(EDITOR'S NOTE: There's been a lot of talk lately about how fast food prices are going up here in Burk Burnett as well as the rest of this country. People are looking for someone to blame the situation on and unfortunately that someone has often been the American farmer.

An article was sent to this office this week concerning food production and its prices.

Read it. It will probably make you a little more thankful.

"America's greatest blessing is its abundant food supply. No other country in history has enjoyed a table set with such nutritious, high quality food, priced to make it available to all. We eat over 200 pounds of meat per person and enjoy fresh fruits and vegetables all year long. For many Americans, the food problem is too many calories instead of not enough.

We spend only 15% of our income for food . . . the lowest of any place in the world. And we require fewer hours of labor to put food on the table.

Abundant food is the key to the strength of America. First of all, it provides the nutrition for an energetic, innovative people. No country can be productive without a high standard of nutrition for its people. The efficiency of American agriculture frees people to work in industry. Only 4% of our people farm the land, and produce the world's highest standard of living. In Pakistan, 70% of the people are tied to the land and still have starvation level diets.

Our wonderfully efficient agriculture provides eagerly sought products for export. Many traditional exports of the U.S. no longer are competitive in foreign markets. Agriculture provides the brightest opportunity to narrow the balance of trade deficit that caused two devaluations of the dollar.

Farmers have been making a tremendous contribution to America's well-being, but have seldom been adequately rewarded. The advance in food prices has been smaller than other products - and only a small percentage has filtered down to the man on the land.

The true measure of the cost of food is the amount of time required to earn the money to pay for it. If you can earn a steak in 20 minutes, it's cheap. If you live in a country where it takes a half day, steak is expensive. In 1972, the average American spent only 15.7% of his income for food. No other country on earth can earn its food with such a small proportion of working time.

This means that it required only about 6 hours and 20 minutes of a 40 hour week to pay for food last year. You could have your grocery bill earned by 4 p.m. on Monday. Wages are continuing to rise faster than food prices. The USDA expects the percentage of income spent for food to go even lower. This continues a long term trend. In 1952, food took 23% of after-tax disposable income, about 8% more than today.

Industrial wages rose an average of 7% per year over the last 20 years. Farm prices rose less than 1% during the same time. This slight increase in raw food prices made it possible for Americans to spend a smaller percentage of income on food. It opened the way for disposable income to be channeled into TV sets, automobiles, vacations and the other nice things treasured by Americans.

Workers in other countries around the world spend a much larger percentage of their income for food. In England, France, Germany and other Western European countries, the average is between 37% and 39% of income. A Japanese worker is in the same range. In India, workers spend 60% of their income for food and often are hungry.

No other country matches the U.S. in the quality of its food. The European worker who spend over a third of his income for food, still finds it hard to put meat, fresh vegetables and dairy products on the table."

Mickey Cornelius, President for the new year, presented BILL WADE, outgoing president, a Past President's Plaque at Monday evening's banquet.

Bill Bone of the Southwest Lions Club in Wichita Falls was on hand to make the "Lion of the Year" Award presentation to BILL WADE, outgoing President.

Price Daniel, Jr., Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, presents Rep. Dave Allred of Wichita Falls with the gavel for the Subcommittee on Mental Health and Mental Retardation. Allred, serving his 4th term in the House, is chairman of the subcommittee for the 63rd Legislature.

Page To Speak At Chamber Luncheon

The regular monthly Chamber of Commerce luncheon will be held Monday in the Civic Center with Jack Mathis, chairman of the military affairs committee, in charge of the program.

Gen. Jerry Page (Ret.) who is now associated with Preston Dairy will be the speaker for the occasion. Page will bring to those attending some ideas of things Burk Burnett can do to help attract more of the retired military personnel to settle here.

In other Chamber activities the Heritage Week observances were well received. A large number of local citizens came out Monday night to watch as the Red River Valley Round & Square Dance Association held a round and square dance on Avenue C. Dancers from Burk Burnett, Wichita Falls, Electra, Vernon, Iowa Park, Henrietta, Archer City and many other area towns participated in the event.

