★ ★ ★ Showdown In Speaker Fight ★ ★ ★

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—The speaker of the House of Representatives of the 56th Legislature will be picked this afternoon, ending one of the hottest campaigns for that post in recent legislative history.

Rep. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock confidently occupied the speaker's office today claiming, that he would be re-elected by a "15 to 20 votes majority."

Rep. Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville held a "Thank you party" for his supporters last night and forecast victory today by "a substantial majority." He said he had at least 78 firm commitments for the necessary 76 votes.

Late yesterday leaders of both factions ended the latest outbreak of controversy by agreeing on the election procedure to be followed. Secretary of State Zollie Steakley will preside and furnish the ballots. Each House member will be called in alphabetical order to check one of the two names on a slip of paper and initial the ballot. Then eight tally men—four from each side—will count the votes and announce the results. Steakley then will burn all the ballots.

The four counters for Carr are Reps. W. T. Oliver of Port Neches, Carl Conley of Raymondville, John Hubner of Bay City and Wesley Roberts of Lamesa. Burkett's tally crew includes Reps. Byron Tunnell of Tyler, W. E. Shaw of Forney, Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth and Obie Bristow of Big Spring.

The final vote likely won't come before 1:30 or 2 p.m. as each candidate will be nominated in a 7-minute speech and each nomination will be seconded with three 5-minute speeches.

Burkett will be nominated by Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos, who was chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee last session. There have been reports that if Burkett is defeated then Rep. W. S. Heatley of Paducah will be named by Carr to head the appropriations group, which drafts the final appropriations bill to cover state spending for the next two years.

Carr will be nominated by Rep. H. J. Blanchard, who with Carr represents District 97 of Lubbock County. Blanchard has been mentioned as possible successor to Heatly as head of the House State Affairs Committee.

There were reports yesterday that both sides had agreed on Rep. Frates Seeligson of San Antonio for reappointment as chief of the Revenue and Taxation Committee.

It is traditional for the victorious speaker candidate to name supporters to the choice committee jobs.

Carr's nomination will be seconded by Reps. Alonzo Jamison of Denton, James Bates of Edinburg and John Allen of Longview.

Burkett's nomination will be seconded by Reps. Virginia Duff of Ferris, Jerome Jones of Galveston and Will Ehrle of Childress.

POLL TAX RECEIPTS IN SLIGHT DEMAND SO FAR

Only 1,624 persons have so far qualified to vote in Scurry County, according to Geral G. Greene, county tax assessor-collector.

The tax office has issued 1,135 poll tax slips and 489 exemption certificates. Poll tax is $1.75.

The deadline for paying poll tax is Jan. 31.

There are several cases of persons exempt from paying poll tax, and some of them must observe the Jan. 31 deadline.

Persons who were 60 years old prior to Jan. 1, 1958, or 61 by this Jan. 1 are exempt, but they must get exemption certificates by Jan. 31 if they live in Snyder. Those living outside Snyder of that age do not have to get exemption certificates.

Those who become 21 this year can get exemption certificates at any time of year they become 21, but they will not be eligible to vote in any election unless they have the exemption certificate at least 20 days before the election.

Persons who have moved to Texas since Jan. 1, 1958, and have been residents of the state at least a year and residents of the county at least six months can secure exemption certificates.

Greene urged residents to qualify to vote as early as possible this month, since there is always a rush, with long lines forming at the tax office, late in the month. The tax office is on the main floor of the courthouse.

Money Woes Head Agenda

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP) — A legislative session that will be a supreme test of the wisdom, courage and governmental know-how of 181 lawmakers and Gov. Price Daniel begins at high noon today.

The 56th Legislature must grapple with reality on state spending and taxation. Recent sessions have been able to dodge or stall off a fiscal showdown but it appears now that no magic but that of a fresh supply of dollars for the general revenue fund will balance the budget.

With the speakership undecided, the session won't be able to begin its major task until either Rep. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock or Rep. Joe Burkett of Kerrville is declared winner of the no-compromise race, the hottest in 10 years. A basic issue is appointment of house committees.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey's experienced and politically-sophisticated hand will wield the gavel in the senate. Ramsey will name its committees. He will be starting his fifth consecutive term as president. Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, a rugged veteran of many sessions, will be second in command as president pro tempore.

Gov. Daniel's second term comes a week from today, to be followed by a series of messages to the Legislature. This will delay for at least 10 days his recommendations on fiscal and other high - level policy questions.

In simple terms, the big issue is: how far can the Legislature go in voting funds for state services in the face of a general fund deficit officially estimated at 65 million dollars as of next Sept.

Estimates of the new money that will be needed to foot the bill for all the things the state does for its citizens during the next two-year period range from the official 167 million dollars to 200 million.

Extraordinary efforts will be made by conservative legislators to hold any tax bill down to a bare minimum. On the other side, many lawmakers will be saying: "If we have to have new taxes, let's do a big job and give the state many services it needs but doesn't have now."

Gov. Daniel's economy committee of key department heads figured that 74 million short and long range general fund dollars could be found by cutting corners, plugging up taxpaying loopholes, and otherwise stepping up the inflow of cash from half a dozen sources. Much of this program would require legislation but Daniel is expected to back it with all his strength.

With the spotlight immediately on the House leadership contest and on finances, there has been less advance attention to many other important issues. Among them are such perennial subjects as tougher loan shark legislation, labor law changes, criminal code reforms including a fresh attack on juvenile delinquency, changes said to be needed in the already-revamped insurance code, city firemen and policeman's demands for state laws on wages and working conditions, and impending battle between public and private power advocates.

Gov. Daniel last night struck the first financially optimistic note of the new session.

He said there were substantial balances in several funds controlled by the Legislature to start the session rolling without deficit financing. Daniel said that these funds — over and above the needs and appropriations made by law —will total $3,447,681. The last session appropriated 2½ million to pay the cost of the regular and the first called sessions in 1957.

The house this session has 46 new members. There are three new senators — about an average turnover for a session.

Foes Of Filibuster Record No Progress

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has changed its rule governing debate, but the argument continued today over how big a step it had taken toward curbing filibusters.

"No gain at all," commented Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY), one of a group of Northern and Western senators who had fought to make it easier to throttle filibusters against civil rights bills and other measures.

"A soothing syrup to lull the conscience of America," was the assessment of Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill), one of the leaders of the bipartisan fight for a rules change.

Some Southern senators protested that the change—any change—went too far.

But an overwhelming majority of the Senate voted 72-22 for the new rule to allow two thirds of the senators present and voting to cut off debate. A rule in effect since 1949 had required the votes of two thirds of the entire Senate membership, or 66 of the 98 senators.

The rules battle roared to its climax Monday night with senators in sharp disagreement over what the effect of the new rule will be.

But no one questioned that the outcome was a spectacular triumph for Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader.

The change in rules went through just the way he proposed it on the opening day of the new Congress last Wednesday. Johnson and other Senate leaders of both parties called it a reasonable, middle-of-the-road solution.

Douglas said, however, that it marked a great victory for Southern senators.

With the aid of conservative Republicans, he said, they had been able "not to blunt but to reverse the drive for civil rights and an effective antifilibuster rule."

In contrast, Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), said "it is a sad day when the Senate of the United States demeans itself by imposing new restraints" on freedom of debate.

And Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) said he would have preferred to return to the days before 1917 when unlimited debate prevailed in the Senate and there were no means to cut it off.

Ike Counting On Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told the new Republican leaders of Congress today his 77 billion dollar budget for the new fiscal year contemplates a surplus of about 100 million dollars.

House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana told newsmen there is hope of a tax reduction in the next two or three years if the heavily Democratic new Congress goes along with Eisenhower's spending and legislative programs.

The President's budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 will go to Congress next Monday. The White House recently announced it would be a balanced budget calling for spending about 77 billion dollars — approximately two billion less than in the current year.

Today, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in reply to a question that Eisenhower informed the GOP congressional delegation the budget actually contemplates a surplus of about 100 million dollars.

In the current fiscal year a deficit of about 12 billion dollars is in prospect. This was Eisenhower's first meeting with the party's congressional chiefs since election of new leaders last week.

In advance of the White House session Dirksen said he expected only a general discussion of the legislative program. He said there was no arrangement to report to Senate Republicans, who have yet to set up their policy committee.

Halleck, who defeated the veteran Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts for the leadership post, headed the House delegation.

Hardeman Reaps Wrath Of Solons

By FRANK N. MANITZAS

AUSTIN (AP)—"I've got on a bullet proof vest," Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo quipped today.

