City Charter Election Set For Sept. 18

An election has been ordered for Sept. 18 to put before the voters of the city the question whether a new city charter shall be framed for Snyder.

At the same time, names of 15 proposed members of the charter commission will be presented to the voters.

This election was set Monday night by the city council, in response to a petition presented last May 22.

TWO PROPOSITIONS

Voters will first vote yes or no on the proposition, "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter?"

Whether they vote in the affirmative or negative, they shall then vote on 15 members to serve on the commission, in case a majority of the voters state their preference that a commission shall form a new charter.

A list of possible charter commissioners will be presented, drawn up by the city council. However, beside each name, there will be on the ballot a blank for those who wish to substitute another name.

The 15 names which will appear on the ballot as possible charter commissioners follow:

Renal Rosson, Dr. D. R. Ratliff, W. H. Cargile, George Frazier, Herman Doak, Wayne Boren, G. B. Clark, Jr., John Sentell, Joe Graham, Harry Holbrook, Russell Yorgeson, Jim Mixon, Harry Reed, D. C. Drinkard, and Malven Stevenson.

If the majority of the qualified voters approve the formation of a city charter, then the charter commission elected in the same election shall proceed with the work of drawing up the new charter.

LONG JOB

Such an undertaking usually is a lengthy one, and in the case of Colorado City lasted 10 months. Numerous other city charters would be studied as models before an attempt was made to frame one specifically for Snyder's needs.

Mayor Sears recommended to the council the 15 proposed names for the charter commission, saying that in the group represented a wide variety of business and professional interests and that it contained lawyers of proven ability who could assure the city a charter that stood on solid legal ground and was in harmony with the law of the state and nation.

He also stated that he had contacted each proposed charter commissioner, and that all had agreed to serve.

Following the completion of the charter, it will have to be published and copies sent to each qualified voter before a second election is called to determine whether the finished charter is acceptable to the citizens.

PRESENT SYSTEM

The city at present operates under general law. Under the state constitutional amendment of 1913, a city of more than 5,000 may write its own home rule charter. Under such a charter, three forms of municipal government are possible—council - manager, mayor - council, and city commission.

Under a home rule charter, cities have many powers which are not granted under general laws—they may annex territory with greater ease and latitutde, may pass laws governing health and sanitation covering areas outside their limits, and zone a city for building.

Out of 102 Texas cities eligible have not adopted new charters. for home rule charters, only 20

The presentation of the petition asking for the city charter election was sponsored by the civic improvement committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

2 Kent Wells To Deepen To Ellenburger

Chapman & McFarlin Producing Co. has filed application for a permit to deepen two prospectors in Southwest Kent County.

They are to be drilled to a possible bottom of 8,500 feet to test for production in the Ellenburger. They were originally slated to drill to 7,000 feet to test for Canyon reef production in the extreme north edge of the Cogdell multipay field.

The wells to be deepened are the No. 49 and No. 51 D. M. Cogdell.

The No. 49 is 2,104 feet from north and 560 feet from east lines of section 33-97-H&TC and about 22 miles northeast of Snyder. The No. 51 is 1,783 feet from north and 2,159 feet from east lines of section 46-97-H&TC.

TO ELLENBURGER

The Texas Co. No. 178 P. L. Fuller, Canyon reef failure on the southeast side of the Cogdell field of Scurry County, is to be deepended to 7,980 feet to seek Ellenburger pay unless flowing production is found at a lesser depth. It is now drilling below 7,642 feet in the Strawn C. zone.

A drillstem test in that zone from 7,211-7,223 feet recovered 200 feet of free oil and 100 feet of oil and gas cut mud. With the tool open three hours, gas surfaced in 42 minutes and flowed for the remainder of the test. No fluid surfaced.

The No. 178-Fuller is 1,989 feet from south and 1,987 feet from west line of section 650-97-H&TC and 16 miles northeast of Snyder.

GARZA COUNTY

Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 1 Jeff Justice, Jr., Southeast Garza County exploration, is running electrical surveys after recovering salt water on a drillstem test.

The test was run from 7,471-7,513 feet in the Strawn lime. Tool was open one hour. Recovery was 6,800 feet of salt water with 400 feet of slightly oil and gas cut mud.

The No. 1 Justice is a south offset to the Strawn lime discovery in the Tobe pool and south of Justiceburg in section 18-6-H&TC.

Another Delay in New Bracero Agreement

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 8. (AP) — Ratification of the new United States-Mexico migrant labor (bracero) agreement, due today, has been postponed until "Friday or Saturday."

The United States has already approved the new agreement, reached last week, and is ready to ratify at any time. The Mexican Foreign Office, however, asked for more time for their legal experts to complete the study of the text.

The delay means that no Mexican harvest workers will be able to go to United States fields before the end of next week, at the earliest, unless Mexico should agree to provisional contracting. This would permit the workers to be selected and sent to the border to await actual ratification of the agreement before they enter the United States.

Ranch House Motel Gutted In Night Fire

One of two fires during the night resulted in almost total destruction of the Ranch House Motel, a 14-unit rooming house at 1309 Avenue S.

The blaze, which was reported at 1:15 o'clock this morning, consumed three - fourths of the roof and gutted 10 rooms, seven on the ground floor and three upstairs. No one was injured.

Ivan Gatlin, fire marshal and superintendent of the fire department, said the incident apparently resulted from electrical wiring in the northeast part of the frame building.

The building was owned by J. C. Umphress, who occupied a part of it. Umphress told Gatlin the building was insured. He said he was returning from a trip to Odessa when the fire occurred, arriving shortly after it was extinguished.

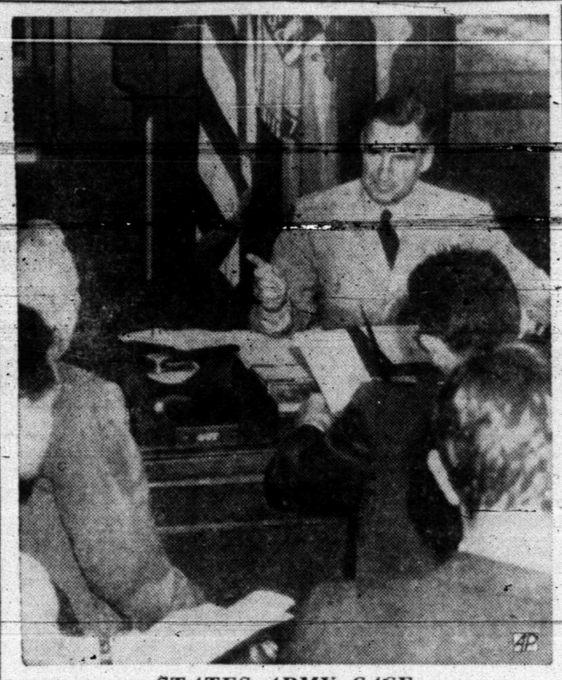

Two engines were used in fighting the blaze.

Another fire occurred about nine o'clock last night at Riley Cafe in the 2400 block of Avenue S, but damage was slight.

Gatlin said the fire was caused by a cigarette being dropped in sawdust on the floor. One truck was sent to the fire.

Expansion Promised

PARIS, Aug. 8. (AP) — Rene Pleven promised today that if he is premier he will give France a big economic expansion program.

STATES ARMY CASE

Maj. Gen. Frederick A. Irving, superintendent of the U. S. Military Academy, gestures as he addresses newsmen in his office in West Point, N. Y. Irving told interviewers that any of the 90 accused cadets who admit classroom cheating will be given a chance to resign with a clean record. The news conference was the first held by the general since the scandal, biggest in academy history, broke last Friday.

Ray Keenan Is Sworn In as Chief of Police

Ray Jerome Keenan, 51 years old, was sworn in as chief of police yesterday afternoon, replacing Leonard White, who had been acting chief since the council dismissed Chester Bairrington nine days ago.

Keenan, born in Ohio, attended both high school and college in Tucson, Ariz. Until recently a construction contractor, he built the Pal-O-Mar Cortel and was a partner in its ownership with Weldon Johnson and George Rhodes until it was sold in January, 1950, to Eugene Harper.

CONTRACTS

He also had the construction contracts for the Boren Building and the West Texas State Bank and the annex to the city hall.

Keenan's police experience includes four years as a deputy sheriff in Ward County and 10 years on the El Paso police department.

He has been living in Monahans, where he operated a drug store and the Keenan Construction Co.

Keenan was appointed to the position in Monday night's council meeting, contingent upon his arrival here yesterday to accept the chief of police post.

In filling the vacancy left by Bairrington's dismissal, the council considered several applications. Finally a secret ballot was taken on Leonard White and Keenan. Keenan got three votes and White two. Then the council made Keenan's appointment unanimous in open vote.

