'CONCERNED' WITH DEVELOPMENTS

Farm Wage Provisions Likely, Mahon Reports

Congressman George Mahon isn't optimistic about developments in administration policy for recruitment of farm labor across state lines. In a letter recently to leaders here in Colorado City against tightening of wage, transportation and housing requirements in that phase of labor, the congressman said it appeared the Secretary of Labor intended to go ahead with the program first outlined last March.

Mahon said that the requirements in regard to housing will be about the only portion of the program which will be softened. In his letter to leaders here, Mahon reported on an informal conference with Assistant Secretary of Labor Newell Brown on the subject of migratory farm labor. Here is the congressman's own report of the conference: Mr. Brown said that the Attorney General had advised the Secretary of Labor that the Secretary of Labor had the right to specify certain requirements with respect to wages, transportation and housing in the recruitment of farm labor across state lines. In other words, the Attorney General has more or less placed his approval upon the plan for migratory labor which was suggested by the Secretary of Labor last March.

It is anticipated that the proposed regulations with respect to the recruitment of farm labor will be published in the Federal Register before very long. It is anticipated that the ruling of the Attorney General will be made available to the public before very long. It is not available now.

After the proposed regulations have been published in the Federal Register there will be a 30-day period during which a hearing will be held with respect to the feasibility of the proposed regulations.

We were not given all the details at the meeting this afternoon, but it seems that the Secretary, with a few exceptions, is going to proceed with the program which he outlined last March. Apparently, the requirements in regard to housing will be softened, Mahon concluded.

ON MARKET FINANCING

Wool Growers to Vote in September

Sheep producers in Mitchell County will have opportunity to vote in a September nationwide referendum on whether to continue financing a market development program for wool and lambs.

The referendum will extend over the entire month of September to make it easy as possible for growers to participate, according to W. R. (Bob) McGuire, chairman of Mitchell County Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Committee.

Ballot will be mailed to producers from the county ASC office before Sept. 1. Deadline for return of ballots will be Sept. 30.

Voting will relate only to the wool and lamb market development program. It will not affect continuation of the payment program under the three-year extension of the wool act in 1958.

Program of advertising, promotion and related activities is carried out under agreement with American Sheep Producers Council. It is financed by deductions from wool incentive payments earned by growers under the national wool program.

The agreement has been in effect since 1955 marketing year and, if approved in the September referendum, will be continued another three years. Approval requires favorable vote of producers having two-thirds of the volume of production represented in the referendum.

McGuire said the new agreement would provide that de-

HUNT FOR ITEMS CONTINUE

Museum Association's Membership Hits 102

Colorado City Museum Association membership passed the 100 mark Thursday as its officials continued to track down items for the museum.

Lewis Williams, temporary secretary of the association, reported 102 persons had signed as members and paid membership dues. These are all charter members since the charter membership will be open until August.

Officials and leaders in the association met Wednesday in Chamber of Commerce conference room to map additional plans for the museum project.

R. H. (Harry) Ratliff, temporary chairman, reported that additional historical items with definite Mitchell County value had been located in Austin. And the association will seek to obtain these for the museum.

At the same time Ratliff reported that the hunt for museum items was being carried on in other towns across the state as the association project continues.

Four persons have been named to a committee to inspect and study the American Legion Hut, corner of Chestnut and E. Third, in relation to museum use.

The committee — Jeff Taylor, Ratliff, Williams and Chamber Manager Ernie Larmer — will seek to determine the most economical method for converting Legion Hut facilities for the museum.

If their study provides a feasible and economical conversion plan, then the association may be over one of its major problems.

The association, in the meantime, also will check additionally with the local Legion Hut post as to a lease arrangement for facilities within the hut.

Memberships in the association are being sold on a yearly basis — $5 per person, or $7.50 for husband and wife.

Persons desiring membership can contact the Chamber of Commerce office, Ratliff or Williams.

Stock Purchases Climb To $7,270 For Team

Membership Drive To Close Friday

Colorado City Industrial Team Inc. began its final "big push" for stockholders Thursday with 84 firms and individuals already supporting the Team with $7,270.

Volunteer workers in the 10 contact units will conclude the organizational campaign Friday.

The $7,270 in finances already in Team Inc. was revealed at the second report meeting of the community-wide organizational drive. The money, tabulated Tuesday evening, represents cash and pledges for stock purchases in the non-profit corporation for industrial development.

Charlie C. Thompson, the City National Bank president and chairman of the organizational project, urged the contact units to complete all assignments before the Friday evening deadline. "This excellent response in the opening phase of our campaign," Thompson said, "indicates the sincere community-wide interest and support for this program in industrial development."