Local civic clubs have historical displays in Burk Burnett merchants' windows for the pleasure of citizens to relive a bit of the past this week. Saturday will wrap up the Heritage Week activities with a preview showing of Boom Country Jamboree on the streets in downtown Burk Burnett at 4:00 p.m. The program which will last an hour or more (if the pickers and grinders get really wound up) is a sample of the fine country and western entertainment that can be seen at the Bozo Darnell's Boom Country Jamboree that will be held that night and every Saturday night at 8:00 at the Civic Center.

Wade Named As Lion Of The Year

The Noon Lions met Monday evening for their annual Installation Banquet held at the Burk Burnett Civic Center. Most of the 38 members and their wives were present for the occasion.

After a delicious meal, the guests settled down to a very arousing and thought provoking program presented by Mrs. Merle Anthony. She talked on "This Glorious Fourth". "A fundamental faith in God and the Bible," she stressed, "has been America's foundation. Mrs. Anthony was given a Lion statue for her presence.

Retiring president Bill Wade made the presentation of awards. Mayor T.M. Cornelius was presented a Certificate of Appreciation. Receiving plaques were Joe Wolfe, Jim Taylor, Francis Beaver, and Mickey Cornelius.

Officers for the new year were introduced and installed by Lion Jerry Vandiver of Wichita Falls. The new slate reads: Jack Aaron, director; Bob Carpenter, Lion Tamer; Coy Marten, Secretary-Treasurer; Bill Mize, Third Vice-President; Harold Ward, Second Vice-President; Francis Beaver, First Vice-President; and Mickey Cornelius, 1973-74 President.

In the closing of the presentations the most auspicious award, "Lion of the Year" was presented by Bill Bone, Lion of the Year of the Southwest Lions Club in Wichita Falls. This year's award was given to Bill Wade, retiring Lion President.

Girls Track Meet Set For July 21 At High School

Plans have been formulated to host an all-girls track meet at the high school track July 21st. Girls from as far away as Fort Worth and Abilene are expected to compete in the one-day affair. There will be five different age divisions as the young ladies will compete in events ranging from the shot put to the 440-yard relay race.

Entry blanks and information concerning the meet will be sent to area towns conducting a summer youth program later this week.

Any girl wishing to start running track is invited to meet with Mrs. Judy Bledsoe, girls high school track coach, Thursday, 7 p.m. at the high school track. Girls 6-18 will be competing in the meet and Mrs. Bledsoe hopes that the City of Burk Burnett will be properly represented.

The track continues to be open to the public Monday through Thursday from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Anderson Named Chairman

Mrs. Gene Anderson has been named chairman of the Breath of Life Campaign to fight children's lung diseases, according to Frank Scott, president of the North Texas Chapter, National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation. Working with her as co-chairman will be Mrs. Tom Smith.

Mrs. Anderson of 1024 Jan Lee Drive and Mrs. Smith of 901 Aztec, will lead Burk Burnett volunteers in raising funds to support research and care programs for children affected by lung-damaging diseases like cystic fibrosis, severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis, and a condition called "childhood emphysema."

Cystic fibrosis, an incurable genetic disease, is inherited when both parents carry the recessive gene for C/F. It is believed that one in twenty persons or 10 million Americans may carry the C/F gene, usually without knowing it. Current research funded by the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation is seeking a practical test to identify these carriers.

Because of improved therapy and constant research, many C/F patients are living beyond infancy to their teens and into young adulthood. That same kind of therapy is relieving and often curing children suffering from other respiratory afflictions whose symptoms resemble those of C/F.

"Most people don't realize that there are six million children in the U.S. affected by pulmonary illness," said Mrs. Anderson. "For some of these children, breathing is not the natural function, we, who are lucky, take for granted."

The Breath of Life Campaign supports not only research but over 100 C/F Centers for diagnosis and treatment across the country.

Michele Nixon Brings A Trophy From State

Dreams are coming true for a very charming and talented Little Miss. I am speaking of Miss Michele Nixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nixon of 109 Bishop Road.

Michele attended the State Our Little Miss Finals held June 18-23 at Baylor University in Waco, Texas. At the experienced age of seven, Michele was awarded the trophy for Best Over-All Vocalist in the Our Little Miss Division. This division covers girls ages 7 through 12.

By winning, this makes Michele eligible to go to the International Our Little Miss Finals to be held in New Orleans, La. The competition will take place at the Marriott Hotel August 5-11.