MOTION MADE

The motion to hire Keenan was made by Claud Lloyd and seconded by Jack Contella. Lloyd's motion was that Keenan be hired as chief of police on a 30-day trial basis.

Seven patrolmen resigned as a result of Bairrington's dismissal July 30, but some withdrew their resignations, others were hired, and now the staff is 13 men including the chief of police, or two men short of the total force before the resignations.

Keenan, who is married but has no children, said he would move to Snyder just as soon as he could find a place to live here.

Much of his construction company's business has been here in Snyder, and he has spent about 18 of the last 24 months here, he said.

"We need the cooperation of all law abiding citizens to make our work successful, and in turn we will give them our cooperation," he said.

"We want to cooperate with other law enforcement agencies in any way possible for better overall law enforcement," he added.

Man Is Charged With Theft from Safe Of Cash Food Market

Charges of burglarizing the safe of the Sunbeam Cash Food Market, 1101 Twenty - fifth Street, on July 30, of about $4,000 which included about $700 in cash and the rest in checks, were filed against Billy Jack Bennett, 23, in the court of W. C. Davidson, justice of the peace, yesterday by Lloyd Merritt, sheriff.

Bennett was apprehended by O. O. Dever, deputy sheriff, who turned the prisoner over to Vernie Head, chief deputy sheriff, who, with J. L. Rogers, Merritt, and the police, were investigating the robbery.

Deputy Head said he was going to San Angelo today to take charge of about $200 deposited in a bank there by Bennett.

Sheriff Merrkt said the arrest followed information on a certain car seen in the vicinity of the store just prior to the theft.

The current grand jury, which went into session last Monday, is slated to probe the case.

Coach Admits 'Some' Players Are Recruited

WEST POINT, N. Y., Aug. 8. (AP)—Head football coach Earl H. Blaik said today that West Point yearly recruits a percentage of its football team from the nations high schools.

"If we did not do that," he said, "we would be unable to have any athletics in West Point able to play a normal schedule."

Blaik's statement came in the midst of a controversy over dismissal of 90 cadets, including most of the football squad, for cribbing in classroom examinations.

It followed a report quoting Duncan MacDonald, Flint, Mich., high school star, that the Academy attempted to recruit him.

Blaik denied, however, that any of the high school boys were high-pressured to enter the Academy. Many of them, he said, themselves contact West Point and ask for an opportunity to enter.

Of 24 boys given such an opportunity this spring, Blaik went on, only seven of them were able to pass stiff entrance examinations, and only five of them actually entered the Academy in July.

The Chicago Tribune had quoted MacDonald as saying he had a six-week, expense-paid vacation at the Academy this summer and that he and 22 other potential players had informal talks with Blaik.

Blaik said in his statement:

"Young Mr. MacDonald has informed my office that remarks made by him were garbled to such an extent as to give an entirely erroneous impression.

"The facts in the case are these. Some months ago I received a letter from Duncan stating his interest in entering West Point. Upon investigation I found that he was a very high type of boy who was outstanding as an athlete and a leader in his school.

"In order for high school boys such as Duncan to have a fair chance of passing the Academy's stiff entrance examination it is necessary for them to take at least a short cram course prior to the date of the examination."

Republican Senators To Honor Wherry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)— Republican Senators are going to give a testimonial dinner Thursday night to their floor leader, Senator Wherry of Nebraska.

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, told a reporter the dinner will be in recognition of Wherry's "hard work" in keeping the minority on its toes in the Senate.

Egyptian-Russian Non Aggression Pact Urged

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 8. (AP) —The pro-government newspaper A Misri suggested today that Egypt sign a non-aggression pact with Russia as a counterplay against Britain.

Mahon Warns: Little Chance for Peace

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—A Congressional military expert told the House today "there is only a minimum hope" that the United States can avert an all-out war that might last ten years.

Opening debate on a $56 billion military appropriation bill, Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) cautioned against "complacency" and sounded his warning:

"In my judgement, there is only a minimum hope that our difficulties with Russia can and will be resolved short of war. Trends from cold to hot war, from little wars to big wars, do not have a tendency to reverse themselves short of an all-out explosion."

Mahon is chairman of an appropriations subcommittee in charge of military budgets. As such he is a recognized spokesman on military matters. His subcommittee conducted weeks of closed hearings before acting on the empenbill. During that time it quizzed top Defense Department leaders, both military and civilian.

"It is true," he said, that the United States becomes stronger "with every passing day," but the same probably is true of Russia.

"What is so foolish," he asked, "as to assume that the Communists are standing still?"

He said the world picture should be somewhat clearer this fall," which he referred to as "the time of decision."

He predicted that additional money will be needed later this year to build up the Air Force and to strengthen the Navy's air arm and, "unless there is a decided change for the better," to increase our military forces beyond the presently planned 3.5 million men.

KOREAN COSTS

Mahon in an earlier interview estimated that the Korean campaign cost the United States $5 billion during its first year — up to last June 30 — and predicted that it would cost almost that much more up to next June 30 unless conditions change.

Mahon, chairman of an appropriations subcommittee which drafted the bill, told a reporter that while his estimates were "not authentic", they were based on the best information available to Congress.

The pending bill does not include the cost of the Korean campaign for this fiscal year, an additional measure being planned to finance that.

Mahon's statement was interpreted generally as a bid to Congress not to make any major reductions in the bill because of the gravity of the international situation and the necessity of building up American defenses.

The Appropriations Committee already has cut $1,542,608,500 from the amount requested by President Truman. A Senate Appropriations Subcommittee is holding hearings on a similar bill.

No Reply Is Received To Neutrality Demand

British Negotiator Expresses Hope of Iranian Settlement

TEHRAN, Iran, Aug. 8. (AP)—Britain's chief negotiator, Richard Stokes, said today he is convinced the Iranians want to reach a settlement with Britain on oil nationalization as soon as possible.

He said the outcome depends largely on the attitude the Iranians take at today's bargaining session. Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's representative is expected to put forward his country's future intentions toward the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company in a formal statement then.

Stokes made the statement — the most optimistic one in months from a direct participant in the talks — upon his return this morning from a one-day inspection trip of the shut-down Abadan refinery.

Stokes, Lord Privy Seal in the British cabinet, said he hoped to get a broad general agreement as soon as possible so tankers can begin moving oil out of the jammed Abadan storage tanks and the refinery can be opened for business.

The refinery — largest in the world — closed down two weeks ago when its shining acres of storage tanks were filled tankers belonging to the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company refused to haul off any oil because the Iranian National Oil Company demanded receipts acknowledging its claim to the oil.

Stokes told newsmen who met him at the airport on his return from Abadan "x x there is every evidence of good will and I believe the Persians (Iranians) genuinely want a solution as soon as possible."

Investigation Of West Point Is Doubtful

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—Senate investigators have decided, for the present at least, to keep hands off the West Point cribbing case in which some 90 cadets are threatened with dismissal.

Some Senators agreed today here is little or nothing for them to investigate.

"Apparently the Army has taken very careful pains to handle the nasty situation," Senator Mundt (R-SD) told a reporter.

And Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) said:

"When I was in the Marines, if you violated an order or regulation, you took the penalty without squawking even if it was tough."

Both Mundt and McCarthy are members of the Senate's Special Investigating Subcommittee.

After an unannounced closed-door discussion of the West Point scandal, Committee Chairman Hoey (D-NC) said Tuesday the six Senators present "unanimously approved" a decision to keep hands off — at least for the present.

No committee investigators have gone to the Military Academy and none would, Hoey added after talking here with Maj. Gen. Miles Reber, liaison officer between the Army and Congress.

"Unless the cadets facing dismissal manifest or desire to have an investigation on the basis that they had not had a fair determination, we will not step in," Joey said.

He pointed out that the Senate Armed Services Committee had the first right on any such probe.

Water Storage Is Maintained

Reserve water storage in the city's standpipes has been holding up better this week, city water department employes said today. No violators of the city anti-watering ordinance have been issued courtesy tickets.

Residents in the area between Twenty - fifth Street and Thirtieth Street were allowed to water early this morning and may water from 6 to 8 o'clock this evening. Persons living south of Thirtieth Street and east of the Big Spring highway may water tomorrow from 6 to 8 in the morning and 6 to 8 in the evening.

The same schedule will apply to residents south of Thirtieth Street and west of the Big Spring highway Friday. No watering is permitted on Saturday, Sunday or Monday. Watering of trees, shrubs and flowers only is permitted.

Tension Increasing

BOLL WEEVIL HAS CHANCE

HARLINGEN, Aug. 8. (AP) — Ed (Boll Weevil) Keane needs to pick just 198 pounds today and Thursday to make good his boast he could pick a bale of cotton in a week.

The radio station disc jockey Tuesday gathered 249 pounds to bring his total through five official picking days to 1,254 pounds.

