Editor E. L. Covey of the Goree Advocate has his hat on straight. This from the Advocate: "It is reported that work will begin at an early date on the dam across the Wichita river in the eastern part of Baylor county. The entire project will be in charge of an irrigation company and will call for the expenditure of more than four and a half million dollars. The lake, when filled, will be the largest artificial body of water in Texas. In addition to furnishing water to the city of Wichita Falls and other small towns, it will furnish water for the irrigation of 100,000 acres of farm lands. Inasmuch as Goree will be only 30 miles from this lake, we are already planning our outing a few years hence. Come to Goree." Wherever the water falls it can be caught and impounded and wherever its magical flow is regulated the tiller of the soil is made happy and prosperous by the bountiful returns of Mother Nature. Texas has a tremendous annual rainfall. This large volume of water finds its way from the vast watersheds into the Gulf of Mexico. It is sent by the Master Architect to enable man to till the soil in order that he may produce the food to sustain life. Man has done but little for himself in Texas. He has permitted the flood water to roll on into the gulf when he should have caught and impounded it and irrigated vast tracts of land that is non-productive for the want of moisture.

Amarillo has a daily newspaper The Tribune. The editor of The Tribune has a viewpoint, politically speaking. This is his latest: "The Tribune does not believe in sectionalism when it comes to filling public office, but it does believe that when an opportunity is presented to fill an important office with a man from our own section who is entirely qualified, enlightened self-interest demands that it should be done. In the race for the United States senator hip next year, of a list of six or seven entrants only one lives west of the Trinity river, which is some 200 miles east of the Panhandle. Congressman Lucian W. Parrish of Henrietta is a candidate for the place and those who know him believe he is well qualified. Having been born and reared in the western part of Texas, he knows the needs of this section better than some man who has spent his life in th black land section and still regards West Texas and the Panhandle as the home of the prairie dog and coyote. This is a special reason why Mr. Parrish's candidacy should be supported by the state. But if he were a man of the type who would go to Washington simply to represent the western part of Texas and be indifferent to the needs of other sections he would be unworthy of the place. The fact that he is being supported by influential citizens from all corners of Texas is the best of evidence that he is not a provincialist. Texas is now represented in the senate by a man from Texarkana, in the northeast corner of the state, and another man from Dallas. West Texas and the Panhandle are the fastest growing sections of Texas. Why wouldn't it be wise to have one man in the senate from the western half of the state?

GOVERNOR NEFF AND HERTZBERG EXPRESS VIEWS ON PRISONS

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 25.—Conflicting views on the prison system of Texas were aired by Governor Pat M. Neff and State Senator Harry E. Hertzberg of San Antonio here today at the prison reform conference of the Texas League of Women Voters. The conference opened the state convention of the league and Governor Neff and Senator Hertzberg were among the principal speakers.

Senator Hertzberg followed the governor on the program and opposed the latter's policy in respect to the prison system. Governor Neff, in his luncheon address, cited improvements that had been made in the prison system in the past four months naming the separation of white from colored prisoners and young prisoners from hardened criminals, provisions for teachers and ministers in each prison camp and the Huntsville penitentiary, the erection of a new prison building and the abolishment of the punitive chain and dark cell.

Arraigns Neff Policy

In his arraignment of the governor's policy, Senator Hertzberg described conditions in the Texas prison camps as "intolerable and deplorable." He asked the retention of the suspended sentence law and condemned the policy under which, he said, the board of prison advisers was abhorred. The governor sat through Senator Hertzberg's address and then departed, saying he had no comment to make.

Senator Hertzberg said Governor Neff "painted too rosy a picture of the penitentiary system the senator demanded the governor's stand on relocation of the prison system and inauguration of vocational training and urged restoration of the board of pardon advisers and human treatment of convicts. He defended State Senator R. M. Dudley of El Paso, whom, he said, the governor misquoted in regard to the escape of prisoners.

Establishing of prison industries in Texas was urged by Miss Julia K. Jaffray, secretary of the national committee on prisons and prison labor, New York; mental and physical classification of prisoners was advocated by Dr. V. V. Anderson, New York, and recreation as an aid in reformation, by Mrs. Beatrice Plumb Hunziker, girls' training school, Gainesville, Texas. Other recommendations made in addresses included a woman's reformatory for Texas to dispose of Camp Goree, near Huntsville, by Dr. Carrie Weaver Smith, president of the girls' training school and the placing of two women on the Gatesville boys' training school board of control, by Mrs. E. A. Walters, Fort Worth.

OFFICIALS OF HARDIN COUNTY ARE INDICTED

County Judge, County Auditor and Two Commissioners Charged With Misapplication of Funds.

By Associated Press.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Oct. 25.—Four officials of Hardin county, Texas, were at liberty today on substantial bonds following their arrests in connection with indictments returned against them by the grand jury charging misapplication of public funds. They are County Judge L. G. Hurley, County Auditor Charles M. McKim, and County Commissioners H. A. Chance and Albert Cook.

The Hardin county grand jury report, recommending removal of the four officials, charges that the commissioners' court has been and is transacting the business for the county in a flagrantly gross, negligent and careless manner; that its manner and methods of having work done and performed and in payment for same seems to have been done with an utter disregard for the best interests of the county and its citizenship and in many instances with an utter contempt for law.

Arrest of Judge Hurley and the other officials named in the indictments was ordered by the county attorney immediately following the grand jury's action. It culminated in what is said to have been a discussion of the alleged misapplication of Hardin county funds for several months.

Funds said to have been misapplied are alleged in the official report to have been accredited to road and bridge building. It is alleged that the commissioners' court had no knowledge of the amount, kind or character of work done.

PARRISH SEEKS TO MODIFY U. S. POSTAL SYSTEM

Proposes Investment Postal Savings Funds in Government Securities and Removal Limits on Deposits.

By B. N. TIMMONS,
Record News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 25.—Representative Parrish of Texas introduced a bill in the House today to correct and modernize the postal savings system and to provide for the investment in government bonds of funds on deposit instead of loaning them to banks at two and one-fourth per cent interest. The Parrish bill removes the ten-year-old age restriction and also the limitation of $2,500 which any one person may deposit.

Parrish said that financial experts predict that if the postal savings system is improved and the funds invested in government securities that the two billion dollar floating indebtedness can be retired from the funds received and the necessity for issuing treasury certificates done away with. It also will have the effect of increasing the value of Victory and Liberty bonds, he said.

The postal savings law, Parrish said, was passed before the federal reserve system and the federal farm loan system were created and there is no valid argument against the government investing this money in government securities.

West Texas: Tonight, partly cloudy, rain in Panhandle, colder except in southwest portion; Wednesday, fair.

Oklahoma: Tonight and Wednesday, unsettled, probably rain; colder tonight and in east portion Wednesday.

Strike Settlement Before Saturday Is Unofficial Forecast

The rail strike will be settled between now and October 29, according to private and what is believed authentic advices received from Washington by local business men.

The basis of the settlement, according to these advices, has been agreed upon already. The terms were dictated by Secretary Hoover, the secretary of commerce, and the preponderating influence in the administration's rail strike policies.

The basis of the settlement, according to the advices is the sweeping reduction in rates recently promulgated by the interstate commerce commission the acceptance of the reduction in wages promulgated in July by the railway labor board, and the withdrawal by the operators of their request for an additional reduction.

Secretary Hoover's interest is thought to have arisen from a desire that business recovery be not interfered with, and in line with his recent work in the unemployment question, with a desire that that problem not be aggravated by the addition of the strikers to the ranks of the idle.

The settlement is to be procured through the three members of the public group on the railway labor board, they being influenced by the administration to bring the other groups together.

The terms of this agreement, while not pleasing to anybody, will be less pleasing, in their order to the railroad employes, to the business interests of the country, and to the operators. In fact, the operators will be coerced into accepting the terms, according to the advices. It is very evident that this group wants the strike to come now, to settle the issue finally with the brotherhoods.

The settlement will be more pleasing to the railway employes, who [illegible] realize that the present constitutes the worst time, from their standpoint, for a finish fight. In between there, it is between [illegible] and the commercial interests of the country, who, torn between a desire to see wages and freight rates lowered, and believing that now is a good time to see the wage question fought out, and a desire to see business go along on the promised recovery without a back-set from a railroad strike at this time.

SUGGESTS WAR SUPPLIES FOR AIDING RUSSIA

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Suggestion that congress authorize the war department to donate surplus war supplies for use in relieving the famine stricken people in Russia was made today by Secretary Hoover in a letter to Chairman Kahn of the house military affairs committee. Relief associations, the secretary said, had not been able to command sufficient private charity "to cover even a portion of the great need."

From 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 people in Russia must be destroyed unless they are given aid, according to a statement by Dr. Vernon Kellogg, secretary of the National Research council, made public by Mr. Hoover at the same time. Dr. Kellogg, surveying famine conditions in Russia, declared that in the Volga famine area the lives of 15,000,000 people were in jeopardy unless food was made available.

BODY OF UNKNOWN WARRIOR ON SHIP BOUND FOR AMERICA

HAVRE, Oct. 25.—The simple flag draped coffin containing the symbol of America's unsung fighters set sail westward at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Reposing in a place of honor in the stern of the United States cruiser Olympia, the "unknown warrior" was taken on his homeward voyage to find a resting place in the national cemetery at Arlington.

Hundreds of bunches of flowers, token of esteem of French [illegible] ty, were banked on all sides of the coffin, around which were held impressive ceremonies just before the cruiser put out to sea.

A feature of the ceremonies was the placing of a medal of the Legion of Honor on the casket by Minister of Pensions Maginot.

"France will never forget American's sacrifices in the war which this unknown soldier symbolizes," declared the French official as he placed the medal upon the casket.

Three [illegible] escorted the body to the pier and scattered flowers before the gun carriage which bore it.

MAY BANISH CHARLES TO LONELY ISLE

Forced Seclusion in "Safe Place" Proposed for Former Emperor by Officials of Allied Powers.

Former Empress Thwarts Attempt of Charles to Commit Suicide by Shooting, Following Capture.

By Associated Press.

VIENNA, Oct. 25.—It is reported that former emperor Charles today accepted unconditionally terms offered him by Admiral Horthy, the regent, and that he has been assigned to the Benedictine abbey of Tihany, on Platten lake where he will live until further orders. The abbey is situated about 50 miles southwest of Budapest.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Former Emperor Charles' attempt to regain the Magyar throne resulted in his internment either on Ascension Island or one of the Canary Islands, according to diplomatic circles here today, where it was stated that these possibilities might be considered by the allied supreme council. The general belief was expressed that he would be removed to a "safe place" outside of Europe.

The advisability of interning Charles in the Abbey of Tihyan until the allies finally decide his fate was being discussed by the government today. The abbey is located near Lake Balaton, about 60 miles southwest of Budapest.

It is believed no country will willingly grant him asylum and it was considered probable today that he would be limited to British officers who would escort him to some place which it was hoped the allies would designate.

Ex-Empress Zita is expected to be allowed to return, Switzerland to take care of her children which were left behind.

By Associated Press.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 25.—Former Emperor Charles, whose attempt to re-establish himself upon the Magyar throne met with dismal failure yesterday, attempted to commit suicide by shooting following his arrest near Komorn. Former Empress Zita saw him preparing to shoot himself and prevented him from carrying out his intention.

The former emperor and empress are now prisoners in the Esterhazy castle at Tata Tovaros, and Thomas Beaumont Hohler, British high commissioner in Hungary, is hurrying there with the representatives of other nations to insure the safety of the prisoners.

Orders sent to the rebellious troops supporting Charles by Admiral Horthy, the Hungarian regent, spelled the doom of Charles' attempt to regain at least a part of his former empire. The regent reminded the soldiers of their oath of allegiance to him and demanded their unconditional obedience, adding that the success of their undertaking would mean the

BROTHERHOODS ANTICIPATING LEGAL FIGHT

Seek to Employ Former Director General of Railroads to Represent Them Before Rail Labor Board

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 25.—That the "big five" railroad transportation organization chiefs are expecting a legal battle when they appear before the United States railroad labor board tomorrow in Chicago, was indicated today when they sought to retain Walker D. Hines, former director general of railroads, to handle legal phrases which might develop. Mr. Hines informed the brotherhood executives that he "was not in a position" to represent them and returned to New York tonight.

Mr. Hines declined to make any general comment on the situation, or to discuss any specific points.

Unless the railroad labor board has changed its attitude concerning the necessity of general chairmen of the five labor organizations appearing at the Chicago meeting, it is anticipated that one of the first legal squabbles to be decided will be on the action of Warren S. Stone, president of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers, in notifying his general chairmen they need not answer to the labor board's citation. Mr. Stone announced tonight that only himself and six grand officers, in whom the authority of the organization is vested, will attend the conference.

Referring to conflicting reports in telegrams exchanged between Chairman R. M. Barton of the railroad labor board and President Stone, regarding the necessity of General Chairmen of the brotherhoods being requested to attend the Chicago hearings, Mr. Stone tonight said:

"My chairmen are scattered all over the country from Maine to California and it would be impossible for me to get them to Chicago in time for the hearing."

CRACKED PARTS IN HIGHWAY NOW FILLED, REPORT

Noble Says Reinspection Shows Sand and Asphalt in Parts of Road Complained of.

Cracks in the paved highway to Iowa Park, on which he complained to the county commissioners after an inspection trip last Friday in company with I. H. Roberts, and which he attributed to improper mixing of the batches of cement on portions complained of, have been filled with sand and hot asphalt, according to T. B. Noble, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday afternoon.

"At least those we noticed Friday on our first trip were as far out as we went yesterday afternoon," said Mr. Noble.

The statement came with reference to any intended action on the part of the Highway Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. County and highway service engineers pronounced the road all right, and said that the cracks were to be expected, when questioned on the matter. The county commissioners refrained from going further into the complaints Monday than calling for and accepting the opinion of the engineers. Mr. Noble was asked if there was any possibility of the Chamber of Commerce securing a disinterested engineer to inspect the cracks, to which he replied that he did not think so, with explanation about the filling of the cracks.

SEIZED ARMS AND AMMUNITION WERE ONLY MOVIE OUTFIT

By Associated Press.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 25.—David Gershon of the department of justice, yesterday released John Flahive, his two sons, Frank and Jack and Sam Barrier, all of Los Angeles, held for investigation following the seizure yesterday of arms an ammunition en route to Tia Juan, Lower California, and reported valued at $10,000. The men were released following an investigation showing the guns and ammunition were to be used for moving picture purposes.

STRIKERS AT ALAMO CITY CONFIDENT

Single Local Freight Train Operated in Each Direction on Fourth Day; Expect Early Settlement.

By Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 25.—Successful adjustment of the differences between the brotherhood chiefs and the railroad executives at the conference tomorrow, with the United States railroad labor board will mean that prompt return to work of 600 striking trainmen of the International & Great Northern Railroad of Texas, is the opinion of union trainmen in San Antonio. F. G. Rieden, secretary-treasurer of the local branch of trainmen, predicted an early settlement of the differences and that the men would be taken back to their former position.

At the office of the division superintendent of the I. & G. N. late today it was said that the railroad labor board would in all probability dictate conditions on which the striking trainmen would return to their former jobs. It was recalled that prior to the adoption of the transportation act the matter of retaining seniority rights among striking railroad employes was for the consideration of the carrier and the union officials.