Hardeman talked freely about his open, statewide campaign against proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 1. It would have created annual sessions of the Legislature and give lawmakers a $7,500 a year salary plus unlimited office expense.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, president of the Senate, and several senators dropped in to chat.

Legislators have blamed Hardeman for the defeat of the measure. Because it didn't pass, they start today on their regular $25 per day expense money with no salary.

"I can't imagine why anyone should have any animosity toward me," he said. "The people should have some rights. The lawmakers ought to be mad at the people, not me. It was a 2½ to 1 vote. It's the people they're going to have to answer to, not me."

Hardeman, 56, is beginning his 13th year in the Senate. He said he's not superstitious about his time of service—even though today is Jan. 13.

Many times criticized for his views, Hardeman answered questions willingly about his being hired to defend several loan companies, which allegedly have violated the usury law. He said he could conscientiously vote for any measure which would strengthen the laws.

"How am I going to make a living if I don't practice law" he asked.

"I'm a lawyer. I'll take any case where people will pay me to defend them. You ask if there's a conflict of interest No. Is it a conflict of interest when I'm defending someone in a criminal case. I've Been special prosecutor in a murder case recently. I also turned right around and was defense counsel in two other murder cases. People don't think about conflict of interests in criminal cases.

"The Constitution allows a man his right to counsel. I can supply him that counsel."

Foundation Elects 5 New Directors

Five new directors were elected by stockholders of the Scurry County Industrial Foundation in the annual stockholders meeting at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the district courtroom.

Elected were Claude E. McCormick with 7,815 votes, J. Mark McLaughlin with 8,145 votes, Roy Dunlap with 6,375 votes, Roger Mize with 5,535 votes, and Bill Brown with 6,025 votes.

Those men replace Herbert Feather, Lyle Deffebach, Hugh Boren, Jr., Ralph Geisenhoner, all of whom were serving one-year terms and Fred C. Auforth, who moved away from Snyder recently. Deffebach is president of the board and Auforth served as secretary of the board before leaving Snyder.

Arthur Blanchard was elected temporary secretary to keep minutes of yesterday's meeting.

Other nominees on the ballot which had been presented by a nominations committee were H. A. Johnson Jr., M. L. Broman, Jay Rogers, Bob Wilson, Walker Dabbs, Steve Birdwell, C. L. Calloway, R. E. Patterson and Mel Z. Gilbert. Two men were nominated from the floor yesterday. They were Wayland Holt and Walter Hales.

Minutes of last year's meetings of stockholders and directors of the foundation were read by Wayne Boren, and a report of activities of the foundation in contacting prospective industries which might be interested in locating in Scurry County was made by Deffebach.

Deffebach listed several industrial firms with which both personal contact and correspondence had been conducted. He said some had already made definite plans, but that others were still undecided, and that they might later decide to move to Snyder.

Deffebach said that the first year had been a productive one, although no new industries have actually moved to Snyder.

"We have learned much about the operation of other foundations, and have built a solid groundwork on which we believe our foundation can be built," Deffebach said.

Thirty-seven share holders, or their proxies attended the stockholder's meeting, more than filling the requirement of 10 per cent of the listed shareholders. The foundation has about 350 members.

Snyder Nat'l Bank Elects Directors

Directors were elected and an annual report made this morning at the annual stockholder meeting of the Snyder National Bank.

There was almost 100 per cent representation of local stockholders at the meeting, according to Roger Mize, president. Mize said there were 28 out of a total of 43 stockholders present representing 14,418 out of a total of 15,000 shares.

Mize made the annual report to the stockholders.

Directors elected were A. C. Alexander, Hugh Boren, Jr., G. B. Clark, Jr., William Fuller, Theo Lamb, T. J. Sterling, Harrie Winston, and Mize.

Phillies Fire H. Roy Hamey

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies today reportedly have fired H. Roy Hamey as general manager and hired Milwaukee's John Quinn to take over the post.

Hamey, who came to the Phillies from the New York Yankees in 1954, is reported going back to the American League champions. He will become assistant general manager, the position he held before moving to Philadelphia.

Quinn, a veteran baseball executive, has been reported on the way out in Milwaukee ever since the National League champion Braves hired George (Birdie) Tebbetts as a vice president and heir apparent to the club presidency.

Blast Rips Big Tanker

ISKENDERUN, Turkey (AP)—The giant tanker Mirador exploded in the harbor today and started to sink. Six Turkish crewmen of the Mirador and 34 crew members of the Turkish salvage tug Imroz were reported missing.

The Greek-owned tanker, which flies the Panamanian flag, was badly damaged in the harbor here on Dec. 18 by a fire and explosion as it was transferring gasoline to the U.S. Navy oiler Ocklawaha.

Two Greek seamen on the 20,762-ton Mirador were killed in the December blast and one was injured. Turkish officials investigated the possibility that the earlier blast was caused by sabotage.

United Fund Board To Meet Thursday

Directors of the Scurry County United Fund will hold a special meeting Thursday afternoon.

The meeting will be held at 4:30 p.m. Thursday in Room 2 of the First Methodist Church fellowship hall.

Stanley Noah, president of the organization, called the meeting for a report on the campaign and for discussion on an extended drive to raise the remainder of the goal.

The United Fund lacks some $10,000 reaching its goal of $42,050 for the nine agencies participating.

Pair Uninjured As Pickup Overturns

Two Snyder men were not injured when their pickup overturned about nine miles west of Snyder about 10 o'clock this morning.

Men in the pickup were Hugh Taylor, 2312 Avenue M, and Fred Bullard, 3606 Avenue V.

They were traveling east in the late model GMC pickup pulling a cattle trailer with two bulls in it when the trailer started whipping and caused the truck and trailer to overturn. The truck and trailer were heavily damaged, and the livestock were injured, but not killed.

House Is Damaged Heavily By Fire

The Leo Heath residence, 2408 Twenty-eighth Street, was gutted by fire about 8 o'clock last night.

Firemen said the inside of the house was heavily damaged by the fire, but that the building did not completely burn.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

Cuban Execution Toll Soars As Speedy Trials Continue

By LARRY ALLEN

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—The execution toll is mounting as Fidel Castro's military courts continue to exact vengeance for violence attributed to supporters of fallen Dictator Fulgencio Batista.

At least 145 persons had been reported executed between Batista's flight on Jan. 1 and Monday night. More speedy trials were under way, including hearings for possibly 100 prisoners in Oriente province.

The toll took a big jump Monday when revolutionary firing squads reportedly shot 75 persons near Santiago, capital of Oriente, where Castro's rebellion was centered and antirebel repression was strongest.

Officials of the provisional government claimed all cases were being fully investigated, but otherwise there was no information on the trials of the condemned men. Apparently, most were being held in secret, and by military courts rather than by the revolutionary courts the new regime has said would be established to try "war crimes" offenders.

Not all the defendants got the death penalty. Two policemen in Manzanillo were sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Approximately 3,000 persons are being held throughout Cuba. In Oriente there are about 500, according to Fidel's brother, Raul, who has been in military command in that area since Fidel's victory.

The weekly news magazine Bohemia charged that 20,000 Cubans had been killed between Batista's coming to power in 1952 and Jan. 1.

The 75 men executed in Oriente were shot in two groups, one of 14 and the other of 61, witnesses said. The executions took place at a military camp one mile from Santiago and one mile from San Juan Hill, where Teddy Roosevelt's Rough Riders charged the Spaniards in 1898.

Santiago military headquarters declined to confirm the executions. A reporter found a huge mound of fresh dirt, cartridge cases and tire tracks at the scene. And rebel officers and witnesses gave this description of the executions:

The prisoners were brought in trucks about 3 a. m. and the first group lined up along a freshly dug trench 10 feet deep and 10 feet wide.

One of the four Catholic priests who heard their confessions, the Rev. Jorge de Chabede, head of the Catholic Youth Movement in Oriente, said they were mostly young men—police guards accused of violence and cruelty, alleged informers, and members of the private army of former Sen. Rolando Masferrer, which despoiled those accused of supporting the rebellion. Masferrer has fled to Florida.

Some of the men protested they were members of the rebel movement. One shouted "Fidel Castro is an assassin." Most stood at attention without blindfolds or arm bindings.

They were cut down with rifles and automatic weapons, and finished off with pistols. The dirt was pushed back in over the bodies and by 10 a. m. the executions were over.

Nixon Invites Inquiry Into President's Defense Program

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has indirectly invited a sweeping inquiry into President Eisenhower's defense program. The Democrats are ready to give it a thorough going-over.

Nixon, who has sat in on preparation of the budget, has told fellow Republicans he is satisfied Eisenhower's military proposals will stand up under the most minute examination by the Democratic-controlled Congress.

