stand the New York Giants on their collective heads in an exhibition game in Oakland and promptly made a small wager he would lead the coast league in won-lost for the year. He looked that great, loose and fast and sharp of control.

By the merest coincidence, it was on the same night, immediately after Hal's impressive display, that President Horace Stoneham of the Giants made a surprise announcement that he was sending his prize young first-base prospect, Tookie Gilbert, out to play for his old pal, Laws. Just a friendly gesture, you understand, but with overtones.

No Agreements

Stoneham's foreman, Leo Durocher, howled about it and inquired as to who in hell was managing the Giants, but the president quieted him and by the next morning Leo was telling anyone who inquired that he thought it would be much better for Gilbert to play regularly with the Oaks than to ride the Giants' bench as understudy to Whitey Lockman.

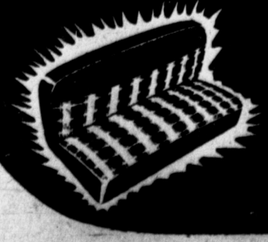

Chances are that now, as he reads of Gregg's pitching exploits, Leo is extremely pleased with the Gilbert arrangement and is duly impressed by Stoneham's sagacity. Not, of course, that there is any agreement between the Giants president and Laws, either written or oral. The coast league does not, as we vaguely understand it, approve of working agreements since it became a sort of upper-case minor league.

But if Laws just should, by chance decide that he no longer wants Gregg on his club, we can't help feeling that the estimable Brick would think first of his buddy, Horace.

This could prove important, too. With the exception of Sal Maglie, members of Durocher's staff have shown distinct signs of wear and tear lately. Second - line pitching has been especially disappointing, and the little shepherd is quoted as saying he would be delighted to give Rex Barney, the wildest hurler in captivity, a trial.

"Horatius" Hogan Holds The Bridge

Pair Of Texans, Conrad And Gafford, Leading Colonial

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH — (AP) — A couple of Texans, Joe Conrad of San Antonio, the golfing collegian, and Raymond Gafford of Dallas, a veteran professional who plays only occasionally on the PGA tour, led the $20,000 Colonial National Invatitional Tournament into its second round today.

The red-haired product of North Texas State, the school that's king-pin of college golf, and Gafford, lean pro of Northwood Club of Dallas where the National Open will be held next month, shot two-under-par 68 yesterday to top the field of 42 players by a stroke.

Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y. veteran campaigner, had a 69. But Conrad, Gafford and Ford were the only shotmakers able to beat par over windy, rugged 7,035-yard Colonial Country Club course.

Tommy Bolt of Durham, N.C., and Fred Hawkins of El Paso equalled par 70.

Find Course Tought

Otherwise, the big shots of the golf trail found the course tough to handle. Ben Hogan, the Texan who now registers out of Palm Springs, Calif., and thrice winner of the National Open championship, took a slumping 74 and complained that the greens were slow and he couldn't sink the putts. But Gafford and Conrad liked the greens and their putting was excellent.

Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., the defending Colonial champion, had a 72 and was in striking distance along with Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, who also did 72. But a stroke better than they was Jerry Barber of Pasadena, Calif., a little-known pro, who had a 71.

Conrad is the first amateur ever to lead this select tournament. But he has been playing top golf for several years. Last summer he won the Texas Amateur at the age of 21, and he has been an important member of the North Texas State intercollegiate championship golf team.

Gafford checked up and found that he had played 63 holes over Colonial this week and was four under par. "If I can just keep that up I'll sure be in the big money," he said. Forty-five of the holes were in practice.

The second round goes out at noon today. The third round will be tomorrow and the final Sunday.

The tuning fork was invented in 1711.

Cahn wrote Shirai's family was destitute after the bombing of Tokyo and he was fighting 7 to 8 times a week to support a family of nine in two crowded tenement rooms. After getting the letter, the NBA rated Shirai a contender and title fight resulted. (AP Wirephoto)

Golfing Einstein Makes All Golfers Good Golfers

NEW YORK — (AP) — You'd think it would take a mathematical genius — a regular Einstein — to devise a system by which a guy who just dubs around a golf course, without even a club handicap, could invade the scoring range of the best professionals.

But you can depend on duffers to come up with something new. A group of them in Bradford, Pa., found an ordinary club pro who worked out something that even the shaggy-haired sage of Princeton, N. J., probably wouldn't attempt.

This Einstein of golf is Lionel Calloway, whose principal claim to fame is a handicap system that enables any kind of duffer to post scores in the 70's or below. And what's more, it's so simple that even a golfer who is prone to forget strokes he wastes in a bunker or ditch can remember how it works.

The Calloway system is especially popular at resort courses and other places where there are no established handicaps. It is used to some extent at about half the nation's 5,000 golf clubs.

Devised about ten years ago, the system will get a supreme test on National Golf Day, May 31, when some thousands of good golfers and plain dubs will test their strokes and handicaps against open champion Ben Hogan.

In this charitable event, jointly sponsored by the Professional Golfers Association and Life Magazine, Hogan will play a round at the Northwood Club in Dallas, site of this year's Open. All the others, paying $1 each for the privilege, will play at home and try to beat Ben's score. Those who have regular handicaps will use them; others will be rated on the Calloway system.

The proceeds will be given to the USO and the "National Golf Fund." And if anyone succeeds in beating Hogan, even with Calloway's help, he'll get a well-earned medal.

When those Bradford duffers presented their problem, Calloway retired to his room with a stack of paper and sample golf cards. He began to notice that some of the scores wouldn't look so bad if occasional tens or 12's could be omitted. So he tried crossing them out.

That's the essence of the Calloway system. A golfer who shoots from 76 to 80 is allowed to deduct the score of his worst hole. Knocking out a seven, say, turns a terrible 79 into a nice 72. From 81 to 85 the deduction is the worst hole plus half the next worst forgetting the fractions, of course. In the 80-90 range it's the two worst. It goes on almost indefinitely, though no one can claim to be bad enough to deduct the whole 18.

First Division Defeats Second

By the Associated Press

The first division shut out the second division in the Sooner State League last night.

Pauls Valley maintained its three-game league lead over Chickasha by edging McAlester, 4-3, nipping Rocket rallies with three double plays.

Chickasha pounded out 12 hits behind the eight-hit hurling of Ronnie Ramirez to defeat Sherman, 9-4. The losing Twins rallied for four runs in the ninth on five singles.

Ada came through with a six-run uprising in the sixth and nosed Lawton, 6-5. The rally was climaxed by Ron Slawski's three-run homer.

Shawnee picked on the league doormat, Ardmore, 11-5, with the help of five Indian errors. Ardmore shortstop Dick Blackstone threw wild over second into the outfield after fielding a gounder, allowing three runs to score.

Longview Loses Sixth Of Seven

By the Associated Press

There's nothing halfwayish about the Longview Cherokees in the Big State League. When they win, they do it in sprees.