"And it emphasizes the fact that our organization drive will speed to a successful conclusion if we can only contact those persons who desire to participate as members of the Team."

Thompson's emphasis on the excellent response in the stock sale is based on the fact that the $7,270 in cash and pledges reported Tuesday was from only 84 Team membership cards.

Still remaining on the contact teams' work list were more than 160 prospect cards. See BUILDER Pg. 7 See TEAM Pg. 5

FOR NEW FALL TERM

Five New Teachers Approved By Board for Local Schools

School board Monday night accepted resignation of three teachers and hired five more.

Resigning were Mrs. Pat Fielding, second grade teacher in Primary School, who plans to teach this fall in Midland; Frank Fielding, industrial arts instructor at Colorado High, who is entering the construction business in Midland; and Mrs. Jack McKenney, teacher in Hutchinson Elementary.

Appointed to the public school teaching as new teachers for the fall term were: Mrs. R. M. Tunnell, who will teach girls physical education and direct girls interschool sports at Colorado High. She formerly taught physical education for five years in Van.

Mrs. Fred Smith, who will be fifth grade teacher in Hutchinson Elementary. She taught last year in O'Donnell and formerly was teacher in Arlington and Littlefield schools.

Mrs. James Roberts, who will teach second grade in Primary School. She is a 1958 graduate and elementary education major at University of Texas with teaching experi-

Principal

Arthur Thomas Barrett, Jr., for the last two years principal at Sonora High, will report here Aug. 1 as Colorado City High principal.

SR. & JR. HIGHS

2 Principals Are Selected

New principals for Colorado High and Junior High schools were named Monday night by Colorado Independent School District board of trustees.

Approved by unanimous vote of the board on recommendation of Supt. Frank Wilson were:

Arthur Thomas Barrett, 34, graduate of Baylor University with both bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees, who for the last two years has been Sonora High school principal.

Eugene M. Finley, 41, with degrees from Abilene Christian College and Trinity University, who for the last five years has been high school principal in Los Fresnos.

Both will begin duties here Aug. 1. Barrett as high school principal and Finley as junior high principal.

Barrett, as high school principal, succeeds Charles Graham, who is departing at end of the current summer school session after serving as principal for two years.

At junior high, Finley will replace Curtis Latimer, former school board member and principal there the last two years, who resigned this week to devote full time to his ranching and farming interests.

Barrett will receive a salary of $6,800 at High School, plus $200 guarantee from the annual summer school program. The base salary is the same as paid Graham.

In the Junior High post, Finley will receive a salary of $6,000 — approximately $750 above the state minimum foundation schedule. It will be slightly more than the $5,833 paid Latimer in the last year, but will actually require about $50 less local funds than for the former principal because Finley's M. A. degree results in a larger state apportionment. Latimer had not completed his master's degree work.

Barrett has been in the teaching profession for nine years and has five years of administrative experience. He has completed the second year of a two-year contract at Sonora.

He was an elementary school principal in Hearne from 1953 to 1955, and high school principal at Sterling City from 1955 to 1957.

Originally from West, Barrett received his B. A. degree in 1949 and his M. A. degree See PRINCIPALS Pg. 7

Up a steep mud-choked wash—Positraction pays off!

Through a mountain stream—deep in Avintaquin Canyon.

NO MOUNTAIN CAT, MISTER...

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where pines won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction* rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing! Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig rough mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be a Positraction-equipped 1/2 pickup is the answer for your line of operation. Or maybe a wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what high trucks are made of.

Englishman Speaks To Methodists

Guest speaker for the covered-dish supper for members of the First Methodist Church next Tuesday, July 21, will be Rev. John H. Blamey, minister of the Methodist Church in Ipswich, England, near London.

The fete will be at 7:00 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Rev. Blamey is an exchange minister with Rev. Harry Vanderpool, minister of the First Methodist Church in Snyder. Rev. Vanderpool is now with the Ipswich church, while Rev. Blamey is conducting services in Snyder.

The covered-dish, church supper and meeting is sponsored by the Methodist men group of the church. According to James Trammell, resident of the group, the meeting will constitute their regular monthly meeting.

Hayes Holmans Visit

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Holman last weekend were Holman's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Holman, Jerry and John Hayes of Auburn, Washington.

Hayes Holman, a former resident of Colorado City, is superintendent of schools at Auburn.

The Holman family also visited with two more of Hayes Holman's brothers, W. W. Holman and T. L. Holman.

Candidate comes from a Latin word meaning "white-robed." It was first applied to Roman office-seekers who were required to wear white garments.

ANNELLE HOLMAN'S

Personally Yours

Most of us have been traveling lately whether by car, bus, or train. Our main means of travel is by car. But, do we ever think about the main thing that we miss when traveling in the family car?—People.