One local freight train was sent in each direction from San Antonio today, the fourth day of the strike of the trainmen of the I. & G. N., according to J. M. Landis, chief clerk to Superintendent Jones. Shippers were advised today by the road that there had been no change in the embargo placed on freight last Saturday at noon when the strike became effective.

United States District Attorney John D. Hartman announced today that since the I. & G. N. railroad is in the hands of a receiver appointed by the United States federal court, the property is under the protection of the federal government. Any attempt to interfere with the property or the possession of the property will immediately become an offense against the order of the court which contains an injunction against interference, Mr. Hartman said.

EXPULSION OF BLANTON FROM HOUSE SOUGHT

Charges of Entering Obscene Language Into House Records Filed Against T. L. Blanton.

Blanton Declares Will Make His Reply to Charges of House Leader Mondell From Floor on Thursday.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The house was asked today to expel one of its members—Thomas L. Blanton, democrat, of the Seventeenth Texas district—for causing to be published in the Congressional Record an affidavit which related to a row at the government printing office and which was characterized as obscene and unprintable.

Presented on the Texans' 49th birthday by Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, the republican leader, was placed on the table for consideration and vote Thursday, because of Blanton's absence from Wasnington. He left here Monday night for Wheeling, W. Va., to make a speech in accordance with arrangements made prior to the action of the house Monday in expunging his undelivered speech, containing the offending affidavit from the Record, but is expected back tomorrow.

Examination of house proceedings, parliamentarians announced, failed to show where a member had been expelled except during Civil war days. Many demands for expulsion have been put forward but censure only resulted, some representatives resigning before the house acted.

A two-thirds vote of members present would be required to expel Blanton. In the question of voting on the Mondell resolution leaders declared the house would vote without regard to party lines. The Texans' delegation will meet tomorrow to discuss the case and it was said to be quite likely that a substitute measure, providing censure instead of expulsion, would be presented.

The storm that had been sweeping the house since discovery Saturday of the Blanton "extension of remarks" in the Record did not seem to grow in fury until after elimination of the speech which was not made on the floor. Finding a num

TRAIN CREW TAKES PISTOL FROM YOUTH ATTEMPTING HOLDUP

By Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 25.—The crew of a Missouri, Kansas and Texas freight train took a revolver away from a young man who tried to hold up their train near Merriam, Kan., early today, and in the scuffle which ensued the fireman wounded the would-be bandit with his own weapon.

The man, who said he was James Duffy, 24, said he stole the revolver in Oklahoma City.

HEAVY TOLL EXACTED BY TROPICAL STORM RAGING ON COAST OF FLORIDA

JACKSONVILLE, Florida, Oct. 25.—At midnight tonight, the tropical hurricane which entered the state at Tampa this morning and spread northeastward across the state, causing a loss of property and crops estimated at approximately $1,000,000, was apparently attaining its maximum velocity in the vicinity of Jacksonville.

Tampa is without lights, telegraph, telephone or street car service, according to advices which were received here by way of Plant City, about 30 miles northeast of Tampa.

Heavy rains are reported falling over the entire state. Forty miles inland from Tampa in the section around Lakeland and Plant City, truck crops have suffered serious damage. Highways are virtually impassable because of fallen trees, but so far as known, railroad service has not been seriously inconvenienced. Officials of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad with division headquarters at Lakeland report interruption of service south of Tampa with water three feet deep over the tracks between Punta Gorda and Boca Grande.

The flooded area in Tampa was described as extending from the bay shore seawall to the heart of the business section, a distance of about a mile. Fashionable residences along the bay shore drive were reported badly damaged from the high water. A gale of 56 miles an hour was reported in that city.

At Palm City the rainfall for the last 48 hours registered 4.26 inches with a 35-mile an hour wind. Railroad officials reported they were unable to communicate with any intermediate stations between Plant City and Tampa. A number of cattle are reported drowned.

Considerable damage to shipping is feared. The freight steamer Thames plying between Jacksonville and Miami, sank today about 14 miles north of Jupiter, but Captain E. J. Wuhl, and his crew of 15 men reached shore in life boats at Gomez. A small wooden vessel is also believed to have gone ashore near the same place.

Reports of many [illegible] damage are unavailable.

By Associated Press.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 25.—The business section of Tampa is practically flooded under three feet of water as a result of the gulf storm, according to advices reaching here tonight over crippled transmission lines. No loss of life has been reported, but industry is at a standstill. The entire west coast of Florida is feeling the effects of the storm and is virtually isolated so far as communication is concerned.

WIRELESS STATION IS DESTROYED

By Associated Press.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Oct. 25.—The St. Petersburg wireless station went out of commission this afternoon, according to a report from the Jupiter Wireless station, 18 miles north of here and the St. Augustine wireless station is also said to be out of commission. The center of the tropical storm early this morning was a short distance west of Tampa and moving northnorthwest. The maximum velocity of the wind was given at 5 miles an hour and the barometer at Tampa at noon read 29.04.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The weather bureau tonight announced that the tropical storm which is in effect off the south Atlantic coast, was moving inland at last reports and was heading for the northeast coast of Florida, between Jacksonville and Titusville. The bureau was without late reports from the flooded area around Tampa, the last advices having been received about noon today.

ASK ROADS TO DELAY EFFORTS FOR WAGE CUTS

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The United States railroad labor board today turned to the railroads in its attempts to avert the rail strike scheduled for October 30, suggesting that the roads temporarily postpone seeking further wage reductions because the board's docket was so crowded a wage decision could not be rendered before July, 1922.

The carriers, however, informed the board that they were "powerless to take any other position," than their present one.

In a formal statement, the board informed the carriers that it would not consider any petitions for wage cuts until the questions of rules and working conditions, now before it, were fully settled. The board then unofficially let the carriers know it was learned, that since its docket was so crowded a ruling on wages for all classes could not be handed down before July, 1922. It would like the roads to formally announce postponement of their announced plans to seek further pay cuts taking the attitude that such an announcement might avert a walkout.

Tuesday's Strike Developments

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO—Labor board suggests to roads that they temporarily postpone seeking further wage cuts because the docket is so full that a decision could not be rendered before July, 1922, but roads declare themselves "powerless to take any other position" than their present one. Board announces rules and working conditions will be settled before any wage reduction petitions are considered."

WASHINGTON—Attorney General Daugherty and district attorneys from New York, Cleveland, Buffalo, Indianapolis and Chicago complete plans "for transportation of people who travel and transportation of food and fuel" in the event of a strike.

CLEVELAND—Warren S. Stone, head of the engineers, announced he had instructed his chairmen they need not attend tomorrow's labor board hearing at Chicago, saying the board had misunderstood their authority and will not want them when the situation is explained.

W. S. Carter, president of the firemen and enginemen, in a statement declares press reports indicate "the whole power of the administration is to be used to defeat the strike," and that "there seems to be no disposition on the part of any one to bring about an equitable adjustment."

"Big Five" union chiefs ask Walker D. Hines, former director general of railroads, to act as their counsel in dealing with labor board, but he declines.

CINCINNATI — Railway clerks will give "passive assistance" to proposed walkout by refusing to do other than their own work during it. Train dispatching orders will not be handled by the clerks by telephone if telegraphers carry out their plans to strike.

HOUSTON—International & Great Northern strike situation unchanged. Full passenger and part freight service being operated under armed guards although strikers maintain hands-off policy.

The committee of the association of railway executives which conferred with the board announced, however, that the carriers would stand pat on their plans to seek new pay cuts on the ground that wages must be reduced before freight rates could be lowered and that the strike was called technically in protest of wage cuts already authorized by the board, there was no necessity for the roads to take other than an inactive part in the strike controversy between the board and the unions.

In its communication to the roads, presented at the conference with the executive committee, the board declared that if both sides would consider the delay necessary before wages again could be reduced, they would realize that there was no cause for immediate strike between them over this point.

The unions, not taking into consideration this delay, were crossing bridges before coming to them when they called a strike, the board's statement said.

It pointed out that the carriers had repeatedly urged a quick decision on the rules and working conditions questions now before the board and that it had determined several weeks ago to settle this matter before taking up anything else.

Of the 2,000 cases submitted to the board during its 18 months existence 1,300 still are unsettled, the statement said, pointing out that proper co-operation between the carriers and the unions would have prevented many of them coming to the board.

"The board's statement, members said, was issued tonight, the eve of the strike hearing to which both the unions and carriers have been summoned for questioning to determine if the transportation act is being violated by the unions in their strike plans, in the hope that it would result in representatives of one side or the other voluntarily offering some plan to clear up the crisis. The board itself has no different plan, it was said, and will try in the hearing merely to bring out all facts in the case.

RAILROAD RULES ARE MATTER OF CONTROVERSY

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The railroad rules which have been an unofficial pointed controversy in the conditions leading up to the present strike controversy, comprise hundreds of regulations about working conditions, only a few of which have been made issues in the strike arguments.

The entire question of rules and working conditions was aired last spring when the labor board held a hearing on the roads' application for the abolition of the national agreements reached during the war-time control by the United States railroad administration. The board has so far rendered decisions on some thirty rules affecting the shop crafts, but has not yet reached the regulations governing the train service unions which are now threatening to strike.

Unions Fear Change

Union leaders have repeatedly said however, that the belief that the board may change some of their rules is one cause for the strike. The unions sought an agreement with the roads providing that the companies should not for a fixed period attempt to change the present schedule rules and working conditions, but the roads refused to consider the proposal.

Among the rules which the trainmen are particularly anxious to retain are:

Time and a half for overtime in the slow freight service.

Time and a half for Sunday work by this men.

Pay for extra service from the time a man is called from his home, instead of from the time he reports for work.

There are hundreds of rules in the national agreements affecting the various classes of employes and it is improbable that the board will render its final decision for several months. Board members sometime ago indicated they hoped to dispose of the case by next January but the present condition of the docket indicates such action will not be possible before March.

Many Minor Rules

Many of the rules are of little or no importance and will not be considered by the board. Some of the rule books of the various roads embrace thousands of regulations ranging from the type of shades engineers may have on their cab windows to rules governing the possession and use of switch keys.

In the hearing last spring Thomas DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway executives told the board the national agreements had increased the railroads' operating expenses from $300,000,000 to $750,000,000, and had decreased the employes' output and efficiency to an extent that would not be calculated in dollars and cents.

In the few decisions rendered on shop craft rules the board has indicated a policy, however, of preserving the rules, in the main, contenting itself with removing what appeared to it to be obvious inequalities. Observers close to the board say that there is small likelihood of the time and a half for overtime in the slow freight service being abolished. In the shop crafts decisions, on the other hand, the board abolished time and a half for the first eight hours of Sunday work in the seven day services and it is considered probable that the same decision may apply to the train branches.

SAYS APPEARANCES ARE THAT EVERYONE OPPOSES EMPLOYES

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 25.—In a statement today, W. S. Carter, president of the brotherhood of locomotive firemen and enginemen, declared that "if press reports are to be taken at their face value, the whole power of the administration is going to be used to defeat the strike of the employes." Mr. Carter was director of the division of labor of the United States railroad administration, the entire federal control of railroads.

"There seems to be no disposition on the part of any one to bring about an equitable adjustment and here is where the matter stands," President Carter said, adding "What is to be done between now and October 30, no one knows."

The statement in part follows:

"A source of irritation which has resulted in an upheaval among railroad employes is the general attitude of the railroads and of 'everybody else,' including that of the administration, that upon labor must rest the entire burden of going back to 'normalcy.' The public press has lent itself to the determination on the part of the capitalists of this country to 'deflate labor' and at no time have railroad employes ever seen anything in the public press indicating that either at Washington or elsewhere, where 'big business' seems to dominate, there has been anything said on behalf of labor in this campaign of deflation.

Blame Big Business.

"The 'open shop' propaganda of last year made it evident to railroad employes that there was a conspiracy on the part of the 'big business' to destroy labor unions, if it were possible to achieve that purpose.

"Immediately upon return of the railroads to private control railroad presidents and others, hired for the purpose, began a nationwide propaganda to convince the public that the high rates were caused by high wages. Statements made before the labor board at its hearing, and before the senate committee on interstate commerce at its hearings under senate resolution 23, were deliberate falsifications of the facts, and for the purpose of creating a public opinion that the railroads had been badly treated by the government and that the railroad employes had been given more than their just dues.

Score Esch-Cummins Law.

"The opposition of railroad employes to the enactment of the Esch-Cummins law was based on two principles.

"1.—One of the results of the transportation act of 1920 was to increase the supposed valuation of the railroads from less than $12,000,000,000 to almost $19,000,000,000 and upon this inflated value the interstate commerce commission was required to fix a freight and a passenger rate that presumably would give to railroad owners a return for their investments of between 5½ and 6 per cent. Any man connected with the railroad business should know that such an increase in capital charges could not be incurred without disaster, either to the corporations or to the employes. They knew that if these railroads upon this great inflation of capital investment were to earn 5½ or 6 per cent railways employes must suffer in the end.

"2.—Title III of the transportation act created a railroad labor board made up of three 'factions,' the railroad employes are represented, the railway corporations are represented and the 'public' are represented thereon. With this arrangement it remained only for the railroad corporations to create a public opinion that wages must be reduced and that freight rates and passenger rates must be maintained. I am going to assume that more than a million dollars has been expended by the railroad corporations since the enactment of the transportation act to create this impression in the public mind. If there are three representatives of the railroad corporations and three representatives of the public, then all that would be necessary to destroy the standard of living of railroad employes would be to create a public opinion so that the 'representatives' of the public would unite with the representatives of the railroad corporations and thereby establish a two-thirds majority against labor on the United States railroad labor board. That the men selected as 'representatives of the public' have been able to be as judicial as they have proven to be demonstrates that notwithstanding the fact that they are supposed to represent the public, they have disregarded the fact that the principle of their creation as set forth in title III of the transportation act.

"A vast number of railroads, not content with the wage reduction brought about by decision number 147 of the labor board, have demanded revisions of wages agreements that will destroy rules in effect for many years. Nothing has alarmed the men to a greater extent than this seeming determination to abrogate rules until the announcement is now made that another wage reduction will be insisted upon.

STRIKE SITUATION IS UNCHANGED AT HOUSTON.

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 25.—The general strike situation in Houston remains unchanged except that company officials of the International & Great Northern railway claim that additional freight service is being inaugurated. Freight service over the lines were completely tied up last Saturday noon by the walkout of approximately 600 trainmen, but passenger service has not been interrupted.

His Preferred Fate.

The bridegroom smiled optimistically. "Well, for my part," he said, "I prefer to be a widow's second husband than her first."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

ber of members were preparing to demand action, the republican leaders took the bull by the horns and called a meeting of the steering committee at which veteran representatives were invited in and asked to express their views. Thirty minutes later, Mr. Mondell entered the chamber with a resolution in his pocket.

No Apology Expected

Meanwhile attempts had been made to get in touch with Blanton to notify him of the step contemplated and his office said he would return tomorrow and "make a statement" in the house. There were intimations that an apology was in prospect.

There was a tense moment in the house when the leader, rising from his seat, sent to the clerk's desk a paper with a request that it be read. The roll call, just ended, showed Blanton absent. Necks were craned as Mr. Mondell, turning to the democratic side and pitching his voice asked:

"Is the gentleman from Texas present?"

Getting no response and declaring that it was serious matter and believing it unseemingly to proceed with its consideration in the absence of the accused, Mr. Mondell announced that he would call it up tomorrow. Later, however, it was agreed to act on it Thursday.

