Woman Held In Littlefield Shooting

Many Persons Killed As London Suffers Heavy Bombing

Incessant Waves Of Nazi Planes Raid Capital

Much Damage In City Is Caused By Big Bombs

(By The Associated Press)

GERMAN bombers attacking London last night in the worst early-evening raid since the air siege of the British isles began, killed an undetermined number of London residents and caused much damage in the city.

Many persons were killed in a hotel bar when a bomb exploded outside the building. Two others were killed by a bomb hit on a cafe and an undetermined number of casualties resulted from a hit on a London club.

City Fiercely Attacked

The assault slowed down sufficiently during the early hours today (Sunday) to allow a brief all-clear period but the raiders returned in a few minutes. However, they appeared to concentrate on outlying districts in the renewed attack.

Incessant waves of bombers fiercely attcked the city in the early hours of the raid.

Waves of 15 to 20 planes unloaded heavy bombs at five minute intervals. More offices and homes crumbled and just after midnight a direct hit wrecked part of a hospital.

Bombs Fall In Clusters

Bombs fell not singly but in big clusters all over the capital. Firemen fought desperately against numerous fires.

The RAF counter-attacked against German positions on the French "invasion coast" and watchers in England saw the pyramiding fire of explosions and anti-aircraft defense across the English channel.

Greece shaped up as the pivotal battlefield of the diplomatic war in southeast Europe.

Although there was no confirmation of Cairo reports that ultimatum-like axis demands already have been made in Athens, there were signs they might be soon.

There were said to be demands that King George II of Greece abdicate, Premier-Dictator John Metaxas resign to make way for a pro-axis government, Greece break off trade with Britain, cede territory to Italy and Bulgaria and gave the axis rights to air bases.

Existence of such demands was denied in Berlin but in Rome, the usually well-informed fascist weekly, Relazioni Internazionali, hinted

Dies Says He May Reveal His Evidence

CHICAGO, Oct. 19. (AP)—Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex) declared tonight that "if the government doesn't define or adopt a firm and uniform policy putting an end to political activities of representatives of foreign powers in the United States, I propose to make public all the evidence I have on the subject."

"I want a clear definition of policy from the federal government as to what it plans to do about consular representatives of Russia, Germany, Italy, England and other countries engaged in political activities in this country," Dies, chairman of the House committee investigating un-American activities asserted in an interview.

He added he referred to "activities not connected with their official functions."

Dies said that while much evidence had been made public concerning un-American activities, recent evidence obtained by subpoena in New York, Texas, Los Angeles and other parts of the nation had been turned over to the state department.

Former King Carol Is Trying To Enter U. S.

SEVILLE, Spain, Oct. 19 (AP) — Former King Carol of Rumania, it was learned today, has telephoned several times to Lisbon, Portugal, trying to make arrangements for passage to the United States.

Carol, who abdicated last month, spends most of his time playing cards with Mme. Magda Lupescu, the red-haired friend with whom he fled the Nazi-dominated nation.

Sam Rayburn Is Back Home For Celebration

BONHAM, Oct. 19 (AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House of Representatives came back home for a little breather among the homefolks of Northeast Texas today, full of confidence that the national defense program is "clicking."

Quietly he returned to his home after leaving an early-morning train at Denison. He will take a brief rest before his friends spotlight him Tuesday with a mammoth homecoming celebration including eleven bands with a thousand musicians.

Bonham has prepared to welcome thousands of Rayburn's friends who will felicitate him on his elevation to the speakership and for the leading role he is taking in national affairs. Open house will be held all day at the high school, with Rayburn and members of his family in attendance. There will be a parade at 3 p. m. and Rayburn will speak at 7:30 p. m. The next day he will return to Washington by plane.

Lucky That Captain Had On His Parachute

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 19. (AP)—It was lucky for Capt. Lester G. Orcutt, Des Moines, that he was wearing a parachute today.

The plane crashed in a field, while the astounded officer floated earthward.

War Spark In Balkans May Be Ignited

Reds And Nazis Face Each Other Along Danube

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

GERMAN and Russian army troops face each other in the Danube delta in Rumania under conditions that could strike a war spark in the Balkans at any moment. Anything can happen there, and well may, despite any Berlin and Moscow policy making.

The Nazi and Red armies are traditional foes. The dubious Hitler-Stalin friendship was based on pure expediency. No still existent mutual interest supports it. It does not rest, as does the Berlin-Rome axis, on the same have-not economic yearnings and the will to satisfy them by force.

Russia Lacks Ports

Russia is not a have-not nation. She has greater resources in manpower and raw materials than any nation but China. What she lacks is warmwater ports for year-round commerce with the world.

That is precisely what she has not achieved by siding with Germany for thirteen months. Her costly victory over Finland, swallowing of a trio of little Baltic neighbors, sharing in Polish partition spoils and wresting of Bessarabia back from Rumania are empty gains without assured western and Near Eastern trade outlets.

Had Russia anticipated German seizure of the Baltic-North Sea gateway by invasion of Denmark and Norway as the Nazi war move, the Russo-Nazi non-aggression pact which touched off the war probably would never have been sealed. It eased "two-front" war perils for Hitler. He is now risking in Rumania exactly that, but with a conquered continental Europe, little able to exert counter pressure, behind him.

May Be Bottled Up

And Hitler and Mussolini are threatening Russia with a Black sea duplication of her Baltic plight. She may find herself bottled on both European sea flanks if the axis push eastward goes through.

Russia also has Hitler's word for it that the still expanding greater reich looks longingly on Russian as well as Egyptian economic flesh pots — the breadbasket in the Ukraine, for example, or oil from

Pope Pius Appeals To America For Aid

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 19 (AP)—Pope Pius XII in an appeal to the United States for generous contributions to wartime foreign missions declared today "the peace of the world also is a missionary aim of the church."

The pontiff spoke in English during a brief broadcast on the eve of the observance of "Missionary Sunday" by the 118-year-old Catholic Society for the propagation of the Faith.

In speaking of "the Kingdom of God on Earth" for which Christians pray, he said "this kingdom of peace ... between peoples and nations of the world is based on an equitable adjustment of differences and on that union that comes with right and order."

"At the present hour men are far removed from this peace," the Pope continued. "The intimate sense of common values, both in the natural and supernatural order, threatens to abdicate from many hearts to opposing principles.

"So much more comforting then and inspiring will be your efficacious fidelity to the Catholic missionary spirit."

He called upon Americans to open up their purses liberally to "help rebuild what has been damaged and to reassure those who are discouraged."

Regions involved in the European war, the pontiff said, would "await with confidence" the American response.

Draft Quotas For States Announced

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—National draft headquarters made known today the number of men each state will be expected to contribute to the 800,000 to enter army training by next July 1.

Assignment of the state quotas was the last major step in the draft program before the national lottery which will determine the order in which men will be called. The date for the lottery has not yet been set, but it is expected to be held within the next 10 days.

The total tentative quota for Texas was 33,213, and the allocation for the state's portion of the 400,000 to be called by March 1 was 14,317 whites and 2,549 negroes.

Of the tentative quotas, New York's was the largest, 114,796, and Nevada's the smallest, 624.

With the program moving along swiftly, General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, sent a message to the commanders of the four field armies, saying that "the task now looming before us is the expeditious development of a unified, efficient fighting force of citizen-soldiers."

TEXAS REGISTERS 808,588

AUSTIN, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Texas pool from which the nation may draw military conscripts stood at 808,588 men today. The state's 254 counties registered that number of men between the ages of 21 and 35, the adjutant general's department announced.

No Distinctions To Be Made

He added that in reaching that objective there must be "no pampering of individuals, no distinctions between men because of their previous military experience or condition of entry into the service."

"In a spirit of mutual respect and cooperation," Marshall wrote, "The army of the United States must now proceed with its high purpose of welding from the elements of the American difemocracy, a disciplined, seasoned fighting force, capable of defending the nation."

Figures Are Tentative

State quotas were announced, for the 800,000 trainees to be called by July 1, and also for the first 400,000 to be called by March 1.

They were tentative, and were based on estimates of the number of men who will be classified as fit and available for immediate service, with tentative credits for the number of men each state was estimated to have furnished to the armed services already through voluntary enlistments.

More exact figures will be substituted when it is learned precisely how many fit and available men last Wednesday's registration disclosed in each state, and how many volunteers each state actually has contributed.

Under the regulations, state

Crowd Attends Masonic Meet

Between 80 and 90 men, some of whom came from points as far distant as 400 miles, were present here last night when members of the South Plains Scottish Rite club and invited Master Mason guests observed the Feast of the Tabernacles, an annual affair with members of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry.

Inspirational addresses by H. L. McCume, El Paso lawyer, and El Paso County Judge Joseph R. McGill were highlights of the program presided over by Homer D. Grant, of Lubbock. Others who appeared on the program were Oscar J. Allen, and E. A. Wells, both of El Paso; and George P. Kuykendall, A. V. Weaver, jr., Rabbi Isadore Garsek and C. E. Maedgen, sr., all of Lubbock.

Largest Crowd In History

Largest crowd to attend a Scottish Rite function in Lubbock since the organization of the South Plains club over a dozen years ago, last night's group applauded McCume as he called for a continuation of the American form of government and sketched leading roles played in American history by members of the Masonic order. The applause was particularly heavy when McCume averaged: "And if I'm ever President of the United States, I'll pledge my best efforts to adding three words to the part of the constitution guaranteeing free speech and free press. Those three words will be 'to American citizens,' because I don't believe in providing freedom of speech and

British About Only Nation Using Suez Canal Service

By LARRY ALLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Oct. 19. —War or no war, the Suez canal still is open to international shipping, including Germany's and Italy's, the French director of operations said today, but added in effect: "Just let the axis powers try to get their boats near it."

"We are acting with total independence of any suggestions emanating from Vichy," declared Baron Louis de Benoist, general representative of the canal company." We will continue to afford all possible facilities to ships flying any flag."

The baron was speaking in behalf of the French-dominated operating company. He took into consideration, however, that it is the British fleet, standing guard at both ends, which is exercising real control over the 104.5 mile-long "jugular vein" of the British empire.

His big "if" concerning the chances of axis shipping reaching the canal was emphasized by a British tabulation of losses

Winter Strikes East; Snowfall Heavy In Areas

Four Killed Due To Storm; West Areas Swelter

(By The Associated Press)

FOUR persons were killed tonight in automobile accidents attributed to blinding snow flurries as winter-like weather made a premature appearance along the Eastern seaboard.

At Fort Dix, N. J., two men and two women died and an army chauffer was critically injured as a passenger car and an army beach wagon crashed head-on in swirling snow.

In Philadelphia, Assistant U. S Attorney General Lemuel B. Schofield was struck by an automobile and suffered a leg fracture during a snow storm.

Storm Warnings Hoisted

The weather bureau in Washington, ordered northeast storm warnings hoisted at 11 p. m., EST, from Atlantic City, N. J., southward to the Virginia Capes, and warned of moderate, shifting gales moving rapidly eastward from the southern Appalachian region with increasing intensity.

In New York where the temperature was below freezing, there were light snow flurries but in New Jersey and Pennsylvania the snowfall reached storm proportions.

Summer In The West

Weather forecasts generally predicted rain or cloudy weather with some increase in temperature in most of the Eastern states tomorrow.

While below-freezing weather was visiting New England, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, summer seemed loathe to leave the West, where abnormally high temperatures were equally remarkable. Californians sweltered—it was 101 at Culver City—and Kansans talked about record-breaking temperatures in the high 80's.

Warmer weather was promised the Atlantic states Sunday although snow flurries were forecast for some parts of the New York-New Jersey area.

Frost In Cotton Country

Down in the Cotton country, Meridian, Miss., shivered under a light morning frost. The temperature dropped to 35 at Evergreen in Deep South Alabama. Tallahassee, Fla., reported a 38-degree minimum while most of the South was bracketed in the 40's. Farther north, Richmond, Va., had readings of 30

Leonard Thedford Is Killed; Wife's Mother Charged

MRS. LILA MAE LENCK, 49, was held Saturday night in Lubbock county jail after a murder charge had been filed against her in connection with the fatal shooting at Littlefield of her son-in-law, Leonard Thedford.

Sheriff Sam Hutson of Lamb county said Thedford, 37-year-old Littlefield drug store owner and formerly operator of a cafe here, died almost instantly, apparently of a shot over the heart.

The sheriff signed the complaint, prepared by J. R. Hall, Lamb county attorney, and filed in justice court of M. W. Brewer. Examining trial will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning in Littlefield. Meanwhile, Mrs. Lenck will be held in jail here without bond.

The case will be investigated in February by a grand jury in 64th district court of Judge C. D. Russell.

Ab A. Anderson, Littlefield police chief, was the first to reach the shooting scene, at Thedford's home in Littlefield. He said the victim gasped once after he arrived.

"Leonard's dead. I guess you came after me," Anderson quoted Mrs. Lenck as saying. Only Mrs. Lenck, Thedford's 23-year-old wife and their 3-year-old foster daughter were in the house at the time of the slaying.

Six Shots Fired

Six shots from a 38 caliber special pistol had been fired, the sheriff said. Thedford's left leg was broken by a bullet that ranged upward into the body. Another entered the pit of his stomach, ranging upward and striking his right arm.

Dr. Roy Hunt and Dr. T. B. Duke examined the body.

Formerly In Lubbock

Thedford was owner of the Palace drug store in Littlefield, where he had lived several years ago with his parents. He was in the cafe business in Lubbock until about 10 years ago, it was reported, at which time he returned to the Lamb county town. He had been married about five years.

Mrs. Lenck, a resident of Memphis, Tenn., had been making her home with the Thedfords approximately two months. She surrendered to Anderson when he went to the home and later was given into custody of the sheriff and his deputy, Sid Hopping.

Funeral Arrangements Unknown

Definite arrangements for funeral service had not been made late Saturday night, it was said at Hammons Funeral home at Littlefield. It was deemed likely rites would be read this afternoon.

Arrangements were being withheld pending arrival of Thedford's mother from East Texas. Four brothers and two sisters also survive, it was reported.

FDR Is Host To Canada's Chief Executive

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 19 — The chief executives of Canada and the United States chatted tonight in the privacy of President Roosevelt's country home.

What passed between the president and the Earl of Athlone, the dominion's governor general, was their secret. But to persons who accompanied the president here from Washington it appeared improbable they would disregard world events and their impact upon the neighbor nations.

Solidifies Friendship

Mr. Roosevelt had termed the Earl's visit a courtesy affair, and White House officials said no important announcements need be expected. Even so, the meeting served to solidify the friendship between the two countries and to stress the fact that they have taken cooperative steps for continental defense.

The president arrived from Washington this morning to spend two quiet days before starting next week on campaign trips into Eastern states whose electoral votes might swing the election. He motored to the railway station at nearby Poughkeepsie, where the governor general and his party arrived in two crested private cars attached to a regular train.

Second Visit For Rulers

Once again the Roosevelt home housed members of Britain's ruling family as week-end guests. A year ago last June King George VI and Queen Elizabeth were there. Tomorrow, as on that occasion, Mr. Roosevelt and his guests will attend morning services at St. James Episcopal church.

Mrs. Roosevelt was not on hand to greet the governor general and his family, but was scheduled to arrive late tonight from the Middle West.

Bill Trice Named New BSU Vice President

Austin State Teachers college, and Ed Smith, A. and M., vice presidents; Dorothy Nell Moore of Howard Payne, secretary-treasurer; Brownlow Hastings, Southwestern Baptist seminary, publicity director; Ethel Chaney, Texas State College for Women, magazine representative.

J. W. Marshall is state secretary.

More than 2,000 students from 31 colleges jammed the Baylor auditorium today for the convention.

TO LEAVE FIELD CLEAR

BALTIMORE, Oct. 19. (AP) — Republican leaders interpreted President Roosevelt's action today in declining a labor group's invitation to a meeting here Oct. 30 as leaving Wendell L. Willkie a clear field in Baltimore that night. They said it apparently meant he was not coming at all.

Mrs. L. H. Thomas Of Ralls Dies Saturday

Mrs. L. H. Thomas, 45, of Ralls died at 11:15 o'clock Saturday night in a sanitarium here after an illness of about a week.

Skilled Draftees To Be Assigned Special Tasks

New System To Be Inaugurated

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. — The Army has completed new elaborate arrangements for identifying skilled draftees so they may be used in the military tasks at which they will be most productive.

Officials said today that the new system would operate "more effectively" than the classification procedure of World war years. Ready now, it will first be applied to conscript soldiers when the initial contingent of 30,000 is called up November 18.

Specialized Tasks Total 300

Essentially, its purpose is to make sure that when the army needs automobile mechanics, electricians or stenographers commanders will know where among the thousands of trainees to find them. In all, there are about 300 specialized military tasks.

Discussing other plans for induction of trainees, officials said they would be kept as close to home as possible. This, it was explained, will save money and help make the men happier. "Near home" may be anywhere in a corps area, although in some instances, as the necessities of army organization require, men undoubtedly will be shifted from one corps area to another.

Quota For Area 52,474

Tentative quotas by corps areas of the first 800,000 men to be drafted were announced by headquarters here yesterday. Army plans previously made public for calling men to service showed that these first quotas would be exhausted about June 15, by which time new ones may be given out.

The quota for the Eighth Corps area (Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas) is 52,474.

Distribution of manpower requirements also has been broken down by states but the army has not announced the state quotas, which will in turn be sub-divided by draft districts.

Airway Service To Face Delay

Several months at the earliest will elapse before there is possibility of actually establishing commercial air service through Lubbock, according to opinion expressed by three officials of Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., while here on business Saturday.

TWA is one of the applicants whose petition to establish service through Lubbock is set for hearing before the Civil Aeronautics board in Washington, Nov. 14. The date originally was set as Nov. 18, but has been advanced, they said.

Will Not Be Known

The routine of procedure, they said, probably will mean that the decision of the CAA will not be announced before January or February, perhaps later. An appeal from the ruling to the complete membership of the board then is permitted, which would further delay actual inauguration of service, they said.

They added, however, that TWA will put service into effect "at the earliest possible moment" if its application should be granted. Similar assurances have been received here from other applicants, chamber of commerce officials said.

TWA seeks permission to operate from Amarillo to Abilene and branch there in one direction to Fort Worth and in the other to Houston.

Officials of the line who visited Lubbock were Vernon L. Gunn, district manager at Amarillo; Theon Wright, public relations director in Kansas City, and James K. Crimmins of New York, member of the firm of attorneys representing TWA.

Robert H. Bean Has Better Luck On Trip

Robert H. Bean had better luck this trip.

Several months ago he was flying a new ship from Alliance, O., and was cruising along under lowering scuds and a few hundred feet over the grabbing peaks of the Ozarks.

Weather suddenly closed in and visibility became too limited for comfort.

His light plane had only the barest necessities for navigation and a storm began hemming him in. He decided to set her down—Ozarks or no Ozarks—and he did, in the top of a tree.

He came out of it in swell shape, with nothing for damage except his undercarriage.

Bean was back again Saturday after another flight. He had breakfast and started for home—cruising the light plane around 90 all the way in.

"No excitement," the attorney said. The ship is jointly owned by Bean and Cliff Dean, also of Lubbock.

Most Texas Solons Go To Capital At Tender Age

BY L. T. EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The influence of Texans in Congress was built up through the seniority of many of its members, whose years of service on committees elevated them to chairmanships. This was the route Representative Sam Rayburn followed to the speakership of the house, as did Vice President John Nance Garner before him.

That Texas should retain that influence so long as the Democrats are in the majority, is seen in the fact that vacancies in the state's delegation are almost invariably filled by men young enough to go through the waiting period and reach the top in their mental and physical prime.

For example, Representative Lyndon B. Johnson of Johnson City entered the house at 27 three years ago to succeed the late James P. Buchanan, who was chairman of the Appropriations committee. Johnson was named to the Naval Affairs committee and since has arisen from sixteenth to seventh place among Democrats on it. Representative Lindley Beckworth of Gilmer was elected to Congress at 25, in 1938. The man scheduled to succeed Representative Marvin Jones of Amarillo, chairman of the House Agriculture committee, is Eugene Worley of Shamrock, 31. Few Texans in recent years have been elected to Congress for the first time when past 40.

Thief Gets $80

Recently a thief slipped into the office of Representative Poage of Waco in the new house office building and stole from a desk his wife's purse, which contained among other things $80. Mrs. Poage had been alone in the office writing and stepped into an adjoining room for just a moment. The purse later was found on another floor of the building, only the money missing.

THIS verse, dedicated to Captain Elliott Roosevelt, was inserted in the Congressional Record by Representative Harter (R-NY):

good old U. S. A.
For papa is the president and always has his way.
He thinks his sons are just too good to carry gun and pack;
To march and train and drill with the boys from down across the track.
So while those boobs are slaving hard for just one buck a day,
I'll cock my feet upon a desk and draw a captain's pay."

Gossett Gets 'Em Told

Representative Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls was among the leaders in a bloc of Southern democrats who forced the Ramspeck Civil Service bill back into conference, primarily because it contained an amendment to eliminate the attaching of picture to civil-service job applications.

"If this amendment is adopted, there is no way of knowing whether the prospective employee is black or white," Gossett told the House. "If this amendment becomes law, employees must be chosen with no idea of their appearance or physical characteristics."

Terming the amendment a "sop to the negro voters," Gossett recalled the experience of a friend who had charge of an office here, and who sent to the Civil Service commission for a stenographer. All three of the eligibles sent by the commission were negroes.

"I think that most, if not all, of us are sincerely in favor of a merit system," concluded Gossett, "but when I observe some of the things that are being done under the guise of merit and when I read this report (bill as agreed upon by conferees of both the House and Senate) I am inclined to exclaim: 'O merit, merit, what crimes are committed in thy name'."

Ambassador Urging Reelection Of FDR

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, United States minister to Norway, today called for the re-election of President Roosevelt because his name is "the hope of this hemisphere and a dread to dictators."

Mrs. Harriman spoke at a luncheon of the Federation of Women's Democratic clubs. Her speech was one of several she is making on a campaign tour for the Roosevelt-Wallace ticket.

She recounted that Norway once had "attained the nearest thing to perfection in democracy that the world has ever known," but had succumbed to "cruel, alien forces."

"Now we American citizens are called upon to deal with these new and same barbaric forces," she said. "At such a time we have the good fortune to have as a leader a man whose experience in public life does not just cover eight years, but about 30... Franklin Roosevelt has definitely demonstrated his grasp of foreign policy."

Plenty Of Time For Peace Is Predicted

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19 (AP)—Itaro Ishii, new Japanese ambassador to Brazil, said today there was "still time and plenty of means to arrive at a peaceful settlement of issues between Japan and the United States."

Ishii arrived here on the Asama Maru en route to his new post. He was accompanied by Toyoichi Nakamura, Japanese consul general at large who is to tour the consulates of his nation in North and South America.

The men were among the first to arrive here as representatives of the new regime in Japan.

Ishii quoted Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka as saying there would be no war between the United States and Japan, and that the Germany-Italy-Japan alliance was effected to assure continuance of peace between the two countries. He did not amplify the statement.

Prominent Rumanians Are Said Being Held

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—Arrest of a number of prominent Rumanians in connection with the disappearance of Ion Zela Cordreanu, iron guard leader, in 1938 was announced today in an official communique.

(Cordreanu later was arrested during King Carol's suppression of the pro-Nazi iron guard and reported officially to have been killed while trying to escape.)

The government asked Spain to agree to extradition of Ernest Urdareanu, former chief of King Carol's household, in connection with the Cordreanu case and a similar request was made for return of former Bucharest Police Chief Pariseanu from Jugoslavia. Criminal charges have been brought against both. Urdareanu, one of the most powerful figures during Carol's reign, fled to Spain with the former monarch.

Japs Build Up Oil Reserve Through U.S.

Most Of Oil Is Sent By Nation

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Japan has accumulated a 15,000,000-barrel oil reserve during the past two years, largely through imports from the United States, the most accurate advices available to the government indicated today.

Since start of its campaign in China, Japan's requirements have approximated from 30,000,000 to 35,000,000 barrels annually. Some 40,000,000 barrels were imported each year, of which between 25,000,000 and 28,000,000 were supplied by the United States.

It was reported in Tokyo yesterday that final agreement on Japanese demands for a large portion of the Netherlands East Indies' annual production of nearly 60,000,000 barrels was expected soon. Negotiations were said to have started last August after this country embargoed exports of high test gasoline to Japan and pressure developed for a complete ban on petroleum exports to that nation.

Pierson Is Sent Back To Asylum

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 19. — Dist. Judge Ralph Yarborough today issued a ruling that sends Howard Merit Pierson back to the Austin state asylum for insane persons, from which Pierson escaped April 16, 1938.

Pierson had been declared insane and committed to the Austin asylum after he had admitted killing his father and mother in a simulated hold-up on April 24, 1935. He was arrested in Minneapolis, Minn., just a week ago and brought back to Texas.

Dist. Attorney Edwin Moorhead filed an affidavit of sanity with the announced purpose of trying him for murder if he were declared sane. Judge Yarborough sustained a contention of counsel for Pierson that only the superintendent of the state asylum could file the affidavit of present sanity.

He instructed Sheriff Jim McCoy to hold Pierson for asylum Superintendent C. H. Standifer.

It's A Little World After All; Lubbock Man And Horse He Sold Have Reunion In Polo Game Recently Held At Long Island

Last spring Claude Hurlbut, horse fancier, took his polo string and went down to San Antonio as guest of Tom Mather.

One horse, Morton Downey, attracted Mather's attention. Mather, be it said, knows horses. He should—having played with the polo greats.

"I know just the place for that horse," he told Hurlbut.

Hurlbut didn't want to sell, but Mather argued that such performance should "be given to the good of polo. You ought to let me take him to Long Island."

Bought At Steep Price

Long Island is the incubator of good polo, and Hurlbut sold. Mather sold the Lubbock horse to a polo player on the island and the animal played only one chukker on the green Long Island field before a wealthy polo string owner bought him at a steep price.

Two Sundays ago Hurlbut happened to be in Long Island—just like a fisherman happens to find a trout stream—and was invited to play three or four chukkers.

"We'll find you a horse," said an acquaintance, calling to a sportsman standing several paces off.

Hurlbut turned around and saw the man standing by, of all the Long Island horses, the one he had sold this spring, and got to ride him in the game.

The horse already had seen Hurlbut and was violently throwing his head up and down.

"It was like a reunion," Hurlbut said. "He knew me the instant he saw me and sure did show me a welcome."

