Seeks Access To Files

Bullock Files Suit On Hill

AUSTIN (AP)-State Comptroller Bob Bullock filed suit in the Texas Supreme Court today against Atty. Gen. John Hill seeking access to delinquent tax suits and accounts in Hill's files.

The petition for mandamus went immediately to members of the Supreme Court, who actually are in summer recess although several were in their offices today working on cases.

However, a court spokesman said he did not expect the court to act on the petitions until after Hill files his answer, which is expected Monday.

Bullock claimed he had filed two tabulated lists of delinquent sales and use tax accounts with Hill for action against delinquent taxpayers.

The comptroller claimed Hill refused to show him on Aug. 5 files that would indicate the progress being made in collecting the delinquent taxes.

"The files have no confidentiality status which would shield them from examination," Bullock said, adding that he "has no remedy other than a writ of mandamus to permit access to the files in question."

The petition filed today followed recent reports of a bitter personal argument recently in Hill's office between the two top state officials. Bullock reportedly flung an armload of computer lists on Hill's office couch in anger over Hill's alleged failure to file tax collection suits.

When Bullock left, according to some published accounts, he was so upset that instead of walking out the entrance door he mistakenly walked into Hill's office bathroom.

Bullock's petition said that his office was in the process of setting up a reorganized computerized and automated data base system to eliminate inefficient manual record keeping.

"Proper superintendence of the collection of money due the state requires that the status of the thousands of taxpayer accounts and changes in status as they occur be entered into the system so that current data with respect to each file can be retrieved from the data system promptly," the petition said.

Smith Clears Way

AUSTIN (AP) - Former Gov. Preston Smith has cleared the way for a possible governor's race in 1978 in case he decides to run.

Smith filed with the Secretary of State Tuesday a form designating himself as his own treasurer in a 1978 political campaign. The form, mailed from Lubbock, did not name the political campaign.

For several months, Smith has hinted to friends and associates that he is considering another governor's race in 1978.

Smith, 65, is now a Lubbock businessman. He served two terms as Texas governor, 1968-1972, but failed in his bid for third term in 1974 Democratic primary.

Dahlia Is Dead

EDINBURG (AP)-Dahlia Reyna, the 17-year-old brown eyed brunette who health officials said was in the "wrong place at the right time," is dead.

Hospital officials in the South Texas city confirmed that Dahlia, who contracted a rare and fatal disease few ever heard of, died last night at 10:24 p.m., an hour after she was taken off a respirator that had been keeping her alive.

The past two days, Miss Reyna's family has agonized over a decision whether to let the girl die. Doctors said chances of recovery from something called Amebic Meninoencephalitis were nil.

"Blue Flu" Over

ALTUS, Okla. (AP) - With "blue flu" over and the apparent willingness of the city council to forgive and forget, Altus policeman returned to their duties as scheduled today.

But it will be next Monday before the council acts to formally approve the return of the officers, who had been calling in sick since last Friday during a wage dispute.

Carter Ends Vacation

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) - President Carter, cured of homesickness and riding the crest of a softball victory, is returning to the White House with his family after a five-day vacation.

Carter, his wife, Rosalynn, and their daughter, Amy, 9, were to arrive in Washington late today.

Canal Talks 'Positive'

PANAMA CITY, Panama (AP) - After 13 years of hard bargaining, the United States and Panama appeared ready today to initial the basic principles of a new treaty turning the Panama Canal over to the Panamanians by the year 2000.

Negotiators for the two countries ended an all-night session early today, and informed sources on both sides said they were close to an agreement-in-principle, the first formal step toward a treaty.

Big Three Auto Makers Oppose Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)- The Big Three auto makers today opposed tougher taxes on gasoline-guzzling cars, contending any standards would be too rigid for them to follow and too much of a burden on families who need larger cars.

Representatives of General Motors, Chrysler and Ford told the Senate's tax-writing Finance Committee that current federal fuel efficiency standards are adequate incentives for them to adapt their cars to the goal of gas conservation.

The tax "will fall most heavily on middle or lower income families who rely on a single five-or six-passenger car to fulfill their transportation needs," said Roger B. Smith, a vice president of General Motors.

The House has approved a series of escalating taxes on fuel-inefficient autos. The tax would begin with a minimum levy of $339 on 1979 model cars that get less than 15 miles to a gallon.

UNCERTAIN PERCH--Lance Meinzer of China Springs found himself on a precarious perch in the bull riding event for boys 12 years old and under during the opening performance of the AJRA National Finals last night. In NY Talks

Vance Hopes To 'Close Gaps'

JERUSALEM (AP) - Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance said today that "wide gaps" still exist between the Arabs and Israel but he hopes to make progress toward a settlement by meeting with Middle East foreign ministers in New York next month.

At a news conference, Vance said the United States might broaden the New York talks to include separate meetings with the Palestine Liberation Organization.

This depended on whether the PLO accepted Israel's existence by approving U.N. Security Council resolutions which assure all states in the Mideast the right to live in peace, he said.

At an earlier news conference, Israeli Prime Minister Menhem Begin said Vance had won a "great achievement during his trip," but said he and the secretary had agreed to keep it secret for now. Although he resisted further questions on the subject, he exuded an air of confidence.

"The momentum is going on," Begin said after his last round of talks here with Vance. "The next stage will be in September - meetings between the secretary of state on one hand, and the foreign ministers on Israel and several Arab neighboring countries on the other."

But Begin admitted it was uncertain when a full Geneva peace conference could be reconvened. He had previously expressed hopes for a first session by mid-October.

He reiterated Israel's stance that "under no circumstances" would the Israelis have any dealings with the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Despite evidence of serious U.S.-Israeli differences over who will represent the Palestinians in future peace talks and over a future homeland for Palestinian refugees, Begin told reporters that "there was no confrontation" with Vance, and that he "did not hear on word of any form of pressure" on Israel in their talks.

Contests Lively In AJRA Events

The aspirations of scores of young cowboys and cowgirls came one night closer to fruition following the first performance of the national finals of the American Junior Rodeo Association.

The rodeo contestants, none more than 19 years of age, have been working toward the national finals since they were last held in Snyder a year ago.

With a multitude of contestants, the competition was keen and made no easier by the rodeo stock who tried their best not to be roped, dogged, or ridden.

The best bareback bronc rider of Tuesday night's competition was Randy Davis. Davis, a Lubbock cowboy, rode his mount to achieve a score of 65. Kris Brown of German, Tex. was the next best bronc rider with his score of 60.

An Odessa cowboy, Bobby Turner, rode to a 53 score while Sean Smith of nearby Sweetwater trailed him with a score of 52. Mike Berry of Lovington, N.M. was scored at 41 in his ride.

Thrown by ornery broncs, Greg Byrd, Kenneth Cox, and Monty Samford received no scores in their rides.

Dogged determination enabled Alfalfa Fedderson of El Reno, Okla. to wrestle his steer to the ground in 5.07 seconds. Ray Bates of San Antonio required 6.47 seconds to down his steer.

Stan Samuel needed 7.39 seconds to wrestle his steer and Wes Smith took 8.82 seconds to dog his steer. Britt Markum of Valley Mills was timed in at 9.36 seconds while Steve Dame of Blanket was timed in at 11.39 seconds.

Mark Wallace of Justin and a Medina cowboy, Johnny Adams, were bushwacked with no times in their rides.

Stock producer for the rodeo is Burrell Markham of Valley Mills. Jim Miller, a former resident of this area, is the rodeo announcer. Diversion from the often serious business of rodeo competition is provided by the clowns, Jerry Alman of Red Oak and Rick Chapman of Fort Worth.

Bull riding for boys aged 16 to 19 took a somber turn last night when only one of the 13 contestants stayed atop his mount long eno-

Unlimited Transfers In School District Denied

Snyder Independent School District Trustees last night decided to deny all requests for in-district transfers submitted for the coming school year.

The action was taken following a report by the administration that if all requests should be granted, some imbalances would result and that an extra teacher would be required. However, parents still may submit individual letters of request for transfer from one elementary school to another using standard reasons, such as a doctor's statement, family hardship, etc. Each request will be considered individually by the board.

This was the second year that the school district had taken unlimited requests for in-district transfers. Last year, some 30 requests were received and all were granted. This year, however, the total zoomed to 94. West and East Elementary Schools would have gained considerably while some others would have lost substantial enrollment. The gain at West would have required an additional teacher there but would not have reduced enrollment at any other elementary school sufficiently to transfer a teacher.

In other business last night, the board set two special meetings for Aug. 23. It will have a noon meeting to act on any in-district transfer requests received and meet again at 7:30 p.m. in the high school student center to take final action on the 1977-78 budget. The action on the budget will be preceded by a public hearing.

Linda and Vollie Shipp were the successful bidders on a teacherage at Fluvanna. Their offer of $8,012 was the highest of three received.

