State Patrol Will Seek To Curb Mishaps

Conference To Be Held By Officers To Study Dangers

(By The Associated Press)

At least 15 persons died violently in Texas over the weekend, many in spectacular accidents.

Three negroes were killed when a train and an old model automobile collided; a negro driver died when a Dallas city bus rammed into the side of an ambulance and two Wichita Falls youths drowned in the wind-whipped waters of Lake Kemp.

Two others died in traffic accidents; four were shot to death, one was fatally stabbed and another burned to death. There was one suicide.

Worst Record In History

The death of ambulance driver Howard Smith, 21, was the eighth fatal traffic accident in Dallas in 12 days.

Traffic Inspector Flay Nelson said it was the worst record in the city's history.

Capt. George Busby of the state highway patrol said North Texas' traffic death had increased and that a conference of all patrolmen in the area was being called to try and find ways to reduce it.

An east-bound Texas and Pacific passenger train and an old model automobile collided Sunday about 50 feet from the railroad station at Petty, in Northeast Texas. Killed were Robert Hall, about 50; his mother, Lorcena Collins Hall, 70, and Ernest Adams, about 50. Mary Helen Kinnerson, 12, was critically injured. All were in the car.

Bodies Are Sought

Searchers still sought the bodies of Bert Brown, 16, and Jackie Parr, 17, who disappeared in Lake Kemp near Seymour Saturday after storm-whipped waves swamped their boat and capsized it. Dawson Ward, jr., 16, also of Wichita Falls, hung onto the upturned boat until it was blown ashore.

Sidney G. St. Clair, 22, of Lubbock, and Curtis D. Weaver, 24, of Seagraves were killed early Sunday in a three-car wreck 13 miles west of Seminole. Four persons were injured.

Joe Beaver, 29, was stabbed to death Sunday in Dallas by a 52-year-old woman wielding a potato-peeling knife.

Jimmie Lee, 37, was shot to death by a 33-year-old woman in

United States, Britain Draft 12-Point Plan

Reds Claim Allies Are Preparing To Attack Russians

(By The Associated Press)

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 14.—The United States and Britain laid before the United Nations today a 12-point western plan for permanent peace

The move was the answer to Russia's insistent demands for U. N. action on the so-called Soviet peace proposals.

U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin submitted the U. S.-British resolution immediately after another bitter Soviet attack was made on the western powers.

Strikes At Threats

The western proposal struck directly at Russia's threats against Premier Marshil Tito of Yugoslavia and at alleged Soviet aid to the Communists in China. It also called for religious and political freedom in every country and urged big power cooperation on such matters as atomic control.

The American-British resolution was pitched in just after Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky charged western Germany is being readied as a springboard for attack on the Soviet union.

The Soviet foreign minister made his charge in the 59-nation political committee of the United Nations assembly as that body begin debate on Russia's so-called peace proposals.

A Familiar Attack

In a familiar attack on the United States, Britain, Canada and other western powers, Vishinsky declired the west had gone beyond the propaganda stage and today has moved into a more practical and strategic stage by planning military steps for a future war.

Vishinsky asserted the United States and Britain had deliberately brought about the Berlin crisis and the Berlin railroad strike earlier this year with the aim of getting support for the creation of what he called the "puppet government in Bonn."

Then the Soviet foreign minister shouted:

"Western Germany is about to be used as . . . a springboard for a new aggression against the Soviet union."

Vishinsky referred to the quarrels between the U. S. navy and air force as "a shameful argument as to how best to attack peace-

Couple Walks Into Ocean And Drowns

HALF MOON BAY, Calif., Nov. 14 (AP)—Hand-in-hand, a man and woman walked into the sunset-gilded surf last night and drowned.

Deputy Sheriff James Beatty said it appeared certain it was a suicide pact. He gave the names as Myrtle M. Porter, 47, and Ted Yelle, 50, both of Belmont, Calif.

Beatty related:

The couple, in good spirits, had dinner and several drinks at a restaurant overlooking the Pacific ocean. Then they said they were going for a stroll.

Looking up later, a score of guests, horrified and helpless, saw the couple washed out to sea.

Noted Pastor Death Victim

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 14. (AP) Dr. Charles W. Welch, 71, retired minister and former moderator of the Presbyterian church in the U.S.A., died in a hospital here yesterday.

DR. WELCH

Dr. Welch, in retirement since 945, served 40 years in the ministry after first doing woolen-mill and railroad work. He had been partially paralyzed since he suffered a stroke Sept. 2 in Michigan.

Funeral services will be held omorrow afternoon at the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian church here, which he served as pastor for 29 years.

Dr. Welch devoted much of his life's work to the promotion of better relations between whites and negroes and between Gentiles and Jews. He was a strong advocate of merging the northern and southern branches of th esbyterian church.

He was a native of White county, Tennessee, and early in his life lived on a farm near Franklin, Ky. He helped work his way through the Presbyterian theological seminary in Chicago by reporting for the Chicago Tribune.

While serving as pastor of the Park Avenue Presbyterian church in New York City, he wrote for the New York Herald-Tribune.

Dr. Welch in 1935 was recipient of a medallion from the University of Kentucky that named him the "most useful citizen in the commonwealth."

Most Of Steel Industry Gears For Full Speed

Chief Mediator Will Report To Truman On Mine Stalemate

(By The Associated Press)

Most of the country's steel firms rushed preparations today for resumption of full production after a long and costly strike but all was not peaceful in the coal dispute.

John L. Lewis' miners were digging coal but he has threatened to have them quit work Dec. 1 if the operators and his United Mine Workers fail to agree on a new contract.

HST To Get Report

There was no scheduled meeting between Lewis and the soft coal operators. Cyrus S. Ching, the government's chief mediator, had arranged a meeting last week after Lewis suspended the 52-day old strike for three weeks. But Lewis did not show up. A Lewis aide said the UMW chief would be in Washington Monday "awaiting the convenience of the coal operators.

But the operators, in a deadlock with Lewis since last June, appeared lukewarm to the union chief's suggestion to talk business Ching was to report to President Truman on the coal dispute and most observers thought he favored appointment of a presidential fact-finding board with power to recommend a settlement. President Truman named such a board, upon Ching's recommendation, in the steel dispute.

Few Steelworkers Off

With at least five steel companies signing strike-ending contracts over the weekend, less than 100,000 CIO steelworkers remained on strike. But the holdout companies are expected to sign contracts and within a week or 10 days virtually 95 per cent of the some 500,000 steelworkers who struck Oct. 1 for free pensions will be back on the job.

The biggest producers have ended their dispute over the pensions. Major holdouts are Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp., Crucible Steel, Pittsburgh Steel, and Sharon (Pa.) Steel. The biggest firm to sign yesterday was Wheeling (W. Va.) Steel corporation for its 15,000 workers in West Virginia and Ohio.

Minimum Pension Set

Steel firms which have signed agreements followed the general pattern of the contract signed with Bethlehem Steel company, the first major company to settle its dispute with the union. The agreement is based on a company paid pension

87 ARRESTS IN TWO-DAY PERIOD

Lubbock Is Hit By Minor Crime Wave

The harvest season's impact on law enforcement made itself felt over the weekend for the first time this fall, 87 arrests having been made Sunday and early this morning.

Offenses, however, apparently had produced no dangerous injuries, although there were several instances of violence.

Offenses producing arrests were listed by city and county officials as aggravated assult, assault with a deadly weapon, drunkenness and disturbance, vagrancy, liquor curfew violation, reckless driving, gambling, liquor law violation, drunk driving, theft, hit and run, and parole violation.

Charles Raymond Franklin, 22, of Addington, Okla., admittedly struck Walter Early, 32, of Lubbock route 5 with a metal pipe. He took the victim to a hospital for treatment of a laceration. He was fined $150 and costs for aggravated assault.

Robert Lee Wilkinson, 22, was treated for gunshot wound of the right arm at a negro night spot in 2000-block East Ave. D. Police arrested Maurice Washington, 19, for investigation into the case. He had a gun, they said.

Pearl Carol Richardson, 38, a negro woman of 1700-block Ave. A, was treated for a head cut. A 31-fear-old negro man had struck her with a meat cleaver after she was said to have fired three shots at him in a 700-block Ave. A cafe. She said she did not wish to file a charge against him.

Car Is Stolen

Frank Proctor, about 40, a Bryan negro, said he paid two other negroes $2 to take him to a farm where he is employed, but told investigators they struck him down with an unidentified object after taking him there. He said he was not robbed, however.

$1,000 Cash Fine Is Paid

A $1,000 fine assessed in county court this morning against Cecil Baker was paid, in cash, the county attorney's office and the county clerk's department said.

The 27-year-old defendant pleaded guilty.

He was driver of a truck which, loaded with approximately 200 cases of beer, was overhauled in an exciting chase Sunday morning by Nolen H. Lassiter, jr., a city patrolman.

Alfredo Albidrez, 31, was charged in connection with the same incident. He was described as having interfered with Lassiter's chase by driving an automobile in such a manner as to try throwing Lassiter off the pace sufficiently for the truck to make its getaway.

Blocking Fails

He posted a $200 bond for trial appearance on a charge of reckless driving.

Albidrez even tried to block the officer's pursuit by placing his car at a right angle between the truck and the patrol car, Lassiter said.

Failing, he passed the officer and attempted to force him off the road.

Just as Lassiter, alone in the cruiser, had about made up his mind to begin shooting, Albidrez passed the truck, giving the officer room to do likewise. Lassiter forced the truck to stop, and Albidrez stopped and backed up.

His car and the patrolman's brushed lightly at one stage of the chase.

The arrests were made after the chase had proceeded all the way from 100-block North Ave. K, where Albidrez lives, to the Plainview cutoff road.

Date Of Bond Election Set

The expected date of Tuesday Dec. 13 was set this morning for an election on a proposal to issue $1,075,000 in city bonds for expansions of the sewage disposal plant and to buy rights-of-way for the city highway dispersal system.

The ordinance calling the election was approved as an emergency at a special meeting of the city commission by unanimous vote of those attended. They were Mayor W. H. Rodgers and Commissioners W. B. Price, E. K. Hufstedler and Clarence Whiteside. Commissioner John Spikes was out of the city.

Immediate Action Needed

The proposed issue will include $550,000 for enlarging the sewage disposal plant and for new trunk mains and $525,000 for the dispersal system.

City Manager Steve Matthews said the health of the community will be endangered unless steps are taken immediately to enlarge the present disposal plant, which was designed for the needs of a city not exceeding 50,000 population. Further extensions of the dispersal system must remain at a standstill until more money is available for rights-of-way, he added.

The Central Fire station, Tenth street and Avenue J, was designated as the polling place. R. Bush Smith was appointed presiding judge and Mrs. F. M. Maddox, Louis Murfee, jr., George W. Spinning and Glen Hess clerks.

CIO'S HARRY BRIDGES ACCUSED

U.S. Courts Renew Conspiracy Probes

MARVIN L. BOYD

(By The United Press)

Three important trials involving this country's rejection of Russian Communistic principles open in the United States this week.

The familiar names of the main defendants are Alger Hiss, Judith Coplin, Valentin Gubitchev, and CIO longshoreman labor leader Harry Bridges.

Miss Coplon, a former Justice department employe, and Gubitchev, her Russian former sweetheart, were brought to trial today in a New York federal court charged with conspiracy to commit espionage by transmitting stolen government secrets to Russia. The 28-year-old former government girl already has been convicted of a similar charge, removing papers from Justice department files for delivery to Gubitchev, and faces a 40-month to 10-year prison term now under appeal.

Hiss On Trial

At San Francisco today, the government began its third attempt to throw Harry Bridges, the west coast dock leader, out of the country by proving he is a Communist who should be deported.

With two lieutenants from his powerful CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union, Bridges is accused of perjury and conspiracy to obstruct naturalization laws when he swore under oath in 1945 that he was not a Communist.

The government will try to prove that Bridges, Australian-born has been a Communist since 1933. Bridges, 47, twice before has defeated government efforts to deport him.

Alger Hiss, the former State department official, will go on trial a second time for perjury on Thursday in New York City; accused of lying to a federal grand jury when he denied participating in a pre-war Russian spy ring, Hiss was charged with perjury but his first trial ended last July 8 with a hung jury.

His principal accuser is Whittaker Chambers, a former Time magazine editor, who said Hiss, later an aide to President Roose-

Services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at Cooper for Sidney G. St. Clair, 21, of 2803 North Eighth, one of two men killed in a three-car collision Sunday morning near Seminole.

The funeral for the other victim, Curtis D. Weaver, 24, of Seagraves, will be held at the First Baptist church of Seagraves, day to be announced. Burial will be held in the Seagraves cemetery.

St. Clair died in an amublance en route to the Gaines county hospital at Seminole shortly after the accident occurred at 5 a. m. The mishap took place on U. S. Highway 180 approximately 13 miles west of Seminole.

Automobile Overturned

Weaver died at 11:30 a. m. Sunday in the hospital of head and chest injuries.

Mrs. Dorothy Timmons, 19, of 601 Ave. E, suffered several broken ribs, cuts and bruises in the accident. She was treated at Seminole and then transferred to West Texas hospital, where her condition was described as not serious this morning.

Other Lubbockites involved in the collision were her husband, Murrell Timmons, 20; her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Timmons, 55 and 51 respectively, and a brother-in-law, Delton Timmons, 18.

Highway patrolmen said St. Clair and Weaver were traveling east in a 1941 Ford sedan when it struck the rear of a 1938 Pontiac sedan, also going east, and overturned into the highway's left lane directly into the path of the Timmons car, a 1941 Plymouth, going west.

Occupants of the Pontiac, Jack O. Cline and L. E. Powell of Seminole, were uninjured.

LABOR GOVERNMENT DEFENDED

British Churchmen Get Reply To Views On Economic Crisis

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP) — War Minister Emanuel Shinwell last night said England's second-ranking churchman, the archbishop of York, should find out the "real facts" before criticizing the Labor government.

Shinwell accused the archbishop, Dr. Cyril F. Garbett, and other Anglican churchmen of showing "political bias" in recent speeches on Britain's economic and political situation.

The speeches by the church dignitaries, while avoiding direct attack on the Labor government, have aroused Labor party fears that the archbishops and bishops are pressuring for formation of a coalition government.

Statement Asked

Shinwell, at a Labor party rally in Newcastle, castigated Dr. Garbett for a recent address in which the archbishop said "ruin is unavoidable" unless British industry cuts the prices of its exports.

In the same speech the archbishop called on leaders of all political parties to join in an "agreed downright statement of the extreme gravity" of Britain's ecenomic situation.

"It might do infinite good, to put it mildly," Shinwell said last night, "if gentlemen like Dr. Garbett — and there are others — endeavored to ascertain the real facts of the situation before they embark on criticism of the government or venture into the field of public opinion."

Shinwell called the archbishop's speech a "most deplorable example." He added:

"I have great respect for Dr. Garbett as a high church dignitary, but I decline to follow that gentleman, however exalted, when he embarks on a disquisition relating either to economics or political policy."

First Official Reply

Shinwell's attack was the first reply from a government member to recent comments by church leaders on the british economic crisis and the political situation by church leaders.

A Labor party spokesman earlier said the party does not intend to take any action against the churchmen immediately. "But," he added, "if the church gets much farther into politics, the matter will be brought to the attention of the primate."

But the primate himself, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, the archbishop of Canterbury, also has spoken in a way that could be interpreted as a veiled call for a coalition government.

Dr. Fisher, England's highest church official, has referred publicly to the election as a "gathering shadow." He said in a recent speech there was a "need for united effort to overcome our economic plight."

In addition, several bishops have expressed concern publicly over economic conditions in Britain.

Christmas Much More Costly Than In Grandmother's Time

By HARMON W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (U.P.)— Grandma used to take a leg out of gramps' overalls, a hank of yarn and make her granddaughter a rag dogg for Christmas. She popped some corn, strung same, hung same on a fir cut from the back 40 and maybe put an apple or a few hickory nuts in the stocking.

That was Christmas—and what a joy it was! Cost: Little. Times change.

Take a look around some of the expensive shops. Want a doll house? You can buy a pretty little wood number whieh won't cost you much more than it would to hand-make a hen house in the country. Cost—$375. It has door bells that ring, lights that light, tile in the bathroom, a garage including toy car, real linoleum in the kitchen, and hardwood floors. The little lady, playing house, can act like mama and move the furniture around because the thing is open in the back for just that purpose. Six rooms completely furnished.

Electric Toys Expensive

Granny, in her day, could go a "fur way" on $375. That bought a lot of flour, grits and gingham.

Electric trains are something our elders never dreamed of in the lamp-light days. They come for what the traffic will bear now. Cheapest for under $10. The expensive ones—with the works including a station, lights all around, transformers, diesels and so forth —up to $3,000 and over.

Prices this year are about the same, or perhaps a mite lower than last year. There is an influx of foreign-made toys but most of them cost more than those we make here and, according to the toy people, are of inferior quality.

Little boys go in for the things little boys always do. Shootin' irons, cowboy suits and mechanical toys. Many of the latter are electrically propelled. For instance, you can buy your young man a toy motor for $17.75, plus tax. And for around the same price there are tractors, transports and buses —many of them elecric to be plugged in a wall socket.

Toy Television Set

You can wreck a lot of table legs that way.

For the little "mother," you'll find vacuums for $9.95.

The musically-inclined child would thrill at an organ which sells for $79. It's not a toy, exactly. A tot can sit down and play "America" on it, using the foot pump system.

We have come a long way. There is an expensive chemical set—for advanced high school students. It is a lesson in nuclear physics and does everything almost, but tell you how to make an A-bomb. Actually, it's no toy.

We have toy television sets for around $10. They aren't exactly television sets, but you run film through a projector so that the screen makes it look like television.

"Kids don't go for them," one dealer said. "They want the real thing."

You'll find slates and skates and bats and balls. But we seem to have lost something over the years.

No monkeys on a string.

Bandleader May Not Show Up On Charge Of Hitting Milkman

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 14. (AP) Bandleader Jimmy Dorsey is supposed to appear in court today on charges of hitting a milkman over the head with his famous clarinet.