It's one-sided, too, when they lose, and that's how it's going now. Last night, Longview sustained its sixth defeat out of the last seven games when Texarkana chased three Cherokee pitchers for a 13-7 decision. Longview dropped into fourth place.

Meanwhile, Wichita Falls continued to press Tyler by shading Paris 7-4 in a series opener and Tyler held to its one-game lead with a 4-3 tenth-inning win over Waco.

Austin scored four runs in the first against Temple and proceeded to victory 6-2 with a 11-hit attack and the tight-in-the-pinch hurling of Dean Franks.

Longview's losing string comes at the end of a 21-day rise from last place to a first place tie, all on 14 wins in 16 games.

Odessa Stretches Longhorn Lead

By the Associated Press

It looks like a one-club first division in the Longhorn League. The way Odessa is winning and the way the others of yesterday's first four are losing makes you think so.

Odessa's Oilers clubbed Sweetwater 18-10 to take their seventh triumph in eight games. It stretched their margin in first place to four and a half games.

Meanwhile, San Angelo and Vernon, second and fourth placers before, continued on the downgrade. San Angelo lost to Artesia 6-5 in a game featured by home runs, and Vernon fell to sixth places when Big Spring beat the Dusters 6-1.

Roswell combed Joe Peraza for 18 hits and a 12-3 win over Midland to move into third place. Andy Alanso pitched the win on an eight-hitter and was backed by his team's seven doubles.

Gregg Signs Pact

LONGVIEW — (AP) — Forrest (Chubby) Gregg, 300-pound tackle recently traded by the Cleveland Browns to Green Bay, says his 1952 contract calls for a "slight raise."

Gregg said here yesterday that he was offered more money to play in the Canadian League but he decided to continue to play in the United States.

Laredo Extends Lead In Gulf

By the Associated Press

Laredo's leading Apaches took advantage of their "cousins," the Port Arthur Seahawks, again last night, so their Gulf Coast League margin is a game and a half to the good today.

The Apaches won 9-2, their fifth stright from the second place Seahawks of seven played so far. Little Daniel Parra, somewhat of an Apache Ned Garver, did most of the winner's work.

Meanwhile, Lake Charles remains the dreadnaught of the loop; the Lakers added their fifth straight triumph with a 2-1 edging of Corpus Chirsti.

In the other games, Harlingen beat Texas City 5-1 to end the Texan's eight game win streak at home, and Galveston bested Brownsville 8-7.

Attendance Up In Texas League

DALLAS — (AP) — The Texas League is drawing 211 more persons per game than last year, figures for the first quarter released today by league Secretary Milton Price show.

In the quarter, which included 133 playing dates but with 11 of them rained out, the league drew 284,560. For the same period last year when there were 159 dates with 19 rained out, the total was 297,003. The average this year is 2,332. Last year it was 2,121.

There will be fewer dtes this year than last year because the race is shorter. It opened April 1 this year compared to April 10 last year and closes Sept. 7 compared to Sept. 9 in 1951.

Beaumont has shown the biggest gain. The Roughrecks have drawn 26,992 for 15 dates this year — 7,119 more than for 18 dates last year. Fort Worth has shown 6,136 more for 16 games this year than 20 last year. Shreveport has a gain of 3,474 for 17 games over 18 last year.

Babe Improving Fast

BEAUMONT — (AP) — Babe Didrickson Zaharias is reported in good condition and "improving fast" following a hernia operation Monday.

She said that as soon as is able she and her husband, George Zaharias, wrestling promoter, would go on a vacation. After the vacation Babe plans to return to the golf tournament tour.

FLY LINE REACTION TO A STRIKE.....

Bratton Choice Over Flanagan

NEW YORK — (AP) — Johnny Bratton and Del Flanagan have been staging a battle of words all week. If they put as much fire in their punches tonight there may be some unexpected fireworks at Madison Square Garden.

The two welterweights clash in an 8 p.m. (CST) ten-rounder which will be broadcast and telecast from coast to coast.

Bratton, on the basis of his smashing four-round knockout of Pierre Langlois three weeks ago, has been established a 2 to 1 favorite. The swift kayo over the French champion was the 24-year-old Chicago Negro's last scrap. The 23-year-old Flanagan upset Li'l Arthur King in a ten here six weeks ago in typical fashion, dancing backwards.

In 1947 Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians was the only 20-game winner in the American League.

Texans Shine In ABC Tournament

MILWAUKEE — (AP) — A pair of unknown Texans took the play away from from some of the East Coast's finest yesterday at the American Bowling Congress tourney as the meet swung into its 62nd day of action.

Three well - known bowlers, Tony Sparando and Marty Cassio of Brooklyn's Cirlin Mercurys and Frank Santore, 1950 ABC all events title holder, of the New York Dur-A-Craft Shirts, were just another collection of pinsters and had to work all the way to salvage a couple of the money spots.

Coming through with a husky 276 finish, Virgil Foster of Dallas banged the top singles count of 678, with a 194 opener and a 208 center-piece.

Another Dallas nifty, J. B. Solomon, averaged 207 over the nine game route for 1,863 and tops in the all events. He walloped a 660 singles slam to add to 560 team and 643 doubles charges.

Snead Obsessed About U.S. Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Will Sam Snead ever win the National Open?

The great man from West Virginia has ben trying for a decade and a half. He almost made it several times. But there was that eight at Spring Mill in Philadelphia and that St. Louis playoff with Lew Worsham.

Generaliy, the golf stars think Snead will realize his ambition but that he's going to have to hurry. One prominent linkster gives Sam 15 more years — but mainly they think time is running out on the slammer.

It's the only title the sweet swinger hasn't attained - it's an obsession with him. That's what the men who know him best say.

Has the Shots

All agree that Sam Snaed has the shots. But, as Jimmie Demaret says, "There's a lot of great golfers who never won the National Open. Snead had been unlucky—he just never got the breaks. But I think he can win it and I sure hope he does."

This from a great golfer who also never won the National Open.

Horton Smith, president of the PGA, says Snead hasn't the emotional composure.

"When he missed that short putt at Spring Mill—leaving the ball four inches from the pin — it showed me he had lost his composure," observes Smith. "But I think Snead will win the Na- I think Snead will win the National Open. I rank him with the greatest golfers of all time and at the top as a natural golfer."

The National Open will be played in Dallas, Tex., in June. Snead has won quite a few tournaments in Texas.

Tough Situation

It's tough to always be the best man but never the groom. Snead ought to know; it has happened to him three times in the National Open—three times he has been the runner-up.

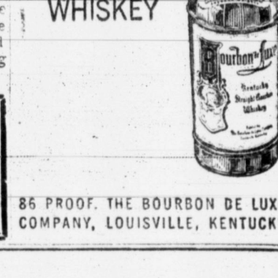

"After a winter of limited action, Snead recently won the Masters for a second time. The rest from the tourney grind might have been just the thing for the Slammer.