The bid of Snyder Motor Co. was accepted for the purchase of two vehicles for the school vocational agriculture department. Its proposals were $5,350 and $5,520, respectively, including trade-ins, on a heavy-duty, half-ton pickup and a crew-cab pickup. The school is trading in 1971 and 1973 model pickups. The Snyder Motor Co. bid was the lowest of three received.

Resignations of the following were formally accepted: Lary Lu Griffin, physical education teacher at junior high; Beverly Robertson, secretary at high school; Dorris Witherspoon, resource teacher at Central Ele-

The SDN Column

With the rodeo beginning here that night, it seemed appropriate Tuesday morning to look up from our desk and see Jamie Clayton standing there.

Then, it dawned on us that Jamie has gone on to other pursuits and it probably has been several years since she covered a rodeo for a newspaper.

And, sure enough, she advised that she was merely passing through Snyder on a trip to the High Plains. She now is among that growing number of former Snyder residents now employed by the State of Texas and residing in the capital. To be more explicit, she works in the information section of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

However, we had to discuss rodeos briefly before talking about her new job, which, strangely enough, might be regarded as a new milestone on a trail that began right here in Snyder. It was some years ago, more than either of us cared to pin down, that Jamie (her name was Jamie Meiers then) was working in the advertising department here at the SDN. Rodeo time came along and the news staff was short handed. So, Jamie volunteered to do a rodeo column. Little did she know that it would signal the end of her career in advertising. Soon, she had earned a reputation as an accomplished rodeo writer and took a job on the Abilene Reporter-News as an agriculture and livestock reporter. Subsequently she was out of the game for a while, but now is back as a public relations specialist with the state agriculture department.

"Our job is to promote Texas products," Jamie said. And that is one of the major missions of the state's top agriculture office, which now is headed by Reagan V. Brown.

Jamie said she had some fond memories of Snyder and covering the rodeos, but she is perfectly willing to let others take up those chores now.

GLORIA ROMO

Contest Won By Mrs. Romo

Gloria Romo, 3301 Avenue A, is the winner of last week's Snyder Merchants' Sizzler contest.

Mrs. Romo has been awarded $50 in "merchant money" as the week's winner.

A contest is held each week by sponsoring local merchants, and anyone 18 years and older may enter. There is no requirement for purchase, or to be present when the winner is determined. A winner is selected each week by drawing and announced in the Wednesday issue of The Snyder Daily News.

A contest ends Saturday at closing time of participating merchants.

Opening Date At Hermleigh Schools Set

HERMLEIGH--The 1977-78 school term will begin Monday, Aug. 22, for pupils in the Hermleigh Independent School District. The opening date was confirmed last night at a meeting of the board of trustees.

Faculty members will report on Aug. 16.

The opening dates had not been definitely established following the Legislature's action in trimming five days from the instruction period for the coming year. Several other changes in the Hermleigh School calendar for later in the term are still to be worked out.

our self-made woes

When one considers productive capability of U.S. industry and the potential of the largest single body of high quality farm and grazing land in the world there is reason to wonder why such a country should be wrestling with problems that are supposed to be the exclusive worry of the poor.

Unbalanced budgets at many levels of government, widespread unemployment and inflation that seems to defy efforts to slow its upward movement dominate the picture. Why this is true is no mystery. One example is brand new. A few days ago Congress finished creating a new Cabinet level department of the Federal Government.

It will be known officially as the U.S. Department of Energy. Budget for its first year of operation is $10.5 billion. Net increase in the number of Federal employes it will entail is not known. Actually it is not all new. A number of existing services will be assigned to the new department. It is safe to assume, however, that the increase in spending and number of employes will be sustantial.

That could be called number one among explanations of why the trend in federal spending, number of public employes and interference in the lives of the American people is always upward.

A second major cause of national woe is the amount of delinquent loans to foreign nations. Some date back to World War I. Borrowers include foes as well as friends. For example, the Soviet Union owes us a considerable amount of money and seems to be in no hurry to pay.

A recent summary of past due loans due this country by nations of all kinds and sizes placed the total at upwards of $200 billion. That figure may be an exaggeration. Chances are, however, if it is inaccurate it is on the low side. But whatever the amount may be, it is a lot of money to be tied up in questionable loans by a country that can't raise enough money in current revenue to pay its own bills.

There are many other forms of demands on the U.S. Treasury. The range is from subsidies to U.S. shipping, cost of United Nations and contributions to a great variety of international activities to bailing out mismanaged state and local governments at home.

Some of these causes are praiseworthy and providing support for them out of taxes paid by the American people is good national policy.

In any case those who wonder why there are woes in a land of plenty can find the explanation with a minimum amount of inquiry.

"Nobody here but us chickens."

a fortunate exchange

The Scurry County Junior College District made a swap this week and it is expected to benefit Western Texas College as well as the other party in the exchange, plus the City of Snyder. The college swapped some land with Murry Bowden. It is located along the north edge of the college campus, which, incidentally was given to the college district by Bowden's mother, Mrs. Jonisue Stiff.

It is being called an "equal exchange," but if there is any difference, the college district got the better end of the deal. Bowden is going to install curbing on the street, which will make use of the land involved in the swap. Then, he plans to develop a residential addition which will have new dwellings facing the college campus to the south. This means, of course, that the addition will border the north fringe of the college golf course, which should greatly enhance the asthetics of the campus setting in that area.

The community could use a few more "even" swaps such as this.

coffee, oil piling up

NEW YORK (AP) - There's still enough resiliency in the market place for the mass of men to exert some influence over prices, and that they have. As a result, an awful lot of coffee and oil is piling up in the United States.

Coffee roasting by American concerns is down more than 20 per cent from a year ago. Wholesale prices continue to fall. And prices on the futures markets suggest the drop might continue for many more months.

Supplies of oil, expected earlier this year to be running low about now, are close to overflow levels. Some gasoline prices have been lowered a bit. A shortage of winter heating oil now seems very unlikely.

Had the voices of despair prevailed it might never have happened. Instead, retail customers adapted themselves to the realities, reducing demand to less than the forecasts.

U.S. roastings of green coffee through early July amounted to only 8.44 billion bags of 132 pounds each, compared with 11.125 million bags roasted in the same period of 1976.

Price drops are even more impressive. Folger Coffee Co. is now wholesaling vacuum-packed ground roasted coffee at $3.48 a pound, or 95 cents a pound less that it charged as recently as May 12.

General Foods, the largest domestic coffee roaster, retains its price of $3.71 a pound, but officials concede the trend is toward lower prices and that almost nothing is likely to interrupt the trend.

Ross Barzelay, president, told shareholders at the annual meeting last month that only another frost in Brazil, plus political difficulties in other producing countries would prevent further price declines.

The spot, or immediate delivery, price of Brazilian green coffee on the New York market fell to $2.05 a pound this week, about $1.30 a pound lower than what was being obtained in mid-April, and only 60 cents higher that the level of a year ago.

The futures markets indicate a continuation of the downtrend. Green coffee for delivery next month was quoted at $1.87 a pound in New York this week, down more that $1.50 since the highs of last April.

The chief ingredient of the new market mix is the reluctance of consumers to pay the extraordinary prices that prevailed just a few weeks ago, as high as $4.19 a pound in one New York-area chain in June.

Two other factors might be at work also. Analysts say they detect a long-term decline in per capita consumption in the United States. Another: Retailers, anxious to pacify customers, have lowered prices at the expense of profit margins.

The oil situation is perhaps more complex and less understandable. Forecasts of increased demand were overly bullish, for reasons that analysts attribute partly to conservation efforts, partly to more efficient usage by new cars.

In addition, supplies from the North Sea, Mexico and now the Alaskan North Slope have been added to Mideast supplies, resulting in crude oil inventories that are sharply higher than 1976 levels.

As a consequence, wholesale gasoline prices have come down a bit, and analysts anticipate further declines, although minimal in comparison to the abrupt fall in coffee prices.

From the shopper's point of view there seems to be a lesson in the tale of these two prices: The consumer still can exert some power, however small, if he is willing to make the effort.

There is still a chance for those missing the 'pleasure' of having a garden this summer by planting a fall garden. The heat and dry weather has begun to wilt most spring gardens. We are advised that fall vegetable gardens really produce the best tasting vegetables.

Growing conditions are better in the fall when the weather begins to cool. The vegetables usually are of better quality because of maturing in cooler weather conditions than in the hot, late spring and early summer. Also, there is less chance of disease and insect problems.

A few changes need to be made in the preparation to produce a fruitful crop. Specialists advise getting the seedbed prepared properly. You make the soil ready by working it well then shaping it into raised beds. Raised beds are important in providing drainage from fall rains that are often heavy.

A one-inch furrow in the seedbed will allow 2 or 3 inch moisture in the soil. Soaking the seed overnight before planting will improve germination. Covering the seed with compost, potting soil or vermiculite will provide a better covering for the seed.

