Drivers Warned To Stop for School Buses

Deputy Sheriff Richard Keller this week warned drivers that the traffic laws relating to school buses will be strictly enforced.

He also announced that the Sheriff's Department will begin working abandoned cars to get rid of them.

Deputy Keller said that a driver must halt at any time he approaches, from either direction, a school bus which is stopped with signal lights flashing, to discharge or take on children.

The vehicle must remain stopped for as long as the lights are flashing.

The officer warned that small children frequently do not look to see if a car or truck is coming, even though they may have been warned many times.

Deputy Keller said work on the abandoned cars will begin within the next few days and continue until the city is rid of those that have been abandoned.

County Men at Organization Of Tax Group

Rex Peeples, superintendent of Samnorwood Schools, and Rudolph Tate, school trustee, were in Munday for the second meeting of the Texas Association of Concerned Taxpayers (TACT).

Officers were elected and Mr. Tate was named as one of the directors.

The purpose of TACT is to secure equality in taxation, Mr. Peeples said.

"We have statistics that say real property makes up 27 per cent of our wealth, but it brings in 85 per cent of the taxes," Mr. Peeples said.

"Personal property is 14 per cent of the wealth and it brings in 15 per cent of the taxes. The intangibles are listed at 58 per cent of the wealth and they bring in one per cent of the taxes."

Intangibles are such items as stocks, bonds and savings accounts, he explained.

These figures were secured in a study on financing by the Texas Education Agency.

The purpose of TACT is to secure equality in taxation, Mr. Peeples emphasized.

TACT will accept membership, individually and institution-wise, from anyone in the state.

Officers and directors are presently working to secure a charter from the State, and an attorney was hired to help with this. "We plan to walk it through and think it will take about a week," Mr. Peeples said. "Otherwise, it would take three to four weeks."

"We are trying to get some of the taxing burden off the ad valorem tax," Mr. Peeples said.

Not only are school administrators and districts members of the organization, but county judges, hospital districts and others were represented at the meeting.

Mrs. L.W. Hartman, Skyrockets Travel Resident Here To Paducah Friday 50 Years, Dies

Mrs. L.W. Hartman, who lived in the Buck Creek community for more than 50 years until moving into Wellington 9 months ago, died Thursday, September 4, in Hall County Hospital after an illness of several weeks.

A life-long Texan, Mrs. Hartman was born in Comanche County September 2, 1902. She was the former Myrtle Janes, daughter of A.M. and Efrasier McQueary Janes.

As a young woman, she drove a covered wagon from Comanche to Plainview, where her family was moving. She continued living in that West Texas town until her marriage to Mr. Hartman on April 12, 1924.

She moved with him to the farm 9 miles west of Wellington.

Fair Parade Float Winners Announced

A float entered by Hedley Lions Club was chosen the first place overall winner in the parade which opened the Collingsworth County Fair Friday, September 5. This is the year that an overall winner category has been named, and judges had the largest number of entries from which to choose of any parade in recent years.

Using a patriotic theme, the float entered by Montgomery Ward placed second in the overall category, and a pioneer covered wagon, such as the county's early settlers used, won third for Wellington Livestock Commission.

In the commercial float division, first place went to Jake's Cycle Shop, a float that combined beauty of theme with the popularity of motorcycles.

Montgomery Ward was second and Wellington State Bank, probably the most consistent firm in Wellington category, and a pioneer covered wagon, such as the county's early settlers used, won third for Wellington Livestock Commission.

As far as injuries, the Rockets came out of their Hollis victory in fine shape.

"I feel like our kids will play better ball this week than last. It is early in the season and they are still coming along," said Coach Williams.

Church Group Requests Panfork Road Surfacing

A delegation numbering approximately 60, representing Baptist Churches in 9 counties, met with the Collingsworth County Commissioners Court Monday, Sept. 8, to request that the road to Panfork Encampment be surfaced.

The commissioners and county judge agreed with the need for the road and pledged co-operation in work to secure it after the present project, FM 3070 in the northwest part of the county is completed.

Spokesman for the church delegation was the Rev. C.H. Murphy, pastor of First Baptist Church, Memphis and chairman of the board of trustees of Panfork Encampment.

O.V. Johnson, resident engineer, State Department of Highways and Transportation, represented that agency.

The Rev. Roy Collins, pastor of First Baptist Church, pointed out that the

Free Speech and Hearing Clinic For Children Will Be Sept. 13

The second annual free speech and hearing clinic for all children of the county will be held Saturday, September 13, at Wellington High School, under the sponsorship of La Paisana Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

A team of speech and hearing specialists from the Panhandle Regional Speech and Hearing Association, Amarillo, will conduct the examinations and testing of children three through six years in the three school districts.

Hours of the clinic will be 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, and 1:00 to 4:00 p.m.

"We urge the parents of all children to bring them in for assessment" urged Miss Rita Lowrie, EPCO teacher in the Wellington Schools, who is in charge of local arrangements for the clinic.

"Although your child may have been tested last year, it is as well that the youngster be tested again, for problems can develop within a year's time," she continued.

"It is now understood that all types of speech, language and hearing problems can be dealt with far more effectively when diagnosed at an early age. Some of these problems are subtle and not easy for parents and teachers to identify, therefore these experienced professionals from the speech and hearing center are coming to evaluate every child in the three to six age range."

Free transportation will be provided for those in Wellington who need it, Miss Lowrie said. Those needing a ride may call the high school, 2527, during the hours of the clinic and someone will come for them.

Although a child may have been evaluated by the school speech therapist, it is wise to have the youngster re-evaluated by the speech and hearing center team, as they are bringing equipment not available in the local school, said Miss Lowrie.

Those children found to have significant problems will be referred to appropriate professionals for complete diagnosis and recommendations.

Heading the team from the Panhandle Regional Speech and Hearing Association will be Paul Caillet, who is beginning his fifth year as clinical audiologist at the Amarillo Center. He also has worked at the Army Audiology and Speech Center for 10 years and at the Houston Speech and Hearing Center. He earned the MA degree from the University of Houston in speech and hearing therapy and holds the Certificate of Clinical Competence in Audiology from the American Speech and Hearing Association.

Other members of the team have not been announced, but they will be equally qualified.

These men and women give their time each Saturday to conduct clinics in Panhandle towns, just as they will be when they come to Wellington Saturday.

Sept. 15 Deadline for Rural Water Program

A map has been provided and is on exhibit in the Wellington State Bank showing the pump stations and water lines and meter locations for the Thirsty Water rural water program in this area, Tom Lewis, a director, announced this week.

The steering committee for this project met Sunday, September 7, and set Monday, September 15; as the last date for $100 charter membership in the system. After that date, any added meter will cost $250 if extra water is available.