It is Nixon's belief, as relayed by those with whom he has discussed the matter, that Eisenhower's planned program will keep over-all U. S. military power ahead of the Soviet Union, so that there will be no future "blackmail gap" in relative defense strength despite a current Soviet lead in missiles.

Eisenhower has said the new 77-billion-dollar budget he will send to Congress next Monday will include seven billion dollars for all types of missiles and related armament.

Relative missile strength is one of the issues the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, headed by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, expects to investigate as soon as Congress is fully organized.

The Senate Space Committee, also headed by Johnson, already is surveying U. S. and Russian accomplishments in the space field. Eisenhower's budget is expected to call for a 700-million-dollar outlay to develop space craft.

Nixon has conceded that this country is behind in both the missile and satellite fields. But he has told associates he is confident the rate of American development now exceeds that of the Soviets.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, challenged Nixon in the Senate Monday to prove the United States is ahead of Russia in intercontinental missiles. Nixon made no public reply.

Symington told the Senate "There seems to be a continuing effort on the part of high officials in this administration to lull the people into a state of complacency not justified by the facts."

On the other hand, Nixon was said to have told his colleagues that while it would be a great mistake to overestimate U. S. strength, it would be unfortunate if that strength were underestimated and an impression of weakness given to the world.

Lone Star Cites Hike In Expenses

AUSTIN (AP)—Lone Star Gas Co.'s transmission operation costs have increased 67.6 per cent, the Texas Railroad Commission was told yesterday.

Company Comptroller Howard J. Yonkers of Dallas was a key witness as Lone Star presented its case in seeking to boost the natural gas price to its own distributing companies in 308 Texas cities.

The price hike eventually would be passed on to commercial and household consumers.

Yonkers said 67.6 per cent increase was from 1943 to 1957. Bringing about the over-all cost boost were major jumps in construction of pipelines, up 85 per cent, and maintenance, up 70 per cent.

Lone Star is asking authority to increase immediately its rates from 30 cents a thousand cubic feet to 40 cents—the price it was charging in 1942.

Director S. C. McIntosh of the Railroad Commission's gas utilities division presided at the hearing which is expected to end late today or early tomorrow. McIntosh said a delay would be granted after the company presents its evidence to allow cities and other groups time to study Lone Star's case.

Besides the immediate hike, Lone Star wants authority for automatic increases or decreases in rates as the price of gas in fields fluctuate from a base cost of 13.8 cents per thousand.

Included in the automatic gas adjustment price cost would be any taxes which may be levied on natural gas, Lone Star said.

Crash Victims Brought Out

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Rescuers reached the shattered hulk of an Air Force plane high on an Alaskan glacier Monday and began the task of bringing out the bodies of nine crewmen.

The crippled C124 failed to clear a 5,200-foot mountain range late Sunday as it came in, with two of four engines out, for an emergency landing at Homer, on the tip of the Kenai Peninsula. The giant plane was demolished as it struck Petrof Glacier between the 3,000 and 4,000 foot levels.

The Globemaster from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., had disappeared into clouds while being escorted across the Gulf of Alaska by Coast Guard amphibians.

A massive air-sea search ended when a civilian pilot spotted the wreckage Monday morning. Helicopters lifted a rescue team to the spot.

The C124 took off from McChord AFB in Washington about noon Saturday on a flight to Kodiak, Alaska. It carried more than 17 tons of classified military cargo.

Mild Weather Prevails In Most Areas

By The Associated Press

Dry and fairly mild winter weather was the outlook for most areas from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast today.

Showers dampened Western sections of the country and cooler air moved into northern California and the Pacific Northwest. It also was a little cooler in parts of Minnesota.

Considerable sunshine and generally southerly winds warmed nearly all of the Midwest and East Monday. Southwesterly Gulf winds sent temperatures rising in Florida.

Temperatures were higher than 24 hours earlier in nearly all areas east of the Rockies, with the greatest warming in a belt from northern Alabama and northern Georgia northward through the Virginias into Pennsylvania, Ohio and the Great Lakes.

Rain diminished along the Pacific Coast, with heaviest falls continuing along the central California coast. Light rain fell throughout southern Idaho.

Taken To Sweetwater

B. D. Smith of Hermleigh was taken this morning by Bolger ambulance from his home to a Sweetwater hospital.

Board Of Correction To Seek More Funds

HOUSTON (AP)—Members of the Texas Board of Corrections made it official yesterday—they need an emergency appropriation of $500,000 from the Legislature.

O. B. Ellis, prison system director, said, "We can't get through the last year of the current biennium without it." Several months ago the board first served notice it was running short.

Its financial situation took a blow last summer when prolonged rains cut cotton production, a chief source of income for the prison. The board met yesterday in a regular monthly session.

Mrs. Bill McClatchy Gives Musical Program To Acacia Study Club Last Wednesday

The Acacia Study Club met Wednesday, Jan. 7, in its first meeting of the new year. Mrs. Jane Hinton was hostess for the affair. Mrs. Carl Dillaha brought the current event, which was a report on the Carnegie Study of American Education. Mrs. Cal Moore was a guest of Mrs. Dillaha.

The program on fine arts in modern America was brought by Mrs. Bill McClatchy, who chose to bring a report on the history of Ragtime, Blues and Jazz.

"Jazz had its earliest beginnings as the newly freed Negro slaves sought to make a living in the only way they could—by musical performances. The kind of music they performed was at first merely more of the old slave songs, but soon developed into other forms. The Negroes began to play on wind instruments the same music they had formerly sung. New Orleans was the cradle of Jazz, partly because it was the center of commerce and industry in the South and partly because it was there that most wind instruments were manufactured.

"Two basic elements of New Orleans Jazz were ragtime and blues. Ragtime was developed from the old dance songs and blues from the old slave "sorrow songs".

"A famous name of this early period of jazz is Scott Joplin, a Negro pianist who wrote the "Maple Leaf Rag'.

"The most famous name in the history of the blues is that of W. C. Handy, the son of a southern pastor who bitterly opposed his son's aspirations for a musical career —especially since the son wanted to seek expression in the form of jazz music, which up to this time had been the music of former slaves, and people of a low class. Against his father's wishes, W. C. Handy did become a jazz musician, first traveling as a player of jazz; but achieving greatest fame as a composer. His greatest blues song was the American classic, St. Louis Blues, which did more to establish jazz as a universally popular medium than any other number. Others of his famous blues tunes are the Beale St. Blues, John Henry Blues and The Joe Turner Blues.

"It was only natural that soon people would try to sing the blues, which up to now had been an instrumental style. One early Negro blues singer was Bessie Smith, called Queen of the Blues, whose style and records and vaudeville appearances were the inspiration for such modern singers as Ethel Waters, Ella Fitzgerald, and Billie Holliday.

"Other famous figures in the world of jazz were such people as Buddy Balden, in the 1890's, a cornetist who has been called by Louie Armstrong a genius who was way ahead of this time, and Jelly Roll Martin, who wrote the Tiger Rag.

"Just before W. W. I. Storyville, the infamous center of vice and prostitution, and also the center of jazz, was closed down by an order from the federal government, and the jazz artists moved to Chicago. When Louis Armstrong formed a band at Dreamland Cafe in 1924, called the Hot Five, Chicago became the new capitol of jazz.

"Swing received recognition as a definite jazz style in Chicago, Nov. 6, 1935 when Benny Goodman and band started a history making engagement. This new jazz form sent the young audiences into frenzies of enthusiasm, they leaped from their seats to dance in the aisles—Causing great concern for the fate of the younger generation. But enthusiasm for swing was not limited to the young Benny Goodman made a great impression on the whole music world with his swing concert in Carnegie Hall in Jan. 1938.

"Boogie Woogie came into being in Chicago's south side in the 1920's. This style was an outgrowth of the blues, placing emphasis on rhythm instead of melody, and characterized by its having eight beats to the bar. One composer of Boogie Woogie was Meade Lux Lewis.

"Another composer who gained prominence at this time is Duke Ellington who wrote such jazz greats as Sophisticated Lady Mood Indigo, and Solitude.

"Dizzy Gillespia, whose peculiar habits of dress and whose peculiar manner of speaking was emulated by young jazz enthusiasts all over the country, was the leader in the next development of a new jazz style—this time it was BeBop. This music was characterized by double talk, nonsense lyrics and loud, high trumpet.

"The newest innovation in the jazz world is known as progressive jazz, a movement led by Stan Kenton and his big band, whose purpose it was to refine jazz and make a lady of it. Other and more recent exponents of this style are Dave Brubeck, George Shearing, and the latest and greatest, a Negro pianist, Errol Garner."