The Humor's Gone from Old Satire

The New York prints report there has been a revival there of the musical comedy, "Of Thee I Sing," which bemused and amused the folks of a simpler age (only 21 years ago) when it was easier to have and poke fun than it is today — after two grim decades under the consulships of Truman and Roosevelt, through war years, high taxes, regimentation and inflation.

It is reported there has been little change made in the revival — with the exception of a few girls in mink coats and an occasional mention of General Vaughan — since the days when Victor Moore played the part of Vice President Alexander Throttlebottom who was so anonymous he couldn't remember his own name. Of course, Victor is not in the cast and none of the new players are familiar to us long away from the mezzanine seats of Gotham's theaters.

But revival of the play serves to emphasize the passage of years since the eve of the time when the American people installed in the White House an administration whose basic philosophy has been the myth that the people shouldn't think for themselves.

The administration has been wickedly successful with the political premise that the people getting governmental pap will not look at the giver. Beneath a facade of glamour and with the motto: "Spend and spend; elect and delect" there has developed a putrid cancer of political corruption and moral callousness that might well make Boss Tweed hold his nose at the stench.

We have fought a war that appears only a prelude to another war and we have created a government that operates by crisis. The workers of the nation contribute one-fourth of their income to the government and we are in the midst of an inflation that makes a $5000-a-year employee one who is barely getting by.

Soon anyone who can buy hamburger will get an automatic Dun & Bradstreet rating — man of means, a bon vivant. Friends will vie for a place at his table. Since the days when "Wintergreen and Throttlebottom" campaigned in the Kaufman-Gershwin-Ryskind musical, the mighty have fallen and the lowly risen.

In 1932 one might have said, "We were broke, so we lived on hamburger a week." Now we can report, "We lived on hamburger a week, so we're broke."

Twenty years ago we could have poked fun at the political and economic maneuvers underway in the nation. They would have been hilarious because so ridiculous. Today the outright bribery of classes of people under the Welfare state, the open rape of the public purse, the psychotic scramble for power are too grim, too menacing to engender laughter.

We don't think we'd be as amused with the antics in "Of Thee I Sing" as we were in our youth when we saved for a month to raise four bucks to treat our gal to a mezzanine seat, a chop suey supper and a taxi ride home.

Dept. Of Correction

In some states and cities, the department of correction is an agency concerned with administering penal institutions and the like.

In the United States government, it is a special arm of the executive branch, with headquarters in the White House. Its purpose is setting the record straight after President Truman has held one of his regular press conferences.

Its services were called upon most recently to explain that an ultimatum which Mr. Truman said he had sent to Joseph Stalin had not in fact ever been issued.

Joseph Short, the President's secretary in charge of the press relations of the White House, deserves sympathy. As head of the department of correction in Washington, he is called upon to act with speed and often amazing ingenuity in the performance of his arduous duties.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Is There A Subversive Movement In Public Schools?

(This is the sixth installment of the talk given March 21 by Rep. Paul W. Shafer of Michigan in the House of Representatives).

IV MEET DR. COUNTS

Some 4 or 5 years after his appointment as a professor of education at Taechers College, Columbia University, Dr. George S. Counts read a paper before a conference of the Progressive Education Association in Baltimore, Md., in February, 1932.

This paper, bearing the title "Dare Progressive Education Be Progressive?" proved to be an epochal event in the history of modern American education. It is also the necessary starting point in the documentation which I am here undertaking.

Because of the major — even dominant — role which Dr. Counts played in the early history of the movement under discussion, it is important to become somewhat acquainted with him and his views. In doing so, I am not indulging in personalities or undertaking to cast Dr. Counts in a villian's role. And my interest in Dr. Counts' relationship to the movement being described here is not limited to its origins.

If I am any judge of the record, Dr. Counts is an educator who has himself gained considerable education in the past 20 years. Indeed I am convinced that he is today a wise and possibly sadder man than the 43-year-old Columbia professor who issued the ringing summons to classroom in his paper bfeore the Baltimore meeting. I believe he is not only a man with the courage to change his convictions in the light of experience and reflection, but also a man who has demonstrated real physical courage by carrying his convictions into the enemy's camp with brave defiance — the enemy's camp being a Communist-sponsored "international cultural" gathering held in New York City in 1949.

Dr. Count's dominant leadership in the launching of the social reconstruction movement is attested not only by the Baltimore address but by his authorship of the monograph, "Dare the School Build A New Social Order?" In 1932; his chairmanship of the Progressive Education Association committee on social and economic problems which issued the 1933 Call to the Teachers of the Nation; his service to research director of the American Historical Association Commission on Social Studies, and his editorship, for several years, of the Social Frontier, official journal of the movement.

It contributes to an understanding of the background of Dr. Counts' paper before the Baltimore meeting of the Progressive Education Association to know that at the time he was an enthusiastic observer and commentator on the great collectivist experiment in Soviet Russia. He is one of several American educators who, in keeping with the custom of the times — a custom encouraged by the Communist organization in the United States — had made several pilgrimages to Russia to view first hand, under proper chaperonage, the workings of that experiment. In 1931 Dr. Counts wrote a book entitled "The Soviet Challenge to America."

His estimate of the importance of the collectivist experiment in Russia is expressed in this statement:

The world today is full of social experimentation. There is one experiment, however, that dwarfs all others — so bold indeed in its ideals and its program that few can contemplate it without emotion. Because of the clouds of passion which still envelop it, there is serious danger that its most revolutionary, though least sensational, features may escape adequate notice. Soviet Russia is endeavoring with all the resources at her command to bring the economic order under a measure of rational control. She may fail in the attempt, but in the meantime every student of human affairs should follow the effort with breathless interest. She issues to the Western nations and particularly to the United States a challenge — perhaps one of the greatest challenges of history. But she issues it not through the Communist international, nor through the Red Army, nor through the Gay-Pay-OO (political police), as most of our citizens naively and timorously believe, but through her State Planning Commission and her system of public education. (The Soviet Challenge to American, pp. ix-i, foreword.)

Dr. Counts drew a contrast between Soviet Russia's approach to economic problems and that of the United States which left no doubt as to where, in theory at least, his sympathies and inclinations lay. He wrote:

In the societies of the West in general and the United States of America in particular the evolution of institution proceeds for the most part without plan or design, as a sort of byproduct of the selfish competition of individuals, groups and enterprises for private gain. In Russia, on the other hand, since the days of 1917, the Soviet government has sought to promote the rational and orderly development of the entire social economy. . .In the great 5 - year plan on construction, which was launched in October of 1928. . .a whole civilization is harnessing its energies and is on the march toward consciously determined goals (ibid., p. 7).