An option has been taken on 160 acres of land and an irrigation well north of Dodson which will provide most of the water needs, Mr. Lewis said. The rest of the water will be purchased from Wellington.

The monthly rate for water will be $20.00 with a charge of $9.00 per thousand gallons over that.

A provision has been worked out especially for the livestock or seasonal user which would allow yearly subscription rates with overage instead of monthly rate. This would prevent the heavy part-time user from being charged for water not used during non-grazing months.

Upon completion of the water system, users will be treated to city-type water with plenty of pressure, said Mr. Lewis. Some of the older users will have the first abundant soft water in a lifetime spent farming.

Fred Parkey, executive director of the Red River Water Authority, Wichita Falls, reminded members that they have the unique opportunity to provide a service to area families that will be enjoyed for many generations to come.

Hopefully, the contract for this project will be let around the first of the year.

Members of the steering committee noted the patience of charter members in waiting for this water and expressed their appreciation for the co-operation.

Plans Started for '76 Livestock Show

Plans are already under way for the 1976 Youth Livestock Show, division of the Collingsworth County Fair, according to Bill Moseley, chairman.

There will be improvements in facilities, and timing and other arrangements will be reviewed.

There will be an enlarged steer and heifer show.

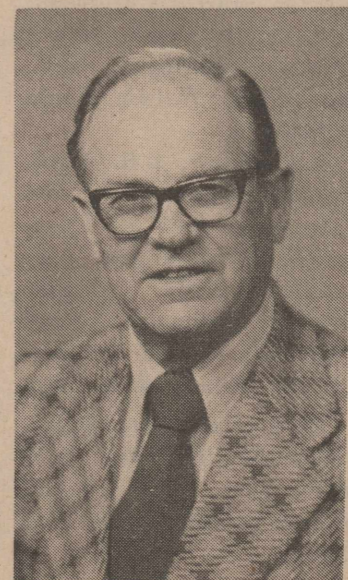

"We saw that the interest was in the horse show, and it will be enlarged also," Mr. Moseley said.

The show committee will work through the school to enlarge the small animal and pet show.

Mr. Moseley said those working with the 1975 show were well pleased with the response shown.

Improved facilities were credited with part of the success. After the show barn was repaired, new wooden corral type fences were put up along the front and back of the show lot.

I couldn't believe my ears not long ago when I learned that the wholesale price of coffee has jumped 20%, ironically right at a time when some coffee brands were still being sold at special sales at reduced prices. All of this increase in coffee prices is due to a killing freeze in July which won't affect this year's crop of coffee beans at all -- it's next year's crop that will fall short. However, the damage to Brazilian coffee production is serious. Brazil ordinarily supplies 30% of the world's coffee. The July freeze ruined over half the coffee trees in Brazil. It will take at least three years before production can be brought back to normal.

Meanwhile the American coffee drinker is used to the taste of Brazilian coffee. Some coffee companies, counting on a bonanza coffee drop this year, delayed purchasing coffee and used up a good part of their inventories while waiting for coffee prices to drop. These are the ones who got caught in the price squeeze. The first company to raise coffee prices at the wholesale level was General Foods, maker of the nation's largest selling brand, Maxwell House. Prices on the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange have gone from 54 cents a lb. to 88 cents a lb. as buyers tried to cover their low inventories.

Will all this lead to hoarding of coffee as it led to the hoarding of sugar? Probably, since a price rise this early will certainly be followed by other price rises. Shortages create greater shortages as buyers, fearing a complete unavailability of coffee, will begin buying two or three cans extra each time they shop. For the moment, retail activity is high but not at the panic buying level. The number of cans of coffee moving off the shelves has accelerated. One grocery chain said that they had moved 12 weeks worth of coffee in just four weeks and that was with a limit of one

Farm Bureau Concerned by Grain Action

Texas Farm Bureau President Carrol Chaloupka said future supplies of grain may depend upon the outcome of the current grain export controversy.

"If farmers lose a part of their legitimate export markets because of actions of the federal government and labor unions, they will be forced to reduce plantings for the next crop season," Chaloupka said. "Fall planting for wheat is just a few weeks away and some farmers will be making that decision soon."

Chaloupka said farmers are angered over the Administration's curtailment of future grain sales to Russia until final crop reports are in and also the actions of the International Longshoremen's Association in refusing to load grain on ships bound for Russia.

"These actions will result in less grain, not more, for the American consumer," the Dalhart grain and livestock producer said. "If our farmers find their export markets destroyed and if resulting prices are below cost of production, they may not plant at all."

Chaloupka said farmers can for each $5 worth of groceries.

Other grocery chains are trying to counter the buying rush by encouraging shoppers to buy tea and other beverages while discouraging over-buying. Now, it looks as if there will be an increase in tea prices as suppliers take advantage of the sales jump in tea to get a higher price for the product.

Study Aids Teachers To Help Handicapped

AUSTIN--Improving the skills and understanding of inexperienced teachers who work with children who are doubly handicapped by vision and hearing impairments is the goal of a special project at The University of Texas this summer.

Part of the training has taken place at the Deaf-Blind Annex of the Texas School for the Blind.

Teachers completing the course will take back to their work improved ways of planning learning experiences for and managing the behavior of the deaf-blind.

must find overseas outlets for two-thirds of their wheat and rice and a fourth of their feed grains. He said these markets permit volume production with resulting lower costs to American consumers. Chaloupka said that if the export issue isn't cleared up soon farmers may use economic pressures themselves.

"Right now American farmers own and control a large portion of the world's available grain supplies," he said. "This is grain that is still on the farms or in country elevators. Adequate supplies are not available from traditional exporters such as Canada."

"Grain farmers could decide to use the ultimate weapon -- withholding food -- in order to force access to world markets and to assure a profitable price."

for two two-day camps for the stewardship committee of the Baptist General Convention of Texas and will bring people from throughout the church.

"The camp is serving presently about 70 per cent of the Panhandle physical area," Rev. Collins said.

"Several churches said this morning they are prepared to invest from $30,000 to $40,000 each in the camp," he added following the meeting.

To facilitate securing approval of paving for the road, the churches represented in the commissioners court meeting will return to their counties to contact commissioners courts, mayors and chambers of commerce seeking letters of support and approval of the road.

The executive committee for the Panfork Encampment will act as the steering committee. Rev. Rick Wadley is chairman of the committee which is putting together a portfolio of pictures and information.

A delegation from the interested churches will seek a hearing before the Highways and Transportation Commission to present their request.

The proposed road would follow the present road from US 83 to Panfork Encampment, leaving the highway about a mile north of Salt Fork River Bridge.

