RUSK, FULBRIGHT CLASH

Policy Rift Grows

By ROBERT GRAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The conflict between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Sen. J.W. Fulbright is sharpening as Senate criticism of the administration's Vietnam policies grows.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has spearheaded that criticism for months.

While Rusk has been his urbane and unruffled self throughout most of the debate, there was a new edge to his voice and a new bite to his statements Thursday as he hit back at Senate critics—particularly Fulbright.

"That is not true," he replied when asked at a news conference about Fulbright's remark that the United States was at fault in the United Nations' inaction on Vietnam.

And, noting Fulbright's earlier support of the administration on Vietnam policy, Rusk said: "If people change their minds, it's fair to ask on which occasion they were right."

Fulbright, asserting "I believe I am right now," later resumed on the Senate floor his objections to the administration's war policies.

The Arkansas Democrat again argued that U.S. reason for being in Vietnam have not been made clear. He held there was a conflict in basic American policy.

The administration contends that defending South Vietnam from Communist aggression is necessary to prevent the loss of Southeast Asia, Fulbright said, and also sets the goal of withdrawal after self-determination for the South Vietnamese is assured.

Maintaining a defense perimeter in that country would require a permanent American presence, he said, and U.S. forces would have to stay "come hell or high water."

Referring to critics of the administration policy, Rusk said those who "place in question the credibility of the pledged word of the United States under our mutual security treaties would subject this nation to mortal danger."

Without direct reference to Rusk, Fulbright told the Senate it was wrong to argue that critics hampered the war effort.

He endorsed a speech in which Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said President Johnson was not immune, because of his office, from criticism for the conduct of the war.

Javits said he was disturbed by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen's contention earlier this week that the Chief Executive should not be subjected to severe criticism in the eyes of the world.

43 Nations Call For Bomb Halt

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly went into the final day of its policy debate today with more than a third of its members demanding a halt to U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

Although not on the agenda of the 122-nation assembly, Vietnam has dominated the debate. Prior to the closing speeches today, calls for a bombing halt came from 43 nations, most of them in Communist East Europe, Scandinavia, Asia or Africa.

Most of the behind scenes maneuvering so far has centered on the Arab-Israeli deadlock, scheduled to come before the Assembly first after the policy speeches.

The Asian members held a closed-door meeting late Thursday on the Middle East issue. Informed sources said most of them want to delay debate on the question until they see what comes of U.S.-Soviet negotiations to put it before the Security Council.

A number of Arab states are reported to prefer council action. They are not represented on that body at present and would not have to commit themselves by voting on any settlement that might be worked out.

The Western powers also are reported in favor of delaying debate. A British source said he believed there was general agreement that assembly debate should be postponed while there was a chance that the council could take meaningful measures.

The Israelis, who are holding on to captured land in Egypt, Jordan and Syria, have described the current assembly as the third stage of their conflict with the Arabs.

The first stage ended with the Israeli victory in battle on June 10. The second was the emergency assembly session at which Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin failed to put through a resolution calling for withdrawal of Israli troops from Arab soil, condemnation of Israel and payment of damage by the Jewish state.

Attacks Ring Harbor City

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Waves of U.S. Navy jets placed a ring of attacks tightly around the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong Thursday.

The targets—which U.S. spokesmen said were heavily damaged—included two shipyards previously on the pentagon's restricted list, the assembly plant where Russian missiles and helicopters are uncrated, a power plant outside the city, and the MIG airfield at Cat Bi just to the southeast.

The two shipyards, both less than two miles from Haiphong's geographic center, make and repair river craft and supply barges up to 150 feet long. U.S. headquarters estimated that together they amounted to 8 per cent of North Vietnam's boatyard and small ship repair facilities.

Although bad weather covered much of North Vietnam, there were frequent breaks in the cloud cover, and American pilots got in 143 missions, about one third more than they have been flying in the past few days.

Although the vital rail lines north of Hanoi were covered by clouds, supply lines to the south were exposed and took a heavy pounding. U.S. Headquarters is determined to get in as many strikes as possible before the monsoon weather gets really bad later this month.

Ground action reported in South Vietnam was generally light and scattered, but harassing Communist attacks continued.

A civilian bus was blown up by a mine near the old imperial capital of Hue and nine civilian passengers were wounded. A small spotter plane was shot down by guerrilla riflemen, but the injured pilot was dragged from the wreckage by a helicopter crew which witnessed the crash.

The spotter plane was the 212th U.S. aircraft reported lost in combat in the south.

Heavy B52 attacks once again poured into the shell-scarred battlefields around the Marine outpost of Con Thien just south of the demilitarized zone. One hit the area just north of the DMZ where the enemy is believed trying to install some of the big ground-to-air Sam missiles for defense against the high-altitude bombers.

Con Thien took 30 enemy shells Thursday and reported five Marines wounded, an almost quiet day for the post which withstood barrages of 1,000 rounds some days last month.

With the ground campaign almost stagnant, the focus remained on the northern air war and the steady lifting of Pentagon restrictions on the much-debated target list. But Haiphong's main docks north and northeast of the city's center—the chief gateway for Communist war supplies coming by ship—remain on the restricted list, apparently because of the international repercussions if a Russian ship is hit by U.S. raiders.

The two shipyards previously off limits to U.S. raiders were the Thuong Ly installation 1.6 miles northwest of Haiphong's center and the Lach Tray yard 1.7 miles to the southwest.

US Economy Jumps Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economy surged ahead during the third quarter of this year, the Commerce Department reported today, adding strength to the Johnson Administration's argument for higher taxes.

In a quarterly report, the department said the gross national product—the value of all goods and services produced in the economy—jumped $15 billion at an annual rate during the third quarter, the biggest advance in six quarters.

The increase ended the pause in economic growth recorded during the first half of 1967.

The $15-billion jump raised the annual rate to $790.1 billion during the quarter despite the effects of the Ford Motor Co. strike and a major strike in the copper industry.

Officials said earlier the Ford strike meant a $2-billion trimming of the GNP rate during the third quarter.

The advance, even more bullish than government economists anticipated two months ago, expecially in view of the Ford strike, is certain to be cited by the administration in seeking congressional approval of higher taxes.

President Johnson's request for a 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes is stymied in the House which is demanding spending cuts of $5 billion as the price for passage.

The $15-billion advance exceeded the entire increase of $13 billion during the first six months of this year and was the largest since the $17 billion increase during the first quarter of 1966.

The department said the third-quarter rise featured a halt in the heavy inventory drag that retarded production in the first half of 1967.

Before the announcement, the Washington Post said in its morning editions today the third quarter figure was expected to be about $790 billion. It quoted an unnamed official as saying the growth was too fast and thus underlined the need for a tax hike.

The third-quarter GNP estimate is based on incomplete data and is subject to later change.

Policemen Stop Substitute Driver

MEXICO CITY (AP)— Victor Lopez Alfaro saw a bus parked outside a repair shop Thursday with the key in the ignition. The man drove it away and started on the vehicle's usual route.

Lopez had picked up 52 passengers at 5 cents each before the bus owners and the police caught up with him.

Downtown Project Is Accepted

The Snyder City Council has formally accepted the new curb and sidewalk project in the downtown business area.