Hurlbut, as a matter of fact, had been so attached to the horse he went to the Clyde Miller ranch near Snyder and bought a full brother to Morton Downey, before he made his trip eastward.

"The fellow who owns him now wouldn't take $10,000 for him, polo players told me," Hurlbut said. "They say he'd the best polo pony on the island."

Severe Blows Are Struck At Nazis

LONDON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Daily Sketch, quoting "well informed neutral sources," said today "it is now estimated that German troop casualties resulting from RAF raids total 200,000 men."

The Sketch said its sources estimated that the recent bombardment of the German-held French port of Cherbourg had cost the Nazis casualties of 40,000 men.

"It is known," the paper added, "that this bombardment, coming on top of fierce attacks by the RAF, struck a serious blow to the morale of German troops."

Fugitive Caught By Patrolmen

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 19. — As he reclined in an Elgin barber shop for a shave, Herman Sultemeier, 40, fugitive from the Gillespie county jail which he fled last week, was captured today.

State Highway Patrolmen J. L. Cerley and H. W. Knieriam made the arrest, acting on a tip from another patrolman in Gillespie county.

Pistol In Suitcase

Knieriam said he found Sultemeier's suitcase in a nearby bus station and the fugitive later told him he had intended buying a ticket for Kansas City.

A .38 caliber pistol was found in the suitcase.

The fugitive who was taken to state police headquarters denied his identity until the officers reached Austin, Knieriam said.

Sultemeier informed the officers he threw away a shotgun taken from the sheriff of Gillespie county. The jail keys, also seized in his escape, were tossed in a river near Fredericksburg, Sultemeier said.

Had Walked To Elgin

He told officers that he had walked to Elgin.

Gillespie county authorities were notified of the fugitive's capture and planned to return him to Fredericksburg later today.

Sultemeier was recently convicted of the rape of his 13-year-old daughter and given a life term.

His capture ended a dragnet search, participated in by citizens and officers, aided by bloodhounds and an airplane patrol.

British To Get Chance To Show Superior Air Training In Night Bombings

Winter Nights To Be Helpful

By J. W. T. MASON
United Press War Expert

Plans announced today in London for a new and more intensive air offensive against Germany come at a time when the long winter nights will give the British aviators an oppoutunity to demonstrate their superior training for flying blind and reaching their targets in the dark, with trivial losses. Not until next year will British numerical weakness in planes be sufficiently overcome to allow development of large scale attacks. New types of long distance and speedier bombers and fighters, however, will permit night assaults on a scale much greater than the Germans have yet experienced.

It has become a conspicuous fact during the months of British night bombing over Germany that almost invariably all the British craft return home safely. Concealment of the dark is a partial cause of this immunity, but in addition, the British have made night flying a highly specialized part of the training of aviators.

Scoffed At Night Flying

The Germans scoffed at night flying before the war because of their overconfidence in the superior number of their planes to demolish the British air force in daylight attacks. Only recently have the Germans been forced to admit the futility of their prewar reliance on daylight operations because of their enormous losses and have had to concentrate on night attacks.

While no adequate defense against night air raids has yet been evolved, the Germans always suffer some losses, though it is very rare for a British plane to be brought down over Germany in the dark. The Germans rely almost entirely on antiaircraft fire from the ground to repel the British airmen while British attack planes ascend for night battles because of more skilled pilotage, and better searchlight manipulation.

Dog fights, occasionally occur when the German night raiders are over Great Britain but scarcely any have been reported from Germany. The Nazi combat planes do not like the dark.

British Have Advantage

Too, the much larger area of Germany and German occupied territory compared with Great Britain does not allow such concentration of defense to the Nazis. The British thus have an advantage in selecting their targets and scattering their bombs through varying their nightly visitations over widely separated objectives. They came make distracting feints and if they lose one objective there are many others on their way in and out of Germany.

With far fewer planes than the Germans, reports brought home by the British aviators indicate with a high degree of probability that they have inflicted proportionately greater damage in night raids on Germany than the Germans have on Britain. The destruction of military objectives in Germany probably is larger. The unskilled German flyers bomb indiscriminately, trying to terrorize civilians, in night raids, while the British have been drilled in a better technique for finding military targets, of which there are more in Germany than in Great Britain.

Superiority May Pass

With the strengthening of the British air force through newly designed planes having greater speed, wider range of action and heavier bomb carrying capacity, for night operations, the Germans will be confronted with a disadvantageous turn in the air war. The superiority of British training methods and the forthcoming ability of the British to intensity their attacks on Germany point to the eventual passing of the air offensive from the Germans to the British.

Germany then may pay toll for her onslaughts on London. That the Germans anticipate some such climax seems indicated by the evacuation of children from the German capital, now under way for the first time since the air war began.

Huge German Liner To Carry Doughboys

BALTIMORE, Oct. 19 (AP) — A great red and gray liner, seized years ago from Germany and used as an American troopship, came out of retirement today to feel the pound of hammers and slap of paint brushes as workmen prepared her—again—for the job of carrying doughboys.

The exact use to be made of her has not been announced, but the Amerika—as she was known when she was one of the proudest liners of the German fleet—has been ordered reconditioned as a United States army transport.

The call to duty that brought the 700-foot war prize from a quiet, out-of-the-way harbor at Solomon's island in lower Chesapeake bay came eight years after she was relegated to the maritime commission's "ghost fleet" of wartime vessels.

The vessel was seized in Boston when the United States entered the war in 1917, and quickly converted to a camouflaged troopship. After the war she was put into passenger service as the America, and twice achieved fame with rescues in mid-Atlantic.

Children's Theater Will Present Plays

The Children's Theater, sponsored by St. Paul's Episcopal church women, will present two plays, "The Dyspeptic Ogre," (Wilde) and "Creatures of Impulse," (Gilbert) at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the Palace theater. These comedies are directed by Mrs. Alan L. Strout.

Tickets for children are 15 cents and for adults, 35 cents. Season tickets are 45 cents for children and $1.00 for adults. There will be three presentations this season.

Loyalty Of Belgians To King Is Pledged

NEW YORK, Oct. 19. (U.P.)—The loyalty of the free Belgian government both to Great Britain and to its "captive" King Leopold III, was pledged last night by F. Van Cauwelaert, minister of state and speaker of the House of Representatives.

He spoke at the Belgian pavilion at the World's fair, beside a bust of King Leopold, which has been restored to the building a few hours earlier in token that Belgian circles here had forgiven their king for his capitulation to Germany. Cauwelaert said that after calm deliberation, free Belgians realized that Leopold had surrendered only after realizing that further resistance was futile and would mean useless slaughter.

Count Van Der Straten Ponthoz, Belgian ambassador to the United States, affirmed Cauwelaert's promise that free Belgians would fight beside Great Britain in "indefectable solidarity."

Bureau Is Formed To Aid Objectors

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—Dr. Albert W. Palmer, president of the Chicago Theological seminary, today announced formation of an "information and service bureau" for conscientious objectors to military service.

Palmer said the aims of the bureau would be:

1. To provide a clearing house of information for groups and individual objectors.
2. To provide a personal classification service for conscientious objectors.
3. To cooperate with local draft boards, particularly in providing official statements from churches helpful in administering the law.
4. To provide information regarding legal assistance to determine status of individuals under the act.

Palmer said "the bureau is not concerned with any move toward repeal of conscription and will not have a campaign to keep America out of war."

Japan's Army Newspaper Writes Of "Prospective Japanese-American War"

America Rapped In Blunt Article

(By The United Press)

SHANGHAI, Oct. 19. — Japan's army newspaper organ here, Sin-Shun-Pao, referred editorially today to the "prospective Japanese-American war."

It said the United States must be given warning against continuance of its present Pacific policies.

In its bluntest anti-American article to date, the newspaper said:

"Japan will deal a direct blow to America's challenge because Japan is responsible for the rehabilitation of East Asia. The basic reason why America will be defeated in the Far East is her mis-conception that she will benefit by prolongation of the Chinese-Japanese war.

Collapse Of Influence Seen

"Japan and China should radically cooperate, because the prospective Japanese-American war will decide the fate of East Asia as a whole . . . the conclusion of the Japanese-German-Italian alliance has already marked the collapse of Anglo-American influence in the Far East."

Dovetailed with this line of attack was an editorial in the Central China Daily News, organ of the Wang Ching-Wei regime which, under Japanese sponsorship, purports to administer Japanese-occupied areas in the name of the Chinese people.

It said that if the United States won a Japanese-American war China would become "nothing but a colony of the white race, with a status even lower than that of the Philippines."

SLIGHT LOSSES REGISTERED

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—After a week of generally rising prices, the stock market today turned irregularly lower.

While quiet strength was exhibited by a smattering of specialties, losses of fractions to a point or so were slightly in the majority at the close.

Selling was never urgent and the ticker tape frequently loafed, but efforts to put up leading steels, rails and aircrafts met with only half-hearted response.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .1 of a point at 44.7, but on the week retained a net advance of .7. The mild relapse on balance came in the wake of four successive upturns. At the finish today the composite was just about where it was a month ago. Transfers totalled 216,440 shares, compared with 195,750 in the short session of two weeks ago. The market was closed last Saturday for Columbus day.

Share on the offside in the two-hour proceedings included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Crucible Steel, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, J. I. Case, Boeing, United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, N. Y. Central, Great Northern, Anaconda and du Pont.

Among gainers were American Telephone, General Motors, Loew's, Kennecott, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, Murray Corp., Nash-Kelvinator, N. Y. Shipbuilding and Paramount.

Exports Friday nil, season so far 242,615. Port receipts 14,245. Port stocks 2,948,446.

Air Scouts May Be New Organization

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 19. (AP)—The Boy Scouts of America, which some two decades ago expanded its program to include training of youngsters in sea-craft, today was reported considering branching into air training for its older members.

Jean H. Dubuque of the Civil Aeronautics authority told the National Association of State Aviation Officials convention yesterday that two experimental troops of air scouts between 15 and 18 years of age may be formed soon. They would have a distinctive uniform, Duquque added.

He said the CAA and state aeronautics board would cooperate with the national Boy Scout organization in developing a program of aviation training that he indicated might dovetail into the federal civil pilot training program.

Vote To Cost Lubbock Man In Costa Rica As Much As Poll Tax

Although it will cost him almost as much to vote as it did to pay his poll tax, O. D. Hargis' ballot will be counted along with the others in the Nov. 5 general election.

Hargis, associated with a rubber company in San Jose, Costa Rica, requested an absentee ballot from the office of Ed. D. Allen, county clerk.

The ballot had to be sent by air mail in order to return by the deadline date. Cost of mailing was 60 cents each way.

Ten persons had marked ballots in Allen's office Saturday and 27 others had mailed requests for their ballots to be voted in absentia.

Passive Resistance Is Said On Increase

VICHY, France, Oct. 19 (U.P.) — Passive resistance to German authorities was reported increasing today in the occupied zone of France.

An entire automobile park filled with German automobiles and armored cars in the fields of Le Vesinet, a Paris suburb, was reported to have been sabotaged.

Germany authorities tightened control of the occupied zone boundary line in an effort to end clandestine crossing of the frontiers.

They also warned of severe punishment for anyone caught sending food stuffs or money from the occupied to the unoccupied zone.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (AP)—A steadier tone prevailed in the wheat market today after traders had noted the latest reports on the amount of farmer-owned wheat on which the government was making loans.

The total sealed this last week was only 6,863,000 bushels, less than a quarter of the 32,000,000 bushels in the previous week. Although this brought the season's total to 217,803,000 bushels, far in excess of last year's 167,000,000 bushels for the entire season, the trade was encouraged to believe that prices were nearing the mark at which wheat would be sold into market channels rather than "frozen" under the loan program.

Wheat closed unchanged to ⅛ cent higher than yesterday's finish, December 85½, May 84½, corn ⅛ to ⅝ lower, December 60⅝, May 61½, oats unchanged to ⅛ off, and lard unchanged to 5 lower.

At noon a covered dish luncheon was served.

Scurry County Fair Is Closed Saturday

SNYDER, Oct. 19. (Special)—Forty-five hundred persons from five counties attended final free entertainment program of the third annual Scurry County Products show here tonight, while officials said new records have been made for number and quality of livestock exhibits in this area.

Exhibits of sheep, hogs, cattle, bulls, poultry, turkeys, jacks, and palominos were the finest in the three-year history of the show, according to S. Harrie Winston, president.

Other officials who praised the livestock and crop exhibits include J. J. Koonsman, superintendent of the livestock department; R. G. Dillard, chamber of commerce manager, and X. B. Cox, jr., county agent.

County Teachers To Hear Irvin Monday

Lubbock county rural teachers and members of the Slaton school faculty will gather at 7:45 o'clock Monday night in Lubbock Junior High school auditorium.

Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent of Lubbock Public schools, will be principal speaker. Also scheduled to make a talk is E. Esten Day, deputy state superintendent of education. Claude L. Hale, county superintendent, will act as chairman.

Following a musical program under direction of Mrs. E. E. Key and Mrs. M. E. Ware, a business session is planned.

Declaring the amount of litter in the street is "enormous," the mayor of Wellington, N. Z., has started a drive to urge the people to keep the streets clean.

Mayor Carl E. Slaton Issues Proclamation Declaring Sunday, Oct. 27, As Navy Day

Mayor Carl E. Slaton Saturday issued a proclamation declaring Sunday, Oct. 27 as Navy day for Lubbock and called upon all citizens to display prominently the American flag in observance of the occasion.

In the proclamation Mayor Slaton called attention to the fact that this week has been designated by the U. S. Navy as a time for nation-wide observance. Lubbock Lions club is cooperating with Lions International in observance of the week.

Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, president of the local club, said the club would cooperate in observance of the Navy's program of national defense. He pointed out that a man registered for the selective service may also enlist in the U. S. Navy.

The proclamation is as follows:

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY OF LUBBOCK

WHEREAS, October twenty seventh has been designated by the United States Navy Department for nation-wide dissemination of information relating to the activities and importance of the Navy in our national defense, and

WHEREAS, it was in the month of October, in 1775, that our forefathers decided that to have a nation we must have a navy, and

WHEREAS, from the very beginning of our national life, the Navy has always been, and justly deserves to be, an object of special pride to the American people, and

WHEREAS, its records is indeed one to inspire such sentiments, and

WHEREAS, the Navy is not only the first line of defense, but its is the most important line of defense, and

WHEREAS, the Lions International club of this city, through its officers and individual members, is cooperating with the United States Navy in recruiting and information activities:

THEREFORE, I, C. E. Slaton, mayor of the City of Lubbock call upon our citizens this week-preceding and including Navy Day, October Twenty-seven, to join in Navy Day observance by displaying the Stars and Stripes; and upon all young men who can do so to call upon Lions International club members of this city and obtain without obligation information on the naval service of our country.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Lubbock to be affixed this 19th day of October, 1940.

Elaborate Airport Needs Easy Sofa

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)— With all its elaborate trappings, New York's $40,000,000 aGuardia field doesn't please Mrs. Ambrose Diehl of San Francisco. It lacks a sofa.

Waiting for a plane, she felt the weakening effects of donating a pint of blood to a blood bank for British wounded, and couldn't find a place to lie down.

"I'll buy a cot or chaise lounge or something and send it to the airport as soon as I get back," she said, after accepting a chair in the press room.

Aggies Smear Horned Frogs; Texas Measures Arkansas; Tulane Defeats Rice!

Thomason Leads Cadets To 21-7 Loop Victory

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLLEGE STATION Oct. 19 — Mighty, unbeaten Texas A. and M. strangled Texas Christian today, 21-7, and they did it with a forgotten man who rumbled in from an inglorious blocking back position to ground-gaining genius.

Quiet Jim Thomason, little publicized but perhaps the finest blocker and line-backer in Southwest conference history, shocked the Christians to helplessness with runs and twice scored on the tag end of rather terrific pass plays.

Aggies Start Wobbly

To big Jim and Marion Pugh, one of the nation's ranking passers, the Aggies owed thanks for their offensive splurge that downed TCU, but the big red line of seniors threw back the Christians with a gain of only 17 yards on rushing plays.

Never, after a wobbly opening, did the Aggies look back.

On the first play of the second period they started rolling before the throng of 22,000 that packed this little village. Seven minutes later they had shelled the Christians with three touchdowns and added the points.

Miss "Cinch" Tally

Three more times they crept deep into dangerous territory, but there was no more scoring. Once Wild Bill Conatser was wide open in the flat zone on the TCU 20 and one of Pugh's passes sailed toward him. But Conatser was blinded by the late afternoon sun and didn't see the ball until it popped his face.

On the ground the Aggies rolled for 135 yards to TCU's 17. By air they traveled 145 to the Christian's 122.

But that 122 yards the Christians gained through the sky included 40 yards worth of funny business that gave them their touchdown.

Frog Counter Freakish

In the third period little Dean Bagley shot a pass over the middle of the line. On the Aggie 40 a cluster of Aggies and Christians started scrambling for its possession. The ball bobbled around in the air for seconds and Ronnie Brumbaugh, reserve end, finally got it. He raced 40 yards for the score and End Phil Rosch, who played magnificently, kicked the point.

Big John Kimbrough plowed for 44 yards on 14 drives through the TCU line, but today he had to give way to the man Thomason, the man Kimbrough called "the greatest football player in the world" after the game.

Only seven minutes of a shocking second period were needed by the Aggies to blow the Christians out of the stadium.

On the first play of the period,

Gophers Wreck Buckeyes, 13-7

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS O., Oct. 19.—A great Minnesota team wrecked Ohio State's hopes of retaining the Western conference grid title today. Before 63,199 rain-drenched fans, the Golden Gophers won 13 to 7 after repulsing two Ohio threats near the goal line.

It was Minnesota's third straight win of the year and its first in conference play. The defeat was Ohio's second in four contests, two of the losses, being against conference foes.

Full Of "Breaks"

It was a game replete with "breaks" the most heart-breaking of which came to the Bucks with less than two minutes to go.

Trailing 13 to 7, Ohio dipped deeply into its razzle-dazzle bag to surge from their own 35 to the Gopher one-yard line.

In that 64-yard jaunt were three completed passes, all tossed by Quarterback Don Scott. Then came a Scott to Tom Kinkade forward with a Kinkade to Leslie Horvath lateral tacked on the end, which carried to the Minnesota six.

Scott, who during the final surge had gained on a fourth down running play when he needed five yards—and made six himself—banged to the one yard mark.

Miss Great Chance

Then came the break. Claude White, Ohio center who had played the entire game on the slippery field, came up with his only poor pass of the fray. Langhurst fell on the ball on the 13 but Ohio's chance had flown.

RAMS DEFEAT BISONS

FORT WORTH, Oct. 19. (AP) — Texas Wesleyan's Rams combined aerial trickery with a strong ground game here today to rack up their fourth football victory in five 1940 starts. The Wesleyans scored twice in the last twenty minutes of play to outlast the big Oklahoma Baptist university Bisons 20-15.

LSU DEFEATS MERCER, 20-0

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 19. (AP) —Louisiana State university's Bengals overpowered a stubbornly fighting Mercer college team tonight, 20 to 0.

'Pretty Boy' Conn Has Guns Aimed On Louis, Title And Million In Three Seasons

By WICK TEMPLE
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19 — Billy Conn's Irish eyes are smiling and it isn't all because he's courting the world's heavyweigh championship.

He's also courting a girl—he won't disclose her identity because her father "—'d kill me."

He wants to get married but—"I've got to make a lot of money first. I've got a big job ahead of me—I've got to lick Joe Louis.

"Three years in the big time and I've made nearly $200,000—just a drop in the bucket to what I'm going to make. I'm going to get a lot more—a lot more—before I'm through. I expect to fight 'till I'm 26 then retire. I'll win the heavyweight title and become a millionaire."

Of course that's a pretty big order for a 23-year-old but behind that goal is the fact that poor boy Billy "came up from

Relief For Score Pickers

By Collier Parris

HOLD ON, THAR, NEIGHBOR, before you let go with that .44; take your neck out of that noose, Elmer, and wait up a minute, Percival, before taking that cyanide! This is no time to make off with yourselves! What if you did miss a few calculations yesterday! Don't be discouraged Help is on the way!

The Great Emancipator of Football Dope Victims has come! He will save you millions of dollars, hours of fretful wakefulness, thousands of cuss words and oceans of tears!

It's the Original Sportometer Special Specific and Spontaneous Spotting of Superior Sporting Scores System, or Dr. Likthepot's Difference-by-Distance Rating Formula, based largely on mileage between teams and ages of the coaches.

It's guaranteed to be fool-proof, foul-proof, upset-proof and 100 proof, bottled in the bonds that never tie but always win—the answer to the speculator's and alma mater's prayers, scientifically derived from a mathematical, chronological, psychological and pathological formula that CAN'T MISS! (Gosh, it's so good we'll take some ourself).

So what if you did miss a few yesterday. You'll get well next Saturday, and you won't have to wait to learn your success. We're scooping the world, giving you the dope this morning on next Saturday's games. Cheer up, and lay your bets. Forget yesterday's disappointments. There's always tomorrow, and next Saturday. Below is the dope which will make men happy, perhaps rich. It's intended ONLY for those poor lost souls of yesterday and the preceding Saturdays. This department's selections below list the top 25 games of Saturday, with the rating figures after each college name, and with comments on the more important games:

(Teams with the smaller rating number are not only supposed to, but undoubtedly WILL win, the ratings being based on 1000 for the poorest team, on down to a possible tenth of a point for the best).

LAKE FOREST .764 vs. James Millikin .822. This is a Big Day at Lake Forest, and the Lakies have been building up for the game since May 22. Lake Forest is the choice.

Muhlenberg .135 vs. Ursinus .437. No doubt about this one. The Mules are on the way, and no doubt will be the choice for the Soup Bowl game.

Oshkosh Teachers .459 vs. Platteville Teachers .563. This will be closer than the score indicates, but ought to be a thriller and a pepper-upper for dear old Oshkosh, which is playing at home this week.

Spearfish Teachers vs. Huron. This is so close we hesitate to give the figures, but Spearfish got beat last year away from home, and ought to win easily. Put your dough on Spearfish.

Talladega .543 vs. Tougaloo .618. Here's a sleeper, but stay with Talladega because the trainer of the team has blue eyes and black hair.

Wilberforce .620 vs. Lane .625. Wilberforce won last year's game 5 to 0, and since the Forcers are playing at home, they ought to do even better. Wilberforce to win.

Slippery Rock .3 vs. Grove City .218. Here's a traditional game, but the Rocks rate just about tops in this league and it'll be a runaway, although they won by only two touchdowns a year ago.

Bluefield Institute .643½ vs. Morgan .643. This will be close, but the Blues will win. Morgan defeated them about 1921, and Bluefield has been seeking revenge for a long time. They'll get it this time.

WOOSTER .315 vs. Muskingum .328. They play at Wooster, and Muskingum won last year at home and so that makes it a cinch for Wooster. The department of sociology is stronger at Wooster this year, too.

Bloomsburg Teachers .427 vs.

Buffs Emerge 27-6 Winner

CANYON, Oct. 19 (AP) — The West Texas State Teachers Buffaloes conquered a stubborn Arizona State eleven from Flagstaff here today, 27 to 6, before a homecoming crowd of 6,000.

The Buffs took command at the start but were unable to score in the initial period. In the second quarter, little Ben Collins, substitute Buffalo back, found an opening and, with good blocking, loped 70 yards for a touchdown. He place-kicked the extra point.

A furious Buffalo assault early in the third led to another tally, Arizona State accounting for its only score in the same stanza. The Teachers added another counter in the fading minutes of the period and another in the fourth to clinch victory.

Layden Hero In 21-0 Triumph Over Porkers

By ED L. CAMPBELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 19.—Too smart in every department for their opponents, the University of Texas crowded a 21 to 0 Southwest conference victory over the University of Arkansas into a single quarter here this afternoon.

Approximately 10,000 fans watched under a sweltering sun while Coach Dana Bible's Longhorns mixed forwards, laterals and an occasionally brilliant running attack to smother the hapless Razorbacks.

Crain Under Wraps

Cowboy Jack Crain scored one of the Longhorns' three touchdowns and placekicked an extra point. But for the most part he was kept under wraps and spent the entire second half on the bench while every member of the Texas squad saw action.

Arkansas threatened twice, once in the first period and again a few seconds before the final whistle when it marched from the Porker 14 to the Texas 14. Here Lobpries intercepted Hamberg's forward on the goal line and ran it out to the Texas 28. Texas had time for one play before the final gun.

Blocked Punt Costly

A blocked Arkansas punt started Texas on its touchdown flurry in the second quarter. Neal tried to make the kick, Kutner, substitute end, batted it down and Daniels, substitute guard, recovered it on the Arkansas 20. Pete Layden, who copped the hero role usually reserved for Crain, shoved his team up to the one yard line, and then plunged from there for the initial score. Patrick's placement was perfect.

The score seemed to take all the starch out of Arkansas. Texas used an on-side kick and covered it on the Arkansas 16-yard stripe while the Porker safety man stood around watching the activities. Layden rifled a perfect forward to Kutner in the end zone for the second touchdown. Again Patrick's toe laid the oval between the uprights for the extra point.

Arkansas was unable to advance and Texas took the ball a third time on a punt. Layden tossed one pass and received another to advance to the Arkansas 30. Here a penalty set the Longhorns back 15 yards but Layden passed 33 yards to Kutner who was pulled down on the Arkansas six.

Arkansas held for downs but instead of kicking Hamberg tried a pass. Thayer intercepted on the Arkansas 14. Two line plays and a short forward put Texas on the one yard line and Cowboy Crain kept his name in the lights by galloping through a wideopen hole for the final touchdown. Crain completed his chores with a perfect placement for the extra point.

Zaharias Takes Women's Open

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Oct. 19.—The strength and stamina that made Mrs. George (Babe Didrikson) Zaharias a world famous girl athlete was very evident today as the Los Angeles woman defeated imperturbable Elizabeth Hicks of Pasadena, one up in the Texas Women's Open golf championship finals.

Babe was shanking her irons and missing midgets putts at disconcerting intervals. But she made a half dozen brilliant rallies in the gruelling 36 holes match. On that final, dramatic hole, she captured the match with a beautifully executed par four.

Wins On Final Nine

Miss Hicks, the 19 year old star with the admirable competitive temperament, looked like the apparent winner on the first nine of the afternoon round. For she cut down Babe with a scientific precision that found the Pasadena girl four up going to the 25th hole.

It was on the final nine that the tireless and horizon-driving Mrs. Zaharias scored the winning licks.

