

Diapause Weevil Spraying Begins in Area Sept. 8

The 1970 Diapause Boll Weevil spraying program will be carried out during September, with the first spraying set for Tuesday, Sept. 8.

Elbert Watts, chairman of the program, explained that although boll weevil infestation is light, it will be necessary to carry out the spraying this year in order for the county to remain in the State-Federal assistance program.

Growers who want to have their cotton sprayed can begin signing up at the Marian Airpark office Wednesday, Sept. 2, according to Duggie Jameson of Wellington Flying Service, which has the spraying contract.

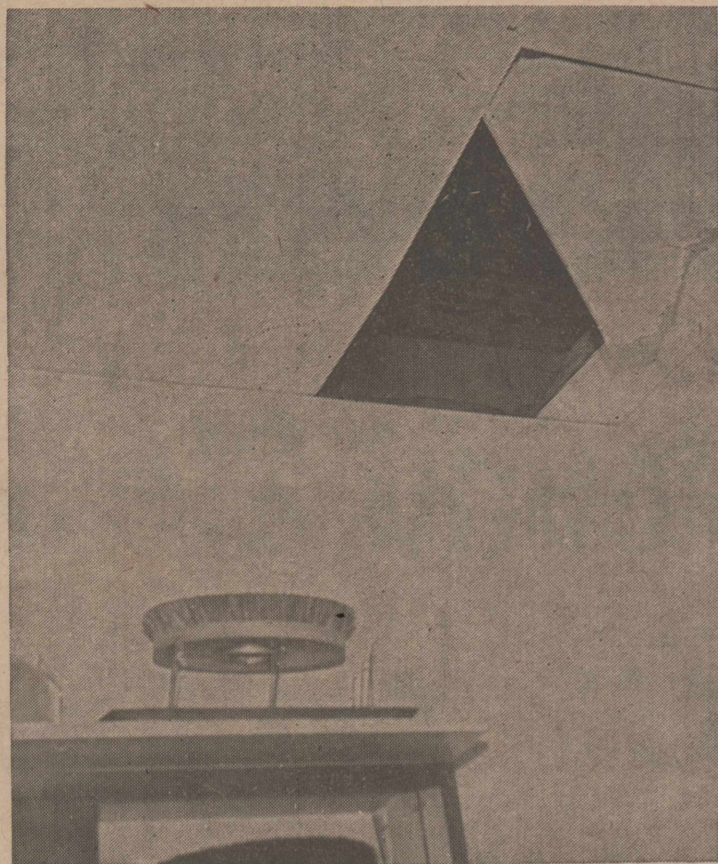

The cost to growers will be 90 cents per acre, with the state and federal governments matching this for a total cost of $1.80 per acre.

Jameson estimated that funds will cover spraying for approximately 25,000 acres, which will provide several applications for those wishing to go into the program.

The territory to be covered will be the same as in 1969, all of Collingsworth County and Childress County north of Red River.

Cotton will be sprayed at 7-day intervals, unless weather makes delays necessary, and growers must sign up for each week at least 24 hours before the spraying is scheduled.

Working with the Diapause Boll Weevil Control program in this county will be Charles Holt, entomologist with the Texas Department of Agriculture, who formerly lived at Samnorwood.

ENTRY ROUTE

Burglars who opened a hole in the roof of Parsons Drug, then knocked out this panel and apparently stepped on the cabinet top at lower left to complete entry. The burglary was broken up by Night Marshal Junior Owens early Sunday, August 30.

All Riders Eligible in Junior Horse Show

Plans were outlined this week for the Junior Horse Show on Saturday, Sept. 19, one of the events associated with the Collingsworth County Fair. It will start at 9:00 a.m. at the VFW Rodeo Arena and run until all events are completed.

This will be sponsored by the Collingsworth County 4-H Horse Club and will be conducted under 4-H rules, said County Agent Don Reeves.

The show, however, is open to all boys and girls 18 years of age and under, from any part of the country. Most of the entries will come from the counties of the lower Panhandle and southwestern Oklahoma but other entries are due from as far as New Mexico and possibly Kansas.

There will be halter and performance classes.

The All Around Cowboy and Cowgirl will be named in each

Three age groups are slated for the performance classes, 10 years and under, 11 through 13 years and 14 through 18 years.

The regular 4-H performance events will be featured: barrel racing, pole bending, western pleasure riding and reining, plus a special event, the ring race, Mr. Reeves said.

The showmanship award recipient will be chosen from all ages together in the halter division.

The All Around Cowboy and Cowgirl will be named in each

Charles Carter Heads County Red Cross

Charles Carter, pharmacist at Parsons Drug, was named Collingsworth County Red Cross chairman in a called meeting Friday, Aug. 28.

He succeeds Jack Neeley, who resigned due to increased business duties.

Another called meeting will be held Thursday evening, Sept. 3, at 8:00 p.m. in the staff room of St. Joseph's Hospital.

Any person interested in working with the Red Cross in any capacity is invited, Mr. Carter said.

Plans for the annual fund drive will be started. The quota and the date of the drive will be announced after the Thursday meeting, said Mr. Carter.

He pointed out that $389 is presently due the National Red Cross to cover the Red Cross Blood Bank agreement for the period July 1, 1970 to June 30, 1971.

This agreement must remain in force if St. Joseph's Hospital is to receive its blood from the Red Cross Blood Center.

Most of the Friday night meeting was given over to completing plans for the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Wellington Tuesday, Sept. 1.

Clyde Martin Dies Suddenly Sunday Evening

Clyde William Martin, 112 Amarillo Street, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital at 6:15 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 30, shortly after he became critically ill at his home. He had been in ill health for a number of years.

Mr. Martin was a retired contractor.

A native Texan, he was born Jan. 21, 1904 at Avery, the son of H. A. and Anna Salsman Martin. He came to Collingsworth County more than 50 years ago.

On Feb. 1, 1925, he was married to Miss Dovie Killough in Wellington.

Mr. Martin was a member of the Full Gospel Tabernacle.

Funeral services were conducted at 4:00 p.m. Tuesday, at the Assembly of God. Officiating were the Rev. Tom Rogers, pastor, and the Rev. A. A. Daily of Irving, a former pastor here.

Burial was in Memorial Gardens under the direction of Kelson Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Robert Posey, Hubert Bowen, Roy Eason of Shamrock, Raymond Barger of Waxahachie, George Howard

Farm Program Payments Give Three Million Dollar Boost

Money paid to farmers and ranchers for compliance with the 1970 Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation program has given Collingsworth County economy a three-million dollar shot in the arm during its driest July and August in history.

Through Friday, Aug. 28, payments totaled $3,048,407.88, according to Bob Weatherly, county executive director.

Almost half a million dollars—$471,969.90—was received by the Wellington ASCS office on that day.

During this period deposits in the Wellington banks have reached an all time high and money from the ASC program is credited with being one of the major factors.

C. T. Hubbard, president of Wellington State Bank, said a peak was reached Thursday, Aug. 27, when deposits were $8,430,000.

"And in the worst drought in our history," he added.

Jeff Wilson, president of City State Bank, reported an all-time high figure.

On Aug. 25, deposits rose to $3,500,000 and deposits and capital accounts were at that time $3,900,000.

Farmers and ranchers have been using this money to pay off loans incurred to raise the current crop.

The July and August ACP payments represent most of the farm payment money the county will receive for compliance under the 1970 program, Mr. Weatherly said.

Only a small number of operators have yet to receive wheat, feed grain and cotton money, and these are the ones who were late in completing certification.

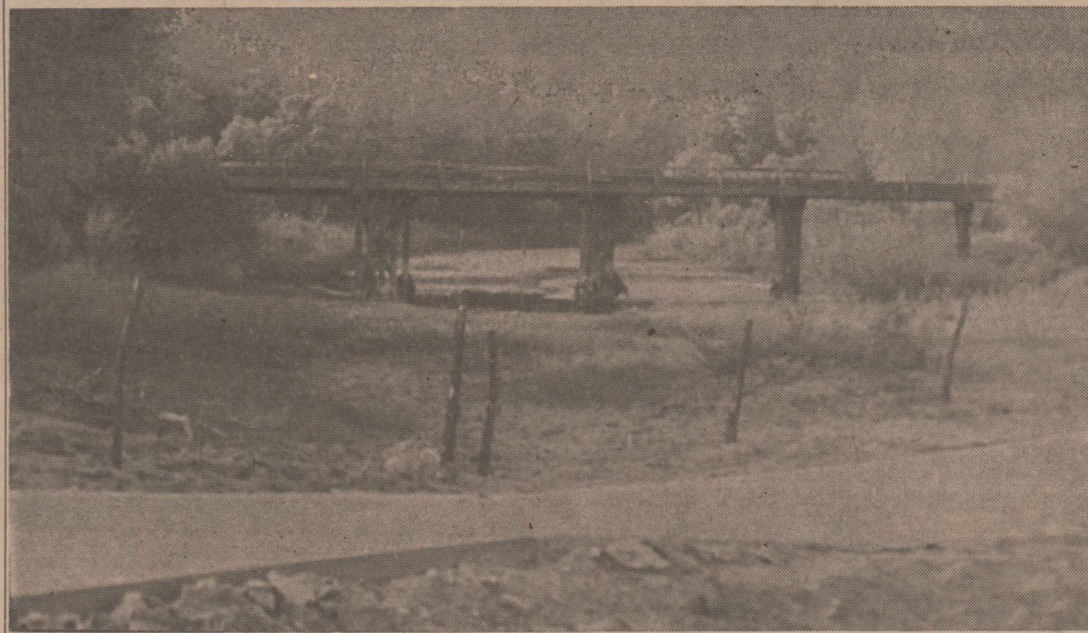

All applications for payment have gone to the New Orleans office of ASCS, where checks are made out.

There also remains $91,267.45 to be paid Collingsworth operators still in the Cropland Adjustment Program (soil bank).

These checks should begin arriving in October and involve 60 farms, Mr. Weatherly said.

The three million dollars that has been paid covers wheat certificates, the feed grain price support, diversion payments, and the cotton price support.

The first checks began arriving in early July and approximately $1.25 million had been paid by the end of the month. The remainder arrived from time to time through August.