Keane bragged he could pick a bale in a week. If he does, he'll pocket some $2,000 in prizes offered by people who don't think he can.

Move Against McCarthy Is Called Politics

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP) —Senator Wherry (R-Neb) accused the Democratic National Committee today of inspiring a move to oust Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) to "take th heat" off its own chairman.

The committee called the accusation "completely untrue."

Senator Benton (D-Conn) author of the McCarthy ouster resolution, called on the Senate Rules Committee to order public hearings on his proposal.

A Senate Expenditures Investigation Subcommittee voted Tuesday to look into charges that William M. Boyle, Jr., the Democratic National chairman, had attempted to influence government loans or contracts.

Boyle has denied the charges and said after a White House conference Monday he will remain as chairman until the 1952 party Presidential nominating convention.

Chairman Hoey (D-NC) said the investigating subcommittee would send representatives to St. Louis to collect evidence if necessary. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch has charged Boyle got $8,000 in fees from a printing company which received an RFC loan.

Boyle has said he did legal work for the firm prior to his appointment as party chairman. He denied he exercised any influence in connection with a loan.

Wherry, the Republican floor leader, told a reporter he is convinced the Benton resolution against McCarthy is "entirely inspired by the Democratic National Committee."

Charles Van Devander, Democratic National publicity director, called Wherry's charges "completely untrue." Van Devander said Benton notified the committee he was offering the resolution, but the committee had nothing to do with inspiring or preparing it.

Benton called for the resignation of McCarthy as a result of an election subcommittee's criticism of the Wisconsin Senator for his activities in the Maryland campaign in which Senator John Marshall Butler, Republican, defeated Democrat Millard Tydings.

Truman Asks For Flood Relief of $21 Million

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—President Truman today asked the senate to vote a special $21,800,000 fund for flood control works in the midwest. He also asked that it over-turn house action which cut regular flood control appropriations by 20 per cent.

In a letter to chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) of the Senate Appropriations Committee, Mr. Truman said the House cut was "false economy."

UN Delegates Are Ready To Resume Talks

TOKYO Aug. 8. (AP)—Red radios remained silent tonight on the United Nations demand for fresh garantees of neutrality at the site of Korean armistice talks.

Allied negotiators returned to Korea during the day, ready to resume cease-fire talks if and when Communist commanders pledge the Kaesong neutral zone will be kept inviolable.

But neither the Peiping nor Pyongyang radios mentioned tonight the new demand of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U. N. commander, first broadcast at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday (9:30 p.m. Monday CST).

Instead — 32 hours later — the Chinese Red radio at Peiping featured a report the Red commanders still were waiting for Ridgway's reply to a Communist message dispatched Monday morning.

The Peiping broadcast said the letter, entrusted to an American liaison officer, contained assurances from North Korean Gen. Kim Il Sung and Gen. Peng Teh-huai that the Kaesong neutrallty pledge would be observed.

This apparently was the Red message which Ridgway acknowledged Tuesday in his demand for a new Red pledge they would really keep their word.

The monitoring agency in Tokyo said the Red radio broadcast the story in English, Chinese and Japanese. It was featured as a top news item, said to have been written by a Red correspondent at Kaesong.

The Peiping broadcasts said the Chinese and North Korean cease-fire delegation waited at Kaesong Tuesday for the U. N. negotiators, "but the latter failed to arrive."

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy led the four American delegates back to the United Nations advance headquarters from top secret conferences with the U. N. commander in Tokyo. On his arrival in Korea, Joy said:

"I have no idea when the talks will be resumed. I will wait until the Communists answer General Ridgway's last message."

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, delegation spokesman, said the order to resume the interrupted negotiations would have to come from General Ridgway, even if Red leaders accept his terms.

The U. N. commander broke off talks after a company of armed Reds marched through the neutral zone. Top Red commanders said it was an accident.

In his Tuesday message Ridgway demanded that the Communists promise not to allow any more of their armed soldiers to enter the neutral area. This zone extends in a five-mile radius from the Kaesong site of armistice negotiations.

AMERICANS ACCUSED

Up to the time U. N. negotiators returned to their advance camp, the Red radios in Peiping and Pyongyang had not mentioned the Ridgway message.

Instead, they accused American troops of violating the neutral zone.

Nuckols said North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate, had made such a chage in armistice negotiations. Nuckols said liaison officers discussed the charge and it was subsequently investigated.

He said he did not know the result of the investigation.

Red radios accused U. N. troops of violating the neutral zone July 16 by attacks on Panmuchon, which they said was in the neutrality area. Allied maps show the town is six miles east of Kaesong, outside the zone.

Crop-Scorching Heat Wave Is Here to Stay Until Friday

The temperature in Snyder dropped to a mere 104 degrees yesterday, but the three - degree slump from Monday's high wasn't much help to heat - weary residents. The minimum recorded unofficially by Santa Fe at 3 o'clock this morning was 78 degrees.

By The Associated Press

The Texas heat wave held on today. It is expected to last at least through Friday.

The long series of torrid days and hot nights was pulling moisture out of the soil and hurting crops.

It was also depleting some reservoirs supplying big cities or overtaxing distribution systems to the critical point.

The death in Wichita Falls today of Richard Parker, 47, a Negro, raised to 13 a tentative count of Texas heat fatalities during the current heat wave. There were six deaths in Dallas, four in Houston and one each in Sherman and Austin.

With some areas still to be heard from, the weather bureau said Presidio's 109 was the highest Texas reading Tuesday. This would be considerably under the 116 recorded at Henrietta in North Texas Monday.

But 100-plus readings were recorded in almost all Texas Tuesday, and today readings climbed fast again.

RANGES BURNING

Rangeland also was burning in the Panhandle, where a record acreage of row crops was badly in need of rain. The Amarillo Globe News said "it's a case of nearly everything burning up and nothing wrong that a good rain wouldn't cure."

Only irrigated fields looked good in a West Texas survey by the San Angelo Standard Times. A gloomy outlook was reported in Scurry, Sterling, Taylor, Mitchell, and Concho counties.

Dallas reported its 12th heat fatality. During the current heat wave, Houston has had three heat deaths and six more persons there were hospitalized.

Dallas City officials declared a water emergency and asked an end to sprinkling of lawns and water wastage. Police cars patrolled residential neighborhoods to stop lawn watering.

Fort Worth residents were asked to stop night watering of lawns to allow water reservoirs to refill.

Central Texas farms appeared hard hit. McLennan County expects its shortest cotton crop since 1925.

Harris County, on the coast, reported great losses in pasture lands. Rangeland burned badly in the Panhandle section.

At a terrace re-building demonstration near Marshall in East Texas it was found there was no moisture in the ground to a depth of 12 inches.

At Electra, in North Central Texas where temperatures have been the highest, farmers said the extreme heat helped kill cotton insects — but the plants suffered, also.

In Tom Green County of West Texas the cotton crop loss was estimated as high as six million dollars. The situation was the same in Scurry County.

WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Generally fair and continued high temperatures tonight and Thursday except widely scattered thundershowers in the Panhandle.

EAST TEXAS: Partly cloudy and continued high temperatures tonight and Thursday.

Few Clues to Trace Explosion Killers

DALLAS, Aug. 8. (AP) — Gambler Herbert Noble, who cheated death 11 times, died in a thunderous explosion yesterday. On a 12th attempt "The Cat" ran out of luck.

The silver-haired, self-styled retired gambler was killed as he stopped his car at a rural mail box near his ranch.

The killer, or killers — hid in a scrub oak thicket some 75 yards away, then touched off a devilishly-hidden land mine.

The blast underneath Noble's automobile left it a crumbled wreckage and scattered bits of the 42-year-old gambler's body over a wide area.

At least 12 times Noble had escaped death, but not injury, and this earned him the nickname "The Cat".

He blamed "hired killers" for the attempts and said there was an underworld price of $50,000 on his head.

The Kefauver Crime Committee heard his experiences from a Dallas police officer this year and Noble told a Texas legislative crime investigating committee of gambling — and gambling feuds — in Dallas.

There were few clues for police to follow. One was a mysterious blue pickup truck seen on the dusty country road leading to his ranch near Lewisville, 10 miles northwest of Dallas.

Police also sought three men in Fort Worth. One was once arrested for assault to murder Noble. He was never tried.

The blast was carefully planned. It came about 11:45 a.m. (CST), but the result wasn't discovered until J. G. Cunningham drove down to get his mail.

Wires ran from the hidden mine, through a concrete culvert, and to the thicket where the killer hid. The explosive was hidden in a spot that was directly under Noble's automobile when it stopped at the mail box.

It was at least the fourth attempt to kill Noble by explosion. The first killed his wife by mistake. That was late in 1949 and was followed by a period of gangland violence in Dallas.

The gambler survived a series of shootings — one as he lay in a hospital room recuperating from another gunshot wound.