Following the program was the business meeting. The members voted to hold a bridge benefit as a money - making project for the year. The resignations of two members were read and accepted, that of Mrs. Sig Line, and Mrs. Fred Auforth. Mrs. Cal Moore was accepted by the club as a new member.

SPORTS

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THE 1950's WILL GO down as a "golden decade" in sports annals at Breckenridge, Stamford and Pampa.

Prior to 1950, neither of the three mentioned schools had ever won a state championship in any sport but with one year still to go in this decade, Breckenridge has come up with four state football titles while Stamford has won three grid titles and Pampa three state basketball crowns, all coming since 1951.

Breckenridge, with almost half of its championship team last fall returning next year, stands a chance of adding another grid title to its credit in the "golden 50s." And Pampa most likely will make it four state titles in basketball this season. The Harvesters have three regulars back from the club that captured the title last year and at the moment are undefeated in 15 games this season.

Breckenridge's first state football title in its history came in 1951 when the Buckies defeated Temple in the finals, 20-14. The Buckies again beat Temple in the state finals in 1952 by 28-20. After skipping a year, the Buckies made it three titles in 1954, defeating Port Neches, 20-7, in the finals.

Breck then went three years without a title-winning club but broke the spell this past season, smashing Kingsville in the finals, 42-14.

Three Shared Glory At Breck

Stamford's first state championship didn't come until 1955 when the Bulldogs upended Hillsboro in the championship game, 34-7. Then Stamford made it two straight in 1956, crushing Brady in the title tilt, 39-7.

The Bulldogs didn't survive district play in 1957 but got back on the winning trail by annexing the pennant last fall, beating Angleton in the finals, 23-0.

Pampa's first state basketball crown in history came in 1953 when they downed Austin, 61-47, in the championship tilt.

The Harvesters followed up by winning the state crown in 1954 and again in 1957. The first two titles were won in the Jimmy Bond era. All of Pampa's titles were won under the tutelage of Clifton McNeely.

But, in the case of Breckenridge and Stamford, different coaches carried them to state crowns.

In the case of Breckenridge, three different men shared in the state championship glory.

Cooper Robbins, now athletic director at Odessa schools, guided the Buckies to the school's first state grid title in 1951. Then Joe Kerbel, currently an assistant coach at Texas Tech, tutored the Bucks in the 1952 and '54 title-winning years.

Emory Bellard led the Bucks to the 1958 title.

"Inexperienced" Wartes Hit Jackpot Early

Gordon Wood coached Stamford to its first two state championships, in 1955 and 56. Wood left after the 1957 season to take the head coach position at Victoria with one of his assistants at Stamford, Larry Wartes, taking over the Bulldog reins.

Wartes, who never played a down in college football, guided Stamford to the state championship last fall in his first year.

You'll perhaps note that in all three of the above cases, each school, after winning its first state title, followed up by winning it again the ensuing year.

This came about mostly because virtually the same bunch of boys who won the first title returned the next season. Breck's first two crowns came in the Ken Ford era, the Buckies' fine all-state quarterback.

Then Stamford used the talents of Mike McClellan to win its first two crowns and as aforementioned, Pampa's two straight titles came with Bond in the fold.

Well, another new decade is nearly upon us and maybe it'll bring glory to some other schools who have never tasted a state championship. Maybe it'll fall Snyder's lot in the '60s, who knows.

However, with one year still to go in the '50s, we wouldn't care if any of the Tiger athletic teams would "jump the gun" a little on Mr. 1960.

British Champion Seeks Title Bout

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer

LONDON (AP)—Newly crowned British heavyweight champion Henry Cooper today hoisted his price for tackling world champion Floyd Patterson to $140,000.

"That's what we want for any fight against Patterson," manager Jim Wicks said. "It doesn't matter whether the fight is here or in the States — that is our figure."

But Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, was far from receptive to Wicks' demands when he was contacted in New York.

"For one thing," D'Amato snapped, "the defeat does not eliminate London. For another thing, many people are anxious to fight for the world heavyweight championship. None of them is in a position to dictate to the champion. Perhaps the one who makes the most concessions will wind up with the title bout."

The 24-year-old Cooper jumped into a contender's spot with a 15-round decision over Brian London at London's Earls Court Stadium Monday night.

It was one of the bloodiest heavyweight fights ever seen in the British ring.

Both fighters finished badly cut around the eyes — but Cooper's flashing left jabs won him the title.

Cooper, a classic boxer, outclassed a brawling, mauling London. The Associated Press gave 11 rounds to Cooper, 4 to London.

British promoter Jack Solomons wants to match him now against European champion Ingemar Johansson of Sweden in a European title fight in London in June.

"We'll listen to every offer and take the one that brings the most cash," Wicks said.

Texan Wins At Tijuana

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

TIJUANA, Mex. (AP) — Golf's professional wanderers today headed for Bing Crosby's big show at Pebble Beach next weekend with a new name and a new record written into the books there.

The name was Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., and the record was the 72-hole score of 273 which netted him victory in the $20,000 Tijuana Open Monday.

Vossler knocked off a barrage of birdies en route to his second major tournament triumph, touring the par 36-36—72, Tijuana Country Club course in 36-32—68.

The sturdy, bespectacled Texan broke the tournament record by seven strokes. E. J. (Dutch) Harrison set the 280 mark a year ago. Harrison was unable to compete this year.

Vossler turned into a virtual rout what had shaped up as a mad scramble and a possible tie for a sudden-dea h playoff.

Four pros, Vossler, Tommy Bolt, John McMullin and Jay Hebert, were deadlocked as they turned into the final nine holes.

Bolt and Hebert dropped back quickly, but McMullin, a 23-year-old newcomer from Alameda, Calif., hung on to take second money of $1,900 with a 69 for 275.

Former U.S. Open champion Jack Fleck placed third with a 68 for 276 and $1,400.

Buffs Surprise Sun Devils, 103-98

CANYON, Tex. (AP)—The West Texas State Buffaloes took over the lead in the Border Conference basketball race last night by downing defending champion Arizona State of Tempe, 103-98.

The upset dropped Arizona State to a 1-1 loop record and broke a nine-game winning streak for the Sundevils. The victory was only the second in 10 starts for the Buffs.

West Texas held a 48-35 halftime lead and led by as many as 16 points during the game. Max Miller of West Texas took scoring honors with 29 points.

Cowboys Post 68-30 Win Over Arizona

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — The Hardin-Simmons Cowboys took a 68-50 Border Conference victory here last night after holding the University of Arizona Wildcats scoreless for the final 7½ minutes.

The victory gave the Cowboys a 1-1 conference record while the Wildcats have a 0-2 mark.

Robert Groom of the Cowboys racked up 17 points for scoring honors.

JIMMY BROWN IN ACTION — Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns, named by an Associated Press panel of experts as the pro football Player of the Year, charges into the West line during the Pro Bowl game in Los Angeles. Moving in for the tackle are end Doug Atkins, (81) of the Chicago Bears and Bobby Dillon, right, of the Green Bay Packers. The East came from behind in the fourth period to win 28-21. (AP Wirephoto)

Snyder 5s Split With San Angelo

Snyder and San Angelo split a doubleheader in Junior High and Freshman basketball action here last night.

Coach Ned Underwood's Snyder 8th graders continued undefeated with a 40-31 victory over Lee of San Angelo while the Lee 9th graders gained an even split for the night with a 42-39 triumph over the local 9th graders.

The Blue Devil 8th graders ran their winning streak to 7 without a setback this season. The Tiger Frosh suffered only its third defeat in nine games.

Injuries and illness hampered the Tiger Freshmen. Starting forward Tommy Cooper missed the game with a sprained ankle while starting center Freddie Miller, who was ill, suited up only at the half and played sparingly the second half.

Dimmunitive Eddie Phy led the Tiger Freshmen in scoring with 13 points, followed closely by Mike Morris with 12. Steve Free collected six points, Miller five and Larry McNair three to round out the Tiger Freshmen scoring.

White scored one-half of Lee's total points with a 21-point performance. Lee led quarterly by 13-6, 20-15 and 36-29.

The Blue Devils had to overcome a 19-17 halftime deficit to clip Lee in the 8th grade tilt. Lee led 13-10 at the first quarter mark and after the Blue Devils cut it to two points at halftime, the locals moved ahead 30-26 at the three-quarter mark and stayed ahead.

Glenn Ramsey led the Blue Devils with 16 points with Stuart Long next with 13. Pat LaFountain had seven and Darrell Aldridge four for the Blue Devils. Westbrook was high for Lee with 16.