The action, taken Thursday morning at a special meeting of the council, clears the way for the contractor, T. E. Shelburne and Sons, to collect for work on the Downtown improvement project.

The council passed an ordinance accepting the assessment portion of the project, authorizing the issuance of certificates of assessment, and the release of funds held in escrow for the contractor. A big portion of the potential assessments already have been paid into the escrow account, and the ordinance enables the city to turn these funds over to the contractor. It was reported that the escrow fund held approximately $40,000.

Other assessments may be paid during the next 10 days, or if property owners involved desire, they may be paid over a period of five years.

Singer Sues For Refund

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Joan Baez, the folksinger who has waged a tug-of-war with the Internal Revenue Service over taxes spent for the military, joined 56 other conscientious objectors Thursday in a suit to get the money back. They sought more than $100,000.

Most of the plaintiffs are members of her Carmel Valley Institue for the Study of Nonviolence.

The U.S. District Court suit contended that the Nuernberg war crimes trials for Nazi leaders set a precedent: Citizens of any country may not remain silent or acquiescent to violations of international law or commission of war crimes.

It alleged the United States has violated the United Nations' Charter pledge to settle disputes by peaceful means.

For several years, Miss Baez has withheld from her income tax the portion she figured was for defense.

Bombs, Bullets Shower Trucks

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An explosion and fire destroyed a terminal owned by the head of the National Steel Carriers Association today, and rocks, bullets and firebombs showered trucks in three states.

The renewed violence reinforced a view that hopes for a quick settlement of the two-month-old strike by thousands of steel haulers were sputtering out.

The trucking company executives have split into two groups. A spokesman for one said it was opposed to a peace plan drawn in Pittsburgh. The strikers are voting on it anyway.

Spokesmen for the second group of companies said they also are opposed to the original recommendations and have offered a compromise. The strikers said they wouldn't even vote on the substitute.

The explosion rocked a small terminal of B&P Motor Express Inc. at Fallston north of Pittsburgh just before dawn. Firemen said the building was a total loss. B&P is headed by Howard Miller, chief of the National Steel Carriers Association.

At Greensburg, east of Pittsburgh, state police reported that windshields on 10 trucks were smashed by rocks. No one was hurt.

Snipers fired on two strike-breaking trucks and a car near Middletown, Ohio, three firebombs were chunked at a parked truck near Youngstown. No one was hurt.

William Kusley of Gary, Ind., the man who organized the strike, said no one is going back to work without a settlement.

UF Drive Inches On

The Scurry County United Fund campaign had inched ahead another notch this morning after stalling temporarily.

The total amount of contributions and pledges had reached $18,402. This is almost 47 per cent of the goal of $39,605 being sought to support operation of six participating agencies.

Campaign leaders estimated that less than half of the potential contributors had been contacted. However, work was continuing at a steady, but slow pace. The campaign depends upon volunteer workers for all contact work and supervision. Thus, campaign expenses are kept to an absolute minimum.

IRS To Probe Tax-Dodge Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal crackdown is taking shape against private foundations set up as tax-dodging schemes.

The Internal Revenue Service revealed Thursday it began eight months ago an investigation into what it termed widely promoted plans to avoid taxes through private foundations or family trusts. A congressional inquiry into what Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., has called the mass production of tax-dodging foundations is scheduled to begin Oct. 30.

The Johnson administration's tax revision package scheduled to be sent to Congress later this year is also expected to call for a ban on the diversion of foundation assets to private advantage.

The first witnesses in the congressional inquiry by Patman's House small business subcommittee are expected to be trustees and members of a group called "Americans Building Constitutionally," headquartered in Barrington, Ill.

Patman said the group allegedly instructs its members on how to avoid taxes by setting up personal tax-exempt foundations.

IRS, in disclosing its inquiry, said it can't name names now. But it said the scheme for escaping taxes follow a general pattern and usually involve setting up one or more private foundations. IRS said it doubts the legality of such operations.

The Treasury Department in 1965 recommended to Congress a general ban on financial transactions between a foundation and its contributors, officers, directors or trustees to prevent diversion of assets to private use.

This is still a basic Treasury objective and is expected to be included either in its original or modified form in a tax revision package Johnson has promised to send to Congress this year.

In his economic message to Congress last January, Johnson said without spelling out details: "As one specific reform, I will urge changes to deal with abuses by tax-exempt private foundations."

WITH OR AGAINST VIETNAMESE

Language-Trained GI Vital

By TOM STEWART
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Marines and Army have decided you can't fight alongside Vietnamese allies or against Vietnamese enemies unless you or a buddy speak Vietnamese.

And so by the thousands they're learning this baffling tongue.

"If you asked us to produce 400 machine gunners," a Marine spokesman said Thursday, "we could press a button in personnel and—brrrr't— just like that you'd have them." But when the language program began "we were starting from practically zero."

By putting as many men as it could spare through the all-service courses of the Defense Language Institute and establishing its own smaller schools, he said, the Marines now have enough language-trained men to put one in every company in Vietnam.

The Army also is making a heavy investment of man-years in language skills but it doesn't use a one-per-company yardstick.

"We leave it up to the unit commanders," a spokesman said. "At division level, say, the commander can specify that out of so many replacements he wants so many to be language-trained. It varies from division to division."

Taken together, the various programs add up to a far greater commitment to language training than in any previous war.

The Leathernecks plan to put some 2,600 officers and enlisted men through courses of varying length during this fiscal year. In late 1964 and early 1965 by comparison, the Corps sent only 32 for such instruction.

With four times as many men in Vietnam as the Marines, the Army has nearly 5,300 learning the language in the year ending June 30, up 64 per cent from the year before.

The shortest course either service employs is a six-week school for newly minted Marine lieutenants at Quantico. At the other end of the scale is a 47-week grind at the school the Army runs for the Defense Language Institute in Monterey, Calif.

For most situations, the services feel a man can get what he needs from a short course. When he emerges he won't be fluent but he'll be able to communicate.

JOINT, INFORMAL SESSION

School-Police Needs Talked

Members of the Snyder City Council and the Snyder Independent School District Board of Trustees held an informal joint session Thursday to discuss poilce - school services.

The discussion developed as the school athletic season arrived, bringing with it University Interscholastic League requirements for "police protection" at UIL contests.

For some 15 years an agreement had existed whereby the schools furnished a police patrol car and paid half of a policeman's salary in return for a list of services which included the required special police assignments at athletic contests, escorts for buses on out-of-town trips, special driver education demonstrations and administration of the schools crossing guard program.

Last spring, the school board voted to suspend its participation in the purchase of a police car and half a patrolman's salary, and to begin administering the—crossing guard program itself.

Upon notification of the school board action, the city council conducted a study of its organization in view of the suspension of the school financial support and ultimately decided that the police car would still be required and would be maintained at the expense of the city itself. However, it was determined that a reduction in personnel would be required and that, in turn, would suspend the special services provided for the schools.

Both the schools and the city then drafted their new budgets on the basis of each going its own way.