Pale and shaken after his wife's death, Noble bitterly said he hadn't "done anything" to deserve the attacks. He hinted to news men behind them and threatened to "take the law into his own hands."

LOIS GREEN SLAIN

In the weeks following his wife's death, Noble was questioned about the death of Lois Green, Dallas underworld leader who was ambushed as he left a Christmas Eve party.

Green had been questioned in the death of Noble's wife.

During the period he dodged for his life, his name and that of Benny Binion, Nevada gambler and former Dallas resident, were linked. Binion, in Nevada, is under indictment in a million-dollar-a year policy racket case returned by the Dallas County grand jury. Binion has successfully fought efforts to extradite him to Texas for trial.

Lately there had been no attempts.

"They'll never quit," he told a friend. "They're laying low now. They'll make one big effort one of these days."

The big effort apparently came Tuesday.

An actress protegee of Max Reinhardt, Nancy was forced to abandon her career when she was stricken with endocarditis and told that she had only three months to live. They were married at her bedside and, as Nancy says, "as a gesture of defiance, I stood up for the ceremony, with doctors standing by and shaking their heads." Proud parents of a small daughter, Johanna—born while "This and No More" was being written—the Freedmans' joint interests also include painting, mathematics, music, and a love for wild places, mountains, and water.

"THIS AND NO MORE"

Is the story of fifteen years in the life of Lucien Sadler, of how he struggled, what he lost, and what he won. It is the story, too, of the many different people who helped or hindered him in his hard-won endeavor to accept life and love on their own terms; of Carol, willful, shallow, and pitiful, who gave Lucien his first glimpses of romance but who became at last a weight around his neck. Of Ruth, his sister, who lived closer to the edge of hysteria than anyone knew, and whose need for love and for a child drove her to desperate lengths. Of Arle, a charming villian, who murdered and stole, and who helped Lucien for reasons he little suspected. Of the spastic, Gerald, who married Ruth.

And of the lovely Fredda, whom Lucien married and who knew better than anyone the necessity for living and gathering to oneself as much of life as it is possible to hold.

In 1915 when he was twelve years old, Lucien Sadler heard the words which were to color and give meaning to the rest of his life: "Everything that's alive stays alive by fighting," his father told him in a desperate attempt to give him the courage and the will to go on living. "You go on struggling all your life, you always lose the struggle, but you win something."

To give our readers a glimpse of the woman Lucien married, the following is a minute character study of Fredda—taken from the book: Fredda walked around the apartment; she set things straight; she put a book back in the bookcase; she threw out the daily paper; she gathered her pen and pencils together and shoved them into the desk. She didn't want to love Lucien. She didn't want to love anyone but particularly not Lucien. Love trapped you, finished you, turned you into a wife and mother, sapped the individuality out of you, damped the fire, forced you into a mold. You gave up your life, devoted it to your husband, your child. Then when they left, one or both—and they would leave in some degree, to some extent, that depended on how lucky you were — but when they did, what did you have? She knew how it worked; she'd seen it happen.

"This and No More," full of the stuff of living, of compassion, and understanding, is indeed a novel with a magnificent theme—that of life itself, in all its perplexities, compromises—and fleeting joys.

Benedict and Nancy Freedman have fulfilled in every way the bright promise of "Mrs. Mike," and have now written a rich and gripping novel of undeniable stature—with the human touch.

School Name Suggestions Are Discussed

The school board last night considered two lists of prospective names for Snyder schools presented by the Parent - Teachers Association but tabled the matter until the regular board meeting next Tuesday night.

The P-T-A lists did not suggest a name for the new high school. One list proposed naming the schools for local persons, the other suggested naming them for living persons of renown.

The local name suggestions were new southwest elementray school, Darby; northwest elementary, Falls; central elementary (at the present high school campus), Stanfield; new east elementray, Stinson; primary (on Twenty - eighth Street and Avenue K), Towle. No name was suggested for the junior high school.

The other suggestions were: southwest elementary, Jonathan Wainwright; northwest elementray, Sam Rayburn; central elementray, Dwight Eisenhower; east elementary, John Garner; primary, George Mahon.

The board voted to allow the Negro school officials to name their school as they pleased. The trustees authorized M. E. Stanfield, superintendent of all Snyder schools, to learn what name was to be given the Negro school and to order the name placed on the plaque to be fixed to the new building.

A letter from C. T. McLaughlin, James Rosser, Edgar Taylor, and Edward H. Harte was also read, asking the board to name the new high school Stinson High School in honor of Joe Stinson and Lee Stinson.

The letter stated that both the brothers had for years been active in civic affairs and both had held positions with the school board. Lee Stinson now president of the board, because of illness had retired from the meeting a few minutes before the letter was read. The letter was also tabled until the next meeting.

School Budget Hearing Set Next Tuesday

The tentative budget of the school system for the next term was discussed last night by the board of trustees in view of the public hearing on the budget called for next Tuesday night.

As outlined tentatively, the budget shows need of approximately $111,000 more than receipts, including the present deficit of about $75,000. No action was taken other than approving the time of the hearing next Tuesday night, when the budget will be amended to conform with receipts.

The board voted to set aside a greater portion of the system's tax collections for retirement on bonds. The amount heretofore placed in the interest and sinking fund for this purpose was 25 cents of each dollar collected, but this allocation was altered to place 45 cents in the fund. This does not affect the amount collected, however.

The trustees also voted to allow Bell's Flower Shop to stop planting trees and shrubs on school compuses. The firm has been planting in accordance with a contract between it and the board. Roland Bell, of the nursery, requested the board allow the cessation because of the watering restrictions. No definite time was slated.

Big Shots On Ball Czar List

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (AP) —Four top-ranking generals head the list of 11 mystery candidates still under the club owners' consideration for the $65,000-per-year job as commissioner of baseball, the Associated Press learned today.

High on the list of candidates, although not necessarily available, are Generals Dwight D. Eisenhower, Douglas A. MacArthur, Maxwell D. Taylor and Hoyt S. Vandenberg.

Ford Frick, president of the National League, and Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds, are the only baseball men still on the pared down list—from 40 to 11.

The other five candidates are important industrialists whose identities cannot be divulged at present. Not one is in politics.

James A. Farley and George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, rated among the "big five" in the fore of the speculation, were among the 29 eliminated at Tuesday's day-long meeting of the 16 big league executives at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson and FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover "regretfully" declined to have their names placed for nomination.

AS TRAIN HITS AUTOMOBILE

Here's what happened after a swift-running Missouri Pacific streamliner "Texas Ea gle" collided with an automobile in Malvern, Ark. At least 13 persons were hurt. Prosecutor J. W. McCoy said the motorist drove the car down the tracks after mistaking them for a roadway. Seven cars of the 15 car train, bound for San Antonio, were derailed, but only the engine overturned. The car was unoccupied.

Europe Described as Falling Apart Despite American Aid

BY DOROTHY THOMPSON

While we marshal the military strength of the United States and attempt to build that of Europe to resist a possible armed attack by the Soviet Union and - or its satellites, social, economic and moral disintegration continue in Europe, enhanced by rearmament, and constitute a greater immediate menace than Soviet armed aggression.

• • •

Nothing approaching the Pan-European economic and military unification and integration advocated by the United States and stressed in early July by General Eisenhower in London is actually occurring. Though all governments give lip service to the European idea, each is harassed by its own internal problems, none has sufficiently strong popular support or inner cohesion to encourage it to pursue a daring program, and none is willing, or even able, to make the national sacrifices necessary to achieve what, in American eyes, is essential for the creation of a strong and largely self - sustaining Europe.

As a result, General Eisenhower's mission moves haltingly, and he himself practically predicted it would fail in his London speech, if more vigorous integration were not quickly effected.

The Schuman Plan, to cite one example, is light years from realization, foundering on resistance from all quarters. The collaboration of Germany can only be won—and indeed the plan would only work—on the basis of the fullest and most rational use of all European resources. But this, the French are unwilling to concede, for it would, in the first line, more greatly benefit Germany.

The Shuman Plan is incompatible with the continuance of the Ruhr authority, but the British refuse to approve its dissolution unless Germany delivers the amount of scrap England wants. The British economic situation has, however, so seriously deteriorated under inflated world prices, accelerated by American rearmament, that Britain must scramble for whatever she can get. The British trade deficit during the first six months of 1951 was double that of the corresponding period of 1950; there is every prospect that it will worsen during the winter; yet the war budget, under pressure from Washington, has been increased by a billion pounds.

President Truman may scoff, as he did in Detroit, at those darkseers predicting the U.S. cannot afford present and contemplated expenditures, but the symptoms show that our allies cannot afford them and that they are having serious social effects.

• • •

In Germany continued irrational economic measures and restrictions, occupation costs, and the price of maintaining 10 million refugees, menace the stability of the Bonn government and of the social order.