Next on tap for the Blue Devils and Tiger Freshmen will be a triple-header with Colorado City here Thursday. The 7th grade game will start at 6 to be followed by the 8th grade game at Junior High Gym. The Freshman game will start at 6:30 at Tiger Gym.

Steeler End Named Pro's Top Rookie

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Orr, an unheralded offensive end who gained stature with the Pittsburgh Steelers as the season progressed, today was voted the National Football League's 1958 rookie of the year in a close race with Bobby Mitchell of the Cleveland Browns.

The 5-11 native of Seneca, S. C., who did his college playing for Georgia University, received 16 votes of the 41 football writers voting in the annual Associated Press poll. Mitchell, the speedy halfback who started the season as if he were going to run off with first year honors only to slow down in the final weeks, received nine votes.

In all, nine freshmen were nominated. Los Angeles tackle Lou Michaels, Baltimore halfback Ray Brown and New York halfback Phil King received four votes each. Single votes went to tackle Alex Karras of Detroit, quarterbacks Mack Reynolds and Dale Meinert of the Chicago Cardinals and halfback-end Bill Anderson of Washington.

Goal Posts Key Item On Rules Agenda

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Field-goal kicking, more popular last fall, may become even more so this year.

It all depends on what the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s Rules Committee does during the next two days.

The committee has before it in closed-door sessions several proposals to encourage field-goal attempts. They would move the goal posts to the goal line, lower the crossbar, or spread the posts farther apart.

The net result of each of the plans would be to give the kicker a better target.

NCAA teams kicked a record 108 field goals in 1958, Committee Chairman H. O. (Fritz) Crisler said. The previous record was 84 goals kicked in 1940.

The goal posts at present are 10 yards behind the goal line. They were moved there 28 years ago for safety reasons.

Another controversial issue facing the committee is the Coaches Advisory Committee's proposal for restoration of the free-substitution rule.

Crisler said the coaches' committee wants to return to unlimited use of players, while another faction wants relaxing of the present rule without return to platoon football.

None of the rules committee's decisions will be disclosed until the meeting ends Wednesday afternoon, Crisler said.

Aggies Break Slump, Trip Hogs, 63-62

By The Associated Press

The Texas A&M Cadets, who have been finding the going tough every since they copped the preseason Southwest Conference basketball tournament, hit the comeback trail Monday night by edging the Arkansas Razorbacks, 63-62.

The close, hard-fought victory gave the Aggies a 2-2 conference standing. Arkansas also now has two victories against two losses, far behind the loop-leading Texas Christian Horned Frogs with a perfect 3-0 conference record.

The other teams in the conference swing into action Tuesday night with Southern Methodist hosting Baylor at Dallas, Texas Tech tangles with Texas at Austin and Texas Christian plays Rice at Houston.

The Aggies had to fight off a determined last minute rally by Arkansas in the Fayetteville game, the only conference tilt Monday night.

Neil Swisher dropped in a free throw for the Aggies to stretch the AlM lead to 63-60 in the fading seconds. The Razorbacks then pulled within one point with 16 seconds left. Pat Foster made a long, desperate attempt from the field for the Porkers but it missed the basket.

The Aggies trailed at the intermission, 40-32, and didn't drive into the lead until late in the second half. Swisher and Arkansas' torrid sophomore, Clyde Rhoden, each accounted for 20 points to share the scoring honors.

Wolf Pack Moves To Front In AP Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kentucky's basketball team finally lost a game last week and lost first place in the Associated Press weekly major college ratings as a result.

North Carolina State's Wolf Pack, usually a contender for national honors and winner of the Dixie Classic this season, edged out Kentucky's Wildcats in the poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

It was an extremely close vote with Coach Everett Case's Carolinians getting the edge in first and second place ballots. North Carolina State was rated first by 48 of 130 voters and Kentucky on 35, but in the point totals it was 1,087 to 1,035.

Points are tallied on the basis of 10 for each first place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc. Voting is based on results through Jan. 10.

N.C. State followed its Dixie Classic triumph with victories over Virginia and Duke last week to run its season record to 11-1.

Kentucky, after winning 11 straight, stumbled last week and dropped a 75-66 decision to Vanderbilt, a team with an ordinary record, on the latter's court. That was enough to knock some of the glamor off the Wildcats, although they came back to win decisively from Louisiana State on Saturday.

North Carolina (9-1) retained third place with 813 points, topping Kansas State by only nine points. Carolina and N.C. State clash Wednesday at Raleigh in a game which should test the belief of many observers in that area that they should rate one-two in the nation.

Trailing the top four in the rankings this week were Auburn, Cincinnati, Bradley, Michigan State, St. John's and West Virginia.

Auburn and Cincinnati each moved up one place as Michigan State took its second defeat of the season. Bradley jumped two, from ninth to seventh, despite a one-point, double-overtime loss to Cincinnati—or maybe because of it.

Northwestern, upset by Indiana's defending Big Ten champions, tumbled from eighth place to eleventh and West Virginia moved up to fill the vacant spot in the top ten.

Top ten teams with first place votes and won - lost records through Saturday, Jan. 10 in parentheses (points on 10-9-8 etc. basis):

1. North Carolina State (48) (11-1) 1087
2. Kentucky (35) (12-1) 1035
3. North Carolina (4) (9-1) 813
4. Kansas State (13) (11-1) 804
5. Auburn (14) (10-0) 774
6. Cincinnati (4) (8-2) 685
7. Bradley (2) (9-1) 382
8. Michigan State (8-2) 344
9. St. John's (N.Y.) (10-1) 205
10. West Virginia (2) (12-3) 193

The second ten: Northwestern 181; Mississippi State (2) 125; Marquette (1) 87; St. Bonaventure (4) 77; St. Louis (1) 57; Seattle 38; Oklahoma City, 37; Portland 31; Indiana 28; California 21.

NTS Throws Scare Into Cincy Quint

By BEN OLAN

An unpublicized college from Denton, Tex. had the basketball world taking notice today following a stirring performance that resulted in a relatively poor night for Oscar Robertson and a near upset of the Cincinnati Bearcats.

As it turned out, little North Texas State lost to sixth-ranked Cincinnati 64-56 in overtime. But not before the Bearcats had come within inches of defeat.

With only six seconds remaining and the score deadlocked 49-all in regulation time, a shot by Rod Byrd of North Texas State hit the rim and bounced away.

Robertson was held to 19 points until he added seven free throws and one field goal in the overtime for 28 points.

Cincinnati was one among four teams in the top 10 to see action last night.

Kentucky, which dropped to second place behind North Carolina State in the latest poll, finished strong to beat Tulane 85-68. Kansas State (No. 4) clobbered Oklahoma 90-45 and Bradley (No. 7) outlasted Houston, 60-50.

Kansas State's victory left it in a two-way tie for the Big Eight lead with the Kansas Jayhawks, who swamped Iowa State 69-48. In other Big Eight competition, Nebraska defeated Missouri 81-69 and Colorado, rebounding from a lop-sided loss to Kansas State, turned back Oklahoma State 65-52.

Bradley's triumph enabled the Braves to move into sole possession of the runner-up position behind Cincinnati in the Missouri Valley Conference. The Bearcats hold the lead on the strength of their 85-84 success over Bradley in overtime Jan. 5.

Elsewhere in the Missouri Valley Conference, St. Louis got hot in the second half and beat Tulsa 76-61 and Wichita's Shockers led all the way to get past Drake 61-52.

Victories by Indiana, Illinois and Michigan in the Big 10 enabled each to tie for the conference lead, replacing vanquished Minnesota. Indiana beat the Gophers 63-59 on the strength of a 21-for 29 performance from the free throw line. Roger Taylor and Mannie Jackson had 24 points apiece as Illinois rode over Iowa 103-97 and Michigan, paced by John Tidwell's 37 points, defeated Wisconsin 84-74.

Idle Auburn remained atop the Southeastern Conference standings with 3-0. But Kentucky's triumph enabled the Wildcats to deadlock Georgia and Mississippi State for the runner-up spot at 3-1.

Georgia was not scheduled. But Miss. State walloped Vanderbilt 83-65. In other league games, Georgia Tech trampled Mississippi 89-70, Alabama beat Florida 82-77 and Tennessee defeated Louisiana State 65-58.

In the Southwest Conference, Texas A&M held off a late rally to edge Arkansas 63-62. Davidson nipped Virginia Military 75-70 in the Southern Conference.

The Filibuster Endures

Regardless of what you think of it, there should be no illusions about the opinions of most U. S. Senators concerning the filibuster.