With a big smile, Michele stated that she was very proud of her trophy.

In talking with Mrs. Nixon, she was extremely happy with her daughter. "Michele really enjoys the pageants, especially doing her talent," stated Mrs. Nixon. "She has learned poise and gained much confidence from her four years of participation in these pageants. She has now made four trips to the State competition."

In May, Michele won the Iowa Park Our Little Miss Pageant. She was first runner-up in the Our Little Miss category at the Wichita County pageant.

In 1970, Michele won the Burk Burnett LaPetite competition; in 1971 she won at the Wichita County Pageant in the LaPetite Division; and was the 2nd runner-up in 1972 in the Red River District LaPetite competition.

We take this opportunity to congratulate "Our Little Miss" Michele Nixon and wish her the best of luck as she goes on to compete in New Orleans, August 5-11.

Alexander-Olmsted Nuptials Repeated Saturday

A fireplace background accented with banks of greenery and starburst arrangements of gladioli intermingled with Shasta daisies provided the setting for the nuptial ceremonies performed at the bride's home, uniting Miss Catherine Elizabeth Alexander and Keith Denniston Olmsted, Jr.

Rev. Don Youngblood, pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Iowa Park directed the couple in the recitation of their marriage vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. B.H. Alexander, Jr. of Burkburnett and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Denniston Olmsted of Ft. Worth.

Traditional wedding selections were provided by Mrs. Maxine Creel, organist and Mrs. J.B. Riley, soloist.

Escorted and presented by her father in marriage, the bride wore a formal gown of white cotton eyelet that she had designed. The gown was fashioned on empire lines with re-embroidered lace daisies outlining the scoop neckline and edging the cascading tiers in the full skirt. A daisy sprinkled picture hat with floating satin streamers added the special touch. She carried a 100-year-old heirloom Bible belonging to her maternal great-grandmother, topped with a nosegay of daisy pom and baby's breath.

Bridal attendants included Mrs. Gary Davidson of Corpus Christi as Matron of Honor and as bridesmaid, Miss Char Rix of Denton. They were attired in identical sunny yellow checked gingham gowns. With high waistlines accented with white satin ribbons and carrying white baskets of yellow and white Shasta daisies with attached long streamers, the attendants added their bright summer splashes of color to the ceremony.

Attending the groom were Ken Curl of Dallas as best man and Thom Hostetter, also of Dallas as groomsmen. Assuming the duties of ushering was Burns Alexander, brother of the bride, of Austin. The bride and groom were honored at a reception following the ceremony given by the bride's parents.

In keeping with the daisy motif was the wedding cake with its generous sprinkling of daisies, served from the dining table. The table was covered with a white cut-lace heirloom cloth. Punch was dipped from the antique tulip shaped cut-glass punch bowl. An arrangement of Shasta daisies and spring flowers was the finishing compliment to the setting.

Champagne flowed from a fountain on the patio.

Serving at the bride's table were Mrs. Ronnie Thetford, Mrs. Randy Greenway and Miss Sara Collines. Presiding at the registry table was Miss Leah Olmsted, sister of the groom.

Parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday night at the Wichita Falls Country Club.

After a wedding trip the couple will reside in Dallas where the groom is employed as Program Director for the Dallas Recreation Department.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Bowles, Jr., Burns Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bowles, all of Austin; Capt. and Mrs. Joe A. Bowles, III, of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Davidson of Corpus Christi; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rix of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. D.F. Reeves of Mesquite; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Pratt of Midwest City, Oklahoma; Miss Sara Collins of Dallas; and Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Loyd and Mr. Bill Elder of Wichita Falls.

The bride was graduated from Burkburnett High School and will graduate from North Texas State University in December. While attending NTSU the bride was a "White Carnation" for Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity. The groom, also a graduate of Burkburnett High School, was graduated from North Texas State University with a B.S. Degree. Delta Sigma Phi is the groom's fraternity.

When Mr. Hayslip presented his daughter in marriage, she was a picture of beauty in a formal gown of tucked organza on the empire bodice trimmed with lace appliques at the high neckline and on the long bishop sleeves. The skirt was of bridal satin that swept into a chapel length train. She wore a Juliet headpiece with a full length Mantilla of sheer nylon tulle with matching lace trim.