However, under consideration also is a proposal to extend the road north at a point three miles east of US 83 to connect with FM 1439 east of Lutie.

Texas Ag Receipts Due To Exceed $6 Billion

COLLEGE STATION -- Despite poor cattle prices and a weak cotton market during the first half of the year, Texas farmers and ranchers are expected to market products totaling more than $6 billion for 1975.

The increase of some $200 million in cash receipts from agriculture over last year would bring the state total past the $6 billion mark for the second time. Cash receipts from agriculture totaled $6.5 billion in 1973.

Charles K. Baker, economist in marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, compiled the estimate for the state's gross agricultural income from projections by county Extension agents and Extension agricultural specialists for each of the major agricultural enterprises.

"The $6 billion total is expected to be fairly equally divided between crops and livestock," points out Baker. "Strong poultry and hog prices should keep cash receipts from livestock at about the same level as last year. However, money from crops should be up sharply this year due to strong prices for wheat, sorghum, sunflowers, fruits and vegetables."

The projected cash receipts from crops of more than $3 billion will be a new record for Texas. This takes into account an additional one million acres in cropland planted in 1975.

"Of course, cash receipts are only one side of the ledger," emphasizes the economist. "Farmers and ranchers are faced with an estimated 11 per cent increase in production costs over 1974. So, despite higher cash receipts, net income will probably remain near last year's level of $545 million."

Baker notes that agriculture's total impact on the Texas economy continues to grow and should be well over $22 billion for 1975.

Major increases in cash receipts from crops are indicated by these differences in 1974 totals and projections for 1975: wheat - $211,137,000; $390,000,000; sorghum -- $753,811,000; $800,000,000; corn -- $5,095,000; $9,000,000; peanuts -- $66,510,000; $87,746,000; vegetables -- $140,020,000; $190,659,000; pecans -- $14,847,000; $24,000,000; grapefruit -- $16,551,000; $25,477,000; and oranges -- $9,093,000; $13,412,000.

As far as the livestock picture is concerned, the following major increases are projected: broilers -- $140,502,000; $160,000,000; and hogs -- $114,333,000; $145,500,000.

He is the grandson of Mrs. Bura Handley and Mr. and Mrs. Z.J. Neeley of Quail.

Vows were exchanged before an archway arranged with English ivy and blue carnations. Spiral candelabra entwined with English ivy and blue carnations flanked the archway and wedding party. Carol Brashear played an organ prelude then accompanied Jerry Lynch, as he sang. Preceding the processional candles were lighted by the ushers, Steve Speegle and Stan Speegle, brothers of the bride.

Maid of honor was Sharon Speegle, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids included Janet Carlo, cousin of the bride of Artesia, Janet Brock, sister of the groom, of Portales, and Susan Woolf of Carlsbad. Bridal attendants wore long empire gowns of blue floral jersey knit with stand-up collars and short gibson girl sleeves. They carried bouquets of miniature yellow carnations, white stephanotis, and baby's breath tied with long yellow ribbons.

Bruce Oney of Clarendon, served as best man. Groomsmen were Randy Powers, Chuck James and Pat Simmons, all of Portales. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long empire gown of Qiana knit with a high neckline and long fitted sleeves. The bodice and neckline were outlined with beaded pearls and the skirt formed a chapel length train. The floor length veil of illusion was gathered to a Juliet capulet and decorated with seed pearls. The bride's bouquet was a nosegay design of white rose buds, stephanotis, baby's breath circled with hearts of pearls and tied with velvet rope.

Pam Sevier attended the register table in the foyer of the church. Mr. and Mrs. China B. Smith of Iowa Park were visitors in the home of her sister, Miss Hattie D. Wells, and her brother, Deskins Wells and Henry Wells Thursday night and Friday.

Who's New in the Wellington Area

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Proffitt are the parents of a daughter, Jennifer Denise, born September 6 in Collingsworth General Hospital. She weighed 8 pounds, 11 3/4 ounces.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. The back yard was the setting for the groom's table from which a buffet supper was served. The bride's table was arranged in the living room of the family home and was covered with a floor length cloth of illusion over satin appliqued with beaded roses, wedding bells, and doves. Candle-centered bouquets of blue and white daisies, yellow carnations, and baby's breath flanked the wedding cake. Silver appointments completed the bride's table and punch and coffee were served by the bride's aunts who made up the house party. These included Mrs. Monty Carlo, Artesia; Mrs. Corte Prude, Portales; Mrs. Wink Speegle, Hobbs; and Mrs. Ron Rogers, Lubbock. The cake was served by Pam Sevier.

All members of the wedding party were guests of a rehearsal supper held at the Pioneer Steak House on Friday night, August 22. Hosts for the occasion were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brock. Since returning from their wedding trip, the couple is at home at 417 South Kentucky, Amarillo.

Snacks May Be Nutritious

Nutritious snacks give an extra boost to help preschoolers avoid tooth decay, Mrs. Mary Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist, advised this week.

Celery cut in fan shapes, carrot curls, radish roses, lettuce leaves or raw cauliflower will tickle a preschooler's imagination -- and satisfy his hunger pains.

Serve fresh fruits such as melon balls, plums, apples, oranges, grapefruit, lemonade or other juices.

Meat, boiled eggs or cheese cubes or wedges add protein for the hungry child and do not hasten tooth decay, she reminded.

Mrs. Larry Crump presided.

The purpose of this non-profit organization is to promote interest in the fine arts and related fields, Mrs. Mitchell explained.

It also seeks to create a civic-minded fellowship among practicing artists, to promote public interest in and appreciation of these artists. Not only does Artists Studio make it possible for local artists to exhibit their work, it promotes the exchange of exhibits with other area towns, Mrs. Mitchell explained.

Beyond that, it seeks to provide a gallery for the exhibit and sale of pictures and art objects of the members and to establish studios and classes for working groups.

An organizational meeting will be held later, Mrs. Crump said.

Attending were Pat McAlister; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Porter; Mr. and Mrs. Dwane Scott; Mrs. C.D. Messer; Mrs. Kenny Brown; Mrs. Bob Weatherly; Mrs. Crump and Mrs. Mitchell.

Reddy's helpful tips for your Home Laundry

- ★ Avoid wasting hot water while laundering. Use the cold and warm water setting as much as possible to cut down on the energy needed to heat water.
- ★ Use the water level control on your washer. You should use less hot water for small loads.
- ★ Follow detergent instructions carefully. Oversudsing makes your washing machine motor work harder than it needs to.
- ★ Clean the lint filter on your washer and dryer after each load to keep your machine running efficiently.

