Vandals, Forgers Hit Local Area

Teenager Passes Bogus Checks, Vandals Damage Businesses

Malicious, wanton vandalism has been recorded in and around Olton with reports of three different locations being hit Monday night.

High Plains Seed and Delinting bore the brunt of the night's havoc. Estimates of damages done to the company's location just north of town and to the elevator unit north of Circle have been listed at $1,000.

One or more persons broke the glass from the door to High Plains main office building to gain entry. Nothing was believed to have been stolen although contents of filing cabinets, shelves and a desk were strewn about the floor and trod upon.

"It looked like a pick up load of papers behind my desk," said Thetis Haddad, bookkeeper for the company.

The company's northwest site appeared to have been the target of a king-sized hailstorm. One lone window escaped being broken in the office building.

A truck parked nearby was left completely glass-less. The shatterproof windshield had been struck repeatedly, other windows broken, headlights smashed, stop lights, parking lights and reflectors were all broken. Exterior rear view mirrors were also shattered.

The third instance of willful wreckage occured at the now vacant service station owned by Ivin Wozencraft and formerly operated as Wozey's Texaco Station. An electric light unit over gas pumps was knocked down. Damage to two of the pumps had occurred at an earlier date.

Discovery was made last week of forcible entry to the Burrus estate farm home, the second target for burglarism since November.

Missing in the latest break-in were family heirlooms, two brass lamps and a coffee table with treasured mementos under its glass top.

Olton was also visited last week by a teenaged forged check "artist". The 15-year-old girl was later apprehended in Hale Center when she cashed her second bogus check in that town.

Bill McClain of McClains Grocery became suspicious after having cashed one of the vouchers and went to alert his fellow merchants. Raymond Powers of Don's Super Market, forewarned of the suspect's description, cashed her second check and alerted Hale Center officers who made the arrest.

Victims of the forger in Olton were Leon's Grocery, Don's Super Market and Duncan's 5 and 10. Amounts of the checks, passed in Olton and a number of other area towns, were $25, $35 and $45.

Hart Couple Hits Cattle, No One Injured In Mishap

Vegetarians they aren't, but Claude and Irene Cox have had about all the beef they want - at least when it's served from a highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox, returning home Friday night after attending the Longhorn-Spade basketball games in Spade, collided with a couple of cows and two calves who failed to "Yield right of way" on Farm to Market highway 168 south of Olton.

Last Spring, returning home one night from seeing "The Bible" at a Dimmitt Theater, the Coxes had a similar accident when a one-cow-one-car collision resulted in total loss to their car but fortunately no injuries to the Coxes or their three children.

As in the earlier accident, neither Mr. nor Mrs. Cox, alone at the time, were injured in Friday night's mishap. Investigating highway patrolman, Bill Angel, estimated a probable $600 damages to the Cox's automobile. The calves were killed and one cow had all four legs broken and had to be killed.

Mrs. Cox said that she believed they would have been seriously injured or killed had they not noticed the sudden braking of a car in front of them driven by H. L. Cheatham.

Discovering that an entire herd had broken out and were crossing the highway, Cox and R. G. Henderson, traveling behind the Coxes, used their vehicle's blinking signal lights to warn others. The school bus, carrying 27 youngsters, was just a short distance back.

Keep Those Coupons Comin'

Coupon collecting has become the thing to do, whether it be the campus of Wayland Baptist College or campuses and communities across the nation.

The coupons, better known as Betty Crocker coupons, will enable Larry Parks of Circleville, Ohio to have a fighting chance against Bright's Disease and inevitable death.

Parks, a 24-year-old ministerial student at Wayland before he learned a short time ago of his illness, has been told by doctors that he must have a kidney transplant or the use of a kidney machine which costs $60,000.

Students on the Wayland campus have been instrumental for much of the heartwarming response in collecting the coupons. General Mills, working with the Kidney Foundation, will exchange the precious machine for 600,000 coupons.

Anyone wishing to help is asked to leave the coupons at any of the local grocery stores or hand them to any Wayland student.

Think About It

If you own a home, eat food, wear clothes, drive an automobile, or are elderly and live on a fixed income from a pension or savings, you have a very direct interest in the cost of government. Federal spending, in the memory of pre-World War I citizens, has risen from $1 billion a year to some $200 billion a year.

Total welfare payments alone distributed by federal, state and local agencies, not to mention private giving, would probably be impossible to ascertain, but it would amount to more than the total cost of government a few short years ago. And in the taxing process, government itself has expanded almost beyond control.