However, the University Interscholastic League makes the home team school completely responsible for police protection of officials and maintain-

DEAR ABBY: I am a reasonably attractive, well-balanced young lady of 24 years, and I'm sure I could make some nice young man a good wife, as well as a good mother to the children I'd love to have. My problem is this: Given a choice between two men with whom to fall in love, a nice, respectable, steadily - employed man, or a good-for-nothing bum, I invariably choose the bum.

Can you tell me why? Is it because deep down, I have an unconscious liking for abuse? (The bums take my money and treat me badly.) Or could it be that I deliberately avoid the good prospects because I really don't want to get married yet?

I am asking you because I can't afford to go to a psychiatrist.

FIRST CLASS DOPE

DEAR DOPE: I wouldn't presume to tell you why you invariably pick the bums over the respectable men, but if you are interested in finding out, try your local mental health clinic.

You say you can't afford to go to a psychiatrist. I say you can't afford to go on picking the bums over the nice guys. You may become disgusted, convince yourself that you don't deserve anything better, and marry one.

DEAR ABBY: After 23 years of marriage I received a birthday greeting card (the first one!) from my mother-in-law.

Should I write and thank my mother-in-law for her "thoughtfulness?" Or should I thank my husband for telling her to send the card?

"FLOORED" IN TARZANA

DEAR FLOORED: Thank them both.

DEAR ABBY: I am probably the dumbest man in the world. After 26 years of happy marriage, I took a fling with another woman. Then to make matters worse I got a little drunk one day and told my wife I was "in love" and wanted a divorce.

Needless to say, my wife was heartbroken. Came the dawn, I woke up the fact that I really didn't want the other woman OR the divorce, and all I wanted was my wife.

She hasn't left me, and I don't think she will, but things haven't been the same between us since. All this happened a year ago, and when I tell her I love her, that I have changed and will never be unfaithful again, all she says is; "Yes, Dear."

Have you any advice for an old fool, Abby?

OLD FOOL

DEAR FOOL: What's been done cannot be undone. Try to make it up to your wife by actions — not words. Pray that eventually she will find it in her heart to forgive you. If she does, you're lucky.

Burglary Is Cleared Here

A burglary at the Travis Junior High gym about three weeks ago was cleared up this week with the arrest of two 16-year-old boys who admitted taking watches, $34 in cash and other personal property.

Chief of Police Stephen Clark, who announced the case has been solved, stated that all of the stolen property and money has been recovered.

Owners of the items are members of a Junior High football team from Big Spring. The articles were taken from a dressing room during a game here with one of the local teams. It originally had been reported that $50 in cash was missing, although the boys who admitted the theft stated that they obtained only $34.

The youths were turned over to Juvenile authorities.

12-Year-Old Gives Birth

AMARILLO (AP) — A 12-year-old amarillo girl gave birth Wednesday to a daughter weighing 6 pounds and 6 ounces.

This was disclosed Thursday night when sheriff's deputies arrested Howard E. Chasteen, 23, on a charge of statutory rape.

Attendants at Northwest Texas Hospital reported the young mother was in critical condition. Her name was withheld. They said the infant was delivered normally and was in good condition.

The district attorney's office said its first word about the case came from a doctor who delivered the baby. A complaint was prepared and Chasteen's arrest at an Amarillo residence followed.

Chasteen, slender and ruddy-faced with bushy brown hair, waived examining trial after being advised of his legal rights. He was jailed in lieu of $7,500 bond.

Officers said Chasteen told them he was moving and had no permanent address here.

OEO Funds To Be Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal antipoverty program—its workers already facing denial of pay hikes intended for all other government workers—appears a sure target for more pruning in the House.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, said Thursday he's sure at least $40 million can be slashed from the $2.06 billion budget of the Office of Economic Opportunity, which oversees the antipoverty program.

ing order at UIL athletic contests, and recommends a minimum of four peace officers at Class AAA football games.

Hasty, temporary provisions were made for the first two home football games, but no permanent plan for special police service at athletic contests has been made.

The School Trustees and council discussed it at the Thursday session, but neither took any action. School officials indicated that they would favor using of off-duty policemen on an hourly basis. The city policy is that such arrangements would not be made by the city itself, it was noted by city officials. Such service could possibly be obtained at a rate of about $4.70 per man per hour, said City Manager George Patterson, provided the council approved it. That hourly figure is based on the police department's cost to keep a patrolman on the job on over-time rates.

Mayor M. L. Broman suggested that the school "make a proposal of what you want" and that such a proposal then could be considered for action by the city council.

School Board President Kenneth Wilson said he believed that the discussion had provided enough information that the school board could develop a definite proposal.

Supt. Bill J. Hood, expressed fervent hope that an agreement could be reached before the next home football game, which is Oct. 20.

Cooler Air On The Way

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another batch of cooler weather entered the Texas Panhandle this morning and headed downstate.

The Pacific front was dry as it arrived but the weatherman looked for it to set off a few thundershowers in the state's north central and northeast sections tonight, and the south central and southeast areas by Saturday.

There already were some widely scattered showers around Galveston and Houston before dawn.

Early morning temperatures remained mild, ranging down to 50 degrees at Dalhart in the upper Panhandle. That represented a 16-degree drop from Dalhart's midnight reading of 66.

Readings at other points stood in the 50s and 60s, running up to 72 at Houston and 73 at Galveston.

Forecasts promised lows down to the 40s across West Texas by Saturday morning and a little cooling for most other sections except the northwest, where it was due to warm a bit.

Still another Pacific front was on the way and expected to tip into Texas in another couple of days.

TRIED REMEDIES FOR TRISKAIDEKAPHOBIA

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer

"Avoid walking under cats" is the tongue-in-cheek advice of one man but triskaidekaphobes are sometimes reduced to shy stay-at-homes on Friday the 13th.

Today is the 13th and triskaidekaphobia—fear of the number 13—combines with other traditional bad luck signs to make life truly miserable for the superstitious.

"I always stay home," says Phil Edwards, a newsman for radio station KTYM in Inglewood, Calif. "I'd stay in bed but there's always the chance that I'll fall out so I usually go to sleep on the floor."

Helen Matusiak, a Chicago cleaning woman, says she was once told that if the first person you see on opening your window drapes in the morning on the 13th is a woman you'll have bad luck all day.

It happened to her once and she went to the store and lost $10, she said. Today, she added, "I'm not going to open the curtains all day."

Marcia Ashley, 23, a high school teacher from Lynnfield, Mass., is not concerned about curtains but takes every precaution to avoid black cats, and with some reason.

"One night I was driving home when I saw a black cat walking across the road," she explained. "Thinking quickly I pulled into a driveway to avoid it. I did—but I also hit the car that was parked there."

Margi Vogel, a telephone operator from Albany, N.Y., says she was in an auto accident on a Friday the 13th two years ago but still maintains the bad luck superstition is "just a bunch of nothing."

"I have bad luck all the time," she said, 'so what precautions could I take that would help me on Friday the 13th?"

Some simply scoff.

"I have no superstitions and take no precautions because I always know exactly what I'm doing," said Dr. Jack Harper, a Helena, Mont., surgeon.

Donald R. Dehon, researcher for a Boulder, Colo., engineering firm, said a company engineer once gave him the terse advice: "Avoid walking under cats."