Deck's Didactics

—by Deskins Wells

Congressman Jack Hightower has been on record for some time as favoring the sale of grain to Russia as long as it is sold for dollars. He knows that the United States can use only one third of its agricultural production and the importance of exports not only to the farmers but to the nation.

Because he does understand the plight of the farmer, there is no need to write him unless you want to send congratulations and urge the freshman congressman to start a senior congressman's efforts in holding on to our most important agricultural export trade. Exports of agricultural products are the main reason the dollar is becoming stronger and the U.S. has a favorable trade balance.

Meanwhile, the future price of wheat is questionable. If exports to Russia are stopped the price of wheat will drop. So will the future price of corn, which will also affect milo. It is an uneasy time.

Cotton prices seem to promise a certain amount of stability and security to the grower not only for the next few months but perhaps the next year or two. A&M says that the price of cotton should remain firm or improve this fall. They also point out that the planting in Texas is down some 400,000 acres as compared to 1974.

Truett Holland recently completed a trip which included part of the rich Mississippi delta land in Arkansas. He says that in other years the part he visited was planted in cotton. This year the land was planted in soy beans. He saw little cotton.

These delta land farmers are turning to soy beans for more than one reason. One is the stable demand and high price of soy beans. Another is that a new variety of beans has been developed that will mature when planted after it is too late to plant cotton. These factors plus the increasing cost of synthetics gives some hope for the cotton producer.

Weather for the Collingsworth County Fair was as near perfection as weather can be for any specific occasion. The temperature in Wellington had been hovering around the 100 degree mark all week and Thursday was hot and disagreeable. Friday dawned with a thin cloudiness covering the sky and somewhere before 9:00 in the morning a cool breeze blew in from the northeast to create ideal weather for the flag raising and the parade.

And what a parade it was! Congratulations are in order for Bill Henard and every person who helped her or had any part in the parade. Spectators agreed that it was the best parade seen here in a good many years. It was also the best fair from the standpoint of exhibits so there should be congratulations for everyone who had any part staging the event.

Judge Zook Thomas said that the Bicentennial flag did not arrive in time so they had Henry Sullivan paint one for the occasion.

Lee C. O'Neil's story of the first parade in Wellington brought an unexpected amount of comment. There was some from older people; but most of the comments came from younger people who had heard their parents and grandparents talk of the early days here and elsewhere.

The story was a graphic account of one early day happening by a participant and as such is true history. The well ordered words bring forth many feelings. One of these is the loneliness of the pioneer children and their eagerness for activity and companionship. Much has been written of the price the pioneers paid for a more abundant and more gracious life for those who came after them. Little has been written about the children who

Rockets Take 20-0 Victory Over Hollis

By H.K. Ballard

The Wellington Skyrockets blasted the Hollis Tigers out of their own stadium 20-0, Friday night, September 5. But the score told only part of the tale. Hollis threatened to score only once, and the Rockets were inside the Hollis 30-yard line on several occasions when they turned the ball over. It was a beautiful night for football.

First quarter action began with the Rockets kicking with the wind to the Tigers. An indication of the way the game would go came on the first play from scrimmage. Jessie Davis caused a fumble and the Rockets recovered the ball inside the Hollis 25. The Rockets were denied a touchdown on their first series of downs and turned the ball over to the Tigers on the Tiger 20-yard line.

Hollis could not move against a strong Rocket defense led by Don Allred, Joe Baumgardner, Allen Sanders and David Null, and punted into the wind. A short punt gave the Rockets good field position again. On fourth down and short yardage Dan Ford charged 20 yards for the first touchdown of the season. George Brewer ran the ball in on a keeper for two extra points, the only points after touchdown the Rockets were to make. The Rockets led 8-0.

After exchanging the ball once, the Rockets got good field position again and Richard Sims made a twenty-yard run for another touchdown. But it was called back because of a clipping penalty. The Rockets and Sims would not be refused, however, and two downs later he made another beautiful run for a touchdown. The fake field goal extra-point attempt failed and the Rockets led 14-0.

The second quarter opened with Richard Sims tipping away a long Hollis pass. Two lived in those same days and under the same conditions.

exchanges later George Brewer intercepted a Hollis pass on the 45-yard line and carried it to the Hollis 18.

Four plays later Shane Tarver hauled in a pass from Brewer and plunged to within a foot of the goal. On the next play Jessie Davis carried for the third Rocket touchdown. An extra-point pass to Joe Baumgardner was deflected and the Rockets went in at halftime with a 20-0 lead.

Wellington dominated third quarter action with a drive that began on their own 8 yard line and ended on the Hollis 11 when the ball went over on downs. The Rockets suffered 30 yards in penalties along the way. The Rocket line opened good holes for Jessie Davis on the drive, and gave good pass protection to George Brewer who completed twice each to Shane Tarver and Richard Sims.

The fourth quarter began with the Tigers punting against the wind from their own goal line. Arnie Ingram just missed scooping up the punt for a good runback, but Richard Sims was right behind and the Rockets took possession on the Hollis 27. After one first down, though, the Rockets fumbled and the Tigers recovered.

The highlight of the game came when Hollis' Kevin Wiley handed off to Jeff Cummins on a draw play up the middle and broke through the Rocket defense. Cummins and two Hollis blockers had it all to themselves except for Joe Baumgardner. Baumgardner raced for 80 yards between the two blockers before making a fantastic shoe-string tackle inside the Rocket 10 yard line.

It was the only time the Tigers threatened. The Rockets responded with a tremendous goal line stand, holding Hollis for four downs and taking possession inside their own one-yard line.

The Rockets worked the ball out to the 34-yard line before having to punt. The

GED Testing Will Be Held September 18

The GED test for persons wishing to upgrade their education will be given Thursday, September 18, at 6:00 p.m. in Wellington High School, Mrs. Melvin Cardwell announced.

She said those wishing to take the test should call her beforehand at 447-2023 after school hours.

Mrs. Cardwell said that on successful completion of the GED (General Educational Development) test, the student will receive a certificate issued by the Texas Education agency. This is the equivalent of a high school diploma and will serve for most job purposes and is acceptable by most colleges.

The GED test covers five areas, grammar, social studies, science, literature and mathematics.

final whistle sounded on the next series of Hollis plays, with the final score 20-0.

The Rockets will be looking for their second win at 8:00 p.m. Friday, September 12, at Paducah. Let's all make plans to be there to cheer them on to another win in the Year of the Rockets. We should be proud of the boys' fine ability and the job the coaches are doing with them. Let's get behind the Rockets and watch them go all the way this year.

Wheat Allotment Notices Postponed

Wheat allotment notices, usually issued in August by USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), will be combined with 1976 feed grain and upland cotton notices and issued after the first of next year, Bob Weatherly, County Executive Director, reported.