NEW BUCK CREEK CROSSING

The new low water crossing, foreground, lies across the bed of Buck Creek 9 miles west and one-half south of Wellington. At back is the bridge it replaces, which was condemned as unsafe by the commissioners court earlier this summer.

Water Level Still Low

Limited Use of Water No Longer Needed

Voluntary limits on the use of water on lawns and washing cars is no longer necessary, Mayor John Coleman said Monday while thanking the people of Wellington for the wholehearted manner in which they had voluntarily restricted the use of water since June 18.

At that time residents were asked to water lawns on Sunday, Monday, Wednesday and Friday and during daylight hours, and service stations were asked to limit car washings to Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Continued conservative use of water until it rains was asked by Mayor Coleman since the water level is still nine feet below normal at the wells.

He also said the City Council wished to express its appreciation for the voluntary cooperation during unprecedented weather.

Crash Damages Station, Car, Driver Unhurt

Jerome Bradshaw of Pampa escaped without injury when his car went out of control at the corner of 8th Street and Highway 83, took out two gasoline pumps and the big Enco sign at the Davis Enco Station Sunday afternoon, Aug. 30, Sheriff John Rainey reported.

John Holton, owner of the station, estimated damage to the pumps and to the company-owned sign at around $4,500.

Damage to Bradshaw's car was estimated by Sheriff Rainey at $700 to $800.

According to the sheriff, Bradshaw, who was traveling north, started to pass Grady Phillips, saw an oncoming car and pulled back to the left. As he did he clipped the bumper of the Phillips pickup and lost control of his car.

Silverton Man to Preach in Dodson Meeting

A revival meeting will be held at the Church of Christ at Dodson from Sunday, Sept. 6 through the following Sunday, Sept. 13.

The evangelist will be Earl Cantwell of Silverton.

"This is his first meeting at Dodson, but Mr. Cantwell is an evangelist of considerable experience, with more than 40 years of preaching," said Van Bonneau, minister of the Dodson church.

Services will be held at 10:30 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. on Sundays and at 8:00 p.m. during the week.

Band Parents Club to Meet September 7

The first regular meeting of the Band Parents Club will be held Monday night, Sept. 7 at 7:30 p.m., in the Band Hall, O. V. Johnson, president, has announced.

Committee chairmen were named at a called business meeting of the organization on Aug. 10.

These are: concessions, King Bowen; program advertising, Mrs. Bill Hatch and Mrs. Sam McGill; sandwiches, Mrs. Ernest Maxwell; also Workers, Mrs. Jim Cochran; ice, Bob McAlister; coffee, Mrs. Dick Pendleton; bus rides, Mrs. McGill; game program sales, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Peters; hot dogs, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hatch; and publicity, Mrs. James Sullivan.

The possibility of building a new concession stand at the west side of the football field will be investigated, Mr. Johnson said.

Musician Returns

First Baptist Revival Scheduled Sept. 7-13

Revival services will open at First Baptist Church Monday, Sept. 7, and continue through the following Sunday, Sept. 13.

The Rev. Roy Collins, Jr., pastor, will preach, and the team in charge of music will be Billy and Winky Foote.

Longview.

Mr. Foote was in charge of the music for a revival at the church earlier in the year.

Services will begin at 7:30 p.m. each evening except Friday. On that night, they will start at 6:30 so that those wishing to may then attend the first football game of the season.

Two special events are planned. There will be an all-church fellowship after the Monday night service.

Following the football game Friday, there will be a get-together at the church with food, fun and fellowship.

The nursery will be open and transportation will be provided for those who need it.

This is the first revival for the church since Rev. Collins became pastor earlier in the summer.

Rev. Foote has served as Minister of Music and Youth at the Calvary Baptist Church in Longview and Ninth and O Baptist Church in Louisville, Ky.

Since July 1967 he has been

Blood Donors Give 65 Units to Red Cross

The Red Cross Bloodmobile received 65 units of blood from area donors on its visit to Wellington Tuesday, Sept. 1, Don Hood, chairman, reported.

Twelve additional persons offered blood but a check showed they should not make a donation.

The blood given was only half the quota requested by the Red Cross Blood Center, 120 units, Mr. Hood said.

Donors included Mrs. Gene Morrow, Alice Juanita Langford, Mrs. Rebbie Snider, Mrs. Bill Hall, A. J. Fires, Vincente Hernandez, Auburn L. Keller, Mildred Turner, Mrs. Cecil Masten, Mrs. Anita M. Anglin, Tom Birchfield, Earl Lynn Bartlett, D. E. Scott, Earl Keller, Donald Ray Settle, Marshall Peters, Mrs. Charles Darter, John M. Mrs. Geo. Scott Has Surgery

Mrs. George Scott underwent major surgery in St. Anthony's Hospital Saturday, Aug. 29. She had entered the hospital two weeks earlier for tests.

She is doing as well as possible, and was able to sit up Tuesday morning, Mr. Scott told his sister, Mrs. Horace Holliman, by phone.

Also with her are their daughters, Mrs. Bill Bradley of Childress and Mrs. Dale Pedigo of Amarillo.

Number of Tickets Cut

Reserved Seat Grid Tickets Go on Sale

Reserved seat football tickets for the Wellington Skyrockets five home games are now on sale at the High School business office.

Those who had reserved seats last season are asked to contact Mrs. Heber Brantley in the business office early if they want the same seats again this year, said Coach Thayne Amnett.

The number of reserved seats was cut to 340 for the 1970 year, considerably under that of past seasons.

All reserved seats, however, will be between the 38- and 50-yard lines. Those taken out of the reserved category were on the north and south ends.

The Rockets home games will be:

- Sept. 11, Hollis (opening game).
- Oct. 2, Memphis.
- Oct. 9, Chillicothe.
- Oct. 16, Shamrock (district).
- Nov. 6, Quannah (district).

Trio Sought

Rookie City Officer Thwarts Parsons Drug Burglary Sunday

A city deputy marshal, on the job only 10 days, interrupted a major burglary in progress at Parsons Drug at 2:10 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 30. But because Junior Owens' car is not equipped with a radio he had to drive two blocks to the jail to notify Sheriff John Rainey and three subjects escaped.

Nothing was taken, but left behind inside the store was a large quantity of equipment used by professional burglars, including a cutting torch, acetylene torch and bottle, oxygen bottle, cables and two sacks of tools. Police Chief Donald Nunneley estimated their value at from $400 to $500.

Entry was gained at the back of the store through the roof. A series of holes were drilled and a section removed large enough for the men to let themselves in. They broke through the ceiling panels in both the rest room and the storage room. The back double doors to the building were opened from the inside.

According to Sheriff Rainey and Police Chief Nunneley, the trio left their car behind the Ball Service Station. Footprints indicate they made several trips to bring their equipment.

Officers said the men apparently were after money and narcotics in the safe.

The three were standing outside the drug store when Owens turned his car into the alley and caught them in his headlights. They ran, ignoring his order to stop. At that point the officer could not see the open back door.

He told Rainey, Nunneley and Charley Partridge of the Liquor Control Board that he

SFC Smith Receives Bronze Star Medal

PHU BAI, Vietnam.— Army Sergeant First Class George Leon Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith, 3192 Gregory Drive, Mojave, Calif., received the Bronze Star Medal in a recent ceremony in Vietnam.

He was presented the Bronze Star Medal for distinguishing himself through meritorious service in connection with military operations against hostile forces in Vietnam. The medal, adopted in 1944, recognizes outstanding achievement.

Sgt. Smith received the award while assigned to Company B, 8th Radio Research Field Station near Phu Bai, Vietnam. He entered the Army in February 1955 and was last stationed in Germany.

Sgt. Smith completed his tour in Vietnam and arrived in Wellington Aug. 2 for 30 days leave with his wife, Letha, and son and daughter, Eddie, 11, and Deedy, 10.

They will leave this week for his next assignment, Ft. Riley, Kan.

YOUNG APPROACH TO COLLEGE

"I just can't decide if all this effort is worth it" seems to be the thought of four-year-old Lynmarc Jenkins, son of Mary Jane Jenkins, directly behind him. Mrs. Jenkins is an elementary education major from Wellington and is one of many who went through long lines on the first day of registration at West Texas State University on Aug. 27. The following day, sophomores, juniors and graduates registered with Aug. 29 the registration date evening-only students and late arrivals. An increased enrollment above last year's mark is expected, according to Dr. Donald Cates, Registrar. — WTTSU Photo.

Junior Rodeo Slated for September 19-20

A junior rodeo, open to boys and girls throughout the area, will be held at the end of the Collingsworth County Fair, according to P. J. White, who is in charge of arrangements.

There will be two performances, Saturday, Sept. 19 at 7 p.m., and Sunday, Sept. 20, at 2 p.m.

There will be thirteen big events, and trophies will be given the winners in each.

Three age groups are scheduled in bull riding, calf roping, pole bending and barrel racing: 18 through 21 years, 14 through 17 years, and 13 years and under.

There will be one class in bareback bronc riding, with everyone 21 years and under eligible to compete.

The books will close at 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday, White said.

Stock will be furnished by D&E Rodeo Company of Sayre, Okla., which provides the animals for many junior rodeos in the area.

Livestock Minerals

Due to the current grazing conditions, stockmen are advised to check the diets of livestock on pasture to make sure they are getting needed minerals.

While minerals are not "cure alls", they are essential along with proteins, carbohydrates, fats and vitamins for good animal nutrition.

Cattle under normal grazing conditions require sodium, calcium phosphorus, chlorine and additional trace minerals. Trace minerals are supplied in adequate amounts from natural forage and water.

Sodium and chlorine are obtained from ordinary salt. Cattle should have free access to salt, preferably granular, at all times.

Calcium and phosphorus are obtained from green grazing but under conditions which now exist, they may be deficient. Unless the deficiency is severe, steamed bonemeal fed free choice should supply the needed elements. It's a good idea to keep bonemeal available to cattle at all times.

Phosphorus is usually more deficient than calcium in most parts of Texas, and results in loss of appetite and weight, decline in milk production, poor calf crop and failure to breed. Prolonged deficiency causes the cows to become lame and stiff in the joints. Should this condition occur, phosphorus should be added directly to the drinking water.

Minerals should be placed in a sturdy container divided into two sections. Loose salt should be kept in one section and bone meal in the other. Mineral boxes should be placed in shady areas and near water supplies.