He said further:

If the revolution is successful the social order which is emerging today in Soviet Russia will first of all be collectivistic. In its essence this means that the institution of private property, at least insofar as it applies to land and the tools of production, will be abolished. It also means that no individual will be able to acquire great wealth, that the motive of personal gain will cease to drive the wheels of the economic order, that the senseless competition in the conspicuous consumption of goods will come MOR MOR MOR MOR MOR to an end and that land, railroads, factories, mills, shops, houses, and natural resources will be owned collectively and administered in the interests of all (pp. 24-25).

There are further comparisons drawn again by no means favorable, in Dr. Count's judgment, to the American system:

No sensitive mind can remain long in the soviet Union without feeling himself a veritable furnace of the world where the elements composing human society are in a state of fusion and new principles of right and wrong are being forged. Under such conditions the commonplace of American education sound like faint voices from a distant and mythical land (p. 324).

And again:

The revolutionary movement embraces much that is rich and challenging in the best sense of the word. The idea of building a new society along the lines developed by the Communists should provide a genuine stimulus to the mind and liberate the energies of millions. It is certainly no worse than the drive towards individual success which permeates not only the schools but every department of culture in the United States. If one were to compare the disciplined effort of the Soviets to industrialize the country, to socialize agriculture, to abolish poverty, to banish disease, to liquidate unemployment, to disseminate knowledge and generally to raise the material and spiritual level of the masses, with the selfish scramble for wealth and privilege, the cruel disregard of the less sensational forms of human suffering, the relative absence of a sense of social responsibility, the reluctance to come honestly to grips with the major problems of the time, and the apparent decay of the political, ethical, and religious life in America, one would find small grounds for complacency. Whatever may be said on the other side concerning the regimentation of opion and the restriction of individual freedom, there exists in Soviet Russia today an idealism and a driving passion for human betterment which contrast strangely with the widespread cynicism of the United States. It is only natural that this idealism and this passion should sweep through the schools as well as through the rest of the social order (pp. 328-330).

Henry Knocks Out Lyrics For Candidates Without A Song

By HENRY McLEMORE

Being a lover of fair play, I cannot help but feel that General Eisenhower should not be the only presidential candidate with a song.

When the Republican and Democratic conventions are held in Chicago the song, "I Like Ike," will be the only tune known to the delegates, reporters, spectators, and the looking and listening public at large. Kefauver has no song. Harriman has no song. And the same goes for Russell, Kerr, Taft, Warren, Stassen, and those men who always run on the socialist, prohibition, and vegetarian tickets.

I aim to remedy this right now. Irving Berlin wrote "I like Ike," but Mr. Berlin's name doesn't scare me off. He has had more success as a song writer than I, yes. But in my heart I feel that I am quite as good a tunesmith as he. He just got a couple of lucky breaks.

I don't think his rather successful, "White Christmas," is one whit better than my own, "Black Thanksgiving." I'll match my "Sometimes" against his "Always." And no one will ever tell me that his "All Alone by the Telephone" has more lilt and feeling than my "Please Get off the Party Line, You Dope." So, I'm going to knock off a verse or two for the candidates with no song, starting with Kefauver.

My name is Kefauver and I come from Tennessee,
I ain't got no banjo, but
Costello's on my knee.
When I was at the height of hitting all the stumps,
Down came all my children with the mean, bad, nasty mumps.

Night and day, I am the one,
I am Harold Stassen's favorite son.
My name is Stassen, in case
you're in doubt,
I fight all my rivals and ne'er win a bout.

Everyone is daft who doesn't vote for Taft,
The senator from Ohio who has never, never laughed.
He's not very jolly, but, by golly
He thinks to tax and tax and overtax is just plain folly.

If you like watermelons and black - eyed peas,
Vote for Dick Russell, please do, please.
The red clay shows on his well-
shod feet,
But upstairs in his head, he's hard to beat.

I was born in a log cabin, but I took my turn at washing dishes in a solid ermine sink.
I'm an international banker, but
I'm humble as can be,
My name is Averell Harriman and the polo set's for me.

My name is Warren, and barring a late entry,
No one can match my family for sheer beauty.
People have said I am the prettiest of all,
And that's why I've answered my country's call.

Vote for me, and my name is Kerr,
I just hand out incense and plain old myrrh.
For the New and Fair Deals let us ring the bells,
I'll give away all except my own oil wells.

George Spelvin, American, Is Caught Talking With Jackass

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright 1952, King Features EDit (Pegler) 2-34 GEORGE SPE Syndicate, Inc.)

New York — As George Spelvin, American, waited for the light to change at the southeast corner of Elm and Spruce, he became casually aware of a jackass standing by the curb. He paid no special attention until the jackass said: "I have got a good mind to seize the

it, you know."

press. I have got the right to seize

Mr. Spelvin was s[illegible]ned that for a moment he co[illegible]ofer any comment.

Then he said: "Can you talk? A jackass?"

"Sure, I can talk," the jackass said.

"But," Mr. Spelvin stammered, "excuse me all over but I mean it is so surprising! I didn't know jackasses could talk."

"That is just crazy," the jackass said. "All jackasses talk. Most of them, that's all they do. Some of them even get to be ambassadors and go around telling other countries what we are going to do to them if they don't run their government like we run ours. Some get to be secretary of labor or secretary of state. Sure, we can talk."

"But," Mr. Spelvin insisted "I mean, why if you will just sign on the dotted line with me, I can get you on the radio and, boy, will we clean up!"

"Control yourself," the jackass said. "I have been on the radio hundreds of times. I just have to say the word and I get a national hook-up. All the big networks and a hundred million Americans sit and listen to the wisdom of a jackass."

"But, an actual jackass talking like you do!" Mr. Spelvin gasped. "You would be terrific. Sensational. I will be your manager and we will clean up. I will put you on television, too!"

The jackass peeled his lips back off his teeth.

Somewhere, before, Mr. Spelvin had seen that mouth. Yes. It was on Inauguration Day, 1949, right in front of the White House, as hundreds of parasites of the bureaucracy and the party organization rode by in big open cars. An icy grin had flashed at the Ed Flynns, the Boyles and the Dave Dubinskys, the Kansas City gorillas and the boss goons of the CIO until the governor of South Carolina and his wife, a pretty lady, rolled by. And the governor bowed with a graceful sweep of his ceremonial plug hat and his wife nodded sweetly to the President of the United States.

And the President stared back with a glassy glare on his spectacles and peeled his lips off his white teeth in a snarl at the man who had the courage to fight for the constitution in the Southern states, and his lady.

"You are wearing glasses," he ventured. "Do jackasses wear glasses?"

"Some do; some don't," the jackass said "It depends."

"And a bow tie, too."

"What have you got against bow ties?" the jackass demanded. "What prejudism is this? Bow tie bigotry! Wait till I report you to the President's committee on Civil Rights. We will pass a law to put your kind in prison for discriminating against the minority group who wear bow ties."