The 1976 national wheat allotment of 61.6 million acres is 15 percent above the 1975 allotment. Farmers who plan to plant wheat this fall can closely estimate their own 1976 wheat allotment by increasing their 1975 allotment by 15 percent.

Representing the number of acres of wheat needed to meet projected domestic and export demand, the national wheat allotment is used as a basis for making payment to wheat growers should the market price for wheat fall below the established target price, or if growers qualify for disaster payments.

Mr. Weatherly pointed out that no acreage set-aside will be required as a condition of eligibility for loans, target price and disaster payments and that the farm wheat allotment in no way limits the number of acres of wheat that may be planted. "Therefore, the size of the allotment will have no effect on winter wheat planting plans," Mr. Weatherly said. Applicants for all ASCS programs will be given equal consideration without regard to race, color, sex, creed or national origin.

#2—continued from page 1 in parade participation, was third.

Collingsworth County Retired Teachers used a theme combining education and patriotism for their entry which was judged first in the adult organization category. Harmon County Chamber of Commerce, with a patriotic theme, was second and the City of Dodson third.

Cub Scouts of Pack 231 entered the first place float in Youth Organizations division. Most of the young members were on board as the colorful float circled the court house square. Girls Scouts were riding on their float, which placed second, and Quail school was third.

Three youngsters won in the horse and rider category. Ed Campbell and his sister Laura placed first and second respectively. James Jackson was third.

Patricia Powell had the best decorated bicycle and placed first. Mrs. Bill Spillman and her year-old daughter, Ashley, rode together to take second place and Robi Lu Mabery was third.

Wellington Cycle Club won the motorcycle division.

Not only was this year's parade the largest in several years, more attention was given to decoration of the entries and greater variety was seen. For the first time, also, the parade went around the square twice, giving everyone a second chance to see this event that opened the Fair.

Parade co-chairmen were Mr. and Mrs. Edd Henard.

Marcum At Hair Seminar

Denny Marcum, owner of House of Marc, left Friday, September 5, to attend a hair styling seminar in Tyler, returning home Tuesday September 9.

He attended classes in treatment for various hair problems, facials for men, and permanent styling.

Ritz Rap NEWS from the RITZ THEATRE

HELP SELECT THE MOVIES
Occasionally there are good films we hesitate to show because we're not sure of attracting a paying crowd. From time to time we'll mention titles of them in our advertising. If you'd like to see the film, send us a postcard. If we get a good response we'll book the film in.

ANYBODY FOR "THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT?"
It's parts of 100 old MGM musicals and a lot of fun to watch. If you'd like to see THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT, send us a postcard and let us know.

THANK YOU
Our thanks to the patrons who attended the Ritz's 1-day showing of LENNY last month. We hadn't planned to show this film here. But after receiving several requests we booked it in. We were pleased with the size of the crowd and also pleased that most people liked it.

KBGH MOVES INTO RITZ BLDG.
We're happy to have GARY ARCHER and KBGH Radio as new neighbors. Gary moved into the North office of the Ritz Building and does local broadcasting from there.

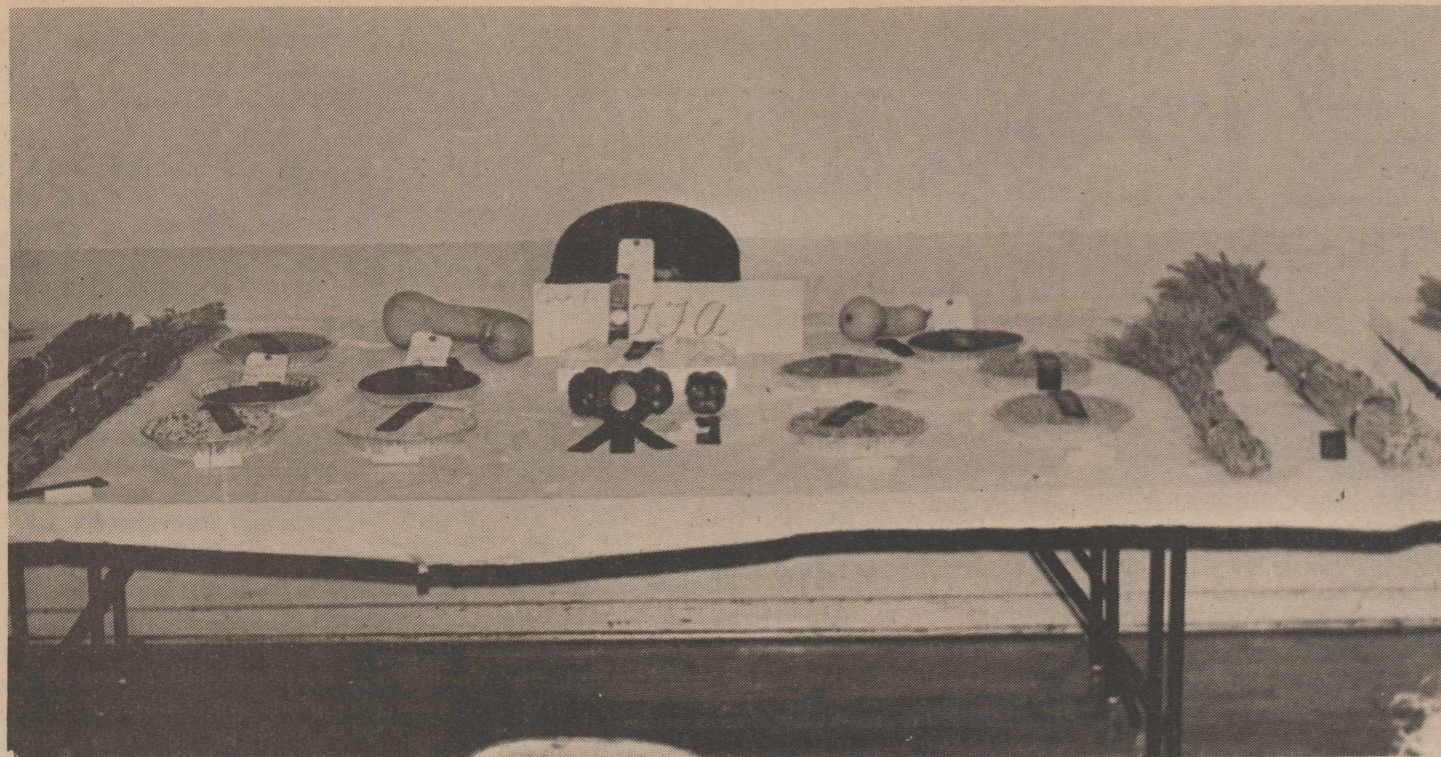

THREE STOOGES
The Ritz has a THREE STOOGES comedy booked for 9/19-21. The one we showed last month drew applause at each showing so we've booked another one for this month.