It always amazes me to see all the different types, sizes, and personalities of people or to think about the various people that I have met while riding a bus, for example—

The old man who had lost all of his oil-well-covered land to his swindling sister—

A young girl who was a friend of a friend of mine—

The woman with her five diamond rings and mink coat who was afraid that a Negro would sit down near her—

The little old woman who had just returned from her first trip to Arizona—and wouldn't trade one little piece of Texas for that whole desert state—

The young boy who had played football for University of Houston, quit and joined the Army, but was already regretting his mistake—

A man that insisted that I was attending the wrong college and even living in the wrong part of Texas—

The foreign girl who was making a tour of the United States after she had regretfully said goodbye to her loved ones—

The boy who was saving money from two jobs—hoping to return to college the next year—

The woman in levis with her true confession magazine and unkempt hair—

The pretty girl who had no parents and who was taking turns living with her cousins—

Funny thing—about people that we meet while traveling. They spill out all their troubles, family feuds, and opinions about everything—because they have never met us before and have the slightest chance of seeing us again.

TEAM

They had started the job with a total of 250.

In addition, persons not on the original contact list were seeking out Team Inc. leaders and backing their support for the corporation with stock membership purchases.

"Our business and professional men throughout the community are pitching in ready and willing," Thompson said, "but any person who desires a part in this community development project are earnestly invited to become a Team member."

"Those persons not already contacted by one of our 10 units should contact the Chamber of Commerce office or Glenn R. (Bob) Robinson or myself (Thompson) before the Friday deadline."

A large number of firms and individuals purchasing stock memberships in the corporation are making pledges over a three-year period.

Sometimes It's Wise to Be a Little Hoggish

There are times for giving to others . . . and there are times for looking out for ourselves . . . times when charity is appropriate . . . times when there's not even spiritual profit in it.

One of the most common and least profitable forms of giving is the making of unpremeditated donations to the growth and prosperity of other towns and cities . . . through unnecessary out-of-town buying.

Trade in Colorado City

... where your trade creates prosperity you can share

Trade builds communities. Trade is the father of Prosperity. There is no other source of better jobs, better business, better social facilities for the community in which we live.

Except when they're in real need we don't give to strangers the food and clothing nor the automobiles which our money buys . . . why isn't it also wise to keep for ourselves and our children the community-invigorating Vitamin $ that is part of the returns — to someone — for every dollar we spend?

INDIANS AND GIANTS

Little League Leaders Continue Winning Pace

By RONNY GURLEY
Record Sports Writer

Little League was in full swing this week before a week off next week for area all-star action.

Monday night the Giants moved past the Pirates by the tune of 11-4. The Giants got an early lead as two consecutive batters were hit by pitched ball and hurler Skipper Warren singled them home for a 2-0 lead that they never gave up.

Pirate hurler James Taylor absorbed the Pirate loss and Warren garnered the win for the Giants.

Second game of the evening saw the Yankees up end the Tigers, 9-4.

The Tigers took 1-0 lead in the first on a single and three base passes.

The Yanks came back in the second with Wayne Parham driving in a pair of runs with a single off David Taylor. They maintained the lead to coast to their eighth win of the season.

The Yanks are still pressing the Giants for second place lacking just a few percentage points being tied for the position.

The powerful Indians cruised by the last place Dodgers, 14-5, in Tuesday night's only league action. The Dodgers held the Indians scoreless until the third inning when the Indians bunched three base hits to take a 2-0 lead.

The Indians scored two more in the fourth and had a big inning in the fifth featured by Possum Mann and Jimmie Currie, who both doubled to drive in four of the five runs picked up that inning.

The Dodgers stormed back in the fifth to score five runs and make it 9-5, but a grand slam homer by Currie in the sixth was the clincher for the Indians.

John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" is said to be read more widely than any book in the English language except the Bible.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Teens Lose to Wallace Stars After 19-0 Hermleigh Win

Action this week in Teen-agers down via the strikeout route.

Age baseball say the locals win a game Monday night and lose one Tuesday.

Monday night the teens slaughtered Hermleigh's teen-agers, 19-0. Tuesday night the tables were turned as the powerful Wallace All-Stars clipped the CCitians, 9-0.

Monday's contest opened with the locals jumping to a quick three run first inning lead.

Scoring came when lead off hitter Steve Smith singled, followed by Lucky Merket, who singled, then power man Don Vest lifted a fast ball over the center field fence, to unload the bases and produce the three runs.

The young Hermleighians were unable to cope with the one-hit pitching Steve Hill-house who set fourteen batters down via the strikeout route.

Second sacker Steve Smith led the seventeen hit parade, batting four of five and personally scoring five runs.

Hermleigh lefty Bill Young went the distance to receive the loss.