Most vegetables planted in spring will do well in the fall gardens but some that do especially well in the fall are lettuce, collard greens, broccoli, cauliflower, cabbage, carrots and brussel sprouts.

With the temperature in the 100 degree range, this information sounds premature, but, rows of dead or unneeded vegetables can be cleared and replanted after the soil has been readied.

WASHINGTON (NEA)-If there has ever been any doubt about the hosing the general public receives in proceedings before federal regulatory agencies, a new Senate committee study should lay it to rest once and for all.

For the first time, there is now solid documentation of the incredible imbalance between the money and manpower which regulated industries expend to influence their government watchdogs and the resources available to public interest groups seeking to plead the consumer's cause before such bodies.

The gap is so great, according to the Governmental Affairs Committee study, that the only views even presented at many federal regulatory proceedings are those of the affected industries - even though the agency's rulings may have an enormous impact on the pocketbooks, health or safety of millions of ordinary Americans.

The committee study found that in more than half of the formal proceedings before regulatory agencies like the Civil Aeronautics Board, Interstate Commerce Commission, Federal Power Commission and so forth, there is no organized public interest participation whatsoever.

Even where consumer organizations and other public interest groups do intervene, they are usually outgunned by industry representatives by a margin of 10 to 1 or more.

The spending disparity between industry and public interest groups is even greater than the manpower gap. "In every case or agency reviewed," the Senate study said, "industry spent many times more on regulatory participation than their public interest counterparts."

In some cases, the ratio was a staggering 100-to-1 or worse. Last year, for instance, the nation's trunk airlines spent more than $3 million for regulatory proceedings before the Civil Aeronautics Board while the Aviation Consumer Action Group, the principal public interest lobby at CAB meetings, spent a measly $20,000 - half its entire budget for 1976.

Apart from the staggering expense of retaining lawyers, hiring expert witnesses and paying the often sizeable administrative costs connected with regulatory proceedings, citizens face innumerable other obstacles to participation, the Senate panel found.

Informal negotiations between the agencies and the industries they regulate often close out potential opponents until it is too late for them to have any impact. The public is frequently given inadequate notice of pending regulatory proceedings. Individual citizens, whose financial stake in a given controversy may be quite small, find they lack legal "standing" to challenge a proposed rule or regulation.

Obviously, even the best-intentioned federal commission or agency must base its conclusions in any particular case on the information presented to it.

It is little wonder, in view of the Senate committee's findings, that regulatory agencies so often appear to be the captives of the industries they regulate. All too often, they are only hearing one side of any ease - industry's side.

Not surprisingly, the Senate study heartily endorses President Carter's proposal for the creation of an independent Consumer Advocacy Agency to plead the cause of ordinary citizens in proceedings before government regulatory bodies.

Although the Carter proposal is in deep trouble on Capitol Hill at the moment, this new evidence of the unequal nature of the present contest between industry and the consumers may provide potent ammunition to those lobbying for the creation of a consumer protection agency.

Clearly, something needs to be done. There is no way that federal regulatory agencies can ever be expected to act impartially in their rule-making and administrative proceedings if the only arguments they ever hear are those presented by the industries they regulate.

Identity Problem

DENVER (AP)-Officials of the American Massage and Therapy Association say their 1,500 members have an identity problem: the public keeps confusing them with the notorious "massage parlors."

The association, whose members are holding their 32nd annual convention here this week, prefer "massage therapist" to "masseur" or "masseuse" for designating their profession.

Massage parlor operators are known as "the other faction," said Darold Harsook, the association western district chairman.

The association is seeking legislation that would require those who give massages to obtain licenses before they lay a hand on another person's body. In that way, Harsook said, the public would be able to distinguish those who are in the business for "scientific and ethical" motives.

Martha Beavers, Scurry County Gold Star Girl

Martha Beavers was selected as the new Scurry County Gold Star Girl by the Gold Star Judging Committee Thursday. The committee, consisting of Mrs. Jesse Koonsman, and 4-H'ers Lois Hess and Josephine Rios, visited and observed two nominees, Miss Beavers and Mary Garza.

Martha has been in 4-H for 6 years and has carried a wide variety of projects. In her photography project Martha has worked hard on her skills in the use of her camera, and has had a first place winning record book at district 2 of the past 3 years. She has led a photography unit of 5 beginners. Her record book was selected this year as the winner in District Records Contest and will be entered in the State competition shortly. The particular skills worked on this year have been closeups and pictures of cats.

In her bedroom improvement project Martha painted her bedroom walls and has selected decorations, bedspread and drapes, refinished a desk, and made some of the decorations for her room.

In the kitchen-dining area she has selected and bought new dishes, glasses, table linens and other accessories with a bright cheerful yellow color scheme. Her family got a dishwasher recently and Martha has taken over the job of washing dishes and reorganized the kitchen storage.

Miss Beavers has been helping with the family food preservation and exhibited a near freezerful of packages of frozen peaches, corn on the cob, apricots and blackeyed peas. She served the judges home made ice cream that she had made for them, and sliced peaches from the trees in the yard. She prepares meals for her family and friends and especially likes baking cakes. She has helped lead workshops on baking and on food preservation for the past three years.

MARTHA BEAVERS

Martha likes to sew and makes part of her clothes. She figures she has saved more than $75 on garments made this summer. She has entered County Dress Revue each year and has been county winner two times, but could only go to district contest one year. (The other year she had to choose between several activities and chose church camp.)

Martha has taken care of the family cats as a "companion animal" project, reading books on cat care and feeding and practicing the things she has learned in the care of her cats. (She has some young kittens, that will soon be in need of a new home-anybody interested?)

Martha and her teammate Mary Garza, did a team demonstration in the Companion Animal Contest in which they placed first in county and district contests and went to the state contest at A&M.

In her 6 years in 4-H Club Martha has won 51 ribbons and has received award medals in Photography, Home Environment, Dress Revue and Leadership, plus the locket for outstanding girl in club.

In the County Fair, Martha shows canned foods, pot plants, baked foods and clothing. She won a junior grand champion award on canned food.

Martha has won trips to district contests in Share-the-Fun 3 years, in Food Show 2 years, in Dress Revue 1 year, and in method demonstration 1 year. She has held all offices in her club, treasurer of county wide 4-H committee 2 years, Chairman 1 year. She was Mistress of Ceremonies at the District Dress Revue this year. She is active in school, church and community.

Mary Garza, runner up for Gold Star Girl, has been in 4-H club 6 years and has carried programs in foods and nutrition, clothing, home environment, home management and leadership. Mary's major project for several years has been breads. Mary has entered the county bake contest each year and won the sweepstakes ribbon in her age group in 1973, '74, '75 and '76. She especially likes working with yeast bread and has made them for special occasions. One of her favorites is braided sweet bread loaves and this is what she chose to serve to the gold star judging committee. Mary has baked more than 500 breads, besides many other baked products. Her bread record won a district records contest this year and will be in the State judging coming up soon. Mary has helped lead bread baking workshops and food preservation workshops for the past three years.

Mary has entered baked and canned products in the County Fair and received the junior grand champion award in baked foods on an original recipe in 1974.

Miss Garza likes to sew and has entered Dress Revue each year. As county winner she has been to district Dress Revue each year. As a county winner she has been to district Dress Revue once as an intermediate and this year as a senior. She has helped lead workshops for younger 4-H'ers the past three years.

In home environment Mary has helped with the yard and house and has selected and made new accessories for her home. She has shared rose bushes grown in her yard with other 4-H'ers.

Miss Garza held offices in her local 4-H club, been chairman of county wide committee two years and treasurer 1 year and is currently the delegate to the district 4-H council. Mary has attended district electic camp.

Mary has won 96 ribbons in her 4-H work and received award medals in Foods and Nutrition, Bread, Clothing, Leadership Dress Revue; she received the locket for outstanding girl in her club and the trophy for best intermediate record book.

Mary has been to District Contests in Team Demonstration 5 years and to District Food Show 3 years.

South was most unhappy when North jumped to four spades. He wished that he had merely rebid two or three clubs after North's one-heart response, but there was no use crying over spilt milk. He was stuck in four spades and had to make the best of it.

He won the first trick with dummy's ace of diamonds, noted that there were 10 easy tricks at notrump and realized that since the game was match points he had best try to collect 11 tricks at spades.

He led a club to his ace at trick two and continued with the 10 spot. At this stage of the play West could have ruffed, cashed two diamonds and set the contract one trick since East would be sure of a spade trick. But West didn't know about that solid club suit. He discarded a diamond and now South was in control.

He led a third club and West ruffed small. Dummy overruffed and South played king and ace of trumps. When both opponents followed, South just continued to play clubs. The defense did collect one trick with the queen of spades and one diamond trick at the end, since South had only one trump left in dummy to ruff diamonds with. By making five spades, South had turned a disaster into a triumph.