Western Michigan football coach Bill Doolittle was 1966 Coach of the Year in the Mid-American Conference.

UAW Rejects New Proposal

By H.L. SCHWARTZ III
ASSOCIATED Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers union has rejected a new proposal in contract bargaining with the strikebound Ford Motor Co., but a high union source said today "progress is being made that could lead to impending action."

Rejection of the proposal was reported by a well-placed company source who said "It was a generous offer. They—the talks—aren't going anywhere right now."

While a union source said there had been progress toward ending a 37-day strike, he added that there have been no face-to-face meetings of the top bargaining teams since a news blackout was clamped on talks Tuesday night.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther heads the union team while Vice President Malcolm L. Denise bargains for Ford.

Mindful of the blackout, which sometimes in past contract years has meant settlement is near, both sources were reluctant to elaborate on the separate positions of the two sides.

The union objected to the term "offer". A union spokesman said an offer in national bargaining can only be made to the national bargaining committees and the opportunity for this has not existed this week. But the union did not deny rejecting a company proposal of some sort.

As leaks in the blackout—which a company spokesman described earlier as "1,000 per cent effective"—mounted, bargainers were expected to at least part the curtains of secrecy today, if not lift them altogether.

"You will find out today what the situation is," said the union source.

The union is seeking what it calls its broadest list of demands ever, including parity for Canadian workers, a big wage boost with something on top of it for skilled workers, a guaranteed annual income, pension improvements and other contract adjustments.

In its only previous offer the company proposed an immediate 13-cent an hour wage boost for all, plus 2.8 per cent a year in the second and third years of a three-year pact. It said an added hike for skilled workers was negotiable, but it ignored Canadian parity and the guaranteed annual income.

The states of Pennsylvania and Ohio are represented with nine players each on the 1967 Navy football squad.

Billie Joe' Hottest Disc

By MARY CAMPBELL

THE LATE SUMMERTIME question in pop music is "Why did Billie Joe jump off the Tallahatchee Bridge?"

The person who started everybody wondering is Bobbie Gentry, a girl we'd never heard from before, with a song she wrote and sings, "Ode to Billie Joe."

It's a real winner of a song, with the sound of a hit the first time you hear it. Billie Joe committed suicide (apparently) and teen-agers go strong for a song of violent death about once a season. This song also has the ring of realism, some secrecy, never explained, adult lack of sensitivity and nonunderstanding of a teen-age daughter, irrelevance, a singable tune, country - western flavor and it's different — the story is told in something of a flashback technique.

It also has a memorable one-line refrain. The Bee Gees exploited the latter this summer in their hit "New York Mining Disaster 1941"— "Have you seen my wife Mr. Jones?" But Bobbie Gentry has used it for the biggest hit of the summer, "Ode to Billie Joe" — "Billie Joe McAllister jumped off the Tallahatchee Bridge."

Since the single came out July 10, it has sold more than 1.5 million copies. It went to No. 4 in the nation three weeks later and has been solidly at No. 1 ever since. A long-playing record, also titled "Ode to Billie Joe," came out Aug. 21 and has sold more than 500,000 copies.

On it, Bobbie Gentry sings and plays guitar on 10 songs, nine of them her own compositions, reflecting rural life in Chickasaw County, Miss., where she was born 23 years ago. On the album cover Miss Gentry is pictured in blue jeans and barefoot. Since the "raisin" on which she draws for songs, however, she has attended college and music school in Los Angeles, worked as an actress and danced in Las Vegas.

"Ode to Billie Joe" is Miss Gentry's first single. According to Capitol Records, she just walked in with a dub of the song. An a and r producer liked it and hired an arranger. He put six violinists and two cellists with Miss Gentry and her guitar.

On the LP, she also has arrangements which border on the elaborate, but her low-reaching voice has no artifice and her lyrics sound cornpone but true. It's obvious on one hearing which song Miss Gentry didn't write, since she has an immediately identifiable "sound."

"Chickasaw County Child," in fact, sounds almost like "Ode to Billie Joe." "Hurry Tuesday Child" has a slow folk sound; "Sunday Best" is the only one with a slickly "commercial" sound. They all tell about life on the Delta — "Bugs," "Papa, Won't You Take Me to Town with You," "Lazy Willie."

Not only are individuals buying "Ode to Billie Joe," but you hear it constantly on juke boxes and radio stations all over the country. Some radio stations have asked listeners to call in and say what they think Billie Joe and the girl singing had earlier thrown over the Tallahatchee Bridge. Some of the answers are wild, but there's no way to know what Miss Gentry had in mind. She's not telling.

Your Hungry? How Come?

It's probably a common scene:

The front door slams. A tousle-haired boy runs through the house — swishes into the kitchen, then stops short — transfixed by the sight of an enormous freshly - baked chocolate cake in the center of the kitchen table.

But Mom knows what he's thinking, and she's quick to respond.

"No. If you eat that, you won't be hungry for dinner."

As usual, Mom's right.

Chances are she doesn't know why, because even scientists don't know exactly why we do or don't feel hungry. But they're trying hard to find the reason.

Since research scientists are responsible for the formulation of dieting foods as well as a host of infant nutrition products, they are acutely aware of the workings of the hunger process. According to one company scientist, there are a number of ways hunger is satisfied.

First of all, there's the question of sheer bulk. It doesn't take a scientist to tell you that if you're hungry and you eat a big meal, you won't be hungry any more. You state the case quite accurately when you push back from the table, sigh, and say, "I feel full." You are. Or rather, your stomach is full — of food. Minutes earlier; when it was empty, you felt hunger pangs, a result of the movements of an empty stomach. Food stopped those movements.

But how long will they stay stopped?

Scientiest say that depends on what you ate for dinner. If you ate Chinese chop suey on rice, chances are you'll be nosing around in the refrigerator in a few hours, looking for a snack. But if you ate a steak dinner, come eight or nine that evening you'll still be full. And modest portions of properly formulated foods can satisfy hunger better than larger amounts of some other foods.

Why?

Fat, carbohydrate and protein in varying amounts are the three major components of food. Scientists know that of the three, carbohydrate leaves the stomach first and is the most rapidly digested. The Chinese dinner is high in carbohydrate, and thus is digested quickly. By contrast, the steak dinner is high in protein, which is digested less rapidly. Fat, which takes longest to digest, actually may slow down digestion of other foodstuffs.

All this points up the fact that the stomach becomes empty more rapidly after the Chinese dinner than the steak dinner. And those gnawing hunger pangs return.

But there's more to hunger and satiety (pronounced like "variety") than a full stomach.

Recent experiments indicate that the basic feelings of hunger and satiety are regulated by the brain, specifically an area at the base of the brain called the hypothlamus. It seems to control appetite in much the same way a thermostat controls the temperature of your house.

Two specific areas of the hypothalamus are involved — the so-called "feeding center" and the "satiety center." The satiety center seems to inhibit the activity of the feeding center.

The question scientists now are working on is: What activates these two areas?

Research indicates the level of sugar in the blood or circulation may have something to do with it. The blood sugar level fluctuates with your intake of carbohydrates, and also seems to fluctuate with the feelings of hunger. That is, when these levels are up, you feel full. When they're down, you feel hungry. This could indicate that sugar in the circulation system activates the satiation center.