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--The local chapter of the Air Force Association (AFA) has begun a membership drive at Sheppard aimed at increasing the number of military members.

Joe Keesee, vice president of the local AFA chapter, states that membership is open to active duty Air Force people, both officers and enlisted, as well as retired members, Air Force blue and white collar workers, and members of the local civilian community.

Major General Robert L. Pettit, Sheppard Technical Training Center commander, has encouraged members of the Air Force to join the AFA.

He has stated, "Our local chapter often has speakers of national prominence and the monthly magazine, Air Force Magazine is a timely organ which keeps the membership well informed on the national and international scene regarding air power matters."

Heading the drive is Colonel Robert G. Rogers, drive chairman of the base steering committee. Other members of the steering committee are Colonel Carl Brunson, commander, School of Applied Aerospace Sciences; Colonel William Hennquist, commander, USAF Regional Hospital, Sheppard; Colonel Ronald Perkins, commander, 3750th Maintenance and Supply Group; Colonel Burt Rowen, commander, USAF School of Health Care Sciences; and Chief Master Sergeant Donald Waterworth, Sheppard Airman Advisor.

Sheppard Site For New Film

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Beginning with a scene at Sheppard's main gate, the action quickly cuts to the inside of a bus where some new airmen students watch with interest the buildings that will be "home" for the duration of their training.

A voice, one of the students, tells about what it's really like at Sheppard--in his own words. Dispelling the myriad of rumors passed on from one basic trainee to another, the airman describes the base as a place to "... be at ease".

"Telling it like it is," is the purpose of a new film that is being filmed on Sheppard. Air Force Aerospace Audio-Visual Service crew members, headed by Irving Donenfeld, producer and director, arrived here June 8 and began shooting the film when the equipment arrived June 11.

The audience for the film, when it's released in September, will be basic trainees at Lackland who will attend classified courses at Sheppard. The film is intended to motivate these individuals in the technical career areas they were assigned, acquaint them with the training process and provide them with information on the background investigations that must be completed for them to enter the career field.

Along with Mr. Donenfeld, Tom Harmon, director of photography; Jim Barschow, cameraman; and Don DeGroot, grip; also arrived from AAVIS. Also in the crew is Airman Karen Potter--holder of a distinctive honor.

Airman Potter is the first and only camerawoman assigned to AAVIS.

Classified career fields affected by the new film include the digital subscriber terminal maintenance, automatic teletype and electronic switching systems repairman, Titan II missile systems analyst specialist, communications center specialist and communications and relay center equipment repairman courses, all taught by the Department of Communications and Missile Training, School of Applied Aerospace Sciences.

According to Jerry McCarley, command representative for the project, the film, which will run about 30 minutes, will cover Sheppard's recreational activities, dormitory facilities, off-base housing, course information, and what happens to the student upon graduation.

"In addition," said Mr. McCarley, "since these career fields require a Top Secret security clearance, the film will show the procedure that the Defense Investigative Service will use during a security investigation of each individual."

"Each individual must fill out a data form during basic training that lists all of school and employment references. He must also list his arrest record, if any, including even the number of traffic tickets he's received.

"A portion of the film was shot at Midwestern University, and the Wichita Falls Police Department, depicting an investigator checking a person's college transcript and his police record."

All of the narration for the film is being done with student voices. The script for the film was not dreamed up by the AAVIS crew. Rather, in April, the technical members of the crew came to the base, selected students at random from their classrooms, turned on a tape recorder and asked them questions about their experiences at Sheppard. They were allowed to say anything they wanted, good or bad.

Now using a process called "voice over" the students are being filmed in their day-to-day activities, then in the final version their voices will tell the story.

During their stay here, AAVIS crews have shouldered their cameras into classrooms, work areas, dormitories and even the Great Pumpkin. In addition to their on-base filming schedule the crew has shot footage of the recreation facilities at Lake Texoma.

Designed to replace four black and white television films that are now in use, the new 16mm film is expected to cost about $30,000. But, the amount of reliable information provided will be more than worth the price tag.

SECOND CHILDHOOD for eight year old "Pugsley" includes a pacifier, which he found and quickly made his own.