Family History Workshop In Lubbock Aug. 13

The summer Family History Workshop presented annually by the South Plains Genealogical Society will be held 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Saturday, August 13 at the Garden & Arts Center, 4215 University Ave., Lubbock.

Books, magazines, maps and other resource materials will be supplied by Society members for research use.

Classes for persons wishing to begin genealogical research are scheduled for 9:30 a.m. and again at 1:30 p.m. Each of these sessions will be approximately one and one-half hour in length and will cover much of the same instruction on how to begin genealogical research.

The Workshop and the classes are presented as a public service by the South Plains Genealogical Society so no admission fee is charged. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

Lunch will be available at the Workshop.

Some facilities and programs financed by Easter Seal contributions are giving help where needed by providing medical diagnosis; physical, occupational, and speech therapies, and other care and treatment that crippled children and adults need to walk, talk, and live like others.

Fire Dept. Auxiliary Meets

The ladies auxiliary of the Sndyer Fire Department met Thursday night at the Central Fire Station for their regular monthly meeting with 12 members answering roll call. Two guests were welcome.

Trudie Wood reported on the state convention held at Longview in June. Althea Wood told the group the state convention would be held at Lubbock next year and that perhaps plans should get underway to enter a racing team.

Rodeo float chairman Susie White reported that the auxiliary float placed 3rd in the parade and won $90 prize money.

The auxiliary planned a garage sale to be held August 20, 8 a.m.-2 p.m. It is to be held at Susie White's home, 210-28th St. Project chairman Althea Wood urged everyone to price their own items and take them to the location of the sale Friday evening.

Debbie Early was introduced as a new member.

Vicky House presented a program and showed Toys From the House of Lloyds. After the presentation, members were given the opportunity to order toys.

Althea Wood, Frances Williams and Ann Wright are on fire call for August.

Hosting were Trudie and Althea Wood.

Perlman Among Featured Artists

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) -Itzhak Perlman, a well-known young violinist, will be one of the featured artists during the 34th season of the Hartford Symphony orchestra, according to symphony officials.

Perlman, who has recently been on tour of Europe, will play two concerts, one of them the opening performance of the orchestra's new Glastonbury Series.

Porters To Canada

Suzi Porter was honored Monday, August 8 with a farewell luncheon at The Shack. Suzie and her husband, Mickey, who has been the Baptist Student Union Director at Western Texas College, will be leaving August 11 for Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. They will be serving as missionaries in Canada by working with the Baptist Student Union at the University of Alberta. The campus has 24,000 students.

The Baptist Young Women's group of the First Baptist Church honored Suzie with a box of stationery already addressed to members of the organization and a personal gift.

The Porters have two children, Jenny, 5, and Becky 1½. "Snyder has been a good town to live in, but we are excited about what God has in store for us in Edmonton," Suzie remarked, "we are also looking forward to all that snow, especially the girls."

Bob Hope Revises 'Dream House'

PALM SPRINGS, Calif, (AP) - Comedian Bob Hope's fireravaged "dream house" will be rebuilt at a cost "considerably less" than the first home's estimated $3 million price, says Hope's architect.

Architect John Lautner, who planned the original dome-like hillside structure, submitted plans in late July for its reconstruction of the home. Sparks from a welder's torch reportedly touched off the June 1973 blaze that reduced the semiconstructed house to a steel shell.

The Donelson-Ham team tied at 62 with fiver other teams and won the Championship Flight on the fourth hole of sudden death play.

Donelson-Ham Hold Out In Scramble Playoff

Mal Donelson, Devin Donelson, Milton Ham and Steven Ham emerged from a pack of six sudden-death teams to win the Championship Flight in a recent Florida Scramble Tournament at Western Texas College Golf Course.

The First Flight winners, with a five-under par 65, were Ken Burnam, Jerry Jolly, Billy Overhulser and Dene Overhulser.

The Donelson-Ham foursome tied at eight-under par 62 with five other groups which led into extended play. Firing 62's were the team of Bill Philen, Billy Wayne Harris, Neal Kessler and David Mayes; the team of Buck Rambin, Joe Williamson, Si Kates and Mike McBride; the team of Jim Erwin, Jim Stehley, Geral Beard and Bill Neeley; the team of Larry Anderson, Bill Atwood, Jim Simpson and Bill Emerson; and team of John Pickering, Ewell Mackey, Mackey Greene and Carey Coffee.

Deuce was the mark to match on the first hole of sudden death. Only three groups made the low point as the Rambin team, Erwin team and Pickering team dropped out at par.

The Philen team was the next to go, failing to birdie again on the second hole.

Both Donelson-Ham and Anderson -Atwood- Simpson-Emerson shot par on number three, but a birdie on the fourth clinched the victory for Donelson-Ham as Anderson and company carried par.

In play prior to sudden death action, Devin Donelson sunk an 18-20 foot birdie on the 18th green pull a 62 for the Donelson-Ham team. Mal Donelson, Milton Ham and Steven Ham each provided clutch shots in sudden death play with Mal putting a 16-footer and Milton easing in a try from 25 feet. Bill Atwood, playing with Anderson, Simpson and Emerson, sunk a 30-33 foot putt on the number two green to get that team into the playoffs.

Second place winners in the First Flight were Ralph Lewis, Wesley Stephens, Clay Hill and Nick Spells with a 69.

Hicks Hurls Two-Hitter....

Snyder Blanks Angelo

WACO--Curtis Gafford blasted a grand slam home run yesterday and Gerald Don Hicks executed almost flawless work from the mound as the Snyder All Stars ousted San Angelo in the Little League State Tournament consolation bracket, 10-0.

Hicks gave up just two hits, a single to Billy Pounds in the second inning and a double to Fred Blackman in the fourth, to win the contest and advance to play against Ganada at 10 a.m. Thursday here. The lanky Snyderite managed 12 strike outs during his seven innings atop the hill, and walked one batter.

Snyder posted an early lead and kept it throughout the game, scoring one run in the first period, another in the second, four in the fourth, and two each in the fifth and sixth innings.

Curtis Gafford managed the first point of the mid-morning contest. The Snyder shortstop got to first on an error, stole second, took another error to third and raced home on a passed ball to turn on the scoreboard lights.

In the second inning, David Gutierrez traveled to first on an error and later took the same trip home, via another San Angelo passed ball.

In the fourth stanza, David Gee and Gutierrez singled then advanced a base each on a passed ball. Hicks walked to load the bases and Gafford grand slammed it out of the park for a 6-0 lead.

Casey Peterson singled in the fifth to start another inning of scoring for Snyder. Gee walked and both advanced on another costly Angelo passed ball. Wild pitches drew both to home plate, and Snyder led 8-0.

After a Brent Roemisch single in the sixth inning, big Barry Davis knocked his first tournament home run to close the scoring at 10-0.

Snyder bought their 10 runs on eight hits. Roemisch slapped three singles to guide the hitting. Peterson, Gee and Gutierrez each knocked a one-baser.

Chi-Sox Chip Six Homers Over Seattle

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Call them the Chicago White Socks.

"They attack the ball. It's a case of having six or eight men in a row who can hit the ball out so they can't walk anybody to get to someone else," Manager Bob Lemon said Tuesday night after the White Socks socked six home runs in mauling the Seattle Mariners, 13-3.

The six homers gave the Socks a club record 144 for the season, erasing the 138 powered by the 1961 and 1971 teams. Eric Soderholm smashed two and Chet Lemon, Oscar Gamble, Jim Essian and Royle Stillman hit one apiece. Soderholm's pair of two-run shots marked the 10th time this season a White Socks player hit two homers in a game, another team mark.

Seattle's Dan Meyer homered to give the Mariners a 2-0 lead in the top half of the first inning. But the White Socks roared back with five runs in the bottom of the inning on a two-run single by Gamble and Lemon's three-run homer.

Blue Jays 6, Twins 2

Jesse Jefferson tossed a four-hitter and Roy Howell and Doug Ault homered for Toronto. The Blue Jays scored three times in the second inning on a walk to Otto Velez, doubles by Sam Ewing and Al Woods and a single by Steve Staggs. Howell homered in the third and Ault slammed a pinch homer in the fourth.

The crowd of 23,450 gave the Blue Jays a season attendance of 1,219,551, breaking the previous first-year record for an expansion club of 1,212,608 by the Montreal Expos in 1969.

Orioles 3, Indians 1

Tony Muser's double triggered a tie-breaking two-run rally in the eighth inning. Billy Smith beat out a bunt and Elliott Maddox delivered an RBI single. Following a double play, Lee May singled to score Smith with an insurance run.

The victory extended Cleveland's losing streak to six games and moved the second-place Oriolames of the idle Boston Red Sox in the AL East. Ross Grimsley won his first game since July 14, allowing four hits.