Tuesday night on the local diamond the talent loaded Wallace All-Stars beat Teens, 9-0, behind the stout pitching of Ernest Biggers, who went the distance and relinquished only five hits to pick up the victory.

Teenagers' starter Daniel Garcia turned in a fine performance the first three frames by shutting out the All-Stars without a safety.

The dam broke in the fourth however when with two away, Wallace scored three runs on a fielding error by Lucky Merket, a walk by Melvin Biggers and back to back singles by David Alexander and Charles Christian.

The Teenagers were unable to push across a single run on their five scattered hits.

Their longest blows were triples by Dwayne Thomason in the third inning and by Ronnie Bassinger in the fourth stanza. Next week the locals tangle with Hermleigh on Tuesday night and Wallace Thursday night, both contests will be on the local diamond at 8:00 p. m.

PONY LEAGUE GAMES

Braves Beat Cards as A's Win 12th Straight

Monday action in the Pony League provided the fans with plenty of action.

The first game of the evening was a delayed affair between the Braves and the Cards, the Braves emerging victorious by beating the Cards, 8-4.

The Braves led from the start and were never checked. They collected eight hits off starter Frank Biggers, whom they battered for four runs in the second inning. Biggers was relieved by Bill McGuire, a converted catcher, who turned in a fine job the last three frames slowing the Braves with his booming fast ball, but once again Cardinals errors proved to be the margin.

The Cards were able to collect only three safe blows off Bill Erwin who went the distance for the Braves.

The nightcap was a hard fought affair with the unblemished A's storming to their 12th straight victory with the White Sox absorbing the loss, 8-3.

They collected two runs in the first with a single by Dick Summers, a walk by Mike Andrews and a line drive triple by pitcher Charles Houston.

The Sox stormed back in the home half of the second to tie it up with a bases loaded fielder's choice and a round tripper by Sox second sacker Brad Rose.

The high scoring A's pulled ahead 5-2 in the first of the third via walks and a homer by shortstop Andrews. The A's were never headed the rest of the way.

The Sox's other marker came in the sixth with a four bagger by Junior Garcia with nobody aboard.

Tonight's action found the A's and the Braves in the opener and the Sox against the Cards in the season finale.

Team Inc. Strength in Wide Appeal

An interesting feature in the organizational move for Colorado City Industrial Team Inc. is the wide base of support for the project. This is evidenced in the fact that those wanting a place on the team as stockholders are not from just the usual business firms of the community. These stockholders are coming from all walks of life.

For instance, those who have joined the Team Inc. as stockholders include an oil field tool pusher who wanted to sign a pledge... a widow who purchased her share of stock... a school teacher with sincere desire to be a part of community development... a government employee who said he was part of the community and wanted to help, too... a business man's secretary recognizing community growth and progress benefits her job and family.

It is noteworthy, also, most of the likes of these outside the usual business channels have come forward with their Team Inc. support spontaneously and without solicitation.

Naturally, the business, industrial and professional interests of this community should and will provide the bulk of the interest and financial support that will make the Team Inc. stock sale a success. This is natural, either by economics or civic responsibility.

But the wide appeal of the stock sale and, in turn, the freewill support underlines a pertinent fact: Team Inc. is a community project for benefit of the community as a whole. And citizens are rightly recognizing it as such.

True, Team Inc. is for the purpose of industrial development. Industrial development, however, breeds progress and economic stability and thrives on educational, cultural and church development within a community.

Industry and community are inseparable links for community betterment and advancement. Numerous citizens, like these just now mentioned, are finding Team Inc. their best opportunity to bring the two together in strength within their own community.

Farm Safety

Farm work accidents claim about 3,500 lives each year, which is more than any other major industry. About 12,000 farm residents lose their lives each year in all types of accidents.

And a million or more farm people suffer accidental injuries and the accompanying disabilities, miseries and financial troubles each year.

Pretty grim statistics, aren't they? To make the picture more grim, the National Safety Council says many of the deaths are somebody's fault—and could be prevented.

This is the reason the President has proclaimed the week, beginning July 19, as National Farm Week and requests all persons and organizations interested in the welfare of farm people to support and participate in its observance.