Policeman's Blunder

Officer Harrison halted a speeding motorist and gave him a ticket. But he failed to notice that the man was intoxicated. Scarcely five minutes later, the same motorist drove his car through a red traffic light and knocked down a woman pedestrian.

Could the woman hold the city legally liable for the accident because of the officer's blunder?

"The city is supposed to provide police protection," she argued in a court hearing. "That's what we pay taxes for. If the officer hadn't let that drunken driver get away, I would never have gotten hurt."

But the court disagreed, saying the law simply does not recognize this kind of a claim.

It is true that all members of the community are entitled to reasonable police protection. But this is a general, not a specific, right. It does not mean that each victim of a crime, if he can point to some police error, can collect damages from the city government.

The reasoning is mainly pragmatic. Courts fear that if such claims were allowed, the financial burden on cities would be staggering.

Nevertheless, under certain circumstances, a person may indeed have a special right to police protection. Consider the problem of the person who is an informer or a material witness in a forthcoming trial. If he is in danger, the city is likely to be held responsible for his safety.

"Otherwise," said one court, "it might become difficult to convince the citizen to cooperate with law enforcement officers."

In one unusual case, the family of a suicide victim tried to blame the city because the police had missed a chance to prevent the tragedy. They said officers had come out to investigate a family quarrel, then left with things still unsettled.

But the city was exonerated. The court said even if the officers should have stayed longer, they still could not fairly have foreseen that the man would take his own life.

Burk Youth Attend Theta Rho Assembly

The 33rd session of the Theta Rho Assembly of Texas was held June 7, 8 and 9 in Fort Worth, Texas. Attending the Assembly from Burkburnett were Georgianna Neal, JoAnn Smith, and Linda Stewart. The group was accompanied by Mrs. Mary Stewart, Assistant Worthy Advisor.

The group enjoyed a party held Friday night by the Assembly. Jacque Harris joined the group Saturday in Ft. Worth. She delivered a talk to the Assembly on her recent United Nations pilgrimage she won last summer. The Assembly was treated to a swimming party Saturday afternoon.

Jacquie Harris was installed as State Warden and JoAnn Smith was installed as State Membership Chairman Saturday night.

Georgianna Neal was presented two first place trophies, which she won for the Past President's charge and the Four Supporter's charge. The Burkburnett Theta Rho Club was presented a trophy for performing the initiatory degree for the Burkburnett Rebekah Lodge #67 recently.

The trip was enjoyed by all and they can hardly wait until next year when the Assembly will be held in Houston, Tex.

Here are some things you as an individual can do to stretch your food dollars and fight inflation at the same time.

SHOP WITH A LIST — Check your needs carefully before you shop. Make a complete list and stick to it! Avoid impulse buying and purchasing items which might cost less at another type of store.

REALLY MAKE USE OF SPECIALS — Take fullest possible advantage of the advertised specials. Watch for them, clip the ads and take them with you as a reminder. Stock your refrigerator and clear extra shelves for canned goods. You'll be surprised at the money this can save you.

WHEN SHOPPING FOR MEAT — Be a planner. Buy in terms of meals. If you have leftovers that are not enough for another round, you are wasting money. Make sure you use all the meat you buy. Consider less expensive cuts and cooking them in interesting ways with the help of a cookbook. When you spot meat specials, stock up your freezer. And don't forget that a large piece cut to your order can be cheaper per pound than individually packaged cuts.

YOU PAY FOR CONVENIENCE — You pay a premium for the convenience of prepackaged and prepared foods. If you have the time, prepare your own instead.

COMPARE, COMPARE! — Try other stores and other brands. One market may excel in meat bargains, another in staples or produce. Shop accordingly. And don't become dependent on any one brand. All lines fluctuate.

in cost, so don't be afraid to experiment when you can save money. Keep an eye open for specials on in-house brands.

WATCH THOSE CHILDREN! — If you can avoid it, don't take the children along to the market; you'll save dollars right away. You will also find it easier to focus your attention on wise shopping. Another tip: Have a snack before you go to the store; it cuts down on impulse buying. If you have to take the children along, make sure they eat first, too.