When you get right down to it, all the finespun theories, as to the cause of inflation, come back to the uncontrolled cost of government. It is folly to place all the blame for inflation on industry and labor. They have contributed their part to it through price increases and demands for wage boosts. But, these are symptoms rather than causes of inflation. The people themselves and their insistance on new and expanded federal programs and increased spending are the primary cause of inflationary pressures.

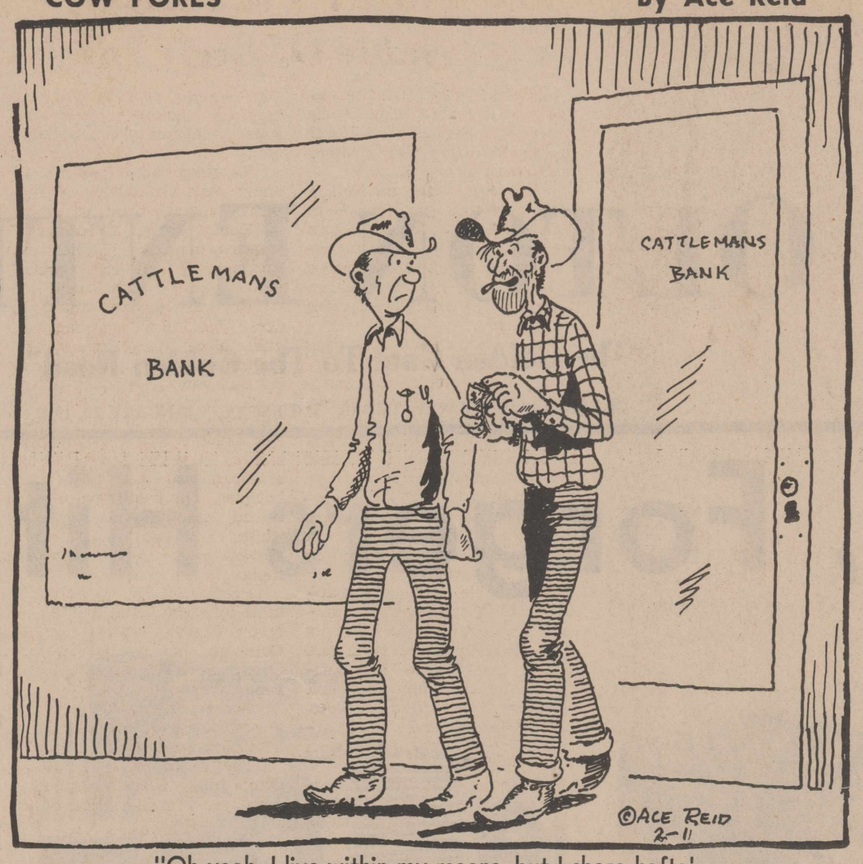

Only as the people restrain their desire for government gifts and insist on economy and moderation in public spending will there be any hope for inflation relief, job security and easing of prices and taxation.

Generation Gap

The "generation gap" may not be as wide as many people think. According to a recent authoritative opinion survey, adults and teen-agers agree on a number of important points concerning college student demonstrations. Both teen-agers and adults think that the colleges have been "too easy" on student demonstrators. Teen-agers and adults agree in the belief that the demonstrators are breaking the law. A substantial percentage of both teen-agers and adults believe that law-breaking student demonstrators should be taken to court. Both teen-agers and adults also agree to a substantial extent that demonstrations are the work of small groups of troublemakers on campus. The draft and opposition to the Viet Nam war are seen by teen-agers and adults alike as primary causes of student demonstrations. Adults and teen-agers differ in the matter of whether students should have more say concerning the academic side of colleges. The majority of teen-agers would like more control over courses, examinations and so forth, while a majority of adults believe otherwise.

Perhaps the gap of understanding between youth and adult is not as wide as has been popularly assumed. The fact is that each generation faces many unknowns, and so far each has met the test and has contributed to the growing strength and well-being of the nation.

COW POKES — By Ace Reid

"Oh yeah, I live within my means, but I shore hafta' borrow a lot of money to do it!"