However, scientists still are conducting research in this area. Many wonder if protein and fat, in addition to carbohydrate, may not have something to do with the workings of the hypothalamus.

In any event, the "sugar" school of thought, explains why just one little piece of chocolate cake with the chocolate frosting will spoil Johnny's appetite, and cut down the odds that he will eat a balanced meal.

And it also explains why Mother was right . . . as usual.

Research Is Plump Target For Economy-Minded Solons

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — As Congress and the administration bicker about whether and where the budget can be cut, one plump and prominent target has been mentioned more and more often: the $17 billion programmed spending for research and development.

Research appropriations are scattered among more than a dozen departmental budgets, but a compilation pulled together on order for congressional use clearly identifies the departments and agencies that spend most of the money:

Defense, $7.67 billion; National Aeronautics and Space Administration, $5.3 billion; Atomic Energy Commission, $1.64 billion; Health, Education and Welfare Department, $1.18 billion. Next behind these giants is the new Transportation Department with $321 million, of which $188 million is for development of the supersonic transport.

All these figures relate, not to appropriations, but to the amounts the departments intend to spend during the fiscal year that began last July 1. Appropriations always relate largely to future spending.

The new appropriations asked this year for research and development total $17.69 billion. But the government proposes to use only $9.30 billion of the new authority during the year; the rest of the $17.26 billion programmed spending for this year would come from past appropriations—a circumstance not lost on economy-minded congressmen.

Some of these contend government research has been extended beyond all measure of practicality. "They've even got a project for research on what ought to be researched," one snorted.

Others, conceding that practically all government-supported research is useful, nevertheless insist that when the country is running deep into the red, the test should be what research is imminently needed.

The huge defense research and development total includes work in everything from missile improvements to studies of temperature, salinity and biological content of water.

The space agency proposes to spend $3.58 billion on the manned space flight program, including the Apollo system for moon landings. Another $600 million would go for such programs as orbiting observatories.

A substantial portion of the AEC's research and development is directly military and presumably would be politically hard to reduce—$265 million for nuclear weapons development and $256 million for testing such weapons underground.

Farther-out research includes a $94 million item for work with the space agency on an atomic space vehicle.

Perhaps of all the research programs the ones Congress would be most reluctant to cut are those of the National Institutes of Health on the various killing and disabling diseases. These run $874 million.

Much of the criticism of individual programs in Congress has been directed against those the National Science Foundation farms out to colleges and universities. These are largely for basic research, with little immediately obvious payoff. The 1968 spending plan calls for $154 million.

But any effort to cut these will meet with resistance reaching into most congressional districts—more than 400 institutions, some in every state, receive the grants.

Six books have been published without compensation by the National Geographic Society as a public service. They are "The White House;" "We the People, the Story of the United States Capitol;" "Equal Justice under Law, the Supreme Court in American Life;" "George Washington: Man and Monument;" "The Presidents of the United States of America" and "The Living White House."

The Indian Ocean, bounded by chronically underfed Asian and African nations, is a potential source of food. Expedition vessels have pulled in rich fish hauls.

Now Wives Are Doing Garage Sales

By SHIRLEY CHRISTIAN
Associated Press Writer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Grandmother's rules of housekeeping said Thursday is for marketing and Friday for dusting and sweeping. But many contemporary wives in the Great Plains and Southwest think both days are for "doing" the garage sales.

A garage sale is a kind of high-class bargain basement, organized by an individual woman or group of friends, where offerings range from sink stoppers to guinea pigs to maternity clothes, all used.

In the suburbs of Kansas City, the station wagon and sports car sets park before $30,000 ranches to examine the offerings of 35-cent baby dresses, 25-cent mixing bowls, $2-picture frames, and other odds and ends.

Mrs. James Hopewell of suburban Fairway, Kan., did the sales regularly for months before and after her first grandchild was born. She toted home a nursery full of barely used baby furniture, strollers, swings, toys and basic clothing.

Mrs. Bert Rosebrough of Prairie Village, Kan., another suburb, motioned to the well-furnished living room in her early American-style home.

"Everthing in it," she said, "from the sofa to the maple scounces, came from garage sales." It was the same story in her 3-year-old son's room.

Anyone can hold a garage sale—providing she has the fortitude to let go of the things she and her family no longer use. The sales are announced by ads in neighborhood newspapers and signs planted on nearby streets.

On the big day, the garage is the spot for almost anything, except the family car. The sale is run like a store, not an auction. There is almost no bargaining. If it occurs, it is usually on a relatively expensive item.

Getting buyers is seldom a problem. Few can resist the enticement of pouring through another household's collection of trifles and trivia in hope that it will yield some surprise treasure.

Many women spend Thursday and Fridays, the traditional sale days, driving through the suburbs looking for sales. Sometimes they find several on one block.

Men make fun of their wives' garage sale habits. Once they attend one, though, they usually are bitten, too. The wife of a masculine garage sale fan said many of the articles sold in her sale came from her husband's foragings.

But the enthusiasm occasionally backfires.

One woman with garage sale fever made weekly expeditions and filled her basement with odds and ends of furniture, which she gradually refinished for use in the house. But many objects never made it up the stairs. She finally took stock of her crowded basement, sighed and called the neighborhood paper.

"I want to run an ad for a garage sale," she said.

Junior Editors Quiz on COLORS

QUESTION: Is it true that something red contains every color but red?

* * *

ANSWER: Color is a result of light. Back in 1666, Sir Francis Newton, experimenting with a glass prism, made the discovery that brilliant, white sunlight contained all colors. His spectrum separated these colors into red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet. In the picture Cindy sees the apple as red. Why does it look red? Many objects take in or absorb parts of the rays of white light which fall on them. Some will absorb the green rays, some the red and so on. The colored rays not absorbed are rejected, or bounced away from the object. When Cindy sees the apple as red, she is seeing the red rays the skin of the apple has rejected and pushed away from itself. The apple skin will have absorbed all the other colors, so actually, you can say that the apple skin is every color but red.

BENGALS CONTINUE TITLE QUEST

Snyder's Tigers, with preparations complete, journey to Levelland tonight to continue their quest of the District 3-AAA football crown. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. in Lobo Stadium.

The Bengals of Coach Wayne Tyrone and Assistants Bill Hartsfield and Jack Gray won a tough battle, 9-0, with Lamesa here last week and will be out to protect their perfect district record.

Levelland, under the tutelage of new coach Bobby Hayworth, doubtless will consider tonight's battle a "must" game. Therefore, they will be doubly anxious to win. The Lobos took it on the chin, 34-7, at Sweetwater in their district debut last week. Another loss could eliminate the hosts from title considerations, so they should be fired up for the Bengal encounter and go all out to win.

With 15 lettermen back in the fold, the Lobos are about on a par with the Tigers in experience, although they don't have as many starters returning as Snyder.

Junior halfback Odis Smith, a 180-pounder, is ready to run behind an offensive line that includes seniors at all the spots. Leading the charge will be guards Randy Hoover (150), Melvin Hill (155) and tackle Curt Langford (200).