USE THE BASE PRICE LIST — Larger stores are required to keep a list of the prices charged during last year's 90-day freeze. Ask to see this "base price list" and check the items you normally buy. Make up your own list of the base prices for those items. You only have to do this once, then you can compare base and current prices as you shop every week. It will help you spot price fluctuations, both up and down, and buy accordingly.

These are just a few ideas. You probably have others. Share them with your friends and neighbors. Remember, inflation is everybody's business.

Faith City Mission Pleas For Help

by Sedelta Verble

Christmas is generally the time people set aside money for those less fortunate, but some need help in the summer, also.

Faith City Mission is one of a variety of charities in the Wichita Falls area needing immediate help.

"We are in a slump now and we need financial support desperately," said Jim Cook, superintendent of the mission at 402 Lamar.

Cook said the mission operates on about $1,300 per month and since contributions are low at this time, the mission is in trouble.

"We are in dire need of washing machines and commercial dryers," he said, and "we can always use dried beans or any kind of food."

Faith City served 5,200 meals January through April and provided beds for 1,337 people. A total of 2,205 people were clothed, including 460 families for an average of 115 per month. These figures are increasing.

"The contributions have dropped this year and we don't receive any money from United Fund; our total funds come from individuals and churches--we mostly rely on faith," he said.

Contributions to Faith City Mission may be sent to Box 965, Wichita Falls or contributors may contact Cook at the mission.

Johnson-Taylor Marriage Solmnized Saturday Night

Miss Linda Carol Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S.L. Johnson of Wichita Falls, became the bride of Glenn Edward Taylor, son of George Taylor of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Jack Smith of Dallas, Saturday evening in a ceremony performed at the First United Methodist Church in Burkburnett. Rev. Don Youngblood, pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Iowa Park directed the couple in their marriage vows.

Baskets of gladioli and daisies flanked an arch of candles covered in swaths of wedding greenery decorated the nuptial area.

Miss Johnson was presented by her father in a lovely candlelight gown. The empire bodice was accented with lace through which small blue ribbon had been intermingled. Further compliment to the gown was given by a bouquet of daisies and tiny white carnations with an orchid center.

Jan Lindsey, maid of honor, was dressed in a long baby blue crepe gown with mirlonist sleeves trimmed in candlelight lace. She carried a nosegay of daisies. Dressed identically were bridesmaids Karen Greer, Pat Zimmerman and Diana Miller.

Serving as best man was Dean Bohannon. Ricky Grist of Wichita Falls, Craig McCord and Randy Sutton, both of Iowa Park, acted as groomsmen. Those assuming the duties of ushering and seating were Ken Johnson of Wichita Falls, Roger Johnson of Denver, Colo., Mickey Patterson of Arlington, and David Kellogg of Mr. Pleasant.

Honored by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, the bride and groom enjoyed a lovely reception in the fellowship hall. Assisting with the serving were DeDe Goodman, Mrs. Peggy Patterson, and Mrs. Judy Thornton.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at the Trade Winds in Wichita Falls.

The bride was graduated from Burkburnett High School and is employed by White's Home Office in Wichita Falls.

The groom attended Iowa Park High School and is presently employed by Taylor Concrete Company of Wichita Falls.

Out-of-town relatives attending were Mr. and Mrs. Don Kellogg of Mt. Pleasant, Tex., Roger D. Johnson of Denver, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Jobe Smith of Dallas, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Patterson of Arlington, Texas.

The president appointed a committee of Mrs. R.R. Kolter and Mrs. W.P. Rogers to audit the report of the treasurer.

Mrs. R.R. Swinford was welcomed as the new president for the 1973-74 term and appointed her slate of appointees to the various committees. The elective officers installed June 4 were: Mrs. R.R. Swinford, president; Mrs. Hubert Miller, vice-president; Mrs. W.P. Rogers, secretary; Mrs. Anna Mae Emmert, treasurer; Mrs. Bee Bryant, council delegate; Mrs. Laura Creger, reporter and Mrs. R.R. Faulk Receives Degree From UT

More than 500 students in the School of Communications at the University of Texas at Austin received Bachelor degrees May 26 during formal spring commencement exercises.

Included in those students receiving Bachelor of Journalism degrees was Robert Faulk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Faulk of Burkburnett.

Faulk was included in the top ten percent of his graduating class, receiving his degree Cum Laude with a final grade point average of 3.56 in a 4.0 system.