"Don't get me wrong," Mr. Spelvin said. "I am not prejudiced. It just seemed odd —

"You are a dirty guttersnipe," the jackass said. "You are a Fascist-minded tool of the special interests. Hiding behind the Constitution to stab labor in the back. Where is your lynching rope? You labor-baiting rat, scab, fink. You and Taft. And MacArthur."

"Gee," Spelvin said. "I am going to hurry right home and write this all down. I don't want to forget a word of it. Amazing experience!"

"I can write, too," the jackass said. "I get alone in my study late at night and write nasty letters. I threaten to kick guys and wreck them. Below the belt I threaten to kick them."

"Darnedest experience I ever had," Mr. Spelvin said. "Am I asleep? Dreaming? Because everything you say reminds me of things I have read and radio speeches I have heard."

"You certainly are asleep," the jackass said. "The whole 150 million of you are asleep."

"Well, I must be going—going — going —." George Spelvin, American, stirred and the scene began to fade and the jackass blurred, All but the glint of the glasses and the necktie and the snarl on that mouth.

"I must be goin—going. Before I go, tell me. What is your name?" "If you don't know, it's you that is the jackass," the jackass said. "George Spelvin, American; What a jackass!"

To the Editor:

In reference to the school bond election to be held Saturday, I wish to state I have in hand a typewritten leaflet prepared by our school board which is chock full of valuable information to the tax payers of this district. It is a comparison of tax rates of area schools picked at random. Of the 13 selected, Pampa is the only district with a rate less than one dollar and fifty cents. Thus far it appears that we are in a favorable position but by extending these figures we find a different picture. It appears to be costing Pampa about 30 percent more per student than any other school in this group, and 100 percent more than Big Spring. Below is a picture of the figures run down.

Borger: Average Daily Attendance, 4329; School Budget, $587,465.77; Rate, $1.75; Cost Per Student, $135.70.

Big Spring: ADA, 3622; Budget $352,500; Rate, $1.50; Cost Per Student, $97.20.

Pampa: ADA, 3675; School Budget, $716,543.88; Rate, $1.25; Cost Per Student, $192.02.

Plainview: ADA, 3224; School Budget, $430,000; Rate, $1.50; Cost Per Student, $130.50.

LOOKING SIDEWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON

Memo to Max Wilkinson:

The reason you did not get the first 100 pages of the book, as promised, is the next best thing to a long story but I think maybe you ought to know about it. We had Satan as a house guest.

The way it was, Max, I had 68 pages done, tight as a drum and running nice and easy, and I told my bride when I left for New York to cover the Shakespeare show: "I have to be up at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning. I'm going to do my notice tonight and spend the whole day getting those 32 pages done. It won't be hard, because I've got them laid out in my mind and if I can only get an early start, I'll have them tucked away by sun-down."

I didn't get home until after 2 o'clock in the morning because I ran into a man with two heads and we sat around talking in a place I know, but I was asleep by 2:10 and, promptly at 7 o'clock, my bride waked me. I jumped into a pair of dungarees, a T-shirt and some ropesoled espadrilles and went to work. I worked for an hour and then laid off for breakfast, and I want to tell you that I got nine pages done in an hour. I was having breakfast when I heard a clatter outside; it was the masons who had come to pour the concrete fill for the new terrace. They had promised to come two weeks ago, but they came this morning. I heard the little gasoline engine that turns the concrete mixer begin to put'-putt and, soon, the steady, hypnotizing swish of wet concrete turning in the mixer. But I put a pair of those sleep-plugs in my ears and went back to work. I was on Page 12, going as nice as a yawl in a breeze, when my bride came in and said: "I'm sorry, but Happy is having her pups and I think you'd better stand by." Well, I stood by for two hours, we now have six pups in the house, and if you want all six you can have them.

The pups finally found the place to go for lunch, Happy fell asleep, and I started back to work when I heard the dishwasher start. I started into the kitchen, but my alert bride caught me at the door.

"Don't worry," she said, "this run only takes nine minutes. I had to get things under way."

So I lit a cigarette and stood there watching the fool thing spin when, suddenly, a shower of sparks shot out from under it and it stopped dead. A short circuit. I spent 15 minutes trying to find it, using up four fuses in the process, and then went and telephoned the service agent who said he'd have a man right over. I told him to wait until the next day but his Junior Chamber of Commerce injections got the better of him and he cried merrily: "We never put a job off! We'll be Johnny-on-the-spot inside half an hour!" What would you do, Max? I don't think he wanted to drop dead.

I told my bride that I would now go back to work and was halfway upstairs when I heard a strange muffled noise from the furnace room. The oil burner had run out of oil and had emitted its usual grumbling signal. It was 49 degrees outside and half a dozen baths to be had during the day, so I called the fuel oil man and he said he'd be right over.

I went up and was just sitting down to work when I suddenly felt funny: I put my hand to my forehead and it was damp and clammy. So I got a thermometer, took my temperature and found I was running a degree sub. Then my shoulders and back began to ache and I got a chill. I wrapped up in a blanket and was just typing: "The train moved slowly down the mountain, picking its way like a cat creeping down a mound of slag," when the telephone rang. It was a playwright and he wanted my bride to rush right into town, have lunch and talk about the lead in a play he will try out this summer. What can you do? When the alarm sounds the old fire horse (Not you, dear, if you're looking) has to run out. So she went and, surrounded by a cold furnace, a dead dishwasher, a screeching concrete mixer, mewling puppies and a silent typewriter, my flu germs and I just gave up. At 1 o'clock the front door opened and a taxi driver brought my twin daughters in, running 103 temperatures and shivering with flu. They had been sent home from school.

Inside half an hour they had disposed of their school lunches in a most untidy way and I had them in their beds. Then I went to bed. And I have been there ever since. The dishwasher works now and oil runs fat in the veins of the burner. The terrace concrete is setting up good and hard and my bride got the job in the play. The pups are having no trouble finding their mother and my temperature is down to 100.

"They Preached Liberty"

V

In the last issue I was quoting from sermons by Revolutionary preachers from a book called "They Preached Liberty" by Franklin P. Cole. I was quoting from the subheading of "The Divine Source of Liberty."

The book is divided into different sections showing different approaches to liberty. It has one group of quotations on "Our Heritge of Liberty," but since there are so many other good quotations, I have to pass over that chapter.

Now I want to quote from "The Nature of Liberty." As I explained in a former issue, most of these sermons during this time were called "Election Sermons." Here is what Noah Welles of Stamford, Conn. preached in his Election Sermon in 1764:

Where Public Spirit Prevails

"Liberty is the glory of a community, the most firm and unshaken basis of public happiness. The want of this will abate the value of all the comforts of life. The embittering circumstances of precarious property,—the grating reflection that life and all its enjoyments lie at the mercy of a tyrant, and are liable every moment to be ravished by the lawless hand of violence,—mars the relish of every gratification, and throws a melancholy gloom upon all temporal enjoyments. But wherever public spirit prevails, liberty is secure. There men may think freely for themselves, and publish their sentiments without molestation or fear. For as liberty is the source of so much public-happiness, he who is a patriot, and wishes well to his country, must needs be a fast friend to it."