Trees-Shrubs

Summer drought stress brings to light many problems on trees and shrubs that have previously gone unnoticed.

Plants with diseased or damaged root systems can't absorb enough water and nutrients under summer drought conditions to furnish all plant parts. When this happens, tips of branches die back and leaf tips are scorched. On some plant types, leaf shedding follows.

Several problems may be involved in producing a given symptom, but there is a general tendency to simplify diagnosis to a single causal factor. However, response may be disappointing if other factors are not considered. Symptoms may develop over an extended period of time and likewise, correction of that condition may require a longer period of time than desired.

A large number of plant specimens have been received in the plant Disease Diagnostic Laboratory at Texas A&M University this summer, with many of them having been damaged by plant pathogenic organisms. Very often, however, other factors were involved which are often difficult to identify.

Some conditions may be simply due to drought stress, but others may be due to excess use of commercial fertilizers, improper use of herbicides, natural gas leaks which replace the oxygen in the soil, and other factors.

New home construction also takes its toll of native shade trees each year, leaving the home owner wondering if he is a victim of some new plant disease epidemic. Death of native trees damaged by construction usually occurs in about three years, at which time the tree's food reserves are depleted.

Finalize Plans for County Fair Friday

A meeting of all Collingsworth County Fair committees has been called for Friday, Sept. 4, Billy Moseley, co-chairman, has announced.

It will be held in the Chamber of Commerce office, beginning at 5 p.m.

Plans for the Fair Sept. 18 and 19 will be finalized, Mr. Moseley said.

Attending will be chairmen of all divisions and their assistants.

Clair Lawrence Dies Thursday at Hollis

Clair Lawrence, 517 West Jones, Hollis, died at 4:10 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 27, after being critically ill for a number of weeks.

Mr. Lawrence was a member of one of the pioneer families of the Arlie community, where he grew up and where he was a farm leader for many years.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Lawrence, he was born Sept. 12, 1894 at Quannah, but it was only a short time later that the family came to the Arlie community.

He spent his childhood in a pioneer area that was emerging into rapid growth as a rich agricultural section. As a man he became a part of this growth and gave much of his time to the development of the Arlie section, to its community life, its schools and churches. He was a veteran of World War I.

Funeral services were conducted at First United Methodist Church in Hollis at 2:00 p.m. Saturday, with the Rev. Elbert Shumaker, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in the Arlie Cemetery, under the direction of Barnett Tims Funeral Service at Hollis.

Pallbearers were Dickie Cummins, Clyde Whitman, Wilbert Johnson, Roland Mayhugh, Carl Crosnoe, Granville Clark and Pete Nipper.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ruth Lawrence of Hollis; a step-daughter, Mrs. Vera Lynn States of Albuquerque, N.M.; a brother and five sisters: Jake Lawrence of Arlie; Mrs. Florence Moore of Canyon; Mrs. Georgia Lemley of Nazareth, Penna.; Mrs. Ura Scott, Mrs. Mary Scott and Mrs. Lucille West of Wellington.

Seedless Watermelons (But No Spitting Seed)

COLLEGE STATION.— The eating is as good, but the fun that many small fry have of spitting seeds when eating watermelon, is missing from the seedless watermelon.

The melon has no seeds, but small seed coats are present in the meat of the melon, Dr. J. E. Larsen, Texas A&M University Extension horticulturist, said. The seedcoats look very much like a small, immature cucumber seed, both in size and color, and are completely edible, he said.

"Most seedless watermelons are of the Tri-X hybrid 313 variety and are dark green with faint, lighter green stripes," he explained. "The melon may occasionally have four or five mature seeds present in the meat, but this is rare." Seedless watermelons are generally sweeter than other melons, Dr. Larsen said, and urged consumers to try one.

Dr. Larsen noted that seedless watermelons should be harvested only in the full ripe stage as there is no after-ripening after the melon is harvested.

"The seedless watermelon also has a longer shelf life than do the seeded varieties," Dr. Larsen said.

DILIGENT PARENTS

House wrens are very diligent parents. A pair of them can make over 500 daily trips to feed their young in the nest.

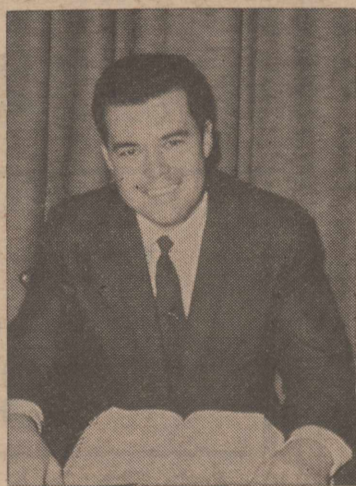

Male Black Bass Hatches Eggs

Black bass males select nesting sites in water from two to 15 feet in depth, depending upon water turbidity for a nest in order to spawn. Then they round up a female bass and escort her to the nest, where she lays from 10,000 to 26,000 eggs.

The female then leaves the domestic chores to the male, who nursemaids the eggs and the developing fry for the next four to 10 days.

Texas has 115 colleges and universities.

Watts Family Holds Fifteenth Annual Reunion Here August 16

The fifteenth annual Watts reunion was held in Wellington August 16, bringing together five of the eight children of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Watts.

All except one of the reunions have been held here—the first was at Childress.

A musical trio composed of Curtis Southerland, Tim Cates and Clyde Harper entertained with music after lunch, including popular and religious songs.

The children present were Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Watts, E. J., and Laurance of Childress; Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Watts, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Watts, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Watts, Cindy and Marilyn, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Nunnelley, and a brother-in-law, Elvis Crawley.

Nieces and nephews attending were Mr. and Mrs. James Measles, Shaila and Dirk of Plainview; Lester Ray Watts,

Cynthia, Steve and Nancy of Stinnett;

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Watts, Chris, Lori, Kirk and Angela and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Watts, Nicky, Danny and Melanie;

Mr. and Mrs. John Lowrie and Karen of Crosbyton; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nunnelley, Tina, Patricia and Donna, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Southerland and Kimberly.

Also attending were cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Elders, Jessie, Joe, Lloyd and Lowell of Oklahoma City.

Other visitors were Tim Cates, Clyde Harper, Vera Jean Parker, Mrs. P. E. Lowrie, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Lowrie, and Miss Connie Samples of Crosbyton.

Two brothers and a sister were ill and could not attend, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Watts of Muleshoe, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Watts of Plainview, and Mrs. Elvis Crawley.

Fall's Newest

Wear these, to look right for fall. Vibrant-colored cotton challis, bonded for extra body, is the choice for a Spanish-inspired bolero and gaucho pants at left. Handsomely styled and amply cut, the versatile cotton canvas coat at right is easy to wear and goes over suits beautifully. Treated for rain and stain resistance, it has snap closures on the fly front and giant hemline pockets.

Birthday Dinner and Open House Honor Mrs. T. J. Bowling of Dodson

Two events have honored Mrs. T. J. Bowling of Dodson on her seventy-fifth birthday.

On Saturday, August 29, her children honored her with a family dinner at Cherokee Inn Restaurant in Wellington.

Attending were Mrs. C. R. Owens (Helen) of Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Teutsch (Jeanette) and daughter Nancy of Plainview, Mrs. James Farris (Joann) of Irving; Paul Bowling and son, Hank, of Princeton.

On Sunday, August 30, the children honored her with an open house from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Bowling was presented with many gifts and a money tree.

Punch and cake were served by Nancy Teutsch and Mrs. Farris.

Mrs. Owens welcomed the guests and Mrs. Teutsch was at the register.

Those attending were Mrs. J. C. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hunt and grandson, Stacy, Mrs. Ruth Hunt, Mrs. Mattie Slagle, Mrs. A. L. Lowrie,

Gadget Shower Honors Bride

A kitchen gadget shower was given for Miss Lillian McKinney Friday evening, August 21 in the home of Mrs. Loyd Vines.

Co-hostesses with her were Miss Barbara Vines, Miss Sue Parker and Mrs. Claude McKinney.

The serving table was laid with a red and white cloth and the centerpiece was a gift tree on which the daintily-wrapped gifts were hung.

Friends called at seven in the evening.

More Housing Due Married Students at University

AUSTIN. — Regents of The University of Texas System have authorized production of working drawings for additional married student housing units at UT Austin.

Originally 200 units were planned for the Old Confederate Home site in the 1600 block of West Sixth, but the Board has requested information on the feasibility of constructing 400 units.

The project has received an interest subsidy grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development which will make possible more favorable rental rates for UT Austin married students.

Mrs. Buford Riley visited over the week end in Bethany, Okla., with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Brown.

Mrs. Sunday Bill Smith of Lubbock visited with Mrs. Alvin Horton and other friends briefly Monday.

Mrs. A. L. Elliott spent several days last week in Austin with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Crawford.

Mrs. Rudy Horak and Miss Terry Horak of Dallas, and Mrs. Ray Richards of Amarillo spent last week end with their mother, Mrs. Doshia Dix.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hodges of Throckmorton visited recently with his aunt, Mrs. Andy Bell.

Old newspapers can be converted into clean, usable newspaper by a recently perfected washing-rolling-rinsing process.

The Longuette Is Here

With the longuette comes a whole new lady-like look. The latest hemlines call for a feminine air, and explicit grooming routines. The hemline down, and the longuette is already part of this fall's scenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Parsons recently returned from a trip through Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma. They spent some time at Arrowhead Lodge on Eufala Lake, one of the new lakes in Oklahoma. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Orval Couch, who formerly lived here, in Homer, La.

Stylish Knit-Picking
Double knit cotton provides two fashionable ways to keep your knits about you comfortably this fall. Ideal for classroom or office wear is the long-sleeved dirndl dress with body-hugging shirt top and wide side belts that tie in back. At right, a chevron-patterned pantsuit with long fitted tunic jacket and flare pants with fly front.

APPETIZING HOUSE began as a haystack. A Wisconsin farmer put it up as a feed supply for his cows and they promptly nibbled it into a shelter against chill winds, carving out a tunnel and three inside rooms. Eventually they will eat themselves out of house and home, but by then it will be summer.

MOBILE FAMILY TIPS GIVEN

COLLEGE STATION.— Finding a suitable place to live perplexes the moving family. Would-be home buyers may be wise to rent, Mrs. Jane Berry, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist, suggests, until they learn about cost, value and features of housing in various areas.