Smith, the running back, also makes his presence felt on defense where he won All-District honorable mention as a linebacker as a sophomore.

The Lobos operate from an I formation with variations and like to take advantage of double team blocking.

Raymond Rios, 171-pound junior, has been the most effective ball carrier for the Tigers. He averaged four yards per run with 32 carries against Lamesa last week. He'll get help from Efrian Cervantez, 151-pound junior halfback. Flanker backs in Coach Tyrone's Arizona split T attack are Dwaine Boydstun, 158-pound senior, and Merce Hernandez, 151-pound sophomore. They'll alternate at the position tonight.

Guiding the attack will be Steve Holder, 155- pound junior, who may go to the airlanes if the Tigers have difficulty running against the big Lobo line.

The Tigers have a seasoned experienced forward wall, but the Lobos probably will have an edge in weight.

The play at the end posts should draw a lot of attention. Both teams have big, tough wingmen — Frankie Grimmett (191) and Craig Bell (183) for the Tigers and John Spence (185) and Alan Giestman (180) for the Lobos.

Either team could go into a pro set with tandem backs. Whatever the strategy employed local fans who make the trip can expect to see a close, hard-fought struggle.

You can get tickets at the gate.

Impressive Texans Blitz Glenn, 56-6

The way they struck by land and air, one got the impression they also would have scored on water if they had the opportunity.

Lamar 9th grade sent John Glenn Junior High School of San Angelo into outer space with a 56-6 gridiron triumph here in Tiger Stadium Thursday night.

What was supposed to have been a close struggle soon developed into a blitz by the Texans as they struck for two first quarter scores and five second period touchdowns to completely rout the visitors. Each team crossed the goal once in the second half, but the Lamar reserves were handling most of the action by then.

It didn't take Coach Tommy Echols' charges long to get on the scoreboard. Gary Shields slipped through left guard behind good blocking and sprinted 57 yards to pay dirt on Lamar's first possession. The run for points failed.

Less than three minutes later, Steve Dillaha recovered a fumble on the Raiders' 18 yard line. On the next down, Bobby Thompson scooted around right end to the goal, and Shields sliced over left tackle for bonus points as the advantage went to 14-0.

Lamar scored every time it got the ball in the second quarter to boost the halftime lead to 50-0.

On the first play of the second period, Shields swept left end and chugged along the east sidelines until he reached the 10. At this point, he faked the safety into missing the tackle and went over with ease. The play covered 52 yards. Again, a run for points was halted.

Thirty - eight seconds later, Thompson raced 48 yards around right end to pay dirt, and Tony Breedlove cracked the line for the two-pointer as the margin soared to 28-0.

On their next possession, the Texans drove 75 yards in nine plays, requiring only about three minutes in the march. Bobby Thompson and Larry Wall did most of the damage as the Texans advanced from their 25 to the Raider 28. At this point, Bill Branson ran to the right and lofted an aerial to Wall, who made the reception at the 20. Bill Wilson threw a crisp block that cleared Wall to the eight. Tommy Faver took it over right up the middle on the next play.

Thompson intercepted a pass about three minutes later and returned it 61 yards for a touchdown. He made the catch at the Texan 39, headed towards the west sidelines and went all the way. Breedlove charged over again for bonus points as the lead went to 42-0.

Then, on the last play of the half, Branson connected on a 21-yard pass to Wilson in the southwest corner of the end zone. Wilson leaped high to spear the ball behind a defender and he came down across the flag for another six - pointer. Branson then hit Scott Morgan slanting toward the southeast corner for two more points.

Despite a 50-0 handicap, John Glenn fought back gamely in the second half and scored on a 46-yard drive in the third quarter. Meyers gained the final 18 yards with four carries up the middle. Three 15-yard penalties kept the drive alive after the Raider backs had been thrown for several losses.

Shields took a pitch out left and raced into the end zone on a 7-yard run for the final Lamar touchdown with only 11 seconds remaining in the game. The TD was set up on two short passes, Bid Cooper to Tony Breedlove.

Coach Echols said the entire Texan team played well. The offensive line fired out well, Steve Dillaha, Kenneth Keller and Tony Breedlove were outstanding in the trenches, and cornerbacks Bid Cooper and Larry Wall did a good job of stopping the sweeps. Gary Shields was impressive running and blocking, and Bobby Thompson looked good both ways.

"You'd have to list the names of all of the team members, both offensively and defensively, if you wanted to give credit where it is due," said the coach.

It was a great team effort.

Pony Passes Stop Lamar 8th, 34-14

SWEETWATER — The Pony 8th graders took advantage of a smooth passing attack to topple Lamar 8th grade 34-14 here Thursday night in a Junior High football contest.

Both of the visitors' scores resulted from sustained drives of about 50 yards each, and both were scored by fullback Steve Norred on power sweeps to the right.

He went 20 yards in the second quarter for the first one and 16 yards in the third quarter for the second one.

Terry Arnold plunged across the goal on a counter play following the first TD for the bonus points.

Sweetwater scored first on a quick pitch to the left following a fumble recovery of the kickoff return on the Lamar 45. The hosts made good on the conversion points.

They went ahead 14-0 later in the period on a pass to the left end. He broke two tackles and went 22 yards to pay dirt.

After Lamar narrowed the margin to 8-14, the Ponies' fullback tallied on a crossbuck to the right to give his team a 20-8 halftime lead. A quick pitch good for 40 yards set up the tally.

In the third stanza, a pass in the left flat to the left half netted the Ponies 30 yards and another touchdown, and they ran over for the two points to go ahead 28-8.

Lamar cut into the lead again with its second TD, but the hosts added another score in the last quarter on another pass to the left in the end zone. The play covered five yards, and the TD was set up by a pass to the left halfback in the left flat. It covered 40 yards.

Coach Ken McAllister praised the defensive efforts of Mike Line and David Thompson, and Steve Norred and Travis Bunch drew attention on offense.

Pro Cagers Begin Play

BY TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The professional basketball season opens tonight. Right off the bat there is a confrontation in the San Francisco area between the established National Basketball Association and its new rival, the American Basketball Association.

The opening games are Seattle at San Francisco in the NBA and Anaheim at Oakland, just across the bay.

George Mikan, the commissioner of the 11-team ABA, is expected to participate in opening ceremonies at the Oakland Arena along with Rick Barry, who last year helped San Francisco gain the NBA championship playoff final against Philadelphia.

Barry is not playing this year. He signed to play with the Oakland team, coached by his father-in-law, Bruce Hale. He elected to sit out the season after a California court ruled he could not play for any team except San Francisco until his option clause expires in Sept. 1968.

The two games are the only ones scheduled. Three more are scheduled for Saturday night, Chicago at Boston and St. Louis at San Diego in the NBA and Kentucky at Indiana in the ABA. On Sunday St. Louis is at San Francisco in the NBA and Anaheim is at Denver in the ABA.

The other clubs in each league do not open until next week.

Meredith Sidelined

DALLAS (AP) —Don Meredith, Dallas Cowboys' quarterback suffering from a broken and bruised ribs, was expected to be released from Presbyterian Hospital Friday.

It is not likely that he will play in Sunday's national Football League game here against the New Orleans Saints.