Faulk, whose degree concentration was in radio and television news writing, had been cited earlier for his work as an associate news editor during the spring semester for The Daily Texan, the student newspaper.

He was a two-year member of Sigma Delta Chi, National Journalism Society. While at the University, he was also active in communication committees of the Texas Union and the University Student Government.

Dean Wayne Danielson of the School of Communication noted during the formal exercises held on the Austin campus that the 1973 group was the largest graduating class from the University's School of Communication history.

The school includes students in journalism, radio-TV-film and speech communication.

Following his graduation, Faulk joined the staff of KVRL-TV in Houston as a technical director.

FARM REVIEW

JOYCE SMITH

County Extension Agent

Fun, 4-H and Fashions will be the theme of the 1973 Wichita County Dress Revue.

The Dress Revue will be held at Ben Franklin School, 2112 Speedway, at 10:30 a.m. on June 28.

Music for the revue will be played by Mrs. James B. Allred. Entertainment will be provided by the 4-H Share-the-Fun group from Clay County.

The public is invited to attend to see the achievements of the girls.

Cloths and brushes can save electricity. Lighting equipment needs regular care and cleaning if it is to give consumers their "money's worth" in use of power. A collection of dirt, dust, and insects on bulbs, tubes, diffusion globes and lampshades acts as a screen letting only part of the light through and the consumer pays for light trapped in the fixture where it benefits no one.

All lighting equipment should be cleaned from four to six times a year for efficient performance. Clean portable lamps monthly for good reading light. When cleaning make sure power is off.

Clean lampshades with a small dusting brush attachment on a vacuum cleaner. Silk or shades sewed to the frame with no glued trimmings may be washed in milk, lukewarm suds and rinsed in clear water. Quick drying, important to prevent rusting of the shade frame, can be done with a hair dryer blowing hose or a fan.

Light bulbs can be wiped clean with a damp, soapy cloth and dried.

Cleaning ceiling fixtures calls for extra safety precautions. Electricity must be turned off, and a safe stepladder or stool should be used; a helper makes the job faster and safer. Remove shields and bulbs, wash in warm, soapy water, then dry with a lintless cloth. Dust exposed parts of fixtures carefully, then replace bulbs and shields.

Replace all darkened bulbs. A darkened bulb can reduce light output 25 to 50 percent. Use darkened bulbs in places where less light output is needed, such as hallways or closets. Replace fluorescent tubes that flicker or have darkened ends.

Dress Revue Held Today

The Wichita County 4-H Dress Revue will be held Thursday, June 28, 1973 at the Ben Franklin School, 2112 Speedway, Wichita Falls at 10:30 a.m.

The entertainment will be presented by "Nine Lives of the Cat's Meow," a 4-H group from Clay County.

Both Junior and Senior 4-H'ers will compete in the different divisions.

The public is invited to attend the Dress Revue and see the accomplishments of these girls.

Webworm Returns To Do Damage

AUSTIN--The webworm has returned for its annual picnic in home owners' pecan trees, confronting owners with the threat of its unsightly silk webbing and foliage destruction.

"If pecan tree owners want to have a production yield, now is the time to act," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White advises.

The web could stay indefinitely if not turned off by the branch cut off. While the webworm is not feeding on the leaves of the tree, the webbing it spins acts as its home. "It can completely defoliate a tree if not kept under control," Commissioner White stated.

Some successful insecticides can be used to combat this pest. They are lindane, toxaphene, chlorodane, and sevin. Directions for use of these insecticides are printed on the product label.

"It is vital that home owners use the insecticides in the quantity specified because misuse could be dangerous to other wildlife," Commissioner White warned.

"The Federal Environmental Pesticides Act of 1972 set out firm rules on how they are to be applied in pest control. It's a matter of federal law this year," Commissioner White added.

Sancap, New Cotton Herbicide

Registration of Sancap, a new cotton herbicide specifically for use in sandy soils, has been accepted by the Environmental Protection Agency, the Agricultural Division, CIBA-GEIGY Corporation, has announced.

The new herbicide controls pigweed (Carleweed) and Russian thistle. Application is to be made at planting, but prior to emergence of weeds or cotton. Registration covers use of Sancap in the sandy soil cotton producing areas of Arizona, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas.