Blanton some months ago was denounced on the floor by Representative Summers of Texas, with the solid Texas delegation standing at Summer's back. A week ago he was denounced by Representative Burke, republican, Pennsylvania, who jumping out of parliamentary bounds, called him a "damned liar" in the midst of a bitter debate.

When the motion to strike his nine page speech from the record was made Monday, Blanton demanded an aye and nay vote and cast the only vote to keep it there.

In presenting the demand for Blanton's expulsion republican leaders said, it was said, they hoped to stall off a multiplicity of resolutions which was known to be in preparation by both Democrats and Republicans.

Just as he was about to throw into the house hopper a resolution of his own, Representative McLaughlin, Republican, Nebraska, withdrew it on being informed that Mr. Mondell would call one up immediately. The McLaughlin measure was a bit more specific, in that it charged violation of postal laws in mailing the congressional record, carrying half a column of obscene language.

The Resolution.

The resolution offered by Mr. Mondell follows:

"Whereas Thomas L. Blanton, representative from the seventeenth district of the state of Texas, did on October 4, 1921, ask unanimous consent to extend his remarks in the congressional records upon the improvements in the government printing office, which consent was granted by the house; and,

"Whereas under such permission the said Thomas L. Blanton did insert and cause to be printed in the Congressional Record for Saturday, October 22, 1921, grossly indecent and obscene language unworthy of a member of the house of representatives, contrary to the rules of the house, derogatory to its dignity and in violation of its confidence, therefore be it

"Resolved, that the said Thomas L. Blanton by his conduct as aforesaid has forfeited all rights to sit as a representative in the sixty-seventh congress and is hereby expelled and declared to be no longer a member of the house."

Upon the conclusion of the reading of the resolution, Mr. Mondell announced that Representative Blanton's office had been notified it would be introduced.

WILL MAKE REPLY ON FLOOR OF THE HOUSE

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 25.—When informed here today of the introduction of a resolution calling for his expulsion from the house of representatives, Representative Blanton said:

"I'll be back in the house at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and what I have to say in this matter will be told on the floor."

Mr. Blanton, who is to make an address here tonight declined to comment further on the subject.

TOUSSAINT NOW LEADS QUIET LIFE

Henry J. Toussaint, condemned prisoner at the county jail is leading a quiet life. Following a series of outbreaks several weeks ago the prisoner whose fate now rests in the hands of the criminal court of appeals, has ceased to be violent, again taking up the routine life of a county jail prisoner.

An irritable disposition is shown by the prisoner at times, according to officers.

His wife daily visits the jail. Except on Friday and Sunday when visitors are allowed to go inside the jail, she talks to the condemned man from the outside.

He is confined in a cell on the third floor.

His wife is now employed in the city.

SUIT OPENS ON AWARD OF INSURANCE

The suit of the Texas Employers' Insurance Association against Ford Stuart to set aside the award made by the state industrial board for injuries incurred last year, opened in the 80th district court Tuesday afternoon before Special Judge J. T. Montgomery.

According to the plaintiff's petition the defendant was awarded $6,015 in a lump sum by the state industrial board for injuries he sustained while working in shop of the Texas company at Electra on October 19 of last year.

The plaintiff alleges that the award was excessive and asks that it be set aside.

MAIL TO MOVE DESPITE STRIKE ASSERTS HAYS

Plans of Postoffice Department, in Event of Rail Tieup, Include Use of Numerous Agencies.

Distribution to Wichita Falls, Amarillo and Other Texas Cities by Airplane Considered.

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Airplanes, electric railways, steamboats and motor trucks are all to be brought into play by the postoffice department for the handling of the mails, in the event the threatened strike of railway employes is put into effect, and mail service by rail is seriously interrupted. Postmaster General Will H. Hays has determined and officially announced that the mails must be delivered, strike or no strike, and every effort will be made to carry out the order.

There seems to be great doubt in the postoffice department, as in most other quarters, whether the strike will be put into effect. But the department is taking no chances, and is preparing to bring every possible agency into action to prevent any interruption to the service. Col. Edward H. Shaughnessy, second assistant postmaster general, has charge of the transportation of mails and it will be his business to see that there is no delay in the delivery of letters, newspapers, parcel post packages and other matter entrusted to the postoffice department to be transported to its destination.

First Step.

Interurban trolley lines will be used, according to present plans the department, as far as possible in taking the place of mail trains, if it is found necessary to abandon any of the latter. The first effort of the post office department, backed by every other branch of the United States government, will be to prevent the stopping of the mail trains. Detailed plans of action looking to this result have not been made public, but it is known that the federal government is preparing to go the limit in preventing any tie-up of the railway mail service.

Whether federal troops will be called upon to man and protect mail trains is mere conjecture. Intimations have been made that this may be done, but nothing official has been given out regarding the plans of the administration with respect to keeping mail trains moving, further than the general statement from the postmaster general that the mail service must not be interrupted.

But, if a general strike becomes effective, it will be utterly impossible, in the opinion of most persons, for the post office department, even with the entire backing of the United States government, to keep all trains running, and mail moving normally. It probably will be possible to move some of the mail trains, but there is no doubt anywhere but that mail service will be very greatly interrupted in the event of a general strike of railway employees being declared. And it is to meet that sort of condition that plans are being made now for the use of every modern agency to supplement such mail service as may remain in effect.

Trolleys Considered.

The most effective help expected by the post office department, in the event of interrupted train service is through the interurban electric lines, and plans are being made for very general use of these lines, wherever they are available. States like Indiana and Ohio, whose entire area is a vast network of trolley lines, could get along very well, practically all the time, with the mails carried exclusively by trolley, instead of by train. But other states are not so fortunately situated, with that respect. Even in the more populous states, such as New York and Pennsylvania, there are not the interurban trolley systems such as Indiana and Ohio have, although there are few states in which some of the principal cities are not connected by the trolleys.

Even where there are large trolley systems, connecting many cities in a state, the systems may be without outside connections except by rail, and if the rail transportation of mail should be interrupted it would be necessary to use other means to get mail from the outside to a connection with the trolley systems. And it is in such a case that airplanes and motor trucks are to be utilized. Trucks are to be the main reliance where train service fails and trolleys do not run. But for long distance transportation over mountains and other sections where hard roads are scarce, the airplanes are to be pressed into service. And even lake vessels and river steamboats will likely be called on to assist in the distribution of the mail, when they can be used to advantage.

Newspapers and Letters.

At the post office department it has been made clear that first class mail and newspapers from the office of publication are to be given preference in the emergency distribution of mail, if the emergency arises. The newspaper is regarded by Postmaster General Hays as a household necessity, and it is contemplated that the distribution of daily papers shall be given as great care as the forwarding of letters. This plan is subject to change, if changing conditions should make it necessary to use the mails for transporting food.

With many skeptical as to any strike occuring, there are few who consider that a strike will continue for any great length of time, if called at all. But, should there be a strike which would continue until the transportation of food should become necessary, there is every probability that the orders of the post office department would be changed so as to give food the right of way even over letters and newspapers. At this time, however, letters and daily papers have the preference.

Details as to the manner in which mails will be handled locally have not been worked out, but it is planned that whatever method is most practical and easiest to enforce will be utilized in each locality.

The tentative plans call for the shipment of such mail from New York to Galveston via steamship. From Galveston to Houston interurban lines will be used for the delivery of Houston mail. Secretary Weeks probably will issue orders for all fliers at Ellington and Kelly Field to report to the post office department for service. There are landing fields at Waco, Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Amarillo which will be used.

Fort Worth will be the nerve center of the mail operations in Texas and it is from Panther City that all operations in Texas in case of strike will be handled.

EXCESS PROFIT TAX DEFEATED IN U. S. SENATE

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The senate voted tonight, 39 to 27, against retaining the excess profits tax after January 1 at the present rates. The proposal was offered by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, who immediately afterwards proposed retention of the profits tax at reduced rates.

Four Republicans—Borah, Kenyon, LaFollette and Norbeck—joined the solid Democratic minority in supporting the first Reed amendment. Also with a record vote, the senate adopted an amendment by Senator Trammell, Democrat, Florida, providing that in case a tax payer borrows money to purchase or carry federal securities, he may deduct in computing his net income only the difference between the amount of the interest paid, on the indebtedness and the amount received in interest from the securities.

After the stormy session of yesterday, today's was rather calm. Only one row developed over alleged delay in putting through the bill. That was on the Democratic side between Senator Williams of Mississippi on one side and Senators Simmons of North Carolina and Heflin of Alabama on the other. Senator Williams brought the decision to a close with the declaration that he and the American people were "tired of useless verbosity."

Opening the attack on the proposal to repeal the excess profit tax, Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, declared this proposition was "the most monstrous ever put before the American senate."

ARKANSAS SON SUCCEEDS FATHER AS CONGRESSMAN

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 25.—Chester W. Taylor of Pine Bluff, was elected congressman of the sixth district to succeed his father, Samuel M Taylor, today. No opposition was offered. A very light vote was cast.

THROATS MAY BE MOISTENED ONLY SLIGHTLY

Predictions of Thirsty That Beer Ban Removal Is "Stew Good to Be True" Are Borne Out.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Oct. 25.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's decision that one case of beer or as much wine as a physician may prescribe for a patient is now allowed in the United States, will be stopped in Texas by the Dean prohibition law, according to a verbal opinion by First Assistant Attorney General Keeling today.

The Dean law holds the amount of whiskey, beer or wine to be prescribed by a physician to one pint and a period of ten days must elapse before the patient may secure another, Mr. Keeling said, and Secretary Mellon's ruling will not have any effect on this law. The patient has the choice of a pint of whiskey, wine or beer, Mr. Keeling held.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 25.—Dry throats of Minnesota's thirsty can be moistened only slightly as a result of the federal ruling on beer prescriptions, State Attorney General Hinton said today. Whiskey and beer are treated alike by state law and only one pint of either can be prescribed in ten days.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 25.—Beer and wines for medicinal purposes cannot be prescribed by Indiana physicians under new regulations of the federal treasury department without violating the state prohibition law, Attorney General Lesch said today.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 25.—Prohibition enforcement officials today pointed out that the Ohio physicians will be unable to prescribe beer or wine for medicinal purposes without violating a state law.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 25.—Beer cannot be sold in Iowa for any purpose, Attorney General Gibson declared today.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—There may be beer in Chicago but her citizens cannot drink it, Attorney General Brundage announced today. Although Chicago has several million gallons of real beer on hand the search and seizure law in Illinois specifically bans beer and wine as medicine, said the attorney general.

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 25.—Amended so as to provide for the transportation of liquors for personal use, the Hood state prohibition enforcement bill came up for consideration in the house today after passing the senate by a majority of one vote.

ruin of the country. The firm stand of Admiral Horthy had its effect and the royalist forces scattered, seeming to varnish into thin air. Latest advices from the section of the country around Komorn indicate the government troops continued their pursuit of the royalist and that the Karlist premier, M. Rakovsky, and Count Andrassy, were among the supporters of the former monarch, captured by the loyal troops.

Charles' plan to return to the Hungarian throne having failed, the Hungarian government will probably await action by the allied powers regarding his future place of residence. It is known that Switzerland will not again give him refuge and it is possible that he will be removed to some place where he will be virtually a prisoner of the allied powers.

The followers of the former emperor are reported have lost half their number in attempting to retreat from Bicske to Tata Tovaros. The railroad line had been cut and they were forced to abandon their trains. When they attempted to march across the country, peasants cut off their retreat toward the south.

Capture of Gustav Gratz, former ministen of foreign affairs, who was involved in the attempt of the former emperor to regain the throne, is reported.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—The allied policy for the future treatment of ex-Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary has been decided only as to one point—that he must be put in a position where he will be absolutely unable again to disturb the tranquility of Europe, it was declared in French official circles today. His internment in Hungary is accepted by the allies only as a temporary necessity.

The council of ambassadors, which will be charged with question of dealing with the ex-ruler, will probably at its meeting take up the problem of providing him with a home where his security and the tranquility of Europe so far as any menace to it from him is concerned will be equally assured.

Little fear of a third attempt by Charles to regain the Hungarian throne is entertained here.

The exile of Charles to a remote island which has been suggested, is provoking objections based on the idea that it would exaggerate the importance of his case and admit of comparison between him and the exiled Napoleon I. Such action therefore, it is argued, would be likely to gain sympathy for his cause.

On the other hand, great difficulty is anticipated in finding a country willing to extend hospitality to the ex-monarch and become responsible for him, as he is regarded as having broken his word with Switzerland by leaving that country without giving the previous notice he had promised. An alternative suggested is that he be kept in a fortress until the political situation in Europe has been stabilized, so that the danger of further attempts at a restoration will be minimized.

Fine Thing for Heating But Not Good for Drink

"It may furnish a good fire for heating Milday's curling irons but it is sure death as a product of warmth in the cup that cheers," was the verdict Tuesday of Dr. T. I. Lucy, assistant city sanitary officer, in a warning issued against persons who have said to have been attempting to make an alcoholic beverage from Sterno.

Sterno, he reported, is a form of paste with wood alcohol as its principle ingredient which is used as a burner for heating various things and is in no wise intended as a beverage.

Dr. Lucy declared that he had been informed that a man, whose name he did not know, is now critically ill from drinking a concoction prepared from the paste.

SIX PERSONS KILLED DURING TRAIN ROBBERY

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 15.—Government troops were engaged today in tracing a band of highwaymen which last night held up an express train at Atzcapotzalco, a suburb of this city, killing six persons, wounding five others and robbing the express car of packages valued at 200,000 pesos. After looting the express car the robbers threw their booty into automobiles and vanished into the hills.

The shipment of valuable express was guarded by soldiers and when the train was stopped by the highwaymen the troops engaged in a sharp fight with the outlaws. So far as known all the killed were soldiers. It was believed here last night that there were no American passengers on train. The hold-up occurred half an hour after the train had pulled out of Mexico City on its way to Laredo.

WOMAN ON STAND TELLS OF FOURTH HUSBAND'S DEMISE

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Oct. 25.—With eyes fixed directly upon the jury and a voice barely audible beyond range of her attorney's, Lydia Meyer Southard today on the witness stand told her story of the death of her fourth husband, Edward J. Meyer.

The calling of the defendant came as a complete surprise.

Mrs. Southard detailed her story of the final illness of Mr. Meyer to the time of his death. She admitted buying two packages of insect exterminator at a certain drug store and denied that she had purchased more than that. She declared that her husband was taken to Twin Falls county hospital at her orders and that he was not noticed ill during the trip.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. JOHN A. THOMASON

Funeral services for Mrs. John A. Thomason, 31 years of age, who died Tuesday morning at 4:30 o'clock were held Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence, 1307 Seventeenth street. Mrs. Thomason had been in ill health for several years and had been in a critical condition with physicians holding no hope for recovery for the past week. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. Lem Keevil, pastor of the First Christian church.

She was the wife of John A. Thomason, deputy city clerk and acting day police desk sergeant and control driven. She and her husband had been a resident of this city for a number of years and were well known. Besides the husband she leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hartley, 107 Bluff street.

The office of the city clerk was closed during Tuesday afternoon in respect to her memory. Four members of the police department acted as active pall bearers and high city and county officials acted as honorary pall bearers. The active pall bearers were City Patrolmen J. R. James, H. C. Howell, J. H. Scott, D. D. McIver, Brownlee Graham and R. L. Miller.