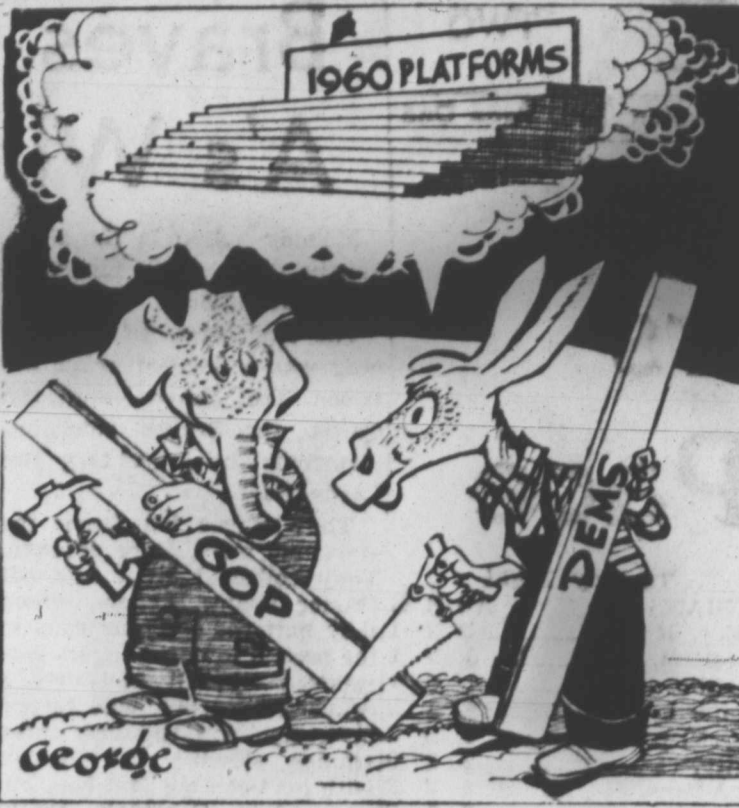

The National Safety Council says human failure—ignorance and carelessness—are the main causes of farm accidents each year.

As individuals, rural residents can help in the battle against farm accidents by making regular inspections of their homes, buildings, fields, machinery and equipment. A little repair and extra care is about all it takes to bring safety home to the farm.

As groups, farmers can work for safety, too. Rural organizations should make accident prevention a part of their activity, a feature on their programs, a subject of their discussions.

'About Time to Saw Those Planks!'

WASHINGTON REPORT

'59 Action Is Tip On Farm Supports

By CLINTON DAVIDSON
Special Correspondent

The collapse of efforts to adopt new wheat legislation this year is overshadowed by an increasing possibility that the end is nearing for all farm price support and production control laws.

A majority of Congress has been reluctant to move toward repeal of those laws, though President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson argue that farmers and the nation would be better off without them.

The wheat bill finally sent to the White House, but vetoed, called for both higher price supports and more stringent production controls. Mr. Benson told Congress it was "moving in the wrong direction."

"The nationwide cry among farmers," he said in a strongly worded statement opposing the wheat bill, "is for more freedom." Taxpayers, he said, want to get farmers off their back.

"At a time when the nation is shocked with the expensive wheat program," Benson said, "the Congress considers a bill that is even more costly. Taxpayers on the farm and in the villages and cities have a right to object to such fiscal irresponsibility."

Backers of the wheat bill, on the other hand, argued that the 25% cut in acreage allotments if proposed would have reduced production by 300 million bushels and lowered costs by $270 million dollars a year.

The most significant thing about the wheat bill debate was the clear indication that the tide of congressional, and perhaps public, opinion is turning against farm programs that add billions of dollars to government budgets each year.

Defenders of the programs contend that abandonment of them would bankrupt a majority of farmers and drag the nation down into another depression comparable to that of 1929-33. Those who hold this view are, however, a slim majority in Congress.

There is good reason for the gloom that has spread from wheat growers to the grocers of corn, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts, the other crops which have both production controls and minimum price supports set by Congress.

The Commodity Credit Corporation owns or has loans on nearly $9 billion worth of those six basic commodities. Storage costs alone on those surpluses run to almost a billion dollars a year.

It was the so-called "city vote" on Congress that turned the tide against the wheat bill raising price supports from 75% to 90% of parity. Their contention was that it would both raise the price of bread and increase price support costs.

Seven times this year President Eisenhower asked Congress to pass a wheat bill that would let prices in the open market determine how much of the grain farmers grow. Seven times Congress said it would not agree to the big reduction in growers' income that would result from cut-throat pricing.

IN RE-ELECTION CAMPAIGN

Lawmakers to Find 'Hangover' In State's Summer Tax Battle

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Whatever the outcome of the summer tax battle, when the smoke has all cleared, the fire won't be out.

Like live coals banked in ashes, the tax issue will be ready to flame up again when new fuel is added.

Sources of new fuel are easily foreseeable.

Every member of this Legislature, by his voting record, expressed a tax viewpoint. Many of them will have to face opponents attacking this viewpoint in the 1960 elections. Since a new law moves primaries up by two months, campaigning will begin long before the dogwood is out... maybe while the Christmas lights are up.