Occupation costs and refugees cost 12 billion marks per year from the highest taxed people in the world.

To keep a G.I. in Germany to defend her against the Russians costs over four times what it ever cost to maintain a German soldier.

The standard of living is deteriorating and could only be improved by all - out production and ration distribution to alleviate the social front. But Germany is obliged by the allies to export so much coal—the main bottleneck in the German economy—that she must import American coal for her own domestic uses!

There is no German enthusiasm for rearmament, but even if there were the question of how to finance it would be all but insoluble.

• • •

Such minor political revolts as show themselves in England, France, and Germany are neither pro-Russian nor pro-Communist. But they are definitely anti-American, and as such, symptomatic.

Re-arrangement Of Oil Shipments to Europe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP) — The oil shortage in Europe caused by the break in Iranian production is being made up out of supplies on hand in the United States and Canada.

A statement Tuesday by Bruce K. Brown, deputy Petroleum Administrator, said a number of United States oil companies are making arrangements to increase Middle East and Caribbean crude oil production by about 230,000 barrels a day.

Additionally, he said, under a pooling agreement reached since a squabble over nationalization halted shipments from Iran, about 200,000 barrels a day of Middle East crude oil which normally goes to the United States and Canada is being sent to Europe.

NON-UNION WORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (AP)—Policemen in the world's biggest city had strict orders today not to join any labor union, under threat of disciplinary action.

Police Commissioner George P. Monaghan forbade members of the police force Tuesday to join any union.

Canadians Ban Any More Trips Over Falls

TORONTO, Aug. 8. (AP)—The province of Ontario has forbidden anyone to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel.

In the wake of the death of William Hill, Jr., last Sunday while making such an attempt, Ontario's premier Leslie Frost told police to prevent any further tries.

Despite the premier's order, there was no indication whether New York interior decorator Leslie Sander had abandoned his plan to ride the 1650-foot falls in a metal barrel on Aug. 25.

Sander dropped out of sight two weeks ago after coming here to make preparations for his trip.

Loan To Spain Hiked

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—The United States has added $5.6 million to its loans to Spain. The new loan, for water power and mining development, was announced yesterday.

It brought to $36.1 million credits advanced to Spain out of $62.5 million authorized by Congress.

School Champions May Once Again Be Those Who Know Most

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—Gay in their college colors, 160,000 fans jammed in the stadium to shiver as the icy November winds find weak spots in their long woolens.

The crowd leaps up, roaring, as the rival teams trot out on the field . . . the whistle blows. The darkhaired young man standing in mid-field glances over his shoulder at his teammates.

Then, before anyone in the vast crowd can shout Shaknespeare-Shelley- and Keats, through the loudspeaker system the young man rips off a perfect sonnet.

In an instant the other sturdy-shouldered youths on the two teams are pegging verse around, made up on the spur of the moment, hardly heard above the cheering mob.

MAYBE SOME DAY

Maybe it will be that way some day, although I don't expect to live to see it, when mobs turn out to cheer on our best college poets as they do now to ship our college footballers into a frenzy.

In such a day, since it's their job to develop our children's brains and help mold their future, the teachers would be specially honored and even well-paid.

I don't go in for heavy sports myself. Nothing more strenuous than casting a ¼-ounce plug at a bass under a lily pad with a glass rod weighing three ounces.

Maybe because that's so mild I can't get it through my head why fellows want to get so sweaty playing football, particularly since they may wind up with broken teeth or a broken neck.

I never get used to the idea of millions of people all over America shivering in rain, cold or snow to see a football game.

Perhaps they do it because they like a contest or they have a sense of sharing danger, since any minute one of the football heroes may be carried off to a hospital.

TWISTED A BIT

Still, try as I may, I can't get it out of my head that things are twisted up a bit.

That's why I wondered how people could manage to be horrified when some basketball players went crooked, taking bribes. It was hardly unusual that they developdistorted values when the schools themselves distort the value of a school.

But I wondered just what difference it would make if West Point never had a national-ranking football team again.

Just class teams, instead of big teams, might put the emphasis back where it was before it got twisted out of shape: on education. If that day ever comes maybe the class poet and the honor student will get the cheers.

You can always buy muscle power.

Pass Dry Law By Mistake

BIRMINGHAM, Aug. 8. (AP)—The city commission inadvertently voted a law making Birmingham bone dry.

The commissioners Tuesday were trying to adopt a resolution which would stop the drinking of denatured alcohol, paint remover and bay rum.

Instead they padded a statute, effective Aug. 31, which the red-faced legal department too late discovered would also stop legal sales of beer and whisky.

The law enacted banned buying, selling or drinking of any intoxicating liquid used "for the purpose of drinking or for the purpose of substituting it for a beverage that will produce intoxication."

Police commissioner Eugene Connor asked for the statue. He said too many folks are drinking "jump-steady," slang name for the alcoholic beverage substitutes."

"There'll have to be an amendment," said Mayor Cooper Green. "We'll probably pass it next Tuesday."

Stephen Early Said In Critical Condition

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP) — Stephen T. Early, former White House press secretary, was reported in serious condition today following a heart attack.

Early was stricken Tuesday at his desk in the office of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Co., of which he is vice president. He was taken to the George Washington University Hospital.

Not So Hot Corner

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— Willie Jones, third baseman for the Philadelphia Phillies, had an easy day July 21. He didn't have a fielding chance in the entire game and didn't have an official time at bat. He walked three times and sacrificed once.

World War II Plants Savings To Taxpayers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said today that retention of World War II government plants and factories may have saved taxpayers more than $2 billion.

O'Mahoney is chairman of the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee holding hearings on a $60 billion military appropriations bill for operating the defense establishment during fiscal 1952.

The oldest intercollegiate athletic rivalry in the United States is the Yale - Harvard crew race. It began 99 years ago.

"Our fleet of cars are driven 25,000 to 30,000 miles a month. We find that motors lubricated with Conoco Super outwear the bodies of our cars."

NEWSPAPER DELIVERY

"I make daily trips of 250 miles and more, delivering newspapers into Nebraska," reports Paul M. Foss, Cheyenne, Wyo. "After 70,000 miles exclusively on Conoco Super, I don't even have to add oil between 1,000-mile drains."

USED CAR SALESMAN

"A real money-saver—that's Conoco Super," says W. H. Grubbs, Used Car Salesman, Fort Worth, Tex. "I was driving a 1939 car using 2 quarts every 500 miles. I changed to Conoco Super and stopped having to add oil between drains."

"50,000 Miles-No Wear!" Proved Here:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test; with proper drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000!

LOST 70 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Barcentrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour the contents into a pint bottle. Add 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. No starvation diet with Barcentrate.

Lost 70 Pounds

"I have lost a total of 70 pounds taking Barcentrate and am feeling fine," writes Mrs. J. A. McBee, Box 58, Devine, Texas.

Lost 10 Pounds

"I am very much satisfied with Barcentrate. I lost 10 pounds in 2 weeks," says Mrs. Albert Stevens, 1455 E. Van Buren, Brownsville, Texas.

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

Indians Slated For Long Stay At Home

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Indians, favorites in many quarters to end the two-year reign of the New York Yankees as American League champions, are nearing the make or break phase of the pennant race.

Following their current brief home stand, the Indians embark on a short road trip and then return home Aug. 20 for an 18-game stay that in all probability will decide their fate.

Observers believe that if the Indians can leave their home lot with a fairly comfortable lead they will be hard to overtake.

GARCIA IS STAR

Mike Garcia pitched the Indians to within a half game of the Yanks Tuesday night as he turned back the St. Louis Browns, 5-1. The Yanks were idle. In other American League games the third-place Boston Red Sox bowed 7-4, to the Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago White Sox nipped the Detroit Tigers, 2-1, in 13 innings. The Red Sox now trail by 4½ games and the White Sox by 6½.

In the National League, the Philadelphia Phillies took a two-night doubleheader from the Boston Braves, 3-1, and 1-0 in 15 innings. The Chicago Cubs downed the Cincinnati Reds, 4-1. And the St. Louis Cardinals swamped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 16-7. The New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers were rained out.

Garcia blanked the Browns on two scratch hits until the ninth when he lost his shutout. Te victory was his 15, the most he has ever won in the majors.

RED SOX SLIP

The A's came from behind to beat the Red Sox. They scored twice in the sixth to take a 5-4 lead. The A's added single runs in the eighth and ninth to clinch it. Bobby Doerr drove in all of Boston's runs with a pair of doubles.

Rookie Jim Busby singled home Red Robinson from second base with Chicago's winning run in the 13th at Detroit. Robinson homered for the other Chicago run in the second.

The Cards pounded six Piarate pitchers for 21 hits with Peanuts Lowrey leading the attack with five safeties. The Cards scored seven runs in the first inning and added five more in the third to sew it up.