Housing affects job satisfaction, good family relationships and tolerance of family members, the specialist points out. Where supply of available housing is low, the prospective homeowner should not feel compelled to buy "anything that's available" just to have a roof over his head.

Renting and the inconvenience of another move could well be worthwhile if it means getting the right house in the right location at the right price, Mrs. Berry stresses. Prospective home buyers need to concentrate on getting good value, even if it means purchasing slightly more than they need or can afford. A banker, lending institution or private appraiser can provide information on the value of the property. The selling price should be closely in line with the appraisal.

Congelated neighbors, attractive houses and yards and good schools are qualities most families look for in a place to live. When a job or circumstances demand frequent moves, the Texas A&M specialist suggests buyers invest in a house with at least three bedrooms to insure quick resale. Look for

AEC Prints Its 10 Millionth Book

Imagine a pile of booklets higher than 83 Empire State Buildings stacked end to end. That's how many booklets—19 million, to be exact—the Atomic Energy Commission has printed in its "Understanding the Atom" series of educational publications.

On June 5 the AEC published that historic 10-millionth copy. It was printed at the Commission's Division of Technical Information Extension (DTIE), Oak Ridge, Tenn. The publication on the press at the time was a revised edition of "The Natural Radiation Environment," one of 53 titles now available in the series.

1775 marked the beginning of the U.S. Postal service.

Cards of Thanks

The family of Leon White wishes to express deep gratitude to the citizens of Collingsworth County for their sincere manifestation of community friendship during our recent days of sorrow. Your flowers, cards, food and words of comfort made our burden much easier to bear and gave us courage to carry on in Leon's absence.

Gratefully,
Sally, Jim, Ken, Keith, John, Mrs. J. J. White and Doris.

We, the A. E. Brammer family, express our sincere appreciation to all our friends for consoling words of sympathy, flowers and food and to everyone who in any way sought to bring us a measure of consolation.

May God bless each of you.

Other Editors Say . . .

The Smut Peddlers

Millions of Americans are concerned about the mounting flood of pornography and demanding legislation to drive smut peddlers out of business but a presidential commission has recommended that all laws against pornography be repealed.

The 18-member commission, 17 appointed by former President Johnson and one by President Nixon, recommends that the U. S. adopt laws as favorable as in Denmark, where pornographic books, films and materials are sold openly in shops.

This commission says that it is unwise to legislate individual moral values and such things ought to be left up to the individual.

This, to a lot of us, is a shocking point of view from an official body charged with making an investigation and recommendation. Since when did public morality become of no concern to public officials?

A Christian nation cannot stand by and see its people deluged with filthy material designed to excite people of both sexes. True, perhaps the appeal to buy pornography would be diminished if it were not illegal, but this is a poor argument for dropping all laws against it.

American homes are being bombarded with the largest volume of sex-oriented mail in history and thousands of parents have written to the White House and their Congressmen in protest.

Congress has passed a bill designed to curb pornography in the mail, calling for a $50,000 fine for convicted smut peddlers. Thus Congress is acting much more responsibly than this presidential commission.

This kind of logic would eliminate all crime by making present criminal acts such as rape, robbery, assault and the like legal. Hence, no crime.

But would we be better off or worse off for such a change? —The Perryton Herald

Women On The Job

The chicks, so to speak, are coming home to roost. This is a flippant way of taking note of rather a serious situation prophetically illustrated at an industrial plant in Herrin, Ill. There a job formerly held by a man was awarded to a woman, whereupon 35 men walked out and a 500-employee division was shut down.

It is noteworthy that the woman got the job fair and square. She received it on grounds of seniority in competition with another woman and two men bidding to fill the vacancy. It also is noteworthy that the firm, Allen Industries, had no legal recourse but to give her the job. Under the 1964 Civil Rights Act women cannot be excluded except in special cases which evidently did not apply here.

Against these entirely reasonable arguments are arrayed deeply held though illogical prejudices against women at work. There are indications they will not prevail. The tide is clearly running toward increased women's rights, on and off the job.

—The Daily-Star Journal, Warrenburg, Mo.

LONDON'S ANSWER to speedsters swerving and careening through quiet neighborhood streets. Wide streets give way to very narrow bends at each corner. Speeders soon tire of accelerating when they have to apply brakes quickly to make turns.

AUSTIN.—Top-flight business and industrial executives are getting an invitation to study the administration of state agencies and tell them how to do a better job, hopefully for less money.

House Committee on Efficiency and Economy urged Speaker Gus Mutscher to take the initiative in setting up an outside committee of experts.

Proposal actually originated with a Chicago consultant's preliminary review of 12 selected agencies. Consultant called for seven study teams of experts to do in-depth surveys.

Chairman, Rep. Russell Cummings of Houston, said nearly everyone advocates "economy in the abstract," but "seldom is a studied, rational set of specifics advanced as a plan for saving tax dollars."

Committee is under no illusions that additional state spending will not be required as the state grows.

"The citizens are entitled to know that every tax dollar is being spent with maximum attention to efficiency and economy," said Cummings. "I feel that most of state government is being operated efficiently, but I am also convinced that additional savings can be pinpointed by experts from private enterprise organizations, studying operations within their own expertise."

Junior College Shift Advised
A far-reaching recommendation to discontinue financing junior colleges through local property taxes and turn the job over to the state has been offered by the Texas Research League.

During the next biennium, if this proposal was adopted, local taxpayers would be relieved of $72.9 million. State taxes of that amount would have to be provided. An alternative League recommendation is for the state to pay the operating costs and cost of future construction but to leave existing bonded indebtedness as the obligation of local property taxpayers. This would reduce the local-to-state tax transfer to $56 million, instead of $72.9 million.

League recommends a $200 million bond issue for 1971 and a $200 million issue for 1975 to pay for construction at all state colleges. Community colleges, League claimed, should be operated through locally-elected regional boards which might supervise several campuses.

League director James W. McGrew said appropriations for community colleges, which will enroll two out of three freshmen and sophomores in state schools by the end of this decade, should be handled through the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

Labor Day Toll Weighed
Forty-nine persons will be killed in Texas traffic crashes during the 78-hour Labor Day holiday weekend (Sept. 4-7), Texas Department of Public Safety forecasts.

DPS will undertake activities to hold down holiday tragedies on streets and highways, but noted that drivers themselves have the only real solution.

Most fatal accidents, DPS Director Wilson E. (Pat) Speir states, are due to general carelessness, excessive speed for conditions, failure to yield or stop, drinking drivers or drinking pedestrians. Most of these accidents, records show, involved only one vehicle.

Drivers were urged to be alert for developing dangerous situations and to be sure their vehicles are well maintained.

March Recalled

Mexican-American group leaders announced in advance they plan to issue a Labor Day proclamation "of vast political consequences," on the fourth anniversary of the 1966 minimum wage march.

Ceremonies (dedication of a monument to marchers and issuing the proclamation) will be held in New Braunfels where former Gov. John Connally confronted the 1966 group in a meeting which had long-lasting political repercussions.

Three to five thousand will participate in the Sept. 7 events a spokesman said. He declined to reveal if the proclamation will be an endorsement of candidates.

Airport Funds Allotted

Texas Aeronautics Commission allocated $238,000 for airport construction where no federal aid is available.

Three thousand went to repair minor Hurricane Celia damage at Aransas Pass Airport and to install lighting.

These allocations were approved for new airports: $27,500 each for Bastrop, Dell City, Jayton-Kent County and Throckmorton County; $24,000 for Fallett and $20,000 to Winnsboro.

For completion of facilities, Commission earmarked for Vega $7,500; $15,000 for Commerce, $14,000 for Rock Springs, $15,000 for San Augustine, $7,500 for Miami, $18,000 for Pleasanton and $4,000 for Nona.

Texas Examined

A new committee study notes that Texas state and local taxes have increased 15 times—from $207 million in 1932 to $3.1 billion in 1969.

Property, sales, severance and business taxation make up 93% of the total state and local tax revenue, reports the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy. Yet the other 7% amounts to more than $200 million a year (motor vehicle registration fees, inheritance taxes and drivers' licenses).

City Reprimanded

City of San Antonio drew a sharp reprimand from the Texas Water Quality Board for dumping 12 million gallons of raw sewage into the San Antonio River on Aug. 3, in anticipation of a heavy rain.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Sen. Ed Muskie demands free time on TV, even if it crowds off "Gunsmoke," to inform us people of the "prevailing congressional attitude on significant national issues."

But Ed is mixed up. We hire congressmen to run the country like we want it run, not to tell us how they are going to run it.

Apparently, if short-order cooking got to be a federal job, the government-hirelings-know-best syndrome would swell-head all the grease artists and they would tell us instead of ask us what we want on our hamburgers.

I see where a federal bureau says 41 percent of the city water systems they tested are delivering water that ain't fit to drink.

And along with cyclamates, cigarettes, cereals, autos and other items on government's banned and hazardous lists, there probably will be TV campaigns urging us to kick the water-drinking habit.

Then with all of these, plus insect spray, on the no-no list the bugs will get all of our food, the government all of our money, and the hazards-outlawers will snatch away anything else we come to like or enjoy.

D. E. SCOTT

Board sent the matter to the attorney general to determine if a penalty suit should be filed and handed down an order threatening an injunction if the violation ever happens again. Dissatisfied with the city's lack of an emergency corrective plan, Board directed its own staff to come up with something to give San Antonians in certain areas relief from overcrowded sewage facilities pending passage of a bond issue for vast new lines.

Men Sought for Highway Patrol Training School

Deaths continue to mount on our streets and highways. Crime is still on the rise. With these facts in mind, the Texas Department of Public Safety announces the start of a 150-man training school.

The school will begin on Sept. 22 and will be held at the Texas Department of Public Safety Law Enforcement Academy in Austin. Trainees will receive a salary of $345 a month during the four-month training period. Upon graduation the salary will be increased to $651 a month.

To qualify for one of these positions, an applicant must be between the ages of 20 and 35, a height of not less than 68 inches, a weight of not less than two pounds per inch of height, nor more than three and one-half pounds per inch of height, and be of good sound physical condition. He must have completed high school, or the equivalent. He must be a citizen of the United States and be of good moral character.

The intensive training program, which will consist of some 800 hours of classroom work, is designed to prepare the cadet to handle the various situations which he will be confronted with as a patrolman.