Touchdown Club To Hold Weekly Huddle

The regular Downtown Quarterbacks meeting will be held Monday night at the Lubbock hotel at 8 o'clock. Providing he has got his strength back, Coach Peter Wills Cawthon will attempt to explain the finer points of the Texas Tech and Brigham Young game.

However, it is agreed that about the finest point in the game was that one point margin that won for the Raiders.

There will also be a poll of votes to determine which two members of the club will have the privilege of sitting on the sideline with the Tech players at their November 1 game here with Miami university of Florida. All football fans are cordially invited to attend and get the lowdown on the local football situation. Coach Goober Keyes likely will break down and tell how his Westerners stack up against Borger here this week-end as another highlight of the program.

Aggies Roll Up 53-12 Win Over Washington

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 19 (AP) Oklahoma Aggies staged their greatest offensive uprising in years here today and battered Washington University's Bears 53 to 12 to open their Missouri Valley conference campaign before 7,000 homecoming fans.

Alumni, sweltering beneath a hot sun, had to refer back to Lynn Waldorf's great teams for comparison of such offensive power. The victory was not only the Cowboys' most decisive over a Missouri Valley foe in years, but it broke a 10-year jinx the Bears have held over the Aggies. Last Aggie victory was in 1930.

Sophomore Jimmy Reynolds jerked the crowd to its feet with a 55-yard gallop of the opening kickoff.

Nation's Gridiron Leaders March Through On 'Form'

BY HERB BARKER
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct, 19—It took a discerning, not to say hypersensitive eye, to discover a legitimate football upset today.

Almost without a break, the nation's college leaders moved smoothly past their third October tests and left the general situation virtually unchanged. Not in years have the results on any full football Saturday program so closely followed form.

Alabama, Rice, Auburn, Duquesne, Iowa, George Washington and Virginia all suffered their initial defeats of 1940 but there wasn't a real upset in the lot unless Virginia's defeat by Virginia Military, 7-0, could be so classified.

Cornell, Penn Win

Meanwhile the powerful Ivy leaguers, Cornell and Penn; the two Eastern Catholic college powerhouses, Fordham and Boston College; the Midwestern big four of Notre Dame, Northwestern, Minnesota and Michigan; the Southwest leaders, Texas A and M., Texas and Southern Methodist; and the Southern pace-setters, Tennessee and Mississippi, all advanced another step along the unbeaten trail.

Tennessee gave new evidence (if any was needed) of its terrific power as it steam-rolled Alabama's good team into submission, 27-12, before 25,000. Little Johnny Butler was the spark plug the Volunteers needed, scoring a touchdown on a 49 yard run after racing 60 yards, to set up a play on which he passed for a score.

DEPENDABLE RESERVE — Loyce Baillio, 177-pound right guard, is one of the big reasons Texas Tech's Red Raiders remain undefeated today. When the regulars need a rest, Raillio can be depended upon to handle guard duties efficiently.

Tech Will Meet Marquette Next

Following in the wake of their thrill-packed 21 to 20 victory over Brigham Young university Friday night, the Texas Tech Red Raiders returned to the practice field Saturday afternoon. A bit battered and a little bruised but still game and swimming up-steam, the Techsans did not put on pads but worked in light uniforms.

There was much kicking and a lot of running. Coaches Cawthon and Smith, proud of that hairline decision over the Cougars, continually warned the Raiders to take it easy. Although some of the Tech players went to the hospital after beating the Cougars, all were at Saturday's workout.

"Injured" Raiders Recover

Don Austin, diminutive but speedy back, was back in uniform and absolutely recovered as was Newman Ledbetter, "Red" Amonett, Captain Lonnie McCurry, Captain Ty Bain and big Rafe Nabors. All had cuts and bruises but nothing that will prevent them from starting against Marquette next Saturday night in Milwaukee.

The Red Raiders will leave here Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and will arrive in Milwaukee at 11:45 o'clock Friday night. The entire squad attended the Knute Rockne-All America picture at the Palace. After seeing the picture, the players gathered on the Tech field and Coach Cawthon told the players the facts and the fiction connected with the filming of Rockne's life.

Coach Berl Huffman's freshmen, back from their defeat by the Cameron Aggies at Lawton, Okla., worked with the varsity. Cawthon said that the hard grind in prepaartion for Marquette would start with Monday's work.

Post-Season Game Is Desired By Gonzaga

When you are on top and undefeated some team is always keen for a crack at you. It is that way with the Texas Tech Red Raiders. The Gonzaga Bulldogs, well known to Lubbock fans, want a crack at the Red Raiders.

Coach Pete Cawthon received a wire from Gonzaga Saturday inquiring if he was interested in a post-season intersectional game in Moscow, Iowa on December 1 with Gon-

Miners Defeat New Mexico

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

EL PASO, Oct. 19.—Striking viciously over the ground and through the air in the second and third periods, and then battling stubbornly to fend off last-minute raids, the Texas Miners defeated the University of New Mexico 9 to 7 in a bruising Border conference battle on Mines field today.

Trailing 9 to 0 until the final six minutes of the game, and halted cold on the Muckers' goal line late in the third period after four desperate smashes against the Mines forward wall, New Mexico scored when Avery Monfort snagged Jack Morrisey's long pass and ran the few remaining yards for a touchdown. Agajanian went in and kicked the placement.

The Loboes, with Monfort doing the hurling, then unloosed a desperate aerial attack that was ended by the final gun. The loss was New Mexico's second in conference play.

Nebraska Crunches Kansas, 53-2, In Touchdown Rout

(By The Associated Press)

LAWRENCE Kas. Oct. 19. — Mighty Nebraska crunched to a 53 to 2 victory over the University of Kansas football team today and with ridiculous ease maintained a record of not having lost on the Jayhawks' own field in 44 years.

Although Nebraska's ace back Herman Rohri, was on the bench with an arm injury all doubt as to the ultimate victory faded after the first eight minutes. Kansas invaded Nebraska territory but once under its own power and that late in the final period after the Nebraska bench had been swept of substitutes.

Only once did a pass aid the Husker ground machine in the manufacture of a touchdown.

Wayne Blue, a rugged fullback replacement in the Husker lineup, battered his way to a trio of touchdowns in the rout that signalized the Nebraskan's opening bid for the 1940 football title. Other Huskers who scored were Sam Francis, Harry Hopp, Henry Rohn, Ray Petsch and Dale Bradley.

Johnston Stars For Mustangs

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 19.—Preston Johnston a 190 pound 1-man gridiron circus from the West Texas plains country, kept Southern Methodist university in the ranks of the unbeaten college teams today as he ran and punted the courageous Auburn Plainsmen into a 20-13 defeat before a state fair crowd of 10,000.

Johnston scored two of the Mustang touchdowns, one on a 92-yard run, and it was his fine defensive work in the fading minutes that held a desperate driving Auburn gang of substitutes at bay when the Plainsmen were crashing toward another touchdown.

Late Rally Fails

Johnston ran up 172 yards from scrimmage, set the Plainsmen back time and again with his booming punts and batted a pass out of Teddie Faulk's hands in the end zone to push Auburn back from a possible tie.

Head Substitute Bill Yearout put Auburn in the game in the last half with his mighty passing and running and the crowd that sweltered in mid-summer weather yelled itself hoarse as Yearout sparked Auburn's final fling for glory as the hands on the big clock showed five minutes to go.

Ponies Strike Early

Southern Methodist scored midway of the first period on Johnston's five yard run around end. A bad pass from center and subsequent fumble by Dick McGowen that Joe Jasqua recovered on the Auburn 13 set up the score. Johnnie Clement passed to E. L. Keeton for 8 and Johnston went over for the counter. Pasqua kicked goal.

Oklahoma Stops Kansas State

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 19.—Striking once by land and once by air, the powerful Sooners of Oklahoma rolled over Kansas State 14 to 0, here today to open their bid for Big Six conference gridiron glory with a defensive demonstration that thrilled 18,000 fans.

Jolting Jack Jacobs, the Redskin tailback with the slingshot arm, led both the Sooners' scoring drives, heaving a 20-yard touchdown pass in the second period and dancing 40 yards at the start of an 83-yard march in the final quarter.

Open Up In Second

After a see-saw first period, in which the Wildcats played the Sooners on even terms, the Kansans never had a chance, seldom getting close to enemy territory.

Shifting into high after getting the wind to their backs in the second quarter, the Sooners drove 62 yards, most of the way by air, and tallied when Louis "Tree-Top" Sharpe snared a 15-yard pass from Jacobs and trotted the remaining five yards to the double stripe with no one touching him.

Jacobs passed 7 yards to Bill Jennings, 6 to Jack Steele and 21 to Tom Rousey, on the way.

Johnny Martin, developing into a slashing fullback in his senior year, crashed over from a yard away on Oklahoma's last tally at the end of a sustained drive that started with Jacobs breaking loose from his own 17.

STILL STARRING — Preston Johnston, SMU's great backfield ace, continues to ride high in Southwest conference touchdown circles. Saturday, he paced the Ponies to their 20-13 win over Auburn. See story to the left.

Bears Edge Out Villanova, 7-0

By RAY NEUMANN
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 19—Lagging most of the game, Baylor university's embattled Bears amazingly uncorked a last period blast to crush a valiant Villanova college aggregation, 7-0, here tonight.

Apparently stalled by raging Villanova line play the first three periods, the Bruins brought 13,000 spectators to their feet with a 48-yard touchdown drive which was started and ended by square-jawed Milton Merka who crashed over for the marker on fourth down from the two-foot line.

Merka Breaks Through

Just before the third period ended, Merka unexpectedly cracked the sturdy Wildcat defense and galloped 21 yards to the Villanova 27.

Baylor had made sporadic gains before but Dwight Parks refused to let this drive die. On a wide end sweep he worked down to the invaders' 11 for a first down. Jim Witt added three on a plunge and then Parks broke loose to the right, dodged three would-be tacklers, and stumbled over the corner flag.

Officials ruled, however, he stepped out on the four-foot line. Witt was elected and plowed for two feet. On the final down, Merka smashed over. Center Bob Nelson placekicked the extra point.

CHARLIE BAKER DIES

NACOGDOCHES, Oct. 19. (AP) — Charlie Baker, 26, guard on Southern Methodist university's 1935 team which went to the Rose Bowl, died of cancer in a hospital here today. He had been ill for two years.

Baker was survived by his parents, two brothers and two sisters.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 19. (AP)—Navy's air-minded powerhouse ripped through Drake university in the rain today to register its fourth consecutive triumph by a 19 to 0 score before 22,000 spectators.

Missouri Is 30-14 Victor

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 19. (AP) —Nimble Harry Ice of Missouri belied his surname today and melted Iowa State's Cyclones with red hot running gear that wore a beaten path to the goal-line and gave the Tigers a 30 to 14 Big Six conference football victory.

The 165-pounds of Ice from Kansas City, playing his first year on the Missouri varsity, electrified 12,000 "parents' day" spectators with three touchdown runs that ranged from a 2-yard bolt through center to a 51-yard zig-zagging junket.

Ice started at quarterback for Paul Christman and when the big blond finally loped into the lineup, the Tigers kept their famed passing attack in their hip pockets except for a brief flurry when Christman passed to Ice for a touchdown.

Wave Cops 15-6 Win Over Rice In Ragged Tilt

By CHARLES NUTTER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19.—Thrice-beaten Tulane finally found the combination today in a ragged, thrilling exhibition of power, fumbles and penalties to defeat the hitherto unscored on Rice Owls 15 to 6 before 34,000 spectators.

Rugged James Thibaut, strictly a New Orleans product, put the Green Wave into the lead 9-6 in the final seconds of the second quarter with a slanting 27-yard field goal from placement. Cheered by being ahead for the first time since the Sugar Bowl game last season, Tulane went on to pick up another touchdown in the third.

Fumbles Mar Play

The game was an almost endless procession of fumbles, costly penalties, and intercepted passes in which both the hard fighting elevens shared almost equally.

Tulane's power combination, for which Coach Red Dawson has been desperately seeking all season, functioned in the pinches for the first time, and put the humbled mighty Green Wave of 1939 back on the track for what could yet be a successful season.

Hays Scores For Rice

A Tulane fumble gave Rice its only touchdown. Lou Thomas dropped the ball and Marvin Dewoody scooped it up on Tulane's 24, from where Joe Price reeled off 14, and Bob Brumley lugged it on across in three tries.

It looked like another dreary hometown afternoon especially after Tulane was unable to power drive the ball over minutes later after bringing it up to Rice's 14.

But Tulane whipped back from a punt and Thibaut completed a 20 yard pass to Albert Bodney to Rice's 30. Power drives took it to Rice's 9 and a new Rice team took over, but fleet Harry Hays of San Angelo, Texas, running like a jackrabbit skirted right end for the touchdown.

Thibaut's Kick Good

Tulane held Rice in downs and Red Cassibry punted to Barron Ellis on Rice's 39. T. A. Weems at this point threw away Rice's best chances with a passing attempt that brought two 15 yard penalties, one for a screened pass, and the other for grounding the ball.

The ball went over to Tulane on Rice's 19 with 45 seconds to go in that second period. Thibaut and Thomas tried three passes but Tulane was never strong in the air. Then Thibaut gave the stands the wild thrill of being ahead for the first time this year when he booted from placement on Rice's 27.

Tulane put it away early in the third quarter when Thibaut picked Keel's pass neatly out of the air on

Cornell Defeats Syracuse, 33-6

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Cornell, growing more powerful and deceptive with each passing week, rolled over a fair Syracuse team 33 to 6, today, despite everything Coach Carl Snavely could do to hold the score in bounds.

It was an impressive show for the 18,000 who shivered in the first cold day of the season. The nation's No. 1 team, by vote, scored almost at will when it took the notion, mostly on long, spectacular plays.

Passing Attack Clicks

Four of Cornell's touchdowns were scored on passes, three of them from far out on the grass, while Bill Murphy broke and ran 44 yards for the other.

Hal McCullough's brilliant passing, the deft ball handling of his several receivers, and the desperate running of Mort Landsberg, Cornell's 170-pound fullback, all combined to make the winners attack a thing of fire and beauty.

Eugene Schmidt, substitute Syracuse center, suffered a broken leg in a hard pile-up in the final period.

Syracuse Strikes Once

Cornell piled up 226 yards by rushing, with about a dozen backs contributing. The Big Red completed 15 out of 24 passes attempted for another 310 yards, and in all manner of means made 17 first downs to 9 for Syracuse.

The Orange, faced by all this excellence made only one big gesture, when it slugged 68 yards for its touchdown early in the second quarter. Dick Banger finally passed 11 yards to Les Dye for the score.

McMurry Loses 52-0 Tilt To Howard Payne

ABILENE, Oct. 19. (AP)—Howard Payne college handed McMurry the worst Texas conference licking it ever got today, punching the Indians Groggy for a 52-0 score.

Little Tommy Samuels, Jacket reserve back, ran a punt back for 88 yards and a touchdown and circled end 46 yards for another score. Roland Warren, an end, and Howard Swann also had a field day, Warren blocking a punt for one tally and taking a pass from Fisher for a 42-yard scoring dash. Swann plunged for his two touchdowns.

Tennessee Rumbles Over Alabama, 27-12; Irish Crush Carnegie Tech, 61-0

Johnny Butler Spark Of Big Vol Triumph

By ROMNEY WHEELER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 19. — Dust off a shelf in football's hall of fame for little Johnny Butler, understudy to Tennessee's great tailback Bob Foxx, who sparked the Volunteers to a 27-12 victory over a fighting Alabama team today.

The black-haired mite, weighing barely 160 pounds soaking wet, slashed off right tackle early in the second period and raced 68 yards up Legion Field's east sideline to Alabama's 11. Then he faded back and shot a flat pass to End Al Hust for the tally. Fred Newman, substitute wingback, kicked the point.

Returns Punt To Paydirt

Barely a dozen plays later Butler snatched an Alabama punt on 'Bama's 49 and raced under a convoy of blockers to score standing up. Newman again converted.

Butler's brilliant play erased a 6-point advantage earned earlier in the period by the Crimson Tide when quarterback Jimmy Nelson tore throught the Tennessee line on a spinner for 14 yards and a touchdown.

A sell-out crowd of 24,531 fans wacthed the bitter struggle, which saw Alabama go down for its first defeat of the year, and Tennessee yield its first touchdowns against a Southeastern conference foe since L.S.U. punched over a lone six-pointer in 1938.

touchdown early in the second period. From the S. M. U. 43 Clement flipped a pass to Kelly Simpson and he rambled to the counter. Pasqua missed the goal.

Touchdown Called Back

In three minutes SMU had another touchdown, this time on Johnston's glittering run. SMU got the ball on its 8 after a long punt by McGowen. Johnston cut through tackle, sliced to his right and outran the Auburn team without a hand being laid on him. Johnston added the goal.

Auburn got going in the third period. Once the Plainsmen drove to the SMU 10 only to lose the ball. Rufus Deal had crashed over from the 14-yard line for a touchdown but it was called back and Auburn penalized five for off-side.

Penalty Costs Mustangs

But Auburn pounded back from midfield, principally on a 31-yard pass from Yearout to Jim Samford that carried to the SMU 3. Yearout made one at center then hurled right end for the score. Buddy McMahan kicked the goal.

The final Auburn touchdown came in the fourth period. A 15-yard roughing penalty set the Mustangs back to their 1-yard line and Yearout returned Johnston's punt to the SMU 24. Reynolds made two at guard and Yearout pitched a pass to Samford for the counter. McGowen missed the goal.

the visitors 30 and added 12. Thibaut pushed through in two tries, after Grush and Bob Glass had given him four yards.

It was a costly Tulane victory. Hays going out with a broken collar bone sustained in a long second quarter run.

Late in the fourth Keel of Rice began dropping back and back to try passes, but his receivers were covered and he was smothered for successive losses. Tulane fumbled five times, Rice three. Tulane was penalized 55 and Rice 65.

LUBBOCK plays Amarillo Wednesday night at the Texas Tech stadium.

And that's no monkey business. Amarillo DOES play Lubbock. It's the annual game between the negro high school teams of the two towns, and it's always one of the best football shows of the season.

The American Business Club is sponsoring the game, and all receipts, above expenses and guarantees, will apply on the Tech stadium scoreboard. The ABC has come through with an electric timer, in use for the past few games and certainly one of the biggest improvements at the stadium. Now the alert civic club wishes to electrify the entire board, giving scores, first downs, distance to go, etc., by electrical lights and controls. Money gained from the Lubbock-Amarillo game Wednesday night will go for that purpose.

Lubbock High moves into the District 1 race Friday night when Borger's Bulldogs come to town. It's the major attraction of the week-end, and you will find tickets available tomorrow at the downtown agencies. Texas Tech packs up and takes off for Milwaukee and its game with Marquette. Departure is tentatively scheduled for Thursday. The game is on Saturday afternoon.

Lubbock's state champion Westerners shed the glittering past to think of the future come Friday night.

Boasting a 14-game winning streak that surpasses the best the Texas Interscholastic league has to offer in Class AA competition at present, the charges of Coaches Goober Keyes and Walker Nichols pound the pigskin path into the District 1-AA wars come Friday night and the visit of Borger's Bulldogs.

Highlight Of Week

The game is the highlight of the city's football entertainment for the week and marks the first step in defense of the state championship the famed "Cinderella Kids" roared to last fall.

With one week's rest and preparation under their helmets the Bronc Busters will continue to bear down the next three afternoons then lighten up Thursday. Decided though not decisive favorites the Westerners are in for a rough evening—comparative scores to the contrary. Past records in this wild scramble that rivals anything in the state have proved that conclusively.

Cowhands Look Good

While the Black and Gold champions were thinking about the Bulldogs, Amarillo's Sandies and a few more major obstacles the future Westerners, Coach Cy LaMaster's Cowhands, were turning in one of the bigger surprises of the week-end, drubbing Olton's mammoth Mustangs, defending champions in Districts 5-A and 6-A, Friday night, 26 to 13.

Stars of the fray were Fullback Jack Pipes, who galloped to three of the four touches, one of them a 65-yard sprint, Primo McCurry, versatile back who can cavort from any position in the mail toting department, who recovered a kickoff for the other counter, and Left Half Wayne Odom.

Bulldogs On Spot

Also sharing prominently in the victory were Right Half Robert Brewer; Quarterbacks J. R. Allison and Joe L. Thompson; Ends Hubert Bechtol, Ezell Wallace and Joe Tom Glaze; Tackles Ross Brock, Kenneth Pharr and Jerry McCauley; Guards Jimmy Butler, Bill Smith and Thomas Pirtle; and Centers Frank Liddell, Jack Conley and Robert Reith. The Cowhands scored 19 points in the first six minutes of play over the stunned Mustangs.

Plainview's "B" eleven journeys here Saturday afternoon for a tussle with the Cowhands, time to be announced later.

Army Reserve Nurses Are To Be Called Out

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP)—The surgeon general's office at the army made plans today to call out 4,007 members of the army reserve nurse corps by next July 1.

The nurses will serve in hospitals at all training camps and in the general hospitals to be constructed in or near larger cities. These hospitals will cost approximately $11,000,000, with the smaller ones having 100 beds or more and the larger units having thousands.

charge, rolled over Carnegie Tech, 61-0, using 67 players as a crowd of 35,000 looked on. This head-lined an international program that otherwise proved nothing except that no section of the country has any monopoly on football talent.

Duke, benefitting by an 80-yard touchdown run by Moffat Storer, defeated Colgate, 13-0, but Columbia's smart Lions paid that one off by defeating Georgia, 19-13, in a thrilling duel which saw sophomore Paul Governali of Columbia assume the starring role. Merle Hapes and Junior Hovious led Mississippi to a 14-6 decision over Duquesne as Kentucky buried George Washington, 24-0; Boston College Walloped Idaho, 60-0, and Navy stopped Drake, 19-0.

Michigan Avenges Upset

The Southwest and Southeastern conferences shared honors as Tulane, finally clicking, bowled over Rice, 15-6, and Southern Methodist tripped Auburn, 20-13, with Preston Johnson leading the victorious Mustangs both offensively and defensively.

A crowd of 63,000 sat in at Columbus as Minnesota's Gophers, paced by Bruce Smith, stopped Ohio State, 13-7, and runied the Buckeyes' hopes of retaining at least a share in the Western conference championship. Tommy Harmon and Bob Westfall led Michigan to an easy 28-0 victory over Illinois, avenging last year's spectacular upset; and Northwestern had no great trouble with Wisconsin, winning 27-7 as Bill DeCorrevont dashed 50 yards for one touchdown and passed for another.

Yale Stars Stop Dartmouth

Texas A. and M. had entirely too much stuff for Texas Christian and won, 21-7, as Texas' Longhorns, also unbeaten and untied, knocked off Arkansas, 21-0.

Carl Snavely used every man on the Cornell bench as the Big Red's long-range attack swamped Syracuse, 33-6, while Francis Xavier Reagan, Penn's great back, scored 31 points as the Quakers won a high-scoring duel with Princeton, 46-28. A snowstorm failed to halt Len Eshmont and Fordham and the Rams took Pitt over the hurdles, 24-12.

De-emphasized Yale found the winning combination against Dartmouth and won 13-7 as Ted Harrison completed a touchdown pass to John Reid in the last 30 seconds. Army and Harvard played a 6-6 draw while Holy Cross won over New York University, 13-7.

Indiana Stops Iowa

Bo McMillin's hard-luck Indiana outfit, after dropping close decisions to Texas and Nebraska, finally got going and dropped Iowa from the unbeaten class, 10-6. Nebraska, Oklahoma and Missouri won Big Six games as expected. Nebraska, the favorite, piled up a 53-2 count on Kansas; Missouri halted Iowa State, 30-14, and Oklahoma outpointed Kansas State, 14-0.

Georgia Tech opened its Southwestern conference season with a decisive 19-0 conquest of Vanderbilt while North Carolina, Southern Conference power, whipped North Carolina State, 13-7. Washington and Lee spilled Richmond, 3-0, in another Southern conference test. Maryland lost to Florida of the Southeastern group, 19-0.

Stanford Still Tops

Utah was upset by Utah State, 7-0, in Rocky Mountain conference play but Denver, beating Wyoming, 41-9, and Colorado, 33-14 victor over Colorado State, moved along toward the title.

Stanford's Indians continued their sensational mop-up of far western competition. Lone unbeaten, untied team on the West Coast, Clark Shaughnessy's tricky ball-handlers handed Washington State its first defeat, 26-14. Washington favored for the Pacific Coast title, crushed Oregon State, 19-0, as Southern California knocked over Oregan, 13-0, and California tripped U.C.L.A., 9-7, on a last quarter field goal.

Golf Course "Worm" Tears Up Meadowbrook's Green

That loathsome insect, the golf course greens "worm," has been at his work again, this time at the new Meadowbrook course.

Some despicable character has unlawfully driven his automobile on the course, and on one of the recently opened and still very tender grass greens, and he has done a "merry-go-round" on the green, cutting the soft turf badly with the wheels of his automobile.

The same thing happened several years ago at Lubbock Country club, and it was three years before the greens so violated lost the marks of the tires. No arrests were made.

W. G. "Bill" McMillan, owner and manager of Meadowbrook, in announcing the latest violation last night, said that a check for $50 would be handed to the person giving information leading to detention of the person or persons trespassing at Meadowbrook.

the alley" to light heavyweight king and fortune in four short years.

"I got only 2.50 for my first fight," recalls pugilism's "white hope."

"I didn't have nothing — didn't have a suit of clothes. I had to bum rides downtown. My manager Johnny Ray took me off the street corner and made me a champ.

"Fighting made a high class gentleman out of me. See this house—$110 per month — that big automobile downstairs. Look at these $5 ties, $20 hats, $20 shoes, this $75 sport coat. At one time I had 100 suits of clothes. What I don't wear I give to the boys on the corner—the ones who went to school with me.

"Look at this room—my room —with radio, telephone extension, bath and shower, nice furniture, my bed fit for a king. I once had six of the old gang up taking showers just so they'd get the feel of it.

"Life is really sweet when you have money. Santa Claus has come and I'm still playing with the new toys.

"I take care of all the family, dad, two sisters and two brothers — Jackie, who's quit fighting, and truck-driver Frankie are joining the navy. If Uncle Sam sends for me I'll be ready.

"Just when we had it nice mother had to get sick. Had five operations. She thinks I'm pretty good now. Always will be scared I might be hurt. Still prays I won't. More guys—more people — go to church and pray for me. That's why I don't get hurt.