Dear Editor

Here's My Coupons

Dear Mrs. Cannon

My neighbor, Mrs. Jerry McKay of Fort Worth, receives the Olton Enterprise every week. She told me about Larry Parks needing a kidney machine. All I have is 43 coupons that I was saving for some silver flatware. I decided that my flatware can wait because his need is much worse than mine, so I am donating my coupons to him. I know that 43 is not a very large amount, but I know that they will be appreciated. I live in Fort Worth and have never been to Olton, but Mrs. McKay has told me so many nice things about Olton, that maybe someday I can come for a visit.

Thank you,
Mrs. R. D. Keith, Jr.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Is Church Losing Its Influence?

Police have been ordered to patrol all 46 of the junior high and senior high schools in Washington, D.C., since a 15-year-old-junior high student was killed in an accidental shooting. A year ago, an assistant principal was shot to death in a robbery at the school where he worked.

These incidents point up the increasing peril in our nation and illuminate the sad fact that juvenile delinquency has now matured into juvenile crime of really serious proportions.

Religion Losing Influence?

In 1957, the Gallup Poll showed that 14 percent of Americans believed that religion was "losing its influence on American life." By last year the 14 percent had risen to 70 percent.

Would a return to reading of the Bible help to stem the tide — or is it too late?

In England, a publishing house is putting on a massive advertising campaign to promote sales of its new edition of the Bible. Some of the advertisements have indeed attracted attention.

For example, one advertisement asked, "Who do you think Christ was? An old-fashioned Billy Graham? The first true Socialist? Or the Son of God?"

Has much of the unrest and violence in our nation been caused by down-grading the influence of the Word of God?

Remember, our public-school reading books, in an earlier generation, stressed the values taught by the Bible and students were instructed and trained to have a reverence for God and His Word. Are we proving true the statement, "They have sown the wind and they shall reap the whirlwind"?

A dramatic example of the power of the Bible was reported, some years ago, by Clarence W. Hall, who was a war correspondent with US Army troops in the Pacific Theater during World War II.

As the troops advanced across Okinawa in 1945, Hall relates, the advance party was met by two elders of the town of Shimabuku.

"Strangely enough," he relates, "they seemed to need the services of a chaplain." So Hall went in the jeep with the chaplain and met the two old men, who told the Americans that they would like to have a Bible and a picture of Jesus.

Then the story came out.

Power of the Bible

Thirty years before, a missionary had passed through Okinawa on his way to Japan. He was able to stay only a few days, but he did have time to talk with these two men, who were converted to Christ.

The missionary taught them two songs and left them a Bible.

Hall reports that, while Okinawa was filled with communities which were "poverty-stricken, filthy, diseased, heathen," Shimabuku was "clean, neat, and progressive; the people friendly and polite."

What had made the difference? This is what Hall says, "Evidently the lone Bible and two songs—for Shosei and Mojun (the two elders) had led that village in building its entire life upon the Sacred Volume."

Why is it that we, the inheritors of a culture built on trust in God and reverence for His Word, neglect the reading of this Book?

What will be the consequences if we continue to ignore its teachings?

PREPACKAGING

The New Year may bring prepackaged cantaloupes, honeydews and watermelon halved, quartered or sliced into produce departments, says Gwendolyne Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist. Prepackaging ready-to-serve grapefruit halves and peeled oranges are other expected developments.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Livesay had as guests their daughter, Mrs. Milton Horst, her son Gregg and his friend, T. J. Price, all of Lubbock.

MRS. JIM CURTSINGER

Cook Of The Week

Our Cook of the Week, Jean Curtsinger, moved with her husband Jim and little son to Olton shortly before school started last August. For Jean, it meant moving back to the place of her birth.

Jean's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wofford, moved from Olton to Fort Worth when she was just a little girl. Her dad had been with Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Company. When Jean was in the third grade, her family moved to Lockney where she graduated from high school and where her parents still live.

The young Curtsingers met while attending West Texas State University. Jim is a graduate of Hereford High School. Following his graduation from WT, they served their "hitch" with the army and then Jim began his career as a basketball coach. Prior to their move to Olton, he was coach at Idalou. Jim also teaches a class in bookkeeping at Olton High.

In addition to being housewife and mother of Scott, now a three-year-old, Jean was secretary to the superintendent of schools in Idalou. She is presently secretary for Joe Turner, high school principal.

Shortly after moving to Olton, an adorable little daughter became the newest Curtsinger. Tori is now four months old.

Jean hasn't time for hobbies, through these years she's busy being Jim's wife, Scott's and Tori's mother, and "in her spare time," doing secretarial work, the field she studied as a co-ed on the West Texas campus.