Upon graduation from the Academy, the cadet will be assigned to one of the four uniformed services—Highway Patrol, License and Weight, Motor Vehicle Inspection, or Driver's License.

Uniforms, vehicles, weapons, ammunition, and necessary equipment will be furnished. Other benefits include a monthly uniform cleaning allowance, and travel expenses when away from their assigned station. Group life and hospitalization insurance are available at a reasonable cost. The patrolmen become members of the Texas Employees Retirement System. Vacations, holidays, and sick leave are also provided.

"HAIR" BREATHERS

A frog found in the mountain streams in the Cameroons in Africa is called the "hairy frog." Its tiny so-called hairs are really fine threads of skin containing blood vessels that help the animal to breathe.

THE WHITES IN KENYA

The Rev. and Mrs. Jimmy White are shown with their two older children, Valerie, 6, and Rodney, 8, in their home in Narobi, Kenya, East Africa. They have a two-months old son, Jimmy.

Dodson Native Reports

University Students Privileged in Kenya

The Rev. Jim White of Narobi, Kenya, East Africa, visited briefly in Wellington Monday, Aug. 31, and told of his work at the University of Kenya—in a land where being a student is a privileged position. Only one half of one percent of the young men and women ever get to enter.

Rev. White visited his grandmother and aunt, Mrs. Jesse White and Miss Doris White. He was called home by the death of his father, Leon White of Hollis. His family did not accompany him.

Born while his parents lived at Dodson, the young minister is with The Navigators, an interdenominational Christian Laymen's organization.

"My ministry centers mainly at the University of Kenya in the city of Narobi," Rev. White explained.

"I spend most of my time in personal interviews with students, helping them to find a relevant faith in Christ. Then I hold small group Bible studies in dormitories so the students can learn to express their faith."

The University of Kenya is the only institution of college or university level in the nation.

"It is made up almost exclusively of African students, coming from the more than 60 tribes who make up the nation," said Rev. White.

"Each student will speak at least three languages. He will speak his tribal dialect; he will also speak the trade language common to all East Africa, Swahili; and then he will speak English, the language in which he has been educated in the school system."

There are certain differences in colleges of the United States and the University of Kenya.

"Students go to the University three years instead of four, but then they attend public school 13 years rather than 12," he explained.

"They specialize in one subject, rather than taking the liberal arts approach of the United States. The students of Kenya, I feel, have a much heavier study load than in the average university in the United States."

"There is another difference. The government pays all expenses of one who is able to get through high school and enter university."

Enrollment this year is 3,000. It is growing, for it is up from 2,200 last year. And Rev. White noted there are four men students to every woman.

He has been with The Navigators since graduating from Baylor University in 1956. He and his wife, Jeri, met while he was working in Colorado Springs, where she was secretary to the vice president of Navigators at the headquarters. He also has worked in Omaha and Washington, D.C., before going to Kenya in 1968. Mrs. White was reared in Fairbanks, Alaska, daughter of a lay preacher who went there from Washington state. They have three children, Rodney, 8, Valerie, 6, and Jimmy, 2 months.

There is a mixture of Texas-Oklahoma civic pride and deep love in the young minister's voice as he speaks of the beauty of Narobi, a city of 400,000 just 70 miles south of the equator. But with a 5,500 foot altitude, the temperature has never fallen below 53 degrees or risen above 87.

Only a 20-minute drive will take them to a game park, where they can see giraffes, zebras, gazelles, lions, cheetahs, hippopotamuses and rhinoceroses. In other parks are elephants and the very deadly black cape buffalo.

Tourism has become the third main source of income, said Rev. White. Coffee and tea production rank first and second.

Kenya is now 95 percent African. The once-feared Mau Mau are no longer active. They were the freedom fighters of Kenya until it gained independence from England in 1963. It is now considered one of the most stable nations in Africa, under the able leadership of Jomo Kenyatta.

Notes from Your County Home Demonstration Agent

By Mrs. Leta Hill

Baby's Teeth

Good tooth care starts even before a baby's birth, then continues with a good diet, cleanliness, regular visits to the dentist and use of fluorides.

A four-point program for baby's own dental care is highly recommended.

Research shows that the strength of baby's first teeth which are formed in his mouth during his mother's pregnancy, depends on the amount of calcium, phosphorus and vitamins in his mother's body.

Pregnant women should eat plenty of citrus fruits, cheese and milk, and take calcium and vitamin supplements their doctors recommend.

After birth, baby's diet counts too. A child needs plenty of milk, eggs, fruit, vegetables, meat, and a little extra sugar as possible.

Cleanliness is the second part of the child's program. Research has discovered that a baby who falls asleep with a bottle in his mouth is likely to develop more cavities than other children.

Even before the baby's first teeth have been cut, a mother should wipe the inside of his mouth gently with a piece of gauze after he has eaten. This removes any milk or other food from his gums and tongue.

Then the baby's first teeth appear and his mother can begin to clean them regularly with a washcloth. When he's about 18 months old she can start using a soft toothbrush. Toothpaste or powder is not necessary at this time.

Regular visits to the dentist should begin when the child is between 2½ to 3 years old, before any repair or remedial treatment is likely to be necessary.

The use of fluorides is the fourth part of a dental care program. Presently, fluoridation of community water is considered the least expensive and more effective way to prevent tooth decay.

Nutritious Peanuts

Are you "hooked on goobers"? A hopeless peanut addict? It's pretty well known that peanuts are habit-forming... but this is a habit that nutritionists highly approve.

Protein-laden peanuts and peanut products give meals nutritional bonus, plus highlighting them with texture, flavor and color. Peanuty foods are just plain appealing and loaded with appetite-perkiness.

Whole, halved and chopped peanuts are crunchy morsels you can slip into combination dishes, garnish special fare with, or serve temptingly alone on an hors d'oeuvre tray. Peanut butter is a creamy, spreadable, easily blendable, fare that's full of goodness. It goes great in many dishes from breakfast's French toast to dinner's ice cream sundae. And peanut oil is flavor-perfect, just right for everything from fried chicken to salad dressings.

Here's a peanut recipe!

Dixie Peanut Wafers
1 quart raw Spanish peanuts
2 cups all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Chop peanuts coarsely. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cream shortening and sugar. Add vanilla. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk. Mix peanuts. Measure one tablespoon for each cookie. Flatten with back of spoon on a greased baking sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes 100 cookies.

Home on the Range
Scheduled for October production is the "Pan-O-Matic"—an elementless electric range. Special pots, pans and skillets, each thermostatically controlled, plug into a foldaway panel. When not in use, cookware hides in rollout cabinet drawers and the power panel does a disappearing act to provide additional countertop space.

Cleanup is remarkably easy. Just wipe with a sudsy sponge. No burners, elements, spillover bowls or ridges to worry about. And the pots and pans may be submerged in hot suds or put into the dishwasher. Among the several plus features is a plug-in heating element which makes it possible to use ordinary pots and pans, also. The unit comes with a vent hood and eye-level warming shelf. This range is made by the Tappan Company.

Gilberts Home from Colorado

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilbert have returned home after a 10-day visit with their son, Bob Gilbert and family in Montrose, Colo.

They spent the time fishing and sightseeing in the Blue Mecca Reservoir and Gunnison River area. They returned home along the scenic route from Montrose to Durango.

Douglas R. Mitchell

Amarillo Bank Promotes Former Wellington Man

Douglas R. Mitchell, formerly of Wellington, has been promoted to assistant cashier of Tascosa National Bank in Amarillo, Robert Ringo, president, has announced.

Mitchell, 26, joined the bank in October as head bookkeeper and supervisor of the bookkeeping and proof departments.

A native of Wellington and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mitchell, he has had five years banking experience. He began work for the Amarillo National in July 1965 in the proof-transit department, and was promoted successively to computer operator and department supervisor in the data processing department.

In the operations and audit department, he advanced to the position of audit examiner handling asset and deposit verification programs.

From January to October, 1969, Mr. Mitchell was in the accounting department of the Mercantile National Bank in Dallas.

A graduate of Wellington High School in 1963, Mr. Mitchell attended Clarendon Junior College two years and has attended night school at Amarillo Junior College to study accounting. He also has completed three courses offered by the American Institute of Banking, including "Principles of Bank Operation," "Analyzing Financial Statements," and "Speed Reading."

His wife, Linda Kay, who formerly lived at Shamrock, is employed by the Diamond Shamrock Corporation at Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Mitchell will visit his parents in Wellington over the Labor Day week end.

Producers Ballot on Community Committees

Collingsworth County farmers are now balloting in the annual Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Community committee elections, Bob Weatherly, county executive director, reminds.

Ballots were mailed Sept. 1, and the deadline for returning them is Saturday, Sept. 12.

Nominees who get the most votes will be chairman in their respective communities; the one polling the second largest number of votes will be vice chairman, and third largest, regular member. The men placing fourth and fifth will be first and second alternate community committeemen.

The chairman, vice chairman and regular member from the communities will meet Friday, Sept. 25 to elect a member of the county committee for a three year term to succeed Tom Birchfield, the present county chairman. Holdover committee members are Lefty Thomas of Samnorwood and Roy Canada of Quail.

Nominees in each of the six communities are:

Community "A": W. E. Colson, Horace Holliman, Auburn Keller, Troy G. Thomason, Charley L. Watts, and P. J. White.

Community "B": Walter Camp, Fred Covey, Thurman Crowner, Robert R. Hightower, Kenneth Hudson, Tommy Lewis and Louis Patterson.

Community "C": Robert C. (Bob) Barton, Danny Davis, Albert Fulcher, Harold Keller, Dennis Lacy, Wayne Martin, Leslie Moore, Ray Null and

J. B. Wade. Community "D": John Carson, Otis D. Emmert, P. P. Fielding, Rufus D. Jones, Elmer H. Keller, Dudley Phipps, and Carl Wischkaemper.

Community "E": James Barker, Douglas Coleman, Doyle Glazner, James Martindale, Rudolph Tate and Oliver Wischkaemper.

Community "F": B. J. Boyd, Walter Deger, C. R. Hankins, N. W. Paschall, Robert Seeds, Billy Waters and A. S. Whitson.