"Dad's still a steam fitter at the Westinghouse plant — $40 or $45 a week. Everytime I go past there I fly. One time when I was 17 he tried to take me out there and get me a job as a steam fitter too—anything just so I made some money. I told him I wanted to be a fighter and he says 'go ahead—that'll keep you out of trouble.' And it has.

"So far I've had the best of everything in boxing. Came up from the alley to make $80,000 last year. Yes, they say I have a $50,000 paid up annuity, I've met a lot of fine people—got a good education. And I went to nine schools before they pushed me up to the ninth grade.

"But I've got a lot of big things to do. I've gotta lick Joe Louis. I could whip him right now—any day. I'm the next heavyweight champ. I can't miss. And I'm not bragging either. I could have fought him this year but Johnny decided we'd wait until next summer so I'd be heavier and we could get more money with an outside show.

"I'm 183 now and should hit 190 by the time I meet Louis next summer. I'm going on tour—four fights already lined up—to keep in shape and pick up some $50,000.

"Yes, I'm very happy . . . If there are any little Billys, I'll never let them be prize fighters — it's the toughest job in the world. One in a million is a success. One in 10 million winds up with anything."

Aggies Defeat Frogs

Pugh drifted back from the scrimmage line at the TCU 34 to the 45 and unfurled a perfect pass down on the 13 to Sophomore Boots Simmons. He caught the ball and drove across, stumbling, with almost the same motion. Pugh kicked the point.

Charlie Conway blew off tackle for 15 yards after the kickoff, but the Christians lost the ball when Pugh speared a pass on the TCU 31. Jim Sterling picked up eight with a pass and Kimbrough butted to the 19.

Big John started rumbling around right end, suddenly stopped and threw back over his shoulder to Thomason, crouched in the flat. He was free to move on eight more for the second touchdown. Pugh's conversion kick was perfect.

Set up on the TCU 40 after a punt, the Aggies moved swiftly for the third score. Pugh rambled down to the 23 on a sweep, but Kimbrough juggled a bad handoff on a reverse and the Aggies lost 15.

But the Christian joy was short-lived. From the 38 Pugh drilled a 20-yard pass Thomason bagged and escorted on 25 more bruising yards through the TCU secondary for a score. Again Pugh drilled the extra point.

Greatest Notre Dame Team In Years Loose

By EARL HILLIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 19. — Notre Dame's football legions marched today to the relentless beat of a touchdown tattoo which hammered Carnegie Tech to submission, 61 to 0, and stamped the victors as one of the greatest teams in Irish gridiron history.

By land and by air, Notre Dame routed the outclassed Tartans in a contest which saw the use of every one of the 67 players on the Irish bench. But even the substitution of fifth and sixth stringers could not measurably slow the juggernaut which scored the biggest point total for the Irish since 1932's 62 to 0 rout of Drake and handed Carnegie its worst defeat in Tech's modern football era.

Subs Play Big Role

The game, in which the Notre Dame first team played less than two periods, wasn't six minutes old when John O'Brien, Irish end, blocked a Tech punt and recovered to run 24 yards for a touchdown. From then on it was a parade of power by the Irish, who showed they are headed for the high road to national title ranking as the finest all-around team produced by Coach Elmer Layden in his seven-years regime.

Carnegie didn't have a chance. The Tartans didn't reach Notre Dame territory until the third period and then, against Irish third stringers, lost the ball on downs at the Notre Dame 45. Late in the contest Tech got to the Irish 43 before losing the ball on a pass interception. In all, Carnegie made only five first downs to 15 for the victors.

Congress-That-Meant-To-Save Has Set Spending Record; Defense Tops Funds

Session Longest Since In 1888

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
AP Feature Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The 76th Congress started its 1940 grind as a "brief, budget minded" session but it has turned out to be the unchallenged No. 1 spender in U. S. peacetime history.

Originally figured to come to a close in June, the session has continued later into the fall than any in a general election year since 1888.

Five months ago, economy minded members voiced appreciation at prospective total appropriations for the year of $7,780,000,000.

Came the conquest of France. Congress started voting speedy and almost unanimous approval of billions for defense.

Approximations for the session will run around $17,000,000,000. Previous peacetime mark was $13,351,000,000 set by the same Congress at its session last year.

Highest In 1918

Highest wartime mark was $27,065,000,000 voted by 50th Congress in 1918.

Some $12,149,000,000 of this year's $17,000,000,000 will go for national defense. This does not include future expenditures for the two-ocean navy authorized by Congress which would bring the total arranged-for defense outlay to about $16,000,000,000.

Thirty-odd legislative measures provide for military and naval equipment ranging from buttons to battleships and from forks to flying fortresses.

From June 1 to October 1, Congress voted defense funds at the rate of $82,536 a minute for every minute, night and day.

The 76th Congress also made history by ordering the mobilization of military manpower on a scale heretofore unapproached in peacetime.

The conscription law called for the registration of more than 16,500,000 men—every eighth person in the country—for selective military service.

More Income Taxes

The defense tax law, designed to raise $1,006,000,000 a year, puts the heaviest federal tax load on U. S. citizens since the World war.

An additional 2,050,000 persons with small incomes will become federal taxpayers next March 15. Exemptions are reduced and a "supertax" of 10 per cent is added.

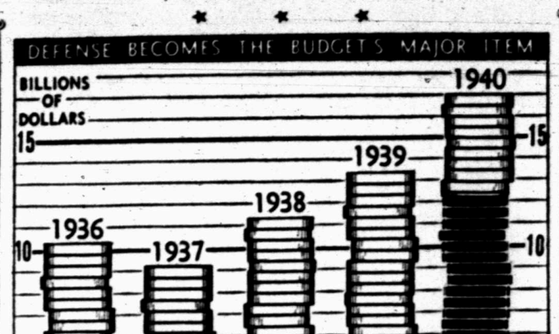

Congress also boosted by 10 per cent most of the excise taxes—on tobacco, liquor, autos, tires, radios, etc.

A "no-war-millionaires" law puts a graduated tax of 25-to-50 per cent on excess profits. A 3.1 per cent levy is added to the normal income tax rate for corporations earning more than $25,000, making the effective rate 24 per cent.

Congress voted $918,000,000 for farm aid; $1,157,000,000 to finance relief for at least eight months beginning last July 1.

It tightened the Hatch act, extending to federal-state employes restrictions on political activities and limiting single campaign contributions to $5,000.

The administration's reciprocal trade program was extended for three years. And Congress began hearings on proposal anti-third term legislation.

How New Income Tax Is Applied

Single Persons

Annual Income	Present Tax	New Tax
$ 800	$ 0.00	$ 0.00
900	0.00	.44
1,000	0.00	4.40
2,000	32.00	44.00
3,000	68.00	83.60
Married Persons (No Children)*
$2,000	$ 0.00	$ 0.00
2,500	0.00	11.00
3,000	8.00	30.80
4,000	44.00	70.44

*The $400 exemption for each dependent child continues to apply.

Twenty-one of Mussolini's reported fleet of 100 submarines, at least 10 of his destroyers and the world's speediest cruiser, the 5,069-ton Bartolomeo Colleoni, have been sent to the bottom since June 11, the British reported. Moreover, they said, seven Italian supply ships and one depot vessel have been destroyed, along with 28 bombing planes.

In addition, nine submarines were listed as probably sunk and the tabulation showed three cruisers and one battleship severely damaged.

The British declared the only reason heavier licks have not been delivered lies in the indisposition of the Italians to risk a battle.

Many present characterized the speech of Judge McGill as the best address of its kind they ever heard. The El Paso jurist, speaking on a theme purely Masonic, heard his remarks characterized as "fine oratory" at the conclusion of the program.

Wide Section Represented

The observance, annually held in practically every city in America and throughout most of the world, drew attendance from Amarillo, Wichita Falls and other nearer points. Those present represented communities between Amarillo and El Paso and from Brownfield and Morton to Spur.

Rev. Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of First Presbyterian church, delivered the invocation prior to a banquet which preceded the program in the North ballroom of Hotel Lubbock. Claude Grollman and Secretary Ed Parker were in charge of arrangements and Chas. A. Guy, president, presided over the meeting.

Ten Consistories Represented

Ten Scottish Rite Consistories were represented, including El Paso, Dallas, Galveston, Guthrie and McAlester, Okla.; Wichita, and Kansas City, Kans., Santa Fe, N. M., Columbus, Ohio, and Juneau, Alaska.

At the conclusion of the program John Dalrymple, of Lubbock, only 33rd degree Mason in this section, was recognized and the group paid farewell to Capt. Man-To-Papa Lateral Is Worked By Couple WACO, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Rev. and Mrs. Clifford Potts, young couple attending Baylor University, found that 17-month-old Joanne hampered their class schedules until they devised a hipper-diaper mam-to-papa lateral pass formation.

Daddy goes to his 8 o'clock class each morning, leaving Mrs. Potts with the baby. At 8:55 he hurries toward home, meeting his wife with the child in her arms. Baby is passed to papa, who returns home until time for the next class. Then he dashes toward the campus on the passing end of the play.

Thus it alternates through the day.

Draft Quotas

quotas will be allocated among local draft boards by each state's selective service headquarters.

First Call Nov. 18

Secretary Stimson has announced that the Army will call the first 30,000 men for training on Nov. 18. Thereafter, as soon as housing, hospital and other facilities are ready, commanders of the Army's nine corps areas may requisition troops within the limits prescribed by the war department, from the governors of the states in each area. At least 21 days' notice must be given for such requisitions.

As far as possible, units of the National Guard will be filled out with men from their home states, or at least from their own corps areas. However, officials said some transfers from one corps area to another would be necessary.

Negroes Total 35,734

Of the 400,000 men to be indected by March 1, it was disclosed that 364,266 would be whites and 35,734 negroes.

These figures do not represent quotas for whites and negroes, but were based on the Army's present facilities for making use of them. The war department already has announced that the proportion of negroes to be brought into the army will be the same as their proportion to the whole population.

No. 2 Board Posts Serial Numbers

Lubbock county draft board No. 2 posted the numbers of 4,145 young men Saturday on the first floor at the county courthouse and the No. 1 board is expected to follow suit early Monday.

The No. 1 board, with a few more names than the other, had completed assigning numbers Saturday night but had not posted the sheets.

Young men must learn their own numbers from the postings in the courthouse. Those residing and having registered in commissioners precinct 1 will be listed on the west end of the special bulletin board and those in the other three precincts will find their names and numbers on the east end.

Both boards started numbering with one and assign numbers as high as the number of cards they must classify. Several cards of persons who registered away from Lubbock, but who reside here, are yet to be received, one board reported.

Members of board No. 1 are Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, George C. Wolffarth and Gilbert R. Quinney, and of No. 2, J. G. Brewer, Bob Crump and Douglas Pounds.

Levelland's High School Band Proving To Be Successful Project; Has 60 Members

LEVELLAND, Oct. 19 (Special)—A new venture in Levelland—the high school band—has proved to be outstripping even the most remote hopes of success.

J. Bud Farrar came here this term from Knox City, where he had been a teacher and band director, and organized the Levelland High band of 15 pieces. Since the first of the school year enrollment in the band has grown to 60 members.

Total of 137 Studying

In addition there are 77 others, making a total of 137, students studying band music.

The school board has provided a modern band hall and practice rooms, equipped with piano. The band is playing for high school football games and is planning a spring concert.

Civic organizations have assisted the board, in providing funds for new uniforms, which are expected to arrive soon.

Attended Tech Band School

Farrar is a graduate of Daniel Baker college at Brownwood and attended the Texas Technological college summer band school last session. Kendall Young, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Young is student assistant director.

Ernest Stewart, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stewart, is drum major; Patsy Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Watson, is mascot; Queenelle Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Brown, Helen Humphries, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Humphries, and Orphine Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Johnson, are majorettes; and Betty Jo Copplin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Copplin, is tumbler.

they might be impending. And, for the second time since trouble for the Balkans began brewing, Premier Mussolini started out to inspect his built-for-blitzkrieg army, this time on the Yugoslav frontier.

The German view apparently was that Greece and Turkey, both British-guaranteed, could be expected to fall into line with axis plans without extreme pressure. If they don't see that their bread is buttered on the side of the axis, one authorized Nazi commentator observed, it is just too bad for them.

Counter-Moves Organized

But British counter-moves evidently were being organized to try to checkmate the axis' "new order," possibly by urging Bulgaria to defer territorial claims against Greece and to reject any Rome-Berlin bid to join it against Greece and Turkey.

While confidential documents in the British legation at Sofia were reported being burned lest the legation be forced to beat a hasty retreat from Bulgaria, Britain's minister to that kingdom, George Rendel, and her ambassador to Turkey, Sur Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen, conferred at Istanbul.

Nazis Claim Successes

In the war at sea, the Nazi high command said 31 ships totalling 173,650 tons had been sunk by U-boats recently, all but five of them out of a single British convoy in one night.

On their own credit side, the British reported that RAF bombers dived down from thick clouds Friday night to blast Hamburg's Blohm and Voss shipyards "where German warships are known to be under construction."

Hits also were reported on the Germania shipyards at Hamburg, the naval base at Kiel, commercial docks at Emden and Lubeck and many other industrial targets in Germany.

Young American Is In Quite A Predicament

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 19. (AP)—Blythe Y. Morris, 32, is in the predicament of not being able to return to his home in Mexico City because he registered for the draft.

An American-born representative of an automobile company and now a resident of the Mexican capital, Morris registered while on a business trip to Chicago.

Yesterday he discovered he could not leave the United States withcut the consent of his local draft board. But being a resident of Mexico he had no local board. State draft officials here said there was no rule governing his case but Morris was advised to go to Texarkana, Texas, where his mother resides, fill out a draft questionnaire and ask permission of the board there to return to Mexico.

First Egyptian Liner Arrives In New York

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 19. (AP)—The Egyptian liner El Nil—first passenger vessel of that ancient land ever to call at the port of New York—arrived from Alexanderia today with 145 passengers from the Near East. The voyage required 66 days.

The crew furnished a striking bit of color in their scarlet fezzes, flaming monkey jackets and baggy white pantaloons.

There were 72 American citizens aboard—including one born at sea—mostly Jewish workers from Palestine for whom war had spelled an economic blackout.

The El Nil was shepherded in a 22-ship convoy through the Red sea and down the Indian ocean to Capetown by four British destroyers, two cruisers and two patrol planes.

TOKYO, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—Plans were announced today for a "Japanese type of religion" to fit in the "new national structure" which the government seeks to build.

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 19. (AP)—Fire destroyed the Coves Springs school building and its contents today, causing a loss estimated at $3,000, partly covered by insurance. The fire apparently started from a pile of burning trash on the campus.

STATE OFFICIAL RESIGNS

AUSTIN, Oct. 19 (AP)—A. E. Tabb, chief rater and actuary of the state workmen's compensation department, resigned today to accept private employment in Houston. Tabb had served the State 12 years, 10 of them in the position he held upon resignation.

MOUNT VESUVIUS ERUPTS

NAPLES, Oct 19 (U.P.)—Mount Vesuvius erupted today.

A stream of lava 25 feet wide flowed down the mountain's slopes and flooded the Matrona road.

In nearby Pozzuoli sulphur craters erupted.

A "BELIEVE IT OR NOT" item sketched by Bob Ripley in his famous cartoon more than six years ago so challenged the ingenuity of Harry Elliott of Jefferson, Iowa, that he has developed a machine to do a job that no machine ever before has done successfully—that of bending pretzels. Elliott is pictured above with his pretzel bender, which has passed tests to the satisfaction of pretzel bakers.

Familiar 'By C. A. Price' To Be Missing From Associated Press; Retires On Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 19.—C. A. Price filed his last bulletin for the Associated Press at a few minutes before 4 p. m. today, struck his pencil in his pocket and retired at 65 after more than 45 years of service.

He was one of the four oldest Associated Press employes in point of service, and retirement, he said, did not mean he would "go out of circulation." He had a project in mind which was both work and pleasure, "just as my associated press jobs have always been."

Price took his turn at filing the Texas day state wire as editor today, completing a career that started Sept. 19, 1895, when he became Associated Press telegraph operator for the Woonsocket, R. I., Call.

Assigned To Texas In 1930

Subsequently he was made traffic chief for the eastern division with headquarters in New York and after making what one superior described as a "spectacular trip" over the United States supervising installation of modern automatic printers to replace outmoded morse telegraph circuits, he was assigned to editorial work in Texas in 1930.

Price's versatility as an Associated Press man was demonstrated in his last week of work in the Dallas bureau. He filled his own job as day editor, substituted one day for the photo editor and another day for the relay editor. It was this adaptibility that prompted General Manager Kent Cooper of the Associated Press to write Price:

"The occasion affords me the opportunity to tell you that you have every right to feel proud of a record spanning forty-five years in the service, covering half the entire history of organization, we are proud of that record, too."

Air Destruction Was A Dream

Lord Dunraven was racing for the America's cup, Grover Cleveland was president, and the "Century Run" was a popular Sunday diversion when Charles Andrew Price was first employed by the Associated Press.

"Destruction of the world from the air was only a dream of the dime novelists, and hazard from beneath the sea seemed remote although Holland was tinkering with a device that led to it," Price reminisced a few hours before finishing up his last trick.

"The A. P. as we know it today was two years old and not a strong infant, notwithstanding the enthusiasm of the young men Melville E. Stone, its first general manager, had gathered around him. I was warned not to leave a pretty good job for this new organization because 'they are letting out men every day.'"

Switched To Press Circuit

Price was lured to railroad telegraphing when he was a youngster of 16 because an admired uncle painted such a rosy picture of the romance of the rails that ran westward across the United States. Posted in a lonely little New England station and working three railroad wires, he found time at night to switch a spare instrument over to a press service circuit that paralleled them.

He had an early-day typewriter and on this instrument he practiced copying press during slack time on his night shift. He learned the lure of news, and resolved to find a job closer to it.

Went With Western Union

This he accomplished first by getting work with the Western Union Telegraph company, and from that switching to an Associated Press post.

"I believe I am the only A. P. man ever to be inducted into his job by benefit of clergy," Price said.

"When I went to work in Woonsocket, the editor, who apparently had been stung in the past, asked me first if I drank, explaining that liquor was no help to an operator trying to copy press.

"I assured him that I did not, and so he said: 'Fine. I will send my pastor to see you.'

"The pastor came." Price made good.

Editor Wrote New York

From Woonsocket, Price went to the Pawtucket Times in 1897 and to the Providence Journal, where he remained until 1901. He then was transferred to the Springfield Republican.

Richard Hooker, editor and publisher of the Republican, wrote the New York offices of the Associated Press about the "gentleman of culture" in the Springfield office who would be "going places" in the organization. A few years later Price was summoned to New York by W. J. McCambridge, now assistant general manager, and made night chief operator, then division traffic chief, entailing supervision of news transmission to Associated Press members in the Eastern United States.

This work and his services in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kansas, New Mexico, Arizona, Washington, California, Colorado and Texas included hundreds of contacts with editors and publishers of member newspapers, and appearances as a speaker before many service clubs. Often he had to be persuasive in dealing with publishers who eyed with suspicion the black-hood telegraph typewriters that have played such an important role in speeding up news transmission in recent years.

Editors Pay Tribute

A tribute to Mr. Price was paid by the managing editors association of Texas Associated Press newspapers.

Its president, James R. Record, managing editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, messaged:

"This is a salute from the managing editors of Texas Associated Press newspapers to C. A. Price, efficient and loyal member of the Southwestern staff who today is retiring for a well-earned rest after forty-five years service. All members of the Texas association know Mr. Price and appreciate his efforts over the years in our behalf. We have never called upon him for a service that he didn't perform well and graciously. We hope that in the days of his leisure he will find time to meet with us and visit with us, as he has in the day of his strenuous work."

Deficit Of State Hits New Record

AUSTIN, Oct. 19. — Another new all-time record for the deficit in the state general fund was noted today in State Treasurer Charley Lockhart's semi-monthly report.

The deficit was $26,996,228. Previous record was $26,125,278 on Oct. 5.

A call was issued for payment of warrants against the fund issued prior to Nov. 29, 1939.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19. (AP)—The height limit for flying cadets has been increased from six feet, two inches, to six feet, four, Col. L. B. Magruder, Second Corps area recruiting officer, announced today.

PARADES AS WINE BOTTLE

SANDUSKY, O. (U.P.)—The Sandusky high school band's prize formation at night games is a wine glass and bottle. The bottle of wine, as exemplified by the marching bandsmen with red illuminated caps, pours its liquid into the white illuminated glass.

Olin Culbersons Will Be Honored Today

Olin Culberson, railroad commissioner elect, and Mrs. Culberson will be honored at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon at a basket dinner in Mackenzie state park.

They will attend Sunday school services at 9:30 o'clock this morning at Sanders school, will be guests of Lubbock firemen at the Downtown Bible class at 10 o'clock and guests of Dean and Mrs. James M. Gordon at First Presbyterian church services at 11 o'clock.

The Culbersons arrived in Lubbock Saturday. He attended the Scottish Rite feast at night in Lubbock hotel, and they were guests Saturday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Dupree, at 2314 Seventeenth street.

Dupree, who announced plans for today's gathering in the park, said there would be "high-powered" speeches, no political chatter.

Firemen and other friends will be hosts.

Texas Tech Rodeo

To Go To Fort Worth

Miss Miller will represent the college in the sponsors' event at the All-American rodeo and horse show in Fort Worth Nov. 15.

The rodeo was preceded by a parade of approximately 75 horses.

Murray said the rodeo was considered unusually successful. It was the first time in several years the club had sponsored a rodeo.

A cowboy-cowgirl dance in the gymnasium Saturday night concluded the day's program.

Elliott, Moseley, Garrison and Miller tied for second place in the rodeo, having 50 points each.

Teachers Plan Action On Retirement Funds

FORT WORTH, Oct. 19. (AP)—The executive committee of the Texas State Teachers association voted here today to renew its educational campaign regarding the teacher retirement program in the hope of obtaining the necessary appropriation by the state at the next session of the legislature.

The legislative committee headed by H. W. Stillwell, Texarkana, will direct the campaign which also is intended to keep up the morale of the approximately 43,500 teachers who have paid $6,500,000 into the fund during the last three years without seeing the state complete the program by appropriating half of the money.

Slovakia has placed excise taxes on playing cards.

Mrs. FDR Has No Idea On Election

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19. (AP) —Eleanor Roosevelt has "no idea" whether her husband will win re-election to a third term as president.

"As far as the polls go," she said today, "they mean very little to me. They are so often too much one way or the other."

Asked if you should like to live in the White House another four years, she laughed and said:

"When you've been the wife of a politician long enough, you learn not to express anything one way or the other, but just go along and see what happens."

Police Report Brisk 'Business' Increase

It may be that crisp autumn night air or maybe it was just one of those Saturday nights, but police reported a brisk increase in business up to midnight.

Three negroes figuring in a triangular scrap showed evidence of some proficient knifing. The three, Willie Miller of Shallowater, and Tony and Thomas McCuthcheon, both of Lubbock, were treated in Lubbock sanitarium.

Raymond Land and Carl Webb, police patrolmen, said the fight started in 1800-block Avenue B and m... a block east to Avenue A, w... the combatants were picked up and carried to the sanitarium. None was considered critical.

Police were searching for the stolen car of R. R. Vest. The machine, license HC6-067, was stolen at a downtown hotel. It was a chocolate colored 1940 Chevrolet.

A 25-year-old negro's artificial leg put him at a distince disadvantage. While three companions were escaping employes in a department store, the negro, a resident of Paris, Texas, was nabbed.

A safety razor was found in his pocket, and he was found a few minutes later in city jail.

Two negroes paid fines of $5 and $7.50 for gambling but two white men entered innocent pleas to similar charges and were held in jail. Sgt. Lewis Kittrell and Aubrey Fawver of the police department arrested the men.

All-America Family Is On Happy Jaunt To New York

FORT WORTH, Oct. 19. (U.P.) — The All-America family—Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Leathers of Clarendon, Tex., and their two children—came here tonight for the first stop on the happiest journey of their lives.

They are going to New York to accept their national honors.

The family consists of the father, 39, a farmer; his brunet wife, six months younger; a daughter, Margaret Jean, 16, pretty high school student; and a husky son, John, 19, student at Clarendon junior college.

They Are Elated

The Leatherses were of course, elated.

Last summer, they were chosen in a chamber of commerce contest as the typical family in West Texas. They went to the World fair in New York, and lived in a model cottage as did 40 other "typical families" from across the nation.

Then they came home and resumed normal activities in Clarendon civic and social affairs. This week came the announcement they were hoping for—and Sunday afternoon the four will leave by air for Detroit to receive a new free automobile, the first of many gifts.

The air trip, incidentally, will be the first one for any of them, and Mrs. Leathers admitted timidly that she "had to be talked into it."

From Detroit, the family will go to Chicago, where a mail order company will give them house furnishings duplicating those in the World fair model cottage. They will continue to New York Tuesday for another visit, a more glittering one than the first trip a few months ago.

Sponsors are trying to arrange for them to visit the president at Washington. Numerous awards await them at New York.

This morning at Clarendon, the home folks turned out to give the Leatherses a rousing farewell.

Said the father, speaking for the family: "I still can't believe it."

Homecoming At Canyon Staged

CANYON Oct. 19 (Special) — West Texas State Teachers college ex-students crowded the campus today as they returned to enjoy a Homecoming fiesta which included a variety program lasting past midnight.

It was a celebration marking the beginning of the 31st long session of the pioneer plains state educational institution, which this term has its greatest enrollment. More than 1,200 students will be enrolled this term.

PRESIDENT ELECTED

CANYON, Oct. 19 (Special)—G. E. Jones, superintendent of schools at Hereford, was elected president of the Ex-Students association of West Texas State Teachers college at a Homecoming business session today. He succeeds County Superintendent W. B. Weatherred of Pampa.

Raymond Thompson, banker and county superintendent at Vega, was named a vice president.

New directors include Mary Bell Mitchell of Childress; Mrs. Clyde Warwick of Canyon and Knox Kinnard, superintendent of schools at Hereford.

Big Fiesta Program

A fiesta program which ranged from fine arts to hilarity was planned by Mrs. Tommie Montfort, general chairman, and her committees. More than 200 persons had duties in connection with the many phases of the celebration.

The daytime program included a Homecoming assembly, a faculty men's luncheon for candidates for queen of the day, a football game, a hobby exhibit, a mystery picture contest in which museum visitors tried to guess the message of an abstract painting, and more than a dozen organization reunions.