But there's some doubt that Dorsey will show up in police court to answer assault charges brought by the milkman, William G. Toney, jr. If he doesn't, he will forfeit a $100 bond he posted Saturday when a warrant was served on him at Roanoke, Va.

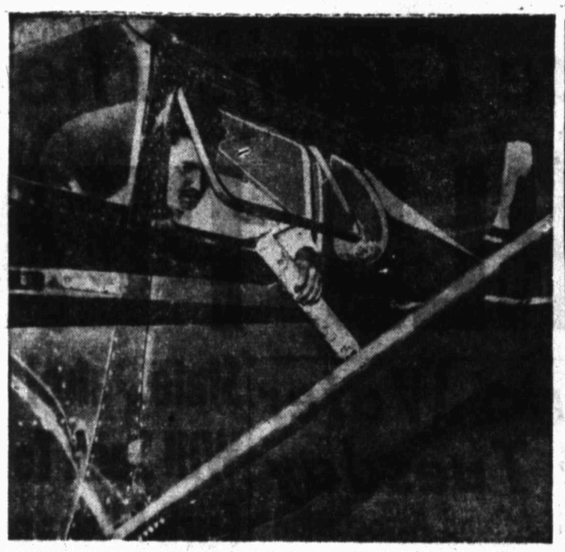

Heckling Charged

Dorsey's band played an engagement at Hamlet, N. C., last night. His manager told reporters he "wasn't sure' whether the bandleader would make the return trip to Richmond to argue his point.

Toney, 22, said Dorsey cracked him across the head with the clarinet last week at a dance here. For a couple of days, said Toney, he sported a two-inch bump as a memento.

Toney's version was that the blow was delivered after he asked Dorsey if he was bandleader Tommy Dorsey's brother. (He is.)

Dorsey said Toney had been heckling him "for 15 or 20 minutes" and that "I finally got tired of it."

FLANES RESEED FORESTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — The Forest Service is testing methods of reseeding burnt over forests from planes. The seed, mixed with sawdust, is spread on the snow. If it works, plane seeding will be cheaper than hand methods.

Rodents eat some of the seed, but first season counts showed fairly satisfactory sprouting. Survival of the seeds will be checked for several years.

Meet Charlie Tobin — Another "Do-it-yourself" American

He created his own business!

Charles E. Tobin, Jr., Dallas, Texas, knows that nothing needs stop a man's carving out a career on his own! He put himself through college; and later, after Navy service, through law school. Then he founded a land-clearing company. It was tough going at first—meeting payrolls and felling timber along a 175-mile right-of-way for a power company. But today, equipped with the manpower and the machines he needs, he's ready to take on jobs for farmers, contractors, highway departments. At 30, Charlie had put his Right-of-Way Clearing Co. in the black. It's filling a need in his community... And he built it on his own!

☆ It's the American Spirit!

YOU'LL find plenty of folks who feel as Charlie Tobin does . . . on every Main Street! They're the ones with imagination, initiative, and drive. They're opening "new frontiers" of opportunity, not only for themselves—but for others. They're making their own security, too. For themselves and their families

One evidence of this modern American "Do-it-yourself spirit" is this: 4 out of 5 families are voluntarily safeguarding their independence through life insurance. And new thousands are turning to life insurance every day.

To fill the growing needs of men and women in every walk of life, the life insurance business itself must grow. It must bring to some the satisfaction of knowing last expenses will be paid. To others, security for widows, education for children, or worry-free retirement years.

In doing so much for so many, 584 individual life insurance companies are actively competitive. Representing them at a personal level are 150,000 trained agents who devote their lives to helping individual American families help themselves!

It's a Fact...

It's a fact that the first consideration in making life insurance company investments is safety.

- State Insurance laws specify the kind of investments the 584 competing companies may make.
- These laws are made in the interest of the policyholders.
- The companies themselves make doubly sure their investments are safe, and that "all eggs aren't in the same basket."
- As a result, the greatest part of life insurance assets is invested in the form of bonds and mortgages.

To make sure you are getting the greatest benefit from your own life insurance, see your agent. Life insurance is a service! Your agent is trained to help you make the best use of it. The Institute of Life Insurance—central source of information —60 E. 42nd St., New York 17, N. Y.

Much Of Old War Equipment Believed To Be Unserviceable

By RENE J. CAPPON
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., Nov. 14 If like a Western European general staff you were shopping for war merchandise you could start with a visit to this tranquil Pennsylvania Dutch countryside.

Sprawling between rich farmland and the tree-clad Blue Ridge mountains, the Army's Letterkenny Ordnance Depot here goes about the business of preserving and rejuvenating a huge pile of military goods.

The visitor finds a self-sufficient little state of 22,000 acres, preoccupied with a persistent struggle against persistent foes—time and weather.

Storing quantities of military reserve stock returned from war use and maintaining it in the best possible condition is the job of Col. Robert Daniels, commandant of the depot which also supplies eastern army posts.

Most impressive at first sight are entire fields crowded with thousands of combat vehicles—tanks, halftracks, armored and scout cars, jeeps and trucks. Some are spick and span. Others, fewer in number, are rust-eaten and battered. Preservatives cover the more sensitive parts.

Throughout the United States, an army spokesman said, 39,000,000 square feet of land is used for such open storage.

Letterkenny employing 5,000 civilians, is one of the big ones among 80 or so depots which store surplus military equipment.

Defense Secretary Louis Johnson has told Congress that some of that material will go to North Atlantic pact members on approval of the European arms aid program. But a spokesman in Washington said most of the stuff poured back from the battle fronts at the war's end and placed in reserve is "not serviceable."

Ammunition Scattered

In the servicable category at Letterkenny is much of the equipment at the tank farm, a system resembling the Navy's mothball fleet. About 300 containers enclose entire tanks, jeeps, trucks, and amphibious "weasels." Unspecified equipment slumbers, embalmed in oil and preservatives, in the dehumidified air of the tank farm.

Ammunition is stored in "igloos," concrete molehills that dot a large area. There are more than 800 of these carefully scattered to minimize effects of a possible explosion. Signs reminding personnel that "death is so permanent" add a grim note of caution.

Besides storing ammunition, the depot conducts a big salvaging project in which thousands of obsolete bombs and shells are taken apart. The TNT is preserved. The cases go for scrap.

Television has been adapted as a safety measure in this process of "demilitarizing" ammunition. While a mechanical device slowly unscrews the base plate of a bomb or shell—with the danger of friction touching off a blast—a television camera is focused on it. From a distance, and behind barricades of concrete, earth, and steel, workers watch the process on a television screen.

Col. Daniels' domain has its police and fire departments, about 150 miles of roads, 60 miles of railroad track, 35 warehouses, machine and repair shops, garages, farms and farm houses—even a 200-year-old box-shaped church.

Wonderful! It's so easy to get youngsters to take Syrup of Black-Draught for it has a pleasant sweet spicy taste! And it's wonderful how mild and prompt Syrup of Black-Draught usually acts to relieve occasional constipation. Syrup of Black-Draught taken as directed is a fine laxative for children. It's pure. It's made by a manufacturer of quality preparations for four generations. Next time, buy Syrup of Black-Draught. Just say to your druggist—Syrup of Black-Draught.

CANNED TANKS preserved at Letterkenny for emergency.

Reds Oust Poland's Gomulka From Party

WARSAW, Poland, Nov. 14. (AP)—Political observers here today anticipated that former Vice-Premier Wladyslaw Gomulka soon will be tried for liking Yugoslav Marshal Tito's policies better than the Kremlin's.

Poland's Communist party reportedly purged Gomulka from the party rolls Saturday. He had lost his post as party secretary-general in Sept. 1948, because he opposed the Cominform's expulsion of Tito.

After he lost his party post, Gomulka recanted his pro-Tito stand and said he regretted opposing the Cominform line. But in January Poland's President Boleslaw Bierut replaced him as vice-premier.

Gomulka's name was struck from the Communist rolls at a party central committee meeting which last night was still going on. There was no word of others who might be involved in the current purge, but observers expected that Gomulka's adherents were receiving close attention from the committee.

Tech Department Head Urging Progressive Farming Methods

Although "dust bowl" years have long passed, a Texas Tech scientist has warned that lean years might return to many South Plains farms unless progressive agricultural methods are adopted at once.

Dr. A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department at Tech, said he recently has noted visible evidence of neglect which has led to wind erosion.

With sweeping winds the main problem in West Texas, Dr. Young says one of the best ways to retain topsoil on farms is through the proper management of crop residue.

Residue Aids Soil

"Every piece of residue left on the surface of the soil serves as a natural wind-break or dam, and each piece of stubble helps to stimulate water penetration of the soil, and thus aid in producing a vegetative cover which binds the soil," he said.

The crop residues also are returned to the soil as organic matter in the cyclical process, and this decomposing organic matter also can act as a binding agent to hold soil particles together in spite of strong winds, Dr. Young said.

Soil tests at Tech indicate that once native sod is broken for cultivation, as much as 50 per cent of the organic matter may disappear in two years. Only proper care of the soil can prevent further organic losses through erosion.

"Solving the wind and water erosion problem is not a local matter," Dr. Young pointed out, "but in West Texas, the wind is an unusually important factor to consider."

Dr. Young said that besides the use of the crop residues, chisel-type plows with sweeps, allowing the farmer to work the soil underneath the residue without turning it under, also would help decrease the erosion problem immeasurably.

"The residue plan will not eliminate the dust storm menace," Dr. Young confided, "since science goes on the theory that there were dust storms on the South Plains long before man ever touched the soil with a plow.

"However, the proper use of crop residues will eliminate the famous 'black dusters' which once carried off hundreds of tons of top soil."

They Got Evidence, But It Didn't Count

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Detectives in a cruiser car saw a known numbers operator on the sidewalk with a paper bag in his hand. They told him to "come over here" and asked him what he had in the bag.

"You know what I got," the man replied. "I got numbers slips."

The officers arrested him—but Judge Thomas D. Quinn set him free. He held that the man was under arrest the moment the officers called him over—and that at that time they did not have evidence of a misdemenor.

Sweethearts Broke Up After Wedding Date Was Set; Now Both Are Quite Miserable

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am 22, considered good looking, and hold down a fairly decent job. Until recently I kept steady company for a period of two years, one of them in being engaged, to a girl who is employed as a model—she being considered very attractive also.

After setting our wedding date for Oct. 6 past, we started arguing violently and often, over such things as money, her family, my not giving her enough attention, and various other petty matters. Two weeks before our pending marriage we had our most violent argument.

All had been arranged for a quite large and elaborate wedding, invitations had been sent, banns were announced in church, her bridal gown was ready, etc., when suddenly the world seemed to blow up in our faces. After three days of bitter quarreling and hurling accusations at each other, we ended up with a broken engagement.

MAN DENIES HE JILTED THE GIRL

TRYING for another chance, I called her to apologize for everything I had said, some of which was very cruel. Mimi was willing to forgive, but refused to make amends for her wrongs unless I professed my love for her, which I refused to do—don't ask me why, for I don't know. Perhaps it waspride or obstinacy.

Not reaching any reconciliation, we made public the cancellation of our wedding, she claiming I jilted her, I claiming the opposite. Now that almost two months have passed, I can neither forget nor stop loving her. On meeting her in public places I can still feel the spark in me, and I know that she is eating her heart out, too, over the terrible mistake we made.

Should I try again to get her back? Can we undo what is done? And if we should marry, is there a chance for the happiness we could have had? Or are there too many strikes against us? And what of the people we know—what will be their opinion of us, if we make up after all this? We have created quite a scandal already, and reunion would give the gossips more fat to chew on. Help me if you can, and answer soon. (Signed) F. C.

MAN WAS BATTLING LIKE HOOKED MARLIN

DEAR F. C.: Several sessions of firsthand psychological probing would be required to uncover the reasons why you started fighting Mimi as soon as the wedding date was set,—but even without knowing what those reasons are precisely, still we can plainly see you were making trouble for a purpose.

From the time you found yourself being reeled into the last mile of ritualistic preparation for marriage, you were fighting the proposition as wildly, as blindly, as a hooked marlin fights the fisherman on the other end of the line. It was something you felt you hadn't promoted, hadn't reckoned on, and definitely weren't ready for.

In presenting Mimi, you say that she is very attractive and employed as a model—not that she is the girl you love. This indicates that you are more honest than you realize.

COMMONPLACE WAY OF FORCING BREAK

COMBINED with other aspects of the story, it suggests that you don't love Mimi; and I believe that is the reason why you could obstinately refuse to give her the lover's assurance she asked, after the crucial quarrel. Also I take it to mean that you unconsciously engineered the series of petty quarrels leading to the explosion that blasted the wedding plans into the ash can, to permit your zero hour escape from "pending marriage."

In the beginning it was rosy achievement from your viewpoint to rate dates with a lovely model, I daresay; and greater achievement, sweet to your ego, to eliminate other contenders from the field, until finally you were her fiance. But after that, as she began earnestly to collect, as it were, for her exclusive allegiance to you, you were gripped by anxious resistance, which blighted your bliss, caused you to see Mimi and her family with jaundiced eye, hence to neglect her, haggle over trifles, etc.

Of course you jilted her, in the sense of forcing a break by indirect tactics, which is the average Lothario's way out of a corner—and you are eating your heart out, since, only because you'd like to have her as a sweetheart still. But you don't want her as a wife—either because you're not ready to marry or because you're afraid of women, really; afraid to love, lest it mean "unconditional surrender" to a vampire boss. Thus what you need is inside help, via psychology, to give you rational control of your emotional power house.—M. H.

Revival Meeting At Baptist Church Is Closed On Sunday

After speaking to approximately 4,500 persons in three services Sunday at First Baptist church and speaking over the NBC network Sunday afternoon, Dr. Robert G. Lee, pastor of Bellevue Baptist church in Memphis, Tenn., and president of the Southern Baptist convention, closed a visit in Lubbock.

He left at 6 o'clock this morning by airplane for Chicago to attend a meeting Tuesday at which plans for the Southern Baptist convention meeting to be held next spring will be discussed. He will address state conventions in Kentucky and Tennessee this week.

Dr. Lee preached to overflow crowds in all three services Sunday, preaching probably to the largest number ever to attend services in one day in First Baptist church.

The Baptist Hour program on which he spoke Sunday afternoon originated from KFYO radio station, being broadcast over 137 stations in the United States.

Dr. Lee arrived last Monday, speaking that night and twice daily Tuesday through Saturday, in addition to delivering the sermons Sunday. During the revival meeting, 124 individuals joined the church, 69 of that number on profession of faith and for baptism, and 113 other persons made decisions including that for reconsecration of life, making a total of 237 persons making decisions publicly in the eight days of the meeting.

Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor, described Dr. Lee's visit as "a marvelous experience for our church and many outside groups." Dr. Lee appeared before various school and other groups.

SITUATION IN ASIA STUDIED

New Move To Halt Red Drive Mapped

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—With western unity newly-reinforced in Europe, Secretary of State Acheson returns to Washington this week. He will take up next several important decisions in the drive to halt communism in Asia.

Work on the drafting of a Japanese peace treaty is expected to get a new impetus from the State department chief soon after his arrival. New steps are due, too, to clarify American policies with respect to the Chinese situation.

Acheson's most immediate step, however, will be to join with President Truman in welcoming the shah of Iran. They will discuss measures for further strengthening the anti-ommunist position in the strategic line for which Greece is one anchor and Iran is the other.

Acheson is due here Tuesday at the end of a week-long trip to Paris. While on the visit he talked with British and French foreign ministers on the organization of western Europe including Germany and then made a flying tour of key points in western Germany itself.

Administration officials here shared the confidence which Acheson has displayed in his European statements, that the Paris meeting made solid progress toward solving the great problems of Europe's future. In Acheson's opinion these problems are mainly to win a high degree of political and economic unity among the free nations of western Europe and to have those nations accept Germany once more as a member of the family.

Arab Talks Planned

The program which awaits Acheson here shows by dramatic contrast the extent to which Asiatic problems remain unsolved. For it is on issues of the Middle East and Far East that events of the next week or ten days seem certain to fix the spotlight now that the Paris conference is out of the way. These events are:

1. Top diplomats of the Arab nations were due to confer with State department officials today and were making a special trip here from the United Nations at New York for that purpose. State department officials believe their primary interest is in settlement of Jewish-Arab problems in Palestine but did not exclude the possibility that they were also concerned with feeling out American policy toward the whole Middle East.

2. Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, ruler of Iran, is due here Wednesday for a state visit. In the course of his stay he is expected to press upon both Acheson and Mr. Truman his view that Iran needs American military and economic assistance. His country has had American backing in its long political conflict with Russia but never to the same extent as Greece and Turkey.

3. The panel of Far Eastern concultants which Acheson established in late summer to advise him on a new American anti-communist policy following the failures in China has virtually completed its work. It probably will reach a formal conclusion before the weekend with a visit to the White House and a conference with President Truman. Philip L. Jessup, Acheson's roving ambassador and trouble shooter, has headed the panel. Jessup will handle the next stage of the Far Eastern study single handed by making a personal survey of southeast Asian and far Pacific countries.

4. Probably the most specific result of the advice given Acheson by the Jessup group, so far as is publicly known, is the decision of the State department to go ahead with a peace treaty for Japan even though Russia and possibly other countries decline to participate. Acheson and British Foreign Minister Bevin agreed in September that a treaty is urgent and the State department is now nearing completion of a draft.

The urgency arises partly from the fact that the subject has become a political issue of tremendous importance in Japan; and the communists have been trying to make capital out of the lack of progress on a pact.

Commissioners Hold Session

Routine business occupied the attention of Lubbock county commissioners in a regular session at the courthouse this morning.

The court also approved expenses of $11.05 for D. W. Robertson and $31.25 for C. E. Lynn, justices of peace, to be paid for out of fees they collected.

The bond of George B. Jones as constable was approved, and the court also approved bond of A. A. Gartman as weigher.

War Dead List Approved

Mrs. J. Spruce White, representing the Disabled American Veterans organization, appeared and received approval on 255 names of World War I and II dead for inclusion on a bronze plaque to be erected on the first floor of the new $1,250,000 courthouse building.

The commissioners were scheduled to resume their session at 2 p. m.