Here is a quotation from a sermon by Daniel Shute of Hingham, Mass. in 1768 under the heading of The Civil Constitution

"A compact for government in any community implies the stipulation of certain rules of government. These rules or laws more properly make the civil constitution. How various these rules are in different nations is not the present enquiry; but that they ought in every nation to coincide with the moral fitness of things, by which alone the natural rights of mankind can be secured, and their happiness promoted, is very certain. And such are the laws of the constitution of civil government that we, and all British subjects are so happy to live under."

John Tucker preached many wonderful sermons and is quoted frequently in the book. He was from Newbury, Mass. In 1771 he had a sermon under the heading of "Not Only the Cement." This is what he said:

Not Only The Cement

"The great and wise Author of our being has so formed us that the love of liberty is natural. This passion, like all other original principles of the human mind is, in itself, perfectly innocent and designed for excellent purposes, though like them, liable through abuse of becoming the cause of mischief to ourselves and others. In a civil state, the genius of whose constitution is agreeable to it, this passion, while in its full vigor and under proper regulation, is not only the cement of the political body, but the wakeful guardian of its interests, and the great animating spring of useful and salutary operations; and then only is it injurious to the public or to individuals, when, through misapprehension of things or by being overbalanced by self-love, it takes a wrong direction."

Samuel West, of Dartmought, Mass., in 1776 preached a sermon under the heading of "A State of Nature." I quote from this sermon:

A State Of Nature

"A state of nature, though it be a state of perfect freedom, yet is far from a state of licentiousness. The law of nature gives men no right to do anything that is immoral, or contrary to the will of God, and injurious to their fellow-creatures; for a state of nature is properly a state of law and government, even a government founded upon the unchangeable nature of the Diety, and a law resulting from the eternal fitness of things. Sooner shall heaven and earth pass away, and the whole frame of nature be dissolved, than any part, even the smallest iota, of this law shall ever be abrogated; it is unchangeable as the Diety himself, being a transcript of his moral perfections....Had this subject been properly attended to and understood, the world had remained free from a multitude of absurd and pernicious principles, which have been industriously propagated by artful and designing men, both in politics and divinity. The doctrine of non-resistance and unlimited passive obedience to the worst of tyrants could never have found credit among mankind had the voice of reason been harkened to for a guide, because such a doctrine would immediately have been discerned to be contrary to natural law."

FISH "BEAUTICIANS"—"Beauty treatments" for fish involve strenuous exercise for marine biologists Robert Dempster, left, and Tom Green, at Steinhart Aquarium in San Francisco. They are trying to subdue an alligator gar long enough to scrape its snout free of a marine fungus, and treat the creature.

BACK FROM THE JUNK PILE—This is one day's supply of reclaimed tires at the Tokyo Ordnance Depot. They came mostly from Pacific battlefields for reclamation under an Army Ordnance program called "Operation Roll Up." The operation has eliminated millions of dollars in war waste in rebuilding nearly 60,000 World War II vehicles at three installations in Japan. Combat-worn vehicles from Korea are overhauled daily.

HE'S GOT "ROTATION BLUES"—Sgt. John Schreiber, of Philadelphia, Pa., is very much unimpressed by "Johnson's Rotation Plan." The "plan," named for company commander 1st Lt. B. E. Johnson, of Shawnee, Okla., stands in front of a tank company headquarters in Korea. Sergeant Schreiber says it just doesn't "rotate" because the wheel is nailed down.

JAPANESE AMBASSADOR—Eikichi Araki, above, has been named to the first post-independence ambassador from Japan to the United States. Araki, 61, former governor of the Bank of Japan will be formally appointed as soon as the United States approves his selection for the post.

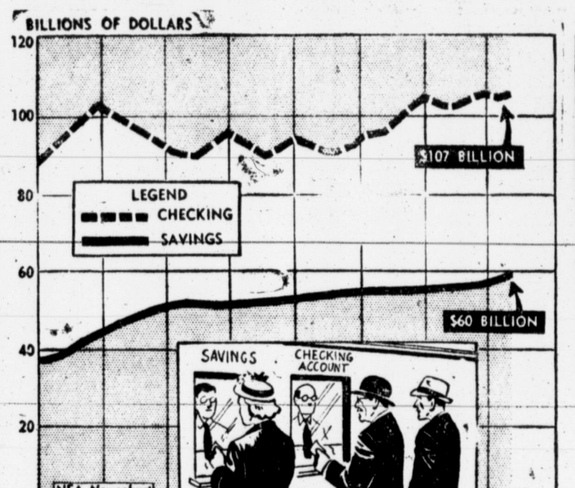

RESIGNATION NEAR — Informed sources close to Mohammed Mossadegh, above, say he has decided to resign his position as prime minister of Iran. Resignation is expected after he presents Iran's case against Britain in the oil nationalization dispute to the World Court at the Hague, The Netherlands

HELPING HIMSELF—Leslie Gideons, 3, opens mouth to enable his mother, Mrs. Edwin Gideons, Tampa, Fla., to insert new upper plate replacing his extracted baby teeth.

BRITAIN'S "A" CHIEF—Apparently overjoyed with his new assignment is Dr. W. G. Penney, 43, who has been named to take charge of Britain's first test of an atomic device. Test will take place on Monte Bello Islands, off the coast of Australia, where an atomic test station is being set up.

"BUCKS" CONTINUE PILING UP—Bank accounts continue to grow according to reports from the Federal Reserve Board. Above Newschart shows bank deposits, both saving and checking, since 1945. Checking account deposits mounted to over $107 billion while saving account deposits were over $60 billion halfway through the second quarter of 1952.

A powderkeg nestled among softly-rolling hills is the UN prisoner camp on Koje Island, off South Korea's southeast coast. In the compounds pictured above are imprisoned 70,000 Red soldiers and civilian internees who have asked that they be returned to the Reds. The compounds' inmates are ruled by their own popularly-elected leaders, who are, in turn, responsible to . . .

CANINE FILLING STATION—Gas shortage doesn't bother these boxer pups, but they do miss their dinner, and Mama is ill. Answer to the problem is this home-made "filling station," made by their mistress, Anne Minoughan, of Chicago.

Quelling further riots on Koje, where POW's have openly flouted UN authority with illegal posters like one above, will be a tough and ticklish job, warn authorities, for blood spilled in the compounds would serve as fresh ink for Red propaganda pens.