County 4-H Bake Show Set Saturday

The Collingsworth County 4-H Club Girls Bake Show will be held Saturday, Sept. 5, at 10 a.m. in the office of Mrs. Leta Hill, home demonstration agent.

The climax will come Saturday afternoon, with the crowning of the Collingsworth County 4-H Bake Queen.

Miss Janna Cole, assistant home demonstration agent of Gray County, will be the judge.

This year the girls will exhibit two-crust fruit pies and batter rolls. These should be in Mrs. Hill's office by 10 a.m., and must be accompanied by the records.

The coronation will be held at 1:30 p.m. and ribbons will be presented to the other winners.

The queen will compete in the Tri State Fair in the District Bake Show Sept. 19.

"Four-H Club members learn the nutritional value of bread and cereal in the diet, as well as the skills of planning, preparing and scoring these products," said Mrs. Hill, explaining the purpose of the show.

Tim Whites Go to Lubbock

Mr. and Mrs. Tim White moved recently to Lubbock, where he has enrolled in Texas Tech University. He also is employed at the Piggly Wiggly warehouse.

White has been employed in the engineering section of the Wellington office of the Texas Highway Department, and prior to that he attended James Connally Technical Institute in Waco.

A tricycle was made in 1897 which weighed nearly a ton and could carry eight riders.

Friday Last Day to Register

The last day to register for the fall semester at Frank Phillips College, Borger, Texas is Friday, Sept. 11. The registration process must be completed, including the payment of tuition and having an Identification Card made, by 4:00 p.m. The Registrar's office is in the center of the Administration Building, and is the first building on the right of the campus entrance.

No person will be admitted to Monday, Wednesday and Friday classes after Sept. 14, or to a Tuesday-Thursday class after Sept. 15, unless they have permission from the Academic Dean.

Classes began on Friday, Aug. 28.

Rooms are still available for college women in Maxine Goins Hall, and for college men in W. G. Stephens Hall.

Wellington Men Leave for Army

Two young men from Wellington reported for active duty with the Army last week.

Nicky Watts, a member of the National Guard, left Friday for his six-months duty. Another member of the Wellington Guard unit reported along with Watts, Jerry Koontz of Lakeview.

They will be stationed at Ft. Ord, Calif. Watts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Watts.

Dallas Holland, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Holland, volunteered for a three year enlistment and reported for duty a few days earlier. He, too, will go to Ft. Ord for his basic training. His next assignment will be at Fort Gordon, Ga., to attend an Army electronics school.

BRONZE STAR AWARDED

M-Sgt. Breegle, left, has pinned the Bronze Star Medal on the chest of SFC George Leon Smith, in a recent ceremony near Phu Bai, Vietnam. Sgt. Smith has been on leave here with his family and they go this week to Ft. Riley, Kansas, for his next assignment.

Richards Travel in Northwest

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Richards have returned from "the first real vacation we ever had," a 10-day leisurely tour that took them to the Snake River in Idaho.

After two days in Pueblo, they drove to Grand Junction by way of Salida, and over 12,095-foot Independence Pass, second highest in Colorado, to Aspen and Glenwood Springs. At Carbondale, they stopped to see the Paul Guthrie family but failed to find them.

"You feel like it's the top of the world. It's beautiful," recalled Mrs. Richards.

In Grand Junction, they visited a niece, Patricia Massey, who teaches French in the public schools.

With Provo, Utah, as their base, they visited two days in the Salt Lake City area, then went on to Idaho Falls, where their motel room looked out on the Snake River.

The return trip took them along the base of the Grand Tetons, through Rock Springs

MOUNTAIN MOVED?

Scholars believe that Mt. Siani, where Moses received the ten commandments, may be in the Northeastern part of the Siani peninsula rather than the 8000-foot peak in the southern tip, near the Red Sea, as has commonly been supposed for over 1500 years.

Boys Ranch Puts on Annual Rodeo Labor Day Week End

The 350 boys of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch will be putting on their 26th annual Boys Ranch Rodeo, Sept. 6 and 7, the Labor Day week end.

Believed to be the only rodeo of its kind in the nation, in which the only contestants are boys riding professional rodeo stock, under R.C.A. rules, the event is expected to attract about 5000 persons for each of the two afternoon performances at 2:30 p.m.

The boys have been getting ready for the rodeo with qualification rides on calves, Brahma bulls, steers and bucking broncos for about two months. All will have a part in the rodeo with 88 riding as contestants for the trophies that will be awarded to the best riders.

Top honors will be the Senior and Junior All-around Cowboy trophies, with 1st, 2nd and 3rd place trophies going to contestants in each riding event.

Texas-size barbecue sandwiches with all the trimmings will be on sale for $1. The barbecue concession is one of several that will be operated by the boys. Another rodeo feature will be the appearance of riding clubs from area communities in the rodeo's grand entry.

Reserve box seats can be obtained at the Boys Ranch office, P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas or by calling 372-2341. Ticket prices are $2.50 for box seats; general admission tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75¢ for children.

Shamrock Meeting

RC&D-PRPC Directors Seek Understanding

A meeting of directors of the North Rolling Plains Conservation and Development program and the executive board of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission will be held in Shamrock at 2 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 3.

The purpose of this meeting is "to reach an understanding on the RC&D project approach as related to PRPC planning responsibilities," said Harry E. Frye, president of Rolling Plains RC&D.

The director from Collingsworth, one of seven member counties of RC&D, is W. R. Breeding of Samnorwood, who is also a voting delegate from RC&D to the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

Gary Reed, unit conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, plans to attend. Directors from all member counties will be present.

Representing PRPC will be R. G. Mills, chairman, Ernest Clark, executive director, and other members of the executive board.

"This is an important meeting," said Mr. Frye. "The groundwork will be laid here not only for the submission of our application but for the working relations between RC&D and PRPC for the next several years."

The application of which Mr. Frye spoke was submitted to PRPC for review earlier in the year and was rejected. Specifically, the application is to the Administrator of the Soil Conservation Service, United States Department of Agriculture, for federal assistance in developing a resource conservation and development project plan for the seven-county area. It will be resubmitted.

RC&D is a coordinating program, which brings together all facilities available to groups seeking to develop projects in one or more of the member counties.

These programs are already in operation throughout the United States, and groups in those areas find them able to help project sponsors tap federal sources for funds.

Mr. Reed recently visited three of these RC&D programs already in operation in Kansas and Missouri.

MONEY MANAGEMENT

Do you know how to manage your weekly pay check?

Few people actually do. Those who don't sooner or later find themselves up to their necks in debt.

Even if your income is above average, if you don't regulate the outgoing flow, you're liable to end up living below average.

One of the most damaging habits to the weekly paycheck is impulse buying. This is when you go into a store for one or two items and walk out with an armload.

When you are going shopping, make a list and stick to it. If you see a necessity item at a bargain price, go ahead and get it. But don't go wild.

Make your first stop with your paycheck at the bank and put a little in a savings account.

Newspapers the Retailer's Medium

Newspapers-the department store medium

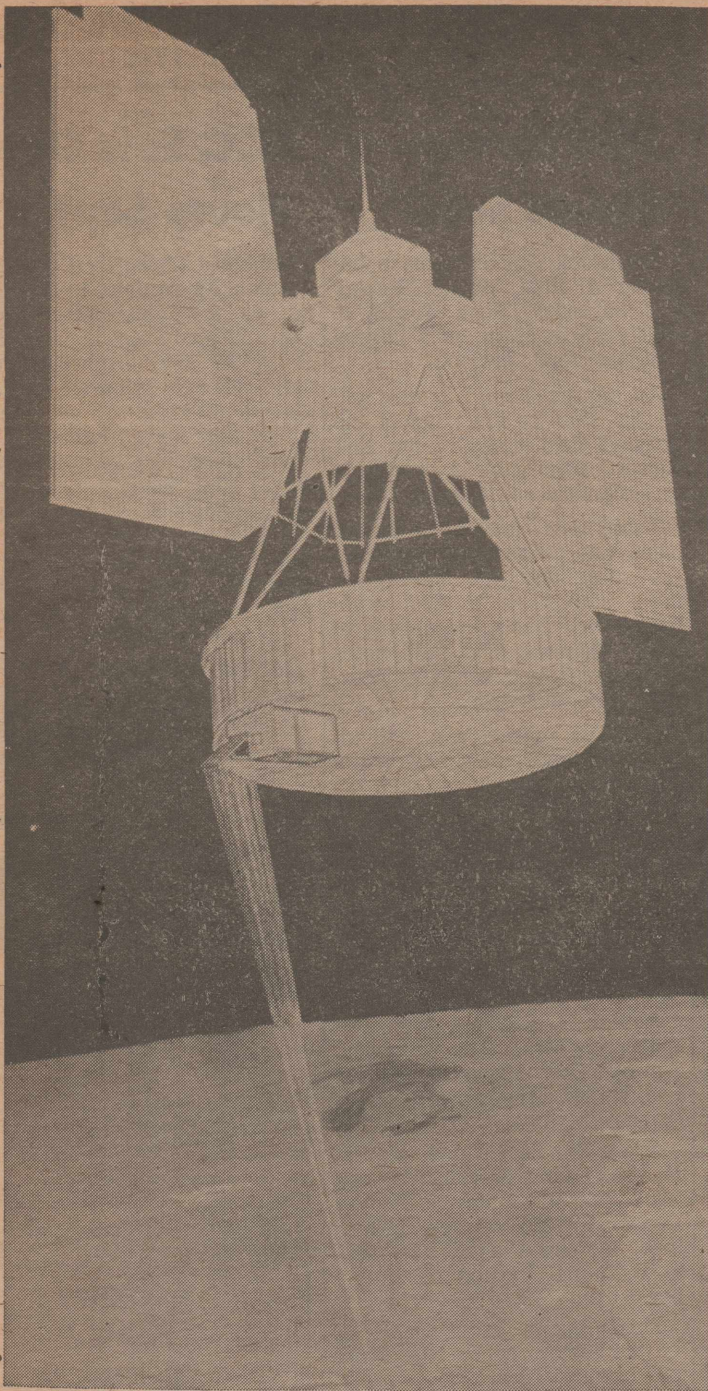

Retailers who are close to the cash register and therefore in a position to know of what advertising sells, consistently invest more of their advertising money in newspaper space than in all other media combined. The chart depicted here reveals how department stores throughout the country invest 85% of their dollars in newspapers, 6% in direct mail and only 9% in all broadcast media combined.