The Curtsingers attend the Main Street Church of Christ.

Dorcas And Sarah Classes Have Fellowship Study

The Dorcas and Sarah Sunday school classes met Tuesday evening in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church.

"Teach Me To Pray" was the opening song. Mrs. Homer Curry presided over the meeting.

Mrs. L. G. Elkins gave the devotional from the subject "Coats Off To The Future". Wearing a hat symbolizing the year 1969, she cast off the hat showing that cycle of time was gone. Her coat represented the New Year which now engulfs us.

She emphasized that one must forget the problems and failures of 1969 and with all zeal face the tasks of the present.

Scriptures used were Luke 2:10-12, Isiah 54:2 and 2 Cor. 5:17. Mrs. Elkins illustrated the need to put spiritual stakes down deeper by telling of children whose tent was blown over because they did not drive their stakes down deep enough.

Mrs. Elkins also urged that one should not be overcome by criticism and other difficulties. She told of an old horse who fell in a well. His master decided to bury him there but the horse rose above each shovel of dirt by tramping it. In this way he came to the top of the well.

Pointing out that through prayer and work we are able to overcome the obstacles placed in our way, Mrs. Elkins also stressed the urgency of our going and telling in person the story of Christ.

Mrs. Elkins and Mrs. Merle Sharp served refreshments of party crackers, cheese pimento spread, pumpkin bread and spiced tea.

Attending also were Mmes. Jack Estes, Rufus DeBerry, Jewell Campbell, Ray Copeland and Ray Copeland.

If Everyone

(Editor's Note: The following poem, with its timely message, is written by Olton's new City Marshal, Ped Hunt.)

IF EVERYONE

If everyone who drives a car
Could lie a month in bed
With broken bones and stitched-up wounds,
Or fractures of the head.
And there undure the agonies
That many people do,
They'd never need preach safety
Any more to me or you.

If everyone could stand beside
The bed of some close friend
And hear the Doctor say "No Hope"
Before that fatal end.
And see him there unconscious
Never knowing what took place,
The laws and the rules of traffic
I am sure we'd embrace.

If everyone could meet
And step into the darkened home
Where once the sunlight shined.
And look upon "The Vacant Chair"
Where Daddy used to sit,
I am sure each reckless driver
Would be forced to think a bit.

If everyone who takes the wheel
Would say a little prayer,
And keep in mind those in the car
Depending on his care.
And make a vow and pledge himself
To never take a chance,
The great crusade for safety
Would suddenly advance.

Melvin Rape Is Chairman

Melvin Rape of Olton has been appointed local chairman for the Boy Scout annual Sustaining Membership Enrollment campaign to be launched on March 4, 1970, according to Marshal Formby, Plainview, Sustaining Membership chairman for the Haynes District.

The chairman pointed out that this campaign will represent the second year of a new method of securing funds for the operation of the Scout Council. Previously an annual finance campaign was held in the fall of the year. Under the current plan, the financial supporters of the council are enrolled as annual Sustaining Members, and support Scouting in a financial way much the same as others give of their time and effort on behalf of the Scouting program.

Funds raised through the membership effort will be used to underwrite the budget of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, a 20 county area in West Texas.

The South Plains Council uses the funds secured to provide essential services to local Scout groups. Included in the services are the organization of new Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops, and Explorer Posts; the operation of Camps Post and Tres Ritos; training courses for Scout leaders; area wide activities including camporees, courts of honor, Boy Scout Week celebrations; operation of the Scout office as a service center for the 20 county area; and a staff of trained executives who work with local Scout and community leaders as advisors in the operation of the Scouting program.

The local chairman will soon appoint members of a steering committee for the campaign. These people will be responsible for the membership enrollments, publicity, audit, and special memberships.

Texas Democrats Urging 'Everybody' To Register

"OPERATION: EVERYBODY!" chairman, Mrs. James A. McMullen, III of Fort Worth announced that Lamb county has attained 42.2 percent of its quota as set by the Texas Democratic Party.

"That figure puts Lamb county in 11th place in its division," County Chairman Glenn Batson said. "The statewide goal is to have 4,250,000 Texans registered by the time the 123-day voter registration period ends, Saturday, January 31."

"OPERATION: EVERYBODY!" is a project of the State Democratic Executive Committee. Mrs. Carol Vance of Houston, as vice-chairman, served with Mrs. McMullen on the special drive.