Texas League Playing South

By The Associated Press

Texas League clubs opened an 11-day stand in the South Tuesday night, the last trip south for the northern clubs this season.

The Fort Worth Cats suffered the most telling blow when the last-place Shreveport Sports rose to blast them, 8-6, and thwart their bid for fourth place.

San Antonio rallied to nip Oklahoma City 5-4.

Dallas and Beaumont met in another first division battle and the Eagles came off second best. The Roughnecks nipped the Birds, 6-5, with a ninth inning run scored on a squeeze play.

The Houston Buffs, coasting along with a ten-game lead, whammed Tulsa, 5-1, to make it unanimous for the home clubs. Mike Clark hurled a seven-hitter for the Buffs while Les Fusselman paced an 11-hit Houston attack.

Ford Garrison tripled with one out in the ninth and scored on a squeeze bunt by Al Pilarcik to sink Dallas.

Bill Henry got off to a shakey start, giving Fort Worth a three-run first inning. But Shreveport got four in their half of the frame and led all the way.

Fenton Tough Luck Player

By The Associated Press

Take a ballot to choose the most unlucky player in the Big State League today and Eric Felton, Tyler pitcher, would come close to being the choice.

Felton threw a two-hitter at the Austin Pioneers Tuesday night but it was his misfortune to tangle with Rowe Wallerstein and come off second best. Austin won 1-0.

Felton didn't allow a hit after the second inning but in the first he walked a man, let him move to second on a ground out and score on a single by Lloyd Pearson.

The Temple Eagles lost ground in their battle to replace Gainesville as league leader. The Eagles lost a 10-7 decision to the Waco Pirates. Gainesville dumped Texarkana, 9-5, to increase their lead to two games.

Sherman - Denison whammed Wichita Falls, 11-1, in the other game. Roy Parker pitched the Twins to the victory.

Parker limited the Spudders to five hits and had four for five at the plate including a double, to pace the 19-hit twin attack. A seven run fifth inning disposed of Irv Tassin, starter for the Spuds and got the Twins off to a flying start.

Amarillo Gets Win With Hits

By The Associated Press

Chick Howard was a one-man gang in the West Texas-New Mexico League Tuesday night as he sparked the Amarillo Gold Sox to victory.

Howard banged out three homers and drove in nine runs as the Gold Sox blasted the Lubbock Hubbers, 14-8. Howard's one-man show left Lubbock with little chance although the Hubbers had 16 hits to 17 by the winners.

Les Mulcahy got his 27th home run for Amarillo in the game.

Rene Vega, Borger's Cuban left-hander, was another who took charge of things. Vega gave up nine hits and had three doubles in three trips to the plate as Borger trimmed Pampa 9-6.

The Albuquerque Dukes came from behind to edge Abilene, 6-4 and the Clovis Pioneers outlasted the Lamesa Lobos, 15-13.

Trotting Classic Is Called Off For Rain

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 8. (AP) — The 26th running of the Hambletonian, scheduled for today, was postponed until Thursday because of an all-night rain. Twenty-one standardbreds are entered.

Officials said they planned to work on the track throughout the day in hopes of getting it in shape for the trotting classic Thursday.

There was no rain this morning but skies were overcast and there was threat of more moisture.

OLD DEBT IS REMEMBERED

"There are still honest men in the world," commented Ed Stahl yesterday after he opened his mail.

Stahl, who operates a service station at Avenue S and Twenty-fourth Street, received a letter stating: "On July 25, I bought gas and oil at your station . . . but after leaving Snyder, I remembered that I did not pay you for three soft drinks. Enclosed is 15 cents. Thanks, —B. N. Maples."

Stahl said he did not remember the incident and was not aquainted with the customer. The postmark was not clear but appeared to have been made in Dallas, he said.

Five years ago — Tony Lazzeri, ex-star second baseman of the New York Yankees, was found dead from a heart attack in his home in San Francisco.

Ten years ago — The Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Boston Braves, 6-2, to move into first place as Whitlow Wyatt hung up his 15th victory.

Twenty years ago — Southpaw Bob Burke of the Washington Senators hurled a no-hit, no-run game against the Boston Red Sox to win 5-0.

Franks Gets 25th Victory

By The Associated Press

To Dean Franks of the Roswell Rockets probably should go the title of "the Winnin'est Pitcher in the Southwest." Franks pitched the Roswell Rockets to a victory over Big Spring Tuesday night, his 25th of the season in the Longhorn League.

Franks beat the Broncs, 6-4, with the aid of a seventh inning home run by Bill Cearley. The homer accounted for the winning run and was the second round tripper for the Rockets, the other going to Bob West in the first.

But Manny Junco, Big Spring Cuban handyman, was the big stick. Junco had four for four including a double.

Israel Ten turned on his former mates to pitch the Midland Indians to a 9-1 victory over Artesia. Ten was obtained from Artesia a month ago. He limited the Drillers to three hits in his first outing against them.

The Odessa Oilers continued to skid, dropping their seventh game in the last nine starts to the Vernon Dusters, 8-3.

The front-running San Angelo Colts whammed Sweetwater, 15-3.

Texas Rivers Critically Low

AUSTIN, Aug. 8. (AP)—Three rivers were running dry and others ciritcally low in one of Texas' worst drouths, the State Board of Water Engineers reported Tuesday.

Nueces River below Uvalde was reported dry most of July, the first time in the 24-year existence of the reporting station there.

The North Concho River at Carlsbad was practically dry the entire month.

The Colorado River above Buchanan Reservoir was practically dry during the latter part of July, the board report said.

Flow on the Guadalupe at New Bruanfels was down to 19.4 second-feet, less than 9 per cent of the normal July flow.

Little River near Cameron, a tributary of the Brazos, was recorded at 65 second feet the latter part of the month, the lowest since 1918.

Buchanan Reservoir fell from 795,000 to 691,000 acre feet.

Red Bluff Reservoir on the Pecos dropped several feet to 29,000 acre feet at month's end.

Lake Nasworthy near San Angelo was 10 feet below the spillway.

Median Reservoir at 10,000 acre-feet changed only slightly during the month. Lake Austin near Austin, on the Colorado River, gained a slight 6,000 acre-feet.

The Sabine and Neches rivers in East Texas were said low but "not seriously so." The board report pegged July flow at Evadale at 72 per cent of normal.

County's Agricultural Assets Weighed by Mobilization Unit

Cotton is the chief farm product in Scurry County, with beef rated as second, grain sorghum third, and sheep fourth, it was revealed at a meeting of the County Agricultural Mobilization Committee yesterday afternoon, according to Guy Glenn, chairman.

The meeting was called to discuss "Development of County Agricultural Resources Conservation Program" held in the PMA offices here.

COORDINATION

"This will determine policies at all levels that will result in a single over - all program," under which the conservation programs of all agencies will be coordinated during 1952," Glenn said.

There are 1,262 farms in Scurry County, which are from 4.8 acres to 23,000 acres, and of the total county acreage of 582,400, there 225,975 acres listed as cropland, with nearly 90 per cent planted in cotton in normal years, while 356,425 acres are devoted to range and pastures, the committee was told by the chairman.

In the livestock discussion it was brought out that the number of animals was unknown but that livestock was ranked next to cotton in farm production.

It was also revealed that there is no local market for wool, even though wool is being shipped into this country from Australia in great quantities. A. B. Bavousett told the committee that he has a large quantity of wool stored at the Sweetwater mart for sale, but there have not been any calls, although wool prices are near their highest level in years.

"Farm equipment is getting scarce due to the war emergency, and agriculture is not getting its share of steel," O. M. Fowler, county agent said. He pointed out that it was difficult to get any kind of farm equipment, including the four - row tractors, because such equipment is not available.

C. B. Drinkard, in charge of the Farmers Home Administration and member of the committee, said his office has $90,000 available for construction of terraces and tanks, that if not used before the end of 1951, will be put back in the government. He urges farmers to construct more terraces and tanks in order to conserve the soil and enrich their future crops.

The 1952 goal for terraces in the county has been set at 600 miles. It was pointed out that the terraces are planned and technical assistance given by the Soil Conservation Service, and that the cost of construction per terrace mile is about $105, with the PMA paying about $70 of this amount for the farmer.

WIND EROSION

It was also learned that there are a total of 105,000 crop acres in Scurry County subject to wind erosion.

"No cover crop adapted to this county has been found yet," Glenn said. The subject of legumes was discussed at length, but no definite goal was agreed upon. The committee decided, however, to use part of 25 Scurry farms as an experiment on legumes as suitable cover crops for this county.

Elsworth S. Jones, chairman of the PMA, who is also secretary of the committee, said a report from Marion Everhart, work unit conservationist, is being studied by the committee, to be incorporated into the county report to the state committee on "Agricultural Resources for Texas."