"JAWS"
Many people have asked about showing JAWS in Wellington. We've been negotiating for it for a 2-week run and have offered a large sum of money to get it. But our offer hasn't yet been accepted. However, it shouldn't be too much longer.

AIR CONDITIONING
The Ritz's recently-installed refrigerated air conditioning has been a big improvement. It keeps the building at 77 degrees and is much quieter and less drafty than the evaporative cooler. We're late in the summer getting it in but it'll be ready when the next warm season rolls around.

WINNING AGRICULTURAL BOOTH

Quail Future Farmers of America exhibited the agricultural booth that was judged Grand Champion of the Collingsworth County Fair Friday and Saturday, September 5 and 6. It was especially complete in the number and variety of crops, vegetables and fruits from the Quail community which were shown. FFA members worked under the direction of Doyle Messer, vocational agriculture instructor, to select the products and prepare the exhibit.

Youth Livestock Show Brings Many Surprises

The youth livestock division brought some of the major surprises of the Collingsworth County Fair, although it is in what the sponsors term a rebuilding program.

The most interest by both youths and adults centered on the afternoon horse show, with only halter classes included.

Although entries were limited in number, the small animal and pet show drew a surprising number of adult spectators who agreed it was probably the most charming part of the entire Fair.

Eight beef animals made their first public appearance of the year, long before they start on the regular show circuit, and the show judge, Herry Hawkins of Clarendon College, noted that some animals that did not win at this time could well develop into winners for later events.

HORSE SHOW

The grand champion and first place registered Quarter Horse stallion was shown by Kirk Patterson, while the reserved champion was owned by A.C. Patterson and exhibited by Pat White.

Third place in this division went to Billy Blacksher.

The overall show champions were a registered Quarter Horse gelding exhibited by Beverly Orr and a grade Quarter Horse gelding shown by Pat White.

Overall reserve champions were a registered Quarter Horse Mare shown by Kelly Covey; a registered Appaloosa Mare by Gary Isaacs and a grade filly by Harold Lee Scott.

Class winners included:

Grade geldings: first, Pat White; second, Beverly Orr; and third, Lesa White.

Grade filly: first Harold Lee Scott.

Registered Quarter Horse mare: first, Leigh Carter, owner, and shown by Kelly Covey; second, Ralph Fielding; third Chad Holland.

Registered Quarter Horse gelding: first, Beverly Orr; second, Darvin Nix.

A.B. Dean was the show judge.

STEER SHOW

Grand Champion of the steer show and first place winner was a Hereford exhibited by Lynn Tate of the Abra community. Mark Fourmentin exhibited the reserve champion, an Angus cross, which also placed second.

Third place went to Stan Tate of Abra; fourth and fifth, Harold Scott. Three calves, two charlais and a Hereford, belonging to Joe and David Baumgardner, arrived after judging was completed, and were exhibited in the show.

PET SHOW

The small animal show found everybody in a different class and everybody won a blue ribbon.

In addition, Stacy Weatherly received the grand champion's purple rosette for her Norweigan Elk Hound puppy. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Weatherly.

Bicennial Flag Raised Over County in Ceremonies on Friday

The United States became the nation that it is through four great passions -- four great loves -- the love of God, love of country, love of fellow man and love of education. This reminder was given Collingsworth people and their visitors during the Flag-Raising Ceremony which marked the opening of the Bicentennial activities for the county. The speaker was John T. Forbis, Childress attorney and native of Wellington.

The ceremony also marked the opening of the 1975 Collingsworth County Fair Friday morning, September 5, by the flagpole on the court house lawn.

Major John Coleman, Ret., directed the raising of the Bicentennial flag, which will float beneath the United States and Texas flags during the period of Bicentennial activities.

Carrying out the ceremony were four men of the Battery A, 2nd Battalion, 131st Artillery, Texas National Guard. These were Platoon Sgt. Eddie Riley, Sgt. Bill Anders, Sgt. Junior Castillo, and Sp/4 George Porter. Taking part with them were representatives of the American Legion, under Raymond Horton, commander, the Veteran of Foreign Wars, Keith Smith, commander, and members of the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

County Judge Zook Thomas was master of ceremonies. Rev. James Boswell gave the invocation. Patriotic music was furnished by a quartet composed of Tom Wilkins,

Truett Holland, Mrs. Gary Archer and Benny Kilgo, with Mr. Kilgo later singing "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Accompanying Mr. Forbis here was his father, John Forbis, born here in 1888, and now living at Childress.

The speaker pointed out

He touched on the god-fearing and law abiding nature of the area. He made personal reference to the love of country which made men from Collingsworth give their lives in World War II, in which he fought, and in other wars.

He recalled the pioneer's concern for each other. "If a man saw smoke rising in the sky, he knew it could be a grass fire or his neighbor's house fire, and he dropped

Early Childhood Classes Give Pre-Kindergarten Work

Early Childhood Classes are again being offered in Wellington as a part of the Texas Plan A Comprehensive Education for persons age 3 through 21. The Wellington Independent School District is a member of the Eastern Panhandle Coop. for Plan A.

This will be the third year that pre-kindergarten children have been given the opportunity to attend special classes which are held three days each week at the Community Action Center in Wellington, according to James Stavenhagen, supervisor. The teacher is Mrs. Don Van Pelt. Any child who is three, four or five years of age is eligible for testing and if they qualify for the program, they will be placed in the early childhood classes.

County Judge Zook Thomas was master of ceremonies. Rev. James Boswell gave the invocation. Patriotic music was furnished by a quartet composed of Tom Wilkins, to determine if a child is having some lag in his development. When a lag or area needing help is identified, the child will be eligible for the Early Childhood Classes. These classes are taught by Mrs. Deanna Van Pelt who is fully certified by the Texas Education Agency in the area of Early Childhood Education. When developmental lags are found, an individual educational plan for each child will be made with appropriate activities under Mrs. Van Pelt's instruction.

How Can I Have My Child Tested?

Any 3, 4, or 5 year old child may be tested at the request of the parents by calling 447-2011 or 447-2840 to arrange for a time. Therefore, if you have a child of this age and you would like to see how his development is progressing, please call the above numbers and we will be glad to make an appointment for your child.

Should I Have My Child Tested If I Do Not Suspect Any Lag In Development?