"More than half of the statewide goal has been reached," Glenn Batson said. "Voter registration application forms are at the County Tax Assessor's office in the courthouse."

"Lamb county will be competing with other counties of similar size for state-wide recognition in meeting and exceeding their quotas," Batson said.

Gold, silver and bronze plaques will be awarded to the counties which exceed their quotas by the highest margins.

Lamb county is striving for the gold plaque according to Batson.

Answer To Advanced Payment Plea

Mr. Eldon Franks, Manager
Olton Chamber of Commerce
Olton, Texas

Dear Eldon:

I appreciate hearing from you with regard to the problem involving advance payments on the 1970 feed grain program. Please note the attached which I have written to others who have contacted me on this subject.

Regards.
George Mahon

Dear Friend:

I have just read your letter of recent date in regard to the announcement that advance payments would not be made onthe 1970 feed grain program. I am very much disturbed about this matter. Agricultural credit is extremely difficult, interest rates are high, producers have been counting on the advance payment, and the advance payment this year is more urgently needed than in prior years.

Recently I talked personally over the telephone with Secretary Hardin and with Assistant Secretary Clarence Palmby, explaining that the announcement that no advance payments would be made had been very shocking and disturbing to producers and that I wanted to urge the Administration to proceed with the advance payments. I have appealed to the President through Budget Director Robert Mayo, urging that the advance payments be made.

I shall continue to do everything in my power to persuade the Administration to reverse its decision. No doubt Members of Congress from many agricultural areas, individual farmers, and farm organizations are making a strong plea to the Administration to reconsider and proceed to make the advance payments available.

The Administration takes the position that the advance payments will not be made regardless of the seriousness of the situation. Officials seem adamant but do say that payments will be made promptly after the beginning of the new fiscal year.

You may be sure of my continued best efforts. All good wishes.

Cordially,
George Mahon.

Film Rating System Changes

Dear Editor:

Because the nation-wide film rating system is of importance to movie-goers in your community, I am anxious to describe what it is and what it is not, what it tries to do and what it does not do.

The movie rating system has one objective: To inform the public, especially parents, about the suitability of movie content for viewing by their children. That is its only aim and purpose.

The film rating system does not rate films for adults. A film is not rated for artistic quality, or lack of it. The system does not recommend films or ban films or censor films. It provides a public information service, which the great majority of responsible film producers and distributors believe is desired by parents.

A recently completed nation-wide survey conducted by the Opinion Research Corporation of Princeton, New Jersey, has revealed some significant findings about how the public responded to this new program in its first year of operation.

Fifty-eight per cent of the movie-going public considers the rating system "very useful" or "useful" in helping parents guide the movie-going of their children. Only 16 per cent does not find it useful. ("No opinion" was the answer of the rest.)

The survey also pointed out the need for some revision. Because the "M" category (M: For Mature audiences, parental discretion advised) was confusing to a substantial portion of the public, that category's description is being changed to "GP: All Ages Admitted, Parental Guidance Suggested." Moreover, in order to strengthen the system even further, the age limit in "R" and "X" films is raised to 17.

The following then are the revised rating symbols and admission policies:

MOVIE RATINGS FOR PARENTS AND YOUNG PEOPLE

G - All Ages Admitted. General Audiences.

GP - All Ages Admitted. Parental Guidance Suggested.

(Note that the above two categories have an unrestricted admission policy.)

R - Restricted. Under 17 requires Accompanying Parent or Adult Guardian.

X - No One Under 17 admitted. (This age limit may vary in certain areas.)

How do these rating categories translate into usuable guidance for parents?

G. Films rated G include those with a broad range of theme and appeal to both the young and their elders. These films, in the judgment of the rating board, contain no material which parents would find objectionable for viewing by their youngsters.

GP. While much like a G film, a GP film is more sophisticated in treatment. Because tastes and standards vary by geographical area and even by neighborhood, some parents may want to give guidance to their children, but both G and GP films are open to all ages.

R. These are films for adult themes or adult treatment, but a picture that persons under 17 may see if they are accompanied by a parent or adult guardian, such as their teacher on an organized movie outing.

X. No one under 17 will be admitted. It should be noted that many X films have not been submitted to the Code and Rating Administration. These non-submitted films self-apply the X rating. No X film may carry the Seal of Approval of the Code and Rating Administration.