KOREA BOUND—Hundreds of sturdy, shining jeeps, completely reclaimed under an Army Ordnance program started in 1947, are shown awaiting shipment to Korea from Japan. The program, called "Operation Roll Up," has saved the United States millions of dollars. Nearly 60,000 World War II vehicles have been brought to three installations in Japan, stripped, and then rebuilt piece by piece. Combat-worn vehicles from Korea are overhauled daily.

BAHREIN ISLAND, about 10 miles wide and 27 miles long, is the largest of a group of low-lying islands in the Persian Gulf known as the Bahreins. It is located at the very hub of the giant wheel that is the oil-rich Middle East. Its history goes back to Sinbad the Sailor and Marco Polo the traveler, both of whom paid visits to the then-quiet little island. Before oil was discovered under Bahrein in 1932, the island's chief industry was pearl fishing. In six years, American capital and engineers built tiny Bahrein into the world's fourteenth biggest producer of oil. (In 1950, Bahrein produced 12,000,000 barrels of oil.) Besides output of its own wells, Bahrein refines and ships oil that comes by pipeline from nearby Saudi Arabia. Regarded as an independent state under the 170-year-old rule of the Sheikhs Al Khalifah, the Bahrein Islands have been under British protection since 1875. Iran has long claimed ownership of Bahrein, a claim which the British have consistently refused to honor—thus adding to the bitter oil dispute between those two nations.

IT SHOULDN'T HAPPEN TO A DOG—"Pop" Pomeranian, left, doesn't approve of this "family" portrait. Seems that Mama Pomeranian just couldn't take care of their three new pups, and so an old Persian friend, with two kittens, took over the job. Everyone else at the home of Viola Van Dieman in Milwaukee is pleased with the arrangement.

SINGLE SIGHT FOR TANDEM TRIP—David Ferguson, 35, and wife Patricia, 28, wave goodby to friends in New York before embarking on their second tandem trip through Europe. David is truly a back-seat driver, as the Canadian war veteran lost his sight during World War II, and Patricia must do all the sightseeing for both.

NOMINATED— Albert F. Nufer, 57, career diplomat and specialist in Latin-American affairs, has been nominated by President Truman to be U. S. Ambassador to Argentina.

. . . UN Prison Commander Brig.-Gen. Haydon Boatner. He replaced Brig.-Gen. F. T. Dodd, who had been held by POW's.

To strengthen his promise that Koje's "hysterical, neurotic prisoners" will be kept in line, Boatner ordered the crack 187th Airborne Regiment to police the camp. Above, GI's of the 187th increase the barbed wire fences around the compounds.

WHEN I QUIT

When I quit this mortal shore
And mosey round this earth no More.
Don't weep, don't sigh; don't grieve, Don't sob,
I may have struck a better job,
Don't go and buy a large bouquet,
For which you'll find it hard To pay.
Don't hang around me lookin' blue
I may be better off than you
Don't tell folks I was a saint
Or anything you know I ain't
If you Lave stuff like that to spread
Please hand it out before I'm Dead.
If you have roses bless your soul
Just pin one on my button hole,
But do it while I'm at my best,
Instead of when I'm safe at rest

HE DIDN'T SAY IT — Adm. William M. Fechteler, above, Chief of Naval Operations, states at a Washington press conference that he had no connection with an alleged "report" which had appeared in some papers, which said that he believed war was inevitable by 1960.

Give your dry, sallow-looking skin new beauty with this special fluid cleanser that restores those precious natural oils.

PINAY'S PARTY GAINS—Incomplete returns of French senatorial elections indicate that the right-wing government of premier Antoine Pinay, above, gains new strength at expense of Gen. Charles De Gaulle's Rally of the French People party. This indicates further popular support of Pinay's economic stabilization policies.

THIRD DIVISION "FAMILY" — Pfc. John W. Copland, of Durango, Colo., raises three fingers in salute to crest of the 3rd Infantry Division, to signify that he's upholding his family's tradition of service to the outfit. His father served with the division in France in World War I, his brother served in World War II, and John, who is in Korea, joined the division in October, 1951.

BAT DRIVES BEARS BATTY — Bear facts of baseball are learned by Baylor University's two Mexican black bear cubs, as they show up for spring training. Everyone on the Waco, Tex., campus is wondering what's bruin' with the three-month-old infants as they roam about on exploratory tours.

BUM, NOT "BON" VOYAGE—Glum-faced passengers, right, vanguard of more than 600 aboard the Matson Line's luxury liner "Lurline," file ashore from the ship at San Francisco, as striking crew members, left, wave and jeer at them. Vacations in Hawaii were spoiled for the passengers when sailing was cancelled as strike was called over disputed hiring of one steward.

Officers Say Riots Follow A Pattern

TOKYO — (AP) — High-level officers in the United Nations command say riots and incidents in U.N. prisoner camps were provoked by small bands of die-hard Communists acting on orders to show that the UN is mistreating POWs.

One riot, at Pusan, and one incident, on Koje Island earlier this month, occurred in prisoner hospitals.

The next move of the Reds, the officers said, undoubtedly will be to unleash violent accusations that the UN is so low and contemptible that it is even torturing patients in the hospitals.

The U. S. Eighth Army said the Pusan outbreak was touched off by a small group of agitators among hospital orderlies. One Red POW was killed and 85 were injured in the 2 1-2 hour melee.

Prisoner - inmates and prisoner-doctors in the Koje hospital went on a sit-down strike Friday. They were removed from the hospital to a separate compound Monday without incident.

"The (Pusan) riot was only part of the overall Communist plan," one United Nations officer said. He said these prisoners had not been screened.

"The Reds are carrying out this agitation in the prison compounds in South Korea, in the same way they operate on a world scale. First they attack in Korea, then Indochina, then somewhere else. It all follows the same pattern."

He asked not to be named because the statement was his opinion and identifying him would put an official stamp on the story.

Another high officer who is close to the prisoner problem had the same views:

"It looks as if there is a plan to embarrass and frustrate us.

"In addition thew are providing themselves with a lot of manufractured incidents fro propaganda purposes."

Gen. Mark Clark, UN commander, has increased the guard detail by more than 5,000 men, but there are 170,000 prisoners.

According to the screening report, only 70,000 of these are admitted Communists.

But there has long been a suspicion within the U.N. command that some Communist soldiers in Korea surrendered under instructions.

The instructions were believed to have included orders to agitate within the prison camps.

It would not be difficult for a prisoner to profess hatred for communism, then turn agitator once he was put in a compound of anti-communists.

One thing is certain. The hard-core Communists inside the camps have outside contact.

It may be radio, an underground chain which includes a few small boats or even fifth column among Korean guards.

But the prisoners have been too well-informed on what was happening at the armistice talks and what was taking place along the battle-front not to have outside contact.

In addition to stopping the riots, Clark's prison camp commanders are going to have to destroy all contact the prisoners have with the Communist world.