Woman Dies In Love Triangle

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14 (AP)—Police Inspector Lawrence Maloney today told how a 38-year old mother of three children was shot and killed by her lover's jealousy-torn wife.

Victim of the triangle slaying was Mrs. Helen Benke.

Maloney charged Mrs. Nola Simons, 45, with murder. He quoted her as telling him:

"I've been going through hell for six years."

The police inspector told this story:

Mrs. Benke went for a ride last night with Mrs. Simons' husband, Roy, 54. The couple took Mrs. Benke's threelmonth-old daughter.

Shooting Admitted

When the daughter became hungry, Simons drove to Mrs. Benke's home. She got out to get a bottle of milk for the infant.

Mrs. Simons was waiting in a yard near the apartment where Mrs. Benke lived. She followed the woman and shot her once, then fled.

Maloney arrested Mrs. Simons at the home of relatives. The officer said she was calm, freely admitted the shooting and said "'I'm glad it's all over'."

The slain woman was the mother of 10 and seven-year old boys, in addition to the infant.

Maloney said Simons had been a close acquaintance of Mrs. Benke for six years and that the Simonses had bickered constantly over Simons' attentions to Mrs. Benke.

Mr. and Mrs. Simons have no children.

Eagles Lead In NFL Race

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (AP)—The defending champion Philadelphia Eagles today were heading gaily toward their third straight pennant for the National Football league title—but they weren't quite sure who the opposition would be.

Until yesterday, it looked almost certain that the Eagles would play the Los Angeles Rams, who still are leading the western division. But the 7-7 tie the Rams played with Pittsburgh cast a shadow on their chances.

Rams On Top

The Rams of course, still are in the top position to get in the playoff. They show a 6-1-1 record and have a relatively easy schedule ahead—two games with the Chicago Cardinals and one each with the hapless New York Bulldogs and Washington Redskins.

In the All-American league, it still is the Cleveland Browns on top and the New York Yankees trailing along in second place. Both had off days yesterday, the Browns being tied by Buffalo, 7-7, and the Yanks just squeezing past the Chicago Hornets, 14-0.

Meet Next Sunday

The two winners will meet next Sunday.

Yesterday, the Eagles romped over the Washington Redskins, 44-21; the Chicago Cardinals whipped the Bulldogs, 65-20; the New York Giants trounced Green Bay, 30-10 and the Chicago Bears turned back the Detroit Lions, 27-24.

In the AAC, the Cleveland Buffalo-tie was the only surprise. San Francisco hurdled Los Angeles, 41-24.

Sul Ross Gridders Near Third Crown

(By The Associated Press)

Last place St. Michael's of Santa Fe is the only remaining barrier between Sul Ross State college and its third straight New Mexico college conference title.

Sul Ross won its fourth in a row Saturday, defeating fourth place New Mexico Western 59-20.

Second place Adams State of Alamosa, Colo., lost a non-conference game to Colorado college, 25-0.

Eastern New Mexico is in third place in the circuit. Enmu defeated Danied Baker of Texas 13-7.

New Mexico Highlands shut out St. Michael's 20-0.

Panhandle Aggies of Goodwell, Okla., edged Cameron A&M (Okla) Saturday, 23-21.

This week St. Michael's plays Sul Ross at Alpine, Tex.

Playoff Game For District 4-A Set

Lubbock's Westerners and Texas Tech's Red Raiders play away from home this week, but Lubbock won't be without a football game.

The Slaton Tigers and Littlefield Wildcats, two of the area's better Class A grid machines, will meet at 2:30 p. m. Friday at Jones stadium to decide the District 4-A championship.

Use of the neutral field for the title playoff game was agreed on Sunday at a meeting of school officials in the Hilton hotel.

Other major arrangements for the game also were made at Sunday's meeting, at which Joe C. Hutchinson and P. L. Vardy, superintendents of schools at Littlefield and Slaton, respectively, presided.

Ticket Prices Announced

Ticket prices, tax included, will be $1 for adults, 50 cents for Texas Tech students, and 30 cents for high school students.

There will be no reserved seats.

Ducats will go on sale later this week in Littlefield, Slaton and Lubbock, at sites to be announced when tickets are ready for distribution.

Officials Are Chosen

At Sunday's meeting, the east stand of Jones stadium was designated as the Slaton section, while Littlefield partisans were assigned the west stand.

Texas Tech will receive a rental fee of $150 from the competing schools.

J. S. Fikes, coach of the north half champion Littlefield team, and Clarence Tillery, mentor of the Slaton eleven which captured the south zone flag, agreed on game officials for the playoff tilt at the conclusion of Sunday's session.

Assigned to officiate were Harvey Dunn, referee; Curtis Barrett, umpire; M. O. Pittman, head linesman; and Earl Ince, field judge. All reside in Lubbock.

Other school representatives at Sunday's meeting were Bill Barnett, assistant coach, and J. H. Freeman, high school principal, both of Slaton, and Forrest Martin and Pat Patterson, assistant coaches, and Jack Yarbrough, school board member, all of Littlefield.

The winner of Friday's fray will advance to the bi-district round of the state Class A grid playoff. Should the game end in a tie, the victor will be decided on the customary Interscholastic league basis: (1) 20-yard line penetrations, (2) first downs, (3) yardage gained from scrimmage.

Littlefield and Slaton clinched their zone championships with victories last week. The Wildcats downed Levelland, 20-13, to bring their overall season record to seven triumphs, one loss and one tie. Slaton won the 4-A South crown by edging out Post, 7-6. Since losing their first three starts this year, the Tigers have won six in a row, including four in conference competition.

The 4-A champion will go against the District 3-A kingpin in the bi-district round next week.

At present, Spur is the 3-A leader, with Floydada, Lockney and Crosbyton in contention. The title may be decided Friday night when Spur invades Floydada. Spur can take the crown outright with a victory, while a Floydada triumph will send the race into a three-way, or perhaps four-way, deadlock. Should a first-place tie occur, the District 3-A playoff representative will be determined by lot.

Upsets Hit Unbeaten Elevens In Class A

(By The United Press)

Only 14 Class A schoolboy football teams remained undefeated today as the race turned into its final week before embarking on the state championship playoffs.

Of that number, four had been tied once and two tied twice.

Ballanger, previously nubeaten and untied, got no better than a 13-13 deadlock with Coleman, while Alvin was knocked out of the perfect record list 13-7 by Aldine and Nederland was upset by Port Acres 18-0.

The season records of the undefeated teams:

Team	Pts.	Ops
New Braunfels (8-0)	397	52
Kaufman (9-0)	331	12
Beaumont French (9-0)	320	67
Uvalde (8-0)	280	20
Dalhart (8-1)	276	64
Lefors (9-0)	267	75
Ballinger (8-1)	262	92
Bowie (8-1)	259	46
Mexia (9-0)	258	32
Leveretts Chapel (7-2)	242	53
Irving (8-1)	183	42
Arlington (6-2)	173	52
Del Rio (9-0)	160	56
Edna (7-0)	136	38

ROWLAND STILL LEADS

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (AP)—Although Brad Rowland failed to pick up a point for little McMurry college of Abilene, Texas, in Friday's 27-6 victory over Howard Payne, the hustling halfback remains the top individual scorer of college football. Rowland has 108 points in nine games, thanks to 18 touchdowns.

LOOP HEAD RETIRES

FORT SMITH, Ark., Nov. 14 (AP) Tom Fairweather, a dynamic figure in minor league baseball for nearly half a century, yesterday retired as president of the Western association.

Brown Listed On Honor Roll

FORT WORTH, Nov. 14. (AP)—Lubbock's Bobby Brown, Kilgore's Bobby Hiskey, Marshall's James Gist and Diego Leal of San Benito were among the youngsters performing unusual or outstanding feats last week-end to gain recognition in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram's weekly high school football "honor roll."

Brown didn't figure in any of the scoring and his offensive play wasn't up to his usual par, but he stopped Odessa's Joe Childress twice in the last 15 seconds of play, once on the Lubbock 20 and again on the Lubbock three-yard line as the game ended and the Westerners walked off the field with a 7-6 victory in the crucial game of district 3-AA.

Player's Punt Praised

Hisky's boot of 96 yards failed to win the game for Kilgore but it probably is one of the longest on record in high school football. He punted from his own one-yard line out of bounds on the Tyler three in a district 9-AA game. Kilgore lost the contest, 6-14.

James Gist, Marshall's all-state end, teamed with back Jack McMurry to defeat Longview, 19-0, and clinch the 9-AA crown.

Leal scored one touchdown for Sen Benito and kicked the two points from placement that upset Edinburg, 14-13, in District 16-AA.

Bill Waggoner, Wichita Falls back, scored one touchdown and passed 62 yards for another as the Coyotes rambled 36-0 over Childress.

Westerners Are Honored

Sammy Morrow, Paris back, trotted 72 yards for one touchdown, plunged two yards for another and was the spark that knocked Gainesville out of the District 7-AA title race, 13-7.

Roy Pace, Temple back, scored three touchdowns, two running and one passing, as the Wildcats clubbed Waxahachie, 33-18.

Herbert Miller, Odessa tackle who was moved to the post from guard only a week ago, racked up the mighty Lubbock line and was a big factor in halting many of the Westerners' up-to-middle power plays.

Charlie Williams, Lubbock back, scampered 70 yards for the third quarter touchdown that gave the Westerners a 6-6 tie with Odessa. Bill Presley kicked the winning point.

Robert Knowles, 220-pound Waco all-state tackle candidate, paced the Tigers' line play as Joe MacGresham led the offense to a 33-6 victory over Hillsboro in 13-AA.

Undefeated Hardin Favored For Title

(By The Associated Press)

Two more games and the Gulf coast conference campaign will be history. Unbeaten Hardin is an overwhelming favorite to finish that way.

The next-to-last conference tilt is scheduled Saturday. Trinity makes its last bid for a piece of the title in a battle with University of Houston at Houston.

Trinity could tie for the crown by beating the Cougars this week, then trimming Hardin next week.

Hardin has a 9-1 record and is a good bowl prospect.

Last week the Indians clubbed Oklahoma City university 60-16 while Trinity was playing a scoreless tie with East Texas State, champion of the Lone Star conference.

In the only conference game North Texas state kicked University of Houston out of the running 28-23.

Hardin rests this week. North Texas State plays its traditional rival, East Texas State, at Commerce.

SWC Leaders Tangle

Rice To Meet Horned Frogs

BY WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rice can wrap up the Southwest conference football title and a Cotton bowl bid this week.

All the Owls need is a victory over Texas Christian university, coupled with a win by Southern Methodist university over Baylor.

Both Rice and SMU are favored to win and if they do you can start speculating on the Owls' Jan. 2 foe.

Baylor's chances for an upset victory over Southern Methodist depend almost entirely on the passing of Adrian Burk. Texas stopped the sharp-shooting Burk two weeks ago. That's the only licking the Bears have had.

Ponies Are Strong

Southern Methodist, which really got its offense clicking in beating Arkansas, 34-6, last week, has a good passing game and the best running threats in the conference in Doak Walker and Kyle Rote.

Baylor beat Wyoming, 32-7, last week to spoil the Rocky Mountain eleven's perfect record.

Rice used its methodical brand of football to polish off Texas A. and M., 13-0, and this same style is expected to be more than a match for Texas Christian, upset victor over Texas, 14-13.

Arkansas takes on an intersectional foe, William and Mary. Texas and Texas A. and M. are idle.

Blow To Steers

Texas' one-point loss to Texas Christian was a sad blow for Longhorn supporters, who were hoping for another bowl bid. The Steers have lost four games by a total of ten points, three by a total of four.

Homer Ludiker's accurate extra point kicking proved TCU's winning margin, but it was Lindy Berry, the Frogs' triple-threat workhorse back, who deserves most of the credit for the upset.

Walker scored three touchdowns, passed for another and kicked three extra points to boost his chances of being named all-America for the third straight year. He also climbed into second place in individual scoring in the conference with 62 points, two less than pace setter Randall Clay of Texas.

Extra Point Kickers Give Steers Trouble

AUSTIN, Nov. 14. (AP)—Three methodical place kicking perfectionists had the University of Texas Longhorns deep in the mire of the nation's also-ran today instead of up among the leaders.

Their names were Doak Walker of Southern Methodist, James (Froggie) Williams of Rice and Homer Ludiker of Texas Christian.

Texas, perennial Southwest conference power, has lost three conference games—to SMU, Rice and TCU—by the overall margin of four points.

Walker beat the Longhorns with an extra point 7-6; Williams gave Rice a 17-15 with a field goal in the final 10 seconds of the game, and last Saturday Ludiker booted TCU to a 14-13 win over the "snakebit" Texans.

Texas has lost a fourth game, but the Longhorns don't feel too badly about that one. Oklahoma did it 20-14.

Four defeats by the narrow margin of only 10 points.

OHIO STATE BATTLES MICHIGAN

Clearing Of Bowl Picture Expected

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—It's bowl-plucking time again in college football and two of the juiciest post-season plums may be grabbed off this week at Ann Arbor, Mich., and Palo Alto, Calif.

Ohio State will meet Michigan, the defending titlist, for the Big Ten championship at Ann Arbor. Unbeaten, untied California will play improved Stanford at Palo Alto in the Pacific coast headliner.

If both prevail, the Buckeyes and Bears can start making traveling plans for Pasadena's Rose Bowl.

Pressure of the autumn grind continued to take its toll last weekend, with these important developments:

1. Cornell, Boston university and Wyoming were dumped from the ranks of the major unbeaten-untied teams, leaving only six in the select list: Notre Dame, Army, Oklahoma, California, Virginia and College of the Pacific.

2. Sixth-ranked Cornell and eighth-place Michigan State saw their places in the first ten imperiled by upsets.

3. Top-rated Notre Dame, held to even terms for a half, exploded for four touchdowns in the final quarter to smother North Carolina, 42-6, while Army, No. 2 in the Associated Press rankings, barely squeezed past Pennsylvania, 14-13.

4. Bowl-bound Oklahoma hurdled one of its main obstacles by whipping Missouri, 27-7.

Have Similar Records

Ohio State and Michigan have similar records in the conference standings with four victories and one defeat. A loss for the Buckeyes would throw the Big Ten and the Rose bowl picture into confusion.

Michigan, as a guest two years ago, is ineligible to return to Pasadena, the Wolverines won over Indiana Saturday, 20-7, while Ohio Sate thumped Illinois, 30-17.

California, unbeaten and untied for the last two seasons of regular play, continued its march by humbling Oregon, 41-14. Stanford, however, promises to be tough. The Indians Saturday romped over Idaho, 63-0.

Army became the only unblemished power in the East after Dartmouth surprisingly took the measure of Cornell, sixth in the national rankings, 16-7.

Boston university's bowl hopes were stabbed if not punctured by Maryland, which won 14-13. Baylor put skids under Wyoming for the first time this year, 32-7.

Half Of Teams In League End Season

(By The Associated Press)

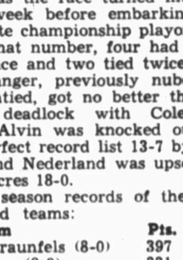

Half of the Southwestern Junior college conference teams wind up the season this week. None has a chance at the title which will be determined Nov. 25 when Lamar of Beaumont battles Tyler.

Paris plays at Kilgore and Arlington State and Tarleton State get together at Arlington Saturday to end season play.

Three other members of the circuit will be playing non-conference games. Tyler goes to California Friday to meet Compton Junior college while Lamar plays McNeese of Louisiana at Orange. Thursday night Schreiner winds up the season against Brownsville of the Texas Junior college conference at Brownsville.

Last week found Kilgore being eliminated from the title running with a 28-13 upset at the hands of San Angelo. Tyler whammed Schreiner 43-13 and Paris licked Arlington State 7-0. Lamar did not play.

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

"Man, I'm glad that game's behind us!" Coach C. R. Pattison exclaimed Saturday night when we put in a sociable call to the Westerner head coach. He was referring, in case there is doubt in your mind, to the Odessa contest, struggle, tilt, clash, encounter, meeting, battle, or what have you. Pat said that he hadn't caught his breath yet, but neither have several thousand other Lubbock fans. It was oh so close. Still, the Westerners proved that they have the spirit and fight to spot a good team a lead and still come from behind to win. It's one of the things that folks have been wondering about all year. Pat said that Joe (Coleman) had his Broncs fired way up for the game and the Westerners weren't fired. He paid tribute to their ability to come from behind and win.

Neither Midland nor Brownfield should be anything more than routine games as the Westerners conclude their schedule. Neither team has shown anything to cause concern, but coaches being what they are, Lubbock's trio may insist that both Midland and Brownfield pose serious threats to Lubbock's unbeaten trail to the district championship. And, if that's the case, the wolf ate Little Red Riding Hood, the Giant caught Jack before he got down the beanstalk and Goldilocks never ran away from the Three Bears. Outside of the post season games, Odessa was the last hurdle in the Westerners' path to a District 3-AA title.

At Post Friday afternoon we kept looking for a miracle, but the closest we could get was a 7-6 triumph for Slaton over Post. That made an early correspondent from Slaton half way a good prophet. He predicted a Tiger victory, but told us to look for a miracle. What we saw were two well coached elevens fighting a bruising battle, with both giving ground grudgingly. It was a good game, as good a game as anyone would want to see and kept the large crowd thrilled until the end. There were no alibis after the game. Coach Bing Bingham took the defeat like the man he is, even though it was a tremendous personal disappointment to him. Assistant Coach Bill Barnett (Coach Clarence Tillery left the scene rapidly) came in the office Friday night and reported that they were pleased with the outcome, but respectful of a good Post eleven.

Bing did say that his boys made a lot of mistakes, costly ones that hurt them. Quarterback Jack Kirkpatrick, however, was doing a fine job of keeping the Antelopes in the game. His flat passes were a constant threat and the running of Ronald Wade and Norman Cash was such that either might have gone all the way at any time. For Slaton, the biggest loss was Fullback Ed Willis, who was hurt early in the game. Barnett said that he had been Slaton's chief d y all season, hitting off tackle again and again until the defense was set up for the sweeps around end of Curly Lewis, Bobby Lambert and others. Willis continued to play, off and on, but his chief value was lost. We repeat, it was a great ball game between two clubs so evenly matched that there was little difference.