Honorary pall bearers: Mayor Walter D. Cline, City Commissioners W. N. Bonner and J. B. Pitts, Judge C. F. Spencer, Police Chief R. W. Morgan and Fire Chief J. L. McClure.

Burial was at Riverside cemetery.

ALVIN OUSLEY TO SPEAK HERE ON NOVEMBER 9

Col. Alvin Ousley of Denton, head of the "Americanization" activities of the American Legion, an influential member of the national administration of this organization, a noted orator and a man who has been persistently mentioned as of calibre for governor of Texas, will make three addresses in Wichita Falls on Wednesday, November 9, it was announced Tuesday.

Col. Ousley is coming on the invitation of the Wichita club, extended through B. F. Johnson, chairman of the entertainment committee. While here he will, in addition to his talk to the Wichita club at their noon lunch, address a mass meeting of the members of the Civic League in the afternoon of the day, and will speak to the members of the Pat Carrigan post on that night.

Col. Ousley served as a member of the 36th division during the war, and has a number of personal friends among the younger men in this section of the state, as well as a number among the older business men.

NEW STOCK COMPANY IS CIVIC ASSET

Few people in the business world realize the importance to the community of the stock company now current at the Wichita theater as a commercial advantage, but as such it must be looked upon from many angles, and from this standpoint they must be respected and supported by every patriotic business man of Wichita Falls.

Aside from the fact that they are furnishing the brand of amusements that only the large cities can support and enjoy, which is of course the paramount issue with the homefolks, they are the magnet that draws hundreds of out of town visitors here that only a high grade attraction can, and these people see a new advantage in coming to this city and looking upon us with a new dignity and respect and its an advertisement for the city that must not be looked lightly upon. Never before has a company as expensive as this one played outside the larger cities with the exception of Beaumont and they have been appearing there for the past five years and their season there is looked upon as the important social and amusement event of the year.

Then, too, Mr. Lewis has the highest salaried company in the country, having raked the theatrical markets dry for the best talent regardless of salary, and these salaries, including royalties for the plays, amount to over two thousand dollars a week. This money stays right here in this city and goes back to the business men through the medium of the hotels and the stores. The costumes and gowns are purchased right here and Mr. Lewis insists upon only the best dressing of all his company, which a visit to the company will testify, and the scenery is all built and painted here with Wichita Falls materials.

From the indications after the first three performances the success of the company is emphatically assured but their success or failure is indirectly in the hands of the business men here and we can't afford to have such a company as this one leave here for lack of support.

Wire Flashes

AUSTIN, Oct. 25.—Governor Neff will address a union service of all the churches at Decatur, Texas, November 13, on "law enforcement", Secretary Walthall announced today.

DALLAS, Oct. 25.—Fire probably caused by spontaneous combustion destroyed the Penn Stone Mill and Elevator company's plant here early today. The loss is estimated at $75,000.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 25.—An unidentified white man was shot and instantly killed here early today by a policeman, who believed him to be an automobile thief. Two women and a man escaped while the policeman chased the fourth member of the party.

WINNSBORO, Ala., Oct. 25.—A mob today lynched an unidentified negro who was captured following the shooting to death of Joe Kimball, a white farmer. The negro was hanged.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The United States Steel corporation today declared its regular dividends of 1 3-4 per cent on preferred and 1 1-4 per cent on common stock.

GREGORY, S. D., Oct. 25.—A mixture of gas and oil was struck in the first of the Gregory oil wells being drilled here at a depth of 200 feet early today. The well is located in a creek bed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Advisory northeast storm warnings were ordered on Lake Superior, Michigan, Huron and western Erie late today. A storm of marked intensity which is central over eastern Kansas, the bureau said, will move east-northeastward attended by increasing easterly winds, becoming strong and probably reaching gale force late tonight or Wednesday, accompanied by rain.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 25.—Six government bombing planes will leave Fort Sill, Okla., at noon Saturday and fly here to participate in the aerial events in connection with the national convention of the American Legion next week, according to word received yesterday. The squadron will be in command of Colonel Beck, assistant commandant at the field.

VARSITY CLUB NAMES EWING AS PRESIDENT

Norris Ewing was unanimously chosen as president of the University club, to fill the place of Dick Bailey, who resigned, at the regular weekly luncheon of the club Tuesday noon at the Kemp hotel. Mr. Ewing is one of the charter members of the club and at the time of President Bailey's resignation was vice president.

In accepting the office of president, Mr. Ewing asked for the cooperation of every member in awakening the interest of members in the club and increasing the weekly attendances.

Rabbi David Goldberg made the principal talk of the day, choosing as his subject the "Americanization of the Immigrant" with especial reference to the Jew. Something of the feelings of the Jew when he comes to this country was explained by the speaker, himself coming to the United States from Russia.

James T. McKissick, president of Midland college, made a short talk after the principal talk of the day.

Musical entertainment consisted of vocal solos by R. E. Shepherd, with Prof. Leow at the piano.

President Ewing appointed as the program committee for next week, Joe E. Hatchitt, Edwin Bebb and T. B. Greenwood.

Following the regular session the board of governers, R. E. Shepherd was elected first vice president, vice Norris Ewing.

Sen. Sheppard Aspires to Golf Crown of Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas has a new ambition. He is anxious to become the golf champion of the senate. Senator Kellog, republican, of Minnesota, is now the undisputed golf champion and Sheppard is out to trim him. Senator Joe Robinson of Arkansas also aspires to Kellog's golf crown.

CULBERTSON SPEAKER AT WICHITA CLUB

Jack G. Culbertson will be the principal speaker at the noon luncheon of the Wichita club at noon today. While the members of the club expect him to tell them something of an interesting nature connected with doing business with strange and little known sections of the world in the course of the wide distribution of his trucks, of the progress being made on the development of a mechanical cotton picker at his plant, and of the advance being made on the development of light and motor drawn railroad apparatus for short line roads, the subject assigned to him will be broad enough for a range in any direction he pleases.

Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, originally announced as this week's speaker, was prevented by reason of a sudden business trip away from the city.

Members of the Gulf Production company's organization here, as previously announced, will be guests of the club on this occasion.

An Apology

We are forced to offer an apology and explanation to the public because of our inability to furnish a sufficient supply of "SALLY ANN" bread to meet the demand. We felt sure from the very first that the demand would eventually be very heavy, but we did not anticipate the almost immediate popularity which it has attained.

We are making arrangements for a largely increased output and in a few days we will be able to supply all comers with this delicious bread.

We are truly grateful to the people of this city for the very generous patronage they have given the Tenth Street Bakery and we pledge ourselves to maintain the same high standard of excellence, in all our products, that we have established in the past.

EDITORIAL REVIEWS OF EVENTS.

Waco has the Texas Cotton Palace. It is the cotton exposition of the South. W. V. Crawford is the president of the Texas Cotton Palace. He is one of the live wires in the Texas business world. On Sunday the Texas State Fair at Dallas closed. On Saturday the Cotton Palace opened for a sixteen days run. It was an auspicious opening. Governor Pat M. Neff and other notables of the state conducted the opening exercises which were held in the Coliseum of the Cotton Palace before a large crowd. President Crawford announced at the most auspicious opening day the cotton palace ever had; they had the biggest crowd on the downtown streets for the parade they have ever had; they had the best cotton parade they ever staged, and the attendance on the ground exceeded other opening days to such an extent that the combination of circumstances indicates the most successful year in our history. Hon. George Robinson, of the Waco Times Herald, is one of the builders of Texas, one of the makers of the Texas Cotton Palace and ever on the firing line of development endeavor. This is his invitation to his fellow Texans to attend the Texas Cotton Palace exposition before closing day: "You have been to a state or county fair and found delight in the agricultural and livestock exhibits. You have been to an inaugural ball or other grand social function. You have been to a band concert and sighed when it was all over. You have been to grand opera and feasted your soul on the sweet melodies and the cumulative crescendos. You have been to an exhibit of goods, wares and merchandise, brought from all climes. But you had never found all of these in a single enclosure until the coming of the Cotton Palace Exposition. Nowhere between the two oceans is there anything comparable to this unique exposition of ours, good people of Texas. It transcends everything of the sort in the whole world round. No Texan can afford to stay away altogether from the Cotton Palace Exposition, whose gates will be open during these next two weeks."

John M. Willys says that the worst of the business depression is over and that the price tendency, instead of continuing downward, will now begin to go upward. As to the automobile business of 1922, he thinks it will be about 75 per cent of normal. "As regards our domestic business," he said to a New York interviewer, "it is interesting to note that soon after the price of cotton rose our dealers in Southern cities sold all the cars they had in stock and sent orders to the factory for fresh consignments. Two days ago the Toledo factory shipped to Los Angeles a train of 84 carloads of automobiles, the largest motor car shipment I think that has ever been made from a factory at one time. There is plenty of business in California; in fact, from the motor car standpoint, it seems to be the best business centre in the United States at the present time."

Former Chancellor Wirth is the ablest constructive statesman of the new Germany. A radical socialist may be his successor, but a radical socialist would not be able to do for Germany what Wirth could do if his countrymen rallied to his support. Radicals are deadweights as leaders. They are out of time and out of place.

Students of chemical engineering at the A. & M. College of Texas, under the lectureship annuity voted to be expended at this college by the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, have been notified that lectures will be given at College Station very soon. The Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association voted last year to give to the A. & M. College and State University each an annuity of $1,250 to be used in paying for a lectureship on the oil industry in the institution and to give summer employment in the industry to those students taking the lectureship work. Field specialists who are actually engaged in the industry will be sent to College Station for a lecture on some phase of the industry each month, to give the students a general idea of the practical side of oil production, manufacturing and merchandizing. Mayor Walter B. Cline made the announcement at the Dallas meeting of oil and gas men that all the necessary arrangements had been made and that field specialists would be sent shortly to College Station and to Austin to impart the desired information to the students of the A. & M. College and the State University. This is as it should be. Now Dr. Bizzell should get away from "cooking, canning and croshaying." Give the boys of the A. & M. College a chance. Let the girls do the "cooking, the canning and the croshaying." Teas has the College of Industrial Arts for girls and Texas has the Texas A. & M. College at Bryan for boys. Jones is for a fifty-fifty proposition.

Colonel George M. Bailey of the Houston Post says cotton is the largest single crop in Texas but the bulk of Texas cotton is transformed into cloth in the Lancheshire mills of England; that a good portion of the remainder is manufactured in New England and that only a few cotton mills are to be found in the banner cotton producing state. Colonel Bailey is eminently correct. Texas is the banner cotton producing state. English mills consume the cotton and cotton goods made in England are reshipped to Texas for sale. Texas is the banner hide producing state. There are no tanneries in Texas, there are no shoe factories in Texas. New England tans the hides and makes the shoes and ships the shoes to Texas, where there is a ready market. Texas is a great wool producing state. There are no woolen manufacturers in Texas. Texas is a banner rice producing state. Railroad Commissioner Earl B. Mayfield says that Beaumont rice growers ship their rice to New York via Liverpool because the railway freight rates are prohibitive. This is a wonderful country of ours but Texans are willin gto give the turkey to Old England and New England and retain the feathers to pay the cost of production.

Dr. Atticus Webb is on the road again. This is his latest by wireless: "Texas has been playing at the proposition of enforcing prohibition. The dream of world peace is impossible as long as we have rum soaked nations. Prohibition fits in with God's plan of world redemption." Then all the nations of Europe including the British Isles are on the road to hell. If Dr. Atticus is correct in his surmises they are all rum soaked or beer sodden. Turkey is not rum soaked but the Turks have no use for the God of the Christians, the Prince of Peace or the plowshare of the pacifist. Persia is in the same trance. Chinese in China have no use for whiskey, wine or beer. They are just coming out of a trance of 4,000 years and the 450,000,000 Chinese are fearful that the 60,000,000 Japs will rob them of their liberty and annex China to the ancient territory of the Mikado. Great Britain's booze bill last year was $4,000,000,000 and yet the British Islanders were too poor to pay the interest on the billions they borrowed from Americans in war time. This is a funny old world, inhabited by funny little people.

An immigration head tax of $8 has been imposed on persons entering Mexico. Persons crossing the border for brief visits in border cities are not affected. Why worry; why growl? Millions of Russians have invaded Palestine. They had intended going to the United States but immigration restrictions interfered and their friends in America solved the problem by sending them to Palestine, "as a nucleus of the nation which is to show light to the rest of the world when real peace comes." Rippling Rhymes

HIGH LIFE

The dame, resolved on suicide, sat down and wrote some parting lines, explaining why, before she died, and took in all her divers signs. "Too much high life, and here's the end; I've fractured man's and nature's laws"; and then she shot a lady friend, and killed herself, without a pause. You read it in the public prints, and doubtless gave it little thought, so many tales of crimson tints are daily to your doorstep brought. The words of moralists seem vain, the folks must have their gaudy time; "too much high life"—that will explain one half the carnival of crime. Too much joy-riding in the night, when sober men are in their coops; too much pursuing cheap delight, and letting duty loop the loops. Too much of crazed and fevered love, of wedding pledges cast aside; and now the thistles grow above the slayer and the suicide. The wave of crime still sweeps along, and every hour some victims fall; right seems submerged beneath the wrong; "too much high life" explains it all. Too much high life has filled the jails with delegates bereft of hope, with foolish dames and jingled males who face the hangman and the rope.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

YOUR "FRIEND."

Who tells you all about yourself and always tells the truth,
And spares you not, a single sad detail?
Who criticises openly the work you do, forsooth,
And judges it adversely without fail?
Who is the bearer of bad news in each and every case?
Who starts domestic breaches he can't mend?
Who bobs up quite serenely, when there's trouble on the place?
Who can it be, dear reader, but your "friend"?

Who nails you for a five-spot and forgets to pay it back?
Who steers insurance agents round your way?
Who gets you into mining deals that never pan, alack?
Who happens in at meal time every day?
Who keeps your lawn mower busy when you want the thing yourself?
Who's always glad to borrow, not to lend?
Who envies you the togs you wear and covets all your pelf?
Who could it be, now frankly, but your "friend"?

Who tells you to get busy or you'll surely go to smash;
That your financial wreck will be complete?
In spite of all his good advice, who never earns the cash,
To keep his own household in things to eat?
Who tells you that you're looking bad and not at all yourself
And that you soon are going to meet your end?
Who says "I told you so" when you're laid on the shelf?
Who could it be, pray tell me, but your "friend"?

Bradley Goes to Orange and Is Well Repaid

When T. A. Bradley, advertising manager of the Perkins-Timberlake company returned from Orange with his bride last night, he brought with him a tremendous lemon measuring fifteen inches in circumference which was presented to the young couple by Mr. J. E. Hogg of North Orange.

According to Mr. Bradley there were at least 150 such lemons on a single tree. Oranges were hanging from the trees in great profusion in an adjoining grove and orange blossoms were plentiful.

In other words Bradley went to Orange and brought back both a "peach" and a lemon.

A NEW GODDESS TO ENLIGHTEN AND SAVE THE WORLD

TIMELY VIEWS NOT IN THE NEWS

"Soak the Rich," New Tax Law Slogan, Says Senator Moses.