By all means, yes! We will be able to give you some ideas that you may use at home to strengthen any weakness however slight and to help you to prepare your child for his entrance into the public school system as a kindergarten student. No developmental lag will encourage you to continue the learning experiences you have already provided.

What Do You Teach In Early Childhood?

The curriculum for Early Childhood Class is developed to meet the needs of the individual child while stressing motor development, language development, listening skills and basic concepts in relation to himself and his world. We try to use the child's learning strengths to teach those areas which he needs to develop further.

In the past two years of the Early Childhood Class much progress has been made by the children attending as

The state ad valorem tax of ten cents on $100 valuation is continued as the source of revenue for the Fund. The ten cent higher education tax may be changed by law within the ten cent maximum. The legislature may allocate by law a portion of the Higher Education Fund to certain state vocational and technical institutes. The article provides that the public education system must furnish each individual an equal educational opportunity, but a school district may provide local enrichment of educational programs exceeding the level provided by the state consistent with general law. Provides that all real property and tangible personal property must be taxed equally and uniformly in proportion to market value. Existing exemptions from ad valorem taxation are continued. The present dedication of motor fuel taxes for highway purposes and the Available School Fund is retained. The "pay-as-you-go" principle for the operation of state government is retained. The legislature shall establish separate formulas for appraising land to promote the preservation of open-space land devoted to farm or ranch purposes and may establish separate formulas for appraising land to promote the preservation of forest land devoted to timber production. The $3000 exemption from state ad valorem taxation for residential homesteads is continued and the legislature by law may increase this amount. A separate $3000 exemption from ad valorem taxation by political subdivisions is provided for the residential homestead of persons at least 65 years of age and the political subdivision may increase this amount. The legislature by law may exempt from ad valorem taxation certain property owned by veterans' organizations, non-profit water corporations, and persons in need because of age or disability, and economic circumstance. The legislature may also exempt property to preserve historical, cultural or natural history resources. Taxpayers are provided a new method of correcting inequitable tax assessments by paying ad valorem taxes under protest and suing for a refund in a district court. State debt may be authorized by law only if approved by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and submitted to and approved by a majority of the qualified voters of the state voting on the question. Public funds and public credit may be used only for public purposes and no public funds or public credit may be used to influence the election of a public officer. The article prohibits a retail sales tax on agricultural machinery or parts, fertilizer, feeds or seeds, prescription drugs or medicine, or food, except food sold by restaurants for immediate consumption. The voters of a county may create additional offices, eliminate offices, or combine the duties and functions of offices. The voters may also grant ordinance making power to the governing body of the county. Cities and towns having more than 1,500 inhabitants may become home-rule cities. Tax limitations are established for operating purposes for cities and counties, and the legislature is required to fix debt limits for cities, towns, counties, and school and community junior college districts.

The seaward beaches of the Gulf of Mexico and coastal submerged lands belonging to the state are held by the state in perpetual trust for the people, and subject to reasonable limitations prescribed by law, the public has the free and unrestricted right of use and benefit of the beaches. The provision is continued that, except as otherwise provided by law, a rate of interest in excess of ten percent a year is usurious, and that if a contract does not specify a rate of interest, the rate under the contract may not exceed six percent a year. Discrimination against handicapped persons is prohibited, and a goal of the state is established to provide every resident access to adequate, comprehensive health care.

Article III, The Legislature, is amended to:

Continue the present structure of the legislature consisting of a senate with 31 members and a house of representatives with 150 members. The present organization and procedure of the legislature are continued except that the provision allowing closed executive sessions of the senate is omitted. Provisions on the conflict of interest of members of the legislature are continued, as is the governor's power to veto bills or line items in appropriation bills. The article provides for single-member senatorial, representative, and congressional districts. A compensation commission is created to recommend the compensation and allowances to be received by members of the legislature. The legislative compensation, set by law, may not exceed this recommendation and does not take effect until after an intervening general election. Japan, Russia and Grain Exports

BECAUSE FOOD PRICES rose last month and promise to rise again, there is a spreading inclination in this country to cut back exports of grain. The demands of the AFL-CIO can be largely discounted, since it is mainly interested merely in more subsidies for the maritime unions. But the idea of reducing exports also seems to be gaining ground here and there in Congress. Since foreign demand for American foodstuffs is pushing up prices here at home, the reasoning goes, then lower demand would push those prices back down. That logic is profoundly and dangerously wrong-headed. Any substantial cut in agricultural exports would damage this country's balance of payments, and ultimately its standard of living, far out of proportion to any slight savings that might show up at the supermarket. It is not necessary to control exports in general in order to reach the source of the immediate trouble. The current inflationary disruption and uncertainty in the American grain markets are owed to one foreign buyer alone — the Soviet Union.

The point is best made by a comparison with the way the Japanese buy American grain. They buy steadily and consistently. They make their intentions clear, publicly, long in advance. The American grain markets know exactly what they can expect from Japanese buyers, and American farmers can set their own production with that in mind. It is the sudden drastic fluctuations in demand that keep knocking the American food industry off balance, and those fluctuations are caused mainly by the Soviet Union. The following brief table summarizes Japanese and Soviet grain imports, measured in millions of metric tons, over the past several crop years:

	1972-3	1973-4	1974-5	1975-6 (est.)
Japan	17.5	19.4	18.1	18.5
USSR	20.8	10.5	4.9	25.0

The sudden surges in Soviet demand reflect the hazards of trying to raise crops in a severe climate, on land of which much is semi-desert, lying far to the north. Soviet production of grain has always suffered severe ups and downs, but Soviet requirements have risen sharply in recent years with the government's decision to increase meat production. By their sadly mistaken practice of leaving American markets open to huge sporadic Soviet purchases, the Nixon and Ford administrations have permitted the Russians to stabilize their agricultural system at the expense of ours.

Things are a little better this year than earlier because the Secretary of Agriculture, Earl Butz, has developed a fairly effective system of freezing sales to the Soviets whenever exports seem to be getting out of hand. But these intermittent freezes are mere makeshift, not a reliable policy. It is important for the United States government to arrive at a clear set of rules so that both foreign buyers and American producers know where they stand.

If the Russians are going to depend upon substantial imports of American grain, it is reasonable to ask them to buy more regularly. That means buying at least an agreed minimum even in their good years, and no more than an agreed maximum even in their bad years. This kind of agreement would limit the fluctuations in their demand to a fixed and relatively narrow band. The effect would be to force the Russians to maintain grain reserves—a precaution which, incidentally, would presumably serve their own national interest. It would be moderately expensive, as Americans have good reason to know, but it is a kind of insurance that nations with uneven climatic conditions usually find it useful to carry.