Queen Is Crowned

The evening program included coronation of the Homecoming queen, a fine arts program by Amarillo dancers and singers, and the mammoth night club. Clarence Thompson, local hardware merchant, directed a five-division night club which required two tag tents pitched on the campus to handle the overflow. The night club included dancing to four orchestras, a long floor show, carnival attractions on a midway 200 feet long, and a score of minor entertainments. Pan-Texas and Pan-American themes were stressed in decorations, which included mural paintings done by students of the department of art.

The Homecoming celebration, believed to be the southwest's most colorful collegiate show, climaxed a series of rallies, organization of county ex-student groups, and radio broadcasts. The occasion has grown to be a territorial-wide celebration, in which friends of the institution and citizens generally join. A group of 30 Amarillo business men, attired in western costumes, drove to the Homecoming led by an Amarillo city police escort.

The Woman's Angle
by Margaret Turner Angle

MORNING THOUGHT

THE Know Nothing class is largely made up of those who listen and read to find fault instead of listening and reading to learn.

Where there is no vision the people perish—Proverbs 29:18.

ISN'T IT SO?

FROM that delightful book, "Mrs. Miniver:" "In ordinary times the majority of grown up people never try to acquire any new skill at all, either mental or physical, which is why they are apt to seem, and feel, so old."

NEW method suggested for indicating your choice for presidential candidate is by wearing initials cut out of court plaster on your cheek in the manner of old-fashioned beauty patches . . . Betty Grimes, former Tech student and member of Sans Souci club, was interviewed on her radio experiences on Gail Northe's Friday state network broadcast. She was sponsored in radio programs in Abilene before coming here and appeared in a radio broadcast over KFYO last year . . . Dutch Cawthon, a freshman at O. U., is a friend of Jack Jacobs, that Indian student who caused such panic at the O. U.-T. U. game last Saturday; that game as drawling voiced Mrs. Cawthon explained "was almost won by Oklahoma" . . . Wonder why Tech students don't stage those downtown shirttail parades after a football victory the way they did in years gone by? . . . Larry Nixon, author of those how to take a vacation books, is working on a "Handbook for Escapists," which will tell everybody how to get away from it all no matter who he is or where he wants to go or what he wants to get away from . . . Guinn (Big Boy) Williams, who is to marry Lupe Velez according to the news reports, is a nephew of Mrs. W. O. Stevens. He was in Lubbock not long ago and had lunch down town with Mrs. Stevens who was amused at the stares of fellow diners who bore that "where have I seen that man" look. We'll always remember his excellent portrayal of the psychopath in the picture show, "Private Worlds."

SADIE HAWKINS DAY

THAT DAY is coming round again. We mean Sadie Hawkins day which falls this year on Saturday, November 2. And for a social club or church class that thinks that season is a little early for Thanksgiving and realizes it's too late for Hallowe'en fixin's what could be more interesting than a Sadie Hawkins party?

Although out of season, the bachelors of Lubbock held a Sadie Hawkins' dance last winter which was more fun than a little for the hosts, their guests and the whole town as the occasion gained nation wide publicity for Lubbock. The affair was staged at a minimum expense, but there certainly was a maximum of fun.

Last year Sadie Hawkins day parties were held by over 600 colleges, schools, social and political clubs and chapters of fraternal organizations in the United States. They occurred in virtually every state in the union and drew attendances that ranged from ten to ten thousand.

If any club wants ideas for such a celebration, we'll be glad to lend our support. Come on you Li'l Abners and Sadie Hawkinses, what do you say?

A MODERN OGRE

THERE is a tendency to go modern now. We do it with our clothes of course, with our furniture and with our building of houses and offices. Perhaps authors have caught the fever, too. A well-known, modern writer hesitated to present a play in which there were fairies with wand and gauze wings. He did write of an ogre, it's true. But what an ogre!

If an audience expects "The Dyspeptic Ogre" (Wilde) to present the villain as a huge, hulking creature of super-cave man style, they will receive a severe shock. Why the ogre even talks over a telephone! This modernized fairy play is part of the Lubbock Children's Theater production which will be presented at the Palace theater Saturday morning.

DRAMATIC INCIDENT

ONE who hears several dozen books reviewed yearly is apt to forget the plots and highpoints of many of them. But there is one scene in "The Family Portrait," that play that ran on Broadway two years ago, that we shall never forget. We heard it reviewed by Mrs. Roscoe Wilson who saw the play the winter she spent in New York.

"Family Portrait" as we recall presents in colloquial language the authors' idea of the people who lived in Jesus' day. You saw his family and friends although you never saw Jesus himself.

Well anyway, this scene that Mrs. Wilson described so effectively concerned a trip the author imagined Mary and her three sons took once when they stayed at an inn. A young man had been talking to Mary in fervent and eloquent tones of the greatness of Jesus. Just then the sons enter. Mary attempts to make an introduction but stops, realizing she does not know the name of the young man. Taking his cue, the young man rose to his feet and bowed, "Judas, I am Judas Iscariot," he said.

That was the most dramatic situation we could imagine and that alone would have caused us to go to the play had we been in New York.

We know there are many people who object to a modern treatment of Biblical stories. They stay away from religious plays and avoid present day interpretations of the Bible. Such people confess to limited imaginations we believe.

CORSAGES TO CHEER ABOUT—This girl's beau must have gone to a smart florist. He couldn't have thought up these two corsages by himself—a realistic football made of white pompom chrysanthemums and sized to nestle neatly on her collar, and another corsage, meant for her sleeve, shaped to a college letter. The florists have worked out a number of clever ideas for men who want to send flowers by wire before the game. Just check off the design that appeals to you—or think up your own. The fur coat this girl wears looks like a football special, too. It's of sheared beaver with hat to match, and warm enough to keep the lady's nose toned down to a reasonable pink even in the coldest weather.

Program On Patriotism Is Given For Girl Reserves After Skating Party

The Girl Reserves attended a skating party Friday night from 6 to 7 o'clock at the Barrier Amusement park. Approximately 50 girls attended. A weiner roast was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McDonald, 2221 Eighteenth street, whose daughters, Connie and Betty, were hostesses.

The social committee of which Arline Younger is chairman, planned the entertainment.

At a recent program W. T. Strange talked to the girls on "Americanism From An Ex-Soldier's Viewpoint." Marjorie Glimp talked on "Youth Speaks On Americanism." Carolyn Reynolds was in charge of the program. There are 90 members in the organization.

Plans are being made for a booth at the Hallowe'en carnival to be held Oct. 31 at Senior High school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Johnson are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Roy V. Eddleman and her family, in Enid, Okla., for several days.

Mrs. Cliff Elliott is going to Wichita Falls this week-end where she will join one of her girlhood friends, Mrs. A. H. Urban, for a trip to Bonham. Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Urban went to school there and this is Mrs. Elliott's first trip back there in 18 years.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Porr. They are celebrating their wedding anniversary Monday. The wedding took place six years ago in Childress where the couple lived at that time.

Mrs. Melvin Neal and her son, Tommy, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gamel. Mrs. Neal is the former Miss Mary Lois Gamel.

FROM New York comes word that the Elton Plowmans are getting along fine. Don Benson of Lubbock is staying with them and says that Gladys is an excellent cook. Several evenings a week Gladys and Elton practice with their friends who attend an opera school there.

Mrs. Preston E. Smith is celebrating a birthday today. Congratulations to her and also to Mrs. S. B. Haynes, whose birthday was Oct. 14; Mrs. L. D. Thomas whose birthday was Oct. 16 and Mrs. W. M. Ryan whose birthday was Oct. 18.

Lorena Alexander at Mary Hardin-Baylor has been elected sophomore sports manager of the Women's Sports council. She was one of six girls elected. Dorothy James, also at the college, has been elected librarian of the chapel choir.

Russell Bean's roommate in Haiti reads this letter every Sunday, we are told. He says that he doesn't know anyone referred to but he enjoys it anyway. That is the nicest compliment we have had. Perhaps the young man will write a criticism sometime.

When Barbara Hagan married Harry Swinbourne Williams in San Angelo recently, the wedding hour and date was the same as that of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Schilling, in whose home the ceremony took place. They were married 24 years earlier.

Love,
Lou.

Through the Shop Window

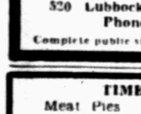

Good morning! We made a visit to the Decorators Studio yesterday that we want to tell you about. As you know they have completely remodelled and redecorated the studio "from top to bottom" . . . and surprisingly—they used very good taste.

However, with Fredda giving the advice which is expert in regards to decorating and Ruth adding a touch of smartness . . . and Alma checking up to see "if you were on the right side of the ledger" . . . it is no doubt that everything really does look spic and span.

But we are deviating from the point we wanted to leave with you this morning. It is our suggestion that you plan new drapes for your home. There are many long days and nights ahead of us. Enjoy your nome to the utmost . . . redecorate! Call 42 or drop by the studio at 1302 Ave. N and talk your problems over with the girls.

If our number doesn't come up, we will see you again next week. Same time—same chorus—"Nosey."

Mobilization Dates And Assignments For 130,000 National Guardsmen Given

Several Units Are Affected

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Mobilization dates and camp assignments for approximately 130,000 national guardsmen who will be mobilized in the period January 3-19 and about February 3 were announced today by the war department.

Comprising eight divisions and 84 regiments and other units, the guardsmen will be the last of such groups called out for a year's active duty and training.

Some In Uniform

Already in uniform or under mobilization orders are 132,000 other national guard officers and men.

The department said the dates selected for induction of the final groups were tentative, and that "no unit of the national guard will be ordered into the federal service until proper housing is ready and adequate hospital facilities are available."

The units to be called up January 3-19 totaled approximately 126,000 officers and men, leaving about 4,000 to be inducted about February 3.

Units To Be Called

Among the units to be called January 3-19, the existing strength, home state, and post to which they will be assigned, were:

193rd tank battalion, 344, Georgia, Alabama, Texas and Colorado, to Fort Benning, Ga.

113th cavalry (horse-mechanized) 753, Iowa, to Brownwood, Texas.

204th coast artillery (antiaircraft), 736, Louisiana to Camp Hulen, Tex.

105th coast artillery battalion (antiaircraft) (separate), 313, Louisiana, to Camp Hulen.

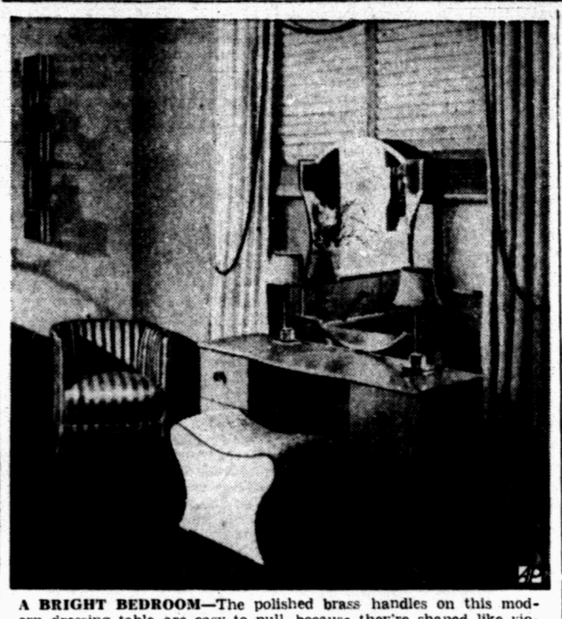

200th coast artillery (antiaircraft), 73, New Mexico, to Fort Bliss, Tex.

206th coast artillery (antiaircraft), 1,187, Arkansas to Fort Bliss.

260th coast artillery (antiaircraft), 1,187, District of Columbia, to Fort Bliss.

120th observation squadron, 116, Colorado, to Fort Bliss.

104th antitank battalion, 284, New Mexico, to Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

A BRIGHT BEDROOM—The polished brass handles on this modern dressing table are easy to pull, because they're shaped like violin pegs. The drawers are deep and spacious. That modern chair of yellow and white antique satin seems to take on Regency stripes. The wall bracket which was painted to match the chair reflects the same trend because of its Chinese Tang figures. White spun rayon nubby fabric covers the stool. The table is of bleached primavera, striped with gold lacquer. Two white walls in this room face two contrasting yellow walls, and the curtains are white.

Young Eugene Worley, New Congressman, Hitch-Hiked On First Visit To Capital

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP)—Eight years ago a University of Texas student hitch-hiked to Washington during the summer recess to see for the first time the nation's capitol.

The same young man, Eugene Worley of Shamrock, has been back to look over the house chamber below the great capitol dome where he will come in January as representative of the eighteenth congressional district of Texas.

He borrowed $250 last spring as soon as it became known that the man he will succeed—victory over any republican candidate in the November election is unquestioned—Representative Marvin Jones of Amarillo would not seek reelection because the president had appointed him to a federal judgeship. That $250 went to buy a 1936 model coupe and equip it with a home-built loud speaker device.

Then Worley set out over those vast plains and gulches of the Panhandle. Home folks call him Gene. He stopped, as he says, "wherever I could get a crowd of two or more persons together," climbed on a platform in the back of the car and began to tell why he thought they should send him to congress. Sometimes the speaker system would go haywire, so he would shout a little louder.

It wasn't talk alone that put him out ahead in the race. He had a lot of sales points, including the fact he had served five and a half years in the state legislature. Folks from Donley, Gray, Collingsworth and Wheeler counties sent him there while he was working his way through college, and kept him there after he had finished and established himself at Shamrock.

The worst campaign obstacle he had to face, Worley tells you, was that he missed being born in Texas by about 70 miles. His birthplace was Lone Wolf, Okla., Oct. 10, 1908.

"You don't have much to do about where you are born or what your name is," he explained, blue eyes smiling. "But I could tell those who criticized me on this score that as soon as I was big enough to wear knee pants I prevailed upon my parents to move to Texas.

"I also was able to point out that several Texas members of congress, including Speaker Rayburn of Bonham, were not native Texans."

After finishing public school at Shamrock, Worley went to Texas A and M. college. He had in the back of his mind he would like some day to be either a criminal lawyer or a newspaper man. He also thought he would like to have some military training, so he enrolled at A. and M. Six-feet and two inches, weighing about 175, Gene played battalion football when he wasn't cutting grass or working in the mess hall to earn part of his expenses. That was in 1927 and 1928. He remained out of school a year then, working on the Shamrock Texan as a reporter and advertising salesman, saving money to continue his education. He also assisted his stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oliver, run a motion picture house.

Job On School Paper

While attending the state university Worley got a job the first year selling advertising on the Daily Texan, and later was advertising manager of the school year book, the Cactus. The second year he obtained a job as clerk of a house committee in the legislature, and it was this experience that created in him a desire to enter politics. In 1924, two years before completing his college work, he bought a model T car for $35, having persuaded the salesman to remove the top and reduce the original $40 price. With it he campaigned for the state legislature.

At Austin he served on three important committees, the labor, judiciary, and oil, gas and mining, being chairman of the latter. The experience on these, he says, was invaluable.

At a luncheon of the Texas congressional delegation he was introduced and said briefly he would do his best, in the face of a handicap of succeeding such an illustrious figure as Jones. His modesty and pleasantness favorably impressed the rest of the Texans.

Worley is married but didn't have his wife with him this trip. He took time out after the luncheon to call her at Louisville, Ga., where she was visiting. The call made him think of the summer of 1932, he said, when he borrowed some money from a friend to call her from Washington. She then was Miss Ann Spivey of Bonham. They were married three years ago.

Boy Scouts And Leaders Are To Participate In National Emergency Program

Plans Outlined Here Saturday

Plans for participation by Boy Scouts and leaders in the 20 counties of South Plains council in the national emergency scout program were made at a breakfast in Lubbock hotel Saturday, according to announcement by Dr. F. B. Malone, council president.

Major objectives of the campaign, he explained, are two-fold. One is to prepare for the replacements of adult leaders who may be called into military service under the national selective service act. The other is to prepare all members of scouting for any service they might render if the need should arise.

Chairmen Announced

Chairmen of council committees to cooperate in the program were announced by the council program with the explanation that each will name a chairman for each of the nine districts comprising the council. District chairmen will, in turn, appoint local committees.

The council chairmen are:

Sam A. Henry, sr., council field commissioner, general committee; K. N. Clapp, inventory and roll call; Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, leadership training; Alex McDonald, camping; George W. Dupree uniforming; Rabbi Isadore Garsek, emergency service units; and L. R. Grimes, mobilization.

Plan In Detail

The plan in detail was announced by Henry as including:

Inventory and roll call before Dec. 1 of all troops and packs to reveal leadership gaps resulting from the selective service act and other military reasons.

The training of additional leaders with 35 courses being planned in the council before Jan. 1.

Expansion of the camping program and better uniforming.

Creating of emergency units made up of scouts 15 years of age and old to be given special training for first aid messenger service and the like.

A mobilization week program when all scouts in the council will be expected to assemble quickly at some designated place.

Mail Hampered By Losing Two Trains

Taking off of two Texas & Pacific passenger trains from Fort Worth west through Sweetwater to El Paso is having a serious affect upon mail for Lubbock and other South Plains towns, according to Postmaster Amos Howard.

Santa Fe morning train, No. 94, from Sweetwater, due in Lubbock at 8:20 o'clock, has been from an hour to an hour and a half or more late, since the train service was discontinued. The trains, Nos. 3 and 4, handled mail through a railway postoffice service.

Are Usually Late

Remaining railroad mail service is attempting to handle the additional work. The T-P No. 7 from the east, is late leaving Fort Worth at night, carrying mail that formerly was carried on No. 3. It has to be worked on the train and with heavier business, the trains are generally late.

On Saturday the city letter carriers have been held at the office until the train arrives, so first class mail will not be held over until Monday. The Santa Fe train is held at Sweetwater until the T-P train arrives.

Mail for towns west of Lubbock is either handled through Post or Lubbock, while mail for Lamesa and Tahoka is handled through Big Spring. Also mail for Seminole, Seagraves, Brownfield, Denver City and other towns is affected by late trains.

ANTI-CLIMAX

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—A call informed deputies that a slide caused by heavy rains had uncovered a box in which someone was buried. The officers found a body in the box—of a bear.

There are about 60,000 drug stores in the U. S.

SEEKS CHURCH AID—Rev. J. A. Gibson, pastor of Sanders Street Baptist church, wants to finish the building he drew plans for and helped build into its rough state at Sanders street and Avenue E. A drive will begin Monday for $300, which would stucco the exterior and plaster the interior, said the pastor, who made the plans and supervised construction. Last year the town gave the church $202 to start the project.

DO YOU KNOW

WHAT FOUR ESSENTIAL FACTORS DETERMINE THE BEAUTY AND VALUE OF A DIAMOND?

NO. 1—COLOR
NO. 2—CUTTING

NO. 3—PERFECTION
NO. 4—WEIGHT

ANDERSON'S DIAMONDS ARE ALWAYS "SALE PRICED"

As the intrinsic value of diamonds is subject to only very rare and slight fluctuations, it is only in exceptional cases, such as manufacturers' liquidations or bankruptcies, that a store ever has an opportunity to buy or sell them off price. Thus, in place of periodical, artificially created sales, it is Andersons' policy to mark all diamonds at all times at the lowest possible "sale prices."

As a result of this policy the savings to Andersons' customers are substantial or it is possible to buy a larger diamond with no additional cost. Regardless of when or what diamond you buy at Andersons' you are always assured not only of fine registered stones but also of substantial savings.

It is natural that most people wish to buy diamonds out of income. Through the accommodation of deferred payments this is possible to any reputable person at Andersons' For this convenience there is no carrying charge or interest. Andersons' policy is to give you fine diamonds and watches at attractively low prices.

DIAMONDS AS INVESTMENTS . . .

Diamonds yield no dividends, except in terms of pride and pleasure. Of all "valuables," however, they fluctuate least in worth, and are most readily redeemable.

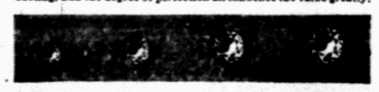

There come unforeseen emergencies into the lives of all, when a substantial amount of cash is needed badly and at once. All too often, such an emergency comes in those periodical disturbances of business known as "hard times." At such a time most property is hard to sell at any price; impossible, except at a tremendous sacrifice.

It is in this emergency, the unchanging worth of a diamond as an investment becomes forcibly apparent. For the quick loan value of the diamond is far higher than anything else the average person is apt to own. It will be accepted as collateral readily by banks, loan companies and individuals without red tape or delay. And its loan value in these circumstances is usually 50 to 65 per cent.

What other gift combines such beauty with such unusual features of a good investment?

Carat weight alone does not determine a diamond's value. Color, cutting, and the degree of perfection all influence the value greatly.

Oil Regulation Practices In State Of Texas Are Flayed

Criticism For Methods Voted

DALLAS, Oct. 19. (AP)—The Independent Petroleum association of America is critical of certain practices followed in regulating the oil industry of this state, according to a resolution adopted at the closing business session of the annual convention.

The resolution listed eight "abuses" with the state regulatory body, the railroad commission, drawing the fire of the organization. There was extended debate, however, before the resolution was adopted.

Fixing of state allowables "in disregard of conclusive evidence establishing bona fide consumer demand for oil" was condemned.

Excessive Nominations Hit

The resolution also hit at what it termed "the practice of some purchasers of making excessive and fictitious nominations in fields where such purchasers have substantial production, this practice being known as selective buying."

Other points drawing attack were:

"The alarming increase in selective buying which is being accelerated by the granting of special allowables to preferred fields which necessarily causes discrimination in the allocation of consumer demand.

"The practice of granting special allowables to certain fields to meet alleged special export demand and to fill the still capacity of certain refineries.

"The granting of special allowables in any field without a public hearing after notice and without giving due regard to the effect of the allowable sought upon the overall distribution of the allowables of the whole state.

"The practice of granting special allowables to certain fields based upon superficial and unsubstantial demand for oil of a particular quality.

"The apparent disregard of the obligation to distribute the state allowable in an equitable manner and the increasing instances where favoritism is shown producers in one locality without any justification in fact.

"The surrender by any regulatory body of the responsibility of equitably distributing allowable production among all fields by permitting purchasers to concentrate their purchases in fields where their production predominates."

George A. Hill, jr., of Houston declared the association was national in scope and had no place in intervening in what was purely a state situation.

Charles F. Roeser of Fort Worth, former president of the association, declared that what Texas does affects other producing states and made them a party since these Texas practices might well spread into other oil areas.

At its final assembly last night, Rep. Hatton W. Sumners (D-Tex.) declared "a nation bottle-fed and rocked to sleep in the cradle of bureaucracy can not save democracy."

"We've gotten soft in America... We have surrendered the responsibilities of government to a few politicians in Washington and taken away from ourselves, the people, the rights and privileges of self-government that should never be centralized in the federal government."

Chicago's Crooked Politics May Hold Key To Illinois Electoral Vote; Parties Fight Hard

BY PHIL AULT
United Press Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.The Kelly-Nash Democratic organization, most frequent target of Wendell L. Willkie's attacks on big city machines, holds the balance of power that will decide who gets Illinois' 29 votes in the electoral college.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly and County Chairman Patrick A. Nash are driving the machine under a "Roosevelt and Humanity" banner, and they expect its smooth-running mechanism to out-vote the normally Republican down-state counties sufficiently to swing the nation's third most important state to Mr. Roosevelt.

The Republicans, stimulated by Willkie's invasion of the Kelly-Nash home grounds, are fighting with new tactics to cut the usually huge Democratic city margins. Their battle cry is "stop the vote frauds."

John T. Dempsey, Republican chairman of metropolitan Cook county, and George F. Barrett, candidate for state attorney general, have organized a militant group of poll watchers.

Poll Officials Indicted

Dozens of election officials and precinct workers, both Democratic and Republican, were indicted and convicted in a cleanup drive after the last Chicago election. Examination of ballot boxes showed thousands of votes falsely marked, miscounted, or not counted at all.

Willkie himself set the pitch for the Republican attack on the Kelly-Nash organization with a whirlwind tour of Chicago early in his campaign. He denounced the Democratic machine in a series of street corner speeches and threatened if elected to start income tax prosecution against Kelly and Nash.

The Democrats are not depending entirely upon the city machine to carry Illinois. Henry A. Wallace, Democratic vice presidential candidate, toured the downstate farm region by automobile with an agricultural appeal aimed at destroying the Republican lead built in the 101 downstate counties in the 1938 senatorial election.

In that contest, Richard J. Lyons, Republican candidate, came to the Cook county line with a 108,000 lead. But he lost the election to Scott W. Lucas when the Democratic candidate polled a 250,000 majority in Chicago.

Chicago Holds Key

Neutral observers believe downstate Illinois will go Republican again in November. Republicans talk of carrying Chicago, but most of them admit privately they will be satisfied to reduce the Democratic majority sufficiently for downstate voters to decide the issue this time.

There is normal harmony between the city and downstate Democratic organizations, but frequently Democratic state candidates campaign through the rural areas without mentioning their Kelly-Nash support. When they stump the city in the campaign windup, they appear under Kelly-Nash auspices.

The Chicago machine has personal interest in the Roosevelt campaign, for Mayor Kelly was one of the loudest "Draft Roosevelt" supporters at the nominating convention.

Lubbock Woman, Pearl Moore Stevens, Is Author Of Delightful Little Book Of Poems

"When Lights Burn Low," by Mrs. T. E. Buckner who writes under the pen name of Pearle Moore Stevens, is a book of poems whose subjects range all the way from home themes such as mother, the cookie jar, the old clock to nature, prayer, meditation and grief, poems with a freshness and strong appeal to lovers of this type of literature.

Mrs. Buckner is author of two earlier volumes, "The Singing Soul" and "Shadows of Dawn," and she edited the new Naylor-published "Greater Texas Anthology of Verse."

Verse."

This volume is dedicated to kindred souls, to "those who think of me when lights burn low" and the first poem reads

Only eyes that
Have known tears;
Can measure heartaches
Through the years.

There are over ninety poems in the slender book which is bound in electric blue and lettered with black.

Typical of the poems which she writes from the angle of a homemaker is this one which Mrs. Buckner has called "Gossip."

I rose quite early
My heart was glad,
I was grateful for
The things I had.
I swept the walks.
I mopped the floor.
I fed a beggar
At my back door.

I made my house
A spotless thing;
I baked a cake
And sang and sang.
I said a prayer
Of thankfulness.
And asked the Lord
All hearts to bless.
Then you called
With your disdain,
I had to say
My prayers again.

There are a number of poems of a religious vein of which "Oh God" is typical:

Give me a song
Upon my lips;
A heart to pray
When courage slips;
Give me a task,
A work to do;
And this I ask...
The hand of You.