At this writing it appeared fairly certain that the filibuster foes had taken a beating, and that no substantial change may be expected in the Senate rule which permits a member to speak for the length of his physical endurance on any measure which comes before that body of lawmakers.

In a sense, the filibuster may represent the most personal power a U. S. Senator enjoys. However, history indicates that few if any pieces of legislation have been "killed" as a direct and exclusive result of filibustering. For the most part, filibuster results may be found in publicity, and the benefits to the public likely could be traced to the fact that a filibuster focuses an abnormal amount of public attention upon the legislation involved.

Generally Southern Democrats are regarded as the most staunch supporters of the filibuster rule. But when you come down to specific principles, we doubt that many of the "Northern" Senators are wholeheartedly against the filibuster. After all, it is a weapon, or a tool if you prefer, that is available to them just the same as it is to the Southerners.

Those who cry out against the filibuster usually have some legislation up their sleeves which they fear will be particularly unpalatable to another group. They are not likely to forget that the shoe could be switched to the other foot overnight.

The unique situation this time, if there is one, is the fact that the majority party's leaders are riding with the filibuster in substantially its original form, while members of minority party have been fighting for reform. Normally one might expect the lineup to be reversed.

Johnson Goes On Winning Battles

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Liberals looked amateurish compared with the professionalism of Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas who outmaneuvered their efforts to make it much easier to smash a filibuster.

To make a long story short: When the showdown came they didn't have the votes. Johnson did. Knowing the thoroughness of Johnson, it seems safe to say he had his votes lined up beforehand and the liberals didn't.

What happened would indicate one of two things about the fight they made:

1. Either they were overly optimistic on the support they'd get from the rest of the Senate and didn't make a nose count, or—

2. They knew their chance was slim but decided to go ahead and fight anyway for the sake of the record and to get at least some concessions.

Under the old Senate Rule No. 22 a filibuster could be stopped only by a two-thirds vote of all the senators, or 66 of the 98 senators. A filibuster is a prolonged talking spree whose sole purpose is to prevent some bill or measure from coming to a vote.

Such a two-thirds vote is tremendously difficult to get in the Senate, where so many members traditionally cherish the right — which any one of them might want to use someday — to block a distasteful measure.

In addition, the rule provided no means at all — not even that big two-thirds vote — for stopping a filibuster against a motion to change the rule.

The liberals set out to get the rule changed right at the start of this session of Congress last Wednesday. They wanted it changed to let a simple majority — 50 of the 98 members — stop a filibuster.

But Johnson, leader of the majority Democrats, grabbed the floor right from the start. This was his right, as leader. And he beat the liberals to the punch by proposing that Rule No. 22 be changed this way:

To let a filibuster be stopped — not by the full two-thirds vote of 66 of the 98 senators or by 50 of the 98 — but by a simple two-thirds vote of just those senators present on the floor at voting time.

This may seem lots easier to get. In actual practice, it probably wouldn't be, because on anything so important as breaking a filibuster, most of the senators would be present anyway.

But it was a concession to the liberals. Southern Democrats, who have used the filibuster to block civil rights legislation, didn't like the concessions. It was more than they wanted to yield. It was less than the liberals wanted.

But Johnson, whose job is to try to keep all the Democratic senators working together during the year on legislation he wants passed, is a master at compromise. What he proposed about the rule change was enough of a compromise to win the votes it needed for adoption.

From the time Johnson made his proposal, the liberals had almost impossible going. The reason: Johnson had made a concession that wouldn't antagonize the Southerners too much and would satisfy those other senators who thought Rule No. 22 ought to be softened a bit but not too much.

The result: The liberals were voted down on one attempt after another to get the rules changed to their liking, thus paving the way for overwhelming adoption of Johnson's proposal.

European Women Are More Subtle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's a woman's country this—in a blatant way," said Siobhan McKenna.

But the Irish actress feels that European women in some ways have more real power—and are more content with their lot—than American women.

Miss McKenna flew here from Dublin to appear on TV in "What Every Woman Knows."

This soapy little drama has probably ruined more masculine lives than the three-martini business lunch. It upholds the thesis, dear to all women, that behind every successful dunderhead lies the guiding hand of a shy but firm wife. Partly as a result of this play, wives have been thrusting their sticky little paws for two generations into areas of men's lives they really know nothing about.

What is the difference in this respect between European and American women?

"The European woman is more subtle in maneuvering her man into the kind of action that will make him a great man (or at least a better man), without him realizing it," said Miss McKenna.

"The European woman seems to be a quiet little mouse with no great brainpower. She never seems to push herself, but uddenly you find out that it is she who has the ideas in the family—and her husband executes them."

Miss McKenna doubts that the wider public activity of American women really makes them much more powerful.

"The European wife is just as influential, if not more so," she observed. "But she doesn't appear in public so much. She prefers to stay behind the scenes and let her husband take the spotlight. She prefers to be the woman the man comes home to."

The American wife, Miss McKenna admits, is much more adept at entertaining her husband's boss.

"I'm not so sure that this works as well as separating the home from the office. A man has to have his independence. His home should stay his kingdom. It should be an island of calm to him—not just another salesroom for his career," she said.

The Irish actress, who has hazel-green eyes, an unruly mop of dark brown hair and looks like a freckled elf, is also dubious about the advantage of the American wife's household gadgets.

"I feel most of these modern aids in the kitchen are more trouble than they are worth," she said. "They take so much time to clean.

The European woman has more of a sense of repose. Her time is more of her own even though she lacks many time-saving gadgets.

Miss McKenna expressed belief a European woman puts up more readily with failure on the husband's part because "she feels she is partly to blame herself.

"In Ireland you find women who are happy married to men who would be called ne'er-do-wells here. It doesn't matter to these wives that they have to go out and find the work," she said.

"It seems to me that the spiritual union is more important than whether your husband is a success."

Asked her own philosophy of life, Siobhan said:

"Never let the gilt wear off your world."

Miss McKenna is married to Irish Actor Dennis O'Dea. They have a son, Donnacha, 10.

Forecasting Oil Demand Is Tough

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Guessing how much oil the world is going to use in any particular period is a highly specialized job in the petroleum industry. Getting crude oil and its products to the point of demand on time is another. Both can affect your pocketbook.

And politics and weather can influence both. Examples:

1. Closing of the Suez Canal due to international politics disrupted the normal flow of Mid East oil to western Europe. The result was a busy workout for U. S. oil producers, followed by higher prices for American consumers.

2. Unusually bitter weather of late in many parts of this nation is leading to a rise in fuel oil prices in some places and prospects of the same elsewhere.

3. Threats of an upcoming strike against some oil companies shortly also could mean some shortages, higher prices some places.

Every day about 700 million gallons of oil products are delivered to consumers in the world this side the Iron Curtain. To get it to them the oil companies first take some educated guesses as to where the demand will be, and how much in each spot. Then they turn to fleets of ocean tankers, river barges, motor tank trucks, railroad tank cars, and pipelines.

The last, being largely invisible, go mostly unnoticed in the United States. And, too, here they run a poor second to a much more extensive pipeline system, the 500,000 miles of natural gas lines.

But oil pipelines continue to grow, Jersey Standard Oil reports in the forthcoming issue of its magazine, The Lamp. It notes particularly the significant increase in the number of pumping stations run by remote control.

Pipelines themselves are going automatic. Volume of crude oil flowing from the well to the main pipelines can be measured automatically by meters.

And pipelines are growing larger in diameter as well as in length. This allows control stations to be built as far as 200 miles apart, as against the former maximum of 50 miles.

Five million barrels of crude oil and oil products now pour each day into thousands of separate, slow-moving streams, part of a network that covers 190,000 miles in this country.

They carry 77 per cent of the crude oil produced in the United States and 19 per cent of the refined products sold. Total ton-miles (a ton-mile is one ton of oil transported one mile) now account for around 17 per cent of all the freight hauled between U. S. cities.

The products range from bulk oil to fuel a transatlantic liner, to gasoline for the motorist, to a highly specialized lubricant used in a laboratory.

Negro Takes Her Place On Board

HOUSTON (AP)—A Negro woman who campaigned on a platform which called for peaceful integration of schools took office last night as a board member of the South's largest segregated school district.

Supt. Dr. John McFarland administered the oath to Mrs. Charles E. White before television cameras which brought the board meeting into the homes of thousands.

Tipsters warned there would be demonstrations but none materialized.

Mrs. White, a former school teacher and mother of five, beat two white candidates in school board elections last fall. She drew some 35,000 votes out of about 76,000 cast.