This, in brief, is the movie rating system. Responsible leaders in the motion picture industry are providing these ratings as a public service to parents and families. We try to make the ratings as accurate as humans can, though we know there will always be disagreements with our judgment. Meanwhile, we are continuing to urge responsible film-makers to command all their skills to produce movies of good taste and creative excellence.

Many Motorists Awaiting Last Minute Inspections

With the State's April 15 motor vehicle inspection deadline approximately 90 days away, large numbers of Texas motorists have yet to take their vehicles in for the mandatory annual safety inspection.

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today urged all motorists whose vehicles have not been inspected to visit an inspection station as soon as possible. "Those getting the inspection now will avoid long lines which are certain to develop at many stations as the April 15 deadline draws near," he said.

The DPS Director noted that Texas adopted an annual inspection program on September 1, 1969. All vehicles inspected since that date have had the sticker placed on the left side of the windshield with a large number tab inserted to show the month of expiration.

For example, vehicles inspected in September have the number nine displayed and will require inspection before September 30, 1970. Those inspected in October have the number 10 and must be reinspected before October 31, 1970. Vehicles which are inspected in January will bear the number one and reinspection will be required before January 31, 1971.

All vehicles which currently have a sticker on the right side of the windshield have not been reinspected in compliance with the new law, and their owners have only until April 15 to visit an approved inspection station.

Weather Affects Micronaire Says Research Foundation

Weather plays a significant role in the production of High Plains Crops annually and somewhere there should be a key that will permit men to analyze the weather pattern.

This is the topic of continuing research at the High Plains Research Foundation as scientists compile yearly weather data to see if weather trends can be established.

One item of interest found in past weather records at the Foundation projects is that good cotton years are preceded by relatively warm months of February and colder months of March.

This was the case in 1969.

Jim Valliant, soil scientist, said in looking back over the past year, the high micronaire in area cotton might have been expected.

He pointed out that cotton fiber development takes place when the temperature is above 70 degrees F. and that for every 18 degrees above 70 degress, the rate of fiber development doubles.

"Looking back over our weather chart for 1969, we can see where the mean maximum temperature ranged from 90 degrees beginning in early June to a high of approximately 100 degrees in the latter part of June and stayed at an average of 98 degrees through July and the first part of August," he stated.

"This means we had three months of excellent growing weather and extremely good fiber development temperatures from the first three weeks in bloom," he said.

"Also, the amount of low mike cotton in plant tops was reduced due to the early freeze." the scientist added. However, he pointed out, the freeze and cool weather in September accounted for some of the lower grades. The discount of "barky" cotton was due to excessive vegetative regrowth because of a cool wet September.

Cotton was not the only crop helped by the higher temperatures of the early part of the growing season. Valliant said corn sprouted and took advantage of the hotter growing weather to reach a good height to provide ground shading that reduced the amount of irrigation duced the amount of irrigation usually necessary for corn production.

Sorghum suffered through the hot weather which occurred at a time of high water requirement and irrigation applications became a critical factor in sorghum development.

Soybeans flowering during this three months "hot" period showed the effects of heat by "shedding" the flowers. Valliant said the cool weather in bean varieties flowering during the early fall period.

Rainfall at the High Plains Research Foundation for 1969 totaled 26 inches, about seven inches more than the average 18 to 19 inches. June and September tied in accumulating the most rainfall at 4.75 inches each. May rainfall totaled 4.05 inches and October was fourth with 3.05 inches.

July rainfall totaled 2.75 inches and March received a total 2.05 inches including 1.75 inches in snowfall. August received a total of two inches of rainfall. November and April were the only two months reporting rainfall at less than two inches, totaling 1.35 inches and 1.25 inches respectively.

As for an outlook at weather for 1970, none of the scientists at the Foundation will venture a guess. However, one of them pointed to an article in "Crops and Soils" magazine entitled, "Climate in the 70's" which pointed out that the 1960's was a period of cool, wet weather and that the 1970's could be entering a period of hot, dry weather.

A FATHER'S STORY -

Sorry I'm late but last night our teenager used my car. When I left for work this morning:

Hunted for spare set of car keys, went to garage, opened car door, removed from car four pop bottles, two popcorn boxes, three sneakers.

I got in the car, rolled up windows, adjusted driver's seat, adjusted rearview mirror, adjusted side-view mirror, fastened seat belt, turned on ignition, turned down radio volume, backed up six feet, turned off ignition, set hand brake, unfastened seat belt, got out of car, removed chewing gum from sole of right door, disengaged radio antenna from garage door, got back in car, fastened seat belt, turned on ignition, released hand brake, backed out of garage, drove eight blocks, turned off ignition, set hand brake, unfastened seat belt, got out of car, and walked five blocks to station for gas.