Joe Adams, member of the PMA also attended the meeting.

Corpus Down In 7-0 Game

By The Associated Press

Dick Midkiff, Brownsville pitcher, is one player the front running Corpus Christi Aces would just as soon see move up in the baseball world.

Midkiff defeated the Aces for the third straight time Tuesday night to hand them their sixth loss in the last seven games. He limited the leaders to six hits and his mates pounded out a 7-0 victory.

Texas City and Lake Charles split a twin-bill. The Lakers took the second game 6-5 after losing the opener, 5-2.

Laredo stayed on top with a 6-4 decision over Port Arthur. Harlingen bumped Galveston 4-1.

Star Of Month Named In Loop

DALLAS, Aug. 8. (AP) — Earl Hochstater, first baseman for Lubbock, was named Star of the Month in the West Texas-New Mexico league today. It was Hochstatter's second straight time to receive the honor.

He was picked on the basis of getting more votes as Star of the Day over the period.

Hochstatter will receive a plaque from League President Milton Price.

Glen Burns, Lamesa third baseman, and Red Dial, Pampa pitcher, tied for second. Frank Murray Amarillo second baseman, was next in the rankings.

The youngest Open golf champion was Horace Rawlins, who won at New Port, R. I. in 1905 at the age of 19.

64 Scheduled At Tam Match

CHICAGO, Aug. 8. (AP) — A bonanza of $12,500 for the winner has lured one of golf's greatest fields, headed by Ben Hogan, to Promoter George S. Mays so-called "world", championships starting Thursday at Tam O'Shanter.

A group of 64 pros, including all the leading money winners, aim for the game's biggest jackpot.

Second place is worth $5,000, third, $3,000 and the prize list which totals $50,000 scales down to $200 for 40th.

Playing along with the 64 pros for the "world" title will be 10 amateurs topped by Frank Stranahan. This makes a total men's field of 74.

There also is a women's "world" section with the big name pros, led by Babe Zaharias, Patty Berg, Marlene and Alice Bauer and Louise Suggs, featured in a field of 20.

The total purse is $6,100, with a $2,100 payoff to the winner. The list tapers down to $100 in cash merchandise for the last eight places.

Both men and women compete Thusday through Sunday on a 72-hold medal basis.

One fourth of a human being's nervous energy is said to be used by the eyes.

TALK OF THE TOWN

BY FRANCES BROOKS

A fan yesterday claimed that our shot of an attractive young woman by a pool created her on considerably just observing such a refreshing sight. With the hope that we can kick back the ascending mercury again today, we print another poolside snapshot.....This time it's that statuesque sister team, Miss LEAH DAVIS and Miss KAY DAVIS....From a family of nurses, Kay is 5 feet, 10½ inches tall, Leah, 5 feet, 8½, and both have the sort of figures that Fifth Avenue mannequins need to model tailored swim suits in the air-cooled dress salons....Kay, a nurse in the public schools, is specially proud of her height, smartly dresses WITH it instead of trying to play it down-....No flat heels for her—She adores high wtdgies, blithely appears in vertical stripes and gets by with it nicely...Leah prefers tailored sportswear mostly, wears her long bronze - brown hair in braids spun around her head. She is public health nurse with the City - county health unit.

From a large family in Memphis the six Davis girls in the unstable 20s were faced with working, a lot of Dad's lumber mills and farms having dropped from their usual prosperous status, and somebody said NURSING.

First, Tommie, the eldest daughter, took her courses, is now an administrative nurse in Cleveland, O.; then Leah graduated in her footsteps, preferring public health work; then Billy (now Mrs. Fred Lyter) entered nursing - she is now retired but at any time might hop back into the registered nursing field in Hartford, Conn.; Madge (Mrs. James Wright) who used her training to become a medical secretary in Oakland, Calif.; then Kay whose love of children drew her to school nursing; and Sis (the family baby), who is now on call as a private nurse in Memphis..... Talk about shortage of nurses, but don't talk about it around this family!

Records show that drouth has beset the West Texan even since he first moved his wife, children, household belongings, chicken crates, and livestock into the big, luring western prairies...During the dry spell in 1866, one deserted house in this area read, "250 miles to nearest post office; 100 miles to wood; 20 miles to water; 6 inches to hell. God bless our home! Gone to live with the wife's folks."

That drouth lasted so long, old timers still refer to events as "before the drouth" and "after the drouth" ... Newspaper editors were about the only persons who could retain their sense of humor, as a mass exodus began for the east, those farmers leaving if they had the necessary funds to move.

• • •

One county weekly observed, "The weather has been so dry here for the past three weeks that the wells are empty and the fish in the creeks are carrying toadstools for parasols to keep the sun from burning their backs. Water is getting so scarce that the Baptists and Campbellites are beginning to favor baptism by sprinkling, and they have quit turning up their noses at Presbyterians. Potato bugs are crossing the creek like the Israelites crossed the Red Sea, and for the same purpose — in search of water. A prominent prohibitionist has ordered a case of beer from Decatur, not necessarily as a beverage, but as an evidence that he wants lather to shave himself."

By March of 1887, there was still no general rainfall, "when a wagon which had driven through a light shower drove into the streets of Abilene, with its wheels clogged with mud, everybody turned out to see the strange sight, much as if it had been an elephant loose"..... According to early lore on the Great Drouth, we haven't as yet anything to complain about, really....Then, they held mass meetings in the eastern part of Texas to send relief to their suffering western brothers.....Weatherford people bought up 10,000 bushels of wheat and re-sold it to Panhandle folks on twelve month's time..... "The Farm and Ranch Magazine" contributed one carload of mixed planting seed. The Fort Worth Gazette and Dallas News raised about $750 per county in the area hardest hit...Governor Ireland issued a Proclamation of Need..... the Union Stock Yards of Chicago immediately sent him $1,850 to be distributed to needy in the drouth area; Miss Clara Barton of the Red Cross came by train and hack to study ways to help Albany and Shackelford County and other areas ....When the rain came one wonderful day in July, 1887, at once all sorts of schemes for preventing a drouth ever - again arose.

The professional rainmaker made his advent. Some said dry weather was due to lack of vegetation and planted their land densely. Others said too much shrubbery sucked the moisture and they plowed up everything! ...only substantial good derived from the dry spell was interest in scientific dry farming. The Abilene Reporter in 1887 urged people to plant castor beans, a crop recently promoted by the government again. Irrigation suddenly appeared very attractive, and numbers of artesian wells were bored to test the underground water....Dry years have come since, none like that one. And neither will this one be that prolonged, those with faith and hope believe.

ASK MILDRED

Please mail questions to Snyder Daily News, "Ask Mildred", or phone 1809, County Home Demonstration Agent.

I have seen people wear lipstick beautifully. It seemed like their own natural coloring. That is the way I would like my own to look. Mrs. V.S.R.

According to Ralph G. Harvey, Modern Cosmeticology, "For the most natural effect it (lipstick) should be selected to tone in with the shade of the mucous membrane inside the lower lip."

What is lace made of? M.B.

"Of what is lace made? Linen because of its strength and durability is still considered the most perfect fiber for making lace. Mercerized cotton or combinations of cotton and rayon are also used. These when well made are very durable and create a lovely effect.

Please tell me how to make ice cream in my refrigerator trays. It always turns out icy. Could you give a recipe for the smooth, creamy dessert some of my friends manage? Mrs. E.

Making smooth ice cream without stirring is a bit harder to achieve than when the ice cream is made with stirring. The need to have air incorporated in the mixture may be furnished by folding in whipping cream or beaten egg whites. Try the following recipe and let us know the results:

1 cup thin cream (or canned milk)
6 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup whipping cream
1 egg yolk
2 egg whites
1 teaspoon vanilla

Scald the thin cream. Mix sugar and flour and add the scalded cream, stirring constantly. Return to the double boiler and stir slowly until mixture thickens slightly. Beat the egg yolk and add some of the heated mixture, then return to the double boiler and cook two minutes or until the mixture coats a spoon. Remove from fire and cool. Add vanilla. Beat egg whites until stiff and whip the cream. Fold the cooled custard and the whipped cream into the egg whites. Turn mixture into the refrigerator trays and chill, being sure that the regulator is turned to give as low a temperature as possible. After an hour, remove to a chilled bowl and beat with a rotary beater. Return to the tray and chill two hours. Serves four.

The feathers on my hens have been dropping out constantly and would you please suggest some treatment to stop this condition, explaining what brings it on? Some one told me it might be "feather lice." Mrs. K. L.

Your problem may be a combination of molting and parasites. If the condition is caused by parasities ("feather lice"), this may be controlled by dipping birds in a solution consisting of 3 ounces of 12 per cent Gamma Benzine Heri-Chloride in one gallon of water. Two or three treatments at two-week intervals may be necessary. This information comes from O. M. Fowler, County Agent. I might add that these small mites are also known as depluming mites and are closely related to the scaley leg mite. The intense itching caused by feeding mites could result in the fowl plucking out ots feathers.