Tiger Tennis Team Sets Dual Match

The Snyder tennis team will be at Andrews Saturday morning for a dual match beginning at 10 o'clock.

Jr. Varsity Hosts Lee Saturday

The Snyder High School junior varsity hosts Midland Lee here Saturday night. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. in Tiger Stadium.

Elsewhere, the Travis 8th and 9th grade teams will go to Big Spring for Saturday games with Goliad and the Toros providing the opposition respectively. Kickoff in the 8th grade game is on tap for 6 p.m., followed by the 9th grade clash.

Lamar 8th, originally scheduled to play in Sweetwater Saturday night, saw action there Thursday night in a schedule change.

On the area scene, Hermleigh visits Jayton, and Gail hosts Cotton Center. Ira will enjoy an open date.

Hobbs' tilt with Weinert was cancelled. So the Panthers have arranged a meeting tonight with the Star Tigers. Each team has a 2-2 record, and they will tangle on the Talpa field, which is located "halfway" between the schools. It is between Santa Ana and Ballinger.

Gibson Leads Cards To Series Victory

BOSTON (AP) — The sign outside Fenway Park said, "The Red Sox Are Incredibly Beautiful People."

If they are incredibly beautiful, St. Louis' Bob Gibson is incredibly amazing.

In the World Series that the Cardinals won Thursday by beating Boston 7-2 in the seventh and deciding game, Gibson had help— from base-hitting and base-stealing Lou Brock and from surprisingly potent Julian Javier and Roger Maris.

But no one over-all did the job Gibson accomplished.

The right-handed pitcher, who was out with a broken ankle from July 15 to Sept. 6, allowed the Red Sox six hits in beating them 2-1 in the series opener last week. Then he reduced that to five hits when he stopped them 6-0 last Sunday.

Somehow the Red Sox overcame the 3-1 hole Gibson's second victory put them in, and it was up to Gibson again in the seventh game Thursday. Except this time he would have to face Jim Lonborg, also a two-game winner who had given up only four hits in his two starts.

The dream duel, however, was no contest. The Cardinals battered Lonborg, working on just two days rest, for seven runs—including a homer by Gibson—and 10 hits in six innings while Gibson set down the Red Sox on three hits.

The performance, his fifth straight complete game triumph in Series play, put Gibson in the class of Christy Mathewson and Red Ruffing and in another sports car.

He won the car for the second time—the first was in the 1964 Series—as the outstanding player in the Series.

"You can do it all. . .you can do it all," Orlando Cepeda, St. Louis' exuberant first baseman, yelled at Gibson after grabbing him around the neck and kissing him four times on the right cheek in the noisy cardinal clubhouse that dripped with champagne.

Over in the subdued Sox quarters, manager Dick Williams had similar praise for the 31-year-old right-hander who pitched the second and third times on three days rest, the first time this year he has worked that frequently.

"Give all the credit in the world to Gibson," said Williams, who himself deserved credit for bringing the Red Sox so far—from ninth to ... I do not feel sorry for him, I didn't like to see him take that pounding."

The pounding started in the third inning when Dal Maxvill tripled and scored on Curt Flood's two-out single. Flood then went to third as Maris singled and raced home on Lonborg's wild pitch.

Gibson supplied St. Louis' next run, a 380-foot homer that sailed into the center field seats in the fifth inning.

Known as one of the better hitting pitchers, Gibson hadn't hit a homer all year.

"If a pitcher gets a reputation for being a pretty good hitter, the other pitchers are as tough on him as they are on everyone else," he explained. "All season long they threw me curve balls on the outside, and I can't hit a curve ball outside."

Except Lonborg didn't throw him a curve ball. He threw him a fast ball, and it went.

"That was the best hit I've had in three years," Gibson blurted. "I knew it was going to hit the wall, but I didn't think it was going out."

Brock followed with a single, stole second and third and scored on Maris' sacrifice fly. Then Javier's three-run blast in the sixth finished Lonborg and the rest of the Red Sox.

Brock had his record-breaking seven stolen bases—also a record-tying two in one inning—plus 12 hits, one short of the Series high.

Javier had his nine hits in 25 at-bats, including a three - run homer in the sixth inning that sealed Lonborg's doom, and Maris, a Series veteran from the New York Yankees, had his 10 hits in 27 at-bats plus seven runs batted in. No one had Javier and Maris took over for Cepeda and Tim McCarver, the Cardinals' sluggers during the season who did less than slug the ball against Boston. Cepeda collected only three hits in 29 trips to the plate while McCarver was 3-for-24.

"If they had been hitting better, we could have won in five games," Javier said. "But we win like this all year—someone picks up someone else."

If Lonborg had had a third day of rest, perhaps the teams would still be playing. Lonborg, however, wasn't using that as an alibi.

"Maybe I wasn't so sharp because I had only two days rest," said the 24-year-old right-hander who was 22-9 during the season.

"However, I made some bad pitches. Dick wanted to take me out in the sixth, but I wanted to stay in there. As long as my arm feels good, I want to stay in the game."

Added Williams:

"He's my best, and I stuck with him. He's a helluva pitcher. I wouldn't swap him for any-

Texas Takes Meet

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas won a triangular cross-country meet as Brian Woolsey of the Longhorns was the individual winner over the three-mile Town Lake course in 14:38.

The Longhorns scored 30 points. Texas A&M was second with 42 and Baylor had 57.

Shorthorns, Shoats Win

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Steve Worster was regarded as one of the finest Texas high school football players in history when he graduated at Bridge City last fall. He showed signs of adding to that accomplishment with the Texas freshmen Thursday night.

Worster gained 182 yards on 29 carries and scored two touchdowns as the Shorthorns beat the Baylor Cubs 35-14 in the first frosh game of the season for both teams.

He scored on runs of 53 yards and one yard as Texas tallied in every quarter. Monty Johnson passed 39 yards to Danny Lester on the last play of the first half to give the Shorthorns a 14-7 halftime lead.

Texas Tech, which went undefeated in winning the Southwest Conference freshman title last year, suffered its first loss in two seasons when Arkansas won 24-14 Thursday night.

Arkansas' Mike Schaufele returned the opening kickoff 89 yards for a touchdown. Bill Montgomery of the Shoats completed 15 of 22 passes for 180 yards.

Vernon Marlar scored with 52 seconds to play and then ran over a two-point conversion as Texas Christian edged North Texas 21-20. It was TCU's second victory of the season.

Bishops Eye Seminary Reforms

Roman Catholic synod of bishops has begun thrashing out a relatively new problem for the church—seminary reform.

Until the second Vatican Council, which ended two years ago, the education of candidates for the priesthood was not a topic of concerned debate at the highest echelons of the church. Discipline was strict, courses of study were generally fixed and the seminaries tended to take care of themselves.

The council came up with a new view of seminaries, advocating the broadening of studies for the priesthood, the scrapping of outdated forms of teaching and the transfer of much power on seminary decisions from the Vatican to local bishops.

The synod has seminaries as one of its five official agenda topics, and bishops are not mincing words in the debate.

Maronite Patriarch Paul Meouchi of Lebanon told the synod Thursday: "From the moral viewpoint (seminary training) is lacking in genuine character formation and so we run the risk of having, instead of real men (as priests) only retarded adolescents."