Many candidates may be wary of lighting into an issue on which it's almost impossible to take an all-around popular stand. But whoever gets elected and comes to Austin in 1961 will find the old tax monster waiting, bigger and fiercer than ever.

This Legislature will likely enact just barely enough new taxes, mostly on "old favorite" sources, to cover the budget. But the 1961 budget will have to be bigger. For some time population growth and other factors have kept budgets going up by about 10 per cent every two years.

Additionally, there will be, as always, demand for new programs, new buildings, new spending. Hale - Alkin school improvement program alone would call for at least a $100,000,000 tax bill.

Only hope for avoiding an even hotter tax battle in '61 is for 1960 voters to give their elected officials clear instructions on what they want and how they're willing to pay for it.

BATTLE LINES — Show-down fight of the second called session came on a $90,000,000-a-year tax bill based on about three-fourths selective sales taxes, one-fourth business taxes.

It was in line with expressed sentiments of the Senate, but many House members regarded it as "another insult." All the five Senators and five House members on the conference committee that worked out the bill signed the report and recommended adoption.

It was designed to get revenue from these sources over a 2-year period.

Tobacco — Cigarettes up 3 cents a pack (for two years—then back to one cent) to raise $60,000,000. Other tobacco products, except snuff, a 25 per cent tax to raise $13,500,000.

Natural Gas — raise in the production tax from 7 to 8 per cent to bring in $12,000,000.

Corporation Franchises — increase of 75 cents per $1,000 capital to May, 1960, 50 cent increase thereafter, to raise $32,000,000.

Utilities — a 20 per cent increase in gross receipts tax except for telephone and telegraph, for $3,000,000.

Motor Vehicles — increase in sales tax from 1.1 to 1.6 per cent, for $20,400,000.

Beverages — liquor up from $1.408 to $1.68 a gallon, wine up 20 per cent, for $6,000,000.

Boats, Motors, Airplanes — a new 1.6 per cent sales tax, for $3,250,000.

Radio, Televisions, Phonographs — a 2.2 per cent sales tax, for $6,000,000.

Cameras — temporary 10 per cent sales tax for $6,000,000.

Provisions for more vigorous tax collecting would bring an estimated $4,000,000 more.

INSURANCE BILL — Out of the House-Senate conflict over the State Board of Insurance came a reorganization bill aimed at getting rid of at least some present officials.

Sen. Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford introduced the bill calling for organization of a new three-member, full-time Board of Insurance.

One member would be designated Commissioner at a $20,000 salary. One would be the chairman at $15,000; another, a member at $15,000. Nothing in the bill says present members could not be appointed, but all appointments would be subject to Senate confirmation.

Senators tried to oust present Commissioner William A. Harrison two years ago, were balked by Board Chairman Penn Jackson and an Attorney General's ruling that they lacked this authority.

Since then Senate hostility toward Jackson and Harrison has been open and frank. Senate appropriation bill slashed salaries to one-third time for Board members. House held out for full-time Board.

Senate's counter-offer was the reorganization bill... with a full-time Board to please the House and a chance to name new members to please the Senate.

LET NATURE BE — a group of West Texas ranchers won another round in their court fight to force a cloud-seeding firm to leave the weather alone.

Texas Supreme Court upheld an injunction to stop a "weather modifying" program by Southwest Weather Research, Inc.

Weather Research had been hired by a group of Fort Stockton cotton farmers to drop silver iodide pellets into clouds that threatened to bring crop-destroying hail storms.

Water-loving ranchers brought suit. They contended the cloud seeding not only chased off the hail but moisture of all kinds.

INSURANCE CUT — State Board of Insurance has ordered reductions in auto insurance rates ranging from 10 to 15 per cent in some parts of the state.

Effective date is Aug. 1. Most of the cuts will stem from a reduction in expenses, such as agent commissions, rather than low accident rates. State-wide the cuts will amount to about $226,000,000, saving some drivers as much as $20 a year.

In some areas, mostly larger cities, the drop will be smaller, and in a few counties the rate will rise.

Board Chairman Penn Jackson said that a merit rating plan, setting lower rates for accident-free drivers, will be made later.

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

Public Relations Isn't for Farmer

Editor's note: The Shinnery Flats Philosopher on his Johnson Creek farm on Bone Hollow Grass claims he's found a new angle to The farm problem this week.

Dear editor,

As a lifetime student of the farm problem, not of what I think it is but what other people think it is, I'll have to admit that this week I have run across a brand new idea on the subject.

According to an article I read in a newspaper day before yesterday — I think it was day before yesterday, when you don't do any more one day than the next, they all run together — the farmer "is suffering today because of bad public relations."

According to this fellow, since 88 per cent of the people live in towns or cities, the public has a grossly mistaken picture of the farmer and the farmer, if he's smart, will do something to "improve his public relations."