Texas Tech apparently has picked a tartar for this weekend in Albuquerque. Yes, we know that comparative scores indicate that the Red Raiders should walk all over Berl Huffman's New Mexicans, but don't be deceived by comparative scores. Look at Hardin-Simmons and West Texas State Saturday. We don't know whether the Lobos have Colorado's number, or whether Berl finally has his eleven rolling in high gear. Last year New Mexico beat Colorado 9-6 in an upset. This year they beat 'em 17-15, also in an upset. Last year Colorado had held mighty Missouri in check before losing a close one. The same was true this season. The test of the puddin'll be in the eating at Albuquerque come Saturday. We have an idea it will be a game similar to the 26-20 game two years ago, or last year's 14-7 game.

Bob Bray, sports editor of The Amarillo Times, was in Post atturday and after seeing the game, Bob was quite outspoken in his assurance that neither Slaton nor Post would stand much chance against the powers of the Panhandle. With all due respect to Bob, we might remind him that Slaton must play Littlefield before it meets a Panhandle eleven and the Wildcats are something to see. Far be it from us to predict a Littlefield victory and thus have them in a position to accuse us of the kiss o' death. But the Wildcats do appear to have the much stronger team. And since Dalhart apparently is the pride of the Panhandle, we look for the tables to be reversed this year. Littlefield was beaten earlier this year by Dalhart, even though the Wildcats pushed Dalhart all over the field. We don't anticipate the Panhandle eleven's doing that again.

When the Texas Christian university freshmen played the Texas university frosh Friday night, two former Lubbock High school teammates played opposite each other. Teddy Vaught, who is developing into a fine college end, anchored one wing of the TCU line. Opposite him was Jack Hensley at tackle for Texas, who slipped out of Tech's grasp somehow and went to the state school. It was a good game, according to a telephone report Jack's dad, Carl, received afterwards and Jack said there was plenty of time for a reunion on the field, despite the game. TCU won, incidentally, 12-7.

Group Seeking Greene Ouster

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Nov. 14 (AP) — The National Boxing association opened its annual convention today with an undercurrent movement to unseat Abe. J. Greene as the national commissioner.

Some 150 delegates representing 80 member organizations — the largest representation in the NBA's history — will consider ring insurance for worn out fighters and standard manager-fighter contracts at the business session today.

Travels To Cuba

The entire group travels to Havana, Cuba, Tuesday to resume business sessions, elect officers and adjourn Wednesday.

Eddie W. Bohn, Denver, Colo., chairman to oust Greene on the grounds he has "grabbed too much publicity" during the past 10 years.

"There are about seven states that think Greene is getting in too solid. We all recognize he has done a great job for boxing, but its time someone else took over. Why, the president is just a glorified office boy to Greene," Bohn said.

Green had no comment on the reported ouster movement.

Bohn, former Colorado state senator, said seven states would disassociate from the NBA if Green is re-elected commissioner. He declined to name the states.

Green said in an interview yesterday it was his ambition and goal to install a set of regulations that would eliminate the term "punch drunk" from boxing parlance.

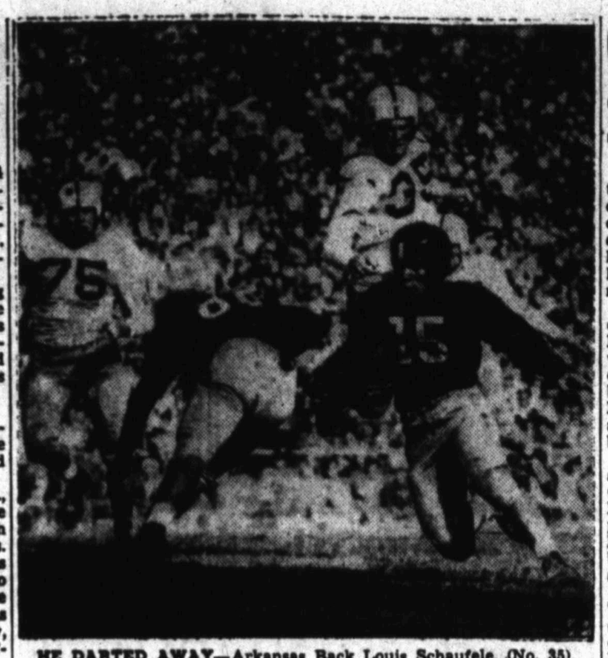

Ring safety and elimination of boxing fatalities will be one of the major efforts of the NBA for the coming year, Greene said.

Among the items Greene hopes will become universally adopted are:

A unified method of pre-fight examination; rigid requirements from a physical standpoint for fighters of all classes.

Adoption by all states of the eight-ounce glove.

Use of a more padded mat which would make falling easier for fighters.

Brooklyn Dodgers Slash Big Farm System Because "Material Is Spread Too Thin"

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—It was a trifle startling to hear that the Brooklyn Dodgers, baseball's biggest farm operators, had lopped five clubs off their minor league total. . . But Mickey McConnell, who knows about such things, has a ready explanation: "We like to train our prospects on championship teams. Last year the material was soread a little too thin. Some clubs were slipping into the second division." . . . Brooklyn's farm system, besides being bigger than any other, is unique in many respects. . . The top teams like Montreal, St. Paul and Fort Worth are money-makers and can absorb the losses further down the list. . . . Each team has more veterans and good minor leaguers who won't go higher than it has big league prospects . . . They serve as steadying influences and as teachers. . . . So when the kids finally are ready, they're ready to play on championship teams at Brooklyn—or to bring inflated prices when they're sold to other clubs.

Jake Wade, the North Carolina tub-thumper, gets a chuckle out of this one . . . Wade was in the press box covering a game between Davidson and North Carolina State. . . . Seated directly in front of the press box was Mrs. Wade. . . Late in the game a "little ole 145-pounder" broke loose and scooted 95 yards for Davidson's winning touchdown . . . Jake let out a whoop and rooted him home, but Mrs. W. didn't become unduly excited. She glanced at her program for the number and asked: "Who made that run?" . . . "Gosh, don't you know?" was the reply. "It was your son."

Villanova Seeks Bid

Villanova, which will send its basketball team and two track men to the Sugar bowl carnival would like to make it a grand slam by qualifying its football team, too. The Wildcats, despite a defeat by Tulsa, feel they have a worthy team with a spectacular offense. . . Incidentally, they've already had three bowl "feelers." . . . The U. S. coast guard academy, which doesn't have political appointments, is scouting around for healthy young men to take its competitive entrance examinations in February. Coaches Will Speak Tonight

Lubbock's one winning coach of the past weekend, two losing coaches and one coach whose team didn't have a game will be featured tonight at 8 in the Lubbock hotel when the Quarterback club holds its regular Monday night meeting.

Looming as the principal speaker on the program is Coach C. R. Pattison of Lubbock High school, whose Westerners remained undefeated in the District 3-AA race by only a hair Friday afternoon. Lubbock had to come from under a 6-0 deficit in the second half to bring out victory.

Also on hand to explain away a 26-6 loss to San Angelo will be Coach Damon Hill of Dunbar. The Panthers turned in a creditable performance in holding the heavily favored visitors to that score, but Coach Hill will be asked to tell about the game.

Coach Allie White of Texas Tech's freshman team also will be on a spot. He'll have the task of explaining that 21-13 victory the Hardin-Simmons Buttons turned in Friday at Abilene. It was the second defeat of the season for the Picadors, who also have won just two. They have one to go.

Without a game last weekend, Coach Dell Morgan will be off the hotspot. He will be called on to predict the outcome of the New Mexico game this Saturday and possibly to explain the Hardin-Simmons loss to West Texas State at Canyon.

Pictures of some game played this year will round out the program.

Nearly 500,000 To See SMU This Year

DALLAS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Southern Methodist university will play football before a total of 475,000 fans this season—the greatest attendance for one football team in Southwest conference history.

Notre Dame is given an assist but, the Fighting Irish will be well repaid.

Already 346,000 have jammed into the Cotton bowl to see the colorful Mustangs meet six opponents and at least 130,000 more will be there for the final two games on the schedule — Baylor, which will draw about 55,000, and Notre Dame, which will bring a full house of 75,000.

Buying Season Tickets

The reason Jordan credits the Fighting Irish with helping boost attendance to an all-time high is that at least 500,000 fans would see the SMU-Notre Dame game if there was room.

The only way many fans could get tickets for this game was through purchasing season tickets. Thus the Notre Dame game accellerated the ticket sale for other games on the schedule.

"But it will be the biggest crowd of the year for Notre Dame to play before," Jordan said. "No other game on their schedule has drawn or will draw 75,000. They just haven't played in big enough stadia."

Chagrin Is Expected

Jordan expressed some chagrin that he didn't come closer to estimating the season total than he did. He predicted 450,000 before the football campaign opened. He did so because Southern Methodist is playing eight games at home this season, all in the Cotton bowl with its seating capacity of 75,000, and Jordan knew that 35,000 was assured for each game before the campaign even opened. Those were represented in the season tickets and option holders on the Cotton bowl who for $50.00 obtained the privilege of buying tickets to all games in the enlarged bowl. Their options paid for 8,000 seats being added.

He now says SMU could have gone over the million mark if there were just 500,000 seats in the bowl.

Jordan, who watches the pennies at SMU, said he also was happy about the thing because there wasn't much expense this year. "We cut out practically all travel costs, you know," he said, adding cautiously:

"I am sure we'll pay expenses this year—that is, if we get a bowl bid."

Pope Charges Reds Offer False Order

(By The United Press)

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, Nov. 14—Pope Pius charged today that communism and other forms of totalitarianism were based on "false laws" which masquerade disorder, tyranny, slavery and crime as patriotic virtues.

The pope told the sacred Roman Rota, the Catholic church's highest court, that a conflict between true law—the law of God — with false laws had brought the administration of justice to a crisis in some places.

Guilty Not Excuser

"We do not intend, certainly, to excuse the truly guilty," the pope said. "But the major responsibility falls on the prophets, or on the supporters, on the creators, of a culture, of a power of the state, of legislation which does not recognize God and his sovereign rights.

Everywhere these prophets were and still are at work. The true juridical thought must rise and be restored."

A vatican source said the pope's statement supplemented the one last week in which he told Catholic jurists they should not apply unjust law, or take action which would amount to approval of such laws.

But at that time he noted that some Catholic judges would find it difficult to avoid applying such laws. On some occasions, he said, they would find it necessary to apply even unjust laws to avoid personal danger or "even greater harm to the church."

Today the pope said the conflict between true and false law was caused by what he called the "juridical positivism" of totalitarian states, as opposed to legal systems based on divine law.

"There had to come the totalitarian state of anti-Christian prompting, the state which for principal or at least for fact broke every restraint in the face of a Supreme divine law, to unveil to the world the true face of juridical positivism," the pope said.

Order Is Upset

"This 'legal law,' in the sense shown, has upset the order established by the Creator. It has called disorder order, tyranny authority, slavery liberty, and a crime the virtue of patriotism."

In referring to totalitarian states and their use of the law, the pope pointed out that men who had acted under similar systems of laws finally were called to justice.

He was believed to refer to the Nuernberg trials of war criminals, and to mean his words as an indirect warning to officials of totalitarian states.

plan to provide a minimum monthly benefit of $100 including social security and a five-cent social insurance program. The insurance will be paid jointly by company and worker.

The CIO-USW is expected to start negotiations with the Aluminum company of America Wednesday in an attempt to end the strike of some 20,000 workers in Alcoa plants in nine states.

Union In Dispute

There were developments in the dispute between left and right wing union members in the electrical industry. At Lynn, Mass., 16,000 members of local 201 voted to quit the left wing United Electrical Workers (UE) and join the new CIO International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers. The local is made up of General Electric company employes in Lynn.

The left wing group of a big Pittsburg local, the 13,000 members of UE 601 at the Westinghouse Electric Corp., ordered an election of officers. Some 9,000 members of the local quit UE to join the new CIO group.

At Bristol, Conn., Roman Catholic priests at five churches urged parishioners who are members of local 260, UE, to vote to secede from the union. The priests want the 1,200 members of the local to join the new CIO union, which was organized after UE's ouster from the CIO at the union's recent national convention.

Buffalo, N. Y., local 1581, with 4,000 members, voted to secede. In New Jersey, UE officials said two Westinghouse locals, with a total of 3,500 members, voted to remain with the UE. Local 306, with 900 members at Tonawanda, N. Y., also voted to remain with the UE.

Vishinsky brought his charges into the committee along with a new Soviet demand that atomic weapons be prohibited and that a new pact to preserve peace be signed by the U. S., Britain, Russia, China and France.

The political committee finally cleared Italy's prewar colonies in Africa off its docket late Saturday and the question goes to the general assembly for final approval in plenary sessions later this week at Flushing Meadow. Only Ethiopia voted against a program that calls for an independent Libia by Jan. 1, 1952; U. N. trusteeship for Italiin Somaliland for 10 years, with Italy as administering authority; and further study on disposal of Eritrea.

MAJOR STOCKS LOSE

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — Stocks closed somewhat above their lowest prices of the market session today after surviving a midday downturn.

Despite a pickup in trading activity on the decline, total transfers ran only to around 1,200,000 shares.

On a late flurry of sales, Universal laboratories finished down more than 3 points at 4⅝.

Losses of fractions to a point were widespread, and many issues that started the session with slight gains shifted to the downside later.

Gold mining shares again declined as there were further official assurances that no change in the gold price was planned. Stocks of automobile producers, yet to feel the full impact of steel shortages, were under mild pressure. Steel issues, at the start of a week which promised a sharp post-strike boost in production, gave up fractions.

Principal losers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Dome, Homestake Mining, Allied Chemical, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Internatonal Paper, J. I. Case, Dupont and General Electric. The low-priced Benguet Consolidated mining stock dropped ⅛ on transfer of a 10,000-share block.

Washington advices said that the ECA cotton export program is still indefinite, but will probably be lower than last year.

Oats No. 2 white 91¼-92¼.

Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo, per 100 lbs. 2.07-12.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 (AP) — Feed grains again had a firm undertone while wheat retreated on the board of trade today. The market thus followed the pattern of late last week with dealings continuing at a slow pace.

Little incentive existed for buying wheat and the bread grain was allowed to drift lower on small scale liquidation.

Slightly more than 600,000 bushels of corn were shipped from here by lake today, all destined for Canadian ports. This, plus a fairly light run of cash grain, gave the yellow cereal support.

Wheat closed ½-⅝ lower, December $2.10⅝-$2.11, corn was unchanged to ¼ higher, December $1.20½-¾, oats were unchanged to ½ higher, December 74¾, rye was unchanged to ½ higher, soybeans were ¼ lower to ½ higher, November $2.20¾-$2.21, and lard was 10 to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, November $9.45.

Jaycees Choose Man-Of-Month Award Speech Contest Winners

Norman Igo, architect for Atchison and Atkinson Architects, today was named Jaycee of the Month for September at a luncheon meeting of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Hilton hotel.

His boss, Atmar Atkinson, was introduced by W. Thelbert Miller, Jaycee of the Month for August, and read the citation commemorating Igo for leading the most successful Jaycee membership drive in the history of the organization.

Igo, who lives with his wife at 1625 Broadway, was born at Gunter and reared at Ralls. He was graduated from Tech in 1943 and received his degree in architecture from the University of Texas in 1947.

During the war, he served as a captain in the Corps of Army Engineers.

Congressman Speaks

The meeting was also highlighted by an appearance of Congressman George Mahon, who presented awards to four winners of the Jaycee sponsored Voice of Democracy contest.

First place winner, Betty Joyce Brown, 17-year-old senior student at Lubbock High school, read her prize winning speech to the Jaycees before Congressman Mahon awarded her a $25 gift certificate.

Another $25 gift certificate was given Rosemary Sprague, 15-year-old junior student, who took second place.

A watch was presented to T. W. Moss, 18, a senior, and Norma Smith, 16, a junior, received a lamp for fourth place.

The congressman said "contests like these help eliminate the threat to democracy from within our country's own boundaries.

"We should never lose sight of the good things our country offers," he added.

Homer Wright, chairman of the Jaycee Americanism committee, introduced the lawmaker.

Mahon will speak tonight at 8:45 o'clock over KFYO on the Jaycee program.

R. S. Wilkinson presided.

velt at the Yalta conference, passed secret State department pappers to him.

A fourth trial, of national interest, that of Rep. J. Parnell Thomas, R., N. J., on charges of defrauding the government by payroll padding, was scheduled to start in Washington today, but will be postponed because Thomas' attorney is involved in another case. Thomas' sickness previously had delayed this trial which involves government charges Thomas forced some of his congressional office employes to kick back portions of their salary to him.

Also in Washington, the treason trial of Herbert J. Burgman, a former American embassy clerk who became a Nazi radio propagandist, was ready to go to a federal jury. The government charged that Burgman, 53, broadcast during World War II in Germany under the alias "Joe Scanlon" over Station Debunk," to undermine civilian morale, create dissension among the Allies and discourage American troops.

ANGELETON, Nov. 14. (AP)—A 29-year-old Dallas county convict died early today from stab wounds received in a fight at the Ramsay state prison farm near here.

Prison General Manager O. B. Ellis identified the man as David Long, jr., serving a four year sentence from Dallas county for felony theft.

Senators Oppose U. S. Funds For Sweden As Dispute Rages

(By The Associated Press)

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 14.—The senators and the Swedes were still swapping harsh words today.

Their dispute revolved around the reception in Sweden recently of a Europe-touring U.S. Senate appropriations subcommittee. It also took in Sweden's need—or lack of it—for American financial aid, and the part Sweden played in World War two.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) was the latest touring senator heard from. He said today Sweden needed no American help, "profited greatly during the past war and has one of the highest living standards in the world."

Qualifications Questioned

"In the case of another international crisis," McClellan added, "she'd go with whoever looked like the winner."

Sweden's press yesterday directed such words as "liar" and "twaddling nonsense" at the Senate subcommittee chairman, Sen. Elmer Thomas (D-Okla). He started the whole fuss when he told reporters in Vienna Saturday that government officials in one country "acted as if they did not know we were within a thousand miles of the place."