Tigers 4-4, Brewers 2-6

Milwaukee's Bill Travers won his first game since April 29 while Steve Brye, Jim Wohlford and Lenn Sakata drove in two runs apiece to pace the Brewers in the nightcap. Rookie Dave Rozema spaced five hits to earn his 12th victory and the Tigers rallied for three runs in the seventh inning - the first on Jason Thompson's 20th homer - to take the opener.

Travers, pitching for the third time since coming off the disabled list July 15, got the win with a strong relief job by Bob McClure. Brye clubbed solo homers in the fifth and sixth innings, his second, breaking a 3-3 tie.

Nicklaus-Watson Duel Expected At Pebble Beach

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) - Come drought or forest fire, the 59th Professional Golfers Association championship begins Thursday, with Tom Watson and Jack Nicklaus expected to wage another head-to-head duel like they did in the Masters and British Open tournaments.

However, there are dozens of relative unknowns in the field of 141 who will tee up on the picturesque, but parched, Pebble Beach course, a 6,806-yard, par 72 masterpiece on the Monterrey Peninsula.

Names from Abbott to Zinder including such as Bizik, Cosina, Folkes, Hammer, Mengert, Mowry, Samborsky and Wright-most of them the club pros who balance the budget and give the PGA national body and tinge of democracy and its independence from the PGA tour.

The current format of the championship includes the 39 champions of the PGA sections throughout the country, in addition to the 25 low scorers and ties in the 1976 PGA Club Professional Championship.

Despite the formidable field, which also includes the likes of defending titlist Dave Stockton, Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Lee Trevino, Ben Crenshaw, Johnny Miller, Tom Weiskoph and Hurbert Green, most of the pre-tourney attention has focused on a possible repeat battle between Watson and Nicklaus.

And there are plenty of reasons for it.

Watson, a five-time winner this year, outgamed Nicklaus in both the Masters and British Open.

Watson also won the Bing Crosby Pro-Am tournament in January, when two rounds were played at Pebble Beach.

Meanwhile, Nicklaus has won five tournaments at Pebble Beach, including the 1961 U.S. Amatuer, and the 1972 U.S. Open, both of which were played in the summer when drought conditions were prevalent.

He has not won a major tournament this year yet.

"I would like another match-up with Nicklaus," Watson said Tuesday before his first prictice round. "But we'll have to wait until Sunday to see."

Injuries Hit 'Poke Camp

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP)-Injuries have opened another hole in the sagging right side of the Dallas Cowboys offensive line.

Starting right guard Burton Lawless, who replaced retired veteran Blaine Nye, missed practice Tuesday with a sprained ankle.

Lawless' backup, rookie Van Belcher, also was on the sidelines, leaving only rookie free agent Wes Phillips at the right guard spot.

Trainers were hopeful, but not positive, that both Lawless and Belcher would be ready for Saturday night's preseason game in Seattle.

Already missing from the right side of the line is tackle Rayfield Wright, who recently underwent knee surgery and is out for an estimated two months.

The Cowboys placed two rookie free agents on waivers Tuesday to reach 60-man mandatory limit. They were safety Artie Belvin of Texas-El Paso and end Jeff Butts from Oregon.

Pool Universal Wins League Championship

The first year of slow-pitch softball ended last night with Pool Universal winning the League Championship. They took the crown by defeating Snyder National Bank, 20-4, 6-3, in the last two games in a best of three series.

Second place went to the Snyder National Bank team. Taking third through sixth were Snyder Jaycees, Atwood Construction, E.D. Walton and American Mag.

Pool had nothing but heavy bats as they collected 21 hits, scoring 20 runs in last night's first game. The hitting combined with eight errors to rout the SNB team. Every Pool player collected at least one hit, with most accounting for two. Each player also scored at least one run.

Snyder National collected four runs on nine hits and were helped along by four Pool errors.

The second and deciding contest proved to be a closer contest but ended in similar fashion. Pool Univeral bats cooled off some as they turned six runs on 14 hits. They trailed through the first four innings, but managed nine of their hits and four runs in the sixth and seventh stanzas.

The SNB group slapped six hits for four runs.

Pool collected a total of 52 hits during the three game series while SNB mustered 27. Snyder National won the first contest Monday in a come from behind effort, 12-10.

"The league would like to express it's thanks to the sponsors that put teams in action this summer," a spokesman noted. "Also thanks to the many supporters that came to the games. A special mention to Milton Ham for all his help throughout the summer."

There will be a league meeting for all players and coaches that participated in play this summer. The meeting will be held Aug. 15 at 8 p.m. in Winston Park. Officers for next year are to be elected and a financial report given.

Espinosa Allows Eight To Whip Cardinals, 4-1

By The Associated Press

Nino Espinosa, continued to shine Tuesday night with his consistent work, pitching an eight-hitter for the New York Mets in a 4-1 victory over St. Louis.

Espinosa recorded his first career victory over the Cardinals with the help of a three-run first inning aided by shortstop Garry Templeton's error.

Espinosa, posting his third complete game of the season, struck out six while walking two in raising his record to 6-8. He allowed only a single by Lou Brock over the last four innings after the Cards scored their run in the fifth.

John Denny, 7-4, the St. Louis starter, was victimized by Templeton's error, which thwarted his effort to win for the first time in almost three months.

Cubs 4, Pirates 1

George Mitterwald hit a two-run double and Ray Burris and Willie Hernandez combined on a six-hitter to lead Chicago over Pittsburgh. The defeat halted a string of 14 consecutive home victories by the Pirates.

Burris, 11-11, fell behind 1-0 in the first inning when Dave Parker walked with two outs and came all the way home on a double by Bill Robinson. Pittsburgh starter Jerry Reuss, 7-11, yielded a game-tying, solo home run in the third inning to Bill Buckner, his seventh.

In the Chicago fourth, Bobby Murcer led off with a single and took third on Manny Trillo's double down the third base line. One out later, Mitterwald drove another double over third base, scoring Murcer and Trillo for the winning runs.

Giants 4-5, Astros 3-0

Willie McCovey had a two-run single and Derrel Thomas added three hits as San Francisco beat Houston in the first game of their twi-night doubleheader.

Rookie left-hander Bob Knepper fired a four-hitter and knocked in a run with a single to pace the Giants' second-game victory. Knepper, 5-6, did not allow a hit until Joe Ferguson's two-out double to left in the sixth.

Reds 4, Dodgers 0

Rookie Doug Capilla and Pedro Borbon combined on a one-hitter as Cincinnati defeated Los Angeles before 53,385 fans, the Dodgers' largest home crowd of the season. Pete Rose slugged a two-run homer and Johnny Bench drove in two runs as the Reds cut the Dodger lead to 11½ games in the National League West.

Capilla, 4-4, did not allow the Dodgers a hit until Ron Cey got an infield single with two out in the seventh.

'Astro' Xed From Bowl

HOUSTON (AP) - The post season Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl college football game will be played on New Year's Eve the next three years in the Astrodome and its name will be changed back to the Bluebonnet Bowl.

The annual bowl game was originally called the Bluebonnet Bowl until it moved from Rice University Stadium to the Astrodome in 1968. Since that time it was called the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

New Spanish Inn BuildingLaunched

Ground clearing work began Tuesday for a new, larger, and improved Spanish Inn restaurant.

The present Spanish Inn, located at 17th St. and College Ave., will be replaced by a new Spanish Inn located at 23rd St. and College Ave.

The Raul Rodriguez family, owners of the Spanish Inn, made the announcement and said the new restaurant is expected to open in late October or early November.

Chon Rodriguez, a co-owner of the restaurant, said the new Spanish Inn will have approximately 3,445 square feet with a seating capacity of an estimated 140 to 150 persons.

A building permit was issued yesterday by the city for the construction of the $100,000 restaurant building.

The restaurant will have two private dining rooms and one large dining room open for the public. The new Spanish Inn will specialize in serving Mexican food, Rodriguez said, and will also continue to serve sandwiches, steaks, and hamburgers. The restaurant will serve breakfast, lunch, and dinner.

The Snyder Spanish Inn opened about 13 months ago when the Rodriguez family moved here from Big Spring. The Snyder restaurant is the fifth in a chain of Spanish Inn restaurants owned by the Rodriguez family and relatives.

Two Spanish Inn restaurants are in Big Spring, one in Lamesa and another in Sweetwater.

The Rodriguez family has been in the restaurant business for 35 years.

OBITUARIES

Kennedy Rites

Funeral service has been set for 4 p.m. Thursday at the Bell-Seale Funeral Home for Mrs. Neoma Kennedy, 79, who died Monday in Santa Anna, Calif.

The Rev. David Robertson will officiate at the funeral service and burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens, under direction of Bell-Seale.

A former resident of Snyder, Mrs. Kennedy was the sister of Rosa Kennedy, the aunt of Mrs. Jo Sterling and the great aunt of Leigh Holladay, all of Snyder. Also surviving are three grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Scott

Funeral service has been set for 10:30 a.m. Friday at McKinney for Mrs. Lola Scott, 70, who died Monday afternoon in Lubbock following a long illness.