The present arrangement—or lack of arrangement—permits the Soviets to descend upon our market without warning and play it like a speculator. That runs up the price for our steady customers, like the Japanese, who buy at a constant rate, month after month, rather than using hit-and-run tactics. If the Soviets will not enter into a maximum-minimum agreement, the proper response by the United States would be a unilateral announcement limiting them, for example, to a percentage of the previous year's sales and no more.

Precisely to protect themselves from this kind of international disruption, all of the other major grain exporting countries have long since put foreign sales in the hands of government agencies. Until the 1970s, the sheer size of the American harvests and the American reserves insulated our markets and prices from the impact of foreign sales. But currently those sales are getting very much bigger. The buyers are increasingly governments that are committed to raising nutritional standards at home. The United States has never wanted to set up a state export agency for grain and, under the present circumstances, there is no need for it. Most of the major buyers are like Japan, willing to make long-term commitments and stick to them. All of the serious difficulties lie with one country alone and can best be resolved by negotiations with its government. Increasing American agricultural exports will benefit the whole country—as long as they increase steadily and predictably. It requires the kind of firm understanding that this country now has with its Japanese customers—but, notoriously, not so far with the Russians.—The Washington Post

Every Pre-Schooler Should Visit The Speech and Hearing Clinic

On Saturday, parents of pre-school children in Collingsworth County will have the opportunity for their youngsters to be checked at the speech and hearing clinic.

The men and women who do the testing are from the Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center and they are some of the finest in their field to be found in the southwest. They are giving their time each Saturday to go out over the Panhandle and hold clinics in towns such as Wellington.

Their services are free. There is no cost whatsoever to the parents. But more than any financial consideration, they locate speech and hearing problems a child may have, and which even the parents may not be aware. Having found the problem, they can tell the parents what can be done for the child.

Most of the hearing problems discovered in last year's clinic were those which parents had not detected. Some of these, the teacher can help when the youngster starts to school. Other children are receiving therapy from specialists.

Speech problems are more easily detected by family than a hearing condition. In school, a child who doesn't hear well can be considered as anywhere from not interested in his studies at one end of the scale, to retarded at the other end. All because he cannot hear clearly what is going on around him.

This is tragic to the child and a tremendous loss in achievement to the community. Even though a child may have perfect speech and hearing, he should have a trip to the free speech and hearing clinic, sponsored by La Paisana Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, on Saturday.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Senate impeachment trial of 229th District Judge O.P. Carrillo has been postponed until September 29.

Senators agreed to the delay since Carrillo faces trial this week in a Corpus Christi federal court on an income tax indictment.

In opening preliminaries, the Senate resolved itself into a court of impeachment and adopted rules for the historic trial—third proceeding of the type in a century involving a Texas public official.

Carrillo's attorneys filed a 170-page answer to the House impeachment resolution of August 5, denying all 10 charges and challenging sufficiency of the allegations. The answer remains as pending business when senators return to Austin late this month to begin taking testimony.

The 51-year-old judge, whose district includes Duval, Jim Hogg and Starr counties, is accused of abusing judicial authority, political conspiracies and use of Duval County personnel and equipment for personal benefit.

Carrillo's motion to disqualify Atty. Gen. John Hill and his staff from assisting the House prosecutors was rejected 23-7.

Senators imposed on the prosecution a duty of proving its charges "beyond a reasonable doubt" to gain a two-thirds vote for removal of the judge, whose troubles date back to a break with the old George Parr political faction in Duval County.

Oil Theft Aired

Texas and Louisiana met here last week to share information on reports of a widespread oil theft ring.

The thefts came to light with arrest of four men in Rannels County. Investigators have been trying to solve the reportedly organized plot to steal crude oil and sell it to refineries. Rannels County Sheriff Don Atkins said five men in Texas, New Jersey, Illinois and Louisiana are centers of the investigation.

A possible Oklahoma connection is also being explored.

Cost Revised

Comptroller Bob Bullock, who once estimated the proposed new Texas constitution would cost a billion a year and possibly as much as $11 billion overall, reversed himself and said nobody really can tell.

"Only history can write the final cost report," Bullock said. "The ultimate monetary impact of the proposed constitution would depend on innumerable future decisions by elected representatives of the people in the city halls, county courthouses, school boards and legislature."

The new constitution will be voted on November 4. Bullock earlier pegged direct cost to state government at about $100 million a year. He had concluded the new constitution would permit levying another $53 million a year in new taxation on bank deposits, stocks and other intangible property.

Auto Insurers Hurt

A spokesman for auto insurance companies said claim costs during the first quarter of this year averaged 22.5 per cent more than in 1974.

And 1974, the spokesman said, was the worst year in history for the companies. The statement may have offered an indication of what the industry will ask in the way of new rates at a public hearing tentatively set October 1.

RSVP News

By Mecca Manuel

The RSVP News is going to be short this week, but I just had to take time to thank all our wonderful volunteers who helped us during the Fair. We couldn't have made it without you. We had volunteers working at the Country Store, the community building, the livestock show and the Senior Citizen Center.

Jean and I want to thank everyone from the bottom of our hearts. We love you every one.

Work has begun on our new center, so if anyone would like to donate some free labor we surely would appreciate it.

There will not be a monthly luncheon on September 17, as Jean and I will be in San Antonio for a business meeting.

The volunteers having birthdays in September are Mrs. Georgia Bartlett, Mr. Elmer Haralson, Mrs. R.H. Isbell, Mrs. H.A. Davis, and Mrs. Bob Stephenson. Happy birthday everyone!

"Texas" 1975 Season Largest in History

CANYON -- The echoes of TEXAS FOREVER rolled through the canyons of the Palo Duro in the final performance of "Texas," Paul Green's musical drama about the Texas Panhandle.

During this tenth anniversary season, more than 92,000 people have seen "Texas," making the largest audience in the history of the show.

29% of the audience came more than 500 miles to see it. 28% came from out-of-state, 37% came from within a hundred mile radius of the canyon. The rest traveled more than a hundred miles and less than five hundred.

The memories of the season include one cast member with so many duties that he ran 2.8 miles each evening to fulfill them; two elderly dear ladies who were disturbed because their seats were not together. One was heard to say: "Never mind."

We can get together during the interruption;" one fall which was defended fiercely by a young lady in the audience: "These professionals never fall. It must be written into the script;" and a little boy who attended one night when it rained just before, and after, and slightly during a performance. He listened to the thunder in the canyon and the thunder in the show and asked in a quiet moment when his voice could be heard: "Is that the thunder's mating call?"

Only one performance was cancelled because of rain.

The 1976 season will open on Wednesday, June 16 and run through Saturday, August 21. There will be no Sunday performances except the fourth of July.

Auditions will begin in January for the eleventh season.