A fact sheet covering Sancap applications, cautions, rotational guidelines and other information is available. Write Mrs. Betsy Wood, Agricultural Division, CIBA-GEIGY Corporation, Saw Mill River Road, Ardsley, New York 10502.

County Agent News

B.T. HAWS

Increasing Beef Cattle Profit Opportunities with Forage will be the theme of the 23rd annual Beef Cattle Short Course and the 8th annual Forage Short Course at Texas A&M University August 20 and 21. Discussion will center on both effective production and efficient utilization in year-round forage programs.

Farmers can do several things to help ease the current fuel crisis. To reduce fuel consumption, farmers can reduce tillage practices, cultivate only when necessary, use the right tractor for the job, operate the tractor at proper speeds and keep it properly tuned, avoid letting the tractor idle for long periods, and delay certain operations that will not affect the current crop season. Large equipment should be moved by truck on highways rather than driven.

For bushy growth and numerous blooms on annual flowers, pinch back the main stem when young plants are four or five inches tall. Pinch back lateral stems a second time for more dense growth. Disbudding or removing all growth from the stem except the terminal one, produces a large fine flower.

Mowing a pasture can boost forage production by giving the better forage plants a chance for regrowth. Mowing helps especially to control weeds and boost grass quality by keeping new and tender growth going on. Stems, mature grasses and unsightly weeds can cut pasture production by 50 percent or more. They reduce both the quantity and quality of forage grasses.

Hot, dry summer weather often keeps stockmen from mowing. This problem can be eliminated by mowing only a part of the pasture at a time. Wait until the mowed section has recovered before mowing other parts of the pasture.

Mowing height is also important. Tall weeds can be eliminated from forage being saved for hay or later grazing by setting the mowing height above the forage. Where grazing is continuous, set the mowing height above the forage, about two to three inches.

Chemicals are also a good method of weed and brush control. Detailed information on chemical weed control can be obtained from the County Extension Office.

Major aspects to consider in cow-calf operations are investment costs and annual costs. Estimates of the costs vary for intensified operations and the extension ones. More extensive operations are found in the western area of Texas where several acres of land may be required to carry a cow unit.

The total annual cost with a seven percent charge for land and improvement for an intensified operation is $140 to $179.50 per year per cow unit and $165.50 to $213.50 for the more extensive operation.

For intensive operations, land and improvement costs at seven percent interest range from $35 to $56 for producing a calf to weaning age while other costs will range from $105 to $123.50. Land and improvement costs for the more extensive operations range from $70 to $105 with other costs totaling from $96.50 to $108.50. Producers should estimate total investment costs per cow unit at $980 to $1,300 for intensified operations and $1,500 to $2,000 for extensive operations.

Higher prices for farm products and generally improved economic conditions raised farm real estate during the year. Overall the United States average per acre value of farmland increased 10 percent in the 48 contiguous states. This was well above the six percent annual average increase since 1960. In the Southwest, increases in farmland averaged from 8 to 13 percent. Louisiana was the leader with a 13 percent gain. Texas followed with a 10 percent increase. The upward trend should continue through 1973 in response to favorable farm income and a strong nonfarm demand for farmland. The actual rate of increase will depend on credit.

Round The Town

Mrs. Seth E. (Minnie) Brown of 907 Tejas Street returned Wednesday from Hawaii where she visited her daughter and husband, Maj. and Mrs. E.C. Ross and grandson, Gregg. She was gone five weeks. She also visited some former Burk friends on the island, Mrs. Louise McGrath and Maj. and Mrs. Kenneth Leasey. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Riley also flew to Hawaii the same time with Mrs. Brown but returned in a week or so. They too, visited Mrs. McGrath and the Keaseys.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Caffee attended Mrs. Caffee's family, the Ferguson, Reunion at Lake Murray Lodge, Okla. this past weekend.

Weekly Health Tip from JOE GILLESPIE

To avoid ingrown toenails, trim them off blunt and straight across, not oval or rounded. Be sure the entire front edge of the nail is exposed clear across so that the corners are not digging into the flesh. Avoid tight shoes and tight stretch hose, especially for children. If the toes have no room to grow, they can only be compressed and deformed.