She was the mother of Doyle Scott of Snyder.

Mrs. Scott had been a resident of Lubbock for 38 years, moving there from McKinney. Other survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Janelle Pritchard of Lubbock; a sister, Mrs. Maurine Metheny of El Cajon, Calif.; and seven grandchildren.

Storm Strikes Lubbock

By The Associated Press

A severe thunderstorm, packing winds of up to 58 m.p.h. and heavy rain, struck the Lubbock area during the night, dumping about 1.50 inches of rainfall on the city in a short time.

Thunderstorms also struck various points of Northwest Texas during the night and a few heavy showers were reported in the area during the early morning hours today. Amarillo, for example, had about .50 of an inch of rain.

Thunderstorm activity also developed along the middle and upper portions of the Texas coast late Tuesday afternoon, but dissipated in the early evening hours.

Elsewhere, skies were clear to partly cloudy and temperatures remained quite warm throughout the evening and into the early morning hours.

New Sketch Of 'Son Of Sam'

NEW YORK (AP) - Police have begun distributing a new composite sketch of the so-called .44-caliber killer and they say there is a 25 per cent chance that the drawing will help catch the woman-hating psychopath who calls himself "Son of Sam."

Chief of Detectives John Keenan said the new sketch is based on descriptions obtained from witnesses to the murder's latest attack, on July 31. The drawing shows the fiend as a slightly dark, almond-eyed, hollow-cheeked man with an angular face and grim mien.

At first glance, the drawing appears to bear little resemblance to three earlier sketches, "but when you place them side by side you can detect similarities," Keenan said. He said these include high cheek bones, the tapered and thin face and the set of the eyes.

The police flyer, which has a first printing of 25,000 and is to be distributed in 50 states, describes the killer as a white male, 25 to 32 years old, with a good athletic build, clean shaven, dark wavy hair, high cheek bones and a sensuous mouth. He stands 5-feet-8 or 5-feet-9 and weighs 165 to 175 pounds.

William F. McCormack, one of the city's three police artists and one who did "Son of Sam," says, "There are no hard statistics on how many sketches result directly in arrests, but we estimate they play some role in about 25 per cent of the cases they're used in."

The murderer has prowled New York City at night for a little more than a year now, killing six and wounding seven in eight attacks with his .44-caliber Charter Arms Bulldog revolver.

On July 31 the killer fatally wounded Stacy Moskowitz in the head as she sat in a car in a lovers lane in Brooklyn with Robert Violante.

Cash Taken In Theft Here Is Recovered

Slightly over an hour after $95 was reported stolen from the Snyder Boys' Club Tuesday afternoon, a juvenile was arrested at his residence and the money recovered, police reported.

The $95 was allegedly taken from a cash drawer at the club and was reported missing at 3:21 p.m. At 4:30 p.m., the youth was arrested at his 20th St. home and money recovered. The youth will face charges in juvenile court.

Three traffic accidents were also listed in police reports.

A three-car collision occurred Tuesday at 12:09 p.m. in the 3800 block of College Ave.

Involved in the mishap were a 1975 Ford driven by Mary Jane Prince, a 1976 Chrysler driven by Cheriann Cross Derryberry and a 1971 Ford driven by Tommy Smith. Only minor damages were reported

A hit-and-run mishap was also listed.

A parked 1942 Ford owned by Joe Jackson was reportedly struck by another vehicle which left the scene of the accident. The mishap occurred in the 3100 block of Ave. B and reported at 11:26 a.m.

The intersection of 26th St. and Ave. Y was the scene of a minor two-car collision at 11:09 p.m.

A 1974 Toyota driven by Troy Lester Lilly was in collision with a 1976 Pontiac driven by Joe Luis Martinez.

Tension Is Thick

Queen Visits In Northern Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) -- Queen Elizabeth II arrived in war-torn Northern Ireland aboard the royal yacht Britannia today for a Jubilee visit and what may be the two most dangerous days of her life.

The outlawed Irish Republican radical Provisional wing has promised to unleash "a blitz to remember," and 32,000 police and troops were on full alert to guard the monarch and her family against any violence.

Police reported sporadic violence across Northern Ireland in the early hours before the queen's visit but no major incidents. "The tension is so thick here you can almost cut it with a knife," said an army officer in one West Belfast district that is an IRA stronghold.

Queen Elizabeth was flown by helicopter to Hillsborough Castle, 12 miles from Belfast, and there set foot on Northern Irish soil for the first time in 11 years. Hundreds of flag-waving youngsters welcomed her at the castle, former residence of British governors.

A 21-gun salute greeted the royal yacht.

Queen Elizabeth was accompanied by her husband, Prince Philip, and two youngest children, Prince Albert, 17, and Prince Edward, 13.

It was the first time the 51-year-old queen has been in an area where troops are engaged in active combat.

The IRA, which wants to unite predominantly Protestant Northern Ireland with the largely Catholic Irish Republic in the south, sees the Queen's visit, marking the 25th anniversary of her reign, as a reaffirmation of British rule over the province.

Five days of rioting, gun battles and terrorist acts by IRA sympathizers led up to the royal visit. On Tuesday, a 16-year-old Roman Catholic youth and a British soldier were shot dead.

Later in the day, a small one-pound bomb exploded on the grounds of the new University of Ulster at Coleraine, where the Queen is scheduled to visit Thursday. There were no casualties or damage.

Northern Ireland's million-strong Protestant majority, which wants to keep the province British, decorated their neighborhoods with festive bunting and Union Jacks to welcome the monarch.

Nixon Papers Transfer On Date Coincidence

WASHINGTON (AP) - The removal of Richard M. Nixon's tapes and papers from the White House complex on the third anniversary of his resignation as president was just a coincidence, the national archivist says.

"We don't keep up with things like that," said Dr. James B. Rhoads, when asked about the government's transfer of the Nixon administration records from the Executive Office Building to the National Archives on Tuesday.

Escorted by Air Force patrol cars, three moving vans, making two trips each, transportated the 1,800 box's of documents and 1,146 reels of tape recordings to the National Archives, 10 blocks down Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House.

Included in the shipment were papers of Nixon and his senior advisers, Nixon's national security files and the tapes. Less sensitive Nixon materials - administrative files, public opinion mail, audio-visual records and gifts - were transferred to the General Services Administration's storage facility at Suitland, Md., more than a year ago.

The Nixon records had been packed up and prepared for removal from the basement of the Executive Office Building during the former president's last days in office. But the records remained undisturbed while the government and Nixon fought over their custody.

The Supreme Court ended the fight six weeks ago by upholding the legality of a law awarding custody of the records to the government. So, instead of being sent to Nixon in San Clemente, the materials were trucked to the National Archives.

Archivists will begin immediately to sort through the materials to determine which will be made public. Papers and tapes involving Watergate will be processed first.

Barring further legal complications, the GSA estimates the first portions of the materials will be available to researchers in a year.

Amtrak To Cut Service

LITTLE ROCK (AP)— Amtrak will reduce its daily passenger train service through Little Rock beginning Sept. 8.

Joe Vranich, Amtrak public affairs director, said Tuesday that budgetary cutbacks are forcing service reductions on six major routes. The Inter-American, which serves Little Rock daily between Chicago and Laredo, will be reduced to three times weekly.

The Inter-American will operate southbound through Little Rock on Sundays, Wednesdays and Fridays, arriving at 9:30 p.m. It will operate northbound on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays, arriving at 6:20 a.m.

Vikki Carr Hospitalized

HOUSTON (AP)—Singer Vikki Carr was admitted to Methodist Hospital Tuesday night, a hospital spokesman said.

A spokesman for Miss Carr, 36, said the singer entered the hospital for treatment of bruised vocal cords.

The spokesman said Miss Carr postponed a Denver appearance until October in order to rest her voice.

"The doctors said it was better to miss one ball game than to miss the whole season," the spokesman said.

AND OVER HERE...—Auctioneer Jack Faulks of Lubbock assisted in selling much of the merchandise at Carter's Western Wear. The auction was held Tuesday and was heavily attended by scores of Snyderites.

2-Day Rodeo Scheduled At Sweetwater

A two-day rodeo for performers of all ages has been set for Aug. 19-20 in the Nolan County Coliseum at Sweetwater.

There will be events for Pee Wees (11 years and under), Juniors (12 through 15), Intermediates (16 through 21), and Seniors (over 21).

Events will include bull riding, bareback riding, barrel racing, flag racing, tie-down roping, breakaway roping and team roping.

There will be performances at 8 p.m. Aug. 19 and at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. Aug. 20. The rodeo is being sponsored by Region 6 of the American Association of Sheriff Posses and Riding Clubs.