Other committee members said Thomas was talking about Sweden. The Oklahoma senator confirmed this today.

Sweden's biggest newspaper, the liberal Dagens Nyheter, termed Thomas' remarks "twaddling nonsense" and expressed doubts about the senator's "mental acumen and his qualifications to represent abroad the mightiest country in the world."

Accused of "Grab"

Thomas had said of the country of which he complained that "anyone with a military uniform on . . . is a spy." Referring to Marshall plan aid, he added: "They saw some easy money and they grabbed it—now they want more."

To this, another liberal paper, the Stockholm Tidningen, said: "You are a boor and a liar, Mr. Senator." The paper headed its article, "Grave Insult To Our Country."

Up to mid-October Sweden had received $79,000,000 in Marshall plan aid.

Thomas amplified his earlier remarks today, saying to newsmen there had been no official recognition of his committee by the Swedish government or private individuals or groups.

Snub Claimed Damaging

"For a nation which receives aid and relief not to recognize a committee of Congress which is responsible for aid and relief is embarrassing to the committee," Thomas said.

But yesterday, on his arrival at Athens, Thomas had, said the committee's reception in Sweden was "cordial."

In Vienna Thomas said the snub had damaged the country's prospects for further Marshall plan aid from Congress.

Another liberal Swedish paper, Expressen, yesterday told the Swedes not to worry too much about the senator's remarks.

The U. S. Senate, said the paper, "is certainly a high assembly, but it is also a dumping place for all sorts of quaint characters and the most ignorant country politicians from the darkest corners of the union. And it must be pretty dark in Oklahoma."

Both the senators praised the Norwegians, saying they were making the greatest of efforts for recovery. McClellan said Norway had made great sacrifices during the war but "I don't believe they want a dollar more than they will need for recovery."

over her face when she awakened.

The child's father said he heard a noise in the storeroom as he was closing his restaurant. He got a gun from his car, not noticing his daughter's absence, and went up stairs to investigate. He said he found Driscoll and his daughter and halted the student's attempt to flee.

"I don't know what kept me from shooting him," the father said last night. "If he walked in here now, I'd tear him to bits."

The child was taken to the LaGrange county hospital in nearby LaGrange, in northeast Indiana, where her parents live. She was treated and released but later was returned to the hospital when she developed fever.

Police said they took a bottle of chloroform from Driscoll but they did not learn where he had obtained it. No charges were placed against him immediately.

Police in Fort Wayne said Driscoll was questioned and released there a year ago in the molesting of a girl in a school building. Angola police said they had no previous record on him.

President Theodore Wood of Tri-State college—an engineering school of about 1,700 students — said Driscoll had not been suspended. He added he would not be suspended until college authorities received a full report on the case.

SEVERE STOMACH PAINS HALTED

New Drug To Control Nerves Healing Bad Peptic Ulcers

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14.—A new, synthetic, nerve-control drug, banthine, is healing bad peptic ulcers. The results were exhibited for the first time to the Southern Medical association, which today began a four-day annual meeting.

This way of controlling stomach action is something new in the long search for ulcer remedies. The drug substitutes for the action of a surgeon's knife on the stomach's control nerves.

In 20 cases all apparently healed. Some ulcers were perforating, that is eating holes, but x-rays show that these too healed.

Pain Stopped

Eighteen patients were suffering severe ulcer pains. In all cases pain stopped a few minutes afterthe drug was given. It is taken by mouth every few hours.

The exhibit is from Duke university and the work was supported by a grant from the U. S. public health service. The work was shown by Doctors Keith S. Grimson, professor of surgery, and Frank H. Longino and C. Keith Lyons, U. S. public health service fellows.

Banthine is one of a score of new drugs tried at Duke for effects in blocking the nerves that control high blood pressure and stomach action. But it is not a blood pressure remedy. It is made by G. D. Searle & Co., Chicago.

The cause of ulcers is not known. Doctors agree that contributing conditions are excess stomach acid, rapid stomach movements and probably overactive nerves.

Power Shown

Banthine slows down stomach movement. It does this by a block of the same nerves which are served in stomach ulcer surgery. After the drug, food empties itself more slowly.

In most Duke cases acid also dropped. But in a few, the acid rose after banthine. Yet these ulcers got well too.

The Duke researchers point to results of 135 surgical operations as a sign that the ring is on the right track. In none of these nerve-cutting cases have the lucers recurred.

Whether ulcers will recur with the drug is unknown because it has been used only about five months. But to date it has shown no bad effects.

The drug's power was shown dramatically in dogs' stomachs. When the animals5 vague nerves were stimulated, their stomach linings turned an angry red. But the linings didn't turn red after a dose of banthine. Experiments indicate that the reddened stomach condition is a forerunner of ulcers.

Six other persons at Duke have been given the new drug for other gastro-intertinal troubles than ulcers, with reported "marked benefits."

New Missile That Seeks Plane Target Is Being Perfected

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 14 (AP)—Ryan Aeronautical Co., is perfecting a rocket-powered target-seeking missile for the air force.

The experimental weapon is called the "firebird." It is a little over six inches in diameter, about ten feet long, and can be hung on external bomb racks for launching against another plane. It is intendedfor use against an enemy plane hidden by darkness or clouds.

First Of Kind

The firebird, also known as the Xaam-A-1, is the first missle of its kind for the air force. A jet fighter can carry several.

Electronic equipment guides the firebird to at least a near collision with the target. Then a proximity fuse detonates an explosive charge. A booster rocket pushes the missile to cruising speed after it is launched. Rocket motors then take it on its way.

Ryan said the missile is not in production, but that it has been tested in flight without the exploding charge at Holloman air base, Alamogordo, N. M.

Czechs Fooling Reds By Using Old Tricks

PRAGUE, Nov. 14 (AP)—Tricks they used to foil the Nazis are now being resurrected by some Czechs to beat the Communists. During the height of the arrest roundups staged by the Communist-Controlled police this month, it was surprising to learn how packed the hospitals and clinics were. They couldn't ship a sick man off to the labor camps or uranium mines, could they?

Those hiding out in this way were mostly business men and other propertied elements, the main targets f the roundups. And, as in the days when they feare d the Nazi Gestapo, many men wore winter underwear out of season. Some went to bed fully clothed. One man explained:"

"If they grab you during the night the police don't give you time to put on or pack heavy clothing. And it takes a long time before you get a package from home in the work camps." Such packages were made up by numerous Prague people to send to arrested relatives. If a request came for "high boots and a water-proof coat" it usually was the tip-off that the arrested person was in the Soviet-operated uranium mines near Jachymov.

He Has Two Sons By A Previous Marriage

Prince Aly Khan Hopes Rita's Expected Baby Is A Daughter

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Nov. 14. (AP)—Prince Aly Khan said today that he hopes the baby which his wife, movie actress Rita Hayworth, is awaiting will be a girl.

"Naturally, when anyone has a beautiful wife an dis very much in love with her, he would like a girl to be just as beautiful and lovely as she is," the prince said in an interview.

"That's a very natural reaction."

Rita and Aly are living quietly here in the fashionable Palace hotel while waiting for the baby. The date of the birth is the subject of much speculation and gossip but nothing definite is known. The prince made no comment on this subject. Most of the unofficial talk centers on late November of early December.

Will Visit U. S.

In discussing his preferences about a boy or girl, the prince also said, "of course, I'll be very, very happy with either a boy or a girl."

He has pointed out however that his family runs to boys.

His father, the Aga Khan, has two sons—Aly and Aly's half-brother Prince Sadruddin.

Aly himself has two sons by a previous marriage. The two boys, Prince Karim Aga, 12, and Prince Amyon Mohammed, 11, are now in school at Rolle, Switzerland, about 15 miles from Lausanne. They were in yesterday to visit their father.

Aly said that the couple has no present plans for visiting the United States but that both of them are very anxious to make the trip.

"Right now, we can't make any plans," he said. "We're just waiting for the baby."

Served With British

The prince has taken a chalet at Gstaad, in the winter sports region of Switzerland. He said they expect to go there after the baby arrives. His two boys will also be at Gstaad since the school which they attend moves there for the winter season.

"Naturally, we want very much to go to the United States. My wife has many, many friends there, of course, and I have many happy memories of my two visits to the states. I also have many good American friends from my year of army service with the American army."

Aly was a liaison officer with the British army and was assigned to the American Sixth army group under the command of Gen. Jacob Devers.

As for any plans that Rita might have to re-enter the movies, Aly said that she always has had it at the back of her mind. He added, "obviously, there can be no plans now."

He said that he felt certain that if a "suitable vehicle shows up she'd be very happy to go back. She's always said that."

TAX FREE ELECTION

Abilene Girl Named As Queen Of H-SU

ABILENE, Uov. 14. (Special)—Jessie Myers, 1948 champion of Stamford cowboy reunion and rider of one of the six white horses of Hardin-Simmons university since 1946, was elected the queen of the university campus. Miss Myers was chosen from among 13 nominees. She defeated Fay Huff, Brady, in the finals which were held Friday. Results were announced Saturday.

Miss Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Myers, formerly of Hamlin and now of Abilene, has ridden as favorite for Hamlin and Stamford in scores of rodeos in West Texas. She has been at the Fort Worth stock show, the Stamford cowboy reunion, the TCU rodeo, and also at Brackenridge, Snyder, Post, Archer City, Colorado City, Big Spring, Coleman, Midland, Hamilton, Baird, and Kerrville. As one of the riders of the H-SU six white horses, she has paraded at the Lions International convention in New oYrk and San Francisco.

Miss Myers is vice-president of the senior class, vice-president of the Hardin-Simmons rodeo association, and a member of the Cowgirls, the service organization of Hardin-Simmons.

Nominees for the queen's race were: Virginia Bush, Childress; Ann Givens, Texarkana; Ruth Hamilton, Abilene; Fay Huff, Brady; Earlene Singleton, Beaumont; Sue Ann Duncan, Gilliland; Wanda Baker, Wilson; Libby Sumrall, Palestine; Virginia Dunagan, Midland; Kitty Ritter, Anson; Virginia Randel, Wichita Falls; Ganelle Newman, Brownfield, and Miss Myers, Hamlin.

Miss Myers will be crowned December 1. A banquet will be given following the coronation in Behrens chapel.

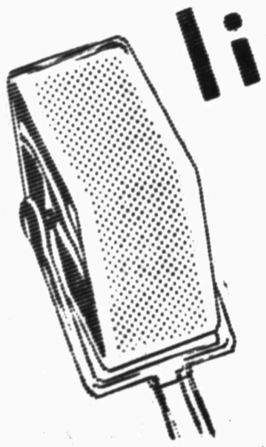

Lebanon Shipment Of Onions Brings Tears

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Nov. 14 (AP)—A minor tempest was stirred up when the Trans-Arabian Pipeline Co. here received 15 tons of potatoes and onions in a shipment of supplies from the states. Local newspapers and officials complained because Lebanon—western terminus of the oil line the American firm is building from Saudi Arabia—currently has a serious surplus of thousands of tons of both items.

Red-faced company officials explained it was a mistake in their New York office. They said a well-meaning employee there made up the list on the basis of usual needs at the eastern Saudi Arabian end—where there are no local potatoes or onions. The situation was resolved to the satisfaction of all when the company donated the shipped-in foo stuffs to Arab refugees of the Palestine war.

Turkey Prices Show Decline

Pop can sit down and enjoy his Thanksgiving feast this year with the knowledge that it's costing him considerably less than in recent years.

A United Press survey showed today that the cost of a Thanksgiving dinner for four, including a 10-pound turkey, will be almost $1.50 cheaper than last year. Prices in 20 large cities were checked against last year's prices in the survey.

Cost $9.57 Last Year

Such a meal last year cost dad $9.57, the survey showed. This year he can be grateful on Thanksgiving day for only having to shell out $8.16 to provide the traditional meal for the wife and kids.

In the survey, prices were checked for this year against 1948 on ingredients for a menu consisting of a 10-pound turkey, two pounds of sweet potatoes, a can of cranberries, two bunches of celery, a can of asparagus, a loaf of white bread, a pound of assorted nuts, a pound of table grapes and a can of pumpkin for pie. The prices compared as follows:

	1949	1948
Turkey, grade a hen, lb.	63.3	75.1
Sweet potatoes, lb.	9.7	10.8
Cranberries, can	16.4	19.4
Celery, bunch	16.6	19.7
Asparagus, can	37.9	38.1
Sliced white bread, loaf	14.3	14.7
Assorted nuts, lb.	35.7	45.8
Table grapes, lb.	12.6	13.7
Pumpkin, can	13.2	12.8

Lower Prices Likely

Merchants in some cities said they expected prices to drop even lower by Thanksgiving as competitors vied for business with special sales.

The big drop in the price of turkey was due to a 29 per cent crop increase.

The reverse was true of pumpkins. Farmers became disgusted at the low price they received last year. So this year they cut production and prices rose.

Cranberries were cheaper as result of a bigger crop in the nation's bogs.

Dairy Session Is Slated Here

The latest in flavor will be the chief topic of discussion Wednesday through Friday as approximately 200 representatives from throughout the Southwest convene on the Texas Tech campus for a dairy manufactures short course.

New developments in flavoring ice cream and other dairy products as well as the most efficient manufacture of finished creations will dominate addresses and round-table talks during the three-day meet, according to Dr. J. J. Willingham, head of the Tech dairy manufacturing department. manufacturing department.

Leading Figures To Speak

Leading figures from outstanding commercial companies in the United States will be among the speakers for the event. These will include such men as W. A. Wentworth, New York City, of the Borden company; Harry Wilson, Chicago, of Kraft Foods, N. C. Angevine, St. Louis, of the Meyer-Blanke company; Roy Conkey, Dallas, of the Diamond Alkali company; Dr. C. A. Abele, Chicago, the Diversey corporation; and George Illes, Dallas, of the A. E. Illes company.

Registration for the short course will be conducted at 8 a.m. Wednesday in the agriculture building, followed by a welcoming address from Dr. W. L. Stangel, head of the Tech Agriculture division. Stories of vanilla and cottage and cheddar cheese combined with an overall view of the dairy situation in America will consume most of the day Wednesday.

The Bell Ice Cream and Milk company of Lubbock will be hosts that night at a dinner in the Hilton hotel. On Thursday the technicalities involved in caring for milk and in the scientific preparation of it for market will be entered into by the group. Problems of butter manufacture and latest methods of cleanliness and equipment sterilizing will be discussed also, Dr. Willingham declared.

Emphasis Friday, however, will move more into the best means of getting the most from flavors in ice cream and other dairy products, with Dr. Willingham giving results of research conducted, on the Tech campus.

BLIMP AND BOMBER ALMOST COLLIDE

Barkley Has Close Call On Plane Trip

RECOGNIZE HER? — This highly glamorized young woman is none other than Margaret Truman, daughter of the president. She's shown in her dressing room in Detroit waiting to go on stage for her song recital in the auto capital. (AP Wirephoto.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—Vice President Barkley's close call in what a bomber's crew said was a near collision with a commercial blimp near Washington appeared certain today to speed up studies on separating traffic around airports.

The popular "veep," who is to be married next Friday, was unaware of the incident at the time. Crew members said the air force B-17 in which he was a passenger roared within 50 feet of the blimp with no forewarning it was there. Barkley told newsmen at Hartford, Conn., last night he "didn't know a thing" about it.

It happened last Thursday night but did not become known—except by those immediately concerned—until last night.

Third Incident

This was the third incident of its general nature reported in the area of the Washington national airport since Nov. 1. That was the day on which a Bolivian fighter plane collided with a big commercial airliner, killing 55 persons.

The B-17 carrying Barkley to Washington was a special air mission plane based at Bolling air base across the Potomac river from national airport. It had picked up Barkley at Paducah, Ky., late in the afternoon.

Capt. William R. Humrichouse, 33, hero of 113 combat missions in the southwest Pacific, reported that despite a special watch by his crew the four-engine bomber was within 50 feet of the blimb before seeing it.

Humrichouse did not see the twin-engined gas bag but three members of the crew said they saw it so close that their engine exhaust flames reflected from the shiny fabric.

Problem Being Studied

The B-17 landed without further incident at national airport a couple of minutes later.

Electric Wire Keeps Pipes From Freezing

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Electricity has stepped to the fore as a protector against frozen water pipes.

A special type heating cable has been developed which either can be wrapped around the pipe or buried along side it. Connected to a house lighting outlet, it holds the temperature in the vicinity of the pipe high enough to prevent freezing. Current consumption is low.

Prince Charlie Of England Celebrating First Birthday

LONDON, Nov. 14. (AP)—It's the back pages for London's party-going debutantes today—a one-year-old with six teeth is giving high society's most exclusive birthday party.

He's bonnie Prince Charlie, son of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburg, first grandson of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, and himself a prospective king of England.

Young Charles will receive in his blue and white nursery at his parents' home, Clarence house, here today. His guests will include members of London's titled nursery set. The party will be small, and as quiet as watchful mothers and nurses can keep it.

Won't Taste Cake

The birthday cake will weigh 40 pounds. The prince himself weighs 24 pounds, eight ounces.

There'll be one candle atop the cake, which Charles may be permitted to blow out.

He won't get a taste of the massive cake, however. Since Papa Philip is a sailor and cakes for a sailor's house traditionarry have a liberal dose of rum, this one is rum-flavored, too. Half a pint of flavor the 40 pounds. But even that little noggin is not for year-old princes. (Remember what those Scottish churchmen said about Aunt Margaret's late hours?)

So parents of the party guests and other grownups will eat the birthday cake. Some may be sent to Charlie's grandparents, at Buckingham palace.

After the party, Charlie goes back to the quiet, little-baby routine his mother keeps him on—regular outings in any sort of

THE QUESTION

What advice would you give to high school students who plan to go to work rather than college after graduation?

THE ANSWERS

JIMMY OWENS, 2601 Thirty-Sixth, employe of McWhorter's: "I believe that they should go on to college. If you get an education then you can make money later. The education will be much more valuable."