Senator Moses of New Hapshire, took occasion to defend great wealth from what he regards as unjust tax raids in a recent speech in the senate. Attacking the pending tax bill, he said in part: "This measure is plainly drawn under the inspiration of the inspiring slogan, 'Soak the rich.' I hold no brief for the rich; neither I nor any of my kin have ever stood within their circle. But I cannot help thinking that the rich may learn from much buffeting, even as Peter the Great learned from the repeated assaults of Charles XII, how to fight. Indeed, they have already begun. Capital has gone on strike.

"There is a point at which taxation of the rich reaches its saturation point. This point is variously estimated by both expert and by general intelligent opinion to stand somewhere between 25 and 35 per cent. If it is increased, the rich—that is to say, those possessing capital—betake themselves and their accumulations from the field of active enterprise and enter into cloistered retirement, where tax exempt securities afford more ample income and complete surcease from the importunities of the tax gatherer."

Senator Moses observed that the agricultural bloc had taken care to reduce surtaxes on that class of incomes in which congressional salaries fall. He strongly advocated the Smoot amendment, providing a 3 per cent tax on manufacturers' sales.

"That proposal wipes out the nuisance taxes which have burdened all our people from the child with his baseball to the aged with his medicine bottle," said Senator Moses. "It places taxation upon incomes at a point where accumulated resources will not go into the cave of hiding afforded by tax exempt securities, but will once more march boldly into the field of expanding commercial enterprise. And, as best of all its provisions, it provides in the sales tax, which the senator proposes as a fruitful source of revenue, easily collectiable, payable at frequent stated intervals, and bearing with equality upon all the people. It is based upon what I regard as one of the safest indications of a man's ability to pay—namely, his ability to buy."

Who's Who

LORD CAVAN

Gen. Lord Cavan, tenth earl of his line, and a representative peer of Ireland in parliament at Westminster, is officially announced as designated to come to America with Premier Lloyd George and the British delegation to the disarmament conference at Washington as its military expert adviser. He is now in chief command of the great permanent military camp at Aldershot, the headquarters of that all important group of divisions of the army which, trained up to the last notch of efficiency, is held at all times in permanent readiness to be dispatched to the point of great danger at a few hours' notice.

Lord Cavan is looked upon as one of the most successful of British generals in the great war. For a time he was commander in chief of the British forces in Italy, and contributed no small share to the victory on the Piave.

Lord Cavan is no stranger to the United States, for he often came south of the Dominion line when he was chief of the staff of the late Lord Derby during that peer's term of office of governor general at Ottawa.

Not very tall, with a complexion which was fair, Lord Cavan has shone in many departments of sport. He has been master of the hounds in Hertfordshire, where he had his country seat at Wheathampstead House, has won all sorts of military foot races, has excelled as a steeplechaser, winning many events, notably the memorable Grenadier and Coldstream Guards point to point race at Wing, near Leighton, in 1911. He is one of the most expert deer stalkers in the country, and is a crack at billiards; while he is devoted to yachting, and as a member of the Royal Yacht Squadron naturally has his papers as sailing master and sails his own boat.

Breakfast Stories

Recently one of the dealers in intoxicants who carries on his business with some of the best people in the city, dropped in upon one of his customers and began to display his wares.

"I have some very fine Scotch, some vermouth, rye, bourbon, creme de menthe, gin and a few quarts of champagne today," announced the bootlegger. "What can I sell you?"

"Have you any absinthe"? one of his prospective purchasers inquired.

"No, indeed," responded the bootlegger. "It's against the law to sell absinthe."

The visitor was on a caravan tour. Said he: "My good woman, do you live in this village"?

"Ay, sir."

"And I suppose you know everyone here"?

"Ay, indeed."

"Well, you can just tell them my name is Frederick Smith, and that I come from London, where I am a solicitor. That lady there is my wife, and those are my two children, Thomas and Elizabeth. We are having a holiday and intend staying here a week. We have hired the caravan. Last week we stayed at Invercauldy."

"Ay, sir, I kent a' that frae ma daughter who lives in Invercauldy, but she was sairly disappointed because she couldn't tell me whit yer wife's name was afore she was marrit."

"There's one thing I can't understand about these spirit communications," remarked Mr. Brown as he finished reading the account of a highly successful seance.

"What's that, John, dear"? asked his wife.

"Why, you never heard of a departed soul having gone to any other place except straight to heaven."

Open Doors In Business

Market Gardening.

To the woman who would lead an out-door life and be her own boss, market gardening will make an appeal. If she applies her best brains to it, understands the habits and needs of the various vegetables, fruits and flowers she would raise to sell, is near a good market with means of disposing of her wares conveniently and at a proper profit, and has the health and energy to look after the work, doing a large share of it herself and able to get some help when necessary, the results will be pleasing. She will make a good living and a good profit and live a happy, healthful life.

True, the conditions upon which success depends are numerous, but they may be met by one prepared and wise, and unless one is that, going into any business for one's self is a venture very likely to end in failure.

Market gardening is a seasonal occupation. It rushes one from early spring until fall and leaves more leisure during the winter, but the market gardener with a hot house may keep herself employed all winter.

From six to twenty acres is the average for market-gardening. If the woman market gardener has more than she can herself care for, she is liable to find it difficult to employ the needed help. Before one purchases the land for the market garden she should study her markets and transportation facilities. If she can arrange to drive to town and dispose of her wares first hand her profits will be larger, as she will cut out the middle man or men. In that case she should have a regular route and customers. As she learns the needs of these she will be able to cater to their tastes. Generally a varied crop of garden truck is better than a limited one. Flowers and fruits and even chickens may sometimes be added as by products, but the specialties should not be forgotten.

Agricultural colleges in each state will help the citizen who applies for information. The government department of agriculture has valuable bulletins and the farm papers contain suggestions and experiences of those who are working at this business.

MISS 1821 MEETS MISS 1921

Frances Halliday, in the reigning styles of 1821, and Dorothy Whitemore in the newest 1921 garb.

It would be quite an effort for a maiden dressed in the height of fashion 100 years ago to acquire the freedom for walking and dancing that the 1921 miss has, as the photos above show. Frances Halliday, hampered by pantalettes, hoop skirt and several underskirts, is trying to adjust her apparel to match that worn by Dorothy Whitemore, dressed as today's fashion experts decree. These maidens appear in this fashion in a new Broadway production.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

MRS. RANDALL REPENTS

Ned, on the other hand, became more and more wretched as the days went by. Watching him, though she did, with a heart full of sympathy, his mother never once attempted to pry into his secret. That something had happened between himself and Cherry she was convinced, but time would bring its inevitable explanation.

Her feeling of guilt increased with the days, and it was all she could do to keep herself from writing to Cherry and explaining how she felt, and how unhappy her absence was making Ned.

One night, while she was visiting Miss Laura, she broke down and sobbed like a baby. That good friend's quick sympathies were aroused, and even as she had comforted Cherry in her troubles, did she comfort this older and equally tortured woman.

"Now, then, Sally, don't take on so. Lord a' mighty, you haven't done more than the most mothers-in-law do anyway. Look up here while I talk to you," and she patted the weeping Mrs. Randall's heaving back persuasively.

I'm the unhappiest woman alive, Laura, that's sure. I wish to goodness I'd never been born, so I do. Now I've gone and spoilt my own boy's life. I'll never have another moment's peace, never." Here the sobs broke out afresh.

Miss Laura managed to soothe her, finally, and when she was in a more reasonable state of mind she pointed out that all was not yet lost for either Ned or Cherry.

"They're a couple of proud, angry babies, that's all. Wait and see if they're not together 'fore Christmas, Sally. I think I know something about human nature. And that's what I predict, so cheer up. In fact, I'm going to help this come true. It's high time some outsider did step in even if it's no one's business but theirs. Now I call it a question of common sense. I have that."

"I hope so, how I hope so," said Mrs. Randall perking up at the mere idea. "And I'd give you all I possess gladly, Laura, if you can help to bring this about."

"No need to do that, Sally. I'm only doing what I think is the right thing to do in this case. I know how Cherry feels, bless her heart. You see she told me about her affairs many a time."

"Did—did—she seem to—to—hate me, Laura?" asked Mrs. Randall in trembling tones.

"That child doesn't hate anyone in all the world. She was puzzled and hurt, sure enough, but that was all. I know that towards the end she felt that she wasn't really wanted round the house. That's what's keeping her away now, I know."

"Dear, oh dear, whatever can I do, if that's the case?" wailed the unhappy woman, as she listened to Miss Laura. "Wouldn't it help if I was to sit down and write to her and beg her pardon and just ask her to come home?"

"No, don't write a word, for things will arrange themselves," answered Miss Laura, knowingly.

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS

When preparing cauliflower, head lettuce or cabbage, it is a wise precaution to soak them in salt water for a half hour to allow any insects hidden between the leaves to crawl out.

Cauliflower is likely to cook to pieces when boiled the half hour necessary to make it tender. To prevent this wrap it in cheesecloth and handle it carefully.

In juicy pies, when the undercrust is inclined to become soggy, partly bake the crust before putting in the filling. Prick it in spots so that it will not puff up.

To prevent your delicate cake from scorching on the bottom, put an old pan of salt underneath it.

MOTHER!

Open Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Million of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

RECORD NEWS SPORTS

THEY IS INDOOR SPORTS WHAT AIN'T NO SPORT, WHICH BEING A ACKTOR SURE IS ONE OF THEM

By "NICK" CARTER

They is times when a man would put his friends up for auction and would sell them cheap which this is one of them times with me and there is friends of mine which I would even sell on time payments and I wouldn't ask that they should be no responsible parties on the notes and if later some bird what had bought in some of my friends on time payments should sell them again without my knowledge and consent although me still holding a mortgage on them I would not be sore about that neither.

I ain't like some folks what is afraid to tell the truth about his friends. Many's the times they have told the truth about me which has caused my wife to ask questions what a man less quick on the trigger than what I am would have been stuck for answers and whilst I ain't mentioning any names I am of the opinion that my friends what advised me to be a acktor is a bunch of hams for which I ain't got no more use.

I was a acktor in that "Springtime" play all right and they was big guys in the audience like T. B. Noble and W. W. Silk and others which I seen in the front row and in a stage box who laffed hearty every time I come out of the wings but I have been tipped off that they was not laffing because I was a clever acktor but because any fish will flop funny when he is out of water. And I have learned that my friends give me the part in the play which they did because they thought I would look funny and would get a big laff when I would fall down on the stage which I did fall down not onct but five times every performance and maybe it was funny to the audience and give them a laff but my back is sore and one of my arms ain't right and there is a hole tored in Charlie Barof's frock coat which I borrowed me telling him I was to be a dude in it and a lion with the ladies which it said I would be in the part which the director of the play give me to study. And maybe I was a dude and a lion with the ladies but anyways I never heard of no lion with the ladies what ever made a hit with the fair sect by falling on his back five times in one evening and tearing no holes in his frock coat; which I don't have to hurt myself that much to get in strong with my wife even let alone all the other ladies what I might want to be a lion with if I knowed how to start and if I must tear some other guy's big league coat to do so then I don't want to be no lion with nobody for as the feller says married men may have better halves, but bachelors have better quarters which is the only joke I have heard today which has cracked my face.

Dan Duffey Spills It.

I would not have knowed how I was done dirt by being signed up to play a lion with the ladies by falling down five times to the performance if it had not been for my friend Dan Duffey what runs the feed joint down by the railroad station him being one of the few friends which I have got which I would not sell cheap although if he had any sense he would have kept his news to himself and would not have made a friend suffer. Anyways whilst I am eating what the score card in Dan's joint says is stewed beef with vegetables which is no more than beef stew stricken with reverse English, Duffey leans over the counter confidental like and says:

"Nick, you was a sucker to let them feature you as a acktor because I got the low-down on that frame-up and I'm giving it to you straight that you was picked because you had slid bases all summer and not because you was no acktor."

And I would have brained Dan Duffey with one of his own coffee cups if he had not tore the check in two which he was giving me indicating that the stew was on the house which the same I would not kill a man what is trying to do me a favor and anyways it was a good thing I did not kill Dan Duffey else I would not have learned the truth about what a rotten acktor I was even though I was hurt to my sole as the old shoe said when the feller give it to the bellhop.

Which is about all I have to say today excepting that I am glad that hound Dan Duffey what is my friend told me the truth that I am not a acktor and it will be many's the day before Julia Marlow will be asking me to be her E. H. Sothern and anyways I could not make no hit with her falling down and tearing holes in another guy's coat and so I know I am not no acktor which raises the point as to what I am which the same I guess there is no answer to.

RULES LOSER CAN RECOVER COIN ON GAMBLING CHECK

LONDON, Oct. 25.—A far-reaching and, for England, sensational decision had been rendered by the House of Lords in a ruling that money paid by check in settlement of a gambling debt is recoverable by the loser.

The decision opens an avenue for possible litigation involving hundreds of thousands of pounds sterling, and if all losers insisted upon their rights under the law it would mean the ruin of scores of the bookmakers who do a big business at all the race meetings.

The ruling has caused a furore in sporting circles, and the bookmakers have called a special meeting to consider the situation.

GOLF PLAY FOR "MAG" TROPHY SPEEDING UP

At the Present rate of speed with which matches are being wiped from the books, the fall tournament at the Wichita Falls Golf and Country club for the Golfers' Magazine trophy should reach the semi-finals late this week. Several third round matches already have been played, and the big field yesterday had narrowed down to Morris Norton, C. J. Norton, Tommy Cochran, Monte Staniforth, Will Gray, W. U. McCutcheon, Doc Burleson, H. A. Robbins, Lloyd Weaver, C. E. Watson, L. T. Burns, S. L. McDowell and J. A. Bobo.

Interest in the tournament has been unusually high, and a number of upsets in the play have served to add to the enthusiasm which has marked the progress of the fall event. Several veterans already have fallen by the wayside, including Fred Couper, C. E. MacCutcheon, C. H. Reid, Dudley Golding, Finley Weldon, Alex Britain, John O'Donahue and Frank Collier, while other golfers of lesser fame have hung grimly on, aided by handicaps and splendid all-around playing.

The complete results of the tournament up to yesterday noon, follow:

FIRST ROUND—T. B. Cochran defeated C. C. Parfet, T. A. Rinherat won from H. H. May by default, C. E. Watson defeated C. E. McCutcheon, Lloyd Weaver defeated C. H. Reid, H. F. Weldon defeated G. F. Reppy, Morris Norton won from W. W. Gardner by default, A. M. Miller defeated G. C. Wood, Frank Collier defeated "Dud" Golding, L. T. Burns defeated M. W. Blair, John O'Donohue defeated E. M. Belcher, S. L. McDowell defeated Doc Hampshire, J. A. Bobo defeated W. E. Norton, C. O. Davis defeated Lamar Fain, Scott Bower defeated John Gould.

SECOND ROUND—Cochran defeated Rinehart, Morris Norton defeated Weldon, Collier defeated Miller, Burns defeated O'Donahue, Watson-Weaver match not played, David-Bower match not played, A. E. Myles defeated L. E. Martlew, Will Gray defeated Will Daniel, W. U. McCutcheon defeated W. J. Goodwin, Doc Burleson defeated Lewt Maer, H. A. Robbins defeated J. S. Glass, Joe Art defeated Dan Rubsam, C. J. Norton defeated Fred Couper, Monte Staniforth defeated George Gutsman, C. J. Barnard defeated A. H. Britain.