Right now, he continued, the people look on the farmer as (1) a hayseed, or (2) a profiteer responsible for the high cost of living, or (3) the biggest hog at the public trough, depending on the government to take care of him.

Now I don't know which one of these images you city people have when you think of me, but that Number 2 picture is the one I wish was right.

For one farming year, just one, I'd like to be a profiteer. You could throw Number 1 in it'd be all right. I wouldn't mind. I wouldn't care if you thought I was a hayseed, just so long as I was profiteering. And as far as the government taking care of me goes, it's a beautiful dream, but I've never been able to swing it.

This man went on to emphasize that us farmers ought to do something about our public relations, do something to change the public's image of us. Well, I guess we could hire some of those Madison Avenue boys, they do a pretty good job of making a politician's image over in the public's eye, but I can't think of anyway I'd rather look in the public's eye that'd make me feel any better in my own eye.

Besides, by the time I get through paying for my equipment, my gas and oil and tires and repairs and clothes and taxes, I don't have anything left for a public relations expert.

Appearing prosperous never did appeal to me. There's millions of those folks in the country now, especially in the towns and cities. Nothing less than the genuine article will ever suit me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

BIBLE COMMENT

Bible Is Man's Search for God

The history of religion among the Jews, which produced the Bible; the Old Testament in its beginning, is the story of the search for God, the truth concerning man himself, his relations with his fellow men, his responsibilities and destiny in a world of right and wrong, and all the mysteries of life, suffering, and death.

Revelation did not come all at once. The Bible in its many books offers the surest evidence that, as the Bible itself says, "holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

The evidence is of the Bible growing out of human experience. The writers of the Bible had to experience it, before they could write it.

The experience began, as the Bible itself shows, in a dim apprehension of the nature of God, far removed from the vision of God in the face of Jesus Christ, or from the visions of the great Hebrew prophets.

No view of the Bible is true to the Bible itself that does not take into account the factor of progressive revelation, of progress in the search for God and the knowledge of Him.

But, having said that, the nature and meaning of that progression must not be misunderstood. It does not mean that earlier perceptions were untrue; only that they were partial and inadequate.

They were way-points in man's quest of God, glimmers toward the full realization of the "Light of the World" in Jesus.

LOCAL BUSINESS

Don't Battle Our Women Readers

By ROY V. FOX
Record Co-Publisher

The newspaper which would entirely please every reader has never been published.

An editor learns to expect complaints about everything from his usage of a comma to the spelling of a name. Occasionally he hears complaints about the amount of advertising his paper carries.

Perhaps any editor could do a little better job of proof-reading; but even if he wished to, there is nothing he can do about the elimination of advertising.

No newspaper has been able to exist in this country without the income from advertising. Even if such a paper were possible, very few people would be interested in subscribing to a newspaper which did not contain advertising.

A study conducted at Northwestern University's school of journalism makes it clear that housewives, for instance, would not tolerate a newspaper devoid of advertising.

A large sample of Chicago housewives were asked: If they would prefer their newspapers with or without advertising. Newspapers with advertising were favored by 93 per cent of the women. In fact, 44 per cent of the women indicated that newspaper advertising was more useful to them than any other form of advertising.

In contrast to the high regard for newspaper advertising, 63 per cent of the women said they would prefer radio without advertising. Only five per cent of the housewives indicated that they found radio more useful than other forms of advertising according to the Northwestern study.

So there you have it. What editor would wish to do battle with 90 per cent of his female readership?

What subscriber would wish to pay five times the present subscription rate to get a newspaper without advertising?

The women for whom scanty bathing suits are designed seldom wear them; the other type always buy up the available supply.

An old-timer is a fellow who remembers when kids on every block set up lemonade stands during July.

FOR WEEK'S SHOWING

'Around the World Due at Lone Wolf

Michael Todd's Academy Award winning "Around the World in 80 Days" will begin the Lone Wolf Drive In theater Friday and continue week's run through Thursday, July 23.

The technicolor comedy adventure hit holds a host of records in the motion picture world, having acquired over 80 world wide awards and honors, and five Oscars.

Starring Academy Award winner, David Niven, the hilarious Mexican comic, Cantinflas, Robert Newton and Shirley MacLaine, "Around the World" also features 44 other stars, each playing a part germane to the show. Some of these luminaries are such favorites as Marlene Dietrich, Frank Sinatra, George Raft, Red Skelton, Ronald Coleman, Charles Boyer, Fernandel, Buster Keaton and many others.

Another record for "80 Days" is the most people photographed in separate world-wide locations: 68,894 persons (all on the payroll) in 13 different foreign countries. A record-breaking 74,685 costumes were designed, made and/or rented to clothe this spectacular cast.