Lawyer Refuses To Take Higher Fee

HOUSTON, Oct. 19. (U.P.)—Attorney William M. Ryan said today he doesn't want to be paid more than he thinks his services are worth.

District Judge Roy Campbell ordered a $500 fee for settling a $126,000 estate to the advantage of an elderly client, Senora Esther Gonzales de Anderson of Mexico.

"Judge, I think that is entirely too much," protested Ryan. "I don't want more than $150."

"You have done this lady a great service," replied the judge, "and it is worth more than that, but I will do as you say."

Brazilian Consul Says Germany Expects To Occupy British Isles Very Soon

Also Hope To Seize Canada

HOUSTON, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—Brazilian Consul Carlos Meisner, jr., said today after arrival from Germany that the popular German expectation was for Nazi occupation of the British Isles within a short time and for ultimate seizure of Canada.

Meisner arrived at his new post here yesterday after a three-month trip from Frankfort, Germany, via Switzerland, France, Spain and Portugal. He was Brazilian consul in Frankfort 18 months.

Morale Is High

"Germans are convinced that their armies soon will overrun Great Britain and then push on to Canada," Meisner said. "Morale was high when I left Germany, although potatoes were low.

"There was ample food in the reich at the time I left (in July) as Germany had grabbed supplies from the conquered countries. But there was a shortage of coal and it looks like a cold winter for the Germans."

From March to July, the consul said, the Royal Air Force pounded at big chemical plants and munitions and airplane factories in Frankfort, which had a "very poor" air defense.

"In more than a score of raids," Meisner said, "the Germans failed to bring down even one raider. It became a sort of joke.

Were Very Methodical

"The British were very methodical in their bombing operations. They came down low and spottel their targets before dropping their bombs. Although we were not permitted to visit the damaged sections of the city, I believe very few houses were hit."

Meisner said he was "appalled" at conditions in France and Spain. There is anacute food shortage in France. The French had no sugar when Meisner arrived in August.

"Spain appears to be in worse shape," he said. "After crossing into that country, I could get no food for 24 hours. In Barcelona especially, conditions were very serious and transportation was a problem. No taxis were running."

Meisner, who takes over a newly-created consulate here, said he spent six weeks in Portugal before he was able to book passage to the United States.

Indians Remember 1870 Peace Treaty

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Oct. 19—(U.P.)—The draft board may not recall the peace treaty the United States signed with the Chippewa-Creek tribes back in 1870, but the Indians haven't forgotten.

The tribes, meeting in state convention here, appointed James White Calf and Francis Four Souls to go to Helena and remind selective service officials of that treaty. Chief Little Bear of the Rocky mountain reservation, one of the Indians who negotiated it, said that it stipulated the tribes "never would again take up arms against a human being."

That clause, Little Four Souls said, exempted them from army service and they intended immediately to protest to federal and state authorities.

Raymond Gray, president of the Montana Indian association, hastened to say that braves eligible for the draft had duly registered. The treaty did not mention registration.

NEW STRAUSS OPERA

BERLIN (AP)—A new opera by Richard Strauss, called "Danae," will have its premiere during the coming season. It was revealed that the composer was at work on a new opera, a lively one act play based on the relation between poetry and music.

BRITISH LAUNDRY PRICES UP

LONDON (AP)—In the midst of Nazi air-raids comes prediction of increased laundry prices. Already up 10 per cent over peace time, another boost is imminent, they say, owing to higher costs for soap, fuel and wrapping paper.

MAKING IT LEGAL—For the first time in its 40 years, the Bronx zoo in New York now permits visitors to feed the inmates, vending scientific animal goodies in machines like this set near animals most fond of handouts. Display Of Antiques Was An Interesting Feature At Recent Hale Center Banquet

(By Staff Correspondent)

HALE CENTER, Oct. 19—One of the interesting side displays at the 11th annual Octogenarian banquet here Thursday in the Methodist church was a display of antiques owned by well known Hale Center residents.

Women, who hastily got the display together, said next year they planned a larger display and that they would begin earlier to gather the valuable articles together. The idea was first proposed only a few days before the affair.

A copper kettle, showing evidence of much use, was shown by W. C. Wilhite, who also displayed a brass candlestick and a candlestick mould. The mould had a capacity of six candles. The kettle had a capacity of about two or three gallons and apparently had been widely used.

Other Articles Shown

G. L. Akerson was the owner of a coffee mill, the old hand grinding type, well preserved, with the trade mark label still remarkably distinct. His daughter, Miss Tillie Akerson, had a cut glass cream pitcher and sugar bowl.

A ridicule, the old-time handbag of women of previous generations, was shown as having been owned and used by Mrs. O. C. McWhorter. It was made of satin and trimmed with lace.

D. P. Bates displayed a metal sun dial, four inches in diameter and with roman numerals on it. A card said it was 150 years old. He also had a brass candle stick holder and a mould, with a capacity of six candles.

A drinking cup, made of a cow's horn and said to be over 100 years old, was shown also. An old-time china coffeepot was shown as well as several heavy cut glass salt holders and a toothpick holder.

Dairymen Will Meet In City

Representatives of state and national dairy organizations will appear on the West Texas Dairy day program to be held at Texas Technological college Nov. 1 under auspices of the Tech division of agriculture in cooperation with the Texas Dairy Products association.

The program will be held from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., after which the division of agriculture will hold open house for visitors.

Important Industry

"Dairying is rapidly becoming one of the most important industries from an agricultural standpoint in West Texas," K. M. Renner, head professor of dairy manufactures, wrote in letters sent out with attached programs. "It is our desire to see that the industry develops in a sane manner and that the business of dairying be promoted on a sound economic basis, which will enable the producer to make a fair profit on his operations."

At least 500 creamery managers, farmers, business men, bankers, newspaper men, county agents, home demonstration agents, vocational agriculture teachers and others interested in the agricultural development of the area are expected to attend, according to Renner.

Riddle To Preside

A. J. Riddle of Denison, president of the Texas Dairy Products association, will call the meeting to order. Speakers will include Dr. Clifford B. Jones, Tech president; M. E. McMurray, manager of the T. D. P. A., Fort Worth; W. L. Stangel, head professor of animal husbandry at Tech; Dr. N. W. Hepburn, executive secretary of the American Butter institute, Chicago, who will discuss "Mold Mycelia"; Jack Shelton, vice director of the Texas extension service, College Station; Ray L. Chappelle, head professor of agricultural education at Tech; R. B. Davis, secretary of the Houston Bank for Cooperatives.

The Tech-University of Miami football game is scheduled that night.

Nightgown For Hedy Has Them Puzzled

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 19 (AP) — There was some to-do recently about a nightgown for Hedy Lamarr to wear in "Comrade X." It had to be of some simple, proletarian material, yet not too unflattering. The designers did one in burlap, but it looked like a gunny sack. Finally, they compromised on flannel and Miss Lamarr was called for a fitting.

It suited her role, fitted her body. She was asked if she was comfortable in it, say—er, as comfortable as she might be in one of her own nightgowns.

"But I wouldn't know," said Hedy, "because I never wear nightgowns—only pajamas."

LEAVES HIM COLD—Preparing for a 35,000-foot jump, Arthur H. Starnes, Chicago parachute jumper, donned this suit with face mask and oxygen equipment for a test in the Armour Research Foundation "cold room" at Chicago. Wind velocity and 'chute jumping temperatures were simulated there. At left is Dr. Albert H. Andrews, Jr., of the Northwestern U. research staff.

Col. R. P. Smyth Recalls Having Surveyed Eight Towns Over Plains In Early Days

(By Staff Correspondent)

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 19—Col. R. P. Smyth, pioneer surveyor of the South Plains, town founder and early day resident, probably has the distinction of having surveyed more towns in this area than any other living man.

Now at the age of 85 he has retired, but visits frequently the towns that he once knew as pastureland. His records show that he surveyed and platted eight towns.

The first town was Plainview, which he laid out in 1888, after having come to this place the year before. He has resided here ever since.

In 1890 he platted the town of Dimmitt, county seat of Castro county. "A man came to my office," he recalled, and asked me if I was a surveyor and if I could show him how good I was. I showed him some maps and he was satisfied. He told me his name was Dimmitt and that he wanted to start a town in Castro county.

"I asked him what name he wanted to give the town and he said, 'thought.' I told him I thought 'Dimthought.' I told him I thought 'Dimmitt' would be a good one, and he agreed. After he left another man asked me if that was Colonel Dimmitt. I told him I did not know. He said, 'well, he is Colonel Dimmitt. I served in his regiment in the Civil war."

Other Towns Laid Out

Other towns laid out by Col. Smyth, who received his military title from his Spanish-American war service as head of a Texas regiment, include, Epworth, 1891; Hale Center, 1893; Tulia, 1889; Kress and Happy, 1907; Crosbyton, 1909.

Hale Center, said the colonel, was the result of a town started by the late Rev. Horatio Graves, who settled in Hale county about 1880 and who started the town of Epworth south of the present location of Hale Center. A Mr. Jones began another town, which he called Hale City, also south of the present townsite and across the highway. Unable to get together on which site to use, it was later decided to start the town in the present location, practically the geographical center of the county. Hale Center was the name given in 1893.

Assistance To Needy Given

Assistance has been given to 2,807 transients through the Salvation Army during the past year, according to report Saturday by Capt. M. Lambrecht, commanding officer of the army here.

The report was issued as preparations were begun for the launching of the Army's annual financial drive next week.

Assisting in the campaign will be Envoy V. M. Vansyckle, formerly commandant here who was transferred to Dallas several months ago.

Capt. Lambrecht's report reveals that assistance representing a cash value of $8,860 has been rendered to needy persons during the year. The items include $1,975 for transients, $1,990 for local, and $3,851 for the 48,141 lunches served in connection with the school hot lunch program, and $1,046 for Christmas.

Clothing Distributed

Local people given assistance have numbered 6,328, the report showed. That assistance has included the distribution of 9,862 garments of clothing, 1,593 pairs of shoes, 130 orders of medicine, 212 grocery orders and 95 fuel orders.

Help given to transients has included 2,708 lodgings and 6,549 meals.

The Christmas program included 391 baskets, 69 served at dinner in the Salvation Army hall and toys, candy and fruit for 296 children.

Religious and character-building activities included 246 street services heard by an estimated 21,884 listeners.

Gin Specialist Will Visit Area This Week

F. E. Lichte, cotton gin specialist of the state extension service, is spending three days in this district, meeting with county farm agents to discuss improved ginning methods and other matters with agents and others, said C. C. Jobson, county farm agent, who said Lichte would be in Lubbock Tuesday.

It will be an all-day meeting Tuesday, with agents from Hockley, Terry, Yoakum, Lamb, Garza, Crosby and Hale counties.

During his stay here Lichte will go with the agents to a gin where cotton is being ginned and where the agents can inspect the machinery in operation.

Wednesday agents from Cochran, Parmer, Bailey and Castro will meet at Muleshoe; Thursday, agents of Motley, Kent, Dickens and Swisher counties will meet at Matador.

Now Dana Does Not Like It One Bit

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 19 (AP)—Perversity is still at large in these parts. Dana Dale was a photographers' model, the best, said many. At any rate, she represented the ultimate in sophistication, whether she was photographed with cigarets or cylinder oil.

Her first assignment in Hollywood is in a bit of gun smoke and trail dust called "In Old Colorado." As Billy Boyd's heroine, she's astride a horse when she isn't ducking bullets. There is nothing sophisticated about the job.

Even though she's been reading for years about the way they do things in Hollywood, Dana doesn't like it a bit.

"13" DEBUNKED

HICKORY, N. C. (AP) — When Charles W. Baby discovered he had entered 13 exhibits in a flower show he withdrew one. But the judges seemed determined to pin the "unlucky" number on him for they handed him entry card number 13. Baby walked off with the top prizes.

Naval And Air Bases For Use In Mediterranean Drive Sought By Axis Powers

Territory To Be Demanded

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The reported Axis demands on Greece, to bring that unhappily situated little kingdom under the Berlin-Rome yoke, fit perfectly with the near eastern offensive which Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini are considering in connection with the battle of the Mediterranean.

Greek diplomats in Cairo say they learn demands have been presented calling for territorial concessions, severance of trade relations with Britain, which has guaranteed the security of Greece, and the ousting of King George and the government to make way for a pro-Axis regime.

Demands Are Denied

Informed sources in Berlin deny that any "ultimatum-like" demands have been made on Greece. In Rome, however, the newspaper Relazioni Internationali, which frequently speaks with authority, indicates that demands are imminent. I think we can take it that the reported demands represent what is in the Axis mind, whether or not they actually have been presented.

The immediate purpose of the dictators is to secure naval and air bases for use in connection with the projected offensive, and by the same token to keep Britain out of them. A further consideration is the acquisition of territory for Mussolini, and for Bulgaria as a reward for being a good lad and playing the Axis game.

To Surrender Corridor

The Axis plans for Bulgaria are far from altruistic. It's understood that Greece is to be made to surrender to Bulgaria a corridor to the Aegean sea. The willingness of the Axis to foster such a scheme is quite understandable when we realize that if Hitler and Mussolini make their assault on Turkey they will need Bulgaria as a base, since it lies up against Turkey's European frontier. That corridor, too, would be invaluable to the Axis.

If you will look at your maps you will see readily enough the strategy in this move against Greece. Acquisition of the Greek bases, coupled with Italian possession of the heavily fortified Dodecanese islands, would provide the Axis with a chain of island defenses right across the mouth of the Aegean.

This would serve a double purpose. It would be calculated to keep the British fleet from aiding Turkey in defense of the all important Dardanelles. It would provide bases for operations, especially by warplanes, against the British in Egypt.

It represents a smart project on the part of the Axis, and there would seem to be little that Greece can do about it.

The small and poorly equipped Greek army cannot be expected to stand up against the strength which Mussolini has massed along the Albanian-Greek border. Turkey is understood to have promised Greece aid, but it's difficult to see how the Turks could help much, because of their geographical position. The British fleet undoubtedly would rush to the rescue, but that fleet can't fight on land—although it might have plenty to say about the pilfering of the naval bases.

The Greek chief, General Mataxas, is a strong man and a fighter of experience who was trained in Germany—but personality can't stop a tank. King George doesn't figure much, and is a light anchor for a hurricane.

Another piece of news which is highly significant, if true, comes out of Rome today. Usually reliable sources say that negotiations are expected shortly between the Axis powers and Russia to fix their relations. It is assumed by these sources that Germany will try to persuade the bolshevists not to interfere with the drive against the Dardanelles. In exchange for neutrality Russia would be offered a free hand in Iran (Persia) and Afghanistan.

Strange Story Of Musical Program In London Told

LONDON, Oct. 19 (U.P.) — This is the story of a strange musical program.

It lasted continuously for 20 hours.

Music was supplied by a phonograph and was directed into a hole.

The stage was a pile of debris where once was a municipal apartment building.

The audience, 178 men, women and children, was trapped in an underground shelter. Some were badly injured but most of them joined in the choruses.

Ends On Happy Note

It ended yesterday evening on a happy note when 44 weary rescuers dragged out the last great chunk of masonry and set the audience free.

A German bomb had struck the building Thursday night, lifting it into the air and crashing it down to clog the shelter's exits. The hero and concert master was John Deakin, 20, radio and phonograph enthusiast. He had just left the shelter where his mother, father and sister were spending the night, to visit his sweetheart around the corner, when the bomb struck, throwing him against a wall. This is his version of it:

Entrances Blocked

"As soon as I got the dust out of my eyes I ran back to the shelter. The entrances were blocked and I called to those inside. It did me good to hear their voices. By then, of course, many air raid wardens were on the job. I thought of our radio-phonograph and asked the chief warden if I could bring it down from home, nearby. He said I could.

"The first record I put on was 'Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag.' Those in the shelter yelled for more, so I gave it to them. Their favorite was Gracie Fields, singing 'Sally.' I bet I played it more than 50 times."

The audience explained later that most of its singing was led by boys, trying to comfort their mothers, some of whom were injured.

Utah Begins Construction Of Model New Penitentiary Without Walls; Chain-Type Fences Being Installed

BY MURRAY M. MOLER
United Press Correspondent

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 19. —Utah this month started construction of a new penitentiary which officials say will be a model among American penal institutions.

The new prison will replace one constructed in the 1850s and three times condemned as unfit for prisoners by territorial legislative investigating committees before Utah was a state.

Site of the prison will be on 720 acres of farmland in southern Lake county, 15 miles south of Salt Lake City and near Point-of-the-Mountain, village that is the division between the valley of the Great Salt Lake and Utah valley.

The prison will be a few miles from the Jordan river, meandering stream that connects fresh-water Utah lake with Great Salt lake, America's largest inland sea.

The land for the prison was acquired early this year. An average of 60 trusties have been housed in temporary barracks on the new prison grounds all summer, farming acreage that was already planted when the land was purchased.

Two Units Started

Contracts for the first two units of the prison itself were awarded late in September. The first units will be cell blocks for "medium security" — average — prisoners. The two units will contain 264 cells, each designed for one inmate.

When finished, the penitentiary will have six buildings, connected by corridors, in addition to shops and other "outbuildings." The prison's eventual capacity will be 600 inmates.

Feature of the new prison, according to architects, will be lack of the traditional wall.

"Instead of the old-fashioned wall, 70 acres of the prison where the main buildings will be constructed will be surrounded by a 14-foot chain-type fence," Raymond Evans, architect, explained. "A 6-foot high fence will surround the entire 720 acres."

In the middle of the main building group will be a guard tower from which guards can have unobstructed view of all prison areas.

"This prison is designed from a combination of ideas used in other modern penal institutions throughout the country," the architect, member of the firm of Ashton and Evans, said. "It will be one of the most modern prisons in the country."

Ultimate Cost In Doubt

Both Evans and R. K. Brown, superintendent of construction for the state building commission, declined to estimate cost of the prison.

"How much it will cost and how soon the entire prison will be completed depends entirely on the legislature," they agreed.

The fact the new prison will be a model institution contrasts at every turn with the state penitentiary enow in use. The present prison is located in Salt Lake City and is surrounded by residences. It is less than a block from the city's second busiest shopping district.

Escapes from the old prison have been numerous. On one occasion, three members of the prison band, giving a concert on the steps of the administration building, were granted permission to get a drink from a fountain behind some shrubbery. They kept on walking.

Congress purchased land for construction of the present penitentiary in 1853. Construction of the wall and first building was completed by 1855 at a cost of $32,000.

The territorial legislature in 1856 appropriated $12,000 to put a walkway atop the wall and make other improvements, but this work was delayed until 1858 because of the advance of General Johnston's army, ordered here by the government in its near-pitched fight with the Mormon church over the issue of polygamy.

Many Mormon leaders were incarcerated in the prison when they were convicted of practicing polygamy under the controversial Edmunds law.

Territorial investigating committees looked over the prison in 1867, 1869 and 1870 and in each case reported it was in "poor condition and unfit for housing convicts." The 1869 committee asked for a new prison—a request that was not granted until this year.

Even Richard F. Burton didn't think much of the prison. Writing in his book "City of the Saints" in 1860, Burton said in looking over the cells he found them in bad shape, including one that "lately was broken by an Indian, who cut his way through the wall."

Calvin Coolidge won a national prize for an essay on the causes of the Revolution during his last year in college.

Wheat Acreage To Be About Same In 1941

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The bureau of agricultural economics reported today the acreage seeded to wheat for harvest in 1941 in the United States was expected to be about the same as in 1940.

A crop of about 750,000,000 bushels would be produced, the bureau said, if yields were average. This year's crop totaled 792,000,000 bushels.

The bureau said large world supplies and low export prices would continue during the 1941-42 season unless world acreage is materially smaller than is now expected, or world yields per acre are small.

The bureau predicted the United States would have a surplus supply of 350,000,000 bushels of old wheat when the 1941 crop starts moving to market. Most of this is expected to be stored under government loans.

Hollywood On The Loose..

Campaign Excitement Gauged By Fisticuffs After News Shots

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 19 — Short takes: Picture people don't allow anything to eclipse their local interests for very long. Most of the talk now is of football. Roosevelt and Willkie have been benched; King George and Hitler have been sent to the showers.

Newsreel executives, though, can tell you campaign excitement around the country is at unprecedented pitch. Cheers, boos and fistfights begin with each flash of a candidate. Representatives of both parties are bitterly charging the movie companies with favoritism. The Hays Office plans to ask all theaters never to present shots of only one candidate. Also a screen note is being prepared asking patrons for no demonstrations in order that statements made from the screen can be heard.

AND speaking of newsreels: London may be only a hop and a holler from Berlin, but the way it gets a look at German war films is via Moscow, Siberia, Shanghai, China Clipper, San Francisco, New York, Atlantic Clipper, and Lisbon.

Films For Conscripts

CONSCRIPTION will be of some help to Hollywood; an allotment of $2,500,000 has been made for projection equipment and film leasing for training camps . . . Twentieth-Fox thought it would borrow a couple of aircraft carriers and go right to work on that sea-war story, "Attack." The Navy said it was sorry, but the fleet's kinda busy right now.

THE agent of a bibulous screen comic pleaded with the client to sober up because there was a good role coming up for him at one of the studios. So the actor trained, abstained and finally got himself in hand just in time to report for the job. He's now playing the part of a drunk . . . Incidentally, a married pair of dress extras are named Tom Collins and "Ginger" Aile.

THE town's champ joiner is Orson Welles. Because of his varied activities he has to belong to the Screen Writers' Guild, Screen Actors' Guild, Screen Directors' Guild, Radio Writers' Guild, American Federation of Radio Artists, and Actors' Equity Association. Dues for all these unions are about double the average union worker's annual wage.

CAROLE LOMBARD goes clothes-horse in "Mr. and Mrs. Smith" for the first time in three years. Her wardrobes used to cost less than $300. The 22 outfits she's wearing now, as the wife of a Park Avenue lawyer, are budgeted at $7680 . . . "Too Many Girls" reveals a startlingly changed Frances Langford. The little gal with the big voice weighed 89 pounds when she married Jon Hall. He has been bossing her diet, which includes a lot of cream, and she's now a curvesome 116.

Refugee Hordes?

THERE has been some indignant discussion about foreign refugees flocking into Hollywood and being given jobs which U. S. citizens should or could hold. The situation has been overstated. The Producers' Association has made a survey on the subject, defining "refugee" as a person who has come to Hollywood since January 1, 1938, from Germany, Italy or any of the Axis-dominated countries. Of 19,511 persons regularly employed by the eight major studios, only 18 are refugees. Of the 18, only four are actors: Felix Bressart, Karen Verne, Fritz van Dongen and Erwin Kalser.

ALL the Will Rogers pictures were made by Fox, and the studio has a Will Rogers Memorial Sound Stage. But it looks as if the company will lose to Betro in bidding for the film rights to his life story. . . . The idea of a screen biographer of Christopher Columbus has been kicked around Hollywood for a dozen years. Now it's going to be done by Gabriel Pascal—in England. . . . Director Mike Curtiz went to Jack Warner with a production problem and began: "For your information, I want to ask you a question."

"Star Dust" Is On At Tower

ALL the great drama that flows from a people fleeing in distress and pressing on in quest of a homeland is unfolded in the story of the Mormons, "Brigham Young, Frontiersman," showing currently at the Palace theater.

Entertainment on several scales is promised in the big production. The scene is the nation's frontier as it pushed westward under the thrust of men and women whose courage and convictions, on whichever side of the frontier code, were unquestioned. And here, too is entertainment in terms of the faith of men in their God under conditions putting that faith to trial by fire, by famine and by forces of nature.

Packed With Melodrama

But the picture is not handled as a spectacle or a sermon. In the contrary, it is as a melodrama packed with incidents affecting the lives of many people.

It has a superb cast, headed by Tyrone Power, Linda Darnell and Dean Jagger, with such supporting players as Brian Donlevy, Jane Darwell, John Carradine and Mary Astor.

The picture opens with the bigots banded against the Mormons and their subsequent persecution. Brigham Young comes to the defense of his leader but the imprisoned man is assassinated. From this beginning the picture moves forward to show the flight of the Mormons across the frozen Mississippi to Iowa, towards California which beckons with gold and finally their landing at Salt Lake City.

Faith Is Unbroken

Brigham Young's spirit is broken but not his faith by the seemingly insurmountable difficulties faced, faced. He calls his people around his to announce his unfitness to lead them but before he can do so an apparent miracle occurs to save the little colony and its crops. This is the climax of the picture and the turning point in the fortunes of the Mormons.

The Cinderella story of the girls who eventually makes good in the movies is the diverting screen fare offered today at the Tower, "Star Dust," with Linda Darnell as the girl and John Payne sharing feature honors with her.

The story traces the career of Linda after she decides to leave her aunt's restaurant on an Arkansas college campus and go to Hollywood. She meets young Payne, a football star, on the train. Her troubles really begin when she arrives and she is unable to crash the movies even after she has taken a screen test. She leaves for home in disgust but is finally called back when a producer accidentally sees her tests.

Others of the cast include Roland Young, Charlotte Greenwood, William Gargan and Mary Beth Hughes.

Leigh And Taylor Back

Vivien Leigh and Robert Taylor return to the city for another showing today at the Texan of "Waterloo Bridge," a picture which is entertainment de luxe for any movie fan.

For the benefit of those who have failed to see the picture, it is from the pen of the Pulitzer prize-winning playwright, Robert E. Sherwood. Miss Leigh portrays a petite ballet dancer who finds sudden romance and happiness in a whirlwind love affair with a young officer whom she meets during an air raid on historic Waterloo bridge.

Taylor shares honors with her. He is first seen as a 48-year-old colonel in London of 1940 and then as a young captain of 1917 when he meets the only girl in his life.

In addition to the excellent work of the two stars, the film features flawless work from Lucile Watson as Taylor's mother, Virginia Field as Miss Leigh's sacrificing girl friend, Maria Ouspenskaya as the stern disciplinarian of the ballet school and C. Aubrey Smith as the kindly senior officer of Taylor's regiment.

Frivolous and frothy treatment of a marital mixup tops off the feature starting today at the Cactus, which shows "Too Many Husbands," which co-stars Fred MacMurray, Jean Arthur and Melvyn Douglas.

The story recounts raffishly the indecision of a young woman whose supposedly dead husband turns up alive six months after she has married his best friend.

"I Want A Divorce" Tops On Week's Broadway Program

Dick Powell and Joan Blondell as they appear in "I Want A Divorce," current at the Broadway.

John Payne and Linda Darnell are the top players of "Star Dust," now at the Tower.