Her first official act after being sworn in got unanimous approval from the board of four women and five men. Vouchers submitted for approval by the business office, she said, should be accompanied by a terse explanation.

The Negro woman, wife of an optometrist, wore a white orchid pinned to her neat brown suit. She smiled at newsmen as she entered the building but made no comment.

Several hours before the meeting convened, anonymous telephone callers warned newspapers and television stations that protest demonstrations would be staged in front of the administration building.

Mrs. White, accompanied by her husband and a white board member, Dr. W. W. Kemmerer, drove up 25 minutes before the meeting was scheduled to start.

Newsmen and four plainclothes police officers were on hand but saw no evidence of demonstrations.

Dr. Kemmerer, former president of the University of Houston, showed her about the building and into the meeting room, where an audience of about 75, including several Negroes, was on hand.

Houston school board meetings have been televised locally for several years. The school district has about 160,000 students.

In October, 1957, Federal Dist. Judge Ben C. Connally ordered the district to integrate with all deliberate speed."

Former Snyderite Is Transferred

Houston — The transfer of Harman Holcomb, Jr., field representative for U. S. Steel's Oil Well Supply Division, from Brookhaven, Miss., to Laurel, Miss., was announced today by M. F. Jones, Gulf Coast Area manager of the division.

Holcomb was employed by "Oilwell" in 1952 at Snyder, and was transferred in 1953 to Denver City, where he was appointed field representative two years later. In 1957 he was transferred to Beaumont, and in 1958 to Brookhaven.

QUESTION: What makes the hula hoop stay up?

* * *

ANSWER: Hoops are one of the oldest toys in the world. Little Greek girls used to roll them along the shores of the blue Aegean Sea more than 2000 years ago. We know this because there are pictures of the hoop-rollers on old Greek pottery. American Indians have a traditional hoop dance in which they step in and out of hoops, toss them in the air and twirl them around their waist.

But lately everybody has been twirling hoops. Anything round will spin in the air and a hoop will whirl as long as it swings free and gets a regular boost to keep it going. Children who have learned to give these "refresher" nudges can keep their hoops swirling around them as a satellite spins about a planet.

The game is fun and good exercise for youngsters. But their parents, whose muscles have grown a little stiff, can sometimes give themselves a backache by trying to play with a hula hoop!

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is a little girl twirling her hula hoop in a trial of skill. The one who keeps her hoop going for the highest number of circles will win the championship. How many times can you make a hula hoop go round?

* * *

(We're sending $10 to Marlene Souga, Santa Rosa, Calif. for her question. If you have a good one, send it on a postcard to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, care of this newspaper. Tomorrow: How often does a century plant bloom?) 1-13

Two Texas Dams Are High On List

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two giant dam proposals are high on the list of legislative business of four Texas congressmen.

One is the Diablo Dam on the Rio Grande, 15 miles upstream from Del Rio at the confluence of the Devils River. The other is the long-authorized West Texas Canadian River Dam, still on the drawing boards.

Diablo Dam is one of three proposed in the water treaty signed by the United States and Mexico in 1944 for construction on the Rio Grande. Only Falcon Dam, near Zapata, has been built.

Canadian Dam was authorized in 1950.

Watching every development in the 80 million dollar Diablo Dam project are Reps. Clark Fisher of San Angelo and Joe Kilgore of McAllen.

Fisher is unqualifiedly for the project. Kilgore has a much more complicated situation: Constituents in and upstream from Laredo want the dam. Some downriver in the Rio Grande Valley fear that it might give to newly irrigated lands water which otherwise would go to them.

"I think everybody supports the flood control features of Diablo," said Kilgore.

"There is some objection in the Lower Rio Grande Valley area to the conservation feature, but I am hopeful the water rights issue will be far enough along toward adjustment that the objection will be withdrawn."

The Texas Board of Water Engineers and the state courts both are considering the issue.

Although Diablo is proposed in the U.S.-Mexico water treaty, separate legislation authorizing the project is necessary before money can be provided. Delegations representing both factions are expected to come to Washington later to present their views.

"This is one of the largest and most needed projects ever proposed in the Southwest," said Fisher, "and I will do everything I can to get it constructed.

"We may run into trouble because of the President's economic program. I am hopeful that it may get approval because it is proposed in an international treaty. It is a moral obligation."

Plans call for the United States to put up about 60 per cent of the project cost.

The Canadian River Dam, which would be built between Amarillo and Borger, would supply water to these two cities and to Plainview, Levelland, Lubbock, Slaton, Tahoka, Lamesa, O'Donnell and Pampa.

Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock and Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa both are pushing the Canadian River project, but say they can do little until the cities have worked out an agreement for repayment of that part of the project which is reimbursable.

Under the authorization legislation, about 94 per cent of the estimated 100 million dollars must be paid back over a period of years by water users.

Club Formed For Failures

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Can a man talk himself out of failure?

A 40-year-old engineer who has failed himself, been jailed for drunkenness and spent the last 18 months in Alcoholics Anonymous thinks so.

In fact he started his own organization a few months ago, patterned after AA. It is called Business Failures Anonymous.

The founder, like all BFA members, insists on remaining anonymous.

He is soft-spoken, the father of three, and proprietor of a going engineering business. But he describes himself as a failure.

"I'm a self-made man and proud of it. But I can look back on a self-made career and find that I did a terrible job."

He and the members don't seek professional advice on how to achieve success. They probe for solutions within themselves. The meetings are devoted to frank conversation in which "the people try to find out where they went wrong."

The only requirement for membership:

"The individual must show a desire to avoid failure in the future."

Except for the war head, the United States Air Force's huge Atlas missile is made almost entirely of stainless steel.

Clothing Is More Important Than Many People Think

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Have you ever wondered what would happen if some cosmic calamity suddenly rendered every person in the world stark naked?

You probably haven't, but Dr. Arthur M. Vener of Michigan State University has.

And—as you may have guessed—one of his specialties is psychology.

Dr. Vener is an assistant professor of social science at MSU. He recently completed research on the psychological and sociological aspects of clothing.

He reveals that universal nudity would be quite baffling.

If you walked into a store, you couldn't tell the salespersons from the customers. The floorwalker wouldn't be any help. He wouldn't even have a buttonhole, much less a carnation.

How would you find a policeman unless you saw one directing traffic?

And, if you entered a restaurant, how would you identify the waitresses?

Dr. Vener holds there's something to the old adage clothes make the man. He says we all look at clothes to help determine the job, social status and traits of a stranger.

Here are some other bare facts Dr. Vener uncovered in his clothing research:

1. Persons who have "come up in the world" are more aware of clothes than those who have been in the same economic and social group all their lives.

2. Some of these individuals are so discerning they can almost always tell the occupation and social status of a stranger by the way he is dressed.

3. But, a person's clothes consciousness is not passed on to his children.

4. In fact, father has little influence on the dress habits of his teen-age children. Mother carries some weight, but the teen-agers also rely on others in their age bracket.

5. Girls have more clothes awareness than boys, especially those who care more about the opinion of others.

6. On the other hand, girls who are more socially confident usually have less clothing awareness than other girls.

Bell Is Disabled

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Officials couldn't find the clapper for the bell which convenes the Utah legislature. So Secretary of State Lamont F. Toronto banged it with a hastily procured monkey wrench to open the 1959 session.

Crude Demand Hike Due In February

AUSTIN (AP)—A demand of Texas crude oil totaling 2,890,000 barrels daily for February has been forecast by the Bureau of Mines.

The bureau's forecast, released yesterday, was up 30,000 barrels daily from the January estimate. The State Railroad Commission will fix the February flow at a proration hearing Thursday.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

1958 IS SECOND HIGH

Traffic Toll Heavy

Scurry County had its second biggest year in traffic fatalities during 1958.

The traffic toll was 14, highest since the record year of 1950, when 21 were killed in traffic here.

More staggering is the total of 78 fatalities here in eight years, or an average of almost nine a year.

The county had a mild year just prior to 1958, with only five traffic fatalities here during 1957.

Third highest year of the past eight was 1954 with 12. There were 11 in each of the years 1951 and 1956, five for 1955, seven for 1953, and six for 1952.

U. S. highways had most of the 1958 fatalities with 10. Of those, two were on U. S. 84 east, one on U. S. 84 north, three on U. S. 180 east, and four on U. S. 180-84 east. State Highway 208 had one, farm-to-market roads two, and unimproved roads one.

The four on US 180-84 east were all in the city limits and represented the most deaths inside the city since 1954. Early that year five members of one family were killed in a car-train collision on Avenue E at the Santa Fe crossing.

The 1958 fatalities:

Delbert Mack Richardson, 19, of 2400 Avenue N, killed two miles east on U. S. 84 March 16.