If you are a retailer and are not utilizing newspaper advertising on a regular basis, take a tip from merchants who know — advertise in The Wellington Leader to reach the readers who buy.

NIMBUS F. SATELLITE

The square unit on the bottom of the Nimbus F Satellite, shown in the drawing above, contains the infrared spectrometer which will measure the temperature of the earth's atmosphere and surface. Nimbus F will be placed in orbit a few years hence. Don Langford, former Collingsworth County man, is an electronic design engineer on the spectrometer.

For Temperature Sounding

Langford Works With Nimbus Satellite Unit

When the Nimbus F Satellite goes into earth orbit in a few years, one of the instruments aboard will be an infrared spectrometer, on which a former Wellington man is now working.

Don Langford is an electronic design engineer for Jet Propulsion Laboratories in Pasadena, Calif., which builds the spectrometer.

His wife and twin children, Tracey and Dracey, two and a half, left Monday, Sept. 1 after visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Childress and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Langford.

The Nimbus F is an earth resources satellite, Langford explained. The infrared spec-trimeter is being designed to produce temperature soundings of the earth's atmosphere and surface.

"This instrument, when operational, will replace the radsons (weather balloons) presently used to sound the temperature of the atmosphere," Langford has explained.

"Advantages of the satellite-borne instrument will be continuous soundings, one about every 16 seconds, compared to one sounding per radison. Also, soundings will be made over all parts of the earth, producing about 90 percent better coverage than is presently available."

Langford joined Jet Propulsion Laboratories in October

Booths or Individual Entries

County Farm Products Will Highlight Fair

Despite drouth, there will be many fine exhibits in the agricultural, horticultural, and community products division of the Collingsworth County Free Fair Friday and Saturday, Sept. 18 and 19.

The deadline for making application for booths is Saturday Sept. 12, and these applications must be made with County Agent Don Reeves, chairman.

Assisting Reeves will be the vocational agriculture teachers of the county, Rodney Myrick of Wellington, Doyle Messer of Quail, and Jimmy Brown of Samnorwood.

Booths must be up by 9 a.m. Friday, and remain through 5 p.m. Saturday. Judging will be Friday, and persons in charge will be allowed to replace the products after judging.

The exhibits will be open to the public at 11 a.m. Friday. There will be an open division displaying individual products, and consisting of the same products as those shown in the booths. Also, products in the community booths will be eligible for judging with individual products.

Money prizes will go to the Community Products booths along with ribbons to first thru fourth places. In individual judging, ribbons will be given first, second and third places.

Agricultural Crops and Forage

Entries in the agricultural crops and forage division may be from this list:

Ten heads of ear grain: open head milo hybrids, closed head milo hybrids, any other variety milo, any variety kaffir, any variety yellow or white corn.

Grains and seeds (half gallon): Any variety wheat, oats, rye or barley, milo hybrids, any other variety milo, any variety kaffir, hegari, Spanish peanuts, cream peas, black-eyed peas, any variety peas, pinto beans, any other variety beans, common sudan, sweet sorghum, alfalfa, millet, any variety guar, any variety clover, sorghum alnum, and soybeans.

Grass seed (half gallon): any grasses grown in this area, such as weeping love, sand love, side oats gamma, switch, sand bluestem, Indian/ or any other.

Sheaf forage (samples 3 to 5 inches in diameter, 18 to 48 inches high): millet, alfalfa, sudan, sorghum alnum, any variety sorghum, grasses, such as sand love, weeping love, Indian, sand bluestem, switch, side oats gamma, little bluestem, or any other grass.

Cotton: 20 open bolls of cotton or three pounds of picked cotton.

Fruits (5 of each): Apples, peaches or pears.

Vegetables: one each of cashew, watermelon, pie pumpkin, winter squash, field pumpkin or other type melon; 6 each of okra, onions, green corn, porter tomatoes or other tomatoes, cucumbers or hot peppers; three cantaloupes, summer squash or sweet peppers; and 12 Irish or sweet potatoes.

1969 and the family lives in Tujunga, just outside Pasadena.

Prior to that, he was with Texas Instruments at Dallas. There he also worked on an infrared system.

Langford is a graduate of Quail High School and the University of Texas at Arlington.

Quail Stray Far from Home

SAN ANGELO. — Bobwhite quail are not usually considered a migratory bird, but Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologist Don Davis is beginning to wonder.

Last October, Davis tagged and spray-painted 442 birds for tracing purposes on the Matarador Wildlife Area near Paducah. He expected the birds to stick around long enough for some data collection.

Just about the only birds collected out of the bunch were five shot south of Chillicothe in Hardeman County—some 50 air miles from the point of release.

Tri-State Fair Opens Sept. 26

Jimmy Dean and Charley Pride, leading luminaries of the entertainment world, will head coliseum shows at the 1970 Tri State Fair, Sept. 26 in Amarillo. Both stars will be supported by widely known TV personalities.

The Charley Pride Show will perform twice daily, Sept. 21, 22 and 23. The Jimmy Dean troupe performs twice daily, Sept. 24, 25 and 26.

Included in the two casts are Jo Ann Castle of Lawrence Welk fame, The Imperials, North Door Singers, Alex Houston and Elmer, and Johnny Duncan, the handsome young Texan, now at the threshold of stardom.

The Bill Hames Shows, the Southland's largest carnival, will spark the blocks-long midway.

A record $41,815 in cash awards awaits livestock, horse year in Pampa High School and teaches law, salesmanship and typing.

The daughter of Mrs. S. B. Jackson, she was assistant cashier at the City State Bank before returning to college to complete her work for a degree.

Delivering the commencement address for the summer graduates was Dr. J. Paschal Twyman, president of the University of Tulsa.

Dalton Vaughns to Live Here

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Vaughan have returned to make their home in Wellington after living away for a number of years.

Mr. Vaughan has resigned as a principal in the Idalou School System, where he was for 12 years. Mrs. Vaughan taught second grade in the Idalou Elementary School.

He also has taught at Quail, Samnorwood and Briscoe.

They have two children. Their daughter, Sue, is now Mrs. Quentin Hancock, a teacher in the Lubbock schools. Her husband is a principal at Lubbock.

Their son, Dr. Mike Vaughan, teaches in Colorado State University, Fort Collins, Colo.

and other exhibitors at this year's edition of the 47-year-old fair.

Paint and Appaloosa horses will show and perform on the first two days of the fair.

NCHA open and non-professional cutters will vie for top cash premiums on the third day. Quarter Horse days are Thursday and Friday.

A youth horse show, approved by the American Quarter Horse Association, will be staged Saturday, Sept. 26, closing day of the six-day extravaganza. Rural youth also will be honored on that day with a program in Fairpark Coliseum.

Livestock and Swine shows, beginning on opening day, will continue through Thursday.

Thursday has been designated Medicare Day. All persons presenting Medicare cards will be admitted free to the Fairgrounds.

In keeping with long-standing custom, this year's fair will be ushered in with a gigantic parade at 10 a.m. Monday, Sept. 21 in downtown Amarillo. Thirty-four Amarillo and regional bands will provide music for the gala event.

Notice

RESTRICTION OF WATER USE LIFTED

Effective from now until further notice restrictions on the use of water have been lifted.

Homeowners may use water for lawns any day of the week and the restrictions are also lifted on car washing.

Conservative use of water is requested, however, until our area receives general rains for the water level at the wells is still 9 feet below normal.

At this time the City Council wishes to thank the people for the wholehearted cooperation in voluntarily limiting the use of water on lawns Sunday, Monday, Wednesday and Thursday and also for limiting the use of water for car washings. Thanks to your help the water level in the standpipe and reservoir were never low enough to create a fire hazard in spite of the unprecedented dry weather. Your cooperation is sincerely appreciated.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Running a business of any kind and any size is a growing headache these days; but the lettuce barons of the Salinas Valley in California are in the least enviable position of any business. These vegetable growers are not only specialized farmers. As a group they are big business and produce about 75 percent of the nation's lettuce. As a result of the strike of the United Farm Workers the growers are likely to lose most of their multi-million dollar crop. Lettuce must be harvested when ready or it becomes worthless in a few days.

As a result of the lettuce strike the wholesale price has doubled which means the retail price will double also. Lettuce is not the only vegetable affected. The price has also increased on carrots, cauliflower and broccoli. There are adequate substitutes for these vegetables. The trouble is that the chefs and cooks in the hotels and restaurants, hospitals, schools and the housewives in the homes are not in the habit of using them and the cost of serving a meal advances.

Personally, I can do without lettuce as long as most children can do without spinach; but I have long questioned the nutritional value of any and all these vegetables. Cabbage has more vitamins than any single one of them and right now it is selling in Wellington for a nickel a pound and the quality is good. Cabbage can be used raw as cole slaw and in other salads. It makes a meal cooked with ham hock; but the cabbage itself should be cooked only a few minutes to preserve the taste and vitamins. Made into sauer kraut it becomes a lasting vegetable that goes well with all red meat. And remember cabbage is only one of the better substitutes for lettuce.

Children may know something when they ignore the spinach and broccoli. Their taste buds may be telling them something of food values that comes from ancient instincts. They may also be right when they want a hamburger in preference to a costly steak.

Headline in one of Texas' great daily papers: "Drouth Disasters to South Africa." Wonder if they ever heard of such counties as Collingsworth, Childress, Cottle and Hall in Texas.

I phoned Judge Zook Thomas a few days ago and asked him if it was not time to get this county designated as a disaster area. He said that his office was already working on the matter as were a number of Federal agencies with offices in Wellington.

We might as well face it. We are still in what is the worst single year drouth this immediate area has known since farming began here. Since April people have been asking me when would it rain. I began to grow uneasy when all the weather conditions seem favorable for rain and then went away sometimes leaving ineffectual showers and often leaving nothing. Last week James Doneghy remarked that on three different occasions in July everything seemed just right for good moisture and then instead of thickening the clouds simply vanished.

What is that old rhyme?
If the wind don't blow
And the well runs dry,
And the creeks don't run
The cattle will die.

Well anyway Donald Nunnelley says that they are going to have a parade and a good one rain or shine at the fair. Of course he will feel better if a sopping, soaking rain covers this whole region before that date.