THERLENE MANGRAM, 1510 Arnett, student at Draughon's: "I think that after they finish high school and can go to college that they should. This way they will have a chance to get a better job. A job would be easier to find if they had a college education."

HUGO SIEBEICHEN, New York City, stationed at RAFB: "I think that they should go to college. Start with an education and then do what you want to."

MILTON MOSKOWITZ, Hotel Lubbock, salesman: "I think they should definitely go to college. I feel in these days of education, higher education is pretty near essential. If they're seeking their own success it is almost necessary."

SHIRLEY NOBLES, 2421 Twenty - second, student at Draughon's: "I think that if it is at all possible, they should go to college. It will helps them to get a better job when they do get out."

MRS. C. L. FISCHER, 3013 Merthel, housewife: "I think that they should go to college. When they do get out of college they can make more money in addition to getting a good education. If their finances are so that they need to work, however, I think they would be justified in doing so."

Negro-White Riots Quelled In Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 14. (AP)—More than 100 policemen continued today to patrol a south side neighborhood where disorders last week resulted in the arrest of 58 persons.

Police said the tension in the district was stirred by false rumors that negro families are to be moved into the area.

There were no outbreaks yesterday or last night but police maintained a detail of 180 officers. The sporadic street demonstrations in the neighborhood of the 5600 block of South Peoria street broke out last Tuesday night. Several hundred people milled in the neighborhood last Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights but police said there were no large crowds in the area last night.

Thirty-two persons were arrested Saturday night and early Sunday morning. Many seized were juveniles. Most of the persons arrested were charged with disorderly conduct. Five of those arrested were negroes.

Five persons, including two negroes, have suffered minor injuries in fighting in the neighborhood.

Police Grab Gunman Near Parked Couple

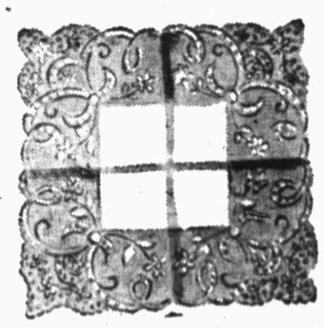

DETROIT, Nov. 14. (AP) — The cops were right when they told a couple of young lovers it's dangerous to park in lonely spots.

But Patrolmen John Major and Roland Knight were as surprised as the boy and girl to find out just how right.

The suburban Ferndale policemen noticed the car in a wooded area early Sunday.

"Don't you know this is dangerous?" they asked its occupants. "There might be men lurking around here with guns."

Then Major flashed his light around in a grand gesture, and the beam showed a man crouched near the car. Sure enough, he was carrying a revolver. The prowler was held for investigation.

FORMER MARINE TO BE CHARGED

Probe Continues In Slaying Of Ohio University Student

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14. (AP)—Two major developments were expected today in Saturday's fraternity row slaying which has shocked the Ohio State university campus like nothing since the Snook-Hix case of nearly 20 years ago.

The principal development due today was the filing of a first-degree murder charge against James D. Heer, a 20-year-old freshman from Euclid, O., in the fatal shooting early Saturday of his fraternity brother, Jack T. McKeown, 21, Norwood, O., senior.

The other was the promised official report of Mylin H. Ross, assistant dean of men at the university, on an investigation of circumstances surrounding the shooting.

Has Puzzling Aspects

Not since the 1930 sex slaying of Theora Hix, a coed, by Dr. Howard Snook, an Ohio State university veterinary professor, has the campus community been jolted by a homicide. Dr. Snook died in Ohio's electric chair.

Saturday's slaying, an aftermath of a homecoming celebration preceding the Ohio State-Illinois football game, on the surface had none of the sordid aspects of the slaying nearly two decades earlier.

But it had its puzzling aspects.

Police were particularly interested in the answer to this question:

Who did Heer, after leaving his "date" at the home of his aunt and uncle, rush to the Delta Tau Delta fraternity house, grab a .45 caliber automatic belonging to a fraternity brother, and leave the house immediately?

To kill McKeown? Police think not.

McKeown, prominent campus figure and managing editor of the Lantern, Ohio State's daily newspaper, lost his life because he attempted to take the gun from the former marine, police believe.

Detective Sgt. Lowell Sheets said Miss Joyce Crafton, 22, of Cleveland, Heer's "date" for the fraternity's homecoming dance at a private Columbus club, was held on $300 bond as a material witness "because she witnessed the probable cause" of Heer's apparent sudden desire to arm himself.

Have police determined that "probable cause?" Says Sgt. Sheets:

"I think we have. The whole case hinges on what happened in the five or 10 minutes Heer spent with the girl in her room after taking her home from the dance."

Sheets would not say what took place between the handsome veteranary student and Miss Crafton in that brief interval. He said:

Slayer Not Remorseful

"What happened in the room is evidence that will be made public only in court."

Detective Sgt. Marvin Canada, who talked with Heer Sunday, said he showed few outward signs of remorse. Canada said:

"He's worried, but mostly about what's going to happen to him.

A requiem high mass for McKeown will be sung at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday in St. Peter and Paul's church, Norwood, O. Burial will be in St. Joseph's new cemetery there.

Crownless Princes Still Draw Money

NEW DELHI, Nov. 14 (AP)—The crownless princelings of India numbering about 600 together draw from the Indian exchequer an annual privy purse of $9,600,000.

States Minister Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel appealed to the constituent assembly recently to honor the pledges given to the princes for the "bloodless revolution" achieved by the integration of their states within two years of freedom. Patel said that before the integration the princes had been drawing from their respective states' treasuries an aggregate amount of $40,200,000.

The privy purses had been guaranteed only during the lifetime of the princes, Patel said, adding that for subsequent generations it would be considerably less.

Red-Haired Texas Girl Has Been Nominated Almost Everything Her Shoulders Can Carry

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Democratic America has a passion for conferring titles on pretty girls.

One who has practically been nominated "Miss Everything" is Margaret Phelan, an ex-choir singer and star songbird of the Nation's supper club circuit.

So far Miss Phelan, a Texas Irish lass with dark red hair and eyes like fireflies, has been chosen:

"The girl with the most perfect shoulders in the world"—by the Artists League of America.

"Miss Gung Ho"—by the Marine Corps' first division.

"One of the ten best tailored women in America"—by the Custom Tailors guild.

Miss Wolf Expert

Runnerup in the "ten best dressed women in America"—by the Fashion academy.

"Miss sharp loo of 1949"—by the Associated Cutlery industries.

"One of the ten best non-professional dancers in America"—by the Dance Educators of Ameri a.

"Miss ambassador of national flower week"—by the American Society of Florists.

"The girl we'd most like to regiment"—by an army regiment.

These honors rest lightly on Miss Phelan's beautiful shoulders, which unfortunately were covere by a throat-high green dress the afternoon I talked to her at the Waldorf.

The title she herself feels she has most earned is "Miss Wolf expert." Her throaty soprano and intimate songs make many a lonely night club patron want to howl.

Husband Killed

She thinks it an odd coincidence that the name Phelan itself originall, meant "wolf."

Margaret is the daughter of Art Phelan, a former big league ball player. She studied to be an opera singer. In 1941 she married a young naval flyer. Three monti later he was killed on a battle mission in the Pacific.

The young widow came to Manhattan to try to resume the career she had given up at her marriage.

Margaret didn't get a chance at opera, but an agent did get her a week's booking at a Buffalo night club.

In the years since then Maggie has worked herself into the $1,000-a-week-and-up bracket.

State Seeks Medical Help From Europe

ST. PAUL, Nov. 14 (U.P.)—Minnesota will launch a campaign to resettle European nurses, doctors and other professional workers within its borders.

Edwin R. Armstrong, New York, executive director of the emergency council for displaced European professionals, said Minnesota Gov. Luther Youngdahl thinks the plan may help the state's new mental health program.

Loal committees throughout the state will be appointed by the Minnesota commission for resettlement of displaced persons to bring such professionals to Minnesota.

Child Doesn't Feel Good After Plunge

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 14 (U.P.) — Attendants at Children's Hospital wondered how resilient a human being can be, after four-year-old Carol Ann Bennett turned up with only a broken arm and black eye following a 40-foot, three-story fall.

Members of the fire department rescue squad said a clother wire, instead of injuring the child further, checked her downward momentum. She fell from the back of her parents' apartment.

Carol's only comment: "I don't feel so good."

Spry Great-Grandmother Is Successful In Two Careers

By JACK HARR

CHICAGO, Nov. 14—Mrs. Anna Wadsworth is a 23-year veteran on a job she began several years after most people are ready to retire for good.

Starting in 1926 at the age of 67, the spry great-grandmother has just turned 90, and still does not think it's time to give up her office job.

Takes Over Job

She took the job when a doctor suggested she should find some new activity after the rigors of raising a family were over. Mrs. Wadsworth had finished rearing three children and one grandchild and was finding time heavy on her hands.

Mrs. Wadsworth started with odd jobs at the offices of the American Insurance Digest and Monitor which her son, George, publishes. Then, when a regular woman employe left, she said to her son: "There's no reason why I can't come down early and stay until closing time like the rest of the girls."

Never Misses Day

Since then, she's held down a regular job, never missing a single day due to illness. Mrs. Wadsworth opens up the office and keeps going until four o'clock typing, filing, and answering the phone. After leaving work she walks to her apartment several blocks away from the Michigan Boulevard offices.

After cooking her own dinner, Mrs. Wadsworth still isn't ready to relax. She likes to spend a busy evening entertaining friends, reading, or working cross-word puzzles.

Mrs. Wadsworth thinks her doctor's prescription was excellent. "In effect," she says, "I would recommend a life's work after a life's work!"

GRANDMA WADSWORTH and son: She stayed like the other girls.

Salads should be tossed lightly or the ingredients will be broken up and the greens bruised.

ELECTRICAL WORKERS SQUARE OFF

NLRB Interference In Union Factional War To Be Asked

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14. (AP)—The National Labor Relations board apparently will be asked to step into the raging warfare between left and right wing unionists in the electrical industry.

That became apparent today. The left wing group of one big Pittsburgh local (No. 601) of the united electrical workers has ordered an election of officers.

More important, the left wingers have stipulated winners sign non-communist affidavits, something they've refused to do for years.

Signing of the affidavits is required under the Taft-Hartley law if a union wishes to avail itself of NLRB machinery.

The NLRB, among other things, conducts elections to determine which union holds collective bargaining rights in plants.

Court Battles Started

And persons close to the situation expect the right wing of the UE to call for NLRB elections.

Industry is watching the situation closely. In many cases it holds contracts with the UE—but the right wing of the union is trying to obtain recognition.

Right wingers, led by James B. Carey, general CIO secretary-treasurer, contend their new right wing union should be recognized.

Court battles already have been instituted in many cities to try and resolve the dispute.

Even churchmen are concerned. Roman Catholic priests at five Bristol, Conn., churches yesterday urged their parishoners who are members of local 260, united electrical workers, to vote for secession from the UE. The priests want the 1200 members of the local to join the new right wing CIO electrical workers' organization.

The new union was organized following ouster of the UE from the CIO at the CIO's recent Cleveland convention. Philip Murray, president of the CIO, led the fight for the ouster and got overwhelming support.

Murray's action was attacked last night as the left wing of local 681 called for an election. Right wingers said some 9,000 members of the local voted last week to secede but the figure is disputed by Thomas J. Fitzpatrick, chief steward of the local. Commenting on the action to sign the non-communist affidavits, he declared:

"We are not Reds and signing these affidavits won't clear us of that stigma in the public mind but it will help us legally to organize the workers in that new Westinghouse plant at Irwin."

(Fitzpatrick was referring to a Westinghouse plan which calls for additional facilities and employes at a plant in nearby Irwin).

Weeks Of Disputing

James J. Matles, UE director of organization, told the left wingers the UE was ousted from the CIO only after it threatened to cut off its per capita taxes to the parent body.

"Even without the CIO or any affiliation with it, we'll still be stronger than ever," Matles shouted.

The UE claimed between 400,000 and 450,000 members. The latest unofficial tabulation shows approximately 125,000 have voted to secede to the new right wing CIO union.

It probably will be weeks before the dispute is settled.

These are some of the latest developments:

At Lynn, Mass., the 16,000 member UE local 201 voted overwhelmingly to secede.

Carey was on hand to give the right wingers a harter of the new union. Albert J. Fitzgerald of Lynn, general president of the expellel UE, said before the meeting that such a session was illegal. Right wingers didn't reply, and met anyhow.

In New Jersey, UE officials said two Westinghouse locals voted to remain with the UE. They were local 426 with 2500 members at Newark and local 443 with 1000 at Trenton.

Local 306, with 900 members at Tonawanda, N. Y., also voted to stick with the UE.

But at Buffalo, N. Y., local 1581 voted to secede. It has 4000 members.

In Scranton, Pa., local 125 with 220 members, said it would remain with the now-independent UE.

Success In Movies Is Banked More On Brains Than Beauty

BY BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 14 — This may be news to you, but Jean Crain claims that the important item for movie success is brains, not beauty.

Miss Crain, who has a good share of both, begs to correct the notion that all you need to be a movie star is a handsome kisser and a classy shape.

"I admit beauty will make it easier," she admitted on the "Cheaper By The Dozen" set. "An actress with a pretty face has a better chance of being noticed than one without it.

"But if a beautiful girl doesn't have the personality and talent to go with her looks, she will soon find herself out in the cold.

Beauty Not Lasting

"People soon tire of looking at just a pretty face. The really attractive women who remain in the public favor for years aren't necessarily beautiful women. They have a certain individuality that makes them charming and attractive.

"The great ladies of the screen are universally considered to be beauties. They really aren't at all. Joan Crawford, for example, is the first to admit that she isn't a beauty. Yet she has been considered one for years — because of her personality.

"A screen career is very limited for a girl who depends on her beauty. After all, beauty doesn't last very long. Few women have classic features. It is the differences that make a woman individual. She would do well to capitalize on those differences."

Ideal Olive Sought By California Prof

DAVIS, Calif., Nov. 14 (AP) — There's no such thing as the ideal olive, laments Prof. H. T. Hartman of the University of California college of agriculture here. But he's working on the idea. Some olives produce good oil, but are too small to pickle. Others make fine pickle but are poor for oil. Some make good pickles and good oil too, but are "alternate producers" that yield a good crop one year and a poor one the next, he explains.

Therefore 27 kinds of Mediterranean olives have been imported and Hartman is grafting them to about 60 California varieties. He seeks a better all-round olive.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 (AP)—George Drake and Marion Isbell run restaurants just around the corner from each other. They are competitors. Yet they recently ran a series of six advertisements—three apiece—in Chicago newspapers in which each paid tribute to the other as a good friend and fine neighbor.

One of Isbell's ads set forth: "In order to get along with the rest of the world we must first learn to get along with one another—with those in our immediate vicinity, our neighbors. George and I have learned."

Scientists Prepared For Invasion Of Fly

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Nov. 14 (AP) —If the Oriental Fruit fly ever invades the United States, the University of California hopes to be ready to fight it.

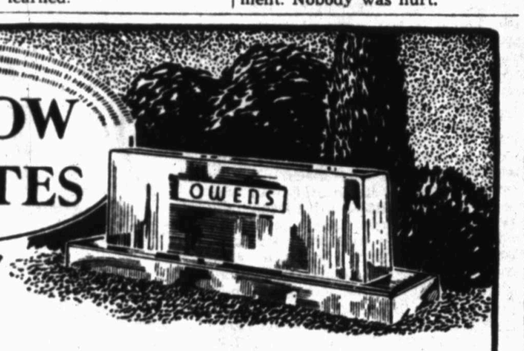

Prof. Harry S. Smith, specialist in biological control has been sent to Hawaii to mass produce several species of wasps that prey on the fly. Breeding stock for the wasps has been gathered in China and Formosa.

Quick Switch Saves Station From Train

DEREHAM, England, Nov. 14 (AP)—Railroad signalman H. Bilverstone gulped. Down the sloping track roared 19 runaway freight cars at 40 miles an hour. They had broken away from a train. Straight ahead was Dereham station.

Bilverstone flicked a diversion switch. The runaways tore into an empty siding, smashed through the buffers, ploughed on for 30 yards, ripped up telegraph poles and somersalted down an embankment. Nobody was hurt.

Kashmir's Frontiers Guarded Against Reds

SRINAGAR, Kashmir, Nov. 14 (AP)—Kashmir's northern and northeastern frontiers are being guarded against Communist infiltration from the Chinese province of Sinkiang, reportedly under the control of the Chinese Communists.

A well-informed source here says a large number of Muslim refugees from Sinkiang already have entered Gilgit, which is held by Pakistan. The source adds that it is difficult to tell whether any Communists are among the refugees.

BY DREW PEARSON: EARL WARREN IS ONLY REPUBLICAN WHO CAN WIN IN CALIFORNIA

Oklahoma Congressman Set For Another Air Junket

LOS ANGELES — There is one lesson eastern Republicans learned from last week's big Democratic victories which still hasn't percolated to hardheaded California Republicans—namely, the fact that the Grand Old party is not going to romp back into power with old-fashioned, pre-new deal candidates.

PEARSON

Even in rock-ribbed Republican Philadelphia which hasn't let a Democrat get a toe hold in its government for half a century, progressive Democrats staged a significant victory. And in New York City the Republican party did not poll even 25 per cent of the vote.

Here in California, however, the old-line Gopeers are still day-dreaming about unseating progressive Republican Governor Earl Warren and running a conservative instead. Republican big business considers Warren too liberal, too friendly to labor, too sympathetic to the old people of California.

What they don't realize is that Warren was elected chiefly because he has swung Democratic and borderline voters. And today, with Jimmy Roosevelt's winning smile already rolling up a big popular following, no Republican would have a chance in next fall's gubernatorial race except Earl Warren.

As a further result of last week's eastern defeats, GOP leaders are wondering more and more whether they won't have to pick either General Eisenhower or Governor Warren if they want to win the White House in 1952. They know they couldn't control Warren once he got in the White House. But they also know that he has consistently won huge blocks of Democratic and labor votes, and they are beginning to realize that perhaps that is the only way they can ever get the Grand Old party back in the saddle.

NOTE 1—New Jersey's Governor Alfred Driscoll, one of the few Republicans re-elected last week, is a hard-working progressive frequently at odds with reactionary leaders of his party.