"Typhoon" Back In Lyric Run

DICK Powell and Joan Blondell, after a period of comparative inactivity especially as regards Lubbock screens, return today at the Broadway theater in "I Want A Divorce," a picture which makes in terms of a drama a case against divorce as a solution to married people's problems.

But more footage is devoted to comedy than drama and there are more laughs than tears.

Find Marriage Difficult

The story deals with the affairs of six adults, some related and all acquainted, who find matrimony difficult.

The film opens with the divorce of one couple, consequences of which are unhappiness and suicide for the wife, remarriage for the husband. Later on a second couple take their troubles to the judge, who gives the husband his freedom when evidence discloses the wife has perjured herself.

The principal couple, Powell and Miss Blondell, come also to the parting of the ways but reconcile before divorce action is started.

Gloria Dickson, Frank Fay, Jessie Ralph, Harry Davenport and Conrad Nagel also are seen in the production.

Storm And Romance

A dramatic spectacle of tropical storm and tempestuous romance is awaiting theatergoers at the Lyric today in "Typhoon," starring Dorothy Lamour and Robert Preston.

The romance of the two is supported by Lynne Overman, J. Carrol Naish and Koko, Dorothy's trained chimpanzee.

Action starts with the opening scene when a sailing vessel founders in raging seas, and Dorothy is the lone survivor.

As a little girl she lands on an uninhabited tropical island. Ten years later, Preston and Overman, who are fleeing in their pearl hunting submarine from a bloodthirsty Polynesian chief, are the first visitors to her paradise.

Dorothy hides the hunted men but the chief then spreads oil on the shoreline and burns the island.

Suspense caps suspense, and then the climax bursts upon them, as a tropical typhoon surges in.

No More Leg Art At Request Of Husband

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 19 (AP)—The M. G. M. boys who think up leg art, those fetching pictures of shapely youngsters adorning yachts, pumpkins and pedestals, have been advised to omit Diana Lewis from their plans.

There will be no more leg art of Miss Lewis. The request was made by her husband, William Powell.

LARGEST TROPICAL FRUIT

Some specimens of the jack fruit have been known to weigh as much as 80 pounds and to reach two feet in length. It is the largest of all known tropical fruits.

"Queen Of The Yukon" Shows At Both Tech And Arcadia

Story Of Gold Rush Is Told

A tense and thrilling story of the early gold rush days is provided patrons of the both the Tech and Arcadia theaters today in the filming of the Jack London feature, "Queen Of The Yukon," starring Charles Bickford and Irene Rich.

The story concerns an outspoken woman who is boss of the gambling ship that transports miners to their diggings, and the efforts of an unscrupulous syndicate to take the ship away from her.

Miss Rich plays the part of Sadie Martin, "queen" of the gold miners and owner of the river boat.

Makes Deal To Sell

In order to prevent her young daughter who has been away at school from knowing the facts about her life, Sadie makes a deal to sell the boat, but when she and Bickford in the role of Ace, her helper, find that the purchaser only wants the boat to exploit the miners, their attempts to get it back bring exciting times to the little northern community.

Other important cast members include Melvin Lang, who plays the part of the villain, and Tristram Coffin, his aide. June Carlson is Helen, Sadie's daughter, and Dave O'Brien chances to meet her on the boat coming up the river, with interesting results. George Cleveland and Guy Usher make a rare comedy team as a couple of old timers.

Irene Rich and Charles Bickford are the stars of "Queen Of The Yukon," which shows today both at the Tech and Arcadia theaters.

Here's Today's Movie Test

By ROBBIN COONS

1. Real name of the girl in the picture is Melba De Closs. She's a former telephone operator at Salinas, Calif. They've rechristened her for pictures—with a first name the same as that of the brunette star of "Little Men," and with a surname that is the given name of an English romantic actor, star of "Berkeley Square," "Romeo and Juliet," etc. What's Melba's movie name?

2. What's similar about the movie beginnings of Rosemary and Priscilla Lane, Joy Hodges, Harriett Hilliard, Dorothy Lamour?

3. Carmen Miranda, the Brazilian torchie, appears in "Down Argentine Way"—but do you know the title of the first picture she made in Hollywood? (Careful, there!)

4. What producing company's films are symbolized by (a) A lion, (b) An American Eagle, (c) A white colonial mansion, (d) A sparkling globe encircled by an airplane, (e) A mountain above clouds?

5. What singing star has made eight films in a row, all hits—and who is the producer behind all of them?

There's Awful Lack In A Movie Smack

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 19 (AP)—A movie kiss may thrill an audience, says kissable Olivia de Havilland, but to the couple on the screen it's a pain in the neck.

First of all, says Olivia, screen kisses are uncomfortable. "Your neck is stretched out of shape, into a line that is pleasing to the camera. Your hero's nose, more likely than not, is being poked into one of your eyes."

And there are the people standing around watching—the stagehands, the grinning boom boy—not to mention the much-too-inquisitive camera.

To which Olivia adds, a bit reflectively, the fact that the movie kiss usually has no meaning to either participant.

MARIAN KNOWLTON AND SUSY

Marian Knowlton And Susy Are To Be Seen In Circus

Marian Knowlton and "Susy" will be two among the many attractions at the Cole Bros. circus when it appears on the East Broadway grounds in afternoon and night performances Thursday, Oct. 31.

Miss Knowlton is one of the aerial ballet of more than 100 girls who, according to circus officials, will appear in the colorful pageant, "La Habana," at each performance.

All Were Handpicked

All the members of the ballet were handpicked for their grace and charm. The daily training together with strict diet keeps them in excellent condition. It will be possible, beneath the billowy acres of tents housing the Cole Bros. circus, to see some of the world's most glamorous girls.

Hundreds of the world's foremost arenic stars together with hundreds of animal actors take part in the two hour show. Five herds of performing elephants, dancing horses, trapeze artists, a cavalcade of mirth provoking clowns including the one and only Otto Griebling, world's funniest pantomimist, daring equestriennes, and Ken Maynard, famous moving picture star, with his equally well known horse "Tarzan."

The two performances will start at 2 and 8 p. m. and the doors to the big tent will open one hour ahead of the starting time of the circus to allow patrons to inspect the menagerie which is one of the many features with the show this year.

Cops Have A Limit To Their Patience

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 19 (AP)—Bill Dietz, special effects cameraman, tells about the stubborn rooster which refused to crow for his sound camera.

Day after day, says Dietz, he arose at 4 a. m. and turned the studio lights on gradually. The rooster remained silent. Finally he hired an animal imitator, stationed him on a street outside the studio about dawn, and turned the lights on dimly.

"Outside," he said, "our man began crowing. Our rooster looked interested. We brightened our lights. Our man crowed again. Our rooster perked up. Another crow. Our rooster flapped his wing.

"Suddenly our man outside stopped crowing. Our rooster lost interest. I sent somebody outside to investigate, but our man was gone.

"Half an hour later the police called and said they had hauled in a guy who claimed to work for us. 'He must be drunk,' they said. 'He was out in the street crowing like a rooster.'"

You are predisposed to a cold any time you undergo strong emotional strain, such as that when watching a love drama.

Gentlemen May Prefer Blondes But Movie Directors Favor Brunettes As Starlets

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 19 (AP)—Gentlemen may prefer blondes, but Hollywood directors picking the best bets for movie stardom lean toward brunettes.

Their selections, announced today, of the 13 "baby stars of 1940," include three blondes, three with auburn tresses and seven brunettes.

Two of the choice were unanimous—Joan Leslie of Detroit and Sheila Ryan of Topeka, Kas.

Marilyn Merrick, 17, Fort Worth, blonde.

Striking an average, the composite starlet of 1940 has a 34-inch bust, 36-inch hips and 24 1-2-inch waist. She's almost 20, weighs 115, stands five feet, four and one-half inches, and is very easy to look at.

Bette Davis At The Midway As Star Of "The Old Maid"

Other Popular Stars In Cast

BETTE DAVIS in the top role of any picture is enough to practically assure its success, but in "The Old Maid," which opens today at the Midway, she is found in a picture which has tremendous appeal.

A fine supporting cast for the star is provided with such players as Miriam Hopkins, George Brent, Donald Crisp, Jane Bryan, Louise Fazenda, James Stephenson and Jerome Cowan.

Life Span Traced

Miss Davis is carried from a gay, youthful girl to a soured, old maid, and performs in her usual competent manner. Miss Hopkins gives a splendid portrayal of the older married sister.

In brief, the plot finds Miss Davis in love secretly with Brent, a young man her older sister has thrown over for Stephenson, a wealthy socialite.

Brent returns from a two-year absence the morning of Miriam's wedding and Bette goes out with him, for the next day he is leaving for the front.

Four years later Miriam breaks up Bette's marriage to Cowan, Stephenson's brother, because she learns that one of the orphan children Bette has been taking care of is Bette's and Brent's.

The relationship between the two women grows worse as the years go by, until Stephenson dies and Miriam asks Bette and the child to come and live with her.

Miriam finally adopts Miss Bryan, the grown child, when she is ready to marry William Lundigan, but tells Jane all about the sacrifices Bette has made during her life for a girl named Jane.

Presidential Race Gets Hot

Polls Show It's Not All Over Yet

FURTHER confirming other indications that the outcome of the November 5 general election hangs by a hair have been the "straw" tests of various kinds.

The most recent was that of Emil Hurja, a Democrat, magazine publisher and executive director of the Democratic National committee from 1932 to 1936, whose poll predicts the election of Wendell Willkie. It is to be assumed that he made a sincere effort to forecast correctly.

A few days previously the most recent of the periodic Gallup polls indicated the re-election of President Roosevelt by a landslide majority in the electoral college. The Gallup poll is generally credited with being about the most accurate test of its kind yet devised. Then there have been other polls of varying degrees of reliability.

But regardless what they may have indicated individually, there has been one characteristic common to all that are worthy of credence. That common characteristic is that they indicate the margins between the candidates is so small in the pivotal states that anything might happen. They indicate that the change of a very few votes, comparatively speaking, might swing the election.

The possible vital importance of relatively a few votes is emphasized by study of the results of the 1936 election, when President Roosevelt received all except eight of the 531 votes in the electoral college. Yet a switch of fewer than 1,200,000 votes in the eight places would have given victory to the Republican party. Mr. Roosevelt still would have had a popular majority in excess of 8,000,000—but he would have had to move out of the White House.

With circumstances as they are, only the most rabid partisan could deny that the present indications point to a Roosevelt victory. The election of Mr. Willkie would be a definite upset. But not in modern times, perhaps, have there been such possibilities of an upset. That possibility is strengthened by the further fact that Mr. Willkie's stock now seems to be on the rise again after a most pronounced sag during the few weeks two months following the national convention.

That the administration is fully awake to the danger of a last-minute switch is evidenced by the intensity of its efforts of late. Perhaps the most significant of the activities is the part that the President himself is to take in the final drive. The biggest guns in the party are being brought to the firing line, and it is certain they will be blasting away until the last day. That, of course, does not necessarily suggest real fear of impending defeat. But it is evidence of the realization of a condition of such uncertainty that no avoidable chances are being taken.

Definitely, the political battle of 1940 is not over. That which has happened in the campaign until now has been little more than skirmishing. The decisive fighting which will determine whether the battle is to be won or lost will come during the next two weeks.

It's Significant, At Least

OFFICIAL British announcement that Germany's long threatened attempt to invade the Islands met repulse in the form of the Royal Air Force more than a month ago confirms the adage that smoke usually indicates fire.

Rumors were circulated at the time that the Germans had attempted to make the crossing and had failed. However, the British War office maintained silence concerning the reports, perhaps as a safeguard against arousing false hopes, possibly because of fear that the attempt merely was a preliminary to something far worse. Maybe the leaders themselves could not believe the attempt had been made, and had failed.

They may have been wise in guarding against premature claims. But the disclosures now are made convincing by many circumstances, most significant of which are the activities by the Axis in the Balkans and elsewhere.

It's His Job To Save Uncle Sam'l Money On Defense Purchases

Donald Nelson Shops For Bargains

BY SIGRID ARNE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Donald Nelson is a 51-year old six-footer who may be the most important reason we're not paying higher prices for such items as shoes, blankets and coats.

Nelson is one of the "big business" cogs who joined the National Defense Commission at a-dollar-a-year. It's his job to co-ordinate defense buying and time the outflow of $15,000,000,000.

That much money pouring out suddenly could have sent prices skyrocketing, but a great many things can be done to keep prices even. Nelson knows most of them. For years he was executive vice-president of Sears Roebuck and Co., where he okayed the spending of $450,000,000 annually.

His experience already has saved millions for the government.

"Smart Guy" Finds He's A Dumb One

For example, the little scrimmage over the thousands of pairs of men's shorts of such-and-such a material. There was a smart gent who foresaw the Army's need. When the Army got around to placing the order this gent had a corner on the market for that particular material. The price shot up.

NELSON chuckled. He pointed out that a minor change in specifications would change the material entirely, so that several manufacturers could meet the changed specifications. The Army agreed. The wily gent's corner evaporated. The price of the shorts tumbled.

There's the business of timing purchases. Nelson, in commercial life, figured a year ahead, bought when the factory wasn't busy, and got a lower price.

The Army had an old habit of buying everything F.O.B. Philadelphia. Factories near Philadelphia could turn out coats for $22.50. So could factories around Chicago. But the Chicago makers had to tack on 10 cents a coat freight for F.O.B. Philadelphia. That shut them out.

Tells Army How To Save Some Change

"Why don't you buy F.O.B. the plant?" asked Nelson. "You are going to ship the stuff all over the country anyway."

"Certainly," said the Army.

THEN provisioning got around to knives, forks and spoons. The Army has been using stainless steel. Nelson found that delivery would take 120 to 180 days. He could get nickel silver in 60 days, $200,000 to $250,000 cheaper.

"Okay, it's nickel silver then," said the Army.

But Nelson's horizons must be wider than just saving money. The President's policy is to spread the buying so that as many cities as possible benefit; in particular, cities with many unemployed skilled workers.

Then the labor problem. Nelson is meeting that with a new plan called "distributive buying." It will work something like this:

Suppose shoes are to be bought. Labor statistics show where shoe factories are located, just how much they can turn out, just how many workers there are in the neighborhood, just how many farm workers there are nearby who are living off farms producing less than $600 a year. And last, how much each manufacturing district has received in the way of defense contracts.

Dollar-A-Year Man Nelson

Leeway Is left On Accepting Bids

These facts are given an arbitrary value. The sums are added and subtracted, according to a formula, and out pops the districts that should get the orders. Low bids must be accepted, but the plan leaves enough leeway.

RECENTLY the Navy sent a "preference classification" order to a steel mill. "Preference" means "Rush. It's for Uncle Sam." The steel men were polite. "Sorry,

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE prospective preelection return of Ambassador Kennedy has caused deep concern in the inside chambers of the White House and the State department. High officials in charge of our foreign policy are visibly, though privately, distressed lest he blurt out some unpleasant facts about Anglo-American deals and relations.

Always a realist—in fact, somewhat inclined to the pessimistic side—our ambassador to the Court of St. James has been unpopular at London and Washington recently because he insisted on facing facts. When he warned Chamberlain of Hitler's air might, and suggested that Britain prepare, he was branded as pro-German. More recently, when he cabled gloomy reports about England's ability to withstand the Nazi onslaught, his advices were pigeonholed. Whereas Joe advised that the administration pay more attention to our own national defense needs than to London's, FDR adopted the contrary course which culminated in his Dayton defiance to the dictators.

It is unlikely that Mr. Kennedy will publicize these differences and difficulties, although he is boiling to do so. But in the past he has exhibited great resourcefulness in letting his views be aired through his newspaper contacts. Should he fully uncensor himself before Election Day, it might cost the President millions of votes.

SACRIFICES: Confidential advices reaching administration quarters from American observers abroad paint an appallingly black picture of Britain's chances to survive the Hitler blitzkrieg. Although necessarily fragmentary in their nature, these reports undoubtedly constitute the most reliable information on one of the world's determining battles. Here are the highlights:

England had only 50 seaworthy destroyers at the time President Roosevelt personally traded 50 of Uncle Sam's for eight western bases. Reinforced by Italian subs and electric boats, the Nazis have virtually transformed the English Channel into a German lake. Their aerial and underwater forces are fiercely harassing convoys carrying supplies and weapons from the United States.

Churchill's concern over his people's morale precipitated his request for as many flying fortresses—B-17 bombers—as we can spare. These ships can carry a "heavy pay load" of death-dealing missiles, dump them on Berlin and return easily to their home fields. And the Prime Minister feels that the British will endure prolonged sacrifices only so long as they have assurances that the German capitol is also suffering. Their only other tonic these days are promises of American aid such as Mr. Roosevelt delivered in his Dayton address.

CONDITIONS: These reports explain the sudden shift in German aerial tactics which has bewildered our shrewdest military experts. The changeover consisted of darkening London's skies with fast, lightly loaded Messerschmidts instead of fleets of heavy bombers.

Hitler's aerial observers reported that British workers' loss of sleep was due to the terrific detonations of London's anti-aircraft guns as much as to falling bombs. So, instead of risking his bigger ships, Der Fuehrer now instructs his speedy planes to circle far above the guns' range, and simply draw their fire. Sleeplessness is gradually damaging the defenders' health and slowing down production—also producing poorer mechanical and engineering output. Even the American embassy's clerical staff can work only about five hours a day, with a consequent drop in the efficiency of our most important diplomatic outpost abroad.

Hitler has not completely abandoned the idea of a winter invasion, according to our observers. In any event, they feel that the best Britain can obtain is a draw. They doubt whether the British will ever be able to land an army on the Continent itself. Besides his air force, Hitler has fortified the coasts so strongly that any invader would almost surely be repulsed. Even if the United States entered fully on Britain's side, the weight of our complete power—industrial, naval, financial—could not be thrown into the scales until it was too late.

ROYALTIES: FDR's selection of William S. Knudsen as uncrowned head of the National Defense Advisory commission is paying dollars-and-cents dividends. No New Dealer could make the hard bargains with private manufacturers that the ex-automobile maker is getting away with these days.

Mr. Knudsen recently persuaded a leading airplane manufacture to let the government turn over his famous engine to rival companies for production on a license basis. "How much do you want for royalty per engine?" queried the Defense Commissioner. "Oh," was the reply, "I guess about $250 each." "Oh, no," purred Mr. Knudsen, "that's too much." "But we're getting it from other manufacturers," protested the airplane man.

"But this is different," explained the Detroiter. "You are not selling to the government or to private industry now. This is patriotism, not business." He eventually hammered the price down to $50 an engine—a smart deal in view of the fact that the selling cost for each motor is about $20,000.

PRIZE: Elliott Roosevelt's belated "attempt to resign" his captaincy—and his commanding officer's "refusal to accept"—has only aggravated resentment over the favoritism to the Presidential son. It has particularly aroused army air men who know of the treatment accorded some of their finest fliers.

In a general housecleaning last spring all air officers were required to undergo new physical exams. Several who did not measure up 100 per cent were retired, including a few of the World war's most distinguished aces. All attempts to persuade the high command that they should be kept for other duty were rebuffed. They were fired cold, although they have since been recalled for inferior and important services around the country—recruiting, plant inspections, paper work, etc.

But Elliott will be retained in a key post, despite the discovery that his poor eyesight unfits him for active service. Without passing any judgment on the merits of the incident, hard-headed politicos believe it may be the prize and personal blunder of the campaign. It's the little things that count in politics!

NEW YORK
By Richard Waldo

IF Japan intends to knock any chips off British and American shoulders, the place for it, according to New York underwriters, is Kipling's famed Rangoon. The Indian port is the biggest terminal for supplies that will travel the disputed Burma Road.

It is being served by vessels of all flags, Norwegian ships that escaped the Nazis, some assorted neutrals, some hundreds of British merchants, plus two American lines virtually owned by the U. S. Maritime commission. If set on calling the Anglo-American hand, Nippon may pull an Asiatic Paul Revere parallel and elect between bombing the British owned land highway or choose to intercept the vessels that supply it by sea.

DELICATE: Those sporadic objections to conscription from the pulpits in numerous Catholic parishes were a study in church diplomacy. Dozens of the lesser diocese clergy opposed the draft in their sermons. But there was no comparable public opposition from the policy-making organs of the church in the higher brackets.

Official silence of top-rung dignitaries was a policy decision to avoid involving the Catholic organization in a controversy in which feeling runs strong but in which distaste for headline criticism is stronger. It was apparent to the analysts in New York's inner church cabinet that conscription was as good as passed on the day Senator Burke introduced the measure.

But it was equally apparent that a spiraling patriotic reaction throughout the country would direct harsh blasts against any group, religious or otherwise, that bucked national defense. To solve the dilemma word was passed along that Catholic doctrine objects to the regimentation of men. As for a specific stand on the conscription issue, the hierarchy, while violently opposed, left it to each parish leader to treat it on his own responsibility.

Associated Press Gives Its Own Story

Story Of News Gathering As A Profession Is Told

"AP—THE STORY OF THE NEWS," by Oliver Gramling; (Farrar & Rinehart, New York).

FOR the first time in its history the Associated Press is giving the world its own story in a book published today as "AP—The Story of News." The book has been written by an Associated Press executive, Oliver Gramling, with the assistance of another Associated Press writer, William A. Kinney, now of the Washington Bureau. And the 32 wash drawings with which it is illustrated were done by Henry C. Barrow of the AP Feature Service art staff.

Gramling has done a number of important things very wisely, the first of which has been to set the story of the Associated Press into the mosaic of world history; there is enough dramatic interest in the difficult evolution of the world's largest cooperative newsgathering institution for a book, but since most of the events in Associated Press history came about as the result of national or world events, these must be included in the picture.

To Find And Report Fact

The second thing which distinguishes the book is that coincidentally with its history of the Associated Press, it tells the story of news gathering as a profession, from the day in 1811 when a man named Topliff took a rowboat and reported gathering war clouds to Samuel Gilbert's "news book" in the Exchange Coffee House of Boston, down to June of this year. Topliff bouncing about Boston Harbor is a far cry from an organization which daily furnishes more than a million words of news to some 1400 papers. But the purpose behind both ventures is, Gramling points out, identical. To find and report fact.

Thirdly, as the preachers say, the book is given variety and general interest by the author's approach to the events he describes. This is extraordinarily objective, and it lifts what could have been a "company project" into the field of general interest. In the old days the Associated Press was attacked violently, and sometimes it was wrong in its stand. Gramling has made no effort to whitewash anybody, in or out of the organization.

All told, "AP—The Story of News" is more than the story of a unique enterprise against the background of world history. It is the story of enlightenment through a long period when the simple fact was often hard come by. And by good fortune, the writing has pace and color.

MOST exciting of the current non-fiction is Paul W. Harrison's "Doctor in Arabia." In his "Americans All Over" Jerome Beatty first told of this really great man who buried himself in Muscat, Arabia, to treat for pennies or nothing at all the diseases of that hottest town on earth. Six days a week he treats 125 people a day in a hospital he runs on an annual budget of $1,800. The seventh he spends in his car, caring for the people of the hinterland. A major operation may cost 50 cents, or be given free. An oasis may be saved from an epidemic as part of a day's work. Dr. Harrison has given his life to Arabia and asks no interest. (John Day).

Largest Livestock Feeding Program In History Launched In South Plains Area

Approximately 100,000 Cattle, 300,000 Sheep To Be Fed Out

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

COMMERCIAL feeding of livestock on a large scale, probably the largest in the history of the South Plains, is starting as trench silos holding thousands of tons of feed have been filled and arrangements made for purchase of feeder cattle.

Principal feeding points will be at Seagraves, Brownfield, Levelland, Whiteface, Slaton, Littlefield, Sudan, Muleshoe, Morton and Lubbock, with other programs at other points.

Already cattle have been put in pens and feeding started. As soon as the ensilage stored is mature, more cattle will be added. Some of the feeders, particularly Peyton Packing Co., at Littlefield, already has animals in pens and plan to do more later on, when the present lots are sold.

Sheep Also Fed

Besides cattle, sheep also will be fed. Some have arrived in advance of wheat pasture and will be fed on cake.

Commercial feeders, on the present basis, will feed 35,000 head of cattle or more, with 50,000 sheep. Big farmer-feeders and small feeders should feed 50,000 head over the territory and 200,000 sheep. It is probable the total cattle feeding program will pass 100,000 head, while the total of sheep of last year, in excess of 300,000, may be reached.

Fred Snyder of Lubbock and his partner, D. A. Reed, of Austin, feeding at Levelland, Whiteface and Lubbock, will have between 8,000 and 10,000 cattle and 15,000 to 20,000 sheep, possibly more. The silos at Levelland and Whiteface have been refilled and new ones dug at Lubbock, at the old Snyder Auction sale barn, north of town.

Feeding At Littlefield

Peyton Packing Co., has approximately 5,500 head in the Littlefield pens, the balance of 6,700 that have been there since early in the year.

Six huge silos have been filled; two of them holding from 10,000 to 12,000 tons of ensilage, and four smaller ones, holding several thousand tons each, were filled. The company improved its feeding and grinding plants. Capacity will be sufficient for 10,000 head, or more.

A new plant, owned by the Coast Packing Co., of Los Angeles, has been installed at Sudan, where between 4,000 and 5,000 tons will be stored. Corn, cane and maize were bought. More than 1,000 head of cattle are expected to be fed there

Individual Feeders Active

Besides the plant, P. E. Boesen, banker and feeder, will have many hundred on feed. He fed last year approximately 1,000 and may feed more this year. Several others of that section, including E. G. Rall of Fort Worth, will also feed.

Paul Bros., of Amarillo and Panhandle, operating a ranch at Circleback, in Bailey county west of Sudan, will feed sheep as usual. A total of 10,000 to 15,000 sheep may be fed, besides several hundred cattle. They have some now on feed.

Babicora Development Co., of El Paso, a Hearst property, owning pens at Brownfield, will feed several thousand head, the exact number not having been determined. Coy Maroney is local manager. Feeding will start the last of October or in November, it is reported.

Feeding In Terry County

On the Pool ranch, northwest of Brownfield several hundred more will be fed, possibly 1,000 to 1,200 head. Gillham & Holmes, bankers will also feed, the number not yet determined. A. M. (Dick) Brownfield has started plans for feeding, but his brother A. R. (Ray) has not yet decided. Dick Brownfield and Jim Cunningham will have from 1,200 to 1,500 sheep, in addition to the cattle. Aubrey Sawyer plans to feed some, but U. D. Sawyer has not decided. Farmers, according to R. N. McClain, county farm agent, will feed from six or eight head to 50 and 60 head.