But Archbishop Casimiro Morcillo of Madrid warned the synod: "It is a fact of experience that vocations (applications for priesthood) are diminishing in number in those seminaries which have tried to be more open to modern demands while they are on the increase in seminaries which have retained their traditions of austerity."

Witnesses Set Assembly At Abilene

Roy Chamberlain, local spokesman for the Snyder congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, has announced a three-day assembly which is to be held in Abilene Oct. 27-29.

"The meeting to be held in the Fairgrounds Exhibits Building, East Highway 36 is for advanced Bible instruction and a study of modern preaching methods," Chamberlain said.

The conclave is expected to attract more than 500 delegates from some 16 different towns. The theme of the meeting that will be stressed according to Mr. Chamberlain is "Walking Orderly by Spirit," Gal. 5:25. Chamberlain further stated, "the gathering is not a revival, but is a regular part of an advanced ministerial training program for the Witnesses and other persons interested in the Bible. Special attention will be given to imparting Bible instruction and a better understanding of prophecy, to enable Jehovah's Witnesses and others attending to apply Bible Principles more fully in their everyday lives."

The program which will cover Friday, Saturday, and Sunday will have features especially designed to help the youth.

"For that reason whole congregations with their families, young and old alike, will be in attendance. There are no special delegates selected to attend."

Chamberlain said, the majority in the local congregation plan to attend all three days.

New Safety Standards Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cribs and playpens for infant auto passengers, windshields that don't pop out and roll bars for motorcycles are among 47 new motor vehicle safety standards the government is considering.

The proposals, announced Thursday by Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd, would become effective in 1969 or later.

The first federal safety standards were issued earlier this year.

Cribs and other restraints for infants would be an extension of an earlier standard which requires seat belts for children up to 50 pounds who are able to sit upright.

The proposed amended standard calls for "rearward facing infant seats, forward facing infant seats and portable cribs and playpens . . ."

New cars apparently would be required to have fittings so such devices could be installed by owners, a department spokesman said.

The motorcycle standard would require foot rests, roll bars and exhaust system covers.

The windshield standard, intended to keep people from being thrown out of vehicles during crashes, would require mountings to prevent pop outs.

These and seven other standards would be effective Jan. 1, 1968. Law requires the government to announce proposals in advance so interested parties can make suggestions.

MORE THAN SAVING SOULS

Missions Expand, Diversify

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — An electrical engineer in Liberia, a commercial artist in Johannesburg, A psychiatric staff in Lucknow, India. A cattleman in Peru. An economics teacher in Turkey.

These are among today's changing models of Christian missionaries, which often aren't even called that anymore.

As their numbers grow, their activities are becoming so diversified, their problems so compounded and their role so spread beyond its former concentration on making converts that the whole operation has come in for recurrent questioning.

At a recent meeting of the American Roman Catholic mission-sending societies, one expert said the old goals no longer are valid, that the movement has served its purposes and should be dismantled in the interests of wider objectives.

"The era of the foreign missionary movement as we have known it is definitely over," said the Rev. Ronan Hoffman, who teaches missiology at the Catholic University of America. He added that it must give way to over-all serving, rather than direct persuading.

Some others disagreed, in part.

"There are huge parts of the globe where the Gospel has as yet made practically no impression," said the Rev. Avery Dulles, of Woodstock College, Md. He said adaptations are needed, but the special task of conveying knowledge of Christ must go on.

While the emphasis vary, there is general recognition that the churches' missionary operation is in a time of transition, of more ecumenical teamwork, of greater involvement of laymen, of more utilitarian functions, of broader aims.

"It is more than 'saving souls'," says the Rev. Dr. Tracey K. Jones Jr., Methodist world missions official. "It includes saving nations, cultures and civilizations. The task is to proclaim by word and act the Lordship of Christ over every aspect of man's life."

That covers a wide gamut of efforts to improve the lot of people, and an indication of its variety shows up in a sampling of some of the recent mission undertakings.

Lutherans have developed a 700-acre tea plantation at Santal, India, eventually to be taken over by natives, with profits going to medical and educational work.

The United Church — Congregationalists—and a French ecumenical agency started a program in Dakar, Senegal, Africa, in which women learn to keep house.

Finding a sugar shortage in a cane-producing area in Paraguay, Disciples of Christ—Christian Churches— missionaries opened a sugar-processing plant.

To help poor settlers get started raising cattle in a recently cleared jungle area in Peru, Methodists set up a breeding herd at Cebu, from which initial stock is being distributed to homesteaders.

Such diversity, ranging from credit unions to literacy courses to soil conservation, has become a hallmark of the mission enterprise.

Today, it includes about 30,000 American Protestants and more than 9,000 American roman Catholics serving in areas around the world, figures which have more than doubled since 1945.

Homecoming At Union Methodist

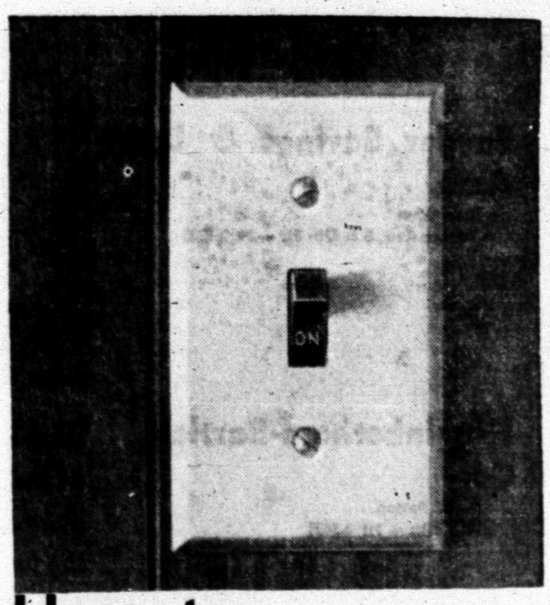

The Union Methodist Church has scheduled Homecoming for Sunday Oct. 15, in observance of the 62nd anniversary of the church.

The program will start with the church School at 10 o'clock, followed by the morning worship service at 11. The Rev. Harvey Carrell of Iraan will be the guest speaker. Rev. Carrell, a former Snyder resident and former member of Union Methodist Church, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Carrell.

Lunch will be served in the fellowship hall of the church. After a period of visiting, the afternoon program will begin at 2 p.m. It will feature reminiscences, recognition of former members and other visitors, special music and a devotional.

The public is invited.

Whosoever Will may come to Church may come to God...

STEPS TO GOD

The Bible says for us not to neglect church attendance, Heb. 10:25. Here we find a family on the way up the steps to an hour of worship. The church is the strongest dyke against corruption and the evil forces that destroy human life. The church is the foe of the penitentiary. Jesus said, "I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it," Matt. 16:18.

The church is not perfect... nothing human ever is. Even the Apostles chosen by Jesus had a Judas, but see the success He made of the other eleven. Christ loved the church enough to die for it and that makes it mighty important. Whether people worship in a tent, tabernacle or cathedral, they mean to be on God's side. Church-going people are people of Faith. Do you go to church?