NOTE 2—General Eisenhower, still a great and glamorous figure, may be politically tarnished by 1952. By that time, with more tax money paid out for armament, a lot of people may be taking seriously Ike's advice that no military man should run for president.

Junketing Congressman

Back in 1945 genial Congressman Victor Wickersham, Oklahoma Democrat, swore never to take another airplane junket—after Speaker Rayburn asked him to pay out of his own pocket for an unauthorized trip to Moscow.

In the end, the taxpayers paid the bill—just as they will also pay the bill for another vacation-by-air for the same congressman this year. For, despite Wickersham's vehement vow not to take another free air ride, he has just returned from an air junket to Alaska. What's more, his name has been submitted for another free air trip to South America.

This year Wickersham is traveling under the auspices of the House merchant marine and fisheries committee, which has little official interest in Alaska and even less in South America.

Under new regulations, Congress must certify that a trip is in the interest of national defense before a congressman can obtain a free air force plane. Nevertheless Virginia's Schuyler Bland, chairman of the marine and fisheries committee, has stated in formal letter that it is necessary to national defense for Wickersham to fly around South America.

His junket will require a special plane just to chauffeur Wickersham from country to country. Only one other passenger is listed for the trip—Congressman Tom Fugate of Virginia.

NOTE—Apparently Wickersham has now forgotten how he nearly had to pay the bill for the military plane that flew him to Moscow in 1945. When he returned, he gave Congress a lengthy report and Speaker Sam Rayburn a wrist watch. This didn't appease Sam, however. He said the trip wasn't authorized and that Wickersham would have to pay his own fare, though after a personal call by Wickersham to President Truman in Potsdam and a rumpus on the floor of the House, the taxpayers finally paid the bill.

A BACKSTAGE controversy is raging over the location of two statues that must be mounted in the capitol building — Brigham Young and Henry Wallace.

Brigham Young, the famed Mormon pioneer, is Utah's candidate for the hall of fame. In Salt Lake City, he stands—cast in bronze—in the middle of main street. Some of his disciples believe he should occupy just as prominent a spot in the nation's capitol, though one or two people in Washington point out that he will be the only hero in the hall of fame who reputedly had 21 wives.

As for Henry Wallace, many think he shouldn't be mounted in the capitol at all, but in the Kremlin. However, the law demands that the busts of all ex-vice presidents must be exhibited in the capitol building, so the anti-Wallaceites are hunting for the most obscure spot.

Both cases are expected to be settled, when Congress convenes, by Sen. Theodore Green of Rhode Island, who is chairman of the committee in charge of such matters. He's a kindly gentleman who won't want to slight either Brigham Young or Henry Wallace.

Merry-Go-Round

Luxembourg, diplomatic home of the famous Mrs. Mesta, is now being called "Perle Harbor." ... Ace Congressman Mike Monroney has been touring Oklahoma to survey the prospects of running against speculating Senator Elmer Thomas. Elmer has built up a strong political machine, but the grass-roots are for Mike ... According to Stanley Arnold, diligent Cleveland researcher, Alben Barkley will increase his chances of becoming president after he marries. Seven American presidents, says Arnold, married widows — most of them wealthy. George Washington married Mrs. Daniel Parke Custis; Thomas Jefferson married Mrs. Bathurst Skelton; James Madison married Mrs. John Todd; Millard Fillmore married Mrs. Ezekiel McIntosh; Benjamin Harrison married Mrs. Walter Dimmick; Woodrow Wilson married Mrs. Norman Galt; and Warren Harding married Mrs. Henry De Wolfe ... Efficient Peyton Ford, assistant to the attorney general, is making a survey of immigration service with a view to some cobweb-sweeping. He does not plan to abolish the board of immigration appeals ... Kaiser's Fontana steel plant operated at over 100 per cent of capacity all during the steel strike, even blew in a brand new blast furnace in the middle of the strike. Kaiser accepted the President's fact-finding board's recommendations without quibbling.

"What a wife I have!" he said, "what a wife I have! Last night, when I went home, she greeted me with a big kiss. Then she took my hat and coat and hung them up, then led me into the dining-room where she'd fixed a swell supper—everything that I especially like. Then, after supper, she made me sit in the front room and read—wouldn't even let me help her with the dishes!"

One of his co-workers, married much longer, interrupted the young husband.

"Well," he demanded, "how did you like her new hat?"

THE hullabaloo over Russia's having the atomic bomb has resulted in a new type of classified advertising in one city near where an important U. S. defense plant is located.

In the paper there the other day appeared this advertisement, under the heading "Homes for Sale":

"New, six-room, brick veneer, garage, two baths, $17,500. Located just at the edge of the second-degree burn area."

ON THE radio the other night (during a program dedicated to "the public service," no doubt) we were told that there is no such thing as the localization of B. O.; that it attacks 13 different—and separate—areas of the skin.

While the Russians probably discovered all this in 1763, we'd never heard of it before. So until further word from the Kremlin, we must chalk up another "first" for American science.

It's a wonderful thing, we think, to live in this world of today when so many great new discoveries are being made almost daily. When one stops to think of it, it's almost a miracle that the generations prior to our own were able to do the things they did, without all the varied knowledge that is ours today.

The pyramids have stood for thousands of years, despite the fact that they were put up by people who didn't know about B. O. at all, much less about how many areas of the skin it may attack. Boobs who didn't know nuclear fissions from a large load of hay laid the foundation stones for architecture, medicine and various of the sciences, while others, who somehow lived long lives without wonder drugs, mastered celestial navigation, harnessed water by way of huge aqueducts, figured out the first alphabet and tempered metals as well as we do today—and in some cases, even better.

That's the most heartening thing to crop out thus far in connection with the screwball idea of the screwball "intellectuals" that the "only way to stop war is to wipe out all national governments."

Anybody who has ever set foot out of the U. S. A. and then has come to the conclusion that we'd be better off with whatever sort of government encountered ought to have his head examined.

THE MEMBERS of the self-appointed intelligentsia who go around whooping and hollering for "world government under which there can be no nationalism" don't stop to think that any world government which might be set up would have to strike an average of present national governments, which would be 'way under what we have in the U. Better stated, the members of the self-appointed intelligentsia who whoop and holler for "world government" just don't stop to think at all.

Just imagine living under a system halfway between that of the Chinese and the Scandanavians; halfway between the Russians and the Argentinians; halfway between that of the French and the Arabs!

Just imagine taking the governments and the customs of the Belgian Congo tribes, the Eskimos, the Patagonians, the British, the Spanish, the Tibetans, the Hindus, the Japs and the Slavic nations, mixing them up in a giant mixing machine—and then accepting for the U. THE PLAINSMAN'S MAIL

One Reader Dislikes Lubbock, Another Wants War On Noise

DISLIKES WEST TEXAS

Dear Plainsman: Regarding your column of Monday, Nov. 7 in the Journal:

Did you know that every "furriner" who comes into this state gets his throat jumped down with both feet by some Texas or other, for every little innocent remark he makes from which any inference against West Texas, be it ever so vague, can possibly be drawn?

The man from Massachusetts was right. There is a lot of empty space. You yourself admit that there is often one steer to 30 or 40 acres. If that doesn't leave a lot of empty space I don't know what you would call it.

Of course, you West Texans like this dusty, treeless, semi-barren country. You are used to it. And it is home. Everyone is naturally prideful of his home, and should be. But why do you insist upon imposing your preference upon everyone? We, too, have homes we love, homes among hills, surrounded by trees, big beautiful forests of trees, tall graceful cool green trees; and grass, real grass, all over everywhere, not just where it has been planted and pampered and coaxed into growing, but endless carpets of shining luscious grass; and rivers, big rivers and creeks and springs and lakes.

To me such a place is home and I can see no beauty or anything attractive in this place. If you West Texans like it, OK, but why don't you quit trying to tell people who know better how wonderful it is? And why don't you stop going into a tailspin when anyone even intimates accidentally that it may be somewhat short of perfection. It occurs to me that the attitude hereabouts closely resembles defense mechanism in action.

Of course, this outburst of mine is decidedly sacrilegeous and might elicit much indignation, but I should like to see it printed where some of you West Texans can read it and see how others feel about you and your part of this state and maybe after you cool off, think it over.

For obvious reasons I wish to remain,

Anonymous.
Lubbock.

(Dear Anonymous: Sorry you don't like it here. At last count, there were approximately 30 buses, 12 airplanes and four passenger trains running through Lubbock daily, headed for other places. Why not catch one of 'em? Luv xxxx's. The Plainsman.)

TOO MUCH NOISE?

Dear Plainsman: Congratulations on your circulation's passing the 40,000 mark. You should be commended for giving your readers such large and newsy papers. We at our house thank you for the enlarged coverage of sports, especially the major league box scores. The Monday morning paper fills a long-felt need.

There is one item that seems a bit inadequate—the coverage of network programs on the radio. I don't expect you to carry all the daytime soap opera junk that many of us are unable to listen to. But it would be deeply appreciated if you would carry listings of all NBC and CBS programs from 6 p. m. to 10 p. m. As it is, you have been covering about half of these programs but frequently the other half contains the one program we want to listen to but forget about.

While I have my typewriter in hand, may I ask you if you know of any other citizens of Lubbock who are becoming irritated and alarmed at the increasing noise nuisance, especially late at night? I know that some trains and buses have a fog-horn noise maker but there are a few privately-owned automobiles that make a practice of driving in the vicinity of Broadway and Q with these fog-horns blaring for periods of 15 to 30 minutes late at night, possibly to attract or make an impression on some girl friends. Isn't there a city ordinance to protect people who want to sleep?

I shall be watching The Plainsman's column for comments.

Most sincerely yours,
JAMES V. CARTER,
Lubbock.

(Dear Mr. Carter: Thanks for your good letter, which has several fine points. As to the run-of-the-mine night radio programs on out-of-town stations, yours is the first request we've had for as long as I can remember. It's been at least 15 years since I have heard from a reader along that line. I doubt seriously if enough readers are interested in the inconsequential programs to make them worth the space. Furthermore, the radio people tell their advertisers that they so cover the country that "everyone knows all about the programs." If this is true, they certainly don't need free advertising. Thanks again. The Plainsman.)

A psychiatrist says anyone who is tired is insane to some extent. We believe we follow his line of reasoning. Working makes one tired, and anyone who works is nuts.

To Him That Hath Shall Be Given

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

IF there's one thing that has been over-rated in today's marriage counselling it's the advice to "talk over all your problems."

That, as many a woman has discovered, is a snare and a delusion.

Why? Because the average husband can't distinguish between discussing and nagging.

MILLETT

When Mama has something on her mind and is intent on talking it out with Papa—Papa feels cornered.

Here he was looking forward to a peaceful evening at home—and now he's got to face another problem! He can't see why his wife can't figure out the answers for herself and leave him to the evening paper and the radio.

Mama feels noble when she sits down to "discuss a problem." But the minute she tosses in it Papa's lap—he just gets irritated.

So many a wife who has tried the modern idea of talking things out and got nowhere with it has come to the conclusion that the best way to get along is first to handle the problem herself and then to present the case in such a way that Papa gets the idea it's been discussed and decided upon.

MORE AGREEABLE TO HURRY

THAT'S an old-fashioned procedure, to be sure, but it's more agreeable to most men than being confronted with every problem that comes up in family life.

The husband who looks forward to his homecoming each evening isn't the husband who wonders what new problem he is going to have to help solve as soon as he walks through the front door.

Nope, he's the husband who can count on being met by a cheerful wife who has things under control and who is willing to let him relax in his off hours, in the comfortable belief that everything is going along just fine and dandy.

There's just one thing wrong with the advice to married couples to talk over their problems and that is the only one of the sexes enjoys "talking things out."

Laff-A-Day

"I don't think you girls should gossip about Mary Jane like that—and, anyway, that's not the way way I heard it."

Today's Thought

But if they will not obey, I will utterly pluck up and destroy that nation, saith the Lord.Jeremiah 12:17.

"Try And Stop Me"

LOVE in Hollywood department: A handsome young contract player at a major studio became involved with a platinum blonde, and finally was cornered into naming a date for the wedding. He thereupon advertised in a Los Angeles gazette: "Unfortunate male about to marry is desirious of meeting man of experience who can extricate him from perilous situation."

Evidently no saviour was forthcoming, for the young man indeed was married. We next quote from a note he dispatched to a friend the day after the ceremony: "The bride carried four roses—rather well."

THE late Jules Leventhal, who managed road company productions of great Broadway hits, was famed for his honesty, his accent and his frugality. Once he sent out a troupe to play Nugent and Thurber's The Male Animal, one scene of which called for a football coach to hand a professor a cigar. When Leventhal scanned the expense sheet for the first week, he rebelled at the item, "Cigars, eighty cents," and ordered, "From now on, when the coach offers that cigar, have the professor answer, 'No thanks, I don't smoke'."

Happy Rancher In Colorado Plans To "Haunt" Duck Pond

MASTERS, Colo., Nov. 14.—I want you to meet my friend Bill MacPherson, who has just turned 61, is balder than an egg, and is very probably the only completely happy man in the world. Bill is so happy he even contemplates dying with glee.

RUARK

Bill runs a cattle ranch where I go to slay a pheasant when I am in Colorado. It is a medium-sized spread, nothing like the big King outfit down in Texas, and Bill is able to handle it with a couple of assistants and Irene, his wife. Irene cooks for the cowhands, when necessary, and for the guests who always seem to congest the place.

Uncle Will and his twin brother, Bob, who recently died, have been on the acres for about 39 years, since they were cowpokes in Wyoming, and they wouldn't have traded a minute of the time, blizzards, drouths, crises and all, for a palace and pension. All they ever wanted or needed they had right there—and these were gentlemen who occasionally traveled to Europe to compete in fashionable shooting matches. Bill is the only reformed cow waddy I know who cusses as fluently in French as in English.

Stopped Playing Poker

Bill and Bob, who also was known as Onion and the Baron, the first because of his peeled head and the second because of a lordly manner, got along together better than any brothers ever got along. This affection extended to everything from shooting to work to drinking to poker and, as you shall see, to death.

Bill and Onion loved to get a little loaded from time to time, and sing a song called "Lord Randall My Son." They wrangled amiably and cussed colorfully and worked hard and played a tremendous game of poker. After they got prosperous they stopped playing poker, because it was only work.

TIMES were lean during the late depression, with heifers selling for $14 apiece, and little market even at that price, so Bill and Onion plugged the chinks in their economy with a poker deck, and some innocent bystanders. There were times when the stand-up ability of a busted flush was the difference between eating and not eating. That's why they quit playing it when they didn't need it any more.

Both men were prideful gunners, especially Uncle Willie who shoots lefthanded, and is pure hell on anything that runs, flies, crawls or flutters. They had a good duck pond and a lot of phesaants, and in between roping and branding and weaning and roundups, they waged a noisy war against their feathered friends. They were so expert that a miss was a personal insult. This leads to the end of the story.

The Baron died a short time ago, and was cremated. His ashes have been kept, with a plan in mind. When his twin brother, Bill, decides to investigate the other hunting grounds, he too will be cremated and the ashes will be commingled.

Plan To Haunt Pond

"And then, rawhide," Bill says with a gusty snort, "I am to have them ashes scattered on the duck pond. Any time some slicker comes down here and misses a duck, me and the Baron will rise right up outta the water and holler 'boo' at him. This will probably be the only haunted duck pond in the world.

"In the meantime, rawhide" says Bill, meaning me, "me and Mama and Jill will continue to work, take a drink, eat and shoot birds when we feel like it."

Jill is a springer spaniel who is more of a daughter in the house than a dog.

"And come to think of it" Bill says "we better scatter Jill's ashes on the duck pond, a haunted duck-pond is no good without the spook of the best retriever in the world. By God," Bill said with a tremendous laugh, "I can scarcely wait to see the expression on those fellers' faces when me and the Baron holler 'boo' and the ghost of Jill begins to bark."

WORTH LOOKING INTO

Many Lubbock and South Plains businesses and industries will have nothing to lose, with the possibility of gain, by making sure they are listed in the directory of small businesses now being compiled by the U. S. Economic Cooperation administration. The ECA is the administering agency of the Marshall relief plan in Europe.

The agency has announced the directory will be placed in the hands of those who will do most of the buying under the relief program, as a guide to finding the materials of many kinds they may desire. It is entirely possible that a listing in the directory might bring business the firm otherwise would not obtain.

Such a listing costs nothing. The necessary blanks are available at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. The small plant operator in this area might find it to his interest to investigate them and, perhaps, to send in the name of his firm for inclusion in a directory which will be examined by a great many people who will be doing a great deal of buying.

EXPERT INSTALLATION WORK OFFERED

Stanley-Newton Co. Dealer For Chrysler Airtemp Equipment

Plumbing, heating, and air conditioning equipment is featured by the sales department of Stanley-Newton Plumbing Co., 904 Ave. H.

The company is dealer for two famous brands of air conditioning and heating equipment—Chrysler Air Temp and Comfort.

The local firm serves as dealer for Chrysler Air Temp in an 18-county area of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. Expert installation and service work on this line also is offered.

Stanley-Newton Plumbing Co. calls particular attention to the fact that the Air Temp line is precision-engineered by the Chrysler Corp. This heating and cooling equipment is available in all sizes to fit any size home or business building.

The company also does plumbing contracting and service work over a wide area of West Texas, for which a skilled and experienced staff of workmen are maintained.

Stanley-Newton Plumbing Co. began business in 1945, with J. A. Stanley and Hugh Newton as partners. Mr. Stanley, who has had many years' experience in plumbing and allied lines of work, is general manager of the firm. Mr. Newton, while still active in the operation of the company, currently is engaged in looking after his farming interests in this area.