At Lamesa Higginbotham-Harris Co. owners of ranch and farm land, with 8 rent farms, have discussed a lamb feeding program. They also may feed cattle.

C. J. Beach of O'Donnell has not announced his feeding plans; W. L. Elmer has 500 head now on feed and he feeds the year around: J. T. Meredith and son plan to feed, and many farmers, according to J. L. Shoemaker, banker, will feed small lots.

Snyder Pens Leased

John L. Birdwell of Lubbock, who has fed on his place near Ralls for some years, has leased the Snyder pens at Seagraves and will feed 3,000 head there. J. J. Williams and Bill Earnest will be in charge, Williams buying feed for the silos and Earnest looking after the cattle.

In Crosby county, 15,000 sheep will be fed, the L-7 ranch being one of the larger places. Wes Anthony of the Owens community has 2,000 lambs and 400 cattle on feed; C. R. Smith and Marvin Green will feed later. Farmers with good feed crops will have small bunches of cattle or lambs, Ralph Howe, county farm agent, reports.

Cochran Has Bumper Crop

Cochran county has a bumper feed crop and thousands of head of cattle and sheep will be fed. Besides large scale feeders, many farmers will feed according to Roy Hickman, farm agent.

C. E. Maedgen of Lubbock, who has some farms, will feed 1,000 head on contract; W. S. Moss of Lubbock will feed 400 cattle; A. C. Ward, Morton feeder has 1,200 sheep and several hundred cattle on feed; George Famuliner has 250 cattle and 400 calves; J. D. Slaughter and Wayne Smith of Morton have six silos of 500-ton capacity and will feed 600 calves, now in the pens, and possibly more. A. Q. Lucas, Boyd Valentine, Carl Moss, A. P. Hodges, Will Chastain and Roy Keller have finished silos, among others. T. B. Duggan of Lubbock plans to shift from sheep to cattle for feeding.

Glimp To Feed Sheep

Hockley county feeders, besides Snyder, include W. H. Glimp of Lubbock, who plans to feed several thousand sheep; Burnett Roberts and W. G. Frazier of Levelland. Many farmers will feed small bunches of cattle, up to 50 and 100 head.

Abernathy feeders of sheep will include Jack Barton, J. A. Barton, R. E. Albers, E. B. Lindsey & Son, and G. G. Gilliland, among others. Short feed and wheat crops are cutting down the number of feeders and animals too.

Alvin R. Hendricks of Littlefield announced he would feed 7,000 sheep at Whiteface, besides some cattle.

Other Programs Announced

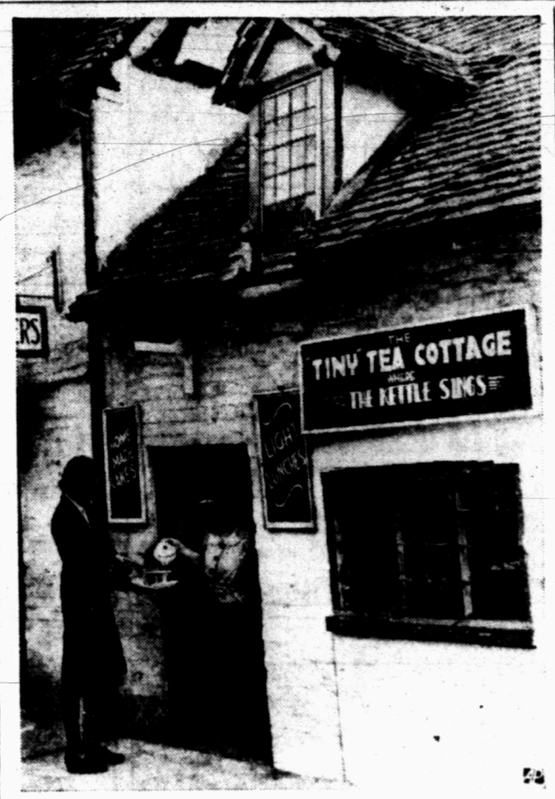

Besides the Peyton plant feeding, several thousand head of cattle are to go into pens near Littlefield, and some sheep. V. F. Jones, farm agent at Amherst, reports a large farm feeding program.

Plains Grains & Heads Handling Co., at Slaton has over 400 head of cattle now in its pens and expects to feed several thousand on contract. The Slaton Cotton Oil mill has not announced its plans.

H. W. Stanton of Lubbock has completed his 10,000-ton silo filling job and is ready to feed on contract. Plans are not complete. George Simmons of the Lubbock Cotton Oil mill will feed on contract also, using hulls and grain.

John Cox, Bailey county farmer, was the first to feed lambs, buying 1,100 ewes. Sam Logan, farm agent, expects to see as many lambs fed this year as last, when 60,000 head were fed.

Hale Center plans have not been announced, nor have reports come from Dickens, Spur, Tahoka, Post, Meadow, Ropesville, Seminole, Plains, Anton, Olton or Petersburg, as to the probable amount of feeding.

ENGLISH TONIC—Plans of that war-time producer, Hitler, haven't interfered with Miss Joan Barnard, who has what she says is England's smallest tea shop, at Shakespeare's Stratford-on-Avon. She's still producing tea, for patrons.

Lubbock County Farmers May Earn Total Of $77,169.40 In AAA Payments In 1940

Lubbock county farmers may earn a maximum of $77,169.40 during 1940 in soil benefit payments, through cooperation with the Agricultural Adjustment administration's soil practices program, C. T. Wasson, administrator, says.

Farmers who do not earn the maximum benefits will not have their conservation payment applications approved until after Nov. 30, he added.

Wasson said he believed that a third of the 2,700 farmers who are cooperating with the program will not earn their maximum amount. Many of the other two thirds, on the other hand, will do considerably above what they are to be paid for.

A minimum of soil building practices on each farm is set up for farmers to carry out, in order to earn building payments, such as contouring and terracing, windbrake planting, soil and water erosion control, etc.

Garza Ranchers In AAA Program

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

POST, Oct. 19—Garza county ranchmen are cooperating 100 per cent with the Agricultural Adjustment administration range program in 1940 and members of the county AAA committee are enthusiastic over the reports of Keltz Garrison, secretary of the A. C. A.

"The range program in Garza county has been very successful and the ranchers are cooperating 100 per cent," Garrison said. "We have 49 ranches in the county, ranging from 1,000 to 100,000 acres in size, and, to date, approximately 75 per cent of the total allowance for these ranches has been earned by ranchmen, many of whom have far exceeded the total allowance for their ranch.

Samson's Work Praised

"A great deal of credit is due for the success of the program in the county to George Samson, the inspector. He is very much interested in the program and spends considerable time in talking to ranchers and in explaining to them the different phases of the work."

Most popular practice has been construction of earthen tanks for reservoirs. To date 54 dams, with a total of 88,546 cubic yards of dirt moved, have been built. The tanks will hold 163 acre feet of water.

Have Eradicated Cactus

Ranchmen have eradicated 3,197 acres of prickly pear and cactus; eliminated 608 acres of mesquite; constructed 1,630 cubic yards of spreader dams and terraces and have dug one well.

Deferred grazing has been a major practice, but Garrison said the exact work done could not be determined until after Nov. 1, as that is the final date of a 5-month period for withholding from grass.

W. V. (Cap) Roy, R. L. Mason and Elmer Pettigrew are members of the county AAA committee.

Texas Tech Dairy Products Judging Team In The East

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 19 — A dairy products judging team of three men from Texas Technological college at Lubbock, Texas, will be among some 20 college teams from all parts of the United States which will take part in the eleventh annual Students' National contest in Judging Dairy products. The contest will be held in connection with the Dairy Industries exposition which opens in Atlantic City on Monday.

The Texas Technological college team consists of Clayton Roach of Lockney, George Wilson of Princeton, Nathaniel Nelson of Clifton and Howard Strawn of Clarendon as alternate. Mart G. Pederson is with the team as coach.

The competition is the eleventh national contest for college teams and is sponsored jointly by the Dairy Industries Supply association, which also sponsors the annual Dairy Industries exposition, and the American Dairy Science association. The former organization annually awards Dairy Products Industrial research fellowships to men chosen from the high ranking teams in the competition. The contest will be directed, as in past years, by William White, senior dairy manufacturing specialist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In the tenth competition held in connection with the Dairy Industries exposition in San Francisco in 1939, Texas Technological college ranked tenth among 14 colleges participating in the contest.

The Dairy Industries exposition is the country's largest regularly recurring technological and industrial display and will this year be the largest and most comprehensive in its history. Upwards of 25,000 men and women directly interested in dairying and dairy industrial enterprises from throughout the hemisphere are expected to attend.

During the week of the exposition the International Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers, The International Association of Milk Dealers, and The National Association of Retail Ice Cream Manufacturers also will hold annual conventions in Atlantic City. In addition to these, 15 institutions in the dairy commercial and educational fields will have representation in the city.

Silos Popular In Hockley County

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

LEVELLAND, Oct. 19—Since J. W. H. Rodgers, of the Whitharral community, filled the first trench silo in Hockley county back in 1935 with whole bundles, farmers have fast taken up the idea of storing their feed under ground, according to D. W. Sherrill, county farm agent.

Twelve silos were filled the first year. Prior to 1940 some 650 trench silos had been dug. Now there are over 900 silos in the county, over 350 having been dug this year.

Losses Were Reduced

"The 1,500 farmers of this county, growing some of the best grain sorghums in Texas, have found that at least one third of the bundle feed stored in the shock, or the old fashioned rick, was lost, due to rotting, drying out and sanding," Sherrill said. "We pointed out examples of farmers who were using trench silos satisfactorily, with a minimum loss of feed and feed value."

The commissioners court has cooperated with farmers in this movement to store feed in safety and have purchased for use at cost two rotary type fresnos with five cubic yard capacity pulled by caterpillar tractors. The charge is made on only a cost basis, which makes very reasonable the cost of digging.

Average Capacity 200 Tons

Average capacity of trench silos is 200 tons. However, the size varies from 20 tons to 1100 tons capacity. Most of the big ranches, and all the large scale feeders are using silage from huge pits. A notable example is the Snyder-Reed feeding project where several thousand sheep and cattle are fed out on silage and cotton seed meal each year.

Practically 100 per cent of the farmers are cooperating with the A.A.A., and therefore do have a surplus of feed and bundle crops. This trend is causing cotton farmers to diversify, get a few dairy or beef cattle or sheep and to feed out a few lambs or beeves each year. Even the hogs and chickens find silage "good stuff."

Since very little rock is encountered above seven to ten feet it is very easy to dig silos. Many farmers use teams and farm tractors and small fresnos to dig silos. Most silage consists of sweet sorghums such as red top cane and White African Millet, and the grain sorghums, hegari and kaffir corn are most popular. Some silos are filled successfully with threshed grain or milo heads and other grain sorghums.

There is no doubt that the number and use of trench silos will increase rapidly in Hockley and all of West Texas since abundant grain and sweet sorghums are produced with minimum labor, and conditions for feeding out cattle and sheep are ideal. Of the 576,000 acres of Hockley county, 390,000 are in cultivation and producers have found that silage is a 'mighty' good substitute for the once abundant native grass. Hockley county producers are demonstrating that the good words spoken and written about the trench silo is no idle fancy but that trench silos are practical, economical and serviceable. Another drouth like 1934 would not cause the same disastrous conditions again with feed aplenty buried. The ant, the squirrel and the dog bury and lay away for future needs the plenty of the present. So surely, man can take a lesson from these minute and dumb brute animals and store up feeds for future use.

Lamb County Farmer Harveting 135 Acres Of Cowpeas By Grazing Out Lambs On Crop

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

AMHERST, Oct. 19—L. C. Grissom of near Littlefield, is harvesting his 135 acres of cowpeas through the grazing of the acreage with 648 lambs, V. F. Jones, county farm agent, reports.

Grissom was interested in finding a way that his diverted acres under the government AAA program could return him an income, and at the same time improve the fertility of the land. This year he tried the method of planting his diverted acres to cowpeas and harvesting them off by grazing with lambs. It is an established fact that the forage and seed of the cowpea is a good sheep feed. Since approximately 80 per cent of the fertilizing value of the feed eaten by the lambs will be returned to the soil in the form of manure, there will not be very much plant food removed from the soil by harvesting in this manner.

The lambs have been grazing on these peas for about three weeks and have made excellent gains to date. Grissom states that the sheep are very fond of the peas, that they almost go wild to get to them, and that they are doing an excellent job of harvesting. Practically all the leaves, vines and pods of the peas are cleaned up by the sheep, leaving only the coarse woody stem of the vine remaining. At the present time the lambs are eating slightly over an acre of peas a day. Mr. Grissom believes that he will have sufficient peas to finish out the entire lot of lambs, with the use of very little supplementary feed.

Grissom is fencing small areas of the field, about five acres in a block and each area is cleaned up before the lambs are placed in a new block. As the small areas are cleaned, the land is chiseled deep, bringing up clods that will hold the land and prevent it from blowing. If this demonstration works out, as it looks at this time that it might, it may offer a new method of realizing an added income from our diverted acres under the AAA program, and at the same time give an added livestock enterprise for the farm, and will give encouragement to the feeding program which is being sponsored by the Extension Service in Lamb county.

Records Of Five 4-H Club Boys Of County In State Contests

Records of five Lubbock county 4-H club boys have been sent to the state extension service office at College Station and they are enrolled in state-wide contests this fall, including the annual National 4-H encampment in Washington, D. C. in June, the Thomas D. Wilson meat animal contest and the annual Santa Fe contests, Monroe U. May, assistant county farm agent and club leader, said Monday.

Records of James Potts, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Potts, who live southwest of Lubbock, were entered in the Wilson contest. He has been in 4-H club work for seven years and has made a business of feeding calves, both for show purposes and commercially. A gold watch is the prize offered by Wilson. Potts' record also was submitted as one of the encampment trips.

Henry Kveton, county and district winner in a meat animal contest, was entered in the state contest.

Sons Of Legion To Plan Observance

Plans for prominent participation in Armistice day observance in Lubbock Nov. 11 will be made at a meeting of the local squadron of Sons of the American Legion in the hall, 910 Texas avenue, Tuesday night at 7 o'clock, according to announcement Saturday by Walter Smith.

The program, he announced, will include refreshments to be served at the start of the meeting, a negro coomedian, songs by the "dogie" quartet of negro boys, a humorous talk by W. T. Strange, jr., and other numbers.

A program of rehearsals also will be arranged for the drum and bugle corps of the squadron which now is in process of reorganization, he said.

The corps, along with the entire membership of the squadron, he explained, will march in the Armistice day parade and will participate in ceremonies between halves of the Centenary-Texas Technological college football game.

The invitation to attend the Tuesday night meeting includes the son of every World war veteran, Smith said.

Defense Stamps Are On Sale In Lubbock

Three of the new national defense stamp series, the one cent, two cent and three cent issues, are now on sale at Lubbock postoffice, Amos Howard, postmaster, reports.

Several other recent issues, including the Cyrus McCormick three cent stamp and the Coronado cuarto-centennial, are on sale also. A number of sales for local collectors have been made, Howard added.

It is green in color.

Crosby Draft Board Located At Ralls

RALLS, Oct. 19 (Special)—Percy B. Ralls of Ralls suggested Saturday that local draft boards could do the country a great service by being sure of the location of other South Plains draft boards before they mail selective service registration cards.

"For instance, Crosby county's board has headquarters in the Ralls First National bank," he said, "but most of our cards are being sent by other draft boards to Crosbyton, where they have to be forwarded to the board in Ralls.

"It doesn't mean anything to the board itself, but it might mean lots for those affected more vitally—the young men in draft age."

He asked all South Plains boards to note location of the Crosby board and so address correspondence.

Gain In Demand For Farm Products Seen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—The agriculture department today predicted a general improvement in domestic demand for farm products in 1941 but said export demand is likely to be "even worse in 1941 than it was in 1940."

The department also forecast a material increase in industrial activity because of the enlarge defense program and increased demand for industrial exports.

Poisoning Work In Area Is Increasing

Prairie dog poisoning work in this area is increasing as the fall begins, E. G. Pope, head of the federal game and wildlife survey, said Saturday.

Last week on the Fred Snyder ranch in Cochran county, 700 pounds of calcium cyanide flakes were used in a cleanup drive, Pope said. Survey officials report other ranchers are discussing poisoning work on their properties.

Noctiluca are the best known of the microscopic animals that cause the sea to glow at night.

For almost two years he studied textiles. He learned his lessons so well that he wove a suiting and then personally made the suit. It lasted so long his waist line got too big for it.

Ranchers Interested In Animal Control

South Plains ranchers are showing increasing interest in predatory animal control according to E. G. Pope, district agent of the Fish and Wild Life survey of the department of the interior.

Pope said he had on file seven or eight requests for trappers to stop coyotes and other wild animals from ravaging livestock, particularly cattle and sheep. Heavy losses of calves and lambs have been reported.

Twenty-one trappers are working in 12 counties in Northwest Texas. Borden has four; Stonewall and Kent three each; Crosby and King, two each and Oldham, Scurry, Wilbarger, Gray, Hale, Howard, and Hutchinson, one each. The trapper in Hale county does some work in Lubbock.

Extension To Seminole Pool In Gaines County Reported

By JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

Topping of the anhydrite by one wildcat each in Cochran and Hockley counties, effecting of a short southwest extension to the original Seminole pool in Gaines county and moving in of a rotary for a Gaines county wildcat were principal oil developments this week in the North Permian Basin. Phillips Petroleum staked locations for two tests in southwestern Andrews county near its No. 1 M Bar Ranch, wildcat credited with making four million feet of gas daily at 4,335 feet after acidizing.

Most attention in the district to the south was directed to Taubert, McKee and Siemoneit No. 1 Virginia W. Crockett, northern Pecos county wildcat, which cored saturated Simpson, Middle Ordovician, sand between 5,270 and 5,393 feet, the total depth.

Anhydrite Topped

In Cochran county, Atlantic Refining and Ray R. Rhodes No. 1 Dean topped the anhydrite at 2,365 feet, 1,368 feet above sea level, correlated about midway between the highest and lowest wells in the Duggan pool. The test is about three miles west of Duggan production and 672 from the north, 8,423 feet from the east line of league 89, Lipscomb county school land survey.

Cascade Petroleum No. 1 J. M. Walker in Hockley county, about nine miles east of the Slaughter field, topped the anhydrite at 2,270 feet, 1,174 feet above sea level apparently slightly low. It is in tract 22, league 22, McCulloch county school land survey, 440 from the north line of the league and 2,633 feet from the west line of the tract.

In Andrews county, Phillips staked No. 1 University Andrews 660 from the north, 1,980 feet from the east line of section 32-10-U, 1 1-4 miles northeast of its No. 1 M Bar and No. 2 M Bar, 1,980 from the south, 660 feet from the east line of section 5-44-2n-T&P, 4,800 feet southeast of No. 1 M Bar.

Rotary Is Moved

Rotary was moved in for Frank J. Downey No. 1 Henry James, Gaines county wildcat 1,980 feet from the south and east lines of section 368-G-CCSD&RGNG, nine miles west of the south end of the Seminole pool. Magnolia and Atlantic No. 6-221 Havemeyer & Jenny, short southwest extension to the original Seminole pool, was swabbing after treating with 2,000 gallons of acid, bottomed at 5,253 feet.

Forest No. 1-H Paul Moss in Ector county, 1 1-2 miles south of the South Cowden pool, cleaned out to the bottom, 4,300 feet, following a 1,600-quart nitroglycerin shot from 4,070 to the total depth, and ran 2-inch tubing. It is 1,980 from the north, 660 feet from the west line of section 48-43-2s-T&P. Forest No. 1 W. L. Bradley, wildcat seven miles southeast of the Harper pool and 467 feet out of the southeast corner of section 18-43-3s-T&P, drilled plugs from 5 1-2 inch casing at 4,015 feet and prepared to test line that showed slight porosity and oil staining between 4,315 and 4,410 feet, the total depth.

Taubert and others' No. 1 Crockett in Pecos county blew out at 5,293 feet and there were streaks of oil cut mud on the bottom 1,800 feet of the drill pipe when it was drawn after 11-pound mud had been circulated to kill the well. Two electrical well surveys were made before 7-inch casing was run to 5,258 feet and cemented. Drilling of plugs was scheduled to begin Sunday.

The Simpson was topped at 4,755 feet, 2,363 feet below sea level and 27 feet higher than in Magnolia and Tex-Mex No. 1-A McKee, 6,267-foot failure 1 1-4 miles to the north. Location is 660 from the south, 1,980 feet from the west line of section 4 1-2, block 3, H&TC Ry. Co. survey.

Wildcat Is Staked

Culbertson & Irwin, Inc., of Midland staked No. 1 Mary Heiner, scheduled 5,500-foot wildcat in Pecos county 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 589, GC&SF Ry. Co. survey, nine miles west and slightly south of the Apco Ordivician pool.

Landreth abandoned dry its No. 1-C J. C. McDonald, Pecos county wildcat five miles southeast of Girvin, at 2,500 feet, contract depth. Lime showing slight oil staining but no porosity was cored from 2,226-44 feet. Location was 467 feet out of the southeast corner of section 37-11-H&GN.

Extending Strawn lime production one-half mile west, Amerada No. 1 J. S. Todd estate became the fifth well in the Todd Deep field in north central Crockett county and the first not to be completed naturally when it flowed 441 barrels of 41 gravity oil and 97 barrels of water through open 2-inch tubing in 13 hours and 37 minutes. It topped the pay at 5,838 feet, struck water in drilling to 5,912, was plugged back to 5,880, was gun perforated and treated with 1,000 gallons of acid. Location is 1,980 from the south, 660 feet from the east line of section 24-WX-GC&SF.

Moore and Olson moved in a machine for No. 1-C H. M. Halff estate in Crockett county, 330 feet out of the northeast corner of section 68-1-I&GN, three-quarters of a mile northwest of the Soma discovery well. E. M. Wahlenmaier of San Angelo and Steve C. Curric of Garden City awarded contract to B. F. Agnew of Royalty to drill a 1,500-foot, cable tool wildcat on the Geo. Bean ranch in northern Crockett county. The test will be in the center of the northeast quarter of section 48-UV-GC&SF, three miles east of the Todd shallow field and one-half mile south of Stanolind No. 1 Massie, which in 1932 gauged 18 million cubic feet of gas daily at 1,271 feet.

Harry Baldwin of San Angelo was rigging up a spudder to drill No. 1 Dr. J. A. Leggett, scheduled 1,500-foot wildcat in Menard county eight miles northeast of Menard. Location is 990 from the south, 760 feet from the west line of section 1, BS&F survey, only 300 feet west of J. C. Barnett and others' No. 2 Calan City Co., which in 1929 showed two million cubic feet of gas and 10 barrels of oil daily at 1,163 feet.

The scheduled Ordovician outpost in Crane county was staked by Humble, No. 46-X J. B. Tubb, 2,005 from the north, 3,300 feet from the west line of section 11-B27-psl, half mile northwest of American Liberty No. 10 Tubb, an Ordovician well.

Former College Stars Are Clogging U. S. Air Field

(By The United Press)

FORT WORTH, Oct. 11—The flying cadets at Hicks Field, U. S. army air training camp here, claim the highest per capita ranking athletic stars of any similar group in the country.

Reflecting the air corps' success in recruiting physically-fit college men, Major S. E. (Dutch) Shankle, director, pointed out the following former college athletes among the first 104 "dodoes" to begin training at Hicks field this fall:

Ulyss Brock—21 years old, holder of the world record for the most points scored in a college basketball game. At Freed-Hardeman Junior college, Henderson, Tenn., Brock last spring averaged more than two points per minute against Bethel college. His total of 83 points bettered the previous mark set by Hank Luisetti, famous Stanford forward.

Boxing Champs There

Lynwood Duncan and Harvey Ferguson—Southern Intercollegiate light heavyweight boxing champions since 1937. Ferguson, a Clemson alumnus, won the title in 1938 and 1940. Duncan, representing the Citadel, beat Ferguson for the title in 1939.

Herbert (Big Chief) Oxendine—handsome Cherokee Indian youth from Pembroke, N. C. Last year at North Carolina State Teachers college. Oxendine was ranked as the leading collegiate baseball pitcher in the Tarheel state. His ancestry can be traced back 200 years to Chief Lowery, "Lord of the Cherokees." Oxendine and a fellow-townsman, who is training in Florida, are said to be the only two Indians ever accepted for the U. S. army air corps.

Clarence H. Martin, jr.—also from Freed-Hardeman college, and one of the nation's leaders in amateur water sports. Martin was a winner in amateur diving at national matches at Washington, D. C., last year and was second in the all-Southwestern championships.

Clemson Captain There

Joe Payne—captain of the Hicks field cadets was also captain of the fine Clemson college football team of 1939. Payne was a blocking back and starred in the New Year's Day "Cotton Bowl" game at Dallas, when Clemson beat Boston college 6 to 3.

There's another fellow at Hicks field, whose hair is graying now, but he once was a star halfback on the Virginia Military Institute football team. That was in 1907, when VMI won the Southern Inter-collegiate championship. The player was R. B. Claggett, who instructs the youngsters at Hicks field in the intricacies of airplane engines.

Claggett recalled that there was an up-and-coming young fellow playing left end on the same football club. The left end was George C. Marshall, and he ran interference for Claggett.

Gen. George C. Marshall is now chief of staff of the United States army.

DIZZY DISNEY—Disney's lusty populace, mostly workers on northeastern Oklahoma's $22,750,000 hydro-electric project, elected auburn-haired Billy Baker, former cowgirl, as "dictator" in 1938. She ran on a "curfew-shall-never-ring" platform. Now boasting 1,510 residents, Disney has quieted down some but still likes its fun. There are lots of signs like this one.

A&M Man Sees 40,000 Trench Silos In Use

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—E. R. Eudaly, of College Station, with the Texas A. and M. college extension service, believes there will be 40,000 trench silos in Texas by the end of the year.

The growth in the number of trench silos in the state has been rapid and Eudaly said that Texas farmers "undoubtedly will build and fill the 11,169 trenches necessary to bring the number to the 40,000 mark."

Nine years ago there were only 18 trench silos in the state, in 1939 the number had grown to 28,831.

Eudaly said the weather will have an important bearing on whether farmers and ranchers increase the number of trenches in the ratio he expects. He pointed out that an early freeze might kill thousands of acres of late sorghum, making it practically worthless for grain or bundle feed. He said that such frostbitten feed makes good silage.