Faith Miller Is Wed To Mr. Weston

Miss Myrl Faith Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Frank Miller of Borden County, became the bride of H. Mack Weston during a double ring ceremony Sunday afternoon in the home of the brides parents. Mr. Weston is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Weston, of Fluvanna.

Attendants were the bride's cousin, Miss Lou Miller of Snyder, maid of honor and the bridegrooms twin brother, Jack Weston, best man. Officiating in the ceremony was the Rev. M. W. Clark.

The bride wore a white Chantilly lace ballerina - length dress with a shoulder veil, and her flowers were lilies of the valley. Miss Miller wore a pale green lace dress with an old fashioned nosegay of pastel flowers. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The bride carried a white Bible and an orchid.

A reception was held in the home following the wedding.

Following the reception, the couple left for Mexico City for a two-week wedding trip. They plan to live in Bel Air Village, Snyder, where Mr. Weston is employed with the Canyon Trucking Co.

The families and a few close friends attended the wedding.

Veterans To Vote Monday On Several Plans for Clubhouse

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion posts here will vote Monday night to accept one of several plans for replacing the clubhouse lost in a fire July 29. This announcement was made Monday night by Jack Caperton, chairman of the veterans club, at a joint meeting of the two posts.

One plan was submitted to the membership for consideration, but it was decided to take no definite action until one or two other plans are considered, said, Caperton.

A caretaker's home is under construction, which is slated to be ready within a week, and is located to the rear of the burned structure. The building, which will be one - story, is 26 feet by 32 feet, and will cost about $1,500. The foundation has already been built and the walls are expected to be placed today. The building will also serve as a temporary meeting place for the veterans.

The veterans thanked the Youth Council for offering the use of its building as a temporary meeting place but refused the offer. It was pointed out by the veterans that the building was built for youth activities, and they did not want to set a precedent by being the first adult organization to use it, even though the veterans donated the site. A letter of thanks is being sent to the board of directors of the Youth Council, Caperton said.

A benefit dance to be held on Aug. 18, under the sponsorship of the V.F.W. auxiliary. The entire net proceeds will go into the new building fund, Caperton said. Tickets went on sale today at $1. The Hubbers band of Sweetwater will provide the music.

Manpower, Not Materials Are Becoming Short In Some Areas

(Some critical manpower areas are beginning to show up in the defense production program. There have been some predictions that manpower, not shortages of materials, eventually may be a major defense bottleneck. Associated Press Washington Reporters Sterling F. Green and Robert E. Geiger interviewed Arthur S. Flemming, chief of the manpower division of the Office of Defense Mobilization, on the subject. Their questions and Dr. Flemming's answers follow.)

QUESTION: Does a serious manpower shortage exist?

ANSWER: To answer that question I call attention to a statement from the quarterly report of Charles E. Wilson, director of Defense Mobilization —"There is at the present time no evidence of a general, nationwide manpower shortage."

We do, however, have some geographical areas where there are critical shortages. Examples are San Diego, Calif., Wichita, Kas., and Indianapolis, Ind.

Also we do have critical shortages in the skilled trades and in scientific technical and engineering personnel.

Q: Can you give us a good illustration?

A: The engineering profession. It's been estimated that industry, government and the field of education could have used 60,000 graduates of engineering schools this June. Actually there were 38,000 graduates.

Q. How about the future supply of engineers?

A: In the fall of 1950 only 29,000 freshmen enrolled in engineering schools, which means that in 1954 the number of graduates will be between 12,000 and 14,000. It is clear we are and will continue to be up against a serious situation.

Of course, in the medical, nursing and dental professions and in the field of physics, and in such skilled technical jobs as die making, there are shortages, too.

Q: What about the so-called "dirty clothes" jobs — the assembly line produers, the helpers of highly skilled workers and similar semi-skilled labor?

A: No shortages in these lines have specifically been called to attention except in the tool and die making industry. But undoubtedly there are some shortages in labor-shortage areas.

Q: Well, what can be done about some of the shortages you have mentioned — in engineers, in the other professions and in such trades as skilled die making?

A: First of all we should make sure that the people who have been trained are being used in jobs calling for the training they have received.

Second, we must get more people into training in the shortage areas. There should be more apprentices in the skilled trades in some instances. In the professional areas we should be persuading more women to be engineers and also to follow other studies in the field of science.

Third, we ought to become better acquainted with the aptitudes of persons already working to see if they can be given training that will enable them to perform work in the areas of critical shortages. For instance there may be people in industry, working on jobs less important, who could be trained in engineering and become qualified engineers.

Q: Is the manpower shortage now limiting defense production?

A: The manpower situation in the tool and die making industry is having the effect of limiting defense projects. In order to ease this situation we are asking the labor department to develop an intensive program of recruitment and training in this industry.

Also we are requesting delays in the induction of apprentices into the armed services. We will ask that local draft boards be alerted to the needs of the industry in order that the loss of skilled machine operators, for whom replacements are not available, will be minimized.

Also we are asking the wage stabilization board, within the limits of its authority, to decide whether wage adjustments are necessary to relieve some situations.

And we are specifying that the defense department, within its existing policies, give special consideration to the machine tool industry in calling up reserves.

Q: Assuming that the defense mobilization program continues on schedule, will there be a general manpower shortage?

A: No. But it will tighten up, especially in certain geographic areas and in certain occupations.

Q: If there should be a step-up in the armed forces, such as President Truman discussed on July 23, what would be the effect upon the manpower situation?

A: To accentuate and make more serious some problems I have discussed, in proportion to the size of the step-up.

Q: Do you agree with some production people that manpower, rather than materials, will become the limiting production bottleneck in size?

A: Yes, I think that some shortages in skilled trades and in scientific, technical and engineering fields could have the effect of limiting production.

I am convinced, however, that if we tackle the problem in a far-sighted and positive manner we can prevent this from happening.

Q: It is generally agreed that more labor per dollar of cost goes into military goods than civilian goods. In view of this, can layoffs caused by curtailed production of civilian goods provide enough manpower for the defense program?

A: I do not believe that layoffs, or transfers of men from non-defense to defense work, will provide enough workers.

Q: From what other sources do you expect additions to the labor force?

A: We estimate that this year two million persons need to be added to defense production and 2.5 million next year. A large proportion will be transferred on the job in plants as these plants shift from non-defense to defense work. Then normal growth of the labor force because of the population growth and the trend toward more women workers will of course help.

Shooting Star Season Here

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (AP) — Watch for meteors, right overhead on the five nights starting Thursday, Aug. 9 through Aug. 13. There should be about fifty per hour.

If you really want to see the celestial fireworks, go looking after midnight, August 11 and 12. The sky will be moonless then and these meteors will be at their greatest.

The meteors are the Perseids, which have been returning faithfully in mid-August for more than a thousand years. They never have missed putting on a good show.

They are dust-grain size, travelling around 40 miles a second. They burn very hot and fast as they hit the atmosphere 60 to 70 miles overhead. Their great burning heat gives them blue-white color. Many show little trains of sparks, and that makes them look like firecracker squibs. Falling hairs is a Mexican description of one famous Perseid shower.

The origin of these Perseids is unknown. They get their name from the constellation Eta Persei, the area in the sky where they appear to come from. Actually, looking any place right overhead will get them within range of your eyes.

Occasionally the Perseids have presented true showers in mid-August, a veritable rain of fire, which however never reached the earth, or anywhere close to the ground. During the August 11-12 period it is not unusual for a watcher to see 60 to 100 in an hour.

Enterprising Grocers Into Possum Business

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Aug. 8. (AP)—Roasted possum and sweet potatoes are competing with high-priced meats on dinner tables hereabouts.

A couple of enterprising Negro grocers, Sidney Harden and James Nelson, have started raising their own possums.

"They're our biggest selling meat item," says Nelson. "we sell 'em as fast as we can raise 'em."

They get about $1.50 for a plump, year-old possum weighing four or five pounds.

"Well roasted, it tastes like roast pork," Nelson says.

High School To Be Looked At By Jury

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 8. (AP)—A reported "non-virgin's club" at Treadwell High school is going to be investigated by the Shelby County grand jury.

The city board of education asked for the investigation and the grand jury agreed Tuesday to look into the charges.

Mrs. James R. Hayslip said last week that she had heard reports of such a club among some students at the school. An investigation of similar reports led school officials to conclude the talk was without foundation.

No More Air Officers To Be Called To Duty

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—The Air Force, finding itself top heavy with officers, is temporarily halting callups of officers from most of its volunteer reserves.

An Air Force statement said Tuesday night procurement of officers in recent months outpaced enlistments. Officials could not say how long the suspension will last.