Follow The Instructions Asks Highway Department

The Texas Highway Department is sporting a red face.

In recent news releases announcing the new computerized motor vehicle registration system, Department information specialists wrote:

"Easy - to- follow instuctions are printed on the three-part form."

That must be a mistake -- because a lot of motorists haven't been following instructions. And mistakes generate confusion.

This is the first year that the Department has gone to the new system, which includes an order-by-mail program for obtaining 1970 motor vehicle license plates.

But just to make sure that motorists do understand the "easy-to-follow instructions", they are:

1. Each motorist whose vehicle was registered last year has or will receive in the mail a long, narrow envelope with a printed message on the front reading: "Important --This is Your License Plate Renewal Application."

2. The envelope will contain a three-part form. DO NOT SEPARATE THE THREE PARTS.

3. You may renew your motor vehicle license registration during January and February by mailing the three-part form (intact) and your check to your county tax collector. Add $1 for postage and handling charges for each vehicle. License plates will be mailed February 1 and thereafter.

4. You may renew your motor vehicle license registration during February and March by taking the three-part form (intact) and your check to the tax collector's office or substation.

That's it! Now see if you are one of the seven million-plus Texas motorists who can follow those "easy-to-follow instructions."

WATER RESOURCES

The University of Texas Center for Research in Water Resources recently received special recognition from the U. S. government and the World Health Organization (WHO). Dr. E. F. Gloyna, CRWR director and UT Austin professor of environmental health engineering, said the Center has been designated as a WHO Collaborating Institution for Wastes Disposal, and a Center of Competence for Document Processing in the Area of Wastewater Treatment by the U. S. Department of the Interior's Water Resources Scientific Information Center (WRSIC). As one of seven centers of competence selected by the federal government, the Center will provide a national abstracting service for wastewater treatment reports from throughout the country.

MEDICAL AFFILIATION

An affiliation agreement with two medical groups in Temple has been approved by The University of Texas System Board of Regents. The agreement is with the Scott and White Clinic and with the Scott and White Memorial Hospital and Scott, Sherwood and Brindley Foundation. The purpose of the affiliation, which extends for 10 years, is "to establish a broad framework of institutional policies to facilitate cooperation between the University and Scott and White at the departmental or service level, or both."

Department Of Public Safety Seeks Hit-And-Run Driver

The Texas Department of Public Safety today issued a special public appeal for any kind of information which might lead to the apprehension of a hit-and-run driver whose car struck and killed a young highway patrolman on US 80 east of Weatherford, Parker County, at 2:43 a. m. Sunday, December 7.

Patrolman Douglas Thompson, 26, married and the father of a five-year-old son, was killed by the hit-and-run car while standing at the side of the road interviewing a traffic violator. The car sped on at a high rate of speed after the impact without any sign of hesitation.

Specifically, the DPS is seeking information that might help locate the killer car which has been identified as a white, 1960 model Ford "Fairlane" or "Fairlane 500" four-door with damage to the front right side. The damage included the loss of the right front fender ornament, which was found at the scene, along with a 43-inch long chrome strip from the right front door. Also found at the scene were the first two letters--"Fa"--which had been knocked off the "Fairlane" emblem on the side of the right front fender.

Reason for the renewed appeal for assistance in locating this car, said Col. Wilson E. Speir, DPS Director, is the belief that several reported "leads" which didn't prove out may have led people to think the death car had been located.

"We again earnestly solicit the help of anyone who might recall having seen such a vehicle in the past four or five weeks on the road, or perhaps being repaired at a repair shop, back-yard garage, or some seemingly inconspicuous place," Speir explained.

"We are determined to continue the search for this vehicle and its driver whose wanton act of lawlessness in leaving the death scene should be dealt with accordingly."

The DPS called upon any citizen who might have information he thinks would be helpful in this case to contact either of the following:

Bob Andrews, Texas Highway Patrol, Box 329, Weatherford, Texas, 76086 -- Telephone Area Code 817, 594-6936, or

Tom Arnold, Texas Ranger, 300 West Belknap, Fort Worth, 76102 -- Telephone: Area Code 817, 336-9541, or

The nearest office of the Highway Patrol or Texas Rangers, which is listed under "Texas Department of Public Safety" in the telephone book.