Also for the record, the Todd production traveled the most air miles to make the show — 4,000,000; it used the most sets — 140 actual locations as well as the stages of six Hollywood studios plus those in England, Hong Kong and Japan; and it used the most properties ever employed in a film.

To cap the list, "Around the World in 80 Days" has become the world's most honored show. No other film ever received as many awards and honors. Aside from the five Academy Awards, over eighty top-flight honors have been bestowed upon it by organizations, critics, and even governments all around the world.

SATURDAY also brings the kid show, "The Night the World Exploded" starring Kathryn Grant and William Leslie.

SUNDAY-MONDAY-TUESDAY: Bob Hope's newest comedy, "Alias Jesse James," co-starring Rhonda Fleming, is a United Artist production in Color by DeLuxe.

STARTING FRIDAY and continuing through Thursday, July 23, will be Mike Todd's big show, "Around the World in 80 Days," starring Academy Award winner, David Niven, and co-starring Shirley MacLaine and Robert Newton.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bob Long of Colorado City were supper guests in the Loraine home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Jones, Sunday. Their daughters, Sherri and Terri, returned with them after spending the weekend with grandparents.

INSECTS INCREASE

Fleahoppers Show In County Cotton

(Editor's Note: Following report was prepared for The Record by Texas Agricultural Extension Service in co-operation with Plant Pest Control Branch, USDA.)

Although infestations of some cotton insects increased during the past week, leafspot diseases caused most concern in many localities.

Weather conditions have been favorable to the spread of the diseases.

Thrips were present in light to medium infestations in most sections. Occasional heavy populations of the insects were reported on late planted cotton. Infestations decreased in many fields, particularly in earlier plantings.

Fleahoppers were reported in light to medium infestations throughout the area. In most localities numbers had increased somewhat over those of a week ago.

Heaviest infestations were present on the early planted cotton, especially in Cochran, Crosby, Floyd, Gaines, Howard, and Mitchell Counties.

Since infestations were often spotted, plants should be checked at several points within a field in order to secure an accurate record on populations of the insect.

Aphid infestations increased rapidly in many fields. While late planted cotton generally had heaviest populations, some old cotton developed sufficient infestations to require control.

Heaviest infestations were reported in Bailey and Dawson Counties, but some fields in Lubbock County had damaging populations of the insect.

Bollworm activity increased in many fields. No damaging infestations were reported, but scattered eggs and small worms were found in an increasing number of fields.

Cabbage loopers were present in somewhat greater numbers than during the past week. Infestations were light in most fields where found. Grasshoppers were reported in light infestations in Gaines, Garza, Hockley, Scurry and Yoakum Counties. The hoppers continued to cause some damage in scattered fields in Swisher County.

The information contained in the Cotton Insect Situation release has been compiled from reports received from county agents, voc. agri. teachers, personnel of Texas A & M College System, branches of the U. S. Dept. of Agri., commercial cotton inspectors, chemical companies, and others.

Because of these extra summertime chores, your home wiring may not be adequate to let Reddy do his best work. If your lights dim when your refrigerator comes on, if your electric iron heats up slowly, if fuses blow frequently due to overloads, it's a sign of low HOUSEPOWER. New Director For Cotton Classing Job

A native farm boy of this area and a graduate of Leuders High School, B. B. Manly Jr., takes charge of the Abilene cotton classing office of the Agricultural Marketing Service, July 19.

The office is the classing center for Mitchell County cotton.

The post was held for many years by H. J. Matejowsky until he died in June.

Manly has eight years of experience in classing cotton at Lubbock, various south Texas points, Memphis, Tenn. and most recently, Little Rock, where he was a supervisory classer.

A graduate in agriculture from Sam Houston State Teachers College, Manly also attended Abilene Christian College. He served two years with the U. S. Navy.

The Abilene AMS cotton office serves farmers, ginners and members of the cotton trade in 29 west Texas cotton producing counties — Baylor, Brown, Callahan, Coke, Concho, Coleman, Dickens, Fisher, Glasscock, Haskell, Howard, Jones, Kent, Knox, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Nolan, Reagan, Runnels, Schleicher, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens, Stonewall, Taylor, Throckmorton, Tom Green and Young.

In this area, there are 24 cotton improvement groups organized under the Smith-Dooley Act, representing more than 16,000 farmers. Mr. McCotton office classed more cotton to 172 gins.

Last year, the Abilene AMS cotton office classed more than 434,000 bales of cotton, most of it for farmers in cotton improvement groups, which get this USDA service plus market news without cost.

The office is located at 248 Leggett Drive. Mail should be addressed to P. O. Box 2001, Abilene.