"No, Alice isn't home! This is her honey-haired, blue-eyed, 105-pound sister talking!"

Float Test For Tomatoes

KINGSVILLE — (AP) — Texas A&I College researchers say tomatoes may have to pass a new test before a marketing—how well they float.

Tomato growers in the Southwest want a uniform product that can be shipped to distant markets. This calls for carefuly "maturity grading" — now done during harvest by hand labor and mostly based on the size of the fruit.

Leo Bailey, assistant professor of agriculture at the Kingsville school, said his research indicates a more accurate and less expensive tesnt is how well they float. Mature tomatoes, he said, have a higher specific gravity — are less likely to float.

"If gravit ygrading should prove efficient," Bailey reported, "tomato shippers can set up a continuous series of vats in the packing shed, each vat containing a liquid with a different specific gravity.

"As the tomatoes are passed from one vat to another, the floating fruit in each vat can be removed. The fruit can be run through a sizing device."

ripeness as well as by size.

Thus tomatoes can be graded by

"As high as 30 percent of the tomatoes that go to market are immature and never become edible even though they may turn red," the A&I professor found. "A practical gravity-sorting method would eliminate the wasted time and labor costs in handling these."

Pedestrian Plan Is Approved

DENVER — (AP) — Four of five citizens favor the new "walk-in-any-direction" traffic lights, a newspaper survey shows.

Under the system pedestrians can walk in any direction after motorists have had a turn at each cross street. The plan is confined to downtown Denver.

Pre-Built House Industry Protests Hwy. Dept. Ruling

By The Associated Press

The State Highway Department crackdown on movement of pre-built houses over Texas highways has a relatively new industry up in arms.

Beginning June 1 factory-built houses more than 20 feet wide will not be allowed on state highways. The Highway Department says they are a traffic hazard.

Lubbock firms making the pre-built houses say it has "knocked the props from under" their business. San Angelo companies say it will break up their million-dollar annual business. Amarillo joins in the protest.

The new industry seems to be concentrated in those cities. The houses are completely assembled in factories. Most buyers are farmers or small-town people.

"You can't build a good house in the country without paying portal - to - portal pay for workmen," says M. J. Thorn, manager of Universal Homes, Inc., of Amarillo, builder of 121 factory - built houses in the past six months. "Factory - built houses are the first real progress in biulding industry in 100 years."

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer announced the new rule May 7 as a "policy decision." In effect, he rejected an appeal made by representatives of house manufacturers at a public hearing of the Highway Commission April 29. Industry representatives will speak up again at the commission's regular hearing in Austin next Wednesday.

The ruling applies also to storage tanks, which has oil industry representatives protesting.

"Any house 20 feet wide or less isn't worth a damn," one Lubbock manufacturer observed. Lubbock firms say the pre-built house industry there has grown into a $3,500,000 annual business employing about 500 people.

Lubbock manufacturers charge the ruling was issued after pressure was applied by large lumber companies which do not make the pre-built houses. Most Lubbock firms making the houses are small lumber companies.

"Naturally the big lumber companies want to see us go out of business," said an official of the P & P Lumber Company of Lubbock. "They can get $2,500 more for building a house on location than we ask for biulding a house in our plant and moving it to location. I saved one farmer $3,400. We sold him a house for $9,500 and moved it 70 miles to his farm. The contractors wanted $12,900 for making the same - sized house on location."

One of San Angelo's big builders, James Hill, has been making three at a time in a hangar at Mathis Field, now the city's municipal airport. At a meeting of the San Angelo Home Builders Asociation last week, Hill said:

"This ruling will break up a million dollar a year business for San Angelo. Twenty builders here are turning out three hundred houses a year now. I've been building twenty a month. It'll be two next month."

Prices for the San Angelo-built houses range from $1,500 to $4,800, delivered on site. Many were for oil field camp housing.

Amarillo has seven firms dealing in pre-built houses. Largest is Thorn's Universal Homes, Inc. which employs 139 workers in an assembly - line operation which turns out a house every six hours.

Thorn said not more than 15 percent of his houses move on highways — that most are moved on primary or secondary roads. Most of his houses are 24 to 26 feet wide.

After June 1, the Highway Department will require special permits for movement of factory-built houses and storage tanks on the highway — but will issue no permits to those more than 20 feet wide. Nor will permits be issued for moving such houses or tanks more than 100 miles.

State Engineer Greer said, in making his May 7 announcement, that "The transportation of these houses and tanks over Texas highways has grown to such an extent that those regulations are necessary for the convenience and safety of Texas motorists."

Man Named Smith Gets New Handle

POMONA, Calif. — (AP) — Dorothy Jane Warwick got her maiden name back today all because her husband likes hers better than his own.

Michael Burr Smith went to Superior court to win the right to be known as Michael Smith Warwick. He said there are so many Smiths around that he was tired of getting other people's bills, correspondence and phone calls.

His wife agreed. Now her name is the same as before they were merried. Their son, Paul Warwick Smith, 14, becomes Paul Smith Warwick.

Smith who was, that is—says his feeling isn't general in the family, however. He told reporters about his sister, Stella, of Seattle. She married George William Smith. He died several years ago. When she remarried, it was to Robert E. Smith.

THEY'LL OPEN DEMS' CONVENTION — The Democratic Executive Committee has chosen Massachusetts' Gov. Paul A. Dever, left, to deliver the keynote address at the opening of the party's national nominating convention, to be held in Chicago beginning July 21. Rep. Sam Rayburn, of Texas, speaker of the House, right, will be permanent chairman of the convention, the same role he filled in 1948.

AEC Postpones Atom Bomb Test

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — (AP) — There will be no atom bomb test today. The Atomic Energy Commission indicated weather conditions were unfavorable and announced the postponement last night. It was the third time the test had been called off since it was originally scheduled for last Thursday. No new date was set.

The 701st Armored Infantry Battalion Combat Team, 1,000 strong, from Fort Hood, Tex., will move into the test site today to participate in the current series of maneuvers.

Says Reds Taking Homes In Germany

BERLIN — (AP) — The American high commission newspaper Neue Zeitung has reported that residents of several East German border villages have been ordered to vacate their homes o provide quarters for Communist People's Police.

The German language newspaper did not say where it got its report. West Berlin police said they had not heard of the order.

Neue Zeitung said the vacate orders had gone to western border villagers in Thuringia, Saxony and Sazon-Anhalt with the word that they must "make sacrifices in the interests of defense."

Women Migrating To England

AUCKLAND, New Zealand — (AP) — Young New Zealand women are embarking on an unprecented immigration to Britain.

Shipping officials say girls in their 20s and early 30s are forming the largest group of passengers in outgoing liners.

Many of the cheaper cabins are shared by groups of young women bound for working holidays in Britain. For the most part they are working girls of good education who have saved for years for this opportunity of seeing something of the world.