Entry blanks have been distributed to western wear and feed stores in the area. Further information may be obtained by calling 573-6321 in Snyder, or 267-8814 in Big Spring.

Janssen To Star In 'Police Story'

LOS ANGELES (AP) - David Janssen will star in the first two-hour "Police Story" for NBC, called "The Watch Commander."

Now in its fifth year, "Police Story" this season will be presented as a series of motion pictures.

Robert Forster, Scott Brady and Scott Hylands will also star in the film.

Rare Disease Probed

ATLANTA (AP)-A disease so rare fewer than 100 cases have been recorded in the world is being investigated by the national Center for Disease Control.

The disease, called primary amoebic meningoencephalitis, is caused by minute one-celled oganisms found in fresh or salty marsh water and usually is fatal unless treatment begins immediately after diagnosis, CDC researchers said Tuesday.

Only two cases have been reported this year in the United States. Both involved teen-aged girls, one in North Carolina which proved fatal, and the other in Texas where the victim remains in a respirator.

Dr. Michael Schultz, director of the parasitic diseases division at the CDC, said, "It is too early in our understanding of the disease to give advice. It's so rare that we don't want to give general advice."

"If an ailment appears to a physician to be the disease, then it should be diagnosed completely before treatment is started."

Schultz said the most successful agent for treating the disease is a drug called amphotericin B.

The disease is diagnosed through laboratory examination of spinal fluids.

Symptoms include malaise, headache, loss of appetite and vomiting. The headache becomes progressively worse and is followed by coma, respiratory failure and death, the CDC said.

Cases have been reported in Virginia, Georgia, Florida and Texas in the last 15 years, the CDC said.

The disease also has been reported in England, Czechoslovakia, Australia and New Zealand.

Escape Artist Sets Records

INDIANPOLIS (AP)-Escape artist Bill Shirk squirmed his way out of a straightjacket while dangling upside down from a helicopter 1,600 feet in the air to rewrite two entries in the Guinness World Book of Records.

Shirk set records Sunday for time and altitude for such an escape.

Helicopter pilot Wayne McDermott said the altimeter on the helicopter registered at 1,610 feet during the escape, which was officially timed in 22.53 seconds.

The previous records, held separately, were 1,200 feet for altitude and a time of 24 seconds.

Shirk, an Indianapolis radio station owner, was suspended under the helicopter by a 16-foot cable strapped to the blade of a hockey skate on his right foot.

"It was the weirdest feeling," Shirk said.

Your Birthday

August 11, 1977

Someone may arrange something for this coming year that appears small on the surface. Just keep in mind: Great oaks from little acorns grew.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Disappointment is likely today if you expect more than you're entitled to. Be satisfied with what you get, even though it may seem like small recompense. Find out more of what lies ahead for you by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Review today the things you're spending your money on. You can trim small, nonessential items and start salting more money away.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Achievements are possible today, but the world isn't going to make it easy for you just because you're a nice person. Ambition and effort are also required.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You could meet someone today who you are attracted to, but it could be a no-no thing. Don't ask for built-in problems.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your reputation is one of your most priceless assets. Today someone may try to use something where you're blameless in an attempt to besmirch it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your mate may be difficult to please today, mostly because he or she will be in a wishy-washy mood. Put your loved one back on course.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Release no work today unless you can proudly sign it. If you send out something shoddy it could cause you serious embarrassment.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) It's important to put your best food forward socially today. If you're a guest, leave before you wear out your welcome.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't do things from a sense of duty today, do them from your heart! — or you'll make people uncomfortable.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Flattery will make you few points today. Be sincere, or don't speak up at all.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You're a sensible spender when it comes to buying household goods and commodities today. However, you could blow the budget on a luxury item.

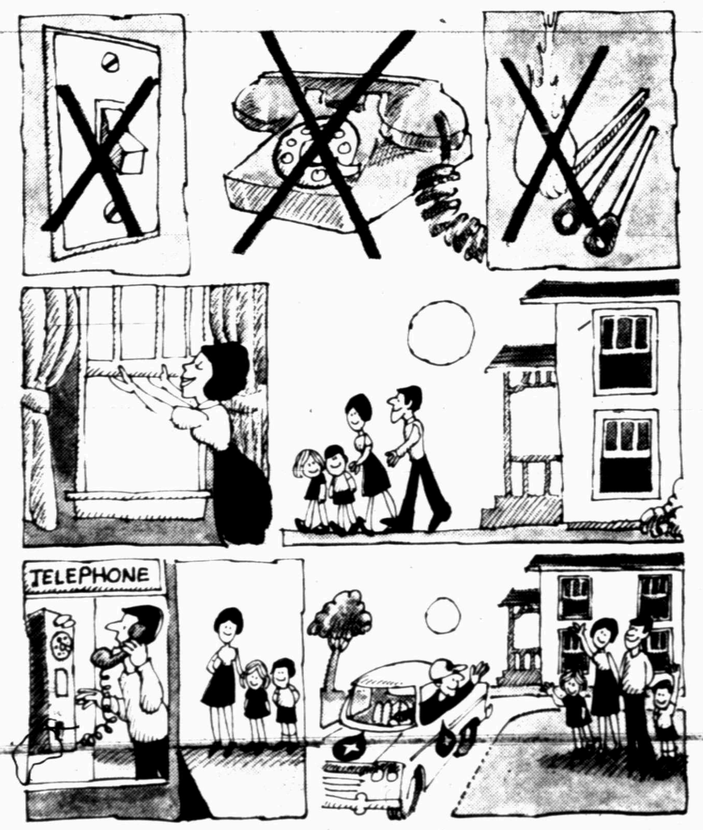

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you're dealing with a youngster today, you must be able to say "no" if it's for his or her own good. It's tough, but necessary.

IF YOU SMELL NATURAL GAS, FOLLOW THESE 3 STEPS TO SAFETY.

The natural gas industry has an excellent safety record.

The fact that you can smell natural gas is because we add a harmless chemical to it as an extra safety feature. Otherwise, it would be completely odorless. If you detect faint whiffs of what you think may be gas, investigate. It may be something that is as easily and safely corrected as a pilot light that has gone out, or a burner valve that's partially open.

If your equipment seems to be working properly and the odor intensifies and seems to be everywhere, please follow these precautions:

1. Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Do not use the telephone in your own home. Do not strike a match. Do not do anything that might cause a spark.
2. Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving doors open to help ventilate.
3. Go to a nearby telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the source of the odor to determine whether it's safe for you to return to the house.

You may never have a natural gas leak, but we want you to be informed in case one does occur. Please make sure your family is aware of these precautionary steps. And we suggest that you keep this message for future reference.

SI PERCIBE OLOR A GAS NATURAL OBEDEZCA ESTAS 3 NORMAS DE SEGURIDAD.

La industria del gas natural tiene un récord de seguridad excelente.

El hecho de que Usted pueda percibir el olor a gas natural se debe a que se la ha añadido un producto químico extra, que no es nocivo. De lo contrario, el gas no olería. Si detecta ciertas ráfagas de olor que cree son producidas por escape de gas, investigue. Es posible que se pueda corregir fácilmente y sin peligro, por tratarse de que una llama-piloto se ha apagado, o que una válula de algún aparto está parcialmente abierta.

Cuando suceda que a pesar de que su equipo aparentemente funciona bien, pero el olor a gas se intensifica y se siente en todas partes, entonces siga estas precauciones:

1. No conecte ni desconecte ningún aparato eléctrico. No use el teléfono de su casa. No prenda fósforos. No haga nada que pueda producir chispas.
2. Haga que todos salgan de la casa inmediatamente, dejando las puertas abiertas para que se ventile.
3. Vaya a un teléfono cercano y llame informando a la Compañía Lone Star Gas Co., y espere hasta que los encargados de la Compañía investiguen las causas y determinen si se puede o no retornar a casa.

Es muy posible que Usted nunca tenga que enfrentarse con escapes de gas, pero queremos informarle por si acaso le sucede alguna vez. Asegúrese que toda su familia conozca estas normas de seguridad. Le aconsejamos también que guarde este aviso como referencia para el futuro. Gracias.

Caffeine overstimulation

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I drink from 20 to 24 cups of coffee daily, take two aspirins daily and drink cokes. I eat cheese and bologna sandwiches and sometimes eggs.

My hands tremble and my head shakes a bit, too. A doctor diagnosed it as essential tremor and also said I had some heart involvement. I am 73 years old.

People tell me drinking that much coffee and not eating properly could be the cause of the tremor. I do not believe it. What do you say?

DEAR READER — Why not find out by stopping the coffee? I would think with the price of coffee these days that drinking 20 or more cups a day would give anyone the shakes.

Seriously, coffee contains caffeine, which is a brain stimulant. It has actions similar to "go pills" to prevent sleeping. That is why I sometimes refer to it as a liquid go pill. The amount of caffeine you are consuming is certainly enough to overstimulate your nervous system and cause the shakes. Whether or not it does in your case can easily be determined by stopping it.