THIRD ROUND—Morris Norton defeated Frank Collier, C. J. Norton defeated Joe Art, Staniforth defeated C. J. Barnard—no other matches played as yet.

In the upper bracket Tommy Cochran will meet the winner of the Watson-Weaver match, and Burns will play the winner of the match between S. L. McDowell and J. A. Bobo. In the lower bracket the Gray-McCutcheon and Burleson-Robbins matches have not as yet been played.

TOM GIBBONS GETS SENSITIVE; SWEARS HE'S SCARCELY 28

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Tom Gibbons the St. Paul heavyweight champion-ship contender, is as sensative about his age as a prima donna. The record books gives his age as thirty-two, which, he says, is incorrect.

"My brother, Mike, is only thirty-three," Tom explained, "and I'm not even his next younger brother. There was another one between us, now dead.

"I am twenty-eight years old, having been born in 1893 instead of 1889, as stated in the record books.

"Furthermore, I'm the youngest 28-year-old I know of."

Gibbons, who is matched to box Georges Carpentier for Tex Rickard, recently scored his seventeenth consecutive knockout.

CONDITION OF JUDGE NAPIER IS IMPROVED

The condition of Judge Ed Napier of the 78th district court who is confined to his bed with influenza was improved according to physicians Tuesday night. Judge Napier has been ill for three weeks but has attended court most of the time.

He was ordered to bed Sunday and it is not expected that he will be able to resume his court work before the first of next week.

BACKFIED STARS OF IOWA U. HAVE OWN UNDERSTUDIES

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Oct. 23.—The State University of Iowa, looked upon as having one of the season's best football teams because of its defeat over Notre Dame and Illinois, has two gridiron stars who not only play football themselves, but who are rearing sons. These players are Glen Devine and Donald Macrae. Their sons, they claim, are coming stars of the gridiron.

Devine's son is seven months of age, while Macre's is three and one-half.

Devine and Macrae are stars on the present football team, and both play halfback. This is Macrae's first year in college football, but Devine is completing his third season.

These players are believed to have established a precedent in regard to bringing on the next generation of football stars before the present generation has completed its own activities on the gridiron. Devine is a brother of Aubrey Devine, captain of this year's team.

PITT TEAM MUST TAKE A REAL BRACE IF IT WANTS TO MAKE CREDITABLE RECORD

The University of Pittsburg team, which looked formidable enough on paper, has made a poor showing to-date and the schedule ahead bodes ill for them unless they swing into shape. Penn, Nebraska, W. & J. and Penn State are yet to be played. Above are three of Pitt's stars.

WISDOM and WORSE

By C. F. C.

Cecil Griggs, Spudder outfielder, can pretty near have anything in Canton, O., on which his fancy may dwell. Every game of football Cecil plays for the Canton Bulldogs is more brilliant than the last. Recently I called attention to the Texas boy's splendid playing in the opening game of the Ohio professional football season—but yesterday Carl Stoecker slipped me another copy of the Canton Daily News showing that Griggs is becoming a veritable whirlwind in the Bulldogs' backfield. In a recent game between Canton and the Dayton Triangles, Cecil intercepted a forward pass on his own 20-yard line and piled through the Dayton team for a touchdown—a sensational 80-yard gallop with ye olde-pigskin under his wing. After the game the sporting editor of the Canton News had this to say of our Spud:

"Griggs had a wonderful day. Followers of the sport who saw the contest declare he played just the sort of game that made him one of the greatest backfielders in the sport in 1919. Griggs was a marked man by the Triangles. He was pocketed on almost every passing attempt, and sometimes was held, according to Edwards, but protests to officials were of no avail."

Jim Thorpe, with whom Griggs played last season, is leading the Cleveland, O., professional eleven this year, and on the same day that Cecil broke away for his 80-yard run and score, Thorpe also ran 80 yards for a touchdown against the Panhandles of Columbus. Thorpe, considered by many the greatest backfield man football ever has developed, has lost none of the speed and power that made him a terror when he was a Carlisle student. This year he is teamed with three others in a backfield combination that must throw a shiver down the spines of opponents—Thorpe, Ghee, Guyon and Calac; man, dear, what a punch that backfield must pack!

There are times when it pays the university football coach to scout around in the effort to unearth promising gridiron timber for the future, and there are times also when the effort has a boomerang effect upon the coach—in proof of which an experience of "Hurry-Up" Yost, Michigan's football mentor, is herewith submitted.

Four autumns ago Yost heard of a youngster named Hoge Workman, who was starring on the Huntington, W. Va., high school eleven. A Wolverine scout reported so favorably on the boy that when it came time for Michigan to visit Ohio field for its annual game with Ohio State, Yost sent an invitation to Workman to see the fray and to sit on the bench with the maize and blue squad. Workman came, but he was so entranced with Ohio's big university that he forgot his hosts and he and his brother, Noel, promptly made plans to enter Ohio State when they were through high school.

Last year "Harry-Up" Yost saw the Workman brothers, on whom he had counted for his own eleven, rip his Michigan line to shreds and play a big part in Ohio State's victory over the Wolverines. That was last year. Only three weeks ago Yost sat through the Ohio State-Minnesota game, and saw Noel Workman, in the shoes of his brother, Hoge, now ineligible, play the leading role in walloping Minnesota 27 to 0. And Yost also saw Johnny Stuart, a strong, fast-running, hard-hitting, kicking and passing back, tear his way through the Gopher line time and again, while another husky chap named Honaker Rewise covered himself with glory. Both Stuart and Honaker hail from Huntington, W. Va., and were attracted to Ohio State by the wonderful tales brought home by the Workman brothers.

"Hurry-Up" Yost started something when he issued that invitation to Hoge Workman; started something that has been disastrous to Michigan. And he probably is regretting sadly now that he didn't take Hoge Workman to Ann Arbor instead of to Columbus to watch his Wolverines in action.

El Paso appears to be developing a middleweight of some promise, one Kid Palmer who two days ago stopped Battling Ortega, of San Francisco, in the fourteenth round of a scheduled 15-round fracas. While Ortega is no world beater, he is one of the toughest boys of his weight on the coast and has always been a big drawing card in San Francisco and Vernon. Palmer hammered Ortega at will, finally closing both the 'Frisco battler's eyes and making it necessary for the referee to stop the fight.

Make light of your troubles, advises a friend. Yes, when your creditors send dunning letters, burn 'em.

T. A. Dorgan, Eastern sport scribe better known as "Tad," must have plunged the family roll on the Yankees. He certainly awoke with an awful grouch after the world series, bursting forth into print with the following wild onslaught:

"The Giant rooters have had their ha! ha! It was coming to them. Of all the lucky teams in the world the Giants are it. They have won two world's championships since they started. The first one they copped way back in 1905, beating the Athletics. In that series Rube Waddell, the Athletic pitcher, went away on a merry mucilage party and didn't show up to pitch. He was one of the greatest left-handed flingers the game ever saw. The Giants never faced him.

"Horshoes? What then?

"This year the greatest batsman and also the greatest player of all time, Babe Ruth, is injured. He bats with one hand in three games and is finally unable to play. The Giants won.

"Horseshoes? What then?

"Let a Yankee fan holler. He has it coming to him.

"Suppose the Giants lost Frisch and had to put in some ham to play third base, would there be a belch or wild cheers?

"The Giants' fans say the Yanks flopped when Ruth didn't play. True, So would any other team. Ruth was PART of the team. They could lean on that guy and get strength. You know most every one is a lot better with a BIG FELLOW BEHIND HIM.

"Ruth was walked five times in the few games he played in. He would have had five or six more walks had he been able to finish the series. A man on base would have won most any of the contests.

"Once again for the horseshoes.

"Rawlings hit .333 in the series. During the season he belts .278.

"Horseshoes?

"The Giants ought to train at Horseshoe Falls next spring."

Archie Walker, former amateur lightweight boxing champion, has taken a vacation in order to discover whether the prizering offers more advantages than a business career. Walker has a good job in a Wall street, New York, broker's office, and he also is a crack boxer and believes he possesses championship possibilities. In order to settle the question, he has obtained a six months leave of absence during which time he will enter the ring professionally. At the end of the six months he intends to decide whether he's a fighter or a broker. I rather incline to the opinion he'll be back reading the ticker again. Few crack amateurs have made good as professional boxers.

Frank Frisch, Giant star of the world series, will stay at home this winter, according to Eastern reports, and will study his father's lace and linen business. Last winter he made a baseball trip to Cuba, but he is quoted as saying that he was "seasick going down, homesick in Cuba and seasick again coming back."

WOMEN'S CLUB GIVES $50 TO HI GRID TEAM

Fifty large round dollars were voted by the Business Women's Club of this city last night as a gift to the high school football squad, to help equip Coach Harry Viner's gridiron pupils. Two weeks ago the club announced that it would set aside a sum for this purpose, the amount to be determined later, to be taken from whatever profits the club might make from the production of the musical play "Springtime." It was pointed out at the time that the club was grateful for the earnest work in the production being done by high school students, and also that the young business women of the city believed it the duty of the business men and women of Wichita Falls to help support high school athletics.

Last night the club held its first weekly meeting following the final production of "Springtime" last Saturday—and the club members made good their earlier promise. Coach Viner, when informed last night over the telephone, expressed himself as 'mighty grateful" for the gift:

"That's just fine," he said. "I know what a great number of useful things the Business Women's Club is planning to do this year and how badly it will need money to carry out its full program; under the circumstances I think the club has been unusually generous in its gift to the football team of the high school. I am sure the boys will appreciate it mightily. It was a splendid action, and I am certainly pleased. That fifty dollars will go a long way in furnishing some of the equipment we need."

The Landon, Little and Frank Collier sporting goods stores of this city already have helped the high school team somewhat with gifts of equipment from their stocks. While it was not to be expected, in view of the expensive character of some of the supplies needed, that these stores would be able to equip the high school squad completely, each store did its part in splendid fashion. It is expected that several clubs will also help the boys out in the near future.

The red and black eleven will tackle Henrietta high school at Henrietta next Saturday in the last scheduled game of the season. An effort is being made, however, to arrange other games with strong high school elevens in this section. Tentative plans have been made to play the North Side high school team of Fort Worth here on Thanksgiving Day, although Coach Viner stated last night that the game was somewhat in doubt in view of the fact that the Fort Worth management is holding out for a guarantee of $175 and expenses. The Devol, Okla., high school team also is trying to get Wichita Falls to play at Devol on November 11, Armistice Day.

BEARS MAY PLAY TEXAS LONGHORNS

WACO, Texas, Oct. 25.—Baylor University may play the University of Texas a post season game should both elevens go through the season without losing a game to their opponents.

Head Coach Frank Bridges of Baylor has received a tentative offer from L. Theo. Bellmont, athletic director at Texas, for such a game to be played ten days after the close of the Conference season. This would bring the date of the proposed game to about December the third. Bellmont suggests that the game should be played on neutral territory to decide the conference championship.

This year Texas is playing only two conference games, the ones with Rice Institute and Texas A. and M. Baylor, on the other hand, will play four conference games, Arkansas, Rice Institute, Texas A. and M., and Southern Methodist University. Until Phillips University withdrew from the conference the Bears had a five-game conference schedule. A rule adopted last year by the conference provides that at least three games must be played in conference circles to enable a school to lay claim to conference honors. If Baylor, then, goes through an undefeated season she may justly lay claim to conference championship honors, but would have to play the University of Texas for grid honors of the entire southwest. This condition of course might be materially altered should Texas A. and M. upset the dope in their games against Texas and Baylor.

LEGION POST PLANS BIG SPORT CARNIVAL NOV. 11

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 25.—Billy Miske of St. Paul, Minn., and Tony Mechoir of Chicago, heavyweight boxers, and Joe Stecher of Dodge, Neb., and Charles (Sheriff) Peters of Sarvis county, Neb., heavyweight wrestlers, will top the card of the Armistice Day athletic carnival to be staged here November 11, by the local post of the American Legion.

The carnival will be staged in a circus tent, with a seating capacity of 10,000 persons.

The Columbus post has appealed to all Legion posts of Nebraska to aid in the promotion of the carnival.

PLANS OF THE STANDARD CO. ARE OUTLINED

May Test Out New Acreage in Mexico and South American Republics in the Very Near Future.

Strike of California Oil Workers Has Not Been Broken—Many Idle Tankers Tied to Docks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey is planning to extend its activities in both Mexico and South America, according to reports in the financial district.

As to Mexico, it was reported that the company is preparing to test out some new acreage and has entered into an agreement with the Atlantic Lobos Oil company, which is controlled by the Atlantic Refining company, under which both companies will carry on a drilling campaign on their respective properties. The Standard of New Jersey's interest is held under the name of the Compania Transcontinental de Petroleo. The acreage to be developed consists of 75,000 acres owned by the Atlantic Lobos located at Augada, while the Transcontinental's holdings consist of about 62,000 acres south of Tuxpan river and 60,000 acres in the Tempoal region.

Option on Bolivian Lands.

The Standard of New Jersey was also reported to have obtained an option on the development of approximately 8,000,000 acres of potential oil lands in Bolivia. No wells have as yet been drilled on this land.

While the Eastern producers are commanding a price of $1.25 a barrel higher than about a month ago, it is reported that they are in no haste to dispose of accumulated stocks. It is said that some resumption of drilling has been talked of, but according to authorities in the trade this contemplates chiefly the completion of wells on which work had been halted because of the low markets of recent months.

Daily Average of Production.

The daily average of crude oil production in the United States for the week ended October 15, according to the American Petroleum Institute, was 1,166,150 barrels, an increase of 3,450 barrels as compared with the previous week, when output averaged 1,162,700 barrels daily. The strike of oil field workers in California is still reflected in the production of that state, which reported a daily output of 222,000 barrels, as against 215,000 barrels the week before. Recent normal output had been in excess of 300,000 barrels. Production last week increased in Oklahoma, north and central Texas, Wyoming and in the Eastern fields, while in Kansas, Louisiana, Arkansas and the Gulf Coast it declined.

Tankers and Gasoline.

Sales of gasoline of the Tidewater Oil company for August, established a new high record in the company's history, according to report. Sales for the first nine months of this year are also reported to have averaged 1,000,000 gallons monthly over the corresponding months of 1920. As a result of this showing the company's earnings for the last half of 1921 are expected to make a more favorable showing than those of the first half of the year.

A total of 145 oil tankers were idle on October 1 because of lack of business, of which 98 were American-owned vessels and 47 foreign. These vessels have a total deadweight of 1,129,781 tons, of which the American ships constitute 830,079 tons. On the same date there were 144 tankers under construction, with a total deadweight tonnage of 1,373,780 or 20 per cent of the tonnage now afloat. Of the vessels building 19 are American and 125 foreign.

Interest In Revival Is Again Evident; Conversion Is Subject

Interest in the revival at the First Christian church proved unabated Tuesday night, the large crowd being again on hand, with five coming forward at the end of the service.

Dr. McKissick spoke on Conversion; first he defined the word, and declared the belief that the revised scriptures gave the best version of its meaning; that the King James translation, made more than 300 years ago, in so many instances did not give the correct significance of the word. Where the older version says "Be Converted," the revised version says "turned again," putting the verb in the active instead of the passive voice.

"This puts the responsibility of man's salvation not upon God but upon man," he said.

The speaker labored to show that conversion was a simple matter; that as the Prodigal son came home to his father from the swine-feeding so man could come home to God when he so willed.