Pedra Garcia Villaneuva, 23, of Route 2, killed in same accident.

Daniel G. Rose, 20, of Seward, Alaska, killed a mile east of Snyder on U. S. 180 May 30.

James Melvin Overton, 19, of Plains, killed in same accident.

William Otis Roe, 37, of 2201 Avenue O, killed on the farm road below the dam near Lake Thomas July 22.

Juan Alvarado, 17, of Slaton, killed 12.9 miles north on U. S. 84 on Sept. 16.

Ray Cauley Powell, 40, of 3902 Muriel Drive, killed on the East Highway Oct. 10.

Ralph N. Glass, 25, of Pyron, killed in the same accident.

Sue Salsbury, 26, of Snyder, died Oct. 21 of injuries suffered in the same accident.

Soloman Parrish, Snyder, died of accidental gunshot wound while in moving vehicle, classed as traffic fatality by highway department, Sept. 28.

John Isom Evans, 67, of 434 Twenty-eighth Street, killed at intersection of East Highway and Twenty-eighth Street Oct. 25.

John Wesley Robinson, 34, of Midland, killed at the intersection of FM 1609 and FM 1607 a mile south of Union Nov. 5.

Aubrey Zelma Gay, 52, of Big Spring, killed 12 miles east on U. S. 180 Nov. 6.

Mood Calvin Harding, 81, of McCamey, died Dec. 5 of injuries suffered in Nov. 27 accident on State 208 just south of Dunn.

Youth Buried By Landslide

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP)—A rain soaked landslide at Land's End near the Golden Gate buried a high school youth Monday as he hiked with his girl friend up a cliff from China Beach.

Bill Stoltero, 16, and Margaret Valentine, 15, had been taking photographs at the beach after finishing classes at Washington High School.

"Suddenly I heard a rumble, a terrible roaring noise," the girl said at Park Emergency Hospital where she was treated for shock, bruises and scratches.

She added that:

"I looked up the hill and saw it coming and I guess a the same time I jumped to the right, toward the water. I think Bill jumped the other way.

"The mud and rocks crashed down over us. I don't know if I was knocked down or fell, but my foot hurt and I was buried up to my waist. I dug and scraped with my hands and after about five minutes I could pull myself out.

"I looked for Bill. He was gone."

Firemen dug for hours in an unsuccessful attempt at recovering the boy's body until police called off the digging for the night.

L. B. Griffith Dies Monday

Funeral services were set for 4 p.m. today in River Funeral Home in Big Spring for Leslie B. Griffith, 65, who died Monday in a Big Spring hospital.

Mr. Griffith was the father of Olan Griffith, manager of the C. R. Anthony Store in Snyder. The elder Mr. Griffith had been a pumper for the Philmont Oil Co. at Forsan.

Other survivors include the widow, Mrs. Sinie Griffith of Forsan; another son, L. B. Griffith Jr. of Forsan; a brother, L. N. Griffith of Avondale, Ariz.; and a sister, Mrs. Clyde Dunlop of Phoenix, Arix.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Big Spring, was to officiate at the funeral service.

Woman May Be Pioneer

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A passive, lonely woman may be the first space pioneer.

Col. John Stapp, director of the Air Force's Aeromedical Laboratory at Wright Field, Ohio, says research shows that men "start worrying about their families and become aggressive and irrational" too soon to stand a long and confining trip.

The longest a man has been able to stay in a test chamber has been 42 hours, the colonel told the Alameda Contra Costa Counties Medical Assn. Monday.

But a single woman who tried he coninued, lased five days and wanted out only after her food was used up.

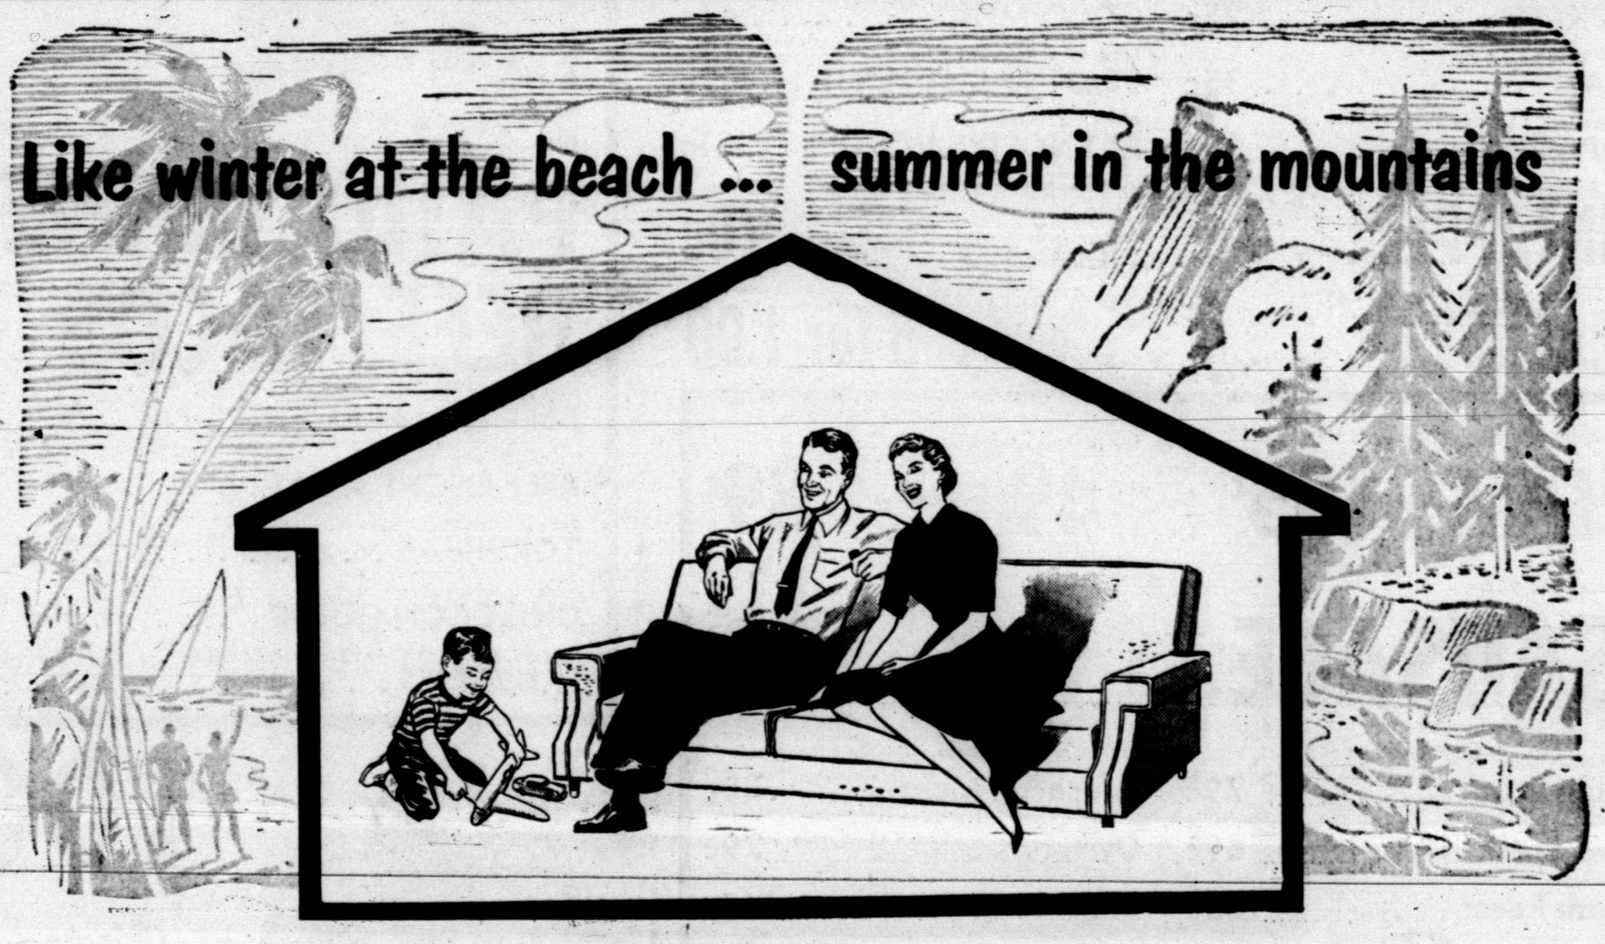

"This particular woman was a passive personality and she had no family or close friends to bind her to vital, earthly concerns," he noted.