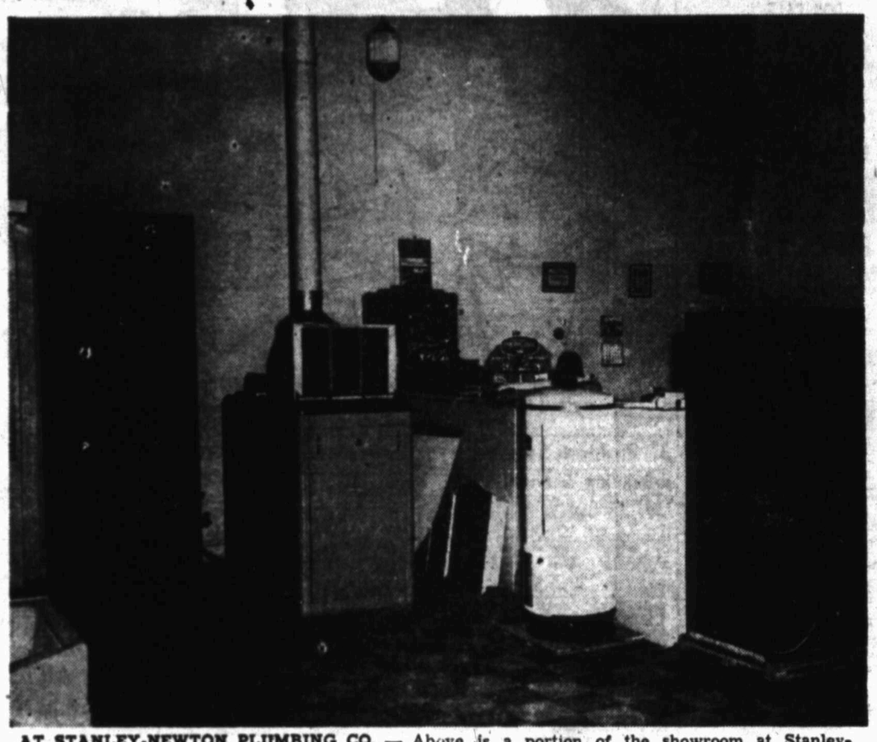

Mrs. Newton served as bookkeeper for the company until this past year and still assists with the bookkeeping and management when needed.

Stanley-Newton Plumbing Co. moved to its present location at 904 Ave. H. in 1948. The firm was formerly located at 2142 Nineteenth.

The company invites inspection of the plumbing, heating, and air conditioning equipment, in addition to its stocks of famous Youngstown kitchen cabinets, displayed in its showrooms.

The trained staff at Stanley-Newton welcomes inquiries about the products offered for sale. They will be glad to discuss your plumbing or heating problems with you.

The usual cast-iron water pipes seem to resist corrosive action with cold water flowing through them about as well as the most expensive commercial pipes now available, the National Bureau of Standards concludes from a 10-year experiment.

AT STANLEY-NEWTON PLUMBING CO. — Above is a portion of the showroom at Stanley-Newton Plumbing Co., 904 Ave. H, in which representative display of Chrysler Airtemp air conditioning and heating equipment is shown. Stanley-Newton serves as dealer over a wide area of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico for this line of equipment. Chrysler Airtemp furnaces and other heating and air conditioning equipment is precision engineered by the Chrysler Corp., and is warranted by that corporation. Stanley-Newton Plumbing Co., also is a dealer for Comfort heating equipment and for the famous Youngstown all-steel kitchen cabinets.

Farmers Supply Featuring Massey Harris '44' Tractor

Farmers Supply Co. invites its customers throughout West Texas and surrounding area to see the versatile Massey-Harris "44" tractor on display in its showroom at 2608 Ave. H.

The Massey-Harris "44" is a full four-row tractor which is equally satisfactory in most farm jobs requiring use of a tractor.

The trained staff at Farmers Supply points out that the "44" model pays dividends in power and lugging ability, in addition to economy of operation and upkeep.

Farmers Supply is dealer in this area for Massey-Harris farm machinery and equipment. A complete stock of Massey-Harris repair and replacement parts is kept by the company. Factory-trained mechanics also are employed by the company to keep your Massey-Harris equipment working at top efficiency.

If you have trouble with lipstick "running" into tiny pore lines around your mouth, smooth powder base around the contours of your mouth when you are applying it to your face. Blot with a tissue. Then pat face powder on with a handy cotton square. Lipstick applied over this foundation should stay set for hours.

Evansville Converts Railroad Station To Community Center

By JERRY SMOTHERS
NEA Staff Writer

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 14 — The Evansville Community Center, Inc., has 3,000 "landlords." It entertains 20,000 teen-agers a month. It is open from nine in the morning until 10 at night, six days a week. It is the scene of dances, parties and just plain fun. Yet there's no one set of initials scrawled on the walls.

The center is unique in many ways. Physically, it may not be as attractive as some; it is converted from a 50-year-old railway station that had later served as an automobile salesroom and a wartime USO. Its location, too, is not physically attractive—it is on a busy downtown corner next to busy railroad tracks—but that location makes it more convenient.

Another factor that makes this center unusual is the complete lack of any restrictive signs. The youngsters decided on their own to ban smoking, for example, but no signs were tacked up.

Recreation Ample

When asked why smoking was outlawed, one girl said: "There is enough to do here without it. Besides, it is another way to get in more solid with the adults."

Finding "enough to do here" is the job of the center's director, Arthur J. Grady, and his wife, Margaret who serves as program supervisor. Grady emphasizes one point, "The kids are free to do what they want."

They function in small groups, rather than in masses. This, Grady feels, allows them to engage in the activities in which they are interested and encourages them to make their own friends. There is dancing indoors and out with a 12-piece orchestra two nights a week, volleyball, pool, shuffleboard, basketball court, ample places to lounge, shops, snack bar, table tennis, badminton, pianos and a complete kitchen.

"Landlords" of the center are 3,000 teen-agers and young adults who hold $1 memberships. Seventy-five adult groups, including Alcoholics Anonymous, hold their regular sessions in the meeting rooms of the former depot. For this privilege there is no charge, but in return they give leadership and some financial aid to the youngsters.

An important source of income is the city's tax revenues, $33,000 of which was turned over to the center last year.

The fact that the taxpayers help support the center, plus the interest shown by the adult groups, makes Evansville's project truly a community center. Both political parties support it, and no political patronage is allowed to creep in.

Board Supervises Center

The city owns the building and the corporation holds the lease. Two representatives from each of 75 organizations make up a council that elects an 18-man board to supervise the center. Only four persons comprise the staff—the Gradys plus a boys' worker and an athletic supervisor.

The only qualification for membership is acceptable conduct. The Gradys sometimes need a good deal of tact and patience to keep some of the youngsters in line.

Once, for example, a girl was caught stealing change from her friends purses. Grady got her a part-time waitress job. Now, with honest money to spend at the snack bar, she is no longer tempted.

Another boy, who was arrested for stealing a car, was put on probation by the judge, who named Grady as sponsor and told the boy to spend more time at the center. He did, met a girl there, got married, got a respectable job. He still visits the center.

Barkley Escape

them, already are busy with the problem of air traffic separation, spurred by demands from Congress, aviation leaders and the public.

The Barkley incident is likely to get attention during the CAB's continuing public inquiry into the Nov. 1 collision. That was between an Eastern air lines DC-4 with 51 passengers and four crewmen, and the Bolivian-flown P-38 fighter as both approached the northeast runway at national airport nearly two weeks ago. The Bolivian flier was the only survivor.

Complaints Filed

A week after that accident, an Eastern constellation filed a complaint that an air force B-25 had nearly collided with it south of the airport. It said this near-hit came while the airliner was climbing to cruising altitude and the bomber was making a practice instrument or "blind" approach to Bolling field.

At about the same time, an air force B-25 complained to the Bolling control tower that an Eastern constellation had endangered him by making an improper turn over the airbase after taking off from national.

Frank Getty issued a statement on behalf of Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, which operates an advertising blimp here, after disclosure of the Barkley incident last night. Getty said an investigation by CAA had absolved the blimp pilot of blame. Getty said the CAA found the Goodyear blimp was not in a restricted zone or violating any rules. He said it had been in constant two-way radio contact with the national airport control tower.

The blimp frequently is seen over Washington in good weather with a huge flashing advertising sign. The pilot was Walter Massic who, Getty said, has been flying the blimp around Washington for 15 years.

The blimp is forbidden to fly within five miles of the airport since its low speed and lack of maneuverability might create a traffic hazard in the path of high speed planes.

Massic himself was not reached for comment, but his partner, Jack Boettner, quoted him as saying that at the reported time of the incident the blimp was six air miles from the airport. Further, said Boettner, Massic reported that his running lights were blinking on and off the whole time he was in the air.

High Finance Fourth Career For Actress

Toast Of The Gay 90s Finds Wall Street Exciting Stage

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (NEA) — Edna Wallace Hopper, who won fame in "Floradora," is now a Wall street broker. "There's a little ham in almost everybody in Wall street," she says. "All that temperament, nerves and excitement! Sometimes I don't miss the theater a bit."

For Edna Wallace Hopper, high finance is her fourth career. As an actress she was the toast of the Gay 90s. Later she ran a cosmetic business. Then she turned to lecturing, touring the country and appearing on the radio. Ten years ago, she turned to the stock market, and now trades in stocks and bonds (for herself) with a brokerage firm here.

Pretty good for a gal in her 80's, or thereabouts. Miss Hopper once startled newspaper readers and scientists by saying she wasn't going to grow old, ever. To back up her claim, she had three face-lifting operations. She may have aged a bit over the past 50 years or so, but she doesn't look anywhere near the octogenarian type, yet.

"Has No Age"

She won't admit her true age, of course. She smiles with pride and delight when the subject comes up, dismissing it with, "I have no age. They've had me all ages, even dead and buried. Nobody has been right. I wouldn't tell for the world. Just so they discuss it, I'm anything they say."

Whatever she actually is, she doesn't look it. She's a slim, trim 87-pounder, with bright blue eyes, short and wavy brown hair. She dresses up to the minute, walks with the sprightly step of a woman half her age (say 40) and laughs and talks like a teen-ager.

Miss Hopper turned to Wall street after she quit the cosmetics business. "I've always had a flair for finance," she said, although admitting she learned a great deal from her second husband, broker A. O. Brown. She was also married to the late DeWolf Hopper.

Despite her self-acknowledged flair for finance, her first experience in "the street" was sorrowful. In a word, she was cleaned. That was in 1919 when she was—well, 30 years younger.

"I was just gambling," she recalls. "I thought it was a sure thing. I deserved what I got, because it was sheer gambling. Too many people blame Wall street instead of themselves."

But, taking the bitter with the better, Miss Hopper says, that being broke led to the "splendid careers that followed." She turned to lecturing, and found it "glamorous."

"I was any adjective you can think of—except mediocre," she says.

But 10 years ago, with lecturing and the cosmetics trade behind her, she went back to Wall street.

"I remembered Wall street and that nice little game where I made such blunders. I decided to find out all I could. It was child's play really, after doing five shows a day."

Now she puts in a full day in her office. She's up at 6:45, at the office by 9:30. She says until the market closes. She's a member of the New York Securities Analysts association, too.

EDNA WALLACE HOPPER: "I'm anything they say."

But she has one sorrow. She's so busy that she had to give up one of her hobbies. In her 60s (?), she took up a pleasant recreation—adagio dancing. No time any more.

weather except thunderstorms, playing with his tops, eating at his little table, lots of sleep, and whatever else one-year-olds do.

For Charles, this is one of the biggest weeks in his life so far. He says goodbye to his mother Saturday. Princess Elizabeth will fly then to Malta to spend her wedding anniversary Sunday with Prince Philip, on naval duty in the Mediterranean.

Charlie stays at home.

Victims Of Dead-End Crash Are Released

William C. Floyd, 37, of 1007 Fifteenth, and Howard E. Russell, 33, of 1901 Broadway, this morning were released from Lubbock Memorial hospital, where they were taken early Sunday after the pickup truck they were riding crashed into a porch pillar at the home of W. L. Gilmore at 1827 Texas.

Police said Floyd was driving a 1938 International pickup truck owned by Russell when the accident occurred.

The truck first sheared off a traffic light and then hit the left rear fender of Gilmore's 1940 Ford coach before hitting the pillar.

Gilmore said it was the third time this year that a vehicle has failed to turn right or left onto Texas from Nineteenth and crashed into his home.

proper amount of flavoring can give the public the most for its money," he asserted.

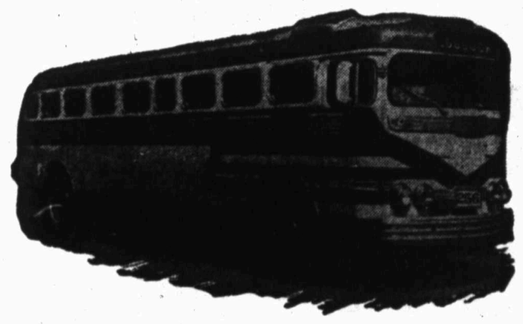

Dr. G. M. Trout of Michigan State college is scheduled for several addresses during the short course, including one Thursday on Good Housekeeping practices and another Friday concerning homogenized milk. A panel discussion with all the speakers participating will top off the conference Friday afternoon.

Arthritis Drugs Stir Hopes For Cure Of Other Ailments

By PAUL R. LANE
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 — Two new arthritis drugs may have set off a chain reaction of medical cures for other chronic ills. The drugs are hormone products, technically called cortisone and ACTH.

In controlled tests on human beings, treatment with them has given dramatic relief. Not only in arthritis cases rheumatic fever victims and persons with other serious afflictions have benefited.

Success has been reported in their use against gout, myasthenia gravis, a disease of the glycermia, a lack of sugar in the blood of babies.

Theory Proven

Similar effects are confidently expected in some types of mental disease. And doctors say perhaps these hormones may help solve the mystery of cancer.

The use of cortisone and ACTH has proven a long - held medical theory that hormones manufactured and released by the outer layers of the adrenal blands control to a large extent the balance of body functions.

The adrenals, two glands about the size of walnuts, live just above each kidney.

An English doctor, Thomas Addison, discovered in 1855 that when these adrenal glands are diseased, people become weak and waste away. The condition was termed Addison's disease

Later, doctors determined that the adrenals have two important parts. The inner part, the medulla, manufactures epinephrine, a hormone which is important in adjusting the body to sudden shock or exertion.

This substance has been produced commercially under the name, adrenalin, and is a valuable heart stimulant.

Pathologists learned that the outer layer of the adrenal, the cortex, also produces an important hormone substance. The exact nature of this substance, called cortin, isn't yet fully known.

In recent years, laboratory scientists have found that cortin contains at least 28 varieties of hormones, or steroids.

During the last 15 years, dozens of brilliant men have concentrated their efforts on widening the knowledge of cortin, Hundreds of other experimenters have been working on other related mysteries of the hormones. Their study in its broad terms is called endocrinology.

One of the cortin research specialists, Dr. Edward C. Kendall of the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., anxious to produce enough of the cortin hormones for clinical experiments, found it couldn't be done by extraction from animal organs.

So, he worked out the complex molecular structure of six of the cortin steroids and tried to make them synthetically. He named them compounds A, B, C, D, E and F. Compound E (cortisone) was finally produced in tiny quantities by Merck and Co., a pharmaceutical firm, after a long, tedious and expeensive series of trials.

Srock Effect Noted

Meantime Dr. Philip S. Hench of the Mayo Clinic had noted that some of his arthritis patients seemed to improve after experiencing minor body shock such as results from surgery. He reasoned that this improvement might have resulted from stimulation of the adrenal function.

Dr. Hench tried the new product on arthritis victims. The results were immediate, amazing relief. The magic action of cortisone against arthritis was announced April 30 this year.

About that time, chemists and doctors in Chicago were ready to attack arthritis from a different angle, with ACHT.

Since 1923, scientists at the University of California, Harvard and Yale had taken a hand in developing ACTH. It was finally produced from animal organs in very small quanity by Armour and Co., the meat packing firm.

During the latter part of May this year ACTH proved just as effective as cortisone in tests on an arthritis patient, and more recent treatments on other patients have shown remarkable results.

ACTH is not an adrenal hormone. It is a product of the pituitary gland, the master coordinator of body processes. It comes from the frontal lobe of this acorn-sized gland, located in the head just beneath the brain and between the temples.

Many Tests Planned

This hormone stimulates the adrenals to increase their output of the cortin hormones, including compound E.

Thus, its effect is considerably broader than that of cortisone.

ACTH, although extremely limited in quantity, has been made available to 45 clinics throughout the nation for a variety of tests. It is being tried, or will be tried, on a wide variety of ills believed to result from poor metabolism. Metabolism is the rate of chemical change in living cells.

Dr. John R. Mote, Armour's head researcher who helped develop production of ACTH, calls it "the most valuable tool for medical study in many years."

Experiments with the drug in treating schizophrenia and other metal ills have given encouraging indications. It is being tried in this field because neuro-pathologists have known for some time that lack of adrenal functions plays a part in some types of brain disturbance.

ACTH increases the body's excretion of uric acid, a function which is credited with its swift relief of gout. An experimental gout patient reported his gouty large toe seemed completely normal after two shots of the drug.

Although these two marvel drugs act swiftly and powerfully, they can't be speeded to the millions of sufferers who may eventually benefit from them.

One reason is the production problem Armour and Co., say is can't produce one ten thousandth of the ACTH it would like to at present. Merck and Co. is in much the same fix.

Even if the new hormone products were plentiful, it would be some time before they could be obtained by most physicians. Both drugs are capable of doing great harm to the body if used carelessly.

For example, ACTH causes a sharp reduction in the blood's potassium content. Potassium loss can be fatal. But this loss can be controlled by feeding the patient potassium chloride tablets during administration of ACTH.

Safe, possibly even foolproof dosages and compounds of the drug are being worked out in complicated tests. But it is painstaking process with human life at stake. It takes considerable time.

Tennessean Hurt In Quarrel Over Steak

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 14. (AP)—Roy Dawson, 30, ordered a well-done steak at a Nashville grill last night. It was served up rare.

Protesting that it was too raw, Dawson demanded another steak and a word with the manager.

The manager appeared. He happened to be the cook, too.

Upset at what he called "nasty and insulting" language, the cook-manager, 44-year-old John Haynes, laid a butcher's steel—a piece for sharpening knives — across Dawson's skull.

Haynes went to jail on a charge of assault.

Dawson went to city hospital with a split scalp that required 10 stitches.