If you do decide to stop I would suggest that you do so gradually or you are apt to have withdrawal symptoms, including headaches. May I suggest cutting down to four cups a day, spread over the day and then to two, one, and finally none, for the test. If you must have the taste of coffee, switch to one of the decaffeinated brands as a substitute as they will not have this effect on you. Cut out the colas and any tea you might be using also.

Your brief description of your diet is insufficient to say whether or not you are eating properly but if that is all you eat you need to have your doctor give you a balanced diet. Small amounts of bologna and processed cheese are all right if the rest of your diet does not contain much fat or cholesterol.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-1, Coffee, Tea, Cola, Cocoa to give you more information on caffeine containing drinks. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Please tell me which oil has the least amount of cholesterol, soy bean, safflower, cottonseed, peanut or corn oil? I would like to make my own mayonnaise as the ready-made ones have too much salt in them. I have a tendency toward high blood pressure which is under control with medicines.

No need to tell me to reduce as I weigh 102 pounds — not bad for a 70-year old small framed lady of 5 feet 1.

DEAR READER — Not bad. I can't refrain from reminding you though that how much fat is under the skin is what is important, not what the scales say in pounds.

None of the oils you mentioned contain any cholesterol. Cholesterol is an animal product and is not found in vegetables. For what advantage it may have, safflower oil contains the least saturated fat and the most polyunsaturated fat of the oils you list. I suspect you could use any of these for your recipe. If you want to avoid cholesterol don't use egg yolks in its preparation. You might find a low salt preparation in the dietetic section of your grocery store.

Because of the volume of mail Dr. Lamb cannot answer your letters personally but he will answer representative letters of general interest in his column. Write to him in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

For Houston Schools
Record Budget Recommended

HOUSTON (AP)-A record $298 million operating budget for Houston's public schools has been recommended by Supt. Billy Reagan.

The budget calls for the district's 17,000 employes to receive pay increases averaging 15 per cent over the next two years.

Reagan said the budget provides the "finest pay schedule in this part of the country or anywhere."

The largest increases approximating 20 per cent would go to the secretaries and clerks, with teachers following at 16 per cent and administrators at 13 per cent. Increases for maintenance workers would average 18.5 per cent.

The proposed budget is $43 million more than this year's, due primarily to about $25 million more in state aid.

The budget and a new pay schedule will be adopted, with any changes, when the school board meets Aug. 16.

Under the Reagan plan, new teachers with bachelor degrees would be paid $996 a month this year, compared with $930. The maximum for experienced teachers with bachelor degrees would increase from $1,330 to $1,750.

Teachers with master's degrees would receive $1,040, compared with $990 and experienced teachers would have salaries increased from $1,550 to $1,770.

The new scale for clerks, secretaries and teacher aides, would range from minimums of $475 to $625 a month to maximums of $715 to $1,120, depending on job assignments.

Time Management Workshop Slated

The Snyder School Administration Building and all principals' offices on the individual school campuses will be closed Friday while personnel attend a time management workshop.

A receptionist will be on duty at the administration building to handle telephone calls only. The school tax office will be open.

School administrators, principals and secretaries will be attending the one-day time management workshop conducted by Dr. Ivan W. Fitzwater at the high school student center.

Dr. Fitzwater is a former superintendent of the North East Independent School District in San Antonio. He recently joined the faculty of Trinity University as professor of educational administration and director of the university's graduate program in educational administration and supervision. Dr. Fitzwater is also a nationally-recognized authority on time management, a sought-after speaker and the author of two books.

Governors Approve Statements

AFTON, Okla. (AP) - The Midwestern Governors Conference has approved without dissent a statement that says the Carter administration's agricultural inaction is leading many American farmers toward bankruptcy.

The statement, approved Tuesday, also called for "A reduction in meat imports until domestic producers reach at least their production costs," calling the current import formula unfair to American famers and ranchers.

In other actions at their meeting here, the governor issued an appeal to "the federal government to live up to its agreements and provide the states with their full share of water pollution abatement funds."

Governors also went on record opposing any merger of the National Guard with any federal reserve military forces.

"There is strong need for both federal and state military backup forces and a merger can only result in confusion, turbulence, and loss of readiness," said the policy statement adopted without dissent by 13 governors.

Films, pamphlets, and other materials to assist parents, employers, and other persons in understanding and accepting the crippled and in solving problems connected with rehabilitation are available from the Texas Easter Seal Society, 4429 N. Central Expressway, Dallas, Texas, 75205.

Lassie Returns

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Lassie, that indestructible canine of the movies and television, will return to the big screen with James Stewart.

The new Lassie movie will be the first in 26 years, the last being "The Painted Hills" in 1951. Academy Award-winning composers Richard and Robert Sherman have written the original story and score, as well as a number of songs. Rudd Weatherwax is again providing Lassie, using a descendant of the original canine star.

'Creature' Report Is Being Probed

STILWELL, Okla. (AP) - "We don't know what to call it. We don't know how to cope with it and we don't know what to do with it when we find it," Adair County Undersheriff Gary Fain said, referring to a reported mystery creature.

Authorities are investigating a report that a creature described as nine-feet tall, hairy, and having glowing red eyes clawed a 15-year-old boy here.

Several reports of killed and partially slaughtered goats and of missing calves in this area of eastern Oklahoma, near the Arkansas line, are being linked to the investigation, authorities said.

"We don't believe anyone is lying about this," Fain said.

Adair County civil defense officials notified the Sasquatch Investigation of Mid-American Tuesday, hoping to learn if the reported creature could be the legendary Big Foot.

Authorities have been investigating the report of a creature's attack since Saturday, but didn't disclose their investigation until Tuesday for fear of starting a panic.

Brian Jones, 15, told authorities he was attacked by the creature Friday night.

The boy told officials that he was grabbed and scratched, leaving claw marks on his back. The boy also said he was thrown to the ground when friends approached with flashlights.

The reported attack was said to have occured when Jones went outside to investigate after one of his friends saw a pair of red eyes peering through the kitchen window.

Dear Abby

Wants to Turn in 'Defective' Twin

By Abigail Van Buren

1977 by The Chicago Tribune-N.Y.News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My 24-year-old daughter has made a decision that is breaking my heart. I honestly wonder if she's in her right mind.

At 16 she married because she was pregnant, and now she has seven children. The last two are identical twin girls born only five days ago. She and her husband have decided to keep one of the twins, and give the other up for adoption. Abby, can you believe this? Their reason is so terrible, that I'm almost ashamed to tell you.

One of the twins was born with a club foot and a cleft palate. The other twin is perfect. Both are beautiful and otherwise healthy. They want to keep the perfect one and give the other one away. The thought of separating those twin babies makes me sick.

I've tried to tell my daughter that the club foot and cleft palate can be corrected with surgery, but she says that six children are all they can afford.

I offered to take the defective baby, but she says it would create problems to have her in the family. She's already contacted an adoption agency, and a childless couple is waiting to adopt the twin.

Can you help me? Please hurry.

HEARTSICK GRANNY

DEAR GRANNY: Urge your daughter to see a psychiatrist. She could be disturbed, or suffering from a temporary depression from which she would recover. Should she go through with the adoption it will not be final for a year. Perhaps she'll regain her senses by that time, but if so, what a cruel ordeal for the adoptive parents!

DEAR ABBY: My sister has developed an allergy to doing dishes. The minute she starts doing the dishes, she sneezes. It's not just one sneeze, but a long string of them.

Mama says she can't help it, so I have do the dishes alone. What should I do? I think my sister is just trying to get out of doing the dishes.

DISHWASHER

DEAR DISH: Your sister could be allergic to the soap powder or liquid detergent you use for dishwashing. A doctor could determine this. If that's the case, it's time for a change. (What a spot for a commercial!)

DEAR ABBY: This letter is in response to HATES HUNTING. If he doesn't want to go hunting, he doesn't have to, but is he willing to help foot the bill to save wildlife? Hunters contribute about $230 million annually to preserve wildlife. (Also, sport hunting has never endangered a species.)

Sadly, there are slob hunters who drink while hunting, and "shoot everything that moves." Fortunately, they are a small minority, which is growing smaller because in many states there are mandatory safety courses for hunters under age 18 or 24.

As for hunters killing others (or themselves) by mistake, in 1976 there were nearly 100,000 deer hunters in New Mexico, but only six hunting accidents involving guns! (No fatalities.)

Hunters appreciate wildlife more than any other group. Please be fair, Abby, and give us hunters equal time.

L.L. IN N.M.

DEAR L.L.: In the interest of fairness, I'll give hunters equal time. But I still feel that until hunted animals can shoot back, they don't have an equal chance.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope please.

Rollin Kirby, Political cartoonist of the 1920's and '30's, won three Pulitzer Prizes for his drawings.