He emphasized a change of heart but said the heart of the Bible was not the fleshy heart and cited Matt. 6:21 as a proof-text; the Bible-heart is the whole inner man and is changed by faith; this, said the speaker should be followed by a change of life which is called repentance. This is the home-coming of the soul. He stressed repentance and illustrated it from the book of Jonah in the old Testament. The next step toward the Lord, said the speaker, is a change in state or relation. This is done by baptism. The latter does not change the heart or life but is the answer of a good conscience toward God. We should do this for two reasons he said, first, because Jesus gave the example and second, he commanded us to be baptized.

The congregational singing under the leadership of Mr. Shepherd featured the service. The subject for tonight is "Excuses" and the services are scheduled to begin promptly at 7:30. Rev. Keevil announced that the services would continue over next Sunday.

MEXICAN COURT FINDINGS IN OIL CASE CRITICISED

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—State department officials who have studied the decision of the Mexican supreme court recently handed down in the case of the Texas Company said today they had found parts of the document to be satisfactory to the position taken by this government in securing rights of Americans in Mexico, while other portions were unsatisfactory. They declined to say which portions were satisfactory and which unsatisfactory.

Stockmen of Texas And New Mexico to Receive Aid Soon

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Agreements to make advances for the benefit of the livestock industry in New Mexico and Texas were announced today by the war finance corporation.

The aid to be given stock men of New Mexico will be extended through a livestock loan company, formed yesterday at Albuquerque, and the Texas stock raisers through a company to be formed by Robert E. Goree of Houston.

SWISS READY TO NEGOTIATE WITH SOVIET RUSSIA

"The Suit With the Extra Trousers"

Here's a Boy's Suit We Consider Worthy of Our Good Name

It's a "Johnny Tupants" Suit, which means that there's an extra pair of trousers which doubles its durability and halves its cost.

It comes only in all-wool materials. It is extra-strongly sewn at all points of strain, such as the crotch, pockets, buttonholes and seams. Only selected thread is used in its stitching. Coats are full mohair lined. The knees will not become baggy, nor will its pockets "droop."

The style is created by a master designer of boy-clothes. It is correctly sized. It is tailored throughout by efficient, capable tailors.

All in all, a suit of remarkable style and "wearability."

The Price Is $12.50 to $22.50

Attention, Mothers!

SUGAR.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The raw sugar market was firm but business was light and prices were unchanged at 4.00 for duty free sugars and 4.11 for Cubas. In raw sugar futures, pricees were firmer on covering and scattered prices eased off partially under realizing, closin unchanged to three points net higher. December closed at 2.48; March 2.38; May 2.46, and July 2.59.

Refined was steady and unchanged at 5.20 to 5.30 for fine granulated.

Refined futures were nominal and without transactions, closing unchanged to 10 points higher. December closed at 5.40 and later months at 5.30.

DRY GOODS.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Cotton goods markets were quiet with prices fairly steady; cotton yarns eased in carded lines. Dress goods for spring were sold moderately by larger units of worsted production. Spring silks in many new styles were shown. Burlaps were easier. Jobbers reported a fair advance in business, but a quiet house in trade.

Chicago Produce.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Butter higher; creamery extras 45c. Eggs higher; receipts 9,788 cases; firsts 48@50c.

Poultry alive, lower; fowls 25½c; springs 20c; turkeys 28c; roosters 14c.

Coffee.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Coffee opened at an advance of 5 to 7 points on a little trade and Wall street buying. March sold up to 7.70 or 10 points net higher but after the first lot of buying orders had been executed there was very little support and the price later sagged off to 7.60. The market closed net 1 point higher to 3 points lower. Sales were estimated at about 11,000 bags. October 7.25; December 7.29; January 7.46; March 7.60; May 7.70; July 7.78; September 7.77.

Spot coffee quiet; Rio 7's 7 3-4; Santo's 4's 11 1-4 to 12 1-2.

Stocks

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The railroad labor situation ceased to be a factor of more than passing importance in the stock market today, although transportation shares again were relatively backward in the broad and active dealings.

Speculative interest converged around the oils, that group dominating the movement from the outset. Mexican petroleum as a result of its favorable semi-annual statement of earnings made a wide opening of 3,000 shares at a maximum advance of 4 1-2 points, subsequently increasing its gain to 6 points, only half of which was retained at the finish.

Other oils foreign and domestic, were higher by 1 to 4 points at their best and motors, equipments, shipping and an unusual array of unclassified miscellaneous issues scored gross gains of 1 to 7 points, even leathers showing strength notwithstanding poor statement of central leather.

Some of the steels were moderately strong, but that division reflected occasional pressure. Sales amounted to 750,000 shares.

Call money opened at 5 1-2 per cent, but advanced to 6 on an increased demand at mid-day, the higher rate holding to the close. Brokers reported smaller offerings for time funds, for which quotations were unaltered.

Sterling demand bills were quoted as high as 3.96 1-2, the top figure for almost six months and francs and lire also improved, but the remainder of the remittance list showed irregularity.

Dealings in bonds again were comparatively light and uncertain in tone, all liberty issues closing at variable losses. Rails, industrials and internationals moved narrowly. Total sales par value, $12,675,000.

Cotton

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The report of the census bureau showed less cotton ginned to October 18 than anticipated in view of recent private estimates, and was followed by an advance of about $4.50 per bale in the cotton market here today. December sold up to 19.43 and January to 19.25, making advances of 150 to 165 points from low levels of last week.

There was enough realizing to check the upward movements at these figures and cause some irregularity but very little selling pressure, developed and December closed at 19.33 or within 10 points of the best. The general market closed steady at a net advance of 70 to 85 points.

The trade had been looking for a ginning of 5,600,000 to 5,700,000 bales and the government report of 5,477,297 was evidently an encouragement to recent sellers. The effort to cover short contracts in consequence, was stimulated by the firmer showing of Liverpool, more favorable views of political condiions abroad, the firm opening tone of the stock market, and continued optimism over the prospects for averting the strike of railroad men.

The volume of buying tapered off after the more urgent demand from shorts had been supplied, suggesting that the smaller ginning figures than expected had failed to materially stimulate trade or investment demand but reactions of a few points brought in support from one source or another and after opening strong at an advance of 16 to 77 points active months sold 88 to 96 points net higher, with December touching best levels of the day in late trading.

In ar eport issued coincidently with the ginning returns, the department of agriculture emphasized the rapidity of picking and ginning as reported in nearly all sections and reiterated the end—September crop indication of 6,537,000 bales.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25.—Small ginning returns to the 18th of October put the price of cotton about a cent a pound higher on the opening today and caused a very steady market during the remainder of the session, the close showing net gains for the day of 73 to 82 points. December closing at 18.85. The report of 5,477,397 bales ginned was far under expectations, the average of which was somewhere between 5,600,000 and 5,700,000 bales and indicated an output for the third period of the season of only 2,554,270 bales, the smallest total for that ginning period on record.

The early trading was done on a wild and immensely strong market, the first bulge amounting to 99 to 113 points which carried December up to 19.20 cents a pound.

After the first flurry was over the demand was not quite so strenuous but only moderate recessions, amounting at the most to about 35 points, came as the session progressed. They were due mainly to releasing by owners of long contracts.

The effects of the ginning figures was increased because of the statement by the census bureau that a large part of the crop had been ginned and the statement by the department of agriculture to the effect that there was no reason for changing is last crop estimate of 6,537,000 bales and that the figures would stand. It was pointed out by the department that today's ginning figures represented 83.8 per cent of the total crop as estimated by its experts.

COTTONSEED OIL.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Cottonseed oil made some response early to the bulge in cotton, but subsequently slipped back in absence of early trade demand and lack of outside support. Leading deliveries closed unchanged to 5 points net higher. Sales 22,700 barrels. Prime crude 7.10 and 7.25; prime summer yellow spot normal; December, 8.77; March 9.10; May 9.27, all bid.

OFFICERS LOOK FOR OWNERS OF STOLEN STUFF

Owners for a small day's timepiece and a revolver were being sought Tuesday by police. The two articles were recovered last week by City Detective Lenley Humphries, Bob Hambree and John Boone.

The articles were recovered by the officers from a negro residence section prowler who was apprehended by the detectives on the basis of rather meagor clues furnished by householders living near the places robbed.

The watch has "From Frank to Hazel" engraved upon it and the gun is practically new and of rather large calibre.

Livestock

Fort Worth Livestock.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 25.—Although 3,000 head of cattle and 2,000 calves were scheduled to reach the yards Tuesday in time for the market, about half that number had arrived up to noon. Seasonable receipts ran almost exclusively to riffraff and the market was not put to much of a test. Prices on all kinds were called about steady with the Monday decline, but where there was any change it was toward slight strength.

Hogs continued to seek lower levels, the loss reaching ten to 20 cents with only 1,000 head available. Shippers paid $7.90 for the toppy kinds, but packers did not go better than $7.80. Bulk sales ranged from $7.50@7.75. On pigs the market was mostly 15 to 25c lower. A few sales were made at $8.00, but the bulk of the supply had to go at $8.00.

Steady prices were paid for sheep and lambs. Receipts reached 3,500 head. Several decks of lambs sold at $6.30. Quotations:

Cattle—Beeves $3.00@6.00; stockers $3.00@4.50; cows $2.00@4.00; canners $1.25@1.50; heifers $3.00@6.00; yearlings $3.50@6.50; bulls $1.50@2.75; calves $2.00@6.25.

Hogs—Light $7.75@7.90; medium $7.50@7.75; mixed $7.00@7.50; common $6.00@7.00; heavy $7.50@7.75; rough $6.00@6.50; stags $5.00@5.50; pigs $7.50@7.75.

Sheep—Lambs $7.00@8.00; yearlings $5.00@5.50; wethers $4.50@5.00; ewes $3.50@4.00; culls $1.00@2.00; goats $1.00@1.75; stocker sheep $2.50@3.50; stocker lambs $4.50@6.00.

Kansas City Livestock.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 25.—Cattle 25,000; beef steers steady to 15c lower; best heavies $9.00; yearlings $10.00; canners and cutters strong; bulk canners $2.25@2.50; better grades cutters $3.00@3.25; best vealers $9.50@10.00; cows $3.40@4.00; stockers and feeders $5.00@6.00.

Hogs 12,000; closing fairly active, 15c@25c lower; bulk mixed droves $7.25@7.50; bulk of sales $7.25@7.75; packing sows around $6.25; pigs steady.

Sheep 7,000; steady to strong; light ewes $4.50; fat lots $3.90@4.25; fat lambs 25c higher; western $8.85; natives $8.25; feeding lambs 25c@40c higher; best $7.40.

GINNING REPORT IS ISSUED COMPARING SEASON WITH 1920

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Cotton of this year's growth ginned prior to October 18, amounted to 5,447,397 bales, exclusive of linters, compared with 5,754,582 bales last year and 4,929,104 bales in 1919 to that date, the census bureau announced today.

Round bales included, numbered 99,371, compared with 140,099 last year; American-Egyptian included numbered 7,498 bales, compared with 14,312 last year and Sea Island included, numbered 1,204 bales, compared with 334 last year.

The ginning report included a paragraph stating:

"The department of agriculture on October 3, 1921, estimated that the condition of the cotton crop on September 25 was 42.2 per cent of a normal, the lowest condition ever reported, which forecasts a total production of about 6,537,000 bales of 500 pound gross. Reports indicate that a large proportions of the crop has been ginned."

The heaviest ginning on record prior to this year was that of 1916, when 7,303,183 bales, or 64.3 per cent of the crop was ginned prior to October 18. The next largest ginning to that date was in 1918 when 6,811,351 bales, or 57.2 per cent of the crip was ginned to that date.

Ginnings by states follow:

Alabama, 426,152; Arizona, 8,657; Arkansas, 440,484; California, 4,012; Florida, 8,127; Georgia, 637,129; Louisiana, 195,115; Mississippi, 512,007; Missouri, 40,333; North Carolina, 444,964; Oklahoma, 347,146; South Carolina, 494,261; Tennessee, 158,660; Texas, 1,740,766; Virginia, 7,505; in all other states, 3,079.

Grain

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Wheat developed fresh strength today, helped by falling off in receipts and by continued talk of prospective settlement of the railroad strike. The finish, although unsettled, was 1-4 to 1 3-8c net higher, with December at 1.08 1-4 to 1.08 1-2 and May 1.13 3-8 to 1.13 3-4. Corn gained 3-8 to 5-8 and 3-4c and oats 58 to 7-8. In provisions the outcome varied from unchanged figures to 5c lower.

Houses with eastern connections led in the buying of wheat and an advance of about 2c was early attained but something of a reaction ensued owing largely to slowness of export business and the report that wheat on ocean passenger was selling at considerably under replacement costs. Bulls, however, managed to hold more or less of their initial advantage.

Corn and oats were firmer, chiefly as a result of wheat strength. Lower quotations on hogs eased provisions but material declines were checked by the upturns in grain.

JURY ORDERS REFUND AGED MAN'S MONEY

J. T. Bayne and H. King were ordered by a jury in the 80th district court to return $2,000 in cash and cancel notes totaling $5,500 to T. O. Addington, plaintiff in a suit against the two men which involved a lease on the Terminal hotel on Ohio street.

According to the evidence introduced in the trial of the case, Addington purchased the lease to the hotel last year on representation of the defendants and his son-in-law that the property was bringing in a large income.

The plaintiff who was a man of 71 years old, stated that he relied on their representations but found the first month after he had taken over the lease, that the hotel would not pay the obligations that he assumed for payment of the lease, he maintained in the suit.

Wants Chum to Go to School of Correction Too

Unaccompanied as she had hoped by her girl chum a fifteen year old girl living at Bridgetown left Tuesday night for Gainesville accompanied by Mrs. Clara Ousley, secretary of Welfare Council, to attend the state school for girls located in that city.

The girl and her chum plead in vain Monday in the juvenile office that they be allowed to go together. The request was refused by the juvenile officials due to the fact that the chum was eighteen years old, two years past the age limit for entrance into the state school, and also due to the fact that she had been married.

The girl was taken into custody last week by Juvenile Officer Yates. She requested, and her parents consented, that she be sent to the state school. Her girl friend then appeared at the juvenile office and asked that they be sent some place together.

Both girls sobbed when told that it would be impossible to make the necessary arrangement.

BISHOP PREPARING PLAN FOR UNITING METHODIST BODIES

By Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 25.—A definite plan for reuniting the Methodist Episcopal church, north and south, is to be made here immediately preceding the world conference of the Methodist Episcopal church that opens November 14. Announcement that the commission on Methodist unification composed of representatives of the northern church, would hold a session here to map a program for that purpose, was made today by Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, head of the church in Michigan.

When the plan is formulated, Bishop Henderson said it will be submitted to the unification commission of the southern church. If unification is effected, Bishop Henderson added, the church would be the largest of the Protestant denominations in the country.

MORE CHILDREN ATTEND SCHOOL DECLARES YATES

A larger percentage of children of school age are attending school this year than any in its recent history according to Juvenile Officer Yates. The statement was made Tuesday following several recent visits to all the towns in the county.

Iowa Park with every boy and girl of required age, atttending school regularity, leads the county, Mr. Yates said commenting on the unusual showing made by a school which has a large number of students from the surrounding rural section.