In spite of the dry weather, the fair is going to be much better than you might think possible. The various officials and department heads have been really working.

Tuesday Louise and I drove up to a coyote on a dirt road. When we were about thirty feet from the animal, it slipped into Elvis Crawley's cotton patch and sat there looking at us. It was an extremely light yellow and looked slick and fat.

You have heard of sheep and goats being used to mow lawns. Last week Art Kane had two half-grown calves staked out on either side of his lawn in front of his fine home south of Dodson. The animals were eating away as if they were being paid by the pound and not by the hour.

Fire Destroys Barn, Damages House Friday

The Wellington Fire Department was called to two fires Friday afternoon, Aug. 28, one in the Arlie community, the other at a vacant house on West Avenue.

A barn, converted from an Army barracks, caught fire on the Guy Norman farm a mile and a half south of Arlie Friday afternoon.

By the time the Wellington rural unit arrived, the blaze had gained too much headway for the building to be saved, according to David Peters, assistant fire chief, who made the run.

Some seed and feed were also lost.

Firemen sprayed water on butane and gasoline tanks, as well as other buildings, until danger of their catching fire was over.

The second fire broke out about 5:15 p.m., Friday in the attic of a story and a half house owned by Ross O'Hair at 1112 West Avenue.

Fire Chief Jim Sikes said the attic was burning in three places when firemen arrived, the east and west ends and the south side.

The building is vacant and locked doors slowed the firemen's work, Mr. Sikes added. There was considerable damage from both water and fire.

It was also one of the smokiest fires the men have fought recently, the chief said, and firemen had to wear air packs to fight the blaze.

Harper Gives School Calendar for 1970-1971

The Wellington School calendar for the 1970-71 year was released this week by Supt. J. L. Harper.

It will include: First semester, with a total of 92 days: first six weeks, Aug. 24 through Oct. 2, 29 days; second six weeks, Oct. 5 through Nov. 12, 29 days; third six weeks, Nov. 16 through Jan. 14, Jan. 15 will be a work day for teachers.

Second semester, with 93 days: fourth six weeks, Jan. 18 through Feb. 26, 30 days; fifth six weeks, Mar. 1 through April 8, 29 days; and sixth six weeks, April 13 through May 28, 34 days. May 24 will be a work day for teachers.

Five holiday periods were set up: Collingsworth County Fair, Friday, Sept. 18; teacher meeting in Amarillo, Nov. 13; Thanksgiving, Nov. 26 and 27; Christmas, Dec. 23 through Jan. 3; and Easter, April 9 and 12.

Five days are set up for bad weather, Mr. Harper said.

Mrs. Clay Kutch Dies in Calif

Mrs. Clay Kutch, 41, of San Jose, Calif., died Monday, Aug. 24, after a short critical illness.

She was the daughter-in-law of Horton Kutch and a sister-in-law of Mrs. Truett Holland and Mrs. C. T. Shumate.

The former Phoebe Elizabeth Jenkins, she was born in Swansea, Wales. She and Mr. Kutch met while he was in the armed services, stationed in England during World War II.

They were married Nov. 27, 1947, and lived in Wellington for a year and a half, when they went to California.

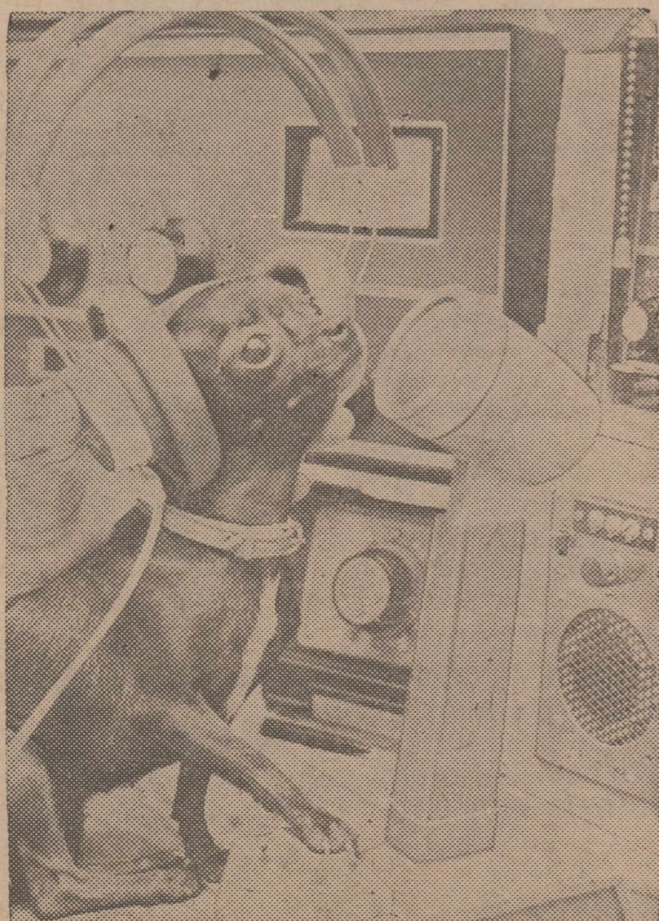

Services were conducted on Thursday at St. Jude's Episcopal Church in Cupertino, Calif., with burial in Los Gatos Memorial Park.

Survivors are her husband; a daughter and a son, Susan Kutch and Haydn Kutch of San Jose; and one brother, Haydn Jenkins of England.

Mrs. Holland and her brother, Thomas Kutch of Rule attended the funeral.

It's Easy to Clean Old Brass

To remove dirt and tarnish from old brass hardware, unscrew it from the furniture and brush-scrub it with salt and vinegar (mixed in a ceramic dish). Then wash it with soap or detergent suds, rinse and wipe dry. The next step is to oil the screws and re-attach brass to the furniture.

Ministers Name Rev. Tom Rogers New President

The Collingsworth County Ministerial Alliance resumed its monthly meetings with a breakfast Monday, Aug. 30. No meetings were held during the three summer months.

The Rev. Tom Rodgers, pastor of the Assembly of God, was elected president, and the Rev. R. T. Dyess of First United Methodist Church was chosen secretary.

Rev. Rodgers succeeds Marvin Garrison, minister of First Christian Church. A vice president and directors will be elected at the next meeting, which will be Monday, Oct. 5.

Kerstens in 11-Inch Rain

Driving through an 11-inch rain near Texarkana, Ark., was the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kersten, who vacationed recently in that state and in Missouri.

At Ashdown, Ark., they visited his two brothers, and they fished in lakes of the area, the first time they had done this together in 25 years.

Traveling with their camper, Mr. and Mrs. Kersten drove over much of Arkansas, then turned north through Missouri to visit their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Kersten in St. Louis.

Rodeo

Entry fees will be $2.00 for each event, except there will be no charge for showmanship. Contestants do not have to be 4-H members.

Entries can be made up to 30 minutes before contest time on the day of the show, however, early entries are encouraged and these may be mailed or brought to the County Agent's office.

Coaches Pleased After Clarendon Scrimmage

Skyrocket coaches report they are "pretty well pleased" with the team following the Clarendon scrimmage last week.

"The kids hit hard and they have lots of desire, and that's the main thing," declared Head Coach Thayne Amonett.

Bobby Saied, starting quarterback, has a sprained ankle and will be out of the Paducah scrimmage, slated to be held before the season starts. "We hope he'll be ready by the time of the Hollis game," Coach Amonett said.

On offense, Saied's place will be taken by Denny Carter, back-up quarterback. Defensively, Jackie Pendleton and Lindy Norman will split time in the place.

Coaches liked the performance of Ted McLain and Gary Killian in the backfield this season after stellar performances in the line during the 1969 season.

Saied, Pendleton, Norman and Carter round out the backfield in its offensive and defensive lineup. New faces are in the line, and all these boys did a fine job, Amonett reported.

These included David Hodges, Billy Henard, Charles Taylor, Keith Martin, Barry Long, Ted Harris and Gus Gomez. Only two weeks remain before the Rockets open their season against Hollis in a home game.

Clyde Martin

Survivors include his wife, a son and three daughters: Ralph Martin of Wellington; Mrs. Barbara Gene Hicks, Mrs. Pauline Sherrill of Amarillo; two sisters and five brothers: Mrs. Bertha Teague of Las Vegas, N.M., Mrs. Inez Johnson of Durango, Colo., Clint Martin of Denver City, Cecil Martin of Lamesa, Arthur Martin and Orville Martin of Corpus Christi, and Roy Martin of Oklahoma City. There are 11 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Bill Wilson is the class sponsor and class parents are Mr. and Mrs. Delbert White and Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Childers.

Rookie Officer

did not shoot because he felt it might be local men. He described the three as white and "pretty good size."

"It's the first time my store has been entered in the 40 years I've been in business," Mr. Parsons declared. "And it gives you a funny feeling to get a call in the middle of the night that your store has been broken into, and again when you get there and look at the equipment they left lying on the floor."

Leota Ammons

ating. Burial was in the Needwood Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home. Nephews were pallbearers.

Survivors include two brothers and three sisters: Earl Ammons of Mangum, Wesley Ammons of Dumas, Mrs. Cordia Bodine of Samnorwood, Mrs. Mittie Aaron of Dallas and Mrs. Katherine Tankersley of Grandbury. A number of nieces and nephews also survive. One brother, J. I. Ammons, preceded her in death.

1891 Survey Sheets Sold

Shamrock Jaycees are sponsoring a Flea Market Friday and Saturday, Sept. 4 and 5, at 213 North Main, as a library building fund project.

An unprecedented feature will be the sale by the page of the original field notes of the 1891 survey of the eastern two-thirds of Collingsworth County.

These are now in a bound book, but present-day landowners may buy the survey of their places on a first-come-first-served basis, according to R. L. Roberts. The field notes are signed by George S. Starves, state surveyor.

The flea market also will include antiques, arts and crafts and canned products such as jellies and jams.

LCC Sets Open House Sept. 7

Lubbock Christian College is opening its campus to the public at a Labor Day Rally, Sept. 7. Everyone is invited to share in the inspiration and old-fashioned fellowship in the chapel at 10 a.m., partake of a western-style barbecue at noon, hear the choruses and Royal Blue Band present some of America's most stirring music at 2 p.m. and listen to Dr. Bill Banowsky speak on "The Greatest Challenges of Our Age" at 2:30 p.m.