According to Mr. Yates' estimate, approximately 96 per cent of the school children of this city are regular attendants of school. By a constant patrol of the down town business section, he has been able to keep in school a large number of the boys who were accustomed to stay down town during school hours returning home after school was dismissed.

The percentage of attendance at Electra is also high. Mr. Yates said with that of Burkburnett the lowest in the county. The school attendance of the latter school could be improved if his office had the time to spend in checking up the school delinquents.

"It is impossible for one officer to attend to all his other duties and keep an accurate check on school attendance," Mr. Yates said in commenting on the fact that he was unable to devote as much time to out-of-town schools in the county as desired. He said that due to a lack of time he had as yet been unable to make any check on the rural school districts of the county in regard to school attendance.

BOONE ARRESTS MAN ON CHARGE OF AUTO THEFT

A man said to be wanted in Fort Worth on charges of automobile theft was arrested here Tuesday by City Detective John Boone.

The arrest was made by Detective Boone following receipt of a description and instruction from Harry Hamilton, chief of police at Fort Worth.

For the Information of the Public

Because of the general railroad strike threatened by various labor organizations the management of the M. K. & T. Lines has addressed the following statement to its employes:

To All Employes

Uninterrupted transportation service is of paramount importance. Railroad employes and railroad management are liable alike under obligation to protect the public against interruptions in service. To the end that there be no misunderstanding of the policies of the M. K. & T. Lines, consideration of the following statement is requested:

There will be no reduction in the wages, or changes in the working conditions, of any employes of the M. K. & T. Lines coming under the jurisdiction of the United States Railroad Labor Board without the approval of that body.

The management of the M. K. & T. Lines has complied with every order or ruling made by the Labor Board since its organization. In the face of a deficit, the M. K. & T. complied with the decision of the Labor Board that wages should be increased approximately 22% effective May 1st, 1920, and under this decision the wages of M. K. & T. employes were increased approximately $7,000,000.00 per annum. Despite further deficits in income, the wage rates so established were continued in effect until July 1st, 1921, when a reduction of less than 12% in wages was authorized by the Labor Board.

As instances have arisen in which the employes and the management were unable to agree as to the interpretations and application of certain rules carried forward from government control, differences have been submitted to the Labor Board and its rulings complied with. There will be no change in this policy. The M. K. & T. Lines will continue to comply with the provisions of the transportation act and the rulings of the Labor Board in order that disagreements with employes which might threaten interruption of transportation service may be peaceably and fairly adjusted after consideration of every public and private interest.

Support of these policies by M. K. & T. employes is essential to the discharge of the joint obligation of the employes and the management to provide the public with uninterrupted transportation service. We therefore urge all patriotic employes to remain at their posts. Duty to the public, loyalty to the government as citizens and their personal and family interest demand that they shall join with the management in reliance upon orderly procedure and legal agencies to make them secure in their rights.

EXPECT HARDING TO MAKE KNOWN STRIKE POLICY

Attorney General Indicates Pronouncement May Be Expected at Proper Future Time.

Expresses Disbelief in Strike but Says Department of Justice Is Prepared for Action.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Announcement of the course of action to be followed by the government in the event of a general railroad strike may be expected from President Harding, it was indicated today by Attorney General Daugherty.

The president, Mr. Daugherty said, would no doubt "say what he had to say when the time came" and the people throughout the country would know what the government's policy comprised. Those responsible for the situation would have to take the consequences, the attorney general added.

While maintaining his disbelief that a general strike would materialize, Mr. Daugherty declared the justice department was prepared to act "judiciously within the law," to prevent a tieup of the country's transportation facilities. He did not discuss specifically the department plans, explaining the government might use one method in one section, adopt another course of action in another and use all of its legal weapons in a third locality.

He described the naming of those who would be in charge of a strike in the various cities by the call out by the unions as "accommodating to the department of justice in locating the defendants in case anything happened."

Have No Patience, Says

Discussing the attitude of the country toward a possible rail strike he declared in his opinion that "the American people have no patience with this situation."

Conferences with the district attorneys from New York, Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo and Indianapolis were completed today, Mr. Daugherty said, adding that the attorneys had returned to their districts with full knowledge of the departments preparations for an emergency.

Six or seven district attorneys in western districts are to meet within the next few days in a western city to discuss the plans, he announced, although he did not disclose the time or place of meeting. Kansas City and St. Louis, it was indicated, however, would be represented at the conference.

Meanwhile the attorney general declared, telegraphic instructions were being prepared by the department for the district attorneys in the country informing them how they should proceed in case of a strike.

An investigation by the department, he added, has made it clear that "even if the strike should take place, there is no danger that any part of the country will suffer any serious hardships from lack of food or fuel for a period of at least two weeks after a general tie up."

LILLIE IS SADDER FOR SHE TRAINS AND GETS FATTER

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Sorrow invaded the ranks of half a hundred New York fat women who are attempting to reach a graceful slenderness through scientific training. Two of the fat, had grown fatter.

Forty-eight of the reducing class visited the scales and rejoiced—they showed an average loss in seven days of six pounds and five ounces. But Ada Parker screamed—she was fatter by two and a half pounds and now weighs 196. Lillie Ice shuddered and groaned. Entered at 177, she showed a gain of two pounds.

TAYLOR PLAYS LEAD FIDDLE FOR VETERANS

By Associated Press.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 25.—Addresses by Governor Alf A. Taylor and former United States Senator James B. Frazier of Tennessee, featured the opening session of the 31st annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans here today.

Governor Taylor in welcoming the delegates declared that he yielded to no one in his love for Dixie or for the American republic and voiced his pleasure at the unity existing in all sections. He said that the Spanish-American war laid the foundation for national unity and that the reconciliation was made complete when President McKinley ordered headstones placed at the graves of confederate dead at the expense of th government.

Before launching his address, Governor Taylor called Johnny Bass, a grizzled veteran and inmate of the Nashville soldier's home to the platform. He then asked that a trio of fiddling Texans come forward when the governor himself took up his fiddle and led the orchestra, with Johnny Bass at the piano. The crowd went wild when the fiddlers started the musical program with "Dixie" and the rebel yell resounded throughout the tabernacle.

The afternoon session was opened by an address by Boyd Sears, an attorney of Matthews Court House, Virginia, who pictured the history of the South from the days from 76 and declared the future peace of the world lies in the action taken by the conference on disarmament in Washington next month.

According to discussion among the delegates today, General VanZandt of Fort Worth will be re-elected commander in chief although it is said that General Julian Carr, commander of the Army of Northern Virginia, is an active candidate and will contest for the place.

Today's session of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, held in connection with the annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans, developed that the national officers are unable to fix the exact status of the organization inasmuch as the date in hand fails to show the strength and number of chapters and the voting strength of the convention.

Business Club Hears Report On Recent Play

Sixty five members of the Business Women's Club, including four new members and ten guests, enjoyed the regular meeting and dinner of the club Tuesday night at the Y. W. C. A. and heard a very splendid report from the committee in charge of Springtime," the feature of which was the fact that the proceeds for the club was around $500.

The enthusiasm engendered by this splendid report was maintained throughout the meeting, in all the plans and reports.

The club voted to devote $50 of the "Springtime" profits to the High School Athletic Council, as a mark of appreciation of the high school students participation in the successful musical comedy.

The club voted to stage another play, similar to "Springtime" next year, while approving the reports of the success of the initial effort.

The week's prize, a handsome hat from the Parisian given to the member selling the greatest number of tickets to "Springtime," went to Mrs. Grace Higgins.

The finance secretary reported the treasury to be in good condition, and the club out of debt.

The initial issue of "The Tuesday Night Times" which will appear the fourth Tuesday in each month, and will be issued by the Business Women's Club, was presented for the club's approval at this meeting.

BEER REGULATIONS

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Federal permission to manufacture beer for medicinal use caused an advance of 2 1-2 cents a bushel in the price of barley today on the Chicago board of trade.

FORMER ARMY MAN ON TRIAL FOR UXORCIDE

By Associated Press.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 25.—Dr. Wilmarth Amos Hadley, former army surgeon, was placed on trial here today on a charge of murdering his wife, Mrs. Sue Kathleen Tinsley, whose body, with wire fastened around it, was found in James river, December 30, 1918.

Selection of a jury occupied one hour and examination of witnesses then was begun.

"My opinion," Coroner Bright testified, "is that death was due to drowning. The presence of wire was the evidence of foul play."

Ryland C. Epps, negro, told of seeing Dr. Hadley and a woman enter a boat near the scene some time between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving, 1918.

Dr. Hadley was arrested last August on his ranch on the edge of the Painted Desert in New Mexico. His mother Mrs. C. J. Hadley of Friendswood, Texas, was in the court room when his trial began.

Mrs. Smock Is Presented With Silver Service

Presentation of a handsome silver tea service, the gift of the Civic League, to Mrs. T. B. Smock, who recently retired on account of ill health, during her fourth term of office, featured the open meeting of the League Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kemp.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Kemp, following the well chosen program.

There were about one hundred and fifty League members and their husbands present.

VERNON CHILD DIES IN DALLAS

Joel Richard Massie, three-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Massie, 1612 Twelfth street, died early Tuesday morning at Dallas where he was undergoing treatment at the St. Paul Sanitarium for mastoiditis.

The body was shipped to Vernon, where it is expected funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon.

Mesdames Witherspoon and Evans, sisters of Mrs. Massie left Tuesday for Vernon to be present for the services.

"Anatol" Proves Corner in Stars Can Be Possible

One almost wonders where Charlie Chaplain and Doug Fairbanks were when film stars "homecoming week" or "The Affairs of Anatol" which opened a weeks run Monday night at the Palace theater was filmed. So far as could be learned, these two were the only stars absent in the cast of this Cecil B. De Mille production.

Wallace Reid plays Anatol, one of the bored idle rich who has nothing to do better than have his little "affairs." When the fact becomes known that his affairs are with such charming young ladies as Bebe Daniels, Wanda Hawley and others, some fans will, in a measure, excuse his conduct.

It seems that Wally, or Anatol, is sensitive to feminine beauty and although he loves his wife, played by Gloria Swanson, he is continually being misunderstood. Especially is this fact true when he and his fair wife are making an effort to escape from the wiles of the many "vamps" in a car when Wally arrives just in time to save a very beautiful farmer's wife, none other than Agnes Ayres, (Star No. 10) from committing hari kari by jumping in a shallow creek. His wife, Gloria, goes for a doctor and when she returns finds Wally in a fond embrace, brought on by gratitude on the part of the young farmerette. Gloria leaves in a huff, of course, further delaying a complete reconciliation.

Bebe Daniels, as Satan Synne, the stage vamp, whose "gold digging" proclivities are to make possible medical aid for her husband, an overseas hero, does a good deal of acting which is a bright spot in an otherwise ordinary film.

Oh, yes. The critic almost forgot to mention the scene where Wally, in fiendish wrath, destroys all of the scenery, beaver board walls, and everything, constituting the furnishings of the home of one of his "light o' lives," Wanda Hawley. According to press done, this scene cost $30.000 alone. Regardless, it must be said that Wally is some little destroyer. Pity he couldn't have been a baggage smasher.

Pardon the introduction until this late hour. Gentlemen and ladies, may the scribe present Wallace Reid, Elliott Dexter, Monte Blue, Gloria Swanson, Bebe Daniels, Wanda Hawley, Agnes Ayres, Polly Moran, Lulla Faye, Theodore Kosloff, Theodore Roberts and Raymond Hatton. Pass in review, column of stars, stars right, Ho!

That's all there is. Why didn't Mr. De Mille get in a few feet too?

Shriners Expect to Feed 2,000 At Donated Buffet Luncheon in Connection With Next Ceremonial

Local shriners expect to feed 2,000 hungry mouths at the donated buffet luncheon to be given in one of the hangars at Call Field at 6 o'clock in the evening of Thanksgiving Day in the course of the coming ceremony when between 200 and 300 novices will walk the burning sands.

This, at least, is the estimate of C. O. Fritz, the fellow who sees that the business wheels go round in local Shrinedom, and Julian Montgomery, named by Potentate Walter Cline as general chairman of the committee to prepare the luncheon.

The general committee has been subdivided into nine sections, to be known as the turkey, pie, cake, vegetable, coffee, bread and fruit, serving and transportation committees.

The names of the general committee and the subcommittees follow:

Julian Montgomery, chairman; M. Mitcham, John A. Elder, O. A. Jones, C. H. Pogenpohl, C. C. Randle, Jas. E. Bachman, Burton Stayton, Joe B. Hatchitt, G. Clint Wood, P. J. Lea, J. S. Elliot, E. V. Friberg, F. M. Gates, Geo. D. Keith, Otto Stehlik, J. M. Baber, R. L. Eckerty, Milo Connelley, A. W. Burnside, N. M. Clifford, W. E. Bishop, F. C. Clark, M. Muehlberger, D. L. Fritz, Harry Baum, F. B. Mashburn, W. I. Cameron, J. W. Mode, J. N. Huff, Dr. T. J. Strong, Luther Hoffman, D. J. Carithers, Morris Marcus, Hubert Harrison, E. M. Comstock.

Pie committee—A. W. Burnside, chairman; Geo. D. Keith, O. A. Jones, N. M. Clifford.

Cake committee—Burton Stayton, chairman; Milo Connelley, J. S. Elliot, Otto Stehlik.

Vegetable committee—M. Mitcham, chairman; F. C. Clark, F. M. Gates.

Coffee committee—D. J. Carithers, chairman; John A. Elder, F. M. Mashburn, J. M. Baber.

Bread and fruit committee—C. H. Pogenpohl, chairman; J. W. Mode, J. N. Huff, Harry Baum.

Serving committee—Joe B. Hatchitt, chairman; E. V. Friberg, Dr. T. J. Strong, Luther Hoffman.

Transportation committee—P. J. Lea, chairman; E. M. Comstock, D. L. Fritz, R. L. Eckerty.

Every shriner in Wichita Falls will be asked to contribute something to this buffet luncheon. The list has been divided into nine sections, and each committee will have a list of Shriners whom they will be responsible for in the way of contributions. In a short time the exact kind and quality of food that each shriner is expected to contribute will be published. Every shriner is expected to find out as soon as possible what his contribution is to be, and make arrangements accordingly.

REPAIRS MADE ON LOCOMOTIVE CAUSE DELAY ON SOUTHERN

Passenger train No. 23 on the Wichita Falls & Southern, due to leave here at 3 p. m., was held up for several hours Tuesday while minor repairs to the engine were being made by the master mechanic. The repairs were suggested by one of the party of government inspectors who are in Wichita Falls looking over railroad equipment on the monthly inspection.

It is one of the duties of the government railway inspectors to report any defects or bad order they find either in locomotive or cars, and to see that the necessary repairs are made before the equipment resumes service. All of the local railroad equipment is being inspected by the party on their visit here, according to local railroad officials.

Probably True.

"What a boy you are for asking questions," said the exasperated father. "I'd like to know what would have happened if I'd asked as many questions when I was a boy."

"Perhaps," suggested the young hopeful, "you'd have been able to answer some of mine."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

YOU CAN'T TRUST CALOMEL AT ALL

It's Quicksilver, Salivates, Causes Rheumatism and Bone Decay.

The next dose of calomel you take may salivate you. It may shock your liver or start bone necrosis. Calomel is dangerous. It is mercury, quicksilver. It crashes into sour bile like cyanmite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wildcat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate. (Adv.)
